

'Heights' Election Delayed

BULLETIN

The charter election for the proposed City of Plymouth Heights set for Nov. 8 has been called off and will be held "sometime after the first of the year," Township Clerk Fred L. Miller announced Tuesday night as The Mail went to press.

Miller journeyed to Lansing Tuesday to take up a technicality with the Election Commission. The technicality concerned the filing date for candidates. Full details will appear next week.

SOME 800 TEENS danced in the street last Thursday night at the Junior Chamber of Commerce affair held in conjunction with a Back-to-School promotion staged by local merchants. Penniman Ave. was blocked off from Main to Union St. for the dance. The Jaycees have been sponsoring weekly dances this summer at the Senior High. Records and a rock 'n roll combo provided music for Thursday's dance.

Festival, Post Office Dedication Coming Up

Sunday, Sept. 11 Is Busy Day for Plymouth

Sunday, Sept. 11 will be a big day in Plymouth with a double celebration planned — dedication of the new addition to the Post Office and a Fall Festival in Kellogg Park that is expected to attract several thousand people.

A citizen committee is making plans for the Post Office Dedication that will begin at 2 p.m. The huge addition, that more than doubles the size of the building, will be open to the public after a short program. High postal and public officials have been invited to the dedication. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield is sending a new 50-star flag that has been flown over the Post Office Department in Washington.

Kellogg Park will be the scene of The Plymouth Fall Festival, sponsored by the Rotary Club, will begin at 12:30 p.m. and will end at 6.

The Festival will include a chicken barbecue and corn roast. But in addition to the meal prepared on the site, there will be a band concert, art and historical displays and theatrical entertainment. The Rotary Club will set up its large barbecue pits in the empty lot next to the Penn Theatre. Penniman Ave. will be closed. Picnic tables will be set up in the park. The menu will consist of barbecued chicken, sweet corn, potato chips, rolls and coffee. There will also be a refreshment stand.

Plymouth High School's band will offer a concert in the afternoon (time to be announced later). The Three Cities Art Club will set up a display of artwork in the park and the Plymouth Historical Society will provide a display of historical items from early Plymouth.

The Plymouth Theatre Guild is also providing some entertainment for children. Also invited to set up a display is the Plymouth Garden Club.

Invitations to the Festival are being sent out to other communities in Southeastern Michigan. The Rotary Club, which has had two chicken barbecues in the past, hopes the enlarged Fall Festival will become a community tradition.

Profits from the Festival will be used by the club to further its many projects, such as the Easter Seal Center, the Student Loan Fund, sending students to the Model United Nations and others.

Out-of-town official guests at the Post Office dedication will dine at a special table at the Fall Festival.

WELL IT WAS a sunny day, so why shouldn't a dog wear a hat and sunglasses? This Welsh terrier named Teddy, won first prize for the best-groomed dog owned by girls at a dog show held in Kellogg Park last Saturday morning. His owner is Ardetta Bronson, who won a loving cup for her pet's showmanship. Around 100 dogs competed in the contest — and it has a howling, yelping and barking success.

Thirty-one New Teachers Hired By Plymouth Schools this Year

Thirty-one new teachers have joined the Plymouth Community school system this year, both as replacements and to fill newly-created teaching posts.

There are now 203 teachers in the Plymouth system, plus a part-time psychologist, and two nurses. There are also 14 administrators, making a total of 220 professional people employed by the district.

There are seven more teachers this year than last.

The newcomers and their background:

PLYMOUTH HIGH
Richard Bearup, will teach business education, B.S. from Eastern Michigan, no previous teaching experience.

Mrs. Evelyn Edgar, English and social studies. Studied at Tuscola County Normal and Western Michigan, Plymouth.

Amoret Erbs, Spanish-English. A.B. from Hillsdale.

Half-year teaching experience, Flint.

Warren J. Pelton, social studies. A.B., M.A., plus 31 hours from Michigan. Two years teaching in Rochester, Ann Arbor, Willow Run.

Mrs. Caroline Russell, mathematics. A.B., Marshall College, W. Va. 4.5 years teaching in Huntington, W. Va. and Saginaw.

Mrs. Sandra Weemhoff, girl's health education. B.A. Michigan. No previous teaching.

Mrs. Adrienne Zahniser, English. A.B., M.A. from Greenville College, Ill., Michigan and U. of Chicago, 2.5 years teaching, Saline, Mich., Chicago.

Robert Stenger, English. B.S., Eastern Michigan. Two years teaching, Rogers City, Michigan.

Allen Bluhm, industrial arts. B.S. Eastern Michigan. No previous teaching.

Reynald Borzi, English, social studies, business education. B.A., Michigan State, Eastern Michigan. No previous teaching.

The truck was owned by Wendall and Lola Ardis of Garden City. There was no one in the truck. The Road Patrol quoted Mrs. Briley as saying that she failed to see the truck until she hit it.

Traffic was blocked off as gasoline poured over the road from the mangled car. Plymouth Township firemen were called to wash a way gasoline and the City fire department's rescue truck was called to use its mechanism which pries apart wreckage.

A wrecker, however, pulled away the part that had pinned one of the occupants inside.

Mrs. Jim McCormick died at 4 a.m. Saturday in St. Mary Hospital. She had suffered head injuries, both shoulders were crushed and her lung punctured.

Mrs. Briley is now home. She suffered cuts and bruises and shock. Her mother, Mrs. Leola McCormick, who lives at the Briley home, is in "fair" condition with face and head lacerations.

Debra Briley had "extreme facial damage" but is reported now sitting up and showing improvement. Her brother, Keith, is "past the crisis," his relatives report. His brain damage is not expected to be permanent.

The dead woman's husband, Jim, 35, was not admitted to the hospital, although he sustained some bruises.

Funeral services for Mrs. McCormick were held at 2 p.m. Tuesday from the Leites Funeral Home in Wayne. The McCormicks had no children. They had formerly lived in Detroit.

Remaining in the most serious condition is Keith, who suffered brain injuries. He is expected to recover, however.

The six, with Mrs. Briley behind the wheel, were driving toward Detroit on Schoolcraft Rd. where they were going to visit other relatives.

The Wayne County Sheriff's Department reported that the Briley car struck the left rear side of a dump truck loaded with sand parked on the shoulder of Schoolcraft, between Eckles and Haggerty.

Rush Additions to Schools

Architects, the general contractor and school administrators took a tour Monday noon of the school system's three construction projects at Bird, Starkweather and Smith schools and decided that there is a very good chance that the work will be completed in time for opening of the new school year next Wednesday.

But even if the new classrooms aren't ready, Supt. Russell Isbister pointed out, there will be a full day of school for all pupils on opening day.

Workmen are rushing to complete the three projects which began as school was being dismissed last June. An entire new wing of five rooms and a kindergarten room are being added to Smith School.

