

Voters Meet Candidates At Town Hall

It's Town Hall Tonight! These were familiar words to radio listeners of a decade or more ago—but it's something new in Plymouth which a group of public-spirited citizens hope will become a permanent fixture.

It will be "Town Hall Tonight" (Thursday, March 28) at Plymouth high school where candidates for Plymouth city offices and one representing Canton township will appear to make themselves known to the electors.

Sponsored by the Area Cooperation Group, Town Hall Tonight is the first event of its kind attempted here and whether it continues or not will be up to the voters themselves.

The program is designed to give voters a chance to actually get to know the people that are seeking public office. An emphasis will be placed on the candidates' thinking concerning cooperation among governments of the area.

The audience will be given a chance to ask questions by writing their questions on slips of paper which will be submitted to the candidates through a moderator.

Held in the high school gymnasium, the program will start at 8 p.m. Candidates attending will be J. Rusling Cutler, Harry Draper, Harold Guenther, Carl Shear and Richard Wernette, all candidates for the city commission; George Witkowski, candidate for the Wayne County Board of Supervisors; and John Flodin, Canton township clerk who is representing Supervisor Louis Stein.

While the Plymouth township candidates have no opposition, they were also invited to attend. They have, however, declined the invitation because of a meeting, according to Robert Fitzner, chairman of the meeting. Another candidate for supervisor Russell Daane, has stated that he will be out of town on a business trip. So will William Hartmann, Commission candidate.

Carl Cederberg, WWJ radio and television newscaster, will serve as moderator of the meeting. Having had experience elsewhere in a similar meeting, Cederberg is expected to keep the town meeting on a level much like the town meetings

City Proposition Supported

Monday's ballot will contain a proposition for city voters asking for a one-mill, one-year levy for the purchase of a new fire truck costing between $18,000 and $20,000. In making their decision, electors are undoubtedly considering two basic questions—"Is a new truck necessary?" and "How much will it cost me?"

Most voters aren't mechanics and are not going to the fire stations to poke their heads under the two ancient trucks which the city wants to turn out to pasture. They'll have to take the word of someone else that the 32-year-old American-LaFrance pumper has seen better days (newer ones are in museums) and the wartime Dodge pumper "loaned" by the state in 1945 also offers limited fire security.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister says flatly that he cannot trust volunteer help in operating the old pumper. In fact, when its picture was taken for this page Tuesday it had to be hand-cranked to get it started. And it is not sound business to sink more hundreds of dollars in the other truck when it doesn't even belong to the city. The chief calls both trucks "mechanically unsound." Besides these two, the city has one front-line truck, 1954 pumper; a 1936 Seagrave service ladder truck and a 1954 rescue squad truck.

After following fires religiously for many years and seeing the equipment work close-up, The Mail is willing to second the statement that the two trucks in question are not worthy of offering good fire protection.

The question of cost will affect the decisions of many. No one wants increased taxes and three city commissioners voted against placing the proposition on the ballot mainly for this reason. However, if approved, the levy cannot continue longer than one year. The average Plymouth home is assessed at $3,300. His "extra" tax next December would be $3.30—or the cost of a carton and a half of cigarettes. Businessmen and owners of industry would pay the bulk of the bill—and, they have more to lose in case of fire.

There are other questions some may ask. Why can't the truck be bought on time? The first suggestion is impossible, we find. There are no spare funds at this time nor are any expected. The second idea is possible. Time payment buying can be arranged, but the city manager points out that would stall other capital improvements, such as a street sweeper which the city needs badly now.

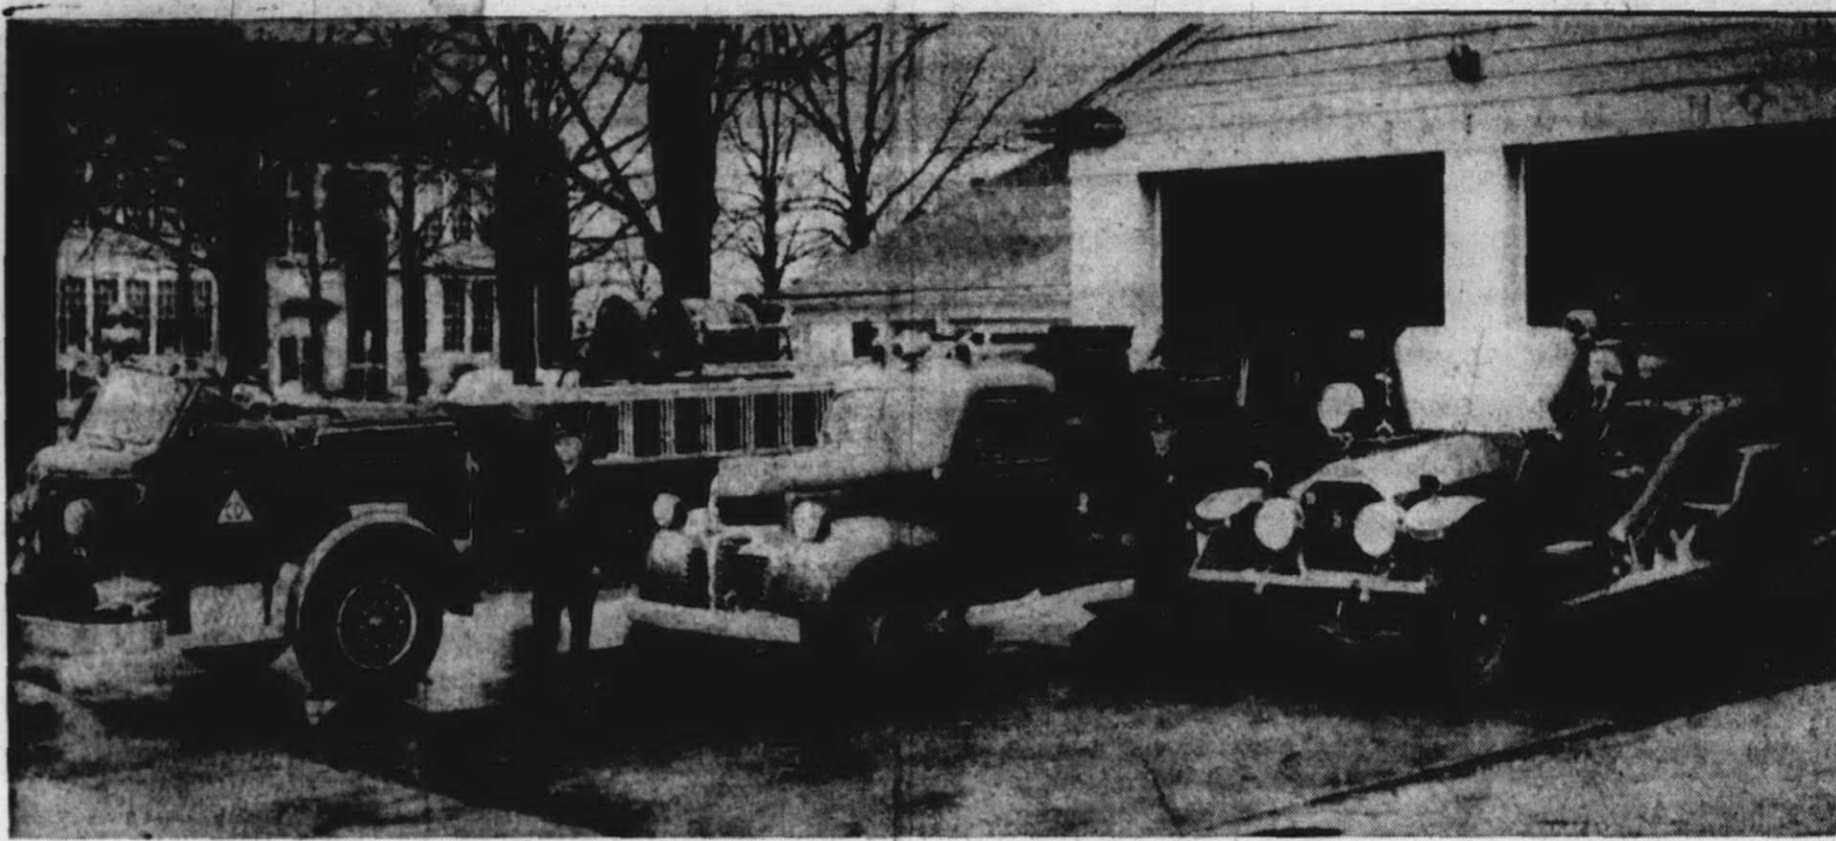

The Mail believes that an over-all "package" capital improvement plan could solve much of the city's recurring money struggles. It probably would mean a tax increase for several years, but it would provide progress and would eliminate this hand-to-mouth spending for necessities.

But while commissioners think that over, there is no use patching-up our fire equipment any longer. We recommend a "Yes" vote on the ballot proposition this Monday.

Commission Races, Levy Highlight Election

IN A PICTURE, this is what the city's ballot proposition is about. If approved, a one-mill, one-year levy would purchase a fire pumper, similar to the one shown at left. The city would then return the state-owned 1945 pumper in center and dispose of the 32-year-old pumper at right. There are two other trucks, a 1936 ladder service truck and rescue squad truck.

Township Candidates Need But One Vote

A race among six men for four city commission seats, competition for a county board of supervisors representative from the city and a one-mill levy are expected to stir up enough "grass-roots" interest to get perhaps 1,500 city voters to the polls next Monday.

But in Plymouth township—where candidates have no opposition—election workers can hardly expect a stampede. Names of the local candidates will appear on the ballot, but it will take only one vote to get them into office.

The Plymouth township situation developed last December 31 when the deadline for filing for office arrived. Only one person filed for each office—all Republicans. To make their election final and legal, they must receive at least one vote next Monday.

Many township people and city electors too are expected to turn out due to the name of the fellow resident whose name is on the ballot, George E. Bowles, Plymouth Colony resident and a candidate for circuit court judge in Wayne county, is trying to regain the office he has held since January. He is facing seven others in the contest for four offices.

Polis will open at 7 p.m. and close at 8 p.m. None of the polling places have changed in either the city or township. Those voting for the first time wishing to know their polling place are advised to either ask a next door neighbor or phone the clerk of their township or city.

Looking at the city election, city electors must decide on a one-mill proposition for the purchase of a fire engine, in addition to the candidates for the city commission and board of supervisors.

The proposition reads: "Shall the total tax rate limitation of the City of Plymouth, Michigan, be increased by the amount of one mill per dollar upon the assessed valuation of all real and personal property in the city for one year only, the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1957, for the purpose of acquiring additional fire-fighting equipment or apparatus."

If approved, the levy would raise about $18,000. The city wants to purchase a fire truck similar to the one purchased in 1954 and to dispose of two which Fire Chief Robert McAllister calls "mechanically unsound."

One of the trucks is a 1925 American-LaFrance and the other a 1945 Dodge pumper. The Dodge was loaned to the city by the state during World War II and can be recalled at any time, the chief points out. Both have had extensive repairs and need much more, he added.

There are two incumbents in the city commission race—J. Rusling Cutler, who won a two-year term in 1955, and Harold Guenther, who was appointed to fill an unexpired term four years ago.

They face some tough competition, including two men who have served as commissioners and mayors. Carl Shear and William Hartmann have both served on the commission before. Also widely-known are Harry Draper, a local businessman, and Richard Wernette, a deputy probate court clerk.

The three top vote-pullers Monday will receive four-year terms, while the fourth-place winner will get a two-year term. Little, if any, campaigning has been seen in the commission race. With pay at $5 per meeting, candidates see little profit in any type of campaigning which might cost money. Some friends, however, have done campaigning in behalf of some of the candidates.

There are two candidates seeking the one vacancy on the board of supervisors representing the city of Plymouth. They are George Witkowski, who has been active in many civic projects, and Russell Daane, mayor of Plymouth for five years and on the commission a total of six years.

Both Mayor Daane and Mayor Pro Tem Ernest Henry are ineligible to seek re-election because of a charter amendment prohibiting more than two consecutive terms. The board of supervisors term is six years.

The ballot as seen on voting machines are again in red, white and blue. The white section denotes the partisan offices, such as those running for the state and township offices.

On the blue part of the panel are the non-partisan races, such as the judicial and city offices. Only the city electors will have a red section on the voting machine panel. This indicates the proposition.

At the biennial spring election two years ago there were 1,114 going to the polls in the city and 795 in the township.

Reverend Hoencke is chairman of the General Board for Foreign Missions of the Lutheran church, Wisconsin Synod. He and two other ministers are flying to Japan to inspect missions which opened there five years ago.

The party will also look for new mission opportunities. Reverend Hoencke will be gone about three weeks.

Accompanying the Plymouth minister will be Reverend Oscar Naumann of St. Paul, Minnesota, general president of the Synod, and Reverend Harry Shiley of Milwaukee, chairman of the Japan board of missions.

180-Home Site Purchased

Another large home development for Plymouth to be located on the remaining acreage of the city-annexed Roderick Cassidy farm was announced this week. It will contain 180 homes.

The Madison Construction Corp., builders of homes in the metropolitan Detroit area for 16 years, has purchased about 42 acres of the Cassidy farm and expects to erect its first model home after the plat is approved by the city planning commission, perhaps next month.

The land is located south of the proposed Western Electric Co. plant on Sheldon road.

Lester Burton, president of the construction company, and William Hull, vice-president, said that they will have a diversity of homes. There will be split-level, colonial and ranch styles. Their first will be a tri-level model.

