

Merchants Move Outside For Sidewalk Sale Fun

Thirty-three Plymouth stores— with "bargains that are too hot to handle inside"—are moving their wares outside this Friday (Aug. 14) for a Sidewalk Sale that is expected to draw throngs downtown.

Coordinated by the Chamber of Commerce, the Sidewalk Sale will take on a carnival atmosphere from the time it opens at 9 a.m. until closing time at 9 p.m.

The store owners are moving tables out to the sidewalk and will sell their wares along the store fronts and curbs.

The event is another in a series planned by merchants to give shoppers a change of pace and to make shopping fun. A few months ago they held a "Midnight Madness" sale that, despite a rainstorm, flooded the downtown with people and cars so thick that police were called in to direct traffic.

Friday's sale will again offer outstanding bargains. These bargain items, some of which are advertised in a two-page spread in this section, will be brought out to the sidewalk counters. The stores, however, will remain open for normal selling.

To help provide more fun for the shoppers, many clerks will be in costumes. Free favors for kiddies will be offered by merchants and the Chamber of Commerce will be selling popcorn.

Co-chairman of the event are Bernie Morrison of Famous Stores and Stan Kirsch of Fashion Shoes.

Here are the stores involved in the sale:

Cassady's, Bob's Paint Spot, Minerva's, D. Galin & Son, Blunk's, Willoughby's, Kresge's, D & C Store, Fashion Shoes, Famous Stores, Craig Shop, Davis & Lent, Linda Lee, Pease Paint & Wallpaper, Kades, Grahm's.

Also, Plymouth Men's Wear, Papes' House of Gifts, Cadillac Drapery, Plymouth Hardware, Saxton's, Fisher Shoes, Beyer Rexall Drugs (Forest Ave. store only), Evans Furniture Co., Western Auto, Singer Sewing Machine Co., Photographic Center, Breneman Toys, Melody House, Dunning's Terry's Bakery, Pixie Shop and Maddy Music.

PASSING MOTORISTS do a double take when they see the garage door of Mr. and Mrs. Don Back who live on Robinwood Drive in Lake Pointe Village. Painted in red letters on the door are "HIS" and "HERS." They strictly follow the signs too since Mrs. Back wants nothing to do with making the jog that Mr. Back must follow to get in his side of the garage. Mr. Back is a sales representative who travels much of the week. "I pile the junk on his side too," Mrs. Back admitted. Passersby often stop their cars and back up to look down the driveway at the lettering — words that many had not seen since indoor plumbing became the rage.

Dogs: No. 1 Complaint

While a dog may still be man's best friend, it doesn't necessarily mean that he is a loving buddy of all the neighbors too.

That is one of the conclusions reached this week in a look at the "dog problem" which is steadily growing into one of the chief complaints received by public officials in the Plymouth community.

Plymouth Township hall officials say that they receive more complaints about dogs than any other type. And the city police department finds that its dog complaints at least are equal in number to any others.

After scanning the daily report sheet at the Plymouth police department, one can hardly find a day that at least one complaint isn't received about a dog. During the seven-day period from August 4 to 10, for instance, there were five complaints about roaming dogs, one dog bite reported by a physician, a howling dog, a report of a dog foaming at the mouth and two dogs reported missing. (also a cat bite.)

One can almost conclude that dogs cause more animosity between neighbors than any other one thing.

Many residents obtain dogs without realizing their responsibilities. "The kids pester the parents for a dog and finally the parents give in," Police Chief Kenneth Fisher declared. Often the parents relent after children promise to take care of their dog.

Unfortunately, children aren't conscious of laws concerning dogs and many parents fail to realize their responsibilities.

Both Plymouth city and township have up-to-date dog ordinances. It is, however, a big task trying to enforce them.

It is relatively easy to enforce the portion requiring all dogs to have a license and to obtain their rabies shot each year.

But both ordinances specifically state that all dogs must be confined to the owners' property and when on public property, they must be kept on a leash. If all dog owners obeyed this part of the ordinance, trouble would be negligible.

Many dog owners argue that "it isn't right" to confine a dog to a small yard or keep it on a leash. Some ignore the law and allow the dog to roam.

Others are part-time offenders. They confine the dogs during the day but let the dog out for an evening run.

And, of course, there are many dog owners who obey the law to the letter and conscientiously try to keep their dogs confined, although they may escape at times.

Plymouth Township Clerk Fred L. Miller points out that many complaints come from the owners who confine their dogs. "They call and complain that they have their dogs confined but that dogs belonging to some neighbor is running loose. They wonder why that law should apply to them and not their neighbors," the clerk added.

The township has a part-time dog warden whose salary is paid from dog license fees. He is sent out following a complaint and tries to round up the dogs.

In the city, the police department is responsible for dog ordinance enforcement. Since dogs can run several times faster than humans, it is not uncommon for the stray dogs to be blocks or SHOULD A DOG be kept fenced in? No, say many dog lovers who ignore the law and allow their dogs to roam. Other owners keep their dogs confined but it may take some expensive fencing. It's all part of the problem of owning a dog nowadays.

Much of 50 Years Of Married Life Devoted to Public

Fifty years of married life will be celebrated this Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strong of Plymouth — a couple that has devoted so much of their time to public service that the city commission has adopted a resolution honoring the pair.

The Strongs, who live at 1251 William St., will be married 50 years next Wednesday, but their sons and daughters are arranging the celebration for this Saturday at their home.

Married Aug. 19, 1909 in Coldwater, the Strongs have given much of their 40 years in Plymouth toward city and school administration, Boy Scouting, church work and other organizations.

After graduating in 1907 from the University of Michigan with a civil engineering degree, Mr. Strong went to work on the Soo Locks with the title of "inspector." They were building the new locks at that time and the young engineer was given the difficult task of making hydraulic computations. A series of compensating gates was being placed across the St. Mary's River which were to control the level of Lake Superior.

After two years of computational work, Mr. Strong's formula was applied to the construction. When the Strongs visited the locks recently, an engineer pulled out the original computations and added that they are still being used.

In 1919 and 1920, Mr. Strong was the city engineer for Sault Ste. Marie. It was in 1920 that Plymouth was in need of a city manager. Plymouth was one of the early communities to have a city manager and Strong was Plymouth's second. At that time many city managers had civil engineering backgrounds.

He held the city manager's job until 1927 when he was transferred off into the engineering field again, working for various agencies. From 1944 to 1954 he worked for the Wayne County Road Commission. Though he retired from the county job, he still

Builder Still Seeks Water

The piece of Plymouth Township land that last year brought about the petition to incorporate part of the township as the City of Plymouth Heights is back in the spotlight again.

Located on the city's eastern edge and owned by the Garling Construction Co. of Dearborn, the property is still without water facilities — and this is what has been the source of trouble.

An attorney for Garling, F. J. Keppen, appeared before the Township Board last Wednesday night with the announcement that Garling now has a verbal promise from the city to furnish water for the proposed subdivision.

Since Plymouth Township now has a water department of its own, he was seeking the board's approval for bringing city water into the township.

(In a policy approved several years ago, the city commission decided to deny a further extension of water outside the city limits unless a water main goes past the property. Commissioners have not changed this policy but Manager Glassford said that because part of the Garling land is in the city, it may consider granting the water.)

Keppen asserted that the parcel contained 78 building sites in the township and 25 in the city. Because of the lack of water, he added, Garling has been unable to develop the property with a million dollar investment.

Supervisor Ry Lindsay explained that Garling was not the only one with a heavy investment. The township too, has over a million dollars tied up in their water development and that the township is now "on the brink" of being able to supply water to the entire district.

When the township is ready to supply water to the area, the supervisor declared, the township does not intend to have its water customers turn to the township with the rate the water would cost and a decision would be reached.

It was a year ago last spring that Garling, in an attempt to obtain water, started negotiating and he could return to the township with the rate the water would cost and a decision would be reached.

Keppen's request to appoint a representative to sit down and discuss the problem with a city representative.

He told Keppen that it was his job (Keppen's) to do the negotiating and he could return to the township with the rate the water would cost and a decision would be reached.

Planning for the trip was one of the items on Monday night's meeting agenda — a meeting that had no vital decisions to make but at which there was considerable discussion on a variety of subjects.

The board decided that it will make itself available this year to any parent

4-H Fair Opens Gates Tuesday

Dozens of Plymouth area 4-H boys and girls will be taking part in the Wayne County 4-H Fair that opens its gates next Tuesday, Aug. 18.

The fair offers the opportunity for 3,000 4-H members of Wayne County to exhibit their workmanship in their respective projects.

The fair is the nearest thing to the old fashioned "County Fair" that Wayne County has. A large share of the exhibitors are youngsters from Plymouth and Canton Townships.

To reach the fairgrounds from Plymouth, one can go south on Canton Center and Belleville Roads to Tyler (one mile south of Ecorse Rd.), turn right and then left on Quirk Rd.

There will be exhibits of 150 riding horses, 50 head of beef cattle, 30 head of dairy cattle. Also swine, rabbits and poultry. In addition there are exhibits in field crops, vegetables, flowers, handicraft and electrical, baked goods, clothing, conservation and gun safety.

Visitors at this year's fair will see some substantial improvements since last year. A new small animals building was donated and constructed by the Belleville Kiwanis Club. The popular dining hall will contain a remodeled kitchen and people entering the gates to the fair this year will be greeted by two entrance pillars of sandstone that have been built in memory of Chester Tuck, one of the charter members and founders of the Wayne County 4-H Fair.

Nightly entertainment will be held in front of the grandstand. These shows will be consisting of a magician and trained horse act on Wednesday night; Thursday night will be the best acts of the 4-H Show and the Fun Festival of Wayne and nearby counties.

Many amateur actors and members of 4-H Clubs. Friday night will be a talent show and Saturday will be the annual

"WHITE MAGIC" was all it took for Mrs. E. P. Light, of Sheldon Road, to win the first prize - Flowerbox Division - in the Garden contest sponsored by the Plymouth Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Here she points out this particular variety of petunias to Mrs. Edwin Zipse, president of the association, who awarded her a $25 savings bond. These boxes and several containing the pink "Dream Girl" were viewed by four judges on Monday, in an auto tour of Plymouth garden spots. Mrs. F. L. Ledinsky, of 11803 Priscilla Lane, also won a savings bond for her beautiful flower garden. Second in that division was Mrs. Alfred Conery and two honorable mentions were Mrs. Earl Gray and Ross DePencier.

NEWS BEAT

HITS HOME: Things were bad enough when Michigan Bell reported to police that receivers from four pay telephones had been snipped off their cords last weekend. They were in booths on Penniman, in the Central Parking lot and two on Forest Ave. But the thieves added insult to injury when they also swiped the receiver from the emergency police-fire phone in the Central Parking lot. The phone is connected directly to police headquarters.

DEER SIGHTINGS: A resident of the Haggerty Rd. and Ann Arbor Rd. area reported sighting a deer Thursday morning. On Saturday morning, Jess Tritten, 41840 Ann Arbor Trail, found deer tracks all through his garden. "I go up north to hunt every year," Tritten declared, "but maybe I'll stay in my own back yard this year."

FIRE RUNS: Plymouth Township firemen have been busy during the past week but damage has been minor. On Aug. 7, a coal space heater chimney on the second floor of the Smith Wheeler home, 14373 Sheldon, started bed clothing a fire. Smoke was heavy but damage was only $20. An oil space heater was plugged at the Raymond Layman home on Riverside Dr., causing smoke but no damage. And a trailerload of trash headed for the township dump was somehow ignited. Firemen extinguished the blaze, then the hapless trailer owner found the dump closed.

