Commission Rejects Re-Assessment

Addition to Post Office 'Probable'

Plymouth stands a good chance of getting a new addition to its Post Office this year, according to a notice received here Monday by Postmaster George Timpona.

The proposed addition is the result of an announcement two weeks ago that the federal government intends to spend several billion dollars to improve post office facilities across the nation.

Postmaster Timpona has attempted for nearly six years to obtain more funds for the building area, but lack of good prospects of getting an addition this year. The current fiscal year ends June 30.

The Treasury Department owns the Post Office but construction is handled through the department's agency, the General Service Administration. The notice, from the General Services Administration, stated that there are "reasonably Postmaster Timpona said that the addition will probably be built to the rear of the present building and that the driveway from Penniman Ave. will no doubt be eliminated. Entrance of trucks to the rear loading platform would be then gained from Fralick Ave.

Timpona said that addition would be somewhere between 5,000 and 10,000 square feet of floor space which would make the job cost between $50,000 and $100,000. It is not known if the contract would call for enlarging the corridor for post office patrons.

Lack of work space has become such a problem at the Post Office that an auxiliary building was leased last October on South Main St. which will remain in use until an addition is made.

Postmaster Timpona paid tribute to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield's modernization program which has brought other improvements here in recent years and to the General Service Administration which has given much consideration to the local needs.

The Plymouth Post Office was built in 1936.

City commissioners have turned down Wayne County Bureau of Taxation's re-assessment!

In a surprise move Monday night, commissioners voted to "defer the assessment recommendations and to refer them to the city assessor for further study."

This means that the recommended tax roll will not be adopted now or in the future. It does not mean, however, that taxes won't go up when property owners get their bills in July.

Commissioners appeared enthusiastic about the re-assessment tax roll when representatives of the County Bureau of Taxation explained it to them a month ago. After looking over the books commissioners had decided unofficially that they would approve the bureau's recommendation and at the same time reduce the city's millage from 15.5 mills to 13.5 mills ($13.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation).

Taxpayers were then invited in two weeks ago to examine their assessments. They flocked to the office of Clerk-Assessor Kenneth Way — many others phoned. Most of them didn't like what they saw. Way says that he hasn't any idea of how many taxpayers found out their assessment. "One night I had 10 at a time in my office."

Some found their taxes going up 50 to 100 per cent, even with the proposed reduction of city tax rate. Since the bulk of the taxes paid goes to the school board, the commission appeared before the board last week to ask if the rate could be dropped.

The board was told that the re-assessment would result in $100,000 more school taxes a year just from the city. The school board appeared sympathetic, but said that it could not consider a drop until it found out how much money it would receive from its various sources and how much "equalization" would take place. These facts won't be learned until May or June.

Since the city's Board of Review meets in two weeks, commissioners need to adopt a tax roll before that time so that taxpayers have a chance to object to inequities. Sunday morning commissioners met at city hall for a committee-of-the-whole meeting. They pooled their thoughts and those of citizens from whom they had heard. They decided not to adopt the roll at this time, but instead to clear up as many inequities as possible by using the city's assessor. The assessor won't have much chance to clear up many inequities before the Board of Review meets, but expects to work at it until the board meets again a year from now.

Mayor Harold Guenther declared that "there has been overtime grievances and job classification. (Continued on Page 8)

Hourly employees voted last fall to form a local of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO. These are the first demands asked by the union and are made so that the commission can consider them while preparing the annual budget for 1958-59.

Alvin Rubenberg, staff representative for the union, has asked for a meeting to discuss the requests. The commission voted Monday night to refer the matter to the city manager.

Leading the demands is a 20 cent per hour wage increase. There is also a request to reduce the 44-hour work week to 40 hours. These two demands for an average worker would in effect mean a 42-cent an hour increase.

The list also asks for eight paid holidays instead of six. The union asks that election day and half days before Christmas and New Years be made holidays.

Other demands cover sick leave, emergency leave, deduction of union dues, seniority, overtime grievances and job classification. (Continued on Page 8)

Canton Pleased to Be Defendant in Law Suit

A suit brought against Canton Township this week by its biggest taxpayer came as no surprise to township officials. Supervisor Louis Stein said yesterday. In fact, the township board is happy over the thing.

It was the Trilex Corp., 44052 Yost Rd., which filed suit Tuesday in Circuit Court to gain a $19,238 refund on real estate and personal property taxes. The firm charges fraud in the method of determining assessments.

Stein told The Mail yesterday that although he hadn't read the petition, the township board was aware of the intended action and are happy to see the suit filed since the township also feels that assessment methods are unfair.

Trilex, which manufactures die-cast parts for automobiles, hopes to test the constitutionality of equalization procedure which hit Canton assessed valuation in 1957 of $6,354,000. The County Equalization board boosted it to $11,312,000 and the state board raised it another $1,188,000. The suit charges that a reduction was gained through the Canton Board of Review and later it was returned to the tax roll.

Trilex also claims that a five acre swamp next to their plant zoned industrial is assessed at $700 an acre while farm land nearby is assessed at $63 an acre. The increased taxes have not resulted in increased benefits, the firm charges.

Canton Township officials are happy to see the suit filed since they too have been fighting the county and state's method of "equalizing" local tax rolls.

Supervisor Stein, who like most all township supervisors serves as assessor, stated that the local assessor is of no value since the county and state comes along and does what it wants. He said that it was the county which placed Trilex's reduction back on the tax roll.

Stein has advocated that if the political subdivision or school board does not need the extra money created by equalization, it should lower the tax rate. This was done in Canton last year. He also has been at odds with the Plymouth Community School board because, he claims, it does not need all of the additional funds created through equalization.

Wilcox Leaving Chamber, New Manager Appointed

Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce board of directors has announced the appointment of Eugene I. Kornfield as its new manager, replacing J. H. Wilcox who recently submitted his resignation.

Wilcox, who was named manager a year ago on a part-time basis, is resigning because of his Naval Reserve duties. He is a commander in the Reserve and is now eligible for assignment that will take him from the city up to six weeks at a time. "I feel that the Chamber should not be without a manager for such a long time," he declared.

Kornfield is expected to start his duties Monday. He is a resident of Farmington Township and a graduate of Michigan State University. He has held various sales positions and is now with the Triangle Furniture Co. in Royal Oak.

A native of Detroit, Kornfield is married and has three children, ages seven, five and 2. He is 36 years old.

In announcing Kornfield's appointment, Chamber President Fred Van Dyke paid tribute to outgoing manager Wilcox.

"Mr. Wilcox has served the Chamber and this community most energetically," he said. "We are sorry that other interests make it necessary for him to leave. The Chamber has undergone much reorganization under his direction and is now on the brink of a very promising fu-

Home Destroyed By Fire During Sub-Zero Battle

Plymouth city and township fire departments escaped any serious fires during the past week's bitter cold weather, but Canton Township firemen had their worst fire of the year when the thermometer dipped to seven below zero Monday.

A two family home at 39759 Michigan Ave. was completely destroyed Monday afternoon. Lending assistance in fighting the blaze were firemen from Plymouth, Nankin and Van Buren Townships.

Damage to the building was estimated at $10,000 while the content loss amounted to $3,000. Half of the furniture was carried out. Firemen remained on the scene from 12:55 to 5:30 p.m.

Owner of the home was Tony Ferris, 29559 Beck, Garden City. The strong wind and cold weather helped fan the fire. No cause has yet been determined.

Plymouth Township firemen saved a home in Green Meadows from serious damage Monday. The home was that of William Burke, 9564 Southworth. The fire started in the crawl space under the home where an attempt was being made to thaw water pipes. Flames broke through the floor at one place before the fire was extinguished.

Township firemen also extinguished an electrical motor blaze at 9801 Ridge Rd. Sunday, a car fire Monday on Five Mile Rd. and had two rescuators runs.

HOW TO COOK a lion is a subject that cook-book writers just neglected to cover, Chef Brinton Crowther at Hillside Inn has discovered. His employer had the frozen lioness shipped in last week and it is now on display prior to becoming part of the menu next month. Crowther has wrestled with recipes for buffalo, bear, antelope and elk in recent months, so is expected to have no trouble finding the right combination for turning the beast into a tasty morsel. One might suggest to him that the animal be lyonessed—but we won't.

Ceremony Marks Official Start Of Township Sewer, Water System

Some ceremony Monday marked the transaction that put Plymouth Township in the water and sewer business for the first time in its history.

Officials of the township, Federal Housing Administration, Chamber of Commerce, and the Fred E. Greenspan Building Co. got together at the pumping station of the Lake Pointe Village water system Monday morning and sewer systems to the township.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, in a talk after the presentation, declared that the system will be the "first leg" in securing water and sewer for the entire township.

At a dinner meeting later, the building company read a resolution dedicating the entire water and sewer and water system, who stated that the system will be a vital link in the economic development of the community.

Dwight Hamborsky, director of FHA in the Detroit area, told the group that the Greenspan Development Co. (Continued on Page 8)

Women representing Plymouth's various religious denominations will participate in the service. Guest speakers will be Mrs. Robert B. Baker of Royal Oak, Director of the Christian Friendship Program of the Detroit Association of American Baptist Churches, and Vice President of Christian Training of the Michigan State Woman's Baptist Mission Society.

The committee planning the local event urges all women of this area to share in the community observance; men are also welcome to attend. Parents of young children are reminded that the children's service will feature this year, is to be held at the First Methodist Church at 4:00 p.m., following the adult service.

Charles was removed from the critical list Tuesday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Raguepaw of 8463 Middlebelt, Garden City, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Penn of 15670 Marilyn, Plymouth.

The boy was sledding on a hill off of Haggerty road near Edward Hines Drive.

Boy Critically Hurt In Sled Crack-Up

A sled trip down a steep, ice-glazed hill in Riverside Park last Saturday put five year-old Charles Raguepaw in critical condition at Wayne County General Hospital for four days. He struck a tree and was rushed to the hospital where he was operated on for internal injuries.

Next week the School Facilities Committee turns its attention to an elementary school, Starkweather to be specific. They would like to discuss with you whether an enlarged multi purpose room and a library is needed for the school.)

Future of the Outlying Schools

Educationally, What's Ahead for Plymouth

(Fourth in a series of informative articles written by the Secondary School Facilities Committee to consider educational issues ahead in the next five years.)

Truesdell, Hough, Canton Center and Cherry Hill Schools continue to serve the area south of the city of Plymouth. These schools in the outlying areas are one and two room schools that operated for years as the primary school in their respective school district prior to re-organization of the entire area. Bartlett school was closed this year and is now being used for storage purposes.

Gerald Elston is the principal of the outlying schools. Mrs. Isabel Spigarelli, member of the Secondary School Facilities Committee, checked with Principal Elston about the condition and future of the outlying schools. Constant repair and needed school could stand some painting inside and out. A projector and screen for the outlying schools would help facilitate visual aid programs.

When asked about a future elementary school in the southern part of the Plymouth Community School District to accommodate most of the students now attending these schools, Principal Elston said, "Such an idea deserves serious study."

The Board of Education is studying the situation and is in the process of selecting future elementary school sites. They realize that the sooner all the children of the district are in comparable educational structures the more certain they will be that all children in the district will be receiving equal educational opportunities. Future plans for the outlying schools depend on how fast water and sewer lines come to that area. As subdivisions follow the coming of water and sewer lines, this entire outlying school area will become congested and critical.

How far off is such an extension of the water lines? A recent front page story in the Wayne Eagle of January 9, 1958, stated the following facts: "The project (a 6,400 foot extension from Michigan Avenue to Lotz Road) in no way interferes with the 30-inch main which is planned for construction along Palmer Road into Canton Township in 1959 and scheduled to service about 80 per cent of the Canton area." In other words, the homes could be arriving by 1960 with school children and parents looking for adequate school facilities. In the years 1958-1962 then, the future of the outlying schools is definitely one of conjecture. What should be planned? Another building the size of Gallimore School? Some smaller school units constructed now that could be enlarged to meet the needs of the area as more homes were built? Answers to these questions will come only after all aspects of the problem are studied.

Mrs. Keith R. Stevens

Duty-Stevens Nuptial Vows Exchanged by Candlelight

A candlelight service at the First Presbyterian church on January 18 united Margaret Ruth Duty and Keith R. Stevens. Palm, white carnations and ivy decorated the church as Rev. Henry J. Walsh officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Opal Worley of 900 N. Mill street and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stevens, 557 Jener.

Keith Avery sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "With This Ring I Thee Wed," accompanied by Fred Nelson at the organ.

Given in marriage by Billy Duty, the bride wore a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and chantilly lace in pearl-trimmed tiers, spreading into a train. A crown of pearls and iridescents held her veil.

Serving as maid of honor was Clyde Jean Duty, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Margie Marie Hyde, Clara May Millross, Carol Ann Beasley and Sandra Jo Singer. Their gowns were of red velvet with matching hats and shoes. The

Homeowners Hear City Officers Talk on Taxes

Mrs. Robert Fitzner
625 Parkview Drive

Our very sincere thanks go to Mayor Harold Guenther, City Manager Al Glassford and City Assessor Ken Way for their splendid presentation of the "taxing system" when they met with the Parkview Homeowners Association last Friday evening.

The things that impressed many of us at the meeting was the straight forward, unbiased, easy manner in which they explained and ironed out, step by step, each phase and factor of taxation.

