

Hoffa Tells of $50,000 Northville Downs Loan by Teamster Leader from Plymouth

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Northville Downs and a Plymouth township resident who is a close ally of Teamster chieftain James R. Hoffa figured prominently in Hoffa's testimony Wednesday before the Senate Rackets committee hearings.

The fast-talking Hoffa, probably next president of the nation's biggest union, faced more questions as the committee worked up to the main charge of its 15-day hearings that Hoffa enlisted labor racketeers Johnny Dio and Anthony Carallo to help him grab control of the Teamsters in New York.

Mentioned in the hearings was the wife of Bert Brennan, residents of Wilcox road in Plymouth township, who with Mrs. Hoffa turned up as owners of a series of firms which rent trucks to companies which haul autos from factory to dealer.

One of the companies which had the high-profit task of hauling Cadillacs, made a profit of $125,000 in seven years from a firm which previously had labor trouble with the Teamsters.

Hoffa then testified Wednesday that Local 337 loaned $50,000 in 1956 to Northville Downs at Northville. He identified a check on the Local signed by Bert Brennan. The labor leader said he does not know the "full explanation" of the loan. The money, he said, had been in the bank at "short interests" and the loan to the track was repaid "within 60 to 90 days" with more interest than the bank could have provided.

Hoffa said Brennan races horses at Northville and other trotting tracks. He said he understands there has been some "dispute" about Brennan's horses racing in New York state, but he said he could not confirm counsel Kennedy's statement that Brennan's New York racing privileges had been revoked.

The Brennans have lived in the Plymouth area for many years, but are reported selling their home.

The Senate committee charged Wednesday that Hoffa's Teamster locals paid $150,000 for the country estate of Capone mobster Paul "The Waiter" Ricca.

Hoffa said he never met the Chicago hoodlum and could find no trace of his name in the deal for the mansion. The home, he said, was bought as a school in which to teach Union officials how to handle welfare and pension funds.

He was also questioned about two holdings, 400 shares of A.F.C. Wrigley, valued at $2,900, and 600 shares of McLean Industries worth $8,100. Hoffa said Wrigley is "a chain store operation and wholesale grocery outfit." It belongs, he said, to a supermarket association whose labor relations expert is Jack Buskins from whom Hoffa got a $5,000 loan, since repaid. He said the firm has a Teamsters' contract.

SHIP LOSES RACE, SINKS

GIBRALTAR (UP)—The explosion-ravaged tanker World Splendor lost a dramatic race against time today and sank within sight of safety off Gibraltar.

Nine officers who remained on the smoking hulk and a British Admiralty tug had battled to get the 25,000-ton ship into Gibraltar before seas flooded its forward hull.

But flooding through cracks opened by the two explosions and flash fire which hit the ship yesterday poured in before the tug Confident could cover the last 20 to 30 miles to the British naval base.

The Confident took off the nine officers who had stayed aboard fighting the fire, slipped its towline and headed away from the sinking hulk.

In London, headquarters of the Niarchos tanker fleet reported, "We believe all hands are accounted for okay." The ship carried a normal crew of 81 men.

The cause of the explosions has not yet been determined.

NEW DEADLINE ON VET BONUS

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate passed and sent to the house legislation extending from July 16, 1953, to July 16, 1959, the deadline for Korean war veterans to apply for mustering out pay. The payments range from $100 to $300 depending on length of service.

TEENAGERS FACE ELECTRIC CHAIR

NEW YORK (UP)—Seven teenage boys charged with the wanton slaying of a polio-crippled youth were indicted yesterday on first degree murder charges that could send each one to the electric chair.

The mass indictment in General Sessions court was the severest blow to date against teen terrorism in New York City.

The youths, three of them only 15, were believed to comprise the largest group ever indicted for first degree murder in New York at one time. Some appeared frightened, others defiant, as they heard themselves charged with the fatal stabbing of Michael Farmer, the son of a New York City fireman. Several of the accused were less than five feet in height.

SOVIET SHIPS ON MOVE

COPENHAGEN—(UP)—A big Soviet cruiser and a destroyer raced north out of the Baltic past Denmark today, enroute to the Mediterranean. The Danish naval command identified the vessels as the cruiser Mikhail Kutuzov and the destroyer Bezukorishennyj. Moscow radio announced yesterday the ships were enroute to the Mediterranean to "pay a courtesy visit to Albania."

CONGRESS DISAPPOINTING TO IKE

WASHINGTON—(UP)—President Eisenhower said today he is tremendously disappointed in the record to date of this session of Congress.

At his weekly news conference, Eisenhower also took a cautious stand on the Communist seizure of power in Syria. He said the situation is not an instance at present that justifies any action under the Eisenhower Middle East Doctrine.

He charged that Russia is trying to take over Syria. On domestic matters, Eisenhower indicated a willingness to accept a compromise version of the jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill.

ATOM ENERGY BUDGET SLASHED

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The House Appropriations committee, taking its final whack of the year at President Eisenhower's budget requests, chopped almost 216 million dollars today from Atomic Energy Commission funds.

32 HOURS IN STRATOSPHERE

FREDERICK—(UP)—The world's first bona fide spaceman, who spent 32 hours exploring the vast reaches along the rim of the stratosphere, emerged from his record-smashing flight dead tired but thrilled with the wonders of the heavens. Maj. David G. Simons, 35, a lanky Air Force physician, brought his huge balloon safely to earth near Elm Lake in northern South Dakota. He had attained an altitude of at least 19 miles during his unprecedented trip. The space pioneer brought back a tale of being surrounded by a purple sky, even in the day time, and of observing the stars glowing "like an animal's eyes."

Tigers Blasted, 9-3

DETROIT—(UP)—The Baltimore Orioles blasted an easy 9-to-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Briggs stadium today on a pair of three-run homeruns by Joe Durham and Al Pilarcik.

The Orioles built up a 9-to-0 lead before the Tigers spoiled the shutout with a pair of singles and Lou Sleater's third homer of the season.

Pitcher Ray Moore held the Tigers to three hits until the seventh. The Bengals wound up with seven safeties. The victory was Moore's ninth against nine setbacks. Loser Hoeft now has a five and eight record.

City Cautioned About Extension of Water

GATHERED AROUND John J. Temple, president of the American Hospital Benefit and Community Mutual Life Insurance Company, are many Plymouth people who watched as ground was broken Monday for the firm's home offices. The related insurance companies will move their operations here from Detroit. The building is scheduled for completion May 1. At left is President Temple as he broke ground

A 36-page report by consulting engineers has recommended that the city commission "take a long look at its obligations to the taxpayers within the city limits" before supplying more water to subdivisions in the township.

The report was delivered to commissioners Monday night by McNamee, Porter and Seeley, Ann Arbor consulting engineers. They were asked to start work on the report last May after the commission had received a request from the Fred Garling Construction Company to supply water for a subdivision to be located just outside the city's eastern boundary.

Engineers estimate that there is now enough water to supply the city of Plymouth for the next 30 to 40 years. Plymouth has wells along Five and Six Mile roads as its source of water. The problem of supplying water to areas outside

Plymouth, according to the report, "is not so much one of more mains and larger pumps, but of limited resources."

The report declared that when a policy is made to serve areas outside the city limits it is to say, in effect, "that there is available sufficient water to meet the needs of Plymouth now and in the future, plus enough surplus to continually meet the demand of subdivisions outside the city limits."

Local Phone Rates Going Up

The rate for two party residence telephone service at Plymouth will go up 60 cents a month under last week's order by the Public Service Commission, it was announced today by Robert D. Maugel, manager here for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Also affected by the order are business lines, private switchboard trunklines, and other residence service, he added.

Maugel said the increase in residence lines applies to most of Michigan Bell's territory. The increase in this and other main services here was due largely to growth in telephone service through the local exchange, he said.

"Telephone rates," he pointed out, "have long been based on the number of telephones a customer can reach on a local-call basis. Our customers in this area can now call more telephones in their local area than ever before. The number has increased substantially since 1948, the date last used for establishing rates. The new rate schedules will put this exchange on the same basis as communities of like size."

In commenting upon the commission's order, the company termed it "disappointing because it falls short of providing for our increased costs of doing business."

Requests to extend water service to areas outside the city limits have been perplexing commissioners for many years. A policy of several years ago was established to halt any further outside taps. Last year the policy was amended to allow taps if mains were already past the building to be served. Township users pay double rates.

When the Garling company made the request for expense-paid mains to serve a new subdivision east of the city, Commissioner Carl Shear made a motion to have a complete survey done

Insurance Building Started

The first spadeful of ground was turned over Monday noon for the new building in Plymouth that will be the home offices of the American Hospital Benefit and Community Mutual Life Insurance Company.

A group of nearly 50 people gathered at the site along Plymouth road, just inside the city limits, as John J. Temple, president of the two firms, dug into the soil and turned over a healthy spadeful. The building is scheduled for completion by May 1 of next year.

The insurance building is the first unit to go up in the project known as the Parkway Supercenter. There are plans to erect two structures for retail stores and an apartment building and to provide a 500-car parking lot.

A dinner was served at the Hotel Mayflower preceding the groundbreaking at which the insurance firms were welcomed to the city by Frank Allison, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The two insurance firms which are now located in the Buhl building, Detroit, are under the same directors but are divided because of law. As the names imply, one writes hospitalization and surgical insurance and the other writes life insurance. Both have no stockholders, but are mutual companies (owned by policy holders).

The two-story insurance building will be functional in design, utilizing much glass. Bids were taken for its construction and a Plymouth builder, the Dan Mills Construction Co., was awarded the contract.

There will be about 100 people employed by the insurance firms. Some of its present employees and officers have already moved

Consumers Seeks Gas Space Heating Release

Some Plymouth area homeowners may finally receive permits for gas space heating should the Michigan Public Service Commission approve a Consumer Power Company request.

W. L. Whitfield, local manager of Consumers states that there are now 600 requests for gas space heaters from city residents, 900 from Plymouth township and 1,000 from Livonia.

Consumers has asked approval of 20,000 additional customers. It has about 180,000 unfilled applications in the 286 cities, villages and townships in 29 Michigan counties.

Dan E. Karn, president of the company, said that the petition is based on an agreement for the purchase by Consumers of the gas wells in the Overisel Gas Field in Allegan county.

Youths Face Charges After Crash of Plane

DETROIT, Aug. 21—(UP)—A pair of suburban Detroit youths, one of them from Redford township, face heavy charges today for their 40-minute flight of a stolen plane over Detroit Tuesday.

The two, John Porter, 20, Dearborn, and Sherrill Coombe, 19, Redford, crashed the ship into the ground when trying to land in the dark at Hartsell Airport on Ford road.

They were charged with unlawfully driving away an airplane in circuit court and after waiving examinations, were released on $250 bonds. The two flipped the ship, valued at $5,500.

Plymouth Youths Win State Baseball Crown of Class D

By Bill Hubert

The Plymouth Elks, winner of this area's tough Class D League (18 and under), swept through a day of stiff competition last Monday and emerged undaunted, undefeated, and with a new title—State Champions of Michigan.

The 15-man squad traveled to Jackson and engaged Marysville in a semi-finals contest at 9:15 a.m. Ken Knipschild, with Daisy during the regular season, hurled the first five innings and Bill Hedger, Elks' ace all year, threw the last two. The Marysville nine could gather only three scattered safeties as the locals trounced them, 12-1.

Outfielder Eric Goodwell and catcher Jerry Fernandez each contributed home runs, while John Hrubiek, obtained from Dearborn for the tournament, smashed a triple. The winners collected nine hits.

Meanwhile, Roseville, and Pontiac were battling in an equally important game, the winner to meet victorious Plymouth in the finals. Pontiac pitching apparently handcuffed the Roseville squad, and they grabbed a 6-1 decision. So, it was to be a Plymouth-Pontiac match for Championship honors.

The two teams met at 2:15 that afternoon, with Hedger handling mound duties for the locals. He allowed only four base blows in the seven-inning stint. The Elks scored first, marking one in the fourth. They were tied in the same frame as Pontiac duplicated the feat.

But the Plymouth men broke things open in the fifth with two big tallies—the runs that eventually netted them a 3-1 victory. Though gathering only six hits, the winners capitalized on them—as they had done all year to get there.

And Plymouth has another champion...

BY PAUL CHANDLER

This has been a frenzied week in the office of this newspaper.

Before anything else happened, we were deep in production of an ambitious "Back to School edition." This is in the form of a special tabloid section that permits our advertisers to put their best wares before moms and dads who now realize they have to get the kids ready for classes. Alas, summer is all but over. The special section, which also gives a lot of school news and advice, is enclosed with today's paper.

And then, late Sunday, it dawned on us that our regular Thursday might roll around and our subscribers could have suffered through a newspaper blackout of almost a week's duration. I say "could have" because neither on Sunday nor up to the very moment of this writing, has it been possible to know if the Detroit newspaper strike would endure.

So we launched negotiation on an emergency basis to get a wire service into our office to provide our readers with the sorely-missed news from outside our own area. After many phone calls, a plane trip here by a service representative, some brilliant work by telephone company workers, and a few other details—the teletype arrived in our office Tuesday night and began throbbing Wednesday morning.

The result is the United Press news, as fresh as we could get it up to presstime, which is scattered through this section of the paper.

We simply decided we would be amiss in our responsi-

Bride Dons Imported Organdy For Methodist Church Service

An imported Swiss organdy gown was chosen by Doranne Wilton for her marriage to Willis Robert Blossom, Sunday, August 18, in the First Methodist Church. The gown featured a Sabrina neckline of imported Alencon lace, short sleeves and floor-length bouffant skirt. A fingertip veil of silk illusion was held by a heart-shaped headpiece of lace and seed pearls. The bridal corsage was of white roses and stephanotis in a cascade arrangement.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and candleabra for the three o'clock ceremony, at which Rev. Melborne I. Johnson officiated. Mrs. Jean Schautz of East Lansing sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

A national magazine recently had its readers suggest ways to stay young. One of them said, "Make a habit of balancing on one foot while putting on your shoes and stockings." This is also a great way to break a leg. Another reader said, "Stop wearing a watch and relax." That would probably not only keep you young . . . but also out of a job, and late for dinner.

