

Program To Pay Tribute To War Dead

Memorial Day — a day set aside to remember those who died in war so that others may live in peace — will be observed in Plymouth Friday morning with several ceremonies, including a parade that will move down Main St. starting at 10 o'clock.

Marchers will form at 9 a.m. at Amelia and Main Streets and at 9:30 will move to the Plymouth Rd. bridge over the Rouge River. There the Navy Mothers will lead a short ceremony in tribute to the Navy dead.

On the return trip, additional groups will join the parade at Amelia Street and will continue to Kellogg Park, scene of the annual Memorial Day program.

This year's parade will be led by the 9623rd Plymouth Air Reserve Squadron, Flight A.

Mayor Harold Guenther will be master of ceremonies for the program held under the trees of Kellogg Park, facing Plymouth Rock.

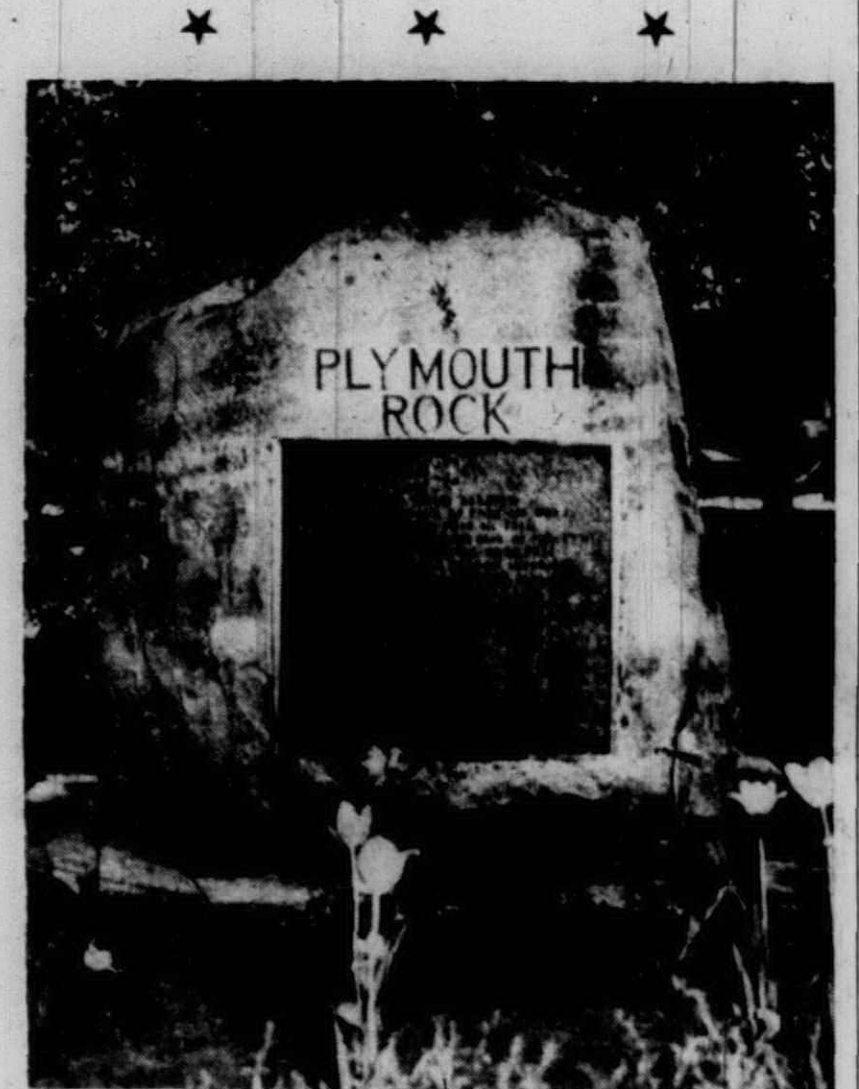

The speaker will be Paul Chandler, publisher of The Plymouth Mail. A native of Saulte Ste. Marie, Michigan, Chandler came to Plymouth in 1956 as part owner of The Mail. He has been a writer for the Associated Press and the Detroit News, as well as being featured on several sports television shows.

During World War II, the speaker was a Naval officer, winning a Bronze Star while aboard an aircraft carrier.

Also on the program will be a re-dedication of a plaque on Plymouth Rock listing those who died in the two World Wars.

Dick Hubert, high school student, will recite the poem, "In Flanders Field". Organization heads will also be introduced.

William J. Norman of the Veterans of Foreign Wars is parade marshal, assisted by Don Kinghorn of the American Legion.

PLYMOUTH ROCK located in Kellogg Park has a little different purpose than the Plymouth Rock in Massachusetts — but both symbolize the sacrifice of a few in quest for freedom. The local rock contains names of men who died in the World Wars. The plaque will be re-dedicated Memorial Day.

To Re-dedicate 'Rock' Plaque

One of the ceremonies taking place Memorial Day will be re-dedication of the plaque imbedded in Kellogg Park's Plymouth Rock.

A permanent bronze plaque to replace one that had started falling apart has been furnished by the Mayflower Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ex-Servicemen's Club of Plymouth. City workmen installed the bright, new plaque last week.

Names of 45 local men who gave their lives during World Wars I and II can be found on the plaque. Nine are World War I and 36 are from World War II.

Plymouth, Michigan's Plymouth Rock, of course, has no relation to the original one at Plymouth, Mass. where the Pilgrim Fathers stepped ashore.

But it took considerable more human effort to make a monument with the local rock than it did the one in Massachusetts.

It was the Ex-Servicemen's Club and one of its members, John Jacobs, that utilized much energy to bring the rock to Kellogg Park on a winter day in 1935.

Jacobs, a former commander of the club and also a Wayne County Road Commission employee found the rock while excavations were being made for the railroad overpass on Northville Road.

So on Wednesday, February 2, 1935, members of the club helped in the big move. The rock was placed on a sled under which rollers were laid. Seven trucks were used in the two mile move over ice.

Finally the rock was put into place on a foundation and plaques were erected honoring the war dead, one each for the Civil War, Spanish-American War and World War I. The World War II list was later added.

A monument to those killed in the wars had previously been located in the city park in front of the high school. But when Church St. was re-

Most Stores Stay Open This Thursday Night

Because Memorial Day falls this week on Friday, the day when stores remain open in the evening, most merchants are planning to keep doors open Thursday night instead. The National Bank of Detroit will stay open until 6 p.m. Thursday. The Plymouth Mail will be closed Thursday through Sunday to allow employees a long holiday weekend.

Electors Get Chance To Quiz Candidates

Between 700 and 1,000 people are expected at the polls Monday, June 9 to vote for three candidates for the board of education — but to most citizens, many of the names will be unfamiliar.

Few communities can offer voters a chance to get acquainted with local candidates face-to-face.

But electors in the Plymouth Community School district are not only being given a chance to get to know the candidates' names and meet them personally, but to also ask questions.

A Town Hall Tonight program, planned for next Thursday, June 5, will bring together candidates and voters four days prior to the election.

Each of the nine candidates will be given an opportunity

Whitman-Barnes Not Closing Up

Persistent rumors that Whitman and Barnes on Plymouth Road is closing for an indefinite period were quelled this week when a spokesman said that there are no such plans.

H. E. Boyce, industrial relations chief, said that like everyone else, there has been curtailment of some operations and there was an alternative of closing for about two weeks or lowering the work week to four days.

After meeting with employees, Boyce said, it has been decided to use the shorter week plan.

Community Credit Union Opens Office

The Plymouth Community Credit Union, formerly the Daisy Credit Union, has opened its office this week in the Hotel Mayflower Building, 821 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Savings and loan facilities are available to all residents in the Plymouth area.

ON A SNOWY morning in February 1935 the giant boulder used for Plymouth Rock was moved into place. It was found while excavating for the railroad overpass on Northville Road and was moved by the Ex-Servicemen's Club. This photograph taken by Wood Studio looks toward Penniman Ave. where the Penn Theatre now stands.

MAYOR HAROLD Guenther didn't have to explain much about this painting in the Hotel Mayflower dining room to one of its visitors last week. He was Warwick Charlton who dreamed up the idea of building another Mayflower and sailing it from Plymouth, England to Plymouth, Mass. The painting is a reproduction of an original hanging in Plymouth, Mass. Charlton, who spoke before several groups here, made the crossing himself.

This May Be The Real One

Mayflower Planner Visits Still Another Plymouth

Warwick Charlton, the man who conceived the idea to build a second Mayflower and sail it from Plymouth, England to Plymouth, Mass., was in town last Friday and left with some doubt as to which Plymouth is the original one.

Charlton addressed Jr. and Sr. high school pupils and the Rotary Club Friday as part of a nationwide tour. Earlier in the week he had been in Detroit, appearing on radio and television and before audiences.

In Plymouth, Michigan he found a Mayflower Hotel, a Plymouth Rock and quite a show of colonialistic design. "Although I've now been in Plymouth, England and Plymouth, Mass.," Charlton told Roarriors, "I've almost been convinced here today that this is the original Plymouth."

Charlton, a major with the Anglo-American forces in Europe and Asia during World War II, was sunning himself on the deck of a ship enroute home from Singapore and reading about the Pilgrims when an idea struck him. Being a public relations man by profession, the idea was not too surprising — why not build a replica of the Mayflower and sail it to America?

"Fortunately I was shielded by ignorance," Charlton admitted to Rotarians. "I went to several organizations to get their support and they flatly turned it down. Not only did they think the idea was foolhardy, they were sure that no sane man would volunteer for the crossing."

But 3,000 applications to make the crossing were received, including 800 from women. A British millionaire, Felix Fenston, led the list of contributors and the Plymouth Plantation, Inc., nonprofit group in Massachusetts concerned with the history of the pilgrims, said that they had already commissioned a man to prepare plans for a similar ship.

The architect was William A. Baker who had worked five full years preparing the plans. At Brixham, Devon, Charlton found Stuart Upham, head of a family firm that built nothing but wooden ships for 130 years.

"We commissioned Upham to build the ship," Charlton continued, "and in his contract was a most unusual clause. It required that Upham himself make the sailing — then we knew the boat would be safe."

The ship was delivered three days before the sailing date at a cost of $320,000. On April 20 of last year, the ship weighed anchor from Plymouth harbor with Capt. Alan Villiers at the wheel.

While the rest of the crossing is familiar to most Americans who followed it day-by-day, Charlton revealed that the U.S. and signs of other vessels increased, excitement on the ship became calmed three and a half weeks at one time. "We began getting fed up with each other," he added. But day, Charlton revealed that the U.S. and signs of other vessels increased, excitement on the ship became calmed three

Memorial Parade Not For Show

FOR THOSE who complain about the lack of big Memorial Day parades in Plymouth, recent remarks by this year's parade marshal, Bill Norman, might be remembered. Memorial Day isn't for show or entertainment, Bill points out, but is a day that provides us, the living, an opportunity to pay tribute to those who made the ultimate sacrifice.

EAGER BEAVERS: Four boys assigned the task of spearing litter with nail-pointed sticks in the city-owned park in front of the high school got a little too ambitious last week. Spying a garden hose in the grass, the boys made it a prime target. It was only a few hours earlier that the city purchased the $18 hose with a 15-year guarantee. One of the boys with a conscience later turned himself in at city hall.

LONG TIME, NO SEE: When Warwick Charlton, originator of the Mayflower II, stepped into the Hotel Mayflower last Friday, he was greeted by Burgess Scott, roving editor of Ford Times. The two last saw each other just after the occupation of Tripoli during World War II. Charlton, a British major, and Scott, an American officer, set up a newspaper there for civilians.

CLOSE CALL: A five-meter H-bomb hit Detroit last Thursday and there was some fall-out here, along with throats of evacuating Detroiters—all part of a Civil Defense test.

THE SCHOOLS: Charles Zoet is more wrapped up than ever in education. He not only serves at his regular job as teacher at Bentley High and on the Plymouth Community School District board of education, but is now president of the Livonia Educators Association. Two teachers will be retiring from the school system this year, Helen Farrand and Neva Lovewell. The high school staff last week honored Miss Lovewell with a party at the hotel and at "This Is Your Life" type program.

POLICE BEAT: Because some of the worst fires some occur during National Fire Prevention Week, local police are crossing their fingers next week — it's Burglary Prevention Week. Only the routine took place during the past week, according to the police blotter — family trouble, biting dogs, an attempted break-in at First Baptist Church, stolen hiccups and fender bumping.

CITY HALL While many small towns like Plymouth pattern certain methods and ordinances after Detroit, the Detroit Public Works Department recently came here to find out about the rubbish pick-up system. The Detroit DPW wants rubbish pick-up at the curb, but many citizens and the mayor object, claiming it will save no money. City Manager Albert Glassford reports that efficiency of curb pick-ups saves Plymouth about $10,000 a year. City commissioners have struggled with the present budget longer and harder than ever before. First they wanted to wait and see what the state equalization was going to be; secondly, they are at odds about a proposal to raise wages five percent. Raising an hourly man's wage five percent isn't too bad, but five percent of a department head's salary is too much, some say.

THE COURTS: Municipal Court had one of its biggest nights last Wednesday, mainly because Police have been using the electrical speed timing device. One speeder, Lester D. Moss of Detroit, was issued a $15 ticket but after calling the patrolman a "thief" and declaring that "you might as well be holding a gun in your hand," was hauled into court and paid a fine of $35. A total of $730 in fines was collected during the evening.

Bids on Football Field Bleachers Also Asked

Purchase of a new school site in Canton Township, the taking of bids on additional seating for the football field and instituting of three-year foreign language program were among the important steps taken by the Board of Education at a special meeting Monday night.

The board approved the purchase of nine and a half acres of land beside Hough School on Warren Rd. in Canton Township as a site for a future school. No plans, however, have been made to actually construct the school.

A purchase price of $20,000 for the acreage was approved. It is being purchased from Perry Hix whose farm adjoins Hough School. The land, now cleared for a farm use, is west of the school.

Purchase of the property is the first in an expected series of purchases of sites.

A group formed last year called the School Site Committee made the purchase recommendation and is expected to recommend several others. The committee is composed of representatives from the townships of Canton and Plymouth, the city of Plymouth and the board of education.

The committee was formed by the board of education because the board felt that officials of the local governments would know better than anyone where the future growth would come. Purchase of sites well in advance of construction is proposed in order to avoid paying the "high dollar" which follows after land is heavily in demand.

In other business before the board, Administrative Assistant Melvin Blunk was directed to obtain bids for semi-permanent bleachers for the football field that will double present capacity.

The news will be of interest to the hundreds of football fans who have to fight for seats at the "big games." The present seating capacity is about 2,000. At the major games, around 3,500 attend, leaving many on their feet for several hours.

Three big games are on home grounds next season — Northville, Livonia and Redford Union. For this reason the school board is anxious to get additional seating erected this summer.

Bleachers of steel frame construction (and having wooden seats) will be priced and bids will be examined next Monday. Capacity of the desired bleachers will be 2,000. They will be erected on the west (home) side of the field and the present bleachers moved to the east side and end zones.

Looking at curriculum, the school board authorized the high school to add third year foreign language. Latin, Spanish and French are the foreign languages now taught. According to Superintendent Russell Isbister, it is now recommended by educational authorities that three years of language be taught instead of two in order to give students a better command of the language. A dozen students in both Latin and French are expected in the third year classes next year. Spanish was just resumed last year so third year cannot be taught until next year.

The additional classes will mean hiring of one additional teacher.

Of interest to parents in school districts west of Plymouth was the decision not to accept elementary school children into the local district.

Trains Lake and South Salem Stone districts has requested that their children attend here on a tuition basis, but the board declared that it is not ready to accept responsibility of accepting children below the seventh grade. Older children are attending here.

The board approved a motion to give the Wayne County Road Commission land in front of Bird School 27 feet deep for widening Sheldon Rd. The improvement is part of a project to provide for access to the Western Electric Co. plant.

Eight Claim Car Prizes Given by Auto Dealers

Eight used cars were this week driven up to Kellogg Park by Plymouth's automobile dealers and from boxes each, carried, names were drawn. To them went the cars.

The event, held Tuesday noon, was the climax of the Plymouth Auto Dealer's Association Auto Buy Day's campaign held during the month of May.

These are the car donors and winners: Forrest Motors, Cinda Lou Herrick, 614 Deer St.; E. J. Allison, Inc., Hilliard DeVeto, 1472 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Selle Buick, Evelyn Terpstra, 17400 Haggerty Rd.; Paul J. Wiedman, Inc., Homer R. Howell, 44305 Gordon.

Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac, Kenneth Truesdell, 9092 Corrine.

Berry and Atchinson, R. J. Diekmann, 265 Evergreen.

West Bros. Edsel, Virginia Schueler, 9961 Garnett, Livonia.

Stadnik & Shekell, Tom Warner, 750 South Main St.

The drawing was originally scheduled for Tuesday night but dealers later decided to change it to Tuesday noon.

Girl Scout Council Expresses Thanks as Last Official Gesture

A recognition and awards tea was given Sunday by the Plymouth Girl Scout Council, as its final gesture before disbanding to join the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

The new council, which incorporates six former councils and several lone troops in Washington, Livingston and Western Wayne counties, will hold its first meeting June 3. The organization committee has spent 10 months planning the council which will govern over 6,000 girl scouts.

The local council, over 100 Girl Scouts and Brownies, leaders, representatives of sponsoring organizations, and Girl Scout board members, gathered at the Kiwanis Girl Scout Lodge Sunday afternoon. Recognition was given to the important roles of both the organizations which have supported the local troops and to the volunteer leaders of each troop.

Mrs. Sheldon Baker, council president, presented certificates of appreciation for Community Fund donations to Mrs. Claude Gebhardt. She also thanked the women who have been working with the committee organizing the Huron Valley Council.

Mrs. Earl West was honored for her service as advisor to the Senior Scout planning board, whose members planned the afternoon tea.

The sponsors, leaders and a member of each troop were introduced to the group by Mrs. James Hardimon, organization chairman, as she presented the certificate of sponsorship.

The afternoon was climaxed by the presentation of "Thanks Badges" to Mrs. Sheldon Baker, Mrs. William Edgar, Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing and to Mrs. Wayne Ruby.

Punch and cookies were served by the Senior Scouts.

The June 3 meeting of the new council is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. in the Emmanuel Lutheran church basement, 201 River St., Ypsilanti. The program will include the adoption of the by-laws, the election of board members and membership-nominating committee, the plan of work, the budget and the signing of the charter application.

It is expected that all adult Girl Scout members will be present. Visitors are welcome.

Round of Showers For Luree Merillat

The most recent in a series of showers given for Luree Merillat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Estle Merillat, 1292 South Main, was given by her aunt, Mrs. Clifford G. Smith at 977 Dewey Saturday evening.

Luree will be married to Ford Wright on June 15 after she graduates from the University of Michigan.

Mrs. Smith and daughter Janelle invited classmates, friends and relatives of the bride-elect to an evening of games and visiting. Duplicate prizes were presented to the honored guest.

After the opening of a variety of lovely gifts a dessert was served from a lace covered table centered with a large cake decorated with roses, doves and bells. Lighted tapers trimmed with miniature rosebuds completed the color scheme of white and spring green.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pinkerton
Daly-Pinkerton Rites Read In Presbyterian Ceremony

After speaking vows in the First Presbyterian Church, Susan Irene Daly and James Cecil Pinkerton left for Harve De Graves, Md., where the bridegroom is stationed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester H. Daly, 9091 South Main St. and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Cecil Pinkerton and the late Mr. Pinkerton of Southworth.

Rev. Stanhope performed the ceremony at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 17 before an altar decked with palms, candelabra and vases of white gladioli and snapdragons. Organ music was provided by Loretta Petrosky and Nat Sibbold sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Through the Years."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride donned a white frosted nylon gown fashioned with a taffeta collar and train. A lace tiara secured a fingertip veil. She carried a white orchid on a Bible.

Maid of honor Caroline Ridley wore a deep blue nylon gown with matching accessories and carried orange and red gladioli. The bridesmaids Sue Heyder, Catherine Kops, Rose Marie Richards and Judith Pinkerton, carried yellow daisies to accent medium blue nylon dresses with matching accessories. Jill Pinkerton wore a light blue nylon dress for her duties as flower girl. She carried a basket of blue daisies.