As a result of our meeting with Messrs. Guenther, Glassford and Way we now know among other things, why and how our property is assessed, the meaning and ultimate result of millage, and the cause and effect of the new equalization factor. All three speakers commended us on asking for such a meeting and expressed the hope that other clubs and organizations would follow suit. They would be most happy to have the opportunity of placing the facts concerning taxation before the people of Plymouth. It was certainly an evening well spent. Not the least boring or dull as you might normally expect a meeting of that type to be. Quite to the contrary. It was witty and well done.

A Valentine party and box social was given by Helen and Walter Lake at their home on Garling Drive last Saturday evening. An interesting variety of card games kept us all amused until midnight when the men bid thousands of dollars to play money on the gaily decorated boxes of their choice. I saw shrimp cocktail, fried, baked and roasted chicken, barbecued ribs and chops, candied sweets and french fries, every kind of salad and relish, to say nothing of a variety of desserts including pie, cake and chocolate. Guests were Donna and Bob Sasa, Rose and Marty Kennedy, Dorothy and Lloyd Curok, Betty and Jim Parks, Lee and Jack Ruland, Doris and Jim Sponseller, Doris and Ted Kuhns, Doris and Don McGill, Joyce and Al Truax, Lorraine and Joe Quinlan and yours truly.

Lila and Doug Vincent of Parkview Drive with eight other couples of the Junior Chamber of Commerce enjoyed a Saturday evening of bowling and later gorged themselves at a pizzeria. On Sunday the Vincents visited in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and their house guests Mr. and Mrs. Schaefer of Newberry, Mich.

On Wednesday last Rose Kennedy of Parkview Drive was one of a group of nurses from Providence Hospital in Detroit who attended a dinner and meeting of Hospital Administrative Personnel at Mt. Sinai Hospital. On Thursday evening a club, made up of nurses from Providence Hospital to which Rose belongs dined at the Botsford Inn on Grand River.

Lorraine and Joe Quinlan and their three children, Kathy, Kevin and Patrick, have returned from a three week vacation in St. Petersburg, Fla., where they visited with Joe's parents who not too long ago moved to Florida from New York. The Quinlans report having a wonderful time even though the weather was far from what they had been hoping for.

A fond farewell to Donna and Bob Sasa who formerly lived in our circle. They definitely plan to leave for California next Monday where they will make their home. Our very best wishes go with them. They were wonderful neighbors.

Grace Wigley, the teen-age daughter of Doris and Ted Kuhns of Parkview Drive, was among a busload of 25 Plymouth school students who journeyed to Pontiac to take part in a Solo and Ensemble Festival. The judges rated Grace as No. 1 on a 1 to 5 grading basis.

Gals, have you tried cooking a meal for thirty people in a 2 x 4 kitchenette? The city firemen did it at station number 2 last Thursday night when they entertained their wives at a delicious dinner. Lee Owen, Charlie Groth, Phil Barney and Firechief Bob MacAllister got things underway in the afternoon so that when the rest of us arrived at 6 all was practically ready. The women were treated like visiting royalty while all the men pitched in to serve the tomato juice, roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, corn, lima beans, tossed salad, relishes, hot rolls, dessert and coffee. The dessert was chocolate cake which was cut by newlyweds Bea and Dale Burrell. Following the meal Bob MacAllister presented Phil Barney of Barney's Grill with an honorary membership and badge of the Plymouth Fire department. It was the first such honor bestowed upon anyone by the local firemen. His membership certificate states that he successfully passed the course in "fire house cooking".

Besides the firemen already mentioned and their wives there was Jackie and Jack Price, Jean and John Radowsky, Lorraine and Paul Sanders, Ann and Don Moore, Doris and Ralph Dietrich, Helen and George Florke, Doris and Ted Kuhns, Winnie and George Schoeneman, Mary and Quent Bolander, Gwynn and Rose Fulton and of course hubby and I.

There will also be a showing of paintings by members of the group at the next concert of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, March 2nd at 4 p.m. in the Plymouth High school. Paintings of a religious or spring theme will be used, and this exhibit will be handled by Mrs. Emma Pine and Barbara Cornelius of Plymouth.

Mrs. Marjorie Becker, art coordinator in the Livonia schools, is president of the group, and membership chairman is Mrs. Catherine Hartley, of Northville. The MAIL Attitude Occasionally we call attention of housewives to some special bargain in our ads, and today is one of those times.

You won't get the idea unless you check the individual prices in the ad on Page 5, Section One. But the items listed there have been given the most startling "come on" prices I have observed in Plymouth.

For instance: winter ladies shoes for two dollars, dresses (up to $19.95 before) for one dollar; electric frying pans, $13.95.

But look for yourself—they're all contained under a gimmick promotion heading, "Berserk Days."

A letter to the editor of particular interest:

"Dear Mr. Chandler:

"I have just read your article in the February 13 issue, sent me by one of my Plymouth friends, and wish to compliment you on its contents. I hope the residents of Plymouth will take it very seriously.

"Many old, small cities like Plymouth have been left at the post because of the complacency or lethargy of its businessmen and civic leaders. It is a big problem, but a serious and critical one which requires the thought and attention of the biggest and broadest thinking people of Plymouth.

"Our Association is the owner of an important site in the business area (corner of Main and Penniman). The old buildings should be replaced. Just what we do with the property will depend somewhat on the general plans of the city for the future of the business section and the main thoroughfares.

"The character of Plymouth as a fine residential community should be retained, but it must also progress with the times in order to give the people who live there the facilities which they will require—shopping, schools, utilities, parking, etc.

"More power to you!"

WALTER GEHRKE
Chairman of the Board
First Federal Savings and Loan Association

In reply to Mr. Gehrke, I write:

"Your sympathetic letter is appreciated by myself and everyone else in Plymouth who is conscious of the perils of the future.

"I'm publishing the letter in our newspaper because it lends the bulwarking of high authority to an idea which I fear many regard as a misty matter of theory, rather than of practical urgency.

"Your corner at Main and Penniman is the key single area in almost any analysis of our commercial antiquity, and it will be darn encouraging to everyone to realize the matter is keenly upon your mind.

"As for city planning, our community is full of good intentions. I haven't lost hope that energy can be mustered toward specific projects, but the wheels turn slowly, no matter what."

Yours sincerely,
Paul Chandler

In the area of progress, we've been assured by the Chamber of Commerce that the remodeling of the former A & P on Ann Arbor Trail will result in storefronts which are "very much colonial" in design. Jack Wilcox said he had been promised this by the building owners, Atlas Finance.

Terry's Bakery and The Photographic Center will occupy the remodeled building, opening early in April. A businessman this week suggested that The Mail advocate passing of an ordinance that no new commercial construction be permitted unless the exterior be colonial. He forwarded a clipping from a New York town which had so enacted.

We'd advocate it, but I'm hardly sure it's legal.

Meanwhile, wouldn't a set of shutters on the new Michigan Bell building on Harvey be a relatively small extra touch that would add a lot of "colonialism?"

Undefeated Grade School Teams Taste Recession

Two previously undefeated grade school basketball teams got their first taste of recession Saturday and dropped into ties for first place in their leagues.

Gallimore was beaten by Bird in Fifth Grade play, while Lutheran squeezed out Auburn Optimist No. 1 in Sixth Grade.

Bird upset Gallimore at the High School gym, 15 to 6. For Bird, John Manus had 4 points, 6 points were credited to Clark Raven and 5 points to Jimmy Bruff. Gallimore's scorers were Don Stamper and Robin Huxley with 3 and Charles Provow with 2 points.

Also in 5th grade action, Allen beat the Plymouth Pilgrims, 19-16. Larry Ashnuw fouled out of the game for the Pilgrims. Donnie Cranen was top man for Allen with 7 and Gary Grady had 4. Dick Sircey netted 14 points for the Pilgrims while Jim Edwards had 2.

Starkweather moved into a first place tie by defeating Smith, 20 to 6. Scorers for Starkweather were Jim Lake with 8, Dale Petty with 6 and Gerrie Watson, John Wilowski and Ken Groom with 2 each. Smith's top men were Dave Dennis and Alvin Roberts with 2 and Gary Fueling and Steve Stride with 1 each.

In sixth grade, Catholic (Our Lady of Good Counsel) beat Auburn Optimist No. 2 by 14 to 13 in overtime. The top man in scoring for Catholic was Gerald Kisabeth with 7 points. The top man for Auburn Optimist 2 was Clinton Blood with 5.

Hamilton walked right over Allen, 36 to 4. The top man for Hamilton was Larry Duty with 13 points, followed by Larry McMullen with 10 and Val Fulton with 6. Terry Duty with 4, Tom McGill with 2 and Harry McMullen with 1. For Allen, the two scorers were Sandy Black with 3 and Caleb Lonebrand with 1 point.

Lutheran nipped Auburn Optimist No. 1 by 11 to 8. This game was supposed to be a close one and it was. Scorers for Lutheran were Dick Egloff, who had 6 points, Jim Nuoffer and George Bartz who both had 2, and Harold Kuisel who had 1. Denny Hunt made 4 points for Auburn, followed by Chuck Ruge and Ralph Grady with 2 each.

Jim Dzurus and Dave Walasky sparked a first quarter scoring drive with six points each to give Plymouth a 20-7 lead at the eight minute mark in last Friday's cage action here against Belleville.

The visitors never recovered from the blow, although at one point in the game they cut the lead to seven points. The impressive 56-46 victory gave Plymouth undisputed possession of second place, one game behind the Bentley Bulldogs whom the Rocks meet tomorrow night at the Livonia High school gym.

Belleville experienced little difficulty in handling Allen Park its eighth consecutive loss 67-39. Tom Eveland led the Bentley scorers with 21 points while Dick Orend was top scorer for Allen Park with 17. Bob Voss with 15 points led Trenton to its third victory of the season with a 47-35 win over Redford Union.

Belleville Coach Veas Kaminiski admitted that "Plymouth just outthumbed my boys." This was certainly true in the first quarter when they built up the 20-7 lead, scoring the most points for a first quarter of any game this season.

The situation changed after the first eight minutes. In the second quarter both teams scored 11 points giving Plymouth a 31-18 edge at half-time. Belleville enjoyed a slight edge in the third quarter outscoring Plymouth 15-12 and in the fourth quarter both teams scored 13 points.

Coach Jim Doyle of the Rocks explained the win by saying "The boys did not let Belleville disorganize them. They stayed organized and beat Belleville at the foul line. When Belleville doubled up on Hubert, Waasky was free for the drive shots. Belleville then had to change from doubling up on Hubert to check Walasky which allowed Hubert to break the press."

Dave Walasky recorded his highest scoring output of the season with 14 points on five field goals and four free throws. Jim Dzurus was next with 10 points on four field goals and two free throws.

Chuck Snodgrass led the Belleville scorers with 14 points on four field goals and six free throws.

By Bill Dilworth

Last weekend another game in the Recreation Hockey league had to be forfeited when the Satellites could not ice six players for their game with the Royals who were ready to play. With this forfeiture the league ended for this season with the Royals the winners. It was unfortunate that the Satellites were forced to forfeit because they were tied for first place with the Royals before that game.

FINAL STANDINGS
G W L T For Agst Pts
Royals 5 4 0 1 19 7 9
Satellites 4 3 2 1 11 7 7
Owls 4 1 1 1 12 18 7 4
Gray Wings 4 0 4 0 2 24 0

In the scoring department Ken Thomas of the Owls finished the season with 12 goals to lead the league. He was followed by Bill Lockwood, captain of the Satellites, who scored nine goals. Other goal scorers and their teams are as follows: Tom Lamb, Satellites (4), Dave Fehlig, Royals (3), Carl Berry, Satellites (3), Sharland, Royals (3), Tom Pfister, Owls (2), Fred Jones, Gray Wings (2), Gerry Kolack, Satellites (1), Kent Stanbury, Satellites (1), Ronnie Wahn, Satellites (1), Trist, Owls (1), Gerry Knapp, Royals (1), Jim Herter, Royals (1), Kurt Atchinson, Royals (1), Miller, Royals (1), and Hoffman, Royals (1).

For the statistically minded who may try checking out the number of goals listed for each team against the number shown in the standings he will be off by three goals on both the Royals and the Satellites. Both teams won games by means of a forfeit and were awarded 3-0 victories.

Short as the season was it was not lost for plans have been made for next year. Two ideas have already been suggested — one concerned resurfacing the tennis courts so they could be flooded. This would facilitate scheduling and eliminate forfeits as more boys would have easier access to the tennis courts than to the pond where the games were played this year. The second involved the forming of two leagues — one with an age limit 18 to 22 and another for boys 17 and under.

Tonight at the Plymouth high school pool the men of McFall entertain the Belleville swimming team in a very important Suburban Six conference dual meet. This is important to the Rocks because at the present time they are tied for first place with Allen Park with three wins and one loss each. The last time these teams met at Belleville Plymouth won 66-30.

A adequate supply of DETERMINATION, DESIRE, POISE and CONFIDENCE must accompany the Plymouth Rocks varsity basketball team when they journey to Livonia to do battle with the Bentley Bulldogs currently in first place in the Suburban Six Conference with a record of seven wins and one loss. Plymouth has displayed the determination against Redford Union and Belleville. They have also displayed desire. The poise and confidence were apparent in their game against Belleville last Friday night. They had to maintain their poise to defeat a team that tried very hard to disorganize them from the start.

In addition to just defeating the Tigers they showed how alert they can be when one of their better players is "doubled up" on.