A third suggestion was, "Have another baby." I refuse to comment on this . . . but it might be interesting to hear what some of the multiply-blessed mothers in our audience think about this during vacation. Another reader said, "Ride the kids' bike around the block while the potatoes are cooking." Or perhaps while they're burning? . . . Anyone else around here want to grow old gracefully?

On that back to school shopping spree, why not enjoy your noon-day lunch at our complete lunch counter?

I hear that a favorite story in Russia is a report that a newspaper is running a contest for the best political joke . . . and first prize is 20 years in prison camp. Well, it's nice to be able to joke about politics . . . but it's a mistake to joke about health. You might sentence yourself to years of worry and expense by neglecting those regular checkups by a qualified physician. And, anytime he writes you a prescription, bring it to us to be filled . . .

State Roundup

GREEN BAY, WIS. AUG. 21—(UP)—Current Senate investigations into labor racketeering are "necessary and inevitable" Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams told the annual convention of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor yesterday.

"We have the sad spectacle today of a few labor union officers squirming under the microscope of a Senate committee," the Democratic governor said. "The exposure of bad spots in the American labor movement is undoubtedly necessary and inevitable and in the long run labor will be stronger when these cancers have been excised."

Williams spoke in unfriendly terms of one of the principals in the Senate investigation, Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa, in telling the convention, "There is no labor vote that can be controlled by labor leaders or anyone else."

"Jimmy Hoffa could not get the teamsters in Michigan to vote Republican, even though he tried several times. The last time backing my Republican opponent for governor," Williams said. The could-be candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1960 also took a slap at efforts by many states to enact so-called "right to work" laws.

IONIA, MICH., AUG. 21—(UP)—William Leiter, 5, has died of brain injuries he apparently suffered when he fell off his bicycle near his Ionia home Sunday. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Leiter, said he hit his head in falling, but seemed all right until late Monday when he complained of a severe headache. William was taken to the Ionia county hospital and transferred to Blodgett hospital, Grand Rapids, where he died yesterday.

DETROIT, AUG. 21—(UP)—A 13-month-old child, Theresa Emanuel, West Bloomfield Township, drowned yesterday in Union Lake as her mother went to look for her other children. The little girl fell from a dock into the lake in back of her home when her mother, Geraldine, 26, left her for a moment.

LANSING, AUG. 21—(UP)—Examination has been tentatively set for Tuesday for Robert Williams, 31, accused on an open charge of murder in the shot-run death of Robert Johnson, 32, Saturday. Judge Earl E. McDonald ordered Williams held without bail pending examination.

ST. CLAIR SHORES, MICH., AUG. 21—(UP)—Ex-Mayor Thomas Welsh, subpoenaed to appear yesterday before the Macomb County one-man grand jury, has been issued a new subpoena for Sept. 4.

The grand jury, which is investigating graft in the county, was not in session yesterday and Welsh did not appear.

LANSING, AUG. 21—(UP)—Sen. Bert Storey (R-Belding), said today he will introduce legislation to increase the amount of personal savings allowed persons receiving old age assistance.

Holdings for single persons would be increased from $500 to $1,000 and the present limit of $750 for married persons would be increased to $1,500.

DETROIT, AUG. 21—(UP)—The 16-year-old East Detroit dry cleaning clerk who was savagely beaten last Wednesday is expected to be released from Saratoga General Hospital here within "two or three" days.

Doctors said today Felicia Florke, 17610 Toepfer, continued to make satisfactory progress. Her condition is now considered "Fair," although she suffered a brain concussion and other injuries when struck more than 20 times with a blunt instrument.

Her assailant, Gregory Sullivan, 398 Harper Woods, was found hanging by a piece of clothesline in a vacant garage last Thursday afternoon.

DETROIT, AUG. 21—(UP)—The five-day Michigan weather forecast—Detroit and vicinity temperatures will average near or slightly below normal, with the normal high 80, normal low 60. Only minor day to day changes in temperature indicated. Precipitation will total one-quarter to one-half inch as showers Friday and late Sunday or Monday.

Upper and lower peninsulas, temperatures will average about normal with the normal high 72 North to 81 South and normal low 51 North to 63 South. Not much change in daily temperatures indicated through Monday. Precipitation will average one-half inch to locally near one inch as showers west portion tomorrow and mostly over east portion Friday. Scattered showers likely again about Sunday.

WINDSOR, ONT., AUG. 21—(UP)—The city of Windsor appealed to the Canadian government today to "intervene on the highest diplomatic levels" against construction of an atomic plant at Monroe, Mich., 30 miles from the border.

The appeal was drafted after city council supported a request made Monday by George Burt, Canadian director of the United Auto Worker's Union, on behalf of Windsor labor organizations. Burt said prevailing winds would carry radioactive fallout over the Windsor area in event of a mishap at the Monroe plant, which is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1959.

DETROIT, AUG. 21—(UP)—An estimated 26,000 Michigan veterans in schools this fall under the Korean GI Bill were urged to follow an eight-point check list to avoid unnecessary delays and to guarantee "clear sailing."

The Detroit VA office suggests veterans give plenty of thought to their goal because they can change their course only once. Check with the VA if they want vacation counseling, makes certain their course has been GI-approved and complete admission arrangements before filing applications with VA.

Veterans should also completely fill out and sign the application for GI training and send it with a photostat or certified copy of their separation paper to the Detroit VA regional office.

Detroit VA officials also urge veterans to visit their VA before school starts. Proof that the veteran has dependents will have to be given the VA. They are also reminded to bring enough money to wait out the arrival of the first check, after the first two months of training.

FLINT, MICH., AUG. 21—(UP)—Two models of the 1958 German-made Opel, a two-door sedan and a station wagon, will be distributed in the United States this fall by the Buick Division of General Motors.

Ford Museum Reception Honors Edward Cutlers

Completion of 50 years of marriage was celebrated August 14 by Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Cutler of Plymouth at a reception in Clinton Inn at Greenfield Village.

The reception, provided by the staff of The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village, was attended by 80 people. They included friends from Plymouth, relatives, former fellow workers and present staff workers.

Mr. Cutler, who was Henry Ford's personal architect, was responsible for supervising the transfer of Greenfield Village's historic buildings from their original locations. He went to work for Ford in 1915 and retired in 1947. Two years ago he was invited to return to the village to assist the museum archives committee as a consultant, a position he still holds. Following a buffet luncheon during the evening, words of congratulations were addressed to Mr. Cutler and his wife, Winifred, by Dr. Donald H. Shelley, executive director of the museum and village. He also presented them with a gold watch.

Henry Ford had a number of gold watches made to present at very special occasions. A few watches remained after his death in 1947. The timepiece presented to the Plymouth couple was one of them.

Mr. Cutler, born in London, Ontario, went to the University of Cincinnati to study art in 1902. There he met his future bride, the daughter of Professor and Mrs. C. W. Hyde. The couple was married August 14, 1907.

Mr. Cutler returned to London where he was a designer of church stained glass windows. They later moved to Vancouver where he held a similar position.

In 1915 the Cutlers moved to Detroit where Mr. Cutler got a job in the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Co. He later was selected by Ford to restore his homestead. Then, in the early 1920's, Ford conceived the idea of a historical museum and along with Cutler, picked the site of the now world-famous museum and village.

Mr. and Mrs. Cutler have lived in the Plymouth area 32 years. They lived 12 years at nearby Nankin Mills and the past 20 years at their present home at 8869 Ridge Rd.

Children and grandchildren joined the Golden Anniversary couple in the reception line at Clinton Inn. Their children are E. Malcolm Cutler of Detroit, J. Rusing Cutler and Mrs. Frank Moreno of Plymouth, Mrs. W. J. Hamilton and Alfred Cutler. They also have 11 grandchildren.

"Don't let yourself grow old" is what Henry Ford used to say again and again," Mr. Cutler recalled. "He felt that one should keep busy all the time."

And that is what the Cutlers have been doing. When Mr. Cutler isn't busy at Greenfield Village bringing the archives up to date, he and Mrs. Cutler are somewhere painting or working around their home. Both are artists and still paint commercially. Mrs. Cutler also has written poetry which she has sold.

"I would say that we have had a busy and full life," Mr. Cutler declared as he looked about at the paintings in the studio of their home. "It's nice to have things to do and to be able to do them together."

OPENING GIFTS they received for their Golden Wedding anniversary is Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cutler, 8869 Ridge road. The Cutlers were honored with a reception August 14 by The Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village. Mr. Cutler was responsible for bringing the buildings to Greenfield Village and served as Henry Ford's personal architect. (Photo courtesy The Henry Ford Museum.)

Local Girl, Horse Appearing on TV

Ten year-old Donna Jean Moers will make her Television debut August 28 when she will appear with her horse "Dandy" on WWJ-TV's "Romper Room." The appearance of Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Moers of Canton Center road, will help to publicize the State Fair in Detroit. This is a natural job for Donna being an old hand at fairs.

Donna's horse, a Half Arab Bay took second in the Trail class at the 4-H fair. Her reifer calf will go to the State 4-H fair in East Lansing August 27 through 30. Mrs. Moer's registered quarter horse is a familiar sight to Plymouth parade-goers. In the July 4th parade, Mrs. Moer wore the royal blue Arabian costume she will don for the costume class at the State Fair. She received a 3rd place ribbon in the parade group judging.

Another daughter, 18 year-old Sharlene will ride Mrs. Moer's horse in the model, pleasure and stock classifications at the fair. Last year the horse was a ribbon winner in the model class.

Local Teams Fade in District Tourney

Plymouth teams didn't fare too well in the Michigan Softball Association district tournament play-offs held in Plymouth and surrounding area last week. Only Lincoln Division, in Class D, gained the finals competition, and then was defeated rather easily by Trenton.

Beginner Olds, Plymouth's Class A representative, was eliminated in the first round on Tuesday, losing a thriller to the eventual champion, Allen Park, 1-0. A seventh-inning error was the ticket for the Allen Park tally.

In the bottom of that frame, Stahley singled, advanced to third on Rinna's single, and scored when Beglinger catcher Gow yielded Guzzo's bunt and threw it into right field. Stevenson was the winner, Street the loser, though allowing only four one-base hits.

In Class B play, Chevie Spring and Bumper journeyed to Trenton last Monday and absorbed a 4-1 loss at the hands of home town Trenton. The Trenton club was in command of the game throughout and finished the tournament as runner-up to Wayne.

Meanwhile Box Bar won its opening round of the Class C play-offs held here at Plymouth the same evening. The locals scored seven times in the first two innings to ice away their contest against Livonia D and C, 8-4. However, they did have to choke off a four-run last-inning uprising by the Livonians. Sommerman singled doubled, and walked twice to pace the winner's attack.

But on Tuesday night, traveling away, a strong Allen Park crew quickly sliced Box Bar hopes, 8-3. The Allen Park nine had just too much for the locals to handle.

And finally, in D competition, was the team which best represented Plymouth in tournament play, Lincoln Division. Ironically enough, all three of Lincoln's contests were played away—therefore Lincoln was "doing its stuff" before a minimum number of Plymouth fans. The squad fringed-armed its way through the first round, dropping Wayne on Monday, 7-5. And, on Tuesday, they easily disposed of Livonia, 5-1. But come the finals, and the Lincoln bats fell silent. The Trenton hurler stopped Plymouth on three scattered hits, while his teammates were collecting eight, winning, 6-0. That contest was held at Allen Park.

Other games witnessed here by softball fans last week—non-involving Plymouth teams—were these: Allen Park Fairall Trucking dropped Monroe Sport Shop in a first round C contest, 5-3. Wayne, on a three hit pitching performance by Merrill, edged Dearborn, 1-0 in a Class A first-rounder.

E League Standings

Failure of teams to register their final game scores cause these standings to be printed a week late. The seasons of both E and F leagues terminated two and a half weeks ago. Further failure on the part of some F managers make the final standings of their league impossible at this time.

E League (16 and under) final standings:

Northville	8	0	1
American Legion	6	2	2
Davis and Lent	6	3	1
Rosedale	6	4	4
Ford Civic League	3	6	1
Police	2	7	7
Columbian Equires	0	9	1

The F standings will be announced when available.

Class D League Finishes Off Season Schedule

A third-to-first infield play by the Stroh's Distributors, Nine Wednesday night marked the final out in the Class B softball league for this 1957 season. The Stroh's-Vico Products contest was the third of the evening and ended the two and a half month long campaign.

Vico, who could have notched a fourth place spot in the final standings with a victory, succumbed to some timely and powerful Stroh's hitting, 9-5. The defeat, coupled with Lutheran Men's Club win, showed the Vico squad into a lowly fifth place tie with Daisy and Stroh's. Weeks, McKinney, and Fulton each collected two hits for the winners, with Farewell adding a last-inning home run.

Just preceding that contest, Lutheran Men's Club assured itself of a respectable league finish while simultaneously placing another scar on the independents' enviable record, edging them, 8-7. The victory gave the Lutherans fourth place. Three successive sixth-inning singles by Douglas, Evisic hand Stevens produced the eighth and winning tally for the Lutherans. The independents managed only one hit in the last three frames.

The other seven-inning battle saw Chevie Spring and Bumper win their first game since July 15, stopping Bill's Market, 8-3. Lyday's homer and single in three trips paced the Chevie squad, while pitcher Barno held the Marketers to six safeties, three coming in the seventh.

Plymouthite Take Field Trip in U. P.

Thirty two teachers from all over the state, including Mrs. Heloise Campbell, 45110 Joy road, took a 15-day field trip through the Upper Peninsula to observe conservation methods and resources of the area. Mrs. Campbell teaches at Cady school in Wayne.

The group left for Higgins Lake Conservation Training school on August 3 and returned August 18. They traveled by private cars and camped in state and county parks and state forest camp grounds.

They visited the Iron Mountain area, veneer and lumber companies, the Borcupine mountains and spent a weekend at Fort Wilkins State park.

