

Electors Decide on Bond Issues Monday

Who May Vote?

Not all voters going to the polls Monday, Nov. 23 will be able to vote on all four of the propositions.

Qualified electors owning property within the school district will be able to vote all four proposals. Electors who do not own property can vote only on two.

According to state statute, electors who do not own property within the district can vote only to levy millage (Propositions I and III) but cannot vote on proposals to issue bonds (Propositions II and IV).

It is possible that the propositions to levy millage could pass but the authority to issue bonds could be voted down. It would then be up to the school board to decide if it wanted to collect the millage without issuing bonds.

Bond Issues Are Topic At Town Hall Thursday

Voters who want to learn more about the two bond issues being presented at next Monday's school election can get first-hand information from Board of Education members themselves at a Town Hall meeting this Thursday night.

Starting at 8 p.m. in the Junior High gymnasium, the Town Hall meeting allows the school board to present its reasons for the bond issues and then the audience will be permitted to ask both written and oral questions.

Carl Cederberg will be moderator. Anyone in need of transportation can obtain a free bus ride, courtesy of the Jaycees, by phoning GL 3-0739 before 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Transmission Plant Gives Boost to Fund

Plymouth's Community Fund jumped from 57 percent of its goal last week to 75 percent this week.

The gift came from the Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors at Willow Run.

The transmission plant turned over a check last Friday for $4,458.08. Of this, $2,074.95 came from hourly employees and $2,383.13 from salaried employees.

The campaign has yielded $25,370 so far, leaving $6,228 for the final stretch. The goal is $34,098.

A special meeting was called by the board of directors last week to appraise the plight. A look over pledges and donations showed that there were still many who had given in previous years who had not yet contributed.

The greatest shortcoming was in the commercial places to remind them of the final effort.

This is a listing of those who have donated $10 or more to the Fund during the past week (those not wanting to be listed can note this on their pledge card). $4,458.08, G.M. Corp., Detroit Trans. Div.; $300, Consumer Power Company, Western Electric Company; $200 Plymouth Mail; $150, E-Z Sew Enterprises, Inc.; $100, Tait's (Continued on Page 8)

Salvation Army Plans 'Operation Discards' Here

Starting on Saturday, Nov. 21st at 9 a.m. 20 trucks, bearing the red shield of the Salvation Army, will start rolling in a door-to-door drive in this area.

Triggered by wintry winds and high unemployment, this crusade, called "Operation Discards" is planned to fill a dire need for such articles as warm clothing, footwear, household items, paper, rags, toys and furniture as well as any other useful material that can be utilized in the vicinity.

"The need has never been greater," explained Captain John Cunard, the officer in charge in this community. "Many families, especially (Continued on Page 8) ager of the Plymouth Division. The pictures were given as a token of their appreciation for the Township's part in Burroughs Day held last spring.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

During recent days, The Mail has attempted to explain in exhaustive news stories the proposals in which Plymouth schools are asking the voters on Nov. 21 to provide funds for the future.

We looked rather hard at the proposals when they first were released some weeks ago.

And we saw only the most careful, the best-researched, job of analysis and planning that ever has been delivered by a Plymouth Board of Education. We saw a plan for keeping up with need which seemed prudent, imaginative, and necessary.

Hence, the general tone of "approval" which has been present in all of The Mail's analytical stories so far.

Compared to other things, the increase sought in costs to the "average citizen" is a trifle.

The Mail hence encourages a "Yes" vote on every proposal, as a show of confidence for the refreshing approach by this new school board, as much as anything.

More big bankers are going to visit Plymouth during the next fortnight than have stepped foot here in all the recorded history of the area.

And in their pilgrimage is sealed a story of extreme significance to every local resident — particularly those from Plymouth.

These 2,000 bankers aren't beating a path here to study the scenery. All will go, just as quickly as possible, to a private room on an upper floor in the Burroughs Plant on Plymouth road, in Plymouth Township between Plymouth and Livonia.

Inside that room are three big metal boxes, jammed with electric brains, printing equipment, printed circuits, transistors, and human cunning.

If the bankers like what they see during these next two weeks, a new phase of development will occur for Burroughs — and for the local community.

This paper carried a news release on this subject about a month ago, but I know that the "inside story" slipped past most readers.

The "story" is that these three metal boxes — this electronic system — are Burroughs' newest product.

The new product goes on the market backed by expensive, thorough research, trial and refinement. Burroughs believes it's ready.

The company also believes it is a product that will save money, speed the flow of work, and bring joy to the eyes of bankers.

It is proposed to build this new system entirely in the Burroughs plant in Plymouth.

If the market unfolds, as anticipated, this Burroughs plant here could actually double in size from the one of three years ago!

It would become twice as big an employer, twice as big a taxpayer, and be twice as significant in the local economic scheme of things as heretofore.

Some 20 per cent of this growth occurred during the past year, quietly and more less unnoticed ... and all because of the new product.

But much of the real test, the ultimate pay off, will be decided by the visiting bankers in the next few days.

What is this product? It is a group of units (3) which can take the billions of checks written against bank checking accounts, and virtually without human help:

Narcotics, Money Stolen With Safe

A safe containing over $1,300 in cash and some $300 in narcotics was wheeled out the back door of the Beyer Rexall Drug Store on Ann Arbor Rd. sometime Saturday night by burglars.

Wayne County Sheriff's detectives and members of the Narcotics Bureau are investigating the theft.

It was 10 a.m. Sunday when a local resident approached the store's front door. The store had not opened yet for business that day, but the resident noticed that the door had been jammed open. He called city police who in turn called the Road Patrol.

Owner Robert Beyer said that the thieves apparently knew what they were doing. Without disturbing anything else, they went to the back door and opened it from the inside and then rolled the safe on wheels out to an awaiting car.

Beyer estimates that there was between $1,300 to $1,400 in cash in the safe. In addition, all of the store's narcotics were inside. Their wholesale value was placed between $300 to $500. There has been no trace of the safe.

It is not known, of course, if the thieves were just after money or had considered the narcotics being inside.

There are four separate ballot propositions, two of them dealing with a $4,000,000 bond issue to build more classroom facilities and two others asking for $500,000 for an auditorium. (For an explanation of who is eligible to vote on each proposition, see adjoining story on this page.)

The board of education calls its bond "package" a Five Year Plan. They expect it to take care of classroom needs for the next five years, if their estimates of growth are correct.

Included in the $4,000,000 bond issue would be $2,000,000 for a "combination" building that would be built outside the city limits; $615,000 for remodeling the Senior High and bringing it up to fire marshal's requirements; $1,060,000 to increase elementary school facilities; $250,000 for an instructional pool at the Junior High; and $75,000 for future sites.

The figures are tentative ones which the board feels it cannot nail down because they want the fund flexible enough to put the money during the next five years where it will be most needed. Included in the elementary school sum, for instance, are tentative plans for erecting a multi-purpose room at Starkweather school.

It was last spring that the school board was advancing the idea of building a new high school and turning the present one into a Junior High. There were protests from many sources, with the objectors feeling that the present Senior High should remain the center of Plymouth culture and in a central location.

There is still some concern that the board at a future date may still move the high school out, but board President Esther Hulsing declared this week that the present board has no such intentions. "We are going to put in a language lab, improve the shop and music facilities and bring the building up to the fire marshal's specifications," she asserted.

It is assumed by the board that the "combination" building, that will at first house sixth, seventh and eighth graders, will eventually become a second high school. While the school board was

While there are some 8,200 registered voters in the Plymouth Community School system, only a fraction of them are expected to go to the polls next Monday when the fate of two bond issues totaling $4,500,000 will be decided.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. at the Senior High and Gallimore schools and will close at 8 p.m. Ballots have been printed for 3,000, but unless there is a sudden boost of enthusiasm, it is likely that only half of them will be used.

There has been some areas of disagreement with the school board's propositions, but they received strong support Monday night from a group that had previously opposed them on a former proposal.

The City Commission approved a resolution recommending to voters that they vote favorably upon the propositions "which will provide for the rehabilitation of the existing high school, a new auditorium, new elementary schools and additional facilities for existing schools."

There are four separate ballot propositions, two of them dealing with a $4,000,000 bond issue to build more classroom facilities and two others asking for $500,000 for an auditorium. (For an explanation of who is eligible to vote on each proposition, see adjoining story on this page.)

advancing the proposal to build a new high school, the city commission passed a resolution of objection. Monday night's resolution is a complete reversal of their attitude, based on the board's decision to keep the high school where it is.

The other bond issue, that for a half million, is for the erection of a community auditorium. This proposed auditorium, with a capacity of 600 to 900, would be built at the rear of the present Senior High and would be Plymouth's first and only auditorium outside of the theaters.

Many individuals and organizations have for years been agitating for a community auditorium.

Concerning the financing of the bond issues, one group known as the Fact Finding Committee of the School Community Planning Group believes that half of the $4 million issue should be put on a pay-as-you-go basis instead of on a bond issue.

This would require a millage especially for a sinking fund and, of course, would eliminate the costly interest involved in selling bonds. Money would not be available immediately under this system.

Seek Change In Community College Law

Six school districts from this area agreed last week to seek a law change which would add three "at large" members to the governing board of any Community College which they might build.

Actually, the change is proposed before the basic law is effective itself.

Legislation which would permit the six districts to join in building a community college was passed and signed during the current session of the State Legislature, but it won't go into effect until 90 days after the session closes. And the end of the session isn't in sight yet. Lansing affairs being tangled by financial problems.

The law now provides for the governing board to consist solely of one delegate from each participating district.

The proposed amendment would provide for the same six delegates, but add three others elected "from the district at large."

Six districts involved are Livonia, Plymouth, Southfield, Redford, Redford Union, and Westland.

The Plymouth Mail is now being published Wednesdays instead of Thursdays, readers and advertisers were reminded this week. The deadline for classified advertising is 5 p.m. Mondays. This is a permanent schedule. The new day of publication began last week.

D & C Store Revamps Inside

D & C Stores, Inc., serving Plymouth since 1936, has embarked upon a new era of merchandising by revamping the store's interior and making it a self-service facility.

One of the noticeable changes is the closing of the basement. All merchandise now displayed on the main floor. The added space was provided by putting in self-service counters. The store now has three check-out counters and three service counters where customers receive clerk service.

Manager Rayner Tisch, with D & C since 1933 and manager here 17 years, says that the store now offers a greater variety of merchandise than before. There will be a remodeling sale this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Steve Hermans is assistant manager.

To Receive Patients Dec. 8

Hospital Nears Opening

With doors ready to swing open Tuesday, Dec. 8 for admission of its first patients, St. Mary Hospital will be formally dedicated this Saturday afternoon, followed by an open house next week.

An impressive ceremony is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday at which the facility, first major hospital in the Plymouth area, will be dedicated.

There will be two open house dates next week at which residents of the five communities served by the hospital are invited to make an inspection. The dates are this Sunday, Nov. 22, and Friday, Nov. 27. Hours are from 1 to 9 p.m.

The religious ritual of dedication under His Excellency, The Most Reverend John Dearden, D.D., Archbishop of Detroit, will commence in the main lobby. A procession will then proceed through the hospital followed by Solemn Pontifical Benediction welcome the guests. The occasion will be presided over by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas A. Jobs, director of the Propagation of Faith; Honorable Philip A. Hart, U.S. Senator from Michigan; and Dr. John M. Shuey, chairman of the Medical Advisory Board.

The important occasion will draw guests from near and far. Very Reverend Mother Mary Alexander, who is the Mother General of the entire Felician Order, will travel from Rome to be present at the Dedication.

Among the distinguished guests will be the Provincial Superior of the Felician Provinces: Rev. Mother Mary Annette, Buffalo, N.Y.; Rev. Mother Mary Virginette, Lodi, N.J.; Rev. Mother Mary Leona, Chicago, Ill.; Rev. Mother Mary Bernadine, Coraopolis, Pa.; Rev. Mother Mary Laura, Enfield, Conn.; Rev. Mother Mary Hermans, Ponca City, Okla.; and Rev. Mother Mary Laudine, Detroit.

Owned and operated by the Felician Sisters, the new St. Mary Hospital will be the 12th to be conducted by the community in the United States. The dedication day, the Feast of the Presentation of the Blessed Virgin Mary, coincides with the community's 104th anniversary of founding, 85th anniversary of coming to the United States, 77th anniversary of establishment of the motherhouse in Detroit, and 23rd anniversary of the transfer of the motherhouse of the province to Livonia.

The administration of the hospital is under the Felician Sisters, who at the present time number about 4,000 in the United States. The ideal of these Sisters, "love for all (Continued on Page 6)

Sunday's Concert Leaves Nothing to be Desired

Sunday's concert of the Plymouth Symphony left nothing to be desired in musicianship, beauty or color. From the first "up instruments" wave of Wayne Dunlap's baton to the last burst of applause the concert fulfilled the highest hopes of the audience and more than justified the continuation of the Symphony as a civic institution.

It would be hard to say which piece of music was the "major" work of the day. Certainly all three of them received the devotion of every member of the orchestra. Each work had special requirements of discipline or emphasis: the Mahler Symphony, while not as "modern" in tone as "Tres Himnos", required great dramatic swells, the feeling of the gigantism that is characteristic of practically all German composers from Bach to Schoenberg; "Tres Himnos", an admittedly modern work presented some dissonances and peculiar groupings of instruments, but a great deal of gaiety and fun in execution; and naturally Haydn's "Concerto for Trumpet and Orchestra" meant strict attention to the old stand-bys of harmonies and melody while giving the outstanding soloist a chance to be heard.

Mr. Tison performed wonderfully and a light chorus of "bravo" was heard from the orchestra itself at the conclusion of the work. Haydn's Concerto was originally written for a now obsolete instrument, but the notes still have to be fingered and played on even the refined instrument Mr. Tison used. Probably more important for the sake of this review than Mr. Tison's technical accuracy was his ability to breathe color and passion into the score—a trait not commonly associated with trumpet solos or trumpet music. The work was officially dedicated to Mr. Julian Corey who during his tenure with the Plymouth Symphony played in the trumpet section. It is hard to imagine a more fitting memorial and we hope Mr. Tison will return to grace our orchestra again, whether in memorial or not.

Wells Hively had to name his three little sketches and this reviewer felt the Mexican titles were as handy as any other. The works themselves were delightful pieces of music, with or without titles. There was a good deal of melody in the last piece and some in the first, but the major emphasis of this piece was on color, mood and architecture—architecture in the sense that each piece had a definite form and structure.

Hively also seemed to have some fun with the different voices of the orchestra: letting the brass and woodwinds perform duties usually carried out by the strings in the solo roles. All of these switched roles the orchestra mastered with relish and integrity.

