City Decides Commission, Judge Jobs

By looking at the voting machine ballot that city of Plymouth electors will face next Monday, it appears that there is nothing to get excited about. Four city commissioners must be elected and there are only four candidates.

There is also a contest between two men for the Municipal judgeship.

But things will be a little more lively than it appears due to the recent activities of the group calling itself the Committee for Representative Government. They have endorsed two candidates they will attempt to get elected through the write-in method. The city's non-partisan ballot will be found in the blue section of the voting machine panel at the lower left hand corner.

The four commission candidates are J. Rusling Cutler, Carl G. Shear, Robert J. Sincok and Marvin E. Terry. Cutler, an attorney and former municipal judge, is the only one not now on the commission. He was, however, elected to a two-year term four years ago.

During the past month, the Committee for Representative Government has come up with two candidates, Richard Merriam and John Truener as write-in candidates. It is possible to vote for them, either by writing in their name or using a "sticker" with their name printed on it.

The committee is expected to pass out stickers to electors before election day.

Electing a candidate via the write-in route is a tough method, political experts say. In the first place, few electors know how to write in a candidate on a voting machine.

It requires the pushing of a small lever at the left side of the voting machine panel. At the same time, a slide lever beside the commission ballot must be pushed aside. On a piece of paper behind this slide, the voter either writes in the name or attaches a sticker.

There are seven members on the commission, with four terms expiring every two years. The three top vote-getters receive four-year terms while the fourth place candidate wins a two year term.

Not seeking re-election this year was Harry Roberts.

Clifford Manwaring, an attorney and resident of Plymouth 20 years, is challenging Nandino Perlongo for the office of municipal judge. Both men have friends working actively in their behalf.

Perlongo was first elected municipal judge in 1949. His term does not expire until the end of this year.

The municipal judge terms are for six years. The present pay for a municipal judge is $3,600 yearly. City charter requires all fees and fines collected to the court to be paid to the city or county.

City commissioners elected Monday will receive $10 for each meeting instead of $5 that has been paid in the past. This applies only to commissioners elected this Monday and after.

How many voters will turn out Monday is difficult to determine. Two years ago there were 1,261 at the polls, but six candidates were seeking the four commission vacancies that year and two men were in a hot battle for county supervisor.

All city polling places are the same as in past elections. They are: Precinct 1, city hall; Precinct 2, Fire Station No. 2; Precinct 3, High School; Precincts 4 and 5, Bronson Building in Central Parking Lot.

Man on Hunt Drowns In Salem Lake

A 32-year-old Taylor Township man drowned last Friday night after falling through the ice on a Salem Township coon hunt.

The victim was Ralph Culppeper, 5783 Michael, Taylor.

Officers at the Ypsilanti Post of the Michigan State Police said that Culppeper and two companions were following their hunting dog on a coon hunt when the group crossed Mud Lake, located between 8503 Joy Rd. near Fox Hills Country Club.

With Culppeper were James Parker, 24, of 3618 Swanson, Wayne; and Larry Blair, 12, of 206 West Grand Boulevard, Detroit.

When Culppeper and Parker were only 30 feet from the north shore, the ice broke and both fell through. Parker managed to get back on top of the ice but Culppeper was not seen again. Young Blair was following the two older men and did not go through.

The drowning took place at 9:35 p.m.

State Police and Washtenaw sheriff's deputies were called. With the aid of fire department lights, Culppeper's body was located at 11:30 p.m. in 16 feet of water.

Slate Conferences Here On Dearborn Campus

Plymouth, already located within 45 minutes from three state universities, will next fall have a new campus nearby when the University of Michigan's Dearborn Center opens.

Educational opportunities to be made available through the new center will be outlined at two meetings scheduled in Plymouth on Thursday, April 9.

The meetings will be held at 3:30 and 7:30 p.m. in the Dunning-Hough Library. Two representatives of the university's admissions office, Director Clyde Vroman and Admissions Counselor John T. Prentie, Jr., will be here.

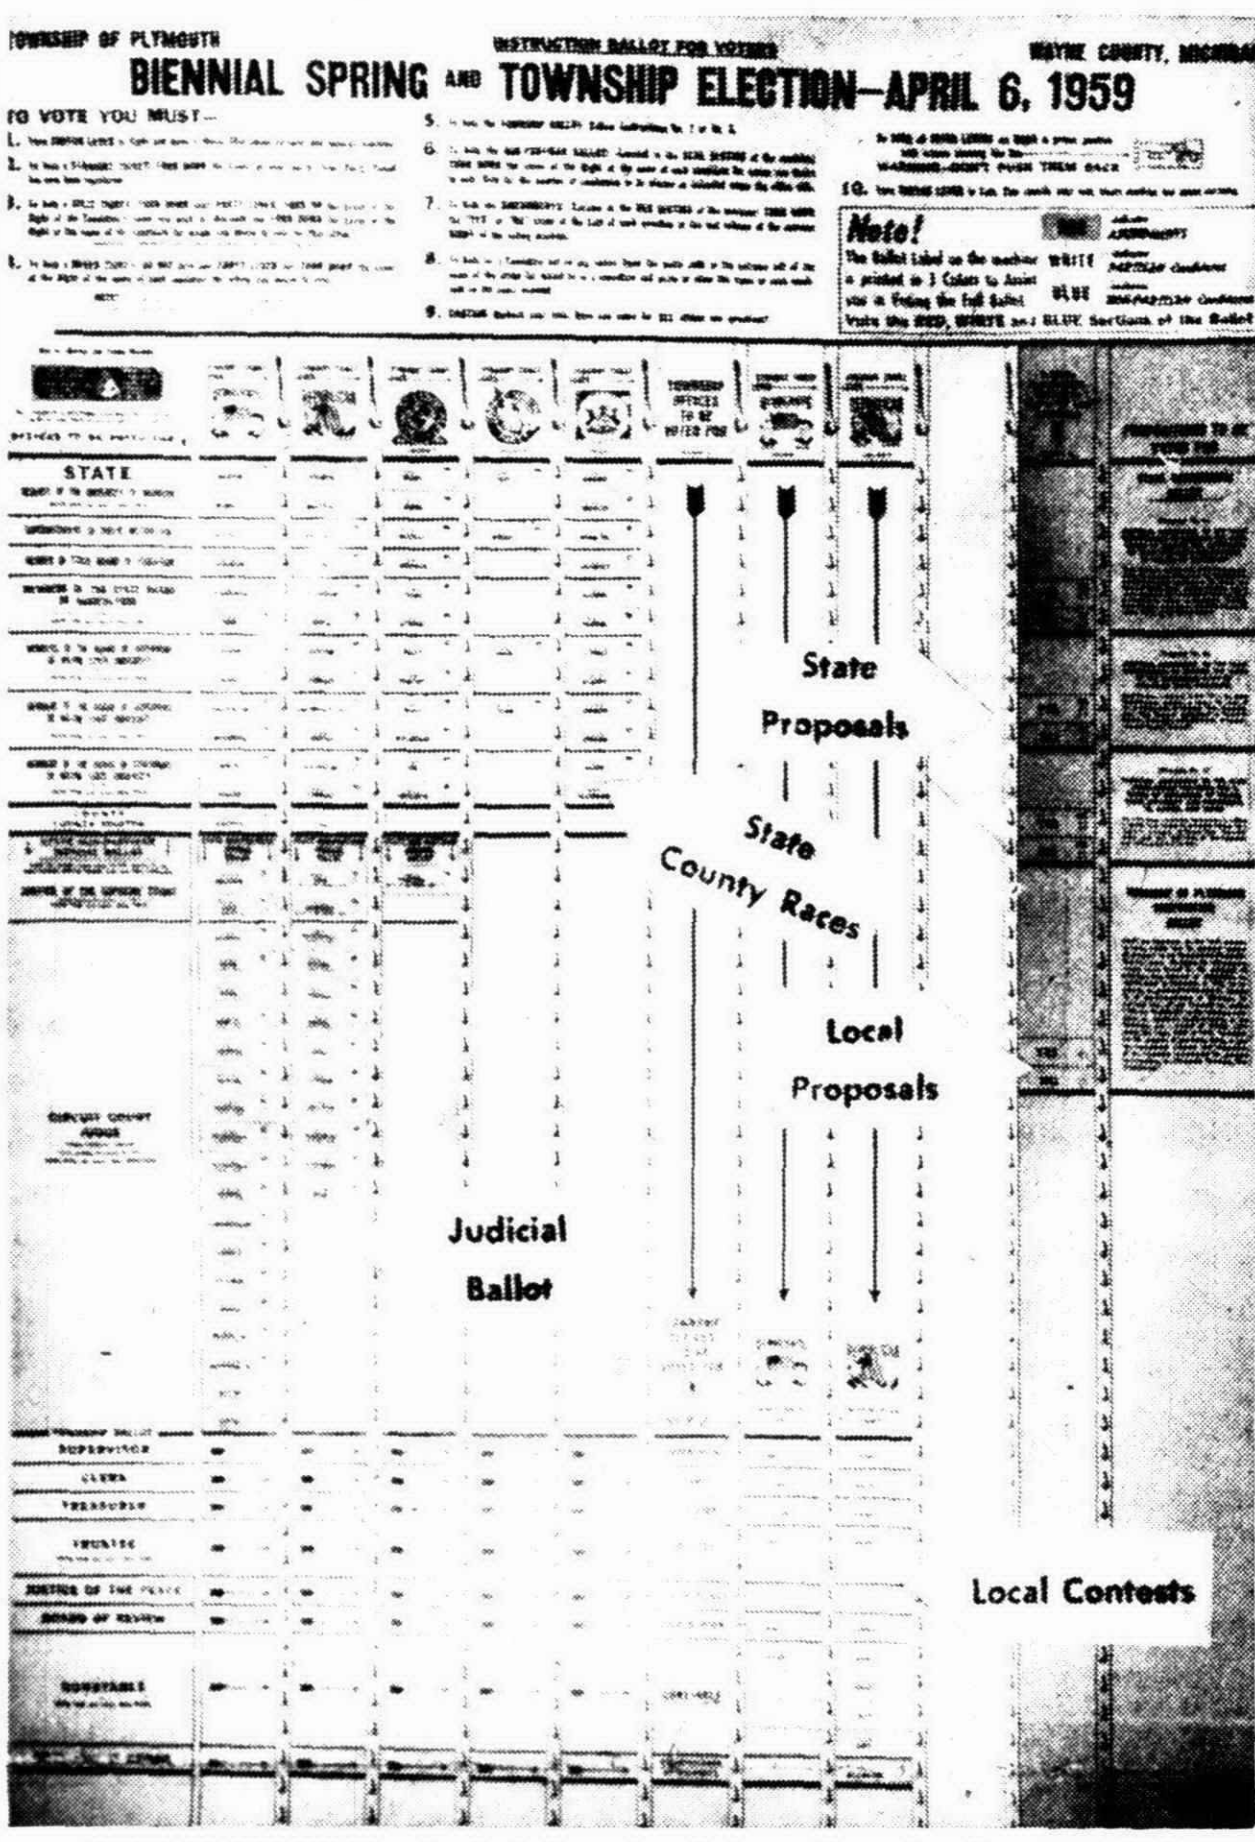

They will be joined for the evening program by U-M Vice President William E. Sturton, director of the Dearborn Center.

Plymouth has long been considered a good location for those who work in the Detroit area industry, but still are pursuing their college education. Many people attend classes part-time at the U of M in Ann Arbor, Wayne State University in Detroit and Eastern Michigan at novelty of a then-strange mixture in the solo instruments, violin and cello.

In all of Brahms music one has the immense sweep of an immense carpet constantly in mind. Since much of his music was composed in Switzerland in the Alps or along the big bends of the Rhine River, it is hardly surprising to have this feeling in his pieces. In the "Double Concerto" this is especially true.

THIS IS WHAT Monday's ballot will look like in Township elections. The local candidates will be the bottom, right center. In the city, the local candidates will be below the circuit court judges. The only local proposition is in Plymouth Township, as indicated here.

School Board Moves To Cure Building Hazards

An architect was hired by the board of education at a special meeting Monday night to draw up plans for bringing the high school building in line with fire safety recommendations of the State Fire Marshal.

The board made an inspection of the high school Saturday afternoon. Then, at Monday night's meeting, they hired Byron Becker of Wheeler & Becker, Architects, to draw plans for a three-story enclosed stair tower that would be built between the main building and the annex (old Junior High).

Since addition of the stair tower would be a major architectural change, the board has decided to revamp the entire area between the two buildings, now connected with a walk-way on the main floor.

The board would like to extend the crowded machine shop westward to include the old walkway. On top of this would be built two more floors of classrooms. Each floor would provide either one large classroom or two moderate sized rooms.

There are also other hazards listed by the Fire Marshal, including the treatment of ceiling tile with fire resistant paint, installing fire escapes and many others.

The board also has another building problem. Since last December the administrative offices of the school district have been located in two classrooms at the Junior High. The former offices in the high school were converted to make way for high school administrative offices and conference rooms.

Since 150 freshmen will be moved in to the Junior High next September due to overcrowding at the Senior High, the administrative offices must move out. Superintendent Russell Isbister recommended that masonry wall addition be built onto the bus garage, located next to the Junior High. This addition could be used for several years and eventually be converted to warehouse space.

Included in the administrative offices are the superintendent, administrative assistant and the accounting department.

As has been inferred many times, Harry Janos embodies many aspects of Hungarian nationality of the past, and perhaps of the present: the never-ending temptation to dream, and the relative impossibility of the dream being true. The Suite contains six parts, ranging from a rude collection of local tavern boys to an Imperial Ball.

As has been practiced during this season, members of the Symphony Society will be able to reserve seats in advance of the concert by calling Mrs. Harriet Randall, GL. 3-1826.

A nursery will again be provided for pre-school and primary school aged children for a charge of 15 cents per child.

Township Getting Lively Campaign

Probably the liveliest campaign in the history of Plymouth Township politics has been taking place during recent weeks as the Democrats attempt to wrest away the traditional Republican hold on the Township Hall this Monday.

The biennial election will also have one proposition on the township ballot — a proposal asking for a half mill levy for 20 years to operate a proposed fire station in the township's northeast section.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. at the township hall. Two years ago there were only 613 voters. Next Monday's vote should be much heavier.

Township voters will also have many other decisions to make on the ballot, including candidates for educational institution governing bodies, county auditor, state supreme court, and circuit court jobs and three state propositions.

While many voters will be going to the polls because of the township races, they will find the township races aren't given top placement preference on the voting machine panels. State law gives local elections bottom priority and the township races will be found at the bottom of the panel, at right center.

The township proposition will also be found below the three state propositions.

Democrats, who failed to enter a single candidate in the township elections of two years ago, have six names on the ballot this time. Attempting to unseat Supervisor Roy Lindsay is Orville L. Tungate, 29-year-old newspaper circulation manager and former chairman of the Plymouth Democratic Club. He has been actively campaigning on the theme of "cooperation, not conflict."

Supervisor Lindsay, who was appointed to the township's top job in 1953 and has been elected twice since, has been doing little active campaigning. Looking at the past record of Republican successes, it is apparent that it is the Democratic candidate who must stage the uphill battle. As far as it can be determined, no Democrat has ever held a major office in the township.

Republicans seeking reelection with Lindsay are Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes and Trustee C. Veach Sparks. The clerk candidate, Fred L. Miller, is seeking a first term.

Other Republican candidates are: board of review, Walter K. Sumner; constable to elect four, Robert Burns, Thomas Dorset, Vernell Pitt and Donald King; commissioner of highways, Frank Millington.

Canton Township Again Has Its 'Ins' and 'Outs'

An unusual brand of politics is again being pursued in Canton Township where a mixture of Republicans and Democrats are trying to get in office while another mixture is fighting to stay in.

The situation is the same as two years ago when the "ins" and the "outs" were competing rather than candidates of the two major parties.

Republican Supervisor Louis Stein heads the "in" slate composed of Democratic Clerk John Flodin, Democratic Treasurer Philip Dingledy and Republican Trustee Elmer Schultz.

On the "outside" trying to get in are Democrat Robert Waldecker, for supervisor; Republican Wray Smith, for clerk; Republican Hagbard Berg, for treasurer; and Democrat Colburn Dennis, for trustee.

Two years ago there was a similar situation. Supervisor Stein summed it up by saying, "We've got a good board now and we want to keep it."

To make matters a little more complicated, the two political organizations in Canton are naturally pulling for their own candidates. Flodin, for instance, is treasurer of the newly-formed Democratic club.

There is nothing illegal, of course, about Republicans and Democrats choosing each other as running-mates. In Canton Township there is a close division of Republicans and Democrats going to the polls nowadays, making the split in choices more possible.

Town Hall Starts At 8 p.m. in Jr. High

Do you feel that you don't know enough about the candidates you are deciding upon at next Monday's election?

Voters will have a chance tonight (Thursday), to meet all their candidates in one place at the Town Hall sponsored by the Area Cooperation Group. It starts at 8 p.m. in the Junior High gymnasium.

Candidates from Plymouth and Canton Townships and the city of Plymouth have been invited to attend. After speaking in their own behalf, written questions will be asked from the audience.

Carl Cederberg, WWJ newscaster, will be moderator of the Town Hall.

School Roof Wins Recognition

By Lee Sechler

Let's face it men, it took a woman, Jacqueline Joseph, to show us how to do a job and do it right.

That job, creating a unique new roof design. Miss Joseph, one of the two women architects in Wayne county and member of the firm of Gould, Moss and Joseph Inc., of Plymouth, has received national recognition for creating and designing a new concept in roofing.

As far as has been determined it's the only covering of its kind in use.

