Report Recommends No Light at School Crossing

A list of 10 recommendations—including a traffic signal at Main and Wing Streets and no traffic signal at Main and Ross—has been submitted to the Plymouth Police Department by the Highway Traffic Safety Center of Michigan State University.

The Safety Center experts have been working on the report since last Fall after being invited by the Police Department to survey traffic at critical locations along Main St., from Church to Ann Arbor Rd.

A petition signed by many residents of the city's south side last Spring prompted the study in the first place. After S. Main St. had been widened, the petitioners asked that a traffic signal be installed at a street crossing to help children go to and from school. The Junior High lies several blocks east of Main St. and Smith Elementary School is several blocks west.

"The present conditions at the school crossing of Main St. at Ross do not warrant the installation of a traffic control signal," the report declared.

But the report went on to suggest several other things to make the crossing safer.

Besides the Main-Ross signal light recommendation, there were nine others:

1. The section of Main St. between Sutherland and Ann Arbor Trail should be widened to 44 feet from its present width of 36 feet.

2. The 18 angle parking spaces on the east side of Main St. between Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman (in front of Kellogg Park) should be removed and replaced by nine 22 foot parallel parking spaces.

3. Other intersections on Main St. which should be considered as prime targets for future surveys are Ann Arbor Rd., Church and Starkweather.

4. In order to improve driver and pedestrian visibility safety on Main St. near Ross, parking should be prohibited 150 feet north of the crossing on the west side of Main and 150 feet south of the crossing on the east side of Main.

5. Standard "school crossing" signs should be installed 500 feet north of the crossing on the west side of Main and 500 feet south of the crossing on the east side of Main. Portable yellow flashers mounted on the signs and operated during the crossing periods are recommended as a supplemental measure.

6. A fixed-time traffic control signal should be installed at the intersection of Main St. and Wing. The signal should be coordinated with signals now in operation at Main and Ann Arbor Trail, Penniman and Church.

7. Provide a 100-foot-long right turn lane for the southbound approach to the Main St.-Ann Arbor Trail intersection.

8. In conjunction with the right turn lane, a special right turn traffic signal should be installed to permit southbound to westbound right turning vehicles to complete their maneuver after making a complete stop.

9. There are numerous recommendations concerning additions and changes in pavement markings.

Copies of the survey have been now issued to the City Commission which expects to devote a special session to a study of the data. The report is 24 pages long and contains many statistics and diagrams.

Traffic counts were made last October of the areas being studied. At the school crossing, a count was also made of the children. Nearly 50 children a day use the crossing, going to school in the morning and coming home in the afternoon. During the lunch period, about half of that number use the crossing.

"It can be concluded then that we are not dealing with large numbers of crossings. This fact does not in any way, however, minimize concern for getting the children across Main safely," the report pointed out.

Troopers Finally Subdue Armed Man on Rampage

A 23-year-old Canton Township man crazed with drink went on a rampage last Thursday night by firing shots at his wife and a half dozen other people before being subdued by Michigan State troopers.

He also slugged and kidnapped a man at gunpoint, broke a window in a patrol car and bloodied the nose of a trooper.

He is Charles L. McQueen, of 2049 Elmhurst, south of Ford Rd. Now being held in Wayne County Jail.

Suicide Found In Township Woods

Suicide was apparently the cause of the death of a man found in his car parked in a Plymouth Township woods Tuesday morning.

He was identified as John Milton Williams, 54, of 8133 Milburn Blvd., Garden City.

His car was driven into a woods off Powell Rd., a quarter mile east of Ridge Rd. A flexible pipe was run from the tailpipe into a rear window stuffed with rags.

No Feelin' So Good

Friend of Pedestrian, Louis Sculco, Quits

By JEROME O'NEIL
Louis Sculco for nearly 20 years has cared for Plymouth feet — indirectly, that is — with a devotion worthy of high praise.

Thousands of local walkers owe the longevity of their shoes to Louis' craftsmanship.

Since March 1940, the little Italian estimates that he has repaired more than 100,000, and perhaps as many as 200,000, pairs of Plymouth shoes. It averages out to more than 100 pairs a week.

But the diminutive shoe repairman—recently and reluctantly—relinquished his ownership of Louis' Shoe Repairing, 784 Penniman. At 62, Louis is contemplating retirement.

"I'ma no feelin' so good deesa past few weeks," he explained in a soft voice, still well-salted with his native accent, despite nearly 40 years in the United States.

Plymouth residents should know Louis well, if not by name at least by his face. Seemingly always at work in his tiny shoe shop next-door to the taxi stand, Louis Sculco's slender frame and bespectacled face could invariably be seen through the dusty glass window of his workshop.

He was either tacking on a new heel, gluing a sole on an ailing shoe, or stitching away at a tired upper. Louis would pause from his labors $10,000 bond. McQueen is charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

The wild evening began when McQueen stopped to pick up a neighbor, Billy Louiselle, at his Elmhurst St. home, and another neighbor, Robert Merriam, who just got off work at Western Electric. Driving around drinking beer, the trio reached Cherry Hill and Sheldon Rds. where McQueen stopped his car, broke out a window and then went after Louiselle and Merriam with a broken bottle. The two fled on foot.

McQueen then drove home, arriving there at 7 p.m. "He came in and he looked like a mad-man with a funny look in his eyes," his wife, Judith, told State troopers. McQueen forced his wife and five-month-old son into the bedroom and from a dresser he pulled a pistol.

Mrs. McQueen broke loose and backed into the kitchen. McQueen pursued and took a shot at his wife. As she fled to a neighbor's to call for help, McQueen ran back to his car and drove off.

McQueen next drove to Hopper & Sons Service Station, at Ford and Haggerty where he jumped out and said to Troy D. Lewis, 43783 Cherry Hill: "You're a smart aren't you?" Lewis replied "No" and as McQueen approached him, Roy Hopper 1815 Haggerty, came out of the station.

"Get that ... out of here or I'll shoot him," McQueen shouted to Hopper. Just then McQueen shot between the two men when they were only four feet away. The two fled into the station and called State Police.

McQueen next went to Dowling's Market, 41350 Ford Rd. Fingering the safety of his gun, McQueen asked owner James Dowling if his aunt, Mrs. James Carter, was working there that night. Dowling replied that she wasn't and McQueen left the store on foot northward on Haggerty Rd.

At the Carter home, at 5757 Haggerty, Carol Carter, 15, and her eight-year-old sister, Vickie, were there alone. Carol was talking with a friend when McQueen came in, hung up the phone and fired shots that hit a door jam.

Later, Mrs. Carter came home accompanied by a friend, Mrs. Alan Morton, 1425 Brookline. They had stopped at Dowling's Market and Mr. Dowling told her that her nephew was there with a gun.

Coming in the back door, the two women found McQueen talking on the phone with the gun pointed to his temple. Mrs. Carter shouted, "Chuck, don't do it!"

McQueen demanded her car but Mrs. Carter declared that she didn't have it. Angered, McQueen fired the gun toward her and Mrs. Morton. A second shot went through a coffee pot and into the stove. Another shot hit a door jam just a few inches from Mrs. Carter's leg. The two women ran outside with McQueen following.

Running around the front of the house to get the children out, the women were caught by McQueen. Seeing Mrs. Morton's car, he jumped in it but couldn't get the car going.

At this time, Mrs. Morton's brother, Arthur Beard, arrived and McQueen fired a shot at his car. Beard had heard that his sister was in danger at the Carter home.

Beard got out of the car and McQueen went over to him and struck him on the head with the gun. The crazed man then ordered Beard inside the car at gunpoint. Driving west on Ford Rd., McQueen reloaded the gun.

Boy Scouts Hit 50th Birthday; 48 Years Here

Over five million boys and leaders of the Boy Scouts of America, along with nearly 29 million alumni, are joining together this week to launch one of the biggest birthday parties ever held in this country as they celebrate the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.

Members of 14 local Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts are joining in the celebration.

Many Scouts attended churches last Sunday in a body and relatives are helping observe the anniversary by attending special pack, troop and post "family night" events.

Members of three troops will put on demonstrations in a downtown store window this Friday and Saturday.

Scouting in Plymouth doesn't go back a half century, but it does reach back 48 years when the first troops were established here.

Rev. B.F. Farber, minister of First Presbyterian Church, and Stephen Jewell, 873 N. Mill St., were the first Scoutmasters. Jewell, who is nearly 80 now, headed the boys from 8 to 11 years while Rev. Farber led the older boys.

Meeting each week at the High School, the boys had a cook-out after nearly every meeting. Jewell recalls. These two troops eventually disbanded, but others took their place.

Formation of these two troops in 1912 was only two years after Scouting started in the U.S. William D. Boyce, a Chicago publisher, was impressed by a Boy Scout's good turns in a trip to England. Looking up Sir Robert

Option Land For School Site Rathburn Jr. High Use Tradition At an End

Plymouth Township's government will be without a Rathburn Jr. High in its midst after 35 years.

The resignation of Mrs. Flora J. Rathburn from the Township's Board of Review was accepted "with regret" by the Township Board last week.

Mrs. Rathburn, who has been ailing, is the widow of Charles Rathburn who had been supervisor of the Township from 1925 until his death in 1953.

Mrs. Rathburn was appointed to the Board of Review in 1953 and was re-elected several times. Her term was to expire next year. Her successor will be appointed at the March meeting of the Township Board.

In other business before the Board, a resolution was approved to oppose the passing of federal legislation that would remove the exemption of municipal bond interest from taxation.

There has been legislation under consideration in Washington to make municipal bond interest taxable. As of now, those deriving interest from municipal bonds need not declare them in their income tax. Because of this, municipal bonds sell for much lower interest rate than other types.

Many municipalities, including the City of Plymouth, have approved resolutions that will be sent to Congressmen opposing the proposed legislation. It is felt that by making the interest taxable would increase the interest rate and therefore would cost the citizens much more to finance local improvements.

A request from Fred Smith, 43065 Joy Rd., to connect his basement sewer with the Plymouth Township sanitary sewer was tabled. Smith, who lives in Canton Township, has been troubled with water in his basement.

Also tabled for further study was consideration of an ordinance to provide for a Township Department of Liquor Control Enforcement. A state law approved last year gives townships the right to enforce their own liquor control. Plymouth Township Board still is unable to see any advantage for Plymouth Township in such an arrangement. The Road Patrol and State Highway Patrol now enforce liquor regulations in the Township.

An option to purchase a site large enough for a new junior high school at Sheldon Rd. and Ann Arbor Trail has been signed by the Plymouth Community School District.

The site, which contains 17.64 acres, is located on the southwest corner of the intersection, south of the present Bird Elementary School.

The property extends behind the St. John's Episcopal Church which is now under construction along Sheldon Rd.

Present owner of the property is the Emerson Building Co. of Detroit. It was originally a part of the Robert Willoughby farm but it had been sold several years ago for subdivision purposes.

Purchase price of the land is $5,000 an acre, making a total cost of $88,200.

Authority to obtain an option was given Administrative Assistant Melvin Blunk by the Board at its meeting last week. Monday night Blunk reported that he was successful in obtaining the option. It is expected that the Board will decide to exercise the option shortly.

The Board hopes to someday erect a new junior high on the site. The present Plymouth Community Junior High, located off S. Mill St., is on 18 acres of land. The new site has 17.64 acres.

At present the Board has no funds to build a new junior high. They plan to re-submit a bond issue to electors sometime this spring which presumably would ask for funds to build a new junior high.

Last summer the Board searched for sites around the Joy Rd. and Ann Arbor Rd. areas but were unable to find one that was suitable for sale.

The site under option has been test drilled to determine if the soil will hold heavy construction. Tests showed that the ground was more firm closer to Ann Arbor Trail than to the south. This may have a bearing on whether the construction will be one or two story.

The fact that city sewer and water facilities are just across the road is also a factor that swayed the Board to sign the option. Because the land is on the west side of Sheldon, it is located in Plymouth Township and not in Canton Township.

War-Born Gas Restrictions Being Eased

A step-up in gas service for the space heating has been allowed the Plymouth office of Consumers Power Co. as a result of an announcement by the firm last week.

New gas volumes being provided by the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. and distributed by Consumers Power has brought about the release of 60,000 space heating permits.

James Thomas, district manager of Consumers, said that last year 7,000 permits were issued in the Western Wayne County area. If application is made immediately, there is a good chance that a homeowner can obtain a permit yet this summer, he added.

The new gas deliveries are a result of an expansion program by Panhandle Eastern. They represent a partial completion of Trunkline Gas Company's 1959 expansion program of $82 million. Trunkline is a subsidiary of Panhandle.

Plymouth Students Open Clothing Collection Monday

The Plymouth Community Schools have taken "children helping children" as the theme of its Save The Children Federation Bundle Day Clothing Collection next week, Feb. 15-19.

Supported since its inception by the nation's educators and school children, the Bundle Day Clothing Collection is in its 18th year under the auspices of Save The Children Federation, a non-profit, non-sectarian organization serving the needs of children in this country and overseas.

Says Sup't. Russell L. Isbister, "Our children, their enthusiasm supported by that of parents and friends, can gain great knowledge of applied social science while helping Save The Children Federation meet the pressing need for clothing among underprivileged children in the Southern Mountains and overseas. More important, they will know the joy of helping others less fortunate than themselves."

Parents and neighbors are urged to empty clothes storage areas of good, used winter and summer garments their families no longer need. Clothes for babies, children and adults, as well as sheets and blankets are requested. Low-heeled shoes and over-shoes of every size are especially useful. Last year during the coldest weather, many children in the Southern Mountains walked to school barefoot. Many others did not attend school because they lacked adequate clothing.

The Federation's program in the Southern Mountains helps to keep children in school with the distribution of clothing through SCF Clothing Centers where clothing is made available at very low prices, thus enabling a poor but proud people to maintain their self-respect.

Additional clothing is distributed without charge, through County Welfare and Attendance Officers to those who cannot afford to pay. Save The Children Federation also maintains a stockpile of clothing to meet disaster needs at home and overseas.

Save The Children Federation is the only truly non-sectarian child welfare organization collecting used clothing in schools on a nation-wide basis. Through the Federation, children in underprivileged areas at home and overseas are sponsored by compassionate Americans. As part of its program of Community and School Self-Help Projects for Children, the Federation assists and inspires villagers and parents to help themselves make a better life for their children in the United States and overseas.

Mayor Proclaims February American History Month

February has been proclaimed American History Month with citizens being called upon to emphasize the study of American history in order to "better appreciate the spiritual strength and wisdom of our forefathers."

Members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution are again sponsoring the month-long observance locally. The chapter, which has members from the Plymouth and Livonia areas, will be distributing 1,600 booklets in the Plymouth schools. The booklets are about outstanding figures in American history.

During the year, the DAR also sponsors a national essay contest and at the end of the school year the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter awards medals to students who excel in American history at schools in Plymouth and Northville and Ladywood High School in Livonia.

Canton Center Troop Holds Court of Honor

Scout Troop 298 of Canton Center held its annual potluck dinner and court of honor Monday evening at the Geddes Rd. Hall.

Sid Stevens, of the Detroit Area Council and camp director at the Charles Howell Scout Reservation at Brighton, was the speaker. Movies were also shown.

Numerous badges of office, rank, year pins and a church award were presented to Scouts.

The Canton Community Club sponsors the troop along with a Cub pack and Explorer post. Troop leaders are Ralph Lefler, scoutmaster; Harold Voss and Art Lea, assistant scoutmasters; Robert Voss, junior assistant scoutmaster; Norris White, institutional representative; Robert Williams, committee chairman; Grant Ridley, committee secretary and treasurer; and Cassel Harper, Gene Armstrong, Bill Ronk, Clark Wright and Howard Moyer, committeemen.

Troop 298 celebrated Scout Sunday by attending the Cherry Hill Methodist Church in a body. A church award was presented to a scout and the Ladies' Aid of the Church served a chicken dinner for the scouts and their leaders. They later attended a scout exhibition at Utica.

Vegetable Grower Of 40 Years Ago Writes Back Home

A former Plymouth vegetable grower who now lives in Orange, Calif. has written a letter to the "Plymouth Farmers' Cooperative" telling of his experiences since moving away 40 years ago.

He is B.J. Lay, whose letter did not go to the now defunct Plymouth Cooperative, but to Roy Schultz, 7854 Lilley Rd., a Farm Bureau official.

Lay related how he sold cabbages to C.F. Smith and Kroger for George Raviller who was secretary of the Plymouth Cooperative in 1917. "In 1920 I sold 3,000 baskets of cherries through factory co-ops, but when the depression of 20 struck and factories all but closed down, I went to Ohio and worked for a strawberry and melon man," Lay wrote.

The Schultz family wants to write back to Mr. Lay and bring him up to date about Plymouth's history. If anyone remembers B.J. Lay, Mr. and Mrs. Schultz would like to hear from them.

