

Expect Big Vote at School Board Election

Two Precincts Instead Of One Being Opened

What may be the largest turnout for a school board race in the Plymouth Community School District is possible next Monday when nine people attempt to gain three vacancies on a newly enlarged board.

A second polling place that will be opened for the first time in the district is expected to help swell ranks of the electors. Gallimore Elementary School on Sheldon Rd. in Canton Township will be opened for voting along with the high school which has been the only place of polling in past years.

Last year a new board election record was set when 946 went to the polls. With the ballots being brought closer to many voters next Monday, the number could easily go over 1,000.

Residents of Canton Township living in the district are this year expected to turn out in large numbers in an attempt to get at least one representative on the seven-member board.

Outside of the concerted effort being made in Canton Township, there has been no loud campaigning as of today.

There are two separate races for the school board. Those going to the polls must know what precinct they are in in order to vote.

There is a race between two men for a single three-year term. This is a race between the only incumbent candidate, Harold Fischer, and probably the best known of all the candidates, Perry Richwine.

Fischer has been president of the board for the past two years and has valuable experience. Richwine has served in many city posts, including mayor, commissioner and judge, and is an attorney as well as First Federal Savings and Loan vice-president.

The second grouping on the ballot will be the seven people (five men and two women) seeking the two vacancies that will expire in four years. They are John G. Batsakis, Miss Margaret Dunning, Arthur F. Haeske, Wesley Kaiser, Mrs. Clara Scharmen, Richard L. Range and Robert R. Soth.

Biographical sketches of all candidates will be found on page 8, Section 1 and a statement presenting their platform is printed inside this issue.

City Commission Approves First Half Million Dollar Budget

A record high budget exceeding a half million dollars was approved by the city commission Monday night — and as a result, property owners can be faced with the unhappy situation of paying a lower tax rate but still paying higher taxes than ever before.

Approved was a budget totaling $514,370, some $34,000 higher than the current year's.

The commission has approved the lowering of the tax rate from 15.5 mills to 13.5 mills. But the lower tax rate won't mean any savings. The city will still collect $53,000 more in property tax revenue than it did last year.

This situation is brought about by the highly-debated "equalization factor" which the state and county taxation commissions add to local assessments.

Adding up the real and personal property assessments, adding the county and state equalization, the city has a valuation this year of about $25,700,000.

The city does not need to apply the state equalization to its own tax collection, but commissioners decided that the equalization was needed to balance this year's budget. Even then, the balance was trying and long-suffering.

Many meetings were held to go over City Manager Albert Glassford's recommendations. There was a long list of projects that needed to be done — and $19,000 worth of salary increases asked.

All employees except three department heads were given five percent raises besides their normal yearly step-up increases. Hourly employees, now unionized had also asked for their 44-hour week to be shortened to 40 hours. Commissioners compromised at 42 hours.

One important omission in the budget is the long-planned purchase of the Christian Science Church property next to city hall. For years the city has asked for first chance at buying the property when it is for sale. But commissioners now find that the money should be used for other purposes and decided to abandon purchase plans.

Here is how the new budget is divided:

Public safety (police, fire, inspections), $161,361, or 31.5 percent of the total budget; Public works, $156,200, 30.5 percent of budget; General government, $117,885, 22.9 percent of budget; Parks & recreation, $22,800, 4.4 percent of budget.

MEMORIAL DAY 1958 drew one of the largest crowds in the celebration's history here as hundreds watched the parade and attended the Kellogg Park program. Pictured is part of the crowd listening to the speaker, Publisher Paul Chandler, whose address appears in Section 2. Navy Mothers honored the Navy dead at a Plymouth Rd. bridge ceremony preceding the parade.

Insurance Company Moves In

Plymouth grew a little bit larger this week when it became the home office for a pair of related insurance companies.

The American Hospital Medical Benefit and Community Life Insurance Co. last weekend moved part of its equipment into the ultra-modern new quarters on Plymouth Rd., just west of Edward Hines Drive. The office started Monday.

Located in the Buhl Building in Detroit ever since it started 20 years ago, the insurance firm will complete its move here by June 15.

Construction work is still continuing on the upper level of the two-story building that overlooks Riverside Park. But on the lower level there are 35 office workers on the job under the direction of John Herb, office manager.

There will be about two dozen more people coming, including the executives.

Several Plymouth residents have been hired into the office force, but most of the workers are Detroiters who were with the company before its move. One of the vice-presidents, Charles A. Engstrom, lives on Elm St. in Plymouth.

Herb explains that there still is lots of work needed to complete the building, along with landscaping. An open house will be held in the future.

Sewer, Water for School Seem Assured

From all indications, it finally appears that the Helen Farrand Elementary School now under construction north of Schoolcraft Rd. will be able to open on schedule next fall.

Over an hour and a half of debate took place at a special board of education meeting Monday night between representatives of the Fred E. Greenspan Building Co. and board members concerning the sewer and water facilities which must be laid to the school before it is allowed to open.

Out of the thousands of spoken words came a motion to amend a contract between the builder and board which apparently will pave the way for getting the work started.

In fact, a shovel is already at the site ready to begin excavation for the underground facilities.

The story of the contract goes back to last October when it was drafted. The board had purchased the school land from Greenspan with the agreement that the builder would have sewer and water facilities to the school by September 1958.

Sidewalk, storm sewer and paved streets were also included.

School Board Attorney Nandino Perlongo asserted that he personally did not like to release the escrow money, but felt that the school board would be getting something permanent if it allowed Greenspan to use it. Ten thousand dollars was being held for sanitary sewers and water while the remaining $4,000 was for street, sidewalk and storm sewer.

The builder expects to install a "dry well" for the present instead of a storm sewer. This is a large hole which allows storm water to seep into the ground.

It is expected to take 45 days to complete installation

Art Show In Park Saturday

Works of some of the best creative talent in the Plymouth, Northville and Livonia area will be displayed this Saturday when the Three Cities Art Club hold its second annual Outdoor Art Show.

Held in Kellogg Park, the show will begin at 10 a.m. and will end at 6 p.m. Artist members of the group will be on hand to demonstrate their techniques and talk with visitors.

In case of rain the show will be held Saturday, June 14.

Last year the show drew hundreds of visitors to view the paintings and other forms of art. The show is held in pursuance of the ideal of the club which is to "promote an interest in creative original art in the community."

Art teachers, professional artists and qualified amateurs compose the members. In addition to the easel exhibits of around 60 paintings, there will be a "clothesline exhibit" of unframed and matted work.

Here is a time schedule of the artists' demonstrations: 10 a.m. to noon: Stanley

Bagwell Speaks At Testimonial

Paul D. Bagwell, so far the only Republican candidate for governor, will speak at a public testimonial dinner in his honor at the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth, Thursday, June 12, at 6:30 p.m.

He will discuss the Michigan political situation and his plans for current Michigan economic and political problems, according to Harry Reeves, Plymouth civic leader and head of the Bagwell for Governor Committee, a "grass roots" citizens' group.

The Bagwell testimonial at the Mayflower Hotel is one of a series of dinners and civic affairs the Republican candidate is scheduled to attend on a county-by-county tour of the state. Tickets can be purchased at the hotel.

It's Town Hall Tonight! And all those who plan to vote for candidates in the board of education election next Monday will be interested in attending.

All of the candidates except one have accepted the invitation to appear before the Town Hall crowd at the Junior High School. Because of a previous commitment in Texas, Perry Richwine will not be at the meeting but has sent a statement to be read.

Town Hall, sponsored by the Area Cooperation Group and presented tonight (Thursday) by the Parkview Circle Homeowners Association, will start at 8 o'clock. After each candidate presents himself, the audience will be invited to submit written questions.

Residents, City Plan Attack

Scale Insects Move Into Plymouth

Trees and shrubs of a number of Plymouth homes have been attacked by a scale insect that threatens to kill the plants unless action is taken shortly.

Homeowners in Maplecroft and Hough Park Subdivisions have reported the insects and some plants have already started to die.

According to Joseph Bida, superintendent of public works, the insects, identified as European fruit scale insect, are not new. They usually only attack evergreens. But due to the extremely dry spring, the insects are multiplying heavily and are attacking nearly every kind of woody plant, including trees.

As a result, the city will spray all its trees in the infested areas within the next week. The city cannot, however, go onto private property to spray.

Several homeowners in the Maplecroft area have called others in an attempt to wage a unified war. They propose to hire or rent spraying equipment.

The scales look like warts on the woody parts of plants and trees. If broken open, the scales are powdery. These are unattached eggs. The insects after hatching are so small that it takes a magnifying glass to see them.

Since the scales are covered with a protective wax, spray does not affect them until after hatching.

The Wayne County horticultural agent, Don Juchartz, has taken an interest in the bugs here. He has identified three types in Plymouth, but they are all similar. He has recommended to the city and residents to spray the hatched insects with a product called malathion.

Purchased at a garden store in powder or liquid,

A CLOSE-UP photograph of the scale insect shows the hard shell which attaches itself to the bark of woody plants and trees. This sample was found on the bush of a Burroughs Ave. home and shows the size of the scales in relation with a pencil point.

malathion can be mixed two teaspoons to a gallon of water. If the 25 percent wettable powder is used, three tablespoons to a gallon is needed. It cannot be used on Canaerti juniper.

Juchartz states that there is little use spraying plants to prevent attack since the spray is effective only three to five days. Once the insects crawl from their protective shell, apply two sprays five days apart. Two more applications five days apart can be applied if one wants to make absolutely sure that the scale is destroyed.

Plymouth is not the only community hit by the insect. Bida said that Ann Arbor, Garden City, Wayne and Livonia are all having the same trouble.

The scale insects can kill plants by sucking juices from them.

Those using the spray are urged to keep away from the area for several hours because the spray can cause irritation to the skin.

NEWS BEAT

BETTER LATE: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rix, 279 Ann St., were left a bit puzzled when the postman delivered an envelope two weeks ago. So they called up the sender, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gibson, 11887 Morgan. Was the Christmas card the Gibsons sent just late or a little too early? The Gibsons replied that they had mailed the card in mid-December in Plymouth. "Evidently the post office has been doing some spring cleaning," the Rixes asserted, but they commended the post office for their honest policy of "better late than never." No further word has been received by local postal officials concerning a previous announcement that an addition would be built. It is supposed to start before the fiscal year ends this month.

CAR THIEVES WELCOME: One might as well hang out a sign like that if they are as casual with their cars as was reported this week. A Detroit Free Press delivery boy in the northwest part of the city often plays counting games along his route early in the morning. This week he noted ignition keys in 10 cars parked along curbs or in driveways. Two of the cars belonged to one family. P.S. This is Burglary Prevention Week.

MEAN PEOPLE DEPT.: Phony telephone orders placed with local merchants is the currently popular so-called prank. Pizza Pete has been getting fictitious delivery orders almost nightly. So has Mango's Restaurant. Terry's Bakery baked two special birthday cakes worth $20 for a resident who says he didn't order them. And the Plymouth Cab. Co. has been making runs to homes where no cabs were called. Residents shouldn't be surprised if, after making a telephone order, getting a call back from the merchant to double-check their orders.

POLICE BEAT: Three weekend burglaries were reported — $12 in cash from the Stipe Tire Co. on Starkweather; rubber tires off a coal conveyor at Plymouth Lumber; and two spare tires and wheels from pick-up trucks parked in the Paul J. Wiedman lot.

BARGAIN BASEMENT: City dwellers who have not yet installed sanitary sewer taps can save themselves $45 if they make application before July 1. City Commissioners voted Monday to raise the sewer tap charge from $60 to $125 starting next month. A check of sewer taps made during the past year and a half shows that it costs the city an average of $121 to make a tap. One needs only to make application to get the savings.

MORE HELP: The city of Plymouth now has five men working for its Department of Public Works being provided free by the Welfare Department. Their main job will be to help beautify the cemetery, parks and other city properties.

FIRE RUN: Plymouth Township firemen got a call at 10:06 a.m. Memorial Day to the Clark Aerial Survey shop on N. Territorial Rd. An electrical short caused an unestimated amount of damage. Township firemen will be in charge of shooting off July 4th fireworks this year.

OMISSION: Despite careful double checking, the name of John A. Donovan was omitted from the list of Plymouth heroes who died in World War I and II as published last week. He was a man lot.

World War II victim.

Memorial Day Events Draw Large Throng

A Memorial Day program — with the aid of very appropriate weather — attracted the largest crowd in many years here last Friday morning.

Crowds heavily lined Main St. as the parade moved toward Kellogg Park where the main Memorial Day ceremony took place. Some estimated the attendance at 1,500 or more.

The Navy Mothers were in charge of a program at the Plymouth Rd. bridge before the parade to honor the Navy dead. Rev. David Rieder took part in the ceremony with the Navy Mothers. After wreaths were dropped into the Rouge stream and a volley fired by the VFW drill team, the group joined others at Amelia St. where the parade formed.

