Fluoridation of City Water Again Proposed After Five Year Silence

Five years after the issue was tabled by the city commission, the controversial proposal of fluoridating the city's water supply came up again Monday night and may this time reach a point of decision.

Fluoridation of water supplies for the purpose of preventing tooth decay has been a hot issue in most of the nation's cities at one time or another during the past decade. There is a big difference of opinion as to whether fluorides aid or harm the human body.

Commissioner William Hartmann brought up the fluoridation question at the end of Monday night's commission meeting, suggesting that commissioners look into the fluoridation matter in the light of apparent successes in other cities.

It was in 1952 that the Association of Plymouth Dentists adopted a resolution asking that fluoridation of city water be undertaken "as soon as possible." Eight dentists signed the resolution.

The commission turned the question over to Dr. R. R. Barber, the city's health officer at that time.

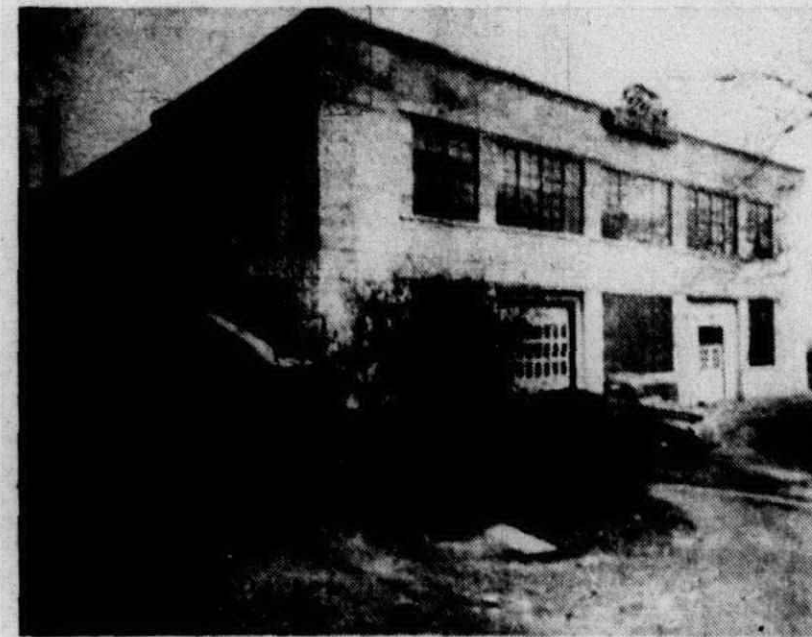

In November 1952, Dr. Barber delivered his report and advised the commission to table a decision because he believed that it would be 1956 before conclusive evidence would indicate the effects of fluorides. The matter has never been brought up again — until Monday.

All commissioners agreed that there should again be a re-opening of the proposal. But they fully realized what they were letting themselves in for.

Operation Goes to Rawsonville

Ford Plant To Move

WATERFORD PLANT of the Ford Motor Co. on Northville Rd., will soon be up for sale after the operations are moved to Rawsonville. Mayor Harold Guenther and Chamber Manager J. H. Wilcox were in Rawsonville Wednesday where the announcement of plans was made.

Ford Motor Co. will close its Waterford plant two miles north of Plymouth and will move its operations and personnel to a new building at Rawsonville in Ypsilanti Township.

Paul A. Miller, general manager of the Ford Accessory Division, said that most of the 115 workers currently employed will be offered the opportunity of moving with their jobs. Donald W. Backoff will continue as superintendent of the Waterford operations at the new location.

The production operations of the plant will be moved to the nearby new Rawsonville plant to take advantage of more modern facilities, according to Miller.

Transfer of operations will start on December 16 and will be completed about December 24. Ford Motor Co. expects to sell the abandoned Waterford plant.

The Rawsonville plant was completed last spring and provides approximately 750,000 square feet of floor space for manufacturing operations and staff offices.

About 50 percent of the Waterford workers are residents of either Plymouth, Livonia or Redford Township. The Waterford plant, a two-story structure located on an 11-acre site on Northville road, was opened in 1925. It has produced many of the precision gauges used in Ford automotive manufacturing throughout the country. Many of the employees are highly skilled and experienced. Company seniority averages 17 years.

With the Rawsonville plant being about 11 miles from Plymouth, it is expected that local employees will not find it necessary to move.

At a dinner held Wednesday noon in Rawsonville where the move from the Waterford plant was announced, it was revealed that several firms are interested in purchasing the abandoned factory. A spokesman said that one plant already "in the area" was especially interested in the building for expanding their facilities and would employ as many as Ford does now. No announcement is expected, however, until the first of next year.

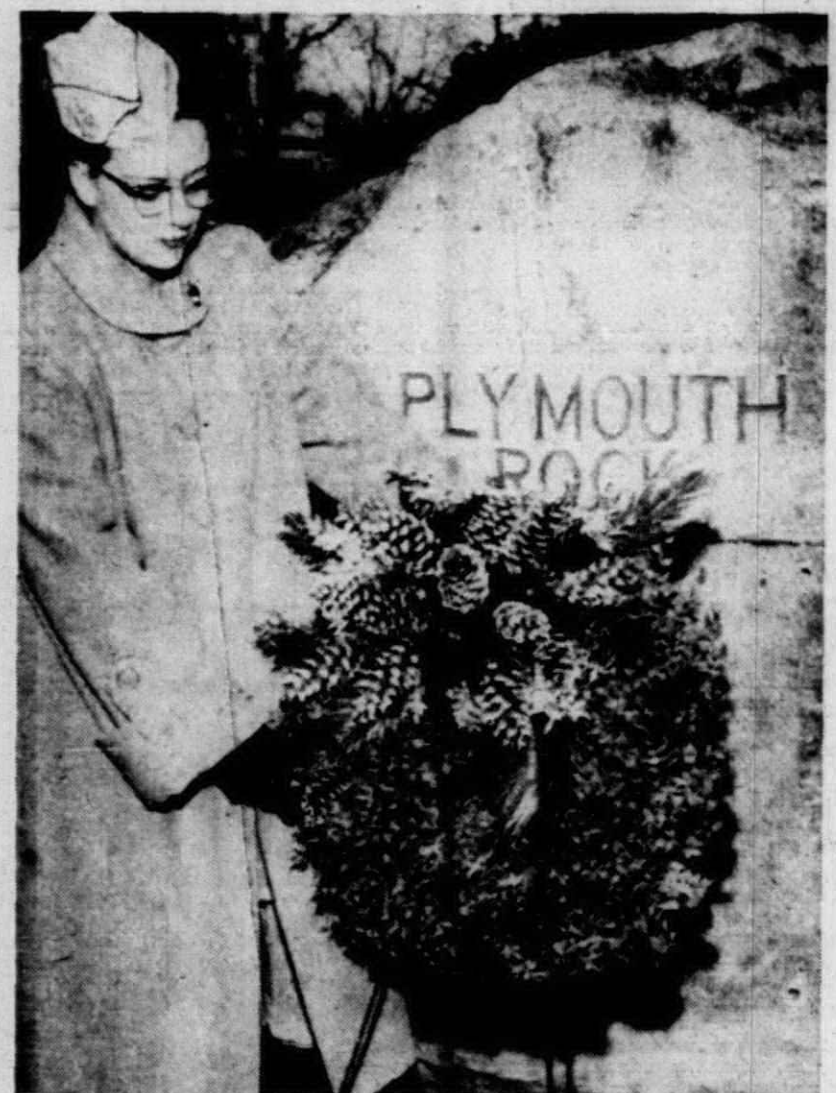

Closing of the Waterford plant will eliminate all but one of six small hydro-factories in the Rouge Valley which Henry Ford built as an industrial dream.

It was Ford's idea to have every man with "one foot on the soil and the other foot in a factory." He believed that small industries located in rural areas would provide employment for men during both the winter and the growing season.

Small plants were built at Nankin Mills, Newburg Lake, Wilcox Lake, Phoenix Lake, at Waterford and Northville. All but the Waterford and Northville plants have been sold to the Wayne County Road Commission. The Nankin Mills frame building is used for concession purposes.

Tickets are available at the door. They cost 90 cents for adults and 75 cents for students. The series is sponsored Chamber of Commerce.

Everyone Can Join Concert

A truly community Christmas program that will feature grade school choirs, the High School Choir, Eastern Michigan Choir and the entire audience will take place on Sunday, December 15 concert of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The December concert has always been one of the two programs of the season planned for children. But this year for the first time, the children of Plymouth will actually participate in the program itself.

Grade school choirs will sing four numbers with the orchestra and the High School Choir will sing two.

The program will also feature the Eastern Michigan Choir under the direction of Robert Waterstrip. The choir is a select group of 40 voices picked from the Eastern Michigan Choral Union and will perform in the Bach Cantata, "Unto Us a Child Is Born."

Plymouth's Symphony Orchestra itself, conducted by Wayne Dunlap, will present a Corelli Christmas number, "Concerto Grosso No. 8" featuring two violin and cello soloists.

Closing the orchestra's part of the program will be

Arkansas Welcomes Daisy At Tuesday Festivities

Daisy Manufacturing Co. will be officially welcomed to Rogers, Arkansas next Tuesday at the annual Chamber of Commerce community dinner being held there. Cass S. Hough, executive vice-president of Daisy, will attend the dinner. Earlier in the day there will be ground-breaking ceremonies at the new factory site on U.S. Highway 71.

A number of distinguished visitors will participate in the day's activities, according to Noel Boulware, manager of the Rogers Chamber of Commerce.

Among them is Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, and Governor Orval Faubus. The dinner will be held in the high school gymnasium.

In other developments concerning the air rifle firm, a plane is being chartered on Saturday, December 14 to take many Daisy employees and their wives to Rogers where they will get a look at the city. All employees are being given a chance to move with the firm if they desire.

Thomas Kent, personnel director of Daisy, said that the trip will give employees an opportunity to see if they want to make the move. It is not yet known how many will make the journey.

Daisy will move to Rogers in May and is stockpiling manufactured goods now for shipment while the transition is being made.

Julien Market Raided Again

Hold-Up Followed by Burglary Gives 'Discouraging' Feeling

"Things are getting to a point now where someone could just about take this place over pretty cheap," Jim Julien, owner of Julien's Market on Ford Rd. said Wednesday morning as he looked over debris left by burglars during the night.

During his 13 years in the gasoline and grocery business at that location, Julien estimates that he has been burglarized and robbed 10 to 12 times.

It was only two weeks ago that a man and woman entered the grocery at Ford and Canton Center Roads and held up the clerk. They carried away $142, but were apprehended last week. They were Charles and Faye Gray of Northville who now are in county jail awaiting trial.

Then sometime between 10:45 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday, thieves forced their way into the grocery through a door and made off with at least $225 worth of merchandise. There probably is more missing merchandise which cannot be accurately determined.

Gone are such things as gloves, jewelry sets, beer, cigarettes, cookies, pies, candy, butter, coffee, canned goods and meat. "They must have been hungry ones," Julien declared as he and his clerk took inventory. Sheriff's officers were busy looking for fingerprints.

"I can't take too much more of this," the owner added. "I almost lost my clerk last week because of that hold-up." Things were quite a mess around the country store. It looked like someone was going to have quite a Christmas—if they haven't got a conscience.

Stores Open Evenings; Santa Postpones Visit

Plymouth stores will start opening their doors in evenings for Christmas shoppers starting tonight — and by the looks of things on the shelves, local merchants are well prepared for the big rush.

Santa Claus, who last week announced that he would be in Kellogg Park both tonight and tomorrow night, has had a change in plans. St. Nick will postpone his stay in the park to Thursday and Friday of next week.

Santa will make his headquarters in a house trailer in the park from 4:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. during the two evenings.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the Santa visit. The Chamber and the city are also busy erecting Christmas decorations in the downtown area. Chamber Manager J. H. Wilcox said that much of this year's decorations will center about Kellogg Park. The Plymouth Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will be decorating Christmas trees in the park.

While the Chamber did not reach its goal of purchasing $5,000 worth of "permanent" Christmas decorations, Wilcox said that there has been a start made this year toward purchasing things that can be used year after year.

Brackets have been placed on many street light posts, for instance, which the Chamber hopes to use for other occasions besides Christmas.

Most Plymouth stores will be open evenings until 9 p.m. until Christmas Eve. They will open at 9 a.m.

In this issue of The Mail is a section devoted to some of the bargains that shoppers can find in Plymouth stores. Section 3 contains 16 pages of advertising specials especially for the Christmas season.

Post Office Gets Auxiliary Building

A building that will be used for clearing all parcel post coming in and out of Plymouth has been leased by the post office. Postmaster George Timpona said.

Located at 1382 S. Main, the building formerly housed the Utilities Lines Construction Co. It has 14,400 square feet and allows mail trucks to drive into the building for loading and unloading.

Timpona said that the building was procured to lessen the congestion at the post office. A building in the Central Parking lot had been used during the Christmas season in the past few years, but the Main street building will be used the year-around.

The postmaster pointed out that there will be no parol service at the new building. He added that the building is part of the program of Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield to increase efficiency in the department.

In other business before the city commission Monday, a petition was read from neighbors along Sheldon road who protest the presence of a roadside stand at North Terrestrial Road and Sheldon which now sells Christmas trees. Operating as Kahrl's Farm Produce, the stand sells produce during the summer and fall.

The neighbors claim that the stand is in violation of the zoning ordinance and that they do not want it there.

Manager Glassford said that the stand could operate as non-conforming use if it had been there before Plymouth Township adopted its first zoning ordinance. (The property was originally in the township but was annexed as part of the Cassidy farm two years ago.) The owner, Glassford said, told him that the stand was opened in the Aria Parke Schawe, the only feminine personality in the current World Travel Series of Plymouth, will appear this Sunday afternoon with her film, "South American Summons."

Held in the high school auditorium starting at 3 p.m., the lecture-film will take the audience into many parts of South America.

Miss Schawe has traveled widely in North, South and Central America. A graduate of Columbia University's school of journalism, she successfully combines informative commentary with outstanding color photography in producing her 16 mm. motion picture travel tales.

Her presentation includes intervals of synchronized music as well as a display of capped volcanoes and primitive Indian life near Quito, Ecuador; Spanish colonial grandeur in Lima; Cuzco and the lost City of the Incas in Peru; colorful Aymaras and their llamas on the shores of Lake Titicaca in Bolivia.

