

Township GOP Wins Offices Without Vote

Building Hits Peak In 1956

Plymouth township and city experienced their biggest building boom ever during 1956 when construction costs estimated at $4,105,792 were recorded on building permits issued at the city and township halls.

The township claimed the lion's share of the total, with most of the money being spent last year on industrial and commercial construction. Home building in both city and township took a considerable drop.

In the previous year, 1955, there was a total of $3,069,244 spent on construction in the city and township. This was over a million dollars less than 1956.

An examination of the building permits issued by the city and township showed that application was made to build 96 homes last year—72 of them in the township and 24 in the city. In the previous year there were 90 permits issued for township homes, 46 for city homes.

The 72 township homes have an estimated value of $1,216,200. Value of the 24 city homes was placed at $325,500.

The largest single permit issued during the year was to the Burroughs corporation for a new building that is now under construction. This addition alone has a value of $1,200,000. Another permit issued for a Burroughs parking lot was for $130,000.

Other major projects in the township last year included a $33,000 addition to the Hillside Inn, and a new recreation building for St. John's Seminary that will cost $450,000.

The cost of construction within the city last year fell below the million dollar mark for the first time in several years. Although ground was broken for two new subdivisions during the past year, actual construction will probably get underway this year as the sanitary sewer becomes available.

The largest permit issued in the city during the past year was for a new A & P store to be constructed at Harvey street and Ann Arbor road. This project, however, has not been started.

Other large projects undertaken were a $47,000 addition to Stop & Shop Supermarket, an addition at Harvey Container costing $30,000, a $31,000 office building on South Main built by Walter Begleiter, a $36,500 office and store building on South Main built by C. L. Finlan & Sons, and a laundering establishment built

Polio Vaccine Now Plentiful, But Few Get Shots

A year ago the public was "beating down the doors" to get Salk polio shots—but today, when there is enough for adults as well as children, people seem to have lost interest.

Plymouth doctors, along with physicians across the nation, now have an abundant supply of the vaccine. In 1956, there are 19,000,000 doses now commercially available in the United States. There are no restrictions on the use of this vaccine—except that the people must go to a doctor's office to get the shots and be willing to pay for them.

Alarm at the public apathy toward immunization on the Michigan State Medical Society has launched an "Operation Armory" to sell the public on the idea of getting polio and diphtheria inoculations. They note that many of DROPPING THE FIRST contribution in a March of Dimes canister was Ernest Berridge, 496 Irvin, a polio victim of two seasons ago. He and other officials of the campaign gathered last week to complete plans for the drive. Pictured, from left, are Mr. and Mrs. Berridge, co-chairmen of publicity; Mrs. Virginia Bartel, general chairman; Mrs. Geraldine Olsen, city Mothers March chairman; and Mrs. Melva Gardner, township Mothers March chairman.

Lake Victim Once $5,000 Dimes Drive Lived in Plymouth Opens in Plymouth

The niece of seven Plymouth area women was among the four persons who drowned Monday when their cars plunged through the ice of Houghton Lake.

Mrs. Doreen M. Butler of Lansing, born in Plymouth and leaving numerous relatives here, is one of the two whose bodies are still missing. The bodies of Albert Sohn of Houghton Lake and Arthur Klatt of Lansing have been recovered but search is still continuing for the bodies of Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Klatt.

Mrs. Butler was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Davis who lived here many years. Her aunts are Mrs. Alfred Innes, Mrs. Lawrence Blunk, Mrs. Paul Fisher, Mrs. William Davidson, Mrs. Joseph Schombberger and Mrs. Harold Saultz and Mrs. James Henry.

The party had been fishing and was headed toward shore in two cars when they broke through the ice. One man, John Whorley of Lansing, escaped. Mrs. Butler was with her friends, the Klatts. Her husband was in Lansing.

Plymouth joined the rest of the nation this week in opening its month-long March of Dimes campaign to carry on the fight against polio.

The campaign is being carried on to continue assistance for America's tens of thousands of polio patients, to promote further research and to aid the thousands who will still contract polio.

The Wayne County chapter of the March of Dimes has assisted two new local polio cases during 1956, pointing out that the crippling and sometimes fatal ailment is still here, despite the Salk polio vaccine.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, recently announced that less than 10 per cent of the nation's teenage children have received the vaccine.

Ending the month-long campaign in Plymouth will be the Mothers' March on Polio scheduled for Thursday, January 21. The area will take place during the day on in the township and at night in the city.

Mrs. Harvy Bartel, campaign chairman, said that $5,000 has been set as the goal.

Posters and canisters have already been placed in business establishments throughout the community by members of the High School Student Council.

Householders will soon receive envelopes in which they may mail their donations. Although the return envelopes carry a Detroit address, the Plymouth post office has been authorized to deliver these to the local campaign chairman.

One now being tried in the community this year is a coffee clatch-for-polio program. Mrs. Bartel expects to start off the program next Thursday by inviting 10 guests to her home for coffee clatch-for-polio program, tribute a dollar. These 10 are then to invite nine guests for coffee at their own homes, these nine are to invite eight, etc.

Communities Scared Over Drainage

If some way isn't found to drain water from the surface of Wayne County—and soon—the potential danger to property and health is staggering.

That is the conclusion reached by leaders from this area who met last week in the Redford township hall to discuss one single subject—drainage.

Included in the group were Plymouth City Manager Albert Glassford and Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay. Since the Plymouth area is at the higher end of the Rouge River basin, danger of flooding is not as great here.

But even Plymouth's Riverside park is flooded yearly. Downriver, the conditions get steadily worse.

The group departed determined to seek help from Federal authorities and from the state legislature. "We can't wait for it to develop through normal channels, either," was the watchword. "A few years of delay could ruin us all."

"We're sitting on a powder keg," added one representative. "If we go just one big rainfall, such as hit in 1947, the entire Rouge River basin will be a wash and thousands of basements flooded."

Others sitting in on the conference were men from the Wayne County Road Commission, the U.S. Corps of Engineers, Sumpter township, Redford township, Taylor township, Flat Rock, the F.H.A., Livonia, Dearborn, Trenton, Detroit, Garden City, Wayne, Lincoln Park, Northville and Gibraltar.

Some common complaints uttered were:

- 1. It's almost impossible to develop.

Restrictions On South Main St. Parking Modified

Parking restrictions on South Main street will be modified to allow parking on the west side of the pavement only. City Manager Albert Glassford said this week.

Signs which forbid all parking, either on or off the street, were removed last week. The city is now awaiting signs that will inform motorists that parking will be allowed only off the pavement.

This change in restrictions affects only South Main from Sutherland street southward. There will continue to be no parking north of this point towards downtown because of the narrower street.

Parking off the street south of Sutherland is possible because there is no curb and gutter. This compromise is one of the ideas suggested by a group of citizens who appeared December 17 to protest the "no parking" signs on the west side of the street. Parking on the street will continue to be allowed on the east side.

Police Chief Kenneth Fisher put up the signs a month ago in order to help the "traffic flow". After signs are up 30 days, he must get city commission permission to make them permanent. It was during this "probationary" period that the citizens appeared to make their complaint. The result of the meeting was a decision to have the chief and city manager talk over the situation further with those affected.

No Democrats File by Deadline; Six Seeking Commission Vacancies

Because there were no nominating petitions filed either by the Democrats or within their own party, Plymouth township Republicans found themselves assured of another two years in office Saturday without a single vote being cast.

Nominating petitions were to be filed for township and city offices by 4 p.m. Saturday—but as the 4 o'clock hour arrived, no nominating petitions were filed at the township hall except those who made up a complete slate of Republicans.

At the city hall, six men filed petitions for the four city commission vacancies. Two filed for the single vacancy on the County Board of Supervisors.

As a result, there will be no local candidates on the February 18 primary ballot.

The spring general election will be April 1, but Supervisor Roy Lindsay said Saturday that "we've already had our April Fool's Day today. It was the surprise of our life when no one else, not even a Democrat, filed for those offices."

Orville Tungate, chairman of the Plymouth Democratic club and a resident of the township, told The Mail yesterday that the party had three people who wanted to file but that they decided not to at the last minute because of personal problems involving the time it would take away from their jobs and families.

Tungate, however, said that he believed that the Democrats would be given a chance to write in a slate of names on the primary ballot.

But according to Thomas Cable of the county election commission the township election is already decided because there was no opposition. Those "ding for office will be certified," he will not print any ballots, Cable declared.

There will be primary election in the township and city, however, which will be held on the list of candidates running for several county, judicial and state offices.

The six men running for city commission in the April 1 election will be:

J. Rusling Cutler, 193 North Main, an attorney and an incumbent candidate; Harry Draper, 498 Evergreen, operator of the Plymouth Wholesale company; Harold Guenther, 1142 North Holbrook, officer of E-Z Sew Enterprises and an incumbent; William Hartmann, 383 Blunk, officer of the Sinclair Refining company in Detroit and former mayor and commissioner; Carl Shear, 785 South Main, retired Buick dealer and commissioner; and Richard Wernette, 307 Adams, probate court clerk.

Tossing their hats into the ring for the job of county supervisor representing Plymouth were George Witkowski, 1117 Palmer, operator of the Plymouth Dental Laboratories; Russell M. Dumas, 530 Garfield, financial director of Dagsy Manufacturing and present Plymouth mayor.

Petitions for two other men were circulating but were not filed. They were Dr. J. M. Robinson, 834 Penniman, and Thomas Notabarg, 1321 Hartwood.

Only if there had been more than four candidates for each of the four vacancies would it have been necessary to have a commission ballot in the primary.

The following people filed for Plymouth township office and will be certified for election due to no opposition:

Supervisor Roy Lindsay, 11000 McClumphae road, clerk; Mrs. Rosalind Broome, 9065 Lilley road; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, 41390 Joy road; trustees, Louis Norman, 41681 East Ann Arbor trail; and Chilton V. Sparks, 44934 Joy road.

These five people compose the township board. Sparks will replace Heward Lilley road, who decided not to run. He is a tool-maker at the Burroughs corporation.

Others in township offices will be: Constables, Donald King of 41151 Micol drive; LeRoy Westfall of 11677 Lilley road; Vernard H. Burns of 9464 Elmhurst and Robert H. Gables of 15071 Bradner road; justice of the peace, Martin Schombberger, 40810 East Ann Arbor trail; board of review, Mrs. Flora J. Rathburn, 11570 Haggerty road; and highway commissioner, David S. Cell, 9460 Brookline.

New in these offices are Sturm, Burns and Cell.

