Fund Drive Exceeds Goal

Plymouth's Community Fund has exceeded its goal! News of the achievement was announced Wednesday morning by Fund Board President Marvin Criger when last-minute figuring showed $31,060.55 now received and pledged.

But the campaign co-chairmen, Mrs. L. B. Rice and Sheldon Baker, said today that those who have failed to submit their contributions should still do so. A final accounting of the campaign will be made next week.

The Plymouth Community Fund had set its sights on $30,000 this year, the highest in its history. A week ago today, when the campaign was scheduled to end, only $20,000 was on hand.

The biggest boost received during the past week was from the Whitman & Barnes employees and plant. Employees, who contributed $1,255, included members of the UAW-CIO, Local 157, who gave both in cash and through a payroll deduction plan. The corporate gift was $1,000, making a total of $2,255 from the plant.

Several other large firms and their employees are among the last-minute gifts which boosted the fund over the goal. Some of these large contributions are still being awaited by the Community Fund treasurer so have not been listed among this week's contributors.

The Plymouth Community Fund opened October 16.

Contributions of $10 or more received since last week are:

$1,718, Detroit Transmission Division, hourly employees.

$1,255.45 Whitman & Barnes employees.

Board Discusses Football Seating, Orchestra 'Shell'

An orchestra "shell" for the gymnasium and possible permanent seating for the football field were two improvements discussed by the board of education at their meeting Monday night.

Anyone who has attended football games this season has noted the need for more seating. Superintendent Russell Isbister reports that the "temporary" bleachers now in use hold but 1,350. At the Livonia Bentley game, for instance, there were 3,200 people. The Northville game attracted 3,000.

Business Manager Melvin Blunk was instructed to obtain cost estimates for permanent seats.

The orchestra shell for improving acoustics was given the approval of the board, but will not cost the board any money. While some school musical groups will be using the shell, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra is underwriting the project.

Newspaper Day Early Next Week

Because Thanksgiving Day falls on the regular publication date of this newspaper this week, we'll publish one day early. The paper will arrive in the mail and on the street on Wednesday. This will provide interesting reading and advertisement shopping over the holiday.

Deadlines for advertising will be moved 24 hours earlier, next week, with noon Monday the cutoff time for placing of classified ads.

FIRST 1957 LICENSE plate issued to the public at the Plymouth license bureau went to Walter K. Sittman, 11715 Jarvis, Livonia. Plates went on sale at 9 a.m. Wednesday. A front-end plate is being issued for the first time since 1944. Motorists from Livonia and other surrounding area buy their tags in Plymouth.

Petitioners Ask New Bird School Boundary

The board of education's many-sided problem of setting new boundary lines between elementary schools was given another dimension Monday night when a petition signed by 91 Bird school parents proposed their own set of boundary lines and suggested a policy for determining them.

A meeting is scheduled for next Monday night at which one set of proposals for new boundaries is to be publicly discussed. It is expected that the new proposal will also be aired. To be held at the high school at 8 p.m., the meeting will be for discussion only and the board will make no decisions.

Spokesman for the petitioners Monday was W. C. Baker, 50161 North Territorial road. The petition suggested boundary lines which "radiate" from the schools out into the rural areas.

The board of education had proposed boundaries which would make Smith and Bird practically "walking schools" while most rural youngsters from the western part of the township would be taken by bus to the new James Gallimore school.

Firemen Planning Dystrophy Drive

Plymouth area citizens will again be given a chance to help in the fight against muscular dystrophy when a door-to-door drive is conducted in Plymouth township and city.

While plans for the city campaign are not yet completed, Plymouth township firemen have finished their arrangements. The house-to-house appeal will be held on Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, November 21.

Captain Laurence Maas of the township department is chairman of their drive. Starting at about 5 p.m., firemen will conduct their campaign in the more heavily populated areas of the township. There will be no prolichting necessary this year. Instead, firemen will stop at every home.

Maas urges that those living in less populated areas to send their donations to the fire hall. Firemen from all over the nation are participating in this annual drive on Thanksgiving Eve. More details on the local campaign will be announced next week.

Adventists Dedicate First Unit of Church Saturday

Completion of their new church on East Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth township and the opening service this Saturday marks the fulfillment of a goal set in the summer of 1934 by Plymouth Seventh-day Adventists.

The first unit of their new church home will be dedicated at 11 a.m. Saturday with the guest speaker being Elder G. E. Hutchess, president of the Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists with headquarters in Lansing.

Location of the church is at 41233 East Ann Arbor Trail, a quarter mile east of the Plymouth city limits. When the second unit of the building is completed in the future, the facility will have cost over $30,000.

Size of the present unit is 26 by 55 feet. It contains a temporary sanctuary that will seat 65 people, two children's Sabbath school rooms measuring 10 by 15 feet, restrooms and furnace room. The combined units, when completed, will form a T-shaped building. The future sanctuary will seat about 250 people.

Seventh-Day Adventists opened their first Sabbath school in Plymouth with two members in 1934 at 630 South Main street. Because of their growth, larger accommodations have been needed during the intervening 22 years.

The world membership of the Adventists is 1,000,000. Of this number over 300,000 are in North America. Completion of the Plymouth church this week marks two such structures which have been built by the laymembers under the leadership and assistance of Pastor Merton Henry. A sister church in Belleville was dedicated October 6. Pastor Henry has served the Plymouth church for three years.

The congregation has been meeting in recent months at the IOOF hall on Elizabeth street. The public is being welcomed to the 9:30 a.m. Sabbath school and 11 a.m. worship service on Saturday.

Continental Can Co. Takes Over Harvey Container Plant

Continental Can Company, Inc., the nation's second largest container firm, has taken over the assets and facilities of the Robert Gair Company, including the Harvey Container division of Plymouth.

Harvey Container has been a division of the Gair company for almost two years. The merger will result in the complete elimination of the Harvey Container name. Instead, the local plant located at Junction and Harvey streets will be called the Robert Gair Division of Continental Can Company, Inc.

Division Manager Edwin E. Braun said today that the merger will bring no immediate changes here. He added that the firm, previous to the merger, had been considering additional expansion and will undoubtedly continue these plans.

Four Robert Gair division directors have become directors of the Continental Can Company. This includes George E. Dyke, president of Gair and chairman of its board. General Lucius D. Clay is chairman of the board of Continental. Gair's nearly 15,000 stockholders will exchange their shares for Continental stock.

Dyke has explained to employees that the merger is creating an enterprise equipped to offer a widely diversified range of packaging. Addition of Gair's products to Continental will offer customers just about any packaging service or product they need.

Dyke added that the new organization "makes possible greater opportunities and for advancement and for job security than the Gair Company by itself could have provided."

Also Rejects Petition For Plymouth Heights

Another petition filed by the city to annex the Burroughs corporation and other property failed Wednesday afternoon in a hearing before the Ways and Means Committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

This was the city's second petition covering the Burroughs territory that has been declared invalid by the committee this year.

Also rejected was the petition filed by Plymouth township residents to incorporate part of their township as the city of Plymouth Heights.

Yesterday's unanimous rejection of the city petition to obtain the signature on the annexation petition of a woman who is dead.

The strange and technical turn of affairs centers about the property that is included in the annexation petition that (is or was) owned by the late Mrs. William Henry, mother of Commissioner Ernest Henry.

Assistant Prosecutor Hobart Taylor told the Ways and Means Committee that the death certificate of Mrs. Henry had never been recorded with the recorder of titles and deeds. She therefore still owns the property and should have been a signer of the petition which required signatures of 50 per cent or more of the affected property holders.

The Henry property is located north of Ann Arbor Trail at the city's eastern edge. The lack of Mrs. Henry's signature, the assistant prosecutor pointed out, does not give the petition the needed 50 per cent of title holder signatures.

Children of Mrs. Henry, now owners of the property, had signed the petition. Commissioner Henry said yesterday after hearing the committee's action that a death certificate had been filed.

City Attorney Harry Doy argued that the home rule statute does not require a "dead person to sign a title" and that a death certificate does not need to be filed. He urged the Ways and Means Committee to recommend that an election be held and that legal questions be resolved later.

The Ways and Means Committee, however, failed to heed the plea and their vote was unanimous to reject the petition. The committee formally denied the first petition last September due to errors in the legal description. The first petition was filed last May and later found invalid because the legal description of the property did not end where it started.

A second petition, the one turned down yesterday, was filed a few days later. The Plymouth Heights petition met the same fate as the city's first petition. It too was found to have inaccuracies in the legal description of land. The assistant prosecutor yesterday recommended that it be rejected and the committee followed the recommendation.

Plymouth township residents knew of the errors two months ago when the Ways and Means Committee held its first hearing.

Planners Begin Study of High School Crowding

A warning that the high school building, even with its addition of the present junior high building, will someday be overcrowded was given to the School Community Planning Group last week by High School Principal Carvel Bentley.

Although the present junior high will be converted for high school use when the new junior high is completed, the principal told the planning group that the present flood of elementary children is now reaching the high school level and that half-day classes could someday become a reality.

Bentley noted that the present building is at capacity now. The added facilities may handle enrollment increases four or five years, he added. Since it takes three to five years to plan major projects, Bentley indicated that now is the time to start planning.

Cooperation Group Asks Questions

Officials Explain Water, Sewer Problems

The Townships of Plymouth and Canton Sewer and Water Authority which this month is one-year old, hasn't got a sewer or water line in the ground, according to a report made Tuesday night to the Area Cooperation Group by Albert Schrader, chairman of the authority board.

Schrader was one of the half dozen public officials attending the Area Cooperation Group meeting to discuss the age-old problem of providing water and sewers. Other speakers included Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, Mayor Russell Daane, City Manager Albert Glassford, Commissioner Marvin Terry and Bernard Schroll of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

people can become aware of what underlies the problems. Since the city has most of its sewer and water problems now solved, most of the evening's discussion centered upon Plymouth and Canton townships. The sewer and water authority was formed a year ago to bring the two facilities to parts of the two townships. So far, their board chairman admitted, there are no sewers or water lines operated by the authority. They do, however, have a few wells.

Schrader related the short history of the authority, telling of its plans and of a four-million dollar approved by voters last year to get the authority on its feet financially. Answering the question of why the project still is not underway, Schrader said that it was partially due to the city's petition to annex the Burroughs corporation plant. Burroughs is one-third of Plymouth township's assessed valuation. Schrader said that the authority has not been turned down by bond buyers, but that they were told that if they ap-

Beyer, who was vice-president last year, heads over 500 Michigan druggists. He will be in charge of the two annual meetings held by the association each year.

200 Attend Canton Twp. Scout Event

Approximately 200 parents and youngsters gathered at a Canton Center road site last Saturday and Sunday for the annual recruiting drive of Boy Scout Troop P-299, featuring displays, demonstrations of Scouting equipment, song fest and a camp-out.

The entire troop participated in the drive, pitching a total of 11 tents, including a 20-man tent and kitchen tent. A 20-foot signal tower was built and erected by the Scouts as part of the demonstration. Meals were cooked over open fires, and the Scouts slept overnight at the campgrounds located at 6133 Canton Center road.

A large campfire was built both Saturday and Sunday nights when visitors were welcomed with coffee and doughnuts and a marshmallow roast. The troop's staff of committeemen were on hand to greet all visitors along with Scoutmaster Ralph L. Lefler and his two assistants, Clair Avery and Fred Aldrich. Everyone present enjoyed a songfest Saturday evening.

Previously loaned to the troop by George Bradley was a large mower, instrumental in achieving the campsite's trim appearance.

Boys from 11 to 17 years of age interested in joining the Scouting movement are urged to contact either Scoutmaster Lefler, Plymouth 740M12, or Assistant Scoutmaster Avery at Plymouth 3119-J. They are also invited to see the troop in action at its Monday night meetings from 7-9 p.m. at the Geddes Road Community building between Canton Center and Sheldon roads.

Role of Precinct Challengers Told

Last week's election story in The Plymouth Mail mentioned that challengers were at work in all polls most of the day. Since then there has been inquiries concerning the functions of challengers.

Republicans reported that they had challengers at all polls during the entire day. Democrats had challengers working periodically. No one, however, was challenged.

The duty of the challenger is principally to see that no one votes who is not qualified. The challenger may know that the citizen standing in line to vote is not a resident of the precinct, is not registered or has voted elsewhere that day.

The challenger then has the right to question the right of that elector to cast his ballot. The challenged voter must take an oath declaring that he meets all legal qualifications to vote. He is then given a ballot which he marks. This ballot is set aside during the day and the challenger is given until poll closing time at 8 p.m. to prove that the voter is not qualified.

If proof is not shown, the ballot is counted with others.

Challengers also perform another task. Local voters may have noticed people at the end of the table writing down names as voters prepared to vote. These were challengers who were obtaining voter lists. Besides being available for future elections, the parties also use the lists to see who has not voted yet on that particular election day and then later give the voter a telephone call.

The political parties can bring in challengers without having them registered. Other groups can also have challengers but they must register in advance of the election. A person can also serve as a challenger in his own precinct.

