Community Fund Drive Opens Tuesday

A JOINT PROCLAMATION signed by Mayor Harold Guenther, left, and Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay has designated Oct. 15-22 as Plymouth Community Fund Week. The proclamation urges citizens, business and industry to generously support the campaign which opens next Tuesday in the township and city of Plymouth.

Opinions Differ Here On County Water Plant Fight

A fight by the city of Detroit to keep Wayne County from going into the water business has had its effect in Plymouth city and township where the officials are themselves split in their opinions.

The showdown came Tuesday when the Wayne County Board of Supervisors was scheduled to vote on bids for the water intake plant which would be the start of the Wayne County-operated system. A motion to accept the bids did not carry.

At the township board meeting last week, a resolution was approved endorsing the county's plans to build a water plant. Four members approved the resolution but Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes voted against it, declaring that the county's plans do not include extension of water to Plymouth township.

Another difference of opinion was expressed Monday night when the city's representative to the board of supervisors, George Witkowski, declared he favored the county system while commissioners were opposed to it.

While making his monthly report to the commission, Supervisor

Witkowski said that after studying many reports and surveys, he would vote for the county water plant.

Commissioner Richard Wermette asserted that he was against it, pointing out that other parts of the county will benefit but Plymouth people will still be helping to pay for the $50,000,000 bond issue. He added that "I hope I may never live in Plymouth when we have to drink water from below Detroit." The intake is to be near Fighting Island off Wyandotte.

Supervisor Witkowski countered that he would vote for the county water plant start because "it is the mandate of the people". Plymouth city and township voters went 2-1 along with other Wayne county electors in approving the bond issue in 1955. He added that water for the rest of Wayne county will be of benefit to everyone in the county because it will draw industry which has been moving out.

A motion was made that the commission draw up a resolution opposing the Wayne County water plant.

A breakfast for all workers taking part in Plymouth's 1957 Community Fund campaign will kick-off the drive next Tuesday morning.

Held at the Hotel Mayflower, this year's Kick-off breakfast is underwritten by the Evans Products Company. Work will start immediately and within three weeks, the Community Fund board of directors hopes to have reached its goal of $31,549.

All householders in the township and city of Plymouth should receive literature from the Community Chest within the next few days concerning the drive. Included will be a pledge card and a return envelope. The mail solicitation takes the place of door-to-door solicitations which are commonly held by other United Fund drives.

Business and industry will receive letters advising them that solicitors will call.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and Mayor Harold Guenther this week signed a joint proclamation urging residents, businesses and industries in the two governmental units to generously support the Community Fund.

This year's goal of $31,549 is the exact amount needed by the Community Fund agencies. It is slightly higher than last year's $30,000 goal, which was surpassed.

Co-chairmen of this year's drive are Richard Daniel and Mrs. L. B. Rice. Sam Hudson is president of the Community Fund Board of Directors and John Pint is treasurer. Week-by-week progress of the fund will be reported in The Mail.

Plymouth has always met its Community Fund goals, but many have required some last-minute concentrated effort.

None of the Plymouth Community Fund board or workers receive compensation.

Since many Plymouth city and township residents work in Detroit and other area communities where payroll deduction plans are available, instructions on how to divert the payments to the Plymouth Community Fund were announced. Several plants in the Plymouth area have special pledge cards for Plymouth workers. In other places, employees can write on the back of the United Fund pledge card that they want all or part of the deduction to go to the Plymouth Fund.

There are 10 local sources receiving most of the donations, while 15 per cent of the amount will be divided among 21 Welfare Fund agencies through the United Foundation. Local or semi-local agencies and the amount they will receive are these:

Recreation Department	4,000	Visiting Nurse Assn.	1,400
American Red Cross	3,650	Junior Police	895
Boy Scouts	3,000	Plymouth Dental Fund	700
Girl Scouts	2,620	The remaining $4,732 will be shared by the Welfare Fund Agencies.
Vet Memorial Center	2,552
Ply. Cancer Society	2,000

There are 10 local sources receiving most of the donations, while 15 per cent of the amount will be divided among 21 Welfare Fund agencies through the United Foundation. Local or semi-local agencies and the amount they will receive are these:

Firefighters Invade Town Tonight at 7

Last-minute plans have been completed for the Fire Prevention Week program scheduled for tonight (Thursday) in downtown Plymouth in which nine fire departments will participate.

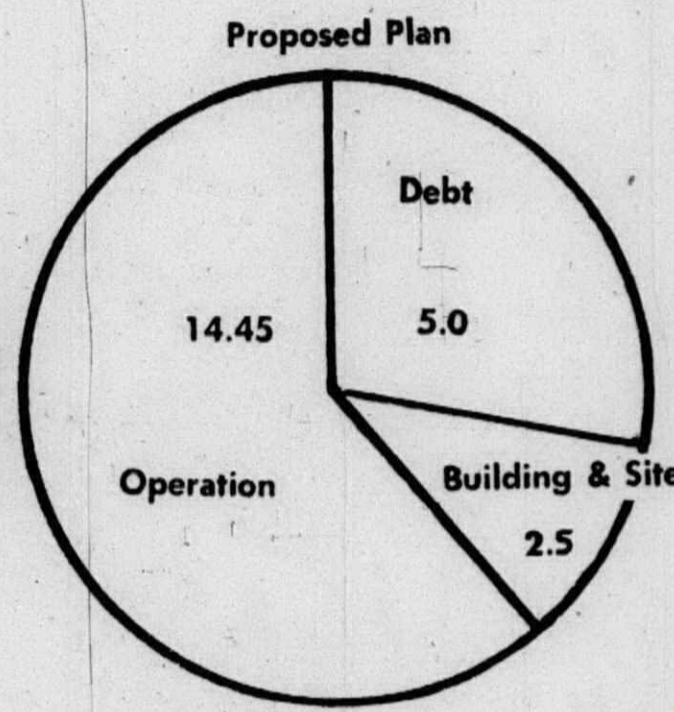

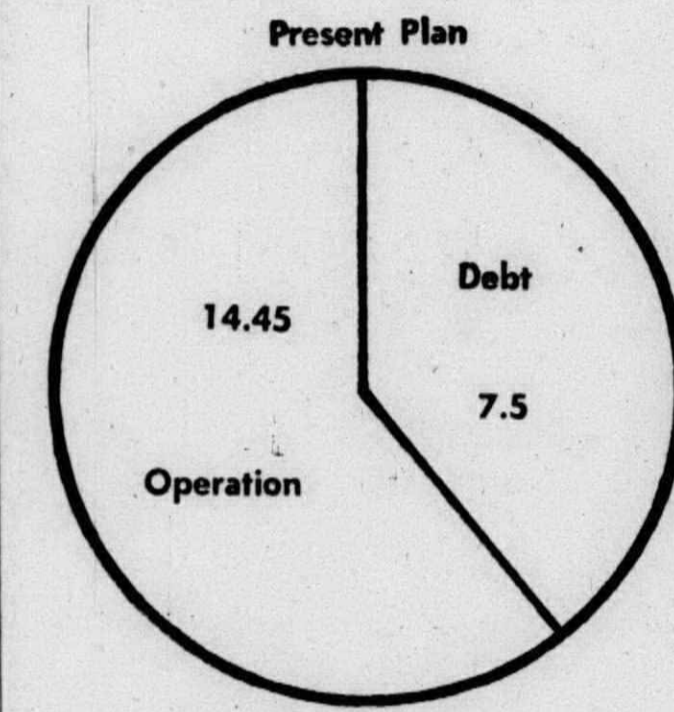

In case of rain, the program will be postponed until Friday night. Rain, however, won't be of much concern to the firefighters who expect to be quite drenched before the evening is over. Eight of the departments will compete in a water ball contest in which they will attempt to push a ball over each other's goals with water from inch and a half hoses.

A parade starting at 7 p.m. will open the program. The parade will form on Forest Avenue, move east on Wing, south on Main street to Dodge, south on Union and end at Kellogg Park.

It is on Main street and around Kellogg Park where the show will take place. There will be display booths, a display of fire equipment and the water ball contest. Prizes for the various contests sponsored for students will also be awarded during the evening.

Co-sponsoring the event are the Plymouth city and township fire departments. Chairmen are Sgt. Paul Sanders of the city and Lt. Paul Albright of the township.

Bringing their equipment here in addition to the two local departments will be firefighters of Canton, Superior, Novi, and Salem townships, Livonia, Northville and the Detroit House of Correction.

TO EXPLAIN what Monday's election is about in a picture, the pie at left is how the present 21.95 mills is divided. Operating money is used to pay all employees and the expense of running the buildings. The debt retirement fund is for paying off the district's three remaining bond issues. At right is the proposed slicing of the 21.95 mills. Money set aside for operating expenses will remain the same, but 2.5 mills will be taken from debt retirement to establish the building and site fund. This cannot be done without consent of the electorate.

Influenza Strikes Plymouth Citizenry Hard But Now Appears to Be on Decline

Public Invited To Convention Night Program

The public is being invited to a free concert Saturday evening by the Albion College String Ensemble that will play for the state convention of the Michigan Civic Orchestra Association.

Wayne Dunlap, conductor of the Plymouth Symphony, will conduct the ensemble as they play "The Seasons" by Vivaldi. The concert will start at 9 p.m. in the small auditorium of the high school. The Plymouth Symphony will close the convention with a concert on Sunday afternoon at 4 p.m.

The Michigan Civic Orchestra Association, an organization of more than 30 orchestras throughout the state, works in harmony with the American Symphony Orchestra League in promoting the cause of civic orchestras and good music.

The annual convention is being held Saturday and Sunday for the first time in Plymouth. Visitors are expected from all parts of the state. Forty-five delegates are expected. The convention banquet will be held Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Hotel Mayflower. Guest speaker will be Mrs. Leta Show, founder of the American Symphony Orchestra League.

Much of the influenza which has hit Plymouth in epidemic proportions within the past two weeks is believed to be of the Asiatic variety, according to the city health officer, Dr. Barry Alford. But the ailment has been of such minor nature that people shouldn't let the name scare them.

Dr. Alford, who has been acting health officer until appointment of a permanent officer this week, said that cultures of the infection have been sent to the Institute of Public Health in Ann Arbor and that although no reports of the flu is believed to be of the Asiatic type.

"But by the time a diagnosis can be made, the person is long recovered," Dr. Alford said.

Last week seemed to be the peak of the flu wave in Plymouth. Thirteen of 33 members of the Plymouth High School football team suffered the flu as the Allen Park game approached Friday night. At 3 p.m., telephone discussions with Allen Park officials brought postponement. It will be up to league officials to decide if they are to make up the game during some other weekday night, after the season or to forget it.

School Superintendent Russell Isbister said that about 20 per cent of the school population was absent at one time last week. This would be about 800 pupils. This week, Isbister said, absences are about 10 per cent. There also have been five or six teachers absent daily.

Dr. Alford said that flu cases in Plymouth are probably in the same ratio as the school absences. There is no way of telling the number of cases among the adult population.

Some of the flu is Asiatic, some is regular flu. There is no immediate way of telling them apart," Dr. Alford said. He advised that the best way to treat it is to go to bed and take an aspirin every four hours to reduce the fever.

He noted that the influenza is not causing critical illness. It has an abrupt onset—the throat is sore or dry and there is a fever of 102 or even 103.

Antibiotics are not helpful in treating the flu itself, Dr. Alford said. And flu vaccine, available in limited supply in Plymouth, is not effective until two weeks after administered.

"If this were called the 'Plymouth flu' instead of the 'Asiatic flu' there would not be nearly the concern," Dr. Alford declared. "The name Asiatic denotes something mysterious and suspicious, making the illness more fearful."

Plymouth's football team will be nearly up to strength this Friday night. The band, also cut down by the illness, will also appear minus a few pieces.

The board is able to reduce the bond retirement fund by 2.5 mills due to several reasons. Increased valuations and a new state equalization factor this year will substantially hike revenue. There are three outstanding bond issues and all are being met ahead of schedule (some bonds, however, cannot be paid ahead of schedule).

An explanation of the proposal has been given to Parent-Teacher associations during the past month by members of the school board and Superintendent Isbister.

Wording on the Ballot

"Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in the Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, for all purposes, except taxes levied for the payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 8, 1932, be increased as provided by Section 21, Article X of the Constitution of Michigan, by twenty-five hundredths of one percent (0.25 percent) (2 1/2 mills) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in the School District for a period of five years, from 1957 to 1961, both inclusive, to establish a building and site sinking fund?"

LOTS OF INTERESTING reading was found on Plymouth's downtown sidewalks and streets Wednesday morning. Giant whitewash signs carried messages dealing with Friday night's Homecoming game with Belleville. A photographer caught two of the artists in front of The

Homecoming Festivities Open Football Season Here Friday as Rocks Aim for Third Victory

Homecoming and the first home game of the season will be the combination that is expected to draw a standing-room-only crowd to the Plymouth-Belleville football contest Friday night.

Four senior girls will be competing for the Homecoming Queen Crown at the dance following the game as part of the day-long festivities. The homecoming event was revived at PHS last year after a long absence.

Last week's game against Allen Park was the opening home game, but flu dinged too many football players, forcing a postponement.

A pep band concert behind the high school at 11:45 a.m. Friday will open the Homecoming festivities. A pep assembly will take place at 3 p.m. in the school.

A tea for parents will take place at 6 p.m., followed by a pep rally and bonfire at 6:30 behind the school. Then will come a parade led by the band through town, starting at 7 p.m. The game starts at 8.

A dance will be held from 10 to 11:30. At 10:30 the queen will be crowned.

Only senior girls are eligible for the crown. Nominated are Mary Lee Haug, Annie Dennany, Janet Spigarelli and Arlene Kubie. These girls were selected mainly for their service to the school. Class representatives who will be on the Queen's Court are Carol Nitz, freshman; Jill Clark, sophomore; and Marianne Palmer, junior.

Winner of the queen crown will not be announced until the dance.

All Concerts Again Free to Public

Plymouth Symphony Opens 12th Season Sunday

The 90-piece Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will open its 12th season of concerts this Sunday, October 13 at 4 o'clock in the Plymouth High School auditorium.

Six concerts will be presented during the 1957-58 season, all under the direction of Wayne Dunlap. As in the past, all concerts are open to the public without charge.

