

Baby Derby Offers Sixteen Fine Gifts

Awaiting Plymouth's first baby of 1957 upon its arrival in the community is an array of gifts equalling the largest total ever offered in the history of The Mail's annual First Baby contest, announced contest editors this week.

Sponsors of the yearly event are 16 local merchants, each of whom will donate a present to Plymouth's first-born of the new year.

Included among the 16 gifts that will go to the first child and its parents are an engraved baby's silver cup, a pair of baby shoes, an 8" by 10" portrait, $10 worth of free merchandise and a flash camera or baby snapshot album.

The rules of the contest are simple. The baby must be born of parents having a Plymouth mailing address; a written statement by the attending physician must accompany the exact time of birth of the child; and all applications must be received by The Mail before 5 p.m. of Monday, January 7.

Last Year's First Baby contest winner was Gary Albert Krumm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Krumm, 572 South Harvey street. Gary Albert made his appearance at 9:09 p.m. on January 1.

The year before duplicate prizes were awarded when two brand new youngsters were born at nearly the same time. Judges have agreed that in the case of twins being first arrivals, or a tie between two babies, duplicate prizes will be awarded again.

The 16 local merchants and the gifts they will award Plymouth's First Baby of 1957 are: Hubbs and Gilles, a children's bedroom overhead light fixture; Melody House, Better Homes and Gardens Baby Book; Fisher's, a pair of baby shoes; Gaffield Studio, an 8 x 10 portrait; The Photographic Center, camera or baby snapshot album;

Seyfried Jewelers, engraved baby's silver cup; Kresge's, $10 worth of free merchandise; Minerva's, blanket; Beyer Rexall drugs, $5 worth of baby formula plus assorted other gifts;

First Federal Savings, will open a savings account with $5; Stop and Shop, two cases of strained baby food; Blunk's, baby bottle warmer;

The Plymouth Mail, 50 printed baby announcements; King Furniture, crib mattress; Cloverdale Farms Dairy, one month's supply of milk (30 quarts); and Hoffman and Holdsworth, choice of stuffed animal.

Petitions Circulating For Local Candidates

Only a few candidates have filed their nominating petitions for the Plymouth township and city political jobs that will be vacated next year, although the deadline for filing is next Monday.

City Commissioner J. Rusing Cutler is the only person who has filed his petition for any of the city offices. Six others, however, are known to have petitions circulating in their behalf for the commission and two other petitions are circulating for candidates who will run for city representative to the county board of supervisors.

In the township, the present board, except Trustee Herald Hamill, have filed for their jobs again. This includes Supervisor Roy Lindsay. All are Republicans. Hamill is not running.

One surprise candidate who has said that he has consented to run for county supervisor from the city of Plymouth is Mayor Russell M. Daane. Daane is ineligible to run for the commission again because of a charter rule preventing more than two succeeding terms. The present supervisor, Norman Marquis, announced Saturday that he would not be a candidate. The job of supervisor is for four years.

Another person known seeking the supervisor's position is George Witkowski, owner of the Plymouth Dental Laboratory.

Petitions for city commissioner are known to be circulating for Commissioner Harold Guenther, 1142 North Holbrook; Thomas Notebaert, 1321 Hartsough; Dr. J. M. Robison, 884 Penniman; Carl Shear, 785 South Main; Richard Wernet, 387 Adams; and William Hartman, 383 Blunk. As pointed out, none of these commission candidates except Cutler have yet filed. Others still have time to enter the race and those with petitions circulating still have time to change their minds.

Unlike the city which has non-partisan elections, Plymouth township still maintains the battle between the Democrats and Republicans. No word has been received from the Democratic camp about their candidates. They are expected to have at least a partial slate.

In the city, if more than two candidates file for each vacancy, a primary election is needed. There are four commission vacancies and the one supervisor job. In the township, a primary election is needed if more than one within a party files for a vacancy. Jobs open are that of supervisor, treasurer, clerk and two members of the board. There are also the offices of a justice of the peace, four constables, two board of review members and highway commissioner.

If there is a primary, it will be held February 18. The general election will be April 1. The deadline for filing nominating petitions is Monday at 4 p.m.

Off-Duty Northville Officer Nabs Prison Escapee Here

Alertness on the part of an off-duty Northville policeman brought about the recapture of an escaped convict who early Wednesday morning was hobbling on a broken foot near his stolen car at the Plymouth city limits on Plymouth road.

Apprehended by Officer Ray Nowicki was Paul Case, 31, who Monday fled from Nebraska State penitentiary. Case told how he had escaped from the prison by jumping from a 12-foot fence. It was then he broke his foot.

The convict said he crawled two blocks where he stole a car and then had driven 28 hours to Plymouth to see a sister who lived here. But she had moved away.

Nowicki, 40, related yesterday afternoon the events that led to his capture of Case, a strapping 6-footer.

The policeman, who lives at 34920 Elmira in Livonia, was on his way home from working an afternoon shift in Northville. It was shortly after midnight. Nowicki had just passed another auto when he saw a man standing along the highway waving a flashlight.

The auto that Nowicki had just passed stopped to offer assistance. Nowicki in turn halted and walked back to the other car. The driver who stopped to offer aid turned out to be Nowicki's next-door neighbor, Edward Lumpiesz, 34934 Elmira.

Case told the two men that he had run out of gas and when he climbed from his car had fallen, breaking his left foot.

Nowicki noted that the man was wearing clothes much like prison garb. He asked Case if he had any personal identification or identification for the automobile, a 1953 maroon Plymouth with Kansas license plates.

Case replied that he had no identification and then told how he had escaped jail Monday. He asked to be taken to "the station" where he would tell everything.

Nowicki brought Case to the Plymouth jail and Wayne County sheriff's deputies were notified. The sheriff's office sent a car to take him to Wayne County General hospital for treatment.

While awaiting the sheriff's deputies, Case told of his escape from the penitentiary in Lincoln, Nebraska, where he was serving a term for burglary. He also said he had escaped from Marquette State Prison here in Michigan on July 27, 1949. State Police confirmed this.

Doctors placed Case's foot in a cast and he was taken to the jail at the Wayne County Sheriff's department.

One young boy was caught by a resident as he was taking bulbs last week and turned over to police. The thefts, however, have continued. Even entire strings of lights have been taken.

Reports from other communities tell of similar vandalism.

REPORTING THEIR best business year in the history of Daisy Manufacturing company is the board of directors, shown here at the company banquet last week. On the newly reorganized board, seated, are Edward Hough, president and treasurer; and Miss Pauline Peck, director. Standing, are Roy Tolleson, a Detroit attorney, director; and Cass Hough, executive vice-president and secretary.

Daisy Manufacturing Has Its Biggest Year

For wage-earners in the top bracket, the bonus at Daisy Manufacturing Company for the full year of 1956 is a record $1,030.

Half of that goes into a retirement fund and the balance is paid in cash. The good news—and the checks—were passed out at a Merry Christmas banquet attended in the high school by more than 600 employees Thursday.

The profit-sharing slice is based on 30 percent of the company profit (before federal income tax) going to the employees. They divide it in varying amounts according to hours worked during the year and total seniority with the company.

About 20 percent of the bonus was paid last June but the big announcement at the banquet was that the individual shares (the maximum that is) for the June to December period would total $866.16—half in cash, half to the retirement fund.

Executive vice-president Cass Hough accompanied the announcement with some general remarks which revealed that 1956 was the best year in Daisy history for both sales and profit. Total sales he said, were approximately $9,700,000 and estimated gross earnings approximately $1,950,000. The employee share of the profits was $529,807.46. (It was $383,000 in 1955, a 38 per cent increase for 1956.)

On an hourly basis, the bonus amounts to 56.3 cents over regularly-drawn wages.

A total of $1,277,000 now sits in the retirement trust fund. "Unless all signs fail, business should be as good in 1957—maybe better," said Hough.

In his remarks, the executive vice president called attention to the absence of "Uncle Charley" Bennett, who passed away during 1956. "Knowing how he felt about parties, he would have liked to be here," he said.

Also recalled was the first such employe banquet, 31 years ago at the Penniman-Allen theater. (Continued on Page 8)

Barn Fire Causes $1000 in Damages

Damages amounting to an estimated $1000 resulted from a fire which last Friday evening destroyed part of a barn belonging to William Haugh, 3008 Canton Center. The barn, located at that address, was not insured, reported the Canton township fire department.

A quarter of the barn at the west end was ruined by the flames which also burned 300 bales of hay and 100 bales of straw. Firemen from Canton township, Plymouth township and Superior township battled the blaze for nearly three and one-half hours.

An investigation is now underway to determine the cause of the fire, said fireman Larry Longwish of the Canton unit. The call was received by the Canton department at 5:10 p.m. The firemen returned at 9 p.m.

Deep mud surrounding the barn forced the trucks to remain well back from the barn. Firemen had to reel out nearly 700 feet of hoses to reach the flames and battle them.

Royal Rodders Hotrod Club Gaining Recognition

"You've just been served by a member of the Royal Rodders," reads the small printed card.

Many Plymouth and neighborhood motorists already have, or will shortly, be reading these words. They will appear on a courtesy card offered by a young teen-age driver.

The occasion will arise when you find yourself, a stranded motorist, parked along a street in Plymouth or by a busy highway somewhere in the area. Your auto is out of gas or has a flat tire.

A high school-age youth will perhaps stop his car, lend you a helping hand, give you his Royal Rodder courtesy calling card, and send you on your way.

As you drive off you recall the young man's car. It was void of chrome, had skirts on the rear fenders, was a sleek black color and sported dual exhausts. The driver was a "hot-rodder."

But a unique hot-rodder he was. He has a membership in a local club named the Royal Rodders. His motto is "Safety First on the Highways."

The Royal Rodders, boasting a membership of 22 Plymouth boys, is two years old this holiday season. And only recently has it been receiving the recognition it deserves.

The formation of the club was prompted by the desire on the part of three teen-agers to eliminate street-racing in the city.

School, Government Officials Preview '57

What can citizens expect from their city or township governments and school district during the coming year? The Mail has asked Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, City Mayor Russell Daane and School Superintendent Russell Isbister to gaze into the 1957 model crystal ball to predict what they foresee in their respective entities.

Because of constantly changing conditions, none of the three men will guarantee the results of their predictions, but base them only on what information is now at hand. It is evident today, for instance, that the "tight money" policy of the government is "keeping the lid" on fast growth here and may discourage costly improvements requiring bond issues.

But here are what the three men have to say:

City

No large projects will be started by the city during 1957, as far as Mayor Russell M. Daane can foresee, but the $600,000 sanitary sewer project now underway should reach its completion in August.

The sewer project, which started last summer, will mean that sanitary sewers will be available in all parts of the city. The sewer will also mean that several subdivisions will be able to go underway during the coming year.

Two major street improvements which Mayor Daane said that should be attempted in 1957 include Ann Arbor Trail and South Main. Ann Arbor Trail, from Hamilton to the city limits, should have curb and gutter, new pavement and widening where necessary. The same treatment should be given to South Main street, he added. Ann Arbor Trail, the mayor pointed out, should have precedence.

