

HUNDREDS OF Evans Products workers waited outside their union hall on Holbrook Tuesday afternoon as election ballots were counted. The election was called to see if members wanted to ratify the union company agreement. Workers, happy with the offer, voted acceptance and they went back to work Wednesday morning. Cars parked for blocks around as members went to the polls. The strike lasted 53 days.

53-Day Evans Strike Ends

Settlement was reached this week in the 53-day-old strike at Evans Products Co. on Eckles Rd.

Some 1,000 workers, members of Local 2340 of the United Steel Workers of America, AFL-CIO, went back to work Wednesday morning after voting Tuesday on the offer.

The hourly workers walked off the job August 23, three days before the expiration of their contract. Picketing continued throughout the 53 days, except for one or two minor incidents, it remained peaceful.

There were pickets at an Evans warehouse (old Markham plant on Main St.) as well as at the plant.

Terms of the new contract were not announced by the company. It covers wages and contract modifications, they announced. The pact is for three years.

Workers voted on the agreement at their union hall located on Holbrook at Pearl St. in Plymouth. Hundreds of cars were parked within an eight-block area Tuesday afternoon as the majority of workers came to cast their vote.

Union members were overjoyed to hear that they were going back to work. "I'm going to be stiff for a while after I get back," declared one who found that he had softened up after two months at home. Another said that he spent much of his time waxing his and neighbors' house-trailers.

"Spare-time jobs are hard to find with so many others laid off due to the steel strike," another worker admitted. "We'll be glad to get back."

With the agreement ratified Tuesday, workers appeared the first thing Wednesday morning. Office workers remained on the job throughout the strike, being allowed to pass picket lines freely.

The local Evans plant is the home base of the growing Evans structure. The 11 other plants in the Evans group, producers of wood products, were not affected by the strike. Evans makes bicycles, railroad damage prevention equipment and bus and truck heaters at the plant here. Because the plant has been on strike, there is ample steel on hand to maintain production for some time to come. A prolonged steel strike, however, could eventually affect Evans as well as other plants.

Officials Push Ahead Economic Council Idea

Another meeting of the nameless group composed of area elected officials and the board of education met Monday night and decided to appoint a steering committee that will come up with recommendations that they hope will lead to the formation of an economic development council.

Joining the officials of Plymouth and Canton Townships, the city of Plymouth and the school board were officials of Northville Township. A portion of Northville Township is in the Plymouth Community School District—the area in which the group hopes to attract more industry so that taxes can remain level.

This was the fourth meeting of the top-level group. The meetings are called by the board of education and chairmaned by the board president, Mrs. Esther Hulsing. At the last meeting two weeks ago, it was agreed that some type of economic development commission should be formed to attract industry to the area. This Tuesday night's meeting was concerned with finding a method of getting such a commission or council underway.

It was decided to form a steering committee, composed of one member from each body, to first make some recommendations. One of the committee's jobs is to find out if some outside organization should be hired to survey the community concerning its attractiveness to industry. Three state universities have been contacted by Mrs. Hulsing to determine if they make such surveys.

The Institute of Community Development at Kellogg Center in East Lansing was reprieved with an outline of how it would conduct such study. It would cost $1,500.

The committee would also be charged with finding out where to obtain money for a survey and promotion; what other people should be made a part of the economic development commission; and how to proceed further.

The supervisors, mayor and school board president will make their appointments to the committee within a week and the committee will meet next Tuesday night. A meeting of the entire group will be held December 1.

Canton Supervisor Louis Stein, Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and Mayor Harold Guenther all agreed that their governing bodies are willing to participate in the venture. Northville Township Supervisor George Clark said that while his township was but a small part of the school district and had no present industry, the board would do what it could.

The main purpose of the mission is to issue $4,000,000 in bonds to finance the work as outlined in Proposition 1.

Proposition 3 will ask that the tax limitation be increased 75 mills (75 cents per $1,000 of valuation) to erect and furnish an auditorium.

Proposition 4 asks if the school district can borrow $500,000 and issue bonds to finance the auditorium.

The amount of millage asked for in the propositions is misleading, the school board notes. To satisfy bond buyers, it is necessary that more than enough millage to cover the bond payments is approved by voters. The $4,000,000 bond issue requires six mills while the $500,000 issue requires three-quarters of a mill. Actually, the board will levy 4.63 mills on the $4 million issue and .57 mills for the $500,000 issue. This is a total of 5.20 mills. The board says that these figures are based on the present valuations and that if the state equalized valuations go higher, it would be possible to levy even less.

To keep the millage rate from climbing much above the present rate, the board proposes to eliminate two present levies. One is the 1952 bond issue that will be retired following the December tax collection. The district is paying 1.15 mills for this issue. The other is a two and one-half mill building and site sinking fund which the board intends to eliminate entirely. Proposition 1 stipulates that this millage will be eliminated if the proposition is approved. This sinking fund was approved three years ago and has two years to run. These two issues add up to 3.65 mills.

By subtracting these from the 5.20 mills needed, the net millage required is 1.56 mills. This would bring the total school millage up to 22.63.

The school's millage rate for many years had been 21.95 mills. This year it was dropped to 21.07 mills.

Board members will appear before Parent-Teacher associations before the elec-

State Official To Discuss Patronage In License Offices

A plan to change Michigan's auto license offices from fee offices to civil service offices will be described by Assistant Secretary of State John F. Dodge, at the monthly meeting of the Plymouth Democratic Club at 8 p.m. tonight at the I.O.O.F. Hall.

Secretary Dodge will also speak on the topic, "Where Does Your Tax Dollar Go?" A question and answer period pertaining to both subjects will follow his presentation.

There has been some agitation for many years, however, by many individuals and groups to have some type of community auditorium built. There is a small auditorium in the high school now that was originally the gym and now doubles as the cafeteria. Most larger programs are held in the gym, where there is no stage.

Actually there will be four propositions on the ballot on Nov. 23. While a bonding firm of Miller, Paddock, Canfield and Stone still has not approved the exact wording, they will be something like this:

Proposition 1 will ask that the limitation of taxes be increased by six mills for erecting the secondary and primary buildings, acquiring additional land and remodeling present buildings. This would be for a period of 18 years.

Proposition 2 asks for permission to issue $4,000,000 in bonds to finance the work as outlined in Proposition 1.

Proposition 3 will ask that the tax limitation be increased 75 mills (75 cents per $1,000 of valuation) to erect and furnish an auditorium.

Proposition 4 asks if the school district can borrow $500,000 and issue bonds to finance the auditorium.

City Studies Extension Of Water to Township

Policy Change Could Develop Area Quicker

Is the city of Plymouth throwing gigantic cocktail parties? Commissioner William Hartmann, like most citizens would, raised a question when he noted one of the bills being paid at Monday night's meeting was for 50 pounds of cracked ice. DPW Supt. Joe Bida had a simple answer, however. When there is a leak in a water pipe somewhere between the street main and the shut-off valve in the building, cracked ice and salt is packed around the pipe, freezing up the flow of water until the leak is located.

COMING DOWN: A ramshackle house at 555 S. Main St. is due to be torn down by its owners. Neighbors presented a petition to have the house razed to the city Monday night and the County Health Department has found it unfit.

NAME IN NEWS: It had been heard here months ago that Thomas Kent, personnel director of Daisy Manufacturing had left the firm in Rogers, Ark. He showed up on the picture page of the Detroit News Tuesday with the negotiating team of the strikeboard Cross Co. He is personnel director there.

MARKSMAN: First of the hunters reporting back with Michigan's big game is Tom Osmun, 9721 Newburg Rd. Tom shot a 265 pound black bear with a bow and arrow near Seney, Mich. While waiting in a blind for deer, the bear ambled toward the hunter and Tom shot him at 15 feet. The arrow penetrated 17 inches. Tom, who works at Burroughs, has been hunting with bow and arrow two years.

COME HOME: An emergency appeal is being made in Lake Pointe Village where the Specialty Feed Co. loaned out a seed spreader and it hasn't been seen for three weeks. More homeowners want to put in lawns. No questions asked, the owners said in their appeal.

GETTING AROUND: Word seems to be spreading that Plymouth area officials are working together to attract industry here. At Tuesday night's meeting of the officials were reporters from the Detroit News and Wayne Eagle and a member of the Wayne school board. Wayne is becoming alarmed at its growth in school population without growth in industry and wants to find out what Plymouth is doing about it. The News plans to do a story on the community's efforts.

STILL UNKNOWN: Mrs. Lewis Wells of Five Mile Rd. who received an eye transplant after her own eye was damaged, will not know the success of the operation until later this week. Doctors were to find out the results last Monday but stitches have not healed enough yet to make the determination. The eye was flown in from New York to University Hospital.

LEAF PROBLEM: The city DPW street sweeper will pick up leaves along the street if they are scattered out instead of all in one pile. Residents are warned that burning or the street damages both asphalt and concrete.

A much more rapid development of industry, business and homes in the community than previously expected may take place if the Plymouth City Commission follows through with its present discussions and allows city water to be extended beyond its borders.

In a surprise move Monday night, commissioners re-opened discussion on its water policy which in recent years has forbid any more water taps outside the city limits unless a water main ran past the property.

Commissioners attending Monday night's meeting appeared in agreement that the city should supply water to those desiring it outside the city limits—that is, if the demand isn't too heavy to tax the city's water capacity.

As a result of the discussion, Mayor Harold Guenther was given authorization to appoint a four-man committee to study the possibility of allowing water taps outside the city. The committee will be named at the next meeting.

Several commissioners declared that the "commissions of the past" had erred in their policy-making concerning water. The proposed change in policy has apparently come about for two reasons:

1. With Detroit now planning to push large supplies of water into western Wayne County, the city needs to depend upon its well system for only a few more years.

2. There is an air of more cooperation between Plymouth Township and city officials, due perhaps to recent meetings among governing bodies called by the board of education.

One of the important questions raised by extending water into the township is what will happen to the city supply when the township has its own system?

Several commissioners expressed their belief that as soon as the township has its own, the water should be discontinued from the city. It is probable that a master meter would be placed at the city limits measuring the gross amount sold to township users. The township would then bill its own customers.

This is the method suggested by Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay recently when the Garling Development Co. asked for city water to be extended into a township plot they own east of the city. The supervisor noted that when the township has its own water system, they don't want city-owned system extending into the township. To prevent this, a master meter would be placed at the boundary and the township would bill the individual customers and repay the city for the gross amount used.

The commission two weeks ago allowed a tap to Klaus Zielke who intends to build a home on Homer Rd. in Northville Township. The city main runs nearby, but not along the Zielke property. This grant was an exception to the policy.

Commissioner J. Rusling Cutler appeared to be spearheading the drive to grant water taps. He opened Monday night's discussion by noting that exceptions had been granted, probably because the commission "has been doing some different thinking" on the subject.

"I believe we are definitely in a position and are ready and willing to supply industry, or any economic development," Cutler asserted. "This is a different manner of thinking than commissions in the past."

Cutler believed that the commission should review the last report made by consulting water engineers which told how long the present water supply would last. "I feel we should supply anyone we can economically supply."

Commissioner Marvin Terry said that he would go along with the idea if it is assured that the city would supply water to outside areas only until they obtain their own water source.

Cutler agreed, adding that any arrangement made should meet with an agreement with other governing agencies.

Mayor Harold Guenther said that apart from a look at the water supply report, the commission should consider the matter of rate. At present the rate for users outside the city limits is double that of those in the city. Whether the double rate is too much or too little should be considered, the mayor noted.

Commissioner Carl Shear injected that he feels the city should have gone into the water business (for outside users) several years ago. He warned that because requests for water from a few large users could jeopardize the present water supply, each request should be handled individually, rather than accept every request without question.

City Attorney Harry Deyo warned that the city should not stick out its neck on making capital expenditures in extending water. Commissioners appeared to agree that the city itself would not want to pay for mains to be extended. Such capital expenditures would be coming out of city funds, and therefore would be unfair to city taxpayers.

Two other commissioners, William Hartmann and Richard Wernette, expressed their support by asking for a committee to examine the proposal. Mayor Pro Tem Robert Siscock, recovering from an operation, was not in attendance.

Plymouth Township has its own plans to provide water to certain areas. They want to extend water from their well field in the northeast area. When Detroit water reaches the township boundary (the date for this is uncertain), it will be tied into the township system.

However, use of city water appears to be a fast method of obtaining water and it would be available in some areas where the township lines would not immediately be placed.

Separate Proposition Created for Auditorium

Two School Bond Issues Will Seek $4.5 Million

Two bond issues totaling $4,500,000 will be placed before voters of the Plymouth Community School District next month—one of them asking for new primary and secondary facilities and remodeling existing buildings, and the other seeking money to build an auditorium.

School board members spent three and a half hours Monday night going over details of the propositions and making plans on how to present them before voters. The election date of Monday, Nov. 23 was set at last week's meeting.

The bond issues, which would run for 18 years, would cost 63 mills (63 cents per $1,000 valuation) more than the long-standing school millage rate of 21.95 mills. It would not be placed on the tax bills until a year from this December.

One of the bond issues—an instructional swimming pool at the junior high. The other bond issue asks for $500,000 to erect an auditorium. Board members spent considerable time Monday night trying to decide whether to include the auditorium in one $4,500,000 bond issue, or to make it a separate proposition.

It was finally decided to make it a separate issue, assuming that some voters would perhaps vote down the entire package because they may feel that an auditorium is not a necessary item in the educational process.

There has been some agitation for many years, however, by many individuals and groups to have some type of community auditorium built. There is a small auditorium in the high school now that was originally the gym and now doubles as the cafeteria. Most larger programs are held in the gym, where there is no stage.

Proposition 2 asks for permission to issue $4,000,000 in bonds to finance the work as outlined in Proposition 1.

Proposition 3 will ask that the tax limitation be increased 75 mills (75 cents per $1,000 of valuation) to erect and furnish an auditorium.

Proposition 4 asks if the school district can borrow $500,000 and issue bonds to finance the auditorium.

The amount of millage asked for in the propositions is misleading, the school board notes. To satisfy bond buyers, it is necessary that more than enough millage to cover the bond payments is approved by voters. The $4,000,000 bond issue requires six mills while the $500,000

issue requires three-quarters of a mill. Actually, the board will levy 4.63 mills on the $4 million issue and .57 mills for the $500,000 issue. This is a total of 5.20 mills. # Local Architect Denis Schmiedeke Honored by Professional Society

Thirty-year-old Plymouth architect, Denis C. Schmiedeke and his business partner, Herbert L. Hawthorne, were honored by their professional society, the Detroit Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, at a banquet in Berkeley.

Architects Hawthorne & Schmiedeke, whose office is in Detroit, received the award entitled "Excellent Design" for their 42 lane Bowlerama Bowling Center located at Seven Mile and Lyster Roads in Detroit, and it is the second highest award granted by the American Institute of Architects for the design of a building by a Detroit chapter member.

This is the fourth recent significant professional recognition accorded their work. In January they received a national "Award Citation" for their design of the recently completed Pine Lumber Sales Building on Inkster Road; in July their elementary school in Gros Cap, Mich., in the Upper Peninsula was featured in the "Michigan School Board Journal" for its unusual planning, compact design and practical expandability; and in August their recognition spread internationally with the publishing in the Italian architectural journal "Domus" of their island-straddling lake residence for land developer Jim Cole, which will be built on Lake Sherwood near Milford.

Denis Schmiedeke

EXTERIOR of bowling lanes which won award for its architects.

As was announced recently, they are the architects for the new giant 64 lane bowling center, Cloverlanes, which is scheduled for construction next month. Although their sixth large bowling center is currently in the design phase, their work is quite diversified and well complemented in the planning and design of schools, religious complexes, medical and dental clinics, facilities and commercial development.

Schmiedeke lives at 131 S. Holbrook.

Canvass Oct. 29 For UNICEF

Don't forget next Thursday afternoon! Answer your doorbell with a handful of change for the orange and black cannister offered you. You will be helping our local boys and girls help children all over the world.

Nations Children's Fund, all volunteer funds, will be used to buy vaccines, penicillin, milk and other things so desperately needed by children in many undeveloped countries of our world.

A great deal has been done through our gifts and there is still a great need for more.

Teen-age boys and girls of many of our local churches are assisting in this drive. They will be easily identified by their orange and black UNICEF tag and cannister. Their requests for money will be made only after school on Thursday, October 29 during daylight hours.

A movie will be shown to the boys and girls illustrating the work being done by UNICEF on Sunday evening, October 25 at the First Methodist Church.

Owner of Outstanding Bible Collection to Speak Here

The owner of one of the most important Bible collections in the world will be the guest speaker on Sunday, Nov. 1 at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

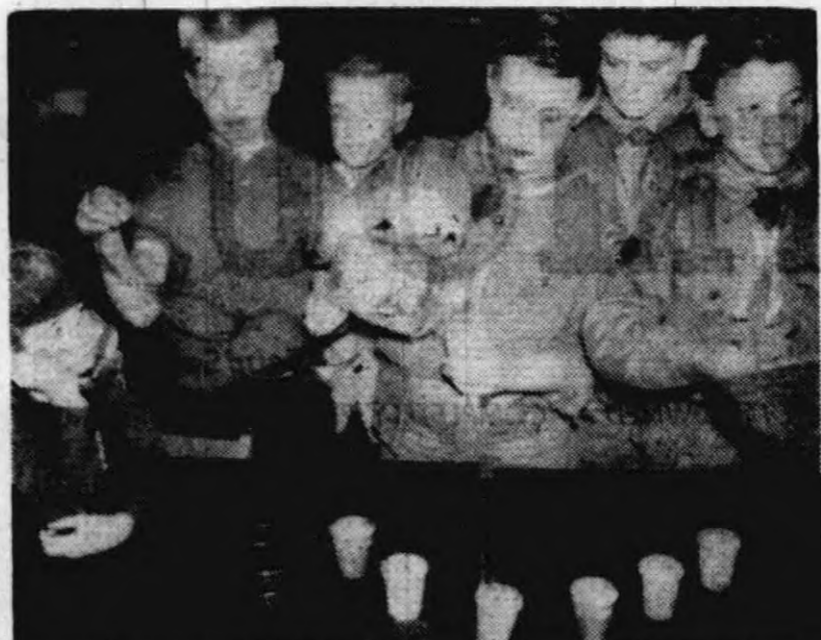

He is Ben R. Donaldson, Ford Motor Company's director of institutional advertising.