The first concert will be a climax to the two-day convention of the Michigan Civic Orchestra Association which is being held in Plymouth Saturday and Sunday.

Featured soloist this Sunday will be Emily Mutter Adams, violinist. New concertmaster of the Plymouth Symphony and widely known in this area for her many musical activities, Miss Adams was born in Howell and began studying the violin at the age of four. At 10 she became the protegee of the late Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony.

In her teens she won a national contest entitling her to appear as a soloist with the Chicago Symphony. She has also been soloist with the Detroit Symphony, and was concertmaster of the college orchestra at Ypsilanti for several years. She later became head of the violin department.

Miss Adams has been concertmaster of the Lansing Symphony and was on the staff of WXYZ for several years. She is now a member of the Detroit Symphony and is concertmaster of the Detroit Women's Symphony.

Miss Adams will play the Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso by Saint-Saens.

Other numbers on the program will be Overture to "Royal Fireworks Music" by Handel, Adagio of Kirck and the gigantic work of Berlioz, his Symphonie Fantastique.

There will be a display by the Tri-City Art Group before the concert and during the intermission.

Special soloists or music groups will appear at future symphony programs. On November 17, soloists will be Miss Arlene Sollenberger, dramatic soprano just returned from a year's study in Europe, and Richard Miller, until recently a leading tenor in the Zurich opera house.

At the Christmas program on December 15, the Eastern Michigan College Choir will sing under the direction of Robert Waterstripe. The March 2 program will feature Mr. Waterstripe as a baritone, along with the Plymouth Civic Chorus directed by Fred C. Nelson.

The final program on April 13 will have William Doppmann as soloist. This brilliant young pianist has been acclaimed at previous Plymouth Symphony programs.

Groth-Wagner Vows Exchanged At First Methodist Church

Mr. and Mrs. John Wagner

Before an altar adorned with candles, white chrysanthemums and gladioli, Rev. Melbourne L. Johnson performed the double-ring ceremony uniting Barbara M. Groth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Groth and John Robert Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hare of Williamston.

The setting was the First Methodist Church of Plymouth at 7:30 p.m. on September 7. Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a crystal white gown of silk Bombazine. Pearls and iridescent paillettes frosted the chantilly lace which etched a petal motif at the bateau neckline. The empress bodice of chantilly lace had sleeves traditionally tapered to the wrist. The full skirt fell from a pointed waistline and spread to a court train. Lace outlined the lower edge of the skirt.

From her crown of pearls fell a veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and white chrysanthemums. A strand of pearls entwined with a white orchid centered the bouquet.

The soloist, Mrs. George Grigg, sang "Because," "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by organist Mrs. Joyce Beglarian.

Honor attendants to the bride and bridegroom were Margaret Ann Burr of Plymouth as maid of honor and the bridegroom's brother, Richard Wagner of Williamston as best man.

Bridesmaids were Donna Schutte of Northville, Mrs. Wayne Lantz, cousin of the bride from Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mrs. Valbert I. Groth the bride's sister-in-law from Highland, Ind.

The maid of honor wore a chiffon dress of cotton blue. The shirred camisole was sleeveless featuring a soft scarf draped over the shoulders and falling to hem length in the back. Matching hat and shoes and white gloves completed the costume. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were identically dressed. They carried cascades of Hibbard roses and bronze chrysanthemums.

The flower girl, a niece of the bride of Highland, Ind., wore a yellow floor-length hoop dress with a fitted waist, low neckline, slippers to match and a headband of yellow flowers. She carried yellow chrysanthemums and Hibbard roses.

Ushers were Royce Lockwood and Richard Pettit of Williamston and Valbert I. Groth, brother of the bride from Highland, Ind.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Groth chose a taupe rose lace dress with a dusty rose hat and gloves and brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hare, wore a seal brown dress trimmed in velvet with brown accessories and white gloves. Both wore orchids.

The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Louise Hutton of Plymouth, wore a plum-colored dress and carried white roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church in Fellowship hall for about 300 guests. Serving the cake, decorated by the bride's aunt Mrs. Irving Ray, were the bride's sister, Mrs. Gar Evans of Plymouth and her cousin, Mrs. Jess Cummings of Pontiac. Others serving were Anne Donnelly, Mary Jane Spitz, Maria Thorn, Mrs. Gary Rodman, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. James Gray, Mrs. Willis Johnston, Mrs. Chester Kolbasa and Mrs. Bud Frise.

Guests were from California, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Saginaw, Detroit, Grosse Ile, Lansing and Grand Rapids, Michigan.

The soloist, Mrs. Grigg, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "I Love You Truly" at the reception, accompanied by Mrs. Beglarian.

The new Mrs. Wagner wore a blue suit with dove gray and black accessories for a trip to Canada and New York state.

The bride is a graduate of Plymouth high school and attended Detroit Business school. The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University and is employed with Ernst and Ernst Accounting Co. in Kalamazoo, where they will make their home at 743 Whitcomb.

Visiting at the home of Mrs. Lee McConnell of Starkweather are their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Menard and son Jimmy of Cameron, Tex.

Joyce Mahrley Plans Spring Wedding Date

Joyce Mahrley

Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Mahrley, 35700 East Ann Arbor Trail, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce Ann, to Donald L. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamilton of 9980 Newburg road, Livonia.

Joyce is a graduate of Bentley High School, class of '54. Her fiancé graduated from Western High School in 1952 and is presently employed by the Detroit Board of Education.

A Spring wedding is being planned.

Donald Ward Wed To Dearborn Girl

June Davis, daughter of Mrs. Charles Reed of Dearborn became the bride of Donald Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaVene Ward of Five Mile road, September 28 in Angola, Ind. The couple are living in Dearborn.

Democrats Open Dollar Drive October 10

STARKWEATHER ELEMENTARY school's Fall Festival takes place this Saturday and among the many fun-filled events planned is a hay ride. Kenneth McMullen, 232 S. Mill, will operate the tractor and wagon over a field behind the school. Driving the rig to the school last week, McMullen found that the ride will be very popular as shown by the crowd of youngsters who tried it out.

Starkweather Fall Festival To Raise Funds for Playground

With promises of fun for all, the Starkweather School Fall Festival will open at 6 p.m. this Saturday evening, October 12. The annual festival is sponsored by the School P.T.A. to raise funds to improve the playground.

Lasting from 6 to 9 p.m., the festival will feature a hay ride, archery and B-B gun shoots, cake and pie walks, fish pond, little girl's beauty shop, little boys' haberdashery, country store, silhouettes and game rooms. New attractions this year are the animal fantasy and an adult fish pond called "Pick-N-Guess."

A snack bar will serve sloppy Joes, Coney Islands, coffee, milk, orange drink and ice cream. Door prizes will be the big events of the evening. They will be given away at 7, 8 and 9 p.m. The theme again this year will be the playground which was newly acquired two years ago. Since this time many improvements have been made.

The first and largest was the building of a ramp making possible access to the lower playground area. The second was the addition of a fence along the southern boundary, closing off a steep embankment. These improvements were provided by the school board which made purchase of the land.

The festival of two years ago provided a giant merry-wave, a large horizontal ladder, two basketball back stops and a set of parallel bars, to supplement the large swing unit which was moved down to the lower playground area.

Last year's festival saw the addition of lights to the upper playground area along with a kindergarten merry-go-round, teeter-totters, a small horizontal climbing ladder and new swing seats and chains for the swing units.

This year they hope to add a baseball backstop and possibly another large climbing unit. Record players for room use are another item on the agenda.

The committee in charge of the event consists of Mrs. Stanley Clinansmith, Mrs. John Birkelbaw, Mrs. Wesley Lickfeldt and John Rudloff.

The school is located at Spring and Holbrook streets.

Proclamation

WHEREAS the citizens of the Plymouth community have taken it upon themselves to again conduct a Community Fund campaign for the benefit of worthwhile public service agencies;

WHEREAS the goal for 1957 is set at $31,549, 85 percent of which will remain with local agencies and the remaining 15 percent will be divided among state and nationwide agencies which most affect our wellbeing;

AND WHEREAS many citizens of the Township and City of Plymouth receive no compensation for long hours of work for the campaign's success in order to make our community a better place to live;

NOW, THEREFORE, WE, Roy R. Lindsay, Supervisor of the Township of Plymouth, and Harold E. Guenther, Mayor of the City of Plymouth, do proclaim the week of October 15-22 as Plymouth Community Fund Week and do urge that every citizen, business and industry support the fund raising drive as generously as possible.

Boy Scout News

Troop P4 of the Boy Scouts of America visited Plymouth's northside fire station Monday, October 7, in recognition of Fire Prevention Week. Assistant chief, George Shawn, demonstrated the operation of the fire engine and rescuator.

The group also made plans for a First Class Scout canoe campout for Friday October 18 to Sunday, October 20.

On Monday, October 21 a Court of Honor will be held at Sportsman's Lodge on Joy road at which time advancements will be recognized and merit badges awarded. Colored slides of the boys at various campouts and at summer camp will be shown that night.

Boys 11 years and over who are interested in joining P4 may call assistant scoutmaster Bill Ivey at Plymouth 1831-W.

Roe Lumber Sold

Two changes in Plymouth business—Roe Lumber company has been sold and the Wilson Dairy luncheon room has moved to Clawson.

Roe Lumber of 433 Amelia has sold their building and property to the adjacent Anchor Coupling company, who are in need of additional space. Kenneth Pioch and Harry Lee of Roe have joined Plymouth Lumber and Coal company at 308 N. Main.

The Wilson luncheon room was owned by E. H. McCrackin, who was leasing the building at 770 Penniman. A Wilson Dairy spokesman said that when the lease expired, McCrackin "couldn't find a suitable location," so he moved his business to Clawson. Melody House will be moving into the Penniman vacancy.

Special Service Instructors To Speak to Gallimore PTA

The Gallimore PTA will meet at 7:45 p.m. October 15 in the school gymnasium. The program will consist of talks by special service instructors at Gallimore. Scheduled to speak are the psychologist, visiting teacher, speech correctionist and physical education teacher.

The world is divided into 24 time zones according to longitude.

PLYMOUTH'S BUSINESS

The launching of the Russian satellite that caught the U.S. flatfooted verifies the old saw that "its an ill wind that blows nobody good." Don Wahlberg at Melody House claims that Vaughn Monroe's "Racin' With the Moon" has pushed Elvis' "All Shook Up" out of the number one spot in the record parade.

This is the week that doggie in the window at Davis & Lent will find some lucky owner. The drawing in the annual "Beagle Sweepstakes" will be held Saturday, October 12, so you better get down there and get your entry in.

If any of the gentlemen in my audience goes home and finds what appears to be a new woman in the house . . . there's no need to panic. It's probably just that mother has switched the color of her hair. They tell me it's becoming as popular as peanuts at the ball park. Millions of U.S. women of all ages are coming out on top with more colors than the rainbow. Depending on a lady's mood, she can pop out with Golden Apricot, Sparkling Sherry, Fire Silver, Champagne Beige or just plain Black.

Hair-coloring has become a very heady business . . . jumping from $3 million in 1946 to $35 million in 1956. It's called hair-coloring . . . because beauty shops never say "dye."

Theatre Guild Try-Out Starting

Tryouts for the "The Desk Set", first play of the new season, have been set for Thursday, October 10th and Friday, October 11th. Tryouts will begin at 8 p.m. under the direction of Hal Young, Guild member in charge of directing "The Desk Set". Sixteen parts are available for all those who yearn to do some acting. Hal Young urges everyone to come out on either Thursday or Friday of this week. Tryouts will be held in the small gym in the Plymouth High School. Every-one is eligible to read and be in this play—you need not be a Theatre Guild member to get into the act.

DOROTHY SMITH, Plymouth Theatre Guild member and producer of the first guild show of the new season, "The Desk Set", is looking for stage setting ideas with Russ Creel, president of the Theatre Guild. "The Desk Set" takes place in the offices of a TV network and Dorothy decided to go out to Burrough's offices to check some authentic "desk set" conditions.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

That on-again, off-again super shopping center to be located at Plymouth and Middlebelt roads seems to be on-again.

Big sewers for surface drainage are being installed at the present time. A report from the Regional Planning Commission gives the completion date now as "Spring, 1958."

Montgomery Ward is to be the "anchor" store in the big blueprint and 59 other stores are planned. The project will cover 56 acres, be named "Wonderland" and have parking space for 5,000 cars. The new completion date is a year behind the original timetable.

For anyone interested in business and merchandising in Plymouth, the Chamber of Commerce now has a fascinating study of our town made by University of Michigan experts. (The book sells for $10—it's a bargain for anyone in business locally.)

We've been studying it long enough to discover: The "typical" Plymouth family has two adults, two or more children of school age, and no children under school age.

Approximately 80 percent own their own home. A total of 61 percent have lived here five or more years and 34 percent ten or more years. Approximately 15 percent plan to move from Plymouth within the next year.

Of the total, 42 percent make their living in Plymouth itself; 17 per cent in Detroit, 5.4 in Livonia, 4.7 in Dearborn, 4.3 in Ypsilanti, 4.1 in Ann Arbor.

The families surveyed (approximately 2,000 were questioned) showed an overwhelming belief that Plymouth is a "pleasant and convenient place to shop", 87 percent so stating.

Friday is the favorite shopping day (33.2 per cent), Thursday next (23.7) and then Saturday.

In general, the families are satisfied with present banking hours (46.5 percent) while 16 percent feel wrong hours are maintained and 37 suggest that present hours are too short.

When asked what was needed to improve Plymouth as a shopping center, 41 percent answered, "a large department store." Better parking facilities were mentioned by 17.3; more "modern" stores by 13.3; and "larger selection and variety" by 7.9.

The improvement suggested as most desirable in city services was better roads—48.3 percent.

The U of M study also concluded that Plymouth merchants are doing a good job in keeping local residents home for shopping since local patronage is higher than found in most "suburban towns of Plymouth's size."

89 percent of the families buy their drugs and groceries in Plymouth—these two items top the list. The survey lists 31 items, covering most of the retail business, and only on five of them was it said that they purchased less than 50 percent of the time in Plymouth. Those five were "women's better dresses, women's coats and suits, furniture, linens and domestics, rugs and floor coverings."

For all items, 64.1 percent are purchased in Plymouth and 19.5 in Detroit. The rest was scattered all over and only 7 percent was in Livonia. Mail-order accounted for 2.2 percent.

