

Large Crowds Expected for July 4th Events

RESPONSIBLE FOR running a million and a half dollar business are these school board members who began a new fiscal year Monday and elected officers. Harold Fischer, standing, was re-elected board president. Others, from left, are: James Mitchell, vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing, secretary; Austin Stecker, treasurer; and Charles Zoet, trustee.

Fischer Retains School Presidency

A new fiscal year began Monday night for the Plymouth Community School system and sitting down around a table were the five people who have the responsibility of handling over a million and a half dollars during the next 12 months.

The five members, one of them beginning his first term, elected officers from among their own ranks with Harold Fischer being re-elected to the post of president.

Other officers are: James Mitchell, vice-president; Mrs. Esther Hulsing, re-elected secretary; Austin Stecker, treasurer; and Charles Zoet, trustee.

Charles Wilske Dead After Fall

Charles F. Wilske, a life-long resident of Plymouth, was found dead Sunday morning as a result of a fall down the basement steps in his home.

The Wayne County Medical examiner's office said that a skull fracture from the accident caused his death. A relative, who had been visiting Mr. Wilske, found him at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, and returned at 11 a.m. Sunday. When he called and got no answer, he looked in the basement and found the body. The examiner's office said he had been dead about 15 hours.

Mrs. Hulsing began her second three year term Monday night while Zoet, a Livonia school teacher, was beginning his first term. This will be the second year that Fischer will be president of the board. Leaving the board by virtue of his loss in the June election was Warren Smith, a member and board treasurer for six years.

The new board will have a record-high budget to work with this year. Totalling $1,665,571, the budget provides for more teachers, operating more buildings, and higher expenses. The new board will open the Junior High school next September.

One of the first problems tackled by the board Monday was that of negotiating a 10-acre school site in the Lake Pointe Village development. The board has accepted an offer to purchase the site for $46,500 but attorneys of the board and the Greenspan Building company have not been able to get together to draw up the agreement. It was reported to the board by President Fischer.

The school board's attorney is Judge Nandino Perlongo who has been hospitalized twice. Greenspan's attorney has also been out of town. The board directed Business Manager Blum to expedite the matter so that work on the school can begin soon.

Architect Byron Becker appeared before the meeting with plans for a concrete bleacher for the athletic field. The board has been discussing additional seating for many months. Cost of the bleacher was estimated between $15,000 and $20,000 and it will cost 900 because of the cost and because the games drawing the heaviest attendance (Northville and Bentley) will be away this year, the board decided to postpone any action.

The new board member, Charles Zoet, said that with regret he will not be able to attend board meetings during the next eight weeks. He has received a scholarship to attend a session at Columbia University and plans to attend.

21 Compete for Title Of 'Miss Plymouth'

To give Plymouth residents a holiday of entertainment without driving far on the busy highways is the aim of a Independence Day celebration being planned for this Thursday that is expected to attract thousands of people—young and old alike.

A bigger parade than hoped for is now being promised by the Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the day-long affair. There are also afternoon and evening events with the traditional fireworks closing the program at about 9:30 p.m.

As in years past, the observance is expected to draw many residents of other communities where no holiday events are planned. The Plymouth program is again one of the few in the state where Governor G. Mennen Williams and Lt. Governor Philip Hart will visit during the nation's 131st birthday. They will appear at the beginning of the 7 p.m. program at the athletic field.

The hundreds of marchers in the parade will assemble at 10 a.m. on Forest avenue and in the Kroger parking lot. Starting time for the parade down Main street is 11 a.m.

Following the parade at about noon, a horse show will be held behind the high school with ribbons going to winners in various categories.

At 2 p.m. the kiddies events will begin behind the school. The evening program will be at the athletic field.

Parade

Officials from Plymouth township and the city will lead the parade. Other participants are the Plymouth high school band, color guard of Mattress 81 sailors from the Grosse Ile Naval Training Center, veterans units, floats from business, industry and playgrounds, antique cars, a Detroit Edison steam calliope, farm equipment, and individual marchers.

Youngsters will have their own competition in the parade. The 10 playgrounds will compete for $8 in prizes in float division. There will also be $1 awards and ribbons for costumes. These will include the best and cleverest dressed boys and girls, best decorated bicycles, wagons and tricycles.

Thieves Find Churches Not a Fruitful Field

The second burglary of a Plymouth church within two weeks took place sometime last Thursday night when thieves entered St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church on Penniman avenue and made off with an estimated $150.

"Someone went to a lot of physical and moral effort to get the small sum," Reverend Edzar Howeske said. The money was taken from a poor box, the same source where an estimated $15 was taken from Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic church two weeks ago.

Police reported that footprints indicated the work must have been by a boy or small adult. According to Rev. Howeske, the burglars will find that church thievery is not a fruitful field because money is seldom kept in churches.

The parade will terminate behind the high school.

Kiddies Contest

An airplane will drop two bushels of peanuts, candy and gum in the high school playground at 2 p.m. Some of the peanuts will contain messages making the finders eligible for prizes from merchants.

There will also be a parade contests for boys and girls in various age groups. They are a show scramble, bean race, three-legged race, 25-yard dash, 50-yard dash, 75-yard dash and potato race.

Members of the Plymouth Recreation department and the Optimist club will handle the afternoon events.

Evening Program

Governor Williams' party will fly into Mettetal Airport at 5:30 p.m. After a dinner at the Hotel Mayflower, he will greet the crowd at the athletic field at 7.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the Miss Plymouth selection. The winner this year will receive an expense-paid trip to New York City for two and a trophy given by the Plymouth Chiropractors Association.

Jack Young, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Miss Plymouth selection, announced that judges for the contest this week are J. Richard Akon, permanent beauty consultant and manager of the Pittsfield Beauty Salon in Ypsilanti. He is also past president of the Michigan Coiffure's Association and has been judge at several similar contests.

Another judge is Miss Betty Mullins, a Capitol Airlines public relations person. She is an ardent dresser in the Washington office. Representing the chiropractors will be Dr. John Book of Fenton, President of a chiropractic association district.

Dr. G. K. Ashton of the association will present the trophy. Last year's Miss Plymouth, Pat Anderson, will crown the new winner. Unlike past years, the contestants will wear evening dresses during the selection.

Runner-up in the contest will receive a gift for two at Hillside Inn. Each of the girls will be interviewed during the program.

Masters of mirth for the program will be Joe Gentile and Ralph Binge, well-known for

Citizens Open Homes for 81 Sailors July 4

Probably not since the days of World War II or the Korean conflict have the citizens of Plymouth shown such a warm welcome as they will have for 81 sailors marching in the July 4th parade here.

After an appeal was made last week in The Mail for citizens to "adopt" one or more of the trances for a meal following the parade, there were immediate results, according to J. H. Wilcox, Chamber of Commerce manager. In fact, so overwhelming was the response that the sailors have been invited to stay through the day.

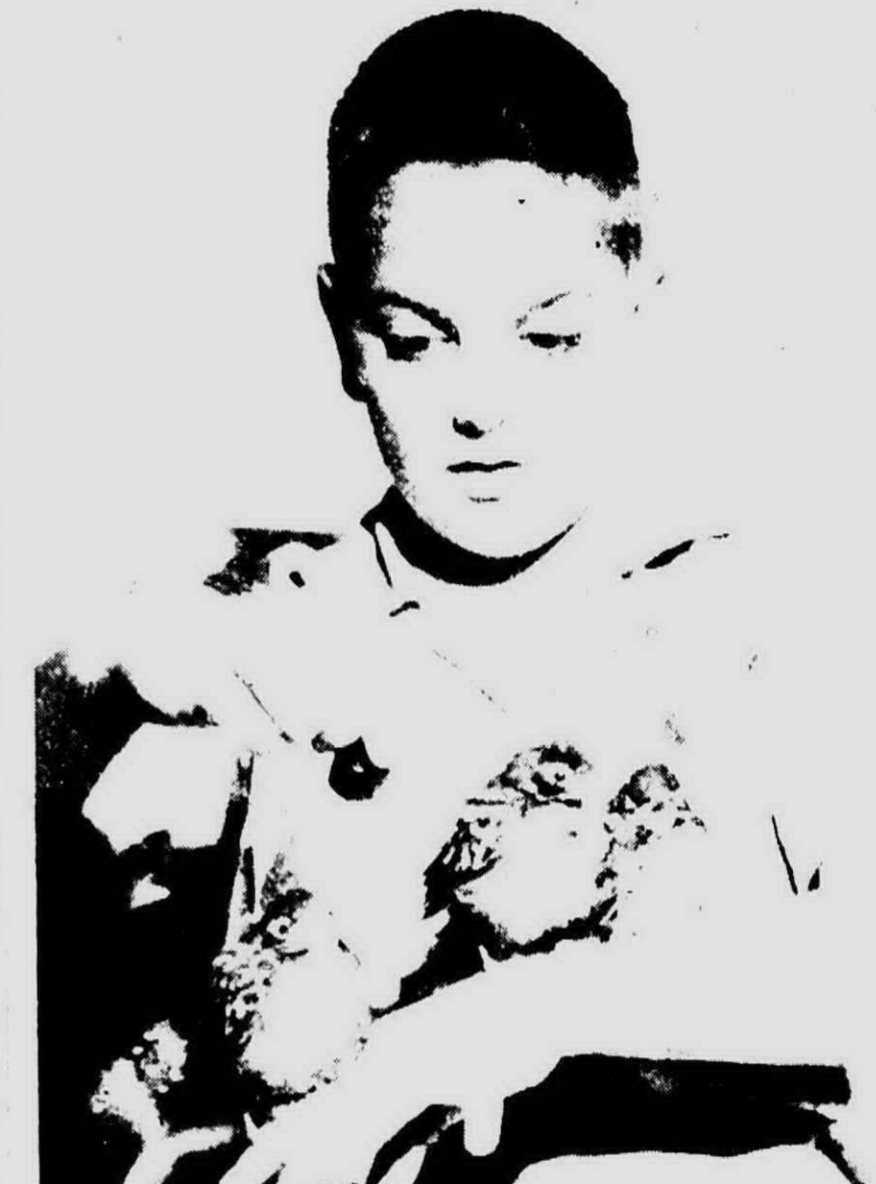

Among the offers was one from Edward Booth, president of Dancy Manufacturing, who will finance the feeding of the 81 sailors at noon. The Plymouth Navy Mother club will serve the lunch at Eric Station No. 2 on E. Spruce, not being invited to the parade. In the afternoon, the hostesses from Grosse Ile Naval Training Center will use the facilities of the Plymouth High school swimming pool.

At 4 p.m., the local families who have invited the sailors into their homes will pick them up in front of the high school. The citizens will then give the guests a dinner and return them to the school at 6:30 in time to take part in the Miss Plymouth selection.

Some ministers also made an appeal for residents to "adopt" a sailor from their pupils last Sunday. There are still some sailors who will not have a home for the evening, according to Wilcox. They, not being invited, will be fed by the Navy Mothers at the Veterans Memorial Center. Food for the Navy Mother's dinner will be contributed by local dairy and grocery stores.

The sailors, most of whom are away from home for the first time, will be picked up at Grosse Ile by buses supplied by First Baptist church. Plymouth Assembly of God and Calvary Baptist church. The buses will be operated by members of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. The sailors will be returned to their base after the fireworks display.

Anyone wanting to "adopt" a sailor for the afternoon can still call the Chamber at 497.

WHEN NINE-year-old Lyle Saner, 4550 Napier road, found three baby robins that came from a fallen nest, he placed them back in the nest and put the nest in a small box beneath the tree. But the mother robin deserted her offspring, so Lyle took over. Bringing them into his home during last week's rainy weather, Lyle fed them milk with an eyedropper and bread. This week they are starting to fly around the livingroom and Lyle is unhappily facing the fact that the young feathered friends must now be turned loose. Lyle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius H. Saner.

Community College Interests Many Parents

Results of a recent poll to find out what parents think of a community college were divulged last week at a meeting of school administrators from six Western Wayne county school districts.

Taking part in the poll were the Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Union, South Redford, Northville and Clarenceville school boards and representatives.

Superintendents of the schools have been discussing possibilities of a community college for many months. A community college (new term for junior college) would give two years of schooling in higher education.

The poll, conducted this May, consisted of a questionnaire distributed to parents of all ninth grade students in the schools within the district. They were asked to answer yes or no to two questions: 1) Are you interested in sending your child on to a four year college? and 2) Are you interested in sending your child to a Community College? The results of the poll follow:

DISTRICT	PERCENT ANSWERED	4 YR. COLLEGE		COMMUNITY COLLEGE
		YES	NO	YES	NO
South Redford	50%	143	36	103	40
Redford Union	90%	292	106	222	70
Northville	50%	62	7	31	21
Plymouth	75%	177	47	125	52
Clarenceville	50%	30	12	26	4
Livonia	25%	108	12	95	16
TOTALS		812	220	602	203

From a brief survey, the present total enrollment of ninth and eighth graders in all the districts is approximately 4,105, of which at least 1,500 will continue their education. The growing need for a local community college is also quite evident from the statistics which reveal that five years ago 25% of June graduates went on to college with an increase to 37% for this past June.

