

'Daisy Story' Coming Saturday

TV Film Stars Local Plant

Daisy Manufacturing company and many Plymouth citizens will be the stars of Drew Pearson's weekly television show - this Saturday afternoon.

The "Daisy Story" will be the feature of Pearson's TV series, "New Horizons" that will be seen at 1:30 p.m. this Saturday on CKLW-TV (channel 9).

Pearson, rated as one of Washington's top reporters, is host for the show devoted to the saga of American progress and achievement. The show presents a study of American business and its contribution toward giving the nation the highest standard of living in the world.

A camera crew came to Plymouth on the Wednesday, Thursday and Friday after New Years to film the Daisy story. Twenty minutes of the 30-minute program will be devoted to the air rifle firm.

Included will be youngsters from Bird school who were filmed being taught to shoot the air rifle safely. The show will also give viewers a glimpse of the production and research that goes into the manufacture of air rifles, B-Bs and play guns.

The camera also covered a union committee meeting and explains how Daisy's unique 30-year-old profit-sharing plan was climaxed in 1956 with a total profit split of $529,607.

Daisy's executive vice-president, Cass Hough, traveled to New York for a filmed interview by Pearson.

"New Horizons" is a syndicated production. It is shown in nine other cities besides Detroit. They are New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Chicago, Milwaukee, Denver, Dallas and Manchester, New Hampshire.

None of the local Daisy officials have seen the show but the firm's representatives in New York have.

The sequence shot at Bird school tells the story of how a boy at first wanted to learn how to shoot his own way and later found out that he was not having the fun that other children were. David Gates, director of training services for Daisy, is headlined in this and other scenes.

While it is not certain if all the children photographed will actually appear in the final film, the following youngsters served as actors and actresses:

Bill West (star of the sequence), Martha Gates, Mike Bentley, Jeffrey Hoffman, Buzz Smith, Mike Carney, Jerry Wallace, Jane Jousma, David Roberts, Kenneth Stevens, Virginia Fetner, Dennis Knapp, Sara Stout and Steven Bowles.

A director, writer and cameraman came to Plymouth for the filming. The three spent most of the first day with Robert Wesley, Daisy sales manager, working out the scenes.

While other "New Horizons" shows have featured up to four companies during a half hour, the producers decided to devote an entire show to Daisy because of the firm's many interesting aspects.

Sam Hudson Elected Head Of Community Fund Board

Sam Hudson, advertising and public relations director of Evans Products company, was elected president of the Plymouth Community Fund board of directors at the annual meeting held Tuesday night.

He replaces Marvin Criger who submitted his resignation from the board due to ill health.

The annual meeting is held each January and is open to anyone who contributed $1 or more to the Community Fund.

Other officers elected were Mrs. L. B. Rice, vice-president; and John Pint, treasurer. Mrs. Lucille Cutler was appointed as secretary to replace Mrs. Carl Caplin who also resigned. Mrs. Caplin was secretary for over three years.

Five new members were elected to the board of directors to fill vacancies. They were Richard Daniel, Walter Drummond, James W. Davis, Mrs. Eva Geller and Ralph Carter.

Others remaining on the board are Mrs. R. J. Lorenz, Dr. R. R. Barber and John Gaffield.

Leaving the board of directors with Criger were Sheldon Baker, H. Philip Barney and A. E. Valier.

The board accepted Criger's resignation "with regret" and noted that during his administration the fund made two notable advances by combining the Red Cross and Muscular Dystrophy drives with the Community Fund. Criger has been president for two years.

A check for $1,500 for muscular dystrophy was approved during the evening. The money is being turned over to city and township firemen, who in turn will give it to the Muscular Dystrophy association.

Cold Night in 1863 Recalled in Clipping

If you think the near zero weather experienced in Plymouth this week is cold, you may reconsider after hearing the story of New Years night, 1863, when it dropped to 37 degrees below zero and froze a man to death.

A newspaper clipping uncovered only this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westfall, 873 North Holbrook, told of an unhappy incident which took place that night.

A stage coach had gone to Wayne to bring back to the Plymouth hotel a group of people for a party. The stage arrived on time and the passengers alighted, but the driver sat motionless atop the stage.

"The crowd became furious and shouted at him," the article recounted. "There was no reply. The driver had frozen to death but the horses, familiar with the route, had reached their destination without their driver."

Your Polio Dollars Helped These Youngsters

EDITOR'S NOTE: It is sometimes difficult to see where our donations to the various fund drives go. The following are the stories of three Plymouth youngsters who were together at the University of Michigan hospital in the summer and fall of 1954. The letters were written by their parents.

Dale Rumberger
Dale was admitted to University hospital on August 29, 1954 with paralytic polio. The March of Dimes contacted us by phone the next day and within a couple of days we received a very nice letter asking if the organization could help. We were at our wit's end because we had only a small amount of insurance.

The hospital bill was running over $27 a day when we contacted the March of Dimes. They took over the expense of Dale's care and we have been helped on out-patient care since his discharge. We found out that the March of Dimes does help.

For the first seven days, Dale was in the children's contagious ward. They made tests and watched him continuously. Then he was transferred to the sixth floor in the main hospital. There he was given complete rest and special treatment such as physical therapy and hot packs. During his stay he was treated with kindness and received excellent care. He had been there about eight weeks when he was fitted with a full leg brace and crutches. He learned to use them under the guidance of a specialized physical therapist. She gave him her attention twice a day when she also administered exercises.

Dale was discharged in about four months with the full leg brace and crutches. The therapist instructed my husband and me on how to administer his exercises at home. We very faithfully administered these exercises twice a day. Now, because of the medical care paid by the March of Dimes, our son, Dale walks like most other children with no leg brace or crutches.

For out-patient care, Dale first went for check-ups every two weeks, then once a month, then once every three months and our next visit will be in six months. It has been quite frequent that Dale needed new shoes and after there were adjustments made for the shoes at the hospital appliance shop. All of these expenses were paid by the March of Dimes. Because of this help we will always be grateful for the services of some of the finest polio doctors in the country.

Nancy Lou Young
We had heard about and donated to the March of Dimes before August 1954, but since then we have been thankful and grateful that such an organization exists. It became very real to us after our oldest daughter, Nancy Lou, then 7½, was admitted to University hospital on August 2, 1954 with polio.

The hospital told us to contact the Wayne County March of Dimes office in Detroit. We were questioned to fill out a short questionnaire by a very courteous young lady and told to contact her if we had any questions. We have not once been asked to "pay back" any of the bill which amounted to $2,064. Our insurance (Continued on Page 8)

WITH A VACCINE against polio now a reality, these three youngsters may be among the last Plymouth children who need to suffer the crippling disease. They were patients together at University hospital in 1954. Dale Rumberger, 5, left, is showing his Christmas presents to Nancy Lou Young, 10, and Danny Wolff, 6. Danny still must wear braces and use crutches.

Girl Scout Peanut Sale Raises $344 for Polio

Plymouth Girl Scouts sold $344.07 worth of peanuts on the downtown streets last Saturday with proceeds going to the polio fund. Despite the cold and snowy day, 260 Girl Scouts sold out their entire supply of 1,500 bags of peanuts by 1 p.m.

FIGHTING ALL the way because of the lack of height, the Plymouth high basketball squad is on top of the Suburban League this week all by itself. They nosed out unbeaten Trenton last Friday 52-50 with a last-second shot. Plymouth's Paul Cummings (44) is shown in the center of scramble for the ball bouncing off the backboard and is even giving his teammate, Cliff Tait (45) an unintentional elbow in the face. For details of the game, see the sports page in this section.

Adult Education Winter Term To Open in February

Registration is taking place now through next week for 60 class activities that are being offered during the winter term by the Plymouth Adult Education and Recreation department. A dozen new classes are among those being offered, Director Herbert Woolweaver announced.

The Adult Education and Recreation office will be open in the daytime and also in the evening next Monday and Tuesday for registration. Registration can be completed by phone, in person or by sending someone else. Booklets containing information about each course are available at the recreation office, city hall, Chamber of Commerce, Hotel Mayflower and at the high school and library in Northville. Classes offered for the first time are:

Woolweaver said that one course again being offered was left out of the activities booklet by error. The course in upholstery, taught by Barney Ploshnick will be held Mondays from 7:30 to 9:30 starting February 4.

Here is a complete list of the courses and the days they are held:

Monday
Americanization, badminton, china painting, community chorus, flower arranging, golf, oil painting, principles of design, rug braiding, symphony, theatre guild, typing I, welding.

Tuesday

Rev. Rieder to Head Ministerial Association

Reverend David L. Rieder, pastor of First Baptist church, was elected president of the Plymouth Ministerial association at its annual reorganizational meeting held last Thursday at the Seventh Day Adventist church.

The secretary-treasurer for the year will be the Reverend Merton Henry, pastor of the Adventist church.

Retiring officers are the Reverend David T. Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, president; and the Reverend John Walaska, pastor of the Assembly of God, secretary-treasurer.

A major item of discussion at the meeting was finding a proper and adequate method of advertising Plymouth churches and addresses for the benefit of new residents and visitors of the community.

Cooperation Group Elects New Officers, Maps Action

Willis R. McCabe of 46271 Ann Arbor Rd., Plymouth Township, and Donald R. Ward, 711 Burroughs, Plymouth, were elected co-chairmen of the Area Cooperation Group at a meeting in the Junior High School Tuesday evening.

They replace George Bowles and William Lyons, who accepted temporary appointments as co-chairmen when the group first was formed a few months ago. McCabe is supervisor of salary administration for the central division of Ford Motor Co. and Ward is assistant to the president of Evans Products Co.

Mrs. Robert Houston, 13991 Ridgewood, Plymouth, was elected secretary; and Byron A. Becker, 1455 Penniman, treasurer. The new officers ran quickly through a suggested agenda for future action. Among the proposals were to have high school students invited to the Group's meetings; study of the fire hydrant rental problem in the Township; sponsorship of a "town hall type" of public meeting where candidates for office could speak and meet the public; study of problems in areas that have grown in similar fashion to the Plymouth area.

The Group also endorsed The Plymouth Mail's polling for the "five most important problems," a project described elsewhere on this page.

Many Seek Office In Canton And Salem Townships

Neighboring Canton and Salem township will both have a large field of candidates in the February 18 primary election with most of the present officeholders again in the races.

In Canton township, where both Democrats and Republicans are in office, two old foes will meet. Republican Supervisor Louis Stein will again face former Supervisor Robert Waldecker, a Democrat. But this meeting will not come until the April 1 general election.

Waldecker has lost out to Stein by a few votes in the past two elections and recounts were held. Neither have opponents for the primary. Supervisor William I. Scheel of Salem township has an opponent in the primary, W. Howard Stillwill. The lone Democrat seeking the office is William Young. Republicans are traditional winners in Salem and only four Democrats filed nominating petitions.

Wayne Man Purchases Plymouth Hardware

Purchase of the Plymouth Hardware on Forest avenue by a Wayne man was completed this week.

New owner of the business is Kenneth Eddington, who also operates Byrd's Hardware in Dearborn. He has been in the hardware business for 11 years.

Eddington purchased the Plymouth Hardware from Robert Beyer, who last month purchased the business and building from Mrs. Elmira Rose, widow of the late William Rose. Rose constructed the building and began operation of the hardware in 1950.

Beyer will retain ownership of the building which also houses a Beyer Rexall drug store. Eddington said that he will begin work immediately on redecorating the hardware and rebuilding its stock. He will manage the local store himself.

Customers to Drink Coffee for Polio

Two local restaurants will give Plymouth's March of Dimes drive a boost this Saturday by donating their coffee proceeds to the campaign. They are Barney's Plymouth Grill, 950 Starkweather, and Jack's Burgers, 794 Penniman.

Both restaurants will offer free coffee-for-polio to patrons who make their donations. H. Philip Barney of the Plymouth Grill has followed this practice for a number of years. Jack Young of Jack's, Burgers is donating his coffee money for the second year.

Poll to Seek Out Biggest Area Needs

This week the Plymouth Mail is asking its readers to lend a hand to some serious-minded people who are trying to help plan the future of our area.

Elsewhere on this page is a blank. In it are five numbered spaces. In those spaces we ask that our readers list what to them are the five most pressing problems in the Plymouth area.

We don't want answers—just a list of problems.

It isn't necessary even to sign your name. But we would like the general location of your address, so we can analyze the responses in terms of their place of origin.

Two weeks hence we will publish the results of this poll, but that's only incidental to its main purpose. The prime reason for it is to turn the information over to the Plymouth Area Cooperation Group to guide the future actions of its members.

