Tabs Go On Sale Monday

Last year motorists complained about the Wayne State University colors of green and yellow used on the 1959 license plates.

This year the Secretary of State offices fully expect no one to pass up a chance to comment upon the little hunk of metal they are getting for the same old price.

Going on sale this coming Monday will be the license tabs—tiny pieces of metal that will cover the "59" on the present plates with a "60". They will cost the same as the full-sized license plate with the idea, of course, to save the state of Michigan lots of money.

And no one's going to argue that the state shouldn't start cutting corners.

Plymouth's Secretary of State's office at 181 W. Liberty St. will again be a busy place during the next four months. Motorists from Livonia and many other area communities do their license buying there.

Manager Doris Root points out that only passenger automobiles will be issued tabs. Trucks, trailers, motorcycles and other vehicles will get new plates.

THAT TINY tab measuring one and one-half by three and one-quarter inches held by pretty Miss Kathy Hoban is what motorists will receive this year instead of license plates. The tabs go on sale at the Secretary of State's office in Plymouth this Monday. Each tab carried a serial number. Kathy is clerk-cashier at the license bureau on Liberty St.

A Look at the Bond Issues

Is School Auditorium In Plymouth's Future?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles dealing with the two bond issues totaling $4,500,000 that will be placed before Plymouth Community School District voters on Monday, Nov. 23.)

By JIM SPONSELLER

When Plymouth Community School District electors go to the polls Nov. 23 to vote on two bond issues—one for $4 million and the other for half a million—it may be the smaller proposal that will meet with the stiffest opposition.

The $4 million bond issue is for the erection of more classroom facilities for the next five years, a need that is usually recognized by electors who watch the community grow.

But the half million dollar proposal is not for ordinary school facilities, but for the erection of a "community auditorium."

The board of education, realizing that some electors may vote down the proposal if the two projects were lumped into one bond issue, decided to make them separate items on the ballot.

As yet, there has been no voice of opposition heard concerning a proposed auditorium. Everything heard thus far has given support to the need of an auditorium.

The school board can expect many questions, however, and members will be appearing at public meetings during the next month at tempting to answer the questions.

For instance, they may be asked why the school should build a "community" auditorium. Why not let the communities involved erect it?

In answer, they will probably point out that the school board is the only agency that represents the entire community. Certainly the citizens of the city of Plymouth wouldn't want to finance alone a building that would be used by other people outside the city limits. Plymouth and Canton Township residents wouldn't want to pay the entire cost either. It is much easier to spread the cost on the school tax bill than to pro-rate it among the various governments.

It is proposed to build the auditorium on the present high school grounds with the idea of a "civic center" involved. More property would probably be purchased.

The board has expressed its belief that the auditorium should seat around 600 with an "expandable seating" capacity of 200 to 300 more at the rear. This is a method used in the new Ferndale auditorium which gives more seating for less money.

Numerous groups and individuals have long dreamed of an auditorium for Plymouth. Most obviously in need of some professional surroundings are the 95-piece Plymouth Symphony and the Theatre Guild.

There are, however, many other functions involving the school which come first.

To see how an auditorium fits into a community, The Mail will visit several communities in the area where auditoriums have been recently built. One of the most modern in the area was erected by the Wayne schools in 1957.

Voters approved a "package" bond issue that included an auditorium and swimming pool. Their combined cost was $947,086 with the auditorium claiming about two-thirds of that amount.

Of contemporary design, the auditorium was built, unattached, at the rear of the high school. It seats 939, larger than the one proposed here. But Wayne's high school has over 2,000 students compared with 1,200 here.

It is the trend not to build auditoriums that will hold the entire student body. Such capacity would be tremendously costly.

"A lot of people told us what a shame it is that we can't hold graduation exercises in the new auditorium," Wayne High School Principal Raymond LaFrey declared. "But such programs come but once or twice a year and to build large enough for that capacity would be a tremendous cost."

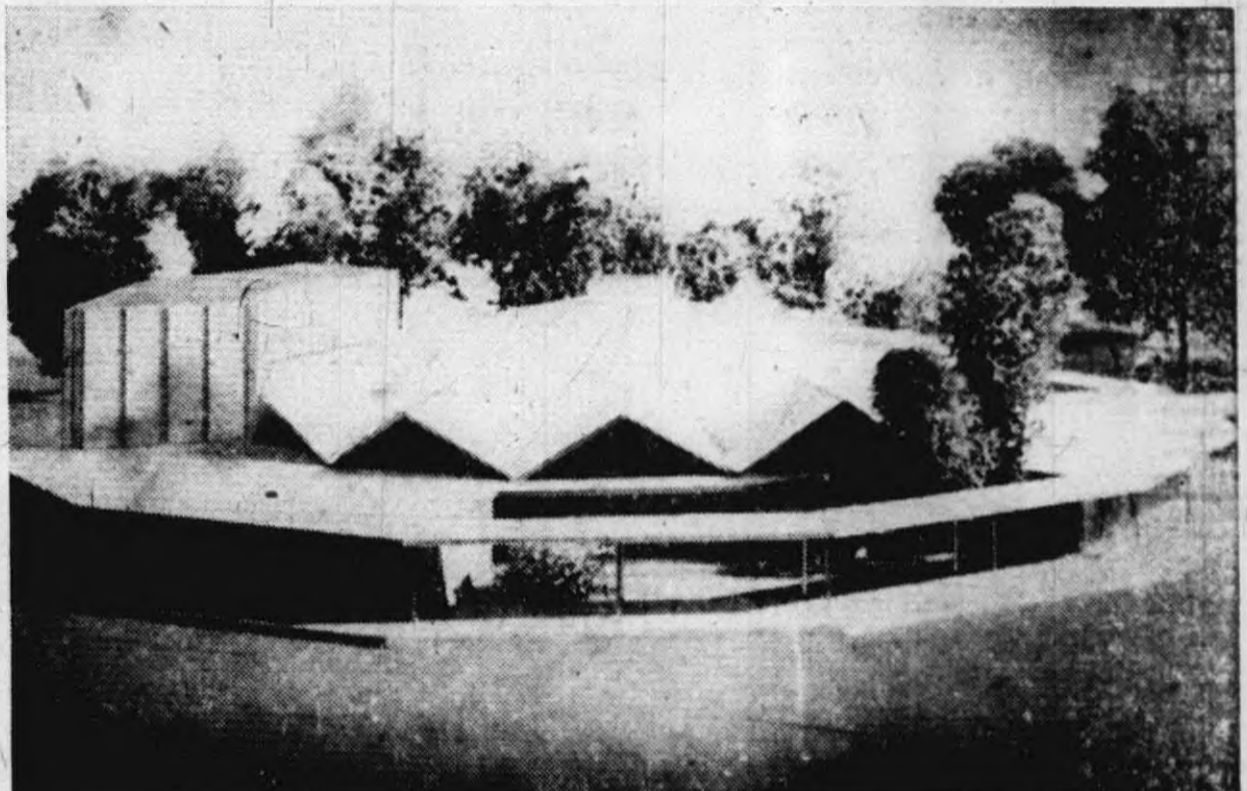

Plymouth's fast-stepping 1959 cross-country team won the Suburban Six League Championship Tuesday at Cass Benton Park.

Team strength paid off for the Rocks when they lost first place to Redford Union's Don Herbert. Herbert turned in a 10:52 for the two mile course, but Plymouth grabbed second and third in totaling 30 points.

Redford Union, champs for the past two seasons, was second with 45 points. Next were Bentley, 79 points; Trenton, 84; Belleville, 115 and Allen Park, 177.

Jeff Huntington paced the Rocks with an 11:02 for second place. Dave Westover was third, Dave Mynatt fourth, Dave Rank, ninth; Byron Latta, tenth; Tony Hunt 16th and Chuck Bowers, twenty-second.

Plymouth last won the cross-country championship in 1956. The 1959 Rocks are coached by John Sandmann.

AN AUDITORIUM for Plymouth will be decided by voters on Nov. 23, but this auditorium is one that Wayne voters approved two years ago. Its "folded plate dome" was the first of its kind in Michigan. The stage portion is the taller building at left while the outside ring contains band and vocal classrooms and the lobby. It holds 939.

Community Fund Drive Nears Fifty Yard Line

Plymouth has achieved 44 percent of its Community Fund goal with the big boost from the National Bank of Detroit which, along with its employees, gave a donation that amounted to 10 percent of the entire campaign quota.

The Community Fund campaign committee this week announced that $15,180.80 in cash and pledges have been received so far. The goal is $34,098. The fund jumped $8,070 since last week.

The National Bank of Detroit and its employees this week turned over checks and pledges of $3,635.50. This is the largest single donation to date and may be the biggest of the 1959 campaign.

Another sizeable sum came from Evans Products Co. with a corporate gift of $1,500. Evans is the first of the large local industries to make its contribution. There are also many businesses that have not mailed their checks. The individual solicitations seem to be progressing at a normal rate, the committee noted.

All industries, businesses and other addresses listed in the Plymouth telephone directory were sent literature late last month telling of the campaign and giving a pledge card and return envelope. In case these were misplaced, it is still possible to mail in the donation to "Plymouth Community Fund, Box 356, Plymouth, Mich."

Many employees who work in places where the United Foundation conducts a drive are found following the procedure to divert their contribution to the Plymouth Community Fund. On their U-F pledge card, they note that they want the donation credited to the Plymouth Community Fund. At the same time, they note on the Plymouth Community Fund pledge card that they have donated through their company (and name it) and mail in the card. This makes it possible to double check the forwarding process.

There are 11 local agencies sharing in the fund this year and 21 other area, state and national organizations. The local groups and the amount they will receive are:

Boy Scouts, $4,500; Girl Scouts, $3,000; Salvation Army, $6,000; Visiting Nurse Association, $1,500; Veterans Memorial Center, $1,700; Plymouth Symphony, $2,000; Plymouth Dental Fund, $708; Junior Police, $3,500; American Red Cross, $3,000.

The 21 other agencies will share $4,447.50 if the goal is reached. Among these agencies are Leader Dogs for the Blind, Michigan Epilepsy Center, Michigan Heart Association, Michigan Chapter of Sister Kenny Foundation, USO, Michigan Association for Retarded Children and 13 others.

The following is a list of

Chamber Names B-G-R Manager as President

The new President of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce was named at a meeting of the newly elected Board of Directors today. He is Charles J. Stofko, General Manager of Associated Spring Corp., BGR Division with plants at Ann Arbor and Plymouth.

Stofko, formerly vice-president of the Chamber here, has been active in the establishment of the Industrial Division of the organization, and active in civic affairs. He is 47 years of age, married, father of 3 children and makes his home with his wife Isolde at 8975 Beck Road.

Local Mother's Eye Transplant Called Success

Despite the fact the Eye Bank for this area is depleted for the first time in three years, a corneal transplant was successfully grafted to replace the injured eye of a young Plymouth mother.

The cornea was flown to the University Hospital from New York amid bad flying weather, which created a touch and go situation reported in the Plymouth Mail, October 15 issue.

Removing the bandages from the eyes of Mrs. Lewis Wells, 52718 Five Mile Road, the doctors declared the graft a success. The final amount of vision she receives will not be known for two or three months.

Hundreds of Plymouth people will be sailing aboard one of the most famous mythical ships to come out of World War II when the Plymouth Theatre Guild hoists anchor three nights next week.

The famous comedy "Mr. Roberts," a hit as a book, a stage production and a movie, will be unfolded before Plymouth audiences Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 5, 6 and 7. It is the ship's company that will be held in the High School Auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 prompt.

Purpose of Bond Issues Confirmed by Consultant

Board of Education members spent much of their meeting time Monday night with a representative of the bonding firm that is working out details of the $4,500,000 bond proposal that will appear on the ballot Nov. 23.

Fred M. Thrun, representative of the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, bonding consultants, appeared at the meeting to advise the board in the wording of the propositions. Several changes were made from the original wording as previously written by the board.

There will be four propositions on the ballot. The first two will deal with the $4,000,000 bond issue while the last two will be devoted to the $500,000 issue to build an auditorium.

1. To erect and furnish a combination junior-senior high school building.

2. To remodel the present high school.

3. To erect and furnish elementary and high school buildings, either as additions to present buildings or as separate buildings.

4. Erect and furnish a swimming pool addition to the present Junior High.

5. To acquire additional land for site purposes.

The $500,000 bond issue will have two purposes: 1. To erect and furnish an auditorium; 2. To acquire a site for this purpose.

It was decided to again use paper ballots for the election instead of voting machines.

Board members have a busy schedule ahead of them during the next month. Besides the numerous meetings required to work out more details of planning, they are appearing before Parent-Teacher Associations and other groups to explain the need of the bond proposals.

The two bond issues will (Continued on Page 7)

Smith School PTA Seeks "Miss Price" To Draw In Tie Breaker for Bicycle

By Mrs. Richard Stribley
The Smith School Parent Teacher Association has again proved that interest, enthusiasm, cooperation, and a "bit of work" can perform miracles. Last Saturday night's success was really not a miracle at all, it was the result of Smith parents working together. There wasn't a parking place within two blocks of the school, and scarcely walking room in the crowded hall and rooms inside.

Estimates put the total attendance well above the 1,000 mark and just every concession was completely sold out before the evening was over. As an example, Dr. Fred Faust popped and sold almost 100 pounds of popcorn.

General Chairman, Mr. Marvin Sackett and Finance Chairman Mr. George Kenyon, report a gross receipt of nearly $3,000, a large portion of which will benefit the children of Smith School.

Popular among the booths was the Cake and Pie Walks manned by Mr. and Mrs. Nat Sibbold and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee DeMond operated cartoon movies in the kindergarten room, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erdelyi again successfully ran the Fish Pond.

In the food line (all completely sold out) Mr. and Mrs. Les Coups operated an efficient kitchen. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Derr, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Notebaert, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hurtik, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Kincaid all handled various food concessions and report no one left the place hungry.

The drawing of the new shiny bicycle donated by Evans Products as a prize for this contest will be held Thursday, Nov. 3. An all-out effort is being made to locate Miss Price. If she will come to Smith School Tuesday morning, Nov. 3, and identify herself and the number of nails she guessed, she may share in the drawing with Bob and George. Consolation prizes will be given to the other two children at this time.

Mr. Don Ward reported a tie guessing the number of nails in a gallon jug. Bob Feldkamp, George Applegate and a Miss Price all guessed the exact number.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Berry did a fine job on decorating the entire school with signs and streamers.

Perhaps the most popular room in the school (particularly for the older kids) was the Rock 'n' Roll room operated by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rudendunst. Danny Hargrove shook things up with the Thunder Rocks. Fred Bell, Bob Carley, Len Cole, Jim Pichett and Larry Livingston. They almost lifted the roof.

Other chairmen doing outstanding jobs include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dirlam, Mr. and Mrs. William Powles, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Voss, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marsden, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Drennan, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowsman, Assistant General Chairman, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Carlson.

Parent-Teacher-Student Assn. Seek 100% Membership

No parent will want to miss becoming an active member in the P.T.S.A. at the Junior High School. There are 172 paid members. This is a small percentage of parents of Junior High students and it is hoped every parent will attend the next meeting Monday, Nov. 2 at 7:45 p.m. and become active members.

A panel of teachers, parents and students will discuss "Exploring Family School Relationships." The teachers will be represented by Mrs. June Kelly and John Cannon; parents, by Mrs. Don Sutherland and Roger Elwood; and students by Cathy Holt and Arthur Gulick.

Eugene Jordan, P.T.S.A. President will be moderator and there will be an open question and discussion period.

Harold Niemi, representing the Board of Education, will explain the bond issue for school facilities to be presented to the voters for approval on Monday, Nov. 23.