Although the committee has started the project by discovering the degree of interest, other major and unanswered points will be given consideration before any positive conclusions can be made: the organization, legal aspects, nature of the program to be offered, finance and the location of the facilities.

According to Ferris Crawford, chief of the Department of Public Instruction in Lansing, the problem involves more than these six districts. Instead, he stated, great benefits could be derived by conducting a one-year study on the entire Wayne county.

The results of the poll and discussion will be taken back to the local boards and more information will be obtained before further action on a county or district study is taken. The final decision on the study will be rendered at a joint meeting on Oct. 16 in the new Clarenceville high school.

First Outdoor Concert Well Received by 1,000

With an estimated 1,000 people sitting on a slope overlooking a tree-surrounded lake in the background, the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra performed the first concert Sunday evening of the Plymouth Colony Concert Series.

Comments from the audience indicated that the first concert had attained remarkable success. With continuing support from the public, the concerts are expected to become a "festival" in scope that will feature world-known artists.

Adventure as well as pleasurable music greeted the concert-goers. For many, this was a new experience and how the public would react to the outdoor summer concert was a matter of concern by those planning the event.

The country which surrounds the concert site drew delighted reactions and comments from the large audience. A horse-drawn carriage was used by some for a ride from the parking area to the concert site. Others took a hike through the cool, shaded path of the woods.

Shortly after 5 o'clock, Conductor Wayne Dunlap opened the program with Handel's "Water Music" which was well suited to the green, wooded countryside. This was followed by "Moldau" by Smetana, a "Toccata" by Frescobaldi and the "Tannhauser Overture" by Wagner.

Miss Norma Heyde sang three Mozart arias and the "Nurs' d'Eliz" Summer Nights of Berlioz. Despite a stiff wind which undoubtedly provided some difficulties of ensemble to members of the orchestra and Miss Heyde, no distortion in sound was apparent.

Comfortable lawn chairs were provided for those who desired them, but many preferred to spread blankets on the ground. There was nothing formal about the concert. Male symphony members were in shirt-sleeves and most men in the audience were tieless.

Entire families were comfortably lounging on the ground as if in their back yards, but with the luxury of a 90-piece symphony in front of them.

Some mothers were seen feeding their babies as the supper hour approached. Several families even brought their dogs. A refreshment stand at the top of the hill behind the audience was busy throughout the late afternoon program.

A lot of hard work by the Plymouth Symphony Society and other volunteers is making the series possible. Special praise is being given to Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Pino of Detroit, owners of Plymouth Colony Farm who donated the land for use of the symphony.

There are two more concerts this season. One on July 21 will be played by the Detroit Little Symphony and conducted by Wayne Dunlap. James Wolfe, pianist will be the guest soloist. The final concert will be August 11 when the Plymouth Symphony returns with Paul Olfsky, cellist.

THIS WAS THE SCENE Sunday evening as over 1,000 people sat on a grassy slope and listened to the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra play the first in the Plymouth Colony Concert Series. A large canopy deflected sound toward the hillside. The man-made lake is shown in the background, surrounded by willows and pine trees.

OF SPECIAL attraction to the younger set at last Sunday's Plymouth Colony Concert was a Hanson cab which carried as many people as possible through a woods from the parking area to the concert site. Pictured are some youngsters arriving with their mother while other young folks prepare to ride the vacated cab back to the parking area. Others hiked through the woods along a trail carved by Boy Scouts the week before.

INFORMALITY of Sunday's Plymouth Colony Concert brought many entire families to the affair. Sitting on blankets or lawn chairs, youngsters and even babies were numerous in the audience.

Liberty Replica at Dearborn

Famed Independence Hall, where the Declaration of Independence was signed, takes on new meaning each July 4 as the nation pauses to observe the greatest anniversary in American history. The well-known national shrine has a Midwest counterpart at Dearborn, Mich., home of Henry Ford Museum. In 1928, automotive pioneer Henry Ford, seeking a building to house his growing collection of Americana, asked Robert O. Derrick, a Detroit architect now retired, for suggestions. Derrick offered an Independence Hall replica as an idea, and Ford readily accepted. Ford insisted upon a faithful reproduction—he even declined to let architects correct what they considered errors in the original structure, so these were authentically copied, too. Even the bell in the steeple is a duplicate of the Liberty Bell. As at Philadelphia,

WHAT TO DO WHEN BREATHERS COUGH

These five figures illustrate, from top to bottom, the steps in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation now being taught in Red Cross First Aid courses.

- (1) Mother, using middle finger of one hand, clears child's mouth of any foreign matter. With same finger, she holds the tongue forward.
- (2) Mother places child in a face-down, head-down, position, and puts him firmly on the back with the free hand, to help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage.
- (3) The child is placed on his back, and the mother, using middle fingers of both hands, lifts the lower jaw from beneath and behind so that it "pops out."
- (4) With one hand only, the jaw is held in this jutting-out position.
- (5) The mother, covering the child's mouth and nose with her mouth, breathes into the child with a smooth, steady action. The free hand applies continuous moderate pressure to the child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, to prevent the stomach from being filled with air.

The MAIL Attitude

by PAUL CHANDLER

"What's wrong with the Detroit Tigers?"

My memory isn't so convenient that I don't recall having written some cheerful prophecies about the ol' Bengals in this space prior to the opening of the season. It was even stated here that they had a good chance to win first place.

There was a certain amount of accurate forecasting in that pre-season column, by the way. At the moment it was written, the experts elsewhere were moaning about the poor possibilities of the Detroit pitching staff. We pointed the opposite direction and conjectured that the young pitchers would "arrive" this season and provide the basic Bengal strength.

So it has developed—good pitching, horrible hitting. The latter is a mysterious disease because the Tigers led the American League in team hitting last season and almost all of the personnel has returned.

The Tigers are just home from a trip where they dropped 10 of 13 games and generally succeeded in looking worse with each consecutive appearance.

All is not lost, yet, good fans. The main thing "that's wrong with the Tigers" is that their stars, their bell-cows, their inspirational leaders, have played miserably.

Primarily we mean Harvey Kuenne and Al Kaline. Enough fans have remembered their past days of glory to pick them for starting positions in the forthcoming all-star game, but their production for the Tigers lately has been nihilistic. That means nothing . . . two big duds.

There is a sobering effect on any competitive team, more profound than is generally realized, when the leaders fall apart. Think of the Lions when Bobby Layne has a bad day . . . the Red Wings when Howe and Lindsay are dull . . . or the Tigers when Kuenne and Kaline are goofing.

That's happened to the Tigers. It has disheartened the pitchers, confused the rookies.

As for the future, it looks good to this former sports writer. The Tigers have a bad slump behind them now—most other clubs still have it to suffer. Manager Jack Tighe has done an exceptional amount of experimenting with personnel in recent weeks—the "trial" period will end soon, if it hasn't already. There have been some physical handicaps (specifically, the sore knees of Ray Boone) for which solutions have had to be found.

Further, the Tiger tradition in recent years has been to finish the season strongly. The teams are just rounding the midway point now.

Kuenne and Kaline finally realize they're on the spot. That will help, psychologically.

It's still the Yankees and the Tigers for the two top positions in the league. (Incidentally, keep your eyes open for a New York slump in the immediate future, almost exactly like the one Detroit has just completed.)

There's a new wrinkle to local juvenile mischief of which I have just heard for the first time. It involves petty thievery of small items from dime stores and such. An accomplice waits outside with a motor scooter, the engine running. The thief dashes out and races away on the rear of the scooter, to disappear if possible into a neighborhood somewhere.

It's happened in Livonia and Plymouth, to our knowledge, and undoubtedly elsewhere.

On the general subject of delinquency in Wayne County, many confusing statistics are offered. A reassuring figure usually quoted is that only 2 or 3 percent of youths between 12 and 17 ever get into trouble with the law—97 percent are good.

I heard Judge Kaufman of Juvenile Court make a speech the other night, however, and he points out that the "2 or 3 percent" figure not only includes girls but also youngsters below the age limit when the real temptations occur.

A figure he offers, which is shuddering, is that 15 percent of all boys between 15 and 17 now encounter juvenile authorities in Wayne County.

The figure for girls is lower but Judge Kaufman added that the most discouraging trend of the moment is the rise in girl's delinquency up to where it's getting close to that of the boys.

He thinks stronger, more constant home life is the most important single step toward correction. Particularly, mothers and fathers who are home when their kids are home, and families which share common recreational interests.

The Judge is a little cynical about mothers who are too busy with "worthy community projects" to be home when the kids arrive from school for lunch or in the afternoon. He tells the story (it's hypothetical) of a do-gooder who encountered a dirty urchin in the street, throwing rocks through windows.

"What's the matter, young man, don't you know you shouldn't be doing that? And you're so dirty—oh, poor boy, you must have no home."

"Mother, mother, this is me . . . your son. Don't you recognize me?," replied the lad.

Jill Atchinson has had as her guest the past week her cousin, Suellen Sass of Kirk of the Hills, in her home on Rocker.

A 90th birthday celebration will be held this month for Mrs. Maude Wilcox of Lansing who visited her relatives here recently. She has 76 descendants—7 children, 20 grandchildren, 42 great grandchildren and 7 great, great grandchildren. In Plymouth she visited her daughter, Mrs. Leah Green of Starkweather avenue; two grandchildren, Mrs. Vera Woodward of Joy road and Mrs. Jack Montieith of Adams street.

SEVERAL PLYMOUTHITES were among the guests attending the summer dinner-dance at the Meadowbrook Country Club at Northville at which the new bath house was dedicated. At left is Robert H. Millies of Plymouth who had as his guests Miss Esther Chayne, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schang, all of Detroit.

DON'T USE PATTERN AGAINST PATTERN

Especially in a small room. This tends to give the room a fussy, cluttered, restless feeling. Remember, everything in your room should be in relation to everything else—as well as in relation to background. It naturally follows that the charm and value of contrast is lost when too many patterns are used.
PLAY UP ONE PATTERN . . .

. . . against a background of interrelated colors for a dramatic, yet restful effect. A large expanse of flowered—or figured—draperies are usually all the pattern that's needed to enliven a small room. Relieve monotony of too many plain surfaces with texture interest of sofa and chair upholstery fabrics. Plain rugs are best in small rooms.

Whatever style of room you're planning, we have furnishings that you will find "just right" for it. Lovely decorator-type pieces in a variety of styles and sizes. See them today while stocks are complete.

Please don't be hesitant about coming in and discussing your decorating problems with our friendly staff. It will be our pleasure to be helpful in any way that we can.

FORTY INTERMEDIATE Girl Scouts participated in a week-long camp-out last week and did such things as basketweaving demonstrated by Judy Green, Jane Vallier and Nancy Nidy in the top photo. Most of the week was spent at a campsite on Warren road, near Napier. The girls were scheduled to sleep overnight in tents Friday, but rain forced them to move to the Kiwanis Girl Scout cabin for the night. Below, the girls are shown enjoying one of their favorite outdoor tasks, cooking. From left are Ann Tillotson, Jean Schwartz, Gale Micol, Karen Kaunisto and Margaret Beardslee.

American Legion News

Melva Gardner and Gwen Holcombe attended the inaugural of the governor of girls state last Sunday, June 23, at the University of Michigan, in Ann Arbor.

The post and auxiliary would like to thank the people who made transportation to and from boys state and girls state possible.

Thanks to all of the members of the post and auxiliary for giving to the blood bank which was in Plymouth last week. Every pint of blood we give helps. You never know when you are going to need one. You don't have to wait for a bloodmobile to come to your city. Go to the Red Cross Office and give anytime.

The juniors of the auxiliary have dispensed with their July and August meetings. We wish to take this opportunity to thank them for the wonderful things they have done this year. The veterans at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor enjoyed their favors they made. This is just an example of the many things they did this year.

Fern Burleson and Robert Wilson, Americanism Chairman, urge all Plymouth citizens to fly flags in Plymouth on July 4th, to show that we are proud to be Americans.

Girls don't forget your auxiliary meeting July 11th at the Veterans Memorial Home. Lets make this meeting a big success.

Joint installation will be held July 17th at the Elks Club on Ann Arbor Road. Be sure and invite your neighbor and all your friends. This is open to the public. Lets have a good turn out.

The July 17th District Meeting will be held at the annual State Convention at Grand Rapids. The convention starts July 18th and ends July 21st.

The American Legion National Convention will be held in September at Atlantic City.

Robert Wilson's father-in-law is still at Maybury Sanitarium in Northville. He is coming along very good. Hope to see him coming home soon.