When Hubert found the going a little rough with two men tailing him, he set Dave Walasky free for drive shots. As Walasky kept hitting for important points one man had to "drop out" Hubert and check Walasky. This enabled Hubert to have just one man on him and permitted him to be much more effective. With 14 points for his night's work, Walasky played his best game of the season.

Belleville came to town with the reputation of having two rebound hogs in the Snodgrass brothers. Unfortunately for them, Plymouth countered with a rebound hog of their own, Jim Dzurus, who played another very effective game both defensively and offensively.

It is hoped that Ken Knipschild will be completely recovered from his bout with the flu and also that his foot infection has healed. Coach Jim Doyle will need all his players HEALTHY AND HUNGRY for this battle with Bentley.

Freshmen Stop Belleville, 34-27
The Plymouth freshmen basketball team continued their winning ways at the expense of Belleville last Friday afternoon at Belleville when they defeated the Tigers, 34-27.

The Rocks led 17-14 at half time and outscored Belleville 17-13 in the second half. Dave Palmer with 11 points and John Spigarelli with 10 were high scorers for Plymouth while Ellward led Belleville scorers with 14 points.

The teams: Belleville — Ambrose, Brewer, Campbell, Ellward (14), Sharp, Zimmer (3), Kelly (2), Martin (3), Deau, Thorp (2), Saunders (2), Page (1), Paylor, Oliver and Latter — 27.

Plymouth — Palmer (11), Spigarelli (10), Wood (7), Ralston (4), Nelson (1), Freeman (1), M. Smith, Robertson, Limaka, Bowers, Woolley, McAllister, Anderson, D. Smith and Lomnac — 34.

The next game will be tomorrow afternoon at Plymouth with Bentley the opposition.

After two three minute overtime periods Worthington scored a free throw to give the Wildcats an 18-17 win over the Jaguars who had been undefeated in the first three games. Eloy Menchaca was leading scorer in the game with nine points.

Michigan's Biggest Boat Show Yet to Open Feb. 22

'Fastest Outboard'

This country's fastest boat will be in the Detroit most unusual outboard racing Boat Show for two days, thanks to two-time Gold Cup winner, Danny Foster, its driver.

Despite the demands of other boat shows across the nation for the unique speed creation, Foster convinced the board-chairman of the company that manufactures its power plant, that its appearance in Detroit was in keeping with Michigan's second rank as a boating state.

Asked how he managed to get the Flying Scott for the Detroit show, he grinned and said, "I was told every boat-minded boy in Detroit would like to see it and I said I'd get it, didn't I?"

Danny did, because it is now official that the boat will be shown in the Detroit show at the Detroit Artillery Armory Saturday and Sunday, February 22 and 23. Its showing is limited to only two days because it was previously promised to a San Francisco exposition.

After the San Francisco showing, Foster will resume mile trials in an attempt to break the world record of 102 mph, now held in Italy.

With Danny driving, the Flying Scott has done 95 mph on Loudon Lake, near Knoxville, Tenn. This is 10 mph faster than the present U.S. record, set in 1955.

"I think I can do 105 mph with it," Foster says. "When the water is right she skims beautifully. And she has the power."

The power comes from two three-cylinder engines welded together. Each has 60 hp. The power plant, with the motors synchronized as Gar Wood synchronized four motors in his famous Miss America X, is mounted behind the cockpit in regular outboard fashion.

It is geared to a single drive shaft. The drive gears are set in a one-to-one ratio. The lower unit is unlike the vertical unit used on outboard motors, either for racing or pleasure.

Detroit Show Promises Newest in Boats

BOATING ENTHUSIASTS will see the largest display of pleasure craft and marine equipment ever assembled under one roof in Michigan at the 1958 Detroit Boat Show, Feb. 22 - Mar. 2, in the Detroit Artillery Armory. The eight acre exhibit hall will be bursting with outboards, inboards, and sailboats — plus the latest boat trailers, hardware, and gear. Visitors also are promised a huge model yacht display and continuous color-film entertainment.

Detroit Armory To Be Thronged

The most complete array of pleasure craft and marine equipment ever assembled under one roof in Michigan will be displayed at the 1958 Detroit Boat Show, Feb. 22-Mar. 2, in the Detroit Artillery Armory. The entire 360,000 sq. ft. of floor space available in the huge building, 15000 West 8 Mile Road near Northland Center, will be devoted to the show.

Attendance at the nine-day event is expected to exceed last year's 124,000. Michigan, with its 36,000 miles of shore line, thousands of lakes, and hundreds of miles of navigable rivers, is fast becoming one of the most marine-minded states in the nation. Indicative is outboard motor ownership now estimated at 392,000. Only state boasting a greater total is New York.

All types of fiberglass, metal, and wood pleasure craft will be on view at the show, from deluxe cabin cruisers and sailing yachts to canoes and prams.

The newest V-type, in-line, and radial gasoline and diesel-fueled outboard motors will compete for interest with the latest high-horsepower inboards.

Also expected to attract wide attention will be exhibits of boat trailers, boat kits, marine hardware, paints, and boat accessories.

The U. S. Navy will display a huge helicopter, recently assigned to the Detroit area to carry out air-sea rescue missions.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers exhibit will show work being done to improve channels, jetties, and protected harbor entrances in Michigan waters.

Representatives of other federal and local agencies will be on hand to answer questions on boat safety, navigation, fire prevention, and the like.

Hundreds of model yachts, built by both youths and adults, will be displayed. Two completely equipped small sailboats are among awards to be presented for winning entries.

Gar Wood Back For Boat Show

If there were such a person as "The commodore of the boat show," Garfield A. Wood could have that title.

Wood, now 77 and the most famous powerboat racer that ever lived, is making a special trip from his island estate home, Alva Base, off Miami Beach in Biscayne Bay, to be present at opening ceremonies of The Detroit News' second annual nautical exhibit from 1 to 2 p.m. opening day, February 22, in the Detroit Artillery Armory.

Gar also has promised to attend the "Reception to the River" in the evening when full dress uniformed commodores and commanders of clubs and service organizations will be guests.

Wood not only won the Gold Cup for Detroit and successfully defended it, but in 1920 he challenged England for its British International Trophy, called the Harmsworth. He won it, brought it to Detroit and turned back repeated challenges of England and France.

3-D Horror Films

Starting Thursday, Feb. 20, for seven days, the Fox Theatre in downtown Detroit will show a double feature attraction "guaranteed to top anything you've ever seen on a theatre screen and one you'll never see on your TV screen."

The Fox is bringing in two mammoth "horror spectacles" in the new, improved, third dimension! The two films are "House of Wax" and "Phantom of the Rue Morgue." In addition to being in thrilling third Dimension, both pictures are in color.

"House of Wax" is a story of a fantastic madman who stalks the show-world's beauties for his ghastly Chamber of Horrors, and stars Vincent Price, Frank Lovejoy and Phyllis Kirk.

"Phantom of the Rue Morgue," adapted from the classic by Edgar Allan Poe, stars Karl Malden, Claude Dauphin, Patricia Medina and Steve Forrest. "Phantom of the Rue Morgue" is the story of a horrible creature who is part monster and part man who mauls and rips its terrified victims — then vanishes.

This combination, "House of Wax" and "Phantom of the Rue Morgue" will be shown only at the Fox Theatre and will not appear at any other theater in the Metropolitan area.

Readers of this newspaper have an opportunity to see this thrilling double feature, "House of Wax" and "Phan-

Commission Rejects

 the appraisal and we (the commission) have not been able to defend it." He noted that many people have pointed out assessment figures recommended by the county which they claim are absolutely unrealistic. "There were so many cases like this that we were unable to say who is right and who is wrong. The big problem was with the land. There is a question of whether it should be assessed for what one can get for it, what you ask for it or what it could be accidentally sold for."
 "The mayor states that a committee of citizens, including a commissioner, will be appointed to study land values. But by postponing a general re-assessment does not change the problem, Mayor

Guenther said. Until every piece of property is sometime re-assessed, there will be inequities, he indicated.
 And there is no doubt that Plymouth property owners will be paying even higher taxes this year. Now that the Bureau of Taxation knows what the city is worth ($44,274,760 market value; $18,511,670 assessed valuation on real estate), they may decide to use these figures for a basis when dealing out their "equalization" factors in May.
 Equalization is a percentage applied to the tax rolls in an attempt to bring them up to a point which the tax bureau feels makes communities equal with each other. The County equalizes each community (adds a percentage to each tax roll) while the state equalizes the county as a whole.

Plymouthite Seeks Lt. Governor Seat

John B. Swainson of Plymouth, 44525 Gov. Bradford Rd., formally announced this week that he will seek the office of Lieutenant Governor at the next election.
 Now in his second term in the State Senate from this district, he is 31 years old and a Democrat.
 Swainson's first campaign statement noted that "we are in the midst of a national recession" and he whacked at the idea that "predictions of prosperity can be a substitute for action. How Michigan weathers the national economic meltdown may be determined by what we do about it."

 The opening of the Democratic ticket became available when incumbent Philip Hart announced recently that he would campaign for U.S. Senator this year. Swainson stands in good favor with Governor Williams and State Democratic party officials.
 "I know," he said today, "that I'll be giving up my ability to vote on the issues and that the powers of the Lieutenant - Governor have been lessened by Republican maneuvering in the last few years. But the example set by Phil Hart in both his presidency of the Senate and as the Governor's co-worker in executive affairs, is a good one. After two terms in the Senate, you get used to knowing what the people back home want, even while being outvoted."

Swainson has had a perfect attendance record since his election to the Senate.
 He was joined in Lansing by his wife, Alice, and their sons Stephen, 10, and Peter, 8, as he announced his candidacy. He pledged to maintain his perfect attendance record in Senate activities while campaigning for the nomination. "As a matter of fact, the two tie in. I would hate to be

New Driver Hurt In Multiple Crash

A housewife driving on a beginner's permit was ticketed Monday after her car went out of control on South Main street and struck a fire hydrant, utility pole and two cars.
 Mrs. Shirley Mae Worley, 18, of 900 Mill St., was driving South on Main street near the Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac garage when she said she lost control of the car. The car grazed a fire hydrant on the west side of the street, crossed the street and hit the pole and continued into the Beglinger parking lot where it struck the rears of two parked cars.
 An ambulance took Mrs. Worley to Wayne County General Hospital where she was treated for leg injuries. She was issued a ticket for reckless driving and driving without a licensed adult in the car.

The cars were those of Joseph L. Hudson, local real estate dealer, and a new station wagon owned by Beglinger. Damage to the Worley car was estimated at $450, the Hudson vehicle at $200 and the station wagon at $100.

South Seas Film Pleases Audience

If a plane had been leaving Plymouth for the South Seas last Sunday afternoon, there may have been a few hundred people on it. Outside the temperature was just above zero, inside the high school was an audience watching Aubert Lavastada's premiere showing of "South Seas Happiness Holiday."

Fire Hydrant Contract Between City, Township Being Readied

Lower insurance rates for Plymouth Township homes located within 1,000 feet of a fire hydrant appears to be on the way because of action taken Monday night by the city commission.
 A contract will soon be drawn up between the city and township which will allow the township fire department to use the hydrants now located in the township or on the city's border line. Although the township department has been using the hydrants, fire underwriters would not consider dropping rates to nearby residents until a contract was enforced between the city and township.
 A committee of commissioners was appointed last fall to study the idea. They found that 14 hydrants in the township and 21 hydrants on the perimeter of the city could be included in the agreement. They set a maintenance cost of $18.82 per hydrant a year for township hydrants and recommended that maintenance cost of the 21 hydrants in the city be split.

 The township board has agreed to enter into agreement for 13 township hydrants and 14 city hydrants. It is estimated that the average savings per year on each dwelling would amount to $8.33 per unit.
 In other business before the commission, the H. M. Seldon Company, Detroit realtors, wrote the city to ask if it were possible to secure water and sewer for 14.5 acres of land on Mill Street, north of Ann Arbor Rd. The request was turned over to City Manager Albert Glassford to see if it fits within the commission's policy concerning water use outside the city.

Armed Robbery Charges Face Four Area Youths

Two Plymouth and two Garden City youths could face serious charges in two counties because of an escape last week. Three of them are being held in Oakland County jail under $5,000 bond while the other, a juvenile, was turned over to probate court.
 Charged with armed robbery are Arthur Secord, 21, of 671 Jener; William Whiteley, 21, William McCullough, 18, both of Marquette St., Garden City. The 16-year-old boy was also from Plymouth.

State Police said that the four picked up Charles Williams, 18, of 280 N. Main St., Plymouth, last Thursday night, took him to a Nankin Township field and robbed him of $20 and a wristwatch after beating him. Williams was an acquaintance.
 They then visited several bars and went to the Novi Coffee Shop, where at knife-point they robbed Mrs. Elizabeth Sikkils, the owner, of $100.
 Wayne county officials have allowed Oakland county to try the four. The adult youths waived examination before a justice of the peace and will appear in circuit court Monday. They are under $5000 bond. Local police said that all four have been in trouble here before.

 velopers, by installing a water and sewer system of their own, "has done what few builders try to do."

At the dinner-meeting held at Hillside Inn, the township was presented with a model of the water tower that has become a landmark in the northeast section of the township. The real tower is 140 feet high.
 One of the first things that the township will do will be to install water meters. Bills will be sent every other month to customers. Rates will compare with those charged by the city.