Now that the south end of the city is to have its sewers finally installed, what is the possibility of a bond issue to have all the city's streets paved where necessary?

Mayor Daane answered this question by noting that all present property owners with paved streets paid for them by special assessment. In other words, only those having a paved street paid for it. A general obligation bond issue would require all taxpayers to pay for the improvements.

"This," the mayor said, "would not be fair for those who already have been assessed for paving their own streets."

He stated, however, that the city would like petitions from as many homeowners as possible asking for special assessment paving in front of their properties. These petitions should be filed in January so that they can be figured into the next budget.

"Although we can't foresee the bond market for the good year to stay away from big bond issues for public improvements," the mayor declared. Interest on bonds is now extremely high.

The city will get back into shape next year the streets now being torn up by the sewer.

The East-Central Parking lot, located behind the Penn Theatre, will probably be paved during the coming year, the mayor continued. But whether parking meters will be installed or not still is not decided. The city also will continue its long-range program of replacing old street lights with more powerful ones.

There will be two major private business and industrial buildings starting next year. (Continued on Page 8)

Township

"We're going ahead with our sewer and water program now—regardless of any court action," Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay declared this week as he looked toward 1957.

The sewer and water program has been the prime target of the township for more than a year now but several factors have held up the start.

Supervisor Lindsay predicted a year ago that the sewer and water system would be completed in 1956. Now he is confident that the approaching year will make the system a reality. How has the picture changed?

In the first place, the supervisor states that he now hopes that the city has its annexation plans "out of its system." The city filed two petitions this year to annex about 285 acres of township land, including the tax lucrative Burroughs corporation. Both petitions were rejected by the board of supervisors due to technical errors.

While these petitions were pending, bond buyers were not interested in purchasing any sewer and water bonds from the sewer and water authority that encompasses Canton and Plymouth townships. But there has been talk recently that the city may file legal action against someone, somewhere—thus keeping the bond buyers away longer.

While the main problem facing the Plymouth Community School system during the past three years has been the shortage of classrooms, the problem of 1957 will shift to another area—finances.

Superintendent Russell Isbister notes that the opening of the James Gallimore Elementary school and Plymouth Community Junior high school will alleviate the classroom shortage for the first time in three years. But where to find an extra $50,000 to the $70,000 a year more to run the two new buildings will be another problem.

At least $50,000 will be needed to operate the two new buildings, the superintendent said. In addition, expenses will naturally be higher as the cost of living goes up, and this cost of living factor will probably enter discussions about salaries for school personnel.

Right now the school system is operating with 12.95 mills and another 9 mills is for debt service. Isbister states that the board might find a way of dropping down some of the debt retirement millage and using it for operating. This would take a vote of the public. He estimates that additional costs will take about two years.

"For the first time in three years we will have enough classrooms for normal operation of our schools," the superintendent declared. When the elementary building on Sheldon road is completed next month and the junior high is finished in September, there will be 49 new classrooms available. "Of course," the superintendent added, "some don't like where these classrooms are located."

(He was referring to a recent decision by the board to move sixth graders from Bird school to the Gallimore school next month and some other sixth grade classes, if necessary, from other schools to the junior high next fall.)

After the present junior high building is abandoned in the fall, the senior high will take over the facilities.

As for enrollment in 1957, the superintendent is not predicting as great an increase as in recent years. "Tight money," he asserted, "has cut down home construction and some of these subdivisions won't be developing very rapidly." He expects the total enrollment to gain between 100 to 150 next year. In recent years, the gain has been between 200 to 300 yearly. (Continued on Page 8)

4 Winners Named In Holiday Home Decorating Contest

Fifty dollar savings bonds will be awarded Friday to the four winners in the Plymouth auto dealers' Christmas Home Decorating contest, announced the Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

The winners are: Kenneth Felt, 8810 Elmhurst; A. B. Conery, 768 Fairground; Fred Elton, 40434 Gilbert; and L. W. Lewis, 11290 Gold Arbor. Judging took place Sunday by two members of the Garden club and two members from the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

No specific categories were included in the judging, which was based on originality and artistic ability. The judges toured Plymouth's populated areas. All of the winners received equal awards.

The Felt home was decorated in "extremely neat" fashion. A star at the corner of the house with accompanying decorations was the theme. The Elton arrangement included Santa on a chair on the porch with reindeer in the yard. It was lit with "Santa Claus" sled and reindeer in the front yard plus a large greeting card on the porch was the decor at the Lewis home. Conery's decorations included lights over the front of the house, Santa Claus, reindeer and carolers in the yard and music from a hi-fi set from within the house.

Sponsoring the contest were: B & H Mercury, Ernest J. Allison, Barry & Archibald, Jack Sells's Buick, B. E. Fittinger Oldsmobile Cadillac Inc., Forest Motor Sales, West Bros. Nash, and Paul J. Wiedman, Inc. (Continued on Page 8)

Symphony Ball Plans Readied for Saturday

Final plans are being made for one of Plymouth's social highlights of the year, the annual holiday Symphony Ball. It takes place this Saturday night in the high school auditorium.

Starting at 9:30 p.m., the dance is held yearly between Christmas and New Year. Tickets are now being sold at the Hotel Mayflower, Beyer's drugstores and Cassidy's.

Providing music for this year's affair is the Bernie Vogel orchestra from Detroit. The five-piece orchestra also features the singing of Miss Betty Brown.

While there are many private parties and dances scheduled throughout this holiday season, the Symphony Ball offers the entire public an evening of pleasure. Many college students home for the holidays attend the dance yearly.

Mrs. Thomas Adams is general chairman of the event.

Mr. and Mrs. John Monteith

First Presbyterian is Setting Of Pomeroy-Monteith Ceremony

Following a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, New York, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Monteith have made their home at 322 Blanche street in Plymouth. The bride is the former Jacqueline Lee Pomeroy, who was united in marriage with Mr. Monteith Saturday, December 1 at 8 o.m. in First Presbyterian church. The Reverend Henry J. Walch, D.D., performed the ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Pomeroy, 9563 Southworth, and Mr. and Mrs. John W. Monteith, 442 Adams. The bride, carrying a bouquet of white mums and orchids, was given away by her father, Fred Nelson, organist and Nat Sibbold sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" at the ceremony. The new Mrs. Monteith wore a floor-length gown of Skinner's glaze satin, topped by a yoke of re-empowered alecon lace with sequins and pearls. Long sleeves came to a point over the wrists and the huge skirt included a scalloped yoke and chapel train. Her crown was of sequins and pearls with a fingertip veil of illusion. The bride's sister, Carolyn Pomeroy, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina dress of light green silk taffeta with round neckline and short sleeves with velveteen trim. The bodice fell into full back panels of darker green velveteen and she wore a small hat of velveteen and matching mits. Wearing a string of pearls, the gift of the bride, Miss Pomeroy carried a bouquet of yellow baby mums. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Joanne Rowe, Miss Margaret Duty and Miss Judy Monteith. They wore gowns similar to that of the maid of honor only in tangerine trimmed in dark brown velveteen. A junior bridesmaid, Pauline Pomeroy, sister of the bride, wore a dress like that of the maid of honor and bridesmaid, only in light pink trimmed in darker shades of pink. She wore matching hat and mits and carried a bouquet of light blue baby mums. Bob Lewis was the best man and Leonard Millross, Dick Hively and Ed Hyde served as ushers. Bobby Monteith, brother of the bridegroom, was a junior usher. Worn by the bride's mother was a two-piece blege suit with matching brown accessories and a brown orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. There were 175 guests at the reception held at the Veterans Memorial hall from Northville, Livonia, Detroit, Port Huron, Sturgis, Breckenridge, Wayne, Howell and Plymouth. For her going away-outfit, the bride wore an orlon beige sheath dress with matching brown accessories and an orchid corsage. The new Mrs. Monteith was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1955 and was employed at the Automobile Club of Michigan. The bridegroom is employed at Dunn Steel Products and was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1953.

Johnson-Koontz Nuptials Read At Kingdom Hall

Following a short trip into Canada, the former May Marie Johnson and William Koontz have returned to their apartment home at 556 Fairground avenue in Plymouth. They were united in marriage on Saturday, December 15 at the Kingdom Hall here.

The 7:30 p.m. wedding was conducted by Del Ludwig. Parents of the newly-weds are Mr. and Mrs. Troy Johnson, 130 Elm Place, South Lyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Locke Koontz, 610 Randolph, Northville. Mr. Johnson gave away his daughter who was dressed in lace white net over satin. The floor-length, high-neckline gown had long sleeves, coming to a point over her wrists.

From her crown with sequins and seed pearls flowed a fingertip veil. The new Mrs. Koontz also wore tassel pearl earrings and gold slippers and carried white carnations centered by a white orchid with yellow lips.

Mrs. David Williams, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Wearing blue lace over taffeta with a bolero jacket and carnation headpiece, she carried a pink carnation bouquet. David Williams served as best man and Lee Willoughby was the usher.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit and white jeweled hat while the bridegroom's mother wore a cinnamon colored suit with matching hat and a pink rose corsage. There were 127 guests attending the reception from South Lyon, Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City, Detroit, Pennsylvania, Cranston, Wisconsin, Milford, Mt. Pleasant and Wayne. For her going away outfit the bride wore an ice blue peplum suit, gold and brown accessories and the center orchid of her bouquet.

County Farm Bureau Maps Plans for Year

A program for the coming year was discussed when the Wayne County Farm Bureau Committee met at the Sheldon M. E. Church last week. Twelve committees held their workshop.

One of the important groups is the membership and roll call committee, which consists of Joseph Istvan of Bell road, George Carpenter of Cogswell road, Charles Berry of Haggerty road and Walter Scott, chairman, of Huron River drive. It is their duty to enroll 600 farm families in the county into the Farm Bureau by January 15.

The Michigan Farm Bureau's drive for 70,242 farm families in 1957 will be launched tomorrow at the Lansing Civic auditorium. About 3,000 Farm Bureau leaders throughout the state are invited for the workshop and instruction.

Three Cities Club Plans Workshop

At the December meeting of the Three Cities' Art club at the home of Mrs. Fred Hart of Northville, it was planned to spend each meeting working together in either sketching, painting or clay modeling. The January meeting will be at the home of Hilda Sands and members will have a model to pose for them for sketching.

Other matters discussed at the December meeting were the forthcoming Spring Art Exhibit of pictures of the three cities as subject matter. It was proposed to make the exhibit a travelling outdoor show and in the "market place" of each city on a Saturday afternoon where it could be easily seen and enjoyed by all. Several members, Hilda Sands, Olive Zick, Joan Wehmyer, Hilma Aubert and Marion Sober brought in sketches of people and places of interest to them in the locality.

Car Rams Front Doors Of High School Building

A car was driven against the front doors of the high school building sometime last Saturday night, causing several hundred dollars in damage.

Superintendent Russell Isbister said that the act was probably vandalism, rather than confused driving. Tire marks showed that the car drove up the school sidewalk from the west and made a left turn into the doors.