Paul Chandler, publisher of The Mail, appeared before the Area Cooperation Group Tuesday evening to suggest the plan. The members enthusiastically requested that it be carried out. These members are volunteer, public-spirited citizens with a sense of civic duty. They come from across all city and township boundary lines and they represent a host of different interests, large and small.

In the past few months since the Group has been formed, it has had a feeling of working in the dark, without knowing exactly what problems should be tackled first.

Answers to the polls actually should fall into categories:

- (1) What oversights or mistakes do you believe are being made at the present time by our local governments?
- (2) What should we be doing now to get ready for problems of the future?

The blank offers a chance to get rid of gripes—with the knowledge that something may be done about them.

Everyone will have a different idea about the five most important problems. To some it may be a lack of cooperation between city and township government. To others it may be the absence of water and sewer facilities in Township areas. To some it may be the location or cost of schools. Traffic hazards and traffic planning will have their place in consideration. Taxes will bother many.

The ultimate nature of our local government is a stand-out problem. Is it more efficient to have one city government with a modern charter, administer a single trading area, or will there always be a place for a Township? Will industry located in the Township always be able to preserve a lower tax rate there, or will assessments mount as the problems increase? Should we have one kind of philosophy in handling school problems, and another in administering other functions of government?

And what about zoning? Where should new things be allowed and where should the old lines be preserved?

Drain, water and street assessments? Are the methods of making them equitable?

What about the condition of our roads?

Good citizens all will have their own ideas. By filling in the blank, they will be participating as interested members of their community in a democratic manner.

John Golmant, Janet Beyer United in Lutheran Ceremony

Lighted Christmas trees formed the setting at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church Saturday, December 29, at 3 p.m. for solemnizing the marriage of Janet Marilyn Beyer and John R. Golmant.

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beyer of 324 Sheldon, and John is the son of Adolf Golmant of Barre, Vermont, and the late Mrs. Victoria Golmant.

The Reverend Edgar Hoenecke performed the marriage ceremony with the altar beautifully adorned with white snapdragons and carnations.

Janet walked down the aisle on the arm of her father. She wore a formal length princess gown of tissue silk, the princess lines falling from a high empire waistline. The V-neckline was studded with seed pearls and beads.

A cap of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a nosegay of white roses backed with holly leaves and red berries.

Mrs. Barbara Needham of Williamston was Janet's matron of honor. She was gowned in a kelly green taffeta street-length princess dress with v-neckline. The interest point in the dress was the extreme fullness of the lower back skirt. She carried a nosegay of dark pink roses backed with dark green holly leaves.

Miss Sharon Beyer, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Judith Shaffer of Garden City were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and nosegays were identical to the matron of honor's.

Leonard Smith of Kenmore, New York, served as John's best man. Thomas Lucas and William Eggenberger, seated the guests.

Robert Bartel furnished the organ music preceding and during the ceremony. Miss Marilyn Friedman sang "Calm as the Night" just preceding the processional.

Mrs. Beyer, mother of the bride, chose a dusty pink lace dress over taffeta, and black accessories. Mrs. Helen Trueba, aunt of the bridegroom, chose a navy blue crepe dress. They both wore white rose corsages.

The reception for about 100 guests followed immediately after the ceremony in the church parlors. A buffet supper was served in the bride's home for the immediate family and wedding party.

Mrs. Lois Eggenberger and Mrs. Doris Lucas, sisters of the bride, served the wedding cake. Miss Mary McGrath of Dearborn was in charge of the guest book.

After their wedding trip to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, John returned to Fort Hood, Texas, where he is stationed with the United States Army, and Janet returned to her parents' home while she continues teaching in the Plymouth high school.

Canton Township Home Lost in Fire

A 100-year-old home was totally destroyed by fire last Sunday morning in Canton township. Damage has been estimated between $10,000 and $12,000.

The home was at 3532 Morton Taylor road, north of Michigan avenue. Firemen received the alarm at 9:28 a.m. after a nearby hunter had noticed smoke and flames.

Joseph Hopka, who had lived in the home many years, was confined to a hospital with pneumonia. He had reached an agreement to sell the furnishings and move away, the transaction being scheduled to take place this week. The home is owned by Gertrude Bowers, 3535 Parkdale, Livonia.

Firemen said that it is not known what started the fire. Hopka's son said that stoves in the home had no fires in them when he checked there Saturday. Water tank trucks from Plymouth township and Nankin township were called upon to assist.

Pursell Attends Board Meeting in Nebraska

Roy Pursell has just returned from Omaha, Nebraska, where he has been attending a board meeting of the Congress of Freedom. Plans were made for the annual convention to be held at Biloxi, Miss., April 18 to 20.

"Where We Stand" is the theme of the program and "outstanding patriots of the nation will report to the assembled delegates", Pursell states. Any organization which declares for a firm defense of the American Constitution may send a delegate. The Congress of Freedom is a coalition of liberty-loving groups from most every state in the nation, Pursell added. Pursell serves as director and treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Foley of Priscilla Lane were in Clawson Saturday evening to attend their contract bridge club held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Fournel. Mr. and Mrs. Foley were the recipients of a gift as is the custom of the group when one of the couples has an anniversary. The Foley's tenth wedding anniversary is this month.

Madame Ping and Madame Pong "Sir, my wife said I was to ask you for a raise."

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Valliquette recently returned to their home on Evergreen street from a visit to Clearwater and Delray Beach, Florida, also New Orleans, Louisiana.

COOKING IN THE Women's Army Corps is nothing like cooking at home, Ina Marlene Olson, 11646 Brownell, has learned. After joining the W.A.C., she decided to apply for training and duty as a cook. But the first obstacle is getting used to the size of a soup kettle, Army style. For comparison, Ina holds a two quart pan. U.S. Army Photo

Wide Variety of Subjects Discussed Monday by Board of Education

Several problems were discussed at the January meeting of the Plymouth Community School District's Board of Education meeting last Monday night.

Among the major questions discussed during the three hour meeting were a progress report on the "Financial Summary and Present Status of Contracts of Plymouth Community Junior High School," approval of specifications for a new school bus, discussion of driver education problems, a decision to continue attending classes in the Plymouth school district, and a judgment that another child must attend the Gallimore school instead of the Bird school.

The board also recommended a meeting with the Northville Board of Education for January 28 and agreed to a meeting with the Free Church School, Superior Township School District No. 3.

Approval was made concerning the appointment of Mrs. O. H. Williams to complete the term of office vacated on the Education and Recreation Commission and a letter of resignation from the Adult Education and Recreation Commission by Mrs. Congdon was recognized by the board.

Business manager Melvin Blunk read a progress report on construction of the junior high school.

According to Blunk, the unit's heating facilities will be complete by February 15.

The board's specifications for a new school bus will be presented to automobile dealers for their bid in the near future.

Robert Anderson, driver education instructor at the high school, predicted an increasing demand by students for driver training courses due to state regulations requiring teen-age drivers to be 18 years of age before applying for a driver's license.

Anderson emphasized that if a potential driver has passed an approved driver education training program he may secure a license at 16.

The board discussed purchasing a new automobile for driver education courses and recognized the possibility that by the next school year student demand for these courses may warrant two cars and two full-time instructors. According to Anderson, 350 students per year could be trained with these increased facilities.

A previous board's decision ruled that a Nankin township student attending Plymouth high school could not enroll again next year because he had moved into the Patchen district. (Students from the two school districts who are attending can finish their schooling here, according to a ruling early last year, but the board reversed its previous decision and will allow the student to finish his schooling here.)

It was revealed Monday night that the mother of the boy, before she built the new home and before the Nankin-Patchen ruling went into effect, had been assured by a school official that her boy would be allowed to continue here. Due to this unknown fact, the board reversed its previous decision and will allow the student to finish his schooling here.

In another case Jack Cantrel,

46455 An Arbor Trail, requested a decision from the board as to whether his child would be allowed to continue as a student at the Bird Elementary School because his property on the corner of McClumpha and Ann Arbor

Trail is on the fringe of two school boundaries. But since Cantrel's address is officially on Ann Arbor Trail the board ruled that his children must attend the James Gallimore School.

Township Raises Building Fees

The cost of obtaining a building permit in Plymouth township will go higher starting January 21, Township Clerk Rosalind Broome said this week. The ordinance approving the rate hike was approved late last year.

Approved was the following formula:

For construction of $1,000 or less, the cost of a permit is $8.

Each additional $1,000 of construction or fraction up to and including $10,000 will be $5.

Each $1,000 or fraction over $10,000 is $1.

With each permit issued is a zoning fee costing $2.

The increase in permit fees was made to conform with fees charged in other communities in this area. Fees collected go for maintaining the township building department.

As an example of the new rate, a $20,000 building would require fees totaling $63. Formerly the charge would have been $23.

A look at other communities shows the two extremes as Redford township where a $20,000 building permit would cost $176.50; and Allen Park where the permit would cost $21. The township building permit fees were set as "average" when compared with fees charged in neighboring communities.

Grange Sponsors Party With Supper Saturday

Plymouth Grange will have a party this Saturday night with supper being served in two seatings.

Plans for the party will be completed at tonight's meeting of the Grange. Supper will be served at 5 and 6 p.m. and tickets will be marked with the time.

Door prizes will be given. The supper will be served downstairs, followed by the playing of cards. Dancing will take place upstairs. Another party will be held February 16.

LONG GONE but still able to do some good is the Plymouth Improvement association, whose remaining treasury money of over $500 was turned over to the Plymouth Rotary club for the Western Wayne County Crippled Children Center. Perry Richwine, left, is shown presenting the check to Rotary President Donald Sutherland. The association was a predecessor to the Chamber of Commerce. Money has been laying in the bank and the few remaining members decided to donate it to the center.

Calhoun's Shot Ends Key Game

Basketball fans even yet are gasping for breath and retelling the story of melodramatics here Friday night, and Plymouth High stands proudly undefeated and the undisputed leader in the Suburban Six basketball league.

It took a field goal by Ken Calhoun in the last split of a hysterical final split-second to subdue terrifying Trenton, 52 to 50. Trenton had shared the league lead and has been regarded as "the team to beat" this season.

With only 27 seconds left to tick on the clock Friday evening, Plymouth was trailing, 48-49.

Bill Hubert drove to the basket on a brilliant solo effort and nudged the Rocks in front, 50-49.

Bob Voss of Trenton was awarded two free throws with 15 seconds to go.

He dropped the first one . . . missed the second . . . still 50-50.

The rebound flew around, every player grasping desperately. The clock raced.

Hubert seized control of the ball and flipped it hastily to Ken Calhoun. And Calhoun sliced on a dribble toward the enemy basket, finally jumping and releasing a shot from about the foul line.

Somewhere during the downward flight of the ball, the final buzzer sounded. The ball continued on cleanly through the hoop.

The referees, handicapped of hearing because of crowd uproar, checked with the timer to ascertain the exact moment of the end. The timer said the shot was launched soon enough . . . and Plymouth had a 52-50 triumph.

The pattern of victory for Coach Charley Ketterer's men was different from that of four earlier conquests. In the past, they had used a strong running game and wore down opposition in the later stages of the evening.

This time Plymouth bounced to an early lead (19-14 at the end of the first period; 30-22 at the half) and then had to fight off a second half sag to prevail.

On a statistical basis, the victory was won at the foul line. Trenton made 19 field goals to 18 for the Rocks, but Plymouth connected on 16 of 26 free throws while Trenton clicked on only 12 of 28.

Trenton had a 43 percent of completed shots from the field to 37 percent for Plymouth.

Plymouth was handicapped by the loss on fouls of both centers, Paul Cummings in the third quarter and Ken Knipschild in the fourth.

Bob Jenkins led Plymouth scoring with 14 points. Bill Hubert swished 10 for Plymouth but the high man for the evening was Trenton's Bill Dukus with 16 points.

Coach Ketterer made a change in his squad for a game at Redford Union this week, elevating Dave Walasky from the jayvees to replace Jerry Thomas.

Walasky was the top man in a victory by Plymouth's junior varsity over Trenton's similar squad, 48 to 40. It took a come-from-behind effort to do it, Plymouth trailing 14 to 20 at halftime.

Six conference games remain on the schedule for the Rocks. Tomorrow night it will be Redford Union there; followed by games with Allen Park here, Belleville there, Bentley here, Trenton there and Redford here. Two non-conference games, Hamtramck and Monroe, will finish the season.

Men's League

A single leader for the Men's Class A Basketball league was finally decided last week when Begingers squeezed out Hickory Farms in the last 45 seconds of the game with a bucket by Max Pierce. Beginger won, 60-53. Both had been undefeated.

The game was marred by 43 fouls (21 by Beginger, 22 by Hickory Farms). Beginger had to put on a last-half spurt to win and didn't get the lead until the end of the game.

