Electors To Decide Proposals, Board Jobs

Know Your Ballot

Some Questions, Some Answers About the Issues

Q. When and where is the election?
A. Monday, June 13 from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Polling places for many people have been changed. Better check the map inside this issue on Page 1, Section 3. Voting machines will be used.

Q. What will I find on the voting machine?
A. There will be names of four candidates seeking two School Board positions. You vote for not more than two. There will also be two proposals, labeled "Proposal 1" and "Proposal 2."

Q. Can all registered electors vote on the candidates and both proposals?
A. Tax-paying property owners can vote on everything. Those who don't own property can vote only on the candidates and Proposal 1.

Q. What is a Building and Site Sinking Fund?
A. When a school district needs a large amount of money to construct a building, the board will usually ask voters to approve a bond issue. These bonds are ordinarily sold to firms in the bond buying business, and they in turn can sell them to investors. The school district gets all of its money as soon as the bonds are signed and turned over to the bonding house. Bonds are usually paid off in 10 to 20 years. During these years, of course, interest must be paid.

The only way to avoid bond issues and costly interest payments is to establish a "pay-as-you-go" method. In other words, don't build anything until the school district has enough money in the bank. To do this, voters must approve a special fund earmarked for buying sites and construction of new buildings or additions.

Q. Well, if a Building and Site Sinking Fund can save costly interest, why isn't this done all the time instead of issuing bonds?

A. Usually a school district needs a large amount of money to start construction RIGHT NOW. It can't wait a year or two before several tax collections are made. A bond issue delivers money immediately; a Sinking Fund will not.

Q. How, then, does the Plymouth Board expect to start construction without waiting several years for several tax collections.

A. "Proposal 1" asks voters if a levy of five mills should be approved for five years. This money would go into the Building and Site Sinking Fund. It cannot be used for operation or paying off bonds. "Proposal 2" asks if the Board can borrow ahead on a short-term basis. If voters approve the five mill levy, banks would be willing to loan the School District enough money to get started on construction. There would be interest on these short-term loans, of course, but much less than on a bond issue.

Q. Exactly how much money can be saved?

A. It is figured that over a period of five years, the five-mill Sinking Fund levy would yield $2,550,000. If this were a 12-year bond issue, interest would amount to $650,000 alone. If the Board is authorized by voters to obtain a short-term loan, interest cost would be around $100,000. Some feel that this would be even less. The net saving would therefore be $550,000. This is enough to build a complete elementary building.

Q. Exactly what will the Board use the money for if the Sinking Fund is approved?

A. The major project would be a second junior high. It would be built on a site already owned at Ann Arbor Trail and Sheldon Rd. The total cost of this project is figured at around $1,600,000. Another $310,000 is to complete additional classrooms at Smith and Bird Schools (already under construction) and a new multi-purpose room and alterations at Starkweather School. In addition, $550,000 will be used to rehabilitate the 42-year-old Plymouth High School. Most of this money will go to construct a new stair tower, improve lighting, heating and ventilating systems. Much of the work is being required by the State Fire Marshal. The remaining $90,000 is for contingencies.

Q. Do we need another whole Junior high now?

A. No. There would not be enough students to fill a complete junior high of 960 capacity. So the building would be constructed in two phases. Phase 1 would start next spring and would be ready for occupancy in September 1962. It would accommodate 450 students. Phase two would probably be started the following year and would be ready by Sept. 1964. Building in two phases would also lessen the need for large amounts of money at one time.

Q. What would be included in Phase 1?

A. A classroom wing and a gymnasium. The classrooms would temporarily house industrial arts, dining facilities, the library and home economics. In Phase 2, there would be wings specially for these departments.

Q. Is this junior high design like the present one?

A. There was much criticism of the present Junior High because of the large glass area. Glass use has been cut in the present plan for the new school. The academic classrooms will be in a two-story unit. The estimated price of the new building is somewhat under the $1,750,000 cost of the present building, even after three years of inflation.

Town Hall In Session Thursday

Anyone planning to go to the polls Monday and who feels that he doesn't know enough about the proposals or candidates can get some first-hand information this Thursday night at a Town Hall meeting.

Held in the Junior High gym starting at 8 p.m., the Town Hall meeting gives the audience a chance to both hear about the people and issues involved, and to ask questions.

One common complaint heard even after elections are over is that the public didn't know enough about the issues. For this reason, the Town Hall meetings were born four years ago and have been held previous to every important election dealing with local issues.

All four candidates for the School Board will appear and present members of the Board will answer questions pertaining to the two ballot proposals.

Store Owner Irving E. Blunk Succumbs at 64

Irving E. Blunk, co-founder of Blunk's Inc. 38 years ago, died Tuesday at the age of 64. He passed away at his home at 415 Arthur Lane Tuesday afternoon.

On August 2, 1922, he and his brother Arthur E. Blunk opened the furniture and dry goods store on Penniman Ave., succeeding the E. L. Riggs Co. The store, oldest furniture outlet in Plymouth, only this week announced that it was closing out its furniture department.

Mr. Blunk was born in Salem on Sept. 29, 1895. He attended Hough School in Canton Township and the Plymouth Schools. He was a veteran of World War I, serving in France.

In 1925 he became the first commander of the Plymouth Ex-Serviceman's Club. He was also a member of the American Legion and Plymouth.

Some Ballot In New Precincts

A new approach to financing major building projects by putting them on a "pay-as-you-go" basis will be submitted to voters in the Plymouth Community School District in an election this Monday.

Electors will be asked to decide on a five-mill, five-year "Building and Site Sinking Fund" proposal and also must select two of four candidates seeking jobs on the Board of Education.

Four polling places will be open Monday instead of two. Hours will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The two new places for voting are at the Plymouth Township Hall and City Fire Station No. 2. A map showing boundaries for the new precincts can be found on Page 1, Section 3 of this issue.

The second Monday in June is the required date for the Annual School Election. Usually, just the race for the school board is at stake. But overshadowing the Board race this year are two proposals that are designed to establish a new Building and Site Sinking Fund.

A 2 1/2 mill Sinking Fund was approved by voters in 1957. This fund still has two years to run, but it will be dropped should electors vote for the new proposal.

While the two proposals on the ballot are asking for five mills, the actual millage increase will be but 0.83 mills. (For a breakdown of how the millage is determined, please read the question and answer column on this page.)

The present Building and Site Sinking Fund has financed some minor building projects in the past three years and purchased several sites. But in order to finance a major project such as the proposed new junior high, the fund has to be enlarged. Voters will find two proposals on the ballot.

They will also find the names of four candidates. They are:

Clarence Wilson, 13887 Ridgewood Dr., a district manager for the circulation department of the Detroit Times.
Abraham Kooiman, 765 Parkview Dr., safety engineer at Burroughs Corp.
Mrs. Esther Hulsing, 1019 Church St., a housewife and incumbent candidate.
Gerald J. Fischer, 505 McKinley, assistant controller of Ford Division, Ford Motor Co.

Voters can vote for no more than two.

Sketches of each candidate can be found inside this issue. Each candidate was also asked the question, "If elected to the Board of Education, what would you like to see accomplished?" Both of the school board positions are for four-year terms. One of the vacancies (Continued on page 6)

Assessments Bring Protests

The City's policy regarding the assessment for paving of streets again ran head-long into trouble Monday night when a public hearing was held on the paving of Ann Arbor Trail, from Harvey St. to Sheldon.

A petition carrying 40 names of property owners along the street was presented to Commissioners at the meeting. The petition pointed out that properties along the street were already assessed for the paving and that the city-at-large should pay the entire cost.

Some 14 property owners appeared at the meeting with Harry Reeves, 1224 W. Ann Arbor Trail, as chief spokesman. It was strongly pointed out that most of the street's trouble was caused by trucks, and not by those living along the street, therefore, the city-at-large should pay the entire cost.

After 40 minutes of discussion, City Commissioners unanimously voted to proceed with the project.

The Wayne County Road Commission has jurisdiction over the street. The County has agreed to pay $14,000 of the $21,000 project. The remaining $7,000 would be paid by the City, with $3,848 being assessed to property owners and the remaining $3,152 being paid by the city-at-large.

The assessment is figured at $1 per front foot, a charge made to most of the re-paving jobs throughout the City.

Actually, the Road Commission started the job several weeks ago and had reached the street for a two-inch bituminous re-cap that was to be applied last week. The City had not yet had time to hold its public hearings, but thought there would be little opposition since the DPW had received dozens of complaints weekly from residents concerning the condition of the street.

When it was learned last week that there was going to be some opposition from property owners, City Manager Albert Glassford asked the County to halt work.

Most of the complaints seemed to be about the trucks, rather than the assessment. Reeves declared that if the trucks were taken off, residents would gladly pay the assessment.

This didn't meet with complete agreement among the neighbors, especially with R. S. Wood, who said that he didn't object to trucks. He noted that he lived there when cattle were herded down the street and that the pavement that was laid 36 years ago was made for heavy traffic. But he still protested the assessment.

Mayor Harold Guenther led the Commission rebuttal, noting that he lived there when cattle were herded down the street and that the pavement that was laid 36 years ago was made for heavy traffic. But he still protested the assessment.

Sentence 16 On Charge of Arson

A $15,000 fire in Canton Township last year that destroyed valuable saddle horses was one of 11 cases of arson admitted by a group that over a period of two years included 16 boys.

Michigan State Police detectives arrested nine of the youths last April and over the past two weeks made seven more. All were from the Wayne, Romulus and Taylor area.

The 16 appeared last week before Justice of the Peace John L. Mokersky in Inkster for sentencing. Three of the youths got jail terms, one was turned over to federal authorities for violation of parole, one was handed over to juvenile authorities and the rest were placed on probation for a year.

The arrests closed the books on 11 cases of arson in Canton and Nankin Townships and Wayne. Seven of the fires were in Canton Township.

Most costly of the fires was on March 21, 1959, when a stable and barn housing 14 riding horses, burned on the property of Bill Campbell, 39740 Warren Rd. He calls his stable of riding horses the 20-A ranch.

Twelve of the horses were led from the burning barn by Campbell and three passengers but two other animals perished. Also destroyed were saddles, bridles, a trailer, tractor, boat and haywagon.

The 16 boys were together in various combinations when the fires were set over a two-year period. One boy had participated in all of them.

The original charge, arson of real property, a felony, was reduced by the prosecutor to a misdemeanor, arson of personal property.

The first group was arrested in April and their sentence is as follows:

William Lutten, 21, Wayne, 60 days in the Wayne County Jail and one year probation; Johnny Norwood, 22, Wayne, 20 days and probation; Larry Armstrong, 20, Taylor, turned over to federal authorities for violation of federal parole (originally sentenced for driving stolen car across state line).

Placed on parole for a year were Thomas Ferkojovich, 19, Wayne; Eugene Wolcott, 21, Wayne; Ronald Smith, 20, Wayne; Ronald Mitchell, 19, Wayne; Elmer Turill, 21, Wayne; and James Young, 24, Taylor.

Seven more were arrested during the past two weeks. Their sentences were: 30 days and probation to Alexander (Continued on page 6)

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL made its debut in Plymouth last Saturday with Opening Day ceremonies held in big league style. While the Junior High Band played the National Anthem the Leaguers lined up along the base lines, doffed their hats and the flag was raised over the two new diamonds along Farmer St. The afternoon saw some brilliant playing among the youngsters, including a no-hitter and home runs, one of which struck the flag pole. There are eight teams in the major leagues. A Little League Auxiliary sells refreshments to help finance the program. There are 120 boys in the major leagues and 200 in the minor leagues which will start June 20 under the Recreation Department.

Petitioners Ask Halt Of Train Whistling

A halt in the sounding of train whistles was asked Monday night of the City Commission in a petition signed by 30 people.

Richard Lea, 102 N. Holbrook, presented the petition which requested the Commission to have the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad discontinue the blowing of whistles.

In a motion, Commissioners voted to have the matter turned over to the city manager for a report.

An amendment to state law that went into effect this Spring gives municipalities the right to ask railroads to discontinue the sounding of train whistles. Train bells, however, can continue to sound.

Plymouth has a problem in that there are three crossings still unprotected. The manger's report will determine what liability there is if train whistles are silenced.

In a bit of by-play, Mayor Harold Guenther told Lea, "You realize that if this goes through we will have a lot of frustrated engineers." "That's all right," replied Lea, who daily rides the train to Detroit. "Us commuters know them all."

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—The American Forest Products Industries reports a new use for trees — as punch.

Vacation Dreams to Come True

Lying on the white sands of Waikiki beach with Diamond Head, landmark of Hawaii, in the distance, may be just a dream for most Plymouth folks.

Great Lakes passenger ships will make the round trip in a weekend.

With the exception of the Buffalo trip which has a definite schedule, the vacations can be taken at the leisure of the winners.

But it will be a dream come true for two people this year when winners are announced for the Chamber of Commerce's "Going Places with Plymouth" promotion.

A trip for two to Hawaii is first place prize in the big promotion.

Another trip for two will take winners to the island of Jamaica.

There will also be two trips for two to New York City for weekends of theater-going.

And if you don't win any of these, there are still two more trips for two to Buffalo on a Great Lakes cruise ship.

The 12 trips are being given to those who hold the right tickets when the selection is made during Plymouth's July 4th celebration. All Plymouth stores displaying the "Going Places with Plymouth" sign are selling the tickets.

By buying one or more tickets, the purchaser automatically becomes a Plymouth "Booster" since the sale is being held to continue the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

Winners of the Hawaiian trip will fly to the 50th state and be welcomed in the traditional manner. They will stay at one of the luxurious ocean-front hotels.

The two second prize winners will stay in the famous Arawak Hotel in Jamaica. There will be beach parties, candlelight dinners on the open patio, native shows and other events which are making the island one of the most popular vacation spots in the world.

Third and fourth prizes will be trips for two to New York City. Staying in a Manhattan hotel, the winners will be treated to some of the popular theater entertainment for a weekend.

Fifth and sixth prizes will send four people to Buffalo on a cruise. One of the famous remaining

The Reason For This Unusual Sale

Due to illness and retirement of certain key members, a change in the personnel of BLUNK'S Inc. brings about the most important sale in our 38 years history. Important to our loyal customers — important to thousands of new home makers in Plymouth and the entire Detroit Metropolitan area.

New ownership will consist of remaining key members plus the possible addition of new personnel. When this change is completed New Management will have free rein to replenish stocks as demands indicate.

BLUNK'S INC. will completely sell out their entire store and warehouse stocks in all departments — excepting Floor Coverings and Magnavox. However, selected bargains will be offered during the CLOSE OUT from these departments. (See separate advertisement in this newspaper).

A great portion of the stocks offered in this sale are so new that they have never been unpacked from the shipping cartons.

It will be the aim of the new management team to carry on the traditions of service and value that have made the name BLUNK'S INC. so highly respected in this community for more than a third of a century.

Some Questions, Some Answers About the Issues

Q. I thought the additional space was needed in the Senior High. How will another junior high help that situation?

A. All schools will reach total capacity by next September. Part of the freshman class is now at the Junior High, part at the Senior High. If voters approve the proposals and Phase 1 is completed, all seventh graders would be moved into the new building and all eighth and ninth graders into the present Junior High. This would relieve the Senior High situation for several years. When Phase 2 is completed in 1964, both junior highs would have full programs for seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

Q. Now for the big question. If the proposals pass, how much will it cost me?

A. Today, the school millage is 21.07 mills ($21.07 per $1,000 valuation). If the proposals are approved, this figure would go up .83 mills (83 cents per $1,000 valuation). How can millage go up .83 when a 5.0 levy is being asked?

First, the Board intends to discontinue a 2.5 mill Building and Site Sinking Fund that voters approved in 1957.

Second, the Board intends to actually levy only 4.7 of the 5.0 mills.

Third, the School District has a bond issue (1952) that expires this year, allowing a further drop of 1.15 mills.

Fourth, the Board intends to lower the millage for the 1955 bond issue by .22 mills.

Add all of these reductions up. They equal 4.17 mills. Subtract this from five mills and it leaves you with .83 mills.

Q. But exactly how much more will this amount to in dollars and cents?

A. If you have a home with an assessed valuation of $6,000, says the School Board, the proposals would cost you $4.98. However, there is a state equalization factor that must be added. This equalization factor may be different in every city, village or township. It is a blanket increase which county and state tax officials say brings every political subdivision's assessments up to a similar and "equitable" level.