Aria Parke Schawe typical costumes of each country. Highlights of her Sunday presentation will include: An orchid farm in Columbia; cacao in Guayaquil; snow-

Also, the Chilean Riviera and Santiago; flying the Andes; Buenos Aires and the Falls of the Iguassu in Argentina; native fisherman of Recife, Brazil; giant elevator at Bahia; skyscrapers in Sao Paulo and coffee wharves in Santos; colonial churches in Ouro Preto; and the famous Copacabana beach of Rio de Janeiro.

Miss Schawe is the third speaker in the series. The first was John Goddard on the Congo River, and two weeks ago Charles Sharp presented late films on Russia.

Tickets are available at the door. They cost 90 cents for adults and 75 cents for students. The series is sponsored Chamber of Commerce.

Rocks Basketball Season Opens Friday

With the Plymouth High School athletic department barely getting its Suburban Six B League football trophy on the shelf, the Rock cagers will go into action tomorrow night with a season opener at Ypsilanti.

The non-league opening contest will also introduce Jim Doyle as the new coach of the Rock cagers. Doyle, who has played basketball professionally, had a successful record at Mt. Carmel High school in Wyandotte last year with 14 wins and three losses.

Plymouth's cagers have been practicing diligently since the end of the football season and should be "ready" physically for the opener.

Saturday night the Rocks will return to their home court to play Northville in another non-league contest.

Returning from last year's team are Ken Knipschild, Bill Hubert, Jim Dzurus and Dave Walaskay.

This group will form a nucleus for what could develop into a strong contender. The remainder of the team will be chosen from Myron Hopper, Wade Schultheiss, Don Alsbro, Ed LaRoche, Ron Turkett, Al Runge, Al Spigarelli, Dick Weiermiller and Randy Egloff.

Plymouth opens its Suburban Six season against Redford Union on Friday, December 13 away from home. Their first home league game is the following Friday with Allen Park providing the opposition.

READY TO TIP-OFF the new season this Friday are these 13 players around whom Coach Jim Doyle is building his team. The cagers will play Ypsilanti there Friday and Northville here Saturday. Both are non-league games. From left, kneeling, are: Al Spigarelli, Ron Turkett, Randy Egloff, Wade Schultheiss, Al Runge, Dave Walaskay and Coach Doyle. Standing: Don Alsbro, Ed LaRoche, Dick Weiermiller, Bill Hubert, Myron Hopper, Captain Jim Dzurus, and Ken Knipschild.

Church of Christ on November 27. The bridegroom is a resident of Gulliver and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rosie of Seal Choix Point near Manistique. He is now stationed in Detroit with the Coast Guard.

Garden Club Prepares for Annual Sale

Final preparations for the December 13 sale will be made at the Monday, December 9 meeting of the Plymouth Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association. Hostess will be Mrs. Byron Becker of 1455 Penniman avenue.

Completed Christmas greens, novelties and candles will be on display at the meeting and pre-green sale orders will be taken. Tea chairman for the Monday meeting is Mrs. Russell Kreitch. She will be assisted by Mrs. R. J. Lorenz, Mrs. James Kincaid, Mrs. Peter R. Miller, Mrs. Bruno Schroeter, Mrs. T. Stevens and Mrs. Kenneth Wikeke.

Baked goods, "goodies", novelties, decorations, wreaths, swags, cemetery blankets and a tea and snack table will be available at the December 13 sale, according to Mrs. Laura Lickfeldt, general chairman. The sale will be held in West Brothers showroom on Forest avenue from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Customers spending over $1. will have a chance at two doorprizes—a felt table centerpiece and a tree blanket. Other sale chairmen are: bake sale, Mrs. Jennie Cramer; tea and snack table, Mrs. Marge Doman; wreaths, Myrilla Schradler; swags, Mrs. Norma Scheman; novelties and decorations, Mrs. Helen Nelson; ribbons and bows, Mrs. Sophie Trucks; cones, Mrs. Pearl Dunn; advanced orders, Mrs. Lillian Roe; and publicity, Mrs. Janet Roberts.

Plans Take Shape for Annual Symphony Ball on Dec. 21

Plans for the yearly Plymouth Symphony Ball on Saturday, Dec. 21 are now in full swing.

Robert S. Jenkins of Livonia, Symphony Board member in charge of the dance, says that the date chosen for the dance and the orchestra they were able to secure should make the opening of the holiday season in Plymouth a gala affair.

Eddie Schick and his five-piece orchestra will play for the ball following engagements in several Detroit top night spots, including the Detroit Yacht Club. One of their favorite attractions is their accordionist who plays an electronic accordion.

Their music, chosen for all tastes and ages, features the best of the latest tunes, hits from popular Broadway shows and the old favorites which are always in demand at a holiday dancing party.

The decorations committee, headed by Mrs. Donald Ward, is already at work on the theme and design of the ball. Mrs. Eber Readman is in charge of refreshments. Publicity is handled by Mrs. James Randall and ticket sales by Mrs. James Warren.

Tickets will be available at various spots in Livonia, Northville and Plymouth. Ticket outlets already arranged for Plymouth are the Hotel Mayflower, the Beyer Drug stores on Liberty and Forest avenue, and Cassidy's.

Based on the success of the Christmas Ball of other years, the committee hopes that ticket sales and attendance will be even greater this year, serving a double purpose: "to provide a gay holiday event for the public and to provide funds to help support the Plymouth Symphony."

Presbyterian Women Plan Installation of New Officers

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church will hold their monthly luncheon meeting December 11 at 12:30 p.m. in the church dining room. Guests will be Rev. and Mrs. James Jones and several members of St. John's Community church in Detroit.

Following the luncheon and short business meeting, the group will move to the chapel for the installation of officers for the new year. The ceremony will be conducted by Mrs. Emerson Robinson.

The new officers are: president, Mrs. Tom Adams; 1st vice president, Mrs. Robert R. Brown; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Stewart Scott; 3rd vice president, Mrs. W. E. Ackerman; secretary, Mrs. James Warren; treasurer, Helen Meyers; secretary of membership, Mrs. David Mather; secretary of evangelism, Mrs. William Kaiser; secretary of stewardship and spiritual life, Mrs. C. N. Dickie; secretary of social education and action, Mrs. Harold Shirey; secretary of literature, Mrs. James Kropf; secretary of missions, Mrs. Russell Daane; secretary of Christian education, Mrs. E. A. Rice; and secretary of sewing, Mrs. Stanford Besse.

The Christmas story will be presented by Rev. and Mrs. Norman Stanhope and music for the special occasion will be Handel's Allegro Movement of the Fourth Sonata for violin and piano by Joan Izett, accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Taylor.

Reservations should be made by noon of December 9 with Mrs. Fred Hadley or Mrs. Julius Eder. Babysitting facilities will be available at the church.

Shrew Tamed for TV Debut with Local Boy

Twelve-year-old John Olenford, Jr., had his Thanksgiving day brightened by appearing on Mort Neff's "Michigan Outdoors" program with a seldom-seen shrew, a tiny animal he found in a field near his home in Plymouth Hills.

The shrew is only one and one-half inches long, has a long pointed pink nose, a very short tail and eats three times his own weight in food every day.

John released the shrew after the TV appearance.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Augustine of New York City spent Thanksgiving day and the weekend in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson R. Augustine on Powell road.

Travel Centre Featured in Magazine Article

"The Travel Agent", a world-wide magazine, has devoted two pages of its current issue to the Travel Centre of Plymouth as an example of how to start an agency. The article lists the wide variety of methods used by owner Kurt Thrun in starting the successful agency. The Travel Center opened less than a year ago.

"IT WAS A NICE TRY, BUT . . ." seems to sum up public opinion about competitive cars attempting to equal the styling and features of the Swept-Wing '58. They tried to get as low, but had to lower the roof to do it. (Less headroom, same high, boxy, cooped-up look.) Their windshields got smaller, while ours got bigger. Most of them still don't have Total-Contact Brakes to assure smooth, even, safe stops when needed. Nor do they offer push-button TorqueFlite, the proven automatic transmission, and Constant-Control power steering that works full time—not part time as some other systems do. And Dodge no-sway, no-dip Torsion-Aire is standard equipment. (Bus-type air springs offered by some cars cost well over $100.00 extra.) So compare all the 1958 models with Dodge. We think you'll agree: Other cars are catching on, but they can't catch up.

Girl Scouts Continue Mitten Tree

The second annual mitten tree is up in the National Bank of Detroit awaiting contributions from the community. Sponsored by the Girl Scouts, the tree will remain in the bank until December 19, to collect mittens for needy children.

The mittens will be distributed by the Goodfellows and by the American Friends overseas service. Last year about 150 mittens were given, resulting in many thank you letters from overseas. For this reason, the girls ask that donors pin their name and address to the mittens.

The first mitten tree, started by Mrs. William Edgar's troop, was so popular that another troop is sponsoring this year's tree. The Girl Scout Council expects the tree to become tradition, with the sponsorship rotating among the troops.

Troop 30, under the leadership of Mrs. Emerson Robinson and Mrs. Leslie Williams, is doing the tree as part of their First Class work in "service and extending the scope of their friends to the children of foreign countries."

The troop has been making mittens of felt, stitched with yarn and decorating plain mittens. They plan to canvass the service organizations, PTA's and churches for further contributions.

Anyone wishing to donate a pair of mittens or gloves may pin them on the tree or call Mrs. Robinson at 2023-W or Mrs. Williams at 1968 for pick-up. Mrs. Williams stressed the need for warm and serviceable mittens, rather than dress gloves.

The trees were donated by the Goodfellows and erected by Fire Chief McAllister.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Foley and son, Tommy, were guests of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Hayes in Corbin, Ky., from Wednesday until Sunday of last week, spending the Thanksgiving holiday and week end.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Our information is too sketchy yet to inspire any real hope, but the fact is that three companies have expressed tentative interest in Daisy's facilities, with an eye toward a possible move here.

There are many things in the world more important than street lighting at Christmas time, but the thought remains that it would be splendid if Plymouth could become the most attractively illuminated community in Wayne County.

It would help—in one more way—to stamp a "personality" on our city. It would bring strangers—and customers—into town to look us over.

But when done properly, lighting and Christmas displays cost a lot of money. The almost unanimous thought in town today is that permanent installations should be acquired, chunk by chunk, year by year, until we have enough. This would include brackets, hardware, wiring, lights, big displays for the park, and all the rest.

Conceivably, there could be $50,000 or more in equipment and physical assets before the job was done.

Heretofore the Chamber of Commerce, individual merchants, and City officials have taken care of the lighting responsibilities as best they could, limping from one year to the next trying "to get something up for Christmas."

The time has come to re-examine the task.

This editor's belief is that the assignment should be community-wide. A non-profit corporation should be established to accept custody of the funds and the assets. Its directors should include City officials, Chamber of Commerce representatives, women from the Plymouth Garden Club, and other interested parties.

Planning should be long-in-range. Fund raising should be held months ahead of time. Public lighting should be combined with sound plans to encourage private residential decorations.

The pride of a well-done job then would belong to the community at large, and the responsibility would not fall on a handful of much-solicited merchants and city officials.

Those with sharp eyes will note that this week The Mail has nine columns across the page, instead of the eight it has carried in the past. The change was achieved by reducing individual column size by a sliver. The new column size is 11 picas, to use the newspaper term, and is the same as that of the metropolitan papers.

With the change, we are hoping to make fuller use of our whole page and to offset some of the pressure of costs which have been zinging upward in our business for months.

One of the objectives is to carry the same number of columns of good news and advertising matter, but to do it on fewer total pages.

Actually, we've carried nine columns on our want ad pages for the past two weeks, as a preliminary trial of the idea. I haven't heard from a single reader who noticed.

And now a couple of clippings from our United Press wire which might be of interest in Plymouth: MUSKEGON, Mich. (UP)—Purchase and improvement of a large industrial park to lure industry to Muskegon was cited as the 1958 goal of the Chamber of Commerce's industrial development committee.

During a recent committee meeting members blamed the lack of industrial buildings for the loss of four or five "excellent" industrial prospects during 1957.

L. L. Booth, chairman of a Chamber subcommittee on industrial sites, said this group is checking several sites which could be developed into industrial parks.

HAMILTON, Mich. (UP)—Representatives of an industrial location firm have surveyed Hamilton, seeking a site for a 150-employee small electrical parts factory. The survey team indicated to Hamilton officials that the plant needs a leased building and that most of the employees would be women.

Mail's Pigskin Pickers Frolic Ends with Boy, 14, Scoring Win

Last week marked the final well, you-all things being considered. Tops this week was Bill Signorelli, 14, of 175 Amelia, who missed only two games and was almost stopped on the ten yard line by John Parl, the 11 year old stalwart of 130 N. Holbrook who missed tackling Bill by only two points difference in the score of the Los Angeles-Baltimore game. Third place went to Lon Dickerson of 620 Simpson.

The selectors this week had a pretty rough schedule to pick from, or rather cotton pick from since the majority of the games were played south of the ol' Mason-Dixon. For all of that though the selectors did quite

Rock Swim Season Opens With Meet at Ypsilanti

Co-captain Bob Isbister and Don Carney will lead the Plymouth swimming team against Lincoln Park tonight in the first meet of the season.

Coach John McFall has a rebuilding job to do this year, losing 11 lettermen from last year's team. Returning lettermen are the co-captains, along with Don Cash, Byron Williams, John Walker, Jim Carney and Bruce Curtis. The team is chosen as the result of time trials held during the week of the meet and the fastest two men in each event represent the school. The team to journey to Lincoln Park consists of:

Bob Isbister and Dick Gretzinger—100 yards butterfly breast stroke.

Don Carney and Dick Anderson—50 yard free style

Jim Carney and Beau Toll—200 yards free style

Bruce Curtis and Carl Melow—100 yard backstroke

Don Williams and Don Cash—100 yard breast stroke

Jack Benson and Art Helm—100 yard free style

Don Carney and Byron Williams—150 yard individual medley

John Walker and Nick Herrick—diving.

Don Carney is the defending league champion in the 50 yard free style and should be thoroughly tested this year since all of the teams on the Plymouth schedule are expected to provide keen competition.

A bright spot in the rebuilding program is the appearance of two freshmen on the team, Dick Gretzinger and Nick Herrick.

Swimming Schedule for December

Thursday December 5 Plymouth at Lincoln Park non-league

Thursday December 12 Birmingham at Plymouth non-league

Wednesday December 18 Plymouth at Belleville league.

