Western Electric Company Moves In

NEW ON Plymouth's horizon is this impressive building constructed by Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell Telephone System. This structure on Sheldon Rd.

covers 420,000 square feet, more than double that of the old building on Oakman Boulevard in Detroit. The big move was completed this week.

250 Trucks Unload At $5 Million Plant

The big move is underway for Western Electric Company which began the king-sized task of unloading some 250 heavy truckloads of more than 10,000 stock items transported from Detroit to its new distributing center in Plymouth.

Under construction since May 1957, the new center sprawls out on 36 acres of property and represents a cost in excess of $5 million, including equipment.

Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell Telephone System, has been operating from a Detroit warehouse at 882 Oakman Boulevard since 1930 but increased storage requirements necessitated the move to larger quarters. The new Plymouth structure at 909 North Sheldon Road covers 420,000 square feet of floor space and more than doubles the space formerly used in Detroit.

The new plant also absorbs 30,000 square feet of area formerly rented by Western from a private concern.

Planning for the big move of equipment and supplies began fully a year ago, according to Arnold D. Johanson, manager of the Western Electric distributing houses.

"More than 80,000 items a month were shipped from the Oakman plant," said Johanson. "With that volume, we had to make sure there was a precise spot for everything from a tiny fiber washer weighing a fraction of an ounce, to lead-covered cable on reels tipping the scales at thousands of pounds."

The large structure includes a two-story area at the front and a high-ceiling storage and loading section at the rear. On the first floor are the repair shop, trucking courts, and storage areas. The second floor includes all offices, a cafeteria, first aid and locker rooms, and a data processing section. The adjacent parking area provides room for 600 cars.

Currently Western will employ some 600 distribution personnel and about 50 installation employees. Michigan Bell, chief customer of this distributing center, also will have about 90 plant and accounting personnel located in the building. They handle supply matters for the Michigan company.

Michigan Bell receives at the plant material orders from some 60 storerooms in all divisions of the state, processes them and turns them over to Western Electric. When Western completes the order, Michigan Bell ships the material throughout the state, either by its own fleet, or by other commercial carriers.

The Plymouth distributing house is one of more than 30 centers located in key areas across the country. They are operated by Western Electric as one phase of its four-fold responsibility to the Bell System—manufacturing, installation, purchasing, and distribution of equipment for providing telephone service. The centers also recondition and repair equipment when necessary.

"We plan to have an open house at a later date," said Johanson, "so that the people of Plymouth and surrounding areas as well as the families of our employees may inspect our new facilities. We expect to have all of our people and equipment moved here by Dec. 15, when we'll swing into full operation."

Plymouth was one of 67 sites examined for a new distributing center. Western picked it because it is readily accessible to rail and highway transportation and has adequate water and sewer services.

SOME 10,000 different items are stocked in the Western Electric warehouse. Baskets rolling along conveyers are shown filled with orders. Trucks carry the orders throughout Michigan, giving Michigan Bell units overnight service. Another section of the building is devoted to reconditioning and repairing equipment.

County Takes Bids On Township Sewer

Construction of Plymouth Township's $790,000 sanitary sewer to serve the eastern and southern sections of the township may start by the latter part of January, it was learned this week from the Wayne County Road Commission.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay said that the Road Commission is now advertising for bids on construction and will open them Tuesday, Jan. 6. Advertisements for bids on the bonds will be opened Thursday, Jan. 15.

A week after papers are signed with the winning contractor, construction can be underway, the Supervisor learned. This may be as early as the latter part of January.

Start of the sewer would culminate some two years of planning. The Wayne County Board of Supervisors is pledging its "faith and credit" toward the sale of sewer bonds.

While the estimated cost of the system is $780,000, the su-division. There will be a pumping station on Joy Rd., west of Lilley.

Supervisor Lindsay said that only 50 percent of Rocker Subdivision homeowners have consented for rights-of-way, apparently feeling that they do not need a sewer at this time.

When the planned sewer line is laid, Lindsay added, it will be easy to service other areas, such as Plymouth Colony, at future dates.

"Our next goal will be a water line," the supervisor said. Paper work is now starting on this phase of bringing sewer and water facilities to Plymouth Township. Water will come from the present system in Lake Pointe Village and the "McAllister well" near Northville Rd.

Ordinarily the sewer use charge would be based on the amount of water used, but since the sewer will proceed the water system it will be necessary to charge a flat rate for a while.

The township, however, has adopted a sewer ordinance that lists the fees and rates for sewer users. Supervisor Lindsay said that the board may find it necessary to levy the mill and a half approved by voters in 1956 (but never used) to get the sewer system underway.

There are two separate charges set by the sewer ordinance. One is the "debit service charge" that is paid when the sewer tap is made, or in installments. There are six different categories for the service charge, depending upon whether it is a business or residential tap, and whether the tap is made when the sewer is laid, or later, and whether the tap is to the sewer itself or to laterals. The rates run between $200 and $400.

There is also a "disposal use rate" that will be charged bi-monthly at a rate of 17 cents per 1,000 gallons of water used with a minimum of $2.50 bi-monthly. Until water meters are installed, this fee will be at a flat rate.

Ex-Police Chief Lee R. Sackett Succumbs at 72

Lee R. Sackett, Plymouth's police chief for seven years, died Monday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor at the age of 72.

Joining the Plymouth police force in 1933, Mr. Sackett was named chief in 1944, a post held until his retirement in 1951. He had lived in this area all his life.

Mr. Sackett lived at 813 Forest Ave. Death came at 5:15 a.m. Monday after a serious illness of two weeks. Born Sept. 10, 1886 in Nankin Township, he was the son of Arden and Margaret (Winters) Sackett. He was united in marriage with the former Mary Schaufele, who survives with a son, Kenneth Gust; a daughter, Mrs. Marion Groth, Plymouth; a brother, Ray Sackett, Plymouth; and two grandchildren.

Mr. Sackett was a member of V.F.W. Post 6695, charter member of the Ex-Service-men's Club and member of the Goodfellows.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Dec. 17 from the Schrader Funeral Home at 3 p.m. The Rev. Henry J. Walsh, D.D., officiated. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Active pallbearers were members of the V.F.W. Drill Team. Honorary pallbearers were Harry Brown, Harry Mumby, Harry Hunter, Tom Gardner, Carl Blaich and Albert Groth.

Some Shopper to Pocket $1,000 Bill Monday Night

At 7:30 p.m. this Monday, Santa Claus will make someone richer by $1,000 — thanks to the merchants of Plymouth.

That is the hour that the retail merchants will give away their crisp, new $1,000 bill to one of their shoppers.

The drawing will take place in Kellogg Park with St. Nick making the selection. It's not too late to get into the contest. Most local merchants have blanks (for the asking) upon which a name and address is written.

Incidentally, children can still confer with Santa this Thursday and Friday from 4 to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. and 3 to 6 p.m. in Kellogg Park.

Plymouth's merchants, who are convinced they have "the most pleasant shopping center in Wayne County," report they still have a large selection of items on their shelves for the final-week shoppers.

Fund Drive Hits Goal!

Plymouth's Community Fund has reached the goal! That was the word this week from campaign committee as they added up the late donations. The goal this year was $33,537.

Fund Treasurer John Pint said that the actual total will not be known for several months yet because it takes that long to get Plymouth's report from the United Foundation in Detroit. But it is certain that the goal has been achieved — making Ply-

Goodfellows Face Bigger Challenge Than Ever

Despite the almost certain threat that it will again be miserably cold this Saturday, some 65 men from all walks of life will be on the streets in Plymouth with the idea of making the Christmases of many local needy families brighter.

The Plymouth Goodfellows will have their 20th annual newspaper sale this Saturday and it looks like the job will be tougher than usual.

Goodfellow officers believe that there will be more families in need this year than last when 32 families were given aid. And besides this, the aftermath of the recession may cause donations for newspapers to be smaller. The Plymouth Mail will run off 5,000 special issues for the Goodfellows. Donations of any size will be accepted, but Goodfellows are naturally hoping that citizens will again open their hearts and pocketbooks as much as possible.

The money received through the sale of the newspapers not only buys toys, but also shoes, sweaters, coats, gloves, Christmas dinners and even fuel. Gifts to families are made after a committee of Goodfellows makes investigations. Goodfellows will meet at 8 a.m. Saturday at the Coffee Cup Restaurant on Starkweather for coffee. Proceeds from the coffee sale will be given to Goodfellows by restaurant owner Carl Judd.

The group will then go to city hall for the newspapers and at 9 a.m. will parade through town around Kellogg Park and then to their assigned stations. There are 19 selling sta-

Elks Open New Addition To Building

Opening of a $50,000 addition to the B.P.O. Elks Club on Ann Arbor Rd. will take place this Saturday.

The grand opening will begin at 5 p.m. and will include an evening of dancing. Members and their invited guests will attend.

The 2,500 square foot addition is located on the front and east side of the main building and includes a modern cocktail lounge, secretary's office, check room and lobby. Cost of the addition was about $50,000 while another $17,000 went for furnishings.

Smith Music will supply organ music in the lounge during the opening while Don Bernard's Orchestra will play for dancing.

The new addition is the result of much work by the board of trustees and the house committee. Members of the board are J. Rustling Cutler, chairman; Charles Lawry, Frank Walsh, Ray Creith and Tom Argo. On the House Committee are B. E. Champe, chairman; Walter Rensel, Paul Smith, Gregg Sieds and Walter Wyatt.

Warren Markle is the Elks Exalted Ruler while Tom Argo is club manager. The Plymouth Lodge No. 1780 has now over 650 members, a far cry from the 61 men who were charter members on August 7, 1949 — nine years ago.

The late H. Philip Barney was acting chairman of the Plymouth group as it sought Lodge status in 1949. He was elected the first Exalted Ruler.

Location of the first lodge meeting was at the Conservation Club. Later, meetings

NEWS BEAT

For those wanting "Santa" to visit their home on Christmas Eve, Plymouth's own St. Nick, Bill Farwell, is again offering his services. Bill schedules visits to homes at 10 to 15 minute intervals and the service is free. Those wanting to find out more about it can call Bill at GL 3-4322.

SCHOOL DAYS: Each precinct chairman in Plymouth will get an opportunity from now on to attend a class in voting machine operation preceding each election. The city commission will pay $5 to each chairman attending the classes. City commissioners learned Monday night that it might be April, May or even later before the State Supreme Court will hear their appeal on the Sheldon Rd. assessment decision.

MORE PARKING: Some merchants have pooled their resources to provide more parking for downtown Plymouth. One is located west of the Pixie Shop on Ann Arbor Trail and the other is next to the Penn Theatre (newly graded). The city loaned some technical assistance in planning the lots.

MISCELLANY: The Symphony Ball will be held in the Junior High gym instead of the Senior High. Tuesday night's outstanding Christmas concert by the High school music departments drew a large and enthusiastic audience, but was marred by a group of seven boys who had apparently come for no other reason than to create a disturbance. A receiver from a telephone in a downtown booth was stolen by a Plymouth boy last week. Police caught the boy who explained that he wanted to do some wire tapping. There's a steady flow of job seekers at the new Western Electric plant, but few are successful since nearly all of their old employees moved along with the plant.

CONTRAST: While two organizations now in the Christmas tree business, Trees are being sold at Fire Station No. 2 at Spring and Holbrook with profit going to purchase new uniforms.

NEXT WEEK: There appears to be a lot of confusion and unhappiness connected with the tax rates and tax bills. Next week The Mail will try to explain this complicated situation.

ON ICE: The city is providing two ice skating rinks, one behind the city garage on Goldsmith, and the other at the Hamilton Playground. BDA Superintendent Joe Bida urges children to stay off the ice until it is completely frozen. Skating at Wilcox Lake has drawn large crowds. The Road Commission has joined the ranks of supervision supervisors there.

Letters to Santa Dropped In Mail are Far from Being Lost

By Lee Sechler
Christmas means many things to many people, but no matter what it means for each grown-up to a child it is, a magical time.

Colored lights and toys are everywhere. Time for Santa Claus. At this time of the year the little tots depend on older people to make this fairyland come true. Some people help and some don't.

Here in Plymouth there are two people that help keep the Christmas spirit alive for children. They are answer letters written to Santa. Every year, right after Thanksgiving, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoffmann, of 760 Burroughs St., look forward to the letters that are written to St. Nick.

For the past five years the Hoffmanns have been giving children a chance to cling to a colorful fairy tale in the real, hard world of adults.

It all started five years ago when Mr. Hoffmann found a letter, in his box at the post office, Santa Claus, Box 318, Plymouth, Mich. When he opened the letter, he found it was from his daughter. She wanted a television for Christmas and thought this way her father would get the hint.

From then on the employees at the post office called him Santa Claus. Not too long after that Postmaster George

Timpona asked why he didn't take all the letters addressed to the old gent from the far North. That night he asked his wife what she thought about answering the letters. She agreed with him that it would not only be fun, but would help children as well. The next day the Santas of Plymouth had stationery printed and started to answer the mail. The post office, to do their part, secured a hand stamp to postmark the letters (Continued on Page 8)

PLYMOUTH'S Special Santas are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoffmann, shown answering some of their letters sent through the mail to St. Nick. The letters, ordinarily destroyed by postal authorities, turn into something meaningful for the children when the Hoffmanns give a reply.

Vice-president Karl Starkweather reported that the Detroit Historical Museum curator, Daniel Riebling, had borrowed some 50 old family letters and documents written to and from Plymouth between 1829 and 1838. The museum is making photostatic copies and is expected to make other copies available.

Miss LaVerne Sly, program committee chairman, discussed plans for having the program portion of the January meeting devoted to "Horses and buggy days in Plymouth." All members and guests living in that time are invited to bring their favorite horse and buggy stories to the meeting.

Two new members joined the society, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lane, 42201 Clemmons Drive.

There was an exchange of gifts during the meeting and a social period with refreshments.

youngsters and Dad — have become enthused about the clever hand-puppets designed by Mrs. Dennison. Right now Mrs. Dennison, whose main love is sculpturing and who studied art at the Art Students League in New York City, sells her products to all three Hudson stores.

Official Proceedings of Board of Education

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Monday evening, November 10, 1958, in the staff room of the Plymouth Community Junior High School at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker, and Mr. Zoet; Administrative Assistant Blunk and Superintendent Ibsister.

Also present: Mr. Woolweaver, Mr. Bentley and Father Child.

President Stecker called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m. Mr. Woolweaver discussed plans for after-school recreation in the large elementary schools. These schools would be used as recreation centers to which all boys and girls in grades 5 and 6, including those attending the outlying and parochial schools, would be invited to participate following the regular school day. The program would be directed by trained personnel paid by the Recreation Department. The implementation of the expanded program for both boys and girls during the winter months would require $180 over the allocated budget for the boys' program.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Kaiser to approve the additional appropriation of $180 required to implement the program for 10 weeks during the winter season.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet. Nays: None.

It was moved by Mr. Kaiser and seconded by Mr. Zoet to approve the minutes of the last regular and intervening special meetings, as amended.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet. Nays: None.

Proposals for the installation of a 6,000 gallon gasoline tank and pump at the bus yard were discussed. Mr. Blunk was authorized to secure additional information from gasoline distributors regarding their bid proposals which would include the installation costs amortized over a definite period of time.

