

Community Fund Opens October 16

Plymouth will be faced with the largest Community Fund goal in its history next month when a campaign for $30,000 gets underway October 16.

The goal is $2,500 higher than the $27,500 sought last year. Last year's drive, however, soared over the goal with the final tally resting at $34,385.

Sheldon Baker and Mrs. L. B. Rice are the co-chairmen for the 1956 campaign that opens Tuesday, October 16 and closes Thursday, November 8. The dates have been set to coincide with the United Foundation drive in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Unlike most other communities in the Detroit area, Plymouth stages a separate Community Fund campaign each year. Plymouthites working in out-of-town offices and industries will be able to designate their donations to the Plymouth fund by indicating their intentions on the pledge card. Any or all of the donations can be tagged for Plymouth.

Expanded programs of the local agencies have resulted in the higher goal this year, the co-chairmen state. For the second year, the American Red Cross will be included in the Community Fund. In previous years, a separate drive was held.

Other local agencies receiving money will be the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse association, Recreation commission, Veterans Memorial Center, Plymouth Dental Fund, Plymouth Cancer Society, and Junior Police. About 14 percent of the money will go to other agencies administered through the United Foundation.

Chairmen of the campaign committees are: Professional solicitation, Phil Barney; industrial solicitation, Arch Vallier and Sam Hudson; commercial, business and school solicitation, Phil Barney and Mrs. R. J. Lorenz; publicity, John Gaffield and Sam Hudson; residential mail solicitation, Mrs. C. Gebhardt; and treasurer, John Pint.

Some Want Street Change in Name, Others Protest

While a group of Union street citizens appeared before the city planning commission last Thursday night to protest the proposed change in their street's name, a petition was filed by residents along another street asking the commission to approve their street's name change.

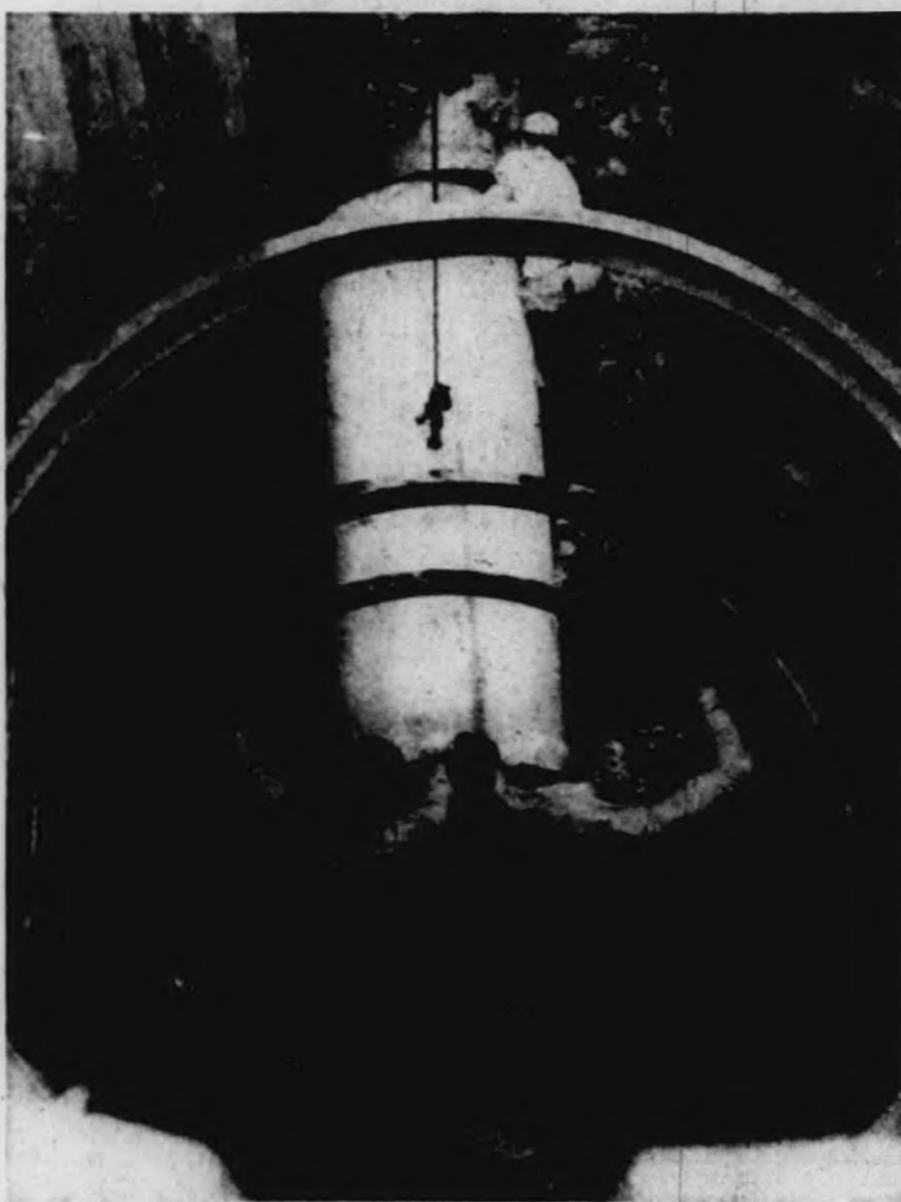

It had been proposed that Union street, from North Main to the Daisy Manufacturing plant, be changed to Bennett street, a name that actually had been approved years ago but never used. Citizens appearing at the meeting emphatically pointed out that they wanted no change in name. The commission took no further action.

But 15 families living along Pine street signed a petition presented to the planners that asked for a change to Harding street. The ends of the two streets are now separated by a field. It is expected that the commission will act on the petition at a later meeting.

Also on the agenda and approved without comment by citizens was the change of name from Brush street to Linden. Not discussed was another change, Elm Dale to Church. Elm Dale is on the master plan and has never been developed. Several more street name changes are to be presented at next month's meeting.

Richard Lea, 102 North Holbrook, appeared before the planners to ask that they consider changing the street names to conform with Plymouth's "colonialization" efforts. The Chamber of Commerce has been urging colonial architecture during recent years and Lea suggested that street names depicting the colonial era would also be fitting.

Continuing this policy, every person interested in school and community life is being asked to attend and become a member of the organization.

DOWN 20 FEET below the surface of Main street are workmen who are shown laying a trunk line pipe into a manhole for the $600,000 sanitary sewer system. Work on the sewer is proceeding southward on Mill street and along Tonquish creek.

United Nations Program To Feature Detroit Speaker

Plymouth will have a community-wide meeting on October 24—United Nations Day—according to a decision of representatives of a score of civic, religious, fraternal, educational and veterans organizations.

A planning meeting of the club representatives was held last Thursday night at the high school with U.N. Day Chairman Mrs. Henry Jensen presiding.

The U.N. Day meeting will feature a speaker, Mrs. Philip Gentile, who will discuss current problems and recent achievements of the U. N. Mrs. Gentile, a Detroit, is known to many as a vivid and stirring expert on her subject. Her specialized study and observation of the United Nations have brought her many important opportunities, including a lecturer's place in the University of Michigan Extension division and the designation as official observer at the U.N. for the Ford Foundation.

The decision to hold a community-wide meeting was spearheaded by David Galin, a steering committee member, who expressed the conviction that the city and its many organizations will rally to a city-wide affair as well as to programs presented in separate organizations. He pledged support of his own service club, Rotary, and predicted attendance as large as the successful banquet held last year.

Other groups not represented last week will be asked to join in sponsoring the evening meeting to be held in the high school auditorium.

Other features of the U.N. Day program are expected to include participation of high school students who have taken part in the simulated sessions of the U.N. at Hillsdale college. Charles Westover, representing the Student council, was present last week and was a recent Hillsdale participant.

A flag presentation, music and refreshments will also be on the program.

Mayor Russell Daane spoke briefly at the planning session of the importance of the United Nations to the ultimate achievement of peace and of the significance of the rapid increase in the number of towns and cities that observe this annual educational effort.

Charles Bennett Will Probated

The will of the late Charles H. Bennett has been filed before Probate Judge James Sexton in Detroit this week with his four nieces and a grandniece scheduled to eventually share in the estate.

There has been no estimate placed on his estate and the inventory will not be submitted until a hearing on November 13.

Named as immediate heir to the estate is Miss Pauline Peck who lived in the Bennett home, personal belongings and 10,000 shares of Daisy Manufacturing company capital stock. Miss Peck has also been given the income from a trust fund to be established with 30,000 other shares. After her death, the will declared, the trust fund will be split among three other nieces and a grandniece.

They are Mrs. Lawrence Lyons of Plymouth, a niece, and Mrs. Richard Daniel, a grandniece, who will receive 10,000 shares of the trust fund stock; Mrs. Donald Haines of Seattle, a niece, 7,500 shares; and Mrs. Margaret Bowen of Detroit, 2,500 shares.

Mr. Bennett, president of Daisy, died September 17.

The Lutheran Ladies aid Society is sponsoring a bake sale on Friday, September 28, at Dunning, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Just Home from Hospital, Returns with Bullet in Leg

Fate hasn't smiled too kindly upon Ray Currier of Shearer drive so far this year. He had spent half of the year in hospitals with a heart condition and had returned home only 10 days ago.

But back to the hospital he went again Sunday, this time with a sudden and unsuspecting ailment—a gunshot wound in his leg.

Currier, who normally works as a custodian at Bentley high school in Livonia, is 64 years old. After spending most of his weeks in hospitals since last May, he figured that it was high time to get back to work.

Friends and relatives had helped keep up his lawn during his illness. Several were lending their assistance last Sunday when the mishap occurred. While standing in the side yard and talking

School Issue Brings Debate, Change in Wording of Ballot

Group Fights Canton Subdivision Planning

Dedicated to "preserving the present country home atmosphere and providing orderly development of the school system and health facilities of the area," is a new group, the Western Civic association, formed recently in Plymouth and Canton townships.

And already on their agenda is a protest against the proposed construction of 738 "small lot" homes in the northern part of Canton township.

The association is comprised of residents of the two townships living west of Sheldon road, between Ann Arbor trail and Ann Arbor road and Warren road. Residents of the two townships have joined in one organization because "we believe that development of the area requires consideration and the cooperative efforts of both townships."

The possibility of changing the present country home character of the area for the benefit of small lot land developers caused members of the association to appear before the Plymouth township planning board last Wednesday night to protest zoning changes under consideration by the board for the area west of Sheldon road.

Although the protested changes had been discussed at two previous meetings, the board declined to act following the protests of residents.

Members of the new association have also filed a protest petition with the Wayne County Zoning Coordinating committee protesting the planned re-zoning of the tract of land in Canton township that lies along Joy road, west of Canton Center road. The proposal under protest would change the zoning from agricultural and country homes to 60 feet lots and a commercial area. A developer is reported eager to develop 738 homes in the area.

A meeting has been called by the Canton township zoning board for Monday, October 3 at 8 p.m. to take final action on the proposed re-zoning.