Cost of the homes will range between $20,000 and $25,000, the company officers added. The firm will sell both the homes and lots, not the lots alone.

The company officers appeared before the planning commission last Thursday night with a tentative plat. Planners turned the plat over to their consultants, Waring and Johnson, for study. It may be approved at next month's meeting and work started immediately.

In conformity to the city subdivision ordinance, the project will have paved streets, sidewalks and all utilities.

Purchase of the 42 acres for the subdivision brings to an end the disposition of the annexed farm. City residents voted overwhelmingly on November 1, 1955 to annex the 85-acre farm belonging to Roderick Cassidy.

Early last year, the Western Electric Co. purchased 50 acres near the C & O Railroad for its plant site. Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy have been seeking buyers for the remainder of the property ever since—except for about three acres on which their own home is located.

Car Crash into Bridge Injures Three Youths

Three Plymouth area youths were injured and the car in which they were riding heavily damaged when it struck a bridge abutment and finally a tree on Northville road early last Sunday morning.

Remaining in "critical" condition at Wayne County General Hospital is Robert Lewis, 21, of 11290 Gold Arbor, driver of the car. Released with minor injuries were Don Byers, 23, of 41951 Five Mile, and Frank Briolat, 21, of 1141 Schoolcraft.

Sheriff's authorities said that the car was going south on Northville road and hit the abutment on the left side of the Rouge river bridge north of Phoenix Lake. The car then careened into a tree. Lewis, who has a fractured jaw, has been unable to state how the accident happened, sheriff's deputies said.

This is the last regular concert of the current season and the second concert to be played in the orchestra's newly-constructed shell. The shell will be presented to the president of the school board during intermission time by the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Round-up of Stray Dogs Starts Tomorrow

The city is dusting off its dog cage today and this weekend will begin its search for all stray canines, Police Chief Kenneth Fisher announced.

Mounted on a pick-up truck, the cage will transport all stray dogs to the city dog pound and there await a claim by owners, the chief added.

The round-up is being started to remind dog owners that ordinance forbids dogs from running at large. Complaints have become so frequent in the past week that police and other city officials have decided to take immediate steps.

Rabid Skunk Shot; Warn Dog Owners

A warning to dog owners in the Warren-Gotfredson road area was issued this week by State Police and county health officials following the shooting last week of a rabid skunk in the area.

Robert Harteg, 99010 Warren road, shot the skunk after it attacked his dog in its pen. Harteg, who is a junior high science teacher at Wayne, called state police who took the skunk to the University of Michigan where it was learned that it was rabid.

The Harteg dog is being held by a veterinarian for observation. It is not known if the dog was actually bitten.

In fear that the skunk may have attacked other dogs, State Police and Wayne County Department of Health officials are urgently warning dog owners in the area to keep their dogs tied for the next week.

Canton Politics Boil Down To 'Ins' Versus 'Outs'

In Canton township Monday it will be the "ins" versus the "outs" instead of Democrats against Republicans.

"Parties don't mean much here," in a comment Supervisor Louis Stein said. "We've got a good board now and we want to keep it."

The board is now composed of Stein, a Republican; Clerk John Flodin, a Democrat; Treasurer Martha Ketchum, a Republican; Trustee Philip Dingley, a Democrat; and Trustee Elmer Schultz, a Republican.

The "outs" are led by Robert Waldecker, a Democrat, who served twice as supervisor and was beaten so closely by Stein in the last two elections that recounts were asked. Also trying to gain office are:

Clerk, Henretta Burch, Republican; treasurer, Colburn Dennis, Jr., Democrat; trustee, Ernest Plant, Republican; and trustee, Maxwell Allen, Democrat.

There are also candidates for the board of review, justice of the peace, constable, and highway commissioner.

Over in Salem township, it's a different story. All Republicans are now in office led by Supervisor William Scheel. He is being met by Democrat William Young. Other Democrats knocking at the door are Fred Verran and C. E. Grimes, candidates for trustee. Clerk Grant Currie and Treasurer Howard Ingall are unopposed. Republican trustee candidates are Arthur Hamilton and Edwin Hamilton.

Spring styles may change but a standard look for the next few weeks is the blank look. This is what earnest taxpayers get from puzzling over what is officially known as Form 1040. Keeping all the facts and figures straight is a chore that has many a breadwinner talking back to echoes.

But I understand that the folks in the Internal Revenue Service are in a jolly mood as April 15, the day of reckoning rolls 'round. It seems someone in the I.R.S. has dashed off a ditty with the title, "The Red White and Blue Can't Live on Your I.O.U." There is another one with a more sentimental thought: "I Am Waiting for Your Return." However, I think that old favorite, "I'll Be Down to Get You for Your Taxes Money," is tough to beat in any way you look at it.

Baseball, Track, Golf, Tennis Start Spring Training Session

The four major spring sports have started their workouts with over 150 students vying for positions as starters. This season finds Coach Mike Hoben added to the list of mentors with hopes of improving last season's 9-3 baseball record. Keith Baughman is back for his sixth year as track coach, John Sandmann will instruct the golfers, while Bob Smith gives his assistance in tennis.

BASEBALL

Coach Mike Hoben is wasting no time in getting his varsity baseball squad whipped into shape. Last Monday, March 25, Coach Hoben cut his team to seventeen players with many more playing on the JV team coached by Bill Brown.

Heading the list of seventeen hopefuls is team captain John Thomas. Others who made the varsity squad are: Danny Christensen, Ken Calhoun, Bob Clear, Jerry King, Biff Tait, Gary Miard, Jim Dzurus, Bill Hubert, Wayne Jordahl, Ken Knipschild, Dave Walasky, Harvey Wells, Larry Wells, Paul Woodard, Al Runge, and freshman Randy Egloff.

The coach has stated the team may be cut again before the season begins with more players going down to JV. Coach Hoben will have to fill two infield and one outfield position left vacant by graduating seniors. The three senior letter winners were: Paul Cummings, Jerry Foreman, and Jack Carter.

TRACK

Forming the nucleus of this year's varsity track squad will be twelve returning lettermen. They are team captain Dick Showers, Charlie Westover, Henry Mende, Dick Manion, Ron Markham, Myron Hopper, Tony Monte, Paul Cummings, Jeff Yeoman, Mel Stephensen, Don Alsbro, and Eddie LaRoache.

Track mentor Keith Baughman is planning to shift events where the strength is in order to improve on last year's 3-2 record. Plymouth, who completely dominated the league a few years ago, finished third in the league last season.

The freshmen who will be making their bid for the varsity are: Bill Brown, Allen Davies, Art Helm, Dave Hauk, Tom Raymer, Bill Ruehr, Bob Stahelin, David Swain, James Bojcek, and Peter Walton.

GOLF

As is the case in every other sport this spring Coach John Sandmann had an unexpected large turn out for his golfing team. Coach Sandmann who anticipated between 10 and 20 has almost forty signed up.

The linksters will get under way about the first of April with the first dual meet coming up April 8th against Bentley. Returning from last year's third place squad are Skip Rambo, Tom Carmichael, Gary Wilson, Staton Lorenz, and Kurt Atchison.

TENNIS

Bob Smith, who's going into his second year as varsity tennis coach, will attempt to surpass his first year's record of 4-4. Coach Smith was ripped by the loss of eight letter winners. The eight players included captain and four year man Jerry Steele, Lee Huber, Dave Tillison, Jim Gibson, Charles Moisio, Paul Rimer, Reed Mason, and George Losse.

Newly elected captain Fred Libbing will have the assistance of four returning lettermen, Doug Rowe, Bob Kimmittz, Mike Stickney, and Art Losse.

Plymouth's first match will be against Trenton on the home courts April 18th.

Sports Seen

By Bob Young

I've considered myself one of the most fortunate sportswriters in the state of Michigan. Why? you may ask. Well let's take a look at the sports, both high school and recreation, which the Plymouth area has to offer. As is the usual case football, basketball, and baseball, have been in prominence for quite a few years. The local area has recently been graced with a beautiful, modern pool to provide swimming, and combine with cross country, track, golf, and tennis.

The Plymouth recreation department have representatives in just about all of these areas and are now expanding in a small but slow way into hockey, badminton, and a rod club. Now ask again why I consider myself lucky. Although we have this wonderful offering of activities I still would like to see a few more added to our collection. Some of the sports I think would go over in our home town are: fencing, gymnastics, wrestling, boxing, soccer, archery, and rifle clubs, and one of our ex-activities, the decathlon.

For as far back as I can remember the high school teams have been in the first division in our league in just about all of these sports, and if they were to introduce some of these new ones they would certainly get in on the ground floor, and become powerhouses. This is the way we want our Sports Seen-sly little plug.

The 1957 state high school basketball tournaments provided many thrills and spills with two of my four prophecies coming true. Muskegon Heights, my first choice, repeated as the number one Class round of the playoffs. The Heights triumph ran their winning streak to 26 straight.

Walled Lake, my choice for Class B honors, was downed in the semi-finals by Harper Woods, my number two choice. Negaunee, the team, I thought might provide a few thrills, turned out to be the title winners, as they continued to play the roll of giant killers with effectiveness. Negaunee downed last year's champion Stephensen team then moved on to down Lansing Resurrection and finally Harper Woods.

In the Class C finals a team I didn't even mention pulled through with the championship after downing schools like Grayling and Kalamazoo Christian. The new title holder is Lakeview.

Chassell upped my percentage as they came through with an easy victory in the Class D tournaments, and ran their victory string to 39. Chassell's record of 25-0 made them the winningest team in the state.

A Plymouth doubles team of Josephine Palmer and Ernie Koi have placed in 13th position in the Annual Free Press mixed doubles bowling tournament concluded this past week-end at Palmer Recreation in Detroit. Mrs. Palmers' 509 series, coupled with Ernie Kois' 612 plus their handicap of 151 pins, gave them a total of 1274, good enough to land them amongst the leaders.

Another column has been added to your paper and this one is on travel. Travel is a very popular subject, and you'll find hardly anyone who isn't interested in it. The Travel Centre, your travel headquarters, opens April 1 on the ground floor of the Mayflower Hotel, and its doors will NEVER close. Why? All we have to sell is service and that should be available 24 hours a day. You are invited to come in at any time and browse around, look at all the colorful folders, travel books and magazines.

Many people wonder how a travel service operates. I don't know how other travel agents run their business, but I can tell you how I run mine. The service of The Travel Centre is yours for the asking, without charge. All you have to do is pick up the phone, say "3586" and tell us what you need in travel, whether it's hotel reservations in New York or Cleveland, air reservations to Chicago or Paris, tour reservations to Europe. . . in fact, anything in travel. Remember again, there is no additional charge. You do not have to make long distance phone calls, wait at the airport for your tickets or go into Detroit for your arrangements. Your Travel Centre takes care of all the details for you.

What's new in travel? Well, if you long for some sunshine and relaxation, there's still time to get on the Mauretania, sailing April 6, for a 15-day cruise in the Caribbean. Rates start at $395 from New York. Maybe you'd like to see Europe in the spring. The Caronia leaves May 11 for 38 days of cruising in the Mediterranean with 12,000 miles of cruising at 16 ports. Rates start at $975. Ask for colorful brochure on all cruises.

If you like to fly, come at 8 p.m. tonight to our film presentation in the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel. You'll see two pictures by Scandinavian Airlines, "Flightseeing through Europe," and "Over the Top of the World." There will be door prizes.

If you like music from foreign lands, listen to my radio show, "Travel Time," every Sunday evening at 9 p.m. over WHRV, 1600 on your dial. Remember, for everything in travel, it's The Travel Centre, Mayflower Hotel, telephone 3586.

Sketches of the Candidates

mouth personnel Appeal Board in 1953 and 1954 and was appointed to the city commission to fill an unexpired term in 1954.

If elected, this is what he would like to see accomplished:
"I feel the one compelling problem facing our city is that of developing a plan to expand our tax base and implementing that plan on a continuing basis by actively soliciting the cooperation of our citizens through publicity and education. Our individual needs and their solutions are all related to this encompassing problem and its solution."
"Only by progressively expanding our tax base can we hope to avoid increased taxes. The character of our city is rapidly changing as the population of our city and surrounding area increases, bringing with it costly pressures on all departments of city administration, especially our police and public works departments. The continuing increase in school population will call for more money in equipment and capital outlay."
"It seems obvious our expanding economy with its resulting steady inflationary effect is here to stay. We must keep in mind this situation affects every aspect of our city and school administrations. The salaries of every person working for these two governments must be periodically adjusted upward to compensate for their increased costs of living. It reflects in the price of every piece of equipment and service these two bodies must purchase. It has increased already, to a startling degree, their cost of borrowing money for major projects."
"Since the City of Plymouth is geographically just two square miles and has no land suitable for large industry, we must look to our shopping and service businesses for tax base expansion. The people of Plymouth should be made conscious of the fact the more business transacted in Plymouth, the more taxes will be paid by the business segment of our tax base. The people of Plymouth should shop in Plymouth and encourage our area friends to shop here. It will surely reflect in the cost of their taxes. The merchants of this city should ever be looking for logical and novel ways of attracting more and more people to shop here.

"Our city government of necessity must become an integral and active part of this effort by offering guidance, encouragement and its good offices in the larger problems such as parking; by working closely with the Chamber of Commerce in promoting the expansion of our business district; by working with this newspaper for public enlightenment; by continuing and augmenting the pleasantness and cultural level of our city; by welcoming people to our city through better streets and sidewalks and the beautifying of our parks and city entrances. These and many other ways evolving from cooperation, all designed to create an earned and deserved reputation that "Plymouth is a Good Place to Shop."