Phyllis Miller who is convalescing from major surgery has just returned from Flint where she was visiting with her parents. Come on Phyllis hurry up and get back on your feet so you can join all the activities of the post and auxiliary.

The post and auxiliary at this time wish to express their deepest sympathy for Fern and Harry Burleson. Harry lost his Mother last week. She was buried in Gaylord, Friday, June 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Foley are entertaining at a family picnic on the Fourth at their home in Plymouth Colony. Their guests will be hi parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Foley, Sr., her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Glueckart, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Durkin of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. William Hunt of Flint and Mr. and Mrs. James Dowdell of Birmingham and their children. The third birthday of Tommy Foley will be celebrated also.

AMONG THE passengers leaving for Honolulu aboard the Matson Lines newest luxury liner, SS Matsonia from San Francisco harbor were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Light, daughter Gene Anne and son Joseph. The Lights live at 234 Sheldon road. Mr. Light is a civil engineer with Cunningham-Limp company.

Plymouth's Business

Walt Roberts, of Robert's Supply, is recovering in St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor, from an emergency appendectomy. We are happy to report that everything came out fine and adhering to a strict policy. Walt insisted that the operation be performed on a "cash & carry" basis.

Fred and Bill Beitner are celebrating their fifth year in jewelry business at 340 South Main. It's nice to see that their business is "mounting".

The Plymouth family of business is happy to welcome into their midst Bob McKanna who has taken over the corner formerly occupied by R&H Mercury.

Les Wilson just returned from a week's vacation at Torch Lake where he stayed at one of Doctor Rice's cottages. Les also launched his new 14-foot boat and christened it "Brownie Starflash" (what else?). For a filmed travelogue, with personal comments, stop in and see Les at the Photographic Center.

John Wiltse received his B.S. in Pharmacy at the University of Michigan this June and will be associated permanently with his father in the Community Pharmacy. John, his wife Erna, and son Peter will make their home at 917 Ross street.

Erie Stapleton, field executive of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will be in Plymouth July 11 to consult with local realtors and other business leaders. Howard Stark, secretary of the Western Wayne County Board of Realtors announced that Stapleton will address a meeting of the Board at Arbor-Lill.

Many thanks to our advertisers for having their copy ready in such good time. Their cooperation enables us to have the Plymouth Mail on the street many hours earlier than it has been in the past. Everybody benefits.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Fisher and daughter, Kay, left Sunday for the summer at their home on Lake Charlevoix. They were accompanied by Ann Cooper who will spend a week with them as the guest of Kay.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Epps, daughter, Becky and son, Charles, Jr., who have been visiting in the home of his brother, William Epps and family on Junction and other relatives in Detroit and Wyandotte since the latter part of May, left by plane Monday for their home in Cordoba, Argentine.

Mayflower II Welcomed by Local Group

An English seaman, David Thorpe conducted the tour. Mr. Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower Hotel, talked with the chef, who cooks for a large English steamship line. He emphasized the fact the living and eating conditions were much the same as the first crossing in 1620.
He prepared meals for the crew in a small compartment equipped with a family-sized oil stove. The stores included salted meats and fresh eggs. Since there was no refrigeration, the eggs were kept fresh by circulating air through 210 dozen cartons. Although, Mr. Lorenz overheard a comment at this point by a seaman, indicating that they might not have been so fresh near the end of the journey.
The ship's carpenter, "Chips", gave Mr. Lorenz a doorstop as a souvenir of the voyage.
The two Lorenz children, Sheila, 14, and Dick 9, found that exploring the ship was the greatest thrill of the trip. Mr. Lorenz said that Dick was all over the place, except the crow's nest. Another experience long to be remembered with Dick was his meeting with vice president Nixon. After obtaining his autograph, young Dick said that his name was also Dick. At this, Nixon promptly wrote out another autograph—"Dick Nixon."

Saturday they reviewed the parade from the official grandstand and attended a luncheon and the reception.
In meeting several officials of the landmark city, Mayor Guenther found that they set their population at about 40,000 during resort season, and from 10,000 to 12,000 in normal times. At this they are considering the whole township of 54 square miles. The population of Plymouth, Michigan is estimated at 8,000. The Mayor said that the city itself is smaller than Plymouth, Michigan and not possessed of more authentic atmosphere.
Most of the group started the return trip Monday morning. Mayor Guenther and his wife returned Sunday night. A tape recording of Captain Villier's speech is being sent to be played over WHRV.

MULTIPLE INJURIES were received last Friday afternoon by John C. Parmenter, 15, of 11636 Haggerty road, when he was thrown from his bicycle. While on his way to a friend's house, the front wheel of the bike hit a hole in a street and bounced against a curbing at Starkweather avenue and Dunn street. This picture was taken several minutes later as the youth lay in the street covered by a blanket and an umbrella to protect him from the rain. He is still in Wayne County General hospital suffering a broken shoulder bone, cracked rib, broken nose and severe facial lacerations which may require plastic surgery.

City Talks Over Doctor Problems With Physicians

Plymouth's physicians, called upon by the city to discuss the problems of securing a city health officer and locating a doctor in time of emergency, have come up with a recommendation that a Committee on Community Health be appointed.

City Manager Albert Glassford was asked by the city commission recently to discuss the two problems with the physicians and a meeting was held June 25, the manager reported to the commission Monday night.

With the city unable to find a doctor to take the vacated job of health officer, the manager has been considering the appointment of a layman acquainted with health problems. (Several local residents work for the Wayne County Department of Health.) But the five physicians attending the June 25 meeting said that a physician could probably be found.

In connection with locating emergency need for physicians, this is the manager's report:

"The matter of emergency need for physicians was discussed, together with the problem of refusal by persons involved in accidents to go to hospitals and their insistence that a doctor be called to the scene of the accident. In such cases, the police officer should have a witness to the fact that such ambulance aid was offered and refused, and then every attempt to obtain a physician should be made.

"The city manager pointed out that many times physicians are called to the scene of an accident only to find that the parties have left, or that the person was dead. A service has been rendered without compensation in view. It was suggested by the city manager that the city should guarantee such uncollectable bills if the city was responsible, or had any part, in calling out a physician in such cases.

"The group agreed that the above described problems could be better coordinated through an advisory committee to the Board of Health. It was suggested that the advisory committee be composed of the acting health officer, the mayor, the school board president and a member of the medical profession chosen among themselves, and that the City Manager and the Supt. of Schools serve as ex-officio members. Dr. Feldkamp "volunteered" to poll the physicians to determine the representative of the medical profession. Russell Isbister and Harold Fischer have consented to serve on the committee.

In other business before the commission, members were in disagreement over the sale of the 1925 model fire engine which is being replaced. One bid was received through an advertisement locally. It was for $275 from Landon E. Taylor, 402 Pacific. The city manager and fire chief had hoped to get twice that for the city, commissioners were told. Some commissioners felt the offer was good enough to get the antique truck out of the way. A vote was taken and the bid was rejected.

Four bids were received on a new police car. With a trade in of a 1954 Ford, Paul J. Wiedman, Inc. was awarded the contract with his low bid of $1,795. Others were Ernest Allison (Chevrolet), $1,865; West Motor Sales (Dodge Coronet), $2,110; Berry & Atchinson (Pontiac Chieftain), $2,140.

Commissioners gave permission to transfer two beer licenses. One was a transfer for the A & P store from one location to its new building on Ann Arbor road. The other was from Olds Grocery to a new owner, Edward Kelly, Jr.

A communication was read from Douglas Hughes of the Michigan Public Service Commission concerning the possibility of flashers at the Farmer street crossing. He advised Commissioner William Hartmann that crossing gates must augment flashers at the crossing, but that rail traffic near the crossing would interfere with vehicular traffic due to the gate. He recommended that a three-shift force be housed in a "suitable" building. Manned the crossing would be about $15,000 a year while the control building would cost between $25,000 and $30,000, the state official reported.

First reading was given to a revised cemetery ordinance. The main change is the setting of terms for members of the cemetery trustees. The present board has no termination date of their terms.

Large Crowds

locally-originated program on WHRV, Ann Arbor.

Also on the program will be the Northville High School swing band and the recording artists, the Tartans.

There will be refreshment stands on the grounds, but no carnival. The fireworks will be held earlier this year so that more children may see them. Admission will be charged to the athletic field for the evening program.

Chairmen of the activities are: Robert McAllister, general chairman; Richard Wernette, parade marshal; Robert Waldecker, horse show; and Jack Young, Miss Plymouth competition.

Salvation Army Assists In Disaster Relief

The Salvation Army has been credited with playing a major role in putting Fargo, North Dakota back on its feet after a tornado hit the city of 40,000 recently. More than 1,500 homes were damaged with 300 completely destroyed.
Divisional Commander Lt. Col. T. Herbert Martin of the Salvation Army assigned the emergency efforts to First Lt. Donald Homuth and other officer personnel who worked more than 72 hours with little or no rest.
Crews were on the job in a matter of minutes and worked around-the-clock shifts to serve food and give out clothing. In a trailer house coffee and lunches were served where workers could come in and rest. Thousands of cups of coffee and sandwiches were served.

Three Missionary Families, Evangelist Here for Reunion

Homecoming services will be held at Calvary Baptist Church July 5, 6, 7 and 8 with returned missionaries and Evangelist Jack Cochrane as speakers. A special musical program will be presented Monday night at 7:45 by the Bob Jones University Musical Ensemble.
The missionaries on the program are at present on furlough. Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Tillotson and family, members of the church, are on furlough from their field in Argentina. Rev. and Mrs. Jack Briggs and family recently returned from Venezuela. The Briggs family are also members of Calvary Baptist. Rev. and Mrs. William Battisill arrived home from the Belgian Congo early in June. Mrs. Battisill is the daughter of Mrs. Emily Mosher, of 963 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

Rev. Jack Cochrane, formerly of Plymouth, is engaged in evangelistic work having made one world tour, several trips to his homeland of Ireland with engagements in Scotland, England and several European countries.
Friday night at 6:30 the congregation will have fellowship supper followed by greetings from the missionary families. Saturday night at 7:30 at the Youth hour, Rev. William Battisill will speak and show pictures of his work in the Belgian Congo.
Sunday will be a day of real interest to all, beginning with the Bible School hour at 9:45. All departments of the school will hear missionaries tell of the work on their respective fields.
Rev. Jack Briggs of Venezuela will speak to the adult department. Rev. William Battisill of the Belgian Congo will speak to the young people. Rev. LeRoy Tillotson of Argentina will be the guest speaker in the Intermediate department. Mrs. Battisill, Mrs. Tillotson and Mrs. Briggs will speak in the Junior, Primary, and Beginners' Department.
Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the missionaries will again tell of their work and the need on their mission fields.
Evangelist Jack Cochrane will speak at the 7 o'clock evangelistic hour.
On Monday evening an unusual musical ensemble, from the Bob Jones University of Greenville, South Carolina.
The public is invited to attend these services.

Church to Open Headquarters

The Rev. James F. Andrews, General Pastor of the Full Salvation Union, announces the completion of its headquarters chapel at 51630 West 8 Mile Road, about 3 1/2 miles west of Northville.

The new chapel is to be used for the first time in connection with the annual Full Salvation Union General Gathering to be held June 30 to July 7. There will be three services held each day at 11 a.m., 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to these services.
On July 4th at 11 a.m., the Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion in Northville will present a flag for the new chapel and several ministers will speak.
The full Salvation Union was incorporated as a Michigan Corporation on January 31, 1934 for the purpose of carrying on without profit, religious, educational and charitable work. Its general aim and purpose, the Rev. Andrews explains, is "The Full Salvation Union is dedicated to the task of endeavoring to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace until we ALL come to the unity of the faith."
The Rev. Andrews was graduated from Greenville College in the state of Illinois in 1930 and served as a pastor in the Free Methodist denomination for three years before founding the Full Salvation Union work.
The present site, a 40 acre tract of land located at 51630 West 8 Mile Road was purchased by the Full Salvation Union in 1955 for the purpose of establishing its General Headquarters there. The chapel is a brick and block structure, seating about 200, and has been located in relation to other buildings to be constructed later.

In addition to the general gatherings to be held on the grounds, a regular Sunday school and church services is planned to be held in the chapel each Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock.
Since 1935 the Rev. Andrews has edited the Full Salvation Union publication called The Union Guide, a sample copy of which can be had free.

Vacations End, Some Coming Up for Circle-ites

They say that women are born naggers and surely I'd hate to disappoint any of you by not running true to form. Another holiday is here—so please—pretty please with sugar—lets get those flags out. Three cheers for those who came thru with flying colors on Memorial Day but shame on you who own flags and were right at home all day but just couldn't be bothered.

Lillian and Ray Darga and son Bob spent the past weekend visiting with friends in Dayton, Ohio.