Bumper guards apparently straddled a post and struck two doors. The heavy metal doors were dented, one of them badly enough to smash the glass window and spring the door.

The car then backed up to turn around and left the school grounds the same way it entered. The superintendent estimated that damage may be at least $200.

American Legion News

The Juniors distributed 26 Christmas favors to the Orchard Haven Convalescent Home on Wednesday, December 20, 1956. They also are working on the favors which are to be delivered to the V.A. Hospital in Ann Arbor. The Juniors really enjoy this work, and in turn the patients enjoy the favors.

Attending the funeral of Past Department Commander, Gene Hauck, of Lansing, from our post and unit were Harold Wilson 17th District Commander Maxine Kunz and Oscar Hammond, third vice-commander of Northville.

The post and unit distributed gifts to Maybury Sanitarium, Sunday, December 23. Service and Welfare Officer Bernard Kot, Mrs. Kot, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson made the trip.

Our monthly trip to V.A. Hospital in Ann Arbor is Thursday, December 27. Let's have a good turnout as the Juniors are making favors for us to distribute with our cookies. The boys there really enjoy our visits.

Thanks to all the boys who worked on our Christmas tree project and to the public in co-operating with us and purchasing their trees from us. Maxine Kunz, Christmas Card Chairman, deserves a big thank you on the good job she done on the cards. We did wonderful on both projects. Again thanks to all. We wish to thank Flagg McCartney for the use of his property to sell our Christmas trees.

NOTICE OF CHANGE: The next 17th District Meeting will be held January 11th at Redford Detroit.

First business meeting of the Post will be January 2nd, Veterans Community Center.

The Juniors' first meeting of the year will be January 2, 3:30 in the sun-room at the Veterans Memorial Center.

First business meeting of the Auxiliary will be January 10, 8 p.m.

Again this year we make a call for all Christmas cards and occasional cards to be saved. Contact Gwen Holcombe regarding this project, 1759M. This will be a Junior Activity program.

Save your old newspapers and magazines and call Vern Miller, 715-W, or Donald Kinghorn, 1026-R.

The Post and Unit extend a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year to all. Thanks to all who have helped us on all our programs through out this last year.

THESE ARE SOME OF THE THINGS WE HAVE DONE AS A SERVICE TO THE COMMUNITY DURING 1956 . . . . .

1. Established a local Scholarship Program.— A special 4-year $1,000 college scholarship has been set up, at the rate of $250 annually, to help towards the education of qualified, deserving students. Any student of Plymouth High School is eligible to receive this scholarship. Miss Marilyn Paul was awarded the scholarship this year and is attending Moody Bible School, Chicago, Ill.
2. Purchased a new ladder truck for the City Fire Department.— A fully equipped fire truck was purchased for the City of Plymouth Fire Department and was put in service immediately. Previously The Association purchased over $500 of safety equipment including a resuscitator for the Fire Department squad car.
3. Assisted the city fire chief in carrying out a comprehensive fire safety program by providing junior fire marshal equipment and other services.
4. Contributed $100 to assist in financing the Governor's Fire Prevention Conference in July, of which our local fire chief was general chairman.
5. Instituted plans for another state fire inspection of business establishments in Plymouth, similar to the inspection carried out 3 years ago which was also sponsored by the Association.
6. Organization of a Safe-Teen Program for teenagers of our community. Further details of this program will be released later.

These worthwhile community activities are financed by commissions which individual agents receive on all insurance written for the City of Plymouth and the Plymouth schools. These commissions are placed in an Association fund from which these projects are financed.

A SPECIAL COLUMN . . . for the holiday season and best wishes for the coming year

There are many aspects to the holiday season . . . and most of them good. There is the light and glitter of busy stores and sparkling decorations. There is the spirit in the air as people everywhere forget for a while their own concerns in planning how to bring happiness to others. There is the remembrance of Christmas past, and anticipation of the New Year before us. There is the look of wonder in the eyes of children . . .

It is a time of greeting old friends, of cheerful gatherings of happy families. It is a magic time . . . and one that brings us all closer together . . . But in many countries around the world this Christmas will not be happy . . . and even in our own land there will be those who will be left out of the general festivities.

Therefore we all ought to remember that we are the fortunate ones. We should make the most of the season . . . but at the same time we need to reach out to help those who are not so fortunate. And perhaps each one by his own small efforts can bring the world closer to that time of "Peace on earth, good will toward men." May this Christmas and the New Year be your finest.

Sincerely,

Carl Peterson

Ever since the first crystal ball gazer found somebody who'd listen to him there have been predictions that the world was about to end. Sometimes it has looked as though we were getting kind of cozy with eternity . . . but somehow the old world keeps spinning on its way.

Looking back over 1956 some of us remember it as an election year and the time of the Olympic Games in Australia. It has been a year when the Suez Canal looked more like a short and lighted fuse. It will be some time before the terrors of Hungary and Poland are forgotten. In 1956 the Andrea Doria was sunk, Admiral Byrd went back to the South Pole, Notre Dame had one of the worst seasons in football history. Now 1957 is on the way . . . and may it be a happier year for the whole world, and may Plymouth continue its steady progress toward being one of the key communities of Michigan.

See where a New York school board planned to let the students choose the name of a newly built school . . . until most of the votes started coming in for "The Elvis Presley High School."

As the New Year approaches, we want to wish all of you the best of everything . . . and to remind you that the best of everything for your medical and pharmaceutical needs is close at hand, throughout the year and every year . . .

"Remember . . . Someone you know, knows me . . ."

GRANGE GLEANINGS

There was a crowd of about one hundred, not counting the real small fry either, that enjoyed the Christmas party of the Grange last Thursday night. The little folks furnished the program and did it very well. Mrs. Collins read the Christmas story of "The Little Girl in the Yellow Dress." The double quartette sang several songs with the audience joining in. Candy, apples and popcorn balls were passed around to everybody. The Christmas tree looked very pretty. Santa Claus came bounding in with his pack of toys which were given to the small folks for whom they were meant. It was a very foggy night so we think we had a splendid crowd considering the weather.

The sympathy of the Grange goes out to the children of Mr. Curtis who passed away December 19. He was such a jolly old man everyone liked him and he will be missed by his many friends.

Our Grange is growing very fast so we are out growing our dining room. Those who join us are unanimous in saying it is a fine group to belong to and everyone enjoys the fellowship.

Our next meeting will be on January 3. Pot-luck as usual. Let's have a good crowd. Several new members are to be received into the Grange during the business meeting. The program is to be "Amateur Night" which should be quite interesting and perhaps a lot of fun. So now is the time to display any talent you may have.

New Achievement Firm Receives B-G-R Charter

The A.W.T. (All Work Together) company, a new Junior Achievement organization sponsored by Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, was presented its charter Monday noon, December 10, at a luncheon at the Mayflower hotel. C. J. Stofko, general manager of BGR, made the presentation of the charter to Dick Bourgon, president of the new A.W.T. company. The 20 young businessmen and women who make up the A.W.T. company toured the BGR plant that same morning. Later they began taking initial orders for their product, a glass carrying tray made from plywood with brass wire handles. The achievers forming A.W.T. are juniors and seniors from Plymouth, Bentley and South Lyon high schools. The firm will remain in existence until the middle of May at which time the members will make an annual report and liquidate the company. This year marks the fourth year that BGR has sponsored a Junior Achievement company. The luncheon at the Mayflower was attended by all 20 of the firms officers plus advisors Ed Mandziara, Joe Spaunburg and Ken West each of whom are employees of BGR and who spend their free time advising the achievers.

C. J. STOFKO, general manager of BGR, presents the firm's charter of organization to A.W.T. president Dick Bourgon.

Hotel Clean-plater Takes Money Instead of Pony

Ten youngsters were named as prize winners in the Hotel Mayflower's "Johnny Billington Clean Plate Club" for 1956, with the top award going to Connie Jackman of 9800 Hubbard, Livonia. Connie could have had a pony, but she didn't know where to keep it at home, so took a check instead. Evans bicycles were won by Charles Krause, 18938 Lauder, Detroit; Suzanne Robertson, 20491 Ardmore, Detroit; Nancy Ritzler, 38415 Plymouth Rd., Livonia; and Ricky Lawrence, 9170 Steet, Detroit.

CONNIE JACKMAN OF 9800 Hubbard, Livonia, Mich. is congratulated and given a check in lieu of a pony by Ralph Lorenz of the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth. Connie was the 1956 prize winner in the "Johnny Billington Clean Plate Club". She had no place to house a pony so took the money instead.

Two Plymouth boys won tricycles: Steven Devine of 9275 Joy Rd. and C. J. Hudson of 706 Burroughs St. Cameras were presented to Diane Kay Ambler, 417 Dunlap Street, Northville; Jennier Kalenbach, 1608 Shadford Road, Ann Arbor; and Carla Lauer, 24658 Woodcroft Drive, Dearborn. Prizes were presented by Ralph Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower.

We'd like to add to the chorus of good wishes coming your way on this happy holiday.

School Predictions

Finding replacement teachers will still remain a problem, is-bister continued. Because salaries in the metropolitan area continue to raise, attracting teachers is still a highly competitive job. What about another elementary building in '57? The superintendent said that he does not know if another building will be started or not. It will depend upon more population growth and in what part of the district the growth comes. In concluding, the superintendent expressed his faith in parent groups and the Community Planning Group as effective means of instituting ties between the school and the citizens.

City Predictions

Work will begin in the spring on the actual construction of the Western Electric building on Sheldon road. Land was cleared this fall. It will not be finished until 1958. Two related Detroit insurance firms are locating their home office on Plymouth road just inside the city limits. Land has been cleared for this project, that will later include a small shopping center and apartment buildings.

May all 365 days of the New Year be filled with health, happiness and prosperity for you and your family.

less of whether or not there is legal action, the township has been assured that bond buyers would be interested. He cautioned, however, that bond buyers are refusing to take bonds nowadays from anyone unless the interest rate is right. Construction of a sewer system also depends upon finding more water. The supervisor said that permission has been given by the road commission to drill in two spots in the parkway. "We need to find one more good well to get this thing going," the supervisor commented.

Also scheduled for 1957 is the final approval of the new township zoning ordinance. Another hearing on the revised map will take place in January. Work on this new zoning map has been going on for two years.

The supervisor said that there is no industrial expansion anticipated during the coming year, but that residential building will increase. The Greenspan Development company expects to start selling homes in the northeast part of the township next year and another local builder is opening a project on Ann Arbor road, west of Haggerty.

Looking at roads and highways, Lindsay said that the township finally convinced the road commission to fix North Territorial road. Sheldon road paving was also completed during the past year. Lindsay said he is now trying to get Sheldon road paved from Joy to Ann Arbor road paved. As for the township hall itself, the supervisor said that long-range plans will call for expanding the fire department facilities and other offices in the hall.

Royal Rodders

The Royal Rodders were recently admitted to the South-eastern Michigan Timing association, which has provided the local club with a drag strip in Tecumseh.