She is by no means a newcomer to the field. In 1949 Jacqueline graduated from the U. of M. with her major in architecture. It was this same year that she joined the firm of Gould and Moss, where during college she worked. In 1957 she took her exam and was registered as a full architect. She was the only girl in a class of 200 men when taking the exam.

Today's schools are being designed with two big factors in mind, cost and function, plus the ever-increasing practice of building a multi-purpose room — one room to serve as both a gym and an auditorium.

To be a gym it needs to be large. This makes the problem of handling the acoustics great. Up until now this is the problem that has faced all would-be builders and designers.

The firm of Gould, Moss and Joseph Inc. was hired by the Clinton High School board of education to design an addition to the high school facilities. The addition was to contain both classrooms and a multi-purpose room.

Clinton stressed two big factors. They needed all the space they could get at the most economical price and that the addition would also serve as a community gathering place. A place where the local actors would stage their productions, etc.

87 Other Names On Ballot Too

Besides the local city and township races on Monday's ballot, there is plenty of other reading material to keep one busy turning down keys for several minutes.

Names of 87 candidates appear on the voting machines, besides those seeking local offices. There will also be three state propositions.

Five political parties have candidates on the state level. Besides the Republicans and Democrats, there are candidates from the Socialist Labor, Socialist Worker and Prohibition parties.

Of the 87 candidates, one is from Plymouth. He is Circuit Court Judge George E. Bowles who is seeking his first full, six-year term to the circuit bench. He was originally appointed to the position and then was elected to fill an unexpired term. He is number 78 on the ballot.

At the top of the voting machine panels are the state candidates. Elected will be:

Two for regents of the University of Michigan. One superintendent of public instruction.

One member of the State Board of Education. Two for the State Board of Agriculture (governing body of Michigan State).

Two for the board of Governors of Wayne (Continued on Page 8)

Plymouth Symphony Draws 13th Season to Close With Sunday Concert

Plymouth's Symphony directed by Wayne Dunlap will present the last concert of its Thirteenth Season this Sunday, 4 p.m. in the Plymouth High School gymnasium. Assisting Mr. Dunlap will be Theodore Johnson, violinist, and Harry Duncombe, cellist.

The program will include Brahms' "Double Concerto in A Minor" (violin and cello) and Kodaly's "Hary Janos Suite."

Brahms wrote the Double Concerto in 1887 while summing in Thun, Switzerland, a place he visited three years in a row. The piece contains all the beauties one expects of Brahms: soaring lyrical melodies, sonorous basses, enormous architectural form, wonderful resolutions and climaxes, plus the

In it one feels the gaiety of sunlight on a river, the overshadowing mountains and trees, the rush of water over huge boulders and the peaceful flow of a mighty current as it flows along a level valley.

The "Hary Janos Suite" is taken from the "Hary Janos" opera composed by Kodaly in 1925-26. It is a story of a medieval Hungarian folk hero, whose imaginings and fanciful tales sound very much like a 15th century Walter Mitty.

The music is a combination of comedy and pathos. Humorous because of the ridiculous situations. Hary imagines and pathetic because of the utter hopelessness of his dreams.

Presbyterian White Breakfast Served to Capacity Crowd

Dr. Samuel C. Weir addressed the Women's Association of the First United Presbyterian Church at their 10th Annual White Breakfast on the subject of "The Three Marys." Direct and plain-spoken, Dr. Weir was impressive in his message in keeping with the key-note of the entire Maundy Thursday Breakfast set by the organ music by Mrs. Thomas Lock, solos by Mrs. James Warren, the Greetings, Devotions, and Introduction handled by Mrs. Thomas Adams, Mrs. Norman Stanhope and Mrs. Edward Dobbs.

After a period of worship and meditation in the sanctuary the women retired to the fellowship room of the church, filled to capacity with white clothed tables and purple runners across the length of each table. Purple candles, trailing ivy centered with a white cross also graced each table. The tasty breakfast in addition to the quiet good fellowship made this the highlight, for many, of the Easter Season.

Tickets Going Fast For Pops Concert

Reservations for tables are coming in rapidly for the Plymouth Symphony Pops Concert scheduled for Saturday, April 25.

Considered one of the most enjoyable social events of the year locally, the Pops Concert provides table space for some 600 people as the Plymouth Symphony plays its concert of "pops" numbers.

Because the table space is limited, reservations are being made available. After tickets are secured, information on the tickets will tell how to make reservations.

The informal atmosphere of listening to the symphony has attracted most of the pops concert-goers back another time. This is the third year for the concert and already the tickets are selling fast.

Sitting around tables, the audience can snack and drink light refreshments during the program of familiar music. Refreshments this year are in charge of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Snoko.

Tickets are being sold by members of the Women's Committee of the Symphony and also at Cassidy's, Caplin's, Wiloughby's and Melody House. Tickets sell for $1.50 per person.

The Pops Concert is one of the fund-raising projects sponsored by symphony patrons to keep the symphony functioning. This Sunday the symphony will end its 13th season.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hudson are chairmen of the Pops Concert with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kelly as co-chairmen.

International Tea on April 16

Woman's National Farm and Garden Association of Michigan will have the annual International Tea on April 16 at the home of Mrs. James Nance, Bloomfield Hills.

The tea is a benefit for the International Farm Youth Exchange Program which is sponsored by the 4-H Clubs of America. The IFYE program is an exchange program on the rural family level. Delegates from the United States live with farm families in other countries and foreign delegates live with rural American families. One could term this exchange "grass roots" diplomacy and often the delegates are called "Ambassadors in Blue Jeans." They help to create better understanding between the other peoples of the world and those of this country. Last year Michigan sent five young people to Europe, Africa, and Asia. WNF&G Association supports the exchange program as a part of its work in international cooperation.

City Commissioners (To elect 4)

J. Rusling Cutler
An attorney here since 1933, J. Rusling Cutler, 48, lives at 133 N. Main. Resident of Plymouth since 1924. Attended Plymouth High, Heidelberg College, Detroit College of Law. Was municipal judge 1941-49; assistant city attorney, 1950-53; city commissioner, 1956-57; member of Suburban Bar Assn., secretary-treasurer 1943, 1945-56, president 1940; Lions Club secretary 1951, vice-president 1952, zone chairman 1954; B.P.O. Elks Trustee 1956-59.
"I shall always believe that all of the people of this community are one people and that the boundary lines are improper. In the past, mistakes have been made, harsh words have been spoken, and tempers have arisen. There is much to be said for every viewpoint when the point of view is considered. There is a vast difference between being led and being bossed, between being asked and being compelled. The things which have happened in our community are not nearly so important as our attitude toward them. Every mistake we have made presents an opportunity for advancement in understanding if we look at them in the right way. I shall always hope for better understanding and more cooperation between the folks on both sides of the boundary lines and eventually the elimination of the lines themselves."
Carl G. Shear
Moving here in 1923, Carl G. Shear lives at 795 S. Main. Age 71. Attended Cutchess Business college. Was city commissioner 1925-29 and 1943-46 and 1957 to present. Was mayor 1943 and 1945. Member County Board of Supervisors 1943-46. Plymouth Board of Review, 1948-49 and 1954-57. Clerk of Redford Township, 1912-18. Chairman of Board of Peoples State Bank of Redford 1915-23. Secretary-treasurer of Mayflower Hotel 1932-57. Community Fund Board member 1958-60. President Chamber of Commerce 1925 and board member 1955-57 and 1959-60. Former automobile dealer. Member and former president of Rotary Club.

"If elected, I would like to see our city improved physically by promoting the Urban Renewal Program on Mill Street, paving streets, as quickly as money is available and constructing a second heavy producing well for emergency water supply.
"I would encourage the city's administrative officials to continue the high level of service and friendliness received from the D.P.W., Fire Department, Police Department and City Hall personnel.
"I would like to see the City Commission and school authorities continue to work closely in planning major projects in order that the project may be timed properly to avoid undue hardships on the taxpayer. Close harmony also should be maintained with our neighboring municipalities in thinking and planning for such things as an area water supply, adequate sewer service, reasonable changes in county government and relationships between municipalities, in order to produce efficiency in government at the least amount of tax cost.
"I would like the City to work with the Chamber of Commerce in order to attract a department store for the convenience of our citizens. This may require the development of the proposed Downtown Revitalization Plan. The City should encourage the formation of a corporation to build the department store buildings and assemble properties to accomplish the goal.
"I, as a Commissioner, will work to attract diversified business and industry to locate in our area, in order to produce continuing jobs and economic stability."
Robert J. Sincok
A resident of Plymouth since 1943, Robert J. Sincok, 42, lives at 1370 Penniman. He is owner of Bob's Standard Service since 1952. Graduated from Calumet High school and Houghton County Business School. Was appointed city commissioner in 1954, re-elected to four-year term in 1955. Member of Plymouth Rotary Club, financial secretary of Knights of Columbus, member and former president of Holy Name Society, member of Chamber of Commerce and director of former Plymouth Stamp Co.
"A regular attendance at all commission meetings is most important. It is also important that a commissioner work for the community as a whole, not for certain groups. To do this, it is often necessary to disassociate oneself of many friendships.
"There are many things that need to be done but it would be useless to name them all because funds just are not available. But one of my chief aims is to improve streets as rapidly as money is available.
"Certainly one of the important problems the commission is facing is improving the city's tax base. By broadening this base we can lessen the tax burden on individuals, commercial establishments and present industries."
Marvin E. Terry
Born in Plymouth, Marvin E. Terry, 43, lives at 1075

Roosevelt. He was appointed to the city commission in 1953 and elected to 4-year term in 1955. Started in bakery business with his father in 1947, purchased business in 1957. Attended Rochester High School and Albion College with degree in business administration. Belongs to Masons, B.P.O. Elks, Kiwanis, and has been secretary-treasurer of Plymouth Junior Police advisory board since 1955.
"After serving on the city commission for nearly six years, I have seen many improvements made in our fine city. I am asking to be re-elected for another term with only one thought in mind—to help make more improvements. I want to see our Urban Renewal program fulfilled on Mill St. in order to bring more industry to our town. This we must do to hold the line on our taxes.
"I also would like to see our downtown area improved as the present commission has advocated. While it is only a dream, I would like to pave every street in our city.
"The job of city commission is not bed of roses, but if I can serve my town best by doing this job it is what I wish to do. If you, the people think I have done a good job the past six years, then
The following are statements of platform by the Republican and Democratic candidates seeking Northville Township offices. Brief sketches of each of the candidates are also included for voters who will be going to the polls next Monday.
Democratic Statement
Our belief is that this declaration of principle, as candidates for public office in Northville Township, will be considered with the same sincerity that it is offered; that these principles are the keys that will unlock the doors to the kind of government that Northville Township residents seek—doors that offer for consideration more than a single point of view.
"Our representatives of democratic thinking believe: that when considering each problem, adequate judgments result only when all the possible answers are inspected with open-mindedness; then, and only then, can intelligent action result.
"That judgments are intelligently made when beliefs are held as the result of critical knowledge-gathering, and not by the use of preformed opinions."
Republican Statement
"We as Republican candidates in Northville Township are interested in a business-like form of government for Northville township. For years, the township government has been operated in such a manner as to provide essential services with low township taxes and without a deficit.
"Of the total taxes collected in 1958 only 2 1/2 percent were used for the operation of the township government. (The remaining 97 2/3 percent were turned over to the schools and county) It is the intention of the Republican candidates to continue operating in this manner. We believe in being progressive along the lines of conservative planning.
The candidates for the three chief township offices, namely George Clark for supervisor, Marguerite (Rita) Northup for clerk and Roy Terry for treasurer are available in Northville anytime during the day for township business."
Supervisor Democratic
GEORGE M. BENNETT, 46950 Six Mile Rd., is a graduate veterinarian, maintains no general practice, but is his specialty seven months of the year. Graduate of Central Michigan and University of Michigan and did graduate studies at University of Michigan and Wayne State. Member of Exchange Club, Optimist Club and business associates,

I ask you to vote for me on April 6."
Write-In Candidates
The following two men did not file nominating petitions for the office of city commissioner. However, a group of citizens is endorsing them as "write-in" or "sticker" candidates. Since law provides for the adding of candidates to the ballot through write-in, The Mail is allowing them equal space for their sketches and views.

"Whether elected or not, I should like to see accomplished during the next four years the following specific and general projects:
"1. The establishment of a "Greater Plymouth"—The working out of agreements and cooperation with the township areas immediately surrounding our city where by the city limits can be expanded to provide mutual benefits, such as city services and reduced fire insurance for the areas involved and an improved tax base for the city as a whole.
"2. Continuation and preservation of the colonial theme and delightful small town atmosphere of our downtown business area.
"3. The establishment and embarkation upon a realistic five or ten year plan for the city's growth in both residential and business districts.
"4. Construction of a municipal auditorium to provide a home for our outstanding civic orchestra and for innumerable other purposes contributing to the cultural aspects and growth of our city.
"5. A return to the enviable position and reputation of Plymouth being an increasingly desirable place to live. "The City of Homes".
"6. Broader representation on all appointed committees and the assignment of more definite responsibilities to the commissioners.

cumbent candidate. Appointed to supervisor's job in June 1953 to succeed late Charles Rathburn. Was re-elected in 1955 and 1957. As a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, he serves on Ways and Means Committee, Sewer and Water Committee, Hospital Authority Committee and Civil Service Subcommittee. He is also vice-president of Michigan Townships Association.

"There are many things I would like to see accomplished in the Township if I am re-elected or not. The principal thing at this time is our water system extended to the southwestern part of the Township, which we have been working on for some time and hope to accomplish this year. Naturally we are looking forward to the completion of the sewer system that is already under construction and will be finished this year.

"A Fire Station No. 2 at Lake Pointe Village, which would take care of more efficiently the north end of the Township, and which could also be used for Precinct No. 1 elections would relieve the congestion at election time at the Township Hall. This is all problematic on the election date voting 1/2 mill (50 cents on each $1,000 of assessed valuation) for operation which would be necessary to maintain such an additional site.

"The sewer and water program, to my thinking, is the paramount issue at this time."

Democratic
Orville Tungate, 29, of 9433 Brookline. Circulation manager for Redford Observer, Livonian, Plymouth Mail newspapers. Born Cincinnati, attended Garden City High, Dearborn Junior College. Belongs to Democratic Club (chairman 2 years), Knights of Columbus, Junior Chamber of Commerce, a precinct delegate 1956-60. Army veteran.

"Last fall I promised to run for the office of Supervisor only if enough people indicated by phone and letter that they believed a change was necessary and that they wanted me to run.

"I have been swamped by volunteer support. Today we are nearing the closing stages of the campaign and my aims and purposes have which I entered the race. They are:

"Cooperation, not conflict" with our neighbor communities. The Plymouth Township Administration has been quarreling over the smallest of issues with the City of Detroit and the effect is detrimental to all of us.

"Joint planning to increase industrial tax base. Because of the lack of cooperation between Township and City, there isn't even a sound plan for an Industrial Park, with sewer, water and roads, which can be offered new industry which might want to locate here. We need the tax base desperately to build schools."

"Realistic assessments. Land on the Township rolls at $100 an acre is being offered on the open market today for as much as $2,800 an acre. This throws an unfair burden on home owners. They pay the tax which large land-holders should be paying. I propose to bring assessments into line by hiring (as provided by law) of a trained, part-time assessor. Everybody should pay his fair share of the total.

"Professional administration. To keep the Supervisor's office open on a full eight-hour day basis, I will hire an aide, as provided by law. He will be a professional, college-trained man. He will have no policy authority, but will be able to offer technical advice to the Supervisor and Board and he will always be available to the public. His salary will be paid by cutting the treasurer's fantastic $15,000 pay to a reasonable figure.

"Realistic salaries. We need trained, competent people in key positions. But we do not need to pay our Treasurer $15,000 a year.

"Keeping the citizens informed. I will discontinue the kind of government where Township affairs are carried on in semi-secrecy in a kind of "private family circle."

Treasurer
Republican
Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, 41390 Joy Rd., was appointed treasurer to succeed her late husband in December 1953. Re-elected 1955, 1957. Born Drifton, Pa., has lived in community since 1943. Graduated from Northwestern High School, Detroit. Belongs to Order of Eastern Star, P.T.A.

"I suppose it is only human to follow through on any project once started so I would like to see the following:

"1. The extension of sewer and water to our presently zoned industrial sites. This would be a tremendous boost to the area as a whole as well as the township.

"2. A continuation of our high calibre housing development.

"3. More citizen interest and participation in township affairs.

"4. A second fire hall to increase the service to our existing industrial and our more populated areas. This would also provide a small work shop for our water department and another voting precinct.

"5. The continuation of high grade conscientious service the public is now getting."

Democrat
Silvano Salvador, 29, of 46270 Phoenix Rd., partner in Henry Salvador & Son Construction Co. and materials management consultant. Born Detroit, moved here in 1953. Attended Henry Ford Trade and Apprenticeship Schools, U of M extension school. Member of Democratic Club, Venetian Club. Married and has two children.

"Seek an election to place the Treasurer on a salary basis and eliminate the 1 percent fee basis, which has cost township taxpayers over $15,000 per year.

"Put the township office on an efficient basis, eliminate the confusion that now reigns and do my utmost to give the most service to my fellow residents.

"Invest Township surplus funds in guaranteed government securities. In neighboring Redford Township the treasurer has done just this and made a net profit of over $100 per day. $50,000 per year profit to the taxpayers, without any risk whatsoever.

"First I want to emphasize that what I would like to see accomplished is not contingent upon my election. Regardless of who is elected, it is my opinion of what is required to best serve the interest of the citizens of our township for the present and what will be the foundation for the future of our community.

The basic points, according to my opinion, that will best accomplish this are as follows:

"I favor the preservation of the autonomy of our area for the citizens of our area.

"I favor continued cooperation with neighboring communities on a reciprocal basis for mutual benefits.

"I favor the early completion of our sewer and water program.