So, by adding the state equalized figure, the $4.98 goes up to about $6.50, depending where you live.

Q. You speak of the equalization figure on this five mills. Won't this apply on the remainder of the school millage, as well as county, city or township millage?

A. Yes. All millage receives this "equalization" factor. In the 1960-61 year, the school district's operating millage (14.4 mills) will receive an additional $111,750 because of an increase in equalization. Some of this money will be used for pay raises for the 300 people employed by the district. Originally, the Board was going to put a one mill increase for operation on the ballot to finance the pay increases. But when it was learned that the increase in equalization was going to cover the pay raises, the one mill proposal was dropped.

Q. What if the proposals fail?

A. The school Board is charged with the job of providing an education for children, which also means providing adequate facilities. Last fall the electorate turned down a bond issue for $4,500,000. An entirely different type of proposal has been drawn up for Monday's consideration. It is assumed that if this one fails too, there would have to be another attempt. Planning and construction for such buildings take up to two years. If classrooms are not ready to meet enrollment demands at a certain point, the Board, the public — and the children — are on the spot.

Presents Pupils In Recital this Sunday

Mrs. Marie Bonamici will present her pupils in a piano recital Sunday, June 12 at 4 p.m. in the new St. John's Episcopal Church Parish Hall. The recital is open to the public.

Blunk's Closing Furniture Dept. After 38 Years

Blunk's, Inc., furniture dealers for 38 years in Plymouth, will start a "closing-out sale" this Thursday on all its furniture but will remain in the floor covering and Magnavox sales.

Due to illness and retirement of two veteran members of the organization, the firm declared in a statement, the furniture operation will be discontinued.

Both of the remaining departments will remain in their present locations. To take over the space vacated by Blunk's furniture department, "every effort is being made to obtain a desirable type of established furniture dealer," an announcement said.

Walter Rensel will retain ownership of the floor carpeting business while Daug Blunk will head the Magnavox department.

Blunk's, located on Penniman Ave., will begin its $150,000 furniture sale Thursday at 10 a.m.

Zoet, who is a teacher at Bentley High in Livonia, declared that increased work there prohibits him from carrying on with the School Board here. He added that he is lending his support to Mrs. Hulsing and Gerald Fischer.

Gerald Fischer, incidentally, is no relation to Harold Fischer, a member of the Board for several terms. Some voters have mistakenly thought they were the same person, but they are not even related, it was noted.

Exactly how many voters will turn out Monday is hard to say. Last October when two bond issues totaling $4,500,000 were on the ballot, 1,583 voted. The issues were rejected.

The High School Choir will then sing an anthem, "Let There Be Light."

Following the sermon, the congregation will join in singing "God of Our Fathers."

The committee, composed mostly of men who are familiar with finances, has strongly recommended the two proposals on the basis that they "will give the taxpayers the most for the least amount of money."

Bloodmobile Stops Here Next Week

The Red-Cross Bloodmobile will stop in Plymouth on Friday, June 17 at the B.P.O. Elks on Ann Arbor Rd.

Pledge cards are now being distributed by a committee composed of representatives of the Plymouth Red Cross and the Elks, co-sponsors of the Bloodmobile visit. Hours will be from 3 to 5 and 8 to 9 p.m.

The committee has contacted chairman of blood groups in the area supplying them with donor pledge cards and urging them to invite their members to make use of the Bloodmobile's facilities.

Donors may designate to which blood group account credit is given, or they may designate a "self" account, or replace blood already used by a patient.

Tom Argo represents the Elks and Mrs. C. B. Lytle and Mrs. H. R. Penhale, the Plymouth Branch of the Red Cross. Mrs. Penhale is Red Cross branch chairman while Mrs. Penhale is blood program chairman.

Red Cross volunteers will assist the professional staff during the visit.

ing that it has been City policy to assess abutting property owners for paving or repaving, even where truck and through traffic is involved. Commissioners J. Rusling-Cutler and Carl Shear, both Main St. residents, testified that they had to pay dearly for their new streets (Cutler paid $3,000).

Plymouth needs $2 million worth of new streets, it was pointed out by Manag

Glassford. If this is spread out among those who own parcels of property, the cost would be around $800 each. Those who have already paid for their pavements would not go for such a deal, he said.

After the Commission voted to approve the project, another motion was made by Commissioner William Hartman to have an investigation of the matter of having through trucks rerouted around the City.

PLYMOUTH HIGH School's Class of '35 held their 25th anniversary reunion last Saturday night at the V.F.W. Hall and a large share of the class turned out. Pictured are 39 class members. Coming as far away as California, the members recalled some of the "good old days" through photographs brought to the reunion. One of the class members, Robert Soth, far left, is now a Board of Education member.

Two-Thirds of Plymouth High Class Of '35 Returns Home for Reunion

Nearly two thirds of the Plymouth High School Class of 1935 gathered to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their graduation at a dinner and dance at the Plymouth VFW Hall Saturday evening, June 4.

In a remarkable demonstration of class spirit, class members returned to Plymouth from all over the country or sent letters and pictures of their families. Husbands and wives of class members also attended the event including eight who married within the class. These were class president, Darold Cline, Peggy Tuck Cline; Harold Williams and Eileen Archer Williams; Alvah Elzerman and Yvonne Hearn Elzerman; Robert Soth and Barbara Hix Soth. Prizes for those returning from the longest distance were shared by Beulah Starkweather Dennis and Edythe Donnelly Erke who came back from California. Runners up were Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Elzerman who make their home in West Springfield, Mass. Guests of honor included teachers who served as advisors to the class over a quarter century ago, Miss Edna Allan, James Lature and Miss Gertrude Fiegel were present with Mrs. Helen Wells Schwartz and Miss Neva Lovewell being unable to attend.

A lively program was presided over by President Darold Cline and Master of Ceremonies Jack Wilcox. Besides a roll call of class members present and remarks by the teachers, there were songs by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Champe and by Ray Trimble. Norval Bovee who is assistant to the president of Central Michigan University gave a humorous talk on "The Spirit of Corn". Movies and dancing concluded the program.

Vases of white lilacs and white bows and ferns on a table and along the aisles provided the setting for the marriage of Sue Ellen Anthony and Rodney A. Cannon Presbyterian Church, Plymouth. Dr. Henry Walch officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford W. Anthony, 319 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. Omar C. Cannon, 4342 Washington, Wayne, are the bridegroom's parents.

Music included "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," both sung by William Rinker of Lansing, a friend of the bride. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza and chantilly lace with a buschle bow from which fell a chapel train. The short sleeves and scalloped neckline were of lace and her finger tip veil was attached to a crown. Both crown and neckline were decorated with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a white prayer book on which were two white orchids and stephanotis.

Sally J. Anthony was maid of honor for her sister. Her street length gown was of white embossed nylon over lavender taffeta with scooped neckline and short sleeves. She wore lavender shoes and picture hat and carried a lavender basket with shades of lavender carnations and other flowers. The bridesmaids, Janice Ellars of Saginaw, and Elaine Otten of Dearborn, cousins of the bride, wore dresses like that of the maid of honor, but carried white baskets of flowers.

William Barnhart of Detroit was best man and ushers were Melvin Behline of Plymouth, and Lester Woody of Belleville. The mother of the bride wore a dress of beige lace over green taffeta with beige and green accessories, while the groom's mother was gowned in blue lace over blue taffeta with blue and white accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors. Guests included some from Canada, Ohio, Saginaw, Lansing, Flint, Pontiac, and other Michigan cities.

When the couple departed on their wedding trip to southern Indiana, the bride wore a pink and white dress with white accessories, while the groom's mother was gowned in blue lace over blue taffeta with blue and white accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

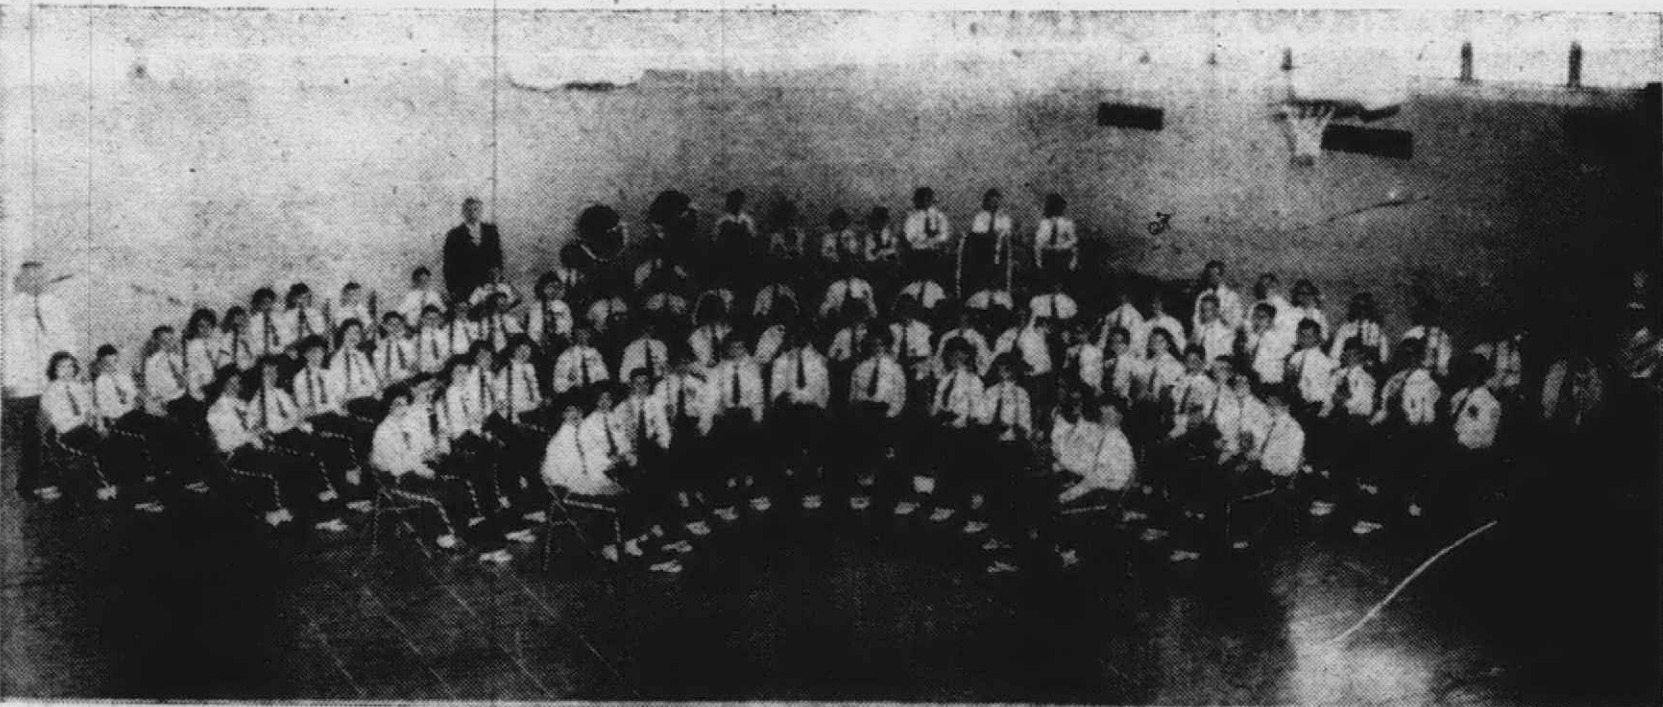

The new Mrs. Cannon is a 1956 graduate of Plymouth High School and is now employed at Western Electric Co. Mr. Cannon is a 1952 graduate of Wayne High School and is a member of the Plymouth Police Department. The couple now reside at 160 Amelia St.

STRIKE! It was a big day for the Little Leaguers Saturday when the first games of the first season were held. Held on new diamonds along Farmer St. behind the High School, the games proved exciting for the spectators as home runs popped and sliders struck out in true big league fashion. The dug-outs are temporary this year.

Social Security For Teachers Given Explanation

Many Plymouth school teachers may receive social security benefits this summer, said Harry Baltuck, manager of the Detroit-Northwest social security office.

This is true, Baltuck stated, because a social security beneficiary who works for wages may receive a benefit check for any month during which he does not earn over $100. Thus, he said, school teachers who have reached social security retirement age (62 for women, 65 for men) or those entitled to mother's benefits, may be entitled to receive a social security check for the months that school is not in session.

This benefit will not be paid automatically, Baltuck continued, but must be applied for by each eligible teacher. Teachers who have reached retirement age or are entitled to mother's benefits who will not earn more than $100 in all months of the year are encouraged to contact the social security office.

Parish Honors Fr. Byrne For 30 Years in the Priesthood

Rev. Francis Byrne, pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church, celebrated his 30th anniversary in the priesthood last Sunday. The Ladies' Society of the parish presented a reception for Father Byrne in the evening, serving coffee and cake to the visitors.

Some 575 friends were on hand in the course of the evening at the parish hall. Festivities were planned by Mrs. Rose DeRosia, Mrs. Vera McGraw, Mrs. Alice Reas, and Mrs. Loraine Thuer. Father Byrne was ordained at Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit, by the late Bishop Michael Gallagher. He previously attended University of Detroit and Mount St. Mary in Norwood, O. Before becoming pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel, he was assistant at St. Bernard's and Blessed Sacrament, both in Detroit, and pastor of Sacred Heart Church in Imlay City. In June of 1953 Father Byrne succeeded Rev. William Monney, in Plymouth.

Since that time he has seen his church nearly double in parishioners, numbering some 4,000 members now. His church proper consists of a temporary structure, seating 500. Six services are held each Sunday morning under the direction of Father Byrne and his assistant, Father William Child.

There likewise is a parish hall, an eight grade school, rectory, and a convent for the Sisters. The Sisters of St. Joseph teach in the elementary school, which has 45 pupils in it this year. At the present time an additional eight classrooms are under construction, to be completed by the new school year.

Graduates from TV, And Radio School

Commenting on Fisher's graduation, J. J. Gershon, Director of the DeVry Technical Institute residential school, said, "In offering my congratulations, let me commend you on having chosen a career field that abounds with opportunities in today's modern age of electronics."

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Plumb of Jackson announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Lenore, to Ronald W. Fitch of Midland, Mich.

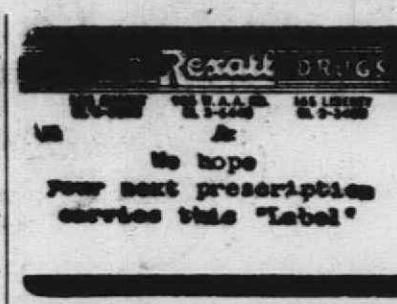

For the past two years Miss Plumb has been director of religious education at the First Methodist Church of Plymouth.

A summer wedding is being planned.

Jack McDonald
Seeks State Nomination

It was announced today that Jack H. McDonald, 15662 Denby, Redford Township, has filed as a candidate for the State House of Representatives in the 21st District of Michigan.

McDonald has been active in Redford Township politics for the past few years and led the Republican ticket in the spring election of 1959 when he ran for Trustee on the Township Board. McDonald was formerly Secretary-Treasurer of Frank McDonald and Sons, Inc., a family concern.

He attended Redford High School and Wayne State University and was a member of the Current Affairs and Social Committees.

Last October he was appointed Regional Field Assistant for the U.S. Department of Commerce, and established census offices throughout the state. Shortly after the first of the year he was appointed District Supervisor of the largest district census area in the United States. This appointment was successfully completed last Wednesday, June 8.

McDonald stated, "It is time for young, aggressive candidates who know the problems of business and labor to step forward and take the responsibility of leadership in their political party. I feel that because of my experience in management and the fact that I have been a member of a union for the past nine years, and because I have worked in both capacities, employer and employee, I have a good understanding of the needs and problems of both groups. I intend to wage a hard-fought, aggressive campaign, taking clear-cut positions on issues."

McDonald is a member of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and several Republican organizations. He resides in Redford Township with his wife, Joyce, and two sons.

Study Indicates Heed Rule In House Hunting

NEW YORK (UPI) — What is the first rule of house-hunting?

"Don't go in over your income," says Herbert Sadkin, president of a company (All-State Properties) that builds single-family homes all over the United States.

"Set a limit on the purchase price at twice your annual earnings," Sadkin said. "For example, if you make $8,500 a year, you will do well to limit yourself to a $17,000 house."

Also, Sadkin warned, have enough "moving in" funds on hand, above savings, to cover closing costs, running from 2 to 4 per cent of the total purchase price; insurance costs, and the charges for moving your family and furniture into the new home.