He will speak at a public program at the church located at Schoolcraft and Bradner Roads. The program starts at 7 p.m.

Donaldson has more than 800 volumes, ranging from a manuscript Bible written by a Latin scholar in 1225 to the latest Revised Standard Version. His collection, estimated conservatively at $50,000, is kept by the executive in his home. He owns a copy of the Aitken Bible, the first English Bible printed in America of which only 32 copies are known to exist.

The speaker has been Ford's institutional advertising director since July 1954. Before that he was director of advertising and sales promotion for the firm and was mainly responsible for the "American Road" series of advertising during Ford's 50th anniversary and the two-hour TV show in 1953 that was the forerunner of present TV spectacles.

He is a member or officer in many organizations of professional and community nature. Donaldson disclaims any standing as a Bible authority but is called upon often to talk about Bible history and his collection.

The most important project and improvement at Fox Hills this year is the completion of the swimming pool.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

We've asked before. In our country does the end justify the means?

The following is a true story. It happened in Plymouth. As you read, you are to be the judge of what is right and what is wrong.

On August 28, 1959 a man drove his car through a stop sign at Mill and Amelia Streets. A Plymouth officer stopped him and wrote a ticket for the offense, noting that he had gone through the sign at "walking speed."

Normally this is a $10 offense.

But this particular driver only a few days before had his driver's license restored. He had been serving a 30 day suspension of license because of previously having received too many tickets for moving violations.

Now, here was another "moving violation." If this stop sign rap now went on his record and was sent to Lansing, the driver stood a grave risk of losing his license for a long period of time.

He needed his car badly in his line of work.

Frightened, the driver asked for advice. He was told by a friend to contact a Plymouth lawyer.

On the day of trial, Sept. 16, 1959, the driver finally phoned the attorney and was advised to meet him outside the courtroom that evening, 15 minutes before the time of trial.

This meeting took place. The attorney advised the man his only hope was to get the charge revised to something other than a moving violation. "But first," said the attorney, "we had better get this case adjourned for the moment."

The lawyer entered the courtroom, returned in a few moments, and said the adjournment had been allowed. The case would be heard on Oct. 7 — about three weeks ago.

So on the afternoon of Oct. 7 the lawyer phoned the client and asked that they meet at 6:45 p.m. in the hall outside the court. In the course of the conversation, the lawyer advised the client he should bring about $100 with him that evening.

They met outside the court room. The attorney informed the client that he thought the traffic ticket would be dismissed, but that the man would have to plead guilty to a "drunk and disorderly" charge.

"Wait, what's going on?" the client asked.

"This is a way to keep the other ticket off the record."

"But won't that mean a big fine?"

"Oh, no, maybe $25 or something like that."

So, the defendant, confronted with two unpleasant choices, went to court. His attorney pleaded guilty on his behalf to a disorderly charge. The judge dismissed the traffic case. He levied a $35 fine for the "drunk and disorderly."

Somewhat later a new formal complaint was written, charging the man with being drunk and disorderly at Mill and Amelia at 12:40 p.m. "on the 28th day of August AD 1959 at the City of Plymouth in the County aforesaid."

The client paid his fine of $35 and received a court receipt.

Later he paid the attorney $45 and received a receipt stating that $30 more was owing for the service—a total legal bill of $75.

In the court files of Plymouth today rests a traffic ticket on which is written in red pencil "dismissed per judge, 10-7-59."

There also is a file jacket which on the cover is typed:

"Oct. 7, 1959. Complaint on oath and in writing made this day; warrant issued returnable forthwith. Case called at 7 p.m. Defendant in court with his attorney, who moved that the charge of failure to stop at stop sign be dismissed (TN 4632) and a count of disorderly person be granted. There being no objection, the motion was granted, whereupon pleaded guilty to Disorderly Person. I thereupon found him guilty and sentenced him to pay a fine of $35. Fine paid on receipt No. 2743."

Case closed.

That's all there is.

The man's driver's license was saved.

It cost him $110.

Was the man right?

Was the attorney right?

Was the judge right?

Does it help to know that similar things take place in other courts, in many places, day in and day out?

tion to explain their five-year plan and answer questions. A Town Hall meeting has also been arranged for the public to find out more about the propositions.

The board hopes to have a "combination" secondary building ready for occupancy by the fall of 1961. Their architects, Bennett & Straight, say this would be a very rough target to meet. The architects are now working on preliminary plans.

The secondary building would cost around $2,000,000. It will probably be built outside the west or south boundaries of the city, within range of sewer and water services.

This building would be the first of two units. It would hold perhaps sixth, seventh and eighth grade students at first and later include those high school classes where the enrollment problems arise. Eventually, the board sees, it would be a high school.

By 1965 the board will have another five-year plan ready. It would include the second unit of the combination building, plus other junior high and elementary buildings as needed.

RAILROAD FEATHERBEDDING:

$500,000,000 LOSS TO THE NATION—INCLUDING YOU—EVERY YEAR

Featherbedding on the railroads — pay for work not done or not needed — is costing the American people the shocking total of more than $500,000,000 a year.

You pay for it every time you shop, because featherbedding costs are hidden in the price of everything you buy.

Obsolete union work rules, involving the railroad operating employees, are responsible for this gigantic burden. Right now, for instance, these rules require every diesel locomotive to carry a fireman — even though diesels have no fires to stoke, no boilers to tend.

The forthcoming negotiations between the railroads and the unions are urgently important to the whole nation.

In asking the unions to drop these featherbedding rules, all the railroads ask for is a fair day's work for a fair day's pay.

An Over-Night Planned By Boy Scouts Troop P-3

Four scouts represented Troop P-3 and ushered at the University of Michigan football game. They were David Raaflaub, Tony Snowden, John Wilamowski and Bill Way. The Leader Assistant Scout Master accompanying the boys was Mr. Dean Busch.

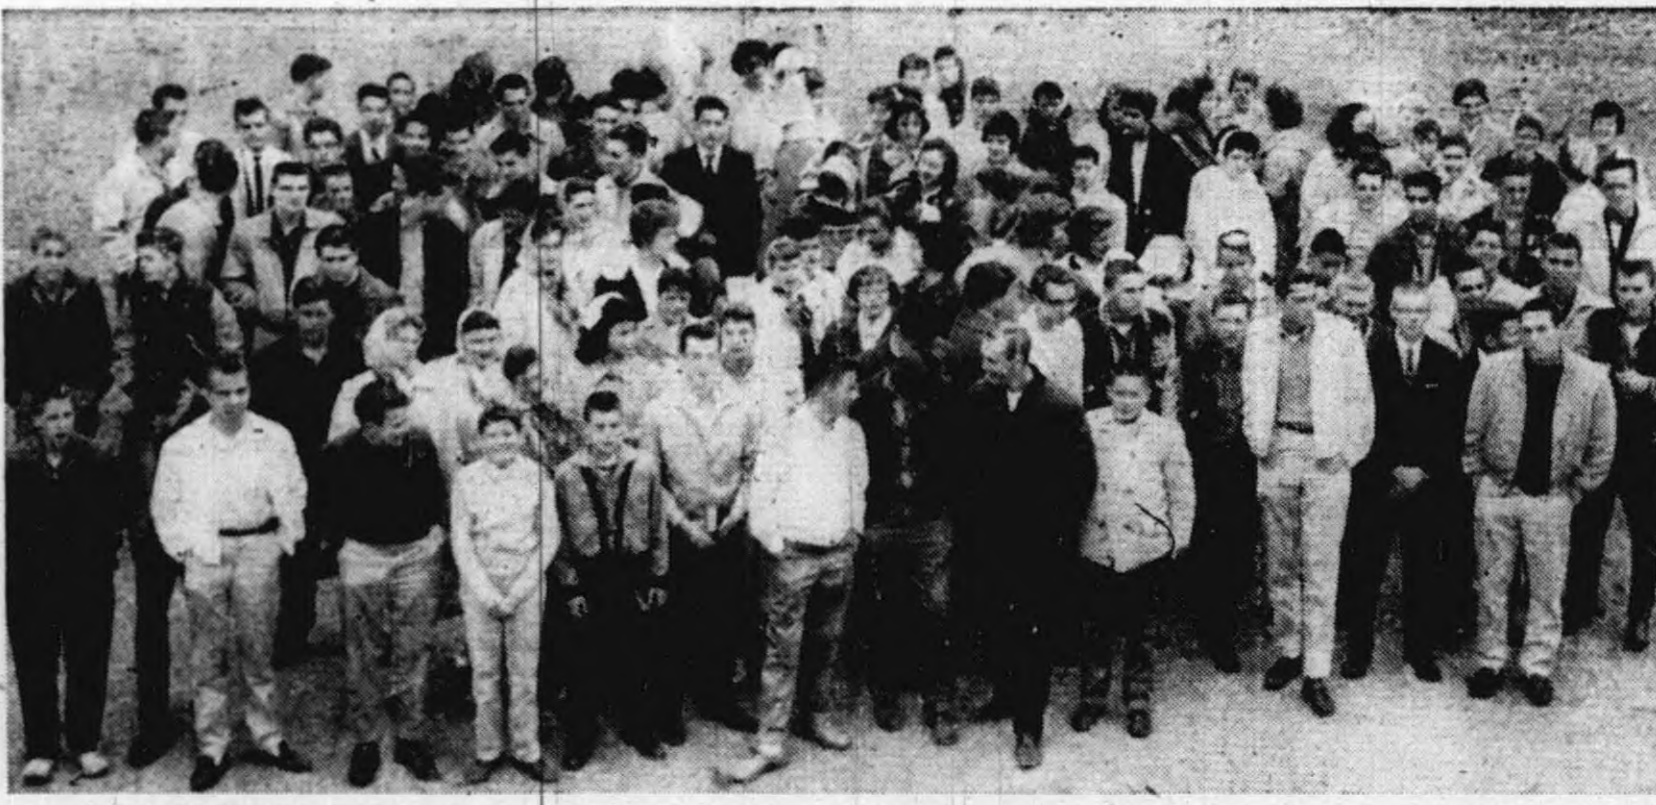

At the regular meeting Monday night plans were discussed for a camp-out next weekend at Grayling. The boys will fish, play games, and enjoy the outdoors.

All boys, 11 years old, interested in participating in these activities are invited to join Troop P-3. Be at the Starkweather School on Monday night, at 7:30 p.m. Three guests attended the last meeting and joined in the fun and activities of the evening.

"NO SCHOOL TODAY" is a happy phrase for many a student, and so it was for Plymouth public school youngsters last Thursday. For high school students from Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, it meant not only "no school," but a complete day of prayer. Some 134 young people rose early in the morning as they always do on a school day, but instead of attending classes on secular education, they proceeded to the Church grounds on Penning Avenue where they attended sessions on spiritual education, commencing at 9 a.m. and concluding at three in the afternoon. This day of prayer, which is the fourth such event in two years, was under the direction of Father Arthur Bell from St. Gabriel's parish, Detroit. The priest's four conferences centered around maturity in religion, in particular the avoidance of scandal, purity of mind, and union with Christ through the Holy Eucharist. Emphasizing that unless students awaken to their moral responsibilities they will grow to be selfish in all their actions, Father Bell urged the students to put away the things of the world, and to "hold fast to that which is good." Two periods of spiritual reading consisted of talks taken from Bishop Fulton Sheen's series, Life is Worth Living. The one reading on "Laziness" served as a theme for the day. Ladies of the parish served a light lunch in the Church basement, and the day ended with a holy hour in Church with Benediction and hymns.

Salem Township Residents Involved in Traffic Accident

By Mrs. Herbert Famuliner
Three Salem motorists were hurt in a traffic accident on Saturday night on Six Mile Rd. Drivers were James O. Oaks of 9629 Six Mile Rd., Mrs. Alice LaCouture of 7720 Six Mile Rd., and Ford Schrieder of 8673 Six Mile Rd. Sheriff Dept. reports that Oak travelling east on Six Mile, near Curry at 11 p.m. came upon a pickup truck driven by Schroeder, also headed east, who had stopped before turning into his drive. Oaks swerved to avoid a rear-end collision with Schroeder's truck, in doing so, sideswiped Mrs. LaCouture's car. Skid marks from Oaks car at the scene were more than 200 feet. Mrs. LaCouture was taken to St. Joseph Hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises. Mr. Schroeder sustained a head bruise. Deputies said the 1958 Ford which Oaks was driving was demolished, while the other car and truck were extensively damaged.

Raymond Doolin of Salem Rd. was injured about the same time, when he was thrown from a tractor he was driving following a hay ride. The tractor and wagon ran over his shoulder and arm. He was rushed by Fred Astlerline Ambulance to the University Hospital.

Travel Centre Arranges Trip Tours for Nation's Postmasters

Four-hundred and sixty members of the National Association of Postmasters will travel from all parts of the United States to their annual convention in Washington D.C. on October 25 via travel arrangements made by the Travel Centre of Plymouth.

To accommodate this large group the Travel Centre has arranged the President Baker Special, a train reserved exclusively for Postmasters, traveling from Chicago to Washington and return.

Paul Melton and Denny Hanks both of the Travel Centre will open their transportation headquarters at the Statler Hotel in Washington on October 26 to facilitate and coordinate the various post convention trips for the members of the association.

Immediately following the convention, 260 postmasters will board the SS Evangelina for a 12 day West Indies Cruise with stops at St. Thomas, Ciudad Trujillo, San Juan, and Kingston. The Mayor of San Juan will welcome the Cruise members with a key to the city and a rum and punch reception as a special arrangement by the Travel Centre. On the island of Jamaica, sixty limousines will whisk the cruise members across the island to the famous Arawak Hotel for a native floor show and dinner. Kurt Thrun of the Travel Centre will fly to Jamaica for this occasion and supervise all arrangements.

Twenty-two other postmasters will fly from New York on a 16 day tour of Europe. Their itinerary includes such highlights as theatre performance in London, the Folies in Paris, an excursion on Lake Lucerne in Switzerland, dinner at Alfredo's in Rome and a farewell party in Lisbon with fado singers providing the entertainment before embarking for New York.

Sixty-two postmasters will see two of the currently popular plays on Broadway Music Man and Gypsy on the Travel Centre New York Theatre Tour with headquarters at the Manhattan Hotel.

Four Postmasters will go around the world and twenty five others head for such places as Bermuda, Nassau and Jamaica.

This is the largest group movement ever to be arranged by an agent on an individual basis to so many destinations.

Registration Blanks Available As License Tabs Near Sale Start

Certificate of registration blanks, necessary to purchase the 1960 license tabs which go on sale Monday, Nov. 2, are now available at the Secretary of State's office in Plymouth, Manager Doris Root announced this week.

The new tabs will be attached to the 1959 license plates. They will not be available until Nov. 2. But the certificate of registration blanks are available now.

Before last year, the certificates were mailed, already filled out, from Lansing. But an economy move last year made it necessary for vehicle owners to obtain their own blanks and fill them out before buying a license. It is needed along with the certificate of title.

Judging from inquiries at the 250 state branch offices, there are many people in Michigan who are not aware that they will not have new license plates in 1960.

Instead, owners of passenger vehicles will get a metal tab measuring three and one-quarter by one and one-half inches. It will be affixed to the upper right hand corner of the 1959 license plates.

The Plymouth office will get 21,000 tabs. Each tab carries a serial number etched in the metal and the number '60 in green on a golden yellow background. This is the reverse of the 1959 plates which carry yellow numerals and letters on a green background.

The serial numbers will not be identical with the two-letter four-digit county-designated license plates, but will run numerically starting at 1001.

Plymouth has been assigned the numbers of 2,231,501 to 2,252,500. The state hardly expects car owners to remember these numerals, Mrs. Root said.

According to Secretary of State James Hare, low numbers will be shipped to the Upper Peninsula branches and the highest numbers, which are seven digits, will be sold in Wayne County branch offices.

Production of the tabs is nearing completion at Jackson Prison.

Because a new law passed by the legislature this year calls for completely reflectorized plates in 1961, Michigan will not be able to use the 1959 plates for three years as originally intended.

The secretary of state's office has hoped to save a quarter million dollars over the three year period but now that the plan for so-called permanent plates may have to be abandoned, there is little hope that these savings will be achieved, according to Secretary of State Hare.

Use of tabs will apply only to passenger vehicles. New cars will be issued the 1959 licenses and 1960 tabs, both for the price of one.

Anniversary

A 25th Wedding Anniversary celebration in honor of Rev. and Mrs. John Walaskay of Ann Arbor Tr., Plymouth was held October 12 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Knudson of Harding St.

An Open House Buffet greeted the 45 guests, all members of Rev. Walaskay's congregation of the Assembly of God church. The guests presented Rev. and Mrs. Walaskay with a silver money tree.

Among the guests also were the Walaskay children James, Eva and Jane, two other sons, David and Hilton were unable to be present. David is now attending the University of Missouri and Hilton is stationed overseas at Okinawa.

AFTER A HALF century of railroading — 29 of them behind the throttle of locomotives—John J. Jordan, 507 Adams, made his last run last Thursday. Starting out in Bordman, Mich. in 1909 as a fireman on the Pere Marquette, Jordan was promoted to engineer in 1920. He moved to Plymouth that same year and has engineered freights ever since. Last week, as he readied to make his last run between Plymouth and Towbridge (east of Lansing), Detroit Terminal Supt. E. J. Shea, right, presented the veteran railroader with pin and a gold pass. The two are shown on the engine on which a "good luck" sign was pasted. C & O President W. J. Tuohy sent a letter of congratulations.

Top Speaker Secured for Chamber Affair

One of the nation's outstanding speakers who is in constant demand by organizations throughout the North American continent, will make a return engagement at the 38th Annual Meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce at the Masonic Temple, Tuesday, Nov. 24, it was announced by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce today.

He is James E. Gheen of New York. Gheen delivered an inspiring, dynamic address at the Chamber of Commerce dinner in November 1953 to a capacity crowd at the Bird School.

