

More Higher Taxes Seen This Year

Most Plymouth area people will be paying higher taxes again this year, according to long-awaited equalization figures released this week from the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation.

Equalization is the factor added to local assessed valuations which the Bureau of Taxation feels places each governmental unit and school district on par with each other.

Although the County Bureau has released its equalization figures, the State Tax Commission is still withholding its decision until May 26 when a hearing will be held in Lansing.

Last year the state added about 9.8 percent to all of Wayne County's valuations. It was last year that taxpayers got riled up after the Wayne County Bureau adjusted local assessments upward.

In Canton Township, for instance, the assessment total jumped about 300 percent after the state got through adding its factor.

School Superintendent Russell Isbister learned by phone Monday that the school district's equalized assessed valuation has been set at $78,256,965.

The county equalized figure in the city is about 20 percent higher than last year. Last year the county placed an equalized value in the city of $19,509,170.

In Plymouth Township, the county equalization has jumped about 11 percent over last year.

About 75 percent of Canton Township residents will be paying lower taxes this year, according to Supervisor Louis Stein.

The city of Plymouth will get hit the hardest this year because of a complete re-assessment job performed by the Bureau of Taxation last summer.

Although the city commission didn't adopt the re-assessment because they felt that many readjustments, particularly on land, were "unrealistic," the county has the re-assessment figures upon which to base its equalization.

More Action Taken School Sewer, Water Keep Board Worried

A letter will be sent by legal counsel for the Plymouth Board of Education to the Fred E. Green-Span Building Co. notifying them of the Board's intent to take legal action if necessary to obtain water and sewer service for the Helen Farrand Elementary School.

All parties involved in the situation were invited to the Monday night school board meeting. The builders could not attend but a letter was sent informing the board that a bid for the job is now being awaited from a contractor.

Commission To Draw Up Spirits Policy

If city of Plymouth voters approve the liquor-by-the-glass proposal which may be on the ballot this year, the city can legally have up to four licenses, according to a finding made by City Attorney Harry Deyo.

The attorney made the report to the city commission Monday night as the commission made preparations to draw up a policy next week probably limiting the licenses to three.

Commissioners have been asked to state now whether they will allow any more liquor-by-the-glass licenses than there are beer-by-the-glass licenses. There are now three places selling beer over the counter.

The commission has announced that it will decide at its regular meeting next Monday on its policy. It is believed that they will decide to confine the number to three.

But according to their attorney, state law allows one license for each 1,500 population, based on the last federal census. This would allow four licenses now. (Plymouth had a population of 6,637 in 1950.)

Several commissioners, however, pointed out that the State Liquor Commission has asked the city commission's approval on licenses before, and that they will probably continue to do so.

If Plymouth were not in Wayne County, the city commission could determine itself how many licenses it wants. But the law, as amended in 1957, states that only in counties of less than 1,000,000 population can the local legislative body control the number of licenses.

A history of tavern licenses in Plymouth was given to the commission Monday night. In

Man Stabbed Three Times In Fracas

A 40-year-old Holbrook Avenue resident is in fair condition today after being stabbed three times by his son-in-law Tuesday night.

Paul Griffin, 837 N. Holbrook, was knifed three times by George L. Kirkland, 26, occupant of the same address, after Griffin allegedly came home drunk and became abusive.

Police are holding Kirkland for investigation of felonious assault.

According to statements given police, friends who were moving to West Virginia this week had dropped in for the evening and later Griffin came home intoxicated. He laid down on a bed and when he began to curse and mumble, his step-daughter, Mrs. Kirkland, went in to close the bedroom door.

Police were told that Griffin got up and ran into the door, cutting his lip and nose. As he became more abusive, the Kirklands left and later returned. When Mrs. Kirkland went to the door, Griffin pushed his wife out the door. His son-in-law then came up on the porch and the two men started fighting.

Kirkland had Griffin over a porch railing when friends asked that he break it up. Kirkland then went into the house, followed by Griffin who carried a rock.

The two started to fight again in the kitchen, police were told, and Kirkland grabbed a knife. During the struggle, Griffin was stabbed in the lower abdomen, lower left chest and in the back.

Kirkland and his wife then left the house and went to the police station to report the stabbing. Kirkland was later arrested while Griffin was rushed to Wayne County General Hospital.

The Wayne County prosecutor's office will investigate the case to determine if a warrant should be filed against Kirkland.

Originator Of Mayflower II To Speak Here

A modern pilgrim, Major Warwick Charlton, is coming to Plymouth next week.

He's the young Britisher who conceived the idea of a second Mayflower ship, an exact replica of the original Mayflower, as a good-will gift of the English to the American people.

Major Charlton will be in Plymouth Friday, May 23. He not only conceived the Mayflower II idea, but also made the famed crossing and penned a book, "The Second Mayflower Adventure."

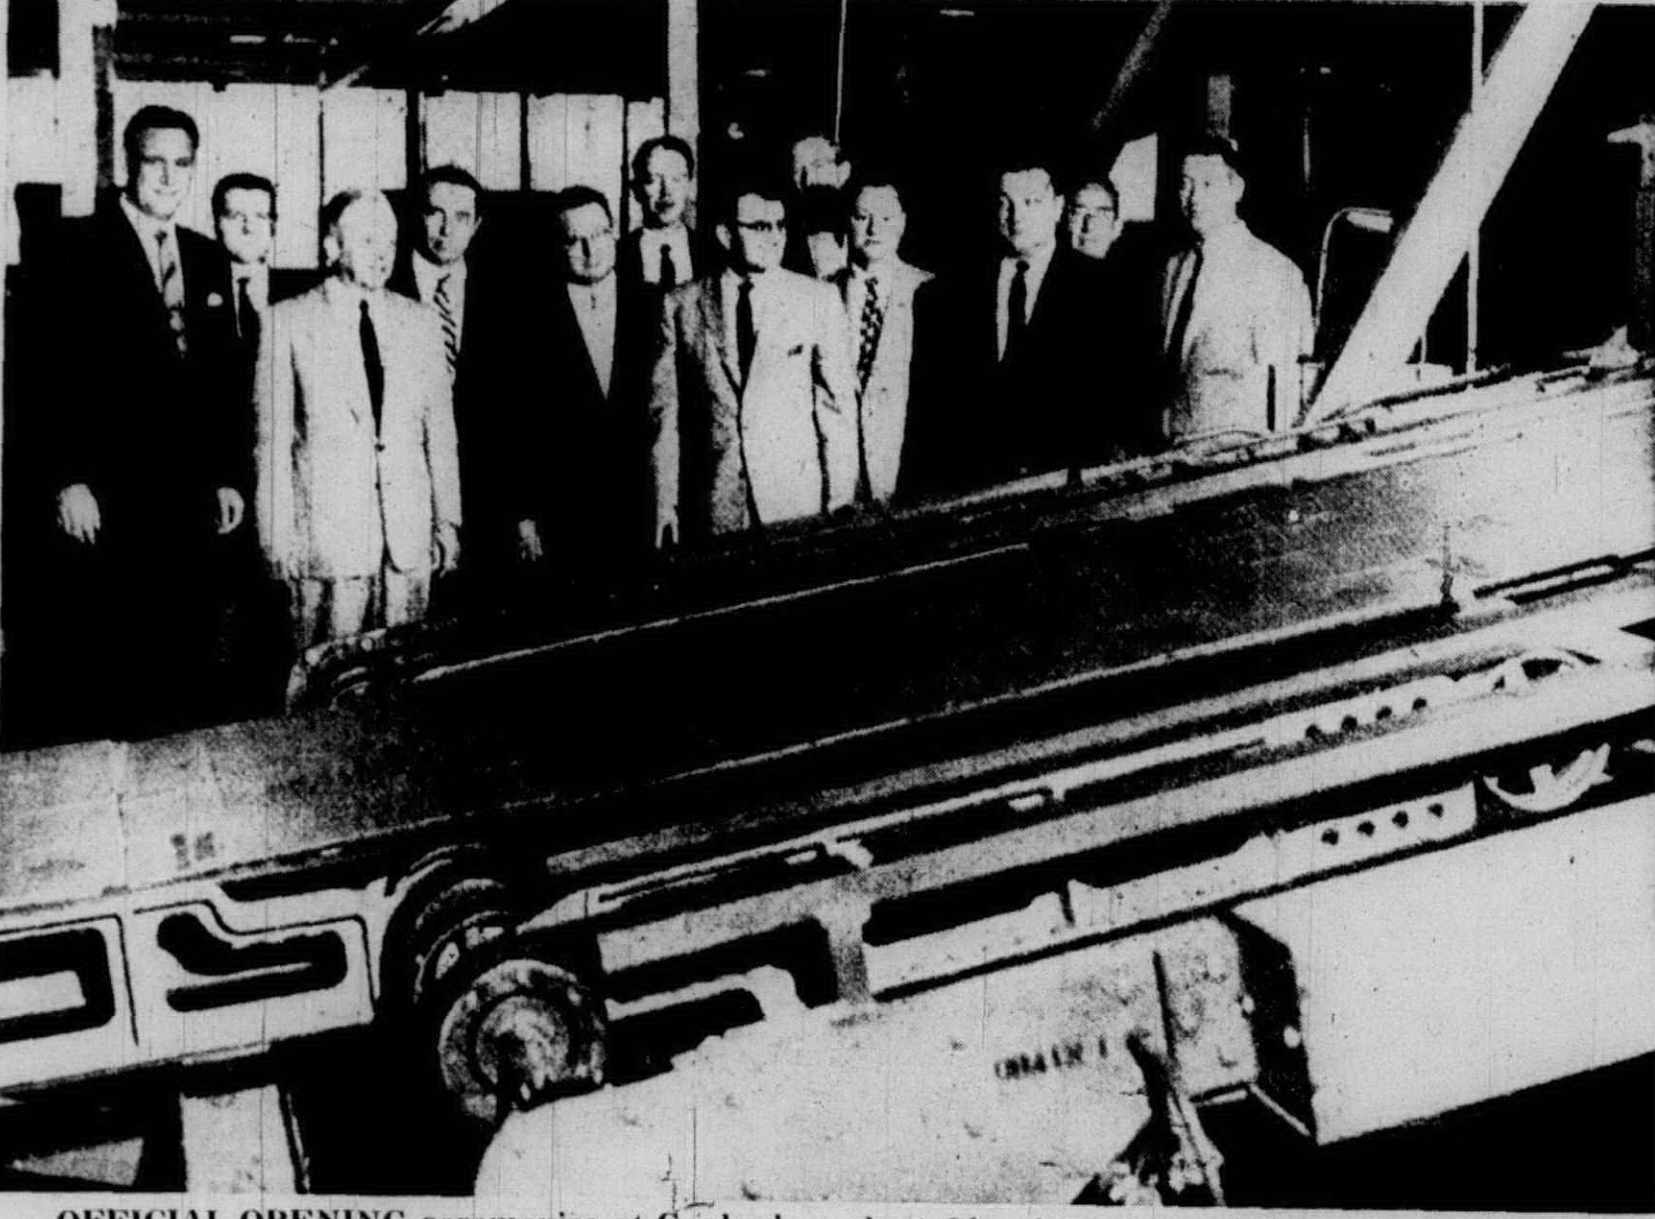

He will be officially welcomed to Plymouth at 11 a.m. at the Mayflower Hotel prior to speaking to Rotarians at their noon luncheon.

He will then speak to student assemblies at both the Junior and Senior High Schools.

The Mayflower II landing was one of the big news events of last year. Several Plymouthites attended the welcome at Plymouth, Mass.

Major Charlton is a former British soldier who served as an information and intelligence officer on the staffs of General Montgomery and Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten.

Shut-down Factory Comes to Life Again

Gaylord Container—the new manufacturing concern now occupying the former Wall Wire building —"officially" served notice it was open and in business Tuesday by inviting a group of public officials to inspect the premises. The plant is on General Drive in Plymouth Township.

It was clean and radiant under new paint, tile, cement, and lighting.

Corrugated paper board was being fed through the heavy machines which, in different stages, cut it to shape, slit it here and there, fold it, tape it, secure it and stencil it.

Production consists of taking the corrugated sheets from the railroad loading docks (they come from a sister plant in Baltimore, O.) and processing the cardboard into boxes which are used for dishes, automobile parts, and all other manner of item which must be packaged by manufacturers in this part of the mid-west.

The interior of the plant still has a rather bare look, because this particular kind of manufacturing requires large areas of clean, heated space for storage of cardboard. The fabricating machines are spaced at intervals among the storage spaces, which will be filled with cardboard as production grows.

Outside the plant lie eight and a half more acres of land along the railroad track which Gaylord purchased at the same time as the Wall Wire company.

No plans have been announced for use of the extra land, but it is obvious that it is available for plant expansion, if and when business would seem to justify such a step.

The party of guests was conducted through the plant Tuesday by Joseph Ronan, Jr., manager of Gaylord's East Central Division, and by Plant Manager Robert Rice and Sales Manager Mark Keller.

Among the interested observers was D. Johanson, manager of the new Western Electric facility on Sheldon Rd. Other guests included Supervisor Roy Lindsay, Mayor Harold Guenther, Fred Van Dyke and Eugene Kornfield of the Chamber of Commerce, School Superintendent Russell Isbister, Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower, City Manager Al Glassford, and Paul Chandier and Jim Sponseller of The Plymouth Mail.

Gaylord is a Division of Crown Zellerbach Corporation. The parent corporation is engaged exclusively in paper and ply wood production and fabrication and had sales of $460,609,000 in 1957.

Nine Enter School Board Race, 2 for 'Short, 7 for Long Term

The biggest group of candidates to enter the Plymouth Community School board race since 1953 filed nominating petitions last week for three vacancies that will be decided at the Monday, June 9 election.

There were nine people filing petitions before the deadline of 4 p.m. Saturday — two of them seeking the one three-year term and seven seeking for the two four-year vacancies.

In 1953 there was a record of 10 candidates trying for two vacancies. These are the candidates:

Three Year Term
Harold E. Fischer, 40875 Plymouth road. A greenhouse operator, Fischer is now president of the board of education and is the only incumbent candidate. He lives in Plymouth Township.

Four Year Term
John G. Batsakis, 1058 Maple. He is a fifth grade teacher in the Walled Lake School system. He resides in the city of Plymouth.

Margaret Dunning, 994 Pennington Ave. Miss Dunning is owner of Dunning's, a local women's apparel store. She lives in the city of Plymouth.

Arthur F. Haeske, 41980 Wilcox Rd. He is an attorney and is a vice-president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Co., and heads the local branch of the Detroit firm. He is a city of Plymouth resident.

The superintendent of school's office announced this week that Monday, June 2 is the deadline for registration. Any resident of the school district who is not registered can complete the registration at the clerk's office of the city or township in which he lives.

There are two different races this year because of a switch to a third class three year term expires in 1961, it will then become a four year term like the other.

It is believed that the June 9 election will draw as much interest from voters as it has from candidates. Many taxpayers have become increasingly interested in the school district since last year when the state and county equalized evaluations and caused a large hike in all taxes.

It is necessary, however, to continue one term for three years this time only in order to establish the proper sequence of offices. When the

Aftermath of Daisy Warehouse Fire

An outbreak of vandalism with B-B guns, resulting from the removal of air rifles from the Daisy Manufacturing Co. burned-out warehouse has brought an urgent appeal from Police Chief Kenneth Fisher for parents to restrain their children.

Reports of vandalism with air rifles, dotted the police department log book during the past week with windows, headlights, streetlights, chickens and everything that went past. A few parents who do not want their youngsters to own air rifles have voluntarily turned the guns into the police department.

Chief Fisher said that parents should question their children to find out if they secretly own guns. And if they do, parents are urged to inform the youngsters of the consequences they face if there is damage and the responsibilities involved in owning an air rifle. If a parent wants to turn in an air rifle, there will be "no questions asked," Fisher said.

Police received one report from a resident who said that her chickens had to be killed and that they had to be killed. She also was raising some pheasants which were wounded.

It was reported that several Daisy workmen were lax in keeping children away from the warehouse damaged by fire two weeks ago. Word soon spread that the firm was giving away air rifles and boys by the dozens were entering the factory grounds to get their share.

Chief Fisher said that the problem of destruction with B-B's may be around several months longer unless parents help curb the situation. Later this month the Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an Air Rifle Safety Shoot and all owners of new guns should attend to learn how to handle them.

Plymouth has no ordinance controlling the use of air rifles. Commissioners have been considering for several months a method of keeping truck traffic off most streets, especially the residential streets. The committee will determine which streets should be restricted and how to accomplish the restriction.

No Regular Meetings For Library Rooms

Use of the Dunning-Hough Library rooms as a regular meeting place for organizations was officially denied by the city commission Monday night when they approved a policy governing use of the second floor rooms.

Ever since the new library section was under construction, a few organizations have been interested in using one of the two upstairs rooms for their regular meetings.

Because the library building is under city commission jurisdiction, a committee was appointed to draw up a policy governing use of the rooms. On the committee were Walter H. Kaiser, county librarian; Mrs. Agnes Pauline, local librarian; and City Manager Albert Glassford.

It was the committee's recommendations that 1. the rooms be used "only to further the educational purposes of the library"; 2. that occasional exceptions be made for small meetings which are of particular educational, civic, cultural or governmental significance; 3. that no group meet regularly in the library; and 4. the librarian shall be administrator of use of the rooms in accordance with the policies.

Truck Traffic Committee Named by Mayor

A truck traffic ordinance committee charged with the job of finding a way to keep trucks off certain city streets was appointed by Mayor Harold Guenther at Monday night's commission meeting.

Five citizens were named to the committee with Thomas Rossetti, 551 Evergreen, as chairman. Also named were Byron Becker, 1455 Pennington; Ernest Henry, 298 East Ann Arbor Trail; J. D. McLaren, 1008 Roosevelt; C. L. Porter, 250 Auburn.

More Memorial Day Plans Made

Memorial church services for the nation's war dead will be held Sunday, May 25 at First Methodist Church, it was announced this week by the Memorial Day committee.

Services will begin at 11 a.m. Local organizations must be at the church at 10:45 a.m. with their colors and standards.

In other announced plans, the Navy Mothers will observe their annual ceremony at the bridge on Plymouth Road honoring the Navy dead.

This will be followed by the parade to Kelllogg Park where Mayor Harold Guenther will serve as master of ceremonies and Paul Chandler, publisher of the Plymouth Mail, will deliver the Memorial Day address.

Letters have been sent to all service-type organizations in this area extending invitations to participate in the parade. If any group has been overlooked, Parade Marshal William J. Norman said, they can contact him at GI 3-2669.

Sentencing of Check Artist Delayed Week

Bernarr Reynolds, the Texing who was to face sentencing in circuit court in Ann Arbor Tuesday for passing bad checks, will have another week in jail before he learns of his future.

Reynolds appeared before Circuit Judge James Brekey, Jr. Tuesday morning with a new attorney who stated that he still didn't have all the facts in the case, so asked for adjournment for one week. It was granted.

Joy Phillips, Harold Kuhn Wed in Dixboro Ceremony

Candelabra and altar bouquets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli decorated the Dixboro Methodist church Saturday, May 10 for the ceremony uniting Joy Phillips and Harold Kuhn.

The Rev. Theodore Halstead officiated at the 7:30 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Phillips of 4811 N. Territorial road, Ann Arbor and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kuhn of Hillcrest Drive, Ann Arbor.

For her marriage, the bride donned a floor-length gown of tulle and lace over satin with a bodice embroidered in iridescent sequins and seed pearls. A Juliet cap of sequins and pearls secured her fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of pink, orchid and blue, respectively. They carried white lilies centered with roses.

Junior bridesmaid, Cynthia Savage of South Lyon, cousin of the bride, carried carnations in different shades of pink.

Cherie Durston of Ann Arbor served as flower girl. The bridegroom asked his brother, Helmut Kuhn of Saline, to be his best man. Ushers were Robert Gaiser, Stewart Bearman and Dan Lyons, all of Ann Arbor.

David Durston of Ann Arbor assisted as ringbearer.