"I favor providing all the services that our citizens are willing to pay for.

"I favor economy in township operation and the continuation of the policy of our present administration to keep our township solvent.

"I favor the preservation of our favorable climate for existing industry and the enhancement of our area for the attraction of new industry.

"I favor the continuation of a low township tax rate as an added attraction for industry.

"I favor the adoption of a new system of internal control for township finances to keep pace with our rapid growth."

creating a roof that would possess both space and the much needed acoustical properties.

Three months of mathematical research were spent in developing the space frame. This is the technical name given to this unique roof design. The frame provides an economical solution to the problem of designing a cover that provides both space for regular gym activities and yet retaining acoustical properties needed for the staging of plays and band concerts.

The frame, made of steel beams, resembles a square spider web depressed in the center. Four of these are utilized to cover the multipurpose room.

According to Miss Joseph, the frame requires no overhead space and thereby greatly cuts down the cost and the space needed.

The roof also is the ultimate in architectural engineering. In the Clinton addition design and function are so closely related that the two cannot be separated. This, Miss Joseph says, is the result that is achieved from designing a building and not just engineering it.

The "I" beams that make up the framework of the structure house the lighting, which makes the area bright as day.

A sidelight of the actual construction that will always remind Jacqueline of the building happened in the final stages of work. The entire frame was balanced with a support in the center of the four sections. Work was still in progress on the rest of the building. But as the makeshift support was being cut away, all the workmen suddenly disappeared. But after seeing that the roof was still intact, they re-appeared and resumed work.

A few months ago a band concert was held in the area covered by the roof. After listening to all the bands perform, it was the decision of the judges that the acoustics were perfect.

It was because of this statement, by the judges, that Reading High School, Reading, Mich., invited Miss Joseph to attend a school board meeting Monday night and explain in detail the properties of the covering.

Farrand Bake Sale Success in North Plymouth Area

By TRENE CANNING
GL. 3-1244

Hi Neighbors, I suppose by this time all the jelly beans have been eaten up. Parents shouldn't have to buy any more chocolate eggs or jelly beans for awhile, as most of the children have been well sweetened up. Do hope there weren't too many tummys aches this past week. I have found that friendships are like flowers. The more time you spend cultivating them the more beautiful they are. Flowers as well as friendships need lots of care and consideration. Mrs. J. Pope of Lakeland belongs to a unique club. It is called a Baby Sitters Co-op! This club operates in our neighborhood and is composed of the following members: Mrs. W. Baumgartner, Mrs. R. Smithling, Mrs. D. Neelands, Mrs. H. Jones, Mrs. R. Wheaton, Mrs. J. Pope and Mrs. W. Medlund. These ladies take turns baby sitting for one another. Anyone in our neighborhood who is interested in joining this unusual co-op is advised to call for further information.

Major Harding Holloway USMC, is expected to return to his family on Schoolcraft Road this weekend. He has been stationed in Okinawa for 14 months. Major and Mrs. Holloway and their children

Christy and Harding are planning to make their home in Gulfport, Miss., where he will be stationed. We will sure miss Christy and Hoppy around the neighborhood and at Farrand School. We would like to thank all you good neighbors who helped out at the bake sale that was held at McAllister's grocery store last Saturday. It was sponsored by the Farrand School Mothers. That real impressive sign you saw in the window was made by our good neighbor Bill McAllister. That was good sign making Bill! We almost needed a traffic light out there on Northville Road and McAllister Drive. The people came out of that store with beaming faces. Mrs. Pat Hester was in charge of the committees. Mrs. Betty Mahler could be seen every once in a while appearing and disappearing, dashing from the store to her home on Shadywood Drive. She would make a bee line for the kitchen then dash out the door and into her car and whizz over to the store with another armload of goodies for the bake sale. A lot of the mothers were leaving their baked delicacies at Betty's house. The following busy bees of the Farrand bee-hive were on hand helping Saturday: Mrs. Bill McAllister (the one who was rushing to and fro helping to bring in the goodies) Mrs. A. Jaskierney, Mrs. J. Pope, Mrs. R. Cosgrove and Mrs. C. Back in charge of publicity. The many mothers who contributed in various ways to this sale, the day before a holiday at that, really make us all proud of our neighborhood group. The picturesque baked goods were displayed very attractively and made a picture that might grace any Betty Crocker or Good Housekeeping cookbook.

Salvador Will Refund $10,000<sup>00</sup> In Salary To Plymouth Township

(In a recent letter to Plymouth Township Residents, the incumbent Treasurer devotes 400 words trying to explain why she has been accepting $15,000 a year in salary — "because it was the law.")

SALVADOR SAYS

1. The "law" wasn't clarified until our Attorney General's opinion in 1957. Prior to that, the "fee" system could have been abolished by the Board at any time. Canton Township did it in 1953.

2. If this solution was unattractive, the Treasurer could have refunded any part of her $15,000 to the Township Treasury — each year.

3. If I am elected, I will refund $10,000 each year to the Township, until the system is changed.

Township Getting

 Mrs. Vina M. Galloway; treasurer, Silvano E. Salvador; trustee, Thomas J. Foley; board of review, Lawrence Money; constable, Fred Lester

Looking at the township proposition, the township electorate last November approved an advisory question on the ballot that gave the board permission to spend up to $45,000 for constructing a new north-end fire hall and making additions to the present township hall.

But even though the money is now available to build the new fire station that would be located near the water tower in Lake Pointe Village, it would take additional money each year to man and maintain the building.

The township board believes that it would be useless to build the new fire station unless a full-time fireman is on duty there. Actually, it would take two full-time firemen to man the station plus another part-time man for the "Kelly days" (off-days) for the two regulars.

To pay these salaries and operating expenses of the building, the board has proposed the ballot proposition asking for one-half mill (50 cents per $1,000 of valuation). It would run for 20 years.

The half mill would yield about $25,000 annually under present township valuations. It is proposed that one of the two township fire pumps be moved to the new location. It is also planned to use the new fire hall for a public meeting place.

What if the proposal is turned down? The township board has not officially decided what they would do, but some feel that there would be little use in erecting the new building.

ORVILLE TUNGATE

Candidate for Supervisor, Democrat

A PERSONAL LETTER to PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP VOTERS

Dear Township Resident:

This is my last advertisement before the election on April 6 where I am running for the office of Supervisor. I am ending my campaign the same way I started it, with a personal letter to you.

You will recall that I entered the election only after a great number of Township citizens called and wrote urging me to do it. All of them "wanted a change" in their Township administration, for one reason or another.

When I was sure of some support for my ideas, I proceeded, and have tried ever since to let you know why I, too, believe a change would improve our local government. My one desire in getting into this race is to help my community.

Much has happened since then. My opponents have attempted to discredit my ideas by scorn or by personal digs at my motives and intelligence. And at no time have they answered important questions or even attempted to analyze my specific suggestions.

For instance, one question I have asked has been "Why did not the Supervisor or anyone else take steps to reduce the annual pay of the Treasurer from a fantastic $15,000 per year?"

Canton Township and many others did this back in 1952 and 1953 by changing from the "fee basis" to a salary authorized by voters at the annual meeting. If we had done it at the same time, by now we could have saved $50,000 or $60,000 which could have been used for fire engines, better pay for our other employees, for a park, or for many things.

The only answer by my opponent to this question has been a sort of an attempt to give people the impression that I don't know the Law and am "stupid." Well, I know the law and I don't believe it is stupid if the Township can be saved $10,000 each year by one simple change.

I also promised to keep a trained administrative aide in the supervisor's office at all times to handle public business. He would be college-trained. When the Supervisor is absent on County business, which takes him regularly to Detroit, there still would be an intelligent man to give the public service. We no longer would maintain a part-time Supervisor's office.

My opponents only answer to this, again, has been a sort of personal attack on me saying I'm suggesting "shirking responsibility."

I have called attention to the fact the larger landholdings in our Township have ridiculously low assessments, such as $80 or $100 per acre. This same land is being offered for sale today for as much as $3,000 per acre. When this happens, it means the difference in taxes is being thrown upon home-owners, the average folks. It also will mean this year, a sharp upward equalization in land assessments by the County.

To the assessment issue, there just hasn't been any reply.

I have pointed out that we have no industrial park with sewer and water where industry could locate to help carry the heavy burden of buying schools. I have told about one factory that is eager to come and has been rebuffed every step of the way because the Township "incorporated" and closed the doors on the chance of obtaining sewer and water for the factory.

The answer from my opponents has been, "what factory?"

Out of it all, I have been more convinced each day of the campaign that Plymouth Township sorely needs a change. We need fresh, eager government at peace with its neighbors.

I hope enough of you agree with this idea to vote for me Monday.

Sincerely,
ORVILLE TUNGATE

Sleep peacefully in your beds at night Plymouthites. There is a vigilant group watching over you—The Police? Yes! The Firemen? Yes! But you know about them. This group I venture to say, very few know about. They are self-organized, and quite original. Well, this isn't supposed to be a riddle—it is a news column and I am anxious for you to know about them and their work—It's the PRN Organization—meaning if translated from Latin "Give When Necessary" and adapted by the nurses of Plymouth that form the Organization, "Available When Necessary".

Sixty-strong, they have been meeting through the winter in two hour sessions with Dr. Lee Feldkamp lecturing to them on review sessions of emergency treatment. Dr. Walter Hammond spoke to the group at their last meeting on the emergency treatment of broken bones—really emergency treatment such as using fence posts for splints and petticoats for bandages. Dr. Gorden Eadie, Wayne County Public Health Officer, is taking a keen interest in the group also.

Their purpose is to set up Casualty Care Stations in strategic places. This they have mapped out so far in Bird and Gallimore Elementary Schools. Surrounded by members of the PRN (I-R) Dr. Eadie, Dr. Feldkamp and Beth Spring, who did some of the ground work, pour over the school plans.

Their purpose also is to make plans for evacuation; assembly of wounded; triage of patients—a large undertaking that would save many lives in the event of a fall-out from an atom bomb, bomb attack, or tornado.

Margaret Hall is Chairman; Dorothy Joseph, Vice-Chairman; Ardith Eidson, Secretary; Marie Frisbie, Corresponding Secretary; and Betty Urquhart, Program Chairman.

It is Dr. Feldkamp's hope to use Plymouth as an example for other communities to follow—How about that citizens, aren't you proud to live in a community that is alert and trailblazes?

Sorry I haven't dug up that good crash-diet for me and you, but I do have a good tasty recipe. I had tea and sweets with Mrs. Walter Gemperline on Monday and persuaded her to give me the recipe for the little "eat-mores" she served. She cooked 1/2 cup sweetened condensed milk (like Borden's) with 1/2 cup nut meats (ground fine) until thick—either over flame stirring constantly or over double-boiler. (about five minutes) She spreads this on Saltine crackers (must be salty) and ducked them in a moderate oven for just a few minutes—oh my, they were elegant.

Do you suppose there is a Plymouth Chapter of the Buxom Belles—the name being self-explanatory—they have quite a dedicated little group going in Redford Township. Along this line, I did run across a book the other day, that isn't new but packed a lot of sense. "The New Way to Eat and

The WORLD OUTDOORS

SPRING doesn't always come "on time" according to the calendar. It may be early or late. But, certainly Spring is the most eagerly awaited of the four seasons.

The robin's return is heralded in many areas as the first sign of Spring. In many a Southern town, the local folks say that Spring has officially arrived when the bank brings the "whittling" chairs up from the basement and returns them to their customary place in front of the usually time and weather-worn building.

For those who love the world outdoors, Spring is a time of rebirth. The naked trees begin to sprout their blossoms and the dull, brown grass begins to come alive again. The meadows and hillsides—barren and lifeless from a season of driving winter winds with its ice and snow—begin to sport little patches of green that grow and grow until all that was dark and drab is soon gone and forgotten.

Spring is the time to be outdoors, along a stream or a woodland trail. It doesn't take the eye of an expert to recognize the beauty of nature come to life again. There is a fresh, pleasing aroma about the growing things of spring that brings a feeling of peace and contentment.

And, if one has the patience to sit quietly beside a tree and for a time ponder the earth or the sky, it is possible to become a part of the world outdoors, rather than an intruder. The birds and animals venture from their hiding places and begin to move about and play again, flitting through the trees or scampering playfully along the ground.

Spring in the world outdoors can be strong medicine for the tired soul or the aching heart, and in this busy world, most of us would do well to give it a try.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From A. M. Watts, Chester, Vermont: I often think of my grandmother Watts as I remember when I was a boy during the latter decades of the nineteenth century on the east coast of Maine.

She was a medicine maker for her neighbors as well as for her own family and her relatives far and near. She was a town aunt and almost everybody in the community depended upon her to meet some need. Close by her home was a grove of Balm of Gilead trees. Every spring when the buds were about ready to burst into leaves she had one of the men folk cut off some of the branches, strip off the buds and bring them to her so she could use them in the preparation of a salve.

Behind her summer was a hungy bed. Every summer she hung up bunches of the plants in the shed to dry so that through the winter months she could make tansy tea for sick and ailing folks.

In the late summer she had someone dig up roots of the sweet flag that grew in a nearby bog and used them in making some kind of a medicine. In the fall she sent her small grandchildren out into the cow pasture to gather bouquets of Pennyroyal which she dried and stored away to use as needed for some of our indispositions.

And when we boys visited the swampy places in the woods she told us to bring all the thoroughwort we found. She knew how to use that in medicine making. If anyone in the neighborhood killed a skunk, she wanted it so she could try out the oil in the kitchen stove oven and make some medicinal use of it as she did of goose oil.

Movie on Plymouth Schools Premiered Next Wednesday

Searchlights pierce the sky, celebrities drive up in shiny limousines, and crowds cheer as their movie favorites arrive at the world premiere of any movie in old Hollywood. Next week, on April 8 the Plymouth Junior High School auditorium will be the scene of a movie premiere.

True, the surroundings will not be as spectacular, but the film "Today in School," a joint motion picture effort of the Plymouth Education Association and the Board of Education, will have a great deal more to say than many a Hollywood movie. Urey Arnold, president of the P.E.A. (local teacher's association), urges everyone to be present at this initial showing of the film. "It's going to be a film that all citizens will want to see two or three times. We have tried to tell in simple terms the story of what happens in school."

"Today in School" takes a typical Plymouth family with their two boys and girls through a day's activities in the elementary, Junior High, and Senior High school. Classes are visited and all activities are explained via a narrator on a sound tape.

Miss Ann Welsh, elementary teacher at Starkweather school, headed up the script committee that worked long hours with Robert Emmett, cameraman. Emmett takes the football movies and did this 16mm film as an experimental venture.

The Plymouth School-Community Planning Group will hold a short business meeting of the school advisory group will be asked for by George Conover, chairman. Everyone is invited to attend the first showing of this original school movie "Today in School." The preview is going to be held at the Junior High School on Wednesday April 8 at 7:45 p.m.

Business Men's League Comes Of Age As Hilltop Opens Season

(This is the first in a series of articles about the Plymouth area's three golf courses.)

What with the appearance of spring—both calendar-wise and in feeling—it is time to keep track of the fine art of golf.

It seems that many a hardy soul has already taken to the fairways. Chris Burkhardt reports that a group of the above mentioned people were on hand when Hilltop opened, officially, March 21.

Owner Burkhardt has not been idle during the winter months. Added to the clubhouse is an expanded display of golf equipment along with new furnishings.

The Junior League (ages 9 to 16), an annual event at Hilltop, is slated to start shortly after school recesses for the summer. In this league the youngsters are taught the fine points of the game.

Green fees, changed last summer, will be the same this season, Chris reminds—$1.50 for 9 holes, $2 for 18 during the week. On weekends and holidays it will be $1.75 for 9 and $2.75 for 18.

Class A memberships has remained at $75, which entitles the holder to a year of golfing without paying the green fees. This membership, started last year with a great many fans, Chris has announced a family membership plan—$90 for both man and wife, $10 for each of their children up to age 17—plus a junior membership for $25.

There is some talk that the Plymouth City Tournament will be held at Hilltop this summer.

The Business Men's Golf League will again spend their Wednesday evenings at Hilltop trying to beat their last year's scores. The Business men will come of age this summer, as this makes their 21 season at the course.

Two new teams have been added to the Industrial League for this golfing season.

A feature started, which saved many a golfer from sniffling jangled nerves before he started to play, was the calling and reserving starting time. A golfer could (and still can) call Glenview 3-9800 and reserve a tee-off time several days in advance. This gives the golfer an even break to start with.

The drainage ditch, started last year, proved to be a big help in keeping the water from summer showers from making the course a hazard to play on. Owner Chris is planning to make some improvements on this ditch to make playing even more fun.

AH, spring is here again. Time for every red blooded male to find some reason to leave the house before he has to help with the spring house cleaning. The ideal situation would be to walk out but it is not that easy. You must have some reason for leaving.

Why not offer to take her shoes down to Jerry's to be fixed. This has a two fold purpose. First she will let you leave the homestead and second this gives you a chance to talk with Jerry about getting in on the trap and skeet shooting that he has been telling me about.

All kidding aside, if you like to either trap or skeet shoot, stop in and see Jerry.

Getting information from our administrators is like pulling teeth. If they are not on vacation they are out of town or too busy to talk to you. All because you want to keep the public informed on the latest happenings.

Was out at Arbor Lill yesterday and saw some Jr. high students bowling. Looks like everyone has taken up the sport. Women bowlers seem to take the game more, how should we put it, more intently. If that is the word. I have never seen such excitement as when four ladies get together to roll a few.

Football equipment has already reached the locker room at the high school. This shows how far in advance the coaches think of their sport. Nothing is left to chance of last minute oversight.

If the weather holds the smelt should start running late this month.

Chris Burkhardt tells me that some golfers have been playing for some time. It seems the bad weather doesn't hold them back.