Gustav Mahler wrote widely during his career and the First Symphony reflects his absorption with vocal pieces and the various nuances the human voice can achieve. His music is full of "effects" (orchestral, staged, composed), but also full of color and mood, in tone very much like Richard Strauss—strong contrasts, electrifying opposites, overwhelming size. Only now, some fifty years after his death, is the concert-going public coming to appreciate the color and scope of Mahler's music.

It is a significant phase of compositional evolution to say the audience at Sunday's concert applauded the work heartily with understanding and enthusiasm. While it takes a good deal of experience to appreciate Mahler's music from the listener's side of the podium, it takes a great deal more to play to it. Our orchestra's performance reflected the group's training, musicianship, discipline and sophistication to a degree not possible with lesser works. We congratulate all of them on their marvelous accomplishment.

This humble reviewer looks forward to the time in the hoped-for not too distant future when the heady aroma of strong disinfectant is no longer a characteristic of the Symphony's performance. A civic auditorium would have to be cleaned up after each use; it is doubtful though if the new home would be used for the purposes now delegated to the High School Gymnasium. A multi-purpose room seldom goes any of its jobs well, certainly not as well as one area designed for specific use.

County, City Agree to Repave Ann Arbor Trail

An agreement between the City of Plymouth and Wayne County Road Commission to re-pave Ann Arbor Trail, from Harvey to Sheldon was approved by the city commission Monday night.

The move will come as good news for those living along the street and those who use it frequently. The street has been in rough shape ever since last winter. There is just one sour note to the agreement. The re-paving, according to City Manager Albert Glassford, will not come until next fall.

Ann Arbor Trail is a county-controlled street. Re-paving of county streets inside the city limits, however, is usually a joint venture when it comes to paving. Ann Arbor Trail's $28,000 cost of repaving will be paid two-thirds by the county and one-third by the city. The county will direct the work.

Those owning property along the street will be assessed for the job at $1 per front foot.

In other business, these things happened Monday night: —A motion was approved allowing the sale of city water to Plymouth Township for re-sale to the Garling Construction Co. The construction firm intends to build a subdivision on both city and township land on the eastern edge of the city. A water policy study committee of the commission is now studying the question of rates to be charged for sale of water outside the city limits. Until their report is made, the usual charge of double rates is in effect.

—A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce appeared to discuss the annual problem of providing Christmas decorations. The city has taken over the job of erecting the decorations in recent years. Some new decorations will be purchased, including a new manger scene for Kellogg Park. The city has budgeted $1,000 for decorations; the Chamber Retail Merchants committee chairman, Wendell Lent, agreed to raise $800.

—Safety Director Kenneth Fisher asked the commission to pass a motion that will ask the Road Commission to lengthen the traffic signal hours at Peniman and Sheldon from 10 p.m. until midnight. The signal, which goes off at 10 to a flashing signal, is a hazard because many motorists do not know what the red flashing signal means. Traffic safety men will not approve a stop sign for times when the flasher is on. Fisher said that he has tried everything else, so perhaps the commission's letter may have some weight.

The Reader Speaks Up:

Editor:

As teachers in the Plymouth schools we would protest The Mail's page-one story last week concerning the charges made at a recent Board of Education Meeting against James Griffith, high school band director. We have no intention at this time to attempt a defense of Mr. Griffith nor do we wish to side with his accusers. We do, however, want to make known our strong objections to the way The Mail has handled the affair. Our objections may be summed up as follows:

1. Charges—some serious, some trivial—have been made against Mr. Griffith by individual citizens. By placing these unproved charges on page one the Mail has (unintentionally) lent credence to them. Mr. Griffith's professional status has been weakened in the community and among his students. He has, in effect, been convicted by publicity.

2. By spotlighting these charges made at a Board meeting The Mail has surprisingly departed from its usual custom of printing Board debates in eye-strain type and "Minutes of the Meeting" form, placed considerably farther back in the paper.

We realize that The Mail has the right to print any news it wants with whatever degree of prominence it wishes. We believe, however, that a community paper has also the duty to assist the rational working out of school problems; last week the Mail

Jaycees Sell Unique Garbage Can Carriers

Anyone who struggles to get their garbage cans to the curb each week may be an easy target for the Plymouth Jaycees who this week are starting a sale of a unit to ease the back-breaking job. A mobile rack that holds two garbage cans will go on display and sale this Saturday along Main St. and Forest Ave. The Jaycees, who will use the profit to carry on their work among local youth, will also sell to their friends and neighbors. The garbage can lids are fastened together by a heavy metal bracket which is attached to the rack itself, eliminating loss of the lids by vandals or wind. The rack is of sturdy construction with large rubber tires, making it easy even for the lady of the house to roll to the street. The city commission has approved the rack and the project. Through the cooperation of the Redford Jaycees, the Plymouth Jaycees have been able to obtain a supply at a price of $14.95. Anyone interested in a phone order may call GL 3-4517. There is free delivery.

(Neither condemning nor praising The Mail's news treatment will solve the problem — as the PEA also knows full well.)

Men in Service

Robert Middleton
Second Lt. Robert W. Middleton, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Ryder, 9225 Joy Rd., completed the military orientation course Nov. 6 at Brooke Army Medical Center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Lt. Middleton received training in the treatment of battle injuries, care of personnel suffering from combat exhaustion, and preventive medicine procedures used to detect health hazards and avoid epidemics. The 22-year-old officer is a 1955 graduate of Plymouth High School and a 1959 graduate of Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. He is a member of Delta Chi fraternity.

allowing the sale of city water to Plymouth Township for re-sale to the Garling Construction Co. The construction firm intends to build a subdivision on both city and township land on the eastern edge of the city. A water policy study committee of the commission is now studying the question of rates to be charged for sale of water outside the city limits. Until their report is made, the usual charge of double rates is in effect.

—A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce appeared to discuss the annual problem of providing Christmas decorations. The city has taken over the job of erecting the decorations in recent years. Some new decorations will be purchased, including a new manger scene for Kellogg Park. The city has budgeted $1,000 for decorations; the Chamber Retail Merchants committee chairman, Wendell Lent, agreed to raise $800.

—Safety Director Kenneth Fisher asked the commission to pass a motion that will ask the Road Commission to lengthen the traffic signal hours at Peniman and Sheldon from 10 p.m. until midnight. The signal, which goes off at 10 to a flashing signal, is a hazard because many motorists do not know what the red flashing signal means. Traffic safety men will not approve a stop sign for times when the flasher is on. Fisher said that he has tried everything else, so perhaps the commission's letter may have some weight.

Calvary Baptist Boys' Group Has Special Week

Boys of Christian Service Brigade Battalion and Stockade of the Calvary Baptist Church are celebrating Brigade Week, Nov. 15-22 with special group activities. The boys are taking part in the Sunday evening service at the church on November 22 at 7 p.m. at which time special recognition will be given to outstanding members of the group.

Mr. James Payne is captain of Christian Service Brigade Battalion 1225 and is assisted by Lieutenants William Carter and William Hogz. The Stockade is led by Jack Stout assisted by Herman Warne-muende, Robert Kine and Don Yerkes. The Brigade committee of the Calvary Baptist Church is led by William Hogz with Jack Stout, Bernard Kozicki and Pastor P. J. Clifford sharing in committee responsibilities.

All boys 12 to 18 are given a special invitation to attend the regular meetings of Battalion 1225 on Thursday evenings at 7 p.m. each week at the church. Stockaders meet on Monday evenings at 6:45 p.m. and all boys 8 to 11 are invited to these meetings.

Christian Service Battalion and Stockade 1225 join with hundreds of other local Brigade groups in the United States, Canada and several foreign countries in celebrating this annual event. Churches sponsoring these Brigade groups will review progress and join in recognizing the advancements made in the past year.

Many thousands of boys across the nation enjoy the meetings of this national boys' club program each week. They have an opportunity for craft work and pursuing special interests, training and instruction based on the Bible, and recreation. They proudly wear the membership pin which has a torch and a sword crossed behind an open Bible. They will quickly tell you that the Brigade motto is "Bright and Keen for Christ."

The leaders, supplied with program helps and materials from the Christian Service Brigade Headquarters in Chicago, Illinois, are dedicated to the task of "winning and training boys for Christ." Such training in Christian living and service will also make them better citizens of the community and the nation.

One Rifle Class Comes to End, Another Begins

Seventeen students have completed their requirements for Basic Rifle Marksmanship, according to their instructor, John Olendorf, and are now qualified to shoot for NRA qualifications. Those who have completed the six week course are Thomas Donnelly, Mr. Johannes Erander, his son Russell, John Haug and brother Robert, James Hoffman, George Parsons, Michael Reece, David Roberts, Patrick Schaefer, William Silvis, Joe Steencken, Ronald Tisch, John Truer, James Whitmore, David Thompson, and Bob Baldwin.

A new course in Rifle Marksmanship will begin on Monday, Nov. 23 at 6:30 p.m. and anyone interested should make a point to register early before the class is filled. In order for the class to start on time Monday, registrations will be taken on Saturday at the range from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. A fee of $1.75 will be charged at the time of registration to cover the cost of supplies used in the class.

Having had one father complete the last class with his son, we urge more dads and mothers to join up and enjoy the good clean sport of shooting with their sons and daughters.

Mr. Olendorf is pleased to introduce Frank Lemox and Floyd Graham, two new assistant instructors who have volunteered their services to the Junior Police Rifle Club. With the much needed and appreciated help of these two generous men, Mr. and Mrs. Olendorf will now be able to give that much more help to individuals who are having some problems.

Tame Ducks Shot With Bow and Arrow

A young boy with a bow and arrow killed and took home two tame ducks from a stream running through the Herbert Smith property, 14321 Haggerty Rd.

Mrs. Smith said that a passerby saw the boy crossing Schoolcraft with the two dead ducks. The tame birds had been placed in the creek about six months ago.

"He may have thought they were wild ducks," Mrs. Smith commented, "but they were on private property and the ducks wouldn't have flown away."

Swainsons to Host Democratic Club; Szymanski is Speaker

"Sports and Politics" will be the topic Probate Judge Frank J. Szymanski will present to local Democrats at their meeting at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 26. The meeting will be held at the home of Lt. Gov. John Swainson, 44525 Governor Bradford, in Plymouth Colony. A former All-American football player from the University of Notre Dame, and a former professional football player with the Detroit Lions, the Philadelphia Eagles and the Chicago Bears, Judge Szymanski has an ample background in the field of sports.

His political background includes appointment by the governor in 1956 to the position of auditor general of the state, and his subsequent election and re-election to that position in 1956 and 1958. He was appointed to his present position of probate judge last month. Any person interested in participating in the Democratic Party is invited to attend the meeting.

Australia now has about 74,000 aborigines, compared with 300,000 when the first white settlers arrived in 1788.

First Federal Opens More Flexible Yule Savings Plan

A Christmas Club savings plan that pays regular 3½ percent earnings and provides greater flexibility than customary plans has been announced by First Federal Savings of Detroit, and it is now open to both new and old savings customers, it is announced by Perry W. "The World of Carl Sandburg" opens at the Riviera Theater on Friday night. It stays for only two performances. Too bad, they had to schedule such a fine show into such a large house. Two actors and a ballad singer make up the entire company of the Sandburg show. Of course, Bette Davis and Gaty Merrill, her hubby, should be able to conquer the vastness of the Riviera and by the magic of their interpretative work, you will enjoy the intimate works of Carl Sandburg. "Poetry is a silver of the moon lost in the belly of a golden frog," sagely states Carl in one of his many works of art. Another of his sayings that I've always enjoyed is...

"Money buys everything except love, personality, freedom, immortality, silence, peace." If you enjoy Carl Sandburg's poetry or prose, get in line for a ticket over at the Riviera. Mr. Sandburg's works were never better performed than you'll find them done this weekend, November 20, 21.

Speaking of money not being able to buy freedom reminds me that a play by Friedrich Schiller—"Mary Stuart"—opens at the Cass Theater. Mr. Schiller's 200th birthday was recently celebrated in Detroit by all the universities. His contribution to the arts has been full and complete. And now one of his greatest historical dramas is coming to Detroit on November 24th at the Cass Theater. The great pity is that this powerful adaptation of Schiller's drama can only stay for one week.

A BUS LOAD of students from Starkweather, Allen and Smith schools attended a Children's Concert by the Detroit Symphony last Saturday morning in the Ford Auditorium. Their trip, paid for by the Plymouth Symphony Society, gave many of them their first close look at a large city symphony. Shown are the 40 students and their chaperones, Mrs. Wallace Laury, Miss Barbara Cornelius, Miss Ruth Lindsey, and Miss Judy Atwood, all teachers.

Margaret Biddinger Freshman at Marygrove

Traditional ceremonies were held on the Marygrove College campus in Detroit Monday as students and faculty participated in an observance of Founder's Day and Investiture. An assembly in the college auditorium marked the date when, in 1845, Father Louis Florent Gilet founded the teaching congregation of the Sisters, Servants of the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

Sister Mary Honora, IHM, Marygrove president, greeted the assembly and introduced the guest speaker, Sister M. Rosalita, IHM, Marygrove professor of history and political science. A dinner in Madame Cadillac Hall dining rooms for the two classes and the faculty concluded the activities. Among the freshmen at Marygrove College, Detroit, invested in academic cap and gown was Margaret Biddinger, 10004 Ingram, Livonia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Biddinger. Top a pumpkin pie with an unusual ginger meringue. Fold two tablespoons finely chopped preserved ginger into a 2-egg white meringue and bake according to meringue recipe directions.

CARED FOR BOOKS

Michigan was the first state to provide for libraries in its first constitution. The 1835 Michigan constitution provided for the establishment of at least one library in each township and city and that all money derived from fines for breach of penal laws be applied exclusively to the support of libraries.

