Enlargement Of Township Hall Up to Electors

Plymouth Township electors will be given a chance this November to decide if $45,000 in additions and improvements should be spent for the Township Hall.

The Township Board voted last week to put the issue on the ballot on Tuesday, Nov. 4. Proposed additions would double the floor space.

The proposal will not be a bond issue or millage proposition. Money for the construction will come from the general fund.

Petitioners Object To Water Rates

The longest regular Plymouth Township meeting in over a year saw board members recite township water and sewer rates to over 30 disgruntled Lake Pointe Village residents last Wednesday night.

The lively debate resulted in a "token" reduction of water and sewer rates to 28 cents per 1,000 gallons — but only for consumption over 17,000 gallons in a two month period.

Herald Hamill, township engineer, cautioned that any savings realized by the lower rate would be negligible. "By the time the new rate goes into effect it will be fall and water consumption will have drastically reduced anyway," he said.

The delegation attended the meeting to protest a petition to the township board protesting against excessive rates.

Plans call for the present main meeting room to be doubled in size, fire department quarters enlarged enough to hold another truck, shower and bedroom facilities for the department, separate offices for the clerk and treasurer, a remodeled entrance and paved parking lot.

There is plenty of space to enlarge the hall, Lindsay states, with the lot being 300 feet deep. The Township Hall was built in 1948.

SURVEYING FIRE damage to their restaurant Thursday morning were Mr. and Mrs. H. Philip Barney, 934 Hartsough. Starting at 2 a.m., Barney's Plymouth Grill on Starkweather was heavily damaged. Barney does not intend to open the restaurant again due to ill health but the building owner expects to remodel. Barney began operation of the restaurant in the building seven years ago after a previous owner was also burned out.

Friend of Firemen Quits Business

Restaurant Hit by $10,000 Blaze

Early this year, restaurant owner H. Philip Barney was made an honorary city fireman during a ceremony because on numerous occasions he had served coffee to the department during long firefighting sessions.

But when firemen were on the job three hours early last Thursday morning, the restaurant owner was unable to help. It was his establishment that was burning.

Barney's Plymouth Grill, located north of the C&O Depot on Starkweather Ave., was gutted by fire that caused damage tentatively estimated at $10,000. Most of the diningroom interior was lost while the kitchen suffered smoke and heat damage.

The building itself, owned by Harry Richards, 40699 Joy Rd., was also damaged inside but will be repaired. But Barney will not return to the restaurant business because of a heart ailment.

Police received a call from an unidentified person at 2 a.m. Thursday reporting the fire. They notified the fire department and when a police car drove up a minute later the entire front end of the building was ablaze. They had made a routine night check of the building only an hour earlier and found nothing unusual.

Heat had already broken out windows when firemen arrived. It took a half hour to bring the blaze under control. Fire Captain Charles Groth reported. Firemen checked out at 5 a.m.

Captain Groth said that from the best that can be determined, the fire started in the vicinity of a refrigerator located near the front door.

This isn't the first time that the building has burned out. Seven years ago there was a restaurant in the building operated by Al Carnivale that suffered a fire. After the building was again repaired, Phil Barney moved in. He had been in the restaurant business since 1945 at a location next to Bill's Market on Starkweather.

Split of $1,400,000 Awaits Court Decision

Laid-off employees of the Detroit Bank & Trust Company, trustee of the fund, saying that a decision can be expected within the next 30 days and that distribution may be made in late October.

There is also a chance, however, that any decision could be appealed to the State Supreme Court, holding up payment longer.

Rita Buckner filed the suit, a "petition for declaration of rights," last February. According to law, she also represents other employees who are in the same situation.

The suit is one involving her amount of eligibility under the profit sharing plan. She claims she is eligible for a year more than she has been allowed.

The plaintiff was hired on June 6, 1955. To be eligible for the profit-sharing plan, it was necessary to have consecutive employment for one fiscal year (fiscal year begins in November). In the meantime, the ruling was changed making two years of employment necessary.

It is estimated that this change in ruling affected the eligibility of about 120 employees. There are some 400 other former workers not affected.

Those 400 workers not affected and even some who stand a chance of gaining a bigger share of the fund should the plaintiff win are unhappy. One former worker said this week that the plaintiff and the people she represents are "hurting their fellow employees, some of whom I dare say are desperately in need of their money."

The extra year of eligibility, according to some estimates, would mean a gain of $300 to $400 for the plaintiff. The fund will pay many thousands of dollars to older employees but it is impossible to figure out exactly how much until the law suit is resolved.

Not all of the $1,400,000 will be disbursed. Those workers who went with Daisy to Rogers, Arkansas three months ago still participate in the plan and their paid-in shares will remain. The bulk, however, will be distributed.

Defendants in the suit besides Daisy Manufacturing are the Detroit Bank and Trust Company and all who participate in the profit-sharing plan.

Daisy's Employee Profit Sharing Plan was started Sept. 13, 1946. A portion of the profits were paid in cash each year while the balance went into the trust fund.

C of C Calls Emergency Session

Members of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce will meet tonight (Thursday) to hear a recommendation from its Directors raising the price of membership.

Dues have not been changed since 1947. Today the Chamber is amidst a financial emergency.

The proposal to be heard at the general membership meeting at Plymouth High School at 7:30 calls for increasing the "base" dues from $25 to $50. Other fees would remain unchanged, including the important one of $5 additional dues for each employe.

"The Chamber has not been 'current' in its financing for the past two or three years," explained President Fred Van Dyke. "We annually have been forced to spend next year's income, in effect, on current expenses. Last year we were able to get by only because the manager and office secretary deferred receipt of their salaries."

"That no longer is possible. We must become current with our budget. The proposal to be offered tonight is for a straight raise in dues, effective with the current year. The raise is long overdue, and has been delayed only because we have wanted to put it off as long as possible."

"Tonight's meeting is desperately important, and I urge every member to come to the high school. What transpires can determine the whole future nature and course of our Plymouth Chamber of Commerce."

A GIANT CUT into the earth 28 feet deep has been made across Schoolcraft Rd. to accommodate a sanitary sewer that will service the new school opening next month.

Rush Work on New School

It looks like the Helen Farrand Elementary School on Schoolcraft Rd. will be ready to "open for business" at the same time that other schools in the Plymouth district begin the new school year on Thursday, Sept. 4.

That was the opinion given the board of education Monday night in a progress report delivered by Administrative Assistant Melvin Blunk.

Workers are now busily laying tile floors, installing hardware and doing the finishing carpentry at the building itself. The contractor expresses no doubt that the building will not be ready.

Not quite as assured is the laying of the sanitary sewer, water line and gas line to the school.

Schoolcraft Rd. has been closed to traffic for the past two weeks while a tremendous 28-foot-deep cut for the sewer line is being laid deep enough to serve not only the school but also the many hundreds of homes that the Fred Greenspan Building Co. intends to eventually construct north of Schoolcraft.

While the sewer laying job is also on schedule, the weather could always change the picture, Blunk declared. The water line will be laid nearer the surface while Consumers Power expects to lay its line to the school along the temporary road by August 29.

In other business before the board Monday, the board voted to borrow up to $400,000 for school operation on taxes anticipated. The loan is being negotiated through the National Bank of Detroit. The school district's tax monies are not collected until December and January and they receive their money in mid-February.

A letter was received from Mrs. Dorothy Smith suggesting exterior lighting for the Junior High School. Blunk reported that the suggestion was a justifiable one — that he and the superintendent had sometime ago asked Detroit Edison to work out a lighting plan. Lighting is needed around the school's exterior because of the many functions through which depart-

Board Protests City Fire Runs Into Township

A letter protesting the answering of fire and emergency calls in Plymouth Township by the city of Plymouth Fire Department has been sent by the Township Board to the City Commission.

Township Board members voted last week to send a letter of protest. It was received at city hall yesterday and may be presented to the commission at its regular meeting next Monday night.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay told the board that "Plymouth has been answering our fire calls for quite a while and it's time they stopped."

"Our citizens expect and deserve adequate fire protection. We are equipped to give it to them but it's impossible to do so when Plymouth receives the fire alarm and refuses to call us."

The situation arises because some township residents either call city hall for some reason or their calls are referred there. Some callers in their haste during an emergency call the operator and do not specify a fire department. The operators, in this case, refer it to city hall.

Supervisor Lindsay said this week that most of the cases in question are resuscitator runs, "but a few were fires." He specified that two weeks ago the city emergency truck went to Phoenix Lake in Plymouth Township to aid a badly injured youth and that the township department didn't learn about it until the next day.

He added that he believed that answering one another's calls is in violation of the Mutual Assistance agreement through which depart-

Set Registration For New High School Students

Students who will be attending Plymouth High School for the first time next month are being asked to register anytime before 4 p.m., August 27, Principal Carvel Bentley announced this week.

It is recommended that these students make a phone call to the Guidance office in the high school and obtain an appointment for the registration, Bentley said. The phone number is GL-3-3100. Registration will be made with Robert Smith, assistant principal in charge of guidance and counseling.

This information also applies to students who classified before school was dismissed in June but who now want to change their class schedules.

New students enrolling for the first time in Plymouth High School are asked to bring their scholastic records from the schools previously attended. Principal Bentley (Continued on Page 8)

Plane Spots Burning House

After the third attempt to burn down an abandoned house, vandals finally succeeded 3 a.m. Tuesday, August 12.

An airplane flying over the house at 2005 Beck Rd. spotted the flames and radioed an alert to Willow Run Airport. In turn the airport notified the State Police who started searching through the fog to find the fire.

After several attempts the house was found and Canton Township Fire Department was summoned. However, because of the time lapse, they were unable to save the home.

NEWS BEAT

No Tears or Regrets, Please

Gould's Cleaners on S. Main has been receiving many sympathetic phone calls from customers and even out-of-town cleaners this week expressing their regret concerning the fire which they believed destroyed the cleaner's building. No need for regrets, owner Harold Ziegler points out. As reported in The Mail three weeks ago, the old building is being razed to make way for a parking lot in front of a new building at the rear of the property. A fire, however, did break out in the flue of a gas dryer at Perfection Laundry Tuesday morning. No damage reported.

OFF-BEAT: Detective Lt. Roger Vanderveen of the Plymouth police, heading north on vacation with City Safety Inspector Charles Thompson, suddenly halted the car near Fenton when he spied a pink bundle in the middle of the road. He picked it up, found it was a copy of the Flint Journal. Driving on, he was overtaken by a honking car driven by a farmer who waved him to the side of the road. The farmer complained that the newspaper, delivered to subscribers by dumping it along the road, is stolen at least twice a week by people like Vanderveen.

PREVIEW: Before the city's proposed truck route ordinance gets another reading next Monday, it is expected that it will be changed to relieve Karmada St. of the truck burden until it is improved. At a committee meeting of the commission Monday night, commissioners seemed in favor of allowing trucks to use Adams and Harvey Sts. from Farmer to Junction. Residents of Junction and Karmada protested the route with a petition last week.

POLICE BEAT: Seven merchants withdrew their complaints with police when a man who passed bad checks made them good. Druggist Robert Beyer went to Wayne Saturday and positively identified his stolen boat. He found it battered up considerably though.

BUNKO DETAIL: Chamber Manager Gene Kornfield is again appealing to residents to beware of buying from unreliable dealers and through ads. One woman wanted a sewing machine and was told they were out of it, so bought one costing $140. She later found they sold for $50. Check prices with known local dealers before buying from unknown sources, Kornfield states. The Mail and most other newspapers try to weed out unreliable ads, but can't be sure of them all.

GETTING SOFT: More were in town Tuesday setting competition for the easy chair beside the TV is ahead at the Penn Theatre where 670 deep-coil spring seats will be installed next month. The theatre will close three days for the installation. Incidentally, theatre Manager Margaret Wilson helped provide this summer. She was one of the team working to attract crowds to the Plymouth Colony Farm Concert Series on Sunday evenings.

MOVING DAY: Former Mayor Russell Daane and family loaded the furniture into a van Wednesday and made their formal departure from Plymouth to their new residence at 3230 Maple Lane, Fort Wayne, Ind. Daane resigned from Daisy Manufacturing to accept a bank executive job there.

Mrs. Silvio H. Gaggi

Miss Sandra Jo Singer Weds Silvio H. Gaggi on June 21

Residing at 320 Blanche, guests were welcomed at a reception in the V.F.W. Hall following the wedding. They were from Plymouth, Flint, Detroit, Livonia, Ohio, Florida and California.

The bride is the former Miss Sandra Jo Singer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Singer, 475 Adams St., Plymouth. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gaggi of Detroit.

The couple exchanged vows in a 6:30 p.m. service in St. Peter's Lutheran church with Rev. Edgar Hoenke officiating. Roger Gertz, soloist, was accompanied by Richard Scharf.

Sandra wore a gown of Italian silk enhanced by lace applique. It featured a chapel length train. A pearl crown held her fingertip-length veil. Amazon lilies and stephanotis formed her bridal bouquet.

Janet Fuehrer, cousin of the bride, served as honor attendant. She was attired in white nylon with dainty print of blue and green. She wore a white picture hat and carried white and pink glameillas. Bridesmaids were Marjorie Hyde, Lorna Buchanan, Diana Guidicelli and Margaret Stevens.

They were frocked similar to the honor attendant. Pink glameillas were their flowers.

Peter Gaggi, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Seating guests were Jack Kometz, William Lawson, Raymond Helbert, and Matthew St. Angelo.

Mrs. Singer chose beige lace with matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. She had a pink rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother had a navy blue lace dress accented by light blue accessories. Red roses were her corsage. Two hundred and fifty

Only a Few Colleges Actually Filled This Fall, Survey Finds

NEW YORK (UPI) — Educational snobbery is becoming a major headache to the nation's colleges and universities. Educators complain it is helping to create a mistaken idea that most institutions of higher learning are jammed and turning last June's high school graduates a way in droves. Nothing could be further from the truth, educators report. Much publicity has been given to the fact that Harvard and Vassar, Smith and Yale, Princeton and Wellesley, Stanford, MIT, Caltech and a number of other top-drawer schools are full. But at the same time, classroom facilities have been going begging in hundreds of less famous colleges and universities, according to reports from United Press International bureaus across the country.

Of the nation's 1,800 public and private colleges and universities, only 60 to 70 actually could hang out "standing room only" signs tomorrow, said a spokesman for one of the nation's largest private schools, New York University.

"Many of the others are scratching around to find good qualified students," he said. Hardest hit have been the small, privately supported colleges whose existences depend in large measure on tuition. Even NYU, where tuitions make up about 44 per cent of the total income, was 1,200 tuitions short last year.

A baby boy, Dennis Joseph, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ensley, 512 N. Mill, Plymouth, at Annapolis Community Hospital, Wayne, at 4:10 p.m. Aug. 8. He weighed 7 lb. 14 1/2 oz. The mother is the former Barbara Barr of Livonia.

Charles D. O'Connell, University of Chicago admissions director, supported the New York findings. He said his school could take additional well-qualified students, but he gave no figure. One of Chicago's problems, he said, is a shortage of dormitory space.

O'Connell said there is "great pressure" on about 40 colleges, most of them in the east, while many others across the country "go begging."

The Associated Colleges of Illinois, an organization that seeks financial aid for 24 small liberal arts colleges, reported that classroom space for about 2,000 additional students is going to waste in these schools, largely because of a shortage of dormitories. A drive is under way to raise funds for living quarters at such colleges as Knox, Lake Forest and Monmouth, the association said.

Colorado College at Colorado Springs had 960 full-time undergraduates last year and expects about 1,000 next semester but could handle 150 more men.

Baptist-supported Wake Forest College, at Winston Salem, N. C., said it has been turning down women applicants since March, when the co-ed quota was filled, but "we'd be happy to hear from well-qualified males."

Other church-supported schools also are having enrollment problems, according to a spokesman for the National Council of Churches. He said many of the nation's 250 fully church-operated schools could handle larger student bodies.

Hollace G. Roberts, admissions director of Western Reserve University at Cleveland, said:

"Our enrollment is higher, but we could use more students this year. We're not turning people down because we don't have space for them. There are still places for good students, by all means."

Mrs. Charles Edwin Todd

Plymouthite Charles Todd Claims Bride in Aug. 2 Rites

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edwin Todd, who exchanged vows Saturday, Aug. 2, in a double ring ceremony in Olympia, Wash., will make their home in Silver Spring, Md., after Aug. 24.

The winsome blonde bride is the former Miss Karyl Yvonne Kintner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dana Kintner of Olympia. She married the son of Mrs. Joseph Harold Todd, of 42425 Clemons Dr., and the late Dr. Todd.

Officiating at the afternoon rites in Lacey Community Church of the Brethren were the bride's grandfather, Rev. Edward Kintner, and Rev. Homer D. Kimmel.

Baskets of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums were chancel decor. A cross of yellow carnations outlined in white ribbon was used at the altar.

Ivory taffeta nuptial robes donned by Karyl were styled with a full skirt that swept in deep folds to form a small train in back. A collar framed the scoop neckline.

Her tiara, outlined in seed pearls, held an illusion fine-rip-length veil. White orchids, surrounded by stephanotis, fashioned her bouquet.

Miss Marianne Kintner was her sister's honor maid, attired in an aqua silk ballerina frock worn over taffeta, in a m.p.i.r.e. style. She had a matching hat and shoes and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Dressed identically was another sister of the bride, Miss Janet R. Kintner, serving as bridesmaid.

Harold C. Todd of Seattle was best man for his brother. Ushers included Barry Kimmel, Gordon Kintner of Seattle, a cousin of the bride, and Howard Rosenthal of Seattle, the bridegroom's cousin.

Mrs. Donald Holsopple of Tacoma, organist, accompanied Frederick Michael, soloist.

Assisting at a reception following the service in the church social rooms were Mrs. Quentin Kintner, Mrs. Galen Kintner, Mrs. Elgin Kintner, Mrs. Mary Kintner, all aunts of the bride; Mrs. Harold Todd, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs. Gordon school resumes.

Mayflower Hotel Reception Scene for M. C. Gutheries

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Melvin C. Guthrie, Jr., greeted family members and close friends at a bridal dinner party and reception at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth following their August 2 nuptials. They had exchanged vows that day in a 5:30 p.m. service in First Presbyterian church, Birmingham, with Rev. Graham officiating.

Victory Day Service To Be Sunday

Plymouth will be well represented in the 10th annual "Victory Day Service" planned by the combined Gold Star Mothers and Gold Star Wives for Sunday, Aug. 17, at 3 p.m.

Michigan State Senator John Swainson of Plymouth will act as master of ceremony for the service at the "Four Freedoms Memorial" of White Chapel Memorial Cemetery, East Long Lake Rd. and Crooks Rd. in Bloomfield Hills.

