Board Opens Millage Issue Campaign

A campaign to acquaint the voting public with the need of renewing a three mill levy for operating the Plymouth Community School District was opened this week as the board of education and representatives of the School Community Planning Group met.

The educational program will be waged during the next two weeks prior to the special election on Monday, March 23 and will be carried on mainly through the school system itself.

Plans were laid for forming neighborhood school groups. Each elementary school will have committees of about 26 people to dispense information about the election and alert citizens in their area to get out and vote March 23.

Although the millage proposal is for renewal of millage that is expiring, many persons in school circles believe that the issue could be defeated unless the public is well acquainted with the need of the millage.

George Conover, chairman of the Plymouth School Community group, told delegates at the combined meeting Tuesday night, "We urge all lay members of the community to study the issue to be voted March 23. We must understand why the board is asking for this three mill renewal."

The three mill levy is for a five-year duration. Some people have already confused it with the discussions over a new high school. There has been no election proposal made concerning a high school bond issue.

A special election was called for the millage renewal because the board must know soon how much money it will have before they can discuss 1959-60 contracts with teachers.

Board President Austin Stecker was chairman of Tuesday night's planning meeting. He introduced Superintendent Russell Isbister who outlined some of the facts on the school system's finances.

The three mill operating levy voted by citizens in 1954 expired with the current year's tax collection, the superintendent said. This year the three mills provided the system with $257,718 towards the total operating budget of $1,871,895.

Of the $257,718, the money is used as follows:

Administration	$ 9,277.87
Instruction	181,949.40
Operation	37,626.93
Maintenance	5,927.53
Fixed Charges	1,283.59
Auxiliary Services	15,463.12
Capital Outlay	6,185.26

Hough Estate Gives Books To Library

His children, grandchildren and the Dunning-Hough Library will become the beneficiaries of the estate of the late Edward C. Hough, former president of Daisy Manufacturing Co.

Entered in Probate Court last Thursday, the will bequeaths the books in the late home of Mr. Hough to the Dunning-Hough Library. With the exception of $1,000 to go to each of his seven grandchildren, the remainder of the estate will be divided equally among his son and two daughters.

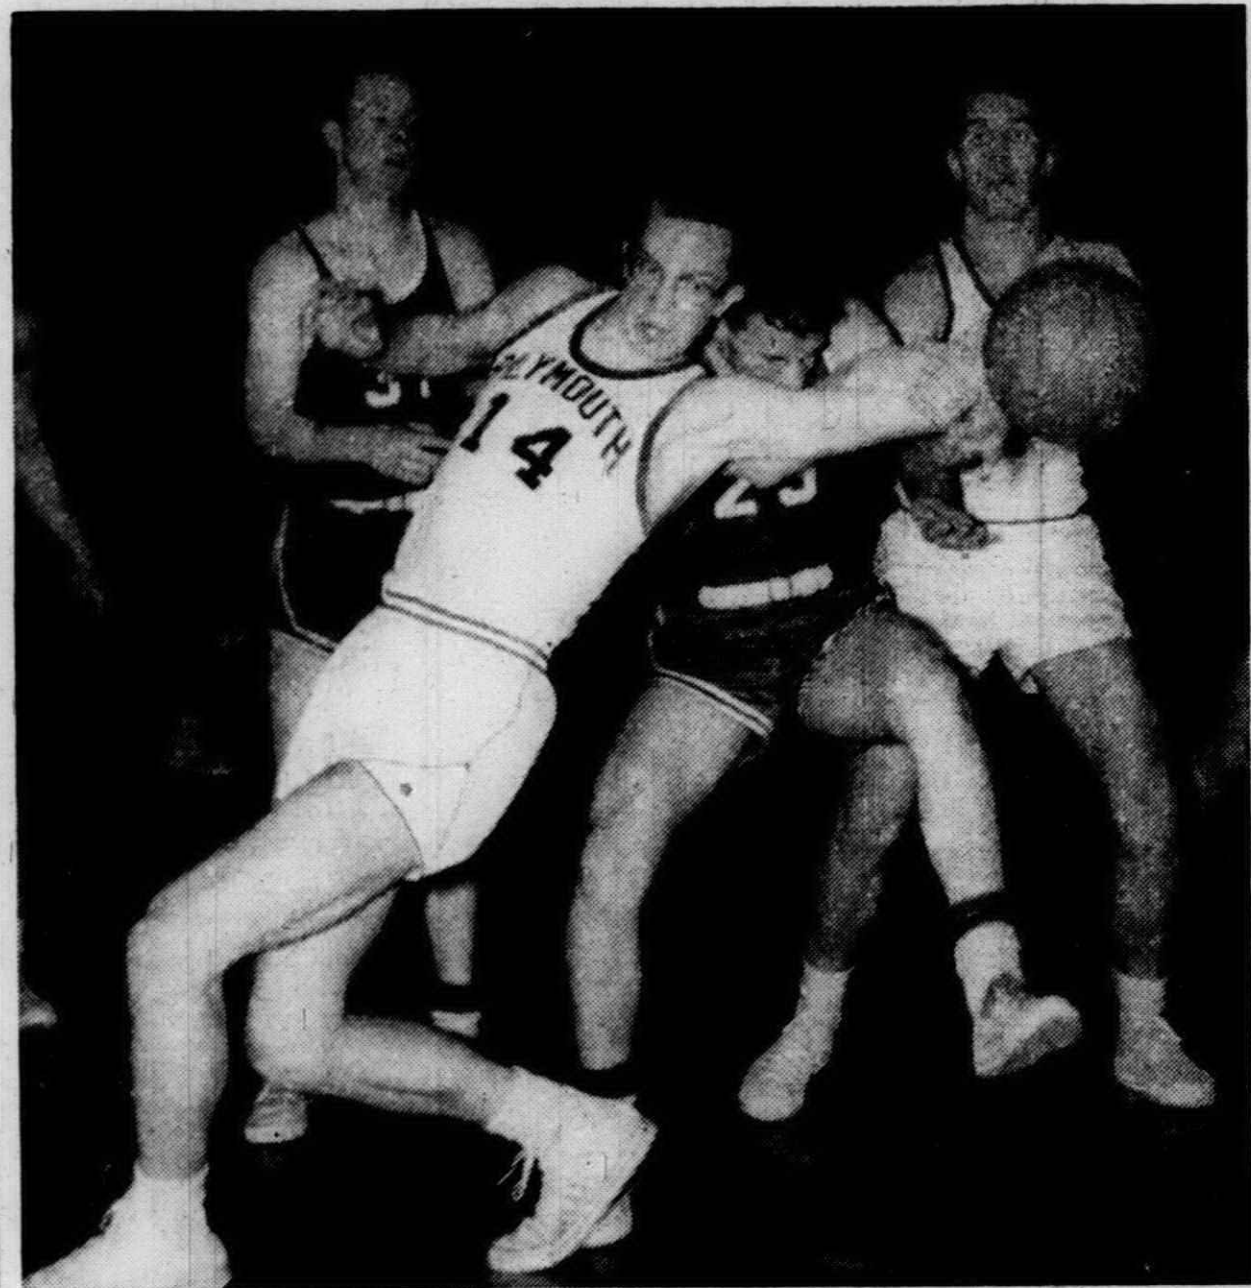

Named as administrators of the estate were his son, Cass Hough, and Roy M. Tolleson, Jr., secretary of Daisy.

Tolleson said that the will provides that Mr. Hough's books will go to the library except those of personal nature. He added that an inventory of the estate has not yet been completed but estimated that it will exceed $1 million.

Mr. Hough died January 24 at the age of 86. He took an active interest in the local library during the last years of his life and donated the colonial front unit of the building from the Edward C. Hough and Mary Hough Kimble Foundation. The building and its furnishings cost some $140,000.

Mr. Hough's surviving children are his son, Cass, now president of Daisy in Rogers, Ark.; Mrs. Corett Jennings, Savannah, Ga.; and Mrs. Athalie Archibald, Bryan, Conn.

Nipped by a Bulldog

LIVONIA BENTLEY'S Bulldogs really didn't bite — it just looked that way last Friday when Bratherton (23) grabbed Plymouth's Don Argo (14) with both arms. The Rocks lost 61-42 and concluded the season with three wins and 10 defeats. Saturday Plymouth plays Thurston in district tournament at Eastern Michigan.

Two Entering City Commission Race

A committee of citizens intending to run two "sticker" candidates for the city commission on the April 6 ballot has been formed and is calling a public meeting tonight (Thursday) at the high school.

Naming themselves the "Committee for Representative Government," the group has held several meetings with a nucleus of two dozen people that now intends to open its ranks to anyone interested.

The lack of a contest for the four city commission vacancies brought about the committee, a spokesman said this week. There were only four candidates seeking the four vacancies, thus assuring the four of their election.

It is possible, however, to elect candidates through the "write-in" method. Or, instead of writing in the names, it is probable that the committee will have stickers printed with the candidates' names which will be attached to the proper place on the machine.

Tonight's meeting of the committee will be held in the High School Annex general purpose room (old Junior High gym) starting at 8:15. A representative from the Wayne County Board of Elections is expected to attend to explain the method of voting for a sticker candidate.

Temporary officers of the committee are Albert Fey, 1495 Penniman, chairman; and Paul H. Steencken, 1496 Penniman, secretary.

Steencken said that the two sticker candidates will be announced at the meeting tonight.

The Committee for Representative Government has drawn up a "statement of objectives," telling why they believe other candidates are needed.

"Six of the present seven-member commission are businessmen," their statement declared. "Many residents of Plymouth have for some time expressed the feeling that this lack of balance does not enable the commission to represent proportionately the interests of all of the residents.

"There is also much concern that the ideal of making Plymouth an increasingly desirable city in which to live is not being encouraged.

"A desirable immediate objective for all of the citizens of Plymouth should be to elect candidates who will:

"1. Promote the public welfare, social and economic interests of all of our citizens without advantage for any one group.

"2. Who will conscientiously examine all issues presented to the Commission from all viewpoints, particularly with regard to how these issues affect all of the residents.

"3. Who will take a stand on these items only on a basis of an objective and independent judgment as to the practical necessity of such action.

"4. Who will strive to promote the development and improvement of Plymouth at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayer consistent with the demands which are deemed necessary.

"5. Who will have imagination enough to consider how any decisions of the Commission will affect long-range programs for city betterment."

The committee, after determining its objectives, decided to select two candidates for the office of city commission who are in agreement with this program and to carry out a campaign to elect the two candidates by write-in vote.

Three of the candidates are present members of the commission — Marvin Terry, Robert Sincok and Carl Shear. The other candidate, J. Rusling Cutler, is a former commissioner.

There are four city commissioners elected every two years. The three receiving the highest vote receive four-year terms while the fourth-ranking candidate is elected for two years.

Commissioners elected in April will receive $10 per meeting instead of $5. Voters last November approved the increase in compensation.

Harlem Magicians Head For Plymouth Again

The basketball treat of the year will come to Plymouth on Saturday, March 28.

It is the second annual visit of the Harlem Magicians who can do anything with the leather Casaba but eat it. The Magicians will be facing the Boston Shamrocks.

Sponsoring the event again is the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. Game time is 8 p.m. in the High School gymnasium but the Magicians will take the floor at 7:30 p.m. for their popular pre-game warm up ceremonies.

The Magicians are showing no signs of wear and tear despite the fact that they played 287 games last season and are scheduled to play 300 for this season. The two teams will feature a good brand of basketball and the Magicians will again exhibit their now you see it and now you don't play against the opponents.

The Boston Shamrocks will feature Vern Westlake of Southwestern University of Texas, Johnnie McAvery of Iowa State, Jesse Coffee of San Diego State, Bob Deppolo of Williams College, George Craton of East Central College and George Contratto of Illinois.

Advance tickets are on sale at Davis & Lent, Blunk's Furniture, Jack's Burgers, Pizza Pete, Dodge Drugs and Community Pharmacy.

Zoners Decide Tonight On Subdivision Plat

A large crowd is expected to be on hand when the city planning commission meets tonight to decide upon the final plat for Symar Subdivision, the 104-home development planned for the Junior High School area.

Planners gave their tentative approval to the subdivision two months ago but since then residents of nearby existing homes have protested that there are not enough direct entrances to the subdivision.

Tonight's meeting, starting at 7:30 at city hall, is expected to draw many residents of the Maplecroft Subdivision area who believe that lack of additional entrances to the new subdivision will make Hartsough street a busy thoroughfare.

Hartsough now runs from Main street to the Junior High property. At the time the street was bridged over Tonquish Creek to the school grounds, residents protested that the route would become so busy that it would endanger the lives of their children. City commissioners agreed but added that additional streets would someday be cut through to the Junior High area.

According to the plat for Symar Subdivision, located north and west of the Junior High, other streets will be continued in the subdivision, but they are jogged along other streets before they make their continuation. For this reason, Maplecroft citizens still believe that traffic will still use Hartsough, which is the only "straight through" street, except from Mill street on the east.

Taking up the Maplecroft homeowners' plea at Monday night's city commission meeting was Commissioner Richard Wernette. He believed that Fairground St., on the north, should run straight through the new subdivision without jogging as it is proposed. He submitted a diagram that he had drawn up.

Earlier in the meeting, A. J. Rusling Cutler, representing the builders, had asked that the commission give approval of the engineering so that the health authorities could give approval to the sanitation facilities.

This request was granted at the close of the discussion, with the warning that the final plat may be changed. Wernette declared that although he didn't live in the area, he believed that the residents had a just complaint if no routes were provided directly into the new home area except Hartsough. Herald Hamill, engineer for the project, said that Burroughs Ave. could be extended straight into the area except that it would require the city to build another bridge over the creek. (The plan calls for Burroughs to follow Coolidge south to Hartsough. Coolidge is not actually a street now.)

More important than securing rare fossils, arrow-heads, or items relating to early Indian folk-lore, are the inquiries and history behind each item. This is the most fascinating part of being a collector. Besides building up and improving his collection, William is also interested in art and aspires to travel to Heidelberg, Germany in the near future to study, with an eye to one day becoming a commercial artist. But there are so many interesting things in the world to do and all are a challenge to this young man who is interested in anthropology, archaeology and even geology, that even one lifetime is hardly enough.

Hospital Beds Offered By Plymouth Lions Club

The Plymouth Lions Club has three standard hospital beds available for community use at no cost. Other items will eventually be added to this Loan Closet by the Lions.

Anyone needing the use of a hospital bed may call Leonard J. Rusling Cutler, GL 3-4664 for further information.

NEWS BEAT

Plymouth Going Wild Again?

It may be that someday Plymouth deer hunters may not have to travel far to find their game. A Dunn Court resident this week reported seeing a doe behind her home that later ran toward the Plymouth Colony area. A week ago another caller said he saw a deer on Ann Arbor Trail within the city limits. That same weekend two deer were reported killed by cars near Ypsilanti.

QUICK SWITCH: With the city's Board of Review convening Tuesday morning to face taxpayers who protested their assessments, the city commission had to act hastily Monday night to fill a vacancy on the board left by member Warren Smith who resigned. Sidney Strong was appointed. Sitting in the audience, Strong asked if the commission carried life insurance on Board of Review members. (There is no compensation of any kind).

RACE ON: Sixty friends of Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles attended a coffee session Saturday morning at the Hotel Mayflower to help the judge start his campaign for re-election. Both Republicans and Democrats turned out, with most of them volunteering their services to aid the campaign for Western Wayne County's only circuit court judge.

MISSING NAMES: Two persons in the Plymouth area have had their entire license registration blanks returned to them when they MILESTONE: The building in this picture looks familiar — but those cars standing outside! They are Model T Fords, latest off the assembly lines when Paul J. Wiedman went into business in 1921. It was 38 years ago this week that he was notified that he was awarded the dealership. Wiedman is now, the oldest living Ford dealer in Wayne County in terms of service. Another firm, Schrader Funeral Home, is observing its 55th anniversary this week, one of the few local businesses over the half century mark.

COMING UP: A groundbreaking ceremony is expected to take place soon for Plymouth Township's sanitary sewer. The sewer will start near the western end of Newburg Lake and will initially serve the southeastern section of the township as far west as Sheldon Rd.

DEFINITION: When a guest was appearing before the city commission Monday night concerning problems over a new subdivision, there was considerable exchange of words among commissioners.

AVAILABLE: Delinquent tax lists for Wayne County, of interest to some people, have been published in a recent edition of The Legal Advertiser. The Mail has 50 copies available at a price of 10 cents each.

Off to Washington Youths to Meet Polish Officials

Three internationally-minded Plymouth High School senior boys left for Washington, D. C. last night... and an interview with Polish embassy officials in the capitol.

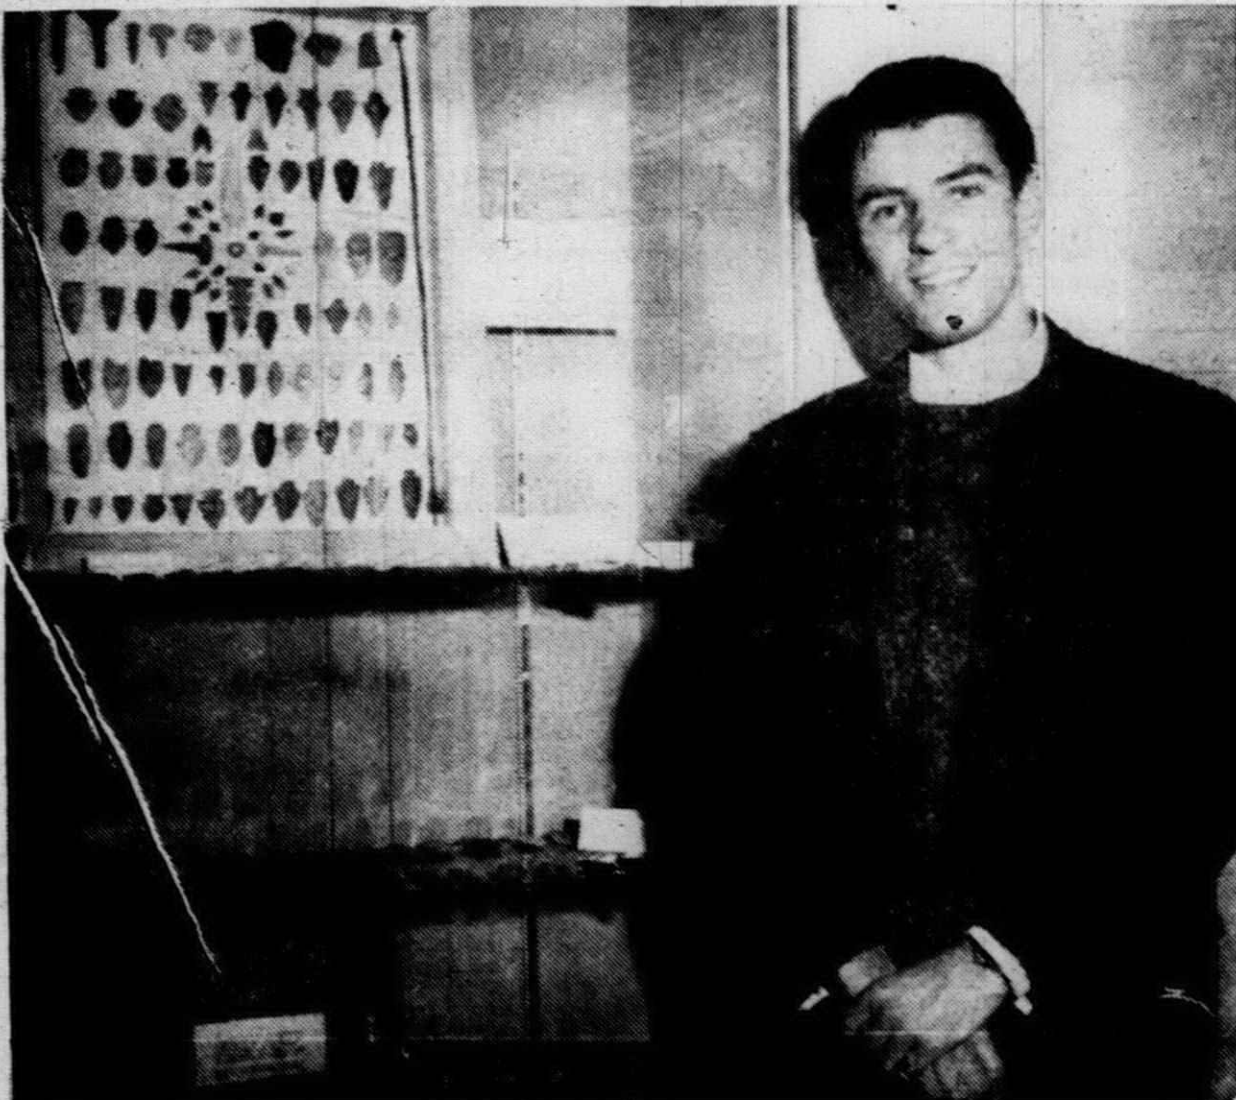

They are Rolf Dietrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Dietrich of 260 Parkview, Tom Schomberger, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Schomberger of 922 Hartsough and Peter Signorilli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Signorilli of 175 Amelia.

The three are members of the United Nations study group at the high school, which will represent Poland at the Model United Nations Assembly at Hillsdale, College on March 20 and 21. Rolf sponsors the model U.N. for high school students.

The purpose of the interview, scheduled for Friday afternoon, is for the boys to become versed on the stands of Poland on issues on the agenda for the tenth session of MUNA. Usually such information is secured solely through magazine articles, embassy press releases, etc., but the Plymouth boys wanted to supplement their literal research with a first-hand verbal account.

They will quiz embassy officials on such questions as the peaceful use of outer space, Cyprus, representation of Red China, the race conflict in the Union of South Africa, Palestine refugees, Years Ago

Louis Buehler's Celebrate 45th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Buehler celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary on February 28 at the Mayflower Hotel in the Miles Standish Room.

People who sat at the guest of honor table were their daughters, Mrs. Ellen Mennick, Miss Alma Buehler, and Mrs. Hilda Mann and her husband, their grandchildren, Barbara Jean and Judy Ann Mennick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buehler, Rev. and Mrs. G. L. Press, and Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Schultz from St. John's Lutheran Church in Wayne. Other guests were relatives and friends.

Rev. Press said a prayer of Thanksgiving before the turkey dinner and Rev. Schultz said a prayer of Thanksgiving after the dinner.

A three-layer wedding cake and a bouquet of flowers decorated the dinner table. The flowers were a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Henry Galm.

Mrs. Buehler wore a black and white dress with coordinating accessories. She wore a corsage given to her by her grandchildren.

BUFFALO, N.Y. — (UPI) Judge Michael E. Zimmer listened nearly three hours while the defense and prosecution questioned police officers in a speeding case, and then rendered a verdict of guilty.

But he quickly changed the ruling to "no trial" when he discovered that the defendant, John T. Irvin, hadn't bothered to show up in court.

Farm Bureau Women Meet Monday Noon

Farm Bureau Women of Wayne County are being invited to bring their friends and neighbors to a potluck dinner being held at the Van Buren Township hall on Monday, March 9 starting at noon.

Mrs. Nyman of Livonia will show slides of her trip to Sweden. Ladies are being invited to bring their own tables service and one dish to pass. The Pilgrim Farm Bureau group are hostesses.

Members have been busy since Feb. 1 conducting an accident survey. They have been contacting all Farm Bureau families to find out where the most accidents occurred on the farm.

Roger Foerch, Michigan Farm Bureau Safety coordinator, Lansing, will help compile the results at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Roy Schultz, Lilly Rd., Plymouth. The survey will be completed March 20.

Last year the safety survey polled 560 Wayne County Farm Bureau families. There were 76 injuries costing $4,505 and a loss of labor placed at 1,164 days.

Plymouth Pastor Attends Lake Union Conference

Clarence Long, pastor of Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church, will be a delegate to the denomination's 10 quadrennial convention of the Lake Union Conference of Adventists at Detroit, March 9-12.

Ministers, administrative officers, school officials, laymen and other denominational employees representing Adventist churches of four lake states will attend the four-day session to be held in the Fort-Sheley Hotel in the motor city.

The local pastor will join ministers and laymen from all over the state in attending the quadrennial session of the Church. A total of more than 500 delegates and visitors are expected to attend from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

In addition, representatives will attend from the international headquarters of the Church in Washington, D.C.; the regional headquarters in Berrien Springs, and from several of the Church's publishing houses.

Reports of achievement in various phases of church work will be given by departmental secretaries and other officials of the Lake Union Conference. One of the main items of business will be the election of officers for the coming quadrennial period.

Jerre D. Smith, President of the Lake Union Conference for the past three years, will be in charge of the convention.

Church Members To See Slides of Mexico

Dr. Gerald Fitch will show color slides and movies of his recent trip to Mexico, this Sunday, March 8, 7:00 p.m. at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 42375 Schoolcraft at Bradner Rd.

This is Dr. Fitch and his wife's third trip to Mexico and Yucatan. His interest there lies in the ancient Mayan Indian ruins and Mexico in general. Three and a half weeks plus 7100 miles of driving took the Fitches to Villahermosa in the state of Tabasco where they left their car, as this was the end of the road, and from there continued by small or commercial planes. The Fitches have used Mexican and Indian decor for his office which they have redecorated since their return.

There will also be a display of some of the items which they brought back in their loaded station wagon.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX, SOCIAL EDITOR

This week we are in the business of answering questions and solving problems (yes, even love-lorn).

If, as a homemaker you feel in the rut of a daily grind and are interested in some stimulating ideas, we have just the thing for you, free of charge too. (Therefore, logically, the money you save from not paying for this, you may purchase a new Spring hat.)

It is a Bride's School - the release said it is for old brides, new brides and brides-to-be. It will be sponsored by Consumers Power Company and will run from March 23, and each Monday thereafter, through April 20, starting at 8 p.m.

Meal planning, informal entertaining, consumer food buying and table arrangements will be on the agenda. There will be a tour of three modern kitchens and one laundry room featuring the most up-to-date equipment and ideas including the advantages of vertical storage.

There will be door prizes and refreshments each night. (no charge)

Contact Home Economist, Mrs. Mariel Mortensen, a Plymouth resident, at GL 3-0700 - Extension 248, and make your reservation. Do things - you'll be a happier person for it and so will your family.

Do you have a baby-sitting problem? Look no further. Several enterprising Plymouth families have started a wonderful idea. A Cooperative Baby Sitting Service. This has a tri-fold purpose.

1. It offers aware care.
2. It costs no money.
3. There is a fellowship in solving each other's problems and doing your fellowman a favor.

The membership in this group is limited to 20 couples. This one is not yet full. When it is, others could be started.

This group has just organized and they have a Chairman, Ida Medlyn, Co-Chairman, Eleanor Jones and Secretary Martha Pope.

They have organized to the extent of having a printed sheet stating the policy and procedure of the Baby Sitting Cooperative. It all works on a credit plan. When you join you automatically fulfill two positions. You are a sitter and a gadder, which I am sure is self-explanatory. Gadders and sitters work through the secretary - she keeps the cumulative record, plus or minus credit hours for each member.

"Upon request the Secretary will try to get a sitter who has children approximately the age of those with whom you will be sitting, especially during the day. In the evening men may fill the bill as a sitter too.

An extra half hour is granted to the sitter (for her own gadding) at lunch time, and an extra hour credit is granted at dinner time when feeding or dressing is involved.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening sitters shall receive a bonus of one hour. A bonus of 1/2 hour is given for every hour sitting after midnight.

Gadder pays time and a half hours to daytime sitters who come to her home on Saturday and Sunday.

A night gadder must furnish transportation for the sitter when requested. Gadder takes child to sitter's home for daytime sitting.

No one who is 15 or more hours in debt may have a sitter under any circumstances until she has reduced her account to less than 15.

Each group may pass any additional rules, by a majority vote of those present at a called meeting. No household work is required of the sitter.

Same rate of credit pay regardless of number of children in the family.

These are but a few of the well worked out criterion. Doesn't it sound interesting - Mrs. Medlyn was surprised I had never heard of it - she says it works out very successfully in many college towns, and that the children benefit by it as well as the parents.

Mrs. Medlyn, GL 3-3649, will be happy to answer any questions you might have about joining the group or information relative to starting another one.

Personally, this is another reason why I think it is nice to live in Plymouth - people do things.

Mrs. Carroll L. Porter came to the Mail the other day to thank us for running the piece of her daughter Katherine's enrollment in Mexico City College. It seems, however, the registrar at the college changed Katherine's last name and we thought she was married. She is not. She is Katherine L. Porter, 19, and a sophomore at the Mexico City College and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Porter, 250 Auburn, Plymouth.

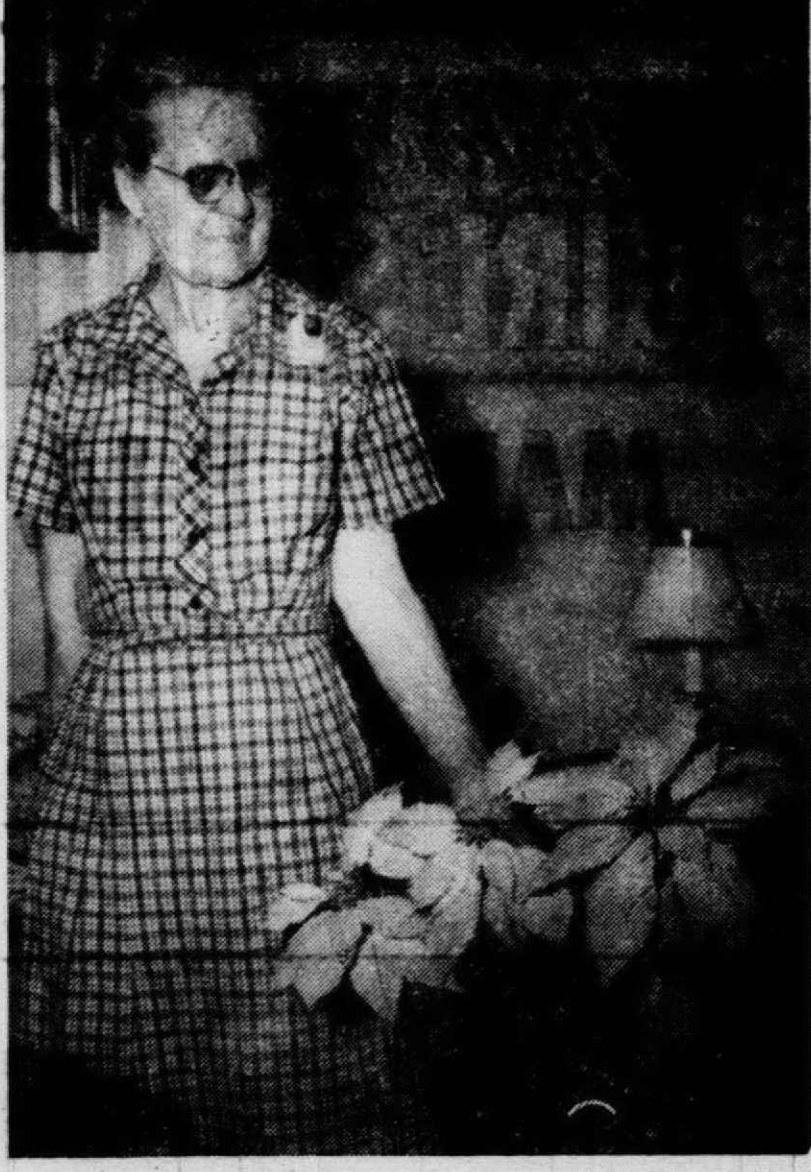

In answer to the love-lorn-letter: Dear Bored Sunday - With your apparent ability to write I strongly suggest you drop everything - come join the staff of the Mail - and everafter you will need Sunday to rest.

