

Board of Directors Weighing Issues

Local Community Fund Invited to Merge with U-F

Whether or not the Plymouth Community Fund should merge with the United Foundation program of greater Detroit is a question that will face the Community Fund board of directors at its next meeting in December.

Sam Hudson, president of the board, told of the problem in an address before the Plymouth Rotary Club last Friday. The United Foundation has in years past approached the Plymouth Community Fund with the offer to take over the local Red Feather organization. This year, efforts to consolidate the programs have been increased.

Hudson said that the 12-member board of directors will meet December 10 to vote on the question. He then told Rotarians some of the arguments for and against joining the U-F.

These are the advantages of joining the U-F:

1. Services of an efficient, professional organization would be available. The U-F is highly-organized and has paid people who can give their full attention to the drive.

2. Could eliminate dual drives and payroll deductions in industry. At present, area industries perform the dual task of diverting donations and pledges either into the United Foundation or the Plymouth Community Fund. "Industry would probably like a merger," Hudson said.

3. We would be joining neighboring communities. Hudson showed a map which indicated that nearly all of the communities of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties are part of the U-F program. Canton township to the south and Northville to the north joined just this year.

4. As our need grows, we may need their help. Not only would we be helping others in their need, Plymouth could get outside help when needed. "It works both ways," Hudson declared.

5. Perhaps it would help other communities if we join now.

The Community Fund president then related the reasons why Plymouth should retain its own drive:

1. If we joined the U-F, our quota would be set by the U-F, except for local services. In other words, this year's quota for local services was $31,549. We probably would be expected to raise that amount and more.

2. There would be outside influences in disbursing funds.

3. There would be more solicitors and probably more effort called for if we joined the U-F. As of now, Plymouth has no house-to-house canvass. Communities having U-F have house calls. This would require many more workers.

4. Joining would mean a loss of community identity.

5. There is no need to merge—like the U-F, Plymouth has always met its budget.

Hudson pointed out that if the United Foundation would take over the Plymouth Fund, there still would be a local board of directors who would establish local needs.

Looking at the comparative operating costs, the U-F spends about five per cent of the contributed dollar for operating costs, while the Plymouth Fund spends about three per cent. Plymouth has only one paid worker—a secretary who performs the correspondence and secretarial jobs at a nominal cost.

A merger agreement would be signed if the two organizations were to consolidate. Both parties would have the option to withdraw from the agreement within a year.

The Plymouth board would also be entitled to at least two representatives to the U-F Advisory Committee covering this region.

The regional committee names a representative to the U-F board of directors.

The Plymouth board would still be responsible for the selection of its membership, and would continue setting up its program "as shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties."

Plymouth's Community Fund dates back 13 years. It was in 1944 that City Commissioner Stanley Corbett once complained at a meeting about the multiplicity of financial drives. Others too had the same feeling, and on November 15, 1944, the organizational meeting was held at city hall.

While many others were perhaps at the meeting, these were the incorporators: Clarence Elliott, president;

Francis J. Walsh, vice-president; Catherine J. Henderson, secretary; Clara Alexander, treasurer; and Maude Bennett, LeRoy Jewell, Charles Rathburn, Samuel Spiceth and Robert Wesley.

Some of the agencies first supported which no longer seek money are the War Chest, Navy Mothers, Music Box (recreation center), Mom's Club, and Civic Halloween Party. Four of the early organizations still being supported are the Boy and Girl Scouts, Salvation Army and Visiting Nurse Association.

"I believe you will agree," Hudson told Rotarians, "that Plymouth is a better community because of action of civic-minded people who launched the Plymouth Community Fund 13 years ago."

Hold-up Couple Held on High Bond

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives have brought the curtain down on the daring escapades of a Northville husband and wife who have committed 10 robberies in the past two months, including that of Julien's Market on Canton Center and Ford Roads.

Charles Gray, 30, and his wife, Faye, 39, were charged with the $142 armed robbery of Julien's.

The couple was arraigned Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Michael Bradley of Nankin Township. Charles Gray pleaded guilty, waived examination, and was placed under $10,000 bond. Mrs. Gray pleaded not guilty, waived examination, and is under $5,000 bond.

Both were unable to make bond and are being held in Wayne County jail pending a circuit court hearing. Their case is expected to be heard in a week or 10 days.

Gray, who has worked around Plymouth and Livonia for several years, was also director of the Jestor Players, a group of Newburg area young people who next week were to put on a play with Gray as the director and lead actor.

The Grays, whose home is at 440 Dubuar, Northville, told sheriff's detectives John Tront and Frank VanWulven that they committed the robberies to pay for medical bills for their three children. They were arrested early Monday at their home.

Their long list of hold-ups took place in Livonia, Inkster, Detroit, Nankin and Canton Townships. Their hold-up of Julien's Grocery in Canton township (reported in last week's Mail) was accomplished by holding a woman clerk and a 17-year-old youth at gunpoint while the cash register was emptied.

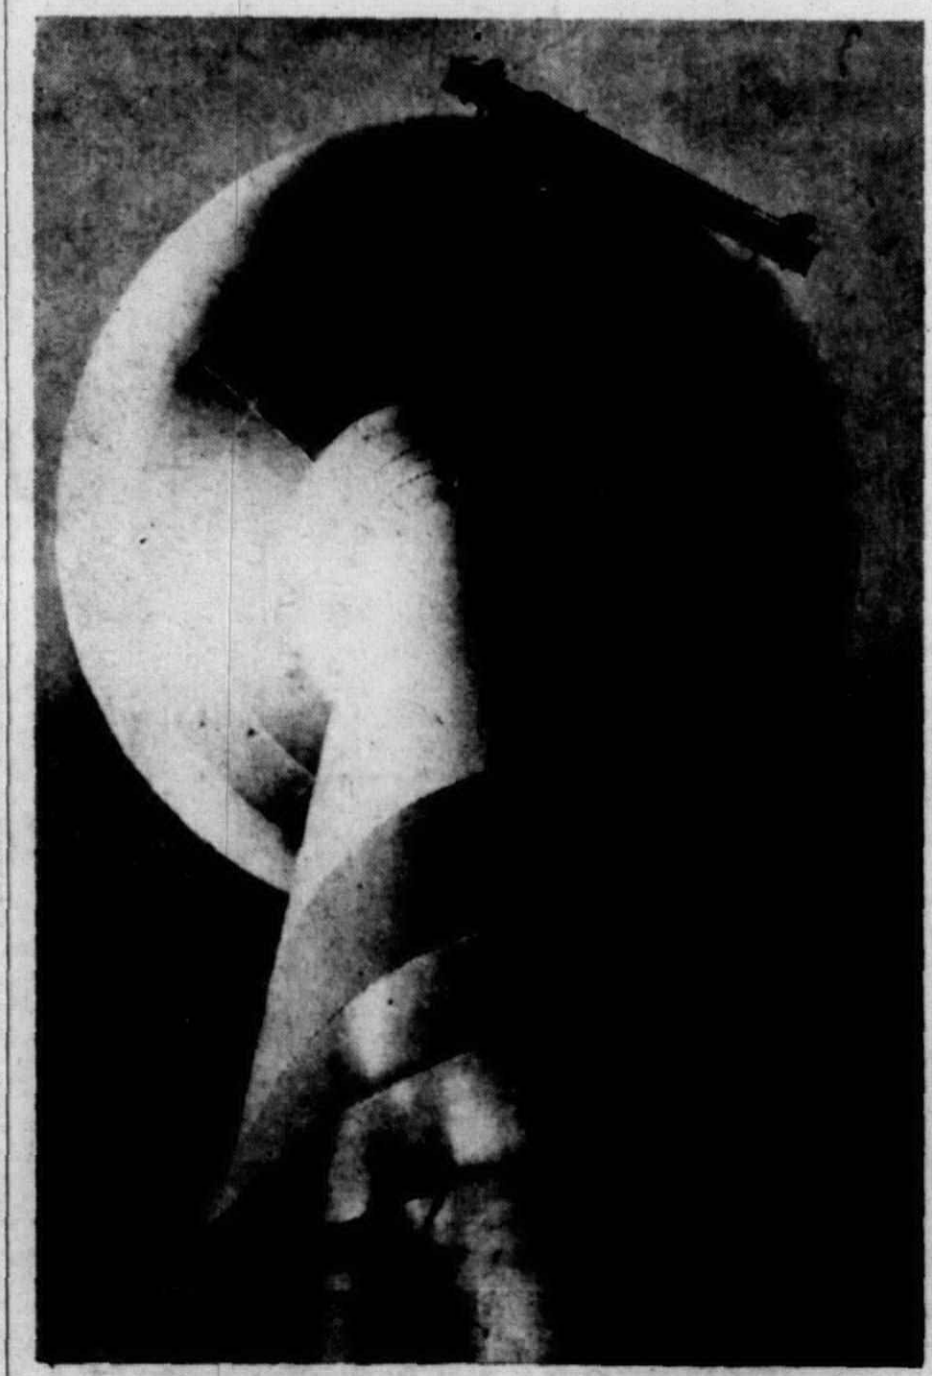

A number of their hold-ups were at taverns. Sheriff's detectives said that Gray would hide in the back seat of their car while his wife would go into the bar and ask a man, usually a truck driver, if he knew of a good motel where she could spend the night. She would then suggest that he drive her there. When the man entered the car, Gray would slug and rob him.

Gray had worked at a Livonia service station, at Evans Products Co. and Burroughs Co. in Plymouth.

Both Gray and his wife were highly respected by those who knew them. He had started the amateur theatre group in the Newburg area last September and had presented a successful pair of one-act plays for their first performance. Most of the actors were high school and college students.

The Jestor Players are to give another play Dec. 6 and 7 at the American Legion home on Newburg Road. The cast is now trying to decide whether to go on with the play or not.

Arrest of the Grays came after a partial license plate number from their car was turned over to detectives by Robert Han-

LOOKING LIKE a giant mushroom when viewed from the ground, the Lake Pointe Village water tower is now being painted by a team of Detroit steeplejacks. The 410,000 gallon tank is 140 feet high.

Pays $4.37 an Hour

Nothing to Worry About While Painting 140-foot Water Tower

By Dave Jolliffe

One hundred forty feet is a long way up — and even further down!

But the men who go up don't seem to worry about coming down—suddenly, anyway. "It makes little difference how far up we go," said

Jeff Niforatos, 22-year-old steeplejack who has been painting the Lake Pointe Village water tower.

"Everyone on the crew has been climbing most of their lives and don't worry about falling—never think about it," he continued.

Jeff is from Greece, as are all the steeplejacking crew with the George Kountoupes Painting Company, 2591 W. Grand Boulevard, who contracted to dab paint on the 140-foot high water storage tank.

Jeff explained that the crew used to work on European cargo boats which have extensive rigging. For men accustomed to climbing around flapping cables and hanging by their teeth tying a slippery knot, painting a water tower should be a snap!

When painting a 410,000 gallon tank, like they're doing now, or a chimney, as they sometimes do, there's more organization among the steeplejacks than in a large anthill.

Fragile as the 24-foot wire and wood scaffold platform looks from ground level, it was constructed with the combined knowledge of men who make an airborne living with a paintbrush. When your life depends on a secure square knot, or a hefty cable—you automatically check and recheck.

Of course a major concern is to get the job done—efficiently, quickly and safely.

A union scale wage of $4.37 per hour compensates you in a small way, for swinging 140 feet above Mother Earth. On a 40 hour week, year-round basis, steeplejacks could gross almost $10,000 a year, but as Jeff explains, "we only get $3.37 an hour when painting on the ground."

"I like the job," he said. "But sometimes the wind sure blows you around up there."

The scaffold itself is steadied by two guide ropes — one at the bottom, another at the top. A peg in the center of the water tower's ball-shaped storage tank secures two cables which are hooked to vertical fall ropes and fastened on each side of the scaffold.

Guild's Season Opener Has Complex Scenery

Plymouth Theatre Guild's first production of the season, "The Desk Set", opened Wednesday night and will continue through Saturday at Plymouth High school.

The most elaborate set ever devised by the Guild is needed for "The Desk Set". In fact, it took some special help from the Unistrut Company of Wayne to build the set.

The scene is the reference department of a television network. A group of women with encyclopedic knowledge work in the department and everything is going nice until they face the prospect of being replaced by Emmarac, an electronic brain.

Devising the electric brain was another major job for the set designers. Burroughs Corp. was brought in to help with this phase of the task.

Hal Young, a member of the Theatre Guild, directs the comedy. The cast consists of Jacqueline Gagnon, Dr. Ben Hill, Bonnie Kellogg, Lillian Dickinson, Loretta Young, Shirley Maloney, Maude Laury, Jerrold French, Dr.

Ford Sutherland, Charles Early, James Brown, Russ Creel and Saxie Holstein.

"The Desk Set" was a hit on both the stage and on film. Tickets are available from any Guild member and at the door. There will be a presentation on Thanksgiving evening as well as Friday and Saturday nights.

Starting time of the play is 8:30 p.m.

Santa Claus Coming To Town Next Week

Old St. Nick isn't forgetting Plymouth this year. He'll be in town on Thursday and Friday of next week.

The Chamber of Commerce is arranging the two-day visit of the jolly old fellow.

Santa Claus' will establish his headquarters in Kellogg Park, probably in a house trailer. He will arrive at 5 p.m. on both days and will leave at about 8:30.

