

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Many Plymouth friends will be pleased with the news (which we've just learned) that Harry O. Johnson of Livonia has been named Superintendent of Schools of Dearborn Township District No. 2.

Johnson was Livonia's Superintendent from 1943 through 1952, when he was unseated in a political scrap on the Board. Several Plymouth citizens were dragged into the rough-and-tumble at that time.

The new assignment covers a well-to-do residential area in the area of Ford, Joy, Outer Drive and Telegraph.

Johnson, 60, is the father of Mrs. Robert Maurer of Plymouth.

Other big news from our neighbor communities to the east is that both Livonia and Redford Township voters will be asked in September to approve 3 mills of new taxation for storm drains.

The total amount of just these two projects—and they solve only part of the problem—is 20 million dollars!

Aside from that, in Redford Township the Supervisor is trying to fire his police chief, and a stormy civil service and court fight has begun.

Both Livonia and Redford Township are desperate over garbage and waste removal. Their dumps are full, and they have no new ones in sight.

From time to time in the past, I believe I have noted my awe of the primitive, pioneer quality to the growth of new communities in the suburbs. Plymouth itself is mature, and the same conclusions don't fit—yet—but the pattern is visible among most of Plymouth's neighbors.

The shooting of the Mayor of Garden City is a shocking example of what I have been thinking about. It is difficult, here in Plymouth, to understand the passion and energy consumed elsewhere by recently-arrived individuals struggling for position, power, and profit in their new communities.

Politics is a fierce thing there. So is the battle among builders and contractors. The "average taxpayer" is a fierce little animal, fighting with bare teeth to keep the costs of government down at a time when almost everything in the city must be built all at once.

If you understand this—the struggle between ambitious individuals, the contest for fast profits, the dividing of the citizens into opposing camps—then the shooting of the Mayor of Garden City is a little easier to comprehend, though it doesn't make it less terrible.

The builder who shot the Mayor is rather well known through the area, including Plymouth. His company had a hand in erecting the new A & P store; it put the roof on the Hotel Mayflower; built Allison's Chevrolet building; and others.

Almost everyone is confounded who ever knew the assailant. He was, to all appearances, as normal as anyone we meet everyday. "The only answer is he just went berserk," we have been told by half-a-dozen acquaintances.

Here was a builder who had erected a complete building for a City, at a price of $100,000, who had paid off his labor and acquired the materials, but who had been unable to collect a penny of payment because of an election and a change in administration. The frustration apparently overtook him.

None of the foregoing is meant to defend the builder nor the Mayor, nor anyone else. Maybe the building was overpriced, we don't know. But this explains, somewhat, a shooting that sounds implausible and fantastic to those of us who live here, where politics and growth are stabilized.

My personal interest in such matters is keen because of newspapers we publish in Livonia and Redford Township. They are new, swelling communities, too, where politicians call each other liars, offer a fist-fight at the drop of a hat, and such; where there is constant jockeying for business contracts; where citizens' associations get into every scrap.

The community newspapers have a serious responsibility in such areas. They could be the watchdogs; the voice of reason; the community conscience. But the pattern, all too often finds the papers taking prejudiced partisan positions on behalf of one political faction or another, often for reasons that appear only selfish.

In Garden City, there are two community papers, one on each side of the fence. A headline in one is alleged to have been the final red flag that sent the builder into a rage—it said something about him being a "gyp."

Our own newspapers have tried to stay fair and reasonable, even when called "liars", or worse, and this Garden City incident has made us more conscious of our responsibilities.

There's dynamite in the suburbs, make no mistake.

Speaking of explosives, this might be a good time to note again that the scientists of the land still refuse to blame the hydrogen bombs for our crazy, mixed-up weather.

Only yesterday we received another statement from Michigan State University on the subject.

"Scientists with their bombs aren't even in the same ball park with Nature in producing energy," says Dr. Ralph T. Overman. A hurricane in one second has used as much energy as five hydrogen bombs, he claims. "The only weather effect from a bomb is strictly local."

Arizona Accident Leaves Resident in Serious Condition

Mrs. Ellen Arnold, 650 Auburn, is in serious condition at Williams Hospital in Williams, Ariz., after her car tumbled off a 16-foot embankment Wednesday, July 24 at 3 p.m.

She suffered a broken arm, skull fracture and cuts on the face from her sun glasses which were shattered in the accident. Driving the car was Mrs. Lois Dirth of Detroit, who received a crushed chest in very serious condition is Mrs. Arnold's 84 year-old aunt, Miss Lena Brown. She was unconscious for 24 hours following the accident due to shock.

A passing motorist, turned out to be a doctor, who gave them first aid before they were taken to the hospital.

Mrs. Arnold had picked up her aunt in Oklahoma to bring her to Plymouth. They were just out of Grand National Park when the accident occurred. The state patrol surmised that Mrs. Dirth dozed off at the wheel because of the high altitude. The car is a total wreck.

Mrs. Arnold was on a two week vacation from Burroughs. She is not expected to be released for six weeks since her arm will not be set for two to six weeks.

Her daughter, Mrs. Dwight Eckler of Plymouth took the mid-night plane to Arizona on the 24th. Mrs. Arnold's son Jim and sister Mrs. Neil Lamphear flew down the following day. They plan to stay until Mrs. Arnold is off the serious list. Her condition was considered critical immediately following the accident.

Motorist Only Bruised As His Car Rolls Over

A 78-year-old driver whose car rolled over and was heavily damaged in an accident here last Saturday night was only bruised and shaken.

He was Herman Lindenschmitt, 8270 Gray, whose car ran up a utility pole to Arizona on Starkweather avenue near Mill street at 8:10 p.m. Saturday.

Police said that the driver was unable to give an account of the accident. They said that there was physical evidence that he either was unable to see or to make the turn as he approached the Mill street-Starkweather avenue point.

Lindenschmitt refused medical aid, police said.

Michigan Bell Moves Into New Commercial Building

The new Michigan Bell Telephone office at 454 South Harvey was open for business Monday morning after a big weekend switch from the Penniman avenue office.

The two story brick building is of colonial architecture and houses the business offices serving Plymouth, Livonia and Garden City. The office handles customer services and problems.

The first floor consists of a training room for service representatives, cashier area, dinette, public lounge and public service offices. The service representatives are located on the second floor where the service records are also kept.

Robert B. Maurer, manager of the office, says of the moving, "It was a big job, but a successful one." Maurer had been manager of the Plymouth office for almost three years.

Builders Show Nets $18,000 for Center

Culminating many weeks of interest and intensified effort, the Rotary clubs of Western Wayne County turned over a check for $18,000 to the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County this week.

The check represented the proceeds from the Western Wayne County Builders Show in Livonia last May which hundreds of Plymouth people attended.

Action was the keyword when Rotary club members of Livonia invited other Rotary clubs in Western Wayne County to participate in the cooperative plan to raise funds through a community exposition. All profits went to complete the construction of the $125,000 Easter Seal Center in Inkster which will be dedicated in September.

Rotarians from Plymouth and several other clubs attended the ceremony held Monday in the un-completed center. The center is located on Hyde Park Drive, east of Middlebelt and north of Michigan Avenue. The check will cover expenses needed to complete the modern building designed especially for handicapped persons. There will also be about $6,000 left over, according to a financial report.

Working closely with the board of directors of the Crippled Children Society, Rotary clubs volunteered to spearhead the drive to construct the building. Labor, business, industry, service organizations and communities in the entire Out-County area took over the job.

The Plymouth Rotary club itself pledged $15,000 for the building and has already raised over $26,000. They also were active in the Builders Show with one member selling over 60 of the 180 display booths. Over 30,000 people attended the show.

Carl Heinzman, president of the Livonia Rotary club, turned over the $18,000 check to T. F. Kuckelman of Belleville, Easter Seal Society vice-president.

The specially designed multipurpose center will be the first and only building in Western Wayne County where a voluntary health agency, supported by its local people, will be in a position to embark upon an intensified program of recreation and socialization, which makes an important contribution in the over-all (Continued on Page 8)

Area Home Building Up

While construction of new dwelling units in Wayne county dipped almost 30 percent during the first half on this year, it was a different story in Plymouth township and city where home building took a sudden upward swing.

There were permits for 100 new dwelling units issued in Plymouth township through the first six months, according to a survey by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission. During the same period last year there were only 36 permits issued.

In the city, which has been behind the township in construction for several years, there was also an increase. The first half saw permits for 34 dwelling units issued. A year ago there were only 12.

Breaking the permits down by the month, the township had 2 in January, 1 in February, 10 in March, 34 in April, 12 in May and 41 in June.

The city had 1 in January, 2 in February, 3 in March, 9 in April, 15 in May and 4 in June.

Looking around at Plymouth's neighbors, Canton township had 15 permits issued for new housing units in the first half; Livonia, 673; Redford, 198; Northville township, 15; Northville city, 5; Novi, 40; Salem township, 6; and Superior township, 7.

The "top 10" communities with building permits were:

Detroit, 1,358; Dearborn township, 936; Nankin township, 787; Royal Oak, 760; Warren city, 698; Livonia, 673; Madison Heights, 516; Taylor township, 445; St. Clair Shores, 378; Bloomfield township, 357.

10 Days Left To Pay City Tax Bills

City property owners have another 10 days to pay their tax bill before penalties are added, City Treasurer Charles Garrett declared this week.

Saturday, August 10 is the deadline for payment of taxes on city property.

Property holders will notice that the tax rate has jumped $1 per $1,000 of valuation this time. This is due to the 1 mill tax hike approved by the voters last April 1 for the purchase of a new fire engine. The millage will be automatically dropped after this payment.

If all payments are made, the city treasury will collect $294,777.80.

Chances are, however, that there will be some who will fail to pay their tax bills on time. After August 10 there will be a two per cent penalty added. Then after September 10 another one per cent will be added per month until March 1. The tax roll is then sent to the Wayne county treasurer's office where a four per cent collection fee is added, plus a half per cent per month penalty.

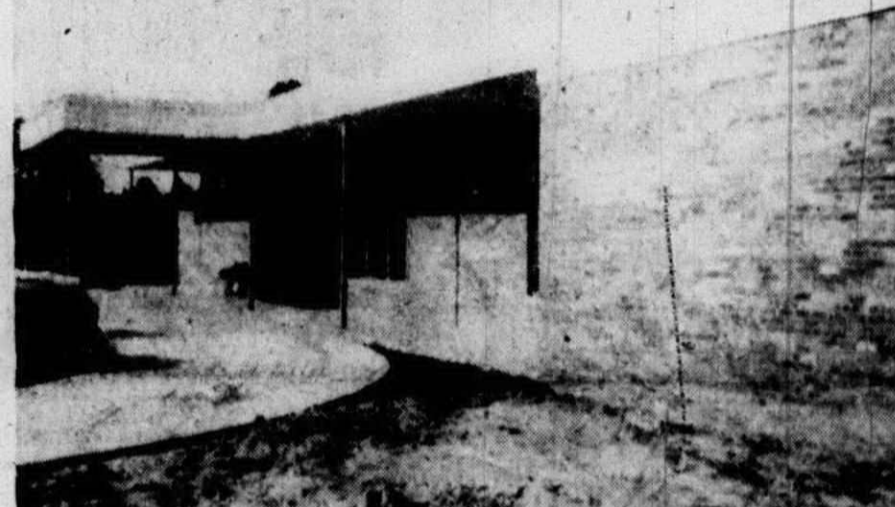

Plymouth township property owners pay their township taxes during the year-end collection period.

