Crash Kills Local Woman, Injures 2

A truck carrying 10 tons of gravel crashed into the side of a car in Livonia Monday morning, taking the life of Mrs. Warren Palmer of Plymouth township and critically injuring her daughter-in-law and granddaughter.

Mrs. Palmer, 56, of 48145 Warren road, died before her arrival at Redford Receiving hospital. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Palmer, was driving the car. She and daughter Wendy, 2, were hospitalized with severe lacerations, bruises and other undetermined injuries.

Richard Przyjacielski, of Detroit, driver of the truck belonging to Roe Trucking company, East Eight Mile road, was going east on Seven Mile road, according to his statement, and as he approached a red traffic light at the intersection of Farmington road, his brakes failed. Realizing he couldn't stop, Przyjacielski blew his horn in an attempt to warn other cars.

The truck hit the passenger car, hurling it down Seven Mile and filling it with gravel. The driver, a former employee of The Mail, had to be dug out of the wreckage. Mrs. Warren (Esther) Palmer was buried under part of the ten tons of gravel after being thrown from the car.

Livonia police questioned three witnesses who substantiated the driver's statement. One of the witnesses, George Scallie of Garden City, said that he was headed west on Seven Mile and had stopped for the light. When he saw the truck driver's plight, he too started blowing his horn, but Mrs. Palmer apparently didn't hear the horns as she approached the intersection on the green light.

After hitting the car, the truck turned over, skidded along Seven Mile while digging into the street and landed against a car parked along the road. Both vehicles were demolished.

Livonia firemen were called to wash away gasoline that poured from the overturned truck. Mrs. Beryl Price of Price Cleaners on Seven Mile road was in front of the store when the accident occurred and attempted to assist the victims, obtaining the tourniquet for the truck driver, whose arm was severely cut. Wendy was taken to the hospital in a Redford Township

Record of 52 Adult Education Courses Offered

Young folks won't be the only ones going back to school this fall.

At least 1,000 adults are expected to enroll in one of the 52 classes being offered by the Adult Education and Recreation department as registration for the fall term opens next Monday.

Whether you are interested in the stock market, caning chairs, welding or decorating cakes, the department will have a class for it. Department Director Herbert Woolweaver states that over a dozen classes will be offered for the first time.

Registration for the fall term must be completed next week. It is possible to register between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. during the day at the Recreation office, from 7 to 9 p.m. on Monday or Tuesday or by mail. A minimum of 10 students is needed for each class.

A catalog has been printed by the department listing each of the class meeting dates, fees, instructors and description of the course.

There were 1,048 enrolled in the fall semester classes last year and slightly over 900 in the winter term, Woolweaver declared. The catalog can be obtained at the Recreation office, city hall, library and Chamber of Commerce.

Here are the new classes being offered: Plastic workshop, teaches you how to make all types of things from plastic; jewelry making, shows how to make jewelry by plastic lamination, etching, enameling and polishing copper; chair caning, learn to weave new seats in many patterns; rush weaving, seats for chairs having round rungs.

Enamelled jewelry, learn to enamel your favorite jewelry in a kiln; principals of design, offered in second term only, it demonstrates good design applicable to interior decorating, dress making, flower arranging, etc.; creative writing, shows mechanics of short story, fiction and non-fiction writing; great books, how to enjoy the great books and learn at the same time.

Symphony Plans Kick-off Dinner

The Plymouth Symphony Society will get a look at things to come during its 11th season when it holds its "Kick-off Dinner" at the high school auditorium next Thursday.

Some of the soloists who will appear during the six concerts of the 1956-57 season will preview their talents. Conductor Wayne Dunlap has extended an invitation to anyone interested in the symphony to attend the dinner. The potluck will start at 6:30 p.m.

Besides the preview of soloists, the group will hear the Plymouth Youth Symphony under the direction of Donald Morris. This musical group, sponsored by the Plymouth Symphony, is in its third year. A film will be shown on "Music at Interlochen."

Dinner guests will also see the first editions of a cookbook being published and sold by the Symphony for the benefit of orchestra operation. Recipes were submitted by many Plymouth residents as well as symphony members. The book is not yet on sale.

The Plymouth Symphony will open its season on Sunday, October 21. Other dates are November 3 and April 7. Details of the concert season will be published next week.

Board Asks Election to Use Funds for School Additions

Dear Guests: Don't Come!

Wedding Plans Stalled by Ship

Making plans for a wedding over a distance of 4,000 miles could easily become a mass of confusion—and it did for a former German exchange student who planned to be married here this Saturday morning.

But as the old axiom goes, "Love conquers all."

Franz Euringer of Regensburg, Germany, who in 1951 was brought to Plymouth by the Rotary club as an exchange student, was to marry at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church Saturday morning. The bride-elect, Miss Barbara Hallmann of Frankfurt, Germany, was to arrive by ship in New York last Monday. She didn't.

So for the several hundred who received invitations for the Saturday marriage, your invitations should be changed to: "Kindly stay home."

Instead, the wedding will take place at 9:30 a.m. next Tuesday. The reception will be from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Miles Standish room of the Mayflower.

Attempting to assemble the information at hand, it seems that Barbara boarded the Italian ship, Casio Feice, at Bremerhaven on August 31. Apparently in no hurry, the ship made a few more stops and somewhere around the Azores developed engine trouble in a rough sea.

Franz, who now works at the Conrad-Hilton in Chicago, was packing last Saturday to meet his future bride when a cable from the Azores informed him of the trouble. That meant trouble, too, for Franz' Plymouth "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader, who had made all arrangements for the wedding.

It was first thought that a plane might bring Barbara from the Azores, but the ship had already been repaired and had sailed by the time the cable arrived. Learning that the ship would dock Saturday morning—the morning of the wedding, arrangements were made for the New York harbor pilot boat to bring Barbara ashore, to have a hurried blood test given and marriage license waived.

Barbara would then fly to Willow Run and be whisked to Plymouth and down the aisle. But after a re-checking of timetables, it was feared that Barbara might leave a whole crowd waiting at the church, instead of just the groom.

So now, the date is changed to Tuesday, which according to all calculations, should give the bride-elect a chance to say hello to the groom-elect before the ceremony.

Voting Set for Monday, Oct. 8 On Use of 1955 Bond Money

A special election will be called by the board of education of the Plymouth Community School district for Monday, October 8 to determine if voters favor using part of the $3,000,000 bond issue voted last year for constructing additions to present elementary buildings.

Board members approved a motion to call the election at a special meeting held on Wednesday night of last week and approved the election date at Monday night's regular meeting.

The question that voters will decide will not technically concern whether additions should be favored or not. Instead, it will ask whether funds previously allocated for new buildings should be diverted into a fund to build the additions.

Voters approved a $3,000,000 bond issue on March 28, 1955 that specified that the money would be used in six different ways: constructing a junior high, building two new elementary schools, purchasing sites, remodeling the present junior high, refunding outstanding bonds from the May 1949 issue and paying the first six months' interest of the $3,000,000 issue.

Law specifies that use of any of this money for any other purpose is illegal unless the proposal is approved by voters at the polls.

So far, the board has spent part of the money for purchasing the junior high site and getting it underway, starting construction on the Gallimore school, set aside over $100,000 for renovation of the junior high, refunding the 1949 bond issue and paying the interest.

Superintendent Russell Isbister estimates that there is enough left to build the second elementary school at a cost of $460,000.

This means that if some of the money is used for additions, a full-sized school could not be built. The board has been talking about a new school in the northeast corner of the township where a 1,000-home subdivision is planned.

The board itself is split concerning the question of building additions. Members, however, voted unanimously to refer the question to voters.

At their meeting Monday night, the board decided to not definitely determine how many rooms would be built, but to plan for the additions at a later date.

Bird, Smith and Allen elementary schools are the only buildings having enough space for an addition. An estimate on addition costs was received by the board in July from Eberle M. Smith & Associates, architects of the junior high. They estimate that an eight-room addition would cost about $200,000. Of this amount, $175,000 would be for the building costs and $25,000 for equipment.

Eight rooms would provide a kindergarten, one classroom for each of the six grades and a special room.

While the board talks about additions, they still are interested in the purchase of the northeast site. The board gave approval last week to the general location of a school site in the subdivision being developed by Fred Green-span Building company. It would be located south of Five Mile road, west of Hagerway.

Since Greenspan has not yet developed the plat, the exact location is still not determined. Negotiations with the developer have not brought mention of price.

Petitions with 988 signatures asking for an election on the sale of "liquor by the glass" question have been filed with the city clerk with hopes of placing it on the November 6 ballot.

But whether the petitions will contain signatures of enough qualified voters is still a point that is being checked by Clerk-Assessor Kenneth Way.

Supporters of the local option submitted the petitions last Thursday, a day ahead of the deadline for getting it on the November ballot. The petitions have been circulating all summer.

Since only registered city voters can sign the petition, there are expected to be many disqualified signatures. Way said that he does not expect to complete the check on validity until next week.

Because of the opposition from some groups to liquor questions, Way added, the petitions must be thoroughly checked. The local option, once rejected, cannot be placed on the ballot for another four years. It was last turned down in Plymouth in 1952.

There are 876 signatures needed to have the issue placed on the ballot.

Canton Township Seeking County Okay to Build Own Disposal Plant

Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein appears to be on the verge of receiving the blessing of the Wayne County Road commission to go ahead with a quarter-million-dollar plan to build a sewage disposal plant in the township, independent of the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer.

Stein appeared Monday afternoon before the Sewage Disposal and Water Supply committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors to find out whether his township could be allowed 3,000 taps into the interceptor instead of 350.

If such permission could not be granted, Stein asserted, he wanted the road commission to say so in writing so that Canton township could apply to the Michigan Department of Health for permission to build its own sewage disposal plant.

Outcome of the 90-minute discussion was vague and confusing. But it appears that Sanitary Engineer Albert T. Kunze of the road commission is about willing to officially tell Canton township that it will be many years before 3,000 taps can be expected.

Because the Plymouth Community School board is building a school in Canton township that needs a sewer, school officials were interested in the meeting too. Attending were Superintendent Russell Isbister and members Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and Harold Fischer.

They learned from Supervisor Stein that if and when approval is given for a separate disposal system, it would be at least a year before it could be completed. The James Gallimore school on Shelton road is expected to open early next year, so Canton township's proposed sewer would afford no immediate solution to the school board's problem.

The board has decided to write city of Plymouth telling them that they are interested in extending a city sewer to the school site. This would cost about $32,000.

A letter from Supervisor Stein written previously to the Sewage Disposal and Water Supply committee was read Monday at the hearing in which Stein told of the township's plight. He related that about 2,000 acres of township land has been purchased by developers upon which they expect to build between 3,000 to 3,600 homes. The developments are in the northern part of the township.

In addition, Stein states that a major industry is interested in a site along Michigan avenue. The County Road commission, operators of the interceptor sewer, has allocated the township only 350 taps. (Each community using the interceptor was allocated a certain number of taps based on how much of the cost they assumed. Plymouth township has been allowed 2,700 and Plymouth city, 725.)

Festival-Goers Consume 1,800 Ears of Corn

Plymouth's Sweet Corn Festival sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce last Saturday was termed "a satisfactory experiment" by Chamber Manager Edward Hart and "worthy of another try next year."

Despite cold weather and threatened rain, several thousand people visited the affair during the afternoon and evening. Hart reported that 1,800 ears of sweet corn were sold along with several hundred drinks of pop.

"Hot coffee would have been more appropriate for the day," the manager declared. Should the Chamber decide to try the festival again next year, Hart said, it is likely that it will be held late in August and will be on a much bigger scale.

One kiddie ride was crowded through the day and several hundred people danced during the evening to the music of a combo. A corn husking contest was held in the afternoon for boys and girls. The winners were:

Boys, ages 6-9, George Knott, 6, of 798 Pacific, swimming mask; ages 9-12, Jim Martin, 10 of 11031 Melrose, Livonia, first prize, football; Buss Smith, 10, of 598 Ann, second prize, helmet.

Girls, Marilyn McNamara, 10, of 11022 Ingram, Livonia, first prize of table tennis set; Joanne Young, 12, of 736 Church, second prize of tennis racket. Wendell Lent and Mrs. Virginia Robinson were the judges.

Phil Barney handled the big job of roasting the corn. Of interest to adults and youngsters alike was a steam engine brought by Wilfred Buneya of Joy road. The festival was held on Penniman avenue along Kellogg park.

City Wins First Place In Annual Report Contest

A first place award was presented to the city of Plymouth by the Michigan Municipal League last week for the city's Annual Report for 1954-55.

Commissioner J. Rusling Cutler accepted the award at the league convention in Grand Rapids. Last year, the city won a second place for the 1953-54 report.

The annual report is sent to homeowners in the city each year. The 1955-56 report (fiscal year ended June 30) is now being prepared.

