

GOP as Usual Here as Dems Sweep Nation

City Liquor Issue Fails By 79 Votes

Plymouth city's controversial liquor-by-the-glass referendum was defeated by a narrow margin Tuesday along with its proposal to appoint the county supervisor instead of electing him.

But city electors decided to give their commissioners a pay increase and Plymouth Township voters gave the township board the green light to proceed with expanding the township hall.

It was the liquor referendum that drew the heaviest interest and undoubtedly attracted hundreds to the polls who otherwise may have stayed home Tuesday.

It was defeated with 1,194 yes votes, 1,273 no votes — a margin of 79.

More Polio Shots Given Next Week

Another round of polio inoculations will be given at clinics starting next week in Plymouth with those receiving shots a month ago being urged to get their second ones.

A clinic will be held this Tuesday, Nov. 11 at the Plymouth Community Junior High School, scene of the first round last month. Hours again will be between 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

The second clinic will be Tuesday, Nov. 18, at the same place and during the same hours.

Last month there were 2,159 receiving shots at the two clinics.

Although cases of polio are declining, Wayne County Health Department authorities point out that a series of four shots is needed for maximum protection and that by the time the third shot is given six or seven months from now, another polio season will arrive.

There will be fewer polio protection centers set up for the second series. The second clinic is for those who received their first shot a month ago, their second shot six months ago, or their third shot a year ago. Those who have had no polio shots at all are also urged to attend the clinic.

There is a fee of $1 for each shot to carry on the low cost protection clinics.

In Precinct 1 & 2 (fire hall) and Precinct 4 (Bronson Building), the liquor issue won. But in the other three precincts it was defeated. Its biggest defeat came in Precinct 3 (high school) where it went down 127 votes.

The campaign during the past two months has been a hot one. The Plymouth Ministerial Association and some of its members led the opposition. Some churches ignored the issue altogether, some pointed out the issue and told its members to think for themselves, while other ministers took the matter to the pulpit.

Last Sunday children were sent door-to-door with a card stating that since the child was too young to vote no, the householder should vote for him. Stationed near the polls Tuesday were women handing out cards saying, "We are Plymouth mothers concerned for our youth" and urging a no vote.

The vote was much closer than six years ago when the referendum was defeated 1,795 to 966, almost 2-1.

Another close proposition was that of appointing the city's representative to the county board of supervisors. The present supervisor George Witkowski, fought the proposal that would change the job from an elective to an appointive position. It was defeated 1,025 yes, to 1,151 no — a margin of 126.

The city commission argued that the job should be held by someone within the city hall, making it more representative of the thinking of the commission. Witkowski replied that this would take away more power from the people and give it to the commission.

Gaining the largest margin of the three city proposals was the one asking for a pay increase for commissioners from $5 a meeting to $10. It was approved 1143 to 926 — a margin of 217.

The pay increase will not affect commissioners during their present terms. It will be given to any commissioners elected for the first time or re-elected starting next spring.

By a margin of 128, the township board was given support by voters to build an addition to the township hall.

FINISHING TOUCHES are being given the South Main St. project which opened to traffic last Friday night. This picture is a driver's eye view of the four lane street. Some utility poles still need to be removed by Michigan Bell to finish the sidewalk. Ann Arbor Trail, from Main to Harvey, has been completed for a week. Sheldon Rd., from Ann Arbor Trail to the railroad, has one lane open most of the way and should be completely open sometime next week. Curb and gutter are being installed in Hough Park Subdivision but pavement will not be laid until next spring.

Commission Puts Off Decision On Appealing Sheldon Rd. Case

It was on the agenda, but the matter of taking the Sheldon Road paving case to State Supreme Court was hastily tabled by the Plymouth City Commission.

A motion to table it was offered and seconded within a split second after the subject was introduced Monday night. "I believe we should table it here, pending arrival of the actual decision, then bring it up again at a special meeting," explained Robert Sincock. The vote to table was unanimous.

Circuit Court Judge Victor Baum last week ordered the city to remove special assessments against property owners on Sheldon.

In another action Monday night, the Commission confirmed the appointment of Marshall F. North, 444 Jener Place, to the Planning Commission. He fills a vacancy created by the resignation of Thomas Rossetti, the term expiring two years hence.

Cy Cooper to Head Chamber of Commerce

Insurance Agent Sy Cooper took over the presidency of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night with a promise of more activity, bigger promotions and an attempt to "put Plymouth on the map."

Cooper was introduced as the new president during the annual Chamber dinner meeting held at the high school last night. He succeeds Fred Van Dyke, also an insurance agent.

Cy Cooper

Cooper, who lives at 11691 Amherst Court, has been with the Equitable Life Insurance Society of New York here for five years and maintains an office in the Penobscot Building as well as in Plymouth.

He was with the accounting department of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company 16 years. Cooper is also on the advisory board of the Salvation Army and is a member of First Presbyterian Church. He is married and has one daughter.

The new Chamber president stated that he hopes to have the Chamber work more closely with industry in the area as well as plan bigger promotions for the merchants. "We've got to build up Plymouth by putting it on the map," Cooper asserted. He also expects Chamber members to take a more active interest in state and national affairs.

Three new directors have been elected to the board. They are William Sempliner, Carl Shear and Dr. Gerald Fitch.

On the board with the three new members and Cooper are: Earl West, first vice-president; Charles Stofko, second vice-president; Roland Bonamici, treasurer; George Witkowski, secretary; Hugh Griffin, Wendell Lent, Paul Chandler, James Taylor and Fred Van Dyke.

Leaving the board this year are Robert Beyer, Carl Peterson and Frank Allison.

ings at Ann Arbor Road and Main Street, where there is no sewer service currently. He also was authorized to install a sidewalk at Ann Arbor Trail and Harvey at a total cost to the city of $200 (with a resident paying $100) and to lower the level of a water main on Sheldon Rd.

Bloodmobile Visiting Plymouth Friday

One week remains to sign up for giving blood when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits here Friday, Nov. 14.

The Plymouth Masonic Temple will again be the site of the Bloodmobile visit from 2:45 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. The visit is being sponsored by the Couple's Club of First Methodist Church of which Mr. and Mrs. Owen C. McKenny, 11786 Turkey Run, are president.

Members of the local Red Cross branch, with Mrs. H. R. Penhale, blood program chairman, are cooperating to recruit blood donors and will assist the professional staff during the operation of the Bloodmobile.

Mrs. Penhale states that the Bloodmobile will be open to persons between 21 and 59 years of age who are in good health, and weigh at least 110 pounds. Young people between 18 and 21 may be donors with parental consent or without if married or members of the armed forces.

A PROCESSION of nearly 300 cars followed the hearse carrying the body of Edward Cardinal Mooney from Blessed Sacrament Cathedral in Detroit to St. John's Seminary in Plymouth Township last Friday. Shown is some of the crowd as the casket is about to be taken into the seminary where it will be lowered into a crypt below a basement chapel.

Eaton, Judge Sexton Lose Jobs; Swainson Climbs State Ladder

In contrast to strong Democratic movements all around, Plymouth and Plymouth Township maintained their traditional Republican nature in the elections Tuesday, but this still failed to save two native sons from defeat.

State Representative Sterling Eaton and Probate Judge James Sexton, both incumbents, were losers.

John Swainson of Plymouth, however, was successful in his bid to become the lieutenant governor of Michigan on the Democratic ticket.

Plymouth Man Is Loser At Lions Game

It's people like Robert Davis, 263 West Ann Arbor Trail, who make police detective work a little easier. He committed a crime that has been the downfall of many predecessors and he is now in Oakland County jail awaiting examination November 7.

Davis, 37, stole 16 Detroit Lions season ticket books and some $600 in cash from the American Screw Products Co. on Nine Mile Road in Farmington four weeks ago. The tickets and money were taken from a safe.

According to Plymouth police, Davis gave the tickets to a woman friend to sell and she got rid of four of the books here. At the Lions' football game three Sundays ago, Farmington police checked the occupants of the seats at Briggs Stadium and found four of them occupied. Questioning of the occupants led police to the seller and to Davis whose home was searched by police after his arrest last week by Plymouth police. Four books of tickets were found in a basement room, and six books beneath the floor mat in the trunk of his car. The money was not located, but State police say they have found Davis' fingerprints on the safe.

Davis has been convicted on previous charges of breaking and entering and is now on probation for a Washtenaw County theft.

Chamber Sponsors Pancake Feed

Saturday will be Pancake and Sausage Day in Plymouth and the place to have the two items served up in professional style will be at the Masonic Temple where the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce will be sponsoring a pancake feed.

The event will start at 11 a.m. and will end at 2 p.m. (It had previously been scheduled from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.) Proceeds will be used to finance the many activities of the Chamber.

Tickets costing $1 for adults and 50 cents for children are available at most stores, at the Chamber office and at the door.

As a result of the elections, all the men who will go to Lansing and Washington to represent this district will be Democrats — State Rep. Harvey Beadle of Redford Township; State Senator Ray Dzendzel of Detroit; Congresswoman Martha Griffiths of Detroit; U.S. Senator Phil Hart of Detroit.

Beadle, a Redford Township trustee and realtor, reversed his 1956 loss to Eaton, winning this time by 3,649 votes to seize the seat in the State Legislature. Beadle polled 24,738, Eaton 21,089.

Dzendzel rode the Democratic wave to a fairly easy victory over Weldon Yeager for State Senator, 86,054 to 68,953.

And Hart led the entire Democratic ticket in Michigan. Mrs. Griffiths defeated Republican Lucas Miel by about 39,000 votes in the 17th Congressional District. She is the incumbent.

The GOP slice of the vote in both Plymouth and Plymouth Township was in the area of 61-64 percent, a figure almost identical to that of 1956, when Eisenhower was running for President.

One factor in Eaton's loss this time was a switch in neighboring Livonia, where for the first time the city nudged into the Democratic column. Eaton won in Livonia by 1,300 votes in 1956, but this year he lost there by 475. That, combined with the stout Democratic showing in Redford Township was enough to reverse the previous decision.

Livonia gave slender support to every Democrat on the ticket, the first time that's ever happened there.

Sexton's upset by a tiny 1,800 difference in votes, can be traced straight to the presence of a deceiving name candidate on the Probate ballot. The "name" was Kaufman, but it wasn't the Juvenile Court Kaufman many voters thought it was.

Coming after 35 years of dedicated and meritorious service in the Court, Sexton's defeat will sadden a multitude of his friends and supporters in the Plymouth area. Northville followed its past pattern, about 62 percent Republican.

Democrats swept the entire County ticket, with no help from Plymouth, of course.

Plymouth joined with the majority, however, in dumping a pair of County propositions to create a Port of Detroit at public expense; and also to whip a request for millage to pay off County welfare debts.

Junior High School Art Competition Spotlights National Book Week Here

Book Week being celebrated this week (Nov. 28) was spotlighted Friday afternoon at Plymouth Community Junior High School library when young winners of an art competition contest were revealed by Mrs. Agnes Pauline, head librarian at the Dunning-Hough Library.

A panel of distinguished judges had selected Leonard Cole, first prize winner, for a diorama, with award of a $5 book gift choice; Marcia Livingston, for her mobile, with $3 book gift; and David Schmidt, third prize, for his poster, with a $2 book gift.

Witnessing the brief award ceremony were members of the Library Club of the junior high school who had promoted Book Week and sponsored the art contest.

Mrs. Pauline, dressed in a smart navy blue suit, complimented all the young people who had entered the contest to promote the week's slogan, "Explore with Books."

Judges were Joseph DeLauro, sculptor and professor of art, Marygrove College; Sam Puc'ic, instructor in drawing and painting, School of the Society of Arts and Crafts; Herbert Mutschler, head of public services, Wayne County Library System; Byron Becker, architect, of Wheeler and Becker, designers of the new Dunning-Hough library; and Mrs. L. Dean Schmigjocke, a 1st teacher at Ann Arbor High School, member of the Tri-City Art Club.

Judges also recognized as outstanding the work of Gerry Wallace, fourth place; David Jensen, fifth place; Douglas Sutherland, sixth place; and Larry Campbell, seventh place. Honorable mentions went to Marcile Curtis, Bill West, Karen Rudloff, Kitt Ashmun and Susan Robinson.

Prize winning and other top entries are on exhibit during Book Week at Dunning-Hough local library, and then will go on a tour to other branch libraries of the Wayne County System.

All other posters and projects done by the Junior High School students will be displayed all this week throughout the school building.

Mrs. Bertha Greene, librarian of the Junior High, is the originator and sponsor of the Library club.

"Santa's Work Shop" preparing for St. John's Nov. 20 Bazaar

"Santa's Work Shop" has been busy at St. John's Episcopal church, Plymouth, planning for an annual Christmas Bazaar to be Thursday, Nov. 20, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Robert Utter is general chairman of the event to be staged in the church hall.

The bazaar will feature all sorts of booths stocked with items of interest. Among these will be pretty gifts for young purchasers, aprons for all occasions, knitted articles, sweaters for the sweet, unusual candle holders, Christmas cards, religious articles, grab bags, baked goods (pies, cakes, breads, rolls) and a pantry shelf boasting home canned pickles, jams and jellies.

Shoppers will enjoy the tea room where they can pause to have a snack. Sponsors are urging all to come and see what they have prepared to help shorten Christmas shopping.

Mrs. Eda Jewell Celebrates 98th Birthday Nov. 4

Mrs. Eda Jewell, one of the oldest living life-long residents of Plymouth, celebrated her 98th birthday Tuesday, Nov. 4, seriously ill in bed for the first time.

She has been living with her son, Stephen Jewell, at 373 N. Mill St., for several years. Her own former home was on Harvey.

Mrs. Jewell always recalled with pleasure that she had been born on the election day when Abraham Lincoln won at the polls. It had been her habit to amuse her family by responding to a birthday greeting each November 4 by saying "Hurray for Lincoln!" She has been bed-ridden and considered "very low" for the past four weeks. In addition to Steve Jewell, she has two other living sons. They are Homer Jewell and Glen Jewell of Mecosta. Her other son, Lee Jewell, succumbed several weeks ago.

Miss Beverly Stace

MR. AND MRS. Alvin Stace, 9244 Corinne, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly, to James Redd. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Redd, 9001 Oxbow, Livonia. The couple will be married Nov. 21 in Covenant Community Church, Redford. The bride-to-be is a Plymouth High School graduate, class of '55.

All Plymouth Nurses Invited To Tea Event

All graduate nurses, active or inactive, living in the Plymouth school district are invited and urged to come to a tea on Saturday, Nov. 8, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Westover, 1405 W. Maple St.

This is to acquaint the nurses with each other and to discuss civil defense and national disaster needs of our community.

Nurses planning to attend are asked to call Mrs. Virgil Joseph at GL 3-7507, or Mrs. Don Urquhart at GL 3-2521.

Presbyterian Women Schedule Principal At Training School

Women's Association of First Presbyterian church will hear Mrs. M. E. Douglas, principal at the Wayne County Training school, when they meet Nov. 12 for luncheon and program at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Douglas will tell about the activities and program of the school.

Reservations should be made for the luncheon by Monday noon, Nov. 10, with Mrs. Lauren Wells, at GL 3-2785, or Mrs. Marvin Sackett, at GL 3-4985.

Joan Patterson Weds Mr. Carleton Bowling

Bridal robes of white lace and net were donned by pretty Miss Joan Patterson of Livonia for her October 25 nuptial ceremony with Carleton Bowling of Plymouth.

The blonde bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Patterson, 34367 Capitol Dr., Livonia, was chosen "Miss Siren of 1958" in a contest sponsored by the Livonia Fire Department last spring. She exchanged vows with the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bowling, 404 Irving, Plymouth, in a 6:30 p.m. service in First Baptist Church, Rev. David Rieder officiated.

Joan's white Bible was topped by white orchids. Miss Joyce Bowling, sister of the bridegroom, was maid, frocked in shrimp chiffon. She had a white orchid.

Little Rita Bowling, another sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl, wearing a green nylon dress and carrying white chrysanthemums.

Bill Bowling, Jr., served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Boonie Cranford and Russel Pyle.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Patterson wore a beige lace dress with brown accessories. Mrs. Bowling was attired in a red wool dress with black accessories for her son's wedding.

The newlyweds greeted 100 guests at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. Guests were from Plymouth, Wayne, Livonia, and Ohio.

To travel on a wedding trip to Indiana, Joan changed to a red and gray wool dress with black accessories. The couple is at home at 44670 Joy Rd., Little Rita Bowling, another Plymouth.

Adele Griffens Honored On Eve of Florida Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Renwick of Wayne surprised Mrs. Renwick's grandmother and grandfather with a family buffet dinner last Sunday evening.

The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Adele Griffen, were leaving Tuesday, Nov. 4, for Tampa, Fla., to spend the winter months.

Families present were Mr. and Mrs. Burton Zander, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zander, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Zander, and Mrs. Gladys Wheeler and their children's families. Unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zander and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Zander. A total of 27 children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were present and an enjoyable time was had by all.

November Set Aside For Religion in Life

It is indeed fitting that November has been set aside as Religion in American Life Month.

For it is during this holiday season that we are able to enjoy those rare moments that we miss during the rest of the year — time to think and count our blessings.

The renewed faith that we build now can provide a stepping stone to a stronger, richer life the year around — if it is encouraged and allowed to grow. We can find the strength for our lives by worshipping together in our faith this week.

The following is the inscription on the Plymouth Rock monument: It has been a challenge to every generation of Americans and rings as true today as it did in 1620.

This spot marks the final resting place of the Pilgrims of the Mayflower. In weariness and hunger and in cold, fighting the wilderness and burying their dead in common graves that the Indians should not know how many had perished, they here laid the foundations of a state in which all men for countless ages should have liberty to worship God in their own way. All you who pass by and see this stone remember, and dedicate yourselves anew to the resolution that you will not rest until this lofty ideal shall have been realized throughout the earth.