Members of the 9632nd Plymouth Air Reserve Squadron led the parade to the park where Mayor Harold Guenther served as master of ceremonies. Rev. David T. Davies delivered the invocation, followed by the National Anthem by the High school band and the Pledge of Allegiance led by Supervisor Roy Lindsay.

Following introduction of service post and auxiliary officers, Dick Hubert recited the traditional "Flanders Field."

Principal speaker for the day was Paul Chandler, publisher of The Plymouth Mail. (Complete text of his address can be found in Section 2 of this edition.)

A solo, "There is No Death" was sung by Nat Sibbold, followed by dedication of a new plaque bearing names of World War dead. Kenneth Gust led the dedication ceremony. Benediction was delivered by Rev. Father William T. Childs.

Completing the program was the placing of the wreath on Plymouth Rock by Explorer Scouts, a rifle salute to fallen servicemen by the VFW drill team and taps played by John Gaffield.

William J. Norman of the VFW was this year's parade marshal, assisted by Don Kinghorn of the American Legion.

Her flowers were fashioned in a lovely cascade arrangement of three white orchids and stephanotis with trailing ivy on white streamers. For her jewelry the bride wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bridegroom, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Louis Haley of Lincoln Park was attended by David R. Fluker as best man. Guests were seated by Douglas Fluelling, Harvey Wells, and Vernon Diedrick, who wore white tuxedo dinner jacket suits as did the father of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Diedrick chose a pink linen and lace jacket dress with white accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Leona Lyons, aunt of the bride, sang three bridal selections accompanied by the organ. They were "Forever Darling," "Because," and while the newly married couple knelt at the altar Mrs. Lyons sang "The Lord's Prayer." She also wore a white orchid corsage.

The reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church parlors. Joyce Batts greeted the guests at the bridal register, and Elaine Keith, Mrs. Kenneth Christy, and Zita Brooks cut and served the four-tiered wedding cake. About 300 guests attended from Detroit, Royal Oak, Dearborn, Livonia, Plymouth, Norrihville, Ann Arbor, Walled Lake, Garden City, and Florida. The bride's great aunt, Mrs. James Turrell, attended from Toledo, O., and the groom's sister, Mrs. Theresa Cline and her small daughter, came from Pittsburg, Calif.

After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls, the couple are at home at 670 South Harvey St.

Better Health Through Knowledge

What Doctors Say About:

- The Other Half
- Body Temperatures
- Heart Murmurs

Q. How do our health standards compare with those of other countries?
A. Certain foreign countries have very high standards but looking at the world as a whole, people in the United States and Canada live in a health paradise. More people live in huts of straw or mud than in any other type of building. More people are born, live all their lives, and die without the help of doctors of medicine (M.D.'s) than those who have trained doctors to help them. These and other shocking facts were recently revealed by the World Health Organization.

Q. Does body temperature stay the same during summer and winter?
A. Yes. Body temperature is kept at normal levels, regardless of the weather, by a built-in heat regulator or body thermostat. Doctors know of one exception—the Australian aborigine. Those naked little folk live in an area where the temperature drops from 90 degrees during the day to just above freezing at night. Strange as it may seem, the body temperature of these primitive people falls as much as 4 degrees at night. The skin temperature may go as low as 13 degrees below normal. Such indifference to temperature changes is not known to occur among other races.

Q. Are heart murmurs in children a sign of serious disease?
A. Not always. Two English physicians examined 100 normal youngsters and found that 96 had heart murmur. The heart sounds apparently meant nothing. But certain types of heart murmurs may spell real trouble. Doctors have ways of telling whether murmurs indicate heart trouble or whether the sounds are harmless.

Material in MEDICAL MIRROR is based on various scientific publications, and does not reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease requires the skill and knowledge which only a physician can apply by personally attending the patient.

Letters will be answered in these columns anonymously.

SPORTSEEN

Plymouth athletes are in the limelight again this week as they have their final fling before the end of the school year and before the end of their high school eligibility for some of them. The tennis and track teams have finished their seasons while the golf and baseball squads have one more event before their 1958 schedules are completed.

Despite the fact that the tennis team managed to win just one match there is consolation in the fact that only three of the boys will be lost due to graduation. Captain John Walker was chosen by the team as the most valuable. The rest of the players gained experience that will be useful to them this summer as they work towards improving their game in readiness for a better season next year.

Ed LaRoche, Jeff Yoeman and Tony Monte won their specialties as Plymouth placed second in the Suburban Six meet. LaRoche equalled the record in the 100 yard dash and won the 220 yard dash. Just to round out the evening's work he anchored the 800 yard relay team to a victory. Jeff Yoeman set a new league record in 180 yard hurdles, placed second to LaRoche in the 100 yard dash and ran the third leg of the winning 800 yard relay team. These two boys took off like gazelles as soon as they took the baton and left the others behind.

Yoeman will be graduating this year but LaRoche returns in '59. Just a warning to other schools in the Suburban Six, Ed was a real good running back last year and he is heavier and running faster than he did last year. Tony Monte ran a real "heady" mile. He appeared to pace himself "just right" and fought off a slight challenge in the last 300 yards as he moved out in front to stay. Bill Ruehr finished third.

In addition to winning the Suburban Six baseball championship for the second consecutive year the Rocks placed five of their players on the first all-star team. Three of these—Ken Knipschild, Jim Dzurus and Paul Woodward were unanimous choices at their positions. This is an enviable record for any team to have. Randy Egloff showed his versatility by being chosen to an outfield spot on the second team which is the position he plays when he is not pitching.

The Rocks close out their season with a game at Thurston tomorrow afternoon.

FROM THE SCRATCHPAD—There was good news on the front page of last week's MAIL to the effect that Administrative Assistant Melvin Blunk was directed to obtain bids for semi-permanent bleachers for the football field. These bleachers are a "must" not only to facilitate the handling of crowds but to permit more parents to see their sons play.

Elementary Dream Game Slated

Plymouth's annual "dream game" for fifth and sixth grade baseball players will draw parents and fans to Smith School at 4 p.m. on Friday (June 6).

The games consist of the league champions (Starkweather in fifth grade) being pitted against All Star squads composed of top players from other teams in their leagues.

Starkweather's opponents will come from Bird, Gallimore, Allen, Plymouth Pilgrims and Smith schools. The fifth grade game is the opener, at 4 p.m.

At 5:15 (or whenever the first game is over) Hamilton plays the All-Stars from the Catholic, Lutheran, Auburn Optimist, Smith and Allen teams.

In the 5th grade game, Bill Foster will coach his own Starkweather team, which will be coached by Bird, John Mac Pierce of Bird, John Howe of the Pilgrims, Max Summerville of Smith, Mike Toth of Gallimore and Allen Jack Birk will umpire the game and coach the All-Stars.

PHS Baseball Champions Remain All Fired Up

After winning the Suburban Six baseball championship the Plymouth Rocks have not let up in their non-league games. They defeated Thurston last week 4-0 as Randy Egloff had a no-hitter until two were out in the sixth inning. He allowed just one hit in the game. In the Northville game Hopper, Knipschild and Egloff combined in the pitching department to allow just two runs while Plymouth scored eight.

Against Thurston the Rocks supported Egloff with errorless ball and scored their runs in the second, third and fifth innings. In the second Hopper singled and moved to third as Range singled. Hubert worked the squeeze play to score Hopper. Runge stole home with the second run.

In the third inning after two were out Larry Wells singled and scored when Jim Dzurus tripled.

Egloff helped his own cause in the fifth inning when he singled to score Walasky who was safe on an error.

While allowing just one hit Egloff fanned 12 and walked two for his best pitching performance of the season.

Plymouth scored five runs on two hits in the fourth inning against Northville. Myron Hopper tripled to score Jordahl and Dzurus and scored when Sparkman bunted and was safe on an error. Woodward singled scoring Sparkman. Runge, who was hit by a pitched ball moved around on Sparkman's bunt and eventually scored on an error by the Northville catcher.

Dzurus got the second of three Plymouth triples and scored on a sacrifice fly by Jordahl in the fifth inning. The Rocks completed their scoring in the sixth on three in the game. In the Northville game Hopper, Knipschild and Egloff combined in the pitching department to allow just two runs while Plymouth scored eight.

Paul Woodward led the Plymouth hitters with three hits in four times at bat to increase his batting average to .449 for the season to date. Al Runge played well defensively making some fine catches in centerfield.

Golfers Chalk Up Two More Wins
Plymouth golfers continued their good showing in high school competition with two non-conference victories. They defeated Thurston at Brae Burn, 272-313, and Northville at Meadowbrook, 168-200.

John Taylor of Plymouth and Bill Harris of Thurston shared low scores in the first meet as they both carded 41's. Other Plymouth scores against Thurston were Lorenz 42, Atchison 44, Isbister 47, Meyers 46, and Rank 52.

In the Northville match John Taylor was again the medalist only this time he did not have to share the honor.

your honor is your credit

Because we have great faith in the responsibility and good judgment of Young Americans, we have devised a special way of permitting high school students to charge purchases to their own account.

Here's how it works . . . On his or her own signature a TEEN-ACCOUNT customer may charge purchases up to $12.00, payable at $1.00 per week for 12 weeks. As payments are made and the balance owed declines, further charges may be made at any time, as long as the total balance outstanding does not exceed $12.00, the difference will be payable at the time of purchase.

Parents . . . Our Teen Accounts are really called Honor Teen Accounts. Parents are not asked to co-sign or be responsible in any way. Teens get their credit strictly on their honor.

This early credit experience will really help teens to a better understanding of the value of money and money-management, and at the same time encourage thrift and develop self-sufficiency.

Town Crier: Vaughns, Swansons New Parents

(Covering the area along Sheldon to Ann Arbor Trail, Harvey, and Sutherland, including Plymouth Colony, Parklane, Hough Sub., Plymouth Hills, and Ridgewood.)
By GLORIA BOWLES
GL 3-2340

A backyard patio will be the setting for the last meeting of the season of Circle Four of the Presbyterian Church, at the home of Mrs. Thomas W. Fair of Amherst Ct. The pot-luck luncheon is set for today.

Tomorrow evening, June 6 will mark a very special event for Clare Wilson of Ridgewood — she and fellow classmates will attend the eighth grade graduation dance at the Junior High school. Mrs. Clarence Wilson, her mother, will be among the chaperones.

Visiting the Wilsons last week was Mrs. Wilson's sister, Mrs. Peter Paukitis of Rockford, Ill., who attended the reunion of her high school class at MacKenzie High in Detroit. They graduated 20 years ago. (Little Elizabeth Jane Wilson came down with the mumps during her aunt's stay.) The Wilsons also entertained Detroit relatives for the Memorial Day weekend. Incidentally, all the members of the Wilson clan have been specifically mentioned in this write-up except the men-folk: husband and father Clarence Wilson, and Bill, a student at Bird School.

A BIG future is predicted for 2 week, 1 day-old son of the Roger Vaughns, Jr. of Jener Place. David Roger was born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor on Wednesday, May 28 — and weighed nine pounds, nine ounces. But little Roger's sister, Barbara Ann, is intrigued with the new arrival. Also in the baby department: Mrs. Jack Mitenbuler of Turkey Run was hostess at a shower honoring Mrs. Richard W. Swanson of Turkey Run, whose son Richard Dale was born recently. Guests were Mrs. Mel Fueling (the life of the party!), Mrs. Thomas Foley, Mrs. William L. Schmidt, Mrs. A. D. Johanson, Mrs. John Kelly, Mrs. George Bowles, Mrs. Donald Tapp and Mrs. Owen McKenny, all of Plymouth Colony. Also attending were Mrs. Swanson's mother and sister-in-law.

"Am I ever! I'm almost an Indian!" laughed Mrs. V. J. Mackinder in response to the question "Are you tan?" asked her following the Mackinders return from Florida two weeks ago. The month-long stay in the Sunshine State included stops at St. Petersburg, the Gulf of Mexico, Daytona Beach, and Marineland, which Mrs. Mackinder termed "wonderful". The couple was especially fascinated by the trained porpoises of Marineland. They also visited friends along the way. Mr. Mackinder has almost completely recovered from a heart attack suffered last June. Bet the Florida sun did a world of good!

Grand Rapids saw the busy Mackinders visiting their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Armitage on the Wednesday before Memorial Day.

Returning home last week after a three-week visit with her son John and his family of Memphis, Tenn., was Mrs. A. Elias of Beech. She returned from the southern trip by plane to her home with the James Eliases of Beech. The past Memorial Day weekend was the basis for the social plans of many "Town Crier" area residents. Wolverine Lake, which is about 30 miles from Plymouth, was the site of weekend visits of Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and children Sandra, 12, John, Jr., 10, Jeff, 7, and Pamela, 2, of Jener Place. The Adams clan were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bonadeo.

"Going home for the holiday," were the Anthony Buches and 10 year-old Celeste and 8 year-old Roger of Beech. "Home" for the family is Chicago, where Mr. Buche's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Buches and Mrs. Buche's father, Mr. Peter Kraujalis, reside. The Buches spent the three-day weekend in Illinois.