The certificate of award stated: "In recognition of its high standards of informing citizens and taxpayers about municipal activities in the publication of its annual report which was elected by the contest judges for the award from entries submitted by municipalities in Class III, 5,000 to 10,000 population."

The 33-page booklet was printed by The Plymouth Mail.

Members of the Past Matron's club were dessert guests, Tuesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Grant Camphausen on Joy road.

ROLLING OVER, the gravel truck scattered its load across the street and presented a problem to workmen who are shown attempting to haul it away.

Church of Christ Setting For Heskett-McGhee Nuptials

Marriage vows were repeated by Mary Alice McGhee of Plymouth and Marvin Eugene Heskett of Elbridge, Tennessee, at a ceremony read by the Reverend W. H. Veil in the Plymouth Church of Christ at 7:30 Friday evening, August 24.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. Eldon McGhee of 1687 Francis. Mr. and Mrs. Alexie Heskett of Elbridge are parents of the bridegroom.

For the rites, read before baskets of white gladioli decorating the church altar for the occasion, the bride wore a street-length dress of white lace over white tulle, a velvet brim with eadpearl embroidery securing her veil of illusion, with white auntlets and white shoes as accents to the ensemble. She carried a Bible centered with stephanotis surrounding a white orchid, and was given in marriage by her father.

Carol Diane McGhee, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a street-length dress of red lotted Swiss over a white underkirt. She carried red roses as her bouquet.

Best man was Clifford Eugene Napier. Guests were seated by Bernice Callis and Julian Baggett. The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding.

After the ceremony, approximately 150 guests gathered to congratulate the couple at the reception held in the church basement.

Following a wedding trip to Elbridge, Tennessee the couple are residing at 1142 South Main, Plymouth.

The bride is a 1955 graduate of Plymouth high school, the bridegroom graduating the same year from Cloverdale high school in Tennessee.

DAR Launches Fall Activities This Monday

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will launch its fall activities at a meeting Monday night at 8 in the home of Mrs. Edwin A. Zipse, 1345 Park Place, Plymouth.

Miss Ada Fritz, Northville elementary teacher, will be guest speaker for this first meeting, reviewing the week she spent at Higgins Lake Conservation Training school. Miss Fritz was awarded a scholarship for this training by the local DAR chapter.

Emphasis will also be placed on the observance of Constitution Week, September 17-23, with appropriate display of the American flag. A dress flag will be presented during the week to the Ammerman school in Northville by the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter. The presentation will be made by Mrs. Edward J. Cutler, the chapter's flag of the United States of America committee chairman.

Chapter members have also been asked to bring to the September 17 meeting clothing and toys for the approved school and D.A.R. schools, Tamasee and Kate Duncan-Smith. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Walter Hammond, Approved Schools chairman.

The D.A.R. is planning a regional meeting in Tecumseh on Wednesday, September 18, convening at 10:30 a.m. with luncheon at 12:30.

The parade will start at 11:30 a.m. from the Ford factory in Northville and will march up Main street through town. After the parade the gathering will go to Cass Benton park just north of Six Mile road for the picnic festivities.

Guest speakers from the State and Grand Aerie will be present. It was reported that Governor G. Mennen Williams is expected to attend. The public is invited to attend the pot luck dinner and enjoy the refreshments.

Guild Schedules Reading, Tryouts For First Show

A reading and tryouts for the first of the season's three-act play productions is on the agenda for the Plymouth Theatre Guild's first fall meeting scheduled for Monday night at 8 in the junior high school gym.

All members, both new and old, are invited to try out for this play and all have an equal chance of being cast. Guild officers stress that acting is but one phase of every play produced. Other elements of production include building of sets, lighting, special effects, makeup, directing and producing, publicity and stage managing.

Anyone with experience or who wishes to become experienced in the various phases of stagecraft is urged to attend this first meeting.

The Guild is sponsored by the Adult Education department with membership open to all residents of Plymouth and surrounding communities. In addition to play production the Guild offers education in basic fundamentals of stagecraft and interesting programs at each monthly meeting to guarantee active participation on the part of all members in its various activities.

The group meets the third Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the junior high school gym.

Carolyn Hill, Friday Bride, Feted at Parties

Carolyn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hill, 1000 Main street, has been feted at numerous bridal showers given in her honor recently.

The bride-elect, who will be married this Friday to Robert Stafford of Tampa, Florida in a ceremony read at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist church, was honored most recently at a linen shower given by Mrs. Willis Johnston at her residence in Wayne. Attending the party were 35 guests, who presented the bride-to-be with many lovely gifts.

Other recent activities held in Miss Hill's honor were a kitchen and surprise shower. The first was hosted at the Paul Simmons home on 560 Edison by Susan Simmons, Carolyn's roommate at the University of Michigan, and Mrs. George Hunter, the former Betty Bowden. Approximately 17 guests were on hand for the occasion, presenting the bride-elect with a number of attractive and useful gifts.

Following this activity was a surprise shower for the bride-to-be, who is in her junior year at the University of Michigan School of Nursing, by 20 fellow nurses at Couzens hall on the U of M campus. A lovely lingerie gift for her trousseau was given the guest of honor at this occasion.

The bridegroom-elect is a graduate of the University of Tampa in Tampa, Florida.

Mrs. Maurice Evans will be a luncheon hostess, today, (Thursday) in her home on Adams street when members of her 500 club gather at 12 o'clock noon.

Scrimmage Prepares Gridders for Inaugural

Things appeared somewhat better last week for Plymouth football coach Mike Hoben as his gridgers ended their second intensive week of pre-campaign drills.

The Rocks scrimmaged Highland Park under the lights on the Parkers' field Friday evening. It was a tactical warm-up for the Northville opener here tomorrow night at 8 p.m.

The game-like scrimmage gave Hoben an opportunity to watch his hopefuls in action. Plymouth's T-formation was opposed by Highland Park's T and single wing formation offense. The Parkers are a class A team, well regarded in state prep circles.

Other reasons to erase some of Hoben's worries are due to the fact that three of Plymouth's looked-for candidates have finally shown up. These are Bob Truesdell, a 190-pound guard, Larry Gavigan, a 200-pound lineman, and Dick Showers, a halfback who should either start or be the fifth backfield man.

Hoben said that he had a tentative starting team picked out for the Northville inaugural tomorrow evening. The first string includes eight of Plymouth's nine returning lettermen.

At ends will be Don Alsbro and Ed Ward or Bob Clear. Bob Drobek (210) and Biff Tait (197) fill the tackle slots. Dick Grabowski (180) and Dick Paulger (175) will be at the guards. At center will be Dick Anderson (145).

In the backfield will be Jerry King at quarter, Ken Calhoun at fullback, and Jerry Hearl at left-half. At righthalf it's a toss-up between Dave Walasky or Showers.

It's Rocks vs. Mustangs

Bringing with them a T-formation offense and the possible threat of a strong passing will invade the Plymouth gridiron tomorrow evening to help the Rocks inaugurate their 1956 football battling. Gametime is at 8 p.m.

Ten lettermen will shape the core of the Mustangs squad when it faces Plymouth Friday evening. Included among the strong points on the team are a big line, good receiving ends and veteran quarterback Bud Bell.

It will be on Bell's arm that the Northville passing offense will rest. Bell, who also called the signals last fall for the Mustangs, will be supported by halfbacks Dick Biery and Dave Adams and fullback Gary Holman.

Bell and Holman are holdovers from the 1955 Northville eleven

Although Plymouth's tentative starting line is not bulky in size, Hoben indicated that its speed should compensate for lack of weight. However Hoben said he could field a front line averaging 205.

Plymouth's head football coach explained that with two weeks of intensive work-outs the Rocks are rounding into fine physical shape. Hoben plans to carry a 25-man squad.

Other Rocks who are being checked out by the coaches with regard to seeing action Friday are: Carroll Cannady (tackle), Larry Keith (guard), Tom Caldwell (guard), Myron Hooper (fullback), Leroy Schaact (halfback) and Wayne Jordhal (halfback). The shift of Tait to a tackle position apparently is the only big move by Hoben with his lettermen. Tait was a center last year. It made room for Anderson at the center.

Walsh's Plymouth-Northville City Golf Test Underway Saturday with Qualifying Rounds

More than $600 worth of prizes, plus The Plymouth Mail's traveling championship trophy, will be up for winners when Jerry Walsh's Plymouth-Northville City golf tournament gets underway Saturday at Brae-Burn golf course.

At least 48 golfers will qualify Saturday with several more to enter the test as post-deadline candidates, said Walsh Tuesday.

Among the list of competitors will be former city champs Ralph Lorenz, Tom Lock and Jim McAllister who currently retains The Mail's traveling trophy by virtue of his city victory last year at Hilltop.

The Mail trophy will be the top honor in a lengthy line of prizes. Also the tournament champ will receive a set of golf irons. The second place finisher in the championship flight will receive a trophy as will first and second place finishers in the other flights.

Walsh indicated that he would divide the list of qualifiers into five flights. Walsh, himself, will be in the top flight.

Runners-up in championship flight will receive, in addition to a personal trophy, a set of golf shoes. The other prizes, available to various flight winners and runners-up include:

First flight, (first place) eight irons, (second place) three woods. Second flight, (first place) four woods, (second place) golf bag. Third flight, (first place) caddy cart, (second place) golf bag. Fourth flight, (first place) caddy cart, (second place) golf bag. All of the trophies will be engraved with contestants' names and respective finishes.

Prizes offered for the three low qualifying contestants include: first low—electric clock; second low—12 golf balls; third low—six golf balls.

Other prizes will go to third, fourth and fifth place finishers in all flights. Among these are golf shirts, Bermuda shorts and a watch band, plus others.

A novel feature of Walsh's Plymouth-Northville tourney is the hole-in-one contest sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. It will be conducted beside the Brae-Burn clubhouse by chamber members. First prize is a golf bag, second prize is a golf club and third prize is three golf balls.

Walsh said that tournament players will be charged 50 cents less for greens fees than regular golfers. Post entries will be accepted by the tournament committee. The golf course owners have indicated that they will close off the par-35, front nine for the duration of the tourney.

Players will travel the front nine twice for their 18 holes of play on each of the three tourney days. The schedule includes 18 holes of qualification Saturday, 18 holes of medal play on Sunday, and 18 more holes of medal play on Sunday, September 23.

Earlier Walsh had said that the tourney would consist of 54 holes of medal play. However, the 54 total was sliced to 36 more recently.

- The schedule of qualifying:
- 7:00 E. W. Kimball, John Bering, John Winkler
 - 7:10 Ben Weaver, Dick Garchow, Roy McLeod, Tom Wick, S. Rockafellow, C. Rockafellow
 - 7:20 Earl Merriman, Skip Rambo, Hugh Law, Ralph Lorenz, Tom Lock, Jim McAllister
 - 8:10 Elt McAllister, Bill Benjamin, Ray Hartner, Ron Brink, Jerry Allen, Don Huebler, Ty Caplin, Christie Collins, Dick Farwell

- 9:00 Stalon Lorenz, Ken Cockin, Ray Hood
- 9:10 John Taylor, Al Holcomb, Tom Carmichael
- 10:00 Lynn Matzen, Lester Wick, Jim Lee

Former Rocks Athletes Offered Season Passes

Season passes to all home athletic contests are being offered to former varsity letterwinners from Plymouth high school, announced the Rocks' athletic department last week. A nominal fee will be charged.

John Sandmann, Plymouth high school athletic director, said that the passes will entitle varsity award winners in any Plymouth sport from previous years to attend home contests, during 1956-57. The offer is similar to the one made in 1955.

The passes may be obtained through Sandmann or his staff. For further information call Plymouth high school, phone 895, athletic department extension.

Carmichael's 69 Paces Qualifiers In Partridge's Golf Tournament

Sixteen-year-old Tom Carmichael, a senior at Plymouth high school, shaved three strokes off par at Plymouth Country club Sunday to post a 69 total and wind up low qualifier in Casey Partridge's Plymouth Amateur Open championship golf tournament.

Tied for second low qualifying honors were Clark Andrew and Ray Hartner, each of whom carded two-under-par 70 over Partridge's layout.

Carmichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frazer Carmichael, 208 Blunk, carried his medal margin on the 18th hole at Country club. He canned a 30-foot eagle putt for a three on the par-5 hole. He laced his second shot, a 3-wood from the fairway, to the green. The 18th is 493 yards.

He totaled 14 pars, two birdies, one bogey and his eagle along the way. Andrew listed five birdies, 10 pars and three bogies as compared to Hartner's six pars, seven birdies and five bogies.

These three paced a field of 81 qualifiers in Partridge's tournament, one of two such local golf contests underway in this area now. The other is Jerry Walsh's Plymouth-Northville golf tourney, to be played at Brae-Burn starting Saturday.

Partridge broke down the 81 qualifiers into three flights, championship, first and second, for the real run-for-the-money which begins Sunday at Country club. He listed 19 in the championship slate, 28 in the first level and 34 in the second flight. The trophy competition will consist of 36 holes of medal play with 18 coming Sunday, September 16, and 18 more scheduled for Sunday, September 23.