Northville Church, Setting For Pickeral-Adcox Wedding

On Saturday afternoon, October 27, at the First Presbyterian church, Northville, Shirley Ann Adcox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Adcox of Seven Mile road, became the bride of Charles Pickeral, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pickeral of Virginia.

The Reverend John O. Taxis performed the double-ring, candlelight ceremony before a setting of white mums and gladioli decorating the church altar. Sara Bryant sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Walk Hand in Hand with Me" accompanied by Mrs. Barton Conners at the organ.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white satin and chantilly lace, styled with lace yoke and sleeves and full skirt of net over satin. A seedpearl tiara held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white fugi mums and orchids.

Maid of honor, Jackie Ling, a friend of the bride, wore a ballerina-length dress of dark blue velvet and carried a bouquet of light blue carnations.

Bridesmaids Brenda Adcox, sister of the bride, and Ruth Croll, a friend, were dressed in light blue taffeta gowns with dark blue trim matching the shade of Miss Ling's velvet dress. Their bouquets were pink button roses.

The bridegroom chose Richard Morris for his best man. Ted Vantall and Aubrey King, relatives of the bride, James Strange and Robert Mapes, friends of the bride and bridegroom, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Adcox chose a brown velvet dress with beige accessories and corsage of yellow roses. The reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the wedding ceremony.

The couple drove to Canada for their honeymoon. They are living at 113 Main street, Northville.

Historical Society Hears Paper On Nation's Covered Bridges

A carefully documented paper entitled "America's Covered Bridges" was presented to the Plymouth Historical Society by Mrs. Arthur Mills, 264 North Harvey, at the society's meeting last Thursday night.

The meeting also included the reading of an account on "Thanksgiving on the Farm 100 Years Ago" by Mrs. Clara Todd, 207 West Ann Arbor trail. The meeting was held in the Veterans Memorial Building with Lawrence Money presiding.

Mrs. Mills is Plymouth's authority on covered bridges and, in fact, is a hobby with her. She is an active member of the 700-member organization known as the Society for the Preservation of Covered Bridges. Headquarters are in Boston.

She noted that covered bridges were never constructed—as might be popularly supposed—to protect horses, livestock people or goods passing across (or through), but for the sole purpose of protecting and preserving the heavy supporting wooden trusses of the bridge itself.

Neither was it for the protection of the planking, since replacement of an occasional worn plank was a comparatively simple matter. In addition to the utilitarian purpose of the covered bridge, the speaker pointed out, the structures were greatly associated with folklore and romance of yesteryear. The younger folk, and often the older folk too, called them "kissing bridges". The young man was supposed to have the right to kiss his girl while escorting her, either on foot or with horse and buggy—through a covered bridge.

It was also said that if a wish were made in the act of crossing, it would more likely come true. The state of Michigan itself never had many covered bridges. Mrs. Mills declared. Throughout the nation there are more than 1,500 still in use. Looking at statistics, there are still 427 in Pennsylvania, 379 in Ohio, 286 in Oregon, 170 in Indiana and 130 in Vermont.

Mrs. Mills asserted that many of the bridges were not constructed with public funds, but with private funds. And to pass over them, a toll was originally charged. Refreshments were served during the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy as hosts and Mrs. Clara Todd and Mrs. Flora Rathburn assisting.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party scheduled for the same location at 7:45 p.m. on Thursday, December 13. Interested guests are welcome.

The Reverend Father Bradley performed the ceremony at which the bride was given in marriage by her uncle, David Murray of Cleveland, Ohio.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Murray Denny of Plymouth and Mackinac Island and James R. Denny of Kalamazoo. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Plunkett of Port Washington, Long Island.

The bride chose for her wedding the same gown of candlelight silk taffeta worn by her sister, Kathleen, at her recent marriage. The tucked bodice was edged with Alencon lace, touched with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The full skirt fell from a scalloped waistline into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was secured by a tiny lace cap edged in seed pearls. She carried staphanotis.

Joan Blais of Chicago, former roommate of the bride from Trinity college, was maid of honor. Annie, the bride's sister, Anna Mary Doud of Mackinac Island and Delores Musarra of Manhattan, New York, were bridesmaids. They were gowned alike in brown chiffon dresses which were gathered at the waist with brown satin cummerbunds. They carried small baskets of cream mums, bitter-sweet and wheat.

James Plunkett, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man. Ushers were James Denny, the bride's brother, James Hersh of Port Washington, Long Island, Lee Marks of Great Neck, Long Island and Robert Schultz of Ann Arbor. John Murray Denny, the bride's brother, and Patrick Murray, a cousin, served the nuptial mass.

Following a reception at Dearborn Inn the newlyweds left by plane for New York where they took a boat trip to Bermuda and Nassau. The bride's going-away outfit was a black dressmaker suit trimmed in white.

The couple will live in Manila, Philippine Islands where the bridegroom is stationed as an ensign with the U.S. Coast Guard. He is a June 1956 graduate of the University of Michigan. The bride, also a U of M graduate, attended Ottawa Hills high school in Toledo, Ohio preceding her college studies.

Bloomhuff Wins Football Contest

A more mature football expert in the person of Bob Bloomhuff, 30, a cook at Northville's Maybury Sanatorium, took top money in last week's Plymouth Mail football contest. Plymouth High School freshmen are still in the money, however, as they have been for the last five weeks. Gary Pride, 14-year-old ninth grader, placed second.

Bloomhuff, who lives with his wife Helen at 9922 Ball, is a pheasant hunting enthusiast as well as a football fan, and he combines hunting with his hobby of making his own shells. This year he got his limit of eight pheasants early in the season, hunting without a dog and using his handmade shells.

Gary Pride of 449 Pacific had never entered the contest before, though he says he had a terrific entry ready a week ago and forgot to get it in before the deadline. Gary's spare time is divided between his paper route and his stamp collection. His prize money, he says, will be saved for Christmas.

Third Place winner is John Wilson, a former Plymouth resident for six years who now lives at 14321 Robson, Detroit. This is the first time he has placed among the top three contestants, though he has been entering the contest for two years. John works at Whitman and Barnes and the Wilsons still get their copy of the Plymouth Mail regularly.

Both Bloomhuff and Pride missed the Navy-Duke and Lions-Redskins games, Bloomhuff picking the Lions 31-10 and Pride coming closer by listing the Lions at 24-10 favorites. Wilson figured wrong on three battles, picking U. of D. over Drake, Navy over Duke and slyly figuring the Tennessee-Georgia Tech game as a tie. Wilson is one of the few who had the pro game pegged, however, picking the Redskins 20-17.

You can still pocket first, second or third place prize money of $15, $7, or $3 by filling out the Plymouth Mail football contest entry blank in this paper and having it either postmarked or in the Mail office by 5 p.m. Friday. Don't forget your name and address.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Fraser and son, David, of Flint, and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Lickfelt and daughter, Brenda, of Wilcox road were dinner guests Sunday in the home of Mrs. William Farley on Adams street the occasion celebrating five birthdays among her guests.

CORRECTION

An unintentional error occurred in a full page advertisement for the Calvary Baptist Church of Plymouth in the Mail edition of October 25. The work done by C. L. Holmes Insulation was described as "roof insulation." The description should have read, "ceilings, walls, and basements — new homes and commercial insulation."

Gymnast Show Rates Audience Top Approval

An enthusiastic audience greeted the appearance of the University of Michigan gymnastics team in a show sponsored last Wednesday evening in the Northville Community building by Plymouth Corners society, Children of the American Revolution.

Proceeds from the event went to CAR mountain schools and American Indian projects.

Various tumbling, trampoline and gymnastics feats which earned team members the national collegiate championship were presented to delight of the audience. Ed Gafner, national champion gymnast who will represent Canada in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne, Australia was enthusiastically applauded for his clown and juggling act while riding a monocycle.

Also performing with the U-M team was James Hayslett, national junior AAU long-horse champion and Michigan AAU champion on parallel bars, free exercise and flying rings.

U-M Coach Newt Loken conducted the running commentary on the various gymnastic events while background music was furnished by the Northville high school band.

The team is scheduled to give a gymnastics exhibition in Plymouth this January under auspices of the local U-M alumni group.

Farmington Players Offer 'Lo and Behold'

Farmington Players are presenting the delightful comedy, "Lo and Behold" at the Farmington junior high auditorium this Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and again on Saturday, November 18, at 3:30 p.m.

The school is located one block north of Grand River, two blocks east of Farmington road. "Lo and Behold" was written by Nobel Prize Winner John Patrick, author of "Teahouse of the August Moon" and "The Hasty Heart." Tickets are available at the door.

As a nation, we can be thankful that Presidential elections only occur once every four years.

Mrs. Robert Widmaier is entertaining the Robinson Extension group today, Thursday, at a luncheon prior to their meeting. The group will be busy candle making.

Merchants Open Turkey Contest

The merchants have joined in the sponsorship of a contest that will provide a free Thanksgiving turkey for three households.

The three turkeys, weighing 15, 10 and 10 pounds respectively, will be given away at a drawing on Monday. There is nothing to buy. Rules merely call for the contestants to fill out an entry blank and send it to the sponsors. Winners will be notified by telephone.

Entries must be 18 years or older. There is a limit of one turkey to a family.

Sponsors are Kresge's, Bluford Jewelers, Vinc's Tire Service, West Bros. Appliances, Pease Paint & Wallpaper, Minerva's Furniture, Bill's Market, F. H. Shoes, Bob's Handy Hardware, Davis & Lent and Paul J. Wiedman, Inc.

Retired Librarian, Recipient Of Club's Achievement Honors

One of Plymouth's best-known citizens and participant in many of its civic drives and projects has been chosen by the Business and Professional Women's club for its "Woman of Achievement" honors for November.

She is Mrs. Ada Murray of 643 North Mill, principal in the establishment of the Plymouth branch, Wayne County library and for 24½ years its head. She is to be honored at the BPW meeting at 6:30 Monday evening in the Mayflower hotel.

Other club guests will be Mrs. Sundra Moayyad, public health educator for TB and Health Society of Detroit, and Judith Richwine, 1956 recipient of the club's annual $100 scholarship award.

A lifetime resident of Plymouth on whose childhood home site the Detroit House of Correction now stands, Mrs. Murray has linked her 73 years of residence here closely with the community's life and welfare. Her activities have ranged from membership on hospital, parks and library committees to service on election boards, the board of appeals and city Christmas benefit projects.

Her efforts in behalf of gaining a library for the community followed a procession of jobs from the incipient library committees and boards to establishment of the local Wayne County library branch in 1923, its rambling location from the Parrott insurance agency on Main street, to a building on Gravel (Fralick) avenue, the city hall, and Robert Jolliffe building across the street from its present location, occupied in 1945. Her appointment as head librarian came in 1929, a position she held until her retirement June 1, 1953 at the age of 70.

In her retirement years this Woman of Achievement keeps a busy schedule of club activities in addition to upkeep of an unusual button collection. She is a charter member of the Historical Society and Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, a past president of the Woman's club, Presbyterian Women's association, League of Women Voters (now defunct), and is the oldest past matron of the local Eastern Star. At present she holds the office of historian in the DAR.

Mrs. Murray is justly proud of her button collection which boasts a wide range of pieces from blown glass, enamels, scenes to zodiac, 1880 French lithographs and state seals. Although "modern buttons leave her cold" a few are interspersed with those more rare.

Her button hobby takes her to numerous shows, such as the national exhibit in Chicago a few weeks ago. Referring to the current $35, $50 and $75 price tags on button rarities at these shows, she muses, "Before I used to buy what I liked . . . now I shop with care."

MRS. ADA MURRAY, selected as November's Woman of Achievement" by the Business and Professional Women's club, is shown with a portion of the button-collection which occupies her leisure moments. The retired librarian will be honored Monday night at the club's 6:30 meeting in the Mayflower hotel.

American Legion News

Maxine Kunz attended the Girls State Board of Directors meeting, Sunday, November 4, at the Veterans Memorial building, Detroit. The dates this coming year are July 18-26, the attendance of girls increased from 330 to 360 and one more day added. Election of officers was also held with Mrs. Bugent Houck of Lansing elected president and Mrs. Kunz vice president. Maxine, who was also chairman of the rummage sale, turned in a fine report. The event was a success and thanks to all who worked on it.

At the last business meeting November 8, Melva Gardner, president, gave a very interesting report on the convention and the Fall conference held at Lansing and Benton Harbor, respectively. Remember our card party, November 24, at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial home. Get your friends lined up and let's have a good turn out.

Remember our Juniors are having their installation Friday, November 16, 7:30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial home. Come on girls, let's have a record attendance to inspire these Juniors. They are doing such good work.

Our toy party is scheduled for Monday, November 19, at the Veterans Home, 8 p.m. Very good selection of toys. Remember a prize will be given to the one bringing the most guests. This is also open to the public, so let's see that this gets around.

The post held their regular business meeting last week and a lot of things were taken care of. We have a number of things in the fire and we need all the members to help. Let's have your support.