Ernest Wendland, who underwent surgery at St. Joseph's hospital on Monday of last week, has returned to his home on Farmer.

There will be no meeting in June, but the annual picnic at Waterford Bend, formerly known as "the Willows" will be held at 6 p.m. July 18.

Proposed Air Conditioner Ordinance Reconsidered

Whether or not to penalize establishments in the city where they already have air conditioning equipment that uses water is the problem that must be ironed out by the city commission before it adopts an ordinance controlling conditioners.

First reading has already been given to an air conditioning ordinance, but when several people appeared at last week's meeting to object to the penalty clause, commissioners held off further action.

The ordinance is the result of a survey made last year by water engineers of the city's potential supply. They recommended that an ordinance be enacted that requires water-saving devices that re-circulate water instead of pouring it down the drain. Between half a dozen and a dozen establishments now use this type of air conditioner, but a few have their own wells.

The proposed ordinance states that existing installations, except residential units of three tons or less, must be modified within a year after the ordinance is adopted. If after one year passes and changes are made, a $5 per ton charge is added and this increases $5 a year for five years.

There are basically two types of air conditioning units—those that use water as a coolant and the mechanical type, such as is used in the new library.

The cornerstone for St. Joseph's Cathedral in Bardstow, Ky., was laid in 1816.

FEW PEOPLE will recognize this building—yet, it is Plymouth. This is the inner-court of Pilgrim Apartments located at the eastern end of Liberty St. There are two units like this one, each with eight apartments. There are four one bedroom and four two bedroom apartments in each unit. The U-shaped buildings form a court and have been designed with colonial touches. Rentals are now being accepted.

Ann Trudell Wins Art Scholarship
Ann Louise Trudell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Trudell of 9225 Rocker, has been named one of the winners of the Scholastic Art Award scholarships. The awards are made on a nationwide basis by the Scholastic Magazine.

The scholarship will cover tuition for one year and can be renewed providing a satisfactory scholastic average is maintained. Ann will attend school at the Silvermine Guild School of Art in New Canaan, Conn.

The award-winning art selections will be on exhibition in June at the Riverside Museum, New York.

Ann attended school for several years in Plymouth before receiving a scholarship to attend Cass Technical High School in Detroit two years ago. She has been commuting to Detroit daily for classes and attending summer school each year.

Three Promoted To Star Scout

Boy Scout Troop 4 held a Court of Honor May 21st at which three boys were elevated to the status of Star Scout. The new Star Scouts are Bruce Hudson, Kenneth Evans and Jim Kropf.

Michael Jarney became a First Class Scout. Ed Bartel, Gregory Nash, Dan Van Aken, Jeff Muzzy and Dennis Fuelling were awarded Second Class badges.

Merit badges were awarded to Roger Beukema, Don Conover, Michael Carney, Bruce Hudson, George Harper and James Jensen.

Officiating at the Court of Honor was Scout Master Paul Steencken, assisted by Committee Man Richard Kropf. The Court of Honor was preceded by a pot luck dinner and was attended by parents of the boys.

Mr. Steencken announced that the balance of the fee for summer camp was due by the last week in June.

Mr. Waterman was a former member of the Salem Congregational church. Funeral services were held Saturday, May 24 at Schrader Funeral Home. Rev. Melbourne I. Johnson officiated. Entombment was at Riverside Mausoleum. Pallbearers were Fred Hines, Harvey Springer, Glen Renwick, George Schmemman, John Waterman and John Renwick.

Fred G. Johnson, 53
A heart attack took the life of Fred Gilbert Johnson at 3 a.m. Sunday, May 25 in his home at 34418 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia. Mr. Johnson was a life-time resident of Livonia and former employee of the Wayne County Road Commission, where he worked for 31 years before his retirement.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Gertrude (Murphy) Johnson; a daughter, Mrs. Shirley Becker of Plymouth; two brothers, Stanley of Garden City and Arch of Northville; four sisters, Mrs. Mae Jehl of Chicago, Ill., Mrs. Mata McKinney of Livonia, Mrs. Ione Chamness of Livonia and Mrs. Ethlyn Clement of Salem; and three grandchildren.

Mr. Johnson was born July 30, 1904 in Livonia to William Johnson and Louisa Maynard Johnson.

Rev. Henry J. Walch performed the funeral service Tuesday, May 27 at Schrader Funeral Home. Interment was at Livonia Cemetery.

Scott A. Rorabacher
Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 28 for Scott Allen Rorabacher, 18 day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Rorabacher, Jr. of 50285 W. Seven Mile Rd., Northville.

The baby was born May 8 in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor and died Monday, May 26. Survivors are, the parents; a brother, Randy; sisters, Carolyn, Bonnie and Beverly; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Rorabacher, Sr. of Plymouth and Mrs. Ruby Passow of Ann Arbor; and great grandparents, Mrs. Sarah Helmer of Plymouth and Wesley Wilson of Plymouth.

Services were conducted by Rev. Henry Lewis at Casterline Funeral Home. Interment was at Thayer Cemetery.

Girl Wins Two Trophies In Air Rifle Safety Shoot

Three hundred and fifty youngsters ranging between eight and 15 years old trained their sights on bullseyes last Saturday at the Junior Chamber of Commerce second annual Air Rifle Safety Shoot and nine of them won themselves trophies.

Held in the high school auditorium with the cooperation of Daisy Manufacturing Co., the safety shoot drew half a hundred more than last year.

One of the unusual results coming from the shoot was the trophy won by a girl, Geanette Bowman, 14450

Shadywood Ct. The Jaycees had provided an extra trophy for the girl who shot the highest score, assuming that no girl would be able to compete with a boy in the regular contest. But Geanette tied for first with Jimmy Rodman in the 10-12 age division. Both shot a score of 96.

In case of ties, the best score on the first target is selected the winner, giving Jimmy the first place trophy. But Geanette not only won the second place trophy for that age bracket, but also the girls' trophy.

Other winners were these: 13-15 year: 1st, Dan Strenich, 140 Caster, score of 97; 2nd, Ballie Fulton, 15601 Park Dr., 94; 3rd, Don Johnson, 757 S. Main, 93.

10-12 Years: 1st, Jimmy Rodman, 312 Blunk, 96; 2nd, Geanette Bowman, 14450 Shadywood, 96; 3rd, Dante Cioni, 1800 Grand River, 95; 8-9 Years: 1st, Michael Lockwood, 328 Adams, 88; 2nd, Ronnie Witthoff, 13705 Ridgewood Dr., 80; 3rd, Dave Gorton, 3612 Angeline Circle, Lavonia, 80.

Trophies will be awarded the winners immediately following the Memorial Day program in Kellogg Park. This will be about 11 a.m.

Canton Community Club Plans Monthly Dance

The Canton Community Club monthly dance will be held Saturday June 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Geddes Rd. town hall, Geddes Rd. near Sheldon Rd.

There will also be tables for card playing and refreshments will be on sale. Admission will be 35c for adults and 25c for children. Children must be accompanied by a parent. Everyone is invited.

The MAIL Attitude

By PAUL CHANDLER

Our mailman dropped a postcard on the desk: "Horrors! The flowers (?) in those window boxes are an artistic outrage. Who is in charge of messing up your good looking building? Do replace them with real flowers, please."

The card was unsigned.

The writer was referring to some artificial red and white "flowers" which we stuck on sticks in the window boxes on the Plymouth Mail sills a fortnight ago. It was too early for petunias, anyway, but the real reason for the phony blossoms was that we were taking a colored picture of the building. It was to be used in a national sales presentation by Weekly Newspaper Representatives, and we thought a spot of bright color in the boxes would help the photo.

We fooled the camera, but not our critic. So it is a relief to be able to report today that we now have loaded the boxes with large ruffled petunias—purple, white, and two-tone, pink and white.

The "plant Plymouth with petunias" project is gaining momentum, by the way. All the shops down Hotel Mayflower row are putting out new boxes. So are other merchants.

We hope the schools, the city hall, and others will be able to see their way to planting a few flats of flowers out where they'll catch the public eye.

As the advertising and publicity gains momentum, the big 1958 World's Fair in Brussels becomes more intriguing. It opened in April and closes in October, and appears to be the finest thing of its kind that's ever been done.

Do you suppose there are enough people in this area to put together an excursion late in September to Brussels, plus a couple of other stops on the continent?

Kurt Thrun at the Plymouth Travel Centre proposed the idea to me. He suggests getting a group together and leaving by air on Sept. 26 for Brussels. After three or four days at the Fair, a helicopter hop to Paris. After a couple days there, by train to Munich, where a world-famous annual "October Festival" will be in swing. Then, back by way of Italy, Spain, and Portugal.

He says the whole thing — with meals at some of Europe's most elaborate restaurants and the finest hotel accommodations — could be done for $850 a person. The trip would take 17 to 20 days round trip.

These paragraphs today are to sound out local interest. A party composed entirely of local people traveling together could be pleasant.

To get it started, this newspaper would be glad to serve as the coordinator. If you're interested in an "On to Brussels" excursion, drop me a card. Or get in touch with the Travel Centre in Plymouth.

We'll keep you posted on the response.

Rep. Eaton

that Michigan will be in a solvent position and facing the future with confidence. But unfortunately, as we have all learned, this is not the case.

"The State of Michigan today stands at the brink of bankruptcy after ten years of Democratic rule. With state taxes at an all-time high, the state finds itself unable to meet its current obligations. The solution proposed by the Democratic Governor is to place additional taxes on the savings of widows, retired senior citizens, and funds put aside by youngsters to finance their higher education.

"According to Federal government statistics, every state in the union except Michigan and Rhode Island enjoyed a steady gain in industrial jobs in the 1950-56 period. The governor and his party blithely deny responsibility for chasing jobs out of our state. But one has only to look at the unrealistic proposals that the governor sends to the legislature to understand why businessmen, large and small, are apprehensive about their future in our state, and why, as a consequence, job opportunities are dwindling in Michigan while increasing in other states.

"Over the opposition of some members of my own party, I was successful in saving the homeowners of Northville and Livonia hundreds of thousands of dollars in state rebates of race track revenue. Again, in the interest of my district, I broke with my party and succeeded in securing a $2½-million appropriation from the legislature to start construction on the $18-million Plymouth Home and Training School which will provide some 2,000 jobs for people in my district.

"I humbly believe that I can continue to give the citizens of Wayne County's 21st District the same caliber of courageous and responsive representation in the next two crucial years as my record shows I have in the past.

"I frankly admit that I am not a baby-kissing, square dancing, double-talking politician in the popular conception. As a small businessman for 30 years in my district I am known to all for my sincerity, practical horse sense and my years of real accomplishment rather than as a galavanting, back-slapping, tin horn politician.

"I now ask for an opportunity to continue serving the people of my district in response to their needs. At the same time I will be serving all of the people of Michigan in the massive effort to reverse Michigan's dismal trend of the past ten years. It is my underlying purpose to help put our great state back on the road to prosperity, confidence and sound growth with an economy healthy enough to provide every Michigan citizen a comfortable standard of living and boundless opportunities."

Merton Henry To Give Last Sermon Here

Merton Henry will preach his last sermon as pastor of the Plymouth and Belleville Seventh-day Adventist churches, Saturday, at the Belleville church, East Liberty Street. The Plymouth members will unite with the Belleville group for this service.

Pastor Henry has accepted an appointment to Cadillac, Mich., where he will assume the district leadership of eleven churches on June 7. He will personally pastor four of this group, Cadillac, Lake City, Marion and Mantion.

Mr. Henry was the first resident minister of the Plymouth church when he and his wife came here in 1953 from Urdandale, Mich., where he served as pastor, and also assistant pastor of the Battle Creek Tabernacle. Under his leadership the Plymouth church has experienced a steady growth both in new members and transfer of members from surrounding churches in the Greater Detroit Metropolitan area.

Since residing in this district the Henrys have become the proud parents of two children De Ann, age 3, and Johnathon, 14 months.

Members of the Plymouth church are holding a farewell picnic party, Sunday, June 1 at Cass Benton Park.

P. Clarence Long of Cadillac will replace Mr. Henry as pastor of the Plymouth and Belleville churches. He is expected to arrive next week.

mounted. On Wednesday, June 12 the ship docked. At Provincetown, re-enactment of the Mayflower Compact signing took place. After six years of planning, using original tools in making the boat, and doing everything the way it was done 300 years ago, "we got off the boat and signed the Mayflower Compact with a ball-point pen."

Only students in history, geography and related subjects attended the assemblies where Charlton spoke. A film taken during the sailing also shown.

Charlton's tour is being sponsored by the Aero-Mayflower Transit Company.

Merchant Hurler Wins Own Game With Double In 11th Inning

The Merchants, local entry in the Intercounty league, believe in giving the fans their money's worth whether they are playing at home or away. Last Sunday at Romulus they played the third extra inning game in as many starts in this young 1958 season. However, this time the Merchants were victorious by virtue of an 11th inning double by pitcher Dick Shepherd scoring Bob Bruce from second base.

Romulus started early to care their runs as they jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Plymouth tied the score in their half of the third inning only to have Romulus go ahead with one more run in the third.

The home team seemed to enjoy the pitching of Plymouth newcomer, Dave Kerr, as they added one more run in the fourth and three in the fifth to lead 7-2 before Plymouth found the batting range in the sixth.

The Merchants scored seven runs in the sixth on their best single inning output thus far this season and added four more in the seventh to take a 13-7 lead. Romulus added two in the seventh and four in the eighth off Dick Shepherd, who had relieved Dave Kerr.

With the teams tied at 13-13 at the end of the eighth, neither team scored in the ninth and tenth, so Shepherd decided to do something himself about winning a ball game. He came through with a solid line drive double down the left field line to score Bruce and then he held Romulus scoreless in the first half of the thirteenth.

Plymouth showed some of the batting power that they have been reputed to possess as they banded out 16 hits. Jack Carter and Chuck Tomlinson led the swatsmiths with two singles and a double each. Ron Bender had two doubles and Bob Bruce had a single and a double.

Art Sheridan, third baseman for Romulus had three home runs and a double in five times at bat to lead the attack for the losers.

Memorial Day afternoon the Merchants play a doubleheader with South Lyons at Riverside Park. The first game starts at 12:30 and the second one at 3. Sunday they play Teamsters at Cass Benton Park.

SPORTSEEN

How many noticed the list of "Honored Students" in last week's paper? It was interesting to note just how many of these students participate in high school sports as part of their extra-curricular activities. Of the seniors the first name on the list, Don Alsbro, will be remembered by opposing players and Plymouth football fans for his rugged play this past season. Alsbro was also chosen to the first team as an end. In addition to football he played basketball and is a member of the track team where his specialty is the shot put.

Bill Hubert, most valuable player award winner on the basketball team and the team's leading scorer, is another who spends considerable time in extra-curricular activities and still maintains averages high enough for the honor roll. In addition to basketball Bill is also a member of the newly crowned Suburban Six baseball champions.

Another senior prominent in athletics at Plymouth is Bob Isbister, co-captain with Don Carney, of this year's swimming team that won the Suburban Six championship rather handsily. Of particular significance is the name of Randy Egloff who maintained an "A" average while taking time out to play football, basketball and baseball.

The names of these athletes in the Honor List indicate that these boys have matured to the point where they recognize the value of education. They have mastered the technique of maintaining a happy balance between their study and athletics; a trait that augurs well for their future in their chosen profession.

Congratulations to still another team at Plymouth High School that has won a Suburban Six championship. The baseball team under Coach Mike Hoben lost two games to break the unbeaten string carried over from last year but won the ones that really counted. Just last week they defeated Trenton 1-0 and the arch rival Allen Park in the game that meant the championship to them 1-0.

Ken Knipschild has built up an enviable record as a high school pitcher in winning 18 games without a loss in three years of pitching for the Rocks. Knipschild has a good fast ball and for the last game had his curve working very well. He rates Gene Lisk of Allen Park as the hardest man in the league to pitch to. He held him to just one hit in the final game.

Additional credit should go to Larry Wells, Randy Egloff, Pete Woodward, Wayne Jordahl for their consistently fine play throughout the season. Actually each player made a contribution in one or more games a hit at the right time, a catch to rob a hitter of extra bases, a throw to cut off a runner who represents a damaging run.

One cannot overlook the astute masterminding of Mike Hoben who seems to thrive in crucial situations. Now that the baseball championship has been won his next problem appears to be that of fattening up some boys to play on the line next year.

The soft team improved their position in the state finals over last year's eighth place finish by finishing sixth at Battle Creek Country Club last Saturday. Coach John Sandmann reminded us that all four boys who participated will be back next year. Kurt Atchison and John Taylor are juniors and have one year of eligibility left while Steve Hayskar and Del McAllister are freshmen and will be around for three more years.

Let's hope the weather warms up so the fans can enjoy the fastball played at the Plymouth high school field every night but Saturday and Sunday. There have been some real good games and I'm glad that I am not trying to hit some of the chuckers in the Class "A" league. The old adage that you can't hit what you can't see certainly applies when some of the pitchers like Street, Thibideau, Somers, Rockman and Lowe are working.

Don't forget the Suburban Six Track Meet at Redford Union High School tomorrow night.

Recreation Fastball Leagues

Class "A"

Begliners continued where they left off last year by winning their first two games defeating Box Bar 1-4 and Mayflower 1-3. Gabby Street pitched both games and allowed Box Bar just five hits and Mayflower only two hits. Wolfe Aircraft of Wayne are tied with Begliners as they defeated Box Bar 4-0 and Chevrolet Spring and Bumper 3-0. Rockman allowed the Chevy team just one hit and Lowe held Box Bar to two hits.

Wayne Dispatch, Cloverdale, DeHoCo and U-Daily Western are undefeated also. Wayne Dispatch, Cloverdale and U-Daily Western had one of their games rained out and won the other while DeHoCo have won one and tied one.

Golfers Finish Sixth In State Competition

Plymouth high school golfers ran into some stiff competition in the state finals at Battle Creek Country Club last Saturday. On a par 72 course Joe Belford of Grosse Pointe carded a one under 71 to be medalist for the tournament.

Coach Sandman's crew finished two positions above where they finished last year. Their total of 334 was good for sixth place behind Birmingham's 314, Flint Central's 315, Ann Arbor's 316, Grand Rapids Union 319 and Dearborn's 326.

Del McAllister was low man for Plymouth with an 80. He was followed by Steve Hayskar, who carded an 82. John Taylor an 84 and Kurt Atchison an 88. The scores for the winning Birmingham foursome were 76, 78, 80 and 80. The new champions also moved up two notches as they dethroned last year's champions, Ann Arbor, who finished two strokes back in third place.

The standing of the other ten Class "A" schools in the tournament is as follows: 7. Niles 339; 8. Jackson 342; 9. Mt. Clemens 347; 10. Grosse Pointe 349; 11. Southfield 351; 12. Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills 351; 13. Redford Union 353; 14. Notre Dame 355; 15. Saginaw 358; 16. Detroit Catholic Central 359; 17. Muskegon Catholic Central 379.

There are just two more dual matches for the Plymouth team this season. On Monday they play Northville on the Northville home course and then Wednesday they close their season with a match on the course Thurston use for their home tournaments.

End Of Kindergarten Registration Nears

June 13 has been set for the final day for kindergarten registration.

Although most children have now been registered, there are still believed some living in the school district who are not in the school records. Children must be five years old on or before December 1, 1958 to enter kindergarten.

It is requested that the parent bring the child's birth certificate or birth registration to the school at the time of registering. They must contact the school in the district they are living.

There are 23 legal holidays a year in Lebanon.

Knipschild Shuts Out Allen Park for 18th Straight Win

Ken Knipschild had his fast ball and curve ball working for him last Thursday as he shut out Allen Park with a two hitter to give him 18 consecutive victories in three years with Plymouth high school and the second consecutive Suburban Six baseball championship.

Knipschild fanned seven and walked three and in the words of his coach, Mike Hoben, "he was real tough when he had to be." The only run for the Rocks was scored by first baseman, Myron Hopper, who led off the third inning with a home run. Some good fielding plays by Randy Egloff and Al Runge relieved the tension throughout the game.

Of the five hits allowed by Jim Fekete of Allen Park Al Runge got two, Hopper, Knipschild and Woodward one each. Fekete struck out seven and walked two.