Other games last week saw Braders win a 2-0 forfeit game with Plymouth Independents; Daisy Manufacturing nose out Northville State hospital, 48-46; Daisy top Plymouth Independents, 62-51; Northville State hospital win over Northville Recreation, 48-45; and Beginger drop Braders, 63-45.

Max Algood of Daisy, who made 25 points in the game against the Independents, leads the league with 101 points. Following him are Ernie Winchester of State hospital, 95; Bud Nedry of Begingers, 80; Lyle Jensen of Northville Recreation, 72; Jim Bloomhuff of Beginger, 69; Max Pierce of Beginger, 65; Bill Lovette of Northville Recreation, 60; Lufts and Ken Kisabeth of Hickory Farms, each with 63.

The standings are:

Team	W	L
Begingers	6	0
Hickory Farms	5	1
North. St. Hosp.	3	3
Daisy	2	2
North Rec.	2	4
Ply. Indept.	2	4
Braders	1	5

Rock Tankers Meet Powerful Ann Arbor

Now arrives the bath of fire for Plymouth High's swimming team. Unbeaten and looking powerful in every way, they crash into powerful Ann Arbor there Friday night.

It could be the dual "meet of the year" in high school circles. Ann Arbor is defending state Class A champion, unbeaten this season, and recent victor over East Grand Rapids, the state's Class B king.

Coach John McFall's Rocks tuned for the big one with a 62 to 34 rout of Ypsilanti there last Friday. Plymouth took seven first places and Ypsilanti three.

Sharpest individual performance was registered by Bob Isbister who was clocked in 1:06.5 for the 100 yard butterfly breaststroke, a new team record.

Bill Brandell took first place in 200 yard freestyle; Mike Todd in the 100 yard breaststroke; Jim Archer in the 100 yard backstroke;

Art Losse in diving; and Gary Wright in the 150 yard individual medley. The Plymouth quartet of Brandell, Ed Stretanski, Henry Mende, and Don Carney seized the 200 yard freestyle relay.

Ypsilanti's Dick Bishop scored a double-win in the 50 and 100 yard free-style and Ypsi's medley relay team also triumphed. Friday's meet will start at 7:30 in the new Ann Arbor High Pool.

"You did me a favor ten years ago," said the old tramp, "and I never forgot it."
"Oh," replied the good man, very pleased with himself, "and you have come back after all these years to repay me?"
"Well no," said the tramp. "I just got into town and need another favor. So I thought of you right away."

Paying our way in Wayne County

New schools, new roads and other new developments spell progress in hundreds of Southeastern Michigan cities and towns. One way Detroit Edison helps in this progress of your community is through taxes.

For 1956, our local, state and federal taxes are expected to total $37,500,000. More than 350 villages, cities and townships in Southeastern Michigan will benefit by about $18,900,000.

Over $7,000,000 of this amount will go to support local school districts alone.

The American system of business brings the highest standard of living and greatest development to our communities. By paying taxes, by being good citizens, Detroit Edison is a working partner in helping Southeastern Michigan grow and prosper.

A TYPICAL TRANSACTION IN WAYNE COUNTY AT THIS TIME OF YEAR. Charles N. Williams (left), Detroit City Treasurer, receives Edison's tax check from Stewart L. Ferguson, Detroit Edison Treasurer. This is part of the $13,061,500 in taxes Detroit Edison pays in Wayne County. Looking on is Anthony G. Matbofer, Edison Director of Taxes.

Cancer Society Lists Available Services, Thanks Volunteers

The Plymouth Branch of the American Cancer Society has expressed its thanks to the volunteer workers who participated in the "Neighbor to Neighbor" Cancer Educational Program.

"We feel that through your efforts many homes have received valuable information about cancer that may save the lives of many Plymouth people," the board declared.

In an envelope, each received information as to the program being carried on in Plymouth by the American Cancer Society. This program is made possible by the loyal volunteer work done by Plymouth people.

These are the ten services available to you if needed:

1. Cancer detection examinations in the Yates Memorial Clinic.
2. Dressings for all cancer patients who have need of them.
3. Transportation of medically indigent center patients for treatment.
4. Furnishing sickroom aids for the care and comfort of cancer patients.
5. Rehabilitation programs for former cancer patients such as the esophageal speech class.
6. Support of visiting housekeeper service to help cancer patients and their families.
7. Qualified personnel to advise and counsel cancer patients and their families.

Corporal Donald Johnson, who has been visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, on Ann street, for the past month will leave Sunday for Augsburg, Germany, where he is serving with the Eleventh Airborne paratroopers.

In an item last week concerning a program of music played by piano students, it has been pointed out that the teacher is Mrs. Chalmers Juleff on Morrison street. One of the youngsters incorrectly mentioned was Jennie Whitebread. During the performance, a tape recording was made which was played back during refreshments.

8. Six conveniently-located full-time information centers.

9. Sponsorship of a doctor's office cancer detection program for Oakland County residents.

10. Support of training for practical nurses in home care of cancer patients.

Volunteers are urged to fill in the white form received during the drive indicating the time and service that they wish to contribute to. Send the white form to 821 Pennington Ave., or call Ply. 2892 and offer the services.

ance also paid $1,936, making a total of a $4,000 hospital bill.

Nancy Lou contracted both bulbar and paralytic polio, being unable to swallow solid foods or to move her hands to feed herself. She gradually regained muscular control and could sit up at the end of three weeks. She left the hospital after three months, wearing braces on both legs.

In April 1956, the left brace was removed and after undergoing surgery in July and four months in a leg cast, she has been given permission to go roller skating or bike riding and can again wear normal shoes.

Nancy's prized Christmas gift was a pair of black dress shoes and she is saving her allowance for a pair of shoe roller skates.

Danny Wolff
Polio struck Danny on October 2, 1954 and he was taken to the University of Michigan hospital. He was in the hospital 22 weeks and thanks to the March of Dimes, all of his expenses have been paid in full.

Danny's treatment is far from being over, however. He still must use crutches and wears braces. Both legs were affected. Twice a month he returns to the hospital for out-patient treatment and therapy. An explanation of why for him is given his mother and is continued at home.

It is still not known how long Danny will need braces and crutches. An operation may be necessary. But the bright spot in this entire situation is the financial help afforded by the polio foundation.

Mrs. Georgia Harlow of Toledo, Ohio, has been visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. A. M. Wileiden and family on Pine street for a few days.

The Mayflower bridge club was the guest Tuesday afternoon of Mrs. B. E. Giles on Blunk avenue.

John Golmant, Janet Beyer United in Lutheran Ceremony

Lighted Christmas trees formed the setting at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church Saturday, December 29, at 3 p.m. for solemnizing the marriage of Janet Marilyn Beyer and John R. Golmant.

Janet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beyer of 324 Sheldon, and John is the son of Adolf Golmant of Barre, Vermont, and the late Mrs. Victoria Golmant.

The Reverend Edgar Hoenecke performed the marriage ceremony with the altar beautifully adorned with white snapdragons and carnations.

Janet walked down the aisle on the arm of her father. She wore a formal length princess gown of tissue silk, the princess lines falling from a high empire waistline. The V-neckline was studded with seed pearls and beads.

A cap of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a nosegay of white roses backed with holly leaves and red berries.

Mrs. Barbara Needham of Williamston was Janet's matron of honor. She was gowned in a Kelly green taffeta street-length princess dress with v-neckline. The interest point in the dress was the extreme fullness of the lower back skirt. She carried a nosegay of dark pink roses backed with dark green holly leaves.

Miss Sharon Beyer, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Judith Shaffer of Garden City were the bridesmaids. Their gowns and nosegays were identical to the matron of honor's.

Leonard Smith of Kenmore, New York, served as John's best man. Thomas Lucas and William Eggenberger, seated the guests.

Robert Bartel furnished the organ music preceding and during the ceremony. Miss Marilyn Friedman sang "Calm as the Night" just preceding the processional.

Mrs. Beyer, mother of the bride, chose a dusty pink lace dress over taffeta, and black accessories. Mrs. Helen Trueba, aunt of the bridegroom, chose a navy blue crepe dress. They both wore white rose corsages. The reception for about 100 guests followed immediately after the ceremony in the church parlors. A buffet supper was served in the bride's home for the immediate family and wedding party.

Mrs. Lois Eggenberger and Mrs. Doris Lucas, sisters of the bride, served the wedding cake. Miss Mary McGrath of Dearborn was in charge of the guest book.

After their wedding trip to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, John returned to Fort Hood, Texas, where he is stationed with the United States Army, and Janet returned to her parents' home while she continues teaching in the Plymouth high school.

Engagement of Carol Sutton Announced

FOR READERS who had the misfortune of basking in the Sunny Southland last week when nearly 10 inches of snow hit Plymouth in one night, this is a typical scene of what they missed. Taken looking west along Church street, the picture showing the nearly submerged car could have been taken anywhere in the area last Thursday morning. Temperatures ranging down to 3 above zero have retained the snow.

Area Resident Named To Grosse Pointe Post

Although he has lived in the Plymouth area for five years, former Grosse Pointe Superintendent of Schools John Barnes has been again remembered by his old friends.

Barnes has been named to the important personnel policies and practices committee of the Grosse Pointe schools. The committee studies teacher salaries, working conditions and work loads.

In October, Barnes had a new elementary school named in his honor and took part in the dedication ceremony. He went to the Grosse Pointe schools in 1930 with 18 years of teaching experience and was named high school principal. He became director of instruction in 1936, assistant superintendent in 1942 and superintendent in 1946.

Barnes moved to the area following his retirement. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes live at 15540 Robinwood.

The number of people in a community is not nearly as important as the type of people in the community.

Circus Will Be Symphony Theme On January 27

Always one of the most popular programs of the year, the annual family concert, will be presented by the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, January 27 at 4 p.m.

This year's program will be built on a circus theme, Conductor Wayne Dunlap said. A feature of the concert will be the performance of the Carnival of Animals with Evelyn Woods and Loretta Petrosky as the featured pianists.

Children of all ages are expected to be interested in the type of music offered. Like all of its concerts, the Symphony presentation will be open to the public without charge.

The program is presented in the high school auditorium.

The reading of one intelligently-written book a week will make you an educated person in less than three years.

Kiwanians Sponsor Play

The Kiwanis Club of Plymouth will sponsor the Plymouth Theatre Guild's next major production, scheduled for February 21, 22 and 23. This production will mark the seventh show to be sponsored by the Kiwanians, proceeds of which are used for the support of charitable activities.

The try-outs and readings were held Monday evening at the Junior High School with both new and old members attending. William W. Merrill of Will-O-Way Playhouse was present to hear the readings and the play will be under Merrill's direction. Final casting of the play will be announced this week, Guild President Jack Scott stated, with 18 roles to be named.

Jeannine Dahlager, producer, will have as her assistant-producer, Dr. Ford Sutherland. Pete Aubrey will be stage manager. ## Need for Community Museum Discussed by Historical Society

A discussion on the establishment of a Plymouth historical museum and a presentation on the "History of Glassware" were among the activities at the January 10 meeting of the Plymouth Historical Society.

With Lawrence Money presiding, the group discussed the need for establishing a museum. While the society has long had its official curator, the present one being Mrs. Ada Murray, the lack of a museum is believed to be a reason why the society will miss out on receiving historical items which could come to them and the community.

Whether the museum should be a few fireproof rooms added to the Dunning Library or in some other suitable location, it would be used to keep valuable papers, pictures, documents and objects of local historical interest.

It was conceded that up to now there are still an insufficient number of historically minded citizens to warrant construction or purchase of a building. All members present agreed, however, that creation of a museum would be a worthy project to keep in view.

Mrs. Ada Murray, long time member and connoisseur of old glass, gave the presentation on glass. She, Miss Edna Allen and a number of others brought old glass objects for display. The Karl Starkweathers brought odd glass preserving jars made 100 years ago and having a capacity of one and a half quarts.

Starkweather reported that he has recently found new material concerning Plymouth railroad lore and that he plans to rewrite his former story on "When the Railroad Came to Plymouth".

Refreshments were served following the meeting by the committee of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Campbell, Mrs. Czar Penny and Austin Whipple.

Art Club Plans Outdoor Showings

Plans for an outdoor art show that will be held in Kellogg Park in Plymouth were discussed at a meeting of the Three Cities Art club held at the home of Hilda Sands in Northville.

The spring outdoor show will also be at the Sheldon Shopping center in Livonia and someplace in Northville. Both Plymouth's Mayor Russell Daane and City Manager Albert Glassford have assured the club that Kellogg Park will be available.

Recent sketches presented by members as possible subjects for the show are oil wells in Northville painted by Marge Owens, the Northville quarries by Catherine Hartley and Olive Zick has started a picture of Sheldon Center.