Superintendent Ibsister presented for consideration in the 1958-59 budget a revision in the salary schedule for school personnel who direct and supervise the sponsored school activities. The proposal was taken under advisement and will be given study by the Joint Board and Staff Committee. It was felt, however, that since no overall adjustment had been made in the schedule after 1950 some action in this direction would be made this year.

Superintendent Ibsister was authorized to arrange a schedule of interviews for school architects on Saturday afternoon, November 29, beginning at 1:00 p.m.

The relationship of citizens, teachers, administrators, architects and board members in the planning of the new proposed high school was clarified. Copies of the organization chart showing these relationships will be made available to all concerned.

Mr. Mitchell reported the progress made by the Site Committee. He indicated that the Committee was actively pursuing all opportunities for the proper location of a high school site and that definite recommendations would be made in the near future.

Meeting adjourned at 10:35 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Esther L. Hulsing, Secretary

Also present: Dr. Charles Wells, Jr., Dr. Frederick Foust, Mrs. Richard Wernette, Mrs. W. J. Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Latta.

President Stecker called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

President Stecker called on Superintendent Ibsister to introduce representatives of the following architectural firms who had been invited to the meeting on a schedule of half-hour intervals each for the purpose of interpreting their backgrounds of experience in building high schools:

Louis Kingscott & Associates, Inc., Kalamazoo, Michigan

Jahr-Anderson Associates, Inc., Dearborn, Michigan
Smith, Terrapata, MacMahon, Inc., Birmingham, Michigan
Bennett and Straight, Inc., Dearborn, Michigan

The architectural firms were asked questions relative to their schedule of fees for preliminary work, final plans and specifications, and supervision of construction. They were also queried about their willingness to work with local groups of citizens in the planning for and the planning of the building.

Bids for the installation of the bulk gasoline storage tank and pump at the bus yard were read as follows:

Company	6,000 Gal. Gasoline Tank and Pump	Gasoline Price per Gallon

It was moved by Mr. Mitchell and seconded by Mr. Soth to approve the bid of Speedway Petroleum Corporation for the installation of a 6,000 gallon gasoline tank and ticket printer pump at a cost of $1,689 and for gasoline fulfilling specifications at the rate of .12¢ per gallon, said cost of tank and pump to be amortized over a period of time by the surcharging of each gallon of gasoline at the rate of .02¢ per gallon.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Soth, Mr. Stecker and Mr. Zoet. Nays: None.

Meeting adjourned at 11:00 p.m.

Family Renews Thanks to Firemen for Saving Son

Firemen and a doctor who labored two and a half hours with a resuscitator a year ago to save the life of a baby were again reminded of their deed this Christmas time by the boy's grateful parents.

It was on December 4 of last year that Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schultz of Ford Rd. brought their one-year-old son Rusty to the office of a local doctor. The ailing baby was having convulsions and was dying. The doctor called city firemen who used the resuscitator for an hour and a half at the doctor's office.

then for another hour until the baby was in the hospital. Enroute to the hospital the boy responded. The letter to firemen, in part, said:

"I don't even know the name of the fireman who operated the resuscitator but I will never forget the moment when I looked back in the ambulance and with a smile on his face he nodded that our little boy was breathing again.

"Thank you again and again.

"I'm enclosing a small contribution to the Firemen's Uniform Fund. I wish it could be more but with the recent strike I can't do better. But we could never repay all of our debt to you, so all we can say is thanks and God bless all of you."

Fire Chief Robert McAllister said that firemen have decided to use the donation to buy a boy for Rusty.

Everything's Red But The Bride

BERLIN (UPI) — German Communists no longer promise to love, honor and obey. Instead, they vow in their marriage ceremonies to work for the victory of Communism and to raise their children as the Party prescribes.

The girls are getting married in white bridal gowns at "Socialist weddings" on which photographs of Lenin and other Communist heroes look down.

The new Communist marriage ceremony is part of the East German Communists' anti-religious campaign which includes attacks on baptism, confirmation and church weddings as "old-fashioned." The Reds have substituted for these what they call "Socialist" observances.

They hope to wean still faithful East Germans away from religion by maintaining the shell of traditional religious ceremonies and giving them an atheistic content.

Flower girls, music from "Lohengrin" and bridal veils all are part of the Socialist wedding ceremony. But there is no clergyman or religious reading.

One girl who got married the Red way recommended it to others as "solemn but without humbug."

Similar to the wedding is the Communist "christening" ceremony. The Communists call it "namensweihe" — literally "name dedication."

At a ceremony in Dresden, Mayor Walter Weidauer told the parents of babes in arms, "These children will have the responsibility of seeing to it that the fight to build Socialism, to build a classless society, is completed."

"We expect from you parents that you educate your children that we can trust them to continue our work."

St. Mary Hospital Cornerstone Laid

"You'd be surprised what injuries will be prevented because one fourth of those permanently injured would be cured if they reached a hospital in time."

George Walker, Ford vice-president, described the "birth" of St. Mary's Hospital as "a real blessed event."

"I am here today," Hare said, "because an automobile accident I was in two years ago happened close to a hospital."

Pointing out it is expected that 1,350 persons will be killed in auto accidents in Michigan in the next year and 2,000 will be permanently hospitalized, Hare said three out of every 1,000 accident victims perish if they are more than 35 minutes traveling time from a hospital.

When St. Mary's is completed, everyone in an accident within 1 1/2 miles outside all the boundaries of Livonia will be able to reach the hospital within 18 minutes after Police reach the accident scene.

In terms of dollars saved through lives saved, Hare said this means an average savings of roughly $3 million a year. He added that it also means many crippling injuries will be prevented because one fourth of those permanently injured would be cured if they reached a hospital in time.

St. Mary's Hospital, located at Five Mile and Levan Rds. in western Livonia, is expected to be completed late in 1959, several months ahead of schedule. Construction began about six months ago.

SISTER MARY Columbine, administrator of St. Mary Hospital, was warmly appreciative to guest speakers James Hare, Michigan Secretary of State, (shaking hands), George Walker, Ford Motor Co. Vice-President, and Mayor William Brashear (left), who were guest speakers at the hospital cornerstone laying ceremonies Monday. W. W. Edgar is at right.

Santa Claus Letters
Dear Santa Claus:
My mommy is writing a translation of my letter in case you can't read my writing.
My name is Mark Hittle and I will be four three days after you come to my house. I am a very good boy (sometimes I am bad) and I help make my own breakfast. I would like a log truck, a toy fire engine, ice skates like the big boys wear, a punching bag, and a bathrobe for my sister Janice. Here is a picture of your reindeer.
Love,
Mark

Dear Santa Claus,
How are you? I am four years old and hope to see and visit you soon now. I'd like for Christmas some crayons, some candy (lots) a book (a Christmas one), and a play Christmas tree.
Love,
John Shultz

Dear Santa Claus:
I am writing you again this year to say thanks for my toys that you brought me last year. You see Santa last year the 7th of August, I was taken with TB and there I spent 7 months and 5 days in the sanitarium, and I didn't get to spend my Christmas at home with my parents so I am thankful that I am home this year, so I can enjoy Christmas with my little brother, Rodney. I'm not asking for much this year because I would like for all the children in Maybury Sanitarium this year to have a Very Merry Christmas and please don't forget to visit them.

Your little friend,
Donnie Montgomery

150 Former Daisy Workers Attend Yuletide Party

Nearly 150 former Daisy Manufacturing Co. employees held a Christmas party last Thursday night at the Oddfellows Hall.

Guests came from Detroit, Livonia, Northville, Ypsilanti, Wayne and Plymouth. Daisy President Edward C. Hough, being ill and unable to attend, sent a gift of $20 to help defray expenses. There was a large assortment and abundant supply of food.

A telegram was read from Cass Hough, Tom Kent and Sheldon Baker of Daisy at Rogers, Arkansas, wishing the group a nice party and Merry Christmas.

Tables were decorated with Christmas motifs by Bea Foster.

Group singing was enjoyed with Doris Marshal at the piano. Sympathy was sent to one of the members, Jerry Hepler, whose son was buried the day before. A gift and flowers were sent to the family.

There was an exchange of Christmas gifts. It was decided to have a picnic in July or August and to make plans for a Daisy Club. It was also decided to have another Christmas party next year.

Fire Chiefs List Seven Rules for Safer Christmas

Seven ways to prevent Christmas season from becoming a season of sadness were listed this week by Fire Chiefs Robert McAllister of the city and Howard Holmes of the township.

When setting up a Christmas tree in the home, one must remember that they are installing a fire hazard and precautions must be taken to minimize any accident. These are the elementary rules:

1. Buy a freshly cut tree if possible and keep it out of doors standing in water or snow until taken into the house. Use a standard that will contain water and fill it daily.
2. Place the tree away from doorways so that it will not block an exit and support it so it will not be knocked over.
3. Use only lights approved by Underwriters' Laboratories and disconnect when there is no one around to watch. Do not overload circuits and make sure wires are in good condition.
4. Use only non-combustible decorations, or if using combustible materials, make sure they're flameproof.
5. Place gift wrappings in a box and dispose of them quickly.
6. Keep a good fire extinguisher available and know how to use it.
7. When the tree becomes dry, dispose of it quickly and safely.

Ohio Boxboard To Merge With Two Other Firms

The parent organization of the Champion Container Co. on Sheldon Rd. had this week announced plans to merge with two other firms.

The Ohio Boxboard Co. of Rittman, O., parent of the Champion Division, will merge with the American Boxboard Company of Grand Rapids and Central Fibre Products Company of Quincy, Ill.

Plans for the merger have been approved by directors of the companies and will be presented to stockholders as soon as details can be worked out.

All three companies have been eminently successful in the packaging products field of the respective areas. They are not essentially in competition with each other. The consolidation will bring together facilities producing jute and kraft linerboard, boxboard, bleached kraft shipping containers and folding cartons in an area stretching from New York to Utah.

Santa to Visit Elks Children

Tom Argo, youth activities committee chairman of the Plymouth lodge B.P.O. Elks No. 1780 announced today that Santa Claus will be at the annual Christmas party for the children of members and their families this Sunday afternoon, December 21.

Santa will have gifts for all the children and will make a list of the things they want him to leave on Christmas Eve.

The program will begin at 2 p.m. in the lodge room.

The MAIL Attitude

By PAUL CHANDLER

ST. PETERSBURG BEACH, Fla. — For the next 10 days I plan to do my editorial cogitating huddled around a blazing electric stove, unless luck changes — and, possibly, it could.

We drove. It was three degrees above zero when we turned south from Plymouth Road, and on the seat beside us was a Detroit newspaper claiming that several midsouthern states were "shivering" under their coldest temperatures in several years.

When we reached Kentucky for the first overnight stop, the good folk were blowing on their fingers, store windows were steamed over, snow was upon the streets, the turf was concrete-like, and the papers bemoaned that the first "Bluegrass Bowl" (last Saturday) looked as if it was to become a victim of the weather.

They ultimately played the games but hardly anybody ventured out to see the clash of the uncomfortable athletes, half of whom were from Oklahoma and half from Florida. They were cold.

As we nudged deeper into Dixie during the next cold gray daylight, it had become evident that this was no ordinary cold wave.

It was plunging farther and farther south, and while the papers didn't state the speed of movement, I know it was about 58 m.p.h. That was about what we were traveling in our car.

This particular piece of weather belonged to us exclusively. We were the chaperones, seeing that it had a safe journey into the warmer climates.

Through Kentucky and Tennessee, cardinals frolicked in the snow drifts, brilliant red against the white — like Christmas colors. The car heater roared at its top speed and the heater's thermostat throttle stayed on "full."

Thence to Alabama. By now, certainly, we could expect chilly temperature, but at least the driving would ease. It was late afternoon, our target was Atlanta, Georgia, and it seemed within reasonable reach, from Huntsville, Ala.

Off we went, and the blizzard swirled in. The windshield wipers raced, and yet barely were able to keep a porthole of vision open through the wind-blown snow. The pavements weren't snowy, however. They were glazed, with oncoming headlights bouncing from the slick roadbed as if from a sheet of blue diamond.

Then there was the state trooper standing in the middle of the road. He turned us from our determined path. "Can't go that way, folks," he shouted over the wind, "bridge done froze over and nobody's allowed through. Gotta turn left here."

So we compromised and went his way and for a few hours pointed our headlights at the winking red taillights of another traveler ahead.

Later, considerably, we heard a radio bulletin warning everyone to cease travel in a certain area — the exact zone where we were pattering through the snow, sleet, ice and hail.

It developed we had turned over a corner of mountains and in the darkness had traversed a pretty fair scale of them, whereas we had planned a circling route that would have involved only hills at the worst.

"I thought it looked rather deep and dark beyond the edge of the road," observed our co-pilot later. "You-all are lucky I didn't know where we were." She speaks a little southern now, using "you-all" and things such as that. She also is a nervous wreck.

Well, the next day the only discouragement was rain and an unending stream of "Dangerous When Wet" road-signs. All along, through northern Georgia and southern Georgia and northern Florida the press, TV and radio was reporting in astonishment that this was "the coldest spell in 40 years," and that sort of thing, and cautioning the unwary traveler and farmer to watch their behavior.

In Georgia, rather deep down, a humorist had made a snow man, in straw hat, leaning on one elbow, facing upward as if to get his daily suntan.

But we arrived, and for a time, it appeared as if our chaperonage of the frigid weather was to end with our arrival in St. Petersburg. It was downright balmy as we entered the homestretch, and the thick fog on the highway was only a minor nuisance.

But, alas, when we awakened this morning, it was to the sound of a cold, driving rain and the dirge of radiocasters: "Rain, expected to stop today, followed by much colder tonight and tomorrow. Foliage should be protected."

Everybody says it's "most unusual," and so on. They don't know we are here.

There is a newspaper here which gives away its entire daily edition free, on any day when the sun doesn't shine before 11 a.m. in St. Petersburg. Well, he's hooked today, and as long as we stay, he could remain in deep trouble. Possibly he has insurance with Lloyd's of London.

Meanwhile, we're having fun. Except for an odd weekend, this is the first family vacation in four years. We're making the round trip in 16 days.

We're flourishing in an apartment motel named "The Mariner" which is right on the Gulf, modern, comfortable, in good taste and operated by a really kind gentleman who moved down from the Redford district of Detroit. His name is Ralph T. Bradbeer.

I've already encountered some local things to write about, and I'll get to some of them next week.

Meanwhile, excuse me. I promised the proprietor I'd throw a log into the swimming pool to keep the walls from cracking tonight, just in case it should freeze solid.

Crime in Canton Township Scarce

It may be of some interest to the population of Canton Township to know that there are less crimes committed in their township than any other of the surrounding communities. In observing department bulletins, it is found that on the average, only two crimes are reported a month. These crimes are mostly house-breaking or vandalism. Also the automobile accident rate is very low in Canton Township.

were held at the Grange Hall in the Beyer Hall on Liberty St. It was Jan. 20, 1951 that the lodge purchased the property at 41700 Ann Arbor Rd. for $5,000.

In April of that year ground was broken for the new Elks Temple and on Mother's Day of that year the cornerstone was laid.

Work on the Temple progressed throughout the winter but in November there was a sudden setback when heavy snow caused part of the roof to collapse and caused damage of $600. Then again in December, the remainder of the roof collapsed.