SPORTSEEN

By Bill Dilworth

Congratulations are in order for Dave Walaskay who gained recognition on the All-Suburban teams selected by sports writers of two metropolitan daily newspapers. Walaskay deserved the honor as he provided the Plymouth fans with many thrills. He is a shifty runner who has a knack of outmaneuvering the opposing tacklers. In addition to his ability as a runner Walaskay caught several passes throughout the year.

Cagers open the season on their home court in a non-league contest against Northville. The changes concern either the foul shot or the key.

In the past, if the person shooting made the first shot, he got a bonus shot. Now there will be one shot only for the first four fouls committed by each team in a half. On fouls after the fourth, the one-plus-one rule will be in effect. The second change concerns the double foul. In the past both players involved were given one shot each followed by a "jump" ball. Now the foul shots have been eliminated and there is just a "jump" ball. The free throw lane has been widened from six to twelve feet.

In the opening league game against Redford Union Dave scored two touchdowns running and two from passes. Against Belleville his three touchdowns were scored from running plays. At the Bentley field, he was held to one touchdown but this was perhaps the best play of the season. A well executed double reverse handed him on the receiving end and he ran 49 yards unmolested.

The third change states that the offensive team cannot be in the key for any longer than three seconds. Previously they could be in there any length of time. The rules are designed to help the little man against the giant "basket-hanger". Time will tell just how effective these changes are in affecting the results desired.

Walaskay, the receiver, came to the fore in the Trenton game as he caught two passes for touchdowns and ran 30 yards for a third. In his final game for Plymouth, he scored three more touchdowns—one on a 70-yard run—one on a 15-yard run and his final on a five-yard run. These explain the scoring plays only and leave the other plays for the fans to discuss as they wish. This 155 pounder to a mythical all-Plymouth High team.

Last Monday night the Recreation basketball league opened their season with Contractors Machine Co. defeating Tait's Cleaners and S. J. Braders defeating C. R. Ely & Son of Northville. Tait's Cleaners had just five players dressed and fought gamely in the first half but the pace began to tell on them in the second half as they were outscored by 30 points. If they could sign a few more players they could make things interesting for the others. From all indications when the players reach their peak physical condition this should be an evenly matched league. Supervisor Jack Carter has drawn up a schedule that has each team playing 24 games. The games are played every Monday and Wednesday evening in the high school gym with the first game starting at 7:20 and the second following at 8:30.

Three changes in the rules will be initiated on Friday night when the Rocks

At the junior high school Frank Sullivan has 70 boys who had indicated their interest in an intramural basketball program. The plan is to have these boys practice until Christmas and when they return to school after the holiday, a league will be formed. In the meantime, class teams have been playing at lunch hour.

Herb Woolweaver, director of the adult education program, points out again that in attempting to tailor the education and recreation program to the needs of the community he must be guided by the needs of the members of the community. "If 10 people want a class we will form it and obtain an instructor."

Sad fact of life — people who don't stand for something will stand for anything. — San Francisco News.

Plymouth's Business

This week heralds the advent of the Christmas shopping season and close inspection finds the Plymouth Merchants well prepared with the finest selection of merchandise in their history. Why anyone would take the time to look beyond Plymouth for their gift selections is beyond us. Price wise - selection wise - quality wise, Plymouth just can't be beat.

Don Gray, of Curley's Barber Shop, known to his friends as "Pierre, The Canada Kid" strayed off the beaten path while on his annual hunting trek and had to be rescued by one of the local natives. "I wasn't lost" states Don "just a little confused by my compass freezing up." Usually Don gives a close shave for a buck, but in this case a buck caused Don to have a close shave.

Number one on the Mott hit parade, according to Bert Wyrse of Better Homes, is "You Came to Me, From Out of Mohair."

Saw an advertisement in one of the Detroit papers that claims that a gift that would make a hit with any wife is a gift certificate for ten visits to a reducing parlor. "Go ahead men, we dare you to try it."

A Masterpiece... Even by Cadillac Standards!

The magnificent Cadillac car for 1958 is, without question, a rare masterpiece in all the things that make a Cadillac... a Cadillac!

Certainly, it has had no precedent insofar as beauty is concerned. In its graceful symmetry of line and in its remarkable look of stature and substance, it is in a class all of its own.

Unquestionably, it is without counterpart by the way of interior elegance. Never before have Fleetwood coachcrafters combined such graciousness and luxury and spaciousness in a single interior design.

And, most assuredly, it has set its own extraordinary pace in modern motor car performance. Its dynamic new engine, its more responsive transmission, and its new air suspension, now available as an extra-cost option, are simply a revelation.

We earnestly hope that you will take the time to see and drive this extraordinary new Cadillac at your earliest possible convenience.

Your Cadillac dealer will be delighted to give you full details on Cadillac's twelve new models, including the incomparable Eldorado Brougham.

Boy Out of Danger After Powder Explodes in Face

Twelve-year-old Michael Clinansmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Clinansmith, 150 S. Mill, is out of critical condition at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital where he was admitted Thanksgiving after gunpowder exploded in his face.

Still unable to talk or see, Michael is being attended around the clock by nurses. He is out of danger, his parents report, but remains still badly hurt.

While his parents still are unable to determine exactly what happened, most of the story is known.

The Clinansmiths were having Thanksgiving with Mr. Clinansmith's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sapp of South Lyon. With the Thanksgiving dinner over at 2 o'clock, Michael and his cousin, Keith Sapp, 9, went to a nearby woods where there was a shack.

From the shack they took a jar which contained gunpowder, apparently from shotgun shells. It was reported that here was some type of wick sticking from the jar. One of the boys dropped a lighted match into the jar. When Michael leaned over the flame to try blowing it out, the gunpowder exploded.

Keith led Michael back to the kitchen of the Sapp home. Taken to the hospital, Michael was in serious condition suffering from the most serious burns around the mouth and neck.

Doctors told the parents that the eye is normal but there appears to be damage to the other. "Mike always likes to read and is a good student," Mr. Clinansmith said. "It will set him back quite a while."

A teacher has offered to tutor Michael when he is well enough. Michael is a seventh grader at the Junior High and a Boy Scout.

Mr. Clinansmith is a partner in Clinansmith Bros., excavation contractors.

TB Costing Millions Annually in Michigan, Seal Chairman Says

Tuberculosis is costing Michigan taxpayers millions of dollars in direct and hidden costs.

Dr. Charles Westover, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Seal Committee today estimated that about 20 million dollars is being spent annually in Michigan for hospital care of TB patients. Both the state and counties share the cost of tuberculosis control.

In addition to money appropriated directly for TB, there are hidden costs to Michigan taxpayers. He cited welfare benefits paid in some cases to families when the father is hospitalized and loss of tax revenue resulting from reduced income.

"The reason for the high cost of TB control is that doctors still are fighting a defensive battle against the disease," Dr. Westover said.

Highlights of the evening will be a 50 cent gift exchange for the men and women, a money tree for the children's ward at Maybury TB Sanatorium and group singing accompanied by Ralph Baker at the organ.

Since this is a planned pot-luck, reservations may be made by calling Marie Anderson at 81, Ruth Barney at 2278-M or Margaret Smith at 797. It would also be appreciated if good used outdoor clothing, including shoes and boots, could be brought in the same night, as there is a great need for them in the Maybury children's ward.

As if a woman's life were not hard enough, now she has to decide which super-market checkout line to get on the end of. — Capper's Weekly.

I see where one of the Representatives in Congress wants to take a peek at all the gold in Fort Knox. He says he's never seen it. . . and he doesn't know anyone else in Congress who has. This fellow is as worried as a kid with a hole in his marble pocket . . . and maybe with good reason. What if his request is granted . . . and he finds nothing but a vault full of I.O.U.s?

I have to admit I don't know anybody who's ever seen the stuff stashed in the vaults. For years we've been digging gold out of the ground all over the country, then burying it again at Fort Knox . . . and the Congressman wants to be sure there were no deceptions. They say gold is where you find it. He wants to find it where it belongs.

A fellow in here the other day remarked that a woman driver is a person who drives the same way a man does. . . only she gets blamed for it.

You're in the driver's seat when it comes to protecting your health and that of your family. Your doctor will give you the best advice . . . it's up to you to follow it. And we'll compound his prescription for you promptly and accurately . . . but it's up to you to swallow it! Rely on us always for the finest prescription service . . .

The coffee break — that institution of those who labor in the role of breadwinner — has been adopted by theater-goers. Of course the midmorning time and the accompanying rolls or fried cakes have been revised to suit the situation — the break takes place between the second and third acts and petits fours are served with the coffee.

To be more specific about the theater-goers, they are those who saw "Desk Set," which just finished its run at the high school. Between acts they enjoyed coffee and the petits fours especially decorated for the occasion by the cake decorating class of the adult education department. Under the supervision of Mrs. Marie Knapp, the little cakes pictured typewriters, desks and other office equipment.

Also available for the theater-goer's pleasure and purchase were paintings by the Three-Cities Art club. The Mayflower Hotel, Arbor-Lill and Hillside Inn are also exhibiting works of members. From over a well supplied plateful of Thanksgiving turkey and dressing I noticed an appreciative gathering around one of the displays.

The Plymouth Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association is in the throes of preparing for their annual Green Sale, December 9, they will do the final work on the Christmas greens, novelties and candles and also display them for sale orders.

The ladies are also preparing home-made candies and cookies. Mrs. Neil Wick has already made a batch of peanut brittle (samples of which this office thoroughly enjoyed). Mrs. Wick was asked to share her recipe — it can be found elsewhere in this issue as a "Favorite Recipe from Plymouth's Kitchens."

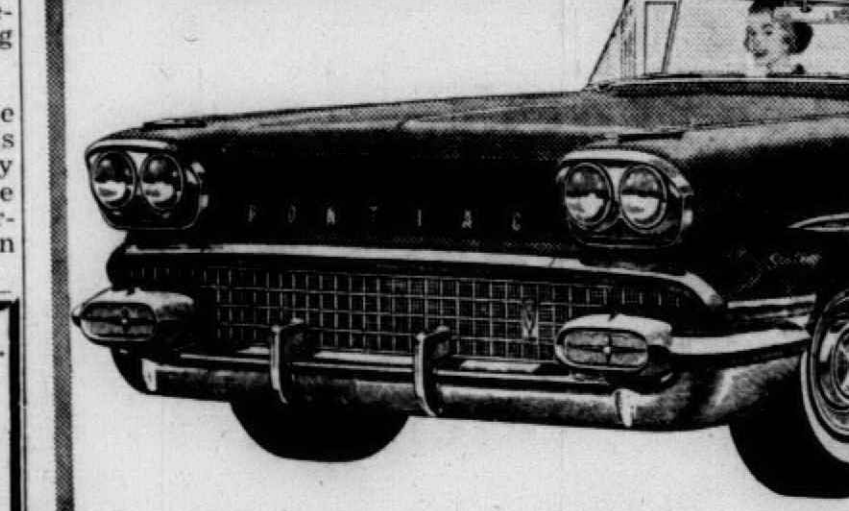

"Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" was observed Tuesday at Plymouth High with a 50-minute written examination for senior girls. The exam tested their knowledge and attitudes in homemaking in order to determine the Homemaker of Tomorrow for PHS.

A record of 327,000 graduating girls over the country also took the same test Tuesday. State winners will compete for national honors and a $5,000 scholarship.

The local contest winner is not known yet, as the tests are scored by Science Research Associates of Chicago.

In World War II there was a rumor (perhaps started deliberately for the benefit of the Germans) that our night flyers were improving their vision by eating lots of Vitamin A packed carrots. This notion has perpetuated until it has become established as fact. But . . . a note from a weekly newspaper service says it is not true and vitamin A will not make normal vision better. The one basis of the story is that it will help cure night blindness by way of improving malnutrition.

Travel Can Be Guide to Gift

With more and more Americans traveling each year, gifts that make trip-taking easier or more fun are sure to score high.

A gift of fine luggage can be as elaborate as a complete matched set or as simple as a small overnight or vanity case. An always-on-the-go executive type would love one of the many popular versions of the attaché case, perhaps monogrammed for extra distinction and protection against loss en route.

The traveler to foreign lands would welcome such handy gifts as passport cases and currency exchange devices. Other traveler's aids include fitted toilet cases, first aid kits and laundry kits which hold a clothesline, folding plastic hangers and little envelopes full of soap powder.

The woman who travels, whether around the world or on a week-end jaunt, would appreciate her favorite cologne or hand lotion in a leak-proof, unbreakable plastic bottle.

Among the many gifts that are low in cost but high in ingenuity are little "booklets" with "leaves" that tear off and expand, when wet, into washcloths or pieces of soap.

Clothing gifts that travel with ease include no-iron shirts, blouses, lingerie and robes. Folding umbrellas and packable hats are other pound-to-please gifts.

Armchair travelers, as well as actual ones, would enjoy being gifted with travel books. And, for the traveler some home, there are many gifts to bring back happy memories of his adventure — such as delicious gourmet foods from foreign lands.

PARKMAN, Me. (UP) — The Rev. Neil A. Robertson, pastor of the United Baptist Church, entered the ministry after 49 years' service as a Bangor & Aroostook Railroad telegrapher. The 67-year-old parson has one rigid rule: no sermon must exceed 20 minutes.

DRIVE-IN VOTING HANNIBAL, N. Y. (UP) — Oswego County officials reported a record turn out of voters for voting on a proposed school construction measure. Reason: the county installed a drive-in voting booth. Voters drove in, marked ballots in their cars, flipped them into the box and drove away.

Footsaving Education

By JIM HOUK

My baby draws up her toes when I try to put her shoes on. Any suggestions?

I have heard of one "sure cure." It works — sometimes. Holding the leg straight by grasping the knee, your fingers behind the knee cause the foot to relax in much the same way as placing your finger under your nose stops a sneeze. That doesn't always work either.

In the store we find that most shoe-fighting babies stop fighting when we put on larger shoes. It is not the shoes that babies dislike but the smallness of them. Your baby can't explain reasons for disliking her shoes but they are her feet and she is probably a good authority on the question of whether or not her toes are cramped.

Ford Plant to Move

In November 1947, the Wilcox, Newburg and Nankin Mills operations were all moved to Waterford. This was eight months after Henry Ford died. About five years ago, the Phoenix plant was sold and is now used by the Road Commission for a sign shop.

Foreign statesmen and industrialists visited the Rouge Valley plants during their heyday to see the economic plan in operation. Henry Ford often visited the Wilcox plant and moved on north to the Phoenix, Waterford and Northville plants to chat with old friends, check machinery and the water power plants.