The Veterans Day parade on Monday evening was a success. Besides our own units, there was the VFW Firing Squad, their post and auxiliary. It is hoped that next year this parade will grow to include other organizations.

"A Better Community for a Stronger America," is the slogan adopted by the American Legion Auxiliary for their community service activities during the coming year. Mrs. V. Simonetti, Community Service chairman of our Auxiliary unit, announced:

"Auxiliary Units throughout the country will cooperate with other civic, patriotic and health organizations in sponsoring community improvement projects of many kinds," said Mrs. Simonetti. "By helping improve the 14,000 communities where Auxiliary Units are located, we will be helping build a better America."

First All-Orchestral Concert Being Played by Symphony November 25

Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's second concert of the season will take place Sunday, November 25, and will feature only symphony music.

The all-orchestral concert, to be held at 4 p.m. in the high school gymnasium, will include the suite for orchestra, "Louisiana Story" by Virgil Thompson, well-known American composer and former music critic for the New York Herald Tribune.

Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony since 1951, will conduct the concert. The symphony is now in its 11th season.

It has grown from a small nucleus of 12 players to its present membership of 95 players. This year these players come from 20 different communities and one foreign country.

New members include five violinists, four cellists, two basses, a harp and a percussion player. This is the first time the orchestra has reached a membership of over 90 players and the first time it has had a harpist.

Mrs. Joseph Martin, harpist from Ann Arbor, will appear with the orchestra on all of the concerts this season.

Another new member is Miss Heidi Tritthart, an exchange student from Austria and an excellent cellist. A native of Graz, Austria, Miss Tritthart found another member of the symphony, Mrs. John Dale who formerly lived in Graz and together they were able to recall similar experiences and mutual friends. Miss Tritthart is a senior at Northville high school.

In preparation for each concert, the symphony spends about 2,700 man hours of preparation, excluding time each player puts in for individual practice. With few exceptions, each player furnishes his own instrument and the total valuation of the instruments is over $70,000. The Plymouth Community Schools make available percussion equipment and certain other items of equipment.

The all-orchestral concert will be the first in its 11 year history.

The Adult Education oil painting class will have an exhibit in the hall prior to the concert. Their project has been old homes, buildings and churches of Plymouth painted in primitive style.

by Carl Peterson

Well, the ballots are in and the stage is set for another four years. No matter what our individual reactions are to the outcome, we can all be glad we live in a country where the voice of the people is more than an echo. Lately the folks in Poland, Hungary, and some of the other satellites have been showing us how lucky we are.

The next step is for all Americans to work as a team to show the world that, even when we have our family disagreements, we're united as a nation. The next four years may be the most important we'll ever see. To make sure, now is the time for us all to get behind our elected leaders . . . but not too far behind.

Our newly expanded greeting card department is almost completed offering our friends a wide selection. Watch this column next week for further details.

The book publishers report there's an unusually large number of autobiographies on their lists this season. Seems to be an epidemic of I-its. There's bound to be an epidemic of last-minute Christmas shopping again this year. Why not avoid it? Our store is full of ideas for you—stationery, cosmetics, dozens of other wonderful gifts for everyone.

tion and would receive state aid. Chairmen for various committees were announced. They are: teacher relations, Willis McCabe; curriculum, J. D. DeMott; gifted and handicapped children committee, Mrs. George Conover; health and safety committee, Mrs. Betty England; extended opportunities committee, Robert Dirlam.

The group is also studying the questions of a seven-member school board and school finances, but these discussions will take place at the general meetings. A committee was also named to study tax equalization and assessment and the Adult Education and Recreation program.

McCabe gave his committee's first report on teacher relations which asked for two-way communications through representatives of the PTA groups. There was also a discussion about the membership regulations which are designed to prevent "pressure groups" from gaining control of the planning group. It was voted to give the membership plan a trial period.

The next meeting is December 5 at the high school.

Grammar is in the process of growth but some folks are trying to overdo the process.

CORRECTION
An unintentional error occurred in the advertisement of Saxony Building Co., Inc., in the Mail edition of October 25, 1956. The description of the 3 bedroom homes should have read "$199.00 down to veterans" and not "$119 down to veterans." Any inconvenience this may have caused is regretted.

from the Wayne County Road commission, operators of the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer. Schrader said that the authority has not allowed any sewer tap allocations in writing, but has verbally given taps to the Fred Greenspan Construction company development in the northeast section of the township. He said that the road commission has verbally given 2,700 to the two townships, but refuses to put anything in writing.

City Manager Albert Glassford said that the road commission will not put anything in writing because the interceptor may reach its capacity anytime, and that allocation of taps will not change the fact that the sewer is full. (All sewage from this area runs into the county-owned interceptor along the Rouge river. Although it was completed only last year, it is nearing capacity already. There is talk that a second sewer will be needed that will run along the Tonquish creek bed.)

City representatives were asked why they don't sell water to out-lying areas as a profitable enterprise. Mayor Daane answered that the city is not interested in selling water. "Water, like everything else, should be confined to those who develop it." He added that it can be obtained by property owners if they annex to the city.

The Regional Planning commission representative, Bernard Schroll, told how various other communities are attempting to solve their problems mutually, but so far, others are also still looking for water. He and Supervisor Lindsay both declared that the ultimate solution is to bring in an outside water supply from the lakes. Underground water, they added, cannot be depended upon for any length of time.

Lindsay said that he felt that the authority could find better wells in western Plymouth township, but that an attempt is being made to place the source near the customers. Water lines cost $50,000 to $55,000 a mile, he added.

Both Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein and Northville Township Supervisor Mollie Lawrence were unable to attend the meeting. The next meeting will be held December 4.

Petitioners Ask

committee report, which will be the main subject of discussion Monday, recommends that the western boundaries of the two schools be McClumpha road (or a line extending where it does not exist).

Reasons and suggestions given by the petitioners were:

1. The rural residents have the right to occupy the school in direct line between their home and the central high school of the district.

2. Transporting children by bus across main trunkline highways is unnecessary and imposes a major responsibility upon school authorities who insist upon this procedure against the concerted objections of the parents.

3. Growth of population in any area should shorten, not double the distance which rural pupils must travel to school.

4. Opening of Gallimore school will relieve congestion at Smith and Allen Schools and provide for growth south of the city. It is the responsibility of the board to plan for new construction for growth north of the city without appreciably increasing the distance or inconvenience for present school residents.

5. Temporary adjustment of school population should be effected by moving an entire grade to the adjacent school for classroom work only, retaining the basic zoning in case legitimate and agreeable relocation of the separating zone line cannot be made. In this case, the center of Ann Arbor Road should be the north boundary of Gallimore school. Immediate relief to the four original schools can be effected without any pupils being obliged to cross the main trunkline highways.

Mercury at 40 Degrees Cuts Parade Watchers

Only a few hardy souls weathered a cool 40-degree breeze Monday night to watch the Veterans Day parade honoring America's war dead.

Members of the various area veterans' organizations and the Plymouth high school band marched from the Veterans Memorial building to the downtown area and back. Included were members of the Auxiliaries. Because Veterans Day fell on Sunday this year, the day was observed on Monday in most communities. The post office, bank and several other public offices were closed for the day. Veterans Day was called Armistice Day until three years ago when it was changed by an act of Congress. Co-chairmen for the parade were Commanders Ray Danol of the VFW and Ernest Kol of the American Legion.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

A handicraft course for Brownie and Girl Scout leaders will be given at the Kiwanis-Girl Scout lodge on Tuesday, November 20, from 10 until 2:30 p.m. Anyone wishing to take the course, please contact Mrs. Sheldon Baker or Mrs. William Edgar.

Girl Scout Troop 1 is planning a bake sale for Saturday, November 17, at Kroger's store starting at 9:30 in the morning. The troop plans a trip to Washington, D.C. during spring vacation. Profits from the sale will be used to help pay the expenses of the trip.

On Saturday morning, November 3, Troop 1 had a surprise birthday breakfast for Mrs. Marshall North who accompanies the girls on all their camping trips and is also a member of their troop committee. On Monday night, November 5, troop members made telephone calls reminding people to vote in the November 6 election.

Intermediate Scout Troop 21 enjoyed a harvest party at the Girl Scout lodge on Friday evening, November 2. Each Scout brought a guest. Recently Mrs. Connie Aldrich conducted the girls on a very interesting tour of the Michigan Bell Telephone company office. Members of Troop 21 are working to complete the requirements for the first class badge. Mrs. Lloyd England and Mrs. Wayne Rubey are troop leaders.

Twelve new Brownies were invested in Troop 7 last week. OPTIMIST WEEK NOV. 11-17, 1956

The Optimist Creed
PROMISE YOURSELF

- To be so strong that nothing can disturb your peace of mind.
- To talk health, happiness and prosperity to every person you meet.
- To make all your friends feel that there is something in them.
- To look at the sunny side of everything and make your optimism come true.
- To think only of the best, to work only for the best and to expect only the best.
- To be just as enthusiastic about the success of others as you are about your own.
- To forget the mistakes of the past and press on to the greater achievements of the future.
- To wear a cheerful countenance at all times and give every living creature you meet a smile.
- To give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.
- To be too large for worry, too noble for anger, too strong for fear, and too happy to permit the presence of trouble.

'Hard Times' Dance Friday

St. Andrews Men's Club is holding a Hard Times dance at the church on the evening of November 16. There will be "live" music, and real lively dancing—round and square, so borrow some things from your Goodwill bag and get all dolled up to dance tomorrow night!

Mr. and Mrs. John Yadlosky of Vermont street and Mr. and Mrs. John Yadlosky, Sr. made a trip to Flint Sunday, November 4, to help John's aunt, Mrs. Lou Walsh, celebrate her 77th birthday.

Glenn Snyder of Vermont street went hunting last weekend and before he left he put a poster of his favorite candidate for governor in the front window. When he returned he was surprised to find his wife was doing a bit of campaigning for her own favorite candidate, and had his picture in the window, too! It was all very confusing to those driving by, and part of the election fun we all had on this street.

Speaking of the election, Mrs. Heaton took care of Nancy Yadlosky and Mrs. Klenk took care of Laura Yadlosky Tuesday so that their mother, Marion, could be free to work on the election board.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gilday of 327 1/2 Vermont attended the annual Suburban Empire League Saturday night, November 3, in Plymouth.

Thirty-six persons united with the church November 4, at the 11 o'clock service at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church.

Members of the Rosedale Gardens Woman's club will hold a "Santa's Workshop" tonight, with Bunny Hoganson, crafts designer of Dearborn, conducting the meeting. Members are asked to bring along some Christmas decorating, gift or recipe idea because it is required, and will help in making this one big idea exchange to enrich everyone's holiday. This meeting is open to members only.

Leslie Pomroy celebrated her seventh birthday November 11 at a family dinner. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ogden of Garden City were present, along with brother Don and sister Marilyn and her parents, the Gordon Pomroys.

Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. a Family Night dinner was held at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church. A roast beef dinner was served and the film, "The Hidden Heart," was shown as part of the program. This was an excellent chance for the families of the church to get together and take the children along.

Lucille and Fred McNulty, 11034 Ingram, celebrated their 17th wedding anniversary Sunday, November 4.

A meeting took place at the home of Gordon Pomroy, 32724 Vermont, to discuss plans for the revival of the Men's club of the Civic association. Those meeting Friday evening, November 9 were Matt Fortney, Gordon Pomroy, and Gordon Dana, all of Vermont street.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilk and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Luch, both of Vermont street, got together Saturday night, November 2, for a joint celebration of their fourth wedding anniversaries. The Wilk's anniversary was October 25 and the Luch's, November 8.

A second meeting of the nominating committee for Grant P.T.A. was held at the home of Gordon Dana, 32711 Vermont, Wednesday evening, November 7, to select the slate for election of officers. The committee consists of Gordon Dana, Eleanor Rush, June Allen, Helen Simser and Bruce Osterhage. Osterhage could not be present because he was in the hospital.

Mrs. Mary Donohue is the new co-leader for the newly-formed Brownie troop at Grant school, replacing Mrs. Begian who is now teaching school.

Don't forget that Grant school is holding a P.T.A. meeting in the multipurpose room Wednesday, November 14, at 8 p.m. This is a brand new P.T.A. and election of officers will be held. The nominating committee will present its slate, and nominations will be heard from the floor, so don't fail to show up and cast your vote. Mr. Yates will be the speaker of the evening, and refreshments will be served by the first-grade mothers.

The Junior High Fellowship met Sunday, November 11, at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church. This group of 7th, 8th, and 9th graders meets every Sunday evening from 5 to 6:30. Mr. Carney, a new member of the church, is the person responsible for starting this worthy group. He is from Northville where he worked with many youth groups. The meeting will have entertainment in the form of games, plus a coke and potato chip canteen. Interest groups are being discussed for future meetings such as service, mission, drama, hi-fi, Bible times newspaper, world problems discussion, children's own problems panel, etc. Sunday night a slide film was presented, "I've Found a New World". A devotional period completed the evening. Everyone in the above-stated grades is welcome to these meetings. Youth councillor is Mrs. Birdella Hoegy. Her assistants are Mrs. Klenk and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lutz.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wickman of Virginia street have a brand new baby girl, born Sunday, November 4, at 6 a.m. This child was very considerate, arriving on exactly the day she was due, and starting her parents right out on that 6 a.m. schedule!