At Bird School, one full classroom is being added to the end of each of the three present wings, plus

Reception To Open Swainson Campaign Drive

A campaign Kick-off Reception for Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson of Plymouth will be held Thursday, Sept. 8 in the Plymouth Junior High School at 8 p.m.

Hosting the state-wide affair will be Democrats from Swainson's home district, the 17th. Plymouth Democrats are handling arrangements for their favorite son.

Light refreshments will be served. The affair is open to the public. It is expected that guests may drop in at any time starting at 6 p.m.

The reception is intended to formally open the general election campaign for Swainson, who in August scored an upset victory for the Democratic nomination for governor.

NEWS BEAT

Plymouth police today cited the case of a local widow as a warning to all residents to be wary of doing business with strangers. On Aug. 16 a man came to the door and informed the woman that her roof contained holes and needed repairs. After a couple of questions, she told him to go ahead. Police reports show that he "sprayed the roof with black paint." She gave him $139 for the job. It took about an hour. The man claimed to have used 30 gallons of paint. She doesn't know his name or didn't get a receipt. A few days later the widow called police to seek help in getting her money back. "It's a tragedy," observed Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher. "We'd like to help but there's nothing we can legally do ... now."

Mrs. Briley is now home. She suffered cuts and bruises and shock. Her mother, Mrs. Leola McCormick, who lives at the Briley home, is in "fair" condition with face and head lacerations.

Debra Briley had "extreme facial damage" but is reported now sitting up and showing improvement. Her brother, Keith, is "past the crisis," his relatives report. His brain damage is not expected to be permanent.

Jumping Center Conforms To City Requests

Things are bouncing along smoothly at the Jumping Jiminy Trampoline Center on S. Main St. after a rough start two weeks ago when neighbors complained about loud music, bright lights and insufficient parking.

A report on the center was given City Commissioners last week by City Manager Albert Glassford. The manager advised that the "Music to Jump By" has ceased altogether and that signs regarding no parking have been erected near the corners.

Lights which may shine into neighboring homes have also been shaded, the Commission learned.

Petitions carrying 58 signatures were handed to Commissioners three weeks ago, complaining mainly about the music. The Center is located in proper commercial zoning, but a residential district abuts the commercial area on the side streets.

The Commission suggested that the police department study a suggestion to remove parking from one side of Hartsough St.

Substantial evidence of the serious intent of those seeking to build a Community College in this area was offered this week when a formal college office was opened in the Newburgh School at Newburgh and Ann Arbor Trail.

Six school districts have been planning such a college project together for the past three years. They are Plymouth, South Redford, Garden City, Livonia, Redford Union and Clarenceville.

It appears now that an election will be held next spring wherein the taxpayers will be asked to approve the formation of a "Community College District" and also to elect a governing board. This board would consist of each district and three others "at large."

Approval of financing would be asked later, but under State law, aid would come from Lansing, with the local voters asked to approve possibly one mill to build the buildings and campus and to help with operating expense. Tuition fees would cover the rest of the annual cost.

Community Colleges would offer academic, commercial and technical college education for the first two years of high school post graduate study. Their proponents say that this would permit students to continue beyond high school without having to pay board and room in distant places; that it would provide an "economical weeding out process" for those who for one reason or another won't progress beyond two years of college; and that it is the answer to giant universities "who can't possibly expand further to accommodate the growing undergraduate population."

If the concept is correct, big universities such as Michigan, Michigan State and Wayne ultimately will concentrate their efforts and money toward educating college

Evening Ceremony Unites Couple At Cass Church

An evening ceremony, June 4, united Bettie Joyce Pedigo and Hugh Allen Daly in marriage. The ceremony was held at Cass Methodist Church in Detroit. Bettie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pedigo of Detroit and Hugh is the son of Mrs. Lester H. Daly and the late Lester Daly of Southworth. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of appliqued organza with a fingertip veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Ann Holbrook of Detroit served as bridesmaid. She wore a yellow lace ballerina-length dress and carried gold rums with carnations.

James Van Wagoner of Detroit assisted the groom as best man. The ushers were Dave and Larry Daly, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Pedigo chose a dress of blue satin and lace with white accessories and a yellow rose corsage. The mother of the groom chose a dress of aqua chiffon with a pink rose corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors. Two-hundred guests attended from Detroit, Ypsilanti, North Carolina, Maryland, California and the Plymouth area. For the going-away-trip to Northern Michigan, the bride chose a blue suit with white accessories.

The new Mrs. Daly is a graduate of Western High School, class of 1959. Her husband graduated from Plymouth High School in the class of 1954 and attends Wayne State University. The couple will live in Detroit.

VISITS PARENTS

Rosemary Barker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Barker of Randall St., Farmington, has been visiting her parents for the past 10 days. She left Friday for Granite City, Ill. Her sister Norma went with her on an extended vacation.

Rebekah News

Now that vacation time is ended, we do hope all had a pleasant and restful summer and are ready for work on our fall projects. First will be our general meeting, September 9. Second will be the "Luncheon Is Served" party, Wednesday, September 14. The party will begin at 12:30 p.m. and we are hoping that everyone has a door prize to offer or something for the white elephant table. See Sister Mable Hunter for tickets, Wednesday, September 14. It will also be the date of the Lodge's presentation of the Emblem to Garland Lodge, No. 359. This will be held in the evening.

Just a reminder about the pillow case party coming up in October. I'm sure the chairman, Sister Ethel Bulson, is anxious to hear about the pillow cases which were handed out.

We have a big year to finish up so let's get out for our first meeting, Friday, Sept. 9, at 8 p.m. and support our officers.

Our best wishes to anyone who is or who has been ill. We hope to see you out at the meetings.

ENGAGED

Beverly Jean Mende

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mende of 6025 Newburg Rd. announce the engagement of their daughter, Beverly Jean to James Kenneth Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell of 35244 School St. Beverly is a 1960 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School. Her fiance, a 1957 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School, is employed at Imperial Industries. A definite date has not yet been planned for the wedding.

Prizes Awarded For Crazy Hats At Fox Hills

Members of Fox Hills Country Club Women's Association held their annual Doe Day August 25 at the Plymouth course. It was a 'no men allowed' occasion, complete with crazy hats and seven holes of unusual golf.

Number 1 hole required the ladies to drive a ball, teed incidentally on a length of hose, while standing on two bales of hay. The remaining six holes each had their own challenge for the over 80 golfers attending.

Previous Doe Days have been costume but this year the ladies decided that crazy hats would be the order of the day. Among the clever ideas shown were hats made like a carousel, a hat designed to resemble a well-tended putting green and another hat, which coupled with make-up, gave a cat-like effect.

