Rotary Prepares For 1,000 At Benefit Barbecue

Everything is in readiness except the assurance of perfect weather for the Annual Community Picnic that is being held this Sunday afternoon at the Hamilton Street Playground.

Plymouth Rotarians are preparing a Sunday picnic dinner for 1,000 people and all they need now is the cooperation of the weatherman.

Heading the Sunday menu will be barbecued chicken. Each ticket-holder will be served half a chicken along with cole slaw, potato chips, rolls and butter, coffee or milk and ice cream.

The Hamilton street playground can be reached from several points. From South Main street, motorists can go east on Wing street directly to the playground.

Chairman Don Lightfoot said that in case of rain, the picnic will be postponed until the following Sunday, June 16.

Witkowski has been named to two committees by the Board of Supervisors: Parks and Parkways and Wayne County Training School.

Education 'Freedom' Is Cited

Judge George E. Bowles had the problems of funds for education upon his mind when he spoke to Plymouth's Memorial Day audience in Kellogg Park.

He first noted that those who had died in war would wish "the assurance that the country they died to serve was better for their sacrifice."

Then Bowles said that "freedom" and, particularly "freedom of opportunity" was the peculiar American strength in the world.

And, at the height of his address, he gathered his remarks around education: "As applied to education, America must seek a new dimension... the ideal of equality of opportunity... the ideal that no child should be denied the opportunity to use his God-given talents because of the accident of birth either racial or geographical; that the only limitation upon the advancement of the child and utilization of his abilities and skills will be the limitation that the Creator has placed upon him, not a man-made limitation."

All of Bowles' address was in high oratorical form that befits Memorial Day, but there was no doubt that the Circuit Court Judge from Plymouth was thinking of the recent plain struggles in the legislature when the school requests for funds were trimmed; and, possibly, of prospective tuition increases in the state universities.

Bowles' remarks climaxed the traditional Memorial Day celebration. The Navy dead first were honored in ceremonies at the Plymouth road bridge; then a smart parade followed the music of the Plymouth High band down the main streets.

Within the parade were all of Plymouth's uniformed organizations, with scores of Cubs, Boy Scouts, Brownies, Girl Scouts and Campfire Girls winning the most beaming glances—from the tri-ers.

Mayor pro-tem Robert Sincok chaired a one-hour program at the Park. City manager Al Glassford and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay led the audience in the Pledge to the Flag. Pastor Charles Holland, a Reserve Navy chaplain, gave the invocation.

Student Dick Hubert delivered a letter-perfect rendition of "In Flanders Field" and Nat Sibbold sang a tingling baritone solo. "There Is No Death". Rev. Norman Stanhope gave the benediction.

Rifle shots sounded three times from a smart VFW drill team directed by Hal Young, while taps were played by Bill Beitner.

TINY LASS with a big flag.

SPANISH-AMERICAN Veterans Col. Edward Miller and C. H. Goyer were honored.

City Re-assessment Asked

Plans Forming For July 4th Celebration

Plymouth Fire Chief Robert J. McAllister was announced this week as general chairman of the city's July Fourth Celebration by Frank Allison, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce which sponsors and coordinates the event.

Chief McAllister said that the celebration would follow the same pattern as in the past, but that several innovations are planned to make this year's event better than ever.

Governor G. Mennen Williams has again been invited to attend the evening program and to speak briefly.

Morning activities will include the traditional parade with many local industries and organizations entering floats and marching units.

The Optimist club of Plymouth, in cooperation with the Recreation Department of the Plymouth Community schools will coordinate a kiddies game program in the afternoon. One of the features planned for the children is a "peanut scramble" with peanuts dropped from aircraft. Certain colored nuts will be exchangeable for gifts contributed by local merchants.

Plans are now being developed to have another "Miss Plymouth" beauty contest with local girls competing for the title. Newer and better prizes are in store for girls who enter this event, McAllister said.

City commissioners voted at a special meeting last week to ask the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation to conduct a re-appraisal program for all real and personal property in the city.

When the appraisal job will begin is still not announced by the Bureau of Taxation but it is expected that it will take a team of workers a month to complete the giant task. Every home and building in the city will be measured and inspected by the team and inventories taken of industry and business.

It was 10 years ago that the last re-appraisal took place in the city. Commissioners pointed out that there has been no depreciation allowance since that time, causing major inequities in some areas.

While there will be much work going into the re-appraisal, the city maintains the option of adopting the county Bureau of Taxation's program, according to City Manager Albert Glassford. The bureau recently re-evaluated all of Nankin township's property but the recommendations were turned down by the township board. Also recently re-evaluated was Flat Rock, with the report being accepted.

The city manager said that the re-appraisal will mean that some property valuations will go up, some down. He said that there is no way of telling at this time how the city will fair tax-wise. Since the city has the option of accepting or rejecting the recommendations, "we believe there can be no harm in seeing what it can do."

The main reason why the commission decided to seek the re-appraisal at this time is due to the recent equalization factors piled on municipal and township valuations in Wayne county and the state.

The Wayne County Bureau of Taxation recently upped local assessed valuations and the state bureau added another 9.8 per cent.

Baccalaureate Opens Final Week of PHS School Year

Baccalaureate services this Sunday night and graduation exercises next Thursday night will bring an end to the secondary education for about 233 Plymouth High school seniors.

The Reverend Norman J. Stanhope, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon while the commencement speaker will be Donald M. Currie, associate dean of student affairs at Eastern Michigan College.

While the final list of graduates has not yet been announced, there will be about 233 receiving diplomas, the largest number in the history of Plymouth high school.

Sunday's baccalaureate service will begin at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. It will open with a piano prelude played by Dorothy Stremick and the processional, "Pomp and Circumstance". The invocation will be delivered by the Reverend John Walaskay, pastor of the Plymouth Assembly of God. The high school choir directed by Fred C. Nelson will then sing "Alleluia" by Thompson.

The speaker, Rev. Stanhope, came to Plymouth in August 1956. He had previously been minister of Christian education at Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church in Detroit for three years. He had served in many Presbyteries of the field of Christian education and in 1955 was awarded the Bible Land Tour Association Scholarship for travel in the Holy Land.

The hymn, "God of Our Fathers", will be sung by the congregation following the sermon and the benediction pronounced by the Reverend David T. Davies, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church. Ushers and decorations for the service will be provided by the Class of '59.

The check was later brought to the attention of Plymouth police and a search for Foster began. He was seen by patrolmen as he talked with a friend on the front lawn of a Mill street home Tuesday afternoon. He was arrested and admitted the theft.

Chief of Police Kenneth Fisher said that the charge will probably be breaking and entering in the night-time.

Two school board posts and two proposals will be at stake at the annual Plymouth Community School election that takes place next Monday.

Four candidates are in the race for the two board seats, while the two proposals deal with millage and a change in the classification of the district from a fourth class to a third class district.

Voting will take place from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the high school.

Approximately how many people will be going to the polls is difficult to estimate, but all indications point to a "normal year". Normal elections in recent years have pulled about 380 voters to the polling place.

Last year, however, platforms advanced by the five candidates brought about much interest and there were 917 electors setting a voting record.

Seeking the two board vacancies this year are Mrs. Esther L. Hulsing and Warren L. Smith, both incumbents; Robert R. Soth and Charles J. Zoet. (Biographical sketches of these candidates appear on page 6.)

School board members serve more as a "community service" than for pay. Their combined salaries cannot exceed $2,000. This year's $2,000 is divided as follows: $392.50 for the president; $370 for the vice-president; $415 for the secretary; $452.50 for the treasurer; and $370 for the trustee. Officers are elected by the members themselves.

Proposal No. 1. Because of the two special proposals and the board race, the Monday election will utilize machines instead of the usual paper ballots. Three machines will be in use for quick voting. The first proposal deals with the reclassification of the fourth class district as a third class district.

One of the chief changes that would be made by a change in the classification would be the addition of two more school board members. The School Community Planning Group recommended the change to a seven-member board in order to give a "larger representation" within the large district. If passed, this proposal would become effective for the school year 1958-59.

The board of education itself is endorsing this proposal. For other comparisons between the present and the proposed third class district, see story elsewhere in this issue.

Proposal No. 2. Explaining finances and millage in simple terms is difficult and the school board is hoping that the electorate takes time to understand this proposal before going to the polls. Wording found on this proposal at the poll asks if taxes in the school district should be increased three and one-half mills for a period of five years.

If approved, there would actually be no increase in the tax rate. It would remain the same 21.95 mills (or $21.95 per $1,000 of valuation). Law demands, however, that phraseology term it as an increase in taxes.

This proposal intends to provide more money to operate the schools and less money for retiring bonds. There are now nine

Robert Fitzner will again be in charge of the program. The moderator, Munshaw, is a resident of Plymouth.

Witkowski Urges Election Change For Supervisor

County Supervisor George Witkowski of the City of Plymouth urged the City Commission Monday night to adopt a system where his job is filled by a member of the Commission—and his listeners indicated a serious desire to propose the change at a convenient election.

Plymouth is the only community in Wayne County which sends a Supervisor who is not also a city official. Instead, he is elected at large at a general election. Critics (including Witkowski, apparently) believe the representative to the powerful county body should be a person in intimate touch with the local government.

Plymouth's charter calls for the "at large" selection, and a vote of the people would be required to change the system.

Witkowski has been named to two committees by the Board of Supervisors: Parks and Parkways and Wayne County Training School.

Kibitzers Invited as Artists Set Up Shop in Park

Plymouth's "village square" will be full of painting, artists and visitors this Saturday when the Three Cities Art Club presents its first Outdoor Art Show in Kellogg Park.

Youngsters and adults alike are being invited to come "just as you are" to the park anytime between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. where members of the club, all artists, will be at work.

Visitors can watch them work, ask questions about the pictures, how to paint, supplies, or where to start. Plymouth members of the club are Hal Stein, an art teacher in Wayne; Emma Pine, Jessie Hudson and Marion E. Sober. They all have pictures of people and places that Plymouthites will recognize.

For instance, there will be the old DeVoyce barn on North Territorial road, the man who waves the lantern at the Starkweather avenue railroad crossing while trains roll by, the old building at Main and Penman housing the barbershop and shoe repair businesses and the old-fashioned bandstand built by Ebenezer Penman on Penman avenue.

These subjects and many others will be on display along with handmade, silver and ceramics.

PLYMOUTH ARTISTS will be among those displaying their works at the Outdoor Art Show in Kellogg Park this Saturday. Hal Stein, 9433 Ball street, is shown finishing up one of his paintings that he will display. Stein is an art teacher in the Wayne schools and has a studio in his home.

Builders Show Earns $16,000

Approximately $16,000 will be added to the Rotary Crippled Children's Building Fund from the building show held in Livonia two weeks ago.

The estimate of net return was made today along with an expression of thanks from the Plymouth Rotary Club to merchants and manufacturers for their "fine support."

Said the Rotary statement: "Adverse weather conditions during this event reflected in the total attendance, but the results are most pleasing. The approximate $16,000 will assist completion of the crippled children's building and make ready its occupancy at a very early date. The work by Rotary Clubs of Western Wayne County will long be remembered."

One booth singled for special mention was a shooting gallery conducted by Daisy Manufacturing Co. "It served both father and son, and mother and daughter, in target shooting, and all the proceeds from this booth were given to the Fund," noted the

Mary Kelley, Louis Schomberger Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Saturday, May 18, at a 10 o'clock nuptial high mass in Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Rev. Father Francis C. Byrne united Mary E. Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelley of 537 N. Mill street, with Louis R. Schomberger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schomberger of 40810 E. Ann Arbor Trail.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar graced with baskets of white carnations and stocks.

Mrs. Anna Ferenczi, aunt of the bridegroom, was soloist for the occasion, with Mrs. Cylk at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar in a floor-length gown of white satin with overskirt of nylon net and lace. The fitted jacket of Chantilly lace was fashioned with long sleeves, coming to a point at the back of her hands and fastened at the wrist with tiny buttons. Her tiered veil of illusion lace fell gracefully from a small hat adorned with clusters of orange blossoms on either side. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid. The flowers were placed on a white prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mary had as her only attendant, her sister, Betty Kelley. She wore a mint green net dress over taffeta, with long matching gloves and headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

Louis asked his brother, Martin, to attend him as best man. Other ushers were his brother, Ralph, and cousin, Walter E. Clark.

Mrs. Kelley, mother of the bride, chose a blue print dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Schomberger wore a light blue dress with light and navy blue accessories for her son's wedding. She also had an orchid corsage.

A breakfast was held in the Mayflower Hotel for the wedding party. In the evening, a reception was held in the Odd Fellows hall on Elizabeth street for about 150 guests.

The young couple left on a week's trip through northern Michigan. Upon their return, Mary will continue to live in Plymouth, and Louis will return to his naval duties on the ship, U.S.S. Postage (PCE092), in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Louis is a 1953 graduate of Plymouth high school. Mary graduated with the class of 1956 of Wayne high school and she is now employed at Whitman and Barnes.

Northville Residents Exchange Vows in Presbyterian Service

In a candlelight ceremony before an altar decked with white mums and gladioli, Janice Mae Owens and Arthur Carlson exchanged wedding vows in the First Presbyterian church of Northville. Reverend John Taxis officiated at the 8 o'clock rites Friday, May 24. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce L. Owens of 16959 Northville road, Northville, Janice was given in marriage by her father, William Williams sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" for the occasion. Janice wore a gown of satin and Chantilly lace and a string of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. She carried orchids and lilies of the valley on a white Bible. Shirley Rodgers of Detroit, maid of honor, wore a dress of mist green and carried yellow carnations in her bouquet. Evelyn Clark and Carolyn Burkman, both of Northville, wore ballerina length gowns in yellow and blue, respectively. Both carried carnations. Dressed in pink and carrying blue and white carnations, Patricia Owens served as her sister's junior bridesmaid. James Bonar, best man, and Rodney Dahlager, John Boyer, Clifford Henderlong and Tom Wick ushered guests to their seats. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlson of 201 Fairbrook, Northville. Mrs. Carlson donned a blue lace dress with white accessories for her son's wedding, while Mrs. Owens wore beige chiffon and lace with pink accessories. Both wore orchid corsages. For the reception held in the Presbyterian church following the ceremony, 200 guests were present from Plymouth, Northville, Detroit, Tawas City, Mich., and Minnesota. For Mrs. Carlson's wedding trip to northern Michigan, she donned a navy dress with navy and white accessories. Each of the newlyweds graduated from Northville high school. Janice is now attending a beautician school in Detroit. The couple will make their home on W. Six Mile road.

Plymouth, Wayne Historical Societies Plan Meeting

We Must Maintain A Good School System In Plymouth

As a member of the Board of Education I would work toward that goal. The following statements indicate how I believe that this could be done.

1. Effective planning for new schools and sites must be done ten years in advance of the building of the schools.
2. Paying our teachers less than surrounding systems is a false kind of economy. We must have a salary schedule comparable to that of surrounding systems.
3. To get and keep good teachers we must recognize that they are professionally trained and use that training in our school planning.
4. Equal educational opportunities must be available to all the children of our district.
5. No part of the system can prosper at the expense of other parts. The Board has a responsibility to be representative of the entire system and to be concerned for its welfare.
6. There are no easy, quick solutions to the problems of an education system. They have always required hard work and cooperative effort and still do.
7. The Board of Education has a duty to temper the effects of pressure groups on our system. If this is not done teacher morale and the school system will suffer.
8. When we pull the purse strings on our schools we are playing fast and loose with the future of our children.