Members in the club average between 17 and 20 years of age. They're all from Plymouth. A valid operator's license is necessary to apply for membership. The club plans to give money from its treasury to charity.

The Plymouth police department has furnished the use of the junior police building in the central parking lot so that the club may hold dances. So far four dances there have been highly successful.

Other members are: George Davis, Norman Terry, Jim Preston, John Smith, Dave DeCoster, Jerry Hotchkins, Gordon Smith, Larry Gavigan, Jim Archer, Tom Preston, Don and Dick Wallace, Don Todd.

The club has its own policing program whereby any member seen street-racing is immediately placed on probation. If he's caught at it again he's dropped from the club rolls. Few members have been expelled.

Markham explained that a waiting list is building up as more and more Plymouth boys apply for membership in the fast-growing Royal Rodders. The club's success is apparent and its recognition, late in coming, is much deserved.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Louise Casterline
Funeral services were held last Friday for Mrs. Louise R. Casterline, 86, of 372 Yerkes avenue, Northville. She died December 18 in University hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Casterline had lived her entire life in Canton Township, Plymouth and Northville area. Born January 13, 1870 in Waterloo, Ontario, she was preceded in death by her husband, Fred, in 1939.

Surviving are the following: three sons, Clifford of Northville, Ray of Canton Township, Clyde of New Hudson; two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Briggs of Northville and Mrs. Esther Dixon of Plymouth; a brother, Harmon Schrader of Canton township; four grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Mrs. Casterline was a member of First Methodist church in Northville. Services were held at 4 p.m. from the Casterline Funeral home with the Reverend Ivan Hodgson officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery, Plymouth.

when 110 employes found a tree on stage. They received their bonus in five dollar gold pieces. The bonus then ran from $20 to $30. Hough cited among the accomplishments during 1956 that of "spreading the work over the whole year instead of peaking it at certain periods." He said this involved risk in proceeding to pile up great inventories on the basis of anticipated sales. It also involved immense storage problems during the mid-summer months.

He also expressed pleasure in the progress made with new products for juveniles—holsters and guns that make noise but don't shoot pellets. "A man whom I respect told me that our line is the best looking and best made in the whole juvenile toy industry," said Hough.

Guest speaker for the banquet was Joseph B. Maier, executive secretary of the Council of Profit Sharing Industries, Chicago. With the help of colored slide films, he traced the growth of profit-sharing companies from primitive times to the present.

Set Registration In Adult Program For Next Month

Registration will begin the third week in January for the various adult activities offered during the second semester under the Plymouth adult education and recreation program, said Director Herb Woolweaver last week.

Woolweaver explained that classes will get underway the first week in February for the second half of the 1956-57 year.

A schedule of activities to be offered during the next half year will be available at numerous places starting January 9, said Woolweaver. The schedule book may be obtained at that time from the city hall, the library, the chamber of commerce office and at the recreation office.

The same schedule booklet will be sent home to parents through their school children, Woolweaver explained.

Cheryl Beagen has a brand new baby brother, Thomas Michael, born Monday, December 17th and weighing 8 pounds, 2 ounces. Thomas Michael's parents are Ruth and Tom Beagan of Vermont street. Ruth will stay at her mother's home in Royal Oak when she leaves the hospital just before Christmas, and Cheryl is already staying with Grandma for the holidays. Congratulations, folks, you've lost that extra bedroom, but you've gained a son!

Sorry to report that Sam, pet parakeet of Betty and Roger Johnston of Vermont street was found dead in his cage last week. Sam, who never had very much to say, possessed the curliest tail in birdland, due, we hear, to falling into a pail of water, and just recently flew into the living room wall and knocked himself out. Perhaps, on Sam's passing, we should say, "There are old birds, and Bold Birds, but no Old, Bold Birds!"

The Gizowski family has been quite busy recently. Skippy had a 10th birthday Monday, December 10th and this date also marked the wedding anniversary of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moynihan. To celebrate both events Jean held a family dinner on Sunday, December 9th. Skip received his heart's desire from his grandparents—a gas motor airplane!

Saturday night, December 8th, Jean and Stan Gizowski attended the Eonic Company's Christmas party at the Whittier Hotel while the grandparents baby sat. Heard that Stan executed a neat hula dance during the evening's merriment! Stan seems to be a man of many talents—barbequed chicken one week, and the hula the next!

The Cup and Saucer Pinochle club met at the home of Jean Gizowski Tuesday evening, December 11th. Jean won first prize—a cup and saucer, natch—and Ida Stettler won booby prize, a Christmas corsage. The girls exchanged gifts and made this meeting into a Christmas party.

Sorry to hear that little Paula Klensk, Vermont street, fell down the basement stairs and broke her arm.

Rosedale Garden Junior Civic Teen club is holding a Holiday Dance tonight, December 27th at the clubhouse on Hubbard. This dance is open to children of Civic members and their guests only. A small charge of 50c per couple or 35c stag is to be charged. Refreshments will be served. Come one, Kids, this is going to be fun and close enough to home so the folks will let you out! Senior High teens, only!

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith of Virginia street left Friday, December 14th for Lansing for the weekend where they attended a Christmas party and dance and stayed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Boerner.

The Junior High Westminister Fellowship met December 21st and went carolling and then met at the home of Mrs. Hoegy.

Ann Opland, 9624 Mayfield, has the mumps, we hear, an affliction that has been with the family for about 2 months now. Ann is the last on the list, so anyone who needs a case of mumps is welcome!

Vince Sullivan, Blackburn avenue, really surprised his wife Marion Saturday night, December 15th by taking her out to dinner and having the neighbors at the house when they returned for a real surprise birthday party.

The Pomroys attended the semi-monthly square dance at their club in Berkeley Saturday night, December 15th with the Edward O'Hallorans of Royal Oak.

Rosedale Garden Presbyterian Church's Christmas Eve Carol Service will be December 24th from 10:45 to 11:45 with music by the choir. Everyone is invited, and this would be a wonderful way to forget the hustle and bustle and capture the real meaning of Christmas.

The 2nd grade Brownie troop held its meeting at Grant school at 3:15 Monday, December 17th and had a Christmas party and made gifts for their fathers which we are forbidden to describe at this time! Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Reilly, leaders, kept things going at a lively pace, and Mrs. Dana and Mrs. Pomroy assisted. The girls played games and sang carols and refreshments of cookies and ice cream were served. John and Kris Dana and Joanie Reilly were small guests.

Celia Hearon and Mrs. Naimola took the 5th grade Girl Scout troop Christmas carolling Tuesday evening, December 18th. After carolling the girls returned to Hearon's to toast marshmallows in the fireplace and have hot chocolate.

Mrs. Leon Starr, Aston Road, Detroit, visited her daughter, Betty Dana of Vermont street Tuesday, December 18th.

Went to the Grant School Christmas program Wednesday, December 19th at 9:30 a.m. and the program would have been very enjoyable if anyone past the 2nd row of seats had been able to see!

At the risk of being an old fashioned fuddy-duddy, I would like to state that multipurpose rooms are for the birds when they must replace auditoriums! It hardly seems fair to the children who work so hard if their own folks can't even see them and half the thrill of being in the program is being able to spot Mamma in the audience! Anyway, it was a real cute program, even if "Joseph" wasn't old enough to grow a beard in time! Noticed a very sleepy angel in the manger scene, too.

Kay Taylor portrayed Mary, Gary Scheel, Joseph, Gary Tobin, Linda Wendt and James Drake as the three Kings of Orient, James Leamy, James McDonald and John Allen the shepherds and Barbara Maurer, Tom Morrison, Donna Leech, Sherry Reichert, Jan Joworski and Diane Fournier were readers who read the Bible passages.

Carols were sung by the various grades, ending with a chorus of all the grades singing "Silent Night" and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas". The windows were done by the 4th and 6th graders and a Nativity mural by the 6th graders and greatly added to the atmosphere. Miss Siefert, 2nd grade teacher played the piano for the songs, and was on the program committee along with Marvel Decker and Esther Brown.

The Citizen's Republican Club of Livonia held its Christmas party Friday night, December 14th at the home of Bob and Joanne Davis on Vermont street. Bob is President of the club. Those present besides the Davises were Helen and Bob Coloske, Pearl and Forest Bunker, Joan and Allen Stevens, Helen Byers, Jean and Paul Daugherty, Ann and Art Conklin, Shirley and John Kimpton, and Doris and Jack Kennedy.

Jeanette Amman, Blackburn avenue, entertained the Inmaculata Circle of St. Michael Church Tuesday, December 18th at its Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged and refreshments were served.

A Christmas party was held at the home of Celia and Travis Hearon, Vermont street, Friday night, December 21st. Those attending were the Danas, Firmhabers, Fortneys, Yadoskys, Balickis, and the Pomroys. Dancing and games formed the entertainment and a pot luck supper was served.

Tuesday night, December 18th the Men's Brotherhood Ladies Night Dinner was held at Rosedale Garden Presbyterian Church. At 8:00 p.m. the men joined the ladies for the Women's Association Nativity Pageant given by the Junior choir and Adult Women's choir after which tea was served.

Did you notice the largest tree in front of the clubhouse is all decked out in lights for Christmas?

Little Change In Recreation Standings

	W	L
Beglinger Olds	3	0
Hickory Farms	3	0
Plymouth Independents	2	0
Northville St. Hosp.	1	1
S. L. Brader	0	2
Daisy Mfg.	0	3
Northville Rec.	0	3

The standings in the men's recreational basketball league remained virtually the same last week as the teams saw action on only Tuesday evening. The seven squads took a holiday recess, resuming play once again this evening at Plymouth's gymnasium.

Northville State hospital made the only apparent move in the conference, climbing into second place by virtue of a victory over Daisy Mfg. 46-42. The hospital five currently carries one win as opposed to one loss.

Other successes were notched by Beglinger Olds (61-46 over S. L. Brader) and Hickory Farms (54-37 over Northville Recreation). However these decisions failed to change the complexion of the league as it completed two weeks of battling in the 1956-57 season.

Plymouth Independents, idle while the other six squads duelled among each other, maintained a front-running tie with Beglinger and Hickory Farms percentage-wise. The Independents have won only two games, with no defeats, while Beglinger and Hickory Farms have each won three with no setbacks.

Brader, Daisy and Northville, all losers last week, remained at the bottom of the ladder.

Bud Nedry poured in 23 points, top contribution to date this year, to pace Beglinger's margin over Brader. Martin Kennedy scored 14 for the Brader crew.

Northville State hospital was headed up by Isaac Hall's 12 points in its win over Daisy. But Max Algood and Jack Hille of Daisy took individual game honors from Hall with 15 and 14 respectively.

Bob Lullis and Bill Parks, each with 10 tallies, sparked Hickory Farms' offense on the way to a conquest of Northville Recreation. Once again, however, game honors went to a member of the losing team, Northville Recreation's Bill Lovette hit for 11 points.

Class "D" and class "E" recreation cage play got underway last week when one tilt was played in each circuit.