This is a vital issue to the life and growth of the school system and Mr. Niemi will be prepared to answer questions about it.

The November 2 meeting will afford parents the opportunity to make appointments for parent-teacher conferences on Wednesday, Nov. 18. This is following the first card marking, and there will be no school that day. Teachers will devote periods of time all day and evening to parents with questions and problems regarding their child in school.

It is urged parents make the appointments at the P.T.S.A. meeting, or by returning the note sent home with their child, rather than by phone.

Refreshments will be served at the November 2 meeting at 9 p.m. in the Multipurpose room following the meeting by Mrs. Howard Schryer and her committee.

Motorists Display Bad Manners As Paving Goes On

Paving of three city streets neared completion this week — no thanks to a host of motorists who ignored barricades and drove over the streets while the paving work was in progress.

D P W Superintendent Joseph Bida angrily declared this week that while the city was attempting to have a good job done on the streets, some citizens paid no attention to barricades and special police and drove over and damaged newly-laid pavement.

The largest job is being done on Harvey St. from Junction to Ann Arbor Trail.

Also being blacktopped are Blunk, from Church to Farmer; and Farmer St. from Harvey to Theodore.

Application of the binder coat began last week. On top of this is coming the "driving emulsion."

Bida said that despite barricades, many motorists drove onto the streets as the pavement was being laid. In many instances, barricades were a block away, but cars went around them and then tried crossing the paving jobs. Several rented barricades were smashed.

That many motorists who drove around barricades and then were stopped by the patrolman "told off" the officer and in many instances used profane language. The contractor said that he has had better cooperation with own patrolman. Bida said

Eckles Coal Partnership Ends After Court Action

Sale of one of Plymouth's oldest firms, the Eckles Coal and Supply Co., has taken place as the result of a court action during which the partnership formed in 1929 was ended.

Robert L. Allison, president and general manager of the corporation, and his wife, Adeline, secretary, were plaintiffs in a suit that asked $100,000 damages from the partners. They were William C. Otwell, treasurer and resident agent, and his wife, Bertha, vice-president.

Also named in the suit as defendants were the corporation itself and the original owners, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Otwell of Burbank, Calif.

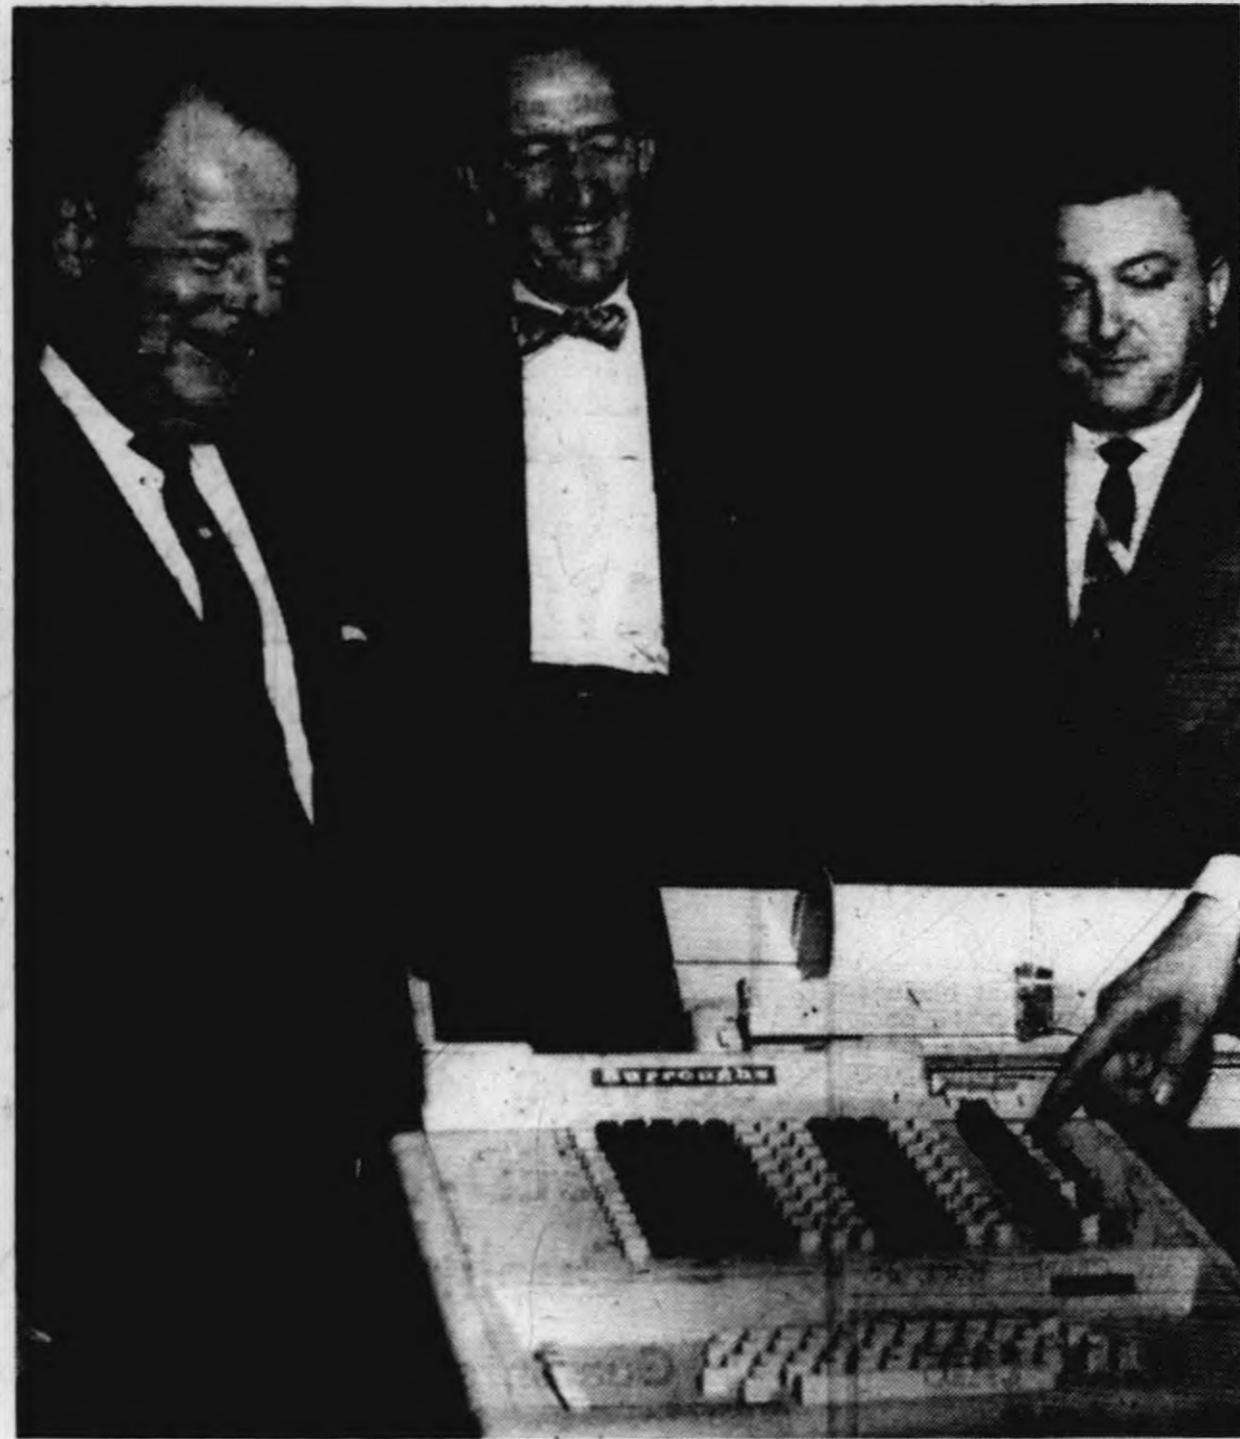

The plaintiffs, in their petition filed last February charged that the defendants had deprived them of their rights and privileges in the corporation and caused damages in the sum of $100,000 or "such other sum as the court may determine."

Earlier this month the plaintiffs and defendants entered a gentlemen's agreement to drop the action and asked that an auction be held with each being given the opportunity to bid for the stock of the other stockholders. The court approved this agreement.

Allison was the successful bidder during the auction.

purchasing the stock owned by Otwell.

The firm was started in 1929 by Art Eckles and Oliver Goldsmith. It was incorporated in 1929 under the name of Eckles Coal and Supply. The firm is at 882 Holbrook.

BURROUGHS' Plymouth division played host for an afternoon to members of Horwath and Horwath, an international firm of accountants and consultants, when the group held its annual convention at the Mayflower Hotel two weeks ago. Here (left to right), Cy Ward and Herb Beech, Detroit representatives of the firm, join Ralph Lorenz, manager of the Mayflower, to study a new Burroughs' F2000 Computer. The group's visit also included a tour of plant facilities and an address by Ray Stromback, general manager of the Burroughs plant.

Local Architect's Firm Merges With Consulting Engineering Co.

The merger of the Wheeler and Becker architectural firm and Grant-Richards Co., consulting engineers, has been announced by Mr. Byron H. Becker of Plymouth, President of the new firm. The new organization will be known as Wheeler, Becker and Sando, Inc., Architects and Engineers, and will maintain offices at 1210 David Stott Bldg., in downtown Detroit.

The merger brings together two established design groups in the building industry with an enviable background in school design, commercial, industrial and office buildings, research laboratories, hospitals, churches and banking institutions. The integrated architectural firm will be able to offer services in both architectural and mechanical and electrical design and supervision, including control systems for industrial equipment and large conveyor systems.

New officers of the firm elected by the Board of Directors are Byron H. Becker, president; Francis A. Sando, Jr., vice-president; and Vernon L. Wheeler, secretary-treasurer. George Nemes, Jr., has been appointed director of engineering.

Becker is a registered architect in Michigan and New Jersey, and was formerly with Giffels and Rosetti, Architects and Engineers. He is a member of the American Institute of Architects and the Michigan Society of Architects, and past President of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club. He holds memberships in the Society of American Military Engineers, the Illuminating Engineering Society, and Michigan Association of Professions.

The firm of Wheeler and Becker were the architects on many local projects, Dunning-Hough Library, James Gallimore School, Helen Farland School and several projects at the Senior High School building. The Grant Richards Co. were used as consultants on all of these projects.

Advantages of Civil Service For License Bureaus Cited

If Michigan automobile license bureaus were placed under civil service the state would have better government in these areas at a savings of tens of thousands of dollars a year, Assistant Secretary of State John Dodge told local Democrats at their October meeting last Thursday night.

By placing the automobile license agencies under civil service, personnel could be thoroughly trained for their work and would not be changed with each change in the political climate, he explained.

Democrats, who have frequently heard the charge of excessive spending of public funds leveled at them, heard Secretary Dodge declare that efficient and economical government will be primary issues of the Democratic Party in the 1960 campaign.

A breakdown of where Michigan residents' tax dollars go, was presented by the speaker through a report of the auditor general's office. Copies of the report were given to each person at the meeting, and additional copies may be secured at the November meeting of the club.

In answer to questions concerning excess profits tax and industry, Secretary Dodge declared that businesses do not move on the basis of state taxation. Local property taxes, he explained, are so much higher.

The guest speaker for the November meeting of the Democratic group will be announced soon by the club president, Charles Root, Jr.

Plymouth People Invited To Veterans Hospital Open House

To most people the Veterans Administration Hospital at 2215 Fuller Road, Ann Arbor is a huge and beautiful building. They know veterans are treated there but for the most part the building seems like any other hospital—one of mystery and associated with the unhappiness of pain and illness.

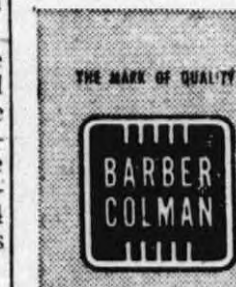

"Our hospital is far more than that," declared Dr. Paul M. Ireland, manager, and he offered to prove it to residents of Plymouth and the area on November 10 between the hours of 1 and 4 p.m. when the hospital holds open house.

Open House at Ann Arbor Hospital, like its 170 counterparts elsewhere in the United States, is a Veterans Day thought of Sumner G. Whittier, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, who has ordered that every VA Hospital and regional office in the country be opened to the public November 10th, the day before the national holiday.

"The Administrator believes that veterans, their friends and their families should have an opportunity of seeing how the VA treats the disabled man, providing far more than just medical treatment."

NEWS BEAT

Plymouth police often have a problem-tracking down passers of bad checks but they've got a real problem now—a man who says he's passed bad checks but can't prove it... A 44-year-old Novi man who sometimes lives in Plymouth turned himself into Novi police Saturday night. He had been drinking. He claimed that he passed four worthless checks in Plymouth and he wanted them to call Plymouth police so he "could make it right." He was brought to the Plymouth jail where he remains—but the stores where he allegedly cashed the checks don't even remember him. Police may have to evict him from jail.

NO PROTESTS: When the city recently annexed land it owned east of town along the south side of Plymouth Rd., it became necessary to give it a zoning designation which now becomes effective. Some 38 acres will be used for light manufacturing. But what about Riverside Cemetery? It was zoned one-family residential.
ACCEPTED: The Wayne County Road Commission has voted to accept the streets that are being laid out in the new Gleenview Subdivision off N. Territorial Rd. Residents along Ridgewood Dr. can finally look forward to pleasant driving on their street. It was paved by the county through special assessment.
THIN MAN: Norm Marquis, well-known restaurateur, is back on the job after a two months hospital battle with jaundice. He dropped something like 30 pounds in the contest.
GOOD NEWS: Burroughs Corp., in its financial report of the first three quarters of this year, reported revenue up 23 percent over the same period last year. Sales through September were $256,203,000 with 80 cents a share being paid stockholders.

Huge Lutheran Rally Saturday and Sunday

Two dynamic speakers, music by massed choirs and colorful religious pageantry will be seen and heard by 25,000 Lutherans at rallies Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, in the State Fair Coliseum.

Dr. Oswald J. Hoffmann, of "The Lutheran Hour," will be key-note speaker at the Sunday afternoon rally, kick-off event for the state-wide Lutheran Open House Week November 1-5. It begins at 3 p.m.

He will also conduct rites of consecration for 125 Detroit pastors and the 125 missionaries from all over the country who will be guests of local parishes during the week.

"Sharing Our Faith in Christ" is the open house week's theme, and 4,000 men and women will be commissioned to visit unchurched neighbors and invite them to special services in each church.

The 15,000 people expected to attend the rally will hear music by a children's choir from Sunday and day schools, and a 1,000 voice choir from Detroit churches.

The Saturday night rally, which begins at 8 p.m., is for young people in Detroit-area parishes, and 10,000 are expected to attend. Speaker will be the Rev. Edward Wessling, of Valparaiso University.

Students at Lutheran High School (West) will present a colorful pageant, "Out of the Darkness" stories of the early lives of Christian heroes and saints, interpreted in modern language and settings.

Music will be by a band, trumpet choir and mass youth choir from young people's societies in Greater Detroit parishes.

School Planners to Discuss Grade School Experiment

On Wednesday evening, November 4th at the Plymouth Junior High School the Plymouth School Planning Group will hear Henry Huesner, personnel director of the Livonia Public Schools, speak on "The Non-Graded Primary Plan of Elementary Education." Meeting starts at 7:45 p.m. and all citizens interested in educational matters are welcome to attend.