Six Dogs Taken In Three Years

With their sixth dog in three years stolen, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wright, 5867 1/2 Lilley road, are making an appeal for the person who took their last two dogs last Friday to somehow return them.

Two six-month old hunting dogs were picked up by someone near the Wright home last Friday afternoon after the dogs got loose. A neighbor said he got a description of the car but not the license number. Sheriff's officers were notified.

The Wrights say that six dogs have been taken within the past three years, the first one being taken away in a car which is similar to the one seen last Friday. A reward is being offered for their return. Information about the dogs can be given the Wrights by calling 2641.

Goodfellows Aid 22 Needy Families

Twenty-two Plymouth and neighboring area needy families were aided by the local Goodfellows organization during the past Christmas holiday, said Leo Kowalek president of the Goodfellows here.

Needy families received food, clothing and toys amounting to approximately $1675, the proceeds from the Goodfellow paper sale held December 15 in Plymouth. The 1956 figure is nearly the same amount collected in 1955 despite the rain that impeded the sale this season.

"There were cases where some of the husbands had been sick and the families were acutely needy," said Kowalek. "Every-one needing help was given consideration."

He explained that Goodfellow investigators checked beforehand to determine the exact needs of the various families. When shoes were necessary the families were brought right to the shoe store and styck desfers were made.

Kowalek paid thanks to the 35 former newshapers who sold Goodfellow papers during the sale in Plymouth last month.

He also explained that in addition to the 22 needy families aided this holiday season, the Goodfellow organization will help many more such families during the other months of the year.

There's still time to enter Plymouth's First Baby of '57 contest in which 16 merchants are offering prizes.

Applications to enter must be received by The Plymouth Mail before 5 p.m. next Monday. The prizes go to the first baby born after the start of the new year.

Eligible to enter are any parents having a Plymouth mailing address. A written statement by the attending physician must tell the exact time of the birth.

In case of twins, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Evans Products Purchases New Plant, Subsidiaries

Evans Products company of Plymouth has announced that it is expanding its already-diversified manufacturing even further by acquiring nearly all of the assets of the Haskelite Manufacturing corporation, a 40-year-old firm with plants in four cities.

The purchase of Haskelite assets has been approved by the board of directors of Evans Products, its subsidiary and Haskelite stockholders, according to E. S. Evans, Jr., president of Evans Products.

Haskelite and its subsidiaries manufacture doors, door units, and laminated wood products which include Plymet and Ornate. In 1955 Haskelite introduced a new line of products known as Hasko-Struct, utilizing plastics, chemicals and raw materials for the manufacture of laminated panels for household refrigerators and freezers, freight cars and trailers, interior panels and curtain wall insulation used in building construction.

Haskelite operates a plant at Grand Rapids and three subsidiaries. The subsidiaries are Meyercord Compound Lumber company, Mobile, Alabama; Marquette Veneer company, Marquette, Michigan; and Gilett Log company, Sault Ste. Marie, Canada.

Evans itself is a major producer in the northwest of fir plywood, lumber, battery separators, hardware and other products in five plants located in the northwest and is the nation's leading manufacturer of railroad freight damage prevention equipment such as the DF loader—a load-securing freight car installation—and the Auto Loader, a boxcar device for damage-free transportation of automobiles.

The company recently manufactured a new Evans coil car for transportation of coil steel.

Evans also manufactures truck and bus heaters, bicycles and velopedes.

Acquisition of the Haskelite business would mean a new field of product diversification fitting well with the already widely diversified Evans products, Evans stated. Purchase of Haskelite assets will be on the basis of one share of Evans stock for each three shares of Haskelite now outstanding.

City to Collect Trees

There will be a special collection today of Christmas trees in the city, it was announced by Joseph Bida of the Department of Public Works. Those wanting the trees taken should have them at the curb.

Consumers to Move Offices to Livonia

Consumers Power Company is preparing to build a new, large "District Service Center" on Farmington Rd. near Plymouth Rd. in Livonia.

Although the plans still are being drawn, and must receive approval on high levels of the company, they are being speeded along to provide for a building that would service the general western Wayne County area. Construction probably will begin this Spring.

When complete, the building will take over the many functions of two offices now functioning in Plymouth, one on South Main and the other on Junction where the fleet of vehicles is kept. No decision has been made as to the future status of Consumer Power operations in Plymouth, except that bills will continue to be paid at the South Main street office.

The new building would front on Farmington Rd. Approximately 12 acres of land is owned by Consumers adjacent to the Mohawk Lumber Co. It does not include frontage on Plymouth Rd, however. The building would be two stories high and include garage, maintenance, service and office facilities.

Another public utility development heard by this newspaper this week, and reflecting on the growth of the area, is that Michigan Bell intends to get dial service in operation in Northville and Plymouth this year, moving the previous time table ahead several months.

Plans for the program were laid at a recent meeting between local citizens and Lee Hames, regional director of the Michigan Heart association, and Fred Harrington, health education director.

In short, the series provides free instruction in practical ways to make housekeeping simpler and easier with less lifting, bending, climbing and reaching. An instructor from Wayne State university explains how this can be accomplished without expensive remodeling or purchases.

Registration for the class will be taken by Herbert Woolweaver at the Adult Education and Recreation office in the high school.

Harrington said that although the women with heart conditions are especially being urged to attend, all women can enroll. The class is designed to help those who may be suffering heart disease, high blood pressure, rheumatic heart, hardening of the arteries, coronary heart, varicose veins and any one who wants to "take it easy."

FINALLY LOOKING like a full-fledged school building is the James Gallimore Elementary school on Sheldon road, which is now nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy later this month or early next month. A sanitary sewer is now being laid from the school to the city sewer system. It was the sewer that caused long delays in getting the building started.

Blinzley-Gayde Rites Solomnized At Dun Scotus Monastery

Before an altar graced with poinsettia and palms, Carolyn M. Blinzley became the bride of William F. Gayde.

The high Mass was read at ten o'clock on Saturday morning, December 29, at Dun Scotus Monastery, Detroit. Solist was Salve Regina, who sang "Ave Maria" and "Ave Verum".

Carolyn chose a floor length gown of white peau de soie fashioned in princess style. The sabrina neckline and deep yoke of lace was encrusted with rhinestones and a panel of the lace extended down the front of the skirt which ended in a chapel train. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a cup of satin edged in pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of white poinsettia. She was given in marriage by her uncle, John D. Carlson of Akron, Ohio.

Virginia Everett of Sandusky, Ohio, maid of honor, wore a shimmering silver lame gown in princess style with pearl and rhinestone crown and she carried a sheaf of red poinsettia. Bridesmaids, Dolores Kulsea of Jackson, Sally Block of Monroe and Ardeth Casselman of Detroit, were identically gowned, carrying sheafs of red poinsettia.

Serving William as best man was Ross Diaz of Plymouth. Ushers were Walter Rensel, Donald Gronowick and Keith Alford, all of Plymouth.

Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bridegroom, selected a Dior blue silk dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink camellias.

A wedding breakfast for 150 guests was held following the ceremony at the Bonnie Brook Golf club, Detroit. Guests were present from Michigan and Ohio.

Carolyn is the niece of John D. Carlson and the late Mrs. Carlson of Akron, Ohio, and William's parents are the Major Taylors of Rocker drive, Plymouth.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Chicago, Illinois. For traveling the new Mrs. Gayde wore a coral wool dress with matching hat and black accessories.

Carolyn is a graduate of St. Mary's Academy, Monroe, Michigan, and Marygrove College, Detroit, her bridegroom graduated from Plymouth high school and Michigan State University. Both are teachers in the Detroit school system. They will make their home in Royal Oak.

Service by Candlelight Unites Phyllis Abbott, Louis Truesdell

In an impressive candlelight service Saturday evening, December 22, in St. James Episcopal church, Birmingham, Phyllis Abbott repeated her nuptial vows to Louis Phil Truesdell.

The Reverend Harold E. Towns officiated at the seventy-two minute double ring ceremony before a large host of relatives and friends.

Phyllis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Abbott of 1115 New avenue, Birmingham and the Louis J. Truesdell of 1435 1/2 road, Plymouth, are the bridegroom's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, Phyllis was radiant in a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The fitted lace bodice of the gown with long sleeves extending to points over the wrists, had a portrait neckline and the bouffant tulle skirt had deep panels of the lace extending to the hemline. Her fingertip length veil fell gracefully from a crown of pearls and satin and she carried a cascade of ivy and stephanotis centered with white orchids.

Phyllis asked her twin sister Shirley, to assist her as maid of honor. Her gown was of steel blue peau de soie in ballerina length featuring a boat neckline, empire waistline and full skirt. She wore a matching headband of feathers and carried a cascade arrangement of pink carnations, rosettes and ivy.

Serving as bridesmaids were two other sisters, Barbara of Birmingham; Mrs. John E. Jacobs of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio and Mrs.

Robert Evans, one of the bridesmaids of Plymouth, Tex. and identical twin to that of the bridegroom, with matching feather in hair and carried a similar arrangement of flowers in a deep pink.

Dr. Robert Evans of Plymouth was Louis' best man and seating the guests were Keith Alford of Plymouth; Don Beaudry of Flint; Thomas Brooks of Ypsilanti and John E. Jacobs of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

Mrs. Abbott chose a steel blue tulle gown with a beaded neckline and a small feathered hat of deep rose. A corsage of matching roses was pinned to her purse. Mrs. Truesdell's sheath gown, also cocktail length, was of steel blue lace and she wore a matching hat. Pink camellias were pinned to her purse.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

For traveling to Florida where the young couple will spend two weeks, Mrs. Truesdell wore a brown wool dress with white and navy pink and brown accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Truesdell will graduate from the University of Michigan in June and is affiliated with Alpha Phi sorority. Louis was graduated from Lawrence Institute of Technology in June 1956 and is presently stationed with the United States Army at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

Plan Minehart-Kelly Nuptials for Fall

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Minehart of 3911 Brookline announce the engagement of their daughter, Gerdaline, to Jerry Lee Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kelly of 5025 Church road, Ann Arbor. A fall wedding is being planned.

Miss Minehart graduated from Plymouth high school in 1956 while her fiance is a 1954 graduate and is attending the University of Michigan dental school.

YOUR HEALTH IS IN GOOD HANDS

By C. C. Wiltse
Registered Pharmacist

Highly qualified and well-trained people are behind the prescription you obtain from your druggist. The doctor who examined you called upon the knowledge he has assembled through years of study that was the refinement of the thinking of thousands of other physicians. He determined the exact needs for you.

