

Predict Small Ballot Will Bring Small Vote Monday

Primary to Offer No Races in City, Township

Polls will open at 7 a. m. Monday for an election that will probably be taken lightly by most voters—but which will decide the nomination for county auditor and the election of four men to the Wayne county circuit court bench.

Voters of Plymouth city and township will have no other candidates or issues on the ballot other than the county auditor and circuit court office-seekers. But in nearby Canton and Salem townships, the ballot will have a number of intra-party races.

Clerks of the city and township expect the polling to be "very light" due to the lack of interest in the election. But Plymouthites may turn out more than usual for an election of this type due to the name of one candidate on the circuit court ballot.

George E. Bowles, Plymouth township resident and an appointee to the circuit court bench to fill an unexpired term, is one of the 11 candidates seeking the four available offices. He took office only last month but must now run to retain his new job.

The four who will be elected will have terms ending December 31, 1958. The $25,000 a year job is on a non-partisan basis and both Democrats and Republicans will be allowed to vote on the judicial ballot (the blue section of the voting machine panel.)

The county auditor part of the ballot is on a partisan basis. Democrats will find five men seeking the nomination while Republicans have but one. The auditor's job pays $17,500 a year. All polling places will remain the same in the city and township. They will open at 7 a. m. and close at 8 p. m.

There is no city commission race in the primary because there are fewer than two candidates running for each office. Four vacancies will exist in the commission in April and only six are seeking office.

In Plymouth township there was but one candidate filing for each vacancy, making their election automatic.

The general spring election will be April 1.

Paralyzed Youth Returns Home

Returning home last week after spending nearly seven months in University hospital was Jimmy Williams, 16, who last July broke his neck in a swimming accident at Walled Lake.

Jimmy, who lives at 592 South Harvey, is still almost totally paralyzed but he and his physicians have high hopes for his recovery.

Two operations have been performed on his neck. A kidney condition resulting from his paralysis has been cured with shots instead of surgery and a report on this is being prepared for the Medical Journal.

The plucky youth, who would have been a junior this year, is welcoming visits from friends. He returned home from a few days last Christmas when Schraders offered him the ambulance rides as a Christmas gift.

Although he still cannot feed himself, Jimmy is now able to move his fingers and his legs some. It will be a long process, but Jimmy expects to recover. He will be home for six weeks and then return to the hospital for more treatment.

He is the son of Mrs. Frances Finley and James Williams of Plymouth.

Employment Office Gets New Site

Plymouth's branch of the Michigan Employment Security Commission will have a new home starting next Monday.

From their present upstairs office at 585 West Ann Arbor trail, the employment office will move to a new building located on the east side of Mill street, between

Ann Arbor trail and Ann Arbor road.

The 50 by 70 foot building will offer more office and parking space than the present location, according to Gordon Packard, manager of the local branch. The state has been attempting to find a new location for two years, he said, because the present offices are too small.

The new one-story building will also make it easier for those with handicaps or are aged, Packard said. Many people served by the employment office are in those classifications.

Constructed by Samuel Spicer and Louis Norman of Plymouth, the building is being leased to the Michigan Employment Security Commission. The contractor was the Burger Construction company of Plymouth.

Parking immediately behind the building will be for employees while parking behind that will be for customers. Packard said that the present office will close Friday noon and all furniture moved to the new location which will open Monday morning.

Plymouth's employment office covers parts of three counties. The western boundary is Pontiac road; the south boundary is from Pontiac trail eastward along Joy road to Canton Center, south on Canton Center to Ford road and east on Ford to Telegraph road. The boundary then goes north to Telegraph road to Fourteen Mile road and west on Fourteen Mile to Pontiac trail.

Packard said that an open house will be held at a later date. Max M. Horton, commission director, noted that industrial growth in this area has been so great that he fully expects the new office to be too small for their requirements within three or four years.

"Fortunately, there is adequate room for expansion and parking in the vicinity of the office. These advantages exist in almost none of our big city offices. Although it is a mile or so from the present site, the new office will be much more convenient for most people

Michigan Bell Unveils Plans for Dial Phones

ARTISTS SKETCH of the new Michigan Bell Telephone company building on Ann Arbor road shows the impressive size of the structure. Ground was broken Monday and the contractor is already at work. It is expected to be completed by August and automatic dial equipment ready to use by April 1958.

Half Million Dollar Structure Started

Plans were unveiled this week by the Michigan Bell Telephone company for a $2,900,000 dial telephone system to be ready to serve Plymouth early in 1958.

A formal groundbreaking ceremony took place Monday at the site of a new central office building on Ann Arbor road just east of Sheldon road. Michigan Bell officials and other guests watched as Plymouth's Mayor Russell Daane turned over the first shovel of ground.

Of reinforced concrete and brick, the two-story and basement structure will cost about $500,000. It will front on Ann Arbor road with a 140-foot width and 125 foot depth.

Following the ceremony, the group, that included most of the city's official family, went to the Hotel Mayflower for a luncheon and to learn more details of the new telephone system.

Robert D. Maurer, area manager for Michigan Bell, said that completion of the building has been set for August 15 and that the automatic system may be ready to operate by April 1958. All present telephones must be replaced along with most of the phone cables. No plans have been announced for the present Michigan Bell building on Ann Arbor Trail where present equipment is housed.

It was pointed out that operators replaced by the dial phones will be hired in the expanded telephone department.

After the new central office building is completed, a highly-trained crew of technicians from the Western Electric company will arrive in Plymouth to install the intricate dial switching equipment. Western Electric is the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. After these technicians finish their work they will turn the equipment over to Michigan Bell engineers who will put it through a series of rigorous tests before it is placed in service; "Plymouth's new dial system," Maurel said, "will include all of the advancements made in the telephone art during the last few years.

"Probably the most significant advancement has been the development of direct distance dialing equipment which makes it possible to dial a telephone in New York, Boston or San Francisco as easily and as quickly as calling a friend down the block. Installation of this equipment here will bring more than 25,000 telephones within direct dialing reach of Plymouth customers."

Billing for direct long-distance dialed calls will be handled through the use of another new development known as Automatic Message Accounting, Maurer said. This equipment, he continued, records all data required for billing a call on perforated tape, which, when decoded, gives Michigan Bell's accounting department all the information required for billing, such as the date of the call, number called and length of the call.

Another building is being constructed in Plymouth for lease to Michigan Bell. The building, will be on Harvey street, just south of Ann Arbor Trail and will replace the Penniman office building where bills are paid and other customer service is offered.

Maurel pointed out that another device that will be installed will "sweep test" the entire phone system each morning. If it finds a telephone out of order it will automatically drop a card indicating the telephone number and location of that particular equipment. "The use of this equipment greatly reduces the out-of-order telephone," he noted.

Plymouth's new system will not be a "package deal," Maurer added. It has been engineered and designed to meet the particular needs of the area. Extensive studies have been made to determine the local and long distance habits of the Plymouth customers.

5 School Districts Tell of Annex Hopes

Board of education members from five neighboring Washtenaw county school districts were given no indications Monday night by the Plymouth Community School district board that annexation of the neighboring districts will soon become a reality.

Attending the regular Plymouth board meeting to talk over annexation prospects were board members from the districts of Frains Lake, Geer and Free Church in Superior township, and Salem Stone and Lapham in Salem township.

Most of the junior and senior high school youngsters living in the five districts now attend Plymouth schools on a non-resident tuition basis. Sixty-three are now enrolled from the districts.

Free Church, Frains Lake and Lapham school boards had asked to meet with the Plymouth board to discuss their high school problems. The local board invited the other two neighboring districts to also attend.

While there was an overwhelming desire expressed to have their districts annexed to the Plymouth district, it was the consensus of the local board that annexation petitions would be unacceptable at this time.

The Plymouth board noted, however, that in the foreseeable future, junior and senior high school students from the five districts can continue at Plymouth on the tuition basis.

All of the visiting boards expressed their gratitude for the services now being offered and made a common plea that they be allowed to continue.

Three of the districts, Lapham, Salem Stone and Frains Lake, have presented annexation petitions in recent years which have been turned down. In presenting their petitions, the school districts attempted to show that the great majority of residents considered themselves as part of the Plymouth "community". Each of the districts have their own elementary school buildings.

An additional bus for the school fleet was purchased at the meeting Monday. Approved was a bid from Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., for a 66-passenger Ford bus at a cost of $8,450. It was the lowest bid that met specifications.

The school calendar for the 1957-58 year was approved. It is similar to past years except for a two-week Christmas vacation instead of a week or week and a (Continued on Page 8)

Burglars Cut Telephone, Electricity Before Theft

Two burglars who entered a Harvey street home last week were frightened away when an occupant was awakened by the beam of their flashlight.

Mrs. Aubry Rich, 628 North Harvey, told police she was in bed and was awakened by the flashlight beam. Getting up, she saw two men run from the home and down the alley.

Police found that the two had first cut telephone wires outside the home and then broke a basement stairway door to gain entrance. Going first into the basement, they turned off the electric power and then broke through a door leading into the upstairs.

Investigation found that they took a purse containing between $20 and $30, a drivers license and miscellaneous items.