Ray Hulce, 9275 McClumpha road, president of the new association, advised that the association opposed that the re-zoning for the following reasons:

1. "There is need of an overall plan for the development of the area before individual small areas are re-zoned.

2. "The proposed re-zoning is not in keeping with the general characteristics of the surrounding countryside and is not consistent with the preliminary land use plan prepared by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning commission.

3. "Development of the area into small homes by a project builder would place an unplanned burden on the already crowded school system that would create the possibility of having to hold half-day sessions in order to accommodate the number of children.

4. "The currently favorably tax balance between industry and homes would be disrupted. It is estimated that the 738 homes planned for the area would require the addition of at least one elementary school at a cost of approximately $400,000. The cost of operating this school would be approximately $130,000 annually. School taxes to be derived from the small lot home area are estimated at $70,000, thus creating a deficit of $400,000 in capital expenditures and $60,000 annually in operating costs that would have to be assumed by the remaining taxpayers of the school districts.

5. "The stamp company now has 33 members. It was started a year ago when a group of local merchants decided to meet other competitors who offered trading stamps with purchases. Instead of joining established stamp firms, the merchants decided to form their own non-profit corporation.

Unlike other stamp plans, which maintain redemption centers, Plymouth Community Stamp books can be redeemed at any of the participating stores.

Marksman Appears Here For Public Demonstration

The crack marksman of the Michigan State Police, Lt. Lester Coykendall, will be the guest of the Junior Police Organization next Wednesday night to give a shooting demonstration.

Lt. Coykendall travels all over the state to demonstrate his talents and will be in the Bronson building, located in the Central Parking lot, at 7 p.m. next Wednesday. Junior Police members, as well as other interested citizens, are being invited to attend the demonstration.

Mrs. Otto Beyer is critically ill at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, where she was taken early Tuesday morning following a heart attack.

Class for Handicapped Children Approved

Establishment of a class for mentally handicapped children was approved by the board of education at a special meeting held last week. The meeting was also called to purchase a badly-needed school bus.

The handicapped children class was held for the first time this summer. There were nine enrolled. For most of the children, it was the first class-type activity in their lives.

Plans are now being made to set up the special class. A class of 10 or 12 youngsters is expected. Such a class was recommended a year ago by the School Community Planning Group.

A 60-passenger school bus was purchased with the winning bid being submitted by West Bros. Nash. A bid of $6,547.08 was submitted for the International chassis and Onida body.

Infant Returns Home

Wendy Palmer, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Palmer of Warren road, returned home from the hospital Monday where she was recovering from injuries she received in a car-truck collision two weeks ago. Wendy will need to return to the hospital later for a facial operation, her parents report.

Special Election Interest Grows As Groups Hear Arguments

Two and a half hours of sometimes-heated debate took place at a special meeting of the board of education Tuesday night concerning the issue of using previously-allocated funds for school additions. And as a result of the meeting, seven words were added to the proposition as it will appear on the ballot and one word deleted.

Board members Warren Smith and Ausfin Stecker asked to have the meeting called to re-examine the proposal's wording which they feared placed the board in the position of being required to build the additions if the public approved the proposal. They declared that it was not the board's intention of building the additions if, at some later date, they found it better to construct a new building.

The divided board and eight citizens devoted the entire evening to arguing the issue. Those opposed to additions to present buildings pointed out that the money should be used to build a new elementary school in the northeast part of Plymouth township where a 1,000-home subdivision is planned.

Interest in the issue has "grown" so intense that Superintendent Russell Ishister said yesterday that he may ask the city for use of voting machines so that a large vote can be more readily handled. School elections usually have such small turn-outs that paper ballots are used.

Parent-Teacher associations and other organizations have also taken interest in the proposal and have held discussions on the pros and cons. School Board

Because of the wide interest in the school addition proposal, school board members who support it and those who oppose it have been invited by The Mail to fully state their arguments in writing for publication next week. Both factions have agreed.

President Harold Fischer an opponent of school additions, has appeared before several organizations and it was his alleged statements that brought on the Tuesday night meeting.

Board member Smith charged Fischer with telling groups and individuals that he (Fischer) had a legal opinion that if the proposition is approved, the board would be committed to building the additions.

"I want to know why, if you had such legal advice," Smith asked, "why you didn't share it with the board?" Fischer replied that he had discussed the wording with an attorney but did not have a legal opinion or did he pay any fee in connection with the conversation.

The wording, as approved by the entire board two weeks ago, stated: "Shall a portion of the remaining funds previously approved . . . now be used to build additions to present elementary schools?"

Nandino Perlongo, the board's attorney, was invited to the meeting to give his interpretation of the meaning of the wording. "Would we be required to build an addition?" Smith asked.

Perlongo indicated that perhaps the board would be required to use some of the money, but it could be only a token legal fee of $1. But to make it clear, he added, it should be re-worded. Perlongo and Board Secretary Esther Hulsing then went to an adjoining room to work on the change. The change, though debated again for nearly a half hour, was finally approved. It reads (with changes in capital letters): "Shall ANY portion of the remaining funds previously approved . . . now be used to build additions to present elementary schools IN THE DISCRETION OF THE BOARD?"

This means that if the proposal is approved, the board of education will still have the decision to make whether or not to build the additions.

The question of a northeast school arose several times during the evening. Smith pointed out that there is nothing to indicate that the Greenspan Building company, developers of the proposed subdivision, will start im-

1st Annex Petition Formally Denied

Last rites were held Tuesday by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for the first petition filed by the city for the annexation of 282 Plymouth township acres. The board voted to reject the petition which had been declared invalid.

The vote was merely a formality. Filed last May, the petition was found invalid because a deed for a parcel of land it included had never been recorded. After this was learned, the city hurriedly filed another petition.

But the first petition had never been disposed of formally because the board of supervisors has never met since the petition was filed.

The second petition is still alive, however, but it too may meet the same fate as the first. The Ways and Means committee of the board of supervisors last week learned that the technical description of land involved does not "finish" at the point where it starts. At the request of city officials, the hearing was adjourned for 30 days to give the city time to investigate the petition.

Whether the newest flaw is correct, or if the city can amend its petition are still points that need clarification.

Donald K. Sutherland Weds Birmingham Girl

Reflecting the elegance of the Renaissance period was the gown worn by Janet Claire Wasson of Birmingham for her marriage to Donald McKay Sutherland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Sutherland of Plymouth, at 7:30 Saturday evening, September 22, in the First Methodist church of Birmingham.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Wasson of Birmingham and was given in marriage by her father.

The bridal gown of opalescent silk peau de soie in antique ivory had paillettes and circlets of pearls, centered with tiny, crystal prism drops, frosting the point de Lyons lace carved in rose pattern over the high-waisted, empress bodice. The same decor outlined the deeply-rounded Florentine décolletage and brief sleeves. Garlands and sprays of jeweled lace graced the full skirt which belled from an elongated basque line and spread to a wide, curved cathedral train.

Her tiered veil of silk illusion was caught by a sculptured court cap of pleated silk peau de soie, pointed over the brow and etched with pearls. Her bouquet was a semi-cascade of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Bonnie Jean Wasson was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert G. Hollister of Cincinnati, Ohio; Nancy Lindberg of Trenton, New York; Helen Ramey of Clearfield, Pennsylvania; and Mrs. William C. Williams of Lakewood, Ohio.

The attendants wore intermission-length dresses of crystal silk in pale amber. Diagonal contour gathers on the gowns formed wide bateau necklines, draping to shoulder covering sleeves. The skirts, flaring from the molded midriffs in tapered gores, were accented with crushed sashes of cameotoned glace silk inserted low at the front and emerging at the back in polonaise bows. Their headresses were halos of maline, scalloped and starred with pearls, caught to a bandeaux of velvet.

All carried cascade bouquets of bronze and white fuji mums with ivy and ivory streamers.

Dr. Arnold F. Runkel officiated the double-ring ceremony, preceding which Syver Thingstad, friend of the bride and bridegroom, sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Melvin E. Schultz of Plymouth was best man. Guests were seated by the bridegroom's Sigma Chi fraternity brothers, Richard L. Smart of Grosse Pointe Park, Robert F. Smith of Collierville, Tennessee; Ronald Stead of Midland, John P. Henneghan of Lansing, and Richard S. Wurga of Plymouth, the bridegroom's brother-in-law.

A sheath dress of Dior blue peau de soie was worn by Mrs. Wasson. The bridegroom's mother selected a gown of soft pink silk trimmed with lace. Both wore brown cymbidium orchid corsages.

Approximately 250 guests attended the reception at the Oakland Hills Country club. Out-of-town guests were from Midland, East Lansing, Kalamazoo, Plymouth, Grand Rapids, Cincinnati, Ohio; Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Leamington, Ontario; Chicago, Illinois; Dallas, Texas and Northport, Long Island.

For a three-weeks trip through the northeastern states, Montreal and Quebec, Canada, the bride changed to a wool taupe sheath dress with matching coat and black accessories. The couple will reside in Birmingham after October 15.

Both are graduates of Michigan State university, the bride in 1956 and the bridegroom two years earlier. Their campus affiliations were with Delta Gamma sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ricketts of Newark, Ohio, have been the houseguests of Mrs. Eugene Orndorff of Northville road. On Sunday Mrs. Orndorff entertained at dinner in their honor, Howard Sly and Mrs. George Robbins. On Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick were her guests.

Date for the wedding has not been set.

Two farmers met on the road. "Si, I've got a mule with distemper. What did you give that one of yours when he had it?" "Turpentine, Giddap." A week later they met again. "Say Si, I gave my mule turpentine and it killed him." "It killed mine too, Giddap."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was of white satin and chantilly lace, against which she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums and roses. She was attended by her roommate at the University of Michigan, Miss Eliot Randal Rowland of Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania. Miss Rowland wore a blue organdy dress with wine-colored sash and carried white chrysanthemums and Happiness roses.

Handwriting
 By C. C. Wiltse
 Registered Pharmacist

Despite the "Palmer penmanship" exercises that burdened our grade school years a generation ago, the handwriting of most people is abominable.

Physicians are no exception. Under the pressures of a jam-packed schedule, the prescriptions they write are often scrawled, frequently illegible.

With respect to almost anyone else, an illegible handwriting is no more than a small irritation—inconvenient perhaps but not too important. But with respect to the physician, an illegible handwriting can spell the utmost danger.

Keenly aware of this, pharmacists everywhere make it their business—when they can't decipher the handwriting on a prescription—to call the doctor on the telephone.

It's this kind of awareness . . . this kind of initiative . . . that gives the pharmacist an extremely vital place in his community.

This is another in a series of informative advertisements appearing in this paper each week, presented by Community Pharmacy, 330 S. Main.

See what happens... Switch to Shell!

Before TCP... The car above was bought brand new and driven about 3000 miles on a competitive premium gasoline. Then its rate of acceleration was checked by radar. The pick-up was poor because of engine deposits, which caused the spark plugs to "miss."