Dedicate Hospital Sunday

(Continued from Page 1) mankind", has come through in the drive behind the success of the building of the new hospital. Founding and administering hospitals is not new to these dedicated women, for St. Mary Hospital is the twelfth to open under their direction. Under the leadership of the Sisters, excellent progress in planning was made, and on April 7, 1958, Rev. Msgr. Warren Peek, Dean of the Southwestern Deanery, officiated at the ground breaking ceremonies. Officials of the City of Livonia and the neighboring communities were present for the occasion. The $3,500,000 structure would rise at this site. As the months went along, construction moved ahead of schedule and today the communities are looking forward to the formal opening in the very near future. The cross-shaped hospital, with a capacity of 100 beds and 42 bassinets, will comprise spacious offices, medical library and record room. The nursing departments will be divided into medical and surgical units; the latter including operating and recovery rooms. The obstetrical section with labor and delivery rooms, in addition to the regular nursery, will house premature and suspect nurseries as well as a formula suite. The pediatric department will be a separate unit for the care of sick children. Service divisions cover dietary, housekeeping, mechanical and employee facilities as well as storage and laundry. Other services will be covered by pathology, radiology, physical therapy, pharmacy and an emergency department. For the convenience of all, the hospital will provide a chapel, daily mail distribution, telephone, radio and television service, as well as a large parking lot. Every phase of medicine and surgery will be adequately covered by a staff of 110 doctors. The lay Administrative Advisory Board, headed by W. W. Edgar, has given a large measure of assistance on various occasions since its inception in 1958. Other active volunteers in connection with the hospital are members of the St. Mary Hospital Guild which was organized by the late Mrs. Mary Roach. Mrs. Dorothy Arnold of Plymouth succeeded Mrs. Roach as President of the Guild. An important aim of the Guild members is to finance the gift and coffee shop in the hospital lobby. On September 26 and 27, a highly successful Rodeo at the Detroit Race Track, at Schoolcraft and Middlebelt, fattened the Guild bank account to the tune of over $14,000. The first newcomers born in St. Mary Hospital will not only have the advantage of new equipment, but will be in line for prizes. John's Livonia Hardware has a shiny new baby scale for the first baby born. The Bank of Livonia will present to the first newborn a $100 Series E Bond, and to each of the next five infants a $25 Bond. A display of particular interest which should not escape attention is the "Book of Appreciation" bound in hard-tooled leather which is to be seen in the main lobby. Looking into the future, the administrator and the Board of Trustees see a 350-bed hospital, a psychiatric department and other extended services, geared to meet the needs of this growing community.

Livonia Coed Plays Role of Grandma
 Barbara Bentley of Livonia, Junior student at Central Michigan University, has been cast in the role of Grandma Parker in "Love is Eternal," a three act play being presented by the University Drama Department, Nov. 21-23. The play is a biographical account of the life of charming and hot-tempered Mary Todd Lincoln, with dramatization by Ruth Sergel from a best seller by Irving Stone. Brown and serve sausage links, cut into 1/2-inch pieces, can be added directly to bread stuffing without pre-cooking. Old-style sausage should be browned and drained before being used in stuffing.

Large Turnout Plunges Into Swim Practice

Seventy Plymouth High students — the largest group ever — plunged into swimming practice in preparation for the 1959-60 varsity swimming competition. Among the participants are 15 returning letter-winners from last year's Suburban Six League Championship team.

Only five members have departed the team that last season swept to 10 league victories without defeat, while losing three non-league contests. One of those defeats was by Ann Arbor, state champions of last season.

The Rocks will miss Byron Williams, who placed seventh in the state last season with his butterfly breaststroke, but should have enough depth to overcome the effect of his departure.

Jim Carney, a freestyler, and Allen Davies, a backstroker, are co-captains of this year's team. Coach John McFall also expects solid support from seniors Don Williams and Beau Toll. Both are butterfly backstrokers and should help offset the loss of Williams.

Opponents will see double in Plymouth meets when twin brothers Robert and Ron Daley perform in the free-style event. McFall expects strong performances from both juniors.

Another junior expected to provide a lift to the team is Dick Greisinger in the breaststroke events. Others returning from last season include: Douglas Bal four, freestyle; Warren Smith, freestyle; Nick Herick, diving; Bernie Curtis, freestyle; Art Helm, freestyle; Valdemar Lucse, individual medley; Dave Rank, breaststroke; and Scott Soth, breaststroke.

Additional help may be provided by sophomores Dick Michaels and Tom Hoffman in the backstroke. Another sophomore, Edwin Schrader may aid in the freestyle events.

Freshman Ron Peck and Mark Schultheiss are a couple of divers who have shown promise. Dave Scott, a senior who was sidelined with an injury last season, is expected to add strength in diving. Junior Andy Whiting is breaststroker with possibilities.

The team has been practicing six days a week since November 9th, and Coach McFall will hold time trials Thursday and Friday. The first meet is at Lincoln Park December 3rd. The Thanksgiving vacation will cut short practice during that week.

Here are some of the things a Dibert Pressurizer will do:

1. Brings pre-heated fresh air into the living quarters all the time the furnace is running.
2. Greatly improves the humidity content of the home. Relieves dryness of nasal membranes and skin.
3. Cooking and tobacco odors are quickly dispelled. Home has that fresh smell.
4. Eliminates many of the drafts.
5. Makes heating more economical.
6. More even distribution of heat. Makes it possible to heat rooms that are otherwise hard-to-heat.

Five Vets Return To 'Court'

Five veterans led a group of 30 Plymouth basketball enthusiasts trying out for varsity basketball. Leading the list is an old familiar Rock and athletic name, Randy Egloff, but is in a rebuilding process. The senior quarterback who turns center-forward in the basketball season, totaled 236 points last season for a 17 point average to lead the team. Plymouth won four and lost eleven last season, but is in a rebuilding process that may show results this season.

A football season without a football banquet is a little like Thanksgiving without good cranberry sauce. Normally, something important seems to be lacking. Mayflower Hotel, at 7:30 p.m. November 30, in the city of Plymouth, a group of mothers and fathers will sit down to dinner with their sons, thereby insuring that Plymouth players will be justly honored for their great 1959 season.

There was no such banquet last season, although the first one was held the year before at the instigation of Dr. John Salan, who was helped by Ralph Lorenz, Mayflower manager, and Herman Bakhaus of Cloverdale Dairy.

This season Dr. Salan, who practices medicine during the day and who spends his Friday evenings on the Plymouth High school bench as team physician, has organized this banquet.

He modestly gives credit for the banquet to Coach John Hoben and Athletic Director John Sandmann, but a rumor keeps floating around, whenever the subject comes up, that the fee Dr. Salan gets for being team physician has somehow been transferred into a sizeable number of dinners that the team will eat November 30th.

Dr. Salan has been team physician for four years, and probably no more trying moment presented itself than when he was called to the middle of the field in the Allen Park game.

Stretched out on the ground was a Plymouth senior halfback named John Salan, the doctor's son. "It gets to your heartstrings a little bit more," Dr. Salan said referring to the accident.

Young Salan suffered a dislocated elbow that benched him for the rest of the season. It deprived Coach Hoben of a stout offensive halfback, who averaged nearly five yards per carry. Halfback Art Nelson and fullback Mike Kisabeth filled in for him, but the burden shifted to fullback Wayne Sparkman.

Plymouth's offense was never quite as varied after Salan's injury. In addition, the defense lost one of its best linebackers.

"The kids are a wonderful type of youngster," the doctor says in talking of the 1959 Plymouth team, "and I always had the feeling that they would come to me with any injury.

This is getting away from the subject of a banquet, although it is the same kind of enthusiasm that will be evident in speeches, movies and conversation when the parents and the team get together at the Mayflower.

In addition, the new captain will be named at that time and the most valuable player will be announced. There will be no trophies given because of a state law that forbids anything over three dollars in value being awarded. The most valuable player will receive a certificate.

The state law may be a good idea because the association with people like Dr. Salan is, perhaps, the best award that can be given the players.

A relatively few men, highly skilled in their practice, are responsible for the appearance of every man in the Plymouth community. Their art and profession dates back three centuries before Christ. These highly skilled practitioners are the barbers of Plymouth.

Barbers are mentioned in the Old Testament of the Bible. History records that they came to Rome from Sicily in 303 B.C. As early as the 16th Century they were known as barber surgeons when they performed the manual operations for the medical men in the clergy. As late as the French Revolution barbers were engaged in the areas of dentistry and surgery.

From that time on the licensed practitioners of medicine, dentistry and surgery, while barbers confined their efforts to their original practice—that of shaving and cutting hair.

The dictionary defines a profession as an occupation requiring education. We come to view professions as those occupations requiring high skill and a professional "manner". On these two basis barbers qualify as professional barbers. Almost two concentrated years of study and practice prepare a man to appear before the State Board of Examiners.

He is required to know some basic anatomy, skin conditions, scalp construction, details about his instruments, technical terms in the medical field, as well as practiced skill in the use of the tools of his occupation. A barber's pride in his skill and his ability to please his clients tends to make him conscious of his clients and his affect on them.

State examinations and licensing rules maintain high standards in the barbering professions and serve also to protect the public. Standards of health, cleanliness, knowledge, skill and reputation assure the best of tonorial care to the public.

The barbers of Plymouth are a part of this ancient and noble profession. You have seen their red, white and blue poles and perhaps you have noticed their ads in another part of this newspaper. They are dedicated to serving the community of Plymouth. Barbers are active in the Community Fund, fraternal organizations, service clubs, barber associations, and activities which contribute to the community betterment.

The barbers are especially dedicated to the growth and development of the community. They take a serious interest in business activities and in the people they serve.

Barbers are far more than men in a little shop you visit several times per month.

Electors Decide

The $4 million issue calls for millage of 6 mills, but the board states that it will require only 4.53 mills to pay off the bonds. The half million dollar issue requires a voted millage of .75 mills, but the board believes that only .57 mills will be required.

The net increase in millage from the present 21.07 mills would be 1.45. The increase over the former rate of 21.95 mills would be .57 mills. Any increase would not be added to the tax bills until a year from this December.

The Mail Attitude

- (1) Sort the checks into accurate categories.
- (2) Post the amounts on individual ledgers.
- (3) Compute new balances.
- (4) Print new balances on individual ledger accounts.

You put the checks in the first machine, tell the second machine what you want done, and the third machine posts results.

Getting it down even simpler, the first machine "reads" the checks and the third machine "writes" the results.

Machine No. 2 is the "brain." It does the scheduling, the quarter-backing, the proofing, and all that other stuff for which electric brains these days are producing while striving to get into "Who's Who" with people.

The machines can stop payment on checks when that is desired; it will refuse to accept checks on an overdrawn account, if someone just gives them the word.

From coded magnetic ink characters, the system reads information directly from checks, deposit slips and other documents of sizes and thicknesses.

Well, it's uncanny, that's all.

The obvious thought is that it can save a bank huge expense over a period of time. These units can do in a flash what it takes mere people hours to accomplish.

These Burroughs devices are less delicate than many of their brother "brains," too. They neither ask nor require any air-conditioning, for instance—another expense item that the bankers (who rarely miss such details, as I remember) will not be allowed to overlook.

The purchase price is $217,400. To a pedestrian mind, this might sound big, but in the field of computers and electronic equipment, it is bourgeoisie—middle class, no more.

One of the selling points, in fact, is that this equipment is priced down in the "medium price" range of banks. It's not something restricted to the very richest.

If the full price disturbs, the system also can be leased for $3,975 per month. Just in case your mind happens to twitch over figures, that would represent the pay of perhaps 10 or 12 clerks, and if anybody should suggest a production contest between these machines and 10 or 12 clerks, we'd urge a good wager on the machines.

This writer made a hurried run through the Burroughs plants last week (before the bankers took over) and left certain that our biggest local industry is on the brink of something bigger.

If it happens, it means growth and prosperity to each one reading this narrative, personally.

The bank use of the new system is only the first; there are scores of other obvious ones, but Burroughs has chosen to sell the banks first, and bring up other ideas later.

These bankers will be all around for a few days. If you spot one, give him a smile, buy him a cup of coffee, or otherwise be hospitable.

He might have something to do with how well we eat around here in future years.

those with children face a bleak holiday through no fault of their own. We are confident in our hopes that the citizens of this area will stand shoulder to shoulder with the people of The Salvation Army in this important task, just as they have always done in the past.

"I want to extend the heartfelt thanks of my organization as well as the thanks of our recipients to the kind public for their past and future help."

Residents are asked to have their donations ready at 9 a.m. on this Saturday at which time the door-to-door collection will begin.

This is an opportunity to help The Salvation Army whose slogan, "With Heart to God and Hand to Man," is a vital part of their vast effort. Discards will be put to good use for the relief and rehabilitation of men, women and children, when placed in the skilled hands of The Salvation Army.

Clarenceville and Garden City.

Livonia's board proposed the change, arguing that it was a "wrong basis" to start with the smallest districts having exactly the same representation and voice in decisions as the more populated districts.

Because of the difficulty and time lapse which might occur in having the State Law amended, the group also decided to see if immediate action might proceed under terms of a rarely-used provision of school law which permits districts to combine together under a "working agreement" subject to approval by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

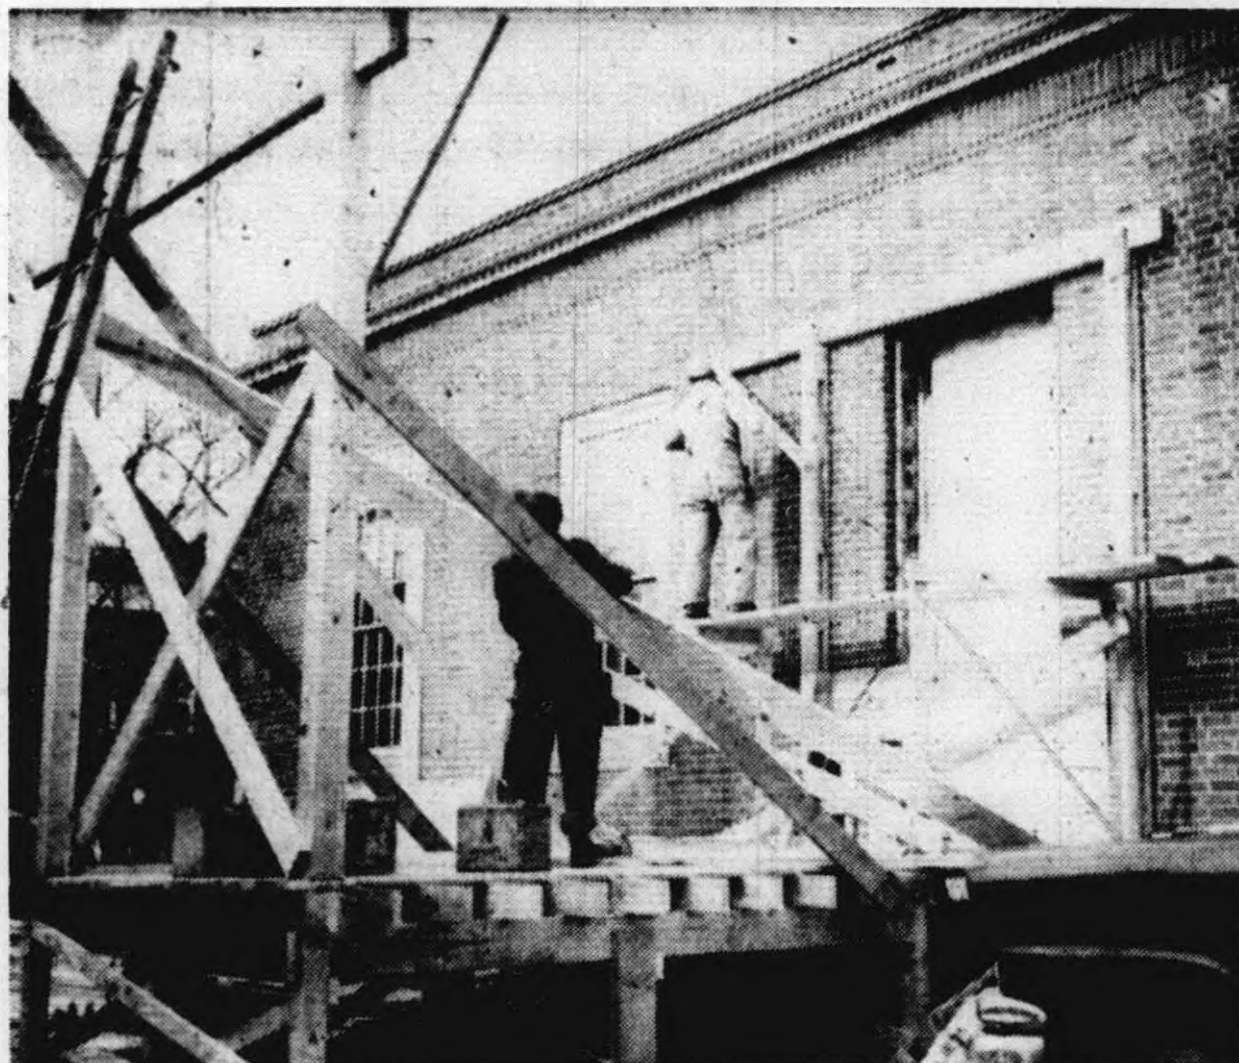

If the Superintendent approved, it wouldn't be necessary to wait for the law to be amended in proceeding with plans for the college.