Still No Word Of Check Passer

Police have received no new leads concerning the whereabouts of Mrs. Shirley Hager of Plymouth who disappeared after cashing over $200 worth of worthless checks.

Another check cashed at Goodale's Delicatessen for $10 turned up last week, police said. This brings the total of bad checks up to $210 among 10 local merchants. There were also two checks passed in Livonia.

Mrs. Hager, 4175 Godfredson road, cashed the checks on Saturday, July 6 after making small purchases at the stores. The checks were written on personalized forms but her account had been closed. A state-wide search has been out for the woman who has left her husband and a baby.

THIS IS an exterior view of the $125,000 Crippled Children's Center which will be dedicated in September but will be used this week for the first time. Plymouth Rotarians raised over $26,000 for the center. The Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge near Plymouth has been the center of many of the Easter Seal Society's activities. Mrs. Herma Taylor of Plymouth is executive director.

Jr. Hi Sound System Bids Taken

Bids were opened by the school board Monday night for a public address system that will be installed in the Plymouth Community Junior High school. Four bids were received with a local firm submitting the lowest price. Since there was not a quorum for the special meeting, no action for acceptance was taken. The bids were:

Clover TV of Plymouth, $4,394.22; KLA Laboratories, $6,184.94; Michigan Music Co., $6,478; and Audio Equipment Co., $6,600.

The sound system will be local throughout the building. Meanwhile, Unit B of the junior high plan consisting of all the standard classrooms is being turned over to the board of education by the contractor this week. Furnishings will be moved in immediately.

Work is still continuing in the gymnasium where a folding door to divide the gym is being installed. Kitchen equipment is also still being installed. Superintendent Russell Isbister states that the school should be ready for occupancy in time for the opening day in September.

Local Boy Enters Soap Box Derby

Cheered by the fact that his car was the fastest among those trying practice runs last Saturday, Donald Jordan, 1055 Simpson, will be Plymouth's entry in the annual Soap Box Derby held in Detroit this Saturday.

Fourteen-year-old Donald will compete among 400 other youngsters on the new Derby Hill located at East Outer Drive and Mound, just south of Eight Mile road.

Donald took his gleaming blue car to the 865-foot Derby Hill last Saturday for some trial runs and found himself the fastest among those there during the day.

The youth and his car weigh exactly 200 pounds. The maximum is 250 pounds. According to rules, the car had to be built by Donald himself and he was not allowed to spend more than $15 in its construction. He is being sponsored by Tennyson Chevrolet of Livonia and locally by Davis & Lent Men's store.

Thousands of spectators will line the hill Saturday. There is no admission charge. Many valuable prizes will be awarded to winners of the Detroit race, but their goal is to compete in the national race at Akron on August 18.

The Detroit winner will be eligible for the Akron trip with winners from more than 150 other cities. They will compete for $15,000 in college scholarship awards. The winner will also receive a trip to Europe.

Hundreds of boys have taken their cars to the racing hill during the past two Saturdays. The trial runs were supervised by the Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation. This is the first time that trial runs have been held. Each boy was given tips on how to drive, how to stop their racers at the bottom of the hill and how to steer a straight course. Brakes are rigidly checked. Last year some of the boys had difficulty in stopping at the bottom of the hill. The grade section of the hill has been shortened by 50 feet this year to allow a longer stopping area. Donald, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Jordan, will be a freshman in school this fall.

BEST WISHES were extended to Donald Jordan by Wendell Lent as Donald prepares to enter the Detroit Soap Box Derby this Saturday. The racer was made by Donald and cost less than the maximum of $15. Time trials were held Saturday in which Donald ran ahead of others.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walkowiak

Lock-Walkowiak Rites Read at Seventh Day Adventist Service

Nancy Jean Lock became the bride of Paul Walkowiak Sunday, June 23, in an afternoon ceremony at the Seventh Day Adventist Church on Southfield in Detroit.

Flower girl Sandra Curtiss, cousin of the bride, wore a blue taffeta gown and a halo of little red flowers. She carried a basket of red carnations.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

Dear Sir:
 I have just read your editorial in the Plymouth Mail of 7-25-'57, entitled "Blue Cross-What to Do?"
 I have a small suggestion, which over-all may relieve the rate increase problems. I think there should be a definite limit for maternity stays from time of child-birth. For instance, three to four days for normal births and no complications.
 Many times I realize it's the doctors who insist on the mothers staying five to even ten days or more, but I have heard women in the hospital refuse to go home when the doctor suggests. They protest they are there for a nice rest and by cracker they'll stay a full ten days to get it.
 I have three children and I believe I was very sufficient to recuperate, and I had no help waiting for me at home.
 I suppose this is a very small idea towards a solution, but with the high birth rate of today I'm sure it would relieve shortage of hospital space and help keep rate increases down for this type of insurance.
 Hoping my suggestion isn't too far fetched for practical use.
 Mrs. Charles A. Truax
 263 N. Holbrook

Must Apply for Postal Jobs Before August 8

Thursday, August 8 will be the closing date for accepting applications for the positions of post office clerks and carriers in Plymouth, according to Postmaster George Timpona.

The Civil Service Commission announced that applications must be sent the postmark of August 8 or before. Accepting applications besides Plymouth are post offices in Birmingham, Grandville, Lapeer and Mount Pleasant.

Forest fires in the United States each year, most of them caused by carelessness, destroy enough timber to build 86,000 average private homes.

Lady Salesman Found in New Car Dealership

The new F and B Plymouth Sales and Service is now holding its grand opening at its West Ann Arbor Road location and one member of the firm's staff already has gained a distinct honor.

Joining the staff is Norma Skoglund, 1166 Carol, who has the unique distinction of being Plymouth's only lady auto salesman—or saleswoman, if you prefer.

Knowing that the "little woman" usually has the final say in which automobile is bought, she expects to bring to the attention of the staff side of the family the fine points of her product. She is a lifelong resident of Plymouth area.

The new Plymouth car dealership is across the road from the A & P Super Market which is also holding its opening this week. Operated by Burt Field and Sidney R. Berman, the partners were formerly employed by Louis Rose dealerships in Detroit.

Berman was a salesman for Rose for eight years and Field was in the service department 22 years.

Eureka, Mont., high in the Rockies, with a population of about 1,000, is said to be the Christmas tree capital of the world.

Norma Skoglund

Miss Ardith Bassett was honored July 11, at a miscellaneous shower given by her sister-in-laws, Mrs. Edward Bassett, Mrs. Earl Bassett, Mrs. Lester Bassett and Mrs. Warren Bassett. Thirty guests were present, giving the bride-to-be many lovely gifts for her future home. Ardith will become the bride of James Drury on August 17, at the First Methodist Church.

Plymouth's Business

One of the easiest ways to know this community from A to Z is to study the new Plymouth and Northville City Directory. The "capsule" records of all adult citizens, firms and institutions are contained in the city directory and in no other place, the publishers, R. L. Polk & Co., state with pardonable pride.

The 1957 guidebook, a compact volume, is now being delivered to subscribers and is ready for reference use. It lists 10,128 personal and business names in Plymouth and Northville and on the surrounding rural routes, according to the publishers' records. The count considers the combined names of man and wife as only one name, the publishers said.

Special features of the new directory include the designations of owner-occupied and rented homes, marital status and wives' names; and descriptive sketches about the two cities.

Plymouth and Northville now have 260 primary (distinct) lines of enterprise, the publishers found. These groups are catalogued in the directory's yellow pages from "Accountants" to "Wire Manufacturers." Classifications run the gamut from the very new to the very old—like "Air-Conditioning," "Frozen-Food Lockers" and "Television" and "Ice Dealers," "Phonographs" and "Taverns."

The Plymouth and Northville City Directory functions as a sort of ambassador for this community over the country, showing outsiders "who's who, what, where and how" here, the publishers pointed out. The latest issue of the book is distributed to branches of the free Directory Library system operated country-wide by the members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers. The local unit of this out-of-town directory service is maintained at the Polk national headquarters offices, 431 Howard St., Detroit.

The new Plymouth roll-call is flanked by Morey L. Abrahams and Anna Zwick. In Northville they are Henry A. Ackerman and Joseph A. Zrenchik. This community takes no "back seat" when it comes to the interesting surname department. For instance, there are such as Hoose and Gow, Shave and Cutlin, Orphan, Kinghorn, Walkup, Makepeace and Woolweaver, the new directory shows.

Wendell Lent reports that his father-in-law, Frank Sanders of 651 Auburn is ailing in St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor. Mr. Sanders has been a resident of Plymouth since 1929 and would appreciate a line from any of his friends.

Things we don't know till now: Bob Willoughby is an expert at massaging the sore and tired feet of his customers at Willoughby Brothers Shoe Store. He has brought smiles of relief to as high as 700 people a day.

"Pappy" Mazie, the home improvement expert at Robert's Supply is quite a fisherman. Some of the stories he casts about makes one reel with amazement. Robert's Supply is the only place that you can get an eight foot 2 x 4 and five dollars worth of fishing yarns for .39c.

Parkview Circle NewsCircle Association Picnic Set for Saturday

Mrs. Robert Fitzner
Plymouth 495-R

The Association picnic will be held this coming Saturday evening, August 3, at 7:30 in the park. According to the co-hostesses, Joyce Truax and Diane Stang, we're to meet at the foot of the hill behind the Cameron's and Kuhn's homes. By now you've probably all been contacted about bringing your own meat to barbeque, your rolls and a dish to pass. Coffee and table service will be furnished by the association.

I was glad to hear that so many of you missed the column last week while we were vacationing with friends at their cottage on Platte Lake. Some of these items will be slightly stale, but I hope you'll still find them interesting.

Plymouth, Mass., was "home base" for the Ted Kuhns family during the last eight days while they toured the Cape Cod and Boston area. They also visited in Bingham, N. Y., with one of Ted's Marine corps buddies.

Miss Terry Wilson of Garling drive has returned from a week's vacation with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Vincent of Hillsdale.

Lila and Doug Vincent of Parkview drive had Doris and Jim Sponseller for bridge Saturday evening and on Sunday the Vincent family spent the day at Clear Lake.

Miss Cheri Truax of Garling drive enjoyed a few days at Luzeren at the summer home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Truax.

Lee and Jack Ruland entertained Helen and Walt Lake and yours truly last Thursday evening to celebrate my birthday.

Happy birthday during the past week to Cheri Truax, Larry Wilson and Larry Brennan.

In case you've been wondering what has happened to the petunia contest, here's the latest dope on that. The schedule judging on July 13 was postponed mainly because most of the contestants were out of town. A committee meeting will be held this week to decide future plans.

You gals who have earned the title of "perfect hostess" will have to move over to make room for Grace Wigle who also earned that honor when she entertained recently at a teen-age party in the home of her parents, Doris and Ted Kuhns of Parkview Drive. Charades, round robin, ping-pong and record rated tops on her list of entertainment as did her menu of sloppy joes, relish tray and assorted sundaes. The guests were Sandra and Ireta Hromeck, Pat and Carol Etherington, Norma Gardell, Peggy Spanier, Ron and Al Upton, Fred Bell, Dick Bennets and Tom Jones.

