

Phone Cutover 'Was Easier Than Expected'

In a matter of a few minutes, Plymouth's new dial telephone system went to work early Sunday morning with Michigan Bell technicians finding their anticipated difficulties "much less than expected."

Telephone workers were stationed at all parts of the community during the rainy early morning hour waiting for the 2:01 o'clock signal. When it came, it was a matter of pulling strings to release "blocking tools," pulling "heat coils" and similar technical maneuvers to make the cut-over.

The rain turned out to be the worst enemy of the night. Some of the connections were drowned out and work continued through Tuesday to clear up the trouble spots.

Because the cut-over took place during the early morning, the pomp and ceremony of the occasion took place several hours earlier at the Hotel Mayflower where several hundred guests watched the first direct dialing calls be made.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and Mayor Harold Guenther each picked up telephones and dialed direct to distant points. The calls were made possible over special pre-arranged facilities.

Supervisor Lindsay made a call to his brother in Washington, D. C. while Mayor Guenther called friends in La Jolla, California. After the calls were made, the phone sets were snipped and the phone sets were presented to them. Each had an engraved plaque commemorating the event.

Attending the banquet were members of the Chamber of Commerce to represent business and industry, the Plymouth Township board, city commission, representatives of Michigan Bell and the press, along with wives.

Robert Maurer, general manager of the local telephone office, was master of ceremonies. Among the evening's events was a demonstration of telephone technology and a look at the future of telephone communications.

Maurer recited a history of the telephone business in Plymouth which goes back to 1886. The first full-fledged phone service was provided by the Plymouth Telephone Company which had two founders who still survive, Edward C. Hough, president; and Chauncey Rauch, manager and secretary.

Rauch attended the dinner and made a direct call to New York City to obtain the weather (where it was windy, he reported). He then made a few remarks, recalling for the amusement of the guests, that service in the early days cost only $1 a month and yet a dividend was paid to investors.

But to clarify the situation a little, Maurer added that "Chauncey forgot to mention that installers got only $1.50 a day."

Cass Hough, executive vice-president of Daisy Manufacturing, represented his father at the occasion.

A little later in the evening Michigan Bell operators celebrated the changeover with a party and dance at the Masonic Temple. The operators are being absorbed by the long distance department.

On the Sunday night newscast over WWJ-TV, three minutes of film time was devoted to the Plymouth cut-over and the dinner.

While the $2,900,000 dial system was a definite sign of progress for Plymouth, some citizens were wondering if it was faster or not. Getting their fingers in the right hole and looking up every phone number has proved to many that progress is something one has to get accustomed to.

Many people reported calling up friends Sunday "just to see if the thing worked."

For many mothers of young children, it meant the end of embarrassment when their young fry picked up the phone to hear someone on the other end say "number please."

One father attending Saturday night's dinner agreed that direct dialing was a wonderful thing. But he was certain that someday he would find a call to San Francisco or some other far-off place on his bill after one of his spirited off-spring played with the dial.

Chamber To Hear Bell V-P

E. T. (Ted) Burroughs, assistant vice-president — advertising for Michigan Bell Telephone Company, will be principal speaker at a Plymouth Chamber of Commerce dinner next Monday night.

The dinner is being held at Arbor-Lill starting at 7:30. It will culminate a membership drive now being staged by the Chamber in which 100 new members are being sought.

At least 150 Chamber members, their wives and guests are expected to attend.

The guest speaker is a native of Chicago where he attended the University of Chicago. In 1929 he received his A.B. degree at the University of Michigan where he majored in political science and economics. Burroughs started with Michigan Bell as a salesman in Flint in 1929 and held supervisory jobs at Pontiac and Saginaw before he was transferred to Detroit in 1933. In 1941 he joined the public relations department as manager of customer general advertising.

He became general advertising manager in 1945 and was appointed to his present position as vice-president in 1950. The only break in his service with Michigan Bell since his leaving Ann Arbor campus came in 1944 when he served four months in Washington, D.C. with the War Department's Information and Education Division.

Married and the father of two daughters, Burroughs now lives in Birmingham. He is a member of the Public Relations Society of America, the Adcraft Club of Detroit, Detroit Board of Commerce and the Alpha Kappa Lambda national collegiate fraternity.

THERE ARE lots of stories about "pulling strings" to get something done, but that was what it took to allow the new dial telephone equipment to begin operating at the equipment building on Ann Arbor Road at 2:01 a.m. Sunday. Shown are Michigan Bell technicians Gary Beckley, on ladder, Dave Mintz and Leigh Langkabel who gave the signal. Pulling the strings released "blocking tools." At the same instant, workers in many other places in the community made connections in the new system.

Authority on Satellites Appears Here Saturday

An informative program of slides, a color film and a discussion period on the satellite program will be conducted by Peter Zylstra, Jr. Saturday morning at the Plymouth High School auditorium. Three showings are scheduled for 9, 10 and 11 a.m.

Open to the public, the program is co-sponsored by the Plymouth Community Schools and the local Wayne County Library branch. Mrs. Elizabeth Donnelly of Starkweather school has made the arrangements for Zylstra, a process engineer at Brooks and Perkins, Inc.

(In a guesstimate of 200,000 satellites) in Detroit, to present the program. Zylstra lives at 625 Sunset, Plymouth.

He was instrumental in the original production design and control of all finishing on the entire magnesium satellite program. Chairman of the fabricating committee of the Magnesium Association and a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit, he is an author-lecturer in the light metals field.

The program will be particularly timely, since a satellite is scheduled to be put in orbit by the Vanguard rocket sometime this week or next. Zylstra will show a re-entrant model of the actual satellite.

Youngsters who are studying space travel in school are especially urged to attend. There will be no charge.

Canton Man Stabbed As Feud Climax

A knifing in Canton Township involving from a long-standing feud has left 29-year-old D. W. Dunn, of 1440 Brookline, in "very critical condition" in Wayne County General Hospital.

The incident took place at 5 p.m. Monday on Sheldon Rd. between Warren and Ford Roads, according to Wayne County Sheriff's detectives. Being held in county jail on a charge of felony assault is Dean Owen, also of 1440 Brookline.

According to detectives, Dunn lived at the home of Orville and Mildred Bishop, brother and sister. She is believed to be Dunn's common-law wife. They added that Bishop hated Dunn and while sitting on the front lawn of the home Monday afternoon, the two began to argue.

Finally, they decided to go out into the road to "settle it for once and for all," they told detectives. Instead, they got into separate cars driven by friends and went to Sheldon Rd.

Bishop had secured a long butcher knife while Dunn had a two inch knife, sheriff's detectives said. However, Dean Owen, Bishop's friend, started to argue with Dunn on the road and Bishop handed Owen his knife. The two men started to struggle and rolled into a ditch. It is not known if Dunn stabbed himself or if it was Owen's knife, but the stomach wound was serious.

Dunn's friend, Clifford Beard, 792 York, took the wounded man to the Plymouth police station where an ambulance was called.

City is Ready If Public Works Gets Approval

Should the federal government decide to go ahead with a proposed public works program to help get the nation out of its financial slump, the city of Plymouth has an expensive list of projects ready for action.

City Manager Albert Glassford, along with officials from other governments, have written their senators and representatives telling what the needs are in the way of public construction. The manager with the assistance of Planning Supervisor S. L. Besse, figures that it will take about $5,220,000 to get the work done here.

The biggest job on the list is the construction of 17 miles of concrete pavement to cost an estimated $2,000,000.

Other proposed projects are a $1,032,000 water softening plant; three grade separations over or under the C & O costing $1,200,000; cover Tonquish Creek by using a seven-foot tube costing $500,000; construct a new city hall at $400,000; and further develop water well system at $88,000.

In his letters to U.S. Senators Charles Potter and Patrick McNamara and U.S. Representative Martha Griffith, Manager Glassford said that "rather than stimulate business by way of a tax cut, it would be more reasonable to stimulate business by increasing the durable goods industry which at the moment is relatively inactive."

He also noted that local governments are constantly plagued with tax limitations, debt limitations and sources of income. "As a result, many local units of government have

Junior High Band Cops Top Honors At State Festival

Probably the biggest bunch of blue ribbons ever won by any group at one time came home Saturday from Ann Arbor with the Junior High Band along with a bronze plaque for their bandroom.

The 90-piece band, directed by Laurence Livingston, "Superior" in concert and sight reading in the class 'B' category at the Michigan State Band and Orchestra State Festival. Every member was awarded a blue ribbon for their individual efforts and the plaque, an outline of the state of Michigan, was given the group as a whole.

Judges in the concert competition were Leonard Falcone of Michigan State University and Glenn Smith and George Cavender of the University of Michigan. The sight reading judge was Byron Autrey, M.S.U. brass instructor.

A tape recording was made of the concert, from which records will be made.

Livonia Woman Killed As Train Hits Her Car

A Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train crashed into a car on Beck Road in Plymouth Township last week, taking the life of a Livonia woman.

Mrs. Emily B. Drinkert of 33825 Oakdale, Livonia, was driving her car on Beck Rd. Saturday when it was struck by an eastbound train.

A guard at the Detroit House of Correction said that he saw Mrs. Drinkert's car parked on Beck. Since cars are not allowed to stop in the prison area, he asked her what she was doing. She said that she was watching muskrats in a pond.

She then drove on and into the path of the train. She was 51 years old.

Numerous cases of city of Plymouth homes not yet properly connected with the new sanitary sewer have been uncovered by the building and safety inspector who is now conducting a house-to-house survey.

After one week of survey, Inspector Charles Thompson and three members of the Department of Public Works have discovered "quite a few" homes which have not switched from septic tanks to the sanitary sewer.

The Wayne County Department of Health has set a deadline of July 1 for all homes and buildings to be connected. They have asked the city for a list of unconnected properties. Any property not properly connected by the deadline will be notified by the health department and after a certain period of time could face court action.

Thompson said Simpson and Ross streets have been completed and that work is now continuing on Hartshough, Palmer, Sutherland and Carol. The crew will reach South Main and Maplecroft Subdivision.

The job of checking whether each home is properly connected is a rather simple, but lengthily one. A powered dye is run through each laundry drain and toilet and a workman then checks the nearest sewer opening to see if the dye shows up.

Thompson said that some homes have their drain properly tiled into the sewer but not their septic tank. A few others have no connections whatsoever.

Where there is no one at home, a card is left at the home telling the householder to call city hall to state when they will be home. "If we receive no call-back from those people," Thompson said, "we must consider them not connected."

The new sewer system covers the southern part of the city and was completed last year at a cost of $600,000. Users were allowed one year to have their properties connected with the sewer.

Youngsters Peddle for Prizes In Optimist Annual Bike Rodeo

Plymouth's fourth annual Bicycle Rodeo sponsored by the Optimist Club in cooperation with the police department will take place this Saturday afternoon with a long list of prizes going to the top bike riders.

The affair will also be held in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club's bicycle safety program in which reflective tape is applied to all bicycles whose owners want it.

Starting at 1:30 p.m., the Rodeo will take place on the recreation field behind the high school. All Plymouth students have been given Rodeo score sheets at school and they are to bring these sheets with them.

Twenty-five prizes are being given by local merchants with the Optimist club awarding the first prize, an Evans bicycle.

Police Officer Stanbury of the police department and other patrolmen will head a bicycle inspection program at the Rodeo. Those entering the Rodeo, both boys and girls, will then be required to demonstrate their bike riding skills with five tests.

The tests are: 1. slow speed riding; 2. steering; 3. circle riding; 4. maneuvering; 5. braking.

Besides prizes going to individual winners a contest is also being held among schools. The winning school will receive a rotating trophy awarded by the Plymouth Association of Insurance Agents. The winning school's name will be engraved on the trophy and it will be held by that school until next year's contest.

Bike Rodeos are sponsored each year by the Optimists to remind bicycle owners of the importance of keeping their bicycles in working order and to keep themselves alert. It also is aimed to draw attention of motorists to the problems of sharing the roads with bicycles.

Mayor Harold Guenther has proclaimed April 26 as Bike Safety Week.

Prizes for the contest are now on display in the Kresge store window. Prizes are donated by Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac, Bluford Jewels, Bob's Paint Spot, David & Lent, Hoffman & Holdsworth, Huston & Co., Jerry's Shoe Repair, Photographic Center, Plymouth Hardware, Saxton Farm Supply, Stop & Shop, S & W Hardware, Tommy's Hardware and Western Auto.

Co-chairmen of the rodeo are Ray Viau and Charles Heiney.

Symphony Women Show Last Foreign Film Saturday Night

"The most earthy, human, funny and realistic French movie seen here in years," was what the New Yorker magazine said when it reviewed the movie that will be shown Saturday night by the Plymouth Symphony Society Women's Committee.

"The Baker's Wife" will be the last in the foreign film series. With showings at 7 and 9 p.m., the film will be presented in the Plymouth High School Auditorium. Proceeds are used to support the Plymouth Symphony.

The French comedy, filled with humor and pathos, tells the story of the town baker whose beautiful young wife has run off with a handsome young shepherd. The baker is left to believe that his wife left him for a younger man and vows that he will not bake any bread until his wife comes back.

Townfolk, rather than lose their baker, take it upon themselves to bring a boy on her return.

Tickets are sold at the door at 99 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. The New York Herald Tribune, in its review, declared: "A screened comedy has rarely reached such heights of laughter and compassion... in every respect a great motion picture."

Prizes will be awarded to the three top winners and first prize winner will also have his or her name engraved upon a trophy. Any licensed teen-age driver is eligible to enter. They must not have had any driving violations in the past six months.

Students can now obtain their entry blanks at the high school and the blanks must be signed by their parents. Before the driving tests, a written exam is held.

The local winner will enter the state contest and the state winner will get a $500 scholarship, plus a four-day trip to Washington to enter the national contest. The first three national winners will receive scholarships of $2,000, $1,500 and $1,000 respectively.

Ron Roberts is chairman of the Plymouth Jaycee-sponsored rodeo. Cooperating are the driver education classes and instructors of the high school.

The chairman points out that anyone who will turn 20 years old before the national contest on August 16 is not eligible to enter.

He was introduced by Roy Pursell of Plymouth, treasurer of the Congress of Freedom who spoke of the "pride Plymouth had in this native son who had brought such great honors to Plymouth."

Dr. Kirk pointed out that civilizations have gone down into the dust when they failed to maintain the "norms" or traditions which had made

Doll Collection Seen By P.E.O. Sisterhood

The P.E.O. Sisterhood saw a portion of Mrs. James Moore's large doll collection at the April 21st meeting in the home of Mrs. H. W. Blomberg.