NEW DIAL TELEPHONE OFFICE bringing you BETTER SERVICE GREATER VALUE

BREAKING GROUND for the half million dollar Michigan Bell building last Monday was Mayor Russell Daane, shown with the manager of the local office, Robert Maurer. City and phone company officials attended the ceremony, followed by a luncheon.

133 New Parking Meters Installed

New parking meters have replaced old ones in most of Plymouth's downtown area and their operation is somewhat different than the old mechanisms.

While the new meters look the same, they will take quarters as well as dimes, nickles and pennies. But Chief of Police Kenneth Fisher points out customers shouldn't put quarters in the meters unless they have nothing else in their pocket since the quarter will give no more time than a dime or nickel.

One hundred and thirty-three meters have replaced badly worn meters on Penniman, from Main to Ann Arbor Trail; on Forest avenue and some on Ann Arbor Trail. The old meters will be used as replacements in other areas.

At the rate of five cents an hour, half of the meters allow up to one hour and the other half allow two hours. Chief Fisher states that the new meters are also divided, but all will take a quarter. The 25 cents, however, will not give more than the maximum time.

The chief says that the quarter feature is for the convenience of those who may not have any other type of change. A number of meters in the Central Parking lot give 10 hours for a quarter.

New Year Begins For Community Fund Board

Four new members were welcomed Tuesday night to their first meeting of the board of directors of the Plymouth Community Fund. They are Ralph Carter, Richard Daniel, James Davis and Mrs. Eva Geller.

It was also the first meeting at which the new president, Sam Hudson, presided. Hudson welcomed the new members and appointed two committees.

On the budget committee are James Davis, chairman, John Gaffield, and Thomas Rossetti. They will send letters to all organizations receiving funds, urging them to submit their budgets so that the 1957 goal can be met.

Named to the publicity committee were John Gaffield, chairman, and Mrs. Claude Gebhardt, speakers.

Two Weeks Remain To Buy '57 Plates

Unless a person likes crowds, it's getting almost too late to avoid them at the local license plate bureau. Two weeks from today will be the last day for getting the 1957 tags on the car.

The bureau, located at 181 West Liberty street, is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Fridays, and until 3 p. m. on Saturdays.

Manager Mrs. Doris Root states that many truck and trailer owners are still unaware that they must have their vehicles weighed before a license can be purchased. This excludes trailers under 500 pounds. A registration blank to be filled in by the weigh station attendant must first be obtained from the license bureau.

Local Delegate Gets State GOP Convention Post

A Plymouth delegate served as one of the vice-chairmen of the State Republican convention held last Saturday in Detroit.

Harry Reeves, high school economics and history instructor, was named as one of the convention's vice-chairmen. He attended the affair with Mrs. Gladys Tillotson and John Daoust, city delegate, and Herald Hamill, township delegate.

At a meeting of the 17th district delegates last Wednesday, Mrs. Ann Conklin of Livonia was elected state central committee-woman to replace Mrs. John Henderson of Plymouth who decided to give up the position after a number of years.

The state convention went on record as endorsing a thorough road building program including thoroughways from Detroit to St. Joseph's, Detroit to Bay City, Detroit to Muskegon and Battle Creek northward. They also gave the strongest endorsement of state aid to public schools in their history.

The convention elected their state chairman and nominated candidates for offices open in the April election. Senator Charles Potter was one of the principal speakers.

There is no definite date set for start of the project.

Edison to Build New Substation

A new substation that will serve electric power for a six-square-mile of Plymouth township will be constructed this year along Ann Arbor road, the Detroit Edison company announced.

Edward L. Millis, manager of Edison's Wayne sales district, said that the project will be part of about $5,200,000 that the company will spend in western Wayne county alone, as part of a $89,000,000 construction program for 1957.

Located near the intersection of Ann Arbor and Sheldon roads in the township, the substation will be designated as the "Omaha Substation". Millis said that it will be enclosed within a structure of some type.

The substation is needed to prevent an overload on present circuits, Millis said. As areas grow, present circuits are split to make new ones.

There is no definite date set for start of the project.

Announcing OLDSMOBILE'S NEW J ROCKET!

It's the most exciting engine development since the first Rocket was launched!
Engineers have dreamed for years of an engine that combined exceptional horsepower and torque potential with outstanding fuel economy in normal operation.
And today, Olds has it in the new J-2 Rocket. You'll find it's like two engines under the hood!
In your day-to-day driving, you enjoy the smooth, alert action of the Rocket — with the fuel economy of dual-jet carburetion and a 10-to-1 compression ratio. But to meet the exceptional driving situation, just open the accelerator beyond the 3/4 point and two additional carburetors automatically jet into action. There's an instant boost in torque and power. You'll appreciate the immediate response as another Olds contribution to your pleasure and safety at the wheel!

TRIPLE-ACTION RESERVE POWER!
Simply nudge the accelerator beyond the 3/4 mark and you "call out the reserves!" The J-2 Rocket then operates on three dual carburetors. J-2 is available now at a modest extra cost. Try it!

9277-hp. Rocket 7-400 Engine standard on all models.
J-2 Rocket Engine, with 100 h.p., and special Rocket Engine, with up to 127 h.p., optional at extra cost.

Still Can Enroll In Adult Classes

With over 1,100 people enrolled in 47 classes, the Adult Education and Recreation program has opened its spring term, Director Herbert Woolweaver said this week, and added that there is still time to enroll in nearly all activities.

Classes starting just this week and ones which need just a few more to form a class are: stock market fundamentals, home gardening and landscaping, business English, Swedish gym, all starting this week, and successful speaking and child relationships, both in need of a few more pupils.

A class needs at least 12 before it can open, Woolweaver said. Mrs. Joseph Witwer, instructor for the Swedish gym class for several years, broke her arm in a fall near her home and has been replaced by Miss Peg Steig, of the recreation staff at Eastern Michigan college.

Next Week's Theatre Guild Play Requires Cast of 16

Wallace Miss Strahle Mrs. Curtner Brown

Creel Hartman Wall

The curtain will go up next Thursday night on a new Plymouth Theatre Guild production, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan", being sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Running through Saturday night, the comedy will be presented in the high school auditorium.

A large cast is needed for the rollicking three act play. To acquaint the public with the cast, here are brief biographies of the persons holding down the top nine roles on and off the stage.

RICHARD HARTMANN as Joe Pendleton. Coming from Pontiac and the Will-O-Way apprentice school is an exuberant lad of 18 years. At the school, Dick had leads in scenes from "Lillian Winster", "Love from a Stranger" and "Blithe Spirit".

RUSS WALLACE as Mr. Jordan. Russ, who usually portrays the villain, has taken on a different role this time as a kindly but stern character. He has appeared in the previous Guild productions as well as several for Will-O-Way. He played summer stock last year at Sun Parlor Playhouse, Leamington, Ontario.

RUSS CREEL as Messenger 7013. Russ, who is public relations director at the local Burroughs plant, is a resident of Walled Lake. He appeared in "My Three Angels", "Time Out for Ginger" and "George Washington".

JIM BROWN as Tony Abbott. This is his first performance here. Jim worked in dramatic classes at college. He received his BA and MA at Michigan State Normal and is now a junior high teacher in Plymouth.

LIBBY CURTNER as Bette Logan. A native of Plymouth, Libby is a newcomer in Farmington. She is a busy housewife with three children but has found time to model in fashion shows, make a movie for Jam Handy and also work in the Guild. She appeared in "Lo and Behold" and "Time Out for Ginger". Libby was also chosen Miss D.S.R.

BOB WALL as Max Levene. Before moving his family to Plymouth, Bob did quite a bit of dramatic entertaining on radio and television in the Midwest. This is his first play here. At present he is employed by the Wayne County Board of Education as director of public relations.

MARGE STRAHLER as Julia Farnsworth. One of the newer members of the Theatre Guild, Marge comes from Livonia where she graduated from Bentley in 1951. Marge was active in school dramatics and now lives on Auburndale in Livonia.

JEANNIE DAHLAGER, the producer. While her husband serves in the armed forces in Korea, Jeannie busies herself in Guild work. She has appeared in such plays as "My Three Angels", "The Hitch-hiker" and "The Botanist". In the last production she was the assistant director.

DR. FORD SUTHERLAND, the producer. Ford first met Dr. Sutherland as Joey in the last play, "Strange Boarders." He has done high school dramatics and minstrel shows in the past. Ford is a radiologist at Garden City hospital and boasts three lovely daughters and a talented wife.

Local Contests Occur in Salem, Canton Townships

Several contests will be decided in Canton and Salem townships in next Monday's primary election.

Only in Salem township is the job of supervisor being challenged by men of the same party. Incumbent William I. Scheel has another Republican, W. Howard Stillwill, as an opponent Monday. William Young, Democratic candidate for supervisor, will meet the GOP winner in April.

A large field of Republican candidates are seeking the two trustee vacancies. Four of them will be eliminated Monday. The candidates are Arthur Dahl, incumbent; Edwin Hamilton, Frans Buers, John Waldecker, Elenor Tanner, and Gail Stanbury.

Democrats must also narrow their field of three candidates for trustee down to two. Running are C. F. Grimes, Don Butler, Sr., and Fred Verran.