The survey goes into great detail on where every item is purchased, what the reasons are for shopping outside Plymouth, at what hours people prefer to shop and a host of other invaluable data for anyone interested in Plymouth's business and Plymouth's future.

Any merchant who doesn't study the survey is missing a useful tool. It cost the U of M $1,200 to prepare, of which $500 will be charged to the local Chamber of Commerce.

The school must go on! Not even a flu epidemic can halt the progress of school, although it can slow down the pace a bit. With approximately 260 students absent at the peak of the epidemic thus far which was reached on Tuesday, October 1, all classes are standing on one foot pausing to catch their breath in order to keep make-up work at a minimum.

Janet Spigarelli, Mary Lee Haug, Annie Denny, and Arlene Kubic are the senior girls from which will be selected a Homecoming Queen. The girls were selected as candidates primarily for their service to the school.

The three girls who are the class representatives in the Queen's Court are Carol Nitz (9), Jill Clark (10), and Mariann Palmer (11). The big question is, of course, "Who will be the Queen?" This question will not be answered until 10:30 p.m., at the dime dance after the game.

Suspense and mystery seem to be the predominant elements about the halls of PHS as play-cast hopefuls keep their fingers crossed while waiting for the results of the casting for "Around the World in Eighty Days" which is under the direction of Robert Southgate.

Students interested in dramatics will be pleased to note the progress of the Theatre Club which is sponsored by Mr. Southgate. Lynn Norton, president; Annie Denny, recorder; and the elected members, Ann Hulsing, Larry Sexton, and John Van Dyke, are busily preparing a constitution for the infant organization.

Gerry Love, Mary Lee Haug, Bob Westover, Franklyn Smith, Bob Wall, Gwendolyn Scharl, Larry McMullen, Russell Stahl, Jeff Huntington and Larry Heidt are the students who hope to become members of this year's debate team.

Miss Betty Stegens announced that the topic for this season's discussion would be, "Direct United States Economic Aid to Individual Countries Should be Limited to Technical Assistance and Disaster Relief." Good luck to you anxious would-be debaters; you certainly have a lot of talking ahead of you.

Seems like everything is being cancelled! First the assembly scheduled for last Friday afternoon was cancelled; then, of all things, the game, too, was cancelled. Not only do we miss the customary Friday night game, but the poor juniors miss the funds they would have received from concessions. Looks like the work of Dick Small and his concession committee was to no avail. The big problem now is to discuss of the refreshments which have lost their market. The only hope is that the class undertaking this week's concessions will buy some of the surplus.

Pay your dues! Sophomores are displaying a very economical disposition as they urge payment of class dues. The Sophomore executive board consists of: Jay

Flu-Flattened Rocks Revive With Sights Set on Powerful Belleville

The finger of fate in the form of a flu epidemic felled 19 of the 31 players of Coach John Hoben's Plymouth Rocks football team and forced postponement of the regularly scheduled Suburban Six football game with Allen Park last Friday. The Rocks had won the first two games of their season, one a non-league contest with Northville, and were hoping to add to the string last Friday night. Whether or not the game will be re-scheduled remains for league officials to decide at a meeting later this month.

The lay-off at this point in the season will undoubtedly hurt the Plymouth team who are healthy otherwise and showed considerable scoring punch against Redford Union in the league opener.

Now when they could use a breather for the recuperating players, they must face the big, rugged Belleville squad. When these teams met last year Plymouth won by a one touch-down margin, 12-6.

With so many of his boys recovering from the flu it will be a somewhat weakened squad that coach Hoben will send against Belleville who are reported to have a tough line and some backs who can really move the ball. This, plus the fact that the visitors are looking for their first league win this year, should make this one of the best games of the season.

Game time is 8 p.m. at the football field behind the high school.

RETURNING LETTERMEN will sparkplug the Plymouth Rocks tomorrow night as they seek their third win of the season. Belleville will play here for the season opener on the local field. Five Miss One Forecast to Share Mail Football Contest Money

There appears to be some near-professional football score forecasts among Plymouth Mail readers because five of them tied for first place for last week's first contest by missing only one out of 15 games.

The winners divided the $25 prize money with each receiving $5 each. They were:

I. W. Milligan, 42405 Schoolcraft road; Claude Hinchman, Northville; Harvey Esch, 11845 Brownell; Harvey Pankow, 551 Arthur; and J. George, 710 Evergreen.

Adding to the rarity of the contest, each of the winners missed the same prediction when they forecast that Yale would beat Brown University.

But otherwise, they handled the situation with ease. Every contestant was handed a dividend guess because one game was postponed. The Plymouth-Allen Park contest was called off due to the flu.

This week the situation is expected to be a little different. Judges have returned to the policy of years past of tossing in a tie-breaker. Contestants will be asked to guess the score of the Lions games.

All rules of the contest are printed along with the contest entry blank in this issue. Remember—entries must be at the Mail office or postmarked no later than 5 p.m. on the Friday before the game. The limit is one entry per person each week.

Prizes are $15 for first place; $7 for second; and $3 for third.

I thought you might be interested in knowing what goes on at a Municipal League Convention. There is a great amount of serious work and effort at the convention. There is fun, too, in meeting old acquaintances and exchanging information. One of the functions of government is to maintain inter-governmental relationships. The City does this, in part, by maintaining membership in the Michigan Municipal League.

This year, the 59th Annual Convention of the Michigan Municipal League was held at Mackinac Island on September 5, 6 and 7. Represented there for the City of Plymouth were Comm. Wernette, Stanford Besse, Kenneth Way, Joseph Bida and myself. The City of Plymouth was prominent on the program. Mr. Besse was on a Public Works panel concerning pavement maintenance, while I was on a City Manager's panel concerning municipal problems. The City was mentioned by State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie as being one city of 29, out of a total of 500 municipalities, which had a master plan of streets and roads.

We were again mentioned as being one of a dozen cities which had completed its record management survey and had received approval from the State of Michigan for its record management and disposal program. The crowning feature was Mayor Guenther's acceptance of the 2nd place award for the Annual Report contest for cities in the population class of 5,000 to 10,000. This is the third consecutive year in which the City of Plymouth has placed in the contest. We have had one first place and two second place awards.

Honorable David R. Calhoun, mayor of Huntington Woods, who incidentally was re-elected president of the Michigan Municipal League, opened the convention with a review of the progress of the Michigan Municipal League during the past year. The League now has 402 members of a total possible membership of 500 cities, which membership represents 98.7% of the total population of the state. The League staff has been increased to improve the services available from the League, such as a personnel examination service, the purchasing service and legislative representation for municipalities at Lansing. It may be said that the Michigan Municipal League is the most outstanding of those in the country in getting things done and in providing services for member cities and villages. Its close liaison with the University of Michigan provides various studies such as is currently in progress concerning types of charters which Michigan municipalities have, and the good and bad features of the charters.

Governor Williams spoke, proposing a Governor's Committee of Mayors and City Managers to study urban problems. This was very well received. The convention had many sectional meetings which involved such subjects as Personal Liability of Mayors and Councilmen, Michigan State and Federal Legislation, Assessment of Personal Property, Recent Development in the Bond Market, State Constitutional Revision, Licensing, Public Works Management, Performance Budgeting, Personnel Policies.

Michael J. Huber, County Expressway Engineer, Dies

Michael J. Huber, Wayne County engineer for 28 years and supervisor of construction for the John Lodge Expressway died of cancer Monday, October 7 after an 11-month illness.

Michael J. Huber, 52

Mr. Huber succumbed at 4:24 a.m. at his home, 9429 S. Main. Surviving are his wife, Kathryn; three sons, Lee, Wayne and Hale; two sisters, Mrs. Veronica Demmon of Gowanda, N. Y., and Mrs. Elizabeth Lippy of Buffalo, N. Y.; and three brothers, Wilmer of Miami, Fla., and Frank and George of Gowanda, N. Y.

Born at St. Catharine's, Ontario January 26, 1905, he graduated from the University of Michigan in civil engineering in 1927 and joined the county engineering staff two years later.

A bridge expert, he served as a field engineer on many projects, and had much to do with vast water and sewer extension in the county during industrial expansion of World War II.

Mr. Huber was chosen to supervise construction when the $80,000,000 Lodge project came along in 1945. He headed a staff of some 80 engineers and assistants on the Lodge enterprise and the more recent Davison-Lodge interchange.

He was a past president of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, a member of the Society of Civil Engineers and was active in the Plymouth Badminton and Tennis clubs, the community Hallows program and St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church. Mr. Huber moved to Plymouth 31 years ago.

Services were held Wednesday and burial was at Riverside. Rev. Edgar Hoenecke officiated at the service, which was held at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church.

Township to Apply Portion Of Never-Used Levy this Year

For the first time in the history of Plymouth township, the local tax will go over the usual one mill operating levy when taxes are collected at the end of this year.

The township board unanimously approved the levying of eight-tenths of a mill (80 cents per $1,000 valuation) at their regular monthly meeting October 2. The extra money will be used for sewage disposal payments and operating the Sewer and Water Authority of Plymouth and Canton Townships.

Previously, money for these expenses came from the operating fund derived from the one mill. But now the township finds that increased expenses are eating up operating fund, so they are forced to increase the local levy. It was noted that the township's contribution to the Dunning-Hough Library alone, now amounts to over $9,000 annually.

Township electors on two previous occasions have authorized the board to levy additional taxes, but they have never been levied. In 1954 voters approved a six-tenth mill levy for paying the township's share of the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer. The board has approved levying three-tenths of a mill (30 cents per $1,000 valuation) for the interceptor payment.

In 1955, voters approved a four mill levy to finance operation of the Sewer and Water Authority. This, too, had never been levied, but the board now will levy a half mill (50 cent per $1,000 valuation).

The additional eight-tenths of a mill will yield about $36,000 annually. The Sewer and Water Authority, formed two years ago, is still operating and intends to drill for more water sources. The board voted at the meeting to renew an option on a McClumpha road well site where some water has been located.

In other business before the board, legislation was approved to change the distance of oil tank from the furnace from five to two feet. Engineers consider this a safe distance.

City Studies Truck Route for Plant

Paving of either Junction street or Farmer street to serve the Western Electric plant on Sheldon road appears to be the solution to the firm's problem of where to route its trucks. City Manager Albert Glassford gave a progress report to the city commission Monday night. The problem deals with a Wayne County Road commission order forbidding the use of Sheldon road by heavy trucks because it is rated a Class B highway.

The manager pointed out that Sheldon road could be paved with concrete from the plant to Penniman, and trucks could go down Penniman to Main. This however, would make more downtown congestion.

Paving of Junction to Harvey would cost an estimated $91,000. Trucks could go south on Harvey to Church and then to Main, or turn off at Farmer, then to Theodore to Main.

But it was also suggested that Farmer street, from Sheldon to Theodore, be considered since the city hopes to pave Farmer anyway some day. The manager was instructed to get cost estimates on Farmer street paving and how much Western Electric will share in the cost.

ter system and that it be presented by the supervisor at the Tuesday meeting. The motion was approved, 5-2, but later the two dissenting voters, Commissioners Harry Roberts and William Hartmann, said that they misunderstood the wording of the motion and thought they were voting against the county system.

Supervisor Witkowski, who urged the commission not to draft the resolution, was not given the job of taking it to the supervisors Tuesday. Another city employee took copies to the City-County Building for distribution among supervisors.

The motion to accept the bids was approved, 52-37, but it lacked the necessary 55 majority of the 109-member board. Supervisor Witkowski said Wednesday that the motion will be offered at a later date and that he believes it will carry.

However, to confuse the issue more, a citizens' suit against the county joined by the city of Detroit is now in court.

Fight Alibis

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(UP)—Police checking an early-morning holdup cleared two men sleeping nearby in cars. One explained that he was staying away from home for the night because he had a fight with his wife; the other said he fought with his mother-in-law.

Costly Movie

ROCKLAND, Me.—(UP)—Richard Bailey of Washington told Municipal Court Recorder Domenic Cuccinella he "just couldn't say no to her" when his wife wanted to go to the movies. He said he put other plates on his unregistered car and went. Cuccinella fined him $35 for driving an unregistered car and driving with improper plates and commented it was a "pretty expensive movie."

Niemann, Helen Hopper, Jean Greenwood, Gladys Kreger, Leonard Ritzler, Gordon Pait, Betty Wright, Sandra Thomas, Sally Fedus, Virginia Barnes, Evelyn Shier, Mildred and Harold Case, Ed and Rose Reid and Emil and Carol LaPointe. The honored couple were presented with the traditional gift of silver from the group.

Bruce and David LaPointe, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road, spent the weekend of September 27-28-29 with District 7 boy scouts at Huron Metropolitan park. This was the annual fall camporee and troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church took most of the points and received most of the awards in competition with other troops of the district. The LaPointe boys were representing that troop.

The Rhoda circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Porter Rosenberry on Tuesday, October 1 with the following members present, Mrs. Marie Knapp, Mrs. Rose Reid, Mrs. Pansie Ross, Mrs. Mary Priebe, Mrs. Alberta Pry, Mrs. Mary Foreman, Mrs. Carol LaPointe, Mrs. Betty Lampton, Mrs. Julia Hawkins, Mrs. Peggy Edmonds, Mrs. Dorothy Pzderka, Mrs. Ruth Waltz, Mrs. Virginia Barnes and a guest, Mrs. David of Angeline circle.

Jean Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wojcik of Joy road, has just recently recovered from a bout with Asian flu. Jean is back in school now, completely well again.

The first meeting of the Washington P.T.A. was held at the New Washington school, Ann Arbor road and Hix road, Wednesday, October 2 with well over 100 parents and teachers in attendance. Plans are being made by the group for a carnival to be held on Friday, October 18, at the school, from 6-9:30 p.m. During the course of the evening, president Jean Schoen, presented the teachers and P.T.A.'s officers to the assembled parents. At the close of the meeting all were invited to tour the new school and visit their children's teachers' room. This group will meet regularly on the first Wednesday of every month and one of the highlight programs scheduled is the appearance of Judge Nathan Kaufman from Detroit's juvenile court.