Each of the plants were operated in part by water power furnished by the Rouge River as it tumbled from the hills of Northwestern Wayne County. The Rouge was dammed to create lakes which are now a part of the famed Wayne County Parkway System.

Christmas brings out gay crowds, hurrying shoppers, right packages and Robert C. Trombley.

Almost as big an institution as the spirit of giving, Trombley, 56, of 263 Farmer, has been standing on Plymouth streets for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season for 30 years.

Gusty winds, wet snow-lakes and bustling crowds haven't dampened an enthusiasm that has burned all this time. A good day finds Trombley and another helper collecting $30. But many times the "take" is much lower.

Sometimes it's hardly worth standing in a blizzard for a few pennies when it takes so much to buy enough Christmas baskets and toys for all the needy families.

But he hasn't complained yet—and after 30 years doesn't show any signs of giving up.

Besides spending the festive season on a downtown sidewalk, Trombley sells the Salvation Army newspaper "Christmas War Cry" from house to house during the week.

"I got interested in the Salvation Army activities through friends," Bob said. "We manage to keep pretty busy. There are meetings every Tuesday at the House of Correction Men's Division."

spring of 1953. This would be after the township zoning ordinance was passed, Glassford said.

After a lengthy discussion, the commission decided to have the manager seek further information, and if a zoning violation is present, to have the stand closed.

First reading was given Monday to a new plumbing inspection ordinance which would give Plymouth its own plumbing inspections instead of leaving it up to the state. Five communities, Plymouth city and township, Northville city and township and Farmington, met recently with the head of the State Plumbing Board to see if the local governments could make their own plumbing inspections.

They charged that the state has not been doing a thorough job of inspections because of the wide area given inspectors. The board chief said that this would be impossible, unless each community had a master plumber living in the community working full time on the inspections. Later, city attorneys of Farmington and Plymouth checked the state law and found that this provision applied only to communities over 15,000. So the communities are now expected to meet again to hire a plumbing inspector jointly. The state plumbing code will be used.

Mayor Harold Guenther re-appointed David Mather and Nell Curry to the Board of Zoning Appeals. Their terms are to expire December 1, 1960.

The second and final readings were given to an amendment to the zoning ordinance. A change in zoning will be made at the north end of Mill street at Wilcox, to provide for a service station.

MOUNTED PATROLS

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UP)—State Civil Defense Director William Baumann announced the organization of Vermont's third Civil Defense Mounted Force Patrol. Vermont is the first state to adopt the use of mounted patrols to be used in the event of enemy attack, natural disaster or for patrolling woods and back road areas.

Robert C. Trombley

and Wednesday we have services at the Citadel. For the last five years Trombley has been a member of the special police who guard Plymouth children on their way to school morning, noon and night.

Senior Major H. J. Nicholls, who is in charge of Plymouth's Salvation Army, said Bob's Christmas kettle helps collect the $1,200 - $1,500 which is distributed in this area every year.

How could Christmas come before Trombley arrives with his big overcoat and Salvation Army hat? The red kettle and ringing bell are as much a part of Christmas in Plymouth as eight reindeer and a loaded sleigh. Who said there isn't any Santa Claus?

AMOK

TOWNER, N. D. (UP) — A driverless tractor which ran amok near here eluded five pursuing cars in an eight-mile chase through fields and farmyards before crashing into a shed. The runaway, dragging barbed wire and fenceposts, careened across ditches and country roads at 18 miles per hour for two hours after throwing its driver, Edgar Herman.

Mailing Tips From Post Office

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Post Office Department handed out some tips today on Christmas mailing. Parcels should be insured. Sealed parcels may be mailed at the third or fourth class postage rates without labels, notations or endorsements of any kind authorizing their opening for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should be used.

Combination mail, permitting enclosure of a letter or message inside a gift parcel by paying the appropriate letter postage for the letter plus parcel post rate for the package, is recommended for speedy service. Certified mail, permitting mailers to obtain proof of delivery of Christmas letters or cards having no intrinsic value, may be obtained for a postal fee of 20 cents plus first-class postage. Postal delivery zone numbers, which speed handling of mail, should always be used wherever possible.

Letters and cards should be stacked with addresses facing the same way. Tying mail into "local" and "out-of-town" bundles will speed service.

In addition, the Post Office Department recommends wider use of registered mail, special delivery service, air mail and air parcel post to insure speedier and more secure delivery.

Mistake Costly

LOCKPORT, N.L. — (UP)—A printing error cost the city of Lockport $1,800 on a water bill for the surrounding Town of Lockport. The city had hiked its rate 20 cents per 100 cubic feet, but a rate card sent to Town officials carried the old rates, and of course they paid as indicated.

No Wind

MEMPHIS, TENN.—(UP)—General Sessions Judge Heard Sutton put a 26-year-old man under a peace warrant not to strike his wife "or so much as to raise your hand to stir a wind that might blow her hair."

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(UP)

An absent-minded former guest of the Tontine mailed his key back, but the postmaster said it was "just a little late."

Muscular Dystrophy Campaign Nets $1,326

Dozens of volunteers marched on muscular dystrophy Tuesday in the Plymouth area and collected $1,326.

Mrs. George Bowles, local chairman of the drive, said that she wished to thank the many volunteers who "gave so generously of their time". Plymouth firemen were among those who participated in the house-to-house effort.

The canvas took place in the city and some parts of Plymouth Township.

All good things come to an end, they say. More fortunately, bad things eventually blow over. We noted this erasing sign in the front window of a Bay Area business establishment: All-Prezley records — two bits." So be it. — Coos Bay (Oreg.) World.

To Show Science Film at Calvary Baptist Church

"Red River of Life" the most recent film of the Moody Bible Institute of Science will be shown at Calvary Baptist Church, Sunday, December 8, at 7 p.m.

The film is the result of more than four years of intensive work by Dr. Irwin A. Moon and a staff of the Moody Bible Institute of Science. Filmed in natural color with sound it tells the story of a crimson river a 100,000 miles long in the human body. You will follow the trail of a radioactive blood cell on a 100,000 mile journey through the blood stream.

The film shows the first pictures of the interior of an actual beating heart — never before possible until scientists of the Moody Bible Institute of Science developed a new machine, the cardiac pulse dupli-cator, for the production of this film.

Released in October of this year, this film presents an up-to-date illustration of the Biblical phrase, "the life of the flesh is in the blood," with a positive spiritual application.
The public is invited to view this significant film.

DEFENSE FAILED

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. —
(UP) — A spectator jumped to the defense of Donald R.
Steward, 22, at his motor vehicle violation trial. He said: "If it wasn't for me,
Steward wouldn't be in court.
I own the car and he was driving it. So who is guilty?
He or I." Judge Max Reicher promptly answered, "He is,"
and fined Steward $102.

New Madonna Student Teachers Assigned

Student teachers of Madonna College have begun the second phase of their teaching experience by changing schools and being under the direction of different cooperating teachers. By receiving practice training and experience in Plymouth and Livonia classrooms, these future teachers are fulfilling a state requirement for certifications.

Assigned to Plymouth schools are Norma Miller, third grade, Mrs. Florence Lickfeldt, cooperating teacher; and Christina Golemba, first grade, Mrs. Marjorie Mackie, teacher. Both are at Bird school.

by George Spelvin

Back from Broadway just in time to catch our own local theater opening, The Plymouth Theater Guild opened their tenth season with the "Desk Set" as the 28th production. An opening night audience of over 200 greeted the players with guffaws in generous manner as the crisp, witty lines were projected in professional manner by the competent cast.

A new star was discovered in the person of Jacquie Gagnon. Her first act climax scene was outstanding. Her tears were genuine and the audience was treated to some top-rate character acting in this touching conclusion to the first act. The second act drinking scene was another triumph for Miss Gagnon.

And then to wrap the play up in her BonWit Teller gown, she captivated the audience with her rendition of "Curfew Shall Not Ring". Man, she not only rendered this selection; she tore it to shreds. It was a field for Jacquie. And well it should since on Broadway this was strictly a vehicle for Miss Shirley Booth. Yes, Shirley was good in this show, but here in Plymouth we have our Jacquie. If you missed her this time, catch her the next time out.

Another new face, Dr. Ben Hill as Richard Sumner, provided many a moment of laughter. Dr. Ben must believe that old adage that "laughter is good medicine" for he showed us how to time a gag for its best results. His frustration scenes with all varieties of the opposite sex were hilarious.

Plymouth Theater Guild regulars such as Loretta Young, Dr. Ford Sutherland, Saxie Holstein, Russ Creel, James Brown, Lillian Dickinson, and Maude Laury gave the aforementioned leading players more than adequate support. The combined experience and talent of the "regulars" gave the entire production a professional polish.

Of course, the efforts of the Guild's director, Hal Young, can be directly attributed to the over-all success of this production. This was Hal's second venture in the field of directing; however, the skill with which the staging was accomplished made it seem to old George's eyes like his 22nd turn at being "boss man."

Speaking of staging a production, let me throw a bougie up toward the High School Drama Department and Robert Southgate. After viewing his production of "Around the World in 80 Days", I'm convinced that we have an excellent director in our community. When you can take 17 scenes and 25 actors and move them around on a 13 by 26 foot stage for a couple of hours, you must have some ability. And Mr. Southgate does his own technical work, blocking, working on interpreting, worrying about props, lighting problems, etc. In short, he has to have as many competencies as exist in the book of theatrics. Try it some time, if you want to go berserk. I'd like to single out a few of his actors for compliments, but it is unnecessary since all of them performed so well that old George will just give everybody a big fat "A".

DETROIT NOTES: Get your tickets for "No Time For Sergeants" Here is a play that is a riot from beginning to end. Southgate tells me that a couple of busloads of drama students plan to attend this week.

Edward G. Robinson, shucking off his gangster roles, has opened at the Cass Theater for a couple of weeks in "Middle of the Night". Robinson plays a middle-aged business man that wants to divorce his wife for a younger love. They say that as a play it's not too much, but it gives Eddie a chance to act instead of snarl as the Hollywood boys would want him to do.

On the horizon is "The Most Happy Fella". The original cast is coming from New York. Look for this one at the Riviera Theater about December 23rd. If you like music, good dialogue, and some top dancing, plan to see this production.

The wife and I really enjoyed the singing and dancing in "Happy Hunting." It's like she said to me at the end of the first act, "Why is it that shows seem so much better in New York city? Is it the atmosphere?" I had to agree that it must be the feeling you get as you walk down Shubert's Alley amidst all the thousands of people that are going to plays. It's a feeling of mutual-ity that isn't possible in the Midwest. People in New York demand the top performers on Broadway and get them. When Ethel belts out her songs, you catch the glint that says show biz and gives you that right feeling.

Students Home from College for Holiday Weekend

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GA. 1-2029

Stephen Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Parrish of Joy road, recently underwent a tonsilectomy and is recovering nicely. Stephen will return to his kindergarten class at the Washington school some time this week.

Thanksgiving vacation saw many young folks home from college. In the Newburg area, David DeCoster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeCoster of Ravine Drive, was home from the University of Michigan where he is in his freshman year; likewise, Charles Howden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howden of Joy road, was also home over the holiday weekend. The Howden's son is in his freshman year at Northern Michigan near Traverse city. Also home with her parents for Thanksgiving was Donna Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett of Stark road, who is a freshman at Central Michigan in Mt. Pleasant.

The Men's Club of the Newburg Methodist church is hosting twenty-five boys from the Methodist Children's home in Redford, at their next monthly meeting, Monday, December 9. After the evening's meal which will be served by the ladies of the Rhoda circle at 6:30 p.m., the guests will be treated to a special Christmas party including a visit from Santa Claus who will have a gift for each boy. All men of the club are asked to make ticket reservations as soon as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe and children Bruce, David, Mark and Nan of Joy road, were dinner guests on Thanksgiving day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Sr., of Graham road, Detroit.

Mrs. Melvin C. Guthrie, Sr., of Newburg road has returned home after spending a few weeks visiting in the vicinity of Greensboro, Ga., Chipley, Ga., to see the famed Ida Cason Gardens, Warm Springs, for a view of the Little White house, Macon for a tour of Icmulgee Indian National park and Andersonville, Ga., were some of the spots highlighting Mrs. Guthrie's stay in the sunny south.

If you should see a good size cat, black and white and answering to the name of Figaro, wandering around the Newburg area. Please call this writer as the cat is a pet of my son David and he would like him back. Thank you.

Tom Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Guthrie, of Newburg road is now stationed at Brooks Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas and will be there until Christmas, after which his six months hitch in the army will be at an end.

The Members of the Newburg Methodist church choir are planning an outing on Saturday, December 7, at which time they will attend the annual presentation of the "Messiah" at the Hill auditorium in Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Waltz of Richmond avenue, still have a few tickets left if anyone should desire to attend this production.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe of Joy road on Tuesday evening, November 26; were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nida and children Robert, Gail and Jane of North York, Dearborn.

Michael Glumb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Glumb of Joy road, missed a few days of school last week because of a slight attack of appendicitis. Nothing critical resulted and Michael is now back at school, feeling like a chipper.

The monthly meeting of the Livonia Home Gardener's Club will be a Christmas party on Wednesday, December 11 at 8 p.m. and held at the home of Mrs. H. Weingarten, 29184 Grove avenue, Livonia. Mrs. Paul Weidman of Plymouth will demonstrate and talk on new ideas for decorating the home for Christmas. Plan to come and bring a friend. There will also be an exchange of 25c gifts.

Thanksgiving dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Desmond of Joy road were Mr. and Mrs. Gail Leckner and daughters Marie and Gail of Hoy avenue, Livonia and Fred Nubel of Detroit.

The Fidelis Class of the Newburg Methodist church Sunday school will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Donald Rder for their monthly pot luck supper and meeting. Included in this meeting will be their annual Christmas party. The meeting is at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, December 14.

This is two years in a row that Lorraine Quinlan has spent Thanksgiving day at Mt. Carmel hospital. Last year she brought baby Patrick home but this year it's pneumonia plus a heart condition which has her out of circulation. Lorraine's mother, Mrs. Thelma, is here from Lansing taking care of the Quinlan household and reports that Lorraine hopes to be home sometime this week.

On Saturday night the Harvey Coopers of Parkview Drive entertained at a party honoring the Bill Stangs and the Jim Camerons who will be leaving the Circle after the first of the year. A very attractive buffet lunch was served to the following guests: Dee and Gus Carlson, Barb and Dick Papes, Jo and Jack Wilson, Joyce and Al Truax, Doris and Ted Kuhns, Harold Kendall (wife Madeliene was in Pittsburgh), Ellen and Rocky Smith, Joanne and Al Clark and Joe Quinlan.