Dee Upton of Garling Drive attended a Womens' Missionary meeting of the first Baptist Church at Hillsdale three days of last week. Her hubby and sons were dined by Esther and Earl Atkinson on Thursday evening.

Helen and Walt Lake took in "The Pajama Game" at the Music Circle at Botsford Inn last Saturday evening.

The Ted Kuhns picked up daughter Grace at camp in the Irish Hills on Saturday and then spent the day relaxing at Wampler's Lake.

"The Jumpin' Jack" sounds like an appropriate name for the Scott's new boat. Both Jean and Jack have taken to boating like ducks to water and laugh about all the dunkings they've taken while learning to water-ski. They took time out from their new sport last week to attend Jack's high school reunion at the Dearborn Hotel. It was the class of '37 from Fordson high school in Dearborn and I understand that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fluckey of Plymouth both graduated in the same class and attended the reunion with the Scotts.

A little comedy, "Who Laughs Last", took place down at the blood bank last Monday night. Marty Kennedy, Sr., and I fairly howled when healthy old Walt Lake was turned down. My turn came and that left poor Marty laughing all by himself. Wait, maybe we should try Geritol?

On Saturday evening Doris and Jim Spenseller entertained Joyce and Al Truxx, Lorraine and Joe Quinlan and Lee and Jack Ruland.

Happy Birthday to Timmy Cooper who will be one year old on July 6.

Lili and Doug Vincent enjoyed a second honeymoon last week when they toured the upper peninsula taking in Copper Harbor, Mackinac Island, Tahquamenon Falls and other points of interest. Doug's parents took over with their two boys, Steve and David, while they were away.

Our Circle has kept the hospital committee busy this past week or so. Glad to report that Peg Kaufman and Harold Kendall are both home and doing fine. Now my guy has decided to get

Veterans Foreign Wars

Thursday evening, June 28, Virginia Bartel and Loretta Young attended and joined the Past Presidents Club at the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit. This is a social and fun club for all Auxiliary past presidents.

The Post and Auxiliary Picnic which was held Sunday, June 30, was a great success. Over 100 diners were served. Another picnic is being planned for sometime in August. Thanks to all those who helped prepare, serve, and eat.

Our annual trip to the VFW National Home in Eaton Rapids is planned for August 18. Please bring canned goods to our next regular meeting to take to the Home.

Rummage Sale—September 13 and 14. Start saving rummage now. Call Marjorie Swan 1846W for further information.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Lary and Janellen of Dewey street returned from a nine day vacation through Upper Michigan returning across the lake on the Milwaukee Clipper. They visited many of the falls, Copper Harbor, Lake of the Clouds and enjoyed the Lake Superior boat cruise along the Pictured Rocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson of Hillsdale, spent the day with his son and family Dot and Bud Wilson of Garling Drive.

Dorothy Curok had guests from Essex, Canada on Wednesday of last week. They were her mother, Mrs. McDowell, her sister Mrs. Maedel and a friend Mrs. Fitch.

in the act and is "vacationing" at Ridgewood Hospital in Ypsi. His ulcers got to be old had so he's taken on a few complications to relieve the monotony. Took him over Tuesday night. We were sorta shook up to discover a friend from home (Natalie Barna) of Oberlin, Ohio) just a couple doors down the hall.

Jeanne and Bob Eck of Parkview Drive had Mr. and Mrs. John Racine of Waterville, Ohio as dinner guests on Saturday.

Happy Birthday to little Kathy Brennan on July 5.

That Marty Kennedy is a man of stamina. Or maybe he's just partial to pretty nurses. One group took his life's blood and the next night another group came to eat up all his food. I'm kidding of course because actually he was broiling for wife Rosie when she entertained at an outside barbeque for six of her nursing buddies from Providence Hospital. Incidentally, here's a culinary tip which the Kennedy's passed along to me. Use Shedd's Sauce to taste with mayonaisse for potato salad.

Diane Stang and son Mike spent Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week in Kingsville, Canada visiting with hubby Bill's parents.

Mary Lisa, oldest daughter of Dorothy and Tony Frank of Parkview Drive, left yesterday to spend ten days at the Girl Scout Cedar Lake Camp near Chelsea.

The women of the "No Name" card club entertained their families at picnic in the park last Monday evening. Those attending were Donna and Bob Sasal, Lorraine and Joe Quinlan, Jean and Nat Sibbold, Lois and Arnold Plickta, Marge and John Bel and Seems like science is moving faster than a cat on a hot tin roof these days. Miracles keep popping up like cophers in a cornfield. A Harvard Professor says that the time will come when the clothes we wear will be made of synthetic materials which will be edible. In other words, you get up in the A.M., eat your pajamas and head for the salt mines. Which is fine, if you wear pajamas.

The Professor says meat and eggs have got to go . . . because the animals producing them use too much food. In the future when a fellow tells a girl she looks good enough to eat, he may be paying her a compliment . . . or he may just be hungry. If you spill your lunch on your vest you eat the vest for dinner and call it hash. If that time ever comes . . . I'll eat my hat.

Until this process is perfected though why not try the delicious food served at our lunch counter. Good food plus prompt, courteous service.

Well, Mayflower II got here . . . but the Coast Guard had to tow it the last few miles into port. Guess you need more pull to get into the country these days.

The man who tows your car into a garage may be second in importance to the mechanic who repairs it, but he's mighty important when you need him. And we're happy to acknowledge the major importance of your physician when it comes to health problems—but we remind you that it's also important to rely on a qualified pharmacy to fill his prescriptions.

Grange Cleanings

The first date of importance on our vacation schedule is the picnic at Lee Sackett's cottage on July 13 at Upper Straits Lake. Supper will be at 6:30, but you may go earlier to enjoy the lake and visit awhile. Go to Walled Lake, turn right at the light; go out on 218 or Pontiac Trail about five miles; watch for the road on the left that goes to the lake; a sign will be seen directing the way to the cottage. We're hoping for a nice day and a good crowd.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles North and three children of Ann Arbor were Sunday guests of the Clifford Smiths. Both families enjoyed the Plymouth Symphony Summer Concert. Lary Smith is a student member of the summer group.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Housman entertained for Mrs. Jennie Smith on Sunday, June 30 in honor of her 87th birthday. Forty guests were present. A tiered cake and a money tree were presented to her.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn are entertaining company from Ohio over the Fourth.

William Shakespeare died at the age of 52.

Wilbur Gould of West Ann Arbor Trail was taken to Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor Thursday night, June 27.

by MEL OTT

To say that Bill Hoelt, at the age of 25, is washed up as a major league pitcher is as ridiculous as saying that the Tigers, because they were in a slump on their unhappy road trip, are again destined for a second division finish.

It is true that Hoelt is a puzzle even to those close to him. He is the most puzzling pitching personality I have ever encountered in all my years in baseball.

In his last appearance against the Yankees, despite losing he looked superb. The next time out, against Baltimore, he had nothing.

The doctors say that there no longer is anything wrong with an arm which had given him considerable pain early in the season. Hoelt himself says he feels perfectly fine.

Yet in his loss to Baltimore, Bill tried to get by on slow stuff and was knocked around. Then, when Manager Jack Tighe visited the mound to insist he throw harder, Bill really tried but somehow couldn't get anything on the ball.

Since his last disastrous start Billy has been throwing every day in the bullpen and this may strengthen his arm, but I certainly cannot believe he is through.

Perhaps the strange story of Bobby Shantz may be cited as a parallel case. Bobby, who had been plagued with injuries for four years and for the past two spent virtually all of his time in the bullpen, was once the star pitcher of the old Philadelphia Athletics.

When he was traded by Kansas City to the Yankees this year, he was more or less of a "throw in" player in the transaction. Yankee skipper Casey Stengel had him indexed as just another bullpen hand.

But with Whitey Ford out of competition, Shantz has regained all his old-time form and become the ace of the Yankee pitching staff, both as a starter but more important as a "stopper," that is, a hurler who can come in when the opposition threatens to overtake your lead and stop the rally effectively.

What has caused this sudden turn-about is something no one can fathom, but with Hoelt being six years or so younger than Shantz there is every reason to believe the easy-going left-hander will regain his stuff. After all, you just can't dismiss two successive good years—a 20-14 record last season and 16-7 the year before—as "one of those things."

Neither can you dismiss the Tigers' batting potential and their impressive last home stand just because the going was rough on that Eastern road trip.

Detroit is a good ball club, a fairly sound club, perhaps not the best in the league, but certainly among the better teams, and the time will come when the hitters begin to equal the pitchers and then they'll go.

Not alone did the batting fail, but the breaks went the other way, too, and breaks win a lot of ball games. The Bengals encountered more than their share of broken bat singles and blooper hits. Some of them drove in deciding runs on the occasional days that we were hitting but our pitching was off.

SPORTS

Class A, B Leaders Win Again

Standings in the Plymouth Recreation department's Class A and B softball leagues changed only slightly as the results of last week's play. Beginners continued to lead the Class A while the Knot Heads and Northville VFW swept their games in the Class B play.

Junior Golfers In Third Week

Ten more youngsters enrolled last Monday in the Junior Golf Association, bringing the final total up to 67. This was the third session of the eight-week course held at Hilltop Golf Course.

There are now 50 boys and 17 girls in the association, many of them having their first try at the game. Eight of the youngsters are of ages 9 to 11 and play but four holes.

High scorers Monday were: DeJ McAllister, 36; Gay Ross, 47; Don Stockton, 48; Dave Reid and Bill Schwartz, 49; Dan Ide, 51; John Augustine, 52; Dave Rank, 53; John Stimpson, 54; Jim Izett and Doug Graham, 55; Dave Van Ornum and Richard Gretzinger, 56.

Low among the girls were Sheila Lorenz, 72; and Linda Griswold, 73.

Next week there will be qualifying play for middle match play in which the young golfers will earn points toward awards. There will be a point for the match winner, a point for net score and a point for both. Trophies and medals will be given when the tournaments are held August 12-13. The most improved player and those receiving the most points in each group will be given awards.

More than 22 per cent of upholstered furniture sales are made in January.

THE RIDER

BY BOB FRANKLIN

In addition to being one of the nations top hunter and jumper riders, Johnny Wallace of the Wallace School of Horsemanship, has the distinction of being the most cheered for rider of the Grosse Pointe Horse Show. His fans, most of them students and former students, faithfully clung to the rail and cheered as he rode the grand old horse, Mountain Breeze, to the Jumper Championship of the show.

George VanLoosen rode the fine working mare, Miss Michigan, to first place in the working stock horse class at the Detroit Horse Show last Saturday. Miss Michigan is owned by the well known local blacksmith, Bob Reaume, who is so busy making shoeing calls that he has no time to show her himself.

Sunday's Saddlebridge Horse Show, drew many local junior riders. In an unofficial count of 76 horses the Plymouth area riders placed as follows: Judy Wall, fifth in the two year old and under model class for colts, with Kathie; Ginny Franklin, first in the fourteen year and under Pleasure Class and Cindy Hull fourth in the same class; Sharlene Moers, first in the fifteen and over Pleasure Class and June Norman third in the same class; Barbara Reid, third in the English Pleasure Class. As anyone can see Plymouth was well represented.

Gary Wright was the only Plymouth rider to place at the recent Bloomfield Horse Show. Gary rode his grey mare, Susie, to second place in the Arabian Pleasure Class. Susie was also entered in the Trail Class but because she thought it was too cold to get her feet wet in the water obstacle, she did not place.

By far, the brightest star of the recent Plymouth Colony Concert, was Danny. Danny is an eighteen year old sorrel gelding, who, with his owner and rider, Ted Kurzil, provided a mode of transportation, to and from the concert scene. Danny said and I quote: "Who said horses are low brow? I'm getting cultured."

Northville 100 Bring Drivers From 6 States

Drivers from at least six states will be driving in the first annual Northville "100" at Northville Downs on the evening of July 4th in '56 and '57 model cars.

States thus far represented are Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and Arizona. Most of these drivers participated in the recent 300 mile race at Trenton, N.J. that was won by Sam Hanks, '57 Indianapolis "500" victor.

Car makes entered show Chevrolet the favorite, followed closely by Fords. Plymouth is the next most popular entry. Also entered are Pontiac, Oldsmobile, and possibly a Buick and a Mercury. A convertible race is being held that afternoon at Canfield, Ohio and any cars participating in that race will be eligible to compete with the new sedans at Northville. Tom Horner from Dayton, Ohio will be driving a Thunderbird at Canfield and expects to arrive in Northville in time to compete.

Promoter Mel Larson will also drive in the racing program that will begin with time trials at 7:00 p.m. At 8:30 p.m. a 3 lap trophy dash will be held, followed by two 10 lap heat races and the 100 lap feature over the half-mile track. A fireworks display will follow the auto racing program. In the event of rain, the race will be held July 5th.