The builder, whose company erected the typical American home for the Moscow exhibition, suggested that once an area for the "dream house" is selected, the purchaser take into consideration transportation costs and the proximity of schools, shopping and churches.

On the matter of design, Sadkin warned that sometimes getting the "most house for the money" could become a financial trap. In some big houses, he said, there is a lot of wasted and inefficient space.

"Rooms of an odd shape, for instance, might be cute," he said, "but just try fitting a 9 by 12 rug into them."

40-HOUR WEEK FOR ITALY
ROME, Italy (UPI) — The 40-hour week as practiced in most Western countries will probably be adopted officially in Italy.

A bill presented by Deputy Benato Quintieri also suggests a maximum seven hours of work daily with no lessening in take-home pay.

ROOFERS ARE BUSY

NEW YORK (UPI) — A stripe 70 feet wide could be painted around the circumference of the earth with the asphalt and tarred roofing used last year, according to building specialists at Allied Chemical Co. They said that would approximate the amount of materials used by 22,000 roofers.

The United States, Germany and France are the world's three leading refrigerator makers.

POLICE AID WIDOWS

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — Houston city and county police have formed a club to help care for the dependents of officers killed in the line of duty.

Leopold Meyer, chairman of the club, said it planned to give the widow of an officer killed in the line of duty $1,000 for immediate expenses. Then a committee would investigate to determine how much more assistance was needed.

Cocoa beans, from which chocolate and cocoa are made, were first brought to Europe in 1494 by Columbus.

Cleary College Graduates Biggest Class With 131

Clifford H. Simmons, of Ann Arbor, chairman of the board of Hoover Ball Bearing Co., is one of four men distinguished in business and public affairs in Michigan who will receive honorary Doctor of Science degrees from Cleary College on June 18. The Ypsilanti college of business administration will graduate the largest class in its 77 years.

Others who will receive honorary Doctor of Science degrees from Dr. Owen J. Cleary, president of the college and son of the founder, are: O. William Habel, of Ann Arbor, general manager of Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors Corp., of Ypsilanti; Thomas F. Wolcott, vice president and director of Walker Co. and manager of the Flint branch of the Detroit firm; and Joseph V. Brady, executive vice president of the Citizens' Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., of Howell.

Brady will also give the commencement address for the 131 graduates, who will receive degrees or diplomas in business administration for management, secretarial, or accounting courses.

Preceding the afternoon commencement, which will be held in the auditorium of Ypsilanti Central High School, a morning ceremony on the college's new $1,600,000 campus will mark the laying of the cornerstone for the first of several buildings. The $485,000 structure for administration and classrooms will be ready for occupancy next fall, and with additional facilities planned for the campus is expected to permit a 30 per cent increase in enrollment.

Dan T. Quirk, of Ypsilanti, will preside at the cornerstone convocation, assisted by other trustees: Roscoe O. Bonisteel, of Ann Arbor; Cass S. Hough, of Rogers, Ark., formerly of Plymouth; Ralph S. Gerganoff, of Ypsilanti, architect for the new campus; and Donald M. Silkworth, of Ypsilanti. Rev. William Shaw, pastor of Ypsilanti First Baptist Church, will give the invocation.

Alumni who graduated 25 and 50 years ago will be honored at the alumni luncheon when Dr. Cleary presents silver and golden certificates. Walter Greig, executive vice-president of the college will preside at the luncheon in the Gondola restaurant.

Simmons has risen with his firm through a series of mergers, purchases and consolidations to holdings in nine plants ranging from New Jersey to Los Angeles, and one in Japan. The business that will probably top $50,000,000 this year he started 17 years ago in a Saline die casting shop with six men.

When Clifford graduated from Redford High School in 1924, his younger brother Kenneth hoped to become a teacher. Their father was a barber and could help only one of his sons through college, so Kenneth went to Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Clifford became an apprentice tool and die maker in various Detroit shops and attended night classes in mechanical engineering for five years, plus a correspondence school course in accounting. In 1936 he started at King Seely Corp., of Ann Arbor, as a tool die and special machine designer.

One of his co-workers there was William L. Brittain, who is today vice chairman of Hoover. They pooled their savings in 1943 and organized the Universal Die Casting Co., at Saline. Their growth from an investment of $13,500 has been one of the remarkable success stories of Michigan's business achievement.

Mr. Simmons has been active in civic and business affairs in Washtenaw County for many years. He is a director of Ann Arbor's United Foundation, Chamber of Commerce, State Bank and Trust Co., and of the Citizens Bank of Saline. He is a member of the Barton Hills Country Club, the Detroit Athletic Club and the Recess Club of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Haas of Mendon, Mich., have announced the birth of a daughter, Theresa Elaine, born June 1 at the Three Rivers Hospital. The baby, weighing 6 lbs., has three brothers and two sisters. The mother is the former Elaine Hamilton.

Front Row Center

by George Spelvin

Say podners . . . last week a Western friend sashayed up to my split-level ranch and asked me to mosie over to the Cinema Cerral (the Penn Theatre) and see that wide-screen horse opera called, "The Unforgiven." Well, I put on me spurs, vaulted into the back of his bucking Catalina buckboard, and in a swirl of carbon monoxide we were off, man . . . we were off.

My gallant friend from the West side of Plymouth warned me that I would at least like the scenery in "The Unforgiven." I fooled him. I enjoyed the entire picture. Burt Lancaster did an outstanding job of fighting the Indians and that ticklish sensation he finally recognized by the final reel as "gen-u-wine," deep-seated love.

Audrey Hepburn had the difficult role of the adopted daughter. Her parents were originally Cuyoga Indians. Racial prejudice even in those early days of the young West caused many a conflict. Basically, "The Unforgiven" explores this theme with some breathtaking scenery and violent gunplay thrown in for good measure. Lillian Gish and Charlie Bickford will please the oldsters as they fondly remember Lil and Charlie from the early days of the talkies and even the silent screen. "The Unforgiven" is playing this week at the P and A Theater in Northville. Better saddle old "Paint" and lope over in that northerly direction if yar of a mind to see this "adult" Western.

Coming out of the Penn Theatre the other evening old George saw a young lad that had attended this cowboy and Indian epic in most appropriate dress. He was clad from top to toe in true "cowpoke" style: ten gallon (really five gallon since he wasn't 21 yet) hat, b a n d a n a, work shirt, blue denim trousers, fancy leather boots. I didn't wait to see where he had parked the horse—the illusion was too nerve-shattering.

Back to the racial prejudice angle for a moment. It was announced last week that the Plymouth Theatre Guild was considering a minstrel show for the July 4th celebration. Let's hope they pick some other form for their musical show. Minstrel shows are frowned on in these days when we are trying to speed integration in the South, treat Negroes with more respect, and give all races or minority groups an even break. Seems ironic after the Guild did "The Diary of Anne Frank," which was a stirring plea for more tolerance, that they would fall into this trap.

What could be done instead? Well, the topical revue form is quite popular these days. We have many items of local and national interest that can stand some satirical treatment. Let me name a few: the green stamp craze, the liquor problem in Plymouth; TV westerns, the over-sexed, over-sized movies, problems of censorship, women and their inane habits (let's not complain they're the best opposite sex available for now), and our colonial ways in modern Plymouth.

There are many other topics available. Old George suggests that the powers-that-be in the Guild gather all the "Fourth Act" writers together and they'll have a fast-moving musical revue that will have everyone laughing. Our town deserves something special. Let's let the minstrel show die with the Showboat. It was fun while it lasted, but we're much more mature now.

Watch for the Detroit premiere of "The Story of Ruth," the multi-million dollar Bible spectacle, from the 20th Century Fox Film Corp. It's due to be shown at the Fox Theater some time near the middle of June. This is the same film company that initiated the current cycle of Biblical pictures with the excellent film, "The Robe." I'm sure they will have a worthwhile presentation of this not-to-often-told Biblical story.

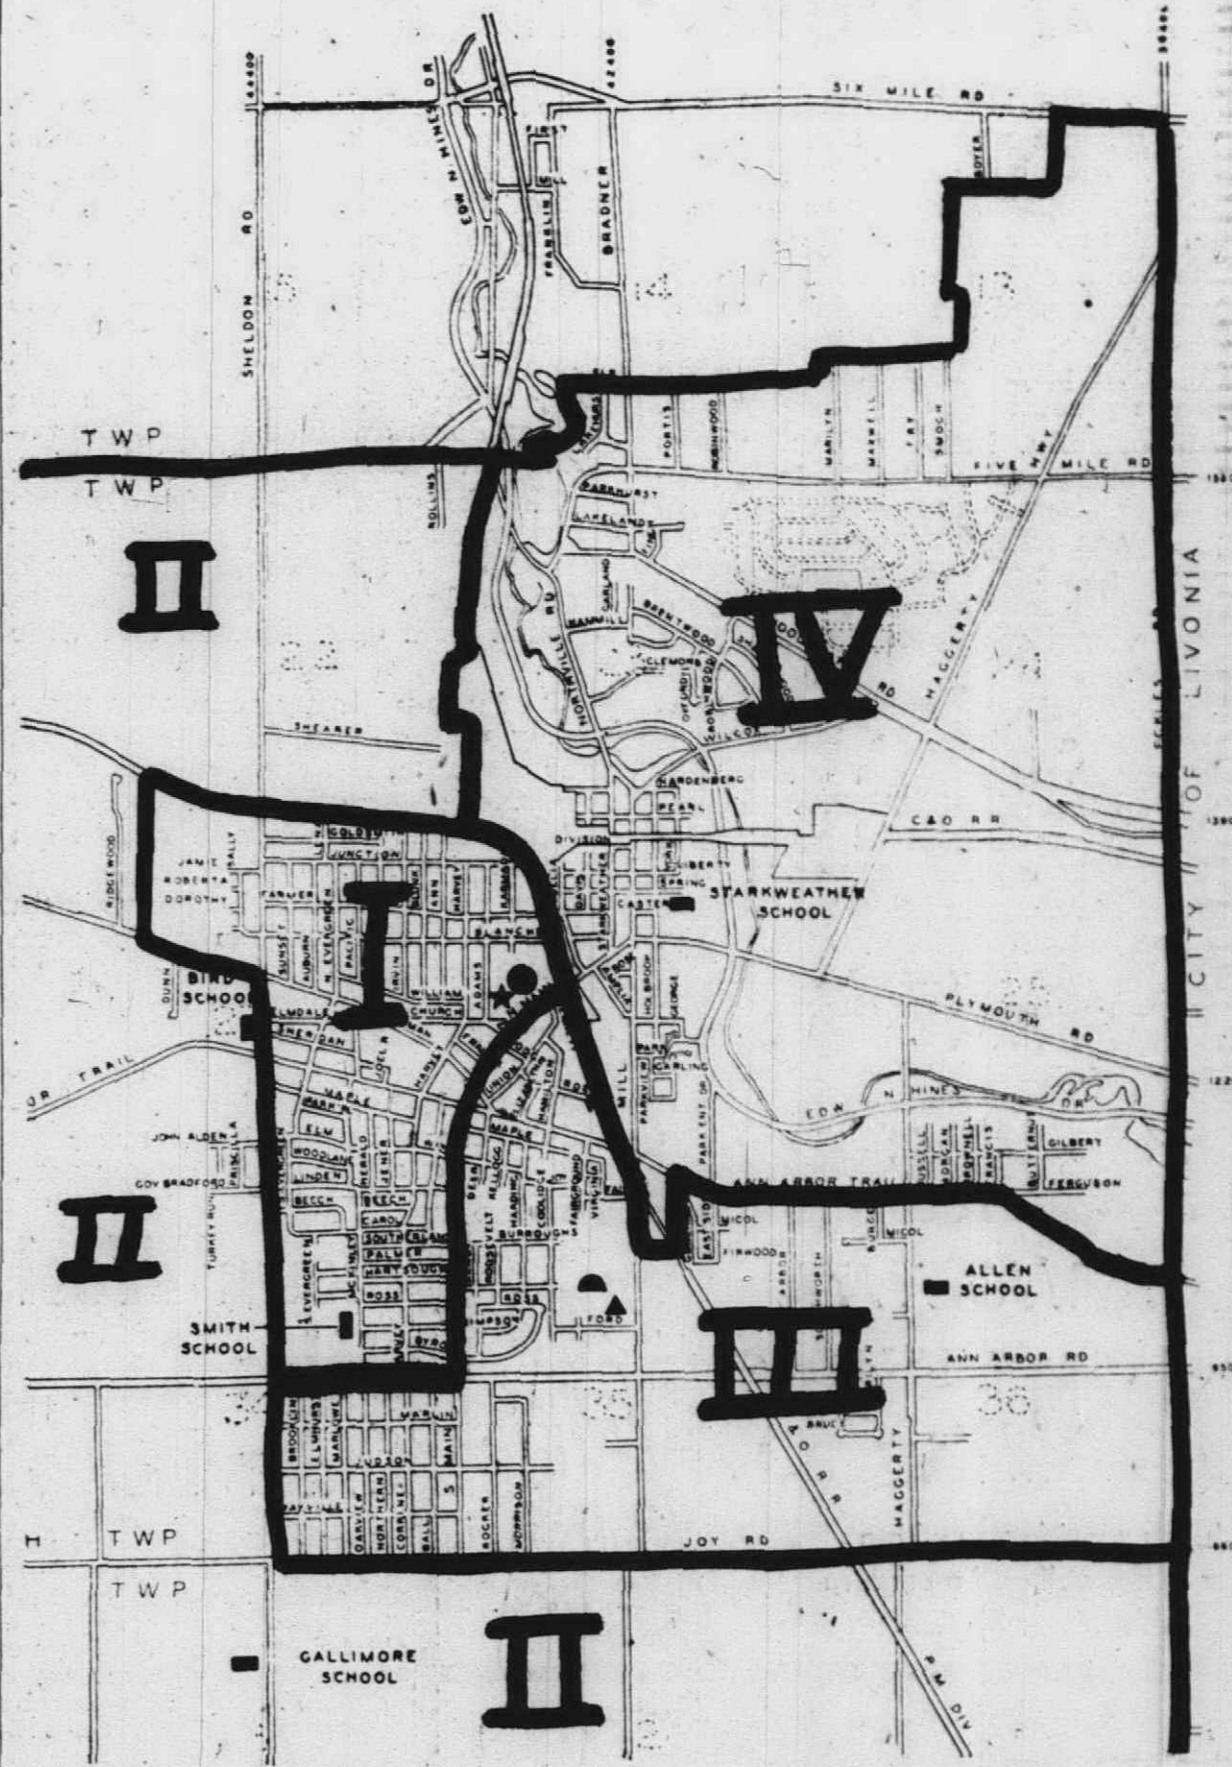

Time to warn you that the summer season over in Ann Arbor will be getting under way. The University players are opening with "Annie Get Your Gun." This musical has a list of hummable songs a mile or two long. If you've never seen this musical, plan now to see it during the Ann Arbor run, June 22-25.

Four plays will be presented in the summer series: "Annie Get Your Gun", "Amphitryon 38", "As You Like It", and "Picnic". You can get season tickets for as low as $3.50 for all four shows — a dollar more or four-fifty if you want to be extravagant and go on a Friday or Saturday night. Box office opens on June 18. Get there early for good seats.

Two items in closing for the week. Hats off and 16 cheers for Mr. John Pival, the head man at WXYZ-TV, for he has secured the highly praised "Play of the Week" series for our local TV watchers. I'll let you know when the exact date of the start will be. You won't want to miss these TV plays . . . they are two hours in length and the dialogue, plot, and theme remains exactly as they were presented on Broadway.

Lastly, remember the Northland Playhouse opens on Tuesday night, June 14 with Gretchen Wyler kicking up her heels and singing up a storm in "Redhead". If you've got a red hair or two showing on your scalp, show them to Ken Schwartz over at the Northland Playhouse this coming week. He may give you a few cents off on the price of a ticket. If it's your turn to do the dishes, forget it.

Heroism, in Numerous Forms, Has Played Important Role

Are you a hero? What makes a hero? It's not physical strength, for many women have achieved heroism—Dolly Madison, Florence Nightingale, Anna Rosenberg.

So have children; remember the boy who plugged the hole in the dike? Great statesmen and scientists with no special physical prowess—have won the plaudits of a grateful world.

Historically, heroism has always been associated with triumph. A million years before the pyramids were built—when tropical forests thrashed with the great war for world supremacy between man and beast—the hero was the hunter who triumphed over animals.