Also driving to Chicago for the weekend which honors the war-dead were the Carl Petersons of Amherst Court, who were reunited with both their son and daughter. They visited their daughter, Mrs. Arden Deutsch in Hinsdale, a Chicago suburb. Son Roger Peterson, Michigan State junior will take advantage of the long holiday weekend to get some studying done in preparation for final exams, in a little over a week.

The John F. Eleys and daughters Judy and Cynthia and sons Rob and Jeff, traveled to Howell last weekend for a stay at the home of Mrs. Eley's brother, Robert Reid.

Also celebrating on Memorial Day — but in a different way than many residents — was Mrs. John Fogo of Jener whose birthday fell on this date, May 31. (Mrs. Fogo said it wasn't "important enough to put in," but I harbored a different opinion.)

Odds 'n Ends: Many area residents, including the Edward S. Wittoffs of Ridgewood, the William C. Boons of Priscilla Lane, and the Everett Reynolds, also of Priscilla Lane, (Mr. Reynolds mother is 89 years old,) said that they felt home was the safest place to be on the holiday weekend. The George Florakens of Carol are just "painting and decorating," reports Mrs. Florken.

Judge George E. Bowles saw the Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox recently. Yipee! Be sure and call me at GL 3-2340 if anything comes up. See you next week.

Woman's Eye View
by Nancy Rigney

It's almost 16 years since Mrs. Wallace Osgood joined the Plymouth Library staff. She will be moving to Rogers, Ark. soon, but will leave a record of service that will be well remembered by all who know her.

Mrs. Osgood will join her husband in Rogers, where he has been transferred with Daisy. A new house is waiting their arrival, having sold their home of the last 16 years at 1450 Penniman.

Before Plymouth it was Detroit and Pennsylvania . . . and before that she called a house with thatched roof in Africa her home. The year was 1928 and the reason her husband's job with Firestone as a civil engineer.

The four-room house sat on stilts in the middle of a wilderness. It came equipped with a Coleman gas light and five houseboys who spoke Pigeon English. The boys brought water from a nearby river to be boiled and filtered for use.

Shopping was done once a month and was no simple matter. It involved some rough traveling to a Liberian town of several hundred inhabitants. During the rainy season, a shopping trip meant being carried, car and all, through the mud by the boys.

Mrs. Osgood once had thoughts while in college of becoming a medical missionary. Even though she took a different path, she got to Africa, land of the missionaries, anyway. Her career as a librarian began in 1942 when local women registered for war work. She had casually indicated that she would rather work in a library than any other place, not thinking that they needed help.

But, help was needed and she found herself working at the library located where the Junior Achievement offices are now. Soon they moved the books across the street to the home on the present site, all in one afternoon, and opened for business that night.

From then on in, she became a familiar face to library patrons. The many she has helped from behind the counter and the library staff will be sorry to see her leave, including this columnist.

Filling the gap at the library this summer will be Renwick Garypie and Ludean Ernest, who now works part-time at the library.

While talking to Mrs. Osgood, a young patron, Jim Stout, was signing out news magazines printed in French. He reads them too. Jim has been taking French lesson at summer school for three summers and helps himself master the language by deciphering the foreign magazines.

Also connected with a trip to the library was a perchance meeting with Barton Rogers of the high school. Although Mr. Rogers didn't remember a one-time eighth grader who remembered his definition of a good student, he was glad to hear that his words didn't fall on entirely deaf ears. He can often be seen in the library with a group of his students, which is part of his effort to acquaint youngsters with the wealth of knowledge and enjoyment available to them. Mr. Rogers also does a lot of work in reading improvement, an important aspect of education once overlooked.

Incidentally that definition was — a good student doesn't do just what is required of him, but a little bit extra on his own.

O'BRIEN PAINTS

A JUNIOR ACHIEVER from Plymouth and another from Livonia were among four named "Officers of the Year" out of 267 JA companies in Southeastern Michigan. They were James Small, 634 Sheldon Rd., of Lumber-Lacks Co. (treasurer of the year) and Louise Velasquez, 15011 Sanbury, Livonia, of Jar-Co Company (secretary of the year). They received trophies at the Future Unlimited Celebration in Detroit last week. They will represent the Southeastern Michigan District at the National Junior Achievement Conference at the University of Indiana in August. Both are affiliated with the JA program in Plymouth.

Bell Makes School Payment

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company announced its payment to the state primary school fund in 1957 was the largest in the company's history.

Amounting to $11,051,000, the payment again places Michigan Bell as the top contributor to the fund.

Robert D. Maurer, manager here for the company, reported that $27,663 of the total tax payment was allocated to the public school system of Plymouth.

Schools throughout Wayne county, including Plymouth, received a total of $3,683,588 from Michigan Bell's payment.

The payments were based on a school census of 4,766 in Plymouth, and 637,299 in the county.

The tax payment amounted to $5.78 for each of the 1,810,552 youngsters in the state between the ages of 5 and 19 who are on the census rolls.

Michigan Bell, in common with railroads, Pullman, railway express, telegraph, and other telephone companies, pays such a tax earmarked for the primary fund in lieu of other property taxes.

Model Airplanes, Oil Painting Are Hobbies in Sunshine Area

(Covering the neighborhoods bounded by Sutherland, Main Street, Ann Arbor Road, Sheldon Road.)

BY JANE MALEY
GL 3-4952

We do believe the area has gone "Californian" with a little of the gay colors of paint sparkling all around it. Makes us feel glad to be alive!

Newcomers are always a pleasant way in which to start the column. Mr. and Mrs. James J. Johnson of 1340 Hartsough are from Ithaca, N. Y. Mr. Johnson, a Mohawk Airlines pilot, flies and builds model airplanes. He is also a gun enthusiast, rifles, etc. They like Plymouth very well. Mrs. Johnson remarked it is a very pretty little town. Indeed it is! She is quite anxious to attend the "Newcomers" parties, as she has heard all about them. We are certainly glad to welcome this family to Plymouth and hope they reap a great deal of pleasure in their new surroundings.

I talked to Mrs. Robert Dinsmore and found out she has a delightful winter-time hobby of painting. She does some realistic and a little modern painting. It must be a very relaxing pastime.

Mrs. Thomas Garchow of Ross attended a grand luncheon and card party at the home of Mrs. Foster Kinsbeth on Haggerty Rd. Others present from Plymouth were Mrs. Donald King, Mrs. Walter Hackethal and Mrs. Russell Merritt. Mrs. Huber, formerly of Plymouth, now residing in Dearborn, took home the prize. The little group sends very sincere wishes for a speedy recovery to Mrs. Robert Henry of Inkster, who was unable to attend.

Good news! Ernest Heyder is home from the hospital and improving nicely. Perhaps a little chat with him on your way would hasten his recovery. Wouldn't it be nice if the mailman brought him lots of cheerful cards? To refresh your memory, that House number is 1056 Simpson.

The Lawrence Daniels enjoyed a fine chicken roast followed by dancing at Marty Mitchell's home on Maben and Beck roads. Guess the occasion? Jan Mitchell's birthday! Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Anderson. What a jolly way to celebrate your wife's birthday.

The Albert McCloy's at Wayne for Mr. and Mrs. Arlene Lewis who are moving to Indiana. They also joined the throng at the night baseball game featuring the New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers. Also at that game were Robert Robertson and son Gaynor, Mr. and Mrs. Haefner, and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Carlson, all of this area. Mrs. Robertson travelled over to the opening of the Detroit racetrack.

Mrs. Harvey Rutherford had house guests for a Memorial weekend. They were her two sisters, Mrs. Charles Darling of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Mrs. Margaret Thomas of Detroit. Also visiting was her niece, Mrs. Betty Howlett.

Mrs. Nora Donovan was a very busy lady last Sunday. She toured the home for retarded girls on Beck Road (Our Lady of Providence School) at their open house. Then she had dinner at Ladywood High. The day was rounded out by her presence at the May Crowning by the first graders of Our Lady of Good Counsel School.

Mrs. James Moore was the guest speaker at a Mother and Daughter banquet at La Salle, Mich. held at the Presbyterian Church. A sad note to add is that her sister, Mrs. Charles Brown of Onekama, Mich. died very suddenly. The column extends its deepest sympathy to her in her recent bereavement.

Kathleen, teenage daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Holland, gave a record and coke party to about 20 of her friends. A good time was had by all and I'll bet those rafters are still ringing!

The Robert Lukers along with the two little Lukers, Cindy and Vickie, had dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. Luker's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McBride of Plymouth. Mrs. Luker was busy cleaning her house the other day when she noticed that her five year old had put her shoes on the wrong feet. She asked her to change them. The small fry looked up so innocently and beamed. "Which one?"

Mrs. Sheldon Baker and daughter Christine, along with scout troop No. 1 journeyed up to Bishop Lake, near Brighton on a camping expedition. Mrs. Baker tells me she has had this group since they were "Brownies."

Mrs. Andrew Taylor of Brooklyn, Mich. is visiting Mrs. Ina Culver, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover of Lansing also enjoyed a nice visit with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wood entertained their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood, along with their little daughter Wendy Sue, for the weekend. They came from near Oak Park in Chicago.

Joy Barnes of 1996 Palmyer has her sister, Jennie Burdick of Union City, Tenn. spending two weeks with her.

Little George Witkowski was the center of attraction at his birthday party. He became all of four years old! The whole family was gathered together for this joyous event. There were 18 relatives from Detroit, St. Clair Shores, Redford Township and Dearborn Township. He received many lovely gifts and his mother says he was so excited about it all. Happy birthday, Georgie!

On the evening of May 23 the cub scouts of our area met at the Smith school for their monthly pack meeting. The theme of the party was "circus time" and the parents were delightfully amused by four different dens. They saw cowboys and Indians putting on an impressive war dance. A hobo band beat "Davey Crockett" and "I've Been Working on the Railroad" on their pocket combs. Side show freaks with a boa constrictor were thrown in for fun. Also some fancy tumbling acts by the "Webelos." After the festivities, awards were meted out to the deserving cubs. Den 6 gave the closing exercise. Everyone will be looking forward to the next occurrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schultz and son Dale along with his boyfriend, Denny Shelley, enjoyed a grand picnic at Potter's Park in Lansing.

Gordon Hogle of northwest Detroit gave his mother Mrs. Alma Hogle a fine birthday dinner. Mrs. Hogle's sister Mrs. Jane Melow, was also invited. Many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. E. M. Stewart and Mrs. R. S. MacDougall spent Saturday in Inlay City. They visited their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hannan, and also their brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reek.

Bernard Sellman is busy getting his 16 ft. Chris Craft boat ready for the water. He built it himself and is painting it now.

Another boat item is that the Walter Densmore's brought their boat up to the cottage on Barnes Lake (near Lapeer). Their friends, the Charles Nedcock's and boys also went along.

Mrs. Louis Hurlik, daughter Mary Katherine and son Louis enjoyed a marvelous weekend trip to Holland, Mich. for the tulip festival. It was their first journey up there and they loved their cottage on Lake Michigan. The dancers were very colorful, and the tulips were beautiful. The children were sporting wooden shoes - clop, clop! They took a ramble through the Holland Museum which boasts ancient items of all sorts. They visited "Little Netherlands," containing a replica of a fisherman's and a farmer's cottage. There were open markets with live animals that the children could fondle. A display of pottery making was another highlight. It was a very educational as well as entertaining trip.

Sorry to say we have two of our neighbors on the sick list. Mrs. Bertha Krauter was in St. Joseph's Hospital for observation. She is at home now and convalescing. We certainly wish her a very swift recovery. Any get well cards, I am sure, will be greatly appreciated. The address is 1192 S. Harvey.

James Whalen returned from St. Petersburg, Fla. and is now residing with his sister Mrs. Zella Colton of 580 Jener. He entered St. Joseph's Hospital for a short period and will return to the same address. The old neighbors on Hartsough will be pleased to hear that he would enjoy a visit from them. A card or note would cheer him on to a speedy recovery. Get well soon!

A happy entry - Rosemary Thomas who was on the sick list in my first column is O.K. and back to school again. The Thomas family spent a week at Beulah, Mich. fishing.

Your reporter will sign off for now, but return at the post next week. Don't hesitate to call me about your news items. "Don't call us, we'll call you" is not our motto.

Mrs. Jean McAllister and daughter Lori were Sunday evening visitors in the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Brightbill of Russell St.

PAUL D. BAGWELL, Republican Candidate for Governor will be honored by a testimonial dinner at the Mayflower Hotel, 6:30 P.M., Thursday, June 12. Bagwell will discuss the current political business climate and his solution for Michigan's economic and political plight. The testimonial dinner is sponsored by the Bagwell for Governor Committee, a Western Wayne County "grass roots" citizens' group, headed by Harry Reeves, of Plymouth.

A NEW AMERICAN flag is the proud possession of Brownie Troop 40. The flag was recently presented by Mrs. Gwen Holcombe, on behalf of the American Legion auxiliary, to Brownies Phyllis Gothe and Donna Cook. Troop leaders are Mrs. Melvin Krumm and Mrs. William Feight.