Allen Park threatened in the sixth inning when they moved one man to third but he stayed there as Knipschild ended the inning by striking out the last man.

Plymouth finishes their season next Friday when they play at Thurston.

League Track Meet Tonight

There is a rare treat in store for track and field fans in this area who wish to journey to Redford Union High school on Kinloch street in Redford Township Thursday night. The Suburban Six meet will be staged at the new track at the high school.

Coach Keith Baughman has been preparing his team for this meet since May 7 when the regionals were held at Ann Arbor high school. Plymouth finished sixth in a group that included Flint Northern, who finished second to state champions Pontiac last Saturday at University of Michigan, and Flint Central.

Bentley Takes Tennis Match

Two of the three 'doubles' teams came through for Coach Bob Smith as the tennis team from Bentley defeated Plymouth 5-2.

Tacia and Wade Schultzeis defeated Pearce and Waterson 7-9, 6-1, 6-4. Hale Huber and Frank Smith defeated Mills and Klein 0-6, 6-2, 6-3. Argo and Livingston lost to Goudy and Pellone 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

In the singles matches George King of Bentley defeated Mike Stickney of Plymouth 6-3, 6-3. Olach defeated John Walker 6-4, 6-4. Nick Darup lost to Johnson 8-6, 5-7, 6-0. Ken Jacobus lost to Eveland 6-1, 6-0.

The last match for the tennis team for this season will be tonight at the Plymouth courts.

The U.S. has 14,175 banks, the top 300 of which accounted for $120 billion in deposits at the end of 1956, 53 per cent of the total.

Junior Golf League Opens Eight-Week Play June 23

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will this year co-sponsor with the Recreation Department the Junior Golf Tournament by providing prizes, making possible a reduction in the entry fee from $1.50 to 50 cents.

The Plymouth Recreation Junior Golf Association has a meet and made plans to again offer a league and tournament for boys and girls from the 4th through 12th grades at Hilltop Golf Course on Powell Rd. beginning June 23. The eight week session will end with the August 11 and 12 tourney.

Weekly greens fees are 75 cents. Chris Burkhardt, professional at Hilltop, will arrange clinics on the days of play to teach golf etiquette as well as the game. Entry forms will be found on the back page of this issue of The Mail and also distributed through the schools.

Registration should be completed by June 23 by mailing or taking entry forms and fees to Hilltop. Last year's players who established a firm handicap and who register in advance will be able to begin match play and earn points the first day of play.

Following last year's precedent, there will be a 4-hole division for young players. The tournament will be played with handicaps and prizes, making possible a reduction in the entry fee from $1.50 to 50 cents.

Awards for tournament runners-up in each flight will be added this year.

Association members making the league possible besides Mr. Burkhardt, who serves as treasurer, are: Mrs. Wilson Augustine and Mrs. Julius Edger, registration; Mrs. S. L. Luvish and Mrs. John Oelhardt, walkers; Mrs. John Izett, chairman; and Herb Woolweaver, adviser.

Success of last year's venture was guaranteed by the walkers. Those who came out week after week enjoyed it, according to the association. So parents are again urged to become a walker or get a substitute for at least two Mondays. Experience is not essential. Players will keep scores while walkers record strokes taken. A book of rules will be issued new members.

Ann Arbor to Hold Time Trial Event

For those not making the journey to the Indianapolis Speedway on Memorial Day, there will be a closer event that may provide something just as exciting.

The Sports Car club of Ann Arbor will hold a high speed time trials event at Washtenaw Airport, six miles east of Ann Arbor on Jackson Rd. starting at 9 a.m. and ending at 6 p.m.

The 1 1/2 mile course will be used by four cars at a time to compete. Among the competitors will be two local nationally-known sports car drivers, Tom Payne and Max Goldman.

CLASS "B"

On the second night of the Class "B" schedule the teams were not as "run happy" as the ones that played opening night and scored 68 runs. V.F.W. won a close game from Chevrolet Spring and Bumper 8-7. Chevy rallied for three runs in the seventh inning but just fell short of a victory. Sowder hit a three run triple to bring his team within one run of a tie. Johnson of V.F.W. hit the only home run of the game in the fifth inning.

Gould Homes saved their scoring punch until the last inning when they scored ten runs to defeat Hawthorne Center 15-5. Boss allowed five hits and helped his own cause with a home run in the big ten run inning. Hawthorne scored their five runs and five hits in the first three innings.

Shoeman, Bennett and Doyle hit home runs as Independents defeated Bill's Market 16-9. Bennett and Doyle hit their four baggers in the fifth inning as the winners scored seven of their runs. Vogras of the losers homered in the sixth inning to keep a rally going that netted eight runs before the side was retired.

23rd, 2nd Wedding Anniversaries Marked in Maplecroft - Birch Area

(Covering the area bounded by Burroughs, Ann Arbor Rd. and the Junior High, including Maplecroft and Birch Subs.)

Former Birch resident, Homer Weir Miller and several friends of Ossining, N. Y., joined Bob Probeck and Norman Druce of Plymouth for a week of fishing at the Druce cottage at Gogama, Ont. The many friends of Homer and Shirley will be glad to know that they are settled in Ossining and find it quite homey and pleasant, though not another Plymouth.

Little Richard John Ney, two month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ney of Dewey, was christened last Sunday at the St. John's Episcopal Church. The godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bruni of Tarrington, Conn., were unable to be present, so Mrs. David Davies graciously filled in as proxy godmother and Floyd O'Brien as godfather. The O'Briens, who were from out-of town, remained for the weekend. Louise Spence of Edison spent a very interesting weekend at Pt. Pelee with a group of the Audobon Society. Miss Spence finds it a very relaxing as well as a fascinating hobby. We have quite a few amateur bird-watcher right here in Maplecroft and Birch and very excellent material is provided as it is not too unusual to spot a young pheasant or a flock of quail feeding in our backyards along with many beautiful species of birds.

Speaking of wildlife, Mrs. Bruce Richards of Main and Mrs. Thomas Hirtzel of Byron will be as busy as bees when they take the morning Kindergarten class of Miss Truesdell's to the Bunya farm, Tuesday.

While L. B. Rice of Harding attends a Sales Conference at Houghton Lake this week, Mrs. Rice will visit the former Plymouthites, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cavallotti of Ta-was, Mich.

The many friends and relatives of the Stewart Oldfords gathered last Saturday for a farewell party for their son, Stewart Oldford, who left this week enroute to LACKLAN, Texas, for eleven weeks training with the Air National Guard. Those attending were: Dr. and Mrs. J. Oldford, Mr. and Mrs. J. Oldford and Mr. and Mrs. Elestair Oldford of Detroit. Also present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ross Oldford and family of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald; Mr. and Mrs. J. Marks; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Haines; Mr. and Mrs. J. Olson; Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Olson; Mr. and Mrs. Roland Widmayer; Mr. and Mrs. Toru McDonough; Norman Ruehr all of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Elsner of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ross entertained several friends and neighbors at a buffet supper, Saturday evening, in their home on Harding. The Wendell Lents who were celebrating their twenty-third wedding anniversary, were guests of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ash, of Dewey, accompanied his men's bowling team to Battle Creek for the Michigan State Bowling tournament, May 17 and 18. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Merryfield, Mr. and Mrs. Jervis Wendland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Gar Evans and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bertrand. While there they also attended the Elk's Club Saturday evening and enroute home, Sunday, enjoyed dinner at Schuler's.

The Stewart Oldfords of Ross and Harry Haines of Harvey attended their Euchre club at Carlton, Mich., Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Simmons of Edison had the pleasure of entertaining their very good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Chenoweth of Red Key, Ind., last weekend.

Mrs. Thomas Marshall of Ross St. was a guest of the West-side Child Study Club of Ann Arbor, Tuesday evening. The banquet was held at Farm Cupboard in honor of newly installed officers. Mrs. John Hale, who is the president for next year, is a very dear friend of Mrs. Marshall's.

The residents of Muskegon, who attended the annual Vignesse Ball, Saturday evening, must have been as thrilled as we Plymouth music lovers, as their West Shore Symphony Orchestra was conducted by none other than our well-known conductor, Wayne Dunlap.

The dinner, which the Jim Latture's attended Saturday evening, in honor of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Al Bas's second wedding anniversary, will bring back to many of us the lovely wedding and reception that followed at Western Country Club. It just doesn't seem possible it was two years ago - how time doth fly.

The Victor Moore's of Roosevelt entertained their neighborhood bridge club Saturday evening. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Theobald, Mr. and Mrs. William Hartoff, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Morgeson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Swantek, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beglinger, who had out of town guests, were unable to attend.

The two young daughters of the Cedric Sweets of Harding took part in the Michigan Annual Festival at the Coliseum building on the State Fair grounds, Sunday, May 25. It was a very lovely occasion, all the girls being attired in white frilly gowns and in some selections over one hundred playing on the stage at one time. Betsy's selections were "Spring Flowers" and "Stout Hearted Men" and Robin's were "Swaying Daffodils" and "The Band Played On." Several others of Plymouth also took part all being students of Mrs. Crandall.

The newly-organized chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will meet Wednesday, at the home of Mrs. Richard Nay of Dewey. The hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. A. D. Walker and Mrs. Robert Brown. Also attending will be Mesdames Bruce Milroy, Donald Holt, M. Sutherland, William Grimmer, S. Mays, William Bailey, Forest Byrd, Melvin Fuelling, Lee Rehbein, Bernard Stadtmiller, V. Bennett, and Boyden Muzzy. The evening will be spent planning the future events.

Bennie D. Montgomery, Eighteen year-old Marine, Bennie Douglas Montgomery will return home Saturday May 31 from Adak, Alaska. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Lee Montgomery of 1083 N. Holbrook. Receiving his boot training in San Diego, Calif., he will leave for Chicago soon to complete training. He will be discharged August 16.

Water Show Is Tops

"News Splash," the '58 water show, made a huge splash as it drew capacity audiences each evening last week, May 22-23. All of the performances were exhibits of perfection. All the members of the Water Wave and Dolphin clubs may take a bow for their excellent presentation. Costuming was very effective - especially beautiful were the costumes worn by Liz Calhoun, Linda Heric, Edyth Dibble, Allen Davies, Bob Isbister and Dave Rank in the "High Society" number. (They were in formal dress for a wedding.)

Without a doubt, the "Sports Page" Dillies were the funniest "divers" on the program. Bob Isbister, Bruce Curtis, John Walker, Dick Anderson, Don Carney, Valdemar Losse and Nick Herrick kept the audience laughing. (The costumes were a real riot.) Young love in the routine "Mr. and Mrs. High Society Announce" was sweetly portrayed by Delores Aldrich and Bruce Curtice. The show was climaxed by Janet Wiloughby's solo in the Finale. With the entire cast surrounding the pool, she payed tribute to the Statue of Liberty by swimming the length of the pool to present a lighted torch to honor the Lady.

Last Choral Program

The final Choral Concert of the season "Festival of Song" was presented Tuesday, May 27, under the direction of Mr. Fred C. Nelson. Proceeds of the evening will be used to finance the Green and White Ann Hulsing and David Graves with the Michigan Chorale.

Two soloists for the evening were Beverly Harrison singing "Green Pastures" and Sandra Bowers, singing the popular song "Hot Spell." The 75-voice choir, the Girls Glee Club, Triple Trios, and all members of the vocal music department are to be congratulated for their fine performance.

Plythean Staff Named

The 1958-59 'Plythean Staff will be under the supervision of newly elected Editor in Chief, Pete Signorelli.

The Business staff will be headed by Elaine Berry, Frances Smith will be Layout and Art Manager while Peggy McFarlane will take over as Copy Manager. Bob Godale will head the Photography division with Susan Maher acting as Drafting Manager. In case you're wondering what the excitement was all about on Monday, May 26, the 1958 Plytheans were distributed much earlier than anticipated. They are really sharp!

Selects 'Prints' Staff

After much deliberation over selecting the Pilgrim Prints Staff for the coming year, the following results were announced to conclude the disclosure of the new staff. The Editorial Board, consisting of Miss McDonald, adviser, Gloria Bowles, newly selected Editor and Co-Editors for this year, Karla Jean Herbold and I, admit that it was hard to choose from the closely qualified applicants. However: Kathy White will be First Page Assistant. Sandra Bailey and Sharon Neal will be Second and Third Page Editors respectively. Sheila Lorenz will be the Second Page Assistant with Kathy Joseph as Third Page Assistant.

Dick Hubert and his Assistants, Nora Sarah and Judy Herrick, will assume the responsibility of the Sports Page. Mer Palmer will continue in her roll of Photography Editor with Noreen Howe and Judy Tabbert as Assistants. Cynthia Couture and Joanne Wilson will be Business Managers. Exchange Editor is Valerie Dunn, and Martha Bernash was named Distribution Manager.

More Scholarships

Three more seniors have been offered scholarships. (Sounds like a pretty smart Senior Class.) Mike Stickney was offered the Michigan High School Scholarship. Marianna Jensen was awarded a scholarship from the State Board of Education for teaching at Central Michigan. Bill Hubert may choose from two offers - the Detroit Edison Scholarship or the Athletic Scholarship to Central Michigan College. Good Luck, Seniors.

Assembly Changed

Seniors and Underclassmen! The Senior Farewell assembly has been changed from June 2 to June 3. Surprise.

Mayor Takes the Cake

The speeches have been pretty good in Miss McDonald's Fourth Hour Senior English class, but Al Spigarelly's takes the cake (literally). When Al unpacked his bag containing cake mix, eggs, spoons, measuring cups, and water, the class chuckled quietly; but when he donned his apron, the audience could not quite contain their hysterical laughter.

All kidding aside, Al is a pretty good cook as most of the 5th hour journalism class will testify after eating the finished product which was baked in the Homemaking Department. If anyone needs a cake, see our Mayor, Al...

Resident Attends Dinner, Reception for Ike, Nixon

Roy Jacobus of 1396 Elm attended the dinner and reception for President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon held in New York City May 20. The President delivered the address at the special Economic Mobilization Conference sponsored by the American Management Association.

Jacobus and other directors and officers of A.M.A. were invited to sit at the speakers table and attend the reception. Included in the President's party were Sherman Adams, secretary of Commerce, Sinclair Weeks, Nelson Rockefeller and the President's house guest, Field Marshall Montgomery of Great Britain.

Plymouth JA Program Ends

Eight miniature Junior Achievement companies from Plymouth have liquidated their assets, declared dividends to stockholders and have gone out of business. The firms, operating on an eight month schedule, liquidated May 8. Some local JA firms, however, closed their businesses before the official closing date.

This year some 150 teenagers from Plymouth joined the 'learn by doing' business educational program and were successful in their first experience of actually running regular small business concerns. Like all publicly owned companies, JA firms depended upon stock sales for capitalization. Selling the public shares of company stock at 50 cents each enabled achievers to buy raw materials for their diminutive concerns. Most JA companies in Plymouth capitalized for $150.

Located in Plymouth since 1953, JA has been growing steadily both in popularity and achiever attendance.

Woman's Eye View

by Nancy Rigney

I intend to talk sports this week — from a women's eye view. Mrs. Joan Simmons has appeared in The Mail columns as a driver of racing cars. Since first meeting Joan last October, I have marveled at this fact . . . And wondered how the petite and pretty Mrs. Simmons mustered up the courage necessary for this sport.

At Joan's kind invitation, I went to Flat Rock Speedway to gain insight into auto racing — as a hobby and occupation. For Joan and her husband, Dick it is only hobby, but one that takes up every spare moment of their time. The spirit and excitement of the sport seeps into the drivers blood and or many it has become their life.

Sunday was a bright, sunny day, but it proved a bad day for the Simmon's. Dick's car was out of commission. Joan watched over the three cars she had lined up to drive in the women's events, only to see them knocked out in one accident after another. After a full afternoon of accidents, only five ladies had cars at their disposal. Despite the slim field, they put up a good race.

One is fully initiated as an auto racing spectator after surviving the roar of the motors and the occasional gusts of exhaust from the track. This is all forgotten as the race starts and a pack of cars, going about 70 miles an hour, go into the turns. They don't always make it — the presence of two ambulances, a wrecker and a police car in the center of the field testify to this fact.

Every moment is a tense one for the wives of the drivers. Joan pointed out the three rows of seats that she cleared a couple of weeks ago when Dick's convertible rolled over in a destruction derby. She huddled two more rows and ended up clutching the front railing. When Dick walked away from the wreck unharmed, she had to pry her fingers from around the railing.

For prospective powder puff drivers: Joan will tell you it's not as easy as it looks. (Who said it looked easy) She floors the accelerator throughout the race. But, she cautions, you have to know your car. In the turns, too much braking or in some cars, any at all will send a car into a treacherous spin.

A pair of boots might also be suggested. When your car rolls over or you hit the retainer wall, regular shoes are apt to fly off exposing your heels to be cut by the brake pedals. Joan learned this lesson the hard way.

Big plans are set for the Memorial Day weekend at Flat Rock, with events scheduled for Friday and Sunday. The holiday bill begins at 7:30 p.m. with a triple feature show, 12 events and fireworks. Old models will race Sunday and Wednesday will see 10 races, including the Australian pursuit.

Frank Beaumont, track public relations man, explains that this event gets its name from the kangaroo packs, in which the fastest member travels in the rear. Hence, the fastest qualifying cars take the rear starting positions in this race.

A girl to represent Plymouth in the preliminaries of the 1958 Miss Universe contest will be selected June 7 at the Arthur Murray studios in Ann Arbor. Applications are available by writing the studio at 1311 S. University, Ann Arbor or phoning for information. National rules require that all applications be in by June 4.

It would be quite an honor for any girl and for Plymouth. Prizes, trips and a movie contract are some of the tempting spoils for the victor.

EARL M. MARKHAM, 317 Ann St., recently observed his 25th year of service with Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Markham, a telephone repairman, has been cited for 15 years of accident-free driving. His son, Ronald, is a Michigan Bell lineman here.

SUMMERTIME IS the time to make that extra something for the house. This industrious trio of boys find the woodshop course as offered by Mr. Sullivan a most useful summer activity. A complete schedule of classes is published in this issue.

Thirteen Rules Issued For Burglary Prevention Week

Chief of Police Kenneth Fisher, concerned about housebreaking, announced today that the week of June 1st through 7th will be observed as Burglary Prevention Week in Plymouth.

According to Chief Fisher, "matinee" burglary is on the increase. Professional housebreakers know that, in a residential area, a considerable portion of the population will be absent in the afternoon. Many women leave their homes for an hour or two to visit, attend club meetings, play cards, or go shopping.

This is an "open sesame" to any thief who knows what he's doing. He'll walk into your house like an invited guest — if he's reasonably sure it is empty. So, don't leave your doors unlocked even if you're just going next door for a cup of tea, warns the chief.

Unfortunately, nighttime burglary is also on the increase, and according to national statistics average one a minute. Housebreakers prefer working at night to "matinees." In the first place, they're concealed by darkness. In the second place, it's easy to discern whether or not a house is empty. Your Police Department urges you to take adequate precautions against both day-time and nighttime thievery. Here are a few of the steps you can take to dissuade the average housebreaker:

1. ALWAYS close and lock all windows and doors, including basement, porch and garage. Use pin tumbler cylinder locks on all outside doors . . . still the most secure key-operated locking device known to man.
2. ALWAYS leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off regularly each evening. This makes the home "lived-in," and is your best protective measure.
3. ALWAYS, if you are going away for a week-end or for a vacation, notify local police officials as to the date you are leaving, and the date on which you will return.
4. ALWAYS have the post office stop mail deliveries to your home while you're away, and make certain that no store deliveries will arrive during your absence.
5. ALWAYS cancel milk and newspaper deliveries. An accumulation of milk bottles and newspapers is a sure sign that you're not home.
6. ALWAYS, if you are on vacation, have your lawn mowed and your sidewalk swept by a neighbor at least once a week.
7. ALWAYS have your phone disconnected, if you're going away. Burglars will sometimes call to see if someone is home.
8. ALWAYS tell one neighbor if you are leaving. Have him notify the police if he sees anyone prowling around.
9. NEVER close shades or blinds completely. Leave them as you normally would when at home.
10. NEVER advertise your departure with an item in the paper, and don't broadcast the news to your neighborhood at large. Burglars have big ears.
11. NEVER leave ladders and tools where outsiders can get them. To do so is equivalent to giving a thief a key to your front door.
12. NEVER leave your garage door open. An empty garage with the door open is a good sign that no one's home.
13. NEVER tell friends, neighbors, or work associ-

Summer Education, Recreation Program Registration Opens

Educational and recreational activities in the Plymouth Community School District are in the "count-down" stage this week and next. The complete listing of the classes offered are published this week in the Plymouth Mail.

