

Modest Driver Keeps Mum

Hero of Local Crash Honored by Truckers

A modest Drayton Plains truck driver who was first on the scene at a tragic auto crash on Ann Arbor road last May has been named Michigan Driver of the Year.

Eugene Sutphen, 43, was honored last week at the Michigan Trucking association driver awards banquet in the Hotel Olds in Lansing.

More than 350 Michigan legislators, state officials, community leaders and trucking executives saw Governor Williams award the perpetual Driver of the Year trophy to Sutphen.

Scars of the car's impact on the C & O railroad overpass abutment near the Elks home are still visible. Frank A. Kaplan, 36-year-old Detroit driver who was a salesman for the Merchandise Mart's Detroit office, had left early on May 8 with his family for a western vacation. For some unknown reason, the family headed back toward Detroit and was going east when the car struck the abutment at 4:40 a.m.

Killed instantly were Kaplan, his wife, Ann, 35, and son Leslie, 8 months. Eighteen-month-old Sharon was thrown across the road and lived.

Sutphen, whose story was not known until much later, was first on the scene. Fire had broken out in the car and as he rushed toward the blaze with an extinguisher, he heard a baby whimpering. He found Sharon lying in the road. Not knowing if she were injured, he used her coat as a sling and moved her to a grassy embankment.

Sutphen found that he could not aid the baby's parents and brother who were trapped in the car and were killed instantly. He extinguished the fire and signaled the first approaching car and instructed its driver to summon police and an ambulance. Sutphen waited until police arrived and left without identifying himself.

Another truck driver, Harold Griffith of the George F. Alger company, Detroit, stopped his rig at the scene, saw Sutphen leave and noted Sutphen's company name on the side of the White Owl Express company of Pontiac.

Griffith later informed White Owl Express and the company was able to trace the deed to Sutphen through its records. They nominated Sutphen for the award on the basis of his outstanding safety record and quick action in rescuing the girl from possible death on the dark highway.

Sutphen's award automatically qualifies him for consideration as the American Trucking Association's Driver of the Year honor.

Sutphen has driven safely more than 18 years, amassing 1,260,000 miles without a single chargeable accident. He operates a tractor-trailer unit on a Pontiac-to-Chicago run. His award came as a surprise.

Sharon is now living with relatives in California.

Tank to Appear On Area Skyline

By the end of the summer, Plymouth is scheduled to have a new landmark—a giant, high water pressure tank that will appear on the skyline something like a great golf ball on a mammoth tee.

The water tank will tower over the new Fred E. Greenspan housing development which is about to announce its grand opening on Wilcox Road. It will hold 400,000 gallons of water and will be not unlike a similar tank which stands at the Northland Shopping Center and which was a landmark of Northland for months before that development was open to the public.

Water for the Greenspan development, known as Lake Pointe Village, will come from wells developed by the builder. The whole water and sewer system, including the vast elevated tank, will be given ultimately to Plymouth Township. The tank will stand 100 feet above the ground. The diameter of the tank will be 51 feet, 6 inches.

BULLETIN

A 26-year-old private plane pilot and his 44-year-old mother were rushed from Mettetal Airport to the Plymouth Police Station, and thence to Wayne County General Hospital Wednesday evening after collapsing while mooring their plane following a flight from Chicago. First diagnosis was asphyxiation from fumes that apparently entered the cockpit during the flight. The victims are Louis Ferracca and his mother, Mrs. Louis Ferracca, both of Braille street, Redford Township.

A WATER TOWER similar to this will appear on the Plymouth township horizon this summer. Built by the Fred Greenspan Building company, it will furnish water for the 1,200-home Lake Pointe Village. Greenspan told of the tower at a press preview dinner Tuesday.

Symphony to Present Two Local Soloists

Two Plymouthites with wide professional experience will be the soloists this Sunday when the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra presents another program in its 1956-57 concert series.

The "Requiem" by Faure will be the main part of the program. Also to be heard will be the tremendous orchestral work of Berlioz, his "Fantastic Symphony", which is being presented by the Plymouth Symphony for the first time.

Joanne Hulce, soprano, and Nat Sibbold, baritone, will be the featured soloists for the "Requiem". The number will also require the voices of the 80-member Plymouth Civic Chorus directed by Fred Nelson. He is director of music at Plymouth High school and has been conductor of the Civic chorus since its inception about 10 years ago.

Sunday's program will start at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Like all other concerts, it is open to the public without charge.

Mrs. Hulce's professional background goes back to pre-marital days when she was doing opera and concert work in Chicago, and then on to New York to become the soprano soloist with the all-girl orchestra, Phil Spitalny's "Hour of Charm" and its weekly nationwide broadcast on Sunday afternoons.

She spent two years with them, touring, making records, New York concerts, Broadway theaters, plus the weekly broadcasts. Plymouth audiences have heard her from her occasional church solos Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulce and their four children moved to Plymouth three and a half years ago.

The baritone soloist, Nat Sibbold, is a favorite of Plymouth audiences, having made many appearances in church, civic affairs and a number of performances with the Symphony. Sibbold spent three years as master of ceremonies and singer with the well-known "Skating Vanities", traveling throughout the United States, Canada, Cuba, England France and Switzerland. He is presently employed at WWJ-TV.

This is the fifth program in the current Symphony season. The next and final concert is April 9. The 90-piece Symphony is in its 11th season.

Deadline Nears for Getting Graduation Announcement

Why Did the Rocks Fold?

Plymouth High's plucky basketball team has fallen upon foul days, and it's not only a little mysterious, but it is wringing the hearts of its fans.

After astounding the whole high school circuit by winning the first seven games of the season, the Plymouth team has spun around and—with equal astoundment—dropped four consecutive contests. Most of these have been against opponents whom they had beaten earlier, too. So now the record is 7-4 and the bottom doesn't seem to be in sight.

Redford Union, with a club crippled by loss of key players at the turn of the semester, defeated Plymouth in its last Friday, 63-61. Plymouth in its last four games has been plastered by Belleville, Livonia Bentley, Trenton and Redford Union. They go out of their league to meet one of the state's super-teams, Hamtramck, here Friday.

The Mail has asked some questions and in this story will try to analyze the sad turn of events.

Neither Coach Charles Ketterer nor most of the "experts" expected Plymouth to enjoy anything resembling the kind of success that actually occurred at the start of the season. The team didn't have much height, compared to that of the opponents; there were no individuals who stood in the "superman" category; and there was nothing in the team history of the year before to indicate more than maybe a 50-50 record this winter.

"Expert" theory was hastily revised when Plymouth stepped out and rolled up its seven-in-a-row, most of which were called "upsets". Until Feb. 1, the team never knew defeat.

During the period of prosperity, some analysis was made. Coach Ketterer had surprised his opponents at the outset with a "platoon" style of basketball. He divided his ten-man squad into two parts and changed each unit rapidly, in "waves" where they were on the floor for maybe two or three minutes at a time and then departed to freshen up.

It seemed to have the effect of confusing the other teams, and subjecting them to fatigue factors.

At the same time, the Rocks were hanging up a splendid shooting average. They made about 57 percent of all shots attempted from the field during those first seven games. The opponents were below that.

"And early in the year we had outstanding team morale—everybody pepped up over the way things were going, and was pulling together. That means more in terms of a team's success than most people realize, including the players," says Ketterer.

Some time prior to Feb. 1, however, the coach began to have doubts about what the "platoon" system was doing to his squad morale. Since everybody on the squad was sure of his opportunity of playing—and everybody was playing about the same amount of time—the "incentive" to "make the first team" did not exist. "I could see that the kids just weren't working as hard at practice as they had been," recalls the coach. "Going into the Belleville game there was a light-hearted attitude that scared me half to death."

Then came the turning point—the Belleville game there on Feb. 1. Plymouth had blasted Belleville by 30-odd points in an earlier contest. Belleville was in last place in the league; everybody, or anybody, had a right to think it could beat Belleville.

So Belleville jumped on Plymouth and won with relative ease, 56-49. Plymouth started to use its platoon system in that game, but abandoned it early.

New Business Comes, Others on the Move

No April Vote On Township Hunting Ban

There will be no referendum on the April 1 ballot concerning the outlawing of hunting in Plymouth township, Supervisor Roy Lindsay said yesterday.

Legal requirements to get it on the ballot cannot possibly be completed in time for the April 1 election, the supervisor said, and so a special election sometime before hunting season opens in the fall is expected.

Supervisor Lindsay said that it has been learned within the past week that before the township board can place the referendum on the ballot, the state legislature must pass a public act giving authorization. Although the legislature is now in session, it will take considerable time to get the legislation prepared, presented and approved, Lindsay pointed out.

Since hunting is controlled by the Michigan Conservation department, banning it in certain places must first go before the conservation committee of the legislature and then to the legislature itself, Lindsay added.

"We are very disappointed that we can't have it on the regular April ballot," the supervisor continued. "It looks like we will have to call a special election—if it is approved by the legislature—some time before hunting season begins."

The township board approved a motion to refer the hunting ban proposal to voters at a meeting on February 6. They said that growth in the township has resulted in a growing number of complaints about hunting near homes.