Winning the prize for the prettiest hat was Mrs. Mesinger. The funniest hat was worn by Mrs. Kantzler, while Mrs. Callender's hat was judged "Most Becoming to Day". Elsie Brown wore the hat judged to be most practical. Mrs. Issac wore the sexiest hat. The prize for largest hat was won by Mrs. Sawyer, while Mrs. Chisnell wore the smallest hat.

Judged as the hat most appropriate for occasion was the hat designed by Mrs. Hancock. Mrs. Robert Lidgard's hat was the most original. The cleverest hat was Mrs. Porath's. Most fashionable hat was worn by Mrs. Lentz. Mrs. Westmeier was awarded a prize for the most professional-looking hat. Most edible hat was worn by Mrs. Hayes. Mrs. Bird wore the hat judged as most colorful.

Mrs. Klockow wore the hat judged as most chic, while Mrs. George Schmeeman wore the most unusual hat. A tie for most unusual hat found Mrs. Littleton and Mrs. McCall. "The hat hardest to wear in a wind" was worn by Mrs. Atchinson. Mrs. Leetz wore the floweriest hat.

Wearing the hat judged as easiest to wear in a convertible was Jean Osburn. Mrs. Pease wore the most glamorous hat while Mrs. Painter was awarded for wearing the most expensive hat. The sweetest hat was worn by Mrs. Zante. The cutest hat was worn by Mrs. DeWolf. Mrs. Shimko wore the most modern hat. Mrs. Dwyer and Mrs. Shaw wore the best pair of hats. The golfiest hat was worn by Mrs. Heintz.

A TOTAL OF 185 years are represented here, in the persons of Mrs. Bert Hodge, who celebrated her 88th birthday, August 27, and Theodore Schoof, celebrating his 97th birthday on the same day. Mr. Schoof and Mrs. Hodge were treated to a party attended by over 40 friends and relatives at the West Trail Nursing home. Mr. Schoof, who was born in Denmark near Hamburg (now Germany), has farmed in the Plymouth area for many years. His daughter, Margaret Sheere, is a local resident. Schoof has two sons, eight grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Mrs. Hodge, a housewife, is the former Janet Crosby. Her husband was employed, until his death, by the Mayflower Hotel.

Teen Club Ends Season With Picnic

The high school Teen Club of Our Lady of Good Counsel closed its summer season Monday with a picnic at Belleville. Perhaps the biggest event of the summer was the aid given in constructing a prize-winning parade float for the local 4th of July parade. The number of students who participated in this were pleased to see their work rewarded with a second-place trophy. The float featured a garden shrine in honor of the church patron, the Mother of God. A trip to Camp Dearborn with its variety of interests in boating, games, and swimming afforded the Club an enjoyable day, as did an outing at Bob-Le Island on a previous Monday. A Plymouth family invited the group to camp overnight at their summer cottage at Caseville on Saginaw Bay. The girls spent the evening at the family cottage, and the boys set up tents at the local state park. The trip to Caseville was the longest of the summer, requiring 320 miles round trip. Edgewater Park furnished a most busy evening for the Club by presenting each member a pass to ride all of the rides in the park free of charge for one evening from 7:30 until 10:00 p.m. The roller coaster became quite a favorite that evening with some boys apparently spending most of the "free" time on that ride. A hayride in Superior Township, followed by an evening swim in one of the outside swimming pools of that area highlighted another Monday night. A hotdog and marshmallow roast, along with swimming at a private lake on Gyde Road was a double activity, one during the day, the other in the evening.

LIKE DAD, LIKE SON

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Many people are bad drivers because their parents were, says E. Ray Cory, president of the Minnesota State Automobile Assn. "The youngster who has watched his parent for many years flout traffic laws tends to grow up with an understandably irresponsible attitude toward his driving," Cory said.

It's News To Me!
By KARLA HERBOLD

Want to know more about the cultural activities offered by our town? If you do (and you really should), the Plymouth Rotary Club will provide the opportunity for you on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 11. That's the day of their annual chicken barbecue, which this year will feature art exhibits and concerts, as well as a Rotarian-cooked meal.

The idea of the Fall Festival is to give Plymouth a preview of some of the many activities which will be getting underway during the fall. There'll be a concert by the high school band and a display by the Three Cities Art Club. The Plymouth Historical Society will have an exhibition centering around Early Plymouth. Something for the children has been planned by the Theatre Guild and the Women's Garden Club has also been asked to participate.

Picnic tables will be set up in Kellogg Park, the scene of the displays, so you can eat and absorb culture at the same time. The club uses the money to further their Rotary projects, but actually they're going to be furthering our whole city by showing us just a small part of what Plymouth has to offer. We're hoping the idea catches on and becomes a popular activity for the whole community.

The fall season looks as though it's going to be a good one for other organizations, too. We're getting a little bit cultural these days (probably preparing for school) and recommending the offerings of two local groups. First, the Plymouth Symphony, which will present its initial concert on Oct. 16. That particular concert will feature music on a Roman Olympics theme. (If you think that's difficult, what about Berlioz' "Roman Carnival Overture" or "The Pines of Rome" by Respighi?)

Later concerts will include "1812 Overture", Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 1" and the Christmas section of "The Messiah." Another highly-recommended concert is set for Nov. 20, with Ne-lita True as soloist (we knew her in those long-gone Interlochen days). The Symphony Society will also sponsor a special motion-picture performance of Swan Lake, with the famed Bolshoi Ballet, on Sept. 17.

The Plymouth Theatre Guild has three excellent plays in the offing. During Nov. 3, 4 and 5, the Guild will host the convention of the Community Theatre Association of Michigan, presenting "The Crucible" for local audiences, as well as for their guests. In March, a performance will be given of the Broadway hit "Inherit the Wind" and the Guild will close its season with "The Philadelphia Story."

Plymouth ought to realize the unusually fine cultural opportunities offered in a town of this size.

Note Change of Date
Newcomers' Club's first fall luncheon will be held at the Mayflower Hotel on Sept. 15. Watch the Plymouth Mail for further details.

Writes From Holiday At Rockies' Western Slope

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article is by Mrs. Herbert Woolweaver, who, with her husband, director of the Recreation Department, has been vacationing in Colorado. The Woolweaver are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Herb Dorricott of Western State College.)

Some 18 years ago, when we spent our summers in school here in Gunnison, Colo., there were still hitching posts, silver dollars used as change and the Saturday night collection of cowhands at the local taverns. These are now part of the past. Jeeps are the substitute for horses, unless out on the range. Silver dollars are used for effect on the tourist resorts and the tourists are now the ones who converge on the town.