The Dorcas circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Donald Hoffman on Al Smith road, Plymouth, Tuesday, October 1 and members present were Mrs. Dorothy Ritzler, Mrs. Helen Hopper, Mrs. Betty Wright, Mrs. Sandra Thomas, Mrs. Eleanor Pollard, Mrs. Florence Black, Mrs. Ina Game and Mrs. Greenwood. The group spent the evening working on baby clothes to be sold at the forthcoming fall bazaar to be held at the Newburg Methodist church, on Ann Arbor trail and Newburg road, Saturday, November 2. This group will meet again for a special meeting, to again sew on bazaar things, at the home of Mrs. Paul Nixon on Wadsworth avenue, Wednesday morning, October 16 at 10:30. A nose-bag lunch is to be brought by those who plan to attend and beverage will be served by the hostess.

Clyde Greenwood of Detroit was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood of Newburg road on Sunday, October 6.

On Thursday, October 17, at 8 p.m. the Patchen Community club will meet at the Patchen school. There will be the usual business meeting followed by a social hour. All women of the Patchen area are cordially invited to attend.

The Lydia circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Norman Kerr on W. Chicago, Tuesday, October 1 at 10:30 a.m. A fine group of women were present and they used their meeting time to work on pillow cases and other needlework for the bazaar which will be held at the Newburg Methodist church, Ann Arbor trail and Newburg road, Saturday, November 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe and children, Bruce, David, Mark and Nan of Joy road visited in Detroit, Sunday, October 6. They called at the homes of Mrs. Elizabeth Surman, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Frahm and Mrs. Henrietta Miller.

On Saturday, November 2, beginning at 9 a.m. and continuing through the entire day, the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church is presenting their annual fall bazaar and harvest dinner. The dinner menu is turkey, served family style and tickets are now available. Mrs. Clyde Smith is handling the tickets and reservations can be made by calling her at GA. 1-6385. Santa Claus is making his annual bazaar visit again this year and a photographer will be on hand to take pictures of the children as they visit with the jolly agent. A winter carnival of games is being planned to interest both young and old alike.

Booths of fine needlework, aprons, home-made candy, baked goods, baby clothes, stuffed toys and other merchandise suitable for Christmas giving will be available. A snack bar and cake walk will interest most everyone as well as the general store which will hold many interesting articles such as, plants, home-canned goods, home-grown produce, white elephants. Be sure you reserve this date for the time of your life and dinner "out of this world", Saturday, November 2.

Pvt. Walter Clinansmith of the Marine Corps, son of Mrs. Ray Hermans, of Angeline circle is spending his 15 day leave from Camp Pendleton, Cal., at the Herman's home. Pvt. Clinansmith will be reassigned, at the end of this leave, to the Supply

Forwarding Annex, in San Francisco, Calif.

On Saturday, October 12, at 8 p.m. the Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist church is having a masquerade. Hallo-we'en party in the barn on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith on Newburg road. This class is also inviting the Fellowship class of the church and any other young married folks to attend this fun activity. You are urged to dress in costume, as those who come without costume are promised something special in the way of attire. This sounds like a lot of fun. Games are planned and refreshments will be served to all the ghosts and goblins who attend.

The Fellowship Sunday school class of the Newburg Methodist church is planning a hay ride for Saturday, October 18 with the first wagon scheduled to leave the church hall at 7 p.m. This is to be a family affair and children are invited and all under sixteen will be charged a very minimum amount. Tickets are now in circulation for this event.

My last words and then I'll go! The Fidelis class and their Rummage sale. This is to be held Saturday, October 19 at the Newburg Methodist church and if you have anything you wish to have picked up please feel free to call Mrs. William Schmidt at Nlymouth 1868-R or Mrs. Earl Waack at GA. 1-6944. Please save your discards, and make this project a success!

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean:
I am interested in becoming a nurse, and I wondered what my chances are. If not in this field in the secretarial profession. MARILYN
Dear Marilyn:
Your handwriting indicates that you would be successful in either field because you like people and are sensitive to their needs, have the ability to learn and apply that knowledge and pay close attention to details resulting in a good memory.

You know that it is a long period of training to become a nurse and it takes a lot of stick-to-it-iveness which you must develop if you choose that profession. You sometimes find it hard to complete that which you start.

Dear Jean:
Would like to have you analyze my handwriting. We have been married a little over two years and have had much unexpected financial trouble. Can you see a brighter future for us? AN

Dear JAN:
I should like to have a specimen of your husband's handwriting to get to the bottom of this situation but as I don't I'll do the best I can with what yours reveals.

You like nice things and would like to get ahead, however, you sometimes contract obligations without first considering just how you will be able to fulfill them. Your generosity borders on extravagance which should be curbed. If you happen to be married to a person who is the opposite nature it would serve to balance the partnership.

Dear Jean:
I have for sometime been trying for another job, and was wondering if you could tell me just how things are going to turn out for me. RED

Dear Jean:
Grapho Analysis is a science used to determine character traits in a person's handwriting. Handwriting is brain-writing or in other words, it reveals what you are NOW. We CANNOT and do not wish to predict the future. We state the facts as they appear in your handwriting. It is entirely up to you what you do with your life.

Dear Jean:
I would appreciate very much if you would analyze my handwriting. I have just turned seventeen and would like to know my chances in finding friendship with an honest and considerate, true boy. Also, what occupation should I enter? MISS B.C.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hutzler, who had been the guests of relatives in Plymouth, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti for ten days returned to their home in Winter Haven, Fla., on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kirkpatrick and daughter, Judy, of Evanston, Ill., will spend the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk. On Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick will attend the MSU-U of M football game in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham of Ann street joined other friends for the evening, Saturday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Beverly Mollard in Windsor.

Mrs. Maurice Evans will be hostess Thursday at a 12:30 luncheon with members of the Emanon 500 club as guests in her home on Adams street. Guests will include Mrs. Earl Gray, Mrs. Joseph Tremain, Mrs. Dean Johnson, Mrs. William Michael, Mrs. William Grammel, Mrs. John Ramsey and Mrs. E. Mier.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Hulsing were hosts to members of their pinocle club Saturday evening in their home on Church street following dinner at Hillside. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. George T. Bauer were the guests.

Mrs. John Gaffield will entertain members of her Book club Wednesday evening, Oct. 16, in her home on Pacific.

Mrs. George T. Bauer will be hostess Friday afternoon to her contract bridge group in her home on Irving.

Dear MISS B.C.:
You are a person who will not show your emotions regardless of how deeply you are affected. You just aren't the emotional type. Your head will always rule your decisions and actions.

You have a creative mind and are logical in your thinking. There is rhythm in your handwriting. You are generous but your judgment will always rule, you will not give impulsively.

I cannot predict what kind of friendships you will make but if you associate with nice people and go to nice places you can be sure you will eventually find a boy who has the same ideals you have. You like to exercise your individuality so you will likely attract the type of boy you appeal to.

MOMS NEWS

The Moms of America will hold their next business meeting Monday, October 14 at 8 p.m. in the Veterans Memorial center.

On October 3 our hospital chairman, Mrs. Agnes Rollins, and six Moms went to the Ann Arbor Veterans hospital and were hosts to about 100 boys with games, homemade cakes and coffee.

On October 9th Mrs. Mary Bloomhuff and Mrs. Eleanor Balenger took homemade cookies and hot chocolate to the boys in the T. B. wards.

We are happy to hear that Fred Anderson is home again from St. Joseph's hospital and doing fine. He is the husband of our chaplain, Mrs. Maud Anderson.

What's the Story on ASIATIC FLU SHOTS?

When Asiatic Flu first invaded the United States, there was no known vaccine that would provide immunity against it. Today, there is one—thanks to the research and resourcefulness of the American drug industry which had to start from scratch to develop, produce and distribute the vaccine. More and more of it is being made available every day. We pledge that whatever supplies we receive will be placed immediately at the disposal of physicians. Keep in touch with your doctor. When he has the vaccine, he will be happy to administer it to your family.

British Evangelist To Speak Friday

The Plymouth Salvation Army Corps, 290 Fairground, will sponsor the London Revival Crusade Party in "Back to Revival" on Friday, Oct. 11. It will start at 7:30 p.m.
 Evangelist Owen Murphy will speak on "When God Stepped Down from Heaven".
 This is the message that has challenged the world of Evangelism, stirred many cities of America and caused churches to be swept with revival. Mrs. Murphy, a London preacher and radio vocalist, will take part in the meeting.
 The public is being invited to attend.

Methodist Colonial Mart Planned for Nov. 7

The pages of history will turn back for the "Colonial Mart" to be held at the First Methodist Church, November 7. Ladies in crinolines and ruffles will greet and direct customers at the annual bazaar. Booths will be set up for aprons, pillowcases, towels, doll clothes, novelties and decorations for the holiday tree. Candies, nuts, baked goods and flowers will also be featured for the table. There will be a snack bar where lunch will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and after 4 p.m. Tea will be furnished from 2 to 4 p.m. A grapho-analyst will also be on hand to analyze handwriting.

Christian Science Talk Given at Local Church

A lecture entitled "Christian Science: The Science of Pure Christianity" was given by Florence Middaugh of Los Angeles, Calif., October 4 at the church edifice in Plymouth.
 The lecturer is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Lutheran Women To Hear Chaplain

The United Lutheran church women will meet at the home of Mrs. Samuel Brown, 680 Ross street at 8 p.m. October 10. The guest speaker will be M. C. Hagedorn, institutional chaplain of the Lutheran Charities of Detroit.

Ill Mason Gets House Painted by Four 'Brothers'

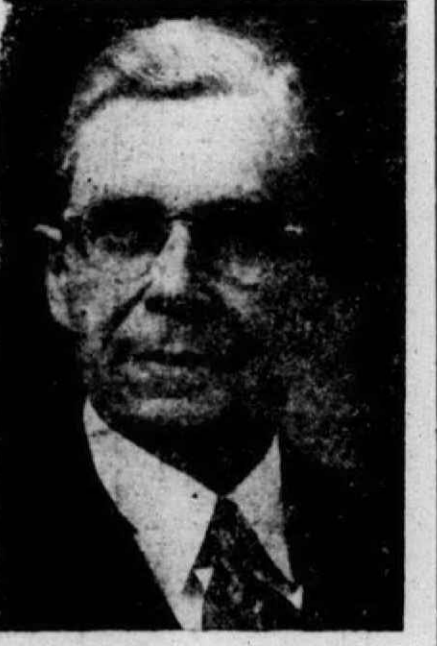

Four Masons doffed their usual business dress and rolled up their sleeves in a gesture of good will last month. The project: painting and repairing the home of Gus Lundquist just before he died of a heart condition September 17.
 Al Conery, who works at Duke's Barbershop, instigated the project, according to Mrs. Pearl Lundquist. Frank Terry from Terry's Bakery, Bill Downing, a training supervisor with the National Biscuit Company and Lon Brocklehurst of A. C. Brocklehurst Insurance Company also helped.
 The quartet spent two weeks painting the one story frame house at 348 Auburn. Besides applying two fresh coats of white paint, they did the thousand and one things that have to be done when you paint a house.
 "The house could have gone by without paint this year," Mrs. Lundquist said. "But the fellows insisted on helping. My husband had been ill for nine months and we were certainly grateful to them for their time and effort."
 It's apparent why the Masons call themselves "brothers."

Former Pastor Returns to Talk On Holy Land

Dr. Frank M. Field

The Plymouth Methodist Men will present Dr. Frank M. Field, noted authority on the Holy Land, with "The Town that gave us Christmas", an illustrated lecture on Bethlehem, Monday, October 28 at 8 p.m. at the First Methodist Church.
 Dr. Field was pastor at the local church during the building of the present sanctuary, he remembers preaching from the old wooden tabernacle and from the platform of City Hall while waiting for the new church.
 Since leaving Plymouth Dr. Field has been pastor of churches in Detroit, Flint and Mt. Clemens and has been Superintendent of Port Huron and of Saginaw, Bay Districts. He retired in 1953.
 His career as Bible Land lecturer started in 1930 while a student in Jerusalem at the American School for Oriental Research.
 Dr. and Mrs. Field have been to the Holy Land five times, their most recent visit was in 1956. They have spent considerable time in the city of Bethlehem and were there for six months at a time of great political unrest when the king dissolved parliament in a move to dislodge communists and fellow-travelers, and are well versed in the political situation in these troubled parts.
 "The Town that gave us Christmas" is an inspiring and stimulating hour of authentic Biblical information and pictures selected from over 1,400 Kodachrome slides produced by Dr. Field in his lifetime of study on the Holy Land. Dr. Field lectures extensively throughout Florida each winter.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

On Monday, September 30, hospital chairman, Mildred Dely and thirteen Post and Auxiliary members visited the veterans at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor. The following members made the trip and we know the entertainment was appreciated: Geraldine and Ed Olson, Bill and Ken Gust, Marion Groth, Vivian Haar, Hilda Rorabaecher, Ray Danol, Bette Neale, Mildred and Louis Dely, Marion Luttermose and Delores Olsvater.

We hope that the girls and fellows are all getting their Smorgasbord Dinner ticket reservations schedules so that they may pick up their dinner tickets early. The success of our dinner depends solely on the sale of the tickets and we know you won't let your ticket chairman, Gertrude Danol, down! You may call for your tickets at Marquis Toll House or from Gertrude. The various chairmen and their committees are all making their plans and the dinner is well in progress. Please be available if you are called upon to participate! Remember tickets are available hourly 1 thru 5 p.m.

The Auxiliary voted to make a donation toward the purchase of wheel chairs for the Wayne Out County Hospital for Crippled Children in Inkster. This program is sponsored by the Rotary Club in Wayne, and is certainly a very worthy cause!

The Membership Party held on Tuesday, October 8, at our hall was enjoyed by all. The attendance was good and everyone, members and guests, enjoyed the style show, directed and sponsored by Marion Dickie, from Linda Lee's, and the refreshments and other entertainment. Chairman, Betty Krumm, wished to thank all those who participated and prepared for the party. Anyone eligible to join our organization, may contact Membership Chairman, Betty Krumm. We know you will enjoy your association with us!

American Legion News

The Annual Conference of Post & Auxiliary Officers will be held in Lansing on Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12. Committee meetings will be held on Friday, October 11. Several members are planning to attend. The Juniors next business meeting is Wednesday, October 16 at Mrs. Gwen Holcombe's home, 46801 Joy Road at 4 p.m. Remember to save your cards, hose, ribbons, yarn, felt and etc. Call Mrs. Holcombe for more information phone 1759-M will pick up if necessary. The hose will be used at Veterans Hospital for physical therapists.