The dolls were made of china, metal, wax, wood, leather, soap, papier mache, apple and cornstark and came from many parts of the world. The cornstark doll was the earliest American doll, originally used by the Indians.

The apple head doll was most unusual. A peeled apple left to dry for several weeks, shrinks to a doll's head size that will keep for a hundred years.

The P.E.O.-sponsored Girl Scout troop and leader, Mrs. William Edgar, were guests for the program.

Man the Spades! Petunia Contest Again Planned for Plymouth Homes

Another "Petunias in Plymouth" contest is being launched this week by the Plymouth Garden Club with $40 worth of prizes going to the outstanding petunia plantings of 1958.

Mrs. George Schme-man, president of the club, said that while it is a little early to plant petunias, the club wants residents to start planning for their 1958 plantings now.

The contest is being staged for householders, but business establishments and industry are also being invited to make Plymouth more attractive by planting petunias or other lowers.

First prize in the contest will be a $25 savings bond. Second prize is $10 and third is $5. Last year's winners were Gordon Robinson, 482 Irving; Mrs. Donald Ward, 711 Burroughs; and Leon Dickerson, 620 Simpson.

Only petunia plantings visible from the street are eligible for contest judging. Mrs. Schme-man said that judging will take place this year in July instead of August.

This will be the second year that the local unit of the Michigan Branch, National Farm and Garden Association has promoted the city-wide flower planting effort.

FIRE COMPLETELY leveled a frame home on Fry Rd., just north of Schoolcraft Rd., early last Thursday evening. Its owner, Norman Budd, was in Dearborn when the fire broke out and his aged father was outside in the garden when a neighbor discovered the fire. Northville firemen, aided by a tank truck from Plymouth Township, vainly fought the fire. A fuel oil tank blew up during the blaze. Shown looking over the ruins Friday morning are Wayne County Sheriff's detectives, Budd and some relatives.

The City Manager's Corner

By Al Glassford

Next Monday, the City Commission holds its hearing on the budget. The budget is prepared by me and was submitted to the City Commission a few weeks ago for its consideration.

At 7:30 p.m., then, the city will listen to citizens' suggestions as to what should or should not be included in the paving program, police service, fire service, rubbish and garbage pickup, street cleaning and maintenance. The budget takes effect July 1, 1958.

We must project the income which we think we will have, and try to estimate the cost of rendering the service which the City Commission thinks the citizens of the City of Plymouth would like to have. The tax bill you receive in July pays for city services.

The summer tax on the average home in the city will increase from $8.00 to $10.00. The increase was necessary, because of the city share of the proposed paving program, paying for crossing gates, wage increases, and additional help needed in the bookkeeping department and in my office. The paving of S. Main Street and several neighborhood streets will require the issuance of bonds or city share in order to complete the programs as requested by petition.

An increase in taxes was made necessary, too, because the anticipated revenues from sales tax and highway gasoline taxes returned to cities by the state government is estimated to be lower. The personal property assessments also are less this year than last.

With so many Detroit folks out of work at the present time, we notice a sharp increase in the number of scavengers going through our residential alleys. As soon as this happens, we receive many complaints that our city refuse trucks have picked up articles of iron, rubbish containers and trash burners. We would appreciate your calling the city hall police department when you notice a ruck scavenging in the residential alleys and on the streets.

None of these scavenger trucks have a license to do so, and are required to obtain one from the City Manager. I have not issued any, except, of course, to our old friends, the Christian Enterprises, Volunteers of America, Goodwill Industries or Salvation Army who are always welcome, and are doing a fine service for us.

NOT GUILTY

WESTBROOK, Me. (UP)—Two men were haled into municipal court on charges of ice fishing in a brook known as Alden Pond. It is legal to ice fish in Maine ponds but not in brooks. Judge Francis C. Rochieau acquitted the pair, ruling that the name of the brook confused them. Beside, he said, "the brook has a pondish appearance."

Pops Concert Next for Symphony

Plymouth's Symphony Orchestra has just completed a successful winter concert series and is now at work planning for the outdoor summer musical programs. But in between these two series is the time out for its second annual Springtime party — the Plymouth Pops Concert.

The concert is Saturday, May 10 at Plymouth High school, starting at 8:30 p.m. Flowers and fountains, trellises and small intimate table groupings, refreshments served cabaret style — are all set to the music of the Plymouth Symphony playing a program of favorites, old and new.

Committees are already working on the undertaking. Among the concert features will be the sale of many of the decorations themselves. Geraniums and trellises used as the "party" decorations will be offered for sale to the audience afterwards.

The committee hopes that guests will plan ahead to buy these summer supplies. All plants will be fresh, delivered that day from a greenhouse and picked by the committee. Trellises will be new and of standard sizes.

All proceeds during the evening are used to support the Plymouth Symphony. Tickets will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson are general chairmen. Other committee chairmen are: decorations, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts; refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Quimby Wonn; tickets, Mrs. Neal Bowen and Mrs. Donald Urquart; and publicity, Mrs. James Randall.

Six conference by squeaking out a 4-3 victory over Redford Union at Bell Creek Park last Monday.

Plymouth scored its first run in the second inning when Wayne Jordahl and Jim Dzurus singled. Randy Egloff forced Jordahl at third and that set the stage for a double steal. Jim Dzurus moved from second to third and the throw to third was too late to get him.

Then Egloff made the move to second base and when Redford tried to get him out Dzurus scored. The second run came in the third inning from the bat of Larry Wells who hit his second home run in two games as he got a good piece of the bat on a change of pace curve ball.

Redheads Defeat Plymouth's All-Star Men in Overtime

The Plymouth Lions Club gave basketball fans in this area an opportunity to see how women are faring as they invade another sport previously reserved for men. As a means to raise money for the eye clinic at Ann Arbor and the Leader Dog school at Rochester, the Lions brought the World's champion girls basketball team to the high school gymnasium last Wednesday night.

The All-American Redheads, defeated a team of players from the Recreation league which included Bob Lufts, who led the Recreation league in scoring, Ken Kisabeth, Don Huebler, Don Thompson, Bud Nedry, Jim Bloomhuff, Larry Wilhelm, Gerry King, Gerry Kendall, and Bob Jenkins.

The World Champions led 16-13 at the end of the first quarter and increased the lead to seven points 32-25 at half time. The All-Stars were by no means "out of the game" at any time. It was

In the fifth inning Myron Hopper tripled to score Al Runge and then scored himself when the Redford centerfielder was charged with a throwing error.

Redford Union scored all three of its runs in the sixth inning after not getting a hit for five innings. Bill Hubert saved the game for Plymouth when he made a tremendous shoe string catch of a line drive to halt the Redford rally. Knipschild, who replaced Egloff in the sixth, held Redford scoreless in the seventh.

Egloff pitched five innings, struck out eight and walked two. Knipschild struck out two. Monette pitched the whole game for Redford Union giving up six hits. Three of these were for extra bases as Randy Egloff doubled, Myron Hopper tripled and Larry Wells homered.

The next game for Plymouth will be this afternoon at the high school when they meet Bentley. The Jayvees go to Livonia to play Bentley.

FOR THE SIXTH time in eight years, the Fisher Shoes bowling team has won the Monday Night Parkview Recreation League. This year's title wasn't decided until the last man on the team bowled in the last game with Pease Paint and Wallpaper. Captain Joe Talick

Track Teams Win Opener With Trenton

Jeff Yoeman was the big winner for Plymouth in the varsity meet with firsts coming in the 100 yard dash, 180 yard low hurdles and the broad jump. He teamed with Ed LaRoche, Jim Vojcek and Ziggy Przybylowsky to win the 440 yard relay.

Otto Bufe won the 120 yard high hurdles and high jump. Ed LaRoche won the 220 and was second in the 100 yard dash. Tony Monte won the mile and Bill Rueher was second.

Bill Brown and Mel Stevenson tied for first in the pole vault. Al Spicarella was third in the broad jump. John Thomas was third in the quarter mile. Alan Davies was third in the 880 yard run. Ron Turkett was tied for third in the 220 yard dash.

The dual track meets are held every Friday and tomorrow afternoon Plymouth journeys to Allen Park.

SPORTS SEEN

By Bill Dillworth

High school sports are back in the news with a complete schedule of events running right through to the last baseball game of the season Friday, June 6. While the swimmers closed out a very successful season with their banquet last Saturday night, the golfers, baseball players, tennis players and track and field men are embarking on what we hope will be an equally successful season.

Everyone connected with the swimming banquet held last Saturday at the Junior High School are to be congratulated for a fine job; the committee of DADS, who were responsible for the arrangements, the Future Homemakers club of the high school, a group of girls who worked unobtrusively toward the success of the evening, and Mike Hoben, as master of ceremonies, all made a significant contribution to the enjoyment of the festivities.

We commented to John McFall that he was losing ONLY five men by graduation. "Yes," he said, "but look who they are, one of the fastest boys that we have had here in a long time (Carney), one of the better high school divers in the state (Walker) and had a real good breast-stroker (Isbister)." This is quite a loss for a coach to suffer but it gives other swimmers a chance to replace these graduating lettermen and bring further honors to Plymouth.

Our sincerest congratulations go out to John McFall and his staff for winning the Suburban Six Swimming meet for the second consecutive year, and also our thanks to the mentor for his cooperation at all times in assisting us in gathering information about the swimming meets.

The Plymouth high school golfers under Coach John Sandmann have won the first two dual meets. However, these do not count in the final standing since there is a tournament at the end of the season to determine the winner. The meets give the boys some competition in preparation for the tournament and aid the coaches in awarding the letters for the sport. Plymouth defeated Bentley by a single stroke, 175-176, and then won rather handily from Allen Park, 182-235.

Coach Mike Hoben has a string of 23 consecutive victories going for him in the last two seasons as a varsity baseball and football coach. Last season the baseball team was undefeated in 13 games and this season the football team was undefeated in six games and the baseball team won the first two games of this season, 11-1, over Northville and 4-3 over Redford Union. This is Hoben's third year at Plymouth and he has compiled a record of which he may be proud.

Jeff Yoeman was a triple winner in the first track meet against Trenton and also ran on the winning relay team to account for 15 points himself and help pick up five more of the 58½ scored by Plymouth. Otto Bufe was a double winner placing first in the 120 yard high hurdles and the high jump.

Earl Gray, who is handling the Plymouth end of the Inter-county baseball league, is interested in hearing from anyone or any group that is interested in sponsoring a team or any person who would manage a team. The league opens an 18 game schedule the second Sunday in May. Five teams have already filed entries and it is hoped that three more teams will have entered by the time the schedule is drafted. The teams that have entered are Plymouth Merchants, South Lyon, two from River Rouge and Belleville. Double headers will be played on July 4th and May 31. There will be two divisions in the tournament at the close of the schedule. The teams above 500 percent will play in one section and the teams below 500 percent will play in the other.

Trenton Tennis Team Lives Up to Expectations

Trenton High School tennis team lived up to all expectations when they defeated Plymouth 7-0 in the opening matches of the Suburban Six tennis league. Coach Bob Smith stated earlier "our toughest opposition will come from Trenton and Bentley," and Trenton proved his point for him.

In the singles Klaus Darup of Plymouth lost to Sanderlin 6-2, 6-2. John Walker, Plymouth, lost to Caldwell 6-4, 8-6. Mike Stickney, Plymouth, lost to Mazo 6-2, 2-6, 6-1. Ken Jacobus of Plymouth was defeated by Brockman 6-3, 6-2. In the doubles matches Don Argo and Larry Livingston of Plymouth were defeated by Shaul and Engelocci 6-4, 6-4. Hale Huber and Tom Simons were defeated by Gardner and Kaitala 6-2, 6-2. Wade Schultheiss and Jack Vincent lost to Green and Chapman 6-2, 6-3.

The tennis matches are played on Tuesdays and the next home match for Plymouth will be this coming Tuesday when Bentley will supply the opposition.

Banquet Closes Out Season For Plymouth High Swimmers

"It is with a sigh of regret that we bring this 1957-58 swimming season to a close," said Coach John McFall at the banquet sponsored by the DADS at the junior high school last Saturday night.

"We have had a good season and we wish to thank the boys for their efforts and the parents for their patience with us when the boys were late for meals."

One hundred thirty-three people, including parents, swimmers and guests were present to see the presentation of junior varsity and varsity swimming awards, the announcement of DADS in charge of the banquet, the announcement of the Most Valuable Swimmer Award and the announcement of the Co-captains for the 1958-59 season.

The guest speaker for the evening was Bob Mowerson, assistant swimming coach at Michigan State University and prior to that a very successful high school coach at Battle Creek. He congratulated the Plymouth coaches and swimmers on winning the Suburban Six championship for the second consecutive year. He also reminded everyone of the value of athletics in a boy's preparation for manhood and pointed out several instances where men in difficult situations on the battlefield were aided by a type of discipline learned from participation in sports.

Mike Hoben was master of ceremonies. John Sandmann, director of Athletics at the high school, Wally Laury, president of the Michigan A.A.U., member of the NCAA rules committee and swimming coach at Cody high school were among the guests present. Messrs. Vincent, McLow, Gretzinger, Curtis, Herick and Wood composed the committee of DADS in charge of the banquet.

Varsity manager awards were given to Herb Kerhl, Lon Dickerson, William Conover and Tim Graves.

Byron Williams and Jack Vincent take over the co-captains assignment from Don Carney and Bob Isbister.

In a closely contested race, Don Carney won the Most Valuable Swimmer award.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP) - Syracuse University's Prof. Benjamin Burt melted a favorite theory of snow-shovelers when he explained wet snow weighs no more than dry snow. He said a shovelful of wet snow may seem to weigh more than a shovelful of dry snow but that is because snow becomes more dense when wet and thus a shovel can scoop up more wet snow.

Line Drive

by MEL OTT

The sun was beaming brightly on the green pastures of Briggs Stadium. A few early-bird fans were sprinkled throughout the Stadium to watch the Tigers' morning practice.

Far in the outfield Harvey Kuenn was lazily chasing a drifting fly ball. He snared it easily and confidently, threw it back to the infield with a sure strong arm.

Some graying fans behind the home dugout observed that Harvey's rapid transformation from shortstop to outfielder wasn't such a difficult feat. Any big leaguer could do it.

In a limited sense, they were right. Baseball requires quick reflexes at any position. A player of ability is able to employ his super-normal reflexes equally as well in the outfield as in the infield.