Other name golfers from this area who claimed positions in the top-level flight include such notables as Ralph Lorenz, Jim McAllister, Harper Stephens, Tom Lock, and all of whom have been city champs here at one time or another.

Comers include: Ty Caplin, Elwood Russell, Bill Benjamin and Ron Brink.

These and several others will battle par at Country club over the next two Sundays for possession of several trophies and other top prizes.

On hand for the tourney winner will be a large trophy with proper engraving plus a beautiful golf bag. The first and second flight winners will receive similar awards of trophies and golf bags. Partridge has said that for all who complete the 36 holes of play there will be prizes.

Partridge added that golfers should contact each other to determine convenient starting times for Sunday.

Vaughn Smith, former police chief of Plymouth, and Norm "Dutch" Atchinson, local auto dealer, shared low honors in first flight qualifying when each finished with 80's.

A threesome of John Taylor, F. Bongiovanni and Clyde Smith took low honors in the second flight qualifying round. Each posted 90's.

Partridge added that those golfers, who do not pre-determine their respective starting times, should come to the club at 9:30 a.m. in order to make further arrangements.

Fourteen Hopefuls Open Cross Country Drills

Fourteen cross country hopefuls, including one letterwinner from the 1954 season, started practice last Monday afternoon in preparation for the Rocks' nearing harrier campaign. The year opens September 21 with a meet here with Allen Park.

John Williams, a sophomore in 1954, is the only veteran on the squad, which will be coached by John Sandmann, athletic director. Plymouth had no cross country team in 1955.

The Rocks will participate in a total of five dual meets, all league contests. In addition the locals will compete in a league meet, a regional test and the state battle.

The schedule:

DATE	OPPONENT	PLACE
Sept. 21	Allen Park	Here
28	Belleville	Here
Oct. 5	Bentley	Away
12	Trenton	Here
16	Redford U.	Away

The local recreation swimming program at Plymouth high school's pool will begin next Monday, announced John McFall, who is in charge of the plan again this year. Swimming each night will begin at 7:30.

The schedule: Monday is family night, Tuesday is for women, Wednesday for fathers and sons, Thursday for men and women. There will be no swimming on Friday nights. On Saturday evening the pool is reserved for teen-agers.

Instruction in swimming is available on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights by request of the life-guard on duty. There will be no additional charge.

Instructors during the program will be: Willo Shirey on Tuesdays, McFall on Wednesdays and Wally Laury on Thursdays.

Brae-Burn Champ to Get Mail's Traveling Trophy

In view of two golf tournaments in this area, both of which carry resemblance to the city contests of old, The Plymouth Mail's sports department was confronted by a problem of serious proportions last week.

The sports desk was faced with making the decision as to how The Mail's revered traveling championship trophy would be offered this season. The predicament: One trophy, but two tournaments.

The traveling trophy is 18" tall and weighs about four pounds. It has at the top the figurine of a golfer. At its base the trophy is about six inches in diameter, tapering to the figurine.

The current traveling trophy is the second one donated to the city tournaments by The Mail. It is in the possession of Jim McAllister by virtue of his victory last year. Three city titles by the same golfer allows that man to retire the trophy.

In 1950 Tom Lock retired the first trophy when he was victorious for the third time. Since then city golf tourney winners have included: Lock again, Harp Stephens twice, Ralph Lorenz once and McAllister last year.

Only Stephens, with two "legs" on the current trophy, has an opportunity to retire the prize this season.

The Mail considered the situation carefully and conferred with various individuals. Finally the decision was made to offer the trophy to the winner of the Plymouth-Northville golf tournament, organized by Jerry Walsh and to be conducted at Brae-Burn beginning Saturday with the qualifying rounds.

The reasons for this were not numerous. However the few reasons were conclusive for The Mail.

In previous years the city tourneys have been open to both golfers from the Plymouth and the Northville areas. This year Walsh's contest holds closest to this prerequisite.

Casey Partridge's tournament encompasses an area which includes the western half of Livonia and extends as far south as Cherry Hill road. Earhart road is reportedly the west boundary. The north limit, according to a circular sent out by Partridge, is Eight Mile road. Partridge's test is being held at his Plymouth Country club layout.

It is the decision of The Mail that Walsh's contest is more to the form of past city tourneys than Partridge's. Northville and Plymouth have entered tournaments together in recent years when the action was held at Bob-O-Link course on Grand River.

Thus, The Mail, acting in good faith, rendered its decision to offer the traveling championship trophy to the Plymouth-Northville test at Brae-Burn.

Prizes in the two tourneys are very similar, disregarding the absence of The Mail's trophy among Partridge's awards. The initial thought might be that a winner of his test would be left out as a possible city champ.

However it is conceivable that contestants could participate in both games, thus eventually getting a crack at the traveling trophy. In fact, several former city champs are competing in both tourneys.

(Although Harp Stephens is not listed as an entry in Walsh's contest, he has indicated to The Mail that he would compete in it. He also is in Partridge's. Stephens is the only man this year who could retire the trophy by virtue of a title in 1956. He has two "legs.")

Lorenz, Lock and McAllister are also entered in both contests thus assuring their opportunities for winning the trophy.

The decision on the part of The Mail was not an easy one. It had been suggested that a match-play contest between the top winners of both tourneys be conducted for eventual possession of the trophy. This was turned down by Walsh. However Partridge agreed to it.

The decision was not intended to favor or oppose anyone. It was made after due consultation and by virtue of impartial judgement by The Mail.

Fluke Hits, Homer Nip Merchants

A homerun over the short, 275-foot leftfield fence coupled with two fluke basehits that produced another run handed Plymouth Merchants their first loss in the Inter-County post season playoff Sunday.

Merchants bowed 2-1 to Romulus Sunday afternoon on the Romulus diamond. The playoff arrangements call for elimination from further competition after two losses. Merchants now have lost one. The locals are battling in the upper division tourney.

But in the confines of Romulus' small park Lombardi's blast soared over the fence for a home run.

Romulus catcher Sam Lombardi lofted a high fly ball to left field in the second inning which nor-

Circle Thursday, September 20, on your calendar. That is the day that St. Michael's church will be host to the American Red Cross Blood bank. It is very important that as many people as possible visit the school and try to give a pint of blood. You are given credit for trying even if you are turned down for some reason. Of course we all hope that it will not be necessary for us to call on the bank for blood for our family, but from personal experience it is a great help and consolation to be able to obtain same when needed.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Campbell, 11301 Ingram, on the birth of their son, Mark Shawn.

The Rosedale Gardens Women's club is having its opening dinner on September 29 at 6:45 at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth. Thursday, September 13, at 8:30 will be the first civic meeting at the clubhouse on Hubbard for the Rosedale Gardens Civic association. This is the time and place to voice your opinions and the board will be encouraged if there is a large attendance. This is a critical year in the history of the Civic association. The retention of the clubhouse as our community headquarters and as a place for the many activities we sponsor, will depend on your concerned and willing support. Hope to see you there.

SAMPLE PUZZLE

ANSWER BIRD

HOW TO PLAY:

In the sample puzzle, as in all of the 54 official Puzzles, there are exactly enough letters contained within the squares to correctly spell the name of a certain city or town in one of the 48 states. Object of the game is to untangle the letters and, with the aid of the clue, determine and spell out the name. IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO WRITE THE NAME OF THE STATE. The correct name of the city or town is all that's required.

Canton Township

Stein pointed out that the disposal plant would be only temporary, assuming that the system would be tied into the Lower Rouge Interceptor that runs along Michigan avenue to the Canton township line.

The supervisor told The Mail following the meeting that the quarter million dollars for the proposed plant could be obtained from the four-mill levy voted at an election last spring.

Plymouth township's supervisor, Roy Lindsay, a member of the committee, declared that the northwest corner of Wayne county should get more consideration.

"We sit out there and they hand us an empty plate every time," he added.

Stein also seemed to have the backing of most members of the committee and County Department of Health Engineer Morton Hilbert.

Engineer Kunze said that his department could not stand in the way of Canton township if it wanted to build its own plant.

Stein, however, pointed out several times that the state health officials would not approve their disposal system unless Kunze and his department first declared that they could not furnish the necessary taps.

Whether or not Kunze will give the okay seems to depend upon the outcome of a report that he was to have furnished the committee Monday. The report is now to be available in two weeks. Kunze said that if he figures out a way to raise $25,000,000 or more, the entire system can be expanded.

"Do you have confidence that the board of supervisors will do what you recommend?" one of the committeemen asked Kunze.

"No, I don't," Kunze replied.

The county sanitary engineer later explained his problems. Pointing to a large map on the wall that showed the county sewer system, Kunze said that the city of Detroit now will accept sewerage at 70 cubic feet per second. "Growth in the northwest area indicates that we will have 300 cubic feet per second." He then told of the needed parallel sewers up to nine and a half feet in diameter.

He believed that the system would cost over $25,000,000 but would provide "ultimate" service. The ultimate, or saturation point in population, is expected by the year 2000.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tucker of Irvin street moved Monday to Hartford, Conn. Mrs. Tucker and son, Tommy, are staying with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey in Adrian until Mr. Tucker finds a house for them to live in.

"that the board does not want any through traffic around the school either."

In other business before the board, a representative from the Fidelity Appraisal company of Milwaukee told of the services offered by his firm. The board had expressed some interest in obtaining an appraisal of all buildings for insurance purposes and Fidelity was recommended by the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents.

It would cost $2,500 to complete the appraisal, the representative said. No action was taken by the board.

Neither was action taken on a request from Roy Rew, local musician, who offered to present performances before local school children at 10 cents each. The board passed a resolution several years ago to deny paid assemblies.

Bids were opened for home-making and art room equipment for the junior high. Five firms submitted bids with Peninsular Slate offering the lowest bid on wood equipment, $9,485, and W. D. Glardon giving the low bid on metal furniture, $10,640. The architect will study the specifications and offer a recommendation.

Junior High Principal In Critical Condition

Two widely-known Plymouthites whose hospital rooms are across from one another at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor are reported somewhat improved. They are Arthur J. Alford, principal of the junior high, and Mrs. Bessie Dunning, 944 Penniman.

Relatives reported that even doctors had given up hope for Principal Alford's recovery early Monday morning. He had suffered a heart attack three weeks ago and appeared to be recovering when he suffered another last Friday. He again appeared to be recovering until early Monday when he "fought death for hours," according to relatives.

Although still critical, the junior high principal again showed gains yesterday. Alford suffered his first heart attack several years ago.

Mrs. Dunning has been in the hospital since September 4. Her condition is reported "satisfactory" but she is expected to undergo surgery Monday morning.

With Plymouthites In Service
 Edwin L. Grosjean
 Edwin L. Grosjean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grosjean, 8300 Newburg road, Plymouth, was recently promoted to Specialist 3, new Army equivalent of corporal. He is currently assigned to the 53rd Ordnance group located at Spinelli barracks in Mannheim Germany.
 Grosjean arrived overseas and was assigned to the group in April of last year. Prior to overseas shipment, he went through Infantry Basic training and Clerk Typist school at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri. He is currently working as a clerk in the Plans and Training division of the Group headquarters.
 After graduation from Plymouth high school in 1952, Grosjean attended Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti, for two years.

Richard King to Manage Grinnell's Ypsilanti Store
 Grinnell Brothers, Detroit, has announced the appointment of Richard E. King as manager of the Grinnell store in Ypsilanti.
 King has been on the sales staff of Grinnell's, Ypsilanti for the past five years, serving as representative of the firm at Blunk's furniture store, Plymouth during that time. He holds a bachelor's and master's degree in music from the University of Michigan.
 Also added to the Ypsilanti sales staff was Mrs. Gill of Haggerty road, Northville. She will be at Blunk's Monday and Friday evenings and all day Saturday to demonstrate organs on display there.

People continue to get themselves killed through avoidable accidents, and the toll will continue as long as men exist on this globe.

Social Security Benefits Extended

Beginning with January 1, 1957, military personnel of all grades will be covered by social security during active service. They will be building personal and family protection under the program the same as 9 out of 10 persons in civilian employment and self-employment.
 This protection is provided by the Servicemen's and Veteran's Survivor Benefits Act Which President Eisenhower signed into law on August 1, 1956. This means regular social security credit for service personnel for their years of active service after 1956 without affecting the military retirement pay of career soldiers and sailors.
 The Federal Government and the servicemen will share the social security tax in the same manner as employers and employees in private industry. This tax will be at the same rate as that provided for civilian workers and employers. For servicemen the social security tax will be on the service person's basic pay and will not be imposed on such items as the value of food shelter, and various allowances and special pay.
 Social security account number cards will be issued to members of the armed forces under special procedures. It will not be necessary for servicemen to contact social security district offices to apply for cards. However, information about social security coverage and benefits is available at all social security offices.
 The Detroit-Northwest social security office is located at 18260 Grand River (just west of Southfield), Detroit 23, Michigan. The phone number is BRoadway 3-1717.