ARE LOAFERS "BAD" FOR CHILDREN'S FEET?
 Loafers have not been on the market long enough to say they will affect the nation's foot health.
 A comparison could be made with the wooden shoes worn by Hollanders. Strange as it may seem, those necessarily large, stiff "loafers" developed strong arches because the wearers must learn to use their toes to hold them on as they lift each foot to step forward.
 Of this we can be sure, loafers are conducive to removing shoes in the house and there is nothing better for foot health, for posture and good carriage than walking barefoot.

Mrs. Richard A. O'Brien

McGoey-O'Brien Vows Spoken in Royal Oak Church

A double-ring ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic Church united Patricia Ann McGoey and Richard Andrew O'Brien Saturday, February 15 at 9 a.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edward Mara of 1109 Batavia in Royal Oak and formerly of Plymouth. The bridegroom is the son of Michael A. O'Brien of Huntington Woods.

Given in marriage by her godfather, Alfred Terroux, the bride chose a redingote of chamilly lace over a floor-length gown of nylon tulle and satin. A small cap of pleated nylon and lace touched with iridescent sequins held her fingertip veil. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by snapdragons and roses.

Father John Zwiers performed the ceremony before approximately 200 guests. Catherine Skelley sang "Ave Marie" and "On This Day O' Beautiful Mother."

Maid of honor, Mary Stephenson of Royal Oak, wore an American beauty red velvet dress in princess style. She carried red roses on a white fur muff. A white velvet headband with a small white plume held a small face veil. Other attendants were Phyllis MacKneish and Mary J. Bartkowiak. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor's and attached red carnations to their muffs.

Serving as best man was John McLaughlin of Royal Oak. Seating the guests were James Monks of Royal Oak and Fred Duprow of Bays Village, Ohio.

Mrs. Mara, the bride's mother wore a teal blue crepe sheath dress with matching shoes and white hat and pink roses.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Royal Oak. For a trip to Florida, the new Mrs. O'Brien chose a gray and black tweed knit suit with a white pillbox hat and black patent leather accessories.

The bride attended school in Plymouth and graduated from St. Mary's High School in 1955, as did her husband. They are both employed by the Grand Trunk Railroad in Detroit.

February, the month of Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, produced some local birthday celebrations too. February 16 marked 90 years of service for the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks... A dinner at the Hillside Inn February 17 celebrated the 30th year since the Business and Professional Women's Club was established in Plymouth... Youngest of all is the Gallimore School which had its first birthday February 18. James Gallimore, for whom the school is named, and his wife were honored guests at a pot-luck given by the PTA.

As for private parties, specifically those for the younger set, one of the Girl Scout troops in town has an absolutely terrific idea going. If you're giving a party for a youngster between the ages of three and ten, don't fret over the preparations — Call Mrs. William Edgar and her troop will take over from there. They provide favors, party hats, games, refreshments and even send a couple of girls over to supervise games and serve at the party.

The small fees accumulated by this project will help out on a spring trip the girls hope to take. They have already given some highly successful parties.

Find the time to drop into the library and see the Three-Cities Art exhibit. A good representation of the local talent can be found in oil portraits, scenes, still life and modern pieces. Some of the exhibiting artists are Margaret Cramer, Amy Edmunds, Catherine Hartley, Jesse Hudson, Walter Maurus, Marion Sober and Arthur Verschaeve. Guest exhibitors are E. J. and Winifred Cutler.

Hot off the Press — The Mayflower Hotel has received national recognition in the new 1958 edition of Duncan Hines' "Adventures in Good Eating," just published. It is among 3,000 selected eating places recommended by Duncan Hines in North America.

The 352 page guide book is in its 50th printing, this year sporting an entirely new cover — a radical departure from the previous traditional cover. "Adventures" has a wrap-around four-color American map cover — done by the famous illustrator Charles E. Martin — showing the regional food specialties of North America. Listings include all the necessary information needed by those eating out or traveling: location telephone number, reservation requirements, days closed, hours open, prices and specialties.

I really get a charge out of the contemporary cards that are enjoying such popularity now. Received one the other day pleading with me to be their Valentine on the cover and saying "I haven't had a good laugh in weeks" on the inside. I've heard varied opinions voiced on this craze which is rapidly becoming an American institution. The type of person who buys... and sends... such cards is called everything from a "highly humorous fellow" to a "ridiculous" individual with either a childish mind or warped sensibilities.

Well... I like contemporary cards. Some of the phrases may be a little corny, the cliches a little worn and the puns a little silly, but put them together with a wierd drawing and a true contemporary card is born.

There's a card for every occasion, no matter how obscure. Greetings for "blue Monday" pay day, ground hog day, the "morning after," etc. Whether you send them or not, they're fun to browse through in the card shop. And, it's always a welcome surprise to receive one out of the clear blue sky — at least someone is thinking of you, even if it's to say "get lost."

Dr. Henry Hitt Crane to Open Lenten Series March 6 at First Methodist

The Rev. Dr. Henry Hitt Crane, minister of the Central Methodist Church in Detroit, will open the series of Family Worship Lenten Services at the First Methodist Church in Plymouth on March 6.

Dr. Crane is widely known as a most dynamic personality and one of the most brilliant preachers in America. He has become well-known in this area, having taken part in the Lenten services in previous years. This may well be Dr. Crane's final appearance in Plymouth since he has announced his retirement.

The Reverend Dr. Crane is a graduate of Boston Latin School, Wesleyan University and Boston School of Theology and did his graduate work at Harvard University. He holds degrees from DePaul and Wesleyan Universities, a doctor of law from Florida Southern College and a doctor of humanities from Boston University.

Members of the Methodist Church will follow their traditional custom of having fellowship potluck dinners at 6:30 p.m. in the dining room of the church and then will hear Dr. Crane at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary.

Nursery care will be provided for tiny tots and supervised entertainment has been arranged for children under ten years. Older children are invited to attend the worship service with their parents so that they, as a family, may participate in the devotional experiences of the Lenten season.

The Family Lenten Services are held every Thursday evening during March. Anyone without a church home may join the "welcome table" for the pot-luck dinner and also hear Dr. Crane.

Other Downtown Modernization Which Might Give an Idea Here

AND HERE IS HOW POMONA'S store units will look out on Main Street when the modernization is finished. The parking lot (left photo) remains behind these stores. (Read this week's "The Mail Attitude.")

ANOTHER CITY BEAUTIFYING a whole string of stores in key places is Oxnard, Calif. A curious note is that the Christmas decorations are the same as appeared in Plymouth this year.

Army Assigns New Recruiting Sergeant

Mtsgt. Joseph Hulber has recently been assigned as the US Army Recruiter for this area.

Sgt. Hulber is a veteran of World War II and Korea, with over 15 years service. He is a Detroit native and this is the first time the sergeant has been assigned close to his home.

Local young men and women contemplating military service can reach Sgt. Hulber at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Wayne, Mich., Tel. 2-3308 daily between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., or at the Chamber of Commerce Bldg., Plymouth, Tuesdays and Thursdays between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Edison to Expand Facilities in Area

Edward L. Millis, manager of Detroit Edison's Wayne sales district, said the company will spend about $3.7 million in Western Wayne County as part of Edison's $75 million system-wide construction program for 1958.

Millis said the county's share will provide for the completion of the new Finlay Substation in Livonia, the expansion of existing substations, the addition of new distribution and transmission lines and other projects aimed at keeping the supply of electricity well ahead of the steadily increasing demand.

Work, started last year on Finlay Substation at Middle Belt and Five Mile roads in Livonia, is now well under way and scheduled for completion this spring. The station will increase the city's electric supply by about 7,200 kilowatts, or about 9,300 horsepower.

Creel to Leave Local Burroughs Plant for Detroit

Russell Creel, supervisor of Community Relations at the Plymouth plant of the Burroughs Corporation and active in many local groups, has been promoted to a new position that has moved his work to Detroit.

Creel left last Wednesday for the Detroit Main plant office where he is manager of editorial services for the public relations division of Burroughs.

Taking his place is Hugh M. Griffin who joined the local plant last July as editor of the employee newspaper. He was formerly in the public relations department with Wyandotte Chemical Corp.

Creel, who lives in Commerce Township, came here in April 1954. He is presently on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, on the Community Fund board, president of the Plymouth Theatre Guild and a member of the Plymouth Lions. He will resign from the Chamber and Community Fund boards but plans to remain with the Theatre Guild and Lions for a while.

"Plymouth is one of the finest communities I have ever been associated with," Creel said this week, "and I hope to maintain the many friendships I have made here."

He first joined Burroughs in 1951 as editor of an employee magazine. His new job will make him responsible for the speakers bureau, writing speeches, guest relations, stockholder reports, annual reports and other public relations assignments.

Front Row Center

by George Spelvin

That eerie sound you hear emanating from the high school auditorium belongs properly to the production of "Double Door"—the Plymouth Theatre Guild's winter term play. Many thrilling, chilling moments give this old favorite a tenseness of interest that will reward anyone that attends. "Double Door" opened last night to an enthusiastic audience of first-nighters. The play will continue for the next three nights. Come up to the Plymouth High School auditorium and discover for yourself what secret is locked behind the ornate double doors of the Van Brett mansion.

That last bit sounds almost like a TV commercial. Well, it was. It's time many of us in this area took time to see what an excellent acting job that the Plymouth Theatre Guild members do. Ford Sutherland has worked hard putting the cast through its paces for the past five weeks. Hal Young as Dr. Sutherland's stage manager and right-hand man is adding his experience and guidance to make this a top production. And Betty Houghton has done more than her share as the producer to see that Plymouth will view an outstanding drama. By the way, this is the 29th production for the Guild in their 10th season.

While the thespians are scurrying about ringing up the curtain on "Double Door", the Players Guild of Livonia and South Redford are in the initial stages of their spring show. "The Tender Trap", a happy farce, that has a wild third act, will keep audiences howling for three acts. Old George will have more details on their casting and subsequent production problems as we get closer to the Ides of March.

Speaking of the Livonia-South Redford Player's Guild reminds us of a kind gesture on their part. Since "Double Door" requires costumes of the gay '90's, the costume chairman of the Plymouth Theatre Guild checked with the Livonia-South Redford group and asked if they could borrow from their fine stock of costumes. Their board of directors very kindly gave their consent. Cooperation of this ilk is worth noting. Of course the day should be here when the Plymouth Guild should begin to acquire costumes for future productions. If they had a headquarters or a home of their own, the storage problem could be licked. There must

40 Deer

SOUTH PORTLAND, Me.—(UP)—John W. Morelli, 69, has bagged 40 deer in the last 45 deer hunting seasons. In 1916, the last season in which Maine law permitted a hunter to shoot two deer, Morelli scored a double. He retires next year after 51 years with the Boston & Maine Railroad. "That's retirement from railroading, not from deer hunting," Morelli said. "I'll never retire from that. And next year I'll be shooting number 41."

How to Handle Condensation

Condensation, if neglected, works as ruthlessly as termites in destroying a home's structure. Whether a house is situated in the humid south or in the cold, damp north, there are ways to rid the interior of condensation.

The most contributing factor to condensation is a homeowner's desire to make his dwelling airtight. By doing this, he does get the most out of a heating dollar in winter or a cooling unit in summer. But, if he doesn't permit his house to "breathe," he can expect troublesome condensation.

How can a homeowner detect condensation? It is vapor that fogs windows and wets walls and ceilings. It's created by warm air inside the home fighting its way to get out. Interior condensation pressure is so great that it penetrates anything porous such as brick, wood, concrete. When this warm air comes in contact with cold surfaces it condenses into moisture.

The harm created by condensation, or moisture, can be excessive. It causes rust on steel and iron structure materials, mildew and eventual rotting of lumber, and discomfort because of heavy dampness in the house. There are various causes of condensation. It comes from cooking, bathing, washing and ironing clothes and other common living habits of a family.

To cope with this situation, members of a family can perform simple tasks. A fogged window, for example, means heavy moisture has been created in a room or rooms. By opening slightly one or two windows, air is circulated to clear windowpanes and remove moisture.

Another moisture preventive is keeping a home's basement dry. Should the laundry be located in this part of the house, make sure windows are open when washing and drying clothes. If a home does not have a basement, cover the crawl space with heavy asphalt roofing paper even though the earth may feel dry on the surface.

The most efficient way to remove moisture stemming from cooking is to install a small ventilating fan in the kitchen window. Until this is done an open kitchen door will greatly reduce the amount of moisture created by boiling water and cooking.

Since all warm air rises, homeowners should check their attics to make sure there are proper outlets for warm air escape. If air cannot escape, ventilation is inadequate. Therefore, louvers should be installed at each end of the house near the roof. Most lumberyards sell ready-made louvers of all sizes.

Don't Try to Fix Heating Plant

Do not attempt to adjust or repair your house heating boiler yourself and particularly do not tinker with the controls. This is the advice offered by the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau.

It is best to leave all repairs and replacements to an experienced heating and piping contractor. The contractor who installed your system should have left his name and address and telephone number posted near your boiler so that you will always know whom to call in case service is needed.

A wise precaution is to arrange for the inspection and cleaning of the heating system by a heating and piping contractor at least once a year. At this time the service man will lubricate all moving parts and check on the operation of the controls.

When you are planning major repairs or modernization of the heating system, you should also consult with a reliable heating firm for estimates and suggestions.

One of the most worthwhile modernization projects is the replacement of an old coal fired boiler equipped with some type of a conversion burner with a modern streamlined jacketed boiler with a built-in burner designed especially for the boiler. Also available are package boilers with all controls and accessories installed.

Heating contractors are glad to assist in arranging for financing terms for heating plant improvements.

