Foliage Disease Spreads

Plymouth's City Commissioners said Monday they regarded a new epidemic of Elm Scale Disease as a "civic emergency and resolved to find a way in the next 72 hours to attack it on a city-wide basis.

Elm Scale is a disease which strikes many types of trees and shrubbery (not just elm trees), sapping the strength of the plants and destroying leafage. It is a different ailment, however, than Dutch Elm disease.

But Elm Scale has been reported in epidemic proportions in all sections of Plymouth this summer, with the southern portions apparently most seriously affected.

"Almost any resident can find signs of the scale on some of his shrubs or trees, if he goes out and inspects them right now," said city manager Al Glassford.

"Elm scale seems to strike in cycles, hitting one year and then missing other years, and we are at the top of a cycle in Plymouth."

A large portion of the alarmed inquiries have come from Maplecroft, Brookview and Hough subdivisions.

Spraying is the treatment, but the Commission Monday revealed it had two problems to solve:

1. Speed is of the essence. The proper date for the next treatment is about three weeks away.

2. How to finance the spraying must be seen. The City can spray trees on its own property and pay from the public funds, but trees on private property are more perplexing.

Glassford suggested that the City order spraying of all trees, privately and publicly owned, and spreading the cost by special assessment. The Commission informally decided, however, that this was not practical and probably not legal.

What to do will be decided at a special meeting of the Commission next Monday (August 22).

'Music To Jump By' Frets Neighbors of Trampolines

Neighbors are protesting the presence of a new Trampoline Center on south Main Street because they say it creates noise and traffic congestion.

Petitions bearing 58 signatures were submitted to the City Commission by Erland T. Bridge, 845 Hartsough. They said the signers protested because noise would "destroy property values, disturb neighbors, and interfere with peace and quiet."

A spokesman, Mrs. Margaret Warfield, said, "They're putting in a loud-speaker and are going to play records every night until 11."

"They're going to play 'Music to Jump By.' It's more like 'Music to Go Nuts By' for the neighbors. I don't see how we're ever going to get the kids to bed." Robert Willoughby also complained to the Commission. "It's a bad location because there's insufficient parking," he said. "There are many places in the outskirts of town that would be better situated for such an activity."

Raymond Johnson said he lived next door to the Trampoline site and "it's like living next door to Coney Island, very hazardous and annoying." Trampoline centers are (Continued on page 8)

Commission To Give Oil Lease on Land

Informal "agreement in principle" to awarding gas and oil rights on a parcel of city land to Peake Petroleum Co. was made by the City Commission this week.

About 40 acres are involved in the area of Plymouth Rd. and Hines Parkway, but about 12 acres of this soon will be sold to Wheel Trueing Co. and would not be involved, unless Wheel Trueing should leave the underground mineral rights in the hands of the City.

Another portion of the City property currently is being leased by Wayne County for park purposes. Considerable exploration for gas and oil deposits has been going on in recent years in the area. Recently a well was dug just off Hines Parkway near the C & O railroad tracks and Peake Petroleum spokesman disclosed this week that it had resulted in (Continued on page 8)

Haller Doubles Size of Plant

Completion next month of an addition to Haller, Incorporated, located at 16580 Northville Rd., will nearly double the size of the present plant, owner John Haller revealed Tuesday.

The steel and concrete addition, which is located on the southeast side of the present plant, represents an increase of approximately 12,500 square feet over the 16,000 square feet of working (Continued on page 8)

OK New Lease On Parking Lot

City commissioners agreed Monday night to continue leasing of a lot for car parking at Harvey and Ann Arbor Trail.

The lot has been under lease since 1949 from its owner, Dr. A. C. Williams, at an annual rental of $300. In addition, the City agreed to pay all increases in city, county and school taxes which were made above the taxes being levied in 1948, when the lease first was written.

Plymouth Community Federal Credit Union recently purchased the property from Dr. Williams and sought to enter into a similar agreement.

Commissioners said that the lot accommodated 20 to 25 cars a day, "mostly those of store employees who otherwise would be clogging other lots" and they said they regarded it as "cheap parking."

By a unanimous vote, the legislators approved the drawing of a new lease identical in language to the old one.

Plymouth Pedestrian Safety Mark Cited

Plymouth's pedestrian safety record during 1959 received national recognition this week when an American Automobile Assn. award for "Excellence of Pedestrian Record" was presented to Mayor Harold Guenther by Leiter B. Rice, manager of Automobile Club of Michigan's Plymouth division, on behalf of the AAA.

The award, which cited Plymouth's record of no pedestrian deaths for three consecutive years, was won in competition with 732 other U.S. cities of comparable size in the AAA's National Pedestrian Protection contest, according to Joseph Zabelski, of Detroit, Auto Club safety consultant.

Zabelski commended Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher for his leadership in making Plymouth a safer place for persons afoot.

Grading, Yard Levels Given New Restriction

Originally inspired by drainage troubles in the Maserman Springdale Subdivision (on Sheldon Rd.), a new ordinance regulating yard grades received its final reading before the City Commission this week.

"A grade from the sidewalk level at the front lot line to the front of the foundation of the house, and from the rear wall of the foundation of the house to the rear lot line, shall be established and maintained," the ordinance says.

"And such grade line shall conform to the adjacent properties as near as possible. The height from the house grade line to the first floor level shall not exceed three feet."

The Commission also reshaped briefly the Springdale Subdivision problem, where storm drainage from vacant land to the west runs down into the new housing units in the subdivision located just south of the Western Electric plant.

City Manager Al Glassford was instructed to continue negotiations with Roderick Cassidy, owner of the westward vacant property, with the aim of constructing some kind of relief ditch which would divert the storm water. The Commission also gave a second reading to a new ordinance which would put more teeth into the requirements for platting subdivisions, particularly in requiring developers to show in detail the sewer provisions and routes of water and drainage.

Land Sale Approved To Incoming Plant

Wheel Trueing Tool Company would be required to build a 40,000 square foot manufacturing building before September 1, 1962 under terms of a land sales agreement approved by the Plymouth City Commission Monday night.

The site occupies about 12 acres on Plymouth Road across from Burroughs Corporation. It is owned by the City and negotiations with Wheel Trueing have continued for several months.

Wheel Trueing is one of the foremost concerns in the world in the field of diamond-tipped drilling tools and similar products. It now has three plants in the Detroit area (and others throughout the country) and the plan is to consolidate the whole Detroit metropolitan operation in Plymouth.

The new sales agreement supercedes a previous one drawn about six months ago. It give Wheel Trueing more time to erect its building before a forfeit clause would be binding.

Now, if the plant isn't erected by Sept. 1, 1962, the City would reclaim the land, returning whatever money received on the sale, less the City's expenses.

Wheel Trueing agrees to pay the City $41, 125 for the property.

Plymouth has asked the Company if it will leave mineral rights (Gas and oil exploration has been going on in the general area) but it is believed that Wheel Trueing will keep the mineral rights to itself. The City Commission said Monday night that the company's oil and gas decision will not change the City's decision to enter into the sales agreement.

The City will reserve strips along the property for public streets and roads, easements for sewers and public utilities, and it has established a 200 foot setback from the center of Plymouth Rd. The company must go back more than 200 feet for building, parking or construction purposes.

Also: "The City agrees it will not dispose of the adjoining property owned by it, amounting to approximately 24 acres, without restricting the use there in a similar manner as the within parcel is restricted."

The City Commission agreement also stated that Wheel Trueing must complete purchase within 30 days of the joint signing of the sales agreement.

Then he can win a prize in a big pet show to be staged in Kellogg Park on Saturday, Aug. 27 at 11 a.m. It's part of the gala Back-to-School festival scheduled next weekend in Plymouth.

Prizes include ribbons, cups, T-shirts, paint-dog kits, world globes, flash cameras. Every dog entered will win something.

Your pet doesn't have to be pure-bred either. Prizes are for the shaggiest, most spots, best costumed dog, dog with longest tail, and dog with the best trick.

No entry blank is required. Just bring your pet to Kellogg Park at 10:30 a.m. a week from Saturday and check-in with the judges.

HIGH IN THE AIR, and unaware of any controversy was this youngster who was one of the first customers of the new Trampoline arena which opened on South Main street last week-end. But the neighbors were at the City Commission meeting Monday night to protest the location of the center so near their homes. (See Story elsewhere on this page.)

Rouge River Hearing Set For Aug. 23

August 23 has been set for a public hearing on a plan to clean, widen, deepen and straighten the Rouge River—a project in which Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth would share in the cost.

The project calls for work on the Rouge from where it enters Wayne County (at Telegraph and Eight Mile Rd.) to the turning basin at the Ford Motor Co. plant at Schaefer Rd. and Oakwood Blvd.

Petitions for the project were submitted by Redford Township and the City of Melvindale.

The Rouge carries drainage water originating in Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw counties, and the assessment would be spread proportionately over the whole area.

The hearing will be at 11 a.m. in room 1236 of the Detroit City-County building on Aug. 23.

Extension Going On Wilcox Road

Thirty days from today has been set as the target date for completion of a new extension to the water line in Plymouth Township.

The extension will lay along Wilcox Rd., according to Township Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes.

Weissman Construction Corp., $16,982; S. and S. Excavating Co., $18,942.20; and Northwest Construction Co., $17,404.50.

Septic Tank Closed

The last remaining community septic tank will soon vanish from Plymouth Township.

Action was taken by the Township Board Tuesday night to close the DePew Septic Tank, located on Joy Rd. between Morrison and Lilley. The Board unanimously voted, in a brief, 45-minute business meeting, to petition the Wayne County Drain Commission to close the tank.

Local Couple Wed In Nuptial Mass

A nuptial mass, June 18, at Our Lady of Good Counsel united Miss Arlene Ann Kubick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie J. Kubick, and David Alan Tillotson, of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Tillotson, in holy matrimony. The Rev. Fr. Francis C. Byrne officiated at the 11 a.m. service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk organza with a scalloped square lace imported applique neckline, scattered with sequins and seed pearls. The gown, chapel length, had long tapered wrist-point sleeves and two panels of lace applique swirling around to the back of the skirt. The delicate chiffon rose shaped crown was attached to a silk French illusion fingertip veil. A bouquet of white rose buds formed the bridal bouquet.

