

Have You Supported the Community Fund Yet?

Plymouth's 15th Fund Campaign Opens this Week

This will be the 15th year that the Plymouth Community Fund has made its appeal — and if precedent has any meaning, Plymouthites will again respond by pushing the drive over the goal.

Plymouth's Community Fund officially kicked off Tuesday without fanfare or speeches.

Campaign Chairman Orin Scrimger has announced a goal this year of $34,098.50, a goal that is only $560 higher than last year. And, according to the chairman, the goal will be met again if every family, business and professional man and industry assumes their responsibility.

Each household and business listed in the telephone directory received information from the Community Fund late last week. Included was a pledge card, a leaflet explaining the drive and a return envelope.

It is still too early to tally any returns this week, according to Treasurer Robert Barbour.

Unlike other communities participating in the United Foundation, there is no house-to-house solicitation in Plymouth. Each citizen and business is given the responsibility of returning his own donation.

Those donating $10 or more will be listed in The Mail. Those not wishing this recognition can make a notation on their pledge cards.

If one wants help in deciding how much to give, the Community Fund board has suggested that each ask himself this question: "If I am approached by solicitors from these 31 agencies, throughout the year, what would I give to each?"

After answering that, it is suggested that one total up the figures and make this the Community Fund donation.

Girl and Boy Scouts, whose organizations are among the Community Fund agencies, helped get the campaign rolling. Girl Scout Troops 252, led by Mrs. William Lyons and Troop 254, headed by Mrs. Wayne Rubey, prepared the 6,500 pieces of mailing matter. Advanced typing classes at the high school typed the addresses. Boy Scout Troop P-4 headed by Scoutmaster Paul Steencken distributed 150 posters last Saturday to stores.

While nearly all households will receive pledge cards, many people living in Plymouth are expected to donate at their place of work which may be outside the community. These drives are usually conducted by the United Foundation.

Through a working agreement with the U-F, Plymouth residents working elsewhere can have their donations channeled to their hometown by:

1. Writing on the pledge card at work that he wants the donation credited to the Plymouth Community Fund.

2. On the pledge card sent to his home, tell what the company it was given.

Plymouth's Community Fund is governed by a board of directors composed of 12 citizens. All work without pay. Each spring, agencies wanting money submit budgets to the Fund board. By this means, the board decides upon the amount each agency will receive. Some do not receive what they ask.

Because of the difficulty in reaching the goal last year, the board raised the goal by (Continued on Page 8)

Forger With Family At Work In City

Forgery of checks given in payment of merchandise has cost two Plymouth merchants $150 and reports from other merchants are expected as soon as the checks clear the banks.

Plymouth police said that Cassidy's and Pixie Shop have reported bad checks.

The checks contained the name of a James Kelly, 34402 Phyllis, Wayne. It has been learned that Kelly has been jailed on an assault and battery charge in Wayne. They believe that Kelly had nothing to do with the checks, but that it was the work of a friend who was using his name.

The Pixie Shop reported that a man, woman and child entered and purchased $86 worth of merchandise. They issued a check for $10 drawn upon the First National Bank of Monroe. The woman's driver's license number was even written on the check.

At Cassidy's, a check for $70 was written for merchandise.

Police state that they are now working on a lead. They added that several other merchants also are believed to have been bilked by the check writers, but that they have made no complaint because the checks have not cleared the banks yet.

A Baby Tornado?

Electrical Storm Causes A Scare

A severe electrical storm that carried along what many believe was a baby tornado lashed across the Plymouth area early Monday evening, felling giant trees, wires and even a building.

Canton Township in the Beck, Warren, Hanford and Gyde Rd. areas appeared to have suffered the greatest. For many it was a terrifying experience.

Wind which lashed the rain horizontally through the darkness and lightning which struck numerous places made the evening a memorable one.

Perhaps hardest hit was the Robert Waldecker farm on Warren Rd. A concrete block building attached to the main barn was blown apart. The roof sailed 50 yards to Warren Rd.

Inside were six head of valuable cattle. The walls fell outward and the cattle were still standing inside the foundation when Waldecker appeared. A huge willow tree and other smaller trees were also uprooted and broken up on the farm.

A farm wagon was pushed sideways across a field for 40 feet and stayed on its wheels. Hanford and Beck roads were both blocked by trees.

UPROOTED TREES, such as this one on the Robert Waldecker and Russell Magraw farm on Warren Rd. were left in the wake of a severe electrical and windstorm that hit the area Monday evening around 8. Michigan Bell and Detroit Edison called in special crews to work all night. Lightning disrupted phone and electrical service to many.

Plymouth High Welcomes Home Alumni Friday

Plymouth High School's 1959 version of Homecoming, promising to be the biggest, best alumni welcome ever, will bow tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 2, and include a full day of activities, all leading up to the queen crowning at football halftime ceremonies.

Senior, Mavis Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Williams, 9091 Brookline, and Carolyn Scott, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, 416 Evergreen, both Student Council members, are co-chairmen for the celebration. Mavis expressed the hope that PHS alumni would consider Homecoming a personal invitation to return to the school and join in celebration festivities.

Four senior girls, one of whom will be crowned 1959 Homecoming Queen, plus representatives from the junior, sophomore and freshman classes comprise the Homecoming Court. (See related story inside.)

Scheduled for the most activity-filled day of the school year are a noon rally, with the pep band leading the proceedings, and a 3 p.m. cheerleaders pep assembly. The traditional Homecoming Color Day will find students wearing blue and white to school tomorrow.

A pre-game tea, honoring football players' parents, who will be seated in special reserved seats on the football field, has been arranged. Alumni may take part in a 6:30-7:00 bonfire behind the high school, where cheerleaders, who whitewashed downtown sidewalks for advertising purposes, will lead yelling.

A Main St. parade, at 7:15, will follow, featuring the cheerleaders, the band and majorettes, color guards, decorated convertibles carrying the three class representatives to the court, a senior float, bearing the four queen candidates, and several antique cars. In one of them will be riding Plymouth's two exchange students, Ursula Kell of Watterdingen in northern Germany and Anne "Kiek" Thasing of Amsterdam, Holland.

At 8 Plymouth will clash with Trenton in the first home game of the season. The queen crowned at half-time will reign over the after-game dance, limited to Plymouth High School students and those with guest permits. It will run a half hour over regular school dances, or until 11:30.

Movie On Africa to Aid Crippled Children's Work

An hour and a half color film that takes the audience from New York to the heart of Africa will be shown in Plymouth next week for the benefit of crippled children.

Jack Van Coevering of Detroit, nationally-known writer, lecturer, and photographer, will be in Plymouth for a two-day premiere showing of his newest color motion picture, "African Diary."

Sponsored by the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs of Plymouth for the benefit of their crippled children's program, the showings will be Thursday, Oct. 8 and Friday, Oct. 9 at the Plymouth Community Junior High School.

The Junior High is located along Lilley Rd., just north of Ann Arbor Rd. Starting time is 8:30 p.m.

Van Coevering made his new film in Kenya, Africa early this year when he went on a hunting safari with three other Detroiters. The men came back with many big-game trophies, including an elephant, rhinoceros, lion and leopard. They also bagged many species of plains game, including impallas, which resemble Michigan white-tailed deer.

"African Diary" is more than a story of a hunting expedition. Van Coevering points out, in that it includes scenes taken at a wedding celebration of the Somali tribe and other scenes of Africa.

We Number 16,300 Now

Plymouth city and township now have a combined population of 16,300, it was estimated in a report issued by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

According to their calculations there are 8,900 people in the city of Plymouth and 7,400 in the township. When the federal census was taken in 1950, there were 6,637 people in the city and 4,945 in the township.

This gives the township a growth of 49.6 percent in the nine-year period and the city 34.1 percent.

The township's faster growth rate over the city is expected to widen each year. There is very little vacant land remaining within the city limits. The last large plot, located in the southwest corner near Sheldon and Ann Arbor Rd., is expected to be developed next year. The City Planning Commission has a public hearing on this subdivision plat next Thursday.

The entire Detroit region has had a population growth of 29 percent during the same period.

Also included in the report is an estimate of the number of occupied dwelling units. The city now has 2,700 units, or 688 more than 1950; the township has 1,900, or 810 more.

Canton township has had a population growth of 38.3 percent during the nine years. They had 3,761 counted in the federal census. Today there is an estimated 5,200 people.

Occupied dwelling units in Canton have risen from 1,051 to 1,450.

Looking at other Plymouth neighbors, Livonia's population has skyrocketed from 17,534 to 60,000; Nankin Township has risen from 3,577 to 63,500; Redford Township, from 13,940 to 61,200.

Northville city has increased its population from 2,984 to 4,106; Northville Township from 4,184 to 7,700; Salem Township from 1,525 to 2,250; Wayne, from 11,239 to 16,000; Garden City from 9,012 to 34,400.

Population in the Detroit Region, plus Monroe County and the four eastern townships of Washtenaw County was estimated at 4,046,000. This is an increase of 909,721 since April 1950.

Macomb County, registering a 103 percent increase since 1950, showed the most rapid population growth. Oakland County made a gain of 67 percent and out-Wayne County showed an increase of 69 percent. Detroit's increase was 1.4 percent.

The greatest numerical gain was in Wayne County where the increase in population was 419,765. The county has an estimated 2,855,000. Oakland County has an estimated 660,000 and Macomb County, 375,000.

Public To Inspect Fire Departments

A week of activities designed to acquaint citizens with the operation of their fire department has been planned by area departments in connection with Fire Prevention Week that opens this Sunday.

Plymouth city and township fire departments are again playing host for a fire prevention show that is expected to attract several thousand people. Plymouth is one of the few communities which actually stages a major program during Fire Prevention Week.

To give taxpayers an idea of how their money is spent, an open house is planned at the Plymouth township and city and Canton township fire departments during the week. Parents are especially invited to bring their children and look over the equipment during the day and evenings Sunday through Saturday of next week. The city open house will be at Station No. 2 on Spring St. Fire departments of Plymouth and Canton Townships are located at their respective township halls.

Highlight of the week will come next Thursday night when a parade down Main St. begins at 6:30. Eight departments will bring their equipment and will participate in the demonstration program.

Unlike past years when water battles took place, this year's program will consist of demonstrations of various kinds. They will start around 7 p.m. in front of Kellogg Park.

Taking part in the events will be departments from Superior, Canton, Salem and Plymouth Townships, Northville, Novi, Plymouth and the Detroit House of Correction. These are Mutual Aid departments.

They will show such things as putting a ladder up a building and bringing up a hose, hooking up a hose at a hydrant, use of the resuscitator, use of forcible entry tools and the roof ladder. Downtown buildings will be used.

Booths will be set up by the departments to show the various types of equipment and firemen will be there to answer questions. The crowd will also get a chance to look over the fire trucks.

School children will again be given a chance to enter into the fire prevention program. Each elementary child will be given a home fire inspection chart so that they can check off the safety of their own homes. A film on fire prevention will be shown in the schools late in the week.

Mayor Pro-Tem Robert Sincok is "coming along fine" after undergoing serious head surgery last Friday morning. Mrs. Sincok reported Wednesday that doctors have indicated that her husband is responding satisfactorily. They have not indicated when he will return home. NEWS BEAT

Those explosions heard recently in the Plymouth area can be blamed on the Air Force. Jet planes breaking the "sound barrier" cause the explosions which are capable of shaking every house in a community. The problem is a major one in the new jet age. City police and the Michigan Bell operators were swamped with calls Tuesday morning from residents wanting to know what happened.

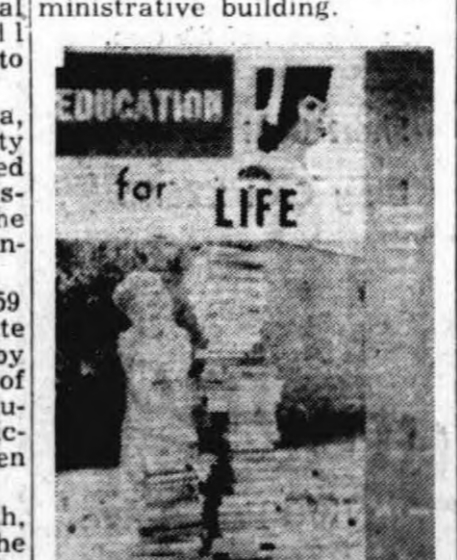

SIGNING OFF: Passers-by were amused by a sign posted in the window of the old store building being torn down beside Schrader's Funeral Home. Even as the last walls were felled, the sign proclaimed: "Closed for Roof Repairs."

TRUCE: Those water battles fought during past Fire Prevention Week programs have been ruled out this year by firemen in fear that some bystanders might get hurt. The departments may continue their battles in private at another time.

SMASH-UP: Vandals have been causing some expensive damage to homes under construction in the Symar Subdivision off S. Mill St. Builders reported 20 panes were broken out over the weekend costing around $5 each. Five more panes were broken last week.

SKILLED LABOR: Those thinking of running for the Plymouth Township treasurer's job may want to look twice before they file. An $8,300 Burroughs' Sensomatic has arrived and a factory representative is now giving treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes a series of instruction lessons. The age of automation may scare away the ordinary office-seeker.

The Mail Attitude

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Plymouth's school board took the wraps off its important future plans this week, and that subject will be our main one today.

But first, as the TV announcer says, let's pause for a short word about a couple of signs of Plymouth progress.

Without much fanfare, attorney Earl Demel has purchased, refurbished, and occupied the sturdy building on Ann Arbor Trail which previously was the local Bell Telephone headquarters. The facility is now known as the "Colonial Building."

It has been finished inside into a number of professional suites, all of them as smart-appearing as anything in this whole area. A dentist (Dr. Don O. Nafe, Jr.), a surgeon (Dr. Joseph McNamara) and two chiropodists (Dr. Harry Oknaian and Dr. S. Cyril Leib) have leased quarters. With Demel himself moving his personal operations into the building, it's almost fully occupied, even before officially open in the new role.

The encouraging point is that here is an investor with faith in the future of Plymouth who risked his money and produced some new commercial activity for the community.

And then we'd like to take note of the demolition of the small frame building which has stood across the street from our own office, between Schrader's Funeral Home and Fisher Shoes.

There was a lot of history and nostalgia in that old dwelling, but it had become an eyesore on Main street and a fire menace. Its removal this week is another positive step ahead.

It is now clear that Plymouth's school board has decided it is necessary to go to the voters next month to ask for millage.

The mathematical details of the case become hopelessly complicated (as they usually do), but the essential information is that the schools would wind up with one more tax mill to spend than they now have—if the voters say "yes."

The money will be used to provide new space for ballooning enrollment. Ten years from now, the number of children in the Plymouth system will be almost exactly double the number now receiving instruction!

Plymouth school district, of course, includes Plymouth Township, portions of Canton Township, portions of Northville Township, and the City of Plymouth. Future growth will occur almost entirely in the outer Township regions.

This writer has made a hasty study of the Board's newest documents and suggests two preliminary conclusions:

1. The facts, this time, are being laid out clearly, in plain English, with no sleight-of-hand, where any citizen who takes the trouble can examine them and understand what's happening.

2. The reasonable answer to the ultimate millage request, if it stays inside the current limits, is "yes."

As most readers well know, in the past the Board of Education played seriously with the idea of raising a big new high school on the outskirts of the City of Plymouth.

The present high school was to have been turned into a junior high.

The Mail opposed this on a host of grounds, and so did a hornet's nest of interested citizens.

It is a pleasure, then, to be able now to report that the Board appears to have turned around sharply on that earlier idea.

Our present high school would remain in action as the heart of the system. A total of $412,000 would be spent there between 1961 and 1965 to make larger classrooms, modernize others, add shop and science facilities, add to the library.

By the end of 1961 all ninth graders would be taken out of the high school, leaving only grades 10-12.

At the same time, immediate construction would begin on a major building which would be somewhere in the outer areas. It is labeled a "combination secondary" school.

In real terms, it is a building which in its early years would be used for 6th and 7th grades, later for 7th and 8th, and so on, until by 1970 or thereabouts it would have become the "second high school," housing 10, 11, and 12th graders.

This new planning is based on charts showing that the crest of the enrollment problem, at the moment, is at fifth and sixth grade level. If space can be found for those youngsters during the next six years, the high school expansion can be handled later.

In 1964 and 1965, for example, both the present junior high and this proposed "secondary combination" school would be needed to accommodate grades 7 through 9.

The Board would spend $1,750,000 for the "secondary combination" school almost immediately, crashing to get it open by September, 1961 for sixth and seventh graders. In 1966 another $1,250,000 would be required to complete the building as a full-blown new high school.

The pattern for this newest idea has been used in other districts, notably Birmingham, and our Board approved of the way it was working there.

One other element of the newest Board proposal is particularly attractive to The Mail.

Within the plans is provision for a 650 seat auditorium to be raised near the present high school.

Our readers realize this newspaper's continuing plea for progress toward a "heart" or "center" for our whole community, this to be built around the important public buildings which we already own—the new library and the high school.

This prompted some of the resistance toward any move which might take the high school out of the "heart" to a distant location.

The new auditorium, situated possibly in the general area of the present veteran's building, would be a substantial new addition to the ultimate campus.

And, not incidentally, it would provide a home for our prideful symphony orchestra, our theater guild, and other community functions which lend to Plymouth's unique cultural personality. The Board has plans for the building to include meeting rooms for women's groups, and all the others who have outgrown their ability to any longer gather in someone's living room.

Citizens groups, the Township Boards, the City Commission and others have been given copies of the plans. They're going over them with a critical eye at this moment.

As stated, the request at the ballot in November would add one mill to the tax load now being carried by business and residents. It would provide for this "combination secondary" school, the rehabilitation and addition to the present high school, the auditorium, and also: (1) $38,000 to complete additions to Starkweather; (2) $1,100,000 for two elementary schools to be opened in 1962 and 1964; and (3) $50,000 to grab future school sites before the land price goes higher.

We believe the general program is something the people will understand and approve.

Lake Pointe Considers Street Lights

Whether to install street lights or not in a Plymouth Township subdivision will be determined in a poll to be taken among homeowners in the near future.

The Lake Pointe Homeowners Association is in the midst of setting a problem that has hit many other new subdivisions in once-rural areas. Some feel that street lights are necessary in highly-populated areas; others feel that it will ruin the country atmosphere which they wanted when they moved to the suburbs.

A plan by the Lake Pointe group would call for the cost of the lighting to be footed by homeowners and added to their electric bills.

Tuesday night the board of directors of the association met to discuss the controversy. From the meeting came the following statement:

"The board of directors of the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association, desiring to clarify its position on the proposed street lighting program, wishes to state that as of the present time, no official stand has been taken. Further, that no official position will be taken until such time as all concerned have been given an opportunity to voice their opinion through petitions.

"This petition will be circulated in the near future and will give all Lake Pointe homeowners the option of voting yes or no. This petition will be preceded by a news-letter setting forth all pertinent facts. Since the board is a body representing the homeowners at-large, it must be governed by a majority opinion as shown by the petitions. It necessarily follows that until an official statement is issued by this board, all past and future statements regarding the street lighting program are personal in nature."

A. T. Perttola is the new association president.

Ticket Policy For PHS Games Announced

The ticket policy for Plymouth High School varsity football and basketball games was announced this week by Assistant High School Principal Gustav Gorguze.

Pre-school children are admitted free of charge when accompanied by a parent. All pupils, kindergarten through 6th grade, including non-public school children, may purchase tickets previous to the game at their respective buildings for 25 cents.

All other pupils, grades 7 through 12, including non-public school children, may purchase tickets previous to the game at their buildings for 40 cents.

There will be only one price ticket at the gate on the night of the football games. It will be $1.

Basketball ticket policy will be the same as football except the price for all tickets at the gate will be 75 cents for all instead of $1.

Jr. Symphony Is 'Farm System' of Senior Group

Several important projects of the Plymouth Symphony Society are directed toward the community's young people in an effort (which to date has proved most successful) to promote interest in good music.

Every Saturday morning one of these projects comes to life when members of the Junior Sym-

According to the Junior Symphony director, Miss Bette M. Norman, the orchestra is "coming along smoothly" and from all indications will be especially good this season. Miss Norman reports a large string section and says she is hoping to increase its size.

Another Symphony Society program maintained solely for the younger set is the distribution of free tickets to the Detroit Symphony's Saturday Morning Children's Concerts held throughout the winter.

The Society already has purchased 44 season tickets, covering six concerts, and these will be given to different children each time thereby allowing some 260 boys and girls to attend one performance.

This has been a most popular activity for school children who are looking forward to the November event.

Affecting fewer youngsters but of unquestioned value are the Interlochen scholarships for promising young artists which the Society awards each year. The well-known music camp has assisted and encouraged young persons on to musical success for several years.

The Society also sponsors many other activities and organizations all of which are associated in one way or another with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra which on October 11 opens its season of free concerts.

This year marks the 14th series for the orchestra and the eighth season for its director, Wayne Dunlap, who also is serving as conductor of the Saginaw Symphony Orchestra.

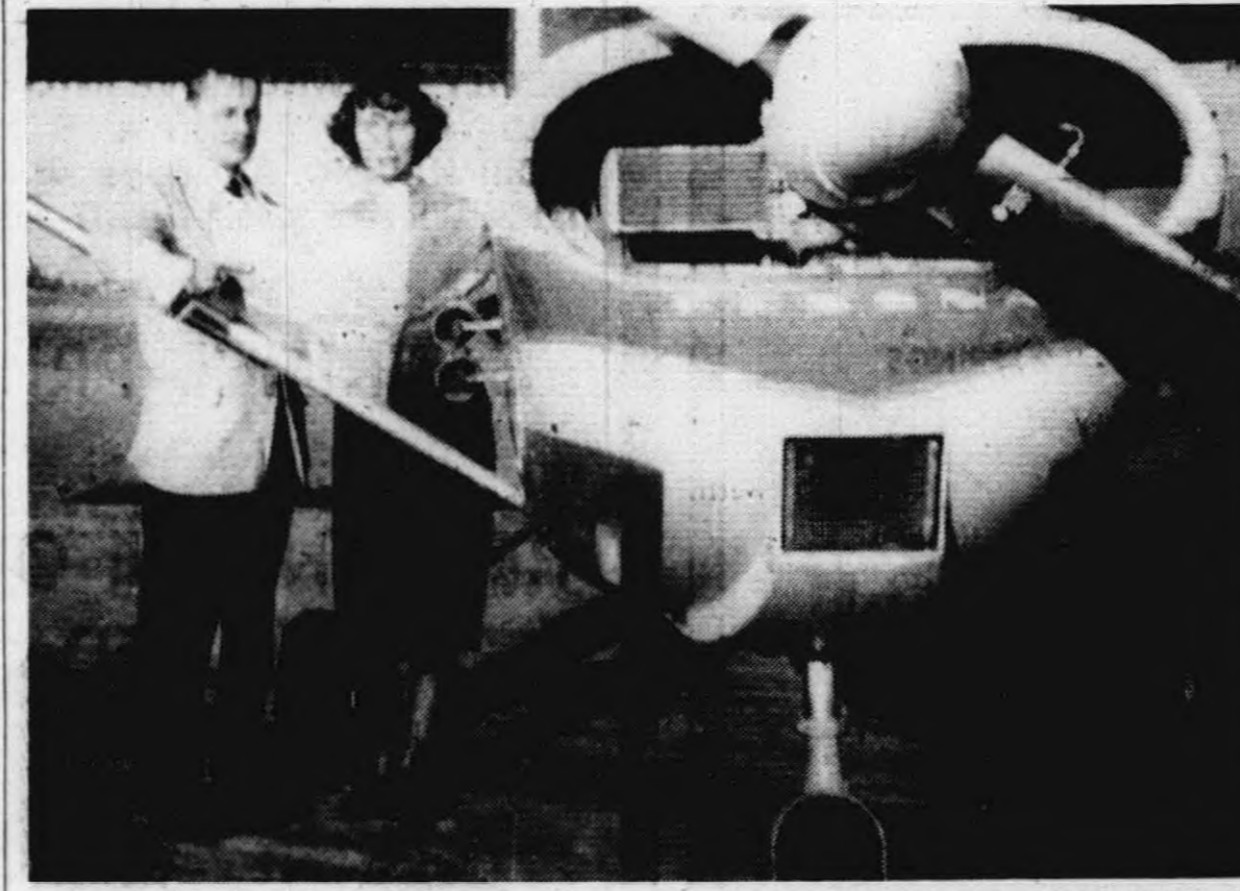

In order to continue its varied cultural programs, the Society is holding its annual membership drive and has set a goal of $5,500—slightly more than half of the annual budget.