When it comes to finishing wood paneling, the home owner has many choices. He can paint the paneling to blend or contrast with other room decorations. He can use a clear finish—varnish, or shellac—to retain all the natural markings and coloring of the wood. Or he can use one of the many different stains now being sold, to give the wood more color and highlight its built-in warmth and beauty.

Meet Your Church Organist....

AT THE ORGAN for the congregation of the St. John's Episcopal church, corner Harvey and Maple streets, is Mrs. Roland Bonamici, 1045 Sutherland. She's been the organist there for eight years. Mrs. Bonamici studied at the Institute of Musical Arts in Detroit. She provides the music at 9:30 and 11:00 a.m. services Sundays at the church and also for various special services. She is director of the junior church choir, too. She teaches piano and organ music in her spare time. Reverend David T. Davies is pastor of the St. John's Episcopal church.

Pack 3 Committee Plan Year's Activities
 The Pack committee of Cub Scout Pack 3 (Starkweather school) met at the home of Robert Cracker, 15111 Northville road, on Wednesday evening of last week, signaling the resumption of Den and Pack activities after a summer recess.
 Committee Chairman Arthur J. Gardner, 42457 Parkhurst, presided over the business meeting and John P. Park, 130 North Holbrook, presented the session's calendar of events to the den mother.
 Park announced that adult leader training classes will be continued again this year. Week-ly Den meeting will begin this week.
 On the September 26 program will be the presentation of achievement awards to Cubs, a skit by Mrs. Walter Gothe's Den 7 and a brief parents meeting during which Cubs will be entertained by movies.

"The makings of a perfect life are simple. After all, you need only to own a comfortable bed and a comfortable pair of shoes, because you're in one or the other practically all your life."

Bartlett Moms to Elect

Bartlett School Mothers club will hold election of officers Wednesday night at 8 at their first fall meeting, to be held in the school. Luncheon committee for the gathering will be composed of the following retiring officers: President Mrs. Homer Benoit, Secretary Mrs. Donald Walbridge, Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Roger Smith and Treasurer Mrs. Elmer Krause.

Lodge to Open Activities

Fall activities of Plymouth Rebekah lodge No. 182 will be officially launched this Friday at a meeting to start with a potluck supper at 6 p.m. in the I. O. O. F. hall on Elizabeth street. All members are urged to be present for this occasion. Bridge might not be such a waste of time if the players would stop talking about the hands they played last week.

Special Meeting for OES

Plymouth chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a special meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Masonic temple. The event will be advanced officers' and conductresses' night with a public memorial. Members are reminded to attend the practice this Sunday at 2 p.m. in the temple. Selfishness wrecks nations, just as it wrecks individuals.

If you need an alibi for that summer relaxed feeling, just let your friends and critics know that an Illinois doctor has a kind word for laziness. That sounds like a custom-built alibi, but the good doctor goes on to state that your laziness has to be controlled. Shiftlessness and laziness may be brothers under the yawn... but laziness should have an aim if it's going to pay off.

According to the Doc's diagnosis, the lazy man learns the rules of the game and doesn't butt his head against stone walls. He doesn't repeat errors. He learns the facts before he acts. That means using your head instead of your feet. (Not necessarily for standing on). So don't worry if folks call you lazy. You're safe until they start calling you shiftless.

We have everything in school supplies... Also medicine chest supplies.

The local cynic says that after listening to the political conventions it's obvious that we live in a Land of Promise.

We don't make any promise about our fine "Prescription service" we can't back up! Remember too we give S & H Green Stamps. Remember... someone you know... knows me!

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Goyer returned to their home on Church street, Friday evening, from a most interesting vacation. They left Willow Run airport on August 18 with a large group of Shriners and their wives on a trip to Mexico where they visited various places then Mr. and Mrs. Goyer went on to California, where they visited his son Clinton and family in Borrego Springs, and her sister, Mrs. Ernest Kohler in Fresno.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reamer of Junction avenue were hosts Sunday to their cousins and families at their annual reunion. Dinner was served buffet style on the lawn with about 60 present from Three Oaks, Pittsford, Fenton, Jerome, Walled Lake and Plymouth. A surprise shower was also given for Beverly Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurber Becker of Three Rivers, and her fiancé, Allan Harrington, also of Three Rivers, who will be married on October 13th.

Mrs. Douglas Blunk of Haggerty highway was hostess Monday afternoon at a party in celebration of her daughter, Gail Diane's birthday when she entertained Mrs. Jay Hanna and son, Scott; Mrs. Noel Litzenberg and son, Mark; Mrs. Dave McIntosh and son, Michael; Mrs. Terrance Hitt and daughter, Terrylyn and Mrs. Campbell, daughter, Karen and son, Kevin.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Aigue of Mountain View, California, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mubby and will also visit other friends in Plymouth during this month. They were the guests of honor Sunday at a cooperative dinner given by members of the Ex-Service Men's club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gardiner on Ann Arbor road when about forty were present.

The baseball team of 14 to 16 year-old boys sponsored by Davis & Lent company enjoyed the day Sunday at the summer home of Mr. Lent on Zukey lake at Lakeland where they enjoyed dinner and planned recreation.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Rea entertained at dinner, Thursday, in their home on Ann Arbor trail, for Mrs. F. J. Slater of Williston Park, Long Island, and Mrs. Maud Bennett of Northville. All were former residents of Northville and attended school in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lent and family have returned to their home on Edison avenue, following a summer spent at their cottage on Zukey lake, Lakeland.

Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Hitt of Sheridan avenue left Saturday evening for a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Odene Hitt and family in Westport, Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hines have sold their home on Northville road to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Judd of this city and plan to leave Thursday for their winter home in Lantana, Florida.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Irving Blunk and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith on Seven Mile road, Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurber Becker and family and Betty Schwartz and Allen Harrington of Three Oaks were week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reamer on Junction avenue.

The Suburban 500 club will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gray, Saturday evening, for a cooperative dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Aigue of Mountain View, California, will be guests.

Miss Joanne Donnelly and Miss Mary Lou Hartwick will leave Monday for Alma College where Mary Lou will enter her Senior year and Joanne will be a sophomore.

Dog Show Will Feature The Jackson Zouaves

Eighteen judges will sift through an estimated entry of one thousand dogs to come up with the best in show dog at the Livonia Kennel Club All Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial to be held Sunday, September 16, at the Detroit Race Course in Livonia.

Eighty different breeds, including the finest pure bred specimens from all over the country, will compete for three thousand dollars worth of trophies in the first sanctioned dog show to be given by the Livonia Kennel Club.

In addition to the show and obedience trials, the Jackson, Michigan, Zouaves, recently seen in the movie, "The Court Jester" and on Ed Sullivan's "Toast of the Town" will give two performances of their 300 step per minute precision drills. Club president Gene Burman has announced.

Show hours are from 9:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. with plenty of parking available.

Residents Graduate From Recruit School

Three Plymouth residents graduated Friday from Naval Air station, Grosse Ile 85 Day Recruit school. They are Linden F. Mills, 625 Pacific, Jerry R. Steele, 217 North Main, and John D. Thomas, 9445 Elmhurst.

The recruits, all 17, began their training June 23. Highlight of the school term was a recent cruise aboard the USS Leyte, giant aircraft carrier, from Norfolk, Virginia to Quonset Point, Rhode Island.

Rear Admiral Leon Jacobi, Detroit Senior Naval Reserve officer, was principal speaker at the graduation exercises in which approximately 210 recruits participated. Following graduation, recruits will become members of various "weekend warrior" squadrons and drill one weekend a month at the station.

Golden Rule For Back-To-School . . .

No matter what other effects school may have on youngsters, this much is certain: appetites of budding scholars burst into full bloom in September.

That's why A&P has gone "all out" to obtain bountiful supplies of scholar-favored, dollar-stretching foods for hearty meals and nourishing snacks. And we did it with the idea of helping mothers who want to do the same right about now.

If your youngster, like so many others, tends to associate the school bell with the dinner bell—come see, you'll save at A&P!

WILLIAM E. KESSLER, son of Mrs. Pearl Kessler of Plymouth, has joined the Westinghouse atomic power research laboratory in Pittsburgh as a physicist. He will do scientific development work on atomic-powered surface ships. Graduated from Michigan State Normal college this year, he and his wife and child will reside in McKeesport, Pennsylvania.

AN ARTICLE in the Canon City, Colorado Daily Record reports that Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Shingleton of Plymouth stopped in their city recently to visit familiar places and people that Mr. Shingleton knew 50 years ago. As a young man, Mr. Shingleton went to Canon City to work for a tailor and later opened his own shop in Salida, Colorado. The Shingletons were enroute to Salida where they have gone each year for the past 12 years.

OUTDOOR NOTES

From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Unfavorable spring weather caused a 15 percent drop in pheasant production, but hunters are expected to bag about 1,000,000 birds this fall if weather and other hunting conditions are normal.

Ralph I. Blouch, Conservation Department pheasant specialist, said studies indicate a 15 to 25 percent decrease in the kill this fall, compared to last year's excellent season.

Blouch said this decrease would place the kill between 900,000 and 1,050,000—very close to the 18-year average of 1,000,000 birds bagged per year.

"This isn't too serious a decline and it probably will mean only a slightly poorer hunting season than 1955," Blouch said. "It should be about on the same level as 1951 through 1953."

These estimates are based on information from surveys by rural mail carriers, cooperating farmers and Conservation Department field men.

The recently-completed mail carrier census indicated the 15 percent drop in production. The number and size of broods declined slightly and only 63 percent of the hen pheasants had successful hatches, compared with a five-year average of about 70 percent.

The large breeding population this year cushioned the drop in hen success, however, and kept the decline from reaching serious proportions.

Considered by areas, it appears that all parts of the pheasant range were affected, but in different degrees. The thumb counties had the least change, with a six percent drop in production, while the top quality area in Ottawa and Allegan counties showed the largest production decrease, 21 percent.

The state Conservation Commission, meeting at Higgins Lake, September 6-7, is scheduled to designate lakes in which brook, brown, or rainbow trout predominate as "trout lakes" for 1957 fishing seasons.

In waters designated as trout lakes, it is unlawful to use live fish of any kind, or to use or possess live, dead, or preserved minnows for bait.

Proposed changes from the 1956 list of trout lakes include addition of Cedar Lake, Lapeer county; Linnbeck Lake, Menominee county; and Center and Sunrise Lakes, Osceola county.

Lakes which would be deleted next year from the current list include Deer and Spring Lakes, Iron county; and Chain of Lakes, Marquette county.

Feminine hunters in Michigan apparently aren't to be outdone by their male counterparts, according to Conservation Department hunting license sales records.

A spot check of 1955 records shows deer license sales to Evelyn Brown of Pontiac and Bertha Harris of Newcastle, Pennsylvania. Both were 80 years old.

Young ladies also took part in 1955 hunting seasons, including 11-year-old Velma Brotherton of Grand Rapids, a small game license holder.

Conservation Department workers will operate checking stations to record deer killed during the November 15-30 special season in area No. 2, a 929-square mile area centering around Baldwin.

The area was designated by the Conservation Commission as a testing ground for the taking of surplus deer during the regular November season, rather than during the December 1-2 special season in effect in other areas.

The checking system will supply hunting information for game biologists who will make a careful study of the effects of this concurrent special season.

All deer, except male deer with antlers at least three inches long, must be presented for validation by personnel at Department checking stations, or by a conservation officer on duty in the field within 48 hours after the deer is killed. The hunter also must present his license and special permit. Department personnel will record the hunting information and attach a confirming seal to the deer.

It will be unlawful to transport or possess deer taken on special permits unless the confirming seal is attached.

Deer killed on November 29 or 30 will have to be validated by midnight, November 30.

Area No. 2 includes portions of Lake, Manistee, Mason, Newaygo, Oceana, Osceola and Wexford counties. A total of 4500 special permits will be issued for the area and the anticipated kill under these permits is 3000 deer.

A special season, concurrent with the November 15-30 season, also will be held on Bois Blanc Island, in the Straits of Mackinac, and a similar checking system will be in effect.

Charles Stofko

New Manager Takes Over Barnes-Gibson-Raymond

Charles J. Stofko has been appointed general manager of the Barnes-Gibson-Raymond divisions of Associated Spring corporation, at Plymouth and Ann Arbor, effective September 4, according to an announcement by Carlyle F. Barnes, president of Associated Spring.

He succeeds N. Markham Purple, who has resigned because of ill health.

Stofko, who is 44, is a native of Bristol and went to work for the Wallace Barnes Company, the Bristol division of Associated Spring, in 1929, after graduating from the local high school. He worked his way up through a progression of managerial duties in several departments, and became factory manager in 1953.