Serving as maid of honor was Carol Kubick, sister of the bride. She carried a cascade bouquet of misty green carnations and wore a dress of white cotton scalloped lace with misty green taffeta underskirt. The waist was fastened with a green velvet belt tied into a bow. Her headpiece was nylon net, scattered with pearls.

Mary Lee Haug, classmate of the bride, and Susan Keith wore scalloped lace dresses in icy blue and soft lilac, respectively. The bridesmaids carried cascades of carnations matching their gowns. The flower girl was a niece of the bride's, Karen Ann Kubick. She wore a dress similar in design to the bridesmaids and carried a basket of rose petals.

Ringbearer for the ceremony was Mark Edward Kubick, the bride's nephew. "Ava Maria," "On This Day," "Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Panis Angelicus" were sung by Mrs. Phyllis Mitchell preceding the ceremony. The bride knelt at the feet of the Blessed Virgin to ask her help for a happily married life and placed a bouquet of pink rose buds at the altar.

Assisting the groom as best man was his brother, Lawrence. The ushers were Vaughn and Mark Tillotson, the former a cousin of the groom, and Jerry Steel.

Mrs. Kubick chose a light pink lace dress with pink accessories and a pink rose corsage as her ensemble for the wedding rites. The mother of the groom wore dusty pink lace with white accessories and white roses as her corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony, a breakfast was served to members of the bridal party and approximately 65 guests. The reception, serving 150 guests, took place at 4 p.m. at the bride's home. Attending were guests from Alpena, Troy, Pearl Beach, Flint, Pennsylvania, Utica and the Plymouth-Detroit area.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a dress of gold and green embroidery and white accessories. The couple traveled to Niagara Falls, New York, Washington, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia.

The groom, a member of Psi Kappa Alpha fraternity, is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University. He will continue his graduate studies there in fall. The bride is a junior at Eastern in education. Both are graduates of Plymouth High School. They will live in Ypsilanti.

She carried a white Bible which was centered with a white orchid, stephanotis and streamers. Her only accessory was a cameo necklace.

Boonie Cranford served as best man, with Eddie Forceman, brother of the bride, serving as ushers. The bride's mother wore beige chiffon and lace, with white accessories and the bride wore white carnation corsages. White carnation corsages were worn by the mother of the bride and groom. It's News To Me!

By KARLA HERBOLD

Now that American women are considering a voting split between the most handsome candidates, we've heard rumors that American men are considering revoking our voting privileges. Unbelievable as it may seem, it has only been 40 years since women were first permitted to vote. New Jersey did allow "female suffrage" at the beginning of the 19th century, but the men did some quick second thinking and changed even that ... until mid-century, that is. By then the growing place of women in the industrial world had given them a forum to air their pet voting peeve.

In 1948, the first women suffrage conference met at Seneca Falls, N.Y. A Women's Rights Convention followed and the crusade got in full swing.

Moderates preferred to attack the problem on the state level, but a sizeable group of "radicals" led by Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton concentrated on the federal government. Miss Anthony was even radical enough to be arrested for voting and her trial drew much attention to the fight. World War I also brought militant women to Washington complete with pickets, parades and hunger strikes (also huge picture hats.) By 1918, all this had enough effect to bring Woodrow Wilson before a joint session of Congress urging them to pass the amendment which they had been debating for some time.

In August 1920, the necessary three-fourths of the states had approved the 19th amendment, permitting the first national women's vote—just in time for the presidential election of that year.

If you're looking for a cool summer activity, you might try visiting the Detroit Institute of Arts—which, besides being air-conditioned has many fascinating displays. During the week beginning Aug. 21, they will have special exhibitions of watercolors, ceramics, puppets and a collection of musical instruments. For visiting collectors, the Institute sells silver, glassware, pewter and more unusual items such as cufflinks and earrings made to resemble ancient coins. Prints and books on great artists are also on sale. The unique "LecTour," a transistor-type receiver, is an inexpensive help to art amateurs.

Need a speaker for this coming year's club program? Rosella Bannister, Wayne County Home Economics Agent, has offered her services as a speaker to women's clubs in the area. The free service, financed by federal, state and county funds, can be obtained by writing Mrs. Bannister at P.O. Box 552, 3920 Newberry St. in Wayne. Among possible topics are "The Truth About Food Fads," "Entertaining Can Be Fun" and "Fashion On a Budget." PARTICIPANTS in the Plymouth City Tennis Championships were these finalists. L to r., Jim Puros, George Koral, Dean Penchoff, Ken Angyal, Burke Dailey and Tom Grimes. Thirty-two singles and 16 doubles teams played at the Plymouth courts. The tournament was sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Assn. and was directed by Jim Stevens. Defeating

Dean Penchoff to win the singles championship was Burke Dailey of Detroit. The doubles team of Angyal and Koral defeated Puros and Grimes to become champions. Dailey, a semi-finalist in the Detroit City Tournament, has played recent exhibition matches with the highly-rated Texan, Tut Bartzan.

It's Hay Fever Time

The so-called "hay fever" property in Detroit have done an excellent job of cutting weeds on their property and this has helped to reduce the growth of ragweed. Dr. Molner reaches its highest concentration in this part of the state about Labor Day weekend, however, it is highest from the middle of August to the middle of September. Some authorities say that ragweed is responsible for 90 percent of the pollen in the air over the United States during August and September.

To get a daily count of the amount of pollen in the air a tiny glass slide covered with a sticky material which catches the pollen as it blows is placed in a sheltered spot and left for 24 hours. Each morning the slide is replaced with a fresh one and the previous day's accumulation of pollen is counted. Temperature, rainfall and winds influence the amount of pollen found in the air.

From a station on the roof of Herman Kiefer Hospital in Detroit, the pollen is collected and counted and the results phoned promptly to the newspapers, radio and TV stations to inform those who are interested.

One of two ragweed plants a short distance from a person sensitive to pollen will make him more miserable than a field full at a greater distance. It is estimated that a single plant will release eight billion grains of pollen in one-half day.

Many owners of vacant property in Detroit have done an excellent job of cutting weeds on their property and this has helped to reduce the growth of ragweed. Dr. Molner urges all owners of vacant property who have not yet cut their weeds to make sure all ragweed is destroyed now, not only to aid the hay fever sufferers, but also to improve the appearance of their property. Dwarf ragweed has a leaf somewhat resembling carrot leaves and grows to a height of one to four feet. Giant ragweed bears no resemblance to dwarf ragweed for it has leaves somewhat resembling maple leaves and can grow as high as ten to 12 feet. Pollen from both of these can cause distress to the estimated 200,000 sensitive people in the Detroit area.

Weed killers such as 2, 4-D that are specific against broad leaved plants are marketed by a number of different companies and have been found to be the most effective for the control of ragweed.

The spray may be applied any time the weeds are growing. The most effective results are obtained when the spray is applied in temperatures over 60 degrees. A cloudy day is essential and care should be taken not to allow the spray to drift to shrubs and flower beds. Usually the weakest solution suggested on the commercial package is the best to use.

Analyzes State Scene

The author of the following column is paid to write by the Republican party. We print it when it is interesting.

By FRANK G. MORRIS
Analyzing the results of the primary election, political writers have been unanimous in concluding that the sun is higher in the morning sky for the GOP in Michigan than it has been since 1952.

That was the year that Republicans scuttled their nominee for Governor, Fred M. Alger, and gave Gov. Williams a foothold to create a new general agreement. The big primary vote went to D. Bagwell while Ferguson, for the nomination of Governor, and the hearty endorsement of Rep. Alvin M. Phillips for United States Senator, indicates victory next November is within a hair of the Republican Party at last.

Yet a most important outcome of the near-record voting has been overlooked. It is that the people of the troubled state last week set a binding course for their state for the next two years—a course derided by Democrats as "horse and buggy," yet embraced by the voters as the direction necessary for responsible government.

The test, of course, was in the nomination of candidates for the State Senate.

Because they blocked the Democratic income tax, and leveled Gov. Williams' immense spending program, most of the 22 Republican Senators had been ridiculed by the newspapers of the metropolitan area.

Marked particularly for extermination were stalwarts like Senators Carlton H. Morris, of Kalamazoo, who directed the blockade of the income tax; Lynn O. Francis, of Midland, GOP floor leader; Charles R. Feenstra, of Grand Rapids, defender of a philosophy as old as the nation; Charles Prescott of the Tawas area, courageous proponent of the Republican principles of free enterprise; Paul C. Younger, of Lansing, powerful leader in the defense of "conservatism," and Perry W. Greene, of Grand Rapids, veteran and able chairman of the State Affairs Committee.

All won renomination from the voters of their districts, most of them by overwhelming majorities.

Only Senator Morris had a really close fight. As the people who directed the attack against an income tax, he was singled out for defeat. For the nomination of Governor, had weakened his position. And he was factually popular and able opponent in Glenn Allen, the former Kalamazoo Mayor.

One Detroit newspaper entered the campaign against Morris with venom, although it has very little circulation in that area. One of its articles ridiculing the Senator was reprinted and sent to at least 25,000 homes.

Inasmuch as the renomination of Morris and his colleagues is tantamount to reelection in these Republican districts, the primary election means that Michigan is further from an income tax today than it was in 1959 regardless of the fate of the four-cent sales tax proposal next November.

It means that the big-spending, high-tax program of the Democratic Party will be blocked if John Swainson is elected Governor.

It means that if Bagwell is elected, the legislature and the new Governor will find a common ground on which to

Attend Camp Meet For Area Churches

Thousands who attended the 92nd annual camp meeting of Michigan Seventh-day Adventists at Grand Lodge fanned out over the state and outside following the close of the convention Saturday Aug. 13.

Church leaders and members in Michigan came from as far as Ironwood, about 600 miles away, and others from distant places that included Los Angeles and foreign mission fields.

Francis D. Nichol, Washington, D.C., editor of the church publication, The Review and Herald, told of his trip to Russia at the closing meeting Saturday evening. He recently completed a 50,000-mile, around-the-world trip and stated that the best defense dollar America spends in foreign countries is the Christian mission dollar.

He pointed out that through this means the minds of men are reached and that "where Christian missions exist there is an immunization against the virus of Communist atheism."