Evergreen trees thrive by having their leaves or needles washed every 15 to 20 days. Roots also should be watered thoroughly.

Income Tax Tips

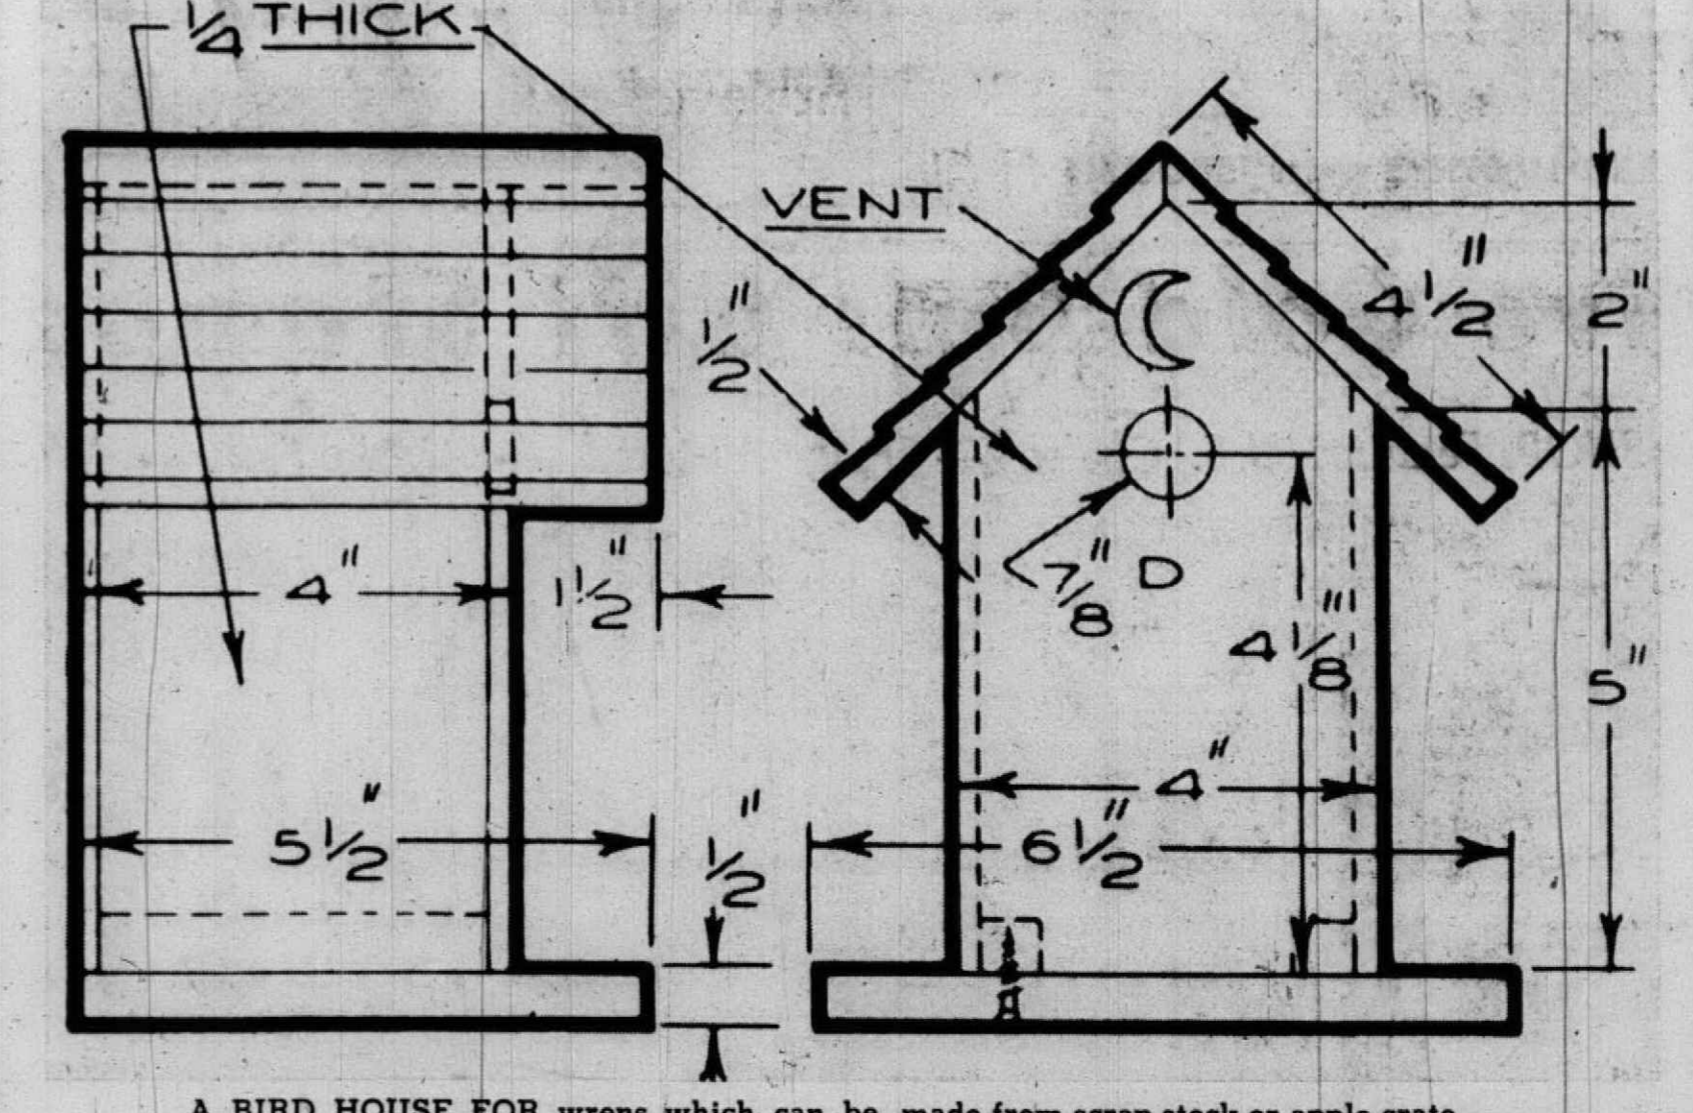

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Among items you may deduct from income in figuring your income tax:

Contributions to non-profit schools, hospitals, churches (including assessments) and veterans organizations; dues paid to unions and professional societies;

Carrying charges on installment buying; retail sales taxes; medical expenses, including eyeglasses and dentures, above 3 per cent of your income; interest on a home mortgage; and special schooling for the mentally or physically handicapped.

You may NOT deduct:

Expenses for social clubs, hunting or fishing licenses, auto inspection fees, travel ordered or suggested by your doctor, water taxes, accidental loss of cash or personal property (except in cases of natural calamity or theft), damage by rust or gradual erosion, loss on auto trade-in, travel to and from work, legal penalties or fines and rent of your home.

AN APARTMENT house for birds will be occupied only by martins. One family per house is the rule with other kinds of birds.

SATISFIED TENANT IS the bluebird whose nesting box is no more than 5 feet from the ground. A location that is low and in the open discourages alien birds.

Simple Plan Is Given

A simple project to make, and one that is a great deal of fun for father and children, is a birdhouse. After dad has laid out the project and has cut stock to size, the kids can do the finishing job.

The wren house diagram is simple to follow, but the finished project is a welcome invitation to "fine feathered friends" flying about the property. Bird houses must be constructed during winter and installed outside so they have a chance to weather before birds make a permanent home. Birds, like humans, do not like the odor of fresh paint or stain.

The wood stock necessary for this wren house can be found at a lumber store or maybe about the workshop. The stock thicknesses do not have to be followed as specified, but they should be a reasonable facsimile.

The ridge design of the roof can be made on a circular saw equipped with a moulding cutter head and knives. The circular saw arbor or table should be tilted about 2 degrees before passing the roof over the knives to make the design. If this power tool is not available, the roof surface can remain flat.

A coat of creosote or stain will waterproof the house. If paint is preferred, choose a quiet color such as brown, dark green or gray, never a brilliant color or white.

Once the house is completed, it should be installed 6 to 10 feet above the ground, usually on a 2-inch diameter pipe or wood pole. A funnel shaped piece of metal fastened about two feet below the house will discourage cats from climbing the wood pole.

Wrens do not require perches, and eliminating the perch will keep sparrows, who are an enemy of wrens, from the house. If the house is for some other birds, then a perch can be installed.

Replacing of Glass Isn't too Difficult

Sometime, during the many years of home ownership, it will be impossible to secure a glazier for a glass-cutting chore, and it will have to be done by the homeowner. Cutting glass to size for window frames, all loose glass and putty should be removed. Measurements are taken side to side and top to bottom. When replacing a broken window pane, all loose glass and putty should be removed. Measurements are taken side to side and top to bottom. When cutting the glass to fit the pane, measurements can be slightly smaller — about an eighth — all around. This loose fitting will be solidified when the putty is installed.

Depending on the window frame — either metal or wood — make sure the right putty is used. If wood putty is used on metal window frames, the putty will deteriorate within a few months. When spreading the putty with a knife, dip blade in linseed oil from time to time to make sure of a smooth finish.

When replacing the cutting motion, the cutter should be held at an angle the way a pencil is held. Use an even pressure and draw the cutter towards the body. With a little practice, it will be easy to "hear" the right cut, and know when to use the right amount of pressure. Of course, a fine unbroken cut means that the glass has been scored properly.

Then, placing the guide or yardstick just behind the cut under the glass, only slight pressure is necessary to split the glass to a perfect line.

Tomato Growers In N.Y. Warned

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — New York state tomato growers have been warned that they must grow a better product or be forced out of business. They also must grow more tomatoes.

Prof. Philip A. Menges, a vegetable crops specialist at the State College of Agriculture at Cornell University, said New York growers are losing their markets because they fail to keep up with California, Michigan and other states.

He noted that New York's average yield in 1957 was 8.6 tons an acre for canning factory tomatoes and only six tons for the fresh market. California growers, by comparison, are averaging about 18 tons to the acre, and because of the high yield are able to sell at a lower price than New York farmers.

Menges estimates that New York's canning factory growers failed to harvest 50 per cent of their crop in 1957.

PRESSED GLASS salt and creamer in Ribbed Palm, an early pattern.

Collectors Eye Pressed Glass Patterns

Antique collectors who specialize in glass long ignored the pressed glass that was made abundantly in this country from about 1840 to 1890. Pressed glass, however, has come into its own in the last 25 to 30 years. Discriminating collectors concentrate on locating pieces to make a matching set of one pattern and are as interested in clear as in colored glass. An exceptionally fine pattern of the early pressed glass period is Ribbed Palm in the articles pictured. This pattern was illustrated in catalogues brought out during the 1860's by McKee Brothers, glass manufacturers in Pittsburgh, Pa. (authorities say the pattern was made earlier). In their catalogues the pattern was called Sprig. Other names given this same pattern were Oak Leaf, and Leaf and Acanthus. The name Ribbed Palm, which has been used for many years, is appropriate since this pattern has heavy lines. All pieces show a clear palmetto or ribbed leaf against heavy ribbing. The stems of

Better Blooms, Minimum Effort Achieved with 30 Newcomers

Seed catalogues and racks this year have made room for not less than 30 new varieties of annual flowers. Annual flowers are those sown in spring for summer bloom.

A newly-named variety of an old favorite should grow and flower better than many of the old varieties. Better bloom in return for less work is the chief reason why seedsmen introduce new varieties. This certainly is true of the two leading newcomers for 1958—the All-American winners Maytime petunia and Petite series of marigolds.

In order to win an All-American award, seed must

Winter Pears Plentiful Now

Fresh winter pears are one of the most plentiful fruits available now, and according to the Detroit Consumer Marketing Information Agency they deserve an important place in your family's diet! The two most common varieties on the retail counters are the Bosco and the Anjou. Remember that Anjou pears are naturally green, even when fully ripe. But in order to tell when they are ready to eat, test them to see if they respond to slight pressure of the thumb and forefinger. Heavy pressure will damage the pear.

If the pears are not fully ripened, leave them for a day or two in a paper bag at room temperature - 60 to 70 degrees. Very hard pears take a week or more. Then they should be refrigerated.

The winter pears are rich in levulose sugar, the sweetest of all known sugars. In fact, they contain more levulose than any other fresh fruit. For that reason, they're an excellent after-school snack for the children. But these sweet pears are also popular with the calorie counters for they average less than 74 calories per pear. Thus, the overweight person who craves rich sweets can help satisfy his "Sweet Tooth" by eating fresh pears—but he still won't be taking in many calories.

There are as many exciting new uses for fresh pears as there are for other fresh fruits. They may be baked whole or halved and served for dessert or breakfast. Or they may be broiled or fried to be served as an accompaniment to meats. And, of course, there are a large number of pear desserts which are particularly delicious when spiced with ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg or cloves. Pear salads will remain sparkling white when a citrus fruit juice is sprinkled over the cut surfaces to prevent discoloration.

PEAR-DATE PIE

4 ripe winter pears
1 tablespoon orange juice
Grated rind of 1/2 orange
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup sliced dates
1 tablespoon butter
Line 8-inch pie pan with pastry. Arrange sliced pears in pie shell, sprinkle with orange juice and rind. Mix sugar, flour, and spices together and sprinkle over pears. Dot with butter and sliced dates. Cover with top crust. Bake at 425° F. for 25 minutes, or until the pears are tender. Serves 6.

be grown and judged in 26 test gardens in different parts of the country. Maytime, an F1 hybrid petunia, and the Petite series of dwarf marigolds are typical of the really splendid growing new plants.