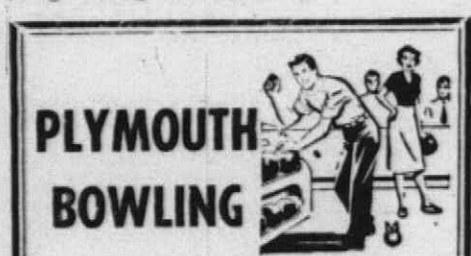

As last week's meeting, a series of quick action and dance poses by Cynthia Mellen were sketched. Added to the club were Astrid Wagenschutz of Northville and Marjorie Becker, supervisor of art in Livonia schools.

The next meeting will be February 12 at the home of Catherine Hartley in Northville.

Ladies Aid Plans Bake Sale

A bake sale is being planned by the Ladies Aid Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church for Friday, January 25.

It will be held at Dunning's beginning at 9:30 a.m.

WORKING THE NEWS

by Carl Peterson

With all the quiz shows on the air these days a lot of folks figure that the last chance they have to get in on the big money is to hit a TV jackpot. But a better way is to invent some small gadget with wide appeal and you'll have a fortune you couldn't pack on a mule.

The millworker who first put erasers on the end of a pencil garnered a cool $100,000. A prairie farmer invented barbed wire, and Gillette was a traveling salesman when he created his razor. The fellow who first made a kiddie car for his offspring patented the brainstorm and made a million. Find a new idea or a new twist for an old idea, and you're in. Let's see now, if I bend this hairpin...

We have what we feel is one of the finest selections of valentines in this area. Make that special one in your life happy with a Valentine from Petersons.

A fellow who was in here the other day said he discovered long ago that about the only thing that comes to him who waits is whiskers. That's a sore point with most men. Well, let's face it, shaving is a chore. It's a lot easier, though, with the new models of the Remington Roll-electric Electric Shaver. And new pre-shave lotions make electric shaving more comfortable, more effective.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Auxiliary activities this month seem to be pretty much centered around the March of Dimes program. There has been the card bingo party, coffee clatches, etc. The canisters are placed in the stores so don't forget to just drop your extra change in one when you are in town.

If you would like to help on January 31, on the Mothers March on Polio please call Gerry Olson. All the help available is needed to help make this one day a success. You do not have to be a member of an organization to participate in this drive - every woman is welcome to take part.

The Post is going to have a dance January 26. The music will be furnished by Bill Thomas and his orchestra. If you can not attend, please pass the word along to your friends that there is going to be a dance. These dances are more or less open to the public and not just post members. It is a wonderful opportunity to relax, renew old acquaintances, meet new people, and just have a wonderful time in general. Tickets are available through a post member. The charge of admission is small and is to help pay the expenses for the dance. Remember the date - You are cordially invited to attend.

If you missed the Newburg Minstrels when they performed in November, be sure you don't miss them this time. The Minstrel Show, consisting of talent from the Newburg Methodist church Men's club and other local talent, will be put on at the Myron Beals Legion hall on Newburg road, south of Ann Arbor trail, Friday, January 18. For an evening of laughs and good entertainment be sure you don't miss this production.

The following members were present: Mrs. William Kenner, Mrs. Warren Fittery, Mrs. Henry Mende, Mrs. Norman Kerr, Mrs. Harold Case, Mrs. Ray Bowser, Mrs. Frank Ayres, Mrs. Winford Blanton, Mrs. Arthur Trost, Sr., Mrs. Earl Wanck and Mrs. Raymond Deja. Mrs. Dorothy Pringle served as co-hostess for the evening's refreshments.

On a mad impulse, at the close of their regular weekly choir practice and at the height of Michigan's worst snow storm, nine members of the Newburg Methodist church adult choir went tobogganing at the Cass Benton toboggan run. Members participating in this fun adventure were Sally Fedus, Beverly Mende, Jean Greenwood, Ruth and Tom Waltz, Donna and Graham Bennett and Carol and Emil LaPointe.

At the home of Mrs. Harold Knapp of Farmington road, on Tuesday, January 2, the Rhoda circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church held their regular monthly meeting. The ladies also began circulating their friendship baskets and they also have another supper to serve for the Men's club of the church. REGISTRATIONS WILL be taken this week at the Adult Education and Recreation office for the "Heart of the Home" course being offered by the Michigan Heart association. Classes will be from 1 to 3 p.m. on February 5, 12, 19 and 26 at the Salvation Army Citadel. Techniques of work-simplifications are aimed especially for women with ailments who must "take it easy."

Registrations Being Taken for Local 'Heart of Home' Simplification Classes

There is still time for homemakers in the Plymouth and northwest area of Wayne county to register for the free "Heart of the Home" classes in work-simplification to be offered at the Salvation Army Citadel, corner of Fairground and Maple, by the Michigan Heart Association, according to Mrs. Hannah R. Pretzinger of the Wayne State University Department of Home Economics who conducts the classes.

The first class of the series will meet from 1 to 3 p.m. starting Tuesday, February 5.

Any homemaker may enroll in the program - although women with an ailment of the heart or blood vessels, hypertension, hardening of the arteries, coronary heart, rheumatic heart, varicose veins, and other disabling diseases, will be admitted to the classes first. The classes are made possible by the Michigan Heart Association through funds received from the United Foundation Torch Drives.

Homemakers are given free instructions in practical ways of making their home making simpler and easier by eliminating unnecessary steps and wasted energy in the preparation of meals, washing and ironing, bed making, and other household duties.

Mrs. Hannah R. Pretzinger has been a teacher of the classes in work simplification for cardiac and other homemakers since the first class was held at Wayne State University in the fall of 1950. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio and her Masters degree from Wayne State University, Detroit. During her college and graduate work she specialized in management in the home and in equipment.

Each homemaker attends four (two-hour) lecture - demonstration classes which will be held on February 5, 12, 19 and 26, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Any woman in the Plymouth and northwest area of Wayne County who would like to attend the free "heart-saving" classes being offered by the Michigan Heart Association can do so by writing or calling the Adult Education Office, Plymouth High School, Plymouth, Michigan, telephone Plymouth 895, Extension 4 for complete details.

The "Heart of the Home" Program is endorsed by the Wayne County Medical Society and Doctors of Medicine are being urged to refer their cardiac patients to the classes.

Mrs. Joseph Warner and daughter, Mrs. Joy Wood of Ypsilanti and another daughter, Mrs. Josephine Forsythe of Lansing, were guests Wednesday of their cousin, Mrs. Wyman Bartlett on Blunk street.

Virgilia, head of the mathematics department, and also Geraldine Sprywa, senior, and Julia Vorva, sophomore, attended a conference at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Saturday, January 12. This affair was the seventh convention of the School of Education and the Mathematics department of the University.

Miss Sprywa and Miss Vorva had previously attended a mathematics meeting December 6, at Thurston High school in Detroit.

A National Federation of Catholic College Students meeting will be held at John Carroll University in Cleveland, February 9. Madonna will be represented by Sister M. Joela, moderator, Adele Bossi, senior delegate, Geri Sprywa, junior delegate, Marlene Soltysiak and Justine Goculowski, Mariology campus chairman, and Evelyn Pikulski and Mary Buttigieg, alternates.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Plymouth's neighbor to the east, Livonia, hit the headlines boldly last week and readers of The Mail might be interested in an explanation, now that the story has settled.

First, it should be remembered that there's a grand jury sitting in Detroit to examine alleged corruption of one sort or another in Taylor Township, Warren, Ecorse and a couple of other spots. Since it has gone into session, politicians everywhere have scented a chance to get in some licks on their opponents, by hinting or coming up with some scrap of evidence that sounds suspicious. That's all it takes these days to get some headlines.

Not only does the presence of the grand jury make this possible, there is an added outlet for such charges because the Detroit newspapers are engaged in a private contest of their own to see who can come up with the newest "expose." It has become downright fashionable in all parts of Wayne County to run to the papers with "inside" information. The prosecuting attorney's office gets the "dope" later, if it gets it at all.

It's selling a lot of newspapers, from time to time, but the whole thing is becoming a little ridiculous and it's a far distance removed from the standard rule of justice wherein the accused is assumed innocent until it's proven otherwise in a court of law. Grand juries (and newspaper confessions, for that matter) are last-resort measures to be used, when there is a collapse of regular law enforcement.

In Livonia, a man who's made a lot of money removing and selling top-soil, went to a Detroit paper and indicated he had to pay bribes to a Livonia city official in order to get permits. The reporters took a lot of notes, got their story written, and then hustled the man, Kenneth Kerbyson, on to the grand jury, where he repeated the statements.

The accusation received screaming headlines in that paper, of course.

The next day the accused told HIS story, for another paper. (The third Detroit paper just sort of sulked over the others' stories.) He flatly denied the bribe charge. He said he and the top soil tycoon had made an agreement where they were to share the profits from some top soil taken from land discovered by the city official and transferred by option to Kerbyson. Further, he said, the top soil man was refusing to pay what he owed under the agreement.

The county prosecutor's office, on the third day, invited the top soil man to come in and formally make a charge. The top soil man declined.

And the grand jury decided it wasn't interested. As far as the public is concerned, the whole thing is rather repulsive:

1. The public official wasn't smart to be making business deals with an individual who had to get permits from the city.
2. When the top soil man declined a visit to the prosecutor, that left his motives up for critical inspection.
3. The "outs" in Livonia politics have been trying to damage the "ins" for some time, and there is a heavy suspicion that this could have been the basis for the whole works. An attorney and a fired police chief hung around the side lines of this fracas, but didn't get any public mention.

Plymouth can be glad its politics are conducted on a more mature basis.

That story in the Detroit News about Plymouth was as flattering to our community as if it had come straight from the Chamber of Commerce mimeograph machine, but some citizens spotted the mistake. The name of the Mayor was misspelled, "Deane" instead of Daane.

The subject is thoroughly covered on page one of this issue of The Mail, but this is a personal request that all of our readers take the time to fill out their "five most important local problems" and return the blank to us. A number of dedicated local people have entered 1957 resolved to go to work, as citizens should in a democracy, to help improve our community. The answers in this poll will be the basis for their charting a course along which to proceed.

"A politician," says the professor, "is like the bottom half of a double boiler. It lets off a lot of steam, but really doesn't know what's cooking."

Local Democrats To Meet Judges

A jet plane which apparently broke the sound barrier threw a scare into residents north of Plymouth last Thursday afternoon.

According to Daniel Spence, 15185 Northville road, the jet came out of the west "very low" after apparently coming out of a dive. It was 4:25 p.m.

There was a terrific sound like an explosion and smoke was pouring from the rear of the plane, Spence related. It then headed south.

Spence called the State Highway Patrol in Ypsilanti, who in turn called Selfridge Field. The air base reported that none of its planes were known to be in this area or in trouble. One woman told The Plymouth Mail that the plane was so low that it looked like it was going to crash.

Arts Group Gives Program

Tonight's meeting of the AAUW will be under the auspices of the Arts Group, whose co-chairmen are Mrs. F. D. Sober and Miss Irene Truesdell. The program arranged for presentation promises to be most interesting and unusual.

Through the use of concrete objects, a spotlight, a darkened room and the narration of Mrs. Sober, the "feel" and principles of color, line, volume and tone in both music and art will be conveyed to the audience.

One portion of the program will be a correlation between great paintings and music which complement each other. A selection of paintings by Vermeer, VanGogh and Feininger will be used for demonstration purposes.

A second portion of the program will feature Miss Cynthia Mellen of Northville doing a modern dance with the use of flashlights to exemplify rhythm and line in the designs made by the lights. A third portion will feature one or two members of the group in the spotlight before- easles painting to music with the use of big brushes and vivid colors. Mrs. Woodrow Tichy of 1497 Penniman avenue, will entertain the group at her home Thursday evening at 8 p.m. The co-hostesses will be Miss Irene Truesdell, chairman, Miss Alice Demorest and Miss Alma Murphy.

Grange Gleanings

A fine attendance at our last meeting on January 3, which is very encouraging for the coming year.

A group of seven new members were received into the order which makes our membership very close to 200 including two Golden Sheaf members. Our Grange has accomplished several praise worthy projects during the past year as well as gaining a good number of new members.

The program for the evening was called "Amateur Night" and consisted of songs and recitations of various kinds, then while Esther Jacobs played for them a group formed into a square dance. Loretta Wilson played her phonograph for them too. Later we could have that kind of entertainment more often and every one would enjoy it.

The members were much surprised to learn that Sam Spicer was in St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor for a short time. We are very glad to state that he is much better and is at home now and will soon be around again.

The charter was draped in memory of Oscar Curtis and Stanton Langs. While there were very few who knew Mr. Langs. He was born here in Plymouth and has many relatives here. He became a member of the Grange several years ago but later his business took him to Washington, D.C. He retained his membership until the past year.