Hundreds of young folks are expected to visit Santa carrying a vast list of "wants" in their heads.

Marine Reservists Again Seeking 'Toys for Tots' Here

A "Toys for Tots" program has again been launched in Plymouth by the U.S. Marine Corps for the benefit of all less fortunate children.

The campaign started Wednesday and will end Saturday, December 7.

Although "Toys for Tots" is a nationwide campaign of the Marine Corps Reserve, each campaign is local in conception, scope and direction. All toys received will be turned over to local organizations for distribution locally.

Barrels have been placed at all Shell Oil service stations displaying the "Toys for Tots" banners and posters. Pick-up of large donations can be arranged by calling the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center at U2on 2-4636.

Financial contributions cannot be accepted, according to Captain William Alford, commanding officer of the 15th Infantry Co. in Dearborn. The public is urged to donate only new toys or toys in good condition since Reservists will have no time to make repairs.

This is the 10th "Toys for Tots" program sponsored by the Marine Reservists. The program is conducted in more than 250 cities reaching 85 per cent of the population.

Train Hits Car At Farmer St., No One Injured

A switch locomotive and a car met at the Farmer street crossing of the C&O last Saturday night, the latest of a long line of such meetings at that point.

George Washington Brown, 36604 Angeline Circle, Livonia, was driving his car west on Farmer at 8:40 p.m. Saturday when the mishap occurred. He said that he almost stopped his car when he saw an engine sitting near the crossing. As his car moved across, another engine came from behind the parked one and hit the right rear of the vehicle, causing about $75 damage, police reported.

Engineer John Jordan, 507 Adams, said that his engine's headlight was burning, the bell was ringing and the whistle blowing as it approached the crossing.

Local Industry in Merger

Whitman & Barnes, one of Plymouth's major industries, is included in a merger proposal which would bring its parent organization, the United Drill and Tool Corporation, together with the Greenfield Tap and Die Corporation.

Directors of the two corporations have approved in principal the proposal and it will be submitted to stockholders of both companies.

United Drill and Tool has its main offices in Chicago and has three operating divisions—Chicago-Latrobe, Whitman & Barnes and Unimet Carbits (Chicago), and a wholly-owned subsidiary, J. H. Williams & Co. of Buffalo.

Greenfield Corporation has its main plant and offices in Greenfield, Massachusetts. The companies plan to merge under the name of United-Greenfield Corporation.

The merger has the full support of the principal stockholders of the two corporations. United makes twist drills, reamers, carbide metal and car-cent preferred stock of United would receive one share of the new 6 percent preferred stock for each held.

Greenfield common stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Application will be made there for listing of the common stock of the merged company.

Greenfield plants are located in Greenfield and New Haven, Mass. Through a wholly-owned subsidiary, United operates a plant in Puerto Rico for the manufacture of drills. Greenfield, through a partially-owned subsidiary in Holland, is beginning the production and marketing of certain of its products.

Michigan Weekend
Drivers to Travel
140 Million Miles

DETROIT (UP) — Michigan motorists will travel an estimated 140 million miles during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend. But they had better get gasoline before leaving on extended trips because many service stations will be closed Thanksgiving Day.

Harry N. Rogan, Automobile Club of Michigan travel services director, said Michigan motorists will travel 140 million miles in pursuit of Thanksgiving dinners.

Rogan predicted that approximately 1,200,000 Michigan cars will take long trips over the weekend. Most of the rest of the cars will be driven for short trips within their cities on what will be for many a four-day holiday, Rogan said.

The Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn., of Michigan announced that results of a statewide survey showed the "overwhelming percentage" of gasoline service stations throughout Michigan will be closed on Thanksgiving Day.

Penhale and Mrs. R. Fortner.

It was not only the golden wedding anniversary for the couple, but it was also a half century ago that Rev. Norton entered the ministry.

Fourteen Michigan churches were served by Rev. Norton before he retired in 1953. Included in these pastorates were six years in Plymouth, from 1931 to 1937.

After Rev. Norton retired, the couple returned to Plymouth to make their home at 8990 Haggerty Rd.

Over 375 people attended the special service and the surprise reception that followed. Nearly 50 people alone came from the Strathmore Methodist church on Schoolcraft road in Detroit. This modern edifice, supported by one of Detroit's largest congregations, was started during Rev. Norton's pastorate.

These are the congregations served by Rev. Norton:

- 1908, Oshkemo; 1909 Vicksburg; 1913, South Haven; 1917, Belding; 1920, Fremont; 1921, Marysville; 1923, Highland Park as an associate; 1925, Atkinson Church, Detroit; 1926; Whitfield Church, Detroit; 1928, Adrian; 1931, Plymouth; 1937, Preston Church, Detroit; 1942, Strathmore Church, Detroit; 1948, Cass Community Church, Detroit.

Sunday's service opened with an organ prelude by Mrs. Edna O'Connor and a prayer by Dr. Melbourne L. Johnson, pastor of the local church. R. R. Penhale read the scripture and a vocal solo was given by Mrs. Florence Ellison.

Chauncey Norton, son of the honored couple, recalled some of the past with his parents. Summarizing the pastorate history of Rev. Norton was Dr. Frank Fitch, Ann Arbor District superintendent. A response was then given by Rev. Norton.

Area Farmers Travel to Lansing

Many Plymouth area farmers joined farmers and city people from Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties on a special "Partners in Progress" excursion train from Detroit to Michigan State University, East Lansing, via Plymouth, on Tuesday.

As a special feature during National Farm - City Week, the tour was to encourage rural and urban understanding between important segments of our interdependent economy. Plymouth farmers who climbed aboard the special Chesapeake and Ohio train at Plymouth were:

Fred Korte, Robert Waldecker, Phil Dingeldey, Robert Simmons, Spencer Grammel, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Bunya, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pankow, Ralph Burch, Walter Theisen, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maxwell, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Magraw.

The program started with a huge chicken barbecue followed by a fast moving farm show in Anthony Hall on corn breeding, hog and cattle raising, fruit production, home economics, consumer information and 4-H Club youth work. A tour was made of agricultural facilities including a look at an up-to-date dairy plant, a meats laboratory, agricultural engineering research, and the University dairy herd at milking time.

The tour was coordinated by the County Agricultural Agents in the respective counties.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham and family of Ann street will be dinner guests Thursday in the home of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. McKellar Graham, in Detroit.

Theodore Johnson of Fort Pierce, Florida, spent a few days this week with Mrs. Johnson and son, Jerry, on Ridge road.

IN ALMOST NINE YEARS, Mrs. James Moore and her nine year-old daughter, Marcia, have collected 112 foreign, antique and character dolls. Mrs. Moore, who costumes the dolls herself, is the first place winner for Michigan in the National March of Dimes doll contest.

Hobby Leads to 1st Prize Winner in Doll Contest

Mrs. James Moore has a prize-winning doll on permanent display in the National Doll Institute in New York City, but the collection that started it all is in her home at 956 Simpson, here in Plymouth. She and her nine-year-old daughter, Marcia, have 112 antique, foreign and character dolls, most of which have been costumed by Mrs. Moore.

As an outgrowth of her hobby, Mrs. Moore entered a doll representing Queen Isabella of Spain in the March of Dimes national doll contest this year and took first prize for the state of Michigan. Being a winner it will be permanently displayed in the institute, while the non-winning entries are donated to the March of Dimes.

The 10 inch doll took six and one-half months to make. Twenty-four thousand gold and silver sequins decorated the dress and outlined the net petticoat and white shoes. The intricate crown was traced in sequins and pearls.

Mrs. Moore entered the contest once before, last year and won third place in the regional judging with a Dolly Madison doll dressed in green velvet and gold. She gilded yards of lace to trim the dress and placed gold plumes in the hat. The doll was pictured on the 1957 contest entry blank.

The Moore's are a real collecting family. Mrs. Moore began collecting and dressing antique and foreign dolls when Marcia was 6 months old. She also has 400 pairs of salt and pepper shakers. Marcia also collects shells and has acquired many foreign dolls through a doll of the month club. She plans to continue her mother's hobby and do some sewing herself. James, better known as "Mac", has been collecting stamps since he was nine years-old. He is now 14.

Aside from the pre-dressed foreign dolls of Marcia's, Mrs. Moore has dressed dolls to represent the countries of the United Nations. (They can be seen in the first row in the picture behind the flags of their respective nations.)

Among the dolls dressed as characters in history are George and Martha Washington, complete with white wigs. Abe Lincoln sports a black beard and Mary Todd wears a red velvet dress.

A miniature of Joe Louis takes a pugilistic stance in red trunks and tiny boxing gloves. For the holiday season she has dressed the three wise men, mounted on camels.

One of the most unusual dolls in the collection is one that is red while standing, simulating a fever, and fades to white when laid down.

The dolls are made of China, plastic and rubber. There are also a wooden doll and a corn-stalk doll made by Marcia.

Costume materials range from fine silks and brocades and even furs, to coarse fabrics. One doll has a dress of 15 karat gold cloth.

IT'S BEGINNING to look a lot like Christmas in Plymouth with most stores now wearing the Yuletide look. This is Minerva's window with its big realistic Santa Claus. Other decorations are also appearing on the streets of the shopping areas.

11-Year-Old Picks Bear Victory To Win Prize Money

Woe is me and alack a-day, was a sad day for the Irish of Notre Dame and the Wolverines of Michigan Saturday, not to mention the Detroit Lions Sunday. Well, as one football said to the other, "I get a kick out of you," and after all a football is nothing but a pig's kin once removed.

The upsets didn't seem to bother 11-year-old John Park of 130 N. Holbrook, however, who came in first in the Mail sweepstakes this week, by the narrow margin of calling the Chicago Bears triumph over the Lions. Close on John's heels were Dave Fehlig of 382 Adams, 2nd place, and Don Schlie of 9285 Northern, 3rd place, who divided up the runner-up money.

Next week is your last chance to pad the pocket for the Christmas shopping list and this one should be a real challenge, for most of the games are entirely unfamiliar to the pickers in this area. To help, the Mail "sports expert" will wind up a rather inglorious season by making the following predictions:

N. Carolina over Virginia, Notre Dame over U.S.C., Alabama over Auburn, University of Georgia over Georgia Tech, Tulane over L.S.U., Tennessee over Vanderbilt, Oklahoma over Oklahoma State, Army over Navy, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Holy Cross over Boston College, Pitt over Miami, Baylor over Rice, Los Angeles Rams over Baltimore, TCU over SMU and Mississippi over Mississippi State.

Here An' There

Don't be too unhappy if you get an end-zone seat at the football game. Red Grange, one of the game's greatest stars, recently told an audience that a seat at the end provides a better opportunity to watch plays develop. . . . The Boston chapter of the Baseball Writers of America have named Red Sox slugger Ted Williams the American League's most valuable player. Ted batted .388 and won the A. L. slugging title with a .731 average. He has been asked to be a guest of honor at the chapter's annual dinner in late January. . . . A report by an Ohio State University faculty committee recently drew mixed reactions from Big 10 personalities. The report suggested that football players might share in the profits

A mouse's heart beats 300 times each minute. An elephant's heart beats 40 times each minute.

BUYING CHRISTMAS gifts will be the use that John Park, 11, of 130 N. Holbrook, puts $15 that he won in last week's football contest. The Our Lady of Good Counsel student is shown looking over his winning entry with Marvin "Bud" Donn, Diamond Automotive owner and contest sponsor. John plays on the school football team.

Behind the apparent quiet on the Department of Recreation front these past two weeks there is much planning for the basketball season. This year the Plymouth Recreation Department will organize three separate basketball leagues.

One league will be for Elementary schools and will be divided into two divisions - fifth and sixth grade. Schools and playgrounds to have teams in one or both of these divisions are Allen, Hamilton, Auburn, Smith, Catholic, Plymouth Pilgrims, Gallimore, Starkweather, Bird and Lutheran.

Games will be played in the high school gymnasium on Saturday mornings. The fans will be treated to an innovation in Elementary school basketball in Plymouth with the appearance of well trained cheerleaders under the direction of Joan Bassett. At last week's workout 49 girls were present.

Another league will also have two divisions. One for boys under 15 years of age and one for boys under 18 years of age. Two teams from Plymouth and two from Northville will be represented in this league.

The third league is the Men's league which comes under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Recreation Association. Five teams are entered in this league, and according to the league supervisor for this area, Jack Carter, the schedule should be ready for publication next week. The winning team automatically qualifies for the state Michigan Recreation Association Class "B" and will not take part in the play-offs.

Plymouth Rocks open their basketball season with two non-league games. The first one will be at Ypsilanti on Friday, December 6 and the second one at home the next night against Northville. The first Suburban Six league game will be at Redford Union on Friday, December 13. The first home game will be the following Friday night against Allen Park.

Will snug shoes stretch?

Shoes that are a trifle narrow may give enough to become comfortable. Shoe repairmen now have a chemical solution that helps stretch leather.

The need however is usually for added length since feet grow longer rather than wider. The chief obstacle to successfully stretching shoes lengthwise is a steel shank which is put in a shoe to strengthen the arch of the shoe (not the foot). A stretcher that would stretch the steel would pull the shoe apart.

If you visited the storage tank today you'd see the top part will eventually be completely white and the bottom grey. In addition Lake Pointe Village will be painted in big black letters across the large ball.