WAVING GOODBYE at Willow Run on the first leg of their European trip is this group of Plymouth Rotarians. They flew from New York on Scandinavian Airlines. Reading from the top of the stairs is Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Eldred Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Don ald Sutherland and Bruce Hudson. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson left earlier by ship to attend the Rotary International convention in Switzerland. Arrangements for the flying trip were made by the Boersma Travel Service in Ann Arbor.

Residents Return From Convention, European Trip

Eight Plymouth residents returned Sunday afternoon from a 17-day flying trip to Denmark, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, France and Great Britain.

The party included Eldred Huff, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hudson and their 12-year-old son Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Don Sutherland, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willoughby.

They attended the Rotary International Convention held this year in Lucerne, Switzerland, where they met Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson, also of Plymouth, who had preceded them by ship.

Highlights of the trip were visiting the Tivoli Gardens in Copenhagen, climbing the Jungfrau, a 14,000 foot mountain in the Swiss Alps, by cog-wheel railway, attending the Rotary Convention in Switzerland, visiting Oberammergau, Germany, scene of the internationally famous Passion Play, to be presented next in 1960, touring the ancient ruins of Rome and St. Peters in the Vatican where it happened that service beautifying a French nun was in progress at the time, stopping by the Louvre and Eiffel Tower in Paris and having sidewalk snacks at the Cafe de la Paix.

The Sutherlands Willoughbys and Mr. Huff went on to London, Edinburgh and the beautiful Trossachs of Scotland. The Hudsons flew from Paris to Glasgow, Scotland, where they visited Mrs. Hudson's mother and sisters.

The tour was planned through Boersma Travel Service, Ann Arbor, with the help of Mrs. Dorothy Armistead and Kurt Thrun, who is now of the Travel Centre of Plymouth.

OBITUARIES

Fred Gates
Funeral services were held 2 p.m. Wednesday, June 5 for Fred Gates, 75, of 174 Hardenburg street, who died June 2 at Wayne County General hospital. Death was sudden.

Mr. Gates was a retired Chesapeake and Ohio railroad foreman and was a lifetime resident of the community. He was born in Livonia on August 11, 1882 to Joseph and Melia Sherwood Gates. His first wife died in 1946 while his present wife, Neda, survives with the following relatives:

A daughter, Mrs. Bertha Curtis of Wayne; six sons, Albert of Indiana, Ervin of Pontiac, Arthur of Detroit; Alfred of Ann Arbor, Roy of Royal Oak and Joseph of Plymouth; a brother, Elmer Gates of Los Angeles; 22 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, pastor of First Methodist church, officiated at services at the Schrader Funeral home. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

William Schmidt
After an illness of three months, William Schmidt, 80, of 37967 Amrhein road, Livonia, passed away Friday, May 28 at the Eastlawn Resthaven in Northville.

He was born January 2, 1877 in Detroit to Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt. He was married to Grace Schmidt who preceded him in death.

Surviving are two sons, William of Plymouth and Gerald of Livonia; two daughters, Mrs. Mae Williams of Berkley and Mrs. Evelyn Silk of Milan; two brothers, George and Fred Schmidt of Livonia; a half-brother, Raymond Hunsinger of Northville; two sisters, Mrs. Edith Engle of Detroit and Mrs. Pauline Anstette of Saginaw; six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

seven years ago. He was a retired farmer.

Funeral services were held May 31 at the Schrader Funeral home at 1 p.m. with the Reverend Robert D. Richards officiating. Interment was in Grand Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Elizabeth Olendorf
Mrs. Elizabeth Olendorf, formerly of 198 Hill avenue, Highland Park, passed away Tuesday, June 4, at the age of 80. She had been living at the home of her son, John J. Olendorf of 12031 Amherst Court, Plymouth.

Mrs. Olendorf is at the Harper-Mulligan Funeral Home in Highland Park. Services will be there at 1 p.m., Friday, June 7.

Interment will be in Acacia Park, Birmingham.

Biographical Sketches of the Four School Board Candidates

Mrs. Esther Hulsing
Before coming to Plymouth 15 years ago, Mrs. Esther Hulsing, 41, school board incumbent, worked for four years at the Chicago branch laboratory, Illinois Department of Public Health. She has three children: Ann, a high school junior, Susan, a high school freshman, and Mary, a student in Plymouth junior high. Parent-Teacher organizations of which Mrs. Hulsing has been a member include the Central and Bird PTAs, serving as vice-president and president, the junior high PTSA and the eleventh grade parents group. She also served as vice-president for a year in the PTSA. She is also active in the Women's club, serving as program chairman, vice president, president and currently as chairman of the building committee. Mrs. Hulsing has held the posts of regent and vice regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, currently serving on the Good Citizen's committee.

In the Women's League of St. John's Episcopal church she has served as corresponding secretary, recording secretary and president. In addition, she also held the job of secretary of the church Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Hulsing has belonged to the American Association of University Women for three years and is chairman of the education committee at the present time. In Girl Scouting, she has been treasurer and chairman of the Cedar Lake Area Camp committee, troop committee chairman and volunteer trainer. She is now co-leader of a senior troop.

In addition, Mrs. Hulsing has served on the site and school organization committees of the Community School Planning Group.

She obtained her B. S. degree and a teacher's certificate at Montana State College, Bozeman, Mont., after which she attended Ohio State University in Columbus and received her master's degree.

When asked what she would like to see accomplished in the local school district, if elected, Mrs. Hulsing answered:

"There are quite a few problems facing the school district that must be solved cooperatively by the Board of Education and the community. To a large extent they are inseparable because they all point to keeping the schools at their present good level and bettering them is possible. One problem we face is the problem of growth. Our area is an attractive one for both homes and industry and it will require cooperative planning by the Board of Education and the other local units of government for the schools to stay abreast of growth-planning the schools in so far as possible where the children are."

"Basically the teacher is the most important part of a good school system. Our salary schedule must be competitive with that of neighboring districts so that we may obtain the best new teachers and reward our career teacher which is the one we are most anxious to retain. Nor is it good to hire the best of teachers and give her an overcrowded, ill-equipped classroom in which to work. So the problem of building is interrelated with the problem of attracting and retaining the best of staff."

"We should also work on recognizing to a larger extent the individual differences in children. Giving equal education to all children is not the same as giving equal educational opportunities to all. Each child should be challenged to do the best that he can according to his ability. This program need not be expensive but does call for creativity and imagination on the part of the teaching staff. I'm sure that they have it, if encouraged and enabled to use the ability and resources they have. "We must keep the solution of these problems within the ability of the district to pay for them."

Warren L. Smith
School board incumbent Warren L. Smith, 48, of 794 S. Main street taught in the public school system for three years before entering industry. He was employed for 19 years at Industrial Wire Cloth Products Corporation, Wayne, serving as employment manager, personnel manager, labor relations director, production manager, plant manager and as a member of the board of directors for nine years. Smith is presently employed as a staff engineer in the Manufacturing Engineering Accessory Division of the Ford Motor Company in Ypsilanti.

He has a daughter attending Eastern Michigan College, a son in the high school, another in the junior high, and a third son attending Smith Elementary school.

In the community, he has been a member of Plymouth school PTA for 15 years, president of the Smith school PTA for two years, treasurer of the Board of Education for six years, member of the Plymouth Tax Board of Review for seven years serving as chairman for four years. He has also been a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers for 15 years and an honorary member of the National Safety Council for 10 years.

Smith's educational training was received at Eastern Michigan College, University of Michigan, Wayne University and Fordson Community College.

When asked what he would like to see accomplished in the Plymouth Community School District Smith listed seven points:

1. "If elected, I would continue to carry out the wishes of the community for the continuation of a good modern school system.
2. "Maintain and improve standards of education and the teaching profession.
3. "Continue to plan for greater utilization of all school facilities such as adult education, summer school program, recreation, arts and music.
4. "A long-range building program to keep abreast of facilities needed for an expanding community.
5. "Encourage cooperation between the various governmental bodies within the school district to more equitably solve community problems, affecting the school system.
6. "Promote a balance between homes, industry and commercial business to maintain a good sound economy for the community.
7. "Operate the school system on a sound, realistic budget commensurate with the standards of the school district and its ability to pay for services rendered."

Robert R. Soth
Because he and others in his area feel that there should be representation on the school board from Canton township, Robert R. Soth has become a candidate in Monday's election. At 40 years of age, Soth works in customer engineering for the International Business Machine Corporation. He has been with the firm for 16 years.

The candidate lives at 41430 Warren road in Canton township, across the road from Hough elementary school where he has served as PTA president. He has a son in high school, another in junior high, a daughter in Hough school and a son of pre-school age.

He is a Boy Scout committeeman, is a member of the Canton Goodfellows association and serves as its secretary, and is a member of the Plymouth Adult Education and Recreation department committee. He was graduated from Plymouth high school and Michigan State University.

Soth, in answer to the question of what should be accomplished in the school district, points out that "I don't believe that there are two sides to what should be done in our schools. We must have adequate school buildings and maintain a good teaching staff. I feel that this must be accomplished without placing an unnecessary taxation burden on property owners. "We need not always pay the high dollar to get our children education—there is a middle path that can be followed. "I am interested in getting representation on the board of education from Canton Township. A school board can be well-rounded only when all areas of the district are represented. If the people so decide, I would like to fill this need."

Charles J. Zoet
Charles J. Zoet, 36, has been a math teacher at Bentley high school, Livonia, since 1950, interrupted for a tour of duty with the Air Force. In two tours of Air Force duty, totaling eight years, he has served in the rescue service and as mathematician in missile research.

Zoet has three daughters: Anna and Kay have been attending Starkweather school and Frances will begin school there next year.

He is a member of the Michigan Education Association, the Parent-Teachers Association, Myron H. Beals American Legion post, and the First Presbyterian church. Zoet also has a life membership in the National Education Association and is a vice president of the Livonia Educators association. After receiving a B. A. degree in mathematics from Hope College, he received a master's degree in mathematics from the University of Michigan.

Zoet believes we have a good school system in Plymouth but that "our system is faced with two very critical issues presently and in the near future: what should we do about the anticipated and present growth in population and what should we do about teacher salaries?"

If elected, he would like to see the following things accomplished:

- a. The purchase of sites, as soon as possible, for the schools planned for our system for the next ten years.
- b. Our teachers placed on a salary schedule, comparable to that of surrounding systems.
- c. To get and consider both teacher and community opinion on problems facing our school

Four Compete

(Continued from Page 1) mills used to pay off bond issues. The board wants to use one and a half mills of this to meet increased operating expenses. But it cannot use this millage without obtaining the consent of the electorate.

In 1952, voters approved a two mill levy for operating expenses. This five-year levy expires this year. By adding this two mills with the one and a half mills "borrowed" from the bond retirement, it is possible to ask for two and a half mills without raising the tax rate.

The increased operating money is needed mainly to run the two new schools, Gallimore elementary school, and the junior high which opens in September. Increased salaries has also brought on higher operating expenses. All registered voters in the district, whether they are property owners or not, are eligible to vote on the two proposals.

THEIR HEROES, the Tigers, lost last week to Cleveland 5-4, but it was still a great day for the 265 school safety patrolmen and adults who traveled to Briggs Stadium as guests of the ball club. After being furnished lunch by the Hotel Mayflower, the group boarded four buses and spent the afternoon watching the exciting May 28 game with the Indians. They returned home at 6 o'clock. Fire Chief Robert McAllister was in charge of the affair. Representatives of the safety patrol appeared on the morning radio show from the hotel.

City Approves Purchase Of Used Loading Machine

A used loader for snow, pea gravel and other materials was ordered purchased for $1,500 by the City Commission of Plymouth Monday night. Described as in excellent condition, the loader has been tried by the city for some time and previously was owned by the City of Dearborn. A new loader costs about $12,000.

Mrs. Margaret Dickerson is now making her home in an apartment at the corner of Maple and Deer streets and will be pleased to see her friends there.

Passage-Gayde post and unit will host the 17th district meeting, at 8 p.m., tomorrow, at the Veterans Community Center.

Nomination and election of officers and presentation of annual reports will be on the agenda for the auxiliary and post. Winners in the district for the essay and poppy poster contests will be present to receive awards from district chairmen.

Commander Ernie Koi and President Melva Gardner extend thanks to all who participated in the Memorial Day Parade. It was a wonderful success.

American Legion News

The American Legion Carnival starts Tuesday evening, June 11, and runs through Saturday, June 15. As at past carnivals, arrangements are to furnish ticket-takers at each ride. This means that some in both post and unit will have to show up each night. Let your commander know which evening you can come so he can make necessary arrangements.

National president Mrs. Carl W. Zeller, presented checks totaling $75,000 from the one million auxiliary members to Legion Commander Dan Daniel, to be used in child welfare, rehabilitation and Americanism work.

American Legion Boys' State will be June 20-27 at Michigan State University, East Lansing. Tom Argo is Boys' State chairman of the Passage-Gayde post.

Auxiliary nomination and election of officers will be at 8 p.m., Thursday, June 13, at the Veterans Community Center.

England, France, Italy, West Germany and Belgium have invited post and auxiliary members to participate in the Legion's "Pilgrimage for Peace," an event in which thousands of members will go to Europe in September. This is part of a Legion tradition to make an official pilgrimage to Europe every 10 years.

Private Finishes Engineer Training in Germany

Private First Class Gerald M. Kachenko, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kachenko, 28750 Plymouth road, Livonia, recently was graduated from the Army's European Engineer school in Murnau, Germany.

Kachenko completed the school's training in demolitions, mines and booby traps and firing demolition charges on roads and bridges.

He entered the Army in April 1956 and received basic training at Fort Carson, Colo. Kachenko arrived in Europe in November 1956.

The 20-year-old soldier was graduated from Bentley high school in 1954.

SOCIAL NOTES

Barbara Rowland of Ann Arbor trail, was the honored guest Tuesday evening, at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Gordon Zutz at Mrs. Paul Davis in the home of the former in Garden City. Mrs. Harry Rowland accompanied her daughter to the party. Barbara was also given a surprise party in Lamson Hall, Emmanuel College in Berrien Springs, by Jane Newman and Ina Hanson where their guests numbered 16. They presented Barbara with a lovely gift for her future home.

Mrs. Ernest J. Allison was hostess Tuesday at a luncheon in her home on Morrison entertaining members of her Mayflower contract group.

Melissa and Melinda Purkey, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Purkey, of Sheridan avenue, Detroit, underwent tonsilectomies on Friday in the New Grace hospital.

Ellen Cowgill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cowgill, will leave on June 26, for Camp Chippewa on Elk Island, where she will be counselor in swimming and life saving for the summer.

Mrs. Neil Davidson was hostess to her contract bridge group Tuesday evening in her home on Roosevelt.

Mrs. Ray Norton and Mrs. Luther Passage were luncheon guests Wednesday of last week in the home of Mrs. Blanche Farley on Adams street.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Atchinson entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Sass of Royal Oak, Sunday at dinner which honored the birthday of Mr. Sass.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing of Church street are returning today (Thursday) from Atlantic City, where they had been on business for a few days.

The Kenneth Ramseyer family and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scofield of this city enjoyed a steak roast in their garden on Memorial Day.

Science Foundations Awards Fellowship To Lawrence Mack

Lawrence Riedling Mack, 24, of 14265 Northville road has been granted a fellowship for the 1957-58 academic year at the University of Michigan by the National Science Foundation, Washington, D.C.

He is a 1950 graduate of Plymouth high school. He received a Bachelor of Science degree in engineering (mathematics) and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering (engineering mechanics) from the University of Michigan in 1954. In 1955 he was awarded a Master of Science degree in engineering (engineering mechanics).