Proposition III (All Electors)

Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Plymouth Community School District, Wayne and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, for all purposes, except taxes levied for payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 8, 1932, be increased, as provided by Section 21, Article X of the Constitution of Michigan, by seventy-five thousandths of one per cent (0.075 percent) (¾ mill) of the assessed valuation, as equalized, of all property in the School District for a period of twenty (20) years, from 1960 to 1979, both inclusive.

Susan Wesley-Ronald Krump Say Vows

Mrs. Ronald M. Krump

Susan Jack Wesley and Ronald Matthew Krump spoke their marriage vows October 17 in the St. Mary's Chapel, Ann Arbor, Michigan. Father Bradley officiated at the 11 a.m. service.

Escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride chose a long white peau de soi wedding gown with Italian embroidery and a chapel train, with a princess waist. White roses, stephanotis and ivy formed her colonial bouquet. An illusion veil bound with a lace border was held in place by a flowered Juliette cap.

"Ava Maria" was sung by Mr. Nat Sibbold of Plymouth.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wesley of Rogers, Arkansas, formerly of Plymouth, and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Krump, Gold Arbor, Plymouth.

Susan invited Miss Sara Wesley, her sister, to be her maid of honor, and Miss Martha Wesley, another sister, Mrs. Robert Evans of Plymouth, and Mrs. Edward Fontaine of Ann Arbor as her attendants.

Ivory cotton lace over ivory taffeta street length frocks were worn by the attendants with matching lace caps and shoes. They carried bouquets of gardenias and dark green leaves.

Attending the groom's best man was Tom Smegal of Washington, D.C. Gerald Ritchie of River Rouge, Ross Diaz of Wayne, Robert Nully of River Rouge, Ken Kline of Bay City seated the guests.

The bride's mother greeted guests at a wedding breakfast at the Mayflower Hotel, following the ceremony, in a plum-colored wool sheath, assisted by the groom's mother in a dark brown wool sheath.

The new Mrs. Krump chose a brown watch, plaid walking suit with black accessories for her wedding trip to Michigan's Upper Peninsula. She is a graduate of the University of Michigan, a Gamma Phi Beta; the groom is a graduate of Michigan College of Mining and is a member of the Kappa Delta Fraternity. He is presently stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., serving as a lieutenant in the U.S. Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harrison

Newlyweds to Live in New Jersey

Karen Mason was united in marriage to Gerald Harrison at the First Baptist Church in Plymouth, November 7. Rev. David Rieder officiated at the 7:30 service.

Mr. Ross House, grandfather of the bride, escorted her to the altar. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irvyn Johnson, Penniman. Karen chose a ballerina length dress of white flowered lace over satin for her wedding.

Her maid of honor, Miss Rosalee Thomas wore a blue ballerina length gown with blue accessories. The bride's niece, Kathy House, served as flower girl in a yellow dotted swiss dress over satin.

The bride's brother, Lee Arthur Johnson served as ring-bearer.

Charles Harrison, the groom's brother, served the groom as best man and his uncle, Corby House and Gussie House seated the guests.

Relatives and friends attended a reception in the Church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The newlyweds left Plymouth a few days after the ceremony for New Jersey, where the groom is stationed, serving in the U.S. Army, until June.

They will take up residence in Plymouth after his army discharge.

United in Double Ring Rites

Marie Hazel Burger was united in marriage to Lyle Joseph Huetner gowned in a wedding dress previously worn by her twin sister. It was fashioned of white nylon tulle over satin with lace inserts in the skirt forming a long train in the back. An illusion neckline was outlined in sequins and set off with a Peter Pan collar. The long sleeves and bodice were lace also. A lace pillbox cap trimmed with pearls and sequins held a fingertip veil in place, edged in lace. Her flowers were white fugi mums, stephanotis and two cymbidium orchids in the center.

Father L. Joseph Hemmer, cousin of the groom, of Corpus Christie Church, Chicago, Illinois, officiated for the double ring ceremony October 10, 10:30 High Mass in Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Farmington.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. Ronald Lemieux, twin sister of the bride, and she chose for her a street length gown of white nylon lace over red taffeta with short sleeves and round neckline trimmed with a red taffeta bow at the waistline in the front.

Bridesmaids were Miss Elizabeth Burger, niece of the bride, and Mrs. Gwen Albright, sister of the groom, gowned identically to the maid of honor.

The best man for the groom was Paul Albright, brother-in-law of the groom. Groomsman were Edgar Burger, brother of the bride and Al Paskevich.

Mrs. Betty Schafer played organ selections and Mr. S. Joseph Schafer sang "Ava Maria," "Panis Angelicus," and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

Peggy Burger, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Joseph Huetner dressed identically to the other attendants of the bride.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Burger, Farmington Road, hosted a breakfast reception at Guffin's Frontier Town, Farmington, Michigan, for guests honoring the young couple.

After a Florida honeymoon the newlyweds took up residence at 14242 Riverview, Detroit.

To Women It May Concern

By MYRA COX

Gary Merrill and his famous wife Betty Davis didn't particularly get the "red carpet" treatment last Sunday when they rolled into the Mayflower Hotel in the middle of the night. In fact, host Ralph Lorenz didn't even realize the reservation he had from Mr. Merrill and his wife from Toronto was the illustrious pair who will be appearing this week at the Riviera Theater in Detroit. Probably the artists will always have a fond memory of Plymouth as a Eutopia where they and their entourage could get a good night's lodging, good food, and not be molested by blinking camera and silly questions. Had I known I could have supplied both.

We have something that is here to stay in Plymouth and very popular in New York and Detroit too. It is a week-day club.

In New York they have the Tuesday Downtown Operators' and Observers' Club and in Detroit the Saturday Club—in Plymouth we have the Wednesday Morning Study Club.

The Tuesday Downtown Operators' and Observers' Club is unique—it is for single men and is the answer to a career girl's dream. The TDO & O (as it is fondly known) was founded 10 years ago as a weekly luncheon meeting of unmarried businessmen who entertain one or two young ladies (more than 1,000 during the 10 year span) at each Tuesday lunch.

Usually one member has dated a girl once or twice and thinks the others would enjoy her company as a date, so he invites her to Tuesday lunch and from there on his fellow members are on their own. When the member on "duty roster," (he is the one in charge of asking the girl,) doesn't show with the guest it is called Black Tuesday and the member is suspended for six months.

The Saturday Club is entirely different and is small and select. Each member must represent supervision in his line of work (also all men). Their sole purpose in meeting one Saturday of each month is to improve each other's fortunes (this has been done on the average of four-fold for each member.) A member cannot miss a meeting, unless for health reasons and their discussions are private. The only thing I don't like about this club is that I'm not in it.

The Plymouth Wednesday Morning Club may not improve the financial power of members, but it will improve them four-fold mentally. At last, an all women club, and they are in their sixth year. They started primarily as a religious study group and have branched into many fields including psychology and foreign affairs.

They have a limit of 30 members because of meeting in each other's homes and have a waiting list.

The University of Michigan is extremely interested in this knowledge-thirsty group as a pilot for bringing the class and professor to the home rather than the student into the classroom on an adult level.

They have just completed a seven week series on Political Science, with professors from the University informing the members on the status quo of the politics of each country. Each man was fully informed on his subject, some having just returned from the country with first-hand knowledge of current events.

They anticipate, right after Christmas, to begin another series of study on a book they are all in the process of reading, "Art of Loving" by Eric Fromm. This will be a psychology study course.

Planning the year's study, with the group's approval, is Mrs. Margaret Hough, Mrs. Ray Hulce, Mrs. Wilson Augustine, Mrs. Carl Cederberg.

A REQUEST: In keeping with their New Orleans theme the Plymouth Symphony Society is in need of white wrought-iron garden furniture to use for the Symphony Ball Saturday, Dec. 26. Call Mrs. Shirley Snowden, GL 3-4676, General Chairman of Decorations, or Mrs. Rosemary Kooiman, GL 3-3532, if you can assist them.

About

Women

Interesting Plymouthite

If you lived next door to Mrs. Philip Vitale on Marlin Drive in Arbor Village, Plymouth, you might not even be aware of her many wonderful talents and amazing repertoire of French and Italian operas. She is a lyric soprano, sews a fine seam, and cooks like a French chef.

A tiny woman with a friendly smile and merry blue eyes that can be extremely purposeful when she is speaking of her music, Mrs. Vitale is no longer involved in gueling rehearsals and time-consuming performances.

However, before her marriage to Philip Vitale, Angelina Cianciolo Vitale sang with the Michigan Opera Company. Dorothy Kirsten, Franco Perulli, Robert Merrill, Bruno Landi, Helde Reggiani, Era Tagnoli were but a few of the stars she has appeared with.

She also sang in operetta with Italian Radio Hour and the Italian American Art Theater from Detroit under direction of Gino Giovanetti.

Mrs. Vitale participated in many opera sequences from the motion pictures under the direction of Amano Agnini from Metropolitan Hollywood San Francisco Opera Company. "Going My Way" with Rise Stevens and "Lost Weekend" were a few he directed.

Since moving to Plymouth two years ago, she has been singing only with her church choir at "Our Lady of Good Counsel" directed by Mr. Grinner. She would like to encourage parishioners to join the Good Counsel choir. They meet at 7:45 in the church.

She couldn't resist working on the Plymouth Symphony Christmas Concert to be presented Sunday, December 20, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," under the direction of Wayne Dunlap.

An accomplished pianist, Mrs. Vitale studied under Madame Peppard of the Detroit Conservatory of Music, Sister Anna Marie of Marygrove College, and McNichols Piano School.

Mrs. Philip J. Vitale

In addition to her music, she is extremely fond of interior decorating as reflected by her well appointed home done in warm shades of rose and beige. She made her own draperies throughout the house and has decorated lampshades, crocheted edspreads and an afghan. She is now working on her costume for the "Amahl" opera.

Talent for cooking is displayed by the elegant Italian tea cookies she keeps in the freezer to bake "when company drops in."

The recipe is generous and particularly good for Christmas with any number of variations.

Italian Cookies

Sift 5 cups flour, 5 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. salt.

Cream 4 eggs with 1/2 cup sugar and 4 tablespoons of Crisco and 4 tablespoons of Oleo. (she does not recommend butter). Add 1 teaspoon of Anis flavoring, 1 teaspoon of Vanilla and 1/4 cup milk.

Roll out on table, sprinkling sesame seeds through dough. Make into 3 three inch oval rolls, sprinkle top with sesame seeds - bake in 350 oven for about 12 minutes. Large yield, and wonderful with coffee, tea, or milk.

Crime costs U. S. citizens $22 billion a year, the FBI reports.

A.A.U. Women to Hear Judge Bowles

The November meeting of the Plymouth Branch of the A.A.U. will feature Wayne Circuit Court Judge George Bowles as the guest speaker. Members and guests will gather at the home of Mrs. R.E. Beerbower, 20142 Valley Road in Northville at 7:45 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 19, to hear Judge Bowles' resume, "A Day in Court," with special emphasis on his work in the field of family life. Co-hostesses for the social hour preceding the talk are Mrs. T.N. Cummings (Northville), Chairman, and Mrs. L.C. Sullivan (Northville) and Miss Betty Demorest (Plymouth) assisting.

Judge George Bowles

Judge Bowles is a familiar figure in our community life. As a resident of Plymouth, he is active on the Board of Trustees of the First Presbyterian Church, as a member of his children's PTAs, in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth Rock Lodge, F & AM, and Plymouth Synphony and Torch Club. Professionally, he is currently Chairman of the Wayne Circuit Court Probation Committee and a member of the Criminal Administration Committee of the Michigan Judges Association, besides being a member of many professional associations.

Since coming to Michigan from his native state of Pennsylvania he has earned state-wide recognition in the field of labor mediation. He was granted his LLB degree from the University of Michigan Law School in 1941. Prior to that time he had been a secondary English and Latin teacher in northwestern Pennsylvania following his graduation, cum laude, from Grove City College. His wife is also a certified teacher from St. Cloud Teachers' College in Minnesota.

Reunion

Mrs. Dorothy Parker of Newaygo and her sister, Mrs. Hollis Fleming of Allegan were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ferrari of Ford Road, Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Fleming were schoolmates of Mrs. Ferrari. Mrs. Parker has been here to visit several times, however, it was Mrs. Fleming's first reunion with her friend since 1925.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Two new members, Victor Lathangue and Sidney Waters, were initiated into the Mayflower Post during the November 4 meeting. Both are heartily welcomed and we hope they will enjoy their association with our post. The membership contest is underway with two teams competing for the most members recruited before the contest closes in mid-January, 1960. Captains are Duane Johnson and Harry Krumm. The winning team will be guests of the losers at a party. Chairman Bud Luttermoser suggests each team member canvass his own neighborhood and contact eligible veterans. These will count three points in the contest. Our post is now in first place in its class in Michigan at this time. The members recently voted to pay the 1960 dues for Ulysses Hackenberg, a long time patient at Maybury Sanitarium.

Grange Cleanings

Our Grange was well represented for Pomona at Lima Center last Tuesday evening when 10 members attended the meeting.

Fourteen members attended the joint installation at Pittsfield Grange last Wednesday evening.