Maytime petunia has large, somewhat fringed flowers of light salmon with darker veining. Like all F1 hybrids, Maytime grows vigorously, starts to blossom early and continues to produce flowers of the same size all summer until frost. Equally important, all plants of Maytime are uniform in growth.

Many other F1 hybrid petunias are introduced this year. Blue Lustre has big flowers like Maytime but in a good petunia blue. Purple Waters is a real purple in simple, small petunia flowers. So also are Peach Satin and Pink Satin in the colors of their names. Seafoam has huge (4 inches or more across) white flowers, while Kandy Kane has salmon and white flowers, the amount of each color differing in each flower.

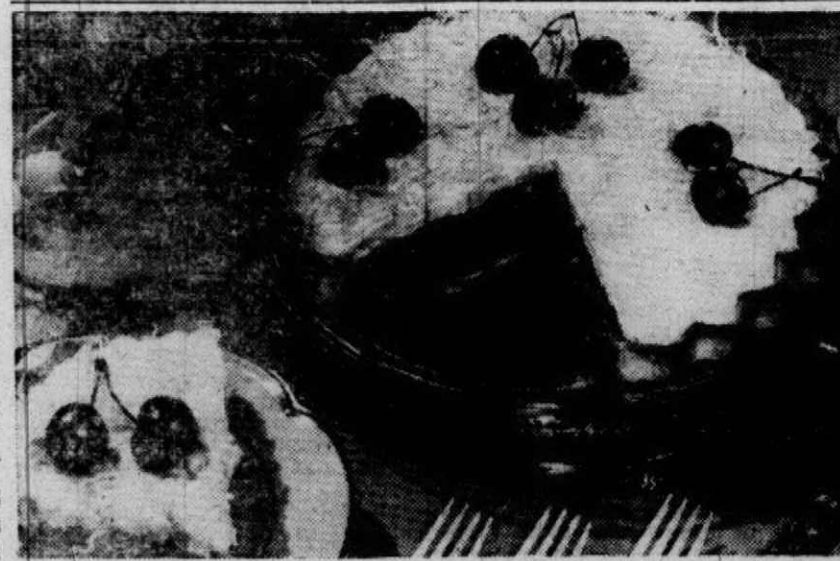

Also an F1 hybrid is the marigold Climax, and the same good qualities of vigor, long blooming and uniform growth can be expected. There is both a yellow and an orange Climax with slightly frilled round flowers about 5 inches wide and 4 inches deep. They open on plants only 2 to 2 1/2 feet tall.

The petite series of marigolds differs from all others in that they have been bred for compact plants and earlier bloom. There are four of them—Petite Gold, Petite Orange, Petite Harmony, a maroon and gold bicolor, and Petite Yellow.

Any of the Petite marigolds, with plants only 6 inches high and 8 to 10 inches wide, are excellent for edging walks, driveways or flower borders, to add color to rock gardens or rock walls in summer, and to fill window or planter boxes. Equally good for these purposes are other dwarf plants that are new this year.

Four months of bloom without any special care is the record set by gomphrena Cissy last summer. Cissy has white cloverlike flowers on plants 6 inches tall and Buddy has the rosy blossoms typical of the taller, older gomphrena. (These blossoms can be cut and dried for winter bouquets, too.) Wee Willie sweet william opens full size flowers in shades of red and pink on plants only 4 inches tall. Dwarf lobelia Rosamond has carmine blossoms with white eyes.

Summer instead of fall bloom on snapdragon will be the result of planting the new Panorama. It produces long stems of flowers in clear colors all summer in spite of heat, drought and humidity. Certain to be popular too is the zinnia flour, and spices together and sprinkle over pears. Dot with butter and sliced dates. Cover with top crust. Bake at 425° F. for 25 minutes, or until the pears are tender. Serves 6.

February's Cherry Pie

Cherry red cherries and snowy flaked coconut lend distinction to this Bavarian Pie. Don't wait for an "occasion" to make it... make it today. Once you've enchanted the family with this simple but festive dessert, you'll be sure to put the recipe in your "most used" file under "Heavenly Desserts!"

Cherry Coconut Bavarian Pie

1 package cherry flavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups hot water
1/2 cup canned cherry juice
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup drained canned red sour cherries
1 1/2 cups tender-thin flaked coconut
3/4 cup cream, whipped
1 baked 9-inch pie shell

Dissolve cherry fruit-flavored gelatin in hot water. Add fruit juices. Chill until slightly thickened. Then place in bowl of ice and water and whip with egg beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Chop 1/2 cup of cherries. Add to gelatin mixture. Fold in 3/4 cup of the coconut and one-half the whipped cream. Turn into cold pie shell and chill until firm. Spread with remaining whipped cream and garnish with remaining cherries and coconut.

Raw Egg Reveals Grade

Break the egg. If the white is thick and stands up around a firm, high yoke, you probably have a Grade A egg. It may be small, medium, or large in size, but quality-wise it's Grade A. Grade A means high quality. It means the egg will have delicate flavor and be a fine choice when your menu calls for poached, soft-cooked or fried eggs. Grade B egg is a good egg, too, but the white is thin, and the egg spreads over a wide area. Yoke is rather flat, and may break easily. Flavor is less delicate. Both have the same food value, and both can be used in cooking. Grades are our guide to quality when buying eggs. Grade B eggs are better used in cakes, cookies, custards, sauces, scrambled eggs and omelets, where appearance is not so important.

Meat Specialty

When preparing to serve smoked tongue in your home, see that there is plenty of gingersnap sauce to serve over the meat. It's a different way to serve this variety meat, and the family will go for this unusual innovation.

NOTICE TO PLYMOUTH AREA TELEPHONE CUSTOMERS

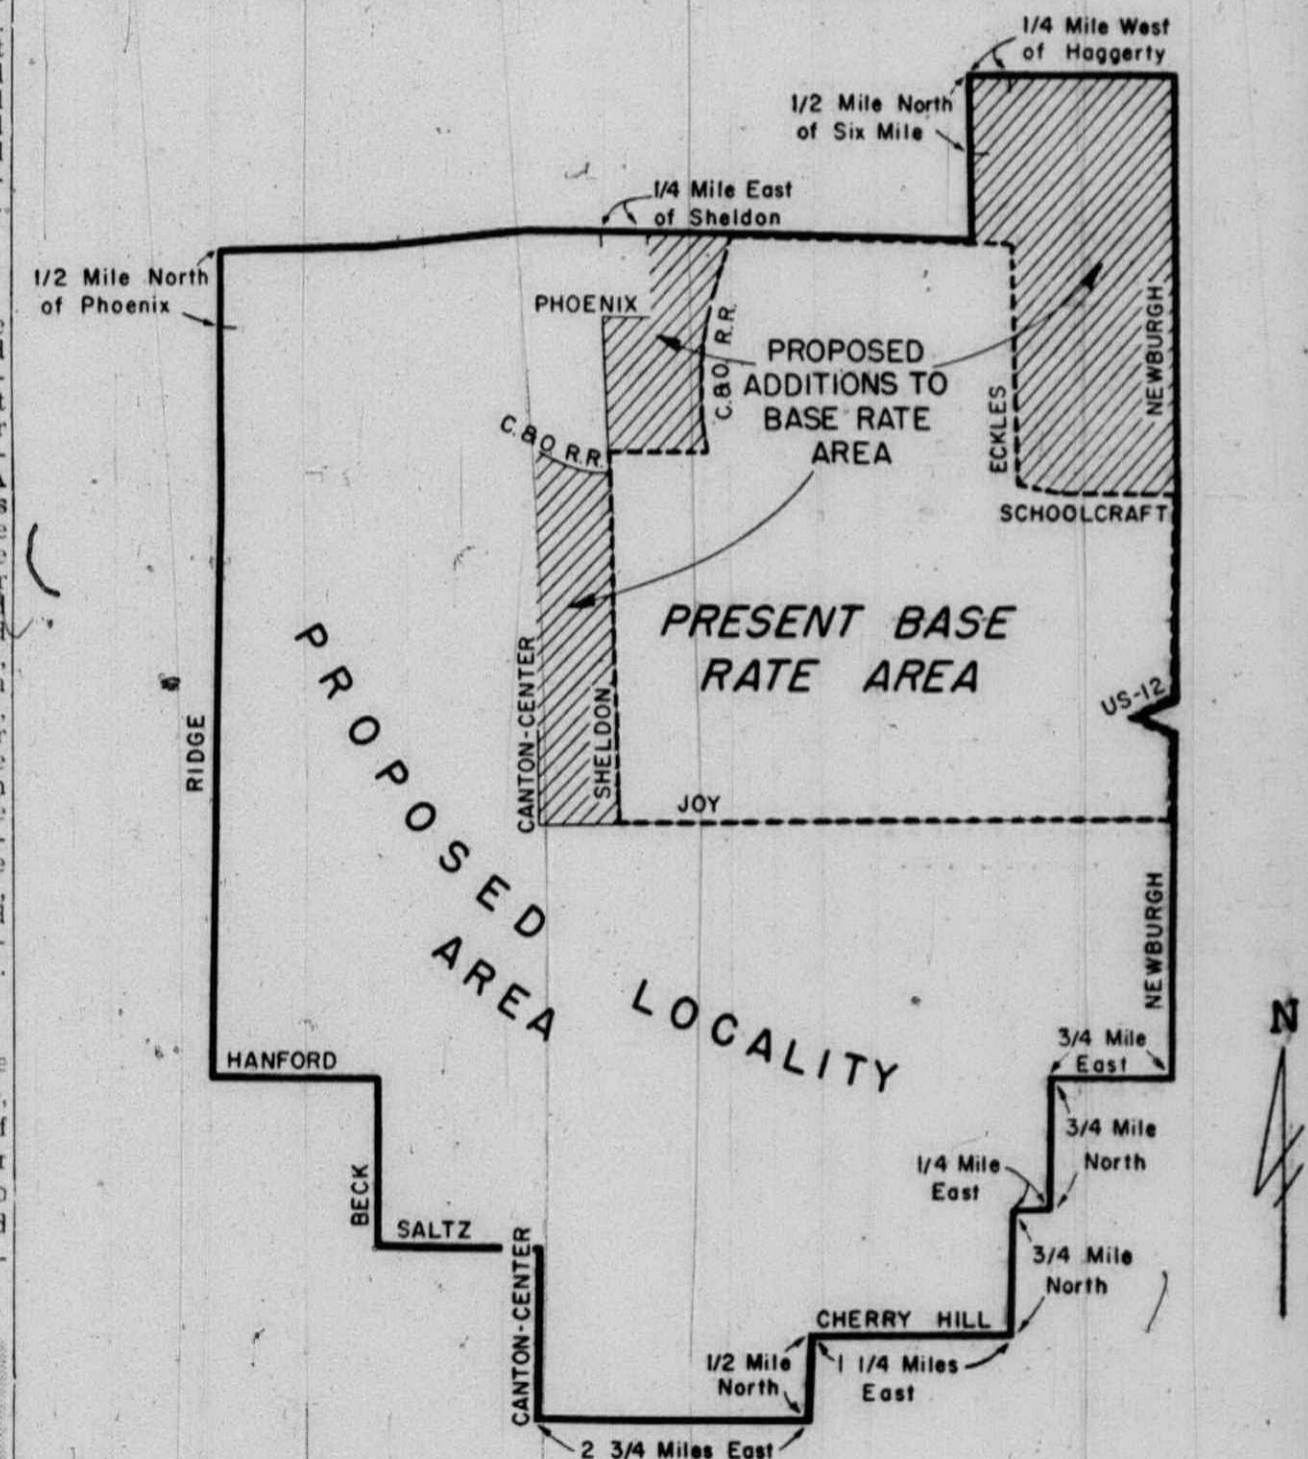

When modern dial telephone service comes to Plymouth this Spring, customers with one-party and two-party service will be able to dial their calls direct to millions of Michigan and out-of-state telephones.

With the new equipment it is not possible to provide this service to lines with more than two parties and the Company therefore is applying to the Michigan Public Service Commission for permission to discontinue four-party service. Four-party customers would be provided with one-party or two-party service as they desire. This would mean an increase in monthly rates for all four-party customers located in the present Plymouth "Base Rate Area," as shown on the accompanying map.

The Company also will ask the Commission for permission to enlarge the base rate area, by adding the territory shown on the map, and to establish a "Locality Rate Area," also shown on the map. This means that mileage charges for one-party and two-party services would be eliminated in the base rate area additions and in the locality area, and would be substantially reduced in the remaining rural area (beyond the area shown on the map). Because of the elimination of mileage charges, four-party customers in the base rate area additions and in the locality area could obtain two-party residence service for less than they now pay.

Rural (multi-party) service would not be offered in the base rate or locality areas and this would mean higher monthly rates for business rural customers in the base rate area and for both business and residence rural customers in the locality area.

Rural service would continue to be available in the remaining rural area and customers with this type of service will be able to dial calls direct to telephones in Ann Arbor, Livonia, South Lyon, Wayne, Ypsilanti; and later in 1958 to Northville.