At the present time he is working on a Doctor of Philosophy degree which he expects to receive in June, 1958. Mack's thesis work is on finite-amplitude, axisymmetric gravity waves.

Christian Scientists Hold Annual Worldwide Meet

Gratitude for the healing power of the Christ, Truth was the keynote as more than 5,000 Christian Scientists from many parts of the world met Monday for the annual meeting of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Named president of the Mother Church for the coming year was Miss Mabel Ellen Lucas of Brookline, Mass., a practitioner active in the healing work of the denomination for over 30 years. She underscored the need for individual spiritual growth and said that universal harmony depends upon individual expression of spiritual love and selflessness.

Reports of progress of the denomination, which has 3,200 branches, were made by key officials. This included aid to needy Hungarian refugees, Korean orphans, flood and tornado victims. Among new branches added this year were those in Australia, England, Germany, Sweden, Canada and New Zealand. There was also reported an excellent sales increase in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" and an increase in circulation of the Christian Science Monitor.

Parking Space Charge Problem Being Probed

Plymouth's city commission designated City Manager Al Glass Monday night to find a fair price to charge businesses for use of parking spaces in authorized facilities.

The problem arises from city off-street parking requirements. If a business is unable to provide the required parking space (as measured by the building capacity) on its own land, it can qualify by paying the city a sum of money based on parking units needed.

The question is "how much money?" The Commission expressed a policy that the City "not attempt to make a profit" in setting the figure.

A WOMAN HAS re-taken the reins of the Plymouth Education Association as Gerald Elston steps out of office next September. Teachers elected Mrs. June Kelly as their new president, shown with Elston. Others taking office will be: vice-president, William Foster; secretary, Lelia Terry; corresponding secretary, Jane Mack; treasurer, Patricia Johnson; delegate to represent assembly, Robert Smith; delegate to Classroom Teachers Association, Marjorie Mackie; delegates to Area C, Frank Hager, Charles Kipp and Dorothy MacKenzie. The new president teaches English and Geography in the junior high.

Soroptimist Club Installs Officers at Dinner Meeting

Installation of officers of the Plymouth Soroptimist club took place at a dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. yesterday evening at the Mayflower Hotel.

Newly-installed officers are Garnet Traver, president; Roberta Steele, first vice president; Theresa Cameron, second vice president; Katherine Todd, recording secretary; Frances Sawyer, treasurer; and Mildred Fields, corresponding secretary.

On the board of directors are Hilda Swanson, Helen Stevens and Frances Star.

Officers Will Be Installed

Vivians club, Elks 1780 will meet at 8 p.m. this evening in the Elks Temple for installation of officers.

A wheel chair will be presented to Mrs. Herma Taylor, representing the Wayne County Society for Crippled Children. This is the second chair that will be presented.

All members are to attend.

African Missionary to Speak Sunday

Don R. Morrill, M. D., of Africa is scheduled to speak at the Calvary Baptist church at 7 p.m. Sunday, June 9.

Dr. Morrill was associated with Dr. Douglas H. Taylor at The Evangelical Alliance Mission's (TEAM'S) Mosvold Mission hospital in Ingwavuma, Zululand. This 65-bed hospital, which he helped to build, is the center of an extensive medical ministry reaching into the bushveldt of Tongaland. A number of out-clinics are planned for this primitive, fever-ridden area when Dr. Morrill returns to Africa in the near future. He received his training at Michigan State University, Oregon State College and the University of Oregon. Before going to Africa, he was active in choir, youth work, and personal evangelism in addition to his medical practice.

Eleven Scouts and two leaders, all smartly uniformed, observed the meeting as part of their work for a merit badge. They are members of Troop 6, Smith School, of which Ed Miller is Scoutmaster and Carl Schultheiss and Byron Maynard assistant Scoutmasters. Mayor Harold Guenther lauded their project and urged they "tell their fathers and mothers about our meetings." In the group were Scouts William Rucker, Peter Miller, Don Jordan, John Stace, Dave Sutherland, Fred Fry, James Steele, Frostie Morgeson, Jeffrey Theobald, and Gary Weiermuller. Tobacco also is a flourishing crop on the cold northern shores of Lake Erie, producing a $74 million annual crop.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q—"Dear Elinor: Recently I got into trouble with some other girls by stealing something. I am 17, but my parents won't even let me stay overnight at my friends' homes, because they are afraid I'll get into trouble with the police again. I am a girl six-feet-one-inch tall and I am teased awfully about my height. I don't have a good time at dances. I can't stand much more of this and would like to run away and never come back. What shall I do?"

Ans.—Worse problems than this have been solved, so there's an answer to yours, too. If you really try to solve it in good ways, instead of by running away and getting into worse trouble, you'll find that things will work out better than you expect and your parents will trust you enough to give you more freedom. But YOU have to do it.

Everybody is different; we don't all fit the same pattern. If you don't enjoy dances, spend more time where height is a good thing... and where you can forget it, because others will, too. Sports, for example—Play basketball, tennis (you can make as many friends at the tennis courts as at dances); learn to be a good swimmer at the "Y" pool... or a skater, skier. Learn bowling, badminton. You'll have fun and gradually become popular with

I see where Jim Brewer, an 18-year-old Phoenix high school boy, set a new prep pole vaulting record by leaping 15 feet and one-eighth inch. That's the first time a high school boy has gone that high... and very few college stars ever made it. Cornelius Warmerdam was the first to clear 15 feet. That was in 1940. He did it 42 times altogether before he retired... and left a mark of 15 ft. 7 3/4 inches for the boys to shoot at if he'd gone any higher he would have needed a parachute to get home.

In the pole vault there aren't any restrictions on the size and weight of the pole. If you can lift it, it's yours. Unlike grabbing the check at a Scotch dinner party, vaulting requires top speed and perfect timing. It's a high point in any track meet.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

It happened to a mother and father in this area last week. It couldn't happen . . . it must be a grotesque dream . . . this is a good son with sound habits. He has been a Boy Scout, he earns his own money with a newspaper route, he lives in a fine neighborhood of $20,000 homes. This week he'll graduate from high school.

It couldn't happen.

No, but this week a policeman rapped on the ranch house door, looking for their son! The boy had stolen an expensive sports car from a lot in Detroit and driven it back where his friends could strip the parts from it.

Not just one car . . . two cars in two weeks this youth had grabbed and driven back for stripping. This boy is 17 years old, six feet tall. His parents have an 11 p.m. curfew on him on Friday nights. He always goes to bed early on Saturday night because he must arise early the next day to deliver the Sunday papers.

He has a car of his own. It took months of saving his own earnings to buy it, but he proudly completed the project. Around the house he's almost always a fine youth—polite, respectable, busy, honest.

Only during the past month had there been anything different. Not much different but he's seemed nervous, restless. He's been complaining about the 11 p.m. deadline for returning home. Other boys don't have to come home so early, he says. "You're nagging me," he has told his mother. Mother has talked the matter over with father, and dad has said, "Oh, don't worry. You know boys that age. They get restless."

Despite the 11 p.m. deadline, the boy wasn't home until almost 1 a.m. last Friday night. "My car broke down," he said.

And here, today, is the policeman, right in the living room, asking questions of the boy. The boy denies everything.

Mother watches and listens. She first had told the policeman there "must be some mistake, you can't mean my boy," but now she is seized with a dreadful feeling. Her boy is lying. "You don't have 17 years with your own boy and not know when he's lying."

Mother and son confer. She knows he's covering up and insists that he confess. She demands he tell everything . . . all the details . . . all the names of the youths involved.

He finally does tell the truth, and the law begins to work. He is formally charged and taken to court. Everyone is solemn. He's in an adult court. The boy is told his crime is no small thing; it's a felony. If he, by some accident, had struck a human being with the stolen car and the victim had died, there would have been no mortal way for the boy to have escaped a charge of first degree murder!

But the court looks at the record and finds all the past clean. The court will be merciful.

At home, the boy and the parents are in torture. "You made me confess," he protests at one moment, "other parents wouldn't have done that to their boy."

Still, at another moment, he breaks down. "I don't know why I did it . . . I just don't know why," he sobs. "I'm sorry . . . I don't know why . . . it's just that all the other kids are doing it."

Mother and father are stunned, baffled, wounded. There was no warning. There is no explanation. They moved to this area less than three years ago from the congested northeast of Detroit. More space, a ranch home, a better chance to raise a good family—that explained the move. "We're good citizens. We pay our bills. We're proud of our home. Now, what can anybody think about us? What kind of people will our neighbors think we are?"

Why? "I don't know . . . he doesn't know," says the mother. "Maybe later, when we get over the shock, we can look back . . . Thrills maybe . . . maybe it's just this car craze that kids have . . . cars, cars, cars! . . . he didn't need the parts . . . he didn't keep the parts . . . he had his own car . . . he let the others keep the parts, he just stole the cars."

"One of the juvenile officers said there's nothing wrong with our boy; that he just needs a good spanking. But how do you spank a six foot man who's graduating from high school this week?"

The court has decided to let the juvenile division take the case. The parents have determined their boy shall enlist in the Air Force as soon as he graduates.

This newspaper has decided not to use the names.

Part II of 'Live Lean and Like It'

(Editor's Note: This is the second in a special series of three articles, exclusive to the Plymouth Mail, on dieting, America's national pastime. Entitled "Live Lean and Like It," they were submitted by Nina Lou Baird, Wayne county home demonstration agent from the cooperative extension service.)

may be very useful in protecting their bodies from early damage to the heart and arteries, but it means another compromise in living which the young, vigorous overweigh must make to lose pounds.

It's Up To You

In other words, weight control is an individual problem and must be faced individually. No one can do it for you, and the more you lean on someone else for support, the less likely you are to be successful. You must make changes in living as well as in eating, changes which you can live with indefinitely—not just for two months while you lose 10 pounds. This doesn't mean you should not seek sound advice on a weight problem.

Start With a Check-up

Getting the facts is a wise step in any activity. A good doctor will get the facts and adapt them to your individual needs. A thorough medical check should always precede weight reduction, and you should get one at regular intervals even if you only seek to maintain your weight level as you grow older.

After you have had medical advice, decide if you can control and educate your appetite without undue fuss or "special" diets and, at the same time, remain a normal, social, human being. If you can, you will probably be successful with weight control and will profit by it.

What's a Calorie?

"Calorie" is a term of measurement of the amount of energy applied by food. Since many people like to figure the total number of calories needed in their daily diets, here's a chart showing:

USUAL DAILY CALORIC NEEDS

MEN:	CALORIES
Inactive	2500
Moderately active	3000
Very active	4500
WOMEN:
Inactive	2100
Moderately active	2500
Very active	3000
Pregnancy (latter half)	2500
Lactation	3000
CHILDREN up to 12 years:
1-3 years	1200
4-6 years	1600
7-9 years	2000
10-12 years	2500

CHILDREN over 12 years:

GIRLS:
13-15 years	2800
16-20 years	2400
BOYS:
13-15 years	3200
16-20 years	3800

If a loss or gain in weight is desired, the consistent intake of one-third more calories than recommended above is usually advised. For example, to lose weight, an inactive woman, requiring ordinarily about 2100 calories a day, would cut her daily calories to 1400. This would make it possible to include sufficient quantities of most of the protective foods.

Bulletin Available

If you would like a bulletin listing the calories found in foods, send your name and address to Cooperative Extension Service, Box 552, Wayne Mich., and ask for the bulletin, "Counting Calories."

Read Mrs. Baird's column on "How to Live Lean and Like It!"

Diaper Takes on Shape of B-29

B-29 Diaper

Soon to be sold in a local store will be a special kind of diaper, shaped like a B-29 to make one-size fit babies of all ages, without folding.

Just put baby on the bulls-eye, wing section goes in back, tail section in front and bomb-bay snugs up in crotch to absorb like a sponge.

To adjust for size, merely shorten the tail section in front before pinning.

The B-29 was invented by a Texan, Fred Dexter. It hangs from the hips, never slips and will not bulge under baby's clothing.

Called the Dexter Diaper, it's actually small enough to carry in your purse, wash in a small basin and dry one underneath on a coat hanger.

Washing Tip

If the glasses you are about to wash contained a liquid such as milk, rinse them first in cold water containing soda or other water softener. This helps to remove the milk and makes them much easier to wash.

Bleach may be used to remove distracting stains, but of course will not remove dirt.

at home around the clock

PERFECTION IS THE WORD for this golden batter-fried chicken. Delicious is the taste, served hot or cold, with summertime red radishes and pungent scalions.

Prepare Batter-Fried Chicken Beforehand; Serve Hot or Cold

Today, there are few who can resist a platter of golden fried chicken, served hot or cold. Wings, breasts, legs and thighs—with a crisp and crunchy crust yet deliciously tender underneath—this is food for either fancy feasts or simple suppers. And everyone knows that cold fried chicken is perfect fare for picnic outings on the beach, in the mountains or in the privacy of your own backyard.

Probably the most perfect fried chicken in the whole wide world is that which has been dipped in batter and fried until crisp and golden brown on the outside and tender and juicy clear through. Here is a recipe for batter-fried chicken which will produce just such appetizing results. The batter is simply seasoned with salt and pepper; for a change of pace add a little chopped parsley or a favorite herb to the batter before coating and frying the pieces of chicken.

Golden Batter-Fried Chicken

2 eggs

1 cup rich milk
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 frying chickens, cut into serving portions

Shortening for deep frying
Beat the eggs with the milk. Combine flour, sugar, salt and pepper and gradually stir the dry ingredients into the eggs and milk. Stir until the batter is well blended.

Rinse the chicken parts lightly in cold water and dry the parts well between absorbent paper. In a deep kettle or electric fryer melt enough shortening to half fill the pan. Heat to 365° F., or until a one-inch square of bread dropped into the hot shortening browns in 60 seconds.

Dip the pieces of chicken, a few at a time, into the batter and fry in the hot shortening for 12 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Drain the crisp chicken parts on absorbent paper and serve hot or cold. Serves six.

Tests Show Best Washing Methods For Those Extra Dirty Clothes

Proper use of heavy-duty detergents and water conditioners now permit the homemaker to wash factory work clothes, children's grimy play suits and other heavily soiled clothing as clean as the rest of the family wash.

Using normal home laundry practices as a test pattern, laboratory technicians recently completed a series of tests on how the homemaker could best clean the really dirty clothes in today's wash baskets.

Water temperatures for heavily soiled cottons should be approximately 140° F. or as hot as the normal home water heater can supply.

Heavily soiled white clothing should be separated from colored garments, because the extremely hot water will make dye loose enough to tint white garments.

Pre-treating heavily soiled garments will cut washing time and pay the homemaker dividends in a cleaner, more stain-free wash.

Excessively soiled areas, such as collars, cuffs, knees and elbows should receive a direct application of a concentrated detergent solution. Tests show that the same detergent should be used to pre-treat the garment as is used in the machine. Different detergents work on different chemical principles, and the use of two detergents can cause the washing quality of both to be greatly reduced.

Soaking clothes opens the meshes of the fabric and loosens the dirt so that it may be removed in less time. However, soaking clothes for long periods of time causes dirt particles to swell and makes them extremely difficult to remove. Work clothes may be soaked overnight in cold water, but warm water soaking should be limited to not more than 20 minutes.

Heavy-duty detergents differ from regular detergents in that they contain added builders and are recommended for heavily soiled clothing.

Packaged water conditioners of the kind generally on sale in areas where hard water is a problem can improve the cleaning of heavily soiled garments. There are two basic types of water conditioners: precipitating, or those that take the hardness out of the water by combining with minerals to form a scum or sludge, and non-precipitating, or those that hold the minerals in the water and prevent them from absorbing detergents.