Two ministers of the Michigan Conference, Ralph Treccart of Lansing, and Richard Hutchison of Fremont, were ordained Saturday, Aug. 13. Ordination vests pastors with full ecclesiastical authority to perform baptisms, organize churches, and officiate at marriage ceremonies.

Dr. Fred W. Kern, Battle Creek, Religious Affairs Director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, called for missionary zeal to preach democracy to counteract Communism. He said in his Aug. 7 message that coexistence with a criminal ideology is not possible.

As many as five meetings were conducted simultaneously during the ten-day convocation under the direction of N. C. Wilson, president of the Michigan Conference. As many as 12,500 persons were on the grounds at one time for services.

Speakers featured included: H.M.S. Richards, Los Angeles, Voice of Prophecy radio program speaker, W. A. Fagal, New York City, director of the television program, "Faith for Today," Glenn Archer, Methodist layman of Washington, D.C., executive director of Protestants and Other Americans United for the Separation of Church and State, W. A. Scharffenberg, Washington, D.C., executive secretary of the American Temperance Society, R. A. Anderson, Washington, D.C., secretary of the Ministerial Assn. of the World Conference.

Scout Reports Jamboree

By MIKE KENYON

July 29 ended the largest gathering of Boy Scouts in America since 1910 when the Boy Scouts came into being. The National Jamboree at Colorado Springs, Colo., saw five Plymouth boys: Mike Kenyon, John Stace, Ken Evans, Russ Crosby and Rick Ridley, attending. The main opinion of the Plymouth Scouts was that it was one of the greatest thrills of their Scouting experience.

The main idea of a National Jamboree is to bring boys together from all of the states and foreign countries so that they may learn other Scouting skills and make new friends.

An old tradition of Jamborees is swapping. Scouts bring various articles which they have made or picked up from district jamborees or even swapped for other articles at home.

An old tradition of Jamborees is swapping. Scouts bring various articles which they have made or picked up from district jamborees or even swapped for other articles at home.

Well, the Jamboree is over and each Scout is home with a flood of memories and about all we can do now is to start saving for the next Jamboree.

The Reader Speaks Up

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE DISTRICT

It has recently been announced that my opponent for the State Legislature, Harvey J. Beadle, has decided to quit his post as trustee of near by Redford Township in November if he wins his seat in Lansing.

I submit that he has "QUIT" the citizens of the 21st District of Michigan by continuing to hold his Trusteeship of Redford Township for the last two years while serving as State Representative in Lansing. In short, my opponent has decided to do all things to all people. Of course I'm referring to his dual role as trustee of Redford and State Representative in Lansing as well.

According to the announcement, my opponent has suddenly found it politically expedient to tender a "conditional resignation" as trustee of Redford Township. (I would prefer to call it a "conditional QUIT" scheme.) He proposes to terminate his Jekyll-Hyde role of Trustee Representative in November — IF he wins the Representaive seat in Lansing — by quitting the post of Trustee of Redford Township. WHY MR. BEADLE, YOU CERTAINLY EXPECT A LOT FROM THE CITIZENS OF REDFORD TOWNSHIP! YOU WANT YOUR POLITICAL CAKE, BUT YOU EXPECT THE PEOPLE TO EAT IT FOR YOU!

The excuse offered refers vaguely to the demands of keeping his business running, which is simply too much along with two political jobs.

He also stated that he feared a long state legislative session. Therefore — it would be best to quit Redford Township.

Let's analyze the situation: 1. Beadle has for TWO YEARS attempted to serve, not two masters, but THREE, e.g. HIS BUSINESS, HIS TOWNSHIP and HIS STATE.

2. He obviously picked this precise moment to maneuver politically for his present Trustee friends to appoint his successor this fall — in time to make the successor a reasonably secure "incumbent" by spring election time. 3. Three jobs were not too much for my opponent when he assumed his new-found responsibilities in Lansing TWO YEARS AGO. WHY ARE THEY NOW? 4. I'm amazed that he did not have the forthright sense of public duty to QUIT one or the other of his two civic posts when elected to the Legislature two years ago. 5. My opponent has in such shortchanged his constituents for two long years by trying to be three people to all the people.

Has he done anything to correct the situation? NO — not Mr. Beadle. He decided to collect the financial and political fruits from his many masters and then announce his "conditional QUIT" after the full damage of his PART-TIME service has run its complete course for two long years.

Therefore, I demand the immediate and formal resignation of Harvey J. Beadle as Trustee of Redford Township. This demand is placed on him in the best interests of the citizens of the 21st District of the State of Michigan in a sincere hope to put a quick end to the part-time service of a part-time legislator - Businessman - trustee. I would not want to be accused of winning a seat in the State Legislature in November against a part-time candidate. (It would be a hollow victory) — or has he — if he devotes his full time to Redford Township, completely deserted the other citizens of his State District? May I suggest that Mrs. Beadle resign her job in the Township Police Department in order to run Harvey's business so that he can be a full-time candidate instead of a part-time Legislator - Trustee - Businessman?

In closing, I state publicly that this letter is written in the best interest of the citizens of Redford Township that they should have a right to know the facts. My only objective is that the citizens of both Redford Township and the State's 21st District have full-time, civic-minded public servants. Jack H. McDonald Candidate for State Representative, 21st District of Michigan

Robert Hall to Open In Sept.

To keep pace with the rapid growth and expansion of the area, Robert Hall Clothing will soon open a modern new family clothing center in Livonia on Plymouth Rd. at the intersection of Wayne Rd. Also, another Robert Hall salesroom will open on Dixie Highway (U.S. 10), just north of Waterford Hill.

Scheduled for September openings, both new highway clothing centers are of contemporary modern design. Streamlined throughout, the interiors will be equipped with every modern convenience to facilitate family shopping in the easier, quicker semi self-service way.

Shopping hours will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.—Mondays through Saturdays. Each of the new salesrooms will have a lot adjacent to the building that will provide plenty of free parking space.

The merchandising policies of the two new highway clothing centers will follow a "Low Overhead" method of operation. "We have never deviated from our system of merchandising since our inception in 1941," said Harold Rosner, president of Robert Hall, who is also one of its founders.

"We achieve lower overhead in this way: By locating outside the high-rent districts; by doing away with unnecessary overhead such as costly show windows, fancy fixtures, plush furnishings, and expensive interior displays; and by a cash-and-carry selling which eliminates credit bookkeeping and carrying costs."

Sites for new Robert Hall family clothing centers are selected after painstaking research. In order to bring "Low Overhead" clothing values to more families, the directors of Robert Hall try to choose locations that are convenient to several communities — with plenty of available parking space to accommodate today's car-riding population.

The opening of the new Robert Hall clothing center will contribute approximately 40 new full and part-time jobs in the area.

"Just as we initiated a new concept in retailing, we also formed a new concept of employee relations," Rosner said.

"Decentralizing community shopping has proved appealing, as our progress indicates. Decentralized employment, we have discovered, is equally as appealing. Therefore, we seek to staff each clothing center from within the community it serves. In this way our employees enjoy all the benefits of working near their homes, and customers are assured of the friendly service that is the policy of Robert Hall."

Music to Jump By

 something of a craze in this area, the phase having been born on the west coast a few months ago. Trampolines are devices of canvas, stretched tight by springs, in which performers can leap high into the area, do somersaults and other tumbling tricks, and land softly.

Centers such as the one on South Main charge admission and permit the customers to use the devices for a certain period of time for a set fee. The Plymouth center has 10 trampolines.

Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher told the Commission that traffic on Hartsough was congested because of parking on both sides of the street and said signs were going up to move parked cars back from the corner of Main street.

Bridge said the noise from springs, youths jumping, and youths yelling penetrated for some distance from the center. He also said lighting of the arena would make him "buy venetian blinds. This goes on until 11 p.m. I wouldn't mind so much if it was a daytime operation or one with reasonable hours."

The Commission moved to investigate the situation in person and to act at next Monday's special meeting.

SOME SPRAYING JOB
 KEMMERER, Wyo. (UPI) — If you have trouble spraying your crab grass, pity the poor forest rangers. During the last six years, more than 15,000 acres in the vast Bridger National Forest here have been sprayed to kill sagebrush.

Forest Supervisor Arthur Buckingham said the 2-4-D spray kills off sagebrush and other "undesirable" vegetation and encourages the growth of foliage which provides better forage for livestock.

Ontario province extends one-third the width of the North American continent.

Coverlets Were Once Important Womens' Work

The making of coverlets was an important occupation for the women of colonial and pioneer households. An adequate supply of bedding was required for the drafty and poorly heated cabins and houses. The English and Dutch settlers along the East Coast established quilting as a household art and carried it with them westward to the Plains and beyond.

Hand weaving also was a household art of Colonial days, but handwoven blankets are more of a rarity than pieced or applique quilts. Both quilting and weaving remained essential household chores well into the Nineteenth century.

One particular wool coverlet was a mother-and-daughter project in northern Vermont before 1850. The blanket is entirely hand done, and it may well have crested the pond to the applied "Bride's Quilt."

The blanket is fine white wool, the embroidery was done in colored wools. According to family records, the white woolen cloth was woven by a neighbor who had a loom. Two lengths, each 34 inches wide, were blind stitched together to make a coverlet 68 inches wide and 78 inches long.

The wool used for embroidering was spun by the young girl's mother. She also took the lead, although her daughter helped, in coloring the embroidery wool with home-made vegetable dyes. The designs also are credited to the mother, while all embroidery was worked by her daughter, whose coverlet it was.

The edge of the blanket is finished with dark green wool stitching. The same shade was used for the line that connects the flower border and for stems of flowers and foliage. Two lighter shades of green were used for leaves. The flowers and buds were worked in shades of yellow and gold, deep blue, lavender, dark red and shades of pink (one very pale, another a soft coral).

The unique bride's blanket blanket has an eight-pointed star outlined with four rows of stitching in different colors. In the middle of the star is a flower with a yellow center and mauve and coral petals. Four flowers on leafy stems making them 8 inches long ray out from the star and alternating with the flowers are four stems of leaves, each one 10 inches long.

Redford Resident Enters Contest

Kathy Baer, 15580 Denby, has been entered in the 1960 "Miss National Contact Lens" Contest according to her sponsor, Dr. Robert E. Adams, Redford Township contact lens practitioner.