THEVERY: Begging Olds reported that the trunk of a used car was pried open last Saturday and that a wheel and jack were missing. At Stadnik & Shekell, there have been several reports of vandals using some sharp instrument to scratch the finish of cars in the parking lot.

JOBS OPEN: Applications are being accepted at the city's Fire Station No. 2 for fire volunteers. Chief Kenneth Fisher says no experience is needed but that the age limit is 21 to 35.

National Bank Extends Hours

New longer banking hours are being established this week in the suburban offices of National Bank of Detroit, including the Plymouth, Ann Arbor Road-Harvey, Grand River-Eight Mile, Plymouth-Cranston, Plymouth-Deering, and Novi offices in this area.

The new hours which are now in effect are: Monday through Thursday, 9:30 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., and Friday, 9:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. This provides more banking hours each week to conform more closely to the shopping habits in this area, the bank said. No change was made in the hours of the offices located in Detroit.

practices civil engineering on a private basis. Mr. Strong was one of Plymouth's early scout leaders. He started in 1915 at the Scout and in 1922 organized Troop 21 here. It is still in existence. He has held most of the high-level Scouting jobs and is now special field commissioner of the Sunset District.

He is perhaps best known today as chairman of the City Planning Commission. He has served on the commission since it started in 1938 and has been its chairman for the past dozen years. There's probably no tougher job in public service than sitting on a planning commission. There is no pay.

Mr. Strong has also served in many capacities at St. John's Episcopal Church and was a charter member of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

Mrs. Strong also has performed her share of public duties. She sat three terms (nine years) on the board of education and was the first woman to serve as president. (The current president is the second.)

She has served on the city election board for 20 years and is still a precinct board chairman.

Mrs. Strong also was one of the organizers, was a regent and treasurer of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She is also a member of the Garden Club and has been the president.

The Strongs have five children and 17 grandchildren. The children are Alan Strong, Mrs. J. Rusting Cutler and Mrs. Ralph Taylor, all of Plymouth; Richard Strong of Duluth, Minn., and Edward Strong of St. Joseph.

The following is the resolution adopted by the city commission:

"WHEREAS, SIDNEY D. STRONG has served this city and community faithfully and well in many capacities, nearly forty years, as Manager, a member of the Planning Commission, a volunteer leader in Boy Scouting and as a member of innumerable committees organized to advance city, community, church and school development, and

"WHEREAS, he has given unstintingly of his time and efforts without hope for personal gain or aggrandizement, and

"WHEREAS, such time and effort could never have been made available without the wholehearted support of his wife, Alice V. Strong, and

"WHEREAS, this city commission, on behalf of this community, on the occasion of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary, desires to recognize the contributions to this community:

"NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this City Commission, on behalf of the citizens of this city, on the occasion of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary, extend to Sidney D. Strong its appreciation for faithful service toward the improvement of this community.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City Commission recognize the part that Alice V. Strong has taken to assist in such service.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Sidney D. and Alice V. Strong be congratulated upon the momentous occasion of the celebration of their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary on the Nineteenth day of August in the year nineteen hundred fifty nine, and that their happy union be blessed many more years to come."

several farms away before the warden or police arrive. "Usually upon first complaint, we warn the dog owners," Miller, asserted. "If there's another complaint, the dog is picked up and held for four or five days until the owner claims it. The owners must pay $4 for the dog's release. If the dog isn't claimed, it may be destroyed. Attempts are made, however, to find a home for the valuable dogs."

In Plymouth Township there are 835 licensed dogs—one for every third household. The city of Plymouth has 666 dogs licensed, one for every four homes.

Miller explained that many township people formerly lived in a city where they postponed having a dog until they had more space. So they move into the township where they have bigger yards—but the ordinance is just as strict as in a city.

The township clerk also said that there are many ordinances, dogs cannot even annoy persons passing by. Undoubtedly the people most familiar with the dog population are the postmen. Postmaster George Timpona reported this week that the year has been unusually good for postmen and the dogs they face. "We've had only one man bitten this year and it wasn't anything serious."

The post office reserves the right to discontinue delivery if a dog threatens the postman too much. Timpona reports that this has been done in Plymouth.

Chief Fisher, a dog owner himself, said that when there is a dog bite, doctors are required to notify police authorities. If the dog is vaccinated, it is not impounded but the owners are requested to let

JOE BOBRITE

IN PERSON AT

Berry & Atchinson Pontiac
874 W. Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth
Tuesday, August 18

Watch the lightning-like draw—electrically timed at 1/17 of a second in national competition—that earned Bobrite his title. This is the expert who taught many western film and TV stars—including the famous Hugh O'Brian (Wyandott Earp)—how to shoot and handle guns. In addition, Bobrite is recognized as a foremost expert on gun safety—proper handling and firing methods. At the dealership, Joe will demonstrate several speed drawing and firing techniques, re-enact a number of famous western duels, give some of the audience a chance to match their speed and reactions against his. We're sure you'll find this one of the most fascinating and informative exhibitions you've ever witnessed. Don't miss it!

Tourney Winds Up Junior Golfing Season

Followers of the professional matches at the Meadowbrook Motor City Open will witness no more serious golf than those who watched the Juniors at Hilltop Monday and Tuesday. The two-day tournament was the wind-up of the Junior Golf League season.

Novice Ron Peck emerged from last place in his flight to become the champ by carding two hot games, a 46 and 47 Monday and wearing down his opponent on the seventh hole in the finals Tuesday morning.

In the girls' division, Linda Griswold demonstrated that steady application and determination can make a winner. After having been knocked down by beginners the previous two years, she came through to win the girls' championship.

Both first and second flight contenders were evenly matched, making for tense competition. Barry Corwin revealed a potential undefeated in league play to win First Flight with a 54-56 series. The Second Flight provided the most exciting match of the tournament.

Both matches went sudden death in the second round with Terry Holt and Gerry Scott dumping their adversaries. Then Tuesday morning Scott brought in a 54, his best round of the season, to win the flight.

In the third flight, Bill Resch played two strong games, going on to overcome a determined opponent to win the oscar.

Barbara Bender rose as the dark horse of the group, after taking a bye and downing her opponent in the semi-finals, she played a 67, unbeatable when combined with her handicap to win the girls' First Flight. As a beginner this year, her previous season low was 80.

Cold damp weather held down the tournament scores generally, with John Augustine's 43 holding up for low medalist.

Although Linda Griswold earned the girls' low medalist, the award went to Sandy Pentecost in accordance with Michigan Amateur cannot receive awards of $3. For this second award, Linda received a certificate.

In the consolation flight, Doug Breed came in with his season's low—a net of 36 to edge out Doug Graham's 37.

Rummerups also received trophies. In the championship flight (boys and girls) were Bucky and Kate Zornow, brother and sister. First Flight, Jim Eder and Sue Tichy; Second Flight, Terry Holt; Third Flight, John Park.

Tournament walkers were Dennis Golbesky, Gary Wilson, Mike Knapp, Ken Morrell, Tom Carmichael, Mrs. Corwin, Bred, Zornow, Tichy, Light, Otwell and Scott and Mr. Graham, Eder and Webber.

Here are the league awards, presented by Bob Dwyer, representative of the Jaycees:

Boys Low Gross: Champ. Fl., Augustine and Graham (tie) 39; 1st Fl., Light, 47; 2nd Fl., Beck, 49; 3rd Fl., Resch (certificate), 59; Ron Becker, 63.

Girls Low Gross: Griswold (cert.), 48; Sue Reas, First Fl., Sandy Fielden, 63.

Boys Low Net: Champ. Fl., Graham (cert.) Otwell, 1st Fl., Joe Light (cert.), Gary Fuelling and Jeff Griswold, 2nd Fl., Bred (cert.); Harry Halverson, 3rd Fl., Donny Burleson.

Girls Low Net: Champ. Fl., Mary Tess Newingham, 1st Fl., Sue Tichy (cert.); Jane Vallier.

Point Winners: 7 weeks, Joannie Reas, 17; Bob Kreitsch, 13½; Six Weeks, Graham (cert.), 12; Fisher, Jeff Scott, Five weeks, Resch (cert.), Tom Fletcher, Cathy Walker, Four weeks, Griswold (cert.), Jim Ralston.

A list of bills, totaling $7314.62, was approved for payment on a motion by Mr. Norman, supported by Mrs. Holmes.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 1

Mr. F.J. Due to lack of more specific data, the matter was tabled, pending receipt thereof.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 2

The Board authorized the purchase of playground equipment, costing $780, for the park site at Lake Pointe Village. Moved by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Norman, carried unanimously.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 3

A request by residents of Lake Pointe Village for street lighting was discussed with a delegation of citizens, who recommended that the matter be tabled, pending further study.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 4

After discussion by the Board, it was agreed that the new assembly room in the Township Hall shall be available, without cost, for meetings of recognized and registered civic organizations. Moved by Mr. Miller and supported by Mrs. Holmes, the motion carried without objection.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 5

On a motion by Mr. Sparks, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the request by Allen Heights Baptist Church for permission to erect a tent on Haggerty Road and conduct revival meetings from September 20 through 27 was granted.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 6

AGENDA ITEM NO. 7

The request from Richard E. Porteous and William Schebel to transfer the ownership of SDM license from Anthony and Eleanor Skierski, 39420 Schoolcraft Road, was approved on a motion by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Sparks. Carried unanimously.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 8

Following clearance by the Sheriff of Wayne County, the request of Chris Burghart, 47000 Powell Road, for a new official permit to serve food in conjunction with their 1959 resort tavern license was approved by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Norman.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 9

After discussion by the Board, the request by Fire Chief Howard Holmes for insurance to supplement workman's compensation for injury of firemen while on fire calls was granted on a motion by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Mr. Sparks.

AGENDA ITEM NO. 10

A request by Automatic Alarm Co. for permission to install a hold-up alarm panel in the fire station for the purpose of relaying alarms to the Sheriff's office was tabled, pending receipt from the Company of agreement with certain stipulations relating to limits of responsibility on the part of the Township.

On a motion by Mr. Sparks, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the following resolution, not on the agenda, was unanimously adopted:

"RESOLVED THAT the Township of Plymouth Board, recognizing the need for (6) six inch diameter house connections, from sewer to street property line on Gold Arbor and Southworth Streets, between Ann Arbor Road and Ann Arbor Trail, an estimated quantity of four thousand (4000) lineal feet, as provided in Proposal No. 2 of the contractor's itemized bid sheet, does hereby request that the Board of Wayne County Road Commission, as contract and paying agent for sewer project S-206, release sufficient funds from the uncommitted balance of our $750,000 bond issue to defray the cost of the above sewer installation."

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 9:58 p.m., on a motion by Mr. Miller, supported by Mrs. Holmes.

Heading the advanced Junior League this year were Mrs. John Zett and Mrs. Wilson Augustine, co-chairmen. Mrs. Charles Griswold was in charge of walkers; Mrs. Bruce Richard, registration; Herbert Woolweaver, advisor; Chris Burghardt, professional; and Art Griffith, field coach, who was awarded a trophy for his three years of work. At 83 years of age, he is still at work.

SEASON ENDS PLAYOFFS SET

The Merchants league regular baseball season rolled to a close Sunday with the local squad falling to the Teamsters 17-0, before getting ready to start playoffs.

Monday, the day after losing to the Teamsters, manager John Schwartz drew the Teamsters for the first round of double play. At the Monday night meeting all the managers were present, as they all drew their opponents.

Pitching was the downfall, again as in the past, of the Plymouth team. Three hurlers were called upon, but none of them could stop the onslaught of hits and runs.

Ken Kisabeth, the first Plymouth pitcher to throw, was hit, as manager Schwartz put it, "like they owned him."

Kisabeth lasted three innings and then was replaced.