A reception was held in the church hall following the ceremony. Pouring coffee were Mrs. Wallace Savage of South Lyon and Mathilde Kuhn of Ann Arbor and pouring punch were Dorothy Wendt of Plymouth and Marjory Spring of Ann Arbor.

Cutting the cake was Shirley Burkhardt of Ann Arbor. Attending the guest book were Mrs. Helmut Kuhn of Saline and Sylvia Millard of Ann Arbor.

Others assisting were Mrs. Russell Wendt, Mrs. Clifford Fishbeck and Mrs. Harry Reeves, all of Plymouth, Mrs. Roland Wildner of Whitmore Lake and Mrs. Floyd Cline, Mrs. Ernest Spring and Mrs. A. J. Iremann of Ann Arbor.

The couple spent a week visiting national parks and scenic spots in Southeastern states for their honeymoon. They are now at home at 1716 Dexter Rd., Ann Arbor.

They are both graduates of Ann Arbor High school. The bride also graduated from Cleary College and is now a secretary at Bendix Systems Division. The bridegroom is employed as a tool and die maker at King Seelye.

Mrs. Helen Shackleton, Mrs. Paul Ware, Mrs. Willard Ware and Anna Petersham attended the funeral of Samuel Ableson in Detroit on May 5.

Lake Pointe Village Welcomes Bullington Family from Texas

MRS. ARTHUR COOKSEY
GL 3-2871

As I traveled about the neighborhood I met people from many states near Michigan, but none from the two giants, Texas or California. That's all changed now. James and Christine Bullington, and their two children, Judy, 16, and Steve, 14, moved to Plymouth last November from Texas, so that James could work as a salesman for R. L. Polk, the directory company.

They chose Plymouth for their home because of its central location for James' work and because it "looked so nice." The only member of the family that had any complaint about the area was Judy. She grumbled about the lack of street lights. It seems that during the year she has appeared in high school plays and has had to leave important practice sessions early so she wouldn't have to walk home in the dark. Other than that, the entire family is happy with Plymouth and the youngsters are ecstatic about school and the many activities they have found there.

(There are two schools of thought about street lights. One school observes that not having lights makes for a more countrified atmosphere. The other school would prefer more light and fewer broken ankles.)

During the winter one is tempted to assume that there are no children in a given neighborhood, but with the coming of spring, one sees many children and hears of more that are either on their way or recently born.

Two weeks ago Marcy Barton gave a shower for a baby girl. Last Thursday Lois Dusibier gave birth to a girl, who, according to the grandmother, Mrs. Dusibier, sr., of Ypsilanti, is "just a bundle of sunshine." Brian Dusibier, the baby's younger brother, is hoping the little girl is named "Susan." The naming is one decision that the parents will make shortly, no doubt, with all kinds of help. It won't be long before Jackie and Dave Sechin will be parents of a little brother or sister for their curly-topped daughter Cindy.

Often times in columns of this nature one reads lists of names of people who have been somewhere. It is a temptation to print the names of all the women who didn't go to the Newcomer's Tea held last week at the Mayflower. It wasn't that they weren't interested; they would have enjoyed going immensely, but they lacked baby-sitters to a woman. Perhaps now would be the time to organize, even loosely, a kind of rotating or shift-type baby-sitting arrangement so that the next time opportunity presents itself, everyone who is interested can take advantage of the pleasant teas and luncheons that are an integral part of living in Plymouth. This writer is one who firmly agrees with the "Mail Attitude" that the town should assimilate and stimulate the people, NOT the other way around.

One family that thinks it should live where it works, buy where it works and love where it works are Al Bowman and their children, Allan, Jeanette, Andrea and Peter. Al and Jane lived briefly in Northville before their house was finished and are now staunch supporters of Plymouth life.

One aspect of Plymouth life rarely mentioned by the adults I meet is the opportunity for fishing at Wilcox Lake. Jeanette Bowman caught a fish that was bigger than any fish I've ever seen a man bring home or tell about — and Jeanette is only 11. Just about any sunny Saturday morning you can see Jeanette and Andrea (who is 7) trudge down Wilcox Road, rods slung over their shoulders and bait pails in their hands. Camera enthusiasts ought to be on hand for Jeanette's next strike. It would probably make a winning picture.

When Les Bartson was an 8th grader in Lincoln Park last year he entered and won the "Key" award (first prize) for his essay in the Scholastic-Detroit News writing contest. He, his family, his friends, his classmates, and his teachers were terribly proud. Once he decided to enter the contest he had the wholehearted support and encouragement of his teachers.

This year Les decided to enter the contest again and received only nodding support from the Junior High. He went ahead anyway, submitting only one essay, "The Night the Noronic Died," and won an Honorable Mention (second prize) in the Region, when he could have probably been stimulated to enter any number he cared to, carried along by nothing else than his success last year.

And speaking of the schools we hope all the newcomers to Plymouth remember that in order to vote they first have to register. The Township

Hall is open daily, and on Sat. from 9-12. The School election will be first, followed by the State Primaries in August and the big National election in November. We have a resident from Lake Pointe running in the School Board election. See you next week.

Church Theft Solved

Two 12-year-old boys were in custody this week for breaking into First Methodist Church last week and taking $1.50 in change. Their parents have made restitution. Now police are wondering who chipped pieces of a stone slab at sides of the front steps. They will cost $100 each to replace.

Dr. Kenneth Bartlett of Syracuse, N. Y. visited his mother, Mrs. Wyman Bartlett, 170 Blunk, over Mother's Day.

GATHERING AT the recent district meeting of the Michigan Library Association were, l. to r., Walter Kaiser, librarian, Wayne County Library; Alex Lebedeff, chairman of the Wayne County library board; Mrs. Agnes Pauline, librarian, Plymouth branch; Mrs. Ralph Pearson, trustee; Mrs. Martin Mix, trustee; and Walter Halsted, librarian, Lincoln Park and chairman of the meeting.

Dunning-Hough Library Hosts Michigan Library Association

The Dunning-Hough Library closed its doors to the public Wednesday, May 7 to accommodate librarians and trustees of District 3 of the Michigan Library Association for the annual district meeting.

As a branch of the Wayne County library system, the local library is a member of District 3, which includes Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

The Plymouth branch was proud to host the association and have the opportunity to show off the newest library in the Wayne county system. During the past two weeks and in the weeks to come, Michigan's seven districts have scheduled their yearly meetings. The 1958 theme is "Cooperation and Expansion: A Library Network for Michigan."

The morning program featured colored slides and a talk by the Grosse Pointe Public Library, showing their strides in public services. In the afternoon, a panel discussed contractual services between small and large libraries, presenting the possibility of a central cataloguing, book buying and supply department at a large library.

Smaller libraries would pay for such services.

Members of the panel were Walter Kaiser, of the Wayne County Library; Ralph A. Uveling, of the Detroit Public Library; and Harold D. Martelle, Jr., of the Bacon

Memorial Library, Wyandotte.

The trustees met separately for panels on the responsibility of trustees of the library and the contribution of trustees to the 1958 MLA theme.

The program set up for next fall by the Great Books Foundation in Chicago includes "The Brothers Karamazov," the Book of Job from the Bible and "King Lear."

Group leaders, Mr. and Mrs. John Moons of West Ann Arbor Trail may be contacted for further information at GL 3-4336.

The Ladies Lutheran Aid bake sale will be held Friday, May 23 at Dunning's, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Firemen extinguished a blaze in a barn behind an apartment at 243 North Main St. last Saturday night.

Nothing of value was burned, but had the fire not been discovered sooner, damage could have been heavy, firemen said.

The barn had until recently been used by the Plymouth Theatre Guild. The fire seemed to have started in a box on the second floor and had begun to spread to the building.

Firemen are still investigating the cause. A Detroit woman owns the home and barn.

Recent measurements have shown the ice to be 9,750 feet deep at one area in the Arctic.

State Button Society Convention to Draw Local Enthusiasts

The Michigan State Button Society will hold its annual state exhibition and convention in Detroit Saturday and Sunday, May 17 and 18 at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

Among the Plymouth members of the state society are Mrs. Ada Murray, Mrs. Karl Starkweather and Mrs. W. J. Livingston, who are affiliated with the Log Cabin group in Detroit.

Programs will take place at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Saturday with a board meeting tentatively set for 4:30 p.m. The business meeting is set for 10 a.m. Sunday, a free lunch and refreshments will be served.

All local button collectors are urged to attend, whether or not they are members of the society, and bring their collections for display.

Button collecting, especially referring to antiques, is said, next to stamp collecting, to have become the country's largest collector's hobby. Its devotees are found largely among women, although there are a scattering of men collectors.

PLYMOUTH, Vt. (UP) — Joseph M. McInerney, one of three men living who was present when Calvin Coolidge took the oath of office as President.

SOCIAL NOTES

Louise Diedrick, who will become the bride of Joseph Haley on May 17, has been the guest of honor at three bridal showers in the past several weeks. Mrs. Betty Hanley and Mrs. Doris Diedrick were co-hostesses at a shower in Mrs. Hanley's home in Detroit. Mrs. Leona Lyons and Mrs. Alice Herzog gave a shower for the bride-to-be at the home of Mrs. Lyons on Mill St. Mrs. Marie Wells, a member of the bridal party, and Mrs. Deanna Bennett were also co-hostesses at a shower at Mrs. Wells home. Delicious lunches were served at each shower and many lovely gifts were received.

Obituaries

Charles Henry Saylor, 83

Charles Henry Saylor was found dead in the kitchen of his home at 819 Mill St., Monday night by police, after neighbors had reported to his son, Herbert of Lincoln Park that they had not seen him since noon and that the lights were not on. He is believed to have died at 5:30 p.m. Monday. Mr. Saylor had been in the hospital with a heart condition six weeks ago. A retired Wayne County Training School farm supervisor, he spent most of his lifetime in this area. He was born December 27, 1874 in Saginaw. His wife May, whom he married September 29, 1898, passed away in January, 1957. Mr. Saylor is survived by two sons, Charles E. Saylor of San Francisco, Calif. and Herbert Saylor of Lincoln Park; three daughters, Mrs. Ruth Ballou of Wayne and Mrs. Edna Koch of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Gertrude Hoekstra of Denton; 13 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Thursday, May 15 at 2 p.m. at Schrader Funeral Home. Rev. Melbourne I. Johnson will officiate. Interment will be at Denton Cemetery.

Clinton Gottschalk, 67

Clinton Gottschalk, a lifetime resident of this area and operator of a turkey farm, died Thursday, May 8 of a cerebral hemorrhage after being ill for two days. Mr. Gottschalk succumbed in St. Joseph's Hospital, Ann Arbor, at 4:35 p.m. He lived at 48121 N. Territorial Rd. Mr. Gottschalk is survived by his wife Zaida Bolton Gottschalk; two daughters, Mrs. Olive Luehling and Mrs. Alice Sharland, both of Plymouth; a sister, Mrs. Blanche Nelson of Plymouth; two brothers, Clarence Gottschalk of Fenton and Ray Gottschalk of Plymouth; and five grandchildren.

The son of Charles and Jennie (Whittaker) Gottschalk, he was born October 26, 1890 in Wayne County. Mr. Gottschalk was a member of Plymouth Rock Lodge, 47, F and AM. Rev. Henry J. Walsh conducted services Monday, May 12 at Schrader Funeral Home. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

Kevin Clifford Hardy, 3 mo.

Leukemia took the life of Kevin Clifford Hardy, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hardy, 31290 Sandra Lane in Nankin Township, on Friday, May 9. He died at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Detroit. Born January 21, 1958, in Ferndale, he is survived by his parents; a brother, Kirk W. and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stiles of Massachusetts. Graveside services were held Saturday, May 10 at Riverside Cemetery with Rev. William S. Logan officiating.

Roxanne Whitson, 4 days

Graveside services were held Saturday, May 10 at Riverside Cemetery for Roxanne Whitson, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Whitson of 160 Amelia. Rev. Charles Ide officiated. The baby was born May 5 in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor and died there four days later. Survivors are parents, Henry V. Whitson and the former Bertha Mae Brown; grandparents, Mrs. O. B. Whitson of Denver, Tenn. and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Brown of Plymouth.

Mrs. Jessie Burcaw, 83

Funeral services will be held Thursday, May 15 in Salem, Ohio for Mrs. Jessie Burcaw of 13827 Ridgewood Drive. Mrs. Burcaw passed away Tuesday, May 13 at Orchard Haven Rest Home on Canton Center Rd., where she had been staying for the past three years.

Mrs. Burcaw is survived by a son, Kenneth C. Burcaw and two grandchildren, Robert Joseph and Kenneth C. Burcaw. Her husband, William, preceded her in death in 1950. She was born June 7, 1874 in Salem, Ohio, where she was a member of the Christian Church. Coming to Plymouth three years ago, she attended the First Methodist Church.

Walter Drayton, 64

Walter Drayton of Rockwood, a former Plymouth resident, died Sunday, May 4, having been home from Trenton Hospital one week. Mr. Drayton was born in Belleville to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Drayton and spent the early part of his life with his parents on a farm west of Plymouth on Territorial Rd. He later moved to Rockwood, where he was custodian of a school. He leaves his wife, five brothers and several nieces and nephews. Services were held May 7 and interment was at Rockwood Cemetery.

Samuel Ableson

Samuel Ableson, a former resident of Plymouth, died May 1 at his home in Detroit. Funeral services were held Monday, May 5 from Neeley Funeral Home and burial was at Grand Lawn Cemetery under the auspices of Waverly Lodge 527, F and AM. Mr. Ableson leaves his wife Margaret; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Barth and Margaret Ableson; and three sisters, Mrs. Fannie Briggs and Margaret and Carrie Ableson.

Girl Scout News

Eight girls from troop 27 went to Lansing during Easter vacation, accompanied by Mrs. H. Green, Mrs. C. Engstrom, Mrs. H. Horvath and Mrs. A. M. McClaw. They left Plymouth early in the morning and returned in time for dinner. While in Lansing they ate at the Royal Hotel. The new leaders for troop 27 are Cindy Evesy, Chester Stretanski and Judy Green. Other officers are Cheryl Shelly, treasurer; Susan Smith, secretary; and Julie Lent, publicity girl. Members of troop 10 enjoyed an overnight at the Girl Scout lodge, where they learned to pitch a tent with the assistance of the senior scouts from troops 21 and 22. A cook-out and nature hike followed. The girls are now busy finishing requirements for second class rank. Troop 10 also recently entertained Brownie troop 33 with a conservation skit.

TWO CENTURIES
NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)
The Newport Mercury, established by James Franklin in 1758, is the oldest continuously published newspaper in America. It observes its 200th anniversary this year.

Private Fox Hills Country Club Boasts 229 Charter Members

(This is the last in a series of three articles written by Dave Jolliffe about Plymouth's three golf courses.) In back of the clubhouse there's a big, black sign on North Territorial Road that says, "Fox Hills Country Club - Members Only." In front of the sign there's a long, winding drive that leads up to an expanded club house. A tan rug and modern, comfortable, furniture greet you. There's a recreation room that sports a pool table; there's a new bar with glistening bottles and shining in all the time." The limit is 350 charter members plus any Junior members (ages 21-28), who are sons or sons-in-laws of members that may join in the future. So far "Mr. Average Member" is 47 years old, makes over $10,000 a year, and likes to play golf. "They come from all walks of life," Casey says. "We have 12 doctors of medicine, dentists, a union executive, superintendent of schools and dozens of salesmen." Casey thinks that Fox Hills members are a little different from those found at other country clubs. Fox Hills' location far west of Detroit attracts members who seem to "enjoy getting away from it" instead of "staying in the middle of it." Among the 229 active new members there are 39 from Plymouth. Detroit leads the list of home-towns, followed by Livonia, Dearborn, Redford Township, Plymouth and Wayne.

Fox Hills Manager Casey Partridge

Fees are very reasonable compared to other private clubs. Sixty dollars worth of yearly dues entrench you as a member and an additional $240 entitle you to play golf as long as weather permits. If you are a non-golfer, you can forget about the $240 because $60 lets you enjoy all club social privileges that are inherent with good comradeship. These playing fees also entitle a member's family to all rights and privileges of the club which, of course, include playing golf as long as their bread-winner remains in good standing. Members can be accompanied by golf-playing guests any time during the week. However on weekends the guest can never play more than once a month. Prices are reasonable. You can get a "top" New York Sirloin Dinner for $4.75 or a hamburger (containing 1-3 of a pound of ground beef) for 65 cents, 80 cents if you want french fries. A bottle of beer costs 45 cents; scotch highballs, 45 cents. Dinners are served every night of the week, except Mondays, and the bar is open until 2 a.m. every night. No cash changes hands at the club. Even tips are paid by signing a "tab. Members are assessed and pay by mail once a month.

The entire operation is handled by 32 employees. Sixteen of them work in the club house, seven operate the course. The club's Board of Directors are elected from among the members themselves. They meet once a month to set club policies and deal with any special problems that arise. Fox Hills is a member of the Detroit District Golf Association. This allows members to enjoy the privilege of an interchange of charge tabs among 60 clubs in Michigan.

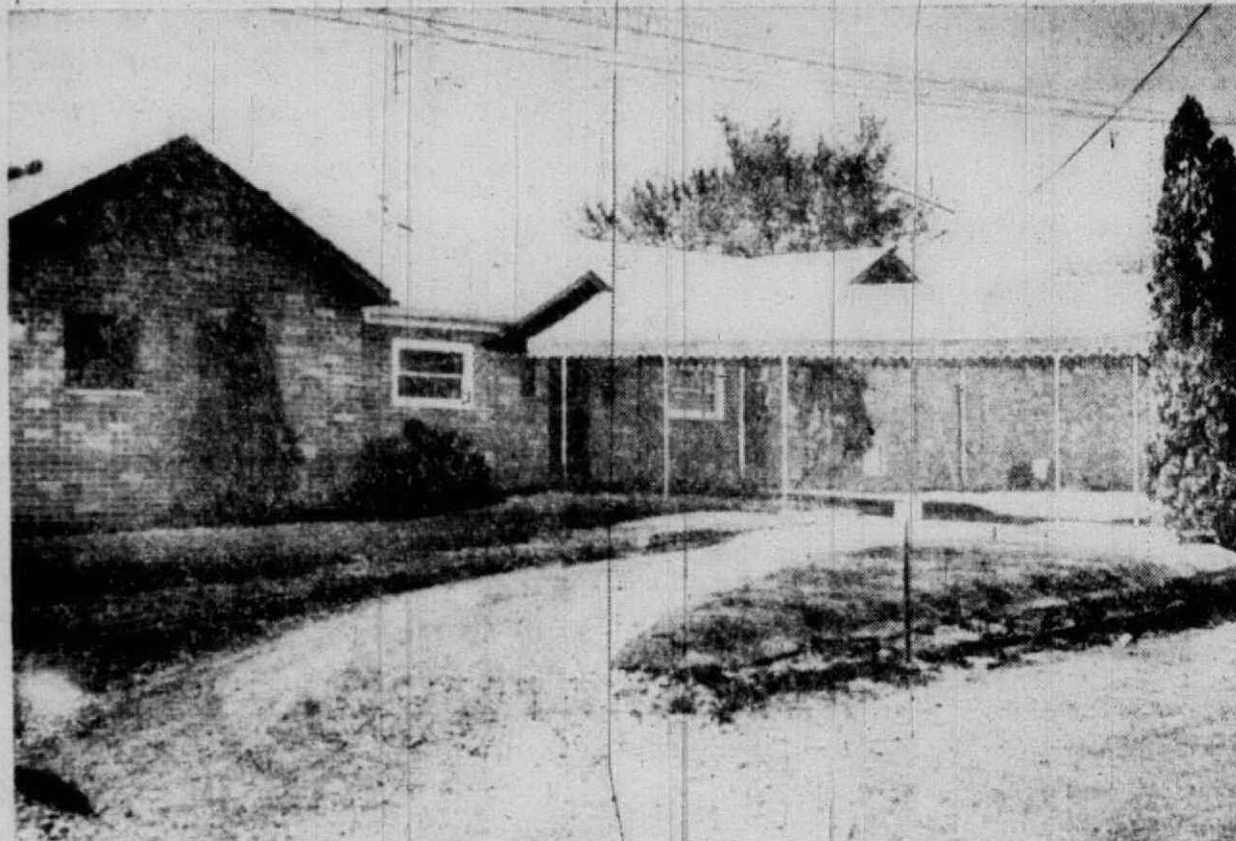

The 18-hole course has undergone few changes. "We find our members enjoy a challenge when they play golf," says Casey, "so we're letting the grass grow higher in the roughs. We don't have to gear the course for speed anymore — our members would rather play a leisurely game."