Over 340 World War II heroes from every theater of war are buried together at the Four Freedoms Memorial. An adjacent plot includes war dead of Korea.

Plymouth's VFW Post 6695 drill team and color guard will participate in the service, along with their auxiliaries.

Serving on the Victory Day committee from Plymouth is Mrs. Lawrence Gladstone, 175 N. Mill St., who is acting as secretary. She is a member of the Northwest chapter of American Gold Star Mothers.

Senator Swainson, who served in the army under General Patton, lost both legs in a land-mine explosion while on night patrol in France. He was a member of the state senate since 1954 and is a member of the Senate committees on State Affairs, Veterans Affairs and retirement, and is legal counsel for Wayne County Allied Veterans Council.

Speaker of the day will be Congressman William S. Broomfield, a native of Royal Oak, still residing there with his family. He was elected to the Michigan House of Representatives in 1948, 1950, 1952; was elected Speaker Pro Tem in 1953 (the youngest man to hold such office in Michigan history); elected to the State Senate in 1954 and elected to the Eighty-Fifth Congress on Nov. 6, 1956, as representative for Oakland County (Eighteenth District, Mich.) He is a member of the House Committee on Public Works and a Member of Rivers and Harbors and Federal Buildings Subcommittees.

There will be a parade of colors from the Polar Bear Monument to the Four Freedoms Memorial, with the St. Clair Shores' Drum and Bugle Corps leading with the parade music. The Dodge Local No. 3 of Hamtramck will furnish the music before and during the program.

Those attending will be: Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliaries, the American Legion and their Auxiliaries, Order of the Purple Heart, Gold Star Mothers, Gold Star Wives, Blue Star Mothers, Moms of America Inc., Navy Mothers' Club No. 68, Lutheran Gold Star Mothers, Catholic Gold Star Mothers Aux. 1779, World War I Mothers and American War Mothers.

Kintner and Miss Rebecca Kintner, cousins of the bride; Mardell Shumate and Mrs. Todd Perkins.

For traveling on a three-week wedding trip to the Muskoka Lake region of Ontario, Canada, the bride changed to a print sheath with a blue, three-quarter length coat lined to match the dress.

The new Mrs. Todd was graduated from Michigan State University where she was affiliated with Phi Mu sorority. Her husband attended the University of Michigan and was graduated from Chicago Art Institute. He affiliated with Delta Phi Delta, art honorary.

Traffic Count Of Schoolcraft Area Demanded

"Plymouth women can be very persuasive," says Lt. Dan Martin of Wayne County Sheriff's Patrol. A group of irate mothers from the Schoolcraft-Wilcox Road area have demanded a traffic investigation in their area.

Because of excessive speed and travel, and the fact that the new school will be opened in September, the women have asked for traffic count and posted streets.

Both Wayne County Road Commission and Sheriff Department are planning on inspecting Schoolcraft, Wilcox and Five Mile Rds. this coming week and hope to have the area posted by the time the bridegroom resumes.

Local Youth To JA Clinic

The largest teenage business conference in the United States, the National Junior Achievers Conference held at Indiana University in Bloomington from Aug. 17-22 will see some 35 JA delegates from southeastern Michigan in attendance, including two delegates from Plymouth.

The annual JA conference, designed to make Achiever's ideas known publicly on subjects ranging from administration and delegation of authority to production and development with JA firms, enters its 15th year of providing members a chance to form and shape policy on an Achiever level.

Representing Achievers from Plymouth are: James M. Scott, Jr., 17, 634 S. Sheldon Rd., Plymouth, company treasurer of the year in S. E. Michigan and Maria Louise Velasquez, 17, 15011 Sunbury, Livonia, company secretary of the year in S. E. Michigan.

Selection of southeastern Michigan delegates was based on the teenager's accomplishments while in the JA "learn by doing" business educational program.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Stanley Travis and Mrs. Lloyd Busha, members of the Allen Home Demonstration group, sponsored by the M.S.U. Cooperative Extension Service, and a guest, Mrs. John Gaffney, of Detroit attended the recent 31st Annual Michigan Homemakers Conference in Lansing at the M.S.U. Theme for this year was "The Changing Role of the Homemaker." There were 35 representatives from Wayne county with a total attendance of 1,900 registered from all of Michigan.

Mrs. Charles Minehart was hostess at a delightful luncheon last Friday afternoon at her Clemons drive home honoring her mother, Mrs. Grace Jackson of Petersburg, who was the Minenart's houseguest last week. Invited to meet Mrs. Jackson were Mrs. Walter Abate, Mrs. Hugh King, Mrs. Carl Hartwick, Mrs. Jack Gage, Mrs. Steven Veresh, Mrs. Edmund Watson, all of Plymouth; Mrs. Harry Church of Milford and Mrs. Edward Musolf of Northville.

Canton Family Has German Guest

BY ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL. 3-0134

Hold everything, don't make those dill beans! And if you already have, forget who told you how to make them. We forgot a little instruction: before you pop those beans into the jars, as reported, you must cook them to a point, just BEFORE they become tender; then you may carry on as directed last week. I haven't been able to rest for fear someone had already canned some. Many of our garden friends have called telling me they have some lovely dill available. Thanks folks, but would you say a garage full is enough? (I guess this is a little exaggerated.)

Now on with the news: A new name to our column and a regular one we hope, is the name of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rafferty. Mr. and Mrs. Rafferty have been on several trips this year and are bound for another this week. So far they have visited Fort Wayne, Ark., and spent some time with their son Fred and his wife. This week they are headed for Indian Lake in Manitowish.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowman and sons had a chicken barbecue cook-out last Sunday with Mrs. Bowman's mother, Mrs. Baker, Mr. Bowman's mother, Mrs. Burden, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Wares and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burden and their two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert DeKarske and their son Larry had a corn roast Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klean and their two children, George and Bonnie. They are planning to attend a family outing at Portage Lake.

Present will be Mrs. Gladys Gotts, her mother Ethel Kincaid, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Richards, Joyce Gotts and friend, David Gyde. The cottage is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Downing, Mrs. Gotts' sister, and there will be an additional 20 guests from the Downing family. The DeKarske's son, Larry, has been staying at Portage Lake with his great aunt and uncle, Bernice and Lee Downing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richards were host to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Schultz a family at a corn and steak roast last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Koppen, of 46109 Ford Rd., are host to Mr. Koppen's aunt, Anna Seeliger, from Berlin, Germany. Mr. Koppen's father, who lives with the Koppen's of Ford Rd., had not seen his sister in 46 years and is having quite a session getting re-acquainted. Mrs. Seeliger will be visiting in the United States for three months and will be here until the end of August.

I asked Mrs. Koppen what Mrs. Seeliger thought of the States and she said it is quite similar to the American sector of Germany, from which she came. She said the American soldiers there have made things quite similar. She did say though, that they do not have the luxuries we have, but see them advertised in the papers, read by our soldiers. She was quite taken back by the frequent use of the automobile for short distance use, and hinted perhaps that is one reason why American women have a slight weight problem.

Mrs. McLellan of Cherry Hill, called to tell us a little about the closing days of the Hough, Truesdale recreation program. Dolores McLellan assisted John Howe in directing the program. The prize money won by the group from the Fourth of July parade was used to purchase cake and ice cream for a party for the children and their parents Thursday evening. About 50 persons attended.

While speaking to Mrs. McLellan, I asked her about their Beagle puppy they had lost and we reported missing about three weeks ago, and she happily informed me that they had found him just the day before. The poor fellow still had his collar on, but had caught his front paw in the collar and was walking about on three feet. Outside of losing a great deal of weight and his faith in mankind for a while, Mrs. McLellan thought he would be just fine.

Saturday, Aug. 2, August Schultz of Hanford Rd., was the guest of honor at a birthday party. Lunch was served and a sociable evening of cards followed. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Heidt and daughter Sharon; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schultz and daughters, Ellen, Amy, Sue and Lou; William Bakhaus of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Balke and children from Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schultz and daughter Tina from Wayne.

On Sunday, Aug. 3, Mr. and Mrs. August Schultz of Hanford were honored by a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Olive Wilkie of St. Petersburg, Fla. and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schultz from Proctor Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schultz of Lilley Rd. and four daughters, went up north to visit Mr. and Mrs. Herman Maas (Mrs. Maas the former Olive Bakewell from Plymouth) and their four sons, George, Danny, Allen and Ernie. The Maas cottage is located at Long Lake, Hale. After leaving the Maas cottage the Schultz's visited the new Mackinac bridge, the Soo Locks and came back along the shore line to Traverse City. They stopped at the home of Mrs. Schultz's cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilkie and family at Greenville.

We wish to express our sympathy at the death of Mrs. Mary Galloway, of Cherry Hill Rd., and a long time resident of Canton Township. Mrs. Galloway passed away Aug. 3.

Also Sunday, Aug. 3, the weary, sunburned, wet (because it rained the day of their return) Boy Scout Troop No. 298 of the township returned from their nine day camping trip, just outside of Ludington. Three boys, Gerry Harper, Lyle Avery and Terry Wright boast of completing their swimming merit badge, and Dan Thorpe and Bob Voss completed their first-class requirements for swimming. The boys played in the sand dunes and took a canoe trip down the Port Marquette River. They played host to Boy Scout Troop No. 202 from Custer. Twenty-eight boys, six adults and three leaders participated in the trip. Visiting the boys at their camp, were the following parents: Mr. and Mrs. Harper, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Towshack, the wife of the Scoutmaster, Mrs. Leffler, and the wife of the Assistant Scoutmaster, Mrs. Thorpe, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Ridley and Mr. and Mrs. Ronk.

Saturday, Aug. 9, the Canton Township Community Club had a picnic and swim at Bishop Lake. Everyone brought their own lunch and as custom, a tid-bit for the scout master Mr. Leffler to taste.

A community shower was held Thursday for Nancy West by her friends and neighbors of Cherry Hill. Mrs. Duane Bastian made doll cakes, representing the three bridesmaids and one junior bridesmaid and, of course, the bride. The wedding color scheme was carried out in the dresses of the maids and bride cake of yellow and white. Relay games were played and enjoyed by the 58 people who showered Nancy with gifts. The shower was held in the hall of Cherry Hill Methodist Church.

Another shower held in honor of Nancy West, was given by 30 Scotch ladies from Detroit — friends of the bridegroom — to - be, Andy Smith's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stewart of Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. John Contario of Ridge Rd. entertained three couples from East Detroit and Royal Oak for lunch and dinner. In the evening a game of ping-pong was enjoyed in the family's recreation room.

man and Mary Hulsing. Located in northern Michigan's piney woods, the camp is the largest non-profit educational institution in the world dedicated to the teaching of talented youth in the fields of music, art, dance, and drama

4-H Fair Now In Full Swing

"Mortgage Mike" an 800-pound Black Angus Steer, will be given away on Sunday, Aug. 17, at 8:30 p.m. at the 1958 Wayne County 4-H Fair.

The fairgrounds are located at Quirk Rd. and Edsel Ford Expressway near Belleville.

James Magraw, owner of the steer, and a 4-H Club member from Plymouth says that Mortgage Mike will be on display at the fairgrounds during 4-H Fair Week, now going on. The Fair began Tuesday. Admission is free.

In addition to the drawing for "Mortgage Mike", Sunday's grandstand activities include a performance by the Detroit Mounted Police Drill Team, to be followed by Louie Tops and His Trained Animal Act, at 2 and 8 p.m.

Anyone who wants to see "an easy way to iron a shirt" should come to the Fair. Says Rosella Bamister, MSU Extension Agent in Home Economics.

Home Economics Extension members will demonstrate ironing a shirt, making cancer pads, mending blue jeans, pressing, and making deerhide gloves. The demonstrations are being given at 2 and at 7 p.m. daily in the home economics building.

Displays made by Wayne County women will show trend in window treatments, guides to buying fabrics, and how pastry mix saves time and money. Educational material from the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service will be distributed.

County Fairs bring back fond memories, but County Fairs which serve those good home cooked meals are the nearest to our hearts. Lucille Monark, Wayne County agent of Home Economics, says that the Fair is the place for you to visit this week to remind you of all these thoughts. Savory Home Cooked meals are being served through Sunday on the Fairgrounds in the Home Economics dining hall.

Even if you are an extra early riser, Ladies from Home Demonstration and Farm Bureau Groups, 4-H Club Leaders and Mothers, and the 4-H Fair Association members will have a hearty breakfast ready for you at 7:30 in the morning.

Those of you who are "later" risers will be glad to know that lunch will be served at 11:30 a.m., which will be just in time to give you fair visitors the afternoon to enjoy the many 4-H exhibits and demonstrations.

All "p.m." people are invited to have dinner at 5 o'clock. Following this there will be time for you to see the many 4-H displays, enjoy the demonstrations given by Home Demonstration members, and be entertained by the Grandstand Variety Shows.

Charcoal broiled chicken will be the "feature" on Sunday's menu.

Horses and Buzzing Bees Among Unusual Railway Express Parcels

By Dave Jolliffe
Plymouth's Railway Express Agency occupies a small, white building next to the depot. It's been there a long time. So long that you don't even notice it unless you want to ship something someplace.

And then it can be very important because, regardless of what you want to send (or receive), the Railway Express can handle it. And chances are they won't be surprised if you have an unusual shipment.

Over the last several years Leonard Millross, Railway Express Agent, has received a batch of thoroughbred horses, a bunch of buzzing bees, loaded coffins (often) spoiled fruit (rarely), meowing cats, braying donkeys, barking dogs, chirping canaries, mumbly parakeets, and fidgety white mice.

It's all in a day's work. Millross says that "people allow sufficient time for parcels to reach their destination. If you don't ship them on time we can't deliver them on time."

The Plymouth branch of the Railway Express has had plenty of opportunities to practice punctuality. Millross reports the office handles 50,000 to 60,000 packages every year.

"The busy season starts in September, ends after the Christmas rush," he says. "After that the volume begins to dip and reaches its lowest point in July and August."

There are certain risks involved in the Railroad Express business. For example, Millross, Plymouth's Railway Express Agent since 1929, sometimes receives shipments of live bees.

Thinking Out Loud

The Mail has again resumed the "man-in-the-street" interviews. One question, sometimes controversial, sometimes personal, is asked each week by The Mail of four pedestrians along Plymouth's downtown streets. This week's guests are "thinking out loud" on the question:

Now that Alaska has become a state, how do you think its development will be affected?

James Alexander, 697 N. Harvey - I think Alaska will have more of an opportunity to develop now that it is a state.

Marvin Terry, 1075 Roosevelt - The development of Alaska should be terrific now that it is the 49th state. The potential has always been tremendous, and I believe it will now be exploited the way it should have long ago.

Alexander Terry Miss Kalmbach Rostow

Joy Kalmbach, 540 Jener - Now that Alaska is a state the U.S. can appropriate money for the development of its resources. Also the tourist trade will increase since more people will now be traveling there.

Ralph Rostow, 846 W. Ann Arbor Trail - I think now that Alaska has become a state that its status and its growth will be greatly accelerated and it will become one of the fastest growing areas in the country.

Some women drivers are at a loss when they drive into a service station to get gas and ask to have the car checked for proper service. Ordering gas is not the problem, but telling an attendant what parts of the car should be checked usually frightens these women into silence.

Most efficient service stations have attendants perform the necessary car check in addition to serving gas, and regular women customers receive a adequate care. However, there are many stations that don't perform this duty.

Depending on the amount of driving done over a weekend or during a week, gas is put into a family car about every 10 days. This responsibility has become part of a woman's routine. While gas is being put in the car, there are several checks the woman driver should ask an attendant to do. For example, radiator water should be inspected for proper level. This is necessary particularly in summer when extreme heat causes faster water evaporation.

If the car becomes overheated quickly, it's a good idea to have the attendant check all hose and connections. Overheating can be detected by watching the temperature gauge on the dashboard. The attendant can advise whether water hose and connections need replacement.

Checking the car's oil may not be necessary every time gas is put in the car but if a long weekend trip has been completed or is to be undertaken then it is wise to have it looked after, and the necessary amount of oil added. If car oil is to be changed within 3 or 4 days from the time it is checked then it is more economical not to add any oil. Oil level should never be below three-quarters full.

DAVIS & LENT

AMBULANCE ATTENDANTS are shown placing the body of Timothy McComb, 11, on a stretcher after the boy drowned in the Rouge River in the Nankin Mills area Monday.

Patrolman Ronald Butcher, center, was the first police officer on the scene after the accident was reported.

Swing Over River Fatal To Timothy McComb, 11

It was cool and pleasant along the river bank where the sun filtering through the interwoven branches of the trees overhead cast a dappled pattern on the tiny blanket-covered form lying across the path.

The spot was deserted except for a pair of red squirrels playing in the bushes and the detective sergeant sitting under a tree, sober and saddened by the tragedy he could only investigate and record — but not remedy.

The Detective took out a notebook and leafed through it. "Timothy McComb's his name — lives at 33483 Nancy St. in Livonia. He's 11 years old," he said.

He gestured toward a tall, slender tree growing at the water's edge. "He was swinging from that rope hanging over the water. His brother, 12-year-old Dennis, was with him. He said Timothy slipped off the rope into the water. He came up once and then went down. Dennis ran for help."

The boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McComb. The accident happened about 11:45 a.m. Monday. It took several minutes to locate Timothy's body in the six or seven feet of water under the tree. Livonia Firemen Robert Kivett and Alexander Harley applied the department's resuscitator for 20 minutes, but it was futile.

Finally, the ambulance crew came with a stretcher. When they left, there was just a cool and pleasant spot along the river with nothing to mark it as the scene of a tragedy except the rope swaying in the breeze.

Basil Farrell Wins Petunia Contest Here

Petunias, petunias, petunias... just everywhere in Plymouth smiling at the sun... from imaginative flower boxes and yard plantings.

Such a job had the Petunia Contest judges Tuesday in 35 degree temperature traveling around town looking and judging with Mrs. Edwin Schrader as their chauffeur. She represented the Plymouth branch, Woman's Farm and Garden association, sponsors of the Petunia Contest.

In announcing their decision, the judges mentioned that they viewed many other beautiful plantings of petunias not officially entered in the contest.

Plymouth Township Proceedings

August 6, 1958. A regular meeting of the Township Board was held at the Township Hall Wednesday August 6, 1958, at 8:05 P.M. Present: Supervisor Lindsay, Board Members Holmes, Broome, Norman, Sparks. The minutes of the regular meeting held July 2, 1958 were approved and accepted as read by the Clerk. Moved by Mr. Sparks and supported by Mr. Norman that the Treasurer be authorized to pay the bills as presented by the Supervisor. Carried unanimously.