Gallimore School Dedication Date Set

Dedication of the James Gallimore Elementary school on Sheldon road will take place Sunday, March 10. The board of education set the date at a special meeting Monday night.

Starting at 3 p.m., the dedication program will have James Gallimore as guest of honor. He was a long-time member of the board of education and board president.

There will be an open house following the program. Other details of the program will be announced next week.

Orvie's Big Town Given Little Hope By Supervisors

Boards of Plymouth and Canton townships were among the 15 receiving letters last week from Dearborn Mayor Orville L. Hubbard suggesting annexation to his city—but supervisors of the two area townships have doubts that such a thing would ever take place.

Canton Supervisor Louis Stein just returned home from Florida Tuesday night, so had 10 time to read "Orvie's" letter before making comment. But Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay calls Hubbard's proposal "just another publicity stunt." Lindsay said that he personally doesn't like the idea, but that it will be up to the board to decide.

The Plymouth township board holds its regular meeting next Wednesday night. Lindsay predicted that the letter would be tabled— indefinitely.

Supervisor Stein said that off-hand, the proposal contains some merit and that the Canton board will give it consideration. Their board meets next on March 12.

But both Stein and Lindsay were of the opinion that even if all the townships would be in favor of joining Dearborn, it is doubtful if the people of Dearborn would vote to accept the new area. With Dearborn's present tax base now offering citizens most everything they need, the supervisors agreed, it is doubtful that they would agree to share the "gravy" with neighboring townships.

Fifteen townships were named in Hubbard's letter (printed on back page of Section 3). It would make a city of 400 square miles, second in size only to Los Angeles.

Opening of a travel agency and the movement of three other businesses were simultaneously announced this week in Plymouth. All of the moves center about the Hotel Mayflower.

A new business to be known as The Travel Centre will open in a temporary location on the fourth floor of the hotel next Monday and will move about April 1 to a main floor location.

The Union Investment company, located at the Main street and Ann Arbor Trail corner of the hotel, will move around April 1 to a new address location to the 700 block of South Main street, into a new building constructed by Walter Beglinger.

Carl Caplin Clothes, located off the hotel entrance, will move into part of the Union Investment's vacated office, while the Travel Centre will occupy another part.

Opening in the vacated Caplin shop will be a branch office of the Andrew C. Reid & Company, investment brokers, with Don Burleson as the local agent.

Kurt Thrun, former manager of the travel and tour department of an Ann Arbor travel agency, is opening The Travel Centre. Born and reared in Europe, Thrun has traveled extensively throughout the world.

The Travel Centre will arrange both foreign and domestic trips. For those not acquainted with travel bureaus, Thrun explains that the patron pays nothing for the service of arranging the trip. Instead, commissions for the bureau are paid by the hotels, airlines, shiplines, etc.

Thrun was responsible for creating the American Overseas Shopping Guide which has nationwide distribution. He travels extensively each year in order to provide clientele with the latest information available. He has been featured over WHRV, Ann Arbor, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. each Sunday with features, music and talks on foreign travel.

Enterline Photo Service, which has been in the black and white photo business in Plymouth since 1944 and recently moved into a new building on Davis street, started its complex Kodachrome and Ektachrome finishing processes last Monday. Test runs are still being carried out.

This is the third color plant in the Detroit area. Three others are located in Grand Rapids and one in Lansing. Enterline is one of the few that does both color and black and white processing.

Technical aspects of color processing are even too difficult for most ardent photographic hobbyists to understand. Harold Enterline, owner of the business and a former assistant photographic department head of Ford Motor company, simply explains that color processing is "rough."

Much expensive equipment is the first requirement. Then, unlike black and white processing which is done almost entirely automatically, color work requires manual labor and lots of judgment and know-how. Whereby black and white photos are returned to the retail store outlets within 24 hours, color processing requires at least three days.

There are nine different steps in developing color film and 11 more steps in making the prints.

Developing is a snap compared with the printing. "The printer is the key to the whole process," Enterline explains. The operator must be able to "read" a negative to obtain color balance in the print. On a key-board, the operator punches buttons to obtain "pluses" and "minuses" of the three primary colors.

About 35 per cent of the negatives must be printed a second time for color correction and 10 per cent are printed a third time. Enterline pointed out. Variety in exposure of the negative causes the need for re-printing. Then too, the printer is sensitive to humidity and voltage changes.

Enterline and an assistant, Lee DeMond, traveled to Rochester for instruction in the art of processing color photos. Eastman Kodak workers installed the equipment and gave more instruction. The two local men expect to return to Rochester for "graduation" within a few months.

The photo processing plant can do up to 1,000 rolls of black and white a day, but color equipment will take only between 100 to 150.

Enterline Photo Service is listed as a wholesale establishment—meaning that they process films brought in to drug stores, camera shops, etc. They process films for retail outlets as far north as Pontiac, west to Ann Arbor, south to Michigan avenue and east into Detroit.

PRINTING Kodachrome negatives is the most difficult step in the Enterline Photo Service new color processing operation. Lee DeMond is shown operating the complex printer.

FINISHING TOUCHES are now being put on the high school's band shell in the gymnasium. This shows the rear side of the 24-foot high panels. Holes are for spot and floodlights.

Volunteer Labor Helps School Gain $6,000 Orchestra Shell

Plymouth's Symphony Orchestra will play its first concert this Sunday in a "shell" that has been constructed with hundreds of volunteer manhours of labor.

Measuring 53 feet wide and 24 feet deep, the shell consists of six panels which will serve as sound baffles for the orchestra and other musical groups appearing in the high school auditorium.

Symphony Conductor Wayne Dunlap estimates that the unit has a value of at least $6,000, but which cost half that much because of the donation of labor by two dozen individuals.

The shell has long been desired by the symphony in order to efficiently capture the sound in the large gymnasium. It is expected to be used for the band, dance orchestras and other groups utilizing the gym. There is no stage in the gymnasium.

Peter Tarapata, member of the architectural firm which designed the junior high and several other schools, donated his time to design the unique shell. The panels are hinged so that they can be drawn up to the ceiling when not in use. Constructed of the Evans Products company's "cor-board", a corrugated hardboard, the panels each contain four spotlights and four floodlights.

To complete the shell effect are free-standing screens at the sides of the orchestra. The shell is at the entrance end of the gym.

Virtually all funds for the shell have been provided by the Symphony. Leading the volunteer work crews during the shell's construction was Thomas Kelly of Plymouth, field man for the Victor Gruen Construction company, builders of Northland.

The winners also will appear and read their essays over the air on radio station WHRV, Ann Arbor, from 8:30 to 9 p.m. on Friday evening, March 8.

UNCORKING THE NEWS

by Carl Peterson

Lots of folks these days are wondering what happened to the economy wave that was supposed to sweep over government. From the looks of things it's hardly a ripple. Since Pop was a boy, government has become big business; and whittling it down is going to be a man-sized job.

About one out of every ten of Uncle Sam's employable relatives is on government payrolls which would make a fair-sized crowd in any given place. And recent reports indicate that jobs are on the increase in all bureaus along the banks of the Potomac and in other government beachheads throughout the nation.

Of course, with all that crowd on the taxpayers' ticket we can't claim taxation without representation . . . which proves there's a bright side to everything.

A news release from deepest Africa reports that a local monarch was badly hurt when an extra throne he was storing fell through the attic and pinned him beneath. This again verifies the old adage that people who live in grass houses shouldn't stow thrones.

Seems a fellow in Seattle gulped down 167 clams in 8 minutes. They say one swallow doesn't make a summer, but that many swallows probably took the spring out of him. Do you suppose it took him another 8 minutes to phone his doctor? . . . Well, minutes count when you need a doctor—and minutes count when you need to get one of his prescriptions filled. Doctors and patients have learned to rely on our pharmacists for prompt service combined with accuracy and purity . . .

Local Students Enter Art Contest

Students from the art classes are again entering their work in the National Scholastic Art Awards contest, open from Feb. 25 to March 9, and they attended a showing of exhibits from southeastern Michigan at Crowley Milner's in downtown Detroit yesterday.

Entering copper jewelry in the contest are: Judy Hinge pin, earrings and cufflinks; Art Losse, two pieces of copper jewelry and oil painting of skin diver; and Wayne Huber, earrings and pin of copper enamel. Oil paintings entered are by: Judy Laury, abstract oil of still life; Arlene Kubick, George Davis, painting of fish in plains; and Jim Dzurus, Elaine Keith and Judy VanWagoner each entered a ceramic dish.

All students in grades 7 through 12, regularly enrolled in any public, private, or parochial school in the United States and possessions, are eligible.

Junior Hi Band Rated 'Excellent'

Plymouth's junior high band won a second division "excellent" rating in the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra association festival held here last Saturday.

Forty-six band and orchestras, composed of over 2,500 students, were in the city during the day to be judged on their own merit. This was the first time that Plymouth has ever been host for an event of this type.

Don Schultz of Pontiac, chairman of the festival, said that he was highly pleased with the facilities and the reception given the visiting bands. Plymouth high school bandmen, who did not participate in the festival, were guides.

Bands competed at the high school and junior high bands and orchestras played at Bird elementary school. Local restaurants served the huge crowd during the day.