Entries to date include: Jack Goodwin, Detroit (57 Ford); Ken Julian, Detroit (56 Ford); Iggy Katona, Toledo (57 Chev); Jack Farris, Richmond, O. (57 Chev); Nelson Stacey, Winchester, O. (57 Chev); Herschel White, Indianapolis (57 Ply); Jack Piekens, Indianapolis (56 Ford); Bill Granger, Lima, O. (57 Ford); Don Schriber, Detroit (57 Pont); Wayne Bennett, Detroit (57 Ply).

Russ Hepler, Sharon, Pa. (57 Pont); Mel Larson, Phoenix, Arizona (56 Ford); Tom Horner, Dayton, O. (T-Bird); Virgil Barbe, Clawson, Mich (56 Pont); Paul Wensink, Indianapolis (56 Ply); Bucky Sager Toledo (57 Olds); Rollie Beale (56 Ford); Joy Fair, Pontiac, Mich and Mike Klapak, Warren, O. (57 Ford). In all approximately 30 cars and drivers are expected to make qualification runs for the feature starting positions.

OPEN SUNDAY & EVENINGS

Merchants Lose First of Season

The Plymouth Merchants lost their first game of the season last Sunday when the Redford Merchants squeezed out the local team, 5-4. The game was played at Northville.

Errors were costly to the Plymouth Merchants in the very first inning when Redford scored three times. There was no further scoring until the sixth inning when Plymouth scored once. They got another run in the seventh and two in the eighth to go ahead 4-3.

Redford tied up the game in the eighth with a single and triple and won the game in the ninth with a double and a single. Dick Shepard of Plymouth was relieved in the ninth while Redford's Tommosi went all the way.

The loss leaves the Plymouth Merchants tied for first place. The Plymouth Elks and Merchants will meet at Riverside Park this Thursday at 3:30 p.m. On Sunday the Elks meet Northville there and the Merchants play Chelsea here.

The Elks lost their Sunday game to River Rouge, 6-3, when two Rouge players stole home in succession. Four runs were scored in the third inning by Rouge.

River Rouge and the Plymouth Merchants have both won seven games and lost one. The Elks have yet to win a game. In other games Sunday, Romulus defeated Detroit Control, 6-3, while Northville was defeated by Chelsea, 7-4.

Rosedale Gardens News

Holiday Parade Starts In Rosedale at 10 a.m.

Hope to see all of you tomorrow at the Civic July Fourth celebration, and I hope as you read this you have your child's costume completed so we can have a nice big parade this year! Don't forget that the parade starts at 10:00 a.m. at the corner of W. Chicago and Berwick and is just the start of a wonderful day of fun. See you there!

Happy National Hot Dog Month, everybody! No kidding, that's just what July has been declared, so do your duty and indulge in hot dogs at every opportunity!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer and their six children of Indianapolis visited Oscar and Marie Heitner, Berwick, last week. Mrs. Meyer is Marie's sister.

Hear that Diane Draperies did a real nice job on the clubhouse draperies!

Pat and Ken Luch, Vermont, attended the wedding of Ken's sister in Detroit Saturday morning, June 22 and the reception in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brooks, W. Chicago, celebrated their wedding anniversary with dinner at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth Monday, June 24. Also celebrating a wedding anniversary at the same time and place were their friends and former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Whittington who now reside in Northville.

Mrs. Frank Hokenson, W. Chicago, visited Mackinac Island June 17 with Mrs. Charles Davison of Birmingham where they attended the Third Annual Conservation Conference of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, which was represented. Mrs. Hokenson is Conservation Chairman of the Rosedale branch of the association.

The Friendly Eight, a Rosedale Gardens Pinochle club, met Saturday evening, June 22 and went out to dinner and then on to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hartley on Delaware for an evening of cards. Mrs. Brooks won first prize.

Bob Van Heusden, Shadyside, left Wednesday, June 26 for a two week stay at St. Mary's Camp in Memphis, Michigan. Bob, who is seven years old, made the trip to camp by bus and is planning on a vacation of hikes and camping fun.

The Benny Niemiecs, Brookfield, have moved to the north east section of Livonia.

The Book Club's picnic which was supposed to have been held in Peg Miquelton's back yard was rained out last Thursday and held indoors.

Barb and Joe Jacques, Virginia, are the parents of a new baby girl, Robin Ann, who was born June 14 at New Grace hospital and weighed in at 6 pounds, 10 ounces. Robin has a sister, Diane.

The St. Gerald Circle of St. Michael's Altar Society met at Botsford Inn for dinner and then spent the rest of the evening at the home of Rosemary O'Brien on Fairfield, June 26.

Pat and Ken Luch, Vermont, entertained Thursday evening, at a dinner for relatives from Washington, D. C. and Pennsylvania.

People have been calling to say that there are a lot of new people who move out of Livonia and don't seem to realize that just buying a license isn't enough—a dog is supposed to be confined to his own yard or put on a leash! Sure is hard on new shrubbery (and old, for that matter!) when people disregard such things.

Mrs. McNaughton, Auburndale, called to say that her daughter, Mrs. William McDonald and her daughter Peggy, seven, really have been having themselves a vacation. Mrs. McDonald and Peggy drove 2075 miles to Kingman, Arizona where they visited Mr. McDonald who is there on business and then drove on to California to visit Disneyland, returning by the northern route. Mrs. McDonald wrote that the destruction left by the tornadoes in Missouri were horrible and unbelievable. Peggy will certainly have a lot to tell her classmates when school starts this fall.

The Birthday Club recently had a luncheon for Mrs. Jo Muth, formerly of Melrose avenue. The Birthday Club meets once a month, except for July and August and has been in existence for between 12 and 13 years.

I called Barb over on Cranston to see if there was any news and just happened to catch her between acts of a play her kids were putting on to entertain their grandma Core, Mrs. A. Leslie Core Sr. Asked Barb what it was all about and she said she hadn't found out yet, as it was just the end of the second act!

Chicky Diefenderfer, Mayfield, left Saturday, for Camp Chickagami at Alpena and will be gone for two weeks.

Carolyn and Doug Campbell and daughter Susan of Mayfield avenue, along with Bonnie Diefenderfer left June 28 for a week-end visit to Niagara Falls.

Karen Oss, Brookfield, celebrated her ninth birthday last week with a party. Friends present to wish her a happy day were Cathy Heimforth, Ann Remington, Mary Budda, Linda Reid, Kathy West, Charlotte Durnet, Christine Theisen, Ann and Mary White, Barbara Harvath and Karen's Cousins, Cheryl Gordon of St. Claire Shores and Donna Ferrero of Detroit.

Received a card from Betty Dana who has been vacationing and will be home by the time you read this. So far the only mishap has been with daughter Laurie who fell off a teeter totter and cracked her head, and cut her lip and nose!

Cheryl Beagan, Leslie Pomroy, Nancy Briggs and Aileen Briggs have been attending Bible School in Plymouth for the past two weeks at the Church of the Nazarene. Friday, the class spent at Haggerty Diamond park where they had a final day picnic.

Wednesday, Ruth Beagan's mother, Mrs. John Brewer and Ruth's sister Miss Gloria Brewer of Royal Oak visited the family for the day.

Leslie Borgia's nursery school is now in full swing with eight little Rosedale Gardeners attending. Marilyn Hunt is assisting Leslie with the children, as is visiting cousin Lexie. Children attending are Suzy Durivage, Mitchy Durivage, Christine Sullivan, Diane Sullivan, Joe Girardin, Nancy Lau, Michelle Lau, and Dawn Lau.

We have lost our chief lawn mower, grocery getter and basement cleaner for at least a month! Sunday, June 30 the Pomroys drove to Lake Huron to take Don for a summer visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanton, Marilyn and Leslie went along, and Grandma said they could visit, too, and sometimes I think I should have taken her up on it.

Well, this has sure been a quiet week in Rosedale Gardens! Sure hope that you readers know that phone number at the head of this column isn't put there just to take up space. Please call me with your news items.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Local Family Rates Kentucky Nut Cake Tops

FOUR YEAR-OLD Jeffrey Meek is kitchen supervisor in his home. Here he takes his post as his mother begins to make an Old Kentucky Nut Cake. This is one supervisor who can't be left alone in the kitchen. It seems he would rather be a taster.

The best thing about the favorite recipe in the Meek household is the making of it, according to Jeffrey Meek who just turned four June 26.

Jeffrey's mother, Mrs. Robert D. Meek of 9282 Elmhurst, enjoys making Old Kentucky Nut Cake under his watchful eye. Here is the procedure.

Old Kentucky Nut Cake
2/3 cup soft shortening (half butter for flavor)
1 2/3 cup sugar
3 eggs
2 2/3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups chopped walnuts

Cream the shortening and sugar together until fluffy. Beat in the eggs thoroughly. Sift the flour, baking powder and salt together and stir in alternately with the milk and vanilla. Fold in the walnuts. Pour into two nine inch layer pans or one 13 x 9 inch pan. Bake at 350° for 25 to 30 minutes for the layer pans or 35 to 40 minutes for the single pan.

Creamy Carmel Icing
1/2 cup cream
6 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons sugar
3 cups sifted confectioners sugar.

Heat together the cream and butter. Carmelize the 2 tablespoons of sugar by heating and stirring until a liquid. Add the scalded cream and butter, stirring until lumps are dissolved. Gradually stir in the confectioners sugar. Beat until icing is smooth and creamy. Add more cream if it becomes too thick.

A Woman's Eye View by Nancy Rigney

It seems that every week and month of the year has been designated to nationally honor some product, place or institution. They range from "Be Kind to Animals Week" to "National Prune Juice Month".

July is no exception, being Picnic Month, National Hot Dog Month and Iced Tea Month and probably a dozen others I don't know about.

The picnic has long been a pastime peculiar to human beings. I suppose pre-historic man used to picnic among the boulders, but his delight was a raw meat-laden bone rather than the hot dog.

"Hot Dog" entered the language as an American colloquialism in 1908, according to the Oxford Universal dictionary. It described the hot dog as "a hot sausage enclosed in a roll of bread." But this wasn't always so. I recently ran across an account of the historic marriage of hot dog and bun. It traces this event to the Louisiana Purchase Exposition in St. Louis in 1904 and the saga of Sigmund and Otto.

Sigmund was a vendor of hot food specialties at the exposition. He was doing a land office business peddling his roasted sausages, but it proved a losing proposition. It seems that the savory dogs came off the stove so hot that Sig served them to his customers on a fork. As the pleased patrons were wandering off nibbling the dogs on forks, poor Sigmund's silverware bill brought him close to bankruptcy. Not to go under so easily, this entrepreneurial genius, distributed white gloves to protect his customer's fingers from the steaming sausages. But as it is with forks, gloves cost money.

At this strategic moment, Otto the baker enters the picture with a tailor-made bun to fit the hot dogs. This was it—the solution to Sigmund's problem and a boon to Otto and the bakers of America for future generations.

This history has its critics however. An Eatontown, N. J. man claims that he served hot dogs on a bun commercially as early as 1896 along with fancy fruits, cigars, and salt water taffy. How about Plymouth, any claims?

The year of 1904 was a big one in St. Louis. It also marked the birth of iced tea. This time the setting was the World's Fair and the discovery was out of desperation. St. Louis was experiencing one of its worst heat waves in history. A tea exhibitor from England was having difficulty promoting steaming cups of hot tea. As a last-resort-type gesture he threw in a handful of ice cubes, probably thinking to himself, "if they want something cold, there it is." Much to his surprise, the taste was delightful and he was a sensation overnight. His tea house was the rage of the fair until his idea spread to the other tea houses and refreshment stands. By the time the fair was over, iced tea became a national drink.

Here's an idea for frost-rimmed iced tea glasses. Dip the rims in lime or lemon juice, then in granulated sugar before pouring the tea in. Sounds like a pretty good idea. Maybe we should start a tea house next time St. Louis has a fair.

If you're interested in the history of Plymouth, past and present, one of the best places I know is the lobby of City Hall. A yellowed picture of Main Street in 1857 is a good beginning. Also pictured are the town fathers of some decades ago and a mural of the days of the horse and carriage.

To bring you right up to date is a display of the recent achievements of the city government. Photographs, books, annual reports and a 6 inch water main are part of the display that's worth looking in on.

MR. AND MRS. MILTON R. KAATZ and their four children moved to Plymouth from South Lyons last December. They chose Plymouth because it is near Mr. Kaatz's building service company and they like the shopping facilities and school system. Pictured with their bows and arrows are Larry, 12, and Mr. Kaatz. Watching the archers of the family are Pamela, Sandra, Vonnice and Mrs. Kaatz.

Two Local Teachers Taking European Trip

Miss Lavon O'Neal and Miss Alma Sampson, both of 605 Jener are among the 42 American teachers and student teachers on a tour studying European teaching methods.