In case you've been wondering how the bottom part of a round ball 140 feet high is painted—the men can lower the scaffolding to keep abreast of their work... that way they don't have to look down!

Predict Michigan Population in '70 Of 10,260,000

EAST LANSING (UP)—Michigan can expect a population of 10,260,000 by 1970, a Michigan State University specialist in population statistics said. Dr. John F. Thaden said the figure was not a prediction, "but a projection of growth based on the average ratio of Michigan's increase to that of the entire country."

He said Michigan is the No. 2 state in percentage increase and total growth of population since 1950, being surpassed only by California.

Sputniks Were Healthy Shock, Professor Says

EAST LANSING (UP)—Russia's launching of sputniks I and II was a "healthy shock," Dr. Alfred G. Meyer, an expert on the Soviet Union at Michigan State University, said.

"The thought that the country we have always considered backward might be beating our American scientists with the launching of Sputniks I and II is a healthy shock," he said "the shock is awakening in American policy makers more respect for learning and the sciences."

Avoid Delay—Do Christmas Mailing Before December 15

Postmaster George Timpona said this week, "We hope to keep up our good record on the Christmas mails by getting everything processed and delivered well before Christmas Eve." He said further that much depends on your cooperation in mailing your Christmas cards and gifts during the next ten days.

The postmaster stated, "Most people realize that the early arrival of a Christmas card or gift is always welcomed, although there are still some who have the mistaken idea that a gift or card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance. Actually, it's the thought behind the gift or card, and not the time of arrival that is the important consideration."

The postmaster asks for your special cooperation to be sure that your return address and the recipient's address are plainly typed or written on all labels and Christmas cards. Use zone numbers, and it's always a good idea to include an extra label inside your packages. Parcel post size and weight limitations vary according to destination. Ask about them when you go to the Post Office to buy stamps.

Be sure to use first class postage on your Christmas cards, because this enables you to include handwritten messages. Cards sent by first class mail will be delivered promptly, and forwarded or returned, if necessary, providing you include your name and address on your Christmas card envelope, a custom, by the way, which is entirely socially correct.

Response to his "Mail Early" appeals to date have been excellent, the postmaster said. Now it's a case of keeping up the good work to avoid those last minute Christmas mail pile-ups. You can do both yourself and the post office a real favor by securing free labels at the Post Office which read, "All For Out of Town Delivery" and "All For Local Delivery." Place these labels on bundles of cards for local addresses, and on those for out-of-town destinations, and mail your out-of-town Christmas cards several days in advance of those intended for local delivery.

Plan your Christmas mailings so that all Christmas cards and gifts for most distant points are mailed first. Try to get all of your out-of-town cards and gifts into the post office before Dec. 10, and those for nearby points should be mailed by Dec. 15.

The postmaster has asked the cooperation of all business firms to postpone the mailing of circulars and catalogs until after December 25 to keep the mails clear for the Christmas rush.

Beginning December 16 to 23, except Sundays, service windows at the post office will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. The windows are most crowded at lunch time, so the postmaster suggests that packages be mailed before 10:00 a.m. or between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m.

field, will become chairman of the executive committee of the new company.

Konstantin Kronwall, president of United, will be the president and chief executive officer of the new company. It is planned to operate all present plants as divisions.

Sales of United for the year 1956 were about $35,000,000 while Greenfield sales were $16,500,000.

School Buildings Worth 5.6 Million

The Plymouth Community School District's buildings and their contents are worth $5,681,555, according to a report heard Monday night by the board of education.

An appraisal of the school district's buildings and contents was made by Marshall and Stevens, an appraisal firm hired several months ago by the school board. The board has secured the appraisal in order to bring its insurance program up to date.

Bids will now be asked for insuring the buildings and contents for fire and extended coverage on 80 percent of the value. For a fee of $250 annually, the firm will bring the appraisal up to date each year.

The board also purchased a builders' risk policy for Elementary School No. 6 now under construction in the northeast section of Plymouth township. The Liberty Mutual Agency was awarded the contract for the $362,500 policy. The premium is $408.76. It covers fire, extended coverage and vandalism while the building is under construction.

Former Russian Pastor to Speak

A former Russian minister, the Rev. Peter Varonof, will speak at the Church of the Nazarene, 41550 East Ann Arbor Trail, on Wednesday, Dec. 4.
Rev. Charles Ide, pastor, said that the program will start at 7:30 p.m. and that the public is welcome to attend.

Rev. Peter Varonof

Varonof, who lived in Russia, will tell why he believes that the Communists will attack some day the North American continent from the north. It is also Rev. Varonof's contention that the Communists plan to take over all of Asia by 1960.
"Communists will destroy three-fourths of the world's people if they must reach their goal, the minister has said. By 1973, the Reds plan to conquer the world."

Church Members Donate $1200 to Foreign Missions

The largest single cash offering was received Sunday morning when the people gave $1200 for the cause of foreign missions. Many members gave an entire week's wages above their regular giving, to make this offering possible. The goal had been set at $1000 by the pastor. This is a part of the effort of the Church of the Nazarene of America to raise $1,000,000 as a Thanksgiving Offering for missions. This will again be the goal at Easter, and the local congregation will again attempt to raise a $1000 on that day. This is all in support of a World Wide Missionary program of the Church of the Nazarene with headquarters in Kansas City, Mo.

Plymouth High School

BY LIZ SARAH

When snow falls, PHS students are apt to abandon their daily jaunts uptown at noon time. The reason for their absence in the city might be due to the work of the noon recreation committee which is under the direction of Jim Gothard and Mike Porter, co-chairmen of the project. This program is designed to provide interesting diversions for those who stay at the high school during the noon hour. Students are urged to cooperate by participating in the activities.

After four years of anticipation, the first senior mixer was held on Tuesday, November 26. The planning committee which includes Bill Hubert, Linda Law, Joan Lowden, Annie Denny, Mary Lee Haug, Dave Melow, and Bob Redd did a fine job of organizing the traditional (of senior classes) affair. At last seniors will have an opportunity to get acquainted with their classmates with whom they have been attending school for more than three years. Seems like mixers should begin mixing a little earlier. Perhaps in the ninth grade.

Behind ever great man, there is a great woman. Behind the great athletic teams of PHS, there are great girls known to everyone as the pep squad. Jeannette Foreman was elected to head the varsity squad which consists of Mer Palmer, Janet Spigarelli, Bette Argo, Janet West, and Jeannette Ridley.

Karen West, newly elected captain of the JV squad, is putting the squad through a rigorous practice. Jill Clarke, Gloria Bowles, Nancy Alford, Barbara Booth, Mavis Williams and Barbara Schantz will readily agree that "practice makes perfect."

The athletic-minded girls who are members of the GAA are now engaged in a volleyball tournament for which the managers are Sally Sawyer and Joy Kalmback. Team captains for the contest are: Peggy Jenkins, Nancy Eaton, Martha Wesley, Gloria Bowles, Ann West, Susan Horvath, Marilyn Waters and Sandy Kisabeth.

Judy Rowe, Carole North, Gloria Bowles and Sheila Lorenz are the girls who have been designated to investigate the possibilities of purchasing sweatshirts and membership pins.

The seventy-five-voice choir will make its first official appearance on Sunday, December 15, at the Community Sing in the High School Gym.

Thanksgiving brings not only happy thoughts of turkeys, but also happy thoughts of vacation which begins 3:30 November 27, and ends December 2.

Hope everyone enjoys a Happy Thanksgiving!

Continental Can Works on Food Irradiation Center

Continental Can Company and three other industrial concerns have been selected to help the Government set up the world's first food irradiation center, it was announced by Mr. E. N. Stephens, Continental sales manager, of Plymouth.

Construction of the food irradiation center is planned to start in 1958 at Stockton, California, and the center will be under the direction of the Army Quartermaster Corps and industry to preserve a variety of foodstuffs through the use of nuclear emanations to kill or retard microorganisms which spoil food. The center will also include pilot-size equipment to process irradiated food products, which the army plans to use in mess halls to test acceptance. The processing plant will utilize an electron accelerator and a gamma ray source.

Apartments for 16 Families Going Up On Liberty Street

Construction of a 16-family apartment project will start within the next two weeks on East Liberty street, near York.

The Glenhurst Building Co. of Detroit has secured construction permits for two buildings, each holding eight families. Each will have four two-bedroom apartments and four one-bedroom apartments.

Each apartment will have central heating, garbage disposal, incinerator, separate kitchen with electric stove and refrigerator, and tile baths.

There will be 18 parking spaces, two more than the required number (one for each apartment).

The Glenhurst Building Co. owners are Harry Nachman and Max Nosanchuk, both with long construction records in the Detroit area. They built similar apartments in Detroit and St. Clair Shores.

In accord with the Chamber of Commerce effort to "colonize" Plymouth, the project will be called Pilgrim Apartments. They will have some colonial touches.

It has been many years since there has been any major construction in that part of Plymouth. The builders expect to complete the apartments next April. The buildings will be on the east side of Liberty and at the eastern end of York St.

Things can get pretty ridiculous sometimes. Did you hear about the New York fashion designer who was inspired by Sputnik II (or "Muttnik," as the pooch-carrying satellite has been called)? While the pooch, Laika, was first orbiting around the earth, this designer came up with a "real doggy idea" . . . space clothes for Fido. Since the big idea hit she's been whipping up space suits that would make any canine commuter look natural on Mars or the Milky Way.

How he might look on Main Street, U.S.A., is another question. I know I'd hate to be the only Bowser in town tailored for space travel. The rest of the tail-waggers might try to make something out of it. Anyway, I never saw a dog yet that gave a yap about fashions.

I don't know if you've looked at your calendar lately . . . but if you're planning to do your Christmas shopping early . . . well, it's not getting any earlier. That won't come as a surprise to you in case you've been in our store this week . . . because you probably noticed how fully stocked we are with gift ideas for everybody. You probably even noticed a few items you'd like to call your own! Well, write your letter to Santa . . . then bring your shopping list down to

To complete your holiday meal, plan an evening of real entertainment by doing a "Turkey Trot" up to the Plymouth High School Auditorium for a fat slice of "The Desk Set," the opening fun-production of the Theater Guild.

They say laughing aids the digestion, at least three out of four doctors of philosophy make this claim. If so, "The Desk Set" is a perfect complement for any holiday bill of fare.

Old George caught a preview performance of the show Sunday. Once again Hal Young, the Guild's hard-working director, scores solidly with a comedy that gives the audience plenty of chuckles, titlers, and some big guffaws. Maud Laury in her non-speaking role creates more than a ripple of laughter over time she appears on the scene. And Dr. Bennett Hill in his first role for the Plymouth Theater Guild gives his lines a professional touch.

Well, I could go down the line with each member of the cast, but why don't you go over to the show on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, or Saturday night and make up your appraisal. Check your review of the show with what old George will be saying next week.

Journeyed over to South Redford township last week to view "The Remarkable Mr. Pennypacker." The Community Theater Guild of Livonia and Redford Township presented the production and Mrs. Pat Secor directed. Mrs. Secor has charge of dramatics at the Lee Thurston High School.

Night I was there over 300 people thoroughly enjoyed themselves as they watched the antics of Grandpa Pennypacker, Pa Pennypacker, and the eight Pennypacker children. Howard Egan might be a salesman for the day, but when night descends out Livonia way, he does a Jekell-Hyde bit and becomes an actor par excellence.

Howard played the part of Grandpa Pennypacker and stole the show. And in this case such a theft was most difficult. Duane Mellinger and Ilene Intihar (wow, how'd you like to have those nautical initials) played a pair of lovers so convincing that you could feel the affectionate warmth as it spilled over the apron of the stage.

Love scenes are not too easy on either the professional or amateur stage. Duane an eligible bachelor and Ilene were "tops."

Bob Angevine playing Pa Pennypacker could have given Grandpa (Howard Egan) a bit more competition. It was hard to believe that anyone with so many wacky ideas could be so calm and serene. When you're in a show with so many of the characters being broadly played, you'd better head for the "ham" side of the ledger. In brief, his handling of the role was adequate, but slightly underplayed. Perhaps this interpretation of the role held up

Jestor Players to Present 'Gramercy Ghost' Next Week

Miss Charlene Pool has been assigned the role of the spook-beset heroine of "Gramercy Ghost" the comedy hit which the American Legion hall on Newburgh road December 6 and 7 at 8:15 p.m.

This is the second play presented by the Jestor Productions in cooperation with the Myron Beals post of the Legion and under the direction of Charles H. Gray.

As a young career woman who has inherited an ancient house in the Gramercy Park area of New York City, and with it the ghost of a Revolutionary soldier, Miss Pool will be seen in the role played by Sarah Churchill on the Broadway stage.

John Hruska will portray the house ghost, Charles Gray will be the brash, happy-go-lucky reporter, John Newberg will have the role of the girl's stuffy, humorless fiance, Judy Helper is the old family retainer, Sharon Woodard as a lawyer and Bob Kellogg as a policeman. Other roles are held by Buech Shelton, T. J. Lockard, Joyce Labelle, Carol Labelle, and Joni Jackman.

The plot of "Gramercy Ghost" revolves around the comic confusions that result from the heroine's conversations with a spirit whom no one else can see. While the newspaperman is somewhat bewildered, he has faith in the girl for whom he has taken a fancy, does not think her story is a hoax and sets out to help solve her difficulties with the unwelcome tenant.