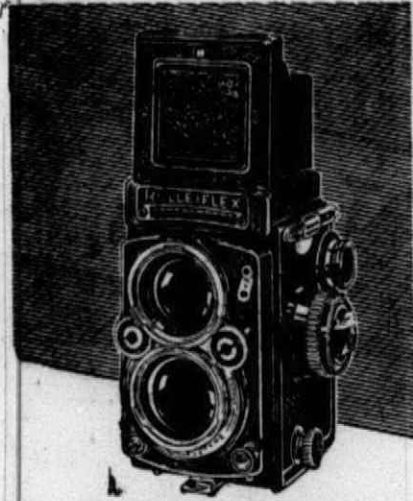

Dort and Don McGill of Garling drive rationed out two children apiece to their mothers and got off by themselves for a couple of days of relaxation at East Tawas.

Wayne Upton celebrated his birthday with a weiner roast in the park for Bonny and Valerie McMullen, Joanne McGill, Vickie Kuhn, Terry Wilson, Johnny David and Ronny Wilamowski and Jay Kendall. The junior chefs did their own roasting and the food disappeared like magic even tho the hot dogs were burned black and the marshmallows were like cinders.

I heard that Robert Cowan of Parkview drive is in University hospital at Ann Arbor recuperating from a leg operation.

I know that you'll be sorry to hear about the death of Marty Kennedy's mother, Mrs. Agnes E. Kennedy, who passed away very suddenly Monday morning, July 29, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jewell Bradfield in Redford township. The Rosary was Tuesday evening at 8:30 and services at 9:30 Wednesday morning at Our Lady of Good Counsel.

Two Top Softball Teams Play for Benefit Here Aug. 9

Sports fans who like to see top-notch softball will get an opportunity to watch one of the best teams in the country face a Plymouth team here on Friday, August 9.

The exhibition game is being sponsored by the Plymouth Rotary Club for the benefit of the Crippled Childrens Fund. Held under lights behind the high school, the main event will feature the famous Lincoln Heat Treat team from Detroit and Plymouth "A" League champs, the Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac squad.

A preliminary game will start at 7 p.m. between two all-star junior teams who will play for the championship of the Plymouth Recreation Midget League.

The second game will start at 8:30. There will be no admission charge. Instead, those attending can offer any donation they see fit during the game. All proceeds will go to the Crippled Childrens Fund of the Rotary Club.

The Beglinger team won 14 games and lost none this season. They are the Class A leaders.

A long record of successes will be brought here by the Lincoln Heat Treat team. They are in first place in the Hamtramck Recreation League, tied for first place in the Pingree Park League and in first place in the Palmer Park League with six wins and no losses.

This team was Eastern Regional champions in 1956 at Toledo and will defend this title this year at Cleveland. Last year the team participated in the World's Championship Softball tournament at Sacramento, Calif., where they won two and lost two.

Beglinger Wins League Title Knot Heads Gain in 'B' Circuit

The Knot Heads gained another half game on the idle Northville V.F.W. squad in B league competition last week. By trimming Strohs Distributors 7-0, the Knot Heads broke their week-long tie with the Independents, taking undisputed possession of second place.

Other Wednesday night contests saw Vico Products swamp Continental Can Co., 9-4, and Garden City Hospital crush Chevie, 19-12. Twenty-eight base hits were recorded in that battle. Monday night's activity was washed out.

The A league terminated its season's play Tuesday, July 23, with Beglinger winning its 14th consecutive game. The winners shut out Chevie, 5-0 on one hit, a seventh inning single by Harrington. The other contest provided Box Bar with a 9-2 triumph over Lincoln Division.

This week's action concluded the A league schedule of the year, excluding the play-offs which are now in progress. Two more weeks of league play remain. There will be no play-offs.

Standings as of July 28:

Class A (final)
Beglinger	14 0
Chevie Spring & Bumper	8 6
Box Bar	4 9
Lincoln Division	0 13
Class B

Torpedoes Wear Midget Crown

The Torpedoes, behind the one-hit pitching of Koers, whipped the White Sox Friday night to become league champs of the 1957 Midget League. Though the one hit was a two-run homer by Williams, the Torpedoe batters overcame it, pushing across an insurance run in their half of the third inning to bring the victory home.

In other contests, a real squeaker was witnessed in the Bluebird-Cardinal battle with the late-rallying Bluebirds winning, 9-8. The Cardinals just couldn't quite catch their opponents in the last inning.

Taking advantage of ten walks, the Yankees won their third game of the year, crushing the Wildcats, 12 to 6.

Standings as of July 28: (final for the regular season)

Torpedoes	4 1
White Sox	3 2
Yankees	3 2
Cardinals	2 3
Wildcats	2 3
Bluebirds	1 4

Divisional play-offs begin tomorrow night.

Livonia Center 2 Sews Up 'F' League Play

Though things are all but sewed up in the F League (14 and under), the fight is still on in E League play (16 and under), as the leading Northville squad is still within reach. Rosedale and Davis and Lent, who hold second and third places respectively, are trying desperately to close in before the fast shrinking schedule is completed.

Daisy Takes Lead Away from Elks

In perhaps the most tense and hard fought battle of the season, Daisy dropped a bombshell onto the laps of the Plymouth Elks last Tuesday evening. Behind Ken Knipschild's six-hitter, the Daisy Nine stopped the rampaging Elks, 4-0, and took the lead in the nip and tuck 18 and under league race.

In the second inning, with a runner on second and two outs, Dave Walasky slammed a long double to left center that provided the winning margin for the once-defeated Daisy crew. That slim 1-0 score hovered over both teams until the seventh when Daisy erupted with three runs on four base hits to break the contest open.

Carrier led the Daisy attack with two singles in four trips, while Rusnick contributed a triple and single to the Elks' cause. Hedger absorbed the pitching loss, going all the way.

That same day Willow Run forfeited their game to Dearborn. Last Thursday Willow Run once again was short of players and forfeited to Daisy. Meanwhile, the Elks knocked off Dearborn, 5-3, with Eric Goodwell hurling for the winners. Elks catcher Gerry Fernandez homered with none on.

Tonight the Elks again clash with Daisy in the last contest before the play-off. A thriller is expected.

Awards Readied for Jr. Golfers

Plans for the Junior Golf Association tournament on August 12-13 were made Monday evening as 68 boys and girls go into their final weeks of organized play at Hilltop Golf Course.

Awards will be given for the match-medal play during the past weeks as well as for the tournament itself. Match-medal winners will be selected from those who have played five, four and three matches. (Those who have played less will have qualified for the tournament.)

Gold pins will be given to those with the highest number of points in each group and silver pins to second place winners. Any ties will be broken by their first tournament card.

Cups will be given to a boy or girl in each flight for the low net and low gross during their eight weeks of league play. The most improved boy and girl golfer will also win an award.

Tournament flight winners will receive gold trophies (Little Oscars). Since about 55 boys and girls of the 68 entries will have qualified for the tournament, there will be boy championships, first through fourth flights, a girls championship flight, as well as a 4-hole division for the younger members. Silver Oscars will go to the boy and girl low medalist of the day and a half run-off. All golfers will compete Monday morning, with winners competing Monday afternoon and finalists, on Tuesday morning.

Presentation of awards will take place at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday so that parents may attend. All awards will be kept under $3 to comply with Michigan Recreation Association rulings for amateurs. No players may accept more than one award. Instead, the second award will be a certificate. The award will go to the next qualifier.

Monday's medal play results were as follows:

Del McAllister 2 up on Dave Newell; John Augustine 1 up on Bob Rew (tied net score); Steve Hayskar 2 up on Beau Toce; Jim Stimpson 1 up on Bill Rew; Danny Ide 3 up on Win Schrader; Don Stockton defaulted to Harry Halvorson; Bill Schwartz 2 up on John Olendorf.

Tom Fletcher 5 up on Gary Ross; Jim Haynes split with Bruce Hudson, Dave Taylor 4 up on Doug Knapp; Jim Jensen 3 up

THE RIDER BY BOB FRANKLIN

Don Twsich, Dick Borso, Dave Swain, Skip Ottwell, Jim Izett and Tim Graves won byes.

Among the girls, Sheila Lorenz is 9 up on Barb Bennett, Karen Rank, Jonie Izett and Joan Reas won byes, Sue Reas is 4 up on Mary Bauer.

Among non-qualifiers, Karl Stofko shot 61, Marie Bolen, 78.

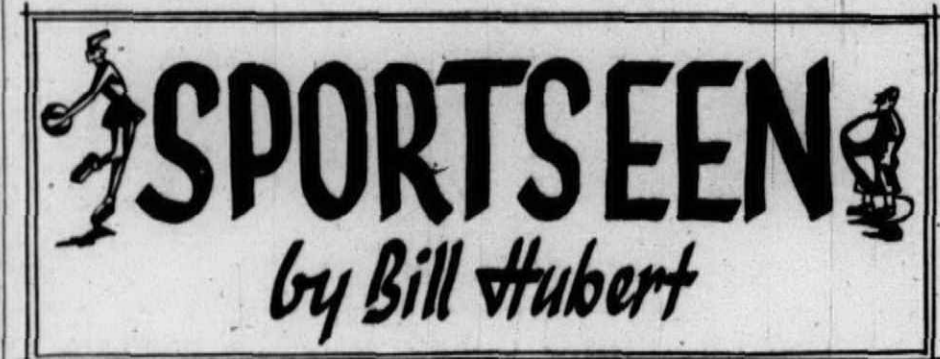

The State Western Horse Show, held in Allegan Mich., attracted some of the Plymouth area's top horses and riders. The show boasted 500 entries from Michigan, Ohio, Kansas, Illinois and many other states. This is one of the largest western shows held in our state and it is fast becoming one of the largest in the U.S.

The Arabian horse has unfortunately become known to many horsemen as a horse that looks fine but can't do a thing in the way of working. Buster Lowther, a well known local trainer, is proving this to be very untrue. Buster rode to first place in the Working Stock Horse Class and to second in the Pleasure Class on the fine Arab owned by Saint Clair Hamlin. Buster's daughter Judy won her Horsemanship Class on her horse, Pogo Tony.

Cecil Finlan of Plymouth, sent his Quarter Horse Stallion to the show with Buster, and I'm sure he is very happy he did. The little horse went right to work and left the ring with a first place in the AQHA Working Cow Horse Class.

Mickey Finn, a Morgan stallion, won his class at the State Show. When I say, my class, I mean the Morgan Pleasure Class. I have seen this horse win the event so much that I have begun to refer to it as his class. Mickey is owned by the Mario Farms and is usually shown by the very capable rider Barb Guegeon. It is very seldom that one finds a stallion so well mannered that he can be safely shown by a woman, my girl, that is off to both Mickey and Barb.

The all Arabian Show of the Midwest is going to be held in Michigan on September 14. The show is to be held on the State Fairgrounds. It should be a good one.

There is a tremendous interest and following of PHS athletics by Plymouth citizens and fans. But probably each fan has a particular favorite or favorites among the eight major sports offered at Plymouth High; one or two that he will attend and support far more avidly than the remaining programs, but which are of just as great an interest to other individuals.

For instance: a person who favors football over cross country (fall sports), and swimming over basketball (winter sports) will naturally follow the football and swimming teams with a much more rabid enthusiasm than he will the other two.

However, were there an added inducement created which would cultivate and strengthen his interest in all four sports simultaneously, then a great deal would be accomplished. The fan could still retain football and swimming as his favorites, but would at least be introduced to and possibly taught to enjoy the other two sports as well. Perhaps this could be accomplished through an Athlete of the Week award.

Say that Mr. A attends a football game where Johnny Jones scores two touchdowns and plays a great game. But Jimmy Green is Athlete of the Week for his cross country performance. Mr. A will no doubt wonder what Jimmy Green did so spectacularly to snatch the award from "his boy." He might just wonder so much that he'll stroll down to the next cross country meet and see this Jimmy Green.