The major contest within a party in Canton township is that of clerk on the Democratic ticket. Incumbent John Flodin is opposed by George Boltrick. There are also five Republicans seeking four constable jobs, one of whom must be eliminated.

Mrs. Horace Barney of Marlowe street underwent major surgery, Tuesday, February 12, at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor.

Bentley Drops Rocks from Lead

Plymouth dropped behind Trenton in the race for league leadership after suffering a 63-47 home defeat at the hands of the invading Bentley Bulldogs. The loss was Plymouth's second consecutive in league competition after racking up a string of seven straight wins.

Bentley had tallied for six points before the ice for Plymouth with two free throws. Six of Plymouth's ten first quarter points came at the foul line. Ken Calhoun opened scoring in the second quarter with two free throws. Then Ken Knipschild tallied for two more to pull within two points of the Bulldogs. Bentley then put on a one sided scoring barrage to take a 31-20 half time scoring lead.

Bob Jenkins dropped in a long set shot to start Plymouth's third period. After one minute of play the electric clock went out of commission and play was halted with Bentley still holding their lead. The Rocks were on the short end of a 47-34 third period score.

Bentley continued to out score the locals and move on to their upsetting victory. Ken Calhoun continued to lead the Rocks in the scoring column as he tallied for eight field goals and eight free throws for a total of 24 points. Bob Jenkins pumped in ten points while Bill Hubert and Ken Knipschild hit for six each.

Gable led the Bentley attack with 22 points. Clark and King had 17 and 16 respectively. Plymouth hit on only 15 of 60 of their floor shots for a lowly 25%. Bentley connected for 42% of their shots by dunking 24 of their 57 attempts.

The JV squad dropped their fourth decision in five parts. Bentley took an early 15-8 lead and held command throughout the game. Plymouth made their biggest dent in the Bentley defense at the foul line. The little Rocks were able to hit on 11 of 20 free throw attempts while scoring 32 from the floor.

Schultheiss was high for the shooters with 16. Jim Urquhart and Eddie LaRoach had 13 and 8 respectively. Phillippi was high for the winners and the game with 19.

Collectors Hold Open House, Plan Club's Activities

The Coin and Stamp Collectors decided at a recent meeting to meet twice this year informally to exchange stamps and ideas and to help new collectors in their hobby. "Due to demands of other interests, a formal club will not be started," states Ed Brown, who had planned to sponsor the group.

The students present at the meeting decided to have two open houses this year for students in Plymouth High School, the first one being held the evening of Tuesday, Feb. 5.

Everyone interested could attend the open house, and many stamps given to the club by Miss Edna Allen, were distributed.

Beglinger, Hickory Farms Tied for League Leadership

Last Tuesday evening the Hickory Farm squad moved into a tie for first place with previously undefeated Beglinger Olds via a 64-58 triumph. Hickory Farms, who was decisioned 60-58 in the two teams' last meeting, held a 22-14 first quarter score.

Beglinger's was down 39-29 at the end of the first half. They came back strong in the second half outscoring the Hickory team but still fell six points short.

Beglinger's lost the service of high scoring Jim Bloomhuff in the early half of the second quarter. Bud Lamphear, another big gun for the Beglinger team, fouled out in the first half. Bloomhuff had scored six in his first eight minutes while Lamphear had collected four.

Ken Kisabeth was high for the winners and the game with 23. Bud Nedry had 19 for the losers, Lou Pateau added 13.

Beglinger had racked up their tenth straight victory last Thursday by dumping the Plymouth Independents 68-55. The league leaders came back strong in the second half after a slim six point halftime lead.

Bud Nedry sparked the winning attack with 15 points. Bud Young added 10. Barrett was high for the losers with 17. Bob Bruce contributed 15. Hickory Farms was inactive the second game of the week.

The Plymouth Independents (last week's third place team with a 5-4 record) were compelled to forfeit three games due to the use of an ineligible player, Malcolm Barrett.

The Independents were put to defeat last Tuesday evening by the upcoming Braders squad 63-44. Brader's held a five point edge at half time and maintained the lead for the victory.

Don McMillmurray was high for the winners with 21. Eddie Hock had 13. Barrett led the losers with 17.

Brader's humiliated Daisy last week in their first game 74-46. The victors roared to a 32-20 half time lead and stretched their margin to 17 points by the end of the third period.

Northville pulled a surprise victory over Northville State Hospital last week 60-34. The recreation team pulled to a commanding 35-11 halftime edge and the win was an easy follow through.

There was a lot of action in the game as Friday of the Hospital team was charged with a foul for charging, his victim was Lovette of the Northville team, who immediately got up and started the action. Both players were ejected from the game by the referee. Recreation supervisor, Jerry Veteese later notified the two they would be prohibited from the gymnasium for two full games.

Carr was high for the winners with 17, while Winchester led the losers with 13.

Action was fast in Northville Recreation's first game of the week, but not quite so drastic. The Recreation team was squeezed out by Daisy in a close 56-54 decision. Daisy had to come from behind to secure the win.

Max Algood was high for the winners with 23. Carr and Teschka had 12 apiece for the losers. Individual high scorers in the league as of last Tuesday evening are: Ken Kisabeth in first with 189 points, following closely in second is Max Algood with 187. Don McMillmurray is in third with 183. Winchester is fourth with 177. Bud Nedry is fifth with 169.

In sixth position is Jensen with 134, seventh is Jim Bloomhuff with 124, followed closely by Davis with 122, ninth is Bob Lufts with 111, and Lovette with 109.

Freshmen Win Eight Straight

The Plymouth Fresh moved on to their eighth straight victory last Friday as they lattered Bentley 41-27 on the latter's home court. Plymouth held a slim 9-3 lead at the end of the first quarter of play and it looked like the little Rocks were in for a battle but they surged to an eight point halftime edge and continued on to win and keep their undefeated streak alive.

The Fresh have successfully met every opponent in the Suburban Six and are now the proud possessors of an eight won and no loss record.

Randy Egloff sparked the Plymouth attack with 15 points. John Nance contributed 12. Carmichael was high for the losers with 10.

Art Nelson pumped in a shot with 10 seconds to go to give the Jr. high their 33-32 victory over the little Bulldogs of Bentley. Plymouth held a 9-6 first period lead and a 20-16 halftime edge before the Bentley five tied them in the third period.

Play was tight in the fourth and final quarter until Nelson tallied the deciding goal. John Spigarelli lead the local attack with 10 points. Palmer and Nelson had 9 and 7 respectively.

SPORTS

Sports Seen

By Bob Young

Plymouth's varsity basketball team will travel to Trenton tomorrow night with one objective in mind. . . . to topple Trenton from their perch atop the Suburban Six and regain their share of the league lead.

If Plymouth should win, both teams would be tied for first, with 7-2 records. If Trenton wins, they would be undisputed league champions. The last time the two teams met Plymouth squeaked out a dramatic 52-50 victory.

Ken Calhoun ran his season scoring total up to 149 last Friday as he dumped in 24 points against the Bentley Bulldogs. Ken is now hitting at a 16 point per game average.

The season scoring record of 254 is held by Ken Kisabeth who set the record while playing in 17 games in the 52-53 season. Kisabeth had a 14.9 scoring average. Calhoun has played in only nine games with a minimum of five games remaining. If Kenny gets the advantage of a few games in the tournaments he may establish a new school scoring total. Good Luck Kenny.

Coach John McFall has announced the regular Thursday night open swim will be extended to two hours, 7:30-9:30. If enough adults show up, Coach McFall said, they may have the pool to themselves for the last hour.

I made a mental tabulation of Plymouth High School's sports record yesterday and it was apparent it was pretty good, so I checked with the coaching office and verified my thoughts. The varsity had set the pace with a 4-3-1 record in football, 5-0 record in cross country, a 7-2 standing record in basketball and a 7-2 total record in swimming for a standing of 23 wins and 7 losses.

The reserves have a 14 won, 6 loss record after participating in football, basketball, and swimming. The freshmen, who helped out the JV teams in swimming and football, have only one Frosh team. Their record there is a dashing 8-0.

The junior high teams have racked up a 13-3 record while playing in football, basketball, and swimming. Compiling these totals we had a 58-16 sports total for a 78.3 percentage. The JV and varsity swimmers swam last night with a strong possibility for wins in both.

Happy Valentines Day. See you next week.

Last week's Plymouth Mail carried a story of local Elks in the state bowling tournament in Pontiac. The H. W. Taylor and Son Roofing team who is currently holding down second place with a total of 3070 pins, were omitted from the story.

Rocks Submerge Trenton For Sixth Swim Victory

The Plymouth Swimming team, under the direction of John McFall, disgraced a poor Trenton team 76-20 last Thursday at Trenton's pool. Coach McFall shifted many of his swimmers and brought up many of his JV tankers and still Plymouth took 10 firsts.

Don Carney and John Williams placed one and two in the 50 yd. freestyle in the times of 26.1 and 26.6 respectively. McAnally of Trenton took third.

In the 200 yd. freestyle Bill Brandell captured first with 2:07. Carney was second and Fagan of Trenton was third.