On Sept 7, 1951 the Temple was dedicated.

Letters to Santa

North Pole. "We get a big kick out of it," said Mr. Hoffmann, "We look forward to Christmas time."

The Hoffmanns have two grandchildren and realize the importance of keeping the Santa spirit alive.

"I firmly believe that if the children believe in Santa they have the Christmas spirit."

All the letters are answered individually and a compromise is strived for so the children will not be disappointed if they don't receive what they ordered from St. Nick. The letters are written on a special stationery with Santa and his reindeer at the top. Enclosed with each letter is a certificate that the child is a member of the Santa Claus Club and is a helper for the year. Along with the certificate goes a small gift that can be put in an envelope.

Each year the Hoffmanns answer between 100 and 150 letters. The biggest disappointment they have is when there is no return address.

The children ask for the usual Christmas things, some of them send pictures of the toys they want and some even send the catalog number. When they ask for clothes, they send their size, so Santa doesn't make a mistake.

The hardest request to compromise on is an order for a pony or a dog. "We never know what to say," commented Mrs. Hoffmann, "We don't know how much space or money their parents have."

The most usual request was for a baby sister. When Mr Hoffmann heard that he retorted, "That's all I'm not answering that one."

The most satisfying part of the whole project is when the Hoffmanns receive word that their part in the Christmas season has paid off. Mr. Hoffmann told of getting a phone call from his grandson.

"Grandpa, I got my letter from Santa today. Did you get yours? He sent me two balloons. You'll get some too. One for you and one for grandma."

To the Hoffmanns that is reward enough for all the time spent on each child. Mr. Hoffmann summed it up this way, "It's a lot of fun to keep Santa Claus alive. All we have are traditions, other people all over the world are losing theirs."

Swordfish can swim at speeds up to 7 miles per hour; the wahoo can hit 37, the blue shark 24, salmon 24, trout 23, pike 20, bass 12, carp 7.6, and man 4.01.

Balloons have been used to support a hemispherical aluminum building during construction.

WHAT WILL 10 youngsters from the Wayne County Training School buy for themselves for Christmas if given $5? Plymouth Jaycees and two wives accompanied these 10 on a shopping tour last Saturday. While some bought toys, one boy bought a pair of pants and some pencils and a girl bought a Bible and a Cross necklace. They spent several hours trying to make their $5 go as far as possible and Jaycees report the children were "wonderful." They are shown at Jack's Burgers where they had a snack.

Eighth Annual Christmas Exhibit Delights at Museum

BLOWING GLASS ornaments in authentic 19th Century patterns daily at the Museum is Nils Carlson of New Boston, Museum employee for two years. It is a fabulous sight to see. An assortment of these deck the exhibit Christmas tree.

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS themes the 19th Century exhibit open to the public at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village from now through January 4.

Daily Mrs. Bertha Finger, in housedress typical of the times, bakes holiday cookies on this back-breaking stove.

HOLIDAY VICTORIAN DINING setting is gracious and ornate and almost belies the hard work that went on in the kitchen to prepare the Christmas feast. Both buffet and dining table are lavishly adorned with finest silver and china.

City Manager's Corner

We have the framework of the Civil Defense Organization set up through the mayor, manager and department heads of the city. However, it is necessary that we fill in the organizational framework with citizen volunteers to be ready for any future emergency operation.

For example, we should develop radiological detection teams in order to man the five radiological survey meters, which we have in our possession and ready for use. This does not mean that we should have 5 people ready to man the meters; we should have perhaps 50 people who will know how to use the meters. A surplus of trained citizens is essential, in order to be assured of adequate coverage, since, in an emergency, some may not be able to get back into the city or some may have been casualties.

To become a competent radiological detection meter operator, it is necessary that one have completed the equivalent of a high school physics course. We need trainers, too, who will teach others. Science teachers, physics instructors, or engineers should volunteer their services. If anyone knows of a person who would make a good radiological training coordinator, we would appreciate hearing about him.

We will ask him to "volunteer" his services. We have completed a survey of the nurses, who are available in the school district, and have such a list ready for emergency use. We also have volunteers from the various veterans' organizations which comprise our auxiliary police force. A neighborhood improvement association, in the main, provides the Civil Defense auxiliary fire personnel.

Another "volunteer" we would like to know about is a commercial artist or other qualified person, who can develop plans for Christmas scenes or sets in Kellogg Park and others. Our parks could have a Santa Mail Box at the end of Candy Cane Lane, for example, or a Sugar Plum Tree. Our trouble is our City Hall talent only produces amateurish results. Give us a plan and guidance; we are sure programming and financing can be worked out.

The merchants cooperatively are developing two downtown parking lots. The first ready for occupancy is that between the Penn Theater and the Masonic Temple on Penniman Avenue. It is a gravelled lot, very convenient to the theater and the Masonic Temple. The merchants, also, are developing a lot on Ann Arbor Trail between the Pixie Shop and the office of Drs. Westover and Clyde. This, too, will be a gravelled lot.

Woman's Eye View

By KATHIE MULL LUSK

"Home for Christmas" ... is the theme of the wonderful eighth annual Christmas exhibit now going on at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn. Ladies of the press, radio and TV (including a delighted me) were treated to a preview of the special show at Greenfield Village a fortnight ago ... following a holiday luncheon at Clinton Inn there. And in three little words: Don't miss it!

Theme of the display was inspired by preparations in a 19th Century household to observe Christmas Day ... the day that traditionally unites family from near and far.

No "swept-wing" LOOK to transportation anywhere ... just a horse and sleigh standing in the center to whisk the married children back home for the biggest day of the year.

Most appealing display in the exhibit ... that will continue now through January 4 was the kitchen where Mrs. Bertha Finger, supervisor of food production at Clinton Inn, will be conducting daily a live baking demonstration of holiday cookie-making in the Museum.

That is, if her back holds out ... the knee-high range that she turns out all those tempting cookies on was made by Highgate Foundry Co., vintage 1881. Check the picture on this page of Mrs. Finger breaking-her-back at work.

The table, too, on which those holiday cookies are mixed and rolled is also much too low ... a complete shocker for anyone accustomed to counter-top working areas ... as she has to double-up to work at it.

Other equipment in the kitchen ... though used everywhere 50 years ago ... looks to quote another press member "downright primitive." And to think these were the latest at the turn of the century! We're thinking of the washtubs, "newly invented" vacuum cleaner, ice box! Ugh!

Most fashionable display is the Victorian dining room ... brilliant with accoutrements for a Christmas celebration. And to think that all wonderful food for this table ... would come from ... as experts say now ... an "inadequately planned kitchen." How about that?

Here, too, is the exhibit of entertainment facilities of the period—music boxes, phonographs and magic lanterns ... no stereo!

Largest section in the exhibit is the selection of "gift ideas" ... ranging from steamboat pull toys to "railroad companion" flasks!

And Christmas cards ... some sent to the Henry Fords by their history-changing friends ... are a refreshing sight. There's no slapstick humor ... just ... "simple, homely verses." And so pleasing.

In the "decorating the house" section, glass tree ornaments were freshly blown from a 19th Century catalogue by Nils Carlson of the Museum ... to deck a tree typical of that time. Nils was born in Canada ... has intrigued Museum fans for the past 20 years with his glass "blowing" artistry.

Methinks any family will appreciate their "Christmas at home" all the more this year if they visit the Museum and see this superb exhibit ...

At the preview luncheon party in Clinton Inn ... we missed the "Fish House" punch ... but garnered the recipe for all such punch fans. This is an Early American drink, described by David M. Embury in "The Fine Art of Mixing Drinks" as "probably the most famous of all punches."

To continue quoting: "It is also the most potent and one of the best. The formula is supposed to have originated in 1732 with that famous old Philadelphia Club called the 'State in Schuykill.' If the one below given is not the original recipe, it at least comes very close to it. It is a still punch—that is to say, it employs plain water (which in theory, should be fresh spring water) in place of any carbonated beverage:

FISH HOUSE PUNCH

- ¾ pound loaf sugar
- 1½ pints of lemon juice
- 2 fifths rum
- 1 fifth cognac
- 3½ pints water
- 4 ounces peach brandy

Dissolve the sugar in part of the water in the punch bowl. Add the lemon juice and the balance of the water and stir thoroughly. Then add the liquors and allow the mixture to stand for at least 2 or 3 hours to ripen and blend, stirring a bit from time to time. Place a large block of ice in the bowl, stir to cool, and serve.

Makes about 1½ gallons enough for 30 to 40, served in 6 ounce cups.

Spirit of Christmas Shines Throughout Newburg Area

MRS. EMIL LAPOINTE
GA. 1-2029

A surprise birthday party was given for Mrs. Edith Smith at the Gennis home on Joy road, Saturday, December 6. Guests present for the celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heimbecker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaschak and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brooks all of Detroit and Dr. Mrs. Kenneth Eastland of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reid of Highland avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ritzler of Plymouth road attended the Willing Workers Christmas party on Saturday, December 6 at the Livonia Fidelity home on Farmington and Mrs. Reid received one of the many door prizes which was an altogether charming "chapeau." For the benefit of those who don't speak French, a hat. All proceeds from this annual event are to go to a worthy charity.

The Christmas spirit was evident at the recent meeting of the Rhoda circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church, when they met at the home of Mrs. David Smith on Newburg road, Tuesday evening, December 9. Mrs. R.E. Niemann, wife of the pastor of the church, read two charming stories in keeping with the season, a brief business meeting followed and then Christmas games were played and an exchange of gifts was the highlight of the evening. Members present were Mrs. Tom Waltz, Mrs. James Tomlinson, Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. John Kreger, Mrs. James Greenwood, Mrs. Donald Hoffman, Mrs. Otto Brey, Mrs. George Black, Mrs. Sam Epley, Mrs. Thomas Leverton, Mrs. Glenn McGhee, Mrs. Ralph Gray, Mrs. Harold Knapp, Mrs. Robert Suda and Mrs. Emil Lapointe. This group will not meet again until the fourth Tuesday in January, which will be January 27 and will be at the home of Mrs. Donald Hoffman on McKinley avenue in Plymouth.

Sorry to hear that young Ronald Hocking, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hocking of Narise drive is home sick with Chicken Pox. Get well quick, so you can enjoy your Christmas, is the wish of all of us.

The young folks of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Newburg Methodist church are planning an evening of caroling on Tuesday, December 23. If you wish the young folks to serenade your home this holiday season, call Miss Janice Kenner at GA. 2-0034 or call this reporter. After the caroling session the group is invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kenner for refreshments.

This writer and her husband along with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nida, had a night out last Saturday, December 6. After eating dinner at the Colonial House we went to the Michigan theater in downtown Detroit to see a wonderful production, starring Spencer Tracy, "The Last Hurrah". A most unusual and different story.

A word of thanks to all these kind folks who helped the boy scouts of troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church with the purchase of a Christmas wreath during their recent wreath sale. A fine profit was realized which will enable the troop to add to their equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shier and children Janice and James of Angeline Circle had the privilege recently of viewing the wonderful Christmas extravaganza at the Ford Rotunda in Dearborn.

The Fidelis class of the Newburg Methodist church Sunday school met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Donald Ryder of Ann Arbor Trail on Saturday, December 6 for their regular monthly potluck supper and annual Christmas party. Members of the class present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mahl, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waack, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt Mr. and Mrs. David Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. James Busenbark and Mrs. Dorothy Pringle.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dickie and family, which totals seven, of Ravine drive, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeCoster of Penrod avenue in Fraser, Michigan, Sunday, December 7. The DeCoster's are former residents of the Newburg area and have just recently moved to Fraser.

The Livonia City Women's Club is having their Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Winnie Davis on Middlebelt road, today, Thursday, December 18 at 12:30 p.m. A potluck luncheon is the order of the day with games and gift exchange to absorb the rest of the afternoon's activities. Each guest is also requested to bring a baby picture of herself. Sounds like much fun to me.

Some of the members of the Newburg Methodist church adult choir and their friends attended the annual presentation of the Messiah at the Hill auditorium in Ann Arbor, Saturday, December 6. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kempton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Miss Janice Kenner, Miss Edith and Vivian Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nixon, Mr.

and Mrs. Robert Lorraine, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lorr, Mrs. Robert Niemann, and Mrs. Robert Niemann, and Mrs. Helen Hopper.

Hope you will forgive a proud mother her bragging, but our son David was chosen Safety Patrol boy of the month at St. Michael's school. I know you will agree that is a real honor.

the day of days and I do hope all of you are ready for the occasion to the point of relaxing and enjoying the day, for it is all too soon come and gone. Because of the holiday falling on Thursday, the paper will be out a day earlier, so be sure to call me early to make sure that your news and activities get in the paper. See you next week?

If Your Name Is Nora

By ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

This is an interesting name because it evolved from two entirely separate roots. First "Nora" is short for "Eleanor," and this in turn is connected with the ancient Greek "Helena," meaning the radiant, the shining one.

Secondly, it is short for "Honora." This contains the Latin word "honor" meaning "reputation." Having been popular with the Normans it was brought by them almost nine hundred years ago to Ireland. It became a great favorite there in various forms. Nora, also spelled with an "h" at the end, Noira; Noireen or Noirin, and Norrine.

One of the most widely known fictional characters was given the name "Nora" by its creator, the Norwegian playwright and poet Henrik

Ibsen. This "Nora" has become the symbol for a pampered little woman who knows nothing about the more serious aspects of life. Incidentally, she was given her name, and a few traits, for a real life Nora, sister of Ole Schulerud, a friend of Ibsen. Everyone called this real life girl Nora instead of Eleanor, because she was "such a little darling."

And in the drama, too, Nora is a little darling, her husband "sweet little lark." Sheltered by a doting father and then by a devoted husband, she always has been regarded as a mere plaything. When she for once is confronted with a problem she has to solve on her own she does so in a thoughtless, easy way. To provide money to save her desperately ill husband she signs her dead father's name to a note without realizing that what she is doing is something unlawful. A blackmailer holds the incriminating note, and now he threatens to expose her forger. Nora's husband is ready to condemn her, when however, the blackmailer desists. Nora's husband is satisfied with the semblance of respectability that remains preserved, and cares not a bit about what the realization of her deed means to Nora.

And so the little wife comes to see that her husband is not concerned with her as a human being; to her he has become a stranger with whom she cannot live any longer. She sees that both would have to change thoroughly to establish the bond between them as a real marriage. It would need a miracle to do this. Nora has grown up, she no longer believes in miracles, and so she leaves him.

At its first presentation the play provoked vehement discussions; it was interpreted as a slogan for women's rights while what Ibsen tried to do was just showing up the forces that complicate a marriage, according to his own statement. Anyway, "Nora," or "A Doll's House," is still alive, being prepared now for TV, with Gene Tierney in the part of "Nora."

Plymouth Township official vote in accord with the action taken by the Wayne County Road officials in changing the name of Penniman road which runs west from Plymouth to the Washenaw County line, to the Old Territorial road. While this is one of the oldest roads in the county and before the name was changed to Penniman road in honor of one of the oldest settlers of this community it was known as the Territorial road, the township officials feel that it would be better to use the more recent and best known name for the highway.

Hope For End of Malaria In Next Quarter-Century

LISBON (UPI) — A leading American expert on malaria, says the disease is almost certainly being wiped out from the world, but warns that this doesn't mean the world will be rid of mosquitoes too.