Registration for the classes should be completed by June 6 with the principals at the schools listed offering the classes. The early registration deadline is necessary to arrange classes for the teaching staff.

Most of the classes are for six weeks, June 23 through August 1. Spanish and French classes will be held for only four weeks. These classes will start on June 23rd and end on July 18th. The foreign language classes are always popular. Many students contemplating a foreign language in high school find these courses an excellent way to receive a "preview" and determine their interest in the language.

The Driver Education class schedule is not listed since all the classes are filled. Pre-registration at the high school during the last two weeks made it necessary to close these classes to general registration.

The Junior High building will be utilized by many class groups this year. Homemaking, woodshop, and the Summer Symphony teaching program will make their headquarters in the new Junior High. The complete teaching schedule as supervised by Laurence Livingston and Wayne Dunlap will be published next week.

Plymouth principals are looking forward to record-breaking registrations this year as the summer educational and recreational program enters its third year. Each year new courses are offered.

Town Crier: Family Party to Welcome Home Resident's Son From Alaska

(Covering the area along Sheldon to Ann Arbor Trail, Harvey, and Sutherland, including Plymouth Colony, Hough Sub., Plymouth Hills, and Ridgewood.)
By Gloria Bowles
GL 3-2340

Returning from Adak, Alaska this Saturday is 18-year-old Marine Bennie Douglas Montgomery. A family party is slated for the celebration of his return at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wall of Maple. Those attending will be the Marine's parents, Bennie Lee and Thelma Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eason and son Ernie, she being the former May Emma Montgomery, his sister; and Mr. and Mrs. Guy D. Kerley and son Guy Don, Jr. Mrs. Kerley is also a sister of the returning Marine.

Bennie took his boot training in San Diego, Calif. He will leave for Chicago for the final months of his service shortly, and be discharged August 16.

"Hear Ye! Hear Ye! The Wayne County Circuit Court is now in session." Kenneth R. Stevens of Jener has been witness to these words quite often recently as he has been involved in an interesting and somewhat unusual experience during the month of May. Stevens has been serving as a juror of the Wayne County Circuit Court in Detroit. He had to obtain a leave of absence in order to accept the jury duty. Mrs. Stevens reports that he enjoys it very much and the job gives him an opportunity to meet many people; Stevens, as do other jurors, receives $8 a day for this service.

The Memorial Day weekend will see a visit from Mrs. Edgar Nash and two small children, Johnny and Kathy of Dayton, O., to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bond of Maple Avenue. Mrs. Nash is the former Irene Bond.

Also taking advantage of the long Memorial Day weekend and making special plans for that holiday is Mrs. Leila Heller of Linden, who is a brother, Harry Loudon of Napoleon, O., will visit.

Entertaining friends at bridge on a recent Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. William L. Schmidt of Turkey Run. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Deibert of Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Walter of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes of Birmingham.

A combination pizza-birthday-slumber party was celebrated at the home of Alice Olendorf of Amherst Court, (Alice is 'sweet sixteen,') on May 16. The teenage guests were Geralee Rehben, April Corey, Sharon Neal, Brenda Richardson, Joan Bohl, Patricia Stone, and Susan Mather.

Two conventions were attended recently by the William J. Zimmermans of Sheldon road. They were among the many Plymouthites who spent last weekend in Cadillac, where Mr. Zimmermann was a delegate to the State Elks Convention in that city. The preceding weekend the couple journeyed to Fort Wayne, Ind., for the National Bowling Tournament, in which he took part.

After undergoing major surgery and spending three weeks at New Grace Hospital in Detroit recently, Mrs. Walter Hagen is convalescing in her home on South Harvey. Certainly hope you feel better very soon, Mrs. Hagen!

The baptism of two month-old James Edward Hough at the Presbyterian Church two weekends ago prompted a family get-together at the home of Mrs. Margaret Hough of West Ann Arbor Trail. The parents of the child, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cass Hough were present as were the grandparents, Cass F. Hough, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Prescott of Flint.

Spending last weekend in Windsor, Canada at the Prince Edward Hotel, were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Livingston of Jener Place. The occasion was a meeting of the Southeastern Michigan Band and Orchestra Organization.

"Little (about four months) Susan Elaine Ryder made her debut in the homes of relatives when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ryder and sister, Shelley of John Alden journeyed to Bowling Green and Lima, O., two weekends ago. Having seen the miss, I'm sure the relatives were fascinated by her charm!"

William L. Schmidt of Turkey Run and Mrs. Darrel Sand of Ridgewood.

Mrs. Lewis Smith of Turkey Run enjoyed a recent visit from her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Van Dyke of Chester Hill, O. The Van Dykes were in Plymouth Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Mr. Smith returned last Wednesday from a business trip to Louisiana, where he spent three days.

Touring the Upper Peninsula this week is Senator John B. Swainson of Governor Bradford road. Senator Swainson is in the midst of a campaign for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor of the state of Michigan.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. W. E. Ackerman of Governor Bradford road was Circle Eight and guest Circle Nine of the Presbyterian Church. Besides Mrs. Ackerman, hostesses for the evening, were Mrs. J. D. McLaren and Mrs. Howard Gelfold. Showing slides and telling of their trip to Spain last summer, were Dr. and Mrs. Henry Walch of the Presbyterian Church.

Attending a get-together of the Former Neighborhood Club of Dearborn (isn't that a nice idea?) recently was Mrs. John Olendorf of Amherst Court.

The Olendorfs also had two other special events on a past weekend; they entertained friends from Dearborn at a steak roast recently, and entertained members of their Pinochle Club at a pot-luck dinner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hay and Mr. and Mrs. Earl May of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watt and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagenschutz of Livonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kaiser, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shirey of Plymouth.

Should have called the Clarence Walseths of Jener Place about two months ago! A very friendly Mrs. Walseth told me that they had a wonderful time in Florida — in March!

Don't know what happened but someone overlooked the names of many of the guests at a recent teen party. The item should have read: Several area-teenagers attended a surprise birthday dinner given for 16-year old Linda Lee of Sheridan Avenue on Tuesday evening, May 13. Guests were Susan Hulsing, Sandra Bailey, Sharon Roberts, Barbara Bennett, Susan Mather, Gloria Bowles, Nancy Alden, recently Potter's Sally Sawyer and Barbara Booth. Linda was floored upon encountering the group of girls in her living room, singing a chorus of "Happy Birthday."

Sorry, Charlie Mather, that I called you David in the last issue.

Think I'll end this column using the same words with which I began it, "Hear Ye, Hear Ye." The Town Crier would like to hear from you this week. Incidentally, because I work at home, don't call the Plymouth Mail if you wish to contact me, but dial GL 3-2340. It would be best to give me a ring Wednesday or Thursday after 4 p.m.

Flower Box Idea
Homemakers who confine their "gardening" chores to a few plants and indoor flower boxes can increase their hobby by enjoyment this year by covering dull-looking window sills and flower boxes with predecorated hardboard. This attractive and durable material, which is available at lumber yards, comes in soft pastel colors, woodgrains and marble patterns. Its plastic-sealed finish will resist moisture, dirt, stains and hard wear. Occasional damp-wiping will keep Marlite bright and clean.

Baracal, in northern Michigan, Camp Baracal is a Christian camp for young people. A good time was had by all.

We are happy to include some of the Veterans of World War I in our column this week. When calling upon the Edwin Brown family, Mr. Brown seemed quite eager to let us know about their activities. He stated that on Sunday, May 25, the Veterans will be visiting the cemetery and putting wreaths on the graves of the deceased members. Mr. Brown is the Past Commander of the post, and his wife is a past President of the post. He would like to call attention to all World War I veterans, that their headquarters are in the Veterans Memorial building. The meetings are held the first Sunday of each month. A pot-luck dinner is served at 3 o'clock in the afternoon; all World War I veterans and their families are cordially invited to attend this gathering.

They will also be riding in cars in the Memorial Day parade, so let's give them all a big cheer when they pass the reviewing stands.

He asked me to tell everyone, they are having an Open-pit Barbecue the first week of August. The public is invited to attend. We will give more details on this event at a later date.

Joe Caloia of Marlowe, has been appointed cubmaster of Cub Scout Pack 6. This is a newly formed pack and is being sponsored by Our Lady of Good Counsel Church. Caloia states that they are planning a group installation for June 6. All parents and cubs interested in this group should be present at this meeting.

Their son John Caloia received his year pin for cub scouts at the meeting of Pack 6, Friday evening, at Smith School. As an Indian Chief, John led his den in a war dance. John is now a member of Mrs. Van Buren's den, Den 8 Pack 6. John will be leaving pack 6 to join Pack 781 of which his father is the cubmaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Beard of Brookline, daughter Nancy and son, Chuckie, along with Mr. Beard's mother, Mrs. Blanch Beard of Elmhurst, visited in Horton, Mich. in the home of Mrs. William Crampton. Mrs. Crampton is Mrs. Beard's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. John Duke, toured to Fort Wayne, Ind. last Sunday to attend the Bowling Tournament. Mr. Duke is better known as Duke, owner of Duke's Clip Joint on Ann Arbor road.

Mrs. Bench of Main tells us their family has been kept quite busy lately with their children's activities. A couple of weeks ago they spent the evening at Smith School, attending a program put on by son Jimmy's class. The program theme for the evening was 'Michigan', in which Jimmy took the part of an Indian. Last week they visited Kathy's second grade room. The program theme was 'Health' in which Kathy took the part of a toothbrush. The programs were very interesting, and well portrayed.

A happy birthday was in store for Debbie Krause, when her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McDonald; her mother, Grace Krause; and her aunt Bernice Merrifield, invited several of Debbie's little friends to the party. A birthday party and picnic, in honor of Debbie's fourth. Grandpa went along to help oversee the children; but his main job was to take colored slides of the children at their play. Debbie's cousin, Vickie Merrifield went along to enjoy the fun, too. Other children attending were Debra and David Woods, Nelson Rondeau, Byron and Stephanie Welhelmi and their mother, Robyn and Jan Sanislow, Lori Ann Nalepka and mother, Rusty Elliot, Pamela Werlinger and Jerald Lucero. Sue Gagnier also went along to help look out for Rusty, Pamela and Jerald. The children had a good time playing on the swings and slides and later they enjoyed a weiner roast. Hope you had a happy birthday, Debbie!

South Plymouth Woman Captures 'Gilda' Award

(Covering the area bounded by Main St., Joy Rd., Hagerly and Ann Arbor Rd., including Rucker Sub and Arbor Village.)
By Mrs. Robert A. Baskins
GL 3-2608

When Plymouth's Theatre Guild this year presented awards to their members who have done outstanding work, the best actress award went to Mrs. William Frank of Morrison — better known as Jean. The award-winning performance was in "Double Door."

Jean is no newcomer to dramatics because she majored in it at Marycrest College for Women in Iowa, obtaining a bachelor's degree and at Iowa University where she received a master's degree.

She also taught speech and English for five years before coming to Plymouth. Congratulations Jean, we are all proud of your "Gilda" award.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Belts have sold their home on Morrison and are now living in their new home on Burger Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill and children, Bob and Linda, are the newest residents of the Hills — we hope you enjoy our neighborhood.

Smith school room's Parent-Teacher meetings are still in progress. The most recent one was the second grade class of Shirlee Hopkins, who presented a play about health with all students taking part. Refreshments were served after the play.

On Tuesday evening the fourth grade class of Mrs. Mary Ellen Knopf had a pot-luck dinner with their families, after which they presented an imaginary trip to Mars.

The Kindergarten classes visited the Bunyca farm on Joy Rd. after learning about farms in their daily work. Mrs. William Keefe were the room mothers who accompanied the groups.

A group of Senior Scouts made a canoe trip down the Rifle River last weekend. The boys and their leader, Edward Miller, began at the Mrs. Robert Erdelyi and City, north of Bay City, and went to the base of the river near Alger. Participating were: Bill Rocker, Pete Miller, Don Jordan, Frank Eidsen and Tom Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Latter and family of Rocker spent a week end recently visiting Mrs. Latter's parents, Captain and Mrs. B. G. Stewart of Marine City. Captain Stewart is on the Great Lakes. The Latter's also had as guests last weekend Mr. and Mrs. John Corbin of Grosse Pointe Woods. Mrs. Corbin is the sister of Mr. Latter.

Young Ross Roginski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roginski of Morrison, had his tonsils out at St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor recently.

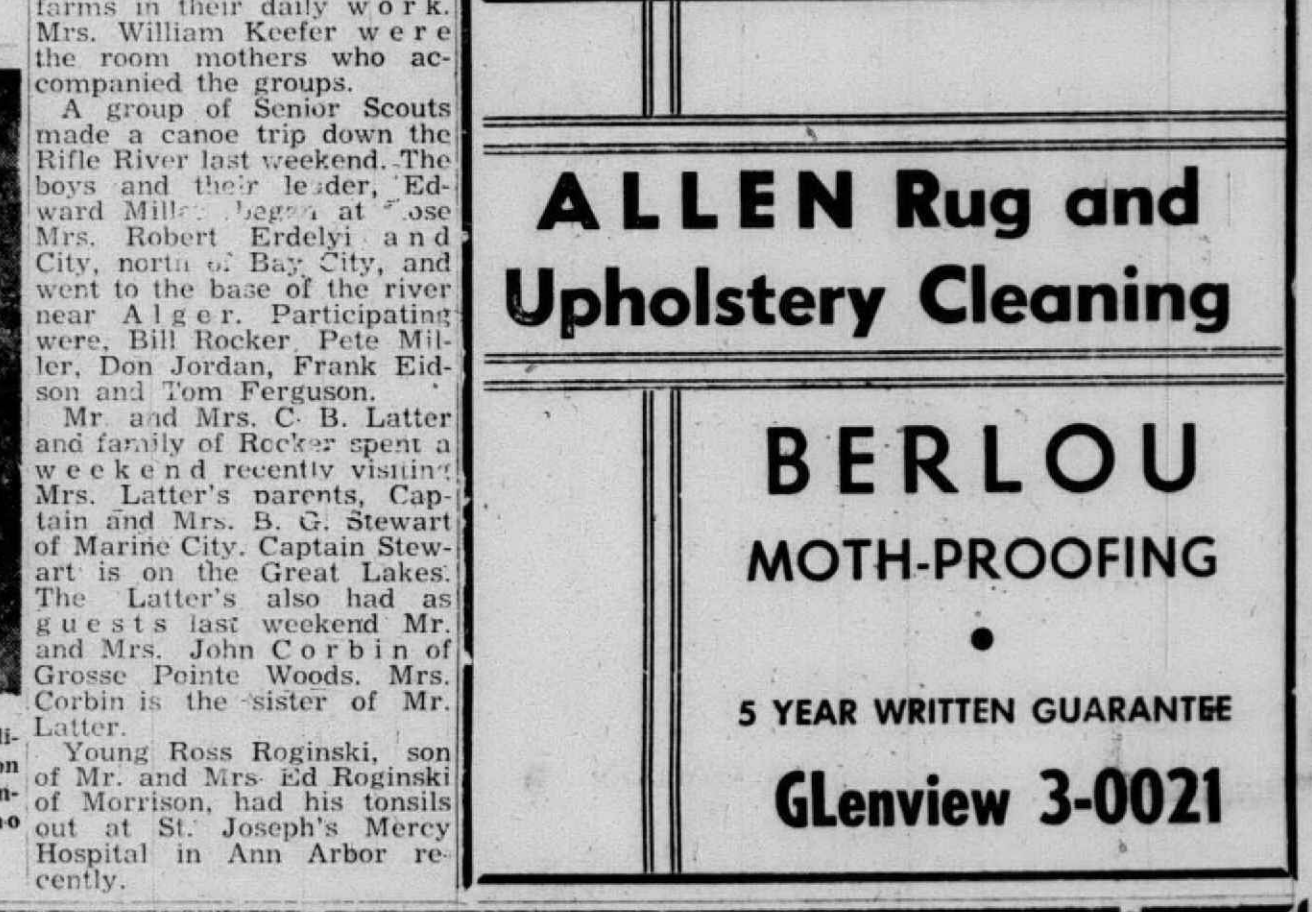

Claudia Rocker, Virginia Turk, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Shirey, Joan Lowden and Dauderman and Mrs. and Betty Argo were among the group of girls who took part in the Water Waves Show presented at the high school last week.

Several women from Rocker Subdivision were entertained by Mrs. Edwin Ash at their card club. Those attending were Mrs. Harold Shirey, Mrs. Arthur Krueger, Mrs. Joseph Thom and Mrs. Howard Hill.

Other guests were Mrs. John Olendorf, Mrs. Al Glassford and Mrs. William Ruge. The Shireys attended their monthly card club at the John Olendorf home. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagenschutz of Livonia, Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hay of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watt of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kaiser of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bowsman of Morrison are expecting the following guests over the Memorial Day weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wisniewski of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kuhns of East Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gosun and children of Jeffersonville, Ind. and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bowsman of Salem, Ind. Mrs. Wisniewski, Mrs. Kuhns and Mrs. Gosun are all sisters of Mr. Bowsman.

STAN HENCH, art teacher at Gallimore and outlying schools, used himself as model for the painting at left while the house is one located in Northville. He has won several awards at exhibits.

Stan Hench is an art teacher in the elementary grades. These are his comments on art:

"As far back as I can remember I spent my free hours drawing. My uncle, who was an architect, encouraged my attempts. After I left the Navy in 1946, I took commercial art in Pittsburgh. In school I read a great deal and developed an interest in fine art through literature. After graduation from the Art Institute of Pittsburgh, I went to the American Academy of Art and from there transferred to the Art Institute of Chicago and graduated in 1952. I have taught in Manistee, Northville, Birmingham and Plymouth.

"Like most teachers, I find it necessary, in order to support a wife and four children, to work outside of teaching. In my case it's sign painting. I paint as often as I can and send my work to art exhibits in Michigan and Indiana. For the past four years I have exhibited at the Michigan Artists Exhibit and have won awards at the Johns Henar Art Museum in Indianapolis and Michigan Artists Exhibit in South Bend.

"People ask, why do you paint? It's not an easy question to answer. I paint because I find in art the closest thing to truth that I know. I paint and draw the things that I like and live: city fences, jazzy musicians, people, the life of Christ.

"I work from sketches. I enjoy water color painting best and then pen and ink drawings. Occasionally I do an oil. I try to work in the medium that suits the subject matter and almost always I use a limited color scheme.

"The Boy with the Golden Bird" grew from a realistic sketch of my reflection in a window. When I began the oil painting I got the idea of changing it into a boy holding a bird. The treatment of the boy's face and clothing was simplified so that the figure would relate to the overall design and in that way make the painting have unity and force.

"Generally it is wrong to read meanings into art. The meaning of art, like music, should be left to the viewer's intelligence. His experiences and emotions will allow the painter to communicate to him, if he has an open mind and if the artist has something to communicate.

"If there is no communication of an idea, then the whole purpose of art is lost. In this painting the boy could be any boy; the kid could stand for any high ideal."

BOTH A STUDENT and teacher of art is Mrs. Marion Sober who will be displaying with the Three Cities Art Club next week in Kellogg Park. She is shown sketching Jani Herter, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Herter, 15559 Bradner Rd.

An outdoor show of original and creative art will be sponsored by the Three Cities Art Club on Saturday, June 7th (June 14th in case of rain) in Plymouth's Kellogg Park, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. The best creative talent in the Plymouth, Northville and Livonia area will be on display.

Believing that art is a universal language and an experience which enriches the lives of all, members of the group will be on hand to talk with the public and demonstrate throughout the day their approach in the various media represented in the show.

To help distinguish what makes a painting art, rather than sheer illustration, the opinions of two of the local artists in the show have been asked.