After TCP... The same car now performs after it has been run on a few tankfuls of Shell Premium with TCP, which overcomes engine deposits. Radar checks on this and other cars showed in most cases a 6 to 18% increase in pick-up after TCP additive had overcome pre-firing and spark plug "miss."

Radar proves Shell Premium with TCP can increase acceleration up to 18%

Even a new car driven as little as 3500 miles starts to lose some of its power.

Chances are that engine deposits are to blame. In today's high-compression engines, these deposits cause pre-firing and spark plug "miss." So you don't get the power you paid for.

Shell Premium with TCP, the greatest gasoline development in 31 years, changes engine deposits to counteract these harmful effects. As radar demonstrates above, TCP additive restores power and gives you up to 18% more acceleration—extra "pick-up" that even the most careful driver sometimes needs.

Switch to Shell Premium with TCP! See your neighborhood Shell Dealer today!

Three Teams Share Suburban-Six Lead

Three teams are tied for the lead in Suburban-Six standings after the first week of conference

Looks like the scientists just can't stop trying to re-wire the status quo. The other day Bell Telephone Laboratories ran a test on a new "picture phone" . . . a small screen device where you can see the person you're talking to on the telephone.

Naturally this will ruin a lot of alibis . . . because you can't very easily convince anyone you're talking from one place when the picture shows someplace else. However, it should be a relief from the people who call up and say "Guest who?" . . . unless they wear a Frankenstein mask. And they probably would. For people who are called out of the shower to answer the phone there is a button to press before you're on the air. I suppose that proves scientists can still be gentlemen.

boost up-and-coming teams that are given the best chance to dethrone Trenton, even though the potential of both squads is still unknown.

Bentley has been the more impressive to date, probably against weaker competition. Coach Jack Hudnut's Bulldogs boast a 28-0 victory over Garden City and a 33-13 win from Redford Union. Allen Park has defeated Melvindale, 7-6 and Plymouth, 12-6.

The other game involving league teams Friday will see Plymouth at Belleville.

The latter team, considered an also-ran in the league in pre-season estimates, just missed tying highly-touted Trenton last Friday. Belleville scored against Trenton's mighty line, but missed the conversion attempt and ended up a 7-6 loser.

Allen Park knocked off Plymouth, 12-6. Ken Calhoun gave the Rocks an early touchdown, but Allen Park bounced back to win on scores by Jerry Thome and Jim Magger. Less than two minutes remained when Magger tallied the winning touchdown.

Rocks to Tackle Belleville Next

Plymouth travels to Belleville tomorrow night to match "T" formations with a team that ended up in the league basement last year and has lost both games so far this year.

The Tigers are by no means an easy touch, however, having lost last week to a highly regarded Trenton eleven by only six points, with a final score of 8-0.

Eleven returning lettermen bolster the Tiger squad, coached by Harry Hinderfater in his second year at the helm of Tiger football fortunes.

"We're going to miss Bob Wisniewski" coach Hinderfater said, referring to his star half-back who was injured in the first game of the season against Lincoln High in Ypsilanti. "But we expect Jim Habel to add power to our line."

Plymouth's Blue Rocks will be looking for their first league win of the season with tomorrow's kick-off, their only win this year having been over Northville, a non-league opponent.

Caplin Captures Partridge Prize

Ty Caplin came from behind at Plymouth Country Club last Sunday to win the Casey Partridge Plymouth Amateur Golf Championship with a 36 hole 144. He received a large engraved trophy and a new golf bag as top man on the country club course.

Runner-up for the championship was Ray Horton with 145. Tied for third place were Plymouth High School senior Tom Carmichael and Harper Stephens, both with 148. Dave Politz, who led the second round last week, had a bad day Sunday and ended up with a 157 total. Defending champion Jim McAllister did not play the final round.

Don Huebner won the first flight with a score of 153. He was followed closely by Bill Rambo who shot 154. Huebner was in third place last week with an eighteen hole 78.

Winner of the second flight was Frank Armstrong with a 170 card total twice over the course. Armstrong was tied in his flight last week with Marv Terry, both with an 18 hole 84.

Each flight winner was presented with a new golf bag and all finishers in the tourney received prizes. Nearly 80 golfers played the country club course in the 36 hole tourney. Partridge said, and the mat was considered highly successful.

Plymouth Fullback Injured at Allen Park

An outstanding sophomore fullback on the Plymouth High School football team was injured in the final minutes of play last Friday night during the Plymouth-Alpen Park game.

Myron Hopper, of 1815 Haggerty, was at first believed to be seriously injured with a broken neck resulting from a tackle he made late in the game.

Rushed to Oakwood hospital for X-Rays, he was found not to have any broken bones. It was believed that he may have suffered a sprain, pinched nerve or bad bruise.

The hospital reported that Hopper was getting around with assistance yesterday and seemed to be progressing satisfactorily.

Wins Edgewood Title

William A. Benjamin, a Plymouth High grad now living in Farmington's Willowbrook Village, won the Edgewood Golf Club championship last Sunday when he defeated Ed Lauer one up on 36 holes.

Quarterback Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions is a top amateur golfer in his native state of Texas.

McAllister Wins Plymouth-Northville Golf Tournament

Elton McAllister beat out Tom Lock at Brae Burn golf course last Sunday afternoon to take Jerry Walsh's Plymouth-Northville tournament and win the Plymouth Mail's traveling trophy.

McAllister posted a 151 over the 36 holes to win by two strokes. Lock was runner-up in the championship flight. Tournament sponsor Jerry Walsh fired a 167.

Cross Country Team Tops Allen Park 23-32

Coach John Sandmann's cross country team, running in the rain on the "long" two mile course at Plymouth's Riverside Park, beat Allen Park 23-32 Friday night to compensate for the defeat Plymouth suffered in football at the hands of the Parkers.

Placing one, two, three, for Plymouth were Dave DeCoster, 11:39, Charles Westover, 11:56, and Tony Monte, 11:58. Jim Dzurich finished eighth and with John Williams ninth in a field of 14.

The season's opening victory, after a layoff last year when Plymouth had no cross country team, proved the determination as well as the physical conditioning of the local team.

The harriers have their sights set for Belleville next Friday in the second home meet at Riverside Park. Starting time is 4:30. Other dual meets include Bentley High at Bentley, October 5. Trenton here October 12 and Redford Union at Redford on October 16.

Football Contest Starts Next Week

Polish up those crystal balls, sports fans—The Plymouth Mail's annual football contest starts next week!

The weekly football score prediction contest that has brought wide interest among local sports fans in recent years will have higher prizes this year. Fifteen games will appear each week during the football season, 14 of which only the winner is selected and one of which calls for a score.

Entry blanks and rules will be published next week.

Merchants to Play Supino Sunday

River Rouge and Northville were both knocked out of the inter-county, post season baseball playoffs last Sunday, leaving the Plymouth Merchants, Club Supino and Romulus still in the running.

The Plymouth Merchants drew a bye last Sunday and maintained their place in the playoffs while Club Supino beat River Rouge 5-4 and Romulus rocked Northville 4-1.

The Merchants play Supino at Cass Benton Park this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Winner of this game will play Romulus, which drew a bye, for the championship in a two game knockout series beginning the following week.

 mediately or that they will have sewer and water available for a school.

A letter was read from the building company, however, brought by a Greenspan official to the meeting, that told that the subdivision is expected to get started this year and that services will be brought to 1,000 feet from the school site. (The board has decided on a site but there has been no purchase as yet). The latter was placed in the minutes.

Only taxpaying, qualified electors will be able to vote on the issue Monday, October 8. All balloting is done at the high school.

The question of additions has been brought up many times as a possible quick answer to overcrowding. Smith had advocated additions several years ago and the board's two newest members, James Mitehell and Austin Stecker, expressed their belief in additions when they ran for election last June. The remaining two members, Fischer and Mrs. Hulsing, believe that additions are educationally and economically unsound.

The audience attending Tuesday's meeting appeared to side with those not wanting additions. They expressed their doubts that additions would be needed after the James Gallimore school is completed and questioned why a vote on the proposal was needed so quickly.

Both factions seemed in agreement that if additions are built, there will not be enough money remaining to construct a school building.

The question of diverting the funds is being placed on the ballot because law requires that any change in previously-allocated bond money must be approved by qualified voters.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

Every weekday morning, in the eleven schools that make up the Plymouth Community School District, 3,976 children report to their teachers. Of this group, 2,307 children are enrolled in the elementary schools of which there are nine, 575 are enrolled in the Junior High school and 1,904 are enrolled in the Senior High school.

To take care of the business of educating our children, we have a school board of five capable people and a superintendent assisted by school principals and teachers. Perhaps the fault is ours, in not insisting on a seven member board to cope with all the problems of such a large school district. However, if the present situation is not to our liking, we have no one to blame but ourselves because, as in any Democracy, we elect the people who run this business of education for us.

When our school board hires a superintendent, principal and teachers, they are hiring the best educational minds that it is possible for them to hire, for the money we have to spend. That they are all fine people, doing the best they can is unquestionable. As Americans, we always like to get the most for our money, and as Americans we are fast learning to believe in specialization. If we want our homes remodeled, we go to the best builder we can find. If we want our educational system improved, we look for the best minds we know. This is true in the teaching and school administration fields here in the city of Plymouth.

The voters proved their confidence in our way of doing things, when they voted for the March 28th bond issue and at the same time voted approval when they were told exactly how the money was to be spent. Then, sometime in the spring of this year, some of our voters changed their minds about what they had considered the best thing in March. It is only human nature to want the very best for your own children and they felt that, perhaps things would not work out in a way they considered advantageous. The point is, that in a Democracy we must consider what is best for the most people, and who is in a better position to know what is best for all of us in the field of education, than the administration we have hired to do just that job? The minutes of the school board meetings show that it is not the administrators who have changed their opinions, but only a division in the board that brings about this expensive election.

Whenever a new-comer is asked why he came to Plymouth to make his home, almost always included in his reasons is the statement that he likes the schools. He likes the schools because of their size—wants to become personally acquainted with the teacher and administrators and wants them to become personally interested in his child. It is a fine thing to walk down the halls of our elementary schools and see this relationship in operation. It is a relationship that could not possibly continue if 650 children were enrolled in a school which was originally built to accommodate 420 and has only suitable lunchroom, multi-purpose room, and playground space for 420, no matter how many rooms are added.

Let's not put our children on the "SPOT" by being selfish enough to consider spoiling the good things we have. All the children would benefit from a new school. That is the answer. We are facing intricate and complex times in Plymouth. We are growing fast, and because we are, we have to concentrate harder than ever to help children develop physical, mental and moral stamina. We are equal to these times because there is no limit to our energy, vision, skill and love of our community. We are a Democracy.....VOTE.

1957 Model is Out! (Airplane, That Is)

While Plymouth's automobile dealers are eagerly looking forward to introducing their 1957 models, another Plymouthite, Robert Nulty, 1385 Park Place, is unveiling his 1957 models this weekend. His business, however, is airplanes.