The Wilson School in the Livonia system has been using a non-graded form of elementary education for the past three years. How this form of elementary education operates and what it means to the eventual development of the elementary curriculum will be discussed by Huesner. A TV kinescope of the experimental program and several charts will be used in the course of the talk.

Russ Creech, chairman of the Community-School curriculum committee, stated, Anchorage, Alaska, is more than 1,300 miles closer to Tokyo than Seattle, Wash.

See You There

Spooks and Goblins will be out early for children going to hear the Halloween story at the Dunning-Hough Library Saturday, October 31. Marie DeAgostino will be the storyteller and invites all children to come in costume.

technically ask for an increase in millage of 6.75 mills. The board has declared that it actually will only levy 5.20 mills. The difference is needed to satisfy bond buyers who always seek some "insurance" millage in case something goes wrong, such as a sudden decrease in valuation.

Two levies will be eliminated by the board. One is a 2 mill building and site sinking fund. The other is a 1.15 mill levy that can be eliminated after this December because the 1952 bond issue is being retired.

This leaves an actual 1.55 mill increase over the present levy of 21.07.

Should the propositions be approved, new tax levy would not become effective until the collection of December 1960. It is too late to start collecting it this year.

The average salary of full time professors in the United States is $8,875 a year.

Scouts Perform In 'Operation Fallout' Here

Is School Auditorium In Plymouth's Future?

 issue, the board will probably appoint a committee of ayment to work along with the board to work on specifications of the auditorium. Included on such a committee would be people from the symphony, Theatre Guild, the high school's speech department and any other individuals expressing interest. It will take approval of two proposals on the ballot to effect approval of the auditorium. Proposition 3 will ask that the tax limitation be increased three quarters of a mill (75 cents per $1,000 valuation). Proposition 4 asks if the school district can borrow $500,000 and issue bonds to finance the auditorium. Actually the board intends to levy on .57 mills of the .75 being asked. For the average homeowner who has a property assessment of $5,000, the auditorium would add $2.85 to his tax bill each year.

There are some auditorium facilities now located in the high school. The room that was once the gymnasium and is now used for a cafeteria-dining room is called the auditorium. It has no sloped floor and is unsuitable for many programs and plays. The symphony uses the gymnasium.

New Lutheran Church To Hold First Service

The new Lutheran Church of Southwestern Livonia will conduct its first service this Sunday, Nov. 1, at 10:45 a.m. in the Washington Elementary School, 9449 Hix at Ann Arbor Rd. Sunday School will begin at 9:30.

The new congregation is a member of the Lutheran Church - Missouri Synod, well known for its international radio program, The Lutheran Hour, and sponsor of the popular television series, This Is The Life.

Rev. Raymond C. Schulze, pastor of the new church, announces that Livonia's Mayor William Brashear will present the Civic Address after service. The president of the Michigan District of the Lutheran Church, the Rev. V. Harry Krieger of Traverse City, is also expected to address the assembly.

Plans are being readied for a new church to be built in the spring of 1960. A seven-acre site has already been purchased at the N.E. corner of Joy and Newburgh Rds.

The new church is expected to draw people from the Livonia - Plymouth - Nankin Township area, many of whom have expressed their interest in a new Lutheran church for this community. The first service on Nov. 1 is the culmination of months of advance work and planning initiated by the Rev. Robert A. Grunow, pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Livonia.

Gail Deace, Laurence Cole Unite in Candlelight Service

Proceeded down the aisle by attendants Gail Patricia Deace and Laurence D. Cole were wed October 9 in the Church of Christ in Plymouth. Brother Paul McAllister performed the candlelight service.

The new Mrs. Cole chose a colonial gown of white net over a tiered hoop with an American lace peplum.

Mrs. Eva Rakowski, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Barbara Cronkite served the bride as maid of honor. The bridesmaids were ballerina length turquoise with bustle effect, fashioned from a bow. In the center squa Barbara Jewell, Louisa Tobias, Carolyn Taylor and Gloriette Callis, sister of the groom, served as attendants.

Vickie Blackshear, niece of the groom, was the petite flower girl in a floor length gown identical to the bridesmaids. Her flower basket was filled with white baby's breath. The bouquets of the bridesmaids were cascades of carnations.

Gene Callis, brother-in-law of the groom, was best man and Jack Winward was the groomsmen. Dave Palmer, Jerry Cole, Jim Rakowski and Tom Stremick seated the guests.

Luther Deace, brother of the bride, and Denny Cole, brother of the groom, served as candlebearers.

The newlyweds and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Deace of Onaway, Michigan and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Col-

Mrs. Laurence D. Cole

Shearer Drive, Plymouth, received guests at the American Legion Hall on Newburg Road following the wedding nuptials.

Both 1958 graduates of Plymouth High, the young couple have taken up residence at 176 S. Harvey Street in Plymouth.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

In an emergency we're told even the most frail of us are strong, brave, and full of unheard of cool-headedness—the same might be applied to the chairman of a fair, bazaar, or bake sale.

Have you ever said, "Oh, another Fair, and I have to bake a cake,"—you should be so lucky. Indeed, some fair chairmen have been known to go into the school or the church and the "Fair Frenzy" and not be seen by chick, child or family for days.

Plymouth really supports these projects well. There are 11 different events on the fire for October and the early part of November.

Christmas shopping at these affairs can be fun and a real money saver, also, I know of no other place (not even home) where you can feed a family as well and as cheaply as a church or service club supper. World over these women are good cooks.

It may sometimes be time-consuming and embarrassing to take the "little darlings" to restaurants to eat but a family atmosphere always prevails at a church supper or service club. Served family style—you got it made marna.

The Methodist Church Women of Plymouth, I think, did a wise thing for their Country Fair. They have four co-chairmen, Mrs. George Hake, Jr., Mrs. A.D. Johanson, Mrs. Donald Tapp, Mrs. Harry Roberts.

As long as the good ladies are soul-mates all should go well and relieves the burden somewhat—anyhow, this week we sent BOUQUETS to all Plymouth chairmen and co-chairmen of Ways and Means Projects—know you are appreciated.

Benefitting from their wonderful recent trip to Hawaii (probably seems like a dream now) Carl and "Liz" Hartwick were hosts at a Hawaiian Luau Saturday evening. Flowers were flown from Hilo, Hawaii, and each lady received a lei presented to them by their hosts and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Hornbrook of Muskegon. Miss Janie O'Gawa, a native of Honolulu, was a guest and to everyone's delight did some authentic Hawaiian dancing—complete with grass skirt. Each guest also received a memento of the Hartwicks' trip and later in the evening viewed some of their pictures. The Charles Hornbrooks and daughter Barbara Ann of Muskegon, Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Johnson of Northville, Miss Janie O'Gawa of Farmington, Mrs. Eugene Orndorff, Mrs. Harold Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minehart, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh King and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Veresh were among the guests feted at the luau.

Speaking of hospitality—I read this week where "THEY" are carrying togetherness one step further these days. No longer is it necessary for the host and hostess to face each other from opposite ends of the table. Now it is vogueish to find the host and hostess facing each other from the center sides, flanked by guests. Isn't that nice?

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Morin

Belleville-Plymouth Couple Speak Vows

Lura Allene Puckett, of bride, was the ring bearer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar N. Puckett Sr., 14605 Haggerty Road, Plymouth was united in marriage to Patrick Edward Morin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morin, Belleville, Michigan.

The October 3 ceremony was performed by Reverend John Walaskay in the Assembly of God Church in Plymouth.

Miss Selma Schnute accompanied Reverend Mel Jennings at the organ as he sang "Always".

The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father, gowned in a princess style, floor length imported lace gown with a scalloped neckline, and lace pointed sleeves. Her veil was held in place by a pearl crown and her only other adornment was a single strand of pearls. She carried a white bible with two white orchids and button mums attached to streamers.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Esther Miller, was matron of honor in a lace over powder blue taffeta gown with a sequin headpiece of powder blue. Miss Marilyn Puckett and Miss Shirley Puckett, sisters of bride were bridesmaids gowned in lace over pink taffeta with matching headpieces. Their unusual bouquets were fashioned of white grapes off-centered by bright sprays of mums matching the color of their gowns. William L. Puckett, nephew of bride, was the ring bearer and Penney Lynn Puckett, niece of bride was flower girl.

Frank Lemanski was best man for the groom and Loren Morin and Michael Morin, cousins of the groom, seated guests from Plymouth Northville, Walled Lake, Garden City, Wayne, Lincoln Park, Detroit, Pulcifer, Wisconsin, St. Louis and Missouri.

A reception following the ceremony was held in the I.O.O.F. Hall in Plymouth.

The bride, a 1957 Plymouth High graduate, is employed at Burroughs Corporation. The groom attended Belleville High and is employed with Wayne County.

They toured Northern Michigan before taking up residence in the Oak Haven Trailer Court, Plymouth.

Artists Meet

The Livonia Artists Club will hold a meeting on November 12 at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Marie Bodman of West Chicago, Livonia. The schedule for the evening will include a demonstration by Mrs. Marie Bodman of her embroidery murals. Each member will submit one original painting, for open criticism, thus providing meritorious entertainment.

At the close of 1957 there were 563,543 oil-producing wells in the United States.

There will be two eating establishments running full force at noon. If you would like a quick lunch, Maxine Jordan will be serving an assortment of sandwiches, sloppy joes, baked beans, as well as pies and cakes and beverages. This snack bar will be known as "Square and Kackle." It will also be open during the day for coffee breaks.

FINALIZING plans for the 11th Annual Smorgasbord dinner sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary are L-R Lucinda Archer, Table Chairman; Jennie Tallmadge, Ticket Chairman; Helen Luttermoser, Publicity; Virginia Bartel, General Chairman; Mary Schwartz, Co-Chairman.

VFW Auxiliary

The enlightening study given by two exchange students made the October 20 meeting one of the most interesting in a long time. Anneke Thasing, from Holland and Ursula Kell, from Germany, who live with Plymouth families, compared chiefly the American schools with those of their respective homelands. They seemed to particularly enjoy all the extra-curriculars the American schools offer as compared with long hours of homework. They spoke also about their trip here and how they became exchange students.

Wanda Wilhelmi, who lives on Adams in Plymouth, and Elaine Lathague from the Wayne area were both recently initiated into the Auxiliary. We hope they enjoy their association with the activities of the group.

We are sorry that Vivian Haer, Gladys McBride, and Irene Treagwell were hospitalized for surgery and wish them a very quick recovery.

Hospital Chairman, Virginia Bartel, and Cancer Chairwoman, Eleanor Gust, announce that there are still more people needed to see cancer pads. So if anyone has the time, please volunteer!

Plans for the Smorgasbord dinner are steadily progressing. Committee chairmen planning the event are: Table Arrangement, Lucinda Archer and LeMay Smith; Dining Room, Beverly Brown; Kitchen, Marian Warner; Decoration, Marilyn Wittke; Publicity, Helen Luttermoser; Clean-up, Eileen Williams; Finance, Marian Krumm; Ticket, Jennie Tallmadge.

Everyone's cooperation is needed as this is the largest function of the year. Each member is requested to find out how many tickets they can sell for each hour, 1 through 5, and obtain these tickets from chairman, Jennie Tallmadge.

Come To A Smorgasbord

The eleventh annual Smorgasbord dinner sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will be held Sunday, November 8, at the VFW Hall, at 1426 Lillie Road. General chairman, Virginia Bartel, assisted by co-chairman, Mary Schwartz, announces that plans are nearing completion for this dinner which increases its popularity each year. It will be served from beautifully decorated tables in true Smorgasbord fashion.

The menu will include turkey, ham, meatballs, molded salads, relishes and cheese, potato salad, baked beans, spaghetti, deviled eggs, scalloped potatoes, cabbage salad, bread, fish, dessert and coffee.

Dinner will be served hourly from 1 through 5 p.m. The public is requested to buy their tickets for the hour in which they wish to dine. They are assured of the same amount of food whether they come for the opening or later hours. Tickets may be purchased from Auxiliary members or ticket chairman Jennie Tallmadge at GL 3-4843.

Committee chairmen planning the event are: Table Arrangement, Lucinda Archer and LeMay Smith; Dining Room, Beverly Brown; Kitchen, Marian Warner; Decoration, Marilyn Wittke; Publicity, Helen Luttermoser; Clean-up, Eileen Williams; Finance, Marian Krumm; Ticket, Jennie Tallmadge.

World Day Community Service November 13

The Annual World Community Day Service, sponsored by the Community

Church Women will be held this year on Friday, Nov. 13, 1 p.m. at the Assembly of God Church, 42021 E. Ann Arbor Trail.

Dr. Glenn Frye, a former Plymouth resident, will be the guest speaker. He is presently pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church in Jackson, Michigan, where he now resides.

He has traveled extensively through Egypt, Palestine, Europe, Scandinavia, Japan, Philippines and China, and visited the mission work in South America.

Eight churches will participate in the program, Presbyterian, Methodist, Assembly of God, St. John's Episcopal, First Baptist, Latter Day Saints, Salvation Army, and United Lutheran.

Mrs. Walasky from the Assembly of God Church is the General Chairman.

Each year clothing is collected before the service to be distributed by Christian World Service to distressed areas throughout the world. This year they are asking especially for children's clothing and layettes, new or used.

The clothing brought in will be weighed and contributors are asked to give eight cents a pound toward the shipping costs.

Dr. Glenn M. Frye

News of the Extension Clubs

Robinson Extension Group
By Mrs. Alfred Brewer

Who may make a will? The Robinson group of the Wayne County Home Economics Cooperative Extension learned the answer to this question at their October meeting, Wednesday the 21st, at the home of Mrs. James Birkelbaw. They learned that 70 per cent of the people do not prepare wills during their life which means their estate may not be distributed as they wish. How do you get about making out a will and when should it be made along with other questions related to planning for future family welfare were part of the project lesson given by Mrs. John Ort and Mrs. John LaGrove.

Mrs. Robert Widmaier of Plymouth and Mrs. Russell Frid and Mrs. Bruce Turnbull of Northville were guests. Mrs. Russell Cunningham, co-hostess, served the dessert and coffee following the meeting which was conducted by the vice-chairman, Mrs. John Ort.

Members of the group will enjoy a lecture on vacation travel by automobile on Wednesday, October 28th, given by Carol Lane of Shell Oil Company at St. Paul's Church, Goddard Rd., Taylor, at 1:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m. Guests are welcome.

Parkside Extension Club
By Mrs. John Adams

A floral arrangement of orchid and white chrysanthemums centered the buffet table at the home of Mrs. John Adams, 655 Jener for the Oct. 19 meeting of the Parkside Extension Club.

Mrs. Harold Shirley turned the tables when she gave the lesson on "Casserole Cookery" by dividing the group, and having the guests prepare the buffet lunch. Two planned casserole dishes were made, also a tossed green salad, and garlic flavored bread.

Mrs. Shirley stressed the need for high protein content in our meals, and gave a helpful hint for meal planning. "Many casseroles may be prepared ahead and stored in the freezer for busy days."

Mrs. Ansley Osborn was welcomed as a visitor and a prospective club member.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Stone of 9324 Morrison on November 16.

WCTU Convention Pledges Dethrone of Alcoholism

The Hotel Doherty was headquarters for the WCTU convention. The women (and men honorary members) met there for luncheons and dinners. Meetings were held at Clare First Methodist Church.

This proved to be an outstanding convention because the World W.C.T.U. president, Miss Isabel McCorkindale from Brisbane, Queensland, Australia, and Mrs. Indul Pakh of Korea were in attendance throughout the three days.

Mrs. Eva May Rowley, state president, conducted the meetings, assisted by other state officers including the state treasurer, Plymouth's Clara Patterson Todd.