Overloading a washer reduces cleaning action and causes clothes to wear excessively during washing. For best results, different sized articles, such as handkerchiefs, t-shirts, shirts and trousers should be washed together.

A little care in pre-treating and combining washing agents will insure work and play clothes that are as clean as the family's Sunday best.

Can Exercise Reduce Weight?

Exercise will seldom result in effective weight reduction unless some dietary restriction is practiced. However, even mild exercise increases the number of calories used. The effect of a moderate amount of exercise taken daily by Mrs. M., aged 45, in doing the work in a six-room house and caring for her husband and one adolescent child can be seen below.

Food eaten daily	Exercise	Resulting weight status
3 moderate meals	Activities of homemaker	No weight change
3 moderate meals plus 1 slice bread-butter	Activities of homemaker	3 pounds gain per year
3 moderate meals	Activities of homemaker plus 2-mile walk daily	3 pounds lost per year
3 moderate meals plus 1 slice bread-butter	Activities of homemaker plus 2-mile walk daily	No weight change

Regular, consistent exercise can help both the overweight and the adult who wishes to maintain weight, but only as an accessory to a well-balanced diet suited to his needs.

Soon to be sold in a local store will be a special kind of diaper, shaped like a B-29 to make one-size fit babies of all ages, without folding.

Just put baby on the bulls-eye, wing section goes in back, tail section in front and bomb-bay snugs up in crotch to absorb like a sponge.

To adjust for size, merely shorten the tail section in front before pinning.

The B-29 was invented by a Texan, Fred Dexter. It hangs from the hips, never slips and will not bulge under baby's clothing.

Called the Dexter Diaper, it's actually small enough to carry in your purse, wash in a small basin and dry one underneath on a coat hanger.

Washing Tip

If the glasses you are about to wash contained a liquid such as milk, rinse them first in cold water containing soda or other water softener. This helps to remove the milk and makes them much easier to wash.

Bleach may be used to remove distracting stains, but of course will not remove dirt.

Plymouth High Athletes Seize Four League Titles

Season Finishes As Huge Success

BY BILL HUBERT

The Plymouth Rocks (all eight of them) have done a remarkable, if not tremendous job this past 1956-57 school sports year. Out of a possible total of eight the Plymouth athletes won four Suburban Six B League Championships and captured third place in each of the other campaigns.

Football, basketball, track, tennis, golf, cross country, swimming, and baseball head the Plymouth High sports agenda, with league titles coming in the last four.

So, as the school year (and the sport schedule) comes to a close, a quick review of the year's highlights in the various sports is in order.

As the school doors opened last fall, so did the football and cross country seasons. In the cross country, Plymouth captured its first title of the year. Dave DeCoster led the way for the two-milers as he won first place in every meet, excluding the regionals at Trenton and the State meet at Ann Arbor. Dave captured second and sixth spots in those.

With rugged opposition throughout the whole schedule, the local football team displayed great form and talent. Taking third spot in the league, and with an overall 4-3-1 seasonal mark, the Rocks provided plenty of thrills for the fall sports fans. Perhaps the most memorable game was the 0-0 battle waged at Thurston, league winner and one of the top pickin powers of the state. Captain Ken Calhoun was elected most valuable player as coach Mike Hoban checked in uniforms at the season's end.

Then came the snow and with it two of Plymouth's most popular sports, swimming and basketball. The tankmen provided PHS with its second league trophy of the year. They literally swamped all opposition (losing only to Birmingham and Ann Arbor) under the watchful eye of coach John McFall. Having Senior Bill Brandell chosen as an All-American was an event long to be remembered by Plymouth swimmers and swim fans. Brandell was also elected most valuable of the team.

Probably the most heart-breaking story of the Plymouth sports year was witnessed by local basketball fans. These people, as did all of Plymouth, saw the fast-breaking, white-clad Rocks, under the skillful direction of coach Charles Ketterer, rise from the ranks of the unknown to the ninth ranking class A squad in the state; only to see them fall as they had risen—fast and with scant explanation. Winning the first seven games in succession, the Rocks dropped five out of the last six, and were eliminated in the second round of the regional tournament. The game most publicized and (still) talked about was the Trenton contest played on the local court. With the gym packed to its bulging limits, the Rock Five downed the invading giants on the last second heroics of Captain Ken Calhoun and Junior Bill Hubert. That game will surely be remembered always by those who witnessed it. Calhoun was again the "most valuable" player.

More recently as the sunshine began to penetrate the wintry-cloud laden sky, and the mud dried and disappeared, the last phase of Plymouth High athletics arrived. Starting with track, the cindermen seemed well on their way toward capturing the third first place trophy of the year. However, though smothering all competitors during the regular season, the combined forces of the other league members was too much for the hometown thinclds as they could manage only third place in the league meet. Led by Captain Rocky Showers, Jeff Yoeman, and Ron Markam, the locals still turned in a great season under the direction of coach Keith Baughman. Possibly a big factor in the league meet "fall" was Plymouth's weak field events entries. Showers was unanimously picked the most valuable member of the team.

The golfers of PHS might well become pros. These all-but unbeatable (Tom Carmichael, John Taylor, Bill Rambo, Kurt Atchinson, Staton Lorenz, Gary Wilson, Bob Isbister and Don Carney) won every dual match until meeting Dearborn in the last one of the season. They also handily took the Suburban Six B League Championship. Coach Jim Sandmann was instrumental in the team's success as he was in the many cross country triumphs. Sandmann was the only "double winner" coach on the staff. Tom Carmichael received most valuable honors.

Though the tennis team had a 5-00 season (4-4), they did extremely well considering the stiff competition facing them. They captured third place behind Trenton and Bentley, two very strong clubs. Led by Fred Libbing (most valuable), Art Losse, and Bob Kennitz, the club was coached by Robert Smith.

And last but certainly not least comes the PHS baseball team. As everybody with ears and eyes probably knows, the Plymouth Nine was undefeated through a schedule of thirteen tough opponents. Superb pitching and timely hitting brought the Rocks this distinction, one that coach Mike Hoban and team can certainly be proud of. Outfielder-pitcher Bob Clear was voted the most valuable player, as he led the team in hitting with a .382 mark. Biff Tai's perfectly pitched game against Northville was only one of many highlights during the campaign. Thus, the ball conquests brought about the fourth and final league title.

So there you are, sports fans. Four championships and four thirds in eight high school sports possibilities — something that would receive praise even from one not so biased in his opinions (as maybe this reporter is).

SPORT seen

BY BILL HUBERT

Hello
My name is Bill Hubert, and this column is mine. I am a new member of the paper and no doubt a stranger to you faithful readers of the Plymouth Mail, so it is proper I formally introduce myself.

William Mack Hubert is my full name, and I live at 866 Ross Street with my parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hubert, and brother Dick, a Plymouth sophomore-to-be. I am 17 years of age and will be a member of the senior class of PHS next fall. Coming from both Kansas and Illinois, my family and I have lived in Plymouth for approximately twenty months, and find it a pleasant place indeed.

This (as you will no doubt discover) is my first attempt at any such thing as a column. Though I have been interested in writing for quite some time, it is a more difficult task than I had imagined. But, my writing qualifications are these: my grandfather was, and my uncle (both on my mother's side) has been a newspaper man for many years, thus giving me a slight hereditary angle. It was through my uncle that I was first exposed to, and became interested in the newspaper business. I am presently a member of the 11th grade creative writing class, which is a special English class concentrating on composition and writing in general, taught by Mr. Butler, school librarian. I regularly attended one of the complete creative writing courses for adults last fall. And last, I have been on the staff of the Pilgrim Prints (PHS newspaper) for a year, and hope to become sports editor of same next September.

Though this certainly doesn't affect my status now, I might add that I plan to major in journalism and creative writing in college, either Kansas University or Missouri University.

I was indeed fortunate to obtain this position as sports editor of the Plymouth Mail, and I am deeply indebted to Mr. Chandler and Mr. Spensler for the opportunity.

In regard to my qualifications for writing sports I believe I have had sufficient athletic experience to warrant this particular position. Sports have been my major interest ever since I can remember. I have played on supervised basketball and baseball teams since the fifth grade and hope to continue doing so. While in Plymouth, I have played Varsity basketball for two years, one year each of JV and Varsity baseball, and am anxiously awaiting their return next year. I have also played two years of high school football and I believe I have enough basic background to intelligently cover sports.

But, we shall see! If at any time you, the readers, feel I am not doing a good job, or have any suggestions for improvements, I am open for your letters and criticism. Simply send them to me at my street address.

And, though I'll do my best, there will inevitably be mistakes (I know myself pretty well). However, please bear with me; I'll try to keep them at a minimum.

See you next week . . .

Boys' Summer Baseball Starts Week of June 17

Plymouth boy's summer baseball program is about to begin. Boys of all ages are busy preparing themselves for the opening days of the season, which are the week of June 17. Games will be played until August 23.

Due to a limited amount of information at this time, a complete report on all four leagues (12 and under, 14 and under, 16 and under, and 18 and under) is impossible. However here's what is known:

Practice and game schedule: (1:00-3:00)—Monday and Wednesday—16 and under teams; Tuesday and Thursday—14 and under teams; Friday—combination of both groups. (3:00-5:00)—Daily—12 and under teams (working with Mr. Hoban). (5:30-9:00)—Monday and Wednesday—14 and under league games; Tuesday and Thursday—16 and under league games. (6:30-10:00)—Friday—12 and under league games (under the lights).

First practice sessions and team meetings will be held the week of June 17. All those boys wanting to try out for the teams should be behind the high school at the time and day for their age group listed above. Those wishing to sign up now, or seeking additional information should call Mr. Woolweaver's office at the high school.

All boys interested in playing 18 and under baseball will follow a different schedule entirely. The first practice session of the season will be held tonight, June 6, at 6:00 behind the high school. Boys desirous of participating in 18 and under baseball should be present tonight or contact Mr. Jack Stevenson.

Since many boys were turned away from the teams last season, there will be two Plymouth teams in each league this year, providing a sufficient number of players turn out.

Rocks Wind Up Baseball Season Still Undefeated

The Varsity Nine of Plymouth High won its 13th in a row (and last) game of the 1957 season Tuesday, and became the first undefeated high school baseball team in Plymouth for quite some time.

The Rocks, traveling to Thurston for the contest, easily added the Redford ownership squad to its string of defeated opponents, to 9-2. Ken Knipschild was the winning hurler and boosted his record to 7-0 for the year.

Bob Clear led the Rocks' attack with a single and triple in three trips to the plate. Though collecting only five hits, the Rocks took advantage of some sloppy pitching to score the bulk of their tallies. Singles by Ken Calhoun, Jerry King, and Knipschild, rounded out the Plymouth attack.

Knipschild allowed only four hits, struck out four and walked three to record the final Rock victory of the season under his name.

A sharp drop in the Japanese birth rate has given that country a rate of 19.4 births per thousand people per year, five points below the United States rate.

Windsor Castle in England, a royal residence for nearly 900 years is the biggest castle in the world.

Seventeen million acres of arid land have been brought under irrigation in India during the last five years.

by MEL OTT

The much-publicized move of the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers to the West Coast is apparently inevitable, and you have to understand the situation in Greater New York to see why this probably is so.

The Polo Grounds, where I played for the Giants for many happy years, is a horseshoe-shaped affair off the Harlem River at Eight Avenue and 159th Street. It seats about 55,000 which is large enough, but it is an antiquated park.

It is maybe the last stadium remaining in the major leagues where the teams have to walk from the clubhouse, at the curve of the horseshoe, all the way through centerfield and the infield to reach the dugouts, home plate being at the mouth of the horseshoe.

The bleachers, in centerfield around the clubhouse entrance, are hardly adequate. They seat less than 5,000.

More important, the parking problem around the Polo Grounds always has been bad, and with more people driving cars these days it has become intolerable. The character of the neighborhood has changed, also, and another problem is the tortuous drive to and from the park along traffic-clogged thoroughfares.

Brooklyn's Ebbets Field is a bandbox on Bedford Avenue seating little more than 30,000. It hardly measures up to major league specifications either in playing size or seating capacity.

Because Ebbets Field is situated in the middle of a congested residential area, they used to say the Dodgers could fill their park with people walking to it. Parking lots weren't needed. Unfortunately, the people aren't bothering to walk there anymore. And in the increasingly rare occasions they do, there's no room for them.

Baseball parks on the order of Briggs Stadium are simply too costly today to be constructed through private financing. Municipal assistance is required, such as at Milwaukee, Baltimore and Kansas City.

When Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers and Horace Stoneham of the Giants turned to New York for new parks, however, they were met with promises but little positive action. For a while it did look like the Giants might rent space at Yankee Stadium.

What subsequently followed has been too well recorded to be rehearsed here but as former manager of the Oakland team in the Pacific League, I think I know the Coast well enough to say that extremely difficult problems remain to be settled before moving day.

While Los Angeles would be happy over getting the Dodgers and San Francisco would be equally pleased to acquire the Giants, the other cities that make up the Pacific Coast League could not be expected to be exactly delighted at seeing their league swallowed up by major league baseball.

Seattle, Sacramento and other teams in the loop undoubtedly would sue for encroachment of their territory. Seattle has, in fact, already threatened a $3,000,000 suit.

Then there are the matters of adequate playing facilities, parking and accessibility to traffic though these now seem to be minor considerations with Los Angeles and San Francisco panting so hard for a big league team that both are quite willing to grant virtually any demand.

If and when they build a new ball park in San Francisco for the Giants, let us hope it is not in any way designed in the manner of the Polo Grounds.

With the clubhouse in centerfield, any player ejected from the game has to walk up the clubhouse steps only two feet from jeering fans in the bleachers, and that sometimes can be mighty uncomfortable.

Next week's schedule of games is:

Monday, June 10—Lutheran Men's Club vs. Chevie Spring and Bumper, Vico Products Co. vs. Knot Heads, Stroth's Distributors vs. Daisy Mfg. Co.

Tuesday, June 11—Lincoln Division vs. Chevie Spring and Bumper, Beginger Olds vs. Box Bar.

Wednesday, June 12—Independents vs. Northville V.F.W., Continental Can Co. vs. Garden City Hospital.

Thursday, June 13—Lincoln Division vs. Beginger Olds, Box Bar vs. Chevie Spring and Bumper.

All games follow a 6:15-7:30-8:45 time basis, played in the order listed above.

Applications for New Junior Golf Association Being Taken

A Junior Golf Association that is expected to attract up to 50 boys and girls is being started by the Plymouth Adult Education and Recreation Association.

Youngsters who have finished the fourth and through the 12th grades are eligible to join the association. This is the first such activity attempted by the Education and Recreation department and is patterned after the successful association started in Flint many years ago.

Application blanks are now available at all school principal offices. The completed blanks and an entry fee of $1.50 must be taken to the Hilltop Golf Course on Ann Arbor Trail where all play will take place.

Whether the youngster has had any golf experience or not, they are being invited to join the association. During the first week of play, the young people will be grouped according to age; during the second and third weeks they will be grouped according to score; fourth and fifth weeks according to temporary handicaps; and following that according to permanent handicaps.

Play will begin Monday, June 17 and will continue each Monday for eight weeks. A tournament will end the season on August 12 and 13. Only those who have a permanent handicap will be eligible to enter the tournament.

Chris Burchardt, manager of Hilltop, will conduct a free clinic before each play to teach golf etiquette, rules and technique. All pupils will be obligated to attend the clinics.