He has been active in community affairs and in 1955 was president of the Bristol Community Chest. Stofko is married to the former Isolde Jestinsky of Montreal. They have three children.

In accepting Purple's resignation, Barnes expressed his deep regrets and his appreciation for the former manager's 30 years of service to the corporation.

Purple was appointed general manager of the Barnes-Gibson-Raymond division in 1948, after long service with the Wallace Barnes Division, both on its manufacturing and its sales force. To assume Stofko's responsibilities in Bristol, G. Theodore Zahnke, general manager of the corporation's Bristol divisions, has appointed Stanley M. Rimmer as spring works manager and David L. McAllister as steel manager. Both men have had long experience in their respective fields of manufacturing at the Wallace Barnes Company division.

Associated Spring Corporation is the world's largest manufacturer of precision mechanical springs and spring steel products, with 12 manufacturing divisions located in the principal industrial centers of the United States and Canada.

The Measure of a Man

Not—"How did he die?"
But—"How did he live?"
Not—"What did he gain?"
But—"What did he give?"
But—"Had he a heart?"
And—"How did he play His God-given part?"
These the units to measure the worth
Of a man as a man, regardless of birth.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Who wouldn't want a sampling of pie that takes State Fair honors? Above Mark, 5, and four-year-old Nan LaPointe are ready with fork and plate for their Mom's Lemon Chiffon specialty. Missing out are the other LaPointe youngsters, David, 11, and Bruce, 13, in school at the time.

Try Mrs. LaPointe's Prize-Winning Pie!

Here's the pie that took blue ribbon honors at the 1956 Michigan State Fair—the award recipient none other than a staff member of the Mail, Mrs. Emil LaPointe of 3630 Joy road, correspondent for the Newburg News!

The prize-winning pie is "Lemon Chiffon," the specialty coming from a cookbook given Mrs. LaPointe by her husband on their first anniversary. The dessert won her $3.50 and passes to the state event which closed Sunday at the Detroit Fairgrounds coliseum.

Unusual feature of the pie is its delicious chiffon filling nestled in a lightly-cinnamon shell of graham crackers. The winning recipe is given below:

Lemon Chiffon Pie

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin (1 envelope)
- ¼ cup cold water
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt

Directions:

Soften gelatin in water. Beat egg yolks and add ½ cup sugar, lemon juice and salt. Cook over boiling water until of custard consistency. Add softened gelatin and stir thoroughly. Cool.

When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites to which remaining ½ cup of sugar has been added. Fill crumb shell and chill. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Graham Cracker Shell

- 1 package cinnamon graham crackers (about 16 crackers)
 - ¼ cup sugar
 - ¼ cup butter or margarine (½ stick)
- Crush crackers until fine. Mix in sugar. Mix, with fingers, margarine and graham crackers. Line pie plate and press firmly, to make crust.

Here's a Better Mousetrap, And Other Novel New Things

An Englishman has created a better mousetrap, made entirely of steel. It is described as the perfect example of its kind. Triggered to hair's-breadth sensitivity, it claims its victim any time the bait is touched. Yet its self-setting action guards against nipped fingers.

It's practically leaf-raking time again. A new gadget for attaching to your garden hose is claimed to enable you to walk along and make the leaves fly before you without raking.

The next best trick to washing windows without using your hands should be doing the job without wetting them. This is made possible by a bottle and self-feeding sponge combination. You fill the bottle with water and detergent, attach it as a handle for the sponge and go to work on the panes. On the other side of the sponge is a wiper that is used to wipe the window clean after reversing the wand.

A new faucet-type water softener for attachment to kitchen, bath or laundry faucets needs no special tools or fittings. The water softening unit is regenerated by adding table salt.

You can't cap this one—a new toothbrush that carries a supply of liquid dentifrice in its handle.

Look, m'am, no clothespins! That's the boast made for a new clothesline, since garments may be tucked between its two plaited cords. Suggested for travel, the 50-inch elastic line stretches to 10 feet.

A desirable hot foot is provided by an electric blanket that gives extra heat where the feet are. Said to have been inspired by tests showing the feet are about seven degrees colder than the rest of the body.

Cutting so-called "finger fatigue" is the aim of a new line of scissors and shears featuring handles cushioned by a foamed plastisol coating. They're offered for home, office and school use.

An important part of making successful old-fashioned popovers, according to the experts, is an old-fashioned cast-iron pop-over pan. Reportedly hard to find, such a pan now is available. Comes in old-fashioned black, too.

A festive note for many occasions may be added by a cake in the shape of a house baked in a new, large-size aluminum cake mold. It will hold one complete package of prepared cake mix or two packages of gingerbread mix.

Becoming a robot master is possible now, even for four-year-olds, with a futuristic-looking toy that consists of a large-headed figure encased in a 10-inch vehicle. By pre-setting a performance pattern on the printed circuit in the toy's head, it is claimed, a child can make the vehicle move in any direction. In addition, two "nike" guided missiles can be fired by the toy when and where the child designates them to be fired.

Less noise is in store for mother when a child starts learning on a new beginner's roller skate that's said to be the first non-ballbearing skate with rubber wheels.

Legion Post, Auxiliary to Host Meet

Passage Gayde post No. 391 and auxiliary were host to the first 17th district meeting of the 1956-57 season, Friday night at the Veterans Community center.

Mrs. Lena Hammond, new district auxiliary president, presided at the gathering along with the 1956-57 slate of officers. The following chairmanship appointments were made at this meeting: Americanism, Dorothy Sitarski, Livonia; civil defense, Ruth King, Northville; community service, Mae Edwards, Redford township; constitution and by-laws, Marie Thompson, Plymouth; education and scholarship, Vera Tubbs, Redford township; girl state, Elizabeth Wilcox, Livonia; historian and junior activities, Gwen Holcombe, Plymouth;

Legislative, Gussie Shannon, Redford - Detroit membership, Armitta Nevins, Redford township; memorial scholarships, Vera Tubbs, Redford township; music, Gladys Shore, Livonia; Pan-American study, Adah Langmaid, Plymouth; past president parley, Marie Kilde, Rosedale Park; poppy, Marie Thompson, Plymouth; publicity and radio, Hazel Wright, Northville; rehabilitation, Fern Burleson, Plymouth.

Plymouthites on the 1956-57 officers' slate for the district auxiliary are Maxine Kunz, treasurer; Gwen Holcombe, historian; and Marie Thompson, chaplain. Mrs. Adah Langmaid, immediate past president, will serve on the executive board.

New post officers will be presented at a later date. Refreshments were served at the close of the program. Next district meeting will be October 5, at 8:30, hosted by Myron H. Meall's post and auxiliary of Livonia.

Who's New in Plymouth

AIR-MINDED are the Edward J. Rowes of 9639 McClumpha who arrived in Plymouth August 7 from LaGrange, Illinois. A pilot for Slick Airways, Inc., air freight line with headquarters in Burbank, California, Rowe is based at Willow Run. Mrs. Rowe is a former United Air Lines stewardess. The couple met in their home town of Elkhart, Indiana where Rowe holds membership in the Masonic and Elks lodges. Between Susanne, 6, and four-year-old Marianne is Cutie, family mascot Dad brought back from Hartford, Connecticut. Although flying primarily domestic routes, Rowe was in Germany last year and this June returned from a six-weeks stint at the Arctic Circle.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

A Harvest dance is being given by the Post, September 29. It is the first dance of the fall season. Dancing will be from 9:30 until 1:30 p.m. and the music will be furnished by Bill Thomas and his All Star orchestra. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is welcome to attend. For information on tickets, call John Schwartz at 3470-W.

VFW Slates Bake Sale

Don't forget the rummage sale September 25-27 at the Post hall. If you can't deliver your rummage goods, please contact Chairman Gerry Olson at 3279. Please note the dates have been changed from the ones originally set up.

A bake sale will be sponsored this Saturday at the S. S. Kresge store by the Youth Activities committee, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Hours for the event are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Chairman is Beverly Brown.

State Hospital Seeks Gray Lady Volunteers

This year's recruitment period for Gray Ladies to serve at Northville State hospital, has been set for Friday, September 14, between 1 and 4:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Iola Desarmeaux, 32318 Shiawassee, vice-chairman of Northville State Hospital Gray Lady service.

On that date, Mrs. Cameron W. Ryckman, Gray Lady chairman of the American Red Cross Detroit chapter, will arrange for representatives from her office to interview all applicants and Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of Social service, will also be available to answer questions about the hospital.

All Gray Ladies must agree to serve 150 hours a year. Hours on duty are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the week-day of their choice. An applicant must be in good health and have a physical examination by her own doctor.

Other requirements are: 25 to 55 years of age; completion of a 10½ hour training course at the hospital, and completion of a 35 hour probation period. Gray Ladies purchase their own uniforms and shoes, and are expected to be in uniform when on duty at the hospital.

After the recruitment period, Gray Lady training will be given at the hospital on September 20, 25 and 27 from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Gray Ladies from this area, who are currently volunteering at Northville State hospital are Mrs. Lorraine Barbour, 478 Arthur; Mrs. Mary Wick, 292 North Holbrook; Mrs. Dorothy Yeoman and Mrs. Sarah Yeoman of 14269 Minehart drive.

Bouffant Wide-Swept Coiffures Complement Fall's 1912 Look

There are exciting tricks for tresses this fall, as hair stylings point up the silhouette of Empire or the "1912" look! Complementing the slim elegance of these two trends are new pouffed-out hair stylings with a "big softy" look!

Designed to set off the wider hats and the taller hats, new hair styles are curved into wide arcs at the side of the face, with emphasis focused on the curve rather than the curl.

Fashion-wise also are side swept and up-swept headlines with debonair airs that play up tiers of soft waves, ruffled swirls that combine with bouffant fullness at either nape of the neck, sides or at the forehead.

For milady who favors the Grecian knot, the chignon or the caught-up "fall" — fashion dresses the tresses with jeweled ornaments, bandeaux, ribbons, bows, chignon sticks and other crowning glories!

All in all, fashion excitingly points to the head-lines for fall — in exciting new coiffures to set off the exciting new creations of the gala new season!

The popular bouffant look for Fall is interpreted in this wide-swept, highly dramatic coiffure. Softly under-turned wings flow from a center part to create a graceful halo. A perfect complement to Fall's new bulky hats!

Label Guides Buying Of "Dacron" Curtains

Look for the label when buying "dacron" curtains. It helps as a quality guide, says Michigan State University specialists.

At present 31 fabric manufacturers use the label which is furnished to them by the company that makes the "dacron" fiber. It states, "The fabric in the curtain is woven 100 per cent of 'dacron' polyester fiber, has at least 52 x 34 threads to the inch and that the label is furnished by the company for use only on curtains made of fabric of this construction or better."

Cotton Chintz Back in Vogue

Cotton chintz is making a comeback in home furnishings, notes a nationwide authority.

Modern chintz, its glazed surface permanently wedded to the fabric with new resin finishes, is a far cry from old-fashioned chintzes which often lost their finish at the first washing.

Housewives are using the material for curtains, draperies, and boudoir chairs, especially in rooms furnished in a revival of the Early American style. It is also being used to an increasing extent for slipcovers.

Chintz, named from a Hindu word which means "spotted," is now made by impregnating cotton print cloth with chemicals which create a permanent glazed surface; it is roller printed with gay figures or floral designs. Chintz is one of many fabrics which give cotton the overwhelming leadership in home furnishings; some 67 per cent of all household textiles are made of cotton.

THEY'RE PLUM GOOD

When you shop for fresh plums, you'll find that the best quality fruit is plump, full colored for its variety, and soft enough to yield to slight pressure.

The Color Varies

Plums vary in color, according to variety, from greenish-yellow to the more familiar dark bluish-purple.

The degree of softness of the flesh is a pretty reliable guide to maturity. Generally speaking, the softer the plum, the more ripe it is.

Overripe fruit is almost mushy to the touch and unless you can use it quickly, isn't a good buy. In making plum conserve, select only fruit that is fully ripe, but not mushy.

Spiced Plum Conserve

- 3 pounds ripe plums
- 1/2 cup water
- 7 1/2 cups sugar
- 1 lemon (juice and grated rind)
- 2 oranges (juice and grated rind)
- 2 tablespoons mixed pickling spice
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 bottle (1/2 cup) liquid pectin
- 1/2 cup nut meats

Wash and pit plums. Chop into coarse pieces. Add water and boil three minutes. Add sugar, fruit pieces, rinds, spices (tied in bag), and raisins.

Bring to a boil and simmer for five minutes, stirring constantly. Take out spice bag and remove from heat. Add liquid pectin and nut meats.

Allow to cool slightly, stirring and skimming alternately until most of scum has been removed. Fill hot sterilized glasses. Seal at once.

Yield: Eleven 7-ounce glasses.

The plum season runs from June through September, so you'll have about a month of plum good eating ahead of you.

September Sundae - A Peach of a Dessert!