Affectionately known as "Jimmy" he has spoken in 1,254 different cities including 1597 Chambers of Commerce. Several associations in this state have heard him speak such as the Michigan Elevator Exchange, Michigan Funeral Directors, Michigan Hotels and Michigan Personal Finance Companies. This list of his dates at Rotary and Kiwanis district conventions are legion. Audiences at Muskegon, Battle Creek, Saginaw, Grand Rapids, Adrian, Dundee, South Haven, St. Joseph and Detroit have come away with an unusually dramatic experience.

Gheen at various times in his career has been secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Niagara Falls, N.Y. and Bethlehem, Pa. and Albany, N.Y. He was once field secretary of the Florida Chamber of Commerce. Jimmy Gheen is now a professional after dinner speaker of renown and a recognized public relations counselor.

economic development commission would be to attract more industry to the area. Right now, the Plymouth district has $19,313 worth of assessed valuation behind each student. Should the number of students increase faster than business or industrial growth, officials foresee a dropping of this figure and the need to raise taxes. It is pointed out that it costs about $400 a year to keep a student in school. The average property owner does not pay this much in school taxes, and a good share of the same property owners have more than one child in school.

The officials believe that area industrialists are also interested in luring other industry to Plymouth to help keep their own taxes down. The Chamber of Commerce has an industrial development committee which the area officials want to include or merge into a larger economic commission.

Plymouth Observes United Nations Day October 24

Plymouth has been asked to join the nation in observing United Nations Week beginning with UN day Saturday, October 24.

Mayor Harold Guenther has issued a proclamation asking all clubs, churches, and other organizations to mark the date by community programs that will demonstrate their faith in, and support of the United Nations. He has asked officials and representatives of civic, educational, and religious organizations and agencies of the press as well as citizens to cooperate in appropriate observance of the United Nations Day.

Dave Galin was in charge of distribution of the United Nations window posters in Plymouth. The Westminster Senior High Fellowship organized the observance in Plymouth. Jerry Fischer is the Vice-Moderator of the group.

Lara Lynn Leet

MR. AND MRS. John L. Leet of Sheridan Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Lynn to George Raymond Kerciu, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kerciu of Beck Road. He will be a December graduate of Michigan State University. A January 23 wedding is planned.

Sonja Kay Davis

MR. AND MRS. George Davis announce the engagement of Sonja Kay Davis to Thomas Harold James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryant James. Both families are from Plymouth. The young couple plan a July wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Rossow

Plymouthites Married In Deerfield, Illinois

Miss Janet Vieregge of Deerfield, Illinois and Edwin Charles Rossow of Plymouth, Michigan were married in the Deerfield Presbyterian Church on Saturday, August 29 at 4 p.m. with Dr. Paul J. Keller officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Albert Vieregge of 654 Orchard Street, Deerfield. Mr. Rossow is the son of Mrs. Ernest Rossow of Plymouth, Michigan and the late Mr. Rossow. White snapdragons and mums were on the altar.

Miss Karen Brandenberger of Danville, Ill. was organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white taffeta with lace yoke.

The maid of honor, Miss Kathryn Cressey of Norton, Mass. and the bridesmaids, Miss Marilyn Johnson of Cedar Falls, Ia. wore identical gowns of aqua organza and carried roses and ivy.

Anthony Worth of Ypsilanti, Michigan was best man. Ushers were Hugh Daly of Plymouth, and John W. Vieregge, brother of the bride.

For the reception at the Deerport Inn, Mrs. Vieregge, mother of the bride, chose a beige shantung dress. The bridegroom's mother wore a royal blue crepe. After their wedding trip to Door County, Wisconsin, the young couple are at home at 276 Newbury St., Boston, Mass.

The newlyweds are both graduates of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn. The groom is attending Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Happy Birthday

Henry Cort celebrated his 89 birthday Sunday, October 11 with a pot-luck dinner served by his family at his home 6869 Six Mile Road. There were 40 guests present including his five children, 19 grandchildren, and 9 great grandchildren. Many friends and relatives traveled from Detroit, Southfield, South Lyons, Royal Oak to attend. Mr. Cort's only living cousin, Mr. Levi Geiger also came to pay his respects.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Anna Allen worries she might get out of practice, not cooking anymore. It bothers her too that her memory isn't as sharp—she occasionally forgets to take her medicine. On October 17 Mrs. Anna Mitchell Allen was 98 years old (see birthday picture).

Several years her junior I thought it was a perfectly normal - 100 percent - American - womanly-trait when the car stopped for lack of gas on the way to church Sunday, the oven was lit and the roast was left on top, was half way home before realizing my child was still in Sunday School, and on the way out of the service, introducing the minister to my visiting aunt, couldn't remember either one of their last names. "Good morning, John, please meet Aunt Martha." It didn't sound too bad to me, but Aunt Martha is from the school that calls her husband Mr. Derham. Well, each in itself is not disastrous, but walking home with a crying child to a cold roast and a distraught aunt—maybe I am slipping.

Mrs. Allen isn't. She is quick of wit with the most infectious smile in Plymouth. She was fun to visit with and I loved her on sight. Perhaps her longevity may be credited to her birthplace in Gratiot County. Her Irish father cleared the land and planted the first crop. The virgin land may have produced more highly vitimized food than we know today in re-worked land. The homesteader is still in her family, owned and operated by one of her sons.

Mrs. Josephine Cardona of Miami celebrated her 112 birthday this month and says her long life is due to good, clean living. She limits herself to three cigars a day and a small glass of rum—"the rum settles the stomach and makes one go right to sleep and wake up refreshed." I guess when you reach 112 you can do pretty much as you please.

Another senior citizen recently returned from a trip to the coldest portion of our state. Miss Neva Lovewell traveled to Cadillac with Roberta Steele for the dedication of an "acre of pines" in memory of her mother, Ada Lovewell. The "acre of pines" is a DAR Conservation program and replenishes our forests. This acre was purchased by Maxine and Robert Willoughby whose children were so fond of Miss Lovewell as their teacher. Although she has retired from teaching she is extremely active. She works in real estate at Vaughan Smith Realty Company, is active with the Plymouth Soporotomists, and takes trips to enjoy the beauty of the changing seasons. She considers the dedication service of the pines, in her mother's name, one of the highlights of her life.

A word for our junior citizens too: Registration has begun for the fourth season of the Mayflower Teen Dancing Classes with Arthur Murray instructors. The classes will begin about the end of this month and will be for the 7 and 8, 9 and 10, and 11 and 12 grades. Teens and adults alike enjoy the classes. They are up to the minute in dance steps—even ahead of rock 'n' roll with the "Sling"—but in a very painless way. In fact they probably don't realize it—like chocolate castor oil—ballroom etiquette is stressed, giving assurance and poise without brazenness. Mrs. Ralph Lorenz, GL 3-3415 will supply further information concerning the classes. She has been asked about a refresher course for the graduates of two years ago and is considering this. Nothing has been said about the graduates of the "big apple" days. Good idea?

New Citizens
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Trevor Norton, Northville, who became United States Citizens last Tuesday. They came to this community from England in 1951. Their daughter Jill, 12, automatically became a citizen when her parents did, however, their son Glyn, 18, must take an examination which he will do when vacationing from college.

Plymouth Resident Celebrates 98 Years

Happy birthday to Mrs. Anna Allen, who was 98 years old October 17. Mrs. Allen resides with her daughter, Edna Allen, Arthur Street, who was in the Plymouth School system until her retirement from active teaching in 1950. She came to this community in 1918. Her mother came to Plymouth from Birmingham, Michigan in 1955. She was born in Gratiot County, Michigan and like her husband and two of her children, was a teacher. Her brother was a professor at Alma College for over 40 years. Her husband's people were teachers too. Mr. Allan, who passed away in 1930, helped start the sugar beet industry in Michigan.

Five of her seven children gathered for her birthday, one passed away in 1954 and the other, a son, is a legislator and was away on business. All are well-known in their chosen fields. She has nine grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Allen is in fairly good health and has been active about the home until this fall. She has a vivid memory of her uncle in a beautiful blue uniform with brass buttons going off to the Civil War and remembers what remorse there was in her family when Lincoln was shot. She was four years old at the time.

Full of good humor and womanly grace, she has spent a full and useful life, as have those around her, whom she has influenced.

Anna Mitchell Allen

Bake Sale - Bazaar Held For UNICEF

Northville - Plymouth Branch of Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will hold its annual "UN" Week Bake Sale and World Crafts Bazaar, Friday, October 23, beginning at 10 a.m. at the Kroger store.

Home baked goods, attractive gift items from other countries and UNICEF Christmas cards will be for sale. All proceeds from the sale of UNICEF cards will go to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund which provides food, clothing and medical aid for needy children around the world.

Proceeds from the bake sale and World Crafts Bazaar will go to support the work of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, which seeks through social action and education the achievement of universal peace and freedom. The League urges active support of the United Nations in working toward this goal. This year the League, along with many other organizations, celebrates the Centennial Year of one of its founders, Jane Addams.

Rebekah News

Next general meeting is Friday, October 23 at 8 p.m. It is hoped there will be a good turnout to discuss the important agenda.

A reminder! The District Card party and Fashion Show will be Thursday, October 29 at Federal Department Store, Oakman and Grand River. There will be many table and door prizes. The luncheon is at 12 noon and the public is invited. Any Rebekah member may supply the tickets or call GL 3-6093.

Best get well wishes go to Mildred Collins who is in St. Joseph Hospital; Mae Prieskorn, who is in Northville Hospital; Mabel Mott who remains about the same; and Roma Krumm's mother, who is confined in a rest home and is very ill.

Sister Margaret Penny and husband plan on leaving soon for Florida.

ROCHESTER, Vt. (UPI)—A venison dinner attended by city officials and firemen was raided by four game wardens who confiscated platters of deer meat being served months before the deer season opened.

United In Double Wedding

United in a double wedding ceremony Miss Barbara Mulkey wed Neil Page and Miss Pat Richmond became the bride of Arthur Smith in the Salem Federated Church, Saturday, October 3.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Laraway of Dexter and Neil the son of Mr. and Mrs. David King of Dixboro.

She chose a gown of chantilly lace styled in a apron fashion for her wedding and carried a bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Mrs. LeRoy Schaible, the groom's sister, was the matron of honor in a gown of yellow net. The bridesmaids were Nancy Page and Mrs. Nancy Corwin in gowns of yellow lace. LeRoy Schaible was the best man, and ushers were Michael Mildner of Whitmore Lake and George Schweim.

Miss Pat Richmond is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richmond and her groom, a close friend and neighbor of Neil Page, is the son of Mrs. Arthur Smith of Dixboro Road.

The new Mrs. Smith chose a white chiffon gown with a fingertip veil cascading from a heart-shaped crown, for her nuptial rites. Her bouquet was fashioned of white roses and baby mums. The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Alice, and she was gowned in pink lace. Bridesmaids were Marcia Mulkey, another sister, in pale yellow lace, and Mrs.

Bertha Houk in blue lace. Arthur's best man was Gary Clement of Salem. Ushers were Raymond Mulkey, brother of the bride, and Walter Schweim.

Reception for the new Mr. and Mrs. Page was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Schaible of Dixboro Road. Approximately 100 guests were present coming from Tawas, Whitmore Lake, Ypsilanti, Dexter, Ann Arbor, Saline and Detroit. After the wedding trip the Pages will live at the Porath Farm on Six Mile Road where Mr. Page is employed. Mr. Smith is also an employee on the Porath farm.

The Smith reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richmond. Approximately 120 guests gathered to congratulate the young couple.

Temperance Day Offering To Fight Alcoholism

A nationwide campaign against alcoholism will get a financial boost October 24 from members of the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The local congregation will contribute to a special fund in a drive to help raise $100,000 for use in grass roots alcohol educational work in communities throughout the nation. Work is to be done by the American Temperance Society, which has headquarters in Washington, D.C., and chapters in all parts of the country. Francis S. Patterson, Temperance Secretary for the local church, will head the fund drive.

The grass roots approach calls for organizing studies of alcoholism on a community level, and gearing programs of education to help curb the use of alcoholic beverages, especially among teen-agers. Leading citizens will be asked to serve on special committees in the development of seminars, workshops and other activities including the circulation of educational publications and motion pictures to combat alcoholism, which is now termed the nations number three health program.

Dance Club "Kick-off" Between Blue-Gold Post

The blue and gold goal posts decorating Western Golf and Country Club last Saturday night set the pace for the first "kick-off" dance of the Evergreen Dance Club. Adding to the collegiate atmosphere, the guests were given white football name tags. The women received yellow pennants and the men brown footballs.

Among the Plymouth guests enjoying the first affair of the season were the Rev. Casatos, Jack Pent-

Civil War Books Still Most Popular

The U.S. Civil War has produced more literature than any war in history—probably between 30,000 and 50,000 books and pamphlets, according to authorities. Last year alone over 100 volumes of the Civil War were published. Many of these interesting and exciting recent volumes are available at the Dunning-Haugh Library, according to Librarian Agnes Pauline.

Local residents never seem to tire of reading about the Civil War," Mrs. Pauline said. "Books of history, novels, memoirs and biographies are in constant demand."

One of the outstanding recent Civil War books, Burke Davis' "To Appomattox," tells how the Army of Northern Virginia under General Lee made its last stand beyond Petersburg and Richmond. The book is so successful in reconstructing the nine tense and dramatic days in April, 1865, that it gives the reader a sense of having participated in the experience.

Other recently-published histories of the Civil War include Richard Harwell's comprehensive volumes, "The Confederate Reader" and "The Union Reader," Philip Stern's "An End to Valor," Shelby Foote's "The Civil War," M. J. Wellman's "They Took Their Stand," Philip Stern's "The Battle of Gettysburg," Bruce Catton's "America Goes to War," Avery Craven's "Civil War in the lands, B. Sloans, Rockwell Smiths, Harvey Coopers, Donald Wisemans, Robert Pughs, James Rosses, Wendell Lents, Eldon Martins, M. T. Marshalls, Richard Stribles, Harvey Traetmans, Richard Knophs, Byron Beckers, Marshall Norths, Robert Probecks, Richard Fritz, Thomas Devereaux, and B. DePlanches.

The November 21 dance will be a Membership Dance. Prospective members are invited to attend.

"Making" (Louisiana State University, $9.50), and Earl Miers' "The Great Rebellion." Accounts of individual battles are especially of interest to Civil War fans. Some of the recent titles are "The Battle of Gettysburg," by Frank Haskell; "First Blood," the story of Fort Sumter, by W.A. Swanberg; "Last Train from Atlanta," by A. J. Hoehling; "The Guns at Gettysburg," by Clifford Dowdey; "Death of a Nation," by Clifford Dowdey, and "Eight Hours Before Richmond," by Virgil Jones. Civil War personalities have supplied biographers with an extensive list of colorful subjects. Abraham Lincoln, most frequently written about, has been the subject of such titles as Herbert Mitgang's "Lincoln As They Saw Him," James Randall's "Mr. Lincoln," Robert Bruce's "Lincoln and the Tools of War," and Kenneth Williams' four volumes "Lincoln Finds a General." Other Civil War personalities include Frank Vandier's "Mighty Stonewall," John Fuller's "Grant and Lee," and Lloyd Lewis' "Sherman."

Guerrilla warfare during the Civil War has been the subject of several recent books. Virgil Jones' "Gray Ghosts and Rebel Raiders" describes the guerrilla warfare in the Virginia theater, while "Gray Ghosts of the Confederacy," by Richard Brownlee, covers the guerrilla warfare in the West. For a complete account of a guerrilla leader's career, the "Memoirs of Colonel John S. Mosby" are recommended.

Recent novels about the Civil War include Vina Delmar's "Beloved," Clifford Dowdey's "Bugles Blow No More," MacKinlay Kantor's "Andersonville," Ray Toepfer's "The Scarlet Guidon," Harnett Kane's "The Gallant Mrs. Stonewall," John Burgess' "Bugle in the Wilderness," "Bruce Lancaster's "Roll Shendoah," John Brick's "Jubilee,"

Mr. Smith is the Chief Designing Engineer in the Architectural Department of Detroit Edison Company. One of the reasons they chose Plymouth for their home site was the adaptability of the design of their home, which is truly Early American, with exposed brick, paneling, and beamed ceilings, plus the wonderful commuter system to downtown area. Originally the Smiths were from the "Thumb" of Michigan, but have lived in this community for 4 1/2 years. Mr. Smith is presently designing a church in Novi (shown above on the picnic table) and has done several outstanding homes in the state. ### Allen Extension Club To Hear Syndicated Writer

By Mrs. Alton Frederick on October 28th the Allen Extension Club will have a "Shopper's Party" at the home of Mrs. Maurice Ferguson, 48100 Powell Road. Each member of the club is to bring a friend. This party is being held to raise money for the Wayne County Home Demonstration Council.

On October 28th the club will meet at the home of Mrs. William Stadler, 9000 Merriman Road, Livonia. The subject of the lesson is "Easy Ways with Housework."

"Keys to Family Fun By Car" will be the title of Miss Carol Lane's talk to the Wayne County Home Demonstration Clubs on October 28th at 1:00 p.m. and again at 8:00 p.m. at St. Paul's Church on Goddard Road near Telegraph Road in Taylor Center. All club members and the public are invited to attend one of these sessions. Employing visual aids, Miss Lane will demonstrate how to pack, what to wear, and how to travel with children. She'll also present hints on vacation budgeting.

Miss Lane travels more than 60,000 miles each year, researching and testing for family automobile travel. She is the author of a nationally syndicated newspaper column, "Tips on Touring." Her unique suggestions for short cuts to easier touring have been widely accepted by the motoring public.

Good Counsel Teen Club Participates in UNICEF

In order to participate fully in the observance of Catholic Youth Week, October 25 to November 1, members of Our Lady of Good Counsel Teen Club will attend a Holy Hour at the University of Detroit Stadium on November 1 from 4 to 5. It is held in conjunction with the Catholic Youth organization in Detroit and is for the benefit of all Catholic high school students in the vicinity.

Other activities for members for the preceding month will be the collection of donations for UNICEF. They will work with the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches. A meeting with the Methodist Fellowship on October 25 to discuss the drive and receive instructions pertaining to it will be held.