Mrs. Leon Starr of Ashton road, Detroit visited her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Dana, 32711 Vermont, Thursday, November 8, and stayed with the children so that Betty and your reporter could go to Northland for shopping and luncheon. Bless the grandmas!

The Brownie troop sponsored by St. Michael Altar society planted tulip bulbs at the fire-hall on Farmington road Thursday, November 8. After planting was finished they toured the fire station to see the engines and other equipment and learn about the fire department. Leader of this troop is Kay Welch, and co-leader is Ann Santich. Brownies are Linda and Kathleen Daberkow, Molly Durivage, Joyce Santich, Katherine Kleinert, Laura Cooney, Sheila O'Brian, Mary Ann Fuertsch, Dorothy Hall, Janet Secord, Kathleen and Patty Welch.

We have new neighbors in Rosedale Gardens! On the new street of houses on Montana one house shines now each night, reminding us that Bud and Lorelei Smither have moved in with their three children, Ricky, 3 1/2, Randy 1, and Robin, four months. The Smithers moved here from Dearborn township.

Now that the winter has descended upon us once more, and we don our nice, warm coats, let's not forget that overseas many people are feeling the same cold breezes without any hope of warm clothing unless we all pitch in and help them. The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church has a large carton in the basement for usable warm clothing for distribution overseas to needy people. The clothing will be distributed by Church World service, relief organization of the World Council of Churches.

Rosedale Gardens Civic association held its monthly meeting Thursday evening, November 8, at the clubhouse on Hubbard. Everyone went 'round and 'round in the usual hassel of problems, finally getting it all ironed out. When everyone was at the point of exhaustion from arguing, the Nursery school mothers revived them with refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Core, 11021 Cranston, attended a dinner dance at Hawthorne Valley Friday evening, November 9.

Mrs. John Johnson whips up a traditional pumpkin-pie specialty from a recipe she's been using approximately 20 years.

Family Favors
Traditional Holiday Treat

What Thanksgiving dinner would be complete without the serving of good old-fashioned pumpkin pie?

Submitted this week by Green Meadows correspondent for the Mail, Mrs. John Johnson of 9224 Oakview, is a tried and true recipe for this traditional feast treat. The filling is Mrs. Johnson's own concoction, a delicious blending of ingredients she's developed to a high degree of perfection over the years. So popular is this specialty that it takes advance preparation of three pies to offset the family demand for this famed dessert.

The recipe is given below:

- Pumpkin Pie
Pastry for one-crust pie:
1½ cups enriched, all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup shortening
Blend well and add enough cold water (about three tablespoons or more) so pastry can be handled easily. Turn on slightly floured board. Roll out and line a 9 or 10-inch pie tin.
- Filling:
2 eggs slightly beaten
1½ cups canned pumpkin
½ cup white sugar
¼ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon cinnamon
dash of nutmeg
¾ cup evaporated milk
1 cup whole milk

Beat all together and pour in unbaked pie shell. Bake at 425 degrees for about 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees and continue baking for 45 minutes or until pie is sticky when lightly touched with finger.

Taste Sells Milk,
Survey Shows

Taste is one of the big reasons why people drink milk. At least, that was the reason named by a majority of city milk drinkers in a survey taken recently by two Michigan State university research workers.

Duane Gibson and Charles Hofer of the sociology and anthropology department surveyed 101 families to find answers to a variety of questions on milk drinking habits of urban people. The majority answer to the first question is more convincing evidence that dairymen would be wise to guard constantly against off-flavors in their milk. The families listed their other answers although they were a minority: Because milk has a high food value; because milk is important to restore health; because there were children in the home.

Mrs. David Vincent

P. David Vincent Married
Recently in Pennsylvania

Corrine Joyce Whetsel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Whetsel, 300 Freepoint road, New Kensington, Pennsylvania, and P. David Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Vincent of 11217 Gold Arbor road, Plymouth, were united in marriage at a ceremony held Saturday evening, October 20, at McMasters Methodist church, Turtle Creek, Pennsylvania.

For the 7:30 rites the bride chose a floor-length gown of peau de soie, its fitted bodice styled with V-neckline trimmed with alencon lace. A seed pearl and sequin-studded tiara held her fingertip veil of tulle illusion. The bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white pom poms and stephanotis.

Attendants were the bride's former sorority sisters at Allegheny college, in Meadville, Mrs. Clifford Morton, matron of honor, and Carole M. Turdock, bridesmaid. They wore powder blue crystal dresses of princess styling, floor-length, with royal blue velvet headbands. Their bouquets were colonial arrangements of blue pompons. Deborah Heath and Craig Vincent were flower girl and ringbearer for the ceremony.

Percy Werner of Washington, D.C. performed the services of best man. Guests were seated by Kenneth Larish and Robert Bucknell.

A sky-blue crepe dress of empire styling trimmed with satin, pink accessories and pink rose corsage was Mrs. Whetsel's selection for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother wore a mint brown dress with rose accessories and pink rosebud corsage.

A reception was held at Edgewood Country club in Turtle Creek for 135 guests following the wedding ceremony.

The couple will reside in Yellow Springs, Ohio, where the bridegroom is enrolled in his sophomore year at Antioch college. He is a 1955 graduate of Plymouth high school. The bride is a graduate of Allegheny college.

Outlines Possible
Courses for State
Polio Vaccine

Three possible courses of future state action regarding polio vaccination were outlined this week by Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan's health commissioner.

Through the present state-federal vaccine purchase plan which expires next June 30, vaccine is being supplied in Michigan to all children 1 through 14 and to pregnant women.

The three courses listed by Dr. Heustis were:

1—Launching a state-financed "crash" program aimed at vaccinating all Michigan residents of all ages. Such programs are now being advocated in a number of other states.

2—Withdrawing from the polio vaccinating field with the individual and his physician taking responsibility for providing immunity.

3—Providing vaccine to all youngsters born in Michigan and to unvaccinated youngsters who move into the state. This would follow the legal precedent set by the state immunization program against smallpox, diphtheria and other communicable diseases.

"Each possible program has its merits," Dr. Heustis said, "and there even may be other programs which would prove effective in safeguarding our people against polio."

The health commissioner said he feels all possibilities should be brought to the attention of the people so they can discuss the polio vaccination program, and decide what action the state should follow in the future.

"The Salk vaccine has proved effective," Dr. Heustis said, "and it seems reasonable to assume Michigan will want to continue effective immunization in some way."

As to the vaccine's effectiveness, Dr. Heustis pointed to the 1954 vaccine field trials in Michigan. In those trials only three children of the 26,000 given Salk vaccine contracted paralytic polio while 13 of the 26,000 given placebo (harmless substance) shots developed paralytic polio.

After the mass immunization program was launched in Michigan in 1955, the incidence of paralytic polio dropped to four cases among 100,000 vaccinated children as against 31 per 100,000 unvaccinated children.

This year a total of 580 cases of polio were reported through September, compared with 1,059 and 1,607 cases for the entire years of 1955 and 1954 respectively.

So far this year 16 Michigan residents have died from polio, as against 31 in all of 1955 and 89 in the entire 12 months of 1954. Dr. Heustis said the 1956 Michigan polio "season" has now passed its peak and conclusive figures for the disease year are expected to be available early in November.

The likelihood of becoming diabetic increases with age, however diabetes occurs in all age groups.

Health and Beauty

BABY TEETH

It is the duty of every prospective mother to learn and to put into practice everything that is possible to preserve her own health and that of her child. In the case of the child, it commences before birth, and should be carried on until he is old enough to take over for himself. This he will do if properly trained by a careful and intelligent mother.

There are plenty of informative books on the market now that give sensible instruction on the subject. They will be studied by earnest, inquiring mothers. Diet of the pregnant woman is largely a determining factor in her own health and that of her child.

The expectant mother should keep in touch with her physician and dentist. They will gladly instruct her as to her method of preparation for the little stranger and tell her where she can find books and pamphlets that will give her reliable information.

Some mothers are amazingly ignorant and negligent about the importance of taking proper care of the first or milk teeth of their little ones. The mouth should be kept sweet and clean. The first set of teeth are very important and play a very useful part in the future welfare of the child.

In the first place, everything pertaining to the human body has a very definite and important function to perform. The baby teeth should receive the most meticulous care. Their presence is necessary for mastication of food and for proper development of speech. They are also necessary for the growth and development of the gums, the jaws, face and head. If they did not serve a necessary purpose, they would not exist.

The loss of a single baby or foundation tooth, until it has been absorbed into a permanent tooth, and nature is ready to cast off the shell, is a misfortune. Some ignorant mothers actually allow the foundation teeth to decay in the helpless child's mouth, and they do nothing to prevent it.

The development of the foundation teeth require good nutritious food. All babies need plenty of milk to furnish calcium with which to build teeth and bones.

Every one of the twenty foundation teeth should be in the mouth by the time he is 2½ or 3 years old. They are necessary for properly chewing the food and the maintenance of health.

If several of these baby teeth are lost, nature cannot properly carry out her designs. The face and jaws will lack the assistance that would have been afforded by healthful, well-developed, properly functioning baby teeth.

Crooked, crowded, unsightly permanent teeth are often caused by neglect and consequent loss of foundation teeth.

Madonna Herald
Wins High Rating

The Madonna Herald, monthly campus paper of Madonna College, Livonia, has again received an All-American honor rating from the Associated Collegiate Press for the second semester, 1955-56. News of the coveted rating reached the Herald office just last week.

The content of news stories and style along with leads merited a high score. Scoring excellent this year were effectively written editorials on current topics. The editorial features were also rated very good.

The sports coverage of the campus paper was judged for liveliness of approach. It was found that the Herald rates very good in this category.

Inside news stories were found to have an attractive display as it merited superior. Among other properties, other physical attributes merited a high score; a bright front page, attractive editorial page makeup, lively sports display and inside news pages.

Home Agent Gives Tips on Turkey-Buying

Guessing the number of servings from a turkey as you look at it in the grocer's meat case is like trying to guess the number of beans in a jar. Do you always win with the right answer? Here's a little help from Nina Lou Baird, Wayne County Home Demonstration agent, with suggestions for judging the size turkey to buy.

Judge the size of the bird by the number of servings you want. Buy one-half pound ready-to-cook turkey per serving. However, the number of servings depend on the quality of turkey, correct cooking and carving skill.

You can expect from 16 to 20 servings from an eight to 10 pound ready-to-cook turkey. Such a turkey weighing 10 to 14 pounds would feed single servings to 20 to 28 persons. But if you wanted 28 to 36 servings, you would look for a 14 to 18 pound bird. Getting into the higher brackets, an 18 to 20 pound ready-to-cook turkey would yield from 36 to 40 servings.

BUY PIECES

Perhaps you would prefer to buy less than the whole turkey, or have the turkey cut-up. You can buy turkey split in half lengthwise. Or, you might prefer to purchase quarters of turkey. Turkeys can be had by individual pieces such as legs, breast, back wings, necks and giblets. These you will find available in some markets. If you do not see them on the counter, ask the butcher and he will cut whatever you request.

"Ready-to-cook" means the turkey is drawn and cleaned ready for cooking. It may be fresh or frozen fresh and is usually government inspected and individually packaged. The cleaned giblets and neck are usually wrapped separately and placed in the cavity of the bird.

FOR FEWER CALORIES

Fewer calories and more protein per serving may result when you roast these very young fryer-roaster size turkeys unstuffed instead of stuffed.

Omitting the stuffing also saves oven heat, time and labor, reminds Mrs. Baird. A small turkey that weighs about four pounds, ready-to-cook, may take as little as two hours to roast unstuffed. Unstuffed four to eight pounders should roast in from 2 to 2 1/2 hours. If the bird is very cold, it may take a little longer to cook.

TEST FOR DONENESS

The bird is done when the leg joints can be moved easily and the flesh of the leg feels soft and pliable when pressed with the fingers. Because turkeys differ somewhat in the time they take to cook tender, it is well to make these simple doneness tests. Avoid overcooking these little turkeys; it tends to make the meat dry. You should plan roast-

Pumpkin-Mince Flavored Pie, Ideal Final for Thanksgiving Feast

Pie for Thanksgiving dinner? Of course! A sweet slice of pie and a steaming cup of coffee—everybody knows that's the way to end this most festive of meals. The question is, will it be pumpkin pie or mince? Our suggestion is that it be both—pumpkin and mince temptingly blended into the same luscious confection. Priscilla's Pumpkin pie it's called—a dessert to truly grace the Thanksgiving board.

Light in texture, yet tangy and delectable, this unusual pie is made-to-order for the holiday feast. A touch of mince, the zesty flavors of orange peel and spices all combine magically with the pumpkin. And here's an important busy-day asset: Priscilla's Pie needs no baking and can be prepared way ahead of serving time. At the last moment, add a snowy wreath of whipped cream and toasted Brazil nuts.