However, fly chasing requires special talents not as important to the infielder. A good outfielder must be able to judge flies well, to possess a strong arm for the long throws into the infield and to have enough speed to catch up with well-hit balls.

Above all, he must possess that instinct — it's almost a sixth sense — that starts him after the ball at the crack of the bat.

Some have questioned the validity of this expression, "starting at the crack of the bat." Yet it is true. The very sound of ball meeting wood tells the outfielder whether to come in or go out.

A well-tagged ball gets off with a loud crack. The outfielder starts back. A weak sound sends him scurrying in for pop flies and bloopers.

Sometimes, however, the outfielder is fooled. Seeing the batter take a healthy cut and hearing that loud crack, he immediately starts back, only to have to turn around and come racing in for a dinky fly.

In these instances, what happens is that the ball hits the far end of the bat and perhaps cracks it. The sound is the same as that of the hard-hit ball.

Judging flies can be extremely difficult when they slice or hook down the foul lines. Many times right and left fielders have to chase balls curving away from them toward the stands, and this is one of the major reasons Kuenn was installed in center field. The situation doesn't occur as often. Moreover, the center fielder has a better perspective of the ball going into the batter and coming out again. The other fielders see it at an angle.

Kuenn finds the most difficult ball to judge the line drive that goes straight over his head. He is no different from any other outfielder. I know I had that problem during my many years with the Giants, too. You're never quite sure whether to turn to your left or right when taking out after the ball in the hope of overtaking it.

The chances of catching up to the ball are infinitely greater if the fly chaser has assumed a proper stance at every time of the pitch. Every swing, the good outfielder rises on the balls of his feet in anticipation of the ball coming to him. Thus he gets the jump on it.

An outfielder with a good throwing arm is invaluable in keeping batters from taking extra bases. A perfect example is Al Kaline, whose deadly arm keeps mowing down runners intent on going from second to home on a single.

Kuenn likewise has displayed a good arm, not as strong as Kaline's, but he certainly throws much better than he did while at shortstop. The reason is that Harvey now has a little extra time to get set before throwing the ball. Infielders, on the other hand, frequently have to throw from whatever position they get the ball if they hope to nip the runner at the base.

In addition, Harvey will rarely be seen throwing to the wrong base. Like a good outfielder should, he thinks ahead on every play. With enemy runners on bases, he plans his next move if the ball should come to him.

Golfers Take First Two League Matches

Plymouth high school golf team won their first and second matches of the season defeating Bentley 175-176, and Allen Park 182-235. Six members of each team play a nine hole round and the four top scores from each school are used to decide the winner.

With Bentley, Del McAllister, a freshman at Plymouth, was the medalist when he carded a 47. He was followed by Charley Drewry of Bentley with a 42. Kurt Atchison of Plymouth and Don Kwazney of Bentley were tied with 43's.

Neil MacIntyre of Bentley carded a 45 and John Taylor and Steve Hayskar of Plymouth and Bill O'Neil were the last of the qualifiers with 46. Other players for Plymouth were Bob Isbister who carded a 47 and Staten Lorenz with a 49.

On Monday night, Plymouth golfers registered their second consecutive victory in the young Suburban Six season by defeating Allen Park 182 to 235. Plymouth used four players and their score cards showed the following results: Kurt Atchison 42, John Taylor 42, Del McAllister 45, and Don Carney 53.

Tomorrow Northville visits Plymouth and Monday the golfers travel to Redford Union and Wednesday, to Dearborn.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

TO THE EDITOR:

Since when is LIQUOR the main course of a meal? What happened to quality, price and the atmosphere in which it is served. I have to disagree with Mr. Lorenz and his "Front Page" story on why we should sell LIQUOR by the glass within the City Limits of Plymouth. He makes it sound like our whole economy and future is based on this issue. I think we are forgetting some of the ideals on which Plymouth and the "Mayflower Hotel" has gained the reputation and position it now holds. Mr. Lorenz, himself has issued statements on the recognition his hotel has received. I am sure that to be able to serve liquor with the meal would not improve on his standing.

I deal with men every day who stay at the Mayflower Hotel when they are in this area. They like it for its central location, friendliness, some atmosphere and a place where the whole family can enjoy food at its best without the emphasis on the beverage.

I have lived in Plymouth for over 30 years and am proud to call it home. I have dragged to many people of our Town and that you can't buy liquor by the glass. I feel in these times of high taxes and satellites we take count of our original ideals for the City of Plymouth and not for personal gain.

BOOK REVIEW

MASTERS OF DECEIT
By R. Roy Pursell
Would YOU recognize Communist slantings if you saw them, heard them in a speech or sermon? Would you believe that we have it on Main Street, Plymouth, Michigan, U.S.A.? It is so easy to say: "It can't happen HERE." Well, it IS happening here and Pursell's is happy to present the best written book of the century to help you. It is

MASTERS OF DECEIT

The Story of Communism in America and How to Fight It

J. EDGAR HOOVER

The Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation explains the startling facts about the major menace of our time, communism: what it is, how it works, what its aims are, the real dangers it poses, and what loyal American citizens must know to protect their freedom.

While it is highly informative, it does what few books do: it concretely outlines just what YOU can do NOW to combat the evils of the "false religion" of communism, so that we can stay free.

This is a BASIC book. Only $5.

Resident Dies in Fall Off Porch to Sidewalk

A fall from a porch railing where he had apparently gone to sleep took the life last Thursday night of William W. Statezni, Sr., of 1428 Sheridan.

Mr. Statezni, 65, had gone out on the back porch during the warm evening at about 7:15 p.m. His wife, Clara, called to him at 10:10 p.m. to come into the house.

At 5:45 a.m., Mrs. Statezni told police she awoke and found her husband not in bed. She called her son, William, Jr., of Northville, who came to the home and found his father lying on the concrete walk below the porch railing.

The Wayne County Medical Examiner's office was called and an investigation showed that Mr. Statezni died of a skull fracture and the resulting hemorrhage. The porch railing is about five feet above the sidewalk, police said.

Mrs. Statezni said that her husband often fell asleep while sitting on the porch railing. His watch had stopped at 8:22, police said, and his time of death was set at 8:30 p.m. Thursday.

officiating. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Earl Gremel, Kenneth Kerr, Donald Kerr, Richard Kerr, Harold Groh and Frank Gremel.

TV Gives More Scope To Gifted Teachers

DES MOINES—(UP)—Dr. John H. Harris, superintendent of schools here, said gifted teachers would be of more benefit to students through the use of classroom television.

"Our old goal was one teacher for every 30 pupils," Harris said. "Now, using television, we can re-evaluate that goal to 250 to one or even larger."

"There are a million more youngsters in school this year than last year," he said, "and as this enrollment increases, we'll feel the need for classroom television even more."

The school district here has a permit to open a television station next fall.

Who's New in Plymouth

GATHERED AROUND the piano are newcomers to Plymouth, the Sznysizewski family of 14575 Shadywood Dr. who recently moved to Lakepointe Village from Detroit. At left are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sznysizewski (pronounced She-nesh-ski) watching daughters Dolores, 11 and Linda, 8 play a duet. On the right are Cheryl, 5 and Arthur, 7. Mr. S. is a troubleshooter for Lyons, Inc. in Detroit. They all agree that Plymouth is a friendly place to be. The children like the schools, their Girl Scout and Brownie troops and the library.

Woman's Eye View

by Nancy Rigney

"It warms the cockles of our hearts" said Mrs. Ruth Osgood . . . "Honest people will always be honest," was Mrs. Agnes Pauline's comment. They were talking about the good people of Plymouth who slip the fine in with their overdue books returned through the library book drop.

Another heart warmed by the honesty of Plymouth people is Mrs. Harry Unwin of 1301 Hart-sough, who has only lived in town about a year. She summoned James Allen of Allen Carpet Cleaners for an estimate, which he gave and she accepted. An hour or so after the rug was done and paid for, Mr. Allen realized he had mistakenly over-estimated the job and sent his son back to Mrs. Unwin with $7.

In a flurry of grabbing papers, purse, keys, coat and a last sip of coffee one morning last week I took three sheets of notes and a purple mimeograph job belonging to my sister. The mistake proved very interesting.

I discovered this foreign material among my things and read it over in amazement. I now know what the eighth graders are being taught in the schools today and also know that the eighth grader knows more about the habits of dinosaurs than any of us.

At first glance the names threw me for a loop. But the personal idiosyncrasies and problems in the lives of some of the creatures bearing the names, go one better. Just take the Brontosaurus — although a 50-ton lizard-like monster, his mouth was so small he had to gum his dinner.

The Tyrannosaurus Rex was a different story, he had six inch teeth - razor sharp and was the largest flesh eater. But his tastes were finicky - no Triceratops in his diet. And no wonder - according to the notes the latter "looked like a tank" and had three horns on his head. A real challenge to the digestive system.

Another animals found distasteful by the "T.R." (as the notes refer to him) is the Ankylosaurus. The "Ankle" was armored in large scales.

Another personality was the Allosaurus, who obviously could have used a good psychiatrist. He was shy and evidently couldn't look his fellow inhabitants of the earth in the eye. A cat-like killer who struck when backs were turned, he was a mere 35 feet long, which could account for an inferiority complex.

If the Trachodon were available today, he would be an instant star of science-fiction movies. An armored dinosaur, he weighed about 20 tons and looked like a giant kangaroo. He must have been impressive in his various poses — swimming with his paddle-like feet; balancing on his tail to reach his favorite food - rotten plants; sniffing the air with nostrils on the top of his head; or baring his 2,000 teeth that worked like a filter.

The mimeographed paper showed some of the popular prehistoric types in more hysteric than historic splendor.

Plymouth High School

School Days Numbered
There are only 32 actual school days remaining for the seniors. The numerous scheduled activities should really keep things humming for a while. These last high school days will be filled with homework, field trips, dates, the prom, the banquet, exams, baccalaureate, and finally graduation.

Final Mixer
The final senior mixer was held last night, April 23. The general chairman of the committee responsible for organizing the affair was Joan Lowden. Other members of the committee were Annie Dennany, Mary Lee Haug, Arlene Kubic and Robert Redd.

Senior Prom Coming
Plans for the banquet will be the main topic for discussion at the Senior Executive board meeting. A quick check on the progress of prom plans discloses that we will have a receiving line headed by Joan Lowden, general chairman of the prom; the class president, Bill Hubert; Gae Ponte, vice-president; Mary Lee Haug, secretary; and Mary Harper, treasurer.

Council Problems Voiced
At Spigarelli, Student Council Mayor, recently was the chairman of an officers' discussion group at a League of Student Council meeting held at Thurston High School. The purpose of which is to discuss problems confronted by Student Councils. (The business of public relations is a constant effort.)

Organizations Initiate
Spring time seems to mean initiation for most PHS organizations. The National Honor Society held its annual initiation last night, April 23. Members of the organization who spoke to the assembly of students and parents were Martha Shoemaker, Jane Hardimon, Roger Kenner, Bill Hubert, and Carol Ford. Martha and Jane were also on the refreshment committee. Miss Plant and the girls from the homemaking department furnished the refreshments.

The Thespian club initiated 32 new members in a candlelight ceremony on March 31. Participating in the program to represent the Arts were: Martha Shoemaker, Lorraine Konke, Jim Gothard, Kay Sempliner, Ann Hulsing, Sadra Davis, and Karla Herbold. Also in the program were Annie Dennany, Arlene Kubic, and Larry Sexton who installed the officers. The impressive service was highlighted by some very special entertainment. Slides were shown of all the productions in the last two years which includes: "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Around the World in Eighty Days," and "Harvey."

SHINY TROPHIES are awarded to the winners of the Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary contest by Mrs. Marjorie Swan, youth activity chairman for the auxiliary. Accepting her first place trophy is Salley Sessions, 10. At the right is second place winner, Thomas Tate, 10. Both winners are fifth graders at Bird school. The contest was open to grades five through eight.

Open House at Northville State Hospital To Mark National Mental Health Week

In connection with National Mental Health Week, April 27-May 3, Northville State Hospital is extending an invitation to the residents of this area to attend the 7th Annual Open House on Sunday, April 27 between 9:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The hospital staff has arranged tours throughout the hospital, including a bus ride through the grounds. Mental health movies and color slides of hospital activities will be shown in the auditorium. Visitors will have an opportunity to see what is being done in the program for the care and treatment of mental illness. According to Dr. Philip M. Brown, Medical Superintendent, "since the hospital is an integral part of the community, we welcome these opportunities to play host to the people of this area. We feel that mental health problems are better understood today, than they were fifteen years ago. As the public increases its understanding and acceptance of mentally ill patients, we can expect further advances in the mental health field."

We extend a hearty get well wish to Ethel Wilson's father, John Veresh, who is still confined in University Hospital and to Roy Smith who is recuperating from an operation and now is at home. Commander Burleson's son is in Atchison's Memorial Hospital, Northville under observation.

"This organization approves the ideal of recognizing the fact that our government and our society are based upon law, and that our reliance upon the law is a strong weapon in the continuing resistance to dictatorship, neither based upon socialism or fascism." National Commander John S. Gleason, Jr. has advised the American Bar Association, which is sponsoring May 1, 1958 as LAW DAY — U.S.A.

Fern Burleson, chairman of the Linen Party which was held April 17, thanks all the girls who attended and helped. The hostess was again Mrs. Hazel Quisenberry and all who attended received small gifts. The blanket went to Julia Mango, who was a surprised one. Refreshments were served by Dorothy Knapp, Lillian Kinghorn and Fern Burleson.

Western Electric To Award 161 Scholarships

The Western Electric Company announced this week the renewal of its collegiate scholarship program.

Scholarships and educational grants-in-aid totaling $155,900 will be awarded by the firm to 161 undergraduates in 111 colleges and universities during the 1958-59 scholarship year.

There will be 129 scholarships offered to engineering students, the rest going to undergrads in science, business and liberal arts.

Scholarships pay up to $88 each for tuition, books and fees. In addition, a cost-of-education allowance of 75 percent of each award will be paid to privately controlled colleges or universities as an unrestricted grant-in-aid. More than half of the schools participating are privately supported and therefore are eligible for this supplementary grant to help cover education costs.

Western Electric scholarship recipients are selected by the colleges where they are to study, with the company specifying only that they be United States citizens.

This is the third year that Western Electric has maintained its scholarship program.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: A boy I know has me puzzled. He is shy and quiet. I can't tell if he likes me or not. He took me to a dance and we both enjoyed it but now he talks only when I make the first move, although he does dance with me a lot at parties. He's so quiet you can't tell what he's thinking."