Three contest winners will be chosen from some 1,000 entries by a panel of internationally famous celebrities including Charles Collingwood of television's "Person to Person" fame, Faye Emerson, versatile star of television, stage and screen; blond, continental actress Eva Gabor; and Walt Kelly, creator of "Pogo", a delightful cartoon series appearing in 560 newspapers throughout the country.

Each of the winners will be feted at one of three National Contact Lens Congress sites: New York, Chicago or San Francisco.

The contest, sponsored annually by the Plastic Contact Lens Company of Chicago, will award each winner three pairs of colored contact lenses and an all-expense paid trip to attend one of three National Congresses. Coronation ceremonies will take place before hundreds at a gala banquet on October 30 in New York; November 13 in Chicago and November 20 in San Francisco.

Dr. Adams noted that Kathy is one of more than six million persons in the United States now wearing contact lenses.

Inter-American Harmony Not So Bad, Argues Visitor

By KARLA HERBOLD
 The Vice-President of the United States, visiting South America, is met by a angry mobs. Other government and private individuals return with worried reports of "poor North America begins to wonder just how she has failed in knowing her South American neighbors."

A recent Plymouth visitor, Odilon Ponce of Argentina, admitted he saw a lack of understanding between the Americas, but added that he felt the student demonstration representative of the true South American attitude. During ten years on the United Nations staff in New York, Ponce has seen what he considers to be the "undistorted" picture of the American way of life. America, to him, is a world initiator and "to stop would be failure."

Ponce, who was in Plymouth to meet with C. J. Stofko, general manager of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond, returned to his hometown of Cordoba, Saturday.

He and several associates with him will apply North American business techniques in the Resortes of Argentina plant locating in Cordoba.

Some of the techniques, however, will probably not make the trip with him. "Red tape and what you call 'Busin. Ad.' are non-existent in South America," he smiled. "South American business is still very individualistic and conservative, but that is changing as it must. The U.S., he remarked, recognizes the easy adaptation of local labor and resources to change.

The U.S. has also recognized South America's value in other fields. Much of this, Ponce believes, has come through the work of the Pan-American Union, an association of the continental countries. Each member-nation learns more about the other nations' public health, education, industry and culture. They also "lend support to surrounding countries, in any area where they can help."

 eggs which eventually hatch in the first part of June or July. The insects then crawl out to the leaves during the summer, where they live until September. Then they crawl back on the branch again and begin to suck the sap of the tree.

If the infestation is heavy enough the tree will die for lack of nutrition or winter kill because of its weakened condition.

The September spray is aimed to catch the insects while they are moving back from the leaves to the branches. It has to be timed correctly or will be ineffective. Estimates of the cost of spraying were placed at $3 per tree Monday night, but the Commission ordered that this be sifted thoroughly and a comprehensive plan be prepared and offered for consideration next week.

Haller Doubles

 space in the existing building.

Haller said the addition, which is the result of steady increase in production of powdered metal gears and washing machines, also will mean an increased company employment. The company presently employs about 50 persons.

Before construction of the huge addition could begin, a metal warehouse had to be moved to the rear of the 13 1/2 acre site.

According to Haller, the addition will house the same kind of manufacturing machinery currently being used. Some new presses—designed by Haller engineers—will be moved into the new building.

Before Haller, who lives at 18500 Sheldon Rd., purchased the building in 1958 from Ford Motor Company, he operated Haller Incorporated of Plymouth which was engaged in the design and building of powdered metal presses and laboratory equipment.

After the purchase of the new plant, the manufacturing activities of the Plymouth plant became an integral part of a whole new field of fabrication of gears and pumps from powdered metal. Today, Haller Incorporated is considered one of the pioneering successes in this field.

SOUTH AND NORTH AMERICA meet harmoniously here as Odilon Ponce, left, visits with C. J. Stofko of Barnes-Gibson-Raymond Division of Associated Spring. The Argentine has made several visits to the Plymouth division, which will be associated with the Resortes of Argentina plant in his hometown of Cordoba.

Wolverine's Trotters Move Into Second Week

Air Record, the great trotting mare owned by Fred Ross of Milan and Driver-Trainer George Sholty, returns to the Detroit area Friday to meet most of the midwest's best in the Invitational that headlines the second full week of racing at Wolverine Harness Raceway, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt Roads.

Air Record was victor in the recent leg of the famed HTA series at Monticello Raceway in track record time of 2:03.

Racing Secretary Bill Connors has scoured the midwest to get the best possible competition and will have a field that matches any of the season.

Money Tree, the brilliant Ohio speedster who started in last week's M&M stake, is one of the starters and he'll have the services of veteran Curly Smart, who has the greatest winning percentage on Detroit tracks of any driver in history.

Then there's Belfred's Steward, owned by Pearl Hunt Stewart of Plymouth, who has been just short of sensational on the tracks in the Cleveland section.

Others in the field include: Jill's Pride, owned by J. Hui-zenga and L. Diepenhorst of Jenison, Mich.; Timely Way, who already has won two at Wolverine; and Mars ha Harvester, the fast trotter from the stable of Dr. James Blanchard of Morenci.

WINNERS AND TROPHIES were found everywhere at Award Night of the Plymouth Junior Golfer's League. Twelve finalists won awards in their divisions and for special play. The group, which plays at Chris Burghardt's Hill-top Course, is sponsored jointly by the JayCees and the Recreation Department.

Unemployment Insurance Covers 2 Million in State

Unemployment insurance, created 25 years ago, has helped immeasurably in stabilizing the economy of Michigan, in the opinion of Max M. Horton, Director of the Employment Security Commission.

Horton pointed out that in this birthday week of job insurance, more than 2,300,000 Michigan workers are covered by the program and 46 million are covered in the country as a whole (including those covered by the Railroad Retirement Act).

"Despite a tremendous unemployment problem during the 1957-58 recession when unemployment peaked at 485,000 there was no fear of a prolonged depression, and purchasing power was maintained throughout the Nation and in Michigan by the use of his powerful depression deterrent—unemployment insurance," he said.

"Michigan paid out a record $326 million in state benefits and $64 million in extended benefits during 1958 and $133 million in 1959 as the economy got back on its feet," the Director said.

"The purpose of unemployment insurance sponsors in Congress was to build up reserves in good times to assure continued payment of benefits to the unemployed in times of high unemployment. There was approximately $272 million in the fund when the 1958 recession began," Horton said.

"Some of these funds were used to help finance the heavy benefit drains of the recession period when incoming revenue was insufficient for this purpose. The fund has increased since the end of the recession and now totals about $253 million. It is replenished so that it may again fulfill its purpose of supplementing current revenue in the event of any future rise in unemployment."

"Unemployment insurance is intended as a cushion against shock of sudden temporary joblessness," Horton said. "To be eligible a worker must have had sufficient prior earnings under a covered employer, and must be able to and available for work, and must meet other requirements of the Michigan law.

In the quarter-century of job insurance Michigan employers have paid into the trust fund $1,721,144,061 to finance the payments of benefits to eligible workers who become unemployed. Interest from the government has added $116,875,478.

Through July, 1960, jobless workers had received $1,704,568,069 in benefits—money they have spent with their own merchants, who could stay in business because there still was purchasing power.

The Unemployment Insurance Program, together with the State Employment Service, are administered by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Newburg Ready for Own County Fair

Mrs. Emil LaPointe GL 3-3797

Friends and neighbors of the Newburg area extend sympathies to Miss Louise Geney of Newburg Rd., at the passing of her father, Fred Geney, this past week. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett and daughter Donna of Stark Rd. are home after spending three weeks touring in the western United States. They visited many of our national parks as well as the Grand Canyon and the Great Salt Lake. While in California, they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Body, former Newburg area residents.

Mrs. Angeline Norris of Newburg Rd. announced this past week the marriage of her son Bert to Miss Dawn Warner of Charlevoix, Mich. The young couple will make their home in Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul English and family, along with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shier and family, all of Angeline Circle, are home after spending their vacation at a cottage on East Twin Lake in Lewiston, Mich. With fall almost upon us, what could be most in our minds but the thought of new clothes for the season. The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist Church is presenting "LA MODE DE NEWBURG," represented by the Montgomery Ward Co., on Friday, Sept. 16 at 8 p.m. Refreshments will be served for this event as well as door prizes given. You may secure your ticket reservations by calling Mrs. Fred Bird at GA 1-179 or Mrs. Robert Beasley at GA 7-1518. Donation for this event is set at $1.25 per person. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Waltz and daughter Jennifer of Richland Ave. have been away visiting at the home of Mrs. Waltz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whaley in Glouster, Ohio.

Another Newburg family, Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood and children Denise, Debbie, Kim, Jamie and Randy of Newburg Rd., spent a recent weekend visiting with friends and relatives in Painsville, Ohio.

Say, that Newburg ball team! At this writing they are winning 12 straight with 0 losses. These men, representing the Methodist Men of the Newburg Methodist Church are really having themselves a year, pleasant to remember. Aug. 23 marks the closing day for regular game play and then the top teams will take part in play-off competition with other teams in other leagues. Good luck to the fellows at Newburg!

On Wednesday, Aug. 24 at 12:30 p.m. the Sarah Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Norman Kerr on W. Chicago for potluck dinner and to make plans for a booth for the forthcoming County Fair to be held at the church on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. All members of this circle are urged to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Roger Merrill and children Dan, Barbara, Paul, Kirby and Mary of Newburg Rd. are home after spending three weeks vacationing at Camp Conolly Methodist family camp in the upper peninsula of our state.

The Joy Rd. Canasta Clan will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert Pregitzer on Richland Ave., Tuesday, Aug. 23 at 8 p.m. If any of the members of this group are unable to attend, please advise your hostess in advance so that she may secure a substitute for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reid and children Joanne, Marilyn, Philip and David of Richland are home after vacationing on Lewis Lake in northern Michigan. The Reids are camping fiends and took along with them as their camping partners, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hoffman and their family of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blaisdell and their family of Livonia. Warm days and cool evenings, but a good time was had by all.

At the recent sidewalk sale in Plymouth I overheard two ladies mention that they were looking for bargains in material with which to make aprons for their fall bazaar. In this respect, the folks at the Newburg Methodist Church are not to be outdone, for on the weekend of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29 and 30 and Oct. 1, the Newburg of the "good old days" will come to life with a three day Country Fair.