Sundae hungry? Then it's time to try this perfect "peach" of a dessert which, because of its versatility, is destined to be a year-round favorite. For example: You can use canned peaches or stew up some fresh ones or even substitute pear halves. Omit the ice cream and serve the fruit with the maple-blended whipped cream and a generous "pour-on" of the syrup. Or—for still other interesting and easy variations, spoon maple-blended syrup into the serving dishes, then sandwich ice cream peach halves and serve with a pretty topping of flaked coconut or almonds.

MAPLE PEACH SUNDAE

- 4 canned peach halves, drained
- 2 teaspoons butter
- 1/2 cup maple-blended syrup
- 1/4 cup peach juice
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup whipping cream
- 1 to 2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup
- 1 pint peach or vanilla ice cream
- Toasted almonds
- Tender-thin coconut flakes, plain or toasted

Place peaches, cut-side up, in greased shallow baking dish. Place 1/2 teaspoon of the butter in center of each. Combine 1/4 cup maple-blended syrup, the peach juice, cinnamon, and salt. Pour over peaches. Place under broiler 5 to 10 minutes, or until peaches are thoroughly heated. Or bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes.

Whip cream and fold in 1 to 2 tablespoons maple-blended syrup. Place a broiled peach half, cut-side up, in each of 4 serving dishes. Add a scoop of ice cream and pour the hot syrup over top. Garnish with whipped cream and nuts or coconut, plain or toasted. Makes 4 servings. As an accompaniment, serve bowls of toasted almonds and plain or toasted coconut.

Here's Tip for Pastry Fixin's

With fall at hand, appetites are soaring and homemakers find themselves preparing more baked goods. Here's a place where your refrigerator can serve you, suggest foods specialists.

Any dough may be refrigerated if the amount of yeast is increased by one half or doubled. Just put it in the refrigerator immediately after mixing and kneading, or let it rise, knead it down and refrigerate it. Brush the dough with melted fat and keep it well covered. Doughs can be kept at 45 to 50 degrees satisfactorily for three or four days.

To bake, remove the amount of dough needed, shape it as desired and let it stand at room temperature until light. Or let dough become light before shaping; then let it rise again and bake.

The specialists explain that refrigerated doughs are retarded doughs since the low temperature slows up the activity of growth of the yeast. When the dough is brought out to room temperature, it gradually begins to rise as the yeast becomes active again. A roll dough, a little richer and sweeter than plain bread dough, makes a good refrigerator dough. The extra sugar is needed for yeast growth.

Try This Idea In Bath Decor

If your bathroom is looking a bit drab, you can change the pace of its decor in a jiffy with a sew-it-yourself shower curtain of patterned cotton terry cloth, edged with cotton fringe and backed with a separate plastic liner.

A terry cloth curtain can be sewed in the washing machine just like a towel—and, if you don't have a drier, it can be hung back on the shower rod to dry. Firmly stretch the fringed edges and center seam so it will hang evenly when dry.

Here's how to make the curtain: Take six and a half yards of fabric, split it into two equal lengths, and stitch together lengthwise with a plain seam on the wrong side. Turn about a four-and-one-half-inch top hem over to the wrong side, and stitch a two-and-one-half-inch hem at the bottom.

Pin the cotton fringe in place a few inches down from the top of the curtain, along the draw side, and across the bottom hem. Then sew it in place by machine, using a double row of parallel stitches.

Vacuum "Man Friday" For Fall Housecleaning

Your fall house cleaning can be made easier if you have a modern vacuum cleaner. The modern cleaner can do so many different things it is a must in every home.

No other cleaning device is as efficient in cleaning rugs. A vacuum should be run over rugs giving them a thorough cleaning every day. This will prevent harmful dirt particles from penetrating into the base of the rug.

It used to be thought, and it may have been true with old type cleaners, that the wear and tear caused by running a vacuum over rugs every day did more harm than allowing the dirt to work its way down to the base of a rug. This is not true.

A modern vacuum with attachments can be converted into an excellent floor polisher. The suction will exert a pressure of forty pounds or more, depending on the make of cleaner.

Demoting clothes for storage, rugs, drapes and blankets becomes a simple matter with modern vacuum cleaner attachments.

Paint-spraying is made easy as well, and a number of household tasks, like cleaning old-fashioned radiators, dusting books, lamp shades and mirrors, are made simple.

In general, it is possible to keep a cleaner house, easier, today than ever before with the use of a modern vacuum cleaner.

Statistics reveal many things but, first, they must be intelligently gathered and then fairly studied.

Mousseline de Soie . . .

a French term meaning silk muslin. Today it may be made of rayon. When you purchase a dress made of either silk or rayon "Mousseline de Soie", you should know that it presents several problems in wear and cleaning. In cleaning, you may find:

- Loss of body and hand . . . the crispness is lost.
- Breaking up of the sizing . . . that may result in streaks or a general over-all whitish surface.
- In some fabrics, partial or complete loss of the decorative design.
- In wear, you may find:

- Spilling a glass of water or a beverage on this fabric will affect the sizing, leaving a film area.
- Perspiration, which is mostly water, will also affect the sizing.
- It is difficult, and sometimes impossible, to remove spots and stains caused from substances that contain moisture.
- Any moisture from the above sources may result in lighter colored spots, sizing rings, flimsiness or shrinkage of the yarns in the damp area.

Mousseline de soie is a luxury fabric—purchase it as such! The serviceability life is short since it presents problems in wear, stain and spot removal, and in cleaning.

It's Bonanza time at Buick Dealers!

That means SMART BUYS for the QUICK-MINDED

(You get a triple Bonanza in today's Buick)

Smart buys are in season. This is fine trading time. Your present car is at peak value. And with today's low Buick prices and high volume—you'll get a deal that can't be matched.

So why put off any longer the excitement and pure pleasure of bossing the mightiest V8 in Buick history? Why not start enjoying today the terrific performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—with its double-action getaway and safety acceleration even before you switch the pitch?

Why wait to enjoy the freshness of Buick styling, the fabulous Buick ride—when you can make a bonanza buy on the biggest-selling big car of all?

Come in today to enjoy the best motoring money can buy—at a bargain you'll boast about for years.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Bonanza Trade-in Allowance
—because your present car is at its peak value right now. And because—with Buick so solidly set as America's No. 3 Best Seller—our bigger sales volume permits us to make you an even better trade-in allowance.

Bonanza Buy
Buick prices start right next to those of the smaller cars. But those Buick dollars buy you a whole of a lot more automobile—more room, more power thrill, more styling freshness, more ride stability, more solidity of structure—the Best Buick Yet.

Bonanza Resale
A Buick always resells high. But the '56 Buick will bring you even more money when you trade it because it carries today's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* It's the most advanced transmission yet developed—and the only one that breaks with the past to bring you the switch-pitch performance and gas savings of the modern plane's variable pitch propellers.

It's a great time to buy a Buick

P.S. We have some especially good buys right now on the high-powered CENTURY and the extra-spacious SUPER. Better see 'em real soon!

Air Conditioned Development Reported on After Four Years

One of the nation's first completely air conditioned home developments is rounding out its fourth summer with proof positive that people who live in air conditioned homes are better off physically, financially — even mentally.

Builders and home owners alike are focusing attention on results of a survey of these homes by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers' Association at Valley Brook, Va., a suburb of Washington. The area was chosen by makers of gas-operated air conditioning systems for tests of year-round air conditioning for development building because it was felt that the nation's capital and its environs offer wide extremes in weather.

When the group of modern type homes got under way at Valley Brook in 1952, it was hailed as one of the two first developments to boast air conditioning in all its homes. And at a price tag of under $30,000!

Today, the GAMA survey finds that more than two-thirds of the families queried have noticed improvement in the general health of all members of the household (including pets!) In two of the homes where members suffer from pollen allergies or hay fever, there was decided improvement. In fact, medical savings in this household were estimated at from $25 to more than $300 per year.

"The other day I forgot to turn it on and I wondered why nobody would eat the dinner I had prepared," she told the GAMA interviewer.

Nine Ways to Finance Home Modernizations

There are at least nine different ways for home owners to finance remodeling, says the Plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association.

Open-end mortgage. This allows a home owner to re-borrow money already paid on his present mortgage. Repayment is made by increasing the present monthly mortgage rate or by extending the mortgage contract for additional years. In either case, the interest rate of the new loan is the same as that applied to the original mortgage.

Second mortgage. Many banking agencies holding a mortgage may grant a home improvement loan to a home owner with good credit. Such a loan is called a second mortgage and usually carries a lower interest rate than non-mortgage plans.

Title Home Improvement loan. The Federal Housing Administration insures low-interest home improvement loans of qualified lending agencies. For a one-family dwelling the loan insurance limit is $3,500, repayable within five years.

Veterans Administration-Insured loan. Veterans may set aside part of their $10,000 "GI" mortgage for home improvements. This loan is insured by the VA and obtained through private banking institutions at interest rates up to 4 1/2 per cent. The repayment time is 30 years.

Direct Veterans Administration loans. The VA offers direct home improvement loans to veterans in roughly 2,500 counties where other financial aid is hard to obtain. These loans usually have a low-interest rate.

Conventional Property Improvement loans. Some banks and agencies will lend up to $2,500 for home remodeling purposes. The borrower is allowed three years to repay the money.

Own Plan loans. Many banking institutions offer their own plans for home improvement loans. Generally these loans have liberal credit terms.

Personal loans. Such loans usually have short pay periods and high-interest rates. However, they may be obtained for amounts of $300 up to $2,500.

Installment contract. Many credit and installment plans are available for home modernization projects. A bathroom modernization or expansion program, for example, can be done with a little money down and low monthly payments.

FOR SALE OR RENT

A fresh coat of paint on a property up for sale or rent will do wonders in attracting customers. Use of a trim color will enhance it even more, at only slight extra cost.

BUILDING and REMODELING

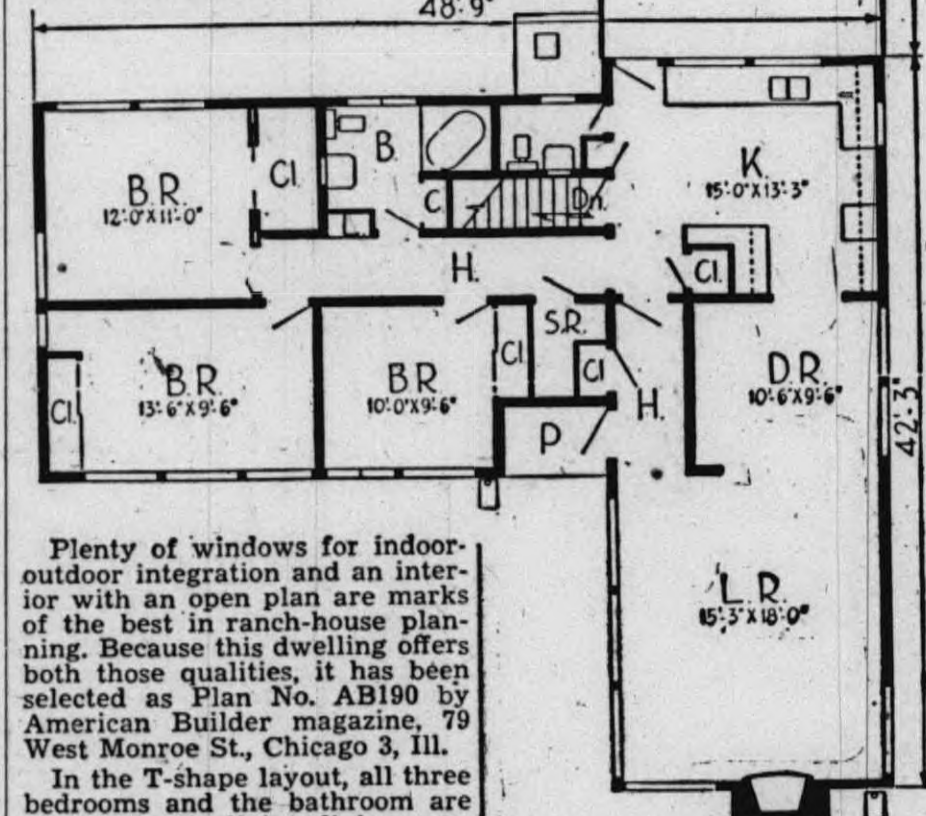

NEWS

FOR EVERY HOME

Home Has Outdoor Feeling

Living-room windows facing the inside of the property give this three-bedroom ranch house both privacy and a spacious, outdoor feeling. It has a full basement, log-burning fireplace, natural wood kitchen cabinets.

Plenty of windows for indoor-outdoor integration and an interior with an open plan are marks of the best in ranch-house planning. Because this dwelling offers both those qualities, it has been selected as Plan No. AB190 by American Builder magazine, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, Ill.