Mrs. Pakh addressed the capacity group Wednesday evening on her work in Korea. She recalled the fact that the first treaty made by Korea with any country was with the United States in 1892, a treaty for trade and commerce. Christian missionaries, Methodist and Presbyterian, showed them "the road of God, a God of love. Quoting from the Bible "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly," she said, "How could you have an abundant life by drinking alcoholic beverages?"

Women in Korea had no opportunity for education until 73 years ago, when a school was started by Protestant missionaries. Now they have universities. Since all pupils could not pay for college, Mrs. Pakh has been working toward helping them by establishing a college patterned after that in Berea, Kentucky. She calls it Berea in Korea, and money she earns from lecturing and from sale of her book, "September Monkey" goes to help this college. Mrs. Pakh's husband is now teaching at Central Michigan University, and their daughter is attending Wayne State University.

Miss McCorkindale, a very attractive, tiny, forceful woman, addressed a very large audience Thursday evening. She had just come from the World Convention in Mexico City, and announced that "W.C.T.U. is holding the torch in 70 countries."

She has been Australia's representative at the United Nations, and also as vice-president of World W.C.T.U. for 12 years and now as World W.C.T.U. president, has had much opportunity to acquaint herself with world conditions. She said that when General Marshall was asked the most vulnerable spot in defenses of the United States, he answered that it was in the cocktail lounges of Washington, D.C.

She called attention to the fact that the highest consumption of alcohol in the U.S. is in the national capital, and that the same is true in Australia. In Sweden, a research committee is studying the effects of alcohol. A group there has been formed, she told us, with the motto "We stand for no alcohol in driving," and today one hundred thousand motorists wear their badge. Fruitgrowers joined in providing better fruit drinks, and restaurants have a beverage list instead of a wine list. Switzerland found alcohol to be its No. 1 health hazard, and the government told fruitgrowers it would subsidize them if they would find ways of using fruit juices, and a laboratory established for the purpose developed many new fruit drinks. "We must dethrone Alcohol," said Miss McCorkindale.

Attending the convention from the Plymouth, Livonia area were Mrs. Clara P. Todd, Mrs. George Rowley, Mrs. G. I. Friday, Mrs. Mabel Parker, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. Shelters, and Mrs. Ethel Gracy.

Serbia, which had been a vassal principality of Turkey since 1389, was established as an independent kingdom by the treaty of Berlin in 1878.

THERE WAS FUN aplenty at the Midnight Madness promotion sponsored by Plymouth merchants last Monday night. Most stores opened their doors at 7 p.m. and kept them open until midnight. Shown are some of the shoppers who bought sugar at super-bargain prices. Pumpkins were given away.

St. John's Churchwomen Annual Christmas Bazaar To Be Held November 19

The early Christmas shopping will find a wide selection of attractive gift items at the annual bazaar being sponsored by women of St. John's Episcopal Church on Thursday, November 19.

For several weeks the busy church women have been meeting in workshop sessions preparing for the event which will be held from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. in St. John's Hall.

Chairman of the bazaar is Mrs. James Hardimon, assisted by her co-chairman, Mrs. Chester Teasel. The committee is composed of Mrs. Donald Whitsett, Mrs. Harry Draper, Mrs. William Scott and Mrs. Walter Breed. Decorations: Mrs. Douglas Berry and Mrs. Robert F. Anderson, publicity.

Miss Ruth Rounselle are in charge of the sewing booth which will feature aprons, needlework and special gift articles.

A tea shop of which Mrs. Howard Beck and Mrs. Joseph Thom are in charge will be opened in the morning for snack service and light luncheons will also be available by reservation.

Pretty and gay holiday decorations will be found in the Christmas booth of which Mrs. Robert Hameister is chairman and unusual surprises will be available in "grab bags" at the booth of which Mrs. John Eley and Mrs. Joseph Fink are in charge. Another section which should prove to be lots of fun is the white elephant booth of which Mrs. James Scott is chairman.

POSTMASTER George Timpona of Plymouth, right, is shown with Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield in front of a model of an automatic and customer-operated self-service postal sub-station designed for around-the-clock operation. It was shown at an exhibition in Detroit. The model is part of a dramatic and unusual "parade of postal progress" exhibition in Detroit which featured new equipment that has been developed in connection with the Post Office Department's effort to provide better mail service for American people.

350 Plymouth Folks See Lunts In Flawless Farewell Appearance

Plymouth folks who attended the Oct. 21 performance of "The Visit" at the Schubert Theatre saw a lot of familiar faces in the audience, and on stage saw magnificent performances by the theatre world's most outstanding team, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fountaine.

It was "Plymouth Symphony Night" at the Schubert Wednesday of last week—a fund-raising experiment of the Symphony Women that netted $750 for the orchestra. The women sold 400 tickets to the play with about 350 of them going to Plymouth people. So it was no surprise to see the faces of neighbors down the block and other friends throughout the audience.

The effort proved to be such a success that the group is negotiating for other theatre night performances, perhaps the highly-acclaimed musical comedy, "The Music Man," scheduled for the Riviera next year.

"The Visit" is a play that will not be easily forgotten by the audience. The "home-of the play—that of man's greed and how he will react to the big dollar sign—was not unusual. But it was told in an unusual manner that embroiled audiences in much discussion afterward.

Lunt, who played the role of Anton Schell, a well-respected small town merchant "somewhere in Europe," was the victim of the town's greed. Miss Fountaine played the role of a wealthy woman who returned to her hometown to gain revenge for a wrong committed in her youth. The town, dying because all its industry had left, welcomed the wealthy lady with hopes that she will give financial support.

She offers fantastic sums to the town and each individual on one condition—that the injustice she suffered years ago be corrected. This could only be done by offering the life of Schell.

Townpeople emphatically reject her condition, but suddenly Schell finds people buying everything on credit—credit that would be impossible to pay off unless Schell's life was delivered. In the end, his life is taken and the town is paid off in accordance with the agreement.

The New York cast of 35 headed by Lunt and Fountaine turned in flawless performances and the execution of the drama was a fitting farewell to the stage by the husband and wife team. They plan to retire after completing this nationwide tour.

N. Michigan Lodge Is For Older Folks

An after-noon lodge for retirees, in scenic Northern Michigan, is a new project of Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe, formerly of Plymouth.

Her lodge is located on Lake Michigan, just south of Leland, near Traverse City. For several years it has been a popular summer resort but the change in operations resulted, Mrs. Jolliffe said, "from realizing just what a need there is for such a facility for elderly men and women."

The cost is $200 per month which includes "heartily meals."

"The countryside is no less beautiful in spring, fall or winter than it is in summer," said the manager. "Nor is there any less need and desire for companionship, pleasant, warm accommodations and good food by older folks."

The main lodge contains nine bedrooms, as well as spacious living, dining and game rooms. There also are five cottages. Although near M-22 he lodge is screened by hills and woods.

The first steam locomotive to operate commercially in the United States was the Stourbridge Lion, which was imported from England in 1829.

CITY MANAGER'S CORNER

By ALBERT GLASSFORD

Each year about this time we are concerned about the heating apparatus in our homes. Generally, all we need do is turn up the thermostat and our homes are comfortably warm. We rely heavily upon the men who install and service our heating equipment, for most of us aren't qualified to know the details of proper heating installation.

It is reassuring to know that through one of the city's boards of our city we are protected from improper and inadequate heating work. The Board of Heating Examiners was created to insure that persons engaged in the heating business are well qualified for their work.

Our Building Inspector checks for a safe installation, and the Board of Heating Examiners checks the ability of the contractors to do the work. And here we pause to say—be sure you deal with a contractor you know, or at least obtain two quotations for work to be installed or changed. We have heard of outrageous prices being charged by outside contractors, so investigate before you sign a contract.

The Board of Heating Examiners is created by our Heating Ordinance. The Board of Examiners is made up of at least five members, who are appointed by the mayor with the advice and approval of the city commission. The members must be citizens of the United States, residents of Plymouth, and they must be qualified in the knowledge and mechanics of the heating business. One of the members is a citizen at large and must be a mechanical engineer, two of the members represent the city and two represent the heating business.

The main responsibility of the Board of Examiners is determining the qualifications and ability of applicants for a heating license. This determination is done through an examination which is required by the Board. The examination may be oral or written and must cover such things as the theory and practice of heating construction and engineering and the interpretation of charts, blueprints and plans for heating installations.

After the examination is given, the Board files with the Building Department a written report of its findings and recommendations. No heating license can be issued until the applicant has taken the examination. However, a heating contractor who is licensed in some other community may be licensed in Plymouth if his home community has substantially the same standards, and will accept heating contractors licensed in Plymouth.

The Board of Examiners is the body which decides whether or not a heating contractor can participate in this reciprocal arrangement.

Under special or hardship conditions, the Board of Heating Examiners, at its discretion, can approve the use of materials or methods of procedure which do not appear in our Heating Code. An example of such a special condition would be when certain materials are unavailable because of some type of National Emergency.

The Board of Examiners is also authorized to hear and conduct appeals from rulings and decisions of the Building Inspector. In such a case, however, the Building Inspector is not permitted to sit as a member of the Board or to vote on any question that may be raised.

The Board can also conduct investigations on all matters which have to do with the effective operation and application of the heating code. Finally, the Board of Heating Examiners can make whatever rules and regulations it feels are necessary for carrying out their duties.

Another citizen board which performs a similar function is the Board of Electrical Examiners. It, too, operates under a reciprocal licensing arrangement with other communities. By adopting "reciprocal" heating codes and electrical codes, there is a uniformity of demands on contractors and an easier inspection task because each contractor knows what, in general, is expected in the several reciprocal communities. In other words, our requirements, in general, are the same as the City of Detroit, Plymouth Township or Pontiac.

License Suspended

During the past week the driving licenses of 289 Michigan drivers were suspended and those of 29 were revoked.

According to James M. Hare, Secretary of state, suspensions are temporary withdrawals of the driving privilege up to a maximum of one year. A license which has been revoked is terminated and is not, as is usual with suspensions, automatically re-instated after the period of suspension has ended.

Licenses of Plymouth area drivers suspended or revoked during the week were Roy Fred Schmidt, 8660 Haggerty, and Augusta Sutherland, 1142 S. Main.

Sparkman Prods Plymouth to League Title

SPORTSEEN

By BILL NELSON

Solid as the Rock of Plymouth is the 1959 Plymouth High School football defense. "It was the defense that I was most worried about at the start of the season," Coach John Hoben says, "but they have come along wonderfully."

Hoben cited the fact that Plymouth has scored four shutouts this season, three of them in the last three games. "David Beach did a tremendous job at defensive end," Hoben said, "and Ray Liimakka did a very good job at the other end during the game."

By the time Hoben felt adequate credit was given, he had practically read the defensive roster, saying "Cary Black (guard) had a good night offensively and defensively. Our tackles, Art Anderson, Ralph Spigarelli and Walter Smith did a real good job, cutting down their ends."

"Because of the condition of the field it was necessary to pull tackles on offense, the guards (who normally have this job) couldn't get to the outside fast enough," Hoben said, "and the tackles performed well."

"Bob Monteth, our junior center, did a good job," Hoben added, "and Dave Breen played a strong game." Hoben's voice nearly twinkled when he ponders the idea that next year he will have three guards, three ends, three tackles and two center backs from this year's squad.

For this season the Coach grows positively ecstatic when talking about Sparkman and Egloff. "Durable and hard" are words he invokes in talking of the mighty senior halfback, Sparkman.

He carried the ball 21 times against Allen Park, 22 against Trenton, 22 against Belleville in the mud, 13 against Bentley and 19 against Northville. Against Redford Union he carried only 7 times, but the Rocks had no trouble in that game.

At various other times Hoben has described him as "our bread and butter man", "rugged" and a "real football player."

Without question he is the best running back that has been on either side of the field in Plymouth games. It would take a good deal of proof to convince a non-partisan judge that there is a better running back (or linebacker) in the state of Michigan.

It's inconceivable that there could be a worse night for offense than the Belleville game last week—it was the type of night that makes hard football pay-off. It was Wayne Sparkman's kind of night.

Randy Egloff is the other young man who sends Hoben into pigskin dreamland. The little field general took to the air in the Belleville game like it was a sunny summer day. In the second quarter he set up the first touchdown with two passes where we mortals would have needed wind shield wipers to see the receivers.

Egloff can run when necessary; he does the punting, kicks the extra points and in general contributes poise and leadership to Plymouth wins. His most brilliant display was the Trenton game, when he took the team 60 yards in 12 plays (8 passes) with only 1 minute and 45 seconds left.

It's probably asking too much from one area to have two players selected All-State, but I wouldn't want to be the one who left either of these men off an All-State team.

Last Home Game Is Thurston

Plymouth will be seeking its sixth win tomorrow night at 8 p.m. when Thurston High School will be entertained in the Rocks' last home contest of 1959.

Thurston has won two and lost four, while Plymouth has been beaten only by Trenton 14-13 in their climb to a three-way tie for the Suburban Six championship.

Thurston has beaten Inkster, Roosevelt and Schaeffer, but has lost to Maumee, Taylor Center, Riverview and Garden City.

Thurston uses a variety of formations, including a winged - T, split - T, straight - T, spread and single wing formations. They have a big line and small backs.

Plymouth Coach John Hoben is concerned that "Thurston could cause a lot of trouble; our kids may be let down after winning the championship last week."

Last year Plymouth won 38-0.

Wayne Slogs 210 Yds; Rocks Stop Tigers, 19-0

Fullback Wayne Sparkman slogged 210 yards through the mud last Friday as Plymouth splashed past Belleville 19-0 to squeeze a one-third share of the 1959 Suburban Six League championship.

Bentley and Trenton are co-champions with Plymouth. All have won four and lost one in league play.

Sparkman, five feet ten and 180 pounds, carried 22 times and gained all the Plymouth yards on muddy turf except two yards credited to Quarterback Randy Egloff, the only other back to carry the ball on the ground for Plymouth.

Running from a halfback slot on pitchouts, the rugged Rock twisted, bumped and drove to two touchdowns, while piling up a 9.5 average per carry through a sea of mud.

Early in the second period he ducked around right end four yards to score through the heavy drizzle. Egloff's kick slipped off to the right and Plymouth led 6-0.

On the first play after the half-time kickoff, Sparkman floated wide to his left from the Plymouth 37, burst inside end, got a good block at the 48 and left three defenders in his wake as he roared 63 yards to score. Egloff's pass for the extra point was incomplete and Plymouth led 12-0.

Later in the third period Belleville punted out of bounds on the Plymouth 15. On the first play Sparkman stepped through a 10 man Belleville line which was trying to stem the tide, splatted into the clear on a draw play and set sail for midfield.

Here he ran aground of two Tigers, but he bumped them under, and churned into the clear again. At the Belleville 23, the ball squirted from his trap, but he dove on it before the defenders could catch up. This 62 yard effort was the first offensive play for Plymouth (and Sparkman) after he had gone 63 yards to score after the second half kickoff.

Rarely have Rock fans been treated to such a one man running show. Sparkman's uniform looked like he had just stepped from a mud-bath.

His brilliant running was augmented by some slipper, but accurate passing by quarterback Egloff. The point guard downpour, Egloff fired 20 passes and completed nine for 102 yards. In addition he picked off a fourth period Belleville pass and pounded 42 yards for the final touchdown. He booted the point and Plymouth led 19-0.

Egloff's passing set up the first touchdown. He was trapped twice 15 yards behind the line before he hit Sparkman on the Plymouth

33. Sparkman took it to the Belleville 46. On the next play in the heavy drizzle, Egloff passed again, this time finding Art Nelson on the Belleville 40. Nelson skirted to the 10 yard line before he was knocked out of bounds. A few plays later Sparkman took it in for the first score.