When the family groans happily, pushes slightly away from the table and settles back to wait for dessert—that's the moment to bring in this bodacious and beautiful pie. With it, of course, you'll be serving steaming, fragrant coffee from your favorite coffee pot. And don't forget to have enough coffee on hand for seconds to accompany the leisurely conversation that is such a happy part of every family party.

PRISCILLA'S PUMPKIN PIE

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon each, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 3/4 cup evaporated milk
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 1/4 cups canned or cooked pumpkin
- 2 teaspoons grated orange peel
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/4 cup granulated sugar

THANKSGIVING dinner is always special, and it should get the finale it deserves. Priscilla's Pumpkin Pie—the lightest and most luscious dessert—is the answer! When served with lots of fragrant coffee, this Thanksgiving pie should get rounds of applause.

1/2 cup cold cooked mince meat*
1 9-inch baked pastry shell

Combine gelatine, brown sugar, salt and spices in top of double boiler. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves, about 6 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in pumpkin, orange peel and orange juice. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until foamy. Add cream of tartar and beat until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add granulated sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Spoon mince meat evenly in pastry shell. Turn pumpkin mixture on top. Chill until firm. If desired, garnish with whipped cream and sliced, toasted Brazil nuts.

*Left-over mince meat may be used to make mince meat drop cookies, tarts or turnovers.

'Change-About' Dress Sparks New Collection

One young designer has created a line of wool dresses along classic lines, in dark and light basic colors, that can be changed in appearance completely by changing the collar cuffs, belt or jeweled studs to tailored studs.

Each dress comes with a pair of change-about accessories. The girl with imagination and a way with a needle can make even more changes possible.

This change-about business has become very popular. It all began with the basic black dress and the craze for costume jewelry. This was a good many years back and yet the working girl in large cities is still taking advantage of this trick to look glamorous for an important date even when there has been no time to go home to change. The change can be brought about by switching costume jewelry.

All shades of scarlet are important in the fashion picture this fall and winter. The red velvet shoe will be worn with all kinds of cocktail clothes. Along with the return of the velvet shoe comes a demand for crystal jewelry of all kinds. The envelope bag for evening is a must.

The velvet evening suit will be popular for all ages. Many are trimmed with satin, heavy, imported lace or fur. It is never wise to economize when you are buying a garment made of velvet. If you can't afford a good suit, made of the best quality fabric, you will be wise to settle for something else.

If you have a really good figure, get a sleek jersey sheath cut high in front and low in back. This is something new and very effective on a young girl.

Here's Answer to Vary Waffles

It's no longer necessary to draw straws to see which variety of waffle will be served at one meal. Everyone in the family can have his or her own favorite at the same sitting, without any complications. The solution is to bake batches of every desired variety—plain, chocolate, corn and spice, for example—in advance and keep them in the home freezer. To serve chosen waffles, just pop them into the toaster for three minutes and they are ready to eat.

ing time so the fowl will be done about 20 minutes before serving. Turkey holds heat well and a wait between cooking and serving makes the meat easier to carve.

Mrs. Baird suggests that if you want to save time but still serve a large family or company meal, roast two small turkeys instead of a large one in about the same length of time as a small one. A pair on the platter can be very attractive. And you will have four legs and wings instead of two of each—a children's delight.

TO ROAST UNSTUFFED

To roast the unstuffed bird, sprinkle the inside with salt; tie the legs and tail together; brush lightly with fat; place on a rack in a shallow uncovered pan; and put into a 325 degree F. oven. Brushing fat or oil over the outside of the bird helps make the meat juicy and the skin to brown evenly. Baste with the pan drippings or melted fat a couple times during the cooking. A thin cloth moistened with fat and placed loosely over the more exposed parts may prevent overbrowning.

Q. What is the name of these cuts of meat?

A. Cross-cut Beef Shanks.
Q. Where do they come from?
A. They are cut from the beef shank into flat, round pieces which are 1 to 2 inches thick. The round shank bone in the center is surrounded by the shank meat.

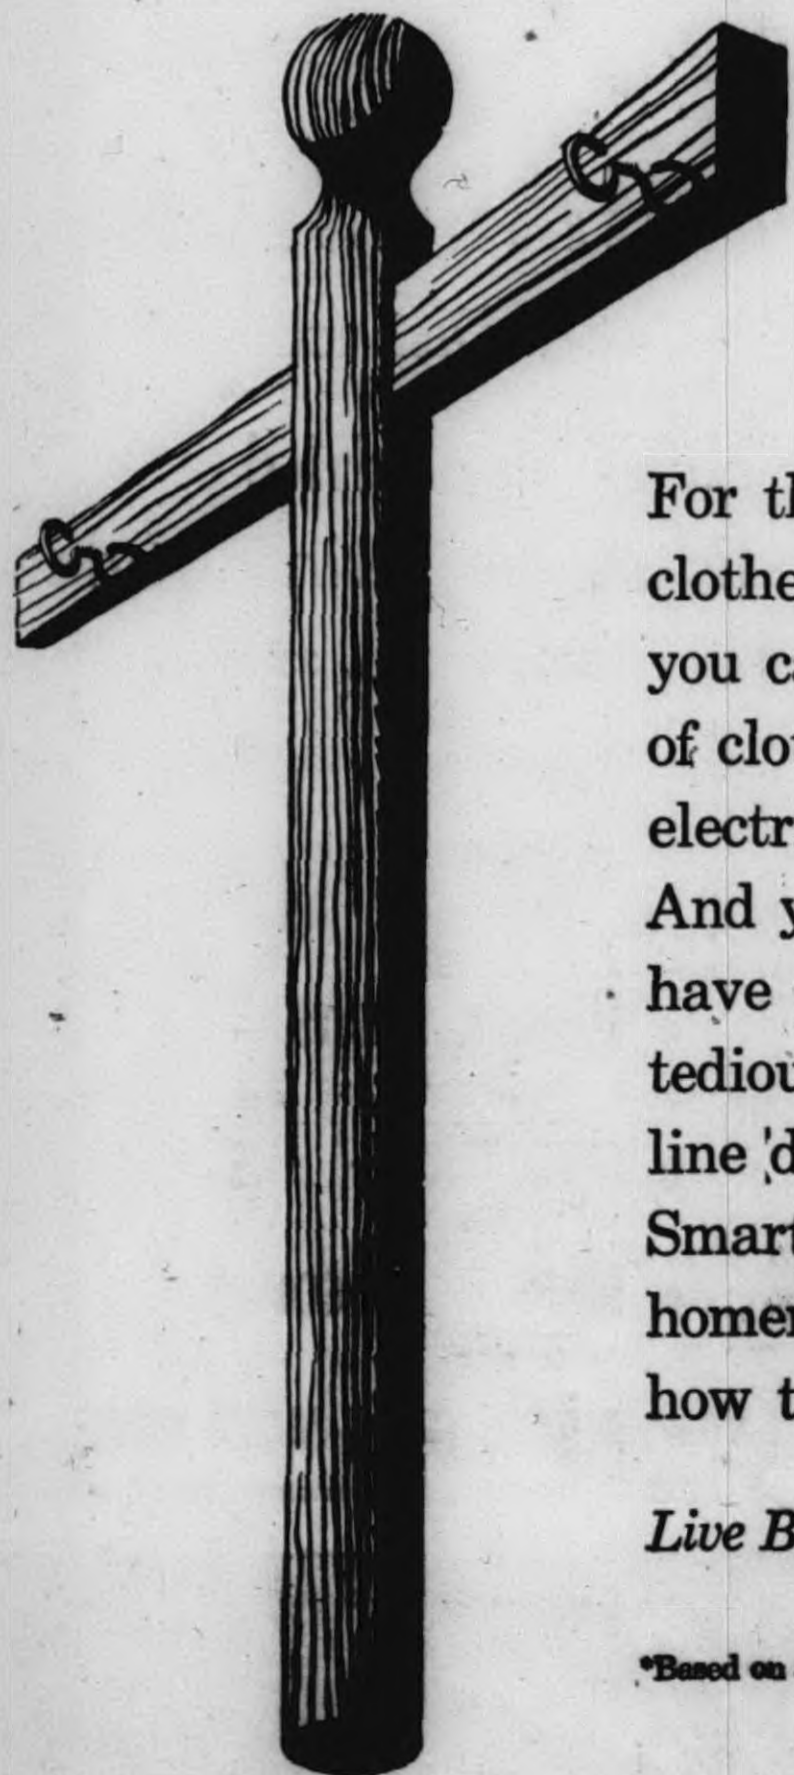

Q. How are they prepared?
A. They are cooked slowly by braising or in liquid and require 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 hours for cooking. When braised, the meat is first browned on all sides in lard or drippings, seasoned with salt and pepper, and a small amount of liquid, about 1/2 cup, is added. When cooked in liquid, they are covered with liquid. After liquid is added in either method, the meat is covered and cooked below the boiling point until done.

Try These Laundry Hints

If you wash your curtains in the washing machine, six or seven minutes will be an ample amount of time. Rinse in two waters, or until the water is clear. If you want a little stiffening, but no starchiness, use a cup of borax in the last rinse water, and iron the curtains while they are still damp. This gives a fresh perky appearance, and the curtains will not become limp the first damp day.

IRONERS

If you are thinking of adding an ironer to your home equipment, you might be interested to know that although it requires a little more electrical current than a hand iron, you can usually finish the ironing much quicker which balances things. One other advantage is the fact that you can use it where-ever you wish. Many women like to iron in an upstairs room since so much of the ironing is put into dresser drawers and closets.

For the price of a clothes post* you can dry 80 loads of clothes in an electric dryer. And you'll never have to struggle with tedious, old-fashioned line drying again. Smart and thrifty homemakers know how to . . .

A wonderland of floats and figures like this giant size Mother Goose wend their way down Detroit's main street, Woodward Ave., on Thanksgiving Day at The J. L. Hudson Company's annual Children's Parade. Beginning at 9:30 a.m. in downtown Detroit, this colorful spectacle, one of the nation's largest Thanksgiving Day parades, will roll off its way downtown. Fourteen-hundred marchers and a dozen bands will be in this year's event, televised on the ABC network. Santa's arrival on his huge sleigh will climax the morning's fun-filled activities.

Chamber of Commerce Holds 35th Annual Dinner Meeting

The president of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad compared Plymouth with his home town of Bellefontaine, Ohio, in a speech he termed "The Tale of Two Cities" at the 35th annual dinner meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce held in the First Presbyterian Church last Wednesday night.

Dwelling on the economic danger of cities depending on services rather than goods as a source of income, David E. Smucker cited the plight of Bellefontaine when its main source of income, the railroads, moved out of town.

"People of Bellefontaine," Smucker said, "worked only for their semi-monthly pay. They produced no tangible goods and when the railroads moved on during the depression there was a near panic. Citizens were afraid it would turn into a ghost town in a few years."

Plymouth, on the other hand, had the Daisy Air Rifle Company as one of the mainstays of its industry. Daisy produced a tangible product known to boys throughout the United States and it weathered the depression. Producing no goods, the people of Bellefontaine nearly reduced to the economic conundrum of trying to make a living by doing each others laundry.

Smucker also threw darts at legislation restricting railroads, snowballs at communities which reject new industries and roses to the Eisenhower cabinet, all with the smooth fluency of an accomplished after-dinner speaker.

Honored with the presentation of special service certificates at the banquet were Plymouth Chamber of Commerce members Donald A. Burlison, president, Lawrence E. Hiltz, Harry Larsen, Ralph G. Lorenz and Dr. W. W. Hammond.

The 1956 Chamber of Commerce president, Donald Burlison, reviewed the accomplishments of the group during the past year and commended the spirit of co-operation of all members. He then introduced the new president, Frank Allison.

"Officers in the coming year can probably aspire no higher than to carry on the good work of our predecessors," Allison said in accepting office.

Among the honored guests were

Thousands Own Jr. Achievement Company Stock

Between twenty and thirty thousand persons living in Southeastern Michigan now own stock in Junior Achievement companies. Culminating this impressive stock-selling drive, nearly six thousand teenage Junior Achievers scoured this section of Michigan recently to procure bona-fide shareholders in J.A. companies.

To springboard their selling drive, J.A.'ers - ranging in age from 15 to 21 - tapped such natural sources as parents, relatives and friends. Professional people, housewives, corporation heads and small businessmen all fell heir to J. A. company stock.

Selling for 50 cents a share, most J. A. firms capitalized on an average of $150 each. Singularly aggressive salesmanship and unusual products pushed capitalization, in some cases, well above this mark.

J. A. companies in Southeastern Michigan this year will produce items ranging from transistor radio sets and Chris Craft Outboards to macramized pot holders and pajama bags.

Representing 10 percent of approximately three thousand J. A. companies in the nation, Southeastern Michigan area of J.A. has seen one of the largest stock-selling sprees since this area's founding in 1949.

As in past years, this area's J. A. activity has created and maintained the highest percentage of interest and growth of any section in America.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Is your age your problem?