In class "D", Plymouth Mail's five topped Davis & Lent 43-31 behind Ron Markham's 11 points. Tom Carmichael dumped in 15 for Davis & Lent.

In Class "E" the Optimists (Tom Marshall's eight helmed) set down Lutheran 21-15. Ray Tisel got seven for Lutheran. The remaining teams in both leagues will be idle until after the holiday vacation.

A statistician took his children to the zoo one Saturday. Later he handed his wife this memorandum on the day's activities:

Dried tears 11 times; tied shoes 13 times; balloons bought 3 per child; balloons' average life 13 seconds; told children not to cross the street 21 times; children crossed the street 21 times; average number of Saturday's I'll do this again, 0."

Agent—Yes, a good virtuoso.

Mr. Newrich—Never mind about his morals. Can he play?

Cage, Tank Squads Take 2-Week Layoff

Plymouth high school's varsity athletes, sporting their flashiest swimming and basketball records in years at present, last Friday welcomed a two-week holiday lay-off. Both the cage and tank teams have nabbed three quick wins thus far into the 1956-57 session.

Action will resume once again for the tankers on January 3 when the Dearborn swimmers come to town. The basketball squad picks up again on January 4 against Livonia-Bentley, the league's defending cage champion.

The Rocks' swimming team has rolled to victories over two relatively powerful opponents, Lincoln Park (59-37) and Birmingham (57-39), and plastered Belleville (60-32) to add so much frosting to the cake.

Marching along at a basket-amine cadence, the cage quintet has scored decisions over three much less powerful basketball teams. Nevertheless, the margins of victory have been impressive.

In the opener Northville took it on the chin, 62-44. Plymouth followed up with a 65-54 edge over Allen Park and then conquered Belleville, 64-36. Allen Park and Belleville are the league's "weak sisters" currently.

Bentley, on January 4, will furnish Coach Charlie Ketterer and

★ THINKING OUT LOUD ★

One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

"With New Years coming up next week, do you think it is proper for high school students to have organized New Years Eve parties?"

JOAN BECKER, 1455 Penniman: "I don't see anything the matter with it, if it's the proper kind of party. They should have supervision. I don't know if I'm going to one this year or not, but I don't see why kids should sit at home."

LAWRENCE JUDD, 14488 Northville road: "Why I think it's all right—it's a good means of recreation. I don't think they need supervision. We're old enough to take care of ourselves. Yes, I'm going to a party this year."

Joan Lawrence Arlene Mary Lee

ARLENE KUBICK, 49600 Ann Arbor Road: "I don't think they should have them unless they are properly chaperoned. It's a good idea for kids to get together. It should be considered just another party—not the way their parents go to it."

MARY LEE HAUG, 9700 Joy: "With parents there or chaperones it's all right. It will depend upon the group. I don't know if I'm going to one yet or not."

OUTDOOR NOTES From The MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF CONSERVATION

Michigan has a "reserve pool" of presently unused lakes that can be used in the day when our growing population drives fishermen from today's more popular fishing waters.

These are sterile northern soft-water lakes and the southern marl bottom lakes. In total, Michigan has several hundred of these lakes.

The water chemistry of both these groups of lakes is such that little vegetation and fish food is produced and consequently little fish life.

But Conservation Department biologists have proved that vegetation can be produced in both types of lakes at moderate cost.

Fisheries workers added bags of peat to the southern marl bottom lakes and dumped lime in the northern soft-water lakes and both showed increased production of fish food. Both tests have ranged over the last several years.

If a man hunted all day for 15 days, in a mile-square enclosure containing five bucks, it seems that he couldn't miss bagging a deer.

Well, he didn't get his buck. The "man" involved here is a product of statistics, but the deer and the situation are genuine. Conclusions are based on the annual controlled hunt at the Conservation Department's Cusino wildlife experiment station in the upper peninsula.

In order to bag one of the five bucks in the Cusino enclosure, Department hunters had to spend about 108 man-hours of hunting—more than 15 full days of hunting for one man.

The controlled hunt is designed to remove surplus deer and to provide further information on the effect of a certain hunting pressure on a known number of deer. In total, it took 243 man-hours of hunting to bag two bucks, five does and three fawns from the herd of 29 deer in the mile-square area.

The hunt was set up with a two-day "bucks only" season and a four-day "any deer" season. Nine of the deer, including one buck, were bagged in the four-day section. During this "any deer" hunt, it took an average of about 15 man-hours of hunting to get each deer.

Other information gained from these controlled hunts at Cusino emphasizes the tremendous reproductive capacity of deer. Each year, about one-third of the deer are taken from the enclosure, but fawn production brings the herd back to its original level. In contrast, hunters take only 10-12 percent of the state's deer herd each year during regular hunting seasons.

From three to nine Department hunters took part each day in the Cusino hunt. The 10 deer taken were turned over to public schools for use in hot lunch programs.

Hunters found that deer driven were the most effective means of hunting. Less productive methods used were still hunting or stalking, trailing and sitting.

Hunters shot 350 Canada geese near the Seney wildlife refuge this year. All were birds that were raised at the refuge.

This total bag reflects the growing success of a waterfowl experiment started 22 years ago on a near-worthless stretch of cut-over, burned-out swamp in the east central upper peninsula.

Three hundred pinioned Canadas were used to start the experiment. This year, 3000 summered in the area.

"We have tried to establish wild rice as a growing part of the refuge habitat," said C. J. Henry Fish and Wildlife Service manager at the refuge. "But there are so many geese now that they eat off the young shoots before they can grow and spread. We are going to plant rice now like a farm crop and let the birds do the harvesting."

Henry spoke before nearly 300 biologists at the Midwest Wildlife Conference held in Lansing December 10-12.

He said that the goose population is now well established but not yet big enough for extensive hunting.

Also, the station is now attempting to start a reared duck colony. Biologists released 178 wing-clipped ducklings in August and more releases are planned in the next few years.

Chemical sprays are being tested and may be used to make waterfowl openings in presently unused areas of the 96,000-acre refuge.

Fishermen are reminded that bass seasons close in all Michigan lakes and streams December 31. Bass seasons closed in trout waters September 9, but are open in non-trout waters until the end of the year.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Last week on the editorial page we ran a piece telling how it's costing some residents of Plymouth Township a lot of extra fire insurance money because the Township does not rent the hydrants from the city. Also, that the city is losing something that could be added to the treasury in the form of hydrant rental.

"It sounds stupid," a reader called to say, "but why don't you suggest something to do about it?"

All right—here's one opinion. We think the Township Board should make a formal request to rent the hydrants, offering a fair rental price. And the City Council should accept the request.

It would be a shining gesture of good will and a splendid, fresh approach with which to start a New Year.

On Page One of this issue is a story telling the details of the profit-sharing bonus distributed by the Daisy Manufacturing Company last week. It was a magnificent year for the company, a fact which gives a cheerful glow to Plymouth in general.

The statistics presented by Cass Hough to his employees caught us a little bit by surprise—and they probably are better than most of our citizens have realized. We knew air rifle sales were sliding downward three or four years ago, and had sort of assumed that's about where the matter rested today.

The fact is, however, that Daisy quietly and efficiently has been enjoying a sparkling revival. In three years since 1953 the sales of one product alone—air rifles and BB shot—has almost doubled, going from 860,000 units to 1,416,000 annually. That's a lot of air rifles—and BB's.

For the entire operation, Daisy's gross sales this year will be just a shade under 10 million dollars, an all time record. Profits are at a record-level, too, and hence so are the employe bonus benefits.

An interesting note is that a good part of the comeback can be traced to tough, patient public relations work. The company has taught safety with air rifles through clubs and organized programs all over the country. It has made a motion picture; the executives themselves have hit the road tirelessly to train, speak, and organize clubs.

That kind of work is not easy, nor is it particularly satisfying at the time you're doing it, because it's impossible to know what you're accomplishing. But Daisy has some figures on the books now that are their own reward.

Since Charley Bennett's death there have been a lot of gloomy rumors around town about the future of Daisy. Our own inquiry indicates the rumors are pure bunk. There'll be some inheritance taxes to pay in a few months, after the figures are assembled, but there's nothing in the picture that would indicate a change in the nature of the Daisy operation.

Some of the fun of the Daisy employe party was lost because the morning Free Press jumped the date on a press release and printed the amount of the profit-sharing bonus. Normally this is presented to the employes as the big surprise and climax of the party.

Daisy gets no sympathy from us. They should have saved the story for The Mail, anyway, and let the Detroit papers pick it up the next day. We wouldn't jump any release dates . . . word of honor.

We mentioned a couple of weeks ago the little old lady who dropped a host of bum checks around Northville, using a story that she had money coming soon from a trust fund. Her technique was to write a big check and then accept a lesser portion of cash for it, the difference being profit for the believing merchant who was willing to wait for her trust to sail in.

Well, the police caught the lady in Ohio. Her comment was merciless. "They were after my money and I was after theirs. That's about all there was to it," she said.

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County Library

The Dunning Wayne county library last week received 34 new books to add to the shelves. In addition the library received a 12-volume electrician's manual by Frank D. Graham entitled "Audel's New Electric Library".

Tops among the 14 new books is an autobiography by Marian Anderson, famed contralto opera singer, who came from the obscurity of a metropolitan slum area and has received wide acclaim for her great opera voice.

A story of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, "Gone With The Windsors," by Iles Brody, will also be welcomed by library patrons.

A. J. Cronin's new book "Hatter's Castle" is another new addition, along with such novels as "The Success" by Helen Howe, "By Sun and Candlelight" by Patricia Campbell, "Just Be Yourself" by Mary Bard, "Twice Have the Trumpets Sounded" by Clarke Irwin and "The Holiday Book" by Francis X. Weiser.

A stirring story of a U. S. Navy submarine is also a newcomer to the library. It's entitled "Through Hell and Deep Water" and is written by Charles A. Lockwood, vice-admiral, USN, retired, and Hans Christian Adamson, colonel, USAF, retired.

Completing the recent shipment of new books are: "Puppets and Plays, a creative approach" by Marjorie Batchelor and Virginia Lee Comer; "American Seashells" by R. Tucker Abbott; "Atoms for Peace" by David Woodbury; "The Bible for Family Reading"; and "Exploring Mars" by Robert S. Richardson, a scientific analysis of the closest planet to Earth.

Who's New in Plymouth

MOVING TO PLYMOUTH from Flint only two weeks ago was the Harry Unwin family, 1301 Hartsough. Formerly with the Chevrolet plant in Flint, Mr. Unwin is a foreman at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant here. He is a native of Canada. Mrs. Unwin is a native of Flint. "We drove through Plymouth and we loved it," Mrs. Unwin answered when asked why they moved here. Children are: Peggy, 4; Cathy, 6 months; and Michael, 5.

Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. K. N. Garlock of East Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Gifford of Detroit and Mrs. Isaac Van Dyke of Zeeland are house guests for Christmas Day and the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leemon and son, Peter, on Ann Arbor road.