Then again, say that Willis Glenn sets a pool record during the swimming season—Mr. A was present—but loses the award to Jack Prince who scored 26 points in the basketball game that week. In the same manner, Mr. A will assume that Jack Prince must be good to win the award despite Willis' accomplishment and will very likely want to see Prince in action. This same form of "cross-interest" could happen a thousand times during the year. And more the next year.

The award itself need not consist of any more than the recognition. Remember, it is to create more interest among fans and possibly a bit more competitive spirit between the players. But it is not to be a big "much craved" article that would stimulate grandstanding or any "one-man" type of play.

It could be judged and the player chosen by the coaches, assistant coaches, and the athletic director. In deciding between two boys from different sports, these points might be considered: the accomplishment, the caliber of the opponents, the importance of the accomplishment or contest involved, the situation (if any), the result of the accomplishment, etc.

The winner could be chosen after the last athletic event of each week, with the recipient's name and a few facts concerning the particular incident printed in the Plymouth Mail the following Thursday.

This column's all for it. How about you?

The kitchen is unique in plan whereby there will be workshop classes where persons with physical limitations will be assisted in methods of simplified homemaking practices as well as other flexible opportunities. Dedication of the center will take place Sunday, September 8. Much of the Easter Seal Society's activity has been taking place in past years at the Kiwanis Girl Scout lodge in Plymouth township.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schultz and daughters Ileen, Amy, Sue and Lou of Lilley road had dinner at Muttonville Sunday in honor of their 12th wedding anniversary. They spent the afternoon at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mielke in St. Claire. Also guests were the Mielke's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Mielke and daughter Diane of St. Claire Shores.

Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bakewell of Adrian attended the funeral of the former's brother, Melvin Barnes, in Springfield, Ontario, Friday, July 26.

Mrs. Robert Lorenz and children who have spent the past two months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mead in San Diego, California, will arrive in Chicago Sunday where Mr. Lorenz will meet them and then return home.

The 40th Bassett Reunion was held at Riverside Park on July 14, with about 100 present. A pot-luck dinner was served at 1 o'clock. Relatives were present from LaPorte, Indiana, Jackson, Wayne, Novi, Livonia, Garden City, and Plymouth. Games and races provided the afternoon entertainment, in which prizes were given. A prize was given to the youngest baby, who was Gerald Warren Dobbs, 2 months old. A short business meeting was held and supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bennett of Maxwell street announce the birth of a 6 pound, 8 ounce daughter, Ann Marie on July 20 at Garden City hospital. Mrs. Bennett is the former Eileen LaByatt of Livonia.

Summer Fiesta Given by Classes At Bird School

The Bird School became Escuela Pajaro Thursday evening, July 25, when the children in Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly's Spanish classes presented their summer fiesta. In the gym was a Mexican fruit market (puesto) where little buyers and sellers in serapes and sombreros carried on the customary haggling over prices. All dialogue was spontaneous and spoken in Spanish.

Then followed games and Spanish folk songs including the breaking of the Pinata, a bag of prizes, for the finale. Mrs. Frances Chilson accompanied the children at the piano.

After this part of the program the guests were invited into the classroom where a puppet show, "Juan and the Senor", was put on by the older students. A representative display of articles from Spanish speaking countries was exhibited and Mexican wedding cakes served.

The French classes under Mrs. Elizabeth Sheldon presented their program two weeks earlier because of vacation schedules. Parents and friends were invited in the morning to observe the young students carry on conversation, play games and sing French folk songs.

These children are participating in the foreign language program presented to them by the newer oral-aural method used in many elementary schools throughout the United States to lay the foundation for further study in high school.

Grange Cleanings

July 20th was the date of the friendly, informal shower party given by the Grange at the hall for Molly Groth and her husband-to-be. There was a good crowd considering the terrific heat. Everyone enjoyed the evening and the young couple expressed their thanks for the gifts which they received from the Grange members along with best wishes for a happy future together in their own home in Kalamazoo.

There will be no Grange meeting tonight at the hall nor any picnic in the park. The Grange is invited as you all know up to Willoughby Wisely's on Saturday evening August 3 for a sweet corn roast. The roast will begin as near to 6:30 p.m. as possible. It will be advisable to take your card table and folding chairs along, your own dishes and beverage. Go west on Territorial road to Mast road; turn right and go to the end of Mast road to Strawberry Lake road; turn right; the Wisely house is on the left, not too far down the road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fillmore, their daughter-in-law Nellie Fillmore and her boys are leaving Saturday for a short vacation trip to Iowa where they will visit Mrs. Nellie Fillmore's mother for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritten and the boys have been spending a couple of weeks with relatives at Bretheren and other places north.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn had as their overnight guests last week, their niece and her husband and their three little girls from Waterbury, Conn.

If any of the members know any items of interest to the rest of the Grangers please call 1852-R.

We regret to report that Chloe Powell is still in the hospital and much of the time she seems to be in a coma.

The birthday of Mrs. Ora Glass was celebrated Wednesday of last week with a 6 o'clock dinner in the home of Mrs. Rose Harry on Southworth. Guests were members of the "Once-in-a-While" club. Games were played during the evening and cake, ice cream and coffee were served afterward.

MRS. ELIZABETH DONNELLY (under the big sombrero) is in charge of language instruction in Plymouth's summer school program. She needed help with the hat, and it was offered by Senor Daniel Rowe and Senorita Nanette Muzzy.

THE BEGINNING CLASS made this complete, highly detailed model of a real Spanish hacienda, complete with balcony. Kathy Berridge is a big girl, compared to the model.

Savory Odor Tells of Home-made Bread Baking

The tantalizing odor of home-made bread is familiar in the Thomas Kelly home at 1103 Penniman and through the neighborhood too. It was a neighbor who told Mrs. Kelly if she was going to share a favorite recipe with the Plymouth Mail readers, it should be her well-known bread recipe. Mrs. Kelly usually makes eight loaves at a time and freezes them for future use. Here is the recipe, cut down to two loaves.

Home-made Bread
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon lard
1 tablespoon butter
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup water
2 cups sifted bread flour (all-purpose flour)
3 cups flour

Heat the evaporated milk and 1 1/2 cups water and pour over the lard, butter, sugar and salt mixture. While this mixture is cooling, soften the dry yeast in 1/4 cup of warm water. When the first mixture is cooled, add the dissolved yeast. Add the bread flour and mix thoroughly. Beat until bubbly and add 3 cups flour. Mix as thoroughly as stiffness of dough will allow.

Sift 1 cup of flour onto a board or kneading cloth. Pour the dough mixture onto the sifted flour and knead until the flour is gone. Place in a greased pan, three times the size of the dough. Cover the pan with a damp cloth or a greased lid and place in a warm area away from drafts for 1 hour. When the time is up, punch the dough down to as near the original bulk as possible. Let it rise again until double in bulk. This will take about 1 hour.

Pour out onto a lightly floured board and divide in half by squeezing between the thumb and forefinger. Do not cut with a loaves rise for 1 hour. Place in a 350 degree oven and bake for 45 minutes. Remove from pans and put into 2 greased pans. Let the

by Nancy Rigney

It's a complicated and amusing business traveling around in a world of buying and selling goods when one is 22 years old, but is invariably thought to be 16 or 18 at the oldest.

My purpose isn't to expose the mistaken individuals, and if I mention a name or two, its only to add authenticity to my tale of woe.

To begin with this situation has been a burr under the saddle for years, although if my luck holds out, one day it will be a most welcome compliment. I said it was amusing, but not so amusing, as I remember, when I was seven years-old and a friendly grown-up asked when I would be starting kindergarten. And that gets a second-grader where it hurts. This was a precedent of things to come.

About two years ago a salesman in a local shoe store asked if I was buying my first pair of heels. On another such occasion a salesman thought a pair of strap shoes too daring for one so young. My mother quickly told him that I was wearing them to the J-Hop at MSU, just to set things straight. But he probably wondered if I had a big brother who decided to take me to the big doings up at college.

Shoe stores seem to be the typical setting for such experiences. With a friend of mine, also 5 foot 2 with a 4 1/2 shoe size, I encountered a jovial shoe salesman as we were buying matching shoes for a wedding. "You two are mighty young to be bridesmaids aren't you," was his statement.

In Plymouth queries about my age come from anywhere where age is important. The best one came from Hank Johnson, when he asked if I had graduated from high school. Later he raised the age when by saying, "your father will have to sign for your car since you're not 21". That's all right Mr. Johnson, 10 years from now I'll come back and buy another car and see if you'll say it again.

I've learned three things: carry credentials, never try to guess a person's age and bermuda shorts and sneakers aren't the best dress for looking one's age.

There is a wonderful example of neighborhood cooperatives on Ann street. A couple with eight children hadn't taken a vacation without the kids for 18 years. Three families in the neighborhood divided up the offspring and told the couple to take a vacation. Ranging from 1 1/2 to 15 years old, the children were parceled out in twos to the neighbors, the remaining one going to the grandparents. The younger children brought unfamiliar sights such as a line of diapers flapping in the breeze, to the families they stayed with. Meanwhile the parents enjoyed a trip to Canada.

Speaking of vacations, the summer vacation has been defined as the time when "those who live in the mountains head for the seashore and the shore dwellers go to the mountains. The city people flock to the country, where to the mountains. The city people flock to the country, where they find their country friends have just left to visit them in the city."

A man works to keep a roof over his family's head, and then they want to go camping. It's a good idea, though. There's nothing like a night beneath the pines, the smoke of a campfire and an invigorating wash in a cold stream. It makes one appreciate the confines of a house (somewhat immune to the insect world), a soft bed, electricity and a modern bathroom.

New Books at the Wayne County Library

"The Gilded Torch" by Iola Fuller—This is a story of the role of the French in the exploration of North America, much over-looked by writers. In particular, it is the story of La Salle's expedition to explore the Mississippi.

"The Strangled Queen" by Maurice Druon—The second in a series called the Accursed Kings. The book takes up where the first book, "The Iron King," leaves off, in 1314 A. D. when Louis X succeeds his father Philip, known as the Iron King.

"The Day Christ Died" by Jim Bishop—A story written with reverence and belief, showing understanding of men in political life and the Roman and Jewish worlds of the time.

"Fire, Burn!" by John Dickson Carr—A fascinating murder mystery set in London, 1829, featuring the efforts of Detective Superintendent John Chevoit.

"Three Faces of Love" by Faith Baldwin—An inspiring story of marriage with deep spiritual roots.

"Crown of Glory—The Life of Pope Pius XII" by Alden Hatch and Seamus Walsh—The life of Eugenio Pacelli, universally respected Pope who led the church through a turbulent period of years, Fascism, World War II, the postwar menace of Communism, Korean War, satellite unrest and the Suez crisis.

"The Wife of the Red-haired Man" by Bill S. Ballinger—A suspenseful novel about a man's disappearance during the war and his return.

Governor Van Peurse?

MICHIGAN WILL SPEND $63,362,007 for mental health programs during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The field always has been a battleground of controversy between Gov. Williams, who claims needs are not being met, and Republicans, who claim they are.

Republicans this year said the spending program for mental health will be $3,575,114 more than last year and places Michigan in a leading position in the country in mental health care.

Democrats retorted that the mental health department would have to stop taking new patients at Northville State Mental hospital and make other cutbacks if more money were not provided.