In addition to the entry fee, the players will pay a greens fee of 60 cents weekly, unless he has a membership. Junior memberships at the course are $25 a year.

One of the important factors in getting the association started is the need of "walkers". A parent will be needed to walk around with each threesome or foursome to keep score.

Closing Sale Is Discussed by City Commissioners

Plymouth's city commissioners Monday night pondered a "going out of business sale" being conducted by King Furniture.

Commissioner Carl Shear said "other merchants and the Chamber of Commerce" had complained to him about the sale because it was being conducted without a license.

"There is a state statute which requires a license be obtained from the city clerk for certain types of sales such as fire sales, removal sales, liquidation sales. It calls for a fee, sets time limits for the duration of such events, calls for posting of inventory at the start of the sale, prohibits importing new inventory, etc.)"

City Attorney Harry Deyo said it was his opinion that the King sale did not fall under the statute and that complainants should seek an opinion from the Wayne County prosecutor, since only the state law is involved.

Shear was supported by other commissioners who said the present sale was "no different than running a wholesale or discount house."

Susie Casler 2 Years Old Now

This column could have been longer this week, but it seems that just about two thirds of the people I talked to stayed home for the Memorial Day weekend!

There was a Spring Festival at Rosedale School May 28 evening. The theme was "Around the World" and the 5th and 6th grade students presented songs and dances of the various countries. Susan Schaffer played a very excellent piano solo.

Be sure to get your reservations in by June 14th for the trip and luncheon to Haven Hill sponsored by the Garden Club! Tickets are on sale for $2.00 and the gardeners will leave the clubhouse at 9:00 a.m. June 19. For information call Mrs. Charles Gardner, GA. 2-1848.

Lois Durfee is getting out and around again, having been tied down more or less for a month getting Clifford and Steven over the mumps.

Gerri Casler, Louisiana avenue, had a birthday luncheon last week in honor of daughter Susie's second birthday. Guests included Madeline Bertouille, and son Timmy, of Redford Township, Isobel Rehner and Children Diane and Jeff of W. Chicago, Anita Griffith and son Gary of Louisiana avenue and Mrs. Rae Chisnell of Plymouth. Thursday the family had a pot luck get together to celebrate some more in Detroit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James White.

The Welcome Wagon newcomers of Livonia held a pot luck supper and evening of fun at the home of their publicity chairman, Jean Puls, Ingram avenue, with 35 present. Each one brought her favorite recipe made up in six servings.

Barbara and Steven Fortney, Vermont, have a new baby brother.

Ed Gilday has been on vacation and has been working hard in the yard with Kevin "helping!"

Terry Wienberger, 8 years old, had a birthday party and made his First Communion recently.

The neighborhood bridge club met at the home of Betty Dana, Vermont avenue, Monday afternoon, May 27th with Dorothy Smith, Celia, Hearon and Nancy Snowberger present.

Kenny Gardner, Loveland, celebrated his sixth birthday Saturday, May 25 with a party. Guests present included Paul and Billy Eisey, Leo Ryba, and Sandy and Bobby Stewart.

Texie and Clark Andrew, and son Fred, of Cranston Ave. left last Wednesday for a weekend in Columbus, O.

Ted and Helen Bujewski, along with Linda, Jean and baby Teddy spent Memorial Day in Chicago, visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McNamara, Ingram, are the parents of a baby boy, Robert Stephen, born May 6th at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Robert, who weighed 7 pounds, 1 1/2 ounces has a sister Kathleen 18 months old and a big brother, Ronald who is nine.

Virginia and Bill Jarocha, Roseland, and children Rosemarie, Billy and Allen returned recently from a two week vacation in Florida.

The Beagans, Vermont, aren't afraid of tornadoes! Tom, Ruth and children Cheryl and Mickey made a trip to Kansas last week to visit Tom's relatives.

The Danas, Vermont, attended the Rotary Builders show Sunday, along with Laurie, Kris and John and reported a fine time.

Sandy Mills, Mayfield avenue, had her 4 1/2 year old tonsils removed last week.

Speaking of the Mills family, you'll be glad to know that they broke through from the house proper into the addition last week and now can get into the family room without having to climb through the window. They spent Memorial Day weekend panelling the new addition.

Old rickey-tickey records and pizza made an interesting evening at the home of Joyce and Les Truax last Wednesday evening for Lorraine and Joe Quinlan, Lee and Jack Ruland and yours truly.

Finding news items this week has been like looking for the proverbial needle in a haystack. Most everyone seemed contented to putter around the house catching up on small jobs or just plain relaxing. Those who did brave the holiday traffic are back home safe and sound.

Ron Upton sang with the Plymouth high school choir when they entertained the patients at the Northville State hospital.

Walter Lake and family spent Saturday and Sunday at their retreat in the Irish Hills.

Just for the record, Counted 22 flags out on Memorial Day.

Our dinner guests on Memorial Day were Mildred and Larry McGown of Detroit.

Marty Kennedy, Jr., has gone to Mackinac Island this week with a group of 17 senior counselors to open the scout lodge. They will have buildings and grounds in apple pie order before coming home on Sunday.

Ethel Cameron and her daughters, Debbie and Donna, are flying to Buffalo, N. Y., Monday to visit Ethel's parents. They will return Friday.

Dorothy and Bud Wilson and children spent the weekend at Kitchener in Canada where they celebrated Dot's family reunion. Dot's father, Mr. Drummond, was able to leave the hospital for about three hours Saturday afternoon to join the family. The occasion also marked his 69th birthday.

Bill Stang, Al Truax and Jack Kelley spent Saturday fishing on Lake Erie. Al reports catching some good-sized white bass.

Callers at Otis Cobleighs of Parkview drive Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Boyd of Ann Arbor. Boyd is a retired professor of engineering at the University.

The Jack Rulands pitched their tent at Lakesport State Camp near Port Huron over Memorial Day. Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Larsen, accompanied them.

The James Sponsellers drove to Bucyrus, Ohio, over the weekend to attend Mrs. Sponseller's brother's graduation exercises.

Highway Travel 'Drugs' Drivers

Have you ever tried to hypnotize yourself? It's simpler than you think if you do much driving on some of the country's newer thoroughways this summer.

Driving mile after mile at sustained speeds with your eyes focused on a straight highway can waft you into a dream state. You can easily become "speed-drugged."

Some drivers are awakened from this "hypnotic trance" only by the sound of screeching brakes followed by the crash of steel. Tragically, many never awaken at all.

Their car has piled into another ahead, which has stopped or swerved suddenly. Sometimes a chain reaction may extend for several hundred feet along the turnpike.

By acute overdoses of monotony, many drivers have been literally "bored" to death.

Here are some suggestions to help you avoid becoming a fatal "throughway" statistic:

Motorists should practice whatever mental diversions are necessary in order to avoid slipping into a highway hypnotic state. Some favorites are playing the radio, conversation with passengers, frequent shifting of body position, and varying speeds slightly. On the other hand, do nothing that will distract you from full attention to driving. Sightseeing or scenery gazing is not for thoroughway travel. Keep moving in pace with the general traffic flow, but do make frequent rest stops.

Flick your eyes in the rear view mirror periodically. Stay in your lane and don't move into another lane without a double check on following traffic.

Turnpike authorities recommend a minimum of six car lengths between vehicles; never "camp" too close to the car ahead.

Never, under any circumstances, come to a full stop in moving traffic if it can be avoided. If you have to stop, get your car off the road on to an apron. The drivers behind may be under the spell of "highway hypnosis."

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

The Board of Education, Plymouth Community School District, Wayne County, Michigan, will receive bids for the rehabilitation of certain areas in the existing High School and Junior High School buildings until 8:00 P.M., E.S.T., Monday, June 17, 1957; at the office of the Board of Education, Plymouth Community School District, High School Building, Plymouth, Michigan, at which time and place all bids received will be opened and read aloud.

The work will be awarded under a single General Contract—however, each bidder will be required to segregate his proposal in accordance with the following:

1. Architectural Trades
2. Mechanical Work
3. Electrical Work

The above breakdown shall be provided for each of the two buildings with a grand total of his bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish satisfactory Labor and Material Men's Bond and Performance Bond each, in the amount of 100% of the contract, the cost of which shall be paid for by the bidder.

Plans and Specifications may be obtained on or after 12 NOON, MONDAY, June 3, 1957, at the office of the Architect, Wheeler and Becker, 1210 David Stott Bldg., Detroit 26, Michigan. A check drawn in the amount of $25.00 shall be deposited with the Architect, for each set of plans and specifications taken from the office of the Architect. The deposit shall be refunded when plans and specifications are returned to the office of the Architect in an unutilized condition not later than 5 days after the bid due date. A charge of $2.00 per day will be charged for all sets of plans and specifications retained by other than the successful bidder after the 5th day after the due date of the bids.

All proposals shall remain firm for a period of 30 days after the opening of bids.

Each proposal shall be accompanied by a Certified Check or a bid bond made out to the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education in the amount of 5% of the total proposal.

The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities therein.

Time is of the essence and each bidder shall state in his proposal the exact number of calendar days he will require to complete the work after notice has been given of award of contract.

Edward Everett Horton Will Star In Ann Arbor Theater Production

Edward Everett Horton, the stage's "greatest living master of the farce comedy," will star in "The Reluctant Debutante," one of the current Broadway season's most engaging comedy successes, as the finale of the 1957 University Drama Season. The play is slated to begin a week's engagement Monday, June 10, in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre.

There will be performances at 8:30 p.m. nightly through Saturday. Matinees will be given at 2:30 p.m. Thursday and Saturday.

Written by William Douglas Home, "Debutante" was originally presented in London where it enjoyed a popular run of three years. Acclaimed by critics and audiences as "tremendously funny" and "top-notch entertainment" this winter in New York, it will be made into a motion picture by MGM next year.

In the play Horton is seen as the father of a teen-age daughter who, though scheduled to make her social debut, is really much more interested in riding horses than dating boys. The domestic situation which arises out of this filial conflict are both charming and uproarious.

Edward Everett Horton is a familiar face to movie fans who will remember him from "Holiday," "Arsenic and Old Lace," and "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." His most recent TV engagement was on Playhouse 90's "Three Men on a Horse."

Topping the supporting cast will be Renee Gadd, Lynn Bailey and Rhoderick Walker, all of whom were associated with the Broadway company. Joan Wetmore, Lynn Thatcher and Paul V. Stickle will be seen in the production.

John O'Shaughnessy is the director of the play, while the settings and costumes are by Robert and Emma Hirsch Mellemcamp. Tickets for the production are available at the box office in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre daily from 10 a.m. until 8:30 p.m.

Social Notes

Harry Shaffer of Eau Gallie, Fla., left Friday morning after visiting his aunt, Martha Eckles, and relatives in the Plymouth-Northville areas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Owen Schrader of Canton Center road enjoyed dinner on Decoration Day at the Farm Cupboard.

Following the James Trautman-Sally Johnson wedding and reception on Saturday several of the guests were entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham on Ann street for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sharpley have sold their home on South Main street and will move to her girlhood home on Middlebelt road later this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown were dinner guests Sunday in the home of the former's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bordine in Carleton.

Mrs. Kenneth Ramseyer and family enjoyed a visit on Friday with her sister, Mrs. Charles Farley of New York, who was enroute home from the Indianapolis races.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bolton of Pleasant Ridge and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cowgill of this city enjoyed a picnic dinner with Mr. and Mrs. John T. Neale at their home on Auburn, Memorial Day.

Geraldine Wilhelm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wilhelm of 11253 Gold Arbor road, celebrated her May 24 graduation from St. Clare Academy last Sunday with friends and relatives. She plans to attend St. Theresa's Extension College this summer.

Mrs. Owen Schrader attended a bridal shower last Friday evening for Margaret Lou Carpenter, at the home of Margaret Lou's aunt, Mary Carpenter of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. John Staudt of Tulsa, Okla., arrived to surprise her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Allison Sunday at their home on Morrison. They remained until Thursday (today).

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hoheisel spent the weekend at their summer place in Northern Michigan near Clare.

Mrs. Sanford Knapp will be hostess to the members of her contract bridge group on Tuesday, June 11, in her home on Irving.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage entertained 18 neighbors and relatives at a picnic supper Memorial day at their home on Clemons drive.

Major and Mrs. Howard Ebersole of Ypsilanti were entertained Saturday evening at dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gray on South Harvey.

Mrs. Nellie Bird has returned from a boat trip down the Mississippi. Stops were made at various places of interest on the three-week trip.

Mrs. Winnifred Draper Carney, Mrs. Barbara Bake Stecker of this city and Mrs. Donna Finnegan Richards of Wayne were luncheon guests Wednesday of Mrs. Ruth Allison Staudt at the Hotel Mayflower. Mrs. Staudt of Tulsa, Oklahoma and guests were in the same class in high school in 1927. The class will have its reunion on Saturday of this week.

Good Tools Aid Garden Efforts

Careful selection of garden tools can be the first step toward easier gardening and more vegetables for you this summer, points out Fred Widmoyer, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University.

You will need a hoe, rake and shovel for your garden. A small wheelbarrow is also useful.

Check the handles of your hand tools when you buy them. They should be unpainted, as paint will hurt your hands and can hide imperfect grain. The grain of the handles should be straight, with no knots.

If you do buy painted tools, sand the paint off with a fine (.00) sandpaper. Then paint with a mixture of 1/2 turpentine and 1/2 raw linseed oil. Several coats of this mixture will give a smooth, waterproof coating that will protect the handles and the hands that use them.

See that there is a good head on the rake, and that it is firmly attached to the handle. It should have a strong shank; not merely a spike driven into the handle. The shovel's weakest point is usually the shank, too. Get the strongest you can find, and then don't use it to pry with.

A flat file will be needed to sharpen the hoe. A few minutes of sharpening can save hours of work. Use firm strokes on the curved surface of the hoe, and don't worry about making a "wire edge" on the blade. A single stroke of the file will remove it.

A rubber-tired wheelbarrow with ball bearing wheels can be a handy and inexpensive addition to your garden equipment. But one that isn't built well is no bargain at any price.

Men In Service

Sergeant Thomas E. Davis, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Davis, 1167 Morgan street, recently was graduated from the Seventh Army Non-Commissioned Officer Academy in Munich, Germany.

A wire-team chief in the 10th Infantry Division's 87th Regiment, he successfully completed a five-week course in leadership, map reading and other military subjects.

Sergeant Davis entered the Army in January 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan., before arriving overseas the following September.

He was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1955.

3—In Memoriam

In loving memory of Billy Higgins who passed away five years ago, May 29, 1952.

Today recalls the memory of a loved one gone to rest, and those who think of him today, are those who love him best. The flowers we lay upon his grave may wither and decay, but the love for him who lies beneath, will never fade away.

His loving Mother & Father, Sisters & Brothers.

In memory of Robert F. Koppen who passed away June 6, 1956. Sadly missed by his wife and children.

4—Card of Thanks

I wish to thank Reverend Welch for his visit, Plymouth Rock Lodge for the many cards, flowers, gifts, calls and acts of kindness extended to me during my stay in the Hospital and at home.

Sincerely,
 Marguerite A. Crumble

We wish to thank our many friends, neighbors and relatives, Reverend Robert Richards and Schraders Funeral Home for their cards, flowers and kind acts of sympathy we received during our recent bereavement.

The family of Wm. Schmidt

Trust Funds to Buy City Sewer Bonds

Some sanitary sewer bonds are going to be turned into cash by the City of Plymouth so work can proceed on capital improvements. The buyers of the $43,000 in bonds will be city-controlled trust funds, which now have the cash, while bonds would serve their purposes just as well, for the time being. Main trust funds involved are the perpetual care fund of Riverside Cemetery ($25,200), and Pettingill Trust Fund ($11,500).