On Christmas Day Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wiedman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Minock and little daughter were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Wiedman in their home in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deyo and family of Van Wert, Ohio, joined his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Deyo of Church street, and their other son, Bruce, and family of Milwaukee, Wis., for the holidays.

Dr. and Mrs. John L. Olsvager are enjoying the Christmas and New Year holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Showalter and family in Wheaton, Ill. The Showalters moved into their new home in time for the holidays.

Mrs. Gould Offers Holiday Dish

A traditional Christmas-holiday treat from France is this week's favorite recipe, a Touquet pie (similar to meat pie) suggested by Mrs. Loren Gould, 13925 Ridgewood drive. This recipe, not a rich one, makes a pair of two-crust pies.

Mrs. Gould explained how you could make up the dish ahead of time and then serve it in a jiffy by just quickly heating it in the oven. She says it's good as a late snack, too.

Women Should be "In the Know" Regarding New Year Fashions

This is the time of the year that all women should really dig for fashion facts. Read up on all reports that have any bearing on the garments you are thinking of buying. Evaluate them and then carefully jot down what is on hand in your closet that can be worn again this new year.

Make sure you understand what materials are in the fabrics of all the garments you buy. Some combinations have wonderful wearing qualities and are easy to keep. Others, costing just as much, do not wear as well, are easily rumpled and do not clean well.

Don't buy a new cut of dress or suit unless it is becoming. The woman who goes to any extreme to be stylish and wears all the new designs, just because they are new, is usually a comical-looking figure.

The older you are, the more careful you must be about the color and detail of your clothes. There is a somewhat standard rule that a woman over forty should never wear black. This is just so much rubbish. It is true that the mature coloring is usually flattered more by a color, however, there are some gray-haired women who find that black is their best color.

Blouses are always an important item in the winter fashion picture. If you are planning on buying some blouses, you should be acquainted with the popular fabrics like cotton broadcloth, pima broadcloth, pure linen, linen-like rayon, dacron-and-pima cotton blends.

To have proper fit, your blouse's shoulders must be wide enough to let the sleeves fall easily but not so wide the shoulder seems droop. Armholes should be comfortable, and not cause ripples under the arms.

Science Makes Sheets Whiter and Brighter

Your cotton sheets are going to get even "whiter than white" in the future, thanks to the wonders of modern science.

It's done through the magic of dyes called Calcofluor whites, which are brightening agents developed by the dyes department of a well-known chemical company. The whiteners make light shades and pastels brighter, too. Calcofluors are dyes which when added to fabrics in minute quantity change the light reflecting quality of the goods to make them brighter.

Here's how they work. When a fabric absorbs rather than reflects the blue waves of the light band, the color is off-white or yellowish, since without the blue the yellows dominate. Calcofluors replace these lost blue waves with some of the invisible ultraviolet light which they trap from the upper band of the spectrum.

Eggnog Tarts For The Holidays Based On Seasonal Milk Product

By using commercially prepared eggnog as the base of chiffon tarts or pie, the preparation of a beautiful holiday dessert is practically done when started. The milk and egg mixture is dairy-assembled. To create the pie filling, unflavored gelatine, sugar and salt are added to the bottled eggnog. Then whipped cream... for smooth richness... and flavorings are folded in. Finally diced cling peaches go in to golden-fleck the chiffon filling, and peach slices are arranged in a poinsettia design to trim each tart.

Unflavored gelatine captures the air beaten into the whipped cream. That's why this eggnog filling is velvety smooth and light to the tip of the tongue.

Flavor with vanilla and almond extracts or an equal amount of rum or sherry flavoring. Tart shells or a 9-inch baked pie crust hold the filling. And if a packaged pastry crust is used, all ingredients for this modern holiday dessert will be pantry shelf and refrigerator handy.

EGGNOG TARTLETS

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 1/4 cups bottled non-alcoholic eggnog
- 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, optional
- 2 teaspoons rum flavoring, optional
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 1 can (1 pound) cling peach slices, drained
- 6 to 8 baked tart shells

Combine gelatine and sugar in top of double boiler. Stir in 1 cup of the cold eggnog. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatine and sugar are dissolved. Remove from heat; add remaining 1 1/4 cups eggnog. If additional flavoring is desired, add nutmeg and flavoring. Chill until slightly thicker than the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in whipped cream and 1/2 cup of well-drained, diced peaches. Spoon into pastry tart shells, baked 9-inch pie shell, or into dessert dishes. Chill until firm. Decorate with remaining peach slices in poinsettia motif with finely cut maraschino cherries for flower centers.

To keep apples from turning dark, sprinkle the peeled fruit with citrus or pineapple juice. For a large quantity of apples, place slices as they are peeled into cold salted water (1 teaspoon salt per quart of water).

Potatoes need not be fattening. It's the gravy, butter and other calories. There are no more calories in a medium sized potato than in an apple or banana. Remember—it's the total of all food we eat that adds pounds.

- 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 cup milk
  - 2 eggs
  - 3 tablespoons beef drippings
- Sift together flour and salt. Add milk gradually, stirring to form smooth paste. Beat eggs and add to mixture. Remove roast, pour off drippings from roasting pan and measure back 3 tablespoons. Pour in batter. Bake in a moderate hot oven (400° F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Cut into squares and serve around roast. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Cookies may be baked and stored in your freezer for as long as six months, providing they are properly packaged.

Try Beef Rib Roast In 1957

The New Year always brings thoughts of the future. Every home, school and office has set tentative plans for 1957. As Mrs. Homemaker, U.S.A., try planning into the future. Foresee the different menu ideas available for the new year.

Your first menu task in 1957 is an easy one if planned around a beef standing rib roast, according to Reba Staggs, home economist.

Select a 2 to 3-rib beef standing rib roast. Have the chine bone loosened from the rib side. After the meat is roasted, the chine bone can be removed before carving.

Allow 18 to 20 minutes per pound for cooking a rare roast, 22 to 25 for medium and 27 to 30 for well done.

When you're ready to roast the meat, season it with salt and pepper. Place it fat side up in an open roasting pan. Then insert a roast meat thermometer so that the bulb does not rest in fat or on bone. Make sure the bulb rests in the center of the thickest muscle.

It is not necessary to add water or to cover the meat. Roast the meat in a slow oven (300° F.) to the desired degree of doneness as indicated by your roast meat thermometer.

The typical accompaniment for this English dish is Yorkshire pudding, a favorite among the British people.

Preparing and Storing Cookies Difficult during Holiday Time

Cookies are almost synonymous with the Christmas season. In fact, the many different kinds often lead to some confusion as to how to prepare and store each kind.

Food specialists point out that there are two general types of cookies. One is made from a stiff dough and is shaped and baked on a cookie sheet in a hot oven, 400 to 425 degrees F. These cookies are uniform in shape and color, crisp but not hard, tender but not crumbly.

These crisp cookies are done when they are a delicate brown. Remove them from the sheet while they are still hot and soft to avoid breaking them. Let them cool on a rack or a clean dish towel. But take care not to stack or store them until they are cool.

Keep crisp cookies in a tightly covered container. Put soft cookies in a cookie jar. Do not store the two kinds together as the crisp cookies absorb moisture from the soft ones and become limp.

In describing the softer cookies, the specialists say they are made from a cake-like, fairly stiff batter which is dropped by spoonfuls onto a cookie sheet or spread in a shallow cake pan. Cookies of this type are soft or chewy and cake-like inside, like brownies and bar cookies.

You can tell when bar cookies have finished backing by touching them lightly with your finger tip; the top will spring back. Bar cookies are cut while hot and left in the pan to cool.

Cookies made with pastry flour spread during baking so leave 1 to 1 1/4 inches between them on the cookie sheet. They will brown more easily if baked on a sheet, but if you do not have one, you can use any low-sided pan. If your pans don't have low sides, turn the pan over and bake the cookies on top of the inverted pan.

Scientists Study Iron in Humans

The atomic age has come to dinner, and the dinner story is about some - scientific - circle tours. The tours are the routes taken by the foods we eat as they are changed into energy and body cells.

Values of many foods may be more readily studied since the discovery of those scientific laboratory tools - radio active minerals. When the scientist adds tiny amounts of a radioactive element to a food he dubs the act "tagging."

Reports have been made as to how iron, tagged for travel in various foods, is used by the body. Tagged iron, also called radioiron, was introduced into iron-rich foods. These then became a part of the carefully controlled diets of a group of 80 healthy young people and also patients with iron deficiency anemia.

The tagged iron was added to foods by putting it in poultry rations, by including it in the water solutions in which some vegetables are grown, and by adding it to flour from which enriched bread is made.

When these foods were included in the diet, the scientists were able to study the fate of the iron with equipment similar to that used by uranium prospectors. The radio activity revealed the location of the tagged iron and the amount of radioactivity served as an index to the total iron present. People deficient in the mineral, used more of the dietary iron than those who had sufficient stores of iron.

While other little children are playing with their Christmas toys the two small children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ketcherside will be wondering what has happened to all the mysterious packages which have been arriving at their home. The home with all its belongings, including the clothing of the children and their parents were completely destroyed Sunday afternoon in a fire which left little remaining.

Monday evening the Plymouth high school band under the direction of Mr. Evans and under the auspices of the Plymouth Kiwanis club, made it's annual Christmas appearance at the Detroit House of Correction.

Hundreds of friends from all over the country were present last Sunday to help the Salem Federated church celebrate it's 100th anniversary.

Wednesday was surely a most happy day for the dozens of youngsters who were fortunate enough to be invited as guests of the Plymouth Rotary club. Each Rotarian was asked by president Walter Nichol to be present with his guest as well as have a gift for that guest pinned to the Christmas tree.

Mrs. Maud Cooper and son, Winston, will be guests of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reekie, in Detroit on Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Holcomb and little daughter of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bordinie of Cherry Hill, Mr. and Mrs. George Dunn and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eckles and family will spend Christmas day at the home of their father, W. A. Eckles on Ridge road.

Two Retire at C&O; Service Totaled 90 Years

Two men, whose total service time adds up to 90 years, retired Friday, December 14, from work at the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

They are Marcus McGraw, 371 Auburn (after 50 years) and Max Farquharson, 189 North Mill (after 40 years). McGraw was an engineer, Farquharson a clerk in the mechanical department.

Neither man as yet has made any plans for the future. Said McGraw: "I'm going to take it easy for a while and loaf." Farquharson echoed: "I don't know what I'll do - just loaf for the time being."