The pharmacist who filled your prescription, filled it correctly and accurately—exactly as your doctor wanted. He selected the ingredients from many thousands of possible medications. He obtained his scientific knowledge through years of specialized training under competent and capable instructors who have absorbed and digested years of pharmaceutical knowledge. He supplied the exact material for you.

The manufacturers who supplied the ingredients, the pharmacist used in preparing this prescription have gathered together the best personnel possible in order to provide the purest, most dependable medications. There are doctors, pharmacists, biologists, chemists, microbiologists, librarians, pharmacologists, and other highly skilled people who have devoted years of study and training to provide your pharmacist with the newest and most refined medications possible. They provided the material that was needed for you.

Manufacturers and pharmacists are part of the team that made possible the material that your physician prescribed especially for YOU.

The dance was one of a regular series of teenage dances sponsored by the local Optimists throughout the school year, and was attended by nearly 600 young people from this area.

Retires at BGR; Missed 3 Days

After being absent only three days in 34 years of work for Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, Carl G. Anderson, 68, retired last Friday. He was the twelfth man hired by the company and as of retirement was the second oldest in line of service.

Anderson, born December 25, 1888, in Sioing, Sweden, lives now at 16191 Greenlawn, Detroit. He went to work for B-G-R in 1923. The company, now well-known for its manufacture of all types of springs, began spring production the second day that Anderson was on the job.

Anderson came to the United States in 1909 and worked in various shops while learning the tool and die trade. He moved to the Detroit area in 1916 and seven years later took a job with B-G-R when it got underway. In 1927 he was made a tool-room foreman, a job he held until 1952 when he was put on tool and die follow-up. Anderson and his wife, Daisy, have two children: a son Carl, Jr., 26, who attends Wayne State university; and a daughter Mrs. Irene Breesee; and three grandchildren.

Warren Extension Group Meets at Korte Home

The last meeting of the Warren Extension Group took place at the home of Mrs. Melvin Korte of Warren road with the "Operation Cookie Exchange" termed a "great success". Each member brought 15 of her favorite holiday cookies and recipes which they exchanged. Christmas gifts were also exchanged among members.

Gifts for a needy family were wrapped to be contributed. An informative lesson on "Home Management, Wills and Benefits, Property Rights" was presented by the project leaders, Mrs. N. Kellman, and Mrs. M. Duthoo. A booklet, "The Descent and Distribution of Property" with other postal information on inheritance tax laws based upon statutory law was distributed.

A social hour followed. Mrs. Korte served baked Alaska, her table being decorated in gay yuletide motif. Mrs. Thomas Larsen of Plymouth was a guest.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. Norman.

Clean Walks Help Keep Postman on His Feet

Postmaster George Timpona, today appealed to the residents of Plymouth, Michigan to help reduce the hazard of slips and falls for letter carriers and other postal personnel who call at their homes.

Timpona emphasized that the Post Office Department is not alone in facing a problem of employee injuries from slips and falls and said he hopes also that his appeal will be of assistance to employees of delivery and service agencies—utilities, dairies, grocery stores, cleaners, department stores and the like.

In making a new appeal to postal patrons over the country to help with this problem, Acting Postmaster General Maurice K. Stans noted that a recent random check of 281 accidents caused by slips and falls showed that, of the 281, a total of 209 occurred on icy walks, steps or stairways of postal patrons.

Stans noted in his statement that injuries to postal personnel including some in the community account for a total cost of $5,500,000 during a recent 12-month period, according to reports from the U. S. Department of Labor. And, he indicated, a very large part of this total annual medical and injury compensation cost to the government was due to slip and fall injuries on the job.

Two pennyworth of bicarbonate of soda for indigestion at this time of night," cried the intruder, "I'm a doctor who had been known to me when a glass of hot water would have done just as well." "I thank you for the advice and I'll be better after this. Good night!"

11 New Classes Made Available In Adult Program

Eleven new courses have been added to the list of subjects offered by the recreation department during the second semester of the adult education program. Six old classes have been discontinued.

The new additions include: Flower arranging taught by Mrs. A. T. M. Petersen; Hand Writing analysis by Mrs. Lucille McKinney; Creative Poetry by Harold Hartley; Camera club by Mrs. Robert Dearing; Household Mechanics by Bob Erdelyi; Home Gardening and Landscaping by Bill Saxton; Modern Philosophy by Dr. Henry Walsh; Parent and Child behavior by Leo Subotnik, Ph.D.; Americanization-Citizenship and Basic English for the New American by Mrs. Florence Krause; Successful Speaking and Persuasion; and Interpretive Dancing by Aleta Christie.

Those classes discontinued are: child development; reading, writing and arithmetic; silk screening; enameled jewelry; plastic workshop; and chair caning. Registration for the second semester will begin the third week in January. Classes get underway the week of February 4. For further information call the Recreation office, phone 895.

Fruit Growers Meet Monday in Wayne

Fruit growers from Plymouth and neighboring communities have again been extended an invitation to attend the fruit growing meetings starting Monday, January 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Labor Hall, 3911 Newberry street, Wayne.

The meetings are conducted under the auspices of the department of agriculture and Michigan State University.

Speaking on "The Best Among the New Varieties of Fruit" at the meeting this week will be Dr. George M. Kessler, professor of horticulture at Michigan State. He is the author of a book dealing with growing and handling fruits, vegetables and flowers.

The local fruit growers association has indicated that notice for each of the coming meetings may not be widely made. However, the full schedule has already been distributed for meetings this year and if a special meeting notice is not circulated, fruit growers have been instructed to follow the original schedule.

Merchant Group Opens New Year

A newly-organized Retail Merchants committee of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has begun its meeting for the year. Chairman of the committee this year, replacing James Taylor of Blunk's, Inc., is Irvin Nance, manager of the S. S. Kresge store.

The committee decided at its first meeting to continue the Thursday night hours of opening at least through January. Most local stores are now open nights on both Thursdays and Fridays.

Serving on the committee with Nance are Wendell Lent, Davis & Lent; Duncan Hursley, Early American Shop; James Hourly, Fisher's Shoes; Mrs. Connie Wahberg, Melody House; David Galin, D. Galin & Son; Richard Papes, Papes' House of Gifts; Bernie Morrison, Famous Men's Store; Bill Chapman, A & P; Frank Walsh, King Furniture; Mrs. Marion Dickie, Linder Rex Shop; Bob Meyer, Beyer Rexall Drugs; and Don Coleman, Plymouth Mail.

The committee is urging citizens with suggestions concerning Plymouth's businesses to address or phone them to the Chamber of Commerce.

Next time you see a policeman as a character in a story, you might think of a Chicago police chief. He's as burned up as a bride's first dinner . . . and complaining about the rough deal policemen get from radio, TV and the movies. He argues that these dramas show a policeman as "a slow-witted flatfoot who's always the comedy element."

Well, there's no doubt that the cinema cop is often an animated meat-ball who props up street corner lamps and wouldn't know a clue if it left a thumbprint on his nose. The crime is always solved by some sharp amateur. Obviously, cops aren't as stupid as they're portrayed . . . they couldn't be. Of course, if you've just received a traffic ticket, you may have your own opinion. To quote the greatest of all oriental gumshoes, Charlie Chan, "lots of men smoke but Fu man chu."

A mother in Leeds, England, frantically told doctors that one of her 18-month-old twins had swallowed a toy wheel . . . but she didn't know which twin. Is that what doctors mean by "complications"?

"Be Prepared" — is more than a Boy Scout motto; it's a good New Year's resolution, too. If you'll take a look through your medicine cabinet, chances are you'll notice a lot of items that need to be replenished. Be prepared for emergencies. We're prepared to fill your order.

Entertain Parents At Pack 3 Party

A combination awards meeting and holiday party took place at a pre-Christmas meeting of Cub Pack 3 at the Starkweather school.

Eighty parents and 40 Cub Scouts attended the affair which opened with a flag ceremony and Cub Scout oath. Cubmaster John Park, 130 North Holbrook, presented the honor awards for achievements to parents who in turn presented them to their son to symbolized the nature of Cub Scouting which is a joint parent-son activity.

First Class Scout Jim Ebersole 615 Starkweather, received an honorary Den Chief braid from Cubmaster Park for his work in assisting the Den mothers and Cub Scout leaders in all phases of activity.

Following the formal events, the Pack was entertained by Mrs. John Park's Den 5 with a skit entitled, "Christmas in the Americas" in which customs of Mexico, Alaska and Puerto Rico were portrayed in costume.

The final event was a Mexican Christmas game called Pinata in which a colorful package filled with goodies was suspended in the air. Participants had to break the package by repeated blows with sticks.

The party closed with a sound color movie of puppets depicting the poem, "The Night Before Christmas" and the "Nativity." The films were furnished by the Michigan Bell Telephone company. Refreshments followed.

termine the lines of authority between the County Road Commission and the Drain Commission.

Progress in providing any kind of drain project moves with agonizing slowness through any of the existing government agencies.

Because the problem crosses county lines (as with the Rouge River) a state agency is necessary to get the complete job done; yet there is no state agency for it.

The federal government recognizes problems caused by war plant population shifts when it comes to assisting in school construction; but in the basic matter of flooding in the same area, the federal government does little.

Basic state drain laws are incomplete. No one community can solve the drain problems by itself, yet there is nothing to require an adjacent community to work on drainage.

If the problem isn't solved soon, insurance companies will refuse to write protection against flood damage for industry or homes and all hope of growth and progress in the afflicted areas will be paralyzed.

A study of the Rouge River

(which needs dredging, widening and other things to handle its new load) was authorized in 1948 and is just barely about to start with small funds and a projected completion date of late 1948.

The group, called together by Supervisor Richard Manning of Redford, decided the next step was to appoint committees of the most qualified men from each community. These committees will form soon and apply pressure on the federal, state and county levels.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lincoln Lantz were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dawson in Pontiac.

Susan Goddard plans to return Sunday to Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri, where she will resume her studies.

The Vivians will honor their past presidents at a meeting Thursday evening, January 10 at the Elks club. The speaker will be Belle Farley Murray.

Mrs. Ralph West has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert West and family in New Orleans, Louisiana, for the holidays.

by Tait's Cleaners. Latest project just started is a $24,800 warehouse building being constructed for Bathy Manufacturing.

Not included in the building permits were two new buildings started by the board of education. A $1,500,000 junior high was started in the city and a $460,000 elementary building was constructed in the township. (These price estimates include furnishings.)