MOST FOLKS receiving poinsettias for Christmas sadly watch them drop away a week later. But Mrs. Blanche Beard, 1287 S. Main, has been amazed to find the four blooms of her Christmas poinsettias still going strong. It is the first poinsettias she has ever received. She has it in a west window and gives it a fourth cup of warm water each morning.

Home Economics Extension Groups Hold Feb. Meeting on Accessories

Home Economics Extension Groups sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service concentrated on the interesting lesson, Accessories For The Home, stressing the importance of color, texture, line and design and the importance of individual preferences.

Accessories used in the home should be useful, well designed and should make a definite contribution to convenience and appearance of the house. Accessories are the miscellaneous useful and decorative articles such as vases, lamps, pictures, ash trays, mirrors, etc., which add to the charm of the room. Simplicity is the keynote of all decoration. The texture of accessories should harmonize with the character of the other furnishings in the room. Choose only those decorative objects that have meaning and beauty, then use only a few at a time so that each object may be seen to advantage. The informal arrangement offers more variety and interest but requires more skill. A grouping of small accessories is more effective than having them evenly spaced. Always plan

Salem News Reporter Reminds Voters of March 7 School Election

Mrs. Herbert Famuliner
FI. 9-0924

Voters in the Lyon Township School District, which includes Salem, don't forget to vote on March 7. Two proposals will go to voters at this special election.

"Ballot A" will ask authorization of a $450,000 bond issue to build a new school.

"Ballot B" seeks authorization of a 4 mill special operating tax for the years from 1959 through 1961. On the bond issue only qualified voters who have property assessed for taxes in the Lyon Township School District, or their husband or wives will be able to vote. On the second proposal covering the millage increase, all qualified voters in the school district will be able to cast ballots. See you at the polls in the South Lyon Elementary School on Warren St. Hours 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Saturday, March 7th.

The Red Cross Drive will be in full swing this week and next in Salem Township according to Mrs. Cora Blunk of Gottfredson Road, the chairman, and Mrs. Barbara Rohraff of Six Mile Road, the co-chairman. The goal for Salem is set for $400. Workers will be: Betty Dolan, Edith Earehart, Verna Clair, road hitting a school sign, a tree, landing into field about 50 feet. No one was injured, however the car had to be towed away.

At 12:55 a.m. Monday morning on Gottfredson Road between Joy and North Territorial, Kenneth E. Houtz, 26, of Northville, traveling south on Gottfredson, hit an icy spot in the roadway and lost control of his 1956 Chevrolet. He went up an embankment, broke off a utility pole and knocked down about 50 feet of fence. No injuries were sustained in this accident.

Social Notes:

The Salem Hobby Club will meet Monday evening, March 9th at the home of Mrs. Adolph Trapp on Six Mile Road. The lesson will be Swedish Embroidery.

The Lawrence Bidwell family of Chubb Rd., are vacationing in Florida.

The Salem Firemen will hold a St. Patrick's Day Dance on March 14th at the Salem Town Hall, dancing 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Refreshments and door prizes.

Birthdays celebrated this past week in Salem are as follows: On Wednesday an Open House was held in honor of George Roberts, who was 91. Mrs. Opal Lyke, Mrs. Arthur Blunk and Mrs. Frank Henderson were joint hostesses for 52 guests.

Another party was held on Wednesday evening at the Rohraff home in honor of Barbara Rohraff, whose birthday was Wednesday and Zonda Sweetman whose birthday was on Tuesday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Rohraff, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fallot and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymor, Mr. and Mrs. Dick McKinley.

On Saturday evening a surprise birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Honke of Plymouth, in honor of Cynthia Honke. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester VanMater, Mr. and Mrs. John Covach and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Honke and family, Mr. Richard Honke, Mr. and Mrs. John Moryer and Mrs. Bessie Honke.

A group of friends surprised Elmer Bennett on Sunday evening in honor of his birthday which is Monday, March 9th.

Ailment Claims Third Member of Same Family

Muscular dystrophy has claimed its third victim in a Ford Rd. family.

Richard Herbert Rotarius, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rotarius, 4046 Ford Rd., died Sunday at the family home of muscular dystrophy. He had suffered the fatal ailment since the age of 10.

Two of Richard's brothers had also been victims of muscular dystrophy.

Surviving besides his parents are three sisters, Mrs. Margaret Lang of Wayne and Mrs. Rosemarie Burrell and Mary Rotarius, both of Plymouth; and a grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Thayer of Bay City.

Services were held at the Caldwell Funeral Home in Garden City Tuesday with Rev. Robert Richards officiating. Interment was in Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

Beta Sigma Phi Plan Founders Day Event

On February 24th, Mrs. Robert Mayes, 35182 Baker, Wayne, was hostess to Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Mrs. Mayes, Vice-President, took charge of the meeting as Mrs. Robert Brown, President, is still ill. First on the agenda, the Pledge test was given to all pledges. The regular business meeting followed.

Plans are being made for the Founders Day Dinner and celebration. The Founders Day Event is always held on April 30. Five chapters will celebrate together locally at that time. All qualified pledges will receive the Ritual of the Jewel following the dinner. April 30 is regarded as a very social and important date in Beta Sigma Phi and is celebrated as a special occasion.

A Progressive Dinner is being planned for March 21 with final arrangements being made by the Social Committee.

The second Annual Rummage Sale date has been set for May 15 and May 16. The locality will be announced later.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mayes at the close of the evening meeting.

A framed material made of sand has good insulating properties and is non-absorbent. It may be used to line furnaces or chimneys and in aircraft or electrical appliances.

Girl Scout News

The basic Girl Scout leadership training courses were announced this week by Mrs. Woodrow Tichy. The training courses will be held at The First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, March 10 from 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. and will continue on March 17, March 24, and April 7th.

An outdoor training day and a summary session will be scheduled in the near future.

Anyone interested in these Girl Scout Leadership courses should contact Mrs. Tichy at GL 3-7486 for further information.

We are proud to announce that we have been appointed the first Distributors of HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING SUPPLIES on the planet MOON! The following companies have granted us Exclusive Distribution on the planet MOON.

Timken Silent Automatic Products
Stewart-Warner Winkler Oil Burners
Weil-McLain Boilers and Baseboard
Temco Gas Heating Appliances
General Electric Air Conditioning
Bell and Gossett Boiler Fittings
McDonnell & Miller Safety Products
Minneapolis-Honeywell automatic controls
Crane Water and Steam Boilers
Majestic Electric Heating Furnaces and Conditioners

We have appointed Mr. Bill "Doc" Otwell as our Sales Manager and Mr. Roy Rutledge as our air conditioning Engineer. Otwell Heating & Supply Co. has been able to book passage to the MOON, for our two representatives but we are urgently in need of a guaranteed Return Flight!

Any Company manufacturing Space Ships or Saucers and can Guarantee Return Passage, please contact Birdie Otwell, our Traffic Manager. It would be desirable for Company furnishing return passage to provide some sort of entertainment for above mentioned men due to length of time required for flight.

At the present time we are still considering other lines to distribute. Firms interested in having us represent them on the MOON, please contact us at once before next scheduled firing.

It is with great pride that we embark on this new and exciting adventure. However, we want all our friends here on earth in Plymouth to know we still have Vern Overmyer and Jim Wilenius standing by to give them prompt 24 hour service day and night, and we always appreciate your past patronage. Thank you again.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Next week we hope to describe in The Mail some of the bigger plans being put together for "Burroughs Week" which is coming later this month. Today we want to alert the high school authors and artists to a little contest in connection with the "Week."

Burroughs Week will be a spontaneous project by residents of this community to show our biggest industry, taxpayer and employer that we appreciate it. The President of the Company is coming out from Detroit for a genuine, Plymouth Colony "thanksgiving" feast and he's going to see that this area has an understanding and appreciation of business.

But, along with all that, The Mail wants to give two $25 bonds to students. They must be in grades 10 to 12, any school, anywhere.

One prize will be for the best essay on the subject, "What An Industry Means To a Community." Length, 500 words or less.

The second bond will go for the best poster done by a student artist on the same theme, "What Industry Means to a Community."

The two winners will be guests of honor at the colonial feast. The entries will be published by The Mail.

All entries should be sent to the Editor, Plymouth Mail, Plymouth, Michigan, by March 14, 1959.

This "Plymouth's Proud of Burroughs" project has been forming for many days, but current events give it a timely vitality.

The newspapers never have been so jammed as they are presently with words on Michigan's "bad business climate," financial mess, and so on. One particular story that has kicked up some noise is the decision of a key rubber factory to close its doors in Cadillac on May 1.

Of this, The Detroit News editorialized: "The impending closure has provoked much soul-searching in Cadillac. Do we appreciate our industrial plants? Have we ever told the plant owners and management we're glad they are here? Am I being careful of my employer's machines? What am I doing to perpetuate my job and be a good member of the community?"

"... this is not to belittle the sincerity of Cadillac's current effort. Our purpose is to point out the tragedy of so many fading industrial towns where such soul-searching has come too late, where one-sided attitudes and petty wrangling have let productivity drop below that of competing plants elsewhere..."

"We hope," concludes The Detroit News, "that other communities, not yet pushed so close to the wall, will profit from Cadillac's mind."

The News has been reading Plymouth's mind.

Missionary Convention Opens At Assembly of God Sunday

Rev. McComber

Rev. Kenneth McComber will open the convention Sunday at 11 a.m. He has also done missionary work in Indonesia and Malaya. Mr. McComber is a native of the state of Michigan.

Sunday evening at 7:30, Rev. David Scott, missionary to Peru and Chile, will speak. Tuesday evening at 7:30 Rev. Ruth Weitkamp, missionary to Spain, will speak. Miss Weitkamp has also served the Assembly of God denomination as a missionary to Cuba.

Rev. Clarence Olsson will speak on the closing night of the convention, Wednesday at 7:30. He is a missionary to Venezuela.

All of the missionaries will have costumes, curios, and various articles of interest from the countries which they represent. Colored slides and motion pictures will also be shown.

The Assemblies of God in the United States at present are supporting over 700 missionaries in 70 different countries of the world. In addition there are also 200 home missionaries. They lead all other denominations in the number of Bible schools in foreign lands for the training of native preachers and workers.

Vacationing Burghards Return to Lake Pointe

BY MARCY BARTSON GL. 3-6729

Chris and Virginia Burghardt are back home again after a wonderful three month vacation. They traveled by car all the way to California. On the way they made stopovers at Oklahoma, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Las Vegas, Arizona and Texas. Virginia enjoyed the gambling houses at Las Vegas, and she and Chris won about $30 each. Las Vegas has beautiful hotels and motels which are also very inexpensive.

In California they visited Disneyland and enjoyed the steamboat ride through the jungle. Knott's Berry Farm was also a favorite on their list of places visited. There they saw a ghost town and a staged "hold up." Of course the Burghards played lots of golf at all the different golf clubs across the country. The weather was grand all the time.

Virginia says she knitted a blouse on the way to California and a sweater on the way back. She rode in the back seat and really had a chance to relax. She and Chris finally had to come home to be here in time for their grandson's one year birthday party on February 10. They just made it in time by arriving home in the wee hours of the morning that day.

We received the pleasant news of the arrival of little Sue Ann Ellison who made her debut on February 27 at 7:35 a.m. at the Critchendon General Hospital. Mother and father and brother are all delighted and happy over her arrival.

The Civic, the Youth, and the Membership and Social Committees have all been busy with meetings these past few weeks. Things are progressing rapidly and by the time the next general meeting of the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association is called, much will be in readiness for discussion.

June and Clemons Avenue celebrated her birthday recently. She and Harry had dinner in Detroit that evening. The following night Mrs. Perry (June's mother) and the Geists enjoyed the performance of Teahouse of the August Moon.

We wish to introduce one of our neighboring families, the Grimes of Schoolcraft Road. A good many of the ladies of Lake Pointe have already become acquainted with Helen, since she owns and operates the Helen's Stylette Beauty Shop. Helen and Paul moved here about five years ago. They really love Plymouth as does their daughter Paula who attends Plymouth Junior High. Paula plays the flute and is in the Junior High band. (Who, by the way, came away with quite some honors last week.) The Grimes are originally from Missouri but have settled down to stay in Plymouth for a long time, we're sure.

Lawrence and Anne Crockett arrived in Lake Pointe, December 8 and have been busy ever since. First it was the mad rush to unpack and be ready in time for Christmas. After that they were besieged with a continuous flow of guests. Now they are in the process of making a mosaic tile coffee table. Larry is also attending the University of Detroit where he is studying for a master's degree in economics. Anne likes to knit during the few spare moments she might have. The Crocketts have two little Crocketts, Terri, five years old, and Steve, three years old.

Little Dennis Jaskierney had a bad time of it last week. He spent a few days at the Children's Hospital but we are glad to report that he is home and well again now.

Plymouth High News

By GLORIA BOWLES

A busy weekend is ahead for members of the United Nations study group here, who are looking forward to attendance at the Model United Nations Assembly (MUNA) in Hillsdale March 20 and 21. Three students—Pete Signorelli, Rolf Dietrich and Tom Schomberger—have left for Washington to interview the Polish ambassador, will spend the weekend there. (See related story in this paper.)

Two others—Janet Friesyk and yours truly—will attend the second annual Campus United Nations at the University of Michigan, March 6 and 7. The confab is designed to allow students to present their opinions on pertinent international topics and to stimulate interest in the UN and current international affairs.

Friday night the two will hear Sir Leslie Munro, last year's UN president, speak about "The United Nations." On Saturday morning, under UN procedure, students from over 50 countries will debate the problem of Algeria.

Spring is in the air ... one can sense a restlessness in the souls of PHS'ers! Climatic conditions have a lot to do with it ... picture a scene in a French or physics class ... when that refreshing spring air and a brilliant sun reign supreme outdoors the last place you want to be is inside ... in that French or physics class!

Those first sure signs of spring have already appeared ... an observant student reported to me that the fellows, for the first time last week, lined up, coatless, along the "walls" on either side of the front entrance of the school ... many are speaking of spring clothes, or anticipated trips ...

Now a word in the more serious vein ... some unfortunate incidents occurred here last Friday ... a firecracker of no small detonation was planted, and exploded, in the teachers' lounge and a fire discovered in a student's locker ... later, in an afternoon pep assembly, a noise resembling a firecracker was heard.

These incidents were, as expressed, "unfortunate." But they should not be interpreted by Plymouthites as typical of goings-on at Plymouth High. As cited by Assistant Principal Gustave Gorguz in a special announcement after the incidents, it is the 1 percent of the student body who are responsible for such acts ... it is the duty of the 99 percent to report to the administration any facts which might be helpful in tracking down that very small group.

Probably the greatest number of questions on the matter will come from city property owners, most of whom received an increased assessment on their property.

Board member James Mitchell asserted at the meeting that "assessments—whether county, local or state equalized—are complex and hard to understand, but we stand ready to explain the facts."

The board has agreed to meet with any neighborhood group, club and others to explain the operation of the school system.

"Organizing in small groups as you suggest in the various schools, will give everyone a chance to talk and ask questions," President Stecker added. "We want people to ask questions and understand."

Another member, Mrs. Esther Hulsing, expressed hope that new families will remember to register before Friday, March 13. Only registered voters can go to the polls. One does not need to be a property owner to vote in the millage election and they need only live in the school district 30 days before the election to be eligible to vote.

terial on Poland, secured by her through the State Department and Library of Congress; arranged for tours of the White House and the Federal Bureau of Investigation, obtained passes to the House and Senate for the trio, and sent pamphlets giving information on those must-see tourist spots in Washington.

Enthusied by the reply, the boys, with the help of adviser Miss Gertrude Fiegel, quickly sent a letter, outlining final plans for the trip and on Friday, February 27, Rolf received a telegram from Mrs. Griffiths acknowledging her intentions to meet with the Plymouthites on Friday morning to fill them in on details.

The boys are travelling by car. They plan to return to Plymouth Monday morning, March 9.

... And who was it that said this unthinking generation is going to the dogs?

Magazine Hails Local Fuel Co.

Eckles Fuel & Supply Co. is the subject of a flattering magazine article by V. M. Douglas in "Fuel Oil and Oil Heat," a trade magazine.

The writer described the dealership, which serves Plymouth, Livonia and beyond, as one of the crack ones in the country and traced specific policies which have contributed to growth.

Bob Allison, Livonia resident and manager of Eckles, was interviewed at length on how he got started in business, how he speeded up deliveries (new piping at the yards) only one grade of oil to be carried in the tanks of any one truck), and how he handled "personal selling."

Eckles is the largest independent fuel oil company in the Western Wayne County Area.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stremich honored their daughter, Norma Jean, on her second birthday, Friday evening, Feb. 27, with a dinner party at their home on Hix Rd.

A new electric coffee pot is said to be the first that can be immersed safely in water.

Defendant Given Hospital Tests

Upon recommendation of his attorney, James T. White, 38, is being given a psychiatric examination at Wayne County General Hospital as a result of charges against him for a slashing.

White appeared last week before Municipal Judge Nardino Perlongo for examination on the felonious assault charge filed by Howard Myers of Northville. Myers was allegedly cut during a dispute by White outside a local bar on Feb. 22.

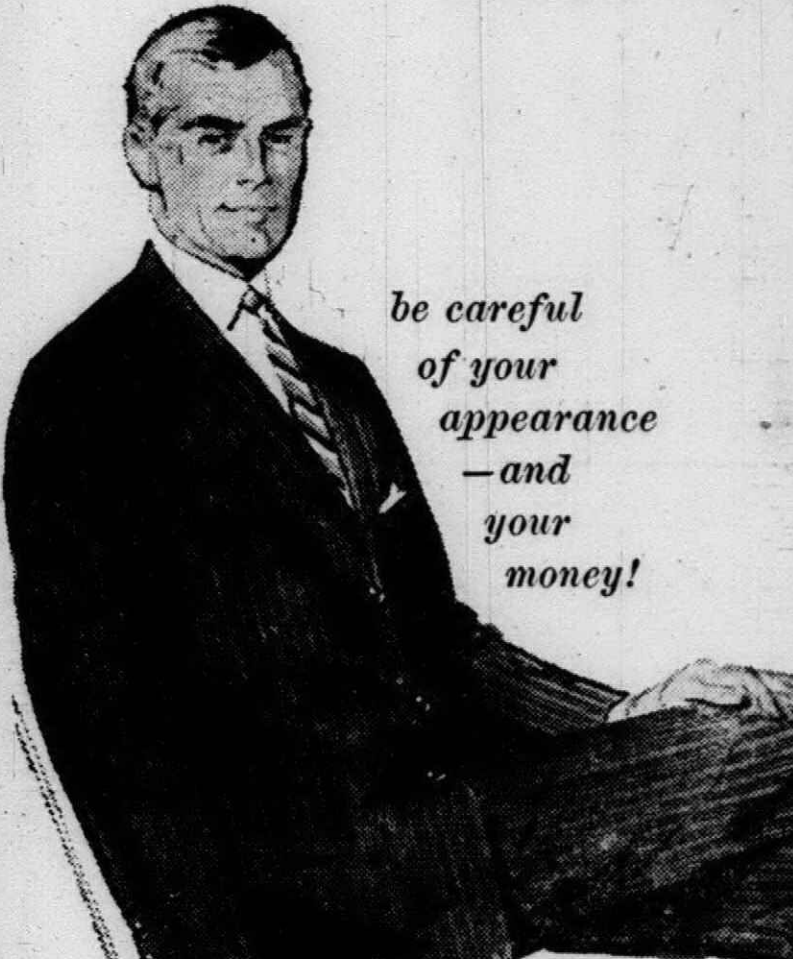

White's attorney made a motion that his client be given a psychiatric exam. Results are to be known late this week and the examination will continue Monday.

The defendant admitted fighting with Myers but denied the cutting which required 72 stitches.

Rebekah News

The new officers of the year were happy to see a good turn out at their first meeting. Everyone present was interested in the many new projects that are in the making.

We are pleased to report Christa Drews will soon be home from the hospital. Also, Sister Norgrove's daughter is home from the hospital and recuperating nicely.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Brother Earl Gray and Sister Edna Gray due to the loss of their mother and sister respectively.

Robert Timmerman, of 615 Jener St., will participate in a seminar for food service managers to be held in Philadelphia March 10-12. Timmerman is manager of Slater food service at the Ford Motor Company Automatic Transmission Plant, Livonia.

Slater Food Service Management personnel from 28 states will attend workshop sessions on nutrition, menu planning, purchasing procedures and the varied aspects of food preparation and presentation.

From Brussels; Old Family Recipes and Marcy Bartson

The name Marcy Bartson will be familiar to residents living in Lake Pointe Village, for she is the columnist for the Plymouth Mail in that area.

Marcy and her husband and son, both "Les," (the son is Lester the III) have been here only a year, however, because of Marcy's natural, friendly manner and willingness "to do things" she has made a place for herself. The Bartsons love Plymouth. Their son, a tenth grader at Plymouth High, has a keen and inquiring mind on all phases of history. He is also taking journalism and is on the staff of the school paper, Pilgrim Prints. Mr. Bartson is employed as a Laboratory Superintendent at the Ford Plant in Dearborn, which is quite a daily hike, therefore, Plymouth was not chosen as their home-site because "it was handy."

Their tri-level home on Shadywood Drive could be pictures come to life from American Home Magazine. Marcy was her own interior decorator, making all of her own curtains and drapes. The white walls with accents throughout of gold and brown are a perfect background for the mellow fruit-wood finished cherry pieces in their home. The antique washstand, hand finished by Marcy with a marble top, the Utrillo prints on the wall, she matted and framed, since she is a student of art herself, and the lovely 47 year old bedspread that her mother hand knitted and crocheted which is in the master bedroom, are but a few touches that make beautiful rooms ones of warmth too.

Marcy was born near Brussels, Belgium. Young Les told me about his Grandfather, who was a prisoner of the Germans during World War I when only about 50 Belgium soldiers of the entire army survived. She has family recipes and the following are a few that are her favorites.

Thurston Pulled in District For Saturday Night Action

Plymouth again took the bitter pill of defeat as Bentley scrambled to a 61-42 victory in the last contest of the thirteen game '58-'59 season. Saturday night the local hardwood group will venture into the field house at Eastern Michigan college to play Thurston in the district finals. Game time is slated for 7. If the Rocks dump Thurston they will win a berth in the regionals the following week. According to recent reports, it could be a 50-50 chance for either team. A 3-10 record was the overall result of the season, with two wins in the league contest. The Rocks and Bentley played a closely matched battle, except for the last half of the second quarter. It was during this stanza that the visitors took the upper hand and outscored Plymouth 21-9. In the rest of the game both teams scored on almost every keel. The Bentley five took a commanding 31-17 half time lead, but the local boys snapped back to tie the visitors at 11 all in the third time mark. Excluding the second quarter, there was only a seven point difference between the two teams. Had the Rocks been able to control the backboards the result would have been different. Wells turned in a fine job, but he couldn't cope with the taller Bentley center. Considering such items as experience, the Rocks played good overall ball. Randy Egloff, hampered by a bad night turned in 17 points to pace the Plymouth Rocks. Randy was followed closely by Schultheiss with 12. Eveland was Bentley's big gun as he dumped in a total of 26 points. He was followed by Bogoyevac with 10. Fish and Game Faced With Deficit

LANSING, March 5 — A comprehensive report of the Conservation Department's fisheries program is slated for the Conservation Commission's April meeting. Dr. Justine W. Leonard, assistant deputy director in charge of research, will summarize accomplishments of the program during the last three years and comment on future goals. Trout and warm-water fish research, Great Lakes work, lake and stream improvement and stream stocking are some of the topics scheduled for discussion.

Last Two Minutes Fatal to Rock JV's

For the second year in a row the Rock Jayvee team lost by a narrow margin late in the game, this time to Bentley 40-36. With two minutes remaining Plymouth held a six point lead. Then almost before the crowd knew what happened, the tables were reversed and Bentley was ahead when the final gun sounded. This was a repeat of last week's action. The reserve squad now boasts a 7-6 overall record and a league mark of 4-6. Last meeting Bentley squeezed by the Rocks by the same slim margin, four

Freshmen Play Last Game

The Rock freshmen played the last game of the season Friday afternoon dumping Emerson 41-25. Mentor Sandmann and squad ended the '58-'59 season with a 9-1 record. Last year's fresh turned in an 8-2 mark.

The only team to defeat Plymouth, Redford Union by a score of 26-19, was downed at the second meeting. The Union was the only black mark on the otherwise perfect freshmen record.

As last year, Plymouth dominated play except in the fourth quarter. This same action was repeated in the first game. The only difference being that this time Emerson tallied two more points. In the other three quarters the Rocks maintained a sizable lead.

League Meet Saturday, State Meet Next Week

Plymouth ended the regular swimming season with a 10-0 league record and a 10-3 overall mark, as they swamped Bentley 73-23. Lincoln Park, Ann Arbor and Birmingham were the only teams to defeat McFall's swimmers. Each time, however, the local tankers overpowered anything and everything the league had to offer. Friday and Saturday night are slated for the league meet at Bentley high. These two nights Plymouth will be pitted against the other six-A schools collectively instead of singly. The local tankers will go into this meet the favorite, but as in any sporting event anything can happen. The Bentley match was a complete route for McFall

It's all over now but the hunt for glory. The season has ended, not in the blaze of winning marks, but in the satisfaction of a job well done. Saturday evening will find the local five playing in the Eastern Michigan field house. If they win this game, the Rocks will return to the hardwood the following week. If not the uniforms will be washed for the last time Monday and put away for another year. Even the bulletin board in front of the gym conveys the ending of the season by its blank empty space under the heading "Game." But all is not bleak and forbidding. Grated the season was not what you would call a complete success, from the win-loss angle. Then again much groundwork has been laid for the '59-'60 year. PLYMOUTH MAY HAVE LOST SOME GAMES THIS SEASON, BUT THEY NEVER GAVE UP. In any book that means a lot. A local badminton player is having troubles. If he can get to Mexico, it will cover his expenses but transportation is not included. Maybe some kind soul, who knows how to work an expense account, will come to his aid. Someone has had instructions. Saw a kite flying in Green Meadows. Must be a plea for help, as it is too early for the sport of kite flying.

Bad Year for Shooting Preserves?

LANSING, March 5—Prospects of a profitable season are rather bleak for operators of 34 shooting preserves who are "weathering" the program's debut in Michigan. Hunter success tripled and bird releases doubled in November after a modest start in October but both failed off to the opening month's level in December due to unfavorable weather. Operations for the three-month period centered mainly on pheasant hunting. Bird recovery by hunters averaged considerably below the maximum rate allowed by current Department regulations. However, recovery rates were near this limit at several commercial preserves while at some other preserves this percentage take could have been exceeded. The Department's game division plans to send questionnaires to operators shortly after pheasant and duck hunting close at preserves March 15. Many operators have already recommended an earlier opening date.

What Do You Want to Be?

"To be or not to be..." ed citizens. Where now do we apply the yardstick of every student nearing graduation from high school. What ever he wishes to be will decide whether or not he needs additional training. The student set on becoming a doctor knows, of course, that college and medical school are necessary. A girl knows that before she can teach she must, as a minimum requirement, complete four years of college training.

To those students who know what they want to do in life, the years following high school are pretty well charted out for them. A great many of the young people of our secondary schools have no idea of what they want to do after graduation. Unfortunately, many of those who have chosen a vocation do not possess the aptitude to fulfill the requirements for the practice of that vocation. Many natural attributes must be taken into account before deciding which field of endeavor one will follow. Temperament, native intelligence and motivation will have to be evaluated before the individual can decide finally on the course or the profession to which he will aspire. Let us take these three components of success in adult life and weigh the importance of each.

A person would make a poor doctor or teacher if he did not possess the patience and tact required to deal with people as intensely as these professions require. A certain degree of intelligence is required to solve some of the complex problems confronting the engineer or the lawyer. No one can be successful in any of these professions, or for that matter any profession, unless he has the drive and desire for accomplishment in that field.

The Counseling and Guidance Department is constantly trying to help the young people in solving the universal problem, "What shall I do after graduation?" Let us be realistic. We are all influenced to a great degree by others in the course of our lives. Each parent wishes certain things for his child, and sometimes the desires of the parents are not in accord with the capabilities of the child. "I want my child to have the things I did not have," or "I wish I could have had the opportunities as a child that the children of today have." Some parents are very disappointed when their children do not follow the course that was expected of them.

In a sense, all parents believe their lives through their children, and the awakening to reality comes when the parents realize that their sons and daughters are individuals who, at a certain point in life, follow their own course. In any case, the parents are concerned for the happiness of their children and will go to great lengths to assist in the attainment of this happiness.

In our middle class society the college diploma is too many times set up as the yardstick for success. It is now known that on a national figure only 25 percent of our high school graduates who possess the capabilities for college work actually go to college. What then, do the 75 percent of our graduates who enter occupations of their choosing and go on to become happy and well-adjusted

What is this! A village hall? Really? Continued meetings are being held at the Methodist church and a few have already become penitent.