WILLIAM C. HARTMANN
Another former mayor and commissioner in Monday's commission race is William C. Hartmann, 383 Blunk. He came to Plymouth in 1936 where he is a member of the Presbyterian church, the Masons and Kiwanis. Before moving to Michigan, he lived in New York City, his birthplace, and graduated from the Sales Analysis Institute there.
From 1924 to 1926 he was justice of the Peace of Munguagon township, Michigan. He was appointed to the commission in 1948, re-elected in 1949. He was elected mayor in April 1949.
Hartmann, 61, is manager of the Sinclair Refining company's operations and credits for the state of Michigan.
"Regarding what I would like to see accomplished," the candidate declared, "I would like to see the city continue the paving program, particularly in the older portions of the city."
"I would also like to see the sewerage program brought to a conclusion. And I would like to see the city continue to be a pleasant place in which to live, brought about by strict enforcement of the zoning laws."
"There should be closer application to the cleanliness of the city streets, development of the parks, preservation of the trees, adequate protection at the rail crossings and a reduction of taxes."

CARL SHEAR
No stranger to politics is Carl Shear, 735 South Main, who became a Plymouth resident in 1923. He graduated from Gutchess Business college and for 10 years operated a general store. He headed the local Buick agency for 32 years, was chairman of the board of directors of the Peoples State Bank at Redford for 12 years, secretary-treasurer of International Corn Products Corp. for two years and has been secretary-treasurer of the Mayflower Hotel since 1930.
His political background began as Redford township clerk for five years. He served on the commission when Plymouth was a village (1925-28), and two more terms as a city commissioner (1943-46). He was mayor for two terms and four years on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.
Shear, 69, is a charter member and past president of Rotary and member and past president of the Chamber of Commerce. If elected, he would like to accomplish the following:
"Our city government is a business and it belongs to the people

Kiwanis Plans Pancake Feed

Pancakes drowned in butter and maple syrup will be the tempting meal for hundreds of Plymouthites this Saturday as the Kiwanis club serves its annual Pancake Festival at the Masonic Temple.
Whether a person likes their pancakes for breakfast, at noon or for the evening meal, Kiwanians will be able to serve them up. The festival opens at 7 a.m. and closes at 7 p.m. Also on the menu will be sausage and coffee or milk.
Assistant Postmaster Ernest Henry will be the chief cook while mixing the huge quantities of batter will be Marvin Terry, local baker. Last year around 850 attended the festival.

selves before the question and answer period.
As a director member of the Michigan Township Officers Association which is opposing the bill. Last week the Plymouth city commission adopted a resolution supporting the bill and telegraphed their decision to Lansing.
Appearing Tuesday with Lindsay before the Conservation committee concerning the no-hunting bill were Township Attorney Earl Demel and State Representative Sterling Eaton of Plymouth.

and should be operated like any successful business is run. However, if you don't have enough money to operate it successfully, you can raise your profits (if competition will let you), or you can cut overhead.
"In government they know at the beginning of the year how much tax money they are going to receive and there are two alternatives, either cut out some expenses or become more efficient or find a way to raise more money. My observations have been that they spend an awful lot of time figuring ways and means to raise money and not enough time on how to make each department of government more efficient."
"Looking at parking, some feel that it is up to industry and commercial business to furnish their own. I agree—wherever it is possible, but there are some instances where it is not possible for businesses to do this economically. Government should step in and furnish parking so that we do not have blighted business areas. All parking should be metered so that the user pays his share.
"Utilities must furnish services to meet peak loads, but Plymouth's parking does not do this. I think in those areas where it is economically unsound to furnish parking that the businessman will be more than willing to stand his share of the costs. Detroit, Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Wayne have all gone into the parking business because they don't want blighted business areas and the public could not do the job individually.
Concerning cooperation with the township of Plymouth, I think, it is time for these two communities to get together and try to solve some of their problems on a mutual basis. If local businessmen had to depend upon the business they receive from the people of the city, every one of them would close their doors.
The township and city have many problems which I think can be worked out on a mutual basis, such as water and sewer, fire protection, policing and probably some others, with a saving to the taxpayers of both communities."

RICHARD H. WERNETTE

For 16 years Richard H. Wernette has been a deputy register in the Wayne County Probate Court. He moved to Plymouth in 1951 and lives at 387 Adams. He attended Ferris Institute and received a law degree from the University of Detroit.
At First Presbyterian church, Wernette has been an elder and was chairman of the board of deacons last year. He was also secretary of the Men's Brotherhood. He is a member of the executive board of Local 595, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees and is a delegate to the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor.

Wernette is also on the executive board of the Bird School P.T.A. and a member of the State Bar of Michigan. In 1937-38, he was a justice of the peace.
"Whether I'm elected or not," the candidate stated, "I would like to see the following things accomplished for this community:
"First, and by far the most important of all, cooperation between the city and the surrounding townships. I think this is basic for the orderly development of this area."
"Second, and this is contingent upon the first, our water and sewer needs should be solved by cooperation between all the political units in this area on a single comprehensive area wide plan."
"Third, the formulation of a definite plan for signals at our unprotected rail crossings and the elimination of one or more of the most used ones as soon as possible."
"Fourth, a thorough re-examination of our parking problem and the steps we are taking to solve it."
"Fifth, taking the necessary steps to accommodate the added traffic that will be going to and from the new Western Electric plant in the northwest part of the city. It would seem that the paving and resurfacing of Farmer street should be among the first things necessary to do so."
"Sixth, it is my impression that the condition of the surface of most of our streets is much below what it should be. A definite plan should be formulated for improving them as rapidly as feasible."
"Lastly, our school needs will become much greater in the near future. This is the problem of our school board however I feel they should have the aid and assistance of our city and township governments in every way possible."

RUSSELL M. DAANE

After completing six years on the city commission, Russell M. Daane is turning his attention to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors. Five of those years have been as mayor. He also served on the city charter commission (1950-51).
Daane, who lives at 530 Garfield, is comptroller and assistant secretary of the Daisy Manufacturing Company. He graduated from Michigan State in Plymouth he belongs to Rotary, of which he is a past president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer; is a past commander of American Legion Post No. 32 (now No. 391), and is a member of the advisory committee for the National Bank of Detroit.
He attained the rank of lieutenant commander in the Naval Reserves during World War II. Daane came to Plymouth in 1935 as executive vice-president of the Plymouth United Savings bank

GEORGE WITKOWSKI

Although he has been a resident of Plymouth only since 1949, George Witkowski has taken active part in civic affairs. He started the Plymouth Dental Laboratory in September 1946 and now lives at 1116 Palmer.
He has been president and secretary of the Lions club, is now a member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, was Community Chest general chairman (1954-55) and member of the Community Chest board of directors (1953-55). He has also served on the Salvation Army Advisory board. He belongs to Our Lady of Good Counsel church.
During World War II, Witkowski served four years in the Navy. He graduated from the Williams School of Prosthetics of Buffalo, New York.
"My reason for running for supervisor" Witkowski explained, is this:
"1. To get new blood into the office and try to give the government back to the people where it belongs."
"2. Make this area something all of the people will be proud of."
"3. Last, but far from the least is to try healing old wounds that have been created in this area."

where he served until joining Daisy in 1946.
If elected to the Board of Supervisors, Daane states that he will do his best "to represent all of the people of the city with their interests in mind at all times."
"If elected, I intend to be regular in attendance at meetings of the city commission, the planning commission and the zoning board of appeals, time-consuming as it may be, so that I may continue to have all this information available at all times first-hand, enabling me to better represent the people of the city, whom I serve. My six years of experience on the commission, coupled with continued attendance at all meetings will, I feel, give me a broader view of local and county problems, and provide me with the knowledge and vision to properly represent the city."
"A new and enlarged county sewer to serve this section of Wayne County is but one of the many problems facing the county government today."
"The present Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer will soon prove inadequate. A new and enlarged county sewer will then be vitally necessary. Just as the city manager and I carefully checked the method of assessment for the present sewer system and thereby saved the taxpayers approximately $25,000, so will the manager and I carefully check any proposed assessment plan for a new sewer, to protect the taxing public."
"While the enlarged county water system is projected, and may not benefit this area for ten or fifteen years, some progress may be made in the next four years, and the progress of this development should be pursued with interest."
"The State of Michigan taxing authorities have recently interested themselves in tax equalization. It is a well known fact that the assessment base in the cities of Wayne County and the townships of Wayne County are not the same. In our case, with a community school system embracing the City of Plymouth, the Township of Plymouth, and the Township of Canton, uniform assessments are vitally necessary, and efforts toward equalization at county level are important."

WHY DO SHOES HAVE HEELS?

To assume that our feet need heels one must assume that God gave us a heelbone that is too short. It is hardly a safe assumption to make. Children get around beautifully in their bare feet. Their heelbones are just as long in winter as they are in summer.
Primitive man had the best reason for wearing heels. He or Mrs. Primitive made his foot covering of skins, as we do, except that the only way they had to tan the leather was to chew it. In no time at all the heel wore through and once it was worn out it was difficult to patch. Some jaw-weary caveman put the patch on when he made the shoe and when the patch wore through he still had a shoe that could be fixed. From that common sense beginning we have drifted upward until we raise the heel of a three year old a half inch, a six year old an inch, and the really stylish shoes for women hit three inches.
One and a half inch heels used to be considered as necessary as a good strong corset. Fortunately young people have their feet on the ground.
They wear heels for dress occasions but most of the time they wear sport shoes or moccasins which, if fitted with toe freedom, do not hurt a normal foot. Boys especially are fortunate in that all their shoes have low heels and broad toes which give the foot freedom of movement for maximum comfort.

Information never before published in a Biblical reference book or atlas is included in a new and completely different Bible Atlas just off the press of Rand McNally & Company, Chicago.
Utilizing information gleaned from archaeological excavations in the Holy Land reported only three months ago, Rand McNally has produced the most complete Biblical study of its kind.
Authored by Dr. Emil K. Kraeling, noted scholar and Biblical authority, the 488-page book maintains a continuous beginning-to-end historical narrative to the Great Book, with special emphasis on places, people, and events.
The Bible Atlas also includes 40 pages of full-color maps, about 200 photographs obtained from all parts of the world, and 50 black and white maps.
Holds In School Work
This volume makes its debut at a particularly significant time. As all the world focuses attention on the Middle East, a land shrouded in the fascination of yesterday, the Bible Atlas unveils the Holy Land in the light of modern-day discoveries.
For example, the book places the exact location of Gibeon, a Biblical mystery until archaeological findings were reported only three months ago; gives the exact date of the first fall of Jerusalem as found in the newly-discovered Chronicle of Nebuchadnezzar; and utilizes the most recent findings in the Dead Sea Scrolls which relate to the Bible.
Produced as a guide to interpret names, places, and events contained in the Holy Scriptures, the Bible Atlas serves as an excellent continuing reference to the layman, clergyman, or Biblical college, or high school student.

ORDINANCE NO. 217

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 159 ENTITLED "AN ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE SUBDIVISION OF LAND, PROVIDING FOR THE PROCEDURE FOR THE PREPARATION AND FILING OF PLATS, TENTATIVE APPROVAL OF PRELIMINARY PLATS, SUBMISSION OF RECORD OR FINAL PLATS, HEARING AND FINAL APPROVAL OF THE PLAT BY THE PLANNING COMMISSION AND THE CITY COMMISSION; PROVIDING FOR PLATTING REGULATIONS AND REQUIREMENTS IN REGARDS TO CONFORMITY TO THE CITY PLAN, STREETS, ALLEYS, EASEMENTS, MONUMENTS, BLOCK LOTS, OPEN SPACE, USE OF LAND AND UTILITIES AND IMPROVEMENTS; PROVIDING FOR THE ENFORCEMENT AND IMPOSING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE."

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. Section 3.10 of Ordinance No. 159, entitled "An ordinance establishing regulations governing the subdivision of land; Providing for the procedure for the preparation and filing of plats, tentative approval of preliminary plats, submission of record or final plats, hearing and final approval of the plat by the Planning Commission and the City Commission; Providing for plating regulations and requirements in regards to conformity to the city plan, streets, alleys, easements, monuments, block lots, open space, use of land and utilities and improvements; Providing for the enforcement and imposing penalties for the violation of this ordinance" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 3.10 UTILITIES AND IMPROVEMENTS.

(a) Street Surfacing, Sidewalks, Sewer and Water. A plat will not be approved or dedication of a street accepted unless the following improvements are made or a bond furnished to guarantee the improvements.