Summer session at the college is now completed, but the campus is buzzing with 1,000 high school and college students representing 26 states for the music camp and music education workshop. The list of teachers for each instrument contains names of the musically renowned from not only mid-western universities, but the U.S. Navy band, the New York Philharmonic and the former Ringling Brothers circus band leader, Merle Evans. Ohio is represented by Charles Minelli of Ohio University and Michigan by Dr. William Revelli from the University of Michigan. Revelli conducts the honors band in nightly concerts.

This is a two-week session with pianist Eugene Istomin as guest soloist for two concerts during the first weekend of camp and Arthur Fiedler of the Boston Pops as guest conductor for the final concert.

Among the changes in the area is the purchase of the ghost town of Tincup, where now the cabins for tourists have electricity, and running water. No more ghosts. Another change, to come, is the erection of the Curecanti Dam which will flood about 25 miles of the famous trout river, the Gunnison. Irrigation is still important to the area. Water constantly runs in the gutters and ditches. The residents use pumps and a series of garden hoses for their lawns and gardens. The valley in which the Gunnison is located is very productive for hay, but only because of the regulation of the irrigation in higher country.

Fall will soon be here. The official airport low on August 27 was 29 degrees. Some of the aspens are already turning into their golden glory and the skunk cabbage has been wilted by the frost. However, the daytime hours are delightfully warm enough for music campers to be in shorts. The sun shines then, but blankets are most welcome as the sun goes down behind the mountains.

TWO $25 GIFT certificates were awarded this week in connection with the Back-to-School promotion staged by Plymouth merchants. Miss Mavis Williams, who is Miss Plymouth of 1960, made the selection Monday in the Chamber of Commerce office. Don Zander, general chairman of the promotion, is shown assisting. The sub-teen winner was Bruce Sharrow, 12, of 1344 West Ann Arbor Trail. The teen-age winner was Andrew Walkley, 33925 Macomb, Farmington. The certificates are usable in any store participating in the promotion.

Chorale Presents Final Performance at U of M

Seventy-one members of the Michigan Chorale, which recently finished its 45-day tour of six South American countries, will present their final concert, Sunday, Sept. 11, at the University of Michigan's Hill Auditorium.

Plymouthite James Conrad, a student at St. Thomas School, will be among the members singing at the 3 p.m. concert. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark I. Conrad, 251 Auburn.

The Chorale is part of the Youth For Understanding Teen-Age Exchange program sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches and administered by the Ann Arbor-Washtenaw Council of Churches.

Tickets for the final concert are available from chorale members or at the offices of the University Musical Society in Burton Tower.

The Council of Churches also has several tickets on hand. A recent editorial in the Brazil Herald stated that "they (the chorale members) are Americans representing the vigor of an idealistic generation... and artistically they performed with a competence, zest and charm that enchanted the Brazilian audience which heard their program."

When asked why the pig before the horse, one small fry said: "You never see pigs having to carry people on their backs."

Police said that Connor was carrying a rock. He was jailed on a drunk and disorderly charge. He is on probation for another charge in Redford.

Five Northville boys were brought into police headquarters Saturday night for questioning after they allegedly beat up one of their own members. Five citizens watched late Saturday as four grabbed one boy, beat him, took him into a car and continued beating him.

The witnesses called police, fearing kidnapping. Northville police picked up the boys at a Northville drive-in. Brought back to Plymouth, the boys claimed it was "all a big joke."

It was then that police learned that one of the boys apparently had a disagreement with the others. The youths were released to an attorney and will appear in court Sept. 7.

FOR WINNING first place in baseball competition in the Northwest Wayne County League of the Catholic Youth Organization, the Our Lady of Good Counsel School team was presented a trophy last week. Several team members were on hand when the trophy arrived and was presented by Sister Christine, new principal of the school. From left are Jerry McKillip, Ron Garchow, Sister Christine, Bill Bolduc, Don Gavigan, and Jack Kopenski. The team had 12 wins and no losses. There was a note of sadness accompanying the trophy. The team's star pitcher, Joe Janicki, was killed in an auto accident last June. And the team's coach, Michael Spitz, died Aug. 6 at the age of 39.

Rock Gridders Face Northville To Open Season September 16

The 1960-61 football season officially began for Plymouth High School boys on Aug. 29 as they reported for the beginning work-outs. Practices this year, for the first few weeks, will be held two and three times daily.

Turnout for this season found 70 boys out for the Rock football squad. The Varsity team will be coached by Mike Hoben. Coach Hoben will be assisted by John McFall and Bill Brown. The reserve team will be under the guiding hand of Brian Borjig while the freshmen will be handled by John Workman.

Getting back into routine will be these returning lettermen: seniors Ray Liimakka, Art Anderson, Ralph Spigarelli, John Spigarelli, John Dennany, Don Alsbro, Pete Steiner, Bob Monteith, Art Nelson, Larry Popp and Jim Lockwood. The two returning juniors are Dan Stremick and Mike Kisabeth.

The biggest handicap facing the team this year is the shortage of backs. There are none returning and the loss of two All-State backers, Randy Egloff and Wayne Sparkman, will cost the team. "This will be a rebuilding year for Plymouth football," stated Head Coach Hoben.

The first game of the new season will find the Mustangs of Northville on the local grid. The two teams have long been arch-rivals and on Sept. 16 will find them battling again.

Seven years ago, in 1953, saw Northville running over their arch-rivals 21-0. The squads didn't meet in 1954, but resumed their series in '55 with Plymouth romping to 37-0 victory.

The Rocks made it three in a row with successive 13-12 wins in '56 and '57. Then in 1958 the Mustangs regained a touch of their torn pride by defeating the Rocks in a 12-6 victory, only to slip behind again in '59 to a 9-0 score for Plymouth.

The first league meet will be against Belleville with Trenton following.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor:
 Of all places a gas station should not occur. The one at Harvey and Penniman is outstanding. It is too near the Penniman business section to be desirable. If we had about forty more filling stations what a grand town we would have.

I do not feel favorable as to patronizing a station that seeks to break down our ordinances in order to barge in where not wanted. The present regulations are intended to protect people who would be living near a smelly affair. How greedy can they get? I hope the court protects the rights of the people. I hope it denies the injunction. We do not like rule by injunction.

O.E.S. Highlights

Dear Members:
 Vacation time is almost over and, as you look backwards, we trust it was an enjoyable one for each of you. Looking forward, however, reminds us that it is once again time to spend our activities. Heading your list, we hope, are plans for attendance to the Regular Meeting of Plymouth Chapter No. 115 Order of Eastern Star on Tuesday, Sept. 8, at 7:30 p.m. First in order will be the draping of the Charter. There will be a practice for all officers, excluding the Bible Degree, on Sunday, Sept. 18th at 12:30 p.m. Our next Special Meeting, which will be Advance Officers' Night and a Public Memorial, will be held Tuesday, Sept. 20 at 7:45 sharp. Wednesday, Sept. 7, the Rainbow Board will meet at the home of Theresa Carpenter who resides at 9458 Corlinne.