After an evening of games the hostess served a pot luck lunch. Mr. Schaening received a movie camera and projector from his wife Pearl and children, plus many gifts of clothing.

On Sunday, December 30, the Wolfe-Oldenburg clan held their yearly reunion at the Grange hall. Over 40 relatives were present and enjoyed the evening of visiting. The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oldenburg has been visiting her parents over the holidays, with her husband and baby. They left for their home at Colorado Springs Monday morning.

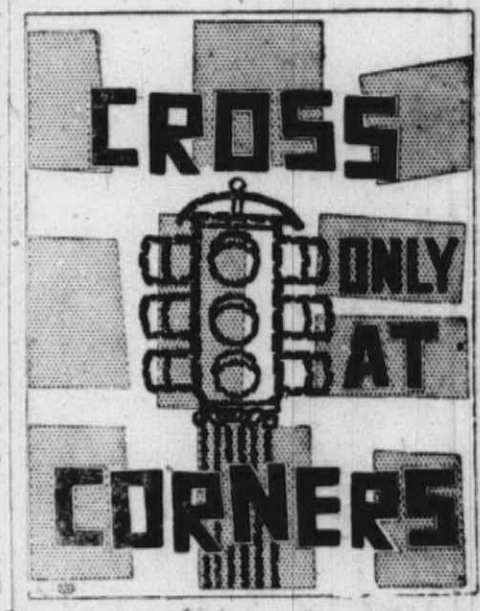

Just to remind you to get your tickets for the Fun Night party before January 17. Call Mrs. Claude Eckles, 435-M, or Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore, 788-R. You may secure your tickets at the Grange meeting on January 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kirby and daughters were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lecon Montgomery in Wayne.

Western Electric Has Biggest Year

With the nation's telephone network in the greatest period of growth it has ever known, new records are being set by the Western Electric company, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. Western's total sales for 1956, including its special government projects as well as its telephone business, will for the first time be in excess of $2 billion.
Likewise, Western's Detroit Distributing House located at 882 Oakman Boulevard has had by far its busiest year since it opened in 1924 as a supply distribution center for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. The operation will move to Plymouth next year.

What's more, all indications are that 1957 will be even bigger, both for the Detroit Distributing House and for the company as a whole.
The company has, generally speaking, been able to meet the high production goals it set at the start of the year for its manufacturing plants to supply the Bell System with the wire and cable, central office equipment, telephone sets, and other communications equipment needed for expanding and improving service. The company installs the central office equipment it manufactures, and in 1956 it has installed enough dial-operated equipment to serve almost 3 million telephone lines. The company was equally busy as a purchasing arm of the Bell System, buying the less specialized items needed by the telephone companies.
Supplying the Michigan Bell Telephone company, in the growing Michigan area, the Detroit Distributing House, this year has handled eight times as much business as it did in 1924, its first full year of operation.
The Detroit house is one of 30 Western Electric distribution centers strategically located in various sections of the country, serving the various Bell Telephone companies.

Masking the Truth
"I've got a pretty distasteful job before me," remarked the genealogist. "Mrs. Newrich employed me to look up her family tree and I've got to inform her that one of her relatives was electrocuted."
"Why worry about that?" said his friend. "Just write that the man in question occupied the chair of applied electricity at one of our public institutions."

Labor Trouble
"What time is it by your watch?"
"Fifteen after."
"After what?"
"I don't know; I had to lay one of the hands off."

First Federal Assets Pass 200 Million Mark

Assets of First Federal Savings of Detroit passed the 200 million mark December 31st, reports Hans Gehrke, Jr., president. First Federal was organized in 1934 with assets of less than $100,000, and has grown steadily to become Michigan's largest savings association, with 9 offices serving metropolitan Detroit.
First Federal savings accounts increased $33,149,424.69 in 1956 after deducting all withdrawals. 24,929 people opened savings accounts there during the year. Total assets increased during the 12 months by $37,591,408 (of which $10,267,895 is the result of merger of the Royal Oak Federal Savings and Loan Association). Savings customers received over $4,000,000 in earnings on their First Federal savings accounts last year (First Federal now pays 3% current rate).

"They say Phaeton was killed by a thunderbolt hurled at him."
"By Jove!"
"Exactly."

News For Mr. Webster

Mr. Webster defines a truck as "an automotive vehicle for . . . long distance hauling" and this is technically true. But to the millions of Americans whose everyday life is geared to the flow of motor transport, a truck is much more than this.

It's a shipment of supplies for the corner drugstore where you buy; a crate of spare parts for the auto repair garage you patronize; a load of food-stuffs for your favorite grocery; shoes for little Junior, eye-glasses for Mary, paint for that bedroom you're doing over, the TV set you've been waiting for.

Life in Michigan just couldn't go on as it does today without trucks. Agriculture and industry depend on them. So do the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker. So do you!

All Mercury assembly plants are working overtime with the largest work force in Mercury history to meet the tremendous buyer demand. The landslide swing to Mercury is solid evidence that the new Big M is the most exciting car value of 1957. Never before has so much bigness and luxury cost so little. Well, all the spring and summer catalogues are here, so can spring be far behind? The answer, alas, is "Yes!"

Donald Forest, son of Lillian and Bill Forest of Vermont street, was one year old Tuesday, January 8.

Nancy Briggs, also of Vermont street, celebrated her 6th birthday Wednesday, but without a party, due to chicken pox. Tough luck, Nancy, but you'll never have them again, and birthdays come around every year.

Dolores and Muriel Schie, Virginia street, are the proud parents of a brand new baby daughter, Pamela Jean, 6 pounds, 8 ounces, born Saturday, January 5, at Mt. Carmel hospital. Pamela Jean has two brothers, Donnie and Gary.

The Alter society of St. Michael church will hold a card party January 19.

Little Paula Klenk, who broke her arm in a fall down the basement stairs, finally has her arm out of the cast and is as good as new again.

Saturday night, January 5, Jackie and Dave Sechin of Westmore street entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Kolb and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blessing of Plymouth.

Jean Snyder, Vermont street, entertained her china painting class Thursday evening, January 3, with a lunch. Eleven women were present, and the children got up and joined in, too.

The Durfees of Louisiana street were pretty busy with birthday parties lately. Clifford celebrated his fifth birthday Wednesday, January 9. Present to share the cake were: Larry Wendt, Susan Wendt, Sandra Stewart, Mary and Carol Roberts, Lee Gizowski, Leslie Fisher, Johnnie Heisner of Redford township, and Rickey and Steve Frederick of Farmington.

Sunday, January 13, Steve Durfee was seven years old and had some of his friends in for another party. Helping Steve celebrate were Sheri Stewart, Terry Weinburger, Larry Klenk, Hughie Hearon, John and Laura Yadosky, Linda and David Wendt, Russell and Sandra Scott, Laurie Dana, Michael Fisher, Michael Heisner, Christine and Clifford Roberts, Skippy Gizowski and Dickie and Gerald of Oregon street.

Brownie troop No. 2295 of Grant school will hold its investiture January 21 from 3:15 to 4:15 at the home of Mrs. Betty Dana, 32711 Vermont street.

The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church Junior High Westminster Fellowship held a skating party Sunday, January 6. After skating the group went back to the church for hot cocoa and cookies, and then they made name tags for the Family Night dinner.

Betty Dana, 32711 Vermont, had her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Starr of Detroit as her dinner guests Wednesday, January 9, on the occasion of Mrs. Starr's birthday. Mrs. Starr proved to be an excellent dinner guest and did the dishes!

Quite a few parents braved the sudden snow storm Wednesday, January 9, to attend the Grant P.T.A. Mrs. Bernice Roberts, elementary curriculum co-ordinator for P.T.A., Mrs. Ruth Seadle, principal of Garfield school, Mrs. Jean Wuerth, sixth grade teacher from Pierson school, and Mrs. Hazel Larsen, parent representative from Rosedale School area, discussed last year's Parent-Teacher conferences, and everything was so interesting that you could have heard a pin drop whenever there was a pause in the talks.

The next P.T.A. meeting will be just such a Parent-Teacher conference as was discussed, and will take the place of report cards for that marking period. The fund-raising dance to be held at Whitman Junior high Friday evening, February 8, was discussed also. Tickets are on sale now and may be bought at Grant school office, and from executive board members. A cash prize, awarded monthly to the class with the highest percentage of parents present was awarded to Mrs. Arlen's late afternoon kindergarten class. Miss Simpson's second grade class won the prize last month, and the class bought a game with it. Refreshments were served by the third-grade mothers. Next meeting will be February 6 so be sure to attend and visit your child's class and meet his teacher.

Seems that a new form of low life has been reached—someone stole the bulbs from the large Christmas tree in front of the civic clubhouse on Hubbard during the holidays! This is no small loss, since the bulbs were 25-watt size and there were 30 of them stolen. To make matters worse, the lights were borrowed. It certainly seems a shame that even things done for the beauty and enjoyment of the whole area aren't safe anymore.

Sorry to hear that we are losing some members of the Rosedale-Marian and Karl Kilka of Brookfield street are moving at the end of February to Minneapolis, where Karl has been transferred.

Bentley high held an Open House Tuesday night, January 8. This was an opportunity for parents to meet the teachers and see the work that their children have been doing. Refreshments were served.

Karen Madigan celebrated her seventh birthday January 3 with a party. Patty and Joanne Madigan, Sandy and Karen Kobiata, Christine Roberts and Karen's brother and sisters Pat, Buddy and Kathy helped her celebrate.

There was a meeting of the publicity committee at the home of Betty Dana, chairman, Tuesday night, January 15. Present were Lillian Forest, Celia Hearon, Margaret Briggs, Merle Maurer and Al Lewis.

Wednesday night, January 9, Dagny Peterson entertained her bridge club at her home on Cranston. Other members present were Jean Champe, Ginny Gamber, Jewell Bailey, Eleanor Curle, Verna Lee Stewart, Carolyn Kissinger and Ellie Button.

Bob Wilson, 9912 Hubbard, held a teen age get-together Saturday night, January 5, at his home. The Wilsons must have nerves of steel, because this gang seems to get together at their home every two weeks! Teenagers joining in the dancing singing, and general noise were Janet Ringler, Jerry Jordan, Larry Herbert, Leslie Borgia, John Peterson, Marilyn and Don Pomroy.

Welcome Wagon Newcomers' club meets Tuesday evening, January 22, at 8 p.m. in the conference room of the First Federal Bank building at Shiden Center. All newcomers in this area are invited, and an interesting program has been planned. Be sure to go to the rear entrance! If you need transportation, call Rosemary Hilgers at Ga. 2-3203, and it will be provided.

Deborah and Priscilla Jenkins of Berwick street celebrated their 8th birthday Saturday, January 12, with a party for a few friends.

Happy late birthday greetings to Al Larson, Berwick street, who became one year older January 10!

Congratulations to Leona and Roy Frost of Westmore street on the birth of a baby boy. How about letting me know the baby's name and weight, folks?

The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church held its Family Night dinner Wednesday, January 9. This was an affair that the entire family could enjoy, and each family brought a dish of food. Speaker of the evening was the Reverend Charles T. Leber, Jr., director of Dodge Community house, Detroit. He also showed slides of his work. Miss Evelyn Porteous and Robert Porteous showed slides picturing the work of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Davis, the church's Navajo Indian missionaries in Arizona to the children.

Marge Boss, Mayfield street, won't be bowling for a while. She went ice skating and fell and is now nursing a compound fracture of her arm. That'll teach you, Marge, to stick to bowling and not try to be an all-around athlete!

Jean Gizowski and Irene Townsend went out Tuesday evening, January 8, to see—of all things!—Elvis P. in his movie. Come, now, girls, you probably occupied seats that two teenagers needed.

Karen Kobiata, Vermont street, had a party to celebrate her 7th birthday Saturday, January 12. Those invited were Christine, Donna and Diane Felice, Karen and Kathy Madigan, Darby Smith, Janie Frost, Christine Roberts, and brothers Mike and Sandy Kobiata.

Sunday, January 6, the following children were baptized at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church: Robert David Bender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Bender, Jacquelyn Mary Doi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Doi, and Glen David Parkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Parkinson.

Anyone interested in square dancing will find it worth their while to investigate the dances sponsored by the Park and Recreation commission of Livonia and held every Friday night at Jefferson school, except on the 4th Friday of each month, when they are held at Wilson school. This is not a dancing class or a beginner's group, but a full-fledged square dance group. Burt Hall is the caller, and refreshments are served. Regular members pay $6 per couple for about nine weeks of dancing and visiting couples may pay $1.50 per couple per dance. So plan to have a lot of fun on Fridays from now on and come on over to Jefferson or Wilson school and sashay 'round!