Ans.—It's a puzzle to tell what makes those shy, quiet boys tick... the "strong, silent type"! But he wouldn't take you to a dance and dance with you at parties if he didn't like you. Perhaps he doesn't want to go steady or hasn't enough extra money for dates or is not yet interested in dating, except occasionally. Give him encouragement whenever possible by inviting him to parties, to your home for double dates or a solo house-date... and time will tell.

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: I know a perfect Frankenstein of a boy who likes me and I can't stand him. But at a school dance, I danced several times with him, because he told me if I would, he'd tell me who gave him my telephone number. He calls me all the time and talks about 20 minutes, although I tell him not to do it. He asked me to go steady and I said 'No, never!' He keeps inviting me to his house, too. Please help me."

Ans.—What you SAY to him isn't very convincing when you dance with him and talk with him for 20 minutes on the telephone. This keeps him interested! When you refuse to talk with him, refuse to dance with him, refuse to talk with him on the telephone (hang up) or elsewhere and don't have anything to do with him at all, he'll believe you.

Former Resident Finds Life as 'Hen Medic' At Army Hospital Satisfying

An attractive asset to the staff of Ireland Army Hospital, Fort Knox, Ky., is former Plymouth resident, Dr. Jo Ann Levitt, wife of Army Captain Robert J. Levitt. Dr. Levitt is assigned as a Civil Service employee to the Admission and Disposition Clinic and in this capacity treats emergency illnesses for this military community of 30,000 troops and their dependents.

In her professional capacity, Dr. Levitt is strictly business. A tall serene looking blond (in her late twenties or early thirties) wearing a white coat and with a short hair-do she presents an appearance of calm and confident efficiency. A screaming baby, a frightened young mother or a bruised and bleeding soldier are routine matters to Dr. Levitt and her direct approach to the situation reassures her patients. They have a feeling that they are in capable hands.

In private life Dr. Levitt is Mrs. Robert J. Levitt, wife and mother. She and Capt. Levitt have two children: a boy 6 years old and a daughter, Patricia Ann, 16 months.

A native of Plymouth, Jo Ann Gorton graduated from the Plymouth High School and then entered the Edward W. Sparrow School of Nursing at Lansing. Upon receiving her R.N. she then was ambitious of becoming an M.D. Consequently, she enrolled in the University of Michigan school of medicine and was soon on the long, hard road toward her cherished goal—that of becoming a woman doctor.

Jo Ann received some assistance from the John Kennedy Scholarship Fund and the Hough Foundation and much encouragement from members of her family and her family doctor. She also gives a lot of credit to Dr. and Mrs. Anthony Calomeni of Lansing without whose love and understanding she might have lost heart when the going got rough.

To help defray expenses while in medical school this ambitious young lady raised

AT HOME—Evenings and week-ends, Dr. Levitt has time to romp with her two children and her dogs—Yorkshire Terriers and her champion French Poodle. From left is 16 month-old daughter, Patricia Ann and on the right is son, Robert, 6 years old. Dr. Levitt is the wife of Capt. Robert J. Levitt.

French Poodles and Yorkshire Terriers. One of her French Poodles which she still owns is an International Champion named "Blakeen Silver Man of Santa Fe." Storm has been shown all over the United States and Canada.

Jo Ann's husband, Capt. Robert Levitt (assigned to the Deputy Chief of Staff, G-2 (S Army Armor Center) whom she married while in medical school and who was transferred overseas shortly thereafter gave her a great deal of encouragement and financial backing. While being devoted to his own career as an army officer, Capt. Levitt is very proud of his wife's ambitions and accomplishments.

Our "hen medic" as Dr. Levitt is sometimes affectionately referred to by members of the hospital staff, is not following any family tradition in becoming a doctor as none of her immediate forebears was in the medical profession.

There was a great-great-uncle who was the first professor of anatomy at the University of Michigan school of medicine, a post he held for 40 years. Dr. Corydon Ford was his name and he died on the day of his retirement immediately following his last lecture. Her elder sister is a registered nurse which would indicate that the care of the sick is something of a family trait.

When asked if she would advise other young girls to take up medicine, Dr. Levitt became thoughtful, then she said: "Yes, if the girl was really serious about it. But I would remind her that the road is too hard, too long and there is too much mental and emotional strain to take it lightly." She must be willing to sacrifice the little things in life to achieve the more abundant and soul satisfying rewards that come with being a woman doctor.

And seeing how contented and well-adjusted she is and what a full, satisfying life she leads, it can be said that hard work and sacrifice really paid off in Dr. Levitt's case.

Introducing a New Column For Maplecroft-Birch Area

(Covering the area bounded by Burroughs, Main, Ann Arbor Rd., and the Junior High, including Maplecroft and Birch Subs. Phone news items to GL. 3-3144.)

The William Clarke family of Burroughs St. have just returned from a delightful vacation at the Desert Willow Dude Ranch in Tucson, Ariz. Bill and Jane, including their daughter, Jill, recommend it as one of the most enjoyable vacations they have ever spent.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Rice, our neighbors on Harding St., have been vacationing in Florida the past week and report the weather is delightful. They expect to be home soon.

Mrs. Walter Anderson of Dewey St. entertained her neighborhood bridge club Wednesday evening. Those lucky gals were, Mrs. Jim Latture, Mrs. Blaine Lytle, Mrs. John Hanson, Mrs. H. Gavigan, Mrs. Frank Hallock, Mrs. J. Graves and Mrs. Charles Wolfe, who substituted for Mrs. Neal Davidson.

The many friends of Mrs. Neal Davidson will be glad to know that she expects to leave Harper Hospital where she has been confined the last week and that she is doing quite well.

Mrs. Lawrence Becker, one of our popular new neighbors from Lansing, entertained her former bridge club of Lansing, Wednesday afternoon. After a lovely luncheon at Hillside, they returned for an afternoon of reminiscing to Dorothy's.

Friendly greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wilkins and their two small daughters, Cindy and Martha, who moved into their lovely new home in Birch Subdivision this week.

The Maplecroft bridge club was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miller of Maple St. Saturday evening. The following guests who enjoyed themselves were Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Becker, Mr. and Mrs. James Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Proebbeck (though Bob suffered leg injuries from a fall from a ladder earlier in the day).

Linda Lent, one of our lovely June bride-elects, was given a surprise linen shower Saturday evening at Draper Hall in Kalamazoo. Peggy Metz, a former room-mate of Linda's at Western Michigan University, was hostess.

Mrs. Jim Latture and Mrs. L. B. Rice, who belong to a worthy group that has adopted Ward C-24 at Northville State Hospital, had their monthly birthday party last Wednesday. Mrs. Ralph West, chairman for the day, obtained several of our talented young citizens who entertained with a delightful musical program. The group included Danny Hargrove, Nancy Eaton, Mary Jane Readman, Bob Westover, April Corey, Bruce Curtis, Bob Bowman, Betsy Edgar, Dolores Aldrich, Marie Bowlen, and Mary Jane West.

Our very talented and well-known neighbor, Wayne Dunlap, conducted the Detroit Women's Symphony at the Detroit Art Institute Saturday evening. Among those attending from Plymouth were Mrs. Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lent and children of Edison St. are visiting Wendell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Lent of Litchfield, this weekend.

Picture of my bank
By Cindy

One day the third grade teacher at a local elementary school asked each of her students to draw a picture of the neighborhood store he or she liked best. And as you might expect, the heavy favorites turned out to be toy shops, soda bars and candy stores.

But there was one entry that surprised even the teacher. It was a carefully drawn picture of one of the National Bank of Detroit's neighborhood offices.

The artist was a nine-year-old girl named Cindy Murray. And when she was asked why she had chosen to draw our bank, she replied simply, "Because all the people there are so nice when I go in with my Mommy."

Pretty good reason, wouldn't you say?

We think Cindy's picture is one of the nicest compliments we've ever had, because it's tangible evidence of something that is very hard to put on paper: a warm and friendly spirit. Our sound management policies that provide solid strength and security, the customer convenience of 61 close-to-home offices—these specific facts are easy to express, but friendliness is rarely so well defined.

Won't you visit us soon yourself? There's a National Bank of Detroit office in your neighborhood. Open a savings or checking account there and get to know National Bank of Detroit. And we think you'll see what Cindy means.

More friends because we help more people

Resident Takes Part In Submarine Escape Drill

Electricians Mate Third Class Thomas W. Rutherford of Plymouth was on the crew of the submarine Sea Owl which recently made an important contribution to the field of submarine escape.

In the Navy for three years, the petty officer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rutherford, 918 Hartsough. He graduated from Plymouth High school in 1955.

While every submariner must make a buoyant ascent, in training tanks at the New London, Conn. or Pearl Harbor bases, this was the first time that submarine escape practice has actually taken place from a sub at sea.

Buoyant ascent, or "blow and go" as submariners refer to it — was approved as the primary means of escape in 1956. Since then, more than 7,000 men have qualified by buoyant ascent at the New London training tank.

It works like this: an escapee, wearing a "Mae West" life jacket, exhales almost completely and then begins his ascent, exhaling the entire trip to the surface. The jacket carries him upward at 45 feet a minute.

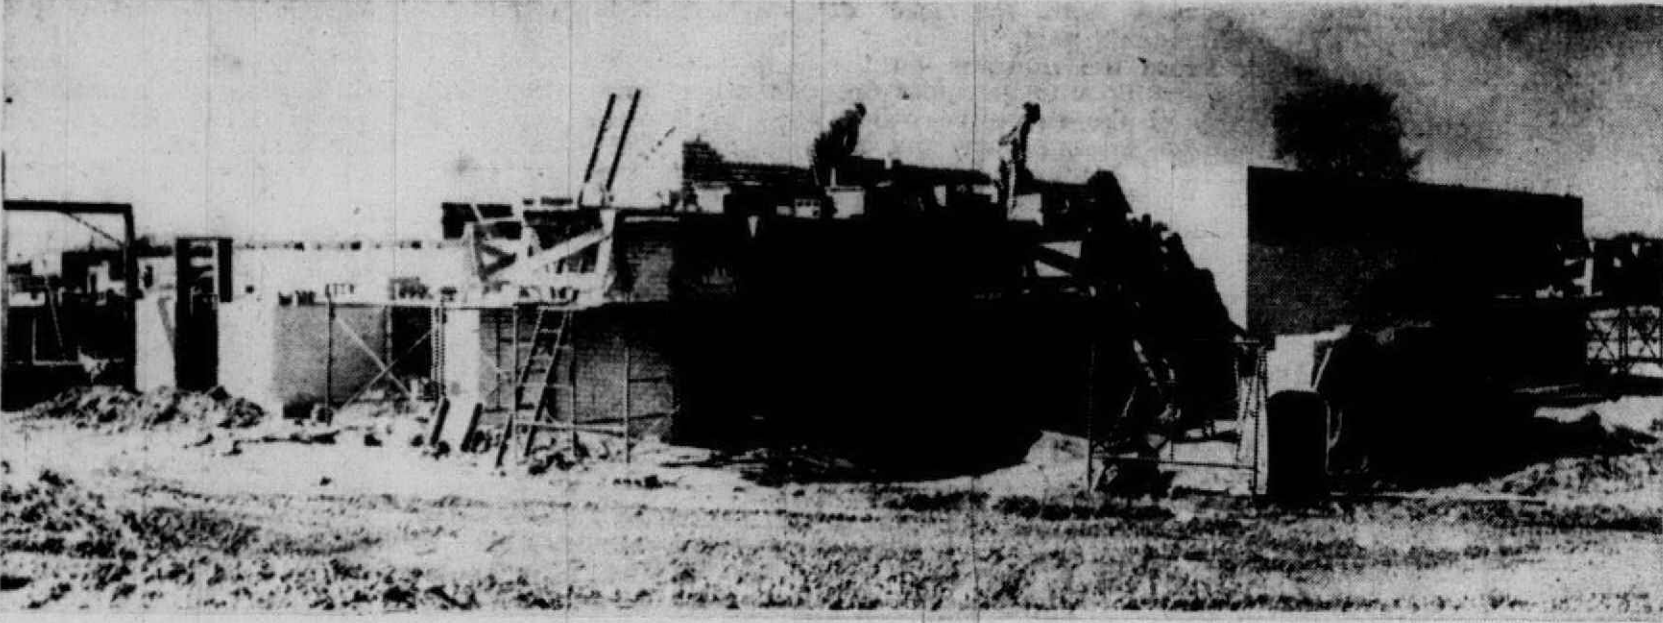

The Sea Owl, assisted by the Submarine Rescue Vessel Kittiwake, performed the initial training operation 15 feet below the surface. The escape trunk enables a few men to enter simultaneously. The pressure in the trunk is equalized with water or air, facilitating escapees to open the hatch and leave the ship.

Capt. Walter Welham, Submarine Forces medical officers, said the only complaint on the part of the crew was that the water wasn't deep enough. "However, this being the first escape by buoyant ascent from the open sea, depth was limited purposely to permit familiarization with equipment."

PROGRESS PHOTOS of the Helen Farrand Elementary school north of Schoolcraft Rd. indicate the stride made on the building since it was started last fall. The builder has indicated that good weather has put construction ahead of schedule. Top picture shows the side of the building facing Schoolcraft while the photo below shows masons building up the auditorium wall. The school, almost identical to the James Gallimore school, is scheduled to open September 15.

Grange Cleanings

Nearly 200 Grange members assembled at the Grange hall last Thursday evening to witness the conferring of the third and fourth degrees on a large group of candidates by the degree team from Webster Grange. Fifty-four members of that Grange came, bringing a fine group of candidates with them. We had nine from our Grange. The work was well done and a pleasure to watch. Cake and coffee were served after the meeting.

At our next meeting on May 1, Mr. and Mrs. Nash are going to share with us the pleasure of their trip last winter by showing their pictures.

Comes the fish supper on April 26 — fresh perch heads the menu with the usual accompaniments. Serving will begin at 5:30 p.m. and continue until all are served. Cards and dancing will follow. The music will be provided by Perry Krumm and his son.

Tickets may be procured from Claude Eckles or Charlie Reinas. Reservations should be made by April 24 (today) if possible. Of course tickets will be on sale at the door.

April 30 is the deadline for the Sewing Contest and those who have been sewing for the competition should turn in their cards to Isabel Taylor. The dresses will be on display and judged on May 1 at the Grange hall at 4 p.m. Three judges will be present.

Latter Day Saints Break Ground for New Church

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, presently meeting in the Masonic Temple, is taking definite steps to establish a permanent church home in the Plymouth area. On Sunday afternoon, April 20, a formal groundbreaking service was held on the new church site located on Schoolcraft at the intersection of Bradner. The church to be erected is the first of two ultimate units of the completed plan.