Plymouthite To Enter National Drag Race Event

Jerry Kendall, 185 Harvey St., was among the 18 winners of stock car races at the Detroit Dragway Sunday afternoon. Their win entitles them to enter the 1960 National Championship Drag Races to be held on the same track on Sibley Rd., near Dix-Toledo highway from Thursday through Monday, Sept. 1-5.

Winners of the races will advance to final elimination for the national championships Monday afternoon. Other classes of dragsters and high-speed hot rod competition cars will be running in day-time events each day with about 1,000 cars entered in 34 different classes.

Local Travel Agency Booked 152 to Rome's Olympic Games

The country's largest air tour to the Olympic games is being handled by local travel agent Kurt Thrun, who booked 152 people to the sports extravaganza in Rome. Four major airlines, Lufthansa, Pan American, Trans World and Air France, transported the group.

Among Thrun's passengers are such well-known names as Von Saltza and Stager.

American Legion News

The next regular get-together will be a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 14, at the Odd Fellow Hall.

The 17th District installation of Legion and Auxiliary officers will be Friday, Sept. 9, at 8 p.m. at the Brightmoor Community Center on Burt Road (south of Fenkell and Linden). The 17th District ritual team will install the Legion officers and the past presidents of the 17th and 18th Districts will install the Auxiliary.

Circle this date! Sunday, September 11 — the date of the annual Passage-Gayde Post and Unit 391 Picnic, Cass Benton Park, Six Mile and Northville Roads. Plan to eat at 1 p.m. Bring your own lunch, pop for the children — fun for all — let's see all of you there.

Notice! Post business meeting changed from Sept. 7 to Sept. 14, 8 p.m. at the Veterans Community Center.

The 17th District Ritual Team installed the officers of the Legion, Ypsilanti, Post 282, Saturday, August 27. Refreshments and dancing followed the installation. Attending were Commanders Charles Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burleson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kinghorn, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Koi and Vern Miller.

Remember the Auxiliary will have a rummage sale on Friday, Sept. 23, from 9-6 and Saturday, September 24 from 9 to 12. The place will be the Veteran's Community Center. Emily Mosher is chairman and she urges all to get rummage things together or contact her at GL 3-4173. Her address is 963 W. Ann Arbor Trail. Let's make this another successful sale. Emily has been working hard on this, so let's give her all the cooperation we can. If you can help her on the sale, please call her and let her know when.

The Auxiliary will have their first business meeting for the new year on Thursday, Sept. 22, at 8 p.m. at the Veteran's Community Center. Let's have a good turnout at our first meeting. The theme of the month is music.

Mildred Hewer, unit Chaplain, reports Evelyn Gardner is recovering from surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Her room number is 3033. Let's cheer her up and send her some cards.

The parents of famous Olympic swimmer Chris Von Saltza, who recently startled the sports world with her record times in Rome, are among our members. So is the wife of Olympic and University of Michigan swimming coach Julius Stager.

Also participating in the tour are track coaches from leading U.S. universities. They are Don Canhan of the University of Michigan, Chic Werner of Penn State, Dave Rankin of Purdue, Jess Morsen of University of Southern California, and others.

Other notables include 12 newspaper writers, two of them from the Detroit area. They are Doc Greene of "Detroit News," Press Box fame, and Larry Middlemaas, also a "News" sports writer.

Four agents from Thrun's office also made the trip to Rome. Besides Thrun, tour members were Miss Patricia Jonaas, Jack Dziens and Denny Hanks at the Rome headquarters.

Four members met in Paris for music and dancing at the Pavillon de Dauphine. In Rome, they used over $16,000 worth of game tickets.

Thrun reports that four members have planned trips following the games. Eighty have scheduled a visit to the Passion play in Oberammergau, six will launch around-the-world voyages, and a great many plan post-game trips to the Holy Land.

Part of the tour will take Thrun's special Rome side trip to the island of Capri. Passengers are from 18 states in the country as well as Saskatchewan and Ontario in Canada, Oslo in Norway, and Puerto Rico.

James Mitchell Leaving Plymouth To Become Pastor

James Mitchell, former vice-president of the Board of Education and an executive of the Barnes-Gibson-Raymond Division, is giving up his home and job in Plymouth to become a pastor in the Episcopal church.

He will begin his three years of schooling on Sept. 12 at Bexley Hall at Kenyon College in Gambier, O.

Mitchell, a native of Grand Rapids, moved here in 1952 to become personnel manager for B-G-R. He held this position until July 1 when he began new duties in sales.

He was the first director of the Junior Achievement program in Plymouth. From 1956 to 1959 he was on the Board of Education and was vice-president. Mitchell has also been active in Chamber of Commerce work.

He is choir director of St. John's Episcopal Church.

Mitchell's wife and two children will join him in Ohio after their home is sold.

Pfc. William Stockton, Jr., 41575 Joy Rd., Plymouth, has received orders to report to Bad Tolz, Germany, September 15, after being named to the U.S. Army Hockey Team, a Good Will Team.

The team will be touring all of the European countries and will include some of the Iron Curtain countries. The tour will last until the latter part of April, 1961.

THE MAIL ATTITUDE

BY PAUL CHANDLER

Mayor William Brashear of Livonia made an earnest thrust last week at becoming the State Republican party's candidate as Attorney General.

He and his troops were in the convention in the downtown Detroit hotel on Friday, campaigning away with signs, refreshment, and whatever else it is you do to try to win last minute sympathy from the delegates.

Earlier he had been given a certain amount of tacit encouragement by some who are placed highly within the State GOP. On that basis, he had proceeded firmly and with hope.

But, about 11 p.m. on Friday (first day of the convention) the naked facts finally appeared. Governor candidate Paul Bagwell had given his "endorsement" to a man from Holland, Mich. for the Attorney General post, a fact which heretofore had been revealed neither to Brashear nor his forces. And this year, what Bagwell wants, Bagwell gets.

We haven't talked in a couple of weeks to Livonia's Mayor. But others who were at the convention report that it was a moment of bitter disillusionment. Nobody had told him earlier that he was wasting his time and exposing his pride, and when he discovered it himself, the scene was not pretty.

Among the ironies, as we noted in this paper recently, is that Brashear would have done the GOP a lot of good in this area.

In this general area, the City of Detroit sells water to Redford Township, to Livonia, Farmington, Garden City. In the near future it will sell to Plymouth Township and ultimately, to the City of Plymouth.

And our area is only part of what sometimes is called the "big picture." One way and another (and there have been some difficult turns) the Detroit water authority has managed to become a "metropolitan water authority," in almost the image sought by those who have urged "metropolitan government" for complex city-suburban situations.