Plymouth high school band will go to the Eastern Michigan college campus this Saturday for the Class AA and Class A high school band festival. They will play at 4:32 p.m. in Pease Auditorium. James Griffith will direct the band due to the illness of Director Laurence Livingston.

Ahem! A lecturer, suspecting that publicity would lessen attendance at repeat performances, asked the reporter of a local paper not to publish his address.

The reporter's version was this: "Mr. Smith delivered an excellent lecture in the church hall. He told some very good stories, but, unfortunately, they cannot be published."

Jamaican Holiday Will Set Theme For Dance-Party

Jamaican Holiday will set the theme for the junior high dance-party from 8 to 10 p.m. tomorrow night, sponsored by the students of Mrs. William Morgan and Mrs. Eino Hayskar's homerooms.

The junior high auditorium is being decorated in a banana boat, calypso type atmosphere. Head of decorations is Barbara Schantz.

Richard Sinkovics will act as master of ceremonies and head up a tour of the island. A movie room, known as the Blue Lagoon, will be run by proprietors Ralph Spigarelli and Albert Wietecha. Darlene Anderson and Barbara Cronkrite will greet guests attired in appropriate island apparel.

The Kingston Cafe will serve food. Highlights of the evening's entertainment will be the Dance of the flowers, a Congo line, and a confetti dance.

All junior high pupils may attend. The party is being assisted and chaperoned by Mrs. William Morgan, Mrs. Eino Hayskar, Mrs. Earl West, Mrs. George Condash, Mrs. John Spigarelli, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rank, Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Steiner, and Mr. and Mrs. John Haas.

Students Discuss Buying Adapter For New TV Set

High School Student Council members discussed using excess council money for buying a U.H.F. adapter for the new television set won by students on the TV show, Quiz 'em on the Air, and for replacing velvet curtains on the stage.

It was announced that Mayor Biff Tait and Sally Williams will represent Plymouth High School at the Student Council planning conference March 18 at Redford Union high school. Purpose of the conference is to discuss school problems and solutions to them.

Charles Westover, council representative to the community planning group reported on the group's last meeting. The noon recreation progress was also reviewed.

Varied Assemblies Will Be Presented At Plymouth High

An Easter program, campaign speeches during elections, and the acknowledgment of Michigan Week are included in the second semester schedule of high school assemblies.

Tentative plans are in the making for a talent assembly, as in previous years. Other programs will be given over the public address system.

The senior farewell in June and the inaugural following the high school elections are two of the regular assemblies.

On the assembly committee are: Carol Clarke, chairman, Shug Watson, Bill Brandell, Dick Wells, Joan Bassett, and Kurt Atchinson.

Where's George? A tramp knocked on the door of an English inn named "George and the Dragon."

"Can you spare a poor man a bite to eat?" he asked the landlady.

"No!" she shouted, and slammed the door.

After a few minutes he knocked again and when the landlady reappeared he said, "Now could I have a few words with George?"

SCHOOL NEWS

PLYMOUTH'S LARGEST Cub Scout group, Pack 6, held their Blue and Gold Banquet last Friday night at the VFW Hall with 250 people attending. There are 65 boys in the pack, over double that of a year ago. Mrs. Richard Stribley was chairman of the banquet while Lester Coutts, committee chairman, presented awards to Den Mothers, committee men and Cubs. Rew the Magician entertained the group. Pack 6 is sponsored by the Lions club.

Local Artists To Exhibit Work

At the February meeting of the Three Cities' Art Club Mrs. Mark Wehmyer reported that the City Commission of Plymouth had approved the club's request for an outdoor art show to be held at Kellogg Park in June.

Amateur and professional artists and craftsmen living in Plymouth, Livonia and Northville are members and will show their works. Picture subject matter will be places and people of the three communities. Crafts will be silver jewelry, ceramic mosaics and designs in wood. The first weekend in June is reserved for the exhibit. In case of rain, it will be held on the second weekend.

Members are already working on paintings for the show and brought them for a visit viewing to the home of Mrs. Harold Hartley in Northville at the last meeting, March 12, members will meet at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Aubert for a workshop in ceramics and a showing of what members plan to exhibit in June.

Audiences Praise Guild Production

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" presented by the Plymouth Theatre Guild last Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings was greeted by an enthusiastic audience that expressed their approval with many impromptu rounds of applause.

Outstanding characterizations by Robert Wall, Richard Hartman, Russell Creel, Russell Wallace, Effie Kuisel and C. V. Sparks brought a spark to the show that was quenched only by the closing curtain.

They were most ably backed up by the "straight" roles played by Marge Straehle, Libby Curtner and Jim Brown. Supporting roles were played by Alice Wright, Saxie Holstein, Jim Blackman, Jackie Ling, Dawn Hollinger, Jon Wolfe and Jack Van Haran.

Outstanding team work and timing by the stage crew guided by Pete Aubrey was in no small part responsible for the success of this production due to many difficult changes of scenery.

"Here Comes Mr. Jordan" was produced by Jeannine Dalagher who was assisted by Doctor Ford Sutherland, directed by William Merrill of Will-o-Way Playhouse and was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth.

Newburg News Leaders Treat 19 Scouts To a 'No-Work' Camp-Out

Boy Scout troop No. 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church spent the past week-end on a camp-out at Camp Howell near Brighton. The trip was an award to the 19 top scouts of the troop, chosen for their Christmas sales and for their troop participation. Scout Bruce LaPointe from the Newburg area, was one of the 19. The three leaders did all the cooking and KP, and the scouts just had fun. They returned to the church Sunday afternoon, tired, but full of talk about what a grand time they had.

Purpose of the organization is to secure a pension of $100 a month at the age of 60 years for all World War I Veterans, and hospitalization without signing a pauper's oath.

Now after 38 years Congress is trying to repudiate the World War I veterans' right to the treatment given to veterans of other wars, on the grounds of economy.

Plymouth Finishes Third After Redford Union Loss

Plymouth Romps Again Gary Wright Sets Record

"GRRR We're bad" could be the call of the Plymouth Varsity Swimming team as they continue to mount up victory after smash-in victory. The latest victim of the high scoring Rock tankers was Dearborn as they sank to the depths of a 67-25 score. Plymouth captured nine of the ten possible first places and one extra in exhibition.

The 50 yd. freestyle was the first of Plymouth's conquests as they put John Williams in first with a 1:25.4. Ed Stretanski also of Plymouth finished second behind John with a Dearborn swimmer third.

Plymouth took a 16-2 lead when Bob Isbister flashed into first in the 100 yd. butterfly breaststroke in the much improved time of 1:03.9. Gary Wright tried his luck in this event and topped a second in the respectable time of 1:07.5. Dearborn placed third.

The time of 2:02.4 was an improvement for Bill Brandell and good enough for a first in the 200 yd. freestyle. Dearborn took second with Don Carney of Plymouth finishing third.

Jim Archer won the 100 yd. backstroke in the time of 1:06 flat. Dearborn placed second, with Bruce Curtis, JV swimmer, third. Dearborn accomplished their only first of the meet in the 100 yd. freestyle. Jack Taylor and Dennis Baker finished second and third respectively.

Mike Todd's 1:13.9 was enough for a first in the 100 yd. orthodox breaststroke. Dearborn topped second and third slots. Art Lesse compiled 61.7 points to take a first in the diving event. Johnny Walker took a close second with his 60.5 points. Dearborn was third with 45.8. Dick Moulton was diving exhibition for Plymouth and totaled 44 points.

Captain Gary Wright continued his record setting pace as he set a new pool record in the 150 yd. individual medley in the blazing time of 1:38.9. The time is one tenth of a second faster than his previous record of 1:39 flat. Dearborn finished second with Jim Archer taking a third.

The 200 yd. medley relay team of John Gregory, Bob Isbister, Don Carney, and Bill Brandell established a new pool record as they set Plymouth's margin of victory up to 34 points on a time of 1:53.4. The previous record time was 1:56.2. The Dearborn team was disqualified when one of their swimmers made an early dive.

Dick Anderson, John Cash, Mike Todd, and Ed Stretanski captured a first in the 200 yd. freestyle relay in the time of 1:46 flat. Dearborn got four points for second and the score stood at 67-25.

Bill Brandell then cashed in for his second individual first with a 4:47.6 clocking in the 400 yd. freestyle event.

The JV squad gained another victory as they dumped Trenton in a meet last week 59-35. Bruce Curtis hit a fast 1:07.9 in the 100 yd. backstroke. Jim Carney was timed at 1:01.2 in the 100 yd. freestyle event.

Beglingers Beaten, Lose A League Lead

Fifth place Northville Recreation jumbled up the Class A men's league standings last week as they tumbled league leading Beglinger Olds 54-51 in a surprise upset. The loss combined with a Hickory Farm forfeit triumph removed the Beglinger squad from the top slot for the first time all season.

Beglinger grabbed their usual first quarter lead and led 25-18 at the half time buzzer. Northville out scored the locals 17-7 in the third quarter to take control of a 35-32 edge. Beglingers matched the winners with 19 points in the fourth and final points but it was still three points shy as Northville won 54-51.

The game was a clean, fast moving one with both teams combining for a low total of 13 personal fouls. Jensen was high for the winners and the game with 16. Carr added 14. Pat Robinson led the losing attack with 14. Mac Peirce and Bud Nedrey had 12 and 11 respectively.