Plymouth was able to collect only four hits for the afternoon's session. Two of these were by one of the relief pitchers, Shephard.

This Sunday (August 16) will be the first day for playoffs and will find Plymouth traveling to Northville to battle the Teamsters. South Lyon will journey to Rouge to play River Rouge. Redford drew the bye.

August 23 is set for the second round of playoffs as this time Rouge drew the bye, Plymouth playing host to the Redford Merchants and the Teamsters tackling South Lyon.

Here are the final standings for the league:

River Rouge	15	0
Teamsters	11	4
Redford	9	6
PLYMOUTH	4	11
South Lyon	4	11

CLASS A CHAMPIONS for the '59 season were the Beglinger sponsored team. The deciding game, for the title, was played Thursday night with Chevie Spring and Bumper. Members of the team (front row l-r): H. Piscopink, G. Newton, B. Gow, B. McKay and D. Paffell. Back row: J. Dobbs, H. Sommers, B. Stout, N. Barrett, O. Turner, G. Strut and J. Lowes. They topped Chevie by one point, 4-3.

Recreation Ball

Beglinger's, the team with the breaks, won the title of class A champs Thursday night as they dropped Chevie in a close match, 4-3.

As of late, Beglinger's has been referred to as the team with the breaks, due to some of their lucky plays.

Chevie collected seven hits in the seven innings of play, but was unable to push more than three of them home for the money. Beglinger's, on the other hand, managed only four hits and from these tallied four runs.

All of Chevie's runs came in the sixth inning. It was at this same time they collected the majority of their hits, four, for the evening's work.

Scoring for Beglinger's was in the third and fourth innings. After the fourth marking frame, Beglinger's collected no hits.

Both C and D softball teams suffered losses in the first round of district tournament play on Monday evening.

Cloverdale's in class C was defeated by Allen Park, 3-1, while Box Bar dropped to Monroe 7-3. Both teams are scheduled to play Wednesday night in the second round of double elimination action.

Tuesday and Friday night (August 18 and 21) have been set for the rained out games that are yet to be played in class B ball, reports supervisor Mike Hoben.

Here is the schedule that he released:

TUESDAY (August 18)
6:30 C.C.C. vs. Goodale's
7:45 Centra-Spray vs. Rattlers
8:15 Protest game between Rattlers and Gould's, played from the point of protest.

FRIDAY (August 21)
6:30 Rattlers vs. Goodales
7:45 C.C.C. vs. Bill's Mkt.

Due to lack of time there will not be playoffs in the class B division this year.

D and E Baseball

Tournament play is the action that has greeted the D and E league ball follower since Monday.

The tournament play is slated to continue until this afternoon when it comes to a close.

Plymouth had two teams place in the second position in both of the leagues. In the D selection it was the ELK'S and in E league MILT'S COFFEE SHOP.

Both teams fared well in Monday's and Tuesday's play, with Monday being extra inning affairs.

The Elks dropped Dearborn Monday 8-2 and then another Detroit team Tuesday, without as much trouble as was encountered at first.

Milt's Coffee Shop pulled the first game of the fire on pitching talent and luck. They won 8-7 in extra innings as did the Elks. Tuesday was a different matter, as they made short work of Allen Park 2-1 in a contest that made many a baseball fan happy to watch.

Builder Still Seeks Water

(Continued from Page 1) A petition to have the property annexed to the city. A petition to incorporate the eastern half of the township into a city was hastily filed with the Wayne County Board of Supervisors and approved. An election last February approved the principal of incorporation and a charter commission was elected.

Until the incorporation election is held and only if it is defeated, can the Garling annexation petition be considered. The deadline for holding the election is February 1961.

Other business before the board included:

The request to install a hold-up alarm signal panel in the Township Fire station was tabled by the board pending further investigation. The request was made by a commercial company for Thunderbird Inn, and the company would be responsible for the installation.

The alarm would have to be relayed manually by the fireman on duty to the sheriff's office. Other establishments in the area are also interested in the installation.

The question of the extent of the liability of the township in relaying the message was one point the board wished clarified. A representative of the Alarm System Company will be invited to the next meeting to answer the board's questions.

A workman's compensation supplement for the firemen of the township was discussed and tabled for further in-

Recreation Swimming Ends

The inter-city recreation swimming program came to an end last Friday with Plymouth capturing the meet, followed by Thurston.

A large group of parents, friends and swimmers gathered at the Thurston pool to watch the schools compete. Plymouth topped the gathering with 83 points followed by Thurston with 75, then Redford Union, 62 and Belleville with 40.

Scoring was odd due to the fact that Bentley was plagued with last minute bus trouble and couldn't attend.

Last week Thurston took the meet and left the local swimmers ten points behind. This last win gives the Plymouth swimmers four wins in the five starts for the summer.

Three schools took part last season, swimming a home and home series to account for Plymouth's six wins.

4-H Fair Opens

(Continued from Page 1) Annual 4-H Horse Show where 160 4-H club members will participate in the showing of their pleasure horses. Each night at 7 o'clock there will be a parade of livestock, horses and equipment through the grounds. The annual plowing contest will be held on Saturday afternoon, August 22.

The annual charcoal broiled chicken barbecue will be served Sunday afternoon and evening.

The largest farm machinery show of this year will be in connection with this fair, where 15 implement dealers will have one exhibit and full line of tractors, self-propelled combines and other farm and home tools. For greater entertainment of course there will be the usual well selected rides.

There is no admission charge, except parking fee.

School Board to Take Look

Monday night the board agreed to tell the property owners that there still is nothing concrete at this time. The board, however, has indicated that it wants to decide as soon as possible so that work on a bond issue can start this fall.

Board member Peter Zystra reminded the board that it was 60 days ago that the board told residents bordering school property along Adams St. that they would be notified about the possible purchase of their land.

Letters had gone out to the property owners asking them to quote a price on their property in case the high school premises would be expanded. Several appeared two months ago, wanting to know when the decision would be made, for they felt they could make no improvements or sell their land to others while the purchase is

GARDEN NOTES

We, like you, are subjected to a tremendous amount of advertising copy, claims and mumble jumble. We feel that the accompanying ad is offered in all sincerity by O. M. Scott & Sons. It is of course a means to get you to use Scott products on your lawn, but on a no risk basis.

Scotts, like we have tried to do with most of our customers, is emphasizing the importance and economy of a program. Just like maintaining an automobile, a lawn needs regular care — regular care is always cheaper than letting it go until you have a major problem or overhaul.

Now is the time to get started on your fall lawn program. The best 30 days of the year for lawn building are August 15th to September 15th. Be ready, start today!

SEVEN HOURS of careful work are invested in this beautiful cake and with all the other wedding preparations for her daughter's wedding, it was a busy time for Mrs. Steven Klepack. All the work on this unusual hobby was done in the Klepack home on Marilyn in Plymouth. The decorating alone took four hours. Mrs. Klepack, who is a graduate of the adult education cake-decorating course, used a silver white cake recipe, then used star and rose tubing for some of the effects. Sugar molds were used for the swans at the cake's base. The Klepacks have four other children and will soon be celebrating their silver wedding anniversary. Mrs. Klepack hopes someone else will be official cake-baker for that occasion.

Couple Say Vows In Nuptial Mass

Wedding vows were said August 8 by Miss Josephine Klepack and Mr. R. Duane Nimke of Ann Arbor in a nuptial mass conducted by Father Francis Byrne of Our Lady of Good Counsel. A papal blessing was bestowed upon the couple.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Klepack of 9486 Marilyn in Plymouth, wore an embroidered nylon gown with a collar length veil. Her bouquet was of orchids, white gladiolas and mums in a cascade form. She was given away by her father.

Serving as Matron of Honor was the groom's sister, Mrs. Jean Shrope, in a gown of embroidered blue organdy. Blue and white carnations with white roses formed the nosegay she carried.

Cousins of the bride, Carol and Carolyn Klepack of Royal Oak, and Beth Mattson of Eastern Michigan, attended the ceremony. The groom attended Eastern Michigan. Their future home will be in Plymouth.

Barnum-Bateman United In Kalamazoo Ceremony

Miss Mary Lou Barnum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barnum of Grand Rapids, and Dr. William Thomas Bateman of Kalamazoo, were wed in a double ring ceremony on August 8 at North Park Presbyterian Church. Rev. Robert Treney officiated.

Bateman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bateman of Belleville, formerly of Plymouth, is a resident of Kalamazoo.

... was a Plymouth High School graduate. The bride wore a floor length silk organza gown with a sabrina neckline. The side panels were embroidered and she chose white embroidered gloves. Her veil was white tulle, held in place with a seed pearl crown. A pearl choker and earrings were the only adornment. Carrying a cascade bouquet of white carnations, surrounded by lemon leaves, green ivy and lily of the valley, she was escorted down the aisle by her father.

Mrs. Ethelyn Brennan, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, with Barbara Born and Mrs. Robert Bloom as bridesmaids. Pamela Bedecs was the flower girl.

The matron of honor wore a waltz-length, sabrina neckline gown of turquoise with a cummerbund and bow in the back. A turquoise picture hat and shoes completed the outfit. The bridesmaids' dresses were identical. With a lace jacket over nylon organza, white shoes and white flower clip headband with veil, the little flower girl was a miniature bride.

Assisting the groom as best man was his brother, Robert. Other attendants were Rev. Gilbert Smith, Frederick Noziger, Charles Barnum, Richard Rust, Richard Elzerman and Dr. Jack Brown.

James Bennett sang "O Perfect Love" with Raymond Dempsey at the organ.

Mrs. Barnum chose a beige sheath dress with cap sleeves and beige accessories. Mother of the groom, Mrs. Bateman, wore rose lace with a gored skirt and black accessories.

The wedding reception, attended by the 300 guests, including more than 150 out-of-town guests, was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. Assistants at the reception were Mrs. Milton Thomas, over-all consultant; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morse, guest book, and Mrs. Mitchell Lamb, cake. Miss Norma Howatt, Mrs. James Bennett and Mrs. James Dorr served. Mrs. Richard Bennett and Mrs. Winsted Reid attended the punch bowl; and Mrs. Robert Bateman, the gifts.

The new Mrs. Bateman is a graduate of Creston High School and Western Michigan University. Dr. Bateman attended Adrian College after his graduation from Plymouth High. His medical degree was awarded by the University of Michigan.

To Women It May Concern

By AGNES PAULINE

Myra Cox asked me to write a column for her while she was on vacation. At first I hesitated until she said I might write about the library, and this I was happy to do because library work brings a variety of interests.

But first of all if I may personalize a little, all of us at some time in our lives are indebted to others and I am indebted to so many. To mention but a few—The Wayne County Library System that made it possible for me to spend many happy years in the library field. The City of Plymouth and the city fathers for their understanding of the needs of our community and allowing the funds to provide the outstanding book collection the library offers. The Plymouth Mail for the fine publicity they give us to make the library an important part of the community. The privilege of knowing Mr. Hough. The years I worked with Mrs. Murray, who headed the library for so long and whose warm personality gave the library a friendly home-like atmosphere. I hope we never grow so large we lose the personal contact with our patrons.

The Library field is uncrowded and the work presents a challenge, but offers great satisfactions. From my own experience there is no greater privilege than working with people. Young people preparing to go on to college and thinking of the future might as well investigate the possibilities. There are public libraries, school and college libraries as well as special libraries for industry etc., and many branches of overseas work. There is a demand for trained personnel. If you make a comparison of salaries and fringe benefits you will find they compare favorably with those of other professions. Several of our young people that used the public library and others that have worked with us have gone on to library school—Joan Bennett, Virginia Larkin, Lois Hoenecke, Betty Schumacher Gazvoda, now special librarian for Jam Handy Film Producers and Nancy Brannon Moran, head of Children's Work for Wayne County Library.