In their report, Republicans said the hospital received more than it did last year; that Hawthorn Center, at the hospital, will get $900,000, an increase of $260,000. After conferences, the plan to stop taking new patients at Northville was dropped, without any more money forthcoming.

The legislature provided $1,578,000 for the Lafayette Center in Detroit, training location for psychiatrists. This is an increase of $278,000.

To further their program of "brains instead of bricks," legislators turned over $225,000 to the neuro-psychiatric institute at Ann Arbor for research into the causes and treatment of mental disorders.

In addition, the mental health department received $30,000 for research and was authorized to set up an $85,000 training program with the help of Federal funds.

Republicans said they had added 579 new employes to the mental health system in two years.

A start was made on construction of a new hospital for mentally retarded children at Plymouth with an appropriation of $1,250,000. Total expansion will net more than 1,000 new beds.

"The Republican legislative program was designed to treat and cure the mentally ill so they can return as quickly as possible to society—rather than being confined to our state institutions for lengthy periods of time," said House Speaker George M. Van Peurse (R-Zeeland).

"We have a mental health program we can be proud of."

Van Peurse, a legislative veteran who has risen to its top position of leadership, has been designated as the party's spokesman for the House. Some party spokesmen indicate strongly that the young lawyer from Zeeland is a fast-rising star in partisan politics and could be tapped for higher state office—maybe, for governor.

It was Van Peurse's interim committee on labor which last summer exploded the battle over whether Gov. Williams' tax ideas were forcing business and industry out of Michigan.

The theory then, as now, was that business and industry are paying their limit in state taxes. Williams' proposed six per cent corporation profits tax would tip the scales, they said.

The issue boiled along through the summer and fall, until industrial leaders, including Harlow Curtice, president of General Motors, publicly stated his position.

He said that his corporation is considering expansion in other states rather than in Michigan partly because of the tax structure. Political experts saw the resulting uproar as the most damaging attack on Williams since he took office in 1949.

Whether or not it was, leaders of both parties are keeping in mind that Van Peurse was one of the early leaders in the fight.

What has happened to Van Peurse since has done nothing to dim his rising political star.

MICHIGAN'S new Democratic highway commissioner, John C. Mackie, has found himself bound by some of the commitments made by his predecessor, Charles M. Ziegler.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh ruled the day after Mackie took office July 1 that bond issue money raised for limited-access expressways cannot be diverted to any other purpose.

This was a legal blow to Mackie, whose platform was to start afresh with the new funds available in Michigan.

The net effect will force the new commissioner to finish many of the jobs already started by Ziegler—some of the projects under heavy criticism from Democrats.

Successful Investing About Mutual Plans

by ROGER SPEAR

Q. A Florida reader asks, "With $10,000 to invest, which would you recommend, Mutual Funds or stocks purchased through my broker?"

A. I can't give you a direct answer to this question without fuller knowledge of your financial position, investment aims, broker-client relationship, etc. It might, however, be helpful to discuss briefly the pros and cons of Mutual Funds as an investment medium. Mutual Funds are open-end investment companies which are continuously selling new shares, either directly or through investment dealers. They are at all times willing to repurchase shares at current asset value. To the average-type investor Funds offer professional management, often of a high caliber, benefits of widespread diversification, and continuous supervision.

Mutual Funds are tailored to meet many different requirements. So-called "balanced-funds" provide a theoretically ideal investment program, dividing their assets between bonds, preferred and common stocks in a varying ratio which depends upon market conditions. There are common stock funds investing solely in equities with the percentage of the fund invested depending upon management's judgment as to the course of stock prices. In addition, there are income funds, stressing high yield and offering very little in the way of appreciation.

Most Mutual Funds deliver what they promise. On the whole, they probably do a better job for the average untrained investor than he can do himself, unless he has competent investment advice. The Funds selling through dealers charge a sales fee amounting to an average of 8% and a management fee that averages about one-half of 1 per cent of the total investment. Critics of the Funds point out that the charges are more than commensurate with the service provided. Perhaps the most serious criticism leveled at the Funds is the rather high-pressure method of salesmanship often employed which makes it difficult for the ordinary investor to choose the fund which is most suitable to his own requirements.

There are now about 230 American and Canadian Mutual Funds from which to choose. We regard most of these as competently managed within the framework of their stated objectives. Among common stock funds there are many I like, including Mass. Investors Growth Stock Fund, Eaton & Howard Stock Fund, Growth Industry Shares, Television - Electronics Fund, and Fidelity Fund. Among my favored balanced funds are DeVegh Investing, Scudder, Stevens & Clark Fund, and Shareholders Trust of Boston.

Q. Two of my stocks were split this year and both show sizable gains on last year's purchase price. These were American Cyanamid and Outboard Marine. Can you suggest any others I might buy in anticipation of a split?

A. I wouldn't buy any stock solely on its status as a stock-split candidate unless I had information as to the company's plans. I would buy only on the basis of earnings, dividends and growth prospects. The possibility that the shares may be split should be regarded simply as adding speculative attraction to an otherwise sound situation. Both of the holdings you mention are among my favored growth stocks on the Big Board.

A traveling salesman was Harry G. Blowe,
Who could sell ice cubes to an eskimo,
But he fell for a line slicker than his,

The car had style—years out of date,
The features were new—back in '48!
Harry's still smiling, the tears hardly show,
But how he wishes he could get back his dough!

Moral: Don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features!

Like a lot of people, Harry was looking for a "good buy" in a new car. But no car is a bargain if it's outmoded before you drive it a mile. For the same money, Harry could have stepped up to a dashing Swept-Wing Dodge—so new it actually obsoletes other cars in its field. "Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

ANN ARBOR—"Elderly people rattle around in houses far too large for their present needs, as they continue to occupy homes bought to meet the requirements of a family with several children, all of whom have now married and set up homes of their own," E. Everett Ashley III said recently at The University of Michigan. Ashley is director of the Statistical Reports and Development Branch of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, Washington, D. C.

"Oldsters struggle to operate and maintain large houses which, as the years pass by, become increasingly burdensome for them to handle," he said. As a result, Ashley pointed out, the homes of elderly folks lack proper house and yard maintenance and become the all too familiar ramshackle wreck of a once fine house.

Maybe there is no need for the elderly couple to leave their homestead, Ashley suggested, as the present house can be altered to serve its owners adequately for many years by eliminating hazards, adapting it to a smaller family or changing it over to a two- or three-family dwelling.

When shopping around for a new house, especially suited for oldsters, there are a number of features to consider Ashley listed the following:

Complete facilities on one floor; no dangerous steps, thresholds and tripping hazards; non-slip surfaces on floors; handrails near all steps and inclines; handgrips capable of supporting a heavy person near all bathtubs and toilets; good lighting; and central, automatic heat.

Not on the "must" list, but high priority items, are availability of at least one bedroom rather than combined living-sleeping quarters; easily operated windows; doors wide enough to accommodate wheelchairs; bells in bathrooms and bedrooms that will sound an alarm in a neighbor's or relative's home; good penetration of sunlight into living room.

The dream house for retired homeowners must also be ideally located, Ashley asserts, near public transportation, shopping facilities, friends and recreation and away from blighted neighborhoods and main traffic arteries.

"In those cases where it is expedient to alter an existing house, the United States Government stands ready, through its Federal Housing Administration, to facilitate the financing of such work," Ashley explained. "Various lending institutions, largely banks and savings and loan associations, offer proper improvement loans which are insured by the FHA. Such loans may be obtained in amounts up to $3,500, repayable over periods of as long as 61 months."

The tourist industry in Texas is worth about $412 million each year. The figure represents an increase of about $136 million since the 1950 estimates.

too precious to be left alone a moment

So often when a child gets hurt, his mother says afterward, "But I only left him for a moment." For an active child, eager with curiosity, a moment is often all it takes.

That's why it's so wise to have additional telephones wherever you need them in the house. If you're dressing your baby in the bedroom or preparing his meal in the kitchen, you don't have to leave him when the phone rings. The phone's right there. And with your eye on the little adventurer, you can relax.

Additional telephones cost less than four cents a day. This is surely a small price for the safety, protection and convenience they'll bring you every day.

TIPS FOR TEENS

BY ELINOR WILLIAMS

Some boys want to avoid "going steady," but here's a high school boy who is impatient to begin it.

J.—"Dear Elinor: I am 16 and I like a girl in school. We have been dating each other for quite a while. I have never 'gone steady' before, but both of us would like to. The problem is her father. He doesn't want her to 'go steady' or be 'serious' yet. He wouldn't let her go out with me if he thought we were getting too serious. Can you help us?"

Ans.—Perhaps it will help if she explains to her father that "going steady," in this case, is not like being engaged... simply a date-arrangement that can be changed at any time you wish.

It will also help if you have double-dates frequently. It looks less "serious" that way. If her father still objects, you two can wait awhile for a "going steady" deal, if you really like each other as much as you now believe. Meanwhile, you prefer to date each other, so you'll fill each other's date-time and will gradually become steady date-partners without making a thing of it... without any fanfare and probably without any objections, because her father will gradually get used to the idea... especially if neither of you talks of "being serious."

After all, if you date each other regularly, it needn't matter too much at present whether you CALL it "going steady" or not. Time will help solve your problem; it's on your side!

(For help with personal problems, write to Elinor Williams at this paper. As many letters as possible will be printed in this column.)

Two Woods Give Group Great Charm

By the interplay of two lovely hardwoods—nut brown walnut and spice-toned cherry—a design of great simplicity achieves an air of timeless elegance in this six-drawer dresser.

All its companion pieces in a new, moderately-priced bedroom group have the same unadorned lines, but there is nothing severe in this design, primarily because fine cabinet woods of themselves offer great visual warmth. This is especially true when their grain patterns are the main decorative theme. Here, for example, the walnut surfaces reveal shell-like figures—the gentle, familiar wood pattern of which no one ever tires.

The lighter-colored cherry which “frames” each drawer is a luxurious note, suggestive of costlier decorator furniture.

Walnut “Warms” Glass

Polished brass pulls are thin, straight-lined—just a dash of accent on each drawer—to avoid distracting the eye from the wood. Note, too, how the gently rounded, plain walnut frame softens the “coldness” of the large mirror, and how its “off-balance” placement avoids monotony.

In this group the manufacturer has introduced a new size—42 inches—in chest pieces. It is a three-drawer version of the above dresser (which is 54 inches wide.) There is also a “triple dresser” in which three much narrower center drawers are not banded with the cherry wood. Instead their walnut fronts form a single, eye-pleasing brown tier between cherry-bordered rectangles on either side.

In a low-scaled chest-on-chest, the upper deck has door fronts which also vary the design theme by being of walnut alone. Beds in this group offer a choice of headboard or bookcase styles, both with the appealing cherry-banded panels. Capacious two-drawer night tables follow the design of the dresser we’ve illustrated.

Benefits of “Bonded Woods”

For those interested in construction details, the dresser’s frame, which includes the slightly “shaped” protruding posts in view, is made of solid walnut. But all the flat surfaces—sides, drawer-fronts, top—take advantage of the great modern process of “bonding” woods which has superseded what used to be called “veneering”. Thanks to this development, these flat expanses are immune to warping, cracking or splitting, and have extraordinary durability regardless of weather or climate.