Memberships are not limited and are available in four categories: active, $7.50; supporting, $15.00; sustaining, $25.00; patron, $50.00 and up. Business memberships start at $10. All donations are deductible for tax purposes.

Persons who have not received information in the mail but are desirous of joining the Society may make their checks payable to the Plymouth Symphony Society and mail to P. O. Box 99, Plymouth.

Brochures giving further information are available at the Penn Theatre, Melody House, Cassidy's and Carl Caplin's.

The Symphony Society is governed by a board of directors of which Robert Jenkins is president. Board member Miss Margaret Wilson is chairman of the membership drive with board member David Mather in charge of business solicitations.

"CAPTAIN" Sutherland and Olivia Bell plotting their course for the Bay City to Benton Harbor, Fourth Michigan Small Race to be held October 3. Actually the route is a mystery and won't be revealed until the pilots receive their briefing at a pre-race banquet on October 2. Miss Bell will be the pilot and Dr. Ford Sutherland will be the Co-pilot, who is alias "Captain" these days in keeping with his role in the forthcoming November production of Mister Roberts given by the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

Local Pilots Fly In State Race

"A mitten full of fun" is promised all entrants of the Fourth Michigan Small Race from Bay City to Benton Harbor this weekend.

Miss Olivia Bell will pilot a 172 Cessna from Ann Arbor Airport in her fourth attempt to bring home the $200 cash prize plus the Bunyan Rotating Trophy. Dr. Ford Sutherland will be her co-pilot for the event.

Other prizes are $150, $125, $75, $50. There will be miniature trophies for all winning co-pilots too. There are prizes for the first plane to impound, the one coming the greatest distance, the pilot with the most hours, and the pilot with the least. Olivia has been flying for approximately six years and Dr. Sutherland has but one and a half hours instruction time.

Miss Bell is a teacher in the Plymouth Community School District. Dr. Sutherland is an X-Ray Specialist in the Detroit area.

All contestants will receive gifts, compliments of Dow Chemical Co.

A breakfast and final briefing will precede the 10 a.m. take-off.

Leah Higgins from Detroit and Margaret Crane from Fenton will fly in competition to the Bell-Sutherland combination. They will fly a Cessna 175 from Mettetal Airport. There are about 30 planes in all entered in the race.

The Plymouth Theater Guild is sponsor of the racing team.

Obituary

Florence Littler

An industrial and private nurse who for 25 years lived in Plymouth, Miss Florence Littler, died last week in Hendersonville, N.C.

Miss Littler formerly lived at 853 Church Street. She was a graduate nurse of Harper Hospital. She worked at the Detroit House of Correction and other institutions and also did private nursing in area homes.

Moving to North Carolina about four years ago, Miss Littler died suddenly last Thursday. Interment was in Jackson.

GARDEN GAB—

BY BILL SAXTON

We have just received a shipment of blooming size Japanese Tulips to sell at 25 for $1.00. Don't be caught on the 250 for a dollar variety bulbs which are not blooming size or you will be up waiting several years for a bloom.

It is not advisable to feed trees yet. We recommend feeding trees in spring or early summer or even late in fall after leaves have dropped and the trees are dormant. Feeding now will encourage soft new growth which would freeze out over winter.

House plants will do the best on soft rain water with an occasional feeding of liquid plant food such as Hypone or Ortho Liquid.

Speaking of soft water, swimming pool owners will be interested to learn that the use of softened water will eliminate most scale formation and iron deposit.

If you have lost any roses over the summer check the stems to see if they are hollow from rose borers. Cut any infested stems back to good solid wood and treat stem ends with tree worm paint or grafting wax. Spray all stems with a solution of 50% D.D.T. mixed at the rate of 4 tablespoons to a gallon of water. This will kill borers crawling up the stems.

Leave begonias and gladiolus in the ground as long as they are not completely killed by frost. They are making growth yet. Winter storage places are usually too warm yet anyway.

Plymouthites to See Lunt, Fountanne in Final Tour

When Plymouth folks virtually take over the Schubert Theatre in Detroit on Wednesday, Oct. 21, they will be seeing the famous Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fountanne appearing in their final nationwide tour.

Lunt and Fountanne are appearing in "The Visit," winner of the New York Drama Critics Award in 1959. Also appearing are Thomas Gomez, John Wyse, William Hansen, Glenn Anders, Myles Eason and a New York cast of 35. In "The Visit" Miss Fountanne portrays a moneyed and much-married woman who returns to her native town to seek justice for a wrong suffered in her youth. Mr. Lunt as a respectable shopkeeper becomes the seapegoat of the community's corruption and greed.

"The Visit" marks the 28th appearance of the Lunts in a personal and artistic joint career studied with critical and popular acclaim. Some of their past performances include "The Guardsman," "Reunion in Vienna," "Elizabeth the Queen," "Design for Living," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Idiot's Delight" and others.

To make reservations, one may phone GL 3-3858 for tickets. Tickets cost $4.90 on the main floor, $4.40 in the first 10 rows of the balcony and $3.85 in the remaining balcony seats.

The central office for the conference, located in Lansing, serves the state of Michigan. The governing power of the church is vested in a president and treasurer along with all member executive committee composed of pastors and lay members from throughout the state. These officers will be up for reelection along with the heads of the 10 departments of the conference.

Also due to give reports at the business session are the principals of the three conference operated academies at Grand Lodge, Holly and Cedar Lake. Following the election on October 5, a pastoral council will be held on Tuesday.

Seventh Day Adventist Church Holds Michigan Conference

Jeremia Florea, pastor of the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church, and Fred Otto, 15596 Maxwell, will represent the local church at the biennial business session of the Michigan Conference in Detroit, October 5-6.

Some 500 representatives from 163 churches will attend the session to hear reports from the departments of the church and to elect officers for the coming two year period.

The Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists was the first organized body of the church, coming into existence on October 5, 1861 in Battle Creek. This business session comes on the 98th anniversary of the organization of the conference.

Guild Rodeo Smashing Success

Through the efforts of many dedicated members the St. Mary Hospital Guild reached their goal of $12,000 for the new hospital to be opened December 1 on Levan and Five Mile Road. The Guild pledged to purchase the china, linen, and flatware for the hospital.

The take from the gala weekend rodeo, sponsored by the Guild, brought in the balance of money needed for their sought-after goal. Guild Chairman, Dorothy Arnold reported all the figures were not yet tabulated, however, she was hopeful the Guild would have enough surplus funds to establish the hospital gift shop the Guild plans to maintain. In addition to gate receipts they realized money from the advertising in the program of rodeo events.

Gerald Harmen of 14259 Auburn won the "week-end for two" in New York. Nancy Baldwin and Russell Bruce, both of Detroit won the bikes. Bobby Schmitt of 17365 Brady, Redford Township was winner of the Bunk House.

Chairman of the various rodeo posts worked diligently for two days and seated, fed, ushered, and parked approximately 20,000 people.

National Day of Prayer

The regular Wednesday evening prayer service at the Seventh-day Adventist church here will take note of the fact that October 7 is a national day of prayer. It will be devoted to thoughts of thanksgiving for the blessings Americans as a whole have enjoyed, announced Jeremiah A. Floren, pastor.

Following the suggestions outlined in the Presidential Proclamation, the minister said, "we will consider the precious heritage of liberty we enjoy, the bounties of our land, and turn our prayers in behalf of those not so pleasantly situated as we."

The service opens at 7 p.m. at the church at 41233 E. Ann Arbor Trail. Visitors of any faith are welcome.

School Planners Resume Meetings Next Week

OPENING OF A NEW year next week will be the Plymouth School-Community Planning Group—a committee of citizens who devote their time to studying school problems. George Conover, chairman of the group this year, urges all interested citizens to attend the opening meeting of the group on Wednesday, Oct. 7. The meeting starts at 7:45 p.m. and will be held in the library of the Junior High School. The group is divided into a number of committees to work on specific educational problems. The group has been highly successful in helping the school board to work out details of certain problems.

Recruits Needed For Conservation Officer Vacancies

Conservation officer W. S. Mitchell was in Plymouth Wednesday doing some pre-recruiting prior to forthcoming conservation officer examinations.

Young men interested in a career of enforcing Michigan's game laws can take a step in this direction by submitting applications for the exam to the State Civil Service Commission office in Lansing. Applications must reach the office no later than Oct. 14.

Application forms can be obtained locally at the Michigan Employment Security Commission on Lilley Rd.

The Conservation Department plans to fill 25-30 vacancies in its field force which presently numbers 165 officers.

Applicants who are 23-29 years old as of October 14, weigh 150-220, are 5'9" tall and meet other minimum requirements will be eligible to take the written test November 21.

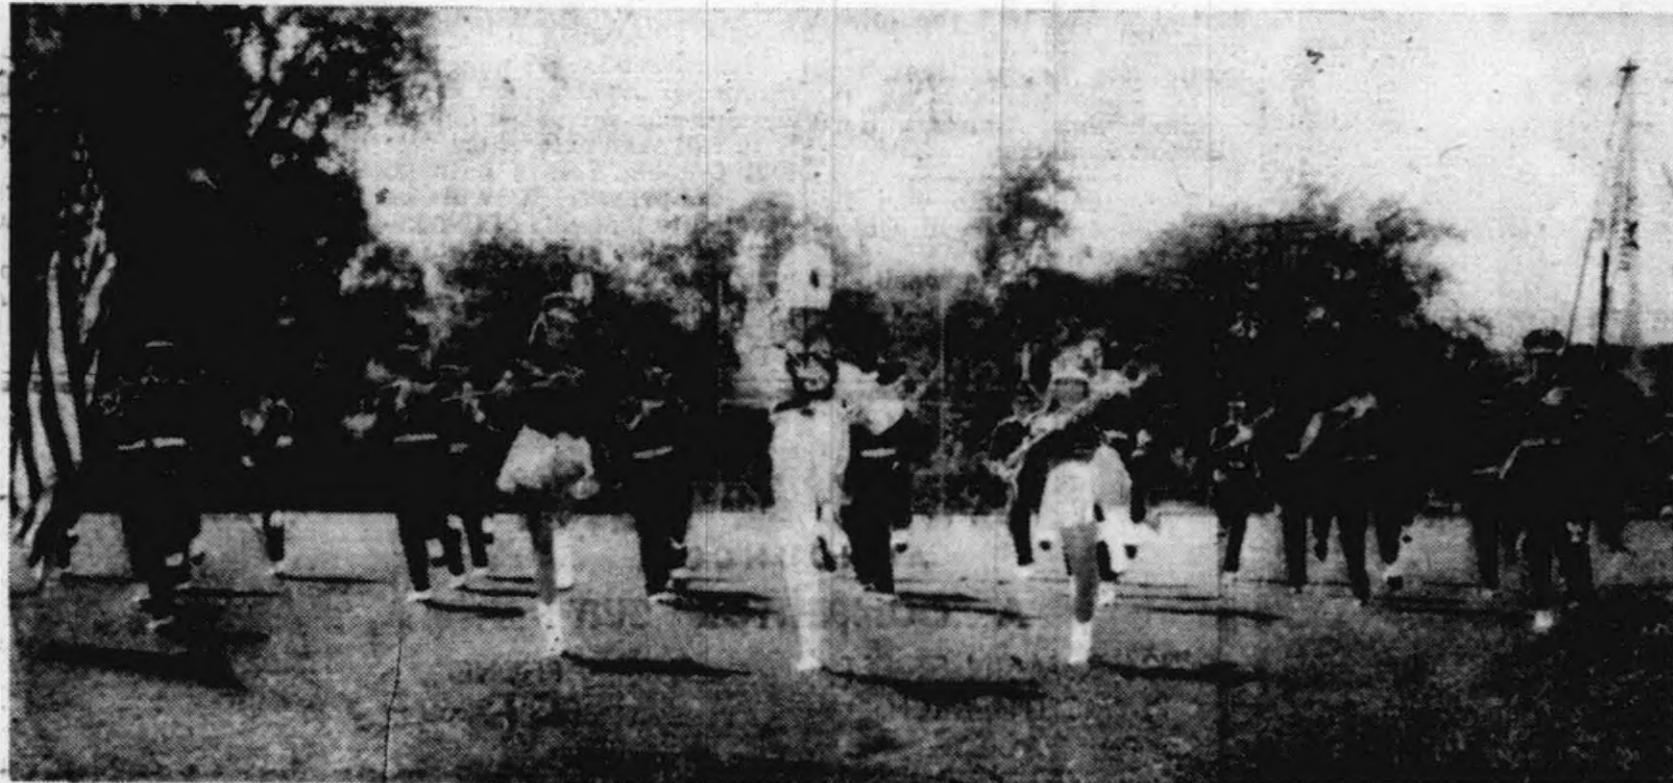

The written test, measuring mental ability, will be given at various examination centers throughout the state. Those who successfully pass this test, field investigation and physical examination will be screened by an oral interview board.

Candidates will be selected from this interview to attend the Conservation Officer Recruit School at Higgins Lake. The school, tentatively slated to begin early next spring, will last seven weeks. Trainees will receive classroom and field training in law enforcement techniques at the school. Graduates will then be assigned to regular field posts throughout the state.

MARCHING ACROSS the gridiron this Friday night will be the 1959 edition of the Plymouth High School band. The 80-piece band will be making its first home appearance at the Homecoming game. On Saturday, Oct. 10 the band will participate in the gigantic Parade of Bands at the U of M game. The following day they will be one of seven bands to perform at Lions-Colts half-time ceremonies.

Marching Band Makes Debut Here Friday

Plymouth High School's 80-piece marching band has already participated in both of the Rocks' away football games at Northville and Livonia Bentley. Leading the Homecoming parade at 7:15 Friday night through the downtown area will give townspeople a first-hand look at this "biggest and best yet" PHS band. The band, under the direction of James Griffith, has already participated in both of the Rocks' away football games at Northville and Livonia Bentley. Band Day at the University of Michigan on Saturday will find the PHS band joined with 190 other bands (over 12,500 bandmen) in the world's largest massed band in the world's largest college-owned stadium.

This spectacular display of color and sound in the Michigan Stadium never fails to draw its own crowd—people who come just to witness this mass group of young musicians creating, under one baton, a tremendous musical experience.

Band will form the "C" in the "HI COLTS" formation, and the "L" in "GO LIONS". The televised game can be received in this area from Lansing.

ALONG WITH the thrill of football comes the color of the half-time ceremonies and the Plymouth High School band. Here the band is shown rehearsing for this Friday night's first home game. It is also a Homecoming game and Trenton is the foe.

Egloff's 89-Yard Return Dashes Bentley

COACH MIKE SPITZ and his assistant, Dick Nelson, check over a few points of game strategy with two of their backs, Don Gavigan and Jerry Kisabeth, from Our Lady of Good Counsel School. Some 35 grade school boys participated in last week's CYO game at St. Suzanne's, Detroit, with Good Counsel driving across the deciding touchdown in the final minutes of the fourth quarter, winning 13-6. On Sunday, Oct. 4, Good Counsel meets Immaculate Heart of Detroit at 3 p.m. in Haggerty Field.

21-13 Win 2nd In Row For Rocks

For twenty seconds in the second period Friday night Bentley's Bulldogs snuffed victory, but a whirlwind 98-yard kickoff return by Plymouth quarterback Randy Egloff quickly put them off the scent. Plymouth bagged its second win of the season, 21-13, and Bentley suffered its second straight defeat in its home opener and the opening game of Suburban Six competition for both teams.

Bentley Quarterback Mike Bratherton had scored on a three yard sneak with 3:28 left in the half, after engineering a 12 play attack that originated on his own 39. Bratherton completed five of eight passes in the drive, and Bentley was aided by a Plymouth interference penalty on the Rocks' six. Fullback Dick Kemnitz converted and Bentley trailed by only seven points, 14-7. It began to look like Bentley was gaining momentum and Plymouth was slipping.

Kemnitz kicked off, and the ball bounded around inside the five, tumbling for the goal. Egloff hesitated a moment, then picked it up on the two. He cut to his right and hustled out to the 18, where someone threw a key bump block.

Egloff swung to his left, stepped over one tackler, stiff-armed another, threading his way to the sideline near his own forty. Suddenly he was in front of everyone. Three Bentley players pursued him in the end zone. He kicked his third extra point and Plymouth led 21-7. Only 20 seconds had elapsed.

Bentley never recovered, although at the beginning of the third quarter the Bulldogs scored again in nine plays. Halfback Joe Antonazzo plunged the final six inches.

This attack was mixed as Bratherton hit ends Jim Carmichael and Ron Bogoyevac with key passes. Kemnitz' kick was blocked by Plymouth Fullback Wayne Sparkman, who barged through the left side of the line. That ended the scoring and Plymouth held its lead, 21-13.

Plymouth made use of the first break in the game to score its first touchdown.

SPORTSEEN

By BILL NELSON

Mike Hoben and Jack Hudnut, two football strategists who did everything sportsmanlike to beat each other silly on the football field Friday night, got together Sunday evening to watch movies of the Plymouth-Bentley game, which Plymouth won 21-13.

Hoben coaches Plymouth, of course, and Hudnut handles the Bulldogs from Bentley. Hoben had praise for fullback Wayne Sparkman, halfback John Salan and quarterback Randy Egloff as significant contributors to Plymouth's second victory in as many games.

"In the line Dick Alsbro, a guard, and Don Nickerson, a center, played a particularly strong game for us," Hoben said. He also praised Rock end Ray Lismakka.

"Bentley was better against us than against Farmington," Hoben said. "And I told him (Jack Hudnut) he'll win some ball games."

"How do you stop the short pass with those two big ends he has (Carmichael and Bogoyevac) and that quarterback (Bratherton), Ron Mitchell, a tackle played a particularly good game for Bentley and the offensive line gave Bratherton all night to pass."

Hudnut managed a wry comment after his second straight loss this year. "We manage to drop one inside our own 25 or 30 every year with Plymouth and we didn't fail this time." He referred to a fumble in the first period that set up Plymouth's first score.

"I would say the fumble and Egloff's run were decisive," Hudnut added. Bentley controlled the ball on approximately 70 plays and Plymouth on 45. Normally under those circumstances Bentley should have won.

In addition, Bentley completely dominated play in the second half. "But," Hudnut pointed out, "When Sparkman blocked the kick after the second touchdown in the third period, that meant we had to get two more instead of one."

"The relative strength of the league is improved this year," Hudnut explained when asked about Bentley's chances over Belleville next week, "but we'll be tough for them, too." Belleville beat Redford Union last week 28-6.

Hoben's Plymouth team, meanwhile, will take on Trenton at Plymouth, also undefeated. "They run a tight-tugged running team," he said and quickly added, "but we kind of welcome that."

Trenton beat Wyandotte 12-6 and Allen Park 7-6 in its first two games this year. Hoben has a 2-1-1 record with Trenton, including a 35-7 win last year.

Hoben attended the Michigan-Missouri game Saturday, where he visited after the game with Dave Walasky who has made the traveling team with the University of Missouri. He's a sophomore halfback, who played for Hoben at Plymouth.

Larry Wells, a freshman at Arizona State has made the varsity team at end, Hoben reports. He played ball at Plymouth last year.

Frosh Win 16-14 In Final Seconds

Plymouth's freshman football team staged a dramatic finish to win its opening game last week with Willow Run 16-14 in the last four seconds on a 15-yard field goal.

When Dale Livingston booted from the right side of the field it sent Plymouth ahead for the first time, 16-14. They had trailed 7-0, 7-6, 14-6, 14-13 before forging ahead with only seconds left.

Plymouth plays South Lyon today at South Lyon and Coach Frank Sullivan comments, "I know this South Lyon has JVs and we're freshmen." He added, "They combine their frosh and JV, because they don't have enough to make up separate teams."

Sullivan plans to emphasize blocking in the line this week and pass defense. "We also plan to brush up pass offense," he said. "We only touched it lightly last week and looked good. I think Schryer (quarterback) had a about 80 percent completions."

Willow Run scored both touchdowns on passes. Plymouth scored its first touchdown in the first quarter when Dick Schryer hit right half Buzz Smith in the end zone on an eleven yard pass.

Plymouth trailed 14-6 in the third quarter when Schryer intercepted a pass on his own ten. Fifteen plays later Bob Steele scored from twelve yards out.

After this touchdown, only three minutes remained. Dale Livingston delivered an on-side kick and Tom McElroy fell on it on the Willow Run 40 yard line. From there in eight plays the Rocks moved to the 15, where Livingston kicked the game-winning field goal with four seconds left.

Plymouth's best back, Buzz Smith, suffered a broken collarbone late in the game and will be out for the rest of the season.

Trenton Faces Rocks In Homecoming Game

A two game winning streak will fall by the wayside Friday when Plymouth meets Trenton here at Plymouth at 8 p.m. in the Rock's Homecoming Game.

Both Trenton and Plymouth bring unbeaten winning streaks into the game. A tie could protect that record for both teams, but it would end the winning streaks.

Trenton has whipped Wyandotte 12-6 and Allen Park 7-6, while Plymouth has beaten Northville 9-3 and Bentley 21-13.

Trenton is a running team, while Plymouth has featured a mixed attack.

Huntington Paces Win In 11:23

Rock runners move to Trenton tomorrow for their fourth dual cross-country meet.

Last Friday the Rocks added to "Bentley Day" by trimming the Bulldogs 21-38 at Plymouth. Jeff Huntington led the two mile trot in Riverside Park by coming in first in 11:23. Mates Dave Mynatt and Dave Rank followed in 11:42 and 11:50, respectively, to give Plymouth the first three places.

In the opening meet against Wayne September 22, Wayne won 24-31. Bill Hoberda of Wayne was first in 12:04 and Huntington was second in 12:07.

Yesterday, the Rocks met Northville and next Tuesday will participate in the Thurston Invitational, a meet of 25-30 schools. Thursday they will meet the defending league champions, Redford Union, at Riverside, Plymouth's home course.