Quite a number of our citizens are anxious for the village to build a hall suitable for a council chamber and for public gatherings and a petition has been circulated asking the council to have the matter voted upon at the next village election which occurs next week. We trust that these good men will allow the wishes of its citizens to be granted.

It is not definite as we go to press, but it is quite possible that our citizens will be called upon to vote for or against the raising of $2,000 to be used with what the village already has in its building fund towards erecting a new village hall. As the village is assessed at nearly $600,000 the raising of the $2,000 will make the raising of the tax only about one-half of one percent or about fifty cents on a one hundred dollar assessment and as the amount will not have to be paid all at one time we believe it will hardly be noticed. Let no one vote against it because of the tax. Let all who are for it talk for it, work for it, and VOTE FOR IT if the opportunity occurs.

On Monday next, if nothing happens to the parties, Harrison will be made president of the nation and Cleveland will step out into the world as an ordinary citizen. The states will go on just as though nothing had happened. Few countries around the world could make such a change without great excitement, upheaval and even bloodshed.

There have been no larger or pleasanter gatherings than assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Blue in Elm to witness the marriage of their eldest daughter, Marnie, to John H. Patterson of Livonia. After the ceremony and congratulations, nearly 100 stayed to eat at the heavily laden and most bountifully supplied tables ever witnessed in these parts.

The sad story has gotten around the Livonia area that because of the dance falling on the same night as the dramatic entertainment, that our postmaster withheld the mailing of our handbills until too late to reach our readers. We know this is untrue as our postmaster has always carried himself above reproach and states that if the parties mailing same would have rolled them properly and placed a one cent stamp on them as required by law, they would have been delivered on time.

The legislature is endeavoring to fix up a different way of voting at coming elections which we believe will make it even harder for voters to understand. We believe in letting good enough alone. If they want to do something worthwhile they could fix places of voting so that it would be impossible for anyone to buy votes. If caught they should be convicted of buying or selling votes and in addition should be fined and disfranchised forever. There will be little of this if voting places would be arranged so no one could get near the voter when he casts his ballot and sees how he voted.

Quite a number of our citizens are anxious for the village to build a hall suitable for a council chamber and for public gatherings and a petition has been circulated asking the council to have the matter voted upon at the next village election which occurs next week. We trust that these good men will allow the wishes of its citizens to be granted.

It is not definite as we go to press, but it is quite possible that our citizens will be called upon to vote for or against the raising of $2,000 to be used with what the village already has in its building fund towards erecting a new village hall. As the village is assessed at nearly $600,000 the raising of the $2,000 will make the raising of the tax only about one-half of one percent or about fifty cents on a one hundred dollar assessment and as the amount will not have to be paid all at one time we believe it will hardly be noticed. Let no one vote against it because of the tax. Let all who are for it talk for it, work for it, and VOTE FOR IT if the opportunity occurs.

On Monday next, if nothing happens to the parties, Harrison will be made president of the nation and Cleveland will step out into the world as an ordinary citizen. The states will go on just as though nothing had happened. Few countries around the world could make such a change without great excitement, upheaval and even bloodshed.

There have been no larger or pleasanter gatherings than assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Blue in Elm to witness the marriage of their eldest daughter, Marnie, to John H. Patterson of Livonia. After the ceremony and congratulations, nearly 100 stayed to eat at the heavily laden and most bountifully supplied tables ever witnessed in these parts.

The sad story has gotten around the Livonia area that because of the dance falling on the same night as the dramatic entertainment, that our postmaster withheld the mailing of our handbills until too late to reach our readers. We know this is untrue as our postmaster has always carried himself above reproach and states that if the parties mailing same would have rolled them properly and placed a one cent stamp on them as required by law, they would have been delivered on time.

L.H. Bennett informed the Mail this week that he has an order in for 9000 screen doors.

A.W. Chaffee returned Friday from as far south as New Orleans in the interest of the Markham Air Rifle Company.

The legislature is endeavoring to fix up a different way of voting at coming elections which we believe will make it even harder for voters to understand. We believe in letting good enough alone. If they want to do something worthwhile they could fix places of voting so that it would be impossible for anyone to buy votes. If caught they should be convicted of buying or selling votes and in addition should be fined and disfranchised forever. There will be little of this if voting places would be arranged so no one could get near the voter when he casts his ballot and sees how he voted.

Bounty Payments Up Over 1957

LANSING, Feb. — Bounty payments for foxes, coyotes, wolves and bobcats rose from $209,000 in 1957 to approximately $226,700 last year. This marked the third straight year payments have reached the $200,000 bracket. The largest increase was recorded for bountied foxes, which totaled 31,942 compared with 27,629 in 1957. Bobcat bounties were up slightly from 762 in 1957 to 804 last year. Payments for coyotes dropped to 3,601; 3,859 were bountied during the preceding year.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Miss Marlene Newton, Secretary of Girl Scout Troop 251, reports that February has been an active and productive month.

February 4 they attended a Brownie Troop meeting at Smith School where the group spent a laughing hour instructing the Brownies in songs and games. February 11 they studied First Aid equipment and procedures, preparing their own First Aid kits.

February 18 the girls made tray favors for the children at Maybury Sanitarium and the meeting on February 25 held, at the home of the Troop Leader, Mrs. Esther Larsen, was devoted to knotting and related subjects.

TODAY THERE'S A

BIG DIFFERENCE

--- AND PLYMOUTH'S GOT IT!

BIG DIFFERENCE IN STYLE

From new rear Sport Deck to handsome grille, Plymouth's modern good taste speaks for itself. No extremes in styling here — this is progressive styling at its best!

Compare! Plymouth gives you so many more features, so much more value for your new-car dollar. And, thanks to Plymouth's many economy features for '59, you'll save money every mile you drive!

	PLYMOUTH	CAR "C"	CAR "F"	PLYMOUTH	CAR "C"	CAR "F"

BIG DIFFERENCE IN RIDE AND PERFORMANCE

AND PLYMOUTH'S "TWO-MILE TRY-OUT" PROVES IT!

Two miles at the wheel, and you'll agree no other car in Plymouth's field can match the smoothness of Plymouth's no-extra-cost Torsion-Aire Ride. And you'll enjoy a new feeling of command when you boss the biggest V-8 in Plymouth's field—the optional New Golden Commando 395.

BUT...YOU DON'T PAY FOR THE DIFFERENCE!

That's because all three top-selling low-price cars are priced within a few dollars of each other. They all cost about the same, but only Plymouth gives you the Big Difference for your money. See your Plymouth dealer for the facts and figures... and ask for that "Two-Mile Try-Out" today!

So much the same in price...so different on the road... Plymouth

Best Letter - Writer Will Learn to Fly

School teachers of Michigan are eligible to apply immediately for an Aviation Award Scholarship which will be given to the teacher who writes the best letter to the Michigan Chapter of "The Ninety-Nines," an international association of licensed women pilots, before March 31.

Tuition, room and board, and books are included in the $175 Aviation Award Scholarship which offers a credit-carrying, educational course to be given during the six weeks summer session, opening June 22, at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio.

Teachers wishing to apply need only write a letter giving pertinent background information, what the scholarship means to them and how they plan to use what they learn from the course in their future activities. Letters should be addressed to "The Ninety-Nines," Stanton, Michigan, and postmarked no later than March 31, 1959.

Non-technical in nature, the Aviation course at Miami University is geared to the needs of teachers at all grade levels who wish to keep abreast of aviation's rapidly advancing technological developments. Through the workshop, teachers gain an up-to-date understanding of the new space age, its background, present status and future implications.

Michigan educators, both men and women, are urged to take advantage of this opportunity which is being given by the Michigan Chapter of "The Ninety-Nines" to encourage teachers who wish to be better prepared to assist their students in the business of living in a world which is now completely dominated by air power.

The coot, erroneously known as the mudhen, is neither duck nor chicken. It is a marsh bird related to the rail. But in taste it resembles duck, and both are prepared and cooked practically the same as poultry.

Plymouth High School

By Gloria Bowles

Members of Plymouth High School's Choir, Triple Trios and a boy's quartet charmed students at the Plymouth Community Junior High at a concert this morning. The PHSers were excused from school from 9:30 to 12:30 so they might perform (for 48 minutes!) at an assembly at the junior high.

Fred Nelson directs the groups. Triple Trios are seniors Betty Edgar, Betty Mueller, Lois Austin, Julie Stecker, Karen Stevens and Sharon Matts, juniors Leslee Huxley and Barb Browne and sophomore Ann West. Accompanist is Dorothy Stremich.

In the boy's quartet were seniors Dave Graves, Glyn Norton, Henry Noscoe and Tom Locke, an underclassman.

The school's choral groups had a busy schedule this week — besides the junior high engagement Thursday, the chorale groups presented a spring concert Monday night. Taking part in the extravaganza were the Girls Chorus, the Mixed Chorus, the Triple Trios Girls Glee Club, and the Choir Soloist for the evening was senior Dave Graves, a bass.

The choraleers weren't the only ones to venture to the junior high recently. Members of the Student Council attended a meeting of the junior High Student Council.

Attending were Mayor M. J. West, Mer Palmer, Council Vice, sophomore John Spigarelli and freshmen Ken Fischer and Mary Hulsing. Junior high council officers are Buzz Smith, president; Frank Bowles, vice-president; Judy Adams, secretary; and Barbara Neimi, treasurer.

On tap for April is an exchange talent assembly with Bentley. The Student Council, in the person of Dick Hubert, appealed to members of Plymouth's student body to sign up for appearances — singers, dancers, dramatic readers, in particular.

Friday night's contest was the last basketball game of this season. The last pep assembly of the school year was presented Friday. Attempting to raise school spirit to its highest pitch were Varsity Cheerleaders Bette Argo, Mer Palmer, Liz Calhoun, Mavis Williams, Jill Clarke and Karen West, Junior Varsity yellers Barb Booth, Nancy Alford, Karen Rank, Peggy Jenkins and Sally Widmaier and freshmen Mary Lou Argo, Carolyn Scott, Greta Jensen, Helen Otwell, Brenda Bruce and Sharon Stremich.

Also participating in the pep meeting were Sally Anthony, Pam Stokes, Jim Kropf, Jim Cooper, Mike Kenyon, Dave Graves, Dick West, Dick Taylor, Sally Sawyer and John Van Dyke. The two inside pages of Tuesday's forthcoming issue of "Pilgrim Prints" will be transformed into one literary page — a number of students have submitted essays, themes, poems for publication. Several will see their art in print.

The project is one phase of an attempt by the "Prints" editorial staff to place more emphasis on scholastic achievement at PHS, where the board feels too much importance is placed on the extra-curricular angle. Juniors Shaaron Neal and Sandra Bailey are editing the pages.

The first semester honor roll was released recently — those who made All A's were seniors Patricia Clixby, Sue Druce, Hale Huber and Carin Stofko, juniors Gloria Bowles, Peggy Davidson, Randy Egloff, Lee Feldkamp, Joyce Kafe and Brenda Richardson.

Sophomores rating high scholastically were Janice Holloway, Janet Mackie, Susanne Smith, John Tichy, Ann West and Sue Worthington; freshmen All A's were Bonnie Gaye Anderson, Charles Ellis, David Fey, Harold Fischer, Kenneth Fischer, Tony Hunt, David Raaflaub and Marianne Shirk.

This morning 16 seniors took part in the Michigan Prize competitive examination. The purpose of the test, which took two hours was to select students to receive scholarships from the sponsoring organizations. Gold and silver medals will be awarded to high scorers.

Taking the examination were Jim Cutler, Hale Huber, Ken Jacobus, Steve Johnston, Claudia Kessler, Jim Meyers, JoAnn Nagy, Garry Packard, Wade Schultheis, Dick Small, Ann Taylor, Ron Turckett, Jack Vincent, Bob Westover and Bruce Wood.

Also from our very competent guidance department come words encouraging juniors and seniors to get in on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test to be given Saturday, May 2. Department head Robert Smith emphasized that even if students did not qualify for a scholarship, the test would be a good counseling aid. There is a $1 charge for the test.

Careful What You Sign

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — George Guckenberger, who hasn't been to New York for many years recently received a summons from the city's Magistrate's Court ordering him to appear within 10 days on a speeding charge. Guckenberger had a ready explanation, though. As registrar of motor vehicles for Hamilton County, Ohio, his name appears on all licenses issued in the county. A resident apparently received a speeding ticket in New York and the policeman simply wrote it out to George Guckenberger.

Finio is the Spanish word to describe a light-colored, fairly dry sherry wine.

By George Spalvin

Promised last week to forget "Teahouse" but how could I when on all sides old George continues to hector Plymouthites talking about the production, singing wonderful songs of praise for everyone. Must mention quickly that on the second night of the run the cast searched the high school building for a cricket and found one in the Home Economics room. Little rascal was hiding in a closet. Cast put him in a cricket cage and sure enough as the wise Sakini would say, "Good fortune, smile on you, boss, if you find cricket."

Some 1100 people watched the Plymouth Theater Guild have their moment in the sun during the run of "Teahouse." Many have said the Guild should play a repeat performance. True, but until the Board of directors feels that we are going to get capacity crowds consistently, three performances represent financial risk enough for the present time.

Broadway continues its Oriental kick — latest entry in the race for a barrel of fortune cookies is "A Majority of One." It's a simple, homey comedy about Mrs. Jacoby of Brooklyn (played by who else, Molly Goldberg) who goes to Japan and cements international relations by having a romantic interlude with a Japanese industrialist. Starring Harold Gertrude Berg has been Molly Goldberg so long that it would be impossible to cast her as anything but a Brooklyn housewife. We love her for her quaint Jewish expression. Match this with a severe Japanese businessman called Koichi Asano and you have a touching comedy that I'm sure would be worth visiting in New York. Six of the seven drama critics found the show a success.

Tennessee Williams is coming to New York with his new play next week. His new play is called "Sweet Bird of Youth." From all advanced reports his latest effort will be a substantial success. Williams has deserted the seamy side of life characters found in "Streetcar Named Desire" and has turned his attention to two characters more familiar to those of us on middle ground.

Ann Arbor Civic Players recently did William's "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" with great success. Jake Rumpf covered the show for me and tells me in a short, succinct note that the Civic Players did a serious, competent job. Well, if you're in the New York area this spring pick up a ticket for this latest Williams production. Detroit may see it by 1961, if at all.

Guess we have to be satisfied with what we see and hear on our TV set if we hope to have top flight actors and actresses visit our area. Of course, "My Fair Lady" is in town again for three more weeks. They tell me that they still have tickets left for all the performances. If your budget can stand the shock, call the Riviera Theater up for a couple of ducats.

Incidentally, "My Fair Lady" opened in Australia and Sweden for the first time last week. The "down under" opening was noteworthy since it was 93 degrees that evening and the air-conditioning broke down. They claim that several of the actors all but passed out with heat exhaustion.

Television this past week had the Old Vic company doing a shortened version of Shakespeare's Hamlet. To cut a three and a half hour script down to one hour and twenty-five minutes is a test of adaptation for any director. There was considerable squabbling as to whether the "to be or not to be" speech should be left in. Rightly so, it was concluded that the public identifies "Hamlet" with this speech. The director claimed the speech could be dispensed with. Everyone agreed with him, but other officials felt that an audience would not accept a "Hamlet" without that famous quotation.

To gain the effect that the actors were in cold Denmark, and you could see their breath quite realistically, dry ice was concealed in the scapes of the players. Even though the temperature was 70 degrees in the studio as the show was taped, the actors gave off wintry vapors because of their asbestos-wrapped dry ice. Shakespear would have appreciated such imaginative device: that were used throughout of the TV show. During his day he used every device known at the time to make his play: more interesting for the masses. As I indicated the whole program was on video tape. The entire Old Vic company was actually in a plane flying home to England while the show was being done on Tuesday, February 24th.

More and more shows are being put on video tape. Quality is the same as a live show. Producers can interest stars to appear on a taped show because it might fit in with their busy schedule. Watch for Ernest Hemingway's "For Whom the Bell Tolls." It will be seen on March 12th and March 19th over CBS (Channel 2 in our area) on Playhouse "90." This show is being done on video tape. The boys at CBS have been rehearsing this show for five weeks. This sets a new record for the usual time is three weeks and for most shows two weeks is ample. Also they are allowing 100 days to record this program on video tape.

One other item: one scene has horses in it without a cowboy, Indian, or a U.S. marshal in sight. This alone should make it worthwhile to watch. Of course, as you recall from reading the book, the show is about the Spanish Civil War.

Time to close up shop for the week, but before I do, let me leave you with a couple of rare lines from "Wake Up, Darling," the next big show from the Plymouth Theater guild. "Well, I'll tell you about my dreams, if you promise not to blush." Later in the play this complaint is voiced, "My husband acts as if he'd just invented sex and can't wait to spread the idea around."

Tryouts for this play will be held in the Plymouth High School Annex Auditorium on Monday night (8 p.m.) March 16. Plan to be present for the auditions, we need nine people interested in acting.

Who's New in Plymouth

LT. JOHN CUNARD and his wife LT. ALBERTA CUNARD, both ordained ministers of God, have come to Plymouth to assume the responsibilities and command of the Salvation Army Post for this district.

The young couple came to Plymouth from Ecorse about the first of February and are settled cozily in the Salvation Army parsonage on Palmer Avenue with their twin blessings Cindy and Susan.

A few minutes conversation with Lt. Cunard, and his equally dedicated wife, dispels the idea that the Salvation Army is only a social welfare. The social welfare is important, but they have a deep religious program also and belong to the Council of Churches on a local, state, and national level. They are looking forward to serving in their new post, and particularly to May 2 when they plan commemorating the 30th anniversary of the post. Lt. Cunard anticipates having the Salvation Army Chicago Staff Brass Band here for the occasion.

New District Director Of Girl Scout Council

Taking over as a District Director of District II, which includes Plymouth, of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council this month is Miss Donzy Loomis. Miss Loomis comes into Girl Scouting from a teaching career and attended the college of Wooster, Ohio, graduating with a B.A. Degree. Miss Loomis comes to us from a scouting background and was waterfront director for the Ottawa County Girl Scout Camp in Grand Haven, Michigan. She was active as a Brownie Scout, Intermediate Scout and Senior Scout and did occasional work as a volunteer Scout during college. This year begins her eleventh year in Scouting. She has had other volunteer experience as a Sunday School teacher and has been a church organist.

Donzy Loomis

Training should come easy to Miss Loomis. She has quite a bit of experience as first aid instructor in life saving instruction for the American Red Cross in Ohio and Michigan.

The District with which Miss Loomis will be working includes Salem, Superior and Ypsilanti and Augusta Townships with the concentration of the Girl Scout troops primarily in Ypsilanti and Augusta Township.

Miss Loomis replaces Miss Patricia Newell who is moving into the job of District Director for District IV which is made up primarily of Livingston County.

As well as working with the District, Miss Loomis will be working as a professional staff advisor to the Council Program Committee and the Council established Camp Committee.

Teachers Earn Average Of $5,066

More than 53,000 Michigan school teachers now earn an average yearly salary of $5,066.82, the Michigan Education Association's research department has revealed.

An investigation of teachers' salaries back to 1937 was completed by Wes Thomas, MEA assistant executive secretary, and Tom Northey, special assistant.

The study shows that there were 32,202 teaching positions in 1937. These instructors were paid a total of $46 million dollars, an average of $1,454.88 per year each.

Today, the MEA researchers learned, there are 53,171 teaching positions accounting for a total of $269 million in wages. The state average, therefore, is $5,066.82.

The biggest jump in total number of teaching jobs and salaries paid came between 1956 and 1957. Thomas and Northey explained. In 1956, 49,663 teachers were drawing $241 million in wages.

One year later, in 1957, there were 53,171 teachers (an increase of 3,508) being paid $269 million. There was a 3,083 jump between 1954 and 1955, the second biggest increase in the number of teaching jobs and salaries paid.

The survey also noted that biggest gains have come since 1950. At the end of World War II through 1949, Michigan teachers still were earning less than $3,000 annually. In seven years the annual salary has climbed nearly $2,100.00.

Record Haul

WLESLEY, Mass. — (UPI) — The problem was how to transfer 10,000 phonograph records safely to the Wellesley College music department's new quarters.

Authorities solved it neatly by having 120 music students each make six trips carrying a three-inch stack of records. Not a single disk was broken.

Girl Scouts Open 1959 Cookie Sale

Monday, March 2, marked the opening of the annual Cookie Sale of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council. This is the one time during the year, when all of the Girl Scouts, from the littlest Brownies to the Seniors, combine their efforts to raise funds for the benefit of their own troops and the Girl Scout program, as a whole.

While the Girl Scouts are a United Foundation Agency, the funds thus received are not sufficient to support the camping program. So, the proceeds from the cookie sale are used for that purpose, to provide the wonderful experience of camping for girls who wouldn't otherwise go; to send Senior Girls to the National Roundup and, a portion is set aside to be used in buying a permanent campsite. The sale also serves to make each girl feel that she, personally, is making a valuable contribution to a very worthwhile program.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council includes all of Washtenaw and Livingston Counties, as well as a portion of western Wayne County, including Plymouth. Under its guidance, are 432 troops made up of 8400 Girl Scouts. The Council headquarters are in Ypsilanti, and Miss Ferne Brown serves as the Executive Director.

The Girl Scouts will be taking orders for cookies March 2-13. The cookies are baked and packaged especially for them by one of the Western baking companies. Deliveries will be made from April 6 to 10. The Cookie Sale Chairman for this District is Mrs. Orson Hemingway.

Blackboard Paint Applied To Walls For Practical Use

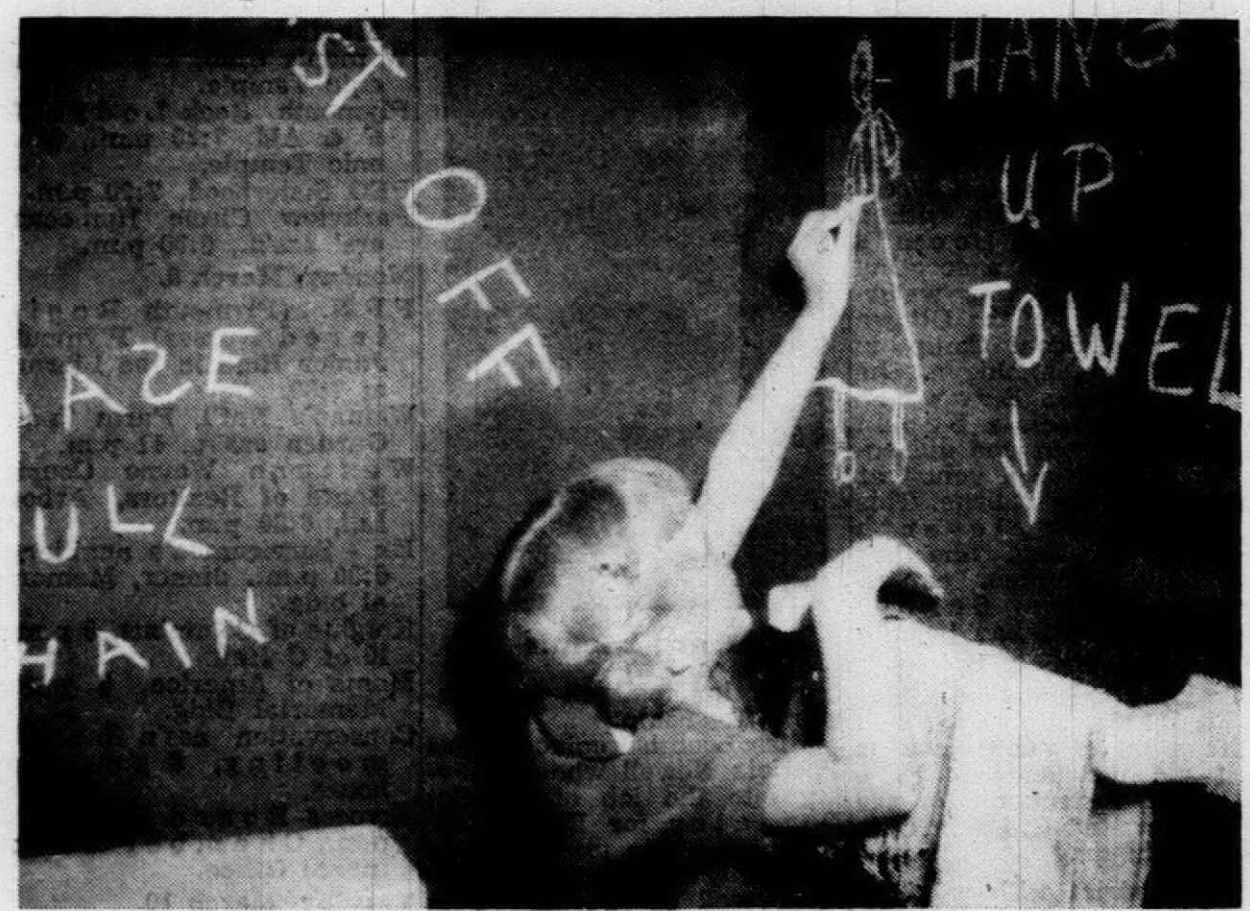

When the small fry in your house make a mess of the bathroom walls, water, soap, fingerprints, etc. . . it's time to use drastic measures to remedy the situation. One mother of four such Indians took the idea from the classroom blackboards to find a wall that could stand washing, wiping, re-washing and re-wiping. By painting the abused walls of a small half bath with blackboard slating, the problem was solved.

Above Tami Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack

Sutton, in Livonia, is as happy as a little bee doing what comes naturally.

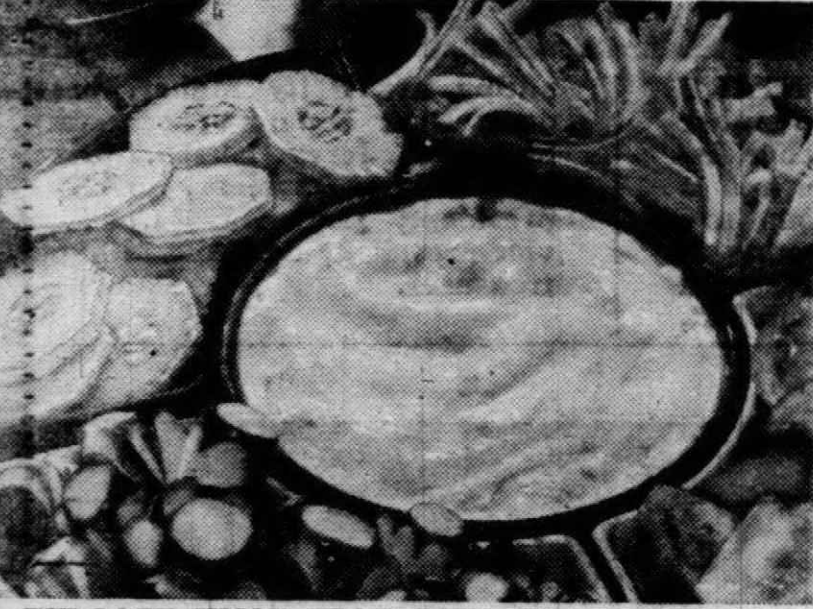

A small portion of a child's room or a recreation room could be treated in this same manner.

For a base coat Mrs. Sutton (a do-it-yourself-homemaker) used a plain black rubber base. She then applied the blackboard slating. To complete the school-room atmosphere, the young Rembrandts in the family all did a favorite drawing in chalk and then mother went

Serve a Do-It-Yourself Salad Fashionettes

FIX LAZY SUSAN TRAY WITH THE "MAKINGS" of a do-it-yourself salad—cucumber slices, rosy red radishes, crisp carrot and celery sticks, juicy tomato wedges and in the center a bowl of tangy dressing made with a package of onion soup mix and a pint of sour cream. The dressing given here leads an interesting double life. It serves as a marvelous hors d'oeuvre dip or when combined with cottage cheese makes a delectable filling for stuffed tomatoes.

TOSSED SALAD WITH CALIFORNIA DIP DRESSING

- 1 bunch endive
- 1/4 head lettuce
- 1/2 bunch chery
- 1/2 cucumber, diced
- 1/2 cup celery, chopped
- 1/2 cup radishes, sliced
- 1 tomato, diced
- 1/4 cup "California Dip"
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Tear greens into bite-size pieces and put in salad bowl. Add cucumber, celery, radishes, and chili. Mix "California Dip," vinegar, sugar, and salt. Toss thoroughly with salad greens and vegetables. Makes 8 servings.

California Dip—Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use 1/2 pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (1/2 package) well-blended onion soup mix.

So This Is Empire

Empire here and Empire there—the Empire theme is everywhere in fashion's scheme for an exciting spring and summer wardrobe.

What is it? It is a soft, feminine handling of detail that focuses attention at the top of the figure and revolves around the raised waistline.

Just under the bust or just above the natural waistline, fashion points up the Empire look with such detailing as belts, seaming or sashes; again it may be delineated with arched set-in bands, obies, drawstring handling or cummerbunds.

Dropped shoulder seams, wide cape-like collars and puffed sleeves all help add top width and further give illusion of smaller waists and hips.

In dressier lines, the classic Empire tradition is defined with a bit of bodice, lifted waist and a soft gentle flow of skirt that is bell-shaped, cone-shaped — or fluted with all the grace of a classic Greek column.

In its many fanciful variations, there's an "Empire" just right for any figure, any occasion and every fashion-conscious woman.

St. Louis designers show sports pants from above the knee to midcalf. The briefest are short shorts, which look even shorter when worn with a loose pull-over. The longest shorts are "wading length" or just below the knee. Skimmer pants reach the calf.

Fact & Fallacy

FALLACY: Eggs may be stored satisfactorily at room temperature.

FACT: "In the refrigerator" is the rule for keeping eggs in the store and at home. At room temperature eggs can lose as much quality in 3 days as they can in 2 weeks in the refrigerator.

FALLACY: The color of the egg yolk is the major determining factor of the quality of the egg.

FACT: A top quality egg is described in this way: The broken-out egg covers a small area; the white is thick and stands high; the yolk is firm and high. Color of the yolk may vary with the breed and feed of the chickens.

Household Hints

If you find it necessary to clean a cut of meat, wipe it with a damp cloth. By holding it under running water, you will lose both flavor and nutritive value because nutritive substances are dissolved by water. This tip is offered you by nutritionists at Michigan State University.

Beets are poor vegetables to include in salads because they have a tendency to "bleed," or run, and discolor the other ingredients.