A Halloween Dance has been scheduled to take place on October 26, Mike Bufe, who is in charge of the dance committee, reports there will be a contest for the best costume.

The St. Thomas and St. Gerard Teen Clubs from Detroit have been invited to a dance on November 15.

A trip to the Ice Follies has been tentatively slated for November 20.

Displayed on the shelves are some of Mr. Smith's sculpture and pottery pieces. He also does pastels and oils. The Smiths built a studio at the rear of their home as a work area for Mr. Smith. He has received several awards for his home design work, one a $1,000 cash grant from a concrete block company in Michigan and another special award from the Carrier Weather Maker Company of N.Y. on a design of an adaptable home for a family of five. While in college he pioneered the post and beam type of construction which he has used in his own home. Practical and charming their home has allowed the natural beauty of material to be utilized. The indoor-outdoor fireplace in the kitchen—huge stone fireplace in the livingroom and built-in accommodations in the children's room all add in to make it a completely charming and cozy home.

MRS. SMITH ASSISTED her husband in the building of their home, as well as in the building of it. Since her hobby is sewing dresses, drapes, etc., she designed this clever Pullman sewing room in the master bedroom. When it is closed it is flush against the wall. However, open it becomes a complete sewing room, with machine, shelves and drawer space, a treasure to any woman. Mrs. Smith is also very fond of antiques and has many lovely pieces of plaster displayed throughout her home which contrast beautifully with the wood paneling.

'Fun & Fund' Raising Oct. 24, Smith School

Everything is ready! The prizes have been purchased and tickets are being sold for the Ninth Annual Country Fair at Smith Elementary School Saturday, October 24.

The Parent-Teachers Association of Smith Elementary School, under the Presidency of William Fowlkes has yielded to popular demand again this year and announces the largest extravaganza ever.

General Chairman for the big fun and fund raising event is Marvin Sackett, ably assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Al Carlson and the rest of the various committee chairmen. It is guaranteed no one will go away hungry. Hot dogs, sloppy joes, pop corn, cider, donuts, cookies, candy, ice cream, soft drinks as well as cake, pie-walks are but a few.

Many classrooms are being turned into places of chance—i.e. the ever-popular fish pond, shooting gallery, game room.

Some rooms are featuring specialty bargains, such as the apron shop, toy and hobby shop, and a real old fashioned country store with many, many bargains seldom seen today. They'll even have an old cracker barrel and will serve cheese and crackers.

Rock & Roll Room Popular

A new innovation last year was received with such enthusiasm it is being expanded this year. The Rock & Roll Room will be groovier than ever with the return of the ever popular Plymouthite, Danny Hargrove, and a new group known as the "Thunder Rocks," featuring Bob Carley on Drums, Lyn Cole on Sax, Jim Pitchett and Larry Livingston on Guitars. The group is managed by Fred Bell.

The doors open for the Smith School Country Fair at 5:30 p.m., till 9 p.m. Saturday, October 24. Tickets may be purchased at the school, 24 for one dollar prior to the Fair, and five cents each at the door - See you there!

Society at Madonna College To Form English Honorary

In the formative stage at Madonna College is a campus chapter of Lambda Iota Tau, a national honorary society for English majors and minors. Moderating the club will be Sister M. Raynelda, CSSF, head of the English department.

Officers were elected at the initial meeting of the Madonna unit of the National Student Education association (NSEA), an organization for future teachers. Elected were Joanne Makowski, president; Marie Wyss, vice president; Bernadine Druchniak, secretary; and Geraldine Przeslawski, treasurer. Sister M. Lauriana is club moderator. Sister Lauriana also moderates the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine unit on campus.

Although not formally a club, the College choral group has elected officers to insure more efficient functioning in its various activities. Officers are Ivonne Yu, president; Barbara Kubinski, secretary; Andrea Ligas, publicity manager; Patricia Hoover and Susan Chodnicki, music librarians; and Rita Roznowski and Dayus Gherardi, property managers.

Emphasizing the "new look" in the Sodality are the "cell" or unit format and a new moderator. Sister M. Virgilia, CSSF, succeeds Sister M. Hugolina, CSSF, in the latter capacity.

Among other "extras" is the freshman initiation scheduled for Oct. 28. Sophomore co-chairmen of the event are Carol Jardine and Judy Stover.

Four staff members of the Madonna Herald will also attend the Catholic Press association's midwest Regional congress, to be held at Detroit's Sheraton - Cadillac hotel Oct. 22-23. Present for the meeting will be Judee Bondie, editor-in-chief; Joanne Makowski, associate editor; Ivonne Yu, art editor; and page-four editor Judy Stover.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

President Hulsing welcomed the representatives of the School Community Planning Group. She noted that the Board looks forward to the assistance which the Group is ready and willing to give in improving the Community Schools. She indicated that good schools result from cooperative effort on the part of the citizens, the administration, the total staff and the Board.

Mr. Conover commented on areas of cooperation which he felt would be effective in achieving the common goals.

Dr. Foust inquired about the Board's attitude on a combination junior-senior high school.

Mr. Fischer, speaking in behalf of the Fact Finding Committee, pledged the consultative help of his group in doing research and study on matters of school finance and business operation of the school system.

Mr. Weber stressed the importance of maintaining lines of communication in the overall planning process.

Mr. Wall suggested further study was needed on the summer program.

Mr. Marsden mentioned the Conant Report as a beginning point for a curriculum study.

President Hulsing invited the representatives to be present at a Board meeting on Wednesday, October 14, 1959, when staff representatives will report on the pre-school curriculum workshops.

It was unanimously agreed that the Board, on or before September 23, 1959, would place in the hands of the Fact Finding Committee for review and criticism their suggested five year program for school facilities. The Fact Finding Committee would report back to the Board on September 30, 1959.

Mr. Hamill, representing the Lakepointe Development Company, presented Plat No. 4 of the Lakepointe Subdivision which included a platted description of Out Lot A, the Farrand School Site. He noted that in order to have it properly recorded it was necessary for the President and Secretary of the Board to attach their signatures.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Zoet that the President and Secretary, subject to the attorney's opinion, be authorized to sign the Platted Description.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

Mr. Zylstra noted that he had reviewed the changes in the electrical system at the high school and found them in order.

Mr. Blunk secured approval to complete the installation of a fence around the Starkweather playground.

Mr. Zylstra recommended the formation of an advisory committee composed of local building tradesmen who could recommend to the Board a program of preventative maintenance on school buildings.

The Superintendent was asked to seek from the Attorney General an opinion relative to the Board's liability for suits arising from parties who may have been injured on school properties. Also, if under existing statutes, a board of education may purchase liability insurance to protect board members from such suits.

It was agreed that each Board member would bring in writing to the special Board meeting on Wednesday, September 16, 1959, at 7:30 p.m., his suggested plan for taking care of the school facilities program.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Harold E. Fischer, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held Wednesday evening, September 16, 1959, in the staff lounge of the Plymouth Community Junior High School at 7:30 p.m.

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District will be held Thursday, September 24, 1959, at 8:00 p.m. in the Administration Office.

The meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Harold E. Fischer, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held on Monday evening, October 5, 1959, in the staff lounge of the Plymouth Community Junior High School at 8:00 o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra; Mr. Blunk and Mr. Isbister.

Absent: Mr. Charles Barnett, Wayne County Board of Education.

President Hulsing called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

It was moved by Mr. Zylstra and seconded by Mr. Zoet to approve a contract between the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District and the County of Wayne, whereby special educational services are to be provided at the Wayne County Training School for boys and girls, 8 years and under of age, whose needs are not now being met by the public schools. These services are to be extended to school districts in Northwest Wayne County and separate contracts entered into between the Board of Education and cooperating school districts to insure the payment of their pro-rated share of the costs of the program based on the membership from these districts. Also, the president, secretary and treasurer are hereby given authority to sign all contracts for these services in the name of the Plymouth Community School District.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Niemi to approve the letter prepared by Wheeler and Becker, Associates, and directed to Daniel S. Mills and Son, the general contractor for the high school alterations, in which the Board of Education serves notice of intent to invoke liquidated damages after October 8, 1959, of $100.00 for each calendar day that the building remains in its incomplete state. The authority for this action rests in the contract between the Board of Education and Daniel S. Mills & Son.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

At 9:30 p.m. the Fact-Finding Committee under the leadership of Mr. Gerald Fischer, Chairman, and composed of the following members, Mr. Barbour, Dr. Clyde, Mr. Kelly, Mrs. Lattier, Mr. Larson, Mr. Marsden and Mrs. North, reported to the Board on their analysis of the materials placed in their hands.

Mr. Gerald Fischer noted that the Committee felt the enrollment projections prepared by the Board for the next three or four years may be a bit high after comparison of this year's enrollment over last year's. It was recommended that a further look be taken at these projections.

The Committee recommended that the proposal for building a community auditorium be made a separate issue in the school election but that the proposal for the second swimming pool be included in the total basic facilities program.

Noted with satisfaction the plan for the maximum utilization of facilities and that the proposal for a combination secondary school was a practical and feasible approach.

suggested that further study be made on the question of adding to the present elementary schools.

commended the Board for long-term planning, but suggested that these plans be evaluated yearly.

recommended that financing of new school facilities be done as much as possible on a pay-as-you-go basis.

recommended that the 1955 bond issue be retired on schedule with the minimum tax levy required.

asked for a further analysis of 1959-60 operating budget increases. The important issues were discussed at length.

President Hulsing complimented the Fact-Finding Committee members for the excellent work being done and solicited their continued cooperation.

It was moved by Mr. Zylstra and seconded by Mr. Niemi to authorize the superintendent to notify the property owners along the east side of Adams Street that the Board of Education had no further interest in the acquisition of their property.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

The meeting was adjourned at 11:40 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Harold E. Fischer, Secretary

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District was held on Monday evening, September 21, 1959, at eight o'clock.

Present: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zylstra; Administrative Assistant Blunk.

Absent: Mr. Zoet (Mr. Zoet arrived at 8:25 p.m.).

Also present: Mr. Kahl representing National Bank of Detroit, and Mr. Tyler and Mr. Robertson representing Detroit Bank and Trust Company.

President Hulsing called the meeting to order at 8:05 p.m.

Bids for the purchase of notes in the amount of $500,000 in anticipation of the collection of unpaid operating taxes for the current fiscal year ending June 30, 1959, were opened and read as follows:

Michigan National Bank

National Bank of Detroit

Interest at 3 per cent per annum

Interest at 2.60 per cent per annum and receive par plus a premium of $126 and accrued interest to date of delivery

Detroit Bank and Trust Company

Interest at 2.75 per cent per annum

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Niemi to sell notes in the amount of $500,000 at the interest rate of 2.60 per cent per annum and receive par plus a premium of $126 and accrued interest to date of delivery to the low bidder, National Bank of Detroit, in accordance with bid specifications as outlined in the notices of sale published in the Michigan Investor on Saturday, September 12, 1959, and the Plymouth Mail on Thursday, September 10, 1959.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

Life insurance for students was discussed, considered and filed.

It was moved by Mr. Zoet and seconded by Mr. Fischer to approve the teacher's contract of Mrs. Garnetta Vaughn.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

Mr. Niemi reported on the meeting of representatives of the Board of Education with representatives of Wheeler, Becker and Sando at Plymouth High School Saturday, September 19, 1959.

A communication from Wheeler, Becker and Sando relative to alterations to Plymouth High School and Starkweather Elementary School was read and discussed.

It was moved by Mr. Niemi and seconded by Mr. Kaiser to engage the architectural firm of Wheeler, Becker and Sando to prepare a cost analysis of specific alterations to Plymouth High School. The fee for the preparation of this cost analysis is to be $3,500.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

Mr. Niemi presented for discussion an outline of a proposed facility expansion program.

It was moved by Mr. Fischer and seconded by Mr. Soth to authorize the treasurer of the Plymouth Community School District to purchase United States Treasury Bills with money received from the tax anticipation notes according to a schedule to be developed by Mr. Blunk and Mr. Larsen of National Bank of Detroit.

Ayes: Mr. Fischer, Mrs. Hulsing, Mr. Kaiser, Mr. Niemi, Mr. Soth, Mr. Zoet and Mr. Zylstra.

Nays: None.

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District will be held Thursday, September 24, 1959, at 8:00 p.m. in the Administration Office.

The meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Home Improvement Loans Available To Owners or Renters

A growing family desperately needs the use of the two unfinished bedrooms, or a professional job in insulation would not only make everyone more comfortable but would also reduce fuel bills, or the house needs painting. Home improvements such as these can't be classed as "keeping up with the Joneses!" Because this is so, it's a rare family that can't arrange to borrow money for home improvements.

Loans for home improvements are available to families who rent as well as those who own the property. The loan may be for as little as $100 or as much as $5,000, either long or short term. The ability to borrow doesn't give a family a free hand to do everything they like to do to their house and property in one season. The amount of the loan must be decided in terms of the ability to repay.

In order to obtain money for remodeling or property improvement, it is essential to offer and to obtain a sound estimate for the work to be done. Remodeling a kitchen, for example, may cost as much as $3,000 without any really fancy trimmings. On the other hand, a good job of insulation may be done for as little as $300 to $350. If the job will cost under $500 you may be able to arrange time payments with the firm from whom materials are purchased and even borrow from other sources.

Short-term financing also may be possible through a personal loan from a bank or credit union. Any short-term loan will require larger monthly payments but mean less interest than a long-term loan.

Long-term loans generally are done by mortgage. If you have what is known as an "open-end" mortgage, this may furnish you with money for making improvements. Monthly payments will not be increased, but the number of payments will be. Lacking this, it might be possible to obtain a completely new mortgage. This, however, is likely to be at a higher rate of interest than your present mortgage and hence an extravagant move.

Second mortgages depend on the size of the first mortgage, the potential value of a property and the owner's ability to pay. Second mortgages can be risky for owner as well as lender and, therefore, are usually at higher interest than first mortgages and must be repaid in larger installments and less time.

Short-term versus long-term financing and the method of repayment are decisions the homeowner should make before consulting his bank or other reliable credit source. When the money is made available and the work starts, again it's the homeowner who must check to be certain the job is being done as it should be.

Apples-A Favorite Of Fall For Fruit Bowl Or Recipes

Apples always add a cheery note to the feeling of fall. There are many wonderful apple recipes for dressing up a meal (either dessert or salad) and they are a nutritious addition too.

You can depend on the apples to yield the following: three medium-sized apples weigh one pound; one pound of apples provides 1 1/2 cups applesauce; six to eight medium-sized apples make a 9" pie; 1 peck provides 24-36 medium-sized apples; 1 bushel of apples gives 16-20 quarts of applesauce; 1 bushel of apples provides 96 to 144 medium-sized apples.

To keep apples from darkening in small quantities, sprinkle peeled apples with citrus or pineapple juice. In large quantities place slices as they are peeled in cold salted water (1 teaspoon salt per quart of water.)

APPLE DATE NUT CAKE WITH BROILED ICING

- |                      |                         |
|----------------------|-------------------------|
| 1 cup chopped dates  | 1 cup white sugar       |
| 1 cup chopped apples | 1 egg                   |
| 1 cup boiling water  | 1 t. vanilla            |
| 1 t. baking soda     | 1 1/2 cups sifted flour |
| 1/2 cup shortening   | 1 t. salt               |

Combine dates, apples, boiling water and soda and let cool. Mix shortening, sugar, egg and vanilla together. Alternately add dates and flour mixture. Add 1 cup chopped nuts and bake at 350 degrees F. for 50 minutes in a 9 1/4 x 13 inch pan.

Cook 4 T. melted butter, 1 cup coconut, 1/2 cup brown sugar and 2 T. milk over low heat until brown sugar bubbles. Spread on hot cake. Place under broiler until slightly brown. Watch carefully.

TOPPINGS FOR A SUPERB NEW DESSERT

Cherry Upside Down Cake is a dessert that's sure to please the men in the family. Made of tender buttery cake with a baked-on sauce of juicy cherries, it comes frozen, needing only to be warmed a few moments to bring out the flavors of home-like cake and fruit. This new member of the line of frozen foods can be kept on hand in freezer or freezing compartment, and served on short notice as dessert or snack.

Here the goodness of Cherry Upside Down Cake is enhanced with a choice of toppings. Each is as good as it is easy to make.

SPICE CREAM

- 1 pint soft vanilla ice cream
  - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
  - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- Quickly combine ice cream with spices. Place in freezing tray and freeze until firm. Spoon out or scoop onto warm Cherry Upside Down Cake.

SCOTCH PECAN HARD SAUCE

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
  - 1 cup light brown sugar
  - 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Pecan halves
- Combine butter with brown sugar and vanilla until well blended. Chill until firm. Shape into 1-inch balls; press pecan half into each. Use to top warm Cherry Upside Down Cake.

FLUFFY ALMOND CUSTARD

- 1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling
  - 3 cups milk
  - 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
  - 1 egg white, beaten stiff
  - 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
- Combine pudding with milk in saucepan; cook over medium heat, stirring, until mixture comes to boil; remove from heat. Stir in butter. Fold into beaten egg whites; fold in almond extract. Cool. Use as sauce for warm Cherry Upside Down Cake.

CREAMY CHEESE

Pipe softened cream cheese through pastry tube in lattice design as shown; or spoon onto warm Cherry Upside Down Cake.

Sorry, Summer's Over, Time To Winterize Pool

SNUG AND SAFE is the swimming pool with nylon cover attached to bolts recessed in curbing. Pool holds water and logs to protect walls from cracking.

By George Adams

Unless you're sailing your boat to southern waters — or that's where you live and maintain it, it's about time to take it out of the water. The season has ended officially for swimming pools, too, unless one of the new plastic structures is under consideration.

Part of one weekend is all that is needed to get the outdoor swimming pool ready to withstand cold and freezing weather without damage. You may want to clean the pool and drain it in order to do so thoroughly. However, few pool engineers recommend leaving a permanent pool empty of water all winter.

Logs floating in the water are the best protection against cracking. The logs so they will stay close to the outer wall of the pool. Logs need be only around the outer wall and don't have to fill the entire surface. Logs are recommended even under the most sturdy cover for the pool.