There were two probable reasons why home construction declined last year. One was the "tight money" policy of the government which discouraged many from buying homes and too, the lack of sewers in the township and southern part of the city held up plans of a number of builders to construct homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz attended the funeral services of Clarence Olson of Detroit, held Sunday in the Heaney Funeral home in Farmington. Mr. Olson passed away on Thursday evening in Mt. Carmel hospital in Detroit after a few week's illness.

The members of the Priscilla sewing group will be entertained this (Thursday) afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. A. Kirkpatrick on Auburn.

Parent, Teacher, Student Group Meets Monday

The first meeting for the Plymouth Parent-Teacher-Student association this year will be held Monday evening, January 7, at 7:45 in the junior high school auditorium.

It will be the opener in a series of three meetings in which a panel-type discussion will be presented.

The meeting will consist of a panel of students who will present their views and will try to reach conclusions with regard to will consist of junior high parents parent-child school relationships and teachers. They will compare Kenneth Hulsing is president views with those of the students.

P-T-S-A. Mr. and Mrs. Earl West are program chairmen. The source worker will appear before meeting will open with a style for the group. He will offer commission sponsored by the junior mens on the conclusions of the high economics department under earlier parent, student and the direction of Mrs. Pauline Mor-teacher discussions.

Topics to be discussed will be: The other panel-type meetings allowances and money management will be held on February 4 and ment; the role in the family; and March 4. On February 4 the panel dating in junior high school.

Social Notes

Peter Leemon was host New Year's Eve at a party in his home on Ann Arbor road entertaining a group of former high school and college friends from Plymouth and Ann Arbor.

Recent dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lillard on Ross street were Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Guy, daughter Gloria and son, Paul Jr., of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst of Wing street were hosts at a co-operative dinner New Year's Eve entertaining members of their card club.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Day and infant son, Keith, of Knoxville, Tennessee, joined the family gathering Christmas day held in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Hitt on Sheridan avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leemon and son, Peter, were entertained at dinner Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Costello at Pine lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkpatrick and family, who had been the house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk on Haggerty highway over the Christmas holiday, returned to their home in Evanston, Illinois, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drews were dinner guests Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thelen on Farmer street.

Barbara Ziffrin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ziffrin of Priscilla Lane, entertained a group of classmates from Plymouth high at a holiday party Saturday evening. The guests included Joan Bennett, Wanda Beyer, Geraldine Becoskey, Nancy Kelly, Betty Bruce, and Carolyn Crowell.

The friends of John Canning were pleased to learn that he returned to his home on Blunk street Dec. 21 from Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been so ill in the Cleveland Clinic hospital since Nov. 15. Mr. Canning has improved so much that he expects to return to his work for the Kaiser-Willies of Canada early this year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Lincoln Lantz were dinner guests New Year's Day in the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Robinson in Royal Oak.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Despite great effort to keep the operation modestly quiet, I've been able to uncover most of the detail of an unusual, warm, spontaneous good deed that took place in Plymouth a few days ago.

The Rev. Melbourne Johnson of the First Methodist Church has been building a home on Morgan street, looking to his day of retirement which will arrive in another five years or so. The house has been going together piece-by-piece, according to the funds on hand from time-to-time.

A few days ago he was checking with Jerry Pease about the cost of preserving some woodwork that was in an unpainted state. Jerry took a trip to the house and discovered unfinished plaster, floors, and other items—all in addition to the woodwork. As one familiar with the subject, the interior decorator was disturbed that the house should go through the winter without inside preservation of paint or paper.

Nothing was said to the Pastor, but the subject was brought to the attention of the good men and true who gather regularly about the "round table" in the Mayflower coffee shop. They agreed that here, indeed, was an undesirable state of affairs that should be corrected by direct action.

A roll of members was called and the good men began tossing five and ten dollar bills into a pot. Before the campaign was over, a few days later, approximately 20 men had become involved.

There was a certain amount of outside solicitation upon members of the round table who didn't happen to be in attendance at the original meeting. The result was a rare inter-denominational effort where Catholic, Jew, and Protestant fellows were in together helping a Methodist clergyman.

One of the callers was a Catholic and one of his assignments was a Protestant. "If you were a Catholic collecting for a Catholic benefit; or a Protestant collecting for a Protestant agency; then I'd give you the standard five dollars," the solicitor was told. "But this is different, a Catholic collecting for a Protestant. Here's twenty five bucks!"

Anyhow, on the Saturday before Christmas, Rev. Johnson was lured to the round table on some pretext by one of the members and there the news was broken to him.

His home will be interior-decorated—all the way—with paint, tile, wallpaper and the rest. The job will be done in the next week or so.

DEPARTMENT OF STATISTICS: It was fully reported a week ago that Daisy has finished a good year business-wise, but any decent disciple of data recognized the absence of one vital statistic. How many BB's left the plant?

Diligent research (one phone call to Tom Kent, that is) has made it possible for us to release the following:

5,000,000 pounds of BB's are produced in a year.
There are 1276 BB's to a pound.
Total individual BB's would be 6,370,000,000.
Laid down side-by-side they would stretch 17,500 miles.

This argument over the parking restriction on South Main has been brought vividly to our attention by a victim of it.

It was a dank, black Sunday evening and the man parked innocently at the curb and went into the grocery to get some kind of frozen stuff for a late supper. While standing at the freezer, he heard a loud voice from the door. It was an officer of the law. "Better get these cars out of here right away! I'm writing tickets!"

The man studying the frozen foods dawdled for maybe 30 seconds and then, irritably, went out to move the car. He found the police laddie with pencil upon his book. "Too late now," the officer barked, "I'm already writing." "Might as well leave it then?" asked the victim. "Might as well, won't cost you any more now," said the officer.

Did I say I knew this victim? Yes sir, it was me, myself — or as my high school English teacher would correct, "It was I."

At least I feel like I've become a veteran resident at last. A first ticket is sort of a milestone, isn't it?

It's impossible now to have an objective viewpoint, but I think I agree with those who say the restrictions on South Main should apply only to rush periods, if they need be there at all.

REQUEST FOR CHRISTMAS, 1957. Dear radio disk jockies: For the Yule season a year hence would you please play more often two Christmas songs which I think are among the most lovely and yet seem to have disappeared from standard programming? One is "Star of the East" and the other "Birthday of a King." I do own a couple of scratchy records of them (saved mostly because Judy Garland sings the vocal) but why have the songs gone out of vogue in public?

SGT. JOHN ELLIS, left, grandson of a former president of Ecuador, called on his uncle, Louis Isbell, one day last week. Sgt. Ellis will soon join the crew of President Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine.

Visiting Flier to Start Training For Assignment to Ike's Plane

by BUD KIRVAN

T/Sgt. John Ellis USAF arrived at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., yesterday to start special training that will qualify him for assignment to the "Columbine," President Eisenhower's personal airplane.

Sgt. Ellis is the nephew of Louis Isbell, 15810 Auburndale. He married the former Fleur Krause, of Livonia. Fleur graduated from Plymouth High School in the late 1940s and has many friends here and in Redford Township.

There is a real international flavor to this assignment to the Columbine. Serving in the flight crew for the President of the United States will be a grandson of a former president of Ecuador, South America.

And, if you think John Ellis is an odd name for the grandson of a young man who was born and spent the first 15 years of his life in Ecuador, you could be right. His full and proper name is John Ellis Maximiliano Isbell DeDiaz Martinez Fernandez yDavalos.

John's grandfather, President Francisco Maximiliano Diaz, headed the Ecuadorian government about 1906-10 to the best of John's knowledge. He must have been a good president, says John, because he died a natural death in 1929.

An electrician, Sgt. Ellis will get special training at Chanute that will enable him to cope with the many intricate electronic devices aboard the Columbine. He has been stationed in the Canal Zone the past few years, teaching languages at the USAF school for Latin America. He speaks Spanish and Portuguese fluently and Italian "not quite as well."

During President Eisenhower's visit to Panama last year John was assigned to Ike's party as interpreter and driver. An 11-year veteran with the Air Force, he is looking ahead with great anticipation to his new assignment. John was too young for World War II but has seen service in Korea, Japan, England and the United States in addition to the Canal Zone.

Sgt. Ellis' mother died four years after he was born. His father was J. G. Ellis a Colonel in the U. S. Army. Col. Ellis served as secretary to General Gorchels during the building of the Panama Canal.

Mrs. Ellis and their two children, Pam 3 and John VII, 19 months, are currently staying with her parents in Detroit. Young John was born in the Canal Zone.

Sgt. Ellis' uncle Louis, whom he called on in Livonia last week, served in Troop D, 2nd Cavalry during World War I. That was President Woodrow Wilson's cavalry escort.

Lady Receives 'Warm Greeting'

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter of Logansport, Indiana were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kobiata of Vermont street, arriving Sunday, December 22nd and leaving Wednesday, December 26th. The Porters are Virginia's parents.

Irene and Jim Ochs and sons Greg and Jeff of W. Chicago spent Christmas Eve at a family get-together at Irene's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Nolet of Detroit. The Ochs went to Jim's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ochs in Detroit for Christmas dinner. Last Friday night they visited their brother-in-law Captain Edward Muger who is on leave from the Air Force after a year of service in Korea. By the way, Jeffery Ochs is aging fast—he was one year old New Year's Day.

Jean and Bob Arlen and daughter Debbie of Vermont street had Christmas dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Linstrom of Detroit. The Arlens visited in Lansing December 22nd and 23rd at the home of Jean's grandmother, Mrs. Virgil Dick and spent quite a bit of their time there visiting friends, and also visiting Jean's brother who was home on leave from the service.

The Louisiana street pinochle club met at the home of Anita Griffiths Wednesday, December 13th to play cards, exchange gifts, and have their Christmas party. Present were: Gladys Wendt, Jean Stewart, Lois Durfee, Anita Griffiths, Janet Blanchard, Gerri Casler, Nancy Robert, Shirley Good, and Monica Nehasel.

The Forests, Lillian and Bill, of Vermont street had Mrs. Rachel Thomas of Detroit, Lillian's mother as their guest over the Christmas holidays.

Betty Dana, Vermont street, had insulted to injury—she received a postage due notice and when she sent the money and received the Christmas card someone in the Post Office must have been smoking, because there was a cigarette burn straight through grandma's Christmas card! Very "warmed" greetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Casler and Susie of Louisiana street visited Mr. and Mrs. James Barr in Detroit Christmas day at a gathering of about 20 relatives. Mrs. Casler had the real holiday spirit this year, and baked cookies to treat all the kids on her street!