The defensive line played to its third consecutive shut-out and its fourth of the season. Belleville was limited to 86 yards rushing and 83 passing by the Rock defense. In addition they picked off three of Belleville's 10 passes.

Approximately 2,500 fans of both schools weathered the four periods of drizzle. At halftime they were witness to an amazing performance by the 70-piece Belleville Band.

The Plymouth band put on its usual good halftime show, but local pride must defer to the intricate maneuvers of the Belleville band, this year at least.

JV's Lose Second

Frosh To Play At Home

A touchdown in the last minute and 10 seconds sent Plymouth's Junior Varsity to its second defeat in five games last Thursday at Allen Park.

The JV's met Thurston today at 4 p.m. at Thurston and will attempt to inject some scoring punch that was lacking at Allen Park. Three times the Rocks were inside the 10 yard line but failed to take it in.

In addition, a 45 yard end run by halfback Gary Minto for a "touchdown" was called back in the second period for illegal procedure.

Good Counsel Battles To 13-6 Victory

Mud and muck appeared to make the Good Counsel team mad last Saturday, and they went all out to beat St. Mary's of Wayne, 13-6. Both teams were evenly balanced in weight and ability, this adding to an exciting afternoon contest, partially dampened by a heavy rainfall.

Our Lady of Good Counsel scored early in the game on a breakaway run that demonstrated good offensive blocking on the part of the line. St. Mary's game came back and tied the game in the next quarter on a well-timed pass.

With the start of the second half, a steady drizzle and a few brief showers kept the offensive maneuvers at a standstill, with each team being forced to lose the ball after a series of plays. It wasn't until the final two minutes that the deciding touchdown came.

Punting from their own 15 yard line, the boys from Wayne booted the wet ball 11 to their 35. The Plymouthites immediately returned the punt for a goal, along with the aid of fine team blocking. That clinched the win, giving Good Counsel a 2-3 record in CYO league competition.

The final home game for the local Catholic school will be this Saturday noon at Haggerty Field. Sts. Peter and Paul from Detroit will be the opponents.

PHS Runs to Sixth Dual Win in a Row

Plymouth runners took their sixth straight dual win last Friday 15-47 over Belleville, but placed second in the Clarenceville Invitational with Jeff Huntington out of action.

Dave Westover was first, Huntington second, Dave Mynatt, third, Dave Rank, fourth and Byron Lattie, fifth as the Rocks took all five first places against Belleville. Tony Hunt was seventh and Chuck Bowers ninth in this meet. Westover's winning time was 10:14 and Huntington was close with a 10:15.

Without Huntington, who was ill the Rocks placed second with 62 1/2 points in the Clarenceville Invitational last Wednesday. Thurston was first with 31 points, Bentley third with 89. Redford Union was fourth tied with Melvindale at 110 points each. Oak Park trailed with 147 points.

Westover led the Rocks in this meet with a 11:15 for fourth place. Rank was tenth, Mynatt, 14; Lattie 17th and Hunt 18th.

Saturday Plymouth will participate in the 31st State Regionals at Farmington Country Club. The Suburban Six League Championship meet was held Monday at Cass Benton Park.

Give responsibility — NOT FOR SALE! You can't buy your way out of the responsibility to take part in the affairs of your community. If you live in this Plymouth area, work here or have a business here YOU have a stake in this community whether you are ready to admit it or not. This is true of any community for that matter.

There are many who think you can buy your way out of the duty you owe your city, state or nation. Quite a few firms and individuals plunk money into certain community organizations with the idea that this is sufficient for them. It is an easy way out for them they think. Where the difficulty comes is when they realize that they have been supporting a cause that is not doing for them what they wanted it to do.

Another easy way out for some is to hire lobbyists on state and national levels of legislative process. Little do they know how really ineffective, in many cases, are the efforts of the pro vote swinger.

On an individual basis, there are many businessmen of intelligence and experience who feel that influence is wielded by he who, with a flourish, picks up the tab either at dinner or in paying into his Chamber of Commerce.

Well, if money is not the answer, what is the key to civic responsibility? It is YOUR PARTICIPATION. It's just that simple or just that difficult. It means the opposite of the one who serves on boards and committees for the purpose of "sitting" or for prestige, or just to talk. It is the opposite of the great mass of otherwise sensible people who sit off in a corner without participating and then, like children, claim that everything is run by a clique.

Well, let's get positive about this subject of civic responsibility. It means that you allow time to decide what you want to see done, that you realize that it can only be effectively done by groups of people where you can't achieve it by yourself. It depends on the old Yankee theory that the majority rules. Groups of people are effective only if they are well organized, well led and are permitted to participate as

"SOUTH PACIFIC," the big Rodgers and Hammerstein hit of Broadway, is now on film with Mitzi Gaynor playing the leading female role. The gay musical comes to Plymouth on Wednesday, Nov. 4 and plays for seven days. Also in the cast are Rossano Brazzi, John Kerr and France Nuyen. The comedy will be shown at the P & A Theatre on Penniman Ave.

Throngs Attend Open House Event

More than 42,000 people visited First Federal offices during the 7-day Open House celebration that commemorated the 25th anniversary of First Federal Savings of Detroit, says Perry W. Richwine, vice president and branch manager of First Federal's office at 843 Penniman Avenue, Plymouth.
 Full-page advertising in the Plymouth Mail was an important part of the program that attracted so many thousands to the First Federal celebration.
 Following the open house which ended October 23rd, First Federal announces that it will continue for a time to give a packet of 15 foreign coins to all who open new $5 savings accounts. This will allow many additional people, who were not at the open house, to benefit by this attractive offer. These are real coins in actual use today in far off lands. First Federal pays 3 1/2 per cent current rate on savings accounts, which are insured to $10,000 by Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

Hotelmen Meet For 46th Year

Ralph G. Lorenz of the Mayflower Hotel, Plymouth is planning to attend the 46th annual Michigan Hotel Association in Detroit October 27 through 31.
 More than 20 Michigan hotelmen and a few visitors from nearby states will attend, according to Jerry Moore president of the Michigan Hotel Association and managing director of the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel.
 Many of Detroit's hotelmen will host the hotelmen. However, the meetings will be held at the Pick-Fort Shelby and the Sheraton Cadillac.
 Friday's program will include a talk by Hon. Frank J. Schemanski, Recorder-Court Judge and president of the Detroit Civic Center Commission to be followed by a group tour of Detroit's new waterfront development. Another highlight is a talk by Arthur Flynn of the Bedford Inn at Fort Bedford, Pennsylvania, who is president of the Hotel Greeters of America.
 The newly elected president of the American Hotel Association, Vernon Herndon of Chicago's Palmer House will address the hotelmen Saturday. Other Saturday addresses will be made by Thomas Roumel, Detroit regional director of the National Labor Relations Board and Walter Noack, director of enforcement of the Michigan State Liquor Commission.

Smith 3rd Graders To Take Field Trip

Thirty-four third grade students from Smith School of Plymouth will meet at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 3.
 This group, supervised by Mrs. Florence Levanna of Smith School will take a field trip to study plant and animal life along a "nature trail" of the park.
 The field trip will be conducted by Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority of which the park is a unit.

The death rate from cancer has decreased 15 per cent for women and risen 8 per cent for men in 15 years.
 The game now known as softball was originally called "kitten ball" and later as "diamond ball."

 It's not every day that you have the opportunity to view a Rodgers and Hammerstein financial "flop." "Allegro" is the production that I'm alluding to and Wayne State University has just finished performing the show. A local Detroit critic saw the show and cut the production into bleeding ribbons.
 My feelings about "Allegro" fall into the so-so category. I'm afraid that I would lay most of the blame at the feet of Rodgers and Hammerstein. After so many fine productions like "Oklahoma," "Carousel," and "South Pacific," these top Broadway musical comedy writers deserve to have a clinker every now and then. You can't write hits all the time.
 Biggest problem with "Allegro" was the story of the show. Music had a melodious lilt to it that finds old George humming many of the tunes. R and H started out with a realistic treatment of the life story of a young doctor. They take him from year one to year twenty-five in Act I. Act II turns into a satire of the medical profession. Our happy authors should have thrown this idea out of the window and stayed with their original concept.
 I'd like to see a high school group take "Allegro." Act I only, and give it a rousing production. It could be done very easily. You might have to add one song from the section called "Allegro" and you'd be all set. Might be a good production to have in our new High School auditorium during the season of 1962.

Russ Smith, director and assigner for the Wayne State production of "Allegro," fashioned a fast-moving and excellent show out of the miserable material given by two top Broadway writers. Russ deserves better material. His production of "The Boy Friend" last year still remains vivid in my theatrical memories.
 What's on the immediate theatrical horizon? For musical lovers, the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of George Szell will be at the Masonic Temple on Monday, November 2nd. The Cleveland Orchestra has a unique style—many critics claim its unique style combines American virtuosity and finish with a European abandon and depth of music-making.
 For Jack Parr's TV followers... Hans Conreid will be in town at the Cass Theater with "Tall Story." This comedy has plenty of laughs and should give all of us a chance to see Mr. Conreid at his satirical best. For French farce followers... roll over to Ann Arbor and see "Horse Eats Hat" at the Lydia Mendelsohn Theater on the University campus.

To The Editor
 Editor:
 I have just read your column "Facts and Opinions" from The Livonian of Oct. 22, 1959.
 I just wish this could have occupied the whole front page.
 I feel very strongly as you evidently did to write an article such as this.
 I feel we should all stop and take stock of just which way our society is going; it might scare us.
 I had read your article after arriving home from a session in a course I am taking called "The Christopher Leadership Course," perhaps you have heard of it. It was founded by Father Keller.
 The basic ideas in the course are to correct the disease mentioned in your editorial, that disease of letting the ends justify the means.
 Keep up the fine editorials and as Father Keller puts it, "It is better to light one candle than to curse the darkness."

And just one short week ahead... "Mister Roberts" sails into port with its rowdy crew. Our local citizens in the Plymouth Theater Guild will be coveting in this salty tale of World War II. Get your tickets now and avoid being disappointed. Al Murock, who plays the Doc, informs me that he will be serving his famous raisin cocktail during intermission time.
 Jack Wilcox, corresponding secretary and one of the Theater Guild's board members, has a request. Seems that the costumes from this play and other shows are piling up. Last year an urgent appeal was made for trunks to store the costumes. Guess we didn't make the plea in too clear a manner for all the Guild received were four pairs of size 42 bathing trunks. Please no old bathing trunks. The Guild would like all of us to search in the attic. If you find you have an old trunk, the kind you store clothes in, contact Phyllis Kelly at Glenview 3-4322. Phyllis will put the wheels into operation so that your trunk can be picked up.
 Speaking of Phyllis reminds me that she has been mightily busy with her hubby, Tom and son Donn preparing not only the "Mister Roberts" set, but also the scenery for a ballet to be presented in Ann Arbor. Saving the beautiful set she was doing the other evening out of the Workshop. This gal has more talent in her little finger than many of us have in five pairs of hands and two heads.
 The "idiot box" or as some of us more fondly know it—the television set—has been presenting some fairly decent programs. The American Heritage series opens up with "Divided We Stand." Ralph Bellamy did justice to the part of Tom Jefferson even though the show moves rather slowly. For students of American History and all citizens interested in America's early growing pains the American Heritage series bears close scrutiny.
 "The Turn of the Screw" with Ingrid Bergman was top-drawer dramatic work that just opened in downtown Detroit at the United Artist. It's the latest in a new cycle of films with religious themes.

 Channel 55, the Educational TV UHF station, has a novel program on Tuesday evenings at 8:30 p.m., entitled "Conversation in The Arts." The unique aspect of this program is that it is "open-ended." This means it may continue until the participants are finished answering questions phoned in or if and when the panel members feel they are finished. The other evening the show went on for an hour and a half. The only other cities with such "open-ended" programs are Chicago and New York. Dave Tuskind, the TV producer, has such a program on Channel 13 in the New York area. Other night the show went on for four hours. The show goes on the air at 11 p.m.
 Time to turn off the set for another week. See you in seven days with more information about "The Big Fisherman," a Buena Vista production

Parkview Circle Area Welcomes New Residents, Babies and Birthdays

By JOAN COSLOW
GL 3-5029

Mr. Abe Kooiman returned Friday evening from a trip to Chicago where he attended the National Safety Congress and Exposition. Mr. Kooiman, who is a safety engineer with Burroughs Company, spent the week attending lectures, movies, and discussions on all phases of safety, some of which include safety factors in industry, school, government, factory, transportation, farm, food, home, and radiation.

Last week Mrs. James Sponseller and her daughters, Ellen, Holly, and Gail visited the girls' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bergen and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sponseller in Bucyrus, Ohio. The trip was especially eventful because this was the first journey away from home for Gail, who is just five months old.

Carl and Mary Taylor announce the birth of a daughter on Saturday, October 17. The Taylors also have a little boy, Allen, just 19 months old.

Two families, who were natives of Garling Subdivision, have moved to their new homes this week. Ted and Doris Kuhns and their three daughters, Grace, Vicky, and Cindy, are now residing on Ann Arbor Road near Beck. Bud and Dorothy Wilson and children, Theresa and Larry will be the Kuhns' new neighbors on Beck Road.

On Saturday, October 24, Helen and Walt Lake visited the new offices of the Prudential Insurance Company on Plymouth Road.

There're many news items from Starkweather School this week. The PTA will hold a baked ham dinner on November 10 in the school gym. Dinner will be served at 5:00, 5:45 and 6:30; tickets will be $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for school children and 25 cents for pre-school children. Tickets may be purchased from the children at the school and members of the PTA. Girl Scout Troop 230 from Starkweather will help serve the dinner and the Brownie Troop will make the table decorations. Mrs. Cline-Smith, chairman of the dinner, and her committee comprised of Mrs. Zoet, Ruland, Wilamowski, Coslow, Raufflaub, Way, Hone, Henny, Simmonds, Grimmer, Rudliff, and Mrs. Stiglich, are most anxious to have a successful dinner because this will be the only money-making project sponsored by the PTA this year.

Scoutmaster Raufflaub and Mr. Harold Kendall accompanied six boys of Troop P-3 on a fishing expedition to Herring Lake. The boys were Jay Kendall, David Raufflaub, Jim Lytle, Tony Snowden, Johnny Wilamowski and Tommy Cline-Smith.

Girl Scout Troop 230 visited the Parmenter Cider Mill in Northville on Saturday morning. Accompanying the 10 girls were Mrs. Cline-Smith, the troop leader, Mrs. Lickfeldt, and Mrs. Wheeler.

Three new Cub Scout troops have been formed at Starkweather School. As yet the troops are unnamed, but the leaders will be Mrs. Wilamowski, Mrs. Stiglich and Mrs. Lickfeldt. All of the troops mentioned above are sponsored by Starkweather—needless to say, things at the school are moving along at a rapid pace despite the fact that school has only been in session a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore spent an enjoyable week traveling to Copper Harbor, and as Ann Moore described it "about as far as you can go in Michigan." Debbie Moore, age four, was elated with the first taste of snow this season. On the return trip the family visited Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moore in Mecosta.

Parkview Circle was in a festive mood last Friday night as Harold and Madeline Kendall honored Dick Papes, who was celebrating his birthday, by giving, as Brother Webster would say, a real "shindy." Some of those who helped Dick celebrate were his wife, Barbara, the Jack Rulands, Betty and Ron Lehman, Annette and Gordie Robinson from Detroit, the Jack Kells, the Mills, the Jim Sponsellers, Lorance and Joe Quinan, Abe and Rosemary Kooiman, Al and Joyce Truax and, of course, Mr. Bacchus.