Billy Bower, the son of Lois and Robbie Bower on Parkview Drive, is doing nicely after his tonsilectomy last Saturday morning.

Joyce and Al Truax honored Al's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Truax, at a dinner at the Colonial House last Sunday evening and then took them to see "Around the World in Eighty Days." Mr. and Mrs. Truax left Monday morning for their winter home at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

The men from this area who helped on Tuesday night with the muscular dystrophy drive were Brad Carpenter, Ted Kuhns, Walt Lake, Milan Frank, and Bob Fitzner.

Jeanne and Bob Eck of Parkview Drive had six glorious days when they flew to San Francisco on a combined business and pleasure trip. They returned home on Tuesday in time to prepare for the holiday with Jeanne's mother, Mrs. Carson Neville, who had come on from Gray's Lake, Ill. to be with the Eck's offspring during their absence.

Anyone want to exchange a book of Gold Bell gift stamps for a book of TV stamps?

3-In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear sister, Mrs. Minnie Pankow, who passed away, December 2, 1955. Sadly missed by her sisters and brothers.

In loving memory of our dear husband and daddy, Peter Stojanovich, who passed away one year ago, December 4, 1956. No one knows how much we miss you. No one knows the bitter pain we have suffered since we lost you. Life has never been the same. In our hearts your memory lingers sweetly, tender, fond and true. There is not a day, dear Daddy, that we do not think of you. Loving wife Anna and daughter, Marie Ann.

Christmas Cards Are Work of the Artists

The works of some of the nation's most popular artists and best-known authors appear for the first time this year on Christmas cards, making the 1957 selection of Yuletide greetings one of the most exciting and distinctive in several years.

Among those making their Christmas card debuts this year is Cecil Beaton, talented artist - designer - photographer who created the costumes for the musical comedy hit, "My Fair Lady." Beaton painted a series of Edwardian scenes that reflect the charm and quaintness of that era.

Wielding a pencil instead of a brush, Ogden Nash has turned out a host of new rhymes to mark the occasion. One assortment of Nash's cards is in the totally zany vein for which he is so famed, while the other employs a milder but still mirth-provoking tempo of humor.

Beaton and Nash take their place in the ranks of Christmas card contributors amid such distinguished company as Norman Rockwell, Saul Steinberg and Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, all of whom have become well known in recent years for their Yuletide felicitations.

Rockwell, one of America's best-loved illustrators through his numerous magazine covers, has designed an assortment of Christmas card with a tousled-haired youngster, while James Metcalfe, whose boy tries on his father's Santa Claus costume, views the splendor of Christmas morn in wide-eyed awe and indulges in similar holiday activities in the Rockwell painting. Steinberg's off-beat Santa Claus is back again this year, performing new antics of holiday glee.

Dr. Peale, clergyman and author, has composed a selection of inspirational messages for the 1957 cards, while James Metcalfe, whose poems appear in newspapers across the nation, has written a series of warm and inspirational verses to mark the occasion.

In addition to cards by these noted artists and writers, Christmas will be the merrier this year for the elegance, beauty and sparkling ideas that distinguish the entire offering of greetings this year. Gold and silver are used extensively to achieve unusual effects, as are special paper stocks — including parchment.

Light-hearted humor, as typified by the new "contemporary" cards, is available with a Yuletide flair for this Christmas season. For those who prefer to send cards with a religious theme, such reverent subjects as the Holy Family, the Nativity and the Three Kings have been portrayed with warmth and devotion.

The 1957 Christmas greetings cards are prettier on the outside, too. Many of the envelopes will be decorated and designed to match the cards they contain.

Peanut Brittle Makes a Tasty Holiday Gift

Mrs. Neil Wick of 292 North Holbrook has been making her own peanut brittle since 1935.

The candy becomes a special gift once Mrs. Wick has packaged it in a tin, tied with red ribbon and holiday trimmings. Here is her recipe:

Peanut Brittle
1 1/2 pounds sugar
1 1/2 cups water
3/4 pound white Karo syrup
1 pound raw Spanish peanuts
2 ounces butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 heaping tsp. soda
pinch of salt

Dissolve the sugar, water and syrup in a heavy saucepan. Bring it to a rolling boil with the lid on the pan. Remove the lid and cook, without stirring, until it reaches 275 degrees. Use a candy thermometer to determine the temperature. Remove the thermometer and add the Spanish peanuts and butter. Cook until the peanuts are done and the mixture is a golden color. This should take about 10 to 12 minutes.

Turn off the heat and add the vanilla, soda and pinch of salt. Stir in gently and turn out on a well buttered marble slab. Spread the mixture as thin as possible with a wooden spoon, getting the peanuts to the edges. Flip the brittle with hands, pull as thin as possible and then break into pieces and store in tins.

Notes From American Legion

The 17th District Christmas dinner and party is Sunday, December 8, at Redford Township post home on Beech road. Dinner will be served from 3:30 to 5 p.m. Santa will be there for the children. Contact Harry Burleson at 1068R for tickets—adults, $1.50 and children $.75. The menu is turkey with all the trimmings.

Tonight is the Auxiliary's business meeting—lots to discuss so let's have a good attendance. Plans are being made for the Post & Unit Christmas Pot-luck dinner to be Sunday, December 15, at the Veterans Community Center. Remember the Birthday Apron will be given out at this meeting. Attending the Child Welfare School at the Patterson-Dawson No. 57 Post Home of Owosso were Post & Unit Child Welfare Chairmen, Fred Hilliker and Lillian Kinghorn. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, and Fern Burleson. Presiding over the meetings were Third Zone Commander Ray Duffy and Vice President Mrs. John Maxwell. Speakers were Juvenile Judge Clark Shannon of Schiawas County, Mel Pierre, department child welfare chairman and Mrs. Claude Castile, department of child welfare chairman, and Alice DuCharme, child welfare social worker. Very interesting and informative talks were given.

A new series of $1,000 scholarships in advanced tuberculosis nursing has been announced by the Eight & Forty, subsidiary organization of the American Legion Auxiliary. The purpose of the scholarships is to assist nurses in obtaining advanced preparation for positions in supervision, administration or teaching in the TB nursing field.

Applicants must be graduate nurses, citizens of the U.S. from 23 to 45 years old. The TB nursing scholarship fund is being administered by The American Legion's national child welfare division. Additional information and application forms may be obtained from: Education and Scholarship Committee, The American Legion, P. O. Box 1055, Indianapolis 6, Indiana. June 1, 1958, is the deadline date for filing.

"Get That Pride of Belonging!" is the 1958 American Legion membership slogan, according to Post Commander Harry Burleson. He has pointed out that old timers in The American Legion have a "pride of belonging" which helped build the organization. "The younger vets of World War II and Korean Action are 'latching on in good style.' 'Pride of belonging to The American Legion has been the motivation for much of our accomplishments over the years. We invite all eligible veterans in the community to join The American Legion and, as fellow veterans, help share in that pride.

CAP Observing Sixteenth Year; Unit Forms Here

As a new Civil Air Patrol squadron is being formed in Plymouth, the 16th anniversary of the organization is now being observed across the nation.

The Plymouth Squadron is still looking for new members, both cadet (14-18) and seniors (over 21) who are willing to spend two and a half hours each week studying and teaching aviation in all its facets.

Secretary of the Air Force James H. Douglas has cited CAP members for their "unflagging devotion to duty." He noted that "with each succeeding year, the contribution made by these loyal Americans has substantially increased, particularly in the field of aerial search and rescue where the CAP flew more than 7,800 hours during the first half of 1957."

Official records of the Air Force's Air Rescue Service indicate that the 7,800 hours actually amounted to 79 percent of all the hours flown by all agencies on search missions. The flight record of the CAP volunteers was equivalent of 3 1/2 times around the world. Their national commander, Major General Walter Aggee, points out that these civilians receive no pay or allowances for their work. Instead, they buy their own uniforms, pay an annual membership assessment and with the exception of their fuel and oil, defray all other expenses.

For information about the local CAP, the meetings are being held at the high school each Thursday between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.

Another State Battle of Budget

BY ELMER E. WHITE

MONEY TROUBLES will be the toughest problem faced by the 1958 legislature. State agencies have asked for $405,000,000 for the next fiscal year. This is about the same requested from the previous legislature, which cut $60,000,000 from the combined proposed expenditures. The problem is more compelling this year because last year lawmakers slapped a moratorium on all but "normal" expansion — the extension of services to cover population increases. Gov. Williams, informed by his economic advisors that the state and the nation face difficult times ahead, is preparing a budget geared to holding expenses down. Republicans are charging it is a political technique, demanding vastly expanded services in an off-year and trimming the budget to the bone in "advance of an election campaign."

Key legislators, leaders in the belt-tightening crusade of last year, see no way out of another squeeze this winter in the absence of new revenue.

Two tax committees are studying the state's tax structure but both say their reports and recommendations will not be ready until 1959.

Financial experts see a decline in the sales tax revenue this year, creating the necessity of augmenting school aid from "other" sources, but there aren't any "other" sources.

That is the dismal side of the picture. Even more dismal is the need for more facilities for higher education, mental health and other functions of government.

Williams is considering an extensive bond financing program for the colleges and universities. At least two Republican legislators are ready to go along.

Rep. George Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) has proposed a bond issue to build the needed buildings for higher education. Rep. Willard Bowerman (R-Lansing) suggests liquidating the $50,000,000 veterans' trust fund as a stop-gap measure.

The University of Michigan and Michigan State University have asked for a total of $117,000,000 in new buildings for next year.

Russian development of their earth satellites and the consequent pressure on higher education in America has superimposed a sort of desperation over the picture.

State employees already are asking for another civil service salary increase.

More money will be sought to start construction of a new Boys' Vocational School, continue construction of a new medium security prison at Ionia. Pressure groups are forming in ranks to demand more services.

The picture of another tug of war over how much citizens are willing to pay for government and its services is developing in Lansing, while officials shudder at the thoughts.

Dozens of bond issues to build new schools and improve local services have been voted down in the past year and business and industry are up in arms over the state "tax climate."

As they tackle the tax and revenue problem, legislators and Gov. Williams both will be measuring their views against next fall—the 1958 election.

OPPOSITION DEVELOPED quickly to a plan by Secretary of State James M. Hare to start Michigan motorists using permanent license plates in 1959, with metal tabs for the ensuing two years.

Hare said the program would require an extra $60,000 next year to add another coat of paint to the plates, but would save about $200,000 over the three-year period.

First, law enforcement officials said the plates would become illegible and battered in the three years and the tabs would be easy to counterfeit. Then, legislators said they doubted that Hare's plan would result in the savings he anticipated.

Best bet at present is that Michigan will go on using one-year plates.

A Bit of Washington

WASHINGTON—File under "miscellaneous" . . . Ever since the head man of our satellite program disclosed this country will eventually put up a man in a space moon, more than a dozen persons volunteered their services.

The first U. S. individual to be shot into the orbit may be a volunteer life-term prisoner.

The Washington Cathedral, under construction for 50 years—with another 25 years to go—is finally open 24 hours a day. A night guard was hired last week. Up to now, they had spent $25,000,000 on the building but until now didn't have enough to pay for a night guard. . . .

Mail oddity: The only live things you can mail by U. S. parcel post are day-old chicks, ducks, turkeys, and bees and other birds and insects that do not require food or water while in transit.

The only way you can mail a horse or a cow is by air express. . . .

Sen. Theodore Green of Rhode Island, one of the richest members of Congress, often buys his suits on the installment plan.

Not long ago, he and a guest had a dish of chocolate ice cream at a corner drug store. The check came to 20 cents.

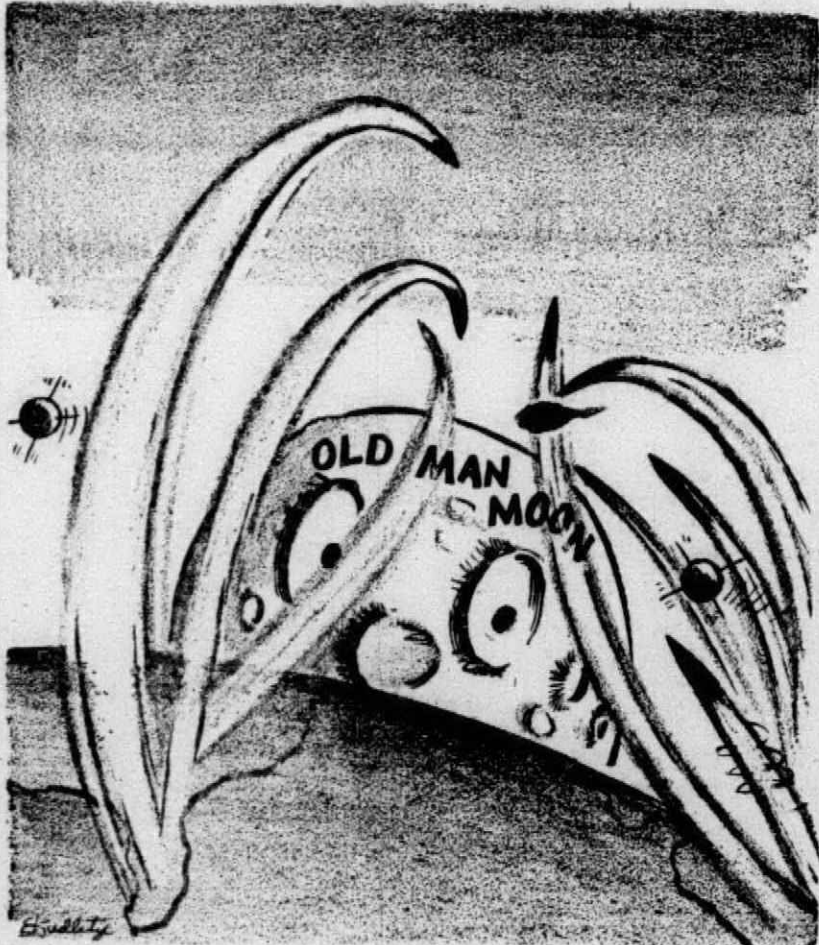

Green paid it—with 20 pennies. . . .

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is Washington's nominee for the title of most absent-minded professor.

Not long ago he shook hands warmly with a lineup of tuxedoed waiters, thinking they were the receiving line.

A couple weeks ago, the Secretary arrived at the White House for a Conference. He was dressed meticulously—except he forgot to change out of his bedroom slippers.