In fact, the City of Detroit is about the only source of soft water for three counties today.

The idea is sound and the results pleasing. Small, separate water systems for each of the individual communities are financially insane, when one major authority, sending its pipes into two big lakes, and financing the whole thing by one set of bonds, can handle the task.

Until recently, however, there has been a problem of basic democracy. How do a large chunk of customers (the suburbs) get a proportionate voice in the administration, pricing, and policy of a system of which they are increasingly a "part"?

Redford Township particularly protested and pleaded over this unfairness a couple of years ago when Detroit announced it was increasing the price of water sold to its customers.

The answer, overlooked by most of us, was provided by the voters of Detroit themselves in the August 2 election.

On that day an amendment was approved 91,179 to 53,046, whereby Detroit voluntarily gives the suburbs three full representatives on the Board of Water Commissioners. The total number on the Board henceforth will be seven, with only four required to be Detroit residents.

The General Manager of the Water Department will replace the President as a member of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors. Selection of the President and Vice-President by rotation will give way to appointment of those officers by the Mayor of Detroit.

The election, incidentally, was the result of hard work by Detroiters so that the suburbs would receive representation. A similar measure had been nixed in Detroit two years ago by 28,000 votes.

This time the Water Board itself conducted a major propaganda campaign supporting the proposal. Mayor Louis Miriani actively supported it.

This reporter was up among those insisting on a "suburban voice" on the Water Board when the issue was hot three years ago. We also subscribe entirely to the principle of "metropolitan" authority for certain key matters of government, of which water supply is one.

Let us, then, on behalf of our respective local citizens, say Thanks and Well Done to the Detroit Water Board. They heard the cries from our area; they answered them with selfless action; and in the process demonstrated good faith and a sincerity which will not be unrecognized in the too often unappreciated suburbs.

POSTERS advertising Plymouth's Fall Festival went up last week and pitching in were Sam Hudson, left, president of the Rotary Club, and Frank Arlen, general chairman of the Festival. Held in Kellogg Park on Sunday, Sept. 11, the Festival will feature not only a dinner but also many displays and entertainment.

Canvass to Determine Who Wants Trees Sprayed for Elm Scale

Spraying against elm scale disease will start during the second week of September after volunteers have canvassed City neighborhoods to find out who wants to have their shrubs and trees sprayed.

Two captains have been appointed to head teams of volunteers that will make the canvass.

Elm scale disease, which is different than Dutch Elm disease, has struck trees and shrubs mainly in Maplecroft and Hough Park Subdivisions. Mrs. Don Ward has been named captain of a team to canvass Maplecroft and Mrs. Edwin Schrader will lead the canvassers in Hough Park.

The City Commission has made arrangements with the Green Ridge Nursery of Napier Rd. to do the spraying. They will spray City-owned trees at $1.18 per tree.

On private property, the cost will be $2.50 for large trees and $1.50 for small per visit.

Elm scale is spread by an insect which forms a hard scale under which they lay eggs which eventually hatch in June or early July. The insects crawl out to the leaves during the summer where they live until September. They then crawl back to the branches and suck sap from the tree. Eventually the tree can die from lack of nutrition.

A week-long workshop for teachers began Monday and is being attended by some 160 teachers. There are three separate workshops — one for Senior High teachers, another for Junior High and the other for elementary teachers being held at Farrand School.

The workshops, which open at 8:30 a.m. and close at 2:30, feature addresses by educators, panel discussions, movies, departmental meetings and evaluations sessions.

"Our first main activity," said Ammerman, "will be the mailing of a questionnaire to high school graduates from the six district high schools for the years 1956, 1958 and 1960. The questionnaire will not go to all graduates, but we will use a stratified random sampling, similar to the technique used by the various opinion polls."

Plymouthite Writes From England

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles written by Plymouth young people who are abroad this summer. Each has been invited to write back what they are doing and their impressions. This article is by Paul M. Rawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rawley of 45805 Ann Arbor Rd.)

LONDON—For the past few weeks I have been calling England home. My "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Iva n Brickell, are my hosts. Their 17-year-old son Rodney is the only member of the family still at home.

Mr. Brickell is the director of the firm he founded in 1949—Bull and Brickell Ltd. The company distributes frozen food, ice cream and acts as the agent for several refrigerating firms. This business is new and growing rapidly as the British people are just now coming to grips with refrigerators and frozen foods.

In the village of Box, which is near Bath and has a population of 8,000, our house is different from all but two. We are blessed with central heating. Electric washing machines, toasters, blenders, and refrigerators, not to mention deep freezers are luxuries. To my knowledge, automatic washers are not even sold in the stores. Yet the people are happy and proud of their country.

I count the privilege of attending the City of Bath Boys' School a real opportunity. Decidedly different from our schools this system has its good and bad points. A few are:

The headmaster is boss; what he says goes. He controls the entire school: students, teachers, finances, and is completely responsible for its functioning.

Once a course of study is planned for you there is no turning back. Between the ages of 11 and 12 all English children are required to take an exam. This "11 plus" exam, as it is called, is the instrument by which it is decided whether or not the person will go to a grammar school (highest rank in school), technical school (second in rank) or secondary modern school (second in some fields, third in others).

City of Bath Boys' School is a grammar school. Boys from "11 plus" years of age to 18 or 19 attend here. Most of the college entrants are drawn from this school level. At the technical school I found departments of English, social science, shop, homemaking and all the other departments and study areas normally found in American high schools. The only difference between this school and our high school is that the subjects are taught at an easier level. We must remember that the boy or girl at this school did not pass the exam. He can raise himself only after many exams are passed and the headmaster at a grammar school agrees to take him on. This technical school is the most like our schools. It is democratic. No school uniforms are required as at City of Bath Boys, nor do the "masters" (teachers) wear the long black gowns of their office as they do at grammar school. The headmaster is called the "principal." In short, this is the new type of school. Most English educators hope that it will raise its standards and replace the other forms.

Not much can be said for the secondary modern schools except that they try to produce good citizens for the society in which the students will later live.

At City of Bath Boys' School the day begins with morning assembly. The masters, formally robed, lead the student body in a series of prayers, hymns and lessons designed to charge them with zeal to serve God, the Crown, and mankind. Religion is the only subject required to be taught and studied, yet many of the students profess to be agnostics and atheists. The service ends by 9:30 a.m.

The students attend between two and four classes in the morning, depending upon the length of the lecture and the lab work to be done. Lunch at 1 p.m. is followed by more classes. Sports are also provided in the afternoon. Finally at 4:30 p.m. school closes down for the day.

One of the most memorable occasions in my stay was when I saw the Queen, His Royal Highness Prince Philip and His Grace the Duke of Norfolk. All were at the Goodwood Races—one of England's society events, held for four days once a year.