"A lot of people think malaria eradication is the same as mosquito eradication," said Dr. Paul F. Russell of the Rockefeller Foundation. "That isn't so. We can beat malaria killing only a small percentage of the world's mosquito population."

Russell, who lives in North Edgecomb, Maine, was in Lisbon to act as consultant at a World Health Organization meeting of malaria experts. The meeting was part of a 16-nation campaign to erase malaria completely within 10 to 25 years — in some countries within five years.

Malaria is a mosquito-carried disease which has ravaged the world's tropical regions for centuries. For the past 30 years man has had only two defenses against it — the mosquito net and quinine.

Now, though, quinine has been pensioned off and replaced by such drugs as the German developed Chloroquine, the British Pyrimethamine, the American Praziquinone.

And the net has been rendered obsolete by powerful insecticides which remain lethal to mosquitoes for months after being sprayed on walls.

Russell said "there is no doubt that the new method of wall spraying with insecticides has been the greatest single factor in helping defeat malaria."

He explained that the mosquito becomes a malaria carrier only by biting a man already infected with the disease. It takes the malaria parasite into its system from the sick man.

"This is where a useful trick comes in," Russell said. "It takes 10 days for the parasite to become potent within the mosquito. During that 10 days the mosquito can do no harm even if it bites another man, but we have a good chance of killing it."

The type of mosquito which bites a man, generally speaking, is the type that likes to buzz around houses, attracted by lights, humans, food.

But as soon as it hits an insecticide-sprayed wall it is finished. And in a general campaign of mass spraying of walls wherever there are dwellings it is a good bet the mosquito will hit a dose of poison before 10 days are up.

For the big post-war drive to oust malaria from the world, 60 per cent of the funds have come from the governments of affected countries.

But three organizations have taken the lead in the battle: —The World Health Organization. Although operating on a small budget, since 1947 it has provided the necessary technical leadership.

—The United Nations Children's Fund. Working on the theory that malaria is very tough on children, this organization has poured more than $30 million into the fight. Its money has been used for equipment, transport and supplies.

The United States International Cooperation Administration (ICA) and its predecessor foreign aid agencies. They have given in excess of $90 million for all phases of anti-malaria work.

Russell said the work already done has been so extensive that more than half the people who must come under eradication programs are already under them.

There is one cloud on the horizon — the possibility that mosquitoes will develop a resistance to both groups of insecticides presently in use. DDT on the one hand and B.H.C. (Benzene hexa chloride) and Dieldrin on the other.

Experience to date has shown, however, that if mosquitoes become resistant to one group of insecticides, they fall to prey to another.

Men like Russell are confident all problems can be overcome. They have seen such tremendous progress in their lifetime they know eradication is possible.

"Take the United States," said Russell. "During the 1930's we used to get up to 4,500,000 cases in a year, mainly in the Southeast. Last year there were only 14 proved cases."

Other places where malaria has been eradicated are Puerto Rico, Chile, Cyprus, Corsica, Italy, Martinique, the Netherlands and the Gaza Strip. Countries where the disease is on its way out are Mauritius, Reunion Island, Romania, Argentina, Venezuela and British and French Guiana.

Areas where the problem is still acute include Central Africa, Borneo and New Guinea. China is an unknown quantity. It used to have a high malaria incidence, but little is known of developments there since the Communists took over. In Formosa the eradication project is well along.

Earliest route to the West led through the Cumberland gap instead of the more convenient Hudson valley, principally because the hostile Iroquois Indians lived there.

THE ELECTION is long past but there are still many campaign signs hanging along highways, such as this one at Plymouth Rd. near Eckles. Deciding to do something about it was the Plymouth Democratic Club. From left are Charles Root, Jr., president; Jack Ruland and Robert Hagger, who hauled away many signs last week.

Ladywood Teachers' Club Hears Speaker

Sr. Mary Lauriana, C.S.S.-F., Coordinator of Teacher Education at Madonna College in Livonia, and Reading Coordinator for the Archdiocesan school system addressed the Ladywood Future Teachers' Club on Friday morning, December 12. Sister Lauriana acquainted the girls with the preparation for teaching that can be done in high school and the immediate preparation in college. She also explained the various aspects of teaching as a career. Two Madonna College students, Miss Marie Martinez and Miss Maria Grabowska spoke to the Seniors of Ladywood on the afternoon of Friday, December 12. The purpose of this talk was to acquaint the Seniors with college life in general, and with college life, courses, and activities at Madonna College in Livonia.

Witnesses To Attend Southern Michigan Meeting

The Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be among 20 southern Michigan congregations to convene at Ann Arbor the weekend of December 19 to 21 for their semi-annual circuit assembly, announced C. Carson Coonce, presiding minister of the local group. The object of the convention is to train attending ministers in the work of teaching the Bible. Approximately 1400 are expected for the three-day meet.

Included in the many activities of the conference will be a baptism ceremony Saturday afternoon for newly dedicated ministers. According to Mr. Coonce, this is a regular event at each circuit assembly. "Water immersion, as in the case of Jesus, is a symbol of personal dedication to the service of God", he explained.

Highlight of the program takes place Sunday afternoon when Peter D'Mura, district supervisor from Brooklyn headquarters of the world organization of Jehovah's Witnesses, speaks on "The Watch Tower Society in God's Purpose". The public is invited to this assembly feature.

Mr. Coonce estimates that about 85 local Witnesses will attend the Ann Arbor affair. The 20 congregations sending delegates comprise Michigan Circuit No. 8.

Richard Krebs, Jr. of Ypsilanti has been named the convention manager.

Canton Buys Shovel

A 15-ton power shovel is being delivered to Canton Township, December 17, 1958. The township bought the power shovel from government surplus and it will be used this coming spring to lay Canton's new water main.

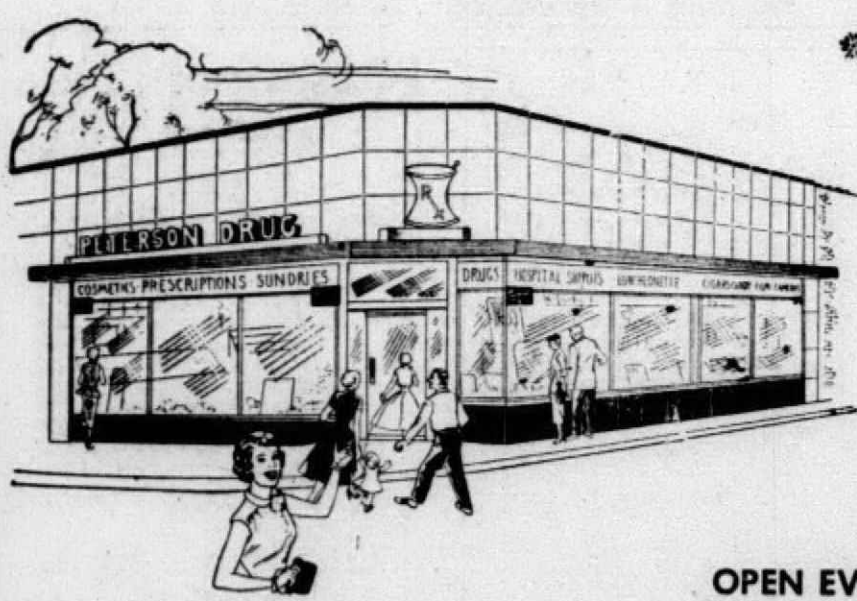

Out of more than 500 species of parrots, only the Carolina parakeet, which is now extinct, is known to have lived and bred in the U.S.

Madonna Holds Yule Ceremonies Today

Traditional Christmas observances at Madonna College are scheduled for Thursday (today). A candle-lighting ceremony will take place in the late afternoon of that day. The ceremony will begin with the lighting of a candle from the sanctuary lamp in the campus chapel. The student body will then proceed from the DeSales auditorium where Madonna's family will enjoy Christmas dinner with mutual exchange of greetings. In the evening, following the dinner, Madonnites will gather in the social hall for their custom of exchanging cards and gifts. "There's no place like home for the holidays," will be the theme song of Madonnites, as they disperse for the Christmas recess, on Friday, Dec. 19.

North Dakota and Montana have suffered population decrease of more than 5 per cent since the 1940 census. With only six per cent of the world's population, the United States has 68 per cent of its automobiles.

Windy Needs Less Horse-power!

A bunch of us—Windy Taylor included—went to see Easy Roberts' new two-year-old filly. She's a real beauty! Right off the bat, Windy was the "authority." He told Easy what kind of bridle to buy, what saddle. He even suggested that Easy was not keeping her in a warm enough stall.

Finally Windy pointed to the horse feed Easy had purchased and said, "Oh, no, not that. There's a much better brand." Easy smiled and said, "Really? When was the last time you ate some?"

Green Meadows: Residents Entertains Salvation Army Old Time Reunion

(Covering the Green Meadows area and the South-west portion of Plymouth Township, bounded by South Main St., Ann Arbor, Joy and Beck Rds.)

MRS. ALVIN STACE
GL. 3-1929

As I sit here puzzling over how to begin the column, I feel I owe everyone an apology for not having a column for several weeks. We have been on a very busy merry-go-round at our house for the past month. With all the plans and preparations of our daughter's (Beverly) wedding which took place on November 21. Thanksgiving day was spent at my sister's (Mr. and Mrs. Vern Piper) home utter amazement to our very hurried trip to the hospital where Mr. Stork decided to drop his heavy load, two darling baby boys each tipping the scales at seven pounds. Of course, it's needless of me to say Ole Mr.

Stork was very thankful for his job well done. The following week we were very happy to have our son Jerry home with us for a few days before making his trip across the big pond to Germany, where he will resume his Army routine as a clerk with the Third Armored Division.

To get on with the column: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown called to say they had entertained several friends and relatives on Saturday, Nov. 22, for the Old Time Reunion of The Salvation Army which began 29 years ago. On hand for the reunion were Sr. Major and Mrs. Cyril Everett of Chicago, Mrs. Loren Nelson, Mrs. Jerry Warner of Grand Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. Hershal Beyce and son, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Terpening and daughter of Wayne, Mrs. Donahue, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Burden, Lieutenant Campbell, Lieutenant Kennedy of Santa Claus is about ready to enter center stage with his annual chimney bit. The reindeer are getting daily workout and it won't be too long before Santa gets the big bag of gifts out for all of us. Let's hope he answers all our fondest wishes.

Down at Wayne University Theater on Woodward Avenue the University players will be putting on "Peter Pan". This fantasy is usually performed over the video waves around Christmas time by Mary Martin. I note that it is not being offered this year. Sponsors must have run out of Christmas money or Wayne University is using all the "goofy dust" that it takes to keep the performers flying.

Each time that an acting company does "Peter Pan" this matter of flying becomes the number one problem. I thought there was only one English concern that provided the flying apparatus.

Evidently, the Wayne University people have perfected their own flying equipment. You might plan to see this production this weekend and find out how well the actors did the flying. There will be a special matinee on Saturday for the children. You'd better call the University right away because I'm sure this will be a very popular attraction.

"Sam" Wilcox filled in for me a couple of weeks ago as head armchair viewer when I had other obligations and could not attend a performance of Elmer Rice's "The Adding Machine" at Wayne State University. Sam reports quite succinctly "it was like looking at an antique".

Of course, he added it's all right if you love antiques. And in these rock and roll times who goes for too many things that are dated. Jack (Sam) Wilcox did indicate that a friend of his, Bob Luscombe, acted up quite a storm in the leading role. Well, better luck next time, Jack, when you fill in for old George.

Phyllis Kelly, Plymouth Theater Guild member reports that the initial plans for the "Teahouse" set appear to be "something out of this world." Phyllis is not designing this next production. When that happens it is definitely "news" Harry Currier with the assistance of a cooperative fellow-worker at the Ford Motor Company has taken over the big task of working out the design for a production that has ten scenes. Mrs. Kelly claims that it will be one of the best designed shows in the Guild's 10 year span of activity. She will be assisting on the construction of the set.

Mrs. Kelly also reports that the Fine Arts committee of the School Facilities Committee has been seriously considering the visit to other schools in our area to see what their auditorium facilities might be like. Let's hope they find an economical, practical solution to our "no-auditorium" problem in a city that likes to think of itself as having considerable cultural activity.

The last news bulletin from the Plymouth Symphony Socety had quite a plea for an auditorium. Old George is with all these people in their endeavor. It might be well for all those interested to contact the school and attend some of the Fine Arts Committee meetings for more understanding on this school issue.

The Plymouth Theater Guild Workshop under the able leadership of Jack Wilcox performed their production of "Champ or Champ" for the Plymouth Women's Club in the Masonic Temple. Speaking of auditorium and stages, the abbreviated version of a stage in the Masonic Temple is a challenge to any theatrical group. The workshopers came through in fine style. Changing the name of their play to fit the occasion, "Christmas Checkmate", the actors, principally Jack and Phyllis Robertson played their roles with gusto and glee. The women in the audience responded with chuckles and titters in all the right spots. Rosemary Kooiman filled in at the last minute for one member of the cast that couldn't make the show because of the early afternoon performance time.

Broadway is anticipating its customary Christmas slump. Each year at this time the great white way takes on a slightly shadowy appearance. People do not get to the theater in great quantities prior to holidays and even during the holiday. These have always been slow weeks at the boxoffice. Of course, "My Fair Lady" will not suffer. Incidentally, "Lady" hit over 10 million gross last week. This does not include sale of the record albums which is well over 6 million clams.

For one show this tops all the old champions like "South Pacific" and "Oklahoma". And to think they have yet to make the movie of the money block-buster of all time. Old George predicts that before "Fair Lady" fades into our musical memories, some time around 1963, the total gross amount of money will hit the staggering sum of 25 million.

Well, let's quit for this week while we are all dreaming of writing a show with such financial potential. What better occupation for the Yuletide season. Heavens knows you will need plenty of the long green (and I don't refer to the Christmas tree branches) to meet that snowy avalanche of bills coming your way.

Called Mrs. James Page to see what had happened there recently. She said it was pretty quiet around the club lately, but she had attended a fashion show about a week ago at the Dearborn Country club.

A note from Mrs. Howard Smith tells me she is the new Avon representative for Green Meadows.

Mrs. Smith also told me she and her husband and four children had just returned from a week and half stay at Mackinac. Howard's mother was confined to Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey for major surgery. They were able to spend Thanksgiving Day with her before her trip to the hospital. She is home now and recovering very rapidly.

The ladies of the Church of Christ are holding their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Murray Rowland on Homer Rd. in Northville. At this meeting the ladies will make cancer pads after which they will have their devotional followed by fun time and the serving of refreshments. All ladies of the church are cordially invited to attend these meetings.

That winds up my chatter for this week, so see you again next week.

Bring Christmas to War Disabled—Christmas will be happier in the homes of war veterans under treatment in VA Hospital at Ann Arbor because of the Christmas gift shop operated there by the American Legion Auxiliary, according to Mrs. Mildred Hewer, Rehabilitation Chairman of Passage - Gayde Unit 391.