Brother Spicer returned home from the hospital and was able to go to camp along with the other young deer hunters, just to keep them company. Can't keep Sam down for long.

Sister McCoy still remains in the hospital. Shut-ins reported are Sisters Mott, Showers, Storm and Humphries. Cards and calls are always appreciated.

With the holiday season near every member, or their friends, needing extracts and pepper may now order. A new order has been received, so contact Mrs. Crumie, GL 3-4770 for your needs. They also make a useful gift item.

Get your Christmas ribbon and wrappings through your organization. Call GL 3-3030.

There are some of the fruit cakes left. Contact the Master, Jesse Tritten, if interested.

If you have not purchased your ticket for "Luncheon Is Served" tomorrow, Nov. 19 at 12:30 call Mrs. Squires. The luncheon will be followed with games of your choice for 25 cents extra, table and door prizes. Invite your friends and neighbors.

Tomorrow evening, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m. our regular meeting will be held. Reports on State Grange will be given by our delegate and assisted by others who attended the session.

It's a big day for most of us, but hope to have a large attendance.

Keep the Stanley party in mind for Nov. 30 at 7:30 p.m. Another opportunity to Christmas shop at home. Invite a friend to attend the party with you.

50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Van Loo of Mill Street celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Monday, Nov. 9. Dinner was served to relatives and friends at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Edson at Hudsonville.

Newberg Teen Club In Full Swing Again Friday Nights at Legion Hall

By Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GL 3-3787

Well, here we are back together again with the news from the Newberg area. If there is anything that I can do to make this column more interesting for you, please don't fail to dial old Michigan Bell and let me know. Please observe that I now have a Plymouth phone and all day Wednesday of any week is the deadline for the news, as the paper now comes out on a Wednesday instead of Thursday.

It is nice to report that the Newberg Teen club, which meets every Friday night at the American Legion hall on Newburg Road, is now back in full swing. Capable adult sponsors are on hand each time the group meets and a fine time is had by all if your young folks are looking for something to do on Friday night, here is the place for them to have fun under adequate supervision. This teen club is being sponsored by the Myron Beals Post of the American Legion.

Since my last writing to you I must report that some long-time residents of the Newburg area have moved, because of business reasons, to Indianapolis, Indiana. These folks are Mr. and Mrs. Les Durbin and daughters Dixie and Sandra. Their friends at Newburg wish them luck in their new venture.

The Good Neighbors Club, formerly the Patchen Community Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Clarice Nesbitt on Ford road, Thursday, Nov. 19 at 8 p.m.

From the bitter cold state of North Dakota, Mr. and Mrs. Newell Knapp of Grand Forks have come to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peterson on Narvise drive for a few days. These folks are an aunt and uncle of Mrs. Peterson's.

On Saturday, Nov. 14 at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Five Mile and Farmington, Mrs. Elaine Kleinow and Oliver Rigg, both of Ravine drive, were united in marriage. A small reception for friends and relatives was held at the bridegroom's home. Congratulations to the newlyweds.

On the past week-end five leaders of the Boy Scout Troop 271 of St. Michael's Catholic Church drove 18 scouts to Camp Howell to spend the weekend learning more about scouting. Three leaders, Scoutmaster Rea, Assistant Scoutmaster Powell and Mr. Darrah remained with the boys to act as supervisors. With the first snow of the year still on the ground, the boys had a real fine time. Sleeping in heated cabins was the order of the day, so no hardship of how to combat the cold was encountered.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gennis on Joy Road, Sunday, Nov. 8, were Mr. and Mrs. John Szalay and sons John and Andy and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gennis and son Tim, all of Detroit.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist church, met for the monthly general meeting at the church, Wednesday, Nov. 11 and received into their membership, Mrs. Florence Halstead, Miss Louise Geney, Mrs. Helen Remy and Mrs. Rosalie Beasley. The group had as their special guest, Harry Tan of Indonesia, exchange student at the University of Michigan.

The boys and girls of the Newburg Methodist Church Sunday School can be mighty proud of their efforts on behalf of Trick or Treat for UNICEF at the Halloween season. The Junior Department went out in the afternoon and the Junior High Department went out in the early evening and when they gathered their collections together, it came to a grand total of $118. Good work, kids, and congratulations to the adults who gave so generously of their time to make this project the complete success that it was. The boys and girls of other countries thank you too.

Guess this will be all for this week. It sure has been nice being with you again. Don't forget to call me each Wednesday with your news. I will be most happy to hear from you again. See you next week?

and dreary Friday Jess and Nora and their friends, the Evanses, drove off, and headed for the Sunshine State! They encountered no travel hazards, and had a marvelous trip both ways. The weather in Miami hit an all-time high for this time of the year. Nora says the temperature ranged from 75 to 90 degrees all the time they were there. At times it was even too warm! They swam in the ocean, and also in the marvelous outdoor pools. They spent time at Jacksonville and Daytona Beach where they visited friends and relatives. At Miami Beach they also visited many of the high spots and glamorous night clubs. They took the road from Miami to Tampa called the "Tamiami Trail" traveling through the Everglades, and up Sarasota. St. Petersburg Beach was also on their list of places visited. At Tampa they enjoyed a visit with relatives. Nora says they stopped and picked luscious ripe tangerines off the trees. The orange juice stands sell all the juice you can drink for ten cents. Sounds fine if you love orange juice!

It's been fun doing the Lake Pointe column, but your busy reporter is now going to take a needed respite. Would anyone interested in writing the column kindly get in touch with Myra Cox at GL 3-5500.

being hurt by excessive interest rates. The question of usury is raised when normal interest rates are indirectly boosted through the practice of charging discount points. "The business of residential building provides employment for thousands of Michigan's residents. To jeopardize this employment with questionable home-financing practices which could restrict residential building would be a serious mistake."

Residents Win Television Prize

"X" became the known quantity for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vettese of 42324 Brentwood Dr. as they were awarded a Motorola 17" portable television set by Robert O. Beyer, of Beyer Rexall Drug Stores. The set was one of a hundred given as prizes in conjunction with Rexall's "Big X Sale" last August. Their entry won over thousands of others attempting to count the savings marked by "x's" in Rexall's national ad and estimate the number of "x's" on the skirt worn by Jean Sullivan. Miss Sullivan appeared on Rexall's television spectacular, "The Ransom of Red Chief" August 16, wearing a special skirt decorated with the letters for the occasion. A life-size, two dimensional replica was also displayed in Beyer Rexall Drug Stores to aid local contestants.

Their award was presented on Sunday, Nov. 15, on the Rexall Color Theatre WWJ-TV, channel 4.

Capt. Cunard Attends Welfare Conference

Capt. John Cunard of the Salvation Army was a delegate to the 24th Annual Conference of the Michigan Welfare League held recently in Grand Rapids. The captain has headed the Plymouth unit for the past year.

conference covered such areas as the role of the family case worker and the psychological and mental aspects of welfare work.

Activities in Lake Pointe

By MARCY BARTSON
GL 3-6729

Recently Mimi Bales celebrated her 12th birthday. She invited her classmates to a party that was just loaded with fun. First the girls went for a swim in an indoor pool. After this refreshing dip, Mimi's mother escorted the happy group of youngsters to Ellis' Restaurant where cake and ice cream were part of the refreshments served. Each piece of cake held its own lighted birthday candle. After consuming all of the good things to eat, Mimi and her party returned to the Bales residence where various games were played, after which the happy occasion of opening gifts took place. Mimi was delighted with the many cuddly stuffed animals she received.

Marie Bellmore is telling of the Cancer Society the other day, and it seems like many more volunteers could be used in the making of cancer sheds. She tells me that the shelves are about empty, and that the cancer society has a hard time keeping ahead with these cancer pads. The society supplies all the necessary equipment, but they need help with the cutting and sewing. Marie thought it would be nice if the ladies in Lake Pointe could form a little volunteer group of their own. They could meet at each other's homes and do some of this wonderful and easy work together once a week, or at any appointed interval. If any of you ladies would be willing to help out in this urgent and necessary work, please call Mrs. Howard Chisnell at GL 3-1061. She will help you to form your own group. By the way, this requires no sewing skills—it is all very simple—maybe even some of our young teen-age girls would like to help. Wouldn't it be nice for you to form a group of your own too?

We have another urgent cause that should be called to your attention. Eleanor Crise is working hard these days for the benefit of a retarded children's school in Wayne. Eleanor was telling me about a particular case—a man who has a 12-year-old daughter who is attending the school. In order to keep this school open and running, the family of each student must pay a certain amount of money each year. This particular man's account is $800.

This year, the 28 parents who have children in this school must contribute $10,000 dollars to keep the school running. This is quite a heavy burden for these parents, who already have so much extra to bear. Eleanor is helping by selling candy to raise the necessary funds for this family needs. It is delicious candy; I know because I bought a can. It comes in a pretty copper container (reusable). The price of the Cashew Butter Crunch by Cherryle Farms is only $1. Why don't you buy a can or two? Call GL 3-0667 any EVENING, and Eleanor will deliver it to you herself.

Just back from the sunny, warm climate of Florida are the Jaskierneys. On a cold

St. Petersburg Beach was also on their list of places visited. At Tampa they enjoyed a visit with relatives. Nora says they stopped and picked luscious ripe tangerines off the trees. The orange juice stands sell all the juice you can drink for ten cents. Sounds fine if you love orange juice!

Rep. Beadle Calls for Look At Home Financing Practices

A resolution creating a special three-man legislative committee to investigate practices of charging discount points in the home financing of mortgages and land contracts was introduced by Representative Harvey J. Beadle of the 21st District.

"Michigan home-buyers are caught in the middle of the tight-money squeeze on residential building today," Representative Beadle said. "We want the legislature to use every available state means to keep reasonable financing within the reach of the public demand for new homes."

"Legally, the home seller is required to pay the discount points in the sale transaction of a home. In practice, however, it is the buyer who actually pays the points which are usually piled on top of the sales price, the commission to the seller and the interest."

"The investigating committee would focus primarily on whether or not constitutional requirements on usury are being circumvented."

"It's the purchaser who is

VOTERS

On Monday, November 23, 1959, the citizens of the Plymouth Community School District will cast their ballots on an issue that is vital to all of us. The education of our children.

It has been said in the past that more elections and issues have been solved by those who failed to vote, rather than those that did vote.

There have been times in the past when the percentage of registered voters who actually went to the polls, has left something to be desired.

We believe the importance of this issue warrants a record turnout.

If your voting is contingent on transportation, please call Glenview 3-6060 and it will be provided, free of charge.

The MCFCA numbers 44 of the 521 licensed "small loan" companies in Michigan as members.

Residents Win Television Prize

"X" became the known quantity for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vettese of 42324 Brentwood Dr. as they were awarded a Motorola 17" portable television set by Robert O. Beyer, of Beyer Rexall Drug Stores. The set was one of a hundred given as prizes in conjunction with Rexall's "Big X Sale" last August. Their entry won over thousands of others attempting to count the savings marked by "x's" in Rexall's national ad and estimate the number of "x's" on the skirt worn by Jean Sullivan. Miss Sullivan appeared on Rexall's television spectacular, "The Ransom of Red Chief" August 16, wearing a special skirt decorated with the letters for the occasion. A life-size, two dimensional replica was also displayed in Beyer Rexall Drug Stores to aid local contestants.

Their award was presented on Sunday, Nov. 15, on the Rexall Color Theatre WWJ-TV, channel 4.

HI-FI

By PRESTON McGRAW
United Press International

A friend asks: "Is there such a thing as hi-fi stereo?" A record store advertises in its window: "Hi-Fi and Stereo Records."

A components store owner complains: "I haven't sold an expensive speaker in a blue moon."

Are these straws in the wind? Has stereo been so oversold that many persons—especially those buying for the first time—think that hi-fi is old-fashioned and that stereo—no matter how cheap—is the end-all?

It is beginning to look that way. Persons who have grown accustomed to the fine reproduction of real hi-fi equipment during the days of monophonic records are not going to be suckered by low-fi stereo.

The danger is that new buyers—the persons reliable manufacturers must bring into the market if they are to expand—will be fooled.

The concept of high fidelity was not changed by the advent of stereo records.

Monophonic high fidelity meant "one channel" sound. Stereo sound merely put it on two speakers. As one authority said: "It doubled the illusion of reality."

Stereo sound—but not high fidelity stereo sound—can be had very cheaply nowadays and can be pretty poor. It is no more than a lateral extension of sound from what used to be known as the "phonograph."

Some pretty expensive stereo cabinet phonographs still provide cheap sound. The accent is on cabinet, rather than what's in it. The appeal is to the housewife, rather than the music lovers.

How can the first-time buyer keep from sticking his foot in the mud on such stereo? Reading the specifications doesn't help, because they may read as promising as the specs for genuine high fidelity equipment.

While not all component equipment is high-fidelity and not all equipment in cabinets—"package" is by any means low-fi, a component store is a good place to start shopping because the chances of getting side-tracked to junk are less and in an all-package shop.

Listen to the best the store has. Listen to it long and hard on a particular record and then, using that same record, start climbing down the scale to what you can afford.

Don't climb too low for the sake of saving a few bucks, if you can afford it at all. When you are listening to the bass response, you should be able to tell what instrument is producing the bass.

The mid-range should sound real and alive. The highs shouldn't set your nerve ends to tingling. If so, it will make you as jumpy as a cat when you get it home.

If you can't get used to the idea of having components around the house—and attractive cabinets can be bought for them now—then go to a "package" store. But remember what the components you would have liked to buy sounded like and don't be taken in by double-talk.

In other words, let the equipment do the talking, not the salesman.

Finally, try to make a deal so you can return it if you get it home and it doesn't sound as it did in the store.

German Exchange Student Tells About Her Home

By Ursula Kell

(Editor's Note: Ursula Kell is Plymouth's exchange student from Northern Germany attending the Plymouth High School. She is 18 years old and is a senior here. Ursula gives the reader an opportunity for basis of comparison, with her detailed account of a school day in Germany, to the average American student.)

A German schoolday starts at 8:00 a.m. I ride a bicycle to school every day, which takes me about 20 minutes. There are no school buses. Many students come by train. Some of them have an hour's drive. In winter I come by bus to school. But when the road is icy the bus is always late. And so I am often half an hour or more later. This is not very nice for the teachers of the first hour, because half of the students of our class are "out-of-town-students". Some trains arrive late and other trains are an hour early, so these students have to wait. We are not allowed to enter our classes before 10 minutes to 8. The students, whose buses or trains are earlier, have a special room to stay.

The students in high-school have the age of 10 years, which is very young. Usually they are 11 years, to 19-20. The oldest student we had in our school was 24.

Every class has its own class-room. Not the students move from class to class but the teachers do. Exceptions are when we have art, music, biology physics and chemistry, then move into the special classes.