He was the unarmed man, unaware that a pointed stick makes a good spear, who was first to leap naked on the wild lion's back, wrapping his arms around its neck while his companions grabbed tail and legs.

Even after man mastered beast, triumph in battle remained the key to heroism—only now it was triumph over man that won the cheers. There was little David, who bested Goliath... Caesar, whose legions triumphed over all armies that dared oppose him... the Spanish soldier who won the battle to "civilize" Montezuma's tribe... the Indian brave whose collection of scalps proved his triumphs in helping to keep uncolored people out of the area. In every age, triumphs made heroes.

It was less than 1,000 years ago that triumph—and heroism—became possible without physical violence. When sea-going ships came into their own, the greatest heroes were the bold explorers who sailed into the unknown in search of gold and glory.

They brought back stories of painted savages and unicorns, of eluding sea-serpents that could strangle a three-master. The hero-worshippers listened with open mouths and wide eyes.

Triumph over man was more widely understandable than triumph over distance, however, and so wars, fought for glory, continued. Then, non-violent forms of triumph over man became popular.

You could triumph by becoming a millionaire, triumph by breaking an athletic record, triumph by becoming a famous personality—all feats which other men had tried without success.

Today, traditional forms of heroism are losing popularity. Heavyweight championship bouts are rare and less exciting. College football, some claim, has become commercial. Taxes make it more difficult to make a million dollars. Few lands remain to be explored.

The respected king of old is today, in free countries, a "politician" with whom a little less than half the people disagree. Even war, now fought with buttons and missiles, has lost much of its glamor.

But now, that triumph over beast, man and distance are becoming old hat, a new form of triumph—and heroism—is emerging. The triumph: over environment!

Jonas Salk is the new type of hero. He triumphed over an enemy no man conquered since the dawn of time. Rocket scientist Werner von Braun is another such hero; so is the local man who offers less world-shaking suggestions for improvement. The wonderful thing is heroism breeds heroism.

When triumph in dueling brought honor and glory, dueling study and practice brought even more skill, greater triumphs.

Today, in the same way, students from Cape Canaveral to Seattle are displaying renewed interest in physics, chemistry, mathematics, biology.

Who will be the heroes of tomorrow? Who will triumph over cancer? Who will triumph over the problems of rocketing to Mars? Who will triumph in finding new ways to remove magnesium and gold from the sea? Who will be the first triumphantly to present the world with whole-wall television in color?

In the research laboratories of top pharmaceutical companies... at government testing areas in Florida and South Pacific... on mountain peaks fitted with telescopes, and at the bottom of the sea, men are seeking new techniques to solve old ills and to create new products.

With less risk than the lion-fighters, more conservatism than the yarn-spinning sailor of old, purer motives than many who sought millions or fame, the world's research scientists are crashing through the frontiers of knowledge. They're building a better world. Their triumphs are making them... and will make them to an even greater extent tomorrow... heroes!

Jerry Seibert Says...

Golden, languid and lovely summer stretches ahead. In our "Water Wonderland" of Michigan, summer means endless, enchanting hours on, beside, and, most particularly, in the water. Bathing suits are an important part of feminine wardrobes.

1960 swim suits have what it takes to make even the most timid, toe-dipping, non-swimmer list them at the top of "must have" items. Seaworthy and sandworthy, they are dry in a flash and ready to glove the figure for the next day's swim.

The new swim suits have all the svelte assurance which any diva acquires when she knows everything is under control. They do have everything under control, from the shaping that built-in bras give the top of the figure, to the hidden assets which power net and body-hugging sheathing give to hips and thighs.

As bathing suits have grown smaller—and they have—they've acquired matching beach-skirts, beach coats, capes and jackets as a protection against poolside breezes, or as temporary sunshades.

There's nothing better to show off a good stroke—and a good figure—than that favorite of the swim suit purist, the maillot. The old tank, damp and flapping tank suit would never recognize its sleek, colorful 1960 descendant. Today's maillot is knitted (the only feature it shares with its droopy, gray ancestor). But the elasticized-cottons, wools and modern manmade fibers exert a light, iron-hand-glove control.

Warning to the overweight, who believe a skintight, lastex suit will camouflage those bumps and bulges. It will make you look like an unhappy

PHOTOGRAPHY FOR THE AMATEUR

By William H. Schleisner

Shadows in photographs are like the pendulum of a clock, moving from one extreme point to another. The vogue for shadows in photographs that are published changes from decade to decade and even year to year. During the last twenty-five years, the fashion has swung from sharp, crisp shadows to a slight shadow to none at all, from sharp contrast to hardly any contrast.

Today, the goal is for lighting so evenly that pictures will be as shadowless as possible. Amateur and professional photographers, in attempting to take shadow-free pictures, often are taking the real depth from many of their photographs. This is true in portraits, architectural photography and commercial advertising shots.

Many compositions are greatly enhanced by some shadow, and shadows can make a normally dull picture interesting. A shadow in a picture should never be the exact size of the subject being photographed; if it is, the viewer finds his attention divided between the two.

When photographing indoors where light can be controlled, see to it that shadows are not too large and hence overpower the subject. Pictures of family or friends, advisedly, are taken outdoors on a cloudy bright day. Then, if you want shadows, they will be less contrasting and the photograph will be brilliant instead of having the dead look that can result from even lighting.

Photographs of flowers or flower arrangements are often helped by having shadows from one source of light in the background. This is because the tracery of the flowers and foliage may make a pleasing pattern.

If the arrangement consists of many flowers or is a busy looking one, it is better to keep shadows out of the picture. To accomplish this, move the arrangement away from the wall and light it from one side with a strong light and from the other side with a weaker light. This will prevent too dark an area on the arrangement itself.

For a lesson in lighting, take a floodlight and manipulate it on a still life. Juggle the light around, place it near the object, then far from it, on top so the light shines down, and reverse it against a piece of white cardboard to judge the effect of soft light. Every time a person tries juggling, he'll learn a little more about lighting—and about what shadows will or will not do to enhance a picture.

Mechanical hares for greyhound racing were introduced in England as early as 1876.

Blown Wool Helps Cool Older Home

Part of the myth and mystery that confuses many people about air conditioning is insulation. Some owners of old houses think that, much as they'd like it, air conditioning is beyond reach because their houses can't be insulated properly.

Not so, say air conditioning engineers. Insulating an existing house of any age and any construction has been simplified by materials, tools and techniques developed especially for the job. Granulated mineral wool, called "blowing wool," is blown into spaces between ceiling and floor joists and wall studs through pneumatic hoses. The mechanic removes a brick, shingle or section of clapboard from the sidewall, drills a hole in the sheathing, inserts the nozzle and forces the mineral wool tightly into every crevice with air pressure.

The siding is then carefully replaced. Attic floors and ceilings are done by bringing the hose through a window.

This "blowing wool" technique has been successfully used in millions of houses, including many row houses attached on both sides.

The insulation pays for itself, often within a couple of years, because it drastically reduces heating bills. If your budget requires doing the job in stages, insulating now will immediately result in a cooler house in summer, a warmer house in winter, and lower fuel bills. It will make your wait for air conditioning more comfortable.

Home owners who plan to move within a few years will find that air conditioning and insulation will add to their home's resale value.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Only 102 photographs of Abraham Lincoln are known to exist today. No one is sure where the other five were taken.

PLYMOUTH telephone lines

By BILL DUNN, Manager

"Accident" as described by Webster is "an event that takes place without one's foresight." Good telephone service in your home is no accident. Starting with the service representative, with whom your order is initially placed, a series of events take place to be sure you have the right type and amount of service. After a convenient service plan is agreed upon, a skilled craftsman visits your home to carefully and expertly complete the installation. If you have questions concerning your telephone needs, call us soon and see if an "accidental arrangement" might better be turned into "planned convenience" for you.

Newburg Family Returns From West Indies Cruise

MRS. EMIL LAPOINTE
GL 3-3797

With many apologies to you fine Newburg area folks, I begin this week's news and hope you will forgive me for my recent neglect in not seeing that your news items got to the paper. I have been in the hospital for a few days and have needed about three weeks for recuperation so thank you for bearing with me during this time.

I was delighted to hear that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hatch of Ravine Drive are home after having a delightful cruise to the West Indies aboard the S. S. Evangeline. They enjoyed river rafting on the Rio Grande River at Ft. Antonio, shopping at Kingston, Jamaica, visited the international fair grounds in Trujillo, Dominican Republic and then on to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. Last stop on this tour, deluxe, was in San Juan, Puerto Rico where they visited with Staff Sgt. Manuel and wife Laura, who, incidentally, is the Hatch's daughter, and their children.

On Monday, May 23, Daniel Ralph, made his appearance at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor much to the delight of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gray of Newburg Rd. The young lad weighed in at a lusty 8 pounds and 3 ounces. An equal pride is shared by his sister who playfully calls "little Indian boy." Congratulations to the Grays, Mrs. Gray is the former Marilyn Smith.

The Joy Road Canasta Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Claude Desmond on Joy Road for an evening of fun and cards. Ladies attending were Mrs. Florence Peterson, Mrs. Eloise Mackinder, Mrs. Stella Hocking, Mrs. Edith Gennis, Mrs. Jane Kenner. The ladies will get together again on the third Tuesday in June, place not yet determined.

When the phrase "play ball!" echoed through Newburg's area, the men of the Methodist Men's group really took it to heart and "play ball" is just what they are doing. So far in two contests, May 24 and May 31, the Newburg team has come up with two victories. In their contest with St. Paul's Lutheran the final score was 22 to 2 and in their game with Nativity, the final score was 16 to 0. Glad to see them doing so well and hope to see more folks out to cheer the home team to victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hocking and son Ronald of Narise Drive, spent the recent Memorial Day week end at a cottage on Mullet Lake in northern Michigan, while the Hockings were in this area. Mr. and Mrs. Herb Frapp and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heidenrich of this vicinity were visitors at the Hocking cottage.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith of Newburg Rd. were host and hostess at a family reunion at their home. Guests for the day were many and were representatives of the Clyde Pierson and Glenn Pierson families of St. John's, Mich. In the fall season, the Smith's reverse the procedure and go to St. John's for pheasant hunting and a "meeting of the clan", so to speak.

The Good Neighbors, formerly the Mother's Club of Patchen School, met at the Arbor Lill restaurant for their annual night out on the town, Thursday, May 21. Ladies present for this evening were Stella Hicking, Edith Gennis, Margaret Desmond, Laura Mende, Dorothy Blanton, Johnnie LaBeck, Irene Overmyer, Florence Peterson, Clarice Nesbitt, Lulu Westlake, Georgiana Pregitzer and Esther Stottmeyer. Those ladies who were unable to attend this get-together are advised that the next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Westlake's Church, I might point out that the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be meeting tonight, Wednesday, June 8 in the church sanctuary with their special guest, Mrs. Theilma Phalen, Conference Secretary of Youth who will speak about the summer camp program for youth and more especially of the "Youth Caravan". All youth of the church are expressly invited to this informative evening as well as the women of the church. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kregger of Gray Ave., with their guest, Miss Kim Greenwood of Newburg Rd. (the Kregger's granddaughter), spent this past week, visiting in Harbor Springs, Cross Village and Traverse City, Michigan, enjoying the beautiful scenery of western Michigan and also visiting with friends and relatives.

The circle with the new look, a new name that is, associated with the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist Church, met at the home of Mrs. James Tomlinson on Newburg Rd., Tuesday, May 31. The circle chose as their new name, "Rebekah" and their officers are as follows, chairman, Mrs. James Tomlinson; program chairman, Mrs. Fred Bird; secretary, Mrs. James Greenwood; treasurer, Mrs. Dale Foreman; sunshine chairman, Mrs. Henry Pry and spiritual life chairman, Mrs. Everett Smith. Others present for the evening of fellowship and planning were Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Carl Lampton, Mrs. Wesley Priebe, Mrs. Roger Merrell, Mrs. Clayton Roshirt, Mrs. Robert Beasley, and Mrs. William Eastlake.

It has been nice being with you after so long of an absence and I hope you will remember to give that little old dial a twist and let us know all about you and yours. I'll look forward to being with you again, next week?

While we are mentioning the Newburg Methodist Church, I might point out that the Woman's Society of Christian Service will be meeting tonight, Wednesday, June 8 in the church sanctuary with their special guest, Mrs. Theilma Phalen, Conference Secretary of Youth who will speak about the summer camp program for youth and more especially of the "Youth Caravan". Editor:

In the last issue of the Plymouth Mail, June 2, 1960, you published a letter I had submitted to the editor concerning safety conditions in our high school. If you will please check the original copy of my letter I am sure you will find that someone, in copying the information, made a typographical error. The figure that appeared in The Mail as $7,000.00 (seven thousand dollars) should have read $75,000.00 (seventy-five thousand dollars).

While I am certain that the error was entirely unintentional, you can readily realize the misunderstandings if this mistake were to remain uncorrected. In your next issue of The Mail will you please inform your readers of the correct figure as given above.

As a candidate for the school board it is not my intention to willfully present distorted information, or to allow such information to go by uncorrected.

Clarence Wilson
(EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Wilson's original copy did contain the "5" which would have made the figure $75,000.)

HE LIKED THE MURAL

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Movie actor Russ Tamblyn is taking home to Hollywood an expensive Dallas memory—a 500 pound wall.

Tamblyn's wall has a mural by Bill McCauley on it. The wall has been a part of the Eighth Day Coffee House, but owner Don Jackson decided to enlarge the room, so Tamblyn asked him to ship the entire wall to his home.

BAD GIRLS MULTIPLY

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System, said one of the reasons additional facilities are needed is that there are three times as many women in state prisons now as there were 12 years ago.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

Inclement weather halted the Memorial Day Parade but a special thanks goes to Parade Marshal G. Olson and his assistant, Harold Gardner, for their efforts.

The Post wishes to express their thanks to Clover TV for their contribution of a public address system used for services at the High School. We would also like to express our thanks to Heide's Greenhouse for the beautiful wreath given to us for the ceremony in Kellogg Park.

We are happy to welcome Merle Lundsten, a new member, to our Post.

Our Post membership is now 160. The Membership Contest closed June 30, and we are now awaiting the final results. This contest started last year, during Bud Krumm's reign as commander. Oscar Luttermoser was the membership chairman. It has continued on into our present Commander Hal Young's year with Louis Dely serving as membership chairman. It is through the combined efforts of these men that we are usually a winner for either a trophy or a suite of rooms at the National Convention.

The State Convention in Saginaw June 16 through 18 promises to be one of the greatest. Saturday the 18th is Pageantry Day at the Convention with the Parade and Ritual Team Contest scheduled for the day and the Pageant of Drums in the evening at Arthur Hill High School Field. Our own Color Guard will be trying their utmost to dethrone the Johnson Post 78 of Detroit in the Color Guard Contest. They also have the honor as the 4th District Color Guard of leading in the Parade.

Next regular meeting will be June 15, 8 p.m.

Woodbury will be announced next week. Also the results of the election of delegates and alternates for the National Encampment to be held in Detroit in August.

Be sure to attend the Drill Team Dress Rehearsal and Anniversary Party on June 14 at 7 p.m. The girls have spent many hours in preparation for their first public appearance this year. Congratulations to the girls and to Dolly Bouterse, their most capable leader, for a job well done.

Many Post and Auxiliary members are planning to attend the State Convention at Saginaw, June 16 through 18. Please contact President Eileen Williams at GL 3-1680 if you need transportation. Let's have a good turnout from Plymouth for this important event.

As citizens with the privilege of voting may I urge each and every one of you to vote in the coming school election on June 13.

See you at the next regular meeting on June 21 at 8 p.m.

Michigan's Welfare State

Editor's Note: The writer of this column is employed by the Michigan Republican Party. We publish it when we think it has general reader interest.

By FRANK G. MORRIS
The story of Michigan during the last 10 years is epitomized by these pointed revelations:

While Detroit lost 170,935 inhabitants during the decade, that city's welfare costs (excluding old age pensions) practically doubled.

Michigan's total population increased by 19 per cent. Yet the state's expenditures for direct relief jumped more than 100 per cent!

The 1960 census showed Michigan grew at a faster rate than the national average since 1950, although not at the pace so proudly predicted by Gov. Williams.

But anyone who studies the census figures might conclude that maybe we have not been attracting the type of citizen who contributes very handsomely to the economy.