Tin cans are not really made of tin. Contrary to general belief, tinplate is composed of less than 1 percent of tin—the rest is steel.

Sardine and rice croquettes make a tasty, inexpensive luncheon dish. Drain oil from 1 (3 1/2-ounce) can sardines. Mash fish, blend with 2 cups cooked rice, 1 egg, beaten, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon catsup, and salt and pepper to taste. Form into 9 croquettes, dust in flour and deep-fat fry until brown.

When children want to use finger paints or other messy equipment, let them play in the bathroom, say extension housing specialists at Ohio State University. It's easier to clean than a living room rug.

Iron round table napkins as you would doilies. Start at the center, swing the iron back and forth in an arch, working from the center toward the edges.

To remove dents from furniture, put a moist blotter over the spot and apply heat from an iron. The heat and moisture will cause the wood to swell.

Use ground beef within two days of purchase. The beef is subject to more bacterial action, drying and flavor loss than other cuts.

THE FAMILY MAILBOX

MOVE TO THE COUNTRY

Dear "Miss Louisa:" We have always lived in an apartment in the city. Now we have the opportunity to move to an old farmhouse in the country. We have one child 2 years old. Please help us decide this question? — Young Homemaker, Evansville, Ill.

Dear Young Homemaker: There are many things to consider. Do both heads of the house want to move out-of-town? City dwellers give up certain things when they move to the country and, in turn, the apartment dweller has to forego some of the charm of country living. It is up to individuals to decide which things they would rather do without.

The following questions should be considered: Is the soil good on the land you are buying? Is the land well drained? What about an adequate water supply? If within township limits, is the community zoned? Does a school bus come near the house? Are the roads surfaced? Is there adequate fire protection? How good is commuting service?

If you as parents can adjust to country living, then you will give your child many influences that money can never buy.

BORROWED DAYS

Dear "Miss Louisa:" I have often heard it said, "If March comes in like a lion, it goes out like a lamb." Recently I heard someone say, "Beware of March's borrowed days." What does this mean? — T.W., Cincinnati, O.

Dear T.W.: My old gardener always shook his head with dire predictions whenever I tried to take down storm windows or plant annuals by April 1 here in Virginia. No warm days in early spring fooled George. "Better watch out," he would tell me. "The Lord is getting ready to put something over on you. It's snowing on the Governor of Minnesota right now." George always declared April borrowed twelve days from March, and not until April 13 would he announce that spring had come. I think of him each year that we have a cold spell in early April's "borrowed days."

JUNIOR READER

Dear "Miss Louisa:" Why do we have eggs at Easter? — Billy, 7 years old, Murfreesboro, Tenn.

Dear Billy: Easter is the time when we remember that Jesus Christ arose from the dead and found his way out of the tomb where he was buried. A small chicken, silent in its egg shell, also comes to life and picks his way out of the shell which is like a tomb. The use of Easter eggs grew from this way of explaining Christ's resurrection.

"Miss Louisa" welcomes questions from her readers. Letters with requests for recipes, addresses and other data should include a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and may be sent to her in care of this paper.

Patent For Spring

The classic black patent pump, a fashion "must" for Spring, has unusual practicality this season, thanks to a new, crack-resistant finish for patent leather. Called "Luxury Patent," the new leather keeps its luster and glossy good looks because it is made with a urethane finish which bonds itself chemically to the leather, and so resists cracking and peeling. In tests, it has worn 25 times as long as conventional patents. The "clocked" stockings are smart and dressy.

GARDEN GAB— BY BILL SAXTON

The flower show is over! We loaded all the Bolens power equipment in our truck, Sunday evening, and brought them back to Plymouth. The predominant opinion of the coming sales season by exhibitors seems to be cautious optimism. Power equipment people are expecting a sizable jump in sales.

One of the items featured at the flower show was one of the "slickest" garden gadgets on display, manufactured by a local man, Russell Hoffman. It's a device that hooks into the deck of your rotary-power mower, to which you attach your garden hose. You then run the mower and turn on the water. The result is fast, efficient removal of all grass clippings and dirt which has accumulated beneath the housing. These handy garden-gadgets are now available.

The Michigan Nurserymen's Association showed potted shrubs and evergreens in their display. They are very much in favor of the method of selling shrubs and evergreens in pots. I happened to see the State Inspector at this booth and he explained in detail the advantages of this method. We were pleased to hear this, since we are planning to handle all of our shrubs, fruits and shade trees, and roses at SAXTON'S in pots. The best advantage of buying your plantings this way, is the roots are not disturbed and are ready to plant safely.

I saw Don Juchartz of the Wayne County Extension Service at their display. They were showing the folders and bulletins available on many phases of gardening, vegetable growing, fruit trees, roses and on other garden subjects.

We thought it would be extremely desirable to have all of these latest bulletins available at SAXTON'S for our customers, so we arranged to have these folders and bulletins available at our store in the very near future.

Some people remarked that the Garden Show should not have unrelated items like vibrators or potato cutters, we agreed wholeheartedly and passed the word along to show manager, Ken Van Attas, but he explained that without the commercial money from these items, the show could not have been held.

Did anyone notice the fountain with a bronze statue of a pretty girl holding a bowl? My mother, as a small girl took part in the dedication of this statue on Belle Isle to the Christian Temperance Movement. It has been moved for many years, but is still being used.

The Reader Speaks Up

To the Editor:
It appears that we have benefactors who are prepared to prove that our "tax base" can be improved even if they have to double our taxes to do it.
As an ordinary citizen, I would like to present a few observations for general consideration.
I may take poetic license with an occasional percentage illustration but I guarantee that the estimates will be as accurate for their purpose as some of the percentages that were quoted to sell the Urban Renewal Plan and the Shopping Mall Plan.
Examples: The cost of the Urban Renewal Plan was justified on the grounds that it would eliminate the slums, provide the city with taxable manufacturing firms that would in turn offer employment to local residents who would in turn have more money to spend with local merchants who would in turn pay more taxes to lighten the tax load that has been necessary to provide the federal Government with the money they are willing to give back to us practically for free!

The theory is that everyone is "against slums" and that everyone wants to "take the federal government."
The facts are that the slums constitute only a small fraction of the area involved and that when we get people in Plymouth who have the ability to "take the federal government" they will be in Washington taking all of the 49 states. Add to that the fact that it is only a theory that manufacturers will feel that the location is as desirable to them as it has been pictured to us.
Another example: A long with the charts and pictures of the Shopping Mall (which included one picture of an impressive multi-storied department store) we were told that "Business and industry account for more than 48 per cent of our city tax dollars collected and that residential property made up the remaining 51 plus per cent."
The facts are that the 48 per cent figure quoted included ALL OF THE BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY IN THE CITY. A casual observation will show that, by combining business and industry, MOST OF THE 48 PER CENT COMES FROM OUTSIDE THE PROPOSED MAGIC CIRCLE.
Another interesting theory presented was that if anyone didn't approve of paying more taxes so that taxes could be lowered then he was old-fashioned and a thorn in the side of progress and the Good Lord knows that we can't have that!
Now then, assuming that a multi-million dollar mouse trap will make the world beat a path to the collective doors within the proposed mall, many of the "second and third class" merchants will be contributing heavily to a lend-lease program that is frankly designed by their competitors to get a lion's share of their business.
Conversely, let us assume that the findings of the University of Michigan professor quoted in the February 12 issue of The Plymouth Mail (the issue that reported the Shopping Mall meeting at the Junior High School, but in an "unrelated" article) were correct. Asking the question, "How far will you walk?" he concludes that a man will walk 1300 feet to get to work. A woman shopper will walk 300 to 500 feet.
The proponents of the Shopping Mall point hopefully to the theory that by getting a large department store at the north end and another at the south end, blissfully enthralled shoppers will trip lightly from one to the other — meanwhile scattering their

63 Post Offices Opened Last Year in State

Uncle Sam moved into 63 brand new, completely modern post office buildings in Michigan during 1958. Total cost of the structures, erected by private capital to Post Office Department specifications and rented on a long term lease basis, is approximately $3,500,000.
Postal Director Robert R. Justus, Chicago, head of mail operations in Michigan and Illinois, stated that there were more post office "moving days" during 1958 than in any other year in history. He cited this as additional proof that Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's program to furnish the nation's post offices with more respectable, adequately sized buildings, is bearing fruit.
New starts in Michigan for 1959 already number 48, Justus said, including four of the largest postal installations in the state. Construction is under way on the $2,100,000 structure at Flint; things are well along on the $890,000 building at Ann Arbor; and Kalamazoo postal employees look forward to moving into their $1,800,000 building late this spring. Bids are now being accepted in Detroit on the first portion of the $20,000,000 post office at Detroit.
Plymouth is to get a post office addition this year.

Social Security Needed for Help

Do you know that you are required by law to pay social security taxes for employees who work in your private household?
This requirement and other helpful information about social security are explained in a handy, four-page leaflet "Do You Have A Maid?" according to Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit Northwest Social Security office. The leaflet was published jointly by the Internal Revenue Service and the Social Security Administration.
It contains a clip-out registration card for employers of household workers to mail to Internal Revenue Service for tax reporting forms.
"Employers paying their maids, cooks, chauffeurs, and other domestic help more than $50 in a calendar quarter of the year must make quarterly reports to Internal Revenue," Baltuck said. "The report must be accompanied by the payment of 5 percent social security tax on wages paid. This tax is shared equally by employee and employer."
Free copies of the booklet are available upon request. You may get your copy by visiting or writing to the social security office

Americans Waste Millions On 'Short-Cuts' to Health

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans are wasting $500,000,000 a year on vitamin pills, mineral products and other so-called "food supplements" which they don't need and which they wrongly regard as short-cuts to health.
This estimate comes from the American Medical Association. It is termed "conscientious" by a spokesman for the U.S. Food & Drug Administration.
The two organizations have joined with the National Better Business Bureau in a concerted campaign to warn the public against what the AMA calls "a racket that is spreading with alarming speed."
Their efforts are strongly endorsed by Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who says that "unscrupulous promotion of food fads 'has become the most widespread and expensive form of medical quackery in the country today."
It should be emphasized that special vitamin and mineral products MAY serve a useful purpose if, for some special reason, your diet requires this kind of supplement. Physicians may recommend them, for example, for some children, for pregnant women, nursing mothers, alcoholics and others with unusual dietary problems.
But leading nutrition authorities say that the vast majority of Americans can get all of the vitamins and minerals they need from an ordinary balanced diet, and do not have to gulp pills, capsules, powders, compounds or tonics.

The AMA estimates about 10,000,000 persons in the nation today are regularly dosing themselves with costly "food supplements" which they don't need. It is these people — not the relatively few for whom vitamins and minerals are medically indicated — who are wasting their money.
The stuff they buy (with a few exceptions) is not harmful in itself. It usually contains the specific vitamin and mineral concentrates advertised on the label, plus assorted fillers such as alfalfa, seaweed and ground eggshells.
The danger — say the government and the AMA — lies in the fact that many of these products are being peddled to the public by high-pressure salesmen who falsely represent them as cure-alls for virtually every known ailment from dandruff to cancer.
"The results can be tragic," Flemming says. "People who have serious medical problems are misled by these false claims to rely on products which do not actually help them, and thus fail to get proper medical attention until it is too late."
Fad food racketeers have two primary methods of making their pitch.
One is the so-called "health lecture" at which a glib pseudo-scientist dispenses a persuasive blend of superstition, sex and salesmanship to convince his audience that all human illness can be traced to improper diet and remedied by his particular "wonder food."

The other is door-to-door selling, carried on by an army of perhaps 50,000 men and women. Some of them are legitimate salesmen who simply offer vitamin products as part of their line without making any extravagant claims. But many are doorstep-diagnosticians who do not hesitate to prescribe their high-priced nostrums as a cure for any ache, pain or disease symptom that the prospective customer may mention.
Both types rely heavily on myths about food that have been repeated so often millions of Americans believe them.
One myth is that most disease is caused by faulty nutrition. The fact is that relatively few diseases — pellagra, scruvy and rickets are the principal ones — are actually associated with dietary deficiencies. And these diseases are so rare in the United States that medical schools have a hard time finding cases for clinical study.
A second myth is that the ordinary foods you buy in the grocery store are likely to be woefully short in "essential nutrients."
This is true of a few food products, but not of any diet that is anywhere nearly balanced. The fact is that America's food supply is so high in nutritional value, a person would almost have to go out of his way to avoid being well-nourished.
Agriculture Department tests have repeatedly debunked the notion that chemical fertilizers "poison" the land and the crops grown on it.
The AMA believes the food fad racket would dwindle fast if every consumer would bear these facts in mind:
"The best and most economical source of all the nutritious foods your body needs is your own garden, grocery and meat counter.
"If you make sure your daily diet consists of meat, fish, fowl and eggs; dairy products, bread and cereals; and fruits and vegetables, your body will be at its peak strength when and if illness does strike."

Fifty-Five

SOLID YEARS of Service

We'll confess that we're a bit proud of the fact that we are celebrating our 55th anniversary because, as the records show, the majority of enterprises which come into existence do not survive for so long a time. Yes, we take pride, and deep satisfaction, in the fact that this firm has been in existence for fifty-five years, because this, in itself, is the most definite kind of proof that we have served well.

We look back upon those fifty-five years of service today — but only briefly. Our real attention is fixed upon the present, and upon the future. It is our sincere hope that with each passing year we shall grow in friendship, and in usefulness to the people of Plymouth and vicinity.

Resident Tells Canton Twp. Reporter About "Olden Days"

By ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL 3-0194

Well another week has passed. We do have some news and, of course, a little more history on our Township.

The first Town Hall was located on the Southwest quarter of section 15, the cost about $700.00 and seated 400 persons and was used for the first time in 1874.

The report for the school year ending September 3, 1888, showed an enrollment of 392 scholars in the Township, with an average daily attendance of 274. There was in the Township three frame school houses, seating 150, valued at $140.00, six brick school houses seating 296, and valued at $8,900. There were four male teachers and 13 female teachers employed.

The first public cemetery was opened about 1834, and was known as the "Ridge Cemetery" in 1835 a cemetery was established on the Northwest quarter of section 30, this was known as the "old Sheldon" Cemetery, in 1840 a cemetery known as "Kinyon", in 1868 the New Sheldon Cemetery was located on the Southwest quarter of section 27.

The population of the township in 1850 was 1,333; in 1860 1,554, in 1870 1,392, in 1880 1,350. The decrease between 1860 and 1870 is evidently due to the loss of those who were engaged in the War with the South. The history book went on to state that the Township is watered by what is known as the lower Rouge, by Tonquish Creek, and by other smaller streams. It has a rich soil much of which has been reclaimed by a very extensive system of drainage.

Canton was known formerly as Sheldon's Corners. It was named thus after Timothy F. Sheldon who bought lands here in 1842. A Presbyterian Church was organized on August 31, 1848 and a church was built in 1850 at a cost of $1,000. It seated 175 persons.

The history went on to state there was a Methodist Episcopal Church, and the society worshipped in a building which was erected in 1858. The lot was donated by T.F. Sheldon. The building cost $1,800 and seated 225 persons. However, the item did not give the location of the two churches, perhaps one of you would know this information.

Well I think perhaps that is enough of a formal history lesson for this week, so on with news of the present day residents of Canton.

Billy McTurner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. McTurner is in the Ridgewood hospital for observation. Billy attends the Gallimore School and is in the first grade. We hope Billy will be able to return to his classes.

If Miss Linda Ann Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Campbell was a bit older, I would really be in the dog house for making her older than she really is. I reported the young lady's birth last week, but was unable to give her name. Well her Mom called and stated her name is Linda Ann and told me Linda was born February 10 instead of January 10 as I stated. So sorry, but welcome anyway, Linda.

A joint birthday celebration was held in honor of Mr. Homer Benoit of Canton Center Rd. and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Wm. Southall, Sr. Mrs. Benoit gave a dinner in honor of the two birthdays, and the guest list included the Benoit's two children, Ginny and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Southall, Sr. and Mrs. Wm. Southall, Jr. and family. Mrs. Benoit (Virginia) didn't state it as a fact, but I'll bet one of her very beautifully decorated cakes was on special talent for baking and decorating special event cakes.

Mrs. Sue Rea called to announce a new work project of the Ladies Community Fellowship group of the Bethel General Baptist Church. Their project revolves around the Psi-chi State Hospital. The ladies attended a luncheon at the hospital and were conducted on a tour through the hospital to acquaint themselves with the methods and treatments of the patients. The ladies have taken on the task of helping make 1200 patients a little happier. Their list includes persons who have no one else to help make their stay at the hospital a little more pleasant. Each lady will take a name or two and it will be her duty to send cards on their birthday or any other special day. The group will also endeavor to collect things for the wards to help in the therapy of these persons. These things would be outside of medical help provided by the state. Mrs. Rea gave me a list of things (just a small part of what is needed) to help these patients. The list included, magazines, used clothing (must be clean), games, jewelry, cosmetics, plants, thread, crepe paper.

Mrs. Rea explained very important part in the therapy of these patients; they use it to decorate their wards for special occasions).

The ladies of the Community club are busy making tray favors for St. Patrick Day. Mrs. Rea said the Hospital is like a complete city.

They have their own restaurant, beauty shops, barber shops, stores, etc. Mrs. Rea stated the group has a list (six pages in all) of things needed by the wards, everything from radios to hooches and eyes for clothing. If you have anything to contribute or would like to help the ladies in their very worthwhile project, you can contact Mrs. Eva Clark, president of the group at GL 3-0275 or Mrs. Rea. Mrs. Rea wanted to explain that the Ladies Community Club is not necessarily just for ladies who are members of the Church, but for anyone who would like to join the group.

The boys of boy scout troop 298 interested in earning their first class scout rating have been attending instructions on Saturdays at the Plymouth High School swimming pool. The boys pay 25 cents and spend approximately two hours learning to swim. Mr. Leffler, their leader, feels very strongly about the boys knowing how to swim and being able to fulfill their first aid requirements before obtaining first class scout rank. I am having about as much trouble with the alphabet as I did back in my kindergarten days, but I am once more tackling the job, and am working in the "B's". I called Mrs. Lloyd Breazeale of 6510 Ridge Rd. Mrs. Breazeale said the family had been to the flower show and found it very interesting and worthwhile. After talking about this and that, we commented on the weather, and Mrs. Breazeale stated that she is already poking through the ground and hopes that we do not get more freezing weather.

Still in the "B's," I called Mrs. Edward Bretzlaff of Canton Center Rd. Mrs. Bretzlaff (Margaret) is among the many stay-at-homes until Spring. However her mother, Mrs. Victoria Kowalski, who lives with the family just returned from a week's visit with another daughter in Detroit.

A luncheon at the home of Mrs. Fred Leonard of Beck Rd., is a dual celebration in honor of her two daughters' birthdays, and the wedding anniversary of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kotsay. It was happy birthday to Mrs. Kotsay (Nancy) and Mrs. Wm. Nieman (Ethel).

Dinner guests at the Broegman's of Sheldon Road Sunday, were their daughter, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McKenna and two daughters from Allen Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins from Duck Lake, Michigan.

Mrs. Byron Clink of 6910 Canton Center Rd., is in Wayne County General Hospital, suffering from injuries she obtained when her car hit a patch of ice on Ford Rd. and Haggerty. Mr. Clink stated that Mrs. Clink was on her way to work, when their new 1959 Ford hit some ice and sent the car into a tree. Mr. Clink said Mrs. Clink is expected to be in the hospital for six to twelve weeks. If any of the Clink's neighbors and friends would like to help cheer Mrs. Clink up, she can be reached at the Wayne County General Hospital, Building "C", Room 306. We hope Mrs. Clink will recover much more quickly than expected and return home to her family.

If you heard the fire siren Thursday morning, February 26, the home and garage of the Ray Logan family, of 7335 Herby was on fire. The fire was on the scene from 1:38 a.m. until 3:15 a.m. The estimated damage was approximately $3,000 caused by smoke damage. The exact cause of the fire had not been determined.

Still working on the alphabet, I called Mrs. Anna Bronson of Ford Rd. After speaking with her, I found she has been a life-long resident of our township, and from her conversation I would never have guessed her age as being 84. Of course, I took this opportunity to talk about Canton Township when it was young. Mrs. Bronson stated she attended the Bartlett School 79 years ago, at the age of five. She said the teacher used to put her on a board shelf that circled the schoolroom. The building is not the original one, as the original building was torn down by a cyclone, but it is the original site. Mrs. Bronson was born in a log cabin on Ford Rd. near Sheldon Rd. She remembers walking (approximately one mile) through the woods, on a path, made by her father, to the Bartlett School. She said at one time there were only three students attending classes. She also said classes were out for summer vacation in April (don't tell the children), as many of the children were needed to help on the farm.

Mrs. Bronson said when winter came many children returned to their classes some quite a bit older than others. In fact, she stated one boy in her class had a mustache.

Mrs. Bronson recalls that even though the children ranged greatly in size and age, they were all very obedient, and stated that if they were not, they were punished with a ruler or a circle was drawn on the blackboard where the offender had to place his nose, or sometimes they had to stand in the corner on one foot (are all you teachers taking note?) Mrs. Mrs. Bronson recalls the turnout for their program entitled "Story of Our Country." The production was the fine work of the school's two teachers, Mrs. Beerbower, and Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Allen Bordine of Saltz Rd., called to tell me of a coincidence. Last week I told you that much of the history I have been able to gather was from a history book published by Silas Farmer. Mrs. Bordine stated that she was distantly related to this family. Mr. Farmer's wife was a cousin to Mrs. Bordine's mother. Although she called to tell me she found this interesting to herself, I thought it might interest the readers. The Bordines are planning to have guests Saturday, February 8 for dinner—Mrs. Terrie Mason and Mrs. Olive Lehman of Maybee, Michigan. Mrs. Bordine said they would exchange birthday presents and Christmas presents at this time as the weather had altered past plans for the get-together. Well, I almost closed my article when a news item popped right up in my back yard. I could title it the round-up or pork chops on the loose, but in either case, I was informed by the headers that I should spell all of their names right. But first things first. While eating my dinner, what should appear out of my picture window but a large pig (mommy pig to be exact). She was strolling here and there, with two girls (Beverly Carter and Annie Wietcha) chasing close behind, being joined by one young boy, Robert Carter, with a BB gun. The group was quickly joined by the two Sprengel boys, Mark and Kim, and a visiting friend, Billy Plymale, with a warning not to get too close to our wandering friend. It was discovered Mrs. Pig lived down the road, and her owner was not at home. It was then that Mr. William Whalen, a neighbor appeared with a rope, after much chasing on the part of all, they managed to get the rope around her neck. Mr. Whalen stated that perhaps he would have difficulty in persuading the wandering pig to go in the direction of her home. But with due tugging and a threat of being shot with a BB gun or three, the pig did go down the road. Upon reaching her destination, she decided to take her pursuers through a briar patch and the aid of Mrs. Cecil Honeycutt of Beck Rd. was added to the already long list of returners. Mrs. Pig was deposited in her pen, but not until Mr. Lawrence Longwish of the Town Hall came to offer his services. Well I hope I got everyone's name in, and spelled right, the only thing is I didn't catch Mrs. Pig's name, but she was being very cooperative anyway.

This turned out to be a very fun-filled column and I had the most fun of all doing it. Next week more history, and I hope some calls from you.

The City Manager's Corner

By Al Glassford

Included in the function of maintaining the peace, health and safety of a municipality is the necessity of removing and disposing of trash, garbage and other kinds of debris. In Plymouth, the Department of Public Works picks up and disposes of 373.75 tons of refuse each week. Refuse disposal costs nearly $25,000 each year.

The municipal refuse ordinance goes into some detail to define and classify domestic garbage, rubbish and construction wastes. It also covers sections on receptacles, collection and charges, transportation, litter and penalties. Out of the 35 sections in the ordinance, only a few are of direct interest to the homeowner. Many sections of the ordinance refer to commercial refuse, which is handled differently from domestic refuse.

In the first place, the ordinance says that domestic refuse shall be collected by the Department of Public Works once a week, and that normal collection service shall be provided without charge. If domestic refuse is collected more than once a week, a service charge must be paid by the homeowner. This service charge is based upon the cost to the city for providing the extra pick-up service.

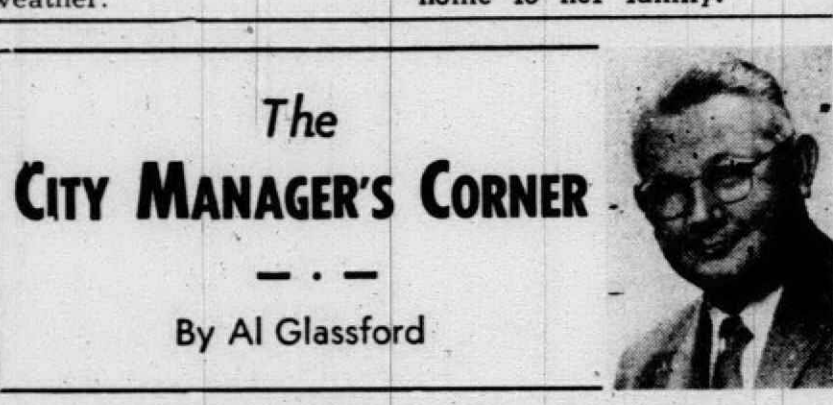

Garbage and rubbish may be placed in separate containers for each. Any container holding garbage must have a tight fitting cover. All garbage must be drained and wrapped in several thicknesses of paper. Bulk rubbish, such as cardboard containers, wooden crates, and the like, must be flattened and placed in bundles or packed in containers that may be handled by one man.

Containers for rubber and garbage should not be less than 16 gallons, nor more than 30 gallons in size and should not weigh any more than 75 pounds when filled.

The containers should be placed in front of each home, or as directed by the D.P.W. Superintendent, on pick up day. To maintain some degree of order, it is important to note that garbage and refuse containers shall not be set out before noon the day before collection, and the containers must be taken in the same day.

The refuse is taken to the city-owned sanitary land fill on Chubb Road. A sanitary land fill is a method of disposing of all types of refuse by burying it in the ground. Under this system, the refuse is compacted and then covered with earth. This layer of earth creates a more attractive appearance than is usually seen at a city dump, and more important, it seals the compacted refuse from the air, thus eliminating unpleasant odors, flies, fires, rats and other burrowing rodents from being attracted to the site.

Through the operation of the municipal refuse ordinance, the City's collection and disposal procedure, and through citizen cooperation, Plymouth has been pointed out by health authorities as having a model refuse disposal system.

Impala Sport Coupe—like every Chevy—has Safety Plate Glass all around.

Chevy stops quickest ... goes farthest on a gallon!

Chevy showed the best brakes of the leading low-priced three in a test of repeated stops at highway speeds conducted and certified by NASCAR. Chevy also won over the other two in a NASCAR economy run—getting the most miles per gallon for 6's and V8's at normal cruising speeds of just over 55 miles an hour.

Fresh as this car is to look at, it's inherited more than its share of those long familiar Chevrolet traits—economy and dependability.

It's a car that knows how to get the most out of a gallon. And it's the only car in its field to bring you hydraulic valve lifters in all popular engines—6 and V8. This mark of a modern engine means smoother, quieter performance for you.

There are many other advances just as fundamental as the efficiency of Chevrolet's engines and the dependability of its new brakes (with more lining area than any other low-priced car). But why not stop at your dealer's and let Chevy do its own sweet talking!

'Law Factory' Is Busy

Citizens will obey between 100 and 200 more laws next year.

There will be the successful bills from the estimated 1,000 legislators will sponsor in the weeks and months ahead.

The new laws will range from some obscure correction in the drain code to important, and perhaps vexing, revisions of the state's tax structure.

Michigan's present laws would fill a good-sized bookcase. Some are ignored, like the prohibition against watching a ball game on Sunday.

Lawmakers have created their own legends in Michigan.

One member of the legislature is said to have come to a session pledged to vote "no" on everything simply because "the people have too many laws now."

Another this year sponsored a bill that has been defeated every time it appeared since he first introduced it 25 years ago. Someone suggested starting a "Quarter-Century Club."

Statisticians curious enough to do the job figured it costs $2,000 to sponsor a bill in the legislature.

The bill starts as an idea in the mind of someone who sees the need for more controls, fewer controls, better law enforcement, or less, more state services or, maybe, for no reason.

There is always a number of bills legislators sponsor because a voter back in their districts asked them to, and most of them die without fanfare or excessive sorrow.

It is then possible for the legislator to return home and soothe the voter who had the idea, thusly:

"Gee, I tried on your bill. I introduced it and fought like a tiger, but those other fellows just wouldn't go along."

Proposals come to the legislature as ideas and are put into bill form by experts known as bill-drafters. It is a rare occasion when a legislator drafts his own bill.

Each bill must be read three times, though the first two times are within seconds of each other. This is immediately before it is referred to a committee for study. The third reading is just before a final vote.

Usually, a bill is never completely read aloud.

Committees work on a bill, listen to the pros and cons. The committee vote is often the most important. Many bills never get out of committee to be considered on the floor.

When they do, they are placed on a debate schedule known as "general orders," or "special order on general orders," giving it a priority. After debate, it goes to third reading.

Third reading brings the final vote and, if it passes, the bill goes to the opposite house where the process is duplicated before it is sent to the governor's office for his signature.

More than 3,000 state employees will get an extra pay raise July 1.

It will be in addition to the seven per cent boost granted all employees under the merit system by the state civil service commission.

Reason for the extra increase involves adjustments in ratings and levels and the changes are being made generally in the highest and lowest classifications.

The cost will be between $157,000 and $230,000 a year.

Construction of a new 10-story state office building, estimated at $9,800,000, has apparently been shelved for this year.

The committee of legislators trying to arrange the project ran into trouble borrowing money, after insisting that the employees retirement fund wanted a too-high interest rate.

So now, construction of the office building and a separate home for the Michigan Supreme Court both are waiting for the legislature to act on a special bonding program.

HANDWRITING Tells About Yourself

BY LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Miss Williams: I would appreciate a handwriting analysis. Please tell me what you can about me. I hope you won't disappoint me. Thank you.

Anxious Anne

Dear Anne: You are a person of variable emotions. Your thinking is not consistent. There are many good qualities in your writing but they are so flexible.

You can be real emotional and express your feelings outwardly or you can be "calm as a cucumber" as the saying goes, using good judgment. Fortunately you're not too sensitive and you do have pride in what you do.