According to Casey it's much easier to care for the course now. For one thing repairs are only half of what they used to be and there are a lot less headaches. In fact that's the main reason Casey decided to go private. "It's getting so that golf is like a circus," he said. "There are droves of people playing and public courses are badly crowded. Most people don't have any consideration for a golf course."

The majority of Fox Hills' members golf no more than other players. But they do make regular attempts to improve their games. "If they have a problem, we try and straighten them out," Casey explains. And the man who will handle most of the "straightening out" is affable Jimmy Crichton, 49-year-old professional from Scotland. Jimmy was pro at the Port Huron Country Club for nine years. Now he'll bound from Fox Hills in the summer to Florida in the winter. But from April to October he'll look after Casey's $14,000 inventory and give out with a nudge that's asked of him. Casey doesn't intend to halt improvements. Future plans include an ultra-modern men's locker room to replace the present facilities and perhaps, a pool. "We're going to increase our membership to 550 next year to help pay for the next batch of improvements," Casey concluded.

PORTION OF dining room which looks out on the golf course at Fox Hills runs the entire length of the building.

Takes 2 Days, 26 Innings, for Bentley to Beat Plymouth

Visitors Spoil Opener For Plymouth Merchants

Local 1299, Great Lakes Steel needed 12 innings to spoil the home opener of Plymouth Merchants at Riverside Park last Sunday in the first game of the 1958 Intercounty season. Plymouth led 1-0 from the second inning only to have Great Lakes tie the score in the ninth and explode for five runs in the 12th to win 6-1.

In the second inning Bud Nedry walked, moved to second on King's sacrifice. Hees singled off the pitcher's glove to load the bases and Nedry scored when Shepherd sacrificed and Vaughn, Great Lakes catcher, dropped the ball.

This one-run margin held until the top half of the ninth and it appeared that Mayor Harold Guenther of Plymouth, who threw out the first ball to start the 1958 season, might be rewarded with a victory. However, such was not the case! Pitcher Jim Slater of the winners tripled with a man on base to tie the score at 1-1.

Gary Vogel replaced Plymouth starter, Dick Shepherd, in the top half of the 10th and held Great Lakes in check until the 12th. His mound opponent, Jim Holtz, opened the inning with a single, moved to second when Vogel issued his first walk of the inning and then went to third when the bases were loaded by a hit batsman.

Holtz scored when Vogel issued his second walk of the inning. A triple cleared the bases and Warren Bassett was brought in to retire the side.

Defensively, Dick Shepherd received excellent support as Bud Nedry in left field and Gerry Hees in right ran miles to make difficult catches.

Next Sunday, Plymouth journeys to River Rouge to play River Rouge Merchants at the park on Great Lakes Avenue.

Two days of play covering 26 innings was needed to decide a baseball game between Plymouth and Livonia High Schools this week with the Bulldogs finally emerging as the exhausted — but jubilant — winners.

A number of metropolitan high school records probably were broken as a result of the marathon — including the performance of losing pitcher Ken Knipschild of Plymouth who went 15 innings.

The game, played at Bentley, started at 4 p.m. Monday and went until 7:50 p.m. when darkness fell. Fifteen innings had been played and the teams had fought to a 3-3 tie.

Tuesday at 3:30 the teams took up the battle where it left off. Finally in the 26th inning, things caught fire. Plymouth scored two runs to lead 5-3, but Bentley bounced back with three runs to end the game, 6-5. The time was 6:15.

Total playing time six hours and 35 minutes! Lee Salo hurled the first 13 innings for Bentley, being relieved by Ron Hellier who allowed a run, putting the Rocks ahead 3-2. Hellier was relieved by Dick Bombach who finished the two-day event.

Bentley's Joe Antanozzo scored in the 15th to tie the game at quitting time.

Tuesday's portion of the game was deadlocked 3-3 until the 26th (11th inning that day) when Plymouth scored two runs. When Bentley came to bat, Wayne Carrier, Don Phillippi and Keith Fogel each singled, scoring Carrier; Leroy Fahle and Dick Bombach walked, scoring Phillippi, and Dick Levondowski singled off the third baseman Wayne Sparkman's glove, scoring Fogel.

Recreation Fastball League

CLASS "A"

Ten teams are anxiously awaiting the start of the Class "A" Fastball season on Tuesday night. The season will open on two fronts Tuesday and a third one on Thursday. Tuesday games will be played at Plymouth and at the home of a new entry into the league, the Detroit House of Correction. Thursday night games will be played at Wayne. The ten teams include last year's state champions Party Store of Wayne, Mayflower, Cloverdale, Beggingers, Box Bar, DeHoCo, Lincoln-Mercury, Wolfe Aircraft of Wayne, U-Daly and Western Insurance and Chevrolet Spring and Bumper.

In the schedule that appears below the first team mentioned is the home team.

6:30 p.m. DeHoCo vs. U-Daly and Western Ins.

CLASS "B"

The 1958 season opens next Monday night with 13 teams ready for the first pitch and the umpires bank of "Play Ball." Last year's defending champions Northville V.F.W. are out to repeat but other teams will be trying to prevent such an encore. Gould Home Inc., second place finishers last year, Bill's Market, S. T. H. S., Viro Products and Men's Lutheran promise to give Northville a real battle this year.

The schedule will run from May 19 to August 13 with play-offs in two sections — those teams finishing with 500 percent or better and those teams finishing with less than 500 percent.

Varsity Trackmen Easily Handle Bulldogs While Jayvees Lose

Plymouth high school track teams divided the dual track meet with Bentley last week. The varsity team defeated the Livonia school 77-32 while the Jayvees were nosed out 49-47.

Ed LaRoche continued to set a fast pace in the sprints as he won the 100 and 220 and ran in the 880 relay team which also won. Otto Bufe scored seconds in the 120 yard high hurdles and tied with teammate Sherman Thompson in the high jump and placed third in the 180 yard low hurdles.

Jeff Yoeman won the 180 yard low hurdles and the broad jump, placed second in the 100 yard dash and ran on the winning 880 yard relay team. Chris Sagers won the 440, Alan Davies won the 880 followed by teammates Mike Kelley and Sherman Thompson.

Plymouth also swept the mile as Tony Monte, Bill Ruehr and Bruce Woods placed one, two and three. Mel Stevenson and Bill Brown again tied for first in the pole vault.

Other point winners for the varsity team were Jim Vojtek who placed second to Ed LaRoche in the 220, John Thomas second in the 440, Jim Urquhart second in the broad jump, and Don Alshro second in the shot put, Ron Turkett and Ziggy Przybylowsky teamed with Yoeman and LaRoche on the relay team.

Gary Mirto was the only double winner for the Jayvees placing first in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Other first place finishes went to Al Deporter in the shot put, Lon Dickerson in the 440 and Chuck Bowers in the broad jump. Chuck Bowers also tied for second in the high jump and placed second in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Dave Palmer finished third in the 100 and 220. Gerry Johnce finished third in 120 yard high hurdles and 180 yard low hurdles. Dennis Wilson and Carl Berry followed Dickerson in the 440 to give Plymouth a clean sweep in this event.

Jeff Huntington and Terry Haws finished second and third in the 880 and Chuck Zoebel was second in the pole vault and Gary Clemente second in 180 yard low hurdles.

Rock Nine Drown Redford, Jayvees Lose to Bentley

The fortunes of the Plymouth high school baseball team suffered a jolt last Monday when Bentley forced them to a 15 inning 3-3 tie.

Plymouth won their second game of the season from Redford Union 14-3 in a game that was played despite intermittent showers. The weatherman was kind to the Rocks in a way because it seemed to rain each time they were at bat.

The Redford Union pitcher, Monette, experienced some difficulty with his control and these walks plus errors helped Plymouth score five runs in the first, four in the second, two in the fourth and three in the sixth.

Al Runge had two hits and batted in two runs. Wells had one hit and batted in two runs and Jordahl and Hubert batted in two each and Sparkman batted in one. Plymouth scored their fourteen runs on only ten hits and stole five bases.

Paul Woodward at second base handled eight chances with just one error to be the busiest fielder on either team. Myron Hopper started for the Rocks and pitched five innings allowing three runs, two hits, walked three and struck out four. Randy Egloff replaced him and in two innings did not allow a hit or a walk and struck out four.

Plymouth scored first against Bentley getting two runs in the second inning when Jim Dzurus singled and scored on Wayne Jordahl's triple. Dave Walaskay was safe on a fielder's choice putting two men on base. Ken Knipschild singled to score.

Jordahl with Plymouth's second run.

Plymouth went ahead in the top half of the fifteenth when Al Runge walked, moved to second on an error and scored when Knipschild got his second hit of the game.

Woodward with four hits and Knipschild with three were the leading hitters for Plymouth. Fogel did the most damage for Bentley with three hits, one of which drove in the tying run in the 10th. Knipschild pitched all 15 innings walking seven and striking out 12. He gave up 11 hits. Salo, who has a no-hitter and a one hitter to his credit so far this season, pitched 13 innings, walked four and struck out 12.

The Jayvees lost to Bentley 9-3.

The next game for Plymouth will be against Trenton on Monday at Plymouth.

SPORTS SEEN

By Bill Dillworth

This week the column will be used to introduce a high school football player to our readers. For the readers who already know him maybe you will learn some little known facts about his life. The subject for discussion is Dave Walaskay, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walaskay of Ann Arbor Trail. Dave has accepted a scholarship to University of Missouri and is only the second Plymouth high school player in the last 10 years to go on to play college football.

He has lived in Plymouth all his life up to now and in addition to playing sports at the high school Dave enjoys fishing and teaching a class of boys 6 to 9 years of age at the Plymouth Assembly of God Church of which his father is the minister. He has spent his last two summers working in the cafeteria at Burroughs and is looking forward to another summer there.

In four years at Plymouth High School, Dave has played varsity football three years and won his letter two of those three years. He also plays basketball and baseball. This season provided him with his two greatest thrills in football. The first one was beating Ypsilanti "When no one expected us to" and the second one was leading the league in scoring.

Dave gives much of the credit for his success and his team's success to Coach Mike Hoben. He stated that "Mr. Hoben is a fine coach, who knows football, teaches fundamentals well and has the knack of coming up with the right things at the right time."

John Sandmann, Director of Athletics, rates Dave as one of the best five or six halfbacks to play at the high school in the 10 years that he has been there.

Of the four other children in the family only one might follow in Dave's footsteps. A brother Jim, now 13, played football at the junior high school this past season.

The scholarship will permit the recipient to follow his chosen profession of teaching. He will be in education, majoring in history, some mathematics and physical education.

The final statement of the interview shows the kind of person that Dave is as he said "I would like to thank the fellows on the team for the way they played for without them I would not have gotten the scholarship."

This reporter wants to go on record as joining Coach Mike Hoben in wishing Dave the best of luck at Missouri. Based on his performance we are sure he can do the job for the coaches at University of Missouri.

FROM THE SCRATCHPAD — The Intercounty league Plymouth Merchants opened their season last Sunday and lost an extra inning game to Great Lakes 6-1. Plymouth provided the defensive stars and Great Lakes the hitters. Bud Nedry covered left field like a gazelle and made one of the two finest catches of the game when he had to run up a hill in left field to take a ball over his shoulder. The other catch was made by teammate Gerry Hees in right field when he dove for a ball, rolled over and came up with it securely clutched in his glove.

Fastball fans will get all the ball they desire as there will be a game every night in the week of either Class "A" or "B" starting on Monday. Gym classes are still available tonight at 7:30 at the high school. There is a very nominal charge for these sessions.

Trenton Tennis Team Triumphs

John Walker defeated Brockman 6-3, 6-1 and Nick Darup defeated Farley 7-5, 4-6, 6-4 to account for Plymouth's two points in the regularly scheduled Suburban Six match.

In the other singles matches Mike Stickney of Plymouth lost to Sanderlin 9-7, 5-4, and Ken Jackson lost to Mezo 6-4, 6-0.

In the doubles matches Schultheiss and Tacia of Plymouth lost to Shaull and Gardiner 6-4, 6-4. Argo and Livingston lost to Green and Chapman 6-2, 6-0. Huber and Smith lost to Angelecci and Stienert 6-0, 6-0.

The next tennis matches will be against Bentley at Livonia on Tuesday afternoon.

Golfers Head For Regionals

Plymouth high school golfers defeated Allen Park and Ypsilanti and lost to Redford Union in a triangular meet with Trenton and looked mediocre in a practice round at Brighton, scene of the regionals tomorrow.

At Grosse Ile Country Club the Redford Union team carded 367 over the 18 hole course to defeat Plymouth and Trenton teams that posted identical scores of 370. Del McAllister of Plymouth, was the medalist for the tournament with an 84. Other Plymouth scores were Kurt Atchison 90, Staton Lorenz 98, and John Taylor 98.

After the regionals tomorrow the next action for the golfers will be Monday in the league meet at Grosse Ile Country Club.

Air Force Reserves Hear Of Aircraft Development

The Air Force Reserve Unit, Flight A of Plymouth heard Captain Howard Crosswhite speak on the development of aircraft for the Air Force at their regularly scheduled meeting. Two films, "Air Force Jet Engines" and "Rockets and Missiles," were also shown.

Explorer Scouts Try Hand at Smelt Fishing

The weekend of May 3 was a big one for the Explorer Scouts of post P-3 who journeyed to East Tawas for smelt fishing. The young fishermen were Norman Tritten, John Luther, Tony Battle, Bill Hitt, Roger Warner, Bob Carlez, Jim Ebersole and Tom Ebersole. Leaders were Mr. Cloar and Mrs. Jackson.

School Bus Policy Gets Change for Junior High

A change in bus transportation policy that will affect a number of Junior High School students was approved by the board of education Monday night.

All seventh and eighth grade pupils living closer than one and a half miles from the school will not be transported by bus starting next fall, the board decided. Present policy calls for transporting them if they live one mile or more.

The change does not alter the mile and a half limit for high school student or the one mile limit of elementary children.

The state reimburses the school district for only those children living one and a half miles or more from school. This means that the school district itself has been underwriting transportation for elementary and junior high pupils living in the one to one and a half mile zone.

Madelyn Hitt To Be Tried In San Francisco

Mrs. Madelyn E. Hitt, the former Plymouthite who left here to join her husband on Okinawa last fall, will be tried in San Francisco on a charge of murdering her 6-week-old son, the United Press reported yesterday.

Mrs. Hitt, wife of Terrance Hitt, a civilian technician with the Air Force on Okinawa, is to arrive in San Francisco Friday aboard the Navy transport USNS Breckinridge.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert H. Schnacke said that law requires that Mrs. Hitt be tried at the port of her re-entry into the U.S.

Adams, violinist; and Conductor Wayne Dunlap. Money raised by the concert is used to finance other Symphony functions. The winter series is free to the public.

Symphony Pops Concert Is Almost Too Popular

If the Plymouth Symphony's "Pop Concert" had been much more popular, the people wouldn't have been able to get into the room.

As it was, approximately 700 persons packed into the Plymouth High gym and in a semi-formal, friendly mood applauded enthusiastically as Conductor Wayne Dunlap's orchestra frolicked through a program of familiar tunes.

Since the Pops is the Symphony Society's only money-earning presentation of the season, the evening was triumphant both as a financial achievement and as a musical pleasure. The audience was larger than a year ago (when a dance followed the concert) and it exceeded expectations.

The most earnest applause of the evening was unleashed for Emily Adams, orchestra Concert Master who came forth in a solo role at mid-concert and thrilled everyone with Sarasate's vigorous "Gypsy Airs."

Miss Adams is feminine, but she handles her violin with absolute sureness, clear and precise, somber and zesty, delicate and fierce — with depth of understanding. This talent, of course, is known to old Plymouth Symphony fans, but it was new to many in this particular audience, and they expressed their admiration loudly.

No less appreciated, but for a different kind of talent, were Fred Kendall, tenor, and Rosemary Murch, mezzo-soprano. As individuals they delivered light show tunes smoothly, and in joint harmony they stirred a memory or two for the middle-aged in the crowd by singing "Wanting You," from "The New Moon."

All of the music was well-known and covered such an unseemingly assortment as the Overture to William Tell (there go them cowboys!), Gaité Parisienne (I Can-Can If You Can-Can), On the Mall, a band march (the audience hummed and whistled through the refrain).

It was all done with great skill but there were those, including this writer, who wondered if the program as a whole wasn't perhaps just a little "TOO" popular. Undoubtedly the fears were groundless, but we couldn't help but worry whether a full-grown symphony mightn't get just a little embarrassed going through an entire evening of nothing but obvious melodies.

There is a lot of "middle-ground" music, which while mature in composition is identifiable to the average ear, and maybe a measure of this could be slipped into the bill of fare in subsequent years.

There also was an opinion in certain parts of the audience that possibly a concert of 20 or 30 minutes shorter duration would have been somewhat easier on the older spectator bones.

But these are matters of relative judgment and didn't hinder Conductor Dunlap's performance. The crowd thoroughly enjoyed the night out, and hailed the Conductor Dunlap and every member of the Symphony Society for providing so much wholesome fun in our home town.

Commission

1945 there were three licenses — the Plymouth Community Hotel (Mayflower), Box Bar and Andeigne Hotel. In 1951 the commission voted its disapproval for continuation of the Andeigne license. In 1953, Marquis' Toli House was granted its license and in 1955 a request for a fourth tavern license was denied.

The effort to put the liquor question on the ballot is still being carried on with more signatures still needed on petitions. Proponents want to place the issue on the November ballot.

Davis & Lent Sells Farmington, Wayne Stores

Wendell Lent of Davis and Lent Men's Wear Store disclosed today that his concern had sold its stores in Farmington and Wayne and would concentrate hereafter on a more intense merchandising program in the single, Plymouth outlet.

At the same time, Lent opened a "10 Day Stock Reduction Sale," he said, "to dispose of the excess inventories with which we find ourselves as a result of closing the other two stores."

Lent said that the sequence of events provided those who require men's wear with an opportunity to buy same at prices that "don't show up very often."

Does Your Mail Box Need Improvements?

May 19 to 24 is Mail Box Improvement Week and Postmaster George Timpona is urging all patrons on mounted city routes as well as rural routes to take part in the program.

The Post Office Department is encouraging patrons to provide suitable boxes, erected and maintained for easy and safe accessibility, presenting a neat appearance and affording protection of mail boxes that are improperly erected or are in an unserviceable condition, retard delivery of mail and expose it to weather, Timpona pointed out.

Names of box owners should be inscribed on the side of the box visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if boxes are grouped. Boxes and supports should be kept painted.

Patrons are urged to call the post office or contact their carrier if there are any questions concerning their mail box.

OPEN FRIDAY TIL 9 P.M.

Woman's Eye View
by Nancy Rigney

Take the chant of an African witch doctor, put it to music and you've got a winner. Inconceivable proof of this was offered last Friday night at the Plymouth High school auditorium.

Every foot clad in tennis shoes and bobbiex or an occasional set of white bucks or loafers, was moving under the influence of the "Witch Doctor." This was the picture at the highly successful DeMoley dance last Friday night.

Ollie "Scooby Do" McLaughlin of WHRV was on hand to feed glib words and rock 'n' roll sounds into the broadcasting mike. A rockin' instrumental group was there too, to provide a wild intermission.