To open this event of all events, an old-fashioned "Mellerdramer" in three acts will be presented on Thursday evening. Complete with cue cards, corny jokes, villain hissing and hero clapping, this promises to be a most memorable evening and get folks in the mood for the events of the next two days. There will be a museum in which items of interest to young and old alike will be displayed which will point to Newburg's rich heritage, of the days when Ann Arbor Trail was an Indian trail and the corner of the trail and Newburg Rd., where the church now stands, was a coach stop.

You'll not want to miss the Frontier Town Midway where the chance to play games of skill will be presented in many novel ways. Eat your dinner and supper at the "old chuck wagon" with plough seats to sit on. Visit the old time Country Store where you will be able to buy your cheese cut from the chunk and eat crackers from an old cracker barrel. Enjoy old-fashioned molasses cookies, baked on the spot from an old, authentic stove of about 100 years ago. Smell the rich aroma of just-ground coffee which will be emanating from the store as your individual cup of nectar is ground to your specification by an antique coffee grinder. Take your best girl for a buggy ride. Kids and adults alike, will enjoy this treat. Music, in keeping with the old-time theme with a time set aside for square dancing on the green. Meet your friends in Ye Olde Photographer's Shoppe and have your picture taken in one of those zany cardboard scenes, so traditional with country fairs.

Do yourself and your family a favor and save these days for the time of your lives. All proceeds from this event will go toward the new church building fund. Mark the dates well on your calendar and we'll look for you at the fair. Hi-ho—come to the Fair!

Sorry to hear that Mrs. H. S. Ayers of Ann Arbor Trail had an unfortunate accident this past week, in that she fell and broke her hip and is now confined to the Ridgewood Hospital in Ypsilanti for an indeterminate time. Cards of good cheer would be most welcome at this time to pass the time more quickly.

Be sure to call and let us know about your vacations and other social activities. Just give that old dial a twirl. See you next week?

Veterans of Foreign Wars

With the National Convention only a few days away, last minute plans are being completed. Don't miss this opportunity to attend this great conclave so near to us this year. Best of luck to our Color Guard which will be competing for national honors, Monday, Aug. 22.

Boy Scout Troop 862 will be camping at Charles Howell Reservation near Brighton Aug. 20 to 27. Sounds like fun and an excellent opportunity for each Scout to advance one rank or earn two merit badges.

Did you know the Veterans of Foreign Wars legislative service obtained a bill that allows the minor children of deceased veterans a d m i t t a n c e to one of five colleges in Michigan without tuition or fees?

Next regular meeting will be Aug. 17 at 8 p.m.

AUXILIARY

Sister Mildred Dely wishes to express her thanks to everyone who assisted in our participation in the Plymouth Sidewalk Sales. Homemade cookies and a "white elephant" table were featured and proved to be a very successful project.

Our Auxiliary Drill Team is practicing very hard these days in preparation for the national contest Aug. 23. Plan to attend this and other events at the National Convention Aug. 21-26. Have you registered yet?

Sorry to report Senior Citizen Jennie Smith is hospitalized at Indian River. I'm sure she would appreciate a card of cheer.

Army Seeks New Name

The Army is seeking an appropriate name for its new Ann Arbor Army Reserve Center building, construction of which is scheduled to begin this month.

Sixth U.S. Army Corps of Indianapolis, Ind., which supervises Reserve activities in the Michigan-Indiana sector, announced today it is inviting residents of Washtenaw county to give the training structure its name.

Army policy calls for all Reserve centers to be named after soldiers awarded high decorations such as the Medal of Honor posthumously, and the Army hopes to select the name of a native of Washtenaw county who was so honored.

Those who wish to propose names are asked to submit them in writing to the Reserve co-ordinator at the present leased center at 524 S. Main St., Ann Arbor.

A committee of local officials and other prominent citizens will select the name from those suggested.

The new center will be located on South Industrial Highway near Stadium Blvd. It is expected to cost $315,000 and provide facilities for training more than 200 Army Reservists. A ground-breaking ceremony will be held in the near future.

Out of the past comes a cinematic treat for the new generation. I'm referring specifically to a new TV program that runs old, old films. Silents, if you please. And that last sentence comes close to the title of the Thursday night program that is receiving phenomenally high ratings. Name of this new TV favorite with the built-in celluloid beard is "Silents Please."

Last week the feature was Buster Keaton in "The General." This week they will be showing a truncated version of John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." You can view these great movie masterpieces on Channel 7 at 10:30 every Thursday evening. Give the dial a spin over that way—it's hysterical and historical all in one video instant.

Technically, the dubbing of the sound and music was no great problem in translating these ancient films. The real problem was to remove the flicker. As you know the movies of years ago went on a far slower speed. Thus for presentation on the video machine some technical changes were in order. My ABC spies tell me that to eliminate the flicker all these old films had to be re-photographed frame by frame to bring them up to the proper speed level. Sounds laborious, but I hardly think you'll care as long as the movies hold your interest. Give the program a try some Thursday night. I found it to be a shining light in the barren wastes of summer re-runs.

Northland Playhouse had week with James Garner. Ken Swartz is already looking about for a suitable script for Mr. Garner to cavort in for next summer. Old George predicts that this week will also be a popular one with the fans as Mr. Sam Levene, a native New Yorker, is coming to our town. His show "Make a Million" has a thousand laughs emerging from a hundred delightful situations. Plot centers around Sam's troubles as a quiz show producer. The show ran on Broadway last year with Sam in the leading part. Many of the lines in this comedy are quite spicy so send the kiddies to the Penn Theater to see the zany Mr. Lewis in "The Bellboy" while you go out to Northland with Mama.

"Fiorello," with an all-star cast, breezes into the Riviera on next Tuesday, Aug. 23 for a two week stay. You won't want to miss this triple-threat musical comedy about New York's "Little Flower" Mayor LaGuardia. "Fiorello" has been awarded the Pulitzer Prize, Critics Award and the Antoinette Perry Award. With such a reputation to live up to you can be certain that here is a musical comedy that will deliver the musical goods. Song hits include the biting "Politics and Poker," "The Very Next Man," and "When Did I Fall in Love?" Zippy production numbers, a rousing electioneering street dance scene and a high-stepping chorus line of the 20's add to the zest and gaiety of "Fiorello." All the fun starts at the Riviera on Tuesday, Aug. 23. Call up now for best seats and plan to attend the opening of the 1960-61 theatrical season in Detroit.

The coming season for Detroit looks mighty promising. "Fiorello" gets us off to a fast, musical start. A couple of weeks later the Cass Theater will light up with a serious work by Arthur Laurents entitled "Invitation to a March." Shelly Winters will be featured along with Jane Fonda and other stars. Mr. Laurents wrote "Time of the Cuckoo" and more recently "West Side Story." Shortly after the Cass Theater's opening night, the Shubert presents "A Majority of One," the Gertrude Berg play that has been keeping eastern audiences in stitches for over a year. Yes, it appears that our theatrical season is going to push off to a brilliant start.

Bill Shakespeare still brings 'em into the box office. All reports from the East indicate that the Connecticut Shakespearean Festival did a $50,000 week with Kathy Hepburn and Robert Ryan appearing in "Anthony and Cleopatra." Wonder if anyone has ever totaled up all the grosses in one year that the Bard has accumulated. I'll bet it would top a million dollars without too much trouble. The Canadian Festival pulls a cool $600,000 a lone into the coffers. Too bad he can't collect any of the royalties. By the way, the first of the pictorial prose reports on old George's cultural jaunt to Stratford, in this week's issue of the Plymouth Mail. If you can't get over that way this year, check this report and dream. Last chance to finish up all that summer reading you were going to do between rounds of golf and the dishes. "Two Weeks in Another Town" by Irwin Shaw and "Never Trust a Naked Bus Driver" by Jack Paar's former gag writer Jack Douglas are two bits of diversified reading for you to pursue in that hammock of yours.

TIPS for TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

girl to movies and school dances, but she doesn't seem to notice and appreciate what I do for her. Sometimes I think she doesn't know I'm around. Can you tell me why she doesn't like me?"

Ans.—It doesn't seem likely that your girlfriend would date you unless she likes you... unless she's a gold-digger type who prefers a movie with a boy she doesn't really like to date at all. Perhaps it's lack of good manners that keeps her from thanking you or showing appreciation for the fun you have together. You can find out if she's gold-digging by suggesting a TV evening at home occasionally; if she likes you, she'll enjoy it, if she doesn't like you, she'll be bored or object. To find out if "she knows you're around," stay away for a while and see if she shows signs of missing you or being glad to see you afterward.

Q.—"Dear Elinor: I am 18 and my father said my boyfriend could come to my house. But he's raising the roof because my boyfriend came seven times in two weeks, although he didn't always stay long and sometimes just called for me to go out. Should I tell him he's not welcome any more?"

Ans.—It's your father's house and you're his daughter, so it would be better to have fewer visits from your boyfriend. Explain to him that your father thinks you're neglecting schoolwork or "going steady" or whatever the objection is, so your boyfriend won't think your father dislikes him or that he isn't welcome at all. After all, it's better to have him come to your house once or twice a week than not at all.

Records Set In Art Show

The Third Arts & Crafts Exhibit of Farmington, closed Aug. 7, after setting records in number of entries and attendance.

Visitors to the show voted for their favorite entry, and the Popular Choice winners were announced Monday by a committee spokesman: First Popular Entry, a tie between Richard Salay's (Farmington) "Bahama Fishing Boats" and Stan Hench's (Walled Lake) "Self-Portrait." Second Popular Entry, W. R. Hockings (Wayne) "Grass Roots."

First Popular Artist, Stan Hench; Second Popular Artist, W. R. Hocking.

Film Ratings Released Only After Much Careful Testing

By William H. Schleissner
 Before a film manufacturer releases a new type of film—and more new fast films appeared this spring—exact speed ratings has been determined with great care. This information accompanies every roll of film and every package of cut film.

Of two exposures, one a shade different from the other, is a wise course. For example, if the exposure meter calls for 1-25 of a second at F32, take one at this exposure and then take another at 1-25 at F22-32. Develop the film judged to be the better and, if it is satisfactory, destroy the duplicate negative.