WALTER ANDERSON, right, employee of M. Powell & Son 25 years and the firm's route supervisor, last month was one of 40 Detroit area men honored for the outstanding sales and distribution efforts. He was one of 15 nominated by the Sales Executive Club. He received a trophy at the Statler Hotel ceremony from Merritt Hull, general manager, Tractor and Implement Division, Ford Motor Co.

Committee Recommends 3 Proposals For Lyon Township School District

A steering committee has recommended expansion of the Lyon Township District in the near future. Approval of the report by a 51 to 10 margin cleared the way for coming presentation of the document to the Lyon Township Board of Education.

Proposal A would require construction of a new High School on a centrally located site and renovation of the existing Jr. High School. The estimated bond issue requirement would be $812,300.

Proposal B includes a new elementary school, recommended for location in the Salem area; renovation of the present Jr. High, and the addition of 10 rooms to the present High School, with this being a combined junior-senior High School. This estimated bond issue requirement would be $893,800.

Proposal C would require construction of a new elementary school, a new High School, conversion of the present high school to a junior high and the renovation of the present junior high school. Estimated bond issue requirement would be $1,219,600. All three proposals could be financed at the present tax rate of eight mills.

Also incorporated in the Steering Committee report were the recommendations that a class load of 25 students be used for facilities planning purposes and that a 6-3-3 school organization, 6 years of grammar, 3 years of Jr. High and 3 years of High School be adopted if better facilities can be provided. Inclusion of more adequate student counselling services and expansion of library facilities were also included, based on results of studies by the Educational Program Committee.

Recommendations included as a result of work done by the Surveys and Planning Committee in addition to the new elementary school located in the Salem area and the centralized new high school, were that the Board of Education recognize an estimated school enrollment of 2,147 in 1960 and 2,683 in 1963 as the figures on which expansion should be based. The projections allow only for a normal increase.

The Facilities Committee in addition to recommending one of the 3 proposals covering building expansion, also suggested that additional sites be secured for the new high and elementary schools and that the present junior high school be utilized, regardless of which proposal was accepted.

YOUR HANDWRITING TELLS YOUR STORY

With Grapho Analysis

BY JEAN EVANS

Dear Jean: I have often wondered whether or not a person's future may be told by his handwriting.

PATSY K.
Dear PATSY K.: Grapho Analysis is a science and there is nothing mystic about it. All the principles have been proved through scientific research. The analyst discovers the facts as they were at the time the specimen of handwriting was made. There are certain combinations of traits that grouped together indicate the potential capacity of the writer but it is not evident in handwriting whether that potential will ever come into physical expression or materialization. Any handwriting expert professing to be able to predict the future by one's handwriting is NOT a Grapho Analyst.

Dear Jean: What can you tell about a person like myself who has different types of writing? When in a hurry I stretch out my m's and n's into practically straight lines.

A.L.
Dear A.L.: Everyone's handwriting varies. We never write the same twice. Only a professional forger can make his writing appear to be always the same. You have more or less answered your own question. The stretched out m's and n's indicate speed and inattention to particulars. You are too rushed to take the time to do more than penetrate the surface of whatever is important at the moment. Then at other times when not in such a hurry you take the time to think things out and analyze the facts before making a decision.

Dear Jean: My girlfriend does not chum with me too much any more. She doesn't get too many dates, so I tried to help but the boys didn't like her. I think she holds this against me. I feel you can't make the boys like her. Please answer my problem.

MILLICENT
Dear MILLICENT: You can't live another's life for her. You have tried to be a good friend and if she doesn't appreciate it, you've done your part so forget about it. Maybe it bothers you more than it does her that she doesn't date. She may not be quite ready to take on the responsibility of dating. We each need to grow at our own speed and mental maturity or social maturity does not necessarily coincide with physical years.

If your friend is concerned enough about not being accepted by the opposite sex she will study herself to see just where the trouble lies. If some trait in her character needs changing only she can do it and when she wants to. Continue to be friendly and if the subject of "boys" is a tender spot with her just omit discussing it with her.

Dear Jean: I am a very unhappy person. I hope you can analyze my handwriting and tell me why.

JEANIE
Dear JEANIE: There is a lot of resentment indicated in your handwriting. Have a little talk with yourself and really get to the bottom of why and where the resentment lies. When you can honestly discover the cause then work at eliminating it. Resentment is never a positive trait and should be overcome as soon as it is discovered.

If you get rid of this trait there isn't any reason why you should be unhappy. Resentment makes a person face the world with a chip on his shoulder. He expects to be imposed upon so feels he must be prepared for it. He is afraid to let himself go because he might be taken advantage of. You are missing a lot in life by taking this attitude and you can overcome it if you try. Good luck.

Lake Pointe Villagers Give Homes Individual Touch

MRS. ARTHUR COOKSEY
GL. 3-2871

The people in Lake Pointe Village have taken advantage of the spring weather to do other things with their homes along with their planting and landscaping. The warm days have also signalled the start of home improvements of various sorts. Garages have seemingly sprung up overnight. Patios invite their owners to relax. Porches and screening give warning to bugs. And each home-owner seems to have a different notion about what constitutes good land use and what kind of addition or improvement best suits his family's needs. It seems to be the genius of the American people to make their homes very personal and unique, no matter how much alike they are at the start.

The Dave Sechins and the Bob Thoms have started comprehensive plans for their back yards. They have both had garages erected and the areas of interest in their yards clearly defined. Dave has terraced his back yard at the rear of the lot, built up a planter along side his garage and even carved out a sand area for Cindy, his three year old, to play in.

Bob and Joan Thom have, besides their garage, a twenty-five foot planter built along the back of their house. They laboriously filled it with seven dozen petunias several weeks ago. They have also started a patio outside their back door which when finished, should give them many hours of summer pleasure.

The John Arthurs look forward eagerly to summer evenings on their porch which they had built onto their garage. Since they both work, they prize the few moments of rest they can summon during the evening, and their porch will afford them this relaxation.

Jack and Marie Bellmore have added to and changed their home ever since they moved in. They've added a garage, a pine-paneled back porch, and now that they have their yard nearly completed, they are planning a patio and garden. Marie isn't on very sure ground, she admits, when it comes to growing tomatoes so she has planted them out of view. She seemed very excited about the prospect of her own vegetables, so we wish her well.

Behind the Bellmores, another attached garage is a building. Marjory and Art Haske are building their own garage after having had the builder do the concrete work when the house was built. The Haskes are among a large group of Lake Pointers that moved out here after finding that they had outgrown their homes in the city of Plymouth.

Ed and Rosalie Bales moved to Plymouth from an apartment in Livonia. Ed works for GM and travels from city to city in his work. At one time they had lived near the Plymouth area and decided that if Ed's work should ever bring them back, they would like to live in Plymouth. Instead of being down-hearted then when they were transferred to this area, they were exultant. Rosalie, besides being pleased with her home and the subdivision itself, is especially enthusiastic about the local schools.

Next door to the Bales, Margaret and Gilbert McLachlin, and their son, Gilbert, live in near paradise, according to them. They wondered openly why they didn't "move out here 20 years ago." Visiting with them I heard the familiar story of a family that moved into a sparkling new house and found their old furniture almost unbearable. It is also the story of people that find many places for their savings, and perhaps new furniture has to be postponed. Looking about what they did have they spotted an old family heirloom that had seen a lot of refinishing, re-upholstering and use. Could it be made serviceable? They inquired at Goodwill Industries and found that a group would re-finish the table for them down to the original wood. The results are truly lovely. The wood is cherry, a warm red color, and the table occupies a prominent and important place in their home. We wondered if other families might not also take advantage of the services of Goodwill Industries and put their own cast off furniture to work again.

Gerald and Janice Elston also moved to Lake Pointe from the city of Plymouth. Gerald will be the principal of the new elementary school that will serve this corner of the Township. On June 12, Gerald's brother, Rev. E. B. James Elston, will dedicate the Elston home. They feel that since religious and church-connected activities will be conducted in their home that it deserves to be dedicated as a church building would be. We commend their action and wish them a pleasant day for the ceremony and much happiness in their home.

We apologize for letting the column lapse for two weeks. The absence was caused by the sudden death of my mother. It is comforting and an enormous help to receive all the flowers, contributions to charities, solicitous calls and neighborly help from friends in Lake Pointe, Plymouth and our colleagues. To everyone we extend our sincerest thanks.

We hope the arrival of the water bill is anticipated by homeowners in this area and that they sit down when they open the envelope, or read the card. Does everyone realize that this spring has been the driest one of record in the past fifty years? If we don't know it now we will when the bill comes. However, as June Hudson pointed out, "after you spend a lot of money on sod or seed you have to keep it wet. You just have to expect a high water bill." And wouldn't you know it? After five months of no moisture it would pour rain almost constantly over the Memorial Day weekend. You can't win them all.

The MAIL Attitude

By PAUL CHANDLER

(Following is the text of remarks made by Paul Chandler, Editor of this newspaper, as guest speaker at Memorial Day ceremonies in Plymouth last week.)

As we all know, the single reason for Memorial Day is to pay tribute to those who died in battle for the United States of America. Today I propose that we consider — in a real, most personal way — those who died. And that we decide for ourselves just what kind of lives those who were buried in battle expect from us who survived.

And I also propose that if we are conscientious about Memorial Day at all, that we leave this assembly determined hereafter to more seriously carry out our responsibility to the heroes of Battle.

We do, most plainly, have such a responsibility and debt.

I have always been afraid that Memorial Day ceremonies often fail to serve their full purpose because too often they are only sentimental, vague, supported by the fragile stems of band music and oratory which contains more sound than meaning. It never has struck me as a day upon which American people do sufficient serious thinking.

Another reason why I suspect that some of the proper meaning has been missed is the almost universal habit of reading President Lincoln's Gettysburg Address at Memorial Day ceremonies, and leaving the subject there, as if that one classic speech covered all the elements of memory which affect the soldiers, sailors and marines who have fought for us through the years of American history.

Never have I heard it even suggested that President Lincoln made that speech to fit the facts of one particular moment in history, the Civil War, and that his remarks possibly could not cover the century of American history which has followed Gettysburg.

Never have I heard it said that American boys died in later wars for much different reasons, with different doubts in their mind and strange new ideas in their hearts, than did the soldiers of the conflict between North and the South.

And yet it is true. If we are to truly understand those who were slain for us in battle, and really to dedicate ourselves to carrying on their cause, we can't do it solely by drowsing through the Gettysburg address.

In my opinion, at least, there was a difference of what was in the minds of our soldiers over the separate periods of history. I believe, for example, that many soldiers in World War I died with the idea in their head that they were eliminating war from the earth; that, here truly was a noteworthy objective, one worth dying for, a "war to end wars." And I believe that there were many soldiers in World War II who died simply because we had been attacked, and we were defending ourselves in the only manner in which a spunky nation could respond.

In all wars, I am certain, there were some plain adventurers, soldiers of fortune, who died simply because they couldn't resist the emotional stimulation they received from battle. And there were others who died without wanting to fight, without any purpose whatever, men who merely had been drafted into the services and who wound up their lives in gloom and confusion.

But we are indebted to them all; and each of many types is part of the total memory which we should recall each year on Memorial Day.

President Lincoln knew this, of course, but his remarks at the Cemetery dedication do not cover all of it.

So what was on the minds of all our heroes through the years? What did they have in common?

A pertinent point, I believe, is that most soldiers are young. They are boys in their late teens and early 20's, just a jump out of high school and college, still sorting the knowledge and experience of the world, trying to find maturity and a philosophy that would stand up to explain the mysteries of existence.

It is nice to think that these lads at the time of their death had worked out a noble analysis of the merits of democracy as compared to autocracy; of the value of freedom endowed Divinely to all, as compared to the theory of the Divine Right of Kings, and so on — it would be nice to think these all had been analyzed and evaluated in the youth's mind, but it's just not true.

Aside from the youngsters, there always have been the professional soldiers, men with military careers. I don't believe many of us would assume that they went into battle as starry-eyed idealists.

Most of them were simply doing their job. They were fulfilling a contract.

Then in addition to those two groups, there have been the real patriots, some young, some middle-aged, a few actually old. They were fighting for principal in exactly the way attributed to the heroes by President Lincoln's noble remarks at Gettysburg.

Our heroes thus have been of many types and shapes. If we are to have heroes in the future, they also will be of many types and shapes.

But there is one thing, I believe, which they all had in common, regardless of the manner in which they found their way to the battlefield; irrespective of the differences in their idealism.

Almost without exception, American soldiers have gone into battle believing they were fighting for the most honorable country in the world.

They honestly believed in their hearts that our country, above all others, stood for fair play in international relations. Our soldiers were told, and they believed, that we were a religious country, rising closer to God than any other nation on the globe. They knew that we Americans as a people stood for the Ten Commandments, the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, the Sermon on the Mount, and we stood for those principles more firmly than any of our colleagues across the seas.

They really believed that we were more concerned with the plight of the "little guy" than was any other nation; that we would see that the underdog had his freedom and enough shelter and food to sustain him and his family decently.