Hickory Farms squeaked by rampaging Northville Recreation in a thrilling sudden death clincher. The Northville team battled to a 57-57 deadlock at the end of the regular period of play and the game was forced into overtime. "Spook" Teschka provided the spine tingling action as he hit for 4 points to tie the overtime session at 65 apiece. The referee then declared a sudden death overtime.

The ball was tossed up at center court and the Hickory Farms team gained possession on a disputed call by the referee. The ball was snapped around till Bob Lufts was open for a clear shot which he sunk to win the ball game 67-65.

Don Huebler was high for the winners with 18. Teschka was high for the game with 20. Lovette added 18. The Farms first victory of the week was a free 2-0 forfeit win over the Daisy squad.

Beglingers rebounded back from their second loss to stomp Northville State Hospital 87-44. The winners had a one sided 22-8 first quarter lead and had built up a 24 point edge by half time.

The Oldsmen were holding down a substantial 62-24 third quarter score. The locals scored at least 20 points in every frame.

Bud Nedrey sparked the winning attack with his 24 points. Jim Bloomhuff, Mac Peirce and Pat Robinson all hit for 12 each. Byler lead the losers with 18.

Braders resumed their winning ways as they downed Daisy 64-51. Braders had a comfortable lead all the way with Daisy's largest threat coming in the third quarter as they pulled to within six points of the winners.

Don McMurray pumped in 16 field goals and one free throw to pace the winners with 33. Algood and Crowdis each tallied for 14 for the losers.

Don McMurray's 33 shoved him out in front in the individual scoring honors race. Don now leads with 263. Ken Kisabeth is second with 259.

Bud Nedrey is up to the number three slot with his 228. Max Algood is now in fourth with his 211, and Ernie Winchester is fifth with 187.

Jim Bloomhuff continues to climb as he is now in sixth with 183, while Lyle Jensen stayed in seventh with 168. Don Huebler is eighth with 138. Ron Davis holds ninth with 127, and Bob Lufts is in tenth with 122.

Rocks Lose Thriller In Last 3 Seconds of Game

Two free throws in the last three seconds of the final quarter sent Plymouth to their fourth straight league defeat and slid them into a two way tie for third place with Redford Union. The Rocks, who trailed most of the way, grabbed the lead with just one minute and four seconds left to play. Action was heavy and play was tight till Ken Knipschild fouled Tom Tilley with forty seconds remaining in the game. Tilley tallied for the two points and the ball game was knotted at 61 apiece.

Just when it looked like the clock was about to run out Jim Dzurus fouled Larry Wilkinson. Wilkinson took his position, shot and hit for both points and the visitors lead 63-61. With three seconds to go Plymouth took possession and shot a desperation shot from behind mid court, but the ball hit the rafters and the ball game was over.

Plymouth had their only lead at the end of the first period. The score was 13-12. Redford Union put on a second quarter scoring spree to take the lead at the end of the half 34-26. Plymouth put on their own scoring exhibition as they netted 22 points to draw the game up to a 51-48 third quarter score.

Plymouth was able to garner only 13 points in the fourth and final period with captain Ken Calhoun bucketing 11 of them. Redford Union hit for a lowly 12 points but it was enough to hold the lead and win the game.

Calhoun's 11 points in the final quarter ran his total up to 25, which is high for Plymouth and the game. Ken hit for eight field goals and nine free throws. Biff Tait hit his high for the season with 12 points. Gibson was high for the winners with 16. Tom Tilley hit for 12.

While Redford Union was downing Plymouth to tie for third in the league, Bentley was upsetting league leading Trenton 51-50 to take over second in the Suburban Six. Belleville took sole possession of fifth as they downed Allen Park in a one point triumph.

It took only three seconds and seven points to foil my column's first predictions. The first of my two prophecies was that Plymouth would beat Redford Union in the basketball game last Friday night, which they nearly did with forty two seconds to go—they were tied up at forty seconds and they trailed with just three seconds to play. If those three seconds had passed just a little bit sooner... Well who knows.

Ken Calhoun and the school scoring record were included in my second prediction. I predicted Ken would set the standard (30) which he nearly did. Ken tallied in the first half. He came back strong in the second half however as he pumped in 17. Ken collected 11 of those 17 in the fourth and final period as he dumped in three field goals and five free throws.

Though Ken did fail to set the standard, he did put a deep gash in the season scoring record of 254 held by Ken Kisabeth, who set the total while playing in 17 games. Calhoun now has a total of 197 points while participating in only 11 games, which means he is 57 points and six games short of Kisabeth's final. If Calhoun is to match or exceed the record he will have to hit at a 19 point per game average in his remaining three games.

I would like to congratulate Coach John Sandmann and his undefeated Fosh basketball squad, who have gone through the schedule of 10 games without a setback. The freshmen have held the opposition to 181 points while bucketing 377 on offense. Besides the great team effort, seven members of this year's squad have been moved up to the JV team where they almost pulled out a victory for the big brothers.

Freshmen End Perfect Season

The high riding Frosh basketball squad completed a perfect season last Thursday as they slaughtered Redford Union 32-12. The freshmen, who are the only undefeated team in Plymouth, won 10 games with double victories coming over every team in the league.

The little Rocks grabbed a rather disgraceful 4-2 first quarter score and pushed their lead to nine points by half time. By the end of the third period Plymouth had a substantial 22-10 lead. The locals outscored the losers 10-2 in the last period to set up their 32-12 victory. John Sandmann is the freshmen coach.

Randy Egloff sparked the Frosh attack with 12 points, while team mate John Nance hit for 10. Lindberg was high for the losers with 4.

In the second half of the season Plymouth picked up their offense and stiffened their defense to outscore the enemy 190-85. Nance ran his season total up to 124. Egloff improved his pace as he hit for a Palmer added 11. Rucenik was high for the losers with 7.

down third with 43. Ruehr was forth with 29, followed closely by Farrell Grady with 28. Sparkmans season total was 24.

Seven freshmen were moved up to the JV squad last Friday night. The seven were: John Nance, Randy Egloff, Dick Hubert, Bill Ruehr, Farrell Grady, Jim Thompson, and Hartloff. Also members of this years squad are: Sparkman, Dave Mynatt, Mike Porter, DePorter, Bell, Argo, Maples, and Salan.

The jr high under the direction of coach Bill Brown set the jr high of Redford Union down to a humiliating 36-13 defeat. The little Rocks held the opposition scoreless in the first quarter to take an 8-0 lead. By halftime the locals lead by 11 and at the end of the third period had built up a 33-13 edge.

Coach Brown's team held the enemy scoreless again in the last quarter to end the game with a 36-13 difference. John Spigarelli paced the winners with 12 points, Palmer added 11. Rucenik was high for the losers with 7.

Why Did the Rocks Fold?

The "platoon" plan hasn't re-appeared since.

Bellefonte connected on a fantastic 49 percent of its shots that night. Part of the reason for the high degree of accuracy was that the Plymouth defense was retreating so far and in such a state of confusion that a disproportionate share of Bellefonte shots were taken from right under the basket.

Meanwhile the Plymouth team had begun to suffer loss in its player ranks. This heretofore has been unreported.

John Thomas, a senior guard, left the squad to partake of a Naval Reserve cruise.

Dave DeCoster, a senior guard, quit because (he told the coach) he didn't think he was "playing enough."

Bob Jenkins, a senior guard-forward, was removed from the squad just last week, for academic disciplinary reasons.

Hence, today the Plymouth squad is missing 30 percent of the personnel with which it started the season.

Somewhere in the foregoing the answer to the turn of events lies, plus the added information that every opponent in the last four games has been enjoying wonderful shooting percentages against Plymouth. This could be simply a turn of luck, or it could be collapsing-defense, or one other thing.

High school basketball officiating today is horribly misdirected, in our opinion. Every conceivable protection is given the offense—the boy with the ball in his hands. The slightest kind of bodily contact draws a fast foot on the whistle and a penalty—against the defensive player.

One effect is constant interruption in the game, while free throws are shot. Another is the destruction of hard-going, robust basketball. Another is high-scoring games where a basket has cheap value. And still another is that it doubles the value of big, tall men.

The only way for a smaller man to play defense against the long arms and extra reach of big opponent is with extra scrap, drive, and desire. The latter qualities reflect themselves usually in some kind of body contact. If the whistle blows every time it happens, then the little guy is helpless. He can only step out of the way or wave a silly, short arm when he tries to defend.

It has come to a point where a player can get a free throw, if he wants, almost any time he has the ball. All he has to do is to drive in the general direction of the basket and brush into a defending player. The official will penalize the defender.

Since Plymouth is shorter in height than its opponents, this kind of rule enforcement could be hurting the Rocks more than they themselves realize.

Footsaving Education

By JIM HOUK

How can I be sure that my children's shoes fit when I buy them?

If you mean that you want to check the fit of the shoes yourself, you should first work in a shoestore for at least two years. Then you will be more certain than you are now.

If the shoe internship is impossible I would use the practice of most women when they buy a hairdo. They don't rush downtown at fifteen minutes before closing time, and let the first operator they come to give their hair a fast stizzle. Hairdos are too important.