Wednesday, December 19th Lillian Forest entertained her Coffee Club with a Christmas party. The gals gabbed, drank coffee, and exchanged gifts. Coffee klatchers present were: Jean Snyder, Mary Wilson, Margaret Briggs and Doris Chapin.

Jackie and Dave Seehlin and daughter Cindy of Westmore street went to Jackie's folks, Mr. and Mrs. William Phalen's of Livonia for Christmas dinner. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Phalen, Jackie's brother and sister-in-law.

Saw Travis Hearon, Vermont street, out in the wind and rain and what have you Christmas day erecting a tent Santa brought to that mighty outdoorsman and bear hunter, Hughie. By the time Travis got it up, the kids decided to go in again.

The Pomroy family had its usual hassle over Christmas trees! Gordon brought one home and the kids trimmed it before Mama got a good look at it. It was a handsome specimen, but crooked as a dog's hind leg, giving the viewer a slightly sea-sick feeling, so I decided it had to go. Well, the kids untrimmed it, and Gordon went out and bought another one, not much of an improvement on the first, but straight, and next year I'm going to find time to go along on the tree hunt!

The Snyders had the whole family for Christmas breakfast and present opening. In the afternoon, Jean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Holden came to dinner. Jean received money for a new clothes dryer for Christmas, by the way.

The Glides, Kay, Ken and Kay Ann spent Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glide, Ken's brother and sister-in-law in Detroit.

Jean and Allen Stanley and their daughters, Karen and Julie of Ingram street entertained quite a crowd for Christmas dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Vern Anderson and children Karen and Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boaks and Tommy, Mrs. Foss, Mrs. Boak's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hilgers and daughters Tyra and Terry of Westmore street. All the persons present were formerly from Minnesota and have settled in this part of the country.

Betty and Steve Brosoff and children, Doris, Ruth and Jimmy of Woodring street went to Betty's mother's home in Detroit for Christmas dinner. The Brosoffs are the lucky people who are not only adding a garage to their home, but also a 12 by 20 family room off the disette. Since Betty will have that much more tile to shine and scrub she received the welcome gift of an electric scrubber and polisher for Christmas, which she refers to as a "motorized scrub brush!"

I went to a real gay Christmas party at Hearon's Friday night, December 21st, but they must have brought the talent out from Detroit because I understand that the party was a grand one take off on Elvis.

The Curles and their sons Bill and Phillip spent Christmas in Chicago visiting Eleanor's folks.

By the way, the family has moved from the Berwick address and is now residing at 11026 Ingram.

The Rolens, Melrose street, had as their guests over the Christmas holidays their daughter and son in law, Lt. and Mrs. Dale Burns and grandson Jimmy of Cape Cod. They had to be lonesome for Julie over Christmas, but she, too, got home at last and arrived Thursday night, December 27th from Traverse City where she spent 3 months in special training at the Traverse City State Hospital. After spending New Year's with her parents she will return to finish her training at Highland Park General Hospital.

Mrs. Daniel, Melrose street, gave a luncheon Friday, December 28th to entertain several girls home from college. Those attending were Julie Rolens, Marilyn Pickles, Marilyn Stevenson, Phyllis Schultz, Mildred Green, Patricia Hanson and Suzanne Daniel.

Marion and John Yadosky, Vermont street, had as their guests for Christmas Mr. and Mrs. John Yadosky Sr., John's folks, and Marion's parents Mr. and Mrs. William Smith and her brother and sister in law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Marion I hear, got carried away on the turkey eating and was sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wienberger of Louisiana street entertained Mrs. Wienberger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beacon at Christmas dinner.

Jean and Bruce Stewart, Louisiana street had both sets of grandparents at their home for Christmas.

Mary and Mike Wilson, Vermont street, attended Midnight Mass at St. Michael Church Christmas Eve with Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy. After the services the folks all went back to Wilson's for turkey at about 1:30 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. William Klenk, Vermont street, had Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gilhooly and their children, Mary Therese and Eileen of Mayfield street as their guests for Christmas.

Laurie Dana, Vermont street, spent Christmas week with her grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Starr of Detroit. Little Kris left for grandma's, too, but couldn't leave Christmas night with Laurie as she spent all Christmas Eve night with the flash flu, and the doctor put her on a Christmas day diet of gingerale! Betty, the mother, spent a happy Christmas morning in the laundry room.

Heard the Rosedale Garden Presbyterian Church had a really wonderful Christmas Eve program, but the Pomroys couldn't go because their "built-in" baby sitters went themselves. Christmas day guests at the Pomroy's house were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ogden of Nankin Township and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanton of Marine City, the grandparents.

Mrs. Porbett of Huntington, West Virginia, Liz Page's mother was a guest at the Page home on Berwick over the Christmas holidays.

Marilynn Pomroy of Vermont street gave a Christmas buffet supper and dance from 5 to 11 p.m. Sunday, December 23rd. The teen agers danced and played games and played records loud in the basement while her folks sat in the living room and tried to watch television. At one time Elvis was singing right along with the Vienna Boy's Choir—Elvis in the basement, the Choir in the living room. Those attending this affair were Marilyn and Don Pomroy, Connie and Ron Conway, Bob Wilson, John Peterson, all of Rosedale; Claudine Basham, Sharon Lamb, Sylvia Rowles, David Hood, Pat Davis and Don Horn, all of Livonia and Larry Bodalski of Detroit. I'd like to mention, too, that these kids cleaned the basement and even took down the decorations before they left, which was certainly appreciated by the management!

Jim Munch, Blackburn street, is home from the hospital and is recovering nicely. Jim returned home Monday, December 24th.

Well, that is that for another week. Hope everybody had a good time New Year's Eve and made a resolution to call GA. 1-5231 with the latest neighborhood news for all of 1957!

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County DUNNING LIBRARY

More than 60 books of all kinds arrived last week at the Dunning Wayne county library here.

Included in the new shipment are 30 juvenile selections, numerous reprints and bindery repairs plus many newly written books.

The reprints feature several books by Grace Livingston Hill and Albert Payson Terhune, favorites for a generation.

One of the top picks in the brand new publications is Elliott Arnold's "Rescue", a story of the U. S. Air Force's rescue service. It's apparently an intriguing masterpiece.

Others include: The Green Year by Barbara Webster; Miss Bishop by Bess Streeter Aldrich; Who Rides with Wyatt by Will Henry (a story of Wyatt Earp, frontier marshal); The South and West of It (about Ireland) by Oriana Atkinson; Hostile Mind (about the consequences of rage and hate within your mind) by Leon J. Saul, M.D.; Death of a Fool, a mystery by Ngalo Marsh; and Compulsion, a novel by Meyer Levin.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Mrs. George Cramer mixes her "never-fail" recipe for brown bread.

Mrs. Cramer's Brown Bread "Never Fails"

A tasty brown bread recipe, just right for the holiday season, is the favorite this week. It's submitted by Mrs. George Cramer, 443 North Harvey, who says it's one of the "never-fail" sort of recipes.

She tells how the recipe was given to her by an aunt who lived in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Cramer explained that she's been asked dozens of times for the same recipe. Now she makes it available on a larger scale. Always a delight within her own family, Mrs. Cramer has used the recipe for 42 years.

To make Mrs. Cramer's "never-fail" brown bread:
Mix 2½ cups raisins with 2½ cups of water and boil for four to six minutes. Allow the mixture to cool. Add ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon shortening, 1 egg, 2½ cups of sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 level teaspoons of soda, 1 teaspoon vanilla, some nut meats and mix again thoroughly. Bake in three No. 2 cans for one hour at 350 degrees.

Mrs. Cramer enthusiastically assured users of her recipe that it would become a favorite in no time with their families.

Class Bills Series Of Laboratory Plays

Members of the sixth hour drama class are presenting a series of experimental laboratory playbills as classroom exercises to test the ability of students. Time and date for the plays will be announced later.

Two plays, Sherwood Anderson's "I Am a Fool" and "For Whom the Telephone Rings" by Charles Hahn will be presented. The plays are designed to give the students experience and practice in acting, lighting, directing, make-up, costumes and set designs.

A series of plays will be given before the school year ends with two to be given this semester and at least two next semester. A second all-school play is scheduled to be given March 21 and 22.

Who's New in Plymouth

THE H. RICHARD RICE family moved to Plymouth from Three Rivers last August and now live at 1238 Penniman. The couple is shown here with their four children: David, 11, Donald, 9, Steven, 8, and Brian, 3. Rice is chief of recruitment for the Wayne County Civil Service commission in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Rice are members of the Plymouth First Methodist church, are active in church activities. Mrs. Rice, a former school teacher, is joining the Plymouth branch of the American Association of University women.

Christmas Seal Drive Still Short, Plymouthite Tells

Thousands of families in the Greater Detroit area have already remembered to answer their Christmas Seal letter, but thousands more need to do so. Richard L. Lea of Plymouth, executive director of the TB and Health Society, said Wednesday.

Approximately $190,000 has been given to the combined fund-raising effort of Wayne County's two private tuberculosis fighting organizations. For the first time with one Christmas Seal, the combined drive has raised $10,000 less than the separate sale efforts of a year ago, Lea said.

While the holidays quickly pass—needs remain—often not forgotten—but delayed. One urgency is for funds to support the advancing fight against tuberculosis. Funds for projects of the Tuberculosis and Health Society and the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium come solely from the sale of Christmas Seals.

"We do not ask a lot of any one person," Lea pointed out, "but we must have something from everyone. Only with the help of every citizen in the Detroit and Wayne County area can we continue to battle the enemy which took the lives of 270 people last year and put 3,375 into tuberculosis sick beds."

"The toll in lives and suffering is too great. It is up to all of us to do our bit with a gift to the Christmas Seal Sale. It is never too late to make a contribution."

Here is resume of some of the most important tuberculosis-fighting programming in progress: Case-finding must continue and be stepped up still more; and all persons of 15 years of age or more alerted to the importance of an annual chest X-ray.

Tuberculosis sufferers themselves and their families in many instances must be seen and heard and helped. Research must now be allowed to stand still even for a day. And the preventative programs must continue, such as

Demi-Tasse Coffee Gaining Popularity

Today, women's interests are broad and varied. Besides being a homemaker the lady of the house is often active in behalf of the local school, a favorite charity, the political party of her choice. And a popular way of raising funds or planning a campaign is to give a coffee party.

The next time you hold a coffee party, why not serve two kinds of coffee—regular and demi-tasse. Generous cups of the piping hot brew are always welcome, of course. Then, too, with coffee houses springing up in many cities and towns, people are taking an increasing interest in demi-tasse coffee, with its touch of French or Italian atmosphere. Most of us make regular coffee just about every day of our lives, and naturally we develop our own favorite methods of brewing. But the following brewing suggestions will interest any woman who wants to make a really fine version of the beverage—coffee that is rich, full-bodied and just plain delicious.