"In the Auxiliary gift shops all articles are free to the hospitalized veterans, and are gift wrapped and mailed to the veterans' homes also without charge," said Mrs. Hewer. "This means that the entire expense of the shops is borne by the Auxiliary, and our local Unit has contributed gift articles and cash to the shop at Ann Arbor. Similar shops supported by the Auxiliary are operated each year in veterans' hospitals throughout the country. The shop at Ann Arbor is set up for a few days in a room provided by the hospital. Auxiliary volunteers decorate this room with gay Christmas decorations, and arrange the gift articles in attractive displays. The ambulant patients, and those on crutches and in wheel chairs, come to the shop and make their selections of gifts to their families. Those confined to their beds select gifts from loaded carts pushed through the wards.

The Passage - Gayde Unit 391 also has contributed toward the Christmas gifts which the Michigan Department of the Auxiliary will give to every veteran who is forced to spend Christmas in a hospital in the state. More than 100,000 gifts will go from the Auxiliary to veterans in hospitals throughout the country. Here in Plymouth and throughout the nation, the Auxiliary will make sure that no families of war veterans lack the means for a cheerful Christmas because of the veterans' death or disability. Working in cooperation with other organizations, Auxiliary volunteers will help bring Christmas into homes of the needy.

A new booklet "National Aviation Education Program", offering helpful hints for organizing Civil Air Patrol Units, has been issued by the National Security Division, The American Legion, 1608 K Street, N.W. Washington 6, D.C.

The American Legion lost one of its founders on October 26th in the death of Congressman Sid Simpson of Illinois, who had attended both the Paris Caucus, March 17, 1919, and the St. Louis Caucus in May 1919, at which the veterans organization was founded.

The development of "moral leadership" among the youth of the nation was picked as the theme of The American Legion's religious emphasis program for 1959 at the annual national conference of department chaplains at National Headquarters in Indianapolis, November 13-14.

A series of $100-per-year scholarships in advanced TB nursing is being offered by the Eight and Forty, subsidiary organization of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Salem Federated Church News

The annual meeting of the Salem Federated Church was held on Tuesday, December 9. The pot-luck supper and business meeting was attended by approximately 60 persons. Reports on activities of the past year were given by the Church Clerk, Sunday School Superintendent, Ladies Aid Secretary, Deacons and the Pastor. Newly elected officers were: Sunday School Superintendent, Donald Lanning; Deacon, John Field; and Treasurer, Lupe Grimes.

The Christian Fellowship class held its monthly social Saturday, December 13. The group met at the church for a pot-luck supper and then went Christmas caroling to the shut-ins of our church. Coffee and cake were enjoyed by the partially frozen group on their return to the church.

The Annual Sunday School Christmas program will be held Sunday, December 21, at 7:30 p.m. All departments of the Sunday School will be taking part. The entire program is built around the theme of our gifts to Christ and is entitled "The Three Gifts of Christmas".

Sunday morning, December 21, we will be presenting "Our Christmas Gift" to Him in honor of His birth. Many of our congregation are giving to the Lord a gift consisting of an amount equivalent to that given to all others combined. These gifts will be placed in our building fund.

Grange Gleanings

This is the night of our big Christmas party so there should be a fine crowd. There will be a tree, candy and popcorn balls and a program. If you bring children, bring a gift for them to put under the tree. There will be the usual exchange of gifts for the adults, 50 cent gifts.

The Grange is deeply grieved to learn of the death of our brother Lee Sackett, who passed away on Monday morning. Lee was a fine man and everybody was his friend. He has been an invalid for several years.

Extension Group Has Yuletide Affair

Members of the Hough Home Economics Extension Group, sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, spent a most enjoyable evening when they met on December 10 at the home of Mrs. William Sempliner of Ford Rd. This was the occasion of the Group's annual Christmas dinner party.

Special guests of the evening were Mrs. Isabella McClellan, Wayne County Extension Agent, and Mrs. Harry Stuck, President of the Wayne County Home Economics Council.

Following the dinner, everyone participated in the games which had been planned by Mrs. Donald Schmitt, Recreation Leader, including a novel manner of exchanging gifts.

The evening was brought to a close by the singing of Christmas Carols.

The Rev. Mr. Pera said the C.C.B. came about because "the clergymen in the city have been aware for years of the existence of acute civic problems. We also thought that we were in some way responsible for them and their solution."

Bayonne Clergymen United to Consider Community Woes

BAYONNE, N. J. — (UPI) — "When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth." Proverbs 11:10.

This quotation, common to the scriptures of all religions, appears on the stationery of an unusual organization comprised exclusively of clergymen — Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

The Combined Clergy of Bayonne, N.J., or C.C.B., was created last summer to enable clergymen of all faiths to speak with one voice on major community problems.

"The emphasis of C.C.B. is in the social, economic and political welfare of Bayonne. We are not merely a discussion group that meets once a month in a 'fellowship circle,' explained the Rev. Richard Pera, a Lutheran minister who is president of the organization. Vice president is the Rev. Dominic J. Del Monte, a Roman Catholic, and the secretary - treasurer is Rabbi Morris Tosk.

The Rev. Mr. Pera said the C.C.B. came about because "the clergymen in the city have been aware for years of the existence of acute civic problems. We also thought that we were in some way responsible for them and their solution."

Chief areas of concern for the C.C.B. include juvenile delinquency, labor relations, health and welfare, housing, economic stability, sanitation and family relations.

Active members number 28 of the city's 90 clergymen. In spite of the different religions represented, the

C.C.B. will strive for unanimity in all its judgments. Differences will be ironed out in individual group caucus so that the clergy will not appear divided before the public, said the Rev. Mr. Pera.

The Roman Catholic members, who represent the city's largest religious body, agreed to a bloc system of voting in the C.C.B. This means that each religious group casts one vote, regardless of how many members it may have on the C.C.B. "In this way," said the Rev. Mr. Pera, "united action on the city's problems is assured."

PLYMOUTH SWIMMERS are compiling a sizable lead in the 200 yd. relay to beat Trenton 59-37 last Thursday afternoon.

Redford Easy Mark For Rock Tankers

Redford Union is the next target for Coach McFall and his swimmers as they downed Trenton 59-37 last Thursday night when Plymouth opened its Suburban Six League competition.

Don Williams set a new team record for the 100 yd. breast-stroke, beating the existing mark set by Don Cash by one and four tenths of a second.

The local swimmers are scheduled to meet Redford Union at Redford, on the 17th. This year is the first that Redford has had a swimming team. Because the meet is after press time the story will appear in next week's issue.

Again the Rocks were weak in diving, but they showed improvement over the last meet. This time Plymouth captured four out of a possible nine points.

Two other weak points in the champions' armor were the 100 yd. breast-stroke and 200 yd. medley relay.

Nick Herrick is showing much promise at the diving end of the pool. He may give Dave Scott a run for his money in later meets this season. The results of the meet: 50 yd. free-style: 1. Karl Melow, Plymouth, Time 26.4; 2. James Green, Trenton, Time 26.5; 3. Dave Read, Plymouth, Time 26.6. 100 yd. butterfly: 1. Dick Gretzinger, Plymouth, Time 1:07.9; 2. C. Mandernach, Trenton, Time 1:08.9; 3. Robert Daley, Plymouth. 200 yd. free-style: 1. Ron Daley, Plymouth, Time 2:12.3; 2. Beau Toll, Plymouth, Time 2:12.7; 3. Dick Cookman, Trenton. 100 yd. back-stroke: 1. Alan Davies, Plymouth, Time 1:09.6; 2. Bruce Boughner, Trenton, Time 1:08.2; 3. Scott Soth, Plymouth. 100 yd. breast-stroke: 1. Dick Pixley, Trenton, Time 1:12.7; 2. Don Williams, Plymouth, Time 1:15.4; 3. Don Cash, Plymouth. 200 yd. medley relay: 1. Jim Carney, Plymouth, Time 56.9; 2. Robert Ronka, Trenton, Time 61.8; 3. Brian Silm-verton, Trenton.

Plymouth Fails To Worry Trenton In League Bow

Trenton, bigger and with more cage experience, gave Plymouth a 50-30 defeat Friday night in the opening Suburban Six League conference game for both teams.

A small but loyal group of fans made the trip to Trenton in hopes of seeing the local hardwood group get even for the defeat they suffered at the hands of Trenton in '57. If history repeats itself, Plymouth will gain revenge by beating Trenton later in the season as they did last year. Last year, if you remember, Plymouth and Trenton split a home and home series.

Tomorrow night the Rocks play host to Redford Union as both teams look for a conference win.

Trenton, with the advantage of height, controlled the backboards and ran the game to please themselves the first half. They compiled a dictatorial lead at the end of the first two stanzas by scoring 28 points and holding the Rocks to nine.

In the third quarter Plymouth managed to close the score to 39-18, by forcing Trenton to shoot from farther out in the court. Even this didn't effect the host team, as they cleared the bench giving nearly everyone a chance to play.

Trenton had no outstanding high scorer, but instead spread the points over the greater part of the team.

A small fourth stanza rally by Plymouth was short lived as time was a deciding factor. Wells helped the Rocks a great deal during this rally by taking rebounds from the taller Trenton cagers.

Randy Egloff took top scoring honors for Plymouth with 13 from three field goals and seven free throws.

Holladay Children Come Home To Lake Pointe for Holiday

MARCY BARTSON III
GL. 3-6729

Forest and Bess Holladay are looking forward to December 18, when their son and daughter arrive home from college for the holidays. Frosty, who is studying psychology at the University of Michigan, will start the traditional festivities at the Holladay home by decorating the Christmas tree. Ever since she was a tiny tot she has had this privilege. Her birthday is December 17, and for her present she has always wanted the fun of trimming the tree herself. Wendell and Frosty will be home until the Monday following New Year's Day, and then return to their classes at the U. of M.

Bess has Forest busy these days. He is converting their area into a recreation area, and is in the process of partitioning the rooms at this time. The main room will be Bess's sewing room.

The dedication of the Farland School was an outstanding success. Flowers were sent to the school with best wishes from the Allen Smith, Gallimore, and Bird Schools. Miss Helen Farrand was presented with a beautiful orchid corsage and Mrs. Gerald Elston with a corsage of yellow carnations.

A novel feature arranged by Chloe West was a display of report cards and papers of former pupils of Miss Farland. Many of the parents had a pleasant surprise seeing their old papers and reports on display again.

The school personnel was elated over the grand response and large attendance of friends and parents at the program. They wish to thank all of the fine people who helped to make it the success it was.

At the close of the year names are drawn and those lucky little members are given prizes. All the children have to do is eat dinner at the hotel some time during the year and fill out the membership card they are then given. This then entitles them to membership

The banquet, which honors the Plymouth High gridders, was made a lasting memory for Ron Turkett when he received a football signed by all in attendance. Ron's name was drawn from a box containing the names of all the players that were present.

Dove, a former player with 19 years playing experience—now a Lion coach, expressed his gratitude for being asked to speak at the dinner. Bob was the type of after-dinner speaker that is always in demand.

Post Office Readies Drive On Mail Order Pornography

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Post Office Department is winding up to throw a Sunday punch at mail order fifth merchants who prey on America's teen-age children. The department is armed with a tough new law enacted at the last session of Congress. And it is counting on a lot of help from outraged parents in breaking up what one postal official calls "the most disgusting racket we've ever uncovered."

The racket brings in an estimated $350,000,000 a year to 12 or 15 major smut peddlers who have been—until now—beyond the effective reach of the law. They operate mostly out of Los Angeles and New York. Their stock-in-trade is obscenity—photographs of nude models in provocative poses, "action movies" of indescribable vulgarity, pornographic "comic books." Their targets are teen-age boys.

The racketeers are not content with pandering to the prurient curiosity of youngsters who seek out filthy literature. They solicit customers among decent, well-reared kids—some as young as 12 or 13—whose names and addresses they obtain by buying sucker lists from mail order firms which sell juvenile merchandise.

A few weeks later, he receives a letter. It may be addressed in a girl's handwriting and marked "personal." Inside will be a small "sample" photograph of a nude model. The accompanying letter, purportedly signed by the model herself, offers him a set of "very special poses" for $3.

Usually the solicitation itself is far more lurid than the pornographic material which is for sale. Even if a youth never becomes a purchaser, the circulars he receives through the mail constitute a thorough exposure to sexual perversion and depravity.

The Post Office Department estimates that the smut peddlers have been sending out about 50,000,000 circulars a year. Parents by the tens of thousands have been writing to the department demanding that something be done to halt the flood of obscenity.

The department has been seriously handicapped in the past by a court ruling which held that the government can prosecute a dealer in obscenity only in the city where the material is dropped into the mail—not in the community where the objectionable letter is received.

Hence the filth merchants are able to evade successful prosecution by operating out of big cities where Federal courts take a broad-minded view of obscenity.

This year, at the urging of postal authorities and church groups, Congress passed a new law. It authorizes the government to prosecute mailers of obscene material in any community where their letters have been received.

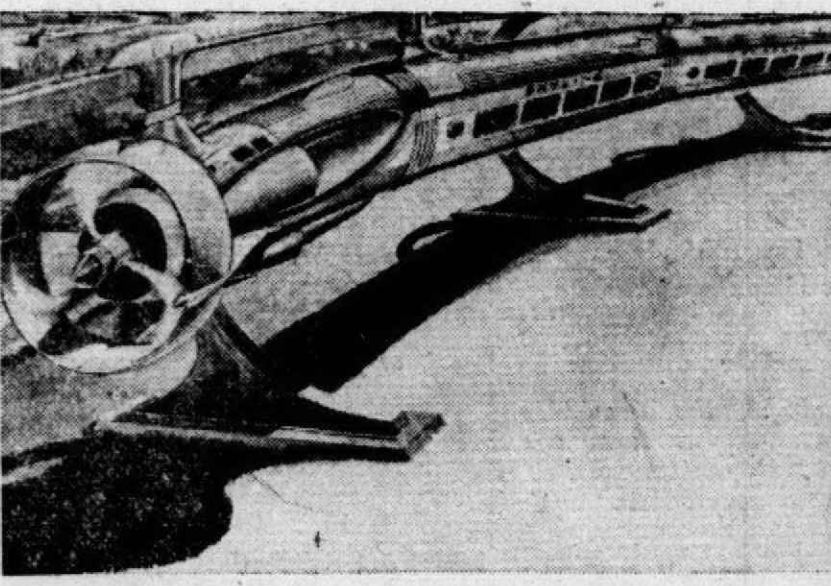

"All we need now," said a Post office spokesman, "is a little cooperation from citizens who find this stuff in their mail boxes."

Forward the obscene material immediately to your local postmaster.

Ready Area for Train Now; Send for Table Directions

A model electric train will operate satisfactorily only if it's mounted on a smooth and level surface. A large table is needed, but one that's large enough is rare unless the dining room table can be devoted exclusively to railroading, and who wants to go hungry while the "boys" play?

The best solution is to build a table especially for the model railroaders. This should be done ahead of time, if possible, so that the outfit will be ready to go when gift time arrives at Christmas. A highly suitable table because of its hundreds of holes in rows is one that utilizes a panel of Masonite 1/4" Peg-Board. Wiring, then, can be concealed underneath, and it becomes simple to fasten down accessories and tracks.

Methodists Having Services of Music

A special musical service has been planned for Christmas Sunday, December 21, at the First Methodist Church under the direction of Dr. John A. Flower, Minister of Music. The following will be presented at both the 9:30 and 11:00 services.