Hairdos and the operators who do them are the subject of conversation at every hen party. A newcomer to town knows before she leaves the house not only which beauty parlor she is going to but which beautician will give her the kind of curl she wants. She will read ancient magazines, waiting for the operator to take her and she might even overpay the bill if she is especially pleased with what the mirror says after the ordeal.

"Who fits your children's shoes?" should be as commonly asked as "Who does your hair?" Try it. You will find that your town has many shoefitters who realize the health importance of children's shoes and will do a really professional job if they know that you are not primarily interested in speed, low price or high style.

In addition to special assessments, said bonds pledge the full faith, credit and resources of the City of Plymouth for their payment.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from April 1, 1957, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the City. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds herein offered or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $1,800.00, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City of Plymouth must accompany each bid as a guaranty of good faith on the part of the bidder; to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid is accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to delivery thereof. The City shall pay the cost of printing the bonds. The bonds will be delivered at such place as may be agreed upon with the purchaser.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be marked plainly "Proposal for Bonds."

Maccabee News

There was plenty to eat and everyone had a good time at the last pot-luck dinner. Our meeting next Wednesday will be a "big surprise," so come and join the fun. Meetings start promptly at 7:30 p.m. so you can get home early. Let's see a big turn-out.

In an army camp they tabbed a kibitzer as a soldier with an inter-ferency complex.

The average person accepts flattery like a cat takes to back-scratching.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

The flag over the Plymouth coal yard will continue to fly—but it henceforth will go up and down at sunrise and sunset.

This story had its start, I'm told, on a TV program called "letter box" which is carried on a Detroit station. Somebody wrote an anonymous letter calling attention to the fact that in our fair city there was a fuel dealer who flew his flag but who didn't haul it down in the evening. The letter was read on the air.

This had response, and it wasn't many minutes later that Bill Otwell discovered they were talking about him. He was chagrined, but actually the rules on flying the national emblem had been a little vague in his mind and he had no particular sense of wrong-doing on those evenings when the pressure of business prompted him to just let the banner wave on through the night.

He went to the rules book, which is Public Law No. 829, and found this passage: "It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstays in the open. However, the flag may be displayed at night upon special occasions when it is desired to produce a patriotic effect. Nowhere in the law, apparently, is there a flat 'don't fly the flag at night'."

Otwell has been seeking an agreement with the Star-weather Boy Scout troop whereby members of the troop would raise the flag in the morning and lower it in the evenings and Eckles Fuel and Supply would succeed in the troop treasury from time to time.

That's the happy ending to the patriotic tale but there should be a footnote. Eckles is one of three business places in Plymouth which fly the ensign regularly. As such, the firm is more to be sympathized with than scorned, for its tangle with TV.

This newspaper has had a negative report from a woman who responded to a classified advertisement directed to ladies wishing to "earn money at home."

She answered and wound up with a "knitting machine" in her home. This took a down payment and a pledge to pay ultimately almost $300 for the machine. During the sales talks there were promises by the company to buy her completed work; promises to furnish names of persons who had bought the machine and were happy with it; promises of complete instruction, etc.

Well, the lady, who is an expert seamstress, can't get the machine to work. The "instruction" doesn't help. She has received no "references." She can see no way to sell any goods. She feels snugly "hooked."

The Better Business Bureau has warned against such schemes as being simply a device to sell expensive machines. This paper has run a classified advertisement that invited phone calls. We won't run any more, if we can help it.

The Plymouth Mail's essay contest for students on local problems ended Monday. The quality of the papers submitted, and the depth of understanding by the young authors, is positively brilliant. The Mail will print many of them in issues starting a week hence. The winners will be announced next week.

Pre-School Group to Meet Next Monday in Northville

Ladywood Mothers' Club Will Hold Monthly Meeting

The Mothers' club of Ladywood high school will hold their monthly meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the school, located on Newburg road between Schoolcraft and Five Mile roads.

Will Elect Officers

The PEO Sisterhood will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow for dessert followed by a business meeting with election and installation of officers and election of convention delegates.

The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. J. W. Kaiser of 220 Blunk. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Fischer and Helen Moore.

Grange Cleanings

Our Grange meeting last Thursday night showed that many members are enjoying Florida vacations, which is, of course, very nice for them. Two new members were received into our ranks. The program consisted of an exhibition of tap dancing by the pupils of Mr. Baker's dancing school from Dearborn. The next party will be March 16.

The next meeting is of special importance to the new members, and we hope all will be present to see the lovely degree work exemplified by the Tecumseh team. Lunch will be served after the meeting.

Several members went to Tecumseh Sunday to the golden wedding anniversary of Melburne and Emma Partridge, former Plymouth residents. They are Mrs. Jennie Cramer, Mrs. Blanche Ghes, and Mrs. Leola Partridge.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Veal Casserole Stars as Dish For Buffets

For that buffet dinner or church supper coming up, how about trying Mrs. Max Nicol's suggestion, a veal and sour cream casserole?

This main dish, served with hot rolls and a tossed salad, is a special favorite of the Nicol family of 9223 Morrison. It's easy to make, with little fuss or mess. Here's how:

- Veal and Sour Cream Casserole
- 1 onion
 - 1 1/2 pounds stewing veal
 - 1 large package noodles
 - 1 raw mushroom
 - 1 can mushroom soup
 - 1 pint sour cream
 - buttered crumbs
- Dice and brown onion and stewing veal. Salt and pepper to taste. Combine this mixture with cooked noodles, and then add the raw mushroom, mushroom soup, and sour cream. Bake at 350° F. for an hour and a half. After an hour and ten minutes are up, sprinkle the buttered crumbs over the mixture and leave uncovered for the last 20 minutes of cooking time. Serves eight to ten persons.
- For her family of five, Mrs. Nicol usually cuts the recipe in half.

MOTHER'S HELPER. Four-year-old Lisa Nicol dons her apron just like mother's and holds the noodles, while Mrs. Max Nicol of 9223 Morrison mixes up some of the ingredients for her veal and sour cream casserole. This one bowl, main dish is easy to make for both large and small groups of people.

Fashion Byword

"Blouson" is the fashion byword this spring. It's an important fashion detail, first introduced by Balenciaga, which has changed the silhouette of the American figure. Generally, it is any kind of soft blousing in the bodice, usually seen above a slim skirt. Jackets and blouses achieve this new softness with drawstring or elasticized waistbands.

Fired Employee Wins Suit Against Wall Wire Products

Two former employees of Wall Wire Products company who were fired in 1954 for being allegedly involved in a check forgery deal have won court suits against the firm to recover wages lost since their discharge.

Verdicts returned by juries have favored Burl Gooch, 11191 McClumpha road, and Raymond Spencer, 14305 Stanford, Livonia, plaintiffs in separate actions. To compensate them from the time that they were discharged until Wall Wire moved from Plymouth last October, and based on the difference between the wages they received at Wall Wire and wages received elsewhere, Gooch is to receive $3,069 and Spencer, $4,430.

The check incident dates back to June 25, 1954 when a Wall Wire laid off employee, Courtney Spencer of Walked Lake, was arrested at Krogers while trying to cash a forged check amounting to $74. It was found that it was one of 250 blank checks stolen from Wall Wire.

Courtney Spencer (no relation to Raymond Spencer) named Gooch and Raymond Spencer as also being involved. Gooch and Raymond Spencer were discharged after their arrest. There was no proof offered that the two men had anything to do with the affair but Courtney Spencer was found guilty and placed on probation.

Gooch and Raymond Spencer were never hired back, however, and charging a breach of union contract, filed suit for lost wages. Spencer's case ended February 11, and Gooch's verdict was given on Wednesday of last week. Both had over 10 years of service with Wall Wire.

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County READING LIBRARY

"Blue Camellia," best selling novel of Francis Parkinson Keyes, is among the new additions to the Plymouth branch of the Wayne county library this week.

Other popular fiction recently acquired are: "The Last Angry Man," story of a powerful and appealing doctor in a grimy Brooklyn district, by Gerald Green; Shirley Barker's novel of Elizabethan times and the Mermaid Tavern, "Liza Bowe," and Vicki Baum's story of adventure, romance, and surprise twists, "Written on Water."

"A Moment of Warmth," violent story of people with too much power and too much money by Francis Iry, and George Fielding Eliot's "Caleb Pellenger, U.S.N.," lusty and exciting yarn of a commander in the Union Navy during the Civil War, were also in the new shipment of library books.

Two new novels having to do with social prejudices and discrimination in the United States were added: "Memphis Jackson's Son," a compelling first novel by Mary Jackson about a young Negro medical student and an affirmative in the belief that Negroes and whites can live and work together, and Irving Shulman's "Good Deeds Must Be Punished," story of a small West Virginia college and a young American boy of Italian background who faces subtle social pressures.

On the lighter side, "Boy Voyage" by Marjriane and Joseph Hayes tells the story of the gay adventures and misadventures of an American family on a six-week tour of Europe. "Grizzlies in Their Back Yard" is Beth Day's spirited account of a trip into the deepest wilderness of the Great North Woods of British Columbia, habitat of the grizzlies, largest and fiercest bears in the world.