The MAIL Attitude

By PAUL CHANDLER

These are "dog days", by the calendar and in the general state of local business, but every single week seems to strengthen the "darkest before dawn" theory of economic recovery.

For instance, the Chevrolet operation at Willow Run has been almost totally shut down, but when it reopens after the first of the year it will be, I hear, twice as big as before. The grapevine report is that Chevy will make a new "small car" there.

Burroughs has had a fairly tough year so far, but the Plymouth plant soon will employ hundreds more people than ever before since it opened.

Daisy Manufacturing is leaving Plymouth, and the employes haven't been able to get their hands on the profit-sharing trust funds because of legal delays, but those thousands of dollars will be released before long. And Western Electric's big new plant is getting ready to open.

A new grocery super-market deal is close to closing in Plymouth and a new car dealership is opening. New homes are selling all around us at a boom tempo.

These are a few signs that come quickly to mind. There are many others, all lending themselves to a prophecy of great expansion and prosperity for Plymouth in subsequent months.

It already has started to happen. Things always sharpen up once the kids begin to get ready for school — and, yes, it's that time already.

Our "Back to School" advertising starts next week, and Labor Day is only two weeks from next Monday.

You might be interested in an advertisement appearing elsewhere in today's Mail, boosting Michigan as a fine place for industry to locate and do business.

The Mail has joined with 275 daily and weekly newspapers in a cooperative effort to boost their local communities and the State by contributing space for a series of such ads.

The donated space represents multi-thousands of dollars worth of value. It is Michigan's newspapers' way of saying, "we understand how important is this matter, and we want to help."

There's always something new that threatens to raise our taxes, and possibly you missed the latest.

Wayne County now has decided it needs more funds to operate. This is for purely County government — not schools. It is well-known that County affairs have been growing larger every moment, and it's not unnatural that more money is being spent.

But — and this harkens back to the seat of what someday will become a real burning issue, above all others — how much representation do we in the outskirts have in determining County policy?

Do we have any real control on the Board of Supervisors? Do our problems get equal treatment with those of the City of Detroit?

More important, what kind of true, representative government is required to properly administer the "metropolitan sprawl"?

Meanwhile, if the County wants to drag more money from us, I suggest they fold up this brave, crazy attempt to pour millions and more millions into "their own airport" which lies only a couple of miles from Willow Run.

Livonia Willing Workers Actually Live Up to Name

During World War II a club adopted the Riverbank Convalescent Home in Livonia and for quite a few years have been making birthday cakes for each man there.

Pat Carey organized this club and was president for several years. Two years ago she resigned when they moved to their new home in Barton City.

This past year they are especially proud: They heard of a family where the husband was very ill, a terminal case. They gave them $150. They have also donated $10 to the March of Dimes, $10 to the Cancer Fund, and also $10 to each, the Boy and Girl Scouts of Livonia. With summer on and still with quite a little money in their treasury they decided to send two underprivileged children to camp for two weeks, and they also gave 60 dollars to the Salvation Army so they could send a couple children to camp.

This club, though small with 20 active members, is well known in Livonia. Many of the older families always attend their card parties and the merchants do their bit by donating door and table prizes. These women are very proud of their club and are happy in helping others.

After the war these women felt as though there was still something they could do to help somewhere. So in 1948 they changed their name to the "Willing Workers of Livonia." They still had card parties and bake sales to raise money.

In 1950 they took over a ward of 25 men at Eastlawn hospital in Northville. At this time these men were World War I veterans and arrested in their birthdays, sent no one in service but were good knitters were made honorary members.

Resolution from the Townships of Ecorse and Dearborn requesting the State Legislature to appropriate adequate funds for police protection or amend the State Law wherein their traffic fines could be retained instead of being turned over to the Wayne County and State Library Fund. Moved by Mrs. Holmes and supported by Mrs. Broome that a resolution pertaining to fines being turned over to the library fund be drafted and sent to the proper authorities. Carried unanimously.

Tournament Ends Jr. Golf Season

The final round of play Tuesday morning, August 12, clinched the Junior Golf Championship for Steve Hayskar for the second year. When he played his best P.J.G.A. games, Monday he shot rounds of 37 and 38 to down Keith Evans on the 7th hole, and took a default from Ralston in the second round when Jim left to play off a baseball championship.

reduction of 31 points. These awards were well deserved since both had earned a firm handicap last year and worked hard to improve their game this summer.

Steve had to shoot another 38 the third round to beat Dick Gretzinger 3 and 2. His 37 was Tournament Low Medal and for this he received a certificate also.

certificates; 5 weeks, Jim Haynes and Bob Knapp; 4 weeks Augustine and Fletcher (cert), Tom Adams; 3 weeks, Rowland and Sikes, cert., Bob Fisher. Sue Hayskar was the only girl to get in seven matches; J. Reas, L. Griswold took cert and Sue Reas won the pin for 6 weeks match-play; 5 weeks, none; 4 weeks, J. Izett, cert.; 3 weeks, Arjay, cert. Carol Beltramo and Vicki Merwin.

Not to be outdone by the boys, Linda Griswold also shot her lowest game of the year Monday morning, carding a 52 to win the Tournament Low Medalist trophy for the girls. John Augustine's 44 took the boy's trophy.

Del McAllister and Kathy Zornow won the trophies for League Medalists with 36 and 56 respectively. Sandy Pentecost received a certificate for a low gross of 54. Low gross awards of gold belt buckles were received by Bill Rew, 44, First flight; Dave Swain, 44, Second flight; Bob Beck, 62, (certificate); Joe Light and Dale Crawford, 63, Third flight; Gary Parmenter, 64, Fourth flight; Ron Boyne, 36, a Four Holer. Silver belt buckles for low net went to Dick Gretzinger, 32, (certificate); Bill Schwartz, 33, Championship flight; Bill Rew, 24, (certificate); Doug Eder and Bucky Zornow, 31, First flight; Dave Swain, 30, (certificate); Skip Otwell, 33, (cert); Kirk Rowland, 34, Second flight; Don Luvisch, 32, Third flight; Jeff Hoffman, 30, Fourth flight. Gold bracelets were awarded to the girls earning low gross, namely, Helen Otwell, 71, 1st flight; Sandy Fielden, 77, (cert); Barb Haas, 79, (cert); Susan Sargent and Diana Vloch, 83, 2nd flight. Low net winners (silver bracelets) were Judy Izett, 30, Championship flight; Celeste Arjay, 19, 1st flight; Barb Haas, 4, (cert) and Nancy Richard, 14, 2nd flight.

Monday morning's losers played in a consolation match for low net in the afternoon. After defaulting his morning match because he was two minutes late, Jeff Griswold proudly carded his season low, which netted him a winning 38. Another first year golfer, who has shown rapid improvement, after a bad round in the morning calmed her jitters and turned in a neat 17 net of 25, and saved the silver consolation oscar for Barbara Haas.

Mesdames Pentecost, Wilts, Jensen, Evans, Fuelling, Fisher, Zornow, Sessions, Light, Otwell, Griswold, Reas, Wilson, Fielden, Sibbold, Luvisch, Beck, Hayskar, Olendorf, Holt, and Miss Colleen Zornow, Messrs. Carmichael, Griffith, Newingham, Fisher, Knapp, Hayskar and Weaver.

Awards for League play were given for Good Sportsmanship, Most Improved Players, Low Gross and Low Net in each flight, and Point Winners. Bob Stewart won the first award for courtesy, consistency and good sportsmanship. The most improved player among the boys was Jamie Eder who reduced his handicap 17 points this season. Joan Reas came into her own with an outstanding

The committee wishes to express their appreciation to the persons who served as walkers this year. Without their interest there could be no Junior Golf. Many walked more than their allotted two times, some being there each week. Among them were several who had no children golfing but responded to a call, Mrs. Schmeman, Salisbury and Wiltse. Mr. Weaver came out to play golf during the Tournament and was pressed into service as a scorer, responding graciously.

Oscars were also given to John Cook, First Flight winner; Skip Otwell, Second

Heart Attack Claims Life Of Raymond Bachelder

A sudden heart attack took the life of Raymond Bachelder, 71-year-old widely-known Plymouth resident, at his home early Friday morning. He lived at 157 S. Main St.

The fire department rescuer vainly tried to revive him. He died at 2:45 a.m.

For many years Mr. Bachelder was a salesman of mausoleums and monuments. From 1922 to 1925 he was in partnership with E. J. Allison in a Chevrolet agency.

Born July 7, 1887 in Chatham, Ontario, Mr. Bachelder was the son of John and Barbara (Hall) Bachelder. He was married to the former Beatrice McKnight on Oct. 12, 1922. She survives him.

Mr. Bachelder was a lieutenant in the Canadian Army during World War I. In 1921 he moved to Plymouth from Detroit.

Besides his widow, he leaves three sons, Robert W. Bachelder of Plymouth, Ralph R. Bachelder of Denver, Col., John C. Bachelder of Wayne; one sister, Mrs. Ethel Millard of Chatham, Ontario; and one brother, Edward Bachelder of Ft. Mountain, Sask. Canada. He also had seven grandchildren.

He was a member of First Presbyterian Church, a charter member and past president of Plymouth Hi-12 Club, charter member of Plymouth Kiwanis Club, past master of Royal Oak Masonic Lodge, life member of Plymouth Rock Masonic Lodge, member of Moslem Temple of Shrine, 32nd Degree of Mason and Scottish Rite Valley of Detroit.

Funeral services were Monday, August 11 at 1 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Norman Stanhope officiating. Entombment was in Riverside Mausoleum. Schrader Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Bertha Krauter

Mrs. Bertha A. Krauter, of 1192 S. Harvey St., passed away Aug. 8 at 5 p.m. at home after an illness of several months at the age of 79.

She was born Bertha Albrecht in Germany on Dec. 9, 1878 and married the late Christian Krauter on Jan. 18, 1905. He passed away in 1938.

Mrs. Krauter came to Detroit in 1878 from Germany, moved to Nankin Township in 1909, and to Canton Township in 1924.

She is survived by four sons, Arthur Krauter of Redford Township, Wilbur Krauter and Herman Krauter of Northville and Milton Krauter of Plymouth; three daughters, Mrs. Elsie Reddeman of Rogers, Ark., Mrs. Leona Travis and Mrs. Irene Rowland of Plymouth; one brother, Wilhelm Albrecht of Plymouth, 14 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

She was affiliated with St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church. Funeral services were conducted Aug. 11 at 11 a.m. at Schrader Funeral Home with Rev. Edgar Hoenecke officiating. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Mrs. Caroline Gach

Mrs. Caroline Elizabeth Gach, 11410 Melrose St., Livonia, died Aug. 11 at 10:20 p.m. in Wayne County General Hospital at the age of 88 after an illness of several months.

She was born Nov. 18, 1869 in Poland and is the widow of Louis Gach.

She came to America from Poland in 1895 and to Livonia from Pennsylvania in 1927. Her maiden name was Bochenki.

She is survived by a son, Carl Gach of Detroit, and a daughter, Mrs. Ann Eggleston of Livonia; and four grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Antonio Fafro of Minneapolis, Minn., and Mrs. Anastasia Bochenki of Poland.

A funeral Mass will be Thursday, Aug. 14, at 9 a.m. in St. Michael's church, Livonia, with Rev. Fr. Thomas McMahon officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

Frank W. Dicks

Following an illness of several months, Frank W. Dicks, 616 Forest Ave., Plymouth, passed away Saturday, Aug. 9, at 3:15 a.m. in Harper Hospital, Detroit, at the age of 82.

He retired after working for Daisy Air Rifle Co. for 46 years.

Mr. Dicks was born Sept. 22, 1875 in Detroit and married the former Mabel Freeman on Oct. 27, 1906.

He came to this community in 1896 and was affiliated with First Methodist church and the Maccabees.

Mr. Dicks is survived by his wife and two sons, Floyd Dicks of Plymouth and Howard Dicks of Pontiac; two brothers, Dr. Louis Dicks of Wright City, Mo., and Everett Dicks of Ypsilanti; three sisters, Mrs. Grace Lewis of Plymouth, Mrs. Gertrude Lewis of Dearborn, and Mrs. Clara Truesdell of Plymouth, and also one grandchild.

Services were Tuesday, Aug. 12, at Schrader Funeral Home, at 3 p.m. with Rev. Melbourne I. Johnson, officiating. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

She was born April 29, 1866, in South Canan, Pa., and married her deceased husband, Frank David Polley, on Oct. 16, 1887. He died in December, 1905. Mrs. Polley's maiden name was Herms.

She is survived by one son, David F. Polley of Plymouth, and one daughter, Miss Regina M. Polley of Plymouth, and one grandchild, Mrs. Polley came to this community in 1888 from Carbondale, Pa.

Funeral services were Aug. 11 at 3 p.m. at Schrader Funeral Home with Rev. Norman J. Stanhope officiating. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

Floyd Whipple Miller

A well-known former Plymouth resident, Floyd Whipple Miller, passed away suddenly Tuesday evening at his home, 5458 Dexter Rd. near Stockbridge.

Mr. Miller, who resided in Plymouth all of his life until moving to Stockbridge 12 years ago, was 57 years old.

He was a member of Plymouth Rock Lodge F. and A.M.

He is survived by his wife, Mary Louise and a daughter, Mrs. Gordon (Jeanne) Topping, both of Stockbridge; five grandchildren, his father, Norman C. Miller, and brother, Harry W. Miller, both of Plymouth.

Mr. Miller is at the Caskey Funeral Home, Stockbridge. Funeral arrangements are as yet incomplete.

Peaceful Builders Must Be Protected From Aggressors

Isaac, the son of Abraham, in one respect at least, emulated his father in his love of peace and the practical way in which he sought it.

Abraham had dug wells, very necessary for the maintenance of life and for their heads of cattle. Their traditional enemies, the Philistines, filled the wells up after Abraham's death. When Isaac's servants dug more wells, the herdsmen of Gerar fought with those of Isaac, saying, "The water is ours."

Hydrant Rental Lowers Rates In Township

Dozens of Plymouth Township property owners will be paying lower insurance premiums from now on because of a new hydrant rental agreement with the city of Plymouth which went into effect August 4.

The township's fire chief and building inspector, Howard Holmes, said that township property owners living within 1,000 feet of a hydrant will receive a lower rate.

He said that property owners will not need to inform their insurance companies of the change. They have received charts showing the changes and the lower rates will be reflected when the next policy payments are made.

The hydrants are located on the fringes of the city and where city water lines extend into the township.

Services were Tuesday, Aug. 12, at Schrader Funeral Home, at 3 p.m. with Rev. Melbourne I. Johnson, officiating. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

JA Advisor Wins Award

Junior Achievement advisers formally accepted a coveted southeastern Michigan J.A. award on behalf of the Burroughs sponsored Jar Co. Company this month at the Corporation's Plymouth plant.

In competition with 115 miniature companies from southeastern Michigan, the local firm's product, a handy nut and bolt dispenser, won a first place plaque in the miscellaneous manufacturing division.

Winding up his first year as a Junior Achievement company adviser is Harold W. Beers, 1079 Simpson St., who served the Jar Co. Company as business adviser. A local resident for four years, Beers is a Burroughs Corporation plant accounting department employee.

The small company counseled by Beers and two fellow Burroughs employees, John Kopitzki and John Davis, kept busy filling large orders for its product throughout the fall and winter months and wound up the year by paying stockholders a 10 per cent dividend.

Colony Concert Season Ends Up Indoors But Crowd Still Hails It as Best

Bad weather finally caught up with the Plymouth Colony Farm Concerts last Sunday when a rain fell and drove the affair into the high school gymnasium.

Although it was clear when the concert began, it had rained two hours earlier, soaking the grounds and chairs.

While the gymnasium is not an ideal place for a summer concert because of its lack of ventilation, the crowd of between 500 and 600 was every bit as enthusiastic as during the previous three concerts this season.

In fact, in a questionnaire filled out by the Sunday audience concerning the series, most of those who attended at least three of the concerts said they liked that one best. And one added, "in spite of the heat."

It was evident that the indoor concert does better justice to the orchestra sound. Nothing is "lost" in the gymnasium where a special

"Shell" was constructed for the orchestra last year.

Sunday's concert, played by the Plymouth Symphony and directed by Wayne Dunlap, drew long applause after each number, especially after Mussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition."

Soloist for the program was Joseph Schwartz, an award-winning pianist who will make his Town Hall debut in New York this fall. He is now on a Midwestern tour. Schwartz played Concerto for Piano and Orchestra No. 2 in C Minor, Opus 18 by Sergei Rachmaninoff.

Unfortunately, because of the sudden move of the concert to the high school, it was impossible to disassemble the nine-foot grand piano in time. In its place, Schwartz had to use a spinet piano which could hardly produce the volume to match the orchestra. In fact, the artist broke a fingernail in his gallant effort to produce more sound.

But despite the piano, the audience realized they were hearing a truly outstanding pianist who must be wonderful on a full-scale instrument.

At intermission time, winners of the art contest were announced with Mrs. Marjorie Becker of Northville receiving first prize. The contest was for artists who captured some part of the Colony Farm concert scene. The winning entry was purchased by the group and presented to the city.

Mayor Pro Tem Robert Sincok accepted the painting in behalf of the city. It will be hung in the library. Mrs. Becker is current chairman of the Three Cities Art Club.

Runners-up in the competition were Katherine Hartley of Northville and Margaret Kramer of Garden City.

The questionnaire devised by the Colony Concert management will be used to evaluate the progress and future of the series. It was found, for instance, that most of them liked Sunday's concert best and the July 27 concert (featuring Broadway show tunes) second.

There was an average of four people in a party attending the concerts, the questionnaire revealed. The audience preferred classical numbers first, semi-classical second and show tunes third. There were 17 votes for jazz. It was found that in addition to concerts, the audience would prefer choral groups first, musical comedy second and show tunes third.

One Thousand Chickens Please!

A BACKYARD BARBECUE that Rotarians are planning for Thursday, Sept. 18 is requiring a little more than the normal preparation — mainly because everyone in Plymouth is invited. Milton Orr of Bill's Market got an order for 1,000 chickens from fellow Rotarians Don Lightfoot, left, and Charles Finlan, right, this week.

Each guest gets half a barbecued chicken, plus other food. It will be Rotary's third annual Community Chicken Barbecue and will be held behind the high school starting at 4 p.m. Proceeds go to the club's Youth Benefit and Community Service Fund. Finlan is general chairman.

Petitioners Object to Water Rates

water rates in the Lake Pointe Village Subdivision. The petition contained about 60 signatures.

Members of the delegation claimed some water bills were as high as $30-$40 for a two month period.