Our soldiers, through the ages, have believed that the United States fought wars without selfish purpose. We have throttled bullies, risen to the defense of the oppressed, thrown off those who would deny us the amount of liberty we sought, defended ourselves against those who would try to challenge our courage.

And it is there, in that area, where I believe lies the greatest responsibility for us, who still live, to fulfill our responsibility to departed servicemen.

If any of them were to have thought that the people of our country would somehow turn from being the best and most decent country in the world, once the war was over, then every last hero would have been stripped of the most basic thing which made him a good soldier.

If today, we as a people are more interested in selfish accumulation of material goods than we are in seeing justice done throughout the world, then we have betrayed our soldiers.

If the United States, somehow, has acquired the reputation abroad of an international four-flusher which attempts to buy friendship and loyalty of other nations by simply writing a check or two, then we have short-changed our dead.

If our country is unable to convince others that we can be trusted on every promise we make, then we have been unfaithful to our war heroes.

If we as individuals cheat and compromise in our daily business and personal lives, it is vain and worthless for us to even try to think about the real meaning of Memorial Day.

If our citizens have become so child-like and immature that we save our greatest admiration for synthetic movie stars and professional football players, we are falling farther and farther from being the kind of nation which can fight and win any war.

If we tolerate expediency and cynical "deals" in business, government, church, and other high places, our day of collapse is not far away, and our old wars might better not have been fought.

Unless we stand up for decency, fair play, the obligation to care for the needy everywhere on earth, the spreading of equal rights to all mankind, the easing of suffering, the willingness to give up our own possessions to help those less fortunate — unless we stick hard to the Bill of Rights, the Golden Rule, and the Declaration of Independence — all those things and more — then the next time we will have trouble even recruiting an army, if one should be sought.

Any nation, of course, as a whole simply is the total of the individual citizens. The way the people think and live determines the way the nation thinks and lives. If America is thought-of abroad as a cheater, faker and phony, then it is because of the way we as citizens live our private lives.

No nation can rise above the ineptitude and mental flabbiness of its populace. By the same rule, great nations reflect the moral strength and courage of their people.

It is my idea on this Memorial Day of 1958, that we keep faith with those who died for us in past wars by turning in our private lives to absolute adherence to the principals of truth, self-sacrifice and justice.

Our servicemen, throughout our national history, always have believed they were fighting for the best and most decent country in the world.

It never should be any other way.

ONE OF the most imaginative displays of elementary school art that can be found anywhere was viewed last week by the Gallimore School PTA during their meeting. Each grade had a display in the multi-purpose room. The display showed the different projects and materials the children have worked on and pointed out the various approaches to art. Fourth graders Betsy Williams and Millard Newport are shown with some of their classmates' work. The art teacher at Gallimore is Stan Hench.

Maplecroft-Birch Area: Friends Honor Bride Before Wedding

(Covering the area bounded by Burroughs, Ann Arbor Rd. and the Junior High, including Maplecroft and Birch Subs.)

BY RHEA RAYMOND
GL. 3-3144

Now that summer is just around the corner many of us are planning vacations. For some, a cabin on the lake, or a motor trip to the mountains, for others, just a quiet restful two weeks puttering around at home. Wherever you go or whatever you do, may your vacation be a very happy one. Several of our friends in Maplecroft and Birch took advantage of the long weekend to go on short motor trips for various reasons.

The Dean Walls of Roosevelt and small daughter Tonya traveled to Liberty, Ind. for Memorial weekend to visit Mrs. Wall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Pulley.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hindman and family will attend a family reunion at Harrow, Ontario, Friday, at a summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Baldwin. If the weather is as good as the weatherman predicts, they plan a steak roast and perchance a dip in Lake Erie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe and family motored to Middletown, O., to attend the confirmation of Marilyn Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wolfe. The ceremony took place at the Lutheran Church.

The Explorer Scouts with their troop leader, Bill Fehlig, left Thursday for Grayling, Mich., where they will remain for several days of camping. The troop, several weeks ago, had purchased a good-sized tent and this will be its initiation. Those able to make the trip were: Bill Schwartz, Gary Ross, Dennis Parker, Dick Aldrich, Ronald Wahn, Fred Smith and Dave Fehlig.

The Michael Perish family of Simpson had as their guests last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Perish and family of Flint.

The Walter Ash home on Dewey St. was the scene of a lovely bridal shower on May 24 in honor of Dorothea Curtis. Mrs. Ash and Mrs. Fred Aldrich were co-hostesses and Donna Ash junior hostess. Twenty friends of the bride-to-be were present and during the evening a buffet luncheon was served. Miss Curtis, who will become the bride of Melvin Corwin, brother of Mrs. Ash, received many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ash and daughter, Donna attended the wedding of her brother, Melvin Corwin to Miss Curtis last Thursday evening at the Methodist Church in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Martin and family of Dewey motored to Tecumseh, Canada, for a day of fun at the beach as guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Miner. If weather permits, a dip in Lake Erie and a steak roast. Sounds like fun!

Friday evening, after a hard day's work in the garden, the David Lobbestals and the Tom Marshalls got together for a lively rubber of bridge followed by a snack of pizza and coffee. Very informal, but can't think of a nicer way to spend an evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Guy and baby daughter, Julie, of Dearborn, enjoyed dinner at the home of the Robert Lidgards, Saturday evening. The Roy Rews of Harding had as their guest for dinner, Memorial day, Austin Whipple, and later in the day all enjoyed a round of golf at one of our nearby courses.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ballen of Burroughs were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Doris Pates of Royal Oak. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Anderson of Detroit.

The David Lobbestals and family motored to Blissfield, Mich. for the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dennis. During their visit they witnessed the opening of the outdoor public swimming pool which was donated by several prominent citizens of Blissfield and Saturday evening attended a steak roast.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beglinger and family of Roosevelt spent Memorial weekend at their summer home at Rush Lake. The children always look forward to these outings as they help their dad exercise the riding horses and also ride on the tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulce along with several other couples from M-E-L were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Nance of Birmingham, Saturday evening, at a cocktail dinner party.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beglinger entertained their nephew and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jentch of New York, last weekend. During their visit they attended a game between the Tigers and Yanks at Briggs Stadium and spent some time at the Beglinger farm.

Many of our neighbors enjoyed picnics and steak roasts in their backyards. Some just keeping it a small group, others extending invitations to many of their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Adams and family of Harding entertained the following group of friends at a pot-luck picnic in their backyard, Memorial Day, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Warren, Mr. and Mrs. W. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fischer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickie and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Beeker. After a delicious dinner, the group enjoyed a rigorous game of volleyball and others pitched horseshoes.

The Phil Theobalds of Roosevelt were hosts to a large group of neighbors at a picnic in the Theobald yard, Saturday evening. Although there was no planned activity, everyone seemed to be having a grand time.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Swantek and family were hosts to a group of friends, Memorial Day, including Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart and children, Mr. and Mrs. G. Banks Abraham. Their picnic also seemed to be a rousing success.

Last weekend Tom Marshall and son, Tommy, and nephew Tom Stribley, accompanied Richard Cline and his two sons to Grayling where they embarked on a canoe trip down the Au Sable River. Their experiences were many and mostly pleasant — no duckings reported. Mr. Marshall states it is very beautiful at this time of year and Sally, (Mrs. Marshall) hopes to make the trip with him at some future date. This weekend the Marshalls will spend with the Richard Clines reminiscing and planning the trip for next year. And perhaps checking about some of the details not known at this writing.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ash were the Harry Cooks of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Just so the menfolks can't go back to the office and say they worked like slaves all weekend, here are a few choice items on some of their activity...

Jim Ross and ten other fellow golfers from G.M. enjoyed a day of golfing at the Highland Country Club as guests of Jim Hagerly, of White Lake, Saturday.

Gerald Fuelling, Chester Chirkowski of Redford and Ed Hantzel of Livonia attended the Western Open Golf Tournament at Red Run, Saturday. John Truer and son Johnny accompanied Ced Sweet and son Ricky on a canoe trip down the Huron River, Saturday. We girls needn't get too upset about this last one as the river was a little low for this time of year and John and Ced came home wet and weary and sunburned but not discouraged.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe attended the Ped-Ford Chorale Concert at Ypsilanti High School, Thursday evening. Several of our neighbors celebrated their birthdays this past week and to all we wish a happy birthday.

A group of friends gathered at the home of Walt Anderson of Dewey, Thursday evening, for a surprise birthday dinner. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser.

Mary Lynn, daughter of the Walter Beglingers of Roosevelt, celebrated her ninth birthday last Saturday. The young ladies attending her party were: Susan Swantek, Lynn Cash, Ann Truer and Nancy Kincade.

Several small friends of little Ann Marsden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Marsden, enjoyed a picnic Wednesday, in celebration of her third birthday. Those having a grand time were Kathy and Dale Stanhope, Kathy Fuelling and Nancy Southwick.

The weatherman was kind and all went well when Betsy Sweet, daughter of the Cedric Sweets of Harding, entertained her sixth-grade classmates, Thursday afternoon. Around thirty lads and lassies attended and a lively time was had by all. Mrs. Sweet reports a few minor casualties, such as several skinned knees and elbows.

Before ending the column, I would like to alert all the neighbors in Maplecroft and Birch subdivisions to the danger our trees and shrubs are in. Many have already discovered this menace but to those that haven't... Our territory is heavily infested with scale insects that suck the juices out of the trees and shrubs, especially evergreens, and will weaken and kill them if not taken care of immediately.

Peter Christenson of Plymouth Nurseries, states that the only method of treatment is malathion, which is used as a spray, and in order to treat the trees a power sprayer will be necessary. If done individually it would be very expensive, so the subdivision is hoping to incorporate and spray the trees at one time. This will have to be done this week as the insects will hatch and crawl out of the scales within the next few days and it is the only time they can be destroyed. Let's not waste any time as it would be very expensive to replace our shrubs and shade trees.

School Board Candidates State Their 'Platform'

Harold E. Fischer
If elected to the Board of Education, I would like to see our schools retain their present high standards. We have adequate space for our pupil load at the present time, and I would like to see this condition safeguarded by prudent planning ahead. I would like to see the immediate purchase of school sites. I would like to see the teaching climate of Plymouth improved to insure attracting the best qualified personnel. Good education requires that the proper teacher-pupil ratio be protected.

I would like to see our community take an active part in establishing a Community College. I feel all of these goals can be achieved without any increase in our tax rate.
Perry W. Richwine
I would like to see the taxpayers get their money's worth from our School Investment.
I want our teachers to be better than the average and be an inspiration to the students and conduct themselves in such a manner as will command the respect of the students.

I want our school plants to be practical, safe, and worth the money we are paying for them.
I want the citizens of Canton township to be properly represented in all matters coming before the board. I feel that the large school district offers our community many business advantages. Our school board should be ever mindful of the fact that they have an obligation to the people of the whole school district.
John G. Batsakis
Believing that the financing of schools is a paramount public concern, basic to the present and future welfare of our democracy, the following beliefs and opinions which constitute my platform is offered for consideration to the voters of our community.

Each school board candidate was asked this question: "If elected to the board of education, what would you like to see accomplished?" These are their answers.

of line construction to meet shifts in population and changing conditions.
4. It is very desirable to pay off bond issues ahead of schedule but we must be careful not to impose undue hardship of taxpayers with more or less fixed incomes such as those on pensions and also be aware of the fact that high taxes limit the possibility of new business or industry moving into our area to help with the cost of future construction and operation.
In the final analysis I believe good judgment and the use of common sense are the most important traits a board member can have and I hope the voters will rely on me to use mine to the best of my ability.
My final plea is that, whether you vote for me or someone else, you accept your responsibility and protect your rights as a citizen and vote in order that those elected will know the majority of the people have confidence in them.

2. More publicity of the true financial program of the board and the taxpayer according to a true democratic policy.
3. Promote better communication between the school board and the taxpayer.

To insure effective teaching by insisting on the acquisition of competent teachers maintained at an economic level which will secure a high quality of socially motivated and broadly trained professional service.
Provide conditions which will allow teachers to do their best work. For example, time for teacher's conferences and meetings can be provided more adequately by reducing teacher-pupil ratio, and by adjusting assignments.
To encourage a program for the in-service growth of teachers.
With taxpayers complaining of costs, I am acutely aware of the moral and financial obligations on our system to utilize its capital as efficiently as possible. As a step in that direction, I commit myself to a more fuller utilization of the school plant by striving toward the ultimate use of the school as a community center. Property should not be regarded as to be wasted extravagantly by non-use. There is no escape! The community good of the entire school system must be protected! The school MUST function as a community institution or it must continue to function inefficiently and ineffectively.

I believe in accurate, intelligible, and frequent reports to taxpayers and the public on the management of the school money so that complete understanding and constructive attitudes with respect to school taxes and services may prevail.
The board of education should be responsive to the will of the whole people and should be free to adopt and carry out truly efficient and economical financial policies for the schools.
Teaching tenure for administrators should be given consideration by the board for the administrator like any other teacher in the school system must have some mode of security in order to do a successful job.
I believe there is no justification for the large gap between administrative and teaching salaries in our public schools. In order to keep within the realm of good educational practices it is necessary for the board to consider the readjustment of the salary schedule more equita-buildings and equipment with which to do the job.