A casual observer could be forgiven, even by Walter Reuther, for concluding that Michigan must be a happy haven for the fumbler and the misbegotten.

Reuther gets into this report because he is confronted with a staggering problem. Of the 164,770 unemployed persons looking for government help in Michigan today, 110,112 have not been in high school.

Most of these slightly-educated residents came from the South in recent years, lured by expectations of happy times in a welfare state at the end of Williams' rainbow.

Citizens who wonder why a state or local income tax may be inevitable, even if a four-cent sales tax is approved next November, will find part of the answer in these simple figures:

With a population of 6,371,000 in 1950 the total cost of direct relief in Michigan was $22,809,578. The state government's share was $12,249,578.

In 1960, with a population of 7,795,000, direct relief is costing a total of $47,114,000. The state's contribution this year will be $22,500,000.

In addition, Aid to Dependent Children (the fatherless and the orphaned) has jumped in Detroit alone from $10,960,000 in 1950 to $20,500,000 in 1960.

Detroit pays no direct part of this latter bill. The entire cost of ADC in Detroit is shouldered by the state government, which collects the money from taxpayers in 83 counties.

And don't forget that since last January, the taxpayers of the whole state have been supporting the cost of Detroit's welfare load. The Williams-appointed State Welfare Commission assumed the entire burden six months ago when Detroit exhausted the insufficient funds the city's Common Council had earmarked for the purpose.

As a result of this connive by the Democratic administration, Detroit residents and industries will pay only $8,057,000 toward the city's welfare Commission assumed which ends June 30. The balance of $14,850,000 will be sent to the city by the benevolent Lansing government.

The drop in Detroit's population for the first time in the city's history was not expected in view of the great migration to the suburbs. Yet the census report brought wails of anguish from Mayor Miriani and the UAW-controlled Common Council.

In seeking a solution, native Detroiters are recalling that if a Canadian seeks a visa to move to Michigan, the U. S. government requires the immigrant to pass a test and prove he can read and write.

Handwriting Is Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams:

Read your column weekly and enjoy it very much. As many have said, it is very fascinating as to how you can tell anything by anyone's handwriting. Do you know the spiritual side of a person as well as the material?

Sincerely M.E.D. C.O.P.

Dear M.E.D. C.O.P.:

I assume all those initials mean something, quite an array. Spiritual thinking will show in writing according to the degree of thought, also material. Sometimes it is even balanced, others lean definitely one way or the other.

In your case you are a material minded person reaching up spiritually and working at it. You are determined and emphatic. Your love of variation carries you into a state of turmoil often and you get involved in more than you can handle.

You're capable of a definite purpose and aim in life but sometimes it dwindles into nothingness and becomes a "put off 'til tomorrow" project.

There is constructive creative quality here which could be expanded and developed. You are sensitive and easily irritated.

You are generous, with caution, feeling resentment towards imposition. You love to possess, own and add to what you already have — in a small way but consistently.

Dear Lucille:

Among our acquaintances is a person who is careless, thoughtless and immoral (according to our standards) yet his handwriting is quite beautiful and a joy to read — much to my surprise. Shouldn't it show? Ha! And what shows in mine?

Thank you Mrs. J. and C.

Dear Mrs. J. and C.:

Yes, many of these points would show but not in the way you think. Perfection and beauty in handwriting does not mean perfection of character. There are many little strokes that will show up and stand out to an analyst. Some of the poorest writers are very wonderful people.

You have an alert mind, thinking in an analytical and exploratory way. You seek information, sift facts, delve into the unknown and penetrate the surface.

You are sensitive to criticism and have some showing of temper.

There is capability of handling responsibility and you do have some knowledge of philosophy. You're interested in gaining both knowledge and material — adding personal possessions to mental gains. You have constructive ability with your hands.

May Chart Dips a Little

Business conditions for the month of May can best be summarized as "more of the same," with the downward pressures of recent months still the dominant force.

Buoyant effects of the late Easter season and a spell of good weather bolstered business somewhat in April, but May activity failed to hold up as well. Hence, the Babson Composite chart slipped to just under 125 in May from the 126 reading for April.

Steel industry operations were curtailed further, so that by the end of May the industry was operating at less than 70 percent of capacity. Output cuts also occurred in home appliances. In contrast to the strong April effort, retail trade failed to match normal seasonal expansion. Building also failed to show the upsurge characteristic of this time of year. Oil production suffered additional curtailment.

electronics, textile, chemical, and energy-producing fields, activity held to high rates. The spring resurgence in new car sales helped to bolster auto production and postpone the normal seasonal trimming of output.

The rising trends of exports and business capital outlays are likewise stimulating forces for business.

As 1960 approaches the halfway mark, it is encouraging to note that downward pressures are not intensifying. On the aggregate, sales, consumption, and demand are still high compared with the past, even though the accelerated growth rate expected by many has not yet commenced.

However, there is little evidence of a step-up in demand sufficient to give business a near-term uplift. In fact, record inventory holdings and declining order backlogs suggest a continuation of the downward drift in business, perhaps through the summer.

If consumer spending holds up in the meantime, the normal pickup in activity next fall could surpass seasonal standards. In the event that the cold war becomes more intense, a resultant boost in defense spending could provide a further fillip to business.

If Your Name Is Richard

By ANN REYNOLDS

A name similar to "Richard" may have existed already in Anglo-Saxon times, and since the Normans brought their own version of it across the Channel, it never ceased to be widely used among English speaking men: today "Richard" is at home in all the countries of the Western World. It is of Old German origin, and the elements that formed it are "ricja" and "hardu," meaning "rule" and "hard."

"Richard," this great favorite, gave rise to many endearing forms. These pet forms were mostly made up in order to distinguish one person from another who had the same name. Before the 12th century last names were not known, and only a much smaller number of first names than we have today, were current. This made alternate forms of the same names a good thing.

One "Richard" was maybe known as "Dick," another as "Ritchie," and a third as "Ric." When last names came into being, "Richard" became the basis for some of these, and we got "Dickson," "Richardson," and even "Hudson" and "Hudson" from it.

Men named "Richard" became famous in every century. One of these, surnamed "Coeur de Lion" or "Lion-Heart" was Richard I. of England. He was eternally bent on raising more and more money, offering for sale all his "castles, villes and farms." He even was quoted as having said, "I would sell London itself could I find a purchaser rich enough."

What did he need all that wealth for? To battle the other heads of state in Europe, and to strike terror into the hearts of his enemies, the Saracens when preparing for his expedition to the Holy Land, the 3rd Crusade.

Eventually his thirst for riches to squander caused his death. He claimed a treasure from the Lord of the Castle of Chaluz near Limoges, France, and laid siege to Chaluz. An archer shot him in the shoulder. The wound, owing to the pitiful state of medical knowledge in Richard's time, festered, and killed him. In legends he lives as a paragon of chivalry; one historian, however, considered him "a bad king, a bad son, a bad brother, a bad husband."

The truth? His faults and his virtues were those of the century that brought him forth.

Want to know of some other name? Write to Dr. Reynolds, care of this paper. For a personal reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and always print the name requested.

Mary Schloff Receives Albion College Degree

Miss Mary Louise Schloff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Schloff of 547 McKinley, Plymouth, received her bachelor of arts degree at Albion College Monday morning, June 6, during Commencement ceremonies in Goodrich chapel on the Albion campus.

The Commencement address, written by Dr. David Barnard Steinman of New York, designing engineer of the Mackinac bridge and many others throughout the world was read by President W. W. Whitehouse of Albion in the absence of Dr. Steinman, caused by his sudden ill health. President Whitehouse conferred the A.B. degree on 258 young men and women who have completed their undergraduate work at Albion. Six men were recipients of honorary degrees.

Miss Schloff also received her State Teacher's Certificate at this time. She completed the requirements for her degree in February of 1960.

ITALIAN SUPER-HIGHWAY

ROME (UPI) — Work is nearing completion on Italy's first super-highway a 450-stretching from Naples to Milan.

Several sections of the multi-million-dollar "Highway of the Sun" already are in use — from Milan to Bologna and from Bologna to Florence. Work on the project began two years ago. Involved in the construction are 51 bridges, 52 viaducts and 19 tunnels.

Students Are Urged To Business Careers

One of the nation's leading industrial spokesmen says business offers young people the widest field of choice for a career.

"I can think of no broad category of career which offers more accommodation to individual preferences and abilities than does business," Charles R. Sligh, Jr., Executive Vice-President of the National Association of Manufacturers, told students at New York University.

"The variety of jobs and positions is seemingly endless," he said, "even if we confine ourselves to the artificially limited definition of business that is generally accepted and omit the professions, the farm and other categories of business which are not usually thought of as business." Sligh said that business offers "the thrill of pioneering, complete with adventure in uncharted lands, for those who desire it, and the quiet backwater of a secure and routine task for those not so bold."

Labor, business and government often are spoken of as the three great forces of America, Sligh said. Of these, he added, both government and labor have central policy making units while business does not.

"Business includes millions of people, all with their own individual plans and objectives, often antagonistic to each other," he said. "Anyone may be a businessman—you need not be elected, you need not have a degree, no one can prevent you. There is no such thing as a central business policy."

"This means," Sligh said, "that a young person beginning a career, if he means to escape the modern-day bugaboo of conformity, can escape it better in business than elsewhere. He can find a niche that suits him perfectly. He can move from company to company which differ radically in what they can offer him. And he is free at any time to strike out on his own and be his own boss."

However, the NAM official warned, "opportunity and security are uneasy partners."

"In business, competition is a constant factor," he pointed out. "Companies compete with others for sales and within the company the employees and officers compete for advancement."

Understatement Found Overwhelming

Candid Shots Make Summer More Memorable for You

Next time you are alone at home, shout these words: "I adore you!" Wait a moment and then whisper the same three words. Consider the difference in probable effect, and you will have an adorable example of how effective understatement can be. Remembering this example may pay off at home, on the job and when visiting—for a lifetime.

Want more examples? Many go unnoticed every day. Compare a brilliant little diamond with a big hunk of costume jewelry... listen to a little girl's laugh in a playground filled with the noise of mothers' admonitions... and the principle becomes even more clear: small volume may be more impressive than big volume!

Or consider the amateur gardener's classic understated reply when asked how his tomatoes were growing: "Well, some are the size of peas, and some the size of marbles, but I also have some little ones!"

able to throw stones in them!" Can you detect, through observation, any personal rules of understatement? At least four seem apparent.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Gramps Tells a "Moving" Story

Gramps Adams just got back from his first trip to the city in 40 years. Thinking there might be a story in an oldtimer's impressions of the big city, I stopped by his place. Gramps was pretty enthusiastic about everything—except the escalators they have in the new department store. "Sure, those moving stairs are easy on the legs going up," Gramps commented. "But just try to get down on the same ones. I'll be jiggered if you can do it, not with the steps comin' up at you a mile a minute!"

From where I sit, sometimes some of us go out of our way to make things a little harder than they really are. Think, for instance, how much easier living with our neighbors would be if we were more tolerant of things. Like my right to choose an occasional glass of beer—your right to choose coffee, tea or milk. By respecting each other's preferences, we're better neighbors with fewer "ups and downs."

Joe Marsh

History proves how memorable understatement can be. For example, among the billions of words and expressions Americans have used during wartime, how many are as famous as these: I shall return. I have not yet begun to fight. Sighted sub, sank same. We have met the enemy, and they are ours. Remember Pearl Harbor. Don't fire 'til you see the whites of their eyes. Humorists also confirm the power of understatement.

Vocabulary — In a gathering of intelligent people, the man who uses the shortest words and simplest language is often the most distinctive.

On the job — Those who get the furthest the fastest seem to do so not by making their successes known to the "brass" at every opportunity, but by going to the other extreme, concentrating almost entirely on doing rather than telling. The boss, this idea holds, is more impressed when he "discovers" talent than when it is pushed under his nose.

Architecture has demonstrated the impact of understatement. At the turn of the century, architecture was as ornate as the builder could afford. Today, architects make dramatic use of straight lines and larger, flat areas. Says an authority on architecture: "The era of simplicity and functionalism in architecture is just beginning. The newest developments in materials and methods make this clear. People may not only soon live in glass houses, but also be

Gifts — Here, the law of understatement says to buy the best product made in a price area you can afford, rather than spending the same money on a lower quality "high ticket" item.

Sun-dappled sidewalks and the hum of children's voices sifting in through screened windows are basic ingredients of summertime. So is photographing all the family fun under the sun! And it takes just one picture of a child's face "holding wonder like a cup" at the discovery of an ant colony or the action of an ant colony to make a summer memorable! A simple working formula for your summer outlook on the family album is: (a) an ample stock of film, (b) your children's absorption in any of their myriad summer activities, (c) a camera ready for clicking on short notice!

You need only these items to provide all-year-round enjoyment of Junior's finding his first frog or Sister's impish expression of children caught in the act of being themselves — treasured supplements to the planned special occasion shots such as the family picnic.

Sunlight, unfortunately casts its own shadows. This is especially annoying on faces in close-ups. One solution is front lighting; that is, having your subject face into the sun. Another is side lighting in which half the face is bright and the other half shadowed.

A flash lamp (it should always be a blue one for color film), fired from the correct distance will wash-out shadows and pick-up all the radiance in your small subject's face.

No Hot Heads In Cool Home,

Families who live in air-conditioned houses are more energetic and have better dispositions, according to a study made by Dr. Donald A. Blankertz, of the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.

No matter how fleeting these unposed moments may be, a quick view of your subject generally gives you a chance to check your background. Is it cluttered? Would another shooting angle offer better composition? These are considerations which determine your ultimate satisfaction with your picture quality. However, if the immediacy of your shot is such that you can't rectify these situations on the spot, you can probably improve on your original print through cropping and enlargement.

But either strategy implies a posed picture and has little point when you're concerned with candid shots of your children.

For close-ups, allow about six feet with a box camera though some adjustable cameras permit a focus of less than three feet. But at these distances, be sure you use a flash guard or cover the flash-holder reflector with two thicknesses of a white handkerchief.

Fill-in flash is your best approach to these pictures. It may seem strange to use a flash lamp in broad daylight but the fact is that flash lamps are most helpful when the sun is brightest. It follows that the brighter the sun—the darker the accompanying shadow!

Care of Steam Irons

BY ROSELLA M. BANNISTER

Wayne County Extension Agent, Home Economics

You may have discovered that your steam iron will run on tap water—but not forever. Sooner or later some minerals from the water will settle inside the iron and finally they'll clog the steam openings.

water at the drug store, or you can collect rain water in a clean glass or enamel container. Avoid water that runs off roofs or trees because it may be discolored.

Steam irons operate best on mineral-free water, even though some salesmen and instruction books recommend tap water.

Home water softening systems remove calcium and magnesium but they are not designed to remove iron. The harder the water, the faster mineral deposits are built-up inside the steam iron.

Commercially distilled water or rain water are mineral-free. You can usually purchase distilled

If your steam iron is badly clogged, you would be wise to send the iron back to the manufacturer for cleaning. In some cases, however, you can clean the iron at home.

Here is the method recommended by Georgianne Baker, home management specialist at Michigan State University, for cleaning steam irons at home.

Cover the ironing board with newspapers, then spread an old cloth over the top. Use one cup of water and two tablespoons of a non-precipitating water conditioner, such as Calgon. Fill the iron with this mixture and set it for high heat.

When the iron is hot, turn the control to steam. This produces a tremendous force of steam which literally "blows out" the mineral deposits. Gently shake the iron to help the action.

When the water-Calgon mixture has steamed out, fill the iron with a second mixture of one cup water and one tablespoon of distilled white vinegar. Repeat the process.

The final step is to fill the iron with clean water and follow the same process.

The first time you use the iron after you clean it, test it on an old cloth to be sure all loose deposits have been removed.

Canton Residents Look Forward to Missionary Son's Visit; Gallimore Youngsters Perform

By ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL 3-0194

Another week and a little bit on news about people in the Township.

The Canton Community Club met June 8 to complete their plans for their forthcoming Strawberry Festival. The Festival will be on June 23, and the tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from any Boy Scout of Troop 298. Donation is 35 cents or three tickets for $1. This year your ticket, besides treating you to delicious strawberry shortcake and ice cream, will also entitle you to a chance on a very special prize an R.C.A. radio. The festival will start at 7 p.m. and will continue until 9 p.m. at the Geddes Rd. Township Hall. Tickets also can be obtained from the Cub Scouts of Troop 298 and Explorers of Post 298. We also want to remind you folks the purchase of your ticket will aid the boys on their camping trips and you do not have to be present to win the R.C.A. radio.