Few films have the same rating, so care must be taken that films are not over or underexposed. Instead of trying to remember, paste the instruction sheet inside the camera case for quick reference.

The guide to speed rating should be read correctly. Each instruction slip notes the film speed for both daylight and tungsten. Almost all black and white films are faster in daylight than artificial light.

Film ratings are checked with meters. Photographers who do not own a meter and depend on the instruction sheet will find the additional data is excellent.

Overexposed films have a dense and thick look and, as a result, it is sometimes impossible to penetrate the highlights when printing. Underexposed films are so thin that only the highlights show up and so prints look inky black and snowy white. The contrast may be so great that the print is almost impossible to look at.

Some photographers try to improve on the manufacturer's instructions and consequently spoil a day's shooting. It is a mistake when exposing film to add just a little more for good measure. Often, a photographer feels that the film rating is too high and gives a little more exposure, only to spoil the perfect picture.

Men in Service

Larry M. Krause, airman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Krause of 46555 Maben, Plymouth, is serving at the Whiting Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Milton, Fla. Whiting Field is the largest auxiliary air station in the Naval Air Basic Training Command and trains student pilots in the instrument and tactics phases of flying.

Graduated July 22 from the Second Marine Division's Non-Commissioned Officers Leadership School at Camp Lejeune, N.C., was Marine Cpl. David D. Daly, son of Mrs. Lester H. Daly of 9650 Southworth St., Plymouth. Before enlisting in May 1957, he graduated from Plymouth High School. The four-week course teaches students how to respond to combat emergencies, when they may have to assume command of a squad, platoon, or company.

Set Art Exhibition

Oil paintings from the Marion Zoner Studio will be exhibited out of doors on Sunday, Aug. 21, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at 2385 Commerce Rd., between Commerce and Milford. (In case of bad weather, date will be Sunday, Aug. 28.)

Mrs. Zoner stated that there will be paintings done by men and women of all ages plus some by a group of teenagers. Exhibitors will be from Commerce, Clarkston, Milford, Wixom, Highland, Walled Lake, Orchard Lake, Pontiac, Farmington, Redford, Oak Park, Detroit and suburbs.

"We paint for fun and have fun painting, and the results are simply beautiful," said Mrs. Zoner. She explained her unique "Paint For Fun" motto: "We stress the fun and relaxation of painting and find that in forgetting ourselves we can produce lovely, satisfying and lasting results."

A spokesman for the studio, Mrs. Doyle Woods of Farmington, stated, "This is our third annual exhibition and we find that having it out of doors lends an informal atmosphere that encourages people to 'come as they are' on their way to and from lakes, cottages, picnics and other outings. It is easy to find between Carey Rd. and Lake Sherwood Subdivision."

Know Social Security Benefits Dutch Elm Disease Increases

Social security disability payments at age 50 to age 65 are the same as those payable to retired workers 65 and over, according to Mr. Harry Baltuck, Manager of the Detroit Northwest office. A disabled or retired worker's benefits range from at least $33 a month to about $120 a month, depending on the worker's average monthly earnings over the years. For example, if the average earnings are $200 per month, the benefit to a disabled or retired worker would be $84 per month.

Wives and dependent children of disabled workers are eligible for monthly benefits the same as wives and dependent children of retired workers. These benefits are in addition to the benefits paid the disabled worker.

Baltuck further states that disability benefits, like other social security benefits, are not automatic, but a formal application must be filed. Disability benefits are in most respects the same as those paid retired workers, except that they are payable as early as age 50. Anyone interested in more information about the disability provisions or any phase of the social security program is urged to get in touch with the social security office at 16500 Grand River Ave., Detroit 23, Mich.

Because of an increase of Dutch Elm disease in central and western Michigan, the loss of elm trees so far this year is ahead of that of 1959. Eastern Michigan, where the disease was discovered in 1950, is showing a substantial reduction in losses from previous years.

This is shown by a tabulation of survey results by the Plant Industry division, according to G. S. McIntyre, Director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. At the end of July, diseased trees numbered 4,706, while a year ago this figure was 1,654. The figures do not approach those of a limited area in southeastern Michigan which in the past have had as many as 5,774 diseased trees in a single year, according to C. A. Boyer of the Plant Industry division. Timely and thorough spraying and sanitation programs in southeastern Michigan are paying off. What once was the area with the most Dutch Elm disease is now an area where incidence is much less than central and western Michigan.

"These effective control programs must be continued," said Mr. Boyer, "if further loss is to be prevented. The threat is always with us, and any slacking off merely invites increased tree loss."

Dutch Elm disease is spread from diseased elms to healthy elms by a tiny brown bark beetle. Once a tree becomes infected, there is no known cure. Withering and browning of the leaves of an elm, usually starting with a single branch, indicates Dutch Elm disease. The tree dies quickly. All types of elms are vulnerable. Disease control measures have proven effective in municipal areas where high value is placed on elms for shade and beautification. This is not so in most rural areas where elms are regarded less highly and the tremendous expense of control programs is not usually considered justifiable.

Uruguay is the smallest South American republic. It has an area of 72,153 square miles.

Plymouth Trotter To Meet High Flying Air Record

Air Record, the great trotting mare owned by Fred Ross of Milan and Driver - Trainer George Sholly, return to the Detroit area Friday (Aug. 19) to meet most of the midwest's best in the Invitational that headlines the second full week of racing at Wolverine Harness Raceway, Schoolcraft and Middlebelt Roads.

Air Record was victor in the recent leg of the famed HTA series at Monticello Raceway in track record time of 2:03.

Racing Secretary Bill Connors has scoured the midwest to get the best possible competition and will have a field that matches any of the season.

Money Tree, the brilliant Ohio speedster who started in last week's M&M stake, is one of the starters and he'll have the services of veteran Curly Smart, who has the greatest winning percentage on Detroit tracks of any driver in history.

Then there's Belfred's Steward, owned by Pearl Hunt Steward of Plymouth, who has been just short of sensational on the tracks in the Cleveland section.

Others in the field include: Jill's Pride, owned by J. Huizenga and L. Diepenhorst of Jenison, Mich.; Timely Way, who already has won two at Wolverine; and Marsha Harvester, the fast trotter from the stable of Dr. James Blanchard of Morenc.

Your Guide To Harness Racing

HOW DOES HARNESS RACING DIFFER FROM THOROUGHBRED RACING?

The objective in both sports is the same—to win the race. Thoroughbreds run or gallop. Harness horses must maintain a specified gait, and are guided by a driver seated on a sulky instead of being ridden by a jockey in a saddle.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN BY GAIT?

Gait refers to trotting or pacing, specific methods of locomotion peculiar to the Standardbred or harness horse. While the tendency to trot or pace is inbred in most standardbred horses, the ability to maintain gait at high speeds and over a distance of ground is acquired only through long months of intensive training.

WHAT IS A STANDARDBRED HORSE?

The modern Standardbred horse is a thoroughly pedigreed animal and originally was called that because the horse had to race up to a certain set "standard" of speed. This "standard", akin to "par" in golf, has steadily decreased time-wise as improved breeding methods produced faster horses. With but few exceptions, to claim Standardbred status for a horse, his ancestry must have been standard and registered for generations. The chances are those horses you see on the track can be traced back through more generations than you can.

WHAT IS A TROTTER?

He's a Standardbred that races with a diagonally-gaited motion. His left front and right rear legs move forward almost simultaneously, then the right front and left rear. Often noticeable is high knee action and a left-right nodding of the head.

WHAT IS A PACER?

A pacer moves both legs forward in unison, then both right legs. It's a piston-like movement often called a lateral gait and most pacers seem to sway from side to side. About 19 out of 20 will wear hobbles, leather straps worn connecting front and rear legs on the same side to encourage the legs to move forward and back together. Here's your chance to impress the wife or girl friend. If the horse you see doesn't have these straps, say knowingly "That's a trotter." The odds are at least 20-1 you'll be right.

WHICH IS THE FASTER GAIT?

Only a fraction of a second separates the world trotting and pacing records, but a pacer, generally, is considered slightly faster within a specific race classification, and a pacer can get away faster at the start.

DO TROTTERS AND PACERS COMPETE IN THE SAME RACES?

Occasionally in qualifying races, scheduled to test a horse's ability to show enough speed to meet a track's minimum standard, the two gaits are in the same field. Otherwise, trotters race against trotters and pacers against pacers.

HOW FAST IS A HARNESS HORSE?

Races usually are contested at speeds averaging 25-30 miles per hour for the mile distance. When leaving the starting point and when in the homestretch, speeds of close to 35 miles per hour are attained by the best horses. It takes a steady hand on the reins with other sulky wheels inches away on either side, and the driver needs the nerve of a Ben Hur when he heads in to that first turn.

LANSING Observer

(Editor's Note: The author of this column is paid to write it by the Republican party. We run it when it's interesting.)

By FRANK G. MORRIS

Not many months ago, Republican members of the legislature were being condemned in some quarters as blind, ruthless, incompetent no-goods who would get their come-uppance when they ran this year for re-nomination.

They were heaped with ignominy because they wouldn't submit to Gov. William's demand for an income tax that would exempt families with earnings of $5,000 a year or less.

Williams used every possible strategy to force acceptance of the tax that is the top goal of the United Automobile Workers, even ordering a phony payless payday for state employees when the government had $98 million in the treasury. (He quickly reversed himself on that one.)

Instead of being rebuked by the voters, however, all but two of the Republican members of the House who ran for re-election were re-nominated. Of the GOP Senators seeking new terms, only one was defeated in the primary.

The Republican performance in 1959 and 1960 was not an issue in any of these three districts, all of which will be in the GOP column in November.

So now the incumbents are faced with the traditional requirement that they run for re-election on their record.

Voters who recall only the long, disastrous fight over an income tax will be asking: "What record?"

That might seem to be a pretty slick question. The tax battle and Michigan's financial plight stole the headlines so completely, the records of the 1959 and 1960 sessions were practically ignored.

It's not a thick record, to be sure, when compared to sessions when the GOP had working majorities in both legislative branches. But there is a lot in it that is worthwhile. Incumbents will not blush when they answer to the voters during the campaign.

Although Democrats are trying to give the public the impression that Republicans are neglecting the state's educational needs, the truth is that the legislature this year voted the biggest appropriations in history.