The installation of storm sewers and sanitary sewers, storm water inlets, house connections from sewers to beyond the curb location, water mains with house connections to beyond the curb location, off-street parking facilities in conjunction with business lots, sidewalks and the construction of roadways to the approved grade, together with street curbs, gutters and street pavements of concrete or bituminous concrete. House connections from sewers to beyond the curb location for storm sewers shall be required where soil of poor absorptive capacity exists. Where soil of good absorptive capacity exists, and on recommendation of the City Engineer, the Planning Commission may waive the requirements for house connections from sewers to beyond the curb location for storm sewers. Plans and specifications must be approved by the City Engineer. The fee for so reviewing plans and specifications will be in the amount of one and one-half (1 1/2%) per cent of the estimated cost of construction. Such fees shall be paid by the proprietor to the City Treasurer on or before the date of submission of the improvement plans and may be used for the purpose of engaging the aid of engineering consultants. The cost of improvements shall be determined by the City Manager. Fee adjustment will be allowed at determination of final actual cost of construction as determined by the City Manager. The construction must be carried out under the direction of the Office of the City Engineer in strict accordance with standard city specifications for the various kinds of improvements, as established by ordinance or resolution adopted by the City Commission. The City Engineer will assign a city inspector to the work for such time as may be necessary to insure full compliance with specifications, and the fees for those inspection services shall be two (2%) per cent of the estimated cost of construction of the improvement. Such fees shall be paid by the proprietor prior to construction and may be used to defray the costs of day to day inspection and the expense of engaging consulting engineers in connection with the inspection of said improvements. Fees will be adjusted upon determination of final actual cost of construction as determined by the City Manager.

(b) Off-street Parking for Business Use. Off-street parking facilities on the basis of one parking space, exclusive of drives or aisles giving access thereto, shall be provided for each two hundred (200) square feet of platted business area.

(c) Street Signs. When in the opinion of the Planning Commission the identity of any street appears desirable, the establishment of street signs of the same type and design in general use within the community may be required.

(d) Street Trees. Wherever the Planning Commission deems it desirable in order to insure continuity of purpose, street trees shall be planted in conformance with a planting plan approved by the Planning Commission.

Section 2. This ordinance shall be operative and effective on the 8th day of April, A.D., 1957.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan on this 18th day of March, A.D., 1957.

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County LIBRARY

MacKinley Kantor, author of "Andersonville," now has another book of his in the Plymouth branch of the Wayne County Library, "Long Remember," a novel of Gettysburg, a great love and an epic struggle.

Winner of the Pulitzer and Harper prizes, H. L. Davis, has written a new one, "The Distant Music," among the new library books. "A House on the Rhine," is Frances Fawcett's story of occupation in post war Germany. Margaret Kennedy's novel "The Wild Swan" has elements of both romance and suspense.

One of the novels which has kept its popularity down through the years, "The House of Seven Gables" by Nathaniel Hawthorne, now has come out in a new edition with illustrations of the author, his environment and the setting of the book.

Along the line of the fantastic yet possible there's "The Best from Fantasy and Science Fiction," edited by Anthony Boucher. His selection of "high, wide and deep" stories range from the serious to the wryly humorous.

Other collections are "Readings on Contemporary Philosophy," edited by James L. Jarrett, Jr., and Sterling M. McMurrin, and "British Authors of the Nineteenth Century" with 1000 biographies and 350 portraits edited by Kunitz and Haycraft.

"Yesterday in Sports," contains a collection of 82 of the most dramatic moments of yesterday in sports, from the eighteenth century race horse to when Brooklyn won, edited by John Durant.

E. O. Harbin's "Fun Encyclopedia" contains 2400 game and entertainment ideas.

For that "handy" man around the house, try getting him "The Family Handyman's Book of Kitchen and Bathroom Ideas," said to make these rooms more beautiful and efficient so you'll get double use for your space. Simple step by step directions are shown for such projects as installing wall cabinets, tile floors, making counter tops and planning a dinette.

But, if there's some who care to carry their adventures beyond the home, there's "Hawaii," Fritz Hemle's photographic story of a dream paradise for millions; "Caves of Mystery," where John Douglas brings subterranean wonders to light as he tells of waterfalls, blind fish, lava tubes and vampire bats; and also Peter Schmid's report on Latin America, "Beggars on Golden Stools," continent of amazing contrasts and exotic variety.

Among the new books are two Nero Wolfe mysteries by Rex Stout, "The Second Confession" and "And be a villain." Other mysteries are Glenn Barnes' "Murder Is Insane," story of the disappearance of a doctor and the murder of his secretary, and "The Crime Is Murder," Helen Nielson's tale of murder at a music festival.

Parent-child relations, a much debated topic, is discussed by Marguerite and Willard Beecher in "Parents on the Run," as they explain the theory that parents as well as children have special needs, and as they justify "commonsense." Dr. Harris B. Peck and Virginia Bellsmith present case histories showing the effectiveness of group and individual therapy with both parent and child in "Treatment of the Delinquent Adolescent."

"French, Self-Taught" gives a direct method of learning conversational French in 24 lessons. AFL and CIO histories from beginning to the present are described by Edward Levinson in "Labor on the March." Introduction is by Walter Reuther. Eric Sloan's "Book of Storms" is also among the new books.

Care of Carving Tools

Without a doubt the carving set in your household will receive much use in the coming few weeks. To get full cooperation from your carving set, give it good care. Keep it separated from other cutlery so the knife will not be dulled or nicked. A good blade needs only occasional sharpening, but it should always be steeled before using.

Wednesday, March 16, troop 28 entertained troop 27 at Allen school, Miss Emmie Pascacia, and Miss Herminia Jondos, Filipino girls who are students at the University of Michigan, talked to the girls about life in the Philippines. They brought materials which they had woven, as well as native costumes, to show to the scouts. They also sang folk songs and demonstrated folk dances. Nona Silber from troop 28 acted as hostess for the evening. Mrs. Hager Gren and Mrs. Albert Horvath are leaders of troop 27 and Mrs. Raymond Ellerholz is leader of troop 28. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, committee member for troop 28.

Brownie troop 18 announces the election of the following officers: Chairman Ruth Woodward; Secretary Mary Holmes; Treasurer Mary McAllister; Publicity Girl Barbara Smith; and Sunshine Girl Ellen Jewell. This troop made an interesting tour of the Bell Telephone offices in Plymouth last month. Mrs. Ross Newton, as well as their leaders Mrs. Harry Larsen and Mrs. Phil Barney, accompanied them on the tour.

New officers of Girl Scout troop 30 are President Sandra Fielden; Vice President Susan Williams; Secretary Laura Edmunds; Treasurer Mary Donnelly; Publicity Girl Nadine Criger; and First Aid Girl Patty Matthias. Saturday, March 9, troop members went to the Ice Show in Detroit. They are planning an over-

Shrimp 'n Dip

Tops in dunkable foods are rosy shrimp cooked with the tails left on for "handles." The secret in shrimp cookery is not to overcook. Boil the shrimp for only three to five minutes in water. Drain and chill the shrimp quickly. When you clean them, either before or after cooking, try to keep the tails intact. Familiar ingredients in just the right quantities make a tasty sauce: To 1 cup of mayonnaise add 1/4 teaspoon black pepper, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Mix all ingredients, chill and serve in a bowl convenient for dunking.

The American flamingo, a relative of the stork family, has an entire plumage of vermillion.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Girl Scout troop 15 is working on the Homemaking badge. At the last meeting each girl told of the holiday traditions in her own family. They recently toured the Farmcrest Dairy in Northville. Mrs. Russell Micol and Mrs. William Rudick, troop leaders, are teaching the girls how to make shadow boxes.

Girl Scout troop 8 entertained Monday, March 25, the following pre-school "future Girl Scouts": Cindy Kuhns, Patricia Parks, Susan and Mary Lytle, Judy Crackle and Judy Stevens. Games were played and refreshments served. The girls made stuffed toys and gave them to the younger children as gifts. This project was in partial completion of the Child Care badge. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Ray Heldreth and Mrs. John Park.

Mrs. Harold Shirey announces that the following girls have passed their swimming tests and are eligible for the Girl Scout swimming badge: F. Carey, E. Elleson, J. Gulbransen, N. Kunkel, J. Light, K. Lindroth, S. Stremick, C. Strasen, L. Parks, S. Stokes, S. Terry, S. Neal, S. Larkin, M. Hulsing, S. Tichy, B. Utter, R. N. Steele, C. Couture, K. Kaunisto, R. Fornwald, J. Krumm, N. Rubey, J. THE MAN WHO OWNED MOBY DICK

It was actually a too-big car. At gas pumps, it drank like a fish. So he called it "Moby Dick."

It even had fins like a fish. Parking it was like trying to squeeze a whale into a goldfish bowl.

He thought about trading "Moby" for an economical little foreign car. It was too little for 5 kids.

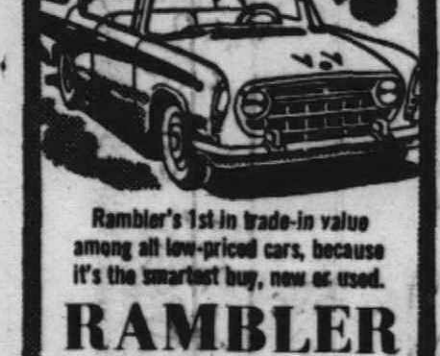

So he bought Rambler, only car with room for six 6-footers, plus European car economy, handling ease.

32 MILES PER GALLON

It was a Rambler "6" that set the NASCAR cross country record of 32 miles per gallon with overdrive.

Rambler's 1st in trade-in value among all low-priced cars, because it's the smartest buy, now or used.

LANSING REPORTING

By JOHN SWANSON (State Senator)

Undoubtedly, people who live in such communities as our Redford and Plymouth townships found themselves chuckling as they read that an expert on urban planning had predicted that Lansing would be annexed to the city of Detroit in the future. Since his prediction was based on a very long-range, distant look at the future, and was based on many "ifs", we need not be immediately concerned.

There is, however, considerable discussion taking place on the subject of annexation of townships to cities. Obviously, the most basic problem involved is money—money for services. As the need for increased service becomes apparent, there are arguments on both sides of the picture, for and against annexation.

Annexation, in the long run, means expanded income for the city involved. Occasionally this only begins to pay for services rendered nearby communities. On the other side of the picture, annexation means increased taxation for the suburban community. This is usually the case.

Aside from the finance questions, there are social and psychological effects on the community which is annexed. To be part of an "independent" group of communities around a metropolitan area is one thing. To become a legal part of a city is another. A township every aspect of the question will differ, not only township by township but also among the people in each of the communities.

Fortunately, for the present, there is statutory provision which makes the opinion of each person, each citizen, count on this issue. A township cannot be swallowed up without having voted for annexation.

A proposal has been announced, however, which would make it possible for a township to be annexed to a larger city or town without polling the residents of that township. It is my considered opinion that most of us would prefer retaining our right to vote on the issue. Regardless whether we favor annexation or not, the right to vote on it, would seem a vital one.

Before the issue becomes the subject of debate in the Legislature, I would like to hear from you on it. Do you prefer to retain the right to vote on annexation; do you prefer to let other authorities make the decision for you? Entirely apart from legislative debate, it is always good to hear from my constituents, by mail or in person. Last week brought visitors to Lansing: the Mayor of Livonia and that community's city council and the Supervisor of Redford Township. Whether you are in Lansing on personal business or visiting, it is always good to see you and I hope all of you will feel free to call on me at the Senate. By all means, however, don't wait for a chance to chat personally; let me know your thinking, suggestions and criticisms by mail as often as possible.

Reservists Study Russian 'Ivan'

"Ivan", the Russian man on the street, was closely studied by discussion and film at a recent meeting of the Plymouth Flight of U.S. Air Force Reserve. Bob Eck led the discussion.

Recent research reports were the main source of data, which revealed that while the Russian Communist Party membership numbers only between six and seven million, party membership is essential for those in strategic positions of leadership in Soviet life.

"The hate America" campaign and the infamous "Iron Curtain" are outgrowths of an ideological policy that plays down accomplishments of foreigners and credits Russians for various inventions and technical advances.

The discussion brought out that the net result of all this is that Ivan and his fellow Soviet citizens have some ideas about America and the West that do not conform with ours. Among these are: "America is aggressive and bent on world domination. This propaganda point has been established by dissociating the American government from the American people. The Soviet press insists that the U. S. government and its foreign policy do not represent the people.

"America is respected for its technology and its material power. The goal of overtaking and surpassing American production was a Soviet slogan from the beginning of the First Five-Year Plan.

"Capitalism is a decadent socio-economic system which survives only by exploitation of the workers and under the artificial stimulation of armament production.

"The standard of living of the rank-and-file American citizen is lower than that in the Soviet Union.

"Americans are materialistic and lack spiritual values. (These criticisms came overwhelmingly from intellectual emigres.)

"Westerners are soft and can't take it.

"All people are not treated alike in America. Certain racial and ethnic groups are discriminated against.

Needless to say, instilling these ideas among the masses is not a simple job. The importance of propaganda in the USSR is indicated by the budget. In 1950, out of a $70,000,000,000 national income, $1,500,000,000 went to propaganda activities.

The Soviet Union has some 6,000 special local schools, in addition to regional and national schools, for training propagandists. Trainees come from every part of the world to attend these schools.

Assembly Shows For Plymouth High Are Announced

A tentative assembly schedule was recently released for the high school.

Included are plans for a talent assembly, Tuesday, April 2, and a fashion show, Tuesday, May 7, by and for junior and senior girls. Scheduled for May are the campaign assembly and the inauguration assembly. The senior farewell assembly will be Wednesday, May 29.

The committee, functioning through the co-operation of the Student Council, is headed by Carol Clarke. Representing the council are Bill Brandell and Shug Watson. Class representatives are Joan Bassett, senior; Kurt Atchinson, sophomore; and Dick Wells, freshman.

New Junior High Positions Filled

At a recent meeting of the Plymouth Junior High faculty, principal William Harding announced the appointment of Mrs. Joan Hayskar to the new position of director of student activities for the new junior high building opening this fall. Mrs. Hayskar will assist in the office during the mornings and teach three classes in the afternoon.