Motorcycle Race Promoted by Larson

Promoter Mel Larson of Plymouth announced this week that he has scheduled a Three Start Championship Motorcycle Race for Northville Downs on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 2.

The motorcycle competition will be sanctioned by A.M.A. and will consist of time trials, six 10 lap heat races and two 10 lap feature events.

This will be the first time in many years that motorcycles have competed in the Detroit area on a half mile dirt track. Larson stated that the clay surface of Northville Downs will be ideal for motorcycle competition.

Dan Van Vleck, Michigan referee for the A.M.A., said entry blanks are now in the mail and at least 30 or more riders will be on hand for the Labor Day Speed Classic.

Plans are now being negotiated for the addition of two special auto events to follow the motorcycle competition that day. Time trials will begin at 12:30 p.m. and the first event will begin promptly at 2:30 p.m.

A special admission plan will be in effect for the race. General admission will be $1.50 and the reserved section and box seats will both be priced at $2., tax included. Children under the age of 12 will be admitted for 50 cents. Tickets go on sale at 11:30 the day of the race. Tickets may also be reserved by phoning Plymouth 1892-W2 or Northville 1140.

Larson is a native of Plymouth, having in recent years taken active part in stock car racing in Arizona, both as a driver and promoter. He promoted the new car race at Northville Downs on July 5.

Ken Calhoun, a 1957 PHS graduate and perhaps one of the greatest athletes ever to don the Plymouth blue and white, is anxiously awaiting the coming football season and school year.

Ken will enjoy both football and studies as a freshman at Eastern Illinois State College, Charleston, Illinois.

Kenny is indeed a natural, versatile athlete with an excess of ability. As captain of Plymouth's football and basketball teams this past year, he was leading scorer of, and also elected most valuable player of both squads. It marked the second straight year he has led the cage point parade, and he was top ground-gainer as a Junior griddler. Ken has also earned three varsity baseball letters.

All-league teams of all three sports have boasted him as a first string member at least once. Though practically packed and on his way to Ypsilanti for his higher education, Ken happily changed his plays when offered such a "good deal" at Charleston. Ken very modestly stated he would receive some aid for his football prowess and was eligible for varsity ball as a freshman.

Mr. and Mrs. Calhoun were at first a bit apprehensive concerning the 400 miles between school and home, but are happy that Ken is satisfied with his decision. Ken will leave Plymouth this weekend to report for pre-season football drills on the 26th.

The column's congratulations and a wish for lots of luck to Ken Calhoun—athlete and individual extraordinaire.

NEW YORK (UP)—Sugar Ray Robinson formally announced today that he is withdrawing from next month's million-dollar fight with Carmen Basilio, and the New York State Athletic Commission scheduled a special meeting Monday to consider the situation. Chairman Julius Helfand and the Commission said Robinson had telephoned his withdrawal this morning. The mid-dleweight champion announced to the press last night that he was pulling out of the title fight because of a dispute with Promoter Jim Norris over Theatre Television.

DETROIT (UP)—The Cleveland Browns had Roger Zatkoff, former University of Michigan great, signed in uniform and hard at work today because of a football game televised Friday night.

The four-year star with the Green Bay Packers who has been a center of controversy since the pro started preparations for the 1957 campaign a month ago, "made arrangements" so he could play this Fall despite previous feelings he would play only for the Detroit Lions.

Zatkoff, traded last winter to the Browns from Green Bay, had said he wanted to stay in Detroit because he just started a sales job here and felt he could not move away.

There was a short pause in the pennant races Wednesday to welcome Bob Keegan into the no-hit, no-run fraternity and to let the Yankees ponder why they ever allowed him to get away-to the White Sox.

Keegan, a 36-year-old right-hander, was cut loose by the Yankees five years ago, written off as a chronic arm case. But he did it last night when he pitched the first no-hitter of the season to beat Washington, 6-0, in the night-cap of a two-night double-header. The Senators won the opener 5-4.

Keegan walked only two batters in fashioning his no-hitter, the first in regular major league season competition since Sal Maglie of the Dodgers turned one against the Phillies last Sept. 25. The only no-hitter since then was Don Larsen's perfect game against the Dodgers in the world series last Oct. 8.

DOVER, England (UP)—Greta Andersen, of Denmark and Long Beach, Calif., won the annual swimming race across the English Channel today. Beating every man in the races, Miss Andersen, a 1948 Olympic gold medal winner, scrambled ashore at East-ware Bay near Dover in an official time of 13 hours and 53 minutes after leaving the French Coast.

DETROIT (UP)—The quarterback rich and the quarterback poor of the National Football League meet Friday night, in the University of Toledo's Glass Bowl. The Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL's Eastern Division don't have an experienced quarterback in the lineup since Adrian Burk and Bobby Thomason retired. But the Detroit Lions have the one-two punch of veterans Bobby Layne and Tobin Rote. For Michigan fans travelling to Toledo, the Eagles have two of Michigan State's brightest stars of last season—halfback Clarence Peaks and tackle Tom Saidock.

Michigan Bell Holds Golf Meet Here Saturday

The Plymouth Country Club, 8788 North Territorial, seven miles west of Plymouth, has been selected by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., as the site of their annual golf tournament. The tourney is open to all men employees of Michigan Bell, and approximately 200 golfers from across Michigan are expected to attend this Saturday.

This marks the first time the tournament has ever been held in this area. Last year it was staged at Flint.

The Plymouth office of Michigan Bell is actually in charge of this year's tourney and is responsible for all arrangements and the promotion of the affair. On the committee for arrangements are Gordie Moe, Gene Overholt, Jerry Greer, Bill Butzky, and Jim Everhart.

Over 50 trophies and prizes will be awarded to the golfers, who will compete under the Callaway point system. Tee-off time is 7 a.m. with reservations being made up until 11:30. Awards will be presented around 5:30 or 6.

Mrs. Roxy Dunstan and Mrs. Eleanor Buchner spent Thursday in Detroit.

Mrs. Alice Gustin and Alice, Lucy Burrell and Mr. and Mrs. James Burrell spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burrell and family of Rossford, Ohio.

Mrs. Philip McNulty is spending the week with Mrs. Carl McNulty and children at Brighton.

Choir practice will be at 7:15 Tuesday evening at the Cherry-hill Methodist church.

A group of children from St. Luke's Methodist mission with Rev. Davis enjoyed a picnic at the Conklin Farm on Wednesday afternoon.

Several persons from this area attended the 4-H Fair near Belleville last week.

Junior High Teacher Attends M.E.A. Camp

June Kelly, a teacher-counselor at Plymouth Junior High, attended the fall leadership training conference at the Michigan Education Association Camp on St. Mary's Lake near Battle Creek.

Miss Kelly is president of the Plymouth Education Association of the M.E.A.

The three-day session began Monday, August 19, with sessions on membership promotion problems and mechanics. During the conference, district presidents dealt with their common professional problems in areas of public relations, legislation, ethics, improving local school programs and raising the standards of instruction.

Miss Kelly is the teacher-counselor at Plymouth Junior High and serves as president of the Plymouth Education Association.

Merchants Win, but River Rouge Clinches County Title

The Plymouth Merchants, after collecting only ten singles in the last 18 innings, slammed out 23 base hits last Sunday at Chelsea and slaughtered the home team, 18-3. Rich Sheppard hurled the complete game for Plymouth, allowing single tallies in the fourth, fifth, and eighth, on only four hits.

Barcis and Taylor, Chelsea moundsmen, could do nothing to quiet the Merchant bats. Harold DeWulf led the attack with five singles in six plate appearances. Pitcher Sheppard and Ed Hock, pitcher-outfielder, each collected three safeties in five trips, and Bud Nedry contributed a bases-loaded triple for the winners.

But the victory, decisive as it was, did little to change the Merchants' second-place status in the standings. League-leading River Rouge actually clinched the title with their easy 8-1 conquest of Detroit Control. The Plymouth Elks waged a thrilling battle against powerful Northville before bowing to the enemy, 9-5. And Romulus assured itself of a first division play-off position with its 12-9 win over Redford.

Next Sunday's action finds the Elks and Merchants matched at Riverside Park at 1:30. Redford at Northville, River Rouge at Romulus, and Detroit Control at Chelsea. Sunday's games will be the last of the regular season contests.

The Elk-Merchant game time is 1:30 instead of the regular 3:30 due to the Merchants-Monroe All-Stars contest at Monroe at 6:30. It is a benefit game for Monroe players injured during the season. Another game follows at 9:30.

Standings as of August 22:

River Rouge	14	2
Plymouth Merchants	12	4
Redford Merchants	10	6
Northville Merchants	10	6
Romulus Jay Cee	8	7

City Cautioned About Extension of Water

 upon which the commission could base a policy.
 Whether the commission follows the survey's recommendations or not will probably be learned at near-future meetings. The survey declares that if Plymouth had a relatively unlimited source of water, it would be advantageous to the city to supply areas outside the city limits.
 "All that can be gained by such a policy, with Plymouth's limited resources, would be to hasten the day when the city will be dependent upon water from an outside source. The additional revenue from outside areas would more than pay for the necessary expansion of main," the report continued, "but, if this increased demand forces the city into a costly hook-up with Detroit 20 years sooner than would normally be necessary, this additional revenue would look very small."
 Water demands per capita are going up sharply, the engineers report. More water is needed for garbage disposals, air conditioners, automatic washing machines and dishwashers. There is also more lawn sprinkling and also a general prosperity contributing to waste and extravagance.
 The report recommends the adoption of an ordinance requiring the recirculation of water for large air conditioners through use of cooling towers. This could reduce water consumption by five or 10 per cent.
 Among the many statistics included in the report, it noted that the annual rate of water that can be safely withdrawn from the well fields is 3.5 to 4 million gallons daily. Ground water is being recharged at an estimated rate of 6 million gallons a day. On July 29 this year, the water system hit its highest maximum when 3.46 million gallons were pumped.

Should the city feel that it wants to supply water to outlying areas, the engineers suggest certain revisions to the system. These would include laying a 3,000 foot main from the wells on Six Mile and Beck road to somewhere around Five Mile where a million gallon reservoir and booster pumping station should be built. They suggest that another well be drilled to increase the capacity to 6.5 million gallons. This would allow for an addition of 1,000 dwelling units.
 One section of the report deals with the possibility of receiving water from Detroit or Wayne County. At present, the closest feasible connection to the Detroit system would be a 54-inch pipe in Bedford township, the report claims, or a booster pumping station at the end of the main on the eastern edge of Livonia (Eckles Road). In order to finance such a connection, Plymouth and Northville and possibly the townships of Plymouth and Northville would need to combine their effort.
 The report states that at the present time there is a question of who will eventually supply the Plymouth area with water. Both Detroit and Wayne County are claiming the area. But neither department is in a position to make any definite commitments about supplying water now.
 "It would be well for the city of Plymouth to continue to develop and expand its present water system within a 30 year amortization schedule," the engineers recommended. They note that Plymouth's water is in many ways more desirable than the heavily chlorinated water from the Detroit River; it is desirable to have the water system under local control; and when the area is built to a point where it will be essential to obtain water from Detroit, the city will have more strength in its negotiations.

bility to our readers if we came out with the only paper they've seen in five days, and didn't attempt to report what was going on in the state, the nation and the world.
 Not to mention listing the TV programs—they can be found in this section, too.
 The extra load thrown on the persons who produce this paper in the office and in the shop has been tremendous, and I want to use these lines to state my admiration and thanks to them.
 As for the future—I don't know. If the emergency continues, we may attempt to publish a daily paper as a public service to this area. The decision must be made soon. It involves great problems.
 In any event, now that the UP teletype is here, we're going to keep it here and any papers we publish henceforth will carry some of the latest news in the world as of our hour of publication.

 As for Lil' Abner and the other comic strip characters who were left dangling in space when the metropolitan press shut down—we can't help. Those comic strips are tied up by exclusive franchises, available to no one else in the same general area.
 There'll be a lot of gaps in the sequence of events since last you read about them, but we've condensed as best we can in the time and space available at this late hour to give you a little news about a multitude of subjects.
 For the sports fans, I can reveal this:
 With the pressure off, and all hope of first place vanished, our doughty Detroit Tigers are winning games, as they always do this time of year. As of Wednesday, they were two games above fourth place and 2½ out of third.
 And possibly the best-kept secret in town is that there will be a fight in Detroit's Olympia Friday night. A fellow named Isaac Legart will make combat with another named Walter Byars. Anybody know them?
 As of Wednesday morning, Ted Williams had the lead over Mickey Mantle for the individual batting championship, .389 to .381. Mantle's hit 32 homers and Williams 31.
 The top pitcher in the American League is Donovan, 14-3.

News From Parkview Circle 1st, 2nd Place Awards Given In Subdivision Petunia Contest

Mrs. Robert Fitzner
625 Parkview Drive

As all of you know by now there's been considerable yacking pro and con concerning our subdivision petunia contest. Last Wednesday evening Lee and Jack Ruland, who head the contest committee, called a meeting at their home to decide whether or not to go ahead with the contest in view of the fact that the petunias look rather bedraggled and some entries wished to withdraw because of their poor showings.

However, it was finally decided that as long as the plans had been made the contest should take place as planned. Mrs. L. B. Von Stein who lives at 1450 Sheridan and who is a member of the Plymouth Garden Club and Mr. Peter Christensen, owner of the Plymouth Nurseries at 38901 East Ann Arbor Road, acted as judges and met with Lee Ruland at her home on Friday afternoon where they were briefed on the subdivision contest rules and were given just the addresses of the contestants. When Mrs. Von Stein and Mr. Christensen completed their tour they returned to the Rulands.

I went over to interview them and learned that the first place entry had been selected on the basis of good composition and general care and then learned, to my astonishment, that yours truly had won first place. Helen and Walt Lake of 275 Garling Drive took second place with their very effective red and white plant around the front porch.

The Parkview Circle Association, sponsors of the contest, will present the winners with a $10.00 and $5.00 Plymouth Nurseries gift certificate at the September meeting. Personally I'd like to note that Bob and I got a kick out of being in the contest and feel that the kidding and rivalry added an extra spice to the everyday routine garden chores.