The pompous fiance, however, thinks she's uninged, and takes steps to have her committed. Meanwhile, the ghost falls in love with the heroine.

400 See Travel Series Film Of Russia, Satellites

Over 400 people left the Travel Series program Sunday afternoon considerably more familiar with the people behind the Iron Curtain than when they entered the high school auditorium.

Charles Sharp, a Columbia Broadcasting System reporter and photographer, presented his new film-lecture. "Is this the U.S.S.R.?" for the second in the Travel Series programs. He took the place of Gordon Palmquist, who was delayed in Japan and was to present a film on the Scandinavian countries.

Sharp could hardly be called a substitute. The Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the series, and the Travel Center which arranges the programs, had hoped to get Sharp to start off next year's series—if they were lucky.

The reporter had shown his new film only in a few locations. He arrived in the U.S. in September. So the people and scenes seen by Sunday's audience were those found today in Russia and its satellites.

As indicated by the film's title, "Is this the U.S.S.R.?" even Sharp, after seeing films of Russia's big shots and common people, was not sure that he had captured the real Russia. Some of the big names seen in the film were Krushchev, Mikoyan, Zhukov and Bulganin. But of more interest were the faces of the so-called common people. They were haggard and rugged looking. Smiling faces were hard to find, at least in Moscow. In the rural areas, people were more at ease.

Among the interesting portions of the film was that of construction. Women were found doing much of the construction work and Sharp noted that quality of workmanship was so poor that some buildings are showing wear before they are even completed.

Looking at Russia's satellites, Sharp found only hate for Moscow in Poland. In Prague, he found a dying city where there is fear and distrust. In Communist East Germany, he found only one modern street, the rest being in ruin or of second class construction. Crossing the border into West Germany, the contrast was quickly seen by the audience. Modern shops and buildings were evident everywhere.

Sharp found that he was relatively free to shoot films last summer because the World Youth Festival was going on at that time. One portion of the film showed the festival and the group of American youths who defied a State Department order by traveling to Red China.

Sharp later said that had he known that his films were not to be censored, he would have attempted more.

The next Travel Series program is Sunday, December 8 when Aria Parke Schawe shows "South America Summons."

'Papa Is All' Opens Dec. 4

Grange Cleanings

The Grange meeting of November 21 was a very pleasant occasion at which there was a fine attendance to see four new members received into the order. Two more are scheduled for our next meeting.

Our next meeting on December 5 will be our pot-luck supper night, so bring your own table service and a dish to share. The new members are especially urged to be there to get acquainted. We are promised a special treat for supper.

At the meeting last Thursday, the Charter was draped with appropriate ceremony in memory of our beloved sister Chloe Powell who passed on November 19. We are saddened by her loss, as it was a real privilege to know her.

Tom Bradburn of Belleville was the dinner guest of his brother-in-law, E. Veeley.

At the November 21 meeting, plans were made and discussed for the usual Christmas party. The date is December 19. The usual exchange of 50-cent gifts is planned. Mark your package plainly for man or woman. Parents who bring their children should bring a gift for them. A Christmas program will be arranged and there will be a tree, of course. We hope to see a big crowd.

There will be no Pomona in December. The next meeting is on January 10 at Pittsfield—a ritualistic meeting which should be helpful.

Pot-Luck Dinner Party Given To Bid Circle Couple Farewell

Mrs. Robert Fitzner
625 Parkview Drive

A pot-luck farewell dinner party was held at Doris and Jim Sponseller's on Parkview Drive last Saturday evening for Donna and Bob Sasal who are leaving the Circle this week. Guests besides the Sasals and the Sponsellers were Lee and Jack Ruland, Lorraine and Joe Quinlan and Joyce and Al Truax.

Betty and Jim Parks and their four children visited on Sunday with Jim's sister, Sister James Marie, at St. Marks Convent in Warren, Mich.

Dorothy and Lloyd Curok of Parkview Drive had Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ennis and two children of Berkeley, Mich., for their Thanksgiving dinner last Saturday evening.

A Christmas party for members of the Parkview Association is being planned by Dee Upton and Barbara Cooper. It will be held at the Uptons on Garling Drive on Friday, December 6 at 8:30 p.m.

Kathy Quinlan celebrated her fourth birthday Saturday afternoon. Her parents, Lorraine and Joe Quinlan of Garling Drive, gave a party for Kathy with Lorraine and Linda Curok, Sheila and Jimmy Parks, Rochelle and Rickey Ruland, Sharon and Gary Coyle, Janet McGill, Cindy Kuhns and Debbie Cameron as guests.

As already reported in this column the Parkview Association is sponsoring a Christmas project for the children of Hawthorn Center and have donated $100.00 towards the efforts. Committee members in charge of the project are Dee Upton, Lorraine Quinlan and myself with Helen Lake as chairman.

Monday morning we (on the committee) met at the Center with the social worker Miss Copeland. After thanking us on behalf of the Center and the children, Miss Copeland agreed that it would be best if she give us the first name and age of a child and make suggestions concerning an expressed desire of that child or a known need and we would do whatever we could, within our means, to fulfill those needs. We learned that most of the children would go out for Christmas day but five or possibly six would have no place to go so it was thought that perhaps a part of our money could be set aside to provide a special treat.

such as the ice capades or a good movie, for those left behind.

Since our visit with Miss Copeland the committee has mulled over the situation and reached the following conclusion. We can buy the large items out of the money allotted to us and fill the whole list so that every child can have one package. If any Circle-ite would like to present a luxury gift you can make it possible for each child to have two gifts to open on Christmas morning.

Here are some suggestions given to us and I pass them along to you to choose from if you so desire. It is necessary that we have these donations in by Saturday, December 7 and ask that you please wrap them and label.

Here are the items which would be considered a luxury to the girls at Hawthorn Center and they'd be tickled pink to receive any one of them. Jewelry of all kinds, jewelry boxes, lipsticks, manicuring necessities, home permanent kits, scented hand lotion, talcum, colognes, or any very feminine gifts that teen-agers would like.

One of the boys would like a telescope but said he didn't suppose anyone would give him that because they cost a lot of money. ($4.98.) Another boy would like a set or game of army men to play with and another would like a stockade or a fort. Model airplane or car kits to assemble are always good as are bubble blowing kits.

We could use a very feminine wardrobe for a size 14 girl. We will buy a frilly dress but naturally more than one will be needed and you may have something in your closet that will help. Perhaps someone has an "in" where they could scrounge a few passes to be used for the special treat for the six children which I mentioned would be at the Center on Christmas day.

For further information or donations please call Helen Lake at 309W or any committee member.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Foley of Priscilla Lane entertained the following guests Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Marentette of Roseland, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Thibodeau of Riverside, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Lynch, Jr., of Birmingham. Mr. and Mrs. John Craner of East Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew J. Fournel of Clawson, members of their contract bridge group. Mr. and Mrs. Fournel received a gift in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary as is the custom of the club. Later a buffet lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Manwaring of Auburn street were dinner hosts Saturday evening, entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Harry Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. David Wood and Mr. and Mrs. David Mather.

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GA. 1-2029

A family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Kreger of Gray avenue was used on Sunday, November 24, to celebrate the birthday of John Kreger of Horton avenue. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edwards of Detroit, Mrs. John Kreger and daughter Susan and Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood and daughters Denise, Debbie and Kim of Livonia.

During the coming week the four circles of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will meet at the various homes of its members for their annual Christmas meetings. All are planning fine programs and, with the exception of the Lydia circle, are also planning gift exchanges. The Sarah circle will meet on Monday evening, December 2 at the home of Mrs. Hazen Barringer on Schoolcraft at 8 p.m. The Rhoda circle will be at the home of Mrs. Emil LaPointe on Joy road, Tuesday evening, December 3 at 8:30 p.m. and the Dorcas circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Paul Nixon on Wadsworth avenue at 8 p.m. The Lydia circle will hold their traditional Christmas gathering at the home of Mrs. Melvin Guthrie on Newburg road, Tuesday, December 3. The ladies will meet at noon for a pot-luck luncheon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edwards of Detroit were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Kreger on Gray avenue.

The Canasta Clan of Joy road met for their regular monthly meeting and an evening spent playing cards, but instead of meeting at the home of one of their members, met at the Bentley High school cafeteria to play cards at a party sponsored by the eleventh grade mothers, Tuesday, November 19. Members from the Clan who attended were, Mrs. Edward Howden, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Mrs. William Kenner, Mrs. Clifford Hocking, Mrs. Claude Desmond, Mrs. Arthur Gennis, Mrs. Arthur DeCoster, Mrs. Bert Overmyer, Mrs. Elaine Kleinow, Mrs. Marge Kent and Mrs. Robert Pregitzer. The group's regular monthly meeting for December will be at the home of Mrs. Stuart Flaherty on Narise Drive, Tuesday, December 17.

The Washington school, Hix road and Ann Arbor road was dedicated on Sunday, November 24, with many dignitaries from the government of the city of Livonia represented as well as clergy and school board. The school band opened the ceremonies with the playing of "America" and other selections. After the invocation by Rev. R. E. Niemann of the Newburg Methodist church, school board officials were introduced. Paul Campbell, principal of the school and Mrs. Jean Schoen, president of the P.T.A., were also introduced along with the staff members of the school. The principle speaker for the afternoon was Dr. Cole Brembeck of Ann Arbor, a former Superintendent of the Livonia schools system. Keys of the school were presented to Ward McCain, president of the school board by a representative of the architecture firm who designed the school and then, in turn, McCain presented the keys to Dan E. Burk, president of the school's student council. Refreshments were served by the kindergarten room mothers.

THE PERSON WHO EXPLOITS the laboring man is endangering the future of our country — for from the families of laboring men will emerge many of our leaders of industry, science, government and religion. Protecting working men and women against extortion and thievery is a proper Government function, sustained by enlightened labor leaders. Therefore, some legislation to guard union funds can be expected.

Many of us will introduce civil rights bills, covering everything from poll tax to fair employment. The political implications are obvious, but the humanitarian consideration should be greater. If we are to be free, we must live free. The right of our neighbor, whatever his creed or color, is our responsibility, as our right is his.

Senator Potter reports

... the latest news from Washington of special interest to Michigan ...

CRYSTAL BALL GAZING IS today's order of business. With only six weeks to go before Congress reconvenes, I'm pondering the major issues likely to engage us next year. I see them as missile development, defense, foreign relations, taxation, labor and farm legislation, and civil rights.

The year 1958 will be a rugged test of the capacity of public officials to place progress above party politics. Senate hearings start today on the missile program and the behavior of the Committee will be a barometer of Congressional temper next session. If it takes on the character of finger-pointing, we can assume that political maneuvering will dominate statesmanlike action next year and that party will be placed above purpose. This would indeed be tragic and sure to stir public resentment.

THE NEXT SESSION is bound to see increased defense spending. Military and other programs, therefore, must be screened for fat. But efficient fat-trimming and wise federal spending in 1958 will not, I fear, result in substantial tax cuts. If there is to be relief, it is my hope that small business will receive priority. In all candor, our biggest tax problem next session will be holding the line and avoiding deficit financing. The greatest danger we face is an inflationary spiral.

THE PERSON WHO EXPLOITS the laboring man is endangering the future of our country — for from the families of laboring men will emerge many of our leaders of industry, science, government and religion. Protecting working men and women against extortion and thievery is a proper Government function, sustained by enlightened labor leaders. Therefore, some legislation to guard union funds can be expected.

Many of us will introduce civil rights bills, covering everything from poll tax to fair employment. The political implications are obvious, but the humanitarian consideration should be greater. If we are to be free, we must live free. The right of our neighbor, whatever his creed or color, is our responsibility, as our right is his.

Woman's Eye View

by Nancy Rigney

All through the fall the women of St. John's Episcopal church bustle about making plans for their annual Christmas bazaar — December 5 and 6. And believe it or not, December is only three days away.

The church will become "Tinsel Town," featuring shopping down "Sparkle Lane." The "Town" will open from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Thursday and open at noon until 8 p.m. on Friday.

Here are some of the shopping opportunities:
Needlework — Aprons (both practical and dainty) lunch-eon cloths, place mats, caps and mittens for children are only a few.

Baked Goods — Fruit cakes, all types of cookies (including the old fashioned decorated kind) cakes, pies, doughnuts, bread and coffee cakes. Also featured will be home-made candy, popcorn balls and candy canes.
Religious Booth — A selection of books, crosses, medals and Christmas cards will be available.

Gift Shop — Ceramics, hand-painted apothecary jars, unusual candle holders and Christmas decorations prepared by the ladies.

Country Store — Pecans, country cheese, home-made jams, jellies and pickles for your pantry shelf.

Santa will be on hand with a pack of surprise packages for the children. For the adults, the tea room will afford the shopper a chance to have a leisurely snack and chat with friends.

The busy crew that raised the water tower in Lakepointe Village has been matched by the equally-busy telephone installers. Their cable and wire-loaded trucks are a welcome sight to the residents, who at this point are out of contact with the outside world.

Things are really shaping up. Mrs. William Coons of Shady-side drive tells me that there are about 30 families in the village now. A big jump from the three last August! When they number 50, house-to-house mail delivery will start. But they haven't bought their mail-boxes yet.