THE MONTHLY RATES FOR ONE-PARTY AND TWO-PARTY SERVICE WILL BE:

		Residence		Business
		Flat Rate	Message Rate	Flat Rate	Message Rate
In the present and proposed Base Rate Area:	One-Party	$4.75	$10.25	$6.75 [†]	(not offered)
	Two-Party	3.85	(not offered)
In the proposed Locality Rate Area and in the rural area beyond*:	One-Party	5.50	11.00	7.50 [†]	(not offered)
	Two-Party	4.35	(not offered)

*In the rural area, monthly mileage charges apply in addition to the rates shown above, as follows:
One-Party—75¢ per 1/4 mile
Two-Party—50¢ per 1/4 mile from the Locality Area boundary. Minimum, $1.50
†For 75 messages; additional messages, 4¢ each.

THE MONTHLY RATES FOR SERVICES THAT WOULD BE DISCONTINUED ARE:

In the present Base Rate Area:	Four-party	$3.10
In the proposed Base Rate Area additions and in the proposed Locality Rate Area:	Four-party	3.10, plus mileage shown below†
	Residence, Rural	4.00
	Business, Rural	6.00
In the rural area:	Four-party	3.10, plus mileage shown below†

†Present monthly mileage charges for four-party service in the rural area: 25¢ per 1/4 mile from the Base Rate Area boundary. Minimum, $1.50.

(NOTE: The above rates are subject to the 10% Federal Tax.)

The Commission has scheduled a public hearing of the proposals described above to be held March 10, 1958 at 10:30 A.M. (E.S.T.) in the Lewis Cass Building, Lansing, Michigan. Anyone interested may attend the hearing and will be given an opportunity to present testimony if they wish.

If you have any questions about the proposal, please call the Company's Business Office at Plymouth 9900. Our representative will be glad to discuss it with you.

The Commission has granted the Company's request for a rehearing of an application filed November 16, 1956 for general rate increases throughout the State. As a result of the rehearing, rates higher or lower than those shown above might result.

Housework Keeps You Healthy, Chic

Your housework can keep you young and healthy, says Coral Morris, Michigan State University extension specialist in home management.

You can get healthful exercise from your daily household tasks if you know how to work without strain. Bending, lifting, pulling, pushing and the countless steps taken in housework can become your way to exercise.

When bending, stand with one foot slightly forward and bend through the knee and ankle joints until within easy reach of the task. To lift something, go down by folding your knee and thigh joints and rise with your load by straightening the joints, keeping your spine straight.

When you carry packages, don't always carry them on the same side. Spine and shoulder strain may result if you do. It's best if you carry things directly in front of yourself.

When you need to climb stairs, keep your body erect when placing your foot on the stair ahead. Then straighten the upbent knee and ankle joint. This way you use the leg as a jack-and rise as on an elevator.

The right kind of food eaten at regular times is as important to the homemaker as to any other member of the family. It does much to provide the strength and energy needed for any job.

You should plan each day to include some enjoyable activity. It will give the spark necessary to get work done quickly and easily.

More Meat for Teen-Agers

Is it possible we are overlooking the proper growth and development of our most important crop? Our children! According to proven experiments, teen-agers need from 30 to 50 per cent more of certain food nutrients than their parents. Meat is an excellent source of the high quality protein, vitamins and minerals these young adults need in extra amounts.

BOOK REVIEW
COLLECTIVISM IN THE CHURCHES
By R. ROY PURSELL
Here is a long over-due, step-by-step account of the left-wing political activities of the Federal, National and World Councils of Churches.
The author, a Protestant lay theologian, is the general chairman of the Church League of America. Edgar C. Bundy was born in Stamford, Conn., and now resides in Wheaton, Ill. Besides having been a newspaper editor, a country-wide lecturer, world traveler, he has performed intelligence work for 16 years as an Air Force Reserve officer.
Mr. Bundy has written thousands of ministers all over the country who want to get the truth so that they can inform their congregations, but who would have to go to a hundred different sources and overcome all kinds of opposition in their quest.
In December when Dr. Edwin Dahlberg was elected to the presidency of the National Council of Churches and it was revealed that Dr. Dahlberg had a long record of aiding the Communist fronts, the lay people became concerned over the possibility that their own money would go to finance the destruction of the Christian church.
"Collectivism in the Churches" documents the well-planned, determined methods by which the destruction of our basic liberties is being carried on by the Councils—in the name of the "Social Gospel."
Mr. Bundy says "these methods and the policies which direct them have been shaped by Socialists and pro-Communists who wish to control the churches and through them, to spread left-wing propaganda under the guise of religious teaching.
The lay man and woman will welcome this book so that the infiltration of anti-Christian tactics can be recognized and exposed before they can twist the minds of Sunday School students."
Priced at $5.00.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

Dear Miss Evans: I am 8 years old. Please tell me what I am like. CHRISSE
You really try to follow directions and do what is told you to do. You pay close attention to details. You have a creative mind, and like to construct things with your hands. There is a little bit of stubbornness shown here but not so severe that you can be convinced that you need to change.
Dear Jean: I would be very pleased if you would analyze my handwriting. I have had it analyzed before and would like to compare the other analysis to yours.
I would also like to know some facts about handwriting analyzing. J. C.
Dear J. C.: You have a spirit that never admits defeat. You keep on keeping on against all adversities. You are emotionally expressive, sometimes regretting an impulsive act. You leap before you look. There is evidence of a conscious effort at self-control.
You have the ability to interpret music. This might be evident in some form of musical expression such as playing an instrument or it might lead to composing or directing. The ability is there and should be made use of.
Grapho Analysis is the only handwriting analysis recognized in the United States courts as authentic evidence in forgery cases. It is also employed by many police departments where it is used along with finger-printing and lie detector tests. It is becoming more widely used for job applications where it is possible to put the right person in the right position. High schools are using it in counseling students when they are deciding on the correct course to pursue. Grapho Analysis eliminates many needless hours of study for the student. The ability is there otherwise have been misguided.
Dear Jean: Your column seems to be quite worthwhile and interesting. I would appreciate your telling me something about myself and suggesting what line of work I would be best suited for. BONNI
Dear BONNI: You would be happy working with people and doing something that would give you the opportunity to have a change of scenery and variety of duties. You would accomplish that which you set out to do and would also be willing to attempt a new venture. You have good organizational ability; you are able to set things in order quickly and without much trouble. You like to be your own particular self. You like to stand independently and be different from other people.
Dear Jean: Would you please analyze my handwriting to see if I have any talents? I am thinking of trying my hand at something for the future if I ever have to use it. I hope not. Dear A. M. W. T.: You have too many irons in the fire now without going into anything else at this time. You are a doer and your mind is darting from one thing to another. This can result in much confusion and unhappiness. You are anxious to prepare for the future but in your haste perhaps you are neglecting the present.
There is much ability for success in the future but first of all you should take inventory of your activities and thoughts now and eliminate any that are not bringing the satisfaction and happiness you desire.

Michigan Motorists Kill 2,931 Deer

—At least 2,931 deer were killed by automobiles and trucks last year on Michigan highways—the second highest total on record.

This highway toll was exceeded only by the record 3127 whitetails killed during 1956.

The number of deer killed in collisions with vehicles has more than doubled during the last five years as traffic and deer populations continue to increase.

In addition to the known fatalities, other deer struck by cars undoubtedly were injured and may have died later in the woods as the result of these injuries.

Last year, some 1144 deer were killed by motor vehicles in the northern lower peninsula, an increase over the 1139 killed in this region in 1956. The toll in the southern lower peninsula also increased from 748 in 1956 to 769 last year.

Report from Lansing

BY JOHN SWAINSON, STATE SENATOR

Very recently, the Superintendent of Public Instruction in Michigan and the Governor received a lengthy and thorough report on the State's financial needs in education from a non-partisan committee representing practically every cross-section, both organizational and regional, of the State.

With the report of this committee, and all previous studies, it was made clear that there is no possible angle, no magic formula, for cutting education costs and still meeting the need.

Nevertheless, it came as no surprise when the Capitol's United Press correspondent, Jack Vandenberg, reported predictions that the biggest budget cuts were apt to come in education. At the same time, he indicated, the anonymous lawmakers he had interviewed admitted the education budget would be the most difficult to cut "because of heavy pressure from interest groups in that area."

If ever there should exist a large "interest" group in any area, this is it. And, if ever there has been an unnecessarily beclouded issue, this is it.

As a matter of fact, our school crisis, in several directions, is the result of inadequate progress in appropriation to meet continuously increasing population. In this instance "population" does not refer to migrants, emigrants or population shifts. It refers to number of babies born between two census decades.

We are close enough to 1960 to know that the forecasts have proven correct: public school enrollment will have risen by the full one-third forecast over a 7-year period. There has been some commentary in the past week on the fact that the state's major universities received appropriations last year on the basis of "inflated" enrollments. The legislative fuss over fees for higher education last year may be at least partially responsible for that slight reduction and the evidence of rising need continues to exist.

Last week Senate Bill 1054 was passed by the Senate. This bill would attempt to apply last year's inadequate formula to this year's increased need. Some of us protested its passage because it cannot even meet the minimal educational needs of Michigan's 1,600,000 boys and girls and some 59,000 teachers.

It ignores the fact that this formula will not provide the desperately needed 10,000 classrooms where none now exist or replacement of obsolete and unsafe facilities. It ignores the fact that there are more youngsters on half-day sessions and multiple sessions than ever before. Trained teachers continue to leave the profession, not for monetary reasons alone but also because they cannot tolerate the heart-break of what we are doing to our children.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, the state school superintendent, has asked the Legislature to pass a gross allowance figure of $197 per pupil. He considers this a "recommendation reluctantly made in view of our present financial situation." But even this reluctantly made recommendation is $7 higher than the Senate figure, at its best.

I am disturbed, and am sure you will be, over the efforts to solve the State's financial problems at the expense of our children's futures. Dr. Bartlett pleads that "we can no longer continue to put a moratorium on the growth and educational development of our boys and girls. Our youngsters are not blocks of wood that can be turned out on a lathe at monetary convenience." I agree with him in this. I also agree that "while we hesitate and delay, the future of our youngsters is already being developed and no amount of effort tomorrow will change it."

One of the beclouding factors around this issue may be the ever-current and recurrent debates over techniques of education — how to teach "Johnny" to read or write; whether to teach Johnny to drive, etc.

The basic controversy over the amount of state school funds, the state aid formula, does not revolve around any education technique. It involves minimal approaches to education, basic needs in terms of classrooms and teachers. It would be tragic if any debate on techniques beclouded the real need. We cannot put our youngsters on the shelf while we find our way out of financial crises. There is no more urgent state expenditure than education.

Another of my colleagues and I have introduced a bill calling for 250 scholarship awards at large per year, based on competitive tests to qualified Michigan students, for their higher education. These would be awarded and supervised by a commission chosen for that purpose. We know the provisions of S. 1047, the scholarship bill, will only begin to fill a great need. We also know that the State and nation desperately need the gifts and talents of at least that minimal number of youngsters who might not otherwise be able to go on to higher education, and greater contribution.

TIPS FOR TEENS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: How long in advance should a boy ask a girl for a date?"

A.—How far in advance a boy gives a girl a date invitation varies with different doings and circumstances. Two weeks ahead is average for "big" dates such as proms and "formals," and less time for more casual date-fun.

About a week or so is time enough for a party invitation for special school and church activities. Several days ahead is usually time enough for a movie date.

Casual dates like a soda or a hamburger at the neighborhood snack shop can be suggested any time . . . so can house dates.

Some girls think that the more a boy likes them, the more advance notice he gives in date-making, but this isn't always true. For example, if a friend or a relative unexpectedly gives a boy some tickets at the last minute for a game or a play, it's a compliment — not lack of regard — for him to call a girl and invite her. But he should explain the situation . . . the unexpected tickets . . . so she won't think he's spent the previous week asking all the other girls he knows to go!

This kind of last-minute invitation is a compliment to a girl, because it shows that he has chosen her to share the unexpected fun with him . . . perhaps it's something so special that he wouldn't have been able to invite her otherwise.

But it shows a lack of good manners and consideration for a boy to ask a girl always at the last minute, even if they "go steady."

Q.—"Dear Elinor: This is a serious problem to me, because it has to do with my future. I am a girl of 18 and

Plymouth Senior, Junior Bands Enter District Festival in Ypsi

More than 35 members of the Plymouth Senior and Junior High school bands participated in the 1958 District Four Solo and Ensemble Festivals held in Ypsilanti recently.

The District Festival is a "stepping stone" for senior high students, in that they must receive a rating of 1, or superior to be eligible for the State Festival. A recent ruling by the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association states that "junior high school students shall participate in district festivals only."

Those senior high students who will participate in the State Festival to be held March 22 in East Lansing are: flute duet, Dolores Aldrich, Mavis Williams; woodwind duet, Nancy Eaton, Elizabeth Worth; clarinet duet, Larry Livingston, Gerald Fischer; alto clarinet duet, Marilyn Holst, Mary Jane Readman; saxophone quartet, Nancy Eaton, Donald Williams, James Carney, Frank Roberts; and flute solo, Betsy Edgar.

Other senior high groups which played last Saturday were: woodwind quintet, Betty Edgar, Mary Travis, Larry Livingston, Elizabeth Worth, Robert Westover; clarinet quartet, Jeff Huntington, April Corey, Donald Argo, Elaine Moran; clarinet duet, Carol Graham, Elaine Moran; clarinet solo, April Corey; piano solo, Lon Dickerson; piano solo, Marilyn Holst and flute solo, Dolores Aldrich.