FOR satisfactorily completing an extension course in recreation administration, five area people were presented certificates during the Plymouth City Commission meeting last week. The course was sponsored by the "Clean 13," an association of area city managers. From left are E.L. Abbott, Ypsilanti recreation director, who taught the course during the past year; Robert Usher and Teresa Felgenauer of the Wayne County Training School, who took the course through sponsorship of the City; City Manager Albert Glassford and Administrative Assistant John Deppen. There are 100 enrolled in in-service training courses throughout the area.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Plymouth's attempt to muffle the display of immoral magazines and pocket books in stores has counterparts among the neighbors.

Over in Redford Township last night, two Democrats prepared a letter and statement endorsing a Republic legislator who at the moment is preparing bills which would put State brakes on the traffic in trash.

Closer by, in Livonia, private groups of citizens, with the assistance of the Mayor, have visited virtually every drugstore to "put on the pressure."

The legal problem, of course, is the old one of "censorship." Where should the line be dropped? Is what's pornographic to me necessarily pornographic to you, or to the author, or to those who make their living in its handling?

The easiest solution would be for the trafficker to be a citizen of high intelligence and firm conscience. Then the stuff just won't get displayed in a way that it is easily accessible to youngsters.

Our own solution would be for store owners themselves to isolate obviously offensive printed matter in an "adults only" area where it is technically available, but it wouldn't be easy to find.

We've seen kids in Plymouth, on a given night, wandering from store to store, stopping at the magazine and book counters of each to leaf through the raw stuff, spending not a penny anywhere.

The legislator at work on the problem in Lansing is Farrell E. Roberts, Representative from Pontiac. A letter to him would not be amiss at this stage.

In all the heavy thinking which is taking place about Plymouth's future destiny as a retailing center, one simple improvement remains as obvious as a sore tooth and yet ignored.

At small cost, our street lighting could be changed to make this the brightest, shiniest place in which to go shopping in western Wayne County. Any study ever made on the subject shows that clean, bright lights all by themselves improve commerce.

We've touched upon this before. To our knowledge, there is no plan of any kind in the works.

Not too long ago, new fixtures were installed. Lights were elevated higher from the streets. Net effect: dimmer streets for Plymouth, not brighter.

Workers will be rapping upon Plymouth doors soon to write down the facts, ma'am, for the new US Census.

This is a matter of importance in many suburban units. The municipalities where there has been heavy growth will benefit measurably by increase in revenue from high State rebates on sales tax, gas and weight tax, and intangibles tax—the amounts of which are based on population.

To get more money from the State, a community must have grown more than the State average since 1950.

It is probable that the City of Plymouth has grown more slowly than the State average since the last count. Plymouth Township, on the other hand, will show an increase and can look forward to somewhat more income from Lansing early in 1961.

The actual process of counting should be all over by about April 1 but it'll take the rest of the year to tabulate. I'm not sure, but believe there's an opening or two for census workers in Plymouth.

Normally this corner doesn't dabble in recipes, but last week we received a press release from the "Michigan Bean Shippers Association" which was unique.

It was an effort to encourage the use of home-grown beans. Stressed was a dish called "Heavenly Casserole" and an exotic thing it was, calling for garlic, tomato paste, pork sausage, sliced frankfurters, two cups of red wine, etc.

The unique part was a later release which said: "Dear Editor: We forgot the BEANS, of all things, in the Heavenly Casserole recipe. The quantity should read: 3 cups boiled Michigan navy beans."

Presbyterians Welcome New Assistant Minister

Arriving last week in Plymouth to assume the assistant pastorate of First United Presbyterian Church was the Rev. Edward W. Castner, former pastor of a Beverly, Ohio church.

Rev. Castner received his bachelor of arts degree from Cornell University in 1954 and bachelor of divinity from Union Theological Seminary in 1956.

His wife's name is Wanda Jane. In addition, he will assist the Rev. Henry J. Walch, D.D., in the general ministry of the church.

Rev. Castner fills a vacancy left when the Rev. Norman Stanhope resigned last fall to accept a commission as a Navy chaplain.

The new assistant pastor has been minister of First Presbyterian Church in Beverly since 1956.

As assistant minister here, his primary responsibilities are with the Christian education programs of the church.

Girl Scout News

A Girl Scout swimming program for the Brownies and the Intermediates will start Saturday, Feb. 13. It will run for eight weeks.

The registration was last Saturday at the Plymouth High Pool, where the lessons will be held. The Brownies will meet at 10 o'clock and the Intermediates will meet at 11 o'clock. The charge is $2 for the eight weeks.

Virginia Shirey will be in charge of the lessons. The instructors will be Gergette Graham, Barb Gooch, Martha Rube, Jodey Edgar and Kathleen White. Permission slips and physicals are required.

The Huron Valley Council is conducting a Drop-Out Survey to determine the reasons girls are quitting the scout program. This will help improve the program. The survey was conducted by the Senior Planning Board of the

European Film to Benefit Hough-Truesdell Class; Canton Volunteers Start Special March

Esther Sprengel
GL 3-0194

The Hough-Truesdell P.T.A. Group is sponsoring a film on the European trip taken by one of our township residents, Mr. and Mrs. Daubresse of Lotz Rd. There will be a 50 cent donation for adults and 10 cents for children under 16 years of age. The proceeds from the film showing will be turned over to the sixth graders of the Truesdell school, to help finance their week camping trip. The young people have worked very hard raising money for this annual event and will be on hand Feb. 16 at 7 p.m. at the Geddes Rd. Township hall to sell refreshments. The movie will cover France and Spain. The showing of the film will take approximately two hours and promises to be very interesting. The sixth graders and P.T.A. group want to extend an invitation to all.

A group of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Edna Harrison of 965 Lotz Rd., to plan the formation of a new club. The main function of this group will be to start making hats for the boys and girls confined to the Maybury Sanitarium.

The next meeting of the township diet club will be held at the home of Mrs. Ronald Walbridge on Brookline ave. Mrs. Walbridge reports a 17 1/2 pound weight loss for the group of 10 members with only one member gaining slightly. By the way, if you're interested in the diet meet on Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m.

Miss Dee McClellan of Cherry Hill Rd., gave a baby shower in honor of Mrs. Gerry Kelley. The shower was held at the McClellan home and the 30 guests present were co-workers from the Burroughs Corporation of Miss McClellan and Mrs. Kelley. The basement was decorated to accent the occasion with a stork hovering over the luncheon table. A large attractive cake with an appropriate cradle on top was baked by Mrs. Doris Powell. The guests enjoyed the games and refreshments of punch, coffee, cake and ice cream. Mrs. Kelley's husband is completing his training as a dentist at the University of Michigan.

Canton Township is holding a special March of Dimes Drive. The Mothers will be contacting you sometime on or before Feb. 11. Mrs. Opal Mucker and Mrs. John Rumberger are acting as co-chairmen for this Mothers' March. The mothers working to make the drive a success are:

Mrs. M. Threadgould, Mrs. Virginia Johnson, Mrs. Mary Aton, Mrs. Helen Woody, Mrs. Reeva Louis, Mrs. Esther Krause, Mrs. Robert Olds, Mrs. Arthur Breitmeyer, Mrs. Joe Thomas, Mrs. Nancy Moody, Mrs. Anna Langwish, Mrs. Betty Harrison, Mrs. Dorothy Daubresse, Mrs. William Harris, Mrs. Margery Barkley, Mrs. Juanita Peer, Mrs. Geneva Lambert, Mrs. Edith Aton, Mrs. Jenney Higgs, Mrs. Ernest Variot, Mrs. Raymond Jackson, Mrs. Norman Proctor, Mrs. Robert, Mrs. Mildred McLennan, Mrs. Virginia Johnson, Mrs. Esther Sprengel. There is still much to be done by this organization, so won't each of you help by doing what you can with your contributions.

Canton Township's Supervisor, Louis Stein, and Mrs. Stein just returned from visiting one of our new states, Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. Stein left Jan. 6 by train to San Francisco where they spent the week end, then on to Honolulu by boat on the Lur Line. The Steins spent two weeks at the Hawaiian Village Hotel. Mrs. Stein said they found the people very courteous and friendly and when their boat docked they were greeted with small boats and each passenger was given a beautiful lei of flowers and if mail had preceded them this was also delivered to them upon their arrival.

Mrs. Stein described their hotel as sprawling building located on 20 acres surrounded by gardens and beautiful foliage. The volcano eruption that we read about in the paper took place on the Hawaiian Island approximately 250 miles away from the island on which the Steins stayed, but they said the smoke from the volcano hid the mountain views from them for two days, then they had rain which seemed to clear the air. A great deal of Chinese food is served and the Steins enjoyed a Luau on their stay.

I asked if they had tasted the poi, that they seem to connect with Hawaii. Mrs. Stein said she tried just a little bit and described it as tasting worse than wall paper paste. She said they learned that poi is not as popular with the young people there as it is and was with the oldsters. She also stated that poi is a paste made from some sort of plant root, and supposed to be very good for you. They enjoyed the traditional dance of the islands, the Hula. The weather ran from 80 to 82 degrees during the day and in the 60's in the evening. As for the cost of living Mrs. Stein said prices were much as ours except for hotel rates which were very high.

Sunday the Homer Benoit of Canton Center had a birthday celebration in honor of Mr. Benoit's mother, Mrs. Homer Benoit, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simpson of Pointe Felce, Canada, and William Southall. On hand to help grandmothers cut her cake baked by their mother will be Ginny and Robert Benoit.

The Cherry Hill Methodist Church has a very active program ahead. Feb. 22 at 6:45 p.m. the Annual Father and Son Banquet will be held. The program shall be announced later.

On Saturday, Feb. 6, Miss Karen West will represent the Youth Fellowship Group of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church at the Mid-Winter Institute at Ann Arbor. Also on Saturday, John McLennan and Dan West along with Pastor Cain will attend the Christian Social Relations meeting in Dearborn.

The Faith Group of Ladies of the Cherry Hill Church held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Iris Gill of Ridge Rd. The devotions were led by Mrs. Alma McClure. The ladies were served refreshments by their hostess, Mrs. Gill.

Boy Scouts of Troop 298 will attend the Cherry Hill Methodist Church on Sunday. A special service in recognition of Scout Week will be held and the boys will be served dinner following the service by the Unit 2 Women's Group of the church. Following their dinner they will go to Utica.

Unit 2 Women's group will attend a luncheon at Lofy's Feb. 9, in place of their annual party.

Miss Linda Authier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Authier, held a farewell party for Susan Griffith who resides with her family on Territorial Rd. The Griffiths are moving to Hopkitten, Iowa. On hand to wish Susan happiness in her new home were classmates, Sue Roberts, Wilma Little, Nancy Spigarelli, Ruth Sprattling, Linda Newport. The girls played games and enjoyed refreshments served by Mrs. Authier. Susan was presented with going-away gifts from her friends.

Red, White and Blue will be the color theme of the party being given to the boys and girls of the 5th, 6th grade split group under the direction of their teacher, Mr. Alexander. The boys and girls boast of having 100 per cent parent participation in P.T.A. and the P.T.A. group gave them the party along with a $5 prize which we understand will be spent for books for the class. An invitation in form of a poem written by Nancy Spigarelli was sent out to the special guests, Mr. Gibson, principal Mrs. Hubert, secretary, Mrs. Alexander and children, their teachers family and the schools' two custodians, Mr. Rupert and Mr. Canup. We understand it was with regret a couple of the invited guests would not be able to be present and they answered their poetic invitation by a poetic thanks but regrets that they couldn't be present. The girls in the room planned the decorations and games and refreshments of punch, cup cakes, ice cream, nuts and mints were under the direction of their gym instructor, Mr. Howe.

News volunteers are always welcome.

There is a new third grade Brownie (Girl Scout) troop at our Gallimore School. There had been a big demand for such a group, so through the combined efforts of the mothers, the girls now have a troop known by No. 338 and meet each Monday after school from 3:15 until 4:15. The leaders for Troop 338, are Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Postlewaite and Mrs. Wilson. The troop also has a committee woman to assist them.

The names of the new Brownies are: Karen Buttermore, Sharon Breazeale, Debbie Smith, Betty Niemi, Linda Wilkins, Kim Houghton, Lois Viperman, Jeanne Schwartz, Terri Schwartz, Linda Oliver, Johnnie Lodge, Judy Johnson, Nancy Osen-ton, Penny Stokes, Patty Parmater, Susan Green and Donna Meek. Up to date the girls have been having fun and becoming acquainted, but Mrs. Breazeale, one of their committee members, reports on Feb. 6, the Brownies will hold their investment ceremony and will become a regular troop. Refreshments were served to the Brownies and their families.

The ceremony was held at the Girl Scout Lodge on Plymouth Rd. This was a very important day for each of the little Brownies and each received her official pin. The Brownies promise to keep us informed of their progress.

'Music Man' Plays for Next Symphony Theatre Night

Local theater-goers will have an opportunity shortly to enjoy a top-flight stage musical in Detroit and at the same time benefit the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra. The event is an evening at the Riviera Theater on Friday, March 25. The stage production is "The Music Man," starring Forrest Tucker in the lead role. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Sponsored by Mrs. Ralph Snoke's group H of the Plymouth Symphony League, the affair is one of several fund-raising events held during the year to aid the Plymouth Symphony.

Profits from the sale of tickets will go toward the Symphony Society fund. It was estimated that, with a full-house at the Riviera Theater for that night, nearly $1,500 could be realized on the event.

The tickets that Mrs. Snoke's group is selling here are guaranteed to be the most choice seats in the theater in three locations. The bloc of 500 tickets includes those from the center section of the main floor, the first nine rows of the balcony and the entire center section of the balcony.

Ranging in price from $4.95 to $6.50, the tickets may be reserved by calling three members of Mrs. Snoke's league group. They are: Mrs. William Covington (GL-3224), Mrs. John Murphy (GL-3-0892), and Mrs. A. A. Cooksey (GL-3-2871).

Tickets are currently available and orders are being filled by these three women as requests are received. The prices are identical to box office rates.

Ticket reservations will be accepted until Friday, March 18.

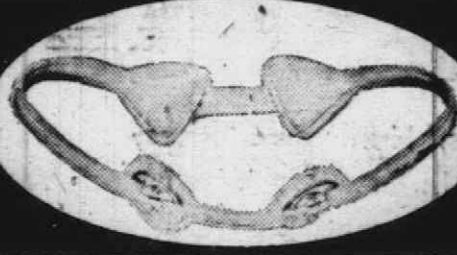

Vivians' Club To Learn of Accessories

The Plymouth Vivians' Club will hold a special luncheon and accessory show at the Elks' Lodge on Thursday, Feb. 25, at 12:30 p.m. The affair, open to the public, will feature as guest speaker Mrs. John L. Adams, a leading fashion consultant. Mrs. Adams will discuss the proper ways of carrying handbags and gloves, the correct and graceful manner of walking, sitting and standing.

Special attention will be given to accessories. Mrs. Adams is sponsored by the Maxine Sheldon Finishing School. Miss Sheldon, herself, will be on hand to display items from her accessory gallery.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Lee Roberts, while Vivians' president, Mrs. Peg French, is in charge of tickets. For further information, telephone Mrs. Roberts at GLenview 3-4128.

Attends Statewide Adventist Meeting
Jeremia Florea, pastor of the Plymouth Seventh-day Adventist Church, attended a statewide pastoral council in Lansing on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Purpose of the session was to study methods of evangelism and to launch an intensive ten-month membership campaign. Guest speaker at the convocation included Andrew C. Fearing, Washington, D.C., associate director of the ministerial department of the world conference and F.D. Nichol, Washington, D.C., editor of the Review and Herald, the church's weekly paper. Nichol reported on a tour which took him to Adventist installations around the world.

Also present at the meeting was the newly elected president of the Michigan Conference, N.C. Wilson, who is transferring from Atlanta, Ga. Wilson replaces G.E. Hutches, president of the conference for the past 12 years, who becomes educational director of the church for the four state lake region.

Mrs. Florea accompanied husband to Lansing. They returned to Detroit on Tuesday evening.

Salvation Army Needs Instruments For Young People
Mail Nancy Salvation Army Formation of a young peoples' band at the Salvation Army has brought about a plea from Captain John Cunard for any type of musical instrument that can be donated.

Captain Cunard said that it doesn't matter what kind of instrument it is or in what shape it is in—any donation would be appreciated. The band is being formed among the young people.