What Did I Do?

Talk About Television

New York—(UP)—NBC reported a heavy demand for copies of Helen Deutsch's poem, "White Magnolia Tree," which Helen Hayes recited on the "General Motors 50th Anniversary Show" Nov. 17. Copies may be obtained by writing to GM's public relations office, 1775 Broadway, New York City.

Sal Mineo has been given the title role in the musical version of "Alladin" which CBS will present Feb. 21 as a "Du Pont Show of the Month." Cyril Ritchard will play the role of the magician, and Anna Maria Alberghe will be the leading lady. This one has a new score by Cole Porter and a libretto by S. J. Perelman.

CBS' two-hour coverage of the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena, Calif., on New Year's Day will be reported by Edgar Bergen; his wife, Frances; and their wooden pals, Charlie McCarthy and Mortimer Snerd.

Paul Ford, who plays the perpetually confused colonel on Phil Silvers' series, will have the role of a lawyer—also confused—on the musical version of "Junior Miss" on CBS Dec. 20.

Martha Scott has been replaced as host, narrator and story editor of NBC's "Modern Romances" by Mel Brandt. The actress left to take a starring role in a forthcoming Broadway play, "Cloud Seven."

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

For years I've heard how old you are but you certainly don't look it."

Lin Yutang states that in China people in middle age look forward particularly to their 51st birthday. The beginning of the second half century is an occasion of rejoicing for men and women of all classes. The 61st is an even happier and grander occasion, and the 71st is still happier and grander. Those who are able to celebrate their 71st birthday are looked upon as persons specially favored by heaven.

"The East and the West," writes Lin Yutang, "take exactly opposite points of view toward age. This is clearest," he says, "in the matter of asking about a person's age or telling one's own. In China, the first question a person asks the other on an official call, after asking about his name, is 'What is your glorious age?' If the person replies apologetically that he is 23 or 28, the other party generally comforts him by saying that one day he will become old."

We certainly take an opposite point of view. In fact, we consider it pretty poor taste to bring up the question of age. If we're trapped into guessing how old a person is we graciously respond by suggesting the youngest age possible within reason.

Sometimes we even bypass reason and find ourselves saying, "I don't know good nights sleep when they were ill, have washed their diapers long before they could talk, and have spent a quarter of a century bringing them up and fitting them for life, have the right to be fed by their children and loved and respected by them when they are old.

There's a lot to be said for the Chinese attitude toward age. And I suspect that if we let ourselves be influenced by these attitudes, growing old would ultimately become a much more satisfying process for many of our senior citizens.

PILLOWS THAT DO DOUBLE DUTY at playtime and naptime will be greeted with delight by any child on Christmas morning. The pillows that this little girl is so interested in represent Jack and Jill of nursery rhyme fame. They were made by Butterick pattern 7940 from small 25-lb. cotton bags. Stuffed with cotton batting, the pillows are soft and cuddly.

Inexpensive Stuffed Pillows Can Be Made from Sacks

Wondering what to give Cousin Susie, the neighbor's child, or your daughter's best friend for Christmas? Look around. The answer may lie as close as your pantry shelf. Cotton bags used to package feed, flour, and other products make top-notch sewing material, are ideal for sewing countless Christmas gift items.

Cotton bags come in an array of bright prints, easy-to-dye osnaburgs, and soft cambrics. From them you can sew economical and attractive gifts sure to please family and friends on Christmas morning. Stuffed toys made from bags and button-box notions will delight those youngsters you know. Some of the dolls you make can be practical as well as appealing, serving double-duty as pajama bags, scatter pillows, or toy holders.

The men in your family will go for bright bathrobes made from cotton bag prints, and for barbeque or cobbler's aprons in heavy, serviceable osnaburg bag material. For mother, you can concoct a matching apron, toaster cover, and pot-holder set from two gay print feed sacks, or a dainty luncheon set of fine cambric flour containers.

Whatever you're sewing, whether it's a bright cover for a student's textbooks or curtains for the kitchen, there are cotton bags to fit the purpose. Sizes range from small 5-lb. sugar bags measuring 13" x 16" to 100-lb. print feed bags containing about a yard and a third of fabric.

It's simple to prepare them for home sewing. Simply rip the chain-stitched seams and soak the bags in warm water. This last process will remove brand names stamped in washable ink.

Here's a novelty gift suggestion for car-owners—a spare tire cover that contains pockets for tools, polish, and other objects. With these directions, you can make the cover from two 100-lb. print or osnaburg bags and a package of bias binding tape:

Spare tire cover: Prepare the bags for sewing. Cut two circles a little larger than your tire. Cut nine inches from the bottom of one circle. The upper portion will form the back of the cover. Cut a strip of fabric 6" wide equal in length to the arc formed by the back piece. This will go across the top of the tire. For the pocket, cut a piece 10" deep and equal in width to the tire's diameter. Bind the pocket, cut a piece 10" deep and equal in width to the tire's diameter. Bind the pocket top and the bottom of the back piece with bias tape. Sew the pocket to the front of the cover, stitching the big pocket into three or four smaller compartments. Bind together back, top, and front with bias tape.

Rabbit — For Menu Variety

Raising rabbits is not as simple as pulling two rabbits out of a magician's hat! There's actually an undersupply of domestic, farm-bred rabbits.

Detroit Consumer Marketing Information agents say that domestic rabbit provides a real delicacy for those interested in menu variety. It's meat is juicy, tender and white in color, with the same consistency and taste as the breast of chicken. The meat is characteristic of a pampered, carefully fed youngster - high in protein and low in calories. It should be a favorite with weight watchers!

There is considerable difference between these choice morsels and the meat from the wild little fellows which eager hunters are constantly pursuing. Wild rabbit is considered tough and gamy in flavor, and it has a dark red color. For these reasons it's sale is prohibited in many areas throughout the country.

Domestic rabbits are fed like pampered children. Contrary to average belief, they are not fed simply on a few carrot tops and lettuce. Strong flavored greens such as kale or cabbage are never fed to domestic rabbits, for these greens might give the meat a strong flavor. Instead, the young rabbit fryers, which are marketed at from eight to ten weeks, are fed exclusively on their mother's milk. Then, when they are old enough to be weaned, rabbits eat specially prepared pellets which contain the vitamins and minerals necessary for their growth and health. A small amount of good alfalfa or cereal grains may also be added.

To add to this special care, the domestic rabbits spend their whole life span in specially constructed wire pens which are off the ground.

Many Detroit area markets provide a wonderful opportunity to surprise your family or friends with a delicious rabbit for frying or roasting. They may be found fresh or frozen, and they compare very favorably with breast of chicken in cost per pound and number of servings obtained per pound. Some folks believe that they can obtain a higher meat yield from rabbit than from chicken breasts. But rabbit offers variety!

OVEN FRIED RABBIT

- 2-3 pounds young rabbit (fryer)
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 small can mushrooms
- 3 small white onions
- 1 cup white wine

Shake moist pieces of rabbit meat in a paper bag with flour, salt and pepper. Brown in shortening on both sides. Place in shallow baking dish. Add chopped onions and wine and cover. Place in oven at 375° F. for 30 minutes. Add mushrooms and continue baking uncovered for about 30-45 minutes, or a total of approximately 30 minutes per pound. Serves 4-6.

RABBIT WITH CREAM SAUCE, MUSHROOMS

- 2 to 3 lbs young rabbit (fryer)
- 3 slices lean bacon, chopped
- 1 tbsp. butter
- 1 pint sour cream
- 1/2 lb. button mushrooms
- Pinch: salt, pepper, allspice, thyme, peppercorns
- 1 bay leaf
- 3 small carrots, chopped
- 3 stalks celery, chopped fine
- 3 small white onions, chopped
- 1 tbsp. flour
- 1 small can tomato sauce

Brown rabbit meat pieces in bacon and butter. Season with salt and pepper. Add chopped onions, celery, and carrots. Add flour and continue to cook until tender (about 40 minutes). Add water to desired consistency, after seasoning with allspice, bayleaf, thyme, peppercorn and tomato sauce. Remove Rabbit meat. Strain gravy. Mix with sour cream, pour over meat. Sauté mushrooms separately and place on rabbit pieces and gravy before serving. Serves 4-6.

Using commercial mixes for baked goods saves time in the kitchen. Buying the separate ingredients and doing your own baking usually saves money. You have to decide whether your time or money is more important in your family plan.

Fruit Cakes are Better If Allowed to Mellow

Christmas is only a few weeks away and if you plan to make fruit cake you'll want to do it soon. Even the best of fruit cakes are better if they are allowed to mellow.

You can make either light or dark fruit cake whichever is the family favorite. Or, if you'd like to have more than one type, get together with a neighbor. Each of you can bake a different recipe and then trade.

Candied fruit is available whole or already cut in pieces. Ready-cut fruit saves time. With the whole candied fruits you can cut the sizes and shapes you want.

You may want to do the cutting up of fruits and nuts one day and save the baking until the next. This keeps the job from getting long and tiresome.

When your fruit cake comes out of the oven, put it on a cooling rack. Leave the pan lining paper on the cake. After your cake is thoroughly cold wrap it with waxed paper or aluminum foil and store in an air tight container to age.

Cherry Wreath Fruit Cake (Makes 1 9-inch cake)

- 1 cup shortening (softened)
- 1 cup sugar
- 4 eggs, separated
- 1 teaspoon mace
- 2 tbsps. brandy
- 2 cups sifted cake flour

Pork Crown Roast is in Keeping with Festive Season

The pork crown roast is often a forgotten meat specialty, because it must be prepared, on request, by your meat retailer.

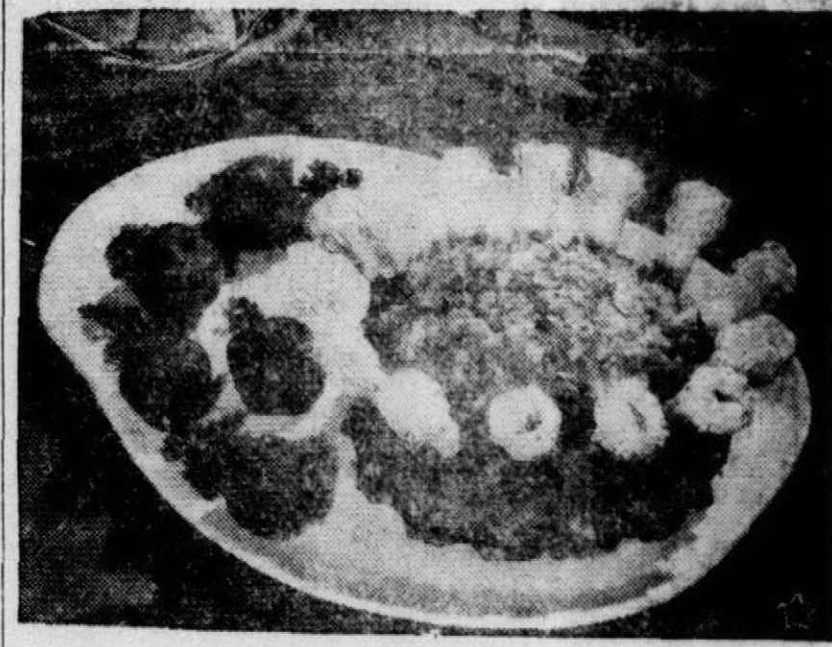

Reba Staggs, meat expert, suggests serving the pork crown roast during the Thanksgiving season.

Your meat retailer will fashion the pork crown roast from two 7-rib center cut loins. Have the ends of the rib bones frenched... this will give you a chance to decorate the roast with paper frills.

Either an apple-herb or chestnut stuffing would be an excellent choice to fill the center of the roast. For the garnish simply use a few spiced pears on the platter.

Before roasting the pork crown, season it with salt and pepper. Then place the crown roast, rib ends down on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water and do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350° F.) for 1 hour.