I was on hand too, with no musical talents — not even dancing — for the dubious task of judging a dance contest. One look at the throng of seemingly partnerless dancers, and I remembered Elvis' poignant words, "I'm all shook up." But, with Don Wahlberg of Melody House as an able judge, it turned out to be a good contest and a vigorous workout for the participants.

Arriving early, I took in an hour's observation of the youth of America in action. And I mean action. Rock 'n' Roll is invigorating, fun and so on ... but it is strictly for the sound heart and athletically conditioned body.

Although I saw no frantic gyrations or over-the-shoulder flips, they were an agile crowd. "Scooby Do" found a happy balance between rock 'n' roll and the slower stuff, to provide breathers for the dancers.

The crowd packed in to form a circle as the contestants danced until eliminated by a tap on the shoulder. This was the hard part, for they were all good and brought personal cheering and hissing sections. Winners of the rock 'n' roll contest were Dick Anderson of PHS and Pat Blackburn of Bentley High.

Ballroom dancing followed with a new set of contestants and a few weary dancers from the rock 'n' roll session. Winners were Dennis Simpson and Carol Graham of P.H.S. Wahlberg presented the first place couple with gift certificates from Melody House and the runner-ups with records from WHRV.

Dance Chairman Bob Young and his various committees certainly deserve a pat on the back. "Scooby Do" did his part too, keeping the music going fast and furious, with the commercials dubbed in back at the studio. It was an evening of uninterrupted fun and exhaustion.

A visitor all the way from Alberta stopped by the Mail last week with a definite interest in the newspaper business. He's Cliff Patterson, editor of three weekly papers near Edmonton, Alberta. For all who don't know, and Patterson says there are many, Alberta is a Canadian province north of Montana.

The Patterson papers are in Tofield, Holden and McBride — the home office being the Tofield Mercury. So if you're ever in Tofield and need a quick print job, drop by "the house of fine printing" and ask for Cliff Patterson.

More guests last week were the fourth graders of Allen school. I doubt if a better behaved or a more interested group ever toured the plant. A credit to teachers Ruth Lindsey and Mrs. Rita Muzzer.

Jane Hardimon Wins Scholarship

Jane Hardimon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hardimon of Evergreen St., has been awarded the $850. Detroit Alumnae Scholarship to Chatham College, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Chatham College is a small, non-sectarian, privately endowed college, accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Association of American Universities, the American Chemical Society and the American Association of University Women.

Jane was considered worthy of this award because of her high scholastic standing at Plymouth High school, her extra-curricular activities and her participation in community affairs. She has helped at the Wayne Out-County Crippled Children's day camp, has assisted the playground director at Stark-

League of Women Voters to Discuss 'Responsibilities'

The May meeting of the Plymouth-Livonia Unit of the League of Women Voters will be held at 12:30, May 20, at the home of Mrs. Stephen Trick, 16544 Merriman Road, Livonia. The meeting will discuss the "Continuing Responsibilities" of the League.

Continuing responsibilities are those areas of interest on which the League has informed itself and on which its members have voiced their approval. They are usually items of government about which there is no immediate legislation pending, but matters on which the League stands ready to take action should the situation demand it. On the local level one current responsibility is emergency care of dependent children. Another one is the procurement of adequate foster homes for wards of the court.

Some items span both local and state governments such as the selection of judges. And on the National level, some items are Federal Budgetary procedure, opposition to the idea of a national tax rate limit, and measures to counteract inflation and deflation.

It will be an excellent time for women interested in the work of the League to hear some of the past, present, and future activities of the group. Everyone is welcome for more information or for a ride call Glenview 3-2871.

Gallimore PTA Bake Sale Set for Saturday

The Gallimore PTA will hold a bake sale at the A&P store, Ann Arbor and South Harvey, Saturday, May 17, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

Local 4-H Member Wins Memorial Grant

Marjorie Reddeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Reddeman of 40840 N. Territorial, is the recipient of the Sandy Brand 4-H Memorial Scholarship in the amount of $400.

This scholarship is a result of a memorial fund set up by the parents of Sandy Brank, former 4-H Club member of Wayne County.

Paysable in three equal sums over the first three terms at Michigan State University, the scholarship may be renewed from year to year if the proper scholastic average is maintained.

Money Grows on Trees At Dance Club Party

Money trees and giant dice highlighted the decorations at the Las Vegas party sponsored by the Evergreen Dance Club, Saturday night. Attending the club's annual dinner dance at the Western Golf and Country Club were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stribley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. James Anthony and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fritz. The group also attended a cocktail party before dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Barron of Detroit.

SUNDAY, MAY 18 will mark the Golden Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Foreman of 1310 Southworth. They will celebrate the occasion with an open house for friends and neighbors Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. The Foremans were married May 18, 1908 at Afton, Okla., while Oklahoma was still a territory. Mr. Foreman is a retired railroad man of Parsons, Kan., where they lived before coming to Plymouth. They raised seven children and have 23 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Town Crier: Residents Take Up Boating

BY GLORIA BOWLES
GL. 3-2340

(Covering area along Sheldon to Ann Arbor Trail, Harvey, and Sutherland, including Plymouth Colony, Hough Sub., Plymouth Hills and Ridgewood.)

Boating is the new recreational interest harbored by the Lawrence Rays and sons Larry and Robert (he's best known by his friends as "Bobo") of Jener Place. Their pleasure craft is fifteen feet seven inches long, features a convertible top, will seat seven and accommodate two overnighters if they want to "rough it." The boat has been christened the "Jumpy Ann" — its name being derived from the fact that fellow-woorcker consider Mr. Ray "jumpy" and Mrs. Ray's first name is Ann. The Rays, who purchased the prize possession last fall, report that most of their weekends are spent boating. Treating themselves to a three-day vacation two weekends ago were the Frank Ockerts and sons Dennis and Ronald of Jener Place. The family visited Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Illinois and made a stop-over at Michigan City, Ind., where the boys found Lake Michigan warm enough for wading.

What could be more fun than a surprise party? That is exactly what friends had in store for Gail Wolfe of Ann Arbor Trail, whose family is anticipating a move to Rogers, Ark., with the Daisy Manufacturing Co. Serving as hostess last Thursday evening were Karen Pankow of Ridgewood Drive. Guests were Susan Lacy, Judy Green, Judy Eley, Betsy Stover, Christine Cutler, Laura Edmunds, Janice Wolkeck and Marcia Knipschild.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Neely of Amherst Court attended the wedding and reception of a friend, Patricia Barna of Detroit recently. Miss Barna is the future Mrs. Tom Buchanan.

Betsy Beck of Amherst Court entertained 122 friends at a Punch Party preceding the Senior Prom.

A bouncing baby boy — good-sized too — was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Swanson of Turkey Run. Richard Dale, weighing in at eight pounds, six and half ounces, was born at Garden City Osteopathic Hospital on Sunday evening, May 4 (6:18 p.m.). Little Richard has three sisters: Mary Ann, Kathy and Barbara.

Several area residents took advantage of the Mother's Day weekend to plan a special get-together with their moms. Mr. and Mrs. R. James Mitchell and daughters Cindy and Mary Sue of Amherst Court spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Dunbar, and his folks, Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Mitchell, both of Grand Rapids.

Alma was the destination of the Marshall Norths and daughters Carole Anne and Nancy of Jener Place, who visited Mrs. Grace North last weekend in celebration of Mothers Day. Also making special plans for the weekend was the Carl E. Shultheiss family of Amherst Court. Visiting was Mrs. Shultheiss' mother, Mrs. Agnes Eversoll of Gary, Ind.

The Mother's Day weekend also saw Mrs. O. P. Moon and Miss Martha Moon, journey from Cleveland for a stay with the Jack Mitlenbuler and children Jack, Kurt and Beth of Turkey Run. The guests, mother and sister of Mrs. Mitlenbuler, thoroughly enjoyed the stay.

Battis Hill, husband of the former Florence Mosher of West Ann Arbor Trail and son-in-law of Emily Mosher of that address, really gets around. He returned from Indiana last week, left for Illinois this week, and in June will go to Toronto. To top it all off, this traveling man will journey to the Belgian Congo in July. The reason for this is that he is a very dedicated Baptist missionary.

Serving as hosts in the celebration of the forty-fifth wedding anniversary of his parents, the Harmons of Livonia, were Mr. and Mrs. David Gates of Ridgewood. Twenty-three guests attended the dinner party, given on April 30.

Among many new Plymouthites attending the Newcomers Tea at the Mayflower Hotel were Mrs. Robert L. Jones and Mrs. A. D. Johanson of Plymouth Colony. The tea, sponsored by the Garden Club, the Business and Professional Women, and the Women's Club, was in commemoration of Michigan Week, and more specifically, Hospitality Day.

Mrs. Fay Shirey of Jener Place entertained a friend from Detroit, Miss Pearl Merrey, who spent a few days last week in Plymouth. Even at his tender age, little Donnie Montgomery, 5, of South Harvey, has had an experience folks many times his age have not even been acquainted with. Yet his experience is not one which he would boast about; it is, however, a very serious and problem-filled one. For in August of 1957 Donnie became a victim of tuberculosis and for seven months and five days was a patient at the Northville Sanitarium. His illness presented many problems and much grief for his family, who visited the brave youngster regularly. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donell Montgomery and brother Rodney, three months, are very glad to have Donnie home, completely cured. This is certainly an experience the family will never forget, and also one we should remember while at the same time being thankful for our own good health.

William O. Sinn is recuperating from a heart ailment at his home on South Harvey, after spending 11 days in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. Batter up! Cub Scouts of this area, members of Bird School Pack 293, Den 8, have shown their prowess in the game of baseball within the last few weeks, in preparation for scheduled games with other local troops. On Monday, May 5 the Cubs of Den 8 defeated the opposition, Den 4 and will meet that team again for the big game in several weeks. A week later the youngsters met Den 3. (Results of that game will be posted next week; the deadline for this column inter-ferred with its publication in this issue.) Members of Den 8, led by Mrs. Robert L. Jones of Priscilla Lane, are Davy Jones, Jerry Norquist, Bob Kreitsch, Dale Crawford, Dick Lorenz, Stephen Bowles, Roger Sands and Ronnie Wittorf.

Apologies are in order from me to Linda Lent, future Plymouth bride. Please disregard the item concerning her in this column in the May 1 issue of the Mail for it was almost completely incorrect. My hastily scrawled notes were also hastily and incorrectly deciphered. At any rate here is the correct (I hope) news item:

Linda Lent of Hartsough Avenue was the guest of honor at a shower given by Burnette Lazor of Beech Street. Also serving as hostess was Gerry Kelly. The date for Miss Lent's marriage is June 28.

P.S. Linda — I hope you have better luck in your married life than I did in preparing this particular item!

Holland and the Tulip Festival found Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts of McKinley and children Sharon, David and Jennie and Mrs. Robert's mother, Mrs. Laura E. Wilard, among the many tourists present. The colorful celebration is an annual affair and second only to the Rose Bowl for tourist interest. It runs this year from May 14 to May 17.

Klaus Darup, 18, the German exchange student living with Mrs. Theresa Cameron of Governor Bradford Road during his stay in the United States, spent last weekend in Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago, Ill., as the guest of the Rotary Club of that city. Flying (for the first time in his life) the trip gave Klaus a good opportunity to view a typical big American city and to take in all the sights.

Mrs. C. A. Renwick of Elm Street entertained several friends at a bridge luncheon recently. Guests were Mrs. A. D. Johanson, Mrs. Everett J. Jolliffe, Mrs. M. J. Herlihy, Mrs. Everett A. Burmester and Mrs. Carter of Plymouth and Mrs. Bob Champe of Livonia.

Because it concerns YOU, the "Town Crier" depends on YOU for news items. So don't hesitate to call GL 3-2340 if you live in this area and are doing what comes "socially."

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

The mothers of Brownie troop 33 had a surprise party for the members and leaders on May 7. Leader Marion Green was presented with a colored phone and assistant leader, Ann Green, with a cutlery set. Cookies and punch were served to all and the surprise was considered a complete success.

Intermediate troop 26 recently camped out at the cabin. After an outdoor supper the girls worked on badges and general clean up while the mothers washed the dishes. After some baseball the girls reviewed their first aid work. The girls fixed breakfast in the morning and completed the camp-out with a nature hike.

New officers for Brownie troop 7 are: Joelle Kuczynski, chairman; Lynn Bender, treasurer; Mary Ann Sincoc, secretary; Jill Allison, sunshine girl; and Lorraine Daley, publicity girl.

Under the leadership of Mrs. F. Allison and Mrs. H. Niles, the troop toured the Farm Crest Dairy farm.

A big welcome is extended to the new Brownie members of troop 8, Jackie Manzi, Kristin Skingley and Lorraine Daley.

Election Results
After the voting was over, the ballots were counted and the results of the school election were disclosed. M. J. West will receive the mayor's gavel today, May 15, at the inaugural Assembly. Mr. Palmer was elected vice mayor. The secretary's position will be filled by Dick Huber with Mavis Williams as treasurer.

The Senior Class executive board will be headed by Dick Small. Because of the tie for the office of vice president between Ray Tisch and Glyn Norton, the winning candidate is not known at this time. Carole Ann North and Ken Jacobus will take over the office of secretary and treasurer, respectively. Student Council members are: Lois Austin, Linda Heric, Joan Zett, and Hale Huber. Jay Selle is the newly elected president of the Junior Class with Dave Rank as Vice President, Nancy Alford was elected to the office of secretary while John Salan was elected treasurer with the following student council representatives: Jill Clark, Randy Eglor, Peggy Davidson and Jim Thompson.

Sophomore class president, Art Nelson, will be assisted by vice-president, Ann West with Sue Utter as secretary and Barbara Gooch as treasurer. Student Council consists of: Karen Rank, Ralph Spigarelli, John Spigarelli and John Dennany.

There isn't room to list all the names of candidates who did an excellent job of campaigning and exhibiting good citizenship. Congratulations! Scholarships Awarded Seven Scholarships have been offered to our Seniors. Sylvia Chingua was offered a $100 educational grant for Cleary College in Ypsilanti. Gerry Love was awarded a tuition and expense scholarship from Wayne State University.

Jane Hardimon was offered a renewable $850 scholarship for Chatham College in Pittsburgh, Pa. A teaching scholarship to Eastern Michigan College was offered to Janet Spigarelli and Lorraine Konke from the State Board. Janet received a scholarship offer to attend Michigan State University. From Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma to Central Michigan College, Marianna Jensen was offered a teaching scholarship. Marjorie Reddeman was offered a $400 4-H scholarship for the freshman year at Michigan State University.

Martha Shoemaker was offered the Regent's Alumni Scholarship to the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Don Alsbro received a tuition scholarship offer to Michigan State University. An all-expense athletic scholarship was offered to Dave Walaskay from the University of Missouri.

Fashion Review
"Les Vogues de Paris" (translated: The Fashion of Paris on Review) will be presented today, May 15, at 8:00 by the Homemaking Department. The fashion show will be presented through the efforts of the classes from which the following chairmen were selected: Mary Travis, Wathena Miller, Myrna Miller, Dottie Grabowski, April Corey, Karen Rank, Sandy Olson, Cynthia Couture, Sally Mathias, and Kay Spencer. Commentators for the presentation are Linda Griswald

Your Personal Tribute

America War Dead
Wear a Poppy!

Malta Riots ... Police disperse striking workers in Valletta, Malta, where anti-British action resulted in government declaring state of emergency.

CHECKING OVER the script for the high school style show, "Les Vogues de Paris en Revue," are Linda Griswald, commentator; Myrna Miller, mistress of ceremonies; Cynthia Couture, general chairman; and Mary Travis, commentator. Set for tonight, the show will feature dresses made by members of the homemaking classes.

Get to Know Plymouth's Automobile Dealers

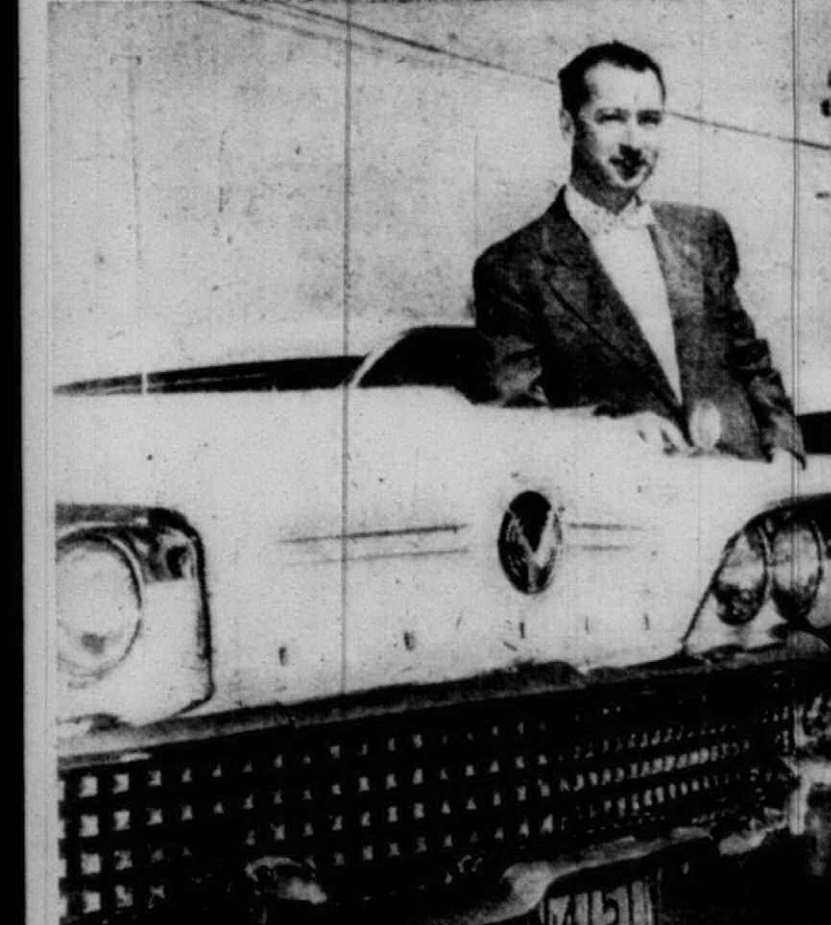

AFTER SERVING Plymouth 15 years as used car dealers, Joseph Stadnik, right, and William J. Shekell turned to new car selling in 1956 with the English Ford, The Stadnik and Shekell lot is located on South Main St. at Dodge St.

SINCE JUNE of last year, Plymouth's Mercury dealership has been operated by Bob McKanna. The firm, known as Bob McKanna Mercury, is on Plymouth Rd. near Mill. He has been in the auto business eight years.

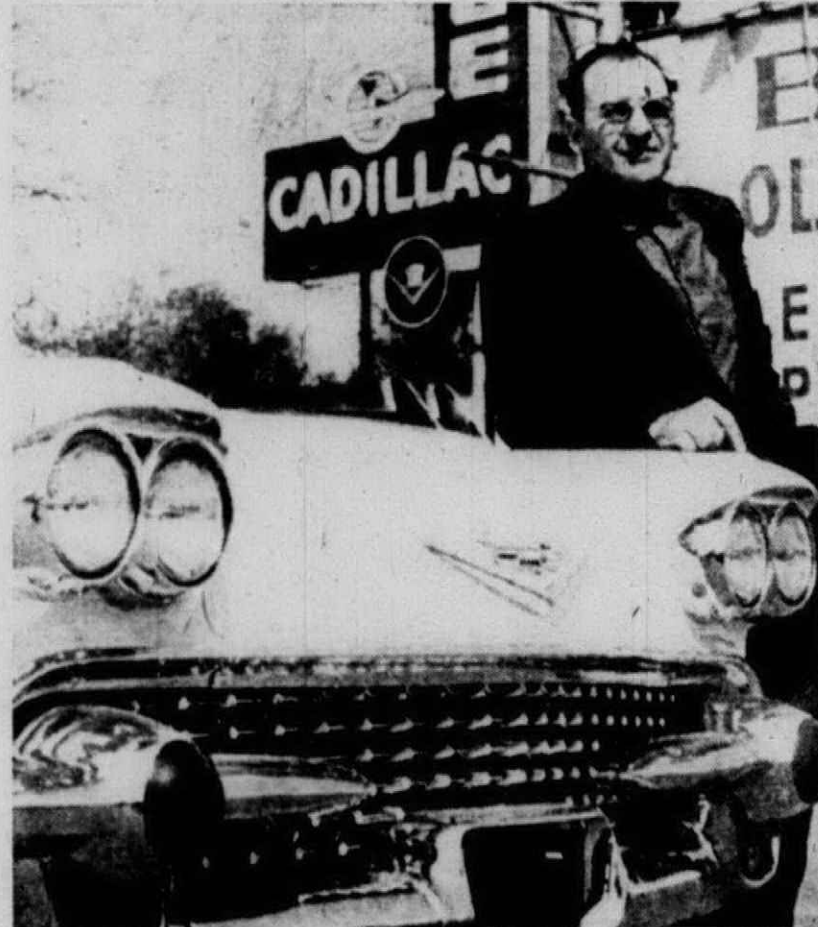

ONE OF Plymouth's two oldest dealerships is Ernest J. Allison, Inc., on North Main Street. The Chevrolet dealership was started by Ernest Allison, left, in 1922 and his son, Frank, joined him in 1934.