Not meaning to sound like a broken record, but realizing the importance of the scrap metal drive to the boys of Troop 298, we want to remind you folks the fellows are still busily collecting scrap and will be through June. The Scouts wanted to thank all you folks who have already donated your scrap metal. They really appreciate it. If you do have scrap you wish to give, it may be picked up by calling one of the following men: Harold Voss, GL 3-2996; Art Lea, GL 3-0352; John Campbell, GL 3-5199 or John Robertson, GL 3-0260.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Truesdell of Cherry Hill, announced the forthcoming wedding of their son, Corp. Robert Truesdell, to Diane Baldwin of Auburn, Wash. The wedding will take place on June 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Bordine of Saltz Rd., enjoyed the weekend visit of Mrs. Bordine's mother, Mrs. Sarah Stewart of Detroit.

A wedding shower was given by Mrs. Arthur Rocco, Mrs. Pelchat and Mrs. Irwin at the Irwin home on Hanford Rd., for Mrs. Irwin's niece, Miss Lorraine Glass of Detroit. The 25 guests enjoyed the games and prizes, followed by a luncheon, highlighted by a specially decorated cake. The guests enjoyed viewing the many beautiful gifts received by the bride-to-be.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin of Hanford Rd. had house guests for the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyle of Lake, Mich. and their family.

Mr. and Mrs. Rocco of Napier Rd. enjoyed the visit of Mrs. Rocco's aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Scott and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Gladys Scott, and two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carvey of Beck Rd. are anxiously looking forward to a visit with their son, Rev. Vernon Carvey and his wife and three sons, John, Chuck and Timothy. The family have just returned from the Philippines, where Rev. Carvey has served the past 4 1/2 years as a missionary. The visit has another very special aspect. Grandpa and Grandma Carvey have never met their grandson, John. The family will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carvey for a few weeks, and will locate in Michigan until after Christmas.

Mrs. Robert Orr, formerly of Canton, now residing in Hudson, Mich., was in the Township for a week, visiting with her family and former neighbors.

The parents of the boys and girls of the Gallimore School enjoyed a very wonderful program put on by the boys and girls of the fifth and sixth grade band and chorus groups. The band was directed by Wayne Dunlap and the chorus by Miss Judy Atwood. The audience of about 225 people were astonished by the accomplishment of these young people, made possible by the fine work of their instructors.

The group was photographed by Miss Atwood's father, Mr. Atwood, who also tape-recorded the program. The boys and girls will enjoy hearing their program, as it was heard by their parents. Following the evening's program, a short talk explaining the school's forthcoming election was presented by Gerald Fischer.

Earl Gibson, principal, expressed his regrets at losing many of our parents and P.T.A. member workers due to the new zoning to take effect next fall, returning many of our students to a school nearer their homes upon completion of the new addition to Bird School, but with them went the assurance of an enjoyable association with their new group.

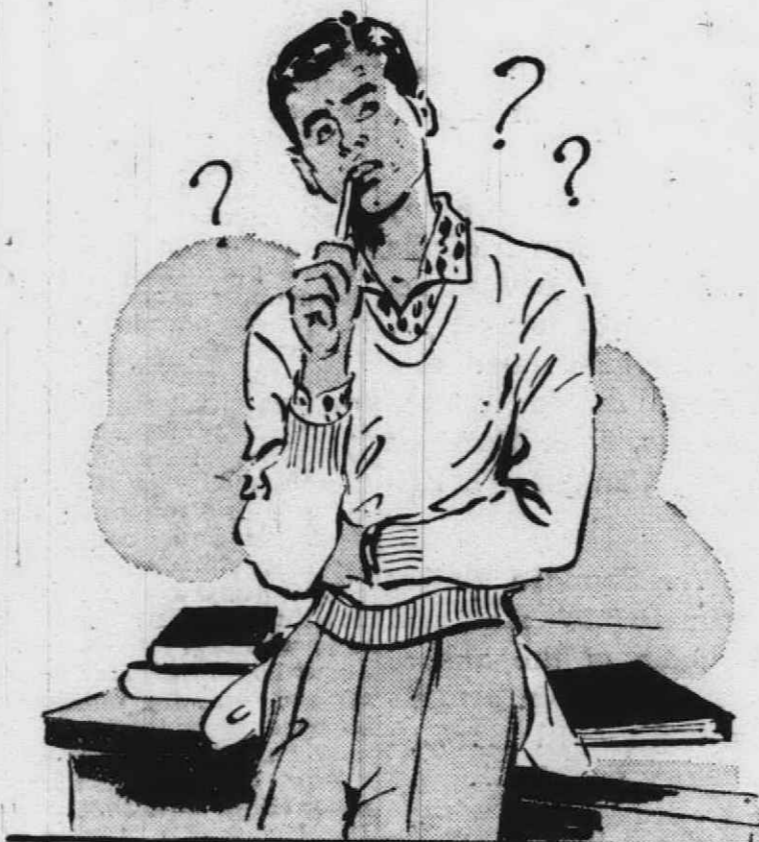

The following officers were elected: president, Ralph Schroeder; vice-president, Irene Burrow; secretary, Karen Osenton; treasurer, Lois Vetal. The group enjoyed refreshments served by the mothers of the third grade, of cupcakes, coffee and punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bordine of Saltz Rd. attended an 80th birthday celebration for Mrs. Bordine's sister-in-law, Mrs. George (Mable) Bordine of Carleton, Mich. at her son's home. Mr. and Mrs. John Bordine accompanied the Allen Bordines to the birthday dinner.

That does it, except for a reminder. I would like the names of all our young people graduating from High School this year. I do have some names now, but would like a complete list.

TIPS for TEENS

ELINOR WILLIAMS

"Dear Elinor: I am a boy 17 years old and I have a good reputation. I don't drink or run around. When my oldest brother was my age, the folks had bought him three cars, gave him all the gas he wanted and he also had 40 to 50 dollars a month to spend... and just asked for more when he ran out of money. Now my folks won't even give me an allowance and they say I cannot have a car until I can afford to buy one myself. How can I get them to give me a car and an allowance?"

things aren't going so well in business.

Or perhaps they now have reason to believe that their generosity did your brother more harm than good, so they've resolved to avoid the same situation with you for your own sake.

True, it's good for you to earn the money for a car. But earning enough money for all your personal needs, without the aid of an allowance, might be hard on you and your school grades, if it takes too much time from school work. You're old enough to have a part-time job and summer jobs to pay for some personal needs and "extras" (date money), but perhaps an allowance should help cover some, too, to insure time for school books.

It's immature — and not very he-man — to expect your parents to supply all the luxuries when you're practically full-grown, able-bodied with a mind and muscles that can help provide some of them for you. Every job is an experience that will be helpful and valuable all your life when you're earning EVERYTHING for yourself and a family of your own.

When you have a job, talk this matter over quietly with your parents in a reasonable, not a demanding, way. Show them exactly what expenses your earnings will pay and how much will be left to save for a car. If necessary, they will probably be glad to help by adding an allowance.

POOL BUILDING RISES

NEW YORK (UPI)—An estimated 70,000 swimming pools were built in this country last year at a cost of more than $750 million, according to the National Swimming Pool Institute.

This brought the total in the United States at the end of 1959 to about 255,000. In 1948 there were less than 11,000 pools.

Annual Horse Show Sat. at South Lyon

The South Lyon Jaycees are presenting their 2nd annual Horse Show on Saturday, June 11 and Sunday, June 12. It will be held at the Woods and Water Farm at Pontiac Trail and Nine Mile in South Lyon.

Classes start each day at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. sharp. Cattle cutting will be featured both days. The show is approved by the Appaloosa, Pony, Morgan and Quarter Horse Assns. and will consist of Appaloosa and Ponies on Saturday with Morgan and Quarter Horses on Sunday in halter and performance classes.

The show is "Open to the World." There will be refreshment stands on the grounds.

Of special interest to the younger set is the appearance each day of WXYZ-TV's Ricky the Clown with his llama. "Ricky" will put on a show both days at 1 p.m. There will also be kiddie rides, cotton candy, etc. On the adult tickets four door prizes will be given away: a pony, portable TV, bicycle, and a radio. Adult tickets are $1. Children ages 5 through 12 50 cents and under five years will be admitted free.

Get your tickets at the gate.

Visits Jungle Gardens

During a recent visit to the "Sun Coast" of Florida, Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, 697 N. Harvey, Plymouth, enjoyed seeing Sarasota Jungle Gardens. The visitors mingled with flamingos and other exotic wild fowl roaming uncaged amid some of Florida's finest scenery. During their trip the visitors walked through jungle trails bordered by huge Royal Palms, saw hundreds of different tropical plants, and watched bees actually make honey.

TEXAS GETS OLD PAPERS

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—A collection of parchment documents and seals dating as far back as 1399 that were found buried in the rubble of war-torn Germany has been presented to the University of Texas.

Three of the documents presented to the school by Dr. Richard L. Etter of Houston have been identified as the records of land transactions made in 1399, 1612 and 1623. A fourth, written in Latin, was identified as a diploma from the University of Treves, dated Oct. 12, 1722.

Plymouth High School News

With four years of high school at an end, and final exams finished, seniors gathered at the Michigan Union ballroom yesterday evening for the senior banquet.

Senior class president Jay Selle delivered the invocation, and welcomed seniors for a roast beef dinner and dancing to the music of the "Blue Notes."

Class funds went for the payment of the meal and facilities ... the night was "on the class."

A Senior Farewell Assembly on June 1 saw seniors saying "good-bye" to their alma mater ... and receiving scholastic recognition. With a Hollywood Oscar night theme, senior honor key winners were heralded with the roll of drums, the suspenseful ripping of the white envelope, the sound of music appropriate to their field ... and then the winner ran up to the stage in a flurry of excitement to accept the award.

Randy Egloff took the athletic department's honor key ... Brenda Richardson captured two of the coveted keys, one for English and the other for Social Studies ... Mavis Williams and Dick Hubert, whose selection as best boy and girl citizen of the senior class were announced earlier in the year, both got citizenship keys.

Receiving awards in the field of industrial arts were Gordon Jewell, Leroy Isaac and Edward Sol-eau. Gordon got one for architectural drawing, Leroy was cited for outstanding work in machine shop and Ed for excellence in general shop.

Sharon Neal received a journalism honor key for her "supporting role" in work on the school paper ... Peter Alford got the honor key in science

... Dave Green and Lary Smith were cited by the mathematics department ... German exchange student Ursula Kell, who speaks both English and French as foreign languages, has a modern language key to remind her of her American experience.

From the girls' athletic department came a key for Karen West ... April Corey and Jim McCabe both got drama honor keys ... Gloria Bowles received honor keys in French and journalism ... Sally Sawyer got an honor key for vocal music and Dennis Simpson one for instrumental music ... Marilyn Holst received one for business, Jean Murdock for occupational training and Judy Canup for home-making.

There were other awards ... Sandra Bailey and Judy Herrick of the "Pilgrim Prints" staff and Barb Browne and Geralee Rehbein of the annual were presented Michigan Press Association awards by Jim Sponseller of the Plymouth Mail ... Lon Dickerson received the DAR history award ...

... Sally Sawyer was awarded a certificate indicating her high standing in an English contest sponsored by the National Council of the Teachers of English.

Although classes are over, seniors still have several school functions. Scheduled for June 12 is baccalaureate ...

... And the big night—graduation—to be held outdoors this year—is on June 16. Commencement speaker will be Guy Hill, from Michigan State. The father of graduate Alan Davies, Rev. David B. Davies, will deliver the invocation.

... And after graduation and baccalaureate too ... a round of parties and an all-out celebration ...

The Senior Executive Board, after several meetings and much bickering finally decided what to do with the class's $300 ... left over after all bills had been paid. Twenty percent of the money will go to the industrial arts department, 40 percent to both the chem lab and the French department, which will have a new language lab next year.

The Water Waves Club, after a triumphant swim show, elected new officers. Election results were announced at a Mayflower Hotel banquet. New VIPs in the club are president, Sue Worthington; vice-president, Greta Jensen; secretary-treasurer, Kathy Battle. Class reps are senior, Sue Utter; junior, Carol Hudson and sophomore, Susan McIntyre.

And now, after some eighty (80!) What a thought!) columns, this graduate will turn over the PHS column to Lester Bartson III, the new editor of "Pilgrim Prints" ... he will debut next week. Au Revoir ... it's been nice knowing you!!!

It is a pity that makers of high fidelity equipment can't get together and agree not to announce improvements or radical changes in equipment until the equipment is ready for the home.

When the first stereo record made by the Westrix process was produced, all the stereo record playing equipment in the country probably could have been stored in a telephone booth.

But the record and resulting publicity caused component manufacturers to hurriedly design stereo equipment. They rushed a lot of it to market and sold it months before it should have come out of the laboratory.

Every new blast about multiplexing on FM causes persons who have been thinking about buying a tuner to put it off and wait for multiplexing to become widespread. They may have to wait some time. Now comes an announcement about tape that plays at 1 1/2 inches per second.

Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. sponsored the development and CBS Laboratories did the actual work. Tape and tape reproducing equipment manufacturers understandably are eager to find a way to make their product compete in price with stereo records.

One - and - seven - eights inch - per - second tape will play about five hours to a reel. If the quality is equal to records, it may be what the tape people are looking for.

But neither 1 1/2 inch-per-second tape nor equipment to play it is ready for sale and there is no indication when it will be. In the meantime, what is it going to do to four-track 7 1/2 inch-per - second tape?

The Institute of High Fidelity, to which most component manufacturers belong, says this about the new tape in its "Confidential News Letters."

already started and a full speed-go-ahead were given, it is doubtful that the equipment could become available to the public within six months at a minimum, and a year is a better guess.

"To date, none of the recognizing high-quality tape recorder manufacturers has made any announcement which indicated that they had adopted a program tending toward the new system.

"On the contrary, Ampex has proclaimed that it would work along with the industry to develop a suitable cartridge and if such a device were to become standardized in the industry, Ampex would 'go along'.

The institute's letter then brings up the point that if it is possible to produce the better grade of tape which the new slow speed requires, might not this new tape make it possible to get 30-inch-per-second performance out of the now standard 7 1/2-inch-per-second equipment?

The slower the speed, the more difficult it is to keep wv and flutter down to acceptable levels. Furthermore, the institute points out that if the new speed became standard it would mean starting from scratch with both equipment and recorded tapes.

The institute advises owners of tape equipment to go ahead and increase their collections of 7 1/2-inch - per-second tape and persons thinking about buying equipment for the first time to go ahead and buy.

But how many are going to take the advice?

Gleanings of the Plymouth Grange

Seventy members attended the last regular business meeting and many enjoyed the pot luck supper last Thursday evening.

A youth program was presented under the leadership of Sister Virginia Fehlig who heads the Grange sponsored 4-H Club. David Norman, president of the club, gave an outline of their projects and activities for the year.

The girls put on a style show wearing the dresses they had made under the direction of sister Helen Faraday and were all very pretty.

Norman and Dale Tritton explained all of the other articles on display and made by different members which included woodcraft, photography, electrical, etc., a flower which everyone had the privilege of inspecting the fine work.

Much credit is given the group and their leaders for a year of worthwhile activities and our Grange should be very proud of them.

More leaders are needed for various projects. Enrollment requirements for members of 4-H is age 10 to 21 years. Call Sister Fehlig for further information.

The group met at the hall on Monday evening, June 5 for their summer projects.

Last chance to make reservations for the trip to Washington, D.C. Good news came when State Master William Brake called to say the bus will come to Plymouth and pick up the passengers rather than Adrian so call Master Tritton or State office by the 10th if you plan to go.

Sewing of cancer pads is on Tuesday, June 14. Let's make it a real flag day by having a large attendance.

There will be a public ice cream social at the hall on Friday evening June 17. Ice cream, strawberries, cake and coffee will be served.

Happy to report brother Spicer's stay in the hospital was very brief and he was able to come to Grange last Thursday. Can't keep a good man down.

Sister Mabel Mott is in Community Hospital in Northville, very sick. Sister Flora Rathburn is with her daughter again, condition remains about the same. Brother and Sister Kin-kade's daughter, Mrs. Laura Kickfield, underwent her fourth operation last Friday.

Cards sent to all of the sick and shut-ins are always appreciated. Grange meetings during July and August will be regular potluck and business on the first Thursday and picnic in the park on the third Thursday evening.