If Mom and Dad think you're too young to date, you — and they — will be interested in the way a 13-year-old girl and her parents solved this BIG question with plain common sense, plus cooperation. Give a glance at her letter:

"I'm writing this because I've read letters in your column from other 13- and 14-year-old girls who want to have dates and their parents won't let them have any at all.

"The trouble is these girls want to do ALL kinds of dating at once. This worries their parents, so they say, 'NO, none at all!'

"My parents and I worked out a good deal and most of my friends do the same thing. There are some ways I can be with boys that they don't object to... and some kinds of dates that my parents believe should wait until later when I am 16.

"For example, they allow me to have my boy friend come to my home and I can go to girl friends' homes when boys are there in the afternoon and during weekends. I can have coke dates in the daytime if we walk to the store. On Friday and Saturday nights, I can go to dances, parties, movies, school and church activities with a date if a parent takes us there and takes us home afterward; usually the boy's father does it in his car.

"I do not have dates on school nights and no car dates, but this is all right, because boys my age don't have their licenses yet, anyway. No double dates or group dates in cars, either, unless a parent drives us. This keeps my parents from worrying and it gives me lots of fun. I should think girls would rather do this than not date at all."

In the history of office-holders, few have ever tried to save their country by resigning.

Madonna Frosh Don Caps, Gowns

Academic caps and gowns will become the formal attire of freshmen at Madonna College in Livonia this Sunday at Investiture ceremonies. Fr. Paul C. Zelaff, chaplain, will officiate at the chapel ceremony scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Assisting the freshmen in putting on the caps and togas will be Theresa Sternicki, student association president, and Marjorie Krist, sodality prefect.

Rev. William J. Ziemba, professor and librarian at St. Mary's college, Orchard Lake, will deliver the investiture address at a program in De Sales auditorium following the chapel ceremony.

The Madonna choral group will render several vocal numbers during the program. A reception for the parents of the freshmen will follow.

The academic attire worn today at every formal college activity, has been used, generally, in the United States since colonial days. At that time, however, the few gowns that were in use were worn mainly by clergymen and the congregation at services.

It was not until recent years that togas and caps were generally adopted as academic attire of students attending American colleges.

Student Play, "Trail of Lonesome Pine" Starts Tonight

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," this year's all-school play that premiers tonight in the Plymouth High School Auditorium. The play will be presented tonight and tomorrow, November 15 and 16 at 8 p.m.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" was first written and published as a novel. Written by the famous author, John Fox, Jr., it sprang into immediate popularity and the book remained on the list of best sellers for years. It has long been considered a masterpiece of fiction.

It is small wonder, then that the eminent dramatist, Eugene Walter, of "The Easiest Way" fame, read "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and saw a great play in it. He bought the dramatic rights, made the dramatization and the play opened in New York at the New Amsterdam Theater with a most distinguished cast, headed by the beautiful and talented Charlotte Walker, who was then at the height of her fame.

Miss Alice Chadwick has taken Mr. John Fox Jr.'s picturesque and colorful tale and embellished it with lively scenes of side-splitting comedy. The play has a very interesting plot revolving around lovely June Tolliver, born and reared in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains, who is ignorant of the great outside world, its customs and manners.

Handsome young Jack Hale, a northerner, comes down to the mountain region to survey its land and as head of a small band of policemen, who strive to establish law and order among the mountaineers. When Jack and June meet at the foot of the big tree, known as the Lonesome Pine, a fine friendship springs up that ripens into love.

Everyone's heart will go out to Ellie May Beams, a small girl of 15 but because of her diminutive size she appears to be even younger than she really is. Her face is entirely devoid of expression and she appears to be permanently bewildered.

The cast is composed of John Van Dyke as Bub, Peter Signorelli portrays Uncle Billy Beams, "pitiful" Ellie May is played by Janet West, Joe Calhoun is Red Fox and Shug Watson, Old Hon. Sal is portrayed by Myrna Miller; Judy Heric, June; Dennis Merchant, Judd; Fat Gaeke, Hanna; Jim Gothard, Dave Tolliver; Arlene Kubick, Loretta; Dave Graves, Jack Hale; Anne Saunders, by Betsy Edgar as Ann Saunders; and Anne Denny fills the role of Maw Falin.

Members of the Triple Trios are Beverly Tacia, Arlene Gobel, Karla Herbold, Sally Williams, Ann Hulsing, Marilyn Freyman, Judy Heric, Sharon Egloff, Beverly Harrison and Dorothy Stremick, pianist.

The girls also sang Wednesday, November 7 for the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. Other scheduled performances for the Trios are December 2 at the Elks Club and December 3 at the Lutheran Church where they will present a Christmas program.

GAA to Participate At Thurston Playday

Members of the Girls' Athletic Association will be guests at a playday at Thurston High School from 3:30 to 6:45 p.m. on November 20.

The playday will consist of volleyball, basketball, trampoline and swimming. The sports will be played in the school gymnasium with the activities rotating every half hour. Swimming will take place in the new swimming pool.

The number of girls who will be able to go is 35. The executive board of the club will go with the remaining number of girls being drawn from a hat after signing their names to go.

This will be the first playday of the year for the members of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Council Seeks Way To Spend Surplus

Plymouth High's Student Council, an organization of 20 students elected by their respective classes, has concerned itself with solving this year's school problems.

Council meetings are held bi-monthly, during alternate first and third hours. The most recent meeting on November 6 included the report that only $30.64 was spent by the Student Council for Homecoming activities.

The Student Council, it was reported at the last meeting, has over $500 in its treasury. A committee of five was appointed by Mayor Biff Tait to investigate possibilities for a project, to put the money in the treasury to good use for the benefit of all PHS students.

The committee, chaired by Bill Brandell, includes Maureen Hansen, Shug Watson, Gloria Bowles, and Mike Porter. Suggestions made by council members included the starting of a fund for new bleachers, the purchase by the council of new curtains for the stage in the auditorium, or pictures for the halls.

Other projects undertaken by Student Council or its appointees were the Red Feather Drive, Homecoming, the Council Kick-off, a dance presented at the beginning of the school year, S. C. members appointed to the School Community Planning Group and council members to take over plans for American Education Week.

Earlier this year Gloria Bowles was elected, by council members as corresponding secretary.

Watson; and seniors, Bill Brandell, Jerry Hearl, Gerry Trost and Charles Westover. Mayor Biff Tait, Vice-Mayor Alfred Spigarelli, Secretary Sally Williams, and Treasurer Bob Kemnitz. Adviser is Assistant Principal Gustave Gorguze.

Ann Arbor was the scene of the annual Student Council Conference held this year on October 30. Plymouth High's representatives were Student Council members Hale Huber, Janet Spigarelli and Sally Williams. They discussed increasing school participation in student council projects and improving school morale.

Not Always

"I hope, my little man," said the pastor with an indulgent pat, "that you say your prayers every night."

"Not every night," admitted young Peter. "Some nights I don't want anything."

The value of an education is not to be measured by the dollars and cents that the educated man, or woman earns.

SEAWEED AS INSULATION
 Many buyers of old Colonial farm houses in New England states have discovered during remodeling that the walls were insulated with dried seaweed. The seaweed did a good job, too, in keeping the Colonial houses warmer in winter and cooler in summer, plus helping to save fuel. But the seaweed attracted vermin and was a serious fire hazard.

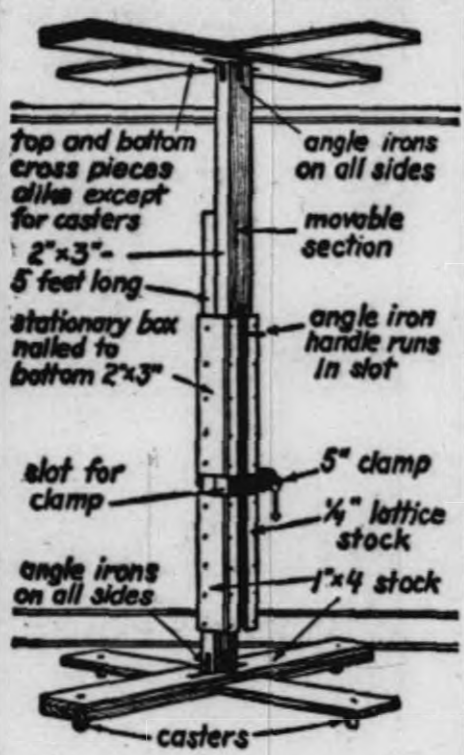

When preparing a surface for refinishing, remember to use crack filler for filling cracks or gouged places in floors, furniture or woodwork. Cracks in plaster should be filled with patching compound or patching plaster.

Fixing-Up Tips

Handy Third Hand
 A THIRD hand is mighty helpful when putting up 4 x 8 ceiling panels. The illustrated home-built device solves the problem. It's suggested by Family Handyman. The magazine says only an hour's time is needed to make the hoist. Materials needed are four 4' lengths of 1 x 4-inch stock, two 2 x 3's each 5' long, scrap 1 x 4-inch stock for the "box," 9 angle irons, 4 casters and a C-clamp. The casters permit easy moving of the hoist to the spot required. The hoist puts the panel in place and holds it there while being nailed.

Window Steam From Humidity

It's not the heat, but the humidity that's largely responsible for steaming windows during the fall and winter months. So says Gordon W. Orbesen, insulating glass consultant, who points out that steaming windows will result whenever the humidity inside a house is high. The problem becomes compounded, Orbesen says, whenever the inner surface of the window glass is cold. That's the explanation for the steam on the inside of single-pane windows while Thermopane insulating windows, which do not transmit the outdoor cold, remain clear.

To combat the steamed-window problem, Orbesen offers the following rules which are especially applicable to single-pane windows and which apply even to Thermopane windows on extremely cold days.

1. Maintain a reasonable warmth in the living areas of the home at night, so the rooms and their windows will not be "ice cold" when family activity begins in the morning.
 2. Make sure your automatic clothes drier is vented to the outside. Or, if its steam is released inside the house, close the laundry room away from the other rooms when the drier is in use.
 3. Keep the kitchen and bathroom doors closed when cooking with water, washing dishes, bathing or otherwise making use of steaming liquids. Allow the steam to escape through doors or ventilators to the outside rather than to the rest of the house.
- Under humid conditions, steam will form on any cold object and can frequently cause stains and discolorations, Orbesen explained. On windows, mirrors and other glass objects, however, steam and water will dry or wipe away without damage.

3 Treatments For Damp Basements

The only house without a dampness problem is the one without a basement. With the winter recreation season just around the calendar, householders with basements might profitably ponder ways and means of keeping dry where it's low.

Sidewalk superintendents who watched the builder thoroughly waterproof the basement during construction should avoid smug complacency. Leakage, of course, results from faulty waterproofing and poor drainage, but even the tightest basement may fall victim to condensation.

There is no single sure cure for condensation. For this reason a waterproof, permanent surface is necessary to prevent damage to floor and walls from this affliction. The symptoms of condensation can be treated, however. Three methods of treatment are:

1. Ventilation. Outside air forced into the basement should be warm enough to raise the temperature of the wall surface above the dew point.
2. Heating. Uninsulated appliances such as water heaters often dissipate enough heat in the summer to help prevent condensation. Fuel-burning furnaces help in the winter. However, such heating appliances must be vented to a chimney, because the products of combustion contain a large amount of water, which would aggravate the condition if not carried off.
3. Dehumidification. Condensation can be prevented by removing moisture from the air. This process lowers the dew point below the temperature of the wall and floor surfaces. Dehumidification is most effective when windows and doors can be closed and least effective when humidity is increased by such activities as laundering.

When applying paint with a roller, always begin on an unfinished area and work toward a finished one.

Plumbing Leaks Waste Fuel and Water Dollars

Examination of the plumbing system in your home may mean a considerable savings in water and fuel bills during the cold weather ahead.

Leaky faucets and shower heads as well as improperly working toilets can be more expensive than the cost of their repair. Besides wasting water and fuel, leaks can damage the fixtures.

The plumbing Fixture Manufacturers Association says that steadily dripping water can cause rust spots and mineral stains on high-gloss enameled fixtures.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—We're decorating an old house we purchased recently but the plaster walls are so chalky wallpaper won't stick. Is there any remedy for this?

A—Coat the wall with a half and half mixture of shellac and alcohol. This will harden the plaster and give a waterproof surface to which the wallpaper will hold.

Q—We'd like to insulate the attic floor of our new ranch home but my husband and I aren't very skillful with tools. What do you suggest?

A—You don't have to be handy with tools to install mineral wool insulation. The easiest method is to use thick batts or blankets which are placed between the joists, as shown in the sketch, with the vapor barrier side down. The only tools you'll need are a sharp knife to cut the insulation to the proper length and a piece of board to kneel on so you won't step on the ceiling. When the job is done, your mineral wool will start paying for itself in heat savings and will make your house more comfortable in all seasons. Mineral wool batts or blankets are recommended for open joists. However, if a professional installer can blow insulation into the hidden areas.