The Harlem Magicians played their usual fine game of comic basketball last Saturday night, in the Plymouth gym.

As is always the case, they won. This year's game was a carbon copy of the last season meet, except that the date had been changed.

The Boston Shamrocks, reserve team for the Magicians, put up the usual battle but played a losing brand of ball.

The ball is the type that if you have seen it once, why go back.

Next time it might be better if the half time announcer would take off his Shamrock uniform before returning to the floor. We all know that the fellow was paid by owned Haynes, but why promote it.

Conservation Notes

LANSING, March — Individuals and groups planning timber cutting projects to relieve the food-pinch on deer are warned to contact the Conservation Department district office in their chosen area before beginning operations.

Conservation Department field men recently discovered several areas which were completely leveled. Only those trees marked by the Department are to be cut.

Harry L. Aldrich, regional chief of the northern lower peninsula, said, "The Department appreciates the public's desire to help provide browse for the deer during this critical period of deep snow, but it must issue a warning that state law requires a permit before any individual or group enters either private or state land for the cutting of timber, brush or browse."

Those organizing their efforts with the Department will receive advice on where to cut trees, how to cut them, and most important in this case, what types to cut.

LANSING, Mar. — Dog has traditionally been portrayed as man's best friend, the sentinel of the home and the sportsman's seeing eye.

A new moniker — "the crafty fisher" — could be appropriately tacked to this list of descriptive phrases. Department personnel, checking streams in Crawford county recently, discovered five rainbow trout which had been captured by a cage canine. His strategy consisted of chasing the fish into shallow water where he could easily pounce upon his trapped prey.

LANSING, Mar. — "Don't wait until the last minute to remove your fish shanties from the lake," warns the Conservation Department.

Deep snow and freezing rains during the winter are ample reasons why fishermen should start their shanty removal early. On many lakes, shanties are firmly anchored in the ice. Since laws forbid the burning of shanties, removal will entail a great deal of chopping and a elbow grease.

Fishermen failing to remove their shanties before the ice becomes unsafe are liable to a $50 fine and/or 30 days in jail.

Each year several cars plunge through the ice when fishermen risk a late outing to haul in their shanties. Department officials point out that driving on ice becomes unsafe long before the actual spring breakup.

Water flow increases steadily toward the end of winter to undermine and weaken the ice even though it may still appear safe. Discoloration is one reliable sign of weakened and dangerous areas.

In connection with shanty removal is the responsibility of fishermen to clean up litter on the ice. Debris left on the ice is washed upon beaches during the spring breakup.

Last year, numerous cases were reported where children and bathers suffered serious injuries from rusty cans and broken bottles.

Persons dumping litter on lakes are liable to a $100 fine and/or 90 days in jail.

LANSING, Mar. — Michigan trappers and hunters collected $5,810 in February for bountied foxes, coyotes and bobcats.

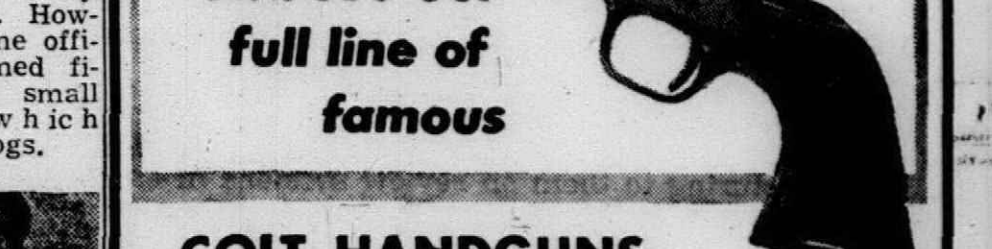

Bountied foxes drew the lion's share of the payments — $4,085 — as 817 were certified. Remaining bounty fees went for 93 coyotes and 30 bobcats. Bounty payments for February, 1953, totaled $7,935.

LANSING, Mar. — Winter relinquished its seasonal throne to spring and the weatherman acknowledged this change with thawing temperatures to improve conditions for Michigan's deer herd.

Although most deer were still confined in deeryards in the upper peninsula, no new

4-Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends and relatives who sent me cards and flowers during my recent illness at the hospital, and those who have visited me since I returned home. Ida Freheit

Mr. Bill Campbell and family wish to thank the volunteer firemen at the Canton Township Station and to the neighbors and friends who expressed their concern at the loss of our horses at our recent fire at the 20A ranch.

May we take this opportunity to thank the many relatives, neighbors and friends for their assistance and kind expressions of sympathy in our recent bereavement of our brother and uncle, Harold Schmidt. We extend many thanks to Schradter Funeral Home and Reverend David L. Rieder.

These expressions have been deeply appreciated.

Detroit Art Institute Curator Gives Public Lecture April 14

A lecture on "Art of the background and will show Last 100 Years" by William A. McGonagle of the Detroit Institute of Arts will be offered to the public free of charge on Tuesday evening, April 14 at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth Dunning-Hough Library.

McGonagle, who is curator of Extension Services at the Art Institute, will lecture from colored slides of paintings and will discuss the changes in art through the 19th and 20th centuries. He will give the historical

To Women It May Concern

Get Slim" by Donald G. Cooley. It says frankly that it is a book written for lazy people who want to get slim, who don't like to exercise, but who do like to eat (this suits me)! It gives so many interesting facts such as "every time you shiver you use up calories—a two mile hike consumes an excess of a mere 115 calories, which are replaced by a mild snack consisting of three graham crackers (this settles the old debate at my house about me," please let me out here, dear". He, "Oh come on and walk with me while I park the car, its good for you"—There are a lot of calories, vitamins, and glamor gems throughout the book—borrow mine if you like.

If you would care to walk off a few pounds interestingly, cover the 200,000 square feet in the huge 1959 Detroit Home Furnishings Show in the Detroit Artillery Army on West Eight Mile Road near Northland Center. Open from April 4 to April 12, (1 to 11 p.m. daily) the newest styles in furniture, appliances, carpeting, draperies, home furnishing accessories and outdoor furnishings will be displayed. More than 1,000 individual pieces of furniture of every type and price range will be shown both individually and in complete room settings. Let's all attend and go mad together because this is the way a thing of this type affects me.

On the other hand, if you are looking for a Russian samovar to make into a lamp or a set of beer mugs once used on Mississippi river boats, or a collection of German steins or 18th century Staffordshire drinking mugs, with a frog in the bottom designed to discourage the over-indulgent drinker, then come along with me to the Great Lakes Antique Show at the Masonic Temple in Detroit, opening April 8 to 10 daily from 12 noon to 10:30 p.m.

See you next week thinner, but I'm afraid poorer!

Remember . . .

THE SCHULTZ FAMILY of Canton Township are proud to be one of the few families that can pose for a five-generation picture. Great-Grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Wilkie, who is 95, and a long time resident of this area makes this possible. In good health and enjoying her family, she is able to cook and 'do things' and is happiest when she is busy.

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor: We of the Northville area wish to congratulate you as an editor who firmly believes in a sound editorial policy. We also wish to affirm your policy of looking for facts and reporting them—no matter what political group is involved. Perhaps this accounts for the large circulation of The Plymouth Mail in our area.

Northville voters haven't had much choice in selecting township officials for more years than we would care to admit. No opposition in the primary, hence, no primary.

No opposition on election day, few voters. Reason: filing nomination petitions by candidates of the party that was in power meant election.

Tell us if you wish, how much of an election can it be without a contest? This election, April 6, will be a real one. Northville township voters are offered a choice. Seven of our neighbors are running on the democratic ticket. George N. Bennett, Supervisor; Evelyn E. Gothe, Clerk; Joseph Miles, Treasurer; Chester Robertson, Trustee; Leon W. Gagner, Board of Review; Edward M. Cassell, Justice of the Peace; and Manuel D. Perez, Constable.

No opposition on election day, few voters. Reason: filing nomination petitions by candidates of the party that was in power meant election.

Our statement of principles is unique in that it will thoroughly examine each question in township government. We will search diligently for all the facts, weigh the alternatives of action, then choose the action that is consistent with good community planning. Action which is beneficial to most of the residents, and protecting the rights of the individual, not on prejudices and pre-formed anti-intellectual beliefs.

Florine Bennett (Wife of Supervisor candidate)

Mrs. Walter C. Gemperline is serving her second term as Regent (President) of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the D.A.R. covering Plymouth and Northville. The 32 members celebrated their 32 birthday, inviting Regents from other Chapters as their guests for a luncheon at the Mayflower. Five young teenagers of the area were honored as D.A.R. The D.A.R. works as a close-knit unit on the State and National level. Money making functions are used to fulfill their obligations as a part of a working National organization. For more than three decades the D.A.R. has owned and maintained two schools in Alabama and Carolina. Education is of prime importance to them. They assist in supporting 11 other schools; give student loans in higher education; give scholarships to Negro and Indian girls; as well as an annual $500 scholarship to train a student in occupation therapy to aid polio and other paralytic victims.

THE READER Speaks Up

Editor: Although I may partially agree with "Private School Parent" in his or her disappointment with the school board on school buses, nevertheless I feel that the vast majority of parents who have children in the parochial schools have equal interest in the public schools also; they realize it is their responsibility to help maintain the public schools.

And as a parochial school parent I know that fellow parochial school parents would never vote "no" for spite. It should never descend to the level of parochial versus public. They are both in the "business" of education.

Sincerely,

GARDEN GAB— BY BILL SAXTON

At this time of year most gardeners are interested in working on improving their lawns. We are frequently asked what type of grass to use for reseeding. On established lawns we recommend using only permanent types of grasses. On heavy or loamy types of soils the best bet is Merion or Kentucky Bluegrasses. On sandy soils red creeping Chewings Illaher, or Penn-lawn, Fescues are recommended as the main varieties with possibly a smaller percentage of Kentucky or Merion. Fescues will take more wear and tear than other varieties, except Merion which has good wear resistance also. Grasses to use in shade are the Fescues and Poa-trivialis. When we recommend grass mixtures or varieties we must know the soil, the growing conditions, sun or shade, the wear requirement, and how it will be cared for. Cheap grass seeds are not any bargain. Rye grasses contain approximately 150,000 seeds in a pound at 28 cents. Top grade Kentucky blue has 1-1/2 million or more seeds in a pound—more than 10 times as much Kentucky blue would have to be three dollars a pound

Plymouth High School

By Gloria Bowles

British school students get a better education than Americans.

That was the intimation of Jane Thomas of Tunbridge Wells, Kent, the English 'sister' of Plymouth senior Jonie Izett, who spent the summer at Jane's home in England. Jane, now an exchange student living in Manistee, Michigan was Jonie's guest at the latter's home last week.

Jane put in an appearance at PHS when quizzed on the English school system, she turned up some interesting facts about the education of the English child, who begins school in kindergarten, attends junior school until 12, then enrolls in senior school (comparable to our high school.) Graduation for Britisher comes at 16.

Yet, though they graduate very young, English students, according to Jane wind up with a better education than Americans. Why this conclusion? In the first place, all English students take the same classes... there is no such thing as course choice. This eliminates enrollment in the "easy" or "frill" courses, for they don't exist.

Another big difference between the American and British systems lies in the number of years set aside for classes: in England one takes many years of a single subject so that at graduation a student has a good background in all courses. Jane mentioned that American schools just touch on everything; the British go into detail.

Jane's schedule for her senior year of high school, for example, included courses in French, history, English literature, grammar, two kinds of geography, art, scripture, biology, sport, algebra, geometry and arithmetic. (She didn't have each of these every day... some classes met only two or three days a week.) Jane was exposed to these courses every year... one year's class was a continuation of the previous year's study.

Education is more important to English students, said Jane. "They take their studies more seriously" (than Americans.) Jane spent (she has graduated) an average of two or three hours a night on homework. There are no study halls in English schools, the majority of which are NOT co-educational.

English girls don't go to college; there are, however, special schools for those who wish to go into nursing, secretarial work or the like, she added.

Although a critic of the American school system, Jane has adapted the ways of its students. When interviewed, she wore a skirt, sweater, tennis shoes and bobby socks—typical of American teens. On the ring finger of her left hand, she sported a huge ring, which bore a thick glob of red nail-polished tape.

That means she's going steady. She's Americanized! Plymouth High School has twelve student teachers this semester...

Winners of the PHS forensic contest were announced last week. Selected to represent Plymouth at the league meet in Allen Park next Wednesday, April 8 were Glyn Norton, interpretive reading with Dave Raafaub taking second; Dawn Finley, humorous reading; Earl Wright, original oration and Martha West, declamation.

While you're reading this, PHS'ers are taking it easy... this is Spring Vacation! The end of the ten-day rest comes Monday, April 6. Incidentally, April 6 not only marks the end of the last vacation of this school year, but it's also election day. PHS'ers: Why not take it upon yourself to get your parents out to vote?

Happy Susie Campbell was even happier at the tenth session of MUNA (Model United Nations Assembly) when she was one of four of the 600 attending to be elected a Rapporteur. Susie's job was to take notes at the Disarmament Conference and then report back to the General Assembly.

Several PHS students took prizes in the Detroit News Scholastic Writing Awards contest... top local prize winner was senior Glyn Norton, who will claim a key award at the May 6 presentations for a familiar essay. Another senior, Hale Huber, won honorable mention for an autobiographical article. Commendations went to sophomore Lester Barton, a familiar essay; senior Rosemary Tallman, a formal essay and junior Gloria Bowles, a news feature.

Rings for the class of '61 were on display in the trophy case in the front hall last week. Sophs are ordering from Beitner's Jewelers they'll get rings in the fall.

New Features at Disneyland To Include Submarine Fleet

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Who is the only man in the world with a private submarine fleet?
What man owns the only monorail transit system in the United States?
Who is building a snow-capped mountain in sunny Southern California?
Who runs his own automobile production line?
Name the man who built an empire with the aid of a mouse?
If your answers to each of the above questions is Walt Disney, score yourself 100 percent.

The empire and the mouse? Disneyland and Mickey, of course.
In expanding his magical Disneyland, Walt the Wizard has spent five million dollars on eight submarines, a 15-story-high replica of the Matterhorn, a monorail with two trains and a mile of track and an auto assembly line currently rolling off 80 racy sports cars.

Disney will reveal his new wonders to the public June 1—and wonders they are.
His submarine attraction alone rivals anything Disney has attempted previously. Passengers on the subs will glide past the lost city of Atlantis, past a graveyard of sunken ships, under the polar ice cap and past hundreds of colorful fish, including octopus, manta ray, sharks and monsters.
All the finny occupants of the artificial lake are made of a special "hot melt" plastic to prevent deterioration. A pair of 26-foot giant squids, a 60-foot-long serpent, and a gaggle of life-like mermaids should keep visitors glued to their portholes.
Some nine million gallons of water will be pumped daily through the filtering system, keeping the water clear at all times.

It's the single most expensive ride we've ever built," Walt said. "Altogether it will cost two and a half million dollars. The subs alone were $50,000 each."
The towering Matterhorn, tallest structure in Orange County, will be completed for a mere one and a half million dollars.
Bobsled tracks for a serpentine ride down and through the mountain already have been installed, complete with glacier caverns. Several hundred European-type pine trees and edelweiss shrubs are being hauled in from the Colorado mountains to add realism to the Matterhorn slopes.
These innovations, plus a new "autopia" (midget car rides for youngsters), the monorail and a new speed boat ride will increase the number of attractions to 48 compared to 22 on opening day of 1955.

"We didn't have enough things for people to do a few years ago," Walt explained. "With 20,000 people in the park there were lines waiting for the various rides."
"Now we'll be able to accommodate everyone, even on days when 40,000 visitors are on hand."
Disney is particularly tickled with his monorail. Officials from many cities have expressed interest in the ride, and upon its completion delegations will visit the park to get ideas for commercial rapid transit systems.
The new thrills offered by Disneyland bring the total investment in the park to 29 million dollars—the most expensive toy in history.

"We aren't stopping here," Walt said. "Plans are already underway for the next two years. Each June Disneyland will have new attractions. I hope the park is never completed."
"Most of the profits from the park are ploughed right back into expansion and improvement. So far none of our rides have proved unpopular. None have been replaced."
A railroad bug at heart, Disney's favorite plaything is the train ride which encircles the entire park.
"The railroad is the only thing in Disneyland that I own personally," he grinned. "Everything else is the property of my corporation. Since we added the Grand Canyon diorama last year the National Park Service people have reported a great increase in tourists at the Grand Canyon."

EVER THINK of chartering an ocean liner? That is what one Plymouth businessman has done and he hopes to have 350 passengers ready to sail on it by October. ## The Reader Speaks Up

Editor: Having read the interesting letter regarding the present

Grange Gleanings

Mrs. Louise Hutton is visiting her daughter Mrs. Hare at Williamston over the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Rienas went to Saginaw Sunday for Easter dinner with her sister who has just recently returned from a six weeks visit in Santiago, Cuba.

The Sewing Contest closes March 31. All the dresses and entry blanks must be at the Grange Hall by four o'clock April 2. The judges will be on hand at that time.

We are to have another of those good dinners on April 18. There will be the usual three servings at 5, 6 and 7 with cards and dancing following upstairs. The menu as follows: ham loaf; scalloped potatoes, green beans, buttered beets, cabbage salad and lemon pie, coffee, tea and milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie McConnell have gone to North Carolina for a visit of several weeks with relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Weckerlie.

Due to unavoidable circumstances the Anniversary celebration which was planned for April 2 meeting has had to be postponed until May 7. The State Master, William Brake, and several other out of town guests will be present. Potluck supper will be held as usual, therefore we request a little extra food be brought for the guests.

Mrs. Esther Jacobs left for Florida last week for a few weeks in the sunshine.