The annual corn roast at Wiloughby Wisely's will be August 13. Those who have attended other years are looking forward to the date. Hope more members can go this year.

Meet Board of Education Candidates

Gerald J. Fischer

Born in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Gerald J. Fischer is assistant controller of Ford Division, Ford Motor Co. He lives at 505 McKinley.

He graduated from Princeton University and Rutgers Graduate School. During World War II he was supply officer in the Navy Reserve, serving in the Pacific. He co-authored "Ships for Victory," a history of merchant shipbuilding in the U.S. during World War II. He has had several federal government assignments: the Maritime Commission, the Economic Cooperation Administration and President's Emergency Railroad Board.

He has been trustee and elder of First United Presbyterian Church, president of the Plymouth Symphony Society and is chairman of the Finance and Fact-Finding Committee of the Plymouth Community School Planning Group during the current year. He is also a member of the American Statistical Association, American Management Association and Phi Beta Kappa. He has been organist and choir director in several churches in Washington, D.C., New Jersey and Michigan.

The Fischers have three children, Gerald and Kenneth in the Senior High Norman Bird School and Martha Anne of pre-school age.

"If elected, I would like to see the following accomplished:

"1. A thorough review of the academic program of our schools. I believe the Board and the public need an evaluation of the quality of our education, and a determination of our strong points and weak points particularly in terms of curriculum, teacher training, and the challenging of students at all levels of ability.

"2. A better communication between the Board of Education, school administration and the public. I believe the Board should establish clear plans, policies and programs for handling school affairs and then provide forthright statements to the public regularly as the basis for a better understanding and a more informed public opinion on important school matters.

"3. A sound plan for financing our school needs, both operational and facilities. I believe the pay-as-you-go facilities plan, which was sponsored by a citizens' committee and was placed on the June 13 ballot by the Board for voter approval represents an excellent example of a way to provide for our basic educational requirements with substantial savings to the taxpayers. A careful attention by the Board to both the school operating budget and the school construction budget can give the taxpayers the most for their money and keep taxes within reasonable bounds.

"If elected, I would give my best efforts to the advancement of education in the interests of all the people of the Plymouth Community."

Esther Hulsing

The only incumbent candidate, Mrs. Esther Hulsing has six years of service on the Board. During the current year she has been president of the Board, the second woman to hold this position.

Born in Montana, she received a bachelor of science degree from Montana State College and a master of science degree from Ohio State. Member of St. John's League and the Episcopal Church Women, Girl Scouts, Daughters of the American Revolution, American Association of University Women, Woman's Club of Plymouth, the executive board of the Wayne County Association of School Board Members and a member of the proposed Northwestern Wayne County Community College study committee.

She has been president of the St. John's League, Episcopal Church Women, Woman's Club, Central PTA and vice-president of the PTSA. Prior to becoming president of the School Board, she was secretary for three years. She has held many positions in Girl Scout work and other organizations of which she is a member.

She and her husband, Kenneth, have three daughters, Ann, attending Stanford University, and Susan and Mary, attending Plymouth High. The Hulsings live at 1010 Church St.

"If elected to the board of education there are three important things I should like to see accomplished:

"One, I should like to see the adoption of a well-planned long-range building program so that board members would be able to spend a greater portion of their time helping to evaluate and improve our curriculum. Adequate and comfortable school buildings are essential—just as are good books, films, strips, modern up-to-date textbooks, movies, etc.—or any other tool a good teacher needs to work with.

"Two, I would like to see the completion of our written policies which was started in January of this year. Basically your school board should be a policy making board and not an administrative one. Written policies with their accompanying administrative procedures should be formulated and available to school personnel, board members and the public. There must be guide lines for both board members and administrators to make them aware of their respective responsibilities.

"Three, the key person in the improvement of our already good school system is the classroom teacher. He or she in the final analysis makes the instruction good or bad. We must hire good teachers to begin with and then assist them to improve. The school board has a responsibility in the latter in several respects. We should see that there is an incentive for teachers to improve themselves.

"Within our system we should encourage the teachers to look at our classroom offerings and evaluate them in the light of improving them. Written policies on this are of great assistance. Interested persons can be called on for their ideas. Some of the things that should be done need not cost money but do require creative and imaginative thinking. This must be encouraged."

Abraham Kooiman

Since 1951, Abraham M. Kooiman has been in safety engineering, a position he now holds with the Plymouth plant of the Burroughs Corp.

He graduated with a B.A. degree from Michigan State after serving in the Army in Italy during World War II. He was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart during his tour of duty.

He has been president of the Society of Technical Safety Engineers this past year, is secretary of the Plymouth Goodfellows, is a member of the Society of Technical Safety Engineers, Southeastern Michigan Fire Chiefs Assn., Industrial Fire Prevention and Protection Assn. and the Plymouth Theater Guild. As a member of the Society of Safety Engineers, he has served on several special committees.

During the current year, he was a member of the Safety and Health Committee of the Plymouth Community School Planning Group.

Mr. and Mrs. Kooiman, who live at 765 Parkway Dr., have three children, Kathleen Ann in the Junior High, Micaela Maureen, at Starkweather, and Dirk Jon, a pre-schooler.

"In order to select goals for the future, we must first consider what our guiding principles must be, and what materials or methods we have on hand to utilize.

"A school board has two general policies. One is to educate the children passing through the system. The other is to continue to educate the adults in the school area.

"By education, I mean more than technical achievements. We must educate children and adults to accept their responsibilities in our way of life. This means social, civic and historical education in its broadest sense. It means bringing children to adulthood and bringing adults to a fuller maturity.

"To do this we have to have the materials and the personnel. Of these, the personnel are, in my belief, the more important. The Sermon on the Mount was given without the benefit of elaborate visual aids, massive auditoriums or plush seating. The setting is little known, but the teacher has not been forgotten.

"With this in mind, these are the goals I would select:

"1. The best teaching and administrative staff, with the necessary salaries needed to keep them.

"2. Less emphasis on the building beautiful and more on the building utilitarian.

"3. Longer school days and terms, if necessary, to turn out completely a adult graduates, not just technically correct computers.

"All forecasters predict that the sixties will be exciting and challenging. We all must grow to meet that challenge, and our school system is best suited to aid us to grow.

"The Plymouth School District has had an outstanding reputation in the academic field. I would like to see that reputation grow, so that other communities will look to Plymouth."

Clarence M. Wilson

A district manager in the Circulation Department of the Detroit Times, Clarence M. Wilson was born in Gleecheen, Alberta, Canada. He graduated from Mackenzie High in Detroit and attended Wayne State University, Detroit Institute of Technology and University of Wisconsin.

For three and a half years during World War II he served in the Army. He is a past member, president and secretary-treasurer of the Plymouth Optimist Club and was president of the Band Parents Assn. during the current school year. He was Cubmaster of Bird School Pack 293 for two years. He belongs to St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who live at 13887 Ridgewood Dr., have four children, Clare Ann in the Senior High, Robert in the Junior High, John and Elizabeth in Bird School. In answer to the question of what he would like to see accomplished if elected to the Board, Mr. Wilson replied:

"I have lived in the Plymouth community for eight years and have four children in the public schools. I am keenly interested in getting the best education possible for our children and doing so through the most efficient use of your tax dollar. I would also like to work for the following improvements in the operation of our school district.

"Communication: An urgent need exists for a more complete communication between the board of education and the people they are elected to represent. The citizens of our community must be more fully informed in order to make intelligent decisions at the voting booth.

"Just how could this be accomplished? As a starting point complete and accurate information regarding requests for millage increases should be furnished to the taxpayer well in advance of an election. Every possible media should be used; the newspaper, service clubs, veterans' groups, PTA's, and other civic organizations. The members of these groups would undoubtedly welcome an opportunity to listen to and ask questions of a member of the school board.

"I feel that the best friend a school board can have is a community that has been well informed and considered in the board's planning. More town hall type meetings where citizens could express their views on educational needs could be the answer. Is there a better way to inform the voter and listen to his views simultaneously? Publishing the details of the board's plan and intentions a few days prior to an election does not seem to be a straightforward approach to presenting a program to the voters.

"Safety: More attention should be given to the safety of our present buildings. Some time ago the Fire Marshal made certain safety recommendations. The 1958-1959 board corrected some deficiencies, and also built a two-story addition to the High School. The present board seems to have adopted an indifferent attitude, but as an afterthought decided to correct them under the millage proposal to be voted on June 13. What happens after the election if the millage proposal is defeated? This leaves the board in the position of having spent all available funds for other items, with no provision made for the safety of the High School children.

"Economy: Every dollar of the taxpayer's money should be spent intelligently. Building plans must be practical and economical. Every avenue should be explored to fulfill this purpose.

"In summary, I feel that every effort should be expended to improve the lines of communication between the board and the people they represent, to provide and maintain the best available safe educational facilities at a reasonable cost."

Adventists Collecting Clothes For Chilean Disaster Victims

A special drive for clothing for Chilean earthquake victims is being made in Plymouth by the Morcas Society the Seventh-day Adventist Church, 41233 E. Ann Arbor Trail.

Mrs. Wayne VanOrman, president of the society, asks that anyone having winter clothing such as warm coats, suits, dresses, and children's clothing contact her, at GL 3-0675, or the secretary, at GL 3-2499 and arrangements will be made to pick up the contributions.

Since it is winter in Chile, blankets will be needed also. On June 19 the local church will send the clothing gathered to Lansing where it will be shipped to the church's east coast clothing warehouse where it will be baled and transported by the army to Chile.

According to word received from the Red Cross, more than two million people or about one-fourth of the population is homeless. Approximately one-fifth of the land area of the South American nation has been affected by the disastrous quakes. In the United States this would be equivalent to the destruction of the entire Eastern seaboard from Maine to Florida and as far west as a line from New Orleans to Detroit. Pastor Florea reported to the congregation that the Adventist missions in Chile have already contributed $50,000 in cash and supplies to the earthquake victims.

CARE Gave Exchange Student Badly Needed Pair of Shoes

By URSULA KELL

A little while ago I got some articles from German newspapers. They talked about a thing which is now in the past, but many Germans will remember and will thankfully look back to it.

In the years after the war the word "CARE" was a magic word to many Germans. There was hunger and misery among the people and families did not have enough money to buy the necessary things and very often these things weren't even available. And then there were people in the United States who heard of this—and acted. They started sending packages, packages with groceries, clothes, tools, books and many other things.

First after the armistice of 1945 the American Welfare Organization tried to help, but they were busy with too many things already, mainly home affairs. So they couldn't take the time to solve the problems that came up by transportation difficulties and import taxes. Instead the CARE Organization (the Co-Operative for American Remittances to Everywhere) was founded. It was founded in November of 1945, and on May 9, 1946 the first package arrived in Le Havre, France. A German newspaper says to this: "The crusade of charity had begun." In the course of time there arrived more than 2,000,000 CARE packages in West Berlin and West Germany. They represented a value of more than 350 million "Deutsch-Mark."

I remember when I was about seven years old. My little sister and I had no shoes at all, so we walked barefoot all summer long (which was fun, of course). But in the fall and winter the trouble began. I got some shoes carved out of wood, but they were real heavy and hard to walk in. My grandmother made some shoes for my little sister. The material was from all different colors and different types of cloth.

She had collected for a long time every little piece of cloth she could find, it was so hard to get some new ones. These shoes were not very good for bad weather, but at least she was better off than walking barefoot. In the first time we used to sleep on straw and we drank out of cans, because there were no cups to get.

And then one day my mother came home with a big surprise: she had gotten two pairs of shoes, and not shoes out of wood or cloth, but out of leather. I couldn't believe that I had gotten a pair of leather shoes. My mother told us they were part of a parcel sent by the Americans. I did not know at that time who the Americans were, the only thing I knew about then was what I heard and that was mostly something in relationship with "parcels," "chocolate" and "chewing-gum."

I remember another day when my mother came home with a new sheet for our bed. What a wonderful feeling it was to sleep on a sheet instead of straw or old and rough blankets. All these little things which seem to be so natural today were little miracles to us, and thousands of American CARE packages brought this miracle into German families. America and CARE became one idea, and it was the idea of something very good, to thousands of Germans.

Here is a little paragraph taken out of a German newspaper: "Die Welt" talking about what "CARE" meant to us.

"The CARE mission for Germany is dissolved. Many of us will hear this message with a little bit of amazement perhaps. The word "CARE" reminds us of terrible times of hunger, and which—so fast we can forget—seem to be a long, long time ago. Those who were so lucky to get parcels from American friends by CARE, they will be eager today to thank the organization of CARE and also the American people."

"I have to admit that those Americans who again and again opened their purse to give $10 for CARE gave us a great lesson. They made known to hundreds of thousands, if not millions of Germans the most wonderful quality of the Americans: The spontaneous humanity that can't be helped. For it was true for innumerable cases that quite strange people over there in the United States sent those packages to German families, just because they had heard of their misery by a third person."

Now this program of CARE has left Germany, because there is not much misery left in our country. But that doesn't mean there is no need at all for CARE anymore. There are always people somewhere who are hungry and the need for CARE will never cease.

Idaho farmers harvested 177,200 acres of potatoes last year. Plans are for 186,000 acres of potatoes in 1958.

Library of Congress Acquires Map of Colonial America
 WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Library of Congress has acquired a rare old map of Colonial America, drawn more than a century before the revolution.
 It depicts Maryland, Virginia and a portion of Carolina. It was drawn in 1670 by Augustine Herrmann, a surveyor who immigrated to America from Bohemia.
 Experts say that, with the exception of the famous map of Virginia drawn by Capt. John Smith in 1612, it is the best job of cartography done in the early colonial period.
 The map has long been the property of France's National Library. Arthur A. Houghton Jr., New York philanthropist, obtained it for the Library of Congress in an exchange in which he gave the French library a 15-Century nautical chart of the Mediterranean.

Attending Wellesley College Reunion

Mrs. F. Donald Sober, 15465 Bradner Rd., Plymouth, will be among the 1,000 alumnae returning to Wellesley College for the annual Wellesley Weekend June 9-12 on the campus in Wellesley, Mass. Members of 15 classes from 1895 to 1955 will hold reunions.

One highlight of reunion will be the breaking of ground for McAfee Hall, a dormitory to be named in honor of Mildred McAfee Horton, president of Wellesley from 1936-1949. Mrs. Horton, who was director of the WAVES during World War II, will take part in the groundbreaking ceremony for the dormitory which will house 145 students.

USELESS APPENDAGE CHILDRESS, Tex. (UPI)—Chances are no one will want to run for constable here after Jan. 1, 1961. The county commissioners voted to reduce the salary from $100 a month to $1 per year. They decided there are enough law enforcement officers here without constables.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

It is comforting to know that the public is protesting to the practice of swimming in the nude in our high school. It is not unreasonable to assume that if we can afford the pool in the first place, then we can afford to provide the proper facilities to allow our boys to swim decently without undue expense. Our primary concern is that they be allowed at least the consideration of a covering for their most intimate parts. We are capable of providing a way that is acceptable to all. After all, we are not animals.

There is only one thing involved here — whether we want to accept man's reasoning, or God's Word. The Bible gives us the account of the creation of man, and it was good. In Gen. 2:25 we have the first mention of nakedness. "And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed." In the next chapter we find that man has fallen, and because sin has entered his body, he has need of a covering. Gen. 3:7 "And they sewed fig leaves together and made themselves aprons." It is intended that we feel shame, indeed we have reason to be.

There are numerous instances in scripture to bear this out.

The believer is given further instruction. (Cor. 6:19) "What know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you . . . ?" 3:18 "If any man defile the Temple of God, him shall God destroy, for the Temple of God is Holy, which temple ye are." Col. 2:8 is a warning: "Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy, and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world and not after Christ."

"The fear of the Lord is the BEGINNING of wisdom." Prov. 1:7) If God's word fails to convince you, then I'm wasting my time. If there really are those who uphold nudity as the most acceptable way of swimming, I'd certainly like to hear some of their reasons, and know upon whose authority they base their decisions.

In eternity it will matter little if my own boys swim in the pool or not. It is not necessary, but desirable. We encourage all who are involved to stand firm in what they hold right. (Prov. 14:9) "Fools make a mock of sin; but among the righteous there is favor." (1 Peter 2:19) "For this is thankworthy if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrong fully." (4:16) "Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him glorify God on this behalf."

Much food for thought.

Still Need Players For Class D Ball

Boys 15 years of age and under are still needed to round out two Class E teams that will be entered in the area Recreation baseball league this summer.