Many of the residents have been attending the New-comer's Club, and feel that it is an enjoyable way to become acquainted with Plymouth and other newcomers. The club plans a social pot-luck meeting for December.

Yesterday, the Marine Reservists launched their "Toys for Tots" campaign locally. The program was started by reservists in the Los Angeles area in 1948 and spread from unit to unit, until it was established nationally in 1952.

The collection of toys has continued yearly, with the exception of 1950, when all Marine Reserve units were recalled for Korean duty. This year's campaign in Plymouth will be the sixth conducted locally.

The donations will be distributed by the Goodfellows and the firemen of station No. 2 by way of direct home delivery, Christmas parties for children, and "stores" where the parents may choose gifts, according to an allotment plan, for their children.

The toys are given to children in the area in which each campaign was staged.

In Plymouth barrels will be placed at stations displaying the "Toys For Tots" banners and posters. Delivery in person may be made to the Marine Reserve Training Center. Pick-ups on bulk donation can be arranged by calling the center at LUzon 2-4636.

Gala 'Tinsel Town' To Offer Shopping On 'Sparkle Lane'

"Tinsel Town," with shopping down "Sparkle Lane," is the theme for the annual Christmas Bazaar at St. John's Episcopal Church, December 5 and 6.

The women of the church have prepared items such as needle-work, baked goods, home-made candy, popcorn balls, candy canes, religious articles, Christmas cards, ceramics, hand-painted apothecary jars, unusual candle holders, and Christmas decorations.

A country store will conjure up memories of home-made jams, jellies, pickles and country cheese. The tea room offers a snack and a chance to relax.

Children will enjoy delving into Santa's pack for a surprise package. The bazaar will open at 2 p.m. Thursday, until 8 p.m. Friday it will open at noon and close at 8 p.m.

It has been found that sodium phytate, an acid, can control the amount of calcium in the blood stream.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

BY ELMER E. WHITE

7,622,000 In State

MICHIGAN'S POPULATION IS GROWING like a proverbial "Topsy."

In 1950, the date of the Federal Census, Michigan residents numbered 6,371,766. In July, 1957, our state lists 7,622,000 as residents. (This does not include residents serving overseas in the armed forces.)

This is an increase of more than 1,250,000 in less than seven years. According to J. E. Thaden, MSU expert who accumulated this information, the population growth in the last seven years is greater than that of the previous 10 years. From 1940 to 1950, Michigan citizenship grew by only 1,106,658.

Outlook is for continued growth. Mr. Thaden's figures indicate that Michigan will grow by some 3 1/2 million souls during the next 18 years.

Significance of this continued growth can mean many things. Of course, each new person is another consumer. This is important to retailers and to manufacturers. And each new person will need services from his community. It is estimated that the population in Michigan will create demand for half again as many classrooms as now exist; half again as many houses, hospitals, stores, automobiles, teachers, doctors, lawyers, etc.

If these figures prove accurate, Michigan people can look forward to making the most of their opportunity.

LABOR LEADERS have not admitted satisfaction of their expressed fears for the safety of workers at Michigan's new atomic reactor plant at Monroe but the expert testimony looks like it should calm their worry.

Legislators and other state officials toured the $69,000,000 installation last week and returned satisfied.

Dr. Hans Albrecht Bethe, an expert in the field, said the power plant can be operated "without undue risk to the public." His statement puts some Democrats on a spot.

Last year, Gov. Williams joined a number of labor leaders in asking the Atomic Energy Commission to halt construction of the plant until safety to workers and the community could be assured.

The AEC refused to stop building, but promised to investigate and develop the safeguards necessary.

Dr. Bethe said workers will have five barriers between them and harmful effects of radioactivity. Other precautions have been created to prevent other kinds of trouble.

Legislators reasoned thusly: If the AEC refused to halt construction, safety to the public was already assured. The most the unions and Democrats can charge now is that the AEC didn't tell them.

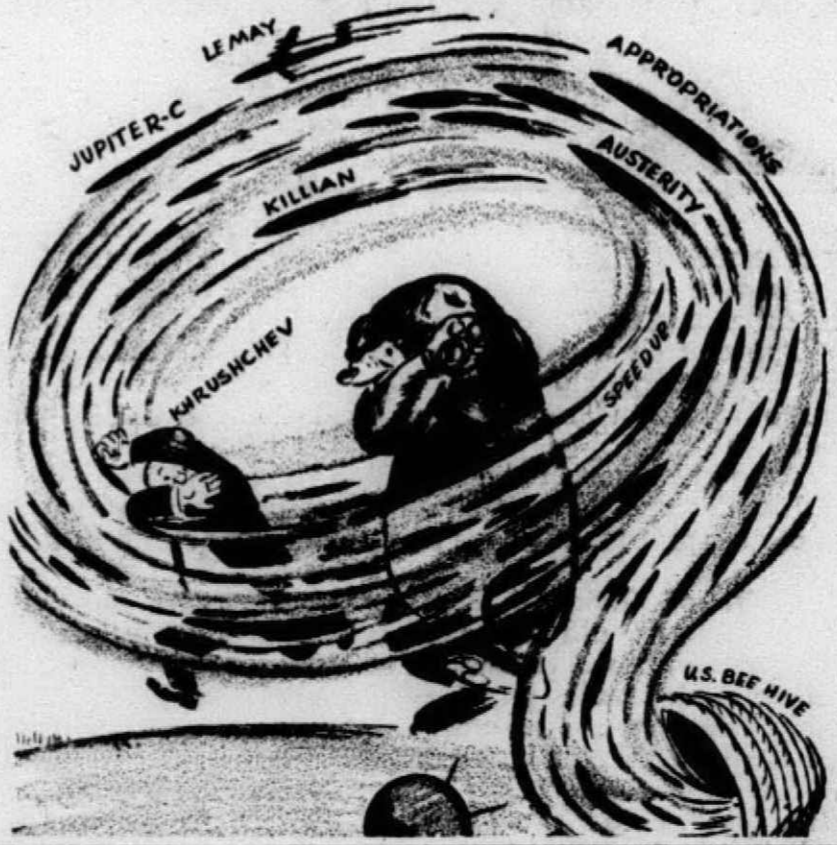

COURT REFORMS, suggested two years ago have been promised for lower courts by the Michigan Supreme Court starting in the spring.

In a show of nonpartisanship, three justices nominated first by Democrats, said they would support Chief Justice John R. Dethmers, a judge with Republican origins, for another term.

Justice Eugene F. Black sounded the sentiment of the Democratic members, stating that 1958 would be "a year of transition" and Justice Dethmers would be a powerful force at the helm.

The changes include regular conferences with lower court judges in an attempt to speed justice, improve court administration and, generally, to improve the state's court system.

"You Might Have Known"

If Your Name Is 'SARAH'

BY ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

It was a woman named "Sarah" who brought about the nationwide celebration of Thanksgiving Day; Sarah Josepha Hale, American writer and editor. When she was left a widow with five children she began working as an editor of the "Ladies Magazine" in Boston, and later became editor of "Godey's Lady's Book" in Philadelphia. Mrs. Hale exerted great influence on fashions and manners, and urged better education for women. And in 1827 she began advocating the idea that Thanksgiving for the blessings of the year be celebrated nationwide on the same day.

The notion of setting apart one day for expressing thanks was not a new one; similar observations have been occurring in various places and at different times. In our own country it was Governor William Bradford of Plymouth Colony who issued the first Thanksgiving Proclamation in 1621, commemorating the fine harvest of that year after a winter of privation and suffering.

The colonists, of course, could not shop in a supermarket for the best value in oven-ready turkeys. The man of the family went out into the forest and shot his bird, bringing it back to the womenfolk to be cooked.

The earliest Thanksgiving suggestion was made by a president when George Washington ordered a Day of Thanksgiving for the adoption of the Constitution in 1789. And President Lincoln, in 1863, set apart the last Thursday in November as the day to be observed. Mrs. Hale had written him suggesting it, just as she had urged presidents before him to adopt a nationwide Thanksgiving Day.

The name "Sarah" is from the Old Testament, and it became widely used after the Reformation when many of the ancient biblical names were revived. It means "a princess" in Old Hebrew. The first Sarah we know of was the wife of Abraham. She had lived 90 years without having been blessed with a son, and when she learned that she was to bear a child, she broke out laughing. Why, that was impossible! Yet her son was born, and was called, because of her having greeted the prophecy of his birth with laughter, "Isaac", which means "laughter" in Hebrew.

What sort of woman was the biblical Sarah? "A fair woman to look upon", so the Bible says. She had not always been called "Sarah", but had begun life as "Sarai", and this has a less complimentary meaning than Sarah; it signifies "quarrelsome". From what the Bible tells of her, at times she had lived up to this her earlier name.

Want to know about other names? Is your name unusual? Write about it to Dr. Reynolds, care of this newspaper.)

BAD FIRE YEAR

AUGUSTA, Me. — (UP) — Deputy Forest Commissioner Austin Wilkins says 1957 has been the worst forest fire year in Maine since the disastrous 1947 fires. So far 26,000 acres of woods have been burned. In 1947 more than 213,000 acres were destroyed.

MINERS MAKE HAY

CUTLER, Ill. — (UP) — Thirty-five coal miners at the Bradbury Mine of the Zeigler Coal and Coke Co. turned farmers for a day to help put up the hay crop for their boss. Clifford Thomas, mine manager, was injured in a mine accident.

Here is a word from the professional truck driver for pedestrians walking at night. Practice defensive walking tactics by crossing streets at lighted intersections only. When there are no sidewalks, always walk on the left side of the road, facing oncoming traffic. Wear something white, if possible.

ED KOTERBA Reports from Washington

FLIP-FLOP ON SPENDING. President Eisenhower's broad hint in his Oklahoma TV talk that there'll be heavier federal spending next year has an interesting background.

It was just last month—several days after Russia launched the first Sputnik—that the President ordered his budget people to pare down the 1959 federal budget estimates to $70 billion—substantially lower than the previous year's budget requests.

Then the mail began to pour in—the public was aroused by the Russian satellite — and criticism was that the White House was not spending ENOUGH for defense.

Then, Sputnik II really rocked the masses into seething criticism of Ike personally. It was not until then that the administration made a complete flip-flop in its philosophy on spending.

Talk now is that federal expenditures next year may be FIVE BILLION more than what Congress allocated this year.

WHERE'LL MONEY GO? The White House will ask Congress for more school construction money, for foreign aid increases, more grants for federal scholarships — and more for virtually all phases of defense, including higher pay for military personnel.

Congress will be asked—and most likely will grant—a higher national debt ceiling . . . possibly two to three billion over the present $275 billion limit.

PLANS FOR BROWNELL. Although Herbert Brownell quit as attorney general to enter private practice, his friends say he would return to Washington—if offered a seat on the Supreme Court bench. Brownell could conceivably be named to replace Associate Justice Felix Frankfurter who is about to retire.

LESS GOLF FOR IKE. President Eisenhower golfed but once in the three weeks ending November 16.

The reason: Increasing complaints from grassroots that he'd been spending too much time on the golf courses. (The President golfed 27 days in August and September.)

A-BOMBS IN AIR. The Strategic Air Command finally conceded what was first reported in this column six months ago and flatly denied by the Pentagon . . . That the United States has, indeed, a fleet of jet bombers in the air 24 hours a day bearing atom bombs in overseas operations.

Gen. Thomas Powers, chief of SAC, confirmed this last week.

ANOTHER CANDIDATE. California Attorney Edmund (Pat) Brown has a 50-50 chance of winning the governorship over Sen. Bill Knowland next year, according to odds being quoted here.

Should he win, Brown will be boomed for the Democratic nomination for President in '60.

LOST MAN YEARS. Congress' subcommittee on manpower says the United States wasted 400,000 man years the past year in scientific work . . . They calculate that 400,000 scientists and engineers are doing "non scientific" work because of lack of demand for their talents.

WHAT'S FREE? A new edition of Washington's perennial best-seller, "Infant Care." Write to your congressman, Capitol Hill, Washington, D.C.

Popular Records

NEW YORK—(UP)—The psychiatrist's couch has been a vehicle for funny cartoons as well as serious stage and film shows.

So the selective-audience Commentary Records thought the couch also might serve as a non-serious instrument for an outstanding song stylist.

This Commentary's "Songs of Couch and Constipation," sung by Katie Lee, is one of the best off-beat albums of the year. Her humor is dry and her material is droll.

Written by Bud Freeman and Leon Pober, the 12 songs sung by Miss Lee range from "Shrinker Man" "Stay As Sick As You Are," "The Guilty Rag" and "Schizophrenic Moon." One of the most-amusing selections is "Gunslinger," which is described as a ballad for adult westerners.

This collection of unusual songs, which were arranged by Bob Thompson, should appeal to anyone with a demanding sense of humor looking for something out of the ordinary. While it is an excellent party record, it contains nothing offensive that might irritate the sensitive.

Jimmy Komack and the Sauter-Finegan Orchestra of RCA Victor also have chosen psychiatry for interesting LP's. Jimmy, a comedian is featured on "Inside Me," and the S-F group's theme is "Under Analysis." Both LP's contain standard tunes.

"Music for Pooped People" is the catchy title of a new Mercury LP featuring the Eddie Kay Octet. It's soft stuff even though the lineup of songs include such fast tempo items as "Crazy Rhythm" and "South Rampart Street Parade."