Jean Gizowski, Vermont street, has gone and done it again—January 2 she had highest over average at the bowling alley, and received an award January 9. Jean bowls with a local team, the Suburbanites.

The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church Men's Brotherhood has elected the following officers for 1957: Col Bob Bruce, president; Don Pollock, vice president; Ival McIlvain, secretary; George Kesler, treasurer. At the same church Mrs. Sydney Hay was recently elected chairman of the Christian Education committee.

I went to the Rosedale Gardens Civic association meeting Thursday evening, January 10, and had a very pleasant evening. Lorraine Ellerholz gave a very interesting talk on the Brownies, Hazel Larson explained about the Girl Scouts, and Les Core had a few words to say on the Boy Scouts. Peg Jenkins read the names of the winners of the Christmas-decorating committee in the recent contest, described the winning decorations, and gave the awards to the few people, who were present to accept them. What the matter with you winners—can't you use money? The evening ended in a social hour with refreshments served by the Nursery School mothers.

The Robert Jackmans, Hubbard, played Santa Claus to the clubhouse and presented it with a refrigerator! Thanks a million, folks.

Members of the Women's club, don't forget that tonight, January 17, is the night to get over to the clubhouse on Hubbard because Charity Crooks is going to present the program, "Antiques in the Home."

The members and guests of Rosedale Gardens branch of National Farm and Garden association had the privilege of listening to Hazel Peckinpaugh Dunlop at their meeting on Tuesday, January 8, speak on decorative tables for the home. There was a presentation showing how unusual effects in table setting may be obtained when imagination is used, and she discussed how fruit, vegetables and foliage used as flowers are effective in decoration.

Mrs. Dunlop is nationally-known for her work in directing flower shows, lecturing, and oral judging of floral arrangements, and has also written a book, "Let's Arrange Flowers," which is now in its 11th printing. Mrs. Dunlop just returned from a trip to the Orient and has many new ideas on arranging flowers. Hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. Floyd Angers, Mrs. Hector Koutu, Mrs. Frank Hokenson, Mrs. J. H. Murray and Mrs. James Lynch.

Well, folks, that is the news for this week, and there could have been more if some of you people would dial Ga. 1-5231 and let me know what you've been up to.

American Legion News

Attending the 17th District Meeting held at the Redford-Detroit Post Friday, January 11 were: Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson, Harold and Robert Wilson, Maxine Kunz and Marie Thompson. There is again another change in the meeting date of the next 17th District Meeting, it is February 7th, 8:30 at the Myron H. Beals Post, Newburgh Rd. Livonia. A "Back to God Movement" program is planned for this meeting.

The Third Zone Child Welfare conference will be held at the Legion Home, Mason and North Park streets, Owosso, on Sunday, January 20 at 2 p.m. Members planning to attend should contact Ernest Koi and Harry Burleson for more information.

The Juniors' meeting this week was active by getting the cards ready for paper for the mentally retarded children. They would also like to collect all the ribbon that they can as it is also used there for many purposes. Contact Gwen Holcomb on any information, 1759-M.

The "coffee-clatch-for-polio" program is underway with our Auxiliary members and friends. This is an excellent way to raise more money for Polio. If you are interested in this program contact our president, Melva Gardner, 1989-M for more information.

Mrs. Harry Burleson, Americanism chairman, states that the essay rules are now ready and will be taken to the schools soon. We have had several winners in this project and hope we can continue on with this work.

Commander Ernest Koi and Maxine Kunz attended the Advisory Council Group of the Adult and Recreation Commission on Wednesday, January 9th at the High School.

Remember our monthly visit to the V.A. Hospital Ann Arbor on Thursday, January 24 and get your cookies ready for they are in much demand and the boys love them. Barney Kot is chairman so call him for any information on this project. You will go again if you make one of these trips.

Keep Saturday, January 26 open for our monthly card party at the Veterans Community Home. This is also open to the public. Time 7:30. Play any type of cards that you care to for prizes. Let's have a good crowd.

The 17th and 18th Districts are hosts to the birthday party at the "American Legion Children's Billet" on January 18th, Friday. Contact Lena Hammond for any information on this and her number is Northville 897. The Billet is operated by the Michigan Department of the American Legion and is located on Otter Lake, consisting of 77 acres of hilly wooded land. Its purpose was and still is to provide temporary care for the children of Michigan veterans, members of the Legion or not, when families run into difficulties. The ages of the children there are from three to fourteen. Miss Monica Kenney is now superintendent formerly a nurse in the Herman Keifer Hospital. Physically the billet is made up of four residence cottages, a combined hospital and administration building, a six car garage and a combined power house and laundry.

The most recent cottage, incidentally, is named for Herbert R. McKinney, former Detroit News reporter who died in 1939. He also had been active as secretary of the board appointed by the Legion's departmental commander to govern the Billet. The Legion's Poppy Day sales pay for buildings and repairs, ground improvements, Christmas and other holiday parties, religious instruction and everything else that can't be classified as operating expense. The Legion Auxiliary pitches in, too, year after year, with a never-ending stream of clothing. All the operating expenses—salaries for the 45 staff member, food, necessary equipment and all the rest of it—are paid by the state under special annual legislative appropriation.

The children of school age are taken every day to the Otter Lake public school, so the job at the Billet is to feed, house, clothe and entertain the children. A program of organized activities includes swimming in the summer, softball, crafts, and every kind of children game you could think of. Referred to the school mostly by the Veterans Counseling Service, the children can stay as long as they need to stay and can benefit by staying. They come from broken homes and homes where illness or other misfortune drives them out. They stay until things straighten out at home or they can be placed with a permanent child care agency.

All Parents Invited To 'Meet the Teacher'

CHIPS from the STATE CAPITOL DOME

Well, things got off to a flying start with us in Lansing. I have always been partial to number six since it has been more or less lucky for me during the last 26 years. It was the original Plymouth Mail phone number and thru the years I tried keeping six tied to those lines. As the seats were selected in the House I quivered when six, 16, 26 and all of the rest were chosen. It felt my lot to be among the last five members to choose and I really squirmed when only one number was left bearing a six. That was 96 which now belongs to me.

Though many of the Republican Representatives said they felt sorry for me because I was unfortunately enough to land in the middle of a solid Democratic front, I found on our first two days in session I was not unhappy as there are some very fine Democratic Representatives.

Many of the old timers, whom I am seated near, remembered my Dad who served this district so faithfully for so many years, and I was warmed by some of their comments. Democrat Mike Novak told me he was "a tough old bird", and his cohorts Mike O'Brien and Pete Kelly allowed as to how they couldn't often agree with him during the height of their district but "when the firing was over he was really a great guy". I could only comment, "how well I knew."

The first of my constituents to visit in the House were Mrs. J. Forrest Bunker of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Liedel and daughter Sandy of Redford Township. The Liedels were in Lansing to see their son-in-law. Representative Kenneth Sanbourn of Mt. Clemens, take his oath of office.

As I mentioned last week I shall look forward to visits from the people of this district, and I am happy to learn that those active Republican leaders in Livonia, Ann Conklin and Phyllis Gaudine, are already laying plans to bring a large group of Republican women to Lansing for a visit after the House really gets underway.

After the Governor delivered his message on the second day, members of the House and Senate and their wives were guests at his home for a beautiful buffet luncheon. My traveling secretary (a nom de plume) you new Chips readers will soon learn I use for my faithful wife) informed me that the Governor it was most thoughtful of Mrs. Williams and him to plan so large a birthday party in her honor. Said "Soapy" in his usual quick-witted manner "If we'd known we'd of baked a cake".

Visitors at the Governor's home were greeted by both the Williams then directed to the huge silver punch bowls filled with bourbon and scotch mixtures. After cocktails you were invited to partake of a most sumptuous buffet which featured turkeys and hams, au gratin potatoes, tossed salad, rolls, relishes, coffee and apple pie. It was really very nice and did much to lend an air of friendship to the whole opening ceremony. How long this feeling shall prevail will be interesting to see because already I have learned there is a great divergence of opinion on some of the matters which we shall encounter.

A joke which had its inception some two years ago in Chicago came to a most realistic ending on our arrival at our apartment in the Porter Hotel in Lansing, Plymouthite Art Meyers, who is Michigan Bell's public relations man, and an O'Brien who holds a similar position with Illinois Bell, got into a spirited argument at a cocktail party in Chicago over which was going to furnish a purple telephone for my traveling secretary's newly remodeled kitchen. Though prices for telephones are not available, each was kidding the other about who was going to bring about the impossible back in our Plymouth kitchen. O'Brien won the dubious honor and to what ever effort he might have gone we still have a plain gray phone. After a few wear tapes however, Meyers, tired of waiting out the inefficiency of Illinois Bell bounded to the front and we found on our arrival, sitting on the night stand between our beds in our coral colored bedroom, the only purple telephone in Michigan. Further proof Art Meyers is truly a man of action and a good man to have in your corner.

Ernest Henry to Head Plymouth Gun Club in '57

Ernest Henry was elected president of the Plymouth Gun Club for 1957 at a meeting held last week. Also taking office were:

Harry Bartel, vice-president; Harold Brown, secretary-treasurer; Russell Cunningham, range officer; and George Traux, alternate range officer.

In the business, a motion was approved that Friday nights be turned over to the public for those interested in rifle and pistol shooting. A range fee of 50 cents will be charged, including targets.

Two range officers will be present at the range from 7 to 9 p.m., beginning Friday, January 18. They will also be willing to help or interest the public in shooting and the safe use of firearms. Safety is the club's objective and high score targets second.

The Plymouth club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association and a few memberships are now open for the 1957 season. Persons interested in joining the club can get information on Monday and Tuesday nights when club instructors are working with the Junior Police until 8 p.m. The range is in the Junior Police building in the Central Parking lot.

February 5 will be the next meeting at the range.

Cheryl Thomas reports that Intermediate Scout Troop 12 was entertained by the Vivians at the Elks club during the Christmas holidays. The Scouts made Christmas stockings which the Vivians filled and distributed to children at the Maybury Sanatorium.

Intermediate Troop 21 reports the election of the following officers: Sharon Sprague, president; Marcia Bernash, vice-president; Ann West, treasurer; Marcia Rubey, secretary; and Barbara Haas, reporter. Troop members are planning a bake sale at Kroger's on Saturday, January 19. The sale will start at 10 o'clock and continue until all baked goods are sold.

Aunt Lou, who has been bedridden for more than 10 years, has been given a Girl Scout pin and adopted into the troop. The girls expect to visit her at various times during the year. Troop 29 is planning an overnight for February 1 at the Kiwanis Girl Scout Lodge. Mrs. Charles Beardlee and Mrs. Walter Gothe are troop leaders.

Health and Beauty

A well-known surgical dressing firm has begun to market a different type of plastic bandage that will be a tremendous help to mothers that have heretofore had trouble treating the minor cuts and scrapes that children so frequently encounter.

It involves a matter of psychology. These new bandages are designed to represent glittering gold combat stars on a field of bright red and silver jets surging through blue skies. These interesting designs are imprinted on the plastic film of regular red and blue medicated bandages.

A group of children selected the colors and designs used. In addition to being medicated, the new bandages are washable and water-proof.

Many pediatricians say they have found the colored bandages helpful when giving small - fry patients injections. I wish a type of bandages would be thought of that would make injections for grown patients less frightening. The children choose the design they would like to have to cover the skin puncture as the doctor gives them the shot.

Doctors tell us that adults should always watch very carefully what they say concerning doctors, hospitals, operations, etc. before the small-fry. It seems that much of the fear some children experience concerning a trip to the doctor or the hospital is learned from the conversation of grown people.

If a youngster must make a trip to the hospital — make it as interesting sounding as possible for him. A little girl will be pleased with a new gown and slippers. A boy will usually respond to several new games. Don't tell them it won't hurt, just don't discuss this subject unless you have to. Spend as much time as possible with your child before and after the event.

Theatre Guild to Meet

Plymouth Theatre Guild will hold its next regular meeting on Monday, January 21, at 8 p.m. in the junior high school gym.

Under discussion will be the new constitution. Constitutional changes and amendments will be voted upon. All Guild members, their guests and friends, are urged to attend the meeting.

The organization is headed by Jack Scott as president.

1/4 cup enriched flour
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
2 cups milk
Salt for gravy
Pepper for gravy

Combine ground meat, salt and pepper. Divide meat into 5 portions. Mold each portion firmly on a skewer, shaping the meat like a drumstick. Dredge with flour. Brown on all sides in lard or drippings. Cover and cook slowly for about 30 minutes. Remove drumsticks from pan, stir remaining flour into drippings and add milk. Stir until smooth. Season gravy. Serve gravy over drumsticks. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

Bananas broiled with Canadian bacon make an ideal luncheon salad accompaniment. Just brush peeled slices (1/2 banana cut on the diagonal) with honey. Wrap a slice of Canadian bacon around each slice as far as it will go and secure it with a toothpick. Place on a broiler pan and broil, 4 inches from the heat, turning it to broil all sides.