For the mystery fans, new books are a Perry Mason thriller by Erle Stanley Gardner, "Case of the Lucky Loser," a Crime Club selection by Leslie Charteris, "The Saint Around the World," and Henri Catalan's "Soeur

Feathered Vacationers Return To North, Look for New Homes

Tomorrow is the first of March and warm weather will be hard on its heels. And as warm weather approaches, the feathered flocks vacationing in the southland will be returning and looking for homes in the north.

If you'd like to have some of these warm weather visitors in your back yard, one of the best ways to encourage them to stay is to provide suitable housing.

Wrens, especially, are adaptable to almost any site, large or small, and are tireless searchers for insects during the nesting period.

You will find that they will make their home in the simplest kind of nesting boxes — even gourds. The whole family can join in on this kind of bird housing making. Here are a few points that it would be well to observe in wren house construction.

The opening should be no larger than an inch in diameter. A circle drawn around a quarter is just the right size. Sometimes if the hole is too large, you may find some sparrow visitors instead of the Wren family.

No perch is necessary since the wren enters and leaves on the wing. It is a good idea to make narrow slits for about a half inch out from each side of the entrance.

It will be fun to watch the nest building operation. Mrs. Wren works inside while Mr. Wren fetches the material and stuffs it in the door. He insists on carrying it crossways in his bill and a lot of lost motion on his part can be saved if you help out by making the slits on the entrance way.

Blue Birds and Red Birds are so beautiful that if they did nothing else but grace your garden that would be enough. However, these birds are also great insect eaters and should be encouraged to keep out the bugs. Mr. Red Bird is quite brave and will often build a nest right outside a large window if the proper type shelter is provided. A bird house with a somewhat larger opening is necessary.

The Blue Bird is shy and will most often seek a place for nesting. They like shelter and have been known to make their homes in all sorts of off places.

HARBINGER OF SPRING

The Marking Bird is the state bird of many different states in the U.S., and is a great favorite with all of us. The song of the Marking Bird is a thing of beauty. They usually make their nest in the very top of a tall tree.

Another way to encourage birds in your yard is to provide water and food for them the year 'round.

Putting just a little food out every few days encourages them to make return trips to your yard, and to feel at home there. The feeder need not be an elaborate contraption, since no matter how the birds get the food, it all tastes the same to them in the end. A shallow bowl will do quite nicely in most instances.

It is possible to enjoy birds in your yard and have family dogs and cats around, too. Equip Rover and Tabby with a really good bell and collar. One of the most effective of these outfits sports four bells of different colors. Your animal pets will be quite proud of their collars, but may wonder why they have such poor luck hunting.

Big Eggs Are Big Buy At This Time of Year

Now is the time to buy big eggs. The season of year when you can get more eggs for your money begins in February since that's when the proportion of large and extra large eggs in the total supply increases, and that's when they sell for so little more than medium eggs.

The handsome, generous appearance of big eggs often is mentioned for appetizing breakfasts. But when you're using eggs as the main dish for lunch or dinner, as in scrambled eggs, omelets, or baked eggs, the large and extra-large size is still the money-saving buy now.

It's worth noting, too, that eggs are quick and easy to prepare for hurry-up meals.

Bittersweet Pie Its Sure to Please

The adage which tells us that handsome is as handsome does is especially applicable in the field of desserts, for desserts more than any other course can crown a meal with glory.

One of the most glorious—and delicious—desserts is bittersweet pie. This is a sweet beauty of contrasting colors and flavors which come together in perfect harmony—a cream-smooth layer of chocolate surmounted by a delectable topping flavored with vanilla.

The fillings are poured into a wafer-thin and tender, pastry which flakes at the touch of a fork. This is a pie for special occasions, and with a bittersweet pie, every meal becomes an occasion.

Golden Pastry Shell

- 1 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 3 tablespoons water

Combine flour and salt in a mixing bowl. With a pastry blender or two knives cut in the shortening until mixture looks like coarse cornmeal. Sprinkle water over mixture, one tablespoon at a time, and mix lightly with a fork until all flour is moistened. With the hands gather dough into a ball. On a lightly floured board roll out dough in a circle one-eighth inch thick and about one and a half inches larger in diameter than pie plate. Fit the circle of dough loosely into pie plate and trim off edge.

Seek Comfort In Purchasing New Furniture

Comfort stands first on the list of things to search out in buying home furnishings.

Comfort means the right size or fit for every member of the family. A good piece of modern furniture should be a comfortable height, width, or depth for its purpose. The uses of new materials, such as foam rubber and fiberglass, add to comfort and convenience in new furnishings.

A second aspect to consider in modern furniture is quality—not only good quality of materials but the thing itself. Good modern furniture has only that decoration which enhances its structure and never has decoration to hide poor structure. Modern furniture emphasizes the materials with which it is made. If a screw is used, the screw is a part of the overall design.

Look for the right size, too. One of the biggest mistakes made in buying furniture today is that people buy pieces which are greatly oversized in size to fit the area in which they are to be placed. Today a chair does not need to be large and bulky to hold up or be comfortable or useful. The slenderest of legs can be made of steel and can withstand much more weight than even a very large piece of wood. A fourth thing to look for is texture. If a modern piece is designed to express formality, it will be sleek and shiny. If it is meant to be informal, it will be fairly rough to very rough, as oak or a tweed might be. Much modern furniture is so versatile it can be used in either formal or informal situations by the addition of accessories, change of fabric, or color.

Gooseberry Tarts Add Spice to Meals

- Gooseberry Tart
Small pastry shells, baked
- 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 - 1 cup milk
 - 3 egg yolks
 - Vanilla
 - Gooseberry jam

Add the cornstarch to the sugar mix well. Add milk and well beaten egg yolks. Cook in double boiler until thick stirring all the time. Add vanilla. Cool. Fill the shells partly full of this cream then fill to the top with gooseberry jam. To make a glaze, use 1/2 cup of gooseberry jam with two tablespoons of water. Cook until very thick. Put a thin layer over tops of tarts to glaze.

TALK ABOUT "PIE IN THE SKY," here's a heavenly dish! Two layers of velvety goodness in a flaky pastry shell add up to a glorious dessert known as Bittersweet Pie. There's vanilla cream filling on top and chocolate cream below. And the pastry shell flakes at the touch of a fork. It's a celestial way to end a meal.

leaving a half inch overhanging. Fold overhanging edge back and under and flute deeply. Prick bottom and sides of dough generously with a fork and bake at 425° F. for 12 to 15 minutes.

Bittersweet Pie

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 2 cups milk
- 4 eggs, separated
- 6 ounces semi-sweet chocolate pieces
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 teaspoon rum flavoring
- 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
- Baked pastry shell

Soften gelatin in water. In a saucepan combine a half cup of the sugar, the salt, and cornstarch and gradually stir in milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Stir the hot mixture slowly into beaten egg yolks, return to heat and cook, stirring, for two minutes. Remove

Pack 2 Kinds of Sandwiches in Lunchbox

Are you a lunchbox packer? Do you find it hard to vary the menu?

Always plan for the lunchbox when you're choosing the rest of the meals. Try to include two different kinds of sandwiches. To help get in the milk, use a cream soup or a hot flavored milk drink. A cookie with a raw fruit or a turnover make an ideal sweet.

Beef Sandwiches

- 1 1/4 cups cold roast beef
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 1/2 tablespoons tomato catchup
 - 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 tablespoon melted butter
- Cut beef in small pieces add the salt, catchup, Worcestershire sauce, and melted butter. Spread between buttered slices of bread.

Ham and Nut Sandwiches

- 1 cup finely chopped cooked ham
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped nut meats
 - 1 teaspoon mustard
 - 4 tablespoons thick cream
 - Salt and pepper
 - Bread and butter
- Mix the ham, nut meats, mustard, and cream. Add salt and pepper to taste. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Beefsteak Pie

- 2 pounds rump, flank, or chuck steak
- Pie pastry
- 1/2 cup onion
- Sliced potatoes
- Butter or other fat
- Flour—egg

Cut the meat into small strips. Put them with the bone, and simmer about one hour. Line the side of individual baking dishes with pie pastry. Put in a layer of meat with a few thin slices of onion, sprinkle with salt and pepper, next a layer of diced potatoes with bits of butter dotted over it. Alternate the steak and potato layers until dish is full. Thicken the gravy with browned flour and pour in. Put on a top crust. Brush with beaten egg and bake at 450° F. until brown.

Be sure to include in the lunch carrot sticks, whole tomatoes, radish, or cabbage slaw.

Cheese Mellovs

- 1 package of fast granular yeast
- 1 cup lukewarm water
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 1/2 cups scalded milk
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2 tablespoons molasses
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 3 cups whole wheat flour
- 1/2 cup melted shortening
- About 3 cups white flour
- About 30 slices of cheese

Pour the yeast into the cup of lukewarm water, add teaspoon of sugar, stir and let stand five minutes. Pour scalded milk into bread bowl, add the salt, molasses, and sugar. Let cool. When lukewarm, add softened yeast and whole wheat flour. Beat smooth.