First, it's important that you buy the correct grind of coffee for your coffee-maker. Try not to buy more than one week's supply at a time. Coffee exposed to the air for longer than that loses much of its flavor. Then, before you make your coffee, remember that the coffee-pot must be immaculate—soap-and-water clean. Just rinsing it is not enough to remove the oils that collect on the sides each time your coffee-maker is used. Once these details are taken care of, the actual brewing rules themselves are remarkably simple. Use enough coffee. You can't make good coffee if you skimp on the basic ingredient. An excellent proportion is one Standard Coffee Measure or 2 level measuring tablespoons of coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of fresh cold water for each serving. These same coffee-water proportions apply no matter what type of coffee-maker you use.

Timing is important. Percolated coffee should be "perked" gently for six to eight minutes after it begins to show color and vacuum coffee must be kept over a low heat for not more than three minutes after the water has risen to the upper bowl.

Drip coffee needs no timing, but if you stir the brew after it has dripped through, you will get a beverage of even strength throughout. And remember—coffee must never—ever—be allowed to boil.

Demi-tasse coffee not only tastes superb—it also lends itself to a very pleasant serving ritual. Since the cups are small, they may easily be placed on a tray, and served in the living room after dinner. Cream is never used; however, if you prefer lump sugar, make it the tiny dot size for this coffee.

Many fine restaurants add a small twist of lemon peel to a demi-tasse. It's piquant and delightful to taste. And when you serve demi-tasse coffee, do use those pretty demi-tasse cups that you've been keeping on the top shelf of the closet. Nearly every household has a set and they are used far too seldom!

Now for the recipe. Demi-tasse coffee is quite a bit stronger than regular coffee, but only a small amount is consumed, which accounts for the strength of the brew. For eight demi-tasse servings, use 3 measuring cups of fresh, cold water to 6 Standard Coffee Measures (or 12 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee.

Made these ways, coffee will please your committee members and guests. In fact, once you've tasted coffee brewed by these rules, we believe you'll want to serve it to your own family—day in and night out.

HAM AND RICE SALAD

The interesting combination of foods in this unusual Ham and Rice Salad recipe blends perfectly to make an excellent bridge party salad, or a substantial main dish for a hungry family. Salad dressing is suggested because its tartness will bring out the full flavor of these ingredients. Serve parsley biscuits, blueberry tarts, and lemonade to round out the menu. Try it on an Indian Summer day for an outdoor luncheon.

HAM AND RICE SALAD

- 2 cups cold cooked rice
  - 1 cup diced cooked ham
  - 1/2 cup cut dates
  - 1/2 cup broken walnut meats
  - 1/2 cup salad dressing
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Combine all ingredients and toss lightly. Chill thoroughly. Serve on crisp lettuce with additional salad dressing. Yields six servings.

Upstairs — Downstairs ALL AROUND THE HOME

YEAR-ROUND SWEETS

Golden sweet potatoes are available year 'round but the peak season begins now.

Bright and Clean

When you buy sweet potatoes, select only those that are bright and clean and free from blemishes. Disregard color since it's not an important factor.

Just remember that thick, chunky, medium-size potatoes which taper toward the end are your best bet.

Avoid sweets with any kind of decay. It spreads rapidly and even a little bit affects the taste of the entire potato. With pork chops or roast, serve sliced sweet potatoes, baked with syrup.

Syrupy Sweet Potatoes

- 6 sweet potatoes
  - 1 tablespoon fat
  - 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
  - 1/2 cup water
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Pare potatoes and slice. Place in baking dish and add remaining ingredients. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) thirty minutes. Remove cover and bake thirty minutes more or until tender. Yield: Six servings.

This can also be made with light corn syrup if you run out of the dark.

Here's an idea for using leftover ham with sweet potatoes in a casserole.

Ham and Sweets Casserole

- Wash six medium sweet potatoes and boil until tender. Peel and cut into halves lengthwise. Place in greased baking dish with one-half cup chopped pecans and one cup cubed leftover ham.
- Combine one and one-half cups pineapple juice, one-fourth cup each white sugar and brown sugar, one tablespoon cornstarch and two tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Pour over potatoes. Bake in slow oven (300° F.) one hour. Baste several times during baking with syrup in dish. Yield: Six servings.

This casserole is practically a whole meal in itself. Just add a salad and a beverage.

To keep the "newness" of appearance of shoes as long as possible, you should take care of them. It is important to keep the soles flat when you're not wearing them. That means keeping shoe-trees in the shoes. If you don't have shoe-trees, crumple up some newspaper or brown wrapping paper and stuff it in the toe of each shoe to keep the shoes in good shape. For wet shoes—let them dry out slowly so the soles will retain their pliability. Regular polishing preserves the shoe leather as well as appearance.

Rule of thumb for hosiery buying: "Denier" means thickness of the thread and the lower the denier number, the sheerer the hose; "Gauge" means number of stitches per inch and a half of fabric and the higher the number of stitches the finer, sheerer the stocking.

Carelessness Causes Household Accidents

Statistics show that most accidents in the home result from carelessness. Something can be done about this!

Ladders are a "must" in every household, and should be used when washing windows, hanging curtains and cleaning walls and ceilings, etc. Many hard falls have resulted from a housewife using a chair or stool to perform such jobs.

The burners on gas stoves should be completely turned off when not lighted for use. Pilot lights should be high enough to remain burning even when gas is low.

When children are in the kitchen, be sure that all of the pots cooking, are pushed to the back of the stove out of their reach.

Train children to pick up and put away their toys. Never allow toys to remain scattered over the floor as this is one of the greatest household hazards known.

Plastics - Material of 100 Uses

Plastics are becoming a material of a hundred uses in American building, offering new structural forms and the likelihood that in the future more and more parts of a house may be factory assembled.

An introduction to these materials and their many uses and characteristics has been prepared for the home builder and planner by the Small Homes Council of the University of Illinois in an 8-page circular just issued.

It explains the two types of plastics—thermoplastics "like butter which can be softened and re-shaped any number of times," and thermosetting, "like an egg, which once cooked, can never be reverted to its fluid state."

Characteristics of seven families of plastics commonly used for building products are described—vinyl, styrene, polyethylene acrylic, phenolic, melamine, and polyester. Comparative heat resistance and strength data for them are also given.

Among uses of plastics which the circular discusses are light transmitters (luminous ceilings, skylights, louvers, windows); panels for roofs and interior and exterior walls; coverings for floors, walls and counter tops; insulation and vapor barriers; window frames and screens; and electrical devices. Single copies of "Plastics as Building Materials" are available without charge until Jan. 15, 1957, from the Small Homes Council, University of Illinois, Urbana. After that date they will be 10 cents, the same as the council's 28 other non-technical illustrated circulars. The whole series is available for $3. Purchasers of the complete set receive future issues without further charge.

The question we are most frequently asked is, in essence, this: "How much does a funeral service cost?" Our answer is a simple one: "As much — or as little! — as the family wishes, or can afford, to pay." We can prove the truth of that statement in our display room.

Eye-Care Tips

Visit your eye doctor at least once a year. Everyone has periodic check-ups with the dentist, but most people neglect their eyes, which, unlike teeth, cannot be replaced.

Get plenty of rest. The eyes, like other organs of the body need rest to gain renewed strength for the job they are called on to do every day. Help relieve the strain by closing your eyes for several five minute intervals every day.

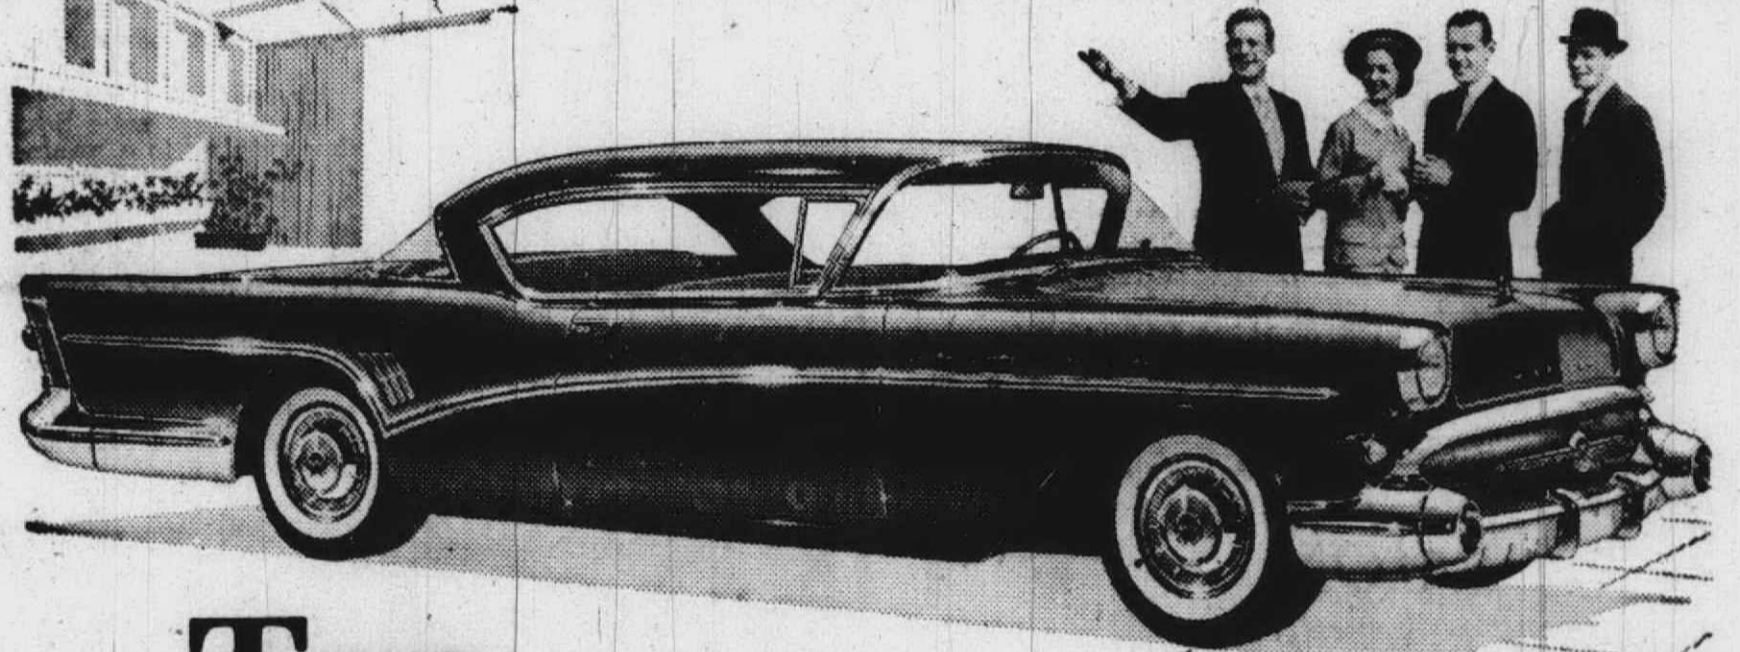

Don't strain the eyes with improper light while reading, driving, watching TV, or in bright sunlight. Use isotonic collyrium eye-drops to relieve eye fatigue.