Four Junior High Events (ninth graders may enroll in this division) captured 1 ratings. These groups were: piano solo, Gerald Fischer; baritone duets, Donald Jordan, Richard Bolen; flute solo, Sharon Sprague; and flute duet, Sharon Sprague, Martha West.

Other Junior High groups which played in Ypsilanti last Saturday were: cornet duet, Charles Ellis, James Yost; flute duet, Carolyn Scott, David Fey; and cornet solo, Charles Ellis.

The next event for the two bands will be the District Band and Orchestra Festival, to be held in Royal Oak Kimball High school on Saturday, February 22.

Stolen Check Case Solved At Walled Lake

Two brothers and a widow have been arrested by Walled Lake police in connection with the theft and passing of checks which were drawn upon the Plymouth office of the National Bank of Detroit.

Walled Lake Police Chief J. A. Decker said that Joseph Kochan, 31, of Pontiac, and his brother, Stephen, 25, of Rochester, admitted taking the checks January 31 from the Sealtest Distributors office in Walled Lake.

The brothers, both with prison records, then turned the checks over to Mrs. Betty Lou Harris, 23, of Pontiac, who herself forged other people's names and cashed them at supermarkets. Mrs. Harris' husband was killed several months ago in an auto accident and she has two children.

Chief Decker said that one of the supermarket owners was carrying out groceries and took Mrs. Harris' license number. She had written 15 checks and had passed 14 of them when she was caught. The checks brought her $1,320. Chief Decker added, with which she had already bought a record player and drapes. She had $211 on her person when arrested. The chief said that only four of the 14 supermarkets asked the woman to co-sign the checks.

The Batting Order

Democrats have given the umpire their batting order for the 1958 campaign as Republicans intensified their search for challengers.

The umpire in this political ball game for high stakes is the voter who goes to the polls next Nov. 7.

Technically, the Democratic lineup is only tentative, but the choices are not expected to have more than token opposition in the primary.

First to announce was Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, who will go after the seat now held by U.S. Senator Charles E. Potter, now finishing his first six-year term.

Hart's announcement included a generalized blast against policies of the Eisenhower administration. He attacked the foreign policy, economic doings at home, and failed to mention Potter.

Potter charged immediately that Gov. Williams "made up Hart's mind for him" and welcomed his challenger "to the swim."

The Hart announcement made Williams' decision to run for a sixth term anticlimactic. Williams, eyeing a presidential berth in 1960, feels he would be more attractive as a six-term governor than as a one-term U.S. Senator.

Williams allowed Hart to announce his candidacy for the Senate first for publicity reasons, observers said. "Obviously, it was to draw attention to Hart because he (Williams) felt he had no opposition and he wanted to do Phil a good turn," said one Republican leader.

Whether Hart ran for either office, it was decided months ago that Senator John B. Swainson (D-Plymouth) was the choice to replace him as lieutenant governor.

Both Hart and Swainson, now Senate minority leader and a strong voice in party councils, are wounded veterans of World War II. Swainson walks on a pair of artificial legs.

Both are good speakers. Hart has presided over the Senate for three years and Swainson has been in his position of party leadership on the floor for two years.

Williams grooming Hart for the next step in his political career, has turned over a large number of speaking engagements to the 46-year-old lieutenant governor.

Swainson has been the only legislator chosen to carry the Democratic message to the voters in an off-year.

Republicans have in Potter the only certain candidate in the 1958 elections. They still lack an obvious candidate for governor.

Potter Raps Labor

By SEN. CHARLES POTTER (Special to This Paper)

MEETING IN A PLUSH Miami Beach Hotel, a handful of labor bosses have served notice that they again plan to decide in advance who their members will vote for. They expect to dip into the treasury of hard-earned dues money to support those candidates in the coming political campaigns. The Corrupt Practices Act expressly forbids corporations or unions to make political contributions and these bosses know it.

I have always said that any union boss who says he can deliver the labor vote is insulting his members. I have great faith in the American working man and in his ability to make his own intelligent decisions. He is no rubber stamp. Past elections prove that workers do not vote like sheep no matter what some of their leaders may think. The American working man and his wife vote independently and according to their convictions and not as instructed by a team of two bit Napoleons.

A HOT WAR IS WAGING over missile contracts for Michigan as the Nation prepares to spend billions for the new weapons. Major battle ground: Washington, D. C.

Over 300,000 Michigan men and women desperately need the jobs missiles can help to provide and the American taxpayer needs the savings possible when missile work is entrusted to experts. Therefore, I am leaving no stone unturned to see that Michigan gets her fair share of the business. A skilled labor force and industrial genius more than qualify our State to meet the challenge of the intricate new weapons.

Last week the missile contract war flashed fire on two fronts — Detroit and Washington — when a Member of Congress charged that the Army had snubbed our State. After placing the huge $52 million Jupiter contract with Chrysler in Detroit, it was reported Major General John Medaris, Army Missile Chief, issued a written order banning all subcontracts in the Detroit area, directing them instead to an Alabama firm.

Within hours the Detroit Ordnance District had denied the charge. The Chief Industrial Officer at Redstone Arsenal in Alabama assured me over long distance that of 350 Jupiter subcontracts, 215 are in Michigan. It was also indicated that 738 of the 1,675 Redstone subcontracts are Michigan firms. Secretary of the Army Brucker assures he is personally conducting a full investigation of the matter.

Until the matter is settled, we would do well to remember one thing: Our State most certainly deserves the positive and wholehearted support of the entire Michigan Congressional Delegation in our continuing and vigorous efforts to obtain a full and fair share of this defense work for Michigan.

Squeeze Play

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

YOU'LL FIND JUST AS many clever retirement projects in tiny hamlets as in big cities. When I was in the mid-west recently I called on Mrs. Ellen Welander, 69, in Enterprise, Kan. She has just written a book called "A Kansan's Enterprise," and the profits bought a new electric organ for her church.

"Sometime ago," said this attractive grandmother of six, "I read an article by a retirement expert who suggested that folks past 60 write a record of their communities. He pointed out that such a record would not only be enjoyable to assemble but it would help to preserve dates, names, and incidents which might otherwise be lost forever with the passing of time. So I decided to give it a try."

After several years of leisurely research she had assembled a history of her hometown into a bulky but promising manuscript. At first it looked as though no one would publish the book. But then a plan occurred to her. She decided to donate the manuscript to her church, the church checked with various book printers and found that 1,000 copies could be published — in a regular, hard-cover binding with a lively, colorful dust jacket — for about $1,800.

As the manuscript mentioned the names of just about everyone who ever lived in this agricultural community of 1,500 residents, it was reasoned that it shouldn't be too difficult to distribute a thousand copies of the book in exchange for donations to the church of $3.50 per copy. This would result in sufficient profit to buy a new organ which the church needed badly. So the church proceeded to publish the manuscript.

The resulting book is a pleasure to see. It has 255 pages including eight pages of photographs and an appendix which lists everyone who ever graduated from the local high school. Although Mrs. Welander makes no claim to being a professional writer, she has written her book in a light, chatty style and the result is surprisingly good.

As predicted, people in the area were only too glad to make donations to the church in exchange for copies of the book, and a brand new organ has already been bought, and installed in the local Baptist Church.

"It's a tremendous thrill seeing my book in print," says Mrs. Welander, "but I can't say it was easy getting my material together. I found that very few historical facts had been written down and I had to depend a great deal on what older residents told me. I also got a lot of material from old copies of our weekly newspaper, and from town records and private documents. The book is mostly of interest to local people but parts of it have wider appeal, particularly the sections on Wild Bill Hickok who lived nearby in the 70's and Carry Nation who smashed the town saloon in 1901.

"Just about anyone with a slight flair for writing can turn out a useful historical record of his community," declared Mrs. Welander. "I wish more people would give it a try. Unless a record is kept much valuable historical data about our towns and suburbs will be lost with the passing of the pioneers."

If Your Name Is 'ADA'

By Ann Reynolds, Ph.D.

"Ada" can be short for "Adela", "Adeline" and "Adelaide". Each evolved from a name containing "adal", which is from the Old German, and means "noble". It is a word the ancient Teutonic tribes used for creating their names. They usually put two such name-words together.

The most popular of the girls' names formed with "adal" has been Adalheidis, in modern German "Adelheid"; it signifies approximately "noble sort" or "noble kind", the second half of it being the same as the last part of such English words as "childhood" or "knighthood".

Taken over into French, Adelheidis became "Adelaide", and today this French form is being used in many lands outside of France, too; shortened it became "Ada" and also "Addie."

Both Ada and Adelaide have namesakes also among cities. One "Ada" in Oklahoma was named for Ada Reed, daughter of the first postmaster of the town in the early years of the century. Many places have been named for the wives and daughters of their early settlers in these U.S., while the English gave their new settlements appellations honoring their kings and queens. Adelaide, the capital of Southern Australia, was named for the queen of William IV. of England, when founded in 1836. Queen Adelaide was the daughter of the Duke of Saxe-Meiningen, married to King William IV.

The most conspicuous Adelaide was queen of Italy and later German-Roman empress. She lived in the tenth century. When a young widow, was deprived of the Italian throne by Berengar II. who asked her to become the wife of his son. Adelaide refused. Whereupon she was seized by force; stripped of her jewels and fine clothes she was thrown into a filthy dungeon in the Castle of Garda. The picturesque mountain lake, the Lago di Garda, helped to keep Adelaide alive when she was rescued by a priest through a subterranean passage.

(SPECIAL TO THIS NEWS-PAPER)

WASHINGTON — Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, leading contender for Democratic presidential nomination, has been forced to take frequent, secret, rest periods back home in Texas.

Each time the senator departs by plane for home — sometimes as often as once a week — he asks reporters to "please keep this out of the papers." Generally, they do. Johnson has been working at a terrific pace, often working late into the night, despite a heart history.

WASTED: $100 MILLION. The Hoover commission made it known that in the Defense Department there are 16,000 duplicated jobs that should be eliminated.

RENT GOUGING. Talking about efficiency, the State Department winks at a clear case of price gouging in France aimed at our officers and diplomats.

RUSSIAN SIGNALS? The confirmation that a "stray" radio signal caused a $2 million Atlas rocket to destroy itself in the air over the Atlantic reopens the question of Russian subs off the Florida coast.

There have been a number of reports that the Russians have been sending out radio signals from subs to foul up our missile tests.

WHAT'S VEEP'S DUTY? Rep. James Roosevelt of California comes up with a suggestion that appears to have merit. He wants Congress to define just what the duties of a vice president are.

As things stand now, a vice president's only official function is to preside over the Senate and hang around as "President-in-waiting."

TRIGGER-HAPPY. A fear among defense planners here is that a nuclear war could be set off "by mistake" some day by a trigger-happy dictator of a small nation.

How would a second-class country obtain an atomic bomb? There are several means that intelligence people are aware of. 1. Spies could, conceivably, steal a warhead from one of the present "have" nations.

2. Russia could slip a bomb or two to one of its satellites as a "defense" measure.

3. The greatest possibility — one which lies further in the future — is that the United States, because of international pressure, may someday allot a certain number of A-bombs to "friendly" nations. Should this happen, the U.S. would lose its tight control over nuclear weapons.

There is one other possibility of an "accidental" nuclear war — and that is that a "friendly" bomb could be inadvertently exploded, either over here or in Russia, scaring the nation into a war of annihilation.

However, according to Defense Secretary Neil McElroy, the chances of an accidental nuclear war, through an inadvertently exploded A-bomb, are "a million to one."

TAX CUT TALK. You may discount the published theories that there will be an income tax cut this year, based on President Eisenhower's comments at his recent press conference.

The President, in answer to a question, did say generally "it could be" that a tax cut may be necessary to generate spending, but what most dispatches failed to add was that he also warned that to do so may play havoc with our economy.

Economists here say a tax cut would be requested "only if we are on the brink of a black depression."

SWINDLE SHEET. Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission John Doerfer was raked over the coals for three days for "padding" his expense account by a few hundred dollars.

But the irony is that Rep. Morgan Moulder of Missouri, chairman of the committee that investigated Doerfer, was himself accused a few years ago of a much more serious charge that was never resolved.

Moulder, according to published records, carried his daughter on his congressional payroll in Washington while she was back home going to high school.

COST OF MISSILES? Have any idea what our missile program is costing?

Well, orders for the rockets this year will amount of $5,729,000,000. This is 100 times more than was obligated for missiles in 1947, or about one-twelfth of our entire budget!

MISCELLANY. President Eisenhower, despite his severe chest cold, appeared much more relaxed and alert at his Feb. 5 press conference than he had at several previous public appearances.

An Air Force Thor missile is expected to lift a half-ton satellite into orbit in July of this year.

The Pentagon is being deluged with letters about the drafting of Scat Singer Elvis Presley. Most letters complain he should be left alone because as a civilian he pays enormous taxes!

GOOD TURN TODAY?

Have you done your good turn today? . . . Boy Scouts, as you probably know, pledge to do a good turn every day—and right now, throughout the land, the Scouts are conducting a National Safety Good Turn. The Spring phase of the program will stress traffic safety and you'll be encountering Scouts at service stations throughout Michigan in the weeks ahead. They'll be distributing literature on safe driving, doing their bit to help reduce traffic accidents. . . . Michigan's trucking industry salutes the Boy Scouts of this great state and pledges all-out support of the Scouts' Safety program. Professional truck drivers are thoroughly trained in safe driving practices and many of them operate hundreds of thousands—even millions—of miles without an accident. They are happy to join the Scouts in urging Michigan's motorists to Drive Carefully!