One of the area's most enthusiastic painters is Marion E. Sober, 15465 Bradner Rd. In reply to the question of what art means to her, this was her answer: "To say exactly what art means to me is difficult. It's easier to point to a great painting by a master and to the face of a little child and say (That's it.) To enjoy a painting is art appreciation. To look at a little child and want to do her portrait is my part in art. What I see is not only a bright, fresh face but the spirit of the child. This is what I'm after, and I want to record it. It's not easy, and I often fail. Often, too, I fail to please the parents."

"Once I did a portrait of a small boy that pleased me very much. His father, an engineer, looked at it, took out

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis

BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean: Please tell me from my handwriting what about all my trouble, lies that my husband accuses me of.

Dear F.: You are not a liar but you do like to argue. You get started on something and you nag and argue endlessly. You are sensitive and your feelings are easily hurt, you seem to be looking for trouble, so you strike out at the first opportunity. There is even evidence of temper shown here. You are irritable and impatient.

There is the ability to work with the hands in creating things in your handwriting. There is also a bit of a sense of humor.

Dear Jean: I would like to have you analyze my handwriting. I am a boy 9 years old. What kind of work am I best suited for?

Dear MR. X.: At your age there are many possibilities for your future. There may also be changes in your handwriting as you grow older. Right now you have a creative mind with the desire to explore, to find out about things, to investigate. You also have the ability to sift out the facts from the untruths. You are able to pay close attention to detail.

These traits, if they continue to exist, may very well qualify you to become an engineer.

Dear Jean: I read your column weekly and enjoy it very much. Will you kindly analyze my handwriting and tell me what talents I have and what kind of work I am most suited for to do a good job.

Dear ILLA: At present you have too many irons in the fire. You have a huge variety of interests and you really try to accomplish and complete every thing you start. Sometimes you make it just by the skin of your teeth but you make it. You have a vivid imagination along material lines and like to acquire. However, you pass along or share with others that which you do possess.

There is sensitive pride here which will cause hurt feelings when criticized. Not only do you wish to please others but you also have a pioneering spirit which gives you the power to act inde-

Persian Baluchistan is the geographically correct name used on maps, but local inhabitants of this desolate colony in Asia call it Yaghistan, or "country of outlaws."

With the umpire's cry of "play ball," the baseball team of the Newburg Methodist church began their second season with Livonia's church league. The team is sponsored by the church's Men's club and took the field with the following players: David Barr, Joseph Wright, Emil LaPointe, Fred Bird, Leonard Ritzler, Leonard Elandt, Bill Fedus, Andy Fedus and the battery, Paul Nixon, pitching and Joe Tompkins, catching. Despite the cold, windy evening, Newburg and Alpha Baptist played a real heads-up ball game and Newburg emerged victorious with the final tally being 12 to 7. The next scheduled game is Tuesday evening, May 27 at the Nankin Mills school grounds, Hubbard and Ann Arbor trail, when Newburg will take on St. Bernardine church. Let's all get out and cheer for the home team.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kregger of Gray avenue and Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood of Newburg road attended the annual bowling banquet of the Lutheran church league. If you should see a second flag flying from the staff of the Washington school flag pole, your eyes won't be playing tricks on you, for Mrs. Porter Rosenberry of Angeline circle and a first grade teacher in the school, recently completed a lovely flag and boys and girls are very proud of having their very own flag and want to express their thanks to Mrs. Rosenberry.

You folks who have lived longest in the Newburg area will no doubt remember Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaPointe, recent residents of Joy road. They now live on Inks ter road in Livonia and have had a new addition to their family. Born on Thursday, May 15 at Mt. Carmel Mercy hospital, a girl, weighing 7 pounds 2 ounces who shall be known as Michelle. Congratulations from all your old friends here in Newburg.

Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood of Newburg road entered and some of the members of the Romulus baseball team of the Inter-county League following the baseball game at Cass Bentley park. Mrs. Clyde Smith of Newburg road, Mrs. Glenn Stothers and Mrs. Ralph Gray were hostesses at a bridal shower in honor of Mrs. Gary Burkholder, the former Wanda McCann. Guests present for the evening were Joyce Tomlinson, Edna Smith, Louie Ganser, Janelle Steinhoff, Janice Sudnik, Joyce McCann, Evelyn Thomas, Nancy Tresh, Mrs. Edward Feagan, Mary Alice Feagan, Martha Smith, Judy Burkholder, Mrs. Neil Burkholder, Mrs. Curtis McCann, Beverly Lloye Anita Hicks, Mrs. Marvin Guthrie and Mrs. Henry Grimm.

The Canasta Clan of Joy road met at the home of Mrs. William Kenner on Narise drive with the following members present: Mrs. Harold Mackinder, Mrs. Raymond Peterson, Mrs. Claude Desmond, Mrs. Clifford Hocking, Mrs. Bert Overmyer, Mrs. Arthur DeCoster, Mrs. Edward Howace, Mrs. Robert Pregitzer, Mrs. Arthur Gennis, and Mrs. Stuart Flaherty. The ladies spent the evening playing cards and refreshments were served by the hostess and enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Emil LaPointe and daughter Nan of Joy road attended a baby shower in honor of Mrs. William Tupper of Dexter, at the home of Mrs. Clifford Poppenger in Ann Arbor.

The Patchen Community Club had their annual outing when all the ladies of the group met at Lofy's for dinner. Those who attended were Laura Menda, Barbara Brown, Mae Blanton, Eleanor DeCoster, Clarise Nesbitt, Eleanor Rucinski, Lulu

Dr. D. H. Brunnschweiler, assistant professor of geography at Michigan State University, points out an unusual land formation to Dennis Baker, geology major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Baker, 978 Hartough. Students of the geography course become acquainted with the physical geography of the world, as related to land and water resources. Economic minerals, landforms, water and soils are studied in relation to geographical locations.

Special mention was made of Kathleen Vorigitch, fifth grade and Kenneth Rose, fourth grade who assisted Mrs. Patricia Chadoin, P.T.A. representative, in distributing the stamps. Washington's P.T.A. sponsors this service to the children each school year and is to be commended, in that it enables our junior citizens to better learn the value in systematic savings. Some of the youngsters were able to save enough to purchase a bond. Congratulations to Washington school for what seems to me, a year full of accomplishments.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Streety of Newburg road are pleased to announce the birth of a daughter, Christina Louise, on May 3. This is the Streety's first child. It's been fun being with you again this week. Let's keep the news headed this way. Don't forget, GA. 1-2029. See you next week?

A few miles from Plymouth, Garden City to be geographically correct, "The Footlighters" made their debut these past few weeks. No mighty shouts rent the air. No hats were tossed skyward. No, none of that. But, gales of laughter swept over the section of Garden City where the Burger Junior High is located over near Merriman and Ford Road as they presented "Charley's Aunt."

I'll admit right off that "Charley's Aunt" has always been one of my favorite plays. Everyone knows the plot and many of the lines. It is truly one of the comedy classics of our generation, the last two generations, and the next two generations to come. It's the type of show that never grows old. Jack Benny did the show. Ray Bolger danced his way through the musical version. And his wonderful rendition of "Once in Love With Amy" was a part of the tune-filled "Charley's Aunt." By the way, the Music Circle Theater over by the Botsford Inn has this show on their schedule. All you "Charley's Aunt" lovers better plan to attend.

Well, be that as it may, the "Footlighters" gave the audience their money's worth in comic situations, clever bits of business, and downright "belly-laugh" situations. Dr. Ben Hill directed the group and provided the actors with many an ad-lib line and bit of stage business that gave the play new life. His line about "beer" brought chuckles as did the hat bit in Act II. Old George was sort of hoping that Mr. Spettigue would have put his top hat on and received the full slapstick treatment.

Speaking of slapstick brings me around to a minor criticism. In developing comic situations it is well to remember that underplaying many times has its compensations. In other words, you can over-do the slapstick to the point that it is no longer funny but over-bearing. Several times this occurred. The business of restraining Lord Babberly and when Charley Wykeham did his kicking of the false aunt were two examples. Also, Mr. Spettigue on his initial entrance merely increased his volume rather than giving a cantankerous characterization of a loud, noisy, bore-some, old gentleman. Most of the audience failed to agree with me on these points for they continued to laugh in spite of this over-playing of the slapstick. Luther Adler in "A View From the Bridge" proved this point in the area of intense drama over at Ann Arbor last week. His interpretation of the leading role was quite a bit different than even what the Author had indicated for the New York production. As a result, the show took on in Chicago it played a longer engagement than anticipated simply because the public liked this "under-played" version.

A good-looking program is half the battle. Believe me it's the first impression the audience gets of a player's group. I was impressed with the program, with the play and with the caliber of people helping backstage. A final note: Dr. Hill had two assistant directors (Dick Tait and Billie Hamilton) and I thought it was interesting to point out that he listed his as page of the program. It's not every director that would want to share the glory of the title page. Perhaps this summarizes the feeling within this new group — they are working as a team to produce the best in theatrical productions in the years to come at Garden City.

Time to worry about the stage manager coming out from his quarters to warn us that the show this week is about over. I'll have to save all my information about who the new officers of the Plymouth Theater Guild are for the coming year. We rambled on quite a bit about the new group in Garden City, but I thought many of you might like to know about their first venture. See you next week with more news about our local group.

Under-played or over-played, everyone in the cast and the audience had a great time of it during the run of "Charley's Aunt" over in Garden City. John Yori as Brassett did a professional job with his butler part, accent and all. And well he might since he has done professional work in the past. At present, John is with the Ford Motor Company where the dollars are not as large but steadier. His performance stands out as easily the best of the evening.

George Petrucz, a Garden City postal employee, delivered his stage message more than adequately. He put real bounce in every ounce of his part. He had the enviable role of the fake aunt. He bounded about the stage with great ease. Arlo Straight as Charles Wykeham did an excellent job of supporting George. Dr. Irvin Kant as Charley's college chum seemed a bit too old to be working on his degree maybe that's why I couldn't believe in his characterization. But then again, let me assure you the audience felt otherwise and laughed with him on cue all evening long.

The women in this play are merely on stage long enough to create new farcical situations. As a result, it is difficult to judge how effective they are. Ellen Hubbard as the real aunt and Betsy Eckles as Amy made me wish that the author had given them more lines since they did an excellent job with the few they had.

Rosemary Kooiman, a member of our own Plymouth Theater Guild, holds a membership with this group. In fact, she was the producer of this show. Now this girl belongs to two theater groups, ministers to the aches and pains of three children, and keeps one husband so well (Abe her hubby is thinking of going on a diet!) is the mystery of the century. Guess she likes to be busy. At the May meeting she even took a part in Dr. Ford Sutherland's original play, "There's Nothing Like A Dame." Believe there's nothing like this Rosemary gal for getting things done. I rather imagine that the fine looking program they had for their play was Rosemary's doing. Pictures of the cast, printed comments about them, little sidelight about the origin of the group, and many other gay comments. No cheese-looking program for the "Footlighters" — only the best.

Just this last week one of our older members, Mr. Alfred Morton, passed away. He had been ailing for a long time. The funeral was held Tuesday.

We regret to report the passing of Mr. Wilbur Gould, who died at Veteran's Hospital in Ann Arbor, Friday after a long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McConnell are at home again after a few weeks visit with her sister in North Carolina.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn were called to Columbus, O., last week by the death of their old friend.

Local B. P. & W. Club Presents Award to Traverse City Woman

Highlighting the State convention of the Michigan Business and Professional Women's Club held at the Hotel Stabler, Detroit, May 16-17-18, was the presentation of the awards.

The Plymouth club has, each year since 1955, presented a plaque known as "The Ruth Huston Whipple Citation," to an outstanding woman in a policy making post.

The award is given in memory of one of the club's charter members, Ruth Huston Whipple, who, in addition to many other accomplishments, was the first and only woman mayor of Plymouth. She held the office for six years, being the third woman in the state to hold such an office. She also served as a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors for seven years. She was in her every action a true champion of women's rights.

This year Mrs. Claudia Smedley of the Traverse City Club received the award. Mrs. Smedley, in addition to her activities in the Red Cross, has served eight years on the school board. She also served as Deputy Treasurer, Deputy Register of Deeds and in 1948 she was elected the office of Register of Deeds in Grand Traverse County, an office she has held for ten consecutive years. Mrs. Mary Wagen-Shutz, President of the Plymouth club, made the presentation.

Grange Cleanings

We hope for good attendance at our June 5 meeting, which will include a Memorial service for our members who have passed on during the past year. Unfortunately there are quite a few.

Just this last week one of our older members, Mr. Alfred Morton, passed away. He had been ailing for a long time. The funeral was held Tuesday.

We regret to report the passing of Mr. Wilbur Gould, who died at Veteran's Hospital in Ann Arbor, Friday after a long illness.

An estimated average of 650,000 cows were milked in California during 1956, and produced a total of 7,310,000 pounds of milk or an average of 8,600 pounds per cow.

Q.—"Dear Elinor: Recently I met a boy in a youth group at church and he came home with me and called the next night for a date. I had to refuse because I was going to baby-sit, and I haven't heard from him again. Would it be all right to invite him to a boys ask me for dates. How should I reply?"

Ans.—If you simply refuse dates without an explanation, the boys will misunderstand and will think that you don't like them or aren't interested in dating. So it's better to be frank and reply, "I'd like to, and you were nice to call, but I'm not allowed to have dates yet." Then, later when you can have dates, they'll be more likely to ask you again.

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: I am 16 and my boy-friend has invited me to his father's office picnic. Should I pay my own way on the rides? I'm also wondering if I should accept gifts from him. He always wants to give me presents for my birthday, etc."

Ans.—You'll be his guest at the picnic, so he should pay all your expenses. As for gifts, it's proper to accept them if they're not clothes (sweater, car coat, etc.) and not expensive.

Q.—"Dear Elinor: Lots of girls have my problem, so will you help me? I am 13 and my mother thinks I am too young for dates. I am very cute though, and many boys ask me for dates. How should I reply?"

Ans.—He has shown that he likes you by asking for a date, so it's all right to invite him to the dance... a good way to let him know that you'd like to see him again and get better acquainted.

Goodwill Pick-Up

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pick-up trucks to Plymouth is scheduled for Monday, June 2. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pick-up, call the local Goodwill representative, Mrs. Lora Ault, at Greenleaf 4-4294.

PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY SCHOOL DISTRICT

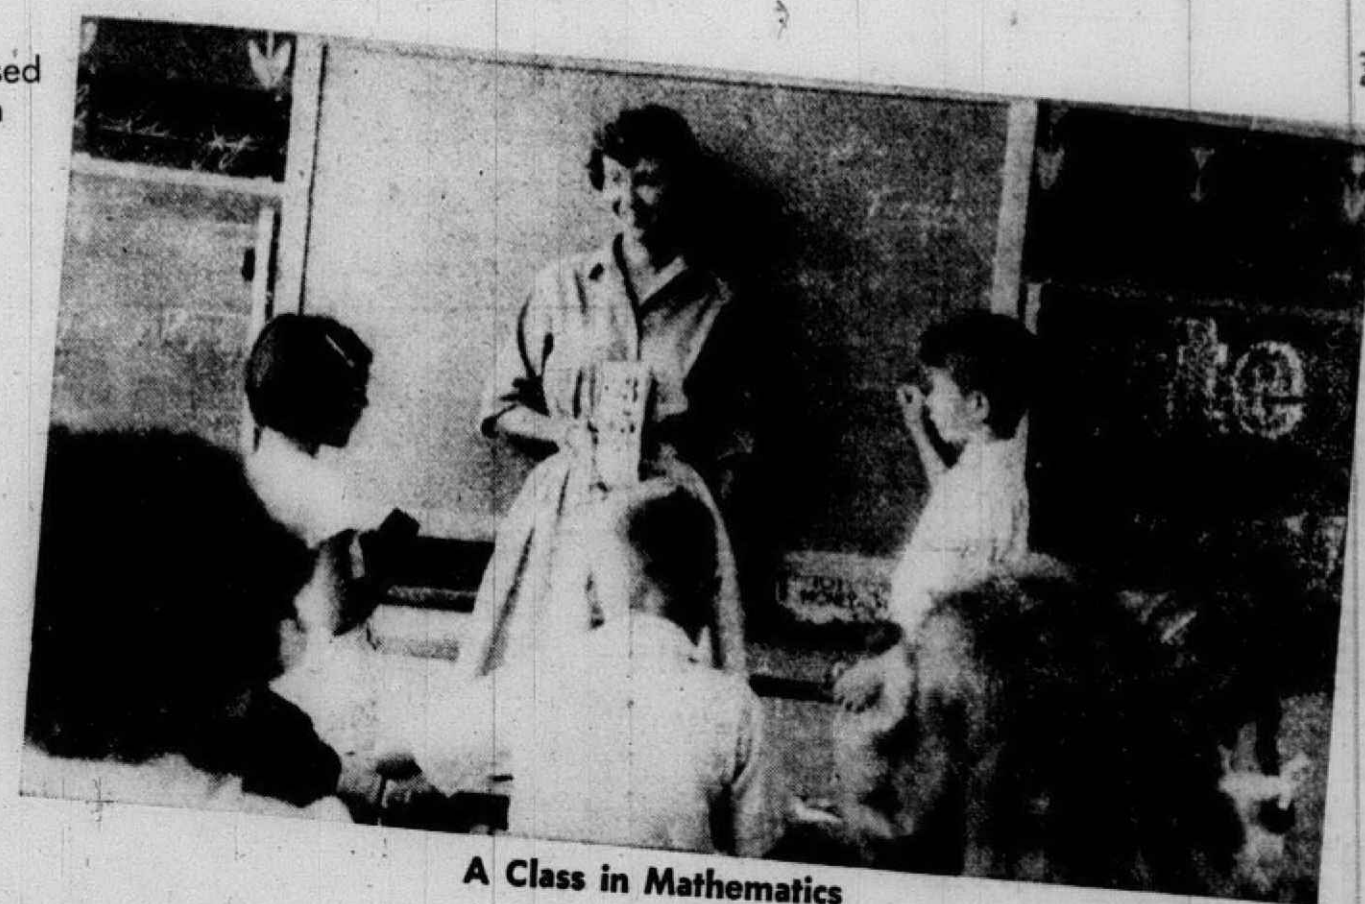

LET'S GO! SUMMER RECREATION AND EDUCATION PROGRAM 1958

A Class in Enriched Reading

Interest and participation in the summer program has steadily increased during the past two years. In planning this year's program an attempt is made to broaden the base of activities and encourage even wider participation. Well-planned, meaningful, and purposeful learning experiences will keep interest and attendance at a high level. The following information has been prepared to acquaint the parents and children with the many activities being offered.

Instruction is free for all Plymouth Community School children of school age. Adults will be charged a fee of $7.00 for each course. A minimum of 12 students per hour will be necessary to maintain this program. Classes will be offered for a six weeks period and meet daily, Monday through Friday, starting June 23rd and ending August 1st. Registration for all class activities MUST be completed by June 6th WITH THE PRINCIPALS AT THE SCHOOL LISTED. This is very important to all concerned, because some activities may be dropped at this time due to lack of the minimum requirements.

A Class in Mathematics

Instrumental Music

The summer music program at the High School will be "geared" for those students presently enrolled in high school, graduates, adults and those entering the ninth grade this Fall. The curriculum will include for the first time the "theory of music." This class is recommended for all who plan to be in the senior band this Fall, as many of the basic elements of music will be explained. Also, for the first time in some years, the summer band will meet Tuesday evenings from 7:00 - 8:00 for rehearsal and perform every Thursday on the Pavillion in front of the High School

MONDAY

Easy To Install (and Attractive,) Is Lawn Edging

Suburban Living

Good Mulch Saves Time, Energy

The seeds that were planted this spring are growing into good-sized plants. So are the weeds. Once this first crop of weeds has been pulled out, there needn't be any more to pull this summer, if the plantings are mulched immediately thereafter. A mulch is any clean material which is spread two or three inches deep over the ground under and around or between plants. Peat moss, ground corn cobs and buckwheat hulls are popular summer mulches. Other materials in common use are salt hay, straw, grass clippings, sawdust, bagasse. Whatever material is chosen, it should be clean and free of weed seeds.

A mulch shouldn't be spread while ground is dry. Ideally, it should be placed over clean, moist ground. After a rain in June, cultivate the soil to remove all the weeds and leave the soil light and loose. (If it doesn't rain, water deeply and then hoe.) Then cover the soil with not less than two inches of the chosen mulching material.