Plymouth High School Band director's being asked to resign by a group of parents, there seems to be a few pertinent facts that should be brought to light.

ALL of these parents had boys or girls in the band not so very long ago (some of them still do).

You might also like to recall that there are nearly 100 ex-band students in the High School with the ability, training, and everything needed for a good band member except the desire to play music in the band under the present director!

They had plenty of desire to play not so very long ago. Why aren't they interested now? Why are their parents making such a serious effort to remove the cause of the problem? Could it be for the future of the High School Band that they are interested?

A 100 piece High School Band (1956) has dwindled to 56. Forty uniforms ($2,400 worth) are not in use although there are twice that many students available to use them.

Plymouth is a musical community. How can the future of the Symphony be served by a teacher who demotes rather than promotes the interests of music students?

THE MUSICAL Bunges — Earl and Peggy and their two sons, Tim, 9, and Craig, 6.

Children at Parents' Side At Symphony Rehearsal

There is a special magic in every day when you are very young, especially when you are two little boys named Craig, 6, and Tim, 9, and your parents are Earl and Peggy Bunge.

A lot has been heard about "togetherness" recently (it may be too much) but when we see it in action we can't be too sure there can ever be too much.

Peggy and Earl Bunge love music, and when they tune up during rehearsals with the Plymouth Symphony, their two offspring are seated close at hand just popping with the thrill of being allowed to "come along". Tim, who is currently learning to play the violin "like Mom" shows no favoritism for his instrument. He sticks close to dad who plays percussion, turning the music pages, adjusting the music stand, and doing plenty of toe tapping.

When his dad gets busy in the bass drumming department Tim watches every beat and glories in every boom - boom. During "breaks" there are family discussions about the selections being rehearsed and we would like to wager that a few requests for "Just let me hit it once, Pop" are included in the conversation.

Craig at six is learning a little piano on the "let's-get-acquainted - with - music" level but his parents report he has already developed a good ear for listening.

The Bunges, who live at 30905 Rosslyn, Garden City, said they were thrilled that their children have learned to share their interest in music. Peggy is a graduate of the Arthur Jordan Conservatory in Indianapolis, Indiana, and Butler University.

Earl studied music in his home town of Sandusky, Ohio and had his own dance band. However, he graduated from the Cleveland Art Institute of Industrial Design which prepared him for his work as a stylist for Ford Motor Company.

To their already busy schedule, Peggy and Earl are contributing their musical talents to their church, the Good Hope Lutheran Church in Garden City; she as choir director and he as singer in the choir.

The Bunges will participate in the forthcoming concert to be presented by the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, April 5 at 4 p.m. in the High School Gymnasium.

Here's Line-Up of Candidates In Salem Twp.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

We endorse Orville Tungate in the election race for Supervisor of Plymouth Township next Monday. This contest is the most interesting one on the local ballot, and in our opinion, just about the most important. The Mail thoroughly subscribes to the belief that "it's time for a change in our Township government" and we embrace Tungate's own campaign contention that we sorely need "Cooperation, not Conflict" from that hall.

We deplore the fact that under State Law elections in Townships still are conducted on a party basis, because we do not believe that local administration has much to do with political philosophy or theory.

The problem of local citizens, in Plymouth Township as well as in the City (where the elections are non-partisan) is to find enough good men with a sense of duty who are capable of doing a tough job. Their party "labels" are the least of the consideration.

Hence, the fact that Tungate runs on the "Democratic" ticket and his opponent on the "Republican" is no factor whatever in our recommendation. Tungate is an honest, capable citizen willing and able to render public service.

Regular readers of this space know that we believe the foremost problem in Plymouth is to cease this destructive, futile "two part" community thinking. We are one community, with one school district, with a common objective and common problems.

But the present Township administration has, over a period of time, by many words and many deeds, succeeded in dividing our people mentally and in all government planning. The climax was reached a few weeks ago when the Supervisor quarterbacked a drive which sets up a grotesque, unnatural "city," wrapped around the city of Plymouth like a python.

Despite the fact it won by only 66 votes, this new "city" charter is being written today by the same elected officials who profess to a desire to "save our Township way of living."

This is hypocrisy and we are opposed to it. The alternative to a change in Township administration, one might say, is to work with the present officers and try to achieve "peace" through evolution or education.

And I would agree, if today was two or three years ago. But all of us have undergone many bitter months of trying to "keep peace in the family" by swallowing pride, making concessions, arranging conferences, stifling argument, and all the rest.

"Peace," it became abundantly clear, didn't mean anything more than "appeasement." In case after case, the Township approach to a joint problem has been, "do it my way or I'll sulk and you'll have trouble on your hands."

And instead of a more pleasant community, slugging together at joint problems, we have reached a point where a separate city is wrapped around the original base, where one fire department is told not to answer calls from another area, where it is impossible to bring in new industry to help with our taxes, where to even call a joint meeting is a major event because of the fear that Township officials will get sore about something and snarl up the evening!

The Plymouth Mail, for years, did everything it could to encourage a "peaceful approach" to community affairs. We backed firmly an Area Cooperation Group with many problems. We muffled many, many intra-community arguments so as to let "old wounds heal" and cooperation become the new watchword.

But, after that waiting period, it still was clear that no progress had been made toward achieving the basic objective, and The Mail decided to do whatever it could to find another solution. That is a change of leadership.

Tungate, during his campaign, has made some interesting points.

His publicity about the Township Treasurer's $15,000 salary is sure to eventually save the taxpayers $10,000 or so a year, after the salary is cut down to prudent size.

His disclosure that land assessed at $100 an acre is being sold on the open market for $2,800 is a vital one to an average home owner who gets no such break in his assessment.

His promise to negotiate on a joint basis with the city to bring new industry here gives us some first, faint rays of hope that we might someday get some tax help for the mammoth school building projects which lie ahead.

The effect of these and other points is to show that Tungate is an interested, informed candidate. At a period when the times cry for a change, we believe it is fortunate that such a candidate has arisen for the voters' consideration.

It is proper also that we express our respect for a candidate in Canton Township. That's Lou Stein, the Supervisor.

We've had a chance to watch Stein work for the past couple of years and he appears to me an exceptionally able, well-informed public official. He understands the intricacies of tax equalization and Township law about as well as anyone we've found in office.

Incidentally, Canton Township candidates will be among those on the platform at this interesting, unique and vital "Town Meeting" which will be held at the high school tonight (April 2).

All the Plymouth candidates will be there too and voters who REALLY WANT TO KNOW whom they are voting for will be in the audience.

The Reader Speaks Up:

Editor: I am writing in reply to the disillusioned lady who says she is a "Private School Parent and proud of it."

Madame, do you realize what you are saying when you advocate not supporting our public schools?

First of all, you would deny education to at least one-half of our school-age population due to the families' inability to pay for private schooling. You and everyone else in the U.S. must realize that the very basis for American Democracy is the ideal of equal opportunity of education to each child, no matter which side of the tracks he was born on.

Secondly, you have stated that you prefer sending your child to a private school, this is your privilege and if you feel she will get a better education, then your money, is probably well spent, but remember it was your choice and you could have sent her to one of our excellent, well-staffed public schools.

Too many people are not as fortunate as you to be able to afford such an expense.

As far as religious education is concerned, you are foisting off on the school a job that belongs to the home and the church.

Your argument that your child is getting a better education in a private school than she would in a public school has no basis, in fact, I am sure your child would do well in either situation. Many children are advanced beyond their years in subject matter. You should be thankful that the good Lord has blessed her with such talent.

Do you think the Plymouth Community Schools should provide bus transportation to Sunday School for all Protestant youngsters?

Sincerely,
A Public School Supporter and proud of it.

The decision to again ask school district voters for a millage increase was reached following a meeting for area residents held at the High School last week. Approximately 100 persons attending indicated a favorable attitude towards the millage increase. People felt the reason the proposals failed at the March 7th election was due to confusion over the issues and lack of information. So, be sure to vote April 18.

The Reader Speaks Up

Editor:

I was greatly interested in the letter in last week's Mail from "Some Interested Band Members." It concerned the controversy of the present High School Band director and asked for the community's support.

Perhaps before the community is asked for support in the retention of the Band director, the people should be informed.

(1) The philosophy and purpose of music education in our public schools should be evaluated. Should our only goals be to obtain "excellent" ratings at our Festivals and training for acceptance into the U. of M. Band? If so, perhaps we have exactly what we want in Plymouth High School. But if our goals are broader in scope, we may want happy, stimulating and inspirational experiences for the greatest possible number of our high school youths.

When the size of the Band has dropped approximately 40 per cent in two years, regardless of a steady increase in the H.S. enrollment, certainly the question should be asked, "Why?"

(2) The people should know the cost of the Band program in the H.S.

Band uniforms were purchased at a cost of about $6,000. These were bought at a time when the anticipated size of the band was approximately 100 members. Because of the heavy "drop out" of band members due to unfortunate experiences, about 40 expensive uniforms are now hanging in the storage closet.

There are also unused instruments, purchased with the anticipation of a growing band. A $1,000 contra-bass clarinet and another expensive instrument were purchased this year.

I understand that the annual school budget allows about $2,000 for the H.S. band, plus the director's salary which is supplemented by $400 to take care of Festival duties, etc. (I am unable to say what his secretary gets or why he should need one.)

The question is do we want to spend this amount of money to furnish musical opportunities to a band of only 56 members?

(3) The teachers of Plymouth are now under the State Tenure Law. It is almost impossible to dispose of an inferior or controversial teacher after a third year of probation. The ideal situation would be greater selectiveness in the choosing of teaching personnel and closer supervision during the probationary period.

When this is not done, parents have only one choice left. They can appeal to the Superintendent and the Board of Education in the hopes that they will realize that the first responsibility of the school is to the children and not to the teacher.

Sincerely,
An Interested Parent

Local Group Entertains at State Hospital

On Tuesday, March 24, members of the "Plymouth Birthday Ladies," one of the volunteer groups from Plymouth at Northville State Hospital, presented an Easter Program, "Easter Program, "Easter Around the World," in the Hospital auditorium.

More than 600 patients enjoyed the production, which was directed by Betty Packard, of 1465 Penniman. Vivian Champion, 439 North Harvey, was the commentator; Eva McAllister provided the songs and musical direction, and Evelyn Newman was the accompanist.

Starting with an American Indian dance, the program covered various countries around the world, and featured beautiful costumes from various countries in Europe, Asia, and South Pacific and Caribbean.

Some of the costumes were obtained by the participants when they traveled to these regions; while others were family heirlooms.

An authentic touch was provided by Miss Nicole Verdier, of Port-au-Prince, Haiti, who performed a peasant dance in native costume. A friend of Mrs. Carolyn Seefeldt, director of Social Service at the Hospital, Miss Verdier is working on her Master's Degree in Medical Technology at Wayne University, and is interning at Henry Ford Hospital.

The production was climaxed by Betty Borsio as "Mrs. 1865," in typical Easter outfit of that year, followed by Helen Teasel in her Easter outfit as "Our 1959 American Lady."

A year ago the Plymouth Birthday Ladies presented the same type of program for 96 patients in their "adopted" building, where they give monthly parties the year around. Because of the interest and desire of many other patients to see this production, the program was repeated and enjoyed by more than 600 patients in the Hospital.

According to Miss Janet Paterson, Director of Occupational Therapy at the Hospital, this is the largest number of patients, to date, attending any single performance in the large auditorium, including regular movies on the wide-angle screen, and other musical productions. This, along with the fact that the audience was more active and responsive than usual is the proof of the fact that the patients not only enjoyed the show, but appreciated all the efforts these volunteers had made to provide an enjoyable evening.

Talent for the affair consisted of the following: Coolie Hat Girls, Audrey Borregard and Bertha Knapp; China, Anne Penhale and Mary Wilson; Haiti, Nicole Verdier; India, Agnes Rollins; Mrs. 1865, Betty Borsio; 1959 American Lady, Helen Teasel; American Indians and Indian Dance, Lynette Griffith and Dick Borsio; Squaw Girl, Helen Teasel; Western American Lady, Anna Packard; Mexican Girl, Accordionist, Lois Packard; Mexican Lady, Katie Gates; Hawaiian Lady and Hawaiian Dancer, Lenore Light and Jeannie Light; Formal Hawaiian Dress, Lenore Light; Hula Dancer, Dottie Grabowski; Belgium, Ruth Burton; Dutch, Jean Werner; German, Ruth Grissold; Spanish, Betty Packard; Hungarian Gypsies, Zaida Burrows and Nina Detwilder; Swiss Lady, June Farrant; Swiss Lad, Lucille Tanner; Austria, Cecilia Phelan; Denmark, Isabelle Rae; Greece, Dorothy Becker; Ireland, Sally Sawyer; Japan, Mae Schuler.

We the undersigned know that it is not necessary to hire full-time fireman for the simple reason the population is not large enough. We have four fire phones in the village of Salem. When a fire call comes in the trucks are on their way within two minutes. Could a full-time man do better?

Therefore we feel we do not need the 2 1/2 mill increase in taxes, other than giving someone an easy job at the taxpayers' expense. If you do not want this to go into effect, we urge you to attend the annual meeting Saturday, April 4 to 8 p.m. at Salem Town Hall.

Have you seen our sports editor's crystal ball in action?

Our Detroit Times sports editor slyly claims he owns a crystal ball. And you might almost believe him if you caught his year-old prediction of the Terry Brennan firing on the Detroit Times Sports Pages. Remember? It was in September 1957 that Ed Hayes told you that Terry Brennan would be through as Notre Dame's football coach after his next losing season . . . that his replacement would be the Washington Redskins' Joe Kuharich. And that's exactly what happened in December 1958!

We think you'll agree . . . it doesn't much matter whether a crystal ball or an undisclosed inside source was behind this story! The point is . . . you can expect intriguing forecasting and honest reporting when you read the Times Sports Section.

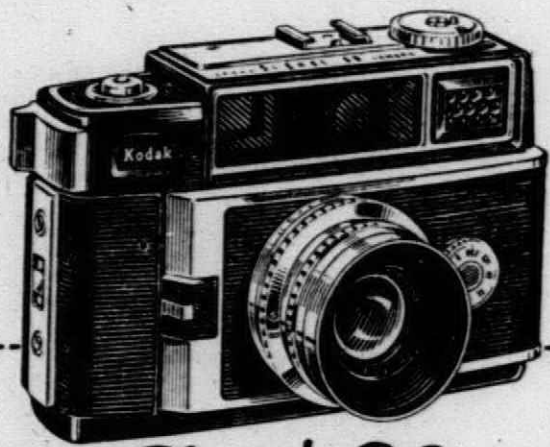

Keep your eye on the TIMES! Phone Woodward 3-8800 for delivery to your home . . . both daily and Sunday!

Saw an early dandelion pushing its green-greedy weedy fingers up out of the soil just yesterday. Won't be long until we see their golden heads sprouting in too many places where they are not wanted. Old George wouldn't be the least surprised if more than dandelions started springing up — I'm thinking now of Chipmunks!

Alvin, the chipmunk, has become the Elvis Presley of the animal kingdom. First, those wild chipmunks favored us with a sickening Christmas song and now, without adequate warning, our ears are being assaulted with Alvin and his Harmonica. This song bugs me. Of course, some body likes the song since the record sold over a million copies in six weeks. I thought "Tan Shoes and Pink Shoelaces" rocked and rolled me to the point of nausea, but the latest bit of chipmunk cacophony in the name of music disturbs me.

Naturally, Alvin's weird sounds may grate on my tender ears, but to its creator, Ross Bagdasarian, it's the money in the bank. From all reports, Ross will net a crazy $750,000 on the musical momb-jumbo platter of the year. And to make the income tax collector even happier Ross is still collecting a few royalties on "Witch Doctor" which he wrote last year.

In his latest effort with Alvin and the other obstinate harmonica-playing chipmunks, Ross Bagdasarian plays all the parts including the guy that's doing all the objecting. In short, he's a one-man record showman. Now all he has to do is cut the records in his garage and eliminate the middleman.

Ross reminds me of George Bernard Shaw, the tempestuous Irish dramatist, who enjoyed directing, writing and acting in his plays. Lately, Shaw has been getting a good deal of exposure in the e parts. The University of Detroit recently did his "Saint Joan". Wayne University just finished an excellent production of "Misalliance". And "My Fair Lady" based on his comedy-drama, "Pygmalion", left the big town of Detroit a week ago.

Shaw always wrote a "thinking man's" type of production. You go to see a Shaw play for his caustic comments on life. In "Misalliance" he almost gives a person too many ideas for one evening. However, the Wayne University players did such an outstanding job of interpreting this wordy charade that the evening did not drag. And of course, "My Fair Lady" is the one Shaw play that was cut down to digestible size. Shaw had a standing rule that no director or producer could ever cut his plays. He wrote every line to be spoken and never to be deleted.

The authors of "My Fair Lady" spent many years working on the right to make the proper cuts so that their musical version of "Pygmalion" could become a reality. Thank heavens they succeeded. Old George finally got around to seeing the road company version of "Lady".

Few quick comments: Charles Victor as Elizabeth's father stole the show from Diana Todd and Michael Evans. When Charlie Victor did the "With a Little Bit of Luck" song and dance number, he captivated the audience. Diana Todd's acting left me too cold and Mike Evans could have put a little more sparkle in his role. It was interesting to note that a Wayne State University student that I had seen earlier this year in the "Boy Friend" was now in the chorus line doing some professional dancing. He won't get rich in the chorus line, but at least it is a start.

Of course, even though I felt a few of the leads didn't measure up to the New York company, the production was still an excellent one. As one lady said in front of us as she was leaving the theater, "I could see the whole show over again tomorrow."