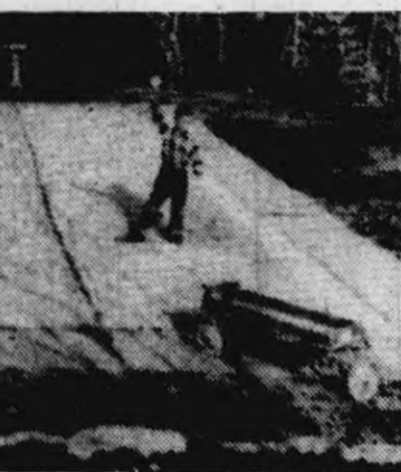

A cover for the entire surface is a good investment. It will act as insulation and also prevent leaves and debris from being blown into the water during the off-seasons. Instead of using tarpaulins, covers to fit different size pools now are made of plastic or nylon.

One of the newer nylon covers is fastened to bolts recessed in the flagstone or curbing around the swimming pool. There is no possible chance of such a cover blowing off. Furthermore, materials such as these are light to handle and can be fastened over the pool in amazingly short time.

There's more to winterizing the vinyl plastic pool that stands on the lawn than emptying and deflating it. After doing this, lay the pool flat on the ground and smooth out all wrinkles. To keep the folds of vinyl from sticking together, sprinkle talcum powder on the inside and outside. Next fold the pool in half, then end to end to make a neat bundle for storage.

It's fortunate that there's nothing a mariner would rather do when he can't be on the water than putter around his boat, for it takes longer to put up any boat for winter. Once it's out of the water and on wooden blocks, remove all "grass" and barnacles from the bottom. These are easier to remove while the bottom is wet, and failure to do so can lead to dry rot by spring.

If your boat has a wooden bottom, the next step is sanding. Follow this with inspection of all seams and butt joints for separation. First or second-year boat owners do well to have someone at the boatyard take over this duty.

Before covering the boat, open all drain plugs and let the motor run for about three minutes. The engine heat will evaporate moisture in the drain plugs so there's no danger of freezing.

The owner of an outboard or inboard may prefer to have the motor winterized by someone at the marina or boatyard instead of taking care of it himself. Sailboat skippers will probably want to remove the rigging and accessories themselves. Larger articles will be stored elsewhere than on the boat. Winter is a time for sail mending, too.

Store pillows, mattresses and similar accessories at home. And, finally, place a cover over the entire boat, sail or power. Covers, however, must permit ventilation so that condensation won't lead to mildew, dry rot or other problems underneath.

Part at least of several mild fall weekends will be spent getting the boat shipshape for winter — and talking over summer voyages with others doing the same thing. A visit every four to six weeks during winter is a good idea. On a dry sunny day, even if it's cold, it's a good idea to open the cover and let the sun dry out the boat for a few hours.

TINWARE — two coffeepots and a small teakettle — were made 100 or more years ago.

Tinware Valuable As Antiques

A town or village used to have its blacksmith who made all sorts of essential items from nails and hinges to household utensils and farm tools at his forge. Tinware more likely was purchased from the itinerant peddler who set out every spring to travel up and down the countryside. Although his stock was varied, tinware was a substantial part of it and indispensable to every household during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

Purchased from a Yankee peddler's cart somewhere in New England 100 to 125 years ago were the two coffeepots and the teakettle shown in the accompanying picture. Within the last decade, their present owner purchased them at auctions.

The two large coffeepots are family size and in remarkably good condition considering the hard use they must have been given. The one (right) does have a few dents, but its lines, particularly of spout and handle, indicate that it is the older of the two. The small teakettle is a fine example of tin-craftsmanship and is perhaps more than 125 years old.

From 1830 on, a great range of household utensils was produced by white-smiths, or tinsmiths, in this country. Connecticut was the chief center of production, as it was of clocks. Trays, coffeepots and teapots, tea canisters and boxes in all sizes and for every imaginable purpose were made in great quantities.

Cooking pots and pans, dippers, mugs and cups, plates, pie cupboards, candle and pudding molds were other items of tin in great demand until late in the nineteenth century. None of these were expensive when they were brand new. In fact, collectors often pay much more today for dented and perhaps rusty tinware than did the first owner of the then shining piece.

Most items used in every household were just plain tin. Painted decoration became popular for some pieces, notably trays and boxes. Tin, which is a soft metal, also was ornamented by punching or crimping. Common examples of this are the panels of pie cupboards, handsticks and sconces.

Yams And Apples For Baked Dessert

Potatoes for dessert? Try yam-apple crisp with lemon sauce. Alternate layers of apples and yams in an 8-by-8-by-2 inch baking pan, using 3 cups of sliced apples and 2 cups of thinly sliced yams. Sprinkle each layer with salt and cinnamon, using a total of 1 teaspoon of each. Pour over 6 tablespoons of water and 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Top with a crumb mixture made by sifting 3/4 cup of sifted all-purpose flour with 1 cup of sugar and cutting in 1-3 cup of butter or margarine. Bake in a 350 degree oven 40 minutes, or until tender.

Serve warm with lemon hard sauce, made this way: cream 1-3 cup of butter or margarine until light and fluffy. Gradually add 1 cup of confectioners' sugar, beating well after each addition. Add 1 tablespoon of light cream and 1/4 teaspoon of lemon flavoring. Serves 6.

Raised Roof Lifts Morale

After you have arranged for the loan to "raise your roof" or expand the decision has to be reached on how to get the most space for your money.

All too frequently, lots are too narrow to permit additions on either side, and rear yard space is too precious for expansion in that direction.

Many families are finding the answer today by building upward — actually adding another story to their single story ranch homes and bungalows. Today's home building materials and techniques have made this a fairly simple and economical procedure.

Household Hints

- Broiled canned peach halves go well with a ham steak. Brush the drained fruit with dark corn syrup before broiling.
- Rub French chalk with a small brush into dull spots left on rugs by furniture pressure. Then vacuum the area.
- Hose down bamboo, reed, cane or wicker furniture occs without disturbing the articles inside.

Rocks Stay First With Allen Park Victory

Defense Unit Leads Team To 20-0 Win

A spirited defense with quick moving linebackers provided Plymouth its fourth win last Friday as the Rocks moved past Allen Park 20-0.

By winning the rugged battle, the Rocks hung on to a one-third share of first place in the Suburban Six league with Bentley and Trenton. Belleville was knocked out of the race by Trenton 6-0, in the last 25 seconds of the game.

Allen Park's Jaguars gave the Rocks their stiffest physical test this season with a rugged line that bumped hard, but Plymouth dug in sufficiently to hold their victors to 39 yards net rushing and 3 yards net passing.

The score is slightly deceptive in that early in the fourth quarter Plymouth led only by a scant seven points.

The first score came midway in the second period when quarterback Randy Egloff tossed a three yard pass to halfback Dave Green, on the right side of the end zone. Egloff converted and it was 7-0.

It was the second time the Rocks were deep in Allen Park territory, having earlier failed to score after a first down on the Jaguar seven.

The scoring drive took seven plays and was initiated by a forty yard pass from Egloff to Green, which started on the Plymouth 40.

Egloff stepped over guard on a sneak early in the fourth quarter to cap a 13-play attack that originated on Plymouth's 35. His conversion made it 14-0.

On the first play after the kickoff, Jaguar quarterback

Kenya has opened its first youth hostel in an abandoned railroad station on the line linking Nairobi and Nakuru.

Coach John Hoben used sophomore Mike Kisabeth at fullback and shifted Sparkman to halfback after Salan was injured. He also used junior Art Nelson at halfback to replace Salan. Nelson scored three touchdowns against Redford Union, and carried two times for 16 yards against Allen Park.

"The best defensive effort yet," Hoben said of the Rock performance. Kisabeth did a whale of a job defensively and so did end Ray Liimakkia and tackle Art Anderson.

"Allen Park kids were awfully big and hit a wfully hard," Hoben said, "but we sat in a 5-4 defense and shot linebackers." Linebackers included Sparkman, who blasts into the line as hard on defense as on offense.

Good Counsel Drive Starts Too Late in Game

Our Lady of Good Counsel lost a good football game Sunday. The reason for their loss became very apparent to the boys themselves early in the fourth quarter. They had brought no spirit onto the field. And so for three hapless quarters, Good Counsel let St. Agatha's of Detroit march up and down the gridiron at will.

And that the visitors did, driving over three touchdowns, pushing into the end zone for a safety, recovering four fumbles, and boasting a defensive wall of brick.

But that fourth quarter proved to be different. From out of nowhere the local boys suddenly caught fire, and began to execute play after play in disciplined fashion. And they scored. And they held their ground so that the opponents were forced to punt; and they drove again, but fell short, close to the goal. An intercepted pass and Good Counsel drove once more to the five yard line. But the final whistle blew.

It was a new team that worked off that field, a team that had at long last found itself—too late for St. Agatha's, but in plenty of time for St. Mary's of Wayne, the team they meet this Saturday at 2 p.m. at Wayne Memorial Field.

Both Allen Park scores came in the fourth quarter. A 60-yard end run with five minutes left out Allen Park close, but they failed on the kick and it was still 7-6, Plymouth.

Four plays before the end of the game they scored again on a plunge after a 40 yard pass play moved them from midfield to the Rock ten. Sullivan praised Schryer, halfback Tom McElroy, and right half Tom Lockwood, who played a "very good game." "We had the upper hand for three and a half quarters," Sullivan said, "but couldn't take it in again when we got close. They were tough defensively and were able to substitute freely."

Frosh Lose First, 12-7

Rock freshmen went down to their first defeat last Wednesday, 12-7, at Allen Park. With a two and one record for the season the freshmen will have this week off, but will meet Belleville a week from today in their first home game.

Plymouth stepped off to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter against Allen Park when quarterback Dick Schryer scampered 25 yards around end on an option keep. Dale Livingston kicked the extra point twice, because of an offside penalty.

"They wore us out," Coach Frank Sullivan said, "by sending in substitutions. They have a squad of around 50, while we have only 19."

SPORTS SEEN

By BILL NELSON

A blocked kick in the first period against Trenton is turning out to be a mighty 'big moment in the history of Plymouth's 1959 football team.

If that kick had been made, Plymouth would have no losses this season and possibly not even a tie to mar an otherwise perfect schedule. They would be in first place alone (where this observer at least believes they rightfully belong) instead of in a three-way tie.

As things now stand, Trenton, the team that was lucky to beat Plymouth, is certain of a share of the Suburban Six title. They finish against Redford Union, and your sick grandmother and I could beat them.

Bentley, the third team with a 3-1 league record, will meet Allen Park next week, and the Jaguars are no pushovers, as Plymouth knows from last week's jarring battle.

Plymouth has a score to settle with Belleville from last year, when the 1958 champs mauled the locals 35-7. This fact, plus the obvious ability of Coach John Hoben to get spirited ball games of his team, is sufficient to predict that Plymouth will get a share of the title.

And if you believe in real miracles—Redford Union could knock off Trenton.

Quarterback Randy Egloff leads Plymouth scorers with 37 points on four touchdowns, ten extra points and a field goal. Fullback Wayne Sparkman, halfback Dave Green and halfback Art Nelson are tied for second with three touchdowns each for 18 points.

Halfback John Salan, who was injured last week, has scored twice. Mike Kisabeth, a halfback, and end Ruehr each have one.

Egloff, a poised passer, has connected on 33 of 56 for better than a .600 average. In addition, he has punted for an average of 36 yards.

Sparkman, the bread and butter fullback, has a 4.2 rushing average—and he gets the ball when you need yardage. Kisabeth has the best average, 13.1, but has carried only a few times.

Sparkman has caught 18 of Egloff's passes for 282 yards, a number of them being screen passes where Sparkman earns most of it himself.

If you haven't seen Egloff and Sparkman, you are missing a couple of the best high school backs going. In fact, the whole team is a joy to watch.

The Plymouth band, capable of many interesting formations, went on a beatnik theme at the Allen Park game. It was the usual, excellent half-time performance, featuring among other selections "76 Trombones"—hardly a Kerouac sound, but pleasant nonetheless.

All of this is by way of mentioning Bob Wall, a young lad who causes heads to turn and people to look towards the press box where he does the announcing for the band's formations and numbers.

Bob trains with the band every third hour Friday and takes speech and drama courses; with an eye towards the University of Michigan, where he hopes to study law and drama.

Bob has the lead in the coming school play "On Borrowed Time," which will be staged November 19 and 20. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Wall, 299 Ann St.

He injects a booming, clear voice into the half-time activities that seems to add to the crisp performance of the Rock band.

John Sandmann's Plymouth are from Plymouth, and cross-country team slammed that's the best you can do in the first seven places for a perfect score at Allen Park last Wednesday. The 15-50 win was the fifth in a row for the Rocks, since losing the opener to Wayne.

Friday Plymouth will meet Belleville away and return for the Clarenceville Invitational next Wednesday. A week from Tuesday, the league championship meet will be held at 4 p.m. in Cass Benton park.

Jeff Huntington led the Rocks to their perfect score at Allen Park by turning in a nifty 10:19 for the flat course, Huntington's previous best was 11:23.

Dave Westover was second, Dave Rank, third; Dave Myntatt, fourth; Bryon Latter, fifth; Tony Hunt, sixth, and Chuck Bowers, seventh. A 11

Belleville Game Key To Title

Plymouth, currently in a three way tie with Bentley and Trenton for first place, will pit its 3-1 league record against a 2-2 Belleville record this season. Belleville, now out of the race, is last year's defending champion. They beat Plymouth last year 35-7.

Coach John Hoben looks "for a battle" with Belleville. "We may be a little stronger offensively, but the defenses are about the same," Hoben says.

Belleville has beaten Wayne 13-12, Redford Union 34-6 (that's the only touchdown RU has scored this season), and Allen Park 7-6. They have been beaten by Bentley, 16-6 and Trenton 6-0. Plymouth has scored 109 points this year and given up 27, while Belleville has scored 60 and given up 46.

JV's Use "New" Play in 37-7 Win

Plymouth's junior varsity used a "new" play to score on the first play after the kickoff against Redford Union, and went on to a 37-7 triumph.

Halfback Brian Gillis ran 15 yards on a dive play after the kickoff and fumbled. End Jim Dart picked it up and ran 38 more yards for the touchdown.

It was the beginning of a good afternoon for Dart, who scored a total of three touchdowns during the game.

Plymouth scored again in the first quarter when Gillis ran seven yards on a dive play to cap a 60 yard drive. Both extra points were missed on running plays.

Several players, led by Dave Gothard, blocked a Redford Union punt from the one yard line to provide Plymouth's third touchdown in the second period. Pete Lomonaco, right halfback, kicked the extra point and Plymouth led 19-0.

Plymouth scored again in the second quarter on a seven yard pass from quarterback Mar do Menchaca to Dart. It took the Rocks seven plays to go 35 yards after recovering a fumble. The kick was missed and Plymouth went to the dressing room with a 25-0 lead.

Fullback Fletcher drove over tackle 14 yards to make it 31-0 midway in the third quarter. The kick was missed again. Plymouth moved 65 yards for this score.

Redford Union scored its only touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 20 yard pass play. They scored the extra point on a run. That made it 31-7.

Jim Dart hustled 55 yards with an intercepted pass for the final touchdown. He was aided by a good block from Lomonaco.

The JV's meet Allen Park today at Allen Park at 4 p.m. Coach Bryan Boring said, "I imagine they'll be tough. They have a lot of personnel and with a big squad you can always expect a pretty good team."

Boring praised Dart's performance in the RU game and said guard Robert Ward did "a good job." The JV's now sport a 2-1 record for the season.

Chamber Chatter

By DON MILLIKIN

A course of action will determine the future of retail business in Plymouth. Here is a course of action suggested to a group of merchants in their newsletter earlier this year. It applies equally to all of us. As you read it, mentally insert the word "Plymouth" in place of "mainstreet."

What did your business turn in gross business last year? How does it compare with 5 years ago? How will you plan for your next expansion? What are your plans for the next 5 years? What have you done about some of these and other questions?

Where can you find the answers? Do they lie in advertising or promotion? Experience tells us they don't. In merchandising? If they did, our fine mainstreet merchants would have solved the problem. The answers don't lie with the city government or the state or the Federal government. The answers don't lie with one individual either.

Let's have another look at the mainstreet. A few retailers whose tills have not yet felt the rushing tide of our surrounding competition cloud the reason why we formed the Mainstreet Association. That reason is to create physically and psychologically mainstreet as a major civic and shopping area. These lucky retailers cloud the problems which threaten to cut the very life blood of mainstreet caused by cars, buses, roads and out-dated buildings. They cry, "Do something today so that people will remember us tomorrow."

People here owe us nothing. They will not swoop down on us some bright spring morning much as we want them to. For one quarter of a century—25 years or more, we have cut prices, shined lights to gimmick, promote and cat call people to mainstreet to shop. Can we make up for lost time in one day, one week, or even one year?

Every person in the mainstreet business section should be able to say why he is here. He must help us to consider why all or some of us should remain here. We might remain here because mainstreet is a center with cultural, tourist, location and physical advantages to justify our being here. Or we might consider the more important reason—because we have a high potential market here or because we have a heavy investment here.

People shop and congregate where they are motivated by their own free will. We must do what we have never done before and what is being done all around us—in old centers as well as new. We must water their mouths—we make mainstreet irresistible. We must find reasons for purveyors of real estate to attract buyers. We must develop a program to motivate our present occupants to action to a direction that will attract business. Imagine starting on a trip with an outworn, shattered map in a mechanically unsure automobile! Haven't we been doing just that with a noble goal and unsure means such as gimmicks, promotion and pushing the panic button to attract attention?

Mrs. Davis Ignores the "ADvice"

Last week, the Clarion advertised a homemaking course given by the Woman's Club. "Seemed a fine idea to me," Red Davis told me later, "so I showed the ad to my wife. Told her she'd learn how to do new things—more efficiently, too."

"But all she did was look at me and smile," Red continued. "You men," she said, "always thinking of more work for women. Learn new things? Why, I haven't even got the time to do all the old ones!"

From where I sit, a lot of us do leap into the new at the expense of the old. Take the idea of tolerance, for instance. It's been around for centuries... but it's something we can never bypass. Tolerance demands daily respect for the other fellow's preference—and that includes beverages. Tolerance doesn't mean that you have to like a glass of beer for Saturday night supper—just as I don't have to choose buttermilk. Just respect the next man's choice.