The baseball program is headed by Gustaf Gorguere, who will have one team from Plymouth in the Class D (18 and under) and two teams in Class E. The two Class E teams are Bill's Market and Fisher's Shoes.

To be eligible for Class E, the boy must not be 16 years old before Sept. 1. Any boy interested can be at a meeting and practice on the High School diamond from 4:30 to 6 p.m. this Friday.

The Class D team is sponsored by the Elks.

Guatemala is the only one of the Central American republics that is still predominantly Indian.

PHS Baseball Team Wins Third of Title

Plymouth High's baseball squad carried off a one-third chunk of the Suburban Six League title this week, when they beat Trenton 8-3.

Randy Egloff, making his farewell appearance on the mound, put on a one-man show by striking out 18 men, getting wild and walking six and giving up six hits, and then hitting a double and a triple to knock in four runs.

The win Monday was the "big one" for the Rocks who had to win it to gain a share of the title. A league record of seven wins and three losses was shared by Allen Park and Belleville.

Plymouth had beat Allen Park twice and Belleville had beat Plymouth twice. A 13-3 record was chalked up for the entire season, including the non-league games.

Other runs were batted in Monday by Jim Kaiser, Bob Monteith, Dick Schryer and Carey Black.

Last week Plymouth beat Northville, 9-1, in a non-league game in a four-hitter led by Dick Schryer. On Wednesday Pete Lomonaco was the winning pitcher in a 7-1 victory over Dearborn.

But the important league game with Belleville Thursday was dropped, 7-1. Egloff started the game and was relieved by Schryer.

In another game Saturday, Northville was overwhelmed, 13-1 in a game pitched by Lomonaco.

Little League Has Their Big Day No-Hitter and All

It was a big day for the Plymouth Little Leaguers—and it was great entertainment for the parents and baseball fans who watched.

Plymouth's Little Leaguers opened its first season last Saturday amid pomp and ceremony, but it was the games themselves that were the big entertainment.

A no-hitter by Ed Forshee of the National League's Dodgers was the big achievement of the day. Ed struck out 15 batters and his team shattered the Giants, 12-0.

Randy Williams pitched his Pirates to a 4-2 victory over the Braves in the other National League games.

Over in the American League, the Indians nipped the Tigers, 2-1. The score was 1-1 for 5½ innings. Bobby Gotro homered twice for the Indians and pitched the last three innings.

The White Sox had no trouble handling the Yankees. The score was White Sox 10, Yanks, 3.

The day's events started with a parade down Main St. at noon, headed by the American Legion color guard and the Junior High Band. While the parade was short, it attracted quite a few viewers, especially the proud parents.

Carl Cederberg, WJBK-TV newscaster, who has a son in the league, was master of ceremonies for the opening day event. After the flag was raised while Little Leaguers stood at attention along the base lines, officials, coaches and others involved in the Little League were introduced.

Opening Day pitches were in order too. Over on one diamond, City DPW Supt. Joe Bida pitched while Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay caught. On the other diamond, the battery was Township Clerk Fred L. Miller and City Safety Director Kenneth Fisher.

The Little League Auxiliary will have a meeting Thursday, June 9 at the Plymouth Township Hall starting at 8 p.m.

Young Swimmers Needed for Summer Meets

A plea for swimmers, both boys and girls and of ages, is being made by swim coach John McFall for an in-school swimming meets this summer.

Those interested are asked to report, ready to swim, at the pool on Monday, June 20 with no distances greater than 50 yards.

Meets have been arranged with other boys and girls at Livonia Bentley, Redford Thurston, Redford Union and Belleville.

McFall also states that there is still room for more students in the Intermediate swimming class and the Junior and Senior Lifesaving class this summer. Anyone interested should call the Recreation office.

Lunar House with Garden Planned for Man or Moon

DENVER (UPI) — The first astronauts on the moon will have to survive on an otherwise lifeless sphere, airless, cruelly hot half the time and deadly cold the other half. But the means of doing it are well advanced.

The Martin Co., which builds the Titan intercontinental missile, already has designed a lunar house in which five men could live and work indefinitely — if they could settle arguments about chores.

Who feeds the chickens? Who slops the hogs? Who milks the cow? And who tends the garden?

The garden will take up about one-third of the spherical lunar house designed under the direction of Dr. James G. Gaume, chief of space medicine at Martin's Denver division.

Hydroponic tanks, in which chemicals substitute for soil nutrients, will grow algae and food plants. Martin technicians already have devised hydroponics techniques which get better, faster results than greenhouses or outdoor gardens.

The algae will give off

Netters Close Season In Third Spot

Plymouth's netters closed their season last week with a 5-2 win over Livonia Bentley. The season record was 8 wins and 5 losses—enough to gain a third place in the Suburban Six League.

Trenton and Allen Park's tennis teams shared the first place title.

The season's end saw Don Argo and Larry Livingston hang up their rackets with 17 wins out of the last 21 matches during two years.

Coach Jim Doyle also had praise for Bob Smith and Larry Hall, a couple of freshmen, who won six and dropped but two of their matches this season.

Two singles stand-outs were John Tichy and Don Conover, who won the majority of their matches against top-notch opponents.

Kids Just Don't Cotton To Silence

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — You never can tell what the kids in the Little Miss Cotton contest are going to say next, but you can bet the 6 to 10 year olds will keep newsmen ducking for cover.

Like the television announcer who asked one young miss if she had any animals at home.

"No, but we have lots of roaches," she confided while her mother shuddered in the audience.

There was another television emcee who was glad this exchange came in a warm up before the program went on the air. He asked one little girl what she would like to do most.

"Travel," replied the mopey.

"Where would you like to go?"

"Right now, I'd like to go to the bathroom."

Another young lady who boasted of her spelling ability was invited to spell "Mississippi" and answered, "M-i-s-s-i-p-p-i."

A finalist from Washington, D. C., was ticking off information about the nation's capital until asked who lived in the White House. "George Washington," she said.

One contestant who flew in from Toledo, Ohio, was met at the airport by reporters and contest officials.

After talking to them a few minutes, she turned to her mother and said, "I guess we're going to have to learn to talk southern if they're going to understand us, Mother."

A Little Miss Cotton is chosen here each year to serve as official model of back-to-school clothes for the cotton industry.

DOWN THE DRAIN

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — Sink-installed garbage disposers will wash an estimated 4,745,000,000 pounds of garbage down the drain, in 1960, an industry spokesman says.

Ever J. Hammes, a local disposer manufacturer (In-Sink-Erator Manufacturing Co.), based his estimate on the more than 4,500,000 disposers currently in use. He estimated 949 pounds of garbage are produced annually by an average family of four.

Salem Voters Get Acquainted with Candidates

Don't forget to vote on June 13 for school board members from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. in the South Lyon Elementary School. Running for a three-year term are Mrs. Josephine Allen, mother of three sons and a resident of the school district for 20 years. Interested in a well-rounded educational system for all students, particularly as it is affected by the curriculum, the teachers, books and school aids, school discipline and scholastic standards.

Also seeking a three year term is Donald Smith, president of the Board. "In education, under pressure of increased enrollments, we are offering the same lessons learned in the 20's when school costs doubled in relation to goods and services produced. Proper study methods and habits can increase the productivity of teachers and of students. More should be spent on schools than we are now spending but the dollar expenditures need not rise in direct proportion to the volume and quality of education desired."

Running for a four year term, two to be elected, are: Sam Bailo of Six Mile Rd., 39 years old; a farmer, father of seven children of which four are in school. A graduate of South Lyon, one year at Eastern Michigan University, three years in the Navy, three years at Michigan State; has served on the board of several farm organizations on local, county, state and national levels.

William Markham of Church St., New Hudson. "After many progressive supporters asked me to be a candidate, I felt honorbound to enter the contest for school board membership. I have lived in the area for 30 years with 19 years experience on the school board. Let us strive for an excellent school system."

Alton Miller of South Lyon and Bill Lintner of Rushton Rd. did not submit a statement.

Ferman Rohraff of Six Mile Rd. resident of Salem Township, father of four children. "I believe in promoting the best possible education for your tax dollar; better qualified teachers; a well planned school program for the years ahead. A life-long resident of this community and understand the school programs of this fast growing area."

Donald Riddering of Six Mile Rd. Born in Michigan, graduate of Eastern Michigan University, three years in the Navy. Graduate degree in philosophy from Columbia University. A Fullbright Grant to the University of Amsterdam; foreign language teacher in Detroit; chairman of Lyon Township educational program, committee of Citizens Advisory Council, Leader of Great Books Discussion Group, parent of three daughters.

Plan on meeting them in person at a meeting to be held on June 8 at the Salem Town Hall at 8 p. m.

Memorial Day brought tragedy to an Ann Arbor man in Salem Township traveling at a very high rate of speed. Dennis Waters, 26, of Washtenaw St., Ann Arbor, was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital. The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. reported that Waters' 1960 car had been traveling very fast and the speedometer was broken at 110 mph, when it swerved out of control on a curve just south of Five Mile Rd., on Pontiac Trail, where it glanced off the guard rails, breaking off nine poles. A passenger in the car, Doran Leach, also 26, of Judd Rd., Milan, was taken to St. Joseph with head injuries, chest and body bruises and severe head and face lacerations. The Salem Fire Dept. was called to put out a fire in the car.

menement ceremonies will be held at 8 p. m. in the High School gymnasium on Thursday, June 9.

School's out for the summer for all Lyon Township schools on June 10. The last day of school will be Wednesday and the children will come back Friday morning for their report cards.

Still some of our Salem folks on the sick list: Mrs. Ford Schroeder is ill at home. Heck Francis is still on the sick list. Mrs. Gerald (Joe) Raymor is coming along nicely after a bout with pneumonia. Mrs. Charles Steele came home from the hospital Thursday. Very happy to report Paul Geiger is coming home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry King, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hillier and George Geis spent the weekend at Mullins Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clay of Six Mile Rd. celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary on Sunday.

Friends in Salem were saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Myra Taylor, formerly of Six Mile Rd. Miss Linda Achille of Detroit spent Friday and Saturday as a guest of Janet Famuliner.

Mr. and Mrs. Iray Sober of Hillsmere spent Thursday visiting with Mrs. George Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymor spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives in Lowell.

Gale Bennett spent the week-end with her aunt and uncle, the Richard Houks, of Cherry Hill Rd.

Mrs. Mabel Peterson of Six Mile Rd. is visiting her sister in Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mullins and children, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Griffin and sons spent the weekend in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferman Rohraff and family spent Sunday with the Bruce Raymors.

Prospectors Still Search For Oregon's Lost Mine

By James J. Doyle

United Press International PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI) — At this time of year many an old prospector's thoughts turn to the lost Sheeherder gold mine in the vast windswept Owyhee Desert of southern Oregon.

And, according to the Oregon office in Portland, many an old prospector trudges out behind his burrow to seek the hidden treasure each year.

The lure of gold once set the Oregon country rumbling with the thunder of rushing horses and wagons as it did in California and Alaska.

But the Oregon gold strikes, for all their tragedy and romance, were overshadowed by the flash of yellow at Sutter's Mill on the American River in California.

Gold was discovered in Oregon in 1851, three years after the find in California.

In that year, "They are digging gold in Jacksonville" was a whisper that ran like a prairie fire through the Oregon country. They dug gold in the streets, in the yards and scooped it from the dust until there was no more in the southern Oregon town.

Wagon tires creased mountain trails toward another rainbow's end—Griffin Gulch, in Baker County. Nearby the town of Auburn grew from rocky ledges and in a year was a community of over 5,000.

They panned the creeks and harrowed the land until gold was gone. Not a house nor stands in Auburn, but occasional prospectors still pan nearby.

It was that way in other Oregon gold strikes, too. The miners rushed in and worried the earth free of its gold, and then left.

But hidden mines still are mentioned, and the most famous is the lost Sheepherder. It was discovered in 1878 by three cavalymen fighting the Bannock Indian wars. Before they vanished in the obscurity of the wars, they told a ferry boat skipper named Keeney of the mine and its richness.

Keeney spent the rest of his life in a futile search.

A young shepherd, 34 years later, came across the mine and dug samples of ore. When he again reached civilization, he was ill with spotted fever. He died before he could disclose the location to a friend. But the samples he brought out were among the richest ever seen.

The legend of the lost Blue Bucket mine still runs rich with first discovered by pioneers who did not realize what they had found.

A mine near Canyon City in Baker County, believed by some to be the famous lost mine, has produced gold. But tales of the original secret treasure continue to abound, and it is still sought.

Mining was an active industry in Oregon in many places until World War II. After the war, costs increased until the price of machinery and wages made mining gold for $35 an ounce a losing business. The price of gold remains the same, but other costs continue to rise.

Only one mine still is worked in Oregon. But prospectors continue to bend over pans in the coastal rivers and mountain creeks, and the burrow tracks still mark the wind-blown sands of the Owyhee Desert.

Gold, once a cry of triumph, is only a muted whisper.

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. (UPI) — Nine young caddies picked the country club here seeking a straight fee of one dollar for each nine holes. They were getting 75 cents for the first nine and 50 cents for the second.

Shopper's Fair Will Open Thursday

A gigantic Shopper's Fair discount department store opens this Thursday in Livonia with an eye-popping array of gifts and prizes lined up for early patrons.

The huge Shopper's Fair store is located on the northeast corner of the Middlebelt-Plymouth Road intersection, Livonia.

At the same time, a second Shopper's Fair discount center opens in East Detroit at the corner of Eight Mile and Graftot. The two new stores brings to three the total Shopper's Fair stores in the Detroit area.

Shopper's Fair is a national chain organization. Grand Openings — with a long list of Grand Opening specials — at both stores will start at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 9.

The original Shopper's Fair store in the Detroit area is located at Oakwood Boulevard and Schaefer Road in Dearborn and opened in October, 1957.

The two new Shopper's Fair stores — the one in Livonia and the other in East Detroit — will include all sales departments normally found in large department stores. Both will operate on the department-store principle, except that customers will serve themselves utilizing super-market type shopping carts.

Patrons will be checked out expediently through any one of the many cashier lanes.

Because of this type of operation, no sales personnel will be required, only stock handlers and cashiers. This in turn enables the Shopper's Fair stores to offer reduced prices, remarked top-level Shopper's Fair management officials.

It will be a cash-and-carry operation at the new stores as it has been in the past at the original Detroit-area Shopper's Fair store in Dearborn.

In conjunction with the Grand Openings at the two new locations, Shopper's Fair will conduct a contest giving away more than $5,500 in prizes. Anyone visiting the three stores and by filling out an entry blank during the Grand Opening weekend will become eligible. No purchase is required in order to register and qualify for the prize giveaways. (Turn the page for details.)

Both new stores will contain 65,000 square feet of space which is considerably larger than the existing store, which occupies 48,000 square feet. The stores are all on one level.

They are of the most modern type of construction, completely air-conditioned. Merchandise from hosiery to hardware, fashion apparel and accessories, jewelry, cameras and giftwares will be offered at reduced discount prices.

Parking facilities at the new stores will provide free spaces for almost 1,000 cars at each location. Shopper's Fair stores offer first quality merchandise.

Many articles will be offered at discounts up to 50 percent.

"A Money-Back-Without-Question" guarantee accompanies each and every purchase. The policy on cash refunds eliminates problems of exchange or credit slips.

Hours at all three stores will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Saturday with Sunday hours from noon until 7 p.m.

The Livonia store, at Middlebelt and Plymouth Roads, was erected by Darin and Armstrong of Detroit, as part of a new shopping center there. The East Detroit store, constructed by the Taubman Company of Oak Park, will be adjacent to a new Chatham Super-Market.

Details of the vast Grand Opening specials are displayed in the following pages.

ALMOST everything has CHANGED

... but a free press is still the indispensable safeguard of all our freedoms!

Shown here: front page of one of the leading revolutionary newspapers, reporting the signing of the Declaration of Independence. Despite its austere appearance, it had aggressive politics.

No headlines — no pictures, yet this newspaper packed a wallop as it relentlessly urged our forefathers to fight for liberty.

We've come a long way since then. Now the miracle of electronic communication brings us the news as it happens; photography, modern typography and art reproduction graphically illustrate and punctuate ideas.

But no matter how the world changes, our American heritage can only be upheld through a free press.

Through the printed page the citizens can examine the issues in their community, go over them point by point among themselves and make their wishes known at the polls.