Mrs. Robert Fitzner is supervising a family style dinner for the Methodist Youth Fellowship which will be held in conjunction with the Country Fair-Bazaar on Thursday, Nov. 5 at the Methodist Church. Dinner will start at 5:30 with a second serving at 6:30. Those of you who are interested in attending may still get tickets from Betty Fitzner.

Plymouth High School

By Gloria Bowles

The future. Career. College. Grades.

Plymouth seniors are, at present concerned—and a little worried about just these. Heard every day is this kind of conversation:

George... where are you going to school?
Monica... Oh, I don't know... I'm not even sure about what I want to take... I'd like to go out East, I think. But I'll probably end up in Michigan if I don't decide pretty soon... Oh Creep... What about you?
George... I think I want to go to New York or some place like that, too. But my grades...

And so it goes. But they talk about other things too, as:

The outstanding showing of Peter Alford and Jeff Huntington on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, in which the two outscored 555,000 nationwide classmates, and became Merit semi-finalists. Pete and Jeff face a rigorous three hour examination on December 5, in which Merit finalists will be determined.

The fact that Susan Hulsing, Lee Feldkamp, and Barbara Steencken scored in the 99 percentile in the spring tests... excellent.

The large number of scholarships for which seniors may apply—those interested should contact the guidance office.

Lovely first marking period report cards, which overjoyed students took home yesterday.

The group of girls who have already made career decisions—the Future Teachers. They have recently elected new club officers. President is Mary Newingham, vice-president Karen Kaunisto, secretary Mary Hinckley, and treasurer Michelle Bender.

And they spoke of another group of young women, those who aspire to be home-makers. The Future Home-makers club had a formal initiation at President Alice Olendorf's home; 22 became members of the club.

The first debate panel discussion, held yesterday at Plymouth Union with Plymouthites discussing "What Will Be Best for the United States?"

Dr. Salim Habib, a Pakistan student at the University of Michigan, who visited a week ago and spoke to Mr. John Hopkins' French classes... a very interesting person. Dr. Habib answered student questions about the Muslim religion, Pakistan's political structure, its educational facilities—70 per cent of the country's people are illiterate. He so interested students that some were ready to pack their bags and board a plane for Pakistan in an effort to help the people.

The appearance of another Michigan student at the high school, Llovd Jensen, who spoke of the "United Nations and Its Functions" at the UN noon assembly of the international relations class last Friday.

The other assembly last Friday, this one a Cheerleader's Pep Rally... the fine football weather for the game, and what a shame it was that John Salan wasn't playing... fans also observed that this week's game, with Walled Lake, will also be played on home grounds.

Dick Turpin, the English highwayman, was only about 30 years old when hanged at York in 1739.

Another Men's Store Opens At Wonderland

Opening of a store in Wonderland Shopping Center Thursday, October 29, will mark another stride in the growth of Hughes & Hatcher-Harry Sufirin.

The company formed a month ago by the merger of two pioneer Detroit retailers is now the world's largest men's specialty store in one community and carries the largest concentration of nationally known men's and women's apparel lines under one roof.

Hughes & Hatcher-Harry Sufirin's Wonderland store, the firm's ninth, will be the largest apparel store in the new shopping center and the largest in Western Wayne County.

Separate selling areas in the 12,000 square foot store will be devoted to men's clothing, men's shoes and furnishings, women's apparel, sportswear and boy's wear.

A unique feature of the new store will be a 150 ft. abstract mural, executed in colored marble chips embedded in concrete by Marjorie Kreilick, University of Wisconsin professor of fine arts. This runs the entire length of the exterior east wall.

Inside the store, another mural, on a landscape theme, forms the backdrop of the women's departments.

Van Dyke Named MONY Sales Leader

Fred Van Dyke, of 9585 Joy Road, has been named one of Mutual of New York's sales leaders for the month of September. Van Dyke was third in number of policies sold in MONY's Central region. The company has more than 3,500 underwriters, of whom about 900 are in the Central region. Van Dyke is associated with the Detroit agency managed by Neal D. Brubaker, located in the Buhl Building.

Australia now has about 7,000 aborigines, compared with 300,000 when the first white settlers arrived in 1788.

Hughes & Hatcher Harry Suffrin

Wonderland

a fine new store to bring you quality apparel for men, women and boys . . . with values you can count on . . . every day!

The opening of our Wonderland store not only means we can offer you a bigger chain of stores . . . but a better chain of stores as well. For as we increase in size, our ability to serve you also increases. This is manifest in many ways.

By purchasing for more stores, we are able to buy for less, and in turn sell for less. This is clearly demonstrated in the values you find in every department . . . not only during our big opening sale, but every day of the year.

It means better services—with a better-coordinated staff of salespeople and tailors, delivery and service personnel.

It means a further step in our position of style leadership in men's wear. You can count on being among the first in the country to be informed of important style trends and new ideas.

It means excellent assortments at more convenient locations, for now there are H&H-HS stores within twenty minutes of virtually any home in greater Detroit.

We're pleased indeed to welcome this newest addition to our ever-growing H&H-HS family—which will carry all the famous brands offered at all the other H&H-HS stores.

We hope you'll join us in the celebration sale that's going on now at all nine Hughes & Hatcher-Harry Suffrin stores. There's one in your neighborhood, so come in and take advantage of these values . . . now, and always.

Canton Township Full of Spooks and Goblins

ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL. 3-0194

With hunting season here and Halloween well on its way, it looks like things will remain topsy turvy for a while at least, but some folks have managed to escape all this.

Back from a very pleasurable trip recently are Mr. and Mrs. Witherby of Beck Rd. The Witherbys spent 10 days touring New York State where they visited with their daughter and husband and two grandchildren. Besides their visit with relatives, the couple visited some interesting places while on their trip.

Last week we informed you that the Donald Walbridge family had a new son, but were unable to introduce him by name. The new Walbridge son shall be known as Bryon Lee.

We have some very happy and proud new grandparents in the Township. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Planchon of Geddes Rd., received word from their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Planchon now residing in Rotterdam in the Netherlands, that their first grandchild had been born, a grandson, Neil Kenneth, born Oct. 19, weighing 9 pounds. It is the Planchons first grandchild and I am informed they are very happy and anxious to meet him. Although many people might not recognize the Planchon name, they would immediately know the couple if we referred to them as the owners of the Egg & Honey Farm on Geddes Rd.

We try to keep informed on the doings of the Township Fire Department through our fire chief, Fred Korte Jr. Mr. Korte reports two fires. One barn fire, Canton Fire Department assisted Superior Township. The fire caused a total loss to a storage barn 100 ft. by 35 ft., located on Cherry Hill Rd. in Superior Twp. The owner of the barn was Margolis Nursery. The other, a grass fire, on Canton Center Rd. The firemen of the township also took part in a demonstration fire along with Salem, Superior and Plymouth Townships. The owners of a barn located on Gotschalk rd. gave their permission to burn the barn, giving the men further experience in fire-fighting.

Sometime ago I started to give a little background information to the public jobs held in the Township. Every two years we vote for people to fill these positions, but many of us do not know just what the title of the position involves. This week I called Mr. Cather, Constable, who is serving his third term. Mr. Cather explained that there are many phases to the job of constable, but in our Township, it has not been necessary to carry out the entire authority of this office. The constable for one thing, is the police officer. He has the duty of enforcing laws, i.e. seeing that every dog is li-icensed and vaccinated. He is authorized by courts to issue warrants; and all constables have a permit to carry a gun. The position is a part-time job. We have four constables in the Township, Mr. John Collins, Mr. Claire Avery, Mr. Cather and Mr. Beech. Mr. Beech, who has served in this capacity for 20 years. The constables are also authorized to issue violation tickets. Although we do not hear much about these men after they are elected to office, they are important to the township and are always on hand to serve.

Many of our township residents travel and enjoy hearing about travel. We are informed that a World Travel Series is being held at the Memorial School in Wayne, located on Glenwood. Tickets may be obtained for the series in advance at a discount, or at the door at full price. December 12 a travelogue on the West Indies will be presented by James Metcalf. Anyone interested may contact William Johnson at Parkway 1-7006.

I had a call from Mrs. John Denski now of Cherry Hill Rd. in Wayne. The Denski's, formerly of Beck Rd. in the Township, are building a new home on Lilley & Sheldon Rds., in Canton and hope to be back in the Township by Christmas. But until they are with us again, we do have some news of interest to their former friends and neighbors. On September 28, the Denski's had a new son, Michael Douglas, weighing 9 lbs. 10 oz. Congratulations and we are glad they are coming back to Canton again. Mr. Walter Herbert of 48540 Proctor Rd., reports a wonderful trip, taken with his step-daughter, Miss Marie Clinger. The couple toured through Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, and Ohio. Mr. Herbert reported that the cotton fields in the south are all flooded and they didn't find dry roads until they reached Coldwater. Mr. Herbert brought back some raw cotton which he has distributed to some of his young friends. He related that he didn't eat any white bread from the time he left home until he returned, but had his fill of biscuits and cornbread.

The two visited with friends and relatives and Mr. Herbert remembers being served an unusual meat while in Kentucky 24 years ago. He said the meat was very much like veal in taste and when relatives heard of his visit they planned the same dish. The delicious meat that Mr. Herbert was talking about was goat meat and when prepared right, he said there is none better.

Many have gone in search of that bird called a pheasant, but not all were lucky enough to come back with their trophy. Two fellows who did manage to accomplish their feat were Lawrence Longwish and Sam Grady, but I'm sure were assisted by their wives, Opal Grady and Ann Longwish who accompanied them on the jaunt.

It was the dark black night of October 23 when a group of masked figures attended a haunted house Bunco party. The services of an inexperienced photographer were requested to record the goings on. Under protest the inexperienced photographer was led by the hostess' young son back of the large farm house, down through a cellar, (who believes in ghosts), up another stairs into a room where sat creatures not from this world, all staring at one another afraid to speak for fear someone would recognize them.

As they stared at one another, pictures were flashed of the weird characters that entered the room. Except for a snicker here and there all was quiet, except for a gurgle from the new Walbridge baby son, who has just started to notice things, but couldn't believe his eyes. Finally a mop-be-wigged person arose, counted noses, couldn't account for the nose of the photographer and passed slips among the guests to vote for the best masquerader. The mop be-wigged character turned out to be the hostess for the night, Mrs. Dorothy Robertson; weird guests the members of the bunco club.

Around the room sat several pumpkins with faces that look a lot better than those of the guests and in the dining room an appropriate table for the occasion was set with an orange Halloween table cloth, candles and the traditional pumpkin. From the basement occasionally arose the wail of the banshee, the howl of a cat and the moans of who knows, a lost guest? The votes were tallied and the winner, Mrs. Gertrude Miller won the trophy for being not the prettiest by far, but the most unusual looking old man seen in the township for quite sometime.

The other guests (all ladies) included a marine, a witch, a Chinaman, a Spanish dancer, a bull-dog, old lady (not really), and just some weird characters. Now it was discovered by the photographer (inexperienced) that under those get-ups were Mrs. Doris McTurner, Mrs. Dorothy Robertson, Hostess, Mrs. Grady Hargrove, Mrs. Irma Larrick, Mrs. Lorraine Wallace, Mrs. Alberta Thomas, Mrs. Gertrude Miller, Mrs. Alpha Glass, Mrs. Virginia Wallbridge, Mrs. Donna White, Edith Aton, Mrs. Juanita Peier, all members of the club and Mrs. Mamie Provow, a special guest.

The first prize winner of the bunco game was Mrs. Glass, 2nd prize, Mrs. Miller, 3rd prize, Mrs. Wallbridge. The traveling prize winner, Mrs. Edith Aton and the Door Prize, Mrs. McTurner.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bordine of Salt Rd., who celebrated their 15th wedding anniversary.

Oct. 21. Mr. Bordine's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Bordine of Detroit hosted their celebration. They went to the Franklin Cider Mills for cider and fry cakes, toured downtown Detroit, drove around Belle Isle and ended up at the Stockholm Smorgasbord for dinner. Mrs. Bordine also reported guests this past week, Mr. and Mrs. Atwell of Seattle, Wash., and Mr. William Campbell of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Bordine said she and Mrs. Atwell had been girlfriends while in Minnesota.

Another Halloween party held in the Township. The get-together of the Beck Rd. Boys Club. The fellows drew money from their treasury and decorated their clubhouse, jumped into some rigged-up last minute costumes and had a party. The guests included Steve and David Lang, Mark, Kim and Keith Sprengel, Billy, Linda and Jeanny Plymale, Matt and Robert Carter, Cindy Nieman; also present to see that things went well was Mrs. Bill Nieman. The guests enjoyed refreshments.

Well that does it for another week. Please let us in on your parties for Halloween or any other events and don't forget, if you haven't been contacted by your National Foundation Volunteer worker as yet, chances are she has missed you so won't you call and see that your contribution is added to the Canton Township Drive. This drive is for you, your neighbors and friends in the Township.

An additional bit of information that might be of interest to the parents of the Gallimore School, the Room Mothers' bake sale, under the direction of Mrs. Homer Benoit turned out a success last Saturday at the A & P Store. Mrs. Benoit wanted to thank the ladies who assisted her at the store Saturday. She wanted me to express her gratitude to all the ladies that contributed their wonderful baked goods and to thank everyone who helped make the sale a success. As we said before, the money will go to provide refreshments for the special events that come up for the children and parents of Gallimore.

Too Fast Con' Is State's Greatest Traffic Killer

Descriptions of the greatest traffic killer in Michigan who last year caused the deaths of almost 500 people, were being posted throughout the state this week by police officials.

Named only as Too Fast Con, the police posters warned all drivers and pedestrians to be on the alert for this highway killer who fails to adjust driving speed to adverse conditions of road, weather or traffic because of ignorance, bad judgment or impatience.

Too Fast Con is the second in a series of characterized traffic law violators the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police is calling attention to as drivers who are "Unwanted in Michigan."

In police accident records, Too Fast Con is short for "speed too fast for conditions."

Police Chief Kenneth Fisher of Plymouth points out that the problem with this traffic law violator is not high speed but rather "excessive" speed in a particular situation which calls for a reduction of speed in order to maintain control of the automobile.

"Too many of our otherwise good law-abiding drivers think that if they stay within the posted speed limits of the community, or the state speed limits, of 65-55 miles per hour on the open highway, they are exercising due caution," said Chief Fisher.

"Unfortunately, though these drivers think they are legally correct they may be violating the law which insists that speed be reasonable and proper. Conditions of road, weather and other traffic often change the speed requirements of what is reasonable and proper at that time and in that location," Chief Fisher pointed out.

A look at the state's accident statistics in terms of speed confirms the statement that high speed is not as serious a problem as excessive speed.

The largest number of fatal accidents last year occurred between 31 and 40 miles per hour; the next largest between 41 and 50 miles per hour. There were four times more fatalities at speeds between 21 and 30 miles an hour than there were at 61 to 70 miles per hour.

Excessive speed, speed too fast for conditions, was reported as a contributing factor in 45 per cent of the fatal accidents in Michigan last year in which law violations were present. In addition to killing 497 people, 5,492 were seriously injured and there were innumerable property damage accidents also resulting from excessive speed. Total cost of these "speed" accidents is estimated at $67 million for last year.

The Too Fast Con is described on the police poster as being anyone, any age either sex. Although this unwanted driver appears physically mature, it is believed that emotional immaturity is the basic character deficiency of this problem driver.