Jim Archer won the 100 yd. backstroke with Reider of Trenton placing second. John Gregory of Plymouth copped third. Jack Taylor and Denny Baker finished in the top two positions in the 100 yd. freestyle. Green of Trenton finished third. John Cash took a first in 100 yd. orthodox breaststroke with Trenton taking second and Dick Anderson of Plymouth placing third.

John Walker tied teammate Art Losee in the diving event before Gary Wright eclipsed his pool record in the 150 yd. individual medley. Gary's time was from the standpoint of parking alone. Packard, who has been with the commission since 1938, made known some of the activities of the local office during 1956. They included:

Nearly 4,000 job applicants, 571 counseling interviews, 195 persons tested for general or special capabilities, 2,059 referred to jobs and slightly under 1,000 placed in jobs.

Nearly 5,500 initial claims were filed, 24,609 continued claims (weekly claims, several by the same claimant).

Benefits paid out during the year totaled nearly three-quarters of a million dollars ($713,986) to workers unemployed through no fault of their own.

system had 5,844 telephones in use. The new office will have a capacity for 8,000 phones and will be engineered so that additions can be readily installed. "I feel that these figures and the amounts of money being spent show our confidence in the future of the Plymouth area," the local manager declared.

Telephones were introduced in Plymouth at the turn of the century by the Plymouth Telephone company, headed by Edward Hough. In April 1913, Michigan Bell purchased the exchange from the Inter-County and the Wayne County Telephone companies. There were 782 phones in use at that time.

In 1920 the number grew to 811; by 1930 there were 1,407 customers; the depression dropped the number to 978 in 1935 and five years later the customers jumped to 1,533.

General contractor for the new building is the Perron Constructing company, Detroit.

Youngsters 'Chip In' for Valentine

Probably one of the most unique and one of the longest to be remembered valentines will be the one which Gustav Lundquist of Auburn avenue received from his little neighborhood friends.

Gus, who has been confined to his home for some time, except for occasional visits to St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, received a valentine plant from a group of neighborhood children, who, by themselves look up a collection of their pennies and nickles to purchase the plant and send it to St. Joseph's hospital. Included with the plant and card was 11 cents, the remainder of the collection, which was taped to the card instructing the patient to "buy anything you want with it."

Participating in the unusual valentine surprise were the four children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bever, the four children of Mr. and Mrs. James Donahue, the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fisher, the three children of the John Coxforths, Sandy Reber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reber, the two sons of the Joseph Graves and the Charles Hatcher's son, all of Auburn avenue.

by Carl Peterson

After a slow start the weatherman sure mixed up a batch of real honest-to-Fahrenheit winter weather, with cold, snow, rain and ice setting records in many spots. At the same time, the seed catalogs are blooming in the mail these days to herald that finest season for gardeners . . . the anticipation stage.

There's nothing better than a seed catalog to make a ground grubber forget that he couldn't even raise a mess of radishes last year. With prize specimens of fruit, flowers and vegetables popping in profusion from the catalog, he gets that old Burbank urge again . . . a desire to transform his garden into something to make the Garden of Eden look like a back alley. Yes, indeed, last year's home gardener is nominated as the man most likely to re-seed in 1957!

And then there's the fellow who came in and asked if we had anything for gray hair? "Nothing but the greatest respect" replied our druggist.

I see where Lloyd's of London will insure an actor's beard against ruin by "fire, theft, hail or tornado." But nothing was said about mice or moths.

Next time you need an item or two or three from our store, why don't you stop in 'round about lunchtime? We serve a delicious and complete luncheonette and a big menu variety, and each item a treat. Remember you can pay your light bills at Peterson's . . .

Legion Continues National Emphasis On 'Back to God'

Plans for continuance of the "Back to God" movement of the American Legion and Auxiliary have been completed at a national conference of state chieftains at the American Legion's national headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., announced Mrs. Jean Simmonetti, chieftain of the Passage-Gayde Unit of the Auxiliary.
 The American Legion, pledged to service "for God and country," has continually emphasized the spiritual foundations of freedom. It believes that a spiritual awakening of the people of the United States is needed in order to preserve this freedom. To this end, the American Legion has launched a nation-wide effort to bring all Americans closer to the Creator who has so bountifully blessed this country. Three things are urged:
 1. Regular Church or Synagogue attendance.
 2. Daily family prayer and Scripture reading.
 3. Religious education of children.
 Mrs. Simmonetti asserts that a much greater church attendance is proof of great spiritual growth in the United States.
 "A nation that walks with God need fear no man."

Rev. Davies Elected to Michigan Diocese Council

The Reverend David T. Davies, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, was elected to the executive council of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan at the 12th convention of the group held last week.
 Three laymen and three clergymen were elected to serve on this important body for three years. A total of nine laymen, nine clergymen and the bishops and treasurer of the diocese serve on the body and it is their responsibility to administer the financial affairs of the diocese between meetings of the convention.
 Reverend Davies has been in the diocese for 28 years and has served two previous terms on the council as well as on other important committees of the diocese.
 Also taking place at the convention was the approval of an amendment to the constitution making it possible for women to be elected by parishes and missions as lay delegates to the diocesan convention. A report was read telling that 13 new missions had been organized in the diocese last year and that four parishes were received into union with the diocese.
 A budget of $461,819 was adopted of which $366,659 was de-

BOOK REVIEW

KEEPING UP WITH THE TIMES

By R. Roy Pursell

"INSIDE THE STATE DEPARTMENT"

Now I would like to call your attention to a book which has just appeared about the American State Department—which is really responsible for these giveaway programs. It is written by Mr. Bryton Barron, who has spent twenty-five years in the Department as chief of those bureaus devoted to research and publications. He resigned last year because he could no longer stand by silently while the Department went on doctoring the infamous Yalta papers. The title of his book is INSIDE THE STATE DEPARTMENT. The principal thesis of this book is that the State Department is today—under President Eisenhower and Mr. Dulles—not essentially different from the State Department of Roosevelt, Truman and Acheson. It is run under Eisenhower and Dulles by practically the same men who ran it under Acheson, Marshall and Hull. The Republican platform of nineteen fifty-two contained this pledge: "We shall eliminate from the State Department and every federal office all . . . who share responsibility for the needless perils in which we find ourselves." Then it said further: "We shall sever from the public payrolls the hordes of loafers, incompetents and unnecessary employees who clutter the administration of our foreign affairs." Well, says Mr. Barron, the hordes are still there. This Department goes on making agreements binding the United States to actions all over the world. The State Department was a pretty big affair in nineteen twenty-nine. Today it is fifteen times bigger with twenty-nine thousand employees. Thirteen thousand of these birds are roosting all over the world. This Department is so big, says Mr. Barron, that no President, no Secretary of State, no congressional committee can possibly keep track of what is going on there. Now I commend this book to any American citizen interested in knowing what is going on in the dark and shadowy places of big government—INSIDE THE STATE DEPARTMENT by Bryton Barron.

Carried unanimously.

'Handicapped' Class Moves To New School

Handicapped children classes were switched from the Spring Street Baptist church to the new James Gallimore school Monday.

Earl Gibson, principal of the Gallimore school, took charge of the group at the same time, replacing Starkweather school Principal Miss Mildred Field, who has supervised the classes since their organization in June 1956 at Plymouth summer school sessions.

According to Miss Field, the children have been doing academic and handicraft work. Academic work consists of reading and arithmetic problems to a second grade level while handicraft consists of weaving, woodwork and sewing. Classes are held between 8:30 and 2:45 daily.

Classes for these children began when parents who had been taking their children to Detroit to attend classes for the handicapped there, petitioned the school to establish local summer sessions.

Classes were begun with some apprehension by school officials, Miss Field recalled, because of age differences among class members. But so far the program "has proven quite successful."

There are presently two girls and 11 boys between the ages of 6 and 17 attending classes. This is the first school experience for three of the group.

Miss Field recalled one six year old girl who could barely speak when starting the classes but who can now "communicate very well."

"Through these classes children have learned to stick to a job and to use tools such as hammers and saws. Perhaps most important of all they have learned how to get along with others," said Miss Field.

Mrs. Frank Pierce of 14286 Northville road, who has five years experience working on an individual basis with handicapped cases, took charge of classes during January, replacing Mrs. Thomas McLean, now residing in Owosso.

"Parental cooperation has been very high since we began these classes," Miss Field continued. "Most of the parents of the handicapped children take an active part and attend regular monthly meetings to discuss progress made in the classes."

MRS. JACK THORPE dishes out some marshmallow fudge cookies which she has just finished making. Her recipe makes three dozen cookies, with no baking required.

Fudge Cookies
Can Be Made Without Baking

A favorite substitute for candy in Mrs. Jack Thorpe's household are her marshmallow fudge cookies. Mrs. Thorpe has had the recipe for only about a year but said that it immediately became an established family favorite. Here's how to make these cookies:

2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cocoa
1 cup milk
20 marshmallows
3 1/2 cups crushed graham crackers
6 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla

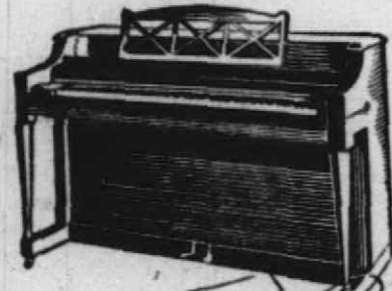

Boil the sugar, milk, and cocoa to the soft ball stage. Add butter, vanilla, and marshmallows, and beat the mixture until the butter and marshmallows are melted. Add the graham crackers, and nuts, if desired. Drop by spoonfuls on wax paper.