Platter Chatter — Hollywood's version of "Pat Joey" doesn't come near the Broadway presentation, but fans of Sinatra and Rita Hayworth should enjoy Capitol's pressing of the sound track of the film . . . Bobby Sherman also has a smooth band takeoff on "Pat Joey" on the Jubilee label.

Record of the Week — "Make Love to Me" (Liberty). This is Julie London at her best on 12 numbers, the most sensuous being "I Wanna Be Loved."

Livonians Now Are Able To Dial 170 More Cities

Some 170 additional communities in a dozen states now can be dialed direct from Livonia area telephones, Michigan Bell Telephone Company manager Robert D. Maurer announced this week.

The addition brings the number of communities Livonia phone users can dial direct to more than 1,200 in 24 states.

Two states — Indiana and Kansas — appear on the list of dialable points for the first time. Cities in those states include South Bend and Indianapolis in Indiana, and Dodge City, Wichita, and Topeka in Kansas. A total of 37 towns in the two states were added.

More than 50 Pennsylvania cities were added, among them Harrisburg, Hershey, and Scranton. Other large cities in the Nov. 17 expansion include Kansas City and Joplin, Missouri, and Dayton and Springfield, Ohio.

Try Your Hand at These Easy Holiday Candles

With the simplest of equipment and no great amounts of time and patience required, you can bring a festive glow into your home by making your own holiday candles.

These gay wax candles are fun to make. Most of the equipment can be found right in your own kitchen or at the dime store, so it's also a perfect opportunity to make a few inexpensive yet distinctive gifts. The various shapes among the containers, dessert molds and cans in our kitchen can become whatever your imagination will let them.

Bright with glitter, sparkling sequins and colorful beads, your candles will make eye-catching centers of attraction for the hall table, on the mantelpiece, atop built-ins, on the dining room table. And the fact that they'll be your own creations will double the pleasure in displaying them.

Here is the necessary equipment: A large double boiler, fork, eggbeater, paring knife, spoon and scissors. Plastic bowls and a variety of other dessert dishes and containers for molds and wax crayons for color.

You can get wicks from a number of sources. Candle stubs will serve. Inexpensive tapered candles can be found in the five-and-ten. Or if you want to make your own wick, soak heavy string or cord overnight in a solution of 1 tsp. salt, 2 tsp. borax, 1 cup water; dry then dip in melted wax to stiffen.

For decorating children's wax crayons are ideal. You can dissolve them whole, break them into segments or shave them into the melting wax. Control the range of color, from pastel to a deep shade, by the number of crayons you use.

Colored non-inflammable ribbon and cord, beads, baubles or buttons, sequins in numerous shapes, sizes and colors serve as trimming. Combined with inexpensive glitter dust, they provide a variety of material to use in making each candle an individual creation.

Here are some musts for good results: Grease all molds thoroughly and chill in refrigerator. Chilling makes wax candles easy to remove from molds. Allow melted wax to cool slightly before pouring into molds. If possible, leave newly molded candles in refrigerator overnight to insure thorough hardening. Candles removed from molds too soon will sag and lose their shape. Tap metal or plastic containers gently to loosen wax before removing from mold.

Molds you make out of cardboard should be sealed with masking or adhesive tape, then wrapped in newspapers to insure against wax leaking. Tie newspapers with several turns of cord which will strengthen cardboard mold and give support.

In the line of helpful hints: Cover working surfaces with paper for easy cleanup, melt wax in double boiler—never over direct heat; for froth, let wax cool until 1/2" film forms on top and beat cooled wax with fork or an eggbeater; heat forks and utensils to melt wax and wipe with paper towels, wash in hot soapy water. Warning: never pour melted wax down drain.

Here are a few ideas to get you started. The first is one of the easiest to make but presents a handsome appearance.

Holly Berry Candle

Needed: 6 bars wax, plastic bowl 6" wide, 3" candle stub, artificial holly leaves and berries and wax crayons.

1. Grease inside bowl with vegetable shortening.
2. Melt 4 bars wax in double boiler. Stir in red or any color you prefer.
3. Pour wax into mold. When wax film forms, insert candle stub. Steady until film sets firmly enough to support it. Place mold in refrigerator to harden thoroughly.
4. Tap sides of bowl to loosen candle and remove from mold.
5. Melt 2 bars wax. Use tweezers to dip leaves and berries in hot wax. Coat them two or three times.
6. After final dip, apply leaves immediately to sides of candle. Hold against sides until wax cools and leaves and berries adhere.

Hurricane Candle

Needed: 4 bars wax, brandy inhaler, 3" candle stub, wax crayons, green and gold stars (No. 4 and No. 6 size), 1 yd. narrow gold cord, and gold and green glitter dust.

1. Melt 4 bars wax, adding red and violet crayons for color. (Use any color you prefer.)
2. Place inhaler in hot water to warm. Wipe dry and pour melted wax slowly into glass.
3. When film forms at top, insert candle stub. Sprinkle surface with glitter dust. Chill.
4. Use household cement to glue cord on rim and bottom edge of inhaler.
5. Paste green and gold stars around outside of inhaler, alternating colors.

Christmas Tree Candle

Needed: 23 bars wax, double old fashioned glass (or water tumbler) to mold base, 12" tapered candle, pliable cardboard 23" square (obtainable from suit box), wax crayons, and masking tape.

1. Draw circle measuring 21" across on cardboard. Cut it out and slit it to the center. Wrap ends around to form a cone. Cone should measure 7" across the bottom and be about 10 1/2" high.
2. Use a lot of masking or adhesive tape to seal ends together. Wrap cone in layers of newspaper and tie with several turns of cord.
3. Punch small hole in top of cone. Grease inside of cone and inside of glass mold with vegetable shortening.
4. Insert tapered candle in cone so that wick end sticks out about 1" at top. Place cone in large fruit juice can or similar container for support while pouring wax.
5. Melt 10 bars wax in double boiler. Pour small amount in cone to fix candle in place allow wax to cool. Fill cone completely.
6. When wax has hardened place mold in refrigerator to chill. Leave overnight.
7. Remelt remaining wax, add red crayons for color and pour into glass mold. Chill.
8. Strip cardboard mold from cone. Tap glass gently to loosen wax and slide out red base.
9. Melt 3 bars wax. Use small amount to seal base to cone. Set aside remaining wax.
10. Melt 8 bars wax into two equal parts. Add dark green crayons to one batch and light green to the second.
11. Pour small amount of dark green wax into coffee tin and whip to froth with fork or eggbeater. Use knife to pick up dabs of froth and ice cone completely. Keep the applications rough to heighten tree effect.
12. Repeat process with light green wax. Let dark green underneath show through. Remelt remaining white wax. Whip it and apply "snow" to tree in the same manner.
13. Use melted wax to glue edges of two wax bars together to form square platform for tree. Seal platform to base of tree with melted wax. Spoon melted wax over platform to conceal joint.

Festive Cone-Shaped Candle

A pilsener-type beer glass provides the mold for this gay little Christmas candle that you'll find is fun and easy to make. You'll probably want to have several around the house during the festive season, as well as some to give away as gifts.

Besides the glass, you'll need 3 bars of wax, a little star-shaped candle holder or ash tray found in any five and ten-cent store, a candle wick, several pipe cleaners and an assortment of colored dragees that are used for decorating cakes, cookies, etc.

Grease the inside of the glass thoroughly with a vegetable shortening and chill. The chilling makes the wax candle easy to remove from the mold.

Melt the 3 bars of wax in a double boiler (NEVER over direct heat). Let it cool slightly, then pour into the pilsener glass. Before the wax is completely hard, remove from mold and press dragees in with the hand. Scatter colors at random or you may follow a special color scheme.

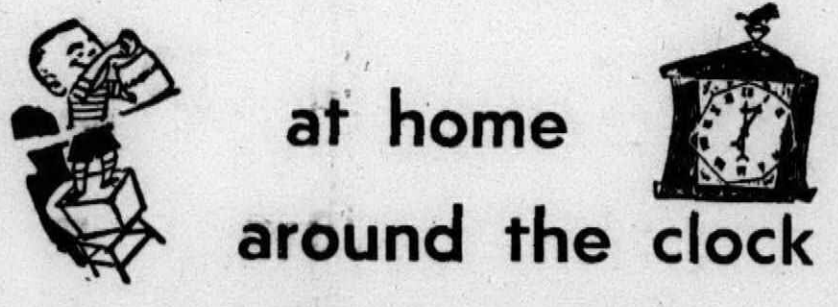

While the candle is cooling, take the glass star-shaped candle holder or ash tray and pour a little of the melted wax into it.

Place the pipe cleaners crossed in the center to form a star. The melted wax will adhere them to the container. When the candle is cool, place it on top of the pipe cleaners. No glue will be needed since the wax on the pipe cleaners will make the candle stay in place.

Attach metallic stars in your favorite colors to the pipe cleaners in an irregular fashion. A plastic lace doily may be placed underneath the container.

Last of all, heat an ice pick or a steel knitting needle and form a hole in the center of the candle. Place a wick all the way down and pour melted wax in to fill the hole. You may use a wick from an inexpensive candle.

Should you want to make the cone candle in color, just dissolve ordinary wax crayons in the melted wax—dissolve them whole, break them into segments or shave them into the melted wax. You can control the range of color, from pastel to deep shades, by the number of crayons you use.

Here are Three Tasty Turkey Left-Over Ideas

Too much turkey? Don't surrender to the inevitable turkey hash, read on, and pick up some new angles on what to do with the left-overs.

The first suggestion is Lemon-Turkey Casserole, and here's how:

Lemon-Turkey Casserole

- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 2/3 cup uncooked white rice
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon whole celery seed
- 2 cups coarsely diced cooked turkey
- 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
- 1 1/2 cups turkey broth
- 4 lemon slices, halves
- About 5 thin onion slices, halves
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon paprika

Cook rice according to directions on box. Place the cooked rice in a well-greased 1 1/2 quart glass baking dish. Sprinkle with pepper and celery seed. Add the turkey, tomato sauce and 1 cup broth. Arrange the lemon and onion slices over the top. Use more slices if necessary to cover the top. Cover with a lid or aluminum foil.

Place in a pre-heated 350 degree oven for about 1 hour, 15 minutes, or until the onions are tender. Add water if the mixture cooks dry. When the onions are tender, pour remaining 1/2 cup broth over. Cut up the butter or margarine over the top. Sprinkle with paprika. Place under the broiler until the top begins to brown. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

The next recipe is a close kin to turkey hash, but an interesting variation.

Turkey Loaf

- 2 cups cooked turkey, diced small
- 1/4 cup fat
- 1 cup hot milk
- 1 cup soft bread cubes, packed firmly
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs beaten
- 1/4 cup celery, chopped
- 2 tablespoons green pepper, minced
- 2 tablespoons pimiento, chopped

Melt fat in milk. Combine milk with remaining ingredients. Pour into a well-greased loaf pan approximately 8 x 4 x 3 1/2. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F. for 35 to 40 minutes. Let stand for 5 minutes before unmolding.

Super Cheese Party Dip

When guests drop by and you want to serve a light refreshment, or when you're planning that special party... whip up this Super Party Dip. It's so distinctive... rich and smooth, like a dip should be. It's so good in fact, that I call it my Super Party Dip. You can make it in only minutes... and here's how:

- 1 8-oz. piece Eckrich Braunschweiger or Eckrich Smoked Liver Sausage
- 2 3-oz. packages cream cheese
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. chopped parsley
- 3 tsp. butter or margarine
- 1/2 small onion, chopped
- 3 tsp. canned mushrooms, chopped

Have braunschweiger or smoked liver sausage and cream cheese at room temperature. Put meat and cream cheese in small bowl and blend in next three ingredients. Then melt butter or margarine in skillet and add onion and mushrooms. Cover, and cook over low heat for 5 minutes. Add onions and mushrooms to meat-cheese mixture. Turn mixer on to lowest speed. Gradually increase speed to medium and beat until light and very fluffy. Serve with potato chips or crisp crackers. Makes approximately 1 1/2 cups of dip.

The next time you want to really impress someone, such as your husband's business associates, serve this delicious Super Party Dip. You're sure to get lots of compliments... both on your originality and cooking ability. This is the kind of dip that everybody likes!

What Kind of Washer, Dryer is Best for You?

To help you decide whether to buy a combination washer-dryer or two separate machines, here are some check-points that other homemakers have found important.

Space—The combination washer-dryer may run about 32 to 36 inches wide. One make is only 27 inches wide. The matched washer and dryer as separate pieces may total around 55 to 58 inches in width. Measure your space and the equipment before you decide.

Performance—Results of washing clothes in a combination washer-dryer are comparable to results with separate washers. However, there seems to be a tendency toward more wrinkles with the combination washer-dryer.

Time—The separate washer and dryer enables you to wash one load and dry another at the same time. The combination equipment will be tied up with one load of clothes for at least an hour and a quarter.

In a combination washer-dryer, the complete process may be carried out with one setting of the dials, leaving free time for other activities. You may, if you wish, wash or dry only.

Energy—The combination washer-dryer has a special advantage for the homemaker with a physical disability, because the clothes do not have to be handled while they are heavy with moisture.

Service—When combination washer-dryers first came out, many people thought that the more complicated machine would require more service than a separate washer and dryer. It doesn't seem to be working out that way. So far, the combinations seem to require no more service than separate machines.