Ultimately the city will recall the bonds, when cash in hand isn't so important a factor. Because of the level of the bond market today, the securities will be sold to the trust funds for about 90 cents of $1.00 par value. The action was taken by the Commission Monday night.

Resident to Learn Handwriting Analysis

Mrs. Connie Johnson of 9255 Oakview is enrolled in a study membership in the International Graphology Analysis Society, Inc., of Springfield, Mo. The society is said to be the only one of its kind devoted to teaching character analysis from handwriting. Handwriting strokes and their meanings are studied. Mrs. Johnson will follow an extension study program based on personal and individual instruction. Upon completion of this correspondence course, Mrs. Johnson will be awarded a certificate.

Contract bridge is now taught in 20 colleges and universities in the United States.

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GA. 1-2029

On Sunday, May 26, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeCoster and children, Dale, Dennis and Denise of Ravine drive, attended the first Communion of Nancy Ossler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ossler in Detroit.

An advisory committee for the Newburg Methodist church's annual fall bazaar, met at the home of Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road, Monday, May 27. Present were Mrs. Harold Mackinac, Mrs. Earl Waack, Mrs. Raymond Grimm, Mrs. S. R. Adams, Mrs. Robert Arnold and Mrs. Paul English. Plans were formulated for the bazaar Saturday, Nov. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe and children Bruce, David, Mark and Nan of Joy road were Memorial Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Waltz of Elizabeth street, Wayne for a picnic at Burrough's Farms on Little Crooked lake.

A men's softball team, representing Newburg Methodist Church is being organized in Livonia's church league. Any man interested in this should contact Paul Nixon at GA. 1-8987. The minimum age is 15 and all are encouraged to support this plan.

Mrs. Henry Grimm, Jr., of Wayne road has returned after spending the past week visiting in Ottawa, Can.

The Newburg Methodist church is having its daily vacation church school again this year, and Mrs. Paul Nixon is the director. The school will begin Monday, June 24, and last through July 3. Teachers are needed to staff the school, which will last from two to two and one-half hours every morning. All children from kindergarten up are to attend.

Mrs. Stuart Flaherty of Narise drive is home after spending 10 days in the Wayne County General hospital, recovering from injuries received in a recent automobile accident.

The sympathies of friends and neighbors are extended to Mr. and Mrs. William Kenner of Narise drive. Mrs. Kenner's father just recently passed away.

Mr. and Mrs. William Body and Stephen of Sacramento, Calif. and more recently of Milwaukee, Wis., were house guests this past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Clements of Levan road. Saturday, June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Clements held a "hello" party for all of the Body's friends to call and say "hello." The Body family are former residents of Newburg road.

Following her christening Sunday, May 26, at the Newburg Methodist church, Sheila Jayne Ryder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryder of Plymouth, along with her parents, spent the day at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Donald Ryder of Ann Arbor trail. An open house was held for about 30 friends and relatives to celebrate the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe and children Bruce, David, Mark and Nan of Joy road visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Halter Battinger in Ypsilanti, Mich. Saturday, June 1. Friends and members of the Newburg Methodist church send their sincerest sympathies to the family of William A. Schmidt at the passing of Schmidt's father during the past week.

Panel to Discuss Problems, Situations Facing Parents Of Crippled Children

The Parent Council for the Fund for Crippling Diseases will hold its next meeting at 8 p.m., Monday, June 10, at the Woodward Medical Center, 13535 Woodward avenue, Highland Park.

Attending from the Wayne area will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bratby. Mrs. Bratby is originally from Plymouth.

The evening's program will feature a panel discussion on (1) relationship between the normal child and the handicapped child and the handling of the handicapped child, (2) accepting the fact that your child is handicapped and (3) caring for the handicapped child. A question and answer period will follow.

Refreshments will be served, giving the parents an opportunity to become better acquainted. Visitors may attend the meeting.

Italian Style Spaghetti Tastes Good on Cool Days

Chilly days can come even in the summertime, and what could be better on such days than old-time, homemade Italian-style spaghetti with meat balls?

Mrs. Fabre A. Mirto of 185 Blunk has a special recipe for this dish, which she learned from her mother-in-law while her husband was in the service. Mrs. Mirto learned by watching, and is a firm believer that cooks should taste foods while preparing them. She explained that eventually you learn to suit your own taste when adding ingredients.

If cooked long enough, Mrs. Mirto said the mixture may be kept for a week in the refrigerator or indefinitely in a freezer.

Spaghetti with Meat Balls (Italian Style)

- SAUCE:
- 1/4 cup olive oil
  - 1 medium onion, diced
  - 1 clove garlic, chopped
  - 1 No. 2 1/2 can Italian tomatoes (Plum-style)
  - 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
  - 1 tablespoon oregano
  - 3 basil leaves
  - salt and pepper to taste
  - 1 can tomato paste (add three small cans of water to paste)

Brown olive oil, onion and garlic lightly in sautepan. Combine rest of ingredients to saute' onion and simmer an hour.

MEAT BALLS:

- 1/2 pound chopped veal
- 1/2 pound chopped pork
- 1/2 pound chopped beef
- 1 clove chopped garlic
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper

MRS. FABRE MIRTO'S TWO SONS, Gary, 14, and Bruce, 11, are first ones to the table when there's Italian-style spaghetti with meat balls being served. Both boys are students at Our Lady of Good Counsel school.

- 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
- 2 eggs (beaten)
- 1/4 cup fat or oil

Mix veal, pork and beef in bowl. Combine garlic, parsley, salt, pepper, bread crumbs and eggs with meat. Mix thoroughly.

Cook meat balls in fry pan with fat or oil in it, until brown. Remove and set on absorbent paper. Add meat balls to sauce and simmer an hour or more if possible. Oil rises to top of sauce when done. Stir before serving. Serves six to eight persons.

NEW BOOKS At The Wayne County

"The Promoters" by Stephen Longstreet—Story of two gifted and fascinating men: a judge and a promotion man whose end comes when he literally descends into Hell via the bottle.

"Sword and Scalpel" by Frank G. Slaughter—Novel of an American surgeon in the Korean War who afterwards is faced with court martial for treason.

"The Incredible Ivar Kreuger" by Allen Churchill—Fabulous life story of "The Match King," greatest swindler the world has ever known, a man of fantastic manipulation and an incredible personality.

"How Doth the Little Crocodile" by Anthony and Peter Shaffer—Tale of investigators challenged by a "perfect crime" and an exclusive London club, dedicated to homicide as a fine art.

"Broadway in a Barn" by Charlotte Haromn and Rosemary Taylor—Summer theater high jinks are told, all the way from trying to sober up a leading lady to chasing a skunk out of the theater.

"To Make a World" by Theodore Morrison—Story of a young man's education in the mysterious way of charity.

"The Assassin" by Selwyn Jepson—Novel of suspense as a London broker experiences a harrowing series of murder attempts made by an unknown adversary for reasons he is at a loss to explain.

"The 27th Day" by John Mantley—Five citizens must guard deadly boxes for 27 days or risk the end of the human race. They must accept responsibility for a weapon which could mean chaos and nothingness.

Who's New in Plymouth

IT'S AN ALL-FAMILY AFFAIR when the William A. Ehrlichs do any camping, fishing, gardening or just "exploring all the wonderful parts of Michigan." The family of Linda, 3; Ehrlich, a special agent for Crum and Forster Insurance; Ricky, 5; and Mrs. Ehrlich, a member of the local PEO chapter, live at 881 Ross and belong to the First Presbyterian church. Originally from Freeport, Ill., they moved here via Northville. Plymouth's small-town atmosphere and "wonderful schools" were two of the deciding factors in their settling down here.

The Waves, the feminine branch of the United States Navy, now have more than 6,000 officers and enlisted women on duty in state-side and overseas bases.

Powerful 'County'

Signs are all around that the "County" constantly will become a more important unit of government in our local lives.

Our intent here today mostly is to review a couple of matters that fall under the subject, but we first will state briefly that we are solidly with the trend to increase County power—temporarily, anyway.

It has become startlingly obvious that in some vital areas—most particularly the providing of sewer, water, and a fair tax assessment—that many cities and townships ultimately wind up in handcuffs. They run out of funds; they also find their problems interlock with those of neighbors and there is no way to combine properly for the solution.

There is, of course, one objection to the County becoming the key unit. Its authority stops at the County line. Some problems—sewer and water, again—cross County boundaries.

DPW's will be able to use the faith and credit of the entire county to borrow on bond issues to finance sewer, water and drainage.

Properly used, this bill can be a sensational stimulant to suburban growth. Today, construction waits for sewer and water to be installed. Sewer and water, on the other hand, can't be installed often because there is no construction to provide the tax base to pay for the facilities.

The County DPW now (in theory, at least) can look at vacant areas such as are in Livonia or Plymouth Township; can determine a need for sewer and water; authorize the issuance of bonds; and something will get accomplished.

The townships and cities of course, still must pay for the improvements, but they will be able to get started on them whereas today they are paralyzed because of no legal credit.

A different problem was discussed at some length in the Free Press recently in connection with a new County set-up in Dade County, Florida—which is Miami Beach and environs. But though only Florida has adopted the experiment, the subject is a familiar one to all of us in western Wayne County.

In Dade County, certain new superior powers have been bestowed on the County government with the most important one being the authority to assess all property on a County-wide basis.

This "County Assessing Officer", as we understand it, has absolute authority to make the personal, building and land assessments on every inch and every individual in the County.

The objective, obviously, is to put everyone on the same standard—to insure that all pay in strict accordance with their resources. Then there can be no argument about one unit assessing at one rate, while another cuts it low, both receiving the same services.

It sounds good to our ears. These two things—use of County credit for borrowing by local units and a one-standard-for-all tax assessment—would go farther toward licking our current local problems than anything we can think of at the moment.

Nevertheless, authority must stop somewhere. We are tired of the responsibility for local problems having to be carried all the way to Lansing and/or Washington. There is too much authority and bureaucracy in those capitol now, and it is impossible for government at that distance to fairly understand and appraise individual problems for the multi-thousands of local units over which they reign. There is something ridiculous about having to go to Washington to beg for survey of a small river (the Rouge) which has become overloaded because some sub-dividers have built new houses out near Northville, Plymouth, Livonia and Redford Township.

There is a good case to be made for a "metropolitan authority" to take care of problems in this area, but the "metropolitan authority" does not exist today. The County is all set up, and can get into action with a minimum of delay.

Our problems call for action now, so we say let's go with what we have.

One such move was passed rather quietly by the State Legislature recently and the measure has been signed by the Governor. It allows counties to set up "departments of public works". The key fact is that these

The Big Question

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

I spent last weekend in the Hawaiian Islands. I'd been in Seattle on a speaking date and when I heard the West Coast fare to Honolulu and back is just $250 I found myself buying a ticket. It's my philosophy that instead of waiting until you retire you should grasp travel opportunities as they arise—even if you've left your wife at home. While I could have used the money for some new clothes or a fresh paint job on home sweet home, I figured these needs would be quickly forgotten but that memories of a weekend in Hawaii would last me a lifetime.

It's still incomprehensible to me that a plane as big as a house, packed to its portholes with people and packages, can be persuaded to leave the ground. But we got off the ground all right and just eight hours and 2,200 miles later the pilot welcomed us to Hawaii. As the plane dipped low over the lovely, green island of Oahu we got a look at the Pearl Harbor Navy Base as it must have looked to the Japanese attackers on December 7, 1941.

We felt like potentates as we strolled from the plane into the bright Hawaiian sunshine and were given the works by pretty native girls who wreathed us with smiles and fragrant flower leis—all, I suspect, courtesy of the airline. And we had gotten no farther than the airport terrace when we heard the strum of guitars and saw a lovely brown-skinned lass in a grass skirt swaying rhythmically in the ancient ritual of the hula-hula.

HAVING DECIDED TO live it up during my brief stay, I took a taxi to the posh Royal Hawaiian Hotel where the cheapest room in the house is $16 per day. Then I got my first view of famed Waikiki Beach which extends like a

What's Your Question On World Affairs

BY EDGAR ANSEL MOWRER

"You stated the French might relapse into what some call the 'portugalization' of their country. What do they mean?" (C. M. Maxwell, Philadelphia)

A long time ago the Portuguese, realizing their country no longer had the wealth, the numbers or the wish to engage successfully in world affairs, gradually retreated from these. Portugal now takes part in pacts, alliances, etc., only when it is immediately concerned and maintains a minimum of armed forces. By "portugalization" some Frenchmen mean accepting a role as a minor, purely local state—no longer a power in any sense.

This is a contentious week Abraham George, of Waco, Tex., writes to argue King Saud and the other Arabs are not against Jews but against Zionists and defends that king's exclusion of American Jews on the ground that "a Jew is always an Israel!" He concludes his argument with the following gem: "If you or any of your race is allowed in Arabia, would you work as an American or would your main object be to spy and sabotage for Israel? Don't keep on fooling the public about your American patriotism."

As an American descendant of old-stock Protestants with no known Jewish ancestors, I cannot qualify for the insult. But I shall continue to try to tell the truth as I see it.

John R. Reardon of Philadelphia indites four pages to argue (textually) that "the best possible testing place for the atomic bomb is not Bikini but number 10, Downing Street, London." A matter of taste—bad taste.

"If Mr. McLeod has the character you want us to believe, why would the President want to send him to a nice country like Ireland? It seems to me the only people who hate Mr. McLeod are the leftwingers and parlor pinks." (Cathy Williams, Toledo Ohio)

Perhaps because I am neither left-winger nor parlor pink, I do not "hate" McLeod. I even think that at one time he and his friends did us a service by calling attention to Secret Communist infiltration into sensitive branches of our government, etc. Unfortunately, they did not stop there. They not only branded us as Communist or pro-Communist people who were not—thus doing them real harm—but their actions scrapped the spirit if not the letter of the Bill of Rights in the process. To me, the Bill of Rights comes first—above eliminating a few bad apples from the American barrel. That was the way America began and that is the way I want to keep it.

Joseph J. of Newark N. J. says Amen to my preference for a preponderance of long-range bombers (and guided missiles) over the Communist in place of a balanced budget or other economics. Many thanks. Speak up whenever you can and prevent the economizers from taking too great risks with our national safety.

"Why can we not furnish arms for the Soviet satellites just as Red Russia is furnishing arms for Communists who would overthrow the existing governments in the free world?"

"Did American influence hinder tanks and supplies being flown to the Hungarian patriots at a critical moment in the recent uprising?"

"Is John Foster Dulles still an advanced internationalist as he is on record as being in 1943?" (Early Van Devanter, Glenmore, Calif.)

We could, and I think we should, have furnished arms and immediate UN observers for the Hungarian rebels. But since no free government seems to have had the nerve to propose this, I doubt if the U.S. Administration ever prevented it. I hope Secretary Dulles is still as he was in '46. Only an internationalist is capable of getting the American people out of the present trouble without major war. The time of purely national solutions to important problems is over.

Tails serve animals as fly swatters, as signals, as instruments of communication, as extra hands and tools of many uses.

There were about 65,000 automobiles manufactured in 1908. By 1940 that number could be produced by U.S. factories in five days or less.

FROM THIS DAY FORTH . . .

Regardless of how we shape our lives after we strike out on our own in the world, there is one service which all of us need and of which we avail ourselves . . . the counsel and advice of the PROFESSIONAL insurance agent.