She is a graduate of Albion college, with graduate work done at Northwestern university, University of Michigan and Wayne university. She taught in the junior high 12 years in addition to teaching in the high school at Bangor, Michigan and as an instructor in Iowa Central College in Pella, Iowa.

Miss June Kelly, who is also a junior high teacher, was named counselor for the new group at the same meeting. Miss Kelly has been in the Plymouth system for six years. She is a graduate of Northern Michigan college with graduate work done at the University of Michigan. Both Mrs. Hayskar and Miss Kelly will share the same office.

Who's New in Plymouth

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT G. MELLEM of 11750 Turkey Run looked a long time before finding just the right place to call their home, finally settled in Plymouth and report they are very happy and satisfied. The town's friendliness is one characteristic which especially stands out, according to Mrs. Mellem. Mrs. Mellem, an accomplished organist, plays for the services in the Evangelical Lutheran church of the Epiphany in Plymouth and was a member of the AAUW in Detroit. Photography is a favorite spare-time occupation of Mr. Mellem, a quality control supervisor for the Detroit and Wayne plants of the Minnesota Mining Company. Shown above with their parents are Bobbie, 3, and Kristi, 4. The family moved to Plymouth from Redford township the week before Christmas last year.

ACS Names Chairman Of April Cancer Drive

Appointment of Duanne Sheldon, local insurance man, as chairman of the American Cancer Society's 1957 educational crusade in Plymouth, was announced today. The campaign will begin April 1.

"Last year about 245,000 died of cancer," Sheldon pointed out, "while 80,000 were saved from it. But perhaps 80,000 of the deaths were needless, occurring because the presence of cancer was not detected in time, and treatment was begun too late.

"The public education program of the ACS aims to bring home to all the necessity of periodic physical examinations to avoid such tragedy." He went on to say, "such check ups, on a nation-wide basis, many doctors believe, could enable the saving of twice as many patients as are now cured."

This month's crusade will center on the showing of a film pertaining to lung cancer. The showing date and place will be announced later. A neighbor to neighbor drive will be conducted throughout Plymouth and in some parts of the township. This project was started earlier in Plymouth and to this date has proved very successful as a means of bringing facts about cancer into homes.

One Sunday during April will be designated as cancer Sunday. Congregations of all faiths will be asked to devote a portion of their services and prayers to cancer control. "Religion has a definite place in the fight against cancer," Sheldon said. "Prayer is a strong force for good; it strengthens the morale of the patient and the afflicted family.

The ACS is fighting against a disease that will strike one out of every four persons unless new methods of control are found. The volunteer plays an important part. "There is always room for more workers in our organization," Sheldon said, "and it is hoped that more and more will lend a helping hand.

Headquarters of the drive and of the local ACS unit are 821 Penniman.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

At the last auxiliary meeting officers were elected:
President, Beverly Brown;
senior vice-president, LeMay Smith; junior vice-president, Mildred Dely, treasurer, Gertrude Danol; chaplain, Geraldine Olson; conductress, Loretta Young; guard, Marion Groth; three year trustee, Helen Bowring; and two year trustee, Barbara Nash.

Wayne County council delegates and alternates are Grace Burley and Lucinda Archer, and Dorothy O'Reilly and Geraldine Olson.

Fourth district delegates are LeMay Smith, Loretta Young, Adele Stevens, Mildred Dely, Gertrude Danol, Helen Bowring and Lucinda Archer. Alternates are Bernice Kopsenski, Eleanor Gust, Jean Olson, Betty Neale, Mary Schwartz, Betty Krumm and Barbara Nash.

Installation of officers will be April 9. There will be a practice April 9.

All annual reports must be ready for the next meeting. The ritual team of the ladies' auxiliary to the Wolverine post will present their ritual work, said to be very impressive and worth seeing.

Membership this year is falling behind, since too many have not paid their 1957 dues. Those who can not conveniently go to a meeting in the near future or mail their dues, should contact membership Chairman LeMay Smith. She will have someone stop at their homes.

Mildred Dely and Helen Bowring visited the Veterans hospital March 18, taking Christmas cards with them. They will be glad to have any cards which would otherwise be disposed of. Disabled veterans would appreciate getting books, since most have a great deal of time for reading.

A flag was presented to Girl Scout troop 21. A mattress and cover is being presented to the Cancer Society by the auxiliary for the bed which the society now has.

Information has been given to the schools on the poster contest, which closes April 15. The high school wanted only two essay contests to be active at the same time at the school, and the auxiliary withdrew this year. It is hoped to have one again next year.

Approximately 800 will be fed at the Bird school Round-Up in May, and help will be needed and appreciated. Members are to volunteer if possible.

The cancer committee is to sponsor a card bingo party at the hall April 25, with a showing of the film, "Man Alive." A nurse will be present to answer questions. Tickets are available from Barbara Nash. Donation to the cancer program will be a dollar.

Sunday, June 30, a family picnic is being planned by the post and auxiliary, starting at noon. Dinner will be served from 12:30 to 3 p.m. Menus have been planned for adults and children. Games will be played throughout the afternoon. For tickets, call Mary Schwartz or Bette Neale.

DODGE PowerGiants

Most Power of the Low-Priced 3!

Everybody agrees... the main reason for buying a truck is to haul a payload. That being the case, doesn't it make sense to get the truck that's powered and built to carry the most in its weight class? Of course it does! That's why so many truck owners are switching to Dodge.

Dodge gives you the most powerful V-8's of the low-priced three, ranging from 204-hp. pick-ups to 232-hp. tandems. And Dodge trucks are built especially tough to handle bigger loads. For instance, Dodge pick-ups can haul up to one-third more than other competitive makes.

Dodge makes hauling these bigger loads easier, too. Shorter turning radius lets you needle in and out of tough traffic spots in a jiffy. Power steering is available on most models, and the extra convenience of a push-button transmission* can be yours only with Dodge.

Think it over. After all, it's just plain good business to get the most for your money... and your dealer can prove the most truck for your money is Dodge.

Actual Payload Capacity 1825 lbs.	Actual Payload Capacity 1400 lbs.	Actual Payload Capacity 1500 lbs.

Facts prove the Dodge D100 pick-up beats both competitive low-priced models in payload. Model compared is a Dodge 6, 100 pick-up, 7 1/2-foot body. In larger pick-ups the Dodge lead is even greater.

Cadillac

Old Friends in a New Light!

Let's assume you've known them for some time. And now—in the moment of a glance—you first behold them in the company of a Cadillac car. There's just no question about it... something wonderful happens!

For the presence of a Cadillac car underscores—and most dramatically so—many of the things that enable you to think well of them. It goes almost without saying that their Cadillac lends form and substance to whatever measure of achievement life may have brought them. Certainly, it reveals their interest in the safety and well-being of their fellow passengers. And, most assuredly, it evidences the wisdom with which they select their personal possessions. Incidentally, you may have noticed, of late, that the Cadillac car has cast its revealing light on an ever-growing number of your own friends. There is every reason why this should be so. Its original cost is remarkably modest—and several models are, in fact, priced competitively with those of lesser makes. Its operating economy is extraordinary—with a record of dependability and longevity that is without equal in the industry. And its resale value stands at the very summit in used-car markets all across the land. Certainly, this triumvirate of Cadillac economies deserves your personal investigation—and your dealer will be delighted to tell you the whole wonderful story at any time. Stop in soon—for a ride and a revelation!

Senator Potter reports

... the latest news from Washington / of special interest to Michigan ...

FARM BOSS Ezra Benson bent an ear in our direction last week to hear Michigan's side of the wheat story. Four Republican Congressmen from our State accompanied me to the secretary's office to inform him of our strong objections to proposed changes in wheat standards. Specifically, we're against reducing the minimum moisture requirement for tough wheat and for any lowering of limits on other wheats. The Secretary's response was encouraging and we hope before long to receive word that the two proposed changes have been killed.

Incidentally, Secretary Benson favors my bill to liberalize wheat allotments and recommends that it "be enacted into law." This proposal would permit a wheat farmer to grow all the wheat he pleased, regardless of quota, providing he used the wheat for feed or seed on his own farm.

JUST SUPPOSE you were transferred to another city and had to sell your home. The house for which you'd paid $10,000 might bring you $15,000 on today's market. Under present law that's $5,000 profit on which you must pay a capital gains tax, unless you buy another house within a year or build a new one within 18 months. Many people today are victims of circumstances not under their control where they are unable to buy or build within the present short time limits. Taxpayers caught in this kind of squeeze will benefit by a bill I've introduced. It will allow them five years in which to purchase or build a house, without paying the capital gains tax.

ONIONS spell trouble for Michigan farmers. For years, onion speculators, by trading in futures, have worked a serious hardship on the onion farmer. A few ruthless operators can manipulate onions on the commodity exchanges and send the price down to almost nothing for the producer, while cashing in handsomely for themselves. I have introduced a bill to prohibit trading in onion futures. Perishable commodities of this type simply do not lend themselves to futures trading and I intend to see that the practice is stopped.

PROMPT HEARINGS on small business tax relief measures are, I hope, on the way. Last week I wrote the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, which must originate tax changes, urging fast action. As soon as they move, I can then prod the Senate Finance Committee to take up my small business tax measure. We expect this bill to save $600 million in taxes in the first year for small business men.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Here's a brand new date problem! This girl likes a certain boy only when she's NOT with him—

Q—"I am 14, attractive and have had a few boy-friends. My trouble is that I like a certain boy very much when I'm not with him. But when I am with him, he doesn't appeal to me. What is the reason for this?"

Ans.—It sounds as if you're a little like the girl who was "in love with love" . . . this is, she liked the idea of being in love more than she liked the boy himself.

Perhaps you like the idea of having a boy-friend, enjoy getting his telephone calls and the general idea of dating. But when you're actually with this boy, he doesn't appeal to you. This proves that he's not the right one.

It's not fair to either of you to have dates with him, just for the sake of dating. If you'll spend your date-time with other boys, you'll have a chance to find one that you'll REALLY like all the time, including when you're together.

Q—"I am 13 and I like a boy, but my mother won't let me date him because he smokes. He's 15. What can I do?"

Ans.—Perhaps your mother will let you two spend Friday evenings together if he doesn't smoke while he's with you. He will be glad to date you on this basis—if he likes you better than cigarettes. If he prefers cigarettes, why bother?

(For free printed tips on "Date Manners for Boys," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.)

Local Woman Will Conduct MSU Workshop

Mrs. Wilbert West, 8705 N. Sheldon will be chairman for a workshop at the Michigan PTA problems clinic at Michigan State University today. She will lead a discussion on "The Role of the School in Community Development."

More than 600 parents and teachers are expected at Kellogg Center for the annual conference. Workshops on 20 educational problems, determined through questionnaires sent to local PTA organizations, will be held.

The major address, "A Climate for Adequate Education," will be presented by Dr. Lawrence Haskew, vice-president of the University of Texas.

The MAIL Attitude

Before we move into a discussion about flowers and Spring, we have been asked to render a public service.

On the carpet in the rear of one of our local churches, somebody mislaid, one way or another, a complete set of upper false teeth. Experts tell us that it is an excellent plate, in good condition. But nobody has come forth to claim it.

It rests now in the lower left-hand drawer of the editor's desk, if I should happen to be out when the claimant calls. We'll confess to an awful curiosity as to how the plate was lost.

These next paragraphs are in the nature of a trial balloon.

Some months ago, early last summer, we published a letter and gave it support, urging that the City of Plymouth in 1957 organize on a mass, community basis to concentrate on a single flower and turn our town into a distinctive, colorful place that would knock out the eyes of passers-by.

This wasn't an original idea, but it did serve to bring it up to the top of the Garden Club's agenda again. Lately the members of that Club had been doing some serious thinking and they now are ready to announce a plan.

The flower they have in mind is the city's official petunia. It is inexpensive, readily-available, easily grown, excellent for mass plantings, and comes in many vivid colors.

The Club's idea was to (1) urge upon all our citizens the idea of planting petunias in quantity this year, and (2) push the movement along with a contest.

The winners of the contest would be those who were judged by the experts to have done the best job with petunias on the basis of the display's visibility from the street; the aptness of the color combinations; and the "well-kept" look of the display. July 1 would be the deadline for entries.

Further, this contest would be in two categories: (1) Business and (2) Homes.

The idea is appealing. The Garden Club members could see, in their minds, our business streets lined with flower boxes splashing rainbows in the sunshine. They could imagine homes with vast beds of red, white, purple and pink petunias. Strangers driving through would know Plymouth was different; our citizens would get a lift and sense of pride, no matter what part of town they were visiting.

The Club was ready to provide instructions and plans for building flower boxes for the merchants. (They are thinking of long boxes, the length of the store windows, and maybe 18 inches deep.) Our central park would be aflame with color. In key spots there would be old-fashioned, colonial tubs of petunias.

Well, the idea is fine, but the reaction isn't exactly cheerful. Mrs. Sidney Strong of the Club dropped in to report on progress.

Before announcing the contests, the Club contacted members of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Committee, seeking "cooperation." The response from them was startling.

They applauded the idea, but almost without exception, declined the offer to participate. Stating it bluntly, they said it was futile. Similar efforts in the past have been mutilated by youngsters and teen-agers, they said . . . in fact, they added, it's trouble enough just to keep ordinary signs and hardware in shape, without trying anything as fragile as a flower. "The kids just wreck anything that is put on the sidewalk," was one observation.