This is apparent in studying the records of traffic accidents involving excessive speed. The Too Fast Con is inclined to be over-confident of his or her driving ability when conditions indicate a reduction of speed is a reasonable precaution. Coupled with impatience, this over-confidence will make the Too Fast Con overdrive his headlights at night, will encourage him to take an extra 5 or 10 miles over the posted speed limit and will prompt him to disregard requirements for safe stopping distances when the road is slippery, when visibility is reduced or when traffic is such that sudden and unexpected steps may occur.

With the seasonal approach of bad weather driving too fast for conditions will be one of the major accident causes in the months ahead. Yet it is also one of the most easily controlled factors which cause accidents.

All it needs is the exercise of reasonableness on the part of every driver. A speed which is reasonable and proper for each driving situation and each changing physical condition of road, weather and traffic, can eliminate the basic cause for a large number of traffic accidents.

The cost of applying this solution amounts to a few minutes of travel time. The cost of not applying it can be a life-time.

Molner Offers Some Advice To All Hunters

Hunting can bring the sportsman greater health benefits and more pleasure if he resists the temptation to crowd too much into too little time. Dr. Joseph G. Molner advises.

Take it easy and don't over-exert or you may do yourself more harm than good. If you are 60, don't think you must keep up with a 30-year-old companion. Hunters of game should take precautions on three other counts as well — safe practices with fire arms, precautions against tularemia and guarding against carbon monoxide poisoning.

Safeguards against accidents with guns should be thought through carefully before you take down your gun. These safety measures should be adhered to rigorously until you put it back at the end of the season. A treatment against tetanus, or lockjaw, given by your physician will give added protection in case of injury while hunting.

Dr. Molner reminds hunters that wild rabbits may have tularemia and that disease is sometimes found in muskrats, squirrels, beavers and other rodents. He makes the following suggestions:

1. Do not handle any rabbit or other small animal that is found dead.
2. Don't shoot a rabbit that is obviously sick or one that is slow or indicates in any way that it is not a normal, wild rabbit.
3. Wear rubber gloves when you dress or handle wild rabbits and be sure they are not pierced by a bone or knife.
4. If you eat wild rabbit, cook it so thoroughly that no red meat or red blood remains.
5. Avoid sampling the game while it is in the process of cooking.
6. Thorough cooking will destroy the germ that causes tularemia.
7. Any rabbit which has white spots on the liver should not be eaten.

Rabbits which are offered for sale in regular markets are safe to eat. All of them are sold under supervision by the Pure Food and Drug Administration.

Carbon monoxide is odorless, tasteless, invisible and deadly. Make sure your trailer or cabin heater is properly vented.

Survey Shows Lack In Average Girl's Diet

The average American teenage girl lives on a diet only slightly better than that in many of the world's famine areas. But it is the girl's own fault, according to a recent national nutrition study. Inez Eckblad, Washington State University's extension specialist, said the survey indicates teenagers' diets are only slightly better in terms of food value than those in any of the world's starvation areas.

Miss Eckblad is a member of the national 4-H committee on improving teenage nutrition. The committee recently analyzed nutrition research studies conducted across the nation.

She said six out of ten girls do not get a sufficient amount of one or more of the following—protein, calcium, iron, vitamin A, thiamine, riboflavin and vitamin C.

"The teenage diets especially lack calcium, iron and vitamin C," she said. "And the closer the girls get to maturity, the poorer their diets and the fewer nutrients they get in the day's meals and snacks."

The cause? One is the traditional "woman-worry" — overweight. But another is the ever popular candy-pop-corn-pop routine which ranks high with teenagers.

"Empty calorie foods — sweets, potato chips or carbonated beverages — do not have the essential food elements that growing teenagers need," says Miss Eckblad. She said the average teenage girl needs at least 2,400 to 2,600 calories a day.

And the cure? "Certainly the parents can't supervise every mouthful their youngsters eat," said Miss Eckblad.

Parents can, however, make sure that meals eaten in the home contain needed nutrients, and the food specialist at WSU suggested using the "big four" food groups as a daily guide.

This includes the milk, meat, vegetable-fruit and breads-cereal groups. She said that four and usually more glasses of milk daily are essential but cheese and ice cream could substitute for part of the milk supply.

The food specialist also urged that two or more servings of meat be included in the day's diet.

Dark green or deep yellow vegetables provide the essential vitamin A and should be used at least every other day. Four and usually more servings of bread or cereals daily are also recommended.

New Designation In Grading Eggs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Look for a new label on egg cartons — "Fresh fancy quality" or "U.S. Grade AA."

The new designation shows the eggs have been quality tested under the government's new "controlled quality" egg grading program which started this month. That means uniformity in the age of the laying chickens, constant temperature and humidity levels, and promptness in handling.

Instead of the candling method formerly used to test the eggs' interiors, representative samples of eggs in a shipment are broken and the whites, or albumen, are measured.

The larger the percentage of the center section of a whole pork loin that is included in a pork roast, the more desirable it will be. The center section contains a whole solid muscle and provides a larger proportion of lean meat to bones and fat than the ends. The more of this section is included, the better roast it will be. The center section is often sliced for pork chops.

When hams are labeled "butt portion" or "butt end," they usually refer to the outer portion of the ham. The inner portion, which is the most desirable, is the butt portion. The butt portion should cost less per pound.

How To Be A Beauty

"Beauty is the gift of God," said Aristotle, famed Greek philosopher, 2,000 years ago. He was a handsome man and a man — so what could he know? But even as he spoke, Greek women were proving the truth of another time-honored remark: "The Lord helps those who help themselves."

To earn the blessing of a smooth complexion, the ladies used oatmeal or rice paste facials. You look good enough to eat" may have been one of the best compliments ever paid to a Roman lady.

Twenty centuries later, a good complexion is still regarded as the foundation of beauty, but the methods of gaining or retaining skin loveliness have been considerably improved. A new dimension has been added to daily soap-and-water care — the time-honored beauty essential. Banned are the fears that soap will dry delicate complexions. For now on the market to pamper tender skins are ultra-mild beauty bars drenched in luxurious cold cream. The newest such cold cream enriched product is a pink toilet soap that even contains a gentle but effective germicide which help remove the bacteria that often cause skin blemishes.

By using the right soap with both the knowledge of the right cleaning techniques and the persistence to apply them on a daily basis — you can have the fresh glowing skin of beauty.

Keep your face flower-fresh by washing it twice a day in warm water (hot water roughens the skin) and finishing up with a cold water rinse for a velvety texture.

Remember that in the eyes of the beholder your face begins at the neckline — so include this oft-neglected area in your facial cleansing operations. With fingertips, washcloth or complexion brush, work lather deep into the pores to remove the dirt you cannot see. It's this unseen dirt that coarsens pores and gives the skin poor texture.

Massage in circular, upward motions. Starting at the base of your neck, lather it with the flat of your fingers and the palm of your hand. After several minutes of massage, wipe face and neck with a cloth and rinse for a moment or two. Pat your skin dry.

Your hands will be lovely to look at if you follow this six-point program:

1. Keep them scrupulously clean. At least once a day, work lather from your wash basin into your hands, going into every crevice, wrinkle or pore with a stiff-bristled brush. Keep this up for two minutes, don't forget to use the brush around your nails.
2. After washing, always use a hand lotion not only on wrists, forearms and elbows, but on the skin bows as well.

3. Once or twice a week, give your hands an extra creaming before going to bed and cover them with light fabric gloves while you sleep.

4. Use rubber gloves for all your household tasks; they may seem awkward at first, but the awkwardness is something you will become used to in return for the growing attractiveness of your hands.

5. Get into the habit of pushing back the cuticles around your nails after every washing, bath or shower.

6. To derive full benefit from your daily grooming, learn to move your hands with grace. Eyes follow hands that have charm of motion.

Now for your daily bath — or do you prefer a shower? You may not think it matters, but a bath provides a beauty treatment that the quickie shower can't possibly give. It can relax you when you're tired — with sedative-acting tepid water. Warm, invigorating water and a brisk towel will leave you peppy prepared to tackle the busiest day. The opportunity to stretch out in a tub is also an important beauty aid. Stretch arms and legs while you're soaking — the gentle "exercise" helps keep you supple.

Avoid extremes of temperature. Very hot water not only reddens the skin but

Cooking Skills With A Handicap

Cooking is a challenge that Dolores Duquette faced up to in less than five months, although she has been sightless since birth.

This tiny (4 foot, 11½ inch) brunette from Molone, N.Y., is a cooking and dictaphone transcription student at the Lighthouse of the New York Association for the Blind in Elmhurst, Queens. She can barely reach the lower shelves of cabinets in the 8-by-12 foot kitchen, but this doesn't alter her determination to learn.

The Association has operated cooking classes for 54 years. It has no estimate of the total number of blind students trained, but emphasizes that the instruction is handled on an individual basis, with no more than two students taught at one time.

Miss Duquette discussed special kitchen problems of blind homemakers, as she prepared a "brunch" of bacon, eggs, toast and coffee.

Overcoming her fear of fire was the first big hurdle, she said. Now, as she lights a burner on a standard model modern gas range with a pilot light, she holds her left hand to about a foot above the range top to feel heat rising. She also listens for a light click from the burner, whose automatic settings range from simmer to high.

The basic cooking routine for the blind includes first learning to set an empty pot or pan firmly on a cold burner, centering it carefully with both hands; then, emptying the food into the pan and lighting the burner. Bacon is timed for doneness with a Braille-faced regular clock timer, or tested for crispness with a pancake turner.

As a safety precaution, Miss Duquette turns off the burner before turning food in the pan, so that spills have no chance to catch fire.

But how do you locate a hot utensil you can't see? "Feel for it with a fork or other cooking utensil," Miss Duquette said. "And you soon learn to point all pot handles in the same direction, to prevent bumping into them accidentally."

Coffee making appears to be among the easier chores for a blind cook. A finger on the water level marking inside the pot tells you when it's full. A finger also protects the percolator stand as coffee is measured into the basket. The sound of percolating coffee tells you when to start timing the beverage.

Pouring coffee is trickier. Miss Duquette puts the coffee pot and cup handles on a straight line, but facing in opposite directions. She rests the pot side against the saucer at counter level. As she tilts the pot to pour, a finger of her free hand rests on the cup edge to signal when it's full.

Compared with serving, cooking is easier, said the student, who looks considerably younger than her 26 years. It's hard to locate plates and transfer hot foods to them without burning your fingers, and frequent practice is the only way to lick the problem.

It also helps, she emphasized, if your sighted friends and relatives let you do your own work. Through repetition, a blind person achieves skills that we sighted cooks take for granted.

Miss Duquette regards her five months of instruction — with one to three cooking lessons a week — as long.

Cheesy Open-Face Sandwich Satisfy After Football Games

Anyone who has ever attended a football game knows that an afternoon of cheering for the team leaves a person ravenously hungry. Healthy teenagers swarm home to raid the refrigerator. Chances are Dad and Mom follow close on their heels.

Prepare for this onslaught in advance. Plan refreshments of hefty open-face sandwiches to be served with fat mugs of ice-cold milk. Use two different spread combinations of ham and blue cheese, cheddar cheese and crabmeat.

The spreads are simple to make. And simplicity is important in the Saturday morning pre-game rush. Store the spreads in the refrigerator.

Most any kind of bread, rolls, or buns go well for a sandwich. The tops of hard rolls have been hollowed out and filled with ham and blue cheese spread. Halves of hamburger buns are covered with cheddar cheese and crabmeat spread.

The ham and blue cheese combination suits a lad's taste, while the other spread is more to a lass's liking. The flavor of cheese speaks out in the former for Blue cheese is notably piquant.

The cheese-crabmeat mixture tastes similar to a light salad. Fresh tomato and cucumber contribute to this saladlike touch, and the irflavors blend nicely with those of sharp cheddar cheese and crabmeat.

HAM AND BLUE CHEESE SPREAD
1½ CUPS

1 cup ground cooked ham
½ cup crumbled Blue cheese
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon pickle relish
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Use as is for a sandwich spread or hollow out French rolls, fill them with the spread and broil until cheese melts. The sandwiches may be topped with additional crumbled Blue cheese if desired.

CHEDDAR CHEESE AND CRABMEAT SPREAD
2 CUPS

1 6½ oz. can crabmeat
1 medium tomato, diced
½ cup coarsely chopped cucumber
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese

Flake crabmeat and remove cartilage. Combine with remaining ingredients, mixing well. Use as a sandwich spread as is, or spread on buns and broil. Top with additional shredded cheese if desired.

Cooler Days Invite Meat Ball Soup

A home economist well-versed in the field of meat cookery, Reba Staggs, suggests you try this deliciously flavored Italian Meat Ball Soup.

Acting as almost a meal in itself, this soup is delicately seasoned and highlights ground beef. The beef is shaped into tiny meat balls to add character and a variety of shapes to this wholesome fall luncheon or supper entrée.

4 medium onions, sliced
3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup cracker crumbs
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef bouillon soup
2 cups water
½ beef bouillon cube
½ teaspoon rosemary
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 medium tomato

Cook onion in butter or margarine until tender. Combine ground beef, cracker crumbs, salt, egg, lemon juice and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Shape into 24 tiny meat balls, using a rounded teaspoon per ball. Brown on all sides in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Add browned meat balls, beef bouillon soup, water, bouillon cube, rosemary, salt and Worcestershire sauce to cooked onion rings. Cover tightly and simmer 15 minutes. Peel tomato, cut into strips and remove seeds. Add to soup, cover and cook about 1 minute. Yield: 4 to 5 servings.

Caution to Mom: Hand-me-downs Can Cause Harm

Passing one child's clothes along to a younger one may be psychologically damaging for both recipient and former wearer.

That's what child psychologists, surveyed by the Garment Dyes Guild of America, report.

Psychologists said the younger child inwardly resents the fact that he is not considered important enough to warrant new clothes.

The older child, meanwhile, may be harboring some "normal jealousy" resulting from attention to this relative newcomer in the family — a younger brother or sister.

And, say the psychologists, he may view the transfer of clothes — despite the fact he's outgrown them — as another "sign" of transferred parental affection.

The psychologists didn't recommend elimination of the hand-me-down system. Rather, they suggested a change in the clothes' coloring, that buttons be changed. If the old garment has silver buttons, try brass ones when it's being handed-down.

If a coat has a dog-eared fur collar, consider replacing it with another kind of fur. If no fur? Try adding fur-collars and cuffs — for a high fashion look.

West Virginia is a leading U.S. producer of bituminous coal and often accounts for 30 per cent or more of the national output.

A "Citizens Entertainment Course" has been scheduled for Plymouth. It is the highest priced course ever put on in Plymouth. Included is the Oriole Concert Company, L. B. Wickersham and H.W. Sears, lecturers, the Rogers-Grilley Company and the Castle Square Entertainers. Adult season tickets are $1, with reserved seats for the entire course costing 25 cents extra.

About 15 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dicks met at their home Wednesday night, the occasion being their wedding anniversary. Mr. Dicks was not aware that they were to have company and he was quite a little surprised.

Fred J. Stocken has bought the photography business of Rome Wood and will conduct a studio in part of the Henry Baker house on Main street and will live in the other part. Mr. Stocken left Plymouth last fall to study for the undertaking business but finds that on account of his health he is unable to continue this line of work.

The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church met at Mrs. Conrad Springer's home Thursday afternoon. The ladies have just installed electric lights in the parsonage.

Monroe won the football game last Friday 38-0. We have nothing to say.

Since the installation of our electric clock in the high school, classes have been called and dismissed by a central bell operated by the clock. This is a great improvement over the old system, but the bell is too far away from some classrooms and is easily confused with the telephone and signal for the grades. Mr. Isbell has been staying at school noon hours this week putting in buzzers for each classroom.