JACK SELLE TOOK over the local Buick agency five years ago and immediately constructed a new building on Ann Arbor Road. He was associated with his father in the auto repair business since 1932 and later took over the firm.

PLYMOUTH'S PONTIAC dealers are Ross L. Berry, left, and Norman Atchinson, who operate their garage on Ann Arbor Road. Berry started the dealership in 1940 on South Main St. In 1946 Atchinson joined the firm. It is now known as Berry and Atchinson.

WALTER BEGLINGER has been in the car business here since 1945, starting out with Oldsmobile, later adding Cadillac. Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac is on South Main St. The owner had been in the business many years in Detroit.

Parisian Decor To Set Scene For Style Show

A Parisian dress shop and a sidewalk cafe will be the rendezvous for 45 Plymouth High school models who will present "Les Vogues de Paris en Revue" Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The dresses will be products of homemaking classes taught by Mrs. John Goltman and Shirley Plant. The mistress of ceremonies, Myrna Miller, 12th grade, will set the scene for the program. Fashion commentators will be Mary Travis and Linda Griswold.

A tea will be served following the review.

Directing the activities leading up to the style show is General Chairman Cynthia Couture, 9th grade. Committee chairmen are Sandra Olson and Karen Rank, tea; Mary Travis, music; April Corey, donations; Doretta Grabowski and Kay Spencer, programs; Sally-Jo Mathias and Wathena Miller, publicity. Myrna Miller will serve as stage manager.

Eliminate Snakes By Mowing Lawn

The best way to keep snakes out of your yard is to keep the grass mowed and to remove everything that a snake can hide under.

This is the advice given by Dr. Max Hensley, Michigan State University herpetologist, when he is asked every year, "what can I do about all those snakes in my yard?"

Snakes often hibernate in groups because they like the same places — rock piles, old foundations and other spots where they will be protected from the frost, the M.S.U. specialist pointed out.

"When the first warm days of spring come, snakes like to come out and sun themselves," Dr. Hensley said. "But they stay close to their winter home so they can return there at night when the temperature drops. As it becomes warmer they go their separate ways."

Dr. Hensley said only one of Michigan's 19 types of snakes is poisonous — a pigmy rattlesnake called the eastern massasauga or "swamp rattler." It is easy to identify by its rattles, grayish-brown skin with chocolate colored spots, small neck and triangular head, and the pit on each side of its face between eye and nostril.

Parkview Circle Column To Cover Larger Area

MRS. ROBERT FITZNER
GL. 3-6214

This column will in the future cover the area east of the railroad tracks to the park and from Parkview Circle north to Wilcox Lake. For the benefit of those who are interested in having your news items included in this column please call me any afternoon or evening.

The Jack Rulands of Parkview Drive and the Joe Quinlans of Garling Drive got together on Mother's Day for a picnic in the park. Fishing at Erieau, Canada was real good over the weekend according to Helen Cline-smith of 150 S. Mill. Her husband Stanley and his brother, John, brought home a nice string of perch.

Dorothy and Joe Archer, who live on Holbrook Ave., spent Mother's Day afternoon playing golf out at Burroughs Farms. Dorothy said her score was not too hot, seeing as how it was her first time on the links this year, but Joe naturally turned in a good performance as usual.

Last Saturday evening Joyce and Al Truax of Garling Drive attended the 10th U. of D. alumni dance at the U. of D. high school in Detroit. They both enjoyed renewing acquaintances with old classmates of Al's.

Here's another fish story. Les Upton of Garling Drive took his two sons, Ron and Al, up to East Tawas, for a weekend of fishing. Their string of perch proved the fishing was fairly good but guess they just about froze to death in the process. Camping was out of the question due to the weather, so they slept and ate in the station wagon. It was so cold they even wore gloves while fishing. Maybe that's what you call being a real fisherman-to put up with all that and still say you enjoyed it.

Dorothy and Lloyd Curok with their children, Linda, Lorrie and Paul, spent Mother's Day in Maidstone, Ontario with Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell. While there they also visited with Lloyd's parents and other close relatives.

Doris and Jim Sponseller of Parkview Drive and their two girls, Ellen and Holly, were in Bucyrus, Ohio over the weekend where they visited with both their families.

The Parkview Circle Homeowner's Association will have a Progressive Dinner party June 7 beginning with hors d'oeuvres at the Quinlan home on Garling Drive at 8 p.m. There may possibly be a short business meeting following the dessert course which will be served at the Ruland home on Parkview Drive.

Dot and Bud Wilson and children, Terry and Larry, spent the Mother's Day weekend in Hillsdale, with Bud's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson.

The Don McGill family of Parkview Drive dined out for breakfast Sunday morning to celebrate Mother's Day and later enjoyed a picnic in the park with several relatives from out of town.

On Friday evening the Kuhns girls, Doris, Grace, Vicki and Cindy of Parkview Drive and Doris' mother, Mrs. Bridges of Detroit, attended a Mother and Daughter banquet at the Covenant Baptist Church in Detroit. Mother's Day the Kuhns were the dinner guests at the home of Ted's parents in Detroit.

Happy Birthday this week to Grace Wigley, Cindy Kuhns and Mimi Brennan.

A woman's golf club has cropped up in our subdivision as a result of the golf course lessons which were given through the Adult Education Program at the high school this past winter. Club members from this neighborhood are Barbara Cooper, Doris Sponseller, Lorraine Quinlan, Joyce Truax, Lee Ruland and Madeline Kendall. The girls have set aside Tuesday for their new hobby and plan to play a different course each week. So far they have played Braeburn and Hilltop.

Helen and Walter Lake of Garling Drive entertained Helen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Heabler of Detroit, and yours truly at dinner Mother's Day evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ebersol of Starkweather Ave. entertained at a Mother's Day dinner on Sunday for Bill's mother, Mrs. Lybia Ebersol of Northville and for their two daughters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Robert James of Royal Oak, and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cook of Northville.

Newburg Area PTA Hear Juvenile Court Judge

(Covering the Newburg Area, bounded by Wayne Rd., Ann Arbor Rd., Lalonde and Joy Rd., including the Washington School area.)

BY MRS. EMIL LA POINTE
GA. 1-2029

The Washington school P.T.A. had a rare treat last Wednesday when they had as their special guest, Judge Nathan J. Kaufman of the Detroit juvenile court. To more than two hundred assembled, the judge told about his routine during the course of one week and of the various types of problems he had before him in the course of that week. It proved a most interesting evening. At the close of the business meeting, refreshments were served by the room mothers from the sixth grade. This meeting and program marks the close of the P.T.A. meetings until next September. To President Mrs. Jean Schoen and her fine officers, congratulations for a job well done during the past school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lamp-ton and son Jerry of Hix road have returned home after spending 10 days visiting with friends and relatives in Arkansas and Florida.

Remember, May 25th is the date, Sunday evening, at the Newburg Methodist church, Newburg road and Ann Arbor Trail. The Lincoln Park chorale will present an evening of modern music. Selections from the King and I will be the highlight of the evening, as the production will be presented in costume. Watch the Newburg News for further details.

The Joy Road Canasta Clan will meet at the home of Mrs. William Kenner on Narise drive, Tuesday evening, May 20 at 8 p.m. Please advise your hostess if you are unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood of Newburg road attended the annual Mail Carriers banquet in Plymouth.

A surprise birthday party in honor of Dick Petrucelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petrucelli of Joy road, was given by Jean Kay at her home on Joy road. Following is the list of guests who at-

Mr. and Mrs. Emil LaPointe and sons Bruce and David of Joy road boarded a train at the Plymouth station last weekend and headed for Lansing. While in Lansing the LaPointe's visited the government buildings and also the agricultural exposition on the campus of Michigan State University.

Art Exhibit to Show High School Work

The City Manager's Corner

By Al Glassford

Last week, we talked about how to finance the paving of the streets in the City of Plymouth. This week, I would like to discuss the feasibility of issuing bonds at this time. During the past few years, there has been a marked increase in the cost of labor and material, and had the city completed the paving program in 1946 or 1947, the entire cost would have been 1/3 less and the bonds now completely paid off. Of course, complete paving was impossible to accomplish, since the south portion of the city had no sanitary sewers installed. Nevertheless, the example points up the fact that there is an inflationary trend which should be recognized.

It is predicted by some economists that the Gross National Product (which means the cost of all products, services of governmental workers or anyone else) has increased from three to five percent each year since 1950. While we are experiencing a slow down in this trend now, it is predicted that there will be at least a 1% increase per year in the Gross National Product, which is reflected, of course, in the cost of all materials.

Farmers, manufacturers and businessmen seem to prefer an upward trend in prices (but not at such a fast rate as has been) and our national thinking seems to be slanted that way, even though many of us would like stable prices. These are the facts, however, and we must face them.

Getting back to our original question as to whether or not we should issue bonds, if the voters authorize the bonds, the city commission should carefully watch trends in order to make sure that it issues only as many bonds each year of the $2,000,000 authorized as is prudent and reasonable over a 4 or 5 year period. By such an attack of the problem, our major difficulty of bad streets will be solved in a relatively short time.

If the trend is still inflationary, we will have paid off improvements with less valuable dollars in the future. If the inflationary spiral continues to increase beyond the 1% per year, we will be that much better off paying the bonds with cheaper dollars.

As you read in the Plymouth Mail two weeks ago, I asked Representative Martha Griffiths, Senator Potter and Senator McMamara to support legislation which would lend money directly to cities. Each is in favor of speedup of public works to offset the unemployment situation, which seems to be worse in the Detroit region than anywhere else. Such direct loans would avoid having to issue bonds, and, in case the city ran into lean times in the future, Uncle Sam is a little more lenient to deal with than are bond holders.

It is in times like these that public works programs should be accelerated to fill in the gaps when industrial and business inventories are such as not to require production at the moment. How to keep public works on the shelf current, so that they may be brought into effect at the proper moment and how to get the finances and labor moved around to the proper places is a good question to solve. Well, there's a job for the graduating classes to tackle for the future.

Hugh McAuley reports that

Christian Service Was Instituted At Last Supper

If the scene of the Last Supper lacked dramatic impact in the simple description which the New Testament gives, great artists would have dramatized it for us and made it unforgettable.

The greatest depiction of the scene is the famous painting by Leonardo da Vinci, though it is probably more emotional than historically accurate.

It is unlikely that the disciples ate at a long table of Leonardo's arrangement. More likely they were grouped together at tables in the form of hollow squares, and were reclining instead of sitting, as such was the custom of the time.

But the physical details are unimportant. Jesus and His followers were Jews and they were engaged in the holiest of all Jewish observances—the celebration of the Passover. This specific celebration in the upper room has a new and added significance as the origin of the Christian sacrament, the essence of Christian faith.

All that makes Christianity worthwhile is portrayed in the glorification of the Christian service. Though one of the twelve was a traitor, these disciples had been called to a high honor. It was not to exercise power like kings, but that of serving, the King of Kings, who is beyond all others.

He stooped to conquer and give Himself completely to the service of His Father and His fellowmen. By joining in that spirit we can perpetuate the spirit of the Last Supper in the upper room.

To the editor:

Under date of May 7th many Plymouth citizens read in the Detroit Times a 4-column feature story captioned, "Daisy's Last Kiss." To those who may have missed the item let it be repeated here that the carress referred to represented Daisy's good bykiss to Plymouth. The article also referred to Daisy as just "about the best girl that the city of Plymouth ever had." And what a pity that, after 70 years of fond embrace, the old girl at last had to become fickle!

It seems that the old girl, in defense of her actions, has offered the excuse that the climate in Plymouth is no longer tolerable to her aging body. She chose to go away. But to her everlasting credit, however, it must be said that she did not choose to go away to lay down and die, but only to go away and become rejuvenated. For that, it seems, a new boy friend was needed. But since Rogers could not come to Daisy, Daisy had to go to Rogers. And at Rogers' doorstep, Daisy believes, the climate — be it political, economic or otherwise — will be found more equable.

On the other hand, while Daisy found — or thought she found — the local atmosphere no longer tenable, Western Electric, after painstaking investigation, recently found everything in Plymouth, including the climate, exactly right. Strange, isn't it, how opinions can sometimes so widely differ.

The feature story, with accompanying picture, also told about the last day of work for Jack Reamer, 51-year employee at the Daisy plant. Jack, still apparently virile and husky at 72, and after himself having enjoyed — or endured — Plymouth's climate and the Daisy for 51 years, the other day also received Daisy's farewell kiss.

He picked up his dinner bucket for the last time, pocketed the $9,000.00 trust fund the old girl had so lovingly socked away for him, and now plans to go fishing. And now Yours Truly wishes Jack, Daisy, and all the others, continued long years of health, happiness and prosperity — either in Rogers' alleged bed of roses or wherever they may be.

WHEN PLYMOUTH telephone users hear an operator give the time signal, they are actually hearing the sound films wound around these mirror surface cylinders shown being placed in the Audichron.

No Human Clock-Watchers Needed To Tell You Time by Telephone

Plymouth telephone users received a timely bonus when their new dial phone system went into effect last month.

They received the services of some super-accurate clocks that literally tell time, in pleasant, feminine peafar-shaped tones.

By simply dialing GR 2-1212, a voice will tell the precise hour, minute and second. The service is offered 24 hours a day.

But don't get the idea that some operators have the tiring job of clock-watching all day long, seven days a week. The job is done by a mechanism called an Audichron and it is located at Michigan Bell's headquarters in Detroit, not Plymouth.

The same voices are piped by long distance lines all over the state and it doesn't cost Plymouth phone users a thing.

The number, GR 2-1212, is a special one, ignored by the automatic accounting equipment which normally tallies each call to Detroit. The complex machinery that completes and counts Plymouth telephone calls treats Time Service calls as just another local call.

When a person hears the clock's voice, they are hearing a recording — in fact, a whole series of recordings. One speaks only the hours, the next the minutes and the last the seconds.

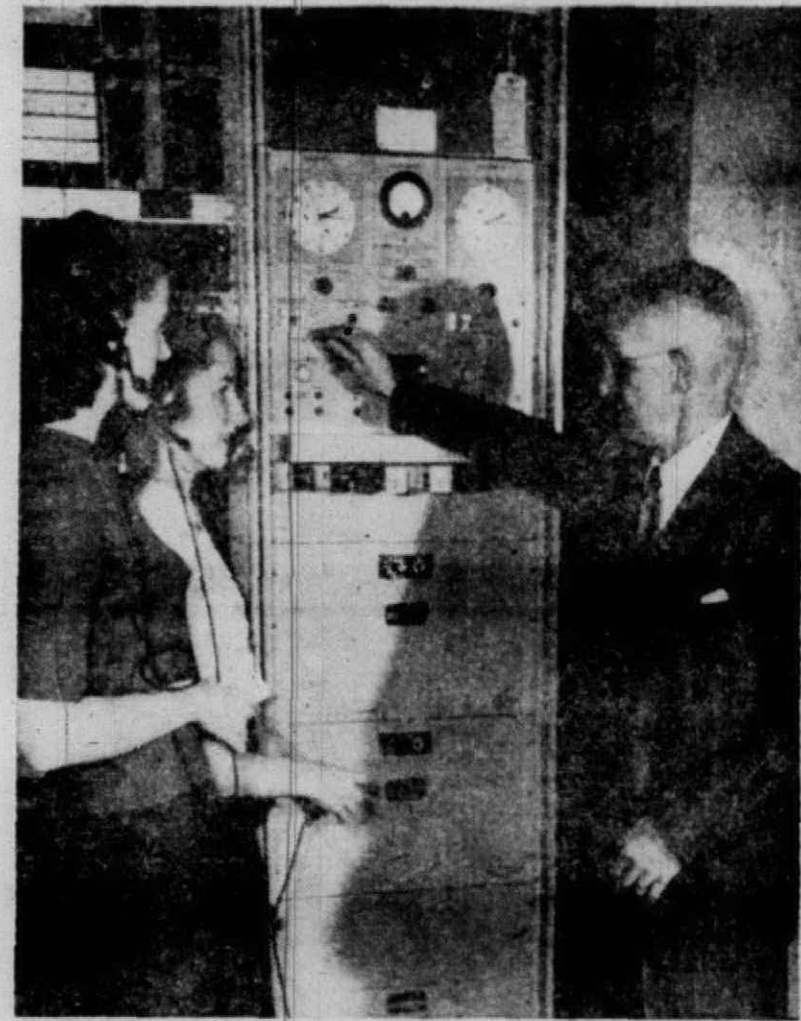

So when you dial GR 2-1212 you hear three records. The first will say, for instance "At the time the time will be one," then the second will insert "fifteen" and the third will note "and twenty seconds," followed by the "beep."

The clocks are installed with a built-in "standby" feature. If one gets balky, the second takes over automatically. So far as A.M. and P.M. are concerned you're on your own.

The recordings themselves are on a film wrapped around shiny drums. Like the sound track on movie film, they work with a tiny beam of light to produce sound. And they save a lot of complexity. If a single sound track was used in place of the three synchronized recordings, the film would have to be 10 miles long.

The drums on which the films are wrapped revolve at different speeds, controlled by assorted gears — including some square ones, and others with diamond teeth.

Powered by commercial electricity, the clocks regulate themselves regardless of fluctuations in current. Odds

MUCH PRETTIER than the Audichrons are the telephone operators who used to speak time announcements. They are being shown the radio receivers in Detroit that provide the Audichrons with "real" time from the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C. are long that the time will not vary more than 1-10 second in two weeks, but another gadget on the clocks' control board can advance or retard them to give "real" time. "Real" time, incidentally, comes from the National Bureau of Standards at Washington, D.C. Time signals are radiated from there every five minutes — and the Audichrons are equipped with their own receivers.

Jack Tighe slumped wearily in the wire cubicle that serves as his office, flung off his cap and ran a heavy hand over a hairless pate. The Tigers dropped another one.

"We've just gotta get going," he sighed. "We've got a much better ball club than this."

Around him in the clubhouse all was silence. The players showered and dressed quietly. There was none of the banter heard after a winning game.

The Tigers were still snarling. They hadn't given up, by any means. But the deluge of defeats was discouraging.

What had happened on the first long road trip was exactly what had happened last year. The good hitters, the "bell-cows," weren't hitting. Without leaders to pull the rest of the team along, the Tigers were floundering.

Last year on May 9 Detroit was in sixth place. This year on May 9 the Bengals were mired in seventh. 4½ games off the pace.

Last year the Tigers did not get into real contention for fourth place until May 18. They slithered to fifth on June 23 and did not regain fourth alone for more than a day until August 18.

By then the "bell-cows" were pacing the team. They drove in the important runs. They inspired their teammates to play above their heads. But it was too late to do more than fight to hold onto fourth.