The group, directed by Dr. William Reitz of Wayne State University's college of education, left Detroit via airplane for a two months visit to England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, Holland and other countries. Most of the passengers will receive college credit for study completed during these traveling class sessions. The group will return to Detroit on August 24.

New Taxes In Force Now

CIGARET AND LIQUOR tax increases to collect another $25,000,000 for school aid went into effect July 1.

The controversy swirling about their enactment will last much longer than the law, which will expire in a year. Gov. Williams cited "moral offensiveness" in tying the fortunes of educating the young of the state with the smoking and drinking habits of adults. He left a lot unsaid in his message to the people and the legislature, informing them he would not veto the tax increases.

School people made it known early in the legislative session they would need more money than their two-thirds of the state sales tax is expected to provide—about $24,000,000 more.

Small groups of educators opposed liquor and cigarettes as products on which schools should depend. The most vocal majority said they didn't care much where the money came from, just so long as programs could be continued and the 70,000 new students expected next year could be instructed. Church leaders opposed the idea on moral grounds. Williams added that the market is too unsteady to provide a positive sum, the liquor and cigarette industries said their taxes already are too high.

The governor referred only slightly to his eight-year campaign for a corporation profits tax.

The Williams theory is that business and industry would have to absorb the tax without passing it along to the consumer, or price themselves out of the market.

Business leaders argue that this is not the case. They declare that higher taxes in Michigan puts them at a competitive disadvantage with manufacturers in other states; that the tax difference would be so great that they must sell their products at a higher price. They are concerned that they will lose much business and this they point out, would produce much unemployment.

Reaction to the governor's continuous proposal about corporate profits taxes has become so pronounced that the controversy is receiving nationwide attention. It has made it more difficult to interest new industries in locating in Michigan. There are those who think it will also make it more difficult for Gov. Williams to win a spot on the Democratic national ticket in 1960, should he be aiming in that direction.

It finally happened. A meeting failed to show up for the speaker.

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, much in demand as a speaker on varied subjects, was invited to address a group of furniture industrialists in Grand Rapids.

He arrived speech in hand. The hall was darkened. A hurried conference by telephone with the people in charge disclosed a slight error; on the part of the organization. The meeting was to be held a week later.

Hart, billed as "one of Michigan's first full-time lieutenant governors," was inconvenienced but undismayed. He returned to make the speech a week later.

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

WHEN A COUPLE PASSES the milestone of 40 they should buckle down to the rewarding task of charting their personal financial future. The four basic steps in this procedure are as follows:

1. Buy a home of your own. By the age of 40 a couple should be well on their way toward owning a home. It should be every couple's goal to arrive at retirement with a substantial home paid for down to the last doorknob. Why? Because the home owner always has something to fall back on since a home of one's own is a solid financial asset. Even if a severe emergency arises and income is cut off a home and garden will still maintain the owner. If necessary he can rent a room or apartment or even the entire house as means of obtaining funds in time of emergency.

2. Choose your objectives. You should sit down and decide what kind of security you want in the years ahead. Approximately how much income will you really need to permit you to spread your wings and enjoy those later years? As a rule of thumb, it has been found that a middle-income couple should put aside at least ten percent of their take-home pay for their retirement security.

3. Budget to achieve your objectives. Without a budget a family is destined to see the years pass with nothing accumulating for their future needs. With a written budget a family will learn to trim and pare the non-essentials from their expenditures and to regard their allotment for retirement in the same essential category as their budgeted items for food, clothing and shelter. If you find your expenses are really heavy and, even with hawk-like surveillance over pennies, you simply can't afford this stipened for your retirement, the obvious solution is to find a way of bringing in a little more cash. Ingenious families manage to do this all the time—perhaps renting out a room, putting Mom to work afternoons giving piano lessons, or finding Pop a week-end job at the corner haberdashery.

While it may be painful to operate under a strict budget, you will soon find, as many others have found, that there's something downright exhilarating about saving money for the years ahead. The pleasure comes when you begin reaping that aura of satisfaction that stems from knowing you have a business-like approach to your financial future.

4. Invest your retirement funds. There are, naturally, dozens of different beliefs as to the best investment plan for a middle-income couple. Some go overboard in favor of insurance and annuities. Some cautiously suggest that you stick with bank savings or bonds. Some optimistically advocate major reliance on stocks or real estate. And a few misguided souls forswear all of these and tuck their retirement dollars into the nearest mattress for safekeeping. But for purposes of general applicability the average individual will be wise to diversify and apportion his personal retirement investments among (a) insurance, (b) bank savings, and (c) well-selected common growth stock.

Warning

LANSING — About half of Michigan's 1957 drowning deaths probably will occur during the next two months, the Michigan Department of Health said today.

If 1957 follows trends established in other years, July and August combined will account for between 45 and 50 per cent of the year's total drownings, with approximately 27 per cent taking place in July and 20 per cent in August.

Statistics show that the most probable victims are boys under 20 years of age. Males in general account for about 90 per cent of all drownings in Michigan, and about 45 per cent of the drowning victims are persons under 20 years of age.

Michigan's drowning toll could be reduced if everyone who swims or uses a boat would remember the common sense rules of water safety, the state health department said. Based on lessons learned from past drownings, the health department listed these points as the best ones to remember to avoid becoming a drowning victim:

SWIMMING

Know your physical capabilities; never try to swim farther or longer than you're able; don't enter the water when you're tired or hot.

After eating, wait an hour before going in the water to avoid cramps.

Know your swimming site; watch for holes or undertow. Don't dive in until you're certain the water is deep enough for diving and also is free of stumps, rocks or other underwater obstacles.

Never swim alone.

BOATING

Be familiar with the performance limits of your boat; guard particularly against overloading and turning too sharply.

Stay off the water in stormy weather.

Never stand up in a small boat and don't attempt to change seats with another occupant.

If you can't swim, wear a life preserver.

If the boat upsets, your chances of surviving are much better if you cling to the overturned boat rather than attempting to swim to shore.

When operating a power boat, stay away from swimmers and from fishermen's boats.

The airlines of the world stress, above all else, passenger safety. And one of the keystones of this policy is the experience of pilots.

The next time you take an airplane on a journey, would you like to have the pilot be a youngster? Would you like to have it flown by a man who last week had his first solo flight? Is it not comforting to know that this man, in whose hands lies your safety, has literally lived almost a lifetime doing just what he is doing now?

Your insurance agent is entrusted with a part of your safety, too. Have the assurance, here too, that you are protected by the counsel of a man who knows his business... who has attained professional rank in an extremely complex business science... a man who spends his entire life in the selling, servicing and study of insurance.

For your own peace of mind... for safety... demand professional attention in your insurance problems. Such professional attention is available from us... at no obligation.

Over Million Room Air Conditioners to be Sold In '57; Check These Points Before Purchase

More than a million room air conditioners will be sold this year. They will go into homes, apartments, offices, hotels, motels, hospitals, stores and all types of commercial establishments. If you will become the owner of one of the million-to-be-sold conditioners, their makers want you to be completely satisfied with your purchase—for only satisfied customers result in more customers. There are number of factors, besides cost, that should be considered prior to making a final room unit purchase and the air conditioning survey training these men have received, in addition to assuring you of satisfaction, can oftentimes save you money.

The following are a few of the determining factors — many of which you can check yourself — which should be considered prior to making a room air conditioner purchase:

- Size of room to be conditioned.
- Room insulation and shading.
- Window area or number of windows in the room.
- Power supply and location of electrical outlets in room.
- Type of windows in room.
- Are there any local regulations governing outside extension of equipment.
- The type of air distribution the room will require.
- Location of room furnishings (desk or cabinets may interfere with air circulation).

Pre-checking will disclose what unit horsepower or capacity the room to be air conditioned will require; what the dimensions of that unit should be; whether the conditioner should be conventional or casement type (or perhaps one of the new all-in-wall models will be recommended); the best location for the conditioner; what type of grille (per room layout) will furnish the best air distribution; and other information pertinent to the selection of the "right" air conditioner. Make or brand and price can then be considered.

You want to be satisfied with your purchase. Manufacturers and your retail dealer likewise want you to be satisfied. That is why they are spending millions to train their personnel to assist you in room air conditioner selection and why they also recommend that the previously listed points be checked before you make your purchase.

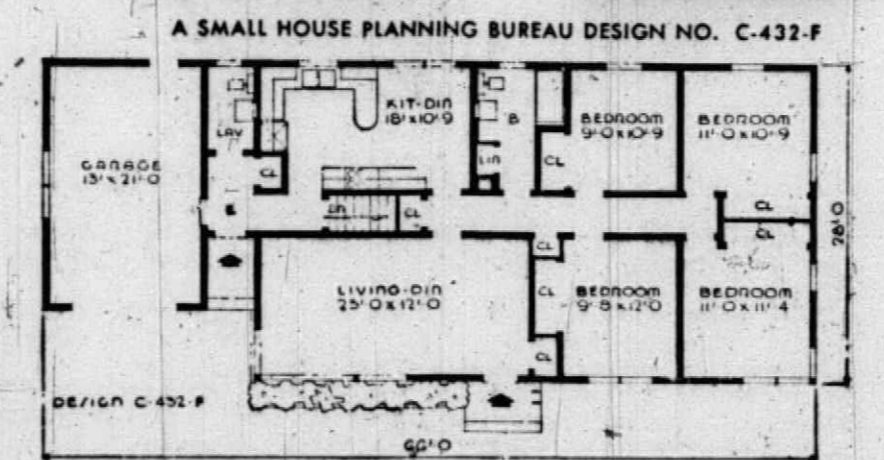

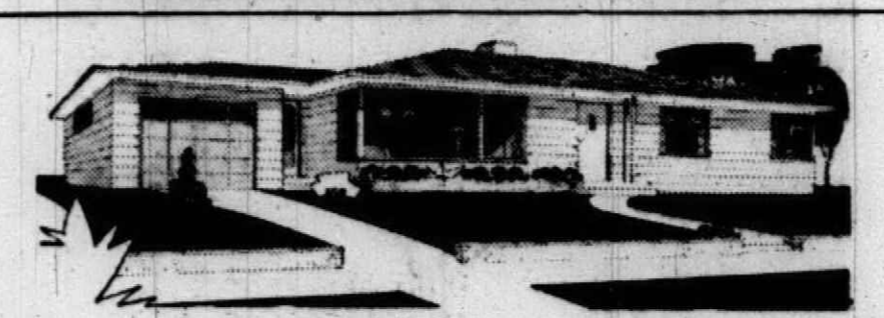

Colorful Granules Give Roofing Coat of Rock

Millions of rock granules are embedded into the surface of asphalt shingles. The granules are both functional and decorative. The opaque granules give the surface of the roofing a tough coat of rock which seals in the heavy oils of the asphalt and reduces the wearing effect of rain, snow, and ice.

For appearance, the granules are given color through a special ceramic process. The result is a wide range of colors available in asphalt shingles, from light pastels to deep tones and blends.

Shellac tends to glaze or crack and should never be used as a sealer prior to painting outdoor furniture. Instead, apply a half-and-half mixture of boiled linseed oil and turpentine. When this is dry, brush on a coat of spar varnish or paint.

BUILDING and REMODELING NEWS FOR EVERY HOME

DESIGN C-432-F. This four-bedroom home features larger than usual wardrobe closets, a bathroom with recessed tub and linen cabinet. The plan is simple to frame and economical in material and labor. It has a full basement, kitchen-dinette with cabinets on three walls, attached garage, lavatory and coat closet at rear entry.

Exterior details include asphalt shingles on hip roof, wide eave overhang, wood siding and planter under the living room corner picture windows. Floor area is 1414 square feet, cubage is 26,159 cubic feet. For further information about DESIGN C-432-F, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn. In Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

HOME OWNERS' QUESTION BOX

Q—Concrete spilled and hardened on slate flagstones while we were building a patio. How can the concrete be removed?

A—Mix a ten percent solution of muriatic, or hydrochloric acid with water. Wear rubber gloves and apply with a cloth. Rinse well with a garden hose. The acid is obtainable from most drug stores.

Q—We're filling a basement floor and in there are some shallow areas here and there which must be filled to give an even surface. What can we use for this?

A—Professional tile installers often mix linoleum paste with plaster and fill there are some shallow areas here and there which must be filled to give an even surface. What can we use for this?

Q—We plan to install an attic fan. How can we judge the size we'll need?

A—By the number of cubic feet of air space in your home. Get an accurate estimate of this and take it to your dealer. He'll sell you a fan of the proper size.

Q—When our home was built, a two-inch layer of insulation was installed in the attic floor. Is this enough to give us the maximum benefits of insulation? If not, can we install more insulation ourselves?

A—Authorities on home comfort agree that at least four inches of mineral wool insulation should be installed in ceilings for winter comfort and heating economy, and six inches if the house is air conditioned in summer. You can obtain pouring wool—mineral wool in bags—from building material dealers. This is simply poured between joists of the attic floor, as shown in the sketch, spread out to the depth of the joists with a garden rake, and smoothed with a piece of board.