The recipe yields about three dozen cookies.

75th Year of Cherry Hill
Methodist Church Observed

A special service and potluck dinner took place last Sunday morning at Cherry Hill Methodist church as the congregation celebrated the 75th anniversary of its present church building.

Located on a ridge in Cherry Hill village, the original church was built in 1836 from $600 raised by the congregation. Crandell Church, named after the first Sunday School class teacher, was of frame construction, much the same design as the present church. Several steps led to a tiny porch by the front door. The interior of this first church consisted of a platform at one end with a pulpit and an organ on it. Pews were rude wooden benches with the owners names on them. The men sat on the North side; the women on the South. A wood stove heated the room.

Other activities of neighborhood interest took place in the church besides services and regular daily school sessions. Lectures, singing school, and writing school were also organized and sponsored by the church.

According to Madelyn C. Bastian, 1254 Sweet Road, Ypsilanti, Cherry Hill has been a circuit church from its beginning.

On February 9, 1882, the Cherry Hill M. E. Church was dedicated by means of $2,500 raised among the congregation. About the same time a new organ was purchased by the Epworth League and brought to the church.

In Rev. Zoller's pastorate, a church house was added to the original church building. This was a community as well as a church project. The addition consisted of a kitchen and a dining room in the basement with a large hall above. Since then a well has been dug, electric pump installed, new gas ranges purchased, and cupboards and counters built. The church held its 50th anniversary on February 7, 1932 when 200 people were served at a dinner which followed an anniversary service.

The advent of World War II, and the building of the Willow Run Bomber Plant, brought an influx of newcomers to the community. As a result, Sunday School attendance soared and to meet the constantly increasing demand a large sum of money was borrowed and used to build an addition to the north end of the church house. Improvements also included two lavatories and two oil furnaces.

Shortly before this addition the church was bequeathed $600 by Mrs. Christine Gill Gaplin Young, who had played the organ in the first church.

It was decided to use this money as the foundation of a organ fund. In the spring of 1955, the organ was dedicated in honor and in memory of the members of the church and the community.

Rev. George Nevin holds the record for length of pastorate with 20 years of service to the Cherry Hill Church.

In this modern age of jet travel, automobiles, supermarkets, wide spread education, and a network of highways across the nation the Cherry Hill Methodist Church carries on in the tradition inherited from their ancestors.

Allen PTA to Meet,
Nominate Officers

The Allen Parent-Teachers Association will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 26, when the nominating committee, consisting of Mrs. Marburger, Mrs. Holmes, and Mr. Baskings, will present their slate of prospective officers for the next year.

The date of the annual carnival has been set for May 18, and some organizational work will be done for it at the meeting.

The Girl Scouts will provide baby-sitting services at the school during the meeting for those parents with young children.

Upstairs — Downstairs ALL AROUND THE HOME

Food Sense — Not Nonsense

Snacks — Part of the Act

This country is becoming a four-and-five-meal nation, if the rapid trend toward snacks is an indication. From the coffee break through to the bedtime lunch, fractional meals are added to the sometimes, not-so-square three meals a day.

If you have adopted the American Plan and want your snack to be a real treat, see that it adds its share of proteins, vitamins, and minerals toward your daily needs — just as do your breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Snacks may play tricks and appear as an unwelcome bulge at the waistline, if you fail to count the calories as part of your total food intake.

These fourth and fifth meals of the day are almost a necessity for youngsters, if they are to have enough energy and nutrients for growth and development. Studies conducted by a midwest college showed that from 13 to 17 percent of calories consumed by children each day is in the form of snacks. The snack is a delightful way, too, for grown-ups to bridge the gap between one meal and the next.

To select your snack, take a cue from the seven basic food groups which include milk, meat or eggs, fruits or vegetables, enriched bread or cereals. When you combine several of these foods in a favorite sandwich, you benefit from the share of nutrients that each food contributes.

Since snacks are part of the American scene, see that they play their roles in good form. If you have been skiing or swimming, your snack might consist of a sandwich made with enriched bread and a beverage. Now if your activities have been limited to a cozy seat in front of TV, you had better cut your order to toast sticks and a glass of fruit juice.

Better Eating

BY JEAN ALLEN

CHICKEN CHATTER

Meatier, more tender and more flavorful, the "broiler-fryer" is satisfying the year-round demand for young chicken.

Short and Plump

When you buy, be sure the chicken is short and plump. The breast should be rounded and all bones well covered with flesh. The fat should be well distributed over the entire body.

The skin and flesh should be firm but soft and elastic to the touch. The skin should be clean, well plucked and free from tears, bruises and red spots.

If the flesh is bruised, the flavor, appearance and keeping quality of the poultry will be impaired.

Light or Heavy

The "broiler-fryer," varying from one and one-fourth to four pounds ready-to-cook weight, may be broiled, fried, roasted or barbecued. Light or heavy, it lends itself to a great variety of cooking methods.

Broiled Chicken

Select two young chickens weighing one to one and one-half pounds each. Have chickens split down the back and allow half a chicken for each person.

Place chickens skin side down on broiler rack. Set regulator to broil and place broiler pan about four inches from heat source.

Brush chickens well with melted butter or margarine or fat at beginning and two to three times throughout broiling period. Sprinkle with salt and white pepper.

Broil forty to forty-five minutes (according to weight) turning every ten to fifteen minutes. If necessary, overlap pieces to prevent overbroiling. Serve with pan drippings or gravy.

Yield: Four servings.

Remember, chicken adds up to good nutrition as well as good eating because it contains high quality protein, minerals and vitamins.

Mechanics of Dryers Explained

Automatic dryers are a boon to laundry chores, but they aren't human. They need some help from the homemaker who really knows the fundamentals of good laundering.

How does the dryer work? The air-type dryer dries clothes by pulling air from the room. It heats the air by electricity or gas. A fan blows or draws the heated air over and through the clothes as they are tumbled about in a revolving drum.

The moisture-filled air from the clothes is forced through a lint trap and then out of the dryer. The moist air goes either into the room or out-of-doors through a vent.

A vent is usually best, the specialists tell, but if you vent, be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions. You should be sure the vent pipe is of limited length, has a limited number of elbows and that it is directed away from prevailing winds.

Some dryers—the vapor-type dryers—use a continuous water spray to condense steam and flush lint away. This system needs cold water connections and a drain. To do the most efficient job, vapor-type dryer requires a water pressure of at least 15 pounds. The specialists suggest that if your vapor-type dryer is connected to a softened cold water system, you will have less corrosion problems. To run a vapor-type dryer requires about one-half gallon of cold water per minute.

The moisture-filled air from the clothes is forced through a lint trap and then out of the dryer. The moist air goes either into the room or out-of-doors through a vent.

A vent is usually best, the specialists tell, but if you vent, be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions. You should be sure the vent pipe is of limited length, has a limited number of elbows and that it is directed away from prevailing winds.

Some dryers—the vapor-type dryers—use a continuous water spray to condense steam and flush lint away. This system

Pineapple Can Add Flavorful Touch to Meals

Fresh ripe pineapple makes a flavorful perk-up dish for the late winter months, adding a tropical touch to your meals.

One method of determining if a pineapple is ripe is to thump the fruit. A dull solid sound indicates well ripened, sound juicy fruit. Another method which is sometimes inaccurate is to pull a leaf from the crown—if it pulls easily, the fruit is supposed to be ripe.

To ripen a pineapple, keep it at room temperature. It may also be stored several days in the refrigerator without changing the degree of ripeness.

Try it served in frozen chunks from your refrigerator for a frosty treat. Or cut the pineapple in half lengthwise, remove the fruit and core, then cut it in long fingers and replace in the halfshell. An extra flavorful touch can be added by rolling the pineapple in fresh grated coconut before serving.

For fresh pineapple juice, cut the fruit in eight or more pieces and squeeze through one thickness of sugar sack or muslin, chill, and serve. Yield is 2½ to 3½ cups.

A crown of pineapple tidbits atop a cheese cake gives it a gourmet's flavor. Here's a home-made version of the old-fashioned cheese custard type of cake with a generous amount of sour cream combined with the cream cheese.

Pineapple Crown Cheese Cake
1½ cups fine graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
2 eight ounce packages of cream cheese
1 cup sugar
3 eggs

1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pint commercial sour cream chilled pineapple tidbits red currant jelly

Grease a nine-inch spring form and sprinkle sides with two tablespoons of crumbs. Mix the remaining crumbs with butter and sugar. Pack firmly into bottom of spring form. Soften cream cheese to room temperature, then beat till fluffy. Gradually beat in sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat after each. Fold in vanilla and sour cream (room temperature). Pour over crumbs in form. Bake in moderately hot oven (375° F.) for 30 minutes. Turn off heat and leave cake in oven to cool for an hour. At serving time, top with a crown of drained pineapple tidbits and dots of currant jelly.