As might be expected, the first splash of cold water has taken away a lot of Garden Club enthusiasm.

We said this was a trial balloon. I'm soliciting outside opinion.

We have faith in our young people. Isn't there some way that the Garden Club and the Chamber of Commerce can sell this idea, through the schools, to the youngsters themselves? Make them part of it? Appeal to their sense of civic pride, too?

One idea might be to have the business sections mapped out by districts, and districts assigned to classrooms. Let the students plan their own displays and compete for prizes. They could learn about soil and water and really do a comprehensive analysis of the humble petunia.

But if that is too complicated, couldn't a simple program of education be done for the young people, explaining how much prouder they will be of their home town if it is beautified? And couldn't the Chamber of Commerce prevail on the retail merchants to try, just this one more time, to determine if our destructive influences are stronger than the constructive?

Any suggestions?

Mayor to Exchange Jobs With President of Village of 600

When the mayor of Plymouth gives up his office for 24 hours during Exchange of Mayors Day on Monday, May 19, he in turn will be the honorary mayor of a community which boasts the "Purest Air in Michigan."

Plymouth was paired with the village of Lexington for the annual Exchange of Mayors Day during Michigan Week. For those who can't seem to pinpoint the community of Lexington, The Mail has asked its clerk, David X. Regan, to provide some history.

Plymouth doesn't yet know who its mayor will be in May because a new one will be elected by the commission at its April 15 meeting. During the past three Exchange of Mayors Days, Mayor Russell M. Daane has gone to St. Josephs, Hazel Park and New Buffalo.

Lexington will be the smallest place ever visited by a Plymouth mayor during the special day. Located on the shores of Lake Huron in Sanilac county, Lexington contains about 600 people.

Besides being known for its purest air, Lexington also lays claim as being the resort place of

Husband Picks Strawberry Pie

FROZEN STRAWBERRIES come in a delicious guise when Mrs. John Guettler makes her frozen strawberry pie. Ingredients in this dessert treat are berries, sugar, egg whites, lemon juice, salt, whipping cream and vanilla.

Mrs. John Guettler, 1182 Dewey, explained that she especially likes to make frozen strawberry pie because it's a favorite of her husband, owner and operator of the Dairy Freez at 1122 W. Ann Arbor road.

Ingredients for this frozen dessert treat are:

- 1 10-ounce package of frozen strawberries
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 egg whites
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 pint whipping cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Place defrosted berries, sugar, egg whites, lemon juice and salt in bowl and beat until mixture will stand in peaks. Whip cream until stiff and add vanilla. Fold cream into strawberry mixture. Pour into a pre-baked pie shell or a graham cracker crust. Freeze seven or eight hours. Garnish with fresh or frozen strawberries.

Mrs. Guettler says she plans to try this recipe using Dairy Freez instead of the whipped cream.

Post Office Finds Dwindling Farm Population

Suburbia is swallowing up Illinois and Michigan rural families at the rate of 15,150 a month, according to figures released by Robert R. Justus, Chicago Regional Director of the Post Office Department. Post Offices in the two states, excluding the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, served 181,814 fewer families on rural routes at the beginning of 1957 than they did a year previous, postal records show.

Farm folks aren't moving away, Justus pointed out. They are being surrounded by city dwellers moving out into the open spaces. As a result, in the past 12 months, postal headquarters in Chicago established 509 new city carrier routes, most of them in mushrooming suburban areas.

Justus explained that city delivery service was granted to approximately 207,081 additional families, about 725,000 persons in Illinois and Southern Michigan in the past 12 months.

At the present time 4,000,047 families in the Chicago Region are served by city carrier service, while less than a fifth of the two-state population, 739,000 families, are on rural routes.

Another factor that sheds some light on suburban growth is the great increase of business places in Illinois and Michigan in 1956. At year's end there were 13,830 more business establishments in the area, according to Director Justus, than at the start. Most of these are in the vast suburban areas around Chicago and Detroit, where countless manufacturing concerns have moved from metropolitan centers, gathering about them new homes and small businesses. At present there are approximately 328,950 business firms being served by the post office.

The serving of turkey broth is part of the traditional observance of Christmas in Haiti. The wealthier families usually have a pine tree, but the poorer homes mark the holiday with a manger consisting of a doll in a crib. Hill folk beat drums while in the towns the inhabitants sing carols and popular songs.

The aerosol industry produced 240 million push-button spray products with a retail value of $250 million last year.

A Woman's Eye View . . .

by Virginia Robertson

A resident of this area for 20 years, Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, was recently selected as one of Detroit's top 10 career women, in conjunction with the recent Women Who Work Week. Mrs. Labbitt, is the CKLW Women's Editor.

Her nominator said, "She is both friendly and helpful to her associates. She is one of the most widely-traveled radio and television personalities in Detroit, having traveled extensively abroad, particularly in the Scandinavian countries to gather fresh data for her programs.

Mrs. Labbitt is in demand for her talk, "A Swede Without Reservations." She has represented various organizations as delegate to international conferences in Copenhagen, Amsterdam, Toronto and Ceylon.

The 10 winners, named in a contest sponsored by the Central Business District Association, were honored at a banquet and fashion show. After being introduced by Mayor Cobo, they were presented with gold and marble trophies called "Susies", after Ann Southern's television role in "Private Secretary."

Mrs. Labbitt's husband, Ray, is a salesman in this area. And while on the subject of prominent women, in 1958 for the first time, a "Who's Who" for ladies only will be published. From 15,000 to 20,000 names will be listed. The last edition of "Who's Who in America" produced four times as many new listings for women as in the past 50 years.

Next in the line of special weeks is Secretaries Week, held April 21-27 with Wednesday, April 24, designated as Secretaries Day. The local group of secretaries working in the Plymouth-Livonia area is a fairly new group, the Town and Country Chapter of the National Secretaries Association. The association publishes an official magazine called The Secretary. A special key is awarded to members of the group. Any local secretaries who would like to learn more about the group and their activities may contact Mrs. Ronald N. Frueh at 38023 Ann Arbor road in Livonia.

And speaking of special weeks, National Smile Week has just concluded; evidently set aside to honor the theory that smiling has therapeutic value. It's said to relax and strengthen facial muscles, release tensions and "brighten everything when dark and dreary."

National Peanut Week also just ended. Still to come are National Honey for Breakfast Week (April 21-28), National Domestic Rabbit Week (May 19-25), and National Bow Tie Week (June 16-23). Three types of bread weeks and a Save the Horse Week also are on the future book.

In a christening dress that is getting to be neigh onto 100 year old, three-week-old Paul John Sincoc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sincoc of 1370 Penniman, was baptised last week. The dress, "still in very good condition," was worn by the two other children in the family, by Mr. Sincoc and his brothers and sisters, and by Mr. Sincoc's father and his brothers and sisters. Mrs. Sincoc feels very happy and proud that the traditional dress can still be worn.

At Miami University in Oxford Ohio, Suzanne Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Daniel, was elected president of Lambda chapter of Kappa Phi and to the Wesley Foundation Council. As president she will be sent to the national convention held in June at Carleton College in Minnesota. Suzanne is a junior in the school of education, majoring in home economics.

Ella M. Plant, daughter of E. W. Plant, 45004 Ford road, is among the 31 Michigan State university students who will be in New York City this week for the university's fifth annual United Nations Seminar. The seminar, open to all Michigan State students, is arranged and supervised by the university's political science department and the YMCA-YWCA.

Two Wisconsin men attempted to organize a solution to the housewife's problems by starting up a union. They reported that they spent $50 on postage and supplies but failed to get a single application for membership.

The one dollar registration fee was to have entitled members to the privilege of sending two written grievances to a board of review.

The woman who asked police to investigate the promotion scheme told the chief she, personally, wasn't interested in joining since she'd been married 40 years and figured that there was no point in "asking for a change of conditions at this late date."

April's almost here but if there's ever any more snow this year, you might take the children up to Commerce, Michigan. John Ivory gives free sleigh rides at his farm, complete with prancing Palomino ponies and five sleds. Free rides are given to all children who appear at his farm. One Sunday 5000 children were given rides.

Running in next Monday's election for a position on the University of Michigan Board of Regents is a longtime, personal friend of my family and mine, Ethel Watt. This is a job usually held by men, but it's important that a woman be elected because, of the 24,000 students at the university, approximately 7,000 are women, with special needs and interests.

In 1954 Mrs. Watt received the distinguished Alumni Service Award for her participation in alumni activities in Ann Arbor and in Birmingham. Four of her five children are graduates of the University of Michigan, as well as her father, her husband and herself. She is a past president of the women's association of the First Presbyterian church in Birmingham. One of my best friends was her daughter, Jocelyn, who was valedictorian of our high school graduating class and a Phi Beta Kappa at the university.

These activities are just highlights of a lifetime record of service to the university and to her community, a record which makes her well-qualified for this important job requiring conscientious service without pay.

Bunny Rolls Add Festive Touch To Breakfast on Easter Morn

An appealing and appropriate addition to your Easter breakfast table are yeast-raised rolls in the shape of bunnies, universal symbol of Easter. Youngsters love to shape and decorate them, with pink frosting on the ears and raisin eyes. Here's how to make these cute and simple treats:

Easter Bunnies
 3/4 cup milk
 2 cup sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup shortening
 3 cup warm, not hot, water (lukewarm for compressed yeast)
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup yeast, active dry or compressed eggs, beaten
 cups sifted enriched flour
 Scald milk. Stir in 1/2 cup sugar, salt and shortening. Set aside to cool to lukewarm. Measure water into a large mixing bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm water for compressed yeast). Add three tablespoons sugar. Sprinkle or crumble yeast. Stir until dissolved. Add warm milk mixture and eggs. Add and stir in half the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour or enough to make dough.
 Turn out on lightly floured board and knead eight to 10 minutes or until the dough is smooth and satiny and does not stick to the board. Put dough into greased bowl and brush top with melted shortening. Cover with a cloth; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 55 minutes.

Punch down dough, pull sides into center, turn out on board. Roll small pieces of dough with palms to form ropes 1/2-inch thick and 10 to 12 inches long.

To shape bunnies, tie ropes in loose knots, bringing ends up straight to form ears. Press in raisins for eyes. Brush bunnies with margarine or butter. Cover and let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 425 degrees (hot oven) 12 to 15 minutes or until brown. Frost ears with pink frosting.

Lemon with Cranberry

For a tart appetizer for a dinner or for a refreshing dessert, try lemon sherbet with a cranberry sauce topping. Make the cranberry sauce from fresh, whole cranberries and have it chilled before spooning over the individual servings of lemon sherbet. For a quick and easy refreshment for guests at your home for an evening's entertainment, serve this lemon sherbet-cranberry sauce delight along with coffee or tea.

Potatoes, French-Fried Onions Retain Top Billing at Dinner Hour

To Bake Idaho Potatoes
 Select potatoes of uniform size so they bake in about the same length of time. A good average size is five to six inches. Scrub potatoes so that the skins may be eaten. Like the skin crisp? Leave as is. Prefer skin soft? Brush with oil or melted bacon drippings.

Place on a shallow pan or rack in 425° F. (hot) oven, and bake 40 to 60 minutes, depending on size. To test for doneness, squeeze the potato gently using a paper towel or holder.

To serve, roll each potato in the folds of a towel when done. If the skin does not crack open, cut a small cross in the top and press gently. Serve at once, piping hot.

French Fried Onions
 Combine in sifter one cup sifted flour and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Beat one egg until thick and lemon-colored. Add 3/4 cup milk. Stir sifted ingredients, beating until smooth.

Slice three large unpeeled onions about 1/4 inch thick. Peel slices. Separate into rings.

Dip a few onion rings at a time into the batter, covering each completely. Drop the batter-covered onion rings, a few at a time, into shortening or oil, about three inches deep in deep frying kettle or deep skillet heated to 375° F. Fry until golden brown and lift out with fork. Drain on paper toweling. Sprinkle with salt and serve hot.

These fried rings may be kept hot by placing in a 325° F. oven until all are cooked. Makes five servings.

Think Twice When Buying Spring Shoes

Have you started thinking about a new pair of shoes for your spring wardrobe. If so, here are some pointers for selecting them.

Specialists say statistics show that 90 percent of the women have foot troubles due to unwise buying and unwiser wearing of shoes.

Think Over Your Own Shoe Wardrobe. How many of those various pairs of shoes are actually comfortable? How many do you wear regularly? Why don't you wear the others? Some of them may be too small—or too tight. There may even be one or two pairs that just plain didn't fit when you bought them. Too often it is a temptation to grimly continue to wear those unwearable shoes, simply to get your money's worth out of them.

One of the best ways to avoid foot trouble is to take a little extra care and time in shopping for shoes. Make a resolution never to buy a pair of shoes when you're in a hurry. Then too, remember that your feet may grow longer but your shoes never will. A snug fit on a cold, dry day can cause agony when the weather changes. Sometimes it is a mistake to buy shoes early in the day. The feet may swell later on, making the shoes too snug.