Then stir in the melted shortening (not hot) and just enough white flour to make a soft dough. Knead until thoroughly mixed. Place in a greased bowl, cover and let rise until double in bulk. Turn dough onto a board dusted with whole wheat flour. Roll into a square one-fourth inch thick. Cut into strips four inches long and two and one-half inches wide. Place a slice of cheese two inches long and one-fourth inch thick on each piece of dough and fold remainder of dough over it, pinching edges together firmly. Place the rolls on greased biscuit tin a slight distance apart. Brush tops with fat. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake about 30 minutes in an oven 400° F. for the first five minutes and 375° F. for the remainder of the time.

LANSING REPORTING

By JOHN SWANSON (State Senator)

A decision on where to locate the Boys Vocational School is to be made during this session of the legislature. While one northern Michigan community has offered a location, Lansing residents have been anxious for the school to be located anywhere but in Lansing. Whitmore Lake has been chosen as the site by the Department of Social Welfare (which has jurisdiction).

You may ask: "What is Boys Vocational School — and why a fuss over the site for it?" Briefly, its primary purpose is to rehabilitate and re-train these youngsters so that they come out as "citizens", not as "community nuisances" who "have done time". What is needed is an institution that will be capable of handling, separately, both the "bad" boy whose problems are deeply ingrained and the "erring" boy who can be rehabilitated in a shorter time. This is not necessarily clear at the time of commitment. To clarify the difference, on-the-spot professional help is needed. Further, there are medical needs.

A few, not enough, professionals are employed in the institution. For the extra help needed, BVS must turn to our institutions of higher learning. That is one major consideration in choosing a site. At Whitmore Lake, where a site of 300 isolated acres is available, the school would be 13 miles from the University of Michigan. Furthermore, the land is closest of any proposed site to the metropolitan areas from which the boys originate. Family visits, contact with their own background problems as they learn to understand them, are all an important part of the treatment.

Why not settle at Whitmore Lake? The question has arisen because a few individuals raised an outcry about land values and others protested without waiting to find out. I am sensitive to the feelings of people in the community as any other legislator, possibly more so than some. In this instance, the choice lay between bowing to blindly selfish interests or accomplishing a solution of the need. Many of those who protested at first are now in favor of accepting the school at Whitmore Lake. The final decision will have considered the problems of the community. It may be worth remembering that the people of Lansing did not dislike the location of the Boys Vocational School before the school was overcrowded and understaffed. The present inadequate facility has not "endangered" Lansing but has irritated everyone involved.

It is the better part of wisdom not to bow to the first pressures of a minority, especially one that has not waited to learn all the facts. Now more of Whitmore Lake's home-owners are able to see the full picture. As you read of the further developments on this legislative issue, it may be worth remembering that boys can land within the jurisdiction of Boys Vocational School regardless of background, our boys included. We want it to be the best possible institution of this kind, in location and effect on the boys. To make it an isolated dot on the state map would be to turn our backs on these youngsters. To do so may intensify the problems now under consideration.

LOOK ALL WAYS BEFORE CROSSING

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Have you ever had a date with a boy who talked on and on about other girls? And did his boring bad manners with the girl-chatter make you wish like crazy for a big, blunt instrument? It's this "teen girl's problem:—

Q.—"When the boy I am going 'steady' talks about other girls (he often does), I get jealous. I know he doesn't mean anything by it, but it still 'gets' me. What should I do?"

Ans.—There are two ways to deal with a boy who doesn't know that it's childish to try to make a big impression by talking about girls during dates. Try whichever method you think will work best and that you can use most effectively.

1. Ignore it and change the subject. If he's the teasing type he'll stop the "I'm-quite-a-boy-with-the-girls" talk when he sees that it doesn't impress you or make you jealous. It's no fun for him if you don't react to it; see?

2. Give him a dose of his own medicine... some of the same kind of chatter and let him see how HE likes it for date-conversation. But watch out how you do it, if you want it to be effective, not anger-making (some boys aren't good at taking what they dish out). Smile and be gay when you do it, not angry, jealous or sarcastic.

Listen quietly while he talks about girls, then when he pauses for breath, reply pleasantly, "That reminds me, did I ever tell you about Bill and Dick and John... oh yes, and Joe?"

If he doesn't get the point immediately, you could go on and rave a bit about some imaginary Supermen you've known, met or seen, until he catches on to the fact that his talk about girls is like that... dull, boring and bad manners.

'Country-Style' Newburg Church Faces Modern Expansion

Newburg Methodist church is at another crossroads in its 123-year history.

After many years of "country church" atmosphere which in itself drew many people into the congregation, it has become the victim of its own growth and must now face the possibility of replacing the entire old church building.

The congregation will tomorrow open its Expansion Fund Crusade during which they hope to raise a maximum of $32,000 and would like to get twice that much. The kick-off part of the campaign will last until March 12 but the entire effort is expected to last many months.

Floyd Mahl is general chairman of the campaign and is being assisted by Grant Dunlap of the Methodist National Board of Missions, the Reverend Robert Richards, and many others.

Exactly what will happen to the old church is not yet decided. Some favor moving it away, others want to build around it. Because it holds only 120 people and the congregation now numbers 250, the church sanctuary has not been used for some time. Services have been held in the next-door church hall.

It is expected that the new sanctuary will seat 300 to 400.

The church has had a long history of expansion dating back to 1834 with the first record of church services, when Newburg was one of ten preaching stops on the Plymouth circuit. In 1846 the first Newburg Methodist Church was built at a cost of $400 on land opposite the present Newburg school, donated by Warren Tuttle. Services were every two weeks.

The Congregational church was later established on Ann Arbor Trail opposite the present Newburg cemetery, and also held services every two weeks, alternating with the Methodist church. For various reasons its membership was reduced to a point where it was impossible to continue services, and in 1888 the Congregational church property was transferred to trustees of the Methodist church.

Services for members of both churches were then held in the old Congregational church building, main part of the present Methodist church.

The combined membership rolls of the two churches and the organization of a Ladies' Aid Society in 1889 inspired new church activity, and the Sunday school boasted an average attendance of 80. A side room, known then as the Chapel and now called the annex, was added to accommodate this number. The front of the church was remodelled by adding a vestibule and belfry. In 1902 new pews were installed, as well as the stained glass windows that today adorn the church.

In 1915, under the pastorage of Rev. Joseph Dutton, the church was moved to its present location.

When Newburg residents began using the old Congregational church building for Methodist services, the original Methodist church was moved south of the Newburg road-Ann Arbor trail crossing, and was owned by a church society called the Hall Association. The building was later transferred to the Ladies' Aid Society, and may be remembered by elder residents as the L.A.S. Hall. This old landmark was disposed of when the present social hall was completed, with the aid of careful planning and volunteer labor in 1941.

The Methodist church was on the Plymouth circuit until 1920, when church leaders started a campaign to get their own pastor. In the spring of 1924 the present parsonage was built under the leadership of Donald Ryder, and Rev. Paul Havens and his family moved in. It was necessary to put a mortgage on the property for the first time in the church's 90 year history.

In 1937 the basement of the church was remodeled to make room for the increased Sunday school attendance. Installation of a Hammond organ in 1943 and the donation of cathedral chimes and a carillon by Mr. and Mrs. Milvin C. Guthrie added to the present-day musical equipment. In 1944 the church celebrated its 110 anniversary, with a rededication.

In the late forties, the vestibule was enlarged to its present size, and church pastor G. McDonald Jones then began promoting the establishment of a building fund, to cope with the greater urbanization of the community, but the matter remained dormant until 1954. Last year architects' plans were posted to show ideas for the proposed expansion.

Hard work becomes harder, if it is postponed.

Orvie Writes the Townships

Possibly you spotted in the metropolitan press the short item about the Mayor of Dearborn, Mr. Orville L. (Orvie) Hubbard, writing every Township in Wayne County to suggest they annex themselves to his town.

This strikes us as a peculiar, particularly interesting topic out this way, so we are printing the full text of Orvie's communique today. He mentions Plymouth, Northville, Redford, and Canton Townships as among those who might want to slip over and examine his lures.

It's a ridiculous thought for a number of reasons, of course, and has a sound quite similar to the spider's warm invitation to the fly. But we are interested, frankly, because in a sort of sub-conscious way we have been expecting to hear rumbles of this sort one of these days from Livonia. There the situation is much different and more obvious. Livonia is almost completely surrounded by Townships in varying states of development, some of whom have given serious thought to incorporation on their own.

Anyhow, just for the record, here is the letter Orvie sent the Townships, with a straight face—

"Dear Friends:
From time to time, our neighboring communities have inquired about the possibility of becoming part of Dearborn in order to avail themselves of the many obvious advantages.

It occurs to us that the elected officials of your Township, along with the officials of the other Western Wayne County townships might like to explore this idea, too, and consider uniting with Dearborn under one consolidated government.

The 15 townships in Western Wayne County are: Brownstown, CANTON, Dearborn, Ecorse, Grosse Ile, Huron, Moundville, NANKIN, NORTHVILLE, PLYMOUTH, REDFORD, Romulus, Sumpter, Taylor and Van Buren.

The total area of these townships is 375 square miles. Joining them with Dearborn's 25 square miles would mean a city of 400 square miles, almost three times the area of Detroit, nearly twice that of Chicago, bigger than New York and second only to Los Angeles, 451 square miles.