The allocation for higher education alone was raised $7.5 million over the previous year. The appropriation for school aid was stepped up to a new pace, with $105 per pupil guaranteed to the local districts.

A new state college was authorized for the west side and will be built in Grand Rapids.

The sum of $10 million was voted for new state parks and to rehabilitate existing parks.

Under leadership of Senator Perry W. Greene, of Grand Rapids, Republicans tackled the problems of aged citizens with a determination to make life easier and more pleasant. The program being prepared by a special committee will be ready for the legislature next January.

To help solve the problem of juvenile delinquency in Michigan's large cities, the legislature established curfews of 10 p.m. for children under 12 and midnight for children between 12 and 16. Legislation opening the way for new construction of elementary and high schools lends the state's faith and

They noted the recent appointment of Dr. Ammerman, Assistant Dean of Health of the Community College, as the part-time director of the Study and the contractual arrangement with the Bureau of School Services at the University of Michigan for the consultant service of Dr. Young and other members of the staff. FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

The "Sunshine Clothesline"

As a youngster, J. Ross Moore carried heavy baskets of wet laundry to the clothesline in sub-zero North Dakota weather. He watched his mother suffer from cold, numb fingers and struggle with line-hung, board-stiff, frozen clothes. He vowed then to lighten his mother's household burdens - and he did - with Gas, the Miracle Fuel, to help him! His clothes-drying inventions progressed from a drying shed where laundry was hung inside a Gas-heated cabinet to a tumble-action dryer which tumbled clothing over and over in a Gas-heated drum. This was the forerunner of today's modern Gas clothes dryer - a dream come true for the homemaker. It not only protects her health, but it protects her laundry and provides - automatically - perfect weather conditions for "anyday-anytime" laundering.

* Today Natural Gas, Nature's "stored sunshine", lightens countless household burdens. Write or call Consumers Power Company to learn of the many wonderful Gas appliances and automatic Gas home heating now available.

Our George Visits the 'Bard' in Stratford

On-The-Spot
Canadian Report

This is the first in a series of two pictorial-prose reports from George Spelvin, Front Row Center columnist, and Dr. John Smith, Wayne State University professor, as they visit the Canadian Shakespearean Festival.

Somewhere across the Detroit River deep in the Ontario countryside, is a small town called Stratford. It's about 150 miles from the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel or Ambassador Bridge. On a clear day the Detroit skyline cannot be seen in Stratford. The only way you can see and enjoy Stratford is to go there by car, bus or train. Of these modes of transportation, George chose the automobile.

GEORGE SPELVIN checks the map and realizes that you must go "down under" to enter Canada. Customs officials pass you through with a perfunctory nod when they hear you are on your way to the Stratford Canadian Shakespearean Festival. Evidently it's a magic phrase. Paying the toll (60 cents) we moved through the tunnel after the early morning traffic had subsided and emerged ready to tackle Super Highway 401 on the first leg of our three and one-half hour journey to Stratford, Ontario.

TUNNEL behind us and after a pleasant drive we arrived in Stratford, Ontario a little after 1 p.m., Eastern Daylight Savings Time. It's time to eat. Where better to chat about the upcoming matinee performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream" but in the Drama Restaurant. Scenes from the play adorn the walls of this intimate cafe along with players' masks. Dr. Smith pointed out during an excellent lunch that Shakespeare wrote "The Dream" for a wedding celebration and the play should be a happy, comic occasion. Prices for food and lodging are moderate in this quaint Canadian town on the Avon River. Allow for time to stroll about the town and shop... you'll find many an interesting curio.

TIME FOR the afternoon performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream" in Stratford's two million dollar Shakespearean theater. Wednesday and Saturdays are given over to afternoon performances at 2:30 p.m. Evening performances start promptly at 8:30. If you're late for that opening scene, you are not allowed in until the half-way intermission point. Dr. Smith and I were prompt in arriving. We parked our car by the Avon river and walked up to the theater. The theater is perched on a high bank approximately a block back from the scenic waters of the Avon. Remember it's best to reserve your tickets well in advance of your coming over to the Shakespearean Festival. Both performances we attended everyone of the 2,258 seats in the theater were filled.

A City Clerk Speaks Up

Why Don't People Vote?

By MARIE CLARK
Clerk, City of Livonia

The number of registered voters who turned out to vote in the Aug. 2 General Primary Election was, to say the least, a great disappointment. The staff of the Livonia Clerk's Office worked long hours during the past four months, since the City Election, to assist everyone to become a qualified voter. Still, only 7,914 of the 25,668 registered voters in Livonia cast their ballot, and took part in the free elections guaranteed by our government.

Only 7,914 out of a possible 25,668 people chose the candidates whose names will appear on the ballot next November. Those who did not vote now have no choice, with their political party, but to vote for the nominee selected by a minority group.

The primary election is, in effect, the "people's convention." We have all been interested in the Democratic and Republican Conventions, as viewed on television. Why not some interest when the convention comes into the "grass roots" area, where good government begins?

The cost of the elections is the same, whether the people come out to vote or not. 17,754 registered voters failed to participate in Livonia—where were they? Their voices could have been heard, and at no additional cost in holding the election. Further, if you are one of the 17,754 who did not vote, are you showing appreciation for the wonderful guarantee of free elections which was written into the Constitution of these United States? The Office of the City Clerk will always be open to our people, but will free government always be available to the people?

Many complaints were heard at the polls from voters who were irate because they could not split their ballot. Some said they had been voting a split ticket in a primary election for years! It might be wise, or unwise, to inform them that they have been splitting their ticket in a primary election, it was on paper ballots, and when they voted for candidates on both party ballots, they immediately spoiled their whole ballot, and the inspectors did not count their vote. If these good electors had waited after the polls closed and watched the counting of the votes, they would have seen their ballots marked SPOILED in big letters, and cast aside, uncounted. This is the law of the State of Michigan, and has always been so.

At the same time, others entered the booth and vigorously attempted to pull down the "Straight Party Levers" at the top of the machine. Both of these errors were caused by persons failing to realize the purpose of a primary election. A primary election is held for the purpose of selecting one candidate from all those who have filed nomination petitions within a political party—and the one selected is then placed on the ballot at a regular election, to compete with the candidate from another political party. It would behoove everyone to become better acquainted with the democratic processes of free elections.

Some folks will be relieved to know that it is impossible to spoil a ballot on a voting machine, like the gentleman mentioned above who said "he always splits his ticket at a primary election." It is really quite sad to think his ballot was spoiled and not counted all these years. But voting machines wouldn't let him spoil his ballot! The only way a ballot can be spoiled in a voting machine is to open all the "write-in candidate" slots on the left side of the ballots. When you open these, even though you do not write anything on the paper roll, you void your opportunity to vote for those candidates named on the ballot.

How's Business? How Serious Is Unemployment?

By ROGER W. BABSON

Government figures on employment conditions during the late spring and early summer period brought to light a seemingly anomalous situation. The statistics showed that in recent weeks, employment has been in a record range, but at the same time, unemployment has increased.

For example, employment at mid-year set a new record high of 68.6 million, while unemployment rose to 4.4 million.

Although the high level of employment is a strong argument for optimistic sentiment, the disappointing business performance at the start of the vaunted decade of the "golden sixties" has focused attention upon unemployment.

Inability of the economy to reduce the jobless segment of the population commensurate with the growth of the economy since the 1957-58 recession is stirring fears that all is not well with business. The number of people out of work is nearly as much as were unemployed at the depth of the last recession.

Looking behind the figures, however, it is evident that undue concern over the seemingly large number of persons currently unemployed may be groundless. If the workers who are idled by strikes, and those who are temporarily laid off because of seasonal let-downs in certain industries, were eliminated

If Your Name Is 'Henry'

By ANN REYNOLDS

For centuries "Henry" has been among the most popular names in the Western World. It originated in the Old German language. In that ancient tongue it was combined from the word "heimi," meaning "home," and "ricja," which is "ruler," approximately, the name's significance is "landlord," or "ruler in the home."

In Latin this "Heimerich" was made into "Henricus." From this the French derive their "Henri." Among the English the French name was pronounced "Henry" or "Henry." This is the original form, and not merely a familiar way of addressing men called "Henry." Today "Henry" and "Henry" exist side by side, the latter now considered independent.

"Henry" never lost its place among the favorites. There were more rulers—not in the home, but of countries, called Henry than any other name. Parents love to adopt appellations of kings and emperors for use in their own family, and many baby boys in all walks of life were named "Henry."

Another endearing form of this name is "Hal," also used for many centuries. A great many last names came about from "Henry" and its pet forms; Harris, Harrison, Hawkins, Hall, just to mention a few of these.

"Henry" was the last name of the eighteenth century statesman and orator whose most famous words were

gives you more time for the things you want to do

HOTTER WATER AND PLENTY OF IT. Only an electric water heater can regularly deliver 160° water without burning out. Really hot water goes farther and gets clothes cleaner. An electric water heater needs no fuel because there is no flame. That makes it the only water heater you can put any place you want. Right next to your washer, for example, to eliminate a long, heat-wasting pipe run. Some electric water heaters fit under kitchen counters.

A WONDERFUL WORK-SAVING TEAM—YOUR WASHER AND DRYER. Make your automatic washer and dryer a matched pair—both electric. It takes an electric dryer to keep white clothes white; to preserve the sparkling new look in colored and patterned fabrics. Electric drying is so clean because there is no flame, no products of combustion.

BRIGHTEN WASH DAYS WITH GOOD LIGHTING. When you plan your electric laundry center, be sure to get expert advice on adequate lighting. You'll be surprised at how well-planned lighting can reduce fatigue.

Parents Responsible For Bicycle Discipline

A family of four in one Connecticut town considers their four bicycles as indispensable as their station wagon. Neither 9-year-old Joel nor 12-year-old Janice rides a bicycle to school, but after school there's not a day when they don't take their bicycles to go to scout meeting, for a music lesson or on errands. Mother uses hers almost as much to get to meetings and for shopping and errands and Dad needs his bicycle to go riding with the rest of the family on weekends.