The Plymouth congregation is one of 25 congregations which comprise the Detroit International Stake. A stake of the church is a geographic area defined by the General Conference in Independence, Mo., and also the designation of the church government under which its members worship.

This local group was organized on September 6, 1942, and since that date has met in the homes of various members, the old Oddfellows Building, and presently, the Masonic Temple on Union and Penniman Streets.

The groundbreaking service for the Plymouth church was honored with the presence of area church officials, including Stake President W. Blair McClain, Stake Bishop O. Kenneth Byrn, and other members and friends from various congregations throughout the metropolitan Detroit area who are vitally interested in helping the Plymouth congregation succeed.

The service was under the direction of the Stake President, Elder McClain, assisted by the local congregational officers, the Stake Bishop, Byrn, and the Plymouth congregation building committee. After the introduction and welcome by the Stake President, the Stake Bishop gave his word of appreciation for the ministry rendered previously that brings us to this date. In addition to the Stake officers, the sod was turned by each member of the Plymouth building committee, consisting of the following: Elder Robert C. Burger, pastor; Dale P. Clark, Bishop's Agent; Dr. Gerald Fitch and Elder Russell J. Knight, assistants to the pastor; Warren S. Perkins; Mrs. Clinton Sterner and William Michaels.

The unit of the church to be constructed first is the fellowship hall and church school unit, approximately 3,000 sq. ft. in size. The basic size of the church is 32 ft. by approximately 74 ft., plus special windows and entrances which will become a part of the completed unit later on.

The building is contemporary in its design, featuring beautiful glass windows and entranceways, a functional campanile, natural wood exposed ceiling with woodbeam trusses, a kitchen, modern room. It is planned that the fellowship hall will be divided into classrooms with the use of suitable wood folding or modern fold doors, as may be chosen later on.

The contract was awarded to the Burger Construction company of Plymouth. Several alternates have been agreed upon with the contractor so that, as funds may become available during the process of construction, they may be added to give a more complete unit when it is finished.

Individuals who are not members of the church are welcome to attend any and all services. A full-scale Sunday School is planned and the people of the area are invited to avail themselves of the services rendered by the church.

The Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints has been legally adjudged as the lawful continuation of the original church established in 1830 under the inspired leadership of Joseph Smith, Jr. Beginning at Palmyra, New York, and moving westward into Ohio, a

New Art Exhibit Goes Up In Library this Saturday

Plans are being completed by the Three Cities Art Club (Plymouth, Northville, Livonia), for a new exhibit in the Dunning-Hough Library of Plymouth. This is in accordance with the plan to rotate the artists' pictures shown there every three months.

The current exhibit will be removed on April 26th, and a new group of paintings hung then by Jessie Hudson and her committee of Mabel Bacon and John Van Heren.

A new guest exhibitor, Mrs. Lynn Dean Schmiedeke, will have paintings shown in the new exhibit. Mrs. Schmiedeke is a resident of Plymouth who teaches art in the Ann Arbor schools and is studying for her Master's degree in Art. She is a member of the Ann Arbor Art Association, and was one of a group featured in a large exhibit in the Rockham galleries, at which a number of her paintings were shown earlier this year.

The club is also making plans for its big exhibit of the year to be held in June in Plymouth's Kellogg Park. Each club member must show three to five paintings not previously exhibited. Last year this show attracted a

A real spring tonic waits adult movie viewers if they wander downtown Detroit direction. The TransLux Krim theater on Woodward avenue is playing the provocative French picture "And God Created Women" with Brigitte Bardot.

III, a confused future Admiral of the Brazilian navy. Joe Thompson weaved in and out as an intoxicated sipper of Stoh's beer (cast members all credit Joe with the clever lib line in reference to the beer) and then he took on new dignity later as a Russian Doorman.

Ruth Barney went from an Italian peddler to a wealthy widow walking her dog in the short space of one scene. All these brass doublers claimed that the transformations were worth the effort.

Well, that's my last reference to the sterling production of "My Sister Eileen." Promise to let the Spring production slip silently away into the night and never be heard from again.

Back to foreign matters for a moment. Wayne State University players will be doing Pirandello's "Right You Are, If You Think You Are."

Time to stop spouting stage palaver for another week. I'll see you all right here in the same corner next week with more about the best in theatrical fare, both at home and on Broadway.

Michigan's Old Capitol Still One Of State's Top Sightseeing Attractions

Shadows of the past linger in Michigan. And as they cast their flickering patterns over the land, here and there a shape emerges to bridge the span between the state's romantic past and its ever-changing present.

One of the best known of such tangible links with Michigan's history is the state capitol building in Lansing, Michigan's capital city. The building looks much the same as it did then.

Originally the capitol housed all of Michigan's state government. Since then, of course, government operations have spilled over into two other large office buildings in Lansing and a skyscraper in Detroit.

Two Plymouth young people have received $10 prizes for writing winning entries in the American Legion Auxiliary essay contest.

And soon the ornate old dome will be flanked by a phalanx of gleaming new state buildings, all striking examples of modern architecture. The two square blocks to the rear of the old capitol building have been cleared and the T-shaped Stevens T. Mason building already stands on one corner of this area.

Standing sentinel before the Capitol building is a weathered statue of Michigan's Civil War governor, Austin Blair; although he's been dead for nearly a century he is without a doubt the most photographed man in the state.

There are thousands of tourists who "collect" capitol stamps. Says Robert J. Furlong, executive secretary of the Tourist Council, "It has become a hobby. They visit as many states as they can, on each trip photographing the building and landmarks just as many persons collect stamps."

When I stand up to my full height the words just burst forth from my mouth — "I AM AN AMERICAN CITIZEN... THIS IS THE GREATEST COUNTRY ANYONE CAN FIND." Again I seem to feel that soft touch on my shoulder and in the distance the words seem to come forth...

How to Take Good Photos

Pictures that are technically good and also interesting depend on two things. These are the operation of the camera and the selection of subjects for picture taking.

No matter what kind of camera it is, the first step toward taking good photographs is to know and understand the equipment thoroughly. This understanding is based on reading the instruction book over and over, then practicing use of the camera.

After the camera can be operated smoothly and is as familiar to the photographer as any part of his body, then it is time to plan what subjects make good photographs. Personal interests are the first basis of selection.

One good way to learn how to select the subject is to buy several of the photo magazines each month. Study all the pictures as examples of exciting and stimulating work. Watch the compositions of these pictures and note new ideas which are shown regularly in these magazines.

It never pays to try to imitate what the other fellow is doing with pictures. Instead learn something from his pictures and superimpose your own ideas upon his.

It is surprising how many wonderful ideas for pictures can be dreamed up if a person just tries to think about the need for original photographs. Magazines and exhibits will be stimulating. So also may be courses that are a part of adult education in your home town.

It's Almost That Time for Trout Anglers

EASY DOES IT—A perfect cast, the right lure, and careful netting are the performances for successful angling of stream trout.

An "army" of 20,000,000 men have invaded our country's lakes and streams. Their command, far from military, is to take home a proud catch of succulent trout for an enjoyable family dinner.

The majority of state which sanction trout fishing have declared or will declare open season on trout angling soon. This declaration, causing every complaint imaginable from the female population, is responsible for the mass migration of men from the city to the slow pace of a forest lake or stream to try their luck.

Not that the sport of trout fishing is dull or simple. It is considered by experienced anglers to be the most exciting and challenging form of fishing known. Because of the habits of trout—such as their feeding on such small and wide variety of insects, and their environment—an angler must know what lure to use, know how to cast accurately so the lure is presented properly, and know how to quietly approach an area so as not to frighten these wary fish.

There are several species of trout, and depending on the one that interests the angler, certain methods of catching them must be practiced. The three most common varieties of stream trout are the rainbow, brown and brook.

A favorite of most trout fishermen is the rainbow. It is considered the most dramatic of the three mentioned above, and it is good for four or five leaps after it has struck a lure. Fast waters, sand and gravel bars, or deep cold water lakes are usually the locations for hooking a rainbow trout.

By nature, the rainbow is considered wiser than other trout species, and poorly imitated lures and misplaced casts keep these sage fish far from the hook. The best times to catch rainbow are in spring and fall when they are near the tops of streams and lakes. They go deep in summer. Water temperature plays an important part for rainbow catch—it should be about 55 to 60 degrees.

Brown trout, a species imported from Europe some years ago, are not quite the fighters as are rainbow, but they also are a favorite of trout fishermen. Although insects are a large part of a brown trout's diet, the fish has a liking for small metallic spinning lures. Insect lures used when fishing brown trout must be expertly made and highly realistic looking.

The haunts of brown trout are usually stream beds and lakes. The best time for fishing is April through July, and again in fall. Brown trout are harder than either the rainbow or brook, and they can survive dirtier waters that have a temperature up to 60 to 65 degrees.

Among trout fishermen, nothing is more beautiful or as good eating as the brook trout. However, to catch the brook trout, an angler must search for remote and quiet waters where heavy fishing does not disturb the easily-frightened brook.

As with brown trout, imitation insect lures must appear realistic or the brook trout will not rise to the angler's fly. Their one weakness is worms—although not all states permit worm bait to be used.

Brook trout are partial to the cold water of lakes, streams and ponds, and they are caught more frequently during the months of April through July and again in fall. The best flies for fishing brook trout are said to be the brightly colored ones.

The many secrets of fishing stream trout—all closely guarded by ardent anglers—could fill an encyclopedia. While the thrill of landing any one of the trout varieties is enough to make anglers come back year after year, the enjoyment of being outdoors and being concerned solely with outsmarting the wary trout is still the strongest inducement for engaging in the sport.

FLOWER MIMICS — Tuberos begonias look like carnations, roses, camellias or themselves and bloom all summer in shade. They may be planted in the garden as well as in tubs.

They're Beautiful And Thrive in Shady Spot

Does it seem possible that glowing large flowers, beautiful beyond words, could appear all summer in the shade? They will, if you plant tuberous begonias within the next three or four weeks.

Unlike most summer flowers, which must have sun to bloom, tuberous begonias require shade and moisture. With these two needs satisfied, the plants bloom consistently from June through September. Their flower display is as fine in Stamford, Conn., as it is in Stanford, Calif., in Houston, Texas, and Norfolk, Va., as it is in Seattle, Wash., and Chicago, Ill.

That's because these begonias get an equal start everywhere regardless of climate. They grow from tubers which must be planted each spring for summer bloom and are so susceptible to chilly weather that late May or early June is the earliest outdoor planting date.

Anyone can grow tuberous begonias from tubers. These can be planted outdoors now but will be slower to bloom than started tubers or plants. If a person neglected to start tubers indoors six weeks or so ago, both started tubers and plants can be purchased from mid-May on into early summer. Whatever is available may be planted directly in the ground or in pots to be plunged in the soil outdoors.

A shaded spot, even on the north side of the house, will permit tuberous begonias to flower. Shade from high branched trees is preferable to a spot so thickly shaded that it is likely to be constantly dank and wet. Shelter from high winds is desirable to prevent flowers from being shattered and if the side of a building or a hedge doesn't do this, then some sort of screen to protect plants against prevailing winds is desirable.

Flowers are so magnificent, both in form and coloring, that tuberous begonias are striking in tubs (one plant per tub) planter boxes on the shaded end of a porch or terrace. Flowers may be chosen to open in every shade and tint from white through palest yellow to apricot and orange, shell pink to deep rose and vivid red—in fact, all hues except blue.

A person who likes carnations can buy tubers or plants of these begonias whose flowers are so many petaled and fringed that they look for all the world like huge greenhouse carnations blooming outdoors. Or the rose fancier can have tuberous begonias whose flowers mimic roses and the camellia devotee can have these begonias with petals arranged to resemble their favorite flower. Then there are tuberous begonias that look like begonia, single, double, frilled or crested.

If a person can steel himself to pinch off the first flower buds, bloom will start a couple of weeks later but the flowers will be larger. Throughout the summer, the smaller buds just under each large terminal bud should be removed. Since the begonia flowers are large and their stems somewhat brittle, staking is advisable. Stems may be tied with soft cord to short bamboo stakes inserted in the soil or a wire coat hanger bent so as to prop up individual blossoms.

Since soil should never dry out completely, tuberous begonias will need watering almost daily and in hot weather probably twice daily. Once a week substitute a watering with liquid fertilizer or fish emulsion. That's it as far as care goes. Insects and diseases don't trouble these begonias.

Do-It-Yourself Finish Gives Water-Repellent Surface

New materials with new finishes and new descriptive names appear every season. The qualities claimed sound miraculous but soap, in its debut days, undoubtedly sounded miraculous too. One of the recent additions is products that can be applied at home to give water-repellent finishes to clothing.

There is a difference between a water-repellent and a waterproof garment. Water-proof material has been coated with a solution to prevent it being permeated by water or rain. For example, "Cravenette" is a name that had been trademarked and its presence on a tag guarantees that the cloth has been water-proofed.

A water-repellent garment, whether done professionally or at home, has been treated to resist moisture (it can be soaked through in a heavy rainstorm). This quality of resistance to moisture widens the uses of water-repellent finishes.

Water-repellent finishes will be appreciated on cotton dresses and other garments of cotton. An application will help them to stay crisp, particularly those worn during humid weather. Clothing that must be packed in a suitcase for a trip, if given a water-repellent treatment, will be wearable without being pressed at the end of the journey.

A water-repellent finish on ruffled curtains will reduce household maintenance. It is applicable also to tablecloths, shower curtains, slip covers and the like.

Water-repellent finishes are available in two forms: an emulsion that can be used in rinse water or starch, and a liquid that can be sprayed on to clothing that is usually not washed but dry cleaned. After selecting the right product for the purpose, it is important to follow the manufacturer's directions on the package. These explain not only quantity and method of application but also factors such as hard water or insoluble soap that will counteract the effect of the water-repellent product.

Some of these water-repellent materials can not only be put on but also they can be removed by washing the garment in water and soap or a synthetic detergent. Then, after laundering, the water-repellent product can be applied again, if desired. Longer freshness, resistance to soil and stains and less wrinkling of clothes and curtains are the chief recommendation of home-applied, water-repellent finishes.

ment in water and soap or a synthetic detergent. Then, after laundering, the water-repellent product can be applied again, if desired. Longer freshness, resistance to soil and stains and less wrinkling of clothes and curtains are the chief recommendation of home-applied, water-repellent finishes.