This past year we participated in several programs. One of the most outstanding was Michigan Week. We were responsible for Heritage Day and asked to have tools, clothing, pictures and mementoes of early Plymouth brought to the library for exhibit. Everyone cooperated so generously. Karl Starkweather came in with quite a few pictures among them several he hoped might be identified. Mr. Stevens, as many of you know, is 93 years young and when Karl showed him one of the pictures, he studied for a moment, then calling the young woman by name said, "I haven't seen a picture of her in 75 years," and he was serious. I think we all benefited by "Our Heritage Day" and it was great fun.

Each day we have our bits of humor. Just last week several little boys came in and asked for the coin books and they held quite a conference around one of the tables. Later one little fellow came up to the desk to check out a coin book, and I asked him "Do you collect coins?" and he said, "yes", with his eyes sparkling and I said "Oh, do you have a coin collection?" and he replied very seriously, "Yes! I've had one all last week."

Also the little fellow so cute with a speech impediment who asked for a book about—, We couldn't understand the word even when he repeated it twice so in order to pin it down we asked, "What does it do?" and very disgustedly he replied "It builds nests and flies."

And then from the mouths of children words that snap your ego and bring you back to the world of reality, like the little girl that put her arm around me and said "Oh! Mrs. Pauline, you look so nice, your hair always looks so nice, every hair is always in its place. You will have to tell me the secret so I can look young when I grow old."

During the last few years we have had many staff changes due to promotions, transfers etc., however soon we hope to have a more permanent arrangement. Mrs. Osgood left when her husband was transferred to Arkansas. Helen Richards is staying home to take care of a new baby girl. Ludean Earnest is librarian at Kauai, Hawaii. Ren Garypie is in charge of Inkster branch, Nancy Moran is with our headquarters staff. Lillie Walker has been with us temporarily and we regret she will be leaving Sept. 1st when Marie D'Augustino will transfer from Wayne to be the children's librarian. Mrs. Worth is with us full time since completing work on her degree, so the familiar faces should be with you for some time.

Rail Employees Have Reunion

The annual Mid-Summer Picnic of the old employees of the D. J. & C. Electric Railway that ran through Plymouth for many years will be held at the pavilion at Prospect Park in Ypsilanti on Sunday August 16. A basket lunch will be served at 1:30 p.m., followed by a very short business meeting and the balance of the afternoon will be spent in renewing old friendships. The Plymouth cars left the main line at Wayne and ran to Northville where they made connections with the Orchard Lake division. Many of the older citizens of Plymouth will remember Bob Ingersol, Charles Thumm, George Groth, Paul Groth and Charles Westfall, some of the older operators of the cars.

Revoked Licenses

For the second week in a row, the list of Michigan drivers who have had their licenses suspended or revoked has decreased. According to James M. Hare, secretary of state, the licenses of 198 Michigan drivers were suspended or revoked compared with 421 during the previous week.

Revoked from the Plymouth area was the license of Jerry D. Bunton, 154 Union, for "unsatisfactory driving record."

By GEORGE SPELVIN

While in Wisconsin a few weeks back the TV tube menace was brought home to old George only too dramatically. Often times when visiting the wife's relatives on this gigantic 400 acre farm, her Dad and I would pass a leisure moment or two out on the back porch. The back porch was anything but elaborate. Just a set of steps actually. It was the view that made up for the mundane porch. As far as the eye can see... rolling hills, cultivated fields, clumps of wooded areas, and finally twinkling in the distance... the lights of the town, Virginia.

Sitting out on the back porch with my father-in-law, the stillness of this farmland seemed to reach out and talk to anyone that wanted to listen. Here was peace supreme. In the distance one could see the raucous city lights of Viroqua. They suggested the tawdry pleasures of the city. Out here all was quiet, serene, and restful. Philosophers love moments and places of this nature. Here is when true metaphysics can hold sway.

Even dear, old Dad has moved from his philosophic spot on the back porch to a rocking chair in front of the tortuous tube. His eyes are now glued to the 17 inch screen as the adult westerners unfold before his bucolic orbs. His wisdom is silenced. No longer am I treated to what the farmer's side of the picture might be politically or how the "crops" are coming. His lips are sealed by "This Is Your Life" and "I Love Lucy".

The next time I come up to the farm I've promised the wife that I'm going to wire ahead to the local TV repairman to pay a call to the farm. To fix the set? Don't be silly. I'm paying the guy to silence the beast that has invaded the privacy of a back porch that I dearly loved. Let's hope that we get a new repertoire of those fond memories when conversation and meditation was a lost art.

Leaving the world of TV for a moment, let me confess that two movies have captured my attention—"Ask Any Girl" and "The Nun's Story". When these films arrive in town, plan to leave the TV set or your local back porch to view these Hollywood products. David Niven and Shirley MacLaine romp playfully through "Ask Any Girl". You can figure out the story after the first five minutes, but then the storyline is only incidental to the fun. David Niven, Gig Young, and Shirley have a "ball" throughout and you will too when you see the show.

"The Nun's Story", currently finishing up its 7th week at the New York's Radio City Music Hall, is a quality movie from beginning to end. Producers of this movie went on location to Africa with their people.

Of course, this doesn't guarantee a good movie going on location, but it all helps. "The Nun's Story" has Audrey Hepburn in the role of a nun and her acting job is tops. Plan to see both of these movies for some interesting summer motion picture fare.

"Waltz of the Toreadors" ended the regular summer season of plays over in Ann Arbor for the University of Michigan players. The Blackmans and the Kellys from the Plymouth Theater Guild were over and indicated they enjoyed the production. "Waltz" is a provocative show that demands more than following the plot of the show. You have to think about what the characters are saying, especially during Act I... scene 1... as they discuss man's relation to his soul.

Only a continental playwright such as Jean Anouilh could combine all the elements of farce, comedy, and philosophy in a play that sends you out of the theater with a light heart and your brain stirred to the thinking point. Hope our local Guild people that saw the show will consider including this play some year in their schedule.

We talked about "Room at the Top" last week, the darling English movie that is showing at Detroit's Studio theater. Yet all the controversy is raging over "Lady Chatterley's Lover" (currently at Detroit's Surf Theater). This movie has been banned in New York until just a few weeks ago. Strangely enough "Room at the Top" packs more dialogue dynamite than "Lady Chatterley's Lover". My advice is save your money and buy the book put out by the Grove Press if you want the genuine article. And after you read the book, you'll probably say "Now why did they have a ban on that book?"

Well, time to pack away the scenery for another week. See you in seven with more from Broadway, locally and the New York version.

Swim Lesson Is Job For Expert, Not Dad

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — Springfield College swimming coach Charles E. Silvia says Dad shouldn't give Junior his swimming lessons any more than he should be in charge of filling his teeth.

They are both jobs for an expert, says Silvia, a 45-year-old professor of physical education and a former president of the National Swimming Coaches Association.

It's his opinion that intellect plays a major role in swimming instruction and that "the intellect cannot play this role unless the instructor is qualified and able to provide the student with the proper basic knowledge."

Silvia just doesn't think that parents can provide their children with such knowledge. He points out that many subscribe to the theory that the best way to teach swimming is to duck the child under water right at the start.

The result, says Silvia, is that "all too frequently, the student's progress and adjustment to the aquatic environment is seriously retarded."

His own approach, he said, "is to provide each beginning swimmer with basic understanding of the subject."

"All non-swimmers can be taught to swim more quickly and more completely when the instructor provides the student with the WHY of certain movements," says Silvia.

"The results of instruction that have stimulated the student's mind are much more gratifying to the student as well as to the instructor, when the intellect plays a major role."

Silvia, who directs a swimming school for children here during the summer, advocates the use of artificial supports in the water "to reduce apprehension and enable the student to practice conscious control of the hands and feet while in the water."

It is the practice at his school to introduce teaching aids such as waterwings, the kickboard and swimfins in the first lesson. He says that with these "the emotional involvement on the part of the student is reduced, and the role of the intellect is increased."

Silvia advises fathers that the chances of making Olympic swimmers out of their sons and daughters are pretty slim if they're not taught by a professional, explaining, "Unless a parent is completely familiar with the proper execution of stroke techniques, he can establish in the mind of his child the incorrect techniques. Later, a professional swimming instructor will not be able to change the student."

Silvia sums it up this way: "No parent can be all things to a child."

THIS IS IT!

Sawdust Gaining New Importance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sawdust, the lowly leavings of lumbering, is getting up off the floor. Once recognized only as the stuff you walked on in the butchershop, saloon and restaurant, it is becoming an important by-product of tree farming.

In its new uses, sawdust has taken on many disguises. One example is the briquette, produced by compressing sawdust under heavy pressure into large log-like pieces for both home and industry fuel use. Sawdust also is the main ingredient of plastic wood utilized for patching purposes. Graded sawdust in recent years has found new use as fiber for board products, and increasing use is being made of sawdust as filler for saturating felt, asphalt shingles and the like.

Researchers have found that sawdust is a good mixer. This has enabled it to become a partner in such products as concrete and sawdust (instead of sand); cast products and sawdust, including tiles, fire bricks, shingles, plumbing ware and floor marble; gypsum compositions such as interior partitions, floor and wall insulation, wall board and roofing materials.

Other little-known uses for sawdust are as packing material for grapes and other goods in transit, in the manufacture of such articles as dolls' heads, and as an absorbent.

The Republic of India produces three-fourths of the world's supply of sheet and block mica. India also has workable coal resources estimated to total 20 billion tons.

Washtenaw County Treasurer Wm. F. Verner was notified last Thursday that the State Tax Commission had denied appeals by Salem and Ypsilanti Townships for a larger property tax. Verner, chairman of the Washtenaw County Tax Allocation Board, said the commission denied the appeals at a meeting held in Lansing at the end of July. As a result of the decision Salem Township will be able to levy a maximum property tax this year of .59 mills on the equalized valuation of property in the Township.

Both Salem and Ypsilanti townships had hoped to raise their allocations to at least one mill of taxing authority by appealing the final county allocations to the state Tax Commission. Louis C. Nims, chairman of the State Tax Commission, said the commission decided to deny the appeals after considering statements made at a hearing on the appeals in the County Building, Ann Arbor, and examination of the budgets submitted by the two townships. Salem Township officials submitted a $24,000 budget based on 1.66 mills of taxing power, to both the County Tax Allocation Board and the State Tax Commission.

The Salem Fire Department was called Thursday afternoon when a house trailer caught on fire at the Estate Trailer Court on Eight Mile Road.

Harlow Ingall, township treasurer reports the township received $366 this past week from the Sales Tax Diversion Monday. This amount is per quarter.

Miss Leona Wood and Pfc. William Granson were united in marriage on Sunday, July 19 in a 3 p.m. double ring ceremony. The couple repeated their vows before Reverend Marion Sherrill in the First Missionary Baptist Church. Matron of honor was Betty Stott, a sister of the bride. Serving as best man was the groom's brother, Ronald. Guests were from Detroit, Dexter, Berkley, New Hudson and South Lyon. The newlyweds traveled to the Straits of Mackinaw for their honeymoon. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wood of Pontiac Trail; New Hudson, and the groom's parents are

Writer Finds Out About College Life in Germany

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of reports from Germany where Gloria Bowles, the Mail's high school editor, is a summer exchange student. She is staying with a German pastor and his family.)

By GLORIA BOWLES

It was a beautiful, sunny day in southern Germany. The heat beat down upon us, as we drifted down the Neckar River... my brother Peter sunk the long pole which directed the boat into the soft river bottom, withdrew it gracefully.