Q—How can I make screws hold in wood or plaster holes which have become too large?

A—Roll steel wool into a narrow web about the length of the hole and stuff it in with a pencil point. The screw will "bite" into the steel wool, taking a firm grip.

Design Cuts Cost of Land

Today's rising land costs make this modern three-bedroom house ideal for a budget-minded family. The house was designed to make full use of a narrow lot for both indoor and outdoor living.

Architect Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N. Y., combined a low-slope roof of colorful asphalt shingles with natural stone and redwood siding to give the house its modern exterior.

Matern specified asphalt shingles for the roof because this type of roofing is available in a wide choice of colors, is durable, and economical to apply. Houses with low-slope roofs now can have these advantages of asphalt shingles thanks to a recently developed method of application. Inside the house has a family room, two baths, fireplace, sliding glass doors leading to all outdoor living areas, plus many other comforts and conveniences of modern living.

One important comfort feature specified by the architect is thick mineral wool insulation throughout. The mineral wool will keep the house warmer and more economical to heat in winter and cooler during the summer months.

Additional information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-05 61st St., Jamaica, L. I., N. Y. Refer to Plan No. 9468.

Gas Incinerator Answers Disposal Crisis

American cities are facing "a growing crisis" in the matter of garbage and trash disposal and will turn increasingly to the household gas incinerator to meet it, according to an industry leader.

Don Winegardner, newly-installed chairman of the incinerator division of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, said householders are throwing away more and more combustibles and cities are finding it more and more difficult and expensive to haul the trash away. He declared that gas-fired incinerators can do the job without the air-pollution woes sometimes accompanying other types of burn-it-yourself efforts.

"During the next year," Winegardner declared, "our association and the incinerator manufacturers in it will make the greatest possible effort to show the distinction between the smoke-consuming, modern gas incinerator and the makeshift backyard burners blamed for air-pollution troubles in many parts of the country."

"For many places there is no satisfactory answer to the garbage and trash disposal problem except household incineration with gas. Costs of conventional collections are skyrocketing and will go even higher under the impact of labor and equipment costs, population increases, traffic snarls and replacement of erstwhile dumping grounds by building developments.

Winegardner added that greater use of back yards for recreation purposes is making home owners "not just willing, but eager" to eliminate antiquated, makeshift rubbish burners.

HERE'S HOW . . . MAKE SHRUB SHELTERS

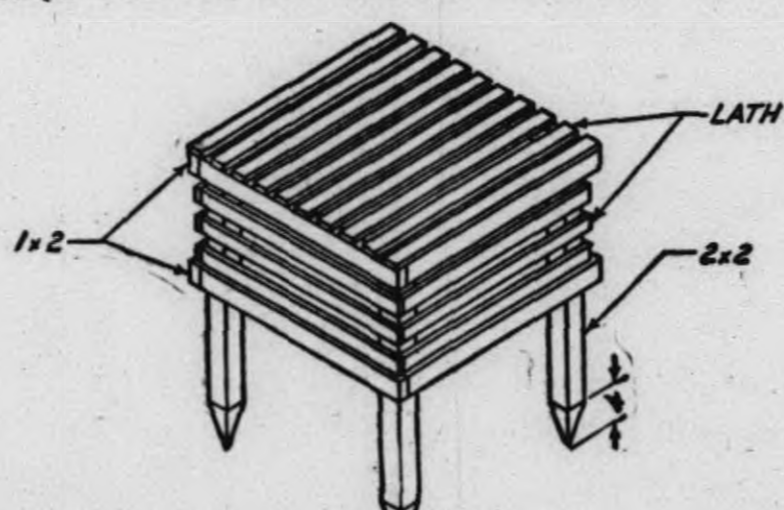

Valuable shrubs may be protected from wind and snow by easy-to-make shrub shelters.

The shelters should be made large enough to allow for the growth of the plants for several years. Each shelter consists of four 2 by 2-inch legs, sharpened at the ends and framed with 1 by 2-inch strips at top and bottom. The bottom framing is about 6 inches from ground level. Use 6-penny finishing nails for fastening.

The top lath (3/4 x 1 1/2) are spaced to allow 1/2 inch between strips. The side lath are spaced one lath-width apart. Lapping the ends of the lath and framing strips, as shown, will simplify cutting the lath to length—all pieces for one shelter may be cut to the same length. Use 2-penny finishing nails or 1-inch brads for fastening the lath.

The shelters should be painted to add to their life and attractiveness. Set them in place before the frost hardens the ground. Tap them down securely, using a mallet or a hammer and wood block.

Panel Heating Draft Free

Radiant panel heating is the most inconspicuous of all heating systems. Consisting of a series of pipe coils embedded in a floor slab or in the ceiling, the heating equipment is completely out of sight.

Hot water, controlled by a circulating pump, runs through the coils, warming the floor or ceiling to a moderate temperature and they, in turn, warm other surfaces.

Properly warmed room surfaces limit the radiant heat loss of the occupants to comfortable proportions. The loss of radiant heat by the body is correct for comfort with this type of a heating system.

Election Analysis

With the election returns now recorded in the ledger, some analysis may be made as to how the contest went in our local areas.

Plymouth, traditionally Republican, stayed that way, but the margin was shorter than in past years. Aside from Ike, who swept everything easily, the GOP edge in Plymouth was about 2 to 1. In 1952 the comparable figure in Plymouth was 3 to 1.

Livonia stayed on the Republican side, but not by much. The Republican candidate for State Senator, for example, received 52 percent of Livonia's vote.

Redford Township went Democratic to about the same extent that Livonia went Republican. The Democratic candidate for State Senator took 53 percent of the vote in Redford Township.

About 20 percent of the Democrats in all three areas split their tickets to vote for President Eisenhower. Many Republicans also left the ticket to vote for Governor Williams, though this latter trend made only a slight appearance in Plymouth, where Albert Cobo still prevailed by almost a 2 to 1 edge. In Republican Livonia, however, Soapy won by 94 votes.

From all of it, the party leaders undoubtedly will go work with these thoughts:

1. Plymouth could be slowly drifting toward the Democrats, perhaps because of a lack of organized Republican efforts to protect their past position of power.

2. Livonia, with almost the same kind of population and political climate as Redford Township, has a frail edge in the GOP column. This probably represents a better job of campaigning and selling by the Republicans of that area than has been done by the Democrats. Both parties can be expected to work feverishly in Livonia in the future.

3. Redford Township, carefully organized by the Democrats a couple of years ago, sticks in that column but not by much. There were signs this time that the Republicans have bitten into some of the Demo advantage there. One such hint was the victory of the GOP's Sterling Eaton over Democrat Harvey Beadle. Eaton took a heavy majority out of his home town of Plymouth, and its environs, but Beadle received nothing resembling bipartisan home town support in his own community of Redford Township.

The most striking single trend of the election was the attention given to candidates rather than to issues. The enormous quantity of split tickets for Eisenhower and Williams showed that the people are looking for personalities rather than programs. This was true locally as it was nationally, except in Plymouth, where the GOP voters went GOP all the way.

Our two emissaries to state government, State Senator John Swainson and State Representative Sterling Eaton, both are residents of Plymouth. This is a point of local pride, but their real friends had better be prepared to offer them sympathetic understanding for the next few months.

Michigan finances are in a mess, a fact of which the public is just becoming aware. The courts recently have ruled invalid a franchise fees tax that has been producing millions of dollars of revenue, and it is likely that a business activities tax will disappear the same way.

Altogether, when the legal smoke settles, Swainson, Eaton and their fellow legislators are apt to be looking at a deficit of $70 million dollars.

The job is to raise the money, somewhere. Nobody has proposed anything yet better than a state income tax, a bigger sales tax, or a corporation income tax of some sort. All of these have been aired in the past and have created violent protest.

Politics are absolutely no fun when the problem for the politician is raising taxes. This newspaper has a tender feeling for Senator John and Representative Sterling.

What's Your Question On World Affairs?

BY EDGAR ANSEL MOWER

"Do you see any difference between Russia's brutal crushing of the brave Hungarians and the Anglo-French attack on Egypt?" (P.A., Washington, D.C.)

The Hungarians had not attacked anybody or stolen anything. They asked only to be free of Soviet tyranny — and were crushed for their pains. But their soul will live. Egypt's little Hitler, on the other hand, has made a principle of attacking Israel, intriguing to get Western influence out of the Middle East, inciting to murder and rebellion all through Africa, and finally grabbing the international Suez Canal in defiance of a solemn treaty. Here, I submit, is difference enough.

What makes you think Israel has solved anything by attacking Egypt? I can tell you Arab hatred of Israel will be even greater than before, if possible." ("Arab Student," Philadelphia)

I suggest it will be a considerable time before Arab commands again start raiding over Israel's borders. Arab hatred of Israel may grow, but so will Arab fear and respect. Why do you suppose Egypt's Arab neighbors have not honored their treaty obligations and gone to Egypt's assistance? Obviously, to escape the fate of Egypt.

"What was the real reason for Ike vetoing the gas bill?" (J.R. Price, Lakeview, Ore.)

I should think it was a desire to avoid even the appearance of favoring special interests at a time when Senator Case had revealed an offer of $2,500 from Superior Oil Company. In his veto message the President said: "A body of evidence has accumulated indicating that private persons representing only a very small segment of industry have been seeking to further their own interests by efforts I deem to be arrogant and so much in defiance of acceptable standards of propriety as to risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes were I to approve this legislation."

"What would you do if someone chased you out of your house that you owned from your father and his father at least ten generations back?" (F. H. Audeh, Toledo)

With the exception of one village, no Arabs were chased from their houses by Israelis until five Arab nations together attacked Israel in 1948 — and got the same kind of beating that Egypt has again received in Sinai. There are 180,000 Arabs living in Israel in perfect peace — as you may go and see. They are also better off than Arabs anywhere else in the world.

"It seems that you people are actually afraid that somehow a way to peace will be found. If you really desire to do a good deed, turn your guns on that satanic greed that corrodes the souls of earth's wicked and promote Christian principles instead of greed and selfishness and corruption." (A. W. Hand, Greenwood, Fla.)

I am sorry that you resent my refusal to go along with the crowd and cry "peace, peace," where there is no peace. Surely current events are demonstrating that Americans cannot obtain peace by being nice to the Kremlin or by relying upon a vague international good will, or a wishy-washy public opinion or upon fear of the H-bomb, but only by a system of enforceable law.

State Income Tax Rears Again

A $50 million headache confronts state officials and all Michigan taxpayers. This is money the state might be forced to refund to several out-of-state corporations. Furthermore, future revenue may also be reduced by $20 million a year.

Trouble stems from a recent State Supreme Court decision that Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. cannot be considered to be operating in Michigan and subject to the state franchise tax.

Now the United States Supreme Court refuses to review the finding, an action which in effect upholds the State Court decision.

The specific case decided by the Michigan Supreme Court held that Panhandle is not required to pay a franchise tax on gas produced elsewhere and then piped into Michigan. According to the court, such a levy is an "arbitrary and unjust" burden on interstate commerce. Panhandle is a Delaware corporation and most of its gas is produced in Texas.

Big concern of state officials is that the decision establishes a precedent. It might apply to other firms. Future decisions could cover Michigan's business receipts tax. Estimates of the $50 million loss are based on this interpretation.

Some capitol spokesmen believe the decision may touch off a rash of claims against the state, requiring considerable litigation.

A Michigan income tax is mentioned as an alternative if considerable revenue is lost by the state through the Supreme Court decision.

State fiscal experts told the United States Supreme Court that if the decision is allowed to stand, it would give impetus to passage of an income tax act to regain lost revenue.

Michigan officials watched the problem develop slowly, but relentlessly, through the courts. Now they can only wait while time answers the question of what effect the decision will have on the state's finances.

A strong non-unionization resolution faced the annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers association held recently in East Lansing. Some 490 delegates representing 60,500 farmers throughout the state unanimously passed a resolution opposing "all efforts of organized labor to gain control of farm groups for any purpose."

A direct rebuff of the Fair Share Bargaining association which had vigorously attempted to unite farmers in the ranks of labor, the MMPA action declared that many of the goals of union organizations are directly opposed to the interest of the farmer.

In a further purge of FSBA influence, the delegates voted that agitators and men with opinions contrary to the best interests of MMPA, could not serve in any official capacity.

Compared to past years when meetings were torn apart by dissension over low milk prices, this year's meeting was relatively peaceful. Howard F. Simmons, secretary-manager of the MMPA, credited the new price of $5.35 per hundredweight for raw milk as the basic cause for the harmony. Annual reports presented by Simmons noted that an all time high was reached this year. Farmers received $89 million for milk, an increase of $7 million over 1955.

IF AN APPLE A DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY, business may drop off considerably in the medical profession during the months ahead.

A bumper crop—some 10,500,000 bushels of Michigan apples—is reported by Holland F. Patterson, executive secretary of the Michigan State Apple Commission. The yield is valued between $20 and $21 million.

"The crop would reach halfway to the moon if laid end to end," Patterson reported as growers in the state harvested more than one and one-half billion apples. The Michigan crop is the third largest in the nation. Only Washington and New York produce more.