Majestic maple trees dressed in their gold and mauve best announce the fast-approaching finale of the monthly production known as October. Poets have penned many an ode about the blushing maples as they cast a ruddy glow across our local landscapes. To too many of us homeowners the poetry becomes submerged in a welter of those soggy leaves as they pile up and cry for some muscles to rake them up.

Young George reports that the Garden City Footlighters' fall production of "The Hasty Heart" could have used a little more hastiness in acts one and three. Seems that the play lagged and became downright pedestrian in those acts. Second act earned plaudits of our youthful critic.

eggroll your wife and family over toward Middlebelt and Ford Road. You'll see their winking sign, a garish red demonlike object, from the intersection. Keep savouring that choice chicken chow mein all during the subsequent evening meeting I attended.

If you are a musical "gourmet" and would like an enjoyable evening of symphonic music, consider a trip downtown to the Masonic Temple Auditorium. The Boston Symphony under the capable and brilliant direction of Charles Munch will be in town for one performance on Friday, Oct. 23. Mr. Munch's devotion to the music of Berlioz, Debussy, Rousselet or Honegger, no doubt, gives the performance of such composer's works a special authenticity. Old George, a staunch Plymouth Symphony fan, recommends the Boston Symphony for an evening filled with musical delight.

What's been happening on Broadway lately? Not too

The season has pushed off to one of its slowest starts in years. "The Gang's All Here" with Melvyn Douglas in the key role as a thinly disguised version of President Warren Harding.

Two of the top N.Y. critics, Walter Kerr and Brooks Atkinson, found the show to their liking. Usually if these two agree (at least, the records for the past five years prove this) the production has a better than even chance of making the grade.

"The Golden Fleece" with Tom Poston, a TV conic now on leave from the Steve Allen show—remember he was the one that couldn't remember his name, will find little gold in the box of rice if the negative reports from those tough critics are believed by the newspaper readers. Tom Poston has a better hurry up and forge his name again—the TV work may be frantic but at least it is far steadier than the legitimate stage.

Incidentally, Tom tried last year with "Drink To Me Only" and missed. At least he keeps trying. Another show in that category is "Moonbirds" with Wally Cox. Plot of this weirdy: Wally finds out he can turn people into birds. Figure out how this one line plot can keep people laughing for three acts. Critics suggested that the authors try reversing the process so that they could build a bigger audience for the run of the play.

Only sunny note from New York seems to be Doris Day's latest play, "The Highest Tree," a drama dealing with scientist and the atom bomb. According to early reports Mr. Schary will repeat his success of two years ago with "Sunrise at Campobello."

Are wild French farces your favorite? Well, the University of Michigan has such a show on tap this week over at the Lydia Mendelsohn theater. Title: "Horse Eater Hat." Orson Wells did this production on Broadway back in the Fabulous Forties. It's a fast-moving show and keeps you happy for the entire evening.

A quick reminder before we leave our seats on the aisle. Two weeks from today the Plymouth Theater Guild will lower the gangplank for the audience to visit the hilarious Navy world of "Mister Roberts." Better start securing those tickets right now. "Now hear this" as the cantankerous old Captain (ably portrayed by hairy Dr. Sutherland) would shout—get your tickets early and avoid being turned away at the door.

Lauren Bacall

Take time to consider attending this show prior to its Broadway run. Lauren Bacall, starring in the title role of George Axelrod's new comedy, "Goodbye Charlie" opens a two-week engagement at the Schubert Theatre, Detroit, on Monday evening, Oct. 26. It is directed by Axelrod and produced by Leland Haward. Sydney Chaplin plays the leading role opposite Miss Bacall.

Old George has a preliminary report from his "on-the-road" scouts that "Goodbye Charlie" is going to be a sure-fire Broadway hit.

U. S. Voting Machines Get Chilly Reception From Nikita and Tito

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Voters in the Plymouth area are all familiar with the Shoup voting machine. This is the story of what happened to a Shoup company salesman who displayed a machine behind the Iron Curtain.)

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev snubbed him pointedly. Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia was coldly formal.

And Arthur Darby of New York returned to the West convinced that the secret ballot will remain a Western prerogative until the summit melts.

Like the legendary salesman who took refrigerators to the Eskimos, Darby took a bona-fide American voting machine into Communist eastern Europe.

The idea was to show the rest of the world how the American voter records his choice in secret—and in safety.

Darby set up the Shoup voting machine exhibit at the U.S. fair in Moscow and on opening day awaited Khrushchev's arrival.

"The Premier came beaming along the various stands until he was a few yards from my exhibit," Darby recalled. "Then he spun his heel and snapped, 'This machine does not interest me. And off he went.'"

The rest of the Russians that day mostly took their cue from the Soviet leader but as time went by more and more of them, overcome by curiosity demanded to know how the gadget worked. Among them were many planted hecklers. Darby believed that "These characters would ask questions like 'How many of these are in use in Washington, D.C.?' There is no vote in Washington, of course. Or, 'Can Negroes use these, too?'"

Darby said that when the hecklers became too persistent it was the other Russians who shouted them down.

"I was astonished—and pleased that this should be so," he said. "We had the Russians vote on the machine but only for such innocuous things as their favorite author and the place they would like to visit."

(Mark Twain was voted favorite author, New York City the place they would most like to visit.)

Darby duly reported his experiences to the Shoup organization in New York and was instructed nevertheless to take his machines to the Zagreb International Fair in Communist Yugoslavia. Marshal Tito, who opened the fair, looked at the voting machine but made no comment.

"It seemed to me he was a lot friendlier while examining the other exhibits," said the intrepid salesman.

As in Russia, the Yugoslavs were given such harmless questions — at the request of the U.S. State Department as who was their favorite film star. (Doris Day was the surprise, runaway choice.)

There were also questions about books and artists. Darby still chuckles about the Yugoslav woman who read the list and then said thoughtfully:

"Why don't you try to get people interested in using this kind of machine for political elections?"

Census Questionnaires Being Mailed Out to Area Farmers

Questionnaires for the 1959 Census of Agriculture are now in the mail and will be in the hands of local farmers within a few days, it was announced today by Field Director John E. Tharaldson of the Census Bureau's regional office at Detroit.

The farm census questionnaires are being mailed from Chicago, Illinois with the distribution timed so that the report forms will reach farmers about a week ahead of the date when census takers will begin the field canvass. The advance mailing is for the purpose of giving farm operators time to consult their records before filling in the answers required by the questionnaires and getting them ready for the census takers to pick up. This procedure is designed to insure greater accuracy of reporting and to save time both for the farmer and the census taker when the latter calls at the farm.

The 1959 Census of Agriculture questionnaire is designed to provide information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt. On the average, each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by simply checking "yes" or "no."

Available for fuel, school, car repairs, unpaid summer bills, medical and dental expenses, etc. Up to $500 in one trip to our office.

Plymouth Student Received Degree

Wilfred L. Eller of Plymouth was one of the 41 students receiving degrees and certificates this month at Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant. He received a bachelor of science degree in elementary and social science studies.

This marks the sixth year that Central Michigan has awarded certificates and degrees in October. Although there will be no formal graduation ceremonies for these people they will be expected to take part in regular commencement exercises.

The granting of October degrees and certificates was established by the State Board of Education mainly to aid in the certification of teachers who meet necessary requirements after the regular summer session.

Also he praised the use of some Scotch dances between acts. Swirling kilts and bagpipes added greatly to the festive air between acts, but here again the draggy effect was noticed after a bit because of giving the customers more than they needed.

An old adage in vaudeville was that if you had a twenty minute act, you only gave the people ten minutes of the act. You always want to leave them wanting more. Lately, TV comics are finding this out. In television it's called overexposure and the remedy has been to revert to the four-year routine.

Mr. Heihachiro Miyayama, science official of the Japanese Ministry of Education in Tokyo, was recently a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Rawley of Rawley Farms on Ann Arbor Road, Michigan's largest producers of laboratory animals for biological research.

Mr. Miyayama is currently visiting this country to learn new American techniques and gain ideas for the benefit of Japanese breeders. During his five hour visit at Rawley Farms, Mr. Miyayama photographed the laboratories, breeding facilities and equipment very extensively. Before leaving for other parts of the country, Mr. Miyayama, who has a colony of animals of his own in Japan, took with him many samples of American instruments in use on the Rawley establishment.

At the present time the Rawleys estimate that they have over 100,000 mice, of which the majority are of the albino type. Extensive new construction of laboratory buildings will allow for a substantially larger number of animals.

What's Beneath a Car Sale?

When you purchase your automobile from a local dealer in Plymouth, you're doing more than simply getting a car.

Beneath the automobile, if you will, are the employees of local dealers. Your decision to buy here, from a local dealer, gives those employees jobs. They are your neighbors.

There are seven local automobile dealers in Plymouth. Among them they employ 154 men and women. These 154 were paid $785,300 last year in salary and wages.

This is all money which is poured back into the economic bloodstream of Plymouth. Those employees buy their groceries and clothing from other merchants. They pay taxes and build homes and otherwise share in the project of making Plymouth strong.

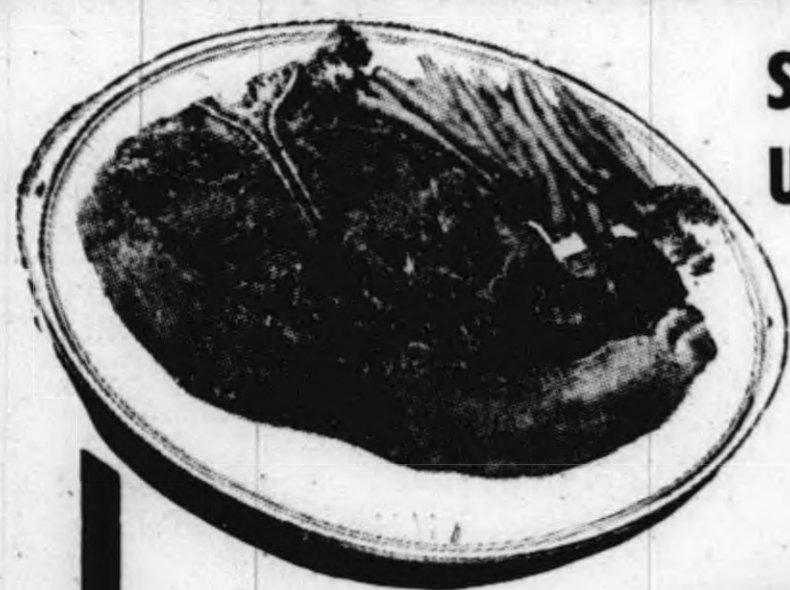

If you buy your car outside of Plymouth, of course, you're doing nothing to insure employment for these local employees.

Since they are your friends and neighbors, these local employees are interested in YOU when the time for service comes. You don't have to deal with strangers.

It's all rather obvious when you stop to think about it, but today seemed a good time to remind you that there's something - and somebody - beneath the automobile when you buy locally from a dealer in Plymouth.

Your Handwriting Is Clue About You

By LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Miss Williams: The subject of handwriting is one which I find fascinating. I read your column regularly and enjoy it very much.

Will you please tell me what you find in my writing?

Thank You, Caroline

Dear Caroline: There is rhythm in your writing and you show ability with your hands in a creative sort of way.

You have a very good memory and retain what you learn easily. There is a sense of watching details and not letting little things escape you.

You have pride and dignity and some will power and purpose of mind. You are thrifty and practical.

There is a desire for more learning and to own on a small scale.

You are emotional and express yourself but not consistently. You feel deeply and do not shrug off experiences very easily.

Dear Miss Williams: It will be interesting to see what your analysis reveals to me. B.R. You possess a fairly good memory, think sharply and quickly. You are strong-willed but not overly determined. There is some enthusiasm and persistence. You're in the habit of trying again when something does not go right.

You choose your friends carefully and the close ones are limited. You have some suppressed thinking and often fear expression. You keep many things to yourself. You are not the gabby type.

There is aggressive thinking and you like to go ahead. You are capable of emphatic decision.

Stay On Iodized Salt, Department Of Health Says

Always buy iodized salt! So recommends the Michigan Department of Health, which says a recent survey shows the percentage of housewives who buy goiter-preventing iodized salt has been declining recently.

Both iodized and non-iodized types of table salt are available in most Michigan stores. The state health department is interested in seeing that people understand the important health advantages of iodized salt so they will seek it out in the stores and buy it.

"Before Michigan started its iodized salt and goiter control program in 1923, almost half the boys and girls in this state had goiter," said Dr. Albert E. Heustis. "The rate was also high in adults."

"After iodized salt became available, the goiter rate dropped to about 1 in 100. We want to keep it that low or even lower it."

Goiter is caused by a deficiency of iodine in the diet.

To Michigan:- How Oklahoma Lives Within Its Income

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Eighteen years ago, Oklahoma began an unusual financial experiment of living within its income.

That was in 1941, when the public debt had grown to 40 million dollars because the legislature kept voting to pay out more money than Oklahoma was taking in.

What stopped this practice was a constitutional amendment prohibiting deficit spending.

Since then, all but $10,000 of the 1941 indebtedness has been paid off. (And that's only because the state can't find the bond holder.) Every budget has been balanced. Furthermore, taxes have not been increased since World War II, and, in fact, they were cut a third in 1947.

The "budget-balancing" amendment put up two bars against debt. First, the legislature is prohibited from appropriating more than estimated revenue. Second, if revenue falls short of the estimate, every government department will be cut on a pro rata basis.

This has never had to be done, though, thanks to inflation, an expanding economy and conservative estimating.

The estimate is made by a State Board of Equalization, which must base its figure on average revenue for the past three years although it can make allowance for changes in tax rates or in economic conditions.

The 1941 amendment made two exceptions to the rule against indebtedness. The state can borrow money in case of insurrection, invasion or war, or the people can approve a bond issue.

Since then, the citizens of Oklahoma have voted twice for college and mental health building bond issues. These totaled $51 million.

What would happen if an emergency made an unusual expenditure necessary? The legislature maintains an emergency fund to be spent at the direction of the governor. If there wasn't enough money in the fund, the governor could call a special session of the legislature to raise taxes. This has never happened.

Gov. Howard Edmondson said the effect of the 1941 amendment has been "very definitely good."

"I don't think there is any doubt but what it has held the line on tax increases.

Proof of that is Oklahoma is one of the few states that hasn't increased taxes since World War II."

Oklahoma, like many other states, faced what seemed to be a budget crisis during the 1959 legislative session. Fund requests from various agencies topped revenue by almost $200 million. Under the budget-balancing amendment, the lawmakers had only two choices: raise taxes or cut spending. They cut spending.

How does Oklahoma's tax structure, per capita income and services compare with those of other states?

Taxes — 30th nationally in rate per capita. The average Souter pays $153.71 a year in state and local taxes. In the ratio of taxes to income, Oklahoma ranks 15th.

Welfare — 13th in nation with annual payments of $46.70 per capita. Financed with Federal funds and a two per cent state retail sales tax.

Education — Per capita expenditure of $48 per student annually, which is 11th nationally, 27th in school teacher salaries with $4,525 a year. This does not reflect recent raises.

Highways — 13th in nation at $50.82 per person a year. Congressional hearings last year showed Oklahoma ranked fourth in interstate mileage under construction, exceeded only by Texas, North Carolina and Iowa.

Mental Hospitals — 41st in expenditures per patient, 7th in ratio of "cures" to patients admitted.

Per Capita personal income — 38th with $1,619 a year, compared with $2,027 national average. Increased 256 per cent from 1950 to 1957.

Unemployment compensation — Maximum of $35 per week for 39 weeks. Compares favorably with national average.

Oklahoma has a public debt of $35.3 million, resulting from the 1956 and 1957 college and mental health building bond issues, but the current interest is only $60,000 a year. This is because the state itself holds $32.3 million of the indebtedness, purchased with idle funds on deposit in the state treasury.

Treasurer Bill Burkhardt says the other $3 million, which is held by private investors, will be paid off in 1961. It is drawing two per cent interest.

While public debt against the state is small, several millions in self-liquidating bonds have been issued to finance such projects as college dormitories, state park lodges and turnpikes. These are to be paid from the agencies' own revenues rather than from taxes. Opponents have charged that this practice is an evasion of the budget amendment, but the courts have upheld its constitutionality.

All Canton Homes Should Be Visited by U-F Worker

ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL. 3-0194

Perhaps one of the Township United Foundation Drive volunteers has already visited your home. If you were not at home, chances are she left her name and address, hoping you will give her a call stating that you would like to contribute to Canton Township's United Foundation Goal. Our goal this year is $1,626 and we are hoping to surpass this quota. We realize that it isn't always possible for everyone to give, or give a large amount, however anything you wish to give will help, whether large or small.

If you cannot reach your volunteer worker, I will be only too glad to see that your contribution is directed to the correct person, or you may contact our Division Chairman, Mrs. Ashley R. Coburn, GL. 3-1273. A reminder our township has a quota to reach and it will take the contribution of all our residents.

We have some new residents to the area we want to welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Breitmeyer and their children, Judy and Kenney. The Breitmeyers come to us from Livonia. We also want to add our happy birthday wishes to Judy, who will be celebrating her 9th birthday Sunday, October 18.

We did it again. I want to correct the date for Gallimore's regular P.T.A. meetings. Last week I stated they would meet every third Tuesday of the month and it should have been, "every fourth Tuesday of the month." We know someone is reading our column as several people called to correct the error.

A hayride birthday celebration was held in honor of the 16th birthday of Doris Kay Elkin. Doris is residing with the William Keelers of Saltz Rd. until she completes her high school training. The 23 guests included boys and girls from school and friends from surrounding area. Also on hand to help Doris make the day complete, were her mother, Mrs. Elkin and three sisters, Nancy, Patty and Judy from Cleveland. Following their outdoor barbecue supper of hot dogs, baked beans, with Japanese lanterns to make the occasion very festive looking, the young people took a hayride in the rain (no colds reported) with Mr. Keeler and Mr. Bowman driving the wagons.