London proved to be a wonderful city. Big Ben, The Tower of London, Westminster Abbey, Madame Taurand's all have interested me and held me almost spellbound.

Closer back at Box is the ancient Roman city of Bath. A popular spot with the Romans and a playground for eighteenth century nobility it still retains the splendor of bygone days with a wonderful collection of beautiful buildings, parks and fountains. The Roman Baths themselves are still providing their "health giving waters" for all to enjoy. Temperature is always 120 degrees Fahrenheit. The water is used not only for treatments in hospitals but for heating, swimming and drinking (after being cooled).

The church I attend is the Church of England's St. Thomas a Becket, named for the bishop so closely connected to the Canterbury Tales. Like many churches that dot the countryside it was already 300 years old when Columbus made his first voyage to America. At the Reformation, so the story goes, the priest was confronted with either serving as a member of his own order and losing his head, or becoming a Church of England clergyman and keeping his parish and life. He chose the latter, saying the new mass—Church of England version—the following week.

Wales is a beautiful rugged country. The charming people there have a language of their own that is pleasant to hear. More emotional than the English, almost every Welshman belongs to a choir. Many play instruments, the favorite being the shepherd's harp.

The trip to Lands End in Cornwall, where beautiful harbors and colorful fishing villages dot the picturesque coast is truly worth taking. Many people spend their vacations here; the peace, quiet and dips in the cold sea all help to refresh them.

Soon now, I will be leaving England to return to Plymouth. With me I will carry the thoughts of those I have come to know and love as my very own. This is perhaps the most beautiful part of the Youth for Understanding Program, for in a few short weeks I have made countless new friends. A new family, parents—a new world.

POSTAL RED FACE
 NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — Mrs. Myrtle Lee Autrey, postmaster, found this note from an annoyed patron stuck on a stamp vending machine which frequently broke down: "You fight rain, sleet, snow and hail; why can't you whip this cotton-pickin' machine?"

Spelvin Continues Stratford Visit

THE LIGHTS had dimmed and all the stage was our world for the next two hours as Tony Van Bridge who is shown here peeping out the inevitable trap door entertained us and the packed house with the antics of the comic country bumpkin plus the madcap romance of Hermia, Lysander, Helena and Demetrius. In short, "Midsummer Night's Dream" kept the audience roaring with laughter as Puck showed how "the course of true love never runs smooth" and then laments later in the play as to "what fools these mortals be." The Stratford Shakespearean Festival in Ontario, Canada, presents its eighth season of drama and comedy until Sept. 17. They are featuring "Romeo and Juliet," "King John" and "Midsummer Night's Dream." Dr. Smith and old George strongly recommend all three of these plays for a theater lovers.

CHRISTOPHER PLUMMER (Phillip) comforts Douglas Rain (King John) in the closing moments of the powerful political tragedy, "King John." All the florid, rhetorical utterances of the treacherous King have now come to the inevitable end—death. England has been laid waste by corrupt actions of the King, several rightful heirs to the throne have been killed or tortured, great battles waged. For the past two hours and a half the history of England has leaped out of the stodgy textbooks onto the stage at Stratford. You live and breathe the excitement of the year 1242. Only when the lights come back on at the conclusion of the play do you realize that you are a part of the space age. The happy combination of superb directing, costuming, lighting, and top-flight acting produces such an illusion. Only at Stratford do you find such a consummate wedding of the histrionic arts.

Scout Troop P-4 Plans For Coming Months

With the termination of summer camp season at the Charles Howell Reservation and the return of 14 troop members, wiser and more advanced in the ranks of scouting, troop committee chairman, Dean W. Manley, called a committee meeting at his home on Southworth Drive to plan troop activities for the fall and winter season. The 10 men committee and scoutmaster, Paul H. Steencken, approved the following program of events:
 Sept. 12, 7:30 p.m.—Initial troop meeting at the First United Presbyterian Church House.
 Sept. 19, 7:30 p.m.—Regular meeting at the Church House and a "Board of Review" to approve new scout ranks earned at summer camp.
 Sept. 23, 24, 25, 6 p.m.—Two day and two night camp-out with canoeing, fishing, swimming and hiking.
 Oct. 3, 6 p.m.—Court of Honor and potluck dinner at Church House.
 Oct. 7, 8, 9, 5 p.m.—Two day canoe trip on the Rifle River.
 Oct. 10, 7:30 p.m.—Regular meeting at the Church House.
 Oct. 21, 22, 23, 6 p.m.—Weekend camp-out at Brighton Recreation area; for study and advancement opportunity.
 Oct. 24, 7:30 p.m.—Regular meeting at the Church House.
 Nov. 5, 9 a.m.—One day hike with advancement opportunity.
 Scoutmaster Paul H. Steencken advised the troop committee that the troop can accommodate about 10 new Scout recruits and he wished to advise parents of boys who have attained 11 years of age and are interested in scouting, to have the boys attend the first troop meeting on Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m. One parent should accompany their son to this meeting.

AFTER A BRILLIANT PERFORMANCE in "King John," Dr. Smith and I spent a few moments interviewing Christopher Plummer. How much research does Mr. Plummer do prior to accepting a Shakespearean role? Enormous amounts. In the case of "King John" he consulted four different versions and spent endless hours talking with the director about his concept of the role. Who did he feel were some great directors? Elia Kazan, Michael Langham, Douglas Seales and Ty Guthrie? What made them great? They let you suggest, develop the role. You had a greater sense of participation working with them to create the character on stage. What about future plans? It's confidential at the present. All Mr. Plummer would hint at was that he can be reached by post in England come this fall.

WE THANKED CHRIS for such a pleasant chat, took one last look at the now-darkened theater, and headed for our car. Traffic in the small town of Stratford took on the proportions of a Detroit downtown "jam." When you have over 2,000 people starting for home, motels, or their local accommodations, there is bound to be quite a procession of gleaming fenders. Everyone is so courteous that even the waits in traffic had an enjoyable tinge to them. What helps to complicate matters is that not only does Stratford have the Shakespearean festival, but many other activities are running concurrently. Beginning Aug. 22 for two weeks two dozen feature films from 20 foreign countries will be shown at the AVON Theater. Glenn Gould, Leonard Rose and the National Festival Orchestra have scheduled musical performances throughout the summer.
 Three and one-half hours later we arrived safely back home in Plymouth only to wish that our trip hadn't ended. Drama lovers, moviegoers and TV dial twisters should avail themselves of the wonderful opportunity that Stratford affords all of us so close by. Send over to the Stratford Festival for a copy of their brochure describing the activities. You still have ample time to visit this exciting city. The Festival will be operating until Sept. 19. Plan now to storm the bastions of Stratford anon... before all the tickets have vanished into the ether at air hereabouts...