To make fresh pineapple sherbet, soak one teaspoon of gelatin in cold water. Add 1½ cups water to one cup pineapple juice and two cups sugar. Bring to a boil and dissolve the gelatin in it.

Add one cup grated pineapple, juice of one lemon, and beaten white of one egg, then freeze in refrigerator or freezer.

Another variation of this versatile fruit is the pineapple pickle. You make them by cutting the pineapple into small pieces. Add three parts of brown sugar to one part of vinegar and a small handful of cloves. Boil the sugar, vinegar, and cloves for 20 minutes, then add the pineapple and continue boiling until the fruit is transparent. Seal in jars while still hot.

The best way to launder acetate fabrics is to wash in warm water for a short time and avoid wringing. Because it is sensitive to heat.

An Excellent Staff

A funeral service is, when you stop to think about it, a complex thing. It would be almost impossible for any one person to take care of all details—which is the very reason why we have an excellent staff, all of whom have proved their usefulness to hundreds of families we have served.

Serving As We Would Wish to be Served

Old-Fashioned 'Taters' Gain New Look, Cost So Little

"Please pass the potatoes" is probably one of the most common table-quotes in the world. In fact, general interest in the old-fashioned "spud" has brought about some rather significant developments in the marketing and use of potatoes since World War II.

For instance, the trend to one-stop food marketing and self-service food markets has accelerated the trend toward packaging potatoes in consumer units of 5, 10, and 15 pounds.

Because of this growing cooperation with consumer demand, and the harvest of the largest crop of top quality Michigan Potatoes in history, more clean, smooth potatoes are being sold for as little as two cents a pound for the 50 pound unit, up to five cents a pound for the ten pound unit.

With almost 20 million women working full time outside the home, it appears that the American homemaker will demand more and more processed potato products such as chips, frozen french-fried, patties, and potato granules (instant mashed potatoes) during the next five years.

The pre-peeled potato service rendered to restaurants, hotels, hospitals, and other public institutions has also expanded rapidly during the past few years. With the trend in the demand for more services of this type, it is reasonable to expect that this service will increase considerably in the near future.

The growth in the interest of "Mr. Murphy" and the exceptionally outstanding quality of Michigan potatoes this year makes it easy to imagine the tremendous quantities that may be consumed in the next year.

A New Way—An Old Favorite
Cut peeled potatoes in halves lengthwise and trim to stand evenly. Make a one inch cavity in the center of each and fill with one teaspoon of butter. Sprinkle with salt, pepper, and paprika. Place in a baking dish with an inch of water. Bake at 450° F. for 30 minutes or until tender.

Elegant Scalloped Potatoes

To speed up cooking time, slice the potatoes thin, use a shallow pan rather than a deep casserole, and cover them with a hot sauce before putting in the oven.

Popular Hardwood Plywood Needs Good Job of Finishing

The steady upsurge in recent years in the use of hardwood plywood by home craftsmen for wall paneling, built-ins and furniture projects, has fastened attention on the all-important stage of finishing the material.

The purpose of the finish is to protect the plywood and to enhance the beauty of the natural hardwood figure pattern. Thus, the finish must be done well. To help out, the Hardwood Plywood Institute has developed a simplified finishing procedure for home craftsmen.

There are three major steps—sanding, sealing the wood pores, and applying the surface finish. Hardwood plywood is factory-sanded, so only a light sanding to remove finger marks and surface dirt is necessary. Use 6/0 or 7/0 paper, always sanding with the grain. Sand lightly between each application and make certain that the plywood is free from wood dust.

To prevent excessive absorption and unequal penetration of finishing materials, it is advisable to seal both sides (if possible) and all edges of the hardwood plywood. Use a thin coat of sealer, reduced one half. A mixture of one part white shellac and two parts shellac solvent is also commonly used. When the sealer is dry, fill any nail holes in the paneling with wood dough or putty tinted to match the wood. A paste filler will serve the purpose of a sealer in "open pore" hardwood species such as ash, elm, oak, mahogany and walnut. Brush the filler on liberally, and when it becomes dull, wipe it off with a piece of burlap, first across, then with the grain. Your surface finish may be one or more coats of varnish, lacquer or wax. Varnish provides a long-wearing surface. It is available in dull, semi-gloss or satin and high-gloss finishes. Lacquers give a tough, hard surface in a flat, semi-gloss or gloss finish. For large areas, spraying is best, but must be handled with care because lacquers are flammable and dry rapidly.

A pleasing sheen can be obtained by waxing, when a thin, inexpensive surface is desired. The advantage of applying the wax over a sealed surface is that the wax can then be removed later on if a varnish or lacquer finish is desired.

For a natural finish, use clear varnish, lacquer or wax. Apply several coats of whichever one you choose, following manufacturer's instructions. If you want to introduce a new color tone or accentuate the figure pattern, you can fit a stain or toner into your finishing schedule. Each surface finish—varnish, lacquer or wax—requires a different kind of stain or toner. Consult your dealer and follow instructions carefully.

A good tip is to carry out the entire finishing schedule in sequence on a scrap piece of the hardwood plywood so that you will know the results and can alter the schedule, if you so desire.

High-Styled, Spacious House

Maximum, living space, unusual comfort, and features usually found only in expensive homes, distinguish this 4-bedroom, popular-price, split-level house. An inviting 1 1/2-story entrance foyer leads into the large, richly wood-paneled living-dining area which has windows on three sides and a gracious fireplace. In the efficient, 13'6" x 13' kitchen, accessible to both foyer and dining room, provision has been made for a breakfast nook by the big picture window overlooking the rear garden. For privacy the 4 bedrooms and 2 baths are grouped in a second wing, up half a flight of stairs from the foyer, off an open-traffic balcony-hall. Here the extra features include a huge walk-in master bedroom closet, hall storage closet, large split bath with built-in mirrored vanity making it double as a powder room, and spacious closets in each room placed to help cut off noises. House includes 1742 sq. ft. exclusive of 2-car garage and a large, sunny recreation room (not shown on plan) only six steps down from the foyer. Playroom has glass door and windows opening onto a large ground level terrace and the rear garden. Like the living-dining area, it has luxuriously paneled walls of Georgia-Pacific's Savannah Oak. This house, named "Elegance," was designed by Herman H. York, nationally known architect, Jamaica, N. Y.

Paper Needed for Sound House

The most important material in building a home is paper. The three chief paper items are the (1) agreement (between owner and contractor), (2) the general conditions (list of duties of contractor and obligations of owner and statement of relations between contractor and architect if one is involved) and (3) plans and specifications (drawings and descriptions of material and quality and description of work to be done and trades employed.)

'White Pocket' Lumber Contains Harmless Fungus

Perhaps you've often seen "white pocket" lumber but never knew it had a name of its own. White pocket—or white speck, as it is sometimes called—is a natural characteristic in lumber. It is usually in Douglas fir lumber where small white specks are found in and around the pocket-marks.

These white pockets are relatively harmless fungus known as Fomes pini.

Millions of trees which contain Fomes pini are growing in the Douglas fir forests of the Pacific northwest. In many of the old-growth trees this fungus has reached the stage where white pocket will be a pronounced feature of the lumber produced from them. In other younger trees the fungus has barely begun to grow, and its full development may not take place for a hundred years to come.

Fomes pini usually enters trees through an injury, such as might be caused by the tearing off of a limb in a storm. The fungus can begin to grow only in living trees, and can continue to grow only so long as the tree is alive. White pocket has never been known to grow or spread in lumber.

"Fomes pini causing white pocket does not continue to grow after the tree is cut and converted into lumber."

Education is an expensive process, but in the end, it costs less than ignorance.

After all, it is possible to get an education without playing football.

Buy When Young For Retirement

Mortgage experts all say the best time to buy a house for retirement years is when you're young.

Unless a couple can expect definite, planned income for their life after age 65, they probably will find it difficult to borrow money to buy or build a home at that time. Purchase of the home in the couple's thirties or, at the latest, the forties when earning power is highest, is recommended.

Obviously, this long-time home should include only lasting materials and be so planned that it will serve a growing family now, as well as the needs of oldsters when they eventually are alone.

One factor to consider is the avoidance of plans which divide space into many small rooms. Designs are best which incorporate double-purpose rooms that always will be useful.

Out of regard for the physical requirements of older persons, there should be at least a powder room on the first floor of the home that ultimately will be a retirement residence.

Big Liner Gets New Color
The huge hull of the 36,000-ton NIEUN AMSTERDAM, flagship of the Holland-America Line, has been painted a new color—dove-gray. Ninety tons of the new paint were required, according to a company spokesman, to cover the ship's former coat of black.

More New Books Added to Library

Every week between 16 and 20 new books can be found on display in the high school library. The library has secured books that are of interest to both boys and girls, and also books for educational purposes.

One of the books that would be especially interesting to boys is "Bamboo Pilot," written by Philip Harkins. This is the story of young men who have gone to camp, learned to fly, and how they have acquired lasting friendship with fellow members.