The non-sectarian Religion in American Life program stresses this freedom by urging us to worship regularly at the church or synagogue of our choice.

Detroit News Editor To Address Club

The regular monthly meeting of Plymouth branch, Woman's Farm and Garden club, will be held at the Dunning-Hough library Monday, Nov. 10, at 1 p.m.

Featured speaker of the day will be Mrs. Ruth Mosher Place, garden editor of The Detroit News.

Each club member is urged to attend and to bring a guest.

600 at Polls In Salem Twp.

There were an even 600 voters at the polls Tuesday in Salem Township with the traditional Republican area still giving the majority to the GOP despite nationwide swing to the Democrats.

Voters approved the state constitutional convention, 205 to 191; disapproved the tax increase proposition to finance the jail, 191 to 208; and disapproved the construction of the jail, 155 to 193.

These are the results in Salem for the top offices:

Governor: Williams 226, Bagwell 369

Gov. Representative: Swainson (D) 229, Brown (R) 350.

U.S. Senator: Hart (D) 235, Potter (R) 348

U.S. Representative: Hall (D) 230, Meader (R) 349.

State Senator: Law (D) 231, Christman (R) 345.

State Representative: Hodosh (D) 226, Sallade (R) 349.

Voters also gave margins of around 140 votes to all Republican candidates for county offices.

Mason, K of C Have Friendship Dinner

Ever since 1950, Plymouth's Masons and Knights of Columbus have been getting together once a year for a Friendship Dinner.

The Ninth Annual Friendship dinner took place Oct. 27 at the Masonic Temple with the Order of Eastern Star serving a country style ham dinner.

There were about 200 members present from the Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. & A.M., and Plymouth Council No. 3292, Knights of Columbus.

Following his presentation by Past Master Harry Gerst, district deputy instructor, Past Master Walter Gregory introduced the two leaders of the two organizations; Grand Knight Richard Varga, and Worshipful Master Arnoldt Williams, who in turn introduced their respective officers.

Past Master W. J. Livingston delivered the welcome address with the response given by Past Grand Knight and Former District Deputy, Roland Francis. The two major addresses were delivered by Francis M. Dodge, a Past Master and Past Grand Master of Masons in Michigan, and Frank Parker, Third Degree Knights of Columbus. The Friendship Dinner, which started in 1950, are sponsored in alternate years by the two organizations. This year's host was the Plymouth Rock Lodge. Following the dinner and program, the Masons and Knights adjourned to the Knights of Columbus Hall on Union St. for the balance of the evening's program.

Norma Heyde Giving Recital At Dunning - Hough Library

Norma Heyde will be soloist at a recital given Friday, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. in Dunning-Hough Library.

The Board of the Plymouth Symphony Society will present the recital as an experiment.

In an attempt to present top-flight soloists with the Symphony, the Board is also giving soloists a chance to perform in a recital in addition to the concert. The recital will feature the soloist in many different types of music and also one portion of the work in which the artist will star at the regular concert.

Mrs. Heyde has long been a favorite of the music-loving public in the Plymouth-Ann Arbor-Livonia area. Before moving to Delaware, Mrs. Heyde was a student and a teacher at the University of Michigan and the operatic lead in many productions at the University.

She was a featured soloist in the May Festival, singing with the Philadelphia Symphony under Eugene Ormandy.

She has also sung at the Mozarteum in Salzburg, Germany, and is currently a student of Rosa Ponselle. At this recital she will be assisted at the piano by Mrs. Ava Case, a member of the piano faculty at the University of Michigan.

Program of the recital will be varied in both period of music and type of music. Mrs. Heyde will sing Mozart's "Exsultate Zubilate," (which ends with a familiar Alleluia), German Leier, French and English songs, and an aria from the major work of the Sunday concert, Debussy's "Le Enfant Prodigue."

Tickets for the recital will cost one dollar a person. They are available in Plymouth at Caplin's, Cassady's, and may be purchased at the door the night of the program. We hope many people in the area will take advantage of this opportunity to hear outstanding vocal music by a well-known local personality.

Mrs. Nicholls

Maj. Nicholls Retires from Salvation Army Service

After 37 years in the service of the Salvation Army, Senior Major and Mrs. Harliff J. Nicholls will be retired this weekend with a series of services and ceremonies.

Since October 1953, Major and Mrs. Nicholls have headed the Plymouth Citadel. They will leave Plymouth next Tuesday for Beloit, Wisconsin where they intend to spend their years of retirement.

A Retirement Service will take place at the Citadel this Friday at 7:30 p.m. led by Lt. Colonel and Mrs. Clyde Cox, divisional commanders. Major and Mrs. William Rautz and other officers in the area will also attend the public service.

This Sunday Major Nicholls will deliver his farewell sermon and on Monday he and Mrs. Nicholls will be honored with a farewell dinner by the Advisory Board, a group of local citizens who help administer Salvation Army affairs.

Frank Henderson is current chairman.

Major and Mrs. Nicholls have held 16 appointments in five states during their 37 years in the Army. They include Wisconsin, Missouri, North Dakota, Minnesota and Michigan.

Before coming to Plymouth, they headed the Red Shield Servicemen's Club at the Werts Smith Air Force Base, near Oscoda for two years. They are natives of Ironwood, Mich.

Retirement in the Salvation is compulsory at the age of 65. No word has been received here concerning a replacement.

Major and Mrs. Nicholls have three of their five children living near Beloit, a place where they once served two years. Their children are Wesley of Beloit; William, serving in the Air Force in England; Mrs. Joseph Livingston of Janesville, Wis.; Mrs. Richard Reme of Edgerton, Wis.; and Mrs. David Peyton, wife of Senior Captain Peyton, head of the Detroit Citadel.

Major Nicholls has been a member of Plymouth Rotary and the Plymouth Ministerial Association.

Automation Links First Federal with Main Office

A unique 3-way "electronic chain" of equipment that actually "automates" automation has been put into operation at First Federal Savings of Detroit, reports Perry W. Richwine, Vice President and branch manager of First Federal's Plymouth branch.

This is the country's first hook-up of electronic National Window Posting Machines, Univac and Teletype. The new system, which is operating at some First Federal offices and will be effective at all 11 offices the end of this year, makes it possible to enter hundreds of savings additions and withdrawals electronically at a branch office 20 miles from headquarters, and report them simultaneously on teletype tape at First Federal's headquarters on Griswold at Lafayette. These transactions are then processed by Univac, which performs all bookkeeping and accounting work electronically, in an incredibly short time.

Simultaneously, a punched paper tape recorder located next to the window posting machine punches, on a narrow strip of paper tape, a record of each transaction in code, which is then transmitted electronically to the machine accounting room at First Federal's main office, by teletype. Then this information is fed into Univac, the famous "electronic brain," which performs all bookkeeping and accounting work in an incredibly short time.

Since branch office transactions are, by this system, almost immediately reported to the main office, it will soon be possible for a savings customer to make savings additions or withdrawals at any of 11 First Federal offices, no matter which office has his or her savings account. The almost incredible speed of this new 3-way "electronic chain" reduces waiting time for customers, even on busiest days.

Entries in the savings passbook are clear, easy to read, and machine printed with complete, fool proof accuracy.

The electronic installation will reduce by 9% the time required to issue money orders, and will greatly speed up the payment of utility bills.

The new electronic hook-up which involves an investment of more than $750,000.00, will handle all types of transactions including mortgage payments for more than 200,000 First Federal customers of all types.

A NEW CHARTER for the Plymouth Democratic Club was presented to its president, Charles Root, Jr., left, by Governor G. Mennen Williams when the governor visited here for a rally last Thursday night. In center is Alfred Meyers, chairman of the 17th District Democrats. There were 140 people at the rally to hear Senator John Swainson, Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, Secretary of State James Hare, Lt. Governor Phil Hart, Gov. Williams and others.

Children—Yours—Can Be Fun Says Michigan State Experts

Do you sometimes dream of a blissful future when nobody drags the spread off the bed to make a hide-out? Maybe you should relax and enjoy it.

Ben Ard, Michigan State University Extension Specialist in Child Development, recently suggested several things which parents could do in order to make home a happier place for both parents and children.

- (1) Realize that obedience need not be the prime requisite in parent-child relations.
- (2) Have a good sense of humor. See the funny side of a child's behavior. Laugh with children.
- (3) Expect the unexpected! Spontaneity is one of the refreshing things about children.
- (4) Share with children their freshness of appreciation.
- (5) Cultivate the art of listening and communicating with children.

Children grow up fast, cautions Mr. Ard, and the time to enjoy children is while they are young and still at home.

The MAIL Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

One election conclusion is that the citizens moving into the western suburbs from Detroit are more Democratic than Republican.

Livonia was the particular spot in our area which caught my eye in Tuesday's election. For the first time in the history of that City, the voters nudged every Democratic candidate into a majority.

The margins were slim (for example, 7294 for Harvey Beadle (D) to 6829 for Sterling Eaton (R) but they went right down the ticket.

Livonia had more than 14,000 voters out this year, a heavy turnout. There are about 3,000-4,000 more registered Livonia voters than there were two years ago.

And it was the new people who made the change.

Redford Township, with much of a similar residential climate as Livonia, felt the suburban surge earlier. It broke into the Democratic column about four years ago and has enlarged the trend.

Plymouth and Plymouth Township, by contrast, have been touched only lightly so far by "suburbia" influences. And both maintained their traditional 62 percent GOP vote this week.

It is probable that the Democrats have worked more diligently than the Republicans at organizing the newcomers down in the precincts. That explains some of the trend. But it is more significant that suburbanites came in with pre-conceived Democratic ideas.

There'll be thousands more new residents move into our area in the next few years. This week's election results thus should contain an important lesson for future party organizers.

Meanwhile, every State and U.S. legislator from our district now is a Democrat.

The proposal to legalize liquor by the glass in Plymouth failed by 79 votes, of a total of 2,467 which were cast, to win a majority. It carried in three of five precincts, lost another by only 19 votes, with the entire decision being wrought in the third precinct, where it was repulsed, 400 to 273. The third precinct casts its votes at the high school.

Percentage-wise, 48.5 voted for a change and 51.5 voted no. The last time the matter was on the ballot, 41.3 percent voted to change. The time before that it was a mere 29 percent.

It has been our opinion throughout that nothing practical was involved in the election, only philosophy. Whichever way the vote had gone, it would have meant nothing to any average citizen's daily life. The present regulation is a technical thing which has virtually no effect whatever on the state of drinking here.

The Plymouth Mail did want the subject brought into the open, discussed freely and plainly, and not handled on the basis of blind prejudice or fuzzy theology. That was accomplished, we believe, and the people knew upon what they were voting. It was a frank, open, large election.

One memory remains which is not pleasant. That was the flurry of late activity by persons who remained anonymous, spent funds from unspecified sources, and used children, teen-agers, and women to distribute literature based entirely on maudlin emotion to urge a "No" vote.

Part of the parcel was an ad in our paper last week which cynically offered half-truths to create an impression.

I doubt seriously if the tactics impressed average voters. The devices were too transparent. But the willingness of well-meaning people to use the "end justifies the means" kind of political trick is something all too typical of a disease in our society, nation-wide.

And it's not the people who were used (including children) who disturb us; it's those who used them.

"Vote No for Me," said the cards which the tots passed door to door. I hope their elders bother to tell the kids how the election came out.

There is another blue note to sound as the result of Tuesday.

Probate Judge Jim Sexton of Plymouth has been an honorable, respected public servant in his present work for the past 35 years. He has lived a simple, dedicated family life. His friends are countless and they are close to him.

Well, Jim lost Tuesday by 1,800 votes, just a hairline in the big County total. He lost to a man named "Kaufman," who sounds like somebody else. This was not the Judge Kaufman of juvenile court, but thousands of voters didn't know the difference.

It's one of those bitter, unfair things which make elections treacherous, and on occasion, a mockery of the democracy they are intended to sustain.

WITH ELEPHANTS decorating their blouses and skirts, there was no doubt about which political party these young ladies were boosting. They appeared at the

John Welscher Named New Boy Scout Community Commissioner for Area

John Welscher

A new community commissioner has been appointed to serve scouting in the Plymouth-Canton area. G. Harold Wiegand, district commissioner, has named John Welscher to fill this vacancy. Mr. Wiegand has felt the need for something to further support the good work of the scouters and units in this area by making available all the scouting advantages of his staff.

John Welscher has had his experience in scouting back in Livingston, N. J., where he served as a scoutmaster for four years and as a District committeeman and instructor of adult training.

He states that his objective is to have all units receive his support on an area-wide basis and of the commissioner's staff to make available more and better scouting for every boy in the area. To accomplish this, it will be his responsibility to recruit a staff of neighborhood commissioners to fill that administrative gap in scouting between the sponsoring institutions and their scout units and the Detroit Area Council. His first meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 11, at which time a selected number of scouters will be invited to get acquainted and plan a program to achieve these objectives.

J-A Making Wide Range Of Products

A wide variety of consumer products are being manufactured by Plymouth Junior Achievement companies this year including foam rubber sofa pillows complete with high school colors and insignia.

Junior Achievement's eight month program of economic education started this year on October 6. Since then eight Plymouth JA companies have been formed to give local boys and girls between 15 and 21 the opportunity to learn all phases of business through the operation of their own miniature businesses.

The junior firms, for the most part, are still working out assembly line problems while a few have been delayed by inavailability of raw materials. Most companies will rely on door-to-door sales but a few are hoping to negotiate big wholesale deals.

Among the products manufactured by this year's JA companies here in Plymouth will be: electric extension cords (Exten-Co Company, counselled by the Burroughs Corporation, Plymouth Division); colored holiday candles (JA Multicraft Co., counselled by Evans Products); all-purpose table (Bentmouth Co., counselled by Whitman & Barnes); metal hot plates or pads (Future Unlimited Company, counselled by Ford Motor Company); magnetic memo boards (Jamco Company, counselled by Burroughs Corporation, Plymouth Division).

Plastic telephone and pen sets, wooden salt and pepper shakers and wooden flower pots made to order all being produced by the Ump-teen Products Company, counselled by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company; natural stone jewelry (Jem-JA Company, counselled by the Ford Motor Company); and foam rubber pillows with high school insignia and colors (JA Pillow Company, counselled by the Burroughs Corporation, Plymouth Division).

Manufacturing products which will be competitively priced is but one phase of the over-all business picture. Achievers experience in the "learn by doing" teenage organization.

Minerva's Undergoes Expansion Program; Sale Begins Today

Minerva's Apparel, located at 857 Penniman, has been expanded in the last three weeks to make the store more spacious for customers.

In connection with this expansion program, a sale begins today (Thursday). Minerva and Herbert J. Chaiken, owners of the business, have no moving plans, as has recently been rumored. They have enlarged the space of their store by moving the marking department into the basement. There is now a rear entrance, providing customers with easy access from the parking lot. Also, they have added additional fitting rooms on the first floor.

'Dog House' Is New Snack Bar Business

A new snack bar recently opened at 284 S. Main St., next to Fisher's Shoes, is "The Dog House." Operating this business are John and Emily Guettler, owners of the DAIRY FREEZ, located next to the A&P on Ann Arbor Rd. "The Dog House" specializes in counter and take-out service. Hours are from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

It's Violin vs. Tape In Huge Hi-Fi Show

A unique demonstration—first ever in the Detroit area—will highlight activities of the second annual Detroit High Fidelity show, which opens a three-day run Friday, Nov. 7, in the Detroit Leland Hotel under the sponsorship of the Electronic Representatives, Inc. of Michigan.

The Electronics Representatives, Inc. includes most of the manufacturers' representatives in Michigan. The Association is staging the three-day event to exhibit all the newest in the high fidelity field.

But one feature which is expected to attract more attention and comment than any other will be the demonstration of a tape recording of the internationally famed violinist David Rubinoff as contrasted with the actual playing by the artist.

The purpose of high fidelity is to give the impression that the orchestra or artist is right in your living room. The purpose of the demonstration will be to prove the point.

Rubinoff, who will give several concerts on Sunday, final day of the exhibition, will play several numbers and then the tape will be turned on so that the audience can determine for themselves whether there is a difference in the quality of the music.

delity owners in Detroit and surrounding areas an opportunity to personally view and meet the famed violinist and also to inspect and hear some of the finest component sets ever assembled in the city.

The show will be open daily from noon until 10 p.m. and show officials anticipate a total attendance of more than 25,000 for the three days.

and are keeping plenty of dressings on the shelves of the local office. The monthly report also shows money donations amounting to $62.50.

Topic for the discussion will include all phases of public service. A buffet luncheon will be served. Reservations may be made by calling the local Cancer Society office, Mrs. H.J. Brisbois, or Mrs. Harry Bartel, before noon on Saturday, Nov. 8.

Films were shown to approximately 40 women at Our Lady of Good Counsel Hall with Dr. Willard Denhauser as consultant and to 60 women at the Methodist Church with Dr. Walter Hammond as consultant during October. The Board has discussed plans for an afternoon showing at a local theater some time after the first of the year.

A progress report shows that 1025 dressings were released to patients during September. Because of the lull during the summer months and the lack of supplies, only 480 dressings were made during the same period. However, many Cancer sewing groups have reorganized

Commission Complimented, Criticized In Sheldon Road Court Suit Opinion

While city commissioners are still undecided if they should appeal the decision rendered last week against the city by a group of Sheldon Road citizens, the court's opinion was received by attorneys this week. The 25-page opinion was given by Circuit Judge Victor Baum. He delivered it from the bench on Tuesday of last week during an hour and a half session and it took until Friday for transcripts to be prepared. His finding, in favor of the plaintiffs, followed a week of testimony that included city commissioners themselves as witnesses for the plaintiffs. The case was filed after the commission decided to assess residential property owners along with commercial properties for widening and paving Sheldon Road, from Ann Arbor Trail to the railroad.