October 24, Thursday, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center is the next business meeting for the auxiliary. The month of October in the auxiliary is dedicated to "Education and Scholarship". The purpose of this program is to provide educational opportunities for children with emphasis being given to children of veterans who have been deprived of financial assistance to continue their education because of death or disability of a parent. Since the establishment of the committee shortly after World War II, The American Legion with the support of the auxiliary has requested and secured federal and state legislation which provides educational assistance to students where a parent lost his life or because of a disability incurred in service. This legislation is now in effect in most states and in the District of Columbia. Many scholarship opportunities exist in fields of nursing, physical therapy, speech therapy, social work, special education, teaching and other careers which serve children.

A "PANCAKE & WAFFLE FEED" is scheduled for Saturday, November 9th from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center. Tickets will be 75c for adults and 50c for children. The public is cordially invited.

A Toy Party will be held on Wednesday, November 13, Wednesday, at the Veterans Community Center at 8 p.m. A wonderful variety of toys will be displayed, the public is cordially invited to attend. For any other information regarding this project, contact Melva Gardner at 3395W.

Commander Harry Burleson, senior vice, William Langmaid and chaplain, Ernest Koi attended the district membership meeting held in Northville at the Lloyd H. Green Post on September 25th.

Attending the 17th district meeting held at the Lloyd H. Green Post Home in Northville October 3 were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi, Robert and Harold Wilson, Marie Thompson, Adah Langmaid and Maxine Kunz. Slides were shown by Harold Wilson taken at the National Convention held in Atlantic City. Very interesting and informative reports were given by Oscar Hammond and Harold Wilson regarding the National Convention. The next 17th district meeting will be hosted by the Passage-Gayde Post & Auxiliary on Friday, November 1, 8:30 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center.

Attending the Testimonial Dinner held in honor of Lawrence J. Lalone, of Lansing, at the DAV Memorial Home in Detroit were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi. Giles Reeves, department commander also attended. Lalone, executive secretary of the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund has helped many veterans through difficult times and was honored by all Michigan Veterans organizations at this dinner Friday, October 3. Marion Kot wishes to express her thanks to all who helped out on the rummage sale.

Gwen Holcombe is having a Christmas card display party at her home on Monday, October 28 in the evening. Welcome to all and bring your friends. We have a beautiful array of cards. Anyone wishing to have the Christmas cards, wrappings, etc., displayed in their home, please contact Harry Kunz, phone 3464R and let her know time and place. The proceeds go for a good cause—our building fund. Come on girls lets get a party going and invite your friends and neighbors. Fern Burleson wishes to thank all who attended her Christmas card display party which had a good turnout.

Pre-Broadway 'Carefree Heart' At Cass Theatre Needs Transfusion

"Carefree Heart" A Lynn Loesser and Shamus Locke of a musical comedy by Robert Wright and George Forrest; directed by H.C. Potter; Production designed by Oliver Smith; Lighting, Peggy Clark; Staging of musical numbers by Dina Krupska. At Cass Theatre, Detroit, September 30, 1957. $4.40 top.

Cast: Jack Carter, Susan Johnson, Melville Cooper, Ellis Wright, Allen Case, and a large number of talented supporting players.

Jack Carter, TV and Broadway star, opened last week in a new musical comedy, "Carefree Heart," that will need the services of some real play doctors before this show is ready for the hard-hearted users of verbal scalpels just off Times Square. Ironically, the play concerns the fortunes of a wood-cutter (Sganarelle) as he is forced into being a doctor by virtue of being beaten to admit he is a famous doctor incognito.

Jack Carter, with all his comic acumen, takes a beating both literally and figuratively as he struggles to overcome an insipid script. Basically, a good show lies beneath any of Moliere's comedies. All is needed to do is be brave and modernize Moliere. He was a master comedy writer. Much of his wit still has a sharp edge and what lines have been dulled by virtue of the years can be honed to a new brilliance with just a little thought on the part of the authors.

Sounds like the show is not worth a try of your patronage, doesn't it? Not at all. There are plenty of scenes that are good fun. Jack does a number called "Aristotle" with a clever bit of ad lib dancing that is worth watching. And his big Latin number, "Formula, Formula, Formula" is a comic values. The show takes on a new look at this point and moves into high gear.

Susan Johnson as a buxom nurse provides some interesting moments. Jack pursues her from time to time a la Bobby Clark. Show could provide a bit more by-play with the Nurse and Sganarelle. Also, the role of Sganarelle's wife is not made clear enough to the audience. Billie Worth is too valuable not to be used a great more.

By the way, "Carefree Heart" will be playing until this Saturday at the Cass. Why don't you go down and see what you think about this show. By this time, they no doubt have introduced new scenes and songs to give the show a little more zest.

Several of the songs have a haunting quality. "I Would Love Her Still" and the title song, "The Carefree Heart," are catchy and will be hummed by you as you leave the theater.

Before I left the theater, I went backstage and talked to Jack Carter about the show. He agreed that with a little "peppering up" script-wise the show would be a smash. While talking to Jack, Miss Krupska came in and we discussed the possibility of getting more dancing into the show. She indicated she would enjoy putting a modern dance sequence in the first act, but the producers just can't see it.

Well, it was a nice visit with Mr. Carter. He's a swell guy, hard-working and ready to cooperate. Please, Mr. Producers, let's get busy and purchase some fresh ideas from the nearest blood bank to give your "Carefree Heart" a steadier beat. Right now it's in serious straits and may stop.

by George Spelvin

WITH THE FIRST SNAP of fall in the air, the local theatres are getting their vocal cords into readiness for the coming season. On the high school scene our underground operator tells us that Robert Southgate will tackle an ambitious production of Jules Verne's "Around the World in Eighty Days." Shades of Mike Todd and his wide screen process! Drama Director Southgate is going Mike one better by presenting this mighty epic in the flesh. As soon as we know the exact dates, we will let you make plans for your travel reservations.

SIXTEEN PARTS ARE waiting to be cast in the first Guild production, "The Desk Set." Anyone with a yen to emote should plan to appear at the high school on Thursday, October 10th or on Friday night, October 11th for the tryouts. There is one non-speaking part that is a lulu. Come over to the tryouts and find out what parts you'd like to read. Read one or sixteen — it's your choice.

THE PLYMOUTH THEATER Guild Workshop has completed their casting on the play for the October 21st meeting of the Guild. "The Hitchhiker" is sure to be a thriller. Cast names were not available as we went to press. We did learn that Lloyd England has taken over the sound effects for the production. He will have plenty to do since this play depends on two, not just one, but two, sets of tapes for many of the spine-chilling effects. Remember the date — October 21st. Get your Halloween gosseimples early.

CAUGHT THE SECOND performance of "The Carefree Heart", the musical that is trying out at the Cass Theater prior to opening on Broadway. Had quite a talk with Jack Carter (you've seen him on TV) after the show. With some changes here and there this musical could go on to Broadway and be a success.

Jack agrees with George that it needs some script work. More snap and sparkle in the dialogue department would give the songs more whistle-quality. Right now the songs are trying to do the work that witty lines should accomplish. Best bet is for you to visit the Cass and make up your own mind about the show. You'll have a good time discussing the merits of the show.

BE SURE TO PLAN a pajama party this week and attend the Penn Theater. "The Pajama Game" is playing all week. You'll enjoy this movie. It played at the Radio City Music Hall for five weeks and grossed close to a million dollars. With that kind of money Warner Bros. can buy some fun-lined pajamas. It's not often that the screen can do a better job than the stage. In the case of "The Pajama Game" they almost accomplished it by taking the original New York stage cast and putting them before the cameras. John Raitt, who played the lead in the films. Believe this is his first appearance. You'll find his singing of "Hey, There" and "Love" is well worth your visit to the Penn Theater. See you at the movies.

This Week Commemorates 85th Anniversary Of Two Greatest Fires in American History

Two of the greatest fires in American history happened 86 years ago this week, on the same day, less than 200 miles apart.

Nearly everyone has heard the legend of how Mrs. O'Leary's cow started the Chicago fire when she kicked over a lamp. National Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 6-12) is observed annually on the anniversary of this famous fire. But unless you have visited the Green Bay area of Wisconsin, you may not have heard of the other great fire.

Called the "Peshigo" fire, it was the biggest and most terrifying forest fire in American history. Unlike the fire which struck Chicago, the Peshigo fire was not man-made. The Green Bay area (Oct. 6-12) had suffered from a heavy drought and by late summer most of the wells in the region were dry.

The first fires started in the peat bogs, which, in normal times, were covered by water. By Oct. 1, the first had started creeping out of the swamps and on that tragic Sunday of Oct. 8 they whipped themselves into a fury such as no forest fire previously recorded by history.

The initial warning to the people of Peshigo was a thick smoke that filled the air and set the people groping through the brownish smog on their way to church. Ashes sprinkled down on the town by late afternoon. The first fire alarm was sounded at 9 p.m.

What followed is history. Firemen were forced to abandon their equipment. Panic-stricken people sought refuge in their homes. Others leaped from bridges. Some sought protection in the church. By morning an estimated 1,500 persons lay dead.

Meanwhile in Chicago, the death toll rose to 250 and property damage amounted to $168,000,000.

Fire Prevention Day, as it was known, was first observed on October 9, 1911. It was in 1920 that President Wilson issued the first National Fire Prevention Day Proclamation. And, finally, in 1922, the entire week was proclaimed by President Harding.

Last year's fire losses in North America cost 11,100 lives and $1,385,000,000 in property.

No one expects to be calling their fire department this year — but many will in case there is a fire, here are some rules as outlined by Fire Chiefs Howard Holmes of Plymouth township and Robert McAllister of the city:

Get out of the house the minute you discover a fire or suspect one—and get everyone else out at the same time.

"Everyone should memorize this and other life safety rules about fire because they're your best guarantee of surviving a fire in your home."
They recommend these other rules as important to remember, too, if fire should strike:

Be ready with different escape routes from any room in your house.
Feel a door before opening; if hot, block it with furniture and seal with wet towels and blankets; try to get out another way.

Never jump from upper-story windows except as last resort; wait for firemen.
Hold your breath if you have to dash through smoke and flame; and remember that the air is usually better near the floor in a smoke-filled room.

Once out, don't ever go back into a burning building—smoke and gases from even the smallest fire can be deadly; children very often go back into their homes, so keep them restrained.

Get medical treatment at once if you are burned or exposed to smoke; seemingly minor burns or smoke inhalation can be exceedingly dangerous.

Call the fire department the instant you're certain that everyone is safely away from the fire—and leave the fire fighting to trained firefighters.

Patrons Sought For Education by TV

CHICAGO — (UP) — The recruiting of patrons for educational TV programs will be conducted by a new organization, it was announced here.

Edward L. Ryerson, former board chairman of Inland Steel Co., will head the new group called ONSET—Organization for National Support of Educational Television.

Ryerson said ONSET was formed "in recognition of the fact that there should be an organization devoted to developing educational programs and to matching such programs with appropriate patrons."

The patrons, unlike commercial sponsors, will be accepted only by invitation, Ryerson said. They will not exercise any influence over program content of educational TV programs.

Seniors and future teachers returning to Madonna college are spending half of their day in directed teaching in Plymouth and Livonia public schools.

Directed teaching, a state requirement for teacher certification, provides the future teacher with practical training and experience in the classroom.

Four of the seniors have been assigned to Plymouth schools. They are Christina Golema, second grade, Gallimore school, Mrs. Sheldon cooperating teacher; Norma Miller, fifth grade, Gallimore, Mrs. Westland; Dolores Pepera, third grade, George Smith school, Miss Lyanna; and Ellen Walker, fifth grade, George Smith, Miss Finkbeiner.

They're pretty proud of their newspaper, The Madonna Herald, after receiving the Newspaper of Distinction rating from the Catholic School Press Association (CSPA) of Marquette University in Milwaukee. This is the highest honor accorded Catholic college publications.

Former Herald editor, Evelyn Pikulski received two honorable mentions for her editorials and the present editor, Carol Ann Butcher was awarded an honorable mention in the feature division. Also selected among the ten best in the same division was Ann Clor's article on French rural families.

A practical "women's eye view" on a woman president comes from labor leader, Mrs. Margaret C. Thornburgh of Oklahoma City. She predicts there will be a woman assistant to the president long before there will be a woman president. She thinks that a woman president or even vice president is in the distant future. FAR in the future I'd say, since the general public will find it a hard notion to swallow.

A prized possession of Mrs. W. R. Alexander, 218 S. Harvey St., is a letter from Mamie Eisenhower congratulating her upon her 94th birthday. Wishing Mrs. Alexander the "peace and happiness of many more years," the note apologized for being tardy. Mrs. Alexander's birthday was September 12 and the letter was received September 25. Mrs. Alexander hasn't the least idea of how the White House learned about her birthday.

College-bound Plymouthites should all be settled for the fall semesters or quarters by now. Duane L. Rieder, son of Rev. and Mrs. David L. Rieder, 331 Arthur, is among the 311 enrolled at Sioux Falls College in Sioux Falls, S.D. The college is sponsored by American Baptist churches in the 5-state area of North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota. He was recently elected vice-president of his class.

Reed Mason of Ann Arbor road is attending Indiana University in Bloomington, where he recently pledged Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity.

The latest word from the Detroit Edison office is that March 17 (St. Patrick's Day) is plenty of time to work up an Irish brogue—practice sessions are tentatively set for the 16th — of March that is. This is the group of past fame in authentic Scotch accents.

NEW BOOKS LENDING LIBRARY At The Wayne County

"Death Be Not Proud" by John Gunther — A memoir relating the 17 years of the author's son's life before a brain tumor took his life. It is an inspiring tribute to the boy's spirit, doctors and medicine. The profits will go to Cancer Research for children.

"Bears in My Kitchen" by Margaret Merrill — A funny, warmhearted story of a city girl who marries a U.S. Ranger. After surviving the hazards of their remote cabin and camping trips, she tells how she learned to love their life in the wilds of various U.S. parks in the west and north-west.

"Time to Speak Up" by Jessie Haver Butler — A book designed for the woman club member, the lecturer, the leader in public affairs and the officeholder. This revised edition gives special attention to the duties of chairman, reports of delegates to convention, conducting of board meetings and campaign speaking.