I had that same feeling as I watched "Green Pastures" the other evening. It was a worthwhile repeat. Wish I could have seen it in color. The next time they do "Green Pastures" let's hope they do the whole show. They might just do that and put it on pay TV or toll television. The FCC last week approved a three year test of fee-TV or pay TV. This means that more companies will be going into the coin-box type operation or a direct charge type of television. A recent experiment out in Oklahoma did not do too well, but there are still a number of people willing to risk some more money on this venture. I'll reserve my judgement on toll TV until a later date.

Broadway had a slow week as is customary with the Easter holidays upon us. Christmas and Holy week are two tough weeks for the boys on the great White Way. In fact, some shows take a vacation for a week rather than fight the slump.

On the horizon are several shows coming in. "Destry Rides Again" and "First Impressions" both bouncy musical comedies, have opened out of town and the advance reports indicate that these shows will be hits. I'll let you know after they hit the main stem.

"Wake Up, Darling" had its first rehearsal in Plymouth the other evening. John Glanz brought in the scale model of the set for all to see. John is really performing a yeoman's job in this production. He is playing the lead part of Don Emerson and has designed the set. Our Theater Guild members are quite versatile. Incidentally, Marie Bowers, our producer, is waiting to hear from you if you'd like to help in some way with costumes, make-up, stage work, scenery, etc. Her phone number is Glenview 3-3311. She'll be glad to talk with you.

For the benefit of our readers, the Detroit-Northwest social security office has listed some frequently asked questions about filing for social security payments.

Question 1: My company has a compulsory retirement plan for those employees who reach age 65. How early should I visit my social security office?

Answer: You may file your application up to 3 months before you retire.

Question 2: I understand that I should file my claim for social security benefits two or three months in advance of retirement, but I have not yet received the birth certificate which I wrote to my home town several months ago. Should I wait until it comes? Suppose it doesn't come?

Answer: You needn't wait. If you file your application for benefits now, your social security office may be able to suggest some other document which can be used to prove your age if a birth certificate appears to be unobtainable.

Question 3: What papers will I need to take with me when I file my claim for social security retirement benefits?

Answer: Bring some proof of your age such as a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, old insurance policy, or other old record showing your age, and your Form W-2 (or income tax return showing your 1958 income.) Also don't forget your social security card.

Question 4: I plan to file my claim for social security benefits two months before I retire. I have my W-2 form for 1958. Will I need any additional information about my wages?

Answer: Yes, be prepared to give us the total amount of your earnings this year up to the time you file your application, and what your expected earnings will be for the entire year.

Question 5: If I retire on July 1, 1959, when does my year start for the purposes of the $1200 which I am allowed to earn?

Answer: The year starts January 1 and ends December 31 regardless of when you retire or file an application.

Question 6: I'm a self-employed grocer. In addition to my birth certificate, what evidence of my earnings will be required when I file my claim?

Answer: Bring complete copies of your 1958 income tax returns, Forms 1040, Schedule C, and a receipt or other evidence showing you paid the social security self-employment tax.

The Detroit-Northwest social security office is located at 18260 Grand River, Detroit 23, Michigan. The phone number is Broadway 3-1717. Contact this office for further information.

United Press International Stereo, which requires two of almost every component in a high fidelity rig, is whetting interest in the do-it-yourself kit.

There is a saving in the kit route to high fidelity and stereo. The only hesitancy in the minds of most listeners about taking it is whether they are up to the do-it-yourself part. But it can be done.

Ken Sanders, who works for United Press International Newspictures, has put together a monophonic pre-amplifier-control unit and a stereo tuner from kits. He progressed to a Knight pre-amplifier and recently completed a Health PT1 Stereo AM-FM tuner.

Sanders started by assembling a Health WSM, 25-watt amplifier.

He got the kit for the tuner on Friday and had it working by Sunday night. All told, he estimates he worked 15 hours. His worst troubles were his own faulty soldering.

Sanders located the troubles easily and after the tuner was operating on both FM and AM, took it to audio engineer James Hunt for an evaluation of his work.

Hunt checked the tuner and reported that both FM and AM sensitivity—the ability to pick up stations at a distance—was good. It received a wide section of an FM channel, which gave it an excellent range, or tone quality.

Furthermore, Hunt said, the automatic frequency control, which is essential on all but the most expensive FM tuners, was effective, the quieting was good on FM and EAST AURORA, N. (UPI)—Francis Nichols, 20, of North Java, took things into his own hands when he realized he was in dangerously fast company. Nichols reached across James Kerwin, 21, driver of the car in which they were travelling, and pulled they key from the ignition, ending a 100 mph police chase.

The only tools required to put the kit together, Sanders reported, are a screwdriver, a soldering iron, a pair of diagonal cutting pliers and a roll of resin-core solder.

As for the actual wiring of the tuner, Sanders said: "Three printed circuit boards make the kit easy to build. I don't think I would have tackled the job of building an FM-AM tuner without printed circuits, because lead dressing is extremely critical in building a tuner."

Lead dressing is the arrangement of wires so that the current flowing through one wire will not affect the current flowing through another. In some cases, leads too close together cause inductive coupling, which sets up oscillation in a tuner.)

The tuner uses 16 tubes—nine in the FM circuit and seven in the AM circuit—two silicon rectifiers in the power supply and two crystal diodes in the AM detector circuit.

Sanders said he's "sold on kit hi-fi because it's cheaper and when I show it off, it gives me a certain sense of pride to be able to say, 'I built it myself.'"

Spring-New Friends Come To Lake Pointe Village

By MARCY BARTSON
GL. 3-6729

Looks like spring is here at last (at least at this writing)! At least the snow has disappeared and with luck it might not be back again until next winter. Little green spots can be seen appearing here and there—the irises, tulips, narcissi and so forth are slowly and bravely pushing their way up into the broad daylight.

Speaking of tulips and all the pretty plants that will be blooming in the near future, it has been brought to my attention that the children going to Farrand School have been using the yards as shortcuts to school. This has caused many plants to become crushed and trampled as it is difficult to see them just coming through the soil. Also, the earth is soft and the constant cut-throughs have left foot prints in many a lawn. Mrs. George Matthews of 41664 Schoolcraft, in particular, pointed out the problem she has been having. Seems like all the children want to use her raspberry patch as a cut-through. Mrs. Matthews says the patch is being badly trampled. Maybe we could instruct the children on a better way to get to and from school without using the yards and farms.

Nadine Heid has been convalescing after a trip to the hospital. Ralph had a busy time running things at home while Nadine was away. She is back home now, much to the children's delight. A few weeks ago Barbara Heid, who is 13, took the train to Grand Rapids and spent the weekend there as the guest of her friend Susan Kettle. That same weekend, Barbara's sister, Ellen Marie, had a week-end guest, Janice Powers at her home.

The Heids also entertained a dear friend, Father Schiller, of St. James in Grand Rapids. As you can see, there is never a dull moment at the Heids!

We have another very charming couple to add to the newcomers list in Lake Pointe, the Stotes of 42261 Brentwood Drive. Lee and Annamarie moved here from Detroit. Lee is from Rockford, Illinois but Annamarie does him one better. She hails all the way from Germany. It is a delight to talk with Anna and listen to her pretty accent she has. Her English is excellent, and this after having been in America only four years. She arrived in the United States after a wonderful voyage on the famous luxury liner QUEEN MARY. She says that she loves travel by ship and plans on another sea voyage on those fabulous floating palaces which ply the oceans. After having seen some of the liners docked in New York a few summers ago, the "MARY" among them, it is easy to understand Annamarie's enthusiasm!

While in New York, Annamarie worked as a nurse in a Brooklyn hospital. Later she acquired an interesting office job where she made many new friends. It was at this time that Lee met Anna. From there on you can see what happened—"boy meets girl" and here we are in Lake Pointe Village! Anna loves to travel (and really has). Swimming is also a favorite pastime.

John and Gladys have three daughters, two of whom are still living at home. Their eldest daughter, Bonnie, is married and has a little son (David) who is just one year old. Carol Ann, who is 15, attends the high school and Sandra Kay, 11 years old, attends the Farrand School.

When John is not busy at the Fisher Body in Willow Run, he enjoys using his workbench at home. Gladys says he has made a very nice cobbler's bench and end table for her.

So you see, Lake Pointe has just acquired more interesting and nice families.

Just heard the news that Paul and Barbara Denski are the proud parents of a very chubby and healthy baby girl. Suzanne, who weighed 9 pounds, 6 ounces at birth, was born on March 23 at the Women's Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mother and baby are both doing fine!

Over on Shadwood Drive is another new family. They are the Dodges who list Flint as their previous town. Gladys is another girl who had to sail across the ocean to finally settle down in Plymouth. She came to the United States as a young child from England, and still has relatives living there, including her father. Just before she and David (better known as John) were married she made a trip back to England.

MES Office Answers Questions About Unemployment Checks

Michigan Employment Security Commission offices in Plymouth and elsewhere are being flooded with calls from people who want to know whether they may draw additional benefits as the result of Federal legislation creating an extension of the Temporary Unemployment Compensation Program for 13 weeks.

"All we can say at this time is that the legislation in process does not provide for an extra 13 weeks of benefits. It merely extends the time for 13 weeks in which current TUC claims may be paid," Max M. Horton, Director of the M.E.S.C. said today.

"First, the Federal law will not become effective in Michigan until it is signed by the President further legislation is passed by the Michigan legislature and signed by Governor Williams. "Under the proposed Federal provisions, only claimants who have valid TUC claims before April 5, which have not been exhausted, will be entitled to benefits, and they, in turn, may draw ONLY enough checks to complete their original TUC entitlement.

"Under no circumstances will anyone receive any more than 13 checks under the TUC plan, including its new extension. Nobody who has received his maximum TUC entitlement will receive any more checks under this program. When the Michigan legislation is passed and signed, we shall give out further information as to those who may receive benefits under its terms," Horton said.

Speaks Vows

THE HOME OF Dr. and Mrs. Harry C. Balfour on Penniman Avenue was the scene Saturday afternoon for the marriage of their daughter Celia Anne Balfour to Clifford J. Blum of Algoma, Wisconsin.

The newlyweds will reside at the University Village in East Lansing where both are students at the Michigan and State University.

All of the 48 states suffer from ragweed which irritates hay fever sufferers. However, the 49th state, Alaska, has no ragweed and hay fever is not a problem there.

JUNE, THE MONTH OF BRIDES will be here before you know it. A distinctive appointment to make your wedding buffet or shower table for the bride-to-be a vision to remember always is the beautiful new Wedding Church Candle designed by the Victrylite Candle Company. The giant white prism candle, decorated with a tall-spired church in blue and gold, and centered in the open Gothic-shaped, gold beaded doors of the church stand the happy bride and groom. Set off by a wreath of greens or flowers at the base, it makes one of the most striking and unusual decorations for a wedding breakfast table or a buffet — or in its attractive gift box, it needs only a card and ribbon to make it a thoughtful and long-treasured gift for a newly engaged friend. Sold separately, Victrylite offers an exquisitely carved, pedestal-style base in white to set off the inspiring simplicity of the candle. # Small Home Air Conditioned By Unit In Basement Window

FANS circulate cooled air to rooms above.

IMPROVED WAYS of using window air-conditioners are being found to overcome the objections of home owners who think the cooling units are unsightly and don't do a complete enough job.

One of the newest systems has just been developed by a Battle Creek, Mich., firm. It involves putting the units out of the way in basement windows and adding a little extra air-circulating equipment. The result: better appearance and a completely air-conditioned house, not just a couple of rooms.

The air-conditioners discharge cooled air into the basement. Small, inexpensive fans then force it through short lengths of duct into the rooms above.

For an average-size house that is well insulated, two air-conditioning units are sufficient. Even one will sometimes do the trick. An air conditioning contractor should be consulted to make sure cooling capacity is matched to a particular home's needs.

The insulation is necessary to keep cooling requirements low enough to be handled by the window units. If six inches of mineral wool is installed in the ceiling and three inches or more in the walls, most summer heat will be kept out naturally. An added benefit is that winter heat will be retained.

The Battle Creek manufacturer says his system is especially well suited for houses with hot-water heating, which do not have heating ducts that can be converted to summer cooling. Air circulation also keeps basements dry.

COLORFUL — Brighten your spring wardrobe with a cowl-collared daytime suit in geranium pink basketweave no-iron cotton. The suit sheds its jacket after five to reveal a shell pink crinkled cotton blouse, curved low at the neckline and tucked into the skirt cummerbund. Suit is Vogue Couturier Pattern 140.

Make Your Own Window Shades From Colorful Striped Sheets

GIVE YOUR ROOMS a high-style decorator flair by using window shades, easy to make from a candy striped combpun percale sheet. Solid color or a floral pattern would be equally attractive. Use the roller from any castoff shade (be sure it's the right width for your window).

To make shades, The Cannon Homemaking Institute suggests that you first measure your window length. Then all you do is tear the sheet in strips to correct width, allowing for 1/4" hems on both sides. Bottom hem should be about 1 1/4". Tack top of shade lightly to wooden roller. Be sure that the material hangs straight, especially if you use stripes. Insert a strip of 1" light wood in the bottom hem to keep shade flat. A brass or plastic ring in center serves as a shade pull.

In a few minutes time, you can create smart window shades that will bring many compliments on your decorating ingenuity.

Odds and Ends For the Homemaker

As a "Happy Homemaker", if you have suggestions to submit for this column we will pay you $1.00 for every one printed. Send your ideas to this paper marked Att: Odds and Ends for the Homemaker.

From Mrs. Mae Kisabeth of 399 Ann St., Plymouth, Michigan; For washing walls without standing on a ladder I use a cord dust mop. I can do a better job just standing on the floor and can reach all around. I wash the woodwork with a cloth using Soliox; I cleaned two rooms in one hour. Press most of the water out each time and use a rinse water, too.

To remove paint from the hands or face rub lard in your skin as you would cold cream. May be used to take paint from floors, too.

French fries will turn golden brown if you add a pinch of granulated sugar to the frying fat.

Sanding will be easier if you wrap a sheet of sandpaper around a padded block of wood.

Beaten egg whites hold their foam better if a little lemon juice or cream of tartar is added before beating.

White spots on mahogany furniture can be removed by spreading a thick coat of vaseline over the spots. Let it stand for 48 hours, then wipe off.

To freeze coconut, crack the shell, remove the meat, and shred. Add a small amount of sugar and the coconut milk. Pack into containers, label and freeze at once.

Add ground ginger, powdered dry mustard, and instant minced onion to canned baked beans. Turn into a casserole, top with bacon strips and bake in a 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until brown.

Add a teaspoon of olive or salad oil to water when cooking spaghetti to prevent sticking.

To keep fish moist while baking or broiling, brush it with melted butter, mixed with a little Tabasco and lemon juice.

Perk up tomato juice cocktails with a bit of crumbled or ground basil and garlic powder. Add to taste.

When you wash your wool blankets before storing them for the summer, dissolve one half cup of moth balls—add this to the last rinse water.

An inexpensive bookcase is made with boards and bricks. Paint or wax the boards and stack, separating them with the bricks.

An After-Church Coffee Denotes True Fellowship

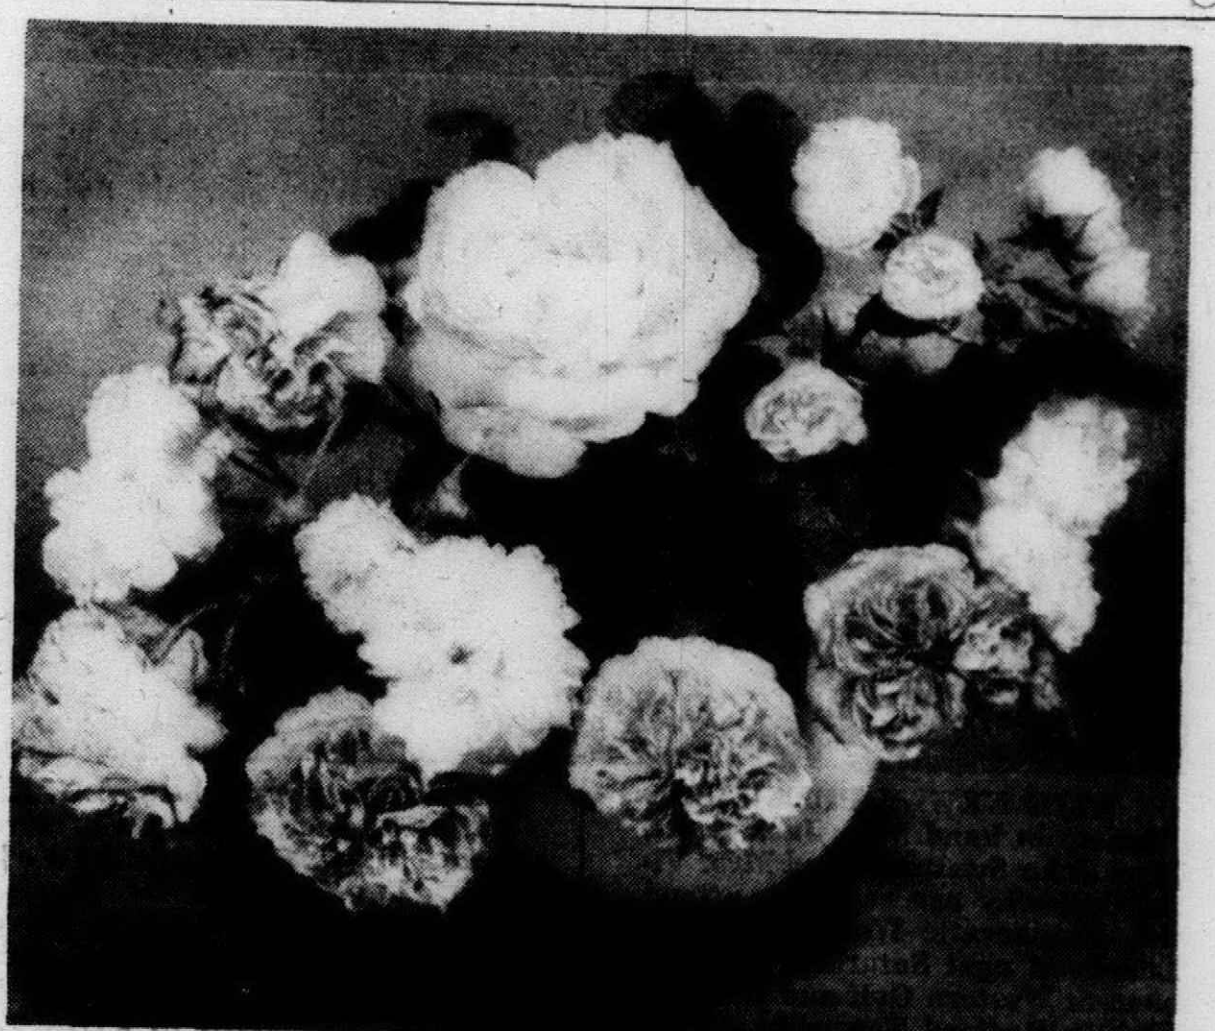

Perhaps the friendliest and happiest moment of the whole week comes after church on Sunday when the congregation files out of church into the sunlight. There, families greet one another and chatter quietly about the spring weather, new spring outfits and growing children. On this heart-warming occasion, a brief after church coffee is certainly appropriate.