Allen Extensioners See Europe Pictures

Pictures taken during her nine week summer vacation in Europe were shown by Susan Campbell at the Allen Home Economics Extension Group Christmas dinner meeting held at the home of Mrs. Allen Campbell. There were 128 students from the Michigan Teenage Exchange "Youth for Understanding" touring Europe along with Susan. The Michigan Council of Churches processed their applications and made arrangements for homes in which the students lived. She visited several countries and attended the World's Fair. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Henry Travis, Mrs. Frank Busha and Miss Campbell. The next meeting is Jan. 28.

Army Offers Holiday Enlistment Plan

Join now - go later. That's the latest enlistment option offered by SFC William J. Allen, local Army recruiter at 455 South Main Street, Plymouth. Under the Army's new holiday leave program, all men and women who enlist or re-enlist during the period of December 12 through January 1, 1959, may request a special leave to remain home for both the Christmas and New Year's holiday. All persons who enlist during this program period will begin drawing pay for the date of their enlistment. Sergeant Allen also added that the holiday leave program would not effect an individual's choice of any of the Army's branch or school programs in any way. Further information about this program may be obtained by calling GL 3-1540 or evenings call GL 3-2024.

Plymouth High School
By GLORIA BOWLES

Plymouth High is greeting the Christmas season in a grand manner this week . . . coming are parties, a special program planned by the assembly committee, and a "true Christmas Spirit" brought by Future Homemakers . . . we've already seen a fabulous Choral and Band concert on Tuesday and the bow of the special Christmas issue of "Pilgrim Prints."

Tomorrow, the last day of school before the December 18-January 5 Christmas vacation (and boy, do we need it!) will find sixth hour classes throwing holiday parties . . . students have planned entertainment and are preparing food for the occasion . . . tummy will be full of potato chips, cake, pop and ice cream before that 3:30 bell sounds the freedom call.

Assembly committee chairman, Jim Urquhart has announced that yuletide music will be piped over the public address system upon the request of teachers John Van Dyke will be the DJ; Sully Anthony and Jo Anne Nagy also assisted in plans for the program.

This evening, December 18, 30 members of the Future Homemakers Association will trek back to school for a 6:30 meeting of the club. The girls will transform coffee cans into daily-decorated cookie containers and make centerpieces and other room decorations. Why all this preparation? The teens are looking to Monday evening, December 22 when they will troupe out to Orchard Haven Rest Home. FHA'ers will sing Christmas carols, present old folks there with the cookies and decorations for each room.

Following the stint at Orchard Haven, Geralee Rehbein will play host to the 30 fellow-FHA'ers for a Christmas party in her beautiful home on McClumpha. Everyone is to bring a 50 cent present—their own grab bag. Course refreshments will be served.

FHA officers are President Doty Grabowski, Vice-President Alice Olendorf, Secretary Geralee Rehbein, Treasurer Pat Clixby, Historian Pat Crackel and Parliamentarian Carolyn Murray. Faculty advisers helping to usher in the Christmas season will be Mrs. Merle Atchinson and Miss Shirley Plant.

Tuesday night's Choral and Band concert, featuring the band, Choir, Girls Glee Club, Triple Trios, Mixed Chorus and the audience (they joined in a song fest at the end of the program) provided a rousing success and can be given much credit for that "Christmasy" feeling hereabouts.

The Christmas issue of "Pilgrim Prints" hit the stands Tuesday . . . it featured a big red Santa Claus splashed over the type on the front page. Santa wished all PHS'ers a Merry Christmas from the "Prints" staff, the feature page, edited by Sandy Bailey, had jillions of holiday stories . . . and an editorial urging that we keep the Christ in Christmas.

The Suburban-Six League held its annual Christmas dinner at the Mayflower Monday night. Trophies were awarded to Belleville for capturing the League football crown, while Redford Union took Cross Country honors. After the dinner, coaches, music and speech teachers, publication advisers, and principals met in their respective groups to discuss future activities.

We're only missing one element of Christmas here, though . . . a tree! Two Student Council members were all set to go tree-hunting when fire regulations canceled out their plans. Guess we'll just have to imagine it's there.

A last thought: we can't believe Christmas is so near . . . can you?

PHS'ers will represent a Communist country, Poland, when they travel to Hilldale in the spring for the Model United Nations assembly. The UN study group here has been viewing the news from the free-world's point of view . . . they're going to have to do an about-face.

Members of the organization are Chairman Pete Signorelli, Secretary Claudia Kessler, Tom Schomberger, Chairman of the Steering Committee, Steve Lea, Tom Keeler, Sue Campbell, Sue Druce, Rolf Dietrich, Betsy Edgar, Steve Johnston, Frank Smith, Mary Jane West, Bob Westover, Gail O'Donnell, Janet Frieswyk and Gloria Bowles. All are '59'ers except the last two, who are juniors.

Everyone has been holding their breath, but finally it can be told . . .

Mary Jane West and Hale Huber have been selected the best citizens of the senior class.

The best citizens were chosen by the faculty and senior executive board . . . they were judged on their dependability, service, patriotism, and leadership abilities. Both MJ and Hale rate high scholastically, and boast a place in the upper 5 per cent of their class. MJ is President of the Student Council, while Hale heads the Science Club. Both are in a multitude of other activities, too numerous to mention here.

Newly-elected band officers are President Jeff Huntington, Secretary Dolores Aldrich and Treasurer Larry Livingston. All are juniors.

THE READER Speaks Up

Editor:

We, the Kellys, mentioned so generously in the article on page 4 headed "Symphony and Ballet Attracts Huge Crowds" say Thank You to the writer.

However, we are but three of the many members of the Theatre Guild and Symphony Society, and others, that made the staging possible.

Much of the painting was done by Alice and Garland Wright, Ann Blackman, and Mary Ploughman.

The difficult overhead suspension of the false proscenium, center stage teaser, and back drop was done by Bill Kamen, Hal Young, and Garland Wright.

Backing and bracing of set pieces was by Betty and George Hudson, Bill Edgar, Alice Wright, P. B. MacKenzie, and Harold Fisher, Jr., the latter also half of the "Lighting Gang."

The lighting equipment and much help by Bill Campbell of the High School faculty. Hatzle and Beuhler, electrical contractors, loaned the two hundred feet of conduit of which the suspensions were made. Champion Container Corp. made a special runs of cardboard that in large sizes necessary would be available.

And when the show was over Dr. Ford Sutherland, Daryl Wright, and Nick Werdell stayed to help with the less than romantic "tear-down" and trip to storage.

The Woman's Committee of the Symphony Society, Mrs. Edgar and Mrs. Huber, and their assistants, graciously fed the entire "tear-down" group a most welcome supper that the group might eat yet complete their work without undue delay.

The Kellys were far from alone throughout this project. It was a group and group venture in cooperation. One, we all hope, added a bit to Plymouth Community Living.

One, we hope, will be the first of many from which the Community will derive pleasure and pride.

We would appreciate any motion on your part that will carry to all those who worked so hard, conscientiously and cheerfully, much of the credit extended, at present, only to

Editor:

Two weeks ago, I ran an ad in The Plymouth Mail suggesting that I would run for Supervisor if there was sufficient public interest in someone entering the campaign against the traditional point of view there.

Well, since the ad appeared I have been phoned by 55 individuals, all saying that they thought they would like to have my point of view on the ballot.

I also received 21 letters. All of them encouraged me to go ahead.

This isn't the biggest compliment that ever was given a candidate, but I believe it is enough to warrant my filing to run for Supervisor.

I'm going to run. In future weeks I'll repeat my original ideas—namely, that Plymouth Township should not be humiliated or rejected, but that cooperative action between the City and Township must start immediately.

The way we're going is impossible.

Sincerely,
Orville Tungate

Dr. Molner's Suggestions On Toy Giving

Now that the biggest "toy time" is here, if you intend to give toys, know what the child can use before you buy them, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City - County Health Commissioner, advises. Adults must watch that they do not buy gifts to please themselves rather than to give pleasure to the child.

Make sure one of your first considerations is the child's happiness, but remember that safety and suitability for age are important if they are to bring this happiness. Wise selection of toys as gifts by aunts and other relatives will help to give the child's parents an enjoyable Christmas in addition to delighting the child. Select toys that are durable to give to young children. They should be easily cleaned and not have removable parts small enough to be swallowed.

Each toy should stimulate its owner to some activity, either mental or physical. Some of the longtime favorites which meet this requirement include dolls, wagons which have pull strings or round handles and blocks with rounded corners. These are universal favorites with children, because they can be used by youngsters of different ages and under almost all circumstances. Instead of buying toys which do things, it is well to remember that children need to do things with their toys. Activity should come from the child not from the toy.

Normal physical growth and personality development require opportunity for wholesome play and toys are the tools of play. Take into consideration the age and living conditions of the child before you buy toys. A sled or skates given to a boy who has no safe place to use them only tempts him to take unnecessary risks and, to use them in unsafe places or else they make him feel frustrated because he cannot enjoy them.

The tiny baby's first toy should be a bright one to hang where he can follow it with his eyes, but not grab it. When he is three to four months old, he can grasp and hold a rattle. A child between one and two years is learning fast and he needs toys to push and pull, to load and unload, to pile up and knock down again.

A young child will be happier if his holiday celebration is spread over several days. If he is given too many toys at once, he is merely confused and bewildered and his enjoyment diminishes by the confusion. Make sure the toys you give him do not have sharp points and that they will not break or splinter. Avoid stuffed animals with glass or button eyes which a child might breathe into his windpipe or shove into his ear.

Young children and babies are sensitive to the emotions of those closest to them. If there is a baby or young child in your family, surround him with the feeling of security and warmth of a happy family holiday and try not to make it too different from the experience he is accustomed to on other days. Don't overwhelm him with too many visitors, too many toys, or too much excitement. If you expect him to have a happy Christmas, make sure preventing over-excitement, that he has enough rest by WEARING BLUE LACE as her bridal costume, Miss Ruth Edna McCarthy exchanged nuptial vows with James Wesley Cowles on November 29 in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. McCarthy, 33020 Schoolcraft, Livonia. Her bridegroom, serving in the U.S. Navy, gave her a white orchid corsage for the rites. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cowles of Detroit. Attending the pair were Miss Patricia Cowles and Louis Robinson. A reception for 100 guests followed in the evening.

Rosella Bannister Gives Holiday Entertaining Tips

"Let's plan a party", is a familiar phrase these days with Christmas so near. Well planned parties are more fun for the hostess and the guests, says Rosella Bannister, Wayne County Extension Agent in Home Economics.

If you need a party planning guide, including menus, table settings and recipes, write for your free copy of the Michigan State University Bulletin, "Entertaining at Buffets, Teas and Parties," from Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, Box 552, Wayne, Mich.

Be practical about the number of guests you can handle easily. Be sure to ask your guests in plenty of time — and tell them whether or not you will serve a meal.

Prune Evergreens to Yield Greenery for Yule Decor

Use Plan To Build Yule Sets

Santa Claus up-to-date in a fancy automobile laden with toys can be an outdoor Christmas decoration this year by following directions in a free plan. Using a 4 ft. by 3 ft. panel of Masonite 1/4 inch tempered Presdwood, available at lumber yards, you can lay out the pattern by following the outline given in the plan against a grid. Instructions for painting are given.

Also shown are patterns for making a Christmas star and a wreath, designed to fit the front door. These designs have appeared in a national magazine.

To obtain a copy of the free plan, address a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and request plan No. AE-318H.

Make Stars' Swags, Wreaths From Your Landscape Scraps

All evergreens need to be pruned at least once during any year. What better month to do it than December when the prunings can be saved and used for the making of Christmas decorations.

It isn't necessary to cut down a 10-foot cedar, ruin a hemlock hedge or destroy the symmetry of a yew or box in order to have enough clippings to make a large wreath, swag or star. The yew, small-leaved hollies, junipers and other evergreen shrubs need a light annual pruning in order to keep them symmetrical or shapely.

This pruning will yield branches and twigs of different lengths since this sort of pruning requires that each branch be studied. Evergreen shrubs require shearing only when planted as hedges or for topiary.

An evergreen tree may need pruning for shaping. By the time it is several years old, some branches probably should be removed too. This may be the lowest circle of branches so that low growing plants under the tree will receive more light. Or it may be that branches are growing too closely together along the trunk and so it is better to saw off, clean and close to the trunk, alternate branches.

These evergreens will keep well in a cool place, out of sun. Temperature between 35 and 45 degrees is best. Stems cut from berried shrubs also should be kept in the same temperature but to prevent berries from shriveling, roll each bunch in damp newspaper.

Every pruned piece of evergreen can be worked into some kind of Christmas decoration. Wreaths, garlands and stars are made of bits of evergreen 2 to 3 inches long. A long spray or swag for this door calls for evergreen branches, at least three that are 3 feet or longer, and several 1-foot lengths for the top of the spray.

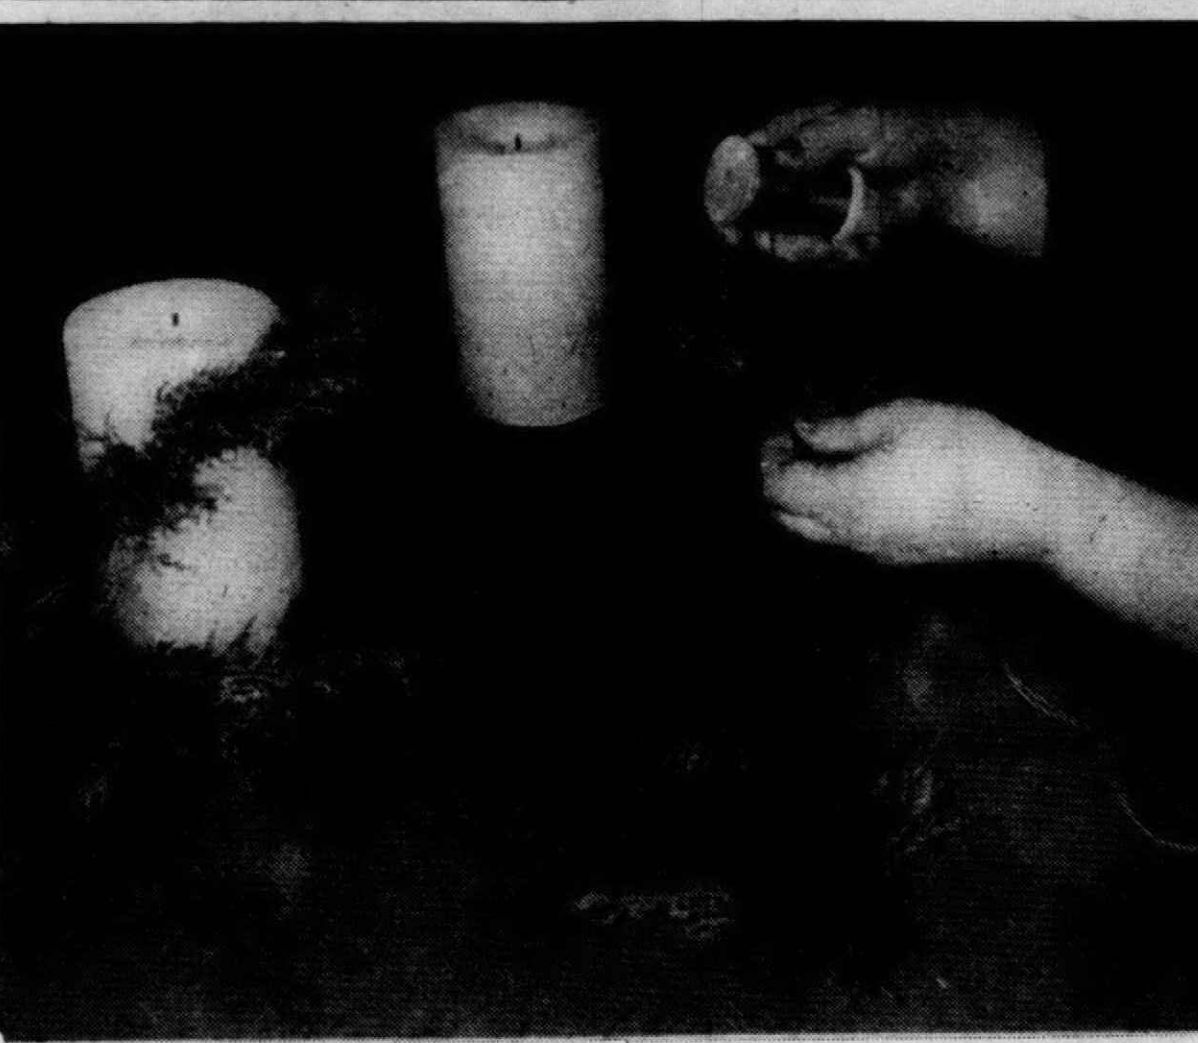

Other supplies for making Christmas decorations are a frame for each large piece, soft green cord for winding evergreens to the frame, a spool of fine wire (florist's wire), florist "picks" or short, pointed sticks about 3 inches long. Thick, round toothpicks are a satisfactory substitute for picks. A pruning shears, a cutting shears, pliers and possibly a stapler are the only other tools needed.