Plymouth has come a long way from its earliest school system. It behooves the elected board of education to guide our program to the end that our educational efforts will meet the challenges of our changing society by preparing each child to take his place in the business, professional, technical or productive field of his choice.
It is my desire to aim to promote improvements in curriculum to the extent that Plymouth will be accorded highest recognition by business, industry and secondary colleges and universities in general.

ably between administrators and teachers' salaries for the good of the entire school system.
The board of education should work toward developing a method which will accurately appraise to what extent the administrator fulfills his executive responsibilities. Possibly a future salary schedule can be based on the degree to which the administrator fulfills his responsibilities.
Lastly, I believe that there should be a uniform and continuous policy of honest, economical, and productive spending of all school money.

Miss Margaret Dunning
To obtain the best in quality education through competent instruction and efficient administration.
Wesley Kaiser
I feel that the board in the past has sincerely accomplished those things that the people wanted but I believe in the near future the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District is going to be faced with the problem of doing what must be done and not what it would like to do.
In my mind the purpose of the board is to provide the best possible education to the children of the community at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer. As that statement covers a lot of territory, I will enumerate a few points that seem important to me.
1. The teaching staff should be of a high caliber and hold a respected position in the community. To accomplish this they must be chosen carefully and the position made attractive enough to keep them.
2. The present school plant and facilities should be used to the fullest extent before adding a further burden of the taxpayer. Then when it is necessary to expand, the board should build for the utmost utility without sacrificing quality.
3. While it is good business to plan ahead, sometimes it is unwise to look too far into the future as evidenced by the necessity of companies such as Detroit Edison in changing their master plans

Arthur F. Haeske
The driving force that motivates any community in the establishment of a school system is the desire to educate its children. To do this requires capable administrators who possess vision and wisdom in long range planning; a truly homogeneous body of faculty personnel who like to live, work and last but not least, adequate

by George Spelvin

"There is always that other strange second man in me, calm, critical, observant, unmoved, blunt, odious," S. N. Behrman, a Broadway playwright, some years ago used this idea to build a play, "The Second Man." Last week over in Ann Arbor the current Drama Season displayed this sophisticated comedy.
Mr. Behrman used a short story writer as his protagonist. Clarke Storey, the mixed-up man, in "The Second Man" had to decide between money and love. The man within him was decent, logical, and willing to marry for love. While the outward man wanted the pleasures of life—the material things. This other or second man, was superficial, scheming and ready to take life at its face value.
Many of us face such a dilemma as we traverse life's tangled trails. Some of us listened to the second man within us and made some correct decisions. This is the message that S. N. Behrman was sending to his audience. Many of us have tried their hand at this message. T. S. Eliot did it in "The Cocktail Party" and audiences are still trying to fathom out the complete message.
Originally, the Lunts did this play on Broadway. Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontaine have the happy facility of making a production perfect. I believe they could take a mediocre play and make it sound exciting. In fact, in their careers, they have done just this several times. In the case of the "Second Man" I'm afraid it was the acting of the Lunts that carried the play into the hit category.

However it was interesting to see Vicki Cummings of Hollywood and TV struggling with her part. She has aged considerably. This fact could have been bothering her. She lacked fire and imagination for her part. It seemed that Hurd Hatfield and Ann Hilarly were holding the show together. Ralph Purdum, the other member of the cast, did an excellent job. Fortunately, Vicki had a small part.
Out Broadway way, the Lunts have opened in their latest play, "The Visit." To make the opening even more memorable the theater in which the show is playing has been renamed "The Lunt-Fontaine Theater." This honor was bestowed on Helen Hayes last year.
Critics all agreed that the Lunts were superb, incomparable, and the play was the top event of the season. To everyone's grave concern they are only going to do the show until July 5th. One thing about the Lunts they insist on taking their summer vacation — no matter how big a hit they have on their hands. They have a farm just outside of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. They have been going there for the past twenty years to relax for a couple of months. The money they have amassed over the years could keep them in a relaxed state of hibernation for the rest of their days. Thank goodness they want to keep working. Let's hope they will tour with "The Visit" next season and include Detroit on their itinerary.

Mrs. Clara Scharmen
Having been a teacher and now being a parent and taxpayer, I have a special concern as to what is taught in schools and have followed with interest the curriculum study being carried on by the present board.
In a democracy, we must develop each child's capabilities so that he will become an effective citizen. I would hope to help maintain the present high standard of education for all the children of the Plymouth Community School District at a minimum cost to the taxpayer.

Robert Soth
1. Sensibly planned expansion of the Plymouth School District without undue burden on the taxpayers and without sacrificing good educational standards. Since this is a rapidly expanding community, plans should be made now for the future to eliminate the possibility of a sud-

Plymouth Lumber Observes Half-Century Anniversary

Suburban Living

HAULING LUMBER in horse-drawn wagons and later in trucks such as this 1927 Model T are all part of the eras that Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. went through.

The firm is celebrating its 50th anniversary June 6-7. Company president Dave Mather is shown trying a hand at cranking the old truck.

By Dave Jolliffe

Fifty years ago, when Main Street was made out of planks, a stalwart fellow came to Plymouth with a headful of experience and a heartfelt of hope.

It was Charles Mather, originator of the Plymouth Lumber and Coal Company. When he arrived in Plymouth it was for the singular purpose of organizing and starting his own lumber business.

Perhaps he envisioned a bumper business when it came time to replace the pine logs that, at that time, linked Plymouth to Detroit. At any

Fifty years later the business still stands. The only difference is that son and heir David Mather has broadened the principles a bit. "We think that the company is more than a material sort of business," he says. "There's a certain responsibility. For example we perform a vital service by helping young people build homes. There's real satisfaction in that—the kind that doesn't show up on a profit ledger. Giving people a home is more than a business—it's an institution!"

Since 1908 the business has steadily progressed through both good and lean years. Now, two wars and a lot of blood, sweat and tears later, The Plymouth Lumber and Coal Company celebrates its 50th anniversary.

A gala event with two objectives is planned. First Dave Mather intends to show his appreciation to loyal friends and customers by treating them to an open house June 6 and 7. Secondly he will show them the latest in building materials. He has made arrangements with several large companies to send representatives and demonstrate some of the latest building products. This will be the home improvement part of his open house.

In addition there will be refreshments and gifts—25 door prizes and balloons for kids from 1-91.

The Plymouth Lumber and Coal Company has had a small, semi-private open house for some time. Under the guiding hand of Mrs. Mae Beitner, just one of Mather's faithful employees, the company inaugurated a "hospitality nook" which serves to introduce new residents to the business. Once a week Mrs. Beitner personally invites new townfolk to the lumber company's Main Street office and introduces them to company products and services. This is something new in lumber or any other business.

Down through the years there have been several employees who, like Mrs. Beitner, have given more than the ordinary. There was "yard-man" Art Merryfield who wrestled two-by-fours for 20 years and made a lasting contribution to success. Claude Gebhardt, office manager, and sales manager Charles Cash, still carry on in their respective positions after more than 10 years service.

During the last 50 years the Mathers juggled complicated inventories—adapted themselves twice to wartime emergency building restrictions—and weathered a depression. Through it all the company kept abreast of the latest handling methods, introduced Plymouth to new types of lumber and building materials and, most important, kept selling.

Dave Mather took over in 1938 when his father died. He had only been with the business for a year and says, "I never would have been able to continue if it hadn't been for our employees. They stuck through thick and thin and taught me the business."

In spite of a 9-10 hour workday, Mather finds time to shoulder civic burdens. For example he was in the group of enterprising citizens responsible for bringing the American Hospitality Benefit and Mutual Life Insurance Companies to Plymouth in 1936. Mather is a past president of the Plymouth Rotary Club—an ex-horn-blower with the Plymouth Symphony—an elder in the First Presbyterian Church—Chairman of Board of Zoning Appeals and a Director of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

In 1936 Dave married Elizabeth Nichol. They have two children—Susan, 16, and Charles, 9 (he will be 10 in June).

The Lumber Company has newly modernized offices. Each wall represents one of the more than 20 varieties of material which the company sells. There is even a home-planning center where new domestic styles and techniques can be discussed.

In 2008—providing history repeats itself—the Plymouth Lumber Company will celebrate their 100th anniversary. By that time there may be a third generation manager at the reins—Mr. Charles Mather II, who will be 60 years of age in June of that year and, about that time, probably will be grooming another generation to take over.

Growing One's Own Herbs As Much Fun As Flowers

Hollyhocks flowering along the picket fence, thyme growing in cracks of the flagstone walk, parsley and basil in the vegetable plot and the rose geranium in the flower pot on the porch—these and many more plants are herbs. A herb is a plant that is used for medicinal purposes, or for its sweet scent or flavor.

Hollyhocks, calendula, nasturtium and foxglove are considered flowers nowadays and are herbs only by tradition. The rose geranium is regarded as a house plant, although its leaves are plucked by some people to put in the bottom of a glass to flavor jelly. Of the dozens of other herbs whose leaves, seeds or flowers are still used for fragrance or flavor, almost any garden is likely to include a half dozen.

Some herbs are gathered fresh all through the summer to add to the salad bowl or to garnish meats or other food dishes. A few plants of basil in a sunny window box or a couple of clumps of chives growing near the kitchen door are handy for cutting off a few leaves or stems with a knife whenever they are wanted for flavoring.

Parsley is cut fresh for both garnishing and flavoring. So is chervil with its slightly anise flavor, corn salad, upland cress or pepper grass to add different flavors to the salad bowl. The bulbous white stalks of fennel or finocchio are served, fresh and crisp, as is celery.

Leaves of tarragon, rosemary and marjoram like sprigs of parsley can be cut and used fresh in salads or they can be dried and saved for use during fall and winter. August is considered a good month to gather leaves of herbs to dry. Cut them on a clear day, using a knife to remove short tender leaves, and not on a morning when they are drenched with rain or dew.

The leaves are dried by spreading them out on screens or by hanging small bunches in an airy but not sunny place. Stir the leaves occasionally. After a week or two, depending on the temperature and the humidity, the leaves should be dry enough to hand rub so that they fall into small particles. Then place them in an airtight jar or container.

It's more difficult to know when to cut herb seeds to dry for flavoring. Seeds of nasturtium are right when they are only half ripe. Those of fennel and dill are trickier.

Diet Aids Senior Citizens

(Editor's Note: This is the fourth in a series of articles prepared by the Diet Therapy section of the Michigan Dietetic Association on various aspects of nutrition.)
By Anabel Rickard, Michigan Department of Health

Eating the right foods can help an elderly person add life to his years at the same time years are being added to his life. When most persons pass middle age they become less active and require smaller amounts of sugars and starches and the energy foods. But the body continues to need regular and daily amounts of proteins, minerals and vitamins in order to be healthy. These proteins, minerals and vitamins produce good muscle tone, good digestion, regular elimination, steady nerves and a sense of well-being.

Two important food nutrients often neglected in the diets of older persons are proteins and the mineral calcium.

Meat is an important source of protein and older persons often cut down on their intake of meat and protein because of ill-fitting dentures or lack of teeth. But meat can be ground, strained or chopped and served in easy-to-eat sauces, meat loaves and meat balls that are tasty and rich in proteins.

Other protein-rich foods are milk, eggs, cheese, fish, nuts, poultry, dried beans, and milk. Every meal should include at least one food rich in protein.

Another food nutrient often missing in the older person's diet is calcium. Both calcium and protein can be found in milk and most milk products. Milk is one of the best all-around foods because it includes large amounts of protein, minerals and also vitamins.

Some people have the mistaken idea that only children need milk. Actually, persons of all ages need the proteins, minerals and vitamins supplied in milk.

If a person does not like to drink milk he can still benefit from it by having it served in cream sauces, cream soups, ice cream, cheese and milk puddings. Milk drinks such as eggnogs, milk shakes, chocolate milk, cocoa and malted milk are popular between-meal snacks.

A convenient and nourishing form of milk is non-fat dry milk. Dry milk is sometimes more convenient to store than fluid milk because in its powder form it can be kept without refrigeration. The non-fat dry milk contains less butterfat and vitamin A than whole milk. Evaporated milk in cans is also convenient. The protein value of fluid whole milk can be doubled by mixing powdered milk with it. Cocoa, cream soups and puddings also can be given double protein strength in this way. Doubling the protein strength also improves the taste of milk for many people.

Besides protein and calcium, a number of other important foods must be eaten daily if older persons are to stay healthy. These other foods include fruits, vegetables, enriched or whole cereals and breads, butter or fortified margarine.

When older people live and eat alone, it is sometimes difficult for them to prepare the kind of meals they need. Some cities have developed "Meals on Wheels" service to supply meals to persons in such situations.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

The Woodchuck Wouldn't "Chuck"

Lady called up our newspaper and asked how to get a woodchuck out of her garage. I referred her to young Chip Wilkins, our Field and Wildlife Editor.