"Be Shot for Sixpence" by Michael Gilbert — An entertaining novel about a trip behind the Iron Curtain, embellished by a deftly humorous type of suspense.

"Wings of the Forest" by Dr. William J. Long — Impressions and observations of bird life are told with charm and affection.

Dr. Long's anecdotes on nature were published after his death by his daughter, Lois Long, New Yorker writer.

"Personal and Oriental" by Austin Coates — A fresh intimate view of Japan, Hong Kong, Philippines, Burma, India, Pakistan, Iraq and Turkey by an astute observer.

"The Four Million" by O. Henry — In this collection of 25 stories, O. Henry has taken the rich tapestry of New York and transmitted it into some of the most exciting fiction of our time.

"Expanding the Case for the UFO" by M. K. Jessp — From the craters of the moon, the jungle hidden cities of history, the world's scattered pygmy tribes and yesterdays newspapers come new evidence for the existence of space life. Incidentally UFO is Unidentified Flying Objects.

"Red Man, White Man" by Alice Hazeltine — A fascinating collection of stories, legends and true accounts of the first Americans.

"The Fabulous Democrats" by David Cohn — The ups and downs, good times and bad and the victories and defeats are recounted by the author, meeting out praise or criticism where he felt it was deserved.

Today the United States leads the world in merchant steamship tonnage, with the United Kingdom second and Norway third.

Automobiles once were called "devil wagons."

IT TAKES training to become a good Cub Scout leader, and that is the job which this group has undertaken. Here are 30 of the 48 people who are training other Sunset District Cub Scout leaders. Seventy-five percent of the top Cub Leaders are trained at present. The goal of the training committee is 100 percent. Included on this staff are Norman Kellman and Alvin Stace of Plymouth. Two-training sessions are being held this year.

Grange Gleanings

A fairly good attendance and a very good meeting was had at the Grange last Thursday. A fine supper, as always, was served. The principle business of the evening was the annual election of officers which was accomplished "painlessly" and resulted as follows:

Worthy master, John Oldenburg; overseer, Charles Rienas; steward, George Loomis; assistant steward, Claude Eckles; lady assistant steward, Helen Eckles; chaplain, Mollie Tracy; secretary, Hilda Lunn; treasurer, Vivian Wise; lecturer, Bessie Salow; Ceres, Loretta Wilson; Pomona, Evelyn Fischer; Flora, Emma Schaufle; and gate keeper, Harmon Gates.

A splendid staff of officers under which our Grange should flourish as it has in the past few years.

We were happy to have as our guest at the meeting, Mrs. Mahaffy of Oneonta, N.Y., who is a charter member since 1915 of Oneonta Grange. She is visiting Mrs. Fisher, who is her sister-in-law and her niece and other relatives.

Next comes the annual rummage sale, October 19 at the hall. Isabel Taylor is the chairman this year. You may bring your contributions to the Grange on Thursday evening, October 17 or you may bring them to the hall Friday afternoon when there will be a committee there to receive them.

At our next meeting, October 17 we are to have a musical program. Rev. Ide and his family will be there to sing for us. Hope we have a good attendance.

Drivers and Drinks

Highway safety experts are digging deeper for reasons why people die in automobile accidents.

They will present new ideas to the 1958 session of the legislature in the latest of a series of bills that has changed the nature of motoring in Michigan in the past three years.

Laws now limit the speed of automobiles, exact severe penalties for drunk driving and recklessness, send bad drivers to special schools.

Highways are designed with the safety factor in the blueprints — divided super-roads with median strips, banked curves and fewer entry points.

Automobile manufacturers have stopped advertising speed to stress safety features. Now, the experts are tackling the remaining factor — the driver.

Drunk driving has for years been a serious crime behind the wheel.

But police records show now that, while a driver often cannot be considered intoxicated under legal standards, his reactions after several drinks are slowed. He is a poorer driver.

Alarm at the potential hazard of the drinking driver was stirred by a one-man field study — in a tavern.

An inspector told the commission he sipped soft drinks in the tavern for several hours, keeping tabs on how much alcohol motorists took on before getting into their cars outside. He said the number was between three and eight cocktails.

There might be some way for bars and taverns to stop serving a driver before his driving skill is impaired. There might be a concentrated promotional campaign to "shame" drivers into holding down their drinks before getting behind the wheel.

There are now several violations for which a driver can lose his license in Michigan. The State Bar of Michigan may propose that a police officer immediately take away a driver's license after an arrest. In exchange, the driver would get a temporary permit, regaining his permanent license only after court action.

This plan is expected to be proposed to the legislature, but critics already are complaining that it is unconstitutional — to deprive a person of property without due process.

New Products

NEW YORK — (UP) — An electronics manufacturer hopes for big nursery sales for its one-station wireless radio-intercom system that serves as a proxy baby sitter.

Brainchild of Fanon Electric Co., New York, the so-called "Baby-Com" is supposed to pick up noise in a room and transmit on its own private frequency to any home, car or portable radio. The frequency is adjustable and may be tuned to any unused part of the radio dial.

Oops, the gravy landed on the suit. You can be ready for such emergencies with a new spot-remover that can be carried in pocket or purse. The "Spot-Pac" folder contains from one to eight foil wrapped wicks saturated with a powerful cleaning fluid. It's available from Cleveland Specialties Co., Cleveland, Ohio.

Westinghouse Electric Corp. has introduced a portable dishwasher that holds a complete dinner service for eight people. The unit, which uses only six gallons of hot water, is low enough to be stored under most kitchen work counters. Its measurements—22 inches wide, 26 deep and 34 high.

A 15-pound load of vegetables can be peeled in less than one minute with the new Univex "H" portable peeler, according to Universal Industries, Inc., Somerville, Mass., the manufacturer. The appliance may be used on the drainboard of a sink and requires no installation or plumbing, the firm says, adding that pulverized peelings flow down the drain without danger of clogging.

Johnson & Johnson, New Brunswick, N.J., surgical dressing company, has introduced an improved sterile gauze bandage which it says makes regular roll gauze bandages obsolete. The new bandage is self-fitting, doesn't slip and adapts to any body contour. It also is supposed to have 40 per cent more stretching quality than ordinary gauze.

Laying underground pipe, cable or sprinkler systems with a minimum of torn-up ground is one of automatic trenching machine developed by Cosom Engineering Corp., Minneapolis. Cosom says the hardened steel teeth of its saw cut a sharp, clean trench 2 1/2 inches wide even in rugged soil. Three models are available that trench to depths of 12, 18 or 24 inches.

New York's Governor Highest Paid in Land

ALBANY, N. Y. — (UP) — The highest paid governor in the United States is Averell Harriman of New York, who receives an annual salary of $50,000.

Closest to the New York executive among his 47 gubernatorial colleagues is Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, at $30,000 a year.

Five governors share third place, with annual salaries of $25,000. They are Goodwin J. Knight of California, William G. Stratton of Illinois, James T. Blair Jr. of Missouri, C. William O'Neill of Ohio and George M. Leader of Pennsylvania.

At the other end of the scale is John E. Davis of North Dakota who receives $9,000 per year. Four state executives receive $10,000 a year—Orval Faubus of Arkansas, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and George D. Clyde of Utah.

The figures are as of Jan. 1, 1957. Jay Gould, railroad magnate, left an estate of $72 million.

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

"WHY GROW OLD?" is the weary query which serves as the title of a syndicated newspaper column by Miss Josephine Lowman. Now I don't want to step into a skirmish with a scribe as experienced as Miss Lowman but it seems to me that the title with its oblique promise of eternal youth disturbs and dismays more readers than it helps.

Why grow old? My answer would be that we should grow old because aging is a normal part of the life cycle. As aging is inevitable if we continue to live, it seems that informed folk in the journalistic fraternity should be nursing instead of knocking the belief that old age is a highly desirable time of life.

There are still quite a few people around who tend to be kittenish about growing old. These are the characters who conceal their age with greater zeal than they conceal the skeletons in their family closet. They seem completely unaware that while the later years used to hint of ugliness and defeat, these years are increasingly coming to bear the hallmarks of dignity, wisdom, and freedom.

Perhaps if Miss Lowman will take a fresh look at life she'll discover that old age in modern times is as rewarding a period as any other and that it is much sounder to document its delights than to suggest detours.

Another female who should be taken to task is Miss Gloria Swanson, 60, who offers a line of fashions for mature women under the fawning label "Forever Young." It would seem that Miss Swanson is old enough to know that even a movie queen can't remain forever young. Yet when I once voiced my protest to the svelte Swanson I got the snappy comeuppance, "Don't be foolish — everyone wants to be young."

Apparently the hucksters believe that everyone wants to be young. They seem convinced that youthfulness will sell and that anything smelling of maturity is a dead duck. Just look at the ads. Nine out of ten of them feature radiant, pink-cheeked youngsters who smilingly suggest that the product they are plugging will help you roll back the years as neatly as you roll up a window shade.

Fortunately, there are growing numbers of mature people in this country who consider the "let's stay young" philosophy pretty silly. There may have been a time when just about everyone wanted to be young. But gerontology — the study of aging — has in the past decade encouraged millions of people to take pride in their years. Youthfulness is no longer the appealing maiden she may have been in earlier, less enlightened periods. A goodly number of our population today is bright enough to realize that old age can be a richly attractive segment of life. And they become a little disgusted when writers and fashion designers do the ostrich bit and pretend that old age can be avoided or is something which doesn't exist.

One of these days the tune will change. When the population past 65 years of age reaches 22 million, as it is predicted it will within the next dozen or so years, the oldsters will be so plentiful, and so well-informed gerontologically, that they won't put up with the snide attacks which have been heaped at their door for so many decades.

Total investment of Americans in property and endowment of privately supported institutions of education, religion, health and welfare increased by an estimated $1,400,000,000 in 1956.

The Clifton suspension bridge near Bristol, England, is 245 feet above high tide level in the Avon Gorge.

The North African State of Libya has an area of 679,358 square miles.

What is the Bible?

Oberlin, O. (UP)—American Protestants tend to agree in their beliefs about Jesus Christ but they disagree sharply in their views on the Bible.

This was brought out today by an unprecedented survey of the "working faith" of church members in 10 major denominations. Results of the survey were presented to the North American Conference of Faith and Order.

The conference, was the most ambitious attempt ever made to lay the groundwork for a reunion of Protestant and Orthodox churches in North America. Leaders of 47 U.S. and Canadian denominations participated in the eight-day meeting on the campus at Oberlin College. The Roman Catholic Church sent two "informal observers" but is not officially taking part.

The survey, conducted by a research group of clergymen and educators at Minneapolis, confirmed the suspicion of church leaders that there is comparatively little relationship today between a man's denominational affiliation and his doctrinal beliefs.

Among the 5,704 protestants who were polled, differences in belief were found to be as great or greater within members of the same denomination and members of another. Similarly, agreement on cardinal points of faith cut across denominational lines.

The researchers reported they found "very substantial" agreement on two doctrines which comprise "the essence of the Christian Church."

In their answers to a questionnaire, 82 per cent of the clergy and 74 per cent of the laymen chose the description of Jesus Christ which "clearly asserted his divinity."

An additional 14 per cent of the clergy and 16 per cent of the laymen held that Christ "uniquely revealed the nature of God." A statement which researchers said "could imply divinity in a very broad sense."

On a closely related question, 90 per cent of the clergy and 94 per cent of the laymen affirmed the belief that Christ "mediates to believers the forgiving grace of God in such manner as to be both Lord and Savior."

The "least agreement" was recorded on descriptions of the Bible. Twenty one per cent of the clergy and 22 per cent of the laymen considered it the "infallible, verbally inspired Word of God."

An additional 16 per cent of the clergy and 17 per cent of the laymen called it "the infallible Word of God but conceded that it may be "subject to errors in the transmission." Twenty-five per cent of the clergy and 31 per cent of the laymen described the Bible as the "Word of God" without claiming infallibility for it.

The largest single group—32 per cent of the clergy and 24 per cent of the laymen—chose the statement that "the Bible is the unique historical record of God's Revelations to inspired men."

The smallest group, 3 per cent of the clergy and 4 per cent of the laymen, called the Bible "one of several records of man's search for God."

"TAKE THESE GOGGLES 'I'M WEARING..."

They're the best

When I bought 'em, they showed me some cheaper ones but I'm not one to take chances on my eyes to save a couple of dollars.

I figure insurance on my car and my home the same way. It takes me a long time to pay for a car — and almost a lifetime of hard work before I'll have my house paid for.

So, I'm not interested in how cheap I can buy insurance but HOW THOROUGHLY I'm protected after I buy it.

That's why I do business with a qualified, independent insurance agent. First, I figure that he's a professional man, knows all the ins and outs about his business. Then, too, I figure that if all the biggest companies trust him enough to let him bind them in writing, I can put my faith in him, too.

And, I feel I'm getting the best buy of all... my car and my house are safe and no ifs, ands or buts about it. And, my insurance agent will be right there if I need him, just like my family doctor is.

I figure it's important to be sure about your insurance and the professional knowledge of the man you buy it from.

LIKE PULLING TEETH, isn't it, to get a letter out of that boy or girl away at college? It's always been like that and we guess it always will be. So why fight it? The easiest, surest way to keep in touch is by telephone. Rates are especially low after 6 p.m. and on Sunday. Why not arrange a special time, maybe once a week, for your youngsters to call you? Have them reverse the charges if you like. You'll enjoy the chance to talk as much as they will.

ENTERTAINMENT for your group or club is no problem with one of Michigan Bell's free movies or lecture programs. You can choose from quite a list. They vary from 10 to 60 minutes long. For example, the recent Bell Telephone TV films, "Our Mr. Sun" and "Hemo the Magnificent," are available. One of the most popular lecture-demonstrations, "Color Comes Calling," shows how to blend, contrast and harmonize colors for skillfully decorating your home. If you need a movie projector to show a Michigan Bell film, arrangements can usually be made for that, too, at no charge. For details, just call our business office.

HELPING YOU is her business. She's a typical Service Representative in the telephone company's business office—one of the girls you'll talk with when you call up or drop in to discuss your telephone service. You've noticed how courteously and quickly she handles your business. That's because she enjoys helping others, and because she had special training before she ever talked with a customer. That training continues to keep her posted on practically everything the customer might want to know about his telephone service. She's one of the people who make your telephone service good.