Occasionally you're independent and go along with things as you want, not as others do. You're somewhat of an opportunist, trying to grasp any chance to go ahead and benefit from experience.

Your memory is better than average and you can think quickly when you want to - then again you can slow up, not act constructively, have some resentment and narrow your thinking.

Dear Miss Williams: Please analyze my handwriting. I would like to see if I have any talents.

Sincerely R.S.

Dear R.S.: You have a tendency to feel and think in terms of how something will benefit or hinder you. There's some self-consciousness here and you don't care to have a responsibility on your shoulders.

You are very talented with your hands, you can construct, build and create, much to your own satisfaction.

Talking comes easy for you, you should do well at speaking. You also like to gather, collect and have a sense of enjoying acquiring many things.

There's a little bit of a daydreamer in you at times. Seeing and dreaming of future goals or possibilities. Your memory is better than average and could be developed because of tendency also for details. This isn't consistent but as I said, it could be developed.

You're very choosy in your selection of close friends, you like just a limited few for pals even though you may have many acquaintances.

Dear Miss Williams: I read your column constantly and am fascinated with your analyses. As I am sure you will agree, my handwriting is quite out of the ordinary. Would you be good enough to tell me what type of person you think I am and what the future holds.

Thank you, Sylvia L.

Dear Sylvia: Your writing shows much rhythm and has an artistic touch. You're very cultured minded and have a natural leaning toward the arts. You love music and appreciate it very much. There's much ability in the literary field and anything in the arts - one field or the other or a combination of both.

Your desire to acquire is consistent and you are alert constantly to collecting new information, ideas, etc.

You are a very emotional person but sometimes suppress your expression - there's an occasional lack of faith - with all that ability I don't see why. You make an effort at self control.

You're very independent in your thinking and you like to set your own standards.

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: I am 13 years old and I have an older sister. When my mother, sister and I want to go somewhere with my father as a family, he won't ever go unless we beg until we're blue in the face, and even then he often won't go. So most of the time we have to stay home, too. What can we do to make him go with us? Should we go alone or what?"

Ans.—You might as well stop urging him to go; it won't do any good. Go without your father when it is possible, because it isn't fair for the whole family to miss social life, friendly association with other people and recreation because he doesn't feel like it or want to go. Tell him your plans, adding it would be fun if he'd go, too. When he refuses, just get ready and go without any begging or discussion. Perhaps if he's left at home alone sometimes and misses the fun, he'll decide to go more often. If he complains about being home alone or about your going out, remind him that wives, mothers and daughters need recreation and he can go, too, when he wishes. (This doesn't mean that you should always go without him or that he should never make an effort to go with you; each should compromise so everybody can be considered.)

Q.—"Dear Elinor: I am a girl, five feet, seven inches tall and my girlfriend is five feet, three inches tall. She always says that she is the average height of a woman, but it seems to me that women are growing taller. Could you tell me how tall the average woman is according to the latest survey?"

Ans.—Five feet, five inches tall is considered "average" height for American women. You are right that there are more taller girls now than there used to be.

Life Begins At Forty

ENROUTE TO ARIZONA. I'm old enough to remember when a horse and buggy ride seemed fairly exciting. Maybe that's why flying strikes me as such an incredible experience.

I've flown the ocean several times, and have skimmed clouds over most major cities on this continent. Yet I never board a plane and view the sheer bulk of its dimensions without hearing a voice within me which says "I'm imagining things. Anyone in his right mind, says the voice, knows they'll never get this Titanic trinket off the ground."

The weather in Chicago when I boarded the plane was miserable - frosty and fifteen degrees. The plane taxied to the far end of the field and raced its motor. Then we barreled down the runway and lifted into a leaden sky.

Below us the terrain was bleak and lifeless. Fields were ruffled with traces of snow and the air was gray. Suddenly the plane cut into the solid ceiling of clouds. For a few moments the clouds swirled past the window. Then we emerged into a radiant world of sun and blue. And if anyone questions the effect of sunshine on the spirit, let him fly from the bleakness of a gray winter brightness into the dazzling brightness of a cloudless sky.

At noon the stewardesses began serving luncheon. Several small fry aboard seemed to sense no magic in aerial fare. But I never face a filet mignon aloft without contemplating how utterly fantastic it is to be dining five miles high and five miles a minute.

After lunch I read awhile and then dozed off - soon to be awakened with a reminder to fasten my seat belt. I looked out the window on a brilliantly illuminated Arizona landscape. Brown-blue mountains rimmed a valley of pastel-colored buildings and emerald patches of lawn and park. We touched down and taxied to the Tucson terminal. Sun glasses were peering at us through the gate - men in sport shirts and women in bright cottons. It was 75 degrees.

IN JUST five hours we had come fifteen hundred miles and were now disembarking into an atmosphere which felt like a breath of paradise after the icy blasts of the Midwest.

Two Fire Schools Established in L. P.

LANSING, Feb. — In its newest approach to forest fire control, the Conservation Department held two fire behavior schools this week for assistant district supervisors and fire officers of the lower peninsula.

Instruction was aimed at increasing fire-fighter safety and curbing forest fire damage through an understanding of weather conditions, fire characteristics and their interactions.

Such factors as humidity, wind and fire combustion rates were explained and demonstrated by a three-man instructor team of Department personnel.

The course was condensed from a program of the U.S. Forest Service.

Ed Ritter, U.S. Forest Service inspector from the Milwaukee office, observed the program's debut in Michigan.

Information gained from the schools will be integrated at district levels by assistant district supervisors.

In June, the school will be held in the upper peninsula for employees responsible for fire suppression above the Straits.

Brazil's crop harvest increased 14.3 per cent in 1957 over the year before, with coffee scoring the largest gain - 1 per cent. The increase in livestock production totaled 9.1 per cent.

RECORDS

For instance, "Chubby Takes Over" by Chubby Checker (Everest SDBR-109) sounds as good as the best modern jazz on monophonic players but stereo lends more reality. And "Barbershop Chorus Winners" (Decca DL-78788) in stereo makes the conventional version seem flat.

Selected singles: "Sermonette" by Eddie Barclay and His Orchestra (United Artists UA-155), an instrumental worth watching... "Prelude to Love" by the Dancers (Mercury 71401X)... "Love Is A Thing" by Debbie Reynolds (Dot-15884)... "Yours to Possess" by The Four Pals, making their debut (Roulette R-4127).

Show Time: "Wonderful Town" (Columbia OL-5360) is an excellent reproduction of the fine Leonard Bernstein music that made such a good TV spectacle a cultural Rosalind Russell is just as entertaining in this version as in the original Broadway show.

Revolutions of the week: "Ida, Sweet As Apple Cider" and "St. Louis Blues" by Steve Allen (Dot-15891) and "The Old Spinning Wheel" by Bob Bain (Capitol F-4109).

This new Insurance Center is more than just a convenient place to buy Allstate Insurance. It illustrates one of the reasons why Allstate's rates are lower than rates of most other companies.

With most insurance companies, much of your premium goes to pay for commissions and other selling costs, rather than to buy protection.

But Allstate was founded by Sears, on the same high-volume, low-overhead principles that have made Sears famous for better value. You buy Allstate insurance over the counter at a Sears store - or at a modern Allstate Insurance Center like this one. Selling costs are low - you benefit through low rates.

20% savings are common, compared with rates of most other leading companies.

With the cost of insurance on the rise, wouldn't you be wise to get the money-saving facts about Allstate? Stop in at this new Allstate Insurance Center and talk to an Allstate Agent. Or if you prefer, phone and ask an Agent to call at your home.

Windy Gets "Collared"

A stranger walked into Pudge Barton's store the other day wearing one of those "Chesterfield" coats. When the boys saw the fancy velvet collar, they broke out laughing.

The stranger seemed to ignore them and went on about his business. He even pretended he didn't hear Windy's remark about the "big city" coat. Then, on leaving, he walked over to Windy.

"I gather you find my coat peculiar," he said. "Well, where I come from we're so peculiar we even extend a hand to strangers." With that, he shook Windy's hand.

From where I sit, the twist on the old adage is true: "clothes don't make the man." We ought to judge a man for what he is. That's tolerance, something we ought to practice every day. For example, you like coffee... I like a glass of beer. That doesn't make either of us "different" or anything to laugh at.

The Reader Speaks Up:

Recently you had a little piece in the paper concerning a list of one time millionaires, at one time all gathered together in a certain meeting, who eventually ended up either as paupers or suicides. The information was not new, it was said, but would bear repeating. I, too, had read the story a couple of times before somewhere but I was interested to see it again. But this time I'll clip and file it for possible future reference.

Now comes something else which is not new. I had already read it a time or two on some previous date. Maybe you have seen it, too. This time it was copied from the January issue of the Detroit Ball Bearing Company News. I doubt, however, that too many people have seen it. The copy I made is enclosed, together with an added note of my own. You may use it or not, of course, as you see fit or as space permits.

Sincerely,
KARL STARKWEATHER

SO YOU THINK YOU HAVE IT ROUGH

The following set of rules, unbelievable as they may sound to us today, actually hung in the office of a wagon manufacturing plant back in the 1870's. We thought that you might enjoy reading them - just for the sake of comparison.

1. Office employees will daily sweep the floors, dust the furniture, the shelves and the show cases.
2. Each day fill lamps, clean chimneys, trim wicks and once a week wash the windows.
3. Each clerk will bring in a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's business.
4. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle the nibs to your individual taste.
5. This office will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. daily except on the Sabbath, on which day it will remain closed. Each employee is expected to spend the Sabbath by attending church.
6. Every employee will be given an evening off each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go regularly to church.

BE WORTHY OF YOUR HIRE

Note by Karl Starkweather: In case certain of the present generation may not understand the meaning of Rule 4, let it be stated here that in the early 1870's some officers were still using quills, or quills pulled from the tail feathers of a goose. The nib end was cut off on the bias by a small sharp knife, then slit down the middle. It took a degree of skill to do a good job. The term "pen knife" is still in use though the origin of the designation is now practically forgotten. Under Rule 8 the employer looked with disfavor upon those employees who went to a barber shop to get shaved. A ny ordinary worker, who went to a barber shop in those days to get shaved - outside of an emergency - was considered more or less as a dude or a fop and trying to show off. Every practical man in those days was supposed to have his own razor and to have leaped to shave himself. He who didn't care to bother about doing it - well, he just grew a beard. All this, of course, was long before the advent of the safety razor)

Newburg Church Circle Honors Mrs. Tom Waltz

By MRS. EMIL LaPOINTE
GA. 1-2029

Greetings again from Livonia's southwest corner. It is always a pleasure to be with you every week via America's fourth estate, the press.

Boy scout troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic church had their first court of honor of the new year on Monday, Feb. 23 at the St. Michael's school hall. To the assembled scout parents a fine program was presented by the committeemen and leaders of the troop. After the presentation of the colors and the pledge of allegiance to the flag, Father McMahon, pastor of the church pronounced the invocation. Scoutmaster Ford Rea conducted the tenderfoot investiture in which 13 boys were received into the troop. These boys were scouts, Dabill, Donohue, Gamber, Thrombley, Kessler, Kawalski, Kucysynski, McNeece, Nowacki, Shanks, St. Amour, Symanns and Carney. This was most impressive, in that, as each boy was received he recited the scout oath and lit a candle representing his willingness to serve. Second Class award was given to Arnold Sarna and First Class awards were given to Ronald Beck, Daniel Darrah and Dennis Swain. As each of these boys were given their pins for their given rank, a parent of each boy was likewise recognized with a similar pin in miniature size.

Badges were presented to these boys: Bill Davis for Home Repairs, Stamp Collecting, Citizenship in the Nation, Swimming and Cooking; David LaPointe received badges for Agriculture, Fruit and Nut Growing, Cooking and Swimming; Bruce LaPointe received Agriculture and Life Saving; Ed Nowacki received Citizenship in the Nation and Swimming; Tom Pitter received Scholarship; Dick Powell received Life Saving; Phil Bell received Stamp Collecting and Citizenship in the Nation; Michael Rea received Signaling, First Aid and Radio. This, to me, represents quite a good deal of work and effort on the part of these boys and they are to be congratulated for their fine endeavor. Star scout awards were presented to Bill David, Ed Nowacki and Michael Rea. The next advancement for these boys will be the Life award which are all big steps to the coveted Eagle rank, highest in scouting. Service awards were presented to scouts Gamber, Brady, David, Welch, Sarna, Ott, Dacey, White, McHugh and Nouhan for one year of service to the troop. Three year service was received by David LaPointe. Four years of service, Robert Christensen and Jack Krygier and six year service award was made to Doug West. Initiated in the troop last year, the awards for outstanding scout of the troop and outstanding patrol leader of the troop were given by Scoutmaster Rea. Recipient of these awards were Robert Curry for outstanding patrol leader and David LaPointe for outstanding scout. Both boys received axes as their awards. Troop leaders warrants were presented to Steve Curry and Mike West for Senior Patrol Leaders, to Robert Curry for Patrol Leader and to Bruce LaPointe for Quartermaster of the troop. After a few timely words by the scoutmaster and a rundown of events for the remainder of the year, David LaPointe was recognized for having received his Ad Altare Dei award, high Catholic church award in scouting. The evening was closed with the scoutmaster's benediction, led by Paul Bellfy and taps played by Steve Curry.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Robert Shier of Angeline Circle is again confined to the hospital where she recently underwent surgery. Mrs. Shier is in Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, room 116 and cards of good cheer would be most welcome at this time.

Also on the sick list in the Newburg area is John Charles Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross of Richmond. Little John had his tonsils out recently and we wish him a speedy recovery.

Jim Hocking, son of Mr.

and Mrs. Clifford Hocking of Narise drive has enlisted in the Navy for a four year hitch and is currently stationed at a naval base in San Diego, California. Much good luck is wished to Jim from his Newburg friends as he enters this completely different way of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Newburg road have returned home after spending the past two months in the sunny climate of the beautiful Florida Keys. Mr. and Mrs. Smith remarked that they had never had such a perfect time, and such perfect weather in all of the many years that they have been vacationing in that state.

The Rhoda circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Otto Brey on Angeline circle, Tuesday evening, February 24. After an inspirational devotional service, conducted by George Black and a thought-provoking program presented by Mrs. Tom Waltz, the group settled to the business at hand and quickly adjourned and announced, joyously, to Mrs. Tom Waltz, "Surprise", as the group had chosen to honor Mrs. Waltz because of her lovely new daughter, Jennifer Annette. Guests present for the evening were Mrs. Everett Smith, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. James Tomlinson, Mrs. Ralph Gray, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. Joy Razon, Mrs. George Black, Mrs. Jane Greenwood, Mrs. Glenn McGhee, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Mrs. John Kreger, Mrs. Harold Mackinder, Mrs. Thomas Leverton, Mrs. Donald Hoffman and Mrs. Sam Epley. This group will meet again at the home of Mrs. Black on Angeline Circle, Tuesday, March 24, and in the meantime keep April 18 as a date to remember when this circle is planning a bake sale to be held at the Kresge store in Siden Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Desmond of Joy road were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gail Luckner of Hoy avenue, Livonia, Sunday, Feb. 22.

On Thursday, March 12, the Lydia Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church will present, "Luncheon is Served". A program of luncheon which is served by various retailing companies at no expense to the sponsoring group, the only requirement is that 100 tickets be sold for this event. After the luncheon there will be a brief explanation of the products prepared for the luncheon and then these items will be given away as door prizes. Let us all support the ladies in this venture and help to make it a complete success. This writer has tickets if you wish to reserve yours. Just give me a call.

The Joy Road Canasta Clan is planning a night out on the town on Friday, March 6. They will leave the Newburg area around 5:30 p.m. or 5:45 p.m. and have dinner at Topinka's Country House after which they will go to the Riviera to see, "My Fair Lady". Sounds like a real full evening of fun and fellowship.

You've been letting me down by not calling with your news. Hope you will remember to twirl that dial and let me know what you and yours have been doing. See you next week?

Bishop Emrich To Talk Here March 12

One of the nation's leading churchmen, The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Bishop of the Diocese of Michigan, Episcopal church, will be the guest speaker next Thursday, March 12, at the First Methodist Church.

Bishop Emrich is the third speaker in the Lenten series at First Methodist. A fellowship potluck starts at 6:30 p.m., followed by the service at 7:30 in the church sanctuary.

Bishop Emrich came to Michigan in 1946 as Suffrage Bishop, and in 1948 was named Diocesan Bishop.

Born in 1910 in Turkey of missionary parents, he attended Brown University and Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, Mass., and Union Theological Seminary in New York. They then went to Germany and studied at the University of Marburg, received the degree of doctor of philosophy.

In recent years he has several times received honorary degrees from American and Canadian Universities and in 1958 was made honorary commander of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire by Queen Elizabeth II.

After a year as curate at St. John's, Waterbury, Conn., he was instructor, assistant professor and professor at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge for 10 years, until 1946, during which time he also served as Rector of Churches in Massachusetts.

Bishop Emrich

Bishop Emrich has lectured and preached widely in Michigan and throughout the nation and is author of numerous articles and pamphlets.

He is a member of the National Council of the Episcopal Church. In the community he serves as chairman of the advisory committee on hospitals of the Commission on Community Relations of the City of Detroit; a member of the board of directors of the United Foundation; a member of the Michigan Spiritual Foundations Day Committee; and a member of the Southeast Michigan Metropolitan Community Research Corporation.

Tonight's Lenten series speaker is Rev. Hoover Rupert, pastor of First Methodist Church in Ann Arbor.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Elsie Witte, Philadelphia, Pa.: I remember when I used to go to the Saturday afternoon movies with my father and on the way I would stop at a candy store and buy a prize bag for two cents and you had a bag full of candy. Sometimes on the way home Pop would treat me to a big dish of homemade ice cream that cost ten cents and you got a nice glass of cold water with it. My big sister and I used to go around and wait at the corner for my father to get off the trolley car coming from work and we were so glad to see him we would give him a hug and a kiss and we'd hold his hand all the way home. The people then seemed so nice and kind to one another and I shall never forget those days gone by.

From Helena Richie, Tyler, Texas: I remember my grandmother wrapping me in a blanket and carrying me, a five-year-old, through a scary, dark hall to her room. The brightness, warmth and love that awaited me when that door was opened enfolds me to this day. There were two rocking chairs drawn to the hearth on which, the night before, had been placed the makings of tea. Over the flames the kettle sang merrily. Soon we were drinking tea that was half creamy, country milk and eating those big, old-fashioned soda crackers. Even now, I can lurch most heartily on hot tea and crackers; and my companion always is a sweet, little old lady whom I see with my mind's eye.

Burroughs Credit Union Goes Past Million Dollars in Assets

In January, 1954, eleven men with vision, faith in the future and that certain intangible, a wish to be of service to their fellow men, put in five dollars apiece and with a total capital of $55.00 formed The Burroughs Credit Union.

From this modest beginning has grown an organization with 3,100 members and capital assets of over $1,000,000.

Short in experience, the eleven charter members leaned heavily upon the knowledge of The Michigan Credit Union League to guide them through the maze of details attendant upon such an enterprise.

There was but one goal and that was to serve the financial needs of the employees of The Burroughs Corporation.

The proof of the need for such an organization was immediately evidenced by the fact that it has grown at the rate of $200,000 per year until attaining the present sum of $1,000,000, the first Credit Union in Western Wayne County to do so.

All credit unions are chartered by The State Banking Department or the Federal Government and protection for the funds of the members is assured by the bonding of the officials and the office staff for $1,000,000. The books are audited at intervals by The State Banking Department and also by independent Certified Public Accountants.

Credit Unions are also Democratic in government. All officers and board members are elected by the membership and all members can have their say in the affairs of the organization at the Annual Meeting.

The Burroughs Credit Union is most fortunate in having the complete cooperation of The Burroughs Corporation. The amount a member wishes to save can be arranged through payroll deduction.

Credit Unions World Wide

WORLD-WIDE

The credit union movement has spread all over the world. The idea was originated in Germany and Friedrich Raiffeisen, Mayor of Flammersfeld, developed the idea which we know today as credit unions. The movement came to Canada in 1900 through Alphonse Desjardins. Desjardins, who was seeking to find a way to help the poor parishioners in his church in Levis, Quebec, learned about the credit union idea and applied it very successfully to his Province.

CREDIT UNIONS IN AMERICA

The credit union idea which proved so fruitful among the French speaking Canadians of Quebec, was to be equally practical in the United States. Mr. Desjardins was instrumental also in helping to organize the first United States credit union in St. Mary's Parish, Manchester, N.H. in 1909. Shortly thereafter, Edward A. Filene, famous Boston merchant and philanthropist, learned about credit unions. He liked the idea so much that he spent a million dollars of his own money to promote credit unions. The organization of the Credit Union National Association in 1934 was the fulfillment of Filene's dream of an independent organization for the advancement of credit unions.

CREDIT UNION LAWS

The year 1934 marked the passage of the Federal Credit Union Act which made possible the organization of credit unions under federal law. By 1934 all but a handful of states had authorized the organization of credit unions under their laws.

GROWTH THROUGH DEPRESSION

Through the great depression of the thirties and the difficult days of World War

II, the credit union movement continued a steady growth and accumulated valuable experience. With the end of the great war, credit unions proved especially valuable in helping their members obtain the better things of life which became available. The higher earnings of the late forties and early fifties made it possible for people to save and their credit unions helped them by making saving easier and more convenient. The credit union proved an excellent method through which members could use their credit for the immediate enjoyment of household goods, autos, and other useful articles which became available for this period.

The credit union movement never lost its perspective of service during this growing period. The needs of less fortunate people in other areas of the world became the next target. The credit union idea has been spread to the West Indies, South America, Africa, and as far away as India and Australia, assisted by contributions of money and staff by the credit union movement. Today, there are over 24,000 credit unions in the world serving approximately 12,000,000 people. International headquarters of the credit union movement is in Madison, Wisconsin. It is the home of the Credit Union National Association. In each of the states of the United States and in each Province in Canada, a credit union league, formed of the credit unions in these areas, has been organized. It is through these leagues that the credit unions join together in their common effort to build their movement. These leagues together form the Credit Union National Association. In time, as the Credit Union movement in other parts of the world become self-sustaining, it is anticipated that a worldwide International Confederation will be truly formed.

MICHIGAN CREDIT UNION GROWTH

The Michigan Credit Union Act was passed in 1925, in which year the first credit union in the state was organized in Port Huron. By 1928 there were 22 credit unions in Michigan and in 1934, there were 41. Today, Michigan boasts 1150 credit unions with 800,000 members who own assets exceeding $400,000,000.

Salem Red Cross Drive Opens Monday

The Washtenaw County Red Cross Drive for members and funds began Monday, March 2 and will continue thru March 15.

County Drive Chairman, Richard J. Caley of Whitmore Lake, explains that this drive is intended to solicit funds from those areas of Washtenaw County not included in any of the United Fund drives held last fall. Salem Township Co-Chairmen Mrs. Cora Blunk and Mrs. Barbara Rohoff have selected their zone captains and solicitors.

All members of the local drive organization were present for a combined coffee hour and instruction session held at Mrs. Blunk's home on Gotfredson Rd. in Salem Township.

Area Garages Handle 65,600 Service Calls

Plymouth and other Michigan garages are headed for an all-time high of five million road service calls in 1958, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Last year, an estimated 3,480,000 calls set a new record but garages throughout the state came within a million of this figure during the past three months," Robert C. Nisbet, Auto Club road service manager, stated. "Our figures show that calls in Michigan this year are 65 percent higher than last winter's."

L.B. Rice, Plymouth Auto Club division manager, estimates that garages in his division area answered 65,600 calls in 1958. He said the figure would be much higher this year with 42,000 calls handled since December 1.

Rice labelled weak batteries, heavy snow and excess ice as the chief causes of complaints. Can't start and stuck calls, which usually account for 65 percent of all calls, will be near 80 percent this year because of the severity of the winter, he said. Garage owners report that heavy snow and ice conditions this winter made service difficult and coupled with the steady flow of calls caused considerable breakdown of equipment.

The 1958 total of calls throughout Michigan, based on Auto Club records, showed 1,885,000 can't start complaints because of dead batteries, locked starters, fuel system troubles or wet ignition systems. Tire trouble ranked second with 811,000 calls while another 40,000 drivers, stuck in snow and mud, required wrecker service.

Towing, including cars with transmission trouble, motor breakdowns and broken axles, were responsible for 190,000 calls while empty gas tanks halted 80,000 drivers. Motorists needing help to unlock car doors brought 65,000 calls and wrecks another 49,000.

The only foolproof lawn food! Golden Vigoro

Lawns are to live on... If you really love your lawn feed it New Golden Vigoro

- Won't burn even if applied double strength to wet grass . . . and you don't have to water it in. (The U.S. Patent proves it.)
- Gives grass everything it needs except sun, air and water.
- Feeds your lawn weeks after other lawn foods have given out.
- Builds thick, springy turf with a more vigorous root system.
- So clean and odorless you could even keep it in your kitchen.
- And you don't need a textbook to get expert results.

It's fun to use New Golden Vigoro. It's foolproof. No tricks. No problems. Simple to use any time, on any kind of grass. Two short sentences on the bag—in large readable type—tell you everything you need to know.

It's the only complete lawn food that gives you every ingredient needed to develop thick, hardy top growth, deeply rooted sod—with every ingredient in nonburning form. And it never needs watering in.

Your greatest value, too. Grass clipping tests prove it feeds up to four times as long as other lawn foods fed at the same rate. And it's sold at down-to-earth prices because Vigoro is by far America's biggest-selling brand.

Now at supermarkets, too.

There's a Vigoro Complete Plant Food made right for everything you grow.

My, how things grow with

WE ACKNOWLEDGE WITH THANKS...

HERE are letters from our readers... letters from Connecticut and Michigan, from California and Pennsylvania. We are pleased by so many kind words and by the fact that so many readers took the trouble to write—and when you have criticisms we hope we can hear them too. We wish we had space to publish every letter, but these few are typical of the wonderful reception we acknowledge with thanks.

My congratulations on the first issue of Suburbia Today. Its contents are varied and stimulating and I was particularly impressed with the adroit way you have captured the nice blending of sophistication and charm which to me is so characteristic of suburban life. Also, most pleasing is your sub-title: The Magazine of Pleasant Places.

Dorothy Rockwell McWood
Bloomfield Hills, Michigan

Suburbia Today more than lived up to its advance notices in our Glenside News. Being a "do-it-yourself" family, we got a real bonus out of this first issue: "How To Build A Greenhouse" (when I convince my husband to take on that project), practical ideas for a functional kitchen (which ours isn't), and perfumes for the house (which will make delightful gifts).

Several times after I started reading the magazine last evening I had to put it down to do some household chores, but I read it from front to back before I went to bed and mentally catalogued the articles I wanted to save for future use. I'll be looking forward to future issues of Suburbia Today to see if the same level of balanced editorial diet continues.

Mrs. Justine R. Laschalt
Glenside, Pennsylvania

In offering congratulations for your excellent magazine, the writer ventures one man's opinion that your publication is destined to play an increasingly important part in the re-molding of a modern America. I wish you every success.

George R. Chester
Huntington Woods, Michigan

May I tell you how much we enjoyed the first copy of Suburbia Today which we received with our Times Chronicle. Being native Philadelphians we were especially interested in your articles about Old Philadelphia and are looking forward to enjoying future copies of the paper. However, we are all interested in knowing how the artist of the front cover page counts 49 people in the picture, as stated in the inside cover, and would appreciate being advised of our error in counting. We can only count 46. We extend our good wishes for the future success of Suburbia Today.

E. Neall Matsinger
Jenkintown, Pennsylvania

On page two of Suburbia Today it states that there are 49 people in the January cover scene. I can only find 46 people. How about you counting them?

Mrs. Kenneth Wiessner
Monrovia, California

Suburbia Today erred. Originally there were 49. The artist "killed" three. Our apologies.

The Editors

I just received my first copy of Suburbia Today with the Dedham Transcript. It's an elegant idea and bound to succeed.

Gene Lorick
Dedham, Massachusetts

I received a copy of your little magazine a few days ago, and was delighted with it. I think, though, that a good ghost story based on fact now and again would greatly add to it. I thoroughly enjoyed "Suburbia - The Day Before Yesterday". The pictures are so quaint. Will be looking forward to the next copy.

Gertrude A. Murray
Altadena, California

Congratulations on your first issue of Suburbia Today! Fine idea, nicely executed. My neighbors say so too.

Mimi (Mrs. Myron) Singer
Livonia, Michigan

A quick once-over of Suburbia Today left me with the impression that it is a fine feature. Many good departments, particularly "Books, Movies, Records."

The thought should be given, however, to including a quiz feature and a crossword puzzle. Answers could be found in the following issue.

S. J. Jaffe
Cleveland Heights, Ohio

Congratulations to you and your editorial staff on a superb first edition of Suburbia Today. We, at The Altadanan, are enthusiastic in our praise of your effort and feel certain that it will be equally well-received by our readers.

THE JUDAS GOAT

My best friend, Web Aten, and I made a cart and set of harness for Old Bill. By the time where, but I was the only one that Old Bill ever loved. No fence or rope could hold him. Sooner or later, he would find a way to free himself to join me at school, or at the ballgame, or at Sunday school. His first victim was Web.

Web was bending over one day to tie his shoe. Bill let out a small warning bleat and weeks later Old Bill put my mother up an apple tree in our backyard. One day when my father was leading him down to our small barn, passing through our chicken yard, Old Bill let out his warning bleat and charged. Dad went around my mother's big glass brooder house. Bill came across the top, thirty-eight-dollars-worth of glass. It was about this time that my pet's future was in doubt. A few weeks later all doubt was removed.

Mr. Easley, a neighbor up the street, was an amateur horticulturist. Above all other possessions, he prized his apple and peach trees. When they were in full bloom, Old Bill paid the Easley yard a visit. His horns came together at the top of his skull like a scissor, with little sharp ridges protruding outward. With this scissor arrangement my pet cut neat little ribbons of tasty bark from the fruit trees, eating them up as far as he could reach. The damage, settled out of court, amounted to fifty dollars.

The following day Old Bill was taken down to my grandfather's farm, two miles south of town and placed with a flock of sheep that had been assigned to the job of clearing a sprout thicket. I was permitted to visit him on Saturdays.

Old Bill remained on the farm eleven days, then became homesick for me. He vaulted a six-foot sheep fence and found his way back to town. Father and mother were quite touched at his affection and decided that I might try him one more time in town. He was a model of behavior, until the day of my brother's wedding.