Last season the Rocks were third in the league with a 4-1 dual record. Coach John Sandmann remarked that Huntington's time in the Bentley meet was "pretty good for this time of year."

Rock JVs Tie 6-6

Bentley and Plymouth football teams will go at it again this week, when the Junior Varsityes play at 4 p.m. today at Plymouth.

Plymouth boned up for the Bulldogs last week with a 6-6 tie with Northville. Sophomore right end Jim Dark scored the Rocks only touchdown on a 35 yard pass from quarterback Darroll Miller, a Junior.

Plymouth had a couple of good runs called back on penalties, including a "touchdown" run and another that was good for 60 yards by right half Elroy Menchaca, a sophomore.

Picture Look Familiar?

HEY, THIS picture looks a little familiar. Didn't The Mail run this last week? Well, the story is like this, you see. Linda Stencken, 1496 Penniman, had her picture taken at the State Fair as winner of the 9-11 year old age group in the ponytail contest. We wrote a nice little story about her after talking with Linda on the phone. But alas, when Linda saw the paper, it wasn't her at all. The State Fair's professional public relations people had sent us the wrong picture, although it was posed just the same. "We pride ourselves on not getting pictures mixed up," the agency told The Mail. But this time they did — much to the redness of all our faces. The girl appearing last week was winner of another age group.

Federal's Trains 300 New People

When you step up to a counter in the new Federal Department Store at Wonderland Shopping Center you could meet one of your neighbors. But you might not recognize her.

Federal's is hiring more than 300 new sales people, most of them average housewives from Redford Township, Livonia, Plymouth and other surrounding communities. They will be carefully screened from thousands of applicants with an eye to selecting people representative of their community, people who will know and understand the customers they'll be serving.

But it's a long step from the kitchen stove to the counter of a huge department store and Federal's has been running a "college" for the first 70 prospective employees this week to help them make the transition from housewife to an efficient, personable saleslady.

The ladies are drilled in all the "technical" angles of their work. This covers everything from how to pick an item off the counter and wrap it, to writing out a sales slip and working a cash register.

But perhaps even more important is the effort devoted to "customer relations."

It is even drawn down to the fine point of giving hints on grooming — hair styling, lipstick and make-up and clothing.

Those who complete the training courses successfully will take their places behind the counters at Federal's on opening day Oct. 15.

The training program is carried out under the direction of Harry Kirk, Personnel Director for Federal's.

Instructor for the classes is Joan Davies, a striking blonde who typifies the warm personality and quiet efficiency that Kirk and his staff have set as the ideal for the new store's sales force.

Kirk said that all the efforts to hire and train people from the local area are directed at one goal — to bring the hugeness and complexity of a giant department store down to a personal and familiar level for the customer. To give the sales staff a feeling of "being at home" in their new jobs beginning with the opening day, Kirk said the training classes are being held right in the store.

Women

Plymouth Women's Club Open Fall Season at Meadowbrook

One of Michigan's most unusual clubwomen will be the speaker at the Opening Meeting of the Plymouth Women's Club on Friday, Oct. 2 at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Mrs. Meredith Bixby of Saline will discuss "Women and Communications." It is not by accident that Thyra Bixby has been asked to serve in one capacity or another in the Communications Department of the Federation of Women's Clubs since she first held state chairmanship of these departments in 1953.

Thyra Bixby is no "Ivory Tower" Clubwoman when she speaks on press, radio or TV. Her brother is a newspaper man and she is quite familiar with the backstage workings of the "Fourth Estate" and hence is able to help constructively with the reporting of a convention. In 1957, with her husband, Meredith, she pioneered the establishment of WOIA Radio at Saline. Worked right through all the processes of finding a frequency that would fit in... assisted with Hearings before the Federal Communications Commission at Washington — helped plan and build the Radio building — and conducted a program until selling the station in 1959 (June). She has arrived at definite conclusions on the Communications systems of our nation from first hand experience.

It is an unusual background for a Club Woman... but she is also a full-time mother and housewife... Her two youngsters, Mike, 16, and Nora, 13, come home to lunch every day... and they are both Honor students at the new Saline High school... which she worked hard to achieve... serving for the past 5 years on the Saline Educational Advisory Council. Mrs. Bixby is the Founder of the Saline Room Mothers' Association — a past president of the Washtenaw County Federation of Women's Clubs and at present Radio and TV Chairman for Southeastern Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs.

With her husband, Meredith, she shares the creation of the nationally famous

Mrs. Bixby will be introduced by the Chairman of the day, Mrs. Max Todd. Mrs. Marshall North is the Program Chairman for the year.

A short business meeting will follow the 12:30 luncheon inaugurating the first meeting of the season.

R. Union Alumni Dinner October 10

The Fifth Annual Redford Union Alumni Dinner-Dance will be held this year at Redford Union High School, 17711 Kinloch, Redford Township, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p.m.

All graduates from Redford Union who have not as yet received their invitations are asked to contact Mrs. R. Manchester, 9574 Cardwell, Livonia, GA 1-6259.

Advance reservations are necessary for the dinner, but tickets for the dance alone (which starts at 9 p.m.) are available at the door at $1.50 per person.

Kenyon Extension Group

On Sept. 23 the Kenyon Extension Group met at the home of Mrs. Robert Delaney of Gude Rd. The lesson was a casserole dish and Mrs. Ira Hawk of Warren Rd. and Mrs. Frederick Steiner of Ridge Rd. made two of the casseroles.

The hostess surprised the group with mince meat pie.

The meeting was called to order followed by installation of officers. Programs were planned for the year coming. There was a short lesson on casserole dishes and the meeting was adjourned with a prayer for Peace.

Plymouthites United in Garden Site

Dr. A. Theodore Halstead united Kathleen Greenlee and William L. Moore in holy matrimony in the garden of their friend Ray Neemon, W. Ann Arbor Road. Two lovely old walnut trees served as a natural altar for the five o'clock rites August 22. A large basket of white gladioli placed near each of the trees further beautified the setting.

Kathleen, the daughter of Mrs. Hattie Greenlee of 558 Karmada chose a white cupionni, cocktail length sheath with an overdress of sheer white. A stand-up Queen Anne collar and wrist-length sleeves were part of her fitted nylon jacket embroidered with white fleur-de-lis. She carried a bouquet of two white orchids with baby mums, roses, and green and white ivy forming a small cascade.

Mrs. Robert Manion of Inkster, Mich. was matron of honor gowned in a pale yellow organdy dress with yellow embroidery. She carried a colonial bouquet of bronze mums.

The groom, William Moore, is the son of Mrs. Carrie Moore of Joy Road, Plymouth.

Peter A. Leemon served the groom as Best Man and Ralph Wagonschutz and Robert Manion acted the guests.

A reception for guests from Wisconsin, Ohio, Windsor, Ontario, Detroit, Inkster, Whitmore Lake, Livonia and Northville followed the ceremony.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Plymouth High School and members of the Plymouth Theatre Guild. They have taken up residence on Haggerty Road in Plymouth.

Democratic Women Honor Husbands

Democratic women from the 17th Congressional District will learn about the beginnings, growth, and change of our two major political parties when they go to Lansing on Saturday, October 10, for the semi-annual Democratic Women's Day.

Professor Sidney Fine of the History Department of the University of Michigan will be the speaker. He will be introduced by Lieutenant Governor John B. Swainson.

Margaret Price, Democratic National Committeewoman from Michigan, and Adelaide Hart, Vice-Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, will present short talks at the luncheon following the morning's events, on the activities of the Democratic National Committee.

A special feature of the day will be a salute to all the husbands who attend the program. More than 600 men and women from all over the state are planning to attend the program in the Lansing Civic Center. Democratic women from this area who wish to make reservations for the day or to participate in car pools for the trip to Lansing may call Mrs. Anthony M. Frank-GL 3-4769.

Among the local residents planning to attend are: Mrs. John B. Swainson, Mrs. George E. Bowles, Mrs. Charles Root, Mrs. Jack Ru-land, Mrs. Orville Tungate, Mrs. J. H. Munzer, Mrs. Robert Dwyer, Mrs. S. Blackman, Mrs. A. M. Frank, Mrs. M. Spitz.

Seventh-Day Adventist Church Changes Pastors

Pastor Clarence Long of the Plymouth Seventh-Day Adventist church has accepted an appointment to the Port Huron Adventist church.

Mr. Long has been pastor of the Plymouth church since June, 1958, when he and his wife and three children came here from Cadillac, Mich.

Jeremia Florea of 14374 Southfield, Detroit, has replaced Mr. Long. Mr. Florea also pastors the Oakwood Boulevard church in Melvindale, and the Garden City group.

Mr. and Mrs. Florea were born and educated in Romania. They engaged in ministerial work in Indiana and Illinois before coming to the Detroit area 18 years ago. Their son Walter is preparing to enter Wayne University and their daughter, Valerie graduated from Adelphean Academy at Holly, Michigan and will enter Emmanuel Missionary College at Berrien Springs, Michigan, next fall.

Local Churches To Join In World Communion Sunday

Most Plymouth churches will join churches around the globe this Sunday, Oct. 4, in observing World-Wide Communion Sunday.

First United Presbyterian Church has announced Holy Communion for both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services. St. John's Episcopal Church will observe Holy Communion at the 8 and 11:15 services. At the 9:30 Family Service, there will be Holy Baptism, sermon and Church School classes from nursery through the high school.

First Methodist Church will have Communion at both its 9:30 and 11 a.m. services. All other churches affiliated with the World Council of Churches are planning to take part in the World-Wide observance.

THE BEST SELLER LIST

Among the books leading the non-fiction lists in the coast-to-coast surveys of dealers and others are: Vance Packard's The Status Seekers, Folk Medicine by D.C. Jarvis, How I Turned a $1,000 into a Million in Real Estate by W. Nickerson, James Thurber's The Years With Ross, and Charley Weaver's Letters from Mama.

And, of course, everybody knows that Dr. Zhivago and an unexpurgated version of Lady Chatterley's Lover are still leading the fiction list, and we can skip them both, in my humble opinion, and return forthwith and post haste to the subject of Charley Weaver. He adds a note of authentic provincialism to the Jack Paar Show, and his book is made up of the same kind of Honest Abe and country rube jokes. A little silly, but amusing.

The Thurber tome lacks the punch of the old Thurber, but it is quite worthwhile if you enjoy the subtle humor that makes The New Yorker magazine such a delight.

In the Status Seekers Packard has gone overboard with his snobbery thesis. Of course anybody in their right mind and not the village idiot is perfectly aware of sociological structure. But isn't it ridiculous to assume that everyone—just everyone—is running around looking for an exclusive club to join just so he can feel superior? People aren't that simple-minded, or are they? Isn't there something in life a bit more important? Doesn't society with a capital S have responsibilities as well as privileges? What do you think? Noblesse oblige?

A Perfect Alibi

A few years ago the A.P. wires carried the story of one Marie Lazendie of New Orleans who had quietly died at the age of 102. Miss Lazendie's sweetheart had been killed in the Civil War, and every year on his birthday for seventy-eight long, lonely years she lifted a glass to:

"Bientot, mon aime."

Miss Lazendie had promised her friend that if he did not return she would never marry. She kept her promise.

Music??? Music???

Hurrah for Erie, Pennsylvania! After a disc jockey confab recently their local radio station dumped all of their rock and roll collection in the lake.

Speaking of records... have you heard Anna Russell lately? Her satire of the president of a women's club is enormously funny. On the same disc is her wonderfully hilarious version of Wagner's "The Ring of the Nibelung," and Russell's view of Gilbert and Sullivan. This is a Columbia recording made at Town Hall in New York. You may not like it because Russell is veddy, veddy British and the humor is quite ruthless.

Always looking for good piano and was quite surprised recently by the quality of a Mercury recording of Jan August's. Other favorites are Marian McPartland when she isn't being progressive (that's a phase that will pass), Paul Smith, Andre Plevin, and, of course, the late, great Art Tatum.

An Old Story About a Kingdom by the Sea

Many centuries ago in a kingdom by the sea there was a beautiful castle and a lovely garden. The pure air was filled with the sound of the surf and the music of many singing birds, and everywhere there was more of sun than of shadow.

The king of this ancient realm is known to history and the old books all say that when he became a man and came into his inheritance he was as a stranger in his own land. Both he and his people were really very poor, but they were happy. Then he, their king, decided they should be rich also. He created a great army of his people and they worked in the fields, toiled in the mines, and made war against their neighbors. They turned their land into a rich man's paradise and spread the king's power to lands beyond the sea. And their king, whom they trusted, stole the wealth of their neighbors and made many secret enemies. One day the king, who had always been strong and healthy, did not rise from his golden couch. As the weeks went by he gradually faded to a shadow of his former self. His people sent rich gifts and the finest physicians to help him, but it was all in vain. The wisest men in all the kingdom were greatly puzzled, and one of the wisest and bravest of them all made his way through the host of servants to the golden couch.

"Is there anything your royal highness needs?" the wise man asked.

"Yes," whispered the king, "A friend." And so saying, he died.

Four Senior Girls Await Homecoming Queen Announcement at Half-time

By Gloria Bowles

Tomorrow evening a pretty Plymouth High School senior will don a blue velvet and white satin cape, be handed a big bouquet of red roses, and have a glittering crown placed upon her regal head, all of which shall represent the title of Plymouth High School Homecoming Queen, 1959.

The names of four senior Queen candidates were placed before high schoolers in voting today. The names were those of Barbara Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Browne of 9326 Rocker; Jill Clarke, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. William V. Clarke of 693 Burroughs; Roxanne Smith, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Smith, 598 Ann; and Karen West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley West, 703 Ridge Road.

Not running for queen but representing their respective classes on the Homecoming Court are junior Barbara Schantz, cute, dark-haired daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meryl W. Schantz of 6018 Canton Center Road, a Varsity cheerleader, a member of GAA, and the annual staff, who loves to dance, and reports she "didn't believe it" when her victory was announced.

The sophomore is Michelle "Mike" Bender, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie J. Bender, 15657 Portis. She plays the clarinet in the band, and is a member of Future Teachers, with goals set on elementary school instruction. Michelle loves to water ski, and sew her own clothes.

says her parents first reaction upon hearing the news of her election was something to the effect that "does this mean a new dress?"

Sally Gilles, who will be crowned in an orchid formal on Homecoming night, is the freshman representative to the court. She attended Our Lady of Good Counsel school last year, is on a College Preparatory course at Plymouth, has joined the Girl's Athletic Association and Future Homemakers there.

As for Queen candidates, one of them is peppy, personality girl Barb Browne, fairly new to Plymouth but having come here from New Jersey the first semester of last year. The most active of those on the Court, extra-curricular wise, she is a Varsity cheerleader, a member of Triple Trios and the annual staff, is vice-president of the Girls Athletic Association (GAA), teaches Sunday school at the First Presbyterian Church, and sings in the Choir there. Very talented, Barb took dancing lessons for 10 years, taught for one, plays the piano and sings.

Jill Clarke (Jill and Barb are the best of friends, incidentally), is a Varsity cheerleader, and a member of GAA at the high school; she has a Sunday school class of six year olds at the Presbyterian church, also sings in the choir. Jill, very adept athletically, a good swimmer, and an outstanding participant in all sports, has two sisters, as of this year. One, Carole, was 1956 PHS Homecoming Queen; the other is German exchange student Ursula Kell, who is staying with Jill's family this year.

Roxanne Smith, already has one title tucked under her (very small) belt—she was crowned "Miss Plymouth" in June. A very serious student, and a good one, Roxanne has a B plus average, is anxiously awaiting word from Michigan on the application she's filed there. She hopes to be a teacher, is, as of now, interested in elementary education. Roxanne is a member of GAA, works on the annual staff.

Red-headed Karen West, always sporting a smile, a cheerleader for three years and presently president of the Girl's Athletic Association, is a very busy church member. At Cherry Hill Methodist, she is a Sunday school teacher, attends the Youth Fellowship regularly, having been an officer of the group, and sings in the choir. Karen enjoys children, and had a playground job this summer. She has five brothers, two sisters—and innumerable cousins in the Plymouth area.

Precedent dictates that, besides being well-liked, Plymouth High School Homecoming Queens must be dark-haired, have an above average, though not outstanding scholastic record, and been a Varsity cheerleader. Homecoming Queen alumni who all lived up to these qualifications are Carole Clarke, 1956; Janet Spigarelli, 1958; and Marianne Palmer Markham, 1959.

Will high schoolers break precedent this year... or continue the tradition? Until Mayor Dick Hubert transfers the crown from his hand to some pretty head, it's anyone's guess.

Will you be there to see? Home economists at Michigan State University point out that peaches picked while still firm will ripen at room temperature within a few days. Just be sure the background color is yellow—not green.

SEATED AT THE speakers table at the Charter Installation of Officers of the Soroptimist Club of Livonia, the above women, all with top job classifications have responsible offices in the Club. (L-r seated) Virginia Sink, Regional Governor, presented the charter to the new Livonia Club. Her job classification is Production Engineer for Chrysler; Edna Herig, a Plymouth resident, and Mistress of Ceremonies for the evening, is a Home Service Advisor for Edison; Flo Throneburg, Regional Extension Chairman presented the President's pin. (standing l-r) Marie Clark, newly installed Livonia President, the clerk of the City of Livonia; Vera Bunnell, Past President of the Wayne Soroptimist, who hosted the installation. Club representatives were present from nine different Soroptimist Clubs. Neva Lovewell and Helen Caplin represented the Plymouth Chapter of the Soroptimist at the dinner installation.

Extension Groups Hold Open Meeting on "Battle of the Bulge"

The Allen Extension Club met September 23rd at the home of Mrs. Harold Barnes. The lesson was on Casserole Cookery. Mrs. Barnes invited the club for dinner and served three casserole dishes prepared by her and the two leaders from recipes from the lesson sheet. This was the first meeting of the 1959-60 season and the new officers were installed by our Vice-Chairman of the Council, Mrs. Stanley Travis.

A "Shopper's Party" will be held October 28th at the home of Mrs. Maurice Ferguson. Each member is to bring a friend. The party is being held to earn money for the Wayne County Home Demonstration Council.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Stadler, 9000 Merriman Rd., Livonia, on October 28th. The subject of the lesson will be "Easy Ways with Housework."

Frozen dairy foods should stay frozen to keep their quality. If they get soft, refreezing makes them grainy and icy.

Home economists at Michigan State University say a food freezer with a temperature of zero to eight degrees will keep frozen dairy food quality for three to four weeks. Storage in the ice cube compartment of your refrigerator is limited to two or three days.

Lake Pointe Village:

Street Lighting Big Issue in Lake Pointe

By Marcy Bartson
GL. 3-6729

Things and issues have been moving fast since the appearance of last week's column. The homeowners of Lake Pointe have again proved themselves as a community striving for what is best for all concerned. So much interest and concern was shown in the public street lighting proposal that a meeting was arranged and held on the morning of September 26. Al Pertolla, the president of the Association and Don Back, Chairman of the Utilities Committee, were invited to sit in at this important meeting. The homeowners that gathered were those opposed to public street lighting. So much confusion and excitement had been aroused, it was decided a halt should be called on a petition which was being prepared for distribution through a new completely unformed community. It was felt that most of the people were totally in the dark concerning the facts and figures entailed in this proposal. Mr. Pertolla was asked at this meeting to stop any further work on a petition which was then in progress. He was requested to have a news letter drawn up containing the detailed facts which everyone ought to know before being asked to sign an important petition. Mr. Pertolla agreed to this and the assignment of having the facts compiled was turned over to Don Back of the Utilities Committee. This news letter will be distributed to each home. When you receive this letter, read it through carefully. From this information you will be able to make your decision as to whether or not you want public street lights.

Present at the happy affair were Chip Ennis, Doris Keyes Joyce Close, Ilene Herriman, Peg McLachlin, Rosalie Bales, June Hudson, Peg Mogle, Marge Haeske, Helen Laffey, and your reporter. The Farrand Parent-Teachers Association held a meeting on September 22. There have been two new committees formed. The Safety Committee with Arlene Motzkus as chairman is working towards better safety precautions for children on their way to and from school. The other committee is the health committee with Nadine Heid in charge. This committee's function will be to utilize more of the State Facilities. The PTA meets every fourth Tuesday of the month. Why not try and be present at all of these meetings?

The sixth grade boys at Farrand are very happy these days. They have a man teacher now, Mr. Grininko, whom they like very much. Mr. Grininko is fostering a plan whereby the boys and girls can have recreational games on the school playground after school. This program will take place on every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

The Plymouth Friends of Northville State Hospital held their first meeting of the season on September 23, at the home of Ruth Jacobs. The turnout was so small that another meeting has been set for October 8. It will be held at Mildred Lamb's home, 14254 Shadywood Drive at 12:30 p.m. All old members are urged to be present. A cordial invitation also being extended to all who are interested in this organization. This group of women are doing wonderful work in helping the patients at Northville State Hospital. Each month they arrange to have a birthday party in a certain ward. It is a party for all those who happen to have their birthday that month. Refreshments and little gifts are presented to the guests. It makes the patients happy and they await these parties with great anticipation each month. If you would like to find out how you can be of help, attend the meeting on October 8, or call Cecilia Phelan at GL 3-3051. The women meet every fourth Wednesday of the month.

Plymouth High School
By Gloria Bowles

One of the most active girl's organizations at Plymouth High School is the Girl's Athletic Association, or GAA. This group, very busy of late, has "many irons in the fire."

An initiation committee, commissioned to make plans for taking in new club members, has been appointed with sophomore Sandy Fogo, junior Barb Goch and senior Sally Sawyer claiming membership in the group. Also on the committee are club executive board members, including President Karen West, Vice-President Barb Brown, Secretary Sandra Bailey, and Treasurer Linda Lee. Junior class rep Marianne Wagner and soph Helen Otwell.

The club also reports the election of Janet Frieswyk as senior representative to the executive board.

Managers for GAA's fall sports have been chosen—Bonnie Horn for speedball, Sue Terry is in charge of soccer, and Jill Clarke will be head gal on the tennis courts.

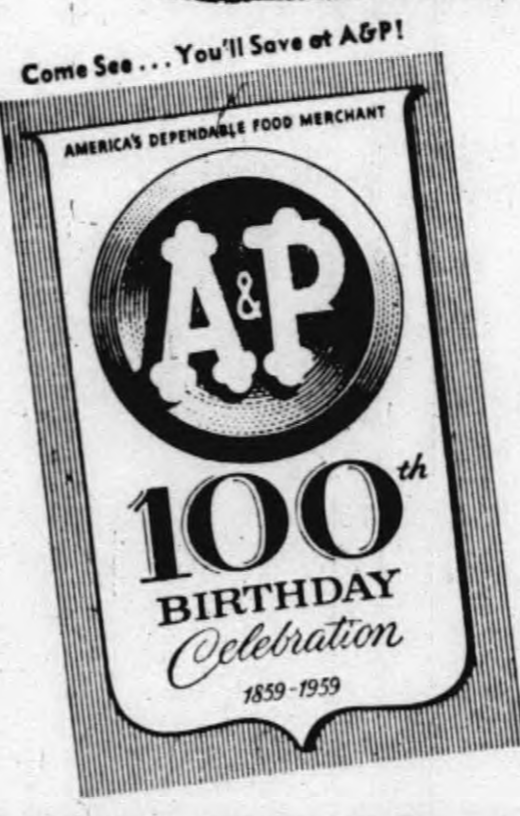

Foremost in almost everyone's mind at the present is Homecoming! GAA has a d some business connected with this activity, as it appointed sophomore Claire Wilson to chairman the Homecoming dance.