Tighe had this season expected the number one "bell-cow," Al Kaline, to give the team a lift earlier than last year. The way Al was whacking the ball in spring training, it looked certain that he

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

— Now that the hour of actual departure of Daisy Manufacturing from Plymouth is here, there has been a noticeable increase in bitterness by those who believe the move was "unjustified."

We hear it throughout the local area, as if many were just beginning to understand the heavy impact of the transfer to Rogers, Ark., which first was announced last December. Perhaps our citizens subconsciously thought something might intervene, somehow, and stop the move — or, at least, provide a satisfactory solution to the host of personal problems it creates for local people.

And beyond Plymouth can be heard new voices of resentment. The Detroit Times published a stinging editorial last week, which was promptly picked up by the CIO and amplified, via TV and the labor press.

"The company bequeaths to the state of its birth, growth and prosperity," said the Times, "a legacy of slurs upon the wage and tax climate of Michigan, shouted at announcement of impending departure."

"It is moving to a promised land of bigger-profits quicker; where a man can be bought to work harder and longer for less pay; where fewer tax dollars are frittered away to help children and old people, the unfortunate or less able; where racial segregation is abetted by the state government."

"In 70 years in Michigan, the Daisy company grew from nothing into millions . . . at closing it is a healthy, vigorous business, the bread-and-butter of some 650 workers . . . in Arkansas some of this bread-and-butter can be alchemized into more golden profits — the Daisy management thinks . . ."

"We'd like to say some friendly words of farewell. We just can't think of any," concluded the Times.

Well, The Times speaks an obvious point of view clearly and with anger. Many will cheer the writer who cried out in indignation from his office above Times Square.

To an extent, so does this newspaper. But it never is as easy to dogmatically damn someone when you are close to the scene as it is when distance separates the critic from exposure to all the facts.

More than anything, we would wish that the people of our area would go to work with muscles, brains and guts upon the job of making this a better place for Daisy having decided to jilt us.

Bitterness and anger — such as spoken in the Times — are substitutes for facing facts. All the fist-shaking and all the indignant rage in the world, will not turn back the calendar; nor, in this case, do they help one to understand Daisy's move to Arkansas. They do not speed us in our duty of replacing Daisy with something else.

It is true that Cass Hough could have decided to revamp his operation in Plymouth and stay in Michigan.

He didn't. He says he didn't because he has been placed at the head of a business and the job of an executive is to make money for his stockholders. He believes there is more money to be made in Arkansas.

And that point of view changes the transfer from a matter of plain brutality toward Plymouth, toward Michigan, and toward the people thereof, to one of "normal" business ferocity.

The real question is just how fierce should business become under the "free enterprise" system? When you get into that problem, you're at the heart of possibly the biggest economic perplexity in America today, and you're a long way from singling out only Cass Hough in person or Daisy Manufacturing in particular.

For instance, it is not exactly a secret that most of our biggest industries are placing increasingly huge amounts of manufacturing operations down South, in Puerto Rico, South America and Europe.

They are doing it to reduce their labor costs; their cost of production; to "make more money for their stockholders."

They are proper targets for the same kind of blistering as The Times handed Daisy last week, but we haven't read it about General Motors yet.

For some reason another story hasn't made the papers in Lower Michigan yet (and apparently the politicians haven't grabbed on to it) but another Michigan factory closed its doors last week, along with Daisy. It was the Northwestern Leather Co., a tannery located in my birthplace of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

The tannery there employed 600 people (the work force had been as high as 950), the plant had been in business continuously since 1900, and it thrived in the days when a cheap source of tanbark was essential.

Lately tanning has become a chemical process, and also, the CIO has unionized the plant. Last fall there was a contract negotiation. The management said that if the wage rates were granted, the future of the company was doubtful.

On May 1, the tannery shut. The operations will be transferred to New England.

Should that company, too, be blistered in print and condemned from shore to shore?

My answer is that perhaps it should, but this is business under today's rules.

Economic shifts always are rough and create pain. In our economy, they are assumed to be a "normal" thing.

Our job is to accept our burden as mature people should do. We can be thankful for gains from things which have shifted our way, such as the Western Electric plant's arrival, the new manufacturing along Plymouth Rd., etc.

And if our town and state are good places, as we know they are, we should get down to brass tacks and do whatever is required to replace Daisy with a concern which realizes this is an excellent location to do business.

We have one hope which contains some malice toward Daisy. We hope that Daisy's experiment in the South proves to be far less fruitful than Hough anticipates. This is not meant for personal "vengeance," but rather with the desire of deterring other Michigan companies who might be tempted by the same idea.

As a matter of fact, we're certain the costs of labor will be a constantly rising thing in Rogers, and will foul up Daisy's planning drastically.

We join The Times editorial writer in one other criticism. That has to do with the broad attack upon the State of Michigan, and particularly on "taxes," which was uttered from the Daisy front office at the time of the original announcement.

Neither State nor Local taxes played any basic part in Daisy's decision. Hollering and creating a slur upon this State served no purpose and they damaged the reputation of the area where a lot of us must continue to make our living.

And, on that subject, we're just as scornful of The Detroit Times and the other metropolitan papers for having passed on the slurs as "news," as we are of anybody else.

And you can throw in the Republican politicians who didn't waste a moment to jump in and gleefully smear the reputation of their home state, in order to get in what they hoped would be a few licks on the Democrats.

Goodwill Pick-up

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Plymouth is scheduled for Monday, May 19. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards. To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative Mrs. Lora Ault, at Greenleaf 4-4294.

Nigerian to Speak Sunday

A Nigerian couple will speak about their native country at the Masonic Temple Sunday, May 18 under the auspices of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Folorunso and Atinuke Bamijoko of Nigeria. West Africa are in the United States to complete graduate studies at the University of Michigan, where he is specializing in history and she in English. They both intend to return to Nigeria and teach. They have a four-year-old girl who is in Nigeria. Mrs. Bamijoko is familiar to many Plymouthites as a guest speaker at the World Communion Day observance last fall.

Buyers Like Food Packages With 'Windows'

Consumers seem to like packages that allow them to look over the contents easily. This appeared to be the case in tests made using packaged chickens. Research workers at the Michigan State University agricultural experiment station had asked a group of Detroit consumers to choose between differently packaged fryers.

In the test, the appearance of the fryers themselves seemed to carry a lot of weight with the consumers. Many persons apparently liked a plain wrapper so they could see the fryer and judge its quality. Two types of plain wrappers, cellophane and polyethylene, were compared to red colored and printed wrappers of the same materials.

Neither did a particular inspection, grade or processing tag have much influence on the consumers' choices. Quality was still uppermost. Tags used included U.S. Inspected, Actionized, U.S. Inspected and graded "A" and Michigan Inspected.

The influence of appearance carried over into a test of the effect of different colors of wicker basket containers. There was some increase in the number of first choices for the bird that was shifted from a yellow to a blue basket from one test to next. For the bird that remained in the yellow basket, first choices dropped. There were fewer first choices of the bird that was moved to a white basket, too.

The research team conducting the test included J. H. MacNeil and H. E. Larzelere, agricultural economists and L. E. Dawson, poultry.

Last week we mentioned the Plymouth Theater Guild award for years best performance back-stage and fore-stage. It is to be called the GILDA award. On May 19th at the regular monthly meeting of the Theater Guild the awards will be given.
Here then are the nominations for the Gilda awards:
Best Actresses — Loretta Young (The Desk Set), Betty Demorest (Double Door), Jackie Gangron (The Desk Set), Jean Fronk (Double Door), Dorothy Smith (My Sister Eileen), Lillian Dickinson (My Sister Eileen).
Best Actor — Russ Wallace (My Sister Eileen), Russ Creel (The Desk Set and My Sister Eileen), C. V. Sparks (Double Door and My Sister Eileen), Ben Mill (The Desk Set).
Those of you that saw all three of the plays this season might want to try and guess the committee that had a tough time trying to decide who the two lucky people were from the nominations. Consider each play carefully and see if you can pick a winner.
The rest of the nominations are as follows:
Best Producer of the Year: Dorothy Smith, "The Desk Set"; Alice Wright, "My Sister Eileen"; Betty Houghton, "Double Door."
Best Director, Hal Young for "Desk Set"; Ford Sutherland for "Double Door."
Larry Johnson was nominated because he is not a Guild member. Also, he is considered a professional director since he works with commercial summer theater in Canada. All the Guild members would like to give him a special award for the wonderful instruction and swell time he provided during the coaching of the last play.
Best All-Round Worker — Bill Kamen, Betty Houghton, Alice Wright, Chuck Ploughman.
This award refers to no specific play. These people nominated have been busy with the Theater Guild all season. They have been seen doing everything from painting to patching the left leg of a table that might be used for the coffee break between the acts at a rehearsal. They are just all-round good 'Joos. We wish more of these hard workers and the type of person that has forgot how to say "NO." Again, each of these people deserve more than an award, but one person will receive a GILDA on May 19th. Plan now to drop over to the high school and see who was selected.
The awards committee decided that new people with the Plymouth Theater Guild should be encouraged to keep on trying out for plays. Thus, the category "most promising actor and actresses" was put on the list. Again this is something that Broadway does every year. If it's good enough for them, the Plymouth Theater Guild feels it can well afford to follow suit. The nominations for this award were as follows:
Most Promising Actor of the Year: Bill Kamen for his work in "Double Door" and "My Sister Eileen." Jerry French, "The Desk Set" and "My Sister Eileen." Sam Davis, "My Sister Eileen."
Most Promising Actresses — Betty Houghton, "My Sister Eileen." Mildred Lamb, "Double Door."
Best Supporting Role — Jim Blackman (Double Door and My Sister Eileen), Mickey Wells (My Sister Eileen), Maude Laury (The Desk Set and My Sister Eileen), Alice Wright (Double Door), Jack Wilcox (My Sister Eileen).
Well that about wraps up the nominations. Look into your crystal ball and discover who will get the "Gilda." By the way, if you don't see some of your friends nominated, it might be that his dues weren't paid up. Everyone nominated had to be a member in good financial standing. After all, there has to be some reward for those actors that have been prompt and precise about paying up their dues.
Before we leave this week, I'd like to quote what Richard Cloonan, Drama Critic for Community Theater productions in the Detroit News, had to say a week or so ago. I quote: "Because of the fine reputation Dearborn has built up this season with two outstanding productions, the opening night performance of "Desk Set" by all community theater yardssticks, should have equaled the high quality of the Plymouth Theater Guild's version in November. It didn't." Nuff said.
This is the week the drama season starts over in Ann Arbor. Hope we see you over there. If you can't get over, reserve your seat with us next week and we'll give you our reactions to the theatrical "goings-on" ... act by act.

American Legion News

A Joint Poppy Rally with the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held on Monday, May 19, at the VFW Hall on Lilley Road, at 6:30 p.m. This will be in the form of a pot-luck dinner. Bring a dish to pass, a dessert to pass and your own service. Our department commander, Giles Reeves, and department service officer, Leo Leggett are scheduled to attend. Let's all attend the rally.
The Memorial Church Services will be held at the First Methodist church on Church Street Sunday, May 25. The services will be at 11 a.m. We certainly hope that we have our usual good attendance at these services to our departed comrades. Please wear your Legion cap and Auxiliary hat.
The 17th district chaplain, Robert Wilson announces that Memorial Services will be Sunday, May 25, at Riverside Cemetery in Plymouth, 2:30 p.m. Everyone will meet at the Community Center and go by car to the cemetery. Present plans call for the service to be held at the mausoleum. This outdoors service is most impressive and all members are urged to be in attendance. The 17th district unit chaplain is Ruth King of Northville.
Our "Gold Star Mothers" were honored with roses for Mother's Day by our president, Gwen Holcombe and Fern Burleson.
Boys' state chairman, Robert Wilson announced that eight boys from Plymouth will be going to Lansing this June. Girls' state chairman, Marion Kot states that three girls will be going to Ann Arbor this June also. This is a wonderful program and the boys and girls do enjoy and learn most interesting articles regarding our government.
The 17th district banquet is being held Saturday, June 7, 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church in Northville. Tickets are priced at $2 each. Contact Harry Burleson for tickets, GL 3-3571.
Attending the third zone steering committee at the Legion Home in Flint from the 17th district were: Ernest Koi, Plymouth, Irving Geer, Livonia, Oscar Hammond, Northville, Kenneth Parent, Redford township and Dick Kelso from Rosedale Park.
Reed Steward, 18 of Brazil, Ind., high school senior and governor of the 1957 Hoosier Boys' State, was crowned national champion orator at the finals of The American Legion national oratorical contest at Portales, N.M. on April 21.
POPPIES BRING AID TO WAR DISABLED. Coins dropped into the contribution boxes of the Poppy Day volunteers on Friday May 23 will bring help to disabled war veterans throughout the coming year. The work which our American Legion Auxiliary is doing constantly for the disabled veterans is financed largely by the contributions made on Poppy Day. This work is all done by vol-

A garage is one important thing we really can't postpone!
but how'll we get the money?
with an INSTALOAN

It's the easy, low-cost home improvement loan that lets you repair, remodel or rebuild and take up to five full years to repay. There's no need to put off a necessary new room, new kitchen, bath or garage. And it's never wise to put off home improvements, like painting, that might become more expensive the longer they're postponed. You can borrow up to $3,500 at National Bank of Detroit to protect—or improve—your property. Ask your dealer-contractor about an Instaloan, or simply stop in any of NBD's 61 friendly offices. Either way insist on an Instaloan, exclusive with NBD.

Walled Lake To Feature Many Big Name Bands

The grand opening of the dancing season at Walled Lake Casino Ballroom takes place on Saturday, May 17, with Johnny Long and his orchestra.
There will be dancing on Saturday nights only through May 31. Beginning Friday, June 6, there will be dancing every Friday and Saturday.
This season's name band schedule is one of the most impressive in the ballroom's history including such popular groups as the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, directed by Warren Covington, Tex Beneke, Russ' Carlyle, the Glenn Miller Orchestra, directed by Ray McKinley, Richard Maltby, Pee Wee Hunt, Les Elgart, Woody Herman, Buddy Morrow, Sammy Kaye, the Jimmy Dorsey Orchestra, directed by Loe Castle, Les Brown and Ralph Marterie.
The Four Freshmen will be a vocal attraction.

Stop Polio Week Campaign Now on Township Board

Stop Polio Week, May 12 to May 17, got underway with the distribution of more than 600,000 leaflets to all of the school children in Wayne County, including those in Plymouth.

Cooperating in the crash program to warn adults to protect themselves, as well as every member of the families, against paralytic polio are members of the Wayne County Medical Society, all of the health departments and the school systems in the county as well as the March of Dimes.

During this week, everyone is urged to call the family physician and arrange to begin or to complete inoculations to prevent paralytic polio. Anyone who does not have a family doctor, may call the Medical Service Bureau of the Wayne County Medical Society, TE 1-3500.

A fee of $3 per injection has been suggested by the Medical Society to its members—this includes the cost of the vaccine.

"It is wise to give narrow-minded people a wide margin."

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis
BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean: I have been following your column for sometime now and decided I would like to know what my handwriting reveals. I seem to have trouble with friends. They like me I'm sure, because they always come back. But not very often. Am I a patient or impatient person? Would I be happy at marriage? What kind of talents have I, if any? W.T.K.

Dear W.T.K.: You need to develop more self-confidence. You are afraid of something. There is some jealousy also evident. You are a reasonably patient person who is loyal to what he thinks is right. You are quite emotionally responsive, letting others know how you feel by some action. You are not much of a talker and are reserved in your opinions. People would never feel they were reaching the real you. You are independent and stand alone.

As for your prospect of marriage, I cannot foretell the future because Grapho Analysis is not fortune telling. It is entirely up to you whether you work at marriage and make it a success.

Dear Jean: I have been reading your column since it started and have become very interested in Grapho Analysis. I have been married for 20 years and have 5 children who are now grown and left home. I am anxious to make use of my spare time but never thought of a job. Now, I have been offered a job as a receptionist, but I am afraid I would have a hard time getting into the routine again after so many years. Can you tell from my handwriting if I could handle an office again. (I was a secretary before I was married.) Thank you in advance.

Mrs. T.E.C.: Dear Mrs. T.E.C.: You definitely could handle an office. You have the power of concentration which is so necessary for success in an office where close attention to details and the ability to shut out outside distractions is essential. You have the ability to complete that which you begin and to execute someone else's instructions.

Dear Jean: I am a 17 year old high school girl and I have been working on my yearbook and newspaper for the past two years. I plan to go on to college and study journalism. Please tell me if my handwriting reveals any qualities or talents along those lines. Do you think I could do well in a job as a newspaper reporter? R.G.

Dear R.G.: Yes, I believe you could succeed in your proper training. You have a creative mind and some literary ability. However, you do not have an excessive amount of imagination so you would do well to plan your work with the more practical side instead of the area which would call for flowery imaginative description.

Dear Jean: This is a sample of my handwriting. Will you please analyze it. JANE L

Creative ability is very evident in your handwriting. You have a flair for simplicity and depth of color. You might manifest this in some form of art or music. You may be impelled to poetry.

You are a person who usually exercises good judgment, who is cool calm and collected at all times but whose emotions will seethe very rarely.

New Books At The Library

"The New England Story" by Henry Beetle Hough—Written with a force and clarity that marches it along at a magnificent pace and packed with excitement and suspense, this is the story of three generations of vigorous and vital people.

"Inside Russia Today" by John Gunther—The new Russia, with all its contradictions and fascinating complexities, brilliantly and comprehensively explored by one of the world's greatest reporters.

"Masters of Deceit" by J. Edgar Hoover—The director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation explains the startling facts about the major menace of our time—Communism, how it works, what its aims are, the real danger it poses, and what Americans can do to combat it.

"Why Go to Church?" by Truman B. Douglas—A frank inquiry directed at two classes of people—those who feel it is not smart to go to church and those nominal church attenders who are strangers to their own church.

"The Long Farewell" by Michael Innis—A mystery combining lively wit, original characters and an ingenious puzzle that confronts a London policeman when his old friend and scholar has supposedly committed suicide.

"Sawdust Empire" by Howard M. Bryer—The northwest of today, where progress is a visible thing and mountains, trees, stories and dreams are tall. The author deals with Washington and Oregon and their industry, cities, towns, rivers, dams, lumber, parks, produce, magnificent scenery, Indians, driftwood beaches, resorts, pioneer relics, etc.

"Satellite" by Erik Bergaust and William Beller—The story of the first step into the last frontier—the full facts about man's coming exploration of space.

"A Testament" by Frank Lloyd Wright—With wisdom and imaginative vitality, the famed architect illuminates the very issues of modern life that is fundamental to our existence.

New Column Begins In Sunshine Area

(Covering the neighborhoods bounded by Sutherland, Main Street, Ann Arbor Road, Sheldon Road.)

BY JANE MALEY
GL 3-4952

This is my first writing of this column so bear with me. I like to feel it is a very friendly and newsy section.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rudick of Simpson attended the funeral of Mr. Rudick's nephew in Manistee, Mich. They left on Friday and returned Sunday. The neighborhood extends its deepest sympathies.

Mrs. George Doi prepared a Japanese dinner at the home of Mrs. Eugene Jordan last week. This was especially for the committee working on the Japanese dinner at the First Methodist Church on May 15. Mrs. Doi instructed the members on the fine arts of cooking a dinner Japanese style. It sounds delicious and very exciting. I do hope the affair is a great success. All the workers deserve a lot of credit.

The Ray Forster's of Simpson have their hands full. "Dixie," the pet beagle, presented them with seven cute puppies about two weeks ago. It is quite a growing family.

The Russell Shade's of Ross gave their 15 year-old son, Larry, a surprise party Saturday evening. About 15 guests were present. The Daniel girls brought over their record player and dancing ensued. It was a grand party. These folks are newcomers from Walled Lake. Welcome to Plymouth! They left for Pottsville, Mich., Sunday morning and will visit with relatives while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Daniel of Ross celebrated their eighteenth wedding anniversary Wednesday, May 7th. Guests were the Richard Anderson's, the Martin Mitchell's, and the Walter Anderson's, all of Plymouth. Everyone enjoyed the pleasant evening.