With holidays only four short days away and exams finished, students at the University of Tubingen were relaxing. Peter Seils, 18, my brother, was a student exchange program and a theology student at the university, brought me to his school for a two day stay, so that I might see first hand the life of German college students.

Of some 8,500 students at Tubingen, Peter is the youngest, having finished high school two years early.

Each of the two boys with us in the boat had been affected by the American influence. One, Charlie, was being tutored in English by an American enrolled at the university... the other Manfred, loved to sing Negro spirituals.

He and a friend, Stroh, had played a 45 speed Louis Armstrong record at 33 1/3 time and time again until they had copied down all the words of a song. They then translated it into German, later serenaded me with "Let My People Go," others in English.

I attended three classes with Peter, all of them lecture courses. The first two were in a gigantic, auditorium-like room with seating for about 200 students, the other in a similar, though slightly smaller place. He usually rises at 6:45, has lectures from 8 to 12 in the morning, often some after-noon classes until five. Two or three nights of the week are spent at a film, a concert or a fraternity gathering. The remaining evenings Peter studies.

My stay in a fraternity house in Tubingen was my first experience of this kind... signs posted on the doors which gave entrance to my room warned boys there was a "fraulein" within. German fraternities serve the same purpose as their American counterparts, but are not so exclusive. There is the same system of son and father between new and old members, as practiced in American fraternities.

At 1 p.m. each day, the frat has a circle, when boys get together to sing songs, joke and discuss frat business. On one day of my stay, one of the fraternity brothers reported that another frat had stolen their beer, which was stored in a common cellar. The boys discussed retaliatory moves!

Peter and I spoke about the high school training he'd received which prepared him for university work. He explained that there are a variety of courses one may follow and they may vary somewhat from state to state. Peter, also Jürgen,

Q.—"Dear Elmor: I have three problems: (1) My parents grew up in a European country and expect me to live the same strict way that they did. But standards and ways are different here. How can I make them see this? (2) My mother found and read my diary and said she never expected such things in it. Nothing in it was immoral or wrong and she has no right to read it. Do you agree? (3) I am 17 and have a boy-friend, but my parents don't like him and his crowd, but he is quite different from the other boys."

A.—(1) Help your parents understand American teen-life by telling them casually about school activities, what other girls and boys do, where they go, etc. ... and invite friends to your home often so your parents will get acquainted with them. As they learn what is customary here, perhaps you can reach a compromise between what you want and what they did in "the old country." What "all the other kids do" may not always be wise or right, but it's not fair, either, for you to have to follow European customs here.

(2) A diary is personal, private property and shouldn't be read by others. But, human nature being as it is, it's better not to keep a diary if you object to having it read, because it's a chance you take unless it has a lock.

(3) It's doubtful that this boy would spend his time with a crowd "quite different" from him. We usually choose people we like and who share our interests. "Birds of a feather flock together." Your parents have had a chance to know more people than you, so they may be right about him.

Arkansas Says Civil War Started There

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—The Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission claims that the first shot of the Civil War was fired, not at Fort Sumter, S.C., but at Pine Bluff, Ark.

In April, 1861, the commission says, the Jefferson Guards halted several Federal boats at Pine Bluff as they were steaming up the Arkansas River with guns, ammunition and supplies for garrisons at Little Rock, Fort Smith and Fort Gibson, Okla.

Regular Arkansas troops acting under the orders of Governor Reelfoot fired at the boats and their cargoes were seized for the Confederate Army, according to this account.

India's principal imports are food grains and seeds, raw cotton, machinery and workers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rehbein of McClumpha, Kathy and Geralee, and Mrs. Grace Hill returned recently from Chicago, where they visited friends. They went to the "Breakfast Club" which they all enjoyed. The talk got around to birthdays and Mrs. Rehbein, whose birthday had been just a few days before, was "on the air."

The Rehbeins spent August 2, Geralee's 17th birthday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. P. Collette at their home on Lake Pointe. A visit to Sand Point to visit Kay and Jay Selle on their birthday. Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Houston of Ridgewood were visited in July by their son, Dr. Robert Houston, and his family. Dr. Houston is a doctor of physics, with the University of New Hampshire.

The Houstons of Plymouth and the Houstons of New Hampshire then visited with their daughter (and sister), Mrs. Rex Knorr, of Akron, Ohio. From there they went to attend the wedding of Sandra Robertson and Dr. Williams Ross of New Zealand.

Dr. Houston served as best man. His friend Dr. Ross is also a doctor of physics and is with Penn State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Byrd of Gov. Bradford and their sons Leslie, Gregory and Eric are back from a three-week trip to Florida. They visited Marineland, Cypress Gardens and St. Augustine and went all the way to Key West. They took things easy all the way down and back.

didn't try to cover too much territory in one day. Mrs. Byrd is convinced that's the only way to travel with three boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Niepoth of Powell Road and children Susan and Jack spent their vacation at East Tawas. Mrs. Niepoth said nothing exciting happened but everyone had a relaxing time.

Mrs. Seymour Luvisch of Amherst Court, Nancy and Don and Mrs. Luvisch's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Heatlie of Detroit recently returned from a three-week vacation spent in Florida and Nashville, Tennessee. A week later Don left on a camping trip with Dave Raafaub. Both boys are experienced campers but Mrs. Luvisch plans to check with them while they are gone to see how they are fixed for supplies.

their home. The area which is now a lake was but recently just swampy. They did some excavation and now they have a lake. They plan to stock it with fish and they already have been swimming in it. They won't know for a while just how successful the venture is. Such things as how deep it will get and how it will stay fresh—only time will tell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lyke and their daughter Faye of Jener returned July 26 from a western tour which included the Grand Canyon, the Painted Desert, the Petrified Forest and Juarez, Mexico. Mrs. Lyke said that across the desert the temperature was up to 115 but it was always comfortable in the shade. The Lykes visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strye in El Paso, Texas. That's all for now. Please call me and give me the latest.

Blank Wall Can Become Your Home's Main Attraction

SOMETHING OF INTEREST against the long expanse of plain wall is provided by a classic statue with a concrete frame.

Not every modern home has a picture window and some of them have only small windows placed high on the wall. When the contemporary house is built of brick or native stone, its appearance is no more cheerful than the county jail of our grandfathers' day.

The long expanse of blank wall is an excellent starting point for a terrace, patio or various outdoor living areas when it's on the family side of the property. The equally long expanse that faces the street calls for some treatment other than painting or the old-fashioned foundation planting of evergreens.

Three treatments have been used successfully by designer J. O. Lambert, Jr., of Dallas, Texas, to relieve the blank monotony of these long, harsh walls. He has used these treatments individually and in some cases combined two of them. Whichever solution he decides on, the materials are used sparingly so that even ten years hence, the house won't look smothered or draped.

Two of Mr. Lambert's means of making a wall more interesting are the espaliering of shrubs or trees or the planting of vines. Mr. Lambert hit on these two ideas because he believes that the resulting greenness softens the reflection of the brilliant sunlight in the Southwest. On the other hand, similar planting in colder climates would be a pleasant note during the winter months.

Magnolia grandiflora, the tree with the oval, glossy evergreen leaves, and the silvery-leaved eleanus are two of this designer's favorites as espaliers. Vines such as ivy and Carolina jessamine (Gelsemium sempervirens) are two of the best vines for the Southwest. Allow at least a 20-foot length of wall for each plant.

In colder regions one of the little-leaved hollies such as Ilex crenata, evergreen barberry (Berberis julianae) and winter creeper (euonymus) would be good selections. Because they have the protection of the house wall, it often will be possible to grow plants farther north than usual. For example, pyracantha in Connecticut grows almost as luxuriantly as in Maryland.

An espaliered tree or shrub is one that is pruned and trained to grow horizontally only. It is not difficult to train a young (3 or 4-year-old) tree or shrub to grow in this manner. A severe pruning will be needed every year plus an occasional trimming or pinching out of unwanted growth during summer and fall.

Vines, according to Mr. Lambert's plan, are grown in much the same manner. That is, their growth is trained upward from one point, then allowed to spread sideways along wires attached to the wall. Even though they will grow everywhere, honeysuckle and wisteria are too rampant for this purpose.

Mr. Lambert's third suggestion for blank house walls is a piece of sculpture, preferably of the classic, traditional sort. One reason for recommending the classic is that there is a wider choice.

Only one piece of sculpture, no matter how long the wall is. Secure it on a bracket of concrete and accent it with a frame of the same material. A clipped hedge of a dwarf evergreen, suitable for the climate, planted the length of the wall completes the setting.

Suburban Living

Dark Cottons Carry Over From Now To September

Dark cotton dresses and separates are high fashion this summer. Just because the background color is dark doesn't mean that they won't need pressing and probably laundering as frequently as light-colored clothes. Dark cottons can be laundered, but they will need a little special care to stay smart looking.

Many of the dark cottons are drip dry and so are washed, dried on a hanger and pressed as are the pastels and white clothes. However, many of them also have special finishes and as a result stains, especially grease stains, show up clearly.

Remove stains before laundering. Grease spots should be sponged with a solvent such as carbon tetrachloride. Perspiration stains are acid, so first wash the stain in warm water rubbing in soap or detergent. If there is any discoloration, sponge the stain with a solution of water and a little ammonia before washing.

Dark cottons should be washed separately to prevent their lint from clinging to other garments. Rinse several times to get rid of all soap residue would dull the fabric.

Starching may be as desirable for dark as for light clothes. Modern starches will not leave white streaks or film on the dark materials. At least a light starching is needed unless the material has a permanent starchless finish. For sheer cottons, gum arabic or gelatin might be used instead of regular starch.

Dissolve 4 tablespoons of either gum arabic or gelatin in 2 cups of hot water. Dilute with hot water using from 5 to 15 parts of water to 1 of the solution, according to stiffness desired.

Even drip dry or wash-and-wear cottons will need some pressing. Always turn a dark cotton inside out and apply the iron to the wrong side. If packets or pockets need touching up on the right side, use a thin press cloth under the iron.

People In Picture Can Be Invisible!

By William H. Schleisner

Sometimes a photographer has an idea that a certain scene or building would make a good picture if taken at dusk. If this is at a vacation spot or in a city, you'll likely have the same problem a professional photographer has when he must photograph a public building or shopping center at night.

The problem, more often than not, is other people who will walk right into the camera unless you practically push them out of the way. About a month ago when I was photographing a shopping center at dusk, I thought up a new idea on the spur of the moment. It worked.

This new idea was placing a red filter on the camera lens and closing the stop opening to F 32, the smallest opening on my lens, and then beginning the exposure. The red filter requires six times as long an exposure with panchromatic film as would be needed without this filter. As a result, the picture is being taken in poor light and the figures hurrying to and from are not still long enough to be seen in the picture. A huddle of passers-by in the distance will give a slightly foggy appearance.