May be Danger Lurking at The Drinking Fountain

Sewage systems and drinking fountains need to be studied for possible health hazards, report scientists at Michigan State University.

In a test of material entering sewage disposal plants, M.S.U. researchers found that poliomyelitis and other viruses are present the year around, even in non-epidemic periods.

For many years we have known that poliomyelitis can be found in sewage during periods when clinical cases of the disease are present in the community, said Dr. Walter N. Mack, professor of microbiology and public health, "but it was not known that such viruses were present all year."

The studies, conducted at Lansing and East Lansing, found the greatest frequency of virus isolation occurs from July through October.

Although viruses as well as bacteria are being dumped back into the river, "we do not know what happens after the organisms enter the river," Dr. Mack stated. Other studies reported by Dr. Mack found that virus particles, as well as bacteria, can be recovered from air samples around public drinking fountains.

He cited a 1951 report which said water fountain designs have changed little, if any, since 1931. "Because of inadequate information there has been no basis for new design to safeguard splashing and contamination," he pointed out. New interest and equipment to study aerosols, or small suspended particles, are expected to help.

DEALERS & SALESMEN WANTED

We have two major frustrations at the city hall. One is magazine salesmen and the second is furnace sales organizations from outside the community. Because of state-federal laws governing the rights of persons holding a veteran's honorable discharge, or a state license to sell, or if they deal in interstate commerce items, such as magazines, we are required to issue a license to them without charge.

Usually a magazine crew manager comes to the city hall to obtain a license. In his car outside are five or six other persons, both young men and girls. As soon as the licenses are issued, they descend upon the neighborhoods. The salesmen use many curious sales pitches ranging from earning their way through college to coercion. After the money is collected, sometimes, the magazine subscribed for never arrives.

As soon as we have the first complaint, our police department rounds up the crew upon receipt of another complaint, licenses will be revoked. There are many good magazine sales organizations. However, there are individuals connected with others who are difficult to deal with, and many of our citizens become frightened into signing a sales agreement to the satisfaction of the salesman. If you do not wish to buy the magazine, say "No" firmly and politely. If you have any further difficulty of any nature, call our police department at 93. It can be there within a minute or two.

If any magazine fails to come, we would appreciate knowing which company issued the receipt, in order that we may make contact and keep record for further reference. There are several local magazine sales agencies in the City of Plymouth, operated by shut-ins, housewives or widows. They can offer you the same bargains as any outside concern.

Furnace cleaning salesmen offer a little harder situation to deal with, because we cannot catch up as fast, and usually it is too late to do much except to make threats, but we have revoked licenses. The system works like this: To obtain leads, the firm distributes form letters and other advertising material offering free inspections, adjustments and other minor servicing of furnaces. Those who respond are solicited for servicing jobs, which often lead to large sales of equipment through misrepresentations.

Another method is to sell furnace cleaning. The cleaning "department" takes the furnace down, spreads it over the floor and then says it is unsafe and you must have a new one. You refuse and the men leave. There are phone calls back to the company, and the fine print of the contract is called to your attention. By that time, the city is involved and a great deal of time and effort is expended in trying to straighten out the tangled affair.

I don't recall ever having such a situation arise with any of our local heating, plumbing or electrical contractors. If you have work to be done, get a price from an outside concern, but also one or two from the local men. If a furnace is not functioning properly, it may be only your filter screens which are clogged up. The city is responsible for a safe installation. We cannot do anything to change the contract you have signed.

If you have any doubts about any sales pitch, or any organization, ask them to come back, but in the meantime, get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce or the city hall. We will do our best to keep you informed.

Windows Get Frigid Test

One of the most important roles of science in making today's homes better is the constant testing of construction materials to make sure they'll do the job they're designed to do. One such testing device is a "cold box" in which temperatures can be brought down as low as 32 degrees below zero. This device is used to determine the insulating value of window sash and frames. The window is fitted into one wall of the "box" and as the cold inside increases, technicians outside measure the temperature of the sash and frame.
 Window sash and frames of ponderosa pine remain moisture-free and comfortable to the touch even at extreme low temperatures, while other materials used for windows take on the temperature inside the "cold box" almost immediately. The natural insulating ability of wood is one reason for the value of ponderosa pine as a window material. The wood won't sweat and cause moisture to damage curtains and draperies or run down painted walls or wallpaper.

Technician measures the temperature on the inside sash of a window of ponderosa pine set in the side of a "cold box." The device determines the insulating value of sash and frames.

Light-Color Roofing 'Bounces' Heat Away

More and more architects and remodeling specialists across the country are specifying white or light-color asphalt shingles for homes because of their heat-reflecting value.

Asphalt shingles in white, silver-gray, or one of the light pastel shades, literally "bounce" much of the sun's heat away instead of permitting it to radiate into the house.

Used in conjunction with a pitched roof over a ventilated attic space and thick mineral wool insulation in the attic floors, light-color asphalt shingles are an effective aid to summer comfort.

PLYMOUTH CITY officials and other guests officially opened the Madison Estates development on Sheldon Rd. last week. This group is sitting at the dining room table, looking through the glass sliding doors to the patio and swiming pool. From foreground are Lester Burton, president of Madison Construction; Dwight Hamborsky, director of F.H.A.; and Robert Sincock, mayor pro-tem.

ary model at right. Only the tri-level is furnished. A service drive will permit entry to homes facing Sheldon road.

Madison Estates Officially Opens 164-Unit Project

A ceremony attended by city fathers and others officially opened the new Madison Estates project along Sheldon road, near Territorial.

Representatives of the city, press and F.H.A. were among the guests of the Madison Construction Co. last Thursday noon on a tour of the model homes, followed by a luncheon.

Over 800 people got a preview of the homes on the Sunday before when the Fairway Realty Co., handling the selling of the homes, opened doors of the two models.

The project, platted as the Masserman - Springdale Sub-division, is on a portion of the former Roderick Cassidy Farm. Forty-nine homes will be in the first portion of the development, while another unplatted section will bring the total up to 164 homes.

Madison Estates is in the city of Plymouth and will have sewer, water and paved streets. A service drive paralleling Sheldon road will give access to homes facing Sheldon.

The furnished model is the "Triumph", a tri-level home with over 1,700 square feet of floor space. A model just to the south of contemporary design is not furnished.

Blunk's, Inc., has attractively furnished the tri-level model, while accessories were furnished by Papes' House of Gifts, both firms are from Plymouth.

One of the eye-catching features of the Triumph model is a swimming pool in the back yard, an optional item. Cost of the home without the pool is around $25,000.

The models are similar to ones built by Madison at Utica and VanDyke roads. Madison Construction has been building homes in the Detroit area for 16 years.

Lots in the development range in width from 62 to 79 feet and in depth from 110 to 120 feet.

Taking a tour of the furnished model, visitors enter through a recessed entrance. At left in the entrance hall is a door to a two-car garage. The livingroom, 15 by 24 feet, contains a large picture window facing the rear of the lot. It has a studio ceiling and one end is paneled in Japanese ash.

An interesting feature of the room is a fireplace, open on three sides. It can be seen through an open wall section which overlooks the lower level of the home.

INTERIOR VIEW of the tri-level model shows a portion of the living room. The large picture window faces the back of the lot. The entire home is furnished by Blunk's Inc., with accessories by Papes' House of Gifts, both of Plymouth.

The lower level contains a dining area, with sliding doors opening onto the patio and swimming pool. Off of the dining area is the kitchen with its built-in appliances.

Cupboards hang over a snack counter - which divides the kitchen and dining area. The roomy lower level also contains a room that can be used for family fun, along with a full bath, and a furnace and utility room.

Moving into the upper level, visitors find that the model boasts four bedrooms. Two of the bedrooms are divided by folding doors.

In the modern bathroom, a translucent lighting system covers the entire ceiling area.

The contemporary style home next door has 1,450 square feet of floor space.

AUBURN, N. Y. —(UP)—Auburn Democrats, campaigning to elect their candidates in a municipal election, sent out cards to voters telling them to "Vote Row A All The Way." They sent out other cards the next day when they realized row A on the voting machines listed the entire Republican slate.

Mrs. Ernest Westfall of Six Mile road had a narrow brush with death Tuesday when the new Ford she was driving somehow left the Plymouth-Northville road near the Phoenix dam

Livonia Center farmers want to know what the reason is for the big drop in the price of meat. Everything the farmer has to sell has gone way down in price. This is certainly a one-sided affair and they are wondering if it is caused by the financial affairs of the country or just what is the reason.

Mrs. John Streng of Orchard Lake is visiting with her sister, Mrs. William Gayde this week.

Harry Armstrong is assisting C. G. Draper in his store this week.

No school on Thursday or Friday at the brick school-house at Pikes Peak due to Thanksgiving.

Up to the present time about $283.88 has been received from the carnival held at the school last week. However, money and gifts from alumni are still coming in adding to that amount.

Holiday goods are appearing in great numbers in our showcase windows and of course the merchants are advertising in the Mail. Be sure to read their ads.

Thanksgiving services were held in the M. E. Church last evening. Reverend Ronald gave a few remarks and then several persons from the large number attending told of their reasons for being thankful.

The football game yesterday afternoon between the Plymouth Alumni and the Daisy was certainly a one-sided affair. The Alumni had their way all along.

William Blunk Sr. died Tuesday at the home of his son William Jr. where he had been making his home. He had reached the age of 90. Funeral services were held at the Lutheran church with Reverend Ehnis preaching.

Township Treasurer Ralph Samson will be at the store of Gayde Brothers every Friday, at Gittins Brothers every Saturday up to January 10th for the collection of taxes.

When the taxpayer walks up to the treasurer's desk this year he will have something coming, probably for the first time in the history of the state. The good roads tax collected last year is to be returned and for the township the amount is $408.52.

Neighbors are Workin' on the Railroad To Provide for Baby Steam Locomotive

BY DAVE JOLLIFFE

The giant steam engines which used to pulse over the countryside have given way to throbbing diesels which may be more efficient from a railroading man's viewpoint—but certainly not as exciting.

Besides preserving yesterday's excitement, John T. Maxwell of 42955 Joy Road, vividly demonstrates that steam can serve a useful purpose, even in an era that features satellites and atoms.

John has two giant steam traction engines—a 13½ ton 75 horsepower 1921 Case and a 8½ ton 14 horsepower 1911 Port Huron. Each cost about $100 per horsepower when new.

Besides these steel monsters, Maxwell recently purchased a 1800 pound steam engine and set up a half-mile track which probably gives Plymouth its first private railroad.

Unlike his two giant helpers the baby engine has no real value—outside of furnishing boundless pleasure for neighborhood children who trail after its toots in a homemade trailer and a cloud of steam. The proud owner reports crowds of more than 200 have enjoyed his miniature monster on pleasant Sunday afternoons.

With the giant traction engines and the small model, John strikes an appreciative note for the black giants whose only demand is a little water and plenty of fire.

The two big engines serve a useful purpose. After laboring under a full head of steam with a carload of appreciative youngsters, Maxwell hops out, makes a few quick adjustments, and presto—he has power a plenty to operate a full-scale sawmill, haul lumber or thrash wheat.

John has operated the die business located behind his ranch style home for 14 years. In addition, he is this area's Frick Sawmill dealer. By mixing business with pleasure in his fascinating hobby, he often converts the big engine's power to demonstrate the mills in operation.

"As a matter of fact," Maxwell says as he looks fondly at the biggest of his two shiny workhorses, "the Case will outpull a diesel engine of much larger horsepower. It was built in the days when they rated horsepower a little differently."

Other advantages—the steam engines require little upkeep—"just a little oil and water"—and will last, it seems, forever.

Wood and coal serve as fuel. After a 45 minute warm up period, the steam expands providing energy to power the pistons. Top speed is 3 miles per hour and the traction engines will go anywhere.

But the apple of John's eye is the small locomotive, used only for entertainment.

Future expansion includes a model out-door railroad with switches, depot, coal chute, water tower, trestles and tunnels. He hopes to have a half-acre of landscaped and the whole operation completed by next year.

As it is, the Maxwell's have made remarkable progress in the last few weeks. Now the engine can travel in an uninterrupted circle thanks to some ambitious neighbors who helped construct the necessary half-mile of track.

Another project will be a facsimile of "modern" steam engine big enough to sit in. (If manufacturer's hadn't stopped making engines years ago, John might have bought the real thing!)

The hobby started on a trip five years ago when John saw the "Port Huron" at Reese, Michigan. "It was in remarkably good condition," he recalls, "and I just couldn't pass it up."

The 13½ ton Case was steaming tobacco beds in Berghan, Kentucky when Maxwell spotted it two years ago. This is a common practice in the South because steaming kills weeds and allows the young seeds to grow unmolested.

Son Russell has also helped build track and polish the iron bodies while Mrs. Alice Maxwell contributes periodic motherly advice.

Once a year The Maxwell clan make a pilgrimage to Mt. Pelier, Ohio to the National Thrashing Association meeting where "a lot of steam engine fanatics have a reunion to compare notes."

With 12 tons worth of "notes", John Maxwell has a ball.