Bicycles, some 27,000,000 of them, have become as essential as automobiles for transportation in the suburbs. Automobiles and bicycles frequently are involved in accidents, all too often caused by bicycles and their riders. Learning to ride a bicycle is easy. It's riding it intelligently, courteously and with common sense that is important. Comparatively few of the bicycle owners belong to bicycle clubs. This means that parents must teach youngsters common-sense rules for bike riding, as soon as they are given their grown-up bicycle. It's just as important for a bicycle rider to know the traffic rules and obey them as it is for the driver of a car. The bicycle rider, like the driver of the car, should observe stop-and-go lights, halt at stop signs and traffic lights along the road.

and signal turns and traffic movements with the hand. If all this seems silly to youngsters of 10 or 12, remind them that observing traffic rules when riding a bicycle is preparation for driving a car when they are old enough to obtain a license. Inviting a traffic officer to speak on this subject at a scout meeting or school auditorium program will help to fix these points in a youngster's mind. Where to ride a bicycle is almost as important as how to ride one. Pedestrians object to bicycle riders on sidewalks, automobile drivers curse them on the road. Riding the bike on the right side of the street but well out of the lane of traffic is the only safe place. Parking carefully and out of the way of cars and people is equally important. Stunts or riding tandem on a one-seat bike are only for the play yard, not for the street. Weaving among cars or people is also outlawed. When a group goes bicycle riding, single file is the rule. Hitching onto a car or other moving vehicle is inviting an accident.

Jerry Seibert Says...

"ANY QUESTIONS?"

Dear Jerry: The shade of lipstick I've worn for years has been discontinued. I hate these ridiculous new colors. Blue-reds turn purple on me. Red-reds look bloody. I'd feel like an idiot in orange or brown and the pale iridescent shades make me look ghastly. What do you suggest? Mrs. B. B. H.

First: Be thankful for being jarred out of a dull, dowdy and horribly aging rut where you missed a lot of fashion and fun. Second: Really look at yourself in the mirror. Hair and skin tones change. Your natural coloring is not the same as it was when you first wore the lipstick you mourn. Better check your hair-style and make-up, too. Old make-up and hair styles, and old lipstick shades, register age as fast and accurately as an I.B.M. machine.

Leave the exotic colors to those who wear them with assurance. DuBarry's new "Pink Is For Girls" is completely feminine and becoming to "girls" of all ages. It's not a wishy-washy pink, but a little girl pink grown up to be a femme fatale.

Dear Jerry: I love sports but I hate summer. Every time I go out in the sun I get a million freckles. Is there any way to look glamorous in spite of being freckled? Nancy P.

Don't fight 'em—play them up. No less an authority than Max Factor, the Hollywood make-up expert, says freckles are a mark of youth that add dash and sparkle to your personality. He suggests wearing colors that show off your brown-flecked skin—beiges, brown, yellow, deep turquoise, and whitest-white. Daytimes, let the freckles show through a thin application of foundation make-up.

In the evening, when you want a sophisticated flawlessness, veil your freckles with cake make-up a shade darker than your natural skin tone. Emphasize your eyes with eye-shadow, eye-liner, and mascara. Wear a bright lipstick. Highlighting your eyes and mouth will minimize any trace of freckles. (P.S. Men invariably find freckles endearing.)

Dear Jerry: I wear contact lenses and mascara seems to cloud the lenses, even the brands that say waterproof and non-smudging. Can you suggest an eye make-up? Sandra K.

Probably the trouble is not with the eye make-up but with your method of application. There are two different ways to apply eye make-up successfully when wearing contact lenses.

One: Put the lens in before you apply mascara. This will avoid smearing as you put the lens in. Be extremely careful not to touch the lens with the mascara applicator. Your lashes never touch the lens and so, if you are careful not to touch them with your fingers or the applicator they should stay clear.

Two: Use a strong magnifying mirror as an aid. Apply all eye make-up and let it dry thoroughly before putting in lens. When the lens are in, check make-up for any minor flaws.

Dear Jerry: With four small children I don't have time to do a complete make-up routine every day. When I do, the effect isn't always what I'd hoped, and it takes me forever. I'm not always sure which items should be applied when. Could you give me a step-by-step routine? Mrs. T. B. H.

A professional model would tell you there is no short cut to a perfect make-up. However, if you lean to follow a definite sequence the results will be more glamorous and you will save time.

1. Cleanse skin thoroughly.
2. Apply a moisturizer to give skin the added moisture most after-tweenty skins need.
3. Now, if using cake or compact make-up, hide any dark circles, or blemishes with an opaque cream. Apply this after fluid or cream-stick make-up.
4. Apply foundation make-up and blend evenly.
5. If you use cream or fluid rouge apply now.
6. Puff on face powder, without covering eyelids.
7. Apply eyeshadow now, to avoid smearing eyebrow and eyelash make-up.
8. Brush any powder from brows and shape with eyebrow pencil if necessary.
9. Apply liquid eyeliner. Let dry thoroughly to avoid smearing.
10. Apply mascara.
11. Apply lipstick. (Learning to use a lipstick brush will more than repay the time spent by giving you a clean, clear outline.) Blot by pressing lips together on tissue. Powder lightly. Apply a second coat of lipstick and blot.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Don't Scream for Ice Cream

Doc Davis, the young dentist, moved into town only three months ago—but already he has a thriving business, especially with children. I found the secret of his success when I stopped by Pop's Drugstore for a sandwich the other day. A small-fry walked in and handed a card to Pop. Pop immediately went to the ice cream freezer. As he started scooping a cone, I asked him if I could see that card. It read: FOR GALLANTRY IN THE DENTIST'S CHAIR—ABOVE AND BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY—PLEASE PRESENT THE BEARER

WITH A DOUBLE-SCOOP ICE CREAM CONE, ON ME. DOC DAVIS. From where I sit, it's good when a man can deal with people through understanding. He's the sort of fellow who respects the preferences of others though they may differ from his own... a tolerant man who offers his neighbor a glass of beer even though he himself may prefer lemonade. Take it from me, tolerance is the "painless" way to build a strong community.

Meat Packers Announce New Tenderizing Plans

Your Detroit Area Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Marjorie Gibbs, tells that "A scientific breakthrough" in tenderizing beef on the hoof has been announced by a large meat packing company. A protein-affecting enzyme from the papaya plant is injected into livestock a few minutes before slaughter. The results, they say, is that the lower iced chuck roast is as tender as aged prime ribs of beef.

Lean meat is preferred by consumers studies indicate, yet the most tender, most flavorful cuts are from animals given extra weeks of feeding to add extra finish. This is an expensive step in meat production—fat is put on and then trimmed off. If per capita meat consumption of 159 pounds annually continues to keep pace with the population growth, it will be necessary to increase livestock supplies by 30 percent by 1970.

Concerned with these facts, the Animal Husbandry Division of the U.S.D.A. is studying ways to breed "meat type" cattle with carcasses yielding a greater quantity of lean meat in proportion to bone and fat than do fat-layered animals... but also retain the same tenderness.

Headway has already been made in producing a "meat-type" hog. It has been done partially through diet, but mostly through cross-breeding and selection. Revised standards for lamb this spring permitted Prime and Choice cuts to carry less outside fat.

Summertime Treat

- 1 roll refrigerated Slice 'n Bake Cookies
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 2 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2-3 cup water
- 3 cups fresh blueberries (or 12-oz. pkg. frozen berries)
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1-3 cup whipping cream
- 1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese
- 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Slice cookie dough 1/8-inch thick. You may use Sugar, Toasted Coconut, Crunchy Peanut or Butterscotch Nut Slice 'n Bake Cookies. Line side of ungreased 9-inch piepan with slices, overlapping slightly to form scalloped edge. Line bottom of pan with more slices. Bake at 375 degrees for 6 to 9 minutes. Cool.

Combine 3/4 cup sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Gradually stir in water and 1 cup of the blueberries. Cook, stirring constantly, until very thick, 5 to 7 minutes. Stir in butter and lemon juice; cool. Fold in remaining berries. Chill about 1 hour.

Gradually blend cream into cream cheese; beat until light and fluffy. Stir in confectioners' sugar and lemon rind. Spread in bottom of pie shell. Top with blueberry mixture. Chill at least one hour. If desired, garnish with sweetened whipped cream. (Serve the day it is made.)

Telephone Lines

By BILL DUNN, Manager

It seems like such a short time ago that we were making plans for the family when school vacation started. Now we are looking forward to registration and clothes for the fall opening. Many of us will also become active again in our many club activities, so it is a good time to remind you of the many fine programs for mens and womans clubs that are available from Michigan Bell. You may call our Business Office - GL 3-9900 - to obtain more information concerning these programs.

VACATION BOUND:

If you're headed for a new vacation area, here's a hint that might save you some time and trouble: To find any product or service—drugstores, doctors, garages, theatres—just look in the local Yellow Pages. It's crammed with lots of information about local businesses. Without taking a step, you can make a fast tour of the shopping district—just by glancing through the Yellow Pages.

DO YOU EVER have a question or a problem about your telephone service? Perhaps you'd like to know more information about a new extension phone or find out about a charge on last month's bill. If you ever want to know anything about your telephone service, don't hesitate to call us at GL 3-9900. Giving you the service you want is what keeps us in business, and we're all happy to help you!

Summer Driving Hints: Keep Cool, Watch Weather

Drivers should keep a cool head in hot summer traffic. Temperatures tend to flare easily, and physical reaction tends to show when the mercury rises. Patience is lost more quickly, soars. It helps to dress comfortably, prepare yourself mentally before starting longer auto trips, take frequent rest stops.

THIRTY-TWO Plymouth youngsters traveled to Trenton Friday to enter the Detroit Area Metropolitan Youth Fitness Program. There were 1,500 children participating in mass calisthenics and other body-building activities. Plymouth's Recreation Director Herb Woolweaver was one of the officials arranging the event. The first one was held last year in Plymouth. Plymouth's youngsters failed to win any of the events, but recorded lots of fun and exercise during the day. The Plymouth Kiwanis Club sponsored the field day locally at which winners were selected to send to Trenton.

Automobiles, like people, require more liquids during summer heat. Water levels in radiator and battery should be checked frequently, as well as oil levels in crankcase and transmission. Brake and power steering fluids should be kept up to safe levels.

Keep a weather eye on your driving during sudden summer showers. Dust and oil film accumulations may tend to make the pavement unusually slippery until washed away by the rain. Also, this same film may obstruct vision by streaking the windshield when wipers are operated.