Water-repellent finishes do not replace cravenetting or similar waterproofing treatments. Raincoats and heavy storm coats, which are water-proofed when purchased, should have this treatment renewed professionally when they are dry cleaned. Still, there are many articles, both clothing and household, on which a water-repellent treatment means a longer fresh appearance. And that saves work!

Grapefruit Halves

Fresh grapefruit halves make quick, easy appetizers or desserts. To prepare grapefruit halves, cut grapefruit in half. Remove core, if desired. Cut around each section loosening fruit from membrane. Do not cut around entire outer edge of fruit. Serve plain or with one of the toppings suggested—Broiled grapefruit—sprinkle each half with 2 teaspoons sugar (or brown sugar, maple syrup, honey) and a dash of cinnamon, mace or nutmeg. Dot each half with 1 teaspoon butter. Broil 15-20 minutes. Serve hot. Or, spoon cranberry relish into halves. Or, cut chilled, jellied cranberry sauce into 1/2 inch slices. With small cutter or knife, cut out designs and place on each grapefruit half.

The Roosevelt collection of wild animals is housed in the Natural History Building, in Washington, D.C.

New Spring Party Treat

Spring weather may be strictly unpredictable, but spring's special desserts never fail, especially when strawberries and shortcake are included. Here's a luscious new Strawberry-Pineapple Bavarian Torte which forms the perfect setting for succulent red berries and fresh shortcake dainties from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Strawberry-Pineapple Bavarian Torte is the perfect party dessert because it is prepared ahead of time and won't interfere with your last minute meal preparations.

- Strawberry-Pineapple Bavarian Torte
- 8 shortcake dainties, cut into 2 even layers
- 2 envelopes (tablespoons) plain gelatin
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1 1/2 cups pineapple juice
- 2/3 cup sugar
- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, drained
- 2 cups whipping cream, whipped

Zipper is Here to Stay If You Put it in Right

The zipper, that metal slide, fastener that sometimes fastens all too securely, was invented in 1879. It was another 30 years before it was marketed because of strong opposition from button manufacturers. It hasn't taken 75 years to prove that both zippers and buttons have their place for fastening clothes.

There's no more mystery to inserting a zipper so that it works than there is to sewing on a button. Every zipper that is purchased includes information, and diagrams showing the steps to follow in order to sew it in place.

The two most important things are to purchase the correct zipper for the purpose and a zipper in the correct length. The length of the zipper needed for any garment that is being made is stated on the pattern envelope.

Zippers are used for all sorts of closings. Side plackets of skirts and dresses, front or back openings of blouses, short zippers for neck openings and shorter ones to close pockets, long zippers to fasten a sheath or princess dress up the back, all can be zipped up. Also there are zippers that can be separated for the opening of a jacket or blouse, and still another type, for secure closure of slacks, shorts and trousers. Selection is facilitated by some makes which seal zippers for different purposes in different colored envelopes (zippers themselves are available in all colors).

Relate Color and Design To Use, Individual Tastes

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles on the buying of dinnerware, flatware and glassware.)

Every bride and established homemaker must at some time purchase dinnerware to hold food and to produce an attractive setting in which to enjoy a meal.

It is easy to buy china or earthenware because the pattern takes your fancy or because the price is low. But, when the pattern begins to wear off and unsightly chips and cracks appear, the expense is doubled and you must buy another set.

Hence a few facts would be helpful before choosing a set of dinnerware.

Pattern, color and expense are the reasons why most people choose a particular set. It is extremely important that you are pleased in your choice, but its beauty must be lasting, related to the style and color of your home and the kinds of food your family and friends enjoy. Gold edged white china would be in perfect harmony with a formal room, while the greenness of a contemporary earthenware would be at home in modern surroundings. Remember that your set will not be seen in isolation, but as a part of your tablesetting and room.

Open stock patterns made by a reliable manufacturer are the most economical and the easiest to replace or add to.

Since the primary purpose of dinnerware is to hold food, the shape and size should relate to its use. Cups should have a finger-fitting handle and rims that are easy to drink from. Plates, cups and bowls should be large enough to hold fair servings.

Dinnerware is classified as either china or earthenware. The term earthenware, in its broadest sense, means ware that is opaque and will absorb water easily. There are three reliable tests of earthenware. First of all, hold a dish up to a strong light. No matter how thin, light will not shine through it. A second test is putting a drop of ink on a chipped piece. The ink will readily soak in, showing how porous it is. The third test is the sound produced by tapping a dish a dull ping should result.

Most ceramic departments in stores refer to earthenware in a more limited sense. They hold a more refined ware that appears more like the fine appearing ware which is usually white or pale cream in color.

The crude, coarse-looking earthenware is called pottery. Impurities in the clay turn pottery gray or the familiar terra cotta of flower pots, when placed in the firing ovens. Pottery is the most absorbent of all earthenware, but a surface glaze is applied to make it sanitary for continued use in eating. Although it looks sturdy, pottery is the most fragile of earthenware.

Another type in the earthenware group is a cross between earthenware and china. It is called semi-translucent ware, meaning that it is half way between porous earthenware and non-porous china.

Fine china has been an art of European and Oriental craftsmen for many centuries. The delicate porcelain from France and the bone china from England were long considered the best and most beautiful. But due to their fragility, the United States turned to American vitrified ware when they began production of china. American vitrified is the standard ware in hotels and restaurants. It is durable and strong. The glaze applied is harder than steel.

For long term economy, vitrified ware is the best solution.

China ware will not absorb much liquid. The identifying tests for china are the reverse of those for earthenware. Shadows will show through a dish held in a strong light, ink on a fractured portion will not soak in, but wipe off, and a bell-like tone can be heard when tapped.

The basic ingredient of all ceramics is clay. Flint is added for stability and whiteness. Feldspar is added to melt and hold the clay particles together. Bone ash is added instead of feldspar in English bone china.

Christian Science Lecture Sunday

Elbert R. Slaughter

Man's birthright of freedom will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given in Plymouth April 27 at 4 p.m. by Elbert R. Slaughter of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Slaughter, a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the church edifice at the corner of Mail and Dodge, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

His subject will be "Christian Science: Message of Liberation." The lecture is free and local members have invited the public to attend.

A native of Edgewood, Tex., Mr. Slaughter became interested in Christian Science in 1936 when he accepted a friend's invitation to attend a lecture. He withdrew from a business career in 1945 to devote his full time to the public practice of Christian Science healing.

Spring Revival To Open Sunday

Unanimous Approval Wherever He Goes!

Accompany a new 1958 Cadillac to any destination in the civilized world—and you will be accorded the courtesy that goes with respect.

For wherever a Cadillac goes, it carries with it a reputation for quality and integrity that is without counterpart in the world of manufactured products.

And such overwhelming approval of Cadillac—and of what it represents—is, we feel, the finest compliment that could be paid a motor car.

For it could only have been won and held by the strictest devotion to quality. Since the Cadillac name first appeared on the world's highways, it has represented automotive achievement at its highest level.

And never before have the fruits of this devotion been as evident as they are today.

Cadillac's beauty and luxury and performance have never been more deeply satisfying.

Even the most experienced Cadillac owners—long accustomed to the Cadillac virtues of the past—have found this latest "car of cars" a revelation in every way.

So if there's a new Cadillac in your heart . . . you owe it to yourself to see how easily and economically there could be a new Cadillac in your driveway!

Your dealer will be delighted to show you Cadillac's new Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to tell you about all the new models, including the Eldorado Brougham.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean: Will you please analyze my handwriting for me. I am interested in handwriting analysis. Thank you. H. R. Dear H. R.: You are a person whose emotions are changeable. You will let others know how you feel about a situation sometimes while at other times you keep your feelings to yourself. You are naturally impulsive but are able to control yourself part of the time so you don't always leap before you look.

There is an element of impatience and irritation indicated here which could be applied to yourself as well as with others, because you are sensitive to what others say about you and you wish you weren't. You show an appreciation for music and also intuitive.

Dear Jean: I am sending you a sample of my handwriting, if you can read it. Would like to know what my handwriting indicates. Thank you. A. D. S. There are resentment and suspicion shown in your handwriting along with argumentativeness. You are looking for facts, will analyze them and when you come up with your decision will stick by it regardless of the opposition. If this is used in the negative you would be a faultfinder who would be forever looking for something to pick on, but if used in the positive or desirable way, you could be an engineer (with the creative ability shown here) who would leave no stone unturned to get to the bottom of things, finding the flaws in a situation and being able to correct them.

Engineering could apply to male or female because women are sometimes called "kitchen engineers."

Dear Jean: Please analyze my handwriting and tell me what I am good for. Does the handwriting reveal your age? MAGGIE

Dear MAGGIE: No, age cannot be determined by one's handwriting nor can sex or right or left-handedness.

You have a mind that never rests. You are always on the alert for information. You are inquisitive and investigative. You like to find out about things and you are not willing to take someone else's word for it either. You want to prove it to yourself beyond a shadow of a doubt.

You will never become stale or stagnant because you want to improve yourself and your surroundings and are willing to work for it.

Dear Jean: I wouldn't think of laying aside the paper without reading your column—it is so interesting. Please tell me what you see in my handwriting. Sincerely, SCOTTY

Dear SCOTTY: You are optimistic and enthusiastic but the enthusiasm wanes as time goes on because you lose confidence in yourself. Try to develop more confidence because you really have ability along creative lines and are a go-getter.

Dear Jean: I enjoy your column every week and would like to have you analyze my handwriting. M. A. D.

You are a person who is easily hurt and most of it is of your own making. You jump to conclusions before you get all the facts so you wear your heart on your

Train to Leave Here for Tulip Festival in May

It's nearing tulip time in Holland, Mich. again. As the vast tulip farms come into full bloom, the Holland natives are preparing for the traditional street parade and the Wooden Shoe factory has stepped up production.

Many Plymouth residents are anticipating the Tulip Festival and making plans for the annual excursion across the state on Saturday May 17. Tickets are on sale now ($9.50) for the round-trip train and bus journey at the C & O Railway Depot and the Automobile Club office.

The "Tulip Special" will pull out of the Plymouth station at 8:40 a.m. and arrive in Grand Rapids for a lunch stop at 11:10 a.m. Special buses will leave Grand Rapids at 1 p.m., reaching Holland at 2 p.m.

Included in the cost will be a bus trip to the tulip farms, during which coffee, refreshments and a light lunch will be served. The rest of the time is left to the tourist and his camera. The street parade and the Wooden Shoe factory are the top attractions.

At 6:30 p.m. the buses will load for the return trip home. The train will arrive in Plymouth at 9:50 p.m.

The subject of an English Channel tunnel, proposed in the time of Napoleon, is again up for serious consideration. A new survey is being made and a report is expected in January, 1959.

THE READER SPEAKS UP

To the Editor:

I am sending you this letter hoping you might print it in your paper.

I attended the Town Hall meeting in the Junior High School concerning school taxes and in my opinion the people who submitted the questions to be answered should have been permitted to question the answers as given by the officials. I realize it would have taken some time, but it would have given the taxpayer the same opportunity he would receive in a Court of Equity.

I wish every taxpayer could read the Sept. edition of the Readers Digest entitled

"Do School Pupils Need Costly Palaces?" And every taxpayer should visit the Ann Arbor High School to see the tremendous waste of money spent on frills in that building. One of the costly items in building a school is the architects fee system which is based on the total cost of the building. What was the architects fee as to the Plymouth Junior High School?

The school board claims they build the kind of a school people want. Do they? Are the taxpayers given any information as to the design and cost of the schools and how much it will raise their taxes? Are the members of the school board servants of the people or are they our masters, cramming down our throats what they want making us like it?

Now this is a good question. Are the people going to elect members of the school board who are not hand-picked by the board of education and have courage to say 'no' when it affects the pockets of the taxpayer? We need members who know the value of a dollar and can be just as careful of the public's money as they would of their own.

Are our 1958 taxes going to be increased to a point that is unbearable to the average taxpayer, and result in property being sold for taxes?

Let everyone get out and vote and put some members on the school board who will work for the interest of the taxpayers.

FRANKLIN'S IDEA

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. — (UP) — An idea first used by Benjamin Franklin more than 200 years ago is being employed in a $500,000 building fund campaign for the Boys Club of New Bedford. In 1750 Franklin financed construction of Pennsylvania Hospital by having citizens of plans he had drawn up and select rooms they could dedicate in the nation's first health center.

The first charter to operate a telephone company in Michigan was granted in October, 1879, to the Ontonagon Telephone Co. It consisted of wires strung among four farm homes in Ontonagon.

Minutes of Plymouth Board of Education

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held in the library of the high school on Monday, March 10, 1958, at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Stecker, Administrative Assistant Blunk and Superintendent Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Zoet.

Also present: Mr. Sponsor of the Plymouth Mail; Mr. Alloway of Canton Township; Mr. Pasloski, Mr. Heit and Mrs. Leemon of Franks Lake School District; Mrs. Cline-Smith and Mr. DiPonio of Salem Township School District No. 3; Mrs. Blunk of Salem Township School District No. 6; Mr. Woolweaver, Director of Adult Education and Recreation.

President Fischer called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Pasloski and Mrs. Cline-Smith, speaking for their school districts, pointed to the crowded conditions in their classrooms and urged the fifth and sixth grades (numbering approximately 24 students) on a tuition basis next year.

It was noted that this would only be a temporary solution to a continuing problem. It was agreed, able classroom space in Plymouth however, that a study of the available Community Schools would influence the Board's consideration of this request. Action will be taken in May following the study.

Mr. Alloway inquired about the increase in school taxes on his home in Canton Township. He asked questions in regard to operation, school buildings, transportation, tax rates, assessment procedures, etc. He felt the increase in valuation in Canton Township over the previous year was excessive.

Mr. Blunk reported on the sewer and water situation at the new Helen Farrand School. He noted that the engineering for these services was completed and awaits the action of the Lake Pointe Improvement and Development Company in accordance with the contractual agreement signed with the Board of Education.

Since any failure on the part of Lake Pointe Improvement & Development Company to provide these services by September 15, 1958, in accordance with the contract would delay the opening of the new school, it seemed necessary to take immediate steps to provide for such a contingency.

It was moved by Mr. Stecker and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to authorize Mr. Blunk to procure an estimate on the cost of connecting to existing sewer and water lines, which would be back-charged to the fund held in escrow for this purpose, should the contingency arise.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Stecker.

It was moved by Mr. Stecker and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing to approve the minutes of the last regular meeting and the intervening special meetings.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Stecker.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Stecker to approve the payment of the following bills:

Building & Site Fund:

Vouchers 172 to 176, incl. $41,704.00

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Stecker.