Following the hayride, the group returned to the Keeler home to enjoy an evening of games, home-made donuts and punch. Of course there was the traditional birthday cake, decorated by Mrs. Keeler. Surrounded by her friends, Doris opened her very lovely gifts. The guests were from Cleveland, Wayne and Plymouth. After a final report of the birthday party, Mrs. Keeler and I had a nice conversation and I found their Rose of Sharon bush in full bloom, and of all things, Mrs. Keeler reported picking strawberries in October and also stated that the plants were full of blossoms and berries. The berries are ever-blooming, but seem to be out-doing themselves this year.

Mr. Wesley Kaiser and son Jimmy are planning a bow and arrow hunting trip for deer up at St. Helen near Roscommon, Mich., October 15 and 16. Mrs. Kaiser said Jim has been practicing for the outing, but wonders what they will do if they get a deer. We'll help her out if the pair come home with such a prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Theron Palmer of Beck Rd. again became grandparents on Oct. 8. Their son Dean and his wife, Lou Ann, became the proud parents of a little daughter, Kimberly. Kimberly weighed in at 6 pounds 11 oz. at the Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti. The couple and their new daughter have moved to Ann Arbor, where Dean is resuming his studies in law at the University.

Under the direction of their leader, Mrs. Lamar Authier of Sheldon Rd. and co-leader Mrs. Virginia Steiner of the Ridge, the Girl Scouts of Troop 270 held their first meeting at the Authier home. The 13 young ladies have just completed their Brownie training and are now planning their schedule in Girl Scout work. The girls decided upon one piece, short sleeve uniforms. The roll call included Mary Ellen Ferguson, Kathleen Hayes, Connie Hoffman, Shirley Kana, Roseann Kelley, Wilma Little, Nancy Spigarello, Gretchen Steiner, Lynda Wagenschutz, Linda Cather, Ginny Buttermore, Linda Authier and Cathy Forshae. All the girls attended the Gallimore school, and a eagerly becoming acquainted with girl scouting.

In case you didn't get your slip to sign, or yours was a through the washer as both of mine did, the boys and girls of Gallimore were given a slip to bring to their moms. The notice was to the effect, "The Room-Mothers are holding a bake sale Oct. 24 at the A & P Store on Ann Arbor Rd. from 9 a.m. until sold out. Now the notices were asking for baked goods donations. If you did not receive such a slip, please send note with your boy or girl as to what you would like to bake, the quantity and if you would want it picked up. The proceeds from the bake sale are to be used for the special events held at the school such as the "Mother and Daughter Tea," the Father and Son Dessert and the Christmas Party.

Mrs. Homer Benoit (Virginia), chairman of the Room-Mothers felt that by holding the bake sale, they could in some way eliminate a great deal of the telephone calls made necessary in order to secure the refreshments for these occasions. The mothers hope to have a large selection and variety on sale October 24 and if you are in doubt as to what to bake or what is needed, call Mrs. Benoit on GL. 3-6314. Don't forget to tell your friends and neighbors about the sale.

Mrs. Barbara Soti, chairman of area 2, announced that she has additional volunteer workers in her area. Mrs. Colburn Dennis, Mrs. John Thorpe, Mrs. Gordon Vetal, Mrs. Hiram Godwin and Mrs. Norris White. These ladies will enter into the job ahead of all the United Foundation Workers to put Canton Township over their goal.

We want to add a great well quick wish to Walter, Steinke of Ford Rd. Mr. Steinke is in St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor and according to Mrs. Steinke, his condition is very much improved.

I talked with a very happy surprised and almost speechless new mother, Mrs. Columbus Wilkin (Beatrice) of Beck Rd. The Wilkins just had their 8th child, seven of which are boys and now a girl has entered the all male family. The Wilkin family has a distinction of having all their sons names starting with "D" and according to Mrs. Wilkin, a name starting with "D" shall be picked for their daughter. The young lady weighed in at 8 lbs. 8 oz. at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor on Oct. 16 at 4 a.m. News of the event spread very quickly through the township and we hope to formally introduce Miss Wilkin to the public with some pictures of her and her family in the near future. Besides having all sons, Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Wilkin also are the proud grandparents of a grandson born to their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wilkin recently.

Canton Township Goodfellow held their meeting at the Township Hall October 15. Earl Neiman is president; Harold Longley, vice-president; Ralph Burch, secretary; and Robert Waldecker, treasurer.

I was asked the other day, what happened to our township history series. The answer being, I ran out of information. I have had many of you express your interest in these articles and the enjoyment you received from reading about things that happened a while back. I would enjoy writing more about this sort of thing, so if you know anyone, or something that would fit into this category, long-time residents, landmarks, interesting happenings, etc., please call me. I did get a name of a long-time resident the other day and shall try to contact her real soon.

That does it, except for the continual reminder to please call us about your happenings.

A flood of stereo records has hit the market this fall and the most obvious thing about them is the improvement in quality.

Stereo disks this time a year ago were generally the despair of the discriminating ear. They were scratchy. The lows didn't go very low and there were peaks in the highs. The separation between channels was a mile wide.

No more. Stereo records in the fall of 1959 are comparable in quality to monophonic records, which had already reached a high standard when stereo was first developed.

They have real lows on them. The highs are smooth and silky. They don't scratch. The sound from the two channels spreads and overlaps, so it doesn't have an aural hole-in-the-middle.

The record manufacturers, like the equipment makers, had to get to the market in haste with their products in 1958.

Since then, they have improved their recording and cutting techniques and the result is in the new stereo offerings.

Dealers report a steady decline in the sale of the big speaker systems that used to be the pride of the hi-fi fan. As one dealer puts it, "They're almost like the dinosaur."

Stereo is responsible for this. It takes two speakers or speaker systems where it used to take one.

The buyer hasn't a great deal more money to spend than he used to and he gets about half as much speaker. Lack of room in which to put two big speakers is also blamed for the decline in sales of big systems.

Manufacturers anticipated the trend and all have small systems on the market. Most of them lack a few cycles of bass, but that is the only major complaint.

Those who can afford the money and the room for two big systems, report that the additional quality makes a world of difference.

The Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers has recognized the obvious and issued a formal pronouncement that "stereophonic" and "high fidelity" don't mean the same thing.

Abraham Schwartzman, executive secretary of the institute, points out that "stereophonic" simply means that there are two channels of sound on a record.

"High fidelity refers to the degree of faithfulness with which the record is made and reproduced," he says. "Today, nearly all recordings, stereophonic and monophonic, are high fidelity. However, whether or not you get high fidelity music depends upon your home playback system.

"Stereo is more critical than monophonic. For pleasing, undistorted sound it is vital that the home reproduction equipment be of true high fidelity quality.

"While stereo component high fidelity opens a new vista of depth and dimension, stereo on poor quality equipment can be very irritating."

What is needed is for some authoritative organization, like the Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers, to set up standards for high fidelity.

Harman-Kardon, Inc., one of the veteran manufacturers of high fidelity components, has entered the booming component kit field.

The company has formed a new "Citation Kit Division." Sidney Harman, president of the company, says the first two products of the new line are being made and first shipments are expected to be made to dealers late in October.

Army Recruiting Office Moves From Plymouth

SFC William J. Allen, local U.S. Army Recruiter for the Plymouth area announces that he has moved his office from the Plymouth area and has relocated a permanent office at the Chamber of Commerce Bldg., 3747 Wayne Rd., Wayne.

Complete information on the many guaranteed assignments such as choice of job area or school before enlisting, overseas, local missile assignments, airborne and others, can be obtained by interested parents and individuals by calling PARKWAY 2-3388, during the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Wayne Chamber of Commerce Bldg., 3747 Wayne Rd., Wayne, Michigan.

The first New York to California air service in 1929 took 48 hours, and was a combination of day flights and night train trips since planes were not allowed to fly at night.

Who's New in Plymouth

A CHARMING and active young family, the George Purcells, who have just moved here from Ann Arbor, are enjoying their modern new home on Beech Road in Park Lane Subdivision. With hard work, perseverance and the help of a friend, Mr. Purcell has already put in a beautiful green lawn, thereby releasing him for a few games of golf in the spring - and more time to devote to his second love, flying. He was trained in the U.S. Air Corps as a jet pilot and was stationed in Japan. After his discharge in 1957 he joined Ford Motor Company, Rawsonville Plant. He is presently in the Management Training Program. Janice shares her husband's fascination for flying and "one of these days" plans to get a license too. They share also a love for music. Mrs. Purcell took piano lessons as a child, but Mr. Purcell plays by ear. Before her marriage, Mrs. Purcell was a fourth grade teacher in a Royal Oak School, however, for the present, her main interest is her bright-eyed baby and her home.

What Are The Odds?

How long will you live? What are your chances of winning the Irish Sweepstakes? Of drawing a perfect hand at bridge? Of acquiring a mate, if presently unattached?

No one can tell you for certain, of course, but the mathematical experts who spend their lives doing out the laws of chance can do almost as well: they can tell you the odds.

What, for example, are the mathematical chances of your living to a ripe old age? According to annuity tables worked out by insurance actuaries, the odds are that a twenty-year old man will live 54.23 years longer; a girl of the same age can expect 59.43 additional years of life.

Once you reach 30, the odds say you'll survive another 44.61 years if you are a man, another 49.70 if a member of "the weaker sex." At 40, figure on another 35.15 (or 40.11) years; at 50, you're dds - on to hang around for 26.23 (30.81) (twelve months) more.

Men till 76; women to survive till 78; favored to the same age are good bets to reach 82. Once you've achieved 70, the odds say you'll survive past 80, giving the men 11.86 more years and women 14.18.

But lest you become overconfident and do something silly - like 80 miles an hour - remember that your chances of accidental injury this year are about 1 in 17, and that accidents are the primary cause of death from age 1 to 44!

Unfortunately, your chances of accidentally striking it rich are much, much slimmer. The odds against a single ticket winning the Irish Sweepstakes? A sad 60,000 to one.

According to information supplied by Facit, Inc., creators of precision-made Swedish business machines, even greater are the odds against your drawing a royal flush at poker: 649,739 to one. On four of a kind, they drop to 4,164.

The odds on getting a flush are only 508 to one against you, and a straight comes even easier at 254 to one. You can easily figure your chances of a straight or a flush by counting the number of cards that will do it against the number of cards remaining in the deck. It's 47 to 8 on the first, 47 to 9 on the second.

You have 4 chances in 47 of drawing an inside straight, but hardly worth taking unless the table is likely to contain, at the very least, 12 times as much money as you're likely to wager. And then you may lose because an inside straight can be beaten.

How about bridge? The odds against a perfect hand are a ridiculous 635,013,599,599 to one. But few card players stop to think that the odds against their picking up any specified hand including that awful one that Fate dealt you last night are exactly the same as the odds against holding thirteen spades.

Has a whole night ever held perfect hands at one deal? Yes - and it happened quite recently - just this past

April. The lucky players: the Duke of Marlborough and some aristocratic pals at a London bridge table. The odds against this particular fluke, as computed with the help of a Facit calculator, were 53,644,737,765,488,792,839,247,440,000 to one!

But if you think those odds are high just try to calculate the odds against the Facit, or the Odhner adding machine - or any other precision machine making a mistake. The odds against such a boner are infinite!

Often called a gamble, marriage, too, has computable odds. At the age of twenty, a girl has nine chances in ten of marrying at some time during her life. At 25 she has 78 chances in 100 of marrying, by 30 her chances are 55 out of 100, a year later she has an even chance, and by 32 the odds are slightly against her - 46.4 chances in 100 of becoming a Missus.

A man of 30, on the other hand, has 72 chances in 100 of finding a wife, and the odds don't begin to work against him till the age of 55, when he has slightly less than one chance in two of marrying. A woman of the same age battles three to one odds against finding a mate.

There are 31.7 chances in 100 that a man of 40 will wed; one chance out of five that a woman of the same age will marry.

What are the chances of wedded bliss including a set of twins, triplets, quadruplets or quintets? Though multiple births do tend to "run in families," the theoretical odds against any expectant mother giving birth to twins are 90 to one. The odds against her producing triplets are 9,000 to one, 900,000 against quadruplets and 90,000,000 against repeating the accomplishment of Papa and Mama Dionne!

But surely you can count on a fifty-fifty chance of getting a boy (or a girl if you want one)? Not quite! Actually the odds are very slightly in favor of having a son. 105 boys are born for every 100 girls. Doctors know that the very young mother (teens and early twenties) is ever more likely to produce a son.

The law of averages has no influence in determining the sex of a child or any other issue in doubt. No fallacy has cost more people more money than the "lightning doesn't strike twice in the same place" myth. It's even cost lives! The chances of getting "heads" on a coin toss, no matter how many "heads" have rolled before, is always one in two.

And many soldiers in World War I found, to their cost, that a newly made shellhole was no safer a refuge than a trench which had not been previously hit. It's true that the chances of two shells striking exactly the same spot are very small. But after the first one has hit, the chance that a second one will strike the same place is no smaller than the chances that it will strike any other point on the battlefield!

But if you are shellholes, fire blizzards and roulette tables, your own chances of survival couldn't be better.

New Little Resident In Parkview Circle

By JOAN COSLOW
GL 3-5029

A couple of gals on Parkview Drive have devised an ingenious way for selling Christmas cards. Shirley Snowden and Rosemary Kooiman held a coffee klatch at Shirley's home on October 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with a small time out for lunch! While the wee children amused themselves on Toni Snowden's swing set and sand box, mothers had coffee and looked over the large assortment of cards and wrapping papers.

The sixth graders from Starkweather School have returned from a week at a camp located near Brighton. Under the supervision of Mr. Foster and Mrs. Atwood, the boys and girls enjoyed nature studies, movies, and "fun square dancing." Despite the rain, reports from the students indicate extreme pleasure with this well planned week.

A trip to Grenfield Village was taken by the fifth grade, whose teacher is Mr. Dail. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Simpson, formerly of Joy Road, moved recently to 139 Amelia Street. The Simpsons have three little girls, two year-old twins and eight month-old Deborah.

Presbyterians To Print Magazine For Teen-Agers

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A major Protestant denomination is sponsoring a new magazine for high school boys and girls.

Called "Hi Way," it will be published monthly by the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Its credo, voiced in an editorial in the first issue, is that "there is nothing wrong with being young."

"You will see that Hi Way is not a 'religious' magazine as you usually think of one," the editors promised. "Nor is it a far-out teen magazine with a chip on its shoulder for anyone over 20. It's a general interest magazine for young, intelligent Christians."

The first issue featured an article on "Why I'm Heading Into Space" by one of the seven U.S. Astronauts; a text-and-pictures report on "New Fall Clothes" for the senior high set; "How to Size Up A Used Car"; and an article by a psychiatrist warning teenagers against the pitfalls of "trying too hard to be popular."

Area Township Meet Oct. 29

In a joint statement made today, Elise Avery of Farmington; Robert J. Bullinger of Dearborn and Louis Stein of Plymouth, Canton Township, directors of the 14th, 16th, 17th & 18th Congressional Districts of Michigan Townships Association, announced that final plans were completed for the Annual Meeting of all Township Officials of the four Congressional Districts embracing Oakland and Wayne Counties, on Thursday, Oct. 29, at Botsard Inn in Farmington, starting at 6:30 p.m.

The meeting designed to bring together those who make the laws and those who must carry them out will feature a "face-to-face" discussion with Congressmen, State Senators, State Representatives, State Officers, County Officers and Township Officials.

Among those invited to attend, besides several hundred Township Officials, are: Congressmen John Lesinski and Martha Griffith; State Senators Patrick J. Doyle and Raymond Dzendzel; State Representative Harvey J. Beadle.

Junior Achievement Launches New Season At New Location

This year's first Junior Achievement companies were launched in May 1960. They showed the young business entrepreneurs a charter application explaining the necessity for a business to be properly chartered.

The advisers then called for suggestions on a product to be manufactured, made some suggestions themselves and the young business people set out to determine what their companies would manufacture as a competitive product.

The young business teens will be selling 50 cent shares of company stock to the general public, so the necessary capital for raw materials can be raised.

They would operate during the coming year, which ends in May 1960. They showed the young business entrepreneurs a charter application explaining the necessity for a business to be properly chartered.

will be operating throughout the school year here. It is expected that nearly 4,000 JA companies will be in business throughout America during 1959-1960.

Business teens are currently establishing JA companies in 37 states including Hawaii and in British Columbia and Ontario.

For the first time, JA operations have started in Mexico and New Zealand and where outstanding businessmen have predicted a bright future for the "learn by doing" organization for teenagers.

Some 175 teenagers are expected to conduct their miniature businesses in Plymouth this year.

Tips For Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q—"Dear Elinor: I have been going with a girl about two months (I am a 15-year-old boy). Then it came up that I had to wear glasses. When she found it out, she cried and said that she couldn't possibly keep going with me if I wore them. I would appreciate your help or advice."

Ans.—This girl needs a new sense of values more than a new boyfriend. Apparently, it is just your look that she likes, not your personality and all the characteristics and qualities that are YOU. She's childish enough to think that looks are the most important thing and that glasses will detract from your appearance. A girl who doesn't look beyond a boy's face — or glasses — is a poor choice for a date-partner and a worse choice for a marriage mate. You can take your choice: get contact lenses and keep on dating her (until she meets a "handsomer" boy) or wear your glasses and date all the other girls who will be glad to know you.

Q—"Dear Miss Williams: I am a 14-year-old girl who is dominated by a brother four years younger than I am. Wherever I go, I must take him along. He has just as much freedom as I have. My mother reads all my mail and my brother goes through everything in my room. My mother never stops him."

Ans.—You should have some personal privacy. Your mail shouldn't be opened and read by others without your consent. Your parents should keep your brother's busy little hands off your personal belongings and him out of your room. If they continue to neglect teaching him to respect — and not touch — other people's property, perhaps you can find a way to do it — by messing up his things in his room every time he does it to yours or by rewarding him whenever he has a good week's "score" by giving him something he wants or taking him where he wants to go on Saturday. Good luck!

(For help with personal problems, write to Elinor Williams at this paper. As many letters as possible will be answered in this column.)