The parish house or Sunday school would be the best place to hold it and, for the women of the church, preparing and serving fresh coffee goes smoothly if everyone does her part. Of course, it's always nice to have something sweet to go with the steaming brew... and these Old-Fashioned Sugar Squares are perfect. They're crispy on the outside, soft on the inside and altogether delicious. They can be made the day before, and the cookie committee will be lucky because they're so easy!

A spring coffee is truly gratifying for those who sponsor it and for those who attend. The get-together serves to prolong a few minutes of genuine warmth—and the fragrant coffee lends an air of sociability as no other beverage can.

OLD-FASHIONED roses are noted for fragrance. Some like Mrs. R. G. Sharman Crawford (center) and Grootendorst (right) repeat bloom after their big burst in June.

There's Nothing Like a Rose Garden

New varieties of roses for spring planting are as easy to buy as a bottle of aspirin tablets. Really old varieties take some searching, but are worth it for the special qualities that they can bring to any property.

There's room on any property for some of the best of the old roses. No one would want to bypass modern roses, for flowers are larger and better colored, plants are sturdier and flower over a longer period than the majority of the old roses.

The very first rose to bloom in any garden each year can be any one of several roses which people have been growing for 100 to 200 years. Blooming in May in Connecticut a full three weeks before any modern variety is the pale yellow Rosa primula and right on its heels the deeper yellow Father Hugo's rose (Rosa hugonis). In fact, Father Hugo's rose with its arching branches lined with single yellow blossoms opens with the lilacs. Old Blush, to which the poet Thomas Moore referred as "the last rose of summer," blooms practically all winter in southern California.

Father Hugo's rose blooms only once, in early spring, but it's a perfect shrub with its vasilike outline and clean dark green foliage all summer. Other excellent shrubs among the really old kinds are the Rugosas and the Scotch roses.

Rugosas with their straight spiny stems make an excellent and almost impenetrable hedge. Large, single flowers in white, pink or red appear abundantly in June and intermittently all summer and are followed by large red fruits known as "hips."

Scotch roses, also a fine choice for a hedge or a specimen shrub, have smaller but exceptionally sweet-scented flowers.

Few of the modern varieties of roses can match most of the old ones for fragrance. Fragrant foliage in addition to fragrant white or pink flowers is the recommendation for the elegant or sweetbrier rose. It was brought to this country by the first settlers. Bushes are long-lived and graceful, but the scented foliage is susceptible to fungus diseases and so must be sprayed every ten days.

Most of the old-fashioned roses aren't quite as deserving of space in today's gardens as the old shrub kinds. But a sunny corner set aside for two or three of them will be the sweetest spot on the property in May or June, whenever they bloom in your locality.

Damask (R. damascena) and French or Spanish (R. gallica) are two of the sweetest. In fact, the Damask variety Kazanlik with semi-double pink flowers is the one whose petals have been gathered for centuries in the Balkans to make attar of roses. The French or Spanish rose is often used as a background shrub. Flowers are large, single and dark pink but bushes have a tendency to produce striped or mottled blossoms.

Moss roses, which are small and very double and either pink or white, also are noted for fragrance. They get this name from the furry green covering of the calyx which supports the flower. Crested Moss has less fragrance but more moss, and Blanche Moreau is a white variety grown by the Empress Josephine.

Almost anyone probably would rather spend money for a good modern hybrid tea such as Tiffany or Charlotte Armstrong instead of for the old and very double pink Cabbage Rose. But the old Pink Grootendorst or the red F.J. Grootendorst opens clusters of tiny fringed roses all summer long. Bloom is almost as continuous as on such moderns as Ivory Bashion and grandiflora Starfire.

No Need To Be Tucker

under him to get them off the chilly floor
In an adequately heated, caulked, and weather-stripped house, cold and drafty floors almost always are the result of insufficient insulation, or no insulation at all.
If it's a house built over an unheated crawl space, at least two inches of mineral wool are needed in the floors to help them retain heat. Without insulation, heat is radiated outside and the floors stay cold regardless of the temperature in the room.
In other types of houses which have floors that seem warm to the touch yet are plagued with a chilling, low-level draft blowing across them all winter, the fault lies in uninsulated walls.
These walls are cold, and when heated air comes in contact with the wall, it drops sharply in temperature and falls rapidly to the floor, scudding across it in an unhealthy draft.
This can be remedied with at least three inches of mineral wool in the walls.
Norway has an area of 124,556 square miles. Its peninsula-like country extends to the Arctic Ocean.

Chicken For Every Pot
There's a lot of chicken on the market these days, both broiler-fryer and stewing. The Detroit Consumer Marketing Information agent says that broiler-fryer chickens may be cooked in almost any way because they are young and tender. Stewing chickens are older and should be cooked with moist heat to make the meat tender.

Rich red color and tangy flavor of tomatoes add to any meal - slice them for sandwiches, stuff them with chicken salad for a luncheon main course, cut wedges or cubes for a crisp combination salad. Fresh tomatoes are found in most markets the year round. However, as most shoppers know, there are times when flavor goes down and price goes up. Tomatoes add to any meal.

Teen-Parent Dances in Newburg Area

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GA. 1-2028

We hear so much about juvenile delinquency these days so I guess that head line in my column this week should be a great big emphasis on the activities of the Teen Club that meets every Friday at the Myron Beals Legion hall on Newburg road, sponsored by the V.F.W. post of that hall. I had a recent article concerning this group and now I want to advise you of their forthcoming dance contest (parents and teen-agers). This all begins on April 3 and runs for five successive weeks. Fathers will dance with their daughters and sons will dance with their mothers. At the end of the five week period there will be a judging of the winners for fast dancing and slow dancing. They will be awarded prizes which have been generously donated by local merchants. Two weeks ago, the teen club featured the music of the Rhythm Rockers and the songs by Leon James and all this talent was donated. Eighty-seven teen-agers attended and out of this assembled group, 81 volunteered to bring their parents for the first of the dance contests. The sponsoring group and chaperones are proud to admit, that despite all condemnation of other teen clubs, they feel that this group of young folks are exceptional in every way and that parents should be encouraged to come, and support this fine bunch of young men and women. This writer has been invited to attend and certainly intends to, in order to give you a bird's eye view of a fine teen club in action.

Friends and neighbors of the Newburg area wish to extend their heartfelt sympathies to Mrs. Fred Kellner of Grandland avenue. Mrs. Kellner's husband passed away this past week quite suddenly.

On Saturday, March 22 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Parrish of Joy road, a party was given to honor their son Stephen on his seventh birthday. Besides Stephen's sister Melanie, the following guests were present for games, prizes and refreshments, Jerry and Marlene LaBelle, Mark and Nan LaPointe, Robbie Hoover, John, Robert, Frances and Paul Belanger, Orey VanSickle, Kathy Cody, Sandra Wilcox, Lois and Laurel Kerner and Daniel Glumb. Many happy returns of the day, Stevie.

Guests in our home on Sunday, March 22 for supper were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nida and their children Robert, Gail and Jane of New York, Dearborn. These three youngsters were getting a preview of life at the LaPointe residence as they will be visiting with us for four days of the Easter vacation.

The Community Club, formerly associated with the Patchen school met at the home of Mrs. Robert Pregitzer on Richland avenue, Thursday, March 19. The evening was spent playing Bunco with the following people winning prizes, Mrs. Barbara Brown won third, Mrs. Johnnie LaVeck won second and the evening's mystery prize and Miss Dorothy Blanton won first prize. Others who were present besides the prize winners were Mrs. Lulu Westlake, Mrs. Mae Blanton, Mrs. Edith Gennis, Mrs. Florence Peterson, Mrs. Laura Mendel, Mrs. Margaret Desjardins and Mrs. Eleanor Rucinski. This group's April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Edith Gennis and all members are advised to remember to bring their money for the annual dinner-out.

For the treat of your life, after the busy Easter activities, have dinner out at the Newburg Methodist church's bi-annual event of Smorgasbord a la Newburg. Food of the very finest will be served on Saturday, April 4, at three separate hours, 5 p.m., 6 p.m. and 7 p.m. Many unusual foods, lovely salads, and desserts to tantalize the appetite of the most particular will be on the menu. The church, the oldest in the city of Livonia, is located at Ann Arbor trail and Newburg road so come and bring your friends to see and partake of foods that will be displayed in such a manner as to rival that of the famous Stockholm restaurant in downtown Detroit. Call this reporter if you wish to reserve your tickets. Do it early to be sure of getting yours.

'Singing Cop' At Salem Rally
 The counselling he often does. Lieutenant Legree believes in the saying that "Boys and girls brought up in church and Sunday School are seldom brought up in court." He has been with the Flint Police Department for twenty-three years and is in charge of the Child Safety Division with traffic safety supervision over 35,000 youngsters in public and parochial schools. He is the director and producer of his "Singing Cop" radio safety program which is in its fourteenth year over radio station WFD-Flint.
 The Flint police officer is recognized nationally as an expert in school traffic safety. In church circles he is one of the most sought after soloists in the north central section of the United States. He is known nationally through television and radio programs.
 The public is cordially invited to attend this special service.

Tall Tree
 PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Ernie Kolbe, chief forester for the Western Pine Association, has come up with a hybrid ponderosa tree. His tree, five years old, stands about 15 1/2 feet tall. Ordinary ponderosa pines of this age would be about knee high, Kolbe reports. His fast-growing ponderosa has been crossed with a Jeffrey pine from California and is growing in the rich ground of an old chicken yard.

Sales Pitch
 MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The Wisconsin Restaurateur, a trade magazine published in the nation's "beer capital" of Milwaukee, suggested recently that restaurateurs might try not giving their customers a glass of water as soon as they sit down at the table.
 The publication said this would afford diners with a chance to "learn the satisfaction of a refreshing glass of beer."

Overweight Can be Fatal, Molner Warns

Start the Spring season with a determined resolution to bring your weight to near normal if you have not already achieved this fortunate state. Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City-County Health Commissioner, suggests. Now, more than ever before physicians caution against the health hazard of extra pounds.

Last year in Detroit, diseases of the heart and other parts of the circulatory system were responsible for almost half of all deaths. In addition to these, other conditions which are aggravated by overweight include diabetes, high blood pressure and kidney diseases. Overweight causes excess fatigue, lack of poise, accidents, shorter life span and reduced working ability.

Trim your figure the safe and easy way. Visit your doctor; he will determine whether or not there is any disturbance associated with your weight problem. When he gives you the go-ahead signal, work with him and stick to it.

Remember that it took time to accumulate these excess pounds and it will take time to lose them safely. When you eat more food than your body needs, overweight will result. To cut down on what you eat is the only way to reduce. No advertised reducing pills, fad diets, health foods or exercises alone will do the trick. Don't try to fool yourself.

The following are some "do's" and "do not's" which will help you to lose weight:

1. Avoid between meal snacks, including alcoholic beverages, soft drinks, candy, potato chips, pretzels and other similar foods which are very high in calories but low in food value.
2. Use lemon, vinegar or low calorie dressing on salads in place of the usual type of salad dressings.
3. Omit adding sugar to your fruit or fruit juices — use sugar substitutes.
4. Omit salad dressing or mayonnaise from sandwiches.
5. Trim the fat off meat.
6. Bake or broil food instead of frying it.
7. Avoid sweet spreads and gravy.
8. Eliminate heavy or whipped cream.
9. If you drink tea or coffee, take it without cream or sugar.
10. Avoid using fat as seasoning when you prepare food.
11. Select from the so-called basic foods — meat, fish, eggs, enriched or whole grain bread and cereals, milk, fruits and vegetables.

Pick the Men, Not Party in Township

As the April 6 elections approach, one thought that should strike every thinking citizen is the folly of "partisan" government in our big suburban townships.

In at least three different Wayne County townships where this newspaper circulates, there has been great huffing and puffing among "Democrats" and "Republicans" to persuade voters to go a "straight ticket" on Monday.

And since we are familiar with the issues in each place, we say the entire partisan approach is dangerous. If ever there were places where the situations cried for voters to split their tickets and pick individual men, it is in these townships.

Some townships, incidentally, currently have incumbent "Democrats" administrations and some have incumbent "Republicans." The difference is one of label only.

The only objective for a voter in these extremely difficult government complexes should be to select the individuals most able to think their way through the snarl of tax equalization laws, sewer district laws, street and road engineering, competitive bidding, the powers of township under state law, and on and on.

What Jefferson or Lincoln had to say about the subject was nothing. They were talking political philosophy, and it still is a vital subject, but it has nothing to do with the day-by-day administration of tough, hard legal and engineering problems.

Township government, in the suburbs, is one where elected civilians try to do the jobs that in most non-partisan communities are handled by college-trained "managers" or civil service experts.

Not only does the appeal to party "patriotism" create the danger that some less-than-qualified candidates will sneak into office on the straight ticket, it is crippling to administration once the election has ended.

A township official today holds office for only two years. The first year, for a newcomer, can only be one of learning a strange and technical job—how to evaluate and make basic decisions. By the time the second year has arrived, the "opposite party" already has begun to throw political bombs in anticipation of the next election.

When that phase arrives, all decisions, however fundamental right and sound, are weighed in terms of voter approval and disapproval, not in light of merit. Then is when the "do nothing unpopular" philosophy of office-holding stalls progress.

So, too often, there is the pattern of do-nothing the first year in office, because the officials don't know how yet, and do-nothing the second year, too, because it might cost some votes.

In at least one township nearby, a couple of "Republicans" have joined with a couple of "Democrats" as a slate of "qualified" officials. They are trusting that their appeal of competence will sway more voters than would a pitch for straight party loyalty. We hope they succeed.

Elsewhere, we urge all voters to inspect their candidates, man for man, irrespective of party. Then choose the most capable and those with the most integrity, and save their party "discipline" for the state and federal levels, where general political philosophy has more meaning.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: What are proper dating ages? I am a boy of 18 and I date a girl of 15. She looks and acts 15 or 16. She is fun to be with and I would appreciate your opinion on whether it is proper for me to continue dating a girl so young in years?"

Ans.—There's no etiquette rule that makes it "proper" or "improper" to date a girl who is five years younger than you. But practical common sense shows that you'd be wiser to date a girl nearer your own age. Five years' difference isn't so much, later in life, but in the teens, there's too much difference between your social and dating experience and hers.

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: I am a boy of 17 and go with a girl who is 15. I like her very much and she seems to like me. Recently her mother has objected to our going out together, although she has no objections to me personally. She gives no explanation. Could you advise me on what to do?"

Ans.—It sounds as if this girl's mother doesn't want her to "go steady." She might think you see each other too often or that her daughter is getting too serious or else she wants her to know and date more than one boy. If you want to try to keep on dating her, avoid appearing to "go steady."

Handwriting Is a Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams: I think I'd like to get into selling. Nothing in particular but I feel it would be interesting and I wondered if my writing would show any ability in that field.

Dear J.B.M.: You have some very good points for selling and with an interest already there you should be a good one.

You show diplomatic ability and this is very essential. How to handle a delicate situation or a very rough one is not easy.

Also you have a flair for showmanship and a good sense of humor along with a tendency to like to talk. These all add to selling.

You are a quick thinker and have a good memory. There's no temper and you're not very sensitive. I can see no reason why you wouldn't make a good salesman.

Dear Lucille: I want to get married but my folks think I'm too young and not ready yet. I'm sure I'm as ready as I'll ever be and I wondered if my handwriting would show anything to convince them I'm capable of making up my own mind.

Dear Mary: I don't know your age but parents aren't always wrong. They're just thinking of your welfare and future. However, as far as your handwriting goes I'm not sure you'll be happy with the results.

In the first place you are highly emotional and express yourself quite openly. You are also very sensitive, overly so, to the extent that any criticism would upset you, irritate you and probably send you into tears.

You show no desire for responsibility and have no liking for routine. In fact, you like to be in many things, real active, and show your line of variety to be practically a state of confusion.

None of these things add up to the makings of settling down to a routine life of responsibility, good judgment and mature thinking. Sorry.

Dear Miss Williams: What does my handwriting reveal to you? I am curious after reading your column off and on and decided to write to you myself.

Dear Larry: You are a slow, careful thinker using good logic and good judgment in all that you do. Your mind is well organized and there is a time and place for everything and you feel that "first things first" is most important.

Your memory is very good, every little detail is carefully worked out and planned. You can talk with ease and show ability to put an idea across. You stand behind your ideas and believe in what you're doing.