Frozen Meat Facts

Ground meat and sausage should not be seasoned before freezing since the flavor of some seasonings is intensified upon freezer storage. The meat should be seasoned after thawing.

CARVING MEAT CUTS

Lamb Crown Roast

A lamb crown roast is made from the neck, or rib section, of the lamb. A pork crown is made from the rib sections of two or more loins of pork. Either cut is carved in a similar method to that of the pork loin roast.

Slice between the ribs—use a standard carving set. Move to the side of the platter any garnish in the center which might interfere with the carving. Steady the roast by placing the fork firmly between the ribs.

Stress Proper Blanket Care

Good wool blankets are no small investment and should be well taken care of. They will give years of comfort and enjoyment if cared for properly.

Correct laundering or dry-cleaning by a reputable cleaner are necessary to keep blankets fluffy, warm and soft.

The way blankets are stored and the every-day care and use they receive are important in retaining their serviceability and beauty.

Brush blankets often, with the nap, toward the binding to remove dust and dirt. Every now and then air them outdoors.

Soiled bindings must be washed with a thick mild soap lather, using a soft-brush. The next step is to pull the binding straight and press with a moderate iron. Use a pressing cloth and don't create the outer edge of the binding. When bindings become frayed or soiled beyond cleaning, replace them.

Don't try to remove stains or re-dye blankets. Instead send them to a professional. Never iron a blanket, it can quite easily be ruined by doing this.

When removing blankets from beds, don't twist or pull, or allow them to drag on the floor.

Apple pie has an unusually good flavor when a dash of fennel seed is added to it. Fennel seed is a small fruit with an aromatic sweet taste somewhat like anise, and is used in sweet pickles, sausage, boiled fish, pastries, candies and liqueurs.

Check Fabrics For Durability

Choose fabrics for practicality! Practical people consider not only the initial cost of a fabric, but the way it can be expected to handle, to press and to last through many dry cleanings.

An inexpensive but sleazy fabric is no bargain at any price because it will not produce good silhouette or shape. It will be exasperatingly difficult to handle, and will fail to give satisfaction in wear. A well-designed and well-made dress should wear as long as four or five years.

So, a real bargain must be a fabric with good body and quality suitable to its purpose.

Home Sewing Tips

A sewing procedure that anyone can follow at home and that definitely effects the fit and accuracy of the stitching is to carbon mark all seam, dart and hem lines using white or colored dressmaker carbon and a tracing wheel. Nina Lou Baird, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent points this fact out.

She adds, too, that all carbon marks are, of course, on the wrong side, but they furnish clear guides for stitching accurately. Mrs. Baird recognizes that this is not a new technique when she says that nearly every antique table shows signs of tracing wheel marks. So our grandmothers appreciated the value of the simple little gadget... a tracing wheel.

Today, tables can be protected from marks by dining table silencers, hard cardboard strips or sheets of wall board. Magazines also serve to protect tables when marking small pieces.

If you have never stay-stitched around a pattern, you will find that, too, preserves each pattern shape and serves to mark your carbon through to the right side. Pin each curved or bias piece to paper and stitch along the outside edge of the carbon line. Try it. You will surely like it for it saves confusion and makes putting pattern parts together nearly as accurate as fitting together building blocks.

Here's Guide For Suit Wear

It is often said that the basis of a good wardrobe is a good suit. This was never more true than it is today. Every woman appreciates the qualities of a suit even if she is one of the very few figure types that can't wear suits. These practical long-wearing clothes can be worn around the clock. You have your choice of tweed, taffeta, linen, silk and any number of the new man-made fabrics.

To further accent the varied occasions when a suit is "just the thing" the fashion-wise woman calls on accessories. Choosing the right accessories to complement both suit and wearer is a tricky matter. For accessories to be a good buy they must be adaptable to many outfits.

When it comes to choosing a blouse for your suit you will have a wide variety. It seems that never before has there been such a multitude of blouses in every color imaginable, in excitingly different styles, and with such cunning decorative devices. The plain suit has its choice of tailored or dress-up type blouse.

Navy and black suits are the easiest to accessorize. A white hat and white gloves with shoes and bag a near match to the suit is a good choice. Or a red bag and shoes with gloves in white or the same color as the suit. Gives a fresh, vivid air to the ensemble. The beige suit is taking the fashion spotlight this season. It takes well to various shades of tan and brown or of rose. Alligator shoes and bag with a bright hat is effective. Coral or berry tones are smart right now.

Gray is an old favorite that goes well with almost every type of coloring. It can be worn with any color and be made to look smart. There are few colors that can be used together with more success than gray and white.

Be ready for the approaching holidays by preparing an "emergency shelf". Keep a good variety of foods on hand for unexpected company. Besides canned meats, vegetables, potatoes and fruits, you might keep such snack food as pickles, olives, sardines, spreads, mushrooms, candy and nuts. Of course, crackers and cheese are good keepers, too.

Chevrolet shows you some important differences in low-priced cars just by ## the look on its face!

There's a look of character and quality about that new Chevrolet front end that reveals a lot. Feel the strength and solidity of the grille and you learn even more. And this is only one of the easy ways you can compare workmanship, materials and design.

Most of the '57 cars look good from 50 feet away, but what about from 50 inches away? What does a close-up of the grille tell you, for example? Is it solidly made like the new Chevrolet grille? Or, in comparison does it look less rich in design—does it feel less strong and solid in construction?

Check the bumper. Is it separated from the grille by a bolted-on metal pan that's subject to rust and rattles? Or is it nicely integrated with the grille as in the Chevrolet design?

And how about the headlights? Any seams where they join the fender? Not in Chevrolet, there aren't. Fine, one-piece construction here and rich, distinctive chrome trim.

The more closely you look all around the car, the more clearly you'll see that Chevrolet has the edge in the way it's put together. Compare the quality of materials, the attention that has been paid to trim and details. You'll find, for instance, that Chevrolet is the only car in its field with a lacquer finish... that only Chevrolet Bel Air models in their field give you foam rubber cushions in front and rear seats as standard equipment. These are just a few of the advantages of Body by Fisher. And Chevrolet, you know, is the only low-priced car that has a Fisher Body.

We'll be glad to give you a close-up comparative look at this new Chevy any time you care to come in. This week, maybe?

2-Family Home in Disguise

Modern architecture at last has turned its talents and skills to the two-family house. The result is a home that looks like a home, and not like a small apartment building.

An example is this compact, nine-room house designed for two-family living by architect Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N.Y. It is plan No. SR9518.

From the viewpoint of a passerby the house could be a modern one-family Cape Cod, with its steeply sloping asphalt-shingle roof and its inviting panel entrance door of ponderosa pine, painted to harmonize with the roof color.

This particular style of house lends itself to colorful exterior treatment, since the wide expanse of roof is readily visible from the ground. The homeowner can take advantage of this opportunity in his selection of the many deep color tones and light pastels available.

The middle door in the drawing leads to the first-floor apartment, which has three bedrooms, a 19-foot living room with fireplace, a dining room, kitchen with breakfast nook, and two baths.

The second-floor quarters are reached through the door at the right. The apartment has one bedroom, a 20-foot living room, dining room with provision for a folding bed, and a kitchen with breakfast bar.

One of the most important features of the house, which utilizes the "attic" area for living space, is complete insulation. Architect Matern specifies the use of thick batts or blankets of mineral wool in all exterior walls and in the ceiling of the second floor.

Two unusual features of the design are outdoor patios for both families and an entrance to the basement from both apartments.

Additional information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica, L.I., N.Y.

Here's Some Tips to Make Style Rules Move to New Home Easy Color Choice In Any Home

Moving from one home to another, either in the same city or a distant one, need no longer be a nightmare of feverish uprooting and back-breaking work. Modern-day movers, through years of experience in all kinds of household goods transfers, have developed a simple list of "dos" and "don'ts" for the housewife to follow which ease the task to a breeze.

Here are the highlights of such a list prepared by one of the largest of present-day long distance movers. Follow the "dos" and do them—and respect the "don'ts," and your troubles will be nil on moving day.

DO THIS:

1. Discuss your move with your agent. Let him know exactly what service you wish, including packing. Ask him to explain the advantages of letting his expert movers do all your packing. Movers, for instance, will take down your venetian blinds, draperies, rods, and cornices, remove carpet tacks and take up carpets, and similar tedious jobs for a reasonable service charge.
2. Remove jewelry, money, and valuable papers from drawers. The mover is not responsible for such valuables unless they are made part of the authorized move.
3. Be at home, or have a family member present, when the packing is done.
4. If some items, such as luggage, are not to be shipped, make sure that they are separated from the rest and tell the van operator not to move them.
5. Be present, if possible, when the van is loaded and again when it is unloaded at your new home. If you cannot be there, arrange to have someone sign the necessary papers for you.

Here are the things you should NOT do, especially if you have ordered packing service:

DON'T DO THIS:

1. Do not put breakables such as china, glassware, pictures, or mirrors in drawers.
2. Do not remove china, glassware or utensils from shelves or cabinets and place them on a table. This takes extra work and your packer takes care of all of these articles in orderly fashion as he packs.
3. Do not put liquids in drawers. Your packer handles such items so that they will not spill.
4. Do not take pictures or mirrors from walls. The packer does this for you.
5. Do not roll rugs. Your packer does this correctly, so they can be strapped safely in the van.
6. Do not overload drawers with linens or clothing as too much weight can cause damage to the furniture.

Laquers are film-forming finishes which dry by solvent evaporation.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q—Can holes be drilled in glass with an ordinary metal drilling bit?
A—Yes, if you surround the spot to be drilled with a little dam of putty filled with light oil. Use a high speed drill and keep the dam filled with oil. Stop occasionally to let the bit cool when it gets too hot to touch.

Q—Can insulation be installed in an old house?
A—Any house, old or new, can be insulated. Mineral wool engineers have developed a method of blowing insulation into walls and ceilings of older homes. It's done with air pressure, which forces the mineral wool into all cracks and crevices and around invisible wires and bracing. The finished job leaves the house in its original condition except for the complete insulation seal, which makes it more comfortable in all seasons and helps save fuel in winter.

Q—We're building a Colonial-style house which we plan to furnish as authentically as possible in early American. Can we obtain authentic reproductions of early American pine panel doors?
A—Building material dealers carry panel doors of ponderosa pine which are authentic copies of doors made by Colonial craftsmen. An example is a six-panel door identified by the U.S. Department of Commerce as N.D. 108 a standard identifying number that all manufacturers recognize. Its clear ponderosa pine is ideal for staining in the natural warm tones of early American decor.

Q—What type of screw can I use to attach a cabinet to a brick wall in our kitchen?
A—Most any type of screw will do if you drill holes first and insert plastic fiber or lead plugs made for this purpose. These will expand as the screw goes in, gripping the threads as tightly as wood.

★ Ranch Homes Brighter
Color stylists give the exterior of ranch homes a "lift" by painting panels in the entrance door a bright accent color. The "ranch" panel door of ponderosa pine made especially for modern ranch homes, has three equal-sized panels which are ideal for the accent color treatment.

★ Roof Is Color Key
A house is built from the foundation up, but it should get its exterior scheme color from the roof down, color stylists say. Asphalt shingles, which come in many colors, including solids, blends, deep tones and pastels, give many color consultants a "key" from which to plan harmonizing colors on the rest of the house.

★ Slum Fighters Get Aid
The National Association of Home Builders reports that at least nine state universities have set up special departments to help localities clean up slums and improve housing conditions.

Re-Incorporation?

(Frankly we don't understand the legal implications of the idea, but we're reprinting a story today from the Ann Arbor News that suggests, apparently, another method of extending a city's borders, other than by annexation.)

An Ann Arbor attorney and Third Ward Democratic City Council candidate has proposed a plan aimed at substantial enlargement of Ann Arbor's area through "reincorporation" of the city with enlarged boundaries.

Arthur E. Carpenter has offered his views to city officials, particularly the Planning Commission. The commission has taken no steps other than to place them on file. They are being studied by the city attorney.

Carpenter's plan, contained in a communication to John E. Swisher, jr., Planning Commission chairman, involves what the attorney views as problems stemming from annexation under Michigan laws.

Carpenter says the present city boundaries entail difficult problems of administration and that they permit many persons to avoid city taxes which they should "rightfully bear." He adds that the city is lacking in sufficient area suitable for industrial development.