Nulty, as president of Great Lakes Airomotive, Inc., is inviting interested citizens to his open house this Saturday and Sunday at Willow Run where the new Cessna Model 172 is being premiered. The new utility airplane for the nation's businessmen is reported to make flying like driving an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fisher of Utica spent Monday with Mrs. Henry Fisher of North Main street enroute to Florida for the winter months.

We are sorry to report that St. Michael's football team lost their first game of the season to St. Monica's on Sunday afternoon. What was lacking in height and weight was present in determination and spirit, so better luck next time.

MICHIGAN BELL

TELEPHONE lines

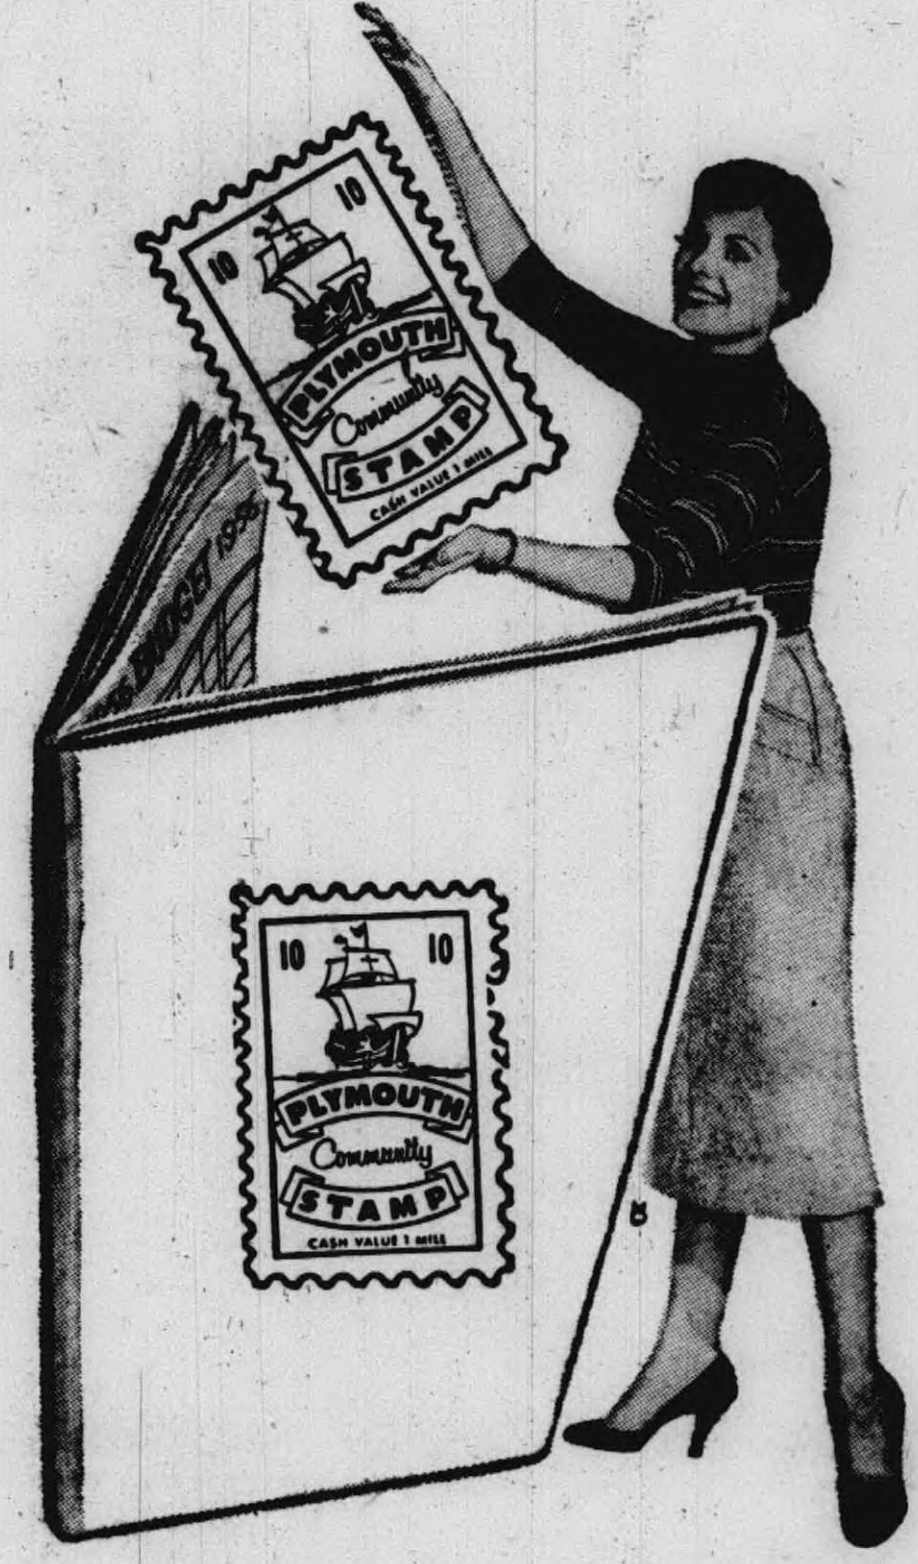

THE BELL TELEPHONE LABORATORIES has developed a new device that will let one telephone line handle five separate conversations at the same time. Special electronic equipment installed along the wire lines and in central offices is used to keep each call on its own "voice channel." This fall, Michigan Bell plans to try out the new system in a few outlying areas where the building of conventional wire circuits would be difficult and expensive. This is another example of how the telephone company is always trying to bring you the best telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

ON THE ENTERTAINMENT COMMITTEE of your club? Here's a suggestion to make your job easier. Show Michigan Bell movies. The films in our library are entertaining, non-technical glimpses into the world of the telephone. For example, the movie called "Music in Motion" tells the story of radio's famous musical show, "Telephone Hour." And "The World at Your Call" dramatizes the magic of Long Distance. The use of these films is, of course, free but you should reserve them in advance. Call the business office if you'd like to have a list of titles available. Arrangements can usually be made for a projector and operator, if needed, also at no charge.

DID YOU KNOW about the U. S. Patent Office employee back about 1870 who said the office ought to close because everything had already been invented? How foolish he was! There'll always be better ways of doing things. That's the idea behind the Michigan Bell Employee Suggestion Plan. We've had the plan for eleven years so far. It's produced thousands of ideas on how to do telephone jobs faster, safer, more economically. The ideas come from everyone—linemen, stenographers, operators, engineers, cable splicers. Cash awards are given for accepted ideas.

Mrs. Lemay Smith, membership chairman of Mayflower Auxiliary to Post No. 6695 Veterans of Foreign Wars, has announced the opening of the organization's 1957 membership drive.
 Every eligible veteran and his family is invited and encouraged to share in the program of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its ladies auxiliary, stated the membership chairman.
 Through its legislative program

V.F.W. Owens Auxiliary Opens Membership Drive

the VFW has secured many benefits now available to veterans. The Post and Auxiliaries have a wide variety of programs including Americanism, youth activities, community service and hospital work.
 A national home is maintained by the VFW at Eaton Rapids, Michigan where children of members, or deceased members, are assured an education, health, happiness and security.
 Mothers, sisters, wives, daughters and widows of deceased or honorably discharged men who have served on foreign soil or waters during time of war are eligible to membership in the Ladies Auxiliary. Also women of the Armed Forces of the U. S. who have had foreign service in time of war and possess an honorable discharge, as well as their mothers, sisters or daughters are eligible to join the Ladies Auxiliary.
 Ray Danol is commander of the local post. The auxiliary is headed by Mrs. Helen Bowring as president.
 Those eligible and interested in joining the organization and its activities may call Mrs. Smith at 1858-M.

The Honey Touch

A very dejected man walked into a restaurant one morning and sat down at a table. "I want two eggs fried very hard, two slices of toast burnt black and a cup of weak, luke-warm coffee," he told the waitress.

"Are you sure that's just what you want?" she asked amazed.

"To the letter."

The waitress explained to the chef and managed to get the man exactly what he had asked for. "Anything else, sir?" she asked as she put the order on the table.

"Yes, now sit down and nag me 'm homesick."

Never worry about a competitor; attend to your business and let him do the worrying.

Out-of-State Guests At Howell Open House

From as far away as California came some of the 200 guests attending an open house in the Veterans Memorial center Sunday afternoon, celebrating the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Howell, 11329 Gold Arbor.

A five-tiered gold wedding cake with white decorations highlighted the table setting. Many lovely gifts were presented the couple in honor of the occasion.

Attending from out-of-town were friends and relatives of the Howells from Saline, Ferndale, Ann Arbor, Yale, Saginaw, Ludington, Peck and Detroit, Toledo, Ohio and California.

The Howells were married September 24, 1906 in Detroit and have lived in Plymouth 45 years.

An angler who had been trying to hook something for the last six hours was sitting gloomily at his task, when a mother and her small son came along.

"Oh," cried out the youngster, "do let me see you catch a fish!"

Addressing the angler the mother said, severely: "Now, don't you catch a fish for him until he says 'Please!'"

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

INWARD BEAUTY

Some girls and women sit down and bemoan the fact that nature didn't bless them with beautiful skins and lovely noses, curly locks and a Venus-like figure, but we wonder, after all, how much of a handicap it is to be born plain.

When the average "plain" girl looks into her mirror and realizes that she can't remake her nose into what she thinks would be the proper shape, that she can't get a new coating of skin to replace what she already has, then, if she is wise at all, she will realize that there are other beauty lines that she can develop herself along.

After all, you know, there really is something to the time-worn saying, "Beauty is only skin deep."

And as we go through the world and come in contact with those of beautiful features, how often we realize that there isn't much to those people but their beauty. They're often shallow of mind and feelings, depending upon their beauty alone to get them through the world.

Those of us who haven't what we think is our rightful proportion of good looks have to develop our minds and our hearts in order to take our places in the race of life. Did you ever stop to realize that some of the most brilliant, most sought-after women in the world are not beauties?

Take a list of the world's greatest actresses and see whether or not they gained their places by reason of their abilities or because of their beauty.

The woman who lacks good looks should make up for that lack by the development of good qualities. Good taste in dress should be cultivated. She can be chic, dainty and by the selection of the right clothes often overcome her physical faults.

By cultivating a sense of the beautiful, she can appreciate, to a high degree, beautiful things. It is possible for her to have a beautiful voice. She can develop a grace of movement, a beautiful carriage that will be the envy of her more beautiful sisters.

And, above all, the plain girl or woman can cultivate a beautiful spirit which will cause her to stand out among her friends as a delightful person to be with at all times.

Let's not bemoan our plainness, but let it be a challenge to us to make ourselves beautiful within and our exteriors will take care of themselves.

Auxiliary Continues Emphasis on Religion

American Legion Auxiliary units throughout the nation are continuing to emphasize the need for strong religious foundations for family, community and national life. Mrs. Jean Simonetti, chaplain of the Passage-Gayde unit of the Auxiliary, reported. The American Legion's "Back to God" movement will be vigorously supported by the Auxiliary during the coming year, she stated.