Hamill explained the township position to the group. He emphasized that the water rate schedule is the same as that used by Plymouth.

"The Township went into the water and sewer business for several reasons," he said. "The FHA will not finance houses whose water supply is provided by private parties — they stipulate that a municipality must control the water and sewer system."

"The water and sewer system was presented to the Township by the Fred Green-span building company free of charge."

(In reality the Township is obligated to pay 75 per cent of the water tower cost, or about $82,500. However, the agreement stipulates that all other water and sewer expenses must be paid first and that the system be on a "paying basis" before the township attempts repayment.)

According to Hamill there are many inherent difficulties in picking a well which will produce sufficient water to meet the shifting needs of a new development like Lake Pointe Village.

"When choosing a water supply we must figure on the total yearly consumption, not the average," he said. "It's possible the well can reach a dangerous low during the summer months when water use is extremely high."

Hamill emphasized that after new lawns are installed water consumption and hence water bills, would drop sharply. "Your water needs are higher now than they ever will be," he said. "That's because it takes more water to start lawns than it will for normal maintenance."

Supervisor Lindsay said the operation has necessitated additional expenses to the township. "In addition to covering regular maintenance expenses, we must be ready for emergencies. So far we haven't anywhere near enough money in our water and sewer fund to take care of large repair expenses."

Lindsay closed the discussion by saying that "if we used county or city water the rates would still be about the same."

In other business the board examined bids on aluminum front doors for the Township Fire Department. The board decided to send a letter to companies filing bids asking them to explain exactly what the bids included.

The companies filing include: The Dearborn Glass Company, the Peterson Glass Company and the Plymouth Glass Company.

The board passed a proposition which will put the issue of whether to build an addition to the Township Hall up to the voters. The addition will provide more space for the fire department. Its cost will not exceed $45,000.

Another discussion took place when Lindsay revealed that the township has to turn over all funds collected through Justice of the Peace decisions to the Wayne County Library Fund. "This isn't fair," he said. "The money should be used to defray township expenses."

Set Registration

points out that by taking care of the registration and classifying before school actually starts, students will get a better choice of subjects and will receive more time in the working out of a satisfactory class schedule.

For those students who need to purchase books, the bookstore will be open for high school students all day Friday, Sept. 5 and Monday, Sept. 8. The store for used books will also be open these dates. The used bookstore is directed by the Pilgrim Prints staff. All high school students are being encouraged by the principal to purchase used textbooks if they are available. This amounts to a savings of about one-half the purchase price of new books.

There was no action taken on the anticipated purchase of school site properties from Robert Willoughby on Ridge Rd. and Perry Hix on Warren Rd. Minor discrepancies in the abstracts must be rectified before purchase is made.

Representatives from Burroughs Corp. and National Cash Register Co. appeared to outline specifications of a new bookkeeping machine needed by the school office. There was no decision made.

Favorite Recipes From Plymouth's Kitchens

REQUESTS ARE many for Mrs. Robert E. Fisher's tempting "Date Nut Bread" which is served cold — with or without butter.

One faithful fan is her 14-year-old son Bob who has proven his able assistance in making the bread disappear.

For 'Particular' Men, Prepare Tasty Date Nut Bread--You'll Love It, Too!

When Mrs. Robert E. Fisher, newly elected vice president and social chairman of Plymouth's Newcomers club, wants to especially please the menfolk in her family, she assaults them with "Date Nut Bread."

They love it! And "they" are husband R. E., with Western Electric, and 14-year-old son Bob, to be a sophomore at Plymouth High School this September.

The family moved into an attractive gray brick home in Arbor Village, on Southworth, last November. Its entranceway is becomingly bordered with gay ruffled petunias. Their backyard adds up to dream home ideas, too: Graceful trees, well-kept green lawn, and a special area devoted to bright red geraniums provide a charming view from the kitchen and close-by family room.

Before coming here, the Fishers resided in Grand Rapids where Ch. R. Fisher found the Newcomers club such a helpful social group to the new-in-town. They have been moving around in Michigan three times in the last four years . . . and are glad to put down roots in Plymouth. (For a long while, their new friends hope!)

Mrs. Fisher's recipe is as follows:

DATE NUT BREAD

Ingredients
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup boiling water
1 cup chopped dates
¼ cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts

Method: Dissolve soda in boiling water. Pour mixture over chopped dates. Cream sugar with butter. Add egg. Stir well, then add to date mixture. Add vanilla, sifted flour and salt, and chopped nuts to above mixture. Pour in loaf pan. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour. Serve cold.

Woman's Eye View

By KATHIE MULL LUSK

Vive la Paree, anyone?

Pardon my French . . . but I just can't find any Plymouth summer sojourners who found Paris the light of their European holiday . . . the piece de resistance of a carefully plotted itinerary . . . the gay tourist city for Americans that our towel sets, kitchen wall paper, ad infinitum, portray it to be.

It's not the absence of French trimmings (outdoor cafes, perfume houses, fashion houses, wineries, nighteries) but the ATTITUDE of the French for us that has down-rated its popularity. Even Mr. and Mrs. Manford Becker, of 575 Pacific, who recently returned from a month's flying vacation to Europe, had "nothing pleasant" to recall about their visit to Paris.

And they had everything enjoyable to reminisce over a reunion with their son and daughter-in-law, Sgt. and Mrs. Calvin L. Becker, stationed with the U.S. Army in Baumholder, Germany, and their five, one sight-seeing jaunt together. Hostile rudeness was characteristic of Paris French-in-the-streets when the Beckers asked

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Albond and Muriel also Jerry and Pokey Spaulding have spent the week at their cottage in Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter of Butternut St. have been entertaining in their home. Mrs. Carter's brothers, Bobby Joe Walker from Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. Billy and Mike from Paducah, Ky. The Walkers are also visiting their sister, Mrs. Joe Distler of the same address and their many friends and relatives in Wayne and Plymouth. Mrs. Carter says they have attended a Tiger ball game in Detroit and spent the day Wednesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. H. in Detroit, who took the group out to the lake and gave them a ride in their cruiser.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wnuck and son Jack from North Branch, spent Sunday, Aug. 3 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gibson of Gilbert St.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cary were Mrs. Cary's brother, Mr. and Mrs. John Barri from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jarsky and boys, Joey, Mike, Carl and Gary, returned home Sunday evening after two weeks at their trailer at Round Lake. Mrs. Jarsky said the weather was great and they all really enjoyed their vacation.

Congratulations are in order to the Stanley Houghs of Gilbert St. on the arrival of their son, Brian John, who was born on Sunday, Aug. 3 and tipped the scales at 8 pounds. Mother and baby are doing fine.

Roger Geartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Geartz of Brownell St. spent a week at the Killarney Lutheran Camp in the Irish Hills.

Little Tommy Esch of Brownell St. celebrated his second birthday on Sunday. Those who came to honor Tommy were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harman Esch and his grandmother, Mrs. Hubbard from Ypsilanti. Also Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rutenbaf and daughter Janet of Plymouth. They all enjoyed ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Esch and family returned recently from a two weeks vacation. They spent one week at Hubbard Lake and the second week at Houghton Lake visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haunam who are the new owners of the Balsam resort at Houghton Lake.

Neil Kenyon of Wayne was a caller at the Lee Kenyon home on Thursday evening. Mrs. Ernest Dew and family spent the day with her Mother, Mrs. Earl Hedge of Canton Center Road on Thursday.

Cynthia and Mark Carson spent Sunday in the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson.

The Canadian Boy Scout Assn. reports its membership has increased 129 per cent since 1948. By the end of this year, membership is expected to reach 250,000.

Who's New in Plymouth

NEWCOMERS TO PLYMOUTH are Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Westcott and attractive daughters, Coleen, who'll turn 16 years old in September, and Donna who'll be six years old in November, along with Mrs. Westcott's mother, Mrs. Ida Evers, who is making her home with them. The Westcotts moved here from Racine, Wis., just four weeks ago this week and are purchasing a home at 760 McKinley. Mr. Westcott was transferred here by Massey-Ferguson and is in the product education department. Coleen, an education record collector, will be a junior at Plymouth High School this fall; Donna will enter first grade at George A. Smith grade school. The family likes Plymouth "just fine" and appreciates the "handy shopping and schools." They'll affiliate with the First Methodist church here soon.

VFW News

Both Post 6695 and the Auxiliary are feeling the "summer lull" as far as attendance at meetings is concerned. We must keep active and interested the year around or our activities will suffer.

The Post and Auxiliary will make the annual trip to the National Home at Eaton Rapids on Sunday, Aug. 24. The motorcade will leave the Post at 9 a.m. This will be a very pleasant trip and provide an opportunity to see results of our contribution to the Home. Please bring lunch for your own family, plus enough food for three additional people.

Comrade Herb Volmer, of the Wayne Post, and district officer, attended our Aug. 6 meeting and spoke briefly. He felt members could gain much by visiting other post meetings and become acquainted with both their members and their activities.

This is an early reminder of a repeat of our recent successful barbeque at the Post. The next chicken barbeque will be held Sunday, Sept. 7, from 12 noon to 5 p.m. Let's sell tickets and help others enjoy this Post. Dick Neal is chairman.

Supervisor Speaks to Lake Pointe Group

By MARY BARTSON
 GL. 3-6723

A gratifying turnout was had for Lake Pointe Village's first Civic Association meeting with attendance of well over 50 residents. The meeting was called to order by Arthur Haeske who introduced our Township Supervisor, Roy Lindsay. Mr. Lindsay spoke briefly on the township form of government. The water rate question was introduced and Mr. Lindsay explained that a resolution has been passed since the last Township meeting. The rates to be applied are the same as that in Plymouth.

Mr. Lindsay read a letter from the Lake Pointe Development Company in answer to questions brought up by residents at the last Township meeting. We were assured in this letter that the dignity and property value of the subdivision will be maintained on all future building. If anyone is interested in more detail, free to contact Mr. Lindsay.

Mr. Haeske was unanimously elected temporary chairman. Robert Hudson was elected to the office of temporary secretary. Volunteers for charter committee are: Mrs. Arthur Cooksey, Dudley Maher, Harold McElroy, Jack Ryder, Lester Barison, William Richards, Donald Malthaner, and John Cenko. Mr. Lindsay has stated that the Township Hall is at our disposal whenever it is not previously booked. John Close graciously supplied the use of the public address system.

Down came the rains Wednesday, Aug. 6, and down came the walls — that is the concrete walls that the Harrisons, Szeszewskis, Bartsons, and Richards have worked so hard on all summer. Actually the walls are still up but a little worse for wear, since the soil has been washed away from behind leaving gaping areas. But I know the spirit is still there so it won't be long before the "repair crews" are at it again.

Marie Bellmore and Marge Haeske were quite astounded when they discovered a utility pole had been turned into a pile of toothpicks after being struck by lightning during the rainstorm. Neither one had realized how close it had come to their home. Luckily it didn't pick out those beautiful huge poplar trees in the Szeszewski's back yard.

John and Chip Ennis had a marvelous two weeks vacation in New York. They visited all around Westchester County which takes in such places as Hawthorne, Peekskill, and Tarrytown. Chip says the children were so good and had a wonderful time.

Also returning from the same vicinity are Joe and Dorothy Mamola. They visited Dorothy's parents in New Jersey. There was never a dull moment, I am told, since Dorothy's sister has five children and was also visiting there at the same time. The "little group" of eight children kept things humming along just "fine."

Barb and Bill Bolduc have been taking advantage of the beautiful weekends we've been having lately. A few weeks ago they went to Chicago and while there they met some old acquaintances whom they'd known while living in Cleveland. Like they say, "It's a small world."

Last weekend found the Bolducs traveling into Canada and spending a beautiful weekend at Pointe Pelee where Wally and Ann Therese enjoyed the swimming and picnicking. Young Bill is spending the rest of the summer with his grandparents up north.

We wish to welcome our new neighbors John and Joyce Close of 14576 Shadywood Dr. They just moved in a week ago and are really busy getting situated. They have three adorable children, Gary, Sandy, and baby Tommy who is just five months old. John and Joyce are both graduates of Eastern Michigan College. John teaches Industrial Arts at Plymouth High School. Joyce also has a teachers degree.

Lake Pointe has its share of carpenters and brick layers — such talented people. "Mac" McLachlin of Shadywood Dr. has been building his own garage and doing a fine job of it too. On Robinwood Dr. Don Malthaner is coming along beautifully with his two car garage. Every evening if you look in that direction you'll see Don out there wielding his hammer or paint brush.

Brentwood Dr. has its share of talent, too: Marge Haeske is out early every morning laying brick like a professional. She is building the scrumptious curving brick wall which will enclose the brick patio at the rear of their home.

It seems like many people have been besieged with sand bugs around their houses. They are coming in by the droves and have really been quite a terrifying nuisance. Have been told that a 10 percent solution of Chloroform sprinkled at all the points of entry eliminates these pests. This solution can be purchased at any hardware store or nursery. In case you don't know what these little bugs look like, they can be described as flat and brown with an oval shape. If you see any of these around get out the Chloroform and go to work. Good luck!

Joan Thom has had a charming young guest for the past week, Sandra Copeland from Ypsilanti. Sandra always spends one week out of the glorious summer vacation with her cousin Joan. She says she likes Plymouth, and will be back again next summer.

Jackie and Dave Sechlin have a brand new baby daughter. Congratulations! Their little three year old, Cindy, is staying at Grandma's house. As luck would have it, Jackie decided, on the spur of the moment to take Cindy for a visit to Grandma's. That evening the stork decided to make his appearance at the Sechlin residence. Dave was so excited on his return home from the hospital that I was unable to find out what they have named their new little daughter.

Douglas Jaskierney celebrated his 11th birthday with great joy to all the children in the surrounding area. Yummy cake and pink ice cream were happily consumed with pink pop to help wash it all down. The mothers also had cake and tea.

To Form Advisor Teams for Jr. Achievement

Local business and industry are currently forming advisory teams to help guide Plymouth miniature Junior Achievement companies when their business operations start their business operations in October. A record number of Achievers is expected to run their own companies at the JA business center at 204 South Main Street.

JA company advisory teams are comprised of salaried personnel from a counselling firm and include those who will guide the young JA business people in business, production and sales. Each step of business procedure is thoroughly covered from forming a small scale business on through to its liquidation eight months later.

Junior Achievement has been popular here and across the nation both among teenagers and business and industry. But the organization has barely scratched the surface as far as numbers of Achievers and counselling firms go. Despite the building of two new JA business centers in the southeastern Michigan area (Lincoln Park and East Detroit) the organization is still turning away potential business leaders or at least those wanting working knowledge of what makes America "tick" because of limited business center facilities and a relatively limited number of counselling firms.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Persons between the ages of 21 to 50 and pregnant women up to their seventh month have been found to be particularly susceptible to sunburn.

Researchers for Johnson & Johnson also found that high humidity, light clouds and a lack of a wind are the ripest conditions for a bad case of sunburn — or, to be technical, "erythema solare."

Humidity causes perspiration to remain on the body, making the skin particularly sensitive to ultra-violet rays. Conversely, a wind will dry the skin.

Some of this "attitude" comes from resentment of U.S. aid to western Germany and the French feeling that "we are building up Germany to facilitate a war against them."

The Beckers, as members of the international Geneva Association, had flown to Holland July 1 with 75 other members in a chartered plane. They had joined this group last year in anticipation of low fares afforded by such membership.

And after they arrived in Holland, they were on their own — with their son taking a 15-day furlough and extra long week-ends to crowd in foursome "going" activities.

Sgt. Becker is assistant section leader in the Headquarter and Service Co. of the Division's 68th Armor. He and his German wife of two years, the former Alma Doll, reside in a spacious four-room apartment on the base. The Beckers met her parents for the first time and spent a week with them in Bad Hersfeld.

A thrill to the visitors was seeing members of Calvin's division starting in a western musical show during United States National Days July 2-4 at the U.S. Pavilion of the Brussel's "World Fair."

Calling themselves the "Bar-8 Ramblers", the group selected by the USAREUR Special Services entertainment division was led by Virgil Gifford. Since their "hit" performances (with crowds estimated at 55,000 by wire service reporters in Brussels), Gifford has been offered a job by Disneyland to make his future promising.

A long-time collector of rocks native to our country, Mrs. Becker continued with her hobby overseas. Prized are those from the Fair, Hitler's retreat at Eagle's Nest, and one from the Eiffel Tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker also made special pilgrimages to famed cemeteries where American war dead are at rest. "We were so impressed by how well-kept they are," charming Mrs. B. commented. They also took color slides of the grave of Gen. George Patton, Jr., who lays with all of our fallen boys from the States in the Luxembourg cemetery.

Enroute back to join their flying group, they traveled up the Rhine from Mainz, Germany, to the Ruhr Valley to Holland. They delighted in a tour of Amsterdam . . . thought Holland the cleanest country of all . . . not even a paper or cigarette butt strewn about" and appreciated seeing the Hollanders in colorful costume . . . and the fabled dikes.

On hand to welcome home the pair in New York July 31 at the airport were another son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. DeWayne Becker, and three children of Gyde Rd., along with the younger Mrs. Becker's mother, Mrs. Fred Johnson of Livonia.

Enroute home to Plymouth, they visited eastern scenic beauty spots — the Catskill mountains, the "North Pole" in White Face Mountains, and Niagara Falls. The DeWayne Beckers youngsters — Dennis, almost seven years; Jeffery, four plus, and Sandra, three years — just loved seeing "Santa Claus" at the "North Pole" in August.

Also one of the young men who roomed with the Beckers while participating in the Ford Course set up by Northeastern College, Boston, Mass., met them in the east. He is Lewis Vitalis of New Jersey and together with mother and brother and the Becker entourage visited Lewis' grandfather's farm in New York.

Oh yes, all of the eight wonderful grandchildren in Mrs. Becker's life were remembered with foreign dolls and Belgian horses. (The Beckers' have three daughters — Mrs. Wilma Volinsky at Walled Lake who has two children; Mrs. Donna Fiffe of Royal Oak, two children; and Mrs. Annabelle Clark of Birmingham, one child.)

Breathes there a Plymouthite with soul so urban he or she doesn't rejoice in the bountiful harvests of this month?

Have you tried out-door grilling of fresh corn-on-the-cob (the corn soaked an hour in cold water in its husks) and then placed in husks on your broiler and slowly turned to delicious charcoal perfection. Goes great with beef patties flavored with a little fresh chopped mint.