"That's easy," says Chip. "Just roll some bread into pellets, and make a trail of them leading out of the garage."

Next day she called Chip again. "You sure are smart," she coo-ed, "to know a woodchuck will follow a trail of breadcrumbs. Now I've got two woodchucks in the garage!"

From where I sit, sometimes "expert advice" turns out to be not so expert. Reminds me of those who are always ready to advise us how to relax... how to work... whether or not to prefer coffee (for instance) to a glass of beer. I think a lot of us ought to think twice before advising people to do this thing or that thing. In the long run, it will make us all better neighbors.

WITH A pitcherful of iced tea always on hand, any member of the family can pour himself a nice cool refreshing glass of iced tea, and choose his own flavor sweetener.

ENJOYMENT of the outdoor living room depends on adequate and comfortable seating for rest or work plus accessories such as small tables and ash trays.

Add Iced Tea... To Patio For Pure Enjoyment

Family living and entertaining moves outdoors in June, if it hasn't already done so. Its center is the terrace, porch, "patio" or simply a grassy area under a shade tree. Here it's possible to rest or play, eat or entertain more comfortably than in a stuffy house in summer.

The outdoor living room should be comfortable, convenient and attractive. Its beauty is based on its surroundings—a tree for shade, shrubs for privacy, potted plants on the steps or planter boxes along the edge for flowers. Its comfort depends on the furniture and accessories that belong to this outdoor room.

To be comfortable outdoors, it isn't necessary to duplicate all of the furniture and equipment used indoors. Some of the outdoor furniture designed in recent years is as serviceable and appropriate indoors as it is outdoors. This dual purpose furniture—wrought iron and in some cases, rattan, cane or aluminum—is usually expensive.

To be comfortable outdoors doesn't call for the most expensive furniture. Instead it is based on a survey of a family's needs and the purchasing of these items in materials that fit the budget. If there's too much furniture and too many accessories, the outdoor living room will be too crowded for comfort.

Don't, for example, buy a large table and an umbrella, pretty as the latter is, unless

A Stitch In Time

A stitch in time will save more than nine if you keep a sharp lookout for holes and tears when assembling your laundry bundle. Soiled clothing and flatwork should be mended before the laundry routeman shows up. If time is at a premium, merely draw the holes together roughly for the time being with an oversewing stitch. Thin spots should be reinforced by darning before sending any articles to the laundry.

Pick pockets clean before putting garments in the laundry bag. Valuables of every size and description wind up in laundries throughout the country. It's a good idea to inspect men's dress shirts, too, to see that cuff links have been removed.

wood. Less expensive would be furniture of varnished wood, wood or metal with canvas or man-made fabric. Excellent made pieces can be purchased knocked-down, and assembled and finished as a family project.

Pillows covered with a water-repellent material are an important accessory that add color and are good for makeshift seating. Large unbreakable ash trays also are indispensable. Large clam shells are popular with smokers.

Small tables or stools of material that match the main furniture are a convenience. The stools might double for end or side tables, when someone is reading or sewing outdoors, and so keep the outdoor living room from becoming too cluttered.

The inventory of furniture and accessories for outdoor comfort increases each year. Once the essential pieces have been purchased, lights and other items to make the summer a bit more luxurious can be added season by season. To insure years of service, make certain that all fabrics are water repellent and color fast, and that all furniture is weather resistant. This won't do away with upkeep, but it will make it worth doing each year.

Corned Beef Sandwich

April is Sandwich Month and here is an excellent idea for those lunch boxes. Mash one 12-ounce can corned beef. Combine with 3 tablespoons of pickle relish, 2 teaspoons prepared mustard, 1/4 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing. Serve on whole wheat or rye bread.

CONVERTING MORE PEOPLE TO CHEVY!

This superbly fashioned Impala Convertible is making new friends for CHEVROLET faster than you can say TURBO-THRUST V8.* Here's the car that puts you in a top-down, fun-hearted, go-places mood. And you couldn't go places in greater comfort or finer style!

Once you've been infected by the sheer fun of driving this Impala Convertible, no other car can quite take its place. For here's a car made for people who enjoy zestful living. Whisking along with the top down holds that same extra something as cooking food in the open, dancing under the stars or just relaxing in a lawn chair—with only a cloud or two and the sweet smell of summer between you and the sky.
 It's not simply that this car is a convertible —for it is in truth much more than that. It is, for example, the only honest-to-goodness new car in its field—styled with Chevrolet's unique gull-wing grace. And it's the only one that offers the extra rigidity of Chevy's Safety-Gilder frame and the sports car response of the new Turbo-Thrust V8. Stop by your dealer's and see how nicely Chevrolet goes with summer.

The 17th District auxiliary meeting is this Friday, June 6, 7:30 p.m. at Catherine Johnson's home, 370 Orchard Drive, Northville. Don't forget annual reports.

The 17th District Banquet is being held this Saturday, June 7, 8 p.m. at the Methodist Church in Northville. Tickets priced at $2 each. Contact Harry Burleson for tickets.

Attending the 17th District Memorial Service held here Sunday, May 25th at Riverside Cemetery were Robert Wilson, district chaplain; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holcombe; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson; Mrs. Mary Moshier; Maxine Kunz; and Donald Kinghorn. Miss Marylin Dunn of Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti was the singer at this service.

Commander Burleson, President Holcombe and Aide-to-the-Marshel Kinghorn wish to thank all who participated in the Memorial Day parade. They believe this was one of the best we have ever had in Plymouth.

We extend our sympathy to Bob and Ethel Wilson in the loss of their baby and to Evalynn Gardner in her loss of her mother, Mrs. Lucy Dickinson of Cass City.

VFW News

It seems that every year on Memorial Day there are more people watching the parade than there are marchers. If the trend continues, it is possible that everyone will be on the sidelines watching nothing.

The program was worthy of the day, with the exception of the presentation of the awards for the rifle shoot. It seems as though that could have been done at some other time and place.

The post and auxiliary were well represented at the Memorial services at the First Methodist Church on Sunday, May 25. It was a most inspiring service and we are grateful for the welcome extended us.

At the post meeting it was decided that a drawing of names of member's sons will be held at the June 4 meeting. This is for attendance at the summer camp near Dexter. All sons of members between the ages of 9 and 15 are eligible, except those previously sent. Members themselves must be present at the drawing.

This summer the post will sponsor a scholarship to Interlochen Music Camp to a deserving member of the school band. In a small way this will show our appreciation to the band and Mr. Livingston for its excellent cooperation in our activities.

The anniversary dinner, under the direction of Milly Dely and Marion Krumm, will be held at the hall on Wednesday, June 11. All members are being contacted. It will be served buffet style.

Two of our active members are moving this month and they and their families will be missed. The Ken Stevens are moving to Grand Rapids and the Bill Normans are going to California. Best of luck to all of them.

Madonna College Graduates 32

Conferring of degrees to 32 graduates of Madonna College, Livonia, took place Sunday, June 1, at 2:30 p.m. in DeSales auditorium on the campus. The most Rev. Alexander M. Zaleski, D.D., auxiliary bishop of Detroit, officiated.

Madonna's 11th commencement graduated 30 seniors with a bachelor of arts degree, and 2 with a bachelor of science. Rt. Rev. Msgr. Albert Matyn, M.A., rector of Sacred Heart seminary, delivered the address for the occasion.

Augmenting the program were several choral selections under the direction of Sister M. Paulette, including "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan, "Jubilate Deo" by Aikenger and "Blue Are Her Eyes" by Clokey. Agnes Schettenhelm, Choral accompanist, will render an organ solo.

Graduation Mass at 9:30 a.m. was celebrated in the campus chapel by Fr. Mitchell J. Witkowski, pastor of St. John the Baptist parish, Dearborn.

Dorothy Knapp, Americanism chairman attended an afternoon tea, held at the Earl Scouts cabin. Mrs. Knapp received a citation in recognition of Troop sponsorship. Passage-Gayde unit sponsors Troop 25. An American Flag was also presented to Troop 11 by President Gwen Holcombe. These are all Brownie troops.

Increases for totally and permanently disabled war veterans and widows of veterans are being supported by the American Legion and auxiliary, because of the sharp increase in the cost of living since the last increases were granted four years ago.

Participating in the Redford Township Community Memorial Parade, Sunday were: department historian, Dorothy Koi; 17th district historian, Ernest Koi and Commander Harry Burleson. Rain dampened everyone but the Jackson Zouaves, Edison Lamplighters Drum and Bugle Corp, Tecumseh (all girl) Drill Team, and many more.

Radio, TV Chief Speaks to Shriners

Henry Rogers, business manager of WWJ radio and television, was guest speaker for the Suburban Shrine Club held last week at Loly's Arbor Lill.

Rogers was a former merchant marine officer, having sailed the high seas from 1940 to 1947. He was personnel director of Armour & Co. for two years before joining WWJ in 1950. He spoke on "Radio and TV Today."

At the June 23 meeting, Ozzie Harding, famous storytelling personality of the Upper Peninsula, will speak. There will also be a barber shop quartet and the Washtenaw County Shriners will be guests.

Local Rotarians Attending Dallas Convention

A number of Plymouth Rotary Club members are among the 12,000 members and families from 108 countries attending the 49th annual convention of Rotary International in Dallas.

The convention opened Sunday and today the membership elected a new president for 1958-59 — Clifford A. Randall, an attorney from Milwaukee.

The Rotary convention program includes addresses by outstanding speakers, discussion forums, election of officers, and special entertainment features. Rotarians also will study the common problems of their various businesses and professions, and the many community-betterment activities engaged in by Rotary clubs throughout the world.

Among the speakers are Robert C. Hill, U. S. Ambassador to Mexico; Dr. Donald H. Andrews of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland, U. S. government consultant in rocket research and development of atomic energy; Price Daniel, Governor of Texas; Robert Lee Thornton, Mayor of Dallas; and Rotarians and Rotary Foundation Fellows from nine countries.

The president of Rotary International, Charles G. Tennesson of Asheville, North Carolina, today announced that during the past eleven months, 306 new Rotary clubs have been organized in 49 countries, bringing the membership of this world-wide service organization to an all-time high of 9,800 Rotary clubs.

Rotary International's 1959 convention will be held in New York City June 7-11.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

Three Other Parties

Smaller parties in Michigan's political phalanx are stirring to get on the 1958 state election ballot.

Only the most fervent of the faithful dream that any one of their candidates will win in November, but there is a principle to be pursued.

The latest party organization, the "Tax Cut Party," fell short of the needed 15,000 valid signatures to go on the November ballot but other, more familiar names made it.

They are the Socialist Workers Party, the Socialist Labor Party and the Prohibition Party.

State Law requires them to get three per cent of the total vote to automatically stay on the ballot.

Michigan has never discouraged minority parties, but rather, has encouraged them.

The Hire Now! Campaign, launched earlier this month by the Michigan Employment Security Commission, cannot help but have value to the state's economy.

Obvious benefit, of course, is a job for an unemployed person.

Economically it means that one more worker will start receiving wages he earns and be taken off the list of those who receive unemployment compensation.

Success marked the start of the campaign. Before noon the first day, MESCO offices had 40 new requests for workers.

Employers seeking skilled or unskilled workers for full or part time jobs are urged by Max Horton, director, to contact the nearest office of Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Michigan's rich tourist industry is expected to feel the first serious pangs of the economic slump this summer.

For several years, the dollar volume of the vacation industry has ranged between $500,000,000 and $600,000,000.

This year the Michigan Tourist Council is campaigning for Michigan residents to vacation in their own state, rather than taking expensive trips around the nation.

Most lakes and resort spots can be reached in a half-day's driving.

Thousands are expected to attend the celebration, with major events at St. Ignace and Mackinaw City.

Politicians of all stripe immediately fought for the glory.

And the interesting point is that politicians will not retire the $98,000,000 in bonds.

Washington Highlights

BY RAY VERNON

WASHINGTON. If the current effort to admit Alaska as a state succeeds, Texas will be mighty disappointed.

Alaska, though, is twice the size of Texas and one-fifth the size of the entire United States.

HELP WANTED. For all the young ladies about to graduate from high school, here's an interesting announcement.

QUALITY VERSUS QUANTITY. The U.S. Office of Education says the quality of science and mathematics education in our schools is more important than increasing the number of students taking such courses.

CELESTIAL SPEEDOMETER. Dr. Hugh Dryden, director of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, can bring you down to earth with his space age statistics.

STRANGE BEDFELLOWS. Almost everyone recalls the hue and cry raised when Charlie Wilson, one-time head of General Motors and former Secretary of Defense, allegedly commented, "What's good for General Motors is good for the country."

Wilson — auto workers union president Walter Reuther — agrees. He told a Congressional committee that Wilson's idea was basically sound.

FLICKERING FLAMES. One of the most encouraging reports to come out of this center of discouraging reports is the one that forest fires hit a record low last year — 83,400 which is the first time the 100,000 mark has been broken.

Much credit goes to the Smokey Bear Campaign and the Keep Green Programs which have made Americans conscious that our great and small forests are being destroyed needlessly.