It was funny for me seeing the students carrying their books under their arms, because we have schoolbags for our books and they are real big. As we have no lockers we have to carry all our things home.

The older student sit usually in a semicircle in their class because it is easier for discussion and you don't have to speak against the back of the person who sits in front of you. We have many flowers in our class rooms. We decorate it for Christmas and that is very much fun. Every day there is another plan of hours, so that is why we are able to take 13 or more subjects. My schedule of my last year in Germany was for example on Tuesday, History, German, English, French, Sports, Religion. On Friday, History, French, German, German, English, English.

On Saturday Biology, French, English, English, German, History.

Each day was different. On Monday school is only until 1:00, because from that time until 1:30 is choir practice and so many students are in there that the teachers can not teach only half a class, but because I'm not very gifted in music, I did not join it. Instead of that I joined in German for two hours. That helped to raise my allowance (I got five marks a month which is about $1.25). That is not very much but it is more than it seems for me. I can buy more for it than I can here. By tutoring I got 16 marks so I had more money than some other girls my age.

Well, back to school, I pick out Thursday for an example. First hour we have Religion. The teacher comes in, everybody gets up to greet him. The teacher waits until it is real quiet and says: good morning, friends. Then we answer and sit down. We have two Catholics in our class, the rest is Lutheran.

This is only true for Northern Germany, in the south it is just the opposite. The two Catholic students usually do their home work or if we have an interesting discussion, they take part in it. It makes it interesting to hear the different opinions.

After Religion is over, which is a quarter to nine, we have a 5 minutes recreation to walk to get some fresh air.

The hungry students start then already eating their first sandwich, our so called "butterbrot". Usually we have four sandwiches, which we eat between the classes. As we have second hour biology, we have to move into another room. The next recreation is 9:30 and lasts 10 minutes.

Some students like to go out of the school yard, the little ones to play in the woods, or others to go up town.

In the teachers room, with its huge windows, there is one teacher watching the students with a fieldglass. We are also not allowed to be in any room of the school building during the recreation.

Two doorkeepers have to stand before the door to take care that everybody obeys the law.

In the hall you can buy a bottle milk or chocolate and the school yard is crowded with bread-eating and milk-drinking students. If somebody throws paper on the ground or does not put the lilk bottle on the right place and a teacher sees it there are punishments like this: to weed the schoolgarden, clean the aquarium or the schoolyard, or wash glasses for chemistry. Usually the students try to avoid works like that.

The next two hours are interrupted again by 10 and 5 minutes recreations. School is over at one o'clock. The last, who leaves the classroom locks it and takes the keys to the caretaker. I get home at 1:30. My father, 15 years old and my sister, a teacher have usually arrived before me.

Then we have our dinner and exchange our good and bad news. Usually I get three hours homework to do, which I start at 2:30. Often I do half of it before our evening meal, and the other half after, especially when I have literature club, sport club or tutoring. As these activities are in the town, I ride my bicycle, often 20 kilometers a day.

Generally spoken, I had much more time in Germany for my activities than here. I get hardly used to the long day in school here and I don't find the American school quite so easy as I thought.

On Saturday Biology, French, English, English, German, History.

On Saturday Biology, French, English, English, German, History.

Each day was different. On Monday school is only until 1:00, because from that time until 1:30 is choir practice and so many students are in there that the teachers can not teach only half a class, but because I'm not very gifted in music, I did not join it. Instead of that I joined in German for two hours. That helped to raise my allowance (I got five marks a month which is about $1.25). That is not very much but it is more than it seems for me. I can buy more for it than I can here. By tutoring I got 16 marks so I had more money than some other girls my age.

Well, back to school, I pick out Thursday for an example. First hour we have Religion. The teacher comes in, everybody gets up to greet him. The teacher waits until it is real quiet and says: good morning, friends. Then we answer and sit down. We have two Catholics in our class, the rest is Lutheran.

This is only true for Northern Germany, in the south it is just the opposite. The two Catholic students usually do their home work or if we have an interesting discussion, they take part in it. It makes it interesting to hear the different opinions.

After Religion is over, which is a quarter to nine, we have a 5 minutes recreation to walk to get some fresh air.

The hungry students start then already eating their first sandwich, our so called "butterbrot". Usually we have four sandwiches, which we eat between the classes. As we have second hour biology, we have to move into another room. The next recreation is 9:30 and lasts 10 minutes.

Some students like to go out of the school yard, the little ones to play in the woods, or others to go up town.

In the teachers room, with its huge windows, there is one teacher watching the students with a fieldglass. We are also not allowed to be in any room of the school building during the recreation.

Two doorkeepers have to stand before the door to take care that everybody obeys the law.

In the hall you can buy a bottle milk or chocolate and the school yard is crowded with bread-eating and milk-drinking students. If somebody throws paper on the ground or does not put the Debut tomorrow night!

"On Borrowed Time" the first of Plymouth High's biennial dramatic efforts, to be staged Thursday and Friday evening, November 19 and 20 at 8 in the high school auditorium.

The Paul Osborne Production stars seniors Bob Wadley, Bradley, James McCabe, and Ron Small; juniors Grace Wigley, Anneke Thasing, Lester Barton, and Dave Jaskierney; sophomore Ken Fischer; freshman Eric Kenner; and Norman Fischer, sixth-grader brother of high school students Jerry Fischer and Ken Fischer.

Directing is the well-liked Robert Southgate.

These are just the facts, from a report on the details, get a front-row center seat for "On Borrowed Time."

(Oops... almost forgot... the names of those very important behind-the-scenes people. They are assistant directors, seniors Judy Bullington and April Corey. Student directors are seniors Marilyn Carr, Barbara Steencken, Alice Olendorf, and Brenda Richardson.)

Headlining up committees are seniors Caro Kubick, Diane Van Loon, Earl Wright, Gordon Jewell, Gerald Rehebein, Sally Sawyer, Sharon Roberts and Mari Lynn Walters; sophomores Donn Kelley, Mary Hulsing, Georgina Daubresse, and Nancy Mettel; and freshmen Janice Rafe and Nancy Worth.)

Three cheers for the Plymouth High Cross Country team... who took 1e ague honors this season... and to the fabulous football team, who at the windup of a fine showing this year, walloped high-rated Walled Lake last week.

A job well done!

These words are directed to sophomore Mary Hulsing and junior Jerry Fischer, for their work on the American Education Week observance at the high school. The two Student Council representatives teamed with a committee of teachers to plan the parent-teacher conferences, a student-teacher day, and other events.

After the rousing success of the Monday night, November 4 senior mixer, those of the highest echelon of Plymouth High society are clamoring for more. Seniors—who chose to forego usual dignity in favor of fun, basketball, square dancing, and swimming—had a real blast! The comment of one senior: "We should have done this in our freshman year... started mixing, I mean."

The Art Department has gone to town—Plymouth High School walls boasted some brightness last week as art students displayed their work.

Certainly is a lot of art talent here!

Three large groups of Plymouth High history students had a rare treat last week—a visit from a con- gresswoman—and they took full advantage of their opportunity, as they fired intelligent question after question of national significance, from Congresswoman Wil- lams to the Landrum-Waterfall labor reform measure.

On the receiving end of the queries was 17th district representative in the House in Washington, Mrs. Martha G. Griffiths.

Most interesting to stu- dents were Mrs. Griffiths' observations on govern- ment spending. The Defense Department is the flagrant violator, she said, citing an example of a $227.50 purchase for a product that is made in Royal Oak for $27.50.

Michigan's waterways. "Michigan will always be a great state" because of them.

Charles Van Doren, for whom she has "no pity," He should have known at the age of six that truth is the only course.

The reuniting of the army and air force, and a general shifting of the Defense department, which she says would avoid repetition and save money.

Trade, "your generation's biggest problem."

"We ought to have more speakers like this one... every educational," pointed out one interested, enthusias- tic listener.

Fruits and Vegetables Ideal for Thanksgiving Dinner Table Arrangement

Whether you prefer to grow flowers or vegetables or secretly yearn to have a small orchard, harvesting is the peak of the year. The harvest theme, carried out with an assortment of fruits and vegetables, makes an ideal arrangement for the Thanksgiving dinner table.

Fruits and vegetables can be selected to harmonize with the color scheme of the dining room or dinner china. They can be arranged low enough so that people can look across the table and see each other, or high (as in the accompanying photo) to dominate a sideboard. Remember, though, that turkey and Thanksgiving fixings take up room on the table so plan too large an arrangement for the center.

For a dominantly red or rose arrangement, select apples, pomegranates, grapes, cranberries and red cabbage. Eggplant and grapes provide the purple tones. Yellows range from pale golden apples, onions and lemons to oranges, kumquats and gourds.

If you'd prefer a mixture of colors, add to any of the yellow, red or purple fruits such green ones as squash, apples, grapes and limes. These and other green fruits and vegetables will bring into harmony orange scarlet of persimmons, purple of eggplant and crimson of apples.

Green foliage is another "blender." Large glossy magnolia leaves or dull green rhododendron leaves make a good base on which to arrange fruits. Sprigs of box or yew could be tucked in crevices between the fruits and vegetables. Nuts or bitersweet can be wired in a cluster and then to a toothpick to fill in spaces.

A bread board, small tray, Lazy Susan or basket, wooden salad or chopping bowl makes an excellent base on which to spread the large green leaves and then arrange the fruits and vegetables. A container such as this can be lifted intact from the table when the setting is to be changed if the fruits haven't been eaten.

Fruits and vegetables, no matter how rounded or lumpy, can be made to stay where you want them for effect. This is accomplished by using sturdy, rounded toothpicks pointed at each end. One end is stuck into a fruit, the other end into whatever is to lie adjacent to it. If small chrysanthemums are to be included, insert the stems in small glass tubes which will be hidden by the fruits and vegetables.

Chrysanthemums from garden or florist shop are the Thanksgiving flower. To keep them fresh as long as possible, break off the stems instead of cutting them and strip leaves off the part of the stem that will be under water. Combining beautifully with chrysanthemums are barberries, pyracantha or stems of other ornamental fruits cut from shrubs in the garden.

THANKSGIVING'S harvest theme — fruits and vegetables with cones and nuts are arranged on a tray covered with magnolia leaves. A tall arrangement is fine for a sideboard but the one for the table should be low.

Suburban Living

Lord, I Give Thanks

For the blessings I usually forget to give thanks for;
 For the people who make my way of life possible, all those who provide me with the civilized things I take for granted;
 For the fact that the world is so beautiful;
 For the fact that life is always new;
 For my senses which enable me to communicate with others and to be part of the world;
 For my power to think and power to feel;
 For liking companions and liking being alone;
 For liking to work;
 For the privilege of teaching others though I have not yet perfected myself;
 For being slow to condemn, quick to forgive;
 For the fact that water tastes so good when I am thirsty and food when I am hungry;
 For challenges;
 For the fact that all of my needs are met and some of my desires;
 For prayer;
 For awareness that You are and faith that You are love;
 For a world where blessings seem such a natural state of things I rarely think to give thanks for them.

Important for Holiday Entertaining

Silverware is as appropriate a gift for Christmas as it is on other special occasions throughout the year. Whether it's flatware on the table or necessities about any room, silver adds sparkle and richness. It's meant for everyday living, for silver can't wear out and it won't chip or break.

Fifty years or so ago, silver and godmothers established a delightful custom that is now pretty much neglected. That was purchasing a dozen sterling silver teaspoons or demi-tasse spoons, having them marked with the initials of the first name and giving one spoon each to a Christmas and birthday to a niece she was six years old. The pattern probably was far different from the one the girl chose for her own home, when she grew up but the sentiment and usefulness of that extra dozen spoons made this unimportant.

Choosing silver for a bride or a member of an established household, it is difficult to find out the pattern they prefer or accessories they covet. The gift of silver can cost as much or as little as the budget permits since it can as readily be one spoon as one place setting, an ash-tray or four coasters or a silver coffee service. Make no mistake, an appropriate silver accessory will flatter a man as much as extra table-spoons or a place setting will a woman.

Patterns have never been more numerous than they are today, and they range from traditional to modern designs. Most of the silver patterns introduced within the last ten years will be available for two decades or longer. A few firms specialize in very old patterns and obtaining a piece of flatware to fill in can be a greatly appreciated gift.

The flatware pattern is a guide to selecting accessories. They range from chafing dishes for families given to informal entertaining to vegetable dishes for formal dining.

Weight is an indication of quality in both sterling silver and silverplate. Sterling is always identified on flatware on the back of the handle, on hollowware on the bottom of the base. The sterling mark guarantees a silver content of at least 92.5 per cent with another quality metal added for extra strength.

Silverplate differs in the number of layers of silver over a base metal. The heavier the silverplate, the better the quality and the costlier it will be. The thickness of the silver coating governs the years of service to be expected from silverplate.

Daily use increases beauty since silver acquires a soft patina from handling. In fact, silversmiths say that they often are requested to buff new silver to give it the appearance of having been used for years. Buffing certainly is recommended for new pieces that are being purchased to add to a set that has been used for some time.

Non-tarnish cases are available for storing flatware between use. But tarnish can be removed and sheen restored by the application of a good silver polish with a soft cloth. Rinse, then polish with another clean cloth or chambray. A soft brush will help to clean ornamented pieces.

Apricot bread stuffing makes a good accompaniment for duck. Combine 5 tablespoons melted shortening, 5 cups of 1/2-inch bread cubes, 2 cups chopped cooked apricots, 2-3 cup washed, seedless raisins, 1/4 teaspoon salt, and 1/2 teaspoon chopped parsley.

SILVER, no longer considered a luxury, adds sparkle to everyday living. Handling makes it more everyday.

A Must For Christmas

THE CAT is real but the monkeys are made from a pair of men's socks stuffed with old nylon stockings.

If your church fair didn't have them for sale, there's no reason why you can't make a wind and trim so that all ends are even.

The monkey, bunny, burro or elephant that can be made from men's cotton socks have a wide appeal including teen agers who like to display animals on their beds and grown-ups who are amused by them.

One pair of men's cotton socks, size 11, is needed for each animal. The socks should be the red-heeled ones, brown socks for monkey and burro, gray ones for bunny or elephant.

Nylon stockings beyond the wearable stage are excellent stuffing, but it takes an amazing number of stockings to produce an animal that won't look emaciated. Yarn for eyebrows, hair (black) and pompons (red), scraps of material to line bunnies' ears with pink or make a blanket for burro or elephant plus scissors, needle and thread—you're ready to start making a zoo.

The monkey, for example, uses up one pair of the red-heeled brown socks. The legs are cut from one sock; the arms, tail, both ears and his hat from another sock. The head is the toe of one sock, stuffed, with the red heel of one sock cut out and sewn in place for the mouth.

Stitch the seams of the legs, arms and tail on the machine. The rest of the sewing is done by hand, but it should be tight sewing with strong thread. Simple stitches with yarn outline dark eyebrows and eyes.