A family photograph, featuring the bride and groom, was being taken in the front yard by Otis Hutson. Otis had just placed his head inside the black hood to focus his camera when Old Bill appeared on the scene to spot his target for the day. There was a low baa-aa, then a crash, resulting in considerable damage to both photographer and equipment.

There was a second trip to Grandfather's farm. Bill remained there, locked in a bull shed, until that November, when he again freed himself and searched me out, appearing at our back door after dark. The family had gone out for the evening. My younger sisters and I were there alone.

The first snow of winter had fallen that day and it was below freezing outside. I was afraid that Old Bill would catch cold in our drafty old barn, so I took him over to my father's small broom factory, where a fire was maintained throughout the night to keep the bleach vats from freezing. Old Bill seemed quite comfortable there in the loading-room where a carload of brooms, neatly packaged in dozen lots, was awaiting shipment to a Chicago jobber the following day.

My friend, who would eat almost anything, had a special taste, it turned out, for broom-corn and enameled broom handles. The brooms he did not eat were permeated with Old Bill's strong goat odor.

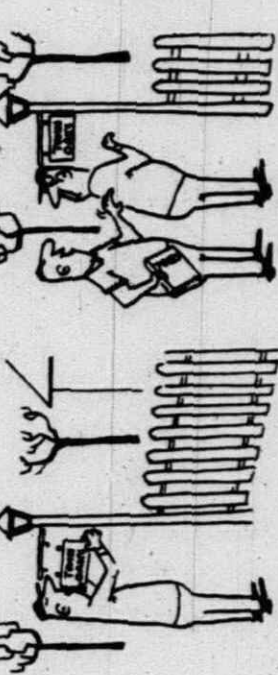

The train that might have hauled a carload of brooms to Chicago, had they been in any condition to ship under my father's label, hauled a carload of sheep to the Windy City. Old Bill was among those sheep. That night a little boy cried himself to sleep, wondering at the fate that awaited his friend.

It was almost two years later before the boy I saw the picture in the Chicago Tribune, which was used to illustrate a feature story about the Chicago stockyards. Old Bill, it seemed, had become quite famous as the Judas Goat who each day led his contingent of sheep to their destiny.

Years later, when the boy was almost a man and visited Chicago for the first time, he made a tour of the Chicago stockyards. Bill had died of old age three years before. A man who had worked there for many years remembered him well. He had come to the stockyards with a carload of sheep from a small town in southern Illinois. There had been no mention of a goat in the bill-of-lading that accompanied that particular shipment. It had also seemed unusual that a goat should have had brass knobs affixed to each point of his horns.

My daughters thought that the story of Old Bill was a wonderful story. They looked up at their father with new respect in their eyes.

Yesterday we acquired a Mexican burro named Peco. He's the small kind. They don't eat hardly anything except lawn, rhododendron, lilies of the valley, oats, hay and vegetable gardens. It is true that they make braying noises in the morning, attract flies from the woods and give out with a certain odor, but it's so nice to have a pet burro of one's very own.

Plant these sturdy perennials now for glorious spring displays lasting weeks. Set 8 to 12" apart in any sunny soil to form colorful blankets in rock gardens, beds, borders. In cooler areas some blooms appear continually into fall. Field-grown plants at bargain prices. Sent when you say, with planting instructions.

CROSS-COUNTRY CLASSIFIED

Where To Find It

APRONS FROM PORTUGAL

These brisk cotton aprons are hand-embroidered in gay patterns and colors, and faced with a bright cotton print in the same color as the embroidery, and a wide band of ric-rac encircles all. A slit-like pocket on either side gives access to the entire space between the front and the facing—a good safe place to drop a recipe or a dish towel! With white embroidery on red or green or beige backgrounds; or blue or red and blue embroidery on white backgrounds. $4.95, plus 35¢ postage. Gourmet Bazaar, New Hope, Pa.

BUILDING AIDS

Do you know that you can get low-cost "family-tested" house blueprints from lumber dealers throughout the country through the courtesy of the U.S. Gypsum Company? They also supply, through your dealer, free helpful Handyman Plans for remodeling, for kitchen features, for bathroom built-ins, for building and enclosing a porch, and other plans.

EASTER BREAKFAST TROUT

An unusual and delicious treat for Easter Breakfast, or any gala meal—these rainbow trout are caught in icy-cold (48 degree) streams, high in the Rockies, and shipped in cracked ice with every ounce of freshness intact. Ready for the pan. Six trout, size 8½-9 inches, $6.95 postpaid. Those Green Bros., P.O. Box 5284, Terminal Annex, Denver 17, Colorado.

EASTER EGGS

Old-fashioned, hand-made, hand-dipped, chocolate-covered butter cream Easter eggs are made daily, in small batches, in a real candy kitchen. A one-pound box contains the small, bite-size eggs, and costs $1.75 postpaid. Jagtley Candies, 2722 N. Fifth Street, Philadelphia, Penna.

EGG CUPS

Two story-book characters—Hansel and Gretel—are carved by hand in the Tyrolese Alps to form enchanting gay-colored egg cups to tempt young appetites. In addition, each character wears a hand-knitted woolen cap to keep the egg warm. They are sold by the pair only, $1.95 postpaid. (California residents add 4¢ for every dollar, sales tax.) B. H. Lawrence Co., 244 California Street, San Francisco 11, Calif.

FIR BALSAM SOAP

The invigorating sharpness of this fir balsam soap will bring back pleasant memories of summer vacations. The extract of the choicest of fir balsam needles from the New England woods is used in this soap, giving it an aromatic and refreshing scent. Box of four cakes, $1.00 postpaid. Seth & Jed, New Marlborough, Mass.

GADGETS

Egg Scissors: This hen opens her eggs with smooth perfection. There are never any annoying pieces of shell, nor any more burned fingers when she is used for soft-boiled eggs. The unique ring on this Voss scissor holds the egg in position while a pointed cutting blade snicks off the top. Gold-plated handle and nickel-plated forged steel cutting blade. $4.75, plus 25¢ postage. Lewis & Conner, Mineola, N. Y.

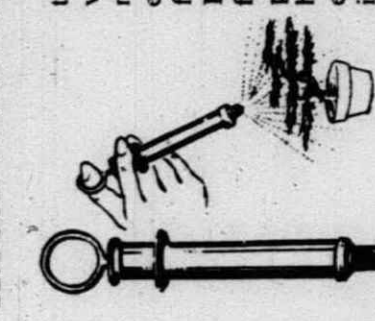

HOUSEHOLD AIDS

Marble Polish: To polish up your marble-topped tables and keep the surfaces like new. Here is a polish called Marble-lus. Wipe on, let dry and then wipe off. It protects the marble against grease, dirt, discoloration and dulling film, and it also prevents staining and scratching. A six-ounce bottle is $2.00 postpaid. Decorama, Dept. ST, 240 E. 92nd Street, Brooklyn 12, N. Y.

INDOOR PLANT SPRAYER

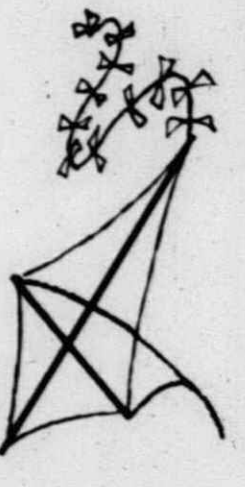

This small mist-type sprayer provides a refreshing moisture bath and essential humidity for indoor plants. It is especially good for maintaining plant health in dry heated rooms. It is effective for watering seedlings and for feeding leaves, and also for prolonging the life of cut flowers. Made of heavily chromium-plated solid brass. $2.50 postpaid. The Mantis Man, Riverhead 2, New York.

JONQUILS & DAFFODILS

From now till the middle of April, giant boxes of 144 fresh cut daffodils will be shipped on order from the famous Virginia growing fields. Twelve varieties to the box, fragrant from large Golden Trumpets to tiny fragrant Jonquillas. $6 postpaid. Daffodil Mart, Nuttall, Gloucester County, Va.

KITES

Memo: With the wind coming up in March as it always does, these are favorite kite models for small boys and girls (and their fathers); Eagle Kite, with 48" wing spread, $4.50; Box Kite, $3.95; Rolo-plane, with double sails, $6.95. F.A.O. Schwarz, 745 Fifth Avenue, New York 22, N. Y.

LEMON BUTTER

Lemon butter is NOT a butter but a jam made in small batches from fresh country eggs, fresh lemons and sugar. It is a new treat served on buttered toast, rolls or pancakes. A sponge cake sandwich spread with lemon butter is a delicious luncheon dessert and it is also good—and easy—with melba rounds and a hot cup of tea. Three jars for $1.95; $3.75 for six jars, postpaid. New Hampton General Store, Hampton 1, N. J.

LIQUID SOLDER

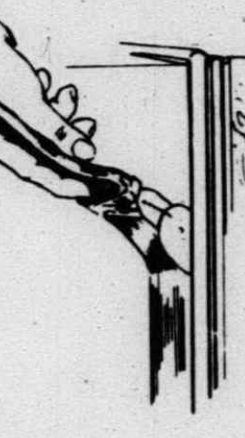

Liquid solder lets the distaff member of the family mend a dozen things around the house which are waiting for the professional touch, and lets her do it quickly, safely and cleanly. She can, in a wink, fix a loose teakettle handle, a missing foot on a collander, a broken carrying or a belt buckle. It squeezes freely from a tube and can be bought at hardware stores or direct. Two-ounce tube, 35¢. The Franklin Glue Co., Columbus, Ohio.

MONOGRAMMED KEY RING

It is sterling silver, it is quickly located in a pocket or purse, is easily identified if lost, has ample space for a home, office and car keys, and is good to look at, too. With your choice of three initials, $5.50 postpaid, including tax. Marjorie Howard Gifts, 5314 Atlantic Avenue, Ventnor, N. J.

PAINT BRUSH GUIDE

To help you become a professional painter this spring, use a Trim King guide. This metal tool clips onto two-to-four-inch brushes and helps you paint straight, clean ceiling lines, corners, window trims or two-tone jobs. It guides your brush and steadies your hand, and swings away for dipping into the paint. $1.00 postpaid. Kurdon, Inc., 2320 W. Western Avenue, Chicago 8, Illinois.

RE: PETS

Magazine For Cat Lovers: This monthly publication called Cats is all about all kinds of cats. It has the latest news of the feline world, pictures, poems, and helpful articles. A year's subscription is $3.50. Write to: Cats, 12 House Building, Pittsburgh 22, Pa.

Dog Identification Tag

This gold-plated, tarnish-proof engraved disk, about the size of a quarter, will give your pet extra protection, and a speedy return in case he strays. Give full information as shown in the illustration. $1.50 postpaid, tax included. Antin's 114 Baronne Street, New Orleans 12, La.

RUG BRAIDING MANUAL

For those who want to learn to make braided rugs, Ruth Peters has a new complete 16-page manual with every instruction illustrated and color schemes and patterns for round, oval and square rugs. Send 50¢ in coin for a copy of the manual. Miss Peters also has available every kind of rug-braiding equipment needed, such as rug-braiding thread, braid klamp, threadmaster, etc. Ask for her leaflet about these and other rug-braiding equipment. R. Peters' Associates, 19 West 34th Street, New York 1, N. Y.

SEWING AIDS

Skirt Marker: With the skirts going up and down this year, here is something to have at hand so you can change your hemlines with professional accuracy. This marker pins even hemlines without muss or fuss and when pins are inserted into the fabric they won't fall out accidentally. The price will cost you less than one alteration. $2.00 plus 25¢ postage. Copeland House; Box 870, Lake Forest, Ill.

Mending Tape Set: Quicker than darning—and neater too—is this handy reusable plastic case of twelve different colored iron-on tape rolls. It will save you on mending, hemming, repairing or decorating and each roll contains approximately 24½ inches of tape. $1.00 plus 25¢ postage. Adriane, Inc., Park Square, St. Paul 1, Minn.

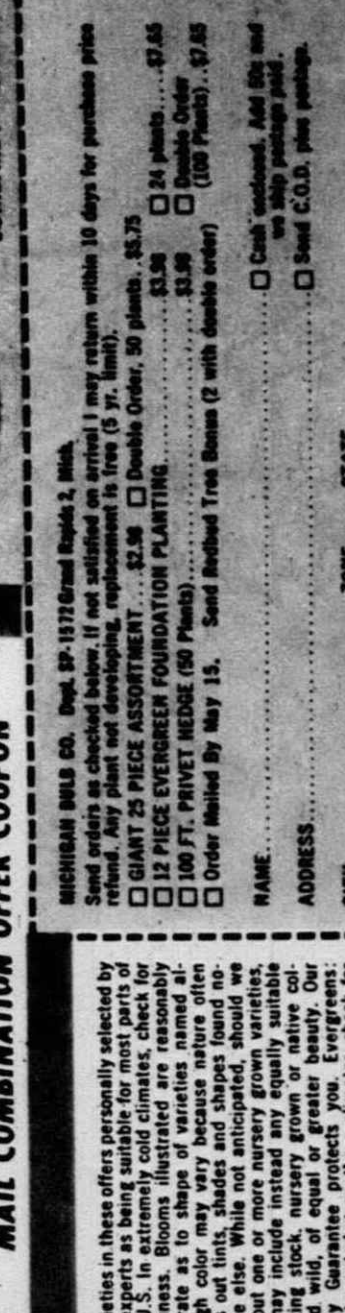

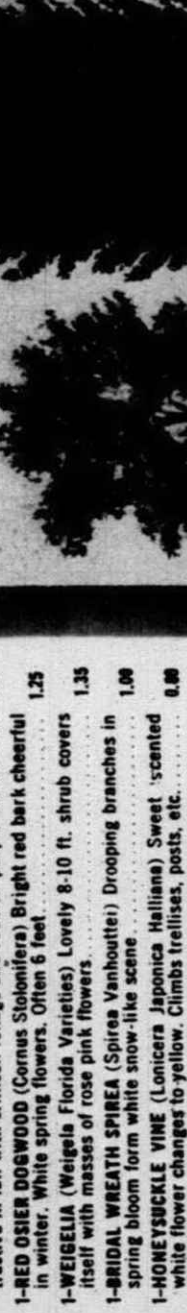

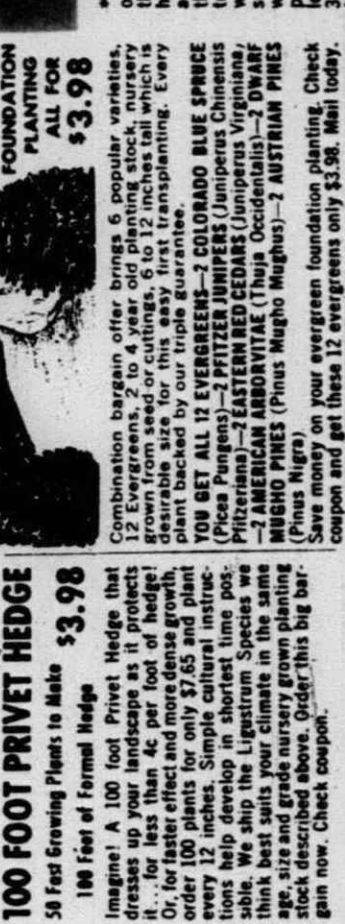

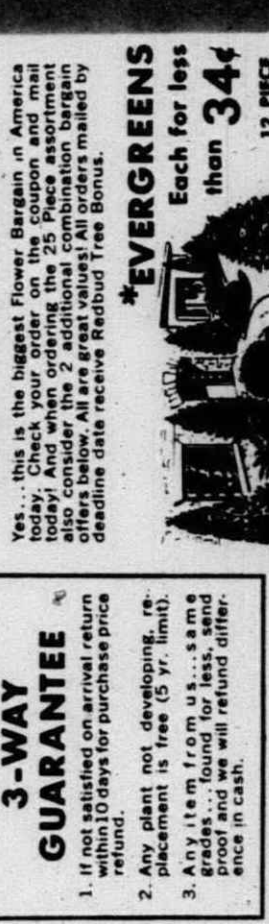

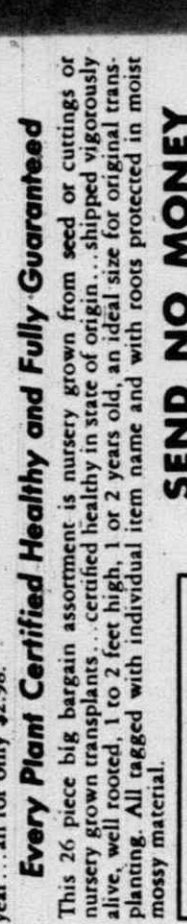

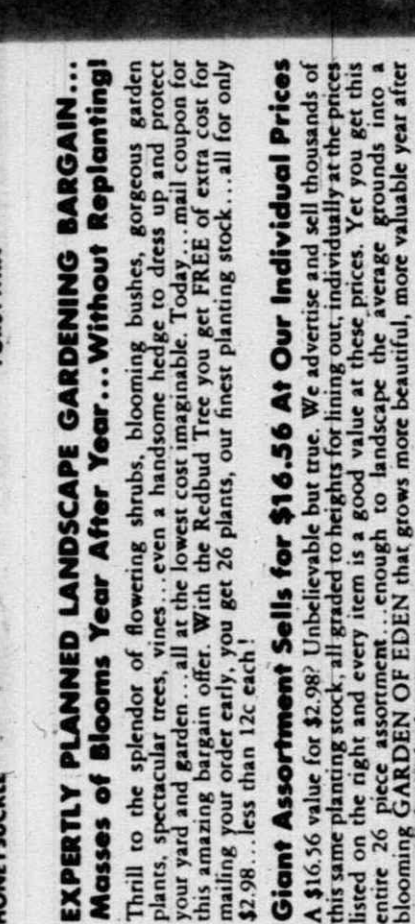

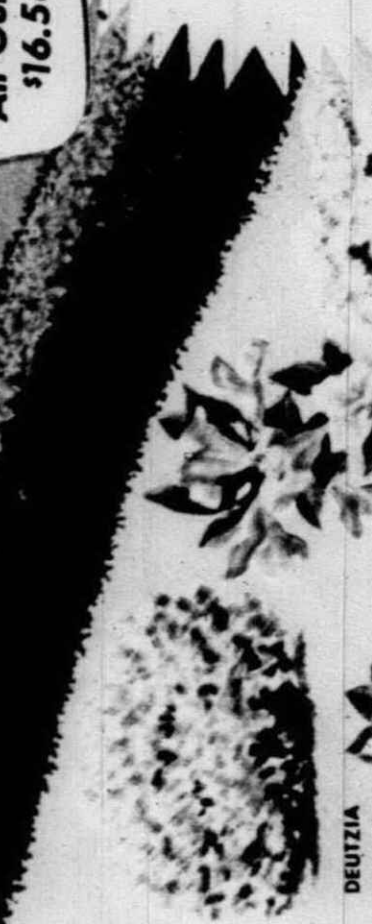

TELESCOPIC DUSTER

A new version of the old feather duster—its telescopic handle elongates from three to seven feet, thus reaching everything from floor to ceiling, and everything in between—the tops of picture frames, for instance. The handle is made from a dark-stained bamboo pole and has a small leather strap at the top for simple storage. $5.50 postpaid. Radnor House, Radnor, Penna.

SUBURBS ARE MAKING HISTORY

TAXPAYERS in pleasant places like Shaker Heights and Sun Mateo will be pleased to know that it was a great day for their country when they decided to pull up stakes and settle twenty miles instead of twenty blocks away from their places of business. This is the finding of Realities, well-known French monthly, which covers the world and which has recently made a study of U. S. suburbs under the title "What the American Recession Has Revealed to Us."

As Realities sees it, the growth of our suburbs is one of five great changes which have affected the course of our life in the last thirty years, changes so dynamic that they describe them as "revolutions." They are constructive revolutions in Realities' view, which have built a firm support for our economy so that a repetition of the crash of 1929 would now be impossible.

Beside the growth of our suburbs, Realities' notes among the other dynamic changes the increase in our birth rate, with the arrival in the U. S. of five million babies annually. Aside from material demand, the presence of these young, as they grow up, is in itself a stimulus to our economy—"they are disposed to turn to the new, the untried. When they get to working age they will push to the frontiers of industry, and establish themselves in areas about to be opened up." The rise of the middle class in the last twenty years is another dynamic change. A third factor is our technical progress—"the Americans have entered a new era, based on the future of atomic energy, and on their spectacular developments in electronics and chemistry." The acceleration of the birth rate, the rise of the middle class, extraordinary technical progress, the development of new areas by dams and roads and seaways; these, and the country-wide expansion of the suburbs, are the mighty forces Realities' sees acting for the good in our economy today. Americans living in the suburbs might add that it is from their own doorsteps that they see the other forces in operation. The new plants and laboratories of technical progress are locating in the suburbs. The typical population of the suburbs is the vigorous,

Books

ORIGINALITY has taken the place of the conditions of the modern house. . . Many modern buildings and pieces of furniture are expensive and non-functional. . . These statements are found in H. H. Reed, Jr.'s GOLDEN CITY, an indictment of modernism. Some of the author's conclusions lack convincing support, but his strong stormy point of view and his photographs make GOLDEN CITY a provocative book. (Doubleday, $5.75)

HENDERSON THE RAIN KING by Saul Bellow introduces a man, extraordinary in both wealth and spirit. His energy and appetite for life drive him to Africa, where he is heralded as a Messiah. Diverging story. (Viking, $4.50)

CONSORT FOR VICTORIA sheds a new light on the romance of Albert and Victoria—it seems doubtful were cast on the Prince Consort's ancestry and a conspiracy was launched to replace Victoria on the throne, but counterplotting by loyal supporters saved the day. By Vaughan Wilkins. (Doubleday, $3.95)

ACADEMIC MARKETPLACE by Theodore Cantow and Reece J. McGee is the inside story on salaries and advancement, and how faculties are selected in the halls of ivy. (Basic Books, $4.95)

MIRACLE ON SAN JAIME by John Cantwell, two strangers arrive on San Jaime, each bearing a tormenting personal problem, one of them seeking an answer through some miracle. The sleepy island becomes taut with gossip and suspicion as one of the men falls in love with a native girl. (Chilton, $3)

HERBLOCK'S SPECIAL FOR TODAY is a collection of over 400 of his most penetrating cartoons plus a commentary that crackles with wit and wisdom. (Simon & Schuster, $3.95)

A first novel by Sylvia Ashton Warner, SPINSTER takes place on New Zealand. Anna Vorontsov, a Russian schoolteacher, is passionately dedicated to her Maori pupils. She laments bitterly her failure as a woman, and drowns her loneliness in work and in a morning glass of brandy. The final blow comes when in the end the school inspector fails to recognize her exceptional gift with children. Beautifully told. (Simon & Schuster, $3.75)

Translated by Arthur Machen, THE MEMOIRS OF CASANOVA are more entertaining than ever. In the dazzling rococo setting of the 18th century, Giacomo Casanova, the Venetian, plucks the fruits of life with unflinching zest as soldier, lawyer, and doctor. (Putnam, $5)

THREE great favorites are coming out in handy-sized packages: Jean Kerr's PLEASE DON'T EAT THE DAISIES exposes the far from serene life of a mother blessed with four boys. (Crest, 35c) The conclusion of university life is lampooned by Max Shulman in BAREFOOT BOY WITH CHEEK. (Bantam, 35c) "WHERE DID YOU DO?" "NOTHING"—Robert Paul Smith's collection of childhood memories. (Pocket, 35c)

Two photographs from "Golden City"—the great hall of the ornate Cunard Building, contrasted with the United Nations' austere, dramatic lobby.

In GRANDFATHER STORIES Samuel Hopkins Adams reminisces about the colorful people and the endearing pastimes of his early days along the Erie Canal. (Signet, 50c) THE GETAWAY tells of a perfectly planned bank robbery by man and wife—perfectly planned, almost perfectly executed. By Jim Thompson. (Signet, 25c)

SIGRID AND THE SERGEANT is a hilarious novel about the American Army in Germany today, and the battle of the sexes they wage with the anxious German cast, especially newcomer Millie Perkins as Anne. Director George Stevens has filmed a great classic.

SOME GAMES RUNNING—An ex-GI writer returns to his home town and falls in love with a schoolteacher who shows interest in his talent. The romance shows up followed by her jealous lover. Lighthearted at times, but melodramatic in many spots. Frank Sinatra is his usual best.

HE WHO MUST DIE is a distinguished French film with a universal message—men's responsibility to one another. Filmed in Greece in a small village, the story unfolds as the annual passion play is to be held during Holy Week. Sudden tragedy strikes when the Turks burn a neighboring village, evoking deep compassion among the players. Natural and forceful acting.

called FROM THE HUNGRY I. These versatile lads can handle music from Zulu to lullaby. HUGO WINTERHALTER GOES LATIN in a new RCA cutting. Some of the most sustaining and torrid Spanish and South American pieces fill this album—"Granada," "Fandangos" and "Valencia," are fiery while "Isabel's Dream" and "Acerate Mas" are swinging and groovy. If you've got a modern west-coast jazz mania, hear RCA's PETER GUNN—it's a gas!

Stereophiles and opera lovers both will be entranced by London's MARRIAGE OF FIGARO. Cesare Siepi and a Viennese cast are led by Eric Kleiber in one of the finest recordings in 3-D sound. Ernest Ansermet and the Swiss Romande Orchestra (London) make magic with Stravinsky's poignant ballet, THE FIRE-BIRD.

More and more, jazz is crashing the stereo market. A recording of the CHICO HAMILTON QUINTET (World Pacific) is on the racks—cool and smooth.

A scene from "Black Orchid"—Sophia Loren plays the gangster's enticing widow, with a problem child, and Anthony Quinn is the rough-diamond hero.

about an honest woodcutter, his wife and their tiny child (Russ Tamblyn). Two bandits use Tom to rob a bank, then pin the crime on his parents. Tom, aided by friends, captures the culprits and frees the victims. Filled with color, songs, and dances. Will charm both young and old.

DIARY OF ANNE FRANK—One of the most moving war stories of this age. The film is adapted from the diary of a sensitive girl who hid from the Nazis with seven other Jews in a warehouse in Amsterdam for two years. Memorable a recording of Brahms' monumental classic, CONCERTO NO. 1, by the Boston Symphony. The result is brilliant. (RCA) Whirling and swirling Offenbach's GAYNE PARISISME and Khaichaturian's GAYNE BALLET SUITE are delightfully recorded by the Boston Pops on a new RCA disc.

Columbia has recorded the original Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, and it's tops! Pat Suzuki's vocal mannerisms in songs like "I Enjoy Being a Girl" and "Grant Avenue" is in the old razzmatazz tradition, while Miyoshi Umeki gives us the wide-eyed China Doll. The Kingston Trio of Tom Dooley fame has a very nice disc released by Capitol

Movies

ANTHONY QUINN and SOPHIA LOREN are billed together in THE BLACK ORCHID, the story of a gangster's widow and her problem child. Quinn is a lovable diamond-in-the-rough and Miss Loren makes an enticing widow.

ANTARCTIC CROSSING is a thrilling documentary of the recent expedition by Sir Vivian Fuchs and Sir Edmund Hillary. In color the Antarctic is more spectacular than ever, and the danger and frustration endured by the explorers are vividly recorded.

TOM THUMB—The ageless fairy tale

Records

CONDUCTOR OTTO KLEMPERER has made a new recording of BEETHOVEN'S NINTH. This Angel release has been heralded by the trade as one of the best. We heartily agree. Two other conductors have scored high with Tchaikovsky symphonies. Directing the N. Y. Philharmonic, Leonard Bernstein renders a finely proportioned FOURTH SYMPHONY (Col.). Fritz Reiner has been heard at work molding the Chicago Symphony into a fine recording group. In TCHAIKOVSKY'S SIXTH he gets the best out of them. (RCA)

The technique of young Gary Graffman and the masterful musicianship of Charles Munch are brought together in

THE WEAK-END

Back to the hearth from your daily battle in the city only to find yourself waging a more subtle war with the things you own and the people you bought them from.

INSIST ON NO SOCIAL ACTIVITIES on Friday nights . . . conserve your strength for what's ahead.

Check your insurance policies and head for the hardware store.

A quick check on those little week-end repairs brings the cheerful revelation that the cost of repairs exceeds the total value of your property by about $1500.

FRIDAY NIGHT: Examine the scene carefully from the train . . . if there's any hint of a week-end project . . . STAY ABOARD!

By midnight on Sunday you

newly dominant middle class. Here is spectacular development of new areas. And here certainly is one of the great staging areas for those 5,000,000 children arriving among us annually.

In the hurly-burly of commuting and taxes and upkeep and P.T.A. a man may not often stop to think of himself as making history, or explain to himself in so many words how he came to abandon the comparative ease and shelter of city life for the responsibilities and efforts that go with owning a house and land in a bustling, busy suburb. From the perspective of France, Realités shows him himself as others see him.

"The Americans," they tell their readers, "are increasingly turning away from their skyscrapers, and the fast pace of their cities. Preceded by their factories, in this last great migration, and followed by their stores, they are moving to the suburbs, which are growing six times faster than the cities. It is the suburbs which will absorb the greatest part of the population increase in the years to come. Today 53,000,000 live in the great cities, against 47,000,000 in the suburbs; fifteen years from now there will be 85,000,000 in the suburbs, only 61,000,000 in the cities. Take the case of Los Angeles: within the next fifteen years, five million more people will have settled there; the city will have literally burst out for seventy-five miles around into 'Greater Los Angeles,' suburban communities will stretch out as far south as the San Diego area, and north to Ventura."

As Realités sees it, Americans, and particularly young Americans, are going out to the suburbs because there they find a better way of life. In the same way, at the beginning of the century, Americans, and particularly young Americans, left their sleepy little home towns and flocked to the cities.

"Today," the editors observe, "people of middle

Here are some of the ways people are making history in the suburbs—they are using and developing their land resources . . . their young are being raised there . . . the building of churches and hospitals and parks and community pools is made everyone's business . . . and with the great migration has come an unprecedented boom in house building and road building, in home furnishings and household equipment and automobiles. After surveying scenes like this across the country—scenes which we take for granted—the editors of Realités came to the conclusion that the growth of American suburbs was indeed making history and was "one of the best reasons for having confidence in the American economy today."