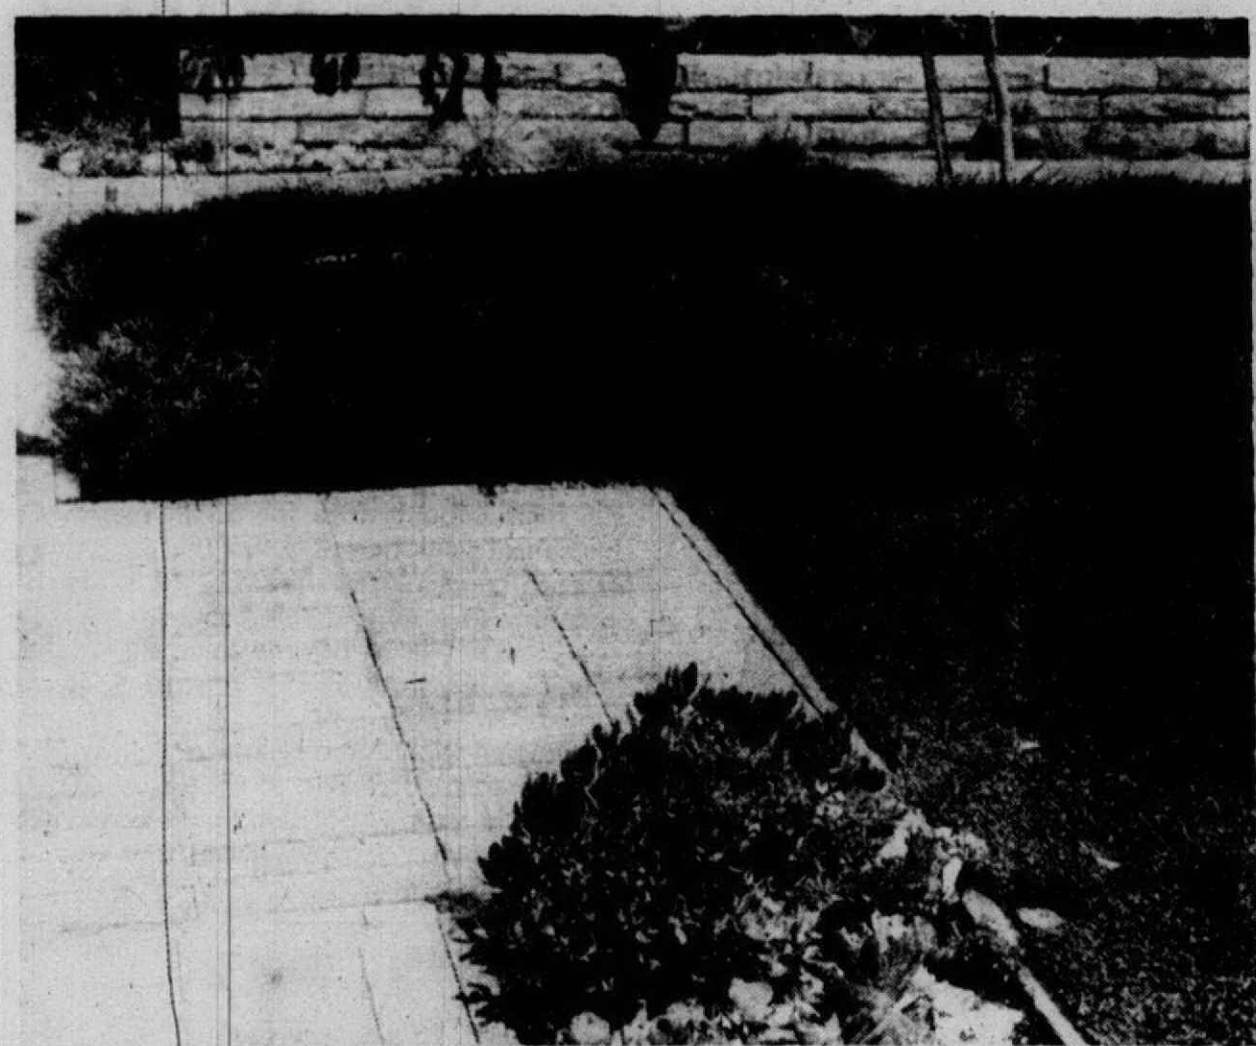

Grass clippings spread on the ground around tomato plants, or between rows of flowers and vegetables, will prevent weeds from growing. Most weeds can't push up through the mulch into the daylight. Therefore, it won't be necessary to hoe or weed again this year.

In the case of tomatoes, a clean mulch also is said to help prevent the disease blossom end rot, which appears as large black spots at the base of tomatoes. Straw or salt hay as a mulch over the strawberry bed keeps the ripening berries clean and free of soil or sand. A mulch on any planting reduces the need to water. The two or three inches of grass clippings, peat moss or other material blankets the soil and thus prevents loss of water through evaporation. This is not only good for the plants but also for the gardener.

The time needed in June to cultivate and then spread mulches is saved many times over for the gardener during the rest of the summer. As a result of mulching, the gardener conserves both time and energy which in former years were needed to hoe and water.

The flower garden, the rose bed, the vegetable plot, shrubs and trees all may be mulched, with benefit to the plants as well as the gardener. This is true any summer. A mulch is even more important during a summer of drought, when it means the difference between crop and flowers or none at all. But it isn't usually possible to tell in June how hot and dry the summer will be. So mulch—and be on the safe side!

WOODEN STRIPS, if they are weather-resistant redwood or cypress, edge a lawn or driveway efficiently.

It Can Help Make Your Property Look Larger

Installing an edging of stone, brick, wood or some other material is a simple project that takes little time and requires no investment. Even a homeowner who doesn't possess any building skill can plan and complete an edging project within a weekend.

No special tools are required. An ordinary garden hand shovel to dig a narrow, eight-inch deep trench is sufficient, and perhaps a heavy hammer to break stones or bricks to fit in place. For some edging materials such as brick or wooden strips, a line is desirable so that the edging will be installed in a true straight line.

Where to install an edging depends on a homeowner's property and purpose. To cite one example, one homeowner removed a row of privet hedge along the front of his small property since the hedge made his front lawn look small.

After the hedge was removed, the lawn was extended to the sidewalk. Between the sidewalk and the lawn, the homeowner decided to install an edging made of stones that were left over from a rock garden. The stones were ideal since they were large and flat.

The first step was to dig an eight-inch deep trench along the entire width of the property. One side of the trench was the sidewalk (without the sidewalk as a guide, a line would have been necessary. Then, the stones were inserted into the trench with the larger portion below the ground. Care was taken in selecting the right shaped stones so that the top of the edging was flat and even.

After the edging was in place, sand was poured in the spaces between each stone. Then, the edging was watered down with the garden hose to settle the sand. This routine was repeated until each stone that made up the edging was held firmly in place by the wet sand. As the sand dried, loose dirt was spread between and on the sides of the edging to provide added strength.

The sand and dirt serves as grout. Of course, should cement be used between the stones then the edging would be stronger and permanent. However, such an edging would be difficult to remove should a change in landscaping be desired after a few years.

This procedure of installing edgings can be applied to any material; brick, slate, tile, or wood. All are easy to work with and are attractive.

SMALL but attractive tile edging defines the walk and sets off the flower border.

Ever Try Decorative Vegetables?

Is there a homeowner who doesn't yearn to grow a red-ripe tomato? This ambition is likely to go unfulfilled either because he thinks there isn't room on his property or because he hates the thought of weeding and chasing bugs all summer from a vegetable plot.

Well, a family doesn't have to have a vegetable plot in order to grow their own tomatoes. It's no more necessary to have a vegetable garden in order to harvest at least ten of the favorite vegetables than it is to have an orchard in order to pick strawberries, peaches and even apples.

Tomatoes, for example, flourish and grow full size if planted one each in a 10 or 12-inch tub. A stout 1-inch square stake should be firmly anchored in the soil so that the plant can be trained and tied. A pair of these tubs will be decorative for the terrace, and more of them can be stationed wherever convenient.

One plant each of the little inch round cherry tomatoes or 2-inch long yellow pear or red plum tomato, which are good to pick and pop right into the mouth, will supply a family amply. But a tub also can accommodate a full-size tomato plant such as Moreton Hybrid, Fireball, Burpee's Big Boy, Manalucie or Rutgers.

Smaller tubs, perhaps 6 or 8 inches wide, can house peppers; these erect little plants won't need a stake. Fruits, until they are almost large enough to pick, are hidden under the thick glossy foliage.

Food Fallacies, Myths Explained By Wayne U. Home Economist

(Editor's Note This is the third in a series of six articles prepared for the Plymouth Mail by the Diet Therapy Section of the Michigan Dietetic Association on various aspects of nutrition.)

By Marqueta Huyck, assistant professor, Dept. of Home Economics, Wayne State University

Food fads and fallacies are of many types. They are the result of inaccurate conclusions based on personal experience or on insufficient laboratory evidence, or they are the result of the deliberate distortion of fact for personal gain.

Certain promoters who have something to gain by doing so, have attempted to make us believe that blackstrap molasses, yogurt and wheat germ are essential foods. They are good foods, and are commonly used by some cultural groups. If you like them, eat them by all means. If not, you'll suffer no harm if you avoid them.

Are you afraid to put hot food in the refrigerator? You needn't be. The purpose of refrigeration is to cool foods quickly and to keep them cold so they will not spoil because of harmful bacterial growth. The faster cooked food is cooled, the safer it will be.

Some additional food myths follow with brief explanations of why each idea is false.

Fallacy: Raw eggs are more digestible than cooked.

Explanation: Actually, the reverse is true of the white. Uncoagulated egg white is only about ten per cent digested.

Fallacy: Fat is difficult to digest.

Explanation: Fat takes longer to digest than either carbohydrate or protein. This can be an advantage if the next meal is several hours away. Fat is less completely digested than carbohydrate, but more so than protein. The normal person has enzymes in his intestinal tract which are capable of and do bring about its digestion. Eating too much fat at one time may give some trouble, but so will the eating of too much carbohydrate.

Fallacy: White eggs are better than brown (or vice versa).

Explanation: The difference between white and brown eggs is one of geo-

Tree Requires Lots Of Water for Growth

A mature tree loses a lot of water every day through its leaves, and may need 500 pounds of water to grow one pound of dry weight.

It's just as necessary to supply water to the tree as it is to fertilize it, points out Harold Schick, extension specialist in park management at Michigan State University.

Water all trees when needed, soaking the ground to a depth of six inches. This means running a garden hose for at least one hour around the roots of the tree.

Women Have Possession of Car 80% of Each Year

A car coming in the opposite direction, is weaving along the road, and traveling at a fairly fast rate of speed. Because of the parked cars on each side of the road, it is impossible to get out of the way, and a head-on collision is unavoidable. What can you do to save your life?

A gruesome question, but a definite possibility. It's a driving emergency that requires split-second thinking. According to safety experts, the only thing that may save a driver's life in such a predicament is to throw himself sideways across the seat, to get his chest out from behind the wheel, and turn off the ignition to lessen the chance of fire.

This and many other driving emergencies must be understood by women; after all, they are responsible for and use the car more than 80 per cent of the time during the year. Women, as well as men, may not care to discuss such emergencies but, like death and taxes, they must be acknowledged, and reckoned with when the time comes.

Another shuddering emergency that can occur with even the latest model car is a jammed gas pedal. To make matters worse, such an occurrence can happen in city traffic.

What two things should a woman driver do, and quickly, to prevent an accident and a safe exit? The first movement should be the turning off of the ignition. Then, apply hand brake and foot brake together. These movements will permit a safe stop without skidding, and within the shortest possible distance.

The next few months are known for quick downpours and thunderstorms. Wet roads and puddles can cause certain driving emergencies without warning. For example, driving through a deep puddle in the road can cause the brakes to become wet and unusable. Before wet brakes become efficient they must dry out.

If a woman driver does not have the time to stop and let wet brakes dry, she can dry them out by keeping her left foot lightly on the brake as she drives at a slow speed. After a few blocks, the friction will dry out the brake cylinders, and she will feel the brakes grabbing.

Another driving emergency

Asparagus Hits Peak Late in May

Here today, gone tomorrow! So it seems with asparagus. We can count on heavy supplies of this fresh spring vegetable for only a short period — from April through June.

Mrs. Gibbs, Detroit's Consumer Market Information Agent says that in late May asparagus is expected to be at its lowest retail price level in the Detroit area for the Michigan harvest will reach its peak.

When you shop for fresh asparagus, you will get your money's worth only if you buy good quality asparagus. Select close-tipped, fully green, firm and slender, rounded stalks of asparagus. These will give you more servings to the pound with a minimum of trimming waste.

Despite its relatively short stay at the produce counters, asparagus can be enjoyed throughout the year. Each year about 50 per cent of the fresh asparagus crop is canned, and about 15 per cent is frozen for your after-season enjoyment. Frozen and canned asparagus can add variety to your menus, and give a "company" meal a touch of elegance.

You may find canned and frozen asparagus somewhat more expensive than some other canned and frozen vegetables. For this reason, it will pay you to examine the various styles and the cost and use of each. The longer the size of stalk and the larger the proportion of tips or heads to stalks, the more expensive the can or package is. The style of canned or frozen asparagus you choose can depend on how you wish to serve the vegetable. For soups and creamed dishes, cut spears or center cuts are a good choice and the least expensive style to buy.

It's easy to serve—Serve with melted butter for a simple but delicious dish.

Serve it according to the Flemish custom — with a hot hard-cooked egg, cut in half, and melted butter. Several sauces are used as accompaniments to asparagus — butter sauce, Hollandaise sauce, cheese sauce, or hot mayonnaise sauce.

Syracuse Big-leaguers

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (UP) — Two former Syracuse University baseball players are major leaguers this year. Pitcher Walt Craddock, formerly of the Kansas City Athletics and Dutch Dotterer, catches for the Cincinnati Redlegs.

that can lead to trouble, if not corrected by keeping a cool head, is driving off the pavement of the highway onto the soft shoulder. This is done accidentally by many drivers, and the first reaction is to swerve sharply back onto the highway.

This is wrong since a driver can easily swing across the highway and land in the other lane.

What must be done is to ease up on the gas and steer to the right so that both left wheels are about three feet from the pavement. Then, applying the brakes intermittently to slow up speed, it's possible to steer back onto the highway safely and with couple control.

These are but a few of the driving emergencies that may crop up unexpectedly. However, they can be corrected only with cool thinking and safe reactions. Of course, driving at a safe, slow speed will rule out many emergencies which come about through careless driving habits and speed.

Women Wear (Out) The Shoes in Family

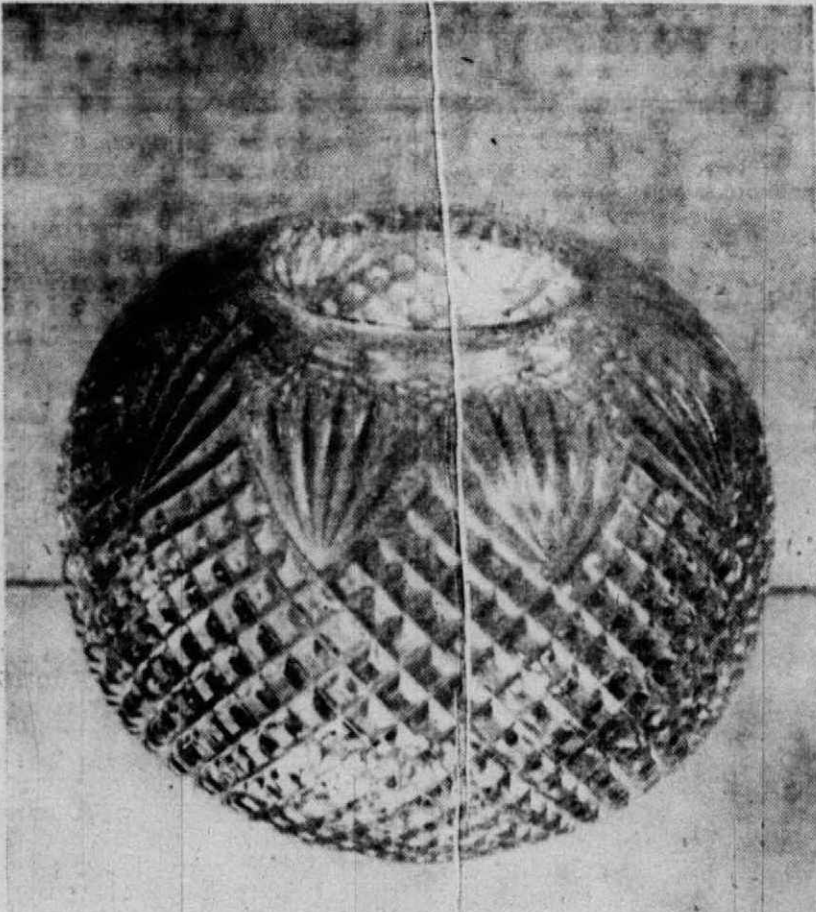

When it comes to purchasing shoes in the United States, women outbuy the men by a better than 2 to 1 ratio.

In a report which will be published in the American Peoples Encyclopedia 1958 Yearbook, women are shown to purchase an average of 4.4 pairs of shoes each year. The average sales for men are 1.76 pairs per year.

The fashion trend for pointed toes in women's shoes has caused the retail sales to reach the $4 million level annually. The average retail price women pay is six dollars per pair.

Americans still rate as the No. 1 shoe customers in the world. The average per capita consumption of leather shoes in the United States is 3.43 pairs a year. The world per capita consumption average is less than one pair per person.

ROSE BOWL of pressed glass, made between 1840 and 1900, is probably late Victorian. These find a place now on collector's shelves as well as serving their original purposes. Satin glass rose bowls are most coveted by collectors.

Fancy Bowls for Roses Or Collector's Shelves

Roses, even centuries ago, when they bloomed only in June, always have been a favorite flower and one that almost everyone finds irresistible to pick. It is not surprising then that a vase should have been designed and named for them.

Rose bowl is the name given to the perfectly round, globular vase with the edges around the opening deeply crimped. The rose bowl was designed to hold roses easily in the days when garden roses were picked with short stems, provide them with adequate water and, most important, display the full beauty of the flowers.

The rose bowl pictured is of pressed glass and may have been made anytime between 1840 and 1900.

Collector's rose bowls are usually 5 1/2 inches high, 6 1/2 inches wide and 6 1/2 inches high, 7 inches wide. The latter is about maximum size for any rose bowl. They were made in smaller sizes, each one graduating by about an inch, to as small as 2 1/4 inches high and wide.

Most coveted of the rose bowls made during the Victorian period are those of satin glass. These are the typical shape in pastel colors. More rare today are clear or satin glass decorated with garlands of glass leaves and flowers or fruit. The decorated and the plain satin glass rose bowls are more expensive than clear pressed or blown glass whenever they can be found nowadays.

New Set of Buttons Brighten Up Clothes

A change of accessories is a long-standing recommendation for varying the appearance and also effective in changing the buttons on a blouse, dress or coat.

A simple, inexpensive cotton blouse or dress will acquire an elegance that is linked with simplicity if good pearl buttons are sewed on in place of the original ones. Imitation pearl and plastic buttons are common today on ready-made clothes. Replacing them with real pearl buttons makes the undecorated cotton dress or blouse, however inexpensive, something to be worn with pride anywhere.

A collection of good pearl buttons in small blouse size, slightly larger (1/2-inch diameter) for dresses, and 1-inch for coats and jackets is convenient to have on hand. Plain topped buttons with a shank are more dressy; pearl buttons with two or four holes in the center are preferred for sports and play clothes. Keep the two smallest sizes on hand in white and smoky pearl. Search also for in-between shades that are creamy or a light gunmetal which may be most effective on certain pastel shades such as lavender.

If last summer's black shantung dress or suit has self-covered buttons, try dark smoky pearl ones instead this year. The garment takes on an amazingly fresh appearance. The self-covered buttons so general on any silk or a linen dress are bound to wear out on the edges from being cleaned. But even before this happens, a set of more ornamental buttons might be tried.

A stunning change on either silk or linen would be Satsuma buttons. These are china decorated with a branch of pink cherries, a group of iris in purple and lavender, some green stems of bamboo or other graceful flower or leaf motif.