The celebration, Homecoming, the biggest and most important event of the school year, is slated for tomorrow. For details, see story in another section of this newspaper.

Tryouts for the girl's swim club, Water Waves, are next Wednesday.

Plymouth's guidance department is busy arranging student conferences. Seniors are scheduled for this first six weeks of the year, juniors for the second marking period, sophomores for the third. It is tentatively planned that freshmen will have their stint with guidance counselors

N.M. TRIVAX

Young Executive To Manage Federals

N.M. Trivax, 38, one of the youngest executives with the Federal Department Stores, was named general store manager at Federal's new Livonia store in the regional $15,000,000 Wonderland Shopping Center.

Trivax moves over to his new assignment at Wonderland after serving for the last five years as general store manager of Federal's at the Eastgate shopping center in Roseville, a post he assumed while at the age of 33.

He originally joined the Federal stores in 1933 when he helped open Federal's new addition to their Grand River and Oakman unit, then followed his assignment as assistant manager at the Gratiot-7 Mile Road store.

He has been associated with major retail stores since he was 15 years of age, always working in the retailing field.

Trivax, a veteran of the United States Air Force in World War II, with 3 years of service, including duty overseas in Europe, is also an alumni of Wayne State University. Mr. and Mrs. Trivax make their home in Oak Park with son Jeff, 13, and daughter Andrea, 10.

The new Federal's store at Wonderland, their 31st unit, will have 75,000 square feet in a single-level unit. The store will employ 400 people from the surrounding area. The single level building houses complete representation of departments (over 50) including boy and girl scout departments, a triple sky-domed square feet outdoor selling area and paint department, and with provisions for a refreshment stand.

New Economy Highlights Oldsmobile For 1960

New crisply-tailored styling and a new balance of design are teamed with further advances in economy of operation in the 17 new Oldsmobile models for 1960, it was announced today by Jack F. Wolfram, general manager of Oldsmobile and a vice president of General Motors.

Wolfram stated that the 1960 Oldsmobile features a redesigned Rocket engine in the Dynamic "88" series for use with lower cost regular grade gasoline.

"This engine," said Wolfram, "will give our customers an improvement of 15 per cent in miles per dollar—maintaining excellent performance."

In all series there are new rear axle ratios and many other engineering advancements. Two three-seat Fiestas have been added to Oldsmobile's station wagon line.

"From the trim curved grille to the clean-sweep of the rear deck, the 1960 Oldsmobile is the finest automobile we have ever built," Wolfram said.

"The balanced design of the car is new from every view—front and rear. We believe the new Oldsmobile has the styling our customers want, the full-family spaciousness they need and the luxurious interiors they asked," he said.

Bright chrome plated bars in groups of three, give the 1960 Oldsmobile curved grille a wide, stable look even though the car itself is no wider than the 1959 models. Headlights are placed horizontally with the outboard pair set slightly behind the inboard pair. The parking lights are safely recessed in the wrap-around section of the bumper where they can be easily seen from front or side.

The lower and slightly rounded styling of the new front end aids maneuverability of the 1960 Oldsmobile, Wolfram said, especially in tight parking situations. Maneuverability is increased 2 1/4 to 3 1/2 inches.

The flowing lines of the 1960 Oldsmobile are emphasized by an attractive chrome accent strip which starts at the headlight on the front fender, sweeps back to the rear quarter where it dips down to the lower edge and rearward to the rear bumper.

Tailights are moulded into the rear fenders in a high, easy-to-see position. Blow is ribbed head on pass reception that completes the solid, built-to-the-road appearance of the new rear end.

Oldsmobile has developed a new balance of power and economy for 1960 in the Dynamic "88" series, Wolfram said. The Regular Rocket engine, standard for the series, is a high compression engine designed for the most efficient use of modern regular grade gasolines while maintaining excellent performance.

BIG BEAR
CHICAGO (UPI) — Harlon Hill, Chicago Bear end, holds the team records for most years gained on pass receptions in a season, 1,123; most yards in one game, 214, and most touchdowns passes caught in a game, four.

SMALL PURSES
LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — though Man o' War, one of racing's greatest horses, won 20 races and finished second in his only other start during 1919 and 1920, he earned his owner a total of only $249,465.

The next Post Business Meeting will be Wednesday, October 7th, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center.

Important Date! Thursday, October 8, 1959, 8 p.m., at the Veterans Community Center, Basement. Get your friends lined up to attend the Linen Party with you. Let's make this a bigger one than last year, which was very successful. Hazel Quisenberry will again be the demonstrator. All merchandise is well known brands. Refreshments will be served after the demonstration, the public is cordially invited to attend.

Saturday, October 17th, 8 p.m., Card Party. Veterans Community Center. This project is being held jointly. All Post and Unit members, get your guests and tables arranged to attend this party. All proceeds go to our Flag Fund. Refreshments will be served after the card games.

Any information regarding this project contact Dorothy Koi, GL, 3-5894, chairman, or co-workers, Gertrude Simonetti, GL, 3-3908, or Marilyn Wilson, GL, 3-7049.

Fall Conference will be held in Lansing, October 9-10-11, several members will be attending. Conference mixes fun with work. There will be instruction clinics for post and unit officers, executive committee session, banquets, fun. That's the program awaiting Michigan Legionnaires and Auxiliaries who plan to attend the Fall Conference. Headquarters will be at the Hotel Olds, Lansing. The official meeting of the department executive committee gets underway in the Olds Hotel at 8 p.m., October 9th, (Post). A general conference session is scheduled for 10 a.m., October 11 at the Olds. Purpose of the meeting: give district and Post officers a chance to hear reports about department programs for 1959-60 year.

The Fun Side of the conference program will feature a banquet at 6:30 p.m., Oct. 10, Saturday, at the Olds. National vice commander William A. Brennan, Indianapolis, Indiana, is expected to be the guest speaker. A child welfare breakfast and meeting is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 11 at the Olds.

Emily Mosher, Chairman of the Rummage Sale, reports a wonderful success and thanks to all who helped her make this such a grand success. Winner of door prize, a grocery basket, Barbara Miller, 44126 Ford Rd., Plymouth; winner of guessing cost of basket, Mrs. Paul Schreng, 351 W. Liberty, Plymouth. She had choice of three articles and she chose the child's game. The Auxiliary gives Emily a most hearty thanks for all her hard work and effort she put into this project.

Mrs. Maxine Kunz, Junior past President of the 17th District, attended a luncheon and meeting of the 17th and 18th Districts on Saturday, September 26th held at the Thunderbird Inn on Northville Road. She was initiated at this meeting and now officially a member of this group.

Glad to hear Lydia Argo is up and on the mend again after her bout with the flu. Emily Mosher is on the sick list with a bout of pneumonia and is now confined at home. Let's send her a card, 963 W. Ann Arbor Trail and wish her well.

Because of their achievement in winning the "Little World Series," the 1959 American Legion National Junior Baseball championship team sponsored by Thomas A. Edison Post 187, Detroit, Mich., were guests at the first two games of the major league world series.

Porgy and Bess Movie Premier Set for Oct. 7

Samuel Goldwyn's $7,000,000 filmization of the DuBose Heyward - George Gershwin classic "Porgy and Bess" which was two years in the making, will have its Michigan premiere on Wednesday, October 7.

The picture which stars Sidney Poitier (currently starring in the Broadway hit, "Raisin in the Sun"), Dorothy Dandridge, Sammy Davis, Jr., and Pearl Bailey will be shown on a road-show, reserved seat basis at the Mercury Theatre, McNichols and Schaefer in northwest Detroit. This will be a conspicuous first for the theatre in that this is the most important picture to open away from the usual downtown first-run theatres.

The Mercury, a most beautiful and modern one-floor 1500 seat house with new push-back seating and free parking sufficient to accommodate the entire seating capacity of the house adjacent to the theatre, has been reduced to 1350 seats for the run of "Porgy".

This was done to permit installation of the two special 70 millimeter Todd-Ao projectors and the mammoth 55-foot screen needed to faithfully reproduce Goldwyn's spectacle.

107 speakers will give truly hi-fi sound reproduction to Gershwin's musical classic.

The box office has been open since September 13 for push-back seating and free parking can be made now.

"Porgy" will run 7 nights a week. Matinees are scheduled for Wednesdays, Saturdays, and Sundays.

Top price for the movie is $3.00 on Friday and Saturday nights. Tickets are scaled from this figure for various seats and performances.

Civic Chorus, Readies Most Ambitious Year, Seeks Voices

Singers are invited to join the Plymouth Civic Chorus. Rehearsals are to be held Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9 beginning Oct. 5 in room A4 in the Plymouth High School Annex.

This promises to be the most ambitious season for the chorus. Three performances are planned; two in Plymouth and one in Saginaw.

Music to be prepared includes "Amahl and the Night Visitors" by Gian-Carlo Menotti, the "Farewell of the Shepherds" chorus from "The Childhood of Christ," an oratorio by Hector Berlioz, and Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

The first two works, appropriate to the Christmas season will be performed with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in December. The Beethoven work will be performed in Plymouth and Saginaw in April and will be augmented by the Saginaw Community Chorus. This is a grand and thrilling masterpiece of composition for chorus, orchestra, and soloists. It will demand the best and all of the singing resources of this community.

This may be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to participate in this challenging music which is considered Beethoven's greatest effort. All interested singers are invited to join the chorus. There is no fee or dues, just a willingness to work to produce some of the world's great music.

Director of the chorus is Fred Nelson, vocal music instructor at Plymouth High School. The accompanist is Mrs. Thomas Lock.

1960 Chevrolet Gets Rear Wings Clipped

The Chevrolet Motor Division, which earlier released details of its highly original Corvair, announced the rest of its 1960 passenger car line yesterday.

A distinctive new appearance, added comfort and increased economy of the most popular V8 engine are among outstanding features.

Nineteen models (including the Corvair and the spirited Corvette sports car) will be included in the first public showing by Chevrolet dealers on October 2.

All passenger car series have been completely restyled. There is a fresh new appearance to the exteriors. The interiors are roomier and offer new elegance of upholstery and sidewall treatment.

The most notable design changes occur in frontal and rear areas. An oval-shaped grille spans the hood and encloses widely spaced twin head-lamps at the outer edges. The wing overhang at the rear has been revamped to widen the trunk opening and lower the loading sill.

An ensemble of circular tail-lamps replaces the former tear-drop configuration.

Side-trim moldings establish distinctive appearance for the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

The front compartment transmission tunnel has been significantly reduced in width and height to benefit roominess and sidewall treatment.

New tires are more durable. Tread life has been increased 12 per cent by new synthetic rubber and a change in the proportion of synthetic and natural rubber. The higher energy-absorbing tread material also promises less impact on bumps, reduced tire squeal on turns and surer traction.

Brakes have been improved and require less pedal pressure. The parking brake now carries a pop-out release lever.

Color choices in the 1960 conventional passenger car line include 13 solids and 10 two-tone combinations.

Body types offered include: Impala: four-door sedan and sport sedan; sport coupe and convertible; Bel Air: Two- and four-door sedans; sport coupe and sport sedan; Biscayne: Two-door and four-door sedans and a utility sedan. Station wagons: Nomad, Parkwood, Kingswood and two choices of Brookwood.

Your Handwriting Is Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams:
I find your column very interesting and it has aroused my curiosity. Will you please tell me what my handwriting reveals about my personality. Sincerely,
Mrs. L. Barber

Dear Mrs. Barber:
You are a very emotional person, highly expressive. There's no sensitivity to criticism and you don't show temper. You have some creative ability and can add thought upon thought with your ideas and come up with something constructive. You have pride and dignity and a good memory. You resent imposition and do not like to be taken advantage of. Your will and purpose in life are good and so is your determined effort to carry through. You like activity and variety.

Dear Miss Williams:
"Curiosity Killed the Cat" but curiosity can't hold out any longer. Please find out what makes me tick. Thank you,
Mrs. D. Space

Dear Mrs. Space:
You're somewhat of a variable - nature, emotionally. There are times of head-rue and a sympathetic ear - and times of heart-rule and an expressive nature. You do make an effort at self-control.

You like to express yourself on paper and have a sense of humor. There is some self-conscious feeling of not doing your best. There is a desire to possess and own, and also to be active. When necessary you can make decisions with no effort.

You have a good memory and are quite careful about the "little things."

Dear Miss Williams:
Will you please look at my handwriting and tell me what you see in it? I would like to know what my handwriting reveals about me. Thank you,
Linda

Dear Linda:
Your writing is interesting and has a mechanical rhythm to it. You're very constructive and creative, building, shaping and forming. Your thinking is logical, slow and with careful judgement. There's no emotion.

You strive for attention and want to stand out and be noticed. You're not hurriedly, have a narrow selection of friends and are quite secretive. There's generosity and kindness. You can be influenced by others, do not have much will-power, but possess pride in all you do.

You're often independent in your thinking. Dear Miss Williams:
I have been reading your analysis for several weeks and find them most intriguing. Please analyze my handwriting. Honey Girl

Dear H.G.:
You're very diplomatic

Men in Service Christmas Seal Sale Opens In Area Nov. 16

Charles B. Hanlon, hospital corpsman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Hanlon of 628 Adams, returned to Long Beach, Calif., Sept. 16, aboard the destroyer tender USS Bryce Canyon after a seven-month tour of duty with the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

On Aug. 24, at Yokohama, Japan, the Bryce Canyon was awarded a gold Navy "E" for outstanding battle efficiency. This is the fifth consecutive time she has won the award, and the first time in Navy history that a gold "E" was awarded.

During her tour of duty, which brought her to Japan, the Philippines, Formosa and Hong Kong, the Bryce Canyon participated in many charitable activities.

At Subic Bay, in the Philippines, crew members donated 100 pounds of foodstuffs to hill-dwelling natives, set up a $500 scholarship for a needy student, and donated blood which saved a person's life.

OFF THE BOOKS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Bookmakers refused to accept bets on the horse Hindu which won 19 consecutive races and never as out of the money in his three years of racing with 31 wins, 3 seconds and 2 thirds in 36 starts.

Gold fillings were used for decayed teeth as early as 800 B.C. in Egypt.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Willie McCovey, San Francisco Giants first baseman, played in the first major league baseball game he ever saw. Got four hits, too.

Fall Fair at Washtenaw County Hospital

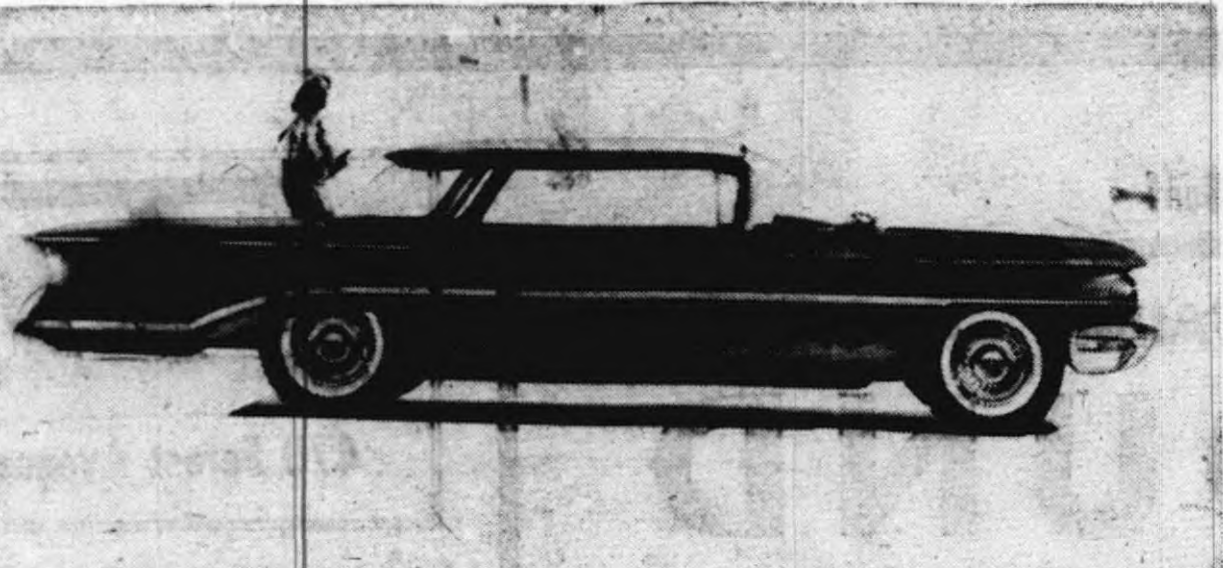

The public is cordially invited to visit the Washtenaw County Hospital at 2960 Washtenaw Road on Wednesday, October 7. Between the hours of 2:00 and 5:00 in the afternoon and 7:00 and 8:00 in the evening, a Fall Fair will be held where visitors may see and purchase the many useful and attractive articles made by the patients in the Hospital as part of the Rehabilitation Project being carried on by the Division of Gerontology and by the Department of Physical Medicine of the University of Michigan.

An opportunity will be afforded to see the sheltered workshop in action where the patients are working on several jobs for local industries, and members of craft classes engaged in making articles similar to those on sale.

In addition to the demonstrations and the craft sale, the Washtenaw County Hospital Auxiliary will have a sale of baked goods and will serve refreshments.

Among the craft articles for sale will be tables, rag rugs, bread and cheese boards, bead mats, pillows, scratch pads, aprons, skirts, a leather goods. While much of the material used in the making of these items has been donated by local stores and industries, such as foam rubber, upholstery samples, wood, paper, and materials for rag rugs, there is a constant need to purchase the supplies not acquired by donations. The proceeds from the sale will be divided between the patients who have contributed their time and skill to the creation of the articles, and to the purchase of needed materials and equipment for future use.

Without the help of volunteers who were recruited through the Washtenaw Hospital Auxiliary from different communities in Washtenaw County, it would have been such a full-scale craft program. This group of women devote many hours each week to assisting the craft director so that more patients can be accommodated in the classes.

A TRIM balanced design of clean flowing lines highlight the modern styling of the Oldsmobile for 1960. This side view of the '60 Holiday Sport Sedan shows off the smooth, uncluttered lines to their best advantage. The low and level design of the hood affords better forward visibility and the rounded contour of the front fenders aids parking maneuverability. The low-level design also is incorporated in the expansive "Clean - Sweep" rear deck. SportSedan body styles also are available in the Dynamic '68' and the Super '68' series Oldsmobiles for 1960.

Many Meetings Coming Up For Salem Township Folks

By Mrs. Herbert Famuliner
FI 9-0924

South Lyon High will play Saline at Saline on Friday night.

October 5th will be the first PTA meeting for the Jr. High and High School. Parents and teachers, mark it on your calendar and don't forget to come.

The New Hudson PTA meets for their first meeting this Thursday, October 1st at the school.

The Salem Farmers Club will meet October 7 at 7 p.m. for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bulman of 7324 Pontiac Trail.

The Suburban Farm Bureau will meet October 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robert of Chubb Road.

The Famuliner family celebrated their 21st wedding anniversary on the 21st and enjoyed having dinner out with their daughters. Also celebrating their anniversary this past week were the Knowles Burgers who were celebrating their 23rd. Saturday their son and daughter-in-law took them out to dinner in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Hamilton celebrated their anniversary on Saturday also.

Janet Famuliner was installed into the station of Faith, and Betty Peterson for the station of Love, last Tuesday evening at the public installation of The Rainbow for Girls of Northville.

Michael Flavin of Seven Mile Rd. became ill at school last Tuesday morning and was rushed to St. Joseph Hospital where he underwent surgery at 2 p.m. for a ruptured ulcer. He will be home this week.

David Grimes and Doug Peterson were slightly injured in an automobile accident last Wednesday evening. They were taken to St. Joseph Hospital for treatment.

The Go-Getter 4-H Club will start their winter season on October 13 for anyone who is interested in joining. Call Mrs. Lutchka for information.

Kay Roberts of Chubb Road will celebrate her birthday this Wednesday.

Mrs. Muriel Gardner of Cleveland, Ohio, spent Saturday night with the Ferman Rohraffs. Sunday a family dinner was held at the Henry Falloff home of Eight Mile Rd. in Mrs. Gardner's honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Esch of Webberville and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith of Livonia also attended. Mrs. Gardner will stay with the Smiths until she returns home.

Gerald (Joe) Raymor has returned home from service. It has been nearly two years since he has been home. He was stationed in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bennett and children were Sunday dinner guests at the Bill Corwin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymor, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly spent Saturday evening at the Raymond Kelly home.

Rae Yoeger of Inkster was a visitor of Larry and Harlow Ingal on Sunday.

16 New Body Styles Featured By Pontiac

Dramatic new design concepts, accentuating an overall appearance of classic sophistication, distinguish Pontiac exterior styling in 1960. Sixteen new body styles feature long flowing lines gracefully complemented by soft curves and sculptured highlights.

Clean low roof lines meeting generous glass areas, add further distinctiveness to the formal styling simplicity.

Embellishing the exciting designs are lustrous, fade resistant Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquers in 15 new solid colors and 80 recommended two-tone combinations. Included in the vivid selection are such colors as: Coronado Red, Sky-mist Blue, Palomint Beige, Berkshire Green, Stardust Yellow, Mahogany, and Sierra Copper.

A spectacular V-shaped front end is formed by a classic grille of seven horizontal chromed bars topped by a stylish hood of airfoil design. Twin headlamps, flanked on the inside by parking and signal lamps, are mounted at each end of the grille. In the center of the hood is a long, slender blade moulding dividing a sculptured channel which flares outward from the cowl to the "Pontiac" block letters above the grille. An impressive one-piece wrap-around bumper of contoured design projects forward to continue the new "V" styling theme.

Sculptured side styling presents a subtle wind appearance extending along both front and rear fenders into the door panels. Tailored, straight-line side mouldings—one spanning the entire length of the car, the other bordering the rear fender wing—enhance the quiet good taste. Script series nameplates adorn the forward areas of both front fenders. Bonneville models are distinguished by a crest in the lower front fender area and three horizontal ports of vaned design integral with the lower rear fender moulding. Four star emblems readily identify the Star Chief series. New stainless steel and chrome plated wheel discs feature either a recessed or spinner design with "Pontiac Motor Division" imprinted in the center.

Breath-taking jet age design characterizes new Pontiac rear styling. Twin trailing nacelles, decking the fenders, extend rearward from the back window to house dual tail lamps encircled in chrome. The tail lamps and an imposing deck lid top artistic sculpturing flowing downward from arrow shaped backup ports to the massive wrap-around bumper. Decorating the lower deck panel are block letters denoting Bonneville or Ventura series, and spelling "Pontiac" for Star Chief and Catalina models.

Melody Circle Organized

The evening circle of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ met September 24 at the church. The circle was organized during the summer with officers as follows: Mrs. Dale Parker, leader; Mrs. Trevar Norton, Program Chairman; Mrs. Russell Knight, Teacher; Mrs. Ella Massman, Secretary; Mrs. William Perkins, Treasurer; Mrs. Claude Fisher, Cradle Roll worker; and Mrs. Emmett Bowen, Friendly Visitor.