Friend of Pedestrian, Louis Sculco

vacation, Louis might work alongside his store's new owner, Pete Musci, 34, of Wandott. But Louis isn't sure what his plans will be for the future. In the shoe-repair business all his life, Louis came to the United States in 1921. He was 23 years old. He went first to New Kensington, Pa. where he worked in a small repair shop until 1925. Then he moved to Kame, Pa. and repaired footwear there until 1939. Early the following year, Louis came to Plymouth and bought his shop on Penniman from an old friend, who has since died. Louis learned his trade as an apprentice in a shoe shop in his hometown of Platinia, Italy. During his nearly 40 years in America, Louis has returned to his native land only once, for 11 months in 1930.

"I'ma make lotsa friends here," he said last week, referring to Plymouth and his adopted country. Louis attended school in his home town, but only reached the fifth grade. Then he went to work in the shoe shop. He learned his trade well. Working six days a week and sometimes on Sunday, Louis never found time for a bachelor. The long, working hours, as a young boy in Italy and as a young man in this country also prevented him from something else. He has never driven a car in his life. "Never had time to learn," he explained. "Besides I'ma no care so much for cars, anyways," he added. He had no regrets. He appeared a little regretful that his work as a youngster had prevented him from continuing with school, but it was a long time ago and a lot of shoes have passed over his counter since then. Here in Plymouth, Louis Sculco has made many friends. He realized that, as the time ticked by, he was repairing shoes for people whose parents had been regular customers of his earlier. "You'd be surprised at the presents I'ma get at Christmas," he said, reflecting on his many friends here. "Boxes of cookies, candy and pies... too much for one man to eat by himself," he admitted. In 20 years, Louis has had only three homes in Plymouth. The first one, his workshop, has changed very little in two decades. The work counter substantiates his claim to the vast number of shoes clumped down on it by customers over the years. Louis' two other homes have been rented rooms. He lives at the first one, on Ann Arbor Trail, for 10 years and then moved to his present quarters at 264 Harvey. The eating habits enjoyed by the diminutive Italian are equally deliberate. Every Sunday morning with few exceptions, Louis has eaten a light breakfast at the Ellis Restaurant.

During the week-days for breakfast, he stops at Jack's "Burgers" formerly Ken and Ork's, only two doors from his shoe repair shop. Louis' eyes twinkled when he defined his "light" breakfast which consists of cornflakes, toast and coffee and sometimes an egg. Louis told how he would prefer to repair men's shoes as opposed to women's footwear. But it really didn't matter to him. Shoes are shoes, he indicated. He wouldn't have tried anything else but repairing shoes if he had it all to do over. And on the subject of America: "From the very first day (in 1921) I liked this country verra much," Louis proudly explained. Only the language was a problem.

He told of the day in the mid 1920's when he was working in New Kensington. A young girl came into his shop and showed him a pair of shoes that needed repair. He knew right away what was wrong and how to fix them. But he couldn't understand what time the girl wanted to stop back to pick up the shoes. Finally, the girl took him by the hand, led him over to a wallclock and pointed to the exact hour that she would return. He understood. Since then Louis has learned enough English to cover most problems. But occasionally he resorts to writing it out for clarity. Louis Sculco has treated Plymouth shoes to loving care for 20 years. He has earned a rest.

Theatre Guild Needs Quiet Cat For Stage Role

The Plymouth Theatre Guild is in need of a cat to round out the cast for their March production of "The Dairy of Anne Frank." Mouschi must be a well-mannered, quiet cat who is available for rehearsal three nights a week, between now and March 10. The cat is the pet of young Peter VanDaan and plays an important role in the early scenes of the play. He will spend most of the time in a small cage so his acting ability need not be great. Anyone knowing of the whereabouts of a cat fitting this description, please contact Dorothy Smith at GL 3-0962.

Report Recommends

The researchers found that during the previous two years, there was only one traffic accident at Ross and Main, and that involved a car hitting a parked car at 1:20 a.m. In an interview with Mrs. Harriet Taylor, the crossing guard since 1954, she declared that she does not recall any accident involving school children. "The general safety at and in the area of the crossing is certainly a most enviable one—one that is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to improve," the report added. "The Highway Traffic Safety Center is placed in a somewhat unenviable position with regard to this situation. Nothing can be done which will improve the safety of school children as measured by the accident reports themselves, since no school children accidents have been recorded in the past five years. It is hoped, however, that the recommendations made will provide insurance for a continued excellent safety record." The survey reported the average speed of vehicles in the vicinity of the crossing at 26.9 miles an hour. Concerning the angle parking in front of Kellogg Park the report notes that permitting angle parking on streets whose primary function is the movement of traffic is almost universally considered to be a poor practice. President James Polk was called the "Napoleon of the Stump."

They will demonstrate the compass, first aid and knot tying. Scout Troop and Cub Pack 781, sponsored by the Catholic school participated in a spiritual celebration this past Sunday. A special Scout Holy Hour held at the University of Detroit Memorial Stadium for all Detroit area Catholic units was the focal point for the jubilee celebration. Scouts are now found in nearly every corner of the world except where state programs are rigidly enforced by dictatorial policy. There are 92,000 Scouts and leaders in the Detroit Area Council. One of Plymouth's pioneer Scout leaders, Sidney Strong, attended the Second Annual Scoutleaders' Potluck Dinner Saturday at the Light Guard Armory with 3,200 other volunteer leaders and their wives.

Estimated cost of the project is $68,000. The architects expect to take bids on all three projects by March 23 and to break ground by April 1. The Board approved a trip to New York City for the sixth grades of Starkweather School. Also approved was the retiring of $438,000 worth of bonds. Of the 1952 bond issue, bonds of $35,000 that are due now will be retired and $48,000 worth are being recalled early. The Board is also recalling $215,000 worth of the 1955 bond issue early and will be paying off $140,000 worth that are due to be paid off April 1.

Women's Group Plans For White Breakfast

The White Breakfast Committee of the First Presbyterian Church's Women's Association met recently to begin plans for the 11th annual White Breakfast to be held at the church on April 14. (Maundy Thursday).

The event, which annually sets the mood for Easter, will begin at 9:30 a.m. with organ music and will feature a breakfast for the women at 10 a.m. in the church dining room.

More than 200 women are expected to attend the affair. Guest speaker for the breakfast will be Rev. H. Paul Sloan, Jr., pastor of the Drayton Avenue Presbyterian Church in Ferrisville.

General co-chairmen are Mrs. Emerson Robinson and Mrs. Arthur Larson, while decorations will be handled by Mrs.

Edwin Schrader and Mrs. Kenneth Van Antwerp. Mrs. Robert Brown will oversee the dining room arrangements.

In charge of the kitchen are Mrs. W. J. Kincade and Mrs. Walter Pagenkopf. Mrs. Ray Hulce is in charge of the music. Tickets and reservations may be obtained through Mrs. Thomas Adams or Mrs. John Ryder.

Mrs. Howard Geldhof is handling the programs and restoration has been delegated to Mrs. Robert Webber. The committee meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Robinson on Penniman Ave.

Golden's Books Were Most Popular at Library in '59

Two books of homey philosophy—Harry Golden's "Only In America" and his "For 2 Cents Plain"—were the most frequently requested non-fiction volumes at the Dunning-Hough Library in 1959, according to Librarian Agnes E. Pauline.

There was a waiting list for his two books of witty essays and reminiscences during the entire year, the librarian said. Golden, who lives in Charlotte, N.C., publishes a weekly newspaper called "The Caroline Israelite."

Also asked for frequently were Vance Packard's "The Status Seekers," Thor Heyerdahl's "Aku, Aku," Lawrence Lipton's "The Holy Barbarians," Alexander King's "Mine Enemy Grows Older,"

William Nickerson's "How I Turned $1,000 Into a Million in Real Estate in My Spare Time," Frederic Sonder's "The Brotherhood of Evil," Edith Head and Jane Ardmore's "Dress Doctor" and Col. Gregory Boyington's "Baa Baa Black Sheep."

Leading the library's fiction list was Boris Pasternak's "Dr. Zhivago," a widely discussed novel of Russian society and one of its member's determination to preserve his own spiritual independence.

The book, which infuriated the Soviets, was awarded the 1958 Nobel Prize and remained the No. 1 U.S. best-seller for many months earlier this year.

A close second in popularity was "The Ugly American," by William Lederer and Eugene Burdick, whose fictionalized indictment of America's diplomatic role in Southeast Asia has caused a nationwide controversy.

Requests were also frequent for Leon Uris' "Exodus," Janet Taylor Caldwell's "Dear and Glorious Physician," John O'Hara's "From the Terrace," Patrick Dennis' "Around the World with Auntie Mame," Paul Gallico's "Mrs. Arris Goes to Paris," Gwen Bristow's "Celia Garth," Niven Busch's "California Street," and Allen Drury's "Advise and Consent."

Reservations for the above books can be made by calling Dunning-Hough Library.

Junior High Latin Students Organize Club

Nunc et Tunc, a Latin club recently organized at the Plymouth Community Junior High School, is now a chapter of the Junior Classical League, a national organization whose purpose it is to encourage among young people an interest in and an appreciation of the language, literature and art of ancient Greece and Rome.

Club officers of the local chapter are:

President, Arthur Gulick; vice-president, Mary Rupert; secretary, Catherine Kropf; and treasurer, Charles Hampton. Other members of the club are Mark Stephens, Josephine Mecklenberg, Byron Brown, Evelyn Heidt, Lois Ranney, Karen Dickerson, Patricia Briggs, Sandra Adams and Katherine Holt.

The group's present project is a Roman-style show to be presented at an assembly program this month.

Teen-Age Marriages Most Vulnerable to Divorce

Forty-seven per cent of all first brides in the United States today are under nineteen. Twenty-six per cent are under eighteen.

Yet according to the Census Bureau, teen-age marriages are three times more liable to end in divorce than marriages involving brides in their twenties.

Then why do high school students continue to rush into quick marriages, regardless of the risks involved?

Primarily to seek escape from their parents, to gain satisfaction of physical desire, find security, or a sense of belonging to the crowd, reported a national magazine recently.

To probe the modern phenomenon of the rapidly rising teen marriage merry-go-round, reporters from the magazine consulted prominent authorities in the fields of marriage and guidance counseling.

According to Dr. Rebecca Lis-wood, Executive Director of the Marriage Counseling Service of Greater New York, the immaturity of teenagers underlies their inability to cope with the demands of marriage. "Marriage is for grownups," said Dr. Liswood.

"Teen-agers literally have not lived long enough to develop the basic maturity that marriage demands. And this goes for love, too."

Dr. Liswood cites as an example the number of couples in their thirties who come to see her saying, "We got married when we were much too young, and now we've outgrown each other."

Or the teen age girl may seek love "as a convenient outlet for her needs," Dr. Esther Lloyd-Jones, head of the Department of Guidance and Personnel Administration at Teachers College, Columbia University, believes that today there exists an easy acceptance of next steps without necessarily weighing them in terms of foresight, caution, a long view of life. This permits and encourages young people to take the line of least resistance.

Still another explanation for the rapid rise in the number of teen-age marriages comes from Dr. Nathan Ackerman, director of research for the Psychiatric Clinic of the Jewish Family Service in New York:

"In many cases the couple is not looking for sexual thrills, but for a secure niche in society. They want a nice steady job, a regular income and a little home with gadgets. And there is the contagious fright. Kids are frightened because they live in a world without certainty and they don't know what lies ahead."

Sometimes the practice of steady dating can lead into a too-early marriage.

Dr. Carolyn Hewson, school psychologist and guidance consultant for the Pelham (New York) public schools, reports that teens tell her they prefer going steady because it's "the easy way." She recommends that teen-agers who think they are in love try spending an evening together without touching each other and see how it affects their relationship.

Summarizing the views of the immature teen girl, the magazine reported too often she pictures love as "just a game" — or as an emotion "spun of camellias and moonlight." Rebelling against her parents, she fails to realize that her rebellion will manifest itself in a refusal to accept her husband's decision.

How then can the teen girl learn to distinguish love from infatuation?

The magazine listed seven rules which will help determine what love is not; and which in turn can aid the teen girl in deciding what love is:

1. Love is not physical attraction alone. It must involve a lasting physical, emotional and intellectual attraction between two people.
2. Love is not the magic of the moment. Love endures and is nourished by the most commonplace of unexciting situations.
3. Love is not all sweetness and light. The loving couple must be able to cope with both large and small conflicts.
4. Love is not absolute possession. It demands a sharing with and of the loved one.
5. Love is not a big compromise. Love must successfully surmount an unending daily series of small compromises.
6. Love is not an escape. Marriage does not automatically free a girl from her problems; instead, it creates new problems to be overcome.
7. Love is not infatuation. Love depends upon continuously shared experiences, upon a two-part relationship based on affection and thoughtfulness.

Foliage Arrangements Useful In Home During Winter Months

By Ann Jermyn

Foliage arrangements can do as much for the house in winter as flowers do in summer. Leaves are almost as diverse as flowers, too, and so very much may be done with them that there's no reason to get tired of them.

The garden, many house plants or the florist shop are the three prime sources for branches or individual leaves. A foliage arrangement should look well for at least six weeks, and many of them have been known to last as long as six months. And they need far less care than house plants.

Any foliage arrangement that is expected to last as long as six months needn't become tiresome. That's because the leaves can be a background for a focal point of color which can be changed as fast as flowers fade or as it suits your fancy. It needn't even be flowers that add a focal point of color. The contrasting grouping of aspidistra leaves and branches of plumbago in a glass container (see photo) is brightened with colored leaves geraniums. In two weeks the geraniums might be replaced with a camellia flower and a couple of buds or a mass of wax begonia blossoms sheared from a house plant.

Florist flowers such as carnations or roses are nice for special occasions and as few as three large flowers will do the trick. These larger and heavier flowers also are fine at the base of a tall arrangement of rhododendron or magnolia branches.

Daintier blossoms can be tucked into softer looking pine twigs or a linear arrangement of pyracantha or jasmine stems. Scotch broom is another excellent green for foliage arrangements. It can be bent and shaped in the hands to form graceful curves.

Any container that you would use for flowers may be used for foliage only. The main requirements are that the container be heavy enough to hold the foliage and to hold an adequate amount of water.

Foliage needs conditioning first. Woody stems such as those of rhododendron, magnolia and evergreens should be treated so that they may absorb sufficient water. Use a hammer to smash or mangle the lowest two or three inches of stem. It will still be possible to make branches

FOLIAGE ALONE makes as interesting an arrangement as flowers do during the winter months. One example (above) is aspidistra (center), podocarpus and plumbago with colored geranium leaves.

Mirrors Are No Longer Indications of Vanity

By Ann Jermyn

Family rooms without a mirror are as bare looking as they would be without pictures on the walls. Although mirrors originally were called looking glasses, today they aren't necessarily an indication of personal vanity. Instead they lend personality and warmth to any room.

Utilitarian mirrors in every household include hand mirrors where they are needed, excellent clear glass with good lighting in bathrooms and powder room, and one full length mirror somewhere in the bedroom area of the house.

Equally important may be a good wall mirror of moderate size near the main door, so you can take a fleeting glance to be certain your hat's on straight or tie isn't crooked before leaving the house.

Elsewhere in the home, mirrors are primarily decorative. Often there is a purpose behind the choice of a mirror for decoration. For instance, there's no better way to give the illusion that a room is larger than it is.

The long, narrow room can be made to seem much wider than it actually is by means of a mirror. A large rectangular piece of good quality mirror glass fastened flat against one of the long walls increases the width of the room. If there isn't a fireplace over which to hang the mirror, then center a chest or other important, low piece of furniture.

If necessary, flank fireplace or chest with bookcases or other appropriate furniture units so that a longer mirror can be used to further the illusion.

Mirrors also work magic in the room that is dark either because it is shaded by shrubs and trees too close to the house or because windows are too few or too small for the size of the room. In the room that is unavoidably dark in the daytime, framed mirrors can be a better choice than modern sheet glass.

Frames, gilded or touched with gold leaf or even of gleaming, polished wood, can add warmth while the mirror brings light.

Smaller mirrors, properly placed, will brighten a dark corner. The darkest corner of a wood paneled living room, between fireplace and outside wall was transformed by hanging an oval mirror with a carved frame covered with gold leaf. This small mirror is sufficient since a three-shelves-high bookcase runs along the wall beneath it.

Whether it's a period piece or glass cut to size, a mirror always catches and reflects light and color. This is only one of the reasons why it is such an interesting decorative accessory. Their importance throughout the centuries is indicated by the fact that styles changed whenever furniture styles did.

Antique mirrors, Sheraton, Empire and sometimes even Chippendale, often can be purchased inexpensively at auctions. Excellent reproductions also can be found in stores. Picture frames of the Victorian period and the rococo gilt frames from old but valueless oil paintings are readily converted to mirrors.

And the person who's afraid to experiment with a couple of period mirrors can also have modern mirror glass cut to fit the place where it's needed.

If any room has narrow vertical mirror panels or all or part of a wall covered with mirror glass, it is essential that people have some warning so they won't crash into the glass. Strategic arrangement of furniture or plants usually is the barrier.