As we take on new responsibilities and our material wealth increases, the qualified insurance agent is the man who interprets our needs and prescribes so that we will always be SAFE and sure of keeping what we have. He is there at the important milestones . . . our first automobile . . . our first home.

As the years go by, he carefully plans and builds our insurance to custom fit our circumstances and needs. When loss occurs, he is there to intercede for his client, representing his client in the settlement that very often protects a lifetime of work and savings.

Some of us buy insurance without planning and this may mean not enough insurance one place and too much in another. Some confuse CORRECTLY PRICED insurance with "bargain" insurance . . . there is a difference and too often that difference becomes expensively apparent when we suffer a loss.

If you are not SURE of YOUR insurance, we urge you to call on us for a frank analysis of your present insurance situation. Backed by years of professional experience, we'll analyze . . . prescribe, if need be . . . or assure you that you are properly insured. Often, we can save you money . . . ALWAYS such an analysis will tell you FOR SURE!

Greatness Is Never Achieved Suddenly!

It has long been true, in the affairs of men, that only time can confirm the gift of greatness.

Artist, statesman, writer, craftsman—each must await the years for the maturity of his talent and for the verdict of his judges.

And as it is in the affairs of men, so it is in the world of commerce. Nothing great was ever created suddenly—whether the product be that of an individual or of an organization.

Here, most certainly, is the very genesis of the unique position which Cadillac currently occupies in the hearts and minds of the world's motorists.

Since the first Cadillac car made its appearance more than fifty-five years ago, it has always been created to a single objective: to make it as fine a motor car as it is possible to produce.

And, without question, the mission and the accomplishment have been one and the same.

The goodness of Cadillac has, in fact, been so apparent over that lengthy span that the Cadillac name stands today as an accepted synonym for quality wherever highways exist.

The pretenders have come—and they have gone. For time is an exacting taskmaster—and only the principles that have created the great Cadillac car and only the devotion that has given it being have been equal to the challenge.

Never has this fact been more deeply etched in the public consciousness than it is during the present automotive year.

If you have yet to take the wheel of a 1957 Cadillac, you should hesitate no longer to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer.

Waiting for you in his showroom is proof beyond doubt that Cadillac is—in fact as in reputation—the Standard of the World!

High School Instructor to Retire After 34 Years of Teaching

After 34 years of teaching economics and American history in high school, Harry Reeves, 1224 W. Ann Arbor Trail, is retiring from his teaching career and will be taking up selling stock with Campbell, McCarty and Company, stockbrokers of Detroit.

An instructor in Plymouth high school for the past 16 years, Reeves previously taught for 18 years in schools in Giltner and Paxton, Neb. Twelve years of that time were spent in administrative capacities and as superintendent of schools.

Reeves' switch to selling stock may come as no surprise to some of his former students. In connection with his economics classes, Reeves always had a stock market unit, in which students would invest an imaginary $10,000 in the market. They would figure total losses and gains over a three-year period, thus continuing their interest after completing the class requirements.

In addition to his school duties, Reeves served as a Hi-Y advisor for 14 years. By taking Hi-Y groups to visit the United Nations, along with co-advisor Walter Goodwin, another high school teacher, Reeves was the first to initiate school contact with the UN.

In 1948 the groups traveled by car for the first of three trips to the UN. For the last outing, in 1954, Y-Teens, girls' group corresponding to the Hi-Y, also went along. The larger size of the whole group made travel by train most practical. Both groups have since disbanded.

Harry Reeves and the Plymouth Teachers' Association.

Last fall, he served as chairman of Precinct 4 for the Republican Party. At the Republican state convention last February, he was honorary vice-president.

Selling stock will now become his full-time job, although Reeves has been selling it on a part-time basis since last January.

Waterborne Hotrods' Get Warning

Reckless or negligent operation of a motorboat is punishable by fines as high as $2,000 or by imprisonment for as long as one year, or both, the U.S. Coast Guard warned recently.

"Waterborne hotrods" are fast becoming a major problem along with their landlubber colleague, the "crazy driver", emphasized Captain E. H. Thiele, Commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District.

Reckless or negligent operation of vessels is not limited to operation at excessive speeds, but may include overloading small boats, creating a wave capable of causing damage, operating in areas frequented by swimmers, pulling a water skier through an area in which other boats are operating, or where there are swimmers, or operating in such a manner as to cause a collision.

Any private citizen who witnesses a violation on the waters of the Great Lakes may report it to the nearest United States Commissioner or United States attorney. Information needed would be the name and/or boat number, the time and place, and, most important, names and addresses of witnesses to the incident.

ORDINANCE NO. 219

AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE REGULATION AND CONTROL OF THE CONSTRUCTION OF FENCES IN THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH: TO PROVIDE FOR PERMITS THEREFOR; TO PRESCRIBE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS AND TO REPEAL ALL ORDINANCES, OR PARTS OF ORDINANCES, INCONSISTENT WITH THE PROVISIONS HEREOF.

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:

Section 1. From and after this date it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to construct, or cause to be constructed, any fence upon any property within the City of Plymouth without first having obtained a permit therefor, as herein provided, and without complying with the provisions hereof hereinafter set forth.

Section 2. Any person desiring to construct, or cause to be constructed a fence upon property in the City of Plymouth shall first apply to the city for a permit, for which there shall be a fee of three ($3.00) dollars. Such permit shall be issued by the Building Inspector upon a written application, which shall contain such information as may be required by the inspector in order to determine that such fence will not violate any ordinance of the city or state law.

Section 3. In Residential (R1, R1-A, R-2) and Professional Residential (PR-1) zoned areas, fences may be constructed of posts sunk into the soil at least two (2) feet and may be constructed of boards, non-barbed wire or other suitable material. Such fences shall not exceed a height above ground level of more than four (4) feet.

Section 4. No partition or interior lot line fence, or other fences in residential and professional residential areas, shall extend toward the street beyond the established building or set-back line at the front of the lot, nor shall any fence be constructed in any residential or professional residential area on or parallel to the front lot line, provided that a fence may be constructed parallel to the front lot line if same be located on or back of the established building or set-back line. No fence shall be constructed along the side lot line on the street side of any corner lot closer than one (1) foot from the established sidewalk line.

Section 5. In Local Business (C-1) and Commercial Business (C-2) zoned areas fences may be constructed of posts sunk into the soil at least three (3) feet and may be constructed of boards, non-barbed wire or other suitable material. Such fences shall not exceed a height above ground level of more than six (6) feet. No fence shall be constructed along the street line of a lot closer than one (1) foot from the established sidewalk line. On corner lots, no fence shall be erected between the property lines of intersecting streets or highways, and a line joining points on such lines six (6) feet distant from their points of intersection.

Section 6. In Light Industrial (M-1) or General Industrial (M-2) zoned areas, fences may be constructed of posts sunk into the soil at least three (3) feet and may be constructed of boards, non-barbed wire or other suitable material. No fence shall be constructed along the street line of a lot closer than one (1) foot from the established sidewalk line. On corner lots, no fence shall be erected between the property lines of intersecting streets or highways, and a line joining points on such lines six (6) feet distant from their points of intersection. Barbed wire may be installed on the top of such fences on the owner's or supports projecting over the private property side of the arms of the fence at least eight (8) feet above the adjacent grade.

Section 7. All fences must be located entirely on the private property of the person, firm or corporation constructing the same, provided, however, that if adjoining property owners jointly apply for a permit to erect a fence upon their common property line such fence may be so erected.

Section 8. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to construct or maintain, or to allow to be constructed or maintained, upon property owned or occupied by such person, firm or corporation any fence charged or connected with an electrical current in such manner as to transmit such current to persons, animals or things, which might be in contact with such charged fence.

Section 9. Upon complaint in writing by any person directly or adversely affected, the Zoning Board of Appeals of the City of Plymouth may, after a hearing in accordance with the established procedure of said Board, in its sound discretion and in the interest of the public health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants of the city, modify, reduce or remit the requirements of this ordinance in individual cases coming before said Board.

Section 10. The Building Inspector may require the owner of property upon which a fence is to be constructed to establish lot lines upon said property, through the placing of permanent stakes located by a licensed surveyor. Such lot lines shall be established before such fence shall be erected and the Building Inspector may withhold the issuance for the required permit until the lot lines are established and permanent stakes are placed.

Section 11. The Building Inspector may make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions hereof, which may be necessary for the proper administration of this ordinance.

Section 12. If any phrase, sentence or section of this ordinance be held invalid for any reason, it is intended that such holding shall not invalidate said ordinance as a whole.

Section 13. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon the conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars, or in default thereof imprisoned in the Detroit House of Correction for a period not exceeding ninety (90) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 14. All ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 15. This ordinance shall become operative and effective on the 11th day of June, 1957.

Made, passed and adopted by the City of Plymouth, Michigan this 21st day of May, 1957.

Reeves was born and reared in central Michigan. After attending the University of Michigan, he obtained his bachelor's degree in education and a master's degree in economics and American history at the University of Nebraska. While a graduate student there, he served as assistant to the head of the American history department.

During the last world war, Reeves was coordinator of apprentice training, a job which involved planning and writing up programs to help students in job placement. He recalls "running up and down those (high school) stairs hundreds of times" trying to get help in this work. After students were placed, he would continue contacting employers to check on their progress.

A member of the local Kiwanis club, he is serving his second term on the local University of Michigan club Board of Governors and has served three years as secretary of the Presbyterian church Board of Trustees. In addition, Reeves belongs to the Michigan Education Association.

Home Spray Booth

Paint spraying around the home is a simple matter if you have a spray booth made of rugged pieces of asbestos-cement board. You can make it yourself by nailing together a frame of 1" x 2" lumber, to which the asbestos panels are screwed. Not only will the booth keep the spray where it belongs; but because asbestos board is fire-resistant, it makes a safe and convenient place to store your painting equipment and supplies when not in use.

Near Boca Raton, Fla., 50 miles from Miami Beach, there is a 350-acre reproduction of Africa. Zebra, camels, ostriches and other desert and jungle life can be observed on this preserve.

AIR CONDITIONING—TEMPERATURES MADE TO ORDER—AT NEW LOW COST. GET A DEMONSTRATION Sweet, smooth and sassy in town or country—the Bel Air Sport Coupe with Body by Fisher.

Chevy's come up with the newest, sweetest, smoothest automatic drive—Turboglide. It's the first and only triple-turbine transmission!

Turboglide is something really new and different in automatic drives. In the first place, there's only one forward speed position on the control. There's no "Low" needed. Turboglide handles everything with the oil-smooth action of triple turbines. You travel from a standstill to top cruising speeds with never a lurch or lag to mar your motion.

When you see a steep downhill stretch ahead, you set the selector at "GR" (Grade retarder) and Turboglide helps slow you down. Try Chevy's new, nothing-like-it automatic drive. It's optional at extra cost—and worth every cent of it.

Queen of Alma College is Crowned

Jean McClure, Alma College freshman from Alma, Mich., was crowned Campus Day queen at 7 p.m., Wednesday, May 22, in outdoor coronation ceremonies on the west campus.

With the other six underclass coeds who were members of her court, she reigned over the day-long series of events, traditionally scheduled on this day each spring for nearly 40 years.

Selected to the court were Joan Donnelly, Plymouth sophomore and last year's queen who placed the crown on her successor's brow; Dorothy McLeod and Geraldine Stirling, Detroit sophomores; Linda Alexander, Livonia freshman; and Sue Edgar and Pat Sweeney, Detroit freshmen.

Queen Jean and her attendants were elected by vote of the entire student body from among all freshmen and sophomore women. Balloting took place two weeks ago, with the seven top vote-getters named to the court. Jean, in receiving the highest total, was named queen. While the names of the seven were known immediately, the identity of the queen was not revealed until the time of her coronation.

Activities of the day included the men's and women's intramural football championship playoffs, freshman - sophomore tug-of-war, Kiltie Band concert, Alma-Central Michigan College baseball game, coronation of the queen and the Coronation Ball.

Daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth McClure of 214 Grand Street, Alma, Jean is majoring in business administration.

Washington College in Maryland is the only one to hold that name with the consent of George Washington.

Some two million people visit the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C., each year.

Plans Proceed For New Council

"We felt that an inter-school council would bring closer relationships among schools of our league," said Shug Watson at a recent meeting of the Plymouth high school Student Council.

8th Grade Party To Have Movies

The annual eighth grade party sponsored by the P.T.S.A. will be held Friday, June 7, in the junior high school auditorium, from 8 to 11 p.m.

Student committees from Mrs. Kelly's and Mr. Andersen's homes have selected "Stardust" as their theme.

Students assisting Mrs. George Condash, Mrs. Orvy Heath and Mrs. Gene Gooch on the decorating committee are: Dave Ruge, Charlotte Luker, Paul Rawley, Shirley Puckett, Roger Warner, Louise Sackett, Sandra Glassford, Bob Evans, Jennie Caldwell and Barbara Cooper.

Mrs. J. A. Gretzinger, Mrs. Gerald Fisher and Mrs. Don Rank will be assisted on the refreshment committee by Marilyn Finley, Elaine Calahan, Linda Griswold, Rita Fisher, Joy Anderson and Bernell Finney.

Check room assistants will be Bob Meinteit and Don Forrester. Games will be planned by Mrs. Irene Graham, with the help of Madolyn Johnson and Marilyn Houghton.

Jim Cutler will play records for dancing. The music will be selected by Peggy Jenkins, Judy King, Diane McGhee, Sheila Lorenz, Evelyn Wing and Juanita Alexander with the help of Mrs. James Spigarelli.

Movies will be selected by Dennis Robertson, Gary Weismiller, Richard Groth and Jim Davis, assisted by Mrs. George Cronkrite and Mrs. William Compton.

The P.T.S.A. cordially invites all in the eighth grade to attend. There will be dancing, movies, games and refreshments, and a door prize for a lucky boy and girl.

Son Born to Localites in Germany April 8

SP 2/C Warren Battle and his wife, Darlene, announce the arrival of a baby son, Aaron Wayne, born April 8.

In a military atmosphere the baby was baptized in Pioneer Kaserne chapel, Hanau post, Germany, Easter Sunday, Rev. Fr. Ralph J. Murray, R. C. chaplain, U. S. Army, officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Battle of Plymouth forwarded the baptismal dress worn by their son, Warren, to be worn by their grandson. They were Godparents by proxy, with the young couple's service friends, Leonard M. King and Vicky Lehmann, standing in for them.

Parents of Mrs. Warren Battle are Mr. and Mrs. John Nagel of Salem, Mich.

After another year of overseas duty, the Warren Battles are expected to return to Plymouth. Battle is a graduate of Plymouth high school and Mrs. Battle graduated from Northville high school.

"We Were Amazed"

Says CAR LIFE,
The Family Auto Magazine

We were amazed as we drove the Special four-door hardtop, to find that an automobile could be completely changed yet retain so much of its former appearance and character. The 1957 models have all the familiar, solid Buick virtues.

THE ABOVE brief clipping tells you worlds about the '57 Buick.

It tells you we went all out to make this car completely new—yet we didn't sacrifice a single Buick virtue.

So you still get that unmistakable Buick styling.

You still get that big-car room and comfort and that solid Buick quality.

But you also get so complete a change in the vitals of this car that the driving of it is a wondrous new experience.

You get a brilliant brand of performance that's different from anything else that goes on four wheels.

Words won't describe it. Telling you there's an all-new engine, an instant new Dynaflo,* a completely new power train—none of that will convey this news to you.

What you have to do is get in this car and drive it. Drive it around the block, through town, out on the highway. Actually feel what happens when you press the gas pedal, turn the steering wheel, touch those powerful new brakes.