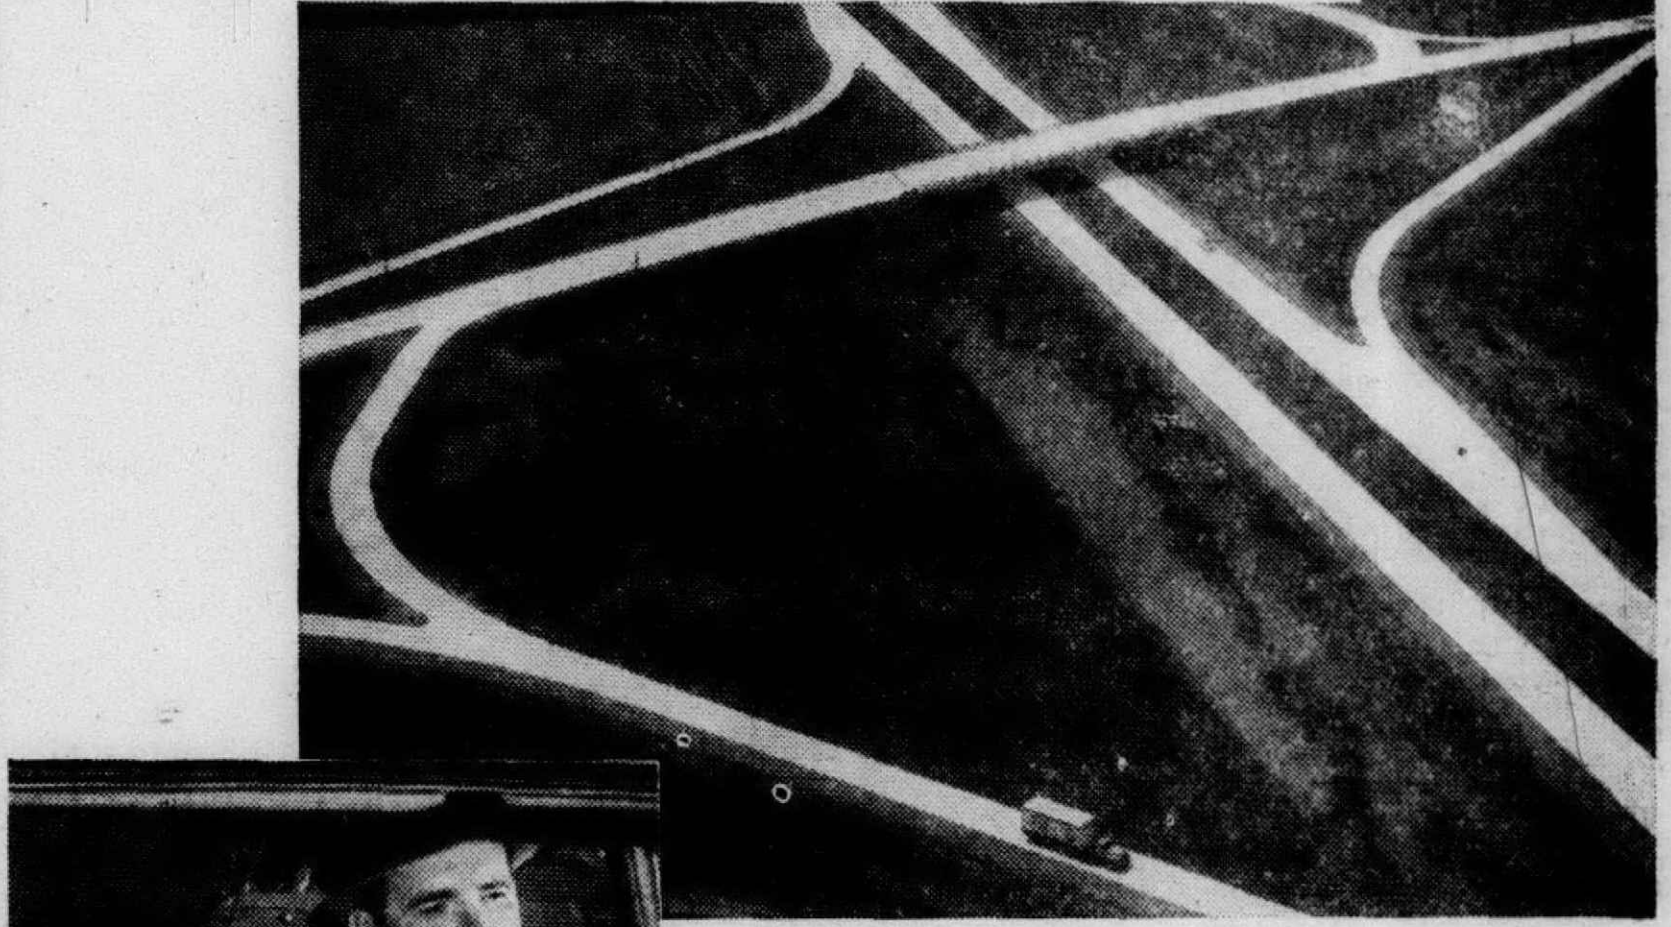

Then remove the roast from the oven, and invert it so the rib ends are up. Now is the time to add the stuffing. Then insert a roast meat thermometer into the thickest part of the roast, being careful that it doesn't rest in fat or on a pound for roasting. Continue roasting in a moderate oven until the thermometer registers 145° F. Allow about 40 minutes per pound.

When children have to stay in bed they'll be able to entertain themselves if they have a place to play with small toys, blocks, books or lap board or bed table to play coloring materials.

Another Fine New Concrete Highway for Michigan Drivers

Detroit-Toledo Expressway, an example of a fine new concrete highway

Concrete Highways for Smoother, Safer Driving

NEW CONCRETE HIGHWAYS give Michigan motorists the smoothest ride ever. These easy-to-drive super roads are designed for 1975, but you can enjoy their comfort today.

They're safe, too. Concrete's gritty texture means more skid resistance, even in wet weather. And at night your visibility is up to four times better on concrete than on light-absorbing asphalt.

These new concrete thruways represent the last word in engineering achievement. Thanks to improved techniques they'll last 50 years and more. Drive one of Michigan's new concrete expressways and you'll agree you never had a smoother, safer ride.

New concrete highways are built to last 50 years... and more. They will still be "new" long after this youngster can drive his own car.

Built to Cost Less!

Economy is a built-in advantage of concrete highways. They are low in first cost and cost far less to maintain over the years. Longer life and less upkeep are premium advantages of concrete.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Members of a Brighton Senior Girl Scout troop were guests of Plymouth Senior Girl Scout troop 1 last Saturday and Sunday.

At the Kiwanis-Girl Scout Lodge on Saturday evening both troops sang and presented skits around the fireplace.

On Sunday the Brighton girls attended the various churches with the Plymouth Scouts and afterwards returned to the lodge for dinner.

According to the girls, the weekend was a success as many new friends were made, and they are looking forward to a joint camp-out in the spring.

Christmas plans for troop 1 include caroling in the children's ward of Maybury Sanatorium on December 23 and "adopting" a family as they did two years ago, providing a Christmas dinner and clothing and toys for a large family.

The troop has done many service projects and welcomes the opportunity to serve the community in this way. The leader of this troop is Mrs. Sheldon Baker.

Girl Scout troop 29 met at the Presbyterian church and elected the following officers: president, Jane Vallier; vice president, Barbara Bender; secretary, Jeanne Keller; treasurer, Katherine Kaunisto; sunshine girl, Catherine Hinckley; and reporter, Virginia Signorelli.

Officers for the patrols are as follows: Flying Squirrels, Pamela Barber; assistant, Judith Hardimon; and Busy Beavers, Barbara Bender; assistant, Josephine Callie.

The troop is making Christmas ornaments out of spoons, thread, flash bulbs and coat hangers. Leaders are Mrs. Wey and Mrs. Beardsley.

Brownie troop 7 is glad to have invested two more girls into the troop. They are Mary Lyn Parson and Joelle Kucynski. Teresa Collins transferred from Royal Oak. The girls have been busy doing handicraft. Last week blue ribbons were awarded at a pet show. Leaders for the troop are Mrs. Allison and Mrs. Niles.

Brownie troop 9 held their investiture ceremony November 24 at the Girl Scout cabin. Mrs. J. W. Lyons told the Brownie story to the girls and their families. The following girls received their pins: Rita Bowling, Barbara Butterfield, Kathie Crawford, Sharon Dudeck, Pamela Fisher, Sarah Hale, Nanette Muzzy, Miriam Olen, Linda Pepper, Debbie Price, Melissa Purkey, Barbara Ross, Debbie Sand, Maryann Schlie, Mary Schmidt, Raina Smith, Linda Thomas, and Jill Worland.

Jocelyn Granger had mumps and was unable to attend the ceremony, so she was invested at the November 26 meeting. At that meeting Kitty Flora was also welcomed as a member.

New officers for December are: president, Kitty Flora; vice president, Linda Pepper; secretary, Melissa Purkey and treasurer, Debbie Price.

Brownie troops 9 and 25 will leave at 8:30 Saturday morning from the high school to visit Santa Claus at the Rotunda.

Mrs. Theodore Johnson and son, Jerry, joined Mr. Johnson Saturday in Fort Pierce, Fla., and will make their home in that city. They sold their home on Ridge road before leaving Plymouth.

Ann Hulsing spent from Wednesday until Sunday evening with Marian Mandel in Scarsdale, New York.

Roofing for Storage Shed Would Protect 40 Houses

Enough asphalt shingles to shingle the roofing material used on most homes in the U.S. were chosen because a previous roof of this material had given long service on this giant storage building, which is in an exposed location along the Maumee River, where high winds are frequent. The light, mist-gray color reflects heat from the sun.

Lonely Attic May Harbor Winter Ills

Been up in the attic lately? An autumn morning after a heavy rain is a good time for a pre-cold weather inspection of this rarely-visited, but vital part of your home.

Here you can get a good idea of the condition of your roof, important with winter coming since the roof takes more of winter's rugged punishment than any other part of the house.

You also can inspect insulation in the attic floor to make sure you'll be getting its full value in comfort and heating economy.

You need a flashlight to check the roof. Look carefully along roof decking boards and rafters and around chimney flashing for signs of dampness. These might mean leaks, and are your cue to call in a roofing contractor for a professional inspection.

If he finds leaks, he'll probably recommend reroofing with asphalt shingles. The reason for this, instead of a repair job, is that an old roof generally wears out all at once. Walking around on it attempting to make repairs might open new leaks. The new roofing usually can be applied on top of the old, saving the expense of removing the worn material.

The insulation in your attic floor should be at least four inches thick without gaps. Check to see if there are any uninsulated spaces. Any gaps can be repaired by filling them with mineral wool which comes in bags and is poured in place.

Pouring wool also can be used to bring the insulation up to proper thickness. Another method is to call in an insulation contractor to "blow" mineral wool into the attic.

This "eyebrow line" gives a house "architectural drama," he feels, and "the smaller the house the more important is a wide, handsome overhang. It's the least expensive way to make the house larger and more important in appearance."

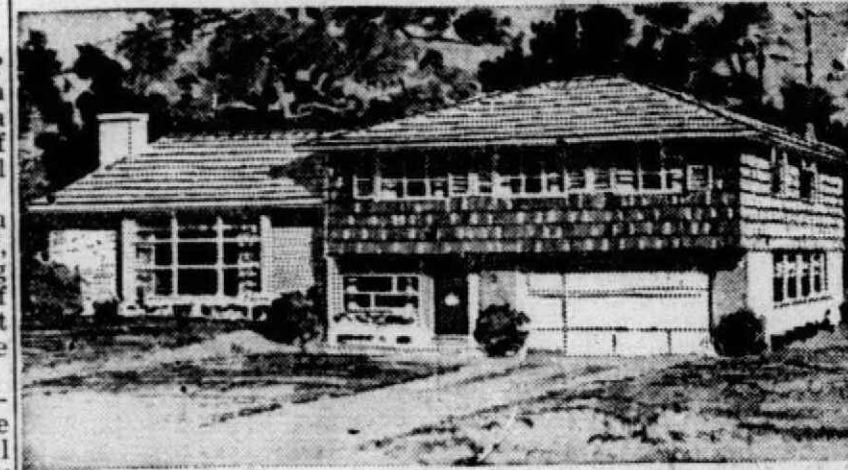

Dramatic architectural features are necessary to do justice to modern building materials, Abbate says. "If you choose one of today's striking new color-blends in asphalt roof shingles, such as an icy blue-green or russet-brown, you want people to be sure to see it. Prominent overhangs bring the roof down to where it invites the observer's attention, and offers a pleasing contrast to the side walls."

Among other advantages of wide overhangs, Abbate mentions the "deep shadow line, which keeps exterior walls and window areas cooler in mid-summer. The shadow itself is an ornament, an ever-changing band of darker hue against sun-lit side walls. An overhang also offers protection from rain as well as from sun, preventing windows from becoming splattered and interiors from getting soaked when open windows are forgotten during a sudden storm."

dry needs such as extra blankets, bathroom supplies, and small appliances, or perhaps to hide a clothes hamper. The lower doors of ponderosa pine serve two special purposes. They give a modern, textured appearance to the room, and permit circulation of air in the closets, important to prevent mustiness and discourage moths. ## Unique Split-Level Plan from Small Homes Guide

Because it offers just about everything that modern living calls for, the editors of Small Homes Guide created a special award for this split-level house by architect Rudolph A. Matern. The plan appears in the current edition of the magazine.

Something new and different is the entrance foyer at the garage level, with passage through to the lower recreation-room area without the necessity of passing through other parts of the house. Another exciting touch is the balcony overlooking the recreation room. The balcony doubles as the rear entrance.

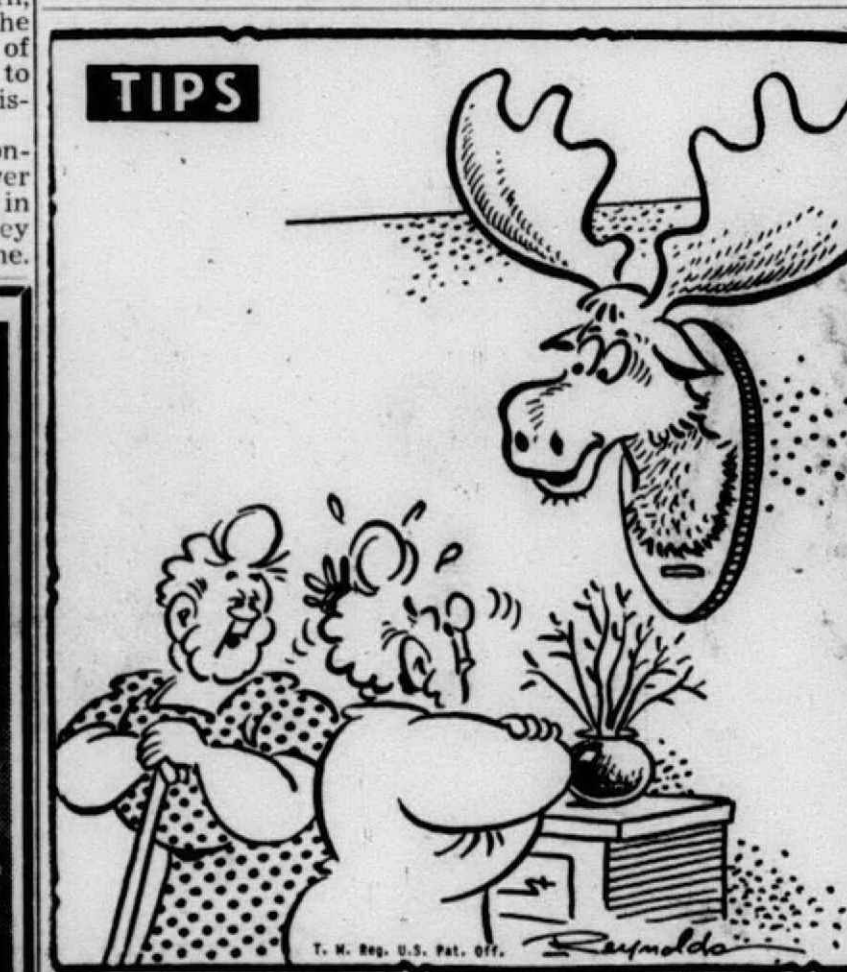

Included in the lower level, besides the recreation room, is a large room for heating plant and storage. Area below the garage and foyer is unexcavated.

Almost as handsome from the rear as it is from the front, this house offers a full measure of livability for the building dollar. Area of living-bedroom levels is 1,291 sq. ft. For information on blue prints and their cost, write to Small Homes Guide, Dept. 1510, 621 N Dearborn Street, Chicago 10, Ill.

Roofing Manufacturers Cited for Plant Safety

A 46 percent improvement in the plant safety record of manufacturers belonging to the Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau, a trade association, has earned an Association Award of the National Safety Council. Last year's accident rate at the roofing plants was 8.51 injuries per million man-hours worked. In 1949, the rate was 15.85. During the first seven months of 1957, the rate dropped to 4.56.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE TOY SHELVES

An open shelf for toys is a help to both mother and youngsters. It takes the place of a toy box, and provides a ready display of the child's many toys. For the youngster it serves as both toy shelf and book case.