A wire coat hanger makes an excellent frame for a wreath. The hanger can be bent into the round shape and the hook left as a means of suspending the wreath. For larger or smaller wreaths, heavy wire can be bent into shape and the ends twisted around each other firmly. Some people like to use leafless willow or privet stems, several of them wound together and wired tightly where the ends overlap.

For a small, flat Christmas tree, a star or a bell, the shape may be cut out of fine meshed chicken wire or netting. Evergreen sprigs can be woven into the mesh and the decorations wired on.

Garlands, two to three inches wide and flat, can be made quickly using strong cord as a base. A 3-foot long spray for the door or over the fireplace can be wired together. A long spray or one for which heavy decoration is planned is better wired to a 2-inch wide, thin piece of wood.

Suburban Living

HOME DECORATIONS — A garland needs heavy cord as a base. Tie the sprig to one end with green string. Then, holding spool in right hand, wind evergreens to length desired. Cones and berries are wired.

Give Money For Christmas Via Your Bank

If you find some hard-to-give names on your Christmas list, the chances are you may think of making a gift of money. Money, of course, is always a welcome present. And infinitely better than a gift that someone doesn't really want or need. It can always be used by those who receive it to buy something they really like.

When you make a gift of money, however, don't just enclose the "long-green" in a Christmas card and let it go at that. Your family and friends may not be flattered or may think you lack imagination or don't really care. So, here are several suggestions for giving money through your local bank:

Special - occasion gift checks. You can purchase these checks at many banks whether you're a regular customer there or not. These checks are often specially designed for the occasion. Some banks even provide Christmas envelopes to give an extra holiday fillip to your present.

90 Pct. Have Poor Teeth
NEW YORK — (UPI) — Nine out of 10 Americans are dentally deficient, says Winslow Carlton, chairman of New York's Group Dental Health Insurance program, and the lower the income the greater the deficiency.

Nicest Gift of All Might Be Real Tree

Every property needs trees to shade trees to protect the house, flowering trees to look at, berried trees to attract birds. For some reason or other, while the budget stretches every year to fertilize and seed the lawn, few people go out and deliberately spend money for a real tree.

That's why a tree, particularly a shade tree, makes a good Christmas gift. The second reason is because early winter is the best season of the year for transplanting a tree of any size.

Families who have moved into a newly built home within the last year or two probably have bought shrubs to plant near the house, but may desperately need trees to help tie the house to its setting. If the land was cleared and graded in order to build, one or two shade trees are essential to break the force of winds and sun. If the new house was built in a wooded area, then lower growing flowering trees are needed as underplanting for the native oaks or sweet gums.

Giving a tree involves no effort, if a gift certificate is arranged with the local nursery. But, it's nice to see a present and there's no reason why the tree can't be selected and planted this month except in the snowbound North.

For a shade tree that's going to look like a shade tree now, count on not less than $15, better yet $25 to $30 and up to $50 if you want an older and larger tree. Flowering trees such as silk tree, hawthorns and crabapples range from $7.50 to $25. There will be a small extra charge if the nursery not only delivers but undertakes to dig the hole and plant the tree for its new owners.

Trees that cost under $5 are usually rooted cuttings that haven't grown enough to look like trees. The tree purchased from a nursery at this time of year has already been transplanted once or twice to encourage development of a mass of roots. It also has been pruned and trained to grow in its correct shape. It is classified and priced either according to height or caliper (thickness of the trunk).

It would have to be a nostalgic reason for a catalpa or horse chestnut to be the tree for which new homeowners yearn. That's because these trees are messy. Avoid giving a poplar, willow or silver maple (Acer saccharinum) because their roots may eventually disturb waterpipes, foundations or sidewalks.

Finding out whether an oak, a maple or a beech is a favorite shade tree shouldn't be too difficult. Or the architect may have suggested that a yellow wood or a moraine locust near by would complement the house.

Oaks grow in all regions of the country. Pin oak is a great favorite and fine shade tree in the North and Midwest, willow oak fully as good in the South. Bypass a Norway maple because its dense shade makes it a problem tree. Red maple (Acer rubrum) is a fine choice for its early spring flowers and clean foliage that turns vivid red in fall; red maple grows somewhat faster and over a wider area than sugar maple. Once established, the rate of growth and life expectancy of any oak, sweetgum, plane and tulip trees make them good investments.

Among flowering trees, crabapples, hawthorns, cherry and magnolia flourish from Texas to Massachusetts. Decorative from Long Island southward are redbud, laburnum and silk trees. Nurseries will recommend spring, rather than winter, planting of some flowering kinds.

Any of these trees at a nursery are sold either "balled and burlapped" with a ball of soil around the roots wrapped in burlap or in metal containers. The burlap or metal container goes in the ground with the tree. So successful are either of these transplanting methods that nurseries offer some sort of guarantee against loss. The most general guarantee is the offer to replace, in case of death, at half price.

A new tree needs to have the soil around its roots watered thoroughly every week the ground isn't frozen during its first year. Spread a 2-inch mulch of peat moss, salt hay or other clean material.

Sky Watching Is Winter Fun Hobby

Look at the eastern sky after dark this evening and see that brightest of all the stars, Sirius, sometimes called the Dog star. Although it shines brightly just above the horizon, this is not the "Star of the East" that guided the Wise Men to Bethlehem that long ago night when the Christ Child was born.

Also twinkling above the eastern horizon this week is the planet Venus. Venus will become brighter during the early weeks of the New Year.

That Venus was the Star of the East that guided the Wise Men is only one of the many theories men have put forth during the century, but serious astronomers are to explain the extraordinarily bright light that night. At least one person has written a book to prove this theory, but serious astronomers no longer believe that Venus was this legendary Christmas star.

Other theories credited the "Star in the East" to a conjunction of two planets or to a comet, but these also have been pretty much discarded. If the Star of the East is regarded as a natural phenomenon and not a miracle, modern theory is inclined toward its having been a supernova. A supernova is a star which suddenly increases its brilliance by as much as a thousand million times. Only a few supernovae have been recorded through the centuries.

The theory of the Star in the East having been a supernova takes precedence over its having been Venus, if only because Venus at its greatest magnitude would hardly have been a surprise to men of any learning. After all, the travellers were Wise Men and astronomy was already a well established science in the Near East. Proof of the latter is the Arabian names of many important stars. Constellations were named later by Greeks, Romans and Europeans.

Sirius, the Dog star, is not only the brightest of stars but also the principal one in the winter constellation Canis major. All of the constellations and the important stars in them have been given names, and the important ones to see vary from season to season. A constellation is a group of stars in which some astronomer saw a pattern that lead to its being named and thus becoming part of the map of the sky.

Winter, the new season that begins Dec. 22 at 3:40 a.m., with its crisp, clear nights is a fine time for looking at stars. On cloudless evenings there will seem to be millions, for even faint ones twinkle in profusion. A quarter to a half hour on occasional winter evenings will be enough to become acquainted with a few of the striking winter constellations.

Most important of the winter constellations is Orion. Find it low toward the southern horizon and it will be the key to many important stars. Orion, the Hunter, has a belt of three huge stars and smaller ones form the sword hanging from it. The blue-white star Rigel marks Orion's left knee and, diagonally opposite it, the brilliant red shining Betelgeuse indicates his right shoulder.

Looking directly northwest from Orion's belt will be seen the red light of the double star Aldebaran. Looking southeast from Orion's belt brings into focus Sirius, the Dog star.

In winter, as in summer, stars are best seen from an open lawn or field, a porch or deck which affords a wide view of the sky and is not hemmed in by buildings or trees. A person can see a great deal with his own eyes, although field glasses and eventually a small telescope will be desired by anyone who makes a hobby of astronomy.

An electronic computer has been made to play checkers. When opposed to ordinary players the machine won, but it lost when playing with a champion.

WINTER is a good planting time, which makes a tree an ideal Christmas gift for new homeowners. Whether it's a red oak or other favorite, the tree will shade the house in summer and shield it from winter winds.

'2-Martini' Drivers Disturb the Experts

LANSING—Highway safety experts are getting worried about the killer with two martinis under his belt. He is not legally intoxicated. But the jolt to his system, that feeling of well-being, confidence or power, transmits itself to the accelerator and makes him a menace on the highway.

State traffic officials are taking the emphasis from the "Drunk Drivers Go To Jail" slogan and applying it to drinking drivers. They are concerned about research which shows that more than half of all traffic accidents in the country involve either a drinking driver or a drinking pedestrian.

Standards of drunkenness devised in chemical tests given at police stations no longer apply. There is evidence that only a little alcohol has a big effect.

If a driver has less than .05 alcoholic content per volume in his bloodstream, he is considered sober. If it is more than .05 and less than .15, the point can be argued.

A man or woman with .15 or more is loaded with alcohol, as dangerous as a loaded gun.

The concern about drinking, rather than drunken, drivers is a major problem as the holiday season approaches and the parties begin.

In winter car windows are closed and the drinking driver is denied even the fresh breath of air that makes him more alert.

Traffic researchers claim that a driver goes faster in winter too. The windows are closed and he loses the sensation of speed and motion that comes with wind blowing through the car.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs and Sec. of State James Hare note that the late winter months are the most disastrous on the highways for these and other reasons.

Drivers are handicapped by ice and snow and the earlier hours of darkness.

In November, Hare said, the state's traffic safety gains were damaged by "bad luck," a series of multiple-death accidents.

Five were killed in a one-car accident near St. Johns, four were killed in a two-car wreck near Holland. There was no evidence that the drivers were drinking in either one.

Three other accidents each killed three people and two others took two lives.

Some officials are optimistic that something can be done about the problem, whether drivers are "drinking" or not. The answer lies with the driver.

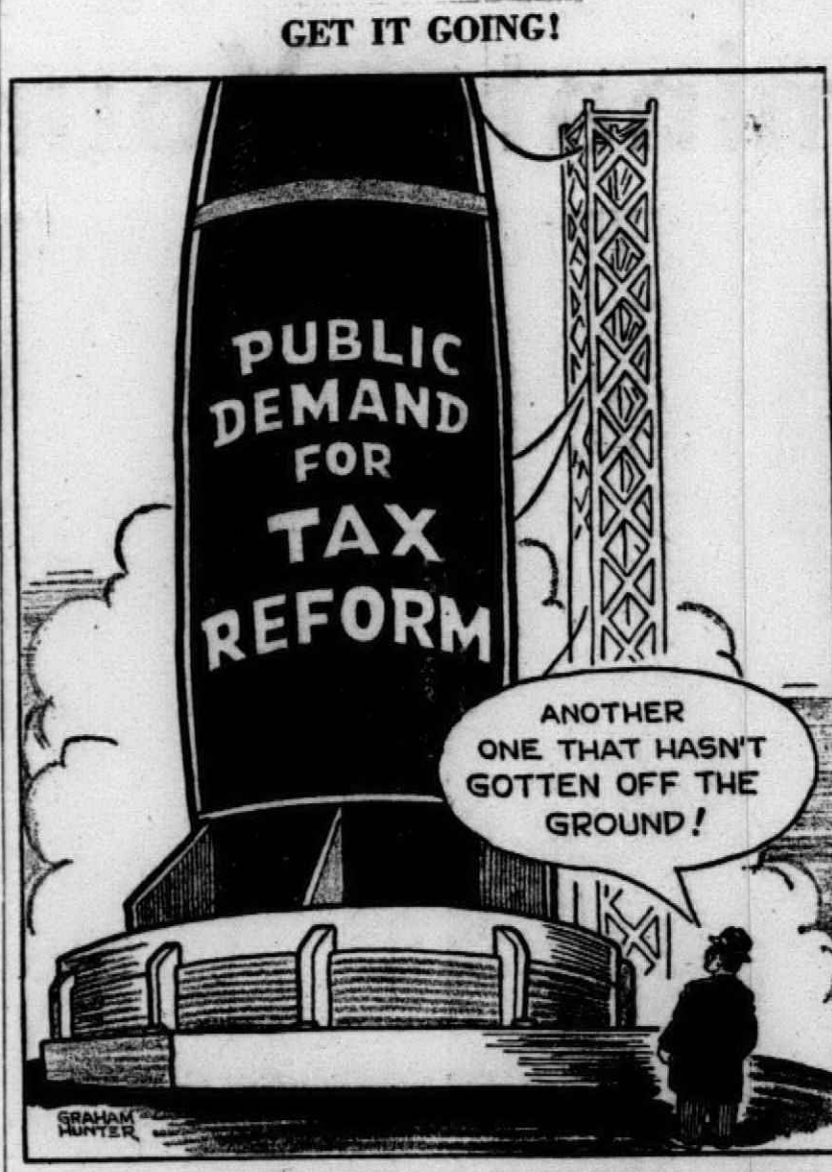

Hare suggested a special survey to determine the number of drinking drivers and pedestrians who become the tragic statistics when the weekend toll is counted.

Tougher law enforcement and other educational campaigns through the newspapers, which he credits with helping bring down the toll on the highways in recent years, are ideas.

Judges could help by making voluntary surrender of the driver's license for a 30-day period the condition for releasing on probation a drinking driver convicted of reckless driving.

Childs, whose troopers have conducted a continuing all-out war against drunk and reckless drivers, doesn't believe added enforcement is the complete answer.

The driver should be educated and warned, again and again, that even a few drinks makes him less alert and more prone to take chances behind the wheel, he said.