Then—and not till then—will you know why folks call this "the dream car to drive."

The best advice we can give you, by far, is this: Ask your dealer for a trial run today

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Special Program Honors Officers Of High School

Newly-elected class officers were inaugurated, and old officers honored at the Inaugural Assembly held in the Plymouth high school gymnasium May 14.

The hour-long program began when a procession of class officers and Student Council members of the 1956-57 school year marched down the center of the gym toward the stage. The group was preceded by two Eagle scouts, Bernard Curtis and Larry Leet, bearing the American and school flags.

The group was seated on the stage, where "new and old" all-school officers were also seated. Assembly Committee Chairman Carol Clarke presented a welcome address, followed by Senior Class President Dave DeCoster who delivered a short speech.

1956-57 all-school officers then presented farewell speeches and congratulated their successors. Bob Kemnitz, Sally Williams, Al Spigarelli and Biff Tait turned books over to 1957-58 officers Annie Denny, Mary Jane West, Janet Spigarelli and Al Spigarelli, treasurer, secretary, vice-mayor and mayor of the Student Council, respectively.

Past officers then descended from the stage, and new class officers and Student Council members came up and were seated.

Principal Carvel Bentley welcomed and congratulated the group, reminding them of the trust voters had placed in them and the responsibilities which they faced. Each electee then raised his right hand, and an oath of office was taken.

Mayor Biff Tait delivered a farewell address, then turned the gavel over to Mayor-elect Al Spigarelli. Mayor Spigarelli outlined his plans for next year, including the organization of an inter-school Student Council, the promise of a bigger and better Homecoming and a good noon recreation program. He emphasized the fact that if the student body did not place an interest in the work of the Student Council, not much could be accomplished.

Election Board Chairman Joan Salan was introduced and praised for her fine work. Robert L. Lillard led students in singing the Alma Mater.

On the Assembly committee were Dick Well, Shug Watson, Bill Brandell, Kurt Atchinson, Jane Hardimon and Joan Bassett.

As a result of a recount, the freshmen student council members, or next year's sophomore representatives, are Mike Porter, Randy Egluff, Peggy Davidson and Gloria Bowles.

Due to a tie in the junior race for Student Council, a revote was taken. Arlene Kubick was elected.

Rules for Garden Control of Weeds

Better not figure on chemical weed control in your garden this summer, advises Stan Ries, Michigan State University horticulture specialist.

The average home garden, Ries explains, is made up of small, single row plantings of a dozen or more different crops planted at various times. To be sure of a good job, the home gardener would have to buy and stock no less than six or eight different chemicals. These would have to be applied at different times, some before a crop emerged, others after emergence. One chemical, applied to one vegetable could drift to a neighboring row and cause injury.

Ries suggests four basic rules for home garden weed control:

- (1) Carefully prepare the soil before planting.
- (2) Kill out serious perennial weed pests such as quackgrass and thistles this year, so they won't bother next.
- (3) Cultivate between rows right after setting plants, or as soon as seeded crops come up.
- (4) Cultivate only as often as necessary to control weeds. If you don't keep ahead of the weeds, you can't catch up with them.

An industrial marine atmosphere is found to be most corrosive while the least rusting occurs in a rural area.

New Methods Cut Building Costs

Whether the home is built to order for the family, or whether it is purchased from a development builder, the cost is one of the most important factors. Here are proven ways in which money is saved, and which can reduce over-all construction costs at least 10%. If a builder uses these methods, the home-buyer may be sure he is getting maximum value at lowest possible cost.

Build on an interior module in multiples of 4". This can be done readily by using such materials as grooved hardwood wall paneling and plasterboard ceiling sheets.

Pre-cut all framing material to avoid expensive cutting and fitting of each stud, rafter and joist as work progresses. Pre-cutting greatly reduces workmen's non-productive idle time and produces a more substantial frame.

Assemble each exterior wall in one piece in a horizontal position and then tilt into place. Two men working on the level can do as much work as 3 working from scaffolds or ladders. When plywood sheathing is applied while the wall is lying flat, at least 20% in wall cost is saved.

Use roof trusses instead of conventional rafters to effect savings up to 30%. The trusses are assembled on the ground and each is put into position as a single unit—a marked saving over piece-by-piece rafter and ridgepole construction. The trusses are tied together with 4" x 8" sheets of plywood sheathing. Exterior walls fully support the roof trusses.

Also, lay the entire floor before partitioning. Like wall and ceiling finish, this eliminates costly cutting and fitting and total savings will average about 25% over old-style methods.

Use storage walls wherever possible as room dividers instead of conventional partitions. These provide a greater amount of storage space at lower cost than standard partitions and closets.

Place windows directly beneath the plate at top of the walls to eliminate extra construction of headers. Plan windows to fit between standard-spaced studs to avoid building special frames. Group the windows to avoid time-consuming and wasteful fitting of many small pieces.

Plan back-to-back plumbing to save as much as 40% on the plumbing material and labor bill. Install the complete water supply and drainage system before partitions are in place.

Keep ceiling heights at 8' 3/4". This saves up to 20% since 4" by 8" sheets of V-grooved paneling, installed vertically, exactly fit the wall without the need of cutting or adding sections. When the 5/16" thick ceiling sheets are applied only a tiny joint is left. This is hidden by a narrow strip of molding.

Color Lifts Family Morale, San Francisco Stylists Say

"It's a psychological fact that good color styling inside and out makes a house a happier place for every member of the family," according to Albert and Nancy Rubey, one of California's most sought-after home-color styling teams.

Albert and Nancy Rubey builders in the San Francisco area. They are typical of color consultants who are setting the pace for home-color styling all over the nation.

By "good color," the Rubeyes explain, they mean bold colors used tastefully in a scheme, which includes the entire house, inside and out.

Interior colors visible from the outside, such as curtains and draperies, should match or harmonize with colors used on the roof, siding and trim, say the Rubeyes.

"We also feel it's important that other interior colors be picked up from the exterior color scheme," Albert points out. "For example, if a door is painted pink and you open it and walk into a hallway with a pink carpet and harmonizing walls, you get a feeling of unity. Often this isn't immediately recognizable, but it makes the whole house seem better, somehow."

The Rubeyes' technique for color styling a house is to begin with the roof. The color or shade of the asphalt shingles gives them a key from which to pick a harmonizing scheme of colors for the entire house.

"As an example," says Nancy, "if we decide on an asphalt shingle roof in one of the bright pastels, we choose siding in a harmonizing color and a single trim shade with no accent colors."

"But if the shingles are a neutral brown or gray, we use three colors on the rest of the house—two harmonizing shades for the siding and trim, and a bright accent on doors, shutters and window boxes."

Pitched Roof Trims Cost Of Summertime Cooling

Air conditioning is more effective and less expensive to operate in a home with a pitched roof, according to a leading-research engineer in the field of home cooling.

"The larger the air space in a well-ventilated attic, the greater the protection from outside heat," says Prof. John R. Watt of the mechanical engineering department of the University of Texas. "Flat or shed roofs have virtually no protective air space."

Professor Watt told an audience of air conditioning engineers and members of the National Association of Home Builders that:

"Doubling the amount of air space in the attic reduces heat absorption into the living areas by 75 percent."

This air space, combined with thick mineral wool insulation in the attic floor, reduces penetration of overhead heat so efficiently, Professor Watt says, that smaller air-conditioning units can be used and cooling costs are reduced by as much as half. For complete protection against summer heat, mineral wool also should be installed in walls and living area floors.

Professor Watt based his recommendations on research conducted at the Air Conditioned

Village, Austin, Tex., where the operation of air-conditioning equipment in various types of homes was studied under actual living conditions.

A properly ventilated air space under a pitched roof acts to reduce heat radiated from the roof to ceilings below by wiping off surface heat to carry it out-doors through the vent openings.

Many architects and cooling engineers advise light-color asphalt shingles for the roofs of air-conditioned homes, since a light surface reflects more of the sun's rays.

The combination of a pitched roof, ventilation and thick mineral wool insulation is effective in reducing overhead heat in any house, air-conditioned or not.

Keep Drawer Knobs Tight

USE of a lock washer can keep a knob screw on a drawer from turning, according to Popular Mechanics. The special washer should be placed between a flat washer and the head of the screw. If it is located against a wooden surface, it will sink into the wood and lose its locking ability. The same principle can be applied to keep wooden knobs tight on the lids of pots and pans.

New Homes Guide Plan Features Horizontal Lines

With emphasis on the horizontal, this design by Richard B. Pollman featured in NEW HOMES GUIDE magazine is strictly contemporary. Central entry permits direct access to all areas. Bedroom area is well isolated from living room noises. Kitchen has ample room for a breakfast nook. There is an auxiliary wash-room in addition to the full bath with its twin lavatories. Area of the house is 1,490 sq. ft. For information on blueprints, write to NEW HOMES GUIDE, Dept. 1903, 621 N. Dearborn, Chicago 10, Ill.

New Home Buyers Had Better Buy A Dictionary To Learn The Language

Young couples setting out to build or buy their first home are in for some surprises if they still think lintels go into soup or a dry well is really dry.

First thing they should do is to learn the language of architects and builders. A dictionary of building terms can be purchased in any good bookshop.

Lintels make good soup; lintels make better supports over a door or window to hold up wall and roof. A dry well works best when wet; it's a small pit of loose stone designated to catch rainwater from downspouts and disperse it into the ground.

Some important but often overlooked definitions prospective home buyers should familiarize themselves with are these:

1. Dry wall. Most homes today have interior dry wall construction. That is, gypsum, asbestos cement, or wood fiber wallboards are used as interior walls. They're economical and versatile materials. When covered with waterproof ceramic tile (applied with an adhesive), they cut the cost of bathroom construction.

2. B.T.U. British Thermal Unit is the term used to measure heat. Home buyers should know how many are necessary to heat their home.

3. Footings. They're concrete bases, below frost level, that support walls. They should be twice the width of foundation walls.

4. Shed roof. It's a roof sloping in one direction only and not necessarily over a woodshed. Economical and practical, the shed roof affords easy drainage and aids good window placement.

5. Priming. Walls as well as pumps need it. It's a coating of waterproof material, such as shellac or varnish. For example, before ceramic tile is installed in kitchen or bath, its plywood or wallboard backing should be primed.

There are many more important items to check when looking for a quality home. But you can't check intelligently until you've first learned their definitions.

Portable 'Bed Desk'

WHEN snuffles or something more serious keeps an active youngster in bed, the hours will pass more pleasantly with a portable "bed desk." Such a desk, basically a panel to rest on the lap or on pillows, provides a firm, hard surface suitable for drawing, writing, playing games or holding books.

A piece of Marlite left over from a wall or ceiling application serves admirably for the purpose, being both decorative and practical.

This prefinished tempered pressed wood comes in various wood grain and marble patterns and plain colors, and has a baked plastic finish which is smooth and durable.

With a crosscut saw, cut a rectangle about 16 by 20 inches, rounding the corners and making a gentle, sweeping curve on one side to fit the body. A quarter-round molding several inches from the bottom will help keep things in place. Nail it on by driving brads through the back of the panel.

Panel edges should be planed or sanded smooth. The molding can be painted.

With Our Local Boy Scouts at Fabulous 'Gold Rush'

PLYMOUTH TROOP 298 BUILT AND DEMONSTRATED various types of fires to be used on camp outs. Demonstrating one of the fires are, from left to right-kneeling, Second Class Brent Camp, Star Terry Wright, Second Class Barry McCullough and Star Jerry Harper; left to right-standing, Assistant Scoutmaster Clair Avery, Executive from District 7-Wendell Henry, Scoutmaster Ralph Lefler and Committee-man Fred Aldrich.

One of the most thrilling events in the history of Boy Scouting in this area took place last week when 15,000 boys and their leaders thronged to a 1957 "Gold Rush" at the Highland Recreation Area.

Scouting is a big thing in the lives of boys from our area—Plymouth, Livonia, Redford Township, Clarenceville—and they poured into the Gold Rush by the hundreds.

Pictures on this page were taken exclusively for this newspaper as a record of the big event. They show the good, clean, exciting, outdoor phase of youth activities at this time when so much attention is given to more grim phases of youth behavior.

And if these pictures don't make most of our fathers wish they were young enough again to be participating, then we miss our guess!

THE RAIN CAME LATE Saturday afternoon, so Tenderfoot Jeff Bowers and Second Class George Richards of Troop 202, Stark School P.T.A., Livonia, had a little sack time, snug and cozy in their trail tent.

DISTRICT 10 DEMONSTRATED a nature trail. As the boys entered the trail they were given the following information: THINK TWICE BEFORE YOU START UPON THIS TRAIL! While there are rich rewards—there are perils and dangers. Those who venture upon this trail must be courageous and brave-fearless as lions. Before you lies the "Forest of No Return". However some of you—the brave ones—will risk these dangers because of the gold you may find. A long the trail they met two old sourdoughs who had just made a rich gold strike. Naturally, they shared their nuggets (butterscotch balls) with the scouts on the trail. From left to right they are Tenderfoot John Crete, Explorer Harry Saunders from the Advisory Council, Tenderfoot Ron Jeffrey, Neighborhood Commissioner Bob Thatcher. It is estimated that the burrow carried a load of 8,000 nuggets.

WATER BECOMES A VERY important item on a camp-out, and there never seems to be quite enough of it. Here we see Tenderfoot Lee Scott, Second Class John Szekeres and Tenderfoot Richard Covert of Troop 366 of St. Valentine's Church, Beech filling up their canteens from a milk can containing water.

AT THE CLOSE OF THE "GOLD RUSH" on Sunday, awards were handed out to the Banner Patrol of each troop. Here we see Herb Steiner, community commissioner, give the Banner Patrol Award to Scoutmaster Orlon Lewis of Troop 126 which meets at Aldersgate Methodist Church, on Beech Rd. The Scouts from left to right are Donald Knight, Frank Woodall, Ronnie Myers and James Scherberth.

THE DETROIT AREA COUNCIL HAD two big shows for the boys during the "Gold Rush". Most units marched in a group to the arena with their troop flags flying. Here we see John Boycott, troop committeeman, taking the boys of Troop 547, Fisher School, to the show.

DISTRICT 7, WHICH INCLUDES Livonia and Plymouth, demonstrated various types of tents, how to pitch tents correctly and various types of fires to be used under various conditions. Explorer Edward Newlin and First Class Carl Garko of Troop 1, Rosedale Gardens, Livonia demonstrate a tent line hitch.

IT TOOK WORK TO put up tents. Here are Scouts Philip Hurley, Lon Hake, Bob Carley and Mark Gillison of Troop 3 of Plymouth, sponsored by the Rotary Club putting up their tent on Friday.

IN THE ROPE THROWING PATROL contest one member of the patrol had to throw a rope thirty-five feet as if he were throwing it to a drowning person. The closer a rope came to the stake—the more points the patrol earned. Here we see First Class Terry Moore of Troop 742, which meets at the Hope Chapel Evangelical United Brethren Church, Livonia, trying his skill. Looking on are Tenderfoot Michael Paul, Tenderfoot Thomas Parmenter, First Class Jack Horner, Tenderfoot William Homer, Tenderfoot William Homer, Tenderfoot Allan Rickert and Tenderfoot Perry Foor.

ALL WAS NOT PLAY AT the "Gold Rush." There were dirty mess kits to wash. Here we see Tenderfoot Bruce Nordstrom, Second Class Keith Johnson and Tenderfoot Tommy Wabeke of Troop 130 of Redford Union High School scrubbing their mess kits.