Dot and Bud Wilson of Garling Drive were pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening to have Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schettler of Buffalo, N.Y. drop in for the evening. On Sunday the Wilsons with their children, Terry and Larry, and Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Roberts of Livonia spent the day at the Royal Oak Zoo.

Marty Kennedy, Jr. of Parkview Drive left early Friday morning for Fort Mackinac Island where he will act as a leader with a group of boys scouts who are spending the week at the Fort. Marty is the assistant scout master of troop No. 184 of Detroit and will also act in that capacity during the week's encampment.

Lorraine and Joe Quinlan and their three children took Joe's parents to Lansing with them over the weekend to visit with Lorraine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thelen. While there they took in the zoo and other points of interest and spent time with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Quinlan, Sr., left from here Monday morning to return to their home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Those attending the party in honor of Melba and Bill Killian given by the Jack Rulands were Diane and Bill Stang, Ethel and Jim Cameron, Doris and Ted Kuhns, Doris and Jim Sponseller, Lorraine and Joe Quinlan, Joyce and Al Truax, Madeline and Harold Kendall Dorothy and Lloyd Curok, Harvey Cooper and Bob Fitzner.

Rose and Marty Kennedy left Friday morning to spend three days with Mr. and Mrs. Kisabeth of Plymouth at their cottage on Glen Lake. The Kennedys returned Sunday evening and Monday morning left for Emporium, Pa. where they will stay until Thursday.

Doris and Ted Kuhns of Parkview Drive spent Sunday at the Pushman Cottage near Fenton, Mich. where they attended the annual picnic of their pinochle club.

Happy Birthday to Mary Lisa Frank on August 23, Marty Kennedy, Jr. on August 24, Karen Brennan and Vicki Kuhns both on August 27.

I had a long chat with Dee Upton this morning and believe me that week's vacation on Ponce de Leon Beach near Fenton was just what they all needed. Dee raved about the quiet lazy atmosphere up there and said she was practically glued to the chaise lounge for the whole week. The boys, Wayne, Al, and Ron caught enough blue gills and bass to put on a big feast one night. The Uptons returned home for over the weekend and spent some time at Belle Island and on Sunday took in the Tiger-Chicago ball game.

Little Billy Bower had a bang up party for his friends last Thursday when he celebrated his fourth birthday. Games were played and gifts opened and then came the ice cream and very large cake which was decorated to look exactly like Donald Duck. The children thought it was pretty nice but it didn't keep them from digging in with both hands when the cake was served. Little guests were Cheryl and Robbie Ferguson, Denise and Robbie Zembruski, John n y Clarke, Steve Vincent, Johnny Steve and Cammie Eck, Cheryl and Sandy Dawson, Gail and Ruthann Neubauer, Sharon and Barbara Clark, and Carol and Bobby Bower. Other guests attending were Joanne Clark, Irene Zembruski, Phyllis Dawson, Ruby Clark, and Jeanne Eck. Billy is the son of Lois and Robbie Bower on Parkview Drive and it was Robbie's cousin, Oretta Neubauer, who decorated the cake.

It appears that we will be losing another circle couple in the not too distant future. Bill Stang is accepting a new position in the sales department of the Kone Drive Gears which is a division of the Michigan Tool Company. Bill will be some time on a training course at the home office in Detroit before taking over the Wisconsin territory probably in November. Diane told me today that they plan to move to Milwaukee around the first of the year after Bill is settled there and after the arrival of their second child which is expected on or about December 25.

The Joe Quinlans will have the regular business meeting of the Parkview Circle Association at their home on September 6.

Baptist Church Marks 2nd Year
Spring Street Baptist Church will recognize its second anniversary with a dinner and special services, Sunday August 25.
The dinner will be held at noon and the services will begin at 1 p.m. with Rev. Willard Martin as guest speaker of Livonia Baptist Church.
The church was organized August 28, 1955 with 28 members. At that time Royal Martin was pastor. Services were held in the Grange Hall until the old St. Peter's Lutheran church at 261 Spring street was purchased September 6.
The first service was held September 11 with 95 attending the morning service and 50 at the evening service. Membership has grown to 112, with approximately 116 Sunday school participants.
In its two-year history a new pastor, Rev. W. A. Palmer, came to the church. Sunday school rooms were added and the exterior of the church was repainted.
Spring Street Baptist is affiliated with the Southern Baptist Association.

Church of Christ Has New Pastor

Newburg Little Theatre Group Starts

A little theatre group sponsored by the Myron H. Bøals Post of the American Legion in Newburg will present its first performances on Wednesday and Thursday, September 4-5.

Calling themselves the "Jestor Players," the group will give two one act comedies for their first effort. The plays will be given in the Legion hall on Newburg road, just south of Ann Arbor Trail.

Director of the Jestor Players is Charles Gray, 8119 Newburg Rd., Plymouth. He has a degree in speech and drama, has done summer stock and professional work, and for a while toured with a dance band as an entertainer. He now is employed by Evans-Products Co.

Gray said that a full three act play will be presented in the fall. This may be followed by presentations at Christmas, in the spring and perhaps next summer. Many of the performers are in college or attending Bentley High school.

The two one-act plays are "Gone Tomorrow" and "The Home Life of a Buffalo." They will begin at 8:15 p.m. with admission of 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children.

"Gone Tomorrow" is about an Irish family. With the grandfather dying, they are searching for the money he has hidden. "The Home Life of a Buffalo" centers about a vaudeville family in 1926 and the problems it faces with the advent of movies.

Judge and Mrs. George E. Bowles and family have returned from Grove City, Pa., where they attended the Golden Wedding celebration of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Bowles. They also enjoyed his 25th high school reunion.

Summer theatre is always a delightful experience. Plymouth playgoers should count themselves among the lucky few since they have the choice of the Music Circle Theatre at Grand River and Eight Mile, the Will-O-Way Playhouse on Long Lake Road near Bloomfield Hills, the Northland Playhouse at Northland, the University of Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

And if you'd like to take the wife out to dinner at Schuler's in Marshall (and who wouldn't you can drive a few more miles over to Augusta for the Barn Theatre players. If you've never been to this last-named theatre, your summer has not been complete. Old "George" has yet to be disappointed with this troupe of professionals. Now in their 11th season you owe them a visit.

SUMMER SHORT SHOTS: "Damn Yankees" is playing this week at the Music Circle Theatre. Tight for this fast-moving musical comedy is quite timely with the Yanks in the show that hit a home run with theatre and baseball fans when Lola did her famous fast-breaking curve-vacuous dance. Her dance is worth a trip to the tent on Eight Mile road.

"The Rainmaker" is making audiences laugh and cry this week at the Will-O-Way Playhouse. It's that type of show. One minute you laugh at the antics of the hero who claims he can make it rain with his drum and dowsing stick; the next you are sharing the troubles of Liz, the heroine. Take a tip from George, the ageless trouper, and motor over Will-O-Way's direction for an enjoyable evening.

If your weekend is loaded with other plans, sit back in your lawn chair while we talk about a play we saw a couple of weeks ago in Ann Arbor. As you know, Ann Arbor is the home of many, excellent cultural attractions. The University's Speech Department has kept its standards high through the years by presenting plays that take consummate skill to produce. "The Chalk Circle" fits into this category for it is a Chinese fantasy written during the 13th Century.

You say... how could this be interesting? First, the Chinese have a way of doing a play that is unique. The property men and sound effects assistants sit on stage right and left in full view of the audience and actors. If the actor is battling a snow storm, they provide the storm a la soap flakes or shredded paper depending how rich the producer is. No scenery is used, but elaborate costumes are the rule. Face make-up is expressionistic, that is, it is almost mask-like in quality. Clown make-up in our present-day circuses come a close second to the make-up techniques of the Chinese theatre. In many cases in the Oriental theatre actual masks are used in place of such make-up.

Thinking ahead to the Theatre Guild make-up workshop, it's too bad that the entire workshop group couldn't have seen this production of the "Chalk Circle." Here was a true practical application of the art of make-up.

And the gestures that were used to accompany the action were as fabulous as the costumes, the dialogue, and other parts of the play. For example, if the word money were used, the actors always made off as though they were heaping coins one on top of the other. If something shameful was mentioned and many times they had cause to since the basic plot concern murder, bribery, "the other woman", etc., the actor would hide his face in the crook of his arm a la our best villain style.

"The Chalk Circle" was diverting, educational—yet, entertaining. Two of the people in the party that attended with me are still talking about their good luck to have seen such a fine play. And when was it written? Just five hundred years ago. The Broadway hits are okay, but the old ones are still good.

Our Theatre Guild Board of Directors and the play selection might remember this when looking about for some good plays for the 1958-59 season. Shaw, Shakespeare, Moliere, Goldini, and even Euripides had some excellent things to say to their audiences. Of course, there's always Ann Arbor. Each season the Speech Department selects plays that represent all periods in the history of drama. I'll keep you posted since I'm on their mailing list.

By the way, if you have questions that you'd like answered about the local Theatre Guild group or anything in the theatrical line, we'd be glad to be of service. Just address any communications you may have to George Spelvin, Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan. I'll catch your communique then.

Time to head for the three-dimensional box set known as home. Before I do, it's time to correct a rumor. The following radio commercial is authentic and you will be hearing it soon. It goes as follows:

Sound: In with sweet refrain
... "There's no place like home"
... Then Woman screaming...
Gun shots... Then Out
Voice: (Sardonically) Hmm, there's no place like home... that's what you think. Do you know that last year around 41,000 people were murdered in cold blood in their homes? There were over one million serious accidents in the home?... Friend, your home is a trap. You're in danger. Get out. Get out of your house. Go see that new movie "The Curse of Frankenstein"! You may see people shaking in their seats, screaming!... You'll be scared, terrified, but you'll be SAFE—you won't be killed—we personally guarantee it. And please, when you see "The Curse of Frankenstein" in Warnercolor—try not to faint—Warner Brothers would appreciate it.

Remember, you heard it first on W-F-R-C, your local theatre station. We may not always have the greatest news, but it's different.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

Nuts Add Finishing Touch to Devil's Food Cake

To Michele Ann Mitchell, Nanny's Red Devil's Food Cake is tops. 'Nanny' is Mrs. Levi LaVergne of 215 Adams street who says this chocolate-treed treat is a favorite with her husband too.

This is the way to make Mrs. LaVergne's Devil's Food Cake:
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 2/3 cups sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon double action baking powder
1/2 cup vegetable shortening or a combination of butter and shortening
3 squares melted unsweetened chocolate
2/3 cup milk
3 eggs
2/3 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine the dry ingredients (flour, sugar, salt baking soda and baking powder) in a mixing bowl. Sift them for finer quality. Add shortening, melted chocolate, two-thirds cup milk. Beat vigorously by hand or set mixer at medium speed for 2 minutes. Add eggs, two-thirds cup milk and vanilla. Beat for 2 more minutes. Pour in two 9 inch deep layer pans rubbed with shortening or lined with paper. Bake for 35 or 40 minutes at 350 degrees.

Chocolate Icing
Melt 3 or 4 squares unsweetened baker's chocolate and 3 tablespoons butter in a double boiler. Measure 4 cups sifted confectioner's sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 7 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Blend. Add hot chocolate mixture. Mix well. Let stand, stirring occasionally until of light consistency. Spread on cake. Makes enough for two 9" layers.

Mrs. LaVergne suggests adding chopped walnuts to the icing or sprinkling them on the surface of iced cake.

TWO YEAR-OLD MICHELE helps her Grandmother, Mrs. Levi LaVergne, place walnuts on a freshly-baked Red Devil's Food Cake.

Incidentally this is new State Commander Giles Reeves' post. Refreshments were served after installation.

Mrs. Mildred Hower, rehabilitation chairman, and Mrs. Fern Burleson attended a rehabilitation meeting and luncheon held at the home of Mrs. Lena Hammond, past 17th district president, in Northville, on Thursday, August 15th.

A Michigan family with four generations of living veterans is the object of a search of officials of the Michigan State Fair and the Consolidated War Veterans Councils of Michigan. One such family will be awarded special honors on Veterans Day at the Michigan State Fair on August 31st, according to an announcement by Norris L. Stender, Kalamazoo president of the Consolidated War Veterans of Michigan, and Tom Harrison, Detroit chairman of the Veterans Day committee. The generations of service men or women within any single family unit need not have served during time of war. Honorable service in any of the U.S. Armed Forces is the only requirement. The search is for a family with a great grandfather, grandfather, father and son, or the distaff version of any of these generations, all living, and each at some time in the service. Names of eligible entries should be sent to Consolidated War Veterans, care of Harry Weberman, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Michigan.

Glad to hear Evalynn Gardner is now at home and much improved. Marian Kot our new chaplain urges everyone in the Auxiliary to please notify her of any illnesses, births or deaths. Her telephone number is 2369. Connie Aldrich is now back at work after quite a siege in the hospital, glad to see you better, Connie.

Barney Kot, Ray Viau and Buck Rutenbar attended an informative meeting held at City Hall by the police, with all veterans organizations to discuss an auxiliary police force to take charge if disaster hits such as tornadoes and so forth. More information on this later.

At 8 p.m. August 28th at Myron Beals Post home on Newburg Road, Livonia a membership rally will be held. Department and national representatives will be on hand to give suggestions for the drive.

The Post's Meeting is September 4th at 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center. A good attendance last month so let's make this another.

The next 17th District Meeting and the first for the new officers will be September 6th, Friday, 8:30 p.m. at Myron Beals Post home, Newburg road, Livonia. Let's have a good attendance for our new commander and president.

Remember our PICNIC! September 8... Vicinity of Six Mile road and Northville road... meet at 12 and eat around 1 p.m. A sign will be displayed with Passage-Gayde Picnic. Telephone calls will be made regarding food, etc. Games and fun for one and all are planned.

Marge Hoelt is Picnic Chairman if you would like to call her, her number is 2074 J.

Woman's Eye View

by Nancy Rigney

The biggest news at this time of the year for women is fashion. It's news every year, as new styles are created or old ones revived.