GRATITUDE—Mrs. Mary Bannister, 77, gives a hug to Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.) in Boston, Mass., hearing. The senator heads a committee investigating problems of the aged.

Looks Like Busy Year Ahead for Americans

CHICAGO (UPI) — We'd better rest up the rest of this year — 1960 is going to wear us to a frazzle.

From the start of the "Louisiana Yam Supper Season" on Jan. 1 to the "Give-and-Serve-Meat-for-Christmas Month" which goes out with the last leftovers about New Year's Eve, we're going to celebrate more days, weeks, months and seasons than you can find on the calendar.

Maybe "tolerate" is a better word.

There's a "National Mother-in-Law Day" which, by coincidence or otherwise, falls during "Good Human Relations Week."

There's a "National Do-It-Yourself Week" closely followed by "National Correct Posture Week." There's a "Domestic Rabbit Week," a "National Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool Week," a "Break-a-Cold Month," a "National Mothproofing Month" and a "Baking Soda Bath Season."

These and nearly 400 other special months, weeks and days are listed in a "Promotion Almanac for 1960," just published here (by Advertising Requirements).

Gastronomically, the almanac shows, we will run the gamut.

Take July alone, for example. It is Summertime Picnic Month, "National Hot Dog Month," "Rye Bread Sales Month," "National Picnic Month," "National Iced Tea Time" and "Kraut Salad Season."

If you're kraut inclined, you may also wish to plan special observances of "Kraut and Frankfurter Week" or

"Kraut, Pork 'n Apple Dinner Season."

There's a "National International Pizza Week" and national weeks devoted to pimiento, peanuts, rice, honey, raisins, pickles, wine, donuts, macaroni, honey, pretzels, frozen foods and fish 'n seafood.

With May comes "I Scream You Scream, We All Scream for Ice Cream Month" and "lest you forget—the American Dairy Association dips up another scoopful with "Remember A La Mode Month" in August.

There's a "National Weight Watchers' Week" early in the year for those who can't afford to indulge in too many epicurean celebrations. For those who can't but do anyway, "National Indigestion Week" is recommended.

The sartorial minded also have their weeks — "National Tie Week," "National Bow Tie Week," "National Sweater Week," "National Slacks Week." Even a "National Denim Week."

For the gay at heart, there's a happy assortment — "Comedy Week," "Humor Week," "Clown Week," "Smile Week" and an out-and-out "Laugh Week."

May 14 to 21 is "Let's Go Fishing Time" and Oct. 1-31 is "Let's Go Hunting Time," although it might be a good idea to check your own state's game and fish laws. Here and there through the year, we'll have weeks in which we can boat safely, appreciate youth, know your America, be kind to animals and clean up, paint up and fix up.

Yes sir, 1960 is going to be a busy year.

Grange Cleanings

The 86th Annual Session of Michigan State Grange was held at the Bancroft Hotel in Saginaw October 20 to 24. Attending the entire session from Plymouth Grange were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lunn, who were Wayne County delegates to the convention. Sam Spicer attending as a visitor, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritten. Mr. Tritten is State Grange Treasurer and Wayne County Deputy, and Mrs. Tritten is State Health Chairman. Other Plymouth Grange members who attended part of the Session were Mr. and Mrs. Lovd Fillmore, Mildred Rienas, Louise Hutton, and Norman Tritten. Norman represented Wayne - Washtenaw Pomona Grange at the youth portion of the convention.

The Grange sponsored 4-H Club will hold its November meeting at the Hall on Wednesday Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. Note this is a change from the regular Tuesday night time and will be for November only. Fall projects are just getting underway so this meeting will be the time for any new members to attend and get a good start on your fall project.

Another of the good Grange Suppers is slated for November 14, so mark your calendar and order your tickets by calling Jessie Squires at GL 3-3030. A reservation is the only way by which you can be sure of getting a ticket. State Master W. J. Brake and Mrs. Brake were Monday night dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Tritten and family. Other guests of the evening were Sam Spicer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Norman and family.

Local Student On Crack Drill Team

William G. Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton P. Bradley, 614 S. Sheldon Rd. is a member of an 18-member drill team from Capital University, Columbus, O., which is performing before audiences this year.

The Air Force Reserves Officers Corps drill team will do a pre-game exhibition at a football game at Plymouth, O. this Friday night. The team placed sixth in a field of 16 in the Dayton Invitational tournament held on Armed Forces Day.

Armageddon is an ancient road junction where, according to the Bible, a great battle will be fought in the last days of the world. It lies in northern Israel near the border of Jordan and its modern name is Megiddo.

A Local Car Dealer Never Closes A Sale

When you buy an automobile - new or used - from a local automobile dealer in Plymouth, it's not the close of a sale for him... it's the beginning of an obligation that runs for the life of your car. The local dealer has made a sale, but he hasn't made a customer until he has demonstrated his willingness and ability to service your automobile to your complete satisfaction. The success of an automobile dealer depends not so much upon making sales - but making customers.

The automobile dealer is a Plymouth business man - but first and foremost he is a member of your community. And a mighty active citizen he is. His participation in civic activities includes everything from donating prizes for local contests; and providing transportation to church groups, local officials and visiting celebrities to sponsoring safe-driving promotions; from organizing local charity drives to presiding over the Chamber of Commerce.

The dealer depends upon his neighbors for his livelihood - not only this year, but in years to come. Every car on the streets of Plymouth bearing his identifying emblem, is his responsibility - whether spanking new or a veteran of more than a decade of service. His reputation for keeping his cars rolling is his stock in trade.

How can you tell a good dealer? Ask about him. How long has he been doing business in your community? How many people come back to him every time they trade in their cars? How are his service facilities? Is he an active and respected member of the community?

A dealer in Plymouth is YOUR friend.

HI-FI

By PRESTON McGRAW
United Press International

There is a great deal of noise in the high fidelity industry this year about cabinets to put components in and about making the components look presentable to the housewife.

The noise has coincided with a wholesale advertising and promotional assault by manufacturers of the so-called "package" units, which, in most cases, are nothing but stereo phonographs, sometimes with radio.

They don't deserve the name of "high fidelity" equipment but they make much of the point that component stereos which by and large is high fidelity — clutters up the house.

Few persons who really appreciate what fine components can do for records or tape or FM broadcasts will agree that components look bad, even in the best living rooms.

So, it might seem that components manufacturers, by playing footsie with the makers of cabinets, are helping to obscure the delineation between components and packages.

In any event, the 1959 New York High Fidelity Music Show — which is the biggest and the most expensive of the audio shows in the United States — used "Decorate Your Home With Music" as its theme.

Members of the American Institute of Decorators created five model rooms for the show.

They included a provincial music room for the whole family designed by David Eugene Bell of Macy's, New York; a contemporary living by Hector Grant; a traditional 18th century collector's study by Hector Grant; a traditional country living room by Phillis Horton of Grace Richards, Inc.; and a small contemporary teen-age bedroom sitting room by Daren Pierce of William Pahlmann Associates.

Except for the Freitag-designed room, they all hid the components. Freitag put the components in a glass case at the back of the room, deliberately emphasizing them.

Joseph N. Benjamin, president of the Institute of High Fidelity Manufacturers, reported at the New York show that sales of component equipment this year will show a 15 per cent gain over 1958.

The Institute sponsors the New York show and its members include most of the component makers.

Benjamin estimates that retail sales for 1959 will total 300 million dollars, compared with 260 million dollars last year. Benjamin says that a considerable part of this year's business will take place during October, November and December, which are traditionally the biggest sales months for hi-fi components.

"The first half of 1959 was slow," Benjamin said. "However this was primarily at the factory level. Many of the dealers had built up large inventories after the introduction of stereo last year."

"Now most of the merchandise has been cleared out."

Nine years ago, total retail sales in components totaled 12 million dollars. The next year they doubled and they have shown substantial increases every year since.

New auto speed records, ranging up through 265 miles per hour, were established by American drivers on the world's major tracks in the past 12 months.

There are about 18 million fishermen and 15 million hunters who buy licenses annually in the United States.

The overseas possessions of France are 4.5 larger than the mother country.

Best Tax Solution Is Fastest One

No newspaper in Michigan, however localized, can ignore the State's financial crisis today. Nor, of course, should any citizen.

This is an incredible emergency, and action must come soon.

We reject a suggestion that the entire legislature be subjected to recall proceedings and a complete new set of senators and representatives be sent to Lansing. We reject it not so much because it's a bad idea as because there is too little time.

The first thing the State must do is to get some cash into its treasury. There's only one way to do this as quickly as it's needed, and that is to borrow against the Veteran's Fund, using the latter's $50,000,000 as collateral.

Too many months have elapsed now for the State to expect its creditors to continue to do the borrowing and starving so that partisan politics may be fought at leisure in the state capitol.

Next, new income must be provided. Depending on the time required, this newspaper would urge immediate—and we mean right now—steps to get proposals on the ballot. One would ask the people if they want to raise the sales tax limitation about 3 cents; the other would seek authority for a graduated income tax.

Either solution would be satisfactory in a jam.

The "graduated income tax" always has been our preference. The form we urge is the "piggy-back tax" idea which made a brief appearance in Lansing and then disappeared into the dark depths of the political sea.

"Piggy-back" could be the simplest solution. We all today pay federal income taxes; the principal is established; the habit is formed; and we comply. The final figures prepared for the federal return could be used to calculate the State's piggy-back share—say, 5 percent of the tax paid to Washington would be an individual's new state tax. A simple postcard could be the form used for the return. It would require no new army of officials to collect and enforce.

In principle, it would be a move toward the long-coveted "single tax" ideal.

We never have had much interest in the general argument about "consumers" tax vs "taxing according to ability to pay." Sooner or later, after the manufacturer has tacked his tax on to the price of his product, they all become "consumers taxes."

The main problem is ease of collection and equal application of the law to everyone.

So, whatever, we beg the Legislature today to do something, almost anything, with speed! The fastest solution will be the best one, for the time being.

'Russia Could Be Greatest Power

Russia has twig brooms and puscarts with her satellites and luniks, but fast growth and vast resources may soon make the Soviet Union the world's greatest power, members of the University Press Club of Michigan heard last week at The University of Michigan.

Russia's standard of living obviously is not as high as that in the U.S., said George Kish, U-M professor of geography. "But this is because the Soviet people have accepted, or been forced to accept, the sacrifice of consumer goods and a high living standard for the future growth of the Russian economy." In 1955, he said, Soviet production was about 35 percent of the U.S. total. In 1960 it will be 49 percent, and in 1965 about 77 percent as large, based on present growth rates.

William B. Ballis, professor of political science and chairman of the U-M Program in Russian Studies predicted there will be some loosening of the totalitarian hold of the government, as Russia experiences her rise in education, opportunity and standard of living.

"But the Communist Party, which covers the hand of the Soviet government like a glove, is dedicated to repulsing all threat to its dominance and ever seeks its goal of world communism," he added. "The central challenge now is not the arms race, but the contest for the allegiance of the uncommitted peoples of Southeast Asia, Africa, and other areas. Khrushchev's career is staked on peace and economic growth."

Harrison Salisbury of The New York Times backed both these views. Winner of a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting on Russia, Salisbury said the Khrushchev regime has greatly relaxed the harsh police state controls which marked the Stalin era.

Your Handwriting Is Clue About You

By LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Miss Williams: I have always been of a curious nature and the thought of having my handwriting analyzed has undone me. Am I sensitive, artistic? What qualities should I look for in a man when I decide to marry?

Thank you Questioning

You can be diplomatic when necessary, but you have a terrific desire for attention and to be noticed. There is a little sensitivity and you do not care for criticism. Your temperament is variable, sometimes expressive, sometimes cool-headed and logical. Your temper shows up only at times.

There is a desire for culture but no outstanding artistic talent shown, some creative with your hands. You show persistence to keep trying and learn quite easily. You think quickly but not deeply. There is some suppressed expression and thinking.

I'd suggest you look for the qualities you like in a person.

Dear Miss Williams: Your column has been most enjoyable, and intriguing. Will you be kind enough to analyze my handwriting? Thank you.

Elizabeth H.

You have a deep penetrating mind with keenness of thought and ability to learn. You are very sensitive and have a large imagination. You are determined enough when you see fit to be but it is flexible and used as you direct. You have many irons in the fire, so to speak, and love variety.

You are also of a philosophical nature as well as material.

You are thrifty and penny-wise—generous only with caution.

You're emphatic and sometimes a little stubborn, but you can think for yourself and keep things to yourself.

Dear Miss Williams: Your handwriting analysis column in the paper is most interesting. Would you please tell me what you see in my handwriting? Thank you. Sincerely, I.C.D.

Dear I.C.D.: You are a person of deep feeling emotionally expressive and absorb experiences, good and bad. You profit by experience and use it to your advantage.

You have a keen thinking mind, penetrating and exploratory. You form a purpose and carry it out with persistence and determination. There is a desire to be physically active whether you have the time or not.

You have the ability to decide for yourself and be diplomatic about it. There is an emphatic tendency toward your decisions, you are not apt to change your mind or opinion.

There is a little temper and a minor trait of resentment when pushed too far. These two traits are not consistent. You are not sensitive and will profit by criticism.

Ludmila was fervent in her new faith, and brought up her grandson Wenceslav in it. But when Ludmila's son, Wenceslav's father, died, his mother Drahomira took him away from Ludmila, and made him revert to paganism. A terrible struggle between the Christian and the Pagan elements ensued, and Drahomira had Ludmila choked to death in her castle.

Editor: It is certainly a welcome relief to find that your newspaper at last has gotten around to printing some of the nice things we do instead of telling the public that we are rough, tough and without mercy.

Your recent article about the merciless policemen, who thrust tickets upon the unsuspecting public on the day of the sidewalk sale, caused me much concern until I discovered that the whole thing was a false alarm and that no tickets were issued after 4:00 o'clock. I find it difficult to know right from wrong when on the one hand we are beset by ignorant minor violations and on the other hand we are criticized for trying to help a defendant to keep his job.

At any rate your biggest worry seems to be whether the end justifies the means. If it will be of any comfort to you I will answer that question in the affirmative and you may rest assured that whenever, in my opinion, I can help a defendant on his way to good behavior by "giving him a break" I shall do it.

How's Business?

Building Industry Is Depressed

By Roger W. Babson's Staff

When assessing the outlook for business, prospects for building and construction should be given important consideration. The value of new construction accounts for a good 10 percent of our Gross National Product, and is also a reliable barometer of public confidence.

Since the end of the 1957-58 recession, this field has been prominently spotlighted as one of the pillars of our economy's return to prosperity. Much of the upsurge must be credited to home building, which was given new life by the government's anti-recession move in easing mortgage credit restrictions.

Once the business recovery gained momentum, building received a "booster shot" as new record levels of personal income and employment stirred keen interest for ownership of new homes.

Hence, during the period from the fall of 1958 through the winter of 1959, expenditures for new construction set all-time records. Commencing with this last spring, however, a sidewise-to-lower tendency has prevailed. September saw a decided letdown which could well mark the start of a sinking spell.

Part of this latest drop can be designated as a secondary victim of the prolonged steel strike, since heavy construction is so dependent upon the availability of structural steel. Moreover, since in certain other types of building work during the initial phases requires large amounts of steel, shortage of the metal is undoubtedly forcing postponement of considerable new construction.

Unfortunately, the threat to building goes much deeper. The rapid rise in interest rates and the strain on available long-term credit are now curbing public enthusiasm for residential and commercial building, while economy drivers are retarding spending for construction at all levels of government. Since these restrictive conditions may rule for many months, a lower level of building is clearly indicated. This is already evidenced by the downtrend in new contract awards and by the lower-than-seasonal rate of new housing starts.