"We of the American Legion recognize that spiritual strength is essential to individual happiness and national survival," said Mrs. Simonetti. "Therefore, we are urging our members to follow the American Legion's three-point program which calls for regular church attendance, family worship and prayers, and religious education for children."

Advises Early Mailing Of Overseas Packages

While Christmas remains a little less than three months away, there is much less time left to send packages overseas. Postmaster George Timpona pointed out this week.

"May we suggest that packages be well packed and with the proper custom forms," the postmaster added. Whether the packages are servicemen or civilians, sea transport involves time and it is recommended that mailing be made as early as possible to assure delivery by Christmas.

The postmaster states that packages going to South and Central America should be mailed by November 10; Africa, November 1; Far East October 15; Near East, November 1; and Europe, November 10.

Educational Aid Granted Children Of U. S. War Dead

Children of America's war dead are now eligible for educational aid from the Federal government, Miss Carol Langmaid, Education and Scholarship chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, has been informed. A new law, recently signed by President Eisenhower, will make this aid available to some 150,000 children, Miss Carol Langmaid stated.

The new law provided $110 per month for students taking full-time training; $80 per month for those studying on a three-quarter time basis, and $50 per month for those devoting half-time to studies. Students will be entitled to 36 months' education and training, which must be taken only in approved colleges, vocational schools and other approved institutions. Payments will begin October 1, 1956. "The parent or guardian or student should submit application for the educational aid to the Veterans Administration and receive an official decision on eligibility from that agency," Miss Langmaid said. "Advice and assistance in making the application will gladly be given by the American Legion Auxiliary committee. We hope that all young men and women in the country whose fathers died for America will take advantage of this opportunity to obtain higher education or specialized training."

Offer Six-Week Training Course for Scout Leaders

Acting as Cubmaster of a mock Cub Scout pack, Edwin Willis, 15480 Edington, Livonia conducted a six-weeks training course for Cub Scout leaders at Monroe Elementary school in September 20. An estimated 150 adult students, organized into cub dens, will "learn by doing" by working on typical cub scout projects under the direction of experienced Cub Scout leaders led by Willis. A similar course for Boy Scout leaders will be conducted simultaneously at St. Mary's high school, Michigan Avenue in Wayne, each Thursday night for six weeks. Approximately 50 adult scouters are expected to enroll. A well-known resident of Livonia, Willis has been engaged in Scouting activities for the past 25 years. Currently a member of the Training staff, Sunset District (District 7, Detroit Area), he has served the Scouting movement in nearly all assignments including scoutmaster, troop committeeman and commissioner. "I don't have any boys of my own, but I do enjoy working with them in Scouting" asserted Willis. "Anyone interested in working with boys is cordially invited to attend either the Cub or Boy Scout course," he added.

New Gas Pipeline To Aid Future Supply of Area

Construction of a 30-mile-long, 16-inch natural gas pipe line that will greatly strengthen the natural gas supply system serving many communities in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties, is now underway near Novi.

From a metering point near South Lyon the big new pipeline will extend eastward to Consumers Power company's gas distribution station on Coolidge Highway in Royal Oak, bringing natural gas from the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company lines at South Lyon. Panhandle pipes natural gas from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and other states for local distribution by Consumers.

Among communities to benefit from the new line are Plymouth, Walled Lake, Livonia, Northville, Wayne, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Pontiac, Ferndale, Royal Oak, and East Detroit.

David H. Gerhard, division manager of Consumers Power company's southeast division, said the new pipe line will provide an additional gas feed into the southern end of Consumers' gas distribution system in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. At present all natural gas for this region comes from pipe line connections near Pontiac and Mt. Clemens.

Mr. Gerhard said the line will enable the company to deliver much larger supplies of natural gas as these become available to the company in the future. Consumers has a large backlog of applications for house heating and other space heating service which cannot be met until a larger supply of natural gas can be obtained. There are no restrictions on other types of gas service in the company's service area.

New connections will be made to the lines extending into the Northville natural gas fields and south into Livonia, to serve as an additional supply carrier for western Wayne County communities, Mr. Gerhard said.

Construction of the pipeline began a few days ago at a point north of Novi, and the line is extending eastward from here to Royal Oak. A second construction crew began installation at South Lyon and is moving eastward to Novi. Mr. Gerhard said it is expected that the line will be completed in early November.

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957!

Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news... a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because... This is Where Tomorrow Starts... with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Ford Look

That low, low cradle span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from road to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high-priced in every way, except price.

The New Ford Performance

You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of 312 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144-hp Mileage Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

The New Ford Choice

Ford offers not only one, but two sizes of cars... each on its own extended wheelbase... each with its own body shell... each with its own styling.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 5 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two- and four-door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interior and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts

It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom!

The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives.

They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Changed Her Whole "Point of View"

Some local high school teachers spent the summer taking courses at the State University. They learned a lot, but one of them—Miss Williams—got homesick.

"To save expenses," she reports, "we chose a hotel that was clean but grim. When I found my window looked out on a coal yard—my heart just sank!"

But, when Miss Williams noticed a pot of geraniums on the window sill—and a note saying "Look at these instead," (signed) "Last Occupant"—she decided to stick it out. She kept those flowers watered and tended to make things that much easier on the next occupant.

From where I sit, it's often hard to adapt to new surroundings—just as new customs often seem strange to us at first. For instance, if you've always had tea with your meals you might find it odd that I prefer a glass of beer. It's OK to prefer what's familiar to you... but also keep an open mind on what's not.

Joe Marsh

BY ROGER BABSON

Readers to Ballot on Ike-Adlai Race

Readers of this newspaper have been invited to participate in the nationwide Babsonpoll, a so far highly successful pre-election polling system introduced by the Roger W. Babson Organization in 1952.

The poll is conducted by Babson's Washington Service, a Washington newsletter founded over two decades ago by the noted economist, Roger W. Babson.

The poll employs a new method of sampling national voting intentions—quite different from the straw-vote method commonly used in this country. Rather than compiling total straw votes for each candidate, the Babsonpoll measures the degree of switching from the pattern established in the previous election. In 1952 and 1954, this method was found to produce a much smaller margin of error than the average poll of the straw-vote type.

In 1952, the Babsonpoll flatly forecast an Eisenhower "landslide"—even naming the four states which Ike would take in the "Solid South." Predicting the results of congressional elections in that year, the poll accurately pointed to GOP control of both Senate and House by extremely narrow margins.

The 1954 congressional elections were forecast by the Babsonpoll with equal accuracy. At that time, the poll predicted that the Democrats would take over control of the House by a comfortable margin and that the battle for control of the Senate was a "toss-up" (Senate control was actually decided by one close election).

Every week between now and Election Day, this paper will publish the progressive results of the Babsonpoll—along with a ballot which may be used by readers who would like to participate in the poll. Readers are asked to vote only once in the poll, though the ballot will be published each week. Publication of the ballot will be repeated for use by additional members of readers' families who are voting age and for those who are undecided as to their voting intentions at the time of its original publication.

Please do not sign your name to the ballot. Simply check the appropriate answers and mail the ballot to Babson's Washington Service, P. O. Box 7398, Washington 4, D. C.

Based on a long study of election trends, Babson analysts have compiled a list of 121 House races in which a political turnover appears to be at least a reasonable possibility. The selection of these districts was based on the incumbent's 1954 margin of victory and the noted effect of "presidential coattails" in 1952.

Of the 35 senatorial contests, four are considered safe for the GOP and nine appear certain to be retained by the Democrats. The 17 other races show at least a possibility of turnover.

Most comprehensive Babsonpoll coverage will be concentrated in the above "doubtful" areas... but control sampling will be carried out in all 48 states.

The first Babsonpoll report—to be published one week from today—will map the battlefield on which this year's election is likely to be most bitterly contested and will outline the factors which will make those contests of crucial significance.

HERE IS YOUR BABSONPOLL BALLOT

Please vote only once during this nationwide election survey.

Grange Cleanings

What a fine meeting we had at the Grange last week Thursday evening. A large attendance and everyone enjoying themselves. The Pittsfield degree team came and exemplified the third and fourth degrees to several new members, also a large number of members who had never seen the work done. Our Grange is growing all the time and it is such a splendid group of people, it is a pleasure to be associated with them.

We are happy to state that the rummage sale on September 15 was a very successful affair and those who worked through it felt well repaid for their efforts. Now our attention must be turned toward that important date, October 12. We bazaar. Bring in your contributions before noon.

There will be booths for aprons, fancy work, candy, baked goods, etc., also a country store. The dinner in the evening is for Grange members and their families and guests. Get your tickets by October 8. They may be procured from Mrs. Hilda, Mrs. Vealey or Mrs. Albert Groth. Menu will be printed in next week's "Cleanings."

Be wiser than other people if you can; but do not tell them so.

Optimists Hear Burrough Official

"Business men today must become the agents of change" declared Edward J. Littlejohn, director of public relations for Burroughs corporation last Wednesday evening before 80 members of the Northville Optimist club, their wives and guests.

Commenting on the business man's role in public affairs, Littlejohn added that, in every other country in the world, men from the business world take an active role in governmental affairs. "However," he stated, "in the United States they seem to lack the courage to lead public opinion, since they must be careful of the extreme of stockholders' interests and consumers' opinions."

Littlejohn urged business men to harness public opinion to useful purposes and ideals, and have the courage to express their own leadership.

At the next meeting of the Northville Optimist Club on Wednesday, October 3, a new project of "Bouquets for the Living" will be launched wherein a local person will be presented with a bouquet of roses in appreciation for his often unobtrusive and unheralded contribution to community progress.

Norman H. Sarvis, who has risen to vice-president and assistant treasurer of the Northville Laboratories in the past 20 years, will be the first recipient of this honor.

Interested Plymouth people are invited to attend the Northville Optimist club meetings on Wednesday nights at 6:30 p.m. at the Lutheran Church House, 201 Elm Street, Northville.

Because it can be easily painted and is available in so many variations, wood siding fulfills the desire of most women to own "something different," adaptable to frequent color change.

Inside the home, wood paneling satisfies the desire of today's homemaker to make her rooms alive and interesting. Wood floors, because of their permanence and beauty, offer women assurance that their rooms are "right" in the eyes of the community.

Recommends Sauce Accent for Meat Dishes

Mrs. Edwin Zipse of 1345 Park Place takes the spotlight this week with her recipe for "Fruit Chili Sauce."

A new and tasty variation on meat accompaniments is this dish which has been a popular menu item in the Zipse household for a number of years. The Plymouth homemaker finds the sauce especially good with pot-roasts, hamburgers, meat loaf or similar ilk. The recipe came from a friend: Here it is:

- Fruit Chili Sauce
- 30 tomatoes
 - 6 peaches
 - 6 pears
 - 4 cups granulated sugar
 - 4 onions
 - 3 green peppers
 - 3 red peppers
 - 2 hot peppers

Story of Kellogg Park's Cannon Finally Learned

More light has been thrown on the origin of the Kellogg park cannon this week by Sidney Strong, Plymouth's first city manager, who had that office when the field piece was brought here.