Fashion, being so fickle, is apt to change her mind about styles of years gone by and bring them back for a year, only to be discarded the next year.

Such a revival is the Chanel look. All Chanel did was put new life into the nautical look through variations of middy blouses and pleated skirts. Also reminiscent of the 1920's are the close-fitting hats.

Each year features a silhouette. The bell shape and the tube are fairly recent. This year they've come up with the Cocoon or barrel-shape. In its vaguest form it gives a pleasing appearance, with perhaps a coat tapered to the hips and a straight skirt completing the line. But pictures of the extreme version, which doesn't taper until the hemline, leaves the viewer waiting for a giant butterfly to emerge.

With the Chanel look bringing back the roaring twenties and the new Cocoon look, I'd like to see a combination. Maybe "The Cocoon Racoon" coat. On the practical side, the new shape would keep the cold wintery elements out.

Each year high fashion moguls take it upon themselves to decide the color that will be "it" for the coming season. They have brought popularity to such hues as Loden green for men and a subdued Royal blue for women, especially seen in hats. But most people realize that the best color is the one that looks best on them. This season the designers have loosed their hold on the color situation and "anything goes," although vibrant colors were preferred as accessories when the fall creations were shown.

Such is life in the world of fashion. The bustle and leg o' mutton sleeves may be the "latest" in next year's parade of exclusive originals from Paris. Who knows.

Speaking of "latest," a new club is being formed in Plymouth—the Newcomers Club. The club is co-sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Adult Education and Recreation department for new residents in Plymouth. The first meeting is scheduled for September 19 in the high school home economics room.

Franklyn P. Smith was named a Petty Officer Third Class in the Culver Summer Naval school. This summer marks the 56th eight-week session of Culver Military Academy in Culver, Ind. Franklyn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Myrn Ray Smith, 1332 Sheridan street.

Always a good month for the Plymouth Library, July's grand total of books loaned out came to 10,982, said librarian, Mrs. Agnes Pauline. August is well on its way to setting a record too — in one day, August 8, 721 books went out over the desk, plus 165 renewals, bringing the total to 886.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

235,000 Unemployed

THERE ARE 235,000 more workers than jobs in Michigan.

In an economy based on work for everybody, lack of it has become a crisis, and state government is looking for a solution.

Gov. Williams was told in July that 195,000 were idle and the forecast of 235,000 unemployed by mid-August was made. This dramatically emphasizes the strange outlines of Michigan's peculiar economy.

William touched on it when he described unemployment as a "public emergency," and sent his aides off on a quest for facts on which to base a program of full employment recovery.

For better or for worse, the state and its people are linked inexorably to the fortunes of the automobile industry. Parts and fabricating plants employing a relatively few men and women fan out from the big industries in Detroit. When the auto industry is down, business generally suffers.

Eventually, it means less money for schools because people must buy fewer goods. The sales tax and now, a liquor and cigarette tax increase, help support education.

Neither Williams, nor Republicans, nor the unemployed want another depression-era WPA. Three years ago when the same sort of unemployment crisis hit Flint and Detroit, appeals were made to the Federal Government for some form of public works.

It was not forthcoming then because the Eisenhower administration said it would not do the job. Now, the analysis finds agreement in the present Michigan crisis. "Men trained for factory jobs could not be put to work even temporarily on something like that," said one administration spokesman.

The point is, Williams and his aides agree, to find some method of keeping the large and skilled working force on the job.

Part of the trouble lies in auto shutdowns for model changeovers, resulting from an increasingly torrid competition among the Big Three; Ford, General Motors and Chrysler.

There are no answers yet. State government will base its actions on findings of a survey showing the areas of unemployment, which industries are affected, the work record in industrial versus non-industrial work, and whether automation is creating a shortage of jobs.

Officials believe the General Motors model changes will be more pronounced this year, delaying the period of full production with maximum employment into the late fall. Ford is believed to be planning changes too.

Chrysler made its big remodeling last year. As a result of the larger number of unemployed this year, Republicans are looking for a Democratic campaign next winter to increase the size of the weekly unemployment compensation checks.

HIGHWAYS HAVE BEEN UNHAPPY for politicians over the past few years.

Democrats for years have attacked former Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. He left office and a Democrat took over July 1, leaving word he was "going fishing."

John C. Mackie started work immediately, despite legal threats still hanging over his eligibility for office.

First, he ordered a temporary route to eliminate traffic congestion on U. S.-16 between a large state park, Kensington, and Detroit.

Then he announced that Detroit would need 250 miles of new expressways and at least one of them would have to link Michigan's largest city with the state highway system.

Republicans, watching all this activity, then sniffed:

"If Mackie just connects all the highways Ziegler started, he will have nothing much to do during the first three years of his term." Mackie is ignoring all the talk.

Last week, he said he would present a five-year program for highway construction within two months.

Part of the plan, he indicated, will be a superhighway route from the southern part of the state to the Straights of Mackinac where the $100,000,000 straits bridge is due to open Nov. 1.

Incidentally, Gov. Williams will be the first motorist over the span which links Michigan's two peninsulas.

And, he will pay the toll—about $3 for his chauffeured limousine—just to set an example.

Successful Investing To Hold or Sell?

BY ROGER SPEAR

O. A. Pennsylvania reader owns, through inheritance, a list of stocks including Allied Stores, Atlantic Refining, National Biscuit, American Tobacco, Owens-Illinois Glass common and preferred, J. J. Newbury, Kennecott Copper, Sterling Drug and American Telephone. She is counting on dividends to eke out retirement income when reaching 65 and asks "Shall I sell or hold?"

A. It gives a security analyst a very pleasant surprise when a list like this is submitted for appraisal. The unknown testator deserves congratulations, posthumously, for having accumulated a sound list of stocks, without, in Street parlance, a "dog" among them. The list submitted from Pennsylvania does not include many potentially dynamic stocks, but it is well diversified and contains some elements of long-term growth. The average yield on the ten stocks at current market is 5.35%. Adjusted for the amounts held in each issue, the return to our Pennsylvania reader is a highly satisfactory 5.2%. The quality of the list is above average.

It might be of interest to glance briefly at each of the stocks listed. Allied Stores, of course, is the biggest department store chain whose No. 1 holding is Jordan Marsh of Boston. Suburban expansion has been well directed and earnings this year should exceed last year's $5.05 a share, very ample coverage for the present $3 dividend. Atlantic Refining is a large independent refiner, producing a little over half its own crude oil requirements. The company has important holdings in Venezuela which will ultimately lessen its dependence on domestic crude purchases. This is a sound holding for growth. National Biscuit is the leader in its field. Stock offers stability and a dividend record going back to 1899. Prospects for market appreciation are rather limited. American Tobacco has been held back in price by medical criticism directed at cigarette smoking. Earnings have not been noticeably affected and have risen steadily in the past four years. Earnings this year should surpass $8 a share, well in excess of the $5 dividend rate.

Owens-Illinois Glass common is a blue-chip with an impressive growth record. The company is the largest producer of glass containers, and has a one-third interest in Owens-Corning Fiberglass, leader in a new fast growing industry. Earnings of Owens-Illinois have slipped recently on lower sales of television tubes, but share profits this year will probably be double the $2.50 annual dividend requirement. I would not normally advise holding an industrial preferred during a tight-money period, but Owens-Illinois preferred is supported by its conversion feature. After 1958 each share of preferred is convertible into 1.05 shares of Owens-Corning Fiberglass, which reached a high of 91 last year. The yield on your Owens-Illinois pfld. is fair and the conversion privilege may prove profitable.

Newberry (J. J.) is a medium-sized variety chain. Appreciation prospects are rather limited but the yield is good and the dividend seems well protected. I like Kennecott in spite of the depressed state of the coppers, which may be nearing the end of a cyclical downturn. The regular dividend rate of $6 will probably be maintained although extras are likely to be omitted. Sterling Drug is the leader in proprietary medicines (Bayer Aspirin) and has a growing position in ethical drugs. This again is a stable, defensive-type issue with elements of growth. American Telephone needs no comment. I know of no arrangement whereby you can turn in stock to the company in exchange for debentures, and even if possible, I would advise strongly against your accepting a lower yield in order to do so. To sum up, your stocks individually and in the aggregate are sound and the list constitutes a good income-producing retirement fund. I believe it would be hard to better it for your purposes.

If Your Name Is JACK

BY ANN REYNOLDS, PH.D.

Jack, a popular and well liked name for men has been the familiar version of John for a long time. Today Jack is also an independent name.

Where do we look for the roots of Jack? At first sight it seems tempting to guess that it is related to the French Jacques, identical with our James. But this would mean jumping to unjustified conclusions. No connection exists between Jack and Jacques.

To clear up the problem of the origin of Jack a book was written by a scholar named E.W.B. Nicholson, back in 1892. He elaborated on the circumstance that from the original form of John, which was Johannes, first Jehan, and then Jan was gained. To this name the syllable kin was added, a sort of endearing syllable, the same as the Dutch kin, ken, and the German chen (which turns up in the name Gretchen, and the word Mädchen, meaning girl.) When -kin was added to Jan, it resulted in Jankin, and this was abbreviated to Jack.

Now this name was short enough, and ever since the 14th century it has been used without change. In Scotland a similar development took place, beginning with the Scotch form for John which was Jon, and so the Scots got Jock.

Quite a few words designating various objects derive from personal names. Among these no name acquired a larger number of meanings than Jack. The reason: Jack was the name of so many men and boys that this appellation came to mean just any man or boy; a fellow, a chap, a guy—this, by the way, is also from a first name, Guy. In some sayings Jack is being used instead of man; in Jack and Jill, for instance. Just as we say, "Tom, Dick and Harry," it used to be "Jack, Tom and Harry."

The word Jack having been used for a man, later was applied also to objects having the shape of a man, for instance to a mechanical device striking the outside of a clock. Then it was applied to devices saving human labor such as to machines lifting heavy weights. The jack is one of the most necessary tools carried in every automobile. How could a tire be changed otherwise? We also talk of a jack-knife, and this is a large clasp-knife that can be put into the pocket, and of jackboots. These originally were large strong boots the top of which came over the knee, and they were worn by cavalry soldiers in the 17th and 18th centuries. A large boot coming over the knee such as is worn by fishermen also is called a jackboot.

There is no space to elaborate on all the further meanings of the word Jack. To mention one more: in Australian slang jack plus kangaroo teamed up forming Jackaroo. A jackaroo is a newcomer, an inexperienced young colonist.

Cigarette Fire, Truck-Car Collision Cause Excitement

The Book Club met for lunch on Thursday, August 8 in the backyard of the Blankenhagen home on West Chicago for a going away get-together for Jennie O'Hara, Cranston, who has moved to Toledo. About 14 members attended and presented Jennie with a gift.

Beth Thiede, Louisiana, had her sister-in-law and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Nelson of St. Paul, Minn., as her guests for a few days last week.

Not an awful lot has been "cooking" here in the gardens this past few weeks, but the Gardner family on Loveland provided quite a bit of excitement early Saturday morning, by having a fire in their living room. Small Wally got up before the rest and decided to try lighting a cigarette behind an upholstered chair, then apparently forgot about the whole thing. At 7:30 six year-old Kenneth woke his mother and she found the chair ablaze and hastily got the family out, including two year old Brian. The living room furniture and rug will never be the same, and the family's pet bird died, but nobody was burned. Sure hope little Wally has given up cigarettes for all time!

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Barbieri and baby daughter Chrissy visited the Borgias on Blackburn for a few days upon their return from Europe. The Barbieri's eldest daughter, Alexis stayed with the Borgias while her parents were away.

Patty Lane, Auburndale, celebrated her first birthday August 1. Sister Susie Lane also had a birthday and a party the 27 of July.

Vacation Bible school at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church got into full swing Monday morning, August 12 and quite a few children from this way are attending and reporting a wonderful time.

Had a bit more excitement last week when the cleaner's truck and a car collided at the corner of Oregon and Louisiana, causing the truck to overturn. The little Schurch girl of Montana avenue was the only casualty suffering a cut lip and broken tooth.

The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church needs a filing cabinet, bookcases, stenographer's chair and lounge chair to furnish an office for the new assistant minister, so if you have any of these things you could donate or lend, call GA. 2-0494.

Erma Wiegand and son Bruce, Audrey Davis and sons Ralph and Jack along with Jinnie Rich spent a very pleasant day Thursday, August 8 at the Art Museum.

The Gibsons, Cranston, have returned from a two week vacation in Canada. Daughter Gale spent the time her folks were away visiting the Davis family on Cranston, because Dottie Davis and Gale are both working girls now.

Miss Carol Loucks just recently returned from a week-long vacation in Canada where she visited her grandmother.

Tom and Joan Patterson, Westmore, celebrated Tom's birthday August 10 by attending the Show Boat Party at the Grosse Pointe Yacht club. Before the dinner dance they attended a cocktail hour at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don R. Ford of Grosse Pointe Woods.

Older young people and young adults, married or single, who attend Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church might be interested in enjoying the Labor day weekend, Friday, August 30 from 8:00 P.M. to Sept. 2, 2:00 P.M. at the Synod Camp near Greenville. If you are interested apply at the church office.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hopkins, Cranston, returned from their vacation at Black Lake Monday, August 12. On that evening they were entertained at dinner at the home of the Dowells also of Cranston.

St. Michael's church has a new assistant Pastor, Father Cavanaugh.

Phil and Nancy Snowberger,

Oregon, returned Sunday from a week long visit to Nancy's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Colette, in Ravenna, Ohio. While there they enjoyed sailing at the Muzzy Lake Yacht club and lots of swimming. They also visited a friend Martha Sloan in Canton, Ohio and when they returned brought Nancy's mother, Mrs. Carl Murray home for a visit.

Ruth and Tom Beagan and children Cheryl and Mickey, Vermont, enjoyed a day at Pt. Pelee, Canada.

Viv Quick, Vermont, and daughter Connie and our Marilyn attended the Northwest Detroit Park and Recreation Show Thursday evening, August 8 and saw Miss Detroit crowned.