NEW PRIDE and joy of John T. Maxwell, 42955 Joy Rd., is this 1,800 pound steam engine which he purchased recently. He and some neighbors have been spending their free time at laying a half mile of track in a field on the Maxwell farm. Besides the locomotive, Maxwell has two large steam traction engines which he actually puts to use. With a trailer behind, the traction engines have provided lots of fun for kids and adults on the farm and at various functions.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: I am 15 years old and my boy-friend is 18. My parents think I am too young to 'go steady', but I disagree. We have been going steady for a year and enjoy going places together and have lots of fun. I think it was 'meant to be'. I love him very much. What do you think about the problem? I guess you are just like my family."

Answer—Yes! At 15, most girls haven't known enough boys to be sure that a certain one is the ONLY one in the wide world for them.

Besides, our tastes and preferences change as we know more people, have more social experience and grow more mature. The boy you have fun with at 15 may seem a bore at 25 because YOU have changed since the early teens.

For that reason, it's better to know more than one boy now than to wish later—after marriage—that you had.

After all, you don't buy the first dress that fits you when you shop . . . you usually "look around" to be sure it's your very best choice. Now is the time to "look around" among people, by meeting, knowing and dating various boys. Don't postpone it until it's too late; then you might feel that you "missed a lot in your youth."

Keep your boy-friend as a special friend with the understanding that, because you are 15, you will also meet and date others occasionally . . . to be fair to both of you . . . so you both can be sure that you won't have regrets later.

For free printed tips on "Etiquette" to help improve your manners and popularity, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
BY JEAN EVANS

M.P.F.: Before I can answer your question regarding the specimens of handwriting you submitted you will have to identify them in some manner, either by initials or number or some other method you might desire.

As neither sex nor age can be determined by handwriting it would be impossible for me to reveal to you through the newspaper just which specimen I would be discussing. I might also add that the greater number of words per specimen the clearer and complete the analysis. May I hear from you again?

Dear Jean: Would you please analyze my handwriting? What kind of character and personality do I have? Thank you. H.V.

Dear H. V.: The rhythm in your handwriting indicates that you are interested in music or would appreciate rhythm. You might demonstrate this through the desire to dance, also. There is creative ability shown but along with manual dexterity. You have an out-going nature and are very generous, in fact. I could say you are too generous in some ways.

Dear Jean: Please analyze my handwriting. I would like to know what kind of a person I am. I enjoy your column very much. KAY

Dear KAY: You act on impulse then think about what you said or did after it is too late. This could lead you into a lot of difficulties. You are sensitive to what others think and are easily hurt by their criticism. You are a shining person but draw with manual dexterity. Someone is trying to take advantage of your generosity.

Dear Jean: I have always been fascinated by handwriting analysis and would greatly appreciate a reading from you. L.K.M.

Dear L.K.M.: There is evidence of a tendency toward self-consciousness shown which could be used as an asset or a liability. It could cause you a lot of unhappiness if allowed to, but you are not too sensitive so you likely have it well under control. You could put up a friendly argument if pressed into it. You are always looking ahead and will improve yourself and surroundings through your own efforts.

Dear Jean: Although I know the real reason for writing is for a handwriting analysis, but I would also like to know what position I would be best suited for. E.B.

Dear E.B.: You like variety, change and travel. You are interested in many things, you have your fingers in many pies. You are quick to sympathize with others. You would be best suited for work involving variety. This could be change of places or people. You might be interested in selling or some other opportunity of dealing with the public.

Dear Jean: I have a tendency to be sarcastic. What do you see in my handwriting? A.S.

Dear A. S.: It is very evident in your handwriting that you are sarcastic. This can be overcome if you want to work at it. Think before you speak and consider the other person's feelings. This will take a while to accomplish but you can succeed if you really want to.

CARE Food Crusade Opens

The 1957 CARE Food Crusade to share America's farm abundance opened today with an appeal to Plymouthites to help feed 11 million needy people every day for the next year. C. R. Deane, Michigan Director for CARE, announced today the year-long food plan. Deane described the Food Crusade as "America's biggest bargain in food and good will".

Under the CARE system, all packages are clearly marked "A gift from the people of the United States of America". In addition, the name and address of the contributing individual or organization go with every Food Crusade package, to personalize the message of people-to-people friendship.

For the Crusade, 3,000,000 packages, averaging 22 lbs. must be subscribed, Deane stated. Every $1 package helps feed four persons for an entire month. The packages go to destitute families or institutions in those countries that cannot share the cost, and to special groups of needy not covered by the CARE general distribution plan.

Recipients are chosen, on the basis of greatest need, by CARE's American representatives abroad. Donors may specify any of 12 Food Crusade countries: Ceylon, Columbia, Greece, Hong Kong, West Germany and Berlin, India, Israel, Italy, Korea, Pakistan, Peru and Yugoslavia.

CARE's address in Michigan is: CARE Committee, c/o J. L. Hudson Co., Detroit 26, Michigan. (Or: CARE, Detroit 33, Mich.)

Rotunda Offering Fifth Christmas Fantasy Show

The fifth Christmas Fantasy, one of the nation's outstanding holiday presentations, will begin Saturday, November 30, at the Ford Rotunda in Dearborn.

Free to the public, the Fantasy features several new exhibits in addition to the many which have proved so popular in the past.

Last year, 641,000 persons visited the Rotunda to see the Christmas Fantasy. In four years, 1953-56, the Fantasy has attracted nearly 2,380,000 visitors.

Upon entering the Rotunda, visitors will encounter the largest Christmas tree ever displayed in the world-famous exhibit building. The tree is 40 feet high and its branches are nearly 20 feet in diameter.

A nativity scene with life-size figures will occupy the large center court of the Rotunda, providing the religious theme for the show. Presented in the scene will be Mary and Joseph, the Christ child, the Wise Men and their camels, the shepherds and their sheep.

Overlooking the scene will be two choir lofts, filled with mannequin singers, from which recorded music in stereophonic sound will originate. Periodically during the Fantasy, Detroit area choral groups will present concerts in the center court.

The entrance to the center court will be a simulated cathedral facade. Carillons in its 40-foot spires will ring at intervals.

As always, Santa Claus will be on hand in his castle high atop a ramp in the Rotunda outer court, to hear the Christmas wishes of thousands of hopeful youngsters.

Nearby displays will show toys being built on the assembly line in Santa's workshop and elves shining his sleigh and primping the reindeer for their Christmas Eve mission.

New to the Christmas Fantasy will be a doll beauty shop that will accompany the display of 2,500 Goodfellow dolls dressed by Ford Girls Club members.

Miniature figures in the doll shop will operate a sewing machine and iron, while two beauty operators glamorize a pair of dolls.

Also new will be a three-ring circus and a bake shop. The circus will include a clown band and performing miniature horses and elephants. Figures in the bakery display will knead dough, trim pies, mix cakes and bake bread and cookies.

Favorites of other years, cavorting animals, nursery rhyme and fairy tale characters again will be a part of the Fantasy.

Throughout the show, motion picture cartoons will be presented in the Rotunda theater.

The Rotunda will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and Saturdays, and from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Sundays.

The building will close at 3 p.m. Christmas Eve when Santa Claus traditionally departs from the Rotunda.

Bible Comment:
Church Members Must Do More Than Just Attend

If church membership meant vital religious living and fidelity to all church members, there would be almost revolutionary changes in the world.

St. Paul counsels us in his epistles to bodies of established Christians of the early church. He lays great emphasis on the basic fact of the Christian life and the motivations of the good church member.

First, there must be the deep and true relationship to Christ. It is the power of the resurrected Christ that should be the dominating force in the life of all Christians.

Paul expresses this more definitely when he says elsewhere: "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh, I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave Himself for me."

On this foundation is built the life that is free from base desires, unworthy tempers and every form of ill will or unkindness. Wrath, malice and anger—all such things have no place in the Christian life.

Church members must be honest with one another. The Christian spirit, if it operates fully, will break down all barriers of race and caste and class. But the power of the Christian life is not all negative, stressing what the Christian should not do and should not be. It is also positive, urging him to constructive acts of love and charity.

Think of the millions of church members here in the United States, to say nothing of additional millions abroad. What a world we should have if every church member lived up to the ideal of what a church member should be.

Just Pull String and, Presto, a Christmas Bow!

BY EDNA MILES

FUMBLE - FINGERS who shudder at the thought of wrapping Christmas gifts are the rule, not the exception. Few of us are really handy at tying a frilly bow and most of us hand over gifts that have an unmistakably home-wrapped look.

Knowing this, one firm has developed a Christmas gift ribbon which is transformed into a bow in a matter of seconds by simply pulling a string. The secret lies in tiny draw strings woven into the ribbon. You simply grasp strings at each end of the ribbon, after cutting the length you want, and pull. The result is a fluffy, sparkling rosette bow.

Snip off all but six inches of string. This is used to attach the bow to ribbon on package. Undoubtedly, it's the easiest and fastest method of bow-making known. The ribbon comes in red, green, silver and gold to be matched or contrasted to the paper wrapping of the package.

Both satin and woven-edged tinsel chiffon are used for the ribbon.

SOMETIMES it is good for the worried or fretful mind to seek solitude on field or stream where the sounds and voices are only those of nature's gentle children. The busy world may be forgotten in this solitude that is not loneliness, but a mixture of peace and mind that seems real and lasting.

Yet the old adage, "two heads are better than one" is well worth remembering when it comes to extended hunting or fishing treks into the great outdoors.

The inexperienced and the careless can easily come to grief. A slippery rock on the bank of a stream may cause the fall that breaks a leg or an arm. Placid waters often conceal channels too deep for the safety of a non-swimmer. A gun is always dangerous and accidental shooting of self is not as uncommon a happening as it should be. And, too, a man tends to become a bit more careless when he is alone and to himself.

The sportsman who likes to go out alone, for safety's sake, must confine himself to familiar territory. Equally as dangerous a threat as that of some form of personal, accidental injury, is the matter of getting lost.

Like auto accidents, murders and the things we read about in the newspapers every day, getting lost always happens to someone else... Until that one, unforgettable moment.

PLYMOUTH'S BUSINESS

A Plymouth welcome is in order for Messrs Sweeney and Donovan who this week opened the Mink Poodle Beauty Salon in the Saxton Building on Ann Arbor Trail. The Messrs come to us from the neighboring community of Detroit where they gained high favor and extensive experience in all forms of ladies hair styling.

Congratulations are in order for Art Smith, of the Smith Music Company, who last week purchased the Ypsilanti Piano Company of Ypsilanti.

The panatellas are on Ron Crabtree, Manager of Willoughby's Shoes, who with his wife Lois celebrated the arrival of Master Richard H. Crabtree Nov. 22 at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. Both mother and son are doing nicely and will arrive home this week.

Bill Beitner was delivering a Grandfather's Clock in person last week and as he rounded the corner of Main and Penniman, a gentleman walked into the back end of the huge time-piece. Bill was all apologies and asked the gentleman if he was hurt in anyway. "No," he replied, "but I don't see why you just can't wear a wrist-watch like everyone else does."

In a 11 y. the Beitner brothers, Fred and Bill, will be moving to their new location on West Ann Arbor Trail shortly. Watch The Mail for the announcement.

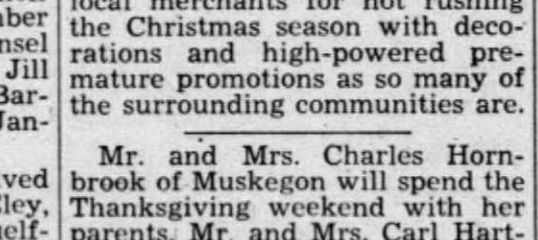

We have been asked to deny a rather insidious rumor! The wave in Dean and Bill Saxton's hair is definitely natural and not due to the new Mink Poodle Beauty Salon which has opened adjacent to Saxton's Garden Store.

We would like to compliment the city of Plymouth and the local merchants for not rushing the Christmas season with decorations and high-powered premature promotions as so many of the surrounding communities are.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hornbrook of Muskegon will spend the Thanksgiving weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick.

THE STARS

BY LYN CONNELLY

A DIME changed the course of Paul Winchell's life when he sent 10 cents for a booklet offered in an advertisement which read "Be the life of the party, throw your voice, learn ventriloquism" . . . This was at an early age and young Paul was fascinated by the booklet, absorbed it completely . . . Then when the star was 13 and a student at New York's School of Industrial Arts, he was assigned a commercial shadow-box display in an advertising course . . . He came up with Jerry Mahoney, his sprightly sidekick who co-stars in ABC-TV's new half-hour weekly variety series, "The Paul Winchell Show."

Paul tried his luck with Jerry on Major Bowes' amateur hour, walked off with the first prize and a $75-a-week job with the Major's touring troupe . . . The ventriloquist soon established himself in theatres, supper clubs, the hotel circuit and radio, then entered television . . . His forthcoming ABC-TV show marks his tenth consecutive season in the medium, that record including his own program as well as guest appearances on most of the major variety and comedy hours . . . He has twice received the coveted Look Magazine award as "the most versatile performer in television."

The Winchells live in suburban Larchmont, N. Y., where Paul has a workshop to keep the ever-youthful Jerry in trim . . . The ventriloquist is married to the former Dorothy Morse . . . They have two children, Stephanie, 11, "a pretty good little ventriloquist," and Stacy Paul, 4, who used to tear Jerry's head out of its socket before making the adjustment.

Paul is a rabid boxing fan, keeps in trim through weight-lifting and golf . . . He attributes the 96 he shot on his first time out on a golf course to the coordination he developed from ventriloquism.