Copper, silver and brass buttons are distinctive of woolen dresses, suits and coats. Watch for unusual ones wherever you may be. Copper buttons with simple designs are displayed everywhere throughout the Southwest and silver ones are almost as common. Buttons from Civil War uniforms are good on blazers and coats. Brass or silver colored buttons with a leaf, flower or other simple motif in raised design are more generally obtainable. They do more for a solid color gabardine or other wool coat than the self-colored plastic buttons of the manufacturer's choice. Jeweled buttons, an inch or more in diameter, have their place too. One or two jeweled ones are all the detail needed for a dressy blouse. They are not out of place on the jacket of a good city suit if the color of the button blends with the material.

Beware the novelty button chosen just for the sake of change. Large plastic hooks and eyes, fruits (a set with an apple, cherry, strawberry, etc.) are attention getting and become tiresome. Youngsters will love novelty buttons or fasteners so long as they are easy to manage. The grown-up who buys carved bone, leather or other unusual but handsome buttons wherever and whenever she sees them will find something on which to sew them sooner or later. Always buy one more button than a garment needs in case of loss, breakage or chipping. When buying unusual buttons for future use, six or nine generally proves to be enough.

the new electric water heater way

In home after home there's a new electric water heater. And the families in these homes enjoy all the hot water they want.

You can be confident that an electric water heater, plus Edison's new Super Supply Plan, will provide round-the-clock hot water for all your family's needs, too. Then you can plan your day more efficiently—do the laundry, wash dishes, schedule showers when you want to.

Here's the convenient, modern way to GET IT HOT... GET A LOT for an operating cost as low as $3.88 per month.

- Only electric water heaters give you all these important advantages:
- ☑ Efficient—the heat goes into the water
 - ☑ Fast—new, more efficient heating units
 - ☑ Install anywhere—need not be near a chimney
 - ☑ Outer shell—cool to the touch all over
 - ☑ Long life—meet Edison's rigid standards
 - ☑ Edison maintains electrical parts without charge
 - ☑ Automatic—all the time

ANOTHER SATELLITE rocketed into orbit! Exciting news to read about, isn't it? And did you know that the Bell Telephone System plays a big part in these historical events? The transmitters inside the miniature "moons" use transistors, an invention of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. And a satellite radio that is supposed to transmit indefinitely—years and years—gets its power from solar batteries, which Bell Telephone scientists invented to turn the sun's energy to electricity. These Bell System skills that contribute so much to the Space Age are the same ones that help make your telephone service the best in the world.

PLANNING A TRIP FOR MEMORIAL DAY WEEK END? If so, you'll want to make the most of every free minute and leave all your worries behind. So plan the details in advance, by telephone. Make Long Distance calls to fix up reservations and settle the other details of travel. They're worth far more than their modest cost. And, if you happen to be delayed along the way, telephone ahead to say you'll be late in arriving.

MAYBE YOU'VE SEEN this unusual motor vehicle carrying the telephone company emblem. Unusual, because it has three wheels and is only a third the length of a family car. Because it is economical to run, can "turn on a dime," park almost anywhere, and get a repairman to his destination quickly, Michigan Bell is trying them out in larger cities... another example of how the company tries to keep down the cost of telephone service.

NOTHING SO NEW—NOTHING SO NICE—NEAR THE PRICE!

THE '58 CHEVROLET is the one honest-to-goodness new car in the low-price field—the only one with beautiful new gull-wing styling. And you'll find it offers the year's most rewarding advances in ride and performance.

It stands out like a newly minted coin. Its clean-etched beauty—its flashing reflexes—give it a new look . . . a new feel.

Yet, with all its exclusive advances in styling and engineering, this new Chevrolet is priced surprisingly low. In the models most people buy it's actually the lowest priced of the low-priced three.* So any way you look at this new Chevy, you just can't make a more beautiful buy.

Every model gives you a choice of two all-new rides that are as smooth as cornsilk, an all-new Body by Fisher that's lower, longer and wider, an all-new Safety-Girder frame that's X-built for extra rigidity.

If you haven't yet driven a new Chevy, don't puff off the pleasure any longer.

The only all-new car in the low-price field.

Famous Wayside Inn Open Again After Big Fire

Tourists will find one of the country's most famous spots available to them again this summer with the re-opening of the Wayside Inn at South Sabley, Mass. The inn is the colonial hostelry made famous by the poet Longfellow. The combination inn and museum has been out of action for three years as a result of a fire in 1955. It was the work of Plymouthite Edward C. Cutler of Ridge Rd. that first restored the building. The late Henry Ford purchased the inn in 1923, added a large dining wing and ballroom at the rear and revived the oldest traditions of hospitality.

Cutler was Ford's personal architect. Also purchased at that time were surrounding buildings of the same period, making the Wayside Inn the center of a genuine historical community.

The oldest sections of the inn (recent restorations indicated that it grew in three stages, all built before 1750) have been restored as a museum. Visitors will be able to distinguish from carefully exposed beams and posts, the stages of the old house's growth from a two-room public house, to four, then eight, then 10 and 12 rooms. No longer the "rambling, tumble-down old building" Longfellow described in 1862, the furnishings and decorations are yet very like those he found familiar.

Samuel Howe, a carpenter, is believed to have built the first inn before 1700. It was a simple two-room structure, taproom below, chamber above, where as many as five travelers were slept at one time. The property was handed down through the Howe male line for more than 170 years.

At Lyman Howe's death in 1861 the inn fell to heirs, then to tenants who opened the inn to travelers for a fee. In 1897 Edward Lemon bought it and restored it to its full life as an inn.

Damaged severely by fire on Dec. 22, 1955, the old inn has been carefully restored to its colonial character under the National Trust for Historic Preservation with special funds granted by the Ford Foundation. Today's visitors will see the inn minus the dormers and porches which had been added by a Victorian innkeeper. And, for lovers of old houses, the restored inn will offer special lessons in 17th century building.

Under the direction of antiquities expert Roy Baker, the old inn's original posts and beams have been kept, wherever fire damage allowed. New Hampshire forests were scoured to find suitable wide pine boards like those used by the original builders. Even windows were put together with mortise and tenon joints, exactly as in the original construction.

Wayside Inn, now maintained as a non-profit organization will be open all year. Museum rooms will be open for a small fee from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Luncheons and dinners can be served to as many as 250 guests in three dining rooms. Ten guest rooms will be available.

Back to the Budget

Michigan's 1958 legislature will return June 12-13 still in confusion over the kind of record it will write in an election year.

Still hanging fire are the State Police budget and a change in unemployment compensation benefits.

Strangely, the fights on both points are among Republicans with the Democrats waiting on the sidelines for campaign issues if Republicans fail to answer the needs of the state.

Major issues of the budget are all settled: the state will cut services and layoff employees in a time of desperate need for economy.

There remains the most delicate area of all, the State Police. The Senate says the state must slash the budget equally among agencies or face financial disaster.

House members, headed by Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) are insisting on the restoration of the slashed funds as administrative sources say it will mean 100 less troopers. "The Senate just doesn't understand the need," said Phillips.

The State Police have achieved a national and world reputation as a top law enforcement agency. Troopers work an average of nine hours a day. They must write their reports that extra hour after eight of patrolling highways, answering trouble calls, fighting crime.

Perhaps most important is the enviable record in reduction of death and accidents on the highways since the State Police Department was expanded two years ago. While it is not claimed that the entire improvement can be credited to the State Police, it is easy to see they played an important part.

Reduction of death from traffic accidents began to improve immediately.

In 1956, when more State Police took to the highways, there was an improvement of 269 in the death records.

This is 13.3 percent. In 1957, there were 209 fewer deaths than in 1956. Through May 1 this year, there is another improvement of 93, or a 21 percent gain.

Since State Police ranks were increased, 571 people are alive who would have been killed if the death rate from accidents had continued its 1955 pace.

After weeks of dispute, the House and Senate are $116,000 apart on the State Police budget. Phillips said the House would stick with the higher figure, the Senate insists on the cut.

The Senate position represents a compromise while the House figure is its original demand. Even if the House wins, the State Police will get less than last year.

The issue must be settled in the June 12-13 session. The fiscal year ends June 30 and the State Police will have no funds with which to operate if no action is taken.

Unemployment Compensation is the second issue of the session June 12-13.

Republicans have been holding off on anything definite, waiting for Congress to act. They hope to make the best use of monies which may be available in federal plans not yet determined.

There is controversy about the federal plan; whether to send the lump-sum money to the states for distribution or whether to use it as a supplement bearing the federal tag.

Republicans in Michigan have sponsored a maximum nine-week extension of benefits at 75 per cent of the rate of present benefits.

Now a behind-the-scenes move is expected to produce a new Republican bill at the two-day session in June. It will propose extending 100 per cent benefits for 13 weeks.

MEMORIAL DAY

If Your Name Is 'Hildegard'

By ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D. she wrote them down, with the aid of a monk and a nun, prompted, so she said, by an inner voice. And so a work, written in a hodge-podge of German and Latin came into being, and Hildegard chose as its title the word "Scivias" which she made up from the Latin "nosce vias," meaning "know the ways," hinting at "know the ways of the Lord."

At the appearance of "Scivias" Hildegard's fame grew by leaps and bounds; visitors of all stations of life came to see her, letters came pouring in asking for advice in both physical and mental distress. Hildegard gave forthright answers, if needed dressing down even the high clergy that, in her time, was corrupt and dissolute. Renowned for her medical knowledge, she left a huge collection of the most bizarre recipes that throw a light of what medicine was like in the 12th century. "Burying a lion's heart in the house insures against being struck by lightning," she alleged, "because the lion always roars when it hears thunder." "The heart of a weasel, dried, and mixed with wax and put in the ears, cures headaches and deafness," while the mouse is an unfailing remedy for epilepsy. However, some of her notions make sense: she holds that swamp water must be boiled before drinking.

Born at Bockheim on the Nahe in 1098 in Germany, probably of the noble family of the Spanheims, Hildegard was a sickly child. She had trouble walking, and her eye sight was bad. Posing a different problem to her parents than a healthy child would, she was put under the care of Jutta, abbess of the convent of St. Disbad at Bingen whose successor she eventually became.

Being of such fragile health, she was left pretty much to her own devices. Soon she told those around her that she had visions, visions not in her dreams, but while wide awake. But as her listeners showed doubt and amazement, she soon kept her visions to herself. Only when she was in her forties,

"TAKE THESE GOGGLES

"I'M WEARING..."

They're the best made.

When I bought 'em, they showed me some cheaper ones but I'm not one to take chances on my eyes to save a couple of dollars.

I figure insurance on my car and my home the same way. It takes me a long time to pay for a car — and almost a lifetime of hard work before I'll have my house paid for.

So, I'm not interested in how cheap I can buy insurance but HOW THOROUGHLY I'm protected after I buy it.

That's why I do business with a qualified, independent insurance agent. First, I figure that he's a professional man, knows all the ins and outs about his business. Then, too, I figure that if all the biggest companies trust him enough to let him bind them in writing, I can put my faith in him, too.

And, I feel I'm getting the best buy of all... my car and my house are safe and no ifs, ands or buts about it. And, my insurance agent will be right there if I need him, just like my family doctor is.

I figure it's important to be sure about your insurance and the professional knowledge of the man you buy it from.

Cedar Chest Can Protect Wool Clothes

If you're storing winter clothes, especially woollens, for the summer, you may be wondering "just how effective is a cedar chest" for moth protection.

According to Bernetta Kahabka, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State University, cedar chests make good pest-proof containers primarily because of their airtight construction.

Cedar-oil vapor kills small larvae but is not effective against larger ones. So before storing be sure woollens are free of larvae—the destructive stage of the moth. Dry clean or wash garments to be sure they're clean when stored.

If your cedar chest is several years old, treat it as you would any other storage area. Clean it thoroughly—perhaps vacuuming is the best method for removing lint and dirt, the food supply of moth larvae. Vacuuming will also remove any deposits of insects or eggs. Burn contents of the vacuum bag after you finish.

Then spray the inside of the chest with a three to five percent D. D. T. solution. Spray enough to leave a cloud or fog in the chest.

For further protection of clothes you can use flakes, crystals or balls, sprays or rinses on garments to be stored.

A good cedar chest is made of red cedar. At least 70 percent of the chest proper is made of 3/4 inch heartwood. Of course the outside can be veneered with hard woods like walnut or mahogany without affecting the pest-proofing value of the cedar-oil vapors.

'Life Begins At Forty'

I TALKED YESTERDAY with Ruth Stout, 73. She's a lively, lucid woman who is having her first taste of literary fame as a result of writing the popular gardening book, "How to Have a Green Thumb Without an Aching Back." Miss Stout, sister of mystery writer Rex Stout, has a strong face and a trim figure. She lives with her husband, a retired psychologist, in a cozy country place near West Redding, Conn.

Although she looks and talks like a determined New Englander she's originally from Kansas and bears a scar on one finger received while helping Carry Nation smash a saloon window in Topeka back in 1902. But Carry's influence must have faded somewhere along the way for Miss Stout makes no claim to being a teetotaler.

With her book a hit she has embarked on a new career as a speaker before gardening clubs. In the past year she's given about 40 talks around the country, and has had hundreds of callers who want to discuss the "mulch gardening method" described in her book.

BUT I WANT TO talk about Miss Stout's barn. Several years ago she and her husband converted the roomy, unused barn behind their home into a summer guest house complete with four bedrooms, a big living room, a kitchen, and a bath. They originally intended it for family and friends, but soon were making it available to acquaintances and finally to friends of acquaintances. It wasn't long until complete strangers wended their way to this hospitable barn. And the quarters were always free to anyone who wanted to come for a stay and bring his own food and linens.

Some who came simply wanted a change. Others came out of curiosity. But a lot came because they were low on funds and wanted a cheap vacation in the country.

Now most of us are pretty wary when it comes to strangers. But Miss Stout and her husband put a lot of trust in the people who come to their door and so far have had no reason to regret.

During the past seven years more than 600 different people have used the barn. More than half these guests were complete strangers when they arrived — but good friends when they departed. Last year a pair of Russians who could speak no English arrived in July and stayed until October.

"People always wonder what the gimmick is," said Miss Stout with a smile. "They can't imagine anyone offering guest house privileges free of charge unless there's a string tied to it. But there are no strings. It's just that we like people and enjoy having them around. We ask nothing from visitors and simply hope they'll leave the place reasonably clean for the next guests... and they generally do."

THERE ARE A LOT of lonesome, older people who have extra quarters that are unoccupied most of the time. If they took a cue from Miss Stout and her husband and began sharing their possessions with others, they'd probably find greater pleasure and satisfaction in their retirement years.

Parkway Heights: Plan Round of Entertaining

(Covering the area bounded by Northville Road, Hines Parkway, Schoolcraft to Five Mile Road)

BY MRS. JACK GAGE GL. 3-7584

What a wonderful rain we had last Thursday—maybe we can let up on watering the green stuff for awhile. The people of Parkway Heights one talks to these bright sunny days are busy beautifying their property, houses, lawns and gardens, and what do you know, housecleaning has to make its appearance also. There will be a lot of sore muscles but it seems worth it when you observe the results. So here are a few things about some nice Plymouth township people.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thrasher of Lakeland visited friends Mr. and Mrs. Constantine of Flint. Mr. Thrasher has won his battle of a long illness and plans on getting back to work soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Garchow of Braden will be entertaining at a dinner Saturday evening for the following guests from their neighborhood: Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart, Mr. and Mrs. Winkler, Mr. and Mrs. Herter, Mr. and Mrs. Schoenborn and Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and daughter. It's so nice to hear about neighbors doing things together and being good friends.

Mr. and Mrs. David Teets of Parkhurst are planning a happy visit with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Norman. Have a safe trip to Columbus, O., and back Mr. and Mrs. Teets.

Evelyn Johnson of Jamestown, N. Y., and Olive Shale from Wayne spent the day and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Money of Parkhurst. After dinner a Mr. and Mrs. George Demorest of Detroit surprised the Moneys with a visit. The couples hadn't seen each other for about twenty years.

Margaret Orndorff of Northville Road has returned from a delightful stay in Newark, O., with her friends Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rickett. She also saw some of her relatives.

Mrs. Melvin Krumm of Parkhurst has returned from an operation at an Ann Arbor Hospital. During her hospitalization and recuperation at home the help of Mrs. Gould and Mrs. Feight has been indispensable.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bucon, former residents of Clemons Road, arrived Monday by plane from California to attend the funeral of Mr. Bucon's father in Detroit. The couple contacted a few of their former neighbors to say hello.

Walter Abate, Jr. returned to Oakland, Calif. where he intends to enlist in the Coast Guard. He spent two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Abate of Clemons. The Abate family attended the wedding of Jim Pinkerton and Sue Daley of Plymouth.

Mrs. Walter Packer entertained her birthday club to celebrate the birthday of Elizabeth. The following ladies were guests: Mrs. M. Tim Sullivan, Mrs. Don Melow, Mrs. George Britcher, Mrs. William Krause, Sarah Gayde, Mrs. Les Evans, Miss Hildur Carlson and Mrs. Carl Hartwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh King and Mrs. W. S. Pickering from Colorado will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage for dessert and coffee on Thursday evening.

James Pope is busily engaged in conditioning his boat for the sailing season. Mrs. Pope used to help him scrape and paint, but since their young son arrived she has other duties to perform. We hope that it won't be long before the whole Pope family can relax and go sailing over the waters around Mt. Clemons where their boat is moored.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Ritter of Five Mile road are entertaining about 40 guests of the Plymouth Eastern Star chapter at their home for a card party and social evening on Saturday. Ron Ritter, their son is home on leave from Fort Hood, Tex., for about 10 days. When he returns to camp he will have a light weeks more of advance training.

Correction: an error was made in our column last week. Bill Farrant is attending Wayne State University in Detroit rather than Ypsi as stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minehart and guests are attending the Spring Choral Concert at the Henry Ford Community College in Dearborn Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Vorosh visited their son, Stephen, at Houghton College, then travelled across the new Mackinac bridge, then criss-crossed the Upper Peninsula from Iron Mt. to the Locks. They returned Thursday after their restful week's vacation.

Mrs. Von Stein of Sheridan road is entertaining her Green Thumb Club on Monday. Her guests will be Mrs. Albert Pint, Mr. Dohman from Detroit, Adele Miller, Bernice Weidman, Dorothy Gemperline, Louise Samuelson and Jenny Cramer of Plymouth. Martha Vargha will also be a guest from Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick will be hosts at a dinner Saturday evening for Mrs. W. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. H. King and Katherine Todd.

Here ye people of Parkway Heights—this is your column. I am trying to contact all of you, but in case I don't, please call me. You don't have to wait for spectacular news—we are all interested in each other. I'll be expecting to hear from you before Friday since that's when the Plymouth Mail starts printing our news items.