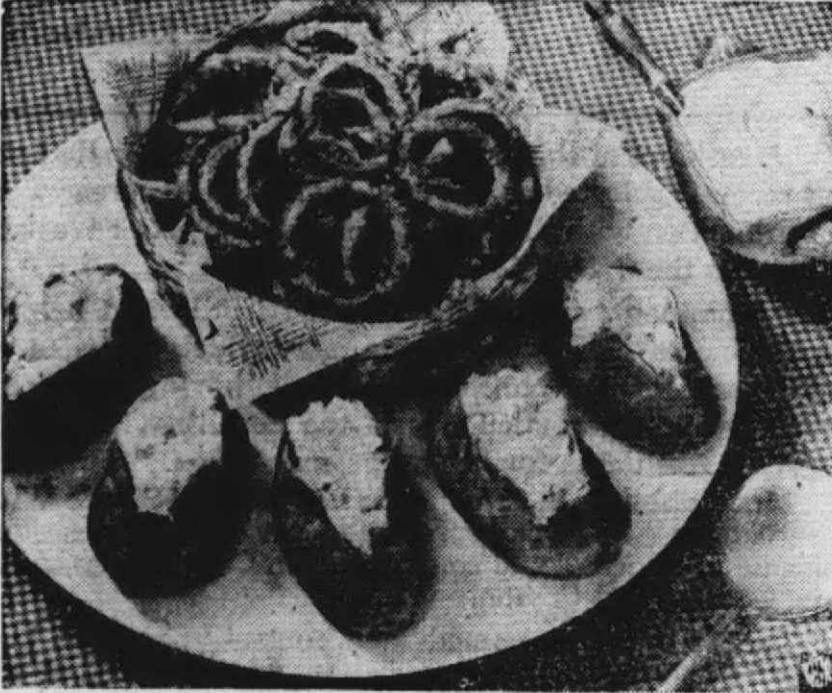

Usually people think of having shoes fitted only for length and width. But, actually, the shape of the foot should be considered too. Some shoes—no matter what length and width—won't fit certain feet. The shoe should be shaped like your foot when you are standing.

Shoes are built around a wooden form, called a last, which determines the size and shape. Every shoe manufacturer makes several different kinds of lasts—since normal feet come in different shapes. Your job—in shopping for shoes—is to find the last that best conforms to the shape of your feet.

A shoe that fits well should be roomy enough at the tip, so that while standing, you can at least wiggle your big toe. Behind the base of the big toe, they should be snug enough to firmly grip your instep and heel. A shoe that passes this test is more likely to fit your feet well.

Wall Smudges

Keep after smudges on walls during your weekly cleaning and you will have to wash down the walls less frequently. Use a cleaning solution with water and a sponge and you'll have no need to rinse or dry the walls.

Abundant in the markets now are the long-time favorites, Idaho potatoes, famous for their all-purpose qualities, and their gentle-mannered companions, sweet Spanish onions.

Household Medicine Chest Should Be Neat, Complete

The household medicine chest, neatly stocked with helpful but harmless first-aid equipment, could and should be one of the most important pieces of equipment in the home.

Jammed as it is, in many an American bathroom, with rusted razor blades, aged medicine, even unprotected insect poisons, it can be a menace.

Cleaning out the family medicine cabinet should not be left until it is stuffed to capacity. It is a good rule to "weed out" the useless or harmful articles about once every two or three months and, at the same time, check on the stock of necessary first-aid supplies to be prepared for emergencies.

Every bottle, jar or box in the medicine cabinet should be carefully labeled. Every week accidents are caused by people drinking from or using toxic preparations taken from unlabeled or wrongly-labeled containers.

Dangerous poisons, labeled or not, should never be placed in the medicine cabinet. They should be kept far out of reach of children, or of adults, who might hurriedly be looking for a pain remedy and use something that might cause serious illness or even death.

Medicines prescribed by the doctor for a certain illness at a certain time should not be "hoarded" in the medicine cabinet for future use. Most prescriptions lose their usefulness with age and are likely to be harmful rather than useful if retained.

First-aid supplies that should be kept freshly stocked are sterile cotton, sterile gauze bandage, ad-

Materials Can Make Or Break Success In Sewing at Home

Materials can make a big difference in home sewing.

More well-made clothes have turned out disappointingly because of poor or unsuitable material than for most other reasons. A sleazy, shoddy fabric will not make you a smart dress. It may not tailor well, or hold its shape. Occasionally you may find a cheap fabric that works up nicely, but only if it is a firm fabric.

It is equally important to choose a suitable fabric for the style of the dress. If you are to make a soft dress, you need a soft fabric, if a draped dress, a material that drapes well, if tailored, a firm fabric whether soft or crisp.

Choose Proper Weight
 When sewing with wool, use lightweight wools for dresses, medium-weight for suits and heavy weight for coats. It is possible to use the lighter-weight wools for suits and coats, but it is a real mistake to use a suit-weight wool for a dress, or a coat-weight wool for a suit. They'll be too heavy for comfortable wear.

Be very careful with transparent, filmy fabrics like chiffon. Not only are they difficult to work with unless you are an experienced dress-maker. They make up satisfactorily only in designs developed especially for the fabric. If your pattern is illustrated in chiffon, you're safe to use it.

Otherwise, it is wiser to use a heavier sheer, if a sheer is what you want. Semi-sheers like net or organdy are easier to handle and can be used with more success.

A Few Don'ts
 Don't ever put two prints together unless they are companion prints designed to be ensembled. Don't use lace with a material that has a competing design in its weave or on a print. In other words, if one of the fabrics is figured or has a fancy texture, let the other be plain.

Proper Care Lengthens Life Of Frying Pan

Frying pans, fry pans, skillets or spiders, no matter what you call them, pans for frying food are used daily in most homes.

Because fry pans are used right over the heat and often without water home management specialists point out they must be of materials not easily damaged by high temperatures. And for even browning of food, the material should be one that distribute heat well. This is especially true if the pan is larger than the burner or heating element on which it is used.

For a special tip on the care of a fry pan, do not pour liquid into a very hot fry pan. This sudden change in temperature may cause warping. Instead, turn off the heat or set the pan aside before pouring in liquid. This will also reduce the spattering of fat and danger of burns.

Cast aluminum and cast iron are good for fry pans, but they may be heavy to handle. Easier to lift would be a pan of heavy-gauge sheet aluminum. Stainless steel is light, but to be satisfactory for fry pans, should have a heat-distributing surface or core.

Lightweight or poor-quality sheet metals are likely to warp, causing the pan to teeter on the burner. Then the fat runs to one side and the food cooks unevenly and sticks to the pan.

When buying a fry pan, be sure to look at the handle. It should be long enough to get a good grip, smooth enough for comfort and shaped so it won't turn in the hand.

When materials in the medicine chest are kept in an orderly and easily accessible fashion, time is saved in emergencies.

For an April Fool's Treat Try Baked Alaska Dessert

The first of April's a time for jokes and being fooled, but it's no joke that a Baked Alaska is easy to make.

There are two helpful tricks of the trade which you'll need to know before you make this dessert. Trick number one is to have the ice cream solidly frozen, and the second trick is to cover every inch of cake and ice cream thickly and thoroughly with meringue. Don't leave any exposed.

Baked Alaska

1 square layer yellow or white cake
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
 6 egg whites
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 quart brick ice cream

Cut cake layer into oblong slightly larger than ice cream brick. Cover wooden board with heavy wrapping paper. Place cake on board and chill.

 Add salt, and cream of tartar to egg whites. Beat to soft foam. Add sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition until stiff peaks form.

Place ice cream on cake. Frost thickly with meringue. Bake in 450° F. oven (very hot) four to five minutes. Place on platter and serve immediately. Makes six to eight servings.

If you can't serve the dessert right away, put it in your freezer and it will keep for a day or two.

Why Not Broil?

Broiling is not recommended for veal chops and steaks since veal comes from a young calf and consequently has little fat in comparison to a mature animal. To prepare veal steaks and chops use a moist method of meat cookery—that is, braising.

News from Rosedale Gardens

EARLEEN POMROY
GA. 1-5231

Signs of Spring are all around, kites flying, kids strolling home with coats slung over their arms, tulips peeking up through the dirt and dogs roaming all over! The dog catcher paid our street of Vermont a visit Thursday morning, and the two "assistants" that chased and caught the little stray dog were Connie Conway and our Marilyn! At the last count we still have eight dogs attending the local "convention" here, so some of them must have seen the dog catcher coming!

On Vermont, we have new neighbors that moved right in when Glides moved out—Helen and Ted Bujewski and their three daughters, Linda, Jean and Theodore, better known as "Teddy". The Bujewskis are from Chicago, and I hear that Helen is highly enthused about living in Rosedale Gardens. Welcome, folks, and we'll see more of you when Spring arrives to stay!

St. Michael's school students got an extra holiday Monday, March 18, in honor of St. Patrick's Day which fell on a Sunday this year.

There was a Grant PTA board meeting Tuesday, March 26, at the home of President Aline Hultquist, Hubbard road.

Little Sheryl Mills, 1 1/2, of Mayfield avenue has chicken-pox, the last case on the chicken's list.

Coila Puckett, Auburndale avenue, entertained the Children's Hospital guild Friday, March 15. This meeting also was a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Mable Garside and a St. Patrick's day party. The Guild meets at the chairman's home on Merriman Road every Tuesday to sew for the Children's hospital. Present were Betty Ross, June Allen, Frances Welby, Caroline Kissinger, Etta Culbertson, Esta McKenzie, Dorothy Marsh, Olive Harrington, Mable Garside, Marguerite Cooper, Gwen Laing, Julia Allard and Gertrude Melby.

Phil and Nancy Snowberger, Oregon avenue, attended a dinner party Saturday night, March 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Neiber, Iowa avenue.

Dogs' 'Convention' Is Sure Sign of Spring

Gladys Wendt's mother, Mrs. Davison, is visiting from Fullerton, Calif.

There will be a Cana conference for married couples March 31 from 7 to 11 p.m. at St. Michael's church for discussion of family problems.

Leslie and David Borgia and Marilyn and Donald Pomroy attended the stage show downtown Sunday, March 17, and ate dinner out, and reported a very nice time.

Betty and Gordon Dana, Vermont avenue, attended the Travel and Sport show at the Fair grounds Saturday night, March 16. Grandma and Grandpa Starr did the baby sitting.

Nancy Robbins, reported as having the chicken pox last week, now has lots of company. All five kids, including the baby, have them.

Larry Wendt, six years old, celebrated his birthday March 18 at a supper party Aren't these wee ones getting sophisticated these days! Young men about town attending the affair were Steven and Clifford Durfee, Johnny Thompson, Russell Scott, Don Schei, Terry Weinburger and Gilbert Howard.

Pat and Chuck Balhorn, Mayfield avenue, attended a party at the home of Sam and Bernice Barr, Detroit, for members of Chuck's old crowd from St. Cecilia's in Detroit who get together regularly. Sounds like a good idea anybody out here from Highland Park High?

Since Sheryl was sick, Pat and Del Mills couldn't attend the family gathering for the weekend of the 16th, so the great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Potter from Montreal, came to visit them instead.

Robbie Boss, Mayfield avenue, celebrated his eighth birthday Saturday, March 16. Guests had lunch and then Robbie's dad took them to Plymouth to the movies. Boys present were Patrick Talbot, Kenny Balhorn, Tommy Murray, Tony Tucker and Mike Fallon.

Ann Giempke, Mayfield avenue, gave a baby shower for Jo Czaja of Redford Township Sunday, March 17. Thirty-two women were present. The mother-to-be received many lovely presents, including a miniature high chair representing a real one to be picked up. Bingo and a nice luncheon rounded out the party.

Some one who declined to give her name called in last week and said that many people have been wondering just who the attractive brunette is who drives the Mercedes-Benz around Rosedale Gardens. The lady said that the girl is Betty Mino of Melrose avenue and went on to say that Betty's hobbies are traveling, boating, painting, golfing and sport cars and that she is now a junior executive. This lady also said that it is too bad that more isn't reported on our young folks out here, since everyone loses touch with them as they graduate, marry, etc. Well, if someone will supply me with news on the subject, I'll certainly be glad to include it, so let's hear from some of you!

Guess this is also a sure sign of Spring—heard that a certain young man on Cranston, on a bet, persuaded 14 girls to go "steady" with him in just one day!

A goodly number of the Rosedale Gardens branch of National Farm and Garden Association attended the flower-arranging clinic in Birmingham Thursday, March 21. My adventures in flower arranging always end when I pick the flowers, can't find a vase, stick them in the nearest glass jar and call it a day!

Mrs. Hector Coult, W. Chicago, was hostess to Mrs. Jack Murray, Mrs. Charles Cook and Mrs. Harold Rolon for bridge Friday, March 22.

April 1 a meeting of the Arts and Crafts flower-arranging group will meet at the home of Mrs. Earl Bishop, 31150 Grandon at 1 p.m. Interested flower arrangers and would-be arrangers are welcome.

Kay and Bob Durivage of Blackburn and Barb and Les Core of Cranston celebrated St. Patrick's day at a dinner party March 16 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lyons, of Berwick avenue. Hear Kay knows an awful lot of Irish songs!

The Pomroys celebrated St. Patrick's day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Halloran in Royal Oak Sunday night, March 17, at a square dance and buffet supper.

Sunday, March 10, Joe Weinburger's wife, Dolores invited in several neighbors for a coffee and cake get-together in honor of Joe's birthday. Neighbors who wished him a happy birthday were Jean and Bruce Stewart, Janet and Bob Blanchard, Shirley and Loren Good and Anita and Gene Griffith.

Heard that the last Rosedale Gardens Civic association meeting was very interesting indeed. In fact, I thought husband Gordon had forgotten to come home! Mayor Brashear was there, explaining about the sewer problem. The association also voted to sponsor a polio vaccine program for Rosedale, but with the shortage of vaccine at present prices have not been completed. Will let you know more on this when I know!