A story that would be of particular interest to adventuresome girls would be "Mystery Walks the Campus" written by Annette Turgren. It is a story of a young college girl who lets a faded photograph and a blue parakeet challenge her to solve their secrets.

To boys and girls interested in far away places there is a book called "Nector Is a Sieve," that give one an interesting look at life in India.

These books are only a few examples of the many new and interesting books to be found in the high school library.

B-G-R Makes Two Appointments

Norman Gardner

The appointment of Norman Gardner, 1456 Woodland Drive, Ann Arbor, to the position of purchasing agent of the Barnes Gibson Raymond Division of the Associated Spring Corporation was announced recently by Charles J. Stofko, general manager.

At the same time Stofko also announced the promotion of Julian Arden, 11740 Alois, Livonia, to accountant for the B-G-R Cook Plant in Ann Arbor. The appointment comes after 29 years of service with the firm.

Gardner has been associated with the B-G-R organization since 1923 and has worked in many phases of the manufacturing and office departments since then. In 1954 he was appointed accountant of the Ann Arbor Cook Plant. Arden has worked in several manufacturing departments and in 1946 was promoted to credit manager.

Washington Reporting

BY MARTHA GRIFFITHS (U. S. Congresswoman)

The House of Representatives convened January 3 to begin the 85th Congress. The average lawmaker in the 85th Congress will be 53.8 years old—over a year older than the average Member of the 84th Congress. Attorneys again predominate in the 85th Congress, accounting for more than one-half of the membership. And nearly one-third of the Members have backgrounds in business or banking.

As in the 84th Congress, I shall continue to serve on the Banking and Currency Committee and the Government Operations Committee. My bill H. R. 2149 - to reorganize the civil defense functions of the Federal Government is a direct result of extensive hearings held by the Government Operations Committee last year, and I should like to follow this measure through. At the present time, H. Res. 85 - a bill to establish a subcommittee of the Banking and Currency Committee to investigate the monetary system is pending before the House Rules Committee, and I hope to be able to serve on this special committee as such an investigation is sorely needed at this time.

Following are some of the bills I have introduced before the house to date:

- H. R. 176 - to require humane methods in the slaughtering of livestock and poultry.
- H. R. 664 - to establish a food stamp plan, to the distribution of surplus foods to the needy.
- H. Res. 31 - to provide for the televising of Congress and its committees.
- H. R. 2149 - to reorganize the civil defense functions of the Federal Government and create a Federal Department of Civil Defense.
- H. R. 3383 - to create a Department of Urban Affairs.
- H. R. 3384 - to establish the Federal Agency for the Handicapped.

The House Committee on Veterans' Affairs has recently put out a pamphlet giving a "Synopsis of Benefits Available to Veterans and Their Dependents". A limited number of these have been made available to me and I will be glad to send one to any veteran in my district as long as the supply lasts. If you would like one, please call or write my Detroit office: BRoadway 39151 - 16849 Grand River, Detroit 27.

PERSONAL NOTES and Comment. . . Again this year radio stations WWJ in Detroit and WKMH in Dearborn are making available to me free public service time to bring to you "News from Washington". I will have a 15 minute show the fourth Monday of every month over WWJ at 9:45 in the evening, and a 5 minute show every Sunday night at 7:25 over WKMH beginning February 7th. Recent visitors to Washington have been Hicks G. Griffiths, Governor Williams, Virginia Allan, R. H. Rhodes, George A. Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Wyzan and Nick Tesauro.

JAMES N. McNALLY, 56, former Wayne County prosecutor, is one of the candidates in the coming election for Circuit Judge on the non-partisan ticket. McNally was county prosecutor in 1947 and 1948. He was justice of the peace in Grosse Pointe for 15 years and is a practicing attorney. He ran for judge in an election four years ago and missed office by 1,500 votes. He is the father of six children.

Greetings Sent From Girl Scouts To Boy Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Plymouth wished "Happy Birthday" to the Boy Scouts of Plymouth on their 47th birthday which was celebrated on February 8 during Boy Scout Week (February 6-12). February 22 will mark the 100th anniversary of the birthday of Sir Robert Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement in England, and a little later, the Girl Guide movement. As Baden-Powell was working to bring scouting to girls in England, Juliette Low was organizing Girl Scout troops in the United States. Mrs. Low learned about scouting in England.

After several meetings with Baden-Powell, she determined to establish a Scout organization for girls in the United States. And that is how the Girl Scouts came into being. "And so we very warmly and enthusiastically say, Happy Birthday to all the Boy Scouts in Plymouth from all the Girl Scouts."

Ahem!

"Are the children all in?" asked the father as he sat down to breakfast the morning after New Year's Eve.

"How can they help but be, dancing until daylight?" said mother.

Senator Potter reports

... the latest news from Washington
of special interest to Michigan ...

"Here you are son," the man smiled as he tossed a nickel on the stand and picked up his daily paper.

"Sorry, mister," the boy replied, "it's seven cents."

The man's smile faded. And with good reason, for the cost of newspapers everywhere is rising. It is happening in the big cities and spreading to the smaller communities. And as this occurs, it raises a very important question: Are you, the newspaper reader, trapped in the meshes of a cartel?

Is the small business man who must advertise to live—is the newspaper publisher himself—trapped in the same web? The price of newsprint, which represents one-fourth to one-third of the cost of publishing a paper, has skyrocketed in the past few decades. Now comes a new increase of $4 per ton, bringing newsprint costs to an all-time peak.

Advertisers once paid nominal rates for advertising. But now, rates have climbed steadily to a point where small business men find it difficult to advertise at all.

The publisher suffers, too. Back in 1946, newsprint cost $67 per ton. Last year, it was $130 per ton. Such increases are forcing many newspapers out of business, causing some advertisers to stop advertising, and making John Q. Citizen pay more for his daily paper.

Naturally, the cost of manufacturing those bulky rolls of paper has gone up during the passing years. But production costs are way out of line compared to selling prices.

For example, in 1946, it cost the mill $44 to produce one ton of newsprint. Now, it costs $76. Freight charges have risen only $9 per ton in the last ten years. In other words, manufacturing costs rose $41 per ton. But the selling price rose $63 per ton. All told, since 1933, the price of newsprint has zoomed by 325 per cent.

That brings up the subject of profits. The St. Lawrence Corporation showed a 58.7 per cent increase in profits for 1955 over 1954. Other companies had profits ranging from 20 per cent to 45 per cent for 1955 over 1954.

When the new $4-per-ton increase becomes effective March 1, chances are that profits will soar again. American publishers will be paying $23 million more than they did last year for the very same product. And in the end, the individual newspaper reader picks up the tab.

Incidentally, these price boosts always follow the same pattern. One newspaper manufacturer announces an increase and immediately the other producers follow suit with an identical price hike.

Is this a cartel fixing prices and restricting trade? If certainly looks that way and I've called for a Senate investigation.

Probes of this kind have occurred before in the newsprint industry in 1917, 1927, 1939, 1947 and 1951. It may take international cooperation to get to the bottom of this-for 75 to 80% of our newsprint comes from Canada-but we intend to see that the offenders are identified and prosecuted.

Grange Cleanings

There was a very gratifying attendance at the Grange meeting last Thursday night. It was a threatening-looking evening, and the streets were sloppy but a fine crowd turned out to enjoy the supper and fellowship.

More of our members left for Florida. Mrs. Anna Chappel and Mrs. Isabelle Taylor were the latest. They left last Wednesday for a few weeks holiday.

The Rummage Sale last Saturday was very well patronized, even though the weather was unpleasant.

Now comes the important event. "Open House" Saturday night Feb. 16, with supper, cards, and dancing. Be sure to get your tickets before next Friday if possible. If unable to get them in person before that time, call either Mrs. Claude Eckles or Mrs. Mary Fillmore so they will know how many to prepare for. The State Grange Master has promised to be with us, so be sure to come.

March 7 the degree team from Tecumseh will be with us to put on the degree work for all those new members who have come into the Grange during the past few months. Those members are especially urged to be on hand, for the work is very lovely and you will enjoy it. There will not be any potluck supper that night but refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Remember-March 7 at 7:30 p.m. instead of our usual early 6:30 p.m.

When a Town Is By-Passed

WHAT HAPPENS TO A TOWN when a major highway is routed around its limits instead of running "down the main street?" This question will be raised with increasing frequency during the next three years when some 800 miles of new multiple-lane, divided highways are constructed across Michigan.

"Limited access" highways will form a large part of this construction program outlined last week by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. These roads offer unequalled safety with divided multiple lanes, a controlled number of entrances, and by-passes around many towns and cities.

But merchants and villages depending on transients for much of their business are already beginning to voice fears that a by-pass would endanger their economic structure.

Fears may be unfounded. While Michigan's limited access highway program is still in its infancy, (there are 189 miles of fully limited or controlled highways in the state,) other areas have made exhaustive studies on towns bypassed by major routes. A survey made by the United States Chamber of Commerce suggests a town is improved in every way by having a highway routed around it rather than down the main street. Reports from California and Texas confirm the results.

Highway Department experts point out that no new businesses can be built along roads having limited access. Motorists must turn off at some point to eat, find lodging and purchase gasoline.