Judge Baum had one paragraph of praise for the commissioners, stating that evidence demonstrates that there was no intentional or conscious wrong-doing of any sort on the part of the commissioners. "On the contrary, the evidence demonstrates that these men acted honestly and in the very best of faith. "While it is no part of this decision... I think these commissioners are to be highly commended on giving their time not adequately compensated to their community."

But in the same page, Judge Baum declares that "It seems to me that no reasonable person or body could have concluded that the conversion of a two-lane rural blacktop road, in a high-class residential district, to a four lane concrete highway would result in a net benefit to the residential properties abutting it."

The judge points out that the project will diminish rather than enhance the value of the residential property. He then tries to point out "how a group of commissioners, acting honestly and in good faith, and being quite apparently intelligent men, go as wrong as they did."

He states that commissioners relied on their city manager and the manager in turn relied on an old and well-established formula. This formula assessed residential property owners on the basis of a roadway suitable for carrying residential traffic and business property in proportion to the cost of building a roadway suitable for handling commercial traffic. The idea that road improvements automatically carry with them a special benefit to property may have been true once, Judge Baum said, when the dirt road was originally paved. But one cannot say the same about the widening of a road in a residential district and its repavement when the pre-existing impervious hard surface was amply adequate for abutting owners.

Judge Baum rules out the city's arguments that dust control, ditch elimination and safety were satisfactory reasons for the construction program. "I am convinced that no improvement would have been undertaken at this time were it not for the needs of Western Electric," he declared. (It was after Western Electric found out that it could not use the light pavement for heavy trucks that the city attempted to find an alternate route, and finally decided to install a heavier pavement.) The judge also dealt with the Masserman Springdale Subdivision on the west side of Sheldon whose 12 lots were exempt from special assessment. The city claimed that since the subdivider had dedicated 60 feet along the road to public use and built a service road of their own, they should not be assessed. Judge Baum says that he is not sure that the lots should have been included in the special assessment because they, like lots across the street, received no special benefit. In conclusion, the judge states that the improvement invites additional traffic in terms of the number of vehicles and tonnage carried. "In fact, with respect to the latter, the public improvement really amounts to an engraved invitation, so to speak, to maximum load trucks." He will submit an order cancelling collection of the assessments and no court costs are to be taxed.

Community Fund $13,000 From Goal

Plymouth's Community Fund campaign hit a serious lull during the past week with only $2,807 being reported since a week ago bringing the fund up to 60 per cent of its goal. Fund Treasurer John Pint yesterday reported $20,257 turned in so far with the largest check during the past week being a $500 donation from Kroger Co. and its employees.

Community Fund Board President Thomas Rossette declared this week that while the chances of achieving the goal look slimmer this year than ever before, the goal can be reached if everyone does his part.

Plymouth's business solicitations are lagging the most serious with but a handful of the group making contributions. The board is expected to again ask service clubs to make a personal call upon businessmen as during past years. While most all of the large industrial donations are already reported, employee contributions from most of these same industries are not yet in. This remains as the one bright spot in the picture. The following are contributions of $10 or more reported during the past week. Those not wishing their contributions published can so request on their pledge card.

Contractor Comments on Difficulty in Bidding

Does a governing body have the right to take "higher bids" to keep the business within its local limits? Plymouth's City Commission pondered the matter briefly Monday night as the result of the reading of a letter from J. D. McLaren of McLaren Company.

The letter pleaded with the City to require that "materials must be purchased locally" as a means to get more of the City's work into local hands. Several commissioners informally declared that "they never could vote for a restriction like that, with Marvin Terry saying, "if taxpayers have to pay more simply so we can buy locally, it's not fair to taxpayers."

McLaren's letter: Gentlemen: We don't think that anyone who has ever served on the Plymouth City Commission could accuse us of having played politics with them. Nor are we doing so now. However, we have simply "hung around" these past several years and watched hundreds of thousands of dollars spent for streets, alleys, schools, etc. and the amount of business we or anyone else in Plymouth has received has been very small indeed.

We can't believe that as council members you gentlemen have given this fact much thought. But if the situation were reversed, and we sat on the council and you in our position, what would you do? You might say to us "go after the business." This we have done. But in most cases the out-of-town contractor has his own supplier and in many cases are literally tied to them. With this situation we have little or no chance. So we go merrily along paying taxes, special assessments, etc., and the other fellows who contribute nothing tax-wise, get the gravy.

As stated publicly to you, we ask only that we be allowed to compete on an equal basis. We don't feel that we can get more for our product than the other fellow, but on an equal basis we do feel we are entitled to some business. We feel that the City Commission has the power to so write into its bid specifications that materials must be purchased locally. As the only ready-mix plant in the city proper such specifications should help us.

On all other materials we do not expect or want other than fair and equal treatment with the other dealers in Plymouth. It should be possible for all dealers to grow with the city and share with major and profitable improvements. Will you please give us an answer and we will take it from there?

Yours very truly, J. D. McLaren, McLAREN COMPANY

GOP as Usual

(Continued from Page 1) Plymouth handled all Republican candidates, from Paul Bagwell, Charles Potter, and down, in about the same way, giving them 62 or 63 percent of the total vote.

It was a big election for an "off year," a total of 2,802 voting in the city and 1,843 in the township. The strong city vote could be attributed heavily to the liquor referendum that attracted many to the polls. While the figures don't compare with the vote two years ago, a presidential election, it surpasses the statewide election of four years ago.

In the city women outvoted men 1,416 to 1,386, while in the township there were 974 men voting and 869 women.

The city's five polling places had small lines of people much of the day. This was due to both the number of people voting and the great amount of reading matter in the proposition column. Those who did not familiarize themselves with the complex proposals before they went to the polls found themselves reading lots of legal wording which easily could have left them bewildered.

City Clerk Kenneth W. A. reported that there were a large number of absentee ballots. These had to be placed on the machines by election workers after polls closed.

City Liquor

(Continued from Page 1) costing up to $45,000. The proposal was listed as an "advisory question," meaning that the board could have spent the money if it had desired, but decided to obtain the opinion of the public.

Preliminary estimates have been given the board and work is expected to be started as soon as possible to enlarge the meeting room, build additional offices, and enlarge the fire department. The parking lot will also be paved.

Delta Kappa Gamma Alumnae Hold Birthday Luncheon

Attending a birthday luncheon for Kappa chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at Botsford Inn, Farmington, last Saturday, were Irene Walldorf, Gertrude Fiegel, Louise Spence, Elizabeth McDonald, Ruth Eriksson, Mrs. June Kelly, Sarah Lickly, and Mrs. Roswell Tanger, all local teachers.

"The Leaven That Inspires" was the title of the address given by Mrs. Bernice Dondineau, Wayne County School Consultant and state chairman of World and Community Service Committee of Delta Kappa Gamma. Mrs. A. E. Moore, formerly of Plymouth and a Wayne County Visiting Teacher, was co-chairman in charge of arranging the program.

In addition to members of Xi, Mu, guests at the luncheon included Ola Hiller, international president of Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary society for women teachers, who spoke briefly. Irene Walldorf is president of Kappa chapter which draws membership from Detroit, Dearborn, Wayne, Lincoln Park, Wyandotte and Plymouth.

Woman's Eye View By KATHIE MULL LUSK

Mrs. Marietta Whaling, of 505 Byron, is the best kind of grandmother to have.

And Mrs. J. W. Fowlkes, of Rocker, is naturally the nicest kind of mother.

Ask any little girl why — it's because both sew exquisite doll dresses and have been doing so for years!

Now the two are turning their hobby of fashioning pretty clothes for Ginny, Wendy, and Cissette dolls into a home-type business.

Mrs. Whaling moved here in July, 1957, from Lakewood, Ohio. She lives in her own separate apartment adjoining the handsome new split-level home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Merriam.

For the past 10 years she's been doing fancy sewing and winning a nice clientele with her talents. In addition to doll clothes, she makes gay bean bag monkeys, with jingle bells on their tails, fluffy white beards and sparkling rhinestone eyes. These have been popular with college girls, too, who have used them to decorate their dorm rooms!

"They've told me they even talked to my monkeys!" she chuckled.

Mrs. Whaling also makes wash cloth "dogs" with a generous bar of soap packed in the wash cloth. These have cute faces and ribbon neckties.

She also turns out clever plush bear and skunk pins, match box covers, sacheted handkerchief holders in satin pastels with felt cut-out detail. Her bath powder mitts are sacheted, too. All are so pretty and nominally priced.

Attractive Mrs. Fowlkes began by sewing doll clothes for her three girls — Nancy, 8; Martha, 7, and Mary B., 3.

All their friends liked them so much that the hobby branched into business.

Big feature about her doll dresses is that they are made of fine, durable material that can be safely washed and ironed. Even the filmiest costume is not flimsy! The doll bride dresses are fabulous in their detail.

Right now Mrs. Whaling and Mrs. Fowlkes are doing all they can to keep up with birthday and Christmas gift orders.

"Oh, it's such fun," say the two homemakers whose sewing ingenuity has proven marketable in Plymouth.

What local hunter's wife could have a better friend than Mrs. Edna Herig, of Parkview?

She's the Plymouthite with the answers to "how in the world shall I cook that pheasant or duck and still have hubby glad he was successful in forest or field?"

Mrs. Herig is Detroit Edison Home Service Advisor. Her office, at 2000 Second Ave., Detroit, distributes monthly . . . and gratis . . . easy-to-file cards titled "Recipes and Hints."

This month's card selection helps avoid disappointment in any hunter's feast . . . there's step-by-step rules to preparing succulent Roast Wild Duck, Roast Pheasant, Breast of Duck in Orange Juice, and Stewed Pheasant with Bread Sauce. (Tips on winter decorating with light are also included on the November cards!)

Coming up here is the Roast Duck recipe . . . and remember, just jot a note to her at her company's Detroit office if you desire to be put on the mailing list for all the monthly recipe-and-hint cards!

ROAST DUCK, WILD

Temp: 350 degrees
Time: Rare - 10 to 12 min. per lb.
Well Done - 15 to 20 min. per lb.
2 (2½ lbs.) wild ducks
4 cooking apples, chopped
6 strips bacon
½ cup raisins

Wipe ducks with a damp cloth. Rub the insides with salt. Fill the cavities loosely with chopped apples and raisins. Place ducks in an uncovered roasting pan. Cover the breasts with slices of bacon. Roast. Remove the stuffing before serving the duck; it will have absorbed the strong flavor. NOTE: When preparing a stuffing that is to be served, the game flavor can be removed by soaking the cleaned bird two or three hours in strong salt water to which one tablespoonful of baking soda has been added. Rinse duck in clear water before stuffing.

Good news to earlybird Christmas planners:

The "Greens Market," of Plymouth branch, Woman's Farm and Garden Association, will be staged on Friday, Dec. 12.

This much-awaited Mart, traditionally "loaded" with all accoutrements to festive holiday partying, is being co-chaired this year by Mrs. George Schmemman and Mrs. Edwin Zipse. Locale will be announced later, according to Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum, branch president.

By-Laws Presented to Lake Pointers For Newly Organized Owners Group

BY MARCY BARTSON
GL. 3-6729

This was election week! We hope everyone took the opportunity to exercise his right to vote. We also hope that everyone in Lake Pointe has registered by now. We urge all those who have not to do so as soon as possible. Thus in the near future you will be fully prepared for the important spring-time election.

By now everyone has received his copy of the by-laws for the newly organized Lake Pointe Home Owners Association. This week several ladies of the Village hand-delivered the copies of the by-laws, and have asked everyone to carefully read and study the articles. A community meeting is being planned and will be held in the very near future. This is very important that everyone read his copy carefully and be ready for discussion about it at the next meeting. Notice of the time and place will be given in ample time, and we urge everyone to be in attendance!

Wladyslaw and Bernice Dewicki, who moved here from Wayne a year ago this month, have found this "country atmosphere" delightful. Bernice has quite a "delicious" hobby. She bakes and decorates fancy cakes. Last week she made a tiered cake for a 25th wedding anniversary. She takes orders and makes cakes for all occasions.

Wladyslaw is an engineer for the General Motors Corporation in Pontiac. He also teaches descriptive geometry at the Wayne Mens' High School on Monday evenings. The Dewicki children had a grand time the other night. The occasion was a Halloween party attended by 35 children from the fifth and sixth grades of Our Lady of Good Counsel School. All the children came to the party attired in costumes. Scads of doughnuts and gallons of cider, dunking for apples, throwing of confetti, and dancing were all on the agenda. It really was a fine party!

We have two new families to welcome this week. Don and Marilyn Camron arrived here last Thursday from Cincinnati. O. Don is with Munningswear, Inc., his office being located in Detroit. They have two daughters, Elizabeth, 5, and Jennifer, 3½. This coming March the Camrons will add another name to their family. They have a boy's name selected, but Marilyn says maybe they ought to have a girl's name ready, too. The Camrons reside at 42056 Brentwood Drive.

Moving on down Brentwood which is fast becoming a popular place, we find Don and Natalie Koch. The Kochs were previously from Milford and originally from Saginaw. Don is a cost accountant at the Lincoln Plant in Wixom. Their son Randy, 7 has already started school and is getting right into the swing of things. His little brother Greg has been staying at his grandmother's in Saginaw for the week (until things get settled.) Natalie hasn't decided where to hang the two charcoal drawings she has done. She also has a painting of the clown Emmet Kelly and is debating about the placement of this pretty picture. Besides her artistic talents, Natalie does knitting, and is working on a sweater for herself at the moment. Don likes to spend his spare time in reading.

The Bales have had a very interesting and wonderful person visiting on-and-off with them the past two weeks, Father Roland Beaudet. Father Beaudet is a missionary priest and belongs to the order of the White Fathers. He has spent the past 15 years doing his work in Africa. He has travelled all over that continent, and speaks 8 languages. The stories he can tell are numerous, and he has films of the White Fathers' work in Africa. He showed these to the Bales children and kept them fascinated. Father Beaudet is here to promote the White Fathers Missions, and will return to Africa next year.

Edward Rowe, who pilots for the Slick Airways just returned from a 12 day flight to Olinawa. This flight meant stopovers at Honolulu and Wake Island. Next week Ed will fly to Tokyo which will also be a 12 day trip. The children love it when Daddy brings home his souvenirs for them. This time he brought them each a Japanese doll which has six wig changes. Each change represents a span in a Japanese girl's life.

Jean hurt her foot last week but is feeling much better now. She tripped over a broom at the Rows' place of business. Ed and his flying partner, George Shores of Plymouth, are also partners in business. They own a lawn mower repair shop, the R.H. Brooks Service. Jeans helps to run the shop occasionally, and this is when the accident occurred. She says that all the neighbors have been just wonderful to her. This is one of the things that makes it so nice to live in the Village.

Christopher Mamola celebrated his third birthday last week. His mother, Dorothy had a beautiful birthday cake for him and his little friends. They all had a good time.

The Newcomers Tea and Hat Show was quite a success. The attendance of 47 members was pleasing. All of the women had an enjoyable afternoon as they were presented with a hat fashion show. The hats were from the Violet Wines collection. Mrs. Wines makes hats to order, and had many on display. They were also modeled by member of the club who did an excellent job. Bonnie Coons, Barb Bolduc, Dolores Hill, and Barbara Nitz each modeled several of the chapeaus.

World Community Day Planned For Nov. 4 At Episcopal Church

World Community Day will be observed here Friday, Nov. 14, sponsored by the United Church Women of the National Council of Churches. The service is to be held at 1:30 p.m. at St. John's Episcopal Church, Maple at Harvey.

Theme this year is "Exchange: Goods, Ideas, People." Guest speaker will be Mrs. Celestine Fernando of Ceylon. Balls of yarn and yard goods are being collected this year instead of old clothing as previously and may be brought to the church at the time of the service.

Church women will meet at 10:30 a.m. for their annual meeting and election of officers. Coffee will be served and members are to bring their own sandwiches.

SWISHY FROCKS for all these dolls are enough to delight any little girl. Mrs. Marietta Whaling, right, is turning her doll dressing hobby into a business with Mrs. J. W. Fowlkes. Here Mrs. Whaling's granddaughter, Beverly Merriam, is trying to pick out a doll dress gift for a friend.

WASH CLOTH DOGS, bean bag monkeys with bells on their tails, are heartily approved by Beverly Merriam, 7 years, left; Cynny Wilkins, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wilkin, and Mary B. Fowlkes, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fowlkes. These items were all made by Mrs. Whaling.

Eleven Plymouth Boys Invited To Attend Engineering Conference

One-thousand students from metropolitan Detroit public and parochial high schools attended the Engineering Society of Detroit's 26th Annual Engineering and Science Vocational Guidance meeting, Wednesday at Society Headquarters, 100 Fransworth Ave., Detroit.

The specially planned conference one of the largest and most successful of its kind in the country, was intended to show the wide vistas of engineering and science opportunities available to students selecting a career in the engineering profession.

The conference was sponsored in cooperation with the City of Detroit's Board of Education, the Engineers' Council for Professional Development, and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

The Engineering Society of Detroit turned over its entire facilities to the one-thousand 10th, 11th and 12th grade students attending the conference. Each was specially selected by his respective school. More than 50 girls attended this year's conference.

Students from Plymouth attending the Conference were James Cutler, 193 N. Main St.; Rolf Diederich, 260 Parkview Drive; Ronald Hubbs, 11021 S. Main St.; James Meyers, 1115 Dewey; Wade Schultze, 11705 Amherst Court; Larry Smith, 977 Dewey; Ronald Turmet, 600 Pacific; John Van Dyke, 9585 Joy Road; Robert Westover, 1405 W. Maple; and Donald Williams, 1308 Sheridan.

The Golden Gate Bridge is about 8,919 feet in length, 4,000 feet between towers, and it rises an average of 746 feet above the bay.

Plymouth High School

By Gloria Bowles

Next Tuesday, November 11 — that's when debaters will travel to Redford Union High School for the opening of the 1958-59 debate season. The speakers will be expounding on the resolution: "That the United States Education System Should Adopt Essential Features of the British System." The debate team has not yet been chosen.