Early Holiday Shopping at Demonstrations

Word To The Wise Dept.: Better put your car in the garage come bed time and bring in the bikes, etc. because there is the usual pre-Halloween vandalism going on. I hear, with hub caps and tires being removed, etc. Heard that in one case the kids weren't content to merely take two tires, but came back on another night to take the other two!

There was a toy demonstration Monday night, September 30 at the home of Nancy Roberts, Louisiana and everyone had a fine time sneaking in a bit of early Christmas shopping. Those attending were Dolores Weinberger, Janet Blanchard, Shirley Good, Jean Denzinger, Kathleen Schroeder, Nancy Snowberger, Monica Nehasel, Mary Luedtke, Peg Rosevior and Gerri Casler.

The Women's Club of the civic association held a board meeting Tuesday morning, October 1st at the home of Doris Sears on Arden. Those present were Eleanor Curle, Ginny Gamber, Ellie Button, Marge Crossett, Gwen Jackman, Pat Milliman, Rita Thompson, Chloe Dieffenfer and Dorothy Burley.

Peg and John Miquelon, Hubbard, are the parents of a new baby boy, John Robert, Jr., who arrived Sept. 30 at Ford Hospital weighing a whopping eight pounds, six ounces. John has three sisters to welcome him—Steffi, Lani and Mitchie.

A jewelry demonstration party took place Thursday evening, Sept. 26 at the home of Jackie Davis on Wooding. Those present were Ruth Barber, Norma Carr, Phyllis Head, Arline Carr, Myrtle Kenny, Grace Hall, Barbara Ogger, Margaret Flanagan, Jean Kenny, Diane Bud, Enid Budd, Magdeline Whible, Helen Whible, Mildred Papp, and niece Janet, Beverly Weinspiman, Beth Sabourin and Jean Burbank. The demonstrator was Mrs. Frankie Zapert of Garden City. Happy birthday to Steffi Miquelon, who was 15 years-old on October first.

John Coleman, Monna, was taken in as a new member of the Jaycees Sept. 17 at a dinner at Hillside.

Quite a few Rosedale Garden residents at the Policeman's Day at Riverside Arena Saturday night, Sept. 28, among them being the Heitners, the Lorians, the Cores and the Pages.

That was Laurie Dana flying up and down our street of Vermont selling Girl Scout calendars last week. Brownie troop No. 2295 is now selling them, so why not get your 35c counted out right now and put it in a handy place to be ready when a little Scout rings your door bell?

Remember what a good time everybody had at the Women's club card party last Fall? Well, Thursday evening, November 7 will be the date for the next one at the clubhouse on Hubbard and it certainly isn't too soon to begin getting a table together again! You may play anything you want to, pinocle, bridge or what have you, there will be table prizes and dessert and coffee will be served. Tickets will be on sale in about two weeks.

The Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church couples club met in the church basement Friday evening, Oct. 4 for a good old fashioned square dance with popular Betty and Bob Carson of Plymouth calling and directing. Everybody was requested to bring his own bowl and chili was served for the supper.

Mrs. Irving Hancock, Blackburn, is teaching the china painting class at Whitman Junior High this fall. Classes will be Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 10 and a very nominal fee of $6.00 for the series will be charged.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Blackburn, returned last week from a trip to northern Michigan.

The senior choir of Rosedale Garden Presbyterian church gave a dinner Thursday night, Oct. 3 in the church basement in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall who were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary and presented them with a gift. Mr. Marshall is church organist.

Sorry to report that the Seigh's baby girl has been ill in the hospital and that by the time you read this she is well again. The Seighs live on Mayfield.

The second grade Brownie troop at Grant school held its first meeting Tuesday October first after school. New members of the troop are Karen Kobiata, Cindy Schroeder and Christine Roberts.

The Fays, Mary Lou and Craig of W. Chicago have added one more boy to the family, making it a total of three sons! Brian Arthur was born Sept 14 at Dearborn Medical Center and I'll be looking forward to seeing him in his playpen in the yard behind me this summer!

Bob and Gerri Casler and daughters Susan and Gayle, Louisiana, returned recently from a vacation that covered Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Toronto. The Caslers visited Bob's mother, Mrs. Cullers in Wilson, Va., friends in Ferndale, Pa., and all of Gerri's relatives in Toronto.

Rosedale School P.T.A. held its first meeting Wednesday night, Oct. 2 with a really outstanding program. Dr. Wallace F. Watt, educational consultant of the Michigan Department of Mental Health gave a talk on "Ages and Stages of a Child's Growth." He listed four growths—physical, mental, emotional and social. Miss Baker, principal, introduced five new teachers and Girl Scout troop No. 1098 presented the colors at the opening of the meeting.

Les Core, Cranston, won the St. Andrew's Men's Club annual golf tournament trophy Sunday. The trophy is quite unusual and Barb had putting it in a place of honor on the mantel, but it just didn't seem to be in its proper place, and will probably be put in the powder room! A large red bow on its handle makes it especially stylish.

New members of Suburban Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig and children Max, Dick and Jerry, formerly of Detroit, are now at home on Loveland. Did somebody remember to tell them about Civic???

The sixth little Nohan arrived Sept. 23 at Eren General Hospital. Cynthia Louise, who weighed six pounds, K. ounces, belongs to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nohan, Loveland, and was welcomed home by brothers and sisters Charles Jr., Linda, Gene, Mary Kay and Joyce.

Debbie and Russ Parkinson, Melrose, took in the football game at Ann Arbor Saturday, October fifth.

Glad to see a Rosedale Garden featured in a Detroit paper Sunday, Sept. 29. Mary Lou Valentine, Westmore, was featured as a girl who "lives alone and loves it" in a really interesting story.

By the way, Celia Hearon of Vermont avenue is selling subscriptions to the P.T.A. magazine now. Her telephone number is GA. 2-0291 and the subscriptions are $1.25 each.

Grant P.T.A. held its first meeting of this season Wednesday evening, Oct. 2 in the multi-purpose room with a Special Services program. Dr. Diskin, psychologist for Livonia schools, and his panel of specialists in their fields spoke on services available that they could offer and how they worked with the teachers and the school. Included on the panel were a visiting nurse, visiting teacher, homecoming teacher, reading aid teacher, blind correction teacher, speech correction teacher and mentally handicap teacher. Miss Seifert's second grade won room prize for having the highest percentage of parents present. Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee and furnished by first grade mothers.

Vic and Chloe Dieffenfer, Mayfield, had Mrs. Alma Dieffenfer, Vic's mother from Greenfield, Pa., as their guest for three weeks.

R.G. No. 1 Cub Scouts, Den No. 6 met Tuesday evening, October 1 at the home of Bea Summerlee on W. Chicago for their meeting and games. Cubs belonging to this den are Greg Ochs, Greg Zawatzny, Bill Allen, Bill Maury, Robert Summerlee and Tom and Bob Rutherford.

Norma Chavez, Girl Scout who spent a month this summer visiting the Livorno family on Hubbard, wrote to say that she finished her course and is now employed in the penthouse office on the 42nd floor of a building in Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sell, W. Chicago, had company last Wednesday when Mrs. Sell's cousin, Mrs. Leonard Phipps and daughter Barbara dropped in from Toledo, Ohio.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Mae Kubie, W. Chicago, went to Pontiac where she visited her brother, Mr. Theodore Avery who is ill in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital.

Tuesday, October 1 marked the date of a joint birthday party for Beth Thiede's children, Kurt who was on Sept. 30 and Gloria who was two the first of October. Guests present were Nancy Roberts and children Carol, Mary, Eddie and Angela, Monica Griffiths and Gary, Gerri Casler and Gayle and Susan, and also Beth's mother in law Mrs. Thiede from Minnesota who is visiting the family.

Marcia Wiegand, Cranston, who attends college at Ann Arbor, was home over the weekend of the 28th and brought along her roommate.

Thursday evening, Sept. 26 McCekklup and Audrey Davis Erma Wiegand, Peg Harte, Jane gave a surprise baby shower for Jean Watt, Fairfield, at the McCekklup residence on Fairfield. About 25 persons were present, including many of Jean's relatives and neighbors.

Have you heard the latest Elvis platter? If not, thank your lucky stars, for I have—over and over! Last week John Peterson, Cranston, didn't get around to buying his copy until they were all out of it, so our Money-mad son Don rented his copy to him for a dime a night, and while we hope the Petersons didn't go stark, raving mad, it sure was nice to be able to share the music! (We also hope the wear and tear on the record shortened its life considerably.)

Dedication of Whitman Jr. High and Grant schools will be Sunday, Oct. 13 and it will be a good idea to circle that date on your calendar.

Eileen and Mel Livorno, Hubbard, children of the Jerome Livornos, really gave their parents a bang-up surprise Sept. 14 when they organized a 20th wedding anniversary party for them. The kids not only invited about 22 people, they arranged to get their parents out of the house for dinner and then send a call to get them home!

If Betty Dana seemed to be having troubles last Thursday, she was! She bought a carton of milk, carton of goldfish and a carton of sugar and they all leaked on the way home! The gold fish are to replace the parakeet who drowned in the dish water.

Eileen Livorno, Hubbard, spent last weekend at the Girl Scout lodge at Saline. Eileen is on the Girl Scout Senior Metro Planning Council and also a member of the Girl Scout Metropolitan Youth Council Planning Board.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

"Too many cooks spoil the broth" remember the old saying? And too much interference from friends can spoil a date. This girl's friends talked too much about her date, and she listened to her own mind of making up her own mind.

Q—"Dear Elinor: I had a date with a boy twice and he asked me for a third date, but I turned him down because a couple of girls told me things about him that weren't very nice. Since I stopped dating him, the kids tease me about not going with him... after telling me not to. I'm sorry that I listened to gossip about him instead of finding out for myself what he's like. He was nice to me. Should I tell him why I stopped going with him or should I forget it?"

A.—If a boy really has a bad reputation—and possibly a police record—in your community, there'd be real cause for it and you'd be smart to avoid trouble.

By not dating him. But it's silly to pay too much attention to what another girl or two say about a boy, because different people like different types and often have different impressions of the same person.

For example, a noisy, chatty, bouncy girl might consider a certain boy quiet simply because he was quiet when she was, while a shy, quiet girl might think he was a terrific talker because he talked more than she did.

If you still like him, why not try to get together by inviting him to your home, to a party, dance, picnic or a double-date?

stered pieces with a great deal of ease if you rub moistened chambray over the furniture.

Brass pipes and fixtures can be polished to brilliance if you rub a cut piece of lemon over them. Rinse off with hot water and then polish until they shine.

Clothes are much easier to iron if your board is well padded and the cover stretched taut over it. Have the cover damp when you place it on the board for best results.

Never iron over buttons, hooks, snaps or fasteners. These will scratch the bottom of the iron. Zippers should always be closed before ironing.

Toss your plastic clothes line in warm water and suds either in the tub or washing machine to clean it easily. Rinse before using.

Windows Add Space, Light to Attic Room

Extra living space for a growing family can be obtained by adding a pair of dormer windows to an expansion attic. Dormers increase head room and usable floor space in the attic, besides providing needed light and ventilation.
Windows of ponderosa pine are preferred for dormers and for most remodeling, since the clear wood can be painted to harmonize with the exterior of the house, and painted or stained to fit the interior color scheme.
For ease of installation, wood windows are made in units, with frame and sash combined, and are equipped with weatherstripping and hardware at the factory.

Beautiful Planter Box You Can Make

Home design experts agree that the planter box is rapidly becoming one of the most popular items of modern home furnishings. Here is one that can be used either as a room divider or as an independent item of functional furniture. It is simple and economical to build. Any home series of light wood frames, screwed together, lined and covered with panels of rot-proof, durable asbestos-cement board, are the materials used in its construction. The liner, when caulked, forms a permanent box in which to make the planting, without fear of deterioration. The asbestos-cement board is the same material used by many professional nurserymen to line their planting boxes. When trimmed at the corners with standard modern door casings, the planter has a modern Chippendale appearance. Apply two coats of dull black lacquer and a dramatic decal in the center of the panel and you have the luxurious planter pictured above. Plans for building this planter are available free of charge by writing The Asbestos-Cement Products Association, 509 Madison Ave., New York 22, N. Y.

Fuel Wasted If Insulation Has 'Leaks'

A leak anywhere in the water supply system usually gets quick attention from the home-owner. He knows that even a slow drip-drip costs money in wasted water.

But another type of leak many home-owners fail to do anything about is the silent, invisible escape of heat through gaps in the insulation barrier.

Heat gets out through these leaks in a steady stream all winter long, wasting costly fuel and causing discomfort zones in the home.

Economy-minded home-owners can find and correct these insulation leaks. A few of the most common areas where leaks are discovered are the enclosed garage, a garage or porch ceiling with living space above it, and, particularly in split levels, the wall between the attic over the lower level and the upper level bedrooms, which are easy to reach. A homeowner can stop insulation leaks himself with thick batts or blankets of mineral wool. Areas such as a large wall or ceiling which the homeowner suspects is not insulated or has inadequate insulation can be inspected by an insulation contractor and properly insulated by him if necessary.

It's also a good idea to look for small gaps in areas which have been insulated, such as the attic floor. Here batts and blankets should fit snugly against joists and against the wood at the ends of the joists, and there should be no holes. Batts and blankets generally can be pushed in place, and any holes found can be filled with pouring wool available from building-material dealers.

Even the Job of Falling Off a Roof Should Be Done Very Scientifically

The vernal equinox marks the onset of spring and jobs to do, like repairing leaky roofs. But remember—a strictly-for-laughs article in Home Modernizing warns—there's no room on a roof for drips. If you must fall off, do it scientifically.

You need a reason for being on the roof—and something to fall over. A roll of roofing paper provides both.

So you fall. Don't rush things, but don't dawdle, either. As the pull of gravity asserts itself, ooze down.

A good workman never forgets his tools. Take them with you. You may be too occupied, once you hit the ground, to climb back after them.

When friend walks up, show pride if you've done a good job of falling. If not, tell him you were pulling the roof closer to the ground.

If a cigarette burn chars only the surface of a rug, use sharp shears to snip away the blackened ends of the tufts, sponge with neutral detergent solution... then, with clear water. Blot up the moisture.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A PLANTER FRAME

An attractive planter can be made with just a few tools. It can be painted to blend or harmonize with the surroundings. Any size or shape of frame can be made. Treated or durable lumber should be used to prolong the usefulness of the planter.