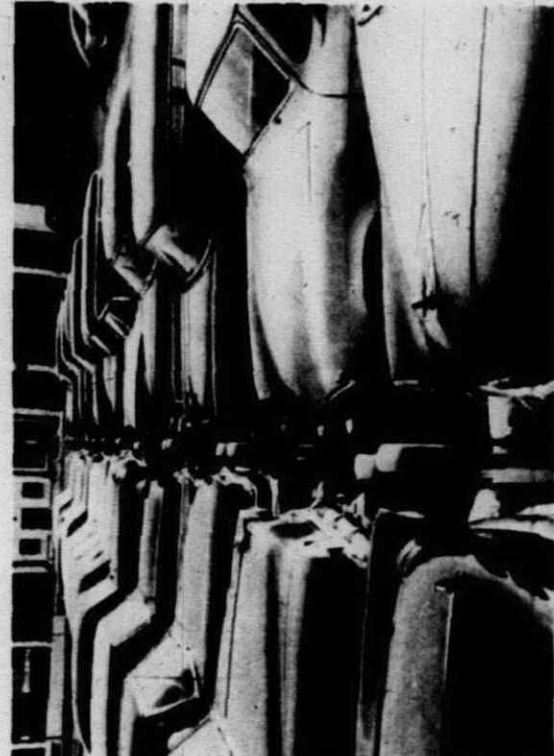

income are ordering their lives as the prosperous have for twenty years—the city to work in, the country to live in. This is a dream come true for millions and millions today, thanks to the mass production of automobiles."

According to the French editors, U. S. suburban development entered a new and highly productive phase around 1953 when offices and industries, in their turn, followed their workers out of the city. With the shopping centers and the supermarkets, the industries and businesses newly arrived in suburbia have added their incentive and riches to the life of the pioneering, bustling developments. "In the new American suburbs," Realités finds, "people emerge from the anonymous crowd and make a place for themselves. Young people have a chance to meet each other through sports and community parties and glee clubs. Older women find outlets for their energy and knowledge, operating community services like libraries and clinics and town improvements. The building of churches and hospitals and parks is made everyone's business. Everyday life is good-humored, and casual, based on good will, familiarity and simplicity."

Commenting further on the U. S. suburban scene, they say:

"The pursuit of happiness is always one of the driving forces in American society. American age) are in for trouble. If, after sedentary months, they insist on shoveling snow—well, you've read about them in the obituary columns. Moreover, in the winter the endocrine system slows down. Bears hibernate, we don't; but our glands show some signs of wanting us to. One of these, the adrenal cortex, supplies a hormone known as cortisone, and when the supply is reduced, there is more suffering from rheumatoid arthritis, for which cortisone has been found to be specifically helpful.

At either extreme of temperature, the cells in our body tissues swell. When strong winds blast off the polar ice fields, or there is no wind at all to blow hot, moisture-laden air away, you'll feel the aches and pains of neuritis, a "trick" knee, a "bad" ankle, bunions. And, of course, the membranes in the nose and throat, always sensitive, are particularly vulnerable to bacteria when subjected to abnormal conditions (these include quick shifts from airconditioning to non-airconditioning). It is a gloomy fact that deaths in any segment of our population jump by a third in the months of January, February, and March.

Before we go on to the effects of heat and humidity, it is useful to note that the human thermostat is located at the base of the brain and in the brain stem. Not much is known yet about the meaning of what happens when this vital link loses its sensitivity, but it may well be that disease is related to its failure to function. In other words, our ability to adjust to the weather may have much to do with our physical health. It certainly has a great deal to do with mental health. Indeed, one of the symptoms of neurosis is an inability to adjust easily. Mental patients are at their most disturbed when the weather fluctuates, and if you've ever had "the jitters" before a thunderstorm, there's a good reason.

Heat, Humidity, Homicide
It seems that when a "low" or storm is approaching and the barometer is falling—even before you see those dark clouds massing or find yourself listening to the weird hush that seems to descend on the earth—the body issues, trying to adjust to the change in atmospheric pressure, operate somewhat on the principle of a sponge and take up additional water from the intestinal tract. In short, they swell. This not only makes Grandpa's rheumatism bother him, so that, as he says, he can "feel" a storm coming, but it provokes serious consequences in his head as well. The brain, constructed as it is within a hard skull, can't swell—or not much. A headache, a feeling of despondency, nervous tension are results. This is when your grandmother went to lie down with a handkerchief soaked in cologne—and when you may start snapping at an obstreperous child, who is in turn no doubt merely giving vent to his own uneasiness. Oddly enough, however, it has been established that unless they're scared senseless, many people are at their most efficient mentally during the actual thunderstorm.

Excessive heat is demonstrably the most demoralizing of all weather conditions. Besides moistening the blood pressure, its effect on the metabolism means that it also affects the thyroid. There are vital statistics and police records to reveal that suicides, violence, and crimes of passion increase during a heat wave. That is, they do up to a point; when it gets too hot (say over 80°), there isn't so much energy left. According to a report made by Drs. George E. Burch and Albert Hyman of New Orleans to an American Heart Association meeting in 1956, heat and humidity make even a healthy heart work harder, so that mild exercise in such circumstances is worse than strenuous activity on a cool, dry day. As a happier footnote, a hot spell also seems to bring on a rush of business in the maternity wards.

Individuals Vary

Needless to say, individuals differ in their reactions to weather. Thin people have a hard time in the cold and are prone to feel unhappy. Abraham Lincoln was a notorious example: he was always gloomy during a cold spell, and as a matter of record, it was during a severe and prolonged winter that he had a near collapse and so strangely broke his engagement to Mary Todd. Stout people, as is easily observed, suffer more in the heat. General health is also, naturally, an important factor in one's response. A body already coping with an illness is burdened all the more by a need to seek equilibrium with the temperature. But just about everybody suffers when the humidity is high; the pressure, without and within, is just too much, and an outburst of temper is, quite literally, an inevitable explosion.

"Why talk about it? You can't change it." That's probably as common a conversation-stopper as "Hot (or cold) enough for you today?" is an opening gambit. But just as it's no longer so apt to say that something is as unreachably as the moon, it is now not so thoroughly accurate to suppose that there's nothing you can do about the weather.

Benefits In Change of Climate

Anyone can—and should—make sensible adaptations in diet and clothing. Mechanical measures can control the conditions indoors and keep comfortable and contented there. And, of course, if desirable and practicable, you can move to another climate. Elderly people especially are quite right to seek out the milder, drier places.

It would be misleading, though, to suggest that a change of climate will necessarily cure all ills. A group of doctors in Maricopa County, Arizona, became concerned at the disappointment of many people who had come to the area in search of better health, and in 1956 they organized the Institute of Medical Climatology to collect information on the effect of climate on specific diseases and to give frank answers to inquiries. They have found that the local climate does help some conditions but not others. It relieves osteoarthritis but not rheumatoid arthritis. It seems to benefit certain skin ailments such as eczema and acne, but it does not cure heart disease, though it does enable cardiac patients to breathe more easily. As the doctors wisely point out, the fact that many patients feel better when they have moved to a new spot may be because they've left behind some of the problems and frustrations which were contributing to their difficulties. So it is still possible that a change of scene can be beneficial in more ways than one.

Most people, of course, have no opportunity for a change of climate—weatherproof or not, you take it as it comes. But there is one more thing you can do about it—relax and be philosophical. "This too will pass," you might try saying to yourself, and the chances are that you and the weather will then get along much better together.

YOU and the WEATHER

*In The City You Can Dodge It—In The Deep Country It Comes Naturally—But In The Suburbs You Meet It Head On—
And What Does It Do To You?*

Like the postman, the commuter is supposed to carry on with his appointed rounds despite rain, sleet or snow, and so is the wife he leaves behind him. The commuter must commute. The children must get to school, to the dentist, to a birthday party. An approaching hurricane is no excuse for missing a committee meeting, and the cook who runs out of baking powder can fight her way through the downpour to the nearest store, which may be two miles away. All things considered, if awards are to be handed around for hardiness, the suburbanite is surely a top candidate.

And how weatherproof are you? Is it your imagination if you feel jittery before a thunderstorm? Is there any excuse for cancelling your dentist appointment on a smothering July day, and taking to the hammock with a book you've wanted to read? Does arthritis really hurt more in cold weather?

The truth is, weather has a very definite effect upon your physical and mental state and the relationship between the individual and the weather has now become a recognized area for scientific investigation.

In talking about the weather we really mean bad weather.

Like the villains in novels, it's more interesting—and more likely to provide dramatic consequences—than the good kind. On pleasant days, we feel fine, and that's as it should be. It's what happens to us when we're miserable, and bullied by the weather, that concerns us.

Ripe Tropical Old Age

Starting with the general climate—and climate is simply long-term weather—it is well known that people in a temperate climate are more energetic, more alert and ambitious than people in the tropics. But Dr. Clarence A. Mills, professor of experimental medicine at the University of Cincinnati, has been finding that the sudden changes in weather which occur in a temperate zone cause considerable stress and strain on our physical and mental systems. The respiratory disorders, diabetes, cancer, arthritis, and ailments related to stress, such as peptic ulcers, flourish where the winters are frigid, the summers torrid, and the variations in between both abrupt and extreme. People become high-strung as a result of constantly trying to adjust physically to "record" days and 20-degree shifts in temperature overnight. People in the tropics may not be so productive, but they aren't prone to nervous breakdowns and if the mosquitoes don't get them, they live longer.

"Trick Knees" and Tempers

What actually does happen to us as weather shifts or reaches extremes? Dr. William F. Peterson of Chicago has conducted experiments which reveal that even minor fluctuations produce corresponding changes in all the metabolic and chemical processes of the body. Up to a point, cold is stimulating, as anyone who has enjoyed a brisk autumn day knows. But after that point, the body has to work extremely hard to maintain sufficient heat. The fuel provided by food is burned up faster and more oxygen is needed. The cold constricts the blood passages, including the coronary arteries, and people who already have poor circulation (whose capillaries don't expand or contract readily, usually due to economic activity is geared to this drive and priority is given to satisfying human needs, the needs of a man and his family. The American today is more than ever interested in his own house: the interior tends to be unpretentious but comfortable, family pieces mingle with the latest in equipment, and one house will often have several television sets. Gardens and outdoor living are featured more and more, everyone picnics, and cooks out-of-doors on a barbecue. Families have fun together, sun-bathing and swimming in their own pools, which are becoming familiar additions to suburban houses."

The way of life is one an American reader would take for granted, but as Realities points out, when it becomes a way of life for 50,000,000 people history is being made.

"The explosion from the great cities," they conclude, "has given rise to an unprecedented boom in building (outside the cities they want houses of their own to live in) and with the building boom has come a boom in home furnishings and household equipment and automobiles. In addition huge-outlays have been needed for sewage and waterworks and the construction of schools and public buildings. Such developments are one of the best reasons for having confidence in the American economy today."

To the left you see Mr. and Mrs. William Looock two thousand miles away from their supermarket, strolling along a canal in Willemstad, looking over a boatload of yams and chochos and cherimoyas—just looking, and wasting time, and loving it, because for twelve warm, blue, halcyon days they will not be on any schedule at all. Before the sun gets too high they will go to swim in the pool at the new Hotel Curaçao Intercontinental and they will bask on the terrace afterward, with a tall glass in hand and a view of the Antilles port below them. They will think of home, way up north, far from the flying fish and the bougainvillea, because the children are there, waiting and wondering about "presents from the trip." But their thoughts will soak in as peacefully as the sunshine—for twelve days they don't have to get anything done. In the afternoon when the palm fronds start to rattle they will go back to their "Santa Rosa" in her tropical whites, back to their stateroom with its feeling of private-yacht luxury, quiet and big and air-cooled and restfully monotone—happy ending to the sunny tour ashore.

BEFORE the Looocks get home to Westchester County and the Monday-to-Friday, they will have sailed over four thousand miles of the Spanish Main and put into six ports of call.

Before planting shrubs, you can try out effects with annuals

Beds of annuals under fences save hand trimming around posts

SEED PACKET... LANDSCAPING WILL GIVE QUICK RESULTS

OF ALL the plants in our gardens, probably annuals are the most versatile. Most people, of course, know that by planting a few packets of seeds in spring they are assured—with very little subsequent effort—of masses of bloom by midsummer, for that is one of the most endearing qualities of annual plants. But what a good many gardeners don't know is that annuals have an indefinite number of ways of making themselves useful in the small home garden, aside from producing flowers to admire or to cut.

The new homeowner, for instance, can use annuals to landscape the foundation of his house and to simulate shrubs around the edges of his garden until he can afford permanent plantings. Castor beans, tithonia, cosmos, zinnias and marigolds are all good tall plants to use as "stand-ins" for shrubs. Planting effects can be tried out this way to assure achieving the results desired before committing oneself to expensive permanent plants. Color schemes can be rehearsed with annuals to one's heart's content until the right one presents itself, and then it can be set for good by choosing perennials of similar color and habit of growth. By trying out various types of annual vines on fences, trellises, and on arbors, one can make the proper choice of permanent vine (unless one becomes so enamored of annual vines that to change would be foolish). A delicate, dainty annual vine may point to the use of clematis as the final replacement. Heavy growers may indicate that wistaria, Dutchman's pipe, or some other lush grower would be the choice. However, many gardeners will want to use vigorous-growing annuals to provide heavy shade for a terrace much used in summer, and pull them up so that in winter not a single ray of welcome sunlight is blocked. By planting beds of annuals under fences, hand trimming around posts and under rails is eliminated when the grass is mowed.

The way to get the most out of annual plants is to consider their height first of all, and then the color and habit of growth. Use tall sorts at the back of the beds, plant medium-height kinds around and in front of them, and use low-growers to edge and finish the beds. The pictorial charts at the right will indicate the height ranges of the various types.

You'll probably develop many more ideas than the ones we show here, once you've got going with annuals; but whether you are a new homeowner or an experienced gardener, we predict that from now on, you'll never be without annuals in your garden picture.

Mr. and Mrs. William Look Make A Caribbean

Cruise A Dress Rehearsal For Spring

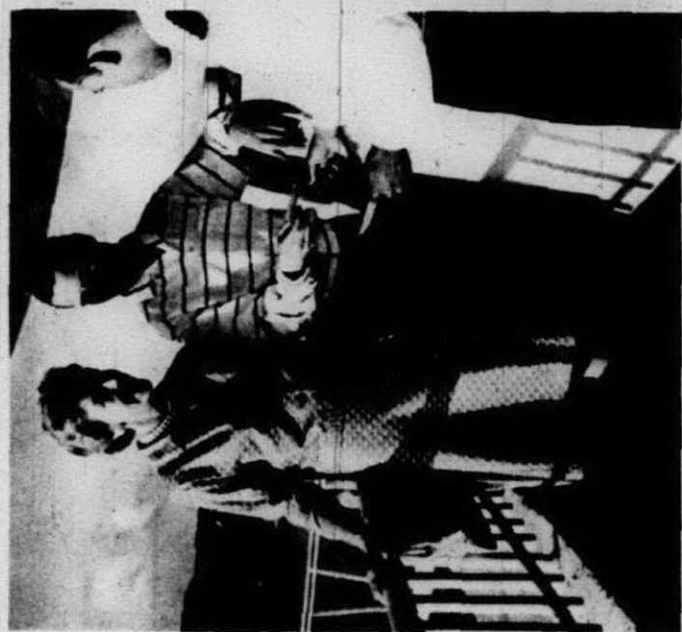

In Caracas, they will get orchids by the armful, and a breathtaking trip by cable car high up to the top of Mount Avila, and a thoughtful look back into the Spanish Colonial past, and the days of Simon Bolivar, the Great Liberator. In Kingston there is the wonderful straw market for hats and baskets of which no one ever gets enough, and Castleton Gardens with the calypso bands, and beautiful beaches because the West Indies are made of beautiful beaches, and in Nassau they are pink. Willemstad is the free port where you pick up bargains from all over the world—Dutch china and lace, Swiss watches, Panama hats, silks and ivory from the East, Irish linens and British woollens, perfumes and the finest of liquors, all free of the taxes which make them such luxuries at home.

AND between landfalls there is shipboard life on the "Santa Rosa," deck games with the frigate birds flying overhead, swimming in the largest outdoor pool afloat, buffet luncheons in the verandah by the pool, long hours to read and write and play bridge, the Captain's cocktail party where passengers from North and South America have a chance to meet and mingle, and gala dinners with movies afterward, and dancing to the "Santa's" orchestra while the ship cuts smoothly into the warm sea lit with phosphorus.

When the twelve days are up, the Lookes will land in a cold gray New York with no regrets, because how do you regret a holiday that is perfect?

AND if this were all there would be no story, for surely the way to appreciate a Caribbean cruise is to be there, not to read about it. But the cruise Mr. and Mrs. Look sailed on was more than a personal outing—they turned it into a dress rehearsal for spring. They both happen to be professionally interested in fashion—Mr. Look also has an insurance business and in spare time he is a scratch golfer and the pride of the Greenwich Country Club—and when they sailed off to the Caribbean they were bent not only on a holiday but on trying out and photographing a wardrobe of new knitted clothes. Everything they took was knitted, even Mr. Look's new blazer, even Mrs. Look's new pleated Orlon-and-silk. Everything packed with no more fuss than so many sweaters and everything could be easily washed by their inexpert hands. Here are the clothes they took—gay, practical shirts and skirts and sun suits—new clothes for a Caribbean holiday, and new clothes for spring right here at home.

All the cruise-spring fashions shown here are in Alamac Knits—home-coming coats included! Shops in your neighborhood will probably carry them. If not, you can find the nearest source by writing Suburbia Merchandising, 403 Park Ave., N. Y. 22, N. Y.

At Hotel Curaçao Intercontinental—two cotton jerseys. Her Lampl suit, about $18. His shirt by McGregor, $10.95.

Kingston—her flowered cotton knit by Stylecraft. Top, $4.95. Skirt, $7.95. His McGregor cotton-knit shirt, $7.95.

Home to the children—the Lookes smuggle into Furalla coats (the baby has one, too)—and the new cruise clothes are packed away waiting for the first day of spring to burst into bloom.

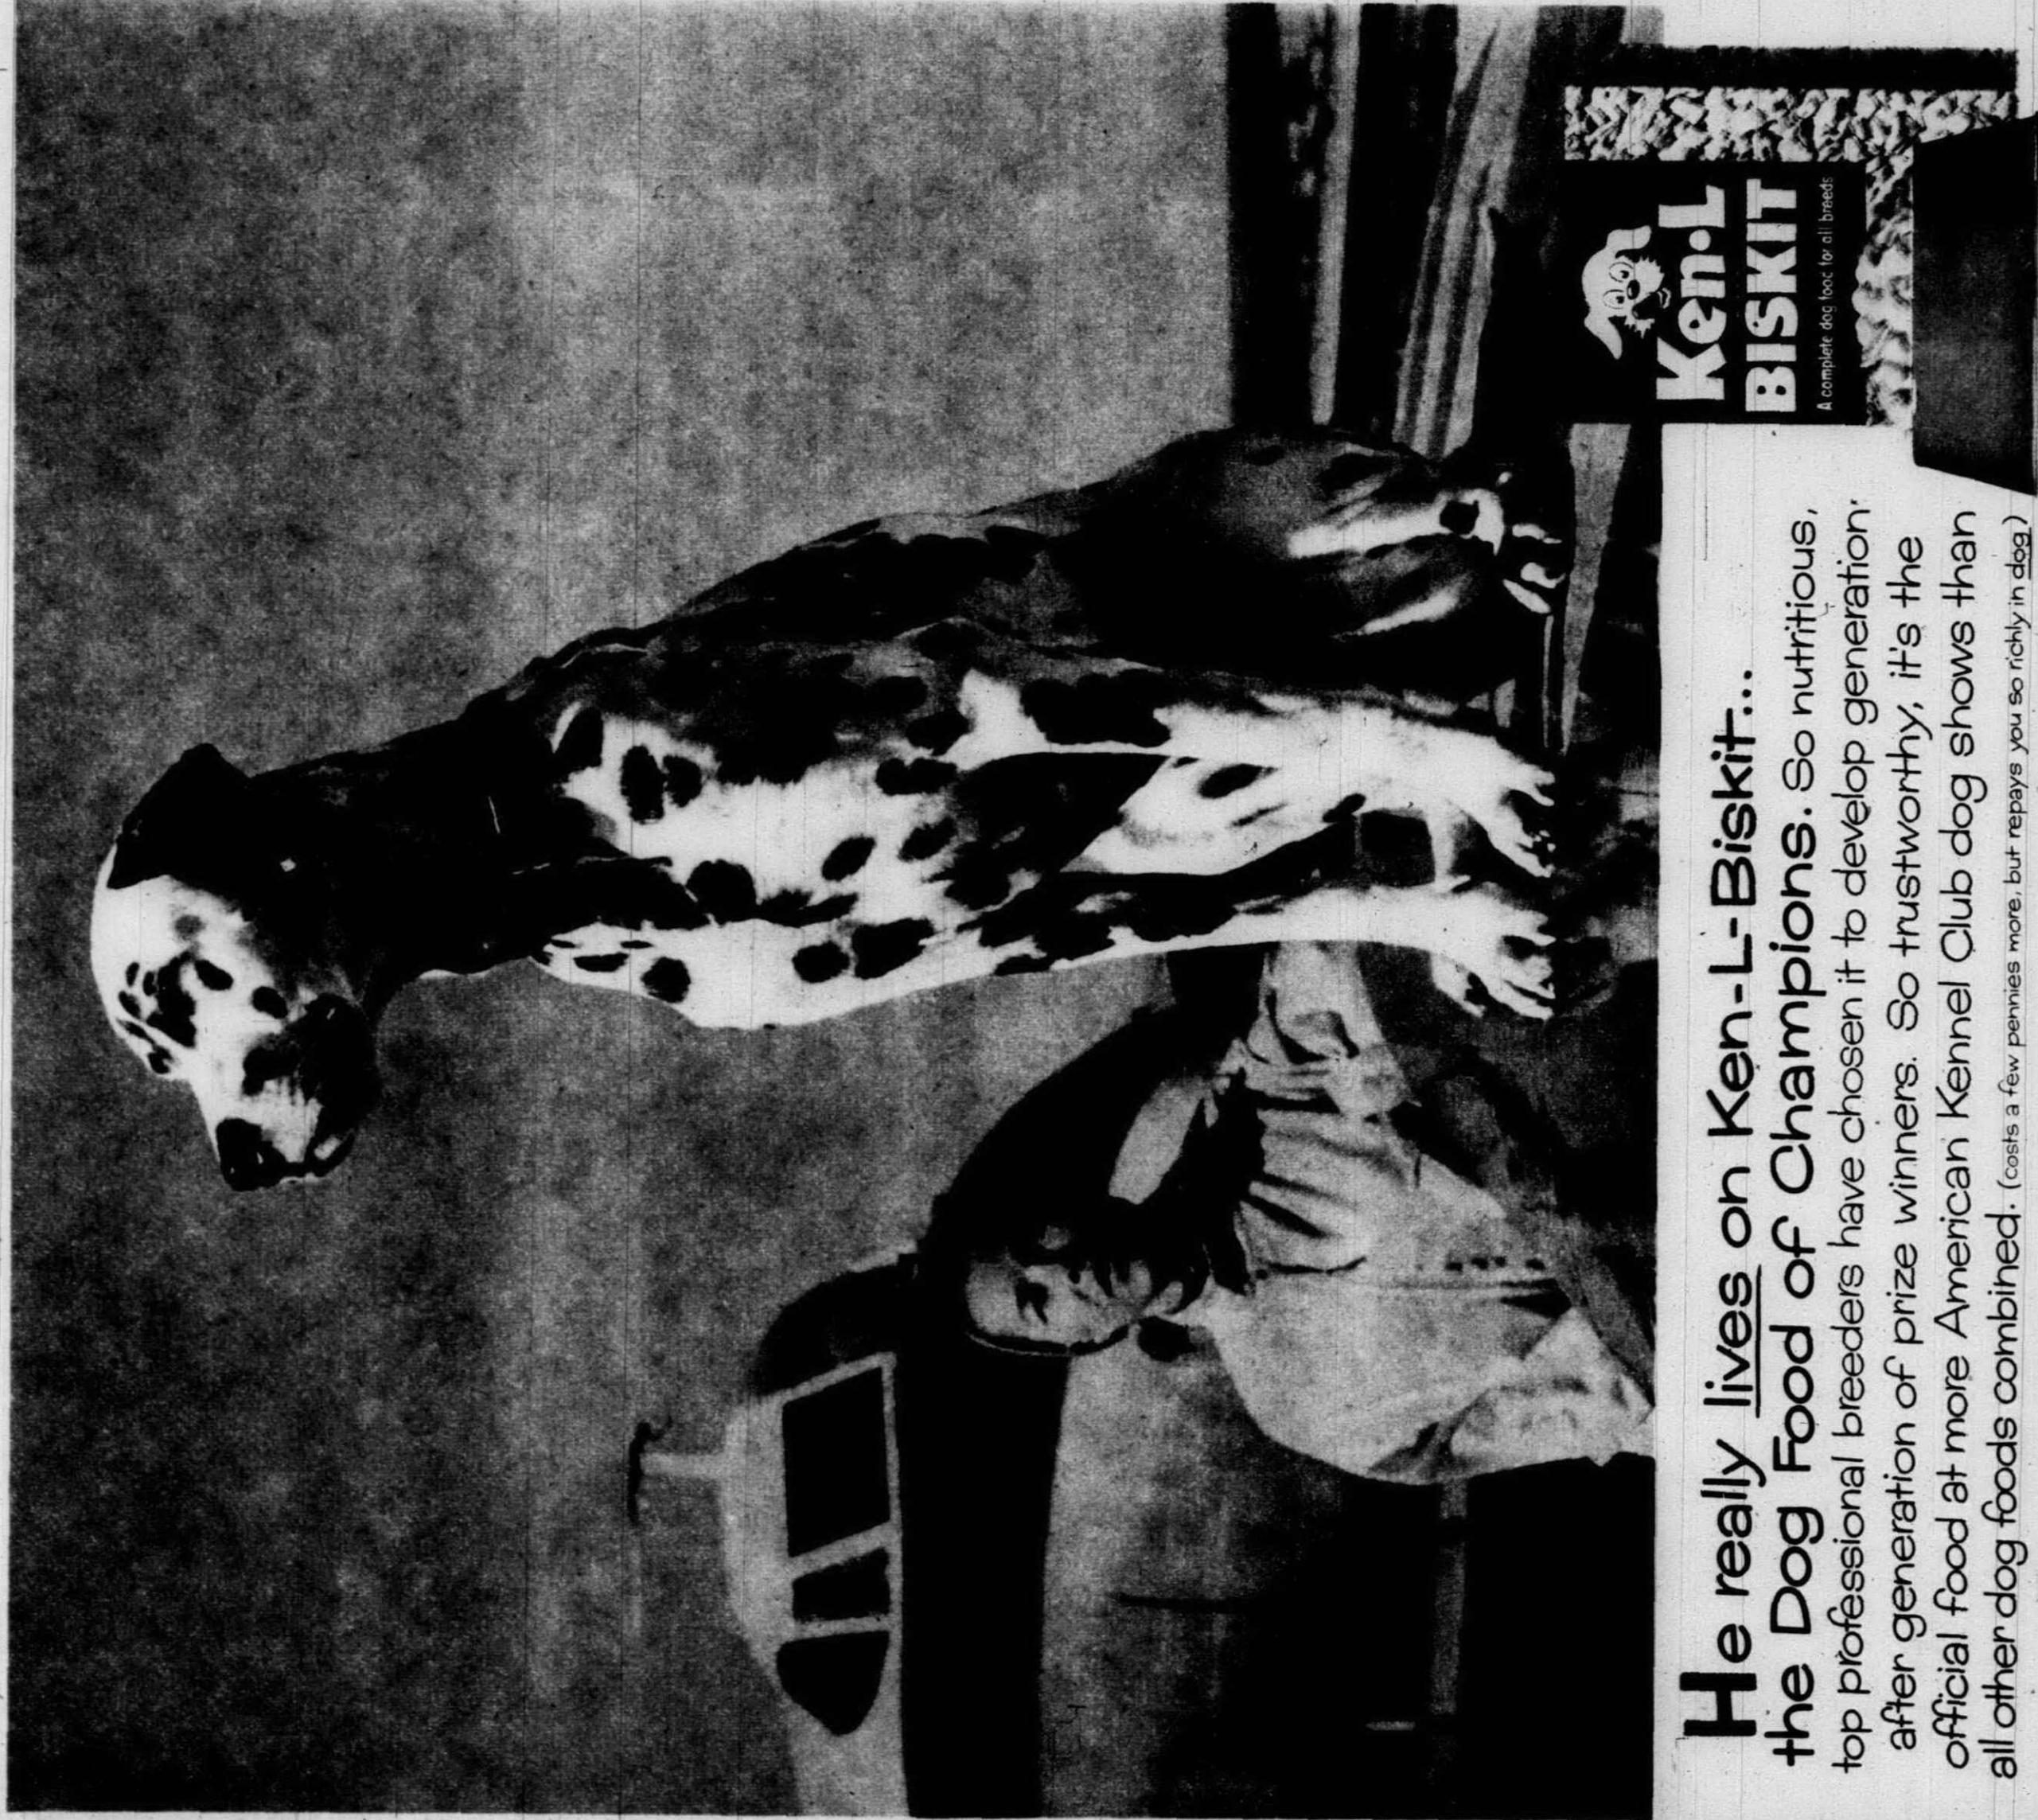

A nooning at Caracas' Hotel Tamanao—her sun suit is a cotton knit by Phil Rose. $6. His bold-striped shirt is by Lancer of California, made to pull over like a cardigan, $7.95.

Aboard—"Santa Rosa"—his waistcoat of many colors is washable cotton knit by McGregor, $8.95. Her harlequin print blouse is $9.95, worn with tapered Permathal pants, $10.95. Alex Colman.

Yardstick A. By this rough gauge, the total amount you owe at any one time—exclusive of mortgage payments, which are considered as rent—should not exceed 25 per cent of your annual income after taxes.

Yardstick B. Your total indebtedness should not come to more than you can repay with 10 per cent of your net monthly income over a two-year period. While similar to Yardstick A, this brings into focus the term of the loan. It doesn't imply that you shouldn't borrow for a longer term than two years but it's a reminder that you should proceed cautiously before committing yourself too far into the unpredictable future.