The hula hoop craze will take top priority when seniors hoop it up at the Senior Mixer tonight from 7 to 10. These supposedly serious upperclassmen will have a chance to show their skills in the latest rage department — a contest will be held for hoop experts.

Swimming, dancing and volleyball are planned for the non hip-swingers. Admission is 25c; casual attire is in order. Co-Chairmen for the mixer are Jo Ann Nagy and Rosemary Tallman.

Tenseness and means of "I just know I'll goof" marked freshman cheerleading try-outs held last night. Of about 46 aspirants, six will be able to claim cheer uniforms during basketball season. Candidates were selected on the basis of scholastic ability (at least a "C" average is required), citizenship, appearance in presenting cheers, enthusiasm, ability to lead, willingness to serve school and acrobatic ability.

Judging the competition were phys ed instructors and Varsity cheerleaders — seniors Mer Palmer, Bette Argo, Liz Calhoun and juniors Mavis Williams, Jill Clarke, and Karen West — results of judging will be posted here next week.

Noon hours, of late, have found PHS'ers pacing the halls. Student Council solved the problem of "nothing to do, no place to go" by re-opening study hall and placing an SC member in charge to keep order. Dick Hubert and Linda Heric are lining up Council members to do the job.

Noon Recreation, headed by junior Randy Egloff, sophomore Ralph Spikarelli, also helps to eliminate the 11:30 to 12:30 disorder.

$500 was the goal set for the Red Feather Drive here... about $215 was collected. Disappointed by results were co-chairmen of the drive, seniors Bette Argo and Lois Austin.

There are 15 foreign born students at PHS. England, Scotland, Canada, Germany, Mexico and Latvia are represented in this school's foreign intrigue. From England came Jacqueline and Kathleen Battle, Susan Baxter-Jones and Glyn Norton. Originally hailing from next-door neighbor Canada are Helen Otwell and Doreen Flack. Scottish lassies are Catherine Walker and Frannie Smith.

Germany claims Valdemir Losse, Mary La Fleur, Rolf Dietrich and Karen Geiger. Winding up the list are Maria Ibarra of Mexico and Annerose Krukliis of Latvia, who also lived in Germany. You're certainly not far wrong when you say Plymouth has that international feeling!

CAPTURED—Wisconsin's end, Early Hill, foreground, failed to intercept the pass, but the photographer captured the essence of football in this picture. It was taken during a rain-soaked 7-7 Ohio State-Wisconsin struggle at Columbus, Ohio.

Rocks Trounce Thurston, 36-6

Randy Egloff enjoyed one of the most successful days in his football career at Plymouth High to lead the Rocks to an easy, 36 to 6, conquest of Thurston at the Eagles field last Friday.

Plymouth rolled up a 34-0 lead at halftime and then relaxed. Reserves saw lots of work thereafter, and Thurston "won" the second half, 6-2.

Egloff raced 55 yards with an intercepted pass for a first period touchdown.

He also threw a pass to Wayne Sparkman which moved the ball 40 yards for a TD and he quarterback-sneaked for another — all this in the first period.

Another "sneak" by the Plymouth quarterback went farther than planned — 60 yards for a second period touchdown. Then Egloff flung a 23-yard scoring hook pass to Larry Wells.

To round out the performance, Egloff booted four of five extra point attempts.

Thurston lost three fumbles in the opening quarter, two being converted to touchdowns. That set the pattern for the afternoon. Thurston was the underdog, and their fumble discouragement came at the very outset of the contest. Plymouth's lead was 20-0 after just one period.

A blocked kick by Guard Mike Martin brought the Eagles' a touchdown in the third period. The ball rolled back to the 14 yard line, where center Joe Fink scooped it up and raced in for the first score of his high school career. Joe Czuj's kick was blocked.

Outstanding plays for the Eagles including Ralph Kaufer's throwing Egloff for a six yard loss in the final quarter; Doug Spicer's beautiful 61 yard punt which rolled out on the Plymouth 1 foot line; the alert play of a new man, Hoerle (a transfer from Detroit Cooley); and a 55 yard successful pass play from Bob Kurtz to Ron DeVore.

Plymouth's record now stands at 5-2 for the season; Thurston 2-4.

U of M-OSU Football Train Stopping Here

Football fans wanting to attend the Michigan-Ohio State football game on November 22 can hop on a train in Plymouth that morning and be home by 9 o'clock that night, according to arrangements made by the U of M Club of Detroit.

Two trains will leave Detroit's Union Station and stop at Plymouth enroute to Columbus. The Yellow Train leaves here at 7:30 a.m. and the Blue Train at 7:40. They arrive in Columbus opposite the stadium at around noon. They leave Columbus about 30 minutes after the game and will arrive here at about 9 p.m.

There will be no diner service, but counter-equipped baggage cars will serve sandwiches and light refreshments, or one can bring their own food.

The cost is $20 per person, including football tickets. Those having their own football tickets but want transportation can deduct $4 from the price. No football tickets are sold without transportation.

About 300 have made reservations so far. Tickets are available at Lipman's Sporting Goods, 219 Michigan Ave. Information can be secured by calling Townsend 8-7900 or Woodward 2-7000.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Called "Passing the Buck?"

Sitting on my porch the other night, Buck Hanson told about a nifty new warning light for his tractor. It gives him protection on the highway at night—cost, just 75 cents.

Buck made the light from an old windshield wiper motor with a taillight attached in place of the wiper blade. He clamped the motor on to the rear of the tractor.

When the motor is hooked to a hot wire and grounded, the light moves back and forth and sure attracts attention. (The wires work off a battery, a headlight—anything "hot.")

From where I sit, it's a tradition in America for neighbors to get together and exchange ideas. We're a better country for it. Tell your what—drop in on the next session on my porch, have a glass of beer and join in. If you'd rather have a glass of milk—fine! Respecting people's preferences—that's an American tradition too.

Joe Marsh

by George Spalvin

Friends, throw your hats in the air, give vent to a hoopla or two, and generally give yourself cause to be excited. What happened? Has Detroit decided to become a major producing center for Broadway plays? No. Although I will admit with the current line-up of shows, it certainly looks like this might be my reason for going berserk. Let me give the cause for jubilation before I burst. Last week I had the good fortune to see "The Boy Friend" as joyfully performed by the Wayne State University.

You can check with Robert Southgate at the high school, for I hear he went down also to see this chuckle-a-minute production. Young George and I went last Saturday and the show was a delight from beginning to end.

"The Boy Friend" is a gentle spoof of all English musical comedies of the early 1920's — not the roaring '20's but the "tittering" '20's. The English never roar at anything as the commentator at the beginning of the performance. And you know it was just that type of show. You never laughed real loud; you just kept chuckling, smiling, heehawing for the whole two hours and one-half. The dances were clever, the songs sounded better than you knew they were, and the dialogue was rich with satire.

When Sandy Wilson, wrote this musical comedy, it is doubtful that he realized what a rousing success he had on his hands. It ran three years in London, two years on Broadway, two years on the road, and at present a company is doing the show off-Broadway at the Cherry Lane Theatre. Let's hope that for the next few years other companies decide to do the show so that everyone gets a chance to see "The Boy Friend".

Wayne University players romped through their version with such vim, vigor, enthusiasm that it was infectious. You couldn't help leaving the theatre without a song in your heart and a smile on your face. My only plea is that Russ Smith, director extraordinary, will repeat the show by request later this season. I know I'm going to send a letter to him so that all of us out this way can get a chance to see the production once again. I'll let you know if anything develops. Such gaiety and happy goings-on should be shared by many, many people.

Time out to solve a mystery. It concerns the play "Crazy October" coming to downtown Detroit on November 9th at the Cass Theatre. When this show opened a few weeks ago in New Haven, Connecticut, the critics gave it the thumbs down sign. Also at Washington, D.C. usually a good town for Tallulah (she gets good notice in the papers — if you recall this time out she was pictured kissing Harry Truman) she received the "nay" treatment in regard to the play.

For some unknown reason, Tallulah Bankhead has chosen to bring the play into Detroit with all this adverse criticism in the background. According to Variety, the showman's pulse-taker, the show

Salvage Master Planning to Raise Andrea Dora By Summer of 1960

HOLLYWOOD — (UPI) — A plaque on "A" deck of the 39,000-ton Andrea Doria honored her designers for creating a ship that could not sink.

On a bright summer's day in 1960, if salvage master Dick Meyers has his way, the Doria will rise from her watery grave 40 miles off Nantucket Island and the barnacle-encrusted plaque will be removed before the Leviathan returns to the sea lanes.

The Italian sea queen has been resting 240 feet down on the ocean bottom since the morning of July 27, 1956, less than 12 hours after she collided with the Swedish liner Stockholm with the loss of 50 lives.

Meyers, who negotiated with the Doria's insurers for rights to the hulk, regards his task as "routine."

"There is really not too much to it once you have studied the wreck and know what is to be done," said Meyers, interviewed during a Hollywood visit with his actress-fiancee Carole Mathews. The bearded diver explained that approximately 100 inflatable rubber caissons, each with a lifting power of 212 tons, would be secured to the sunken vessel.

"The caissons are secured by knocking most of the 400 portholes out of the Doria, then inserting clamps through the openings. Once they are in place we'll start lifting. We plan to lift it by degrees, then tow it toward Nantucket with two ships, allowing it to settle to the bottom periodically until we are in only 30 feet of water."

"At that point a gang of men will swarm over the exposed parts of the Doria to smear grease over her. While she is submerged the only real oxidation damage will be that suffered by the light metals such as aluminum," Meyers said.

Meyers discounted any hopes that money and valuables left aboard the Doria would be salvaged.

At the most there would have been possibly $100,000 and I suppose that was taken off in the 11 hours before she sank," he said.

The big money is in the

149 National Appointments For Michigan Legionnaires

DETROIT - Michigan Legionnaires have received 149 appointments to National Committees of The American Legion for 1958-59, according to an announcement by R. Gerald Barr of Port Huron, Michigan's national executive committee for the world's largest veterans organization.

"All of the appointments have been made in due recognition of the distinguished service of these Michigan Legionnaires in their respective communities," Barr said.

Preston J. Moore of Stillwater, Oklahoma, 1959 National Commander of the Legion, made the appointments with the approval of the National Executive Committee, governing body of that organization.

The local appointments are as follows: Transportation Committee, Irving D. Geer, 8889 Wayne Road, Livonia; Membership and Post Activities Committee, Harold Wilson, 8910 Sheldon Road, Plymouth; Inter-American Committee, Robert Wilson, 157 Holbrook, Plymouth.

The first Atlantic crossing in both directions within 24 hours was made by an English Canberra jet bomber in 1955.

The City Manager's Corner

By Al Glassford

At the City Manager's Conference at Dallas, Texas, October 22nd, I was asked to tell about the use of cooperative arrangements between municipalities in the Metropolitan Areas to solve lack of necessary municipal services. You, too, may be interested in the means used to solve metropolitan area problems. It will be necessary to report the talk in three installments. Here's the first.

Because of the vacuum existing in formal methods to be employed in providing services to the Detroit Metropolitan Area, by charter or law, many informal cooperative arrangements are being engaged by the local jurisdictions in order to provide necessary services. As the citizen moves into suburban or out-county areas, he carries with him his desire for a high standard of public service.

He wants those things which the suburbs and rural county jurisdictions are incapable of providing by themselves. He creates overloaded conditions of sanitary facilities and inadequate systems of water supply. These outlying areas cannot stand alone. The result is a vast amount of administrative interaction between the various levels of government.

"The federal-local and state-local relationships are highly formalized for the most part. The one service which there is a great deal of informal cooperation is that of police activities. The local personnel of the F.B.I., Treasury Department

Local Co-eds Work-Study At Kalamazoo

Miss Mary Agnew and Miss Carol Karnatz of Plymouth, students in the cooperative secretarial program in Western Michigan University's School of Business, are working each afternoon in an office.

They attend classes on campus in the morning, and to complete their two-year program must be employed during the afternoons. They are among 61 co-eds enrolled in secretarial studies.

Miss Agnew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Agnew, 872 Hartsough. She is working in the office of the Commonwealth Products in Kalamazoo.

Miss Karnatz is with the WMU Physical Education Department. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Karnatz, 686 Kellogg.

Both are graduates of the Plymouth high school.

Sort clothes for laundry on a table, suggests Lucile Ketchum, home management specialist at Michigan State University. It's easier—and less tiring than sorting them on the floor.

VA Hospital in Ann Arbor Sets Open House November 10

To most people the Veterans Administration Hospital, thought of Sumner G. Whittier, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, who has ordered that every VA hospital and regional office in the country be opened to the public Monday, the day before the national holiday.

The Administrator believes that veterans, their friends, and their families should have an opportunity of seeing how the VA treats the disabled man, providing far more than just medical treatment," explained Dr. Ireland.

Volunteer guides will be on hand through the day to escort visitors through much of the hospital.

Open House at Ann Arbor Hospital, like its 170 counterparts elsewhere in the United States, is a Veterans Day activity.

Tuna Fish Delights Like This

Ever at a loss come Friday night and you want to serve something a little different in the fish line?

And still have it in expensive and quick to fix?

A favorite casserole of busy Mrs. Wendell Lent, of 594 Hartsough, makes grand use of a can of tuna fish. It's temptingly titled Tuna Chow Mein.

Mrs. Lent makes it often when she and her children, are spending the summer at their cottage on Zukey lake, near Brighton, and just as often in town in the attractive green frame house on the corner close to the Junior High where the family has lived 10 years.

Her daughters are Karen, 17, senior at Plymouth High, and Julie, 12, seventh grader at the Junior High. Son Jamie, 10, attends Smith Elementary School.

When the family takes off to Zukey lake at the close of the school year, Mr. Lent commutes the 25 miles each way daily. All love it there... and all the water activities. Mr. Lent is owner of Davis & Lent men's wear in Plymouth.

Two other beloved family members are "Liebchen," two-year-old dachshund whose gentle ways live up to her "little darling" tag; and a cheerful blue parakeet with perch in the livingroom.

Here's that casserole, fine for either company luncheons or suppers:

Tuna Chow Mein Casserole
1 can Chinese noodles
1 can cream mushroom soup
1/2 lb. cashews
1 C. onion, chopped
1 C. celery, copped
1 C. tuna

Method: Place half can noodles on bottom of buttered casserole. Mix all ingredients together and place on these noodles. Arrange remaining noodles on top of mixture.

Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees from 45-60 minutes, depending on depth of dish you use.

Day Nursery Born When Woman Views Tragedy

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Mrs. Lillian H. Scott will never forget that terrible day 12 years ago.

Two children, left by themselves while their parents were at work, burned to death in an apartment fire.

"When I saw the undertaker trying to get the little bodies out, I just turned away. I couldn't take it," said Mrs. Scott.

But she couldn't forget.

She opened a day nursery, where working mothers could leave their children — with — or without charge.

"I've always loved children, and I couldn't bear to think of them alone and in danger," said the 49-year-old woman.

She left her flower shop in charge of a helper, and talked a pastor into letting her use his church as a nursery during weekdays.

She opens the nursery shortly after 6 a.m., and stays on the job until around 1 or 2 p.m., before returning to her florist shop, where she sometimes works late into the night.

When the nursery outgrew the church space, Mrs. Scott sponsored a series of fish fries, concerts and other affairs to get money to build a nursery.

Now she has a staff of three paid helpers. The nursery is state-chartered and meets rigid specifications.

Mrs. Scott, a teacher for six years before going into business, now is working on a senior college degree. She completed junior college before going into the teaching profession.

Mrs. Scott's husband, Samuel F. Scott, is a contractor. The couple has no children. Scott was all for it when his wife told him her plans for the nursery.

The rewards:

"The mothers tell me every day that they don't know what they would do if they didn't have a place like this," said Mrs. Scott.

Canton Township: Delbert Larricks Entertain 23 at Sunday Dinner Event

BY ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL 3-0194

Well, Halloween is over and except for a few stomach-aches will be forgotten by the time you see this article.

It was brought to my attention that perhaps our local groups, clubs etc., do not realize that we would like very much to have news from them on their social doings or coming events. If you have anything that you would like to have the community attend or hear about, just give me a call at least a week before it is going to happen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Contario of Ridge Rd., had as guests the past weekend Mr. and Mrs. Kollar from Detroit, and a neighbor of the Kollars. The guests came out for a day of hunting and dinner with the Contarios.

W.S.C.S. of Cherry Hill Methodist Church, observed a week of prayer and self denial. A "quiet hour" service was held Thursday with Mrs. Loren Campbell the speaker. The offering was to be sent to the missions.

Youth of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church went out to UNICEF. After the group returned, they had a Halloween Party in the basement of the church.

You have seen and heard on television that an Avon saleswoman will be knocking at your door with wonderful ideas for gifts (especially with Christmas just around the corner). Well that saleswoman will be at some of your doors real soon — some will recognize her, but if you don't, she is your community neighbor, Mrs. Roger Bordin (Florence) of Saltz Rd.

I called Mrs. Stanley West of Ridge Rd. and found that she had a guest at her home. The guest, a former resident of the township, Mrs. Willis Kibler, was spending the day with Mrs. West, while her husband went on to Detroit. The Kiblers now reside at Otto Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Smith of Cherry Hill, went to visit Mr. and Mrs. Terry West of Zukey Lake. The Smiths also just returned from a trip up north to a small town near Alpena. They took a trip across the Straits and viewed scenic spots. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Smith on their trip were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rowe of Hagerty Rd.

Mrs. Garfield Wright (Alice) was my next contact for news. Alice said they had just returned from a visit with their son, Gary, who attends Western University in Kalamazoo. It was Homecoming, and, of course, the Wrights took in the football game. Gary is in his sophomore year and a member of the Varsity swimming team.