Use Fresh, Frozen, Canned Strawberries for Desserts

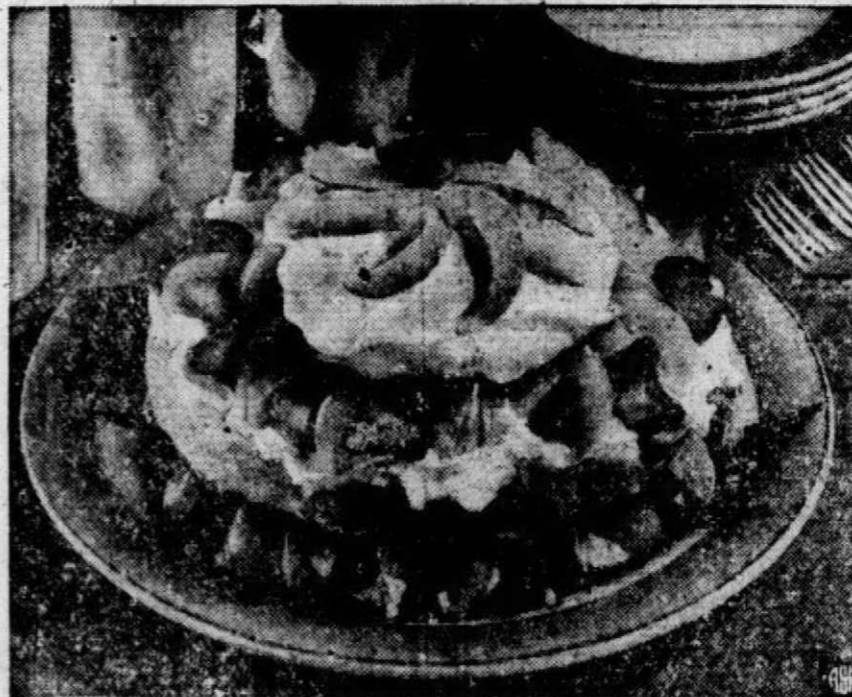

Although the strawberry season is almost over, delightful desserts can be prepared with the greatest of ease using fresh, frozen or canned strawberries.

Here’s a spectacular summer dessert, top heavy with the goodness of cake, fruit and ice cream. All it takes is an angel food cake from your grocer’s ready-to-eat cake department, a quart of vanilla ice cream and either canned or fresh strawberries and peaches.

Peach Ice Cream Strawberry Shortcake

1 round angel food cake
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 cup drained sliced sweetened strawberries
2 cups drained sliced sweetened peaches.

Cut angel food cake crosswise into 2 even layers. Spread top of each with slightly softened ice cream, filling the center hole of the bottom cake layer. Place in freezer to harden ice cream. Just before serving, place bottom layer on serving plate and cover with ½ of the peaches and berries. Top with second layer of angel food. Cover with remaining fruit, filling the hole of top cake with fruit. Garnish with whipped cream or softened ice cream. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Peach Ice Cream Strawberry Shortcake makes good use of fresh fruit, which is both healthful and appetizing for any summer table. This angle food cake creation will delight your family and friends.

Plastic Bags Assist the Homemaker

Those plastic bags that laundrymen use to package shirts and other wearing apparel have a multitude of uses, according to American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry.

The Institute reports that more and more laundrymen are packaging laundered items in the transparent, waterproof polyethylene bags. And, more and more homemakers are wondering how they got along before the material came into use.

While traveling, the bags can tote shoes, hats, toilet articles or soiled clothing. They can hold wet bathing suits or can serve as baby’s diaper bag.

In the home, the bags can be used not only for storing out-of-season clothing, blankets and linens, but also as containers for tools, paint brushes or small parts, dust cloths or cleaning utensils. Many a housewife uses the bags to line shelves, drawers, hampers and canisters.

The plastic comes in handy in the kitchen, too. Salad greens, vegetables and other foods can be stored in the bags. Because the plastic material can be heat-sealed together, the homemaker can use the polyethylene in various sizes and shapes. Several can be combined to form tablecloth protectors, electric mixer covers or aprons. In order to join them, the two pieces of polyethylene that are to be sealed should be placed between two strips of cellophane. Run the iron across at the top and bottom. When the polyethylene has cooled, the cellophane will strip off easily and may be re-used. The plastic material can also be sewn on a sewing machine.

Dad will find that the bags can hold fishing equipment, a rifle barrel, tire chains or automotive parts, spotlights and mirrors, especially since the polyethylene will help keep the chrome from corroding. He can also use the material as a fender cover while working on the automobile motor or as a drop cloth while painting.

Take the bags on a picnic in the form of food wrappers, tablecloths for picnic spreads or as an ice bag for packing soft drinks.

In the form of a cover, the material will protect baby’s mattress, automobile upholstery, outdoor furniture or an outdoor motor.

Homemakers have also used the polyethylene material for book jackets, phonograph record protectors and covers for delicate plants and shrubbery. If the plastic is heat-sealed to form separate compartments, silverware stored in the bags will not become scratched or tarnished.

Want to give the illusion of a low ceiling in your old high-walled room? You can lower it by painting the ceiling either a dark color or the color of the carpet. Or horizontally striped draperies or wallpaper will do the same trick.

Here’s a new way of combining strawberries, bananas and cream—easy-to-make Banana Fans. Strawberries can be fresh, frozen, or strawberry preserves. The recipe calls for whipped cream, but you can use softened ice cream if you choose.

The base that holds all these good flavors together, gives them shape and interesting texture is a packaged banana flip from your grocer’s ready-to-eat cake department. One banana flip makes two Banana Fans. Allow one Fan for each serving.

Banana Fans With Strawberry Topping

3 banana flips
3 bananas, cut into ¼ inch diagonal slices
½ cup whipping cream defrosted frozen strawberries, fresh strawberries or preserves.

Cut banana flips in half crosswise. Open carefully, using knife. Lay banana slice in opening, top with whipped cream, and close. Make six. Place a bowl of strawberries or preserves in the center of a serving plate and arrange the Banana Fans around it. Serves six.

Enjoy strawberries the year around by preserving fresh strawberries while in season. This recipe for a sweet spread can be enjoyed every month of the year. It makes eleven medium glasses of sparkling jewel-toned jelly.

Strawberry Jelly

¾ cup juice (about 2½ quarts) ripe strawberries
¼ cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
7½ cups (3½ lbs.) sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin.

To prepare the juice, crush thoroughly about 2½ quarts fully ripe strawberries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure ¾ cups juice into a very large saucepan. Squeeze and strain the juice from 2 medium sized lemons. Measure ¼ cup into saucepan with strawberry juice.

To make the jelly, add sugar to the juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and

DECORATING MADE EASY

You might be one of 33 million Americans who moved this year. Or you have decided that your house needs a new look. In any case you're ready to decorate. You have an idea of what you want but you don't know how to put it together.

Homemakers have found that the best way to decorate a room or an entire home properly and within their budget is to consult a local professional interior decorator. A decorator's training and experience will save you time, money and many headaches.

When you first visit the decorator be prepared to supply details about your way of living; size of family, hobbies, activities, color preferences, whether you prefer contemporary or traditional decor. She then visits your home. From all the information she's collected she creates an original plan including a sketch of the room as she visualizes it, a color scheme and recommendations for materials, furniture and accessories. This detailed plan is submitted for your approval. After she has your consent, she proceeds to execute the design that expresses your tastes and desires.

The decorator coordinates the thousand and one details that go into redecorating your room or home such as the arrangement of furniture, fabrication of curtains and draperies, lighting, painting and the installation of the Kentile vinyl asbestos tile floor.

And when her work is completed you have the room you dreamed about—a symphony of style and color designed for maximum decorative effect and living comfort. The following step by step illustrations show you how decorating is made easy:

Hardwood Plywood a 'Must' in Hi-Fi

One of the two invaluable aids of hardwood plywood in hi-fi sets is made quite obvious in this glamorous custom installation—the furniture-like quality of the material. To fit the hi-fi into the home, hardwoods such as are used in making 85 per cent of all wood furniture are top choice, in line with the dominant feeling that the set should look good as well as sound good. The other aid of hardwood plywood lies in the material's unusual rigidity, which minimizes vibration, thereby aiding sound reproduction. This is especially important in the baffles of speakers and the sound chamber itself. The set shown is made of mahogany plywood. It contains the TV set, tape recorder and storage for books and records as well as the hi-fi components. Hi-fi installations range from a swank "entertainment wall" such as this down to a TV-sized cabinet.

Pictured above are the three partners that make up the firm of Turk and Ramsey: Robert Millies, President of Maplecroft Homes, a subsidiary of Turk and Ramsey; Ken Ramsey, President and Steve Turk, Vice-President. Their building operations are not limited to this area and at the present time they are building in Northville, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Belleville. Turk and Ramsey are located at 518 S. Main Street in the rear of the Finlan Insurance Agency.

By Jack Scott

The tremendous amount of building activity in this area attests to the fact that Plymouth and Plymouth Township have become one of the more desirable localities in the State of Michigan for prospective home buyers. Because growth and expansion is of interest to everyone, the Plymouth Mail from time to time will feature some of the outstanding model homes and their builders.

This week's model home was constructed by Turk and Ramsey, Custom Builders, of Plymouth Michigan. It is a face brick ranch home, with attached garage, the type that is outstripping all other designs in popularity because of the utility value and easy access from one room to the other throughout the entire house. This plus the fact that there is virtually no lost space makes it possible to make good use of the entire living area.

Turk and Ramsey are exclusively custom builders. When asked as to the difference between custom building and other types, Ken Ramsey, President of Turk and Ramsey replied: "In custom building, the buyer has complete control over the construction of the home as well as choice of location. From time to time, while the house is being built, the purchaser is able to go over the plans with the builder and make what ever additions or changes that are desired. In this way, they are virtually assured of having pretty close to what they want upon completion of the home."

Plymouth Hills, just West of the city, is a prime example of custom building and we strongly recommend a trip through this beautiful rolling subdivision for anyone interested in building a home of this type in the future. Turk and Ramsey are among the pioneer developers in Plymouth Hills.

Shop for The Best Place To Get a Home Loan

If you are buying a house, it will pay you to "shop around" for a way to finance it.

You will probably borrow funds for the purchase and give a mortgage to secure the loan, says Lucile Ketchum, home management specialist at Michigan State University. The terms of your loan agreement will differ with various lending agencies.

Some of the lenders that make mortgage loans are: banks, insurance companies, savings and loan associations and individual lenders. You will find that they offer different kinds of mortgages and that their interest rates vary.

There are two kinds of mortgages: single payment (straight mortgage); and amortized. The single payment loan is a written promise to repay the full amount of the loan on a certain future date. In the meantime, you pay interest on the entire principal on regular specified dates—quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

For home loans, the amortized or direct-reduction mortgage has replaced the old type straight mortgage almost entirely. With the amortized mortgage loan, you make regular monthly payments consisting of interest (sometimes taxes and insurance) and a certain amount of the principal. In this way you pay interest only on the amount of the unpaid principal.

The length of time an amortized mortgage usually runs is from 10 to 25 years with interest ranging from 4½ to 6 per cent. Two variables will determine the total cost of borrowing money; the length of time you want your loan to run and the rate of interest charged.

It would be to your financial advantage if you could make a large down payment and pay off the principal within a fairly short time. This would, of course, greatly reduce the amount of interest you would have to pay.

On the other hand it may not be possible for you to swing a large down payment whereas making smaller monthly payments might fit into your family budget, Miss Ketchum explains.

Be sure that your mortgage agreement contains a prepayment privilege. This will allow you to pay more than the monthly rate on the principal when it is possible for you to do so. This could shorten the time of repayment and cut interest charges.