Mr. and Mrs. Bialecki of Vermont held a 25th wedding anniversary party for Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Garadin, Auburndale avenue, Sunday, March 24. Many friends and relatives were on hand to wish the couple happiness.

The Newcomer's club bridge club met at the home of Rosemary Hilgers, Westmore avenue, Tuesday evening, March 19. The club ended up with three tables of bridge, including one set up in the kitchen using lawn chairs and a high chair!

Sure - makes - you - wonder - if - anything - is - worth - it department: Barb Core and I went over to the clubhouse basement Wednesday afternoon to finish up fixing the slip covers on the recently rehabilitated maple furniture and found that someone had scratched the appealing message "Carol, come back" on the arm of one of the chairs, worked the arm of one davenport loose and wobbled and sliced off an inch or two of the finish from the back of the other davenport, apparently with a jackknife! Sure makes you wonder, and I hope Carol, if she's anything like the furniture scratcher, never comes back!

For Safety Sake, Toxics Belong In Medicine Cabinet

Accidental poisoning claims the life of more children annually in the United States than polio, diphtheria and scarlet fever combined.

With curious toddlers on the prowl, a floor-level cabinet is no place to store toxic substances. They should be placed on the top shelf of a wall-installed bathroom medicine cabinet where children can't get at them, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau emphasizes.

Modern bathroom medicine cabinets have an abundance of storage space. Twin compartment types, with sliding mirror panel enclosures, provide room on one side for storing a woman's beauty aids, and on the other a man's shaving equipment.

Some cabinets have flanking or overhead lighting. Some include a recessed mirrored shelf at the bottom for displaying ornamental ceramics or cologne decanters.

Besides protecting children by storing toxics in a medicine cabinet where they are out of harm's way, check to find out whether there is a Poison Control Center in your community. Thirty-three cities already have such centers. The number should be listed with police, fire department and physician's number against a possible emergency.

GOP Has Big Stake

MORE THAN ELECTION VICTORIES is at stake for Republicans in the April 1 balloting. They could lose party pipelines into state administration.

It would be bad enough, from the GOP standpoint, to lose control of the State Highway Commissioner and Superintendent of Public Instruction posts. Since these two officials are the only remaining Republicans on the State Administrative Board, their defeat would put the "little legislature" completely in the hands of Democrats.

The State Ad Board consists of the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor general, attorney general, treasurer and the two posts involved in the coming election. It has substantial power, particularly when the regular legislature is not in session.

Outstate votes can be the vital factor. Republican leaders are confident they can win if only half the non-metropolitan residents who voted in the presidential race will go to the polls April 1. Since the Wayne County area is heavily Democratic, the GOP knows it must build a strong outstate lead.

Democrats, on the other hand, are aiming to get out the vote especially in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland Counties. Their leaders state they want a heavy vote everywhere, but that they count on southeastern Michigan for a victory, if it is to materialize.

Can Unions Spend Funds For Political Purposes?

This issue originally was placed before the federal courts in Michigan in 1954 when the justice department brought a suit against the United Auto Workers for violation of the corrupt practices act as amended by the Taft-Hartley act.

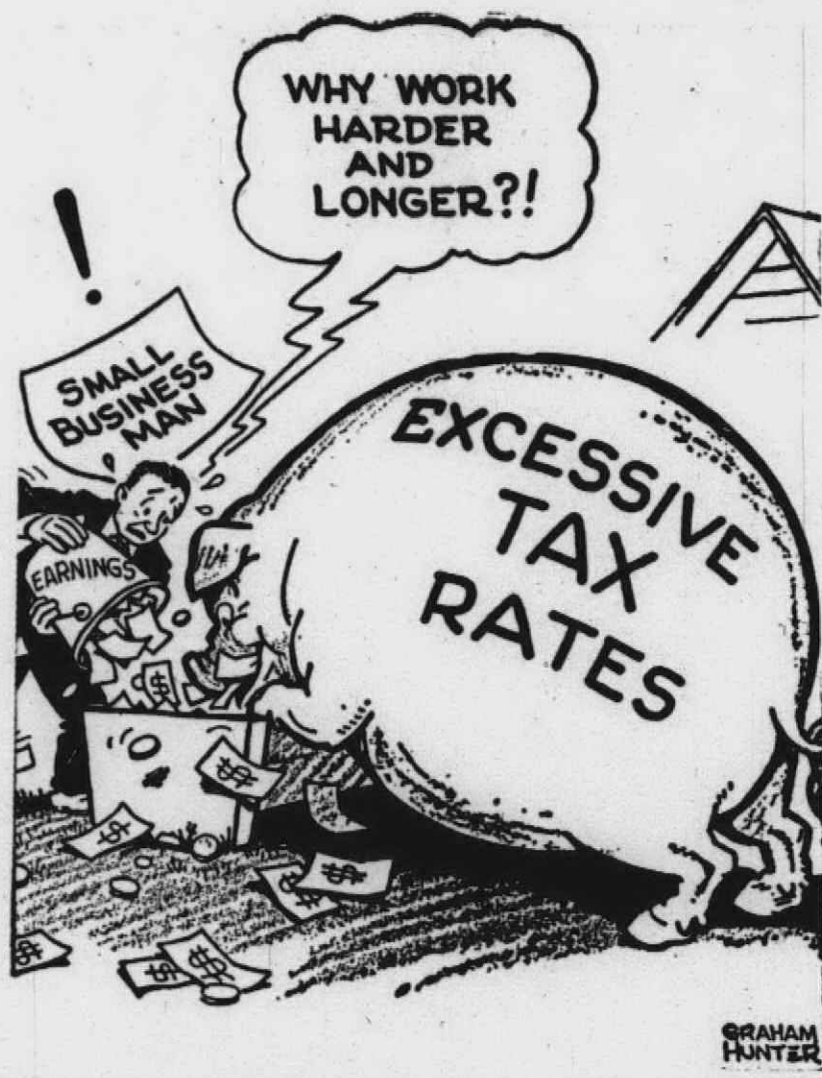

At that time Judge Frank A. Picard dismissed the case. Now the U.S. Supreme Court says that he was wrong in doing so and has ordered the case to trial.

The case arose over a UAW television program which gave breaks to Democratic candidates. The Republican state chairman turned the information over to the justice department. He charged that many Republican union members were forced to make contributions to campaigns of opponents when the union supported the Democrats.

The corrupt practices act long ago outlawed political contributions from corporations in campaigns involving a federal post. The Taft-Hartley act places unions in the same category.

Chances are it will be several years before a final decision is reached. The case already has been before the courts for more than two years.

Now it must be tried on its merits before the federal courts in Michigan. On a question of such great importance it is almost a foregone conclusion that the losing side will appeal the decision to the Supreme Court once again.

Investors' Forum

Don't Muff Opportunity

BY HARRY C. FRANCE

Doctor Burrows, prominent pediatrician, has $5,000 in hand from matured savings bonds. During the period when he held them, he has watched the steady deterioration of the buying power of the dollar.

Now he asks: "What shall I do with this money and with the future dollars that will come to me as more bonds mature?"

A review of his financial history is in order. Years ago, when a competent insurance man helped him establish a sizable estate, the doctor was advised to buy government bonds and insurance in building financial security. For two decades he has done so. But in recent years he has come to realize that bonds and insurance represent fixed dollar values and during inflationary times it is well to buy values which will inflate.

Doctor Burrows drives a Cadillac. He buys a new one every year or two. Since 1945 he has purchased over $50,000 of Cadillacs. And, because of his systematic thrift and savings habits, he has accumulated more than $50,000 of the best bonds in the world—those of the United States Government.

What would have happened if half of his savings bond money had been invested in common stock of the company making and selling Cadillacs? Twenty-five thousand dollars placed in General Motors common over a period of two decades would bring more than $100,000 today, and the dividends would be fantastic.

Or take the case of the thrifty, hard-working hoarder of dollars. He is up to the legal limit in five banks. He was born in Central Europe and came to America when he was 13 years of age. The massive structures of banks gave him a feeling of confidence. For over 25 years he has been a depositor only. Even when interest rates went to 1 1/2 per cent a year and prices and costs shot through the roof, no other place of investment appealed to him.

Yet in his home are comforts and utilities made and sold by a score of the best known and most successful corporations in the world. The dollars that have given him and his family a fine standard of living have also helped these enterprises to prosper and to pay dividends.

One of the simplest truths about economic America that should be well understood here (but isn't) is this: Millions upon millions of people who buy Cadillacs and Fords and Plymouths and who live well make hundreds of corporations prosperous. Why should not the very people who make this prosperity possible share this well-being by becoming stockholders? Of course they should.

Readers of these lines confronted with this problem might (1) survey your home and business, writing down the names of corporations being patronized; (2) ask a New York Stock Exchange broker for the earnings and dividend records of these companies; and (3) armed with this information, select sound common stocks for investment.

THE FORUM

(Q) "Should I buy uranium stock for investment?" W.C.C.

(A) Of course not. Most uranium stocks are pure speculations. Sound investment implies dependable earnings and regular dividends.

What's Your Question On World Affairs?

By Edgar Ansel Mowrer

Why are some people so anxious to admit Red China into the United Nations? (J. C. Salem, Ore.)

Aside from those few Americans who have secret pro-Communist sympathies, the others appear to be moved by one of three ideas.

First, some think that admitting Red China would lessen the danger of a war into which the United States would be drawn. They do not much worry about the condition of the Chinese people under communism.

Second, others believe that by admitting Red China they can separate that country from Red Russia.

Third, still others consider that, with time, communism everywhere will lose its virulence and that the thing to do is to gain time even by concessions to communism.

Personally I think that all these arguments are wrong.

The topics of the lost tribes of Israel and Biblical prophecy seem still to interest a large number of readers. John W. Eby of Vancouver, Wash., writes to argue that the lost tribes were never lost and Mrs. N. A. Paris of Portland, Ore., sends me a pamphlet by Dr. M. R. De Haan of Grand Rapids, Mich., predicting from Biblical sources that the "division of Palestine" (which, I judge, happened back in 1947) will "precipitate the last global war." It might—but let us hope Dr. De Haan has misread his sources.

"Have the Philippines any substitute for the great Magsaysay? Did you know the man?" (W. T. Anchorage, Alaska.)

I have never met any Philippine substitute for that unusual President. He combined the two needed qualities—an understanding of world issues and an ability to attract the support of the Filipinos. I know several who possess one of the two gifts, but not both.

In 1951, was a house guest of Magsaysay at Baguio—until snatched away from him by then president Quirino—much to Mrs. Magsaysay's disgust. During the trip from Manila to Baguio on Magsaysay's plane I had the pleasure of a fine discussion with him, one which was afterwards renewed.

"Would you please tell me how much money we owed to England when the War of Independence started—and never repaid?" (A. Pepton, Norwalk, Conn.)

I can find no American figures on this point and can hardly ask the British Exchequer to dig some up. Perhaps some reader can furnish more information. But the Peace Treaty of 1783 provided that creditors on either side should "meet with no lawful impediment to the Recovery of the full Value in Sterling money of all bona fide Debts heretofore contracted."

"I received the Silver Star for gallantry in action and almost got killed to receive it. Why should a veteran who served in World War I and never heard a shot fired receive a pension of $75 monthly for a non-service disability whereas a veteran with a 25 per cent to 30 per cent service-connected disability receives about the same amount?" (Mark A. Grenan, Woodside, N.Y.)

The Veterans Administration apparently considers only the degree of disability, not the cause. A veteran with a 25 per cent disability can still earn his own living while one with a 100 per cent disability cannot. I think you have a good argument, but the law is the law.

Veterans Administration offices throughout the country (look in your telephone book) are really much better prepared to answer this type of question than I am.

Send your question on world affairs to Edgar Ansel Mowrer in care of this newspaper.

"Do you approve of having the President, the Vice President and the Secretary of State out of the country at the same time?" (O.L.B., Indianapolis)

I disapprove. But before the last election the President warned the people that he would have to take it easy—and they re-elected him by a huge majority. Both the Vice President and the Secretary of State would, in my judgment, do better to stick closer to Washington. The value of personal contacts in international affairs is greatly exaggerated.

The Case Against COMPULSORY AUTO INSURANCE
Question: Hasn't A Compulsory Auto Insurance Law got something to do with highway safety?
Answer: Only that it tends to detract from the effectiveness of genuine safety programs.
Massachusetts has one of the finest highway safety programs in the country. Its able administrator has always refused to comment on his opinion of Compulsory. It seems unlikely that his silence would be desirable if it actually did encourage safety.
Though Compulsory has repeatedly been advocated in connection with safety programs, no one has ever attempted to explain how it can cause or prevent an accident.
Question: Then the best way to protect yourself against an uninsured motorist is to add that kind of coverage to your own policy?
Answer: Indeed it is. This is protection without exceptions. Something that neither Massachusetts or New York can claim for their Compulsory Laws. Remember too, that you are already protected in a large measure by other personal insurance.
This concludes our series on Compulsory Automobile Insurance. Our membership welcomes any further inquiries you may have on the subject.
As independent businessmen we are always concerned with the general welfare of our community. We do not believe that your best interest will be served by a Compulsory Law.

Albert M. Cole, Administrator, Housing and Home Finance Agency: "It is time to go to bat for the people who need and want better homes and can pay for them if they can get financing."

Franklin M. Kreml, safety expert: "We could cut the total of (traffic) accidents by two-thirds through careful analysis of the cause and effect relations that result in accidents."