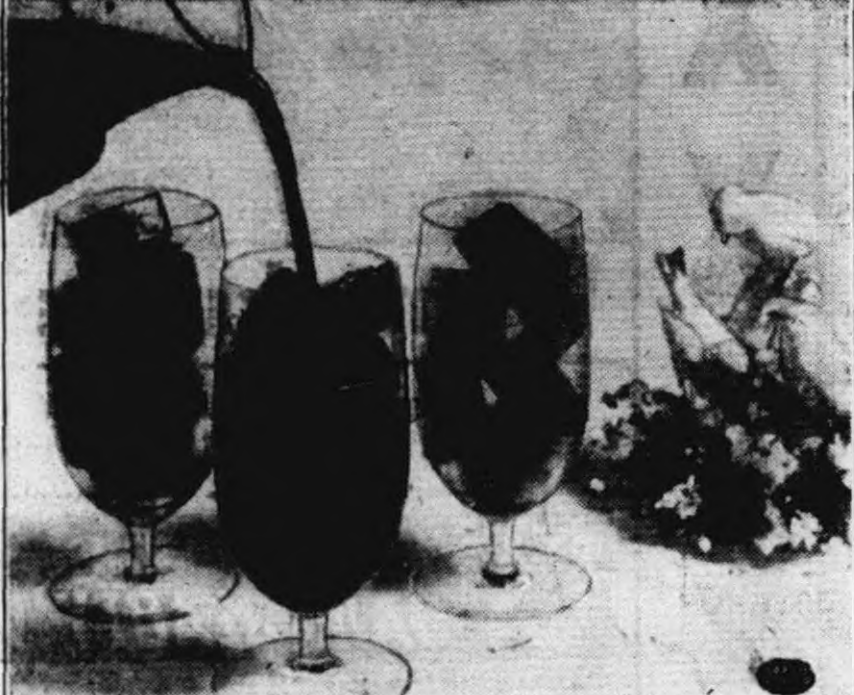

Under similar circumstances again, I plan to use a blue filter. This will require twelve times longer exposure than the film would without a filter. With either the red or blue filter it is essential that the camera not be moved during exposure. Therefore, a tripod must be used.

To take scenes on buildings at night with color film, the same thing can be done but the slowest type of color film must be purchased. If you want to stop down more than the diaphragm allows, go to a camera repair man and have him cut one out for you according to the stop required. This then can be placed over the lens to provide the smaller opening.

For either black-and-white or color film, a tripod is indispensable. It's impossible to hold still for more than 1-50 of a second at best and that isn't good enough for long exposure. Without a tripod, pictures will be blurred.

Also, if your camera is equipped with a lens that can only be opened and closed once on bulb, obtain a piece of black cardboard. This can be placed in front of the lens when you are making your exposure and find that someone is walking right into the camera.

The 19th Century Produced Present-Day Iced Coffee

A HUNDRED years ago, it was called Cafe Mazagan - today, it's iced coffee. Whatever you call it, it's a refreshing summer beverage that's easily made with coffee ice cubes.

More than a hundred years ago, some weary French colonial soldiers discovered a refreshing, cold beverage while marching across the Algerian desert. It was actually the first form of iced coffee ever made.

The soldiers happened to mix sweetened coffee syrup with cold water... and the results were delicious. They named their new concoction Mazagan after a nearby fortress reserved to France in 1837. Because the beverage became so popular among the troops, word of it spread to Paris where Cafe Mazagan was elegantly served in tall, ice-filled glasses at almost every sidewalk cafe.

While this version of coffee is still called Mazagan in parts of Europe, it is generally known as iced coffee, a bracing cooler during the hot summer months. Happily, it's easily made, especially since we always have the ingredients on hand in the kitchen.

One of the very best ways to make iced coffee is also one of the quickest. It simply involves brewing some extra breakfast coffee in the morning, cooling it and freezing it into coffee ice cubes in the refrigerator. Then, when you want to relax with a tall glass of iced coffee, brew some fresh, hot coffee and pour it into a glass filled with some coffee ice cubes. Naturally, this method prevents dilution from melting ice cubes and ensures a full-flavored beverage.

Another successful way of making full-bodied iced coffee only requires pouring hot coffee over regular ice cubes. But, in this case, it's a good idea to make your coffee extra-strength again, to avoid a watery brew. To make four servings, use the following ratio of coffee to water in any type of coffee maker: six standard coffee measures (or 12 level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to three measuring cups of water. Pour the hot coffee into tall, ice-filled glasses and serve with sugar syrup, or sugar, and cream. You can be sure that with this method - or by using coffee ice cubes - you will produce a beverage every bit as satisfying as the Mazagan of a century past.

Easy-care fabrics have turned up en masse in a "better dress" manufacturer's collection. Leonard and Arkin presented a special line of clothes which combine arnel, dacron and orlon. The Arkins said that previously, customers had to sacrifice easy handling found in cheaper cottons for originality of design and luxury of fabric. Included in the collection are Paris adaptations priced from $40 to $70.

A fall fabric forecast shows jacquards coming up strong. Coating weights, light pastel fancy-weave suitings, and mohair-looped cloths will predominate.

Little girls will go back to school in dresses with big bell sleeves and wide cape collars. They are young versions of the old-fashioned look which turned up this year in mama's clothes.

Freezing Foods Not Guesswork

Do you really know how long frozen foods will stay safe and keep their quality in your frozen food storage compartment or freezer? Have you attempted to freeze some foods without much success - or wondered just what your freezer-storage compartment will do satisfactorily? Mrs. Marjorie Gibbs, the Detroit Consumer Marketing Information Agent, says that it depends on the temperature your storing unit maintains, plus the humidity and the amount of air that can get to the food.

Do you have a refrigerator frozen-food storage compartment, an ice cube section, a freezer-storage compartment, or a freezer? These may sound alike, but there are definite differences in storage temperatures. First check the booklet or instructions of the appliance dealer. This will give you information on the temperature your frozen food storage unit should maintain.

The cool storage or regular refrigerator will hold unfrozen foods in a cool state with temperatures from 40 degrees to 50 degrees F. An ice cube section ranges from 20 degrees to 30 degrees F. Many refrigerators have a one to two cubic foot frozen-food storage compartment. It may be one of two types, one has a temperature of around 15 degrees F; the other has a temperature of around 0 degrees F. In this latter dual purpose unit, the cool storage and frozen storage compartments are physically separated by an insulated partition and have separate thermostat controls and separate coils and refrigeration systems.

Frozen foods held at 15 degrees F. more than 2 to 4 weeks will show signs of loss of quality.

Frozen foods held in the 0 degree to 5 degree F. frozen-food storage compartments can be held somewhat longer.

Frozen foods held in the freezer at 0 degrees F. and below, depending upon the food, can be held from 3 to 9 months.

Some other checks, beside your instruction booklet or dealer, might be:

- ...A thermometer should register 0 degrees F. in any long-time freezer storage.
- ...A thermometer should not go above 10 degrees F. when the cool storage refrigerator compartment is defrosting, as this should not affect the freezer compartment.
- ...Foods should not freeze in the regular refrigerator compartment in order to keep the frozen food section at its proper temperature.
- Some refrigerator - freezer combinations, in an attempt to satisfy two needs do neither properly. Others are very satisfactory as frozen-food storage - for already frozen foods - but will not freeze any quantity of food. An overall note might be - as for the freezing of foods, any major quantity should be done in a freezer holding temperatures of 0 degrees F. to 10 degrees F.

TIME FOR LAUGHING

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) - William Inge, 24, complained that John E. Wright, 36, painted his body and poured paint in his boots while he slept, and then "laughed hysterically" when he awoke.

Judge Joseph P. Kuszynski had Wright put in jail for 50 days with the comment, "Let's see how funny you think this is."

"The average man's idea of a good sermon is one that goes over his head and hits a neighbor."

Grange Gleanings

Last Thursday was regular Grange night. A potluck dinner preceded the meeting. The Charter was draped in loving memory of Brother Charles Rienas and Sister Jessie Veale, also for our State Chaplain, Lillian Bolt. Two beautiful hymns were sung by Mrs. Bertha Thiele and Mrs. Morten.

Mrs. Alma Spicer is very ill in St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Tritten, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary July 26 by having an open house in their lovely Ann Arbor Trail home, wish to thank the Grangers for the silver chest. Also all their friends for the many wonderful gifts and cards.

Thirty-two people enjoyed a corn roast at Mr. and Mrs. Wisley's on Strawberry Lake. The picnic was held Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Oldenburg and the Tillmans are on vacation.

The next picnic will be in the Grange Hall August 20.

Mrs. Minnie McConnell is the substitute Grange Gleanings writer. She will continue until a permanent writer can be chosen at the fall elections. Please phone GL 3-2629 with news items.

HIS OWN HORN BLOWN

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Stephan A. Mekarski was rudely awakened by a horn blowing. Instead of ignoring it, he investigated, and was glad he did.

A fire in his garage had caused a short circuit in his auto, causing the horn to go off. The blaze did about $3,500 damage, but Mekarski agreed things could have been worse if he hadn't paid attention to the horn.

smoothest ride!

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough going—and coil springs never squeak, never need grease! Try this velvet way of going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TREND magazine puts this way: "the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." But the happiest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests—all documented by published opinions of experts and on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions, reported to A.M.A., show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 5.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and, just recently, Chevrolet received the NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-lining brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy out-stopped both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A. Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

Industry Vital To Our Suburbs

(The comments of Louis Sachar of the New York Regional Plan Association seem especially pertinent to our area. The article appeared recently in The Detroit Free Press).

The most pressing need in the American suburbs today is for industry.

This is the opinion of Louis Sachar, New York industrialist, economic adviser to New York Mayor Robert F. Wagner and a member of the board of directors of the New York Regional Plan Association.

Sachar has just completed a 15-state survey of urban and suburban planning agencies.

These are his conclusions: "Every suburban area, regardless of wealth, must have industry or face sky-high taxes."

"The time for suburban areas to prepare for industry is while unimproved land is still available."

"Open land is an open invitation to build more homes. When the homes are up it is too late to think about industry. My Survey emphasizes my belief that pre-planning must precede suburban development."

According to Sachar, the suburban situations in New York, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis are similar. Their residential development was spurred by families who wanted to get into the wide open spaces—away from urban congestion and industrialization.

"Homeowners in these suburbs find that their dream hasn't quite come true. People of medium incomes have been moving in droves to the suburbs. And they all want the necessities of good schools, sanitation, police and fire protection. When their tax bill arrives there is universal anguish," Sachar said.

Every house costs a suburban city a minimum of $500 for schools and services, the Sachar survey estimates, if there is no balancing tax revenue from industry.

Sachar believes that suburban homeowners should welcome industry into their areas rather than battle it.

"Factory is an obsolete word," Sachar said. "Today's industrial plants are blended into industrial parks that are both efficient and eye-pleasing."

Without industry, Sachar points out, thousands of suburbanites may eventually be taxed out of their homes.

"When You Retire"

By JOHN BAY

WE'RE ALL EAGER to squeeze as much pleasure as possible out of life. And it's interesting to discover that pleasure is infinitely sweeter when it has been earned.

Now maybe this is old hat to everyone else, but the idea of earning your pleasures struck me as a rather novel notion when I encountered it in a homespun tome about Ida Stover Eisenhower, mother of the President, entitled Earning the Right to do Fancywork.

The book quotes Mother Eisenhower, who lived to be 84, as saying that her favorite diversion was fancywork—such as crocheting and knitting. But she had been taught as a child that she must earn the right to do fancywork. Only after the cooking, laundering, cleaning, mending, and gardening had been completed could she reach for her sewing basket and indulge the raptures of fancywork.

She reared her remarkable brood under this philosophy, too. Her boys were assigned definite and specific chores, and only when these were satisfactorily completed had they earned the right to play baseball. He contended, and I'm sure it's true, that earning the right to kick up your heels makes your kicks all the more delightful.

I wonder if this philosophy wouldn't help a lot of us get more pleasure out of our years. The retiree who goes fishing or to the movies whenever he wishes soon gets sick of these pursuits. But if he tells himself that he must earn the right to go, by first spading the garden, attending a civic meeting, or calling on a sick neighbor, he'll probably find more pleasure in his diversions.

And couldn't parents make greater use of this trick in rearing their kids? Instead of letting the small fry gape at television with dull abandon, couldn't they assign certain chores and lessons, stipulating that only when these are completed have they earned the right to watch a western?