Such a wonderful time to collect and dry out herbs and bottle them for home use and gift-giving as you will. Just consider buying a 59 cent jar of dried parsley leaves — then look in your garden and see the generous crop of fresh parsley awaiting attention from a 10 cent investment. What flavor parsley imparts to hamburgs, stews, salads, casseroles, and the like! Not to mention the pleasure derived from bottling up dried dill, dried mint leaves, sage, and all down the herb line for your gourmet-minded friends and selves. Motto: fight inflation as you spice up your cookin' life! As a unique wall plaque in the Mayflower Hotel's "Wine Shop" says: Kissin' Don't Last. . . . Cookin' Do!

Since mentioning a family favorite dessert "Black Walnut Cream Pie," a fortnight ago, we've had many requests for it from column readers. Just one word first — it usually delights more people than dogs (referring to our beloved cocker "Sandy", who consumed an entire pie in one sitting!)

"BLACK WALNUT CREAM PIE"

1 cup crushed black walnuts
 12 soda crackers, crushed
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 3 egg whites
 1 cup sugar
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Method: Make meringue by beating egg whites and adding sugar and baking powder slowly. Beat very stiff.

Fold in crushed crumbs and nut meats.

Bake in buttered pie tin 30 minutes at 300 degrees. Brown slightly. Cool slightly.

Fill with ½ pint whipped, sweetened cream flavored with the vanilla. Chill 8 to 12 hours in refrigerator. Garnish with shaved bittersweet chocolate. Cut in pie servings.

Just conversed with one long-time booster for Paris — Kurt Thrun of Plymouth's Travel Centre in the Mayflower Hotel.

He believes their guided tours smooth the way for wayfarers and pilgrims abroad — because reservations and contacts direct with Paris business men are on a completely different level (also the "feeling" aspect) than that with Americans traveling on their own and encountering an angry-man-on-the-street.

Mr. Thrun's enthusiasm for Paris is prompting a dream "New Year's Eve" week-end flying party trip there to usher out 1958. As tentative plans go, he'll toss the party in Paris personally and the complete week-end tab for one will be in the neighborhood of $500.

This will be a return trip to Paris for him in a few short months — for on Sept. 26 his conducted tour for Plymouthites to Europe will include Paris before its conclusion Oct. 13.

Saturday night found Mr. Thrun taking over the Miles Standish Room of the Mayflower Hotel to give a "bon voyage" party to a group of 26 Detroiters bound for Europe Aug. 30.

Most interesting was the fact that this group found the travel tour they wanted in Plymouth from him — and that it was an all-Negro party. (Wives of prominent professional men in Detroit. . . mothers. . .)

Huge travel posters decked the dining room for the Saturday night dinner. . . good background as Mr. Thrun advised his clients what to do, what not to do in Lisbon (where their Pan American DC 7 will take them first); Fatima Shrine; Madrid, Lourdes, Nice, Florence, Rome, Venice, Geneva, Paris, Brussel's World Fair, and London. Mr. Thrun is escorting this group to New York.

Salem Crash Injures Ypsilanti Motorist

A 1958 Ford driven by Frederick R. Bishop of Ypsilanti was traveling east on N. Territorial at approximately 55 M.P.H. approached a slight curve, applied brakes and went into a skid. The car went into a ditch on left side of highway hitting a rock garden and knocking down a paper box at the Donald DeCamp home. The driver, 19 years of age, received head injuries but was treated by his family doctor.

Destroyed as the result of this accident. No injuries were sustained.

Donkey Bite Complaint

John Gaffka of 64355 Eight Mile Rd. South Lyon was served with a complaint that his cocker spaniel dog bit Mrs. Grace Gardner of 64141 Eight Mile. The officer advised Gaffka to keep the dog tied for 10 days and not let any other dogs near it.

Gasoline Stolen

A quantity of gasoline was reported taken from the Godwin Sod Nursery recently.

Faints at Wheel

Miss Shirley Johnson of Livonia was traveling east on North Territorial fainting, losing control of her 1955 Ford going into the ditch. The driver stated she felt herself fainting and tried to pull to the right side of the road but instead pulled to the left side. Six fence posts and approximately 75 feet of fencing was

FIRE RUNS

The Salem Fire Department answered another call to the Peerless Industries plant on Thursday morning when the metal scrap pile caught fire. Sunday morning they answered a call to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stenson, 9011 Six Mile Rd., when lightning struck their barn.

Donkey Ball Game

It will be an afternoon of fun on August 24 at 2 p.m. when the Salem Fire Department will sponsor a Donkey Ball Game in Salem. They will be playing the Superior Fire Department. The game, packed with plenty of thrills and spills, will amuse the adults as well as the kids.

Green Meadows Five-Year-Old Cake Served

(Covering the Green Meadows Area. Joy Rd., Main St., Ann Arbor, and Sheldon Rd. Also the Gallimore school district.)
 BY MRS. ALVIN STACE
 GL. 3-1929

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dodge of Elmhurst, celebrated their fifth wedding anniversary Wednesday, July 26. They entertained several friends serving champagne, toast and fruit cake.

The fruit cake was from the Dodge's wedding cake. Mrs. Dodge said they kept it in the freezer and it tasted just as good as their wedding day! Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Blossom, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blossom, and Mrs. and Mrs. Willis R. Blossom.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sparkman and family of Marlowe returned recently from a two-week trip through the south. They visited relatives in Florida and Tennessee.

A surprise stork shower was held in the home of Mrs. Keeth Keeth, on Sheldon Rd. Twenty girls who are nurses and nurses aides from Ridgewood hospital, were present. The honored guest was Mrs. Jean Branham, also a nurse.

Miss Elizabeth Calhoun returned home Wednesday after spending several wonderful days in Chicago with her girl friends, Marilyn Richwine, formerly of Plymouth.

Waterfront Is Favorite Spot Of Parkviewers

(Covering the Area east of the railroad tracks to the park and from Parkview Circle north to Wilcox Lake.)
 By Grace Wigle
 GL 3-2734

The waterfront seems to be the center of activity for Parkview Circle-ites now. Boating, fishing, and swimming offer cool relaxation from the humdrum of everyday affairs and family members of all ages can enjoy this form of recreation.

The Runyan Lake cottage near Fenton, which belongs to the Robert Pushman family was the scene for the annual picnic of a pinocchio club to which my parents and five other couples belong.

The families altogether made up a grand total of 26 — ten adults and 16 children. Swimming rated tops. There was fried chicken for dinner with lots of extras and all disappeared like magic. An hour later we were again in the water — then had hot dogs roasted over charcoal for supper. The day was a full one and fun for all.

Thursday morning the Joseph Quinlan family arrived home from their vacation near Schenectady, N. Y., where they visited Mr. Quinlan's brother, James Quinlan, and his family. Joe's parents from St. Petersburg, Fla., also were there. Swimming and picnicking rated as their favorite pastimes.

Barb, Harvey, and Tim Cooper visited Harvey's parents on Sunday on the Canadian side of Lake St. Clair. The previous night Coopers were in Ann Arbor to see "Around the World in 80 Days".

While Jim Parks, of Parkview Dr., went fishing his family drove to Grandma and Grandpa Seelbinder's house for dinner. Then the children were treated to a trip to Wallace Lake amusement park.

The Kenneth Way family, of Holbrook Ave., had a weekend visitor from St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Niel Wick. Mrs. Wick, formerly of Holbrook Ave., was here to make arrangements for her son's wedding.

Last week Valerie and Bill Brown were here at the Kuhn's house for spaghetti dinner. On Tuesday the Browns happily announced the birth of an eight-pound baby girl, Vicki Diane.

The Shakespearean play, Henry IV, was thoroughly enjoyed by the Paul Kauffman family when they visited Stratford, Ontario, recently. The Kauffmans saw both sides of Niagara Falls before they returned home.

Dickie, Mark, and Lee-Anne Coslow, of Parkview Dr., went to the Detroit Zoo on Sunday (accompanied by their parents). The zoo was filled with many people who had the same idea for the day's activity but it didn't hinder the Coslows from having a good time.

Call me with your news flashes — great or small! See you next week.

New School Bus Stopping Law Creates Some Problems

Michigan's new law requiring traffic from both directions to stop for school buses while they are loading or unloading passengers creates some conditions which could cause accidents unless all drivers are made aware of them before they arise, the Michigan Insurance Information Service warned today.

The first danger arises from the fact that the new law is not effective and won't be enforced until September 13, about two weeks after the reopening of schools.

It now appears that, in the intervening period, some school buses may be equipped with new warning signals required by the law and some may not. Some drivers, familiar with the existence of the law but not its effective date, may stop upon meeting a school bus from the opposite direction, while drivers following them are not expecting such a stop. And some children using the buses may assume prematurely that they have the protection of traffic stops from both directions, even though school officials plan to warn them of the situation.

Once the law becomes effective, there will be some new problems.

At present, only traffic overtaking a school bus is required to stop while the bus is stopped. Beginning September 13, traffic approaching a school bus from the opposite direction also must stop, but there are some exceptions to the rule.

On divided highways, traffic overtaking a bus still is required to stop, but that from the opposite direction is not. At intersections where traffic is controlled by a stop-and-go light or by an officer, traffic is not required to stop if a bus stops on a green light or if an officer directs traffic to continue, but maximum speed allowed is 10 miles per hour. The latter requirement does not apply, however, in incorporated communities, if they erect signs at their limits notifying that a stop for a stopped bus is required by local ordinance.

The new law requires that all school buses must carry two large red, alternately flashing lights high on the front and rear, to give warning that the bus is slowing for a stop. These will continue to flash while the bus is stopped. The new lights, plus a stop warning painted on the rear of the bus, will replace the arm signal now used at the driver's window on the buses.

Until a stopped bus resumes motion, or the driver signals traffic to continue, or the warning lights cease to flash, it will be illegal for cars from either direction to

Lucky Visit

Mrs. Jack R. (Inez S.) Campbell, of 582 Kellogg St., discovered this week that it was most lucky that she visited the grand opening of the Plymouth Hotel over in Mayflower Credit Union last week-end.

She won the transistor radio given away as a gesture of good-will by the Union. Her name was drawn by Mayor Harold Guenther at Monday evening's city commission meeting.

Nankin Youths Rejuvenate Store For Recreation

An abandoned Cunningham Drug Store in Nankin Township underwent a drastic change this past week. In six days it was scrubbed, painted and polished by 50 hard working teenagers who wanted and needed a youth recreation center.

It all started when the township voted to underwrite the rent on the basis of a three year contract and turn the store over to the youths. Already a juke box, ping pong tables and bumper pool games have been installed for recreation. They are holding dances Friday and Saturday evenings from 7 p.m. until 10 p.m. The band consists of members of the teen club.

In the near future they plan an election of officers so they can run the club by the teens for the teens. Of course, all work that is done is under the supervision of adults and all activities are chaperoned by teachers and parents. A lot of credit goes to Officer John Johnson of Wayne County Juvenile Division and his wife.

The store was turned over to the youths on Friday morning. At that time it was badly in need of minor repairs and rejuvenation. The teenagers worked all day scrubbing floors, washing walls and by Saturday morning they had started painting. They painted the entire day, went home, had supper and were back that evening ready to dance. The new club is located at Venoy and Grand Travers Streets in Norway. All teenagers are welcome from 1 until 4 weekdays and 7 until 10 Friday and Saturday.

Hint of Michigan Forts Creates Tourist Appeal

Michigan's visitors today come to enjoy themselves. It was not always so.

For this is a land of over empires fought, where Indian, missionary, trapper and soldiers each left his mark.

And while the corridors of time still echo to the tales of their deeds, in many places little tangible evidence is left of their brief passage through Michigan. This is especially true of Forts Gratiot and St. Joseph in the Port Huron area.

Still history has become a favorite target of many modern travelers, according to the Michigan Tourist Council, and literally thousands of tourists come to the state armed with a knowledge of Michigan's colorful past and unbounded curiosity.

Markers are all that stand today to remind us that the narrow channel of the St. Clair river at Port Huron once was a military objective of primary importance. Two forts stood there at various times, their guns — never fired in anger — trained on the river. And all that remains of either is a mound of earth and the historic markers.

But for all that they continue to attract the tourist who can stand on the bank of the river and see in his mind's eye how the country looked in those early days.

Fort St. Joseph was the first of the bastions of the Great Northwest. Built by the French in 1686, it may have been the first fort west of Montreal and the Alleghenies. It lasted only two years and even its exact location is now lost, but a marker to its former existence and importance stands in Gratiot Park on US-25 entering Port Huron from Detroit.

This ancient redoubt was built to discourage English traders from invading the vast territory north to the Straits of Mackinac. But in 1688 it was burned and abandoned.

A century and a quarter was to pass before another bastion was raised here. During that time the English had

The City Manager's Corner

John J. Considine, General Superintendent of the City of Detroit Department of Parks and Recreation, was the general chairman of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Youth Fitness Program held July 31, in which the Plymouth community recreation department participated. We often read about John Considine in the newspapers, and his activities within the Detroit Parks and Recreation Department.

In person, one finds that he has an Irish accent. He is of medium stature, light sandy hair, a ruddy complexion and bubbling with enthusiasm about children and the value of recreation to the community and the powerful effect of recreation in deterring juvenile delinquency. The Fitness Program was held at Belle Isle athletic field.

The field reminded one of Knights Field of Honor. There were poles and banners placed in an oval shape encompassing the field, and bunting on the stands for the officials witnessing the activities. Participating in the program were communities as far away as Mt. Clemens, Pontiac, Plymouth, Oak Park and Wayne.

To open the festivities, there was an impressive flag raising ceremony and the pledge of allegiance. All of the boys and girls massed on the field for the calisthenics. The girls were marched from the field and the boys participated in pushups. 53 pushups were counted for the winner. Following were dashes, running, broad jumps, running-hop-skip-and jump, standing broad taken over Michigan from the French, the Americans had taken it from the English, and then, in 1814, the British, having regained it, lost it again.

Perry's victory on Lake Erie and the Battle of Thames in western Ontario in the War of 1812, and the repossession of Detroit, left Americans in control of the vital St. Clair river channel between Lakes Huron and St. Clair.

Gen. William Henry Harrison in May of 1814 sent a force to construct a fortification and protect American settlers from raids by Canadian guerrillas and Indians. They chose a site close to that where Fort St. Joseph was then recognized only by a slight rise in the ground.

The river here was narrow — the new fort's command would command it, as the French fort had done. It was named Fort Gratiot for the chief engineer, Capt. Charles Gratiot of St. Louis.

Logs formed the base of the fortification, and upon them was piled earth, with upright timbers forming the stockade. It was 165 feet wide and three times that long, commanding the approach on the river from either direction.

Abandoned in 1821, Fort Gratiot became like Fort St. Joseph — walls and mounds of earth. But in 1828 unrest among the Indians caused it to be reoccupied. New buildings for officers and men were erected which remained in use until 1879. No fortification was attempted but the low mounds indicating the old walls were leveled and an enclosure of thick pickets was built.

And today, just southwest of where the Blue Water International bridge arches between Port Huron and Sarnia, Ont., a soaring monument to understanding between two great nations rests a boulder marker placed by the Daughters of the American Revolution, marking the site of this fort — from which no shot ever was fired.

Of course, such a program requires a great deal of planning, but with participation of the Recreation Directors of the various communities, the work could be easily spread. The City of Plymouth put in its bid for the next Youth Fitness Program to be held late next July or early August. I think Plymouth would enjoy playing host to this very worthwhile project, and our citizens will be fascinated by the competitive spirit and cooperative effort of its sister communities.

The United States and British Southern Rhodesia in Africa together hold about 60 per cent of the world's total reserve of iron ore.

CLASS "A"

"We like to win but in a way we hate to beat that guy, he is such a terrific competitor." These remarks were made by a member of the Wayne Dispatch organization and summed up the sentiment of the fans and players alike. "That guy," the dean of fastball chukkers in these parts, Gabby Street, and his Beglingers were eliminated from play-off competition as they suffered two consecutive losses. Beglingers won the league title with a record of 18 wins and two losses but lost out to two good teams in the play-offs.

In the Tuesday night games, Wayne Dispatch defeated Cloverdale 4-0 and Wolfe Aircraft had little difficulty with Eudaly-Weston winning 10-0. Herb Somers allowed Cloverdale just two hits as his teammates made their six hits allowed by Joe Wolfe. In the first game, Wolfe had three backs to the wall because they had each lost their first game and would be eliminated if they lost again. After the regulation seven innings the teams were tied at 7-7. In the eighth inning Joe Thibodeau held Eudaly-Weston scoreless while his mates scored a run on two hits to win 8-7. Lone dead opened the inning with a single and scored on Ruttenbar's double.

In the second game, Herb Somers of Wayne Dispatch and Gabby Street of Beglingers staged a terrific pitching duel for 12 innings. Beglingers got just three hits and Dispatch five. Barrett scored the winning run on Paffel's single. Piscopink at third base and Jim Rutledge 6-5 first baseman for Wayne Dispatch showed the fans just how their positions should be played as they made some fine fielding plays.

Orville Turner was the batting hero of the third game as he belted a home run over the right field fence with Al Keeler on base in the tenth inning to give his Wolfe Aircraft team a 3-1 victory over Chevrolet Spring & Bumper. Jim Lowe pitched for the winners and allowed five hits while his team made six off John Harrington. John Harrington fared better against Beglingers on Friday night as he gave up four hits and one run to eliminate the league winners on two straight games. Gabby Street allowed just six hits but was beaten on two home runs. Leon Vercriysee tied the score with his belt in the first inning and Pete Malone hit what proved to be the winner in the second inning.

Herb Somers of Wayne Dispatch allowed just two hits to Wolfe Aircraft but lost 2-1. One of these hits was a home run by Al Keeler with a man on base to account for the two runs. Herb Somers scored his team's only run after hitting a triple to open the third inning and scored on a single by Jesky Jim Rutledge of Wayne Dispatch was again the fielding star of the game. He makes impossible plays look like routine outs.

With the first round of the state tournament scheduled for this week, the play-off schedule will be interrupted temporarily. When play is resumed Cloverdale will play Chevrolet and the winner of this game will play Wayne Dispatch. Then the winner of this second game will play Wolfe Aircraft in the final.

Bill's Market Shares 15-Under League Title

Plymouth—Bill's Market, one of the two Plymouth teams entered in the 15 and under Recreation baseball league finished their season with a 15-1 record and tied for first place with Livonia Center. The teams were declared co-champions of the league. However, a play-off was necessitated to determine which team would enter the state tournament and which team would enter the metropolitan tournament. The winner of this play-off would go into the state tournament.

The game was played at Namkin Mills field last Friday night and Bill's Market led for six of the seven innings by a 3-2 score. In the seventh Livonia tied the score with a neatly executed squeeze play and then went on to win with a home run with two men on base.

Art Nelson was the starting pitcher and worked effectively until the sixth when he had some control trouble but managed to get out of the inning without allowing any runs. In the seventh the four runs were scored before any outs were made and Dick Schryer retired the side. John Spigarelli drove in two runs for Bill's with a triple in the first inning. He added a single to lead the team at bat.