DAY CAMP VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT BY WESTERN WAYNE COUNTY EASTER SEAL SOCIETY

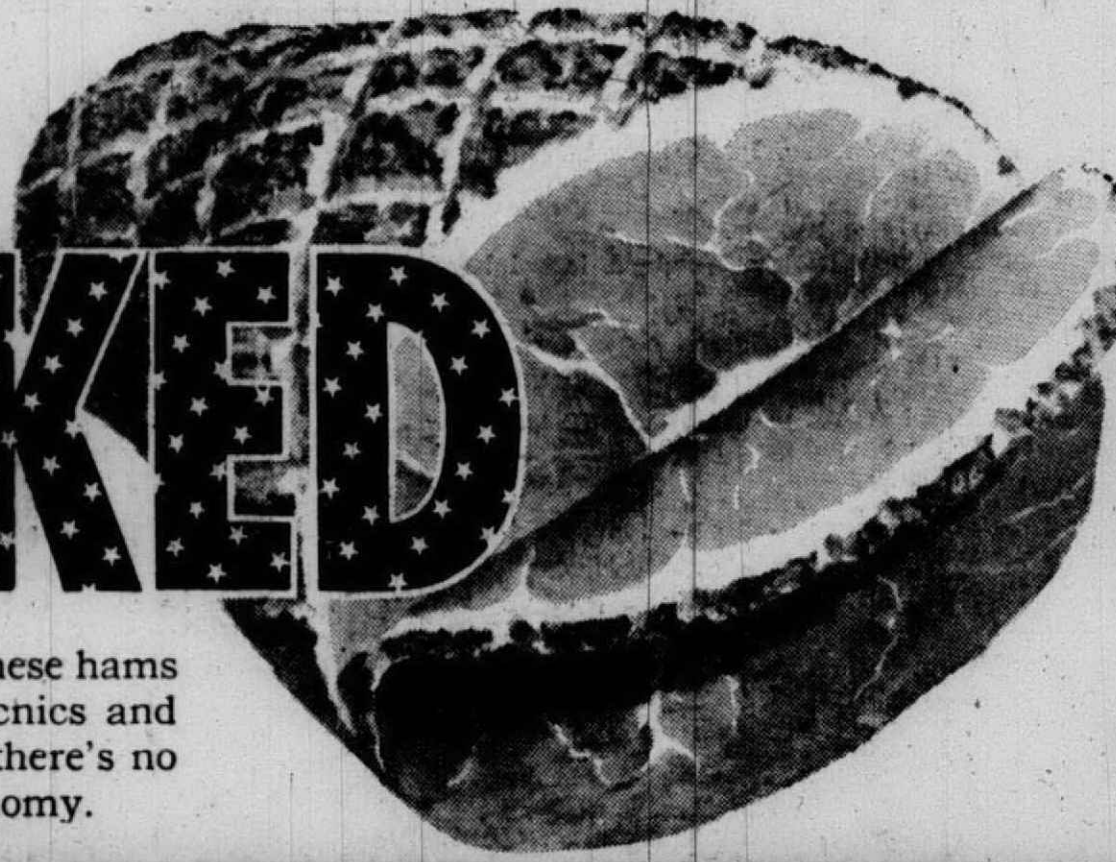

A meeting for those interested in giving volunteer service at the Day Camp sponsored by the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County has been set for Wednesday, May 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Easter Seal Center, 2545 E. Hyde Parke Drive, Inkster.

The society has been given local support through the efforts of William Sempliner of Canton township, legal advisor and member of the board of directors and Neva Lovewell and Martin L. Kirchhoff, both on the board of directors. According to Sempliner, D. James Greiner, a teacher of handicapped children in the Ecorse public schools has been appointed camp director. The camp is to be held at the Easter Seal Center from July 7 through August 1. Children between the ages of 4 and 12 will come to the center two days each week during the camp period. The program, with suitable adaptations to the physical condition of each child, will be set up to provide as nearly as possible the experiences children generally get from camping: nature study, cookouts, group projects and games and even a modified form of hiking. Older children whose interests may be different will come to camp one day a week, separate from the younger group, for some of the same activities, with the addition of more advanced handicraft. Many volunteers, group leaders and helpers, craft, music or art instructors, kitchen helpers and transportation aides will be needed. Additional information can be obtained by calling the Easter Seal Center, Parkway 2-3055 any week day between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Sunshine Area: Gardening, Fishing, Parties, Dancing — Name It, They Do It

BY JANE MALEY
GL 3-4952

They say that "variety is the spice of life" and we do have it in this week's column. Houses are really buzzing in the Sunshine Area with gardens and such. I simply must get a glimpse of those gardens one of these days. No doubt I could profit a great deal.

Here comes the first (I hope) fish story of the season. Mrs. Kenneth Kahrl visited her sister, Mrs. Leon Terry's cottage at Lake Leelanau. Also in the party were Mrs. Lauren Wells, Mrs. Lloyd Gates, and Mrs. Harry Neely. They were all out fishing when Mrs. Terry (of Ypsilanti) caught a fine trout. The other women had as much of a thrill at her good fortune as she did. I might add, she won a plaque for herself. Good fishing!

We are happy to announce H. Philip Barney is at home recuperating very nicely. He was discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital after a week's confinement. Get well quickly!

The Russell Shade family is very busy these days. The main purpose of their trip to Potteryville Cemetery near Lansing is erecting a headstone for Mrs. Shade's brother, Lloyd, who served in the Korean War. I understand he had just four more months to serve before his release. Fate intervened. He and a group were enroute to Washington from California when their plane crashed just eight miles outside of Washington. The family will also decorate other graves in the same cemetery.

The "Couples Club" from St. John's Episcopal Church held a square dance at the Junior High school. A good time was had by all. Mr. and Mrs. Carson who teach the night school dance class at the high school did the calling. Refreshments were served. This get together was followed by a short meeting afterwards at the church. Mrs. Bonamico tells me there is talk of a pot-luck supper for the next affair. Keep this in mind folks, that should be loads of fun!

Michael Toth, a 5th grader at Smith school became 11 years-old on Monday, May 19. His mother, Mrs. Mike Toth, informed me that he plays baseball on the school team and is also active in a branch of the Scouts called the "Webelos." He likes school very much which is gratifying indeed. Happy Birthday, Michael!

Mrs. T. Brewer's oldest daughter Pat went on her first scouting trip. She enjoyed it very much and I am sure she can hardly wait until the next trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hanchett are newcomers in our neighborhood. They hail from Superior Township near Ypsilanti. Their son Charles is married and attends Albion College. They have just been in their new home five weeks so let's give them a cheery welcome to Plymouth and wish them much happiness in the future.

Mrs. William Bovill returned from a two-week visit with her mother Mrs. Brooks, and her sister Mrs. Mablin, of Petersburg, Ontario.

Cathy Thompson has been on the "Annual" staff at the Plymouth High school for the past year. June 7 they are having a pot-luck dinner for the members of the staff and their parents. I hope it is a good turnout. Cathy graduates in June. Good luck to her! Nancy Thompson, her sister, spent a rainy weekend at a ranch two miles past Ann Arbor on a camp-out trip. Even the inclement weather failed to dampen the spirits of the group. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Tanner went along. Maybe next time the weatherman will be on your side!

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennis of East Jordan, Mich., visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dennis. They like Plymouth very much. Also, during the course of their stay they stopped at the home of Mrs. Nell Thompson.

Mrs. Lawrence Hill gave a baby shower for Janet Burda of Garden City, formerly of Plymouth. Fourteen guests attended and everyone spent a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Howard Town purchased a new badminton set.

She expects all of the neighbors over to try it out. Don't all shove at once! Her son Wee is quite a collector. At present he owns one turtle and 10 fish.

The whole Town family is thrilled at receiving a 2 year old wire-haired terrier called "Bouncer." He is a well behaved and very intelligent animal. Guess who gave it to them — their good neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. William Norman.

Mrs. Ina Culver had house guests on Sunday. They were Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Coy of Dexter.

LeRoy Woodard is mighty busy these days building a 14 ft. boat in his garage. His wife tells me he is doing all the work himself. The outside of the boat, when finished, will be fibreglas. It will be used for fishing, etc. Your reporter had a glance at it from a distance and it looks shipshape. Get out those fishing rods, boys, line forms on the right!

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mault spent the weekend in Sanford, Mich. (about 138 miles from Plymouth). They visited with Mr. Mault's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Musser and his sister Mrs. Ida Leslie.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price and family of Pontiac, spent the weekend with Mrs. Price's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rathburn.

George Parsons, Jr., 13 year-old 7th grade student at the Junior High is a shop work enthusiast. He has completed for his mother a pancake flipper, a spice rack, and a small book-rack, and for his little sister a footstool. He is now in the process of finishing a first-aid kit for camp this summer. He is handy to have around!

We are very proud to proclaim that Lorraine Konke has received a scholarship to Eastern Michigan University. Lorraine now attends Plymouth High and will graduate in June. Our congratulations to her.

Mary Reis of Toledo, Ohio, an Eastern Michigan University roommate of Dorothy Sue Mandt, was the weekend guest of the Ernest Mandt's.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Kelley and children along with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Norgrove and their children, took a weekend trip to Niagara Falls. They enjoyed all the sights and had lovely weather the whole trip.

Mrs. Libbie Showers' sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Perkins, stopped for a couple of days with Mrs. Showers from Petersburg, Fla. on their way home to Mishawaka, Ind. It was a short visit but a pleasant one.

We are delighted that Mrs. Rhea Johnston's son Donald is at home after his bout in Wayne General Hospital. He was a victim of an automobile accident April 28, and is coming along very well. Donald wishes to thank everyone for their many cards and kind letters during his illness. He would appreciate visitors as he will be indisposed for some time. We hope he will be up and about sooner than expected.

After an exciting baseball game in which the 8th graders beat the 7th graders, Girl Scout troop 12 met at the home of Mrs. Eugene Gulbransen to cook out in her backyard. Each of the 12 girls enjoyed all the activities. Mrs. Gulbransen also informed me of a trip the 3rd graders of Smith School (Mrs. Leyna's class) took. They went by chartered bus to the Children's Museum and also to the Detroit Historical Museum. The chaperones (who enjoyed themselves as much as the children) included Mrs. Holmes, Mrs. Vick and Mrs. Gulbransen, all of this area.

Mrs. David Agnew's daughter, Mary, was home from Western Michigan. This is her first year at Western and she is taking a secretarial course.

A belated Mother's Day item — Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Amos spent Mother's Day with Mrs. Amos's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Martin of Lewisburg, O. They also made a short jaunt to Richmond, Ind.

Smith School held a kindergarten round-up (the signing up of new children for next fall.) The room mothers worked diligently for this good cause. Another noteworthy project was the fine play given by Miss Hopkins' 2nd grade class. The play depicted the teaching of good health habits. Each and every child in the class had a part in it. It was truly delightful, and Miss Hopkins is to be commended on her fine work.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foster of Ann Arbor trail entertain-

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — Motorists in one Wisconsin city received 3,685 gallons of free gas during a recent month because of faulty meters, the state weights and measures department reported.

The department said a check of 34 gasoline pumps in the unidentified city showed that 26 of them were "giving away" a total of 3,685 gallons for the month. This represented a financial loss of $92 to filling station owners, the report said.

ed at a wedding reception on May 17 for their nephew and niece, Richard and Marilyn Kottke of Lake Orion. About fifty relatives and friends attended from Detroit, Lake Orion, Davisburg and Plymouth.

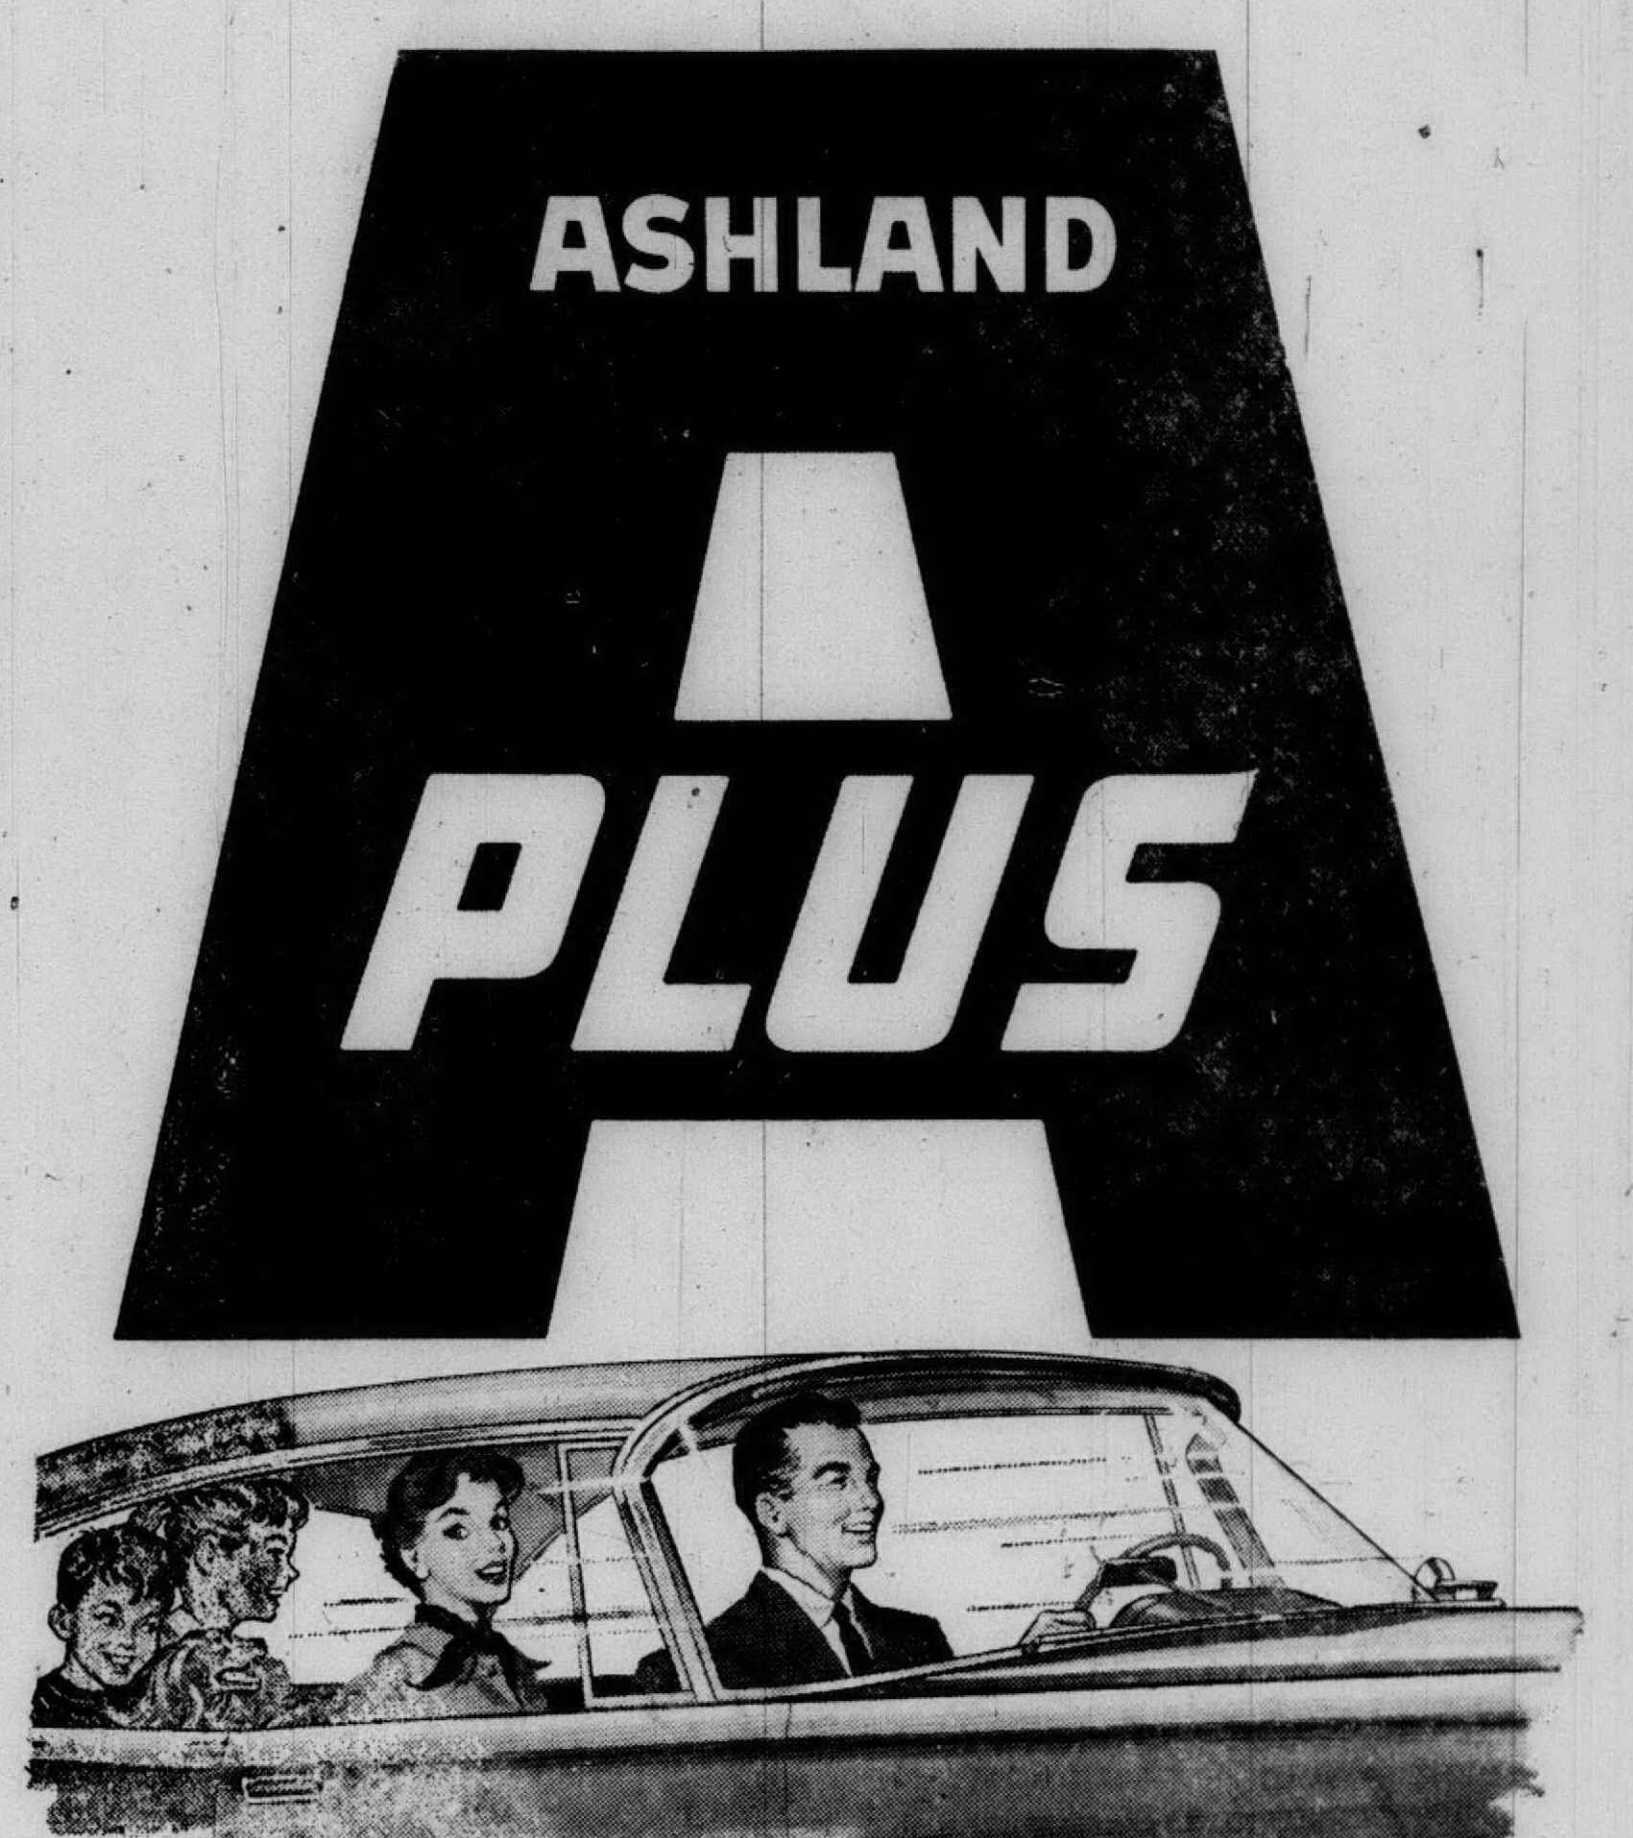

Mrs. Erland Bridge of Hartsough entertained Mrs. Charles Power, Mrs. Carl Badger, Mrs. Clifford Schriener and Mrs. William Phalen for lunch.

Twelve Navy Mothers of Plymouth journeyed to Royal Oak for the annual joint installation of officers, at which 12 clubs were represented.

Harold Hubbard was representing his three youngsters Wendy Cathy, and Chuck the other evening. He lined them all up for a good talking to when to and behold, Wendy, the youngest member piped up and said, "O. K. Sergeant!" (She probably meant Sergeant Bilko.) How quickly they catch on!

This is the kind of bright remarks yours truly wishes for the column. If any of our area residents can supply me with them I would be very grateful. A humorous note injected into the column might perk it up a bit. Hope to see you next week.