The proposed summer program was reviewed with interpretation by Mr. Woolweaver.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Stecker to approve the summer program as presented by the superintendent.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Stecker.

The special meeting was called for Thursday, March 20, 1958, to consider the 1958-59 budget.

Superintendent Isbister was instructed to write Messrs. Clifford and Ide, pointing out that no change will be made in the present policy having to do with the use of the school facilities for religious purposes.

Meeting adjourned at 11:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held in the homemaker room of the high school on Monday evening, March 17, 1958, at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Zoet, Mr. Blunk and Mr. Isbister.

Also present: Mr. Harding, Mr. Andresen, Mr. Brown, Mr. Dittmar and Mrs. Witwer of the Plymouth Community Junior High School.

The meeting was called to order by President Fischer at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Harding and members of the junior high school staff interpreted the program as it is now functioning. References were made to the adequacy of the physical plant and the allocation of space within the building. It was noted that in general, the students and teachers express genuine satisfaction and pleasure with both the program and the building.

A few suggestions were made for planners to consider in planning the next building. These had to do with storage space, dressing rooms, work areas and conference rooms. It was felt that the friendly appearance of the new building invites the presence of people.

The joint planning of the instructional program by the principal, teachers, students and parents is especially noteworthy.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Stecker to approve the payment of the following bills:

General Fund:

Mrs. Hulsing and Mr. Mitchell reported the progress made by the joint committee on personnel policies. They indicated that the committee will visit with administrators in Grosse Pointe on Saturday, March 22, 1958, in order to become familiarized with their system of job descriptions and salary administration.

Article VIII, prepared by the Secondary School Facilities Committee, was approved for publication.

Upon completion of the work on the bus garage Mr. Blunk was authorized to employ a full time mechanic to do maintenance and repair work on the school buses.

The special meeting scheduled for Saturday, March 22, 1958, was postponed to Monday, March 24, 1958.

A special meeting with the maintenance staff was scheduled on Monday, March 31, 1958.

Meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Thursday evening, March 20, 1958, in the superintendent's office in the high school building at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Zoet, Mr. Blunk and Mr. Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Stecker.

President Fischer called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Blunk presented for consideration statements of estimated operating expenditures for 1958-59 totaling $1,825,660. It was based upon needs as they have been expressed through the administrative staff and interpreted in the central office. The estimate included additional staff for the new building and additions to the teaching staff in the junior and senior high schools.

Included also were expanded health and library services and additional allocations per student for instructional supplies in the junior and senior high schools. Scheduled salary increases for those not at the maximum salary were included.

Mr. Blunk pointed out that, in estimating receipts for next year, two variables which can not be determined accurately at this time must be considered, the school membership for next year and the state equalization valuation of the school district. Basing the figures on a membership of 4,400 students and a state equalized valuation of $80,000,000 he estimated the operating receipts for 1958-59 to be $1,826,440.32.

Following a discussion period on the expenditures for 1958-59 it was agreed to review the budget with representatives of the Plymouth Education Association at a special meeting on Monday evening, March 24, 1958.

Meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Monday evening, March 24, 1958, in the homemaker room of the high school at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet; Superintendent Isbister and Administrative Assistant Blunk.

Also present: Mrs. Mackie, Mr. Smith, Mrs. Terry, Miss Johnson, Mr. Foster, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Mack of the Plymouth Education Association.

President Fischer called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

Mrs. Kelly reported for the Joint Board-Staff Committee on Personnel Policies. She noted that the committee had agreed on the following basic principles of salary administration:

1. A salary schedule should be subjected to a continuous review and evaluation.

2. The salary schedule should be developed cooperatively by the staff, administration, board of education and citizenry.

3. The minimum salary should attract competent teachers.

4. The maximum salary should offer incentives to keep good teachers.

5. The salary schedule should encourage professional growth and improvement.

6. The salary schedule should contribute to morale among employees.

Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Foster, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Isbister described in detail the Grosse Pointe Salary Program and Personnel Policies. They noted that Dr. Otis Dickey, Assistant Superintendent in Grosse Pointe, spent considerable time with the committee in interpreting the Plan as it is now functioning.

The committee felt that the Plan had certain strengths among which are the following:

1. Job description became an integral part of salary administration.

2. The earned increment system insures professional growth.

3. Through representation the entire staff is involved in the administration of the program.

4. Salaries are related to work load and responsibilities.

The Study Committee will report to the Board at a later date on tentative proposals which it will suggest in making adaptations of this Plan to our local school district.

Mrs. Kelly reported on questions and suggestions made by teachers which they felt should be incorporated in the Personnel Policies.

It was agreed that the policies would become effective July 1, 1958, and that credit should be given at the opening of school for the number of sick days which a teacher will accumulate under contract during that year.

Mr. Foster was given approval to take the fifth grade class at Starkweather School on a one-day excursion to Niagara Falls.

It was moved by Mrs. Hulsing and seconded by Mr. Mitchell to adopt the following resolution:

Effective Monday, April 14, 1958, the official meeting place of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District will be changed from the Senior High School Building to the Plymouth Community Junior High School, 1100 Michigan, at regular meetings to be held at 8:00 P.M. on the second Monday of each month.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

Meeting adjourned at 10:40 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held in the homemaker room of Plymouth High School on Saturday, March 29, 1958, at 9:30 P.M.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Stecker, and Mr. Zoet; Administrative Assistant Blunk.

Absent: Mr. Mitchell.

Also present: Miss Welch, Mrs. Blossom, Mrs. Westland, Mrs. Tanager, Mr. McMillan, and Mr. Elston.

President Fischer called the meeting to order at 9:30 A.M.

Mrs. Nancy Tanager, Principal of the Bird Elementary School, introduced Miss Welch and Mrs. Westland, representatives of 5th grade teachers of the school system.

Miss Welch, Mrs. Westland, Mrs. Blossom, and Mr. McMillan presented (1) a list of those qualities, ideas, and policies now in effect which contribute to make the education of students in grades 5 and 6 effective and worthwhile, (2) a list of recommendations for consideration which they felt would improve the education of students in grades 5 and 6, and (3) a job description of an elementary curriculum coordinator.

Mrs. Westland presented a typical day's program for a fifth grade student.

Mr. McMillan presented a typical day's program for a sixth grade student.

A discussion of the recommendations by the fifth and sixth grade teachers was held. The following topics were discussed: the possibility of adding an elementary curriculum coordinator to the staff, elementary school libraries, textbooks, spelling, remedial reading, lunch hour, a course of study for elementary grades, instructional supplies, film strip library, class load, extra school duties for fifth and sixth grade students, and the camping program for elementary students.

The teachers recommended that the science workshop for teachers be continued during the summer of 1958.

Mr. Blunk was delegated to have a representative of a book company discuss elementary textbooks at the March 31 meeting of the Board of Education.

Meeting adjourned at 11:45 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

MINUTES

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held in the homemaker room of Plymouth High School on Monday evening, March 31, 1958.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Stecker, Mr. Zoet and Administrative Assistant Mr. Blunk.

Also present: Mr. Fulton, Mr. Kowalcik, Mr. Pagenkopf, Mr. Rupert and Mr. Truax representing the maintenance-custodial staff, and Mr. James Hardimon representing Ginn and Company.

President Fischer called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Fulton discussed the present salaries of the maintenance-custodial staff, emphasizing the rising cost of living and the high interest of the maintenance-custodial staff in its job and in children.

Mr. Rupert discussed time and one-half for overtime for maintenance-custodial employees and extra pay for extra work.

Mr. Mitchell requested cooperation and study on the part of all in order that a satisfactory agreement result which would be beneficial to all.

Mr. Fischer recommended that a sub-committee consisting of three members of the maintenance-custodial staff and three members of the board of education meet and provide definite recommendations for the consideration of the Board of Education. Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet are to represent the board of education on this sub-committee. Mr. Fulton is to notify the Board of Education of the three representatives from the maintenance-custodial staff on or before April 4, 1958. The first meeting of this sub-committee is to be held following Easter vacation.

Mr. James Hardimon, representing Ginn and Company, discussed elementary school textbooks, the frequency of change, the frequency of revision and the life expectancy of textbooks.

Mr. Hardimon explained that the life expectancy of textbooks is dependent upon many factors; the subject grade, teacher, size of book, use by one student or many, and storage, pointing out that the average life of an elementary textbook is five years.

A letter and resolution dated March 15, 1958, from Mr. Louis Stein, Supervisor of Canton Township, requesting that a polling place be established at the Canton Township Hall for all school elections was read and discussed.

It was moved by Mr. Stecker and seconded by Mrs. Hulsing that the Board of Education establish one additional polling place in the Plymouth Community School District in conformance with the present policy that polling places for school elections be schools of the school district.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet.

Nays: None.

A letter dated March 26, 1958, from the Wayne County Association of School Boards was read.

The special meeting of the Board of Education scheduled for Saturday, April 5, 1958, was postponed until a later date.

The next meeting of the Board of Education will be the regular meeting, April 14, 1958, at 8:00 P.M. to be held at the Plymouth Community Junior High School.

Meeting adjourned at 10:25 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

Turnabout a la Tony

Have you met Tony yet? He's from Europe—and rents the old Whelan farm.

Tony's a good worker and has that farm running pretty slick. Funny though—on days off—Tony hangs around the barbershop listening to the political discussions. But he never says a word.

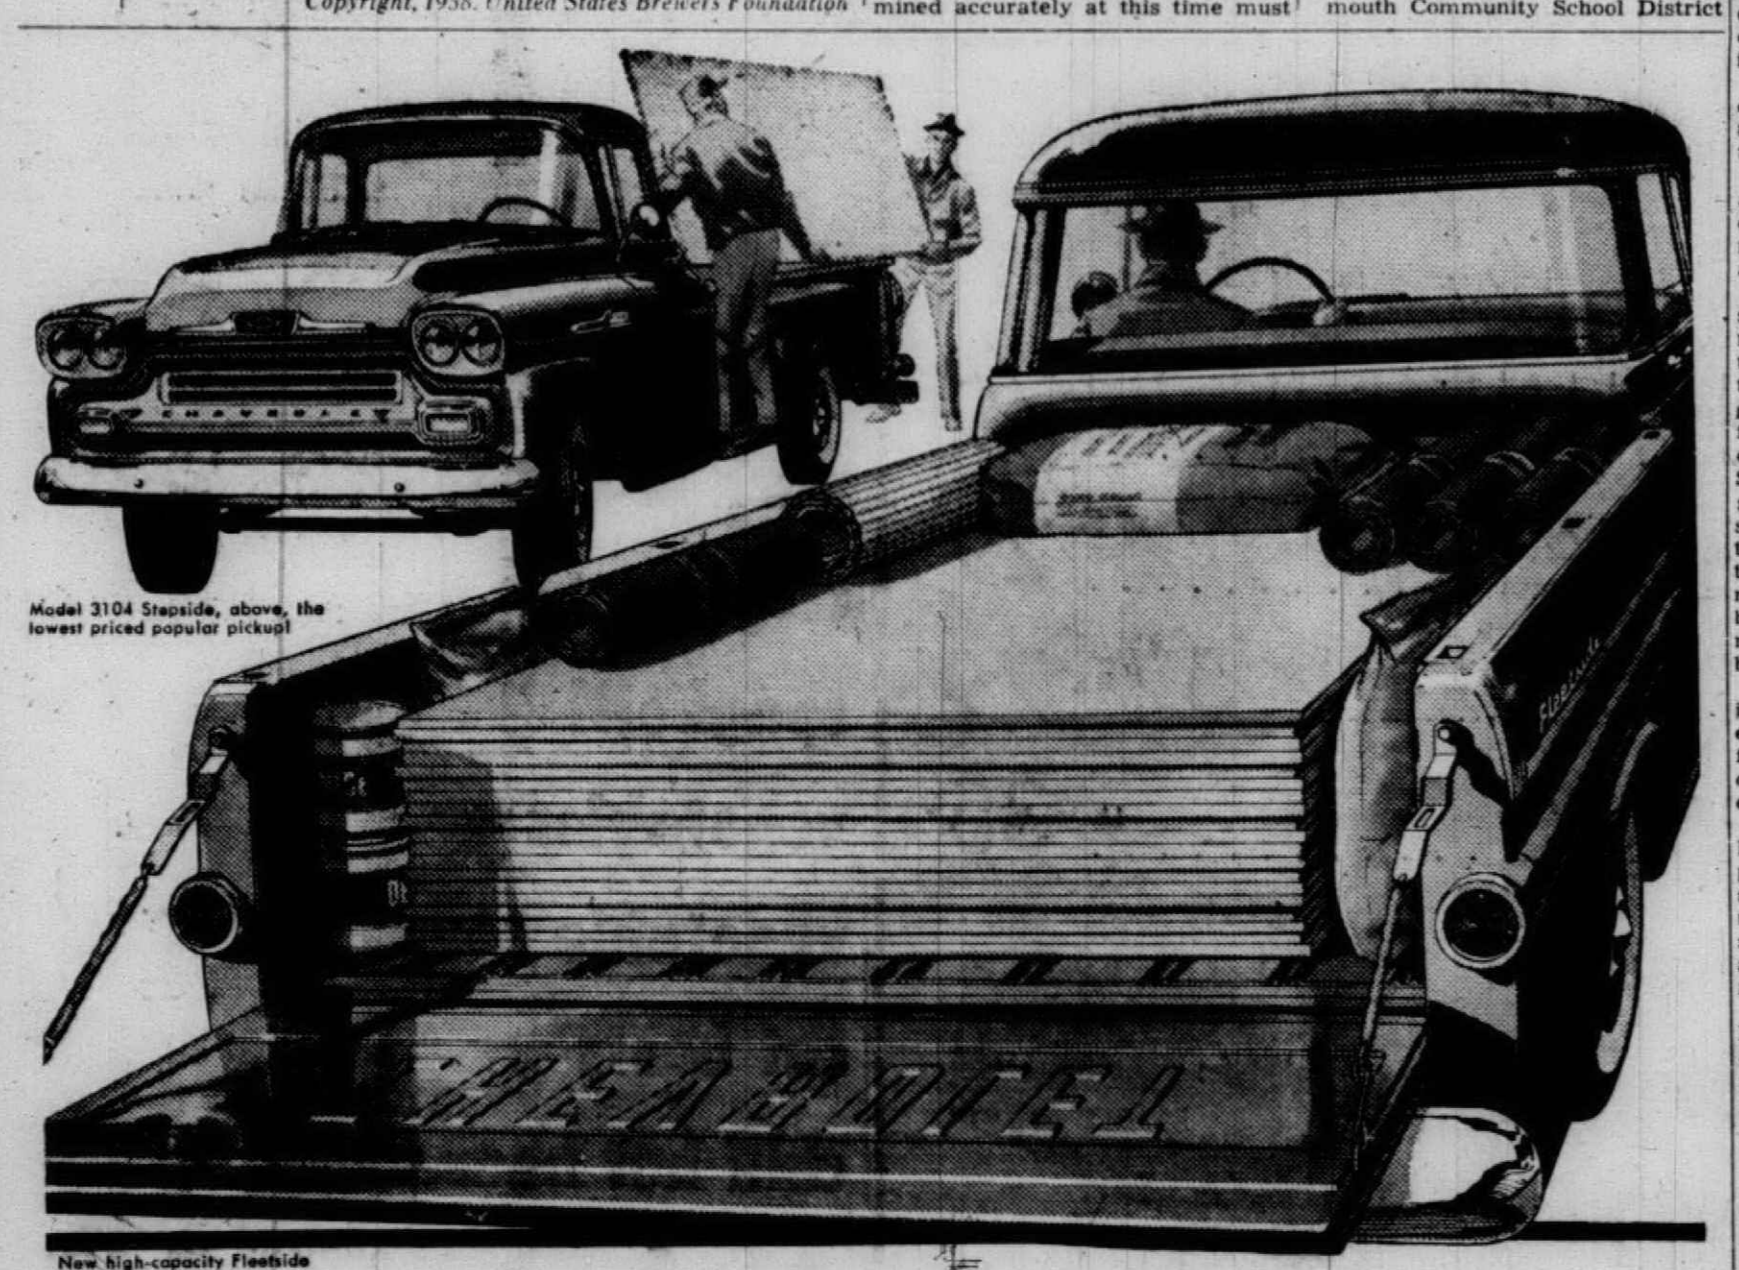

Last Thursday, though, Tony was there and was speaking his mind. When I asked him about the sudden change, he smiled and showed a brand-new set of citizenship papers. "Now I talk up like an American should," he said.