Any mirror, large or small, should always sparkle. Many excellent cleaners are available. However, it's hard to beat the old recommendation of wiping clean with a soft cloth dipped into water to which a little household ammonia has been added and then wiping dry with a couple of sheets of newspaper.

PHOTOGRAPHY FOR THE AMATEUR

By William H. Schleisner

Artificial light will be needed if projected on a screen or ed sometimes to supplement either the sun or regular house lighting for black-and-white as well as color photography. Considerably more care must be taken in selecting artificial light for color pictures.

Black-and-white film is about as sensitive to one type of artificial light as to another. More film contrast will result from incandescent bulbs than from fluorescent light, since the latter causes few and less sharp shadows.

Before exposing color film with artificial light, any photographer should read the circulars that come with the film. The circulars recommend what bulb to use with each type of film.

For cut film, the recommended bulb is the 3200 Kelvin and, if possible, the 115 volts. The 115 volt bulb is more effective in maintaining true color than the usual 120 volts. The 3200 Kelvin lights come in 250 and 300 watts.

Photoflood bulbs are suggested for roll color film. Type A. Photofloods are easy to purchase while 115 volt bulbs may be hard to find. Both are short-lived. Try to get the No. 2 photoflood, which is about twice as strong as No. 1 and greatly reduces the time for exposure.

If a photographer forgets and uses 3200 Kelvin bulbs for 35-mm slides or stereo pictures, he will find little change in the net color values if projected on a screen or the slide is going to be enlarged, the variation will be noticeable. Photofloods have a higher Kelvin than the 3200 bulbs.

Photographers who wish to use long-lasting light will find mogul base bulbs up to 1,000 watts and with 3200 Kelvin. These bulbs must be burned base down and require a large reflector to hold them. Mogul base bulbs are expensive in comparison with the popular 500 watt bulbs.

Artificial lighting will be most successful during periods when there is the least amount of traffic on power lines. Don't try to take pictures when the automatic dryer or dishwasher is running, for then a voltage drop would prove how low the voltage is.

When available voltage is low (for example, 103), color in the exposed film will be off and transparencies usually have a yellow cast. This can be counteracted by transformers which will bring the voltage up to the desired 115 volts.

Garage Cluttered, No Room for Car?

All too often the garage is used as a catch-all for many things other than the family car. This is particularly true in the modern one-story house that has no cellar and no attic in which to store things.

If there's a two-car garage, the older car is often left out in the driveway to make room for garden tools, power tools, bicycles, sleds, paint cans and brushes, and old newspapers and magazines. To accommodate everything safely, there must be a definite place for each article. It's up to every member of the family to keep things in their places and maintain this order.

CITY MANAGER'S CORNER

One of the indispensable jobs at the City Hall is that of secretary to the City Manager.

FRED J. THOMAS
General Insurance

215 S. Main St.
Plymouth, Mich.
Glenview 3-0920

She is truly a "jack of all trades" for she is a receptionist, personal secretary, office clerk, typist, stenographer and even a part-time cashier. In addition to her routine duties of maintaining our personnel records, arranging meetings, answering the phone, talking with the public who visit the City Hall, making out work orders and purchase orders, taking dictation, typing letters, reports and other materials, and a myriad more activities, she is also secretary to the City Commissioner.

In this latter capacity, she attends the commission meetings and takes the minutes of each meeting, she files and indexes a record of all action taken by the commission and she prepares the agendas and public notices for all commission meetings. In addition to all of this, she maintains the records of the municipal cemetery, she handles the sale of cemetery lots, and she prepares work orders for burials and for the erection of monuments at the cemetery. Occasionally, she is called upon to assist as a cashier in the Treasurer's office when they are short-handed.

Another job that is important to the operation of the city is that of the police day clerk. Here again there is an almost constant stream of visitors. The work which the day clerk performs includes taking applications for driver's licenses and changing addresses on driver's licenses.

She also makes out copies of accident reports for persons requesting them. In addition to this, she types reports for the police department and does other similar work as may be assigned to her. This work is limited, however, because the major portion of her time is spent at the central switchboard. Every call to the City Hall or from the City Hall goes through our switchboard, as well as all inter-office calls.

Whenever the occasion demands, she also operates the police teletype machine which connects us with Detroit and the State Police. Finally, the police day clerk operates the central station of our two-way police radio system. This radio is able to contact all city vehicles equipped with radio, including police and fire. In addition, the State Police and County Sheriff can contact us or be contacted on our radio network. When the fire phone rings, it is answered at the Fire Station.

If the call has reported a fire, the central switchboard is notified. Thus, if an alarm must be sounded, the clerk will immediately ring the siren and contact fire equipment which is in service away from the station.

A third job that is an integral part of our municipal operations is that of the court clerk. The court clerk is a notary and can administer oaths to persons making affidavits, and can issue all processes and attest them in the name of the Municipal Judge. The court clerk collects all fees in civil cases and all costs, bail or fines in criminal cases and maintains an accurate record of these monies as provided by law.

Finally, the court clerk operates the Traffic Violation's Bureau, under the direction of the judge, whereby offenders may pay the fines set up by the court and plead guilty, in writing, to the charges instead of appearing in court. This can be done in nearly all cases except drunken driving, failure to stop after an accident and reckless driving.

Plymouth Desk Soldier Enters Boxing Tourney in Germany

Specialist Fourth Class Robert W. Pepper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Pepper of 344 N. Harvey St., Plymouth, has been selected to represent the Southern Area Command in the Area Command Boxing Tournament, along with seven others, at Nurnberg, Germany.

The squad, formed and managed by SP5 Frank Minerva (a one-time amateur fly-weight champion), is the first team from SACOM entered in the tournament in five years. Although the eight-man squad is inexperienced, they have high hopes of bringing home a few trophies. SP5 Big Bill Peoples, SACOM heavy-weight, is the biggest threat to the other teams entered. Bill holds several championships and boasts of exhibition bouts with Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott.

SP4 Pepper, SACOM Bantamweight, is a possible contender for the Area Command Championship in his class and is being considered for the Area Command Team for the US Army, Europe Championships. If one was to judge Pepper by his job they would say he didn't have a chance in the world. He is out to prove that a desk-jockey sold-

Builder, Flower Show Opens In Detroit Feb. 27

Final preparations are being made for the First Annual Combined Builders Home and Flower Show of Greater Detroit in the Artillery Armory, W. Eight Mile Rd. near Greenfield, Feb. 27 through March 6.

An anticipated record turnout of around a quarter-million visitors, according to George A. Duke, Jr., chairman of the show committee, has prompted enthusiastic exhibitors to sign up for more space than at any previous home or flower show.

"Almost 90 percent of the nearly seven acres of exhibition space already has been sold," Duke said. "We have signed up about 35 exhibitors and more are coming in every day."

The builders' association executive said the show will blend home and garden displays into settings rivaling anything that can be seen outdoors in the middle of June.

"There is no way to make comparisons with this combined show and the separate home and flower shows of the past," Duke asserted. "It's not only more than twice as big, but is far more complete than any previous show possibly could have been."

The chairman of the show committee revealed for the first time several of the outstanding displays planned for the event.

One of these is the famous Dancing Waters, with the multiple colored streams motivated by organ music. This eye and ear stopping display will be shown at regular intervals.

A full-size home of a radically new type of construction also will be featured. The home will be completely decorated, furnished and landscaped.

Being featured in advance of the combined show is the 1960 Idea Home now open to the public on the Burton Hollow Estates at Farmington and Six Mile Rds., Livonia.

Visitors can buy tickets to the Builders' Home and Flower Show and have an opportunity to enter a contest to win the Idea Home by estimating the number of nails contained in a replica.

The home, completely furnished by J.L. Hudson Co., is open from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, closed all day Friday, and open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Self-Employed Must File Social Security

Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest district office, reminds persons who work for themselves of the importance of filing their 1959 social security tax return before April 15, 1960. The social security self-employment report is a part of the Federal Income Tax Return, Form 1040, Schedule C.

"Many people," Baltuck said, "do not realize that failure to make a yearly report is a violation of the law, and may result in penalties and interest charges on unpaid social security taxes. They also do not understand that a delay in filing this report might cause loss of valuable social security credit."

Physicians at the Children's Center of Metropolitan Detroit found that 31 of 40 children between the ages of 5 and 11 who had been almost hopelessly unruled calmed down when given Dextro-amphetamine.

I never thought about going to America, and I had no special interest in this country. We learned in geography that there is oil and coal in Pennsylvania, that Florida has extremely hot summers and that California furnished good oranges and a long time ago even gold. In history we mentioned the Declaration of Independence.

I was not interested in the coal of Pennsylvania and oranges of California. What I heard about America did not seem too interesting to me.

But as I grew older with the years, I heard more and more. We read and discussed Hemingway in our German class. We read short stories of Saroyan and John Steinbeck. In history we discussed the events of Little Rock, and we heard, too, news of the hero, Elvis Presley.

Things were so different in the United States, and we all wanted to know more about it.

One day in school the teacher came in with a letter, concerning the exchange-student program with the United States. The students interested in the program should talk to their parents and let the teacher know. The cost of the trip were 2400 DM, which is about $600. Parents should pay so much of it as they could, at least the amount of money which the student needs at home for clothing, food, etc. The rest would be sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, if necessary.

I remember that day exactly. So many students were enthusiastic about the idea, but the obstacle was: first the parents, and then the losing of one year in school.

When I came home that day, I just told my parents that there is a possibility to go to America, I would love to, but I know I can't. I thought they would never let me go.

Then my father said suddenly: "It might not be too bad an idea. It might be a good education for you and you would learn a lot. How much money is it?"

But my mother said immediately: "Oh, no, impossible! A whole year. You don't know what things she is running into. You don't know the kind of people she will live with. She is too young."

When I knew I might convince my father, I stuck to the idea. Many discussions followed in the family. My mother did not want me at all to come. Then there were days when my father was doubting, too, and he said it would be too great a risk. My plans would have gone, if my grandmother would not have been on my side. So old as she was, she had an open and modern mind. Without her I probably would not be here today.

Then finally I was allowed to go. I could not sleep very well that night because I thought about all the things to come and I was excited.

This was only the first step of all the others I had to go. The next step was the recommendation of all my teachers for that program. We had to be good students. After the school gave its consent, we had to fill out many question papers. We had to do a personal statement of our life in English, which was not too easy then.

After we had gone through that, we had to appear before a committee which consisted out of two women and three men. We were so excited, because this impression would mean "yes" or "no." I knew for sure I would never pass this. The lady with the grey hair did not look very friendly, she watched every movement we did, how we entered the room, sat down, etc. We were asked questions in English and German and had to answer in both languages. We were asked what we thought about capital punishment, co-education, special political situations in Germany and more which I don't remember.

All this lasted about 15 minutes. When I left the room, I saw many other students waiting for their examinations and I was happy that mine was over. When I came home late in night (I had to take a train to the other city), I told my parents that my chance was lost. I felt discouraged and almost gave up the whole idea.

The day before Christmas I got a letter: I was accepted as an exchange student for America. Out of 400 students in northern Germany only 50 made it. Considering this I still say it was luck that I came over.

Then we had to write some papers to the American committee and answer similar questions as we did before. But this was only formal and the decision was already made. In June I got the address of the family in the U.S., enclosed was a picture. When we saw it, even the doubts of my mother disappeared. The next weeks were spent with preparations for my departure on July 28.

LOOK AT THE LOWER PRICES LOOK AT THE PLUSES

List prices as much as $76.05 lower on popular models with popular equipment

The '60 Chevrolet models most people buy, equipped the way most people want them, are actually priced lower than last year's models. This two-tone Bel Air V8 sedan, for example—with Turboglide, push-button radio and deluxe heater—lists for a whole $76.05 less! Prices are lower for all comparable V8 models throughout the line. Also for all comparable 6-cylinder models with Powerglide. Yet Chevy's loaded with more of the things that put pleasure into owning a car. (Just look at the list!) It's the greatest year yet to get into a Chevy!

Softer, more silent ride with coil springs at all four wheels and new butyl rubber-cushioned body mounts.

Big brakes for quicker, surer stops.

Rivetless bonded linings mean they last longer, too.

More room to relax in. Chevy sedans offer roomier seating than any car in their class. Lower, narrower transmission tunnel means more foot room.

Only full wraparound windshield among the leading low-priced cars.

Electric windshield wipers keep sweeping even when you speed up to pass.

Vent windows crank open and closed. So much simpler than fighting those tricky little catches.

Keyless locking of all doors. Quick and easy. The same key opens door, glovebox, trunk and starts the car.

Economy Turbo-Fire V8. Or how to get up to 10% more miles per gallon of regular and still have lots of "git."

Thriftest 6 in any full-size car. It's the '60 version of the engine that got 22.38 miles per gallon in the 1959 Mobilgas Economy Run.

Widest choice of power teams. 24 engine-transmission teams in all, with output up to 335 h.p.

A trunk that's made for long trips with up to 22.5% more actual luggage space. Still's lower for easier loading.

Fisher Body craftsmanship. Look at the finish, the fabrics, the detail work. You'll see the difference.

Drive it—it's fun-tastic! See your local authorized Chevrolet dealer for fast delivery, favorable deals.

Western Electric Heading World-Wide Tracking Project

An important link in the rearward communications for America's Ballistic Missile Early Warning System (BMEWS) became a reality recently when the first undersea telephone cable above the Arctic Circle was completed. Owned by the United States Air Force, it connects Air Force installations in Greenland and Canada.

The Arctic undersea cable operation was carried out under the direction of the Western Electric Company with the cable placing being handled by the Long Line Department of the American Telephone & Telephone Company. Western Electric is responsible to the United States Air Force for the design, installation and testing of rearward communications routes for America's BMEWS project.

Four nations - Canada, Denmark, Great Britain and the United States - combined to make this first telephone cable beneath Arctic waters possible.

This undersea cable which incorporates built-in amplifying repeaters spaced some 40 miles apart, provides reliable, time-tested communication channels between the United States Air Force Base

Students Treated By Gallimore PTA

Students of the combined fifth and sixth grade class at Gallimore School here were honored by the school's PTA last Friday for having gained 100 percent membership of their parents in the parent-teacher group.

The youngsters enjoyed a party in the afternoon during which there was dancing plus various games and refreshments. The class teacher is Donald Alexander, in his first year at the Gallimore School.

City of Plymouth Ordinance No. 264

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 8 OF ORDINANCE NO. 201, AS AMENDED, OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ENTITLED, "AN ORDINANCE TO PROVIDE FOR THE ACQUISITION AND CONSTRUCTION OF SANITARY SEWERS FOR THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH, TOGETHER WITH NECESSARY APPURTENANCES AND ATTACHMENTS THERE TO; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF SELF-LIQUIDATING REVENUE BONDS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PAYING THE COST THEREOF UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF ACT 94, PUBLIC ACTS OF MICHIGAN, 1933, AS AMENDED; PROVIDING FOR THE FIXING, COLLECTION, SEGREGATION AND DISPOSAL OF THE REVENUES OF SAID SEWAGE DISPOSAL SYSTEM OF THE CITY AND PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS OUT OF THE REVENUES THEREOF; AND CREATING A STATUTORY LIEN ON SAID REVENUES."

SECTION 1. Section 8 of Ordinance No. 201 of the City of Plymouth, as amended, entitled "An ordinance to provide for the acquisition and construction of sanitary sewers for the City of Plymouth, together with necessary appurtenances and attachments thereto; to provide for the issuance of self-liquidating revenue bonds for the purpose of paying the cost thereof under the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended; providing for the fixing, collection, segregation and disposition of the revenues of said sewage disposal system of the city and payment of said bonds out of the revenues thereof; and creating a statutory lien on said revenues" is hereby amended to read as follows:

SECTION 2. The rates to be charged for sewer service furnished by the System until July 1, 1956, shall be those in effect in the City on the effective date of this Ordinance; and commencing July 1, 1956, and until otherwise provided, shall be at the rates and shall be collected as follows:

A. RESIDENTIAL CONNECTION CHARGES

I. SEWER RATES

1. For all new houses or residential dwellings constructed or completed subsequent to the date of the adoption of this Ordinance, connecting directly to the sewers to be constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized, the sum of $400.00 shall be paid as a connection rate or charge. Such charge shall be paid in full at the time permit is requested for a connection to the Sewage Disposal System.

2. For all houses or residential dwellings heretofore constructed or completed and occupied, connecting directly to the sewers to be constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized, the following shall be paid as a connection rate or charge (a) The sum of $400.00 in cash prior to permit being issued for any connection, or (b) at the option of the applicant, in lieu of such cash payment, such connection rate or charge may be paid at the rate of $3.00 per bi-monthly period until a total of $468.00 has been paid, said sums to be billed bi-monthly (each two months) at the same time as the consumption rates hereinafter set forth are billed as a separate item in said bill.