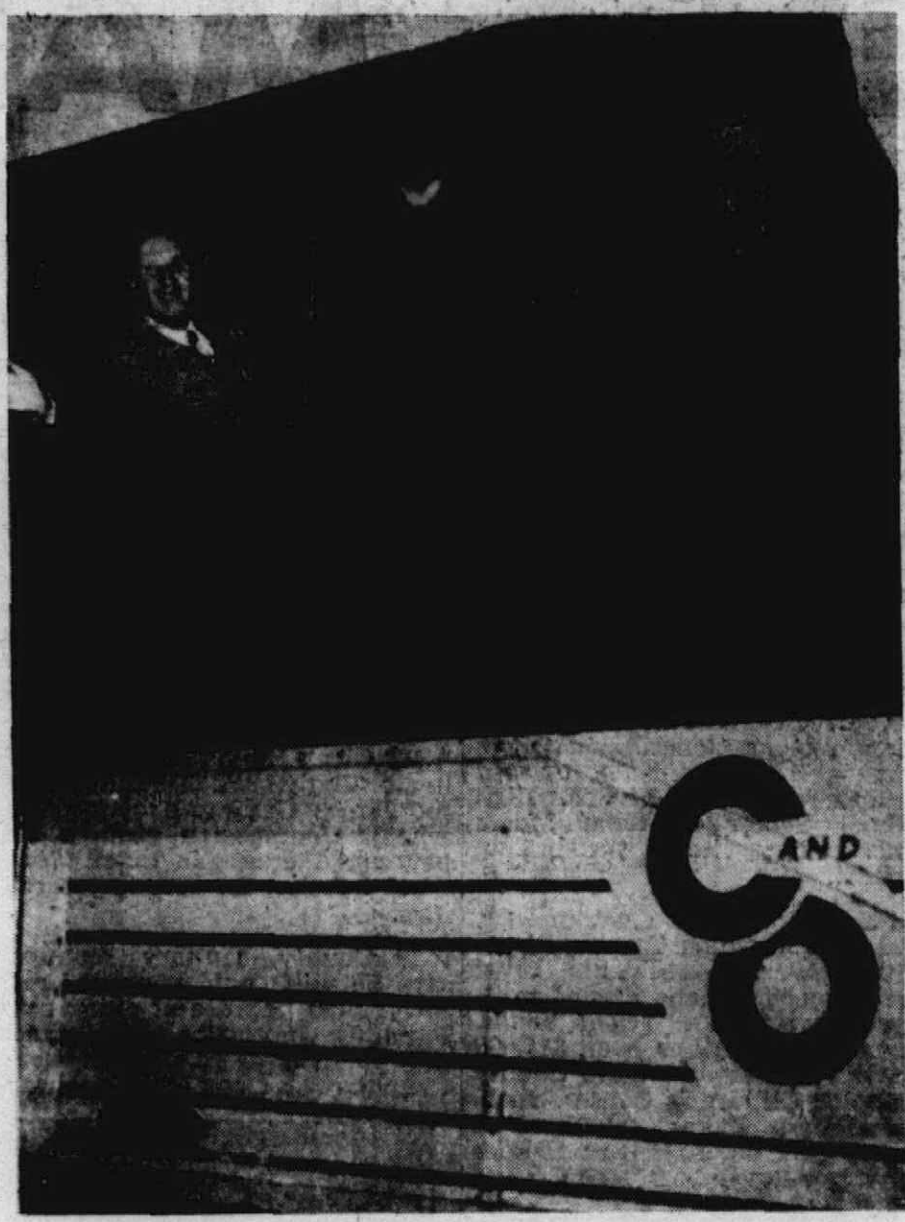

McGraw, 65, was 15 years old when he hired in Saginaw on November 14, 1906. Over the years he's been a crew caller, brakeman, switchman, fireman and round-house mechanic. In 1919, the year he moved to Plymouth, he was promoted to engineer.

Most of his time as an engineer has been spent in the switching yards in Plymouth and Detroit. But he recalls the days as a fireman for locomotives as his moments of biggest thrills. He seems to prefer the modern diesel engines to the by-gone steam locomotives.

McGraw was born September 27, 1891, in Chicago. He was raised in Saginaw.

Farquharson, 70, started out with the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, worked on the Pere Marquette which in turn was taken over by the Chesapeake and Ohio. He came to Plymouth from Grand Rapids in 1938.

Farquharson, equally unsure as McGraw about what to do with his retirement, laughed as he told of getting up at 10 a.m. one day earlier this week. He has been the treasurer of the railroad's employee credit union for the past 15 years.

FINAL WAVE from the cab of a locomotive was given last Friday by 65-year-old Marcus McGraw, 371 Auburn, who retired after 50 years of work with the railroad. Max Farquharson, 70, of 189 North Mill retired the same day after 40 years as a clerk on the railroad.

Scout Leaders, Adults Meet at Round Table

Leaders and interested adults from various cub scout, scout and explorer scout groups gathered Thursday evening, December 13, at Allen Elementary school for a "round table" meeting.

The theme of the meeting was "Eyes in the Sky." It included a discussion of plans for scouting in January. The meeting was opened by Dr. Sam J. Prisk, assistant commissioner in charge of scouting for the Sunset district.

The group sang Christmas carols. Refreshments were served later in the evening. The Sunset scout district includes Belleville, Garden City, Livonia, Inkster, Northville, Wayne and Plymouth.

On the wonder of a crisp veil for any hat! You can often restore crispness by pressing the veil between layers of waxed paper... But—for more lasting stiffness dip the veil into a solution of gelatin—one teaspoon of gelatin to one cup of water. Squeeze out excess moisture and stretch veil to original shape by pinning to a flat surface.

Marsia Rubey reports that Intermediate Scout Troop 21 which is sponsored by the Mom's club of Plymouth sang Christmas carols at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor Wednesday night, December 12. On Wednesday night, December 19, the girls sang carols at Orchard Haven Convalescent Home. Later they enjoyed a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Wayne Rubey.

An overnight was enjoyed by Intermediate Scout Troop 30 on Friday night, December 7, at the Girl Scout lodge. Mrs. Ross Hedrick, Mrs. J. E. Cooper and Marie Reddeman stayed over night with the girls, as well as Earl Leffler, troop leader. After supper Friday night, the girls sang Christmas carols and made Christmas decorations. The troop is having their Christmas party today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Stahl Edmunds.

Mitten Tree Successful

The "Mitten Tree" conducted by Girl Scout troop 3 was reported this week to be a huge success. One hundred thirty pairs of mittens were hung on the tree. Some of these were distributed throughout Plymouth by the Goodfellow organization, while the remainder were turned over to the American Friends Service committee for distribution overseas. Mrs. William Edgar is an advisor of troop 3.

Fine Salt on Icy Walks Saves Damage to Shrubs

Icy, snowy weather means that home owners will be looking for ways to prevent slippery walks and steps, yet avoid damage to nearby shrubbery.

Richard Pfister and Joe Cox, extension specialists in farm safety and landscape architecture at Michigan State University, say there are ways to have safe doorsteps and yet not "pickle" nearby landscape plants.

Sprinkle walks with finely ground salt mixed with sand. This will break up ice and prevent slipping while the ice is melting. Fine salt will be diluted quicker and as a result not be as injurious to plants as will concentrated rock salt.

When shoveling snow, dump it on the lawn rather than around shrubs, particularly if the salt content is high. It will cause less harm to grass than to shrubbery or evergreens.

If you have some leftover granular lawn fertilizer, it may be sprinkled lightly on slippery walks to help make them safe. This fertilizer will be available to plants in the spring. However, be careful not to get this fertilizer too thick or on the foliage of plants as it will burn severely. Also, this fertilizer may track into the house and do damage to rugs. A shoe-cleaning mat at the door will prevent this from happening.

The specialists also suggest checking for leaky eavestroughs or poor surface drainage that permits water to run onto walks. Of course, when possible, prompt sweeping of snow from sidewalks will prevent ice formation, the specialists point out.

Another tip for reducing danger from icy steps is to leave porch lights turned on during times that visitors might be arriving.

Porch Gone, New Roof On, House Is 40 Years Younger

The cheerful, up-to-date suburban home above was once the drab 1910 house shown at right. Taking off the old-fashioned porch and adding attractive modern features, such as a new gray-blend asphalt roof, new ponderosa pine window units, and black wrought iron handrails, caused the transformation.

Removing a large old-fashioned porch can make a house of pre-World War I vintage at home in a modern community.

Before remodeling, the 40-year-old house at right looked small and squat, and its dated look was emphasized by old-styled windows. The porch cast a shadow on the entrance and blocked daylight from the living room.

The porchless version (above) reveals the attractive basic proportions of the house and permits a bright, cheerful interior.

All windows were replaced. An attractive addition is the large multi-paned ponderosa pine picture window, which "invites" the outdoors into the living room and gives the passerby a glimpse of the cozy interior.

Re-roofing is almost always necessary in remodeling an old house, and today's roofing is available in a wide range of new colors that do a lot to give aging houses a young look. Here a light gray-blend asphalt roof is attractive in itself, and forms an attractive background for the white siding.

The yellow shutters on the second floor window emphasize the horizontal lines of the house, making the structure look lower and wider. The new paneled entrance door is carnation red.

Cleaning aids for the bathrooms can be conveniently stored in a bathroom cabinet constructed by the home craftsman.

All joints are mitered with the help of an 8-inch high miter box. The top, bottom, sides, back and shelf are made of 1 by 8-inch lumber. The top and bottom of the cabinet are cut 9 inches long; the sides are cut 20 inches long. Assemble the frame using glue and 6-penny finishing nails. If desired, use angle braces to strengthen the joints. The back is cut 18 7/16 inches long. Attach the back with glue and 6-penny finishing nails. Place the shelf 10 1/4 inches from the bottom and finish with the back. Fasten with glue and 6-penny finishing nails.

The door is made of 1 by 10-inch lumber, 20 inches long, ripped to fit the frame. Attach the door to the frame with two 3/4 by 2-inch butt hinges. Recess the hinges. Position and install the door lock. Attach the cabinet to the wall with screws or anchor bolts.

It's Easy to End The Annoyance Of Squeaking Floors; Here's How

It's usually easy, according to Home Modernizing magazine, to end the annoyance of floor squeaks caused by loose boards rubbing against each other or against the subflooring or joists. The photos show four possible remedies.

Driving nails at an angle through the loose board into subflooring often does the trick. To avoid marks, use a piece of metal as shown.

It's sometimes better to attack squeak from below. Loose bridging between joists may be the cause. Renail if necessary.

If subfloor board has worked loose, drive short screws up through it to pull it tight to the finish flooring.

If a joist has sagged slightly, drive a shim between the joist and the subfloor to take up slack and end squeaking.

Here's Tricks of the Trade For Easy-to-Use Latex Paint

Plymouth's Do-it-yourself painters have found latex paints to be remarkable in many ways. Available in an extensive range of colors, dull or semi-lustrous in finish, they can be used on any interior surface, except floors and furniture. There are even new varieties that can be used on exterior masonry.

One of the most attractive things about latex paints is that they are easy to prepare for use. A few turns of a paddle in the can and the solid and the liquid substances are completely merged. The paint is then exceptionally easy to apply with brush, roller or spray gun.

Because these paints are water-based, the tools you use are as easy to clean as washing your hands. It's simply a matter of using a little soap and water after the job is finished. One caution, however. Be sure to do this clean-up operation immediately because latex dries and hardens rapidly—usually within an hour.

The final "cure" of latex paints, however, takes considerably longer than an hour—somewhere between 4 and 30 days. This curing process transforms the ingredients into a moisture-repellent shield which protects as it provides a smooth, easy-to-wash surface. So be sure to wait until this curing process has had time to reach completion before using any sort of cleaning abrasive on the paint.