You're not very liable to change your mind once it's made up. You're philosophical and have a good imagination.

Michigan Mirror

Postive 'Sell' for State

AN AMBITIOUS CAMPAIGN to sell the unlimited advantages, opportunities and resources of Michigan is underway.

Two hundred outstanding business, industrial and civic leaders, members of Michigan's Industrial Ambassador Corps, are the shock troops. The support of all citizens will be enlisted to help them.

Merritt D. Hill, general manager of the Ford Motor Company's Tractor and Implement Division at Birmingham and chairman of the Ambassadors' Executive Committee, is spearheading the drive.

In view of the unfavorable publicity about Michigan which has been appearing throughout the nation, Hill points out that the need for positive action in selling Michigan is urgent and that every effort must be put forth to do the job as quickly as possible.

"As citizens and as Industrial Ambassadors," he declared, "it is most important that we take a positive approach to the unfavorable situation, do all we can to correct it, and get the picture in its true perspective."

"Michigan, at this moment, is the most maligned state in the nation," Hill said. "The state's problems have been magnified all out of proportion," he continued, "and Michigan has made a 'spectable' of itself before the rest of the country because of 'partisan politics.'"

"We have hurt ourselves in the eyes of others 'for some very selfish, short-range motives,'" Hill stated. "In becoming so engrossed with the techniques of 'back-alley in-fighting,' we appear to have almost forgotten how to take a constructive approach to economic problems."

Michigan citizens should keep in mind that the need for a good economic climate will always be with us, the Ford executive emphasized, "whereas the political personalities, the party lines and programs will undergo constant changes."

Hill said it is vital for everyone to vote and "we must preserve and defend the right to speak freely" on all issues.

However, it is also part of our American heritage that "United we stand, divided we fall," Hill said. "Many in Michigan, it seems, have forgotten that saying."

Michigan has so many things to be proud of that its people "have more reason to walk with a swagger than any Texan I ever met," Hill reminded.

"If a Texan had this kind of ammunition, he would shoot off like a 21-gun salute," he said. "But we Michiganders tend to sit on these facts and wait for them to hatch, we should take a lesson from the rooster—and do more crowing and less clucking."

The Muskegon Chronicle praised Hill's address. "The blast that came from Mr. Hill, in regard to the way the state has been managing itself, was music to our ears," the Chronicle said. "Nobody can accuse him of grinding anybody's political ax, for one side or the other."

"He said a lot of things that were honest and right. His statement... was one that certainly needed to be heard."

The Industrial Ambassadors will hold their first general meeting of 1959 at Bay City April 22 where they will participate in the launching ceremonies at the Defoe Ship Building Yards of the biggest Navy ship ever built inland in this country.

Once their program gets rolling, the Ambassadors will act as a "sales division" of the Michigan Economic Development Department to help promote Michigan inside and outside its borders and correct inaccurate impressions about the state which have been widely publicized recently.

"We must keep politics out of our program and recognize the fact that selling the state is a continuous job," Hill said. "We can't wait for everything to be as we would like to have it before we start out to do a selling job. There will never be a time when everything is 'all right.'"

Members of the Industrial Ambassador Corps represent a cross-section of the state's economy. They come from all parts of the state and belong to both major political parties. Members of the Executive Committee are Dan Karn of Jackson, president of Consumers Power Co.; Abbott Fox, president of an Iron Mountain lumber firm; Dwight Stocker, president of the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Co.; William M. Defoe, executive vice president of Defoe Shipbuilding Co.; Earl M. Johnson, well-known Houghton Lake resort operator; T. Chalmers Curtis, president of a Petoskey bank; W.H. Schuette of Midland, general manager of a Dow Chemical Co., and David Smucker of Detroit, president of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Railroad.

Talbert Abrams, Board Chairman, Abrams Aerial Survey Corp., Lansing; Carl Bonbright, retired industrialist, Flint; Edwin O. George, Vice President, The Detroit Edison Co., Detroit; John N. Lord, President, Lee & Cady, Detroit; E. C. Zagelmeier, President Michigan Pole & Tie Company, Newberry.

'Life Begins at 40'

GOLDEN AGE clubs are a phenomenon of our decade. Prior to 1950 there weren't more than a handful in the entire country. Today there are thousands of them serving the social needs of our mushrooming numbers of senior citizens.

It's relatively easy to start a golden age club. Four years ago I helped launch one in the community of 50,000 population. Many people in the area had observed the need for such an organization. Ministers had particularly mentioned the boredom of inactivity facing the elderly in their flocks.

To get the ball rolling the local YMCA offered one of its rooms as a weekly meeting place for senior citizens. Notices were sent to all churches announcing the formation of the club. About a dozen oldsters showed up for the first meeting, at which time officers were elected and plans made for the future. The membership soon grew to fifty and members began talking about a clubhouse of their own.

A vacant store was found near the downtown area. The rent was a hundred dollars a month. Members of the club decided to assess themselves dues and in this way raise part of the rent. Then letters were sent to several dozen well-heeled citizens in the area stating that contributions were needed to help establish a community clubhouse for people 60 years of age and older.

Sure enough—enough money was raised to assure the clubhouse rental for the first year.

You should have seen those seniors pitch in and work. This was their club and they were determined to make it click. They covered the floor with linoleum tiles, papered the walls, painted the woodwork, installed a gas stove, and turned the front window into an attractive sales display of handcrafts made by members.

They had a grand opening with free refreshments which attracted several hundred people, and ever since the clubhouse has been an important center in the community. It's open every afternoon from one to five, with rotating committees to take charge of the premises and plan programs. Dues and expenses are kept to a minimum, and extra funds are raised as required by holding chili suppers and canasta parties.

CLUBS FOR older people add immeasurably to the satisfaction of senior citizens. Although most of these clubs are social and recreational in purpose, some have developed a deeper purpose and, by offering educational programs and engaging in charitable projects, have stimulated members to a greater sense of usefulness and personal worth.

F. S. Adams of Petrolia, Ontario, was in town Tuesday and rented the Wherry building near the post office where he plans to operate a harness shop. He expects to move his family here soon. At the election on Monday there will be at least two tickets in the field. One of these is expected to be favorable to the proposition of building a village hall and the other opposed to the same.

The proposition to raise $2,000 to be added to the amount already in the building fund for the purpose of erecting a village hall is to be voted on next Monday. To raise this amount it will cost the taxpayer but thirty-five cents on a one hundred dollar assessment. Thus if your place is assessed at $500 it would cost you but one dollar and sixty-five cents.

Last Sabbath morning the pastor of the Presbyterian church made the pleasant announcement that the Ladies Society had paid the entire indebtedness of the parsonage in full. A matter for much congratulation.

In a paper printed in Detroit and circulated around the township and also by many of the townspeople the name "lower town" has been applied to the portion of the village contiguous to the D. & L. and N. railway station. Now, as a resident of that portion of the village I would like to ask in what sense the word "lower" is used. It certainly is up grade all the way to the north and if the inference regards the citizens who live in that area a comparison is solicited. No idle wood whittlers will be found sitting around in the part of the town as everyone is too busy making an honest living. Let's call this portion of our village something else. The name just don't fit, signed ONE OF THEM.

Mrs. Ida Huston Relates Canton Township History

By ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL. 3-0194

As you read the column this week, Easter will have come and gone, but not forgotten. Chocolate bunnies (without heads) are on the table, and daddy will be eating colored Easter eggs in his lunch for the next week, but then we hope you had a very Happy Easter.

I had a very pleasant call from Mrs. Wesley Morton of Michigan Ave. in the Township. Mrs. Morton called to tell me about some very interesting pictures they have in the family of some of the Township firsts. I have been invited to see them, and will try to describe them to you just as soon as I can visit Mrs. Morton. Mrs. Morton stated her father-in-law, Alfred Morton, now deceased, was born in the Township, and attended the Walker School, located in Canton.

The club (2) are honorary members and help the fellows keep their club house in order and help with the refreshments on meeting dates. The parents of all the fellows have honorary membership cards and are to be consulted when difficulties arise which the fellows cannot handle. Last Saturday the group held their first celebration with money from their treasury. They honored Mrs. Ella Cross on her birthday. It was their way to show their appreciation for the use of the building they call their club house. She also gave them curtains for their club. The fellows had the club-house decorated and a big sign which read Happy Birthday. They served pop and potato chips. They also had balloons hanging from the ceiling which Mr. James Julien, a local merchant gave them when he heard of the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. William Russell of Cherry Hill have house guests, Mr. Russell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of New Buffalo, Pennsylvania.

Miss Janet Spigarelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Spigarelli of Beck Road is home for Spring vacation from her classes at Michigan State.

Mr. and Mrs. George Aton of Brookline, proudly announce the arrival of a new son, born March 20. The newest member of the Aton family has been named Anthony Ray. The Aton's have two other children.

Mrs. Rose Smith of Canton Center Rd., spent Easter weekend with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schaffter and children. The Schaffter family live in Mt. Eaton, Ohio.

Mrs. Ervin Franklin of Gude Rd., called on behalf of the coming Town Hall Meeting, to extend a special invitation to all of Canton Township residents. The purpose of this meeting is to keep the voting public informed, so they can go to the polls April 6 and vote intelligently. Canton Township will be represented at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Rafferty of Willard Rd., just returned from a pleasant visit with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rafferty and family in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

We have almost reached the limit of information available from the history book, with the exception of three biographies of men prominent to this Township. After our formal history, we hope to relate experiences and memories of some of the residents.

Orlando R. Pattengill—resident of the township of Canton, was born February 24, 1824, at Stowe, Vermont, and is the son of Clark and Abigail Pattengill, who were also natives of Vermont. He received his early education at training in the common schools of his native state and in New York, and when he was 16 years of age began working his own way into the world, gaining that self-reliance and practical knowledge of business which is the foundation of success. He spent the years between 1837 and 1845 in the State of New York, and in the Spring of 1845, when 17 years old, he came to Michigan and worked on a farm for four years, at the end of which time he began teaching, and taught for 14 terms. He took up the occupation of teaching in order to obtain money to pay for a farm, which he had purchased the year he had attained his majority. By teaching in winter, and working the farm in summer, by economical habits and hard toil, he succeeded in clearing his farm of encumbrances, and then turned his attention to making it profitable.

In September 1862, he was married to Ann Agnew of Farmington. They had one child, a daughter named Cora. Mr. Pattengill was a member of the State Legislature in 1871-72, and for the last 18 years had been secretary and Deputy Treasurer of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Monroe and Wayne Counties. He had been a School Director for 20 years or more, and has served as Town Supervisor for three years, beginning with 1887, and was the first Republican to fill that position since the town was organized—a fact that indicates far better than words, his popularity among his fellow townsmen. The township is strongly Democratic. He is also a member of the Wayne County Jury Commission, being appointed to that position by Governor Luce, in the Spring of 1889. He has been a director of the Plymouth National Bank since its organization.

Mr. Pattengill, a man of unquestioned integrity is respected and esteemed by all who know him. His farm is a model in every respect indicating the strict and orderly methods of its owner, and showing that his labor and perseverance have been well rewarded. So went the biography of Mr. Pattengill as stated in the history book.

I had a very pleasant surprise last week, and became acquainted with a very charming lady. I received a call from Mrs. Ida Huston, wife of the late Leon Huston, who was the grandson of John Huston whose biography I related a week ago from the history book from which so much of my information has been supplied. Mrs. Huston has difficulty in hearing over the telephone, so we arranged a visit for Saturday, March 28. I was greeted by a very spry and friendly lady who made no secret of her 80 some years. We had our visit in a very cheery living room overlooking Main Street in Plymouth, and we sat in rocking chairs, which Mrs. Huston stated she and Mr. Huston enjoyed sitting in and viewing the activities and traffic that passed their window over the years. Mrs. Huston explained that Mr. Huston passed away March 11. She told of 46 happy years of marriage to Leon Huston and spoke proudly of their children. After some conversation, Mrs. Huston explained that she had two children, a boy and a girl by a previous marriage and after the death of her husband and several passing years, she married Leon Huston, who had five children. She spoke of all the children proudly and couldn't say enough about their thoughtfulness toward her. Mr. Huston was 89 years old at the time of his death. Mrs. Huston stated that she had read my article about her husband's grandfather, and had thought perhaps I would be interested in some more information.

Mrs. Huston said the original Huston homestead was one mile east of Cherry Hill Rd. on the south side, and in late years was known as the Galloway place. Her husband's father, Robert Huston, had his home also on Cherry Hill Rd., now belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Longwish. Grandfather John Huston took his home from the government, which consisted of 40 acres. Mrs. Huston also remarked about the name of Hugh Clyde, a dear friend of John Huston, whose words, Mr. Huston had said. She stated that Mr. Clyde was the first person buried in the Cherry Hill cemetery on Ridge Rd. Mrs. Huston then showed me the Huston family Bible, which showed records of the marriage of John Huston and Laura Bentley. The Bible also recorded the deaths and births of members of the family. The Bible had been published in 1843, and recorded the death of John Huston as July 5, 1902. The Bible had belonged to Amanda Huston and upon her death was given to Leon Huston. Next, we viewed a very old picture album and Mrs. Huston pointed out a picture of Mr. and Mrs. John Huston. Grandfather Huston (as Mrs. Huston referred to John Huston) wore his hair in a length that touched the ears, sort of a page boy style, plus a mustache and beard. Mrs. Huston (Laura Bentley), was a tall slender person and in the picture wore a small cap, trimmed with a small light feather that tied under the chin. She wore a long full skirted gown with a white ruffle at the throat, very simple in design. We viewed many other pictures of persons long ago, the men wore mustaches and beards, cut or formed in very detailed design. The ladies' hairdos were somewhat similar to our present day haircuts and their dresses, of course, were ankle length, some very fancy, but for the most part quite simple in line. Then Mrs. Huston proudly pointed to a picture of her late husband in his youth. The picture portrayed him as a very handsome young man. Next, I was shown a newspaper picture, which had been framed of Mr. Leon Huston and some of his neighbors, who had given a party in his honor on his 80th birthday. Some of the persons in the pictures names are familiar to our Township. There was Mr. and Mrs. Galloway (now both deceased), Mrs. Walter Wilkie, Mrs. Jane Burdell and Mrs. Vera Losey. Mrs. Huston showed me other pictures and proudly told me about a very wonderful person, Mr. Huston's mother. Mrs. Huston related the fact that she came from Ohio, and has two grand-daughters living in Canton, Ohio. Mrs. Huston went on to remember making candy and told of the candy molds she still has in her possession. She recalled moving from the city to the farm when she married Leon Huston, and related how hard it was at first to get used to country life. She and Mr. Huston lived on Cherry Hill, the present George Longwish farm, when they first married. She remembered the time that the Longwish barn burned and her husband went to help re-build it just because it used to be the old homestead. She recalls a street-car that used to run down Michigan Ave., between Ypsilanti and Detroit and that its regular stop was on Denton Rd. She spoke of families that are very familiar names to me and who are still in the Township. She stated that the West children and Huston children were playmates. She spoke of the Allen Bordines and how dear the Fred Palmer's were as friends to her husband. She told me her husband had expressed a desire to have certain men for his pallbearers, and that all had been able to carry out his wishes, except Percy Gotts, who was deceased, but whose family still resides on Ridge Rd. in the Township. She said the pallbearers were: two West boys, John Root, Walter Wilkie and Austin Wipple. She related the friendship of her husband with some members of the Stein family who own the Stein Florist in the Township.

Mrs. Huston said they had 20 grandchildren and 26 great grandchildren on the Huston side, and two grand-daughters on her side of the family. Mrs. Huston said her husband had been laid to rest in the Cherry Hill cemetery in Canton Twp. and went on to say that the cemetery was "chucked full of Hustons".

Our conversation then turned to just pleasant talk and Mrs. Huston showed me some beautiful embroidery work she had just completed and was sending away as a gift. She told of the squirrels that had visited their porch from the park in front of the High School to eat the nuts she and Mr. Huston had fed them. Mrs. Huston was not too enthusiastic about television or radio, but rather enjoyed her rocking chair overlooking Main Street. Before leaving Mrs. Huston received a call from her step-daughter who was checking on a date they had for Easter Sunday. I felt that I had known Mrs. Huston for a long time. I have never been so comfortable with a new acquaintance before. I wish to thank Mrs. Huston for her interest in our efforts in securing Canton Township history.

A last minute reminder of the Talent Show being held

April 4 at 7:30 p.m. at the Geddes Rd. Town Hall. Let's make this a success by coming out and cheering for the best amateur talent in the show. Refreshments will be on sale.

We have a little change in the ticket sale for the Boy Scout Pancake supper being held April 8, at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church. Although the Boy Scouts of troop 298 will be selling tickets and would like to have you buy them ahead of time, Mr. Leffler, Scoutmaster, informs me that tickets will be available at the door, so come out and help the boys earn their summer camping funds and at the same time enjoy a delicious supper of pancakes and sausage.

For a toe-tapping, hand-clapping good time, come out April 10 to the Superior Township Hall and help make the Cherry Hill PTA square dance party a big success. I'm busy doctoring my corns so as to take a few steps myself. Mr. Leffler called and expressed a desire to increase the membership of the Canton Community Club. Since the group are now sponsoring the three phases of scouting, the Cubs, Explorers and Scouts, it will involve a lot of work and help from the Community Club. New members are being sought. There is a $1.00 initiation fee and a monthly dues of 25 cents. The group has one business meeting a month and one social gathering each month. From all reports they have a splendid time and at the same time derive a satisfaction from sponsoring a fine organization as the Scouts. All Township residents are welcome to join as well as anyone interested in the community in scouting.

Be writing again next week, and please circle the dates that are so important to groups in the Township and don't forget to vote April 6.