The circle will be called Melody Circle - Striving to be in tune with each other and God.

Guest speakers for the evening were Elder Robert Burger, Elder Gerald Fitch, Mrs. Thelma Hersher and Mrs. Rudell Lazon of Dearborn, Michigan. The next meeting will be October 8 at 7:30 at the Church on Schoolcraft at Bradner Roads.

Our study for the year will be the book "An Open Door" written by Abol Facker, a former elementary school teacher in Plymouth.

Macabee News

At the September meeting the Macabees voted to meet at the Odd Fellow Hall the second Wednesday of the month until further notice.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, October 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Mable Dicks is entertainment Chairman.

Our sympathy goes to the John Williams family in the loss of wife and mother, Lottie Williams.

Minutes of the City Council

Tuesday, September 8, 1959

A regular meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chamber of the City Hall on Tuesday, September 8, 1959 at 7:30 p.m.

PRESENT: Comms. Cutler, Hartmann, Shear, Sincoc, Terry, Wernette and Mayor Guenther.
ABSENT: None.

Moved by Comm. Sincoc and supported by Comm. Cutler that the minutes of the regular meeting of August 17 and the special meeting of September 1, 1959 be approved as written. Carried unanimously.

Dr. Ashton, Warren Smith, Mr. Heasley and other interested parties presented a protest relative to the proposed "No Parking" on the east side of S. Main Street from Burroughs Street to Wing Street.

Moved by Comm. Hartmann and supported by Comm. Shear that the matter of "No Parking" on S. Main Street be tabled until September 21, 1959. Carried unanimously.

The Mayor opened the hearing on Special Assessment Roll No. 234, Sheridan Avenue Storm Sewer, McKinley to Joel R Street. After all interested parties had been given an opportunity to be heard, the Mayor declared the hearing closed.

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Terry and supported by Comm. Cutler:

WHEREAS, the Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan has reviewed the special assessment roll covering improvements and given all interested parties an opportunity to be heard and has found the same to be correct, as follows:

NO.	IMPROVEMENT	AMOUNT
234	Sheridan Avenue 15' McKinley to Joel R Street	$1,359.39

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City Commission does hereby approve and confirm said special assessment roll.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the City Treasurer be and he is hereby commanded to collect the various amounts shown on special assessment roll number 234 in 10 equal installments, the first installment upon the aforesaid roll to be due upon confirmation hereby, and like installments due annually thereafter until the assessments are fully paid with interest on all installments from and after 30 days after this confirmation of the assessment roll, at the rate of 6 percent per annum. Carried unanimously.

Supervisor Witkowski orally presented his report for August.

The Clerk presented a communication from the Municipal Employees Retirement System requesting the Commission's reaction regarding a change in the retirement act to provide a membership service pension of 1-100 of Final Average Compensation, for the present 1-120, for Plan B members, thereby increasing their retirement allowance.

Moved by Comm. Wernette and supported by Comm. Cutler that the Commission give a qualified approval to the change in the retirement act, providing the employees be required to assume a part of the cost. Carried unanimously.

The Clerk presented a communication from Karl F. Dodge requesting sidewalks be installed, where necessary, in the vicinity of McKinley, Sheridan and Joel R Streets, in order that mail might be delivered.

Moved by Comm. Terry and supported by Comm. Sincoc that the matter be tabled until September 21, 1959 in order that further information concerning the requirements of the United States Post Office Department might be obtained. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager presented a communication and a $50.00 check from the Kant Lumber Company, requesting permission to erect an advertising sign for the purpose of selling lots in Birch Estates Subdivision.

Moved by Comm. Cutler and supported by Comm. Shear that the Kant Lumber Company be permitted to erect a sign, for a period of 6 months, to advertise lots in Birch Estates Subdivision, and accept the $50.00 deposit to guarantee the removal of the sign. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager reported relative to the water mains for the proposed Carling Subdivision, stating that the matter has been dropped temporarily until the subdividers had obtained definite plans for the subdivision.

Moved by Comm. Wernette and supported by Comm. Shear that the progress report of the City Manager relative to the water mains in the proposed Carling Subdivision be accepted. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager presented the recommendation of the Planning Commission for retention of the "Markham Park" to be developed as a park for senior citizens.

Moved by Comm. Hartmann and supported by Comm. Shear that the matter be referred to the City Manager and City Attorney for report, as to conditions under which the city acquired the park. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Comm. Shear and supported by Comm. Hartmann that all fines collected for tickets issued on August 25, 1959, as a result of the use of the Time-Watch, on S. Main Street, be refunded.

YES: Comms. Hartmann, Shear, Sincoc, Wernette and Mayor Guenther.

NO: Comms. Cutler and Terry. Motion carried.

Moved by Comm. Sincoc and supported by Comm. Hartmann that the City Manager be allowed to attend the International City Managers' Convention on October 25, 26, and 27, 1959 in St. Louis, Missouri. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Comm. Hartmann and supported by Comm. Cutler that the City Manager be authorized to allocate $1,600 in the general fund tree account for the purpose of tree trimming, and that the Heath Tree Service Inc. be given the contract at $4.00 per man hour, as contained in their proposal. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager presented a tabulation of bids for an underbody scraper, recommending the bid of R.G. Moeller Company for a R Pneu Hydro underbody scraper, in the amount of $2,700.00.

Moved by Comm. Sincoc and supported by Comm. Terry that the bid of R.G. Moeller Company for a R Pneu Hydro underbody scraper, in the amount of $2,700.00, as recommended by the City Manager, be accepted. Carried unanimously.

The City Manager presented a proposal from the Denski Brothers to purchase a 1954 Ford garbage packer in the amount of $2,000.00.

Moved by Comm. Sincoc and supported by Comm. Shear that the proposal of Denski Brothers to purchase a 1954 Ford garbage packer, in the amount of $2,000.00, be accepted. Carried unanimously.

Police Chief Fisher presented a progress report concerning a survey to be made of traffic, signal lights and parking on S. Main Street by the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center, at a cost of $150.00.

Moved by Comm. Terry and supported by Comm. Shear that the City Manager be authorized to transfer $150.00 from the Budget Contingency Fund to the Police Department Account of the General Fund for the purpose of engaging the services of the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center to make a survey of the traffic, lights and parking conditions on S. Main Street from Church Street to Ann Arbor Road (M-14). Carried unanimously.

Moved by Comm. Cutler and supported by Comm. Sincoc that a proposed ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 183, Traffic Ordinance, increasing fines, be passed its second reading, by title only.

YES: Comms. Cutler, Hartmann, Shear, Sincoc, Wernette and Mayor Guenther.

NO: None.

Comm. Terry refrained from voting, inasmuch as he was not familiar with the proposed ordinance.

Moved by Comm. Wernette and supported by Comm. Cutler that Ordinance No. 207, an ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 183, Traffic Ordinance, increasing fines, be passed its third and final reading, by title only, and becomes operative and effective on September 30, 1959.

YES: Comms. Cutler, Hartmann, Shear, Sincoc, Wernette and Mayor Guenther.

NO: None.

Comm. Terry refrained from voting, inasmuch as he was not familiar with the ordinance.

The City Manager presented a preliminary report relative to streets needing to be recapped or resurfaced.

Moved by Comm. Hartmann and supported by Comm. Shear that local or public improvements are deemed necessary by this City Commission as follows:

Blank Street recapping, Church Street to Farmer Street.

Farmer Street drainage and recapping, Theodore to Adams.

Harvey Street recapping, W. Ann Arbor Trail to Junction.

Pacific Street recapping, William to Junction.

Sheridan re-surfacing, McKinley to Sheldon Road.

Wing Street re-surfacing, S. Main to Deer Street.

Further, that the said projects are hereby referred to the City Manager and he is directed to submit to this Commission for its consideration a report, upon said improvements, which shall include necessary plans, profiles, a description of the recommended assessment district or districts, and such other pertinent information as will permit the Commission to decide the cost, extent, and necessity of the improvement proposed, and what part or portion thereof should be paid by Special Assessment upon the property benefited and what part, if any, should be paid by the City at large. Carried unanimously.

Moved by Comm. Hartmann and supported by Comm. Wernette that the meeting be adjourned. Carried unanimously.

Time of adjournment was 9:47 p.m.

CITY MANAGERS CORNER

Although the City Planning Commission does many things to guide the growth and development of our community, perhaps its most important function is overseeing our zoning ordinance.

When we talked about the history of the Planning Commission, we showed that one of the first things the new commission did was to prepare a zoning ordinance. Zoning, in short, is an attempt to prevent deterioration of a neighborhood or an entire city by eliminating haphazard growth. Zoning is done by permitting only certain types of buildings and enterprises in specially designated areas of the city. By doing this, a community will avoid the unsightly situation that may arise where factories are built next to fine single family homes and where, in a very short time, the home sites deteriorate and slum conditions develop.

Although this is an extreme example, similar situations may arise where gasoline stations or dry cleaning establishments or repair shops are permitted in areas that are primarily residential.

The Planning Commission is the body which decides initially how the various sections of the city will be zoned. The recommendations of this body are based upon studies, public hearings and the best interests of the city. Once the Planning Commission has made its decision, the recommendations are sent to the City Commission where additional hearings are held, and finally the zones are established by the enactment of a zoning ordinance.

Included in this process is the important function of rezoning. For example, a landowner may want his property changed from an R-2 zoning classification to an R-1 zoning classification. This means he wants the zoning of his land changed from that permitting two-family housing to that permitting a house to accommodate a doctor's office, barber shop, mortuary or other "service shop."

The City Planning Commission will hear his petition, hold public hearings on the question, and make its recommendation to the city commission for final determination. If the decision is in favor of rezoning, it will be accomplished by amending the zoning ordinance. However, great care must be taken so that rezoning will not result in the very thing zoning is designed to prevent.

Another question of the City Planning Commission, which directly affects the growth and development of our community, is the approval of proposed subdivision of land within the city. In a case like this, the subdivider will present a proposed plat of the area to the Planning Commission. It will be studied, public hearings will be held and approval or disapproval will be given.

The plat, if approved, will be sent to the City Commission for its acceptance. Subdividers must provide sewers, water mains, sidewalk and pavement, or deposit cash or a performance bond to guarantee installation, before the plat is finally approved.

The Master Plan, Land Use Plan, Parks and Play ground Plan and other work of the Planning Commission will be discussed next.

Conservation Notes

Deer hunters are warned by the Conservation Department that it doesn't pay to submit more than one application for special season permits.

This year's improved checking system will enable Department personnel to keep a close tab on all applications. Persons who break the one-application rule will be subject to fines and costs. In some cases, violators may also lose their hunting privileges.

Approximately 540 duplications were discovered in permit applications for the 1958 season. Some 271 persons were assessed fines and costs totaling more than $5,000. Action is still pending on 18 cases.

New Scout Troup In Parview Circle

By JOAN COSLOW
 GL 3-5029

Two young men, about whom you've read before, have just entered the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. They are Peter Signorelli, Amelia Street and Thomas Schomberger, Hartsoch Avenue. Due to an avid interest in foreign affairs, which prompted their trip to Washington, D.C. last year to visit various embassies (i.e. Polish, Russian), Pete will specialize in International or Criminal Law; Tom will major in Diplomatic Science.

Mrs. Edith Jones returned to her home on Parkview Circle Sunday after spending a week in Highland Park General Hospital, where she was recovering from major surgery.

Time has come to dig out the formal togs as the plans for the annual Symphony Ball, Saturday, Dec. 26—Phil Cole and Orchestra presiding—are now being formulated. Tonight the decorating committee will gather at the home of the chairman, Shirley Snowden. Last year, if you'll recall, the Junior High School Gym, where the dance will again be held, was beautifully decorated by Shirley and her committee in a wintry wonderland theme—a snow queen being the center of attention.

Mrs. Walter Lake and Mrs. Robert Fitzner attended the "Fall Silhouette" Fashion Show by Hazel-Lee Shoppe, which was sponsored by the Northwestern Baptist Church in Southfield.

The Jerry Thadins have had a week of birthdays—Tod, their youngest, turned three Saturday, Sept. 19, and Tamara, a first grader at the Starkweather School, celebrated her sixth birthday Thursday, Sept. 24. Friends Miki Kooiman, Lori Curok, Ricky Ruland, Dick Coslow, Kathy Quinlan, and Janet McGill helped Tammy enjoy her party.

For the first time in a number of years Mrs. Laura Lickfeldt, President of the Starkweather Parent-Teacher Association, is pleased to announce that Starkweather will have a Cub Scout troop. Parents are asked and encouraged to register boys, eight years or older, for this year. Plans for the four meetings of the PTA will be presented at the October meeting, which will be an open house.

Ronald Upton, Garling Drive, is enrolled at the Lawrence Institute of Technology. Attending the evening school, Ron is studying mechanical technology.

The Parkview Circle Association's monthly meeting, October 2, will be held at the home of Edna and Paul Herig. Due to their very successful rummage sale, the association is anxious to formulate plans for the Christmas program for needy children.

Mrs. Paul Herig, Home Service Advisor for Detroit Edison Company, is president of the Wayne Soroptimist Club and on Thursday, September 24th served as master of ceremonies at the chartering of the Livonia Soroptimist Club.

Our area was well represented in the preparation and behind the scene performance of the Rodeo sponsored by the St. Mary Hospital Guild. Jean and Jack Scott assisted in the handling of the wide-spread publicity coverage for the event; Abe and Rosemary Kootman and Jack and Lee Ruland worked laboriously on the refreshment program, which almost duplicated the flavor of the old Barnum and Bailey Circus. Lee Ruland is one of the hospitality chairmen for the Guild and has worked many hours this year promoting the new hospital throughout Plymouth, Garden City, and Farmington. The exhausting work on the Rodeo program by this group certainly was displayed in the overall performance. The show was good, the atmosphere excellent, and most of all, the kids from "all over" really had an authentic taste of the western rodeo.

Your correspondent will appreciate all calls concerning the happenings around your home. We'd like to hear from you folks on Mill, Starkweather, Farmer, Rose, Main, Amelia, Holbrook, York, Caster and Cherry.

News From the Conservation Department

"Flies only" regulations were renewed by the Conservation Commission last week covering 55 miles of streams in northern Michigan. This is a reduction of seven miles from last year's total.

The regulations will be extended for five years, effective January 1, 1960, on portions of the Boardman and Pigeon rivers, the South Branch and Main Stream of the Au Sable river and seven lakes in the Pigeon river trout research area.

The "flies only" ruling will be extended for one year on a section of the Little South Branch of the Pere Marquette river.

Commissioners voted to lift the restriction covering a stretch on the East Branch of the Fox river. This stream, the only one to be covered by the regulation in the upper peninsula, is no longer adapted for research of this type.

The "flies only" regulation will also be removed in waters of the Hunt Creek trout research area where research has been completed.

Approximately one mile on the South Branch of the Au Sable river will be withdrawn from the restriction. The area from Stecker Bridge to Deer Heart Valley Road will be dropped to reduce an enforcement problem and eliminate objections from cottage owners along the river.

Renewal of the "flies only" orders will permit Department workers to continue fisheries research. Restrictions have been in effect on most of these streams for five years but results are incomplete.

Department officials indicated that "bait only" areas may be replaced by "flies only" regulations in some streams and, vice versa, in a year or so.

Regulations governing Michigan's 1959-60 fishing seasons were set during the Conservation Commission's 3-4 meeting at the Higgins Lake conservation school.

Davis and Cedar lakes of Leelanau county and Squaw Lake of Marquette county were added to the Commission's listing of designated trout lakes. Dropped from the 1958-59 roster were: Stager pond, Iron county; Harper, Rainbow, Reed, and Sand lakes, Lake county; Sand Lake, Manistee county; Half Moon Lake, Muskegon county; and Sunrise Lake, Osceola county.

A five-year order was approved, effective January 1, 1960, barring the use or possession of spears for fishing during April on or along the shores of certain waters in Alpena, Montmorency and Presque Isle counties.

The same restriction on spearing will be imposed for three years, starting January 1, 1960, on or along inland waters of Gladwin county from April 1 through April 14. Purpose of the measure is to match the spearing season for noxious fish more closely with fish migrations.

A score of other waters will be covered by the spearing restriction during January and February in an effort to raise northern pike and muskellunge populations to an even level with panfish.

With slight modifications,

Madonna Girls Elect Class Officers

With the opening of the scholastic year, students of Madonna College resumed their extra-curricular activities by electing officers and holding meetings of the Student Council and Student Association.

Heading the senior class will be Mary Ann Poniatowski, president; Mary Ann Ulinski, secretary; and Mary Ann Ornowski, treasurer.

Junior officers are Anna Antonelli, president; Patricia Guilford, secretary; and Beatrice Spring, treasurer. Mary Margaret Sierha was chosen general chairman of the annual prom.

Sophomores elected Andrea Ligetski, president; Agnes Diehl, secretary; and Katherine Diggs, treasurer.

Representing students at the Residence Council, which decides on resident hall issues, will be Edey Wisniewski, Carolyn Cattara, Csilla Weigl, Mary Ann Ulinski, Ann Sarul and Donna Pusz. Faculty members on the council are Sister M. Tullia, dean of students, and Sisters M. Bridget and Damascene, resident sisters.

The Student Council and Student Association assembled for the first time this year under the chairmanship of Nancy Rivers, president.

the Commission renewed a five-year order which prohibits fishing in a section of Black River, Cheboygan county, from the last Saturday in April through May 31.

A two-year order as renewed, effective December 1, 1959, which will make it unlawful to take or possess more than 10 ciscoes per day from South Manistee lake, Mackinac county.

In a stepped-up effort to eliminate large numbers of stunted perch in Houghton Lake, Roscommon county, fishermen will be permitted to take an unlimited number of these fish by hook and line during the entire year, beginning January 1, 1960.

Protection will be continued for northern pike populations in Lower Scott Lake, Allegan county, and Turk and Townline lakes, Montcalm county.

Commissioners approved minor changes in reciprocal regulations controlling fishing in inland waters which form a common boundary between Michigan and Wisconsin.

The Conservation Commission went on record last week as favoring legislation in Congress which would provide for the acquisition and development of three national shoreline recreation areas in Michigan.

As outlined in three House bills and Senate Bill 2460, national recreation sites would be established covering approximately 100,000 acres in the Huron Mountains area, 90,000 acres in the Pictured Rocks-Grand Marais area and 26,000 acres in the Sleeping Bear Dunes locale.

These bills call for a yearly appropriation of $50,000,000 for acquisition and development of these areas and eight other national sites selected on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts. Another $10,000,000 would be used annually to assist states, on a matching dollar-for-dollar basis, in establishing state-administered shoreline recreation areas.

A team of experts from the National Park Service is currently in a king detailed studies of the three areas in Michigan. These areas were chosen following a helicopter survey of Michigan's 3,000 miles of Great Lakes shoreline in May last year.

Transportation arrangements to the island may be made by contacting the Beaver Island Civic Association. Ferry service to Beaver Island is available from Charlevoix. Those desiring to take their cars to Beaver Island must make reservations at Charlevoix.

Persons participating in the hunt are requested to notify the Department's fire officer on Beaver Island. A game biologist will be stationed on High Island to keep an accurate tab on kill totals.

Past results have been rewarding to hunters and the grouse population, alike, at the Rifle River area where similar hunts have been conducted for the last 12 years. However, this area is not isolated and its grouse population fluctuates with incoming and outgoing bird movements.

Timely rains, increased public caution and rapid suppression teamed up to hold forest fire losses in Michigan to less than 10 acres during the August 16-September 13 period.

Aided by this successful fourweek span, the state's 1959 forest fire figure stands at 3,594 acres compared with the 9,800-acre toll for this period last year.

Conservation Department game men are looking for hunters to harvest an expanding grouse population on High Island, a part of the game area, during this fall's small game season.

The experimental hunt will be held on this isolated 3,500-acre island to determine the most practical length for open grouse seasons on the mainland. Approximately 100 hunters will be needed to help reach the Department's harvest goal of 40-50 percent of the island's birds.

Since 1956 when the Department introduced 35 birds there, the grouse population has flourished and now approximates 30 birds. Previously, no hunting has been permitted on the island.

Modest camping facilities have been arranged and the Department will provide some transportation on the island. Although the island's terrain is rugged, trails have been well marked to avoid the danger of hunters becoming lost.

Transportation arrangements to the island may be made by contacting the Beaver Island Civic Association. Ferry service to Beaver Island is available from Charlevoix. Those desiring to take their cars to Beaver Island must make reservations at Charlevoix.

Persons participating in the hunt are requested to notify the Department's fire officer on Beaver Island. A game biologist will be stationed on High Island to keep an accurate tab on kill totals.

Past results have been rewarding to hunters and the grouse population, alike, at the Rifle River area where similar hunts have been conducted for the last 12 years. However, this area is not isolated and its grouse population fluctuates with incoming and outgoing bird movements.

Public Awaits First Look At Ford Falcon

Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company said it expects to build 100,000 of the new economy cars by the end of 1959.

James O. Wright, company vice president and Ford Division general manager, said assembly of Falcons already is under way at the division's Lorain, O., assembly plant, and will start shortly at plants near Kansas City, Mo., and San Jose, Calif. Falcon engines are being produced at Lima, O.

Wright said the keynote of the Falcon will be economy of operation and maintenance. "For example," he said, "the Falcon will have gasoline economy 50 per cent better than the largest of the so-called 'compact' cars of American manufacture, and 35 per cent better than the smallest domestic car made by the same producer. Compared with the latter, the Falcon has 35 per cent more luggage space, 70 per cent more windshield area, and a full foot more of rear-seat width."

Wright said that in the area of replacement parts a Falcon fender will cost 50 per cent less, a windshield 40 per cent less and a muffler 30 per cent less.

With regard to air-cooled versus water-cooled engines, Wright said the Falcon's water-cooled, front-mounted engine will require only $1.80 worth of anti-freeze in the winter—50 per cent less than a full-size car.

Wright said the Falcon will be introduced publicly October 8 at 7,000 Ford Division dealerships across the country.

"Based on the amount of public interest in the Falcon already being reported by our dealers," he said, "we are expecting our busiest introductory period in years."

"Its wheelbase is 8½ inches shorter and its over-all length 27 inches shorter than a 1959 Ford Fairlane, yet it is a full six-passenger car with interior roominess approximating that of standard models," he said.

The Ford Falcon, first of America's new-size cars, represents a "breakthrough" in automotive design that may materially alter the future of the automobile industry. The Falcon Fordor shown here is more than two feet shorter and three-quarters of a ton lighter than a standard 1959 Ford. Yet, the Falcon is a six-passenger car, with interior roominess approximating that of standard models.

Judge Bowles To Speak At Easter Seal Annual Meeting

Invitations are being issued to all those interested in crippled children and adults to attend the Annual Meeting of the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, Monday, October 12 at 6:30 p.m. at the St. Paul Evangelical and Reformed Church in Taylor on Goddard, just west of Telegraph Road.