Last Sunday the Kroger Company opened their new warehouse on Middlebelt Rd. The company held open house, with balloons for the children and coffee for the adults. Two of our families attended the affair, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Palmer (Joan and Dick), Warren Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Therese Palmer (Beck Rd.). The Palmer families have been selling their produce to the Kroger company for some 30 years and the relocating of the warehouse made it much more convenient for transacting business. Mrs. Richard Palmer said they were shown through the 15 acre building, and was especially impressed by storage space that held 30 carloads of beef. She said you just couldn't imagine the vastness of rows upon rows of beef hanging in this area. Mrs. Palmer also said that an additional building was to be built to hold baked goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Palmer held a Halloween party last Saturday evening with 40 guests attending. Mrs. Palmer's "Sloppy Joes" was served.

Halloween is over but we enjoyed the celebration held at the Gallimore school — the parade with children in costume and spirit of teachers and principal. All the schools in the township held Halloween parties with much planning done by the room mothers and teachers. Refreshments were supplied by the Department of Recreation.

At this time would like to welcome to our community, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Evans of 2049 Elmhurst Ave. Mrs. Evans is from Plymouth and Mr. Evans from the south.

Seaman Joseph H. Thomas Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas of Ford Rd., was a home on a 72-hour furlough from Newport, R. I. Mrs. Thomas, Joe's mother, said that he was to fly back to his base, but that an airline strike gave them quite a time in arranging his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Larrick entertained 23 guests for Sunday dinner at their home on Elmhurst. Present were Mrs. Ora Glass (Mrs. Larrick's mother) and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McTurner and family, Mrs. Dora White and family, and Miss Camilla Jovyska of Livonia, and Thelma Thomas.

Little Jacqueline McTurner celebrated her second birthday, with her aunts and uncles attending. Jacqueline is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McTurner of Elmhurst Ave.

I would like to wish Mrs. Dora Julien a speedy recovery. Mrs. Julien is in the hospital with injuries suffered from a fall. Mrs. Julien is the mother of James Julien, proprietor of one of our local stores.

Brownie troop 269 held a Halloween party under the leadership of Mrs. Eugene Armstrong. Along with the Halloween party, the girls helped Nancy Prince and Christina Anderson celebrate their eighth birthday.

I found out last week that I am getting too old for Halloween pranks. I got the bright idea that I would scare the little pre-Halloween pranksters, by becoming a ghost and jumping out at them. I don't know who got scared but I have some bruised shins to prove that I have given this sort of thing up. Well, I will be writing to and about you next week, so if you have news just call.

In the average year, more than three and two-thirds billion quarts of milk are consumed with cereal alone, accounting for about 15 per cent of the annual per capita fluid milk consumption.

Steer Clear of Phony Stereo—Listen, Buy Carefully

Steer clear of phony stereo. The current boom in stereophonic, or double-soundtrack, phonograph records and equipment may bring with it some hanky-panky if past history is any guide.

Remember when high fidelity swept in? Because gullible record buyers insisted that records be clearly marked "high fidelity" before they would listen, one enterprising fellow made a bundle of money by manufacturing special "high fidelity" labels. These were pasted on records in stock.

Now comes stereo, with about half a million sets expected to be sold this year and all major, minor and in-between record companies rushing stereo disks to market. There are now about 600 titles for the stereophile to choose from.

Sidney Frey, head of Audio Fidelity, a firm that takes credit for marketing the first commercial stereo disk, is one executive who warns against double-dealing in the double-track field.

"Records that were originally recorded monophonically—single-soundtrack—are being pepped up, gimmicked and okeyed to produce an imitation stereo effect," he says.

How do you guard against this? First of all, advises Frey, you buy from companies that have good reputations in the field of hi-fi recording. Then you listen carefully to what's on the record.

"The true stereo record played with stereo equipment will give you a separation of sound comparable to listening to a live performance. You'll hear the drums on one side, the piano on the other. You should be able to detect this separation instantly."

However, stereo records will not produce stereo sound unless they are played on stereo equipment. Those with hi-fi equipment already own half a stereo set. All that's needed to complete the rig is a second speaker, a second amplifier and a special stereo cartridge. Frey figures another $100 should do the trick.

He also suggests that stereo cartridges—containing special needles—be purchased when buying stereo records, even if the buyer does not own a stereophonic set.

"This will enable you to play stereo records on present equipment with perfect safety for the record. Even hi-fi records will sound better when played through a stereo cartridge," Frey adds.

Fix Water Seepage First In Basement

Plans for converting a basement into a family or recreation room can never be accomplished when there's water seepage. For that matter, water in a basement prevents any type of remodeling, and even stored goods will become overrun with mildew.

How does a home's basement become leaky? There are three common causes: settling of the house and earth; workmanship which may be faulty, and water pressure. The latter cause will drive water through cement pores that otherwise would be watertight.

There are two possible methods of stopping water seepage into a basement. One way is putting up a barrier, the other is making the cement pores smaller. The second method, made possible by using cement-base waterproofing paint, can be applied by the average homeowner.

Working with a cement-base waterproof paint requires a little care in mixing the paint and preparing the surface.

Before the first stroke of paint can be applied to the wall, the entire surface must be sprayed with the garden hose. A fine spray will do a uniform job of wetting down the surface. Make sure that the top of the wall gets a good dosing.

Next, mix the waterproofing paint with water until the mixture has the consistency of cream. Then, using a stiff brush, brush the mixture into the wall with a circular motion. This will insure that every pore will be filled. It is best to coat the bottom of the wall first since water pressure from the outside is greatest here.

Then, move to the top and work down to the floor. The waterproof paint must harden enough so it won't rub off; spray again with water. The next day, the wall should be soaked again and another coat of waterproof paint applied. It takes two good coats to do the job efficiently.

For the next week, the walls should be sprayed twice a day. When the wall has dried, any damp spots on the wall will indicate the areas that are not completely filled with paint.

Suburban Living

NUT TREES, such as pecan, are prized for shade on the lawn in addition to their crop. Hardy varieties now make it possible to grow pecans in northern states.

Starking Hardy Giant Pecans Can Be Grown in Michigan

A pecan brought from his childhood home in North Carolina has grown into a 50-foot tall tree that shades the front lawn and doorway of a lawyer's home in Norfolk, Va. Every fall this lawyer and his family gather a crop of pecan nuts that seem to them especially delicious.

Most nut trees are far easier to grow and gather a crop from than an apple or a peach tree. For one thing, most of the nut trees are pest and disease free so they won't need spraying as do fruit trees. Nut trees also make excellent shade trees. Although almost all of them reach 25 feet and some of them 50 feet or higher, they make this growth rapidly in comparison to foliage trees.

Only a few years ago pe-northern. Both, however, are distributed throughout the Northeast and Midwest, and horticultural varieties can be grown quite generally. Either tree on a property is worth saving for its shade as well as its crop, when a house is being built.

Shagbark is the hickory preferred for its nuts, but its one disadvantage is that it is not likely to have a crop for 25 years or more. Varieties such as Missouri Mammoth start to bear when trees are younger, and also make magnificent shade trees. Butternut bears early varieties obtained from a nursery usually two or three years after being planted.

Hardier varieties of walnuts are being introduced. Ten years ago English walnuts could be grown successfully only in California, the South and along the Atlantic Coast. Native to this country and suited to the different climates of the two regions are the Eastern and California black walnut. Varieties such as Thomas Grafted black walnut can be grown in any state.

Walnut trees, whether native or hybrid, bear when they are 10 to 12 years old. Aside from their crop, walnuts are as ornamental a shade tree as pecans.

Boat Kits Offer Fine Winter Hobby

Want a winter hobby? Those families that have been bitten by the boating bug, but can't squeeze the price of a factory-built boat into the budget might want to take a look at one of the many boat kits that are available. Particularly so if the men in the family are handy with tools.

Current boat kit lines, while continuing to feature price savings of as much as half the cost of factory-finished boats, now offer a wider choice of models and types than ever before. The size of boat in a kit varies anywhere from 8-foot tenders all the way up to 30-foot outboard or inboard family cruisers.

What are the main kits that are available to boatlovers? One of the most popular kits is the frame or "shell" kit, which costs only about a fifth (for a cabin cruiser) to one-third (for an open boat) as much as full kits. These contain preassembled frames, stem, transom, and other hard-to-make parts. Approximate prices are: 14-foot runabout $50-$90; 21-foot cabin cruiser about $250.

Another line of boat kits, although they are not really kits, is fully assembled but unfinished boats. These will save a family as much as 10 per cent or more as compared to a factory-made boat. For example, a typical 14-foot fishing skiff would cost approximately $280 finished, and the unfinished skiff would cost about $240. A cruiser would mean a saving of about $160.

Because of the increased demand by families for boat kits, many dealers have set up arrangements of purchase with banks and finance companies to permit buying on time. One such dealer offers three plans: (1) 20-month, no down payment contract with a finance company on basis costing under $500; (2) a one year 30 per cent down payment contract with a bank on all boats; and (3) a 30-month, 30 per cent down bank contract.

In addition to making it possible for many families to own a boat at considerable savings, kits have other attractions. Building them during the winter months is an ideal way to pass leisure time. Also, because of the many kits, a family not only constructs something functional, but something good to look at and enjoy.

Building a boat doesn't require professional ability, although some woodworking experience would help. However, manufacturers take great pains to make sure that all directions that come with the kit are complete, simple to follow and understand, and include a complete list of materials necessary to finish a boat.

A family must realize that building a boat does take time no matter what type of promotion a dealer may publish. Once this is understood, a boat kit can be assembled and completed to everyone's satisfaction providing proper time is allocated for step-by-step chores. Now is the time a boat kit should be started if a family hopes to get it in the water come next spring.

Get a Load Of Those Faces

Let's face it... the face of the male world is changing! Beards and "brushes" (known to some as mustaches) are appearing in profusion... on men of every age, in every walk of life, in every part of the country. What's the reason for this new hirsute-look... laziness, a need to assert themselves, a want to be different. Even the men, most at least, don't seem to know. But growing them they are!

Even during the cleanest of our clean-shaven era there have been "individualists"... but not since the days of Teddy Roosevelt have so many modern men elected to select a razor-bidden area!

So what shall we do, gals... try the trick of Delilah?

The flags of four countries—France, England, Spain and the United States—flown over Michigan.

CANADA GEESE en route southward for the winter are only one of the many birds to be noted when migration reaches its peak.

Stress Family Interest In Bird Identification

Birds, like children, add movement, color and song to a garden or property. The two may never have a close acquaintance, but part of a child's growing up is learning to recognize and call by name the birds that he sees in his yard, on the way to school or in the park.

Elementary books about birds are the quickest and simplest means of identification. Among the general ones are Allen Cruickshank's "The Pocket Guide to Birds" (Pocket Books, Inc. 50c) and John Kieran's "Introduction to Birds" (Doubleday & Co., Inc.) Lists or pamphlets on regional birds should be available from the local branch of the National Audubon Society, the local museum and possibly the Extension Service of the state agricultural college.

The way birds fly also is a clue to which ones they are. A flock of birds flying in a V-shaped wedge is certain to be ducks or geese. A flock of birds overhead like a small black cloud is probably swallows or some other small birds.

The manner of their flying is particularly easy to note in fall, when birds undertake their second long journey of the year. In September the migration from north to south for the winter starts. It reaches a peak in October. Many more birds than usual can be noted during these two months along any one of the four great flyways.

The Atlantic Flyway is the most eastern route and along it birds fly roughly the length of the Eastern Seaboard. The Pacific Flyway is its parallel along the West Coast, while through the interior of the continent are the Central and Mississippi Flyways.

Now it's possible to store knives safely on kitchen counters. A lazy Susan holds six knives and revolves on ball-bearings. Made of mahogany the holder measures 16 inches high and 5 1/2 inches in diameter. (Ekko Products Co., 1949 N. Cicero Ave., Chicago.)

Minimum Attention Brings Beauty In

House plants have come out of the kitchen and sun porch and now are part of any room. To many people, the chief purpose of a house plant is for decoration. But to gardeners a collection of house plants is an outlet for their favorite hobby during winter. Dependable house plants are those that will look attractive all winter without special care, that need only a minimum of daily or twice-weekly attention and that grow without sun streaming in the window every day. There are a few that meet these specifications.

Design Luggage Rack As Novel Gift Idea

An exceptionally useful item for home furnishing is a luggage rack. Since few people think of buying one, it's an excellent idea for a housewarming, Christmas or hostess gift. The luggage rack is a useful item in a small bedroom as a large one. It's indispensable for a weekend or overnight guest, if luggage isn't to rest on the bed or a chair and thus take up space it shouldn't and be inconvenient to get at. When not needed for a guest's luggage, racks can be folded and placed in the closet or behind a door. Ten to one, it will be borrowed for other rooms in the house to hold a tray, hatbox or who knows what? The luggage rack, approximately 18 inches long and 16 inches wide can be purchased ready to use. To personalize the gift, new straps might be made. Or a husband and wife might collaborate, he making the simple folding rack of wood, she making the straps. Two straps, 3 inches wide and 22 inches long, are sufficient. They may be of needlepoint, cross stitch or simply a decorative chintz or brocade. Whatever material is chosen for the top of the strap, it should be lined with solid color sateen material and tacked at each end of the rack. Needlepoint straps can be made in a jiffy since they are only 3 inches wide. It is possible to purchase sets of straps with the center design already completed or to buy plain canvas strips cut to size. On the plain canvas can be worked any simple design, even a geometrical one of triangles or squares on a colored background. When the plain canvas straps or those with a worked design are purchased, always make the needlepoint stitch over a thread of yarn. This gives body, prevents the piece from seesawing and having to be blocked when completed, and also makes a sturdier strap. Also, always work needlepoint from left to right. Insert the tapestry needle threaded with yarn at the right side, pull it across to the left side and insert needle on the left side. Then start stitching at this point working back to the right side, where the yarn is again pulled across for another row of stitches to be worked. The person who prefers cross stitching to needlepoint will find suitable transfer

Teen-Parent Emotional Hex Mainly Is Caused By Sex!

NEW YORK—(UPI)—The nation is failing to educate children properly because it has built emotional barriers around teen-agers, says an author and teacher, Charles J. Calitri. "One of the biggest emotional barriers built up between parents and children is caused by sex," said Calitri, whose second novel, "Strike Heaven On the Face," was published this week (by Crown). He believes that our society's "outdated morality" has cut off many teen-aged boys and girls from their parents and their teachers. "This barrier results from parents' embarrassment or fear of the subject of sex. Sex-talk is something we have to learn to live with. Sexual adjustment is a vital part of teen-age life. But until we can talk to our children in a mature and adult way without embarrassment, we will continue to confuse their attitudes toward it, and will fill ourselves with anxiety over teen-agers' behavior," the author said. "A major problem which teachers, as well as parents, face, is finding a way to break down the barrier. We must learn to speak teen-agers' language, get them to trust us and listen to us. In everyone's life, there is at least one teacher who is remembered above all others. That is the teacher who reached us and made us want to learn," he added. Calitri, who lives in Elmhurst, N.Y., sold his novel to a movie studio (MGM) for more than 2200,000 but returned to his teaching job in a New York high school. His mother and father were teachers, and his wife is a teacher. The father of two boys,

Wear it just above the knee. A new wrinkle for men's slacks — a floating waistband. It's a strip of elastic inserted in the front of the waist seam and attached to the front pleat. The elastic gives a two-inch leeway on the waist measurement, provides room for swinging a golf club in comfort, and gives expansion after a heavy meal. A neat trick for the career girl or suburban shopper — silk blossoms that clip onto plain pumps. The flowers in turn tailored shoes into dress shoes in a minute.

Pumpkin Pie Time Is Here

Reach for a can of rich, golden pumpkin or squash and make a pumpkin pie for dinner. With cool, invigorating weather there comes a yen for home-baked pies, and pumpkin is a top choice. It's always good served plain, but for special occasions add a conversation-making topping. Shredded or flaked coconut, well drained crushed pineapple, cranberry sauce flavored whipped cream or toasted sesame seed are some extra good suggestions.

Pumpkin Pie With Coconut

3 eggs	1 3/4 cups canned pumpkin, or squash
3/4 cup sugar	1 cup evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon ginger	1/2 cup water
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg	Pastry
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon	1/2 cup shredded or flaked coconut
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix well beaten eggs, sugar, spices, salt and pumpkin. Add milk and water and stir until mixture is smooth. Pour into a 9-inch pastry lined pie pan. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) 45 to 55 minutes, or until mixture is firm and crust is well browned. Cool slightly and sprinkle with coconut. One 9-inch pie.

Lansing Sees New, Worse School Crisis

LANSING—Schools without prospering industries to tax, and college students without prosperous parents both figure in the latest education crises in Michigan.

The schools, already borrowing heavily against next year's state aid payments, expect rough financial problems this winter.

Plight of students, upon whom fall the burdens of the future, is being more and more recognized.

Many state problems, and there are more of them than solutions at the moment, have their roots in money and education. Even though sizable funds have been allocated to education in the last decade, there is need for more.

Slightly more than 400 school districts have already borrowed more than $31,000,000, using state aid due next year for collateral.

When aid payments come through for use next year, they will already have been committed for these obligations.

Part of the pinch, too, comes from the necessity for paying a maximum four per cent interest on the loans for money needed this year. Next year, this cost will also be counted.

Another phase of the school problem is the inability of the state to pay the $190 per student aid it "promised" during the controversies of the 1938 legislative session.

The top fiscal experts predict the state will fall at least $8,000,000 short. Similarly, schools are being hit by demands for space.

They must continue to borrow and find new sites for future buildings. The influx of 70,000 new students this year is expected to repeat itself for five more years.

Local taxpayers are voting down many bond issues for needed buildings, adding drama to the pain that is being felt at the source of all public revenue — the taxpayer's pocketbook.

Democrats in Lansing are blaming the Republican-controlled legislature for not raising more money. The whole problem has developed into a cycle.

Democratic philosophy opposes "consumer taxes," and insists that a business, industry or the federal government pay the bills.

Republicans are charging that this attitude is already discouraging industries and businesses from staying in the state; is killing the goose that lays the green dollar bills.