Writers, of course, use this device all the time and goad themselves into puffing words to paper by promising themselves various insignificant rewards, such as a cup of coffee at ten or a walk in the woods at four.

Too often those who retire disassociate themselves from all purposeful tasks on the grounds that they want to be free to do as they please. But in the process they sacrifice the essence of pleasure, simply because pleasures must be earned if they are to be truly rewarding.

'If Your Name Is Matilda'

By ANN REYNOLDS, Ph.D.

"Matild" and "Maud" or "Maude," as it is sometimes spelled, is from the Old Germanic. It was, in that ancient language, "Mathildis," and the two words which went into it were "maht," and this means "might," and "hildi," which is "battle."

The name "Matild" was brought to the British Isles by the Normans, and soon became a favorite. But its good fortune did not last; it became rare in the 16th and 17th centuries. "Maud" and "Maude" developed in France. These, too, were heard among the English. The many last names made up from both Matild and Maud prove that it used to be very popular. Madison, for instance, is one of these last names. Tilly is another; there was a famous general, born in Belgium, who played a great part in the Thirty Years' War in the 16th and 17th centuries, Johann Terschlaes Count of Tilly.

This name was made from a pet name of Matild, "Tilly." Incidentally, I know a girl whose first name is Tilly; it is very rare.

Today Matild and Maud are independent names. In 12th century an English Princess, was alternately called Matilda and Maud. She was the daughter of Henry I of England, and is mostly spoken of as Empress Matilda or Empress Maud, because she was married to the Emperor Henry V. After the emperor's death she became the wife of Geoffrey Plantagenet, and her son Henry was the founder of the house of Plantagenet that gave England kings from 1154 until 1399. There is one Matilda, a German Queen, among the saints. That noble woman who lived in the 10th century was always ready to help the poor to such an extent that her sons accused her of dissipating the crown's possessions.

Rogers Editor Speaks On 'Daisy and Union'

(Editor's Note: Daisy Manufacturing Company closed the doors of its plant in Plymouth a year ago and moved to Rogers, Ark. The move had impact on many families in this area and it had political aspects which thundered through the last State election within the issue of "political climate.")

(As a part of reporting what's happening in Rogers, today we reprint an editorial from the newspaper there, the Rogers Daily News.)

Well, it's all over for a while.

The people of Rogers can relax once again and the troubled feeling of tension brought about by high-handed union pressure tactics will now subside.

The International Association of Machinists has withdrawn from a second union election at the Daisy Manufacturing Company.

The Machinists pulled out of the election even though it was the union itself which had demanded a second vote after Daisy employees rejected the union by a three-to-one margin in the first election last January.

Yesterday was to have been the day for the second election, but it is apparent that the union was afraid to face what seemed to be almost certain defeat.

After its first defeat the union demanded that the National Labor Relations Board grant it a second chance. It claimed that "community pressure and other adverse conditions brought to bear on the employees... deprived them of the privilege of selecting a bargaining agent of their own free choice."

Then, last week, the union asked that the second election be cancelled because the same conditions prevailed.

Now we think this is a lot of hogwash. The first election was held with secret ballot and each employee was free to vote for or against the union without anybody knowing how he voted.

The second election would have been held the same way—in secret. Thus, the union would have had exactly the same chance as the company.

It is quite obvious then that the union woke up to the fact that it couldn't come in and tell Daisy workers what to think and how to vote.

We believe the Daisy workers turned their backs on the union for several reasons. The main reason is that working conditions at Daisy are not only satisfactory but actually better than average.

And, we're certain that Daisy's workers wanted no part of the violence, tension and pressure tactics that accompanied the union's organizational drive in Rogers.

Many weeks ago, before the union drive shifted into high gear, Daisy President Cass S. Hough cautioned his employees that they would be hearing a lot of "bunk" from the union. He was never more right.

Not only did the union hand out a lot of "bunk" but some of its advocates even went so far as to launch a vicious personal attack on Hough himself and his standard of living—as if that's anybody's business but his own.

The union also criticized the press and told workers that they couldn't believe what they read in the papers. Yet the Daily News published several accounts of union meetings and not once did any union official or other person attending complain that they were inaccurate or unfair. As a matter of fact, we even offered pro-union workers at Daisy free space in our news columns to present their side of the issue.

At one meeting union leaders told Daisy workers that the union wouldn't tell them what to ask for at Daisy, but would merely try and obtain what the workers themselves decided they wanted. That seemed logical.

But then, last week, the union in announcing its withdrawal from the election, said that Daisy workers should not be satisfied with less than a 25-cent an hour wage increase. "This and more the union could have gotten for you," said a union letter.

Well, that's a lot of "bunk" too. Not even the mighty United Steelworkers Union has asked a 25-cent wage increase.

Daisy, of course has had its hands tied from the time of the last election until now insofar as giving any additional benefits to its employees.

Had it raised wages between elections the union would have complained that this was an attempt to influence the workers. This was the union's complaint about the Christmas bonuses given last year.

But with the union off its back for a while, Daisy yesterday gave its workers an across-the-board five-cent hourly wage hike.

This will cost the company between $75,000 and $80,000 annually in additional payroll expense—quite a chunk for the company to dish out voluntarily. But it did so without union just as it has made good on its other promises without being beaten over the head by a union.

Now, we have never opposed the right of workers anywhere to organize a union. But we did oppose the unionization at Daisy because we hated to see the violence and strife that accompanies most union movements come to Rogers. And, even more important, we felt that unionization of Daisy at this time would seriously jeopardize the industrial development of Rogers; in fact, might mean the loss of thousands of potential jobs to workers in this area.

Of course, the chances are that the Machinists will be back to harass Daisy and its employees again—maybe within six months. After all, it's no secret that the unions have been out to "get" Daisy in retaliation for the company leaving highly industrialized Michigan.

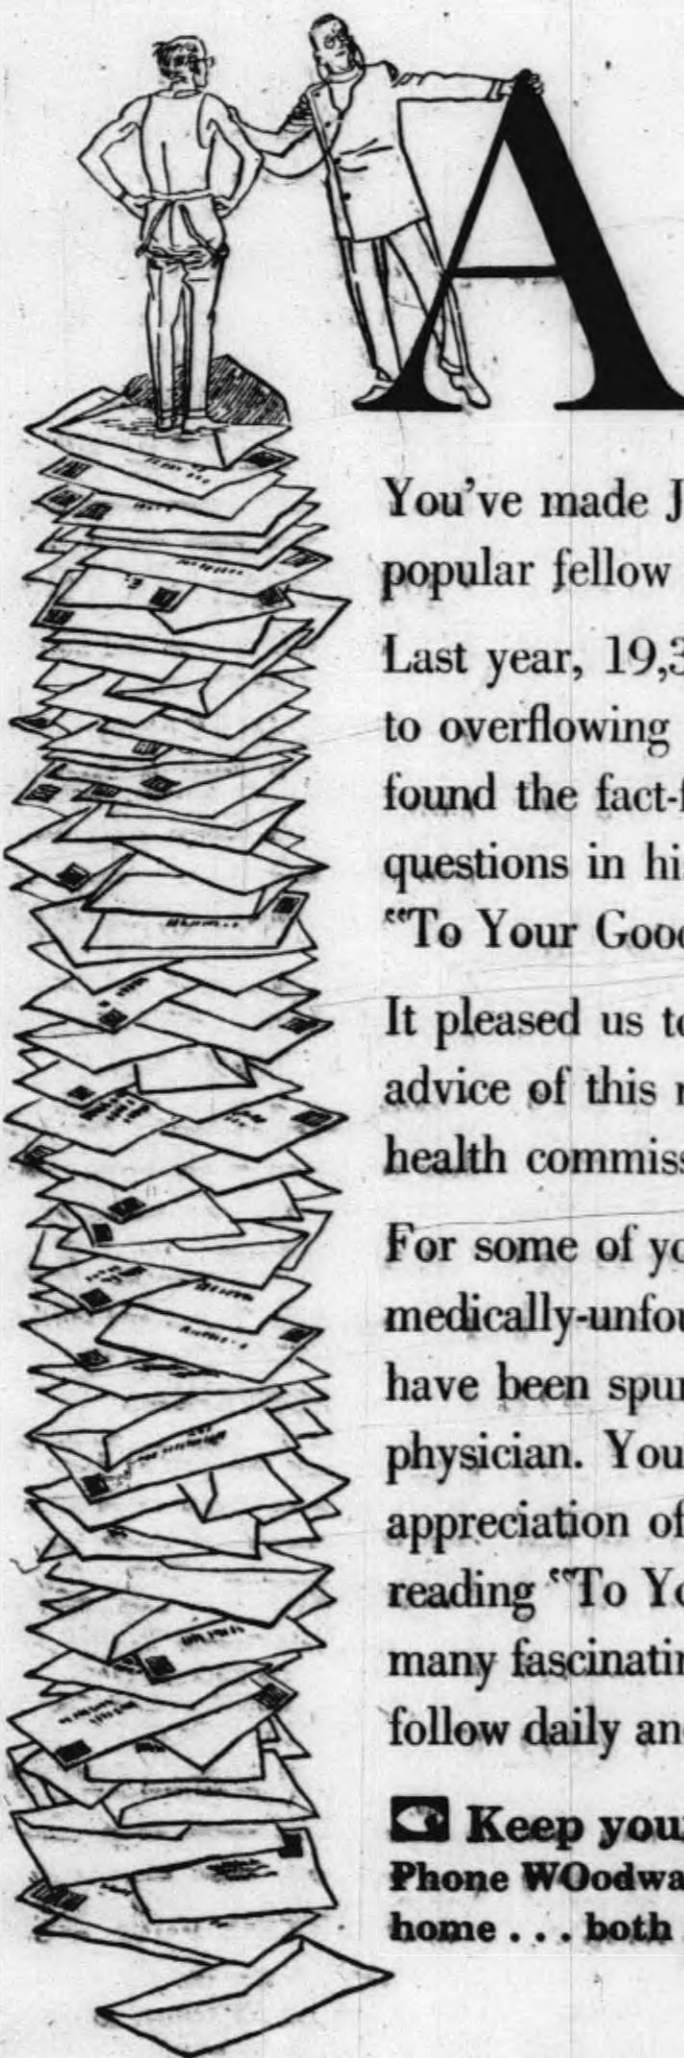

But we hope the union has now learned what it should have known all along—that the people of Northwest Arkansas are pretty independent; they don't like to have a bunch of outsiders pushing them around and telling them what to do.

What Every Duffer Knows

BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI)—Federal judge Ernest Gibson ruled that neither professional nor amateur golfers are responsible for their shots.

He dismissed a $25,000 suit brought by George Fraser, assistant pro at the Burlington Country club, who said he was struck in the right eye by a practice drive while retrieving some golf balls. Judge Gibson said that "golf is a game in which the greatest of world professionals will, on occasion, completely flub a shot."

Canton Township Has Indian Tribe

MRS. ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL. 3-0194

Well, almost didn't make it this week. Old faithful (my typewriter) fell and is now out of good working condition. But we'll try to get through this week as there is quite a bit to report.

We had a report of one of those rare experiences that happen every now and then. This little item was reported to me by Mr. Roger Bordine of Soltz Rd. Mr. Bordine is reported seeing deer on his property and the other day he called to report Indians romping through his woods, in fact these Indians (tribe unknown), were seen running through the woods fully decorated in their war paint, and in fact one of the braves was down to the bare facts of nature (no clothes). The Indians were between the ages of 8 to 12, but the one thing Mr. Bordine wanted these warriors to know is the fact that the woods they had chosen for their battle grounds is also the stamping grounds of one not too friendly bull. Although Mr. Bordine didn't get to explain this to all the Indians he thought perhaps this smoke signal might get to them. Some of the Indians were recognized and have been warned by their parents to become more civilized.