His plan, Carpenter says, would require creation of a new city from present Ann Arbor and such portions of surrounding townships that might be determined necessary to provide a city with boundaries "reasonably suited" to needs of the city.

Carpenter says the new city would be originated through circulation of petitions by residents of Ann Arbor and surrounding townships. Its creation would be determined by a majority vote of the people in the bounded area.

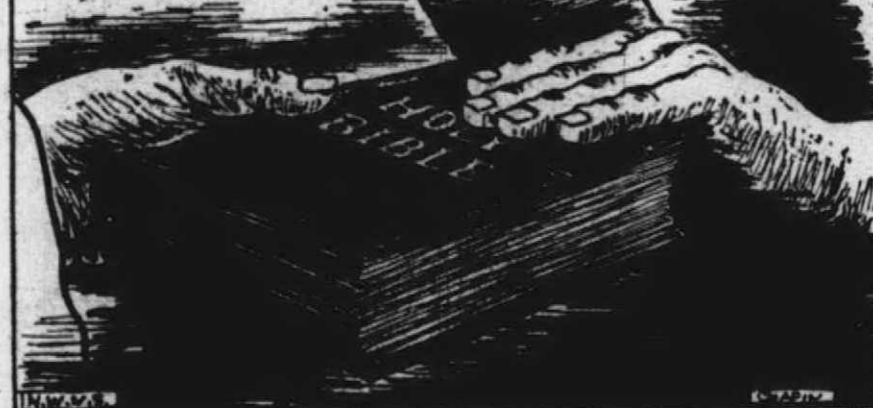

A charter commission would be selected at the same time. If creation of the city was approved, the commission would prepare a new charter and that would be voted on by electors. The new city would exist upon filing of an approved charter with the county clerk and secretary of state.

A citizens committee is the logical group to circulate the petitions, Carpenter says. Planning Commission and City Council approval of the plan would be helpful, he adds. If the commission approved, a citizens committee would be promptly formed to set legal machinery in motion, Carpenter relates.

Petitions would have to contain the proposed city boundaries, Carpenter explains. Planning Commission designation of boundaries for guidance of the citizens committee would be helpful, he says.

When You Retire

Florida Daydreaming Fascinating

by ROBERT PETERSON

NOW THAT COLD WEATHER HAS descended on a good part of the country it's appropriate to let one's thoughts wander Southward. At this time of year just about everyone from forty on up falls victim to the Florida daydream—except perhaps for Californians who are rightly content with their own sunny climate.

This fantasy of sunny days spent serenely along the palm studded beaches of Florida is as stimulating for most Americans as is Mecca for the Moslems. When the average individual hits that ripe and righteous prime of life known as middle age his good judgment tells him to start contemplating the joys of retirement. And most of us have been led to believe, and rightfully so, that one of the real joys of retirement is getting acquainted with the land of pink flamingoes.

Of course the press agents down there exaggerate a little. We soon discover that oranges and bathing beauties do not, unfortunately, grow in every backyard. We also discover that Florida has her critics, including perhaps half the populace of a citrus-growing rival on the West Coast. But most of us who have seen a fair share of the world agree that while other areas may have a climate as good, or facilities as modern, or a comfortable living as inexpensive as is found in the Sunshine States, none offers all three so abundantly as does Florida.

First of all, there is the climate. It isn't perfect but it's about as good as you'll find this side of Eden. There are always some diehards who insist that the weather in Hawaii, or Haiti, or Helena is better. But when all the comparisons are in it is clear that the Florida climate and the human body are pretty harmonious.

Then there are the facilities including more handsome hotels, motels, and restaurants than you'll find just about anywhere else on earth. In Miami Beach there is, of course, a string of hotels of such eye-popping grandeur that they have to be seen to be believed.

IT WOULD SEEM TO FOLLOW that Florida, with its climate and impressive facilities, should be considerably beyond the reach of people with only modest means yet the facts are otherwise. Actually, it costs less to live in Florida than it does in most other areas on this continent. This economic phenomenon stems from the fact that labor is plentiful and this reduces the cost of housing; fuel costs are only those required for cooking and occasional heating; cotton clothing can be worn the year round; fruits and vegetables are easy to grow and cost less than elsewhere; and medical bills are apt to be lower since colds and respiratory diseases, as well as aches and pains, just don't seem to occur as often as they do elsewhere.

FLORIDA IS A WONDERFUL place for the kids, but it's even more wonderful for those of us who have started computing our age in decades. Like many of her visitors I may never have the good fortune to be a permanent resident. But I'll be dropping in often enough to pamper that fantasy of palm trees and poinsettias that pops into my mind whenever I contemplate the trips and vacations that retirement will bring.

What's Your Question on World Affairs?

BY EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER
"Don't you believe that the unusual growth of our population comes from a basic injustice about the world?" (J. G., Arlington, Va.)

It could be, Wilhelm Busch, the German humorist, wrote that "who has cares, has also liquor." Joseph Dargent, international representative of the French champagne industry, says that "when people are worried about international tensions, they stock up on champagne." Very possibly, worried parents tend to stock up on babies as possible insurance against racial extinction.

"Would it be morally right for us to risk World War III now and send our forces (there are no other forces available) into Hungary? Or would it be more sensible to work through the UN, endeavoring to reorganize that institution in such a manner as to be able to concentrate the power of the free world more effectively against the Soviet Union and the troublemaking dictators?" (John G. Witte, Maumee, Ohio)

It would be right to do both. Recognizing that there will be no real peace until the USSR and Company are cut back to size, and that the satellite peoples one and all wish independence from communism, and that the free world had some responsibility in the forceful communizing of all of them, we would have been entirely justified in intervening in Hungary when asked to do so by the Nagy Government. Meanwhile we should go ahead and try to transform the UN into an International Authority not only with lawmaking but with law-enforcing powers. Only at that point can peace-loving peoples entirely renounce the right to use national violence. Since the USSR is ready to take the risk of war, we shall be blackmailed until we show an equal readiness to take risks.

"Will you please tell me how much money the United States has loaned to Great Britain since the start of World War I and how much of this has been paid back?" (M. A. Sprague, Selma, Ore.)

The correct figures seem to be:
We lent Britain during and just after World War I $4,277,000,000, of which Britain has repaid, before and after funding in 1923, $2,024,854,297.74, leaving a total to be paid by 1985, of $8,086,550,301.03.
Of $600,000,000 in Lend-Lease settlement, Britain still owes $560,000,000.

Of the 1946 loan of $3,750,000,000, Britain still owes $3,500,000,000. Add the sums outstanding and you get the grand total due.

"By what right do the Greeks of Cyprus demand that Isle be turned over to Greece just because they are the majority? Who originally are the owners of Cyprus?" (Albert Rogers, Philadelphia)

I think you mean, why shouldn't Cyprus be a self-governing place connected with neither Greece nor Turkey? It could be except that the 82 per cent Greek-speakers wish to join Greece. Their forefathers were there when the ancestors of the present Turks were still living in central Asia.

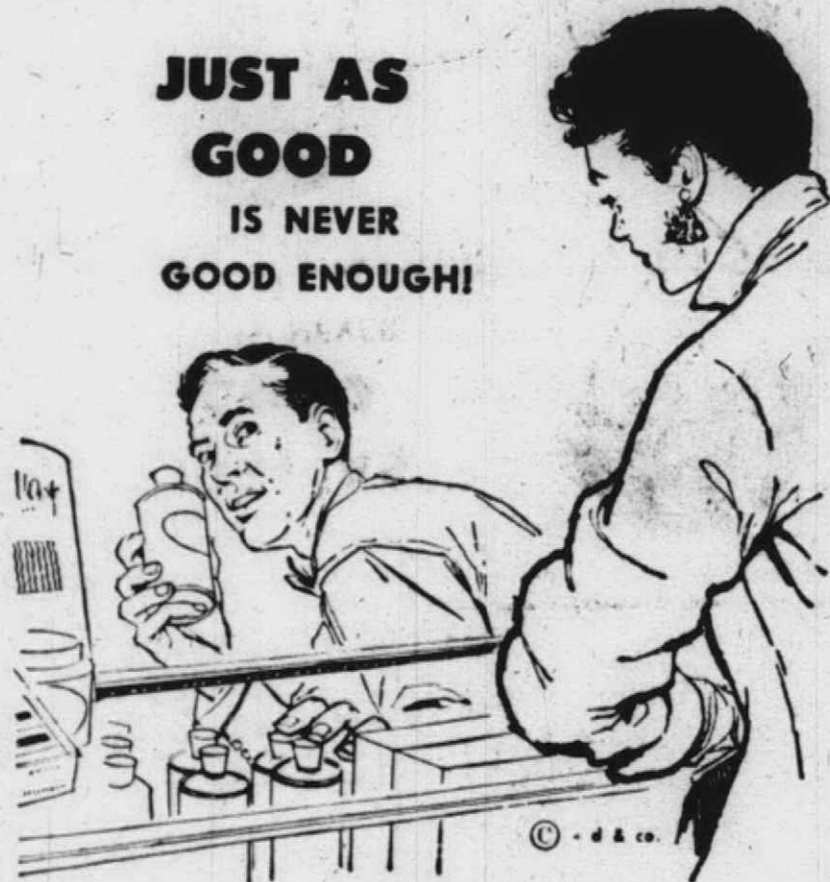

"Please give the exact number of votes in the State of Oregon received by each of the following candidates — Eisenhower, State Treasurer Unander, Douglas McKay, and Senator Wayne Morse." (E. J. E., Banks, Ore.)

The figures are: Eisenhower 406,393; Unander 416,410; McKay 335,405; and Morse 396,849.

Send that one question on world affairs, signed either with your full name or your initials, to Edgar Ansel Mowrer, in care of this newspaper.

"What do you think of the President sending Jock Whitney, another multimillionaire, to London as U. S. Ambassador?" ("State Official," Trenton, N.J.)
I regret it, not because Mr. Whitney is a multimillionaire but because he has had no thorough training in world affairs or diplomacy.

JUST AS GOOD IS NEVER GOOD ENOUGH!

Every day, every hour, someone is trying to sell something which is "JUST AS GOOD". Watch your wife the next time it's tried on her. Why does she refuse the "just-as-good" products? Because she knows it just "ain't so". She knows that every manufacturer sells his goods as low as he can because that way he sells more. So, she knows that the "just-as-good" product that's a little cheaper is too often not nearly as good.

Remember this when you hear the song of "cheap insurance". Remember, too, that skimpy insurance coverage that saves a few dollars now can cost thousands later.

True economy in buying insurance lies in buying COMPLETE insurance at the PROPER PRICE. This is the field of the qualified insurance agent, a professional man appointed as the CONTRACTING representative of the world's major insuring companies. This man spends his life in the servicing, study and selling of insurance. His counsel in this highly complex field can be likened to the advice of your doctor and your lawyer — truly worth its weight in gold.

He will never offer you something "just as good" as the real thing. He will never cloud the real issue with "bargain" sales talk.

HE WILL prescribe complete insurance. HE WILL give you complete peace of mind. HE WILL insure you — not "CHEAPLY" but COMPLETELY!

The fabulous new Buick CENTURY Caballero

Here's BIG NEWS for you
Greatest thing that ever happened to the Century

YOU'VE SEEN many improvements in wagons these past 5 years. But, to use a vivid expression, "You ain't seen nothing yet!"

For now comes a new kind of wagon called the Caballero.

It's the lowest and the sleekest wagon you ever saw—and the most practical wagon ever built by Buick.

You get up to 8 1/2 feet of level deck for "long" freight—wider-opening rear gates top and bottom for easier loading — a panoramic rear window for safer parking. Even your rear-seat passengers get a view unmarred by center posts.

But beyond all that, this one's a '57 Buick CENTURY through and through.

So you ride with buoyant new road-ability—from a new chassis that "nests" the body to a record low center of gravity.

You guide with a new and surer handling, stop on the level even when you have to brake hard, travel with the satisfying security of Buick brawn, solidity, rock-firm steadiness.

Above all, you command with a new ginger here—with a quicker and surer power response that stems from an all-new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine with 10 to 1 compression.

And sparking this great power is a new advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives you such instant full-torque obedience in "Drive"—it practically eliminates your need for "Low."

The stunning new Caballero—the '57 Buick CENTURY Estate Wagon illustrated here—can be yours at a price surprisingly easy to take.

Or you can have a similar body style in Buick's even lower-priced SPECIAL Series. Drop in and see us—today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

SAFETY NEWS
Only Buick has the SAFETY-MINDER! — a simple device that's a great boon to your safety. You merely press the release-button you want. When you reach that pace, a warning buzzer sounds. Drop below that pace and the buzzer stops.