Follow a proper diet—a well balanced diet with plenty of the essential food elements and vitamins, including vitamin A for the eyes. Proper eye care is essential to the overall general health of the individual.

Natural GAS YOUR SILENT SERVANT

"Lung" Checkups Keep Gas Meters Accurate

Your gas meter is similar to a healthy lung. It actually goes through the motions of breathing—inhalating and exhaling gas by means of little diaphragms of leather or plastic. At each intake of "breath," the meter registers how much gas is consumed.

The "lung" and other vital parts of your gas meter are regularly inspected to insure accurate measurement of gas consumption. More than 300 gas meters a day go through the scientific test and repair cycle at Consumers' General Meter Building in Jackson.

Here gas meters are tested, adjusted and repainted. Even new meters, fresh from the manufacturer, must undergo rigid tests before going into service. Only a meter of demonstrated accuracy is permitted to measure the gas that serves you.

Only GAS does so much, so well... the modern fuel for automatic cooking... refrigeration... water-heating... house-heating... air conditioning... clothes-drying... incineration.

New Method Use By Small Builder Can Slice Costs

Building houses and building profits may strike the contractor who puts up no more than say a dozen homes a year as contradictory.

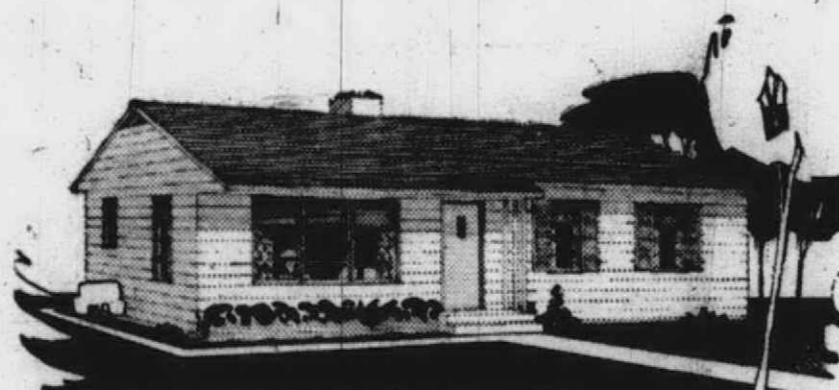

Building materials manufacturers constantly strive to minimize the cost of homebuilding—even for the low-volume contractor who does not buy materials in massive quantities.

Whether he is a big or small operator, the builder himself also can cut costs through sharper construction methods. Construction researchers recommend such practices as:

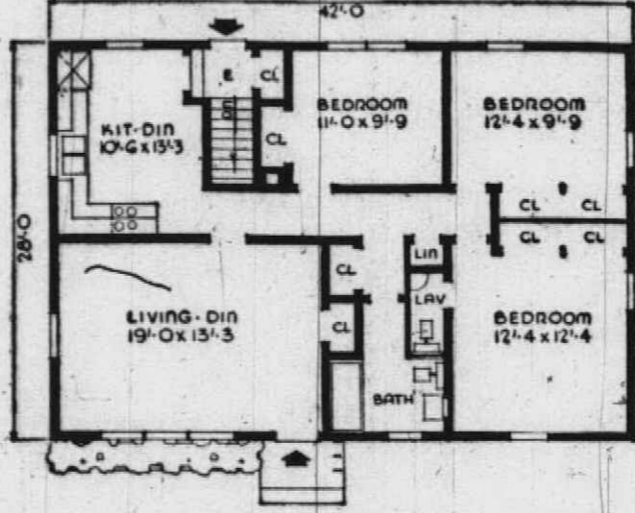

1. Precutting materials and pre-assembling parts. Much delay results from cutting and fitting each piece of building material from measurements taken as the work progresses. This is caused by incomplete plans and specifications. Complete, accurate working drawings are the first step in reducing building costs.

2. Pre-assembling exterior walls. By assembling sections of the exterior wall as far as possible on the floor and then tipping them up into position, costs of wall construction can be reduced, because materials can be easily aligned, spaced and held in position for nailing. Also simplified nailing practices are made possible by avoiding working from ladders or scaffolding.

3. Unit ceiling and roof. Instead of building separately, design the ceiling and the roof as a roof truss. Members thus can be made smaller (saving material), the truss may be pre-assembled (saving labor) and the roof truss can be erected rapidly (covering the job and eliminating delays due to weather conditions).

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-378

DESIGN C378. A rectangular plan and gable roof assure the utmost economy in construction through labor savings and elimination of waste.

This is such a plan, consisting of three bedrooms, a bath, lavatory in front bedroom, kitchen-dinette, large living room and full basement.

Wide siding on the exterior is combined with shutters, brick planter and broken eave lines for a low, attractive house.

There are seven closets, including coat closets and linen cabinet.

The kitchen has cabinets on two walls and a large space for a dining table. Floor area is 1176 square feet and cubage is 23,344 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN C-378, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

BUILDING and REMODELING NEWS FOR EVERY HOME

Watertight Roof Vital When Ice Clogs Gutters

Ice-clogged gutters are a headache that can lead to plenty of trouble and expense, inside the house as well as outside.

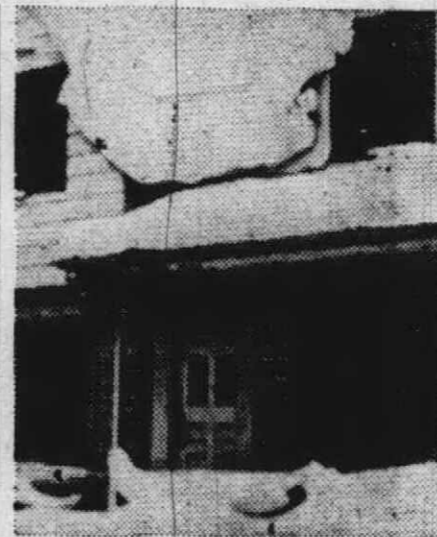

John C. Moore, scientific director of the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, describes what happens:

"The ice forms in the gutter and fills it, an ice dam is formed, and snow melt farther up the roof, and water backs underneath the shingles."

In a properly applied roof, a hidden layer of asphalt roll roofing serves as a barrier to water that backs up from an ice dam in the gutter. Called an "eaves flashing strip," this layer lies from the eaves line to a point 12 inches beyond the inside wall line of the building.

Otherwise, leaks can make their way down through the roof deck and interior walls and ceilings. The water may eventually cause the paint on the outside walls to blister and peel. The full extent of the damage may not be known until well after the ice and snow have disappeared from the roof.

The best permanent precaution is to protect the roof and the interior of the house with durable, watertight roofing, and to see that it is properly applied. Asphalt shingles are a quality material, but they must be properly applied if they are to give the full term of satisfactory service of which they are capable. Detailed application specifications cover protective under-layers, nailing methods, use of cement, and the amount each shingle overlaps the one beneath it for maximum protection from wind and water.

Though pretty to see, piled-up snow and ice may stop up roof gutters and cause water to seep in under roofing. The home-owner should protect his investment with watertight roofing, such as asphalt shingles, and see that it is applied according to manufacturer's specifications.

HERE'S HOW...

A sturdy, weatherproof house for the family pet is built with a removable top to facilitate cleaning and airing. Three 2 by 4-inch sills, treated with preservative, raise the floor above the ground. The rest of the lumber is 1-inch stock. Note that the lower back board is 6 inches wide, so that the joints at the back corners are staggered. This eliminates cleats or framing. The removable top is made as shown, with interior cleats to hold it snugly in place.

MAKE A DOG HOUSE

Building paper and shingles are added to the roof. The house may be finished to match the garage or dwelling.

SHORT ITEMS

Early Americans Used Seaweed as Insulation

Many buyers of old Colonial farm houses in New England states have discovered during remodeling that the walls were insulated with dried seaweed. The seaweed did a good job, too, in keeping the Colonial houses warmer in winter and cooler in summer, plus helping to save fuel. But unlike modern mineral wool, the seaweed attracted vermin and was a serious fire hazard.

HOME OWNERSHIP UP

Home ownership has increased five per cent during the past year, according to new surveys. About 60 per cent of Americans own their own homes today, compared to 55 per cent in 1955. Increase was greatest in the north central states and lowest in the northeast.

WEIGHT GUIDES ROOFERS

When roofers speak of "210-pound asphalt shingles," they mean three-tab square-but strip shingles, which customarily weigh 210 pounds per square when five inches of each shingle tab is exposed as the shingles are laid on the roof deck. A "square" of roofing is the amount needed to cover 100 square feet of roof area.

CHALK LINE USEFUL

A chalk line is useful as a guide when laying tiles or hanging wallpaper. Make one by stretching string between two nails near the surface of the floor or wall and rubbing chalk over the string. Lifting the string lightly and allowing it to snap back leaves a straight chalk mark on the surface.

PINE FINE FOR STAIN

The uniform grain and smooth surface of ponderosa pine makes this wood popular for kitchen cabinets. The wood is especially attractive when stained. Pine doors and windows of ponderosa pine also are often stained to take advantage of the natural beauty of wood in room decoration.

MORE 'JUICE' IN USE

Wider use of electrical appliances in the home has boosted the use of electricity more than 400 per cent in the last ten years.

Transplanting Still Possible

SAFEGUARDING YOUR TREES

If you're planning on transplanting trees or shrubs this late in winter, you may not have to stop just because snow is on the ground.

A moderate snowfall doesn't mean that the ground is unworkable. More often than not, snow actually becomes a white blanket protecting the earth against severe cold weather.

The worst freezes usually occur when the ground is bare. Besides being a good insulator, snow also serves as a mulch. But wet, weighty snow has its drawbacks, too. Accumulating on tree limbs, it often snaps the boughs with its weight or leaves them grotesquely misshapened.