Older Home May Be Bargain for Growing Family

House-hunters on the alert for a bargain should be aware of the value an older home offers, especially to the growing family planning to buy on a budget.

Here are a few of the advantages of buying an older house:

1. Space. It's often not hard to find a structurally sound, old home at a reasonable price that offers four or five bedrooms, a large dining room, a basement, and an unfinished attic.
2. Equipment. More often than not, on older house will have a furnished kitchen, window shades or blinds, curtain and drapery hardware, storm windows and screens, and such things as shelves and built-in storage, all paid for by previous owners.
3. Advancements in home-improvement techniques. Even without extensive remodeling, most older homes in good structural condition can be made comfortable and convenient. Good examples of materials and techniques are packaged bathrooms that can be installed in one day; mineral wool insulation which is blown into walls and ceilings of existing houses, and asphalt shingles which can be applied directly over old roofing material, adding new color to an old house and giving it durable protection from weather at the same time.

Insulating through the blow-in process is popular with owners of older homes because it not only increases the value of the house, but stops chilling drafts and lowers fuel bills in winter. Summer comfort is increased because the mineral wool keeps heat out.

4. Established lawn and garden. Most of the work of getting grass, shrubs, flowers, and trees to grow has been done by previous owners of an older house. The new owners need only maintain the grounds.

5. Do-it-yourself materials and techniques. The buyer of an old house can make many of his own improvements gradually with materials and ideas aimed at home handymen and women.

Pine Panel Door Styles Ideal in Modern Home

Panel doors can fit into a modern decorating scheme as well as they do in a traditional decor. In fact, many styles of panel doors made of ponderosa pine are designed primarily for modern interiors. Three of the most popular styles of modern panel doors are the "rancho", consisting of three equal-sized panels; the eight-equal-panel door, which has four rows of two panels each, and the 15-panel, five rows of three equal panels each. The commercial standards of the U.S. Department of Commerce lists panel doors of ponderosa pine by numbers which are helpful in ordering the doors from building materials dealers. The "rancho" is N. D. 103, the eight-equal-panel is N. D. 109, and the 15-equal-panel is N. D. 113.

Fourth of July Salad

Here is a Fourth of July salad that will be a compliment to any holiday meal. Add a platter of assorted cheese, sausage meats and hot garlic buttered French bread which may be heated in foil. A tempting extra—roasting ears of corn.

Fourth of July Salad

- 1/2 pound skinless frankfurters cut bite size
- 1 cup boiled potatoes, cubed
- 2 tablespoons chopped green onion tops
- 1 wedge of crumbled blue cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup diced celery

- 1 1/2 tablespoons green peppers chopped
- 1/2 cup cooked asparagus tips
- 1 chopped hard-cooked egg
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 cup French dressing
- Lettuce leaves
- Tomato wedges

Arrange frankfurter slices, potatoes, asparagus tips, peppers, celery, onions, eggs, cheese bits in a shallow bowl. Toss with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves with a garnish of tomato wedges and French dressing. Before cutting up the franks, let them stand in boiling water for about eight minutes.

Sticky Trick: Use Warm Iron

Have you wondered how those transparent wraps on food packages such as self-service meats are sealed so tightly—with no sign of stick 'em—when you buy them, and why they won't stick at all when you try to re-seal the package at home?

Here's the sticky trick: it's done with a warm sealing iron and a coating on the wrap which contains a plasticizer called, believe it or not, dicyclohexyl phthalate. ~~Picture this: you don't have to~~ ~~proceed~~ if to understand what it does for you. To give the transparent wrap a good resistance to moisture—so that the food won't dry out or leak a wet break-through in the bottom of your paper grocery sack, it is given a nitrocellulose coating containing this di... this plasticizer. And it not only boosts the water barrier but acts as an adhesive, too, when heated a bit.

So, the wrap is put around the food, folded neatly and then the package is passed across a warm metal plate which seals it just that quickly. Sometimes, a gadget like a soldering iron is used instead of the heated metal plate.

You can do the same thing at home if you ever want to re-seal such a package. Set your electric iron for silks and brush it across the spots to be sealed. Or just press the wrap-ends of the package lightly against the side of a warm hot—saucé pan.

Light Up Garden, Lawn in Summer

Why not profit by the advantages garden lighting can offer to you and your family? Summer-time is the time to entertain outdoors in the cool air amid pleasant surroundings of beauty and color achieved by careful lighting of flowers, shrubbery and trees.

Outdoor lighting of danger spots can give added safety to your family and guests while lighted areas are also likely to discourage intruders.

The following techniques in garden lighting are suggested as a result of work done by Donald P. Watson, professor of horticulture at Michigan State University and Charles Fischer, former M.S.U. professor.

Use flood and spot lights on backgrounds to emphasize the quality of foundation plantings.

Use plantings especially planned to conceal the sources of light.

Light shadows with colored filters.

Use neon-tubing below the foliage for outstanding effects.

Use neon-tubing to provide a reflection of light against plants as well as a silhouette behind them.

Use fluorescent paint on garden structures illuminated with ultraviolet light for startling effects.

Insist on portable, inexpensive lighting equipment.

Shorten Trip With Games

On long trips it is sometimes hard to keep everyone amused. To make the tiresome hours pass more quickly try these traveling games for the whole family.

"59 or Bust" is a game of observing license plates. As a car approaches, note the first and last digits of the license number and add them together. The sums are credited to each of the players in rotation for all the cars that are passed.

For example, player number one takes the sum of the first and last license numbers of the first car that passes. Number two takes them for the second car. If there are five passengers playing, number one adds the sum from the sixth car to his original score after player number five has had his turn. The object of the game is to get an even 59. If a player scores more than 59, he is "busted" back to zero.

Each player keeps his own score mentally. However, when playing it with children, it might be better to furnish each one with a score card.

Youngsters will enjoy Road-side Alphabet too. Two players play this game, each taking one side of the road. The object of the game is to complete the alphabet by picking in sequence the letters from sign boards or direction boards along the highway. The player arriving at Z first wins the game.

Another game is Graveyards. All you do is decide on some object to count, such as cows, horses, pigs or sheep. One player or team takes one side of the road, the others take the other side. Each calls out the number they see on their side and adds the number to their score. If they pass a graveyard on their side, they must start over. Play the game to the city limits of the largest city enroute or to a specified destination. The player or team with the largest number wins.

Here's another traveling tip: don't try to pack too many miles into each day's travel.

To Start a Hot Day Right— Eat a Cool Refreshing Breakfast

A cool, refreshing breakfast can do so much to lift the spirits of your family at the start of another hot, summer day. Serve them fresh fruit atop crisp shredded wheat with chilled milk and just see if they do not feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours.

Is it really worth while to take ten minutes of your time each day to ensure that your family has an adequate morning meal? Research at a leading-Midwestern university on the importance of breakfast has demonstrated that the physical and mental well-being of the subjects improved if they ate an adequate morning meal. In just ten minutes you can prepare a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This is a basic breakfast pattern recommended by leading doctors and dietitians to provide an adequate morning meal.

In hot weather, it is especially important to think up ways to make the morning meal as cool and attractive as possible. The many fresh fruits, varieties of ready-to-eat breakfast cereals and breadstuffs available on today's market make variety easy. Have you given any thought to your table setting? Are you using cool-looking place mats, such as straw, bamboo, or pastel plastic? Do you always serve breakfast in the kitchen or dining room? What about serving breakfast on the porch or patio? Sometimes setting breakfast on a tray adds interest and variety. Then each one in the family can carry his tray to the coolest spot possible.

DON'T BUY ANY CAR BEFORE YOU DRIVE A CHEVY...ITS BEST SHOWROOM IS THE ROAD.

Beauty in motion—Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Sedan with Body by Fisher.

Here's why Chevy's best showroom is the road!

Because Chevrolet's sleek good looks, its advanced features, are only part of the story. The big bonus is its remarkable roadability, the crisp precision handling that has posted an entirely new standard for cars in every price class. You can't read about that . . . but you can feel it, instantly!

Good drivers know roadability is the single thing that means more driving satisfaction for more thousands of miles than anything else. More safety, too, for it grants greater stability on curves, greater traction on wet roads, better "bite" under hard braking. There are reasons for all this, of course: Chevrolet's balanced weight distribution, outrigger rear springs, Ball-Race steering, spherical-joint front suspension. Sure, you can admire the sculptured lines in the showroom. But Chevy's a car specifically designed for beautiful motion—you have to travel in this one to know just how terrific it is. Why don't you try it, this week?

Indisputably American

Independence Day is a holiday that is indisputably American. On this day, one hundred and eighty-one years ago, Americans took an irrevocable step; a step which proved that all men are created equal: the signing of the Declaration of Independence. On July 4th we celebrate, once again, the anniversary of this great event.

The council has ordered the purchase of two drinking fountains, one to be placed opposite the Wolverine drug store and the other in lower town. Electric lights will be surmounting them. Electric lights will also be placed around the park in various places. We know this will interfere with the "spooning" of some of the young people but we are sure it is a "light" in the right place. If the council will order the repairing and repainting of the grandstand and take off some of those horrid billboards, things will look fairly decent around the park.

Isaac Sherwood of Newburg took his merry-go-round to Dearborn over the Fourth and made himself a neat pocket-full of money.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

What about a boy who doesn't show up for a date and doesn't explain or apologize? A high school sophomore asks—

Q.—"I like a certain boy. I thought he liked me, so I invited him to a show with me when I won two tickets in a contest. He told me he would, but when the big night came, no word from him. I was pretty mad at being stood up like that, but I heard in school the next day that he didn't get home until late that night and didn't know my telephone number or where I lived so he just stayed home—until one of his friends came and they went to the show. It happened a week ago and he still isn't speaking to me. Would it be all right for me to wait a month, then ask him again?"

Ans.—This boy has done one of the biggest "don'ts" in dating. In fact he has fractured—splintered—several big, basic rules of good manners and couldn't have shown less regard for you. And you want to invite him again. Where's your pride?

First, when he accepted your invitation, he should have asked your address and telephone number so he could call you a day or so before the date to ask what time to call for you... and, incidentally, let you know he hadn't forgotten the date.

Second, he should have made plans so NOTHING would make him late except unavoidable circumstances on a job. When something did detain him, he should have found some way to contact you... a friend who knows where you live or he could have called the names like yours listed in the telephone book until he found the right family (it has been done!).

Third, he should have found a way to call you when he reached home, if he had failed until then.

Fourth, he should have explained and apologized to you at the very first opportunity in school afterward. Instead, he tells his friends about it, so they all know you were "stood up" and doesn't even speak to you.

Fifth, he should have asked you for another date immediately to make up for the one he made you miss.

He would have done it if he really liked you and was interested in the date. Forget this crude, careless character and invite a boy who has a better idea of how to treat a girl!

Local W.T.C.U. Being Formed

Woman's Christian Temperance Union members met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Clifford Gracey of Homes Road for another in the series of organization meetings being held in Plymouth and Livonia.