Representatives of service clubs, other volunteers, interested citizens and groups of physically handicapped people who use the Easter Seal Center will gather to mark the Silver Anniversary of the Society. The principal speaker for the occasion will be the Honorable George E. Bowles of Plymouth, judge of the Wayne County Circuit Court.

Eight members for the board of directors are to be selected at a brief business session. The board of directors consisting of twenty-one members elects its own officers at a regular meeting a week after the Annual Meeting.

Area members of the board of directors are Martin L. Kirchhoff and Miss Neva Lovell of Plymouth, William Sempliner, legal advisor, Canton Township.

Livonia Health Guild Begins New Season

The first of the fall series of the Livonia Health Guild's meetings will take place on Oct. 8, at 12:30. Mrs. Ward McCain will conduct the regular meeting and the program will follow.

The program will consist of Mrs. Paul E. Krause, chairman Eastern Wayne County United Foundations Community campaign; and Miss Lelia Bracy of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The controversy of "Give Once for All" and the separate "March of Dimes" drive will be discussed.

The ladies of the St. Andrews Church on Hubbard near Six Mile Road will serve the luncheon at 12:30. Reservations can be made to either Leota Martin, GA 2-3538 or Janet Blanchard, GA 2-7445.

Hard to Double Up

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Billy Myers, former Cincinnati shortstop, set the all-time major league record for grounding into the fewest double plays when he hit into only three in 151 games during 1939.

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Raymond Berry, Baltimore Colt end who ranks as one of professional football's top pass receivers, would be virtually blind on the field without his contact lenses.

Akron, Ohio, was named for the Greek word "Akron," meaning high.

Conservation Notes

Conservation Department game men anticipate a slightly better hunting season for ruffed and sharp-tailed grouse in Michigan this fall. A good breeding season helped to counterbalance last winter's severe weather and post season surveys have indicated modest population increases for grouse.

According to surveys by mail carriers during August, this year's grouse count approached the 1956 level in the upper peninsula. In the northern lower peninsula, mail carriers reported the best count since 1954. Little change was shown in the non-cyclic grouse population of the southern lower peninsula.

Woodcock shooting will likely be as good as last year. In 1958, hunters recorded their second best woodcock season in the last five years.

The program, based on an annual 10 percent increase of parks users, would provide facilities to accommodate approximately 40,000,000 visitors a year. Present facilities are heavily taxed by some 16,000,000 users each year.

Approximately $53,000,000 would be spent for land acquisition, totaling more than 175,000 acres. The remaining funds — $38,000,000 — would be used for capital improvements of Michigan's 62 administered park areas and 30 unadministered and new areas.

Emphasis would be appropriately placed on developing and expanding camping facilities. A shortage of campsites has forced Department park men to turn away 40,000 campers this year. In 1958, 23,000 campers were turned away.

September 30 marks the deadline for farmers to apply for their 1960 payment rates under the Conservation Reserve phase of the Soil Bank program.

County committees of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation organization will establish rates and farmers then must bid under these prices by October 16. This year, top priorities for annual payments will be accorded to low bidders on a graduated basis. These bids must also indicate the type of practice desired for 1960.

After being notified that their bids have been accepted, farmers will have 15 days to sign contracts.

Through these payments and cost sharing, farmers are assisted in establishing practices for erosion control purposes and wildlife habitat improvements.

Farmers are reminded that Conservation Department game biologists will help them determine what type of wildlife food and cover plantings are best suited to their eligible land.

In addition, the Department will supply free planting stock for wildlife habitat improvements to farmers in Michigan's 40 southernmost counties. This stock consisting of shrubs, trees, grass and seed, cannot exceed a value of $100 to each farmer.

Fields planted with these materials may not be harvested. However, owners and other persons may still enjoy the pleasure of hunting on them.

Those interested in practices designed to benefit fish and wildlife can obtain additional information by sending a card to Farm Game Restoration, Michigan Conservation Department, Lansing 26. Information is also available at county ASC offices.

The Conservation Department's certification of 1,210 hunting license holders in Michigan for the 1957-58 fiscal year was submitted to the Department of Interior recently.

Michigan is annually allotted approximately $800,000 in PR funds on the basis of its certified hunting license sale total. The money is used in wildlife work on cooperative projects with a ratio of three dollars to one; the state paying the smaller share.

Only a small percentage of the state's license holders were eliminated in the certification although a change was made this year in the allotment formula of federal Pittman - Robertson wildlife funds.

According to the new formula, allotments were to be based partly on licensed individuals rather than on total hunting license sales. This signaled cutbacks to Michigan and other states which have several types of hunting licenses.

The Department's certification formula was based on one used by the majority of other states who obviously considered big and small game licenses as distinct and separate.

Western Wayne County had its beginning in 1934, as a unit of the Dearborn Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults. In 1939 following an administrative separation from the Dearborn Chapter it became known as the Wayne Out-County Chapter of the Michigan Society.

Just prior to the move into the present Easter Seal Center in 1957, incorporation was obtained under the name of the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County. The Society retains its affiliation with the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults. Support for these programs comes from the distribution of Easter Seals and the promotion of special fund raising efforts by local Crippled Children's Committees.

Individual, family or group reservations for the dinner may be made any weekday before October 8th between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the office of the Society, Parkway 2-3055, Parkway 2-3056.

No doubt many of you have already been down to the Music Hall to see the latest Cinerama presentation, "South Seas Adventure." Well, if you have, you'll be able to re-live those happy moments. And if you have not been down to see "South Seas Adventure," don't put it off any longer.

Finally, the Cinerama people have produced a film that tops all of their four early efforts. Of course, I still have a fond spot in my heart for that thrilling roller coaster ride. Old George was half-hoping that they would go on a roller coaster when Cinerama visited an amusement park in Australia.

"South Seas Adventure" bubbles from beginning to end with pictorial excitement. They've perfected the three-strip process to the point where the picture is a full 180 degrees of wonderful surprises. In some of the earlier Cinerama presentations you could see the mis-matching of the two side panels. Not so, now.

Orson Wells has replaced Lowell Thomas as narrator. This in itself was a welcome relief. "South Seas Adventure" employs a slight story line that gives you a chance to lose yourself a little deeper and enjoy the festivities even more. The Hawaii and Australia segments were my favorites.

Take the family down to see this best of all the Cinerama presentations. It's a great show and well worth the price of admission. And then if you're still game enough to tackle a restaurant that puts out a meal and a half, let me tell you about Maria's.

Wheel the car down towards Livernois avenue and Puritan. Maria's is just a block west of Livernois on Puritan. To be exact, 7101 Puritan is where you will find Frank, your genial host, and his competent chef, right from the continent — Arminio. Be prepared to dine in true continental fashion. Frank starts out with a relish tray that is tantalizingly loaded. Shrimps, hams, olives, cheese, artichokes, celery smothered in a tongue-titling sauce, and three or four other items that defy description.

The relish tray in itself is a meal. Remember, I warned none of you to go to Maria's unless you like food, lots of it, and prepared perfectly.

was quite varied in that I started "Lady Chatterley's Lover" soon after I had read "The Nun's Story." Good to have a book like the last-mentioned around to give your mind a change of pace. Another recommended book to read is "Only When I Laugh" by Gladys Workman. Gladys was the gal on "This Is Your Life" that went to Oregon and set up a ceramics business. Her adventures in the Umpqua valley of Oregon are told with a happy hit that reminds one of the clean, fresh air one breathes out in that country. I know the book brought back fond memories of the week our family spent out in Oregon about three years ago. In fact, we have relatives right in the exact locality that Gladys speaks about in her charming book.

But what about "Lady Chatterley"? Everyone is talking about the book, reading it secretly, or not bothering to mention it in fear that it will mark them as a reader of obscene literature. It's hard to judge a book that is selling so fast. Are people buying the book just to read some of the purple passages? Or do they want to find out why it has been considered a classic?

Old George feels that the great majority are just curious. One interesting item: D. H. Lawrence's widow never bothered to renew the copyright on this wild novel. As a result, anyone can print the novel without paying royalties to the family. It is rumored that a couple of publishers are sending some money to the family. Guess they have a guilty conscience. I can't understand why.

Well, TV will never make a Playhouse 90 version of "Lady Chatterley" — sponsors would be too squeamish. Or would they? If anyone raising

MSU Art Appreciation Course Open Oct. 1

What are some of the basic Egyptian art forms? What influence did the Rococo style in France and the English Georgian style have on Europe and America? These and other interesting questions will be discussed in an informal course in "Art Appreciation" offered at Plymouth this fall by Michigan State University.

The class is offered here under the auspices of the M.S.U. Program of Liberal Arts Education for Adults in cooperation with the Plymouth Public Schools.

"Art Appreciation" offers a survey in art history from early Egyptian times to the nineteenth century. Lectures will be devoted to various periods in art, aiming at an understanding and appreciation of architecture, painting and sculpture of ancient, medieval and modern times.

Art styles to be discussed include Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Romanesque, Gothic, Italian Renaissance, Seventeenth Century Europe, Eighteenth Century Europe and America and the Isms.

The class will meet Thursday afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30 for 10 weeks at the Plymouth Public Library. The class starts Oct. 1.

Coming to Plymouth to teach the course will be Miss Ann Haggarty, M.S.U. special lecturer. Miss Haggarty is a lecturer and teacher with the Extension Services, Detroit Institute of Arts. She received the B.A. degree from Wellesley College, and has done graduate work at the University of Birmingham, England.

Interested adults are invited to enroll at either the first or second class sessions. Additional information can be obtained from Herbert E. Woolweaver, director of Recreation and Adult Education for the Plymouth Public Schools.

peasants would like to buy some time on the networks, there would be a fine-tin with the gameskeeper and his excellent care of those pheasants.

We could open the TV show with Mellors high on a windy hill stroking his favorite pheasant. Then as the audience is wondering what will happen to the pheasant, Lady Chatterley hovers into view. Let's see from there we would...

No, I guess I was right in the first place the show wouldn't be too commercial.

If we could just give the whole thing a Western twist, we would be in the mother lode. Again this year as the TV tube warms up for another season, the adult westerns lead the program pack. Last season we had 22 hours a week of the "sheep-skin" boys; for the coming days ahead fasten on your spurs and get ready to settle down in the living room corral to 25 hours of Westerns. No wonder you have to keep dusting off that TV set.

Turning on TV for a moment, let me interest you in FM. Some years ago FM radio was about to be introduced and along came TV to put FM back in the aural shadows. More and more people are discovering the Hi-Fi qualities of FM. Old George recently bought a set and I'm gaining more respect for FM radio every hour. In fact, it is the answer to the TV western — turn on your FM set and let your nerves be soothed by some fine music.

"Herbs On Your Window Sill" - First of a Winter Garden Series

Ed. Note: New ideas for growing and placing house plants is the theme of Dorothy H. Jenkins' column, GARDENING, today and every other week this fall and winter. On alternate weeks, Gardening outdoors will be featured.

To write Gardening, Dorothy H. Jenkins draws on her many years of previous experience as garden editor, columnist and reporter for THE NEW YORK TIMES. This new column of hers is based on her own gardening, year in and year out. There are pots of herbs on her kitchen window sill and vines on her mantelpiece; more than 200 rosebushes—among other plants—give her flowers to cut from her garden from May to Thanksgiving. She tests new varieties of roses as well as annual flowers and shrubs for hybridists, so the information she passes on to gardening friends and readers is up to the minute.

Read about "Herbs on Your Window Sill" today. Watch for "Planting a Rose Garden" next week. You won't want to miss one of Dorothy H. Jenkins' columns on GARDENING. Send in a stamped addressed envelope to Dorothy H. Jenkins, care of this paper for answers to any of your gardening problems.

By DOROTHY H. JENKINS
Herbs are exactly the right plants to have on a kitchen window sill. If the window faces east, west or south so that they receive a few hours of sun every day it shines, the leaves will scent your hands every time you touch them. Furthermore, culinary herbs can be snipped for flavoring and seasoning all winter.

If you are growing rosemary, tarragon and sweet marjoram in a garden north of Philadelphia, Pa., plants will either have to be protected or else dug up, potted and brought indoors in order to survive the winter. They won't grow much indoors, and they are hardly window sill plants.

Best of all for a window sill are rooted cuttings, since they can be planted in 2 or 3-inch pots of ordinary garden soil. It still isn't too late to take cuttings of scented geraniums—peppermint, nutmeg, lemon, rose or any other favorites—pineapple sage, pineapple mint, basil and rosemary. The plants themselves will be much too large to pot up and bring indoors.

Strip off leaves from at least half the length of the stem of these 2 to 4-inch cuttings and insert them in a pot of damp sand. In about three weeks, roots should form and the little plants can be potted in soil.

While you're taking cuttings, look for self-sown seedlings of such herbs as dill, borage, chervil, basil and catnip. These also can be lifted carefully with a trowel and planted in the smallest pots or lined out about 4 inches apart in a narrow window box. It's better to dig up seedlings from the garden than to sow seeds indoors now when days are so short. Don't expect to keep any of these all winter, for they'll get straggly.

Whole plants of basil, either sweet or purple, parsley and other low-growing herbs can be dug up and planted in 4 to 6-inch pots, whichever size fits the plant. Cut back the parsley almost to the ground and cut back basil to remove any flowers or buds. New growth starts promptly.

Except for the little green and white leaved pineapple mint, other members of this family grow too tall and spindling to be worth bringing into the house. If you want to dig up chives, do it now but leave them outdoors for about a month so they will freeze. The new growth, when they are brought indoors in November, will be sturdier.

Pineapple sage from rooted cuttings will open graceful, bright red blossoms for Christmas if they are kept on a sunny window sill. Nutmeg geranium will flower by midwinter. Flowers are the exception indoors on these herbs that are grown for scent and flavor. Snipping and plucking off leaves regularly will keep plants from growing out of bounds.

The Fountain of Youth . . . Found?

Many predictions fly in the wind today . . . that we may all be blown to kingdom come or slowly wither away under the fallout, or merely that we may run out of water or fuel resources. But consider this contrary prediction, fortunately prevailing above these ill winds, as studies by such authorities as Dr. Carl Djerassi, one of the world's most distinguished scientists continue to explore the magic of steroid hormones.

Steroid hormones may eventually prove to give us a genuine fountain of youth! A longer, healthier life, with cancer and heart disease controlled, may be closer than many people dare dream!

Where do all these hormones come from? In 1949, when two American doctors, Hench and Kendall, from the Mayo Clinic, reported to the world about cortisone, they won the Nobel Prize in recognition of another triumph over disease. But the world supply of cortisone at the time was extremely limited. This set off a whirlwind of activity among chemists, that is still going on.

Behind the scenes, working in Mexico, one of the original research teams at work was affiliated with Syntex who developed a new and more abundant source material from barbasco root, the wild yam growing in profusion in the Mexican jungles. The yam was used by the primitive Indians as soap or as fish poisoning. Inedible, yet harmless to man, it proved to be the magical source for many of the steroid hormones now used in today's medicine. Instead of having to process great quantities of animal glands from limited sources at great expense, it is now possible by chemical conversion of these abundantly growing yams to produce these life-saving drugs in sufficient quantities to meet the needs of modern medicine. And more hormones are being brought to the surface from laboratory studies every day.

And so it is that these steroid hormones, wrung from nature's many secret archives, may prove to do more for peace, for human welfare, for establishing the real fountains of youth—life with a minimum danger of disease—life with more vigor and lasting health than man has ever dreamed of before.

Role of Hormones
According to certain men of medicine and research, many now in their 30's may look forward to hitting the century mark if they are lucky, careful, and the beneficiaries of some new and more specific steroid hormones now emerging from the laboratories.

It is now clear to scientists and physicians that the use of androgens—or male hormones—are effective in increasing the efficiency of the body in the utilization of proteins from the diet, and so be of value in tissue building, particularly in the elderly and severely debilitated patient. At the same time they have been studying the effects of these hormones in fighting cancer and heart disease, chief killers of oldsters.

Another area in which steroid hormones may be important is in heart disease. In principle, steroid drugs are believed to help against the danger of cholesterol, which is believed to be one of the factors responsible for atherosclerosis—clogging deposits of fat in the arteries. In this area, it is the female hormone that is used and again the problem of the side effect, when given to males, has stimulated a search for a modification which will not have a feminizing effect.

One problem with hormone drugs has been that you often get more than you want from them. For example, the male sex hormone is widely used today in the management of breast cancer in women. In these patients it helps to alleviate pain and may help to increase survival chances, according to Dr. Carl Djerassi, Director of Research for Syntex, major suppliers and leading researchers in steroid hormones.

Parents: Are You Set For Their Learning?

Students' readiness is not the only concern of educators as the new school year approaches. They are equally interested in knowing how well the parents have prepared themselves for it. Along with the I.Q. and aptitude tests for students, they have devised some searching questions for parents. Among them are these, presented here in checklist form.

- () Do you teach your child how to organize his time and his work, and help him improve his study habits?
- () Do you answer your child's questions patiently and pleasantly?
- () Do you help him develop physical and social, as well as mental skills?
- () Do you discipline him fairly but firmly, not too harshly or too leniently?
- () Do you follow the behavior pattern you would like him to follow?
- () Do you help him make his own decisions?
- () Do you avoid comparing him with other children?
- () Do you provide proper surroundings and facilities for study, for hobbies and for play?
- () Do you encourage him to participate in your hobbies and interests, and do you participate in his?
- () Do you help him select good reading matter and television programs?
- () Do you encourage him to achieve his best work, and at the same time avoid pushing him beyond his capacity?
- () Do you keep your discussions with him at his level, neither talking down nor talking "over his head"?
- () Do you develop in him respect for his teachers?
- () Do you help him learn about many vocations but avoid picking one for him?

Any father or mother, say the education experts, who can answer yes to all or most of these questions, will have no trouble making the parents' "Honor Roll."

Household Hints

United Press International
Before storing your barbecue grill for the winter, remove accumulated grease by scouring the grill with a stiff-bristled brush and sal soda concentrated, applied dry. Rinse well. When dry, apply a thin coating of petroleum jelly to prevent rusting.

Keep an old nylon stocking in the car glove compartment to clean off windshields and headlights. The abrasive nylon will do the job in a hurry.

Always wipe up milk, vegetable and fruit juices and vinegar from the top of a range immediately. These foods contain acids that dull and stain enamel or metal surfaces.

For small touch-ups to a painting job, use a cotton swab instead of a small brush. The swab will leave no overlap, which usually dries a shade lighter or darker than the original coat.

Softened cream cheese and dark corn syrup are a tasty topping for frozen waffles. Frozen lobster and crab meat should not be kept in a freezer for more than two months.

To pan-fry meat without fat, sprinkle a little salt on a sizzling skillet before putting in the meat. The salt will keep the meat from sticking to the pan.

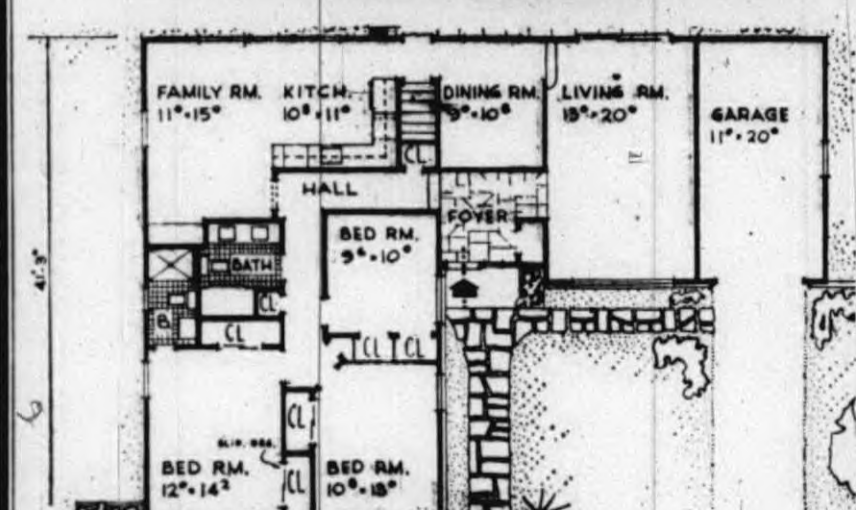

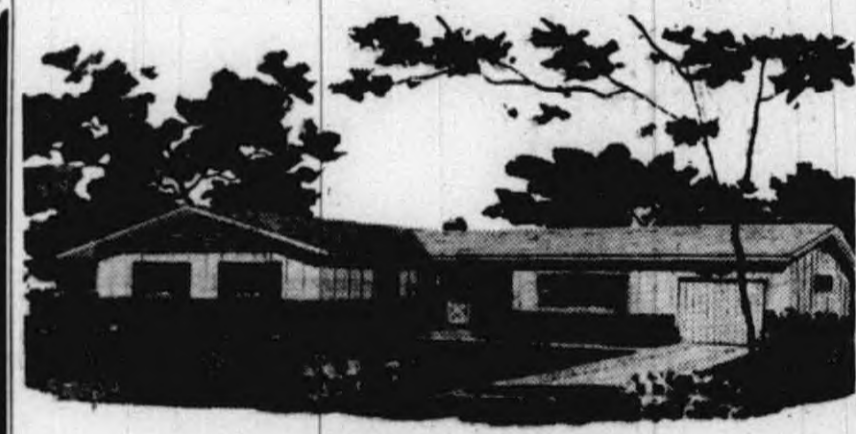

Park up cottage cheese with some crumbled blue cheese or chopped olives, grated carrot and green pepper.

Try floating honey ice cubes in iced tea or punch. Blend ½ cup honey with 2 cups very hot water and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Freeze. The cubes also can be crushed and served in tea.

Substitute red table wine for the liquid used in meat balls, meat loaf or hamburgers.

Let's compare calories at the frozen dairy food counter. One-half cup sherbert contains about 120 calories; one-half cup of vanilla ice cream has 150 calories.

Offers Low-Cost Luxury

A house that has been described as an "ideal design for today's mode of living" is this roomy, attractive ranch-Colonial style shown in the drawing and floor plan above.

Designed especially for 1959 National Home Week by architect Herman H. York of Jamaica, N.Y., the house is ideal because:

1. It is designed to provide the most space possible in a compact floor plan that has good zoning without sacrificing comfort, yet can be built on a small lot.
2. It is engineered to be built of top grade materials that will give years of trouble-free service and contribute to overall beauty, yet are economical to install.
3. The design combines the advantages of a modern ranch-style house with the beauty and desirability of traditional styling.
4. It is essentially a low-cost house, yet has two complete baths, wide entrance foyer, family room, separate dining room, 20-foot living room, and is insulated with enough mineral wool to permit economical installation of an air conditioning system.

Architect York points out that an important key to providing a quality house at the lowest possible cost is in the selection of materials.