It may be possible for you to get a package mortgage which will permit you to include the cost of equipment that is a necessary part of the house in your loan. This way, costs are spread out over the length of time that the mortgage on your house runs. But remember, the refrigerator or the washer may be worn out before the mortgage is paid off, cautions Miss Ketchum.

If you have an open-end clause in your mortgage contract, you may borrow additional money to remodel, improve or modernize your home, and the cost will be added to the principal remaining to be paid. As a rule, the amount outstanding cannot exceed the original amount of the loan, but you do have the privilege of re-borrowing the amount you have paid back.

Only by thoroughly investigating the methods and terms offered by lending agencies in your community, will you be able to make the choice that will suit the particular needs and financial possibilities of your family.

FAIRY-TALE SWIMMING POOLS

Even the most modest swimming pool now-a-days is lined with one or another of the marine shades of green or blue. The paint used to give this fascinating effect must be a special mixture which does well under water. Chemists have perfected just the right formula for "paint for swimming pools."

Barbecue Goes Fast

An outdoor barbecue can be built in less than an hour with cinder blocks and fire bricks. The cinder blocks are stacked without mortar leaving a U-shaped opening at the top which is lined with the fire-resistant bricks. Top the finished job with an iron grate.

Paint-Saving Tip

Paint will not form a surface crust while stored if a small amount of mineral spirits or turpentine is poured on top of the paint before the can is re-sealed. Care should be taken not to shake the can when it is put away.

Gasoline Tax Returns Available for Farmers

Now is the time for farmers to file for their gasoline tax refund. To receive a refund for the year ending June 30, 1957, claims must be filed on or before September 30, 1957. This reminder is offered by Everett M. Elwood, extension specialist in agricultural economics at Michigan State University.

Elwood adds that Form 2240 must be used to apply for the refund. This form will be mailed to all farmers who filed for a gas tax refund in 1956. Those who have not filed a claim before can get Form 2240 from their county agricultural agent, or from the local internal revenue office.

Farmers can make claims for a refund on all gasoline bought and used on the farm. According to Elwood, this includes gasoline used by custom operators or neighbors who helped with the planting, cultivating, or harvesting of any agricultural crop. He warns that no refund will be made for gasoline used off the farm, such as for transporting family or farm goods on the public highway. Any owner, tenant or operator of a farm can file for the refund.

The highway revenue act of 1956 raised the federal tax on gasoline from 2 to 3 cents per gallon. For this reason, says Elwood, claims for gasoline bought during the past fiscal year should be figured at the rate of 3 cents per gallon.

Elwood states that the completed Form 2240 should be sent to the District Director of Internal Revenue, Federal Building, Detroit 25, Michigan. Do not send invoices, bills or statements with the form, but keep them. Revenue agents may want to check records to make sure that the correct amount has been claimed.

It's Now Time For Japanese Beetle Hatching

Nearly 9,000 traps have been set in southern Michigan, especially in areas bordering Indiana and Ohio which have a high beetle population, in an attempt by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's plant industry division to stamp out Japanese beetle infestation. There have been 136 placed in Plymouth this year.

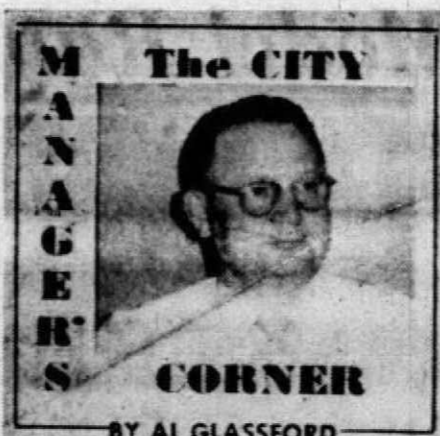

In Michigan the beetles emerge in July from the ground where as grubs they have remained for 10 months feeding on the roots of plants. The beetles feed on 250 or more types of plants. In heavily infested Atlantic coast areas as many as 1,000 Japanese beetles have been counted on a single hybrid tea rose plant, and in fruit regions as many as 40 on a single peach.

Because of its control and eradication program Michigan has never been quarantined for Japanese beetle, but Department of Agriculture officials point out that only by constant work can they be assured there will be no spread of infestation.

The Japanese beetle is slightly larger than a fly. It has a metallic appearing bronze body and a metallic green head. Under its wing coverings it has three white dots on each side of its body.

While Japanese beetles become imprisoned in the yellow traps placed in many areas in southern Michigan, the control program does not depend on this means of destroying them. The purpose of the traps is to determine the presence of the insect. Then adjacent areas are soil treated with chemicals which destroy the grubs which do so much damage to plant roots below the ground.

Since Japanese beetles are known to be great hitch-hikers and travel from place to place in vehicles of all kinds, the Michigan Department's plant industry men also check produce at railroad and truck terminals, airports and public markets.

BY AL GLASSFORD

Several years ago, at a safety meeting for the employees, one of the D.P.W. employees complained that the small five-gallon paint containers, the decrepit ash tubs and the over-heaped refuse containers caused a great deal of delay in picking up rubbish and garbage. He wondered whether the city couldn't do something about making people get the right kind of containers.

This gripe led to a complete study of the refuse program. A new refuse ordinance was enacted and by establishing a minimum standard of receptacle to be used, by combining rubbish and garbage pick up at the curb, by acquiring another closed truck, and by establishing better routing, the city was able to reduce the cost of once a week pickup from $36,000 a year to $25,000 a year, even though the population was growing, wages were increasing and the cost of material spiraling.

Here again is an example of how bottom up communication, if encouraged, can be a big help in saving money and at the same time give better service.

The merchant downtown pays 15 cents per minute pick-up time for his refuse in addition to the taxes he pays. This is because we must give service beyond the ordinary extended to the householder without cost. For instance, we require the householder to have a covered receptacle for his wrapped, garbage mixed refuse. The receptacle must be of a minimum size of 16 gallons and not more than 30 gallons. Filled it should not weigh more than 70 pounds.

In the neighborhoods, we operate on a production basis: one man serves each side of the street. By holding the size of the receptacles in residential areas to 30 gallons with the average generally about 20, one man can lift the can, empty it, return it to the curb side and move along to the next receptacle. For the same reason, it is more efficient and economical not to permit five gallon paint containers or similar small receptacles to be used because time is wasted and spillage occurs.

For the aged, however, or people who are ill and not able to carry cans, and cannot afford to give the job to the neighbor boy, we attach a "no touch" seal to the handle or bail of the receptacle to indicate that the D.P.W. Superintendent, Joe Bida, has granted special permission to use a smaller container. Incidentally, Joe asks that you call him immediately if you observe any of his men misusing a receptacle in order that he may discipline the employee.

We would also appreciate, if you would call the police department when you observe scavengers in the alleys picking up metal. No one has a permit to scavenge in the neighborhoods. There are two authorized persons to pick up paper and metal from stores in the downtown area. Of course, our good friends, the Volunteers of America and the Christian Enterprise do a very good job of helping householders dispose of usable articles and have been granted permission to go from door to door.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis

BY JEAN GRIMOLDBY

This is the first installment of a new feature in this newspaper by Mrs. Jean Evans of Plymouth who can discover your characteristics by examining your handwriting. A member of the International Grapho Analysis Society, Inc., Mrs. Evans can determine both bad and good characteristics which may assist you in solving your problems.

Graph-analysis cannot reveal the past or present. It is a scientific system used widely in industry, crime detection, church and government.

Readers are invited to write a sentence or two in ink to Jean Evans, Plymouth Mail. The writer may sign his or her initials or use an anonymous name.

Dear Jean:
I have many interests. I like to oil paint also would like to become a writer. Do you think I could become good in either field? What other abilities do you see in my handwriting? I am also interested in people.
Mrs. N.

life because of your variety of interests.
You show an appreciation for music and have literary ability. You can keep a secret so well even you forget you know it. Say, have you ever considered being a detective?

Dear Mrs. N.:
Your handwriting indicates that you are genuinely interested in people, are a good mixer, talkative, and have a sense of humor.

You have a creative mind, color sense, pay attention to details, and have organizational ability - which would help you express yourself in the field of art. However, because of your variety of interests, caution should be taken that you don't get your fingers in too many pies.

Dear Jean:
Do you think I will ever become a millionaire?
Wondering

Grapho Analysis is not fortune telling so cannot pretend to predict the future.
From your handwriting, I would say that with your pioneer spirit, self reliance, determination, and ability you would be successful in whatever you set your heart on. It is up to you if you want to stop before you get your million.

Dear Jean:
I would like to know myself better. My circle of friends is limited and I would like to do more entertaining. What is there in my character that makes it hard for me to meet people?
A.K.

You are timid and afraid of people. You are subject to moods of depression during which you withdraw into yourself to brood. You bottle up too much, and would be much better off if you could talk it out with someone whom you trust and whose opinion you respect.

Dear A.K.:
You are timid and afraid of people. You are subject to moods of depression during which you withdraw into yourself to brood. You bottle up too much, and would be much better off if you could talk it out with someone whom you trust and whose opinion you respect.

People don't understand you, so misinterpret your pensiveness for that of unkindness. There is also a note of sarcasm in your expression. This could be overcome by sweetening it with a bit of humor.
My advice to you would be to relax, don't take life or yourself so seriously.

Dear Jean:
Here is a sample of my handwriting. Go ahead and analyze it and don't pull any punches.

Cut Coal Consumption

The rate at which your coal furnace is consuming fuel some-times can be retarded with very little effort. Dissolve a half pound of washing soda in a gallon of water and sprinkle the solution over the coal in the bin a few days before using it. You may find that the coal will last longer and also give off more heat.

William Chapman Directs Staff of Sixty Employees

What does it take to manage a modern super market? Talk to William Chapman, a veteran A & P employee who will head the new super market opening Wednesday (July 31) at 1050 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, and you will find it requires a lot of know-how in many fields of activity.

You will discover in talking to Manager Chapman that it takes quite a bit of doing, including a few matters which seem, at first glance, to have little connection with his primary job of displaying and selling food to customers. Chapman has been busy the past few weeks directing stock ally must have authoritative knowledge and experience in the store's operation—meat, produce, grocery, coffee-dairy, bakery, frozen foods and candy.

Chapman started with the food chain in 1937 as a grocery clerk, and has spent his entire career with A & P in the Detroit-area stores.

He received his first managerial appointment in 1942, and has been manager of the store located at 882 W. Ann Arbor Trail since March 1952.

Today's super market represents a world of change from the one-man store that typified the food business when Chapman started as a grocery clerk. "The transformation has been terrific," he says. "One man cannot possibly do the job anymore. It takes a good organization and plenty of team work. You must have a first-string team all the way."

A native of Farmington, he is married to the former Helen McLaughlin of Detroit. They have six children - Judith Ann, 15; William, 13; Catherine, 9; Margaret, 5; Thomas, 4 and David, 10 months. A veteran of World War II, he was an Army sergeant and spent one year in the Philippines.

A & P Maintains Strict Policy on Freshness

Even the best food, generally speaking, loses flavor and quality with age.

To safeguard the freshness of food, A & P takes five steps. First, the company buys only the freshest foods from farm or factory. It facilitates quick turnover by buying only in quantities for current needs.

Foods are shipped quickly to warehouses and stores. And they are kept under proper conditions of temperature and humidity.

crews, compiling orders of perishable foods that must be made ready at the last minute to protect their freshness, and performing countless other tasks for the opening.