Bob and Lillian Wolverton, W. Chicago, and children Bobby and Patty drove to Boston recently for a visit and also took in New York and Niagara Falls.

Johnny Cortis, W. Chicago, celebrated his first birthday August 3rd.

If you are interested in enrolling your child in the Rosedale Garden Cooperative school, the waiting list is short at present! School will start September 23 and is for children in the three to five bracket. Call Marjorie Barquist, GA. 2-5953 or Dolores Nique, GA. 1-7576.

Laura Hawthorne, Melrose, entertained the Welcome Wagon Newcomer's club Wednesday night, August 14 with three tables of bridge.

The Hawthornes, George and Laura and daughter Janet are new residents in Rosedale Gardens, having lived on Melrose for about two months, now. Don't forget to join Civic this fall, folks! For that matter, don't anybody!

Anybody interested in being shown how to cut hair—especially children's—should get in touch with Peg Jenkins, GA. 1-3539 because if enough members of civic are interested, a class can be started this fall and we could all abandon the manicure scissors and bowl method.

Still haven't got all the details on Dancing School for this year, but Peg Miquelon called to tell me that it is in the bag, so plan accordingly and I'll let you know the date, time, price, etc. in the very near future.

Teddy Gozbialski, Brookfield, celebrated his ninth birthday August 7 with a birthday party. Those attending were Teddy's sister Elizabeth, brothers Stevie and Eugene, Joey Bonk, Mark and Cindy Cisak, Butch Curtis, Jack Jankowicz and an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewalski and daughter Christine of Detroit.

BY EARLEEN POMROY
GA. 1-5231

Jennifer Kastner, West Chicago, recently returned from a stay at her grandparents' farm near Clifford, Mich.

Ron Conway, Vermont, was the original hard luck kid last week, with an abscessed tooth that required three stitches and a sprained ankle all in one day.

A bridal shower was held Saturday night, August 10 at the Livonia Baptist church on Schoolcraft for Kay Gallagher, bride-to-be of Jim Jones of Wayne. The decorations were orchid and white and a two heart cake decorated in orchid flowers with the names Kay and Jim on it. The shower was given by the Women's Missionary Union of the church. The couple will be married August 31 and leave immediately for Texas where Jim is enrolled in college.

August 25 the Livonia Baptist church will have a program "Christmas without snow."

The Santiches, Loveland, and children George, Anthony, Vi Ann and Joyce are leaving August 24 for their new home in California. Sure nice to think of at least some people who won't be shoveling snow this winter!

Margaret and Norman Hamilton, Louisiana, are the parents of a new baby boy, Roger Dean who was born at Ford hospital August 6 and weighed eight pounds, two ounces.

There will be some openings in a dance millinery class at Women's club this fall. Anyone with sewing experience enough so she wouldn't be at a complete loss could join, and think of the fun of being able to make your own Easter bonnet this year instead of having to get in all those crowds! If you are interested call Dorothy Riggs, GA. 1-2951.

Debbie and Russ Parkinson, Melrose, entertained three couples August 10 for an evening of bridge. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. George Hawthorne, Melrose, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Toms, Dearborn and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dean, of Birmingham.

Viv and Speedy Quick, Vermont and daughters Connie and Janet Lee and Marilyn Pomroy attended the Union picnic at Edgewater Park Saturday.

Mrs. Roy Gowman, Arden, had a very pleasant birthday surprise Sunday August 11 when the organist James Marshall at Presbyterian church played the organ prelude. The prelude was composed by the Gowman's son, Ray F. Gowman, who is a music major at East Michigan College at Ypsilanti.

Sunday, August 11, Kathy Pons, Woodring and Gerri Casler, Louisiana who are cousins held a picnic in the Casler's backyard for their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George Rowlands and children Betty, Ernie, Margaret and Catherine who were visiting from Toronto.

Betty Dana, Nancy Snowberger, Celia Hearon, Joan Bialecki, and Jean Arlen all took off early last Thursday morning for a well known yearly sale in Plymouth, proving they have a lot more stamina in August than I do! Betty said it was pretty crowded, they pushed through the door sideways, and somehow she managed to lose one half of her shoe heel in the fray, but it was fun! What I'd like to know is, how much money do you have to save in a sale to make up for having to buy a new pair of shoes? This is economy???

August 21 the Livonia Baptist church had as guest speaker the Reverend Owen Murphy of London, England. Reverend Murphy has traveled many miles in the U.S., Canada and British Isles, France, Germany and Switzerland and been a guest speaker in many Evangelistic rallies throughout the country.

St. Michael's Altar Society held its first board meeting of the season August 20 at the school hall to discuss and plan activities for the coming year.

Michael Bremer, Hubbard, spent a week this month on the Great Lakes Cruise aboard the South American with his grandmother.

The kids over this way are having fun in the little that is left of our once beautiful forest behind Vermont. They have picked one of the few surviving large trees and are very busy building a tree house—not an ordinary run-of-the-mill one. These kids are hep and have two levels at present.

That's it for another week, folks, so get busy and phone me your news, please!

Nearby Willow Run Being Streamlined

The initial "interior" phase of the projected $1,500,000 improvement expansion program for nearby Detroit-Willow Run Airport is rapidly nearing completion according to the management of Airlines Terminal Corp. It is hoped that the $750,000 remodeling of the hangar-turned-terminal at the nation's 7th largest airport, in passenger use, will be ready for Tenth Anniversary ceremonies on September 10th. At that time the University of Michigan will mark the first ten years since its acquisition of Willow Run, famed during World War II for its Ford manufactured B-24 Liberators.

In the great statement it was noted that "the great upsurge in air travel generally, and at Willow Run particularly, called for more modern facilities for the 3,000,000 passengers who will go through the Terminal in 1957." This is an increase of more than 400 per cent over the 700,000 who used Willow Run in 1947.

Seven major airlines were operating out of Willow Run in 1946, under more or less temporary conditions. When the University of Michigan bought the property from the War Assets Administration on January 1, 1947, it immediately leased the airport to Airlines National Terminal Service Co., an industry formed company. ANTSCO started from the ground up to provide permanent, pleasant accommodations for crews and passengers, utilizing the vast No. 1 hangar as a main terminal building.

Expenses for the first phase of the program will be paid by the Airlines through Airlines Terminal Corp.

The second phase of the program—expansion and development of exterior ramp and runway elements—is expected to go into high gear shortly, thanks to the recent U.S. Government appropriation of $188,000 in aid matched by State of Michigan and Sponsor's funds.

Work on the immense job began last October but was delayed from time to time by material shortages. Original plans were drawn up by Minoru Yamasaki, noted Detroit architect who also designed the award-winning St. Louis Air Terminal in 1953. He is a member of Yamasaki, Leinweber & Associates, Royal Oak, Michigan. Most striking new features in the four-acre Terminal building is the unique "false ceiling" which conceals the original superstructure. It employs 3,660 vertically hung particle boards and 1,780 horizontal clear plastic panels that reflect mercury vapor lights beamed from electrical units on the lobby floor. The parabola arc serves to facilitate the flow of cool air from the air-conditioning vents imbedded in the west wall. In case of fire the plastic panels will drop out to permit the sprinkler system to operate. The ceiling is the only one of its kind ever built.

There are 40 overhead loudspeakers for the public address system. Surrounded by the absorbent boards, the speakers are clearly audible, cutting acoustical "blare" to a minimum.

Another "first" at Detroit-Willow Run will be the spacious cafeteria erected on the site of the former coffee shop. To date it is the only commercial airport cafeteria in the nation. Operated by Al Green Enterprises, it is equipped to serve 4,000 meals a day.

Among other improvements are: new flooring throughout, telephone booths with pastel phones and swivel seats; renovated restrooms, a combination snack and liquor stand-up bar. Already in effect is the self-claim baggage system which has been hailed by passengers as a time-saver.

The exterior of the Terminal boasts a new curved corrugated canopy and a decorative cinder-block wall.

The parking lot has been increased in size to accommodate at least 900 more automobiles. The long-awaited new traffic pattern, which eliminates the thirty-minute, angled parking in order to expedite arrivals and departures, has just gone into operation.

Casualness Keynotes Fall Fashion Line

A REFRESHING OUTFIT in or out of the classroom is the bright plaid gingham suspender skirt with a white man-tailored shirt pictured to the left. At the right a jewel-tented plaid ensemble strikes a harmonious note for fall. The slim sheath has a hip-length chemise jacket with a handsome shawl collar. Plaids in cotton or wool will be popular in ripping permanent pleats, soft unpressed box pleats, billowy skirts and sheaths this fall.

The cotton ensemble with its eased casualness makes a striking note in the parade of fall fashions.

Once again the sheath appears, often bloused and sporting the added attraction of a bus-boy bolero, a hip-length jacket, a cape stole or a coat to complete a harmonious ensemble.

Teammates in cotton knit are effortless to wear and care for, and they are practical for the coed and career girl who like to mix, match and interchange. Included in this casual group are sleek pants worn with bulky knitted jackets, skirts and vests that come in textured jacquard patterns; printed separates packaged prettily in cardigan tops, middie shirts, shorts, slacks and skirts.

Corduroy had its face lifted this season to reveal a new personality that promises fun and activity. It reflects the 30's in two-piece middie and skirt separates. It has grace and warmth as the shirtwaister and it even takes a new turn in a perky back-to-school outfit that has a reversible cotton plaid lining.

Velveteen is luxuriously ensembled for day, date and at home day - dreaming. It is sparkling as a sheath which molds the figure ensembled with an evening coat. It is printed lavishly for sheath and bolero and for skirt and demimidi.

For leisure togs that romp and relax velveteen is used for tapered trousers colorfully topped with a rug-printed bolero or shirt. A contrasting wide cummerbund accents a small waistline.

The ballerina look will be popular in sports-wear this fall for school-age young ladies.

Cotton leotards, traditional practice costume of ballerinas, have invaded the sportswear picture and provide many creative costume combinations for leisure hours.

Leotards in black or red will be worn beneath shorts or skirts. Alone they will make a figure-fitting variation on the at-home trouser theme.

Some back-to-schoolers will choose cotton, corduroy Bermuda shorts to slip on over their slim leotards. Others will prefer short or knee-length pleated skirts of cotton knit.

Other skirt styles that adapt naturally to the leotard look are full circular skirts of brightly colored velveteen and wrap-arounds of woven plaids.

Cotton leotards are available in either two-piece sets, consisting of tights and T-shirts, or one-piece, over-all styles. For the one-piece style a smart combination is Bermuda shorts topped with a cotton shirt opened at the neck. When just the tights are worn

Roasting Time

Boned and rolled roasts have become increasingly popular with the American homemaker the last few years. When cooking any type of boned or rolled roast, remember that the roasts require approximately 10 more minutes per pound more cooking time than roasts which have not been boned.

Easy Dinner

Prepare your favorite meat loaf mixture. Pack it into an 8x11-inch loaf pan. After baking cut the loaf into six equal portions. Top each portion with a swirl of mashed potatoes. Place the meat squares and mashed potatoes under the broiler just long enough for the potatoes to gain a golden tinge.

Americans drink approximately 10 billion glasses of iced tea and serve it with 186 million pounds of sugar and 720 million lemons.

beneath skirts or shorts, they are ensembled with bulky cotton knit sweaters, draw-string blouses or sissy shirts. Solid colors, stripes and many patterns are available in these cover-ups.

Styles Stage 30's Revival

The relaxed silhouette, the unbelted waistline, the nautical theme, all reminiscent of the 30's, are featured in fall.

The nautical theme comes ashore with a variety of fabrics and patterns. Gay plaids represent every clan, menswear stripes are bold or conservative, glen plaid cotton suiting is neat and smart and jeweled foulard prints are also used to interpret these trends in a casual manner.

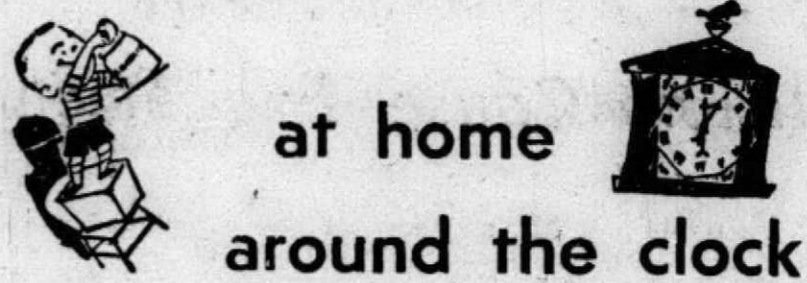

Sailor ties, middie tops and brass buttons are some of the accents on fall ensembles. Even the little boy jackets get to the point with their brevity.

Free-form silhouettes with their undefined waistlines are 1957 versions of the 30's look. A corduroy dress, slim but loosely styled with chemise waistband is typical of the trend. A plaid ensemble features a middie jacket pulled low to the hipbone and worn with a sheath. The demi-middie, a modern interpretation of an old favorite, often features a bow at the midriff of an undefined waistline and frequently has feminine accents of lace.

All these outfits, made in luxurious cotton, reflect today's softly molded silhouette, inspired by styles of another day but given great chic through 1957 designing knowhow.

STARLIGHT BECOMES YOU—Capture the beauty of a starlit night in a bright blue evening sweater shimmering with metallic threads. This utterly feminine sweater-blouse is knitted in alternate stripes of plain cotton and metallic cotton throughout. The wide V-neckline and tiny sleeves are outlined with silver beads and rhinestones. Knit one for your dating pleasure in size 12, 14 or 16. Full instructions may be obtained by writing to the Needlework Department of this paper and asking for EVENING SWEATER, Leaflet No. S-726. Make Salmon Mold Your Specialty

Your reputation as a successful hostess is assured the moment your guests have tasted Salmon Mold Supreme. This is a molded salmon salad at its very best.

With a zesty flavor which belies its satiny smoothness, this is the sort of special treat you can serve those particular guests when cans of tasty salmon stand ready in the kitchen cupboard.