CITY MANAGERS CORNER

Suppose you and the city assessor have a difference of opinion as to the amount of taxes you should be paying on your home. Our City Charter provides that you may be heard by a group of 3 citizens, appointed as a board to which to appeal. This group is known as the Board of Review. The purpose of the Board of Review is to assure that assessments, which form the basis for our city, school and county taxes, are relatively just and equal. The Board protects each individual taxpayer and the community at large.

The Charter provides that the Board of Review shall be made up of three taxpayers of the City who have been residents of Plymouth for not less than three years. The members of the Board of Review are appointed by the City Commission to serve for a term of three years, and each member receives $20.00 per year for his services. The Assessor serves as secretary of the board.

The Board of Review meets on the first Monday in March each year, and must meet for at least two consecutive days, or as much longer as is needed to complete consideration and correcting the assessment roll. The Board must meet for at least six hours on each of the first two days. A charter provision requires that on one of the two days, the Board must meet at 3 p.m. and remain in session continuously until 9 p.m. This is done so that persons who work during the day will be assured of a hearing. On the third Monday in March the Board must meet again to complete its review and approve the roll with any corrections, additions or changes it may have made. The assessor, while he attends the meetings and keeps a record of the proceedings, does not have the right to vote on any of the questions raised. He may, however, participate in the proceedings and discussions. The Board of Review hears the complaints of all persons who feel they have been aggrieved by their assessment. If the Board finds that any property has been wrongfully assessed or that a property has been omitted from the roll, the Board must correct it so that valuations are relatively just and equal.

An important point to remember is that the assessment roll is reviewed according to the facts existing on the 31st of December of the year the roll was made up. Any changes in the property after that date cannot be considered.

When the Board of Review has completed its study of the assessment roll, at least two of the three members sign a statement on the roll saying that it is the assessment roll for the year in which it was prepared. This is called affirming the roll. After midnight of the day of the last meeting of the Board of Review, the affirmed roll is final and conclusive.

This, then, is the way our Board of Review operates. It is the way the foundation of our tax structure is prepared so that the funds can be raised to pay for municipal services.

The Reader Speaks Up.

EDITOR:
 To a businessman who is long accustomed to providing his time and effort for the State of Michigan in collecting its taxes and keeping its records, the latest development in the state Use Tax situation represents a new zenith in temper-tantronic, science-wearing provocation.

As every merchant knows, the new rate of tax and the specific manner in which it is to be changed to the consumer were never made clear, with the result that some merchants have charged one way, and others have charged on another basis, depending on how they interpreted the information available. This has made for customer confusion and dissatisfaction, of course, with needless loss of good will by the seller in many instances.

And now comes the charge by Mr. Nims, state revenue commissioner, that "a lot of merchants are 'grabbing' the full 4 per cent on every dollar of sales."

This apparently is the business proprietor's latest reward for being sound-minded for customer tax-gripes, tax-collector, and bookkeeper for the State of Michigan—all without compensation, of course. The vast majority of business proprietors, acting without benefit of clear instructions, have attempted to collect the new tax as they understood it was meant to be levied, and are now placed in a further bad light by being subjected to censure of the type contained in Mr. Nims' ignorant and unjust statement.

John J. Guettler
 Carpet-Bagger
 SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—
 Norman Bryant told police someone stole $300 he had hidden under a rug in the living room of his house. He said the money was apparently taken as he slept on a couch only a few feet away.

REV. & MRS. JAMES HANCE
 Evangelists of Detroit, Mich.

The tragedy you turned into a tribute

We can't resist telling you...we think you, our Detroit Times readers, are wonderful people. You proved it when tragedy nearby not long ago.

November 28, 1958 was the date. The occasion was the sinking of the storm-tossed freighter CARL D. BRADLEY in icy Lake Michigan. All but 2 of the 35 crewmen went down with the ship...most of them from the small Michigan community of Rogers City. Left behind were 23 widows and 50 children.

It was a calamity which aroused the nation to sympathy. But it aroused you to action. From workmen to yachtsmen, from boys' clubs to corporations, your contributions poured in to the Detroit Times Ship Disaster Children's Fund. Your charity reached the remarkable total of more than $150,000... and is still growing.

Our thanks to you...for offering the grieving living a stake in the future.

Keep your eye on the TIMES!

The Auxiliary will have a business meeting to night, Thursday, October 22, 8 p.m., Veterans Community Center. October is Education and Scholarship Month. Chairman is Anita Fisher. There is considerable business to be discussed at this meeting.

Christmas cards will be shown at Fern Burleson's home, 1122 Ross St., Plymouth, at 8 p.m. Monday, October 26. A good selection of cards are available. Come and see for yourself. Maxine Kunz will again be in charge. Order early and get a good selection. Remember the proceeds go into the Building Fund. Call Fern, GL. 3-3571, after 7 p.m. or Maxine Kunz, GL. 3-4330 for any information regarding cards.

Our Card Party was a success, thanks to all who helped make it so. Dorothy Koi was chairman and assisting was Marilyn Wilson. Winning the door prize was Harry Burleson, which was a small tool set. An apron was won by Hazel Wright of the Northville Unit, Lloyd H. Green Auxiliary. The apron was donated by Emily Mosher. The proceeds will go to the Child Welfare work. The next Card Party will be Saturday, November 7, 8 p.m. Circle this date and come to the party and enjoy the fun for all. This will again be for our Flag Fund.

The Passage-Gayde Post will have a mass initiation of members on Wednesday, November 4, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center. This will be a most interesting meeting and will be an opportunity for auxiliary members to attend and watch the 17th District Ritual Team in action. Commander Donald Kinghorn urges all members and friends to attend.

Lillian Kinghorn, Secretary and Membership Chairman, states that our Membership is coming along fine and anticipates reaching the quota by the end of November. More than half is presently in November is Membership Month — now is the time for action!

The 17th District Meeting is Friday, October 23 at Rosedale Park, 8:30 p.m. Reports on the Fall Conference will be given at this meeting.

THE READER Speaks Up

To Anyone Willing to Listen. This is an open letter to all drivers. There is a very serious problem existing in Wayne County on Ford Rd., between Wayne Rd. and Venoy. There are schools in that area using the regular Inter-Town buses as school buses during school hours. These buses are blue and gray in color and are not marked as school buses except in front over the window.

Most drivers are aware of our new laws regarding the yellow school buses. Most drivers will stop for these buses, allowing children to cross the road in safety. There is usually no problem when the bus is yellow and marked "School Bus - Stop". The problem arises when the bus is the wrong color and not marked, especially in the rear.

I travel Ford Rd. four times daily and I have seen many near accidents because the few people who know these are school buses will stop when the bus stops and the rest of the drivers will either pass or blow their horns.

If the schools must use the Inter-Town buses as school buses, then they should have a large yellow sign put on the rear and front of the buses. It could be removed when the bus is not transporting children.

I know there are some drivers who do not know our new laws regarding the school buses. I feel a complete list of these laws should be printed in all newspapers again, especially in the affected area, including our Plymouth Mail. This is a very serious problem that may take someone's life someday.

If Everybody's Alike Where Are We Going?

The Russian Lunik was enroute for a left-hand turn around the moon last week when a professor from Wayne University appeared on TV and observed that America has fallen far behind the Soviet because of our socialism.

He said Russia is winning the war to conquer space because it has adopted a form of capitalism.

Here was a twist that I most caused me to drop my ginger ale.

It was especially startling because it came from a staff member of Wayne, which once was regarded by legislators as a breeding ground for welfare state liberals.

So I hurried to the campus next day to find this Dr. George P. Loweke. He has been a teacher there for 19 years and is now Associate Professor of Engineering Mechanics.

He was at a cluttered desk in a musty office in one of the old apartment buildings which have been taken over temporarily by Wayne U. His classes had ended for the day.

No sullen, dark-eyed critic of America is Dr. Loweke. Unlike many of the professors who get into print these days, he has an old-fashioned faith in the American system of free enterprise. But he fears that his beloved homeland, like England, will become a second-rate power because of the advance of socialism promoted by a labor party.

Dr. Loweke is 57. He was born in Detroit; earned his engineering degrees at U. of M., and his doctorate at the University of Berlin. His father, a Detroit printer, died when Dr. Loweke was a child. He had to struggle to earn his degrees, helped sometimes by a few bucks from an older brother.

In brief, Dr. Loweke's conclusion is that the United States has stifled its geniuses by progressive socialism that attempts to level all citizens through income taxes and otherwise.

On the other hand, Premier Khrushchev during his tour of the United States declared that his government rewards its scientists and leaders on their ability to produce — thus providing the incentive that capitalism once provided in America and Britain.

Here's what this free-wheeling professor wrote for the Lansing Observer column:

"It is a basic instinct of human nature to work for a reward. Remove incentive and you kill ambition.

"The race of men like Thomas Edison, Charles Kettering, Charles Steinmetz, Lee De Forrest and others is becoming extinct.

"These men became wealthy. But they were worth hundreds of billions more to their country than they received.

"Much as our idealism forces us to deny it, give men a chance to make greater rewards and we'll have genius cropping up like mushrooms all over the country.

"Russia understands this basic truth about humans. So it offers high rewards under the guise of socialism on a grandiose scale — and is winning. This country, under the guise of capitalism, is practicing socialism — and is losing.

"If Russia were to stop paying higher rewards to their scientists, and pay them no more than a tradesman receives — as in the United States — the Soviet's science would come to a screeching halt.

"By trying to provide security for everyone we are losing opportunity for all.

"Under our muddled system we are leveling off all incomes, raising those of the worker and reducing the earnings of the higher qualified.

"We are practicing the thing the Bolsheviks undertook a generation ago, which is to tax the rich out of existence. We squander billions for materials and skimp with funds for men, our most valuable resource.

"A high standard of living is poor consolation for a nation that becomes a second or third rate power."

It was refreshing to hear a college professor who wasn't scoffing at the system which made America great. His ideas should be discussed in the lawmaking chambers throughout the land.

—Frank Morris

Lutheran Open House Is State - Wide Event

Michigan Lutherans are completing plans for the largest project of its kind they've ever undertaken: A state-wide Open House Week.

During the week of Nov. 1-5, special evening services and meetings with a "Sharing Our Faith in Christ" theme will be held in Greater Detroit's 125 Lutheran parishes and some 150 outstate churches.

In Detroit, the kick-off event will be a Youth Rally at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 31, in the State Fair Coliseum, with the Rev. Edward Wessling, of Valparaiso University, as speaker.

Dr. Oswald J. Hoffman, of the "Lutheran Hour," will address a Mass Rally at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 1, in the Coliseum.

During the week, the state's more than 150,000 Lutherans will visit their neighbors and friends and invite the unchurched to worship and meet with them in a "Share the Faith" effort.

Guest ministers from all over the country will assist the pastor of each participating parish during the week's programs.

This Project is the first such large area has conducted simultaneously under sponsorship of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod's Evangelism Department.

The Rev. William Huener and the Rev. Edward Westcott are co-chairmen of Detroit's central committee. Arrangements for the Youth Rally and Mass Rally are being made by the Rev. E. T. Bernthal, the Rev. E. H. Buchheimer and the Rev. T. H. Voss.

Consumer Confidence Affects Whole Look Of Business

By Roger W. Babson's Staff

There is considerable apprehension that the Federal Government's effort to balance the budget might lead to a cutback in spending which would in turn trigger a recession.

Those who share this view tend to overlook the basic fact that our economy is steadily becoming more closely keyed to the vast consumer market. Spending by the Federal Government accounts for slightly more than 10 percent of the Gross National Product, versus 65 percent for consumer expenditures.

It was the powerful force of consumer spending which contained the 1957-58 recession and hastened the subsequent rebound. At that time, the ability of the wage structure to resist the deflating influence of receding business, coupled with the sustained high level of personal income, bolstered consumers' confidence and encouraged their spending. At the same time, installment debt repayments improved their financial status.

Despite the occurrence of scattered distress areas as a result of labor strikes, economic conditions are favorable to consumer optimism and buying impatience. While it is true that strike-enforced layoffs have cut total employment and personal incomes since midyear, nevertheless employment and earnings are both in all-time high ranges.

Since many consumers tend to gear current expenditures to what they expect to earn in the future, the upward reach of wage rates stimulates the desire to spend, and there is little likelihood of an early change in this trend. Resumption of the business upmove once the major labor disputes are settled should add to buying impatience.

The high level of consumer confidence is now evident in the strong demand for automobiles and appliances. Businessmen are already counting on a record year-and-sales effort. The major obstacle in the picture is the combination of high interest costs and record installment debts, which could dampen consumer willingness to incur a additional debt and hence slow purchases of durable goods.

fresh new beauty
from the only car with Wide-Track wheels!

A car is a living thing.

And all living things must change.

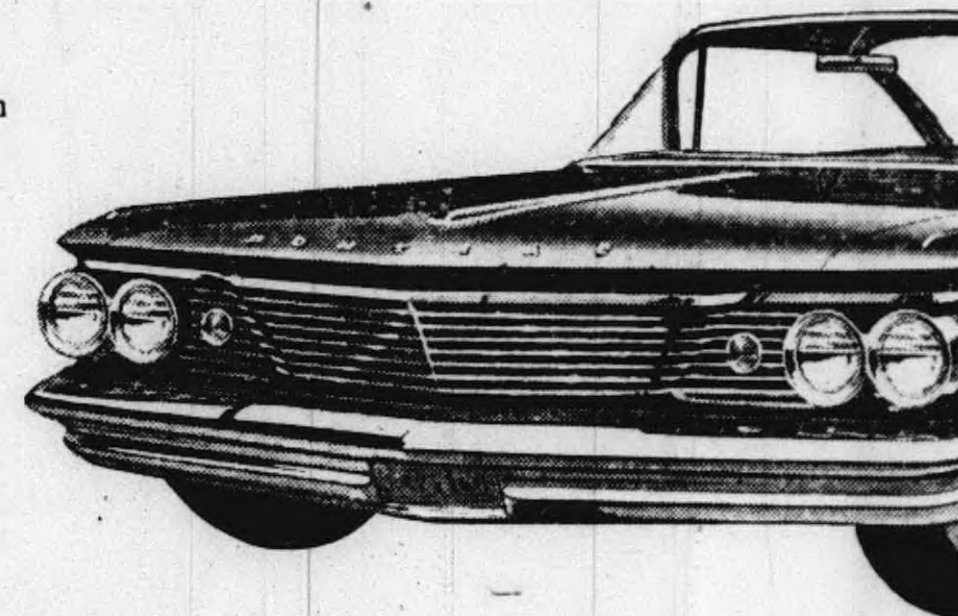

This is why the creative car builders of Pontiac took the proved principle of Wide-Track Wheel Design and surrounded it with fresh, exhilarating, totally new beauty for 1960.

The prow is styled for excitement.

The horizontal bars bear the artistry of the classical.

The perfect profile comes from just-right proportion, unity, rhythm.

The clean, graceful back contributes character where other cars seem only to reflect confusion.

Its effect upon your attitude toward driving and owning cars can be quite radical.

For you cannot possess this automobile and be anything less than lighthearted. You cannot control it and be anything less than sportive about driving.

You cannot be seen in it and be anything less than buoyantly proud.

If Your Name Is 'Rebecca'

By ANN REYNOLDS

This is an old Hebrew name; it became popular after the Reformation when the Bible was ransacked for first names. Its meaning strikes us as strange. Here it is, "a cord with loops for tying lambs or kids."

The cord was a useful device at an age when men's possessions consisted mainly of their herds. Often the translation of the name Rebecca is given simply as "a noose", and then it is rather hard to understand why it was picked for a girl's name.

"Rebecca" was often shortened for familiar use. Reba and Becky, even Beck are its pet forms.

The Rebecca of which we read in the Old Testament, in Genesis, was the daughter of a man named Bethuel; she was a great niece of Abraham. And when Abraham was old, and it was time for his son Isaac to get married, his father did not like the idea that he should marry a Canaanite woman. That is why he sent his chief servant, Eliezer, to Mesopotamia, there to find a girl for Isaac among their relations.

When Eliezer arrived at Aramnaharaim, and was outside the city at the well, he prayed for a token by which the Lord would show him the girl meant for Isaac. What should the token be? He would ask for a drink of water. And the one girl would take down the pitcher from her shoulder, offering him to drink, and would also water his camels — that would be the sign by which he'd recognize her.

And so it was. Rebecca did as Eliezer had anticipated. And so he gave her a precious carrying half a shekel in weight, and bracelets weighing 10 shekels in gold. Then he followed her to her father's house.

He disclosed his purpose, not forgetting to stress Abraham's wealth of flocks and herds, silver, gold and servants, and indicating that he had found Rebecca by a token the Lord had shown him. Rebecca's father, and her brother Laban were ready to accept what so obviously was God's will.

And, remarkably enough, Rebecca herself was asked whether she was willing to go with Eliezer to a strange land in order to be married to Isaac. She agreed; accompanied by her serving woman she traveled to Canaan with Eliezer, and became the wife of Isaac, and the mother of Jacob and Esau.

Among all the events in Rebecca's life told in the Bible, the scene at the well was the one dearest to many a religious painter's heart. Paolo Veronese, for instance, selected the subject several times; one of these presentations is in Madrid. There are several famous fictional characters called Rebecca; the best known may be W.M. Thackeray's Becky Sharp in "Vanity Fair".

Bible Comment:

His Quest Was Not for Place or Power

There is a fascination in setting together parallel passages in the Old and New Testaments. One of the most striking is between the 23rd Psalm, the Shepherd Psalm, and the declaration of Jesus in John 10:10, "I am the good shepherd."

As devout Jews, familiar with the Scriptures, both Jesus and those who listened to Him must have associated the words with the psalm.

As a simple declaration it might have seemed the word of an imposter, making an extravagant claim for himself. But the words of Jesus, making plain the nature and mission of the good shepherd, make any suggestion absurd.

The Good Shepherd fulfills in every measure what Jesus was seeking to instill in the minds of His disciples—that greatness is in service, not in self-seeking.

Indeed, no quest for self, of place or power ever marked His earthly life or ministry. He was, truly, the Good Shepherd, giving His life for His flock.

HE MADE IT—Louis Mares, 15, of Los Angeles, Calif., a boy scout crippled from childhood, achieved a rare goal. He successfully climbed Mt. Whitney with seven other scouts. He made the ascent despite a heavy brace on his leg.