A recent series of two articles in The Mail about the park and its tributes contained several historical gaps. One was about the cannon's exact origin.

Strong recalls that it was about 1921 when the local post of the Grand Army of the Republic (Union war veterans) decided that they would like a Civil War cannon for Kellogg Park. The GAR met in city hall at that time.

Oliver Showers, who was one of Plymouth's last Civil War Veterans, was commander of the post and was instrumental in reaching the right people to secure a surplus cannon.

Strong relates that the field piece came from Ft. Totten, New York in a railroad boxcar and that city workmen went to the depot to unload it. Instead of a Civil War cannon, it was from the Spanish American War, and Showers was a very disappointed man, Strong recalls.

But the cannon was moved to the park anyway and a concrete base laid for it. Because youngsters loved to play with the artillery piece, it was immobilized. What the history of the cannon was before it reached Plymouth was never known.

Locker Plant Receives Award at Ham Show

The local locker plant's ham was entered in competition against hams from frozen food locker plants all over the nation. Harold H. Anderson, proprietor of the plant, was presented a ribbon award for the placing. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson was one of the convention speakers.

Leather Accessories Spark Basic Costumes

The smart gal knows that a few basic costumes and a wardrobe of leather accessories in varied styles and colors makes for plenty of style at a minimum cost.

She can wear the exact same shade of her costume—in shoes of fine, polished smooth calf—bag of a grainy calf—and gloves of a soft suede! Or she may choose from a multitude of other leather textures.

To name but a few, there are: matte leather, which has a smooth unpolished finish; crushed leather, in which the natural grain is emphasized; reversed calf, which is a super-plushy suede calf; embossed and printed leathers; and aniline-dyed leathers.

Leather bags are slimmer, and clean and simple in outline but with fine detail. Rectangles, squares and elongated squares are popular shapes.

Gloves come in more colors than the Fall leaves and many have trim which snaps on and off.

And, of course, a good-looking leather belt can make a sweater and skirt costume. Belts this year may be trimmed with everything from bright brass hardware to multi-colored jewels.

Try This Jiffy Freezer Menu On TV Fans

Favorite television programs need not upset the viewers' eating schedule or make serving complicated. An assortment of ready-to-eat foods may be made up in advance and stored in the home freezer for whenever and however needed.

Here's a "TV Menu," planned by a home economics institute. From it everyone can select individual items or a full lunch.

Chopped ham relish sandwich
Grind or chop 2 cups of leftover ham. Add ¼ cup pickle relish, ½ teaspoon celery seed, ¼ cup boiled dressing, ½ cup cream substitute. Spread bread with softened butter or margarine, covering entire surface to prevent soaking. Cut into three finger sandwiches. Wrap sandwiches in pint polyethylene bags and freeze.

Baked beans in cups
Place portions of your favorite recipe of baked beans in 4-ounce paper cups. Cool. Cover. Seal in pint polyethylene bags and freeze.

Fruit cups
Combine 1 cup white, drained cherries, 1 cup diced pineapple, 1 cup diced pears, ½ cup maraschino cherries, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Spoon servings into paper cups. Cover. Freeze. Seal in polyethylene bag for freezer storage.

Nut-cheese balls
Chop 1 cup pecans finely. Combine 1 8-oz. package cream cheese, 1 tablespoon boiled dressing, 1 tablespoon cream substitute. Form into marble-size balls. Roll in nut pieces. Seal in polyethylene bag and place on tray for storage in freezer.

FOR THE SMALL FRY—Here's a sweater style that's as ideal for your young son as it is for your daughter. It's a modified turtle neck pullover with comfortable, action-free raglan sleeves. The body of the sweater is knitted in the easy stockinette stitch with ribbing at waist and wrists. Directions are given for sizes 2, 3 and 4. You can knit this sweater in either wool or nylon yarn. For your copy of directions for BROTHER OR SISTER RAGLAN SWEATER, simply send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this paper, requesting Leaflet No. C-177.

Serve "Veal Rolls Deluxe" For Sure-Fire Compliments!

See what happens! Sure as shootin' . . . the minute you prepare a special and unusual dish for the family, they praise its worth and your ingenuity and ask for it over and over again.

But a well-known meat expert assures you that the ease of preparation of this meat dish will make it a delight to create two and even three times. So the next time you're in the market for a unique meat dish make it a point to try Veal Rolls DeLuxe.

Veal Rolls DeLuxe
2 veal round steaks, cut ½ inch thick
1 slice bacon, uncooked
1 hard cooked egg, chopped
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
1 2-ounce can mushroom pieces, if desired
2 tablespoons lard or bacon drippings
Salt and pepper
1½ cups canned tomatoes
Flour for gravy

Cut bacon into small squares and combine with chopped egg, onion and 2 tablespoons mushrooms. Cut veal into 6 pieces approximately 3 x 4½ inches. Remove bone. Spread veal with bacon and egg mixture. Roll and fasten with a wooden pick. Brown rolls in lard or drippings. Season. Add tomatoes and remaining mushrooms. Cover and cook in a slow oven (300° F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour or until tender. Remove rolls, thicken tomato liquid for gravy. Yield: 3 to 4 servings.

Arguments, directed at the emotions and prejudices of men, suggest a lack of reasonable support.

Carnival Fruit Plate
Arrange crisp lettuce cups on salad plates and fill with sliced nectarines, white seedless grapes, sliced blue plums and diced peaches.

Serve with fruit dressing made by combining one cup salad dressing, one-half cup whipped cream, one-half cup finely minced packaged dates, one-fourth cup nuts, finely broken, and four marshmallows, cut in small pieces. Serve with crackers and wafers and plenty of iced coffee or iced tea.

Flower Petal Salad
For each serving, arrange on salad greens five slices of banana (slice crosswise at slant making elongated slices about one-fourth inch thick) in petal fashion to form circle. Pile about one-third cup mixed fruit in center of "flower."
(Seedless white grapes, diced peaches and pitted and halved red grapes are a nice combination.)

CUT BANANA CROSSWISE SLICES IN ON SLANT
ARRANGE SLICES IN PETAL FASHION
PILE 1/3 CUP MIXED FRUIT IN CENTER
Garnish each salad with chopped parsley and serve with salad dressing.
Whichever salad you choose, be sure to prepare it just before eating to prevent loss of valuable vitamins.

Furs Take Spotlight with Dramatic Stylings, Distinctive Color Themes

The stage is set for an exciting performance in fur—this fall! Starring are the Empire, the hooded-look, the blouse, the panel, the straight and narrow, the cape, new shorts and long stoles. The settings are casual, sporty, dressy or dramatic!

The Empire rises as the top star in coats of all lengths. The back-panel is the newest silhouette returning back fullness and the slim lines have new supple refinements. Slight high-waisted shaping, partial belts and pleats accentuate the Empire line.

The cape collar, the Edwardian collar, the crushable scarf, the over-sized lapel all give a look and feeling of softness.

Newest attraction is the hood-collar, back in fashion on casuals to formals.

The casual character is as much a factor of the season as the dressy—with many new suburban styles. The classic "boy" coat, the popular car coat, casual clutch coats are all available in a wide choice of moderate priced furs. Revived with these new fashions are pony, Canadian hair seal, calf and longhaired raccoon. The formal character of the year is vividly portrayed by theatre coats and opera coats.

Jackets play an important new part in cropped lengths with dressmaker details that include lots of bows and tailored touches.

Stoles continue their prestige in new shapes and new furs such as: broadtail lamb, fur seal, persian lamb, and even in river otter.

The element of color will win new applause this season with new mutations such as Diadem mink . . . golden-toned chinchilla blends and new colors in flat and fluffy furs.

Women of all ages, from the collegiate to the suburbanite, will have a much wider choice of furs, styles and colors this year than ever before . . . and at prices the average woman can afford!

Surface mold on salami may be cut away and the meat used. But if the mold has grown right into the salami, it should not be eaten.

There's New Design In Plastic Bandages

Glittering gold combat stars on bright red, and silver jets surging through blue skies—these are brand new designs in the latest "battle ribbon" plastic bandages, released for children by a nationally-known surgical dressings firm.

Children themselves chose the colors and the designs of jets and combat stars by a wide preference over other designs in thorough consumer tests and motivational research polls of small-age groups.

Imprinted on plastic film, the new bandages are medicated, washable, waterproof and sterilized in an easy-to-open wrapper. They were shown at the American Medical Association convention in Chicago this summer. Pediatricians were quick to realize the "battle ribbon" bandage was of real value in their offices, turning fear into fun when treating small-fry patients. The child gets the "shot" while choosing his color. The appealing designs of the new bandages now provides the physician with an added psychological distraction.

Fashion Dictates Buttons

are used as a form of closure. They are simple in shape and design and usually are very serviceable. Many functional buttons are subjected to tests in order to determine their serviceability and durability.

DECORATIVE BUTTONS
are made for fashion appeal. Some do carry approvals, such as replacement or refunds of money, by commercial testing laboratories.

Consider these buying tips . . .
Is the dyestuff or surface applied colors colorfast to drycleaning, wetcleaning, laundering & light?
Will the button itself or the finish applied to the surface dissolve in drycleaning solvent?
Will the button crack, peel, or craze in wear?
Will the button warp out of shape, blister or melt with heat?
Will the paper filler stain the fabric of which the button is made?
With wear, will the button become whiter, darker, cloudy or even rust?

Will the irregular shape or surface cause abrasion to the fabric or the garment?
And what about the shank? Some break very easily.

Late Summer Wedding Bells Ring for Many Local Young Couples

Mr. and Mrs. Franz M. Euringer, Jr.

Former Exchange Student, German Bride Repeat Vows

A wedding ceremony scheduled for Saturday, September 15, but postponed due to travel difficulties encountered by the bride, took place Tuesday morning, September 18, at 9:30 in Our Lady of Good Counsel church.

Married by the Reverend Father Francis C. Byrne were Barbara Marie Hallmann, of Frankfurt, Germany and Franz M. Euringer, Jr. of Regensburg, former German exchange student sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary club. Miss Hallmann, scheduled to arrive September 10 for the September 15 wedding originally planned, was delayed when the ship she had boarded, the "Castle Felice," developed engine trouble near the Azores.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Johanna Hallmann of Frankfurt and the late Mr. Hallmann, doctor of economics at Frankfurt. Mr. and Mrs. Euringer, Sr. reside at 115 Karlstrasse, Karlsruhe, Germany. The Edwin A. Shraders were foster parents of the bridegroom during his stay here in 1951.

Miss Hallmann was given in marriage by the bridegroom's foster father. Witnesses for the church ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Van Lerberghe of Detroit. The couple exchanged gold wedding bands with filigree centers, hand made in Germany.

A hand-made suit of navy blue silk and wool with iridescent satin lining was worn by the bride over a blouse of white cut-work material hand made in Switzerland. Concealing her features was a white veil secured by a beaded hat of white with velvet trim. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mrs. Van Lerberghe wore a beige knitted suit and hat with corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's foster mother selected a light charcoal dress with matching bolero jacket, red satin hat and corsage of red rosebuds.