In the T-shape layout, all three bedrooms and the bathroom are in one area, the living-dining room in another. Large living room and bedroom windows face toward the inside of the property, not the street, so that it is possible, when planting is completed, to get an outdoor feeling without sacrifice of privacy.

A separate lavatory opens off the kitchen. The front door and hall are arranged to allow access to any room without crossing another.

The house has a roof of white asphalt shingles, and blue siding and white trim are accented by a red brick chimney. Windows are made of ponderosa pine. In living room and kitchen, there are double-glazed picture windows with ventilation louvers. Picture and casement types are installed in the bedrooms.

Also featured are a raised-hearth fireplace with stone trim, hardwood floors, ample closet and storage space, a full basement, and natural wood cabinets in the kitchen.

A laundry, boiler, water softener, and water heater are located in the waterproofed basement.

The dwelling has an area of 1,482 square feet, a figure useful in estimating construction cost.

(Detailed building plans are available from American Builder Home Plan Service, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, Ill. Refer to Plan No. AB190.)

Check Trees When You Purchase a New Home

If you're buying a home on the ready-built, already-landscaped basis, take a close look at the trees and you may save some headaches and considerable added expense.

This is the advice of a tree expert, who points out builders may or may not do a good job of protecting trees on the home site.

Among the things that can affect the health and vigor of the trees that frame your dream house are grade changes, proximity of sewers, driveways and other improvements, as well as the variety and condition of the trees themselves.

Before making too generous an allowance for the wooded grounds, you can look for certain clues to ailing trees. Great patches of missing bark indicate possible serious damage from home construction machinery. Dying branches and wilting trees may signal extensive underground injury.

Where trees are considered a major factor in arriving at a sales price, the prospective home owner would do well to have a professional tree man look over the grounds. Removal costs of larger trees can be amazingly high—as much as several hundred dollars if branches extend over buildings, shrubbery beds or other improvements.

Loss of one or more attractive trees will be definitely reflected in lower valuation of your property.

One long established decorator-accessory shop in the Nation's Capitol does a brisk little business in selling old 50-pound lard tins as wastebaskets—glamorized by paint, of course. The cans are cut into graceful shape and then painted by artists in the trade. One especially pretty one has a coral interior and an ebony exterior, with a medallion of red flowers, and touches of gold at the top and bottom rims. Worthy of any beautifully decorated living room or bedroom, these.

SOUND ADVICE TO OUTDOOR PAINTERS

A painter was injured recently when a gust of high wind caused his ladder to fall. The National Safety Council's Accident Prevention Manual says, "Do not use ladders during a strong wind except in emergency, and then only when they are securely tied." Someone has asked, "What constitutes a strong wind?" And the answer came up: "19 to 24 land miles per hour would be the point at which trouble might be expected in the use of a ladder." It is good, safe practice to lash or otherwise secure all long, straight ladders, and to provide them with safety feet, if there is any possibility of swaying or slipping.

Health and Beauty

The warning signs the skin gives to general health should never be ignored. Their causes may range from emotional disturbances to cancer.

Doctors have learned that our emotional life influences just about every organ of the body. Often the condition of a patient's skin will indicate the cause of a bodily or emotional disorder.

Emotional disturbances, such as anxiety, hatred, envy, ambition, a need for love, feelings of guilt or inferiority will cause any number of bodily ills to which skin lesions or rash will furnish the first clue.

To a doctor, even the color and the texture of the skin has meaning. The skin of a person suffering from thyroid overactivity is usually damp and often times has a characteristic rash. If the skin has a yellowish rash, or jaundice, he can guess that the patient's bile duct is obstructed.

Acne, the curse of adolescence, is caused by inflammation and blockage of the small glands of the skin that secrete the greasy substance called sebum. Acne is aggravated by emotional problems. Because the disfiguring pimples appear profusely on the face, the condition itself is an emotional problem to a sensitive youth.

The embarrassment and discomfort of acne can often be cured with the proper care. Even the stubborn cases can be greatly relieved.

Usually, the two most important parts of the cure will be frequent and thorough cleansing with warm water and a good soap and the correct diet.

Most ordinary moles are harmless. However, there are certain rare moles which do precede cancer. They are slate blue or bluish black in color and are elevated only slightly. Their surface is smooth. Early removal of this type of mole, by an expert, will prevent much trouble later.

An untrained person has no way of knowing if the changes in his skin are dangerous or normal. A periodic checkup with a doctor is the best idea for health insurance.

Madonna College Plans Three-Day Orientation Program for Freshman

Work and fun will combine in a full three-day program for freshmen at Madonna as they go through their orientation days September 17-19. Under the guidance of faculty members, student association officers and upperclassmen, the freshmen will become acquainted with their new Alma Mater and step into their first year of college with a measure of confidence.

Freshmen resident students will arrive on campus Sunday, September 16, before 8 p.m., and day students the following morning before 9. Transfer students may also take part in the orientation days, although participation for them is not compulsory.

A battery of standardized tests will greet the freshmen in the two opening days. Administered for guidance and placement purposes, the tests will measure the students' intelligence, language command, and special aptitudes. To acquaint newcomers with the academic side of college life, the dean and the registrar will explain the curriculum, degree requirements, the freshman program of studies and the meaning of the credit system. The business manager and the librarian will also speak on their services.

A general convocation scheduled for Wednesday morning will replace the traditional student-faculty tea as a function intended primarily for the introduction of faculty members to new students.

Relieving the heavy schedule of these first days will be a student tea, an outdoor picnic, a tour of the grounds and a glimpse at a college year in color slides.

Guiding the freshmen through these first bewildering days - and through that hardest of years in college, the first - will be their "Big Sisters", upperclassmen selected as guardians for the newcomers. A faculty counselor has also been appointed for each freshman to provide needed advice throughout the first semester.

Freshman registration will take place Wednesday morning following mass and the convocation. Classes will begin September 20, Thursday.

In charge of the freshman days are Sister M. Remigia, registrar, and Sister M. Joela, student association moderator, in conjunction with student association officers.

Resident upperclassmen will report on campus Tuesday, September 18, before 8 p.m. and day students Wednesday morning in time for the 8 a.m. mass in honor of the holy spirit, to be celebrated by the resident chaplain, Fr. Paul C. Zelaff. Registration for upperclassmen will take place Wednesday afternoon. A new point on the program for upperclassmen will be an aptitude test to be administered Wednesday as an aid to the student in her final choice of a major and minors.

The freshman orientation program will continue throughout the first semester through a series of lectures to be conducted weekly by faculty members and upperclassmen. Among the topics to be then presented are such as, the aims of the college, the value of a liberal education, effective study habits, the grading system, student activities, the National Federation of Catholic Students (NFCS), personality development, physical and mental health, the use of the library.

Doctor Spikes High Heels As Health Hazard

By Tonia Schilling

A French physician this week warned that two-and-a-half inches was the safe limit for women's high heels.

Using an electronic device to record the activity of the leg muscles of 50 women, Dr. Simon Eberneau found that shoes with higher heels were badly taxing. These heels, he explained, required more body energy to maintain balance. They also strained the calf muscles and the back.

On the other hand, two-and-a-half inch heels were no more tiring than so-called flat shoes, he discovered. Shoes with no heels at all—ballet slipper type—were almost as hard on leg muscles as three and four-inch heels.

Dr. Eberneau cautioned that the new thin, spike heels were worse. This is because the small surface area of the heel means the foot must be brought down in almost the same position every time. This puts continual strain on the same few muscles. The French doctor, whose countrywomen wear some of the world's highest heels, admitted he did not expect his findings to result in women giving up spikes.

"I would have to discover they were causing some fatal disease to persuade women to do that," he said. "Even then, I doubt they would."

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

You've heard the old joke about going to the movies because the pop-corn is so good? Some boys don't go to the movies to eat the pop-corn OR to see the picture, according to complaints from girls.

To these boys, a Friday night movie date is a two-hour chance to neck in the theatre. To some girls, this is an embarrassment and a problem.

But a bright 13-year-old knows how to solve this date dilemma. She states:

"I read in your column in the paper about boys and girls who neck and make a big nuisance of themselves at the movies. Some girls don't want to do this, but they're afraid to say 'No.'"

"They think that if they refuse to neck at the movies that the boys won't like it and won't ask them for dates any more.

"But I've found that just the opposite is true. I don't believe girls and boys should neck in theaters, so I refuse to do it. If I like a boy very much and am 'going steady' with him, we hold hands, but that's all.

"The boys respect my wishes in this and have more respect for me and like me better for NOT necking in the movies.

"I haven't lost any dates by refusing.

"But if a boy did get angry or didn't ask me for any more dates because I refused to neck, I wouldn't mind. If that's all he wanted, I wouldn't want to go out with him any more, anyway."

(For free printed tips on "Date Manners for Boys," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.)

Psychologist Hits Rock 'N Roll

Got a rock 'n' roller in the family? Then he's got problems and so have you, warned Dr. George W. Kisker, University of Cincinnati psychologist who has been making a study of the dance craze.

This form of dance already may be on the wane and soon may join a long series of "orgiastic dances used to blow off steam," Dr. Kisker said. "But the difficulties of those persons who were captivated by the dances may remain," he warned.

Parents are not going to have much to say in stopping this craze or any of its successors, but they ought to realize what it means for the youngsters, Dr. Kisker declared.

He pointed out that well-adjusted, emotionally stable youngsters were not affected by the controversial dance. They merely looked on as spectators, usually with amusement.

Dr. Kisker sees the violent rocking and rolling of the feet as a present-day counterpart of the jitterbug, shimmy black-bottom, big apple and Charleston. Only it goes much farther than any of its predecessors toward inciting violence, he said.

What is more, parents should not take rock 'n' roll lightly, under any mistaken notion that it is a healthy diversion, he added. "Such dancing is a release, of course," he admitted. "But then Jack the Ripper found a release too. Certainly there are other ways for youngsters to express their needs and rid themselves of conflicts. Parents and adults should find and encourage other channels."

What Dr. Kisker calls "violence" he further described as "a way of barely getting away with behavior that otherwise would be unacceptable."

Such a fad means many different things to different youngsters, Dr. Kisker said.

"Each youngster who is 'sent' by the music, is satisfying his own particular deficiency. Young people do not struggle under identical sets of problems any more than adults."

Dr. Kisker cited three major reasons why rock 'n' roll was used by some youngsters to find release or expression.

"America's repressed attitude toward sex is the first area of conflict," Dr. Kisker said. "Youngsters speaking among themselves do not call the popular young singer, Presley, 'Elvis the Pelvis' for nothing. Parents or adults who do not recognize that aspect are hiding their heads in the sand."

"All these dance crazes have had an erotic element in them, and a number of young people find such release or satisfaction in participating. Indeed, this has been a function of dancing through the centuries, but primitive people lent a ritual to it which kept it in check and 'formalized' it."

"Rock 'n' roll gives some young people an opportunity to be aggressive and hostile, and to defy authority," he continued. "They know they are flying in the face of the whole adult population—the police, the church, their teachers. For troubled young people the dance is a kind of mass rebellion."

The urge to be important is another reason, he believes, why young people often find the dance gives them an opportunity to be important and to overcome their inferiorities, he added.

When there is a rock 'n' roller in the family circle, parents would do well to realize that this probably is a troubled child's camouflaged cry for help in overcoming emotional problems, he stated.

"What really matters is not the dance itself—but that long after rocking has stopped rolling, the youngsters' problems will still be there seeking other expression."

American Legion News

Mrs. Mildred Hewer, rehabilitation chairman, reported that 10 birthday cards, with a dollar enclosed in each, were sent to veterans at Maybury sanitarium whose birthdays occurred during the month of September. She also reported that the birthday parties at the American Legion and V. A. hospitals in Battle Creek will be held Thursday, September 20, from 4 to 5 p.m. at the V. A., and from 4 to 5 p.m. at the American Legion Hospital. The sixth, eighth and seventeenth districts are participating in this event. The veterans with birthdays in September also receive a birthday card with two dollars enclosed. This is a wonderful and deserving event.

Attending the recent Corporation Group meeting at City hall were Mrs. Gertrude Simonetti, Robert Wilson, and Ernest Koi. Many things for the community were discussed.

A hearty welcome was extended to a new member of the Juniors at their meeting on September 12 at the Veterans Community center. She is Linda Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson. Her father is the new 17th District commander. We hope to have many more Juniors this year. Please contact Gwen Holcombe for any information, phone 1739-M. Politics Hurts Industry Hunt In Michigan

Any town seeking new industry could be the big loser in the recent battle between the Governor and the Michigan Manufacturers Association.

The dispute started when Gov. Williams, in what is considered by some a blatant political move, made a strong effort to increase Michigan's unemployment compensation payments. He was answered by a deluge of arguments from the Michigan Manufacturers Association saying that present taxes were driving business out of the state. Some believe on the other hand, that the MMA stand also painted an incomplete and unnecessarily gloomy picture of the situation.