"There are now 44 different, independent local governments in Wayne County, and townships are continually being sliced up to make even more costly and unnecessary communities.

"Apostles of efficient government insist that the trend should be just the opposite. Only last week President Eisenhower was asked by the National Planning Association to provide leadership in helping to prevent mushrooming suburbs from becoming tomorrow's slums. Society will pay-and-pay for years to come for the foundation now being laid for future bad communities thru the building of suburbs by 'irresponsible developers and inexperienced local officials.' The White House was informed by the non-profit, non-political NPA's research department.

"Further, the rabbit-like births of independent local governments keep the people in a constant and complete state of turmoil and confusion over jurisdiction and the source of their services. Worse, the costly multiplicity of governments actually hinders the solutions of the big problems common to all communities in this area - schools, water, sewers, garbage and rubbish disposal, recreation, parks, air pollution, etc., which can be met adequately only on an area-wide basis.

"It is entirely conceivable that, unless voluntary action is taken by the suburban offspring of the metropolitan parent, circumstances may force 'shotgun weddings' of reluctant communities. Strangely enough, the public school system, usually considered extremely hidebound with local animosities and personalities, is traveling almost as fast toward overall consolidation as local governments are heading in the opposite direction. From the 156 separate school districts in 1900, Wayne County now has only 45, with some experts agitating for a single, county-wide district.

"Meanwhile, the 'courting of Dearborn' by some of our neighbors points up the advantages to them of joining Michigan's fourth largest city rather than trying to form a new consolidated community of their own. It is clear to them, they tell us, that under one governmental roof with Dearborn they would have a whale of a lot to gain.

"They see in annexation to Dearborn, their becoming part of a community acclaimed far and wide, as well as by its own residents, for its good public service, cleanliness, fine recreation and low taxes. Residents are proud of such services as clean streets, parks, neighborhood swimming pools and ice rinks, rapid snow removal from residential sidewalks, clock-work garbage and rubbish collection, Camp Dearborn, plus (we hope) Dearborn, Florida.

"And they see extended to their area the same vigilance on building and zoning that has helped make Dearborn a very desirable place in which to live.

"As the first step in this 'exploration', would you be willing to bring this before your township board to determine whether you are for or against this idea?

"Most public officials, operating under the first law of Nature - self-preservation - just naturally try to hang onto their own jobs and to resist changes that might eliminate them, but the turnover in public offices is high anyhow. It seems that we would better serve the public interest by looking at the tremendous benefits that would result from a consolidated, efficient government that would replace the many costly, duplicating, over-lapping governments now operating.

"If you prefer not to take a stand as a board, may we suggest that you seek an expression of your people by calling an Advisory Vote at the April 1 election to read something like this:

Advisory Vote
"Are you in favor of consolidating your township with and becoming a part of the City of Dearborn?"

We are ready to meet and discuss this idea with you or a Citizens Committee whenever you like.

Cordially and sincerely,
Orville L. Hubbard

When You Retire

Wisdom in Later Years

"No one's as intelligent at 70 as he was in his prime." This dismal observation appeared in a letter signed "Retired Druggist" in my newspaper this morning. The druggist, who held some rather sour views on the problems of old age, was letting off steam by writing a letter to the editor.

The casual way in which he condemned the intelligence of older people, and the fact that many people have written me on this subject, leads me to believe there are still many who believe oldsters just aren't as wise as youngsters.

Since I majored in psychology I have no hesitancy in stating that intelligence does not diminish as a natural consequence of growing older. Intelligence, of course, has such a broad meaning that it is a difficult word to define. If we think of it as referring to the power of a person's understanding, his ability to make sound decisions, his creativity and his ease in adjusting himself effectively to his environment, then it is clear that intelligence does not automatically decline with increasing age. Throughout history many of our wisest men and women have been persons of advanced years. As a matter of fact, one-third of the men in the U. S. Senate today are past 60 years of age.

The misapprehension many people have about the older intelligence probably stems from widely-publicized studies of mental ability. On these tests, which measure only certain aspects of intelligence, older people generally make lower scores than younger ones. There are two very good reasons why this is so. For one thing, older people have a slightly slower reaction time. They can answer the questions on these tests, such as a mental abilities test, for 40 years.

Another good reason is expressed by Dr. Edward Steiglitz in his book The Second Forty Years. Dr. Steiglitz says, "Adults are simply out of practice." Youngsters are used to taking tests of one kind or another in school, but most people of retirement age haven't taken a paper-and-pencil test, as a mental abilities test, for 40 years.

Older people do very well on tests, such as vocabulary tests, covering material on which they're in practice. In fact, famed psychologist L. M. Terman of Stanford University says, "There is a tendency for vocabulary scores to be slightly higher at the old age level." Since most psychologists are agreed that vocabulary is one of the best single indicators of intelligence, older people can take pride in the fact that these tests show them to be every bit as intelligent as younger persons.

As you grow older, never hesitate taking up new pursuits and new interests because you fear you're less intelligent than you were in earlier years. Bear in mind that the brain is one of the hardest organs in the human body. Your eyesight may dim and your digestion may give you trouble, but if you exercise your mind and keep abreast of current affairs, you have an excellent chance of retaining your wisdom and intelligence throughout your retirement years.

"Most of us don't put our best foot forward until we get the other one in hot water!"

The Case Against COMPULSORY AUTO INSURANCE

Question: Can you prove Compulsory Auto Insurance Laws are really bad laws?

Answer: We think so. The proof of the pudding is in the eating. So it is with Compulsory. Only two States have attempted a Compulsory Law, Massachusetts in 1927 and New York last year.

SOME OPINIONS FROM MASSACHUSETTS:

In 1928, the year following enactment of the law, Governor Fuller said: "The Compulsory Automobile Insurance Law has lent itself to all kinds of bribery, chicanery and misrepresentation."

In 1931 another Massachusetts Governor repeated the dissatisfaction of his predecessors and expressed hope for "complete abandonment of the present law."

In 1953 Governor Heister said: "The operation of our Compulsory Automobile Insurance Law has been a source of constant vexation to our people."

AN OPINION FROM NEW YORK:

In 1953 the New York Deputy Superintendent of Insurance said: "It is incontrovertible that enactment of Compulsory Automobile Insurance in Massachusetts gave birth to a political football. It is also incontrovertible that automobile insurance rate making has been tied into political campaigns in that State."

If Your Name Is ROSAMOND

By Ann Reynolds, Ph. D.

Rosamond, a name likely to evoke the idea of romance and poetry, derives from two Old German words. One of them means "horse," the other "protection"; this way the name signifies something like protector of horses. In the Middle Ages 'Rosamond' was looked upon as a Latin name meaning "pure rose", and just as fanciful as this explanation were the stories weaved around some girls called Rosamond.

One of these, the first Rosamond on record, was married against her will to the Lombard King Alboin who had murdered her father. And then, adding insult to injury, Alboin forced her to drink wine from a cup fashioned from her father's skull.

For this Rosamond had Alboin dispatched by two of his most trusted men. One of them she rewarded by becoming his wife, then tried to do away with him, offering him a poisoned drink. He emptied half of the fatal potion, became suspicious, and made Rosamond swallow the rest.

Poison played a part in the tragic story of another Rosamond, "Fair Rosamond" of whom the old ballad sings. For this "cognate dame of most peerless beauty" King Henry II of England built a maze-like tower in the garden of Woodstock, his castle at Oxford. The tower had one hundred and fifty doors, so cunningly contrived that no one could enter it and find his way out again unless with a clue of thread. And it was a silken thread from Rosamond's carved needlework chest that gave her hiding place away to jealous Queen Eleanor; her rival then offered Rosamond the choice between death by dagger and death by poison . . . This story has never been proved.

Fact is, Rosamond died in the flower of her youth, and tales about her were told and retold for centuries. For her, a nearby spring is called "Rosamond's Well," the beautiful lady love of King Henry allegedly used to watch, from her tower, the wild creatures of the forest as they came to drink from it.

The fate of a third Rosamond revolves also around some poison; in her case a letter dipped into the deadly liquid kills her adversary. This Rosamond is the heroine of an involved opera book on which Franz Schubert squandered immortal music. Forgotten after only two performances, its music was rediscovered forty-five years later. "It had come to life forever," one of Schubert's biographers says. True, for especially the charming Rosamond Overture and Ballet Music are mainstays of today's concert and radio programs. (Interested in other names? Is your name unusual? Write about it to Dr. Reynolds, care of this paper.)

"Maybe a woman who doesn't gossip doesn't have any friends to speak of."

WINTER OF DISCONTENT

AN AUTHOR has written of the "winter of discontent." Certain it is that we are accustomed to think of winter as trying and difficult. We speak of bitter weather, of ice and snow and of frozen solitudes.

But let us not overlook the joys that come with the season and the great days it brings — of Christmas with holy thoughts of the coming of Christ and the renewed hope of peace and a better world, of New Year with its thoughts of brighter days to come, and then of the days when all the family has been gathered together as on no other days of the year. Then let us thank God for the freezing weather that brings the loved ones together.

And give much time to communion with the Heavenly Father and to thought of your great part in the world around you. Instead of the winter of discontent, winter can be the blessed time to renew one's strength and become strong for the tasks that shall come with the days ahead.