Ford Anthony and Robert Brown were ushers for the ceremony while Edwin Schrader, Jr. made the ring presentation. At the request of the bridegroom, "Ave Maria" was played at the organ by Mrs. Felix Cyk as the couple's special piece. Mrs. Paul J. Wiedman presented and arranged the floral decorations of white gladioli for the wedding ceremony.

The reception, held from 7 to 9 that evening in the Miles Standish room of the Mayflower hotel, was hosted by the Edwin Schraders and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lorenz. The bridegroom is a former employee of the local hotel.

Afterwards the couple left by air for Chicago. They will reside at the Town House, 1229 South Michigan avenue in Chicago. The bridegroom, formerly associated with the Frankfurt (Germany) Hof and the Hotel Statler in Detroit, is now with the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago. The bride is a former employee of the Frankfurt bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert H. Hays, Jr.

Pearl Kemnitz, Iowa Student United in Methodist Rites

Vases of white gladioli, mums and delphinium with lighted candles formed the altar setting in the First Methodist church for the marriage of Pearl Kemnitz of Plymouth and Elbert H. Hays, Jr. of Gruver, Iowa, at 7:30 Saturday evening, September 8.

The bride selected a white taffeta gown with wrist-point sleeves and sabrina neckline embroidered with seed pearls, milk white sequins and alencon lace which were repeated in decor of the hipline, for the wedding ceremony. The floor-length skirt of the gown swept gracefully into a chapel-length train. A fingertip veil was secured by a crown of pearls encircling her head.

The bride wore white pearl earrings, gift of the bridegroom, and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of white fuji and button mums interspersed with white streamers and ivy. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kemnitz of 1233 Haggerty, she was given in marriage by her father at the rites performed by the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson.

The bridal attendants were dressed identically in street-length, forest green crystal dress gowns of princess styling with matching satin shoes and headbands. Joanne P. Smith was matron of honor while bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Ann Nelson and Grace E. Jacobs, cousin of the bride. Their bouquets were of bronze, yellow and deep rust mums, the bridesmaids with rust streamers and the matron of honor's with yellow streamers.

The bridegroom's niece and nephew, Beth Ann and Gary Blagg, were flower girl and ring-bearer for the ceremony. Beth Ann wore a yellow taffeta frock with matching headband and carried a basket of flower petals. Gary was dressed in a navy suit. Best man was Arvid Valen of Cedar Rapids, Iowa with Robert Kemnitz, brother of the bride, and Loren Happel of Cedar Rapids as ushers. Shirley Plant, soloist for the rites, sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

A cocoa brown two-piece dress with light blue feathers and dark brown accessories was worn by the bride's mother. A corsage of white roses and blue delphinium was the floral accent. Mrs. Hays selected a cocoa brown dress with feathered hat, white accessories and cymbidium orchid corsage for the wedding ceremony.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church parlors, attending from out-of-town were residents of Detroit, Dearborn, Allen Park, Highland Park and Iowa.

For an auto trip through Ontario and Quebec, Canada, the bride changed to a gray winter cotton dress, trimmed in white, with black accessories and pink chrysanthemum corsage.

Margaret Fisher Married Recently to Former Resident

Margaret Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Fisher of Plymouth, became the bride of Daniel D. Dettling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Dettling, former residents of Plymouth now living in Clinton, at a double-ring ceremony performed in Our Lady of Good Counsel church Saturday morning, September 8.

The nuptial high mass was read at 9:30 by the Reverend Father Francis C. Byrne. The altar was decorated with white gladioli and mums. Similar bouquets flanked the sanctuary. Mrs. Felix Cyk was organist. The mass was sung by Mary Ann Robertson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bouffant gown of white nylon tulle over satin. The bodice of chantilly lace was styled with high neckline and long, fitted sleeves. The floor-length skirt was edged in chantilly lace and swept gracefully into a chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a cap of lace and tulle. The bride carried a white missal topped with a large white orchid surrounded with cascades of white staphanotis and ribbons.

Matron of honor, Jeanne McGonagle, sister of the bridegroom, wore an ice blue satin full-length gown. She carried a cascade bouquet of rust mums and yellow carnations.

Attending as bridesmaids were Jean Johnson, friend of the bride, and Doris Widmar, the bride's sister. They wore matching dresses of coral crystal and carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations. All the attendants wore matching headpieces of yellow roses.

For his best man the bridegroom chose his brother, Patrick Dettling, Neils Johnson of Plymouth and Victor Dettling of Manchester were ushers.

Mrs. Fisher chose a deep green dress with tan accessories and yellow rose corsage for her daughter's wedding.

The bridegroom's mother wore a deep purple dress with rose colored accessories and an orchid corsage.

The wedding breakfast was held at Black's White House in Northville immediately following the ceremony. The evening reception was held at the Knights of Columbus hall. Many out-of-town guests as well as local residents attended.

For traveling, the bride wore a charcoal gray suit with red accessories and white orchid corsage.

Following their honeymoon trip through Pennsylvania, the couple will make their home in Northville while the bridegroom continues his studies in engineering at the University of Michigan.

In addition to the parents, the rites were attended by the bridegroom's brother, Dale, who served as best man, his sister, Marilyn, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Freiheit, all of Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin and chantilly lace with finger-tip veil. She carried yellow rosebuds and white satin streamers centered on a white Bible.

Maid of honor, Valetta Pawlowski of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, friend of the bride, wore a yellow waltz-length gown and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Guests were seated by Ivan Gaetze and Douglas Smith. David Linke, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer and Barbara Linke, a niece, as flower girl. Vocalist Leonard Swanson sang two selections, "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Mrs. Walter Basham at the church organ.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Joan Luker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Luker, former resident of Plymouth now living at 151 Martin drive, south Plainfield, New Jersey, to Francis D. Courter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Courter of 581 Somerset street, South Plainfield.

The ceremony took place Sunday, September 9, in the Church of the Holy Cross with the Reverend Robert Beattie officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a ballerina-length gown of chantilly lace over satin. Her fingertip veil was held by a tiara of sequins. For the bridal bouquet she carried a white Bible adorned with white orchids.

The matron of honor, Mrs. William Courter, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was dressed in an aqua chiffon gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Luker selected a frock of smoky blue lace, with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue lace dress with dark accessories. Tiny pink rosebud corsages accented their ensembles.

The bride attended Bentley high school in Livonia.

BUILDING and REMODELING — NEWS — FOR EVERY HOME

BATHROOM BUILT-INS
Next to building another bathroom, installing new built-in storage features is the best way to increase a home's bathroom facilities. All cabinets should be recessed into the tiled walls. Shelves for towels and soaps should preferably be recessed. If a vanity countertop surrounds the lavatories, fine storage space is afforded underneath the counter. Recessed storage shelves and areas such as clothes hampers could all be surfaced with durable ceramic tile to give these areas the same sanitary protection as the tiled walls and floor have.

Plan Fits Narrow Lot

Designed to be built on a lot as narrow as 35 feet, this house is a "refreshing departure" from the monotonous appearance of dwellings often found on city lots, says American Builder magazine. American Builder, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3, has selected the house as its Plan AB182.

Glass, stone, brick, and wood are used as exterior materials, creating a distinctive facade. Colorful asphalt shingles, specified by the architect, make a handsome, weathertight roof. The roof color is especially important because of the prominence of the broad roof area.

Placement of the den is an unusual interior feature. Separated from the living room by a folding door, the den could serve equally well as a third bedroom, a study, or simply as an extension of the general living area.

The house has a full basement. Situated between the kitchen and the dining room, the basement stair is shielded by a low wall and wood uprights on one side and a flower box on the other, instead of ceiling-high partitions. This gives an open arrangement, with the effect of joining the kitchen and the dining room as one large area.

The house contains 1,160 square feet of floor area, a figure useful in estimating construction cost.

Detailed building plans are available from American Builder Home Plan Service, 79 West Monroe St., Chicago 3. Refer to Plan No. AB182.)

Protect Pipes Against Winter Weather Now

Small precautions will prevent costly plumbing bills later on! Before cold weather comes, have your plumbing specialist check your plumbing. He'll make sure it's in top-working order and will insulate pipes against the cold.

If you're going away during the cold weather, take these precautions. First, have the water supply cut off at the street and the water valve inside the house turned off.

Next, he will empty the water from toilet bowls, flush tanks and drain the hot water heater. He will also remove all water from the traps of sinks, lavatories and bathtubs and fill them with a non-freezing agent.

If a pipe freeze should occur when you're at home, or away, examine the pipe to see if it has cracked from the pressure. If not, soak towels in hot water and apply them to the frozen pipe. Repeat until the ice block is dissolved. You may also melt the ice by pouring boiling water down the clogged drain.

Room Dividers Help Stretch Space in Home

Space is usually at a premium in many of today's homes and there is a desire for lots of light, open planning and a feeling of space.

But most homeowners still want a small division, or effect of a division between certain areas such as entries, living and dining areas.

Room dividers are the answer to this problem. They must serve the multi-purpose of a dividing effect, yet not cut out light, blend with the decor and serve a useful purpose.

Happily, there are many ways to solve this problem. Waist-high partial partitions which contain cupboards for china, glassware and plants serve the purpose admirably.

In living and dining room areas, panels of glass block may be used to brighten dark entrances or partition off a room.

Strips of bamboo, wire, vertical blinds and poles from floor to ceiling, combined with planters are effective dividers and still provide light.

Storm Doors and Windows are Vital To Winter Comfort

In many sections of the country Operation Home Improvement includes getting the house ready for a cold winter. The hanging of storm windows and doors is an important protective measure and will help greatly in keeping the house warmer.

It has been estimated that storm windows and doors can cut heat loss up to 30%, which means tremendous savings on fuel bills for the home owner.

Storm windows are hung with special hinges which enable one to put them up or take them down easily. Many home owners are installing combination storm and screen windows and doors for year-round use.

These are available in a wide assortment of wood or aluminum frames and are all designed for easy conversion from screens to storm type.

The home owner whose home is already equipped with storm windows and doors should check them carefully before hanging them for the winter. If the putty around the glass is loose and cracking, it should be removed with a putty knife and replaced with fresh putty.

The sashes would be well painted, both inside and out, to prevent damage by condensation on the inside and snow and rain on the outside.

All Homes Need Storage Space

What's your inventory on storage space in your home? Or does every closet and cupboard look like Fibber McGee's famous one!

Storage space is one of the most important features for any house, whether you are judging a new plan or remodeling an old house.

An indication of what is considered a minimum storage allowance for an average family is contained in FHA regulations for houses built without basements.

In addition to all coat closets and bedroom closets required in a house, there must be 150 cubic feet of extra storage space, plus 50 cubic feet more for each bedroom.

This places the minimum for a three-bedroom house without basement, at 300 cubic feet of storage space in excess of regular closets.