3. For all houses or residential dwellings whether heretofore or hereafter constructed and completed, connecting directly to lateral sewers constructed by developers or constructed from the proceeds of special assessments on the property benefited but which use or are served by sewers constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bond authorized herein as an outlet, the sum of $200.00 shall be paid as a connection charge or rate. Such charge shall be paid in full at the time permit is requested for a connection to the System.

All connections to the System shall be made by and at the expense of the property owner or user so connecting, subject to any rules or regulations therefore now or hereafter established by the City, and subject to inspection and approval prior to use. Permit for such connection shall be obtained in advance from the City, and the property owner or user making such connection shall pay all inspection charges now or hereafter established by the City prior to the use thereof.

B. COMMERCIAL, INDUSTRIAL AND SCHOOL CONNECTION CHARGES

All commercial, industrial and school users heretofore connecting, directly or indirectly, to sewers of the System constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized shall pay a connecting charge or rate as follows:

(a) Commercial connections: $1.00 per front foot per year, payable in bi-monthly (each two months) installments, for a period of fifteen (15) years.

(b) Industrial and school connections: $100.00 per acre per year, payable in bi-monthly (each two months) installments, for a period of ten (10) years.

C. DEBT SERVICE CHARGES

Such charges shall be levied in addition to the connection charge set forth above, on each lot or parcel of land, building or premises now or hereafter having any connection with the System, on the basis of the quantity of water used herein or thereon, as the same is measured by the water meter installed therein, and shall apply to users connecting directly to the sewers of the System constructed from the proceeds of sale of the bonds herein authorized and for users who make use of said sewers as an outlet.

Such debt service charge shall be $.07 per 1,000 gallons.

D. SEWAGE CONSUMPTION CHARGE

Such charges shall be levied in addition to the connection charge and debt service charge set forth above, on each lot or parcel of land, building or premises now or hereafter having any connection with the System, on the basis of the quantity of water used therein or thereon, as the same is measured by the water meter installed therein.

Such consumption charge shall be for the first one million gallons of water consumed, $.12 for each 1,000 gallons; for the next six million gallons of water consumed, $.11 for each 1,000 gallons; for the next thirteen million gallons of water consumed; $.09 for each 1,000 gallons and for the balance of water consumption over and above thirteen million gallons of water, $.08 per 1,000 gallons. The minimum bi-monthly consumption charge shall be $1.50 per bi-monthly period.

II. BILLING

Bills for the connection rates and charges (where payable in installments), debt service charge and consumption charge, shall be made as separate items on the water bills for those premises served by the System who have connections to the water system of the City of Plymouth, and separate bills for such rates and charges, or those applicable, shall be prepared for premises having no connection to the water system. For those premises not having a water meter to measure the quantity of water used, a special debt service rate and consumption charge may be established by the City. Said bills shall be rendered bi-monthly (each two months) during each operating or fiscal year and shall represent charges for the bi-monthly (each two months) period, immediately preceding the date of rendering the bill. Said bills shall become due and payable within fifteen (15) days from the date thereof, and for all bills not paid when due, a penalty of ten (10) per cent of the amount of such bill shall be added thereto.

III. MUNICIPAL CHARGE

For the benefit derived by the City-at-large, the City shall pay a charge of $14,000.00 per year, which charge shall be payable in quarterly installments, in advance from the current funds of the City, or from the proceeds of taxes which the City, with constitutional and statutory limits, is hereby authorized and required to levy in an amount sufficient for that purpose.

IV. SPECIAL RATES

For miscellaneous services for which a special rate shall be established, such rates shall be fixed by the City Commission. Where a user uses a large amount of water which is not discharged into the sanitary sewer system, a special rate for sewer service of such user may be established.

V. ENFORCEMENT

The charges for sewer services which are under the provisions of Section 21, Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, made a lien on all premises served thereby, unless notice is given that a tenant is responsible, are hereby recognized to constitute such lien and whenever any such charge against any piece of property shall be delinquent for six (6) months, the City official or officials in charge of the collection thereof shall certify annually, on April 1st of each year, to the tax-assessing officer of the City, the fact of such delinquency, whereupon such charge shall be by him entered upon the next tax roll as a charge against such premises and shall be collected and the lien thereof enforced in the same manner as general City taxes against such premises are collected, and the lien thereof enforced provided, however, where notice is given that a tenant is responsible for such charges and service as provided by said Section 21, no further service shall be rendered such premises until a cash deposit of not less than Ten ($10.00) Dollars shall have been made as security for payment of such charges and service.

In addition to other remedies provided, the City shall have the right to shut off and discontinue the supply of water to any premises for the non-payment of sewer rates when due. If such charges are not paid within thirty (30) days after the due date thereof, then water services to such premises shall be discontinued. Water services so discontinued shall not be restored until all sums then due and owing shall be paid, plus a turn-on charge of One ($1.00) Dollar.

Section 2. This ordinance is declared to be an emergency ordinance and shall be immediately effective.

Section 3. This ordinance shall become operative and effective on the 2nd day of February A.D. 1960.

Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth on this 1st day of February A.D. 1960.

TIPS for TEENS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: Some one told my boyfriend I was having dates with other boys. I tell him it isn't true, but he seems to believe it and he broke off with me because of it. How can I convince him? I'm 13.
Ans.—Perhaps you're lucky. At 13, you should know more than one boy, anyway... how can you tell what kind of lifetime partner you want later if you haven't known many boys? When you do "go steady," choose a boy who believes you more readily than he believes other people. This boy believes others instead of you, so he's no loss; he's not a real friend. Or maybe he has merely used this as an excuse to "break up." Some boys will use any old excuse instead of telling the truth... that they simply don't want to go steady any longer. A boy who will do this is a "poor excuse" himself. So you're better off without him.
Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: We are a group of girls, 13 years old. None of the boys we know will learn to dance. They don't want to. We've tried to teach them ourselves, but they say it's "sissy stuff." What can we do?"
Ans.—Time will solve this problem for you. The boys just aren't interested in dancing yet, but they soon will be. Meanwhile, if you invite boys who do dance to parties, etc., and tell the non-dancers why you asked them, perhaps they'll decide to stop missing the fun and take some dancing lessons.

The Clerk presented an opinion from City Attorney Devo relative to the proposed purchase of the property proposed to be purchased at 638 Dodge St., stating that there appears to be an encumbrance of a joint drive to be considered. The opinion was accepted and placed on file.
The Manager's report was presented relative to Deer Street 6" Sanitary Sewer Taps, Wing to Tonquish Creek, Project No. 2-157. The following resolution was offered by Com. Wernette and supported by Com. Terry:
WHEREAS, the City Manager, as heretofore directed, has presented his report to this Commission dated Dec. 22, 1959, relative to a proposed local or public improvement described as:
Sanitary Sewer Taps on Deer Street, from Wing Street to Tonquish Creek, and
WHEREAS, this Commission has reviewed said report,
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the City Commission of the City of Plymouth, Michigan does hereby find and determine that the above described improvement is necessary and that said improvement is local and of benefit to the property affected thereby and also is a general public improvement,
and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that all of the cost of said improvement shall be paid by special assessment upon the property benefited thereby,
and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the limits of the special assessment district within which property is deemed and hereby determined to be specially benefited are as follows:
All lots abutting the improvement, except the lots facing Wing Street.
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this Commission hold a public hearing upon said public improvement and the necessity therefor on Feb. 1, 1960, at 7:30 o'clock, p.m. in the Commission Chambers at the City Hall, and that notice of the time and place of such hearing and the purpose thereof shall be published by the Clerk in a newspaper of general circulation in the City, and shall be posted upon three or more of the official public bulletin boards of the city, not less than ten days prior to said date of hearing.
Carried unanimously.

ORDINANCE NO. 263
AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND ORDINANCE NO. 199, DOG ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH.
THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH ORDAINS:
Section 1. Section 2 of Ordinance NO. 199, KNOWN as the Dog Ordinance, is hereby amended to read as follows:
Section 2. Every person owning, possessing or harboring a dog, of the age of 4 months or more, shall apply to the City Clerk for a license, which license to be issued to the applicant, shall describe the dog and give the address of the applicant. Such license shall expire on the 31st day of May following the issuance thereof. No license shall be issued for any dog unless a certificate of vaccination for rabies, signed by a licensed veterinary surgeon, certifying that the dog to be licensed has been immunized, shall be presented, and such certificate shall not be dated more than one year prior to the expiration date of the license; Provided, that when the dog is vaccinated with modified live rabies virus of chick embryo origin, proof of vaccination within 2 years preceding the date of the application for license shall be deemed sufficient proof of immunization. The Clerk shall note upon the license the fact of vaccination and the date thereof. The applicant shall pay to the Clerk the sum of two dollars as a license fee for each dog, whether male, female or a de-sexed dog.
Section 2. This ordinance shall become operative and effective on the 30th day of April, 1960.
Made, passed and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Plymouth on this 10th day of January, 1960.

Nation's First 'Basket Case' Finds Happiness, Prosperity

MT. PINSON, Ala. (UPI)—World War II robbed Fred Hensel of his arms and his legs, but not his courage.
For it was his courage that has made a prosperous, active man out of the nation's first "basket case."
At the age of 42, Hensel is the father of five children. He owns a fleet of five tractor-trailer trucks that haul all over the United States. He also owns a service station and land that he rents out. It was 15 years ago on

Beadle Submits Bill to Aid Small Business

A bill establishing the "small business division" within the Economic Development Department was introduced recently by Rep. Harvey J. Beadle (D) state representative for the 21st district, including Plymouth.
The division would have the responsibility for providing technical and managerial aid to small business concerns in the fields of management, cost accounting, financing, business insurance, accident control, wage incentives and methods of engineering.
The small business division bill is a "Priority" item in the 1960 Democratic Legislative Program.
"Over the past ten years, more than 90 per cent of new businesses in Michigan would fall in the small business category. More than 110,000 of Michigan's 130,000 businesses have less than 20 employees. In short, small business provides the backbone for our economic strength," Rep. Beadle said.
"Small business, generally, has neither the credit nor the capital for research and expansion. It is a vital and vibrant segment of our economy. However, the small business community will prosper and expand by its own effort if research facilities and tools are made available for its use."
"Only those functions which small business firms are unable to finance or provide would be performed by the division."
"The small business division would serve as a clearing house for information and work closely with voluntary business, professional, educational and other non-profit groups."
"Another important function of the division would be to work with public and private agencies in encouraging the formation of industrial development and industrial park authorities, credit corporations and small business investment corporations."
"No state agency today has the specific authority to assist small business. The new division would not duplicate functions nor would it encroach on any service being provided by private enterprise."

Local Resident Passes CPA Test

Frank W. Smythe, of Plymouth, was among 97 Michigan men who recently passed a written certified public accountant examination which was also administered to more than 13,000 candidates in the 50 states.
A Livonia man, Robert E. Alspaugh, also successfully completed the same examination.
The new CPA's undertook a uniform examination which had been prepared with the cooperation of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Passing the test entitles the men to CPA ratings.

Triumph of a Busy Man

If you feel you are overburdened, that the odds against you are too much, you may find hope and encouragement in "The Story of George Romney," a biography of the American Motors' man by Tom Mahoney just published by Harper's. It is an inspiring narrative containing material for a year's sermons.

Barely three years ago the company Romney headed was losing money at the rate of two million dollars a month and he was building a house and a church. He also took on a project to rehabilitate the Detroit schools which were in a serious plight.

He worried and prayed. He aroused meetings with the Sigmund Romberg song, "Stouthearted Men." He won the confidence of his employees and executives and made salesmen of all of them. He economized even to the extent of emptying waste baskets only every other day. He was not discouraged by rivals who termed him "an insufferable optimist." He fended off Wall Street "raiders."

What happened? The house and church were built. The schools were rescued from their difficulties. And the company? Last year American Motors made 400,000 cars and $60,000,000!

Romney's career, as the book points out, is proof that it is still possible for the old-fashioned virtues to succeed spectacularly in American business, that a corporation head need not be a character from "Executive Suite," and that Leo Durocher's baseball dictum that "nice guys finish last" is not to be accepted as a universal truth.

He asked no help from the government. It was a triumph of private enterprise. Our country and its institutions will survive, life will go forward, we will not need to worry about rockets to the moon as long as we have singing and praying men with the energy and enterprise of George Romney.

Lansing Reports

By FRANK G. MORRIS

LANSING — Agreement by the Senate that the people should be permitted to vote on a four-cent sales tax may mobilize the troops for another war of attrition like the disastrous 11-month battle over an income tax.

But don't start moans of despair.

If a deadlock develops this time over the sales tax issue—and the question of a Constitutional Convention—the lawmakers will pack up about April 15 and go home to campaign for re-election.

This time, they will give up in disgust and leave the business unfinished. They will let the people themselves take the initiative.

The power to deadlock the legislature or open the door for compromise rests entirely with Gov. Williams and UAW leaders who hold the balance of power in the House of Representatives.

They have been pushed into a distressful corner by the decision of Senate Democrats to join Republicans in support of the sales tax increase.

The daily newspapers not yet have called the Senate developments a "rebellion" by Democrats. But it was as emphatic a rebellion as was Gov. Williams' desertion of Gus Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO Council, on the question of a Constitutional Convention.

While the Governor was slamming the door on Scholle (many Republicans still think it was an act), Senate Democrats were breaking chains binding them to the front office.

And that, definitely, was not an act.

The walk-out by Democratic Senators was a result of resentment over Scholle's appeal to the State Supreme Court to have every Senator unseated—and 34 new Senators elected this year at large.

So the wounded Democrats cunningly gave Gov. Williams and the union the boot-in a spot where it really hurt—the sales tax.

They chose this target because no principle is more important at this time to the UAW's Democratic Party than the pledge to the membership that the sales tax will be replaced by an income tax with high exemptions.

Because of this high-priority goal, the Governor last year refused to release the votes that would have let the people decide at the April election whether they want a sales tax instead of an income tax.

Neither the Governor nor the union has changed position.

Williams has made vague allusions to the possibility that the people will decide on a permanent tax program next November. In his message opening the session, the Governor said:

"The 1959 session determined that the question of an adequate and permanent tax program must be settled not by the legislature but by the people."

"So be it, then."

He didn't say he would release Democrats to vote for a sales tax amendment to the Constitution. He doesn't intend that they will.

He didn't say that Democrats in the House will press for submission to the voters of an income tax plan. He expects they will.

But this is an election year and few Democrats are keen to support the UAW's income tax program. So another deadlock is in the making.

The UAW has firm control of the House on Constitutional Amendment resolutions because these require a two-thirds vote.

And the sales tax is poison to the union.

But the real reason for the impending deadlock, which undoubtedly will involve the proposal for a Constitutional Convention, is the fact that the basic clash of ideologies that caused the 11-month struggle in 1959 has not been resolved.

This clash of philosophies will remain sharp and destructive until one political party wins control of both branches of the legislature.

(Editor's Note: Frank Morris, the author of the foregoing, is hired by Republicans to write the "Lansing Observer" column).

Your Handwriting Is Clue About You

BY LUCILLE WILLIAMS

Dear Lucy:

Enjoy your column very much. For a long time I've intended to write you and have my handwriting analyzed.

Thank you, C.M.H.

Dear C. M. H.:

You make your own decisions in an emphatic way. Sometimes you have a tendency to go around with a chip on your shoulder. You don't like interruptions and get sensitive at criticism.

You're a quick thinker but no depth. You are talkative and can be diplomatic if necessary. There's an appreciation for the cultural arts. You have a desire to acquire, to possess and own.

You think more materially than philosophically.

Dear Lucille:

Could you please analyze my handwriting.

Yours sincerely, Mrs. B. McFarland

Dear Mrs. McFarland:

You are strong willed and have a purpose in mind with a good determination to carry through.

You are very sensitive and not only get hurt easily, but get aggravated easily. You do not like interruptions.

There's an emphasis about you and you can think for yourself. You're a pen-trater, thinker and learner quickly. Your reactions are quick and you're a good conversationalist.

You work creatively with your hands, are able to make things well and can construct in your own way.

Your selection of friends is with great care.

Dear Friend Lucille Williams:

The column in the newspaper on handwriting is interesting. For an analysis of this sample of my penmanship would be appreciated and enclosed is addressed envelope for convenience.

Thank you so much, R. W. Strom

Dear Mr. Strom:

All letters sent in are published and are free. Personal analysis are longer, there is a charge and are sent to you direct.

Your writing is loaded with creative talent. The musical ability is all through it—very consistent. You can create with your hands in many ways. There is constructive talent and an individual philosophy of your own. You are also artistic in many ways.

You think carefully and logically and have a strong will, sometimes a tendency to dominate.