The use of stock window units of ponderosa pine, for example, cuts labor costs drastically, since these come pre-assembled at the factory, ready to be fitted into the

THE GOOD OLD DAYS... FROM THE PAGES OF THE MAIL

10 Years Ago

September 29, 1949

Local boy shot in robbery attempt at McLaren Co. Judge Perlgo cracks down on crazy drivers. First National puts new front on its building. Children riding buses need identification. Quick and efficient action by the Plymouth Township Fire Department helped avert complete destruction of the home of Mrs. George Travis on Canton Center Rd. last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Halver Blomberg of Ann St. have returned from a two weeks vacation to the Black Hills, Rocky Mountain National Park and the Pike's Peak area in Colorado. Among those from Plymouth who attended the wedding of Mary Ann Kervetz and Elton Miller in South Lyon on Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reber, and daughter, Sandy, Mr. and Mrs. John Huk, Mr. and Mrs. August Hauk, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dethloff, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Dethloff and Mr. and Mrs. George Molnar. Miss Jane Pierce entertained several school friends at a party at her home on Northville Rd. Friday evening after the Ypsilanti-Plymouth game. Mr. and Mrs. Merley Rorabacher left Wednesday for a two-day visit at the Hillsdale Fair. Miss Margery Fegan and Miss Mary Ann Zukosky are spending their vacation in Washington, D.C. William Otwell, a former Plymouthite, now residing in California, is spending some time in Plymouth visiting old friends and attending to business.

Plymouth residents have received the good word that the Reverend P. Ray Norton will head this congregation for another year. LeRoy F. Tiltson of Junction avenue has enrolled in the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. Tonight, Friday evening, there will be a style show at the Odd Fellow Temple on South Main street. The affair is sponsored by local merchants and several professional models have been secured. There will also be a mercantile exhibition. Following the style show which is from 8 to 9 there will be dancing, Don Patterson and his orchestra having been hired. William Roe, well-known Plymouth resident, has in his possession a letter signed by John J. Bagley, prominent Detroit businessman and former Governor of Michigan, which was sent to the War Department asking for a temporary leave of absence from the Army because of the serious illness of his son, brother of William. Mr. Roe was at that time in the Union Army. The fact that it required the signature of the highest official in Michigan for anyone to get even a few days leave from the Army indicates just how straitened at that time and just how badly the North needed men.

The Happy Helpers of the Lutheran church met Wednesday evening at the home of Elsie Melow and surprised one of their members, Mrs. Wesley Sheere, the former Margaret Schoff at a miscellaneous shower. Miss Thelma Lunsford of Grand Rapids was the weekend guest of Miss Jean Joliffe. The Eastern Stars had a fine turnout at their benefit bridge and 500 party Tuesday evening at the Hotel Mayflower. In charge of the lovely party were Mrs. Forest Smith, chairman, Mrs. E. M. Moler, Mrs. William Downing and Mrs. I. N. Innes. School Notes: That dashing young journalist, Jack Selle, is busy finding a name for his new column. Among those suggested have been "Tripping Through Selle's Pansy Patch," "Your Horror Scope by Selle" and "Sweets to the Sweets, nuts to you." Our suggestion is to call it, "Just Another Collymore." Bob Beyer was elected class president of the 9th grade class at their meeting Tuesday afternoon with Marion Luttermoser the vice-president and Gerald Cook student council representative. Other officers will be elected later. Another Robert emerged as president of the eighth grade. He is Robert Delvo, vice president is Bill McAllister and secretary-treasurer is Ruth Hobbins. A son, Dale William, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Behle on Sunday, September 16. J. D. McLaren has entered the University of Michigan. Frank Allison, Michigan State College and Harold Stevens, William Kirkpatrick also at Michigan State College. The marriage of Miss Mildred Plant of Newburg and Mr. Herbert Zube of Detroit was solemnized on Saturday, September 22 at four o'clock in St. Peter's Lutheran church, Reverend Edgar Hoencke officiating.

The Woman's Literary club will meet today, Friday, at the home of Mrs. E. R. Daggett in the North Village. Mrs. Peter Gayde slipped on the back porch of her home Monday after the rain, dislocating her ankle, also breaking the bones on both sides of the ankle. Drs. Cooper and Patterson set the limb but it will be some time before she will be able to walk again. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Warner of Salem, Sunday, a boy. Cider apples are wanted by the J. D. McLaren Company. The Elm school opened Monday with Miss Carrie Baker as teacher. Mrs. VanAken of Elm has purchased the 20 acre farm of Will Smith north of Elm. Consideration $1,000. The first freeze of the season hit here Monday night and farmers who have not got their corn cut had better hurry. Charles Fisher has bought the Elmer Huston house on Sutton street. Louis Reber has purchased a lot from Ben Sprague on Oak street and will build a house there as soon as possible. Born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reiman, a son, also a son the same day to Mr. and Mrs. Melbourn Partorval. Orval Tousey cracked a couple of ribs and hurt his shoulder at football practice at the school Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vandecar and family were in Flint Sunday and visited the family who adopted the baby who was left on a Plymouth doorstep a couple of years ago. They report the baby is fine and has a wonderful home. George Taylor is about to install a new $500 oven in his bakery which he purchased in Chicago last week. The Plymouth ball team was defeated by a score of 4 to 3 by the D.A.C. club at the Milford fair last week, thus losing a chance at the $100 prize. The annual election of the O.E.S. took place last Tuesday evening with the following results: Worthy matron: Mrs. Alice Ekkliff; Worthy patron: Daniel Murray; Assoc. matron, Mrs. Zaida Burrows; Cond., Mrs. Maude Pettinill; Assoc. Cond., Mrs. Gladys Patterson; Sec., Mrs. Mary Brown; Treas., Florence Lee. The ceremonies were followed by a banquet.

Whooping Cough Tops Any Week Since 1950

Not since March 1950 were there as many whooping cough cases reported in Detroit in any week as were reported here last week, Dr. Joseph G. Molner, City-County Health Commissioner states. Last week 120 new cases were reported and there were 67 the previous week. So far this year, 1,097 whooping cough cases were reported compared with 114 for the same date last year. Many of the patients were babies six months old or younger and whooping cough is dangerous for babies—the younger the child the greater is the hazard if he has whooping cough. Cases reported during the first six months of this year showed that more than half of the patients were under five years old. Treatments to protect your baby against these three diseases should begin by the time he is two months old. It takes several months after the treatments are given for the child's body to develop the protection, so guard him against exposure to these diseases. Keep him away from anyone who has a beginning cold or sore throat. The whooping cough virus is carried in the discharges from the nose and throat and it is most likely to be given off in the earliest stages before the coughing begins. Your young child needs a booster treatment when he is two to three years old and another before he begins school. This is an important part of maintaining his protection. This triple vaccine is provided free to physicians by the Michigan Department of Health through the Detroit and Wayne County Health Departments. If your child has whooping cough, he should be under the care of a doctor. He should be kept away from persons outside the family. This is necessary to stop the spread of the disease and also to protect the sick child from getting another infection which could bring serious complications.

Capt. Thams Receives Award

Captain Robert W. Thams, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Thams, 475 Jener, Plymouth, received the Army Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant in recognition of meritorious and outstanding service as Company Commander of Company B, 2nd Armored Rifle Battalion, 41st Infantry, 4th Armored Division in Germany during the period Feb. 1 1958 to March 12, 1959. The presentation was made by Brig. General Frederick R. Zierath, Assistant Commandant of the US Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Captain Thams served in Germany prior to joining the student ranks at the world famous Army College to attend the ten-month Regular Course.

He is a graduate of the University of Omaha, Omaha, Nebraska, 1954. Captain and Mrs. Thams and six children—Karen Lee, 11, Robert Johan, 10, Paul Eric, 8, Marta Kristine, 7, Peter Lloyd, 4 and Margaret Ingeborg 1—reside at Fort Leavenworth. The citation stated in part: "Capt. Thams displayed exceptional leadership, initiative, devotion, to duty and professional competence. Under heavy workloads due to the numerous field training exercises, proficiency tests and command inspections, he worked far in excess of normal duty hours in training his command. "As a result of his leadership and supervision, his command rapidly developed into an alert, hard-hitting and combat-ready unit capable of performing outstandingly under the most adverse conditions."

"There are times when it is almost impossible to express one's appreciation..."

This is the beginning of a letter to us from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Henry of Traverse City.

Around 9 p.m. one night last November, the Henry baby, Bucky, suddenly became unconscious. Bucky already had a temperature and now his breathing had nearly stopped.

Desperate, Mr. Henry rushed for the phone, explained the critical emergency to Operator Pearlle Neubauer.

Mrs. Neubauer called in Senior Operator Dora Leabo and Operator Ruth Estes. While one called the ambulance, another called the fire department and the third made sure that a doctor would be ready at the hospital.

Bucky was rushed to the hospital in minutes and his life saved.

THE HENRY LETTER CLOSED WITH THESE WORDS:

"It is tremendously gratifying how efficient and dependable the telephone company is in time of need. Please extend to those on duty that night our indebtedness."

Here Friday from Chevrolet . . .

Elegant Impala 4-Door Sport Sedan—one of 16 spanking new Chevrolets you can choose from.

THE SUPERLATIVE '60 CHEVY

This is the one that says '60 like no other car. From its clean-thrusting grille to its dapper rear deck, there's so much that's new and different about this superlative Chevrolet it stands out from the rest like a fresh-minted coin. And you'll be just as wide-eyed over what's inside—the relaxing roominess, tasteful trim, hushed elegance of its new Body by Fisher, all comfortably cradled by Full Coil springs at all four wheels. Yet, sumptuous as this new Chevy is, it's got all the thrifty virtues that make it unmistakably a Chevrolet—with new economy of operation, new dependability, new longer life. Here, then, we're confident both you and your budget will joyously agree, is the nearest to perfection a low-priced car ever came!

Here's the car that introduces a whole new decade of design—with so much that's new and different the others can only hope to come close.
It's the superlative '60 Chevrolet—with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, new splendor in every clean-etched line.
Freshly shaped contours rake back from the unified new grille to the jaunty rear deck, fitted with craftsmanship you'd expect only on the most expensive makes. Inside, the solidly built 'new Body by Fisher surrounds you with finely tailored fabrics and spacious elegance. There's room to sprawl in, room to sit tall in—generously provided by Chevy's sofa-wide seats and extra margin of hat space. And there's even more leg room for the man in the middle—thanks to the way Chevrolet engineers have shaved down the transmission tunnel.

Out on the road, as Chevy's Full Coil ride will persuade you most gently, there's not a car near the price that comes close to the hushed comfort of this one. Adding to your sense of silence and solidity are thicker, newly designed rubber body mounts that do an even more efficient job of isolating road shock and noise.

Quiet, quick-responding power is provided by a choice of two standard engines—Chevy's famed Hi-Thrift 6 and a new Economy Turbo-Fire V8 that gets up to 10% more miles out of a gallon of regular while delivering greater engine torque at normal speeds. There's also a choice of five other V8's and five transmissions, to assure the exact power combination to satisfy the itch in your driving foot. Chevy's accent on comfort and convenience even extends back to its easier-to-load luggage compartment. You'll also find a convenient new parking brake that automatically returns to normal height after application, a new clutch linkage that filters out engine impulses more effectively than ever and new two-toning motif available on all 16 fresh-minted models.

But, impressive as all this may look in print, there's really only one way to tell how near to perfection this superlative '60 Chevrolet actually comes . . . and that's to drop in on your dealer and drive one!

Chevrolet Corvair Makes Debut

The revolutionary Corvair, long a target of speculation in the automobile world, makes its debut this week along with the distinctive new conventional line of 1960 Chevrolet passenger cars.

On display in dealer showrooms for the first time, October 2, the complete presentation offers 19 models, ranging from the compact six-passenger Corvair to a series of Impalas described as the most luxurious ever introduced in the low-price field.

The trail-blazing Corvair, product of a nine-year research and development program, offers a compact car specially designed to meet American standards of comfort, convenience, safety and performance at lower initial cost and greater economy of operation.

Special features include a flat, air-cooled engine mounted at the rear, unitized body with virtually flat passenger compartment floor, swing-type rear axle with independent springing at all four wheels.

The conventional Chevrolets also boasts progressive modifications. The styling is distinctive, with outstanding newness in the front and rear sectors. Passenger space is roomier, more comfortable and richly fitted. A new V8 engine is among chassis improvements that promise greater durability and satisfaction.

The Corvair will be offered in two models, the standard and the deluxe Corvair 700, both six-passenger four-door sedans.

Body types in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series combined include a total of three four-door sedans, two two-doors; two sport coupes; two sport sedans; a convertible and a utility sedan. The Corvette sports car and five station wagons round out the 1960 Chevrolet passenger car line.

A pioneering achievement, the Corvair offers many features which are new to American-made automobiles.

Farm silos originated in central Europe and were said to be introduced into the United States in about 1875.

Historian Relates Impressions Of Titusville's Oil Centennial

EDITOR'S NOTE: Karl Starkweather, author of many local historical pieces, was Plymouth's official delegate to the Oil Centennial, Aug. 23-29 at Titusville, Pa. Here he writes some of his impressions of his stay there.)

By KARL STARKWEATHER

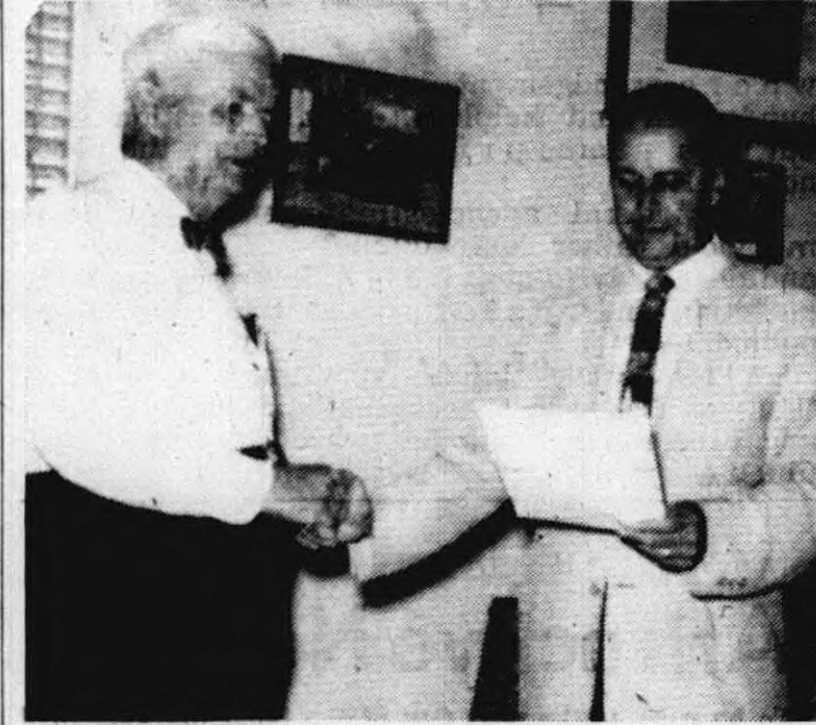

Titusville — as every good American should know — is the home town of the petroleum industry. It's a town off the beaten track, however, and lies in the narrow valley of Oil Creek and amid the heavily wooded hills of northwestern Pennsylvania. To get there without a car (and I didn't take a car) can be something of a problem.

Public transportation in and out of Titusville is extremely poor. There is none whatever to Meadville, the county seat. The Pennsylvania railroad ceased all passenger train service through Titusville in 1953 and the New York Central did the same thing many years before that. It had never been on the main line of either road in the first place.

The town has no airport. The one Greyhound bus a day operates between the two cities of Union City and Oil City with Titusville a way station along the line. A nd those two stops a day — one in each direction — do not occur until some time after the noon hour.

The city of Erie, third largest in Pennsylvania, lies 44 miles to the north, but there is no straight-through bus service to that point. To get to Titusville by bus from

A LETTER of congratulations was given to Mayor C. C. Hampton, right, on Titusville's Oil Centennial Celebration by Plymouth's official delegate, Karl Starkweather. The letter, written by Mayor Pro Tem Robert Sincock, invited Titusville folks to visit Plymouth.

Erie one has to change from one bus to another at Union City. Despite all this, however, Titusville is a desirable place in which to live.

It's a much older town than Plymouth but, despite the still existing touch of quaintness there, it has modernly too. It ceased to grow in population — though not in culture — more than three-quarters of a century ago. The population is but little more than that of present day Plymouth, yet it has many things which Plymouth has not. It's elevation, by the way, is 400 feet higher than that of Plymouth.

Titusville is strictly an American town. In a large measure the families who live there have been there for generations. One exception to this is that of the present mayor, C. C. Hampton, now serving his third four-year term in office. The mayor informed me that formerly he had been in the steel business in Philadelphia but that, in the course of his work, Titusville had been on his calling list. He subsequently became so enraptured with the town that he decided to make it his permanent abode. Still in excellent prime of life, he never expects to live in Philadelphia nor anywhere else again.

To record all I saw and heard in the course of Titusville's most memorable week would require a book. The dramatic story of Titusville, from many different points of view and by many different people, has been told and retold many times. The singular thing about all this, however, is the still seeming indifference — even ignorance — of present day laity concerning the birth of what has long since become, with the exception of agriculture, America's single greatest industry — OIL.

It may be, however, that Dave Garroway, in his TV show "Today," on the morning of Thursday, Aug. 27 and staged from the Titusville ringside, partly dispelled this seeming lack of full appreciation for modern industry's single greatest benefactor, Col. Edwin L. Drake. For it was just 100 years prior to that date, on Saturday, August 27, 1859, that Drake, after all his backers had called quits, and after most of his friends and neighbors had more or less good-naturedly described his efforts as "Drake's Folly," brought in the first drilled commercial oil well in all the world.

It was a humble beginning, brought about by a humble, little educated but persistent man, but the repercussions of his one great feat have never ceased.

Although the site and the storied past remains, no commercial oil is now pumped within the immediate Titusville area. Northwestern Pennsylvania, however, is still good oil country.

The county's oldest continuously producing oil well, the McClintock No. 1, was brought in at Oil City, only 17 miles away in 1861. It will celebrate its own but lesser centennial two years hence.

For some time past, however, it has shown signs of playing out. Oil City is also headquarters town for the Quaker State Oil Corp. The daily newspaper is called "The Derrick."

And so Titusville celebrated — and well they might — for one whole week. But it was not a mere local celebration. It has been planned for months — even years. Top oil men and a miscellaneous assortment of dignitaries from over the nation and from other parts of the world were there to assist, to participate, to commemorate, to inspire and to applaud. And your scribe will be ever thankful that he could have been there and served as one of the witnesses. What is said here, however, does not so much as scratch the surface. I arrived on Monday and every hour from then on was a busy one. But since we cannot write a book let us now skip a few days.

Imagine, if you can, the city of Plymouth waking up some fair Saturday morning and then, long before mid-afternoon of the same day, finding herself hostess to 100,000 visitors, all of them inside the city at one and the same time, and all of them finding a spot to park themselves far inside the corporate limits! Impossible? Maybe so, but that is exactly what happened in little old Titusville.

Having been a close range witness there is little doubt that this was true. Fifty thousand had been expected — 100,000 came. They joined in to watch the 4-hour long "Grand Parade of Oil" and what a parade it was!

The police force of Titusville is comprised of 13 officers, but to preserve order and to regulate traffic on parade day, more than 200 others were borrowed from neighboring communities. They came in from Erie, Meadville, Union City, Corry, Oil City and perhaps from some other points. They could be identified by their badges. The local police, prior to the day of the big parade, had registered special parking places for 5,000 cars and then gave up in despair. Cars were seen parked in fields way outside of town but the people came in, all found spots, all were well behaved, everybody was happy and gay and there were no known tragedies.

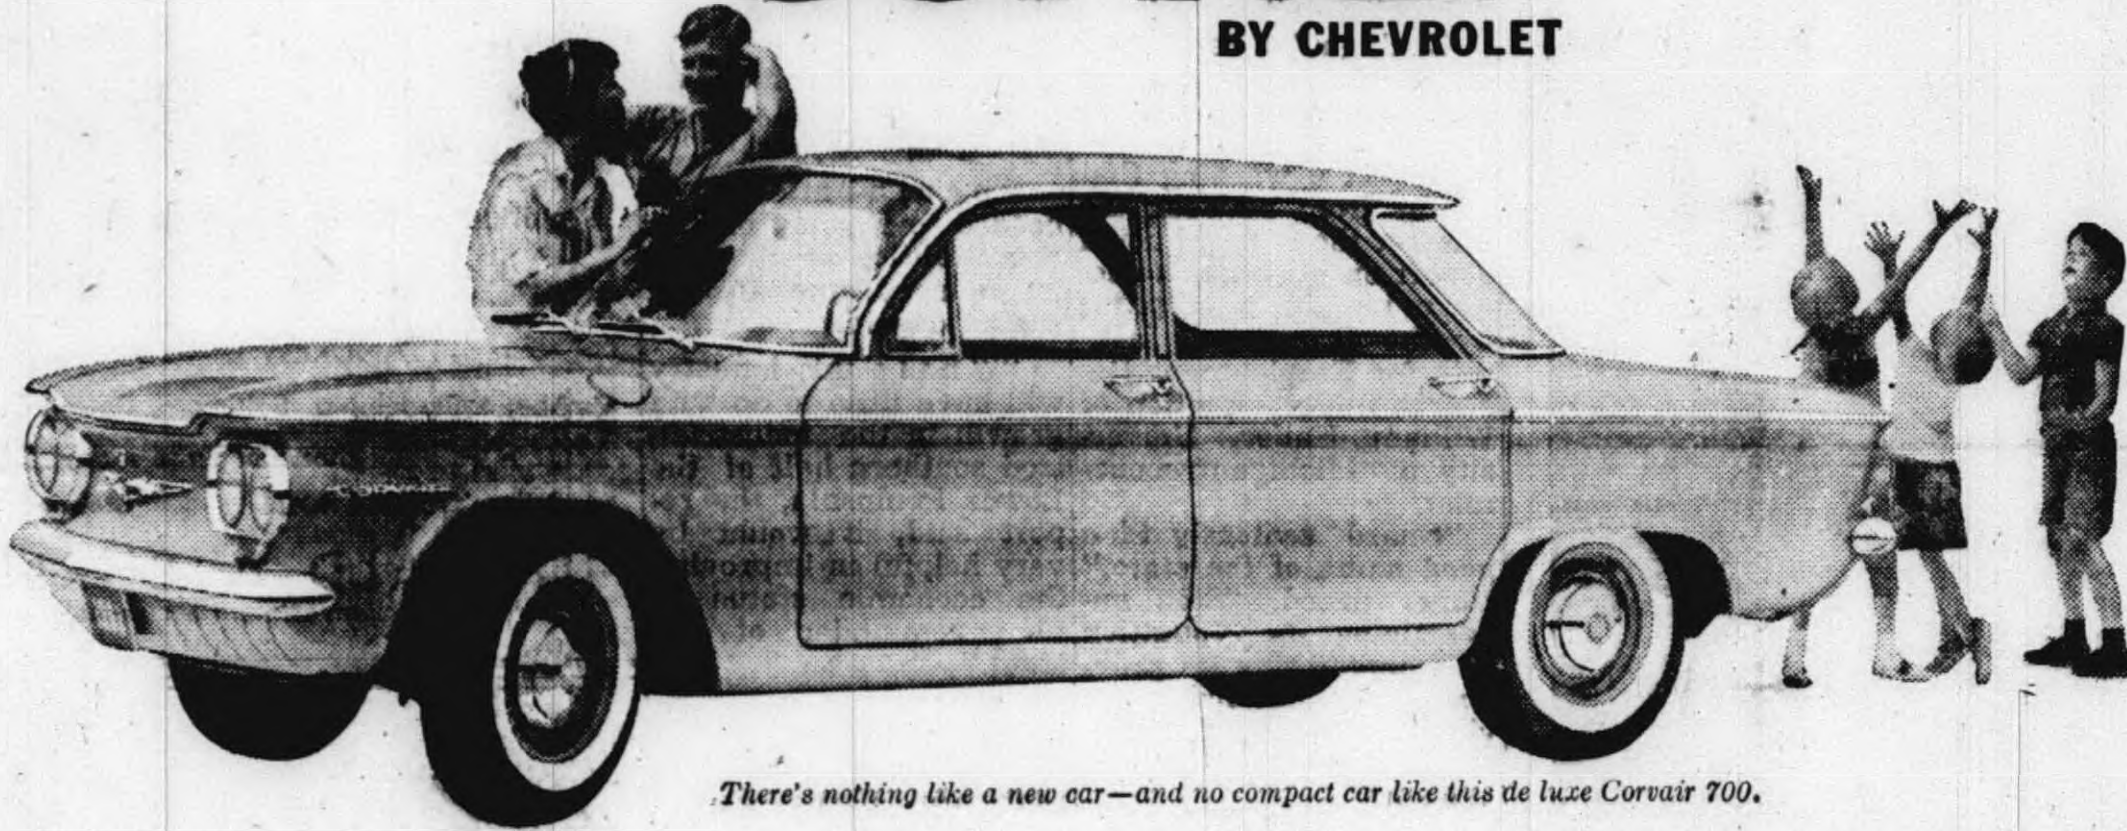

But there is so much more to be said! All this is but a mere fraction of what was personally picked up in and around Titusville. Nothing has been said about the great speeches that were heard, the bearded men on the streets, the historical exhibits, the truck loads of logs passing through the streets, various oil men met, the Drake Well, the Oil Museum, etc., etc., and yet many things were missed.