Mrs. John Wiltse of Ross and her 18 month-old son will leave for Graz, Austria, on June 2 for Graz, Austria (located in the southern portion of the country) for about six weeks. They also are newcomers to the city and are very pleased and happy in our fine city. I understand Graz is the second largest city in Austria. Have a nice trip!

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Taylor of Ross took a drive recently and dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jaggie of Saginaw. They spent a cheerful afternoon together.

Ernest Heyder of Simpson is in Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Room 418B. I am certain he would appreciate a card from his many friends and neighbors. Best wishes for a speedy recovery. Mrs. Heyder's sister, Mrs. Raymond Pohle is visiting here from St. Louis, Mo. A sked how she liked Plymouth she replied, "Oh fine." That is what we like to hear.

Mrs. Alf Carlson on Hartsoff attended a Room Mother's Tea at Smith School. There was a good turnout, refreshments were excellent, and the table was very beautifully decorated.

Rosemary Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomas of Hartsoff, is in St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor for observation. We hope she returns home very soon.

Mrs. Norman Hagadorn of Simpson went into Detroit last week. Her brother underwent heart surgery at Harper Hospital. He is recovering satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. William Minard and family of Hartsoff celebrated Mother's Day by taking Mrs. Minard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Dean, of Royal Oak, out to dinner.

A group of neighbors on Hartsoff gave a buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Norton. This was a going-away party for Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Baker who will be moving to Arkansas. The Baker's spent last Saturday at Michigan State with their son, Dennis. It was open house for parents. We are sorry to have them leave the neighborhood. Good luck to them in the new future.

Mrs. James Mitchell of Hartsoff has returned home after visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Perry Boring of Latrobe, Pa. Now all the talk for many weeks to come will be about that new grandchild.

Yours truly would appreciate any help in the writing of this column. Call me any time you have any interesting items that I may use. Most people feel that they lead very dull lives in this area, but I beg to differ with them. So far it has been fun. See you in the Plymouth Mail.

I have talked to so many nice people getting my news items. This is certainly a very friendly neighborhood. I am glad to be a small part of it. Everyone is so obliging, that it is truly the "Sunshine Area."

The United States Military Academy was founded in 1802.

Mark A. Carroll

Marine Pvt. Mark A. Carroll, son of Mrs. Ora L. Carroll of 444 Plymouth road, is scheduled to finish four weeks of individual combat training May 2 at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The course includes the latest infantry tactics, first aid, demolitions, field fortifications and advanced schooling on weapons.

Calvin D. St. Clair
Ross A. Fraser

Marines Pfc. Calvin D. St. Clair, son of Mr. and Mrs. David St. Clair of 187 Adams st., and Cpl. Ross A. Fraser, son of Mrs. Lorraine Sattler of 267 Blanche took part in the 1st Marine Division's "Operation Drybeach," a full-scale air-ground exercise held April 21, at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The reservation was assumed to be a segment of a friendly nation that had been occupied by enemy forces. The aggressor forces did not follow a script of pre-determined troop movements, thereby affording a more realistic challenge to the attacking elements.

All Division units, as well as the 3rd Marine Air Wing from El Toro, Calif., took part in the maneuver. Both friendly and enemy forces theoretically possessed atomic weapons.

Donald E. Tanner

Donald E. Tanner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady T. Tanner of 5150 Ford rd., Plymouth, graduated from recruit training May 3 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

Green Meadows Wishes Swift Recovery for Mrs. Wilczewski

(Covering the area bounded by Ann Arbor Road, Lilley, Joy, Sheldon)

By MRS. ALVIN STACE
GL 3-1929

Hello, friends and neighbors. I am your new reporter for this section as stated above. If I ring your phone in the weeks to come, I hope you will cooperate in making this column a success.

We are sorry to report that we have Mrs. Walter Wilczewski of Corrine St. on our sick list. She is confined to Henry Ford Hospital. She underwent major surgery May 5 and the hope report is improving. We last report it won't be too long before she is back home again. Her room number is 402 section 5. Why not drop a card or letter?

Also on the sick list is Sharon Calhoun, eleven month old twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Calhoun, of Oakview. She has the measles. Let's give several big cheers for Kenny Calhoun. He attends college at Eastern University of Illinois. Their baseball team is to meet the Eastern Michigan Ypsilanti. Kenny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Calhoun of Corrine. He is expected to spend Mothers Day with his family. They also have Mrs. Calhoun's mother, Mrs. Lee of Union City, Tenn. visiting with them.

Luncheon guests in the home of Mrs. Leslie Hoelt, were a sister-in-law, Mrs. Russell Wilson and her friend Mrs. Birkhart and twin daughters of Bridgewater, Mich. Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hoelt and family, also attended Open House in honor of Mr. Hoelt's niece, Christine Hoelt of Belleville, the occasion being Christine's first Holy Communion.

Mrs. Mattie Lee Cleek of Union City, Tenn. is visiting in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grady of Corrine.

Sandra VanBuren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray VanBuren of Marlowe, celebrated her seventh birthday, with a birthday dinner for the family and relatives.

Deep sympathy goes out to the Moore family of Oakview in the recent bereavement of Mr. Moore's mother. There were several proud mothers on Mother's Day, because they were sporting corsages made by their Cub Scout sons, of Den 8, Pack 6. Their den mother is Mrs. Ray VanBuren. Thanks, Cubs.

Parents of the Gallimore school district who have children of Kindergarten age should mark Wednesday, May 21, on their calendars as registration day for the fall class of 1958.

The school also is in the process of giving fluoride treatments to the Kindergarten, second and fifth grade students.

The Fifth grade class put on a fine performance at their annual Band Concert, last week under the direction of Wayne Dunlap.

We are proud to report that our son, Jerry Stace, former employee of the F. A. M. O. S. Men's Store, is now a private in the U.S. Army, stationed at Fort Hood, Texas. In his letters home he states that he is being kept very busy. Nevertheless his barracks found time to put their platoon in tip top shape and they won the award of being in first place, at inspection time. This gave them a free weekend. Jerry would enjoy hearing from any of his friends. His address is: Pvt. Gerald E. Stace U.S. 5563713 ABtry, 1st How. Bn., 14th Arty. 2nd. Armored Div. Fort Hood, Texas.

Sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whitson in their recent bereavement of their infant daughter, Mr. Whitson is the owner of the Ashland Service Station on the corner of Ann Arbor Rd. and Ball st.

Delinquency Not Solved by Armed Service Training

Sending juvenile delinquents into the armed forces is not the way to reform them, says a man who has been a police and air force officer for nearly 40 years.

"National security is the mission of the armed forces, not the reforming of young hoodlums," declared Prof. William A. Wiltberger, currently a distinguished visiting professor in the school of Police Administration and Public Safety at Michigan State University.

Prof. Wiltberger, who retired this year from the U.S. Air Force as a lieutenant colonel after serving during three wars, believes "the military offers the opportunity for good recruits to improve themselves, for their own good and that of the nation."

But the service will not knowingly accept recruits who enlist to escape legal difficulties, the veteran officer said, "because they haven't the time or equipment to handle society's problems."

Many such offenders quickly get themselves into trouble in the service and "wind up in the guardhouse facing court martial," he added.

Prof. Wiltberger, who has served as chief of police in Evanston, Ill., director of public safety in St. Petersburg, Fla., and director of the San Jose State College police school, says "the sort of self-discipline which creates a good soldier will also create a good citizen."

But this means a working together of all parts of society—the family, schools, churches—and law enforcement agencies—to teach young people that there is a discipline of life and society that we must all conform to."

Power Mowers Require Good Care

Here Are Helpful Hints

Photography

Reducing haze in scenes that are to be photographed with color or black-and-white film is done effectively with filters.

For example, distant haze familiar with mountainous scenes can be a problem when photographing with black-and-white film. The haze is impossible to penetrate, particularly on hot afternoons. However, with the aid of a G (dark yellow) filter it can be done.

Many photographers, amateurs as well as professional, use a K2 yellow filter to eliminate haze. But the G filter may offer slightly more efficiency, and better contrast.

During World War II, the photographic division of the air force used filters to great advantage while photographing enemy installations and positions with fast color film. There is a distinct difference in the use of filters to eliminate haze when photographing with color and black-and-white.

After the war, when information on fast color film and the use of filters was made available, professional photographers applied air force photography techniques to everyday practice. The filter with color film to penetrate far-away scenes on hazy days is the sky blue filter.

The advantage of using the sky blue haze filter with color film is that a photographer is not required to take a longer exposure of a scene. This is the exact opposite technique when using the G or K2 filter with black-and-white film; a long exposure is necessary to create contrast.

For those photographers just beginning to use filters, it is recommended that they always read the slip of instructions that comes with the roll of film or package of cut film. These instructions provide all the factors necessary in the use of filters.

One word of advice is that all photographers should always check themselves before exposing the film. Over-exposure can be just as fatal to photographs as can be under-exposure. However, it is better to see a photograph slightly under-exposed than over-exposed. An under-exposed negative will maintain better contrast.

When filters are to be purchased, it is better to bring the camera to the camera shop so the right filter can be fitted to the lens. Filters come in all sizes, and it's possible to buy the right size without the use of adapter rings.

HIGH MOWING

No matter how high or low the grass has been cut this spring, it's time now to set the mower to cut the grass high. If, each time it is mowed during the next three months, the grass is left no shorter than 2½ inches, then the lawn will be thicker and greener. A height of 3 inches won't look ragged and would be even better. Cutting lawn grass to a height of 2 or 3 inches all summer discourages the appearance of crabgrass, for the grass will be tall enough to shade this sun-loving weed. Lawns that are mowed to 1½ or ¾ inches tall will burn out in a hot summer. They're certain to be invaded by crabgrass as well as other weeds.

Painless Disappearance

"Leaves three, let it be, leaves five let it thrive" is the old rhyme identifying poison ivy (three leaves) and Virginia creeper or woodbine (five leaves). The three-leaved poison ivy now has green leaves spreading over the ground or climbing tree trunks. They are just the right size to absorb a weed-killer spray which will cause death of the plant. Choose a sunny day on which to mix one of the weedkillers with water according to directions on the package, and spray to cover leaves thoroughly until they drip. If any green leaves are still to be seen three weeks later, spray again on a sunny day.

GRASS CUTTINGS AND DIRT must be scraped off mower bottom. Keep blade sharp for clean mowing.

GREASING wheel axles on power mower a few times a season assures easy rolling and less pushing.

Every homeowner has mowed the lawn at least twice during the past few weeks, and some in the warmer climates consider this chore a bi-monthly activity.

No matter how good the intentions are, no lawn will ever be cut properly unless the mower, power or hand, is in tip top condition. Too many times, homeowners store the lawn mower for the winter without conditioning it. Then, after it's taken out for spring use, the lawn is cut poorly and inefficiently.

Because the cost of a lawn mower warrants good maintenance, homeowners should see that it is done each year. For example, the cutting part of a mower — whether it's a rotary, reel or oscillating teeth — demands frequent inspection several times a season.

Often, the cutting edge of a mower becomes gouged or bent from striking stones in the lawn. On rotary power mowers, such a condition can set the machine off-balance and cause uneven lawn cutting. A dull blade will rip and tear blades of grass, and cause unsightly patches throughout a lawn.

Mower shafts also require close inspection. On the standard, horizontal type cutter (sometimes known as the drum or

Cruet Set Returns to Favor

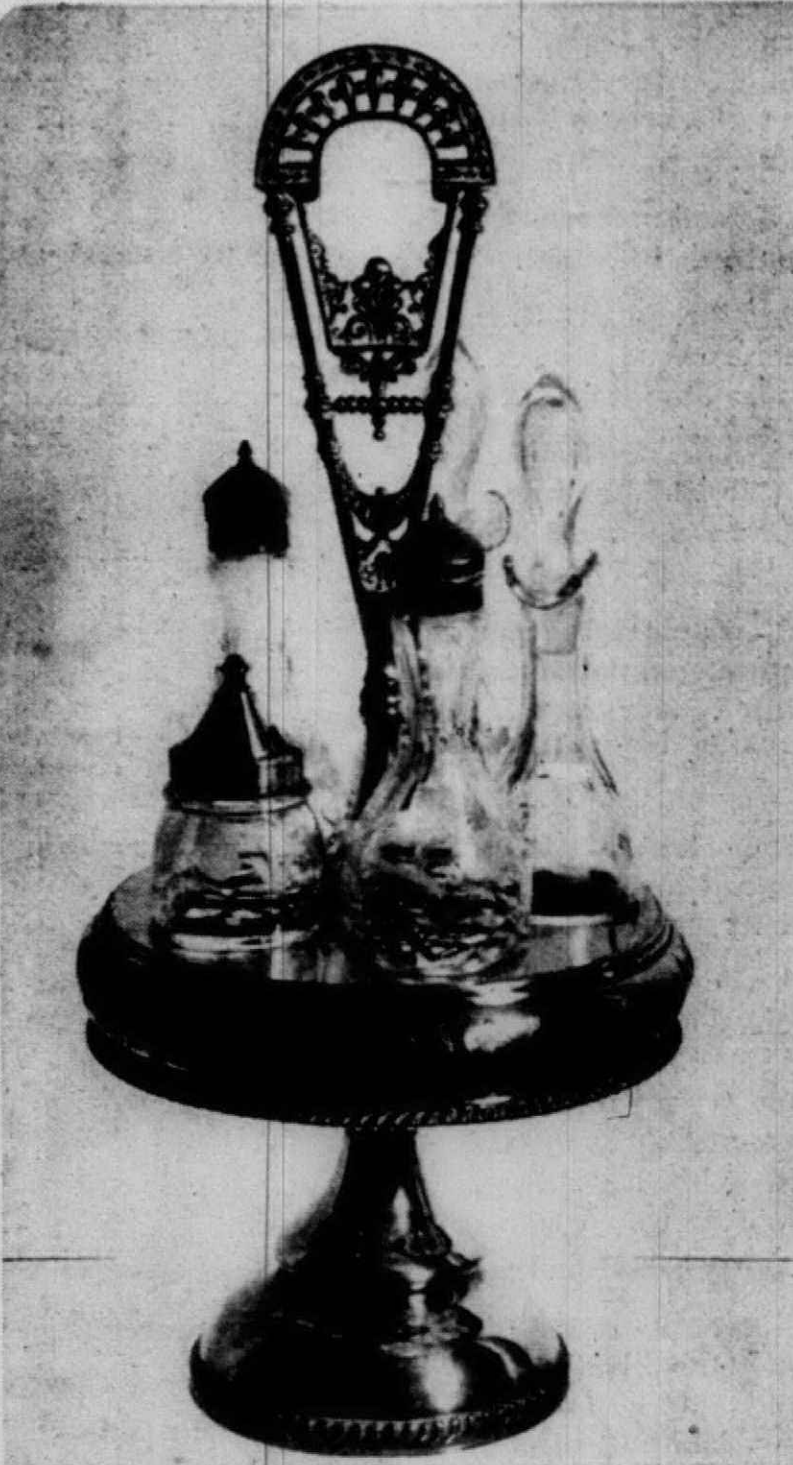

The last twenty-five years have seen a decline in the caster or cruet set, which was a standard piece of dining room equipment at the turn of the century. Its return is almost dictated by the current popularity of gourmet cookery and mixing salads at the table. Lucky then is the person who has one gathering dust in the cupboard.

The dusty caster is almost certain to lack some glass vials, known as cruets. That means a search of antique shops, rooting about at auctions and questioning friends to obtain the cruets needed for a complete stand. The owner of the caster pictured procured the two missing cruets from a friend who lacked the stand.

Caster is the name generally used for the stand which holds a set of cruets. A caster is footed and has a slender handle extending higher than the cruets so it can be picked up and passed from one person to another. The cruets are small glass containers made to fit in holes in the caster to prevent jiggling.

The caster pictured is plated silver. The cruets with which it is fitted are glass. Two of the cruets are stoppered bottles to hold vinegar and oil. The two silver tops are for salt and pepper and the small squat one with silver top is for hold mustard.

Casters were made of various materials. Probably the plated silver ones, so popular from about 1860s to 1900, are easiest to find nowadays. Silver ones were not unusual in their heyday and it might even be possible to find one of Sheffield plate or pewter.

28th Annual Observance - May 19 - 24

Thousands of retail stores throughout the country will tip their hats to King Cotton during National Cotton Week, May 19-24.

The 28th Annual Cotton Week celebration will serve as a showcase for new summer styles for the entire family and home. Its theme will be "It's Cotton Time - U.S.A."

The first National Cotton Week was held in June, 1931, and since 1939 the observance has been sponsored by the National Cotton Council, the central organization of the raw cotton industry.

The 1958 Cotton Week observance will feature up-to-the-minute designs in high fashion and casual wear. In the spotlight also will be cotton's new qualities which chemical finishes and new treatments have given it, such as wash-and-wear, wrinkle-resistance and soil-resistance.

In the last ten years cottons have come out of the kitchen and made of fashion news. They've become so fashionable that they are likely to be worn all through the year and they are more indispensable than ever for summer.

Chief recommendation for wearing cotton on all occasions during hot weather is the ease with which it can be cared for. Cottons can always be washed, even if modern ones don't always look quite like the old-fashioned gingham, organdies, madras, and other familiar names. It's what to do with these modern cottons after they are washed that may be puzzling.

To a greater extent than in any other year, this summer's crop of cottons, both ready-made and by the yard, will have been chemically treated for wrinkle-resistance and minimum-care properties. This chemical finish is durable to laundering and ironing, when it is needed, is much easier than it used to be. To care for these new chem-

NEW SHAPE — Highlighting the season's new shape is this chemise dress and coat by Lemperier of Paris in a bright cotton fabric. Its straight, simple lines show off the bold floral print.

FROM THE PAST — A vibrant and shapely reminder of the 20's is this Supima cotton chemise by Anne Klein. The glowing Everfast fabric shows off the extra silkiness and luster of the new American grown long staple cotton.

ically treated cottons, shoppers are advised to note and follow any special instructions on the manufacturer's tag. Unless otherwise stated, all of them may be washed safely in warm water and mild soap. Chlorine-type bleaches should be avoided and the fabric should not be wrung out or twisted severely.

The first of the modern cottons were the ones tagged wrinkle resistant. Fabrics chemically treated to this end mull and soil less easily and stay fresh looking longer. Incidentally, the treatment for wrinkle resistance is said to control shrinkage.

Other advances are cottons tagged "wash and wear," "no iron, "drip dry," and "minimum care." These terms refer to the ability of the fabric to dry smooth enough after laundering so that it needs little or no ironing. Whether or not these minimum-care cottons are ironed depends on several factors — the type and quality of the finish, the construction and pattern of the fabric, the way the garment is made, the fastidiousness of the wearer, and how the garment is washed and dried. There need be no fear of losing the finish of the fabric by laundering, for the treatment has penetrated the fibers. It is the handling after the garment is taken from the water that maintains its beauty.

In general, the need for ironing is less with fabrics made from soft yarns, not tightly woven, because creases do not become so deeply set. It is also less when the cotton has woven or printed color patterns which help to obscure minor surface irregularities.

Series of Nutrition Articles Opens With Budgeting

(Editors Note: This is the first in a series of six articles prepared for the Plymouth Mail by the Diet Therapy Section of the Michigan Dietetic Association on the various aspects of nutrition.)

By Mrs. Gladys Chalmers
Director Red Cross Nutrition Services, Detroit

There are ways and ways to cut corners in the family budget. We can patch and mend clothing to make it last longer; we can give home permanents and try our hand at hair-cutting; we can turn off lights and keep the house temperature regulated; we can keep a careful watch on money spent for recreation,—but the poorest place to economize is in the food budget. That is a place in the budget where we must put first things first and then,—after we have planned enough money for a good foundation for an adequate diet for each and every member of the family group,—we can afford to be economical.

That last statement "spending enough money that one can afford to be economical" may sound illogical, but when one thinks in terms of spending enough money for food that will grow healthy young bodies and keep parents in good condition to do their jobs, it begins to sound more sensible. Good food will not do the whole job of providing good health, but it certainly is one of the keystones of good health.