Mitered joints are used on the frames which will require a miter box wide enough for a 7/8-inch board and high enough for a 9/16-inch board. Assemble by gluing the joints and then nailing the boards together with 10-penny finishing nails. Picture frame clamps will help to assemble the frames and to produce a sturdier job. For additional strength and rigidity use 4-inch flat metal braces. The bottom frame is then cut so that its inside edge will be the same dimensions as the inside edge of the top frame.

Assemble the miter joints with glue and 10-penny finishing nails on both sides of each corner of the frame.

The top is fastened to the bottom frame with glue and finishing nails.

Set all nails and fill the holes with wood filler. Sand the planter smooth and round all sharp edges.

The planter may be painted or finished with shingle stain.

Spout on a Spout
A SIMPLE but ingenious means of oiling hard-to-reach locations was illustrated in Popular Mechanics. A reproduction of the drawing here shows an oil can spout extension which is a length of 3/4" neoprene tubing. With it, the oiling of the blower shaft of a forced-air furnace or behind the wheels of a lawn mower becomes easy. It is useful, too, in oiling inaccessible spots in a motorcar.

Clogged Gutters Endanger House

Roof gutters clogged by falling leaves can be a potential danger to a house. If water standing in the gutters freezes, it can act as a dam which may cause water to back up under the edge of the roof and leak into the house.

Two safeguards against this are:
1. Keeping gutters clear of leaves and other debris.
2. Properly applied roofing. Recommendations for application of asphalt shingles, the most widely used roofing for homes, call for an extra layer of waterproof material under the shingles at the eaves.

The Textured Rug New Look for Home

FREE DIRECTIONS are available for crocheting the Textured Rug. You'll find it an attractive addition to your home.

News on the home front is the trend toward texture. A striking example of this "new look" is the Textured Rug. The soft high pile and interesting pattern add beauty to polished wood or linoleum floors.

Its uses are varied. Teachers will find it a perfect "camping spot," small children will love a bright-colored version by their bed. Use it, too, as a color accent in a living room, hallway, or den.

Easy to crochet, the rug can be made in any size you wish. It works up quickly in rounds done in a fast loop stitch, set off by squares in contrasting colors.

Shown here in fluffy loops of white, with squares in black and red, the rug is equally handsome crocheted in a single color — rosy new coral, for instance. Or, choose a combination that fits your decorating scheme.

Washable, color-fast and shrink resistant, the yarn is guaranteed to give lots of wear.

To obtain a free, illustrated instruction leaflet for crocheting the rug, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of the Plymouth Mail, requesting the Textured Rug leaflet.

UNIQUE ANTIQUE carved Japanese cherry wood-block panels create a very imposing piece of furniture in combination with the plain surfaced lower panels. The upper section, made centuries ago for the printing of ancient books, are rare because each panel is the only one in the world and no two in the section are alike.

Fresh
Pears

It's fresh pear time — October to May. Time to keep a stock of pears on hand for quick desserts, salads and snacks.

Pears are an all-around fruit, appropriate for breakfast, lunch, dinner or for an energizing pick-up.

The three most popular pears are Anjou, Bosc and Comice. Here is a guide to learning the ABC's of pears:

Anjou pears have a rich, spicy flavor and have smooth textured yellow-green skin. They are plump and thick-skinned.

Bosc pears are recognized by their golden brown and russet color. They have long tapering necks and are buttery and sugar sweet.

The largest, juiciest and most fragrant pears grown are Comice pears. They are yellow-green, frequently with a crimson blush.

When buying pears, here's a good way to judge their ripeness. A fully ripe fresh pear will yield to gentle pressure when held in the palm of your hand and pressed with thumb or forefinger. If pears are not fully ripe, leave at room temperature until ripe. Keep only ripe pears in the refrigerator.

Thirst-quenching and low in calories, pears are just the thing for hungry workers and school kids lunchboxes. Pack two in each lunchbox — one for lunch and another for a mid-morning or afternoon snack.

Here's a pear recipe for a luncheon and a delight to dieters.

Pear Fruit Boats
4 ripe Anjou pears
1 large, or 2 small oranges, sectioned
6 dried figs, cut in small pieces
8 marshmallows, quartered
8 maraschino cherries
½ pound grapes

Romaine or other salad greens
Wash and halve pears. Core and scoop centers, saving pear meat for salad mixture. Combine diced orange sections, pear cubes, marshmallows and figs. Heap in hollowed pear halves and place 2 halves on salad greens. Dress with favorite dressing and garnish plate with frosted grapes made by dipping grapes in fruit juice and rolling in granulated sugar.

A round-the-clock pear cocktail or dessert is this complete recipe.

Two-Way Treat
3 fresh Anjou or Comice pears
1 eleven ounce can tangerine
1 no. 2 can pineapple chunks segments
1 four ounce jar maraschino cherries

Slice fresh pears into eighths. Add maraschino cherries, pineapple cubes and tangerines with juice from each can. Toss fruit lightly to combine. Chill before serving. Spoon into dessert dishes. Will serve 6.

Here's a fresh pear and cheese tray which knows no peer for a sophisticated dessert, yet it is easy to serve.

Continental Dinner Dessert
Anjou pears
2 wedges Gruyere cheese
1 wedge Blu cheese
1 three ounce package cream cheese
1 wedge Cheddar cheese
1 Gouda cheese
Red grapes

Arrange on a tray and serve.

Read Labels: Avoid Dangers Of Chemicals

The increased use of household chemicals for cleaning can make simple household chores a rather dangerous pastime.

This is true when you don't read labels and realize the strength of the chemicals you are using to clean your floors, sinks and clothes.

Six hundred to 1,000 deaths from accidental poisoning occur annually, mostly to children. The total number harmed or injured is 1,000 to 2,000 and the effects exceed those of any of the childhood diseases.

Homemakers are often unaware of the dangerous chemicals they are using because of insufficient information on the labels or because they don't read the labels. It is stressed that you should look and insist upon informative labels.

For example Household bleach, found in almost every home, is a water solution of sodium hypochlorite. Any acid or acid-producing substance will react with chlorine bleach and liberate deadly chlorine gas.

In New York a homemaker used a toilet bowl cleaner containing sodium acid sulfate and to intensify the cleaning action she added a bleach. From the chlorine that was liberated, she died in a few minutes.

Several bills are in Congress with provisions to regulate distribution and sale of hazardous articles.

How to Use Lamb Riblets
Stock up on fall menu selections. Lamb riblets are delicious barbecued and served atop of rice or they may also be used for lamb stew. The riblets are cut from the lamb breast. Approximately one-half pound is needed per serving.

When modernizing a kitchen, it's wise to continue a Kentile floor right through the bottoms of all base cabinets. Any left over tiles can be used to cover cabinet shelves where pots and pans are to be stored. This provides surfaces easy to dust and wipe.

Want a little variation on the old standby-hamburger? Roll the hamburger into a finger shape, wrap it with bacon strips and after it is cooked, put it into a hotdog bun.

Piping Hot for Cool Weather

Crisp cool weather calls for piping hot food which has a stick-to-the-ribs quality.

Macaroni and Cheese Favorite is a lip-smacking good dish with hearty nourishment for the family. A quick and easy cream sauce for this recipe is made with instant nonfat dry milk, a handy item in any woman's kitchen. It liquefies immediately, even in ice water and is a rich source of protein, calcium and riboflavin. Yet it is most inexpensive for the family-size package and makes 12 quarts of nonfat milk for as little as eight cents a quart.

Macaroni and Cheese Favorite
(Makes 4 to 6 Servings)
4 tablespoons butter
1 medium-size green pepper, diced
2 tomatoes, cut in eighths
½ cups liquefied nonfat dry milk
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ pound sharp processed cheese food, shredded
2 strips crisp bacon, crumbled (optional)
1 package (½ lb.) elbow macaroni, cooked and drained

Melt butter in small skillet. Sauté green pepper and tomatoes until tender. Pour milk into top of double boiler. Sprinkle combined flour, salt and pepper over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Cook, stirring constantly, over hot water until thickened. Add cheese; cook, stirring until cheese melts. Add vegetables and crumbled bacon; blend well. Place cooked macaroni into 1½-quart casserole. Pour cheese sauce over macaroni, mix lightly. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 20 minutes. If desired garnish with bacon strips.

KEEP SHELVES TIDY
When modernizing a kitchen, it's wise to continue a Kentile floor right through the bottoms of all base cabinets. Any left over tiles can be used to cover cabinet shelves where pots and pans are to be stored. This provides surfaces easy to dust and wipe.

Tough, Gamey Bird— You Need a Thermometer

If the wild duck you roast tastes dry, tough and gamey, don't blame the hunter for bagging an old bird. The fault may lie in your cooking.

So says home economist Nora Finucane.

"Special cooking problems that arrive with the hunting season often can be solved with one small item—a thermometer," said Miss Finucane, consultant for Taylor Instrument Co., Rochester, N.Y.

"A time-weight chart is almost useless with game birds, because the amount of cooking needed varies with the age and texture of the bird. A roast meat and poultry thermometer will end guess-work in cooking wild fowl when you can't tell its age," she explained.

She recommended a liquid-measure type thermometer for small game such as pheasants, grouse and wild duck, and a dial type for larger birds, including wild goose or turkey.

"The thermometer should be inserted between the first and second ribs of a small stuffed fowl," she said. "Then push it to the center of the stuffing. With a larger bird, put the thermometer into the center of the inside thigh muscle."

A reading of 180 degrees in the stuffing or 190 degrees in the leg means the bird is ready to eat.

If you're after bigger game, "The Venison Book" (Stephen Greene Press), recently published, has the answers. The guide by Audrey Alley Gorton tells how to dress, cut up and cook the deer, take it home safely (away from motor heat) and deep freeze it.

One warning about preparing venison—trim away most of the fat because it is the source of overstrong gamey flavor. A venison roast won't be dry if you substitute bacon strips or larding fat for the natural fat, Gorton said.

"Magic Touch" GAS TOP BURNER TAKES THE GUESSWORK OUT OF COOKING AUTOMATICALLY!

Like magic . . . foods don't burn, don't boil over! Now you can cook on top burners by temperature control, the same as in your oven. The secret lies in the new Gas top burner that "feels" the temperature on the bottom of the pan. This "Magic Touch" top burner makes every pot, pan and skillet you own an automatic cooker. Whether you're preparing elaborate sauces or deep-fat frying (in an ordinary saucepan) the Gas flame does all the necessary adjusting by itself . . . like magic. And new Gas Ranges have other enchanting features . . . they're automatic all the way. Oven, broiler, griddle, roast control, rotisserie and ignition are self-operating, too.

Witnesses Petition Against Dominican Republic Ban

Jehovah's Witnesses of the Plymouth congregation tonight will meet to approve a petition asking the Dominican Republic to lift its ban of last July 25 restricting the religious activity of the movement there.

According to C. Carson Coonce, presiding minister of the Plymouth congregation, the lengthy petition cited specific names and places of police brutality that were personally authenticated by eight of the ten American missionaries deported August 3 from the Dominican Republic. The missionaries related their experiences at a regional assembly in Baltimore, where the petition was originally adopted August 24 by 33,091 of Jehovah's Witnesses in attendance.

Reporting on the atrocities described in the petition, Mr. Coonce said, "In one sector whole families were taken to prison and the male members of the families were beaten senseless before their own wives and children. 'Christian people all over the world abhor such brutality as this,' Mr. Coonce said.

Dairy Farmers Asked To Attend Co-op Meeting

The Dairy Farmers co-op will hold an open-meeting for dairy farmers at 8:30 p.m. Friday, October 11 in the Belleville Township hall.

The co-op is asking all dairy farmers in the area to attend and hear D.F.C.A. speakers explain how dairy farmers can organize a united effort to obtain higher and more frequent milk payments. Homer Martin, who helped to better working conditions and pay for the men in the shop will explain how the farmers can achieve the same.

Some of the goals are: pay twice a month; $6.00 for class 1 milk and $4.00 for class 2 milk. Thirty counties are now organized to legally carry out this program.

Cereus Boasts 5 for 5 Average

After reading about Mrs. Ella Wagar's night blooming cereus that bore two blooms in 15 years, Mrs. William French of 8325 North Territorial feels lucky that her plant has bloomed every year.

Mrs. French's mother, a collector of rare flowers, gave her the plant 12 years ago. It didn't bloom for the first seven years, but has given at least one bloom every year since in either June or July.

This summer five large white flowers appeared within two nights. The life span of the bloom's being only a night's duration, Mrs. French froze one of the flowers in the freezing compartment of her refrigerator. Frozen stiff for a week or more, she was able to show her friends its beauty.

Formerly a first and second grade schoolteacher at Salem school, Mrs. French hasn't been able to devote much time to the cereus, which now reaches the ceiling. But it's done alright on its own.

Potter Reports

A SHIP WITHOUT A COUNTRY, the Mayflower II has been cut loose from British registry but not yet taken over by Plymouth Plantation in Massachusetts, where a permanent berth for the replica of the Pilgrim vessel is being built. Now is the time for all those in the Middle West who want the Mayflower to sail up the St. Lawrence Seaway to speak up. I offer the facilities of my Washington office for a meeting of Michigan and Middle Western representatives with officials of the Plymouth Plantation.

A Seaway voyage, of course, won't be practical until next spring, but planning should start right now. Plymouth Plantation expects to take ownership on Thanksgiving Day but needs funds to complete its permanent shrine for the Mayflower. The new owners are a non-profit group. However, they would expect the Seaway voyage to produce some financial return to defray costs of the ship's berth.

Therefore, these questions must be answered: Will there be an admission charge to view Mayflower? Who will man her? What itinerary? Are the cities who want the vessel willing to put up a moderate financial guarantee for her appearance?

Since I proposed the voyage last summer, letters of enthusiasm have poured in from civic groups, individuals and tourist associations. Even the U.S. Department of State favors the trip. I am confident a Mayflower II voyage into the Middle West would build international good will and dramatize the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Mackinac Bridge.

Washington PTA Plans Carnival for October 18

Friday, October 18 will be carnival time at Washington school on Hix and Ann Arbor Trail. Sponsored by the PTA, the Carnival will be open from 6 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Featured will be a white elephant sale, a country store, bake goods sale and pony rides. Everyone is welcome to join in the fun.