You're a little temperamental, being irritated easily. There's a desire to vary your routine chores and everyday living - you like to have a little variety.

You do not discuss others or personal affairs.

(Send your letters for free analysis published in this column to Lucille Williams in care of this newspaper.)

How's Business?

Boom Continues in January

By ROGER W. BABSON

The feverish efforts of the steel, mining, and automobile industries to restore normal supply conditions helped to push the Babson Composite Business Curve higher in January. Throughout the month, steel production averaged close to rated capacity. And output of automobiles rose rapidly to the best level in four years.

The peak level of industrial activity and colder than normal weather over large areas of the nation gave an uplift to power consumption. These conditions were reflected in expanded electric power production, increased oil refining, and stepped-up sales of natural gas. Adverse weather did serve to retard retail trade, however.

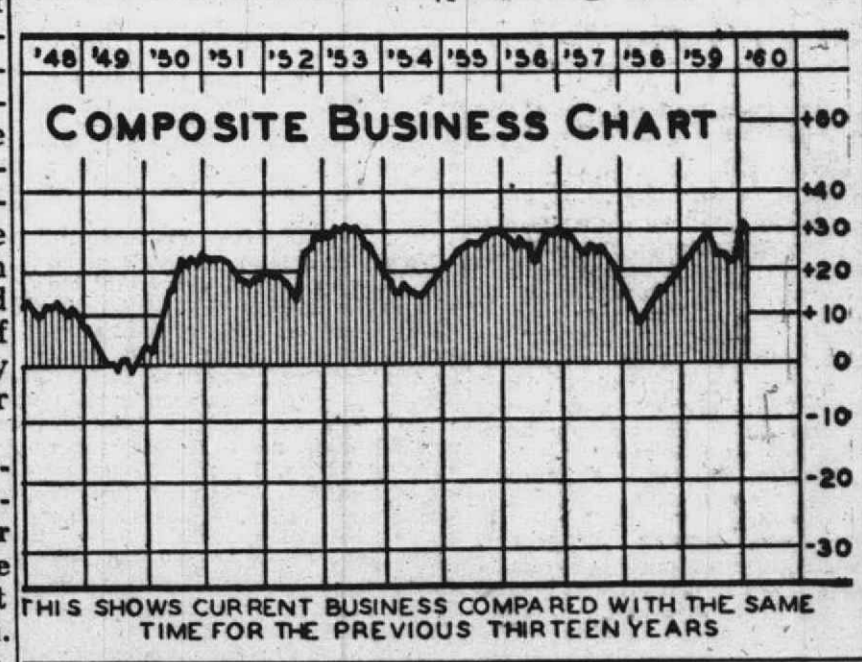

Except for the construction field, it is difficult to find many genuine soft spots; evidence points more toward a building up of overall strength. The retardant effects of the steel strike are only now being cleared up.

This means that the economic stimulus of inventory replenishment and accumulation is yet to be manifested. Moreover, business expenditures for new plant and equipment may be boosted above rates previously contemplated.

Thus, it remains for consumer spending to regain the stature of the pre-steel strike period to confirm optimistic business prospects beyond the winter months.

Should the favorable fundamental business factors persist through the winter, the economy could generate sufficient momentum to hold business in a high range up to the second half of 1960. Bear in mind, however, that the length of the business up-spring of 1958 is approaching the average trend which started in the

If Your Name... Should Be Edith

By ANN REYNOLDS

This is an Old English name made up of "ead" which means "rich" and also "happy," and "guth," and this signifies "war." The name "Edith" has been in use for many hundreds of years, and has become even more popular in recent times; remarkably enough at the turn of the century in Central Europe is rated as a fancy name.

That this appellation survived the Norman Conquest was due mainly to the popularity of St. Edith, the daughter of Edgar, King of the English, and Wilfrid.

Edith was born around 962 A.D. Her mother had worn the veil of a nun before the king married her, in a ceremony called "hand-fasting."

This was sort of a temporary marriage, and the couple so united made a verbal pledge while holding hands. It entitled them to live as man and wife for one year and one day. If they wished to continue their union, it could be made permanent. If one of them was tired of the marriage, they went their separate ways, and interestingly enough, if there was a child, he was to be supported by the party who wanted no more part of their wedded bliss.

With Edith's parents, it was the mother who declined a new wedding, but retired, with little Edith, to the nunnery at Wilton. Young Edith grew up there, and became a nun. Occasionally, however, she would dress in splendid garments, and when a bishop reproached her she countered by quoting St. Augustine saying "Pride could lurk even in rags."

Another Edith in English history was the queen of Edward the Confessor. She was no nun, but Edward, in his extreme piety, made her live like one. Her contemporaries considered her pious and generous, but she was fond enough of money, and accepted bribes from those on whose behalf she used her influence with the king, constituting this way a one woman "lobby."

Well, Edith advanced toward the abbot offering him a kiss, as was the custom then. The abbot withdrew, and just imagine how the queen must have felt! All the nobles got busy pointing out to her the immense self-denial it must have cost the abbot to act in accordance with the rules of his order. Edith realized this; she presented him with a cloak encrusted with gold and silver, and the peace between them was restored.

Edith's parents, it was the mother who declined length of previous periods of business expansion.

Hence it will be increasingly difficult for business to maintain its strong rising pace, and the economy may prove to be reaching a crest for this cycle. In fact, the stock market shakeout, evident since the start of the current year, may be due in part to realization that the business boom is bucking the long averages.

Eagle Scout Badge Awarded Frank Eidson

Junior Assistant Scoutmaster Frank Eidson of Boy Scout Troop 6 was presented with the badge of Eagle Scout, the highest rank in Scouting, at the last troop meeting.

Frank completed the requirements for the rank last December, and thus became the second Eagle Scout in the history of Troop 6. He has been a member of the Troop since November 1954, and has served successively as patrol leader, senior patrol leader and junior assistant scoutmaster. He attended the last National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, and is a member of the Order of the Arrow, the honorary society for scout campers.

The Troop also announces the following recent promotions: to first class, Charles Barry, Ronald Becker, and Thomas Todd; and to Star Scout Scott Dodge, and Alan McAllister.

Merit Badges won recently are as follows: Scott Dodge, swimming, forestry and pioneering; Michael Kenyon, public health, safety, personal fitness and firemanship; Alan McAllister, firemanship; Terry Holt, pioneering; Fred Fry, forestry; Mark Schultheiss, firemanship; and John Stace, firemanship and safety.

Troop Six is sponsored by the Plymouth Lions Club, and meets at the Smith Elementary School.

The 17th District will have a dance on Saturday, Feb. 13 at the Myron Beals Post Home, Newburgh Rd., Livonia. A short meeting will be held before the dance at 8:30. Let's make this first dance of this year a success.

The Post will have a social meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 10, 8 p.m. at the Veterans' Community Center.

The Auxiliary will have a business meeting on Thursday, Feb. 25, 8 p.m. at the Veterans' Community Center. February being Americanism Month, the Americanism chairman urges all to fly their flags on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays. President Fern Burleson wishes to thank all who marched in the Mothers' March of Dimes, also those who helped on the card party on Saturday, Jan. 23. The proceeds went to the polio drive.

The Auxiliary is also having a Stanley Party on Wednesday, March 30. Keep this date in mind and get your friends interested and bring them. Refreshments will be served after the demonstration. Let's make this a big success.

The 41st American Legion Birthday Party this year will be on Sunday, March 6. We will again award pins honoring members who have been in a number of years. Plan to attend. There will be a dinner again, time and other details will be announced later.

National Commander Martin B. McKneally of The American Legion will lead the 28th annual pilgrimage to the tomb of Abraham Lincoln on Friday, Feb. 12, in Springfield, Ill.

ReXall Druggists Sponsor TV Special

An old favorite story, "The Devil and Daniel Webster," by Stephen Vincent Benet, is being co-sponsored over the NBC-TV network Sunday, Feb. 14, by Bob Beyer of Beyer Rexall Drug Stores. It will be viewed locally over Channel 4 at 8 p.m.

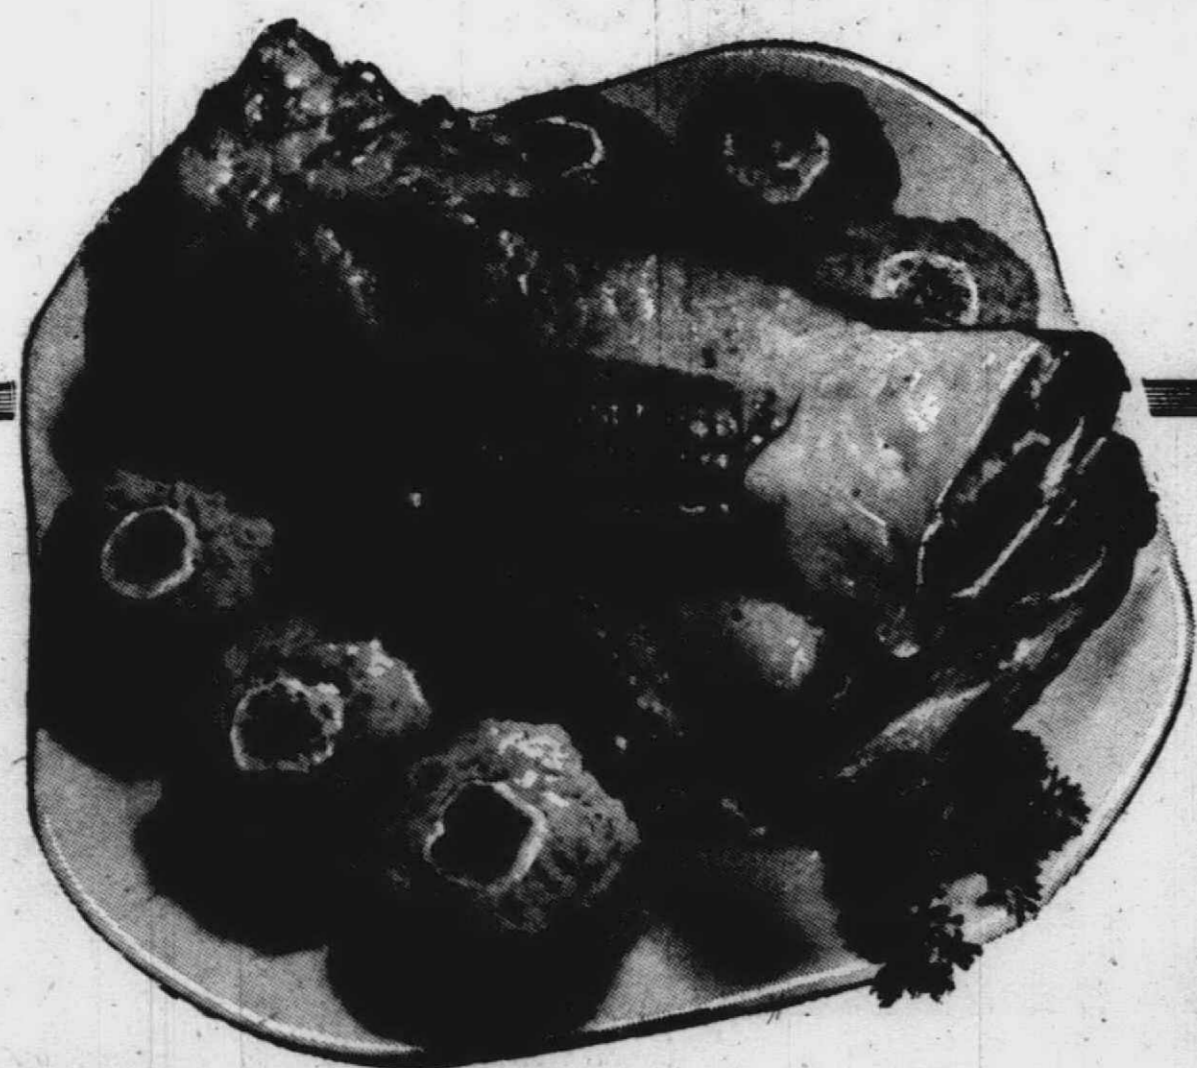

The show co-stars Edward G. Robinson as Daniel Webster, defending a man who in a moment of despair traded his soul to the Devil for worldly riches; and David Wayne as the Devil, comes to collect his due.

"We're running a special contest with other Rexall druggists," Beyer said, "offering 8,000 movie cameras free. Customers don't have to buy anything. It's to help people learn about Rexall's multi-vitamin product, Super Plenamins."

Mr. & Mrs. Donald Clemens

Miss Whitebread Weds Don Clemens of Livonia

Jeanne Whitebread, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lamott Whitebread, 9204 Rocker, Plymouth, and Donald A. Clemens, of Livonia, were united in marriage Jan. 23 at the Newburg Methodist Church.

The candlelight, double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Roger Merrill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau-de-soie with a sabbina neckline, long tapered sleeves, a princess style front and a bouffant back which extended to a cathedral length train.

She wore a fingertip-length veil of French illusion attached to a queen's crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids, roses and bouvardia.

Maid of honor was Miss Marilyn Goodhand of Plymouth, who wore a waltz-length gown of blue nylon chiffon over taffeta.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon Whitebread, from Pa., a cousin of the bride, and Miss Virginia Shirey, of Plymouth.

They wore gowns and bow headpieces identical to that of the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses.

Church decorations included white candelabra, white snapdragons, gladioli and carnations. Mrs. Paul Nixon, of Livonia, was organist and William Fowlkes of Plymouth was soloist.

Best man was David Clemens, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers included Leon Case, of Plymouth, and Gerald Vorbeck, of Livonia.

The bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with light blue accessories. The mother of the groom was gowned in a blue brocade dress with lighter blue accessories. Both wore pink camellia corsages.

The new Mrs. Clemens is a graduate of Plymouth High and is employed at Burroughs Corp. Her husband is a Bentley High graduate and attended Michigan State University. He is presently employed by Herald Hamill of Plymouth.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the church's social rooms. The couple traveled to Niagara Falls for a wedding trip and on their return will live at 9950 Levan Rd. in Livonia.

Correction

The name under the picture of Miss Judith Richwine appearing two weeks ago was incorrectly written as Judith Anderson.

Miss Richwine, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Richwine of Elmhurst, Ill., is to marry Christopher C. Young of Saline, on Feb. 27. The Richwines were formerly of Plymouth.

Engagements

Patsy Crowell

Marlene Trick

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crowell announce the engagement of their daughter, Patsy, to Russell Travis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Travis of Canton Center Road, Plymouth. Patsy will graduate from Plymouth High in June while her fiancé is a 1956 graduate of the same school. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Trick, of Livonia, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marlene, to Mr. Terry Danol, of Plymouth. Marlene is a 1952 graduate of Bentley High School while her fiancé is a 1952 graduate of Plymouth High and a 1956 graduate of Wayne State University. A June 11 wedding is planned.

The Family Mailbox

ST. VALENTINE

Dear "Miss Louisa:" Who was St. Valentine? I have often wondered why we send messages of love on Feb. 14. — Mrs. K. T. H., Bangor, Me.

Dear Mrs. K. T. H.: Saint Valentine was a Saint of the early Christian church and he was put to death in Rome on Feb. 14, 270 A. D. Since this was supposed to be the day on which birds began their mating, it was set aside for lovers and Valentine was their good saint. The custom of sending messages of love on this day has been in vogue for a long time. There is a tradition that the Duke of Orleans in France sent the first actual Valentine in the Fifteenth century, a rhymed love letter. Artists later were employed to make elaborate Valentines and, as the custom spread, gifts of candy and flowers have become a part of this day's celebration.

STAINS ON ENAMEL

Dear "Miss Louisa:" I have some enamel bowls that have become badly discolored and I have tried to remove the stains with various cleansers but have had no luck. Do you have any suggestions? — Mrs. M. U. D., Dismal Swamp, Va.

Dear Mrs. M. U. D.: I think the best thing to remove stains from enamelware, and from sinks, is to fill the container with water and add to this any of the chlorine bleach preparations — making the solution rather strong. Let stand overnight and your bowls should look like new.

OXFORD SHIRTS

Dear "Miss Louisa:" Why are men's shirts called Oxford? — G. L. T., Sweetwater, Texas.

Dear Mr. G. L. T.: Oxford cloth is an English fabric first woven in the town where Oxford University is located. It is a cotton material in a basket weave and shirts made from it are very popular with the young men, especially those who go to "Ivy League" colleges.

PLEASE OMIT

Dear "Miss Louisa:" So often in the newspaper obituary articles I see the words, "kindly omit flowers" or the request to send a contribution to a specified charity. I feel that flowers mean much to the people who are bereaved. I would like to know how you feel about this. — S. F. R., Springfield, Mass.