When we are considering what foods should go into this daily foundation planning, we find the following food groups are an excellent starter.

MILK GROUP: Fluid, powdered, or evaporated.
Children
3 to 4 cup per day
Teenagers
4 or more cups

Adults
2 or more cups
Pregnant women
4 or more cups
Nursing mothers
6 or more cups

Cheese and ice cream can replace part of the milk.

MEAT GROUP:
2 or more servings of Beef, veal, pork, lamb, poultry, fish, eggs, with dry beans and peas as alternates.

VEGETABLE-FRUIT GROUP:
4 or more servings, including dark green or yellow vegetables, citrus fruit or tomatoes and other vegetables and fruits including potatoes.

BREAD-CEREALS GROUP:
4 or more servings.

The first step to take in wise food buying is to make a plan,—preferably for a week. Two of our local newspapers have a weekly column in the Women's Pages on Thursday evening and Friday morning which give dinner menu suggestions and advises on the best food buys for the week. Too, by dialing Tr. 3-0151, one gets meal planning suggestions that use the economy buys of the week and give ideas which start the ball rolling on this job.

One Detroit woman made a study of the time and money spent by shopping on a day to day basis with no previous planning before entering the store, and weekly shopping with menus planned. She found that there was a considerable money savings and a time savings of eight hours a week.

Maybe eight hours a week would not matter to some people, but that is a whole working day which perhaps could be used for some other activity which would help the family finances even more. Also, if one has a definite plan in mind when entering the store, it is much easier to withstand highly promoted foods which might not be any special bargain.

Another factor in economy in food buying which is related to time as well as money, is the amount of preparation required to make the food ready for the table. The homemaker who is working full-time as a homemaker will find that cereal which needs to be cooked and therefore requires a little more time, costs considerably less per serving than ready-to-serve cereal.

One of the reasons that meat is part of the basic plan is because of the protein contribution that it makes. This is found in the lean parts of the meat which fact should serve as a reminder that bone, fat, and gristle are no bargains. Meats requiring more time in preparation are just as tasty and the cost is considerably less so that here again, the full time homemaker has the advantage. Liver, which should make its appearance on the family table once a week, does the same job nutritionally whether it costs 40c a pound or $1.40 per pound. Evaporated and powdered milk can be used interchangeably with fluid milk and will help to cut corners. The food values of fresh, frozen, and canned vegetables, fruits, and fruit juices are so nearly the same that we can let the contents of our purse help us with our choices again.

One last comment in regard to economies in food buying. The store where one buys food almost always sells other products which are not edible. We really should pause in our reflections over the amount of the cashier's tape and realize that sometimes as much as 25% of the money spent is for items other than food. Let us be very practical and be sure that an adequate amount is being used for food which is a very sound investment in terms of healthy families.

Arbitration

Nothing is more frustrating in this automotive land than to sit on the sidelines and wonder what really is happening at the bargaining table between Big Management and Big Labor.

They're attempting to put together a contract which, when signed, almost certainly will restore stability to our local economy and return the "consumer confidence" which is being urged by so many lips.

It is the nature of the negotiations, however, that the spectators are left outside the doors and receive their "information" only in the form of infrequent propaganda bulletins issued as press release by one side and the other.

Hence, it is impossible this week to really know and understand the details and the background of the UAW's request that the contract be submitted to formal arbitration.

In its traditional form, arbitration would mean calling in a set of "umpires" to review the facts, hand down a decision, and the bargainers would be bound to accept it.

From the nibbles of news received heretofore, it would appear that the UAW and the Manufacturers are at odds over statistics. Ford says certain demands would add $300 to the price of a car; the UAW says this is fantastic, that the same demands would add nothing to the price of a car.

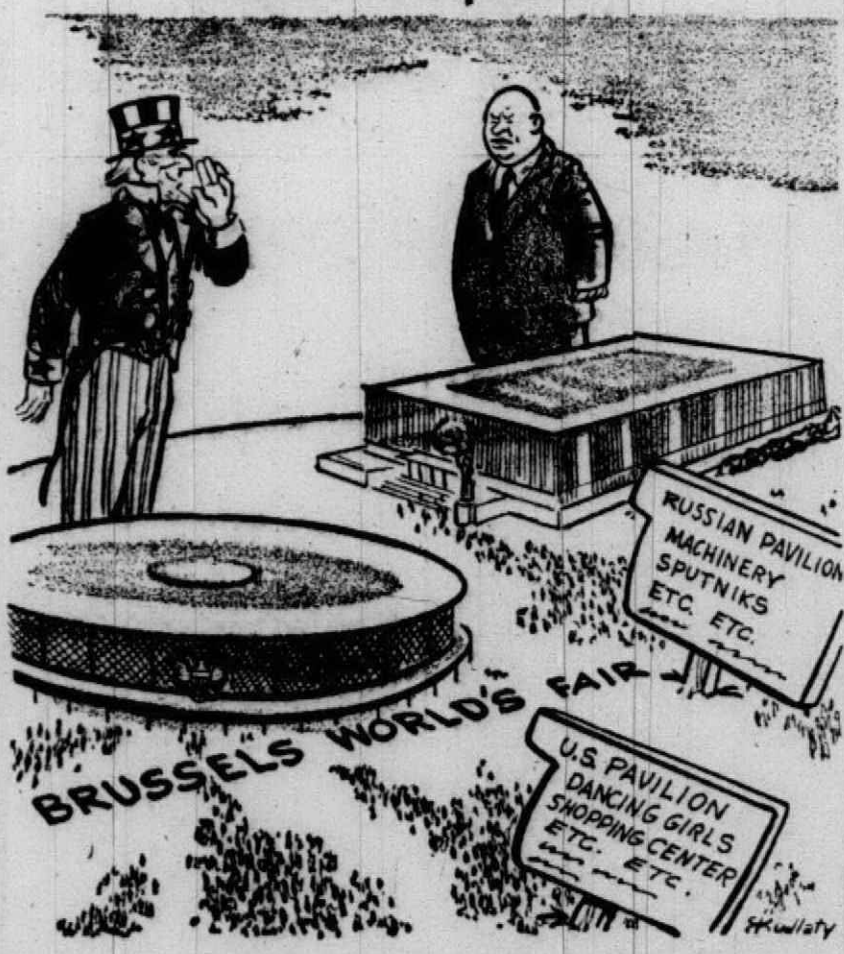

The differences are those of interpretation. One big twilight area is that of measuring increased worker "productivity." If an employee increases his output more, per hour, than his wage increase would total, then obviously the wage increase won't hurt anybody. But no two sets of CIO and Management statisticians have been able yet to come even close to agreement on a "productivity" analysis.

Such analyses, it seems to us, fall into an area that is an excellent one for "arbitrators" to cover. If the contract talks are deadlocked simply because the opponents won't accept the other's figures, then a "neutral" set of figures is the answer.

The manufacturers quickly rejected the UAW's request for "arbitration." Again, their reasons were not fully stated, and we spectators must wonder if the whole maneuver is UAW propaganda aimed at stirring public opinion. We can't possibly know, because we haven't had any chance yet to learn what actually has happened at the bargaining table; what points are the sticky ones there.

If, however, the stumbling blocks mainly are statistical, concentrated on the matter of "productivity," we can see no excuse whatever for the Automotive Manufacturers summarily rejecting arbitration.

"Who's a Square?"

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON

OLDER PEOPLE WHO want to supplement their income should consider going into business for themselves. By starting your own business you will avoid the disheartening age bias so prevalent today when folks pass 40 go out to seek employment. Here's how two New York women past 40 have established a small business of their own:

A few years ago Mrs. Dorothy Stevens noticed that her six year old daughter Trixie liked to lie on the floor as she watched TV — propping up her head with her hands. In order to protect the little girl from dust and drafts Mrs. Stevens made a soft plush bag into which the little girl could climb when she watched TV. It was in the shape of a tiger and the padded head, decorated with ears, eyes, whiskers, and a fierce expression, served as a pillow.

Trixie loved this "jungle rug" as she called it, and all kinds of play developed around it. It was good for many things such as sleeping in the back seat of the car, helping pretend you were a wild animal, and making afternoon naps more exciting.

A friend, Mrs. Ione Sutton, dropped by one day and was fascinated by the rug. She'd never seen anything like it, and suggested that they go into business making jungle rugs. Both women were a bit dumbfounded at the thought, but they decided to give it a try. At first their families and friends humored them, thinking this was just a brainstorm which would pass. But the women were serious. They made a sample rug which they took to several stores and were astonished to find that buyers were actually interested — provided the rugs could be supplied in quantity and at a suitable price. Convinced that they had a tiger by the tail, the women got their rug patented and began scouting around for someone to manufacture the rugs.

"We were real babes in the woods," says Mrs. Sutton. "We knew absolutely nothing about suppliers and manufacturers but we finally found a small firm interested in working with a couple of hobbying housewives and got into production. The rugs made of plush in the form of a tiger retailed that first year for $29.95. But during this past year we've developed a wider, lower-priced line. We now make a tiger and a leopard in plush, which sells for $23, and also a cheaper version of these beasts in corduroy — and a duck in terry cloth — which sells for $12.95."

"It's very satisfying having a business like this," says Mrs. Stevens whose home serves as jungle rug headquarters. "We still run our households but we thoroughly enjoy taking off a few hours each day to supervise manufacturing, handle correspondence and deliveries, and make the rounds of buying offices. Last year we sold over 3,000 rugs!"

What chances did they think others might have of starting a home business such as this? "I believe," says Mrs. Stevens, "that the possibilities are unlimited. But your product must be unique, practical, and well-made. Also, it should sell for less than $20. Then, provided you've got a whale of a lot of enthusiasm and patience, you've got a good chance of being successful."

YOU MAY HAVE TO SPIN your brain a good bit before hitting on a suitable idea. But if you're lucky in devising and launching a successful small business you'll doubtless find the rewards most gratifying.

'Economy' Howling Diminishing

Government economy has lost a few skirmishes but has won a major battle in Michigan.

When the dust cleared following the 1958 legislative session which stuck to reduced spending programs, the lawmakers who hold the pursestrings seemed to have come out on top.

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, was the first to announce revised plans for operation.

He made it clear that the more than $1,000,000 cut from the 1957-58 budget crimped programs at the university; that the going would be tougher next year. He also showed continued concern over inability to prepare properly for increased student loads expected in the near future.

"But we still can operate a good university without major damage to our programs," he said.

More agreement came from Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, whose budget cuts hurt his agency as much or more than they did some others.

Even program as small ($10,000) but important as the fight against "swimmer's itch" were abolished.

Dr. Heustis called for all people to reconsider the impact on the taxpayer before complaining about less money to spend in state government. "We should all do some soul-searching before throwing up our hands," he said.

Heustis' statements are important. He is an appointee of Gov. Williams, who has argued for years that the state should expand its services and levy taxes to finance them.

Gov. Williams' reasons for trying for his sixth consecutive term as chief executive made more news than the announcement of his candidacy. No one was surprised when he said he would run. Anyone who didn't know it just hasn't been paying attention.

Two years ago, Williams broke his traditional long silence to announce he would go for his fifth term "to finish the job." Now, pointing directly at Republican budget cuts, Williams said he wants a sixth term to prevent "Republicans from making a shambles" of state government.

Republicans, in a needling mood, said the line suggested Williams believes he has already "finished the job." Now he wants to protect the result, they say, which is the "shambles" and the unbalanced budget.

Republicans, sharpening their weapons for the campaign ahead, retorted Michigan is broke and is running a deficit after 10 years of Williams' regime.

They criticized the governor's nationwide trips, his 10-day absence following the 1958 session and threatened to make the "governor's symbol: the empty chair" a campaign issue.

Investigators sent by the House to check on reports of mistreatment of mental hospital patients pulled a surprise nighttime visit at Northville State Hospital. They found a 50-bed unit had been idle for months. Hospital authorities said they lacked money to staff the unit.

Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) said the other major mental hospitals in the state would get surprise visits. "We don't want them to doll the place up just for us," he said.

If Your Name Is 'ETHEL'

"Ethel," put into modern English, means "noble," and it is of Anglo-Saxon origin. As a first name, "Ethel" by itself was not used earlier than the last century. It became popular as a petname for some long and cumbersome old names, such as "Etheldred," meaning "noble strength," "Ethelburga," which is "noble fortress," "Ethelinda," "noble serpent," and a few others. Anglo-Saxon names, just as other ancient Germanic appellations, were mostly made up from two words. Some of these always went to the beginning of a name, and "Ethel" in its ancient form "aethel," was one of these.

Two writers had their share in making the short form "Ethel" attractive to parents. One of them was Charlotte M. Yonge, with her book "The Daisy Chain," published in 1856. The more important novel with a heroine called "Ethel" was W. M. Thackeray's "The Newcomes." It began to appear in serialized form in 1853, and held its readers entranced until it was finished in 1855. Thackeray's daughter, Mrs. Anne Thackeray Ritchie, told how her father, walking up and down in his room, tried to make up his mind what his heroine's name should be.

We know that he picked for her "Ethel," and Mrs. Ritchie anticipated that he, by doing so, launched the name on a successful career. "I wonder," she wrote, "how many thousands of Ethels were christened by him, and how many have Miss Yonge for a godmother."

What sort of girl was the Ethel Thackeray had created? The daughter of a wealthy English banker, and a mother so scatterbrained that she changed Ethel's governesses all the time. With the result that Ethel lacked the usual accomplishments of a young lady of her social standing.

Thanks mainly to this "Ethel," the name became highly fashionable toward the close of the last century. Today's most famous Ethel is the grand old lady of stage and screen, a daughter of the famous Barrymore clan, Ethel Barrymore.

in home after home after home...

there's always plenty of hot water

the new electric water heater way

In home after home there's a new electric water heater. And the families in these homes enjoy all the hot water they want.

You can be confident that an electric water heater, plus Edison's new Super Supply Plan, will provide round-the-clock hot water for all your family's needs, too. Then you can plan your day more efficiently—do the laundry, wash dishes, schedule showers when you want to.

Here's the convenient, modern way to GET IT HOT... GET A LOT for an operating cost as low as $3.88 per month.

Only electric water heaters give you all these important advantages:

- Efficient—the heat goes into the water
- Fast—new, more efficient heating units
- Install anywhere—need not be near a chimney
- Long life—meet Edison's rigid standards
- Automatic—all the time
- Outer shell—cool to the touch all over
- Edison maintains electrical parts without charge
- Safe—clean—quiet—modern

Catholic Charities Week to Begin Sunday in Detroit
Catholic Charities Week, being observed for the first time in the Archdiocese of Detroit, begins on Sunday, May 18.
The Council of Catholic Social Agencies will coordinate the activities which are planned to explain the social mission of the Catholic church, and its obligations as they relate to the overall welfare of the community. The 30 organizations comprising the council, many of which are participating agencies in the Greater Detroit United Foundation, are located in the counties of Wayne, St. Clair, Macomb, Lapeer, Oakland, Washtenaw and Monroe.
With the theme "and thy neighbor as thyself" as a backdrop, events of the week will include spiritual exercises, a charities dinner and various interpretive tours and open house programs at the social agencies.
The charities dinner, a highlight of the week, will take place on Tuesday, May 20 at 7 p.m. in the main ballroom of the Veteran's Memorial building. At that time an estimated audience of more than 500 people will hear remarks by Edward Cardinal Mooney, Archbishop of Detroit. In addition, a unique presentation will be given to show the accomplishments of Catholic social agencies during the past year.
A Triduum, a three day religious service, will be conducted for those engaged in the activities of the various social agencies. This will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 8 p.m. The culmination of the week's spiritual events will be the celebration of a Solemn Pontifical Mass on Saturday morning at 10:30 a.m. The Triduum and the Mass, which will take place at Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, will be open to the public.

Adventists' New Pastor to Speak
Pastor Clarence Long of the Cadillac Seventh-day Adventist church will be guest speaker in Plymouth, at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.
The present pastor Merton Henry will introduce Long to the members of the Plymouth church, of which he will soon take over the pastorate. Henry will be moving to Cadillac shortly. During the four years that Henry has had charge of the Plymouth and Belleville churches he has had the pleasure of helping to erect a new church in both cities, and it will be with regret that he will leave the members of these congregations and the host of friends he has made during his residence here.
The Plymouth church is located at 41233 E. Ann Arbor Trail. A cordial welcome is extended to all.
The change in the hour of the service will be for this week only.

Ladies' Night Scheduled At Presbyterian Church
The Men's Brotherhood will hold their annual ladies' night on Wednesday, May 21. All men and their wives are invited, with dinner being served at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $3.75 per couple. Please call Blaise Delaney, GL 3-7080, or Hyrthol DeMeritt, GL 3-0633, for reservations.

Senior Biographies: Wilhelmina Rucker is a tall blonde who was born in Plymouth in 1885. "Willo", her favorite nickname, is a member of the Leaders Club, Glee Club, Plythean staff, and Girl Reserves. "Cintche", another of her nicknames, is also very active in class sports such as soccer, volleyball, basketball and tennis. It is well known that her ambition is to be a gym teacher. She claims to be very interested in swimming and spends much time at a certain cottage each summer on Lake Huron. Could it be Harold or Henry, please, Willo, tell us.

Albert Miller of Irving street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller has joined Uncle Sam's navy and is now stationed at Great Lakes. Bet "Pete" will make a good one.

(A good laugh is sunshine in a house.)
We forgot to mention in last week's column what a wonderful turnout we had at the Mother and Daughter banquet. Several of the members were disappointed in not getting tickets and the committee was sorry they could not oblige.
The auxiliary purchased a flag for a cub scout group at Bird school which will be presented later.
The 4th District rally held at the hall Sunday, May 4, was well attended by close to 150 members. It was the last meeting for Virginia Bartel as president, but she was elected as treasurer for the coming year. Loretta Young was appointed assistant conductress. Virginia was presented with a gavel wrapped with money and the following poem, written by Helen Bowring was read:
"This gift, dear Virginia, we present to you.
You will find it pretty and useful too.
Out on inspection nite after nite you said,
With Mark, Edward, and Harry all tucked in their beds.
Up early next morning to see Harry off to his work,
And care for home duties you must not shirk.
With your work on cancer and one thing and another,

you still found time to become a Den Mother.
Now your year as 4th District President comes to a close. With much less need for travel we hope you will accept and keep this pretty little gavel.
We had four visitors from Garden City at our last meeting and they commented on how well our meetings were conducted.
Watch for news of our anniversary party which will be in June.

WHO SAID
you can't get insurance?
People with certain physical impairments very often can obtain the protection of life insurance. Why not investigate?

The beautiful Delray 2-Door Sedan, one of three budget-priced Delray models.

Chevrolet's dollar-stretching DELRAY
YOU JUST CAN'T TIE THIS BUY ANYWHERE!

Here's surefire proof Chevrolet always knows how to give you more for your money—from longer, newer, lovelier bodies to a wider range of engines, transmissions and suspension systems. The more you look the more you'll find to like in Delray—THE LOWEST PRICED OF ALL THE LOW-PRICED CHEVROLETS!

Chevy doesn't have any "smaller" models. The big, beautiful Chevrolet Delray is just as long, just as wide, just as softly sprung on the same 117-inch wheelbase as the luxurious Bel Air models. Like every other Chevrolet, it has the extra solidity and quality of Body by Fisher. There's no stinting on optional equipment, either. You can get anything from Fuel Injection* to Level Air* ride, any Chevrolet transmission, any Chevrolet engine, just as you choose. Take a long, long look at this one next time you drop in at your Chevrolet dealership—because the more you demand for your money the surer it is you'll decide you can't tie this Delray buy anywhere! *Optional at extra cost.

They're Full-Size Chevies
No skimping in seat width, legroom, wheelbase—Delray gives you every generous dimension offered by any Chevrolet!

A COMPLETE CHOICE OF ENGINES
You can order a Delray with Chevy's top Fuel Injection V8 if you like—or get any one of the five V8's or the Blue-Flame Six!