Eight pompons of red yarn dress the monkey. One pompon is attached to each wrist and ankle, another to the top of his hat and three down the front of his body. To make these are these pompons wind the red yarn around disks the size of a quarter and with a hole in

Winter Brings Danger From Monoxide Fumes

Cold weather makes it necessary again to use furnaces and stoves and to keep the doors and windows closed. It is important that the man of the family should make sure that the heating equipment and hot water heater is in good condition. Dr. Joseph H. McIner, City - County Health Commissioner, reminds householders.

It is not possible to detect carbon monoxide gas either by taste or smell and it can be fatal even though it is not detected. Carbon monoxide gas is caused by the incomplete burning of coal, heating gas, fuel oil or gasoline. It may cause death if the person who breathes it is in a tightly closed room or automobile.

If your furnace or stove smokes, it is because it is not burning properly. If you see or smell smoke in your living quarters, it may be a danger signal that carbon monoxide gas is escaping into your room along with the smoke. Houses today are more airtight and a storm window help to make them so, but both increase the likelihood that carbon monoxide poisoning may occur in case the furnace is not properly adjusted. These improvements in houses increase the need for intelligent understanding of the way to fire a furnace properly.

If odors are coming from the register of the hot air furnace, have the fire pot and flue doors examined by a good furnace repair man. The fire should burn with a clear flame and not be smothered so that it will form gas. When you add coal, keep it on one side and leave a free-burning fire on the other side to prevent formation of smoke and gas and to get the greatest amount of heat from the coal. All gas-fired hot water heaters should be properly connected to a flue opening to the outdoors.

You should make sure that your furnace is shut and that you do not shut the draft off so completely that fumes from the furnace come back into the house.

If you use a kitchen exhaust fan, or other exhaust fan in the house, check during its operation to see that proper draft is being maintained while it is in use. An exhaust fan may cause a backdraft through the furnace. It is possible to pull the air from the outside through the furnace if the house is sealed too tightly.

If you run the motor of your car inside the garage, make sure the garage door is open. If you are in a parked car with the motor running, be sure to have a window open. If you drive long distances, keep a window open so that some fresh air is coming into the car. If you feel sleepy or your head starts to ache, and you feel ill or dizzy, stop driving immediately and get out of the car.

The City Manager's Corner

By Al Glassford

The work of city administration is made up of a vast number of small items, but each is important in its own right, as well as being a vital part of the whole picture of municipal operations. One of these smaller concerns a city faces is controlling the sidewalks. This may seem to be almost an insignificant item, but it was important enough to be specifically mentioned in our city charter. Sidewalks have been the subject of several ordinances, and just recently an amendment to the sidewalk ordinance was passed by the City Commission.

Sidewalks are a peculiar problem in the operation of a city, for although they are placed upon public property and are subject to the control of the city, they must be constructed and maintained by the homeowner or businessman whose property touches the sidewalks. That sidewalks are the responsibility of the property owner is especially so when snow and ice must be removed.

Municipal interest in sidewalks is nothing new in Plymouth, for one old ordinance, passed in 1869, prohibited walking, riding or leading horses or mules on the sidewalks and another, passed in 1891, prohibited playing marbles or rolling balls of any kind on the sidewalks. Our charter says the City Commission may require the owners of lots to build and repair sidewalks, and it gives the Commission the power to establish lines, grades, width, materials and the time and manner for sidewalk construction. Under this authority a sidewalk ordinance was passed which spells out these many requirements, and it makes the City Manager responsible for administration of the ordinance.

As a part of this work, a periodic survey is made to investigate the condition of all existing sidewalks within the city. Those that are in a state of disrepair are noted, and the property owners involved are notified to repair or rebuild them. The same sort of thing is done to determine where new sidewalk is needed.

Since the property owner is responsible for the construction and maintenance of sidewalks, the Commission has established standards for their construction to protect the homeowner and businessman from inadequate work. When the requirements of the Sidewalk Ordinance are followed, the financial burden on the property owner is lessened, for his maintenance and repair costs will be reduced. Some people have not been following these standards, mainly because they are unaware of them. To correct this situation, the Sidewalk Ordinance has recently been modified.

The most important addition is a requirement that every person must get a sidewalk construction permit from the Building Department, whether he is a private citizen doing his own work or is in the business of constructing sidewalks for others. This permit costs $2 for each job, which is just enough to cover the costs of processing the permit.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the 1960 Chevrolet Bel Air Sport Coupe!

PEOPLE SAY THESE ARE THE THINGS THEY WANT IN A CAR...and CHEVROLET for '60 comes closest to meeting every need!

Interviews with thousands of car owners across the country show clearly what they like or dislike about their present cars... and what they want most in their 1960 cars. Here's what the people tell us they want... and here's how Chevrolet meets their needs.

"Price, that's what's uppermost in my mind." All Impalas and Bel Airs with V8 engines are lower in price, as are automatic transmissions and many other popular options. Also Biscaynes now include as standard equipment conveniences formerly optional at extra cost.

"And how about operating economy? And resale value?" You keep right on saving after you buy your favorite Chevrolet, too. And Chevrolet's traditionally higher resale value means you'll get more back when you trade.

"Give me plenty of good old-fashioned comfort." There's comfort and then some in this one. Chevy's long on space for one thing. Once you're under way you'll know just how comfortable Full Coil suspension makes your ride.

"Safety—don't forget safety!" You're surrounded by safety features in a new Chevrolet. You've got big, sturdy brakes underfoot, for example, that last longer. As it has been for years, safety is standard equipment in Chevy.

"Let's keep upkeep down, too." More than ever, Chevrolet for 1960 is built to stay on the road and out of the repair shop. You can tell that from its hushed, untruffled way of going, from the solid think of Chevy's big doors. Of course, if you should need service, you're always near efficient, economical attention to your needs.

"I want a car that will stand up to the driving I do." For proof of Chevy's staying power, just spend a minute watching the nearest road. You'll see more Chevrolets traveling on it than any other car—evidence on wheels of Chevrolet durability. (And that higher resale value attests to it, too.)

"Me for a sweet-handling car." Handling's always been Chevy's forte, and 1960 is no exception. But really, this kind of lightness and precision you've simply got to enjoy for yourself.

"... a car you can look at and be smug about buying it." Chevrolet for 1960 leaves the low-price field far behind when it comes to fashion. But you're the best judge of styling, so take a good close look at Chevrolet. We warn you: you're about to fall in love.

"And performance. Let's have a hot one!" Chevy's spirited V8's have set the standard for ultra-efficient power in American-built passenger car engines. You've got a long list of performance-minded transmissions to pick from, too.

So that, friends, is what you told us you want. We think it can be summed up rather well in just one word: value.

Get the full story of Chevy's brand of value soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh A Real "Meaty" Subject Today I've got a tale that really hits close to home—it's okay, I've got the wife's permission to tell it. My Mrs. Marsh has been cooking hams—deliciously, I might add—for years. But always, just before she pops 'em into the oven, she slices an inch off one end. Reason: she said her mother always did that to make ham tastier. Last week, though, Grandma gave the real reason. Sure, she used to slice an inch from a ham but only when her roast-ham pan was an inch too short. From where I sit, all of us do things that can't be backed up by reason or fact. Most times they're pretty silly things—particularly the petty prejudices we build. For instance, some folks may resent your preference for buttermilk at dinner, or mine for a glass of beer, if they'd stop to think "why"—they'd realize they were taking a "slice" off our friendship and for no good reason at all. Certainly, Stay Within The Budget When Buying Your New Car . . .

Nobody should pay more than he has to when buying a new car. But there is some "penny wise, pound foolish" car buying which takes place today. Some families THINK they're saving money when they drive for miles beyond Plymouth and purchase the same car that was available right here in their home town all along. Sometimes the original price elsewhere might be a few dollars less than was quoted by a dealer in Plymouth . . . though this doesn't happen often. But if it is, the purchaser should stop to think what a strong LOCAL business means to his pocket-book. Does he consider that the taxes paid by the dealers in Plymouth help keep the home-owner taxes lower, too? Does he look ahead and realize that slender "savings" on the original car price would be lost, many-times over, if the local dealers went out of business and turned their part of the community and school support over to home-owners? Does the man who shops in other communities for his car ever put a price on the time and miles he spends getting to the distant dealer? Does he think what it would mean to HIM, if the car dealers of Plymouth, and their employes, went into other cities to buy all their groceries, clothing, and supplies? Does he put any dollar value on having service on his automobile close at hand, convenient, from an expert he knows personally? Does he measure the dollars saved in a guarantee from someone at home, who is bound to perform as a local businessman with a reputation at stake, as compared to the same guarantee issued by a stranger miles away? Sadly, some buyers never give these questions any thought. Your dollars should build YOUR community — not somebody else's.

Cheat Once For All

In the mass of shocking and conflicting testimony TV quiz shows which leave a once trusting public groggy and distressed among the debris of its shattered idols, the simplest explanation of the whole incredible performance has come from George J. Abrams, former advertising manager of the Revlon company.

He described the shoddy business of "controlling" the $64,000 Question and the $64,000 Challenge as "an act of desperation" brought about by the skidding popularity of a high-priced show. And his explanation of why the producers resorted to "rigging" in these instances, would, we think cover all the others that have been - or will be - uncovered. It was a case, he said, of "living between the mixed values of show business and the advertising business and moral values were lost sight of".

The pity of it is that there was no cop on the TV corner; that the networks were too preoccupied with selling time to pay enough attention to what was done with it. That the responsibility of broadcasting as a public trust belongs to the networks seems obvious when these limited and priceless broadcast channels are given to them by Federal authority.

There is no question of the responsibility of a newspaper publisher who allows fraudulent advertising to appear in his columns.

If this scandal causes the owners of radio and TV broadcasting facilities to assume - voluntarily or, otherwise - their full responsibility to the public, this "whole mess", as President Eisenhower called it, will have fulfilled an historic purpose.

LANSING Observer

BY FRANK G. MORRIS

LANSING — It was from Jimmy Hoffa's Teamster Headquarters on Trumbull Avenue in Detroit that Patrick V. McNamara set out in 1954 to become a United States Senator.

The tall, rugged politician was a lonely and sometimes bewildered candidate plodding the byways in search of the Democratic nomination—and never out of earshot of the wild acclaim of his party for his foe, former U.S. Senator Blair Moody.

Back of Moody was the full power of the UAW, guaranteeing a smashing triumph in the primary election. Back of McNamara was Hoffa, who was then, as now, engaged in a fight to the finish with Walter Reuther. For the reluctant candidate, the road ahead appeared hopeless.

When he left Detroit on a campaign trip to the Upper Peninsula, McNamara told the writer that he would make news in Hancock by visiting Moody, who was suffering from pneumonia in a hospital there.

But McNamara didn't see Moody. Three days later, Reuther and Gov. Williams announced that McNamara had completed banishing the Old Guard to limbo, up popped this stranger at the family table.

There was suspicion and distrust on both sides for a while. McNamara's independence was well known. He had started Detroit by quitting as a member of Common Council and referring to his colleagues as "jerks."

So when he went to Washington, McNamara declared several times that he would not seek re-election. He expected Reuther and Williams would get his scalp if he ventured forth again.

But within three years, Reuther and the Governor were praising McNamara at every opportunity and seating him between them in every parade. The Governor announced long ago that he would support Senator McNamara for re-election in 1960.

So it shouldn't have surprised anyone a few days ago when Hoffa called a press conference in Detroit and announced that defeat of his old pal will be his special election goal next year. Yet the story made big headlines.

Hoffa gave as his principal reason the fact that McNamara had voted for the Landrum-Griffin labor bill. He said his union will not support anyone who voted for the measure co-sponsored by Congressman Robert Griffin, (R) of Traverse City.

The vengeful Teamster boss did not reveal the whole truth. He did not uncover the old sore that has torn his heart.

Once again, Hoffa's willingness to oppose Democratic candidates in Michigan has embarrassed the Republican Party. GOP Chairman Lawrence Lindemer, who will be directing the battle to unseat McNamara next year, promptly divorced the party from Hoffa's personal campaign.

Republicans hope to unseat the Senator a year hence through their own efforts. Their candidate probably will be Congressman Alvin Bentley, the popular Owosso fighter against Communism. They seek no help from the Teamster czar.

Within a few months, McNamara will be leading the Democratic campaign for socialized medicine. Heading a Senate subcommittee, the Michigan Senator is touring the nation in an attempt to whip up sentiment for a Federalized medical program.

The issue of socialized medicine will be a major one in 1960.

How's Business?

Canadian Mining Stock Took Many

By Roger W. Babson's Staff
Canadian natural resources have long been a source of fascination and profit for businessmen and investors. The colonial days of American history saw a flourishing trade in Canadian furs.

Later, mining and exploration revealed immense treasures buried beneath the Canadian soil.

It has been only in recent years, however, that this vast potential of natural resources has caught the fancy of American investors and incited a mad scramble for admittedly speculative Canadian mining and oil stocks.

History has demonstrated time and again that such mania must come to an end. In 1957 the Canadian mining bubble burst, as slumping world commodity prices brought unmistakable evidence that the uncovering of new reserves of minerals in Canada and elsewhere had created serious supply-demand imbalances. The problem for Canadian mining interests is compounded by a lack of market outlets and inadequate transportation facilities from the all but inaccessible regions where much of the supplies exist. Many American investors are still saddled with grim reminders of their folly, in the form of stocks which have depreciated fifty percent or more in value.

A glimmer of hope has just been afforded the Canadian natural gas industry. At the end of October, the Federal Power Commission approved the application of Midwestern Gas Transmission Company to import 204 million cubic feet of Canadian natural gas daily to the United States.

Midwestern plans to build a 504-mile pipe line from the vicinity of Emerson, Manitoba, to Marshfield, Wis., to supply the gas-hungry Midwest. Provincial authorities and Canadian National Energy Board must first grant permission for Canadian firms to export gas to the American markets; a favorable decision seems likely.

This move would virtually double the volume of Canadian gas shipments to the U.S. For the patient investor, attractive investment possibilities exist in the stocks of well-situated Canadian natural gas companies.

Your Handwriting Is Clue About You

By LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Lucy:
Months ago you did an analysis of my husband's handwriting and it was excellent.

Now I'll brace myself for the results of this one.

Dear C.E.D.:
First, thank you for the compliment, always happy to hear someone's reaction to an analysis.

You're a cool, level-headed person who usually thinks in terms of how will this benefit me? Your thinking is penetrating and you learn rather easily. Sometimes you have a knack of feeling things about to happen. When you want to concentrate you like to be alone. You explore subjects to find out more. There is a desire to acquire more knowledge.

You have creative ability with your hands. There is a desire to acquire more knowledge. You have creative ability with your hands. There is music appreciation and rhythm in your writing. You like variety and sometimes are sensitive to criticism.