THE REVOLUTIONARY Corvair

BY CHEVROLET

There's nothing like a new car—and no compact car like this de luxe Corvair 700.

Here's the car created to conquer a new field — Chevrolet's low-priced compact Corvair. The product of nine years of research and development, it's America's first truly compact car that retains the ride and 6-passenger comfort you're used to in a big one.

The key to this small miracle: America's only rear-mounted aluminum engine—a lightweight 6 that's so revolutionary it can be packaged with the transmission and drive gears as one compact unit.

With the engine in the rear, the Corvair's floor is virtually flat, front and rear, so there's plenty of foot room for everybody. Combined with Corvair's unique body-frame construction by Fisher, this provides interior spaciousness comparable to many postwar conventional-sized cars.

Shifting engine weight to the rear also makes for easier compact car handling and gives glued-to-the-road traction on ice, mud or snow. And with independent suspension at all 4 wheels—an advance comparable to the independent suspension of front wheels years ago—you get a poised, unruffled ride that rivals even the costliest cars.

These are all things no front-engine compact car can give you. And with them you get outstanding economy and practicality that would never have been possible if Chevrolet engineers had been content to make the Corvair merely a sawed-off version of a big car. Corvair's size—some 5 inches lower, 2½ feet shorter and 1,300 pounds lighter than conventional sedans—makes it a joy to jockey through busy streets, a pleasure to park (no need for power assists). Its revolutionary Turbo-Air 6 gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon of regular. And, because the engine's air cooled, you never have to fuss with antifreeze, you get quicker warmup (even heat for passengers comes—almost instantly—from an airplane-type heater*). Wonderfully practical, yes. But you'll find the most practical thing of all about Corvair is its remarkably low price. Your dealer's the man to see for all the short, sweet details.

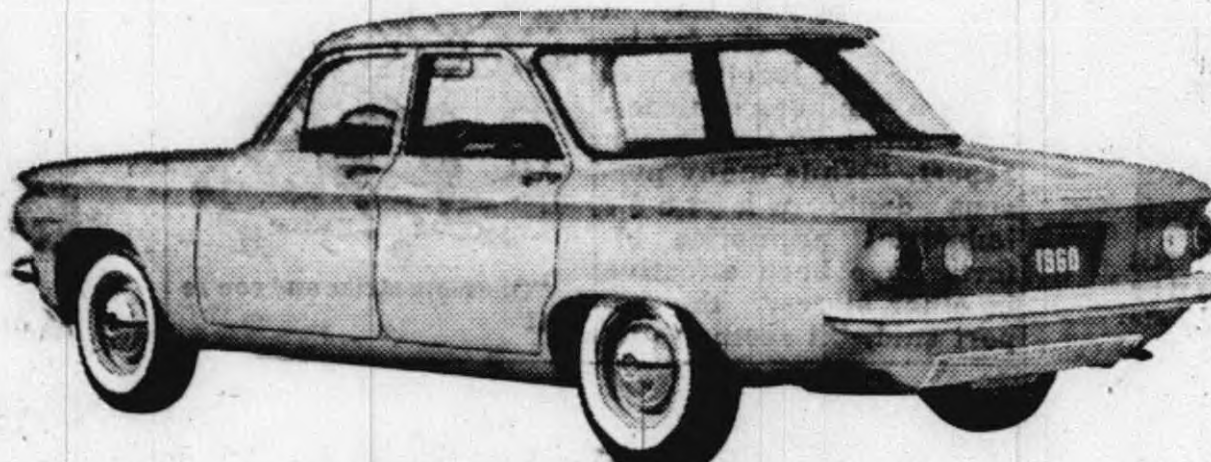

America's only car with an airplane type horizontal engine!

America's only car with independent suspension at all 4 wheels!

America's only car with an air-cooled aluminum engine!

The engine's in the rear where it belongs in a compact car!

You have your choice of two Corvairs—this one's the standard model.

Gets up to 30% more miles on a gallon, needs no antifreeze, provides quicker warmup with less wear on parts. It's the world's first production 6 with the ultra-smooth, space-saving power of horizontally opposed (not vertical or V-stroke) pistons.

2 ONE-PACKAGE POWER TEAM

Wraps rear engine, transmission and differential into one compact unit. Takes less room, leaves you more.

3 STYLING—PURE AND SIMPLE

Clean, uncluttered lines shape both 4-door models—the de luxe Corvair 700 and the standard Corvair. Each has its own distinctive trim, and you get more visibility area than in many full-sized cars.

4 FOLD-DOWN REAR SEAT*

Works instantly, adding to Corvair's versatility by enlarging rear seat cargo space to 17.6 cu. ft.

5 FLAT FLOOR

Corvair is America's only compact car with a practically flat floor, the only one with the kind of relaxing room that U.S. motorists are used to.

6 UNISTRUT BODY BY FISHER

Does away with conventional frame, incorporating all structure into a rigid body-frame unit that gives you more inside room with less weight.

Paper Strike is Nasty

Detroit was made to go through another metropolitan newspaper strike, and our sympathies are extended to the publishers.

Sympathy isn't worth much on the balance sheet, but it's about the only thing a spectator can offer to innocent management which has been squeezed in the vicious vice of a jurisdictional union dispute.

There simply wasn't any decision the Detroit publishers could have made which would have avoided trouble.

Two separate unions seek control of the mailing rooms. One has the most membership (or has had until now) and has been recognized. But it is an independent union, unaffiliated with the printing unions which are recognized in most of the other newspaper departments. If it had not been recognized, it would have struck. And the printing trades have an affiliated mailer's union. They want their union to be recognized in place of the independent one. To try to persuade this upon the publishers, the printing unions stopped work last week. That put the paper out of action completely.

To make the battle line even tighter, the Detroit strike was regarded as a "test case" for the nation. The same contest for jurisdiction is going on in many cities.

Resources of the two unions across the country were poised to be poured into the Detroit fray, which would have tended to make the strike longer and tougher to resolve.

It's the type of strike

where management is handcuffed and helpless, who will pay the needless damages invoked upon management by the walk out?

A law suit against the union which threw up the picket line seems to be very much in order, with realistic sums of money awarded to the publishers.

A "temporary" injunction was issued last week and presumably will be made permanent this

How's Business?

Bonds Unusually Attractive Now

The bond market offers a door of opportunity for many investors. High-grade tax-exempt State and Municipal bonds may be bought to yield around 4 per cent. For investors in the higher tax brackets, this opportunity for upgrading after-tax income can hardly be overlooked.

Long-term Government bonds return around 4 1/2 per cent, while near-term maturities are yielding around 3 1/2 per cent. Some corporation bonds of good quality will now return over 5 per cent; certain bonds which rank below the top grade can be bought to yield as high as 6 per cent or 7 per cent.

This is the first opportunity for such attractive investment returns in the bond markets since the 1930's.

Naturally, there is the likelihood that interest rates, especially short-term rates, will go higher and that bond prices will work lower. However, the persistent drop in bond prices since mid-1958 has been so steep that a climax in the downturn may be near, after which the bond market should firm.

To be sure, in the next few months the economy will doubtless be in for a severe credit strain as business reaches its season of peak borrowing and the Government seeks to fill its cash requirements pending tax receipts at the turn of the year.

Someday bonds purchased at current prices will prove to have been profitable investments, especially when obtained at a discount from par value,—in addition to providing a good return in the interim. It is almost impossible to hit the exact bottom of the bond market; furthermore, the reversal of trend is often abrupt, leaving the timid investor in the lurch.

Hence, investors may now find it desirable to increase their bond holdings, even to the extent of nibbling at long-term issues. Investors setting aside funds for estate-tax purposes should not overlook the Treasury 2 1/2 of June and December 1967-72, which sell around 81 per cent of par but which can be used at full par value to pay Federal Estate Taxes without incurring any capital gains tax.

WHAT'S NEW FOR '60 ?

The one car maker who makes missiles comes up with a new way to build cars

As prime contractor to the United States Army in the making of America's most successful missiles (Redstone and Jupiter), we've learned about finding out beforehand what's going to happen, and about the importance of total design.

We have applied this new space-age experience to the design and manufacture of new 1960 cars soon to be announced by Chrysler Corporation.

The single greatest result is that we can be sure that the first car off the production line will be as perfect as those which roll off five months later.

Built like a missile by electronic engineering. Instead of thinking of a car as a number of different components that would eventually be assembled, we attacked the problem of the whole car. Total design, is another way of saying it. It has resulted in what our engineers call "pure automobile."

Electronic engineering—something entirely new in the motor car industry—helped us achieve this. Here's how it works . . .

165 years' work in a few months

For example, in mounting the engine to the frame, two rubber mounts and a heavy-duty spring are used.

We called on our missile-making experience and our battery of amazing electronic computers, and made more than 900,000,000 calculations for these mountings—a job that would have taken an engineer 165 years of full-time work. We had our answers in a few months. The result? Mountings that are in exactly the right place to soak up all engine-caused vibrations.

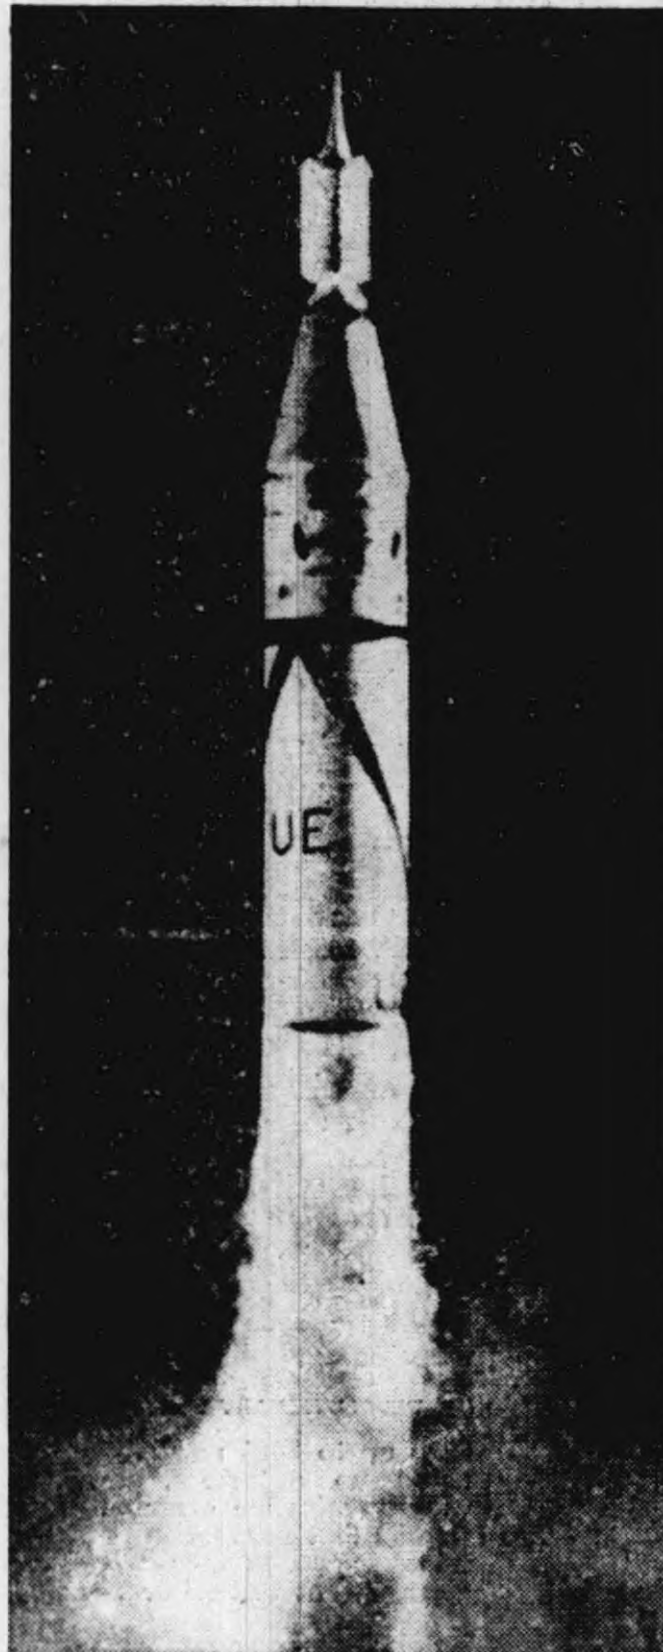

UNIBODY surrounds you with silent strength

These are the quietest cars you have ever known.

One reason is, we've done away with the old method of bolting body to frame. Now, they flow together as one welded complete unit. A surprising number of the squeaks and rattles have gone with the nuts and bolts.

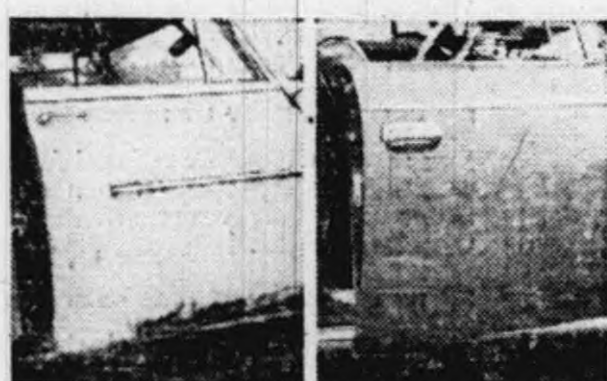

We call this construction UNIBODY. Framed like bridge trusses, the new bodies have twice the torsional strength of previous models, along with 40% more beam strength.

Thanks to total design, UNIBODY gives you all the advantages of earlier forms of "unitized" construction plus this exclusive: you ride surrounded in silence, without the annoying road noises that other cars pick up and telegraph in to where you sit.

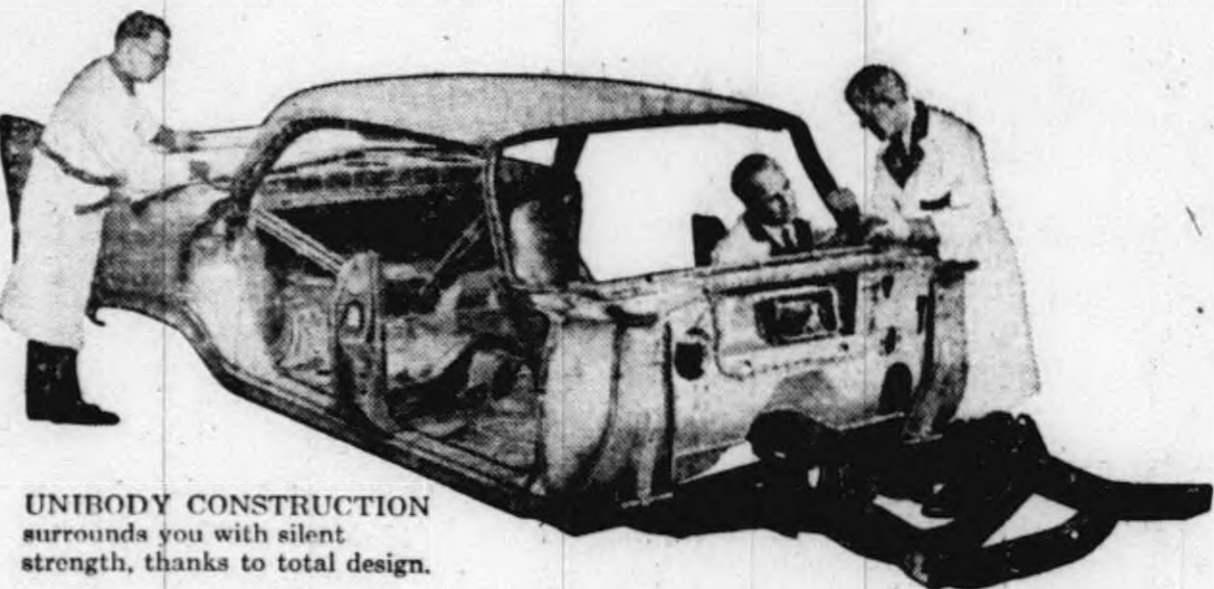

Imagine an automobile—

- that looks pure automobile . . . newly styled with natural lines of motion
- that could last twice as long as ever before
- that so reduces air drag it's like buying gasoline a penny a gallon cheaper
- that will withstand the ravages of rust years longer than ever before
- that locks the doors when the engine starts
- that gives more headroom without raising the roof, more legroom without stretching the car, wider doors you can step through rather than squirm through.

Our 1960 metals and chromes (right), will last years longer than the metals and chromes used by other car makers (left). Identical salt spray tests prove the difference.

UNIBODY CONSTRUCTION surrounds you with silent strength, thanks to total design.

Michigan's Name Political Football

By Elmer E. White
 Michigan Press Association

Unified efforts to improve Michigan's business climate have been urged by leaders of both parties. Both Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for governor in 1958, have suggested the interests of Michigan should be put ahead of political considerations and suspicions.

But this may be too much to expect. Another election campaign is in the making—and both Republicans and Democrats say it appears the "business climate" may be an issue as it was in 1958. Michigan's reputation will suffer still more if the 1960 campaign echoes 1958.

This is a warning that comes from between the lines of the widely-quoted report on Michigan's economic future prepared by the Upjohn Institute for Employment Research under direction of William Haber, University of Michigan economist.

"Guard zealously the good name of the state," Haber urged. "Stop undermining its reputation by exaggerating its problems and minimizing its virtues. We have short-changed the state long enough."

I - told - you - so reaction came from both parties when the Haber report was issued. Republicans said it proved Michigan had a problem. Democrats said it proved Michigan's problem was not as bad as Republicans made it sound.

But Williams and Bagwell were in agreement in saying the Haber report indicated there has been too much talk and not enough action.

Advertising is getting increasing emphasis in discussions about what should be done to spur Michigan's economic growth.

Both the Tourist Council and the Department of Economic Development heard welcome words in the Upjohn Institute's report on the potentials of the Michigan economy.

The report cited the need for more money for tourist and industrial promotion.

Expansion of institutional advertising of Michigan as a site for industrial location was cited as an area of necessary action by the Upjohn report. "While many persons doubt whether industrial promotion efforts have been effective in other states," the report said, "it seems to us desirable that such efforts be stepped up in Michigan."

Special attention is needed to a study of the potentialities of the tourist industry, the Upjohn Institute said.

"While this industry will have little to do with growth in the industrialized southern half of the Lower Peninsula, the report said, it would be very helpful in improving the economic status of the remainder of the state."

Lawyer - writer John D. Voelker is willing to share the Upper Peninsula after all.

Voelker, Michigan Supreme Court justice, indicated in his best-selling "Anatomy of a Murder" the Mackinac Bridge would spoil the Upper Peninsula by making it too easy for people to get there.

The famous Michigan author set the record straight in "Anatomy of the Upper Peninsula," an article in the 1959 Michigan Yearbook.

"I know of no pleasure greater than having others share with me appreciation of a beautiful land," the native of Ishpeming said. "They are all welcome."

If 'Helen' Is Your Own Name

By ANN REYNOLDS

"Helen" brings to mind the beauty queen of ancient Greece for whom the Trojan War was fought. Very fittingly her name, in ancient Greek, means "the bright one, the radiant one." The original Greek form of the name was "Helene," "Helena" is the latinized version, and in English "Helen" is the most popular spelling.

The main source for the ancient Greek Helen's story is Homer, and he does not describe her looks in particular. Later sources record that she had a small mouth, bright blond hair, a rare thing in Mediterranean Greece, and a mark between her eyebrows that were of exquisite shape.

Has there ever lived a woman who would not have wished to be beautiful? Yet Helen's story proves that beauty can truly be a fateful gift. It brought trouble to that charming woman herself, and everyone else brought her in contact with, and caused the death of countless fine men. Helen's troubles began when she was a young girl in the house of Tyndareus. When she performed a sacred dance in honor of the goddess Artemis in her temple, she was abducted by Theseus and taken to Attica. Brought back home after that adventure, Tyndareus chose to give her in marriage to Menelaos, King of Sparta, one of her numerous suitors. Paris of Troy, having been promised the world's most beautiful woman by Aphrodite, seduced her with the help of that goddess (having been changed to look like menelaos). After the death of Paris Helen married his brother Deiphobos, but delivered him to the Greeks at the destruction of Troy.

Menelaos took back his errand wife; an antique relief shows him as he about to assail her sword in hand but is disarmed by one look out of her eyes, and this is a scene which has been repeatedly depicted on Greek vases. After Menelaos was dead, her stepsons drove Helen from Sparta. She fled to Rhodios, and there Polyxo, the queen, made her suffocate in her bath then hang her on a tree, in revenge for her husband's participation in the long Trojan War.

For all her fame it was not Helen of Troy for whom the name became popular. It spread for St. Helena, mother of Constantine the Great who made Christianity the official religion of the Roman Empire in 313 A.D. St. Helena, too, is said to have been beautiful. Although of humble origin, a waitress or the daughter of an innkeeper, legend made her into the offspring of the fabulous King Cole of Britain. For this her name acquired its huge popularity among the English.

Why They Call For Help MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—

Electrical failure was the number one cause of automobile breakdowns in 1958 according to a study made by the American Automobile Association (AAA). Flat tires and ignition troubles came next as the major causes of auto trouble.

All told, the AAA reported receiving nearly 60 million calls for service last year. But it said that there were fewer cases of motorists running out of gas or getting stuck in the mud or snow because "drivers have become more intelligent."

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leon Ames, famous fireball pitcher of the New York Giants, set the major league record of 30 wild pitches in one season in 1905.