Experts advise sweeping off evergreens with the kitchen broom after each heavy snow, or even during the storm. This precaution may save the trees and shrubs from serious injury or permanent disfigurement.

To find out if the ground still is soft enough for tree moving work, simply give it the summer-time shovel treatment. If the shovel scoops bounces off the ground like hitting a rock, better wait for warmer weather. But if the earth shovels out easily, instead of in chunks, that's a good sign winter paralysis hasn't yet set in.

Evergreens are usually transplanted in late summer, early fall, or in April or May as long as the ground remains unfrozen, winter's a fine time for shifting the shrubbery or for removing overgrown or unwanted greenery.

Who Does The Painting?

In 71 per cent of the homes recently surveyed the interior painting was last done by one or more family members. The professional painter did 18 per cent of the jobs. When income was $7,500 or over, 43 per cent of the painting was done by contract painters. Rural folks do more of their own painting than city dwellers. This of course does not cover the office buildings, hotels, hospitals, and other institutional type painting usually done by professional painters.

Shame on the Lions

Americans take their sports seriously. What happens on the field is a matter closer to the hearts of most of us than what takes place on any given day in United Nations headquarters. On the sports pages, on television, and in the stadium itself are elements that represent pleasure, excitement and escape from the routine of one's own life.

Since this is so true, it is a matter of more than passing importance when a sports event makes us look bad. Specifically, when we lose our dignity in defeat.

Two recent episodes have brought out incredibly poor sportsmanship. The most recent was that heavy defeat hung on the Detroit Lions by the Chicago Bears in a key professional football game. The other was the earlier loss by the U.S. to Russia on "points" in the Olympic Games.

It's been a long time since we can recall the leaders of a Detroit team accepting defeat with such bad grace as did the Lions. Pro football is a rough, brutal game—and it is no secret to the Lions or anyone else that the brutal aspects have been more emphasized with each passing year. In their revival a few years back, the Lions themselves flourished in great measure upon the ferocity of the giants they had up front in the line.

But whatever the emphasis, it didn't change any prior to the Lions-Bears game. That was played according to the same rules as all other games this season, and the rules were understood by both parties. When the Lions lost, as much because they were out-smarted as because they were out-hit, the team left the field screaming about the Bears playing foul, the referees being lax, and so on. The sour grapes continued for days.

The pattern after the Olympics was about the same. This country knew before it went to Australia what risks were involved. Among them were the concentration of the Russians on gymnastics and other events that aren't voguish here; plus the financial help given athletes by the Soviets.

But when the points were added, and we found ourselves second, the moans howled across the Pacific about how the games themselves don't mean anything and how amateurs shouldn't be made to compete against professionals.

If a sports event means anything in terms of character, it is that it teaches that in any of life's struggles there is a loser. The match often is uneven, too. The biggest job of man always has been to acquire the talent of accepting his knocks with grace and dignity.

The two examples of weeping in defeat were shameful.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Higher Pay for Top Officers?

WHO WANTS TO BE FOREMAN in a shop where workers are paid higher than the supervisor? Who wants to be boss of a business where employees earn more than the man with most responsibility?

The answer, obviously, is, "not many."

Yet the income circumstances outlined above are exactly that our state government provides for several important state positions. And situation plays a big part in the lack of enthusiastic candidates.

The state superintendent of public instruction is paid $12,500 per year. He is responsible for the education of Michigan's nearly 1 1/2 million children. But four employees of his department, all of whom enjoy the securities of civil service, receive higher salaries. The present superintendent has indicated he has not yet decided whether he will run for reelection in April.

Finances must play an important part in his decision. If he had maintained his former capacity as deputy superintendent, he would now in all probability be drawing more than $15,000 per year. Superintendents of schools in many localities are paid this amount. In Detroit and several of the larger cities salaries are as high as $30,000.

The tremendous responsibility of the state highway system rests in the hands of a man paid $12,500. He handles more than $200 million per year. On the highway staff are at least four people receiving salaries higher than the commissioner.

When the top job in a department pays less than subordinate positions, it is understandable that competent, professional people would prefer not to be "promoted."

Perhaps less desirable than the salary deficiency is the political aspect. The administrator must run for office each term. This is almost always a physical and emotional trial as well as an expensive one.

The "boss" is always a target for fair and even unfair criticism from citizens or political opponents. There are, for instance, many who believe that the Governor's blasts at Charles M. Ziegler were much more for political reasons than any other.

Legislators have indicated some inclination to improve this matter in the coming session. If action is not taken, the situation will grow less and less practical as other salaries increase. And it will become more and more difficult to find capable men willing to work for less than those whose activities they direct and whose actions they are responsible for.

MICHIGAN'S "SICKEST" FIELD CROP may be in for some doctoring. The Michigan potato, which has slipped steadily from the housewife's favor, must either regain its former popularity or disappear entirely from the agriculture picture as a major factor in this state.

Representatives from all phases of the sagging potato industry were invited to a meeting at Michigan State University. Joint hosts were the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the university itself. Present were growers, shippers, brokers, retailers, promotion people and a lone lady speaking as a consumer.

The potato plight was explained by George S. McIntyre, director of the Michigan department, and Dean Thomas K. Cowden, College of Agriculture at MSU. The conferees were told that in 1934 Michigan had 323,000 acres in potatoes with a yield of 36 million bushels. In 1956 this crop was reduced to 13 million bushels from only 51,000 acres.

It was also pointed out that the potato industry is the only major commodity group without some sort of organization to promote its existence.

Jane Jones Needs More Income

BY HARRY C. FRANCE
There are thousands of people in America—many of them in retirement—who desperately need a 5 per cent annual return on their money. The risk element in common stocks causes them to shy away from such investments. Growth has little appeal with age crowding in upon them.

Take the case of Jane Jones, a widow of 72. She has $40,000 earning 3 per cent annually. Her modest home is free and clear. She has two daughters and the thought of spending capital to improve her living standards she simply will not entertain. The common stocks paying 5 and 6 per cent all carry risk of one form or another and her mind is not geared to that kind of investment.

She is living, after a fashion, on $100 a month. If that could be increased to $150 a month, economic pressures would be removed. Her worries would be lifted and her anxieties removed.

She represents armies of persons in their 60's, 70's and 80's who have from $10,000 to $100,000.

Now, for the first time in 20 years, two types of securities can be bought that carry far less risk than common stocks. Corporation bonds are the first type. Railroad obligations of such systems as Baltimore and Ohio, Erie, New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Northern Pacific can be bought at substantial discounts to yield from 4 1/2 to 6 per cent annually.

Recently, the directors of one of America's leading railroads (it does a gross annual business of around $500,000,000) voted four quarterly dividends on its preferred stock. In my judgment if the Suez-Middle East situation had not been disturbing investors everywhere, this confidence of the railroad directors in voting a year's preferred dividends would have influenced bond buyers. But nothing like that happened. The 4 per cent bonds of this big system are selling at 77 cents on the dollar, affording a yield of about 5.2 per cent.

The second type of security affording a good return is the preferred stock. Most preferreds carry a stipulated annual return. Yes, the directors of corporations vote preferred dividends. But such payments are almost automatic.

A long, long list of good preferred stocks can be compiled that will pay—on the average—around 5 per cent. United States Steel, United States Rubber, Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea, R. H. Macy, Lorillard, Erie Railroad, International Harvester, Jones and Laughlin Steel and National Biscuit are a few of the prominent American enterprises with outstanding preferred stocks that afford good income.

Some of these stocks are noncallable. Others are selling at substantial discounts from call prices.

Any reader of these lines needing higher income might well visit an office of a Stock Exchange firm and there, under the guidance of a competent manager or customers' broker, read about the rights and privileges of those who own such stocks. Far too few investors use the facilities available at brokerage offices.

If those who can't do this research themselves want a list of stocks and bonds briefly mentioned here, I shall be glad to send a list if a self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed.

THE FORUM

(Q) "When and how are preferred dividends paid?"
(A) Invariably, four times a year and by check on the bank where the subscriber's corporation carries dollar balances.

Harry C. France will answer one letter each week through this column. If you have any investment questions write in care of this newspaper.

IVY BAKER PRIEST, Treasurer of the United States, discussing the woman politician: "The average woman runs a little government right in her own household."

As we go through life, we often feel like we're sitting "on top of the world" ... a business advancement ... a new baby ... a new car ... a wonderful vacation.

There's another wonderful "on-top-of-the-world" feeling and that's when you know that you are PROPERLY INSURED ... that your insurance program has been drafted by a qualified, independent agent — a professional man whose life is the servicing, study and selling of insurance ... that you have the CORRECT AMOUNT of insurance at the CORRECT PRICE ... that you have in your agent a man who will represent YOU in time of loss ... that the hard won possessions you have will not be snatched away by misfortune.

It's easy to get this feeling of peace of mind. A call to us is all that's needed. Without obligation, we'll analyze your insurance. We'll point out flaws, if any exist. If your program is adequate and properly priced, we'll tell you that, too.

More often than not, we find a means of maintaining your present level of coverage at a lower premium cost ... or providing more complete insurance at the same cost. In ALL CASES, you will know FOR SURE ... and that means you can justifiably have that "on-top-of-the-world" feeling ... complete peace of mind.

Finally Believed His Eyes and Ears!

He has heard and read a great many wonderful things about this new 1957 Cadillac since it made its first appearance a few brief weeks ago——about its magnificent new luxury, for instance ... its brilliant new power and responsiveness ... its marvelous new handling ease ... and its extraordinary new smoothness of ride.

And so, quite frankly, he began to wonder if it weren't all too good to be true. Could any motor car be as wonderful as this latest "car of cars" was reputed to be?

Well, he's decided to put his eyes and ears to the test today. And the verdict is unmistakable!

It's a joy just to lean back into those deep, soft cushions and look out over that graceful hood into the beckoning highway.

And what a revelation the car is to drive!

A curve in the road ahead? He simply follows it with the arc of his hands and the car responds with perfect obedience.

A hill in the offing? He just nudges the accelerator and the car sweeps up and over as effortlessly as if it were traveling the level road.

A stop light coming up? He presses his toe—ever so gently—on the broad braking pedal and comes to the smoothest, surest stop imaginable.

Yes, it's true what they say about this newest of Cadillacs. This is far and away the finest motor car ever to travel the world's highways.

How about you? Have you heard the wonderful things they're saying about the 1957 Cadillac?

Well, the proof is in the driving—and the facts about Cadillac have never been more convincing.