So, Republicans have been waiting for the legislative tax study to be completed and delaying any new taxes. Democrats, fighting to keep industries in Michigan, claim they get a fair tax shake here but are not indicating they do not plan more taxes at that level.

The college student is getting a few breaks in the wake of the near-panic about scientific education following the ascension of the Russian Sputnik and various American satellites.

This year, banks are arranging student loans, direct payments of tuition and fees to colleges and universities. The student and/or his family repay on a budget plan.

There are more scholarships. The latest idea is creation of a semi-official state agency to accept gifts and grants for investment.

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman (R-Lansing) will push for his plan in the 1939 legislative session. It has its roots in the techniques of high finance.

Under the system, the new authority can lend out 12½ times the size of its assets. Students are expected to repay the loans over a long-range period of time.

GUARDING OUR TREASURE

If Your Name Is 'Corinne'

BY ANN REYNOLDS

Why do parents select the names they do? There are many reasons. The mother of 5 year old Corinne explained to me why she picked this pretty but uncommon name, and her reason struck me as quite unusual. Little Corinne's grandpa has a name beginning with an "A," her daddy's name starts with a "B," and so the parents found it would be nice to have their baby girl's name beginning with a "C." And Corinne it was.

This name is a heritage from ancient Greece, and was borne by a famous poetess. According to Greek myths, heaven had nine muses, and the earth, envious of it, brought forth nine muses of her own. The ninth was Corinne, the poetess. The word "Corinne" is supposed to derive from "Corax," meaning "a girl," and this Greek word, too, is being used as a first name.

The Corinne of ancient Greece lived in the fifth century B.C.; she was a contemporary and a fellow student of the famous Pindar, one of Greece's most glorious poets. Corinne was his senior by a couple of years, and sometimes gave him shandy hints on how to improve his poems. Once Pindar showed her his work, and Corinne found it overloaded with mythical allusions. "You did like the farmer who brought a sack of seeds to his field, and dumped it all in one spot instead of spreading it out over his acreage," she said, in order to make him understand that allusions and other poetical devices had to be used sparingly.

When Corinne and Pindar competed for prizes at the public games at Thebes, Corinne was victorious in five competitions. Pindar accused her of having swayed the judges by her beauty rather than by the merit of her poetry. True or not, Corinne was held in great honor, and statues were erected to her all over Greece. Of her poetic works only mere fragments came down to our times.

The name "Corinne" was revived by a famous French author, Madame de Staël-Holstein, writer and social critic, in her novel "Corinne or Italy." It was published in 1807. Her heroine Corinne is endowed with the gift of poetry, like her ancient Greek namesake, and besides with every other artistic talent.

She knows how to improvise verses, set them to music, how to act, to paint, and is an attractive, young and beautiful woman. And still the man she loves, young Lord Nevil, aware that his father would disapprove of his marrying a foreigner, chooses the less conspicuous gentle Lucile instead. The novel created a furor at its appearance; Napoleon himself is said to have written a sarcastic review of it in an important Paris newspaper, accusing Madame de Staël of lack of patriotism because she had focused too much attention on Lord Nevil, an Englishman.

'Mighty Mac' Ends First Year With 4 Million Visitors, Happy Promoters

MACKINAC BRIDGE — Saturday, 2 p.m. Nov. 1 marked the first full year of Mackinac Bridge operation. It was exactly 365 days ago that Governor Williams paid the first toll of $3.25 to cross over the Straits via the new structure to Prentiss M. Brown, Chairman of the Bridge Authority.

Incidentally, he paid by check and the check was cashed.

Since its opening, as the saying goes, a great deal of water has passed under the bridge... and passing over it, about 4 million people in 1.4 million vehicles, paying $5.2 million in tolls.

"We are extremely pleased with our first 12 months of operation," said Prentiss M. Brown, speaking for the Bridge Authority comprised of Brown, Mead L. Bricker, William J. Cochran, Mrs. Charles T. Fisher, Jr., George A. Osborn, Murray D. Van Wagoner, and John C. Mackie, State Highway Commissioner.

"Fortunately, we were able to anticipate most of the operational problems and were ready for them. The unexpected ones we solved as they arose with one or two exceptions. Most noteworthy was our failure to provide for all persons who came up here just to see the bridge.

When I say "we" I mean the State Highway Department, the Bureau of Public Roads, and ourselves. We considered the bridge primarily a transportation facility. It is on the Interstate Highway System, which has pretty solid rules and regulations about turns on and off and parking on its shoulders.

"Well, nobody paid much attention to these prohibitions this past summer. The people wanted to see 'Mighty Mac' from several different angles, photograph it, and obtain souvenirs of it. The result was that our administration building was virtually overrun with sight-seers, souvenir hunters, and postcard purchasers. We even had calls for bottle-warmers, nursery facilities, lost children and miscellaneous articles. It was reported that our personnel handled all these matters with courtesy, efficiency and diplomacy — even into the nursery request."

Many persons doubted that the bridge would withstand the violent winds and rocklike ice of the Straits of Mackinac. However, within a week after its opening it was to receive its first wind test, which it passed with flying colors. Southerly winds gusting up to 80 miles an hour were unofficially recorded at the Straits on Friday, November 8, 1937. When a down-state reporter called General Manager C. E. Haltenhoff about this, expecting no doubt, to hear that the bridge was closed down, if not blown down. Haltenhoff's comment was, "We didn't know it was blowing that hard. It hasn't bothered us. Traffic's running smoothly."

However, about 10 days later when the annual caravan of Michigan big game hunters began crossing the Straits, many with light single-axle house trailers, the bridge ran into its first problem. On the few days when the wind velocity rose to 50 to 60 miles an hour, light empty trailers occasionally had difficulty whether on the bridge or open highway. It led to the inauguration of the Mackinac Bridge "Buddy System" wherein drivers pulling these light trailers were provided with an escort to the windward site. This prevented further trailer tilting. Most of the buddies were Mackinac Bridge maintenance trucks and buses, but once in a while a huge five or six axle tractor-trailer combination would be enlisted to provide protection, an effort it would go with a couple of light trailers in its lee, like a mother duck and her ducklings.

There were two occasions during the year when traffic was purposely delayed. Vehicles backed up for almost five miles on both sides during the dedication ceremonies on June 28, and there was about a 30 minute delay on August 17 when the millionth vehicle to cross the bridge was feted.

During the summer months when traffic reached its highest volume, it would sometimes take as much as seven minutes of slow moving before a car reached the toll gate. These delays were usually due to traffic converging on the bridge right after lunch, or whenever a piece of the electronic toll equipment would get temperamental. It was learned that traffic was heaviest on Saturdays and Sundays with another peak on Tuesdays (Tuesday is the heaviest traffic day at the Wisconsin Dells). The record for any 24 hour period was Saturday August 16, when 15,519 vehicles crossed over the bridge, paying $53,875 in tolls. In 1937, the same day was the second largest in the history of the ferry service when 8594 vehicles were transported with revenues of $33,301; a gain of 61.8 per cent in both traffic and revenue for the bridge.

Comparatively few complaints about the operation of the bridge have been received. Persons accustomed to the low toll facilities of New York and San Francisco occasionally gave the toll collectors a bad time, but this was taken in stride. Also, definitions of commercial vehicles differed in the minds of persons owning them, the manufacturers building them, the state officials registering them, and the Bridge Authority charging for their passage. This led to considerable confusion and complaint in the beginning, but gradual use of the several types of multiple purpose vehicles fell into reasonable classifications, and both the complaints and the confusion have virtually disappeared.

There have been a few money handling errors, some real and some fancied. Whenever the Authority was informed, either in person or by mail, that a improper change had been received, (almost always to the benefit of the bridge), the Authority's auditing department would swing into action. The daily receipts of every toll collector can be matched against his electronic - recorded volume of both traffic and revenue. There were 23 claims of overpayment or insufficient change. Each of these were carefully investigated, and in 12 cases money was returned to the claimant. In the remaining instances letters of explanation were sent.

Mackinac Bridge maintenance and patrol personnel assisted 100 motorists who had flat tires on the bridge. They provided gasoline for 30 cars choked to a dead stop on the structure, and they gave 20 motorists necessary assistance when their cars broke down mechanically.

There were 18 accidents on the bridge and toll plaza, mostly due to sightseeing drivers. One panel truck caught fire on the south approach to the bridge during the first two weeks of operation and gave the bridge firefighters an opportunity to test their equipment and technique. Three house trailers, single axle, light weight and empty, turned over on the bridge, with very little damage. One boat trailer flipped; a dedication float fell victim; and a small light weight metal boat took off when the driver decided to change the rigging while on the bridge - all due to high winds from the west.

There were six minor rear end bumps on the toll plaza, three collisions on the bridge - two with minor damages and the other running into hundreds of dollars, and one car went out of control hitting the bridge curb in the opposite lane but sustaining no damage. There were no serious personal injuries.

Authority patrolmen warned 138 motorists for exceeding the speed limit which is 45 miles per hour and scaled downward according to driving conditions; 130 motorists were warned about parking out on the bridge; 20 motorists failed to stop at the toll plaza and pay their toll; they were quickly caught by radiodirected bridge patrolmen and the toll collected. One driver under alcoholic influence tried to cross the bridge without paying his toll. He was apprehended, incarcerated, sobered up and he paid up.

The Authority patrol forces escorted 52 explosive-laden trucks across the bridge, and 99 oversize vehicles. Drivers were supplied for 11 vehicles so that victims of agoraphobia (morbid fear of crossing open spaces) could close their eyes. One burly truck driver crouched in the rear of a patrol car under a blanket while an Authority maintenance man drove his truck across. No extra charge for all these services.

The Bridge Authority also operates a bus service between downtown St. Ignace and Mackinac City for the benefit of those who wish to cross and do not wish to use their own cars. The fare is fifty cents per person, no charge for children under twelve accompanied by parents, and commuter tickets sell for $5.00. An unaudited check of the bus operation indicates that the Authority will net between $20,000 and $25,000 profit from this operation.

Officially the bridge is not yet completed. The initial painting is almost done but not quite and the painting sub-contractor will in all likelihood have to return next spring. The tower elevators likewise are still under construction and the contract does not call for completion until summer of 1939.

"All in all, it has been a very good year," said Mr. Brown, "except for the passing on of our great good friend, a fine public servant and late Vice Chairman of the Bridge Authority, Charles T. Fisher, Jr."

"Our traffic is not up to the estimates made four years ago by the experts, but revenues of more than $1,000,000 have been more than sufficient to take care of our interest payments, extras on maintenance and operation over our state allotment of $417,000 and still leave some money for reserves for refunding of bonds. With expected economic recovery we are confident that traffic will increase in 1939. It proved this past year that we have the greatest tourist attraction in the Middle West. Now our job is to promote it," concluded Brown.

A true friend is one who thinks you're a good egg even when you're busted. The awkward age: Too old for a come age exemption and too young for old age pension.

SILENCE ISN'T GOLDEN

It takes a certain amount of horn-blowing to sell a town, and if it seems as though one day long ago somebody put away the horn and it has been forgotten, let's get it out and join the parade. Otherwise we stand aside and watch the parade go by.

If a town wants new industry it must talk up its advantages so industry can hear. Towns too must sell if they are to stay in business, and no town ever sold itself sitting silently by the side of the road.

New industry means more work for people of the community, more dollars in circulation all over the town, more prosperity for you and your neighbors. Your town has a selling message; help make it heard.

If your town is to attract industry, it needs every citizen as a salesman, and in this business there's no such thing as silent selling.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

This ad is published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Economic Development Department.

NAMED MASQUERADE BALL winners recently were new Plymouth residents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Snowden, of 465 Parkview, when they attended a party given by the Officers' club and sponsored by the 210th Anti-Aircraft Headquarters Battalion at the Detroit Field Armory. They came as Henry VIII and his wife Ann Boelyn. Mrs. Snowden made both their costumes in a period of three months. They moved to Plymouth from Redford Township on September 29. Mr. Snowden is coordinator of equipment operations for Detroit Edison. Last week, from Oct. 19-24, he attended the 46th annual Safety Conference and Exposition in Chicago with Mrs. Snowden as one of the representatives for his company. President Eisenhower addressed the group.

Unhappy Birthday to You

CHICAGO (UPI) — Birthdays aren't the happy occasions you're cracked up to be — if you listen to your psychiatrist. They bring on depression and real illness in some cases, according to "What's New," a medical publication. This reaction is especially common among men, the magazine says, because every birthday reminds him that he is getting closer to the age at which his father died. Subconsciously he thinks he may die at the same age.

The statue of freedom on the dome of the Capitol at Washington was erected in 1863.

Autumn is Tasty
Apple Pie Time!

Luscious wedges of fresh-baked apple pie only minutes from the oven... m-m-m-m, can't you just smell it now? An autumn favorite if there ever was one! You can make it an extra special treat by sprinkling grated cheese over the sliced apples before placing top crust on the pie. This little trick brings out a delicious, tangy flavor that empties pie plates like magic! And from apple pie to complete family meals, we recommend the wonderful cooking qualities of a modern Gas range oven. Perfect baking and roasting requires controlled, even heat, the kind you get in a Gas oven. The exact cooking temperature you need is accurately held... your cakes, pies, roasts cook evenly to a golden brown goodness. Gas range ovens are automatic too! You set the controls for the time and temperature then leave for the day if you please. The oven turns on, holds a uniform temperature, and turns off all by itself. More good cooks agree, there's nothing quite like a Gas range oven for perfect cooking and convenience. Your Gas Range Dealer will be happy to tell you today about all the advantages of modern Gas cooking!

NEW FORM NEW GRACE NEW FEEL NEW SPACE

One look tells you the new '59 Chevrolet is fresh, fine and fashionable—shaped to the new American taste!

And the longer you look, the more you find to like. There's Chevy's fresh-Slimline design, for example, with a new and roomier Body by Fisher and vast areas of visibility. A new finish that needs no waxing for up to three years. And there's new feel, new efficiency beneath that beauty. Bigger brakes, smoother-than-ever suspensions; a new Hi-Thrift 6 that delivers as much as 10% greater gas economy. Chevy's new right down to its easier riding, easier rolling Tyrex cord tires—but strong as ever in those traditional Chevrolet qualities of economy and dependability. Drive it at your Chevrolet dealer's now.

'59 CHEVY!

what America wants, America gets in a Chevy!

The beautifully practical new Biacayne 2-Door Sedan. Every window of every Chevy is Safety Plate Glass.

This new Bel Air 4-Door Sedan, like all '59 Chevs, has a new finish that keeps its luster for years!

Plymouth Group Makes 19-Day Flying Trip Through Europe

By David Jolliffe
Perhaps for the same reason that the bear went over the mountain, a group of localities went to Europe.

Their unanimous opinion: it was well worth the effort.

Most of that effort was expended by one Kurt Thrun, founder and operator of the Plymouth Travel Centre, who acted as guide but turned out to be a specialist in the thousand and one problems that must be solved when 14 amateurs are led into the strange, yet wonderful world of foreign travel.

"Invitation to Europe," organized by the Plymouth Travel Centre, left Detroit September 26, returned October 13 after visiting 7 European countries. Tentative plans call for a repeat visit next spring and will include much of the same itinerary. Besides myself, those participating in this first "Invitation to Europe" included: Inez and Mrs. H. F. Enterline, 11850 Haggerty Road, Plymouth; Walter Panse of the Plymouth Gauge and Tool Company, Inc.; Miss Marie L. McKenna and Miss Mildred Young of Northville; Mr. and Mrs. Julius M. Sprandel, 12085 Inkster Road, Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Curtis, 965 W. Cross, Ypsilanti; Mr. and Mrs. Monte Kahlbaum, 1511 Monroe St., Carleton; and Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, 2429 Maxwell Road, Carleton.

One of the main purposes of "Invitation to Europe" was to visit the World's Fair in Brussels, Belgium and the Oktoberfest in Munich, Germany. This was done.

You seldom get the chance to see the arts and crafts of many nations centrally located and it's rare indeed that you see a country's citizenry collectively celebrating.

Thus the uniqueness of both the World's Fair and the Oktoberfest made them interesting, if not outstanding.

But plenty was outstanding. Too much, in fact, to list separately. However a few thoughts, humbly presented, might be in order:

Europeans take life differently than we do. They move slower and easier. Still, without seeming to really try, everybody gets where they're going. Perhaps they just don't figure on going quite as far.

In Spain — the land where the rain falls mainly on the plain because there's so much of it — the shops close every afternoon for the Siesta, then open again for evening business.

Europe is a small land. Perhaps that's another reason why life there is geared to a different tempo. Streets are small, but so are cars. Individual farms are small, but there's a lot of them.

Although Europeans don't have plenty of room to swing a rope they do have plenty of heart and plenty of hope.

Faced with the necessity of using a small area to grow barley, carrots and potatoes as well as spinach and tomatoes, Europeans are forced to make use of what space they have.

They do just that by devoting every available inch of tillable land to agriculture.

In Holland — a country the Dutch had to steal from the sea in the first place — farm lands creep to within a foot of airplane runways.

In Switzerland — the country that keeps its peace by walking softly and carrying a big stick — dozens of small storage bins for crops dot the landscape without marring mountain beauty. A big barn would suffice. It would be cheaper to build, cheaper to keep, easier to use. But the conscientious Swiss decided long ago to keep their landscape clear and clean.

In Germany — a country whose technology could boost it into world leadership under proper guidance — a strong willed race of people have bounced back from death and destruction to rebuild a nation with almost frightening speed.

There's other differences that attract attention. For one thing Europe has far less automobile accidents than the United States. Perhaps because there are few women drivers but probably because Europeans, although they drive fast on poor roads, seem to possess a blind faith that the other fellow will not do the unexpected.

European dining service is something you have to see to believe. No request is too much. No finicky stomach with special tastes is a bother. In the better dining spots there is a distinct division of labor. A special waiter concentrates on filling water glasses. Another may take care of your wine glass. Still another your butter dish. And a whole flock of efficient people serve the main course. The average European — the man on the street — couldn't be nicer. He'll bend over backwards to help you in any way he can.