The governor said Michigan's "many unemployed" were in dire financial straits and would suffer seriously if state unemployment compensation benefits, containing the highest maximum payment in the nation, were not increased even more. When the question turned to loss of industry and jobs because of high taxes, he argued that Michigan had 97,000 more jobs now than in 1954.

But, business and industry leaders appeared before a senate committee with "facts" from a questionnaire circulated by the MMA among its members. They said no further unemployment legislation is needed because economic conditions are very good. Then, at the state senate tax hearings, they also argued that things are so difficult that manufacturers are moving out of, or bypassing Michigan. Other manufacturers were quoted as saying they "contemplated" leaving the state but had not yet done so.

Overlooked in the publicized statements of discontent received by the association were such comments as "In spite of taxes, we still like it here." "Nature has endowed us with many advantages not enjoyed by other states—the political situation can be changed." "The state is wonderful, for business, health and sports. What else is there to live for?"

The MMA staged a public airing of manufacturers' gripes. But its own members were by no means unanimous in denouncing Michigan's economic climate. Relatively few said they had pulled out of the state. Replies to the MMA questionnaire represented less than two per cent of the 16,000 companies listed in the Directory of Michigan Manufacturers.

The problem largely is confined to the big cities with established industry and large labor forces. But the battle has cast a shadow over the entire state. Big losers could be small communities trying to build a sound economy for their people with new industry.

The MMA quoted some manufacturers as saying they will advise or already have advised other companies against moving into Michigan. This was a severe blow to those working hard to promote the state and encourage industry to locate here. Scores of communities have pledged themselves to help existing local companies and to create a good climate for industry. They favor fair tax treatment, good industrial facilities and cooperation with businessmen.

Industrial development specialists urge communities to help existing companies whenever possible. Home, they point out, is the best place to build and maintain a sound economy. The responsible industry likes to see its home community develop solidly. But roundhouse political punches in maneuvers like these often cause unintentional damage.

Perhaps both sides accomplished their particular aims in this squabble.

But something else happened too. Something which may have a far reaching and serious effect on Michigan's economic well being.

Unfavorable "facts" from both sides of the issue received nation-wide publicity. Long after the argument is settled here, it is feared that industries considering expansion will remember with bleak disapproval, unpleasant points that were made by the governor and by business leaders.

Those whose duties include stimulating new industry, report that this reaction is making their work more difficult right now. Other states are using these "facts" in their constant attempts to wean industry away from Michigan.

Major job now is for those interested in Michigan's industrial future to set the record straight—cut through the political shadow boxing. Plant location specialists point out that Michigan has many very desirable points. Many factors including those economic and geographic, make it the great industrial state it is.

But the task is a bigger one than it was. In addition to locating suitable prospects, community leaders are faced with presenting facts to overcome distorted data already publicized from political activity.

Investors' Forum . . . Wages

Shortly after Labor Day time it is appropriate to talk about wages. The two kinds of wages I shall discuss this week are those of workers and of savers. Both groups are numbered in the millions.

The workers are like those employed in the steel mills of America. Presently there are about 525,000 production steel workers. Their wages set the pattern for many other industries—such as automobiles, electrical machinery, textile mills, coal mining, metal mining, meat packing and a dozen others.

The savers are represented by the armies of thrifty persons with deposits in savings banks. The figures used here are of an $800,000,000 New York City institution. The interest paid by this bank sets a fair pattern for the rest of the country.

To trace the history of wages for workers and for savers I shall go back to 1931—25 years ago. As the figures will show, an economic catastrophe has hit those with savings out at interest. And with it, thrift and saving have been assaulted with the result that the welfare state has been ushered in with great fanfare.

In 1931 the average hourly earnings of the production workers in the steel industry were about 68 cents. In 1941 they were 94 cents; in 1946 they were $1.28; in 1951 they were $1.89 and in 1956 they were raised to about $2.54. The wage scales of 1956 will hold into 1959. What then? Why, higher wages.

This, in 25 years steel wages have gone from 68 cents an hour to $2.54! That is an increase of almost 400 per cent. Why has this taken place? To enable the steel workers to maintain their buying power in the face of steadily rising prices and costs. As consumer price indices have gone up, wages have followed suit.

Now turn to the interest earnings on savings in banks. In 1931 the giant savings bank of which I spoke paid 4 per cent interest yearly. By 1941 interest had gone down to 1 1/2 per cent and it stayed there until 1949. Thus, while steel wages were going up sharply, interest rates had declined more than 60 per cent.

The cruel disparity of labor wages and money wages has been accentuated in recent years. With living costs 300 per cent higher than they were in 1931 and with steel production wages nearly 400 per cent higher, the wages of savings have declined until today around the country banks are paying 2 to 3 per cent—a decline of around 50 per cent on the average.

What does all this mean? It means that the workers of America, who are well organized and who have the benefit of the studies of living-cost economists, get pay boosts whenever rising prices and costs jeopardize standards of living.

And it means that widows and orphans, retired preachers and teachers, annuitants and all those who are living wholly or partially on interest income are taking it on the chin.

When will this vicious cycle end? Probably never, in America. High prices and costs are economic institutions in this country. So is cheap money—low interest rates.

The problems posed in this article are as serious as any in the national economy. The millions of persons and the thousands of social and religious organizations which today are suffering from inadequate income are unorganized for the most part. They are the forgotten people in a time of inflationary price movements.

There is no community in the United States where relief from this low-income, high cost situation would not be welcomed. It should be the task of bankers, investment brokers, counselors and capital managers to go out in the highways and byways of America and help all those people who have been hard hit by the growing inflation here.

(Q) "Are there any sound stocks selling to yield 6 per cent that doesn't carry too much risk?" B. E. F.

(A) Yes, there are many. Your broker can furnish you with a list. Or I will.

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"What do you think, or how do you feel, about the Thursday evening opening of several stores in town?" (A story in the August 30 issue of The Mail introduced this plan to potential Thursday evening shoppers.)

MRS. GERRY TROSIN, 9116 Ball: "I shop every Thursday myself to avoid the Friday and Saturday rush. I think it would be a good idea, because, since I work, by the time I finish my grocery shopping I'd like to go into other stores—but they are closed by that time."

MRS. ROBERT HENNELLY, 605 Horton, Northville: "I am from Northville, but I do most of my shopping in Plymouth due to the better facilities here. I think that since grocery stores are open, other stores would be wise to do so, too. I think that would be a very convenient arrangement."

Mrs. Trosin Mrs. Hennelly Hermans Sullivan

RAY HERMANS, 36646 Angeline Circle, Livonia: "It seems as if it would give people a little more opportunity to get things. It may not be so good for those that work in the stores, but it would be a convenience for people in general. I believe I would be in favor of it."

FRED SULLIVAN, 154 Union: "I do my shopping during the day and never go to the stores at night. Although I think it would be a convenient thing for lots of people, certainly."

People Are Saying

Claude R. Wickard, former Secretary of Agriculture: "Farmers are really upset over low prices and incomes—but they are too busy with their crops to complain."

Jawaharlal Nehru, India's Prime Minister: "To consider that this country is tying herself up with this or that group is a complete misunderstanding of our foreign policy."

Mrs. Florence Pew, woman executive: "The most important job in every woman's life is to get along with men."

Sinclair Weeks, Secretary of Commerce: "The prospect is a topnotch summer and fall. The recent steel strike did not upset the apparel."

Arthur W. Radford, chairman, U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff: "Japan's defense program is a modest one and should not be cut."

When You Retire . . .

by ROBERT PETERSON

"RETIRE TO — NOT FROM" is the No. 1 rule for successful retirement. Instead of retiring from an occupation, we should retire to a new one. A man who heartily agrees is Harold R. Englis, 67, a ruddy, white-haired gentleman who lives on a suburban farm near Cleveland, Ohio. A former advertising manager, Mr. Englis retired two years ago to a busy and stimulating new career raising French Poodle dogs. This is his second retirement. The first time he tried it he grew so bored that he donned his gray flannel suit and went back to work.

"Back in the early 30's I inherited $22,000 from my father," Mr. Englis told me "frankly when I talked with him at a dog show in Chicago recently; we had gotten acquainted when I stopped to admire a handsome, haughty poodle named 'Patrice' that he was exhibiting. 'That was a pile of money in those days and it went to my head. I decided to chuck my job and start taking life easy.'"

HIS WIFE PROTESTED but Mr. Englis plunged into what he assumed was the satisfying, relaxing life of the retired. He tossed the alarm clock into the closet and luxuriated in bed each morning contemplating the delights of leisure time. Afternoons he read the papers, lolled in the hammock on the back porch, or practiced fly-casting at a nearby pond. But these pleasures soon wore thin. Within three months his spirits were sagging and he was yearning to punch the time clock again.

"It was embarrassing," he recalled, "but I swallowed my pride and talked my old boss into taking the prodigal back. I've had an enlightened attitude toward retirement ever since. Most young folks think they'd love retiring to a life of leisure. But I know from experience that it takes all the wind out of your sails. If you really want to enjoy it you've got to retire to something that interests you as much as your job."

I ASKED WHO GOT HIM interested in dogs. "A honey-colored Cocker Spaniel with brown, soulful eyes," he replied with a grin. "My wife won him in a contest. When I learned he was worth $100 I took a second look and began wondering if raising pedigreed dogs wouldn't be an absorbing and profitable hobby. We didn't have any children and I was a pushover for pets. That was 20 years ago. I've raised many different kinds of dogs over the years and I've got a soft spot for all of 'em. But there's such a big demand for Frenchies right now," he said pointing to Patrice, "that I'm concentrating on poodles."

When Mr. Englis reached 65 he was soundly prepared for retirement. "I had something waiting for me that was just as exciting as my job. I simply stepped out of my advertising duties and stepped into full time work at my kennels. I added some new breeding stock and enlarged the runways. Right now I've got 15 poodles and they keep me jumping. There's a steady flow of chores in connection with registering, inoculating, clipping, training, exhibiting, and selling. I love every minute of it."

Trading at home, whenever possible, is sound policy; the dollar that stays around might come back.

JAMES W. RUBERSON, 1627 Chelsea, Kansas City, Missouri, solved his problem in a simple way. His problem was emotionalism, which is not easily conquered. When the doctor diagnosed his physical problem as ulcers, he further explained that this type was usually self-inflated and was caused by some emotional disturbance such as hate, fear, worry, or jealousy. He was down to 115 pounds in weight. "There was very little modern medicine could do for him," said his doctor. He would have to cure himself or live with his problem as long as he could. "He had only to quiet his emotions," you may say. But James Ruberson found he needed the aid of a formula to set himself—and keep himself—on the right track.

He was given a book by the late Dale Carnegie in which living in a day-tight compartment was advocated as a solution for many problems. Space does not permit us to give the entire article on this subject, but here are the last three rules:

1. Just for today I will have a program. I will write down what I expect to do every hour of the day. I may not do it exactly, but in doing it at all I will eliminate two pests. Hurry and Indecision.

2. Just for today I will have a quiet half hour by myself to relax. Sometimes while I'm relaxing I will think of God so that I may get a little more perspective into my life.

3. Just for today I will be unafraid, especially will I be unafraid to be happy, to enjoy that which is beautiful, to love and to believe that those I love, love me.

Today James Ruberson's physical health is much improved, his mental health has improved by leaps and bounds. To him living each day for itself "in a day-tight compartment" is the panacea for most problems.

DALE CARNEGIE

If You're Worried, Get Busy

WHEN JOHN M. GREEN, JR., 408 Main Street, Franklin Tennessee, graduated from college he held a degree in Mechanical Engineering. For four years he had been taught to figure out problems of all kinds. So constantly was he told to be prepared and get the best and most correct answer to any problem.

But when graduation came he faced the greatest problem that had ever come to him: What job to take and where. He had the choice of going into the insurance business with his father or getting an engineering job. He decided to go into the insurance business.

Soon his school friends began coming to see him, telling him how well they were doing in the engineering field. He began to worry about whether he had made a wrong decision when he graduated, but just couldn't seem to get the answer. The more he thought the more he worried.

As time passed and his worrying continued, he got into Boy Scout work and then into the Jaycees. As he worked with these organizations and spent more time in doing the work, he noticed that he had stopped worrying and was really enjoying himself.

He still is active in the Scouts and Jaycees and never catches himself worrying. So he believes that the best way to lick worries is to get so busy you don't have time for them.

You wouldn't think of going to a department store to have your appendix removed or to a plumber to be defended in a law suit, would you? No, because you want an expert's services in such matters.

Similarly, when you buy insurance to protect you against loss, seek the counsel of a qualified independent insurance agent. He is a professional man with years of experience in a highly complex field. His "know-how" is invaluable to you . . . and will be doubly so if you are ever the victim of a fire, theft or other destructive misfortune.

Our years of experience are at your service in the field of general insurance. You may consult us with no obligation for a complete analysis of your insurance or the answer to bothersome questions about the safety of your insurance position. We are as near as your telephone.