An example of the added boom to business recently occurred in Sturgis when the Indiana Turnpike opened just south of the Michigan state line. According to officials, even though Sturgis was four miles away from the turnpike, motel and hotel business increased 25% from persons who had to drive off the main highway to find lodging for the night.

Other advantages accrue to the bypassed town. The reduction of motorists and truckers who are just "driving through" should eliminate many accidents. The "home town" folks find they can once again go shopping without facing congested traffic and the long hunt for a parking place.

The picture isn't completely glowing. Several towns in Michigan are now by-passed and report different experiences. On the one hand Parma lost 25% of its business when a highway bypassed it two years ago. On the other, Chelsea, bypassed some nine years ago, grew beyond the most optimistic hopes. The biggest factor seems to be adjusting to the new situation. Planning ahead can ease the "shock" that accompanies any sudden change.

For example, in Chelsea merchants worked as a group. "We decided we had to become as efficient as the new highway," says Chelsea president Anton Neilson. "Everybody decorated their restaurants and stores. Then when we were looking our best, we spent $1,600 a piece for two big signs out on the highway. We told people how to find us and what they would find."

Learning through experience the residents of Parma now have a Community Improvement Group. To back up their plans, they have the friendly advice of the Consumers Power Community Development Department, headed by James Coates.

The highway of the future will probably by-pass many towns. Experts advise: if it's your town, the time to start planning is now. MICHIGAN'S ONE-MAN GRAND JURY may come in for some close scrutiny from the present state Legislature. Latest to urge repeal of the controversial statute vesting grand jury power in one man is Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh.

"The system itself is contrary to the original principles of justice in this country," Kavanagh recently told the state Legislature. "It concentrates in a single judge more power than was intended when we turned to English common law and the Bill of Rights as a foundation for our system."

Primary purpose of any grand jury is to obtain evidence and testimony that cannot be compiled under normal courtroom procedures.

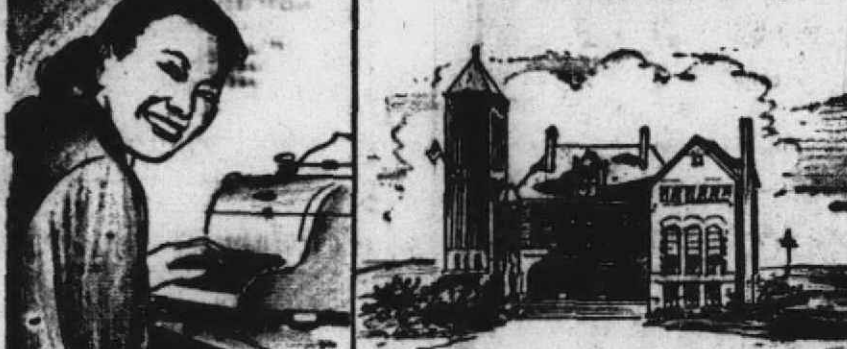

The key to success lies in the power to grant immunity against prosecution to persons who testify. In many instances when it is hard to obtain evidence, a grand jury is the only means of reaching the "top men." Persons criminally involved only in a minor way can be granted immunity or "traded off" so that a strong case can be built against major offenders.

Michigan law provides for both the one-man grand jury and also a panel of 23 citizens to sit as a grand jury. However, only the former is given the power to grant immunity.

When You Retire

BY ROBERT PETERSON

She Wrote to Celebrities

FOLKS interested in unusual retirement careers should meet Mrs. Ethel Marcoux, 71, of Somerville, Mass. When this lively great-grandmother retired, two years ago from her job as cafeteria manager in a local high school, the thought of becoming a public speaker was farthest from her mind. But the world is full of surprises and today she's a popular lecturer on the subject, "My Adventures in Auto-graph Hunting."

Shortly after retiring she casually mentioned to a friend that she had just received a nice note from Mamie Eisenhower. The note had come in response to a letter she had sent expressing her admiration for the First Lady. Her friend was considerably impressed and she persuaded Mrs. Marcoux to prepare a talk on her hobby for presentation before a local club.

Mrs. Marcoux knew nothing about public speaking, but she buckled down gamely to the task of preparing a talk. She obtained factual information on the lives of several of the colorful subjects in her autograph collection, and she pieced her material together into an informative and entertaining talk. She went to her first speaking engagement with considerable trepidation, but she was well-prepared and her talk proved a huge success. Her phone was soon ringing with requests for her services.

"I have more requests to speak than I can fill," says Mrs. Marcoux happily. "Audiences seem to love my talks, because I talk about some of the most famous people of our time and of my personal experiences in contacting them." She has been pleased and surprised at the response which these celebrated persons have made to her letters. "I don't feel it's right," says she firmly, "to bother well-known people by just writing them for no particular reason. But if your purpose in writing is to express your sincere admiration and interest in them, I think they are genuinely gratified to hear from you."

Her collection includes letters and autographs from a startling array of colorful personalities, ranging from Presidents of the United States down to Chief Crazy Bull—the grand nephew of the famed Sioux Indian chief Sitting Bull. As her collection includes personalities from the world of sports, music, television, stage, movies, politics, religion, and art she is in the unique position of having subject material that can meet the specific interests of almost any group.

What's Your Question on World Affairs?

By Edgar Ansel Mowrer
"Why is the United States, from the President down, rolling out the red carpet for King Saud, the unworthy head of a people which buys and sells human beings in the public market? Have we no sense of shame?" (O.M., New York)

In times of crisis like these, Governments cannot afford to be choosy about the people on their side and constantly seek to make friends regardless of domestic practices. In the present case, the visiting Arab is king of a country that:

- a) provides a lot of oil and big dividends to an American oil company;
- b) has been using the royalties from his American-exploited oil to get the British kicked out of Jordan;
- c) allows the U.S. Air Force to maintain a big bomber base on its soil;
- d) is suffering severely in its pocketbook from Egypt's illegal blockage of the Suez Canal;
- e) is resentful of Egypt's claim to lead the Arab world;
- f) is conscious of the Soviet danger.

The U.S. Administration would like to see Egypt cut down to size and Nasser expelled, without any use of political pressure. Therefore it is—in my judgment—trying by a show of extreme friendship first to bring King Saud wholly to our side, and second to build him up, along with King Faisal II of Iraq, as Arab leaders who will concentrate on keeping Soviet influence out of the oil-rich Middle East. Whether the King will listen to any argument save that of preponderant power is a matter of dispute. But President Eisenhower is trying the way of friendship rather than that of political pressure. If it works, it will have been more than worthwhile. If it fails, then Eisenhower and Dulles will undoubtedly be blamed for losing the Middle East.

"Where is the Near East?" (Bert R. Elliott, Medford, Ore.)

That is a good question. When I went to school the Near East was the region around the East end of the Mediterranean, and India and adjacent countries as far as Burma were called the Middle East. Current usage seems to extend the use of Middle East to both areas and to have dropped the Near East altogether.

"Don't you think that the Israel soldiers who murdered the 40 Arab farmers coming home from their fields should be given a medal for courage in action? Did Hitler ever do anything more cowardly?" (Herman Stein, Newark, N.J.)

The murder of those farmers was a ghastly mistake which has been disowned by the Israeli Government and its perpetrators are in the process of being punished. As you know, they enforced a military curfew which the poor Arabs had never heard of. Moreover, enraged by continual Arab murders within Israel, these soldiers unquestionably took an inexcusable vengeance on innocent people. But it was not cowardly. Neither Hitler nor Himmler—I knew both personally—were cowards.

"In relation to your figures on the amount of money the U.S. has loaned Britain since World War I, how about the amount of interest on over nine billion that Hoover wiped off the books?" (D. R. Douglas, Dover, New Jersey)

When the president of the United States acts legally in cancelling a debt, for me that wipes the debt out.

The Case Against COMPULSORY AUTO INSURANCE

Question: If you have an accident with an uninsured motorist and it is his fault, do you get stuck for all the expenses?

Answer: You could, but you don't have to. If it's protection against an uninsured motorist you want, this can be accomplished in several ways.

(1) The Medical Payments endorsement of your own auto insurance policy applies to bodily injury expenses of you, your family and your guests. This coverage applies without regard to negligence or insurability of the other party.

(2) Personal Hospitalization and Medical Insurance also provides reimbursement in this situation without regard to other insurance. Many of these Package plans also include "Loss of Time" reimbursement where injuries result in loss of wages.

(3) Collision insurance provides reimbursement for the physical damage to your car. If your company institutes suit to recover their payments, they will probably include you to the extent of any deductible.

(4) Perhaps most important, purchase an Uninsured Motorist endorsement for attachment to your own auto policy. This coverage is known by several names, such as "Family Protection Coverage," "Innocent Victim Insurance," "UM," etc.

The coverage is now readily available at a cost of $3 to slightly higher per year, depending on where the auto is used. It provides reimbursement for financial loss arising from bodily injury to which you are legally entitled but cannot collect.

Coverage applies in any auto the insured and his family may be riding, and even when they are walking. Hit-run drivers, if not apprehended, are regarded as uninsured motorists by most companies.