Dear Miss Williams:
I have long wondered if somehow the graphologist got some idea of how the person acts out of how the person asks to be analyzed. Would you please analyze mine?

Thank you.
Mrs. J. H. Wick

Dear Mrs. Wick:
The letters (wording) means nothing, most of letters are worded the same. It is the strokes and evaluation that bring out the thinking of a person. Graphology is somewhat different from Grapho Analysis.

You enjoy small responsibilities and will work gladly at it until they get too big and too demanding. A little resentment flairs up and you cease to want any part of responsibility.

You are visionary, future-minded and have the ability to think quickly. There is a desire to stand out and be noticed, you are enthusiastic and can sweep people along with you when you're built up and full of ideas.

You're aggressive to go forward, and very determined. There is a desire for physical action. Your pride is a little sensitive. You are generous minded.

Dear Miss Williams:
As newcomers in town we just received our first issue of the paper with your interesting and unusual column.

Since I have trouble trying to understand my own thoughts, maybe you could clarify a few trends from my handwriting.

Thank you,
Alice S. Lawless

Dear Mrs. Lawless:
You are non-emotional, you keep things bottled up within you with no outward expression.

You are very persistent but have little will-power and will often listen to others.

Sometimes your memory is very good. Other times you're easily irritated and get resentful. You are thrifty and have a tendency towards efficiency.

You have music appreciation and creative ability with your hands.

If Your Name Is 'Fern'

By Ann Reynolds

Do you like a long, melodious first name? Or a short, decisive one? If your last name is long, it might be a good idea to select a short first name for baby. "Fern," for instance, is a really short one. It has a pleasant connotation, too, it brings up the image of ferns growing near a cool little brook.

"Fern" is a name which, I believe, is not found outside the United States. Even if this is so, there remains the possibility that someone is going to export it.

How did "Fern" come to be a given name? Although the word is an ancient one, its career as a first name began only about one hundred years ago. An American authoress, Mrs. Sara Payson Willis Parton, hit on the idea of picking "Fanny Fern" for her pen name. When she became a widow and had to provide for her children, she wrote a short piece, entitled "The Model Minister." She described him as one who has the eloquence of Paul... the wisdom of Solomon... the patience of Job, the meekness of Moses, the constitution of an elephant, and lives on two-hundred dollars a year.

After she had put it to paper, she had to sign a name to it. And so she began thinking about her mother, wishing she could still be alive so that she might tell her all her problems. As a child, she used to run before her mother in the woods, and pick for her some sweet smelling fern to pin on. Her mother loved its delicate scent. And so she told herself that "Fanny Fern" would be her pen name. Incidentally, the piece about the model minister was bought by a Boston magazine, and made such a stir that within a few days everyone had read it, and reprinted in various papers.

That was the beginning of Fanny Fern's success as a writer, and when her name became well known, "Fern" was adopted as a first name.

Where did the word "fern" originate? It is an ancient word. In Old English it was "fearn," in Sanskrit, the ancient language of India, the ancestor of many European languages, it was "parna." Its meaning then was "wing, feather, leaf," and among these, the most venerable in point of age certainly is "feather." And just as the word is very old, so is the group of plants going by that name. Some are tiny, some are tree-like. Ferns multiply by spores and not by seeds. This seems to be the basis of an old superstition that fern seeds have the power to make one invisible. (There are no fern seeds.)

By the way, the plant for which Mrs. Payson Willis Parton selected her pen name, the "sweet fern," is not a true fern at all.

(Want to know about your own or other names? Write to Dr. Reynolds, care of this paper. For a personal reply please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

the new electric water heater way

GET IT HOT... GET A LOT with a new electric water heater! No more waiting for baths. No more rationing shower-time because you're low on hot water.

Thanks to Edison's Super Supply Plan, a new electric water heater is always on the alert—day or night—to supply hot water for all family needs. There is no "off" period.

Here's the convenient, modern way to GET IT HOT... GET A LOT for an operating cost as low as $3.88 per month.

Only electric water heaters give you all these important advantages:

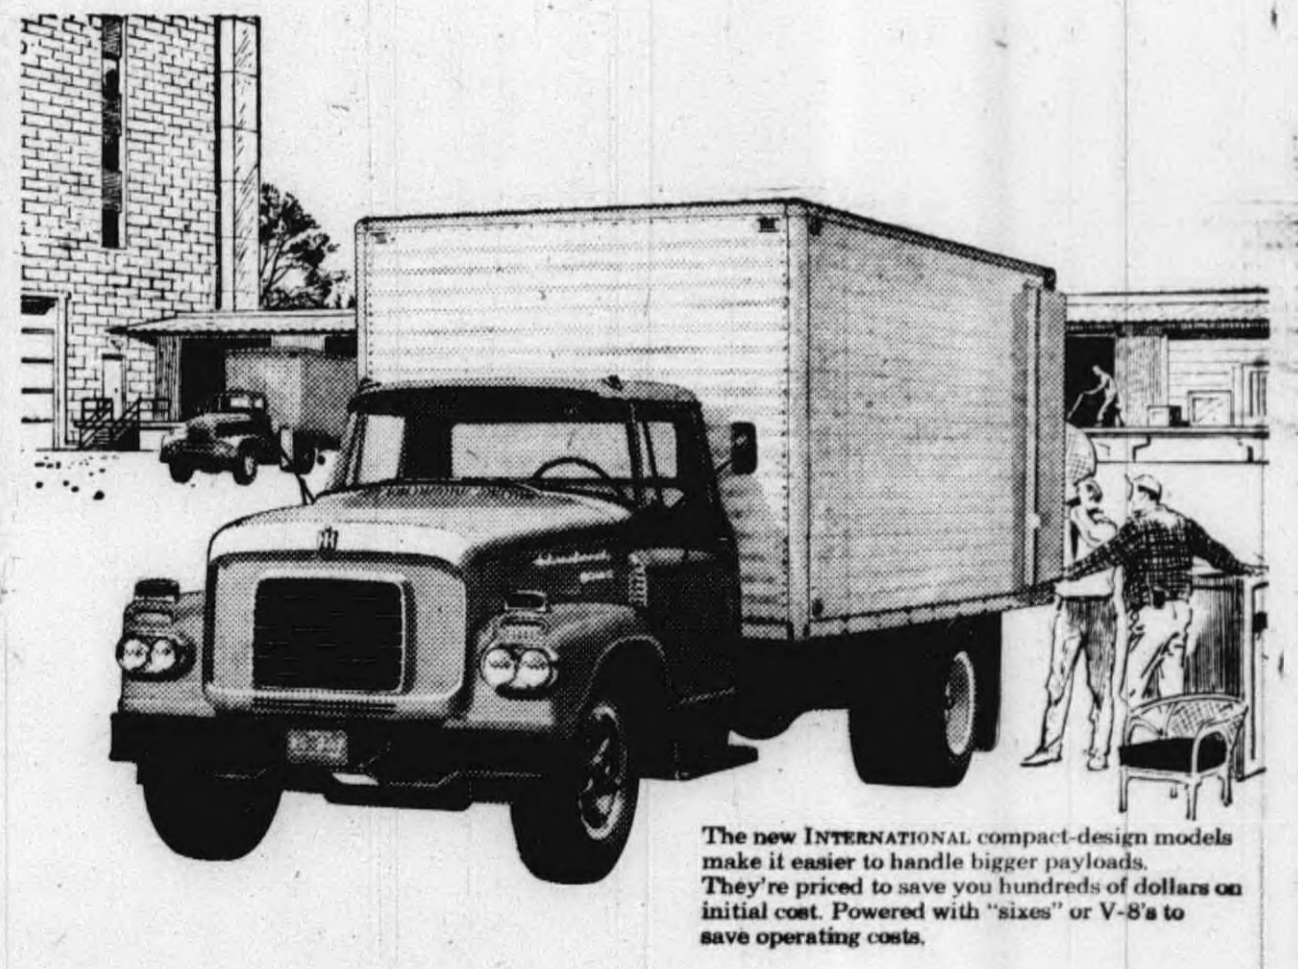

- Efficient—the heat goes into the water
- Install anywhere—need not be near a chimney
- Long life—meet Edison's rigid standards
- Automatic—all the time
- Fast—new, more efficient heating units
- Outer shell—cool to the touch all over
- Edison maintains electrical parts without charge
- Safe—clean—quiet—modern

Canton Chief Issues Reminder About Phoning Township Hall

By ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL 3-0194

News has been scarce this week and with a new deadline for this column, it has complicated things a bit. From here on in all news must be in by Thursday morning, previous to the papers publication the following Wednesday.

Mrs. Edward Bosman called to notify us the Northwest District Association of the 4-H, will hold a meeting Thursday, Nov. 19 at 7:45 p.m. At this time leaders, members and guests will get first hand information and a chance to become acquainted with contest judging. There will be a judging contest set up on clothing, electricity, etc. The public is invited to attend the meeting at the Geddes Rd. Township Hall. The group also will discuss plans for their Christmas Party which is held in December.

The Spoon and Spool Group of the 4-H held a Halloween party. Each member invited one guest, making the total group attending 18. The party was held at the Moyers' home on Hanford Rd., following their lesson for the week at the Bosman home, also on Hanford Rd. There were prizes for team and individual games followed by refreshments. A report of a good time had by all was received by your reporter.

A very happy birthday goes to Mrs. Anna Bronson, who with her family celebrated her 85th birthday. During the past year we interviewed Mrs. Bronson and found she has lived her entire life in the township. It was at this time that she furnished us with a word picture of Canton Township yesterday, which was enjoyed by many residents.

At the time of our interview, I found it hard to believe that Mrs. Bronson is 84 years old, for her voice was young in sound and her way of speaking held the enthusiasm of someone a great deal younger. It might well be that Mrs. Bronson is Canton's oldest long time resident still residing in Canton Township. It was from her family that we found Mrs. Bronson to still be a very active lady. Mrs. Bronson is an early riser, her reason being that things needed to be done should be gotten out of the way as soon as possible. She keeps her own home, bakes her own bread and sees that the windows in her house are kept sparkling. A surprise birthday luncheon was held in honor of Mrs. Bronson's birthday this past week at her home on Ford Rd. Present to wish her many more years of health and happiness were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bronson, Mrs. Thelma Thomas and Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Bronson received a very beautiful and unusual arrangement of mums placed in a ceramic container from her granddaughter Joyce Wells, also present for the festivities. Many other wishes came in the form of cards from friends and relatives.

We have some new neighbors, a birth announcement and an interview with a very interesting young woman. Our new residents are Miss Mary Fall and Miss Barbara Humphries, who now reside at 58 Beck Rd.

The birth announcement had to do with 11 new babies (French Poodles). The mother is a beautiful brown poodle by the name of "Horn Pipe Carioca." As I talked with Miss Fall, she held one of the babies which was black in color, and I found her great interest lies in her two Champion Standard Poodles, Rico's Reflection, and Horn Pipe Carioca. Miss Fall's enthusiasm over the French poodles was quite apparent as she noted their fine qualities. She informed us that the poodle is a very adaptable dog, intelligent and a feature that seemed very outstanding, the poodle does not shed its hair as do other dogs.

Miss Humphries, a professional dog handler and trainer, shares Miss Fall's enthusiasm over the poodles and due to her profession seems to be a very qualified judge. By the way, about those adorable little poodle puppies, Miss Fall informed me a deposit will hold one of the puppies until Christmas for that someone special on your list. Our new neighbors come to us from Detroit and we want to wish them well in their new home.

A call to our fire chief, Fred Korte, Jr., informed us that our fire department had three runs in the past week. One, a resuscitator run on Canton Center Rd. one garbage disposal truck fire on Ford Rd., (truck owned by Mr. Carvey of Beck Rd.) and one chimney fire.

Mr. Korte wanted to bring to the attention of all residents that when calling the Township hall, business hours 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., please call GL 3-4115. It cannot be emphasized enough, the importance of not using the fire line, GL 3-4114. Your call to the hall on the fire line could mean the destruction of a building or a loss of life. The necessity of informing you to call back on GL 3-4115 would tie up the line just long enough to spell disaster in an emergency. So please remember the only time GL 3-4114 is used is in case of a fire or emergency.

The township stork made a surprise visit to the August Gasper family of Beck Rd. A baby son, Carl Paul, weighing 8 lbs., 11 1/2 oz., arrived at the Gasper home without warning on Friday, Nov. 6. Mother and son were then taken to the Monroe Hospital by ambulance. I talked with Mrs. Gasper this past week, and she informs us that she and baby Carl are just fine. The Gaspers have five other children.

We want to extend our sympathies to the John Small family of Canton Center Rd. The couple's young son, Jimmy, passed away this past week after an illness. Jimmy is survived by his parents and three brothers.

More new residents to the Township, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin Chandler and daughter Rhonda, formerly of River Rouge, now residing on Canton Center Rd. The Women's Reserve of Boy Scout Troop 298 reports their Fall Festival, held on November 6 at the Gallimore School, a success. Mrs. Norris White, chairman of the festival, stated they had a good attendance and their profit was approximately $105. Mrs. White wanted to extend her thanks to all her co-chairmen, Mrs. Thelma Ronk, Mrs. Marion Williams, Mrs. Alice Armstrong, Mrs. Irene Thorne, Mrs. Delores Voss, Mrs. Katie Towschack. She also wanted to extend a hearty thanks to Mr. Ralph Leffler, Scoutmaster and committee chairman, Robert Williams, for aiding in selling tickets or the affair.

Mrs. White further expressed her appreciation to everyone who donated items to the Country Store, rummage sale and pie and cake walk. It was with the cooperation of everyone that the festival was marked a success.

A little late perhaps, but a happy anniversary wish goes to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Sr. of Canton Center Rd. Mr. and Mrs. Smith celebrated their 39th wedding anniversary at their home, with four of their five children and their families.

Present to wish their parents happiness were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Norris White and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith and family. The group enjoyed the cake, baked for the occasion by Mrs. White. The couple opened their gifts with their 15 grandchildren standing about.

"Packing Houses" Aid Natural Gas Service

Natural gas is carefully "packed" as it travels along the 2,000 mile trip from the southwestern gas fields to Michigan customers.

Taking care of the "packing" operation are gas compressor stations about every hundred miles along the pipeline route. Here engines with thousands of horsepower squeeze the gas under as much as 1,000 pounds of pressure and force it through the pipelines. The pressure drops, as the gas moves along, until another compressor station "repacks," cleans, and pushes the compressed gas toward the next "packing house."

The never ending work at the compressor stations speeds natural gas to consumers, improves service and helps keep gas rates low.

Only GAS does so much, so well... the modern fuel for automatic cooking... refrigeration... water-heating... house-heating... air conditioning... clothes-drying... incineration.