Income Tax 3 to 8 Percent

Details: What Drastic New Tax Plan Means

By George Van Peursem LANSING—Today I'll attempt to summarize the report of the Citizens' Advisory Tax Committee to the House Taxation Committee. At the outset, the Advisory Committee emphasized strongly that it felt it had developed "a balanced program for tax reform, each component of which is to be viewed as an integral part of the whole."

Estimated revenues from the proposed income tax are $220 million a year. The second major feature of the tax report is the corporate income tax. The committee recommends that a 5 percent corporation profits tax be tied in with the present corporation franchise fee. At present, the franchise fee is four mills on net worth. This would be reduced to two mills which corporations would pay unless the 5 percent tax on net income is greater.

Encouraging economic growth was listed as a second committee aim. Taxes that impede progress and penalties upon business expansion and improvement "should be minimized," the committee said. The committee sought to shift the burden of business taxes from costs to profits, and from taxes that impede progress and expansion to those that reflect business success achieved in a climate conducive to growth.

In its last recommendation, the Citizens' Advisory group proposed the repeal of the chain stores tax, for a net loss of $500,000 revenue. In the mood ROME, N. Y. — (UPI) — During a rehearsal for the Christmas concert, director William Moonan told the civic chorus: "In this phase, you're almost hysterical with joy — On the downbeat, Moonan stabbed himself in the leg with his baton. A nurse from the sorano section effected first aid and the rehearsal continued.

NO TOWN IS AN ISLAND

No town lives alone. It lives with its neighbors and must work with its neighbors. Its people should take an interest in the things that are good for the area and should take part in programs for development of the area. The competition among areas for business and industry is hot and growing hotter. How well an area fares in this competition usually depends upon how well the towns of the area work and live together.

It is almost always true that as the area goes, so goes the town. Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.

SHOPPING'S A HOBBY with some people. They like nothing better than a long store-by-store hunt for a bargain. For the rest of us shopping is one of those things that just has to be done. So we put it off until the last moment—especially at Christmas—then find ourselves rushed for time. The Yellow Pages directory can make your last-minute shopping much easier. It lists the names and phone numbers of local dealers. Do your searching in the Yellow Pages—and save yourself valuable time.

TALKING OF CHRISTMAS SHOPPING, why not give your family a gift that's useful year-round, smartly styled—comes in a choice of nine decorator colors? Sounds expensive but it isn't—costs only about a dollar a month after a small installation charge. It's an extension phone—the gift that speaks for itself. One in the bedroom, kitchen or laundry room will save time and steps year after year. And each time it does, your family will bless you for your thoughtfulness. Just pick up your phone and order a phone.

WHEN SPEAKING to each other, Long Distance operators usually use a code (it speeds your service). "D-A" means the party doesn't answer; "B-Y" means the number is busy and so on. An operator was stumped recently when another operator informed her that the number being called was "O-M-C." "What does that mean?" she asked, mystified. "Out milking cows," came the reply. THIS LITTLE STORY has a point. The telephone system for all its size is actually a network of small local offices. Each is adapted to the needs of the neighborhood and run by the folks who live nearby. Despite automatic equipment of great complexity, it is still people who make telephone service good. A VERY HAPPY CHRISTMAS to you. And may all your telephone calls in 1959 be happy ones.

Canton Township Folks Busy With Christmas Now Week Away

By ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL. 3-0194

I'm starting to sound like a broken record, repeating each week, that I want to hear news from each of you in the township. Just because I don't call, doesn't mean I wouldn't like to hear from you, perhaps it is just that I don't know you as yet, but I would like to. At this time of year each and every family has some plans for the season, so we should have a lot of newcomers to the column.

In my search for news this week, which hasn't been easy, I called Mrs. Nick Mucker (Opal) to see if they had their holiday plans all set. Mrs. Mucker said she was busy doing the holiday housecleaning, but had been interrupted by their family dog, who managed to get caught in a muskrat trap. The dog, needless to say, was unhappy and not a bit sociable. Mrs. Mucker called for help from her brother, Mr. Dale Wells, who promptly came and released the pet. When I called Mrs. Mucker and Mr. and Mrs. Wells were planning to stay for lunch.

Another call this week to the Glen Smith family of Canton Center Rd., found Mrs. Smith (Thelma) busy getting ready for the Hammond Organ Christmas Party, being held Sunday, December 14. Mrs. Smith will be playing the organ for the affair, and for group singing. As to their Christmas plans for the family, Mrs. Smith said they are just partially completed. I hadn't heard of the Norman Higgs family of Beck Rd., for some time, so gave Mrs. Higgs (Jenny) a call. She said they are hoping to have her parents from up North down for the holidays, but as yet nothing definite has been set. Mrs. Higgs said however that she was planning to attend a pinocle party at the home of Mrs. William Miller of Livonia. The group of ladies meet regularly at each other's homes.

The Ernest Plants of Ford Rd., are planning to hold their Christmas festivities in Sarnia, Canada, at the home of Mrs. Plant's brother and family.

The Arthur Carmickles of 5946 Canton Center Rd., are to my knowledge, the first family to have a lighted Christmas tree outside their home in the township this year. I called the Carmickles home, and found that they also have their inside tree up and decorated. If you are not as yet in the Christmas spirit, take a drive past the Carmickles' home and maybe their tree will put you in the right mood.

The Richard Palmers of Warren Rd., have their Christmas festivities pretty well planned. Mrs. Palmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cavell, formerly of Plymouth, now of Traverse City, and Mr. and Mrs. Cassey Cavell of East Lansing, where Mr. Cavell is attending the university, are coming to spend Christmas with the Palmers. On Christmas day, the group will go to Mrs. Palmer's grandfather's home, home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wolfe on Sheridan in Plymouth, to have Christmas dinner. At the time of my call, Mrs. Palmer (Joan) was busy making Christmas cookies. She said she was on her second roaster full, her two children and husband really like Mom's cookies.

Our Plymouth Community Schools, located in the township, are all busy planning Christmas programs for their families. The Gallimore School planned their Christmas party on Tuesday, December 16. The fifth and sixth grade choruses were to entertain with Christmas songs. Mr. Mike Toth, fifth grade teacher planned to sing a solo, followed by a mixed quartet. A community sing was also in the plans. Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were to be served the children and coffee and cookies the adults. The multi-purpose room, the center for all festivities held the school's Christmas tree.

Another family with definite plans for the holidays, are the Russell Palmers of Beck Rd. I called Jo Palmer, and she said they are planning to entertain her father, Mr. Michael Nikoloff, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White and sons Bob, Jim and Craig & Junior Wilkins, for Christmas dinner. At the time of our phone visit, the Palmer's daughter, Connie was home sick from her classes at the Gallimore School.

On December 17, Mrs. Palmer said she had a wonderful time at their bowling teams (The Buttermore Electric) Christmas party, which had been held at the "Farm Cupboard". Members of the team were Mrs. June Buttermore, Mrs. Marge Fletcher, Mrs. Frances Moore and Mrs. Marge Newell. The Palmers are also one of our families in the Christmas mood and have their house windows decorated for the event.

Some very busy young men doing something very nice for someone else are the young men of Cub Scout Pack No. 298. The fellows are busy making "tray favors" for the folks at the White Hall Rest Home in Ypsilanti. The boys, along with the Junior Choir of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church, are planning their visit to the home on December 18, at which time they will present their gifts and a small Christmas tree and sing carols for the people residing at the home.

The Cherry Hill Methodist Church will hold their Christmas program on Sunday, December 21 at 7:30 p.m. The Sunday School children will present a pageant, entitled "The Tenth Christmas". Special music will be provided by the Junior Choir. As in other years, the Sunday School children will put their gifts around the Christmas tree for the children of the Maybury Sanitarium.

On New Year's Eve, there will be a midnight Watch Service held at the church. Games and refreshments will start at 9:30 p.m. and the service at midnight. Mrs. Marge Fotovich, who was kind enough to supply me with the information, said that the members of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church wanted to extend an invitation to everyone to attend their New Year's Eve program.

Sharing their Christmas fun, will be three of the Plymouth Community Schools, located in the township; Hugh Truesdell and the Canton Center Schools. For a special treat, the children of Hough and Truesdell are sharing popcorn balls with the children at the Canton Center kindergarten school. Parents from all three schools are invited to the program planned by the students. The program will be held Thursday evening, December 20, with the children of the Truesdell School providing the entertainment. A community sing of the traditional Christmas music will be followed by refreshments.

A little late perhaps, but good news to the township, is the fact that the township's National Foundation Drive met its quota and went nine dollars over.

Coming to meet their new granddaughter, Patricia Ann Cederberg, are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Meyers, Mrs. Cederberg's parents. Mrs. Cederberg said she was looking forward to her parents' arrival at their Warren Rd. residence on the 13th of December. Needless to say, Mike and Johnny are looking forward to seeing their grandparents.

A call to Mrs. Thomas Cape of Hanford Rd., found the Cape family eagerly looking forward to Christmas, and especially so with grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal J. Shuell of Saginaw coming to Christmas day with the Capes and their five children. Mrs. Cape said she has plans for doing some Christmas baking, cookies, nut breads and etc. Mrs. Cape was busy getting ready to take her two youngest children to the home of Mrs. Norris White of Sheldon Rd., who was caring for them, while Mrs. Cape kept an appointment.

I called Mrs. Hassett, parents of one of the Cherry Hill School children, to check on their Christmas plans for the school. Mrs. Hassett said the children are planning a program entitled "Christmas Around the World". As Mrs. Hassett understands, the children are planning to tell the customs of Christmas in other lands. The program was held Monday December 15. Of course the traditional Christmas tree will be on hand, along with the singing of the Christmas songs. After the program, everyone present will be given a popcorn ball. It sounds like a very interesting program.

While talking with Mrs. Hassett, smoke started to pour out of my kitchen, and for a while I thought I would be making the news. I hurriedly asked Mrs. Hassett to wait, while I ran to the kitchen, only to find my three-year old "Keith", taking to cooking. He had put bread in the toaster and every time it popped up he pushed it back down, results, charcoal, a very smoked up kitchen, plus a very upset young man, that his toast hadn't turned out as he expected.

Are your youngsters restless waiting for that certain visitor on Christmas Eve? Well here is a little something that my children love to do. Mix up a batch of cookies, let them cut them in Christmas shapes and mix up a solution of one egg yolk, a 1/4 teaspoon of water, desired shade of food coloring, hand them a small paint brush and let their talents show on the unbaked cookies, pop them in the oven and see what happens.

Well, I had a few more leads on news items, but the owners of these gems must have been out helping Santa boosted cable, 8 to 12 feet long ($3 to $6) can be hooked onto the dead battery and another car's live battery. The dead battery can be recharged while driving until such time as it can be replaced.

A battery charger of 6 to 12 volt ($9 to $18) also restores life to a weak battery. The charger can be plugged safely into household current and will not blow a fuse.

A locking gas cap ($2 to $3) or a dashboard tray (about $2.50) to hold cigarette pack, maps, sunglasses, etc. is a thoughtful gift. For the car that totes a batch of youngsters day after day, a tissue dispenser ($2 to $3) is invaluable.

Also relatively inexpensive ($1.90 to $5.50) are rubber mats. They'll protect floor upholstery in the back or front of a new car or hide worn spots in floor covering of an old car. Again be sure of style and year of the car and whether a front or back mat is needed.

Parents whose car lacks seat covers are almost certain to appreciate this gift.

Accessories Often Most Welcome

The first-time owner of a car will probably vote Christmas "the most" this year if his presents include accessories for his proudest possession. At the other end of the family, Dad, if not Mom, may also crave something for their car which isn't way beyond the budgets of the younger members of the family.

Buying auto accessories for Christmas Eve. But before you go shopping, double check the year and style of the car. Nothing's more disappointing than to get a present that doesn't fit, whether it's for yourself or your automobile.

Two practical, yet inexpensive, accessories will dress up an old car and protect a new one. Chrome-plated holders for license plates (90 cent to $3.85) or a side-view mirror ($2 to $7) are not standard equipment on new cars.

Dad with his 1957 or '58 model and son with his jalopy face the possibility of battery trouble with the worst of winter ahead. A Seat covers cost more than the average auto accessory (from $10 to $23 installed), but two or three of the younger members of the family could chip in and make seat covers a gift from all.

A set of tire chains for winter driving, a jack for that inevitable flat tire are welcome gifts for the driver who doesn't have them. While gadgets may be attractive to look at, it's the working accessory that makes a thoughtful gift.

Americans Did Much To Improve Status of Santa

It's little wonder that Saint Nick is especially generous to the American people. History proves that the Americans have done a lot for Saint Nick.

According to Donald Ludgin, Editor of the Holiday articles in World Book Encyclopedia, the Americans have given Saint Nick a new name, a new face and figure, and a new means of transportation.

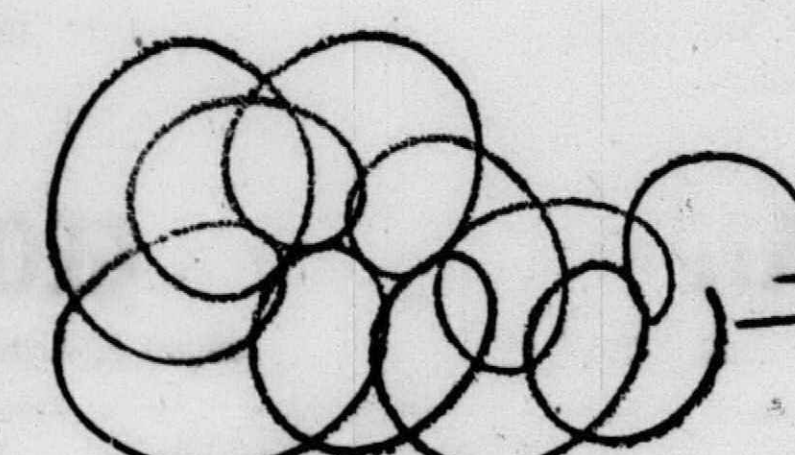

The original European version of Saint Nick was a tall, angular man who rode on a bony, gray mare. Both the horse and Saint Nick looked as if they hadn't had a good meal in some time. The Saint had deep sunken eyes, and wore a flowing, threadbare cloak and a black skullcap.

The early English settlers in this country started giving Saint Nicholas his "new look." The English children adopted the legendary Christmas figure from the Dutch, but they had trouble pronouncing "S a i n t N i k o l o u s . " Somehow the name changed to "Santa Kalout," and finally it was corrupted to "Santa Claus."

However, this was only the beginning. In 1809 Washington Irving, in his "Knickerbocker's History of New York," wrote of the Saint as the guardian of New York City. Irving described Saint Nick as a jolly fellow with a broad-brimmed hat and huge breeches. He taught Saint Nick to smoke a long pipe, and, in the story, replaced his shuffling hay-burner with a trim wagon that floated over New York house-tops.

A short time later, Saint Nicholas' transformation was aided by Clement Moore in his famous poem, "The Visit from Saint Nicholas," written in 1822. Moore, a professor of Divinity in a New York Theological Seminary, gave Saint Nick a sleigh, twinkling eyes, cheeks like roses, nose like a cherry, and a round little belly.

Today's Santa Claus is by no means streamlined, but he is a far cry from the lean, ascetic, somberly dressed fellow who, for centuries, on Christmas Eve, guided his mare through the streets of Europe.