From where I sit, every citizen has a right to speak his mind—on all subjects. For instance, I happen to feel that beer is just about the best refreshment beverage there is. Nobody has to agree with my choice—but there's no arguing my right to "sound off" about it.

Put Storage Items Near to Place of Use

If the "cleaning bug" gets you started working on storage closets this spring, it may be a good idea to do some rearranging. When you "houseclean" closets or storage areas, sort and store things according to their use.

Items that are used often — nearly every day — should be stored where they're easy to reach. And be sure to put them near the place where they are first used. For instance, bathroom cleaning supplies should be stored in or very near the bathroom. Things that are used only occasionally or just seasonally may be stored in less convenient places. It may even take stretching, stooping or climbing to get them depending on how often you use them.

Take a good look at items — the ones that you seldom or never use. It's a good idea to sort them over — maybe some should be thrown away. Some of the ones you decide to keep may be moved to an attic or the basement to make room for more necessary things in closets or storage units. When you rearrange your storage put things that you use often where they are "easy to see, easy to reach, and easy to grasp."

When you shop for spring and summer clothes you'll find many are made of blends. Dacron and cotton blends come in many weights from sheers to suitings. Dacron-and-linen is a popular blend for spring costumes. Some blends contain natural fibers; some combine natural with synthetic fibers. Arnel, alone or in blends, is being used in spring clothing.

Salvage an old door — a flat one with no moldings — cut it to size and refinish it for a new coffee table. You can buy any size or shape legs for it at your local hobby or furniture shop, say Michigan State University home economists.

Ever been discouraged when the furniture you've finished yourself has a rough, grainy texture? Dust is the culprit. To avoid it as much as possible, work in a dust-free room and rub the surface with a cloth moistened in turpentine and alcohol after each sanding.

An Angry Teacher

ANN ARBOR — "Let's face it — the American people are suddenly afraid and they are seeking a scapegoat in teachers," Dean George D. Stoddard of the School of Education, New York University, said recently at The University of Michigan.

"What the Jews were to the vengeful Nazis, the teachers are now in the U.S. to a powerful clique that guessed wrong. Their guess was that teachers were unimportant in world affairs.

"The Devil reappears as the ghost of the mild, scholarly and humane John Dewey — a man who worked three quarters of a century to remove from the eyes of youth the blinders of medieval scholasticism and superstition. Surely France, Spain, Argentina, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Egypt, and Russia are no part of Dewey's world. Shall we emulate them?" he asked.

"The people have stoutly resisted any plan to permit the U.S. as a nation to enter into the local school situation. In spite of proposals that would prevent 'interference,' there is today no general federal assistance to education.

"What the Russians have, and are boasting about — joined by some articulate Americans — we deplore. It is a monolithic, party-dominated system headed up by one man. In Russia, variation amounts to subversion; local responsibility is an illusion; parental or pupil choice, a rarity. Do we really want that in America?"

Dean Stoddard predicted, "The more we improve our schools, approaching the multiple goal of substantial learning, straight thinking, vocational preparation, and sound human relations, the louder will be the cries of anguish.

"They will come from parents who fear their questioning children; from persons who profit by the 'brainwashing' of the consumer; from aroused sectarian groups; from those who would uncritically embrace foreign elements in the American scene."

Books: 'Yonder One World'

By United Press

The late Mohandas K. Gandhi disagreed with the Communist maxim that the end justifies the means. "The means matter," he said. "Bad means make for bad ends." That memorable quotation from India's "great soul" is recalled by the distinguished Indian journalist, Frank Moraes, in his new book, Yonder One World (Macmillan).

Moraes writes as an Indian with a pronounced Western leaning in his "study of Asia and the West." He has a low opinion of Communism. When he criticizes the Indian government, it is with regard to method, not aim. In Asia, he asserts, the principles of democracy are best expressed through democratic socialism.

"The choice in Asia is not between Communism and democracy as America and the West understand it, but between Communism and a type of democracy, such as social democracy or democratic socialism, which is better suited or adapted to Asia's needs," he reports. In Moraes' view, Asia has fought and largely won its battle for nationhood. The big battle, between nationalism and Communism, is still to be waged.

Co-existence, the editor-author contends, is used by the Communists as a means of lulling their neighbors into somnolence preceding liquidation.

When the Communists no longer have use for such men as Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, President Sukarno of Indonesia and Prime Minister U Nu of Burma, they will denounce them as "running dogs of Western imperialism," according to Moraes.

Applying the Communist danger to India, he views Red-governed Kerala state as the Communists' "first milestone on the road to Delhi." With the Indian Communists "now breathing down the back of Nehru's neck," he points out, the economic race between India and China becomes an outstanding example of the rivalry between the democratic and the Communist ways of life in Asia.

Edna Ferber, queen of America's wild frontiers, has flown far to the north and down in Ice Palace (Doubleday) to take a lingering look at one of the last of them: Alaska, the not-quite-state that looks across the Bering strait at the sinister Siberian shore.

Through a handful of people in the mythical city of Baranof (could it have been suggested by Anchorage?), Miss Ferber tells the story, in depth and breadth, of the sprawling U.S. Arctic territory.

Zebedee ("Czar") Kennedy typifies the "robber barons" among Alaska's leading citizens for Miss Ferber, while Thor Storm, the expatriate Norse nobleman, stands for its idealists. The two men, long associates but never really friends, have a granddaughter in common — Christine Storm — who represents Alaska's hopes for the future.

Although Miss Ferber must rank as a cheechako in the eyes of old Alaska hands, she has taken the problems of the territory to heart and she is bitter about what she considers the injustices inflicted on it. Much of Ice Palace is etched with an acid prose that recalls the early Sinclair Lewis. It is not only an absorbing story in its own right, it is a simple, straight-spoken, if perhaps somewhat one-sided, way for the uninformed American to find out what Alaska is all about.

WRONG AUTO

NORWICH, N. Y. (UP) — Mrs. Myrtle Anderson parked her 1951 green automobile next to a car of the same model, make and year. When she returned her car was gone. The owner of the other car, Mrs. Carl Collins, had accidentally switched cars, driven 70 miles home to Syracuse and was surprised when the deputy sheriff telephoned her.

'Life Begins at Forty'

By ROBERT PETERSON

A FEW MONTHS AGO on television, Elsa Maxwell, 74, was telling Jack Paar about a letter she had received from an elderly shut-in.

"Watching you on television" wrote the shut-in, "brings me such a vital sense of joy and gaiety that I actually forget my aches and pains. You radiate such cheer and optimism that I'm sure this would be a happier world if there were more people like you."

This started me thinking. Why shouldn't Elsa become an evangelist for a new kind of gospel based on her unique interest in helping people get more fun out of life? It seems that she could leave a lasting legacy to the world if she were to create a gospel of gaiety which could be readily assimilated by people everywhere. It might even be launched as an organization known as E.L.S.A. — the letters standing for the Enriched Longevity Society of America.

While there is only one Elsa Maxwell, there are thousands of little Maxwells in the world who are blessed with a big heart, an outgoing love for mankind, an easy laughter, and a spontaneous sense of fun which infects those with whom they come in contact. If all these little Maxwells could be diverted from their hum-drum occupations and encouraged to work full or part-time at the happy task of helping others get more fun out of life, think how the gloom in this world might be lightened! Based on my understanding of Elsa's exuberant philosophy, here are some of the beliefs which it seems should be accepted by those who wish to adopt the Maxwellian gospel:

1. I believe laughter is one of the most precious commodities in the world and I feel that one of the most worth-while things I can do for mankind is to stimulate gaiety and happiness in others.

2. I believe that our greatest pleasures are those which stem from wide, warm friendships, and a keen appreciation of the art of living.

3. I believe we should look for the beauty and gaiety in life, and rise above the ugliness and pessimism about us.

4. I believe people should never take themselves too seriously, and should not hesitate laughing at their own shortcomings and difficulties.

5. I believe that the later years of life offer even greater opportunities for satisfaction than earlier years.

6. I believe that life is a marvelous gift and, because we travel this way but once, it is vitally important that we pack as much happiness as possible into each day that we live.

IF YOU ARE BLESSED WITH a gay, outgoing personality and a love for people, why not take a cue from Elsa Maxwell and devote as much time as possible to infecting others with the gaiety in your heart. By doing so, you will be making a contribution to mankind every bit as important as the contributions of recognized humanitarians.

Concert Records

NEW YORK (UP) — No one by now doubts the nerve of Maria Meneghini Callas. So it should surprise no one that she is the Rosina in a complete recording of Rossini's "The Barber of Seville" and sings that murderous coloratura part as though hers is just the voice for it, which definitely it is not.

But Miss Callas has a knack for getting away with things, and she gets away with this, too. The tendency of her voice to thin and shrill when under stress is more than usually evident because Rosina's part is stressful. Yet you're hardly conscious of it; she imbues the vocal line with qualities which are extra-vocal.

Even with her voice, she is a commanding actress. It awes you to realize that even Rosina is in her vast repertoire of operatic heroines and she has mastered the role like all the others. The recording was made in London but with what evidently was the cast of a La Scala, Milan production (Angel-3558).

If Your Name Is Lola or Dolores

By ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

"Lola" and "Dolores" are, in a peculiar way, connected with "Mary." "Lola" is the familiar form for "Dolores," and this name in itself is a shortened version for "Maria de Dolores." This is a Spanish for "Mary of the Sorrows," an appellation referring to the sorrows in the life of Mary, mother of Jesus.

In former centuries "Mary" was considered too sacred for common use in some countries, especially in Spain. Only names hinting at an event in the life of the Virgin were given, such as "Maria de Dolores," or names commemorating a character trait of Mary, such as "Maria de Mercedes," meaning "Mary of Mercy." "Maria," being understood to belong to the name even if it was not mentioned, was omitted. And so remained "Dolores" and "Mercedes," now used by themselves.

Baptized Maria Dolores Eliza Rosanna Gilbert, she chose to call herself Lola Montez, because, although the child of a Scotch-Irish father and a Spanish mother, she wanted to believe herself entirely Spanish. Sometimes she even pretended that she was born in Seville when in truth she was a native of Limerick, Ireland.

Lola was brought up in India, made her debut as a dancer in London, and reached the height of her dazzling career in Munich, Bavaria, when King Louis I. of Bavaria fell passionately in love with her, and came so thoroughly under her influence that she practically ruled the country. Her power came to an end when her political enemies forced her into exile. Write about it to Dr. Reynolds, care of this newspaper, in 1848.

London, San Francisco, India and Australia were just a few way-stations of her later life. Eventually she became a reformer, and died in her early forties in New York, leaving what little money she had to a home for wayward girls.

What had started the lovely Lola on her adventuresome career? At 18 to escape marriage with a 60 year old man her mother had singled out for her, she ran off with another man of whom she later wrote that he was "only the outside shell of a husband." She added ruefully that "runaway matches like runaway horses are almost sure to end in a smashup."

"Prudence," the middle name of one Lola interested in its story, is the Latin word "prudencia" used as a first name for girls, just as some other names designating abstract qualities. It was often shortened to "Prue," and was mainly used after the Reformation.

Interested in other names? Do you like or dislike yours? Write about it to Dr. Reynolds, care of this newspaper.

Female Cancer Down

There is good news from the American Cancer Society about cancer in women. The death rate is on the decline. Over the past decade the previously mounting rate at which women were dying of cancer has been halted and now the trend is downward.

The American Cancer Society attributes this improvement to early detection and prompt treatment for the sites of cancer which are most accessible. The disease causes death because its malignant cells spread — unchecked — and other cancers start growing. When these interfere with vital processes, death results.

Cancer of the uterus has shown the greatest decline in death rates among women's cancers because it is in the category of "early detectable" and yields to prompt treatment. Women were dying from uterine cancer in 1930 at a rate of 25.9 per cent per 100,000 population. This death rate fell to 15.5 by 1953.

Now the American Cancer Society is hoping to improve this figure even more. The ACS Unit in this community has announced a program to urge every woman in this city to have a pelvic examination, including the uterine cancer cell examination — a painless technique of taking a sample of vaginal fluid for preparation of a slide which is studied under the microscope for the presence of cancer cells. This method uncovers the earliest of cancers and the test can be made in the doctor's office in a few moments.

The American Cancer Society assures us that if the cell examination for uterine cancer is widely adopted, cancer of the uterus can be practically eliminated as a cause of death. Cooperation in this venture will save many lives over the next few years. We hope it will have the full participation of all the women in this community.