Dear S. F. R.: Some time ago I found the following words that will answer your query in part: "Sorrow is a secret room, its doors locked against the conventional word and the empty gesture. When death comes, when someone you know has retired to that secret room, remember always, that flowers have the key — flowers can carry the warm comfort inside without intruding." In the case of prominent people, often thousands of dollars are spent on flowers that die within an hour or so after the funeral and so the idea of giving the money that would be spent on flowers to some charity or memorial fund has become popular.

This should in no way take the place of flowers sent to the home of the family, particularly of someone you know well. Many people wait and send the flowers several weeks after the funeral when the busy world goes about its work and the sorrowing need sympathy the most. In times of joy and times of grief flowers are needed and wanted and a privilege to give. Whether they come from your own garden or from a florist, their message is the same "I am thinking of you at this time."

CLEAN FLOWERS

Dear "Miss Louisa:" How do you clean artificial flowers? I have some in my house that look rather sad. — Miss A. H. J., Cardon, Ohio.

Dear Miss A. H. J.: I think that by dusting the flowers first with a soft brush and using a small water-color brush to get in the folds of the flowers. Or else blow them with the blowing attachment on a vacuum cleaner. I have read that if you put good artificial flowers in a paper bag with dry table salt and shake them well that the salt will absorb the dust and the flowers will look "refreshed."

OFF FOR VACATION

Dear "Miss Louisa:" Our family is going on a vacation that will take two long days of driving. The children, ages 10, 8 and 6, are very interested in the trip. Have you any ideas for helping to entertain them enroute? — Mrs. H. S. V., Louisville, Ky.

Dear Mrs. H. S. V.: Let each child have his own small suitcase to be kept in the car. Besides night clothes, toothbrush and a change of clothing for emergencies, put in a pencil and notebook, a map with heavy crayon (so they can mark the route as the miles pass). Let the children keep a record of the mileage each day, list unusual vehicles passed as well as bridges crossed, number of trains seen, loads of hay or similar fascinating things. A prize might be given to the first one who sees a fire engine or a white horse. Children on a trip are hungry all the way, so keep small packages of candy and crackers handy and every so many miles give them a small amount of food — before they think of it, if possible. Happy journey!

JUNIOR READER

Dear "Miss Louisa:" How does a person's hair get naturally curly? — Bonnie, age 10.

Dear Bonnie: To be born with curly hair is a very special gift from Heaven. Those people who have it must have been good angels before Saint Peter opened the "pearly gates" and let them journey to earth to be changed into people. Do you have curls?

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Trost

Nolan-Trost Nuptials Spoken Here Jan. 30

Teresa Nolan, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Nolan, 373 North Main, was married to Wendell Trost, of Garden City Saturday, Jan. 30, in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church here.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Trost, 33152 Ann Arbor Trail, Garden City.

Father William Child performed the nuptial mass at 9:30 a.m.

Maid of honor was Christina Pyrkosz, while the bridesmaids were Judy Bondie, Mary Dempster and Karen Trost. The latter is a sister of the groom.

Gale Stowell, a brother of the groom, was the best man. Ushers included Johnny Nolan, a brother of the bride, Jerry Trost, brother of the groom, and Norris Hornbeck. Flower girl was Kathy Trost, sister of the groom, and the ring bearer was Guy David Near, a cousin of the bride. Teresa was given away by her uncle, Joseph Near.

For her wedding, Miss Nolan chose a floor-length Italian silk gown embroidered in white satin with scalloped skirt, neckline and sleeves. She wore an elbow-length veil with a pearl rhinestone and crystal tiara and carried a bouquet of white mums and stephanotis.

The bridesmaids and maid of honor wore identical dresses of silk organza. Their feather hats, short gloves and shoes were all white. The maid of honor carried an all-white bouquet of white mums while the bridesmaids carried aqua and white mums. Kathy Trost, the flower girl, who was dressed in pink nylon, carried a basket of white and pink baby mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Nolan was gowned in beige lace with avocado and green accessories and had a corsage of white mums.

Extension Group Hears Discussion On Meat Laws

Did you know that Michigan has one of the strictest ground meat and sausage laws in the nation? Only 30 percent fat and no food coloring or water can be added to ground beef.

This along with many other informative facts such as choosing your meat by federal grades, marbling, texture, bone color and color of meat were given by Mr. S. John Ort and Mrs. Stephen Cherne at the January Michigan Home Economics Cooperative Extension meeting. The Robinson Group met at the home of Mrs. John Ort of Plymouth on Jan. 27. The group was served a dessert lunch by Mrs. Charles Davis, co-hostess.

Mrs. Russell Liimakkka and Mrs. Robert Widmaier of Plymouth and Mrs. Russell Frid of Northville were guests. The group made tentative plans for visiting the Kroger Warehouse on Middlebelt Rd. in March. The next Extension meeting will be Feb. 24.

Business Women To Fete Bosses

The Career Advancement Committee of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club will sponsor a "Boss Night" dinner Monday, Feb. 15, at Hillside Inn.

The members will honor and entertain their employers. A similar event last year was met with great success.

Guest speaker will be Myron C. Beckman, Director of the Nuclear Power Development Department of the Detroit Edison Company. Beckman will show a film and will speak on "Atomic Power at Lugan."

Further information may be obtained from Mary J. Wagenschutz at GLENVIEW 3-5990.

Old Pals Mark Birthday

Mrs. Lucy Wagenschutz, of Plymouth, celebrated her 75th birthday Feb. 3 and was honored at a party held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, 41814 Wilcox Rd.

With the exception of her daughter, Mrs. Wagenschutz was the youngest person present. None of the five other guests were under 80.

They played numerous games, exchanged prizes and ate birthday cake and ice cream.

"I never enjoyed anything so much," said Mrs. Smith, the daughter who hosted the affair. "I don't know who enjoyed it most, them or me." All of the elderly people are in fine health.

The guests have been friends for more than 40 years and some as long as 60 years. Originally, it was a card club. They are all widows or widowers and live in their own homes in this area.

Oldest was Theodore Schoof, 96, who lives at 148 S. Holbrook. He is also the only one of the six who does not wear glasses, Mrs. Smith explained. Others included:

Mrs. Pauline Pankow, 83, of 424 N. Main; Mrs. Agnes Wilson, 81, of 195 Rose St.; Fred Pinnow, 81, of 14273 Northville Rd.; and Mrs. Pauline Merritt, 80, of 10083 Seven Mile, Northville.

Mrs. Wagenschutz herself lives at 464 N. Mill St.

Woman's Club Announces 17 New Members

New members of the Plymouth Woman's Club were announced recently with 17 women being recognized.

They include: Mrs. Richard Bennett, Mrs. Roger Blood, Mrs. Robert Diekmann, Mrs. John Gaffield, Mrs. Charles Garlett, Mr. Jo A. Graves, Mrs. James Hardimon, Mrs. Howard Holmes.

Mrs. Blaine Lytle, Mrs. Victor Moore, Mrs. Richard Stribley, Mrs. Cedric Sweet, Mrs. John Wallace, Mrs. Lauren Wells, Mrs. Ralph Fluckey and Mrs. A.D. Johanson.

The Woman's Club is completing plans this week for the annual Benefit Show, to be held at 12:30 p.m., Feb. 29, at the local Knights of Columbus Hall.

After a wedding trip to Dayton, Ohio, the newlyweds are making their home at 698 Jener Street, Plymouth.

The theme of the event is "Accent on Spring," during which time numerous furs from Detroit will be modeled by the women. Tickets are presently available through club members.

Chairman of the show is Mrs. Johanson, while Mrs. Lytle is in charge of ticket sales. Proceeds from the event will go to the Club's charitable fund.

The air-conditioning industry has enjoyed a growth of 6,000 per cent in the past 20 years.

FURS WILL BE the big attraction at the Plymouth Woman's Club Annual Benefit Show Feb. 29 at 12:30 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall. With a theme of "Accent on Spring," the affair will include the modeling of furs from a Detroit furrier. Here Mrs. Ralph Fluckey (left) and Mrs. John Wallace cuddle up to some fur pieces in anticipation of the event. It will include a bridge session. Proceeds will go to charity.

Plymouth High School

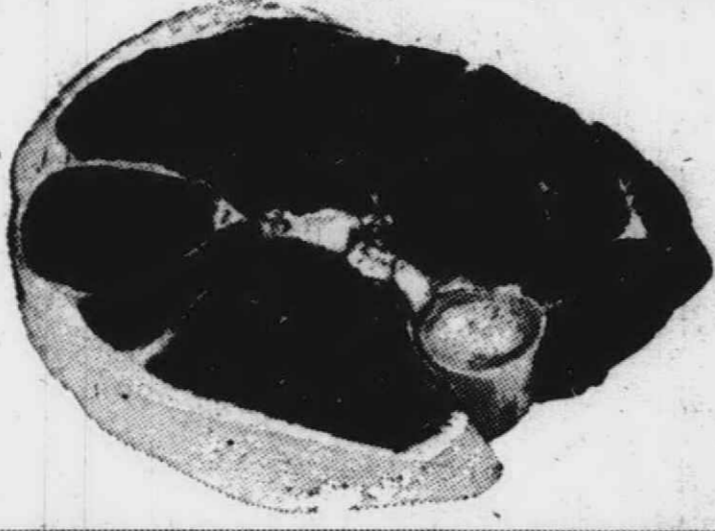

By GLORIA BOWLES
 A group of talented Redford Union students will put in an appearance at PHS next Tuesday, February 16, for a talent exchange assembly.
 This school's talented ones will go to Redford Union on Feb. 25.
 Exchange talent assemblies are not new to Plymouth. Last year the Student Council, with present Mayor Dick Hubert heading the committee, arranged for such an assembly with Bentley. The Council decided to make it an annual event.
 Tri-chairmen (that's a new one) chosen from the student body to supervise the show are Sharon Neal, Barb Browne and Jill Clarke.
 Bob Wall will be master of ceremonies for Plymouth's exchange assembly.
Slippers. A gavel. Blue candles. A mask. Sheet music. Yellow flowers. White sheets.
 These are the "props" for the Thespian initiation, set for tomorrow evening at 7:30. President of the club, April Corey, is making arrangements for the initiation. The identity of new members cannot be revealed until they have received formal announcements.
Large groups of students flocked to the big, long table in the main hall last Thursday and Friday to take part in the Pilgrim Prints-Student Council smoking survey.
 Sophomores Karen Kaunisto and Janet Graham, Prints staff members, handed out questionnaires asking for the pollee's age, grade, scholastic average, whether he categorized himself as a smoker or non-smoker. The final question: Should the present Plymouth High School rule forbidding smoking on school grounds be more strictly enforced? Students were also asked to give reasons for their answers.
 It's not till April 30, but seniors are already busy with work on their prom. Barb Browne and Geralee Rehbein are co-chairmen for the spring formal, and in a report to the senior executive board last week, they outlined elaborate decoration plans for the dance. The theme is Mardi Gras.
 At the same executive board meeting, class president Jay Selle appointed committee chairmen for the writing of the class will. Mavis Williams and the class prophecy. Brenda Richardson and Gloria Bowles.
No pass, no picture!
 That was the call in the high school last Wednesday, as photographers for the 1960 Plythean were in the building. By fifth hour, the picture schedule was behind, and a mass of club members were gathered in the auditorium waiting to be snapped.
 Barb Browne was cited for bravery after she caught a falling photography lamp ... clad in a white shirt and varsity sweater John Dennany was cited for blushing as he shed his sweater and let Barb Schantz borrow it for a cheerleading picture. Her sweater was at the cleaners, said John.
 Picture taking is a lot of fun ... not much class work is accomplished, though ... students, photo passes in hand, get up and leave every few minutes.
Correction: Jim Urquhart has 50 (fifty), vocabulary words a lesson in German classes at Albion, not 5 (five) ... the smoking survey ... it was a "Pilgrim Prints" survey ... the Student Council only allowed its name to be used in conjunction with the poll, for the sake of emphasis.
 The Science Club had a dance last week ... they called it the "Catalyst Capers." (In case you've never had chemistry, a catalyst is a chemical which speeds up a reaction. Haven't I learned my lesson well, Mr. Helm?)
 It was 10:30 a clean-out time last week, and librarian Pat Butler walked up and down, up and down the halls hunting for ... OVERDUE LIBRARY BOOKS. He found over 50.

Pioneer Extension Group Hears Talk
 Plymouth's Pioneer Extension group met Jan. 25 at the home of Mrs. Otto Reamer, 1380 Junction, to hear of "Fashion and Figures" presented by Mrs. William Elliot and Mrs. Robert Van Meter. Mrs. Clifford Smith conducted business regarding the planning of the club's activities for the coming year.
 Two guests, Mrs. Ethel Dodge and Mrs. Wilford Dodge attended the meeting. Dessert was served by co-hostesses, Mrs. Emma Schaufele and Mrs. Van Meter.
 The next meeting of the Plymouth Pioneer Extension Club will be held Feb. 29 at the home of Mrs. Fred Jackson, 160 Union street. The subject will be "Trimming the Food Budget," which will be presented by Mrs. Kenneth Lunn and Mrs. Ann Nicholls.

"BRIDAL FASHIONS Through the Years" was the theme of the Rosary Society's Membership Tea at Our Lady of Good Counsel last Wednesday night. Around 250 old and new members attended the tea which showed bridal gowns from the 1800's to the 1950's. From bouquettiers to an elaborate wedding cake, the theme held forth. The models posed inside a flowered frame before walking down the white runnered aisle to organ music of the era. From left are: Mrs. John Pint, wearing a gray moire gown of 1891; Miss Paula Koepke, a 1914 gown with bustle back; Mrs. Robert Eck, her mother's wedding suit from 1923; Miss Katherine Voss, a 1954 gown; Miss Sue Reas, 1927 gown; Mrs. Donald Skinner, her WAVE uniform in which she was married in 1946; and Miss Jean LeBlanc, her mother's gown of 1942.

Wayne Couple Mark Fortieth Anniversary

A surprise dinner party Feb. 4 at Arbor Lill honored Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Brown, of Wayne, on their 40th wedding anniversary. Family members, some from Plymouth, attended the event. Hosts and hostesses for the party were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who were married at The Cathedral in Vincennes, Ind. on Feb. 4, 1920. They have lived in Wayne for 30 years. Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fuelling of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Don Zimmer of Livonia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Wayne; Mrs. Gerald Brown and Miss Shirley Lewis, both of Wayne.

Out of more than 500 species of parrots, only the Carolina parakeet, which is now extinct, is known to have lived and bred in the United States.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Inasmuch as the Mayflower Post membership contest has ended with Team 1 under Capt. Duane Johnson the winner, the losing team has completed plans to "pay off." The prize will be free refreshments and a fine lunch to be served at the conclusion of the social meeting at the Post home on Wednesday, Feb. 17. Harry Krumm and Bud Luttermoser have prepared a tasty menu and in proud defeat hope it will be enjoyed. The Post has attained 103 percent of its 1959 membership.

At a recent building committee meeting, the final decisions for the cement-enamel project were made. Commander Krumm and Chairman Neale spent many hours of investigation before reporting. This is an interior finishing process which will greatly improve both the beauty and durability of the Post home. It should be completed by March 1.

With both the State and National VFW conventions fast approaching, drill sergeant Hal Young has already started meetings in anticipation of Post 6695's participation in drill team and color guard competition. The State convention is in Saginaw June 16-19 and the National convention is in Detroit Aug. 21-26.

An important Service Officers' School is being held by the department in the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit on Feb. 20-21. The primary topic will be discussion of the new pension law, P.L. 86-211.

At the Feb. 3 meeting, Commander Krumm appointed Ed Olson as chairman of a nominee-screening committee which will make recommendations for the election of officers procedure which will take place in March. At the same meeting, Fourth District, Commander Ernest Stratyckuk was a visitor. He spoke briefly, complimenting the Post on its membership drive and on the members' interest during the business session. Comrade Wilhelm has returned to his home on Ann St. from the hospital. Best wishes Sam for a quick recovery.

Auxiliary News
Legislative chairman Kay Coolman and her committee have been busy planning two projects. The first is a bake sale, Friday, Feb. 12 at the A & P. Many have been contacted for donations, but if you haven't or cannot donate any baked goods, possibly you could help by making a purchase.

The legislative committee has also arranged to have Martha Griffiths speak on the Veterans' pension bill at the Post hall on Friday, Feb. 19 at 8 p.m. All neighboring veterans' organizations have been invited to attend and we hope for a good representation from our own Auxiliary and Post.

Drill team chairman Marian Krumm announces that drill team practices are again in full swing. Also the stole, which was displayed and admired by many of us at previous meetings, will be raffled at our next meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 16.

One of the most important meetings of the year will be March 1 when election of new officers will take place. It's not too early to start thinking of members you would like to see hold office. We are proud of our 100 percent membership, so now we should turn to getting more of these members attending meetings.