Tomorrow marks the beginning of National Canned Salmon Week—August 23 to 30. Salmon, with its wealth of nutritive value is a real gold mine among pantry shelf items. First of all, it is a complete protein food, offering the same body and bone-building qualities as meat, eggs, poultry and milk...and often much less expensively.

In addition, canned salmon is an excellent source of calcium, iodine, vitamins A, B, and D, as well as phosphorus and other important minerals. What's more, canned salmon is comparatively low in calories.

What could be more fitting for Canned Salmon Week than this extra-special recipe. The fish-shaped mold will add interest for guests and family alike.

Salmon Mold Supreme

- 1 pound can salmon
- 1 tablespoon gelatine
- ¼ cup cold water
- Salmon liquid plus hot water to make ¼ cup
- ½ cup chopped celery
- ½ cup stuffed olives, sliced
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 1 cup sour cream

- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon grated onion
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup chopped parsley

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Heat salmon liquid with water and pour over gelatine to dissolve. Add sour cream and mayonnaise and stir until smooth. Add flaked salmon and remaining ingredients. Combine well. Pour into well greased mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on large platter, garnish with cucumber and lemon slices. Makes 6 servings.

Sausage Sandwich Idea

Plump pork sausages, apple sauce and American cheese can join together to form a sandwich that's A-1 on the list of sandwich favorites. Arrange cooked pork sausage links on a slice of toast which has been spread with apple sauce. Allow 2 links per slice of bread. Top each bread slice with cheese strips before serving, and slip into broiler just until the cheese melts.

Lamb Chop Accompaniment

Broiled meats, especially broiled lamb chops, are popular summer menu headliners. As colorful complements, tomato halves may be topped with grated cheese or buttered bread crumbs or perhaps a peach or apricot half could be filled with a marshmallow. Both of these lamb chop partners may be broiled right with the chops as they finish cooking on the second side.

Color Splashes Fashion Scene With Spectrum of Shades, Uses

Color, color everywhere—that's the most outstanding, and most delightful, fashion news of the fall '57 season. Dresses, coats, suits, sportswear and accessories range the spectrum, displaying both light, bright and rich, glowing shades of blue, red, yellow, green and purple.

With such an array of hues in evidence, even the classic styles—of which there are many this season—take on a fresh exciting look. Fashion's new silhouettes add impact through the daring use of color.

Whether the look is complete color coordination or basics such as black, brown or gray plus color, its fashion expression is easy and graceful. Both slim and full silhouettes are newly interpreted.

Color being so important, no one shade dominates. Among the blue an almost-royal shade looks particularly fresh, but fashion gives plenty of attention to sapphire, purplish and greenish blues.

Red runs the gamut from bright to dark. There are true reds, jewel, wine and organdy reds. Orange and yellow show up frequently.

The choice among greens is equally inviting, with both the woody hues and sparkling emeralds appearing. Purple heads into another successful season, in rich jewel tones and light flowery hues.

Going hand in hand with color are prints. Prints are everywhere this fall—on velvet, corduroy, wool and silk. The wide variety of popular patterns included leopard and zebra prints, mattress ticking stripes, many paisleys, and neat geometrics.

Satin, chiffon, brocade and velvet create glamour for the evening scene, in vivid reds, electric and peacock blues, citrus yellows and tangerines, glowing pinks and emerald greens. The sparkle of gold or silver metallic threads enhances many costumes.

Amid the whirl of color, there's excitement in boldly white or black fashions, with the black crepe dress getting special attention.

Trimmings too, are opulent and include lace, beading, sequins, metallic embroidery and lavish helpings of fur.

Black and other neutrals have increasing importance as background for brilliant hats and accessories. Among the neutrals, pale gray and navy make a fall appearance, while designers are particularly fond of brown, especially the taupe shades. Gold is a new neutral.

With all this to choose from, women of every age are assured a fashionable and colorful fall which will best suit their coloring and desires.

U. S. Sets Rules For Good Windows

A treatment that for practical purposes eliminates sticking and rattling of standard double-hung wood windows is required by Commercial Standard CS190-53 of the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Windows that meet the requirements of this "voluntary standard of the trade" must be treated with a chemical that repels water and acts as a preservative. It minimizes shrinking, swelling, and warping.

Design Keeps Costs Low

Neat, uncomplicated house design usually goes hand in hand with low cost. Take, for example, this modern 3-bedroom, 1½-bathroom ranch house tailored for leisurely indoor and outdoor living.

Designed by architect Rudolph A. Matern, Jamaica, N. Y., the house has a 24-foot-long porch with connecting doorways to the living room, dining room, kitchen, and garage. The porch opens on an 18 by 20-foot patio, an ideal arrangement for family dining, informal entertaining, or children's recreation.

Framing for the house has been simplified without any loss of livability or eye appeal. The main roof section, of conventional gable construction, has a gentle slope. It is covered with an attractive blend of light-color asphalt shingles. The roof sets the color scheme for the exterior of the house. The siding is in a harmonizing shade and the window trim repeats the roof color. There are two service entrances to the house, one at each end of the kitchen. In conjunction with the main entrance and the short hall into which it leads, these provide a good traffic pattern.

The three bedrooms extend across the rear of the house. The hallway separating the living and sleeping areas serves well as a sound barrier. The L-shaped kitchen is separated from the dining room by a breakfast bar.

The house can be constructed with or without a basement. Thick mineral wool insulation acts as a heat barrier to keep winter warmth in the house and summer heat out. It makes possible the installation of a smaller, less expensive central air-conditioning system and reduces the day-to-day cost of operating it as well as the cost of heating fuel.

Additional information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, L. I., N. Y. Refer to plan No. 9399.

HERE'S HOW ... MAKE A SNACK BAR

Need extra space when the youngsters come running into the house hungry from playing out-of-doors? A snack bar, which can be easily made, may solve the problem. The snack bar also doubles as a buffet table for outdoor picnics and barbecues.

The frame is made first, using 1 by 4-inch lumber. Cut the frame members to the dimensions shown. Assemble with waterproof glue and 8-penny finishing nails. Next, from a 14-foot piece of 3 by 3-inch lumber, cut four pieces each 39 inches long for the legs. Use a miter box to help in cutting square ends.

1 by 12-inch lumber. Mark each corner of the shelf for a cut-out as shown. Use a leg as a guide.

The top is made of 1 by 8-inch lumber. Cut two pieces 72-inches long. Edge-glue the boards with a waterproof glue.

Pasten the frame to the legs with glue and 8-penny finishing nails. Toenail the shelf to the legs, using glue and 10-penny finishing nails. Attach the top with 10-penny finishing nails.

Set all nails and fill the holes with wood filler. Round all sharp edges and sand the snack bar smooth.

Paint or stain and varnish.

CUT COAL CONSUMPTION

The rate at which your coal furnace is consuming fuel sometimes can be retarded with very little effort. Dissolve a half pound of washing soda in a gallon of water and sprinkle the solution over the coal in the bin a few days before using it. You may find that the coal will last longer and also give off more heat.

Bolstering Lawn in Autumn

Wise counsel advocates seeding of bluegrass type lawns in autumn. Nature bestows her favors bountifully then, so that a thick vigorous turf should be well under way by freeze-up. But what of an old, thin lawn? What's most important for the established lawn in autumn?

The first thing is to evaluate existing grass. If a good scattering of fine turfgrasses are present, even though thin, the program is relatively simple. Autumn is the season when Kentucky bluegrass thickens - "til-lers" or branches, the agronomist might say. It also stores energy for a burst of growth in spring. Encourage it in these pursuits by generous feeding.

Probably a complete fertilizer, high in nitrogen, would be appropriate for most soils. Using a plant food on the order of 12-8-6, ten or fifteen pounds for an area 30' by 30', would be appropriate.

If the lawn is thin, or predominating in coarse "hay-grasses", an upgrading should start by overseeding with quality seed. Two pounds of mixture heavy in bluegrass will easily overseed the area mentioned. Distribute the seed uniformly, best accomplished with a seeder-spreader, scuffing the surface of any bare areas so the seed will catch.

While fertilizing and overseeding are the main autumn objectives, regular care should continue. Mow regularly, so that grass enters winter no more than 2" or 3" tall. Otherwise it may mat and kill beneath winter snows. If weeds threaten, apply appropriate herbicides (but not on new seedlings or young grass not yet mowed). Dandelions and chickweed often get their foothold in autumn.

Rake or pulverize tree leaves that might mat, smothering grass. Although autumn drought is seldom serious, don't let the lawn enter winter in a state of desiccation. Sprinkling during a dry autumn will likely benefit bluegrass more than it does in summer.

An African elephant, despite its weight, can run as fast as 25 miles an hour. A rhinoceros and giraffe can do about 30 miles an hour.

New Zealand's population of 2,000,000 includes about 130,000 native Maoris, descendants of old migrants from Pacific Islands.

Amateur Builds Novel Divider

This glamorous entertainment center and room divider was built by an amateur craftsman at a cost under $75 for material. Using framework construction covered with Masonite hardboards, he created a colorful device having a high fidelity recording unit and amplifiers, bar (over girl's head), desk, record and game storage behind sliding hardboard doors and drawers for linen storage. "Peg-Board" panels cover the other side, facing the dining room. The perforated panels are used for hanging works of art. The entertainment center is colorfully painted in two shades of yellow, three of blue, two of tan, one of red.

Many of the youngsters had never played before. Some were so small that they played in a separate four-hole division. Winners were presented gold Oscar trophies, lapel buttons, or gold belt buckles, awards night. YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
 BY JEAN EVANS

Readers are invited to write a sentence or two in ink to Jean Evans, in care of this newspaper. The writer may sign his or her initials or use an anonymous name.

Dear Jean:
 I am one who finds it hard to discuss things with the opposite sex and I would like to know how to be at ease with them. I would like to marry again but feel so backward about accepting dates.

Sincerely,
 Mrs. Home Lover

Dear Mrs. Home Lover:
 To conserve space I had to leave out part of your letter. Thank you for filling me in on the details of your past, it makes it easier to answer your letter. You are a person of varied emotions. You are afraid to let go. Just about the time you discover yourself relaxed with people you immediately do an about face and withdraw into yourself. You are really a very nice person. You are able to carry on an interesting conversation. You are optimistic, always looking forward to better things in the future. You are a good manager, generous but also able to watch the pennies when necessary. You are a good worker and take pride in doing a good job.

You are self-conscious and your feelings are easily hurt. Because of past disappointments you are on the defensive.

Try being friendly to a people and stop seeing men as prospective husbands. You will find they are just people with problems perhaps even greater than yours. Love and marriage will then come naturally. Love usually comes when we are least expecting it.

Dear Jean:
 Just another sample for diagnosis and for curiosity's sake, does the change of a pen point confuse the issue or alter your verdict?

Sincerely,
 J.A.N.

The first thing an analyst does when preparing to analyze a specimen of handwriting is to determine the type of writing instrument used. There are half a dozen character traits that can be determined only when a straight pen or a fountain pen are used because they are revealed through the amount of ink expelled by the pressure on the pen. A ball-point pen is better than a pencil. To get a true picture the analyst would prefer the flowing ink pen to the ball-point pen.

Dear Jean:
 Will you please analyze the two handwriting samples I am submitting?
 I am particularly interested in your opinion as to the suitability of the two writers as a couple.

Thank you,
 Hilda S.

Dear Hilda S:
 You are a person with very high ideals and have a vivid imagination. You like the more plain things in life and vanity is evident in your outlook. You are emotional but don't want anybody to know it. You are a practical and thrifty person.

The handwriting of your friend indicates a certain amount of egotism and selfishness. He has rich appetites, requiring them to be satisfied. He is easily influenced, likely to go along with the boys just to show he is a "good Joe". He has ability along the lines of literature, art or music. He shows persistence in anything he does or desires. The analyst discovers and presents the facts. It is up to you to decide about your future. If you wish to discuss this further, will you please send me a self-addressed stamped envelope?

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

What should a girl do when boys ask her for dates and she's not yet allowed to "go out" with them?—Make up an excuse? Go without telling her parents? Or explain it to the boy and make other plans to see him?

Q.—Dear Elinor: My mother won't let me have dates, but she lets me go to dances at school. A nice boy at one of these dances asked me how old I was and I said '12'. He later asked me to go to a movie with him. My mother wouldn't hear of it. How can I have boy-friends and fun if my mother won't let me have dates?

Ans.—Next time a boy invites you to a movie, just be natural and casual about telling him that you'd like to go, but you're not allowed to have movie dates yet... and could he come over to your house Friday night for a coke and some of your mother's brownies (or chocolate cake or cookies or whatever you'll serve for a snack with a cold drink).

Invite another boy and girl he knows, if you think it will be more fun. Watch TV, play games or cards, listen to records or dance. If no other space is available, you can have fun in the kitchen. (Don't leave it in a mess.)

Your parents will probably let you "go out" on dates gradually, if, at first, one of them or one of the boy's parents takes you where you play to go and brings

Report High Wheat Yield On Canton Twp. Farm

An unusually high wheat yield of 348 bushels from eight acres was reported recently by Fred Korte Jr., 40954 Warren Road. Korte, who operates the farm for Edward Hough, averaged 43½ bushels of Genesee wheat to the acre.

According to Nick A. Smith, Assistant Wayne County agricultural agent, the Korte harvest is far above the state average of 29 bushels to the acre as well as the 28 bushels to the acre Wayne County average.

Korte planted his bumper crop September 28, 1956 and harvested July 24.

Confidence and Cooperation

TEACHER'S FRIENDLY SMILE and trim, attractive appearance help to win confidence and cooperation of pupils. Versatile utility, varied with blouses and simple jewelry, are a necessity of her wardrobe. Neat and attractive, too, is teacher's desk, with plastic planners to hold room-brightening plants and to keep supplies in good order. By Kimball.