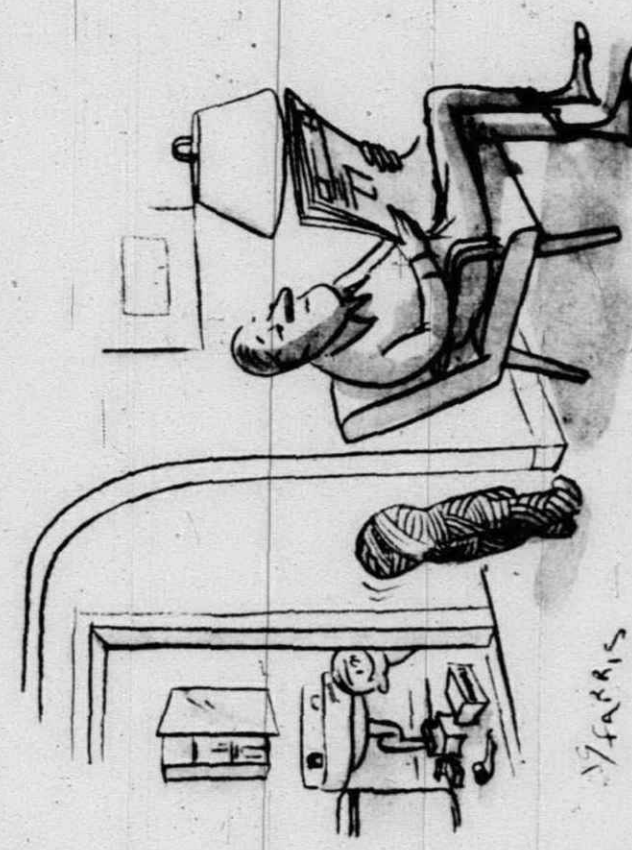

Yardstick C. This formula specifies that monthly payments on your installment loans or purchases should generally not exceed 10 to 20 per cent of net monthly income. The 10 per cent range is necessary in order to take into account individual variations in living circumstances, such as housing, medical or tuition costs, which affect the amount of debt you can safely shoulder.

On the basis of these questions banks grant 85 per cent of all loan applications from depositors and non-depositors alike. So if your borrowing plans fail to meet bank requirements, you'd be wise to think twice before taking the plunge, even if the money is available elsewhere. But if you can honestly answer these questions to your own satisfaction, proceed without qualms.

Louis J. Asterita, Deputy Manager of the A.B.A. in charge of the Installment Credit Commission, makes this additional point: "Remember that every sound consumer loan you take out—and repay punctually—not only steps up your standard of living in the here and now but improves your credit rating for the future."

If you'll kindly excuse me, I want to tend to the fifth payment on that car.

BORROWING can make SENSE

The Big Question Is — "How Far Can You Go?"

My Uncle Otto was never known to charge a purchase. Exhaustive research has turned up no evidence that he ever borrowed so much as a nickel in all his 73 years. As for installment plans and personal loans, he had this to say: "They are the devil's own devices for tempting the unwary to indulge in luxuries they have not earned and cannot afford. The consequences are mental torture, financial disaster and domestic hell."

Shades of Uncle Otto rose before me recently as I was making the fourth of 36 payments on our car—a gleaming 1958 sedan that has given our family a new life of magical mobility. For a moment I could almost feel the old boy's granite hand on my shoulder as his voice echoed across the years:

"Pay your way in cash, son. There's nothing like the peace of mind that comes from knowing you don't owe a red cent to any living soul."

Practicing what he preached, Uncle Otto had clerked his way to a position of high trust and moderate responsibility. A man of diligence, of impeccable character, no doubt. "And a bit of a stuffed shirt," I thought angrily, but without conviction.

Next day, as the kids were piling into the car for a country jaunt, I couldn't shake a vague sense of wickedness. Had I not signed my soul over to Old Nick? "Why, no," said the bankers when I asked them about it. After listening to quite a number of them, I am reassured. I no longer feel that using part of next year's income to enrich this year's living is necessarily the road to perdition. In fact, it can make a lot of sense.

I know, though, that many Americans besides me carry within themselves a Puritan Uncle Otto who rises to scold in the night. To them I would like to pass on some of the facts and figures I got from the bankers.

"Live Now, Pay Later"

Good credit, they said, is like extra cash. Used wisely it can raise your living standards faster, tide you over emergencies, see you off today on that cruise it might have taken you two years to save up for. And, oddly enough, you may find it encourages thrift. Making payments on a dishwasher, washing machine, or color TV set that's already delivering value in your home can be a lot easier than saving grimly for a 1961 model.

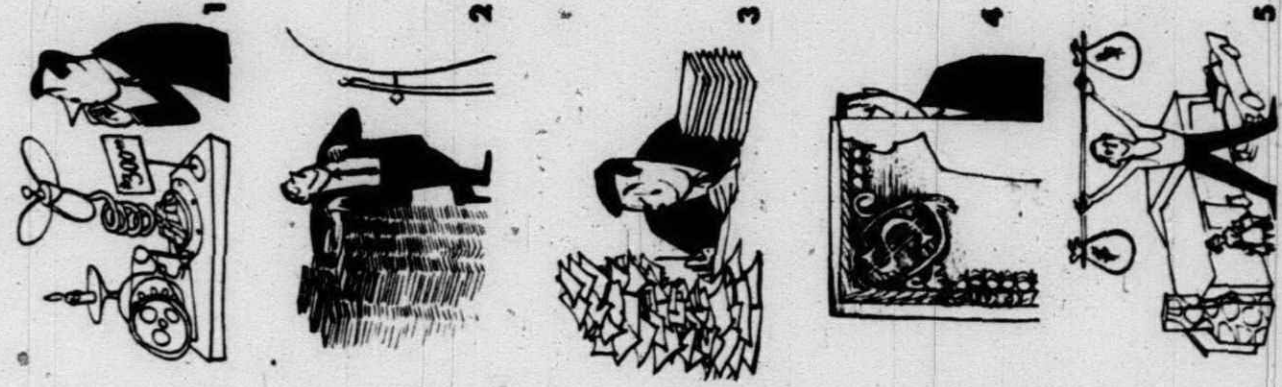

"Live now, pay later" is no longer a maxim for the frivolous but a sound approach to getting things when you want them.

The big question is, how far can you go? Your banker knows exactly how to find the answer. If you call on him for a loan, he'll pin-point your credit standing and decide just how much debt you can carry—usually within 24 hours. He does this by means of five key questions—questions you would do well to ask yourself before taking on any new obligations.

These questions, by reducing defaults and making attractive terms possible, have helped the banks outstrip all competitors in the field of personal loans and installment financing. They will serve you as a reliable guide in your over-all money planning and help you to avoid financial headaches. They'll tell you, for instance, how much you can buy on time without pushing the peril point.

Some Questions To Consider
The questions and answers were obtained from the American Bankers Association. The first four build the picture. The fifth throws it together and hands out a conclusion. Here they are.

1. Is the loan for a worthwhile purpose? Getting your boy's teeth straightened, buying a car, financing a new baby or a vacation are all "worthwhile" purposes. If the money is to be used for home improvement, your bank might want to make sure—as you should—that you're getting your money's worth.
2. How big and how stable is your income? Factors to assess are the source of your earnings, how long you've been in your present job or profession, whether your income is steady or variable and whether you plan to pay-back the loan out of your regular salary. The income on which you borrow should be reasonably secure.
3. How do you rate on paying bills? Consider not only whether you've ever failed to pay your bills but how promptly you take care of them. Banks usually check on this with credit bureaus and similar sources. You can judge your own rating from past performance.
4. How much do you already owe? You should not take out a new loan without considering your total indebtedness.
5. How much total debt can you carry safely and comfortably? Using one or more of the following yardsticks, your banker's pencil really goes into action here:

THE JUDAS GOAT

My daughters, Mary and Gretchen, have recently revealed to their father another startling item of local news. Burgess Meredith, the actor, who lives only a piece up the road, has, it seems, just given his tiny Mexican burro to Tyke Pettit.

"How cruel of him," I replied. "I saw his last play. He seems such a kind and considerate person."
"Oh, no, Daddy," Gretchen cried. "He loved Peco very much. It's just that Mr. Meredith works nights and must sleep late mornings. Tyke says, well, Peco doesn't eat much and isn't hardly any trouble at all to take care of. Tyke's just keeping him until they can find a home, or maybe—"

"It would be almost like owning a horse, Daddy," Mary said. "Of course we would take care of him and—"
Tyke, if you are interested, owns a Rockland County riding stable where Peter Townsend, Blotto, Hilda, Togo, Tiger and Zipper live. Zipper is a Shetland pony. For a small consideration of only two dollars, Tyke permits my daughters to visit and ride horses. They started on Zipper and worked up through Hilda and Blotto. They live for the day when Tyke says they are ready for Peter Townsend. Peter is an ancient jumper.

Of all my daughter's equine friends, I've always had a soft spot for Blotto. Blotto is not really a lazy bum, as Tyke has been rude enough to suggest. It is not because Blotto is lazy that he sits down and refuses to get up after the third or fourth little girl has trotted him around the ring. It's just that he gets tired. After all, he's almost 19, and that is as horse-old as Daddy is man-old. There was a time when Blotto might have been purchased for twenty-five dollars by two little girls who, in Tyke's opinion, could give him proper love and affection. Savings were counted, baby-sittings contracted for in advance. All that was needed to consummate the deal was parental approval. Unfortunately, our family took a summer vacation at this time and when we returned Blotto had found another home.

"The nicest thing about a miniature burro," Mary said, "is that you don't really need a stable. There's enough pasture in the average lawn and—"
"And they make braying noises in the morning, and attract flies out of the woods—and probably Tyke needs Peco as a mascot for Peter Townsend—"

"Oh, no, Daddy, Tyke wants to find a good home for him—"
"I'm sorry."

Tears came into Mary's eyes. Gretchen disappeared behind a slamming bedroom door, then sobbed throughout the house.

"Daddy, didn't you ever have a pet of your own when you were a little boy?" Mary asked. "You don't understand what it's like to want something like a horse, or a little pet Mexican burro of your very own."

"Yes, I know what it's like," I said. "Did I ever tell you about Old Bill?" I hadn't thought about Old Bill in years.

"Was he a horse, Daddy?"

I got Old Bill when he was seven months old. I traded a double-barrelled shotgun that I had received as a Christmas gift for him. He had soft fleecy wool, the beginnings of a set of horns that were to reach a spread of almost two feet and which, eventually, had to be capped with large brass knobs, which he kept polished until they looked like burnished gold. His whiskers, long and coarse, made him look like an ancient grandfather. His sly, amber eyes were intelligent and wise as he returned your stare, turning his head from side to side.

AVOCADO-CHICKEN CASSEROLE

Reminiscent of an elegant creation from one of the country's fine restaurants, this is truly delectable.

To Prepare: 25 MIN.

2 chicken breasts, cooked, skinned, boned, and sliced (white meat of roast turkey, capon, or chicken may be used)

- 1 cup (about 2 oz.) wide noodles
- 1 cup (about 4 oz.) grated sharp Cheddar cheese
- 1 small ripe avocado
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 5 tablespoons flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon white pepper
- 1½ cups cream
- ¼ cup milk

1. Grease a 1-qt. shallow baking dish.
2. Cook, drain, and rinse noodles according to directions on package.
3. Rinse avocado, peel, cut into halves lengthwise, and remove pit. Cut into slices ¼ to ½ in. thick. Put slices into a bowl and drizzle with lemon juice. To coat evenly turn slices gently in lemon juice a few times.
4. Melt the butter in a saucepan over low heat. Blend in a mixture of flour, salt, and white pepper. Heat until mixture bubbles. Remove from heat. Add the cream and milk gradually, while stirring constantly. Return to heat and cook rapidly, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Cook 1 to 2 min. longer. Cool slightly.
5. Add the grated cheese all at one time and stir until cheese is melted. Remove 1 cup of the sauce and set aside. Mix the noodles into the remaining sauce.
6. Arrange the chicken slices on the bottom of baking dish. Spoon the noodle-sauce mixture over chicken slices. Arrange avocado slices on top of noodle mixture; carefully spoon the reserved sauce over avocado slices. Sprinkle lightly with paprika.
7. Heat in a 350°F oven about 25 min., or until thoroughly heated and top is delicately browned. 4 servings

PIQUANT CUCUMBER SLICES

These tangy, crisp cucumber slices bring interesting texture to any entrée especially the Avocado-Chicken Casserole.

To Prepare: 15 MIN.

- 1 cucumber, rinsed (do not pare)
- ¼ cup coarsely chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon white pepper
- ¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- ¼ cup cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice

1. Mix together in a bowl the sugar, salt, white pepper, monosodium glutamate, celery seed, vinegar, and lemon juice; stir until thoroughly blended.
2. Score cucumber by drawing lines of a fork lengthwise over entire surface. Cut into slices about ¼ in. thick. Add to the vinegar mixture with onion and parsley; toss to coat evenly. Chill thoroughly, turning several times. About 4 servings

PEACHES À L'ORANGE

This novel treatment for peaches transforms them into a gourmet's delight—a choice dessert to serve with chicken casserole.

To Prepare: 15 MIN.

- 1 No. 2½ can peach halves, drained (reserve ½ cup sirup)
- ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1½ teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon grated orange peel
- Few grains salt
- ½ cup orange juice
- 8 whole cloves
- 6 whole allspice

1. Mix brown sugar, cornstarch, orange peel, and salt together in a saucepan. Add the reserved peach sirup and orange juice gradually, stirring constantly. Mix in the cloves and allspice.
2. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly. Add the peach halves and simmer 5 min. Turn carefully several times. Serve warm or chilled. About 6 servings

CALYPSO STEAK STICKS

Calypso Steak Sticks are especially irresistible when accompanied by a relish tray of crisp cauliflowerets, garden-fresh green onions, colorful green pepper strips, and preserved kumquats. Finale to the Feast... a dessert of Green Gage Plum Ice and a serve-yourself-dish of crunchy, salted toasted almonds.

To Prepare: 25 MIN.

- 2 lbs. boneless beef (tenderloin, sirloin, or rib), cut 1½ in. thick
- 1 cup soy sauce
- ½ cup honey
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed in a garlic press or minced
- ¼ cup finely chopped crystallized ginger
- 2 firm bananas with all-yellow peel
- ¼ cup flaked coconut
- Lime juice

1. Twelve 8-in. skewers will be needed.
2. Slice meat across the grain into ½-in. strips.
3. Mix together the soy sauce, honey, garlic, and ginger. Put the meat strips into a large shallow dish. Pour the soy sauce mixture over meat. Set in refrigerator for 30 min., turning meat once.
4. Remove meat strips from marinade, reserving marinade. Thread meat strips onto skewers, allowing space at end of each skewer for banana pieces.
5. Peel bananas and cut into pieces about ¼ in. long. Dip pieces in marinade, roll in coconut, and drizzle with lime juice. Put 1 or 2 pieces of banana on end of each skewer. Brush meat and banana pieces with marinade.
6. Broil about 3 min. with meat about 3 in. from source of heat, turning once and brushing with marinade. (Meat should be rare.) Serve with fluffy cooked rice flavored with seasoned salt, butter, minced onion, and minced parsley. 6 servings

GREEN GAGE PLUM ICE

The lively flavor, attractive color, and versatility of this superb ice will enchant many a menu.

To Prepare: 25 MIN.

- 2½ cups (No. 2 can) green gage plums and sirup
- ¼ cup cold water
- 2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup water
- ½ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 or 2 drops green food coloring

1. Set out an 8 x 8 x 2-in. pan.
2. Pour ¼ cup water into a small cup. Sprinkle gelatin evenly over water. Let stand 5 min. to soften.
3. Heat ¼ cup water until very hot. Remove from heat and immediately stir in softened gelatin until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add sugar and salt and stir until sugar is dissolved. Set aside to cool.
4. Cut plums into halves, pit and force through a sieve or food mill (about 2½ cups purée).
5. Combine plum purée, cooled sirup, orange juice, and lemon juice. Mix in food coloring. Pour into pan. Freeze until firm (3 to 4 hrs.), stirring two or three times. About 1 qt. ice

SHRIMP EXOTICA

Cooling Green Gage Plum Ice, thinly frosted with a fluffy fruit salad dressing, cut in squares, and served on crisp salad greens is the perfect salad accompaniment for this exotic shrimp dish. Or a small scoop of the ice floated in chilled fruit juice is a refreshing stirub.

To Prepare and Cook: 40 MIN.

- 1½ lbs. deveined cooked shrimp
- 1 No. 2 can sliced pineapple, drained (reserve sirup)
- 2 cups water
- 3 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1 cup long-grain rice
- ¼ cup cooking oil
- 1½ cups cubed cooked ham
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 clove garlic, crushed in a garlic press or minced
- 1 medium-sized green pepper, cut in strips
- 2 tablespoons chopped preserved or crystallized ginger
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- ½ teaspoon salt

1. Reserve 5 or 6 whole shrimp for garnish. Cut remaining shrimp into pieces. Set aside. Cut 4 pineapple slices into pieces and set aside.
2. Bring water to boiling in a deep saucepan. Add the bouillon cubes and when dissolved, add the rice gradually, so boiling does not stop.
3. Cover pan tightly, reduce heat, and simmer 15 to 20 min., until a kernel is soft when pressed between fingers.
4. Heat cooking oil in a large skillet. Add ham, onion, and garlic; heat thoroughly, turning with a spoon.
5. Blend together ½ cup of the reserved pineapple sirup, ginger, soy sauce, curry powder, and salt. Add pineapple sirup mixture and green pepper to skillet; heat thoroughly. Add rice, shrimp and pineapple pieces; toss until mixed. Heat thoroughly. Serve on a warm serving platter. Garnish with the pineapple slices and whole shrimp. (See photo.) About 6 servings

SESAME SEED TWISTS

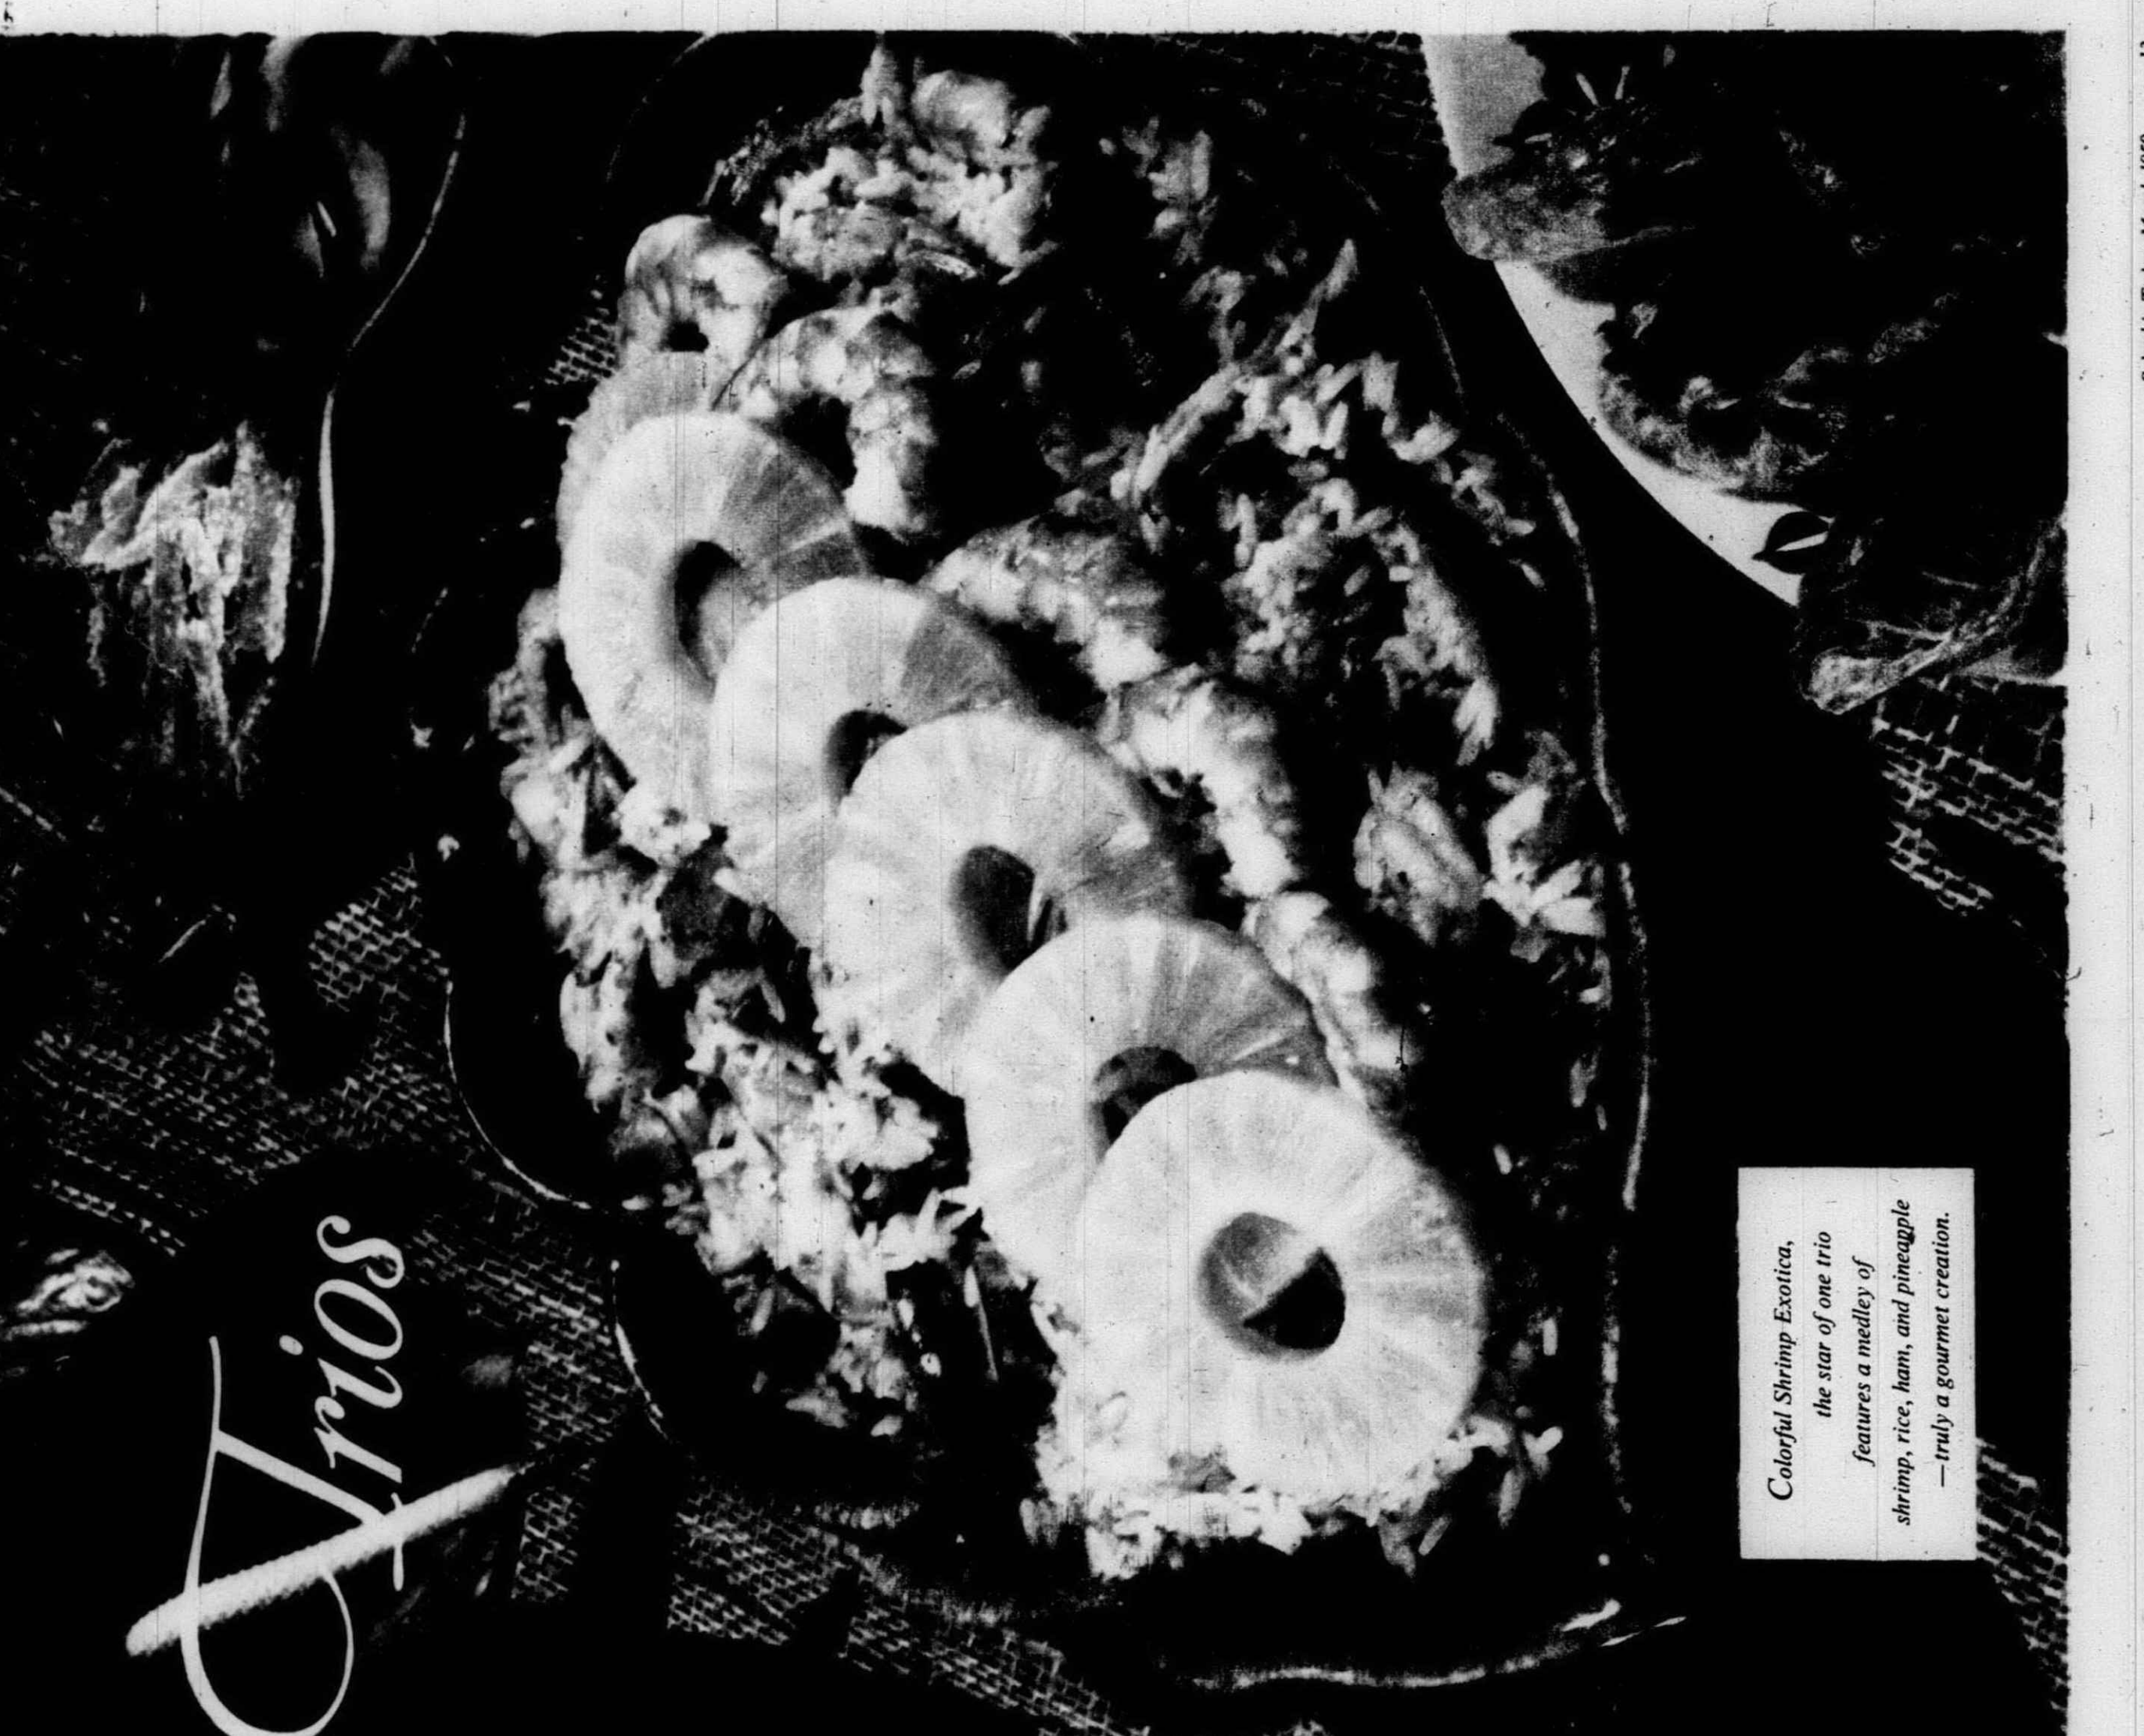

Delicate, rich, and flaky, these twists are delicious and unusual. Serve them with Shrimp Exotica.

To Prepare: 30 MIN.

- 2 tablespoons toasted sesame seed
- 2 cups biscuit mix
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup butter, chilled
- Melted butter

1. Add milk to biscuit mix; mix dough as directed on package for rolled biscuits. Roll on lightly floured surface into a 12-in. square, about ¼ in. thick.
2. Thinly slice and quickly place about 3 tablespoons of the chilled butter onto one half of dough; fold other half over it. With rolling pin gently press down and seal the open edges. Repeat procedure using remaining chilled butter; fold other half over forming a 6-in. square. Chill thoroughly, about 1 hr.
3. Roll dough into a 12-in. square. Divide into halves and set one half in refrigerator.
4. Brush surface with melted butter. Sprinkle with some of the seed. Cut into twelve 6 x 1-in. strips. Twist each strip. Place on ungreased baking sheet; press ends. Brush with a mixture of 1 egg yolk and 1 teaspoon milk. Sprinkle with seed. Repeat.
5. Bake at 425°F about 10 min. 24 twists