The stork is expected by the Walbridge family of 2046 Brookline. To help Mom, Virginia, get ready for the event, a shower was given for her by Mrs. Doris McTurner, Mrs. Rosie Burruss and Mrs. Neomi Newport. The guests enjoyed several games and a delicious luncheon followed by helping Mom Walbridge open her gifts. The guest list included: Mrs. Helen Nix, Mrs. Donna White, Mrs. Erma Larrick, Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, Mrs. Buton Hargrove, Mrs. Sue McDonald, Mrs. Virginia Mills, Mrs. Gerry Olsen, Mrs. Lorraine Wallace, Mrs. Esther Sprengel, Mrs. Juanita Peet, Mrs. Mary Aton, Miss Linda Larrick, Mrs. Ava Clark, Mrs. Jean Olsen.

Mrs. Viva Murdock, Miss Mary Murdock, Mrs. Bonnie Mills, Mrs. Virginia Benoit, Mrs. Glass, Mrs. Rosie Horay, Mrs. Doris Nickerson and Pat Nickerson.

The news of a new arrival to the township came from a proud grandmother, Mrs. Columbus Wilkins of Beck Road. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilkins proudly announce the birth of a new son August 2, 1959. The young man was born at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor weighing 6 lbs., 10 oz. As yet a name for the young Mr. Wilkins has not been decided upon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Palmer of Beck Rd. held a coronation get-together for the friends of the Ypsilanti, Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Mrs. Palmer is an employee of the Company. Approximately 30 persons joined in the fun.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Palmer spent the evening with Mrs. Palmer's Toledo this week. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rosen-garten of Sarasota, Florida were on their way to Canada to visit relatives and plan a visit here with their daughter and husband at a later date.

It is Wayne County 4-H Fair time again. And the Spoon and Spool group of the parents are busy working on their exhibit of rocks and minerals to be on display at the fair this year in Belleville. Mrs. Bosman, one of the group's leaders, called to fill us in on the activities to take place at the fair. There will be many interesting exhibits, dairy, beef cattle, pleasure horses, garden and crops, food preservation, home economics displays not to mention many others.

This year there will also be premium awards (cash prizes) 1st, 2nd and 3rd. There will be demonstrations to be seen and, of course, the carnival which always beckons the children. Meals will be served at a reasonable cost, sponsored by Home Extension Groups, parents of the 4-H young people and their leaders. The contestants for the All State Shows will be selected at the County Fair and all exhibits will be labeled so visitors to the State Fair might recognize a familiar name.

The young ladies, members of the Spoon and Spool group, DeAnn Bosman, Carol Bosman, Marilyn Moyer, Cathy Dunham, Janice Nagy, and Carol Clark will also display some of their sewing accomplishments as well as some of their baked goods. The date of the Fair, which is the 13th annual, will be August 18 through August 23.

Come out and see your neighbors and friends.

Back from the Beyer hospital minus his tonsils and well on the way to recovery is young Mr. Roger Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith of Canton Center Road. We know Roger wanted to be ship-shape for school this fall.

Miss Janet West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert West of Sheldon Rd., held a party in honor of Cherry Betts of Huston, Texas. Cherry is the cousin of Jim Urquhart of Plymouth. The 30 young people attending the party enjoyed the evening with a corn roast. Miss West will attend Eastern Michigan University this fall, with her goal to teach the blind after completion of her course.

On Friday evening, July 24, Mr. Ralph Lefler and a few of the boys of Scout Troop 298, left Canton Township and went to Bishop Lake to reserve camping area for the troop's summer camp-out. On Saturday morning the remainder of the troop left the Geddes Road Township Hall to join them. For nine days the boys ate their meals out of doors and slept in tents. Mr. William Ronk and Mr. Robert Williams stayed as adult leaders, with Mr. Lefler, Mr. Art Lea, Mr. William Cadaret, Mr. Harold Voss, Mr. Clark Wright, Mr. Grant Ridley, coming and going as their jobs would permit.

On Saturday about 15 boys who were not members of the troop last year were initiated into the troop by the rest of the boys. This is always an interesting part of the summer camp-out. (Try as I may I couldn't get a word about what happened to these first time campers).

On Sunday morning the committee took the Catholic boys of the troop into Brighton, Michigan to church. While at the camp site, Mr. Lefler, Scoutmaster, conducted non-denominational Protestant church services for the rest of the boys.

All of the boys enjoyed themselves and returned home Sunday, August 2, tired and happy, but after a good night's sleep were ready for their regular troop meeting Monday evening.

A call for help to some of our Township ladies has come from Mrs. John Newport of 1977 Elmhurst. Mrs. Newport has been asked to head the emergency March of Dimes to be held August 25 from 7 p.m. until 8 p.m. Mrs. Newport stated although she has worked on the March of Dimes drives, to head such a drive is a completely new experience for her and she needs volunteer help. So ladies, if you can spare an hour on August 25, please call Mrs. Newport at 3-4455. Your help is greatly appreciated and will be most needed.

In case the neighbors of the Frank J. Tomczyk's were wondering what was going on last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Tomczyk of 6475 Beck Rd. held a joint family reunion for the Tomczyk and Nalepka sides of the family. Mrs. Tomczyk stated that approximately 65 persons attended the outside picnic festivities.

Now this column is the type I enjoy writing—with lots of news. If my most important tool for this job is fixed by next week, you will be hearing from us. Call as I may I couldn't get a

Brownies Part of Newburg Vacations

MRS. EMIL LAPOINTE
GA. 1-2029

Did you ever hear of a Brownie Holiday? Well, the Brownies of troop 2093 shared in such a holiday on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 4 and 5 at the home of Mrs. Robert Hyde of 13245 Newburg road. The biggest treat of the entire event was pitching tents and sleeping out of doors, in tents and cooking over open fires. Eleven girls and one guest attended a noon meal with Mrs. Marian Troia, another of the girl's mothers, helped with the girls. Those attending were Barbara Custer, Christine Herter, Claudia Kemm, Gail Kraft, Linda Horen, Marion Troia, Nadine Hyde, Paula Crawford, Viki Hensley, Linda Cindy, Baum Hart, Sally Febus and a guest from troop 1437, Carol Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kenner and their family, James, Lois and Laurel of Narise drive are home after spending a week camping on Lewis Lake between Gaylord and Johannesburg in the northern part of lower Michigan. Before setting up their camp sight, the Kenners dropped their older daughter, Janice and Vicki Lee Bronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Steever of Hix road, off at Lake Louise where they spent their week attending a Methodist camp.

The Joy Road Canasta Clan will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Pregitzer on Richland avenue, Tuesday, August 18, at 8 p.m. Any of the members who are unable to attend should please advise their hostess so that she may have ample time to secure a substitute.

Our family had another week of vacation last week but stayed around home doing various tasks of painting and cleaning but, however, on Friday, August 7, Mr. LaPointe and I, along with our children Bruce, David, Mark and Nan and our guest Robert Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curry of West Chicago, went for a ride heading for Kensington Metropolitan park for a picnic. On the way the weather man proved most uncooperative and down came the rain. However, spirits undaunted, we continued on our way, stopping first at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keppler in Midland. The Kepplers were not at home, so we continued on our way to the park.

The rain let up to the degree that the youngsters were able to don their swim suits and take a dip. We were unable to eat our lunch at the park and brought it back with us to 36830 Joy road and enjoyed the repass in the dryness of our kitchen. On Saturday evening, August 8, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kline and son Louis of Krauter avenue, Garden City were our guests for coffee and dessert.

On Sunday, August 9, our family attended the 25th anniversary garden tea in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Weiss at the Weiss residence on Grace avenue in Northville and immediately following this activity we all visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred LaPointe on Inker street. Wednesday and Thursday and Saturday and Sunday of this past week, our son Mark visited at the home of his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weiss, Sr., of Graham road, Detroit.

The Reid family, Mr. and Mrs. Joann, Phillip and David of Richland spent two weeks camping at Lewis Lake in northern Michigan. They are home now and report that a fine time was had by all.

The Fidelis Class of the Newburg Methodist church Sunday school met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nixon on Wadsworth avenue, Saturday, August 8 for a potluck supper. Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. Roger Merrell, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vernor Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Halloran, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case, Mr. Dorothy Pringle and the Nixon's son, David. This group meets every other Saturday throughout the summer months and will be together again on Saturday, August 22 at the home of the Bennett's on Stark road for a dip in the Bennett pool and then potluck supper.

Next Tuesday, August 18, will mark the final game for the Newburg Methodist church team when they meet with the Peace Lutheran team. At this writing the Newburg team stands with seven victories and four defeats and one tie. Last Tuesday, August 4, the Newburg team met with Alpha Baptist and emerged victorious with a score of 9 to 6. Hero of the game was Bruce LaPointe, who, with the bases loaded, tripled into center field to clear the bases, break the tie of 6 to 6 and chalk up another victory for Newburg. As the chief scorekeeper for the team, and being present at almost every game, I'd like to make mention of the very sportsmanlike way in which all the teams in this church league conducted themselves on the field and at bat. It made me real proud to be present at all games, win or lose. I, for one, shall be sorry to see the season come to a close. Congratulations to all who participated and to the league leaders.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

The midsummer lull seems to have affected Post 6695, both as far as activities are concerned and also publicity for same. However, the approaching fall season should be greeted with a renewed interest in the post and its affairs. Improvements continue to make our post home most pleasant and impressive. Thanks to Harry Krumm, a new member, we now have an altar cloth to complete the stations for the conduct of our meetings.

The membership recently approved the purchase of folding chairs to complete the recently purchased tables. All members can take pride in these improvements. The August 5 meeting was presided over by Senior Vice Commander Hal Young, while Commander Krumm is on vacation. Tony Duehmig, a long-time but seldom-seen member, was present and most welcome. A new face expected at the meetings is George Ames whose transfer from the Walled Lake post was approved. A hearty welcome, George.

Hal Young reminds us about the annual Gold Star Mother's White Chapel service at Bloomfield Hills. Our post will be represented by the color guard. All are most welcome, August 16 at 2.

Also fast approaching is our annual picnic at the National Home at Eaton Rapids. The date is Sunday, August 23. Members will leave in a group for this event. Details will appear in the next column. We understand two new cottages were recently dedicated at the Home, one by Illinois and the other by Florida. The trip is a must for those who take pride in the fine service performed by our support of the Home.

Chairman John Schwartz is beginning to make plans for the next chicken barbecue to be held Sunday, September 20. This is the first call for all backyard chefs to "come and taste."

All members are invited to attend a Fourth District Rally to be held Sunday, September 13 at 2 p.m. The place is Hubert Post 345 at 25245 Seven Mile Road, in Redford Township. The district officers promise a real program with refreshments as a result of their recent elections.

Mich. Chorale To End Season At Ann Arbor

The Michigan Chorale, 100 teen-age singers now on a European good-will tour, will present a concert at 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 13, in Hill Auditorium at The University of Michigan.

Sally Sawyer, 1435 Penniman, is a member of the chorale.

The concert will be held under the auspices of the University Musical Society in cooperation with the Michigan Council of Churches, sponsor of the Michigan Chorale.

Conducted by Lester McCoy of the Musical Society, the Chorale left for Europe June 24. After giving performances in England, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Sweden and Finland, the teen-agers will return here by chartered aircraft Sept. 1.

Forty Southeastern Michigan communities are represented in the Chorale. The Sept. 13 performance will be the group's only post-tour concert.

Tickets (at 75 cents main floor and 50 cents balcony) are now available from the Musical Society, Burton Tower, Ann Arbor. They will also be available at Hill Auditorium one hour prior to the concert.