Not only are they nice to you — they're nice to each other, too. There are no fights, no squabbles, no misunderstandings that can't be resolved by peaceful methods.

And while they drink everything from strong beer to potent brandy they know when to stop. There are no reeling drunks, no bar room brawls, no bowerys, no street corner bums.

It's perfectly safe to walk down almost any street late at night.

But enough of this. Only a foolish man would visit a foreign country for 19 days and then feel qualified to record his conclusions. A foolish one has spoken and now retires with his memories and his snapshots.

Just What You Ordered

NEW YORK — (UP) — Sauté green pepper and onion rings in butter or margarine. Add sliced, cooked potatoes, toss and heat thoroughly. Fleck with salt, black pepper and grated Parmesan cheese. Serve at once with steaks or chops.

Fibre is produced from pineapple leaves in northern Zululand. Farmers obtain about one ton of fibre an acre.

READY FOR their ocean hop by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines is this group of area people who recently toured Europe. From left are David Jolliffe, John Knox, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Kahlbaum, Miss Mildred Young, Miss Marie McKenna, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Harold Enterline and daughter Inez, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Sprandel, and kneeling, Kurt Thrun and Walter Panse.

Fresh Squash Chips
NEW YORK — (UP) — Something new in the vegetable chip department: fresh squash chips. Peel and seed winter squash. Slice paper thin with a vegetable parer, as for potato chips. Soak in ice water 1 hour, drain and pat dry. Fry in deep, hot (380 degree) fat until brown. Drain on paper towels, sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Calendar sales are now in progress. Any leader whose troop needs more calendars or is unable to dispose of those they were given should contact Mrs. J. E. Cooper, 1375 W. Ann Arbor Trail, GL 1-1434 next week so that calendars can be made available to all who want them.

Leaders of the Senior Girl Scout Troops 237, 239 and 254 have received the 1959 Senior Roundup application forms and information on the Roundup to be distributed to each Senior girl in their troop.

The application consists of:
1. Senior Scout Background Sheet
2. Applicants Statement and Parents Statement
3. Skills, Rating Sheet and the Leaders Rating Sheet for the applicants.

The contact person having extra application forms and current information on the Roundup in our district No. 1 is Mrs. William Dierdorf, 26265 Leontine, New Boston, telephone GL 4-5213.

All applications must be in to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Office, 201 N. Washington St., Ypsilanti, no later than December 1, 1958. Applications will not be considered after that date.

The delegates and alternates will be selected during December by a special Roundup Selections Committee. Training for the delegates and alternates will begin in January.

Brownie Troop No. 267, under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Jones and Mrs. James Green, met in Bird School on Thursday. The girls made candy favors for children at Northville State Hospital. Officers for the month of October are Barbara Jones, president; Barbara Green, secretary; Olivia Way, treasurer; Sylvia Majewski, Sunshine Girl; and Susanne Warner, publicity.

Brownie Troop No. 270 began their activities for the new year by electing the following officers: chairman, Linda Wagonshutz; treasurer and Sunshine Girl, Sue Roberts; secretary Roseanne Kelly.

Members are very enthusiastic about their "Good Grooming Charts" which they completed at our last meeting. The leaders have received many favorable comments regarding this project from the mothers.

The girls are anxiously looking forward to their nature hike which is being planned for the near future. They will be assisted in this venture by Intermediate Troop No. 263.

We are very happy to welcome Nancy Spigarelli, Ronnie Larrick and Linda Authier as new members, and Gretchen Steiner who has transferred to our troop. Leaders of Troop No. 270 are Mrs. Polly Ferguson and Mrs. Vi Roberts.

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop No. 251 had a wonderful time, on a hayride this week. Cheryl Becker reported. Mr. Sprague furnished the tractor and took the girls along McClumpha Rd. Barbara Haas taught them some new songs while they were riding and everyone had a good time.

James R. Hunt To Address Catholics Here

James R. Hunt, one of Michigan's outstanding leaders in the world of ideas and books, will address members of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church at a meeting in their church hall, corner of William and Arthur Avenues, on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 8 p.m. on "Catholicism, Controversy and the Changing World."

A committee representing all the lay groups of the parish is arranging for an informal social hour, following the address, at which members will have an opportunity to meet and consult with Mr. Hunt, who is Administrative Assistant to the Librarian of Wayne County.

This event, according to Father Francis C. Byrne, pastor, has been planned especially for parents and adolescents alarmed by the challenges that the materialistic tendencies of our age pose to the intellectual and spiritual development of modern youth.

Rebekah News

Our next meeting is Friday, Nov. 14. At this time all Past Noble Grands will be honored.

Next visitation is at Highland No. 394, Tuesday, Nov. 18. Sorry to report that "Granma" Jewell is very ill.

Including its tributaries, the Amazon River flows about 3,900 miles from the Peruvian Andes to the Atlantic.

The PLYMOUTH MAIL

Thursday, November 6, 1958, Plymouth, Michigan Section 4

Who's New in Plymouth

NEW TO PLYMOUTH are Rev. and Mrs. R. N. Raycroft and their three at-home daughters — in their fine family of eight children — Beverly, 15, left; Faith, 14, center, and Donna, 12. Rev. Raycroft is the new pastor of The Church of the Nazarene on E. Ann Arbor Trail and moved here just last Thursday from Anderson, Ind., where he pastored the Nazarene church there for a little over three years. Previously he did evangelistical work for four years from coast to coast, calling home Goshen, Ind. From 1949-1952, he pastored the Nazarene church in Lowell, Mass., and prior to that did the same in Moira, N. Y., for 15 years. He enjoys hunting and fishing and his markmanship conversation piece in the livingroom of the parsonage is a handsome antelope head, result of a hunting expedition in Wyoming in '55. Faith recently captured the Nazarene "Teen Talent" vocal contest in her Indiana district, competing against singers in 93 churches. The Raycrofts' other five married children are: Mrs. Frederick Fletcher of Moira, N. Y., mother of three; Rev. Ray Cecil Raycroft, pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, St. Catherine's, in Ontario, with two children; Mrs. David Kercher of Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Charles Freeman of Indianapolis, Ind., one child; and Mrs. Kent Brechtel of Goshen, Ind.

Ladywood High Fall Festival Is Planned

The time for the annual Thanksgiving Frolic or Fall Festival at Ladywood is here again. Purpose of the Fall Festival is to raise funds for the expansion of Ladywood's Science facilities. Through the success of this activity it is hoped that Ladywood will have a new biology laboratory, four new classrooms, and physics equipment for the existing lab. The new tentative Science program for Ladywood is: 10th grade — mathematics and physics; 11th grade — Higher Mathematics and Chemistry and 12th grade — Sociology and Biology.

DANCE
Ladywood's Dads' and Mothers' Clubs sponsored the annual "Get - Acquainted" Dance for parents of Ladywoodians on Saturday evening, Oct. 25.

JEWELRY SALE
The Jewelry Sale sponsored by Ladywood's Choral Club

ended Monday, Nov. 3. It is hoped that a large profit will be realized so that a band may be organized and established for Ladywood.

SCHOOL DIRECTORIES
The Press Club of Ladywood is sponsoring the sale of Ladywood Directories in order to finance the publication of the school newspaper, the LADYWOOD STAR. These address books went on sale Monday, Nov. 3.

Madonna College Art Students Have Christmas Cards for Sale

New greeting cards, including a special Christmas set, have been turned out by the Madonna College art department for bookstores in four states.

Designed by Sister M. Angeline, art instructor, and her students, the Christmas card project is replacing the annual Christmas Gift Shop in raising the College building fund.

A deeper ideal than fund-raising, however, makes each card convey a message of true joy and peace. The set of 22 modern designs, each in a slim jim format, is imbued with the 2000-year-old Christian truth of Bethlehem. The greetings, themselves, are hand-lettered.

All cards are now being sold at bookstores in New York City, New Haven, Conn. and Washington, D.C. in Detroit they are on sale at Krieg Bros., McDevitt's, Madonna bookshop and Hudson's downtown, Northland and Eastland stores.

The art department has also produced spiritual bouquets, 12 kinds of prayer and religious quotations cards and laminated plaques.

In the future, Sister Angeline plans to design religious cards for all occasions, such as sympathy, birthday, baptism and anniversary greetings.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

PEARL HARBOR (UPI)—A man here goes by the name of Kekoaalauionapali-hauiikiokiokekolau Kaapua-waokamehameha. His first name means: "the small-leaved koa on the verdant cliffs of the Koolau Mountains." His family name signifies: "the awa cup bearer of Kamehameha the Great."

Sit While Working To Prevent Fatigue

By sitting while you work in your kitchen you can avoid tired feet, prevent fatigue, and save energy, says specialist at Michigan State University. Collect all the materials and necessary equipment before you start the job so you can stay seated. Then sit comfortably with lap under the counter space.

The working area for 'sit-down' work should be a convenient height so you can work without raising your arms. Your feet should rest comfortably on the floor or on some sort of platform if you're sitting on a high chair or stool type chair.

The Weimar Constitution was basis for the German republic formed after World War I.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS... FROM THE PAGES OF THE MAIL

10 Years Ago

November 5, 1948

Plymouth follows tradition and votes heavily Republican.

A hard time Halloween party was given by Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Sullivan (the former Marion Beyer) for 40 guests at their home on White Lake on Saturday evening.

Mary Agnes Evans and Marjorie Elliott spent Monday evening in Detroit.

Kathryn Micol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Micol is spending ten days in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scheppele and family, formerly of Plymouth road, have moved into their new residence on North Territorial road.

Mrs. Robert Gardner, Mrs. T. J. Smith and Mrs. Charley Smyth spent Thursday in Blissfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miller flew to Minneapolis for a Minnesota - Michigan game.

Pat Nisley was elected president of the Junior Red Cross at their regular meeting held on Monday. Other officers elected were Joy Evanoff, Helen Stremick and Kathy Hembree.

Jerry Shetterloe was the guest of honor at a surprise party celebrating his 21st birthday.

Mrs. Charles Draper entertained eight guests at an election watch party on Tuesday evening at her home on Church street.

25 Years Ago

Friday, November 3, 1933

Mrs. Joseph Fluery had the misfortune to fall last Tuesday evening, enroute from her home to the Methodist church. She suffered a broken ankle.

There has been much speculation during the past few days as to the age of the oak tree that was removed from in front of the Schrader Funeral Parlors the other day. Although every effort possible has been made by Mr. Schrader to save the great old tree, more and more dead branches have appeared each spring and it was deemed advisable to have it cut down. While no accurate count of the rings was taken as it was cut down, those who formed the sidewalk brigade state there must have been well over 100 rings. The Mail has questioned several older residents who always state they remember the tree as "always having been there."

The newly organized Mission Society of St. Peter's Lutheran church held its first regular meeting with Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith on Wednesday afternoon and elected Mrs. Bertha Kahri as their president. The aim of the group will be to help the Indian Missions in Arizona.

About 30 children and grandchildren of Mr. and

Mrs. Chris Drews gave them a complete surprise Monday evening, at their home on Starkweather avenue, in celebration of their forty-ninth wedding anniversary.

Beer Money! Exactly $992.75 was added to the city treasury this week through vouchers from the State Liquor Control Commission.

This represents 95 per cent of the fees paid by beer license holders in Plymouth.

Plymouth's Fall Festival brought thousands of visitors to our city. Cold weather didn't seem to bother anyone. In the kiddie parade Orlyn and Celia Lewis won first prize with their float they called NRA. Billy Wernette walked away with second prize with his country hay wagon. Boy Scout Troop No. 2 did most well winning in both the kiddie parade and the community parade. John Jacobs, who is scout master of this troop can really be proud of his boys. Youngest baby attending was Jackie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney England. Newest married couple were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Williams married Sept. 7; Oldest Married couple Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rowe married in 1870; Mrs. Charles Thumme walked away with the prize for the longest hair, 45 inches; Mr. and Mrs. Seward Rolf won the prize for coming the farthest, Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Watson of Saranac were a close second. Ferris Mathias was the tallest man being 6 foot 2 inches; Paul Hayward weighing only 186 was the fattest man to register.

Mrs. Corrine Payne of Blunk street was the tallest lady weighing six foot one-half inch and Mrs. Gladys Nowry of a street tipped the scales at 310 and won herself a prize. In all everyone had a wonderful time.

When John Robinson lost $21.00 in real cash the other day at the Purify Market he never thought he would see it again but Manny Blunk who came into the market just after the floor, found it on the notified Dave Galin. Dave just happened to remember Robinson as having been in there who was notified. A quick trip back to the market made Robinson a mighty happy man.

There must be a musical thief in Plymouth as Captain Everett of the Salvation Army reports that his new trumpet has been stolen from the hall.

50 Years Ago

November 6, 1908

The first meeting of the season of the Finch club took place Tuesday evening with Dr. and Mrs. Patterson.

A silver collection will be taken Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church for our sufferers of Metz.

New independent phones were installed in the D.U.R. Waiting room and the William Sutherland home this week.

Maurice Campbell fractured his collar bone while practicing football Wednesday afternoon. Lucky for him his father, Dr. Campbell, was around to reduce the pain.

Village President F. F. Bennett and Councilman John Patterson leave Thursday for a three weeks hunting trip into northern Michigan.

The Plymouth Telephone company has filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk under the new name of The Wayne County Telephone Company. The capital stock is $50,000, of which $28,000 is paid in. The directors of the company, of which all are Plymouth residents, remain as formerly.

W. T. Pettingill, Albert Gayde, William Henry George Springer, and Doc

Passage leave Thursday for a month's hunt in Luce county. George VanDeCar, Orr Passage, Nelson Schrader, Fred Reiman and Matt Powell leave Wednesday for a similar expedition in Oscoda county.

Friday will be one of those memorable days, when the Newburg L.A.S. put on their annual and now famous fair. The president will give 50 cents to the persons bringing in the biggest half bushel of potatoes. There will be a fish pond and a 20 cent supper.

There was a small turn out at the election at Livonia Center last Tuesday with only 263 votes being polled.

Bent with age, his eyes dimmed from the light of three centuries, Henry Moore, one of the Ann Arbor area's aged colored citizens, is the oldest persons residing in Washtenaw County and one of the oldest in the state. Born in slavery on Christmas Eve 1799, he has lived in the eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth centuries and is today 108 years old.

WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT AND SHERMAN ARE VICTORS IN TUESDAY'S ELECTION. Republican National ticket given handsome majority in electoral college.

There were 561 votes cast in Plymouth Tuesday. Republicans swept clean all offices. In the contest to adopt the constitution the votes were yes 193, no 99.

HANDWRITING

Tells About Yourself

By LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Lucille:
Will you kindly analyze my handwriting?
Thank you,
A Reader

Dear Reader:
You're the sympathetic type — a good listener but you also like to do your share of talking. You like and appreciate music.

Sometimes you're self-conscious but you feel things out and act accordingly. Your thinking is along a spiritual line and its slow, logical and when you come to a decision it's emphatically final.

You are a dignified person with varied interests and a knack of looking up and ahead. No one could hurt your feelings, you would just shrug it off and go on to something new.

H.W.M.:
I'm cutting out some of the letters to make room for more answers this week. Hope you don't mind.

To your question, no you aren't a dual personality — the strokes are basically the same.

Your head will rule your heart, good judgment and a calm attitude. You like music and have a sense of rhythm to your writing. With your creative ability with your hands you may even be musically inclined.

Sometimes you enjoy just relaxing by yourself — in fact you keep things pretty much to yourself.

You're inclined to be a bit extravagant whether it's with your time or finances, probably some of both. You have intuition and feel things sometimes before they happen.

Mrs. F. F.:
Your letter was the one I accidentally ruined and asked to have another sent in. Thank you very much.

You are quite a variable person. Sometimes logical, calm open minded and other times you express openly and show your feelings.

Actually you have ability, you can construct with your hands, whether it's in the form of cooking, sewing or in an artistic way.

You're easily irritated, very blunt and emphatic, and can be hurt without effort.

If what you attempt does not go the way you want it to you're persistent enough to keep trying again.

Dear Lucille:
I am interested in calligraphy. Would you analyze my writing?
Thank you,
Mrs. F.D.T.

Mrs. F.D.T.:
You are a "natural" for calligraphy. You are a concentrated minded person and have an artistic flair. These are very necessary. There's a definite aggressiveness and future planning to your handwriting that helps you plan ahead and work at something worth while.

Because you wouldn't be content with any thing routine or every day you're hit a talent and are making the most of it.

A trend towards writing ability adds to your qualifications. You'll be a good one.

Always Confused:
Your letter is too long to print. I think your main problem in acquiring work is your mental confusion. You're all bottled up emotionally and seem to be afraid to express yourself. There's just no self confidence and you feel sorry for yourself.

However, all is not lost — you have the will to do and ability to learn. Your hands are your best asset, they are constructive, why not use them and try to do part time work where you can learn while you earn? Maybe typing, sewing, alterations, inspection work, etc.

Dear Miss Williams:
A group of us were discussing character analysis the other night over our cups of coffee and all vowed to write to you for your interpretations. I'm keeping my promise and I expect the others will also.
Marsha Ellen

Dear Marsha:
I'm not sure how many of the letters this week are your "Koffee Klatch" friends. Hope some are, the rest will follow next week.

You are a friendly, considerate type, kind and frequently generous. Looking right and doing things right gives you a certain amount of pride. You like to express yourself.

Variation in affairs is a must with you and you like to be active.

Writing ability is not outstanding but there is a tendency towards it, with a good imagination and a sense of humor.

You are visionary and look up and towards the future and are persistent enough to achieve what you desire. Hope this answers your questions.

Wayne State Professor Speaks At Methodist Program Sunday

A talk on Missions in Hawaii will be presented at First Methodist Church this Sunday evening as the second in a series of programs devoted to missions in Alaska and Hawaii.