Items made of stainless steel or highly polished metal sheets as well as tools and dies are frequently given a special temporary coating by spraying, dipping or rolling before shipping. Purpose of such a coating is to protect the item against scratching, rust or abrasion. Although strong, this coating can be stripped off easily.

Gas heat is going into seven out of ten new homes wherever the fuel is available. As a result, builders are increasingly interested in special vents specifically engineered for use with gas burning appliances and equipment. Known as Type B gas vents, the devices eliminate the need for a masonry chimney, reduce construction costs and increase operating efficiency.

One of the longest railroad trestles in the world is a heavy timber structure spanning 13 miles of Utah's Great Salt Lake. The trestle, called one of the engineering wonders of the world when it was completed in 1904, is still in excellent condition. Engineers say it has another 25 years of useful life.

Help for the Maladroit Handyman

Here, at last, is help for the frustrated home handyman—the fellow who wants to join the do-it-yourself league but strikes out every time he starts a project.

Most do-it-yourself failures and false starts, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, are due to one or a combination of these three factors:

(1) The would-be-do-it-yourselfer lacks adequate instructions or his instructions are too complicated. (2) He can't readily obtain all the materials called for by his project. (3) The tools and equipment required for the project are too costly.

To meet the needs of the not-too-expert home handyman who owns only a basic set of hand tools, the association has prepared a special booklet of easy-to-follow instructions for building "71 Home Projects in Wood."

"Main purpose of the booklet," it is explained, "is to return do-it-yourselfism to the do-it-yourselfers."

"Some of the projects being recommended for do-it-yourself enthusiasts these days are so complicated they require the skill of a professional craftsman. What's really needed—those in closest touch with this new market tell us—is something that will help the novice handyman to start with simple projects, then encourage him to graduate to the more comprehensive jobs as he acquires confidence, experience and know-how."

Although "71 Home Projects in Wood" was prepared especially with the novice handyman in mind, it includes projects for all three classes of the do-it-yourself population—the real beginners, the intermediate do-it-yourselfers and the more advanced home handyman.

Another feature of the publication is that every project uses standard lumber grades and sizes available at any lumberyard.

The booklet contains simplified drawings and a complete list of the materials needed for build-

ARCHITECT'S HELP

Although you may not be able to afford the complete services of an architect when building a new home or remodeling an older one, you still should seek his aid on certain of the more essential problems connected with building. He'll be able to spot faulty construction, inferior workmanship and materials. He'll help you select quality materials like ceramic tile, seasoned lumber and high-grade plumbing.

Actually, fire records prove that heavy timbers retain their load-carrying capacities long after unprotected steel members have collapsed.

The trout you catch this year may have been reared in wooden tanks. California's largest state-run hatchery keeps hundreds of thousands of baby trout in circular wooden tanks until the fish reach "catchable" or "planting" size.

C. H. BENNETT

Few mortals are privileged to enjoy a full lifetime which comes within seven years of spanning a century. Of those that do, it is seldom one can pass to his great reward leaving behind a record of high achievement, and one which was dominated by a constant series of deeds for the benefit of others.

No assignment has ever been given the writer in which he could more sincerely provide the following thoughts about one so dearly beloved as was Mr. Bennett by all of the residents of this area, no matter what their station.

In the past quarter of a century when it was our privilege to know, laugh at and laugh with this most unselfish benefactor, we have seen his charities span practically every local religious organization, fraternal order, service club and most certainly every worth-while civic undertaking.

The success of the Daisy Manufacturing Company came about by the close harmony in which he worked these many years with his good friend, cousin, and partner, Edward C. Hough.

His salesmanship, combined with the talents of his associate, brought Plymouth its first major industry and for many years provided the major support of this thriving community.

Interest in The Daisy, the city, his church, his many friends and the many civic organizations to which he belonged continued almost to the hour of his death. His keen and active mind, during the days of his long confinement at home, were constantly at work with ideas for community improvement and social betterment.

No final tribute could ever be written about "C.H." unless some mention be made of his extraordinary sense of humor which brought cheer and warmth to all who came within reach of his person.

Most certainly, his family, his associates, and Plymouth, have lost a friend and a champion, but his deeds shall long stand as a memory of the fruitful life he led...

(Editor's Note: The foregoing remembrance of Plymouth's beloved senior citizen was written at The Mail's request by Sterling Eaton, for which we are most appreciative.)

The Big Quiz

EDITORIAL

An Appeal For 'Colonialism'

Few things seem more painful to the citizens of a growing community than the rezoning of residential areas to make way for new commerce.

There are communities, however, that will testify there's something else that can hurt worse. That is no growth at all—stagnation and retreat.

On that basis, the Mail fully supports the planning commission in its action (reported in last week's newspaper) changing the zoning on the west side of S. Harvey Street to permit Michigan Bell Telephone Company to raise a two-story office building there, about halfway between Ann Arbor Trail and Maple.

We make only one appeal—and that's to Michigan Bell. This city is striving to establish a colonial form of exterior architecture on its buildings to establish a community "personality."

Plymouth would be most appreciative if this new, major building could be a noteworthy example of the use of the colonial theme on the outside.

of private residences. A frame dwelling stands on the parcel where the building will rise. Private homes on Maple and Ann Arbor Trail will have back yards bordering on the phone company's parking lot.

Some of the neighbors complained to the planning commission about the entry of commercial projects there, but the protests were calm, and at the end of the meeting it appeared that the objectors had been persuaded as to the inevitability of the move.

The planning commission did the forward-looking thing. There is logic to the board members' argument that if Plymouth is to prosper, it must extend its business "core" outward to make room for businesses that wish to locate, with sufficient parking facilities, in the "downtown" area.

The site of the new building is on the boundary of commercial land now. In a sense, this move is a break in the dike at a logical place, and other projects in the same general area can be expected in the future.

THINKING OUT LOUD

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"Now that the student automobile driving regulations at Plymouth high have been in effect for a year, what are your opinions of them?"

BILL TALLMAN, 6095 Huff (12th grade): "I myself have a license to drive. I think that the regulations are a good idea. Some cases should not have been refused driving permits, but on the whole I think it's a good deal."

JOHN GREGORY, 391 Sunset (12th grade): "I don't drive, myself, but I think the regulations are a good thing because the kids used to ride around at noon hour. You couldn't get around downtown. I think they ought to let kids who live in town and have to be to work at a certain time—I think they should let them drive to school."

MARVA McINTOSH, 212 South Main (12th grade): "I think it's alright during noon hour not to let them drive, but I think they should be able to drive right after school—at 3:30 and not have to wait until 4 p.m."

DOLORES KELLUMS, 44637 Cherry Hill (9th grade): "I think they were right about doing it because there was so much hot-rodding at noon time. But it doesn't affect me."

If Your Name Is ANNE...

Anne means "grace," and it's a name from the Old Testament; there it occurs as "Hannah." In the Western World the name spread as Anna or Anne, and branched out in many pet forms, among them Annie and Nancy.

Tradition holds that Anna was the name of the mother of Mary. She and her husband Joachim grieved bitterly because they had no children. But then an angel appeared and said, "Anna, the Lord has looked upon thy tears... thy shalt conceive and give birth, and the fruit of thy womb shall be blessed by all the world."

The vital issue to present her husband with a son was decisive in the fate of another Anne: a woman by no means endowed with the virtues of a biblical character. She was Anne Boleyn. This alluring girl with adamant ambition succeeded to become the wife of Henry VIII of England. The king, passionately in love with the lively black-haired beauty, divorced his wife, Catharine of Aragon, for Anne's sake. But when Anne presented him with a girl baby instead of giving him the male heir he coveted, Henry felt this as a mark of failure. Of course, he couldn't force that this unwanted baby girl was to become one on England's most brilliant rulers.

Once more Anne gave birth; due to the shock she suffered when told too suddenly that her royal spouse had fallen from his horse, the baby, a boy, was born prematurely, and dead.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Mrs. Rhodes Ingerton, Center, Texas: Time and tide wait for no man, and with time comes changes, but nothing but death can blot out memories—for instance, memories of childhood when our farm was near the Cumberland River in Kentucky. We loved every foot of land, every tree and bird, the cliffs and rocks. It was a daring thing to climb to the big rock that hung high up over the river and sit with our feet dangling into space.

How about the home that has always been so dear to you and that you used to try to visit each year, trying to find pleasures such as you had in the days of your youth: the little schoolhouse; the big spring from which pails of water were carried to drink; the old grapevine that you are sure is the same one you swung on when a child; the pawpaws, the enormous hickorynuts and so many other things.

We have our memories, we who left our childhood homes many years ago to move to distant places but how cruel it seems to those who have lived generation after generation on the same farms—people who love the earth and wide river—to see these familiar landmarks gone forever, gone to make room for progress, in the form of a dam which the government has built on the Cumberland river.

TOMMY JENSEN'S teacher was coming often enough to the home of his parents in Jacksonville, Florida, to give those elders concern. Tommy played truant. Tommy got several thrashings because of his truancy. But Tommy still played truant. He wasn't bad in school—whenever he was there. He got his lessons; it seemed little trouble for him to learn or to recite them. His homework was taken care of promptly, and in time for Tommy to have happy periods of play before bedtime. WHY didn't Tommy want to go to school? He didn't seem to know the answer himself.

Mr. Jensen himself had always been interested in history, a subject in which Tommy had shown more interest than in most of his school subjects. Mr. Jensen went into a huddle with the teacher. Might Tommy, when he finished his school work ahead of time, apply himself to gathering some facts for his father? The baffled teacher was ready to try practically anything. So Tommy went to school every day armed with an additional book—a history book. And Tommy came home every afternoon with quite a list of interesting facts on what had happened in the world.

Tommy no longer played truant. All because Tommy's father had discovered why Tommy's great fault persisted. A little understanding had done what many thrashings had shown no signs of ever achieving.

John C. Daly, advising politicians on TV appearances: "Be natural. Remember the TV camera is as intimate as your drawing room."

Joseph McCaffrey, news analyst: "The time has come for the United States to sell democracy directly, even if it will be a risk."

When You Retire

THE AMISH — THAT STRANGE religious sect found in various sections of North America — practice a bleak austerity in their clothing and a conspicuous disdain for modern conveniences such as automobiles. But there is nothing bleak about their retirement customs. In fact, some sociologists have suggested that they're way ahead of the rest of us when it comes to finding retirement contentment.

When an Amish farmer and his wife reach 70 or thereabout it's customary for them to move to a separate section of their home, or to a small house nearby, known as "Grossdawdy's House." Then one of their sons and his family move into the main house and take over the farming responsibilities. The retired parents thus remain in familiar surroundings and have their privacy, yet they are close to members of their family. More important, there are still plenty of light chores around the farm to keep them happily occupied, such as tending the animals, keeping the ground and buildings in order, and assisting in the care of their grandchildren.

PERHAPS THE MOST APPEALING aspect of Amish retirement is the close relationship that is maintained with the family group. Large families are the rule and children, who are taught from the cradle to "honor thy father and thy mother," generally marry and settle down within a few miles of their parents. The close and affectionate ties which the elders thus main-