Plymouth—Bill's Market was defeated in the first game of the tournament, thus ending their 1958 baseball season. Wyandotte was the victor by a 6-4 margin. Dick Schryer and Daryl Miller pitched effectively but the teammates could not muster enough scoring punch to outscore the rivals. This game was an anti-climax to the play-off with Livonia which they lost 6-3. John Spigarelli, again led the team at bat with a triple and a single.

Caffein Detected in $22 Winner

Owner-Trainer Bob Whitlow, who is listed in the Racing Commissioner's office as having a Plymouth address, was quizzed this week because his winning trotter at Northville Downs showed traces of caffeine after the race.

Commissioner James Inglis said that Whitlow's horse, Highland Pete, won and paid $22 last Thursday. It was the horse's first victory in 18 starts over the past two years, though it had been second and third previously this year.

The purse on the race has been withheld and the horse suspended, pending investigation.

The madrona tree of British Columbia, unlike other hardwoods, keeps its foliage all winter.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS

The 17th district installation was held Friday, Aug. 8, at the Myron Beals Post Home in Livonia. Hosts were the Rosedale Park Post and Unit. Officers installed were: Commander, Richard Kelso of Rosedale Park; Senior Vice-Commander, John Chedrick of Northville; Junior Vice-Commander, Harlow Tubbs of Redford Township; Finance Officer, George Shannon of Redford; Historian, Harry Burleson of Plymouth; Chaplain, John Holland of Redford Township; Sgt.-at-arms, Ernest Koi of Plymouth. Installing Ritual Team were members of Voiture 811 of 40 & 8 of Oakland County. Retiring Commander was Kenneth Parent of Redford Township.

Past Presidents of the 17th and 18th Districts installed the new officers in the auxiliary: Maxine Kunz of Plymouth, president; Melva Gardner of Plymouth, vice president; Betty Wilcox of Livonia, treasurer; Ruth King of Northville, chaplain; Vera Tubbs of Redford Township, historian; Gwen Holcombe of Plymouth, secretary. Retiring President was Armetta Nevins of Redford Township.

Distinguished guests were newly elected department chaplain Lena Hammond of Northville and Post Department Historian Dorothy Koi of Plymouth. Others attending from Plymouth were Donald Kinghorn, Adah Langmaid and Fern Burleson.

The next 17th district meeting will be Friday, Sept. 5, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center in Plymouth.

A special meeting of the Post members will be Wednesday, Aug. 20, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center.

Teamster Home Run Ruins Another Day for Merchants

A home run in the last of the ninth inning was the blow that sent the Plymouth Merchants down to their 12th defeat of the season last Sunday. The Merchants overcame a one-run deficit by scoring in the fourth to lead Teamsters 4-1.

They added one in the fifth but Teamsters kept pecking away until they tied the score 5-5 in the eighth. Gougeon led off the ninth with the fatal blow over the centerfielder's head to give them a 6-5 victory over a Plymouth team that gave one of their best efforts of the season.

The Merchants got their rally started in the third inning when manager John Schwartz, playing in right field, singled for the first of his two hits in the game. Shepherd was safe at first on a fielder's choice, with Schwartz thrown out at second. He moved to second as Carter walked and scored on Tomlinson's single.

Bender followed with a single that scored Carter and Tomlinson. Bender moved to second base on the play at the plate and when Nedry was safe at first on an error he went to third. Gow hit a sharp grounder to second base and when he was thrown out at first base Bender scored the fourth run.

Carter led off the fifth inning with a triple and scored the Merchants' fifth run when Nedry hit a hard smash to the short stop.

Shepherd pitched the whole game and scattered nine hits and lost the game on just one pitch in the ninth.

Co-manager John Schwartz compiled the batting averages for his team and the results are as follows:

Player	ab	H	Pct
Bender	94	32	.340

PLYMOUTH DRAWS A LAKES BYE IN THE FIRST ROUND

During the month of July, 107 boys participated in the Plymouth Recreation Department Midget League Baseball program. These boys were divided into two groups according to age. Boys from 8-10 played in one league and the boys from 11-13 played in another group. These teams were managed by high school students and the overall program was handled by Gus Gorguze with assistance from Mike Hoben.

The following is a list of the teams and players: Age Group 8-10
REDEGS — Manager — Randy Egluff, Players: Gary Fuelling, Kim Stevens, Larry Walton, David Dunlop, Charles Blevins, David Tidwell, Bill Wolfe, Jerry Norquist, Paul Carlson, Donald Degenhardt, Dennis Shelley and Tim McGill.
BRAVES — Manager — Paul Woodward, Players: Chuck Guideau, Ray Christensen, Tom Chandler, Rick Jones, Bruce Beaz, Joe Smith, David Davis, Glenn Soleau, Brent Semond, Kenneth Wilkins, Randy Blackford and John Williams.

YANKEES — Manager — Paul Woodward, Players: Danny Camp, Russell Canson, Terry Anderson, Jim Ennis, James Nuffer, John Giles, Jim Kearns, Ed Sheppard, Bruce Hirth, Arthur Mackie, Larry Lange, and Ken Adkins.
Age Group 11-13
TIGERS — Team manager — Al Runge, Players: Bill West, Jim Jensen, Horace Bruff, Dale Petty, Jerry Collins, Larry Duty, John Wilamowski, Clark Raven, Norm Freeman, Jim Bruff, Darel Stevens, and Frank Bowles.

BLACK JACKS — Team manager — Ed LaRoche, Players: Mark Schulheiss, Bob Steel, Doug Jaskierne, Bill Flipper, Dave Dennis, Chuck Ruge, Doug Breed, Dennis Blackard, Harold Kuisel, John Rayner, Garly Jones, Erwin Woodard and Link Smith.

Tigers won the league championship on the regular schedule. They now represent Plymouth in the Recreation tournament and for these games they are allowed to pick up three players from other teams in the league. The three players that the Tigers are using are Mark Schulheiss, Jim Davis and Buzz Smith.

These teams represent the farm teams for the other leagues and eventually the high school team. The program has served a twofold purpose. These boys have been kept occupied during the summer and have learned a great deal about the fine game of baseball under the best of playing and instruction conditions.

Beglingers of the Class "A" Recreation fastball league learned first hand that winning the league with a 16-2 record is not a criterion to use to predict their fate in the play-offs. First, Wayne Dispatch with Herb Somers pitching defeated them in twelve innings and then John Harrington of Chevrolet Spring & Bumper defeated them with the help of two home runs. Beglingers cannot hang up their uniforms just yet as they play in the first round of the state tournament this week.

Dick Day, former Plymouth high school pitcher, now pitching in the Detroit Tiger organization has made remarkable progress in the short space of two weeks. He started the season with Durham in the Class "B" league where he compiled a 10-4 record and was the winning pitcher in the all-star game. From there he was moved up to the Class "A" Augusta team where he stopped long enough to pitch in two games and get credit for one win and one loss.

Next stop was Charleston of the American Association. This is the highest classification below the major leagues and the Charleston club has given the Tigers Al Cicotte, Coot Vial, Ossie Virgil and Herb Moford so far this season.

The swimming season closes tomorrow and the director John McCall reports the best season in many years from the standpoint of attendance.

Congratulations to Mrs. Margaret M. Smith for scoring a hole-in-one on the fourth hole at Hilltop golf course. Mrs. Smith used a 5 iron on this 130 yard hole and finished the round with a 42, the same score as her husband for the nine holes.

Ever since Alexander Hamilton told George Washington

"Not only the wealth, but the independence and security of a country, appear to be materially connected with the prosperity of manufacturing . . .

"Whence it follows, that it is the interest of a community, with a view to eventual and permanent economy, to encourage the growth of manufacturing."

In these words Hamilton, Secretary of the Treasury, reported to the President and to the Congress on December 5, 1791 . . . and the book of industrial development was opened.

This is the first of a series of advertisements showing why you should join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

My typewriter must have been over-heated last week for an error crept into my column. I mentioned Russ Wallace and his appearing in the Leamington Sun Parlor Playhouse production of "Visit To A Small Planet" before I had double-checked the passenger list of the rocket-ship. Consequently, when Russ showed up A.W.O.L. our collective faces were quite red. Checking with Mrs. Wallace over the weekend revealed the real reason. Russ had some pressing work at the occupation he pursues for capital gains. His hobby had to suffer and the public was denied seeing an excellent characterization.

Let's hope that Russ doesn't get too busy come this fall or winter when we need him for either "Bell, Book, and Candle" or "Teahouse of August Moon." By the way, Betty Houghton informs me that a crew of ambitious people are already swinging hammers, paint brushes, and saws scenery-wise in preparation for the first show of the season, Every Tuesday and Thursday evening everyone and anyone is welcome to come out to the scenery headquarters next to the A and P Supermarket on Ann Arbor Road and join in the work-fest. There's something for all hands to do.

Speaking of the first play of the year, "Bell, Book, and Candle" reminds me that membership letters are already pouring back. This year letters have gone out inviting people in the community to become Guild members. For your $3 membership fee you receive free admission to all the plays. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Richwine were the first ones to mail their membership request cards back to Mrs. Kelly. Incidentally, if you didn't get a letter inviting you to become a member, call GL 3-4349 and ask Phyllis to send you one. If she knows you're serious about joining with the Theater Guild, you'll become a member before you can say John Barrymore.

Bumped into Jack Wilcox in the Penn Theater the other evening after the final showing of "The Bridge on the River Kwai." We both agreed that it was most evident why this picture had snared a number of Academy Awards, seven to be exact. I'm afraid the final sequence of the picture with the Captain falling on the lungers that blasted the bridge was a bit too melodramatic for my blood. I would have rather seen Joyce, the young lad, push the plunger. After all he had done all the work to blow the bridge sky-high.

The scenery in Ceylon was breath-taking. Camera work was superb. A few more pictures with this quality and I'm sure that the TV industry would be developing a few additional ulcers. Of course, a movie like "The River Kwai" only comes along every now and then much to everyone's disappointment.

Maplecroft-Birch: Aloha Party Honors "Miss Spring Festival of New York" Here

(Covering the Area bounded by Burroughs, Ann Arbor Rd., and the Junior High, including Maplecroft and Birch Subs.)

BY RHEA ROSS
GL. 3-3144

Wonder how many of us can brag of catching fish one day in Florida and entertaining with the same fish 2,000 miles away, specifically: place - Plymouth; family - the Marv Terrys; residence - Roosevelt Ave. Those enjoying the fish fry and the anecdotes of the past two-weeks vacation of the Terrys were: the Charles Wolfes, the Phil Theobalds, Mr. and Mrs. John Gaffield and the Earl Lykes.

Rating at the very top of Sally and Tom Marshall's list was the "Aloha" party given by Mr. and Mrs. W. Christenson of Southfield. Much of the activity centered around the swimming pool and also, we might add, Miss Carol Christenson, daughter of the W. Christensons, a professional model of New York City, recently chosen "Miss Spring Festival of New York."

Miss Christenson, for whom the party was given, was home for a short stay before beginning a tour of the states. The guests, wearing gayly colored leis, enjoyed a unique dinner consisting entirely of finger-food... barbecued chickens, ham, spareribs, shrimp, deep-fried bananas and carved shells of watermelon filled with fresh fruit were just a few of the tempting items on the menu.

In the evening lighted candles were floated in the pool which had been landscaped for the occasion with palm trees. TV personalities present were: Bob Murphy, sports announcer for WJR; Todd Pursue, Miss Fairweather from WJBK, and Sunny Elliott, TV announcer for WWJ.

Another outstanding event attended by some of our neighbors in Maplecroft was the wedding of Patricia Schaufele to Robert Chisel. It took place at the Presbyterian Church on Saturday, July 19. The bride, lovely in a pale pink lace ballerina-length dress with a pink circle veil, was given in marriage by her father, Andrew Nicholas. Mrs. Walter Beglinger was her matron-of-honor and was attractively attired in a royal blue lace dress. Both carried pink and white rose buds. Following the two o'clock ceremony, a reception for 35 guests was held at the Walter Beglinger home where the color theme of pink and white, favorite colors of the bride, was beautifully carried out. The fireplace was decorated with globe buds and a round table placed in front of it was covered with a floor-length cloth of pink lace. Here champagne punch was served. In the dining room the pink wedding cake was centered upon a white lace cloth with pink satin under it. Sandwiches and salad were also carried out in the pink and white motif with all the food being served on white milk glass. Following the reception the couple left for a week's stay at East Tawas.

The L. B. Rices of Harding received word this week of the impending marriage of their niece, lovely Linda May Huber, to Jeff Allen. The date was announced at a dinner given by the parents of the bridegroom to be, Mr. and Mrs. M. Allen of Inglewood, Calif.

You Can Grow Your Own Fruit--Without An Orchard

Child's Face Always Camera Challenge

Each time you look, you see a different expression on a child's face. Within a few seconds a child's face changes from a serious expression to an impish, teasing one. That, perhaps, is why it is so fascinating to take pictures of a child. Whoever is the official family photographer should not hesitate to take as many shots as can be taken, conveniently without boring the

And They Do Taste Sweeter

Strawberries that were picked just outside the kitchen door taste better than any others on breakfast cereal. A sun-ripened peach eaten as soon as it's been picked off the tree is the finest kind of eating.

Such pleasures as these can be enjoyed by a young homeowning family, for it isn't necessary to have a farm or an orchard to grow several kinds of fruit.

STRAWBERRIES yield as fine a crop when planted in a barrel of soil as they do in the ground. Barrel accommodates 50 plants in a less space.

The 60 by 120-foot property has room to grow a few of the small fruits, such as strawberries and grapes, plus a sampling of the fruit trees. The comparatively small amount of land left around a house on this size property will accommodate a sufficient number of plants or trees to provide fruit for a family of four. They fit because of the way in which the small fruits are planted and the kind of trees that are chosen.

An arbor, either free standing on the lawn, connecting the house and garage, or shading the terrace, is a perfect support for grapevines. These large-leaved vines give pleasant shade and grow quickly to cover the arbor. Since they must be pruned annually in order to yield good quality fruit, the vines will shade but never smother the arbor.

An equally satisfactory way to cover an arbor is with espalier shade trees. Espaliers are fruit trees that have been trained to grow flat against a trellis with branches growing in a symmetrical pattern from one main trunk. Because of their distinct form, it is easy to see which branches must be pruned and a light pruning to maintain the espalier form may be necessary in late summer.

Started two-year-old fruit espaliers may be purchased, or the homeowner who has experience in pruning may purchase two-year-old trees and start his own espalier. Any fruit trees can be espaliered.

Room for two standard-size fruit trees can be found on the small property. Since every house needs at least two shade trees near it, one of them might be a Rome Beauty or a Jonathan apple tree. These two varieties are self-pollinating and do not need another kind of apple tree within a mile in order to produce a crop. Either a Jonathan or Rome Beauty apple tree will grow about 30 feet tall, and no other tree should grow within 25 feet of it.

A second smaller tree for the property might be a crabapple. Variety Dolge bears large, jelly-making crabapples and eventually reaches a height of 15 to 20 feet. It has large white blossoms in spring, but some of the varieties with pink blossoms, such as Hops, also have fruit suitable for making jelly.

Dwarf fruit trees are the answer for the homeowner who wants different kinds of fruit from limited space. Ten of these dwarf trees — two each of apple, pear, peach, plum and sour cherry — can be planted in 30 square feet without being crowded. Dwarf pear trees grow only 7 to 10 feet tall, dwarf apple trees 15 feet or a little more. Dwarf fruit trees are easy to prune and spray and to pick the fruit when it is ripe.

Give Your Old Chairs Gay Uplift!

Is that old chair an eye sore in your living room? Most households have at least one or two pieces of furniture that have weathered the years and show it. If you're tired of having an uncomfortable, faded piece of furniture marring the appearance of your home, why not re-upholster it yourself? Chances are it's good for many more years of service.

The cost of re-upholstering an occasional chair is between $12 and $15, about one-third to one-half the price of a new chair of comparable size. The exact amount you spend will depend upon the type fabric used to cover the chair.

The only special tools you'll need are an upholsterer's tack hammer with a magnetic head, a webbing stretcher, and straight and curved upholstery needles. Other equipment probably will be on hand in your home. You also need the following materials:

One Device Cools And Also Heats Babies' Bottle

NEW YORK (UPI) — Electronic temperature control — locked in the laboratory since its theoretical discovery in 1834 — is being unveiled now in such practical forms as a baby bottle cooler-warmer and a mobile hostess cart with refrigeration and oven compartments.

The principle, explains Westinghouse Electric Corp., is the creation of heat or cold by passing electricity through junctions of two dissimilar materials. Temperature varies according to the current's direction.

The baby bottle appliance is a cylinder-like container which keeps the bottle cool until shortly before the pre-selected feeding time. Then the bottle starts to heat up. When the milk temperature is just right, an alarm rings to wake up Dad.

The appliance plugs into any electrical outlet. Another version for traveling parents can be operated from the cigarette lighter fixture of a car.

The hostess cart contains a 1.3-cubic-foot warming oven, maintained at 150 degrees, and a two-cubic-foot refrigerator. The trip cooking unit can be operated either plugged into a regular wall circuit or by its own batteries.

A new electric range that features vertical broiling for greater flavor and less mess has been brought out by the Norge Division of Borg-Warner Corp., Chicago. Chunks of meat and fowl are held between vertical racks, the company explains. Hence, food broils on both sides, sealing in juices for greater flavor, reducing shrinkage and eliminating the need for a broiler pan.

The Winchester-Western division of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. has introduced a light-weight version of its Winchester Model 12 shotgun to answer a demand from sportsmen for a lightweight pump gun retaining the pointing and shooting qualities of the original Model 12. The new gun, weighing six pounds 10 ounces, is about 15 percent lighter than the standard Model 12.

TEED OFF

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI) — A local radio station offered a trophy to the winner of a golf tournament on the Municipal Course here. The winning team represented a competing station.

HERE'S HOW...

MAKE A PORTABLE SHED

A portable shed with many uses can be made of 1 by 12-inch and 2 by 4-inch lumber. The roof, sides, back, and door are dowel-jointed, using 3/4-inch dowel. Framing members on the panels are of 2 by 4-inch stock, fastened with glue and 8-penny nails.

The foundation frame is fastened with 10-penny nails. Make each panel as shown and try it in place and mark the location of the bolt holes. Use 1/2-inch carriage bolts 3 inches long, with the round heads on the outside of the shed.

The front is U-shaped, dowel-jointed and glued, and reinforced with two 2 by 4's. The 1/2-inch overlap of the 2 by 4's serves as a door stop.