With the exception of the base and molding, 1 by 12-inch lumber is used throughout. The base is 1 by 4-inch lumber; the molding is 3/4-inch quarter-round.

Cut all pieces to the sizes shown. Use a miter box to be sure the ends are perfectly square. The sides are 47-7/8 inches long and extend to the floor. The back is made the same length as the sides.

The two middle shelves and the bottom piece are ripped lengthwise to provide a flush fit for the back boards.

Mark the position of the shelves on the sides and assemble the project using wood glue and 6-penny finishing nails.

Attach the base completely around the toy shelf, providing decoration in the front and keeping the shelf from rubbing against the wall in the back.

Use miter joints on the base and molding. Set all nail heads. Sand smooth, rounding all sharp corners. Finish as desired.

Al DeBruyne

If you're a known or suspected user of concrete in this area, here's a man you'll be seeing soon — if you haven't already met him. He's Al DeBruyne (rhymes with Bryan); and it's his job and his pleasure to give on-the-spot service to construction projects of all sizes within a ten-mile radius of our Plymouth plant.

Al's been in various branches of the construction industry since 1946 as salesman and job foreman. He's a fast man at figuring estimates and quoting prices; and he can help you with any technical problems regarding the use, placement and finishing of concrete. If he doesn't know the answers himself, he can quickly get them from our headquarters staff of technicians and engineers.

You'll find that Al's a likeable sort. He was born in Saskatchewan; came to Michigan in 1939; served with the U. S. Army in Europe and the Philippines, and came out as an infantry staff sergeant in 1946. He enjoys fishing and hunting; and his army rating of expert rifleman probably has little to do with his deer-hunting success with bow and arrow.

Though he's a married man with an eight-year-old daughter, Al wants you to know that he's at your service at all times—day and night. He lives at 405 N. Main St., Ann Arbor; and nights and weekends you can contact him at NOrmandy 3-5448.

Al DeBruyne is one more reason why you can DEPEND on us for quality and service in transit-mixed concrete — every time — on jobs of every kind and size.

Plymouth High School

BY LIZ SARAH

The galloping pace at Plymouth High has slumped into a mere walk. It seems that all eyes are turned in delightful anticipation toward "La Bal de la Neige", the '57 J-Hop which is scheduled for December 13.

With the arrival of the holiday season, many strangers have been seen about the halls. At least it would be reasonable to assume that they are strangers. However, they are familiar to some students and teachers as the members of our college crowd. Most of them are last year's graduates. Occasionally some more seasoned grads find their way back to their high school Alma Mater.

Have you met Nickie? Who's Nickie? Why he is the exchange student from Germany who is visiting through the courtesy of the Rotary Club. If you should see a crowd gathering, don't be dismayed. It is not a fight! Rather it is a group of students getting acquainted with Klaus Darup, (or preferably Nickie). Nickie says he would like to go to school here, but he thinks our town is "Not too big and not too small, but just right to live in." Welcome to PHS, Nickie.

The Triple Trio girls are in a dilemma. "To wear or not to wear, that is the problem." Beverly Harrison, Karla Herbold, Berva Adams, Ann Hulsing, Betsy Edgar, Lois Austin, Ann West, Karen Stevens, and Julie Stecker are anxious about the completion of the blouse and jumper costumes which the girls intended to make for their first appearance on December 17.

A "progress report" was made by the PHS '57 graduates attending the University of Michigan at a conference with some of the high school teachers on Tuesday, November 26. A common remark was, "Why didn't the teachers make

CHEVROLET SETS A NEW STYLE IN STATION WAGONS!

Two new Yeoman wagons—2-door 6-passenger and 4-door 6-passenger. Smart, durable all-vinyl interiors Wonderful's the word for Chevrolet's five new station wagons! They're boldly beautiful with new length and lowness, new sculptured grace. They're boldly engineered with new ideas that make loading easier, riding smoother, driving happier.

Meet the year's smartest station wagon set—Chevrolet's five new wagons for '58.

They're more than nine inches longer, dramatically lower. The liftgate is hinged into the roof and raises completely out of the way for easier loading. Safety plate glass in all windows gives you crystal-clear visibility.

No station wagon built ever carried loads with more ease or passengers with more comfort! Chevrolet's new standard Full Coil suspension cradles you on deep coil springs at every wheel. And you can have a real air ride as an extra-cost option.

You can choose from two- or four-door, six- or nine-passenger models with livelier V8 or 6 engines. Stop by your Chevrolet dealer's and look over the year's smartest wagons.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean:
Sending you a sample of my future husband's handwriting and a sample of my own.
I read your columns and would appreciate anything you may be able to reveal in either of our handwriting samples.
Can you tell if he is sincere in his thoughts? Or what our lives together will be like?
Faithfully waiting to hear from you by your column.
JOAN T.

Dear Joan T.:
There are many similarities here. You both like variety, change, travel. Both are expressive in your emotions, letting your heart rule your head and showing your feelings. Both show pride but are not too sensitive to criticism. Neither have very many really close friends, however, both are friendly and like people.
There is evidence that you jump to conclusions before getting all the facts. You are irritable and impatient.
He likes to be a little bit different, following the crowd but in his own individual way. He is frank in his expression and able to put into words what he thinks. There is no deceit shown in his handwriting. There is literary ability shown here. He could write easily, perhaps it would manifest itself in reports or it could be that he enjoys writing letters.
Dear Joan:
Can you tell me why the boys around here don't take any interest in me? This summer at the cottage I had a wonderful time with some boys I met. I'm a girl.
D.K.

Dear D.K.:
You are a changeable person. People do not understand you because they are stumped by your changeable moods. One time you treat them in a friendly attitude then again you are cool toward them. We human beings are very likely to stay away from things we do not understand so my advice to you would be to study yourself and try to see yourself as others see you then make any changes you see will benefit you.
Hello Jean:
And how are you this fine sunny day? I really don't know what to write except I'm a housewife and mother of two children - a boy and a girl, both in school. My hubby is a fine chap, too.
Just making a business of living and trying to make people a little happy. I sure would like to find out what you think of my handwriting. L.P.S.

Dear L.P.S.:
You are optimistic and always looking to the future for brighter days. You won't be down in the dumps for long. You are thinking of the future and plan accordingly. You have many dreams and ideas that are as yet unused or unfulfilled. However, you will never give up hope.
Dear Joan:
I would like to have my handwriting analyzed. Have been reading your answers and think they are good.
Sincerely, M.I.W.
Dear M.I.W.:
You are a generous person with a genuine desire to share what you have. You give of yourself, your time, your talents and your money. You give without thought of return or reward. You have an outgoing personality and like people. There are times when you form your opinions before you have all the facts thus jumping to conclusions. You like to find out about things and have the ability to analyze to get to the bottom of the information to discover the true facts.

MEN IN SERVICE

John N. Wahn
John Nelson Wahn, electronics technician seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wahn of 392 Joy street aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Hanson, took part in the sea-air rescue of seven survivors of an U.S. Air Force rescue plane which crashed on Spratly Island in the South China Sea.

The Hanson was sent to the rescue since the surrounding waters were too rough to allow the landing of another sea plane. A volunteer crew, in a 26-foot motor boat and a 15-man life raft, was lowered over the destroyer's side and proceeded to the sandy beach. Because of the high sea and shallow water and coral, the boat remained at sea while the raft pulled up on the beach of the small island and picked up the airmen. The raft was then towed back to the Hanson.
The Air Force personnel were transferred upon arrival in Subic Bay, P. I. the next day.

Smart Gift Givers Start Yule Shopping Early

The smartest Santas plan ahead, shop early and enjoy the merriest Christmas of all. Planning pays dividends in many ways. It makes it easier for you to keep within your budget and organize your shopping, easier to get your gifts, easier to remember you want to remember everyone.

You'll find that you'll really enjoy shopping early. Early shoppers have no crowds to fight, no clock to beat. Salespeople have time to give them extra help, and they have time to shop leisurely for the best values. There's no rush, no worry, no having to crowd through the aisles.

Early shopping has material advantages, too! It allows you to use such credit plans as installment buying, lay-aways (especially layaway sales), charge accounts and other arrangements that stretch the cost thin over a lengthy period.

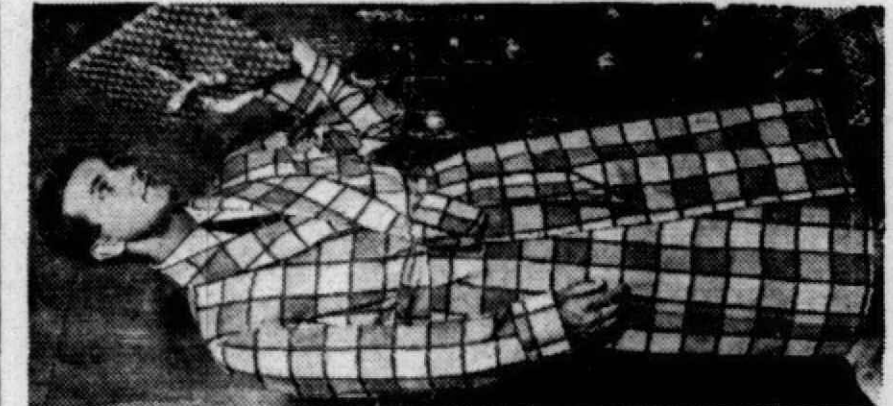

You should also be allowed to program gifts and to make prompt delivery and installation of such things as television sets.

Remember to leave yourself a generous time allowance for mailing gifts, for choosing and preparing festive wrappings and trims, for enjoying the gay round of social activities that add so much to holiday joy. Plan ahead, and you'll keep daisy-fresh no matter how hectic the season becomes!

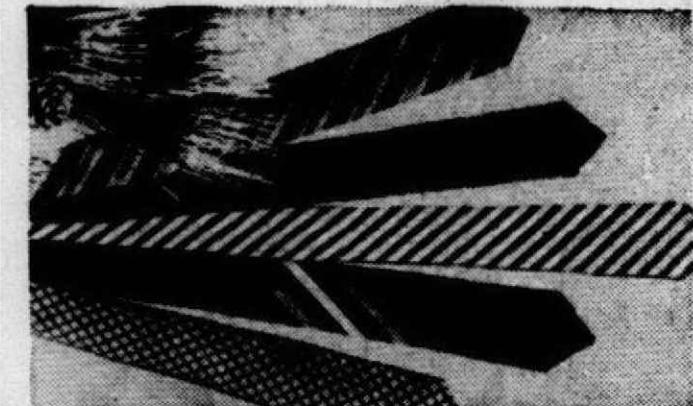

Begin right now by looking through this special Christmas Gifts Section. It will give you some idea of the dazzling variety that will go on display throughout your community tomorrow and give you many helpful suggestions which it would be advisable to jot down.

Don't be afraid to use your imagination in planning your Christmas gifting, and don't be afraid to charge! You mean to be a guide, not a set of hard and fast rules. You'll find that if you get an early start and have time to make comparisons, you may often be able to make substitutions that are better than your original choices.

After the fun and anticipation of planning comes the friendly, helpful decoration of hometown stores. Start tomorrow — you'll be glad you did!

REGALLY ROBED for Christmas in the gift he opened first is this fortunate fellow. Happily it's made of "Dacron" blended with cotton, so it's wash 'n' wear. By J. M. Wise.

FIT TO BE TIED on Christmas morn and long after are the handsome foulards, repp stripes and woven textured ties now featured in the stores. These are by an Heusen.

CHRISTMAS IS IN THE BAG for this father, whose wishful thinking is happily rewarded here with son's gift of a handsome golf bag. By Spalding.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON and both like the long-collared and cuffs. The man's wearing all-wool sweaters they found under the Christmas tree. The lad's in a bulky-knit pullover in light gray with darker gray collar and cuffs. The man's the new raglan shoulder. By Jantzen and Bernhard Altman respectively. Wool Bureau photo.

Santa Heralds a Brilliant Christmas

This is made possible by the Santa Claus, with a wonderful world full of new gift ideas, has come to town early this year to help make this the most exciting Christmas on record.

St. Nick is old fashioned only in the sense that he is a warm hearted fellow of a most gay and generous disposition, who believes in making people happy by choosing gifts that will truly thrill them.

His new ideas for gift giving are geared to fulfillment of the richer, fuller life that modern era with its greater opportunities for enjoying the longer hours of leisure now common to all. The designers, technicians and artisans of today have joined Santa's team to broaden his capacity for gift giving.

Thus, such prosaic things as pens, pencils, paper, and stationery are now especially attractive and effort saving automation and made glamorous with new beauty of design, take a top ranking position among gifts mother wants; and presents of tools, now powered, will be treasured by a delighted housewife. Toys, too, are being blessed with new and exciting replicas of all the modern machines of the age to help them learn while playing at their favorite pastime.

Thus, the beauty and delicacy of the things one finds in the store are more, has full dimensioned, now so wearing apparel, now so smartly styled for all age groups, is more than a matter of comfort and utility because it can be a gift of confidence inspiring and character building fashion and games and toys for the kiddies alone, but for the whole family to enjoy together no matter how disparate the ages.

Gay With Music
This is going to be a Christmas gay with music and entertainment in endless and containing variety. If Santa is bringing you records, television and radio sets and high fidelity record players, are vastly improved. Portability for example, has been carried to the point where "she may (indeed) have" music wherever she goes.

It is a Christmas during which many more people will be joining the ranks of amateur photographers, now that there are so many new and easy to handle cameras for making movies or still pictures in either black and white or color.

It is in fact a season of multiple gift giving especially among members of the family. Not just one or two but a dozen packages are going to be opened beneath the tree for everyone.

everyone to start their shopping early, to "lay away a gift a day." It's more fun this way.

Yet Christmas is more than just giving.

Christmas is the expression of a spirit of gaiety, and good will, to be reflected in the decorations inside and outside the home.

Exterior illumination for the home at this season of the year, a well fixed American tradition, should be planned now from among the improved sets of weatherproof wiring, floodlights and newly colored light bulbs. Stores purchased also have suggestions to offer on how to decorate your particular home.

Many new interior decorations are now being shown in the stores, to be brought into the room in the month of the Yuletide.

The festive, his pointed feeling, his Christmas greens and his cut flowers, can be very helpful to those who want to make the home reflect the living spirit of the season.