Speaking at 7 p.m. will be Rupert L. Cortright, professor of speech at Wayne State University. Prof. Cortright, who was visiting professor at the University of Hawaii in 1950, is widely known in both educational and religious circles and is co-author of two books.

He has been on the Wayne staff since 1930, is past president of the Speech Association of America, was for many years a member of the Detroit Council of Religious Education and member of the Board of directors of the Detroit Council of Churches, a trustee of Albion College 1946-52, and a member of Metropolitan Methodist Church, Detroit.

Prof. Rupert Cortright

members of the church to attend this program. During succeeding Sundays, programs will have Henry Penhale and Mrs. Ruth Burr as speakers.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—Dear Elinor: I'm one of those girls who doesn't know what to say to boys. For example, what do you say when a boy thanks you for a dance? How do you tell a boy you had a good time on a date without actually saying "Thank you"? How do you refuse a date (previous plans) but let the boy know you really want to date him?

Q.—Dear Miss Williams: About two years ago I got a bad reputation - not serious trouble. Now I stay away from boys and am afraid of them. Could you tell me how I can overcome this, have friends again and keep a good reputation?

Ans.—(1) After a dance: "It was fun!" After a date: "It was fun... I enjoyed it so much!" or "It was a real fun-date; I hope you enjoyed it as much as I did!" Refusing a date: "Sorry I can't make it, because I'd really like to, and I hope you'll give me a rain-check sometime soon... next week, if you can. Friday?" (Make the date definite while you have a chance!)

Q.—Dear Miss Williams: The work is to be done by James Marr as installing officer, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Swick. They are all from Lenawee County and they are splendid in their work. We are happy to state that Sam Spicer and Jesse Tritten are both home from the hospital and feeling much better. The meeting last Thursday night was fine; about 60 were present. The degree team did their work well and I am sure everyone enjoyed seeing it done. A fine class of nine new members received the degrees.

Mrs. John Oldenburg is at St. Joseph's hospital, and will have K. Rays Wednesday of this week. Send her a card—room 4050.

Mrs. Edythe Hadley is now at the Mary Margaret Rest Home on Main St. and is feeling about the same as at last writing. Send her a card, too.

their Pinochle club. Mrs. Doris Abrams and Mrs. Doris Coyle of our subdivision and seven other ladies enjoyed the fun and entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson spent Sunday in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carson of Gilbert St.

Unexpected callers in the Norman Alband home on Gilbert St. on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hiller and daughters of Scottsville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith and sons from Allen Park. Miss Linda Distler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Distler of Butternut St., attended a Halloween party at the home of her girl friend, Miss Carol Farmer, in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mansfield and daughter from Defiance, O., spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Olson of Brownell St. Miss Debbie Van Toll celebrated her sixth birthday on Sunday, Nov. 2. Happy birthday, Debbie.

Mrs. Helen Jones of Butternut St. celebrated her birthday on Friday. Her two sons, Robert and Fred, took their mother to see Cinerama in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kranz and family spent Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bennett in Livonia.

Russell Liimakka and daughter Jackie attended the Michigan Standard Bread Horse Sale in Adrian on Thursday of this week.

Mrs. Harry Smith of Butternut St. attended a shower in honor of Mrs. Jim Hall, in the home of Mrs. Fern Thompson on Haggerty Rd. The Halls are missionaries and will be leaving for New Guinea soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Alband of Gilbert St. had all their children home on Sunday. They include Andy Alband, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spaulding and family, Miss Ardis Alband and friend, Gayle Wells, from Lake Orion.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jarosky of Gilbert St. had dinner Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Karner, Jr.

Ralph Kranz celebrated his birthday on Wednesday, Oct. 23. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Kranz and Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dix and Mary of Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kranz of Plymouth helped to celebrate the occasion.

A delicious pheasant dinner was enjoyed in the home of Mrs. Helen Jones on Tuesday, by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Alband and Mrs. Maud Anderson. Fred was the one who supplied the dinner.

Gary Carson and Andy Alband left Monday morning at 8:30 a.m. for the Great Lakes Naval Base in Chicago. Both boys will be able to be home for Christmas which is encouraging to both parents.

Grange Gleanings

This is an important night in our Grange and we hope there will be a fine turnout. Pot luck supper as usual first. The obligation of the nine new candidates follows and then the installation of the officers. The work is to be done by James Marr as installing officer, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Swick. They are all from Lenawee County and they are splendid in their work. We are happy to state that Sam Spicer and Jesse Tritten are both home from the hospital and feeling much better. The meeting last Thursday night was fine; about 60 were present. The degree team did their work well and I am sure everyone enjoyed seeing it done. ### Choose Washer With Features That Suit You

If you're buying an automatic washer, you'll find many models to choose from and many points to consider in making your choice, say home management specialists at Michigan State University.

It's a good idea to shop fairly "close to home." Buy from a well-established dealer who gives good service and is near enough to give it to you conveniently. Look for a brand by a reputable manufacturer who has been in business long enough to have some years of research and development back of the washer he makes.

When you're looking for a washer, consider the features that are most important to you. There is no one best machine—different people want different things. Choose the one with the most features that suit you for the price you want to pay.

Find out how much hot water the washer takes for a complete wash and rinse cycle. Consider this in relation to your hot water supply. One washer load won't put you out of hot water for the rest of the day, will it?

What kind of washing action do you want? Washers come with agitator, pump agitator, cylinder or tumbler, agitated tub, and energized water actions.

The amount of water removed from clothes is determined by tub design and r.p.m. (revolutions per minute) which may range from 450 to 1140.

How adjustable is it? It's an advantage to be able to stop and start the machine during the cycle, to be able to use a small amount of water for small loads, and to be able to skip or repeat parts of the cycle. Many washers have wash-and-wear cycles which automatically give shorter, gentler washing action, reduced water temperature, and a reduced spin.

Be sure the machine will be easy to use. It should be easy to load and unload. Can you add articles after the machine has started? Dials should be easy to read.

Consider the space you have. Machines range from about 25 to 30 inches—will it fit?

Check to see if there is a built-in ground wire for your own safety. Find out where it is. Ask about the fuse or circuit breaker to protect the motor in case of overload.

Is the "fill" controlled by a timer or some other device? If the water pressure in your home is below 15 to 20 pounds, this question will be especially important to you. With a timer-controlled fill when water pressure is low the tub will not completely fill without resetting.

Florida Man Killed On Seven Mile Road In Salem Area After Motorcycle Crash

By Mrs. Herbert Famuliner
FI. 9-0924

Harvey E. Harry, 43, of Panama City, Fla., was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital shortly after 3 p.m. Wednesday. Dr. A.W. Allen, deputy medical examiner of Washtenaw County, said Harry suffered a fatal skull fracture. Harry, visiting his parents at Whitmore Lake, was riding his motorcycle which left the curve on Seven Mile at Earhart Rd. The motorcycle crossed a ditch, bounced 25 feet in the air and crashed through underbrush landing in a field.

Salem Deputies were still busy with hunters on farmers' property without permission. P.T.A. will be held Thursday evening at 8 p.m. at the New Hudson Elm School. The first fall meeting of the Go Getters 4-H Club was held at the home of David and Martha Lutchka. Officers elected for the coming year were David Lutchka, president; Susan Cort, vice president; Martha Lutchka, secretary; Pamela Sibary, treasurer; Nancy Page, recreation; Cathy VanBonn, song leader; Mary Straub, health leader. Junior leaders for the club this year will be Mary Morred and David Lutchka. The group's next meeting will be Thursday, Nov. 6, at the home of Nancy Page, of Dixboro Rd.

Mrs. Oscar Grainger of Thamesville, Ont., and Miss Marie Grainger of Chatham, Ont., spent Thursday night and Friday morning at the Famuliner's.

Suzie Cort, Hank and Sharon Beck were joint hosts for a hay ride on Halloween night. Dancing and refreshments were enjoyed afterward at the Cort home on Six Mile Rd.

Mrs. Marie Raymor returned home this week-end after spending two weeks at Lowell.

Admission Standards Raised At Eastern Michigan College

Admission standards and screening processes for admission to Eastern Michigan College were discussed at a meeting of the College Advisory Committee and EMC faculty and staff Wednesday night.

President Eugene B. Elliott announced that the committee surveyed the implications of the new screening process begun three years ago at the college. This has involved raising the level at which EMC will accept the high school record of a student as the major single index of ability to do college work.

President Elliott noted that beginning in the fall of 1959, any student applying for admission to the college with less than a B average will be required to take examinations as well as having his entire record and potentialities scrutinized.

Among those invited was Superintendent Russell L. Isbister of Plymouth.

4-H Fall Achievement winners chosen in Ann Arbor last week were Dairy, David Lutchka of Five Mile Rd.; Crops, David Hodgson of Seven Mile; Garden, Bruce Conant of Napier Rd. and Linda Sherrick of Seven Mile; soil and water conservation, David Lutchka of Five Mile Rd.

November 8 is the Fireman's Dance at the Salem Fire Hall with Jack Scheel, the caller, and band.

N.E.W. Farm Bureau and Suburban Farm both meet Thursday evening Nov. 13.

Sunshine club will meet Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Clinansmith.

Janet Riorden celebrated her 15th birthday on Sunday, Nov. 2.

Sue Hartman of South Lyon spent the weekend with Mary Birkelbaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tiffin of Godfredson Rd. attended a Halloween party Saturday evening at Orchard Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Alter and family spend Sunday at Flat Rock at the Raymond Alter home.

A Halloween party was held after school on Friday afternoon at the home of Mary and Ruth Birkelbaw with 10 attending. Games were played and pop corn served as refreshments.

Newburg: Couples Celebrate Mutual Wedding Anniversaries

BY MRS. EMIL LAPOINTE
GA. 1-2029

In celebration of a mutual wedding anniversary in the month of October, Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Niemann of Newburg road, Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ricketts of Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Roderick and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sharpe of Detroit, met at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth, Sunday afternoon, Oct. 26, for dinner. This is the ninth annual meeting for the four couples and the anniversary being celebrated was the 39th. All were married in 1919.

November 8-11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Sacred Heart circle of Alar Society of St. Michael's Catholic church, met at the home of Mrs. Emily Long on Ann Arbor road Tuesday, Oct. 28, with the following members present: Mrs. James McGarvey, Mrs. Wilfred LaBelle, Mrs. Stanley Belanger, Mrs. Arthur Gennis, Mrs. Neil Suddendorf and Mrs. David Richmond. The circle of ladies is looking for new members and anyone in the Newburg area is cordially invited to attend. The meeting night is set for the fourth Tuesday of every month, immediately following the weekly devotions at the church.

The October meeting of the Riverside Book club was held at the home of Mrs. Lester Larrabee on Orangelawn with 13 members present. The highlight of the day's meeting was the viewing of slides taken by Mr. and Mrs. Verner Nyman of Laurel ave. while they were visiting in Finland recently.

Rhoda circle of Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. James Greenwood on Newburg road on Tuesday evening, Oct. 28. After an opening worship service, conducted by Mrs. Otto Brey and a fine program, concerned with Methodist Missions, conducted by Mrs. Thomas Waltz, the usual business was transacted. This group is busily engaged in selling candy, at $1.00 per can and also making preparations for the coming bazaar. Those present for the evening's activities were Mrs. James Tomlinson, Mrs. Ralph Gray, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. Glenn McGhee, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Mrs. Thomas Waltz, Mrs. Otto Brey, Mrs. John Kregger, Mrs. Robert Suda and Mrs. Sam Epley. This group will meet again on Tuesday, November 25 at the home of Mrs. James Tomlinson on Newburg road.

Sorry to report that Les Anders of Angeline Circle is in the hospital recovering from a heart attack. He is in Arbor and will be there for a little while yet, so cards of good cheer would be most welcome at this time.

James McCleary of Tempe, Arizona was a house guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Niemann of Newburg road on Saturday, Oct. 25. Mr. McCleary is a professor at the Arizona State college and accompanied the college football team to Detroit for their recent game with University of Detroit.

The boys of Boy Scout troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church are on the march again, selling Christmas wreaths. It seems a bit early but, however, the leaders felt that if they could get a good start, they could sell more. Entire proceeds from this event go toward the purchase of new equipment for the troop. So if some young man comes calling and asks YOU to buy a wreath at $2.00, please help by saying, yes. They are just being collected until the wreaths are delivered.

Five women, representing the Newburg Methodist church's women's society, were present at the fall assembly for the Detroit conference of the Woman's Society of Christian Service on Tuesday, October 28. It was an extremely inspirational meeting devoted to the subject of youth. Special guest speaker for the afternoon session was Rev. Jameson Jones of Nashville, Tenn. His topic was "The Future is Now." Those from Newburg were Mrs. Harold Mackinder, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Mrs. R. E. Niemann, Mrs. Delmer Ruelle and Mrs. Dorothy Pringle. There were over 700 women at this assembly.

Over a hundred young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howden on Joy road for a "bon fire" party in honor of the Bentley High school football team. Hostesses for the evening was the Howden's daughter, Donna. The party was Thursday, Oct. 30, and because of it being a night before the football game, all festivities were over and done with by 10 a.m. A good time, needless to say, was had by all.

Spooks and goblins were really on the prowl, on Cabbage Stump night, Thursday, Oct. 30, at the Newburg Methodist church. All the children of the Newburg Methodist church Sunday school had a masquerade Halloween party. Teachers and officers of the Sunday school were present to help with the 120 who attended. Edward Reid, superintendent of the Sunday school, was in charge and after games and prizes for costumes, refreshments were served.

Well, only two more days, now for the annual fall Bazaar at the Newburg Methodist church, Ann Arbor trail and Newburg roads. Saturday, Nov. 8, from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. Won't you all come? There will be booths and booths of every description with needle work, plants, white elephants, aprons, candy, baked goods, dolls, fancy plates, handkerchiefs, games for the children and a super, colossal snack bar.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howden of Joy road and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jamieson of Northville spent recent weekend visiting with friends and relatives in Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mahl of Amrhen road, Livonia are home after spending three weeks touring in eastern United States and visiting with their children in New York and Connecticut.

Jack Suddendorf is recuperating at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Suddendorf on Newburg Rd., after undergoing an emergency appendectomy at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor, last week. Best wishes for a speedy recovery from the Newburg area.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howden of Joy road and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jamieson of Northville spent recent weekend visiting with friends and relatives in Traverse City.

Mr. and Mrs. William Winans of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Wheeler of Holly.

In the rear row (from left) are Bob Ray, Mexican; Lynn Niles, Chinese; Sara Stout, Dutch; Roseanne Rieder, Mexican; Cheryl Webster, Mexican; Carol Ottwell, Scottish; and Linda Boon, Scottish. Present for their performance were David Galin, chairman of the Mayor's Committee for UN Day; Russell Isbister, superintendent of Plymouth schools, and several mothers.

Celebrate 40th Birthday Of Children's Book Week By Reading These Books —

This week marks the 40th birthday of Children's Book Week. Theme for the annual celebration is "Explore with Books," encouraging children to read widely and discover new areas of pleasure, imagination, and wonder.

The idea originated with the chief librarian of the Boy Scouts of America, the late Franklin K. Mathews, who was enthusiastically supported by Frederic G. Melcher, president of the publishing firm R.R. Bowker Co. With the help of booksellers and librarians, the first Book Week was held in 1919.

The celebration has greatly stimulated an interest in children's reading. This is illustrated by the increased number of separate children's book editors and the rising number of children's books being published each year—from approximately 500 in 1919 to more than 1500 this year.

Among the many books being published each year, just a few of the children's favorites are listed here. How many have you read?

'Preparation' Keynotes Story Of Christianity

"Preparation" is written large over every aspect of the ministry of Jesus, the missionary labors of Saint Paul, and the whole story of the founding of Christianity.

John the Baptist, whom Jesus called the greatest of all men born of women, prepared the way, and called for preparation: "Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make His paths straight."

But that was only the beginning of the Christian preparation. We should never forget the long period of preparation in the life of Jesus, himself, the nearly 18 silent years in Nazareth before He began His public ministry.

Nor should we forget Paul's silent years, his going into the desert and the long preparation before he launched out on his missionary journeys.

Think of the boy Jesus in Nazareth, waiting patiently, preparing fully, obediently listening, before He began that ministry, which was to last so shortly in earthly years.

But that ministry was to be timeless and endless in its truth and blessing for mankind.

Nothing in God's providence is accomplished without discipline and preparation.

Two new ships, twice as big as present ones, will go on the English Channel Islands route when they are completed. They can carry 1,400 passengers and 18 cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tiffin of Godfredson Rd. attended a Halloween party Saturday evening at Orchard Lake.

A Halloween party was held after school on Friday afternoon at the home of Mary and Ruth Birkelbaw with 10 attending. Games were played and pop corn served as refreshments.

Salem Firemen's Annual Halloween party was held Friday night at the fire hall. All the children received bags of candy. Winners of the dress parade were Debbie Harman who received a silver dollar for the prettiest costume; Lynda Kelly received one for the funniest; and Mike Raymor for the most fearful. Cider, doughnuts and coffee were served.

Recent callers at the Wheeler home on S. Salem Rd. were Mrs. William Winans of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. W.G. Wheeler of Holly.

The snack bar will open at 12:30 p.m., serving hot dogs, hamburgs, potato chips, pop, coffee, tea, milk, pie and cake. At 4:30 p.m. at 75¢ per plate, a spaghetti supper will be served consisting of a plate of spaghetti, pickles, rolls and coffee. All desserts will be sold at 15¢ per cut. A marvelous display of dolls and doll clothes will be one of the features of the bazaar. One of the senior citizens of our group, Mrs. Carrie Beall, will display and sell her beautifully attired dolls. Mrs. Beall has been working most of the year on dolls clothes which include shoes, stoles, coats, hats, dresses, sport clothes, etc. Come and see for yourself, the fine display of merchandising and the play for supper. There is also to be a carnival of games for youngsters of all ages. Remember,