Send Child Back to School In Tip Top Shape for Study

How to Make Sure They Look, Feel Best

BY LOCHIE D. KIRK
Parent Magazine Editor
The opening day of school is near. You sense its importance, even without looking at your calendar, as you get your youngsters ready for the Big First Day—that sturdy five-year-old, aglow with enthusiasm for his first kindergarten session, the pre-teen boy, hair slicked down so it's almost fully; and the adolescent daughter full of excitement at going back to school and the crowd again.
Summer tans haven't yet faded—the glow of good health is on their cheeks and they are ready to go to school. How can you help them maintain this sense of well-being?

Importance of Meals
You know how important good nutrition is and succeed well with the meals you provide for your family. But have you formed the good habit of checking with the school cafeteria director to see what's to be served at noon? If she hasn't been sending advance weekly menus home perhaps you and the other members of the PTA can persuade her to do it this year.
You will then be able to re-check your menus to avoid duplication and to see that your breakfasts and dinners supplement the school lunches and provide a well-balanced diet for the children.

What about a good physical and dental check-up for every child? It's most important at this time. You feel better when you know he's in the best of health. Insist on the necessary hours of sleep for each grade child, usually at your doctor's prescription for the school.
Keep your little girl's clothes simple so that she can dress herself and trim and neat. (The new drip-dry fabrics are wonderful and save many an hour that just a few years ago were spent at the ironing board.) No ruffles, please, for school, and no two-piece outfits that come apart at the waist as she plays vigorously.
Why not have your daughter's hair styled by an expert and cut short for simplicity and easy management? By all means avoid fussiness. If she looks well in bangs and craves them, let her have them. If she prefers the ponytail style, let her have it. This style is becoming to most little girls (and teen-agers, too) and it's easy to keep neat.
Encourage Daily Bath
Encourage the daily bath, not too rushed, or fun as well as cleanliness. The youngsters should have the habit of personal cleanliness. And bath time is a good time to teach the children how to shampoo and rinse their hair themselves.

College Financing is Easier With Credit Plans, Loans

Annual recurrence of the—which call for ever higher attention of parents, once again, the youth's college financing problem is an insurmountable one for many parents.
Actually 60 percent of today's college students earn at least a part of their expenses themselves, by part-time work.
Most colleges will now lend money to students whose grades are satisfactory. With an estimated $42,000,000 available in loan funds, only about half is now being used.
Every year some 20,000 college scholarships go begging for their own on this point. The other half of the money for education problem include veterans' and R.O.T.C. benefits.
One of the fastest growing ideas here, is the use of installment credit to pay for higher education the same way a family buys a car.
This idea was born with the founding of the National Plan in 1938 and is now available in some 560 schools and colleges.
Once entrance requirements

College Costs

Average cost of a year in college is now estimated by educational authorities, to be around $1,500 in tax supported universities and $2,000 a year in privately controlled schools. "Tuition" as high school students were born.
Similarly, the number of college students who earn part of their expenses while at school has increased vastly.

Importance of Reading

75 per cent of all study activities in elementary school and 80 to 90 per cent in high school require reading ability.

Critical Shortage of School Rooms, Nation's Big Problem

BY GEORGE J. HECHT
Publisher, Parents Magazine
Millions of school children are crowded into school rooms because of the critical shortage of school buildings. This creates a tragic loss of talent badly needed in the nation. A majority of local school boards are building new schools in the same old-fashioned way.
Action must be stimulated by the people who care the most. For procedure help, apply to the National Citizens Council for Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, New York 18, N. Y.
In nearly every state some local districts do not have the taxable wealth from which to raise funds for schools they need. Others have the financial ability but are hampered by unrealistic legislation.

Teener Pack Up All School Needs

For teen-agers who like to travel light on their way to school, new wallets designed in a variety of styles and colors, with roomy pockets, gussets and expandable tabs, are credited with the gains, not jealously guarded, of the School Safety Patrols. Brown and white, they are needed by both boys and girls; crossing should make sure now, before the big color in all-wool fleeces polo coats is, of course, the classic camel shade.

Cooperation Efforts Work

Cooperation between school authorities, police and such civic minded organizations as automobile clubs, in providing children with education in traffic safety, and in setting up precautions against the hazards of traffic, are credited with the gains, not jealously guarded, of the School Safety Patrols. Brown and white, they are needed by both boys and girls; crossing should make sure now, before the big color in all-wool fleeces polo coats is, of course, the classic camel shade.

Alertness Essential

Alertness on the part of the motorist is especially necessary in areas beyond the reach of School Patrols. Similarly, those who participate in car pools organized to take children to school should use extra caution. All motor vehicle drivers should make sure now, before the big color in all-wool fleeces polo coats is, of course, the classic camel shade.

Better Safety Record is This Year's Aim

Announcement of the opening ranks of mothers, special police patrols, all have contributed to the safety record.
The one hazard against which can insure the youngsters and their parents is the traffic. In the lower grades—is their own play exuberance which leads them to unpredictable accidents such as darting suddenly into the street after a loose ball, or occasionally trying to beat a car to a crossing out of the driveway.
"Moderation these unpredictable actions of children at all times," says Harry I. Kirk, president of the American Automobile Association. "The Sam Browns belts are on duty to help keep you from becoming a statistic. It is up to you and them, all the cooperation you can."

Topcoats Top Off Dress-Up Scene For Students

Topcoats are very much part of the back-to-school wardrobe picture, in all age brackets, especially for "dress-up" occasions.
The high school and prep boys, as always, are following the lead of the college crowd, which this year favors double-breasted polo coats with belted backs. Even the younger students are fashion-conscious enough to realize that belted back polo coats help to create a debonair air (or, as they are more likely to call it, the real "cool" look).
The big color in all-wool fleeces polo coats is, of course, the classic camel shade.

Alertness Essential

Alertness on the part of the motorist is especially necessary in areas beyond the reach of School Patrols. Similarly, those who participate in car pools organized to take children to school should use extra caution. All motor vehicle drivers should make sure now, before the big color in all-wool fleeces polo coats is, of course, the classic camel shade.

GETTING TOGETHER to compare notes, big and little girls agree it's good to be back to school. The scene, from an jumper drive, few classroom wear. Flaid tie and belt, girl's sister's jumper, big sister's choice features high-waist, waistline, neat blouse.

'Safest-Route-to-School' Project Teaches Traffic Rules

Pointing out that "an empty desk, caused by a traffic accident, is totally unwelcome, even in the most overcrowded schools," Harry J. Kirk, president of the Michigan Traffic Safety Association, calls attention to a new and significant project that is spreading across the land.

It is the "Safest-Route-to-School" project and it calls for cooperation between teachers and pupils, since teachers are in a responsible position.

Even though most children get some guidance from home, says Mr. Kirk, modern elementary school teachers are prepared to round out and integrate safety lessons so that the youngsters may know their responsibilities.

A million of children all across the nation this Fall will start their formal education in safety under this project which was developed by the AAA and spread by affiliated clubs.

It usually starts with teacher and children working with neighbors and children of the neighborhood served by the school. The children are shown relationships of the school to streets, traffic lights, positions of police officers, crossing guards, School Safety Patrols and other aids, and also danger points are noted.

One of the main objectives of the map is accomplished by a field trip for the children under the direction of teachers.

After the class map has been made, each child is given a smaller outline map on which to locate his own home and all safety aids. This is done on the map they are to draw on.

They also are requested to walk over the preferred route with the child to be sure the child knows the "safest route" to school, and understand why it should be used.

MAINTAINING ORDER ON THE BUS, (also in the name of safety) enroute to and from school is part of the job of the School Bus Patrolman under the plan worked out by the AAA in amplification of the wonderfully successful efforts of the School Safety Patrols. They work in pairs to assist the bus driver.

Letters Home

Correspondence hard to coax from collegiate offspring? Good plan for parents is to equip the college-bound with a supply of stamped, addressed envelopes. Include some postcards, too, for use on extra-busy occasions.

Working out a code for the letters from college on the back of a postcard, can be fun for all.

Rules for Good Teeth

Dentists list four simple rules to give children a good start toward better dental health: Brush teeth or rinse mouth immediately after eating. Eat a well-balanced diet with a minimum of sweets. Have frequent dental check-ups. Drink fluoridated water where it is available.

Red is "Hot"

The red-hot color on the red hot chili pepper will be red! Chiefly coupled with black it will be especially favored in outerwear and sportswear.

Youngsters should be taught to thoroughly dry their feet after a bath, to discourage fungus growth.

Trunks, TV Suggested for College Room

It won't be long till moving day. College students will soon be packing up their belongings and moving into their college rooms and getting set for an exciting year.

In the move, all the comforts of home needn't be left behind. With a little thought and a few attractive additions, the college room can become a home away from home—a comfortable place to live as well as a convenient place to study.

For the college co-ed, fixing up the dormitory room is a challenge in decorating, and even her male counterpart isn't as oblivious to the cheering influence of colorful curtains and bedspreads as he may pretend.

No matter how complete the furnishings of the dormitory room, personal extras are bound to make it seem more like home. Scatter rugs, a desk set, bookends, cushions and the ever-popular penman are just a few of the many possibilities.

For studying, a good lamp should be a primary consideration. Both decorative and useful, both, would be a good posting of a favorite picture.

One easy way to provide extra seating space in the dorm room is to let a flat packing trunk (recommended college luggage) do double duty. Covered with an attractive spread, the trunk can serve as both window seat and storage space.

In the line of trunks, Eds and Co. Eds will appreciate a portable television set for its educational value. The set might be a "going away to college" gift from Mom and Dad.

Students in doubt about what extra equipment is needed or permitted in their dorm should contact the dorm manager and talk to friends attending the chosen school. And, of course, the prospective roommate's tastes should be consulted whenever possible.

Parents can and should play an important part in the development of their children on vocational-building trips to zoos, industrial plants, museums and other places where they will be exposed to new experiences and new words.

An Editorial on Traffic Safety and the Child

Many traffic safety experts are concerned over the growing number of mothers who herd their own and their neighbors' children into the family car for the three or four block ride to school.

It's not the pampering the safety men object to, it's the attitude that so many parents have adopted of trying to completely isolate their children from the hazards of present day traffic.

Shoes to fit your family and your budget

Some Pointers for Mother in Choosing Child's Back to School Shoes

Say what you please, "Mother school shoes. Your parents probably looked for the heavy, up-to-date shoes for their children today know that tender feet need the resilience of light-weight leather and light construction. Besides, they wear as well as the old-fashioned heavy pair of hand-me-down shoes. You should not buy shoes for your child to grow into. They will cause blisters and misshapen feet, with all the ills that attend them, in later life. There should be about three-quarters of an inch between the longest toes and the heel of the shoe. The shape of the shoe should conform to that of the foot, and the swing of general direction of the shoe should be the same as that of the foot. If your child says the shoe hurts, don't buy it, of course. But don't trust him if he says it fits. He probably got his mind on getting back to baseball. Check the shoe yourself and have the clerk check it. And don't trust your child to tell you when the shoe is outgrown. Children are stoical about pain; they just don't notice it. So every month, for any signs of wear on either the shoe or the foot.

FOR FOOT HEALTH

Youngsters should be taught to thoroughly dry their feet after a bath, to discourage fungus growth.

Rules for Good Teeth

Dentists list four simple rules to get children a good start toward better teeth.

Brush teeth or rinse mouth immediately after eating. Eat a well-balanced diet with a minimum of sweets. Have frequent dental check-ups. Drink fluoridated water where it is available.

Red is "Hot"

The red-hot color on the campus this fall will be black. Children, especially involved in outdoorwear and sportswear.

Youngsters should be taught to thoroughly dry their feet after a bath, to discourage fungus growth.

Trunks, TV Suggested for College Room

It won't be long till moving day. College students will soon be packing up their trunks and heading for college rooms and getting set for an exciting year.

In the move, all the comforts of home needn't be left behind. With a little thought and a few attractive additions, the college room can become a home away from home—a comfortable place to live as well as a convenient place to study.

For the college co-ed, fixing a room can be a real challenge in decoration. It's even her male counterpart isn't as oblivious to the cheering influence of colorful curtains and bedspreads as he may pretend.

No matter how complete the furnishings of the dormitory room, personal touches are bound to make it seem more homelike. Scatter rugs, desk set, bookends, cushions and the ever-popular penman are just a few of the many possibilities.

For studying, a good lamp should be a primary consideration. Both decorative and useful, it could be a peg board or bulletin board, or a memo or favorite picture.

One easy way to provide extra seating space in the dormitory room is to let a flat packing trunk (recommended college luggage) do double duty. Covered with an attractive spread, the trunk can serve as both window seat and storage space.

Eds will appreciate a portable television set for its educational as well as entertainment value. The set might be a "going away to college" gift from Mom and Dad.

Students in doubt about what extra equipment is needed or refer to the college catalogue and talk to the friends attending the chosen school. And, of course, the prospective roommate's tastes should be consulted whenever possible.

Parents can and should play an important role in the home development of their children's habit by taking children on vocabulary-building trips to zoos, industrial plants, museums and other places where they will be exposed to new experiences and new words.

An Editorial on Traffic Safety and the Child

Many traffic safety experts are concerned over the growing number of mothers who herd their own and their neighbors' children into the family car for the three or four block ride to school. It's not the pampering the safety men object to, it's the attitude that so many parents have adopted of trying to completely isolate their children from the hazards of present day traffic.

Some Pointers for Mother in Choosing Child's Back to School Shoes

Say what you please, "Mother school shoes. Your parents probably looked for the heaviest shoes they could find. But parents today know that tender feet need the resilience of light-weight leather and light construction. Besides, they wear as well as the old-fashioned heavy shoes. You should not buy shoes for your child to "grow" into either. Shoes that are too big will cause blisters now and mis-shapen feet, with all the ills that attend them, in later life. There should be about three-quarters of an inch between the longest toes and the tip of the shoe. The part of the shoe that conforms to the foot, and the swing of general direction of the shoe should be the same as that of the foot. If your child says the shoe hurts, don't buy it, of course. But don't trust him if he says just fine. He's probably got his hand on getting back to baseball. Check the shoe yourself and have the clerk check it. And don't trust your child to tell you when the shoe is out-grown. Children are stoical about pain; they just don't notice it. So check regularly at the first signs of wear on either the shoe or the foot.