The durability and washability of latex coatings make them ideal for use on woodwork as well as on walls, where a perfect match is desirable. They can be used on metals, too, but first apply a special metal primer, after making sure the surface is free of rust. In almost all other cases, latex paints serve as their own primers. In other words, you just use an extra coat of latex paint. One exception to this, however, is new wood, which should always have an oil-base primer.

At first, if you've never used latex before, its appearance may puzzle you when you start to work with it. It will likely seem thin in consistency. So don't try to spread it too thin or you may find that a second coat is necessary. In such case, allow twenty-four hours before applying the second coat.

Don't be alarmed if the can looks different from the color you selected when you bought it. In a few minutes after application, the color you want will appear. And if you find later that you missed a place or two, don't hesitate to go back and touch up. This is another advantage you enjoy with latex paints.

There's nothing like paint to bring glamour, warmth and cheerfulness into your home. Within one day you can change the entire appearance of a room—living room, bedroom, kitchen, or bath. And the parade of colors to choose from is a good antidote to winter doldrums. A visit to a paint store will convince you of this, and also of the fact that with inexpensive latex coatings it costs very little to accomplish so much.

SMALL TALK by Syms

"You say a man followed you down the street . . . Who was he?"

"I haven't found out yet . . . I couldn't make him catch up with me"

Being courteous may require a little extra time but, in the long run, it often saves time.

Most adults overlook the value of play and amusement in life. Some, we must admit, overdo it.

Natural GAS YOUR SILENT SERVANT

Gas Burns Up All Garbage And Trash

A gas incinerator disposes of everything from vacuum cleaner sweepings to ham bones and work bench litter. The fine ash it leaves need only be disposed of once or twice a month and makes a good fertilizer.

There are more than a dozen manufacturers in the field. Basically, incinerators are of two efficient types: (1) Those with a clock control that sets off a high, hot flame. (2) Those with a steady pilot flame. Models are available for both inside and outside installation.

A gas incinerator costs no more than a sink disposer, yet does twice the work . . . And they operate for only a few cents a day.

Only GAS does so much, so well . . . the modern fuel for automatic cooking . . . refrigeration . . . water-heating . . . house-heating . . . air conditioning . . . clothes-drying . . . incineration.

On the Bridge in '57

One of the pleasant anticipations for 1957 in Michigan, we have just learned, is the opening of the mighty Mackinac Bridge. Work on this engineering wonder—one of the greatest projects of its kind in the world—is so far along that it now is expected that it will be open to car traffic in time for the next hunting season.

Here's the latest word from Prentiss Brown, chairman of the Bridge Authority:

"We are pleased to tell the people of Michigan and the midwest that we have accomplished all the objectives aimed for since the day the bonds were sold. Here are the 1956 construction season accomplishments:

1. Merritt-Chapman & Scott early in the 1956 construction season completed all the foundation work necessary for cable spinning and erection of the superstructure.

2. The spinning of the cables was completed in record time by the American Bridge Division of the U. S. Steel Corporation, contractors for the steel superstructure. Only 78 working days (and nights) were required for spinning the 25,160 individual wires necessary for the 24½" in diameter cables that will support the suspended spans which will be a total of 8,614 feet long—a world's record—when completed next year.

3. The American Bridge Division erected the truss spans beginning at each shore and reached within 327 feet of the anchor blocks on each side, having erected nearly 10,000 feet of truss span steel this year, considerably more than was originally planned for the 1956 construction season.

4. The contractors responsible for paving the deck on these truss spans—Louis Garavaglia and Johnson-Greene Company—paved from both shores one half way out to the anchor blocks completing their scheduled operations for 1956.

5. Contracts were let for the paving, grading and drainage of the toll plaza and the causeway on the north side and the scheduled work for 1956 was completed.

6. Contracts for the connecting roads from the bridgeheads to the existing highways were let by the Michigan State Highway Department in collaboration with the Authority and partially completed as scheduled for 1956.

7. Plans for construction of the administration building originally scheduled to begin in 1956 were postponed to early 1957 because the bid prices were too high and the disadvantage of starting construction during the winter.

"All in all, we are ahead of schedule on construction, and what is just as important, or more important to me, is that we are well on the way toward completing the project with the proceeds of the bond issue despite the fact that we have already encountered three years of inflationary pressure."

Objectives for next year are as follows:

1. Letting contracts for the administration building which will be completed by fall, and the contract for the electrical work on the bridge which includes roadway lighting, aid to navigation, traffic control signs, and possibly the lighting of the cables so that the Mackinac Bridge will be just as attractive at night as it will be during the day.

2. The American Bridge Division will complete the truss spans and begin the erection of the suspended span. Work on assembling pieces of the latter will go on all winter at St. Ignace.

3. The portland cement concrete deck will be completed and covered with asphaltic concrete.

4. The toll plaza will be completed and toll collection equipment and booths, which will be the most up-to-date available, will be installed.

5. Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corporation, contractor for the foundations, will be back on the job in mid-1957 to complete the concreting of the anchor blocks, once the suspended spans have been erected.

While all this construction work is going on the Authority will be faced with a number of knotty decisions, the most far-reaching of which will be the establishment of tolls. The Authority has two primary objectives: First, to keep the average toll per passenger car less than the average toll per passenger car on the ferries; and second, to eliminate charges for passengers for whom a 25c fee, including the driver, is now levied.

Another matter affecting the public will be the establishment of traffic controls, especially speed limits. It was indicated that experts from the traffic safety center at Michigan State university will counsel the Authority on these matters.

The Authority offices will move from Lansing to St. Ignace on January 2, 1957 and all administrative operations will be carried on at this point.

To all of which, the people of Michigan should say, "Congratulations—and keep hustling."

A move to ease Michigan's doctor shortage is in the mill at Wayne State University. The school's Board of Governors is proposing an increase in medical student admission from 75 to 125 a year.

The plan, already approved by the Board, hinges on state allocation of additional operating funds for Wayne's medical college.

The most economical way to turn out 50 more doctors a year: While other plans call for the establishment of costly new facilities, the Wayne proposal requires only the money necessary for instructors, according to Dean Gordon H. Scott.

Both medical and non-medical groups are supporting the plan. The Michigan State Medical Society has endorsed the proposed increase.

Among the first of the non-medical group in the state to urge the increased assistance to Wayne State is the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Clark L. Brody, the Bureau's executive vice president, recently announced that its membership adopted a resolution in support of the plan.

there are now adding their support.

Biggest objectors: Mothers who must round up the kids for bed while it's still daylight and farmers who appreciate the sun in the morning rather than at night.

The State may need it's own navy to settle the latest controversy in its home waters. Under attack is a business venture new to Michigan, the "flotel" or floating hotel.

At the request of Gerald M. Eddy, director of the Michigan Conservation Department, the attorney general's office is seeking an injunction against the first flotel—the S. S. Western States, docked at Tawas City.

The question: Do floating hotels moored permanently in water above state held lands violate the law?

State officials believe there is a violation. Submerged land under the Great Lakes is controlled by the Conservation Department according to an 1899 law. One of the requirements: Protect the public interest.

The request for an injunction to prevent the operation of the S. S. Western States is based on the assumption that the ship is not for navigation. If not, it may be permanently and unlawfully occupying submerged lands in violation of the public interest.

Tawas City officials want the "flotel" to stay. The city council entered into a five year contract to moor the ship at a public park dock. Water and sewer connections "tie" the flotel to shore.

State officials fear that with "good" commercial land becoming scarce in Michigan, an uncontrolled number of flotels would eventually line the shores of popular lake resort areas unless the question is cleared up soon. They point out that all Michigan residents have the right to use the Great Lakes.

The final answer is in the hands of the admirals—oops, judges in the Michigan courts.

ARTHUR KROCK, New York Times columnist: "War has returned, and in the age of atomic weapons, as an instrument of national policy."

Another try to put Michigan on daylight saving time may be made at the next meeting of the State Legislature.

Strangely enough, the current proposal, is said to have originated with a group of Detroit golfers who want an extra hour of daylight leisure in the evening. Retailers

Whats Your Question?

BY EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER

"You say the Hungarians failed because the Western Powers lacked the courage to help them. Do you mean we should alone war on Russia?"

(J.M. Collins, no address)

"When we voted for President Eisenhower we hoped for a strong leader in these crucial times. Even Red Poland and other satellites condemn Russian savagery in Hungary but our great leader, the spokesman of the mightiest nation on earth, refused to extend help to the gallant freedom fighters and kept his silence for more than two weeks. These patriots ask us the excruciating question: Are Americans more afraid of the Russians than we?"

(Dr. J.W., Monterey, Calif.)
"Here is a made-to-order situation: Millions hate the Russians and would welcome arms to fight them. Should we arm and help them to secure their freedom? I say yes."

(Adrian Hughes, Hillboro, Ore.)
During five fateful days, Nagy was in charge of Hungary—legally. The Russians had promised to withdraw their troops—fraudulently, as we know, in order to gain time for bringing up more troops to crush Nagy. But during those days, Nagy asked the West for help. I believe the Western nations, including the United States, should have recognized his government, accepted his invitation, sent him arms and volunteers and informed the USSR that if it sent further troops into Hungary, we would do the same.

Yes, obviously we are more afraid of the Russians than the Hungarians and more afraid of war than the Russians.

Paul B. Shawen of Perrysburg, Ohio, "sees no prospect for peace" in the Middle East until Israel recompenses the refugees for property confiscated. I agree. But from this compensation must be deducted the value of property confiscated from Jewish expellees (notably by Iraq and now Egypt). And all the refugees must be taken from the UN camps on the borders and resettled permanently inside the Arab countries. I have every reason to believe that Israel will agree to compensation of this kind as part of a genuine peace settlement.

M. De Beck of Bayonne, N. J., believes the lost ten Hebrew tribes are the "white Christian races of the world, including Russians." Hermann Blum of Philadelphia sends an interesting pamphlet purporting to show the Hebrew origin of the American Indians. Dr. W.W. Alderdyce of Toledo, Ohio, writes that "the book House of Glory published by the Wm. H. Wise Co. tells what part of the world the different tribes settled in." Enough to justify my statement that "there is no sure evidence" what happened to them.

"You are a Democrat? A poor sport and a poor loser with no children or grandchildren of military age and investments that war would improve. You are a dangerous man. I am happy I am neither a relation nor a neighbor of yours."

(Mrs. Lynn Maurer, Jamaica, N.Y.)
Wrong again. I am not a Democrat, hence did not lose the election. My grandson is too young to fight—but I hope he will if freedom is threatened when he is big enough to . If

I can be dangerous to "peace-at-any-price" folk, count on me to do my best.

Send that question on world affairs to Edgar Ansel Mowrer in care of this newspaper and expect a frank answer.

Donald A. Quarles, Air Force Secretary: "If limited war is thrust upon us, the best way to keep it from graduating into total war is to end it quickly."