YOU AUTO BUILD NOW—For the do-it-yourselfer who wants a car that won't be like all the other cars on the road, a British firm has the answer. The Nobel 200 is a kit-car which comes in two versions. One is the truck-convertible (top) and the other is a sedan (bottom). It will have either three or four wheels, depending on builder's preference. The sedan is said to have a top speed of about 50 m.p.h., and gets 80 miles to the gallon.

Never Assume Anything About Car Horn's Ability to Operate Efficiently

An important safety device that's taken for granted by every beginning young driver — and many experienced drivers, too — is the horn. Also, a great many drivers use a horn as a means of blasting their way through traffic.

Because a car horn is an electrical part, it does require attention and service from time to time. Unfortunately, it is undoubtedly the most neglected part of a car. So it comes as a complete shock to a driver when he discovers that there is no noise after pressing the horn disk at the steering wheel.

Other than a horn's vibrator unit, there are no moving parts that make up a horn. Therefore, there is little that can be done to a horn that completely fails. However, a car owner can make certain checks to keep a horn operating safely and when needed.

Since the horn operates electrically, it is important that all wires and connections are checked frequently. Not only the vibration from a blowing horn, but also the vibration from a running car can loosen wire connections to render a horn silent.

Close inspection must be done on all horn wires. Points to check are frays, deterioration of outer insulation and brakes. Any of these poor wiring conditions can render a horn useless and, even worse, cause a short circuit.

Another horn maintenance check is the tightening up of all screws and diaphragm nuts of the main unit. If this tightening is done on a horn that isn't working, and the horn still doesn't blow, then the entire unit needs replacing.

A horn's tone sometimes will change or it will become almost inaudible. This may not be a serious problem, and it can be corrected simply. Every horn has a vibrator unit, and the tone can be changed by loosening or tightening the nut on the top of the unit. If this does not work, then the unit must be replaced.

A horn should last the life of the car. However, there is no guarantee that it will. One thing is certain; maintenance on this safety device will insure longevity and a driver who cares for his car's horn will always be sure that it will work when needed.

Timely Tips: Ideas Galore Offered Here

Want to serve big meals — with trimmings — for about 20 cents a person? Then tuck "buyman-ship" into your shopper's list said the National Association of Food Chains. And here, according to the NAFC, is how to sharpen your buyman-ship:

"Sit down and save by pre-planning the shopping list based on menus and ads that promise savings; plan meals the family will eat, and consider the values of 'convenience' foods versus home-prepared foods."

Prepared food products, such as cake mixes, are cheaper, more uniform and less time-consuming than the home-made kind, said the association.

P.S. The 20-cent feast mentioned above is a chop suey dinner, including rice, fruit cocktail, gelatin dessert, lettuce, tea and cookies.

When shopping for summer furniture, take along a small magnet. It will help you to get the low-down on runs on aluminum chairs, chaises and tables.

It's a perfectly sane idea, for without the magnet you won't be able to tell whether the fittings are steel. And you should know this because non-stainless steel fittings can rust quickly when left outdoors. If the bolts are steel, a coat of spar varnish or exterior lacquer will help them resist rust.

Even the stainless steel nuts should have a coating of varnish when on aluminum out-door furniture. Otherwise, there can be corrosion of the aluminum itself. This happens when two dissimilar metals are in contact in the presence of air and moisture.

SMART GIRL — Already at work on her fall clothes. With the many sales going on this month on yard goods, it's the shrewd and talented sewer who can make her summer pay off big autumn fashion dividends.

Sewing Machine Can Be Your Best Fall Friend

Gals and Mrs. Suburbia: Now's the time to turn that sewing machine into your best fall friend. Have it turn out your autumn wardrobe and be set for all the happy occasions with your own high fashion outfits ready and waiting in the closet.

The joy about sewing your own clothes is that they will be custom ones — you won't be meeting your twin (or shouldn't anyway!).

No matter how much experience in sewing you might have, understanding of dressmaker's terms will facilitate your sewing.

Here goes: Directions for cutting fabrics refer to its grain. If the garment is to hang and fit correctly, fabric must be grain perfect before it is cut.

Sealge, of course, is the woven edge of the fabric. Lengthwise grain runs parallel to the sealge, crosswise grain are the threads running across the fabric from sealge to sealge.

Unless the pattern directs that the pieces should be laid crosswise grain, the grainline marks on the pattern should follow the lengthwise grain of the fabric. Lengthwise threads generally are referred to, as the straight grain.

Before placing the pattern on the fabric, the ends should be straightened. To do this, snip the sealge and pull out a crosswise thread. Cut along this pulled thread, or if the fabric tears easily, snip the sealge and tear it.

After ends have been evened off, fabric can be tested for perfection of grain. Fold in half lengthwise and pin the two halves of one end together. Then pin sealges together. If the folded, pinned fabric lies flat and smooth on a flat surface, it is on grain. If it is not, it can be straightened by pulling the fabric on the bias in the direction opposite to that in which the off-grain threads run.

Shrinking after the first washing or cleaning spoils pleasure in a new outfit. So, unless fabrics indicate that they have already been shrunk, treat them before cutting out the pattern. Pre-pressing all creases with a steam iron or a damp cloth and dry iron precedes treatment for shrinkage control.

To pre-shrink cottons and other washable fabrics, fold loosely in two or three sections and immerse in hot water for a half hour to an hour. Remove and drape over bars of a clotheshorse for several hours of clothesline. After fabric has dried, test it again for straight grain.

Woolens and other materials that must be dry cleaned, also can be treated for shrinkage. To do so, fold material lengthwise and pin ends and selvages together. Fold a sheet lengthwise and wet it thoroughly. Then place fabric on wet sheet so that the sheet extends 6 to 8 inches beyond material. Wet a second sheet if necessary and overlap. Fold wet sheet and material loosely and let stand four to six hours. After fabric is removed, allow it to dry on a flat surface and press it if desired.

If not the main parts of the pattern, then the trim pieces may call for a bias cut. Bias is any direction on the fabric away from the straight lengthwise or crosswise grain. True bias is the diagonal line formed when crosswise threads are laid to run parallel to the sealge or a lengthwise thread.

The home dressmaker will need a dressmaker's tracing paper to transfer construction symbols from the pattern to the material. This is a special type of coated paper that comes in light and dark colors.

Serve potato salad with a creamy dressing for your next picnic supper.

Combine 4 cups of cubed, cold boiled potatoes with 1 small onion, chopped, 2 tablespoons of chopped parsley, 1 cup of chopped celery, and 1 teaspoon of salt.

Stir in the dressing made by combining 4 tablespoons of prepared mustard with 2 tablespoons each of vinegar, sugar and evaporated milk or light cream, and ¼ teaspoon of salt. Beat the dressing until fluffy before mixing with the potatoes. Garnish with sliced radishes.

A quick, easy and inexpensive summer entree that is good either hot or cold is this salmon-vegetable loaf. Mix 1 one-pound can salmon, flaked, with 1 can condensed vegetable soup, 2 cups crumbled wheat crackers, 1 onion, chopped, and 1 egg. Pack into greased 8x4x2½ inch loaf pan and bake in 350 degree oven 30 minutes. Serves 6.

FERN HUNT — A study of ferns keeps youngsters interested in science and gives them a keen awareness of the world around them. These two "naturalists" have taken their pet dog with them on their fern hunting adventure.

Ferns Give Cool Look on Hot Day

On a hot summer day nothing is cooler looking than a mass of ferns. Homes in new developments don't have ferns growing close to their foundation or in a rocky under the trees, but children who live in these new homes are apt to discover ferns growing in the fields or woods near by.

A vacation in the mountains, at a lake or the seashore is certain, sometime, to bring forth a "What's that?" referring to a clump of ferns. The simple answer: A fern is a plant and one that never flowers. And tracing ferns further explores a fascinating part of the plant world.

Since a close look shows that all ferns aren't just alike, it's important to know how to talk about ferns. They don't have leaves; instead those graceful green parts are called fronds. Each small part of the frond is called a pinna, not a leaflet. The stem correctly is known as a rachis.

Since a fern isn't a flowering plant, it doesn't produce seeds. Instead ferns grow from spores which look like tiny brown specks of dust. These spores appear in clusters on the undersides of the fronds; these brown dots are called sori, and they aren't signs of disease as some people think when they first see them.

The shape and size of the frond, the color of the rachis (stem), and the shape of the brown sori on the underside are the chief means of identifying and recognizing ferns. So different are the fronds that most of the common ones can be identified and their names remembered that way.

Most ferns grow in shade, although a few thrive in sun and some others particularly like wet spots. The big Bracken fern with a green frond shaped something like a triangle, spreads through sunny meadows. The hay-scented fern with daintier fronds and fine pinna and which is sweet smelling when dried also grows in sunny spots.

Polypod ferns, often no more than three inches full grown, cling to rocky ledges in sun or shade. Common to woods are the shining Christmas of the state college.

ferns which is evergreen in winter. Incidentally, Northeastern United States has 82 different ferns; other regions different or similar ones.

Ferns needn't be collected and kept anywhere in order to learn names of the common ones. Some people do like to pick one frond to bring home and press while they are getting acquainted with this plant family. Ferns wilt quickly so it is wise to take along a carrying case in which it can be packed in damp moss, or a small press. When the specimens are brought home, they are spread out smoothly between blotters or newspaper sections, then weighted with books for about 10 days. When completely dry, each frond can be attached to a sheet of paper with strips of cellophane.

Easiest of the books to use for identification probably is Farida Wiley's "Ferns of Northeastern United States" (American Museum of Natural History, $1.50 plus 10c for postage). Similar books are available for other regions of the country. Pamphlets also may be obtained from the Extension Service of the state college.

What To Do With Mildew!

In spite of the best efforts in spring to have clean clothing, household articles and furniture cleaned and aired as a precaution, mildew will form some summers. It will take a little effort, but mildew stains can be removed from leather and upholstered furniture as well as from clothing. Take steps as soon as possible after mildew is noticed.

The mildest mildew is that which forms because towels, washcloths, swim suits and the like dry so slowly in humid weather. A sour, musty smell is a sign of mold growth or mildew. Boil dishcloths, washcloths and anything that is safe to put in some hot water (2 teaspoons of baking soda to a quart of water). A bleach can be used if necessary. Then launder as usual.

Whatever the article on which mildew appears, first brush off surface growth. Do the brushing out-of-doors to prevent the spores scattering through the house. All articles should be sunned and aired thoroughly. Then spots can be tackled on fabrics that can be washed or sponged; any that cannot be, must be sent to the dry cleaners.

On washable clothing or household articles, wash the mildew-stained places at once with soap and water. Then rinse thoroughly and dry in the sun. If, after this, a stain remains, this spot should be moistened with lemon juice and salt and spread in the sun to bleach. Afterward rinse thoroughly and dry. This treatment can be used, with care, on colored fabrics.

Tall, frosty glasses of iced coffee and a beautiful sandwich loaf lend elegance to the small afternoon party.

Parties, large or small, are always remembered as special moments in our lives. It usually follows — the more elegant the party, the fonder our memories.

A small, intimate party, given on a lazy summer afternoon, can be just as elegant as a large and formal reception. A few close friends, a cool setting and lovely refreshments — what more could be desired?

Of course, a large and cumbersome buffet wouldn't do for such an occasion, but a handsome sandwich loaf would! Take this Katonah Sandwich Loaf — with layers of chicken, mushrooms and deviled ham and frosted with fluffy cream cheese!

Katonah Sandwich Loaf
1 large loaf unsliced white bread
2 cans (3 oz. each) broiled mushrooms
1 lb. cream cheese, divided
1 tablespoon heavy cream
1 cup minced cooked chicken

Mayonnaise
½ cup minced water chestnuts
½ cup minced cucumber
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 can deviled Smithfield ham
4 small stuffed olives
unpeeled cucumber slices
Remove crusts from loaf of bread and slice lengthwise into 3 even slices. Drain mushrooms, reserve 8 whole crowns and mince the rest. Mash ½ lb. cream cheese, add cream and whip until fluffy. Add minced mushrooms and onions. Set aside. Combine minced chicken, water chestnut and cucumber with enough mayonnaise to hold ingredients together. Spread on 1 slice of loaf and top with second slice. Spread this slice with mushroom mixture and top with third slice.

Combine remaining cream and deviled ham, whip until fluffy and spread on top and sides of loaf. Place 8 mushroom crowns in a row along center of loaf. Flank with rows of sliced olives and half slices of cucumber. Makes 8 servings.

Town Crier: Scottish Guest Visiting Arthur Stewarts

(Covering the Area along Sheldon to Ann Arbor Trail, Harvey and Sutherland, including Plymouth Colony, Park Lane, Hough Sub., Plymouth Hills, and Ridgewood)

BY GLORIA BOWLES
GL. 3-2340

A jolly nice relative from Scotland is guesting at the home of the Aruthr Stewarts of Jener.

She is Miss Annabelle Emalie of Aberdeen, who flew from her hometown at 10 p.m. Friday and was in time for lunch on Saturday. This is her first trip to America, which she thinks is "very nice indeed."

Miss Emalie is particularly intrigued with the hot weather for it is quite cold in Scotland—she can't wait to show off her sunburn. She is also surprised by the well-stocked grocery stores and the "trolleys" used to carry the food in the super markets, and "all the cars." And there are "no bicycles around this joint," an American expression she picked up. The "open air pictures" amaze her, as do all the deep freezes, which are unnecessary in Scotland.

When leaving Aberdeen she encountered a friend with whom she had worked in the war—and the friend was also destined for the Detroit area. The presence of the woman, who was well acquainted with the states, was welcome. New York City looked quite menacing to the Scottish visitor—she laughingly asserted that she would have gone home if it weren't for the helpful friend.

Miss Emalie is the cousin of Ben and Frances Smith, whose aunt and uncle are the Stewarts. She came especially for Ben's wedding, which is to take place shortly, also visited relatives in Canada last weekend and planned a trip to Chicago for this week.

Having sold his local sanitation firm, Frank Ockert of Jener has entered the ministry and is attending Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill. Has been there since June 1. The Ockerts have sold their place, but final moving procedures haven't been completed. Mrs. Ockert was in Plymouth last weekend taking care of those little details. Finding new friends in Illinois will be the Ockert children, Ronald, 8, and Dennis, 11.

Also in the moving department:

Rogers, Ark., will be the new home of the David Gates and daughters, Mary Ellen and Martha Ann, of Ridgewood. The family will leave Aug. 25 after 15 years of residence in Plymouth. At present the family is in the "throes of getting ready" for the big move—so says Mrs. G. Mr. Gates, born in Plymouth, will continue his work as Director of Training Services of Daisy.

Incidentally, the Gates plan to continue taking the Mail keep up with local affairs. Good idea... if you're moving why not do the same???

Mary Ellen celebrates her seventh birthday today, Aug. 14. The home of Kenneth Gates (Mr. Gates's brother) was the scene of a party on Sunday celebrating the occasion.

Having "the pinocle gang" at a barbecue Saturday will be the John Olenfors of Amherst Court. Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hay and Mr. and Mrs. Earl May of Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagenschutz and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Kaiser of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shirey of Plymouth.

The Olenfors, daughter Alice and son Johnny were among those attending a day long outing at the Nick Kleitsch home on Cass Lake last Saturday. The occasion was the annual gathering of those in the Dearborn neighborhood where the Plymouth Hills family formerly made their home.

Las Vegas, Nev., is the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Anderson, who arrived at the home of the V. J. Mackinders of Jener last Wednesday for a week's stay. Mrs. Anderson is Mrs. M's sister. Mr. Anderson is an accountant in the town—where gambling is legal. (Bet he's a very busy man.)

The daughter of the Mackinders, Mrs. Verna Armitage of Grand Rapid was a recent guest at the Plymouthites home.

The Owen McKennys of Turkey Run entertained Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Muller and children Jan and Bruce for dinner last Saturday evening.

The son of the cousin of Lewis Litzenberg of John Alden, James Carr, of Royal Oak, spent several days last week with the Litzbergs. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Carr and four brothers and sister motored to Plymouth last Saturday to claim Jimmy and visit with the Plymouth Colony couple.

Spending two weeks at the home of the Harold Kuiseis of Harvey was Mrs. Kuiseis's mother, Mrs. Mike Weigel of Patch Grove, Wis. Mrs. Weigel returned to Plymouth with the Kuiseis, who spent some time in the Dairy State recently.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Jacobus of Elm entertained Mr. and Mrs. Phil Peters and family of Wellesley Hills, Mass., for several days last week. The trip is headed for Aspen, Colo.

The first camping experience for the Philip Larabbes and children Phyllis Ann, 11, Paul, 7, and Philip Lee, 4, came this summer. The family spent 10 days in the north (saw the Soo Locks and the Bridge) while taking advantage of the State Park facilities. A nice tent and sleeping bags was a part of the equipment. The Larabbes returned home Tuesday, July 29.

With the two-week vacation of the man of the house unfolding, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Harless of John Alden will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Herley Harless of Indianapolis for a week. The couple will arrive tomorrow, Aug. 15.

The Herman Ladzicks of South Harvey entertained 14 members of the family at Sunday dinner, August 3. The clan gathered to greet Navyman Edward McCurdy, 19, who was on leave. The guests were from Detroit. Ed is the grandson of the Ladzicks, who are fairly new to Plymouth.

"I'll challenge anybody to a game of horseshoes—at my house, by my horseshoes," declared Ed, a 125 pounder Dale Livingston. At this writing (note the sarcastic tone) Dale lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Livingston and brother Larry on Jener. Asked how many games he'd won, Dale blushed modestly: "I couldn't count that high. He played the champ at In-Touch, but lost in a 'very close match,' adding that 'I beat my Dad all the time.' Call Dale at GL. 3-3226—or come to his home at 529 Jener to take on this formidable young horseshoe pitcher."

The Loren Gould home on Ridgewood was "packed" with guests during the week of August 2 from Massachusetts came Mrs. Gould's mother, Mrs. Doris O'Grady, her brother, Peter O'Grady, an aunt, Mrs. Dora Wheeler and sister, Mrs. Polly Diamond. Captain and Mrs. Arthur LaFond (another brother) of Fort Knox, Ky. also arrived for a week's stay during the same time the mentioned relatives were in Plymouth.

The Junior Golf Tournament held last Monday and Tuesday at Hilltop Golf Course kept Mrs. Seymour Luvisch and Mrs. John Olenfors, both of Amherst Court pretty busy the days preceding the tee-off. The two women were among the things responsible for recruiting walkers for the contest.