Dates to remember: Display flags Feb. 12 and 22. Luncheon is served, Feb. 29; St. Patrick's Dance, March 12 at Post hall.

The Reader Speaks Up:

The picture of the boy with the book in one hand and cigarette in another attracted me. But what makes my heart break is the 13 to 16 year old girls who smoke while eating in the 10 cent store uptown at noon. They look anything but lady-like. That is one of the main reasons (Plymouth students smoking too much) that my child chose to go to a private high school.

Elect New Officers

Among the new officers elected recently by Girl Scout Troop No. 3 is Paula Koepke, president. Others include Virginia Signorelli as vice-president, Jeanne Keller as secretary, and Colleen Fraser as treasurer.

Troop No. 268 will hold a puppet show Feb. 11 for Troop No. 267 to fulfill the final requirement for a first class rating.

Grange Cleanings

By MARY FILLMORE

The last regular business meeting of the Plymouth Grange was well-attended by guests from Brandon and Wester Granges.

Our worthy lecturer, Bessie Salow, presented the program and introduced the boys' quartet and the girls' triple trio from Plymouth High. Each group sang several selections and was enjoyed thoroughly by everyone.

Don't forget the special meeting tomorrow night (Feb. 11) when first and second degrees will be conferred. A social hour and light refreshments will follow.

The rummage sale that was to be held Feb. 27 has been postponed until March 5. Isabelle Taylor is in charge. Another event being planned is a bake sale, with Ethel Grammel as chairman. The date and place for the sale will be announced later in this column.

Be sure to invite your friends to attend the Grange Open House on Thursday evening, Feb. 18. It will begin at 8 p.m.

State Youth Chairman Ruby Yeutter, who was sent to Europe last summer as an ambassador of good will, and visited in the home of some of the exchange students while abroad, will be with us shortly to tell of her experiences during her trip. She will also show films. It should prove to be a very interesting evening.

Several of our members attended the anniversary dinner at Samaria Grange last Saturday evening. Five local members also attended Grange Day on Friday at East Lansing. Sisters Mott, Groth and Rathburn are still on the shut-in list.

Brother Roy Amrhein, who is vacationing in Florida, has been in the hospital recently, but he is improving now.

Sewing contest chairman is Mildred Rienas. Those members interested in entering the contest, may contact her. Remember that the contest ends April 3.

Doug Cline Wins At MSU Show

At the "Little International" show held at Michigan State University Saturday, Jan. 29, Doug Cline, a 1956 graduate of Plymouth High, won the Reserve Grand Champion prize in the "Horse Division."

Doug has been active in horse shows in 4-H work, having entered many shows and the Michigan State Fair the past few years.

Rebekah Notes

The 1960 officers of the local Rebekah's will preside in their prospective chairs Friday, Feb. 12, during the regular meeting. New projects will be discussed.

Sympathy is extended by all Rebekahs to Brother and Sister Bunyca in the loss of his father.

Visitation with Scotia Lodge No. 49 will be held Wednesday, Feb. 10.

★ FRONT ROW CENTER ★

Sleep and slush were the least of my worries this week as I mulled over the performances of Brian Aherne and Katherine Cornell. What really bothered me was the all too apparent age of Miss Cornell. We sat in the 10th row at the Shubert Theater and her make-up could not hide the wrinkles. If I'm any judge of a woman's age—this is always dangerous territory, but I'm going to strike out fearlessly—I'd say that Katherine Cornell is easily 70 years old.

I deeply admire her courage and ability to be prancing about a stage every night and twice on matinee days. No doubt, when old George becomes senile, he'll be satisfied to tilt his rocking chair ever so gently. No violent already reached this point, so just reminded me that I've already reached this point, so what do I do for an encore?

Yes, Miss Katherine Cornell is past her prime in the acting department. We started in Detroit with the Jesse Bonstelle Players way back in 1917—a year that will be long remembered by George as the year that he met his Mother and Dad.

It would have been much better to have remembered Miss Cornell as the perennial star of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" or in some of her early triumphs such as "Aleen Corn," "No Time for Comedy," "The Doctor's Dilemma" to mention but a few from her many, many stage successes. Too often our women actresses persist in doing just one more farewell tour. Of course, in an ironic sense Miss Cornell was doing what Mrs. Patrick Campbell would have done—kept right on acting until that final curtain of life falls.

In "Dear Liar," a clever comedy composed solely of the letters that George Bernard Shaw and Mrs. Campbell wrote to each other for a period of 40 years, Miss Cornell would make us believe that Mrs. Campbell is quite a soft-spoken individual. From all my readings about the woman, she was a person to be feared. Her looks shot sparks and voice had more bombast in it than soft melody. Well, be that as it may... Katherine's performance is still worth viewing.

Brian Aherne, as far as this theatergoer was concerned, stole the show. He bobbed and roared with a genuineness that kept you constantly seeing the show; the old curmudgeon. His scene where he relates his mother's cremation and the reading of one of his plays to Mrs. Campbell stopped the show. The latter was a joyous exercise while the former was grisly, but stated as only G.B.S. could string verbs and nouns on his multi-colored threads. Yes... it was a perfectly enjoyable evening even though Miss Cornell's age bothered me. I'd like to see the Lunts tackle "Dear Liar" some season.

Another "lack" in my theatrical seat that irritated me was the all too abundant use of color in "Lil Abner"... the movie that played the Penn. It's true that Lil Abner's origin came via the comic strips, but I see no need of over-doing a good thing. The sets in the movie detracted from the singing and the dialogue. And since the dialogue suffered a way, there was no need to make matters worse by having red and blue pine trees in the background. In fact, most of the time the background became so gaudy that you lost sight of the costumes. I'm ready to award "The Paint Remover" medal of the year to this cinematic mistake.

Save your money for "The World of Suzie Wong." Miss Wong arrives in town next week on Monday, Feb. 8 at the Shubert Theater. After two years on Broadway, John Logan's production of "Suzie Wong" comes to Detroit for a two week stay. There will be a special show on Sunday, Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

"Sweet Bird of Youth" remains for one more week at the Cass, your last chance to see this violent drama by Tennessee Williams before the movies take the sting out of its potent message. Geraldine Page does a beautiful job as the aging movie queen, Diana Barrymore thought she might have gotten the part. I'm afraid she couldn't have handled the role—with her death coming so abruptly we won't ever find out her interpretation of the role. I imagine in subsequent summer runs Miss Barrymore might have played this role.

Finished a book that I'd like to have all of you consider—"The Years With Ross" by James Thurber. Mr. Thurber proves once again that he is a master storyteller. His approach to telling the story of Harold Ross, an irascible genius, combines the best aspects of his rich, warm, intimate style.

No formal biography this. You'll enjoy reliving with Thurber his exciting years with Mr. Ross. The Wayne County Library has a copy of the book; call Mrs. Pauline and affix your "John Henry" to the long list.

Joshua Logan's production of the new Paul Osborn play, "The World of Suzie Wong," opened this week at the Shubert Theater and continues for the next two weeks. Here's a chance for everyone to see a big production fresh from Broadway. "Suzie Wong" has a cast of 41 actors, comprising 11 different nationalities, speaking 14 languages. Of course, the show is in English—have no fears—even though it takes place in exotic Hong Kong.

"The World of Suzie Wong" is the love story of beautiful Suzie Wong and a young artist. Both have to contend with two worlds—the one they would dream of having together and the one they must put up with in order to survive. Many of you may have read the best-selling novel from which Paul Osborn adapted the play.

In any case, "Suzie Wong," after a year on Broadway, plans to be on view for the next 12 days at the Shubert Theater. On Feb. 14, a Sunday evening performance that starts at 7:30 p.m. has been added to the list of performances.

TV viewing during the past week with the Fabulous Fit-ties show and Kate Smith back on the air has been rather pleasant. Neither of these shows were real great, but they at least provided some sweet-tasting "chewing gum for our eyes," as TV has often been called. Look for more cultural shows in the near future on prime evening time.

NBC and CBS officials are getting worried and plan now to soften those hoofbeats to a spell. Rex Harrison a new Julie Andrews were the high points of the "Fabulous Fifties" show as they recreated their "My Fair Lady" roles "The Tempest" with Maurice Evans proved that TV can do an excellent job with a difficult Shakespearean drama. NBC can be proud of this production.

Aircraft Services Names Controller

Arthur H. Rexin was appointed controller of Aircraft and Airport Services, Inc. according to an announcement by Frank E. Osborn, president. The appointment was made official at the company's annual stockholders meeting.

Rexin comes to Aircraft and Airport Services, Inc. after four years with Charles L. Coe and Company, certified public accounting firm of Grosse Pointe. He is a graduate of the University of Detroit, and a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity.

Unbeaten PHS Swimming Team Splashes In Review

FOR THE RECORD — Dick Gretzinger pictured above has set records in almost every one of Plymouth's nine swimming meets to date. At Bentley he set a new pool record in the 100 yard butterfly breaststroke. He was timed at 60.0

SPLASHING DOWN the pool toward the finish line is the Plymouth Reck swim team, shown here in competition with Dearborn. The Plymouth Tankers have won all of their meets so far this season, having chalked up No. 10 last week against Trenton, 67-29. Coach John McFall is trying to hold back his enthusiasm but has hinted that this may be the best team Plymouth has ever had.

RELAY MARKSMEN are Don Williams, Alan Davies, Ron Daley and Beau Toll. They set the 200 yard individual medley record for the Plymouth High School pool by turning in a 1:51 flat against Dearborn. Front center is Dick Gretzinger, who set a pool record in the butterfly.

Tankers Take Ten; Eye Eleven Wins

Number ten was as easy of ten firsts to beat Trenton as the preceding nine straight victories for Plymouth's unbeaten swimming team as they collected eight

Michael, and Don Williams earned third. The junior varsity meanwhile, maintained its torrid pace with its eighth win in nine starts by defeating Redford Union 69-25. JV coach Roger Smithling says, "It's at least one of the strongest JV squads I've seen."

Trenton Wins In Last Minute

An exciting basketball weekend is in prospect for Plymouth high school cage fans. Friday evening Redford Union visits the local high school for a return match of the 44-43 battle won by Redford Union on their home court January 8th.

Saturday the Rocks journey to nearby Northville and will attempt to repeat a 44-41 victory over Northville that was decided in the last 47 seconds at Plymouth.

Redford Union is expected to be stronger than earlier in the season, largely because of the addition of a 6'3" lad named Brown who joined the varsity during the second semester.

With his aid, Redford Union has sped to second place in the Suburban Six standings. Northville is a non-league opponent.

Last Friday, Plymouth repeated its earlier scoring effort of 54 points against Trenton, but this time Trenton scored 58 instead of 47 to get even for Plymouth's earlier defeat at Plymouth.

"There are some real good prospects for the varsity", Smithling says, "and the squad has good balance." Saturday morning, the JVs won a triangular meet against Thurston and Birmingham at the Thurston pool. Plymouth JVs scored 89 points, Thurston was second with 87 and Birmingham third with 47.

FULL HOUSE has been a typical scene at Plymouth swimming meets at home this season. Here fans enthusiastically cheer

FORMER PLYMOUTH HIGH diving star John Walker talks with Bob Mowerson, an assistant coach for the Michigan State University swimming team. Walker, now a sophomore at MSU, earned four swimming letters while at Plymouth. Considered an up-and-coming diving prospect in the Big 10, Walker's parents live in Garden City. The youth is majoring in physical education.

Trenton Trails JVs, But Rallies to Win

Plymouth's junior varsity shooting percentage fell off to 22 per cent last Friday and Trenton salvaged a 46-44 victory over the Rocks.

At one point the Rocks led by 12 points 26-14 at the half, but Trenton battled back to tie the score at 33-33 at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Plymouth quickly scored four points to go ahead 43-39, but could only manage one point in the last six minutes, as their marksmanship dropped considerably over recent games.

Four players accounted for all of the Plymouth scoring. Art Nelson led with 13 points and Eloy Mechaca has 12.

Green Gets 30 for Optimists, Heide's Deporter Leads League

Dave Green tossed in 30 points last week as the Plymouth Optimists defeated Plymouth VFW 57-22 in the 18 year old and under recreation league.

Green's scoring outburst insured first place for the Optimists at the end of the first round of play. The Optimists lead the league with five wins and no losses.

Green moved closer to first place in the league individual scoring race. At the end of five games he has scored 83 points for a 16.6 game average. Heide's Al DePorter leads with 92 points in five games for an 18.4 mark.

Heide's stayed close to the Raiders with a 64-27 win over the Redbirds. Heide's has lost only one game and won four. Jack Freeman paced Heide's with 25 points.

Ray Liimakka scored 20 points for the Plymouth Raiders as they battled their way out of the cellar with a 42-41 victory over the last-place Speed Demons. It was the first win of the season for the Raiders. The Demons have yet to win. Steve Ribar scored 14 points for the Demons in this contest.

In the 15 and Under League, the Yellow Jackets continued their winning pace with a 28-18 win over the Wolverines. Denny Hunt and Dick Egloff each scored 10 points for the winners.

RAMBLER WINS COMPACT CAR ECONOMY TEST!

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL PURE OIL ECONOMY TRIAL RESULTS

Model	Miles Per Gallon
RAMBLER AMERICAN	51.281
FALCON	44.614
VALIANT	41.801
CORVAIR	39.882
LARK	32.965

RAMBLER AMERICAN tops nearest competitor by 6.67 miles per gallon in Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona

Once again Rambler proves it is America's Economy King! Under official NASCAR supervision, the Rambler American won over all other U.S. economy cars to sweep the Compact Car Class in the Pure Oil Economy Trials held at the Daytona International Speedway Public Proving Grounds, February 1-3.

But gasoline mileage is only one measure of Rambler economy. Rambler owners save, too, on lowest prices, lowest upkeep, and highest resale value.

Discover Rambler's all-around economy yourself. See your Rambler dealer today.

IMPORTANT—All cars in the Pure Oil Economy Trials were driven by expert drivers and operated under ideal conditions. The winning Rambler American Custom was equipped with optional equipment which is not available on most other cars in the Compact Car Class and averaged better than 25 miles per hour. No car owner should expect to approach in every day driving the mileage achieved in this test by Rambler or any of the other cars. However, the results prove again the superior economy that Rambler owners enjoy.

New Lutheran Church Begins Sunday School

On Feb. 14 at 9:15 a.m. the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ will organize a new Sunday School at the Plymouth Veterans' Memorial Community Center, 173 N. Main St., next to Plymouth High School. Those who attend the opening session will be considered as charter members of the Sunday School.

There will be classes for all age groups, beginning at three years old. Pastor Brauer, who conducted the first church service of the congregation on Jan. 17, will lead the adult Bible Class. The members of the Sunday School teaching staff are: Mrs. Norma Sarris, Mrs. Wilhelmina Kelm, Mrs. Doris Wick, Mrs. Aileen Stroebel, Miss Kathleen Keener, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Preuss.

"The purpose of the Sunday School is to bring children to God through Jesus Christ," says Pastor Brauer. The lesson materials will be based upon stories from the Bible. In some classes there also will be activity projects correlated with the Bible stories. Children can be enrolled in the Sunday School on Feb. 14.

The Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ, which worships every Sunday, 10:45 a.m. at the Plymouth Veterans' Center, is sponsored by the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

Plymouthites Play Role In Winter Carnival

James Houk

Victor Heiskala

Two Plymouth students at Michigan Tech are playing major roles in planning the Winter Carnival being held this week.

Victor Heiskala, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heiskala, 620 Penniman, has been named to the Ice Show committee.

Chairman of the finance committee is Jim Houk, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Houk, 346 Irvin St.

Victor, an honor student, is a senior majoring in chemical engineering. He is a 1956 graduate of Plymouth High. Jim is a junior majoring in electrical engineering and graduated from Plymouth High in 1957.

Tech's Winter Carnival began in 1922 as an ice circus. Gradually it grew in stature as winter sports contests were added, queens chosen, the beard growing contest, stage revue, ice show and Sno-Ball. Tech's student chapter of Blue Key, a national honorary service fraternity, has sponsored the carnival since 1934.

Former Plymouthites Now Citizens of Prize-Winning City

One of the 11 cities selected for an All American City Award next month is Santa Fe Springs, Calif., home of Bill and Marie Norman, residents of Plymouth until a year and a half ago.

Marie, who is a librarian, and Bill, a printer, were active in Plymouth affairs and Mrs. Norman has served on various Santa Fe Springs committees. The city, incorporated in 1957, is the youngest city ever to be honored in the competition sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine. Santa Fe Springs was selected because of the action of its citizens in establishing a sound local government.

In Plymouth, Mrs. Norman was active in the Cancer Society, VFW Auxiliary, Warren Extension Club, Plymouth Theatre Guild, Livonia Health Guild and others.