RELATED RECOGNITION. Washington is ringing with recriminations over what went wrong in Latin America to bring on the unexpected attacks on Vice President Nixon.

They are making tremendous contributions to the social security of these countries through taxes, royalty payments and other assistance.

Below his plane was the earth revolving at 1,000 miles an hour. The earth was traveling in orbit around the sun at about 66,000 miles an hour.

By ROBERT PETERSON

Dr. Francis Carr Stifler, 73, retired recently as Editor of The Record, published by the American Bible Society.

He wrote it on request for an information rack service which distributes booklets to industrial personnel.

Dr. Stifler's life in its fullest and richest sense began at 50. He had been just another Baptist minister when he was felled in mid-life by a coronary heart attack which compelled him to leave the ministry.

His caretakers pulled him through and the following year he took a part-time editorial position with the Bible Society.

tracts and pamphlets about the Bible.

"I think the Bible becomes increasingly precious as we grow older," he said. "Most people have their first religious experience when they're young, but it doesn't always mean a great deal due to the competition of school, courtship, job-hunting, and parenthood.

"Unfortunately, many people never become intimately acquainted with the Bible. They may have one in their home and they may have good intentions about reading it.

Local Pianists Play in Festival

The 15th Michigan Annual Music Festival was held at the Fairgrounds Coliseum, Sunday May 25, sponsored by the Festival Teachers' Association and Grinnell Brothers who furnished the 200 pianos and 50 organs. Some 1,200 musicians took part in the several groups, including 18 piano pupils of Mrs. Florence Crandell, of 974 Church St., Plymouth. Mrs. Crandell was one of the 22 in the Artists Pianists Group. Plymouth High School

Seniors Ending Classes
 After a nice weekend vacation, we resumed classes on Monday morning as usual. Only this was the last Monday that seniors will ever attend high school. Each day this week is the last. It is sort of sad and unbelievable, but there isn't too much time for worrying amid the frantic preparations for the big event of Commencement on June 19.

GAA Trophies Awarded
 Three girls were awarded GAA trophies for their attendance. Nancy Eaton, Kay Fisher, and Jane Hardimon received the top 1000-point honor while Marianna Jensen, Joy Kalmbach, Gerry Love, Sandra Noll, Marjorie Reddeman, M. J. West, and Kathy Yakley received the 750-point bar awards.

Receiving their 500 point letters at the Banquet on May 26, at the Mayflower Hotel were: Delores Aldrich, Betty Argo, Marie Bolen, Brenda Brunan, Judy Henry, Karen Lent, Sally Jo Mathias, Judy Rowe, Allison Scott, Linda Williams, Ann Taylor, and Judy Widmaier. Congratulations girls. These awards represent a lot of effort.

Future Nurses Elect
 The Future Nurses of PHS have chosen their officers for the ensuing term. Wilma Wright will head the group as president. Vice-President will be Suzy Phillips. Linda Cutright is the newly elected secretary with Christine Steiner as treasurer.

F.H.A. Eats Around Earth
 An "Around the World Dinner" was presented by F.H.A. on Tuesday, May 27, for members and their parents. (In case you are puzzled, I was too; but an "Around the World Dinner" is a feast at which is served a variety of dishes representative of different countries.) The novel dinner was followed by a formal initiation of next year's officers.

Dotty Grabowski was initiated into the office of president; Geraldine Rehbein, secretary; Pat Clixby, treasurer; Carolyn Murray, parliamentarian; Linda Crackle, historian; Kathie Kiel, song leader; and Donna Cooker, reporter.

Incidentally, Dotty and Donna are scheduled to attend the MEA tea at a chaper's camp at Battle Creek for two weeks.

New Fresh Name Officers
 The up-and-coming freshman class (presently eight graders) announced the results of their recent election of officers. Congratulations to: Carol Stevenson, president; Tony Hunt, vice-president; Mary Lou Argo, secretary; and the following Student Council representatives—Maw Hulsing, Helen Otwell, Sally Anthony, and Ken Fischer.

Something New
 A Linguaphone will be available to Spanish students next year. It is addition of facilities like these that keeps PHS up-to-date and in step with the best. (Sometimes, even ahead!)

An electrochemical device has been developed that may rival the vacuum tube and the transistor as a basic electronic component. It depends on the movement of ions in a solution instead of in a gas, vacuum or solid.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS... FROM THE PAGES OF THE MAIL

June 4, 1953

 Acquisition of additional parking lot space was practically assured when city commissioners last Monday officially authorized the purchase of a 25x122 foot strip of mid-block property just south of Dodge street.

The board of directors of Rotary elevated Lewis Godard to the presidency of the club at a special meeting held last Friday.

According to an announcement this week by insurance agent, Bob Johnston of Plymouth, the insurance business of Duane Parkes has been purchased by the Johnston Agency.

Two hundred and eighty pounds of lake trout and great northern pike were caught in Sudbury, Canada, by Elwin Taylor, Dave Beagle, Gus Lundquist, Frank Terry and Charles Beagle.

Russell Brown and George Gottschalk left Sunday for a hike across the straits and returned home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wellman have moved into their new home on Adams street which they recently purchased from Edward Dobbs.

Mary Ann Peck celebrated her fifth birthday on June 1 by having five of her little friends in for a party. Guests were Linda Baughman, Ray Christensen, Betty Moberg, Judy Moberg and Christine Deaner.

Mr. Robert Willoughby of West Ann Arbor left Thursday for West Branch where she will visit with her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. Stephen Carlson and their new daughter, Elizabeth Linnette.

A "Bon Voyage" dessert was held in honor of Mrs. H. Bond and her daughter, Irene of Maple avenue. Hostesses were Mrs. John Van Hoy and Mrs. Harry Gerst. Guests were Mrs. Dan Mills, Mrs. Eva Sugden, and Mrs. Alfred Wildon. Mrs. Bond and Irene leave on June 8 for a vacation in England.

 Marvin Partridge and Wayne Marzolf are co-chairmen for this year's Coaster Derby. Mr. and Mrs. John Urban of East Ann Arbor Trail returned home last weekend from a two-weeks trip in the East.

Work is expected to begin within a month on an addition to the First Baptist Church.

Within approximately two weeks time, operations will begin in the Steel Fabricating plant now being erected by William Gopen on Ann Arbor road east of Lilley road.

Gary Sockow was host to a group of his friends at a picnic last Saturday evening. The guests were Betty Lorenz, Bettes Below, Gerry Huddleston, Judy Parmenter, Bud Young, Bonnie Wilkins, Dick Joachim, Pat Green and Bill Batterton.

Betty Dely of Maple avenue honored Phyllis Makepeace and Margaret Plummer on their birthdays at a luncheon in her home last Thursday. The guests were Mrs. Bayliss Erdelyi, Mrs. Jean Hamilton and Rosemary Lyke.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ernst and children, Delores and Ronnie, spent Decoration Day weekend at Mackinac Island. Will spend seven million dollars on new race track in Livonia.

 Kicked around as though it didn't amount to anything, the Rouge river has again been forced to change its route between Plymouth and Northville.

New channels have been dug around the Six Mile road area which should tend to make more appropriate scenery for this area.

At their meeting last Tuesday evening the Kiwanis club decided to force the depression into the background and do some extensive civic development. One suggestion was the convenient placing of signs at entrances to the city. Another was a nice fence running between the ice house and back to cover the unsightly creek running through that area. Several other suggestions are being considered by Mayor Freeman Hoyer and his committee of Norman Dennis and Glenn Smith.

Monday June 12 will be the annual school election. Three candidates are running, two for re-election and one new one. Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple will vie with James Gahmore, a member for three years and the board's president for those three years and Russell A. Roe who is now the board's treasurer. All three candidates are outstanding in the field for which they are contesting and it is the duty of every voting citizen to select his choice to this important position.

Hundreds attended Memorial services held at local Theatre and watched impressive parade. Appropriate selections were sung by the Northville Male quartette and by the Plymouth high school group and the reading, "The March of the Dead" was read by Zerepha Blunk. The speaker, Oliver Goldsmith, used as his theme "Echoes of the Past."

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Patterson of Walled Lake announce the engagement of her sister, Della, to Ragnor Blomberg of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. John Birchall entertained at their summer cottage on Memorial day for Mr. and Mrs. Gar Evans, Les Evans, Margaret Melow, Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bean, Mr. and Mrs. Stowgill, Ben Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Parke and Miss Mary Murray.

Senior "Skip Day" will long be remembered by the two bus loads of students who made the journey last week to Lansing. The kindergarten antics of the seniors made everyone feel hilarious from the time we waved goodbye to the other envious students until we reached home exhausted at 10:45 p.m. "Liz" Nichol started the ball rolling by antagonizing "Dad" Greer, who wasn't in as good a mood as the seniors and she ended up with a huge ink smear across her face which was in evidence the rest of the day. Someone took the pretty red tulip away from "Red" Kilgore and presented it to our bus driver, who at once received all the flowers, both real and artificial from all the gals on the bus. At intervals the two buses drove side by side and candy and peanuts were exchanged by the fistful. After arriving at Lansing, the School of the Blind and the Michigan State campus were visited. About half of the group forgot that we were to return to Plymouth at 6 o'clock and stragglers arrived until 7:30 before all were accounted for.

 Miss Maud Gracen, who has just closed a very successful term at the District No. 1 school, held a picnic for all her students at Frank Whittaker's last Thursday.

Mrs. Colvin of Salem is attending the W.C.T.U. convention at Bay City this week. The pretty lawn at Miss Purdy's home at West Town Line was the scene of a fine party Tuesday afternoon in celebration of two birthdays, Miss Purdy's and one of her pupils.

A large number from Livonia Center attended the band concert at Orchard Lake last Sunday. Most had to return home early because of the "freeze out."

School notes Gladys Gale has been neither absent or tardy this year. Mrs. Silas Sly visited the 7th grade and Mrs. Will Gayde the first grade this week. The 7th grade had a very interesting debate Wednesday. Subject "Whether Plymouth is a better town than Detroit to live in." The negative won.

Given Brothers and Huston and Company have new delivery wagons.

W. O. Allen has sold all his property except his city lots to William Blunk.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown are the happy parents of a son born last Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Hough and grandson, Cass, spent a few days last week at the Hough Log Cabin in Canton.

Ed Bolton, while working at a press at the Daisy shop, accidentally cut the ends of his second and third fingers on his right hand, Wednesday.

The South Lyon post office was broken into by burglars last Tuesday night and the safe blown open. $215.00 in money and $275 in stamps was taken. No clues as yet.

Homer Jewell and Miss Ina Hayes were wed at the home of the bride in Wayne yesterday. The couple will reside in the Steven Jewell home on Union street.

At long last, the new drinking fountains have arrived. One has been placed opposite the Gayde Brothers store on the North Side, the other on Main street opposite Brown and Pettigills.

The majority given the proposition to pave Main street with brick, at the special election last Tuesday was a surprise to everyone.

While it was supposed the paving would carry it was not until the final counting that the big surprise came. Out of the 376 ballots 331 were marked yes making it most unanimous.

A heavy downpour of rain last Sunday completely covered the ball field making it impossible to play the game with the Detroit Knights of Security team. Luckily Detroit was playing Chicago so most of the town's ball fans took to Detroit for that game.

Section 13.09. Powers of the Board of Appeals relative to signs. The Board of Appeals, subject to the procedure, provisions and limitations of Section 13.07 may permit a variance from the requirements of Section 9.01 (i) hereto, by granting a temporary permit for a sign to project more than eighteen (18) inches beyond the building line when the building line, as established by the Master Thorofare Plan, forces the sign to be so located that it will be hidden or partially hidden from view of the street by existing buildings or structures so as to render the sign ineffective, subject to the following conditions:

- The sign shall not project more than eighteen (18) inches beyond the building line as established by the majority of the buildings in the block.
- The temporary permit as to location of the sign shall be effective until the authorization of the street improvement, at which time the City shall notify the owner that the temporary permit shall cease and that the sign shall be removed, or removed and replaced in a position in compliance with the Zoning Ordinance.
- The cost of removal or replacement of the sign shall be paid for by the owner or lessee of the building or land upon which the sign is located.
- The sign construction shall comply with the requirements of the Building Code.

All interested parties will be given ample opportunity to participate in the hearing, and at the close of the hearing, the comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Planning Commission before making its decision.

Air Force to Check Electronic Aptitude

Tech Sgt. Charles A. Ahnen of the local US Air Force Recruiting Office today announced that the Air Force has lifted restrictions for enlistment of personnel who have had no previous service.

With the need for skilled electronic and radar specialists increasing daily, the Air Force will allow the enlistment of all persons who can qualify under the newly-adopted electronic aptitude test.

All aptitude testing is given to the prospective applicant prior to his enlistment. If the scores are sufficiently high, the applicant will then receive a complete physical evaluation, and if found qualified, enlisted on the date he desires.

Anyone interested in this new program can receive additional information by contacting Sgt. Ahnen at Five Mile and Farmington Rd., across from the City Hall in Livonia, telephone GA 4-2580.