Odds 'n Ends: It's a small world! ! So discovered four Plymouth Colony people, who were all members of the same graduating class at Cooley High School in June, 1939. They are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Norquist of Turkey Run and Mr. Robert L. Jones of Priscilla Lane. Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Norquist also went to the Detroit high school, though not graduating at the same time as the others. New neighbor David Hubbs, 16, of Turkey Run joined the swimming team at PHS. He plans to go out for the swimming team during the school year. The Plymouth Colony baseball men lost last Thursday night's game, are suffering from the absence of vacationing team members. At present time, the men have a 3 win, 5 loss record.

AMERICANA LAMPS

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sophisticated treatments of American motifs make a strong bid for attention in the fall lamp collections. In lamps, as in furniture the revived interest in Americana covers a wide range—from outright traditional interpretations to merely a hint of the past in softened contemporary forms. These new designs, reports the Lamp and Shade Institute of America, are a far cry from the quaint little knickknacks formerly called "colonial."

GIRLS PREFER . . .

NEW YORK (UPI) — American teen-age girls prefer tooth paste to tooth powder, deodorants to anti-perspirants, bobby pins to hair pins and liquid shampoo to lotion and cream varieties, according to a report from a national magazine. (Seventeen).

Newburg-ites Edward Reids Try Camping

(Covering the Newburg Area, bounded by Wayne Rd., Ann Arbor Rd., Landon and Joy Rd., including the Washington School area.)

BY MRS. EMIL LAPOINTE
GA. 1-2029

Mr. and Mrs. John Duczer of Newburg Rd. have been away for the past two weeks visiting in Hammond, La. The Duczer's were called to the bedside of Mr. Duczer's father, John, Sr. While in Louisiana a stop was made at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Duczer in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reid and children Joanne, Marlin, Philip and David have been camping in northern Michigan in the Otsego Lake state park near Gaylord. The Reid family live on Richland avenue in the Park Villa sub. These folks were gone two weeks and said that the weather was beautiful for them, all the time they were gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert of Newburg Rd. have Mrs. John Kordon and her children Gilbert and Gail of Newington, Conn., visiting with them for part of the summer. Mrs. Kordon is the Gilbert's daughter.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Waltz of Richland Ave. for the past two weeks, have been Mrs. Waltz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whaley of Gloucester, Ohio.

Dinner on Sunday, Aug. 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Remy of Newburg Rd. was served to guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert and Mrs. John Kordon and children. Gilbert and Gail.

Boy, it sure has been quiet around the LaPointe residence for the past week, with our oldest boys, Bruce and David, staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Sr., of Graham Rd., Detroit. While at the Weiss residence the boys were taken downtown for lunch, to the Detroit Historical museum and to the Detroit river to watch the big freighters and other river traffic. While they are gone Miss Gail Nida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nida of Dearborn, has been staying with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hinman of Grandville have returned home after spending a week visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Remy, Jr., of Newburg Rd. The Hinmans are Mrs. Remy's parents. The Remys drove their houseguests home on the past weekend and, while in the vicinity, Robert and Sharon, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Remy were taken to see and swim in beautiful Lake Michigan.

Fellowship Class of the Newburg Methodist church Sunday school will meet for a family pot luck picnic at Gunsolly drive in the park on Saturday, Aug. 16. The time for this gathering is 8:30 p.m. To honor Leonard Remy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Remy, Sr., of Newburg Rd., on his seventh birthday, his parents invited the following guests for supper on Sunday evening, Aug. 3: Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bowerman and Mrs. Dale Arthur of Plymouth; James Remy Sr., Arthur Remy, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James Remy, Jr. and daughters Roberta and Sharon and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gilbert all of Livonia; Mrs. John Kordon and children Gilbert and Gail of Newington, Conn., and Miss Lyn Wood of Lincoln Park. Leonard's sisters Mary and Ann Elizabeth were also present for the gala affair.

I certainly appreciate having so many folks call me this week with their news.

smile when you outfit them for school
...via an NBD savings account

Who knows better than you the expense of outfitting a growing child for the call back to school this fall? Remember last year? It was money for a new hat and coat. Or a new jacket and helmet. Money for new dresses, blouses, shoes, mittens, jeans, shirts, shorts, boots and belts. Pencils, notebooks, rulers. On and on and on until you thought the bills would never stop. This year, plan things so that you can take back-to-school expenses right in stride. Start tucking away a few dollars every week in a National Bank of Detroit savings account. Then when school bells ring, you'll hear only a pleasant melody. No scrimping, fretting, scrambling or straining at the budget for you. Open your account now—one dollar will do it—and save regularly at any of NBD's 61 friendly neighborhood offices, where sound management policies put solid security behind every dollar on deposit. Let it rain school expenses. You'll have an umbrella of cash.

Resident Elected To State Post

Dorothy Koi, 625 Arthur, was re-elected to the office of the Department Historian at the 40th American Legion convention held in Detroit, July 24-27. A member of the United States Air Force during World War II, and presently a member of the Passage-Gayde Post No. 391 of Plymouth, she has served the Post as Adjutant and Junior Vice Commander.

In addition to organizing the 17th District Blood Bank, she has also served the District as Adjutant, Mrs. Koi is also a charter member of Echelon No. 18 of the 20 and 4, an organization created at last year's convention for women Legionnaires. Harold E. Wilson of Sheldon Rd. was elected to represent the State of Michigan Legionnaires at the National Convention to be held early in September. Robert F. Wilson of Holbrook Ave. was appointed to serve as an alternate delegate to the same National Convention. The appointment of Harold Wilson as this year's Membership Director for the State was confirmed at the Convention.

Other members of the local Post who attended and served on various committees during the Convention sessions were Commander Donald Kinghorn, Past Commanders William Langmaid, Harold Wilson, Robert Wilson, Harry Burleson and Ernest Koi. Members of the Plymouth Auxiliary who also served on committees of the Auxiliary's session were President Fern Burleson and Past President Adah Langmaid and Melva Gardner.

HARTFORD, CONN. (UPI)—A toll taker at Founders Bridge here who had never seen a silver dollar refused to accept one from a motorist, who demanded that he check with another toll taker.

The first collector conferred and with the second, returned and announced with some surprise: "The guy there says they're worth a dollar apiece."

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Five Walt Disney feature-length nature films, released at a one-year rate since 1953, have grossed $19,000,000 thus far. Disney says the films grossed $8,500,000 in the United States and more than $10,000,000 overseas.

HAWAII BOUND on July 30 aboard the luxury liner, S. S. Matsonia, from Los Angeles harbor was Plymouthite Miss Betty J. Stevens. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Stevens, 1328 Elm St., and teaches speech, English, and debate at Plymouth High School. Miss Stevens flew to Los Angeles with two girl friends from Coldwater on July 28. The trio, after more than a two weeks' holiday in Hawaii, will fly directly back to Detroit. They are due here Aug. 17.

Letters to The Editor

Each year, a week before Memorial Day, the various Veterans organizations are to be seen on the streets with poppies in one hand and a container in the other... not only in Plymouth but throughout the United States. Many of our citizens feel that this is just another money making project for the use of the members of the various organizations. This is not so.

All American Legion Poppies are hand made in the various V.A. Hospitals. Poppies offered in Michigan are made in Michigan. The making of the poppies not only offers a vital therapy for those bedridden patients but also gives them a feeling of independence so necessary to the welfare of all humans. This independence is gained by the income they receive from the making of these poppies... 1 1/2 cent for each one. Several million poppies are made each year in Michigan alone. When these poppies are offered on the streets, no amount is requested... it is a free will offering. The funds so collected are a public trust with the veterans organizations and a separate accounting kept thereof.

The Passage - Gayde Post and its Auxiliary submit the following joint accounting of these funds for the 1957-58 period.

Receipts
Balance on hand
June 1, 1957	$736.96
Miscellaneous Donations	40.00
	$776.96
Disbursements
Hospital Services	$340.63
Emergency Aid to Veterans	155.00
Families and needy children
Flowers, etc.	20.00
Poppies (Purchases for 1958 sales)	163.50
Balance	$679.13
	$97.83

We trust the generosity of the people of Plymouth continues on its present high standard.

Respectfully,

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—While on location at an Air Force base, Howard Duff of the "Mr. Adams and Eve" TV series was permitted to ride around in a jeep.

On the rear of the jeep, which was usually used as a guide for taxiing jet planes, was a sign reading, "Follow Me."

One pilot wasn't aware of what Duff was up to, and his plane followed the jeep in and out of parking areas and across several runways before he got wise.

Starts 17th Year as State Legion Adjutant

Lyle Alexander will begin his 17th year as Department Adjutant of the American Legion. In this position he serves as secretary of the state organization, working full-time Legion headquarters in the Veteran's Memorial Building in Detroit.

A resident of 210 Mill St., in Plymouth, Alexander began as a charter member of the Northville post, before the Plymouth Post was organized. Other Legion offices, held by Alexander are past commander of the 17th District and Department finance officer which he held for five years. In 1942 he resigned from the Plymouth Savings Bank to assume the adjutant position.

Pressure On Schools

BY ELMER E. WHITE
Relentless as the passing of time is the continuing pressure for more school facilities.

about 29,000 more classrooms will be needed.
The state requires 2,500 to 3,000 more teachers this year than last year.

Biggest pinch comes at the college level. Masses of youngsters who clogged grade schools beginning years ago are now preparing for college.

Records show Michigan will spend about $725 million this coming year for educating its young people.

Reductions in state college and university budgets in the last session of the legislature meant a moratorium on building programs for this need.

Whether it is a large enough sum or not is a decision every parent and every citizen should be anxious to make — after a complete consideration of the facts.

Results: The more competent staff members of the state institutions are hired away by other colleges and universities or by private industry; fewer good teachers to teach more students in increasing crowded space.

Michigan farmers are faring at least as well as last year, is the indication as this year's crops ripen for harvest.

Unless ways can be found to finance sound education programs for those who want to attend college, today's high school student may not be able to become tomorrow's college student.

Strawberries did the best in many seasons, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The weather was just right to produce a large crop of this tasty fruit.

Pressure is still great at grade school level. Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of Public Instruction, recently pointed out that more than a million and a half youngsters are enrolled in public schools.

Raspberries did well too, especially when a large carry-over of frozen berries was on hand from last year.

Some 11,000 more classrooms are needed now; this despite the 4,130 which were built last year. By 1964

Grapes might be a problem. This year some 56,000 tons are expected. This compares with 48,000 tons last year. But the catch is the big New York crop which will offer competition.

Michigan apples will be on hand in somewhat fewer number than last year. About 10,200,000 bushels should be produced. But the crop will have a tougher competition than last year when much of the yield from western orchards was frozen out.

Peaches will amount to a 3,000,000 bushel commodity. This year's crop is expected to be especially tasty.

If Your Name Is 'Lucy'

BY ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.
Crowned in July of this year as Miss Universe in the International Pageant held in Long Beach, California, is Luz Marina Zuloaga, 19 year old beauty from Colombia, South America.
What sort of name is Luz? We recognize it as a popular favorite the moment we hear its English equivalent. It is "Lucy", and this is an appellation familiar to all of us.

Our First Man In Space

(This is the fourth chapter of five in which a noted U.S. expert on space science tells the story of America's first traveler in space and of the fantastically powerful vehicle that will take him there.)
BY MARTIN CAIDIN
(Written for United Press International. Copyright 1958 by UPI)
Capt. James T. Randall, USAF, our composite of the man who will make America's first manned flight into space, is more than an engineering test pilot.

flight stability of the special X-15 ejection seat, for bailing out at even 900 MPH in a normal seat would tear Randall to pieces. Randall, as he awaits the signal for takeoff into space, isn't thinking much about serious trouble in orbit, or at hypersonic speeds. If something goes wrong then — the flight will simply be marked a failure. No one bails out of anything at thousands of miles per hour. There wouldn't be enough left to pick up the pieces with a blotter.

He is a qualified aeronautical engineer and is assigned as the X-15 Project Officer. Thus from the early days of its inception, Randall has been a part of the closely-knit engineering and flight team that made the rocket-powered X-15 possible.

The X-15 has tiny wings. Most of its 60-foot length are fuel tanks to hold the fuel and liquid-oxygen which provide the tremendous power to reach orbiting velocity. The 60,000-pound thrust rocket gives little indication of its fantastic power. At 18,000 MPH it will generate nearly three million horsepower. That's the same as fifteen thousand cars each with a 200 horsepower engine, traveling at top speed!

Here Are Good Concert Records

NEW YORK (UPI) — It is Witold Malcuzyński's poor fortune that his recording of Tchaikovsky's B flat minor piano concerto appears at the same time as Van Cliburn's recording of the same.
One might suspect, a fierce close comparison of the two that Malcuzyński's performance is more Tchaikovskian and even more musical, but that view will never get far since the youthful Texan has made this piece his very own.

"Life Begins at Forty"

By ROBERT PETERSON
A LETTER FROM A READER asks, "How can you tell when a man has reached the age of retirement?"
This is a good question and instead of denouncing age 65 as the age of retirement it might be a good idea if more of us gave constructive thought to an alternative formula for determining when a man has reached that point in life when he should bid the time clock adieu.

'Graduation' at the Crippled Children's Day Camp

GRADUATION CERTIFICATES were bestowed on all Easter Seal day campers at a wind-up "Indian party" on the campsite "reservation" last week. Here James Trombley, nine-year-old son of the Raymond Trombleys, 40642 E. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, admires his, with Martin L. Kirchhoff of Plymouth and Mrs. Jane Devereaux, executive secretary of the Society, looking on. Mr. Kirchhoff is a member of the board of directors for the society.

Oh, what fun children from Livonia, Plymouth, Northville and Redford township had attending "Camp E-Se-Da-Ca" for the past four weeks.

That — spelled out — is Easter Seal Day Camp, sponsored by the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County and close to the heart of Plymouth's Rotary club.

The beautiful camp, located at 2545 Hyde Park Dr., Inkster, provided supervised camp activities for crippled children from the Western Wayne County area. Camp sessions began July 7 and ended August 1. Hours were from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Monday and Wednesday, Tuesday and Thursday groups.

Children from 4 to 12 years of age were offered normal camping experiences — they talked together, sang songs, listened, saw many things. They hiked on wheelchairs and crutches to the edge of the mowed grass, had "cook-outs" and gathered weeds to make centerpiece for these; split twigs for firewood; swam and waded at Wayne City recreation center, located at Annapolis and Howell Rd.

Each day the children brought their own sandwiches and were served a beverage, salad and dessert (always ice cream) with cookies or cake. On their final day the Camp had an Indian party at which all refreshments were provided by Day Camp personnel. Clever graduation certificates were given to all "campers" on the "reservation" by Mrs. Jane Devereaux, executive secretary, decked out in gay feathered Indian headdress. Mrs. Devereaux took over her office last November when Mrs. Herma Taylor of Plymouth, formerly the executive secretary, moved to Scotland where her husband was transferred by Burroughs.

For this wind-up affair, the children fashioned their own Indian jackets, whose titles were printed on their head-dresses. As Mrs. Devereaux explained the enthusiasm of these crippled children, "It's amazing how much they can and enjoy doing for themselves... did you notice the weird but wonderful colors with which they decorated their Indian jackets?"

The campers put on a special skit, a parody on "Minnehaha" before their parents and directors of the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County.

Directors from Plymouth present for these festivities were Martin L. Kirchhoff and Miss Neva Lovewell.

D. James Greiner, teacher at the special education department of Ecorse public school, served as camp director. Assisting were volunteer teen-agers from all the areas represented who helped make the camping experiences of these young children memorable.

Plymouth "campers" were James Trombley, nine years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Trombley, 40642 E. Ann Arbor Trail; and Mary Jane Kaiser, six years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kaiser, 15760 Haggerty.

Livonia area campers included Rhonda Smith, 10 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith, 30120 Orangelawn; Alice Wannacott, eight years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wannacott; Patricia Ceton, nine years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ceton, 9250 Merriman; and Charlotte Wren, six years old, daughter of the William Wrens, 27680 Joy.

Redford area young campers were Leonard McNeill, six years old, son of the L. Fay McNeills, 20407 Garfield; William Ault, 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Ault, 26776 Southwestern; Harold Fletke, nine years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fletke, 13111 Hemingway; Stephen Fournier, nine years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fournier, 18803 Delaware; Sharon Casagnette, nine years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Casagnette, 19965 Negaunee; Ronald Hunsaker, 10 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hunsaker, 19798 Seminole; and Michael McCloskey, six years old, son of the Bernard McCloskeys, 24810 Orangelawn.

SAND PILE fun for Easter Seal day camper Mary Jane Kaiser, six years old, left, was made more so with the assistance of her big sister, Karel Kaiser, 10, who accompanied her as helper during the four-week session just ended. They are the daughters of Plymouthites, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kaiser, 15760 Haggerty.

HOT WATER

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Milo Frank left work late one day at MGM and, noticing a new drive-in telephone, decided to try out the new gadget as well as let his wife, actress Sally Forrest, know he'd be late for dinner.

He won't do it again — at least not with the car radio going. Miss Forrest said it might have been the car radio but that it sounded like a juke box at the corner bar.

Men In Service

John M. Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Norman, 1069 N. Mill St., and James C. Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Caldwell, of 11429 Eastside Dr., graduated from recruit training Aug. 9 at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," will include a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

Army Pvt. Frank R. Barraco, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Barraco, 115 S. Mill St., recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Barraco was graduated from Plymouth High School in 1953 and was formerly employed by the General Motors Corp., in Livonia.

National Bank Begins Educational Loans

Educational loans, which make possible budgeting the costs of higher education, are being offered as a new service by National Bank of Detroit, Donald F. Valley, chairman of the board, announces.

Purpose of the program, which is known as the NBD College Education Plan, is to help parents finance college educations for their children, Valley said. Under it, the bank will advance payments over a contracted period to the school selected, to cover the cost of the student's major college expenses. The loan is repayable in monthly installments that may be spread over a period up to six years.

A parent, guardian, or other sponsor may use the plan to pay a student's college expenses in any accredited college or university for two, three, or four years. The funds may be used for tuition, room, board, books and other educational charges. Payments are made by the bank in lump sums directly to the school before the beginning of each semester.

NORTHVILLE Camper Edith Ellenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Veres, had plenty of attention from volunteer counselors for the day camp. From left, they are Don Earehart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Earehart of Northville; Tom McTigue, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McTigue of Farmington Township, and Dennis Cooper, son of Mrs. Wilma Hamlin of Northville.

IMPORT—From Italy comes revival of the Victorian era, called the "Vivaldi." It is a fawn-colored wool morning coat with classic mid-Victorian collar and rounded cuffs. Debonair Ascot-type top hat, reverse calf gloves and custom shoes together with a silk shirt complete the outfit. It was shown at Hess Brothers department store in Allentown, Pa.