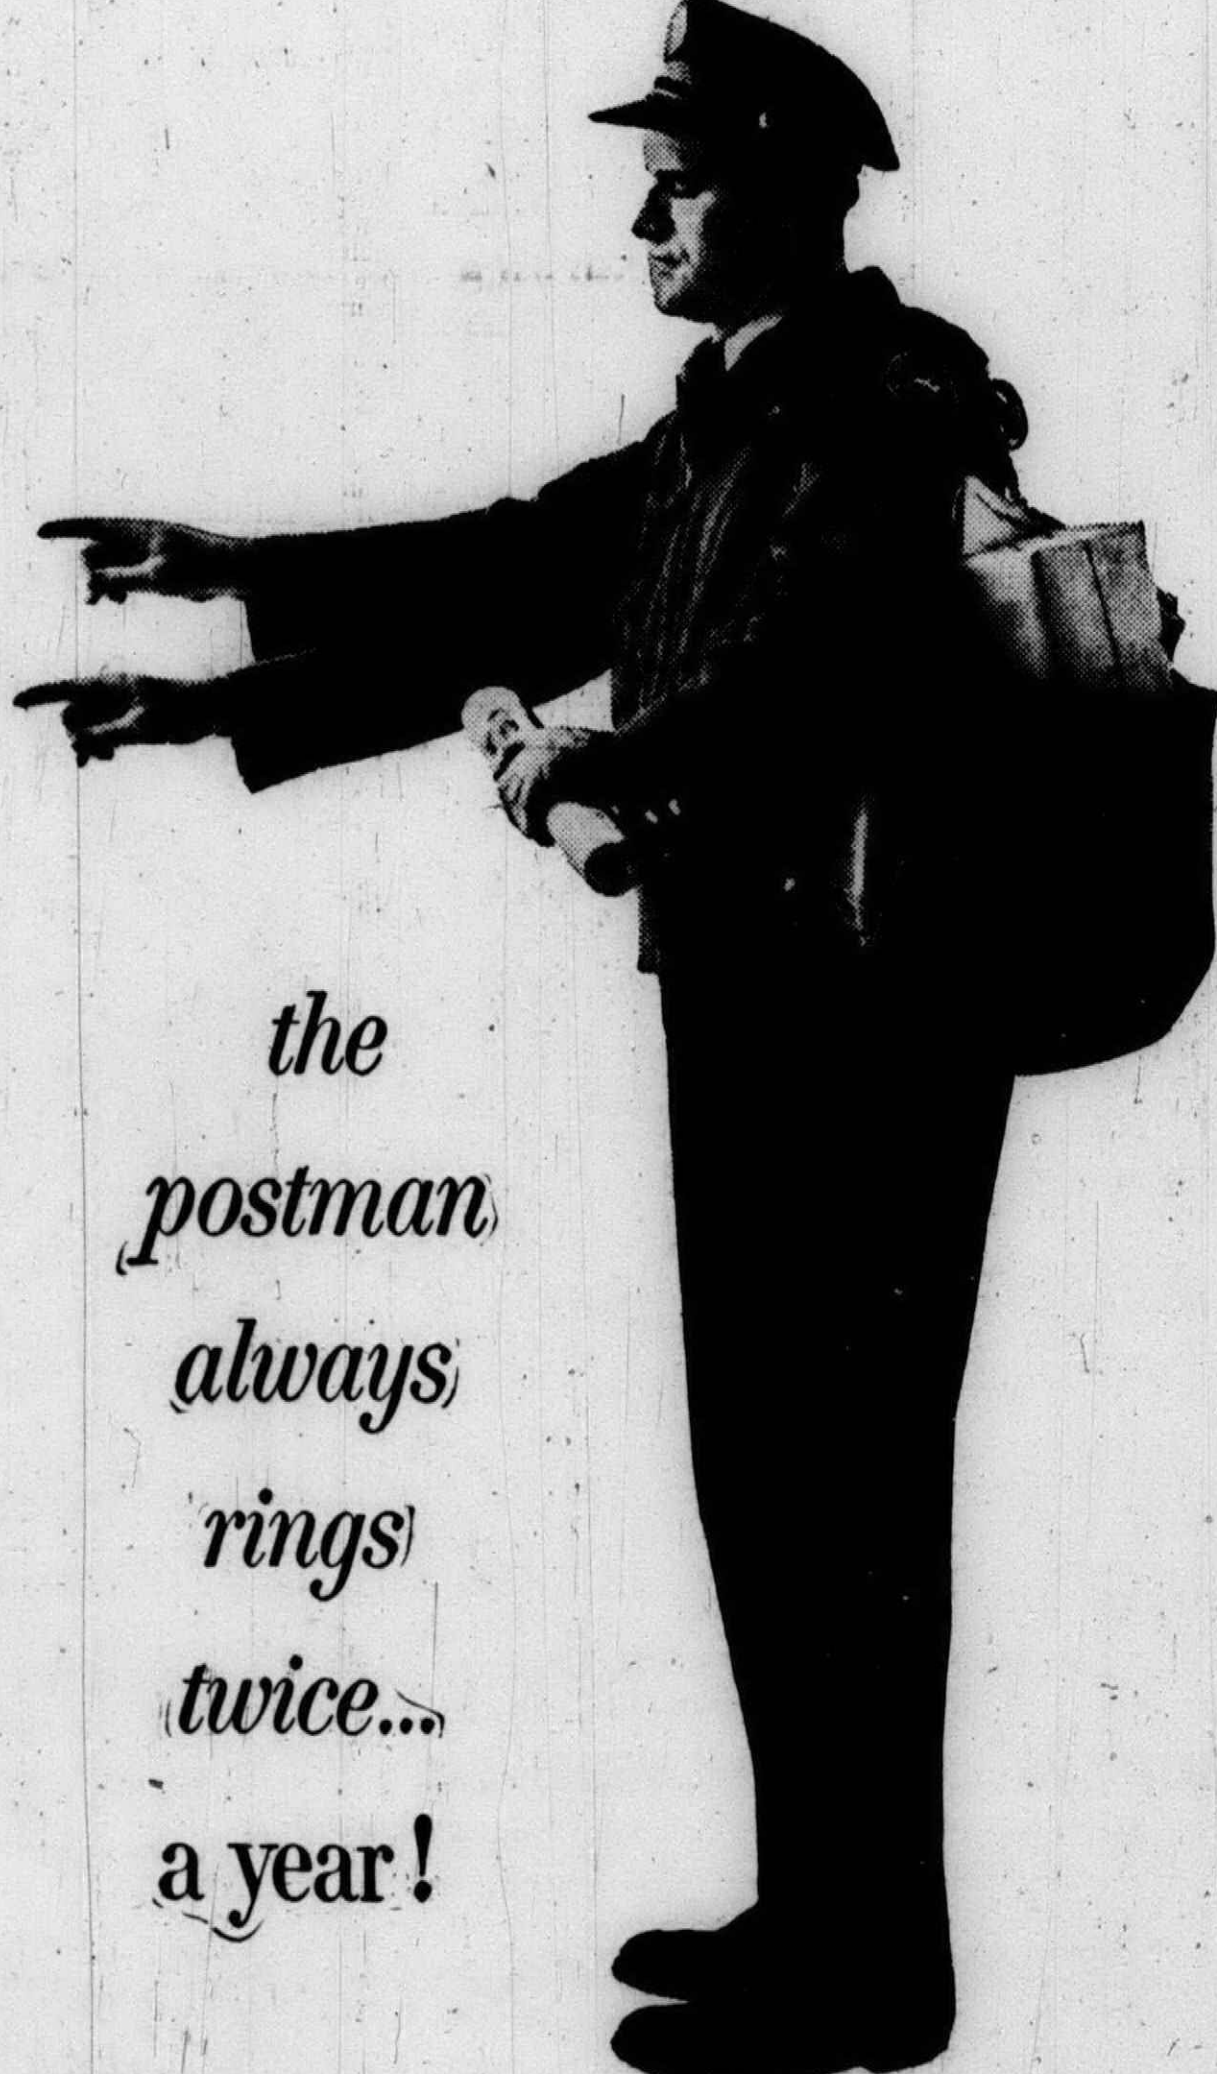

The Plymouth-Livonia group call themselves the Mother's Day Union because they held their first meeting on that day. Mrs. Gracey is the temporary president until October when the group plans to form separate unions for Plymouth and Livonia.

Mrs. Ella Wood, past state spiritual life director, led devotions and gave a resume of her experiences in that department. The president of District 17 unions (same area as congressional district 17), Mrs. Mary Kenworthy outlined the various branches of work carried on by the W.T.C.U. and suggested some future projects. The union furnishes material, motion pictures and slides to assist in instruction in schools on the effects of alcohol.

Meetings will be held during the summer at announced places and times.

See actual road-test proof! DODGE TRUCKS most powerful of low-priced 3

Dodge matches reserve power against truck "C" and truck "F" in this test for safer passing ability. All three are comparably equipped and loaded with 1000 lbs. A skilled test driver is behind each wheel. Here's the flag, they're off!

Dodge takes an early lead and at 30 m.p.h. is widening the gap. Truck "C" and truck "F" are straining to deliver their peak performance. But that Dodge 204-hp. V-8 keeps gaining easily. Its added power means less wear, fewer repairs, too.

In just one quarter mile Dodge is five lengths ahead of truck "C", seven lengths out front of truck "F". And this is but one of a complete series of actual road tests that prove Dodge the outstanding value of the low-priced three.

● Your Dodge truck dealer has proof that Dodge leads in many ways. Come in... see other certified test-photo sequences... and take a demonstration ride!

Forest Tree May Take 'Slow Burn' On Home Lawn

Finding a place in the sun after a sheltered early life is not always just what the doctor ordered. Not for the woods-grown tree at any rate.

Its elder tree neighbors provide a sheltered life for the young forest tree, shading it from the sun's hottest rays. Taking it from its home and replanting it on an open lawn may cause it to do a slow burn, according to H. A. Toney, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co.

The tree taken from deep woods for home use has at least one root in the grave. The drastic change in environment is only one of the factors causing failure. In transplanting, the do-it-yourself landscaper must cut the roots off short, biting off many of the feeding roots so vital to the tree's survival. Trees taken from wooded areas rarely are the most desirable for the home grounds. Crowding and the competitive life of the woods robs them of the form and vigor essential to decorative plantings. Professional collectors search for stock on deserted pasture land or other sunny places where trees are not too crowded.

Nursery grown trees are usually better. Their root systems are carefully trained to a compact, fibrous ball to withstand replanting. They have been nurtured for restricted conditions and will adapt easily to environmental change.

The tree reared for "civilization" is usually better and cheaper. Especially if you risk a heavy fine for taking trees from someone else's property.

M The CITY

MANAGER'S CORNER

BY AL GLASSFORD

When the fire siren sounds, someone is in trouble. The whole community is electrified into action. The city hall switchboard is the nerve center. The operator has set the siren off.

By radio message, she sends the police cars to the scene of the fire, obtains from the fire chief, when he arrives at the scene, information as to the equipment to hold back, or he may, at times, request the operator to call outside fire departments for help. Keeping a cool head, the operator is answering incoming calls from volunteer firemen, who want to know the location of the fire so that they may go there directly. And in between these operations, she starts to call the listed firemen who may or may not already be at the fire.

The fly in the ointment is the gay blade calling in, cluttering up the works, because he wants to know where the fire is so he can amble over to enjoy the fun. He is interfering with the safety of the community and may be responsible for a life. At such time, telephone calls to the city hall should be held to a minimum. If there is a large assembly, such as at a church or school function, one member should call in to determine the location of the fire in order that the information may be relayed to the group to allay fears.

The tax bills for city operation were mailed out last weekend. The increase in your tax bill over last year is the result with which you authorized the city commission to buy a new American LaFrance engine pumper. It will cost over $18,000. We expect delivery this month.

Fire Chief McAllister has asked that we advertise our old 1925 LaFrance fire engine for sale and advise that he is returning the state owned Dodge pumper to the fire marshal. The new engine will be assigned to the city hall and the Civil Defense engine will be located at Station No. 2, near Starkweather School.

With the exception of Garden City, there isn't a town our size in the metropolitan area which doesn't have a full-time fire department. A full-time department has at least 8 to 10 men for each truck. On this basis, we would have 16 to 20 members, because of rotating days off and vacations, plus the fire inspector and a fire chief. We have four full-time men, including a fire inspector and a fire chief. Our volunteers do a remarkable job, because of their devotion and interest. They spend hours in training and in familiarizing themselves with the equipment.

Under the direction of the full-time men, the fire fighting program seems adequate. Were we to put on full-time crews, the cost would be more than double. But such extra costs would not be recovered by the tax-payer in decreases in his fire insurance rates.

One must always weigh the advantages and disadvantages in considering any change in a governmental function. As seen above, our fire service appears to be adequate and the cost moderate. If the fire service were determined not to be adequate, it may demand that we pay the extra cost in order to insure the safety of life, limb and property.

The same process was used when the city commission determined to build fire station No. 2. With so many structures on the north side of the city and the possibility of our luck running out that no train would be across the tracks when we had a fire there, we weighed the cost of an underpass as opposed to the cost of building a fire station. The relationship was $500,000 to $20,000.

As a general rule, it has been found that women constitute the majority of voters in countries which grant equal suffrage.

Mt. Marcy, in New York's Adirondack Mountains, is the highest peak in the state. It is 5,343 feet high.

Rough-It on Camping Grounds Or Enjoy Comforts of a Resort

Michigan is well supplied with state parks, recreation areas and state and national forests for anyone who has the camping urge.

Some of the areas are well developed with electricity, running water, stoves, laundries, showers and an occasional store. Free camping is permitted in the forest lands.

There are 85 small campgrounds in Michigan with tables and drinking water. Camping facilities for the use of organized groups are available in many of the parks and recreation areas. One of the closest is Island Lake Recreation area near Brighton. The camp, having facilities for as many as 110 campers, consists of four or five sleeping cabins with electricity, cots and mattresses. Campers must bring their own blankets, linens and other necessities.

If roughing-it doesn't appeal to your family, how about spending your vacation at a family resort. These resorts offer either the American plan, or the weekly housekeeping plan. The American plan is a package vacation. The living units consist of bedrooms, living room and bath and rates range from $8-$10 to $20-$30 a day including meals.

The weekly housekeeping cottages are completely equipped with a kitchen. Prices for these range from $30-$150 a week. A resort which has both plans may have such facilities as a central dining room, recreation room, soda bar, office, bicycles, ping-pong