While such favorites as Jonathan, McIntosh, Northern Spy, Red Delicious and Wealthy continue to be the most prominent Michigan apples, there are 40 varieties marketed from our state. "Because this year's apple crop is superior in quality, flavor and color and because nationwide apple production is down, Michigan growers are in a favorable spot," Patterson concluded.

THINKING OUT LOUD

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

Do you think the two day "any deer" season at the end of the regular season, during which bucks, does or fawns may be legally shot, is a good thing conservation-wise?

LLOYD FILLMORE, 97 South Union: "Well, I'm not a hunter, but from what I read, I think it is. It kills off the excess deer and keeps so many from starving to death during the winter months."

MRS. DONNA ZIMMERMAN, 703 North Harvey: "I don't know, I guess they might as well be shot as starve to death slowly. People may as well have the meat so it doesn't go to waste if the deer are going to die anyway."

Lloyd Fillmore Mrs. Zimmerman Neil Walker George Olowack

NEIL WALKER, 702 Blunk: "Yes, I think it is. I think they lose too many to starvation where the deer population is too high. Surplus deer may as well be killed by hunters."

GEORGE OLOWACK, Northville: "It all depends on the area. Having spent some time in a Northern Michigan agricultural area, I would say it is alright for that type area. Deer often bother farmer's crops around there."

HAROLD E. STASSEN, special assistant to Eisenhower on Disarmament problems: "Greater knowledge of the facts about each other is the only dependable basis for international understanding."

FRED FREDERICS, noted milliner: "Every woman has the right to be looked at—even whistled at."

When You Retire...

By ROBERT PETERSON

Eugene Meyer, the wealthy, outspoken owner of the famed Washington Post in the Nation's Capitol, is 80 years old. He believes folks should have a "life plan" to guide them through the years to retirement. He has followed such a plan and told Ed Murrow about it briefly on a person-to-person telecast a few months ago.

As I'm several years younger and several million dollars poorer than this eminent publisher, it was gratifying to learn that we share a mutual interest in life planning. Believing that readers would like to know more about his plan and its relation to successful retirement, I wrote Mr. Meyer pressing for details.

"WHEN I WAS 25," he replied graciously, "I read a book by William Leckey, the Irish historian. I thought his ideas on a map of life were so interesting that I began wondering how I might map my life in order to make it most worthwhile."

"I decided to divide the years ahead of me into three segments: business, public service, and retirement."

"I decided to spend 3 my years up to 40... endeavoring to make a success of my business ventures... Then I planned to give the following years to public service... And at 60 I planned to retire and grow old gracefully by being of some assistance to the younger generation."

Urges Home Training County Organic Club Of Future Citizens To Meet Saturday

"Teach Young Americans to be Good Americans" will be the purpose of the American Legion Auxiliary in its Americanism activities during the coming year, according to Mrs. Harry Burleson, Americanism chairman of Passage-Gayde Auxiliary unit.

"Importance of the home in development of good Americans will be emphasized by the Auxiliary's one million women," Mrs. Burleson said. "We believe that in the home there should be an everyday awareness of America's freedom and democracy, and that children should be taught the basic principles of citizenship. Education and training in Americanism is their best protection against the false and destructive theories which hold so much danger to America's future."

Wayne County Organic Gardening and Farming club will hold its monthly meeting Saturday evening, November 17, 8 o'clock at Mach's Flowers service room, 7608 South Merriman road, 2 1/2 miles south of Michigan avenue, in Romulus township.

"Getting Ready For Next Year's Garden" is the topic to be given by Henry DeGow of Ann Arbor, president of the Washenaw Organic Farm and Garden club. He will conduct a question and answer period. Lunch will be served. Everybody is welcome.

Auxiliary Re-Enrolls

One hundred per cent of the 1956 members of Passage-Gayde unit of the American Legion auxiliary have re-enrolled in advance for 1957. Mrs. Gwen Holcomb, Unit Membership chairman, reported today. She predicted that the unit's entire membership quota for 1957 would be enrolled before the first of the year.

"Our program of service activities for war veterans and their families, and the patriotic and civic activities we have planned for 1957 make it necessary that we begin the year with full membership strength," said Mrs. Gwen Holcomb. "The enthusiastic response we are receiving to our membership appeal promises to give us our quota of 46 members well before the new year begins."

Our Thanksgiving dinner was a huge success, and we were happy to see so many out. The wonderful dinner which was prepared by those Maccabee ladies was appreciated and enjoyed by all.

Those attending also enjoyed the readings by Effie Kuisel and songs by Susan, Cindy and Diana Lacy. All in all, everybody had plenty of eats and a wonderful evening. Enjoyed having Dora Nicholson with us and know she is feeling better.

Sorry to hear of Pearl Callan's misfortune. Best of wishes for a speedy recovery.

Our next meeting will be Wednesday, December 5, same place, same time. Will see you then.

Plans for the event have been

Services Launch Surplus Appeal

A National Capital Service of Thanksgiving in Washington, D.C. with simultaneous regional observances—a Midwest Harvest Festival in Marshalltown, Iowa, and a West Coast Thanksgiving Service in San Francisco—all held on the afternoon of Sunday,
 November 18th, will launch the 1956-57 Share Our Surplus appeal of major Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations.
 Through the SOS program, foods from our national stocks of surplus are distributed free to needy peoples abroad.

The services in Washington,
 D.C., Marshalltown and San Francisco will "spotlight" a nationwide chain of similar observances during Thanksgiving Week in thousands of communities throughout America, in which millions of Protestant Americans of all denominations will join in gratitude for peace and plenty and for the privilege of sharing their abundance with their neighbors in need across the seas.

In the food distribution program carried on for its 35 constituent denominations by Church
 World Service, upwards of 700, 000,000 lbs. of U.S. Government surpluses are expected to have been distributed free to hungry people in Asia, Europe, the Middle East and Latin America before the close of 1957.

The five most common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, excessive urination, hun-search projects valued at over $13,000,000 at The University of Michigan.

Helicopter Route Bid Includes Plymouth

Plymouth may someday have helicopter passenger, cargo and mail service, according to reports from Washington, D.C. last week.

An application has been filed with the Civil Aeronautics board for a temporary certificate to operate a helicopter service in the Detroit area. The applicant is the Detroit Helicopter Airways.

Seven routes have been required. One would include Willow Run and Detroit City airports, and the main Detroit post office by way of Ann Arbor, Jackson, Mason, Lansing, Williamston,

Farlington, Northville and Plymouth.
 Authority is being asked to fly
 within 75 miles of Detroit City Airport, similar to a set-up in Chicago.

Only one other institution in the nation has more graduates listed in "Who's Who in Engineering" than does the University of Michigan College of Engineering.

The University of Michigan's program in nuclear engineering is the largest of its kind at any U.S. educational institution.

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

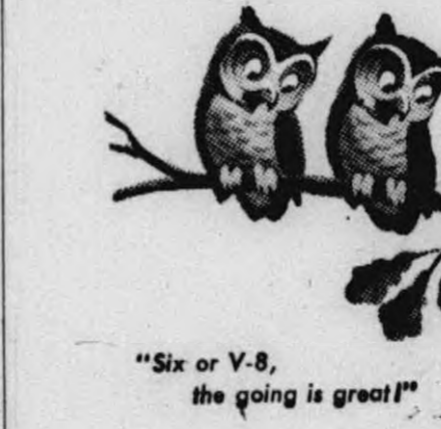

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment you let your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong... anywhere. It's the long, lean lines. There's a greyhound grace to the new Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." Ford is as trim as a jet fighter. It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victorias! Superthin center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes... longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweeter and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the roughest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8's in Ford history. In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.

"Six or V-8, the going is great!"

Just looking at this Fairlane Club Sedan is a special kind of fun!

It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days... an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

Wise man say:
 "Don't wait for TOMORROW when you can get it today!"

'57 FORD
 See it... drive it... now!

Three Rock Gridders On All League, Five Mentioned

Suburban-six football coaches nominated two Plymouth gridders from coach Mike Hoben's squad to the all league first team, named one to their second team and gave five Rock players honorable mention at a meeting held last week.

Selected for the first team were captain Ken Calhoun, Plymouth's fleet fullback, and end Ed Ward, while quarterback John Thomas was named for the second team. All three boys are seniors.

Plymouth players receiving honorable mention were Jerry King, Biff Tait, Bob Truesdell, Jerry Hearl and Carol Canady.

Ken Calhoun was chosen most valuable player of the Rock squad by an almost unanimous vote of the team members themselves, who also picked Dick Paulger as captain-elect to lead next year's eleven.

Hoopsters, Tankers Tune Up for Month-end Openers

Plymouth High School's Basketball and swimming teams entered their second week of practice this week, pointing for post-Thanksgiving openers at the end of the month when the hoopsters meet Northville in a non-league tilt on Northville wood November 30, and the natators play host to Lincoln Park November 29.

Basketball coach Charlie Ketterer hopes to sharpen his teams passing and shooting attack when he meets the Mustangs in the first of a 13 game schedule and perhaps shuffle his players into the best positions possible to offset their lack of height.

This year's basketball schedule:

OUTDOOR NOTES from the Michigan Department of Conservation

Special deer season hunting permits being issued on a first-come, first-served basis at northern district offices of the Conservation Department are going fast. Of 6,235 permits made available at eight northern offices on the morning of November 2, only 3,600 remained on the morning of November 5.

Permits for areas 5, 19, 20, and 21 were expected to be gone before mid-week. At Traverse City, about 400 remained for area 12 and 750 for area 11. Gaylord had 1900 permits still available for area 16 and Baraga had 350 remaining for area 22.

Lower peninsula district offices reported that applicants came from all parts of the lower peninsula. At the four upper peninsula offices, nearly all applicants were upper peninsula residents.

The Department's home office in Lansing was still receiving now three weeks too late to be honored, and a number of complaints from applicants who "lost out" in the recent drawings that determined who would and who would not receive permits for the nine oversold areas.

Department officials said that northern land owners, many long-time "friends" of the Department and a number of individual hunters had complained that they did not receive permits.

A letter has been prepared and will be mailed to these unsuccessful applicants, explaining the method and procedure used in picking successful applicants.

Conservation officer Harold Peters of Germfask recently apprehended two fishermen who found that fishing in the upper peninsula can be "too good."

The men, arrested by Peters, had 815 pan-ready perch in their possession—just 765 over the legal possession limit. The fish were taken from the Tahquamenon River in Chippewa county.

Exactly 20 percent of the arrests made during September for violation of state conservation laws were for illegal deer hunting or illegal possession of venison.

During the month, 315 persons were arrested for infractions of conservation laws, including 63 persons charged with violation of deer laws. Hunting deer with artificial light accounted for 35 of the violations; 18 others persons were arrested for killing deer during closed season; and 10 persons were charged with possession of venison during closed season.

Of the 315 cases, 298 resulted in convictions. Another 14 cases are incomplete and three were dismissed.

Total fines for the violators amounted to $5,793, in addition to $2,484 assessed in court costs. Jail sentences totaled 95 days and six persons were placed on probation.

Money from fines goes to library funds in the county where the fine is assessed.

The strange, accidental death of a bear in Chippewa county recently was reported by conservation officer Edward Dorie.

The bear, discovered by Harold Rath of Racoon, was found hanging in a mountain ash tree. Investigation revealed that the bear apparently stepped into a coyote trap, carried the trap and its drag for quite a distance, climbed the tree and became lodged in such a manner that he was unable to free himself.

The hind paws of the bear were about six inches from the ground and it appeared that the animal had been dead for at least a week, Dorie said.

A combination of poor hunting conditions and reduced pheasant populations resulted in generally lower hunting success throughout most of the southern Michigan pheasant range. The season ended Saturday.

Hot, dry weather early in the season hampered dogs. In addition, many fields of corn were standing, providing heavy cover and making hunting difficult.

Pheasant populations generally are spotty, with some areas producing as well as last year while other areas report populations down as much as 25 percent.

Hunting pressure estimates indicate more hunters on state land than last year, but fewer hunters on private land.

Some Conservation Department installations report increased pheasant kill, in comparison with last year. Rose Lake wildlife experiment station, near East Lansing, reported a 13 percent increase in hunters and a four percent increase in pheasant kill.

Hunters at Rose Lake took 154 ringnecks through November 4, compared with 153 birds during the entire 1955 season.

A similar increase was recorded at Fennville state game area where hunters bagged 312 ringnecks through November 4. Last year, 303 birds were taken during the entire season. Hunting pressure at Fennville is difficult to estimate because of goose hunters active in the area.

At a Department checking station at the Prairie Farm in Saginaw county, 658 hunters reported taking 208 birds. Last year, 378 hunters bagged 186 pheasants.

Proposes Zoning Changes

A meeting of the city planning commission will be held tonight to consider a change in R-2 zoning restrictions that would allow more families in an apartment house.

The present R-2 restriction limits apartment houses to a two-family size. The proposed change would increase the occupancy limit to four families.