Chapman, an A & P employee for nearly 20 years, possesses the qualities required to manage a big supermarket selling more than 4,000 different food items and directing the activities of some 60 men and women. From Chapman's own experience with the company, it would seem the super market manager must be a man of many trades and know something about several professions as well.

Plymouth Welcomes New A & P

A 200 CAR parking lot surrounds the new A & P super market on Ann Arbor road which opens today. The former store on Ann Arbor Trail has been closed this week in order to make the big movement of goods.

An open house was held for local civic officials Wednesday evening and the formal opening took place Thursday morning.

Miss Plymouth Cuts Ribbon to Open Store

Civic and company officials welcomed Plymouth area consumers as Miss Plymouth formally opened A & P Food Stores' new air-conditioned super market at 1050 Ann Arbor Road yesterday (Wednesday, July 31).

Attractive Diane Fuelling, making one of her first local public appearances since winning the title of Miss Plymouth, cut the ribbon at the king-size super market.

Acting Mayor Robert J. Sincok and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay gave welcome talks at the opening which was attended by A & P Vice President M. W. Alldredge, Sales Manager Phil Nyquist of the Detroit Unit and other company officials. City Manager Alfred F. Glassford, Plymouth Township Board members and Plymouth City Commissioners, as well as state and county officials also were present for the grand opening of the super market.

The grand opening inaugurated a four-week program of awards, contests and give aways.

Top awards include one hi-fi console record player, two bicycles, one barbecue grill, one tricycle, five four-piece sets of aluminum ware, three adjustable chaise lounges and 49 dolls.

The new location, containing more than 13,000 square feet of floor space, replaces the company's former location at 882 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

The spacious building has been engineered for quick, convenient and efficient shopping, with paved parking facilities for approximately 200 cars.

Refrigeration plays a leading role in the company's efforts to hold quality perishable items at a peak from the standpoint of both taste and nutrition.

Offering fully departmentalized service, the store incorporates various consumer features of present-day food merchandising. In addition to departments for meat, produce, bakery, dairy, frozen foods, coffee and candy, it also includes such extras as health and beauty aids and non-food items.

"The store's 12 sections constitute a veritable food department store," said Vice President Alldredge. "Their arrangement, and the use of the most modern equipment will enable us to offer our customers the most complete food service."

Manager William Chapman, assisted by Gene Burcham, will direct a staff of some 60 men and women. Other key employees are, James Beaudoin, meat department head; and James Mabry, produce department head.

A & P Origin Traced to Quest for Cheaper Tea

Man's taste for tea, exotic brew of the ages, led directly to the founding of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, the nation's oldest and best known food store chain.

More than 95 years ago, George Huntington Hartford conceived an idea for the sale of tea which formed the basis for what is now considered the world's most efficient method of food distribution.

In the pre-civil war days of 1859, tea came to America in the famed China Clipper ships. After the long voyage, tea still had to do a lot of traveling before it reached the housewife's pot.

Bought and sold many times by middlemen, tea passed through the hands of brokers, wholesalers, and jobbers. Each tacked on his costs of business and added a profit.

The price skyrocketed. Few persons could afford to buy tea in retail stores.

George H. Hartford, founder of the A & P, had the idea that if he could bypass some of the intermediary agents and simplify the complicated marketing procedure of those days and eliminate delays, he could sell quality tea at a lower price to more people.

Direct From China.

Arrangements were made for the shipment of a clipper load of prime tea direct from China. As soon as the cargo arrived at the New York wharf, it was unloaded and moved straight to a little gas-lit red front store on Vesey Street in New York. The tea was put on sale at about one-third the usual price.

Soon horses iron shoes and the rims of wagon wheels struck sparks from the cobblestones as the word got around.

Town people and country people, surprised at being able to purchase this luxury at a price they could afford, crowded the store.

One of the world's great companies was born that day. The little Vesey Street store was the first of the great chain of food stores to be developed by the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company.

Tea lovers may well pay their respects to George Huntington Hartford for the important part he had in this development.

Meat Packaging Job Given To James Beaudoin

Self-service meat seems to be the development in modern food retailing that consumers approve most enthusiastically.

To meet this consumer demand, a complete self-service meat department with a new-type packaging setup has been installed in the new A & P super market located on West Ann Arbor road.

The new packaging setup is located directly behind the meat display cases and will operate in full view of customers. The new setup enables customers to see clearly the care with which meat is processed and packaged under A & P Super Right specifications.

The refrigerated production line also eliminates the former need for low temperature processing rooms where employees had to wear protective clothing.

James Beaudoin, an A & P employe for nearly ten years, and experienced meat specialist, heads this department. After gaining initial experience as a meat cutter, Beaudoin was promoted to meat department head in 1953.

Prior to the time of his most recent appointment, he had served as meat department head in the company's Ferndale store, which post he held since August, 1956, and in Belleville.

A native of Amherstburg, Ont., he is married to the former Monica Tufour. They have two children, Sharon, 10, and Sandra, 9 years old.

Gene Burcham Continues Job as Assistant Manager

Gene Burcham

An experienced group of company personnel will assist Manager William Chapman in operating the new A & P super market in Plymouth.

Heading the list is Gene Burcham as assistant manager.

He started with the food chain as a meat clerk in the Wayne store in 1943 and has served in various capacities in company stores in the Detroit area. His job here is to assist the manager in the many activities connected with directing a staff of over 60 employees.

Burcham was appointed produce department head at the A & P at 882 W. Ann Arbor Trail in February 1953, and was promoted to assistant manager in August 1954.

He is married to the former Dorothy Benson of Wauselon, Ohio.

Food Company Has Own Alaska Salmon Operation

One of A & P's least known enterprises is the Nakat Packing Corporation, which packs in four Alaskan canneries the pink and red salmon the chain distributes through its stores.

Nakat's salmon operation requires about 100 tenders, tug, purse-seine boats, gill-net fishing boats and scows.

The official salmon canning season runs from June 25 to July 25.

In 30 days of grueling effort, salmon fishermen earn as much as they would in many months at other work. They work 18 hours a day in the world's worst weather, sailing to the fishing ground 30 or 40 miles out to sea under the constant threat of the dreaded squalls of the north country, the williwaw.

Mabry to Head Produce Section Of New Market

James Mabry will head the colorful produce department in A & P's new super market on Ann Arbor Road.

Mabry started with A & P in 1949 as a clerk in the company's Ann Arbor store. He was later transferred to Walled Lake where he became head stock and receiving clerk.

Prior to his most recent appointment, Mabry was produce department head of the A & P store in Ann Arbor and Belleville.

A native of Tennessee, he is married to the former Lois Franks, also of Tennessee.

Mabry was a corporal in the U. S. Army for two years, with service in the United States and England.

Mabry's department will stock more than 100 fresh fruits and vegetables, frozen produce and juices and also a full line of dried fruits and nut meats.

Back of the white refrigerated display racks, with their crisp and garden-fresh produce, is one of the most intricately-linked organizations of A & P's entire food procurement setup.

The produce purchasing setup is tied together by a modern teletype system which carries a never-ending stream of messages and reports on weather, crop condition and other factors involved in meeting the demand and supply picture on produce.

But basically, the job is done by streamlining operations wherever possible. Commodities are bought in the field and shipped in carloads direct to A & P's strategically-spotted warehouses. Produce is moved direct from warehouse to nearby company stores.

James Mabry

Congratulations A & P

Senator Potter reports

... the latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan ...

THE PEOPLE'S PYRAMID, my name for the colossal St. Lawrence Seaway project, has passed midpoint in construction. The great sea lane, which will bring the ships of the world into the heart of America, creating new jobs and markets for the people of the Middle West, has been pushed to 54 percent of completion. Some of the heaviest machinery in the world clatters the shores of the twisting, dangerous 114-mile reach. Iron skeletons swing shovels big enough to hold a piano. Dynamite blasts send rock and shale flying high, rumbling rock crushers and ear-splitting bores and drills gash the terrain, coffer dams reroute the stream as concrete is poured. By July 1958 the Long Sault will open for 14-foot draft ships and nine months later hefty Lake freighters and ocean-going vessels drawing 27 feet will be plying the channel.

NEEDLING is one part, and often a vital part, of a Senator's job. Last week I sent a strong plea to the Chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee to act promptly on a measure which Michigan needs. My bill to authorize shipbuilding at Lake yards passed the Senate unanimously a few weeks ago but a companion measure still awaits hearings on the House side. Increasing the nation's shipbuilding capacity—particularly in sheltered Lake waters—has obvious defense advantages. The Navy Department has already recognized this by backing the bill. But I'm thinking mainly of the new contracts and payrolls this law would bring to Michigan ports.

I HAD THE HONOR a few days ago of representing the U.S. Treasury Department in recognizing a great Michigan organization for its work in the savings bond program. Officials of the DeSoto Division of Chrysler came to Washington to receive a citation marking active participation of over half of their employees in the payroll savings plan. This should serve as an inspiration to companies throughout the country wishing to encourage the great American qualities of thrift, patriotism, and above all, confidence in the future of our Government.

A PETOSKEY BOY, Bruce Catton, now an eminent Pulitzer-Prize winning historian, writes poetically of Michigan in the current issue of HOLIDAY. "Michigan," he says, "is perhaps the strangest state in the Union, a place where the past, the present and the future are all tied up together in a hard knot. It is the skyscraper, the mass-production line and the frantic rush into what the machine will some day make of all of us, and at the same time it is golden sand, blue water, green pine trees on empty hills, and a wind that comes down from the cold spaces, scented with the forests that were

A barbecue and corn roast has been planned for September 11 at the VFW Hall. Please plan to attend.

The Veterans Administration recently ruled, that the sale of a veteran's GI-purchased home because of a better job in a different city may entitle him to new GI loan eligibility, even though the job change was voluntary.

"Better job" was defined by the VA as being one that would increase the veteran's income or provide him with greater opportunity for advancement. Restoration of GI loan eligibility formerly was made only if the job change or transfer to another city was involuntary or beyond the veteran's control. The new ruling, the VA said, also applies to veterans moving to a different city following retirement. However, no GI loan entitlement can be restored unless the VA is relieved of liability on the old loan. This generally is accomplished by payment of the loan in full, either by the veteran or the new purchaser.

Other circumstances under which a veteran may be entitled to a new GI loan eligibility are when the property: 1- was taken by a governmental agency for public use; 2- was destroyed by a natural hazard; or 3- was disposed of for compelling reasons of health or other reasons beyond control of the veteran.

Free chest X-rays will be offered August 1-4 at 1-9 p.m. at St. Dam's church, 30100 Joy Road. This service is available to all Livonia residents seven years old and over, so let's take advantage of it and be good citizens at the same time.

Mr. Chandler, attention! You have competition here in Rosedale Gardens by the names of Laura Gauthier and Charlene Kryger, both of Melrose avenue who are the joint publishers of a three page weekly called the "Junior News." Laura and Charlene who are both nine years old put out quite a paper concerning Melrose and its residents and the paper includes, along with the news, poems, recipes suitable for small fry to use and crossword puzzles. Lots of luck on the enterprise, girls!

Quite a few birthdays on Melrose lately, and the folks there have the nicest way of celebrating little one's special days—there is cake and icecream for all the kids on the block. Birthdays lately have included Mary Ann Krowlucki who was one on the 25th, David Gauthier who was three on the 23rd and David Goodrich who was two on the 20th.

Victoria, largest of the African lakes, is almost as large as Lake Superior in the United States and Canada.