Mildew and Moisture

Molds can grow on many things around the house, from books and boots to blouses. They land on these things when the atmosphere is damp and hot. Home economists at Michigan State University say you will recognize the work of these molds as mildew. You can check mildew by keeping all parts of your home dry and well-ventilated.

Parkview Group Face Dilemma Saturday Night

"Fishermen's Dilemma" is the theme of this Saturday night's meeting of the Parkview Circle Assn. held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kendall on Parkview Dr.

Some of the men will spend the day fishing in Lake Huron for the fish dinner to be served that night to the association. The evening meal will be served at 7:30 and it will be prepared and served by the men.

Non-fishing members assume that the fishermen will face a dilemma when they fail to catch enough to fill the frying pan—so precautions will be taken to negotiate with commercial fishermen enroute home.

Harold Kendall is chairman of the affair.

Jerry Seibert Says...

College bound? Wondering how to choose a wardrobe certain to give you the smartest look in the book? Confused by wildly conflicting advice from fashion editors, student boards, friends and relatives (the last often flavored with memories of what was swish at Siwash in 19—)?

If so, relax. You would pass any "attitude" test as "Normal—100 percent." A few simple rules will give you a head start toward the best-dressed list on any campus. None of them are based on "how much" you spend, but on how you spend what you have.

First: no matter how delectable the duds in the college shops, don't spend all your clothes budget now. Save some for the campus raves that always spring up later on, and for the dull, dull inbetween season when a bright new sweater could brighten your life like a 1,000 watt bulb.

Unless you are thoroughly familiar with the campus to which you are going (hearsay isn't enough) invest only in classics. But remember that even "classics" vary with the size of the school, the section of the country, whether it's in a big city or small town, and whether it's a woman's college or coeducational. Also, classics for freshmen, with four years of school ahead, and those for seniors, who buy (or should) with an eye to post-B.A. wardrobes, may be quite different.

Some new Fall, 1960, fashions will earn full fashion-credits on any campus: pullover sweaters, practically knee-deep, with or without, narrow tie-belts, cowl necklines; two-piece dresses; easy, but not flouncy, skirts.

School rules regarding shorts or pants vary widely. But certain rules should be rigidly self-enforced. Don't wear pants with a sublime disregard for their compatibility with your particular architecture. And don't delude yourself that narrow pants eliminate the need for a girdle.

The best (and least expensive) way to give dash and zing to your whole wardrobe is to be sure your figure is trim and your posture perfect. There's still a month—give or take a few days—to pare down to measurements that please the eye. Any eye, not just your own—which may be too tolerant. A month of sensible diet, intense exercise, and posture practice can make a big difference.

And don't forget that same important trio when you arrive on campus. It's easy to gain 20 pounds with new, careless eating habits. We've seen hips spread inches without a change in weight, and heads droop like broken-stemmed blossoms through carelessness in diet, exercise and posture.

KNICKERS! The newest campus look for fall 1960 these are by Mr. Mort Sportswear, worn under a softly shirred, button front skirt. Marvellous for suburbanites too.

PERSONAL TOUCH

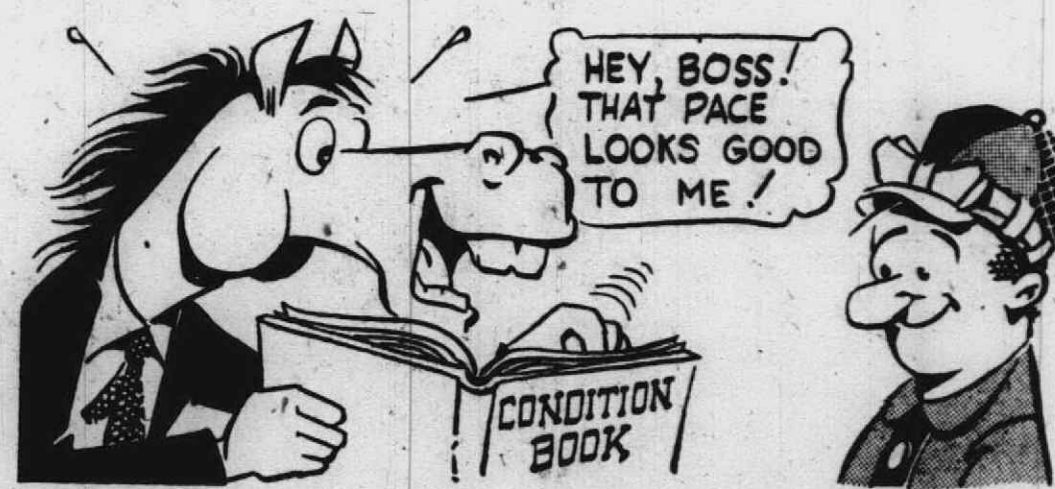

Architects like to personalize their designs right down to the last doorknob. Recent examples of this tendency can be seen in banks, office buildings and commercial institutions where push-pull plates for glass entrance doors are decorated with ceramic tile. Non-tarnishable, real tile needs no maintenance and only occasional wiping to keep it clean.

KEEPS ITS GLOW

Kitchen countertops are vulnerable. They are constantly under a barrage of knife cuts, spilled fruit juices and acid stains, plus oils and occasional cigarette burns. If you're pondering how to protect your present countertop, why not resurface it with durable ceramic tile? Real tile is impervious to most acids and knife cuts, is permanently decorative, and can be wiped clean with a damp rag. For further information call your local tile contractor.

Your Guide To Harness Racing

HOW IS IT DETERMINED WHICH HORSES ARE IN A RACE?

At pari-mutuel tracks, the horse's current racing ability, as demonstrated in several recent performances, determines its eligibility to most races. Exceptions are events open to all of a certain age, and also events where the eligibility is determined by the money won system in which owners pay set fees long before the date of the race. For the most part these are stake races and those with closing dates for entries a considerable number of weeks or months prior to the race.

HOW IS A HORSE CLASSIFIED AND WHO DOES IT?

Actual classification of a horse is the result of careful evaluations by the race secretary who studies recent performances and the horse's known ability. Best horses are classified FFA or free-for-all. Next best is Jr. FFA and next is AA class. Class A is next with B, C and sometimes D following. At some tracks, the A, B, C, and D classes are broken into two or three divisions. For example, C-1 would be better than C-2 which, in turn, is better than C-3 or C-plus is better than C-minus.

HOW DOES A HORSE GET IN A PARTICULAR RACE?

Race secretaries issue a list of all races scheduled at the track for a specified future time. The secretaries also post all classifications of all horses on the grounds. Trainers, knowing their horse's classification, look for a race calling for that class and drop in an entry. If more than the permitted number of starters enter, the horses with the greater lapse of time since their last race, have preference.

HOW OFTEN DOES A HORSE RACE?

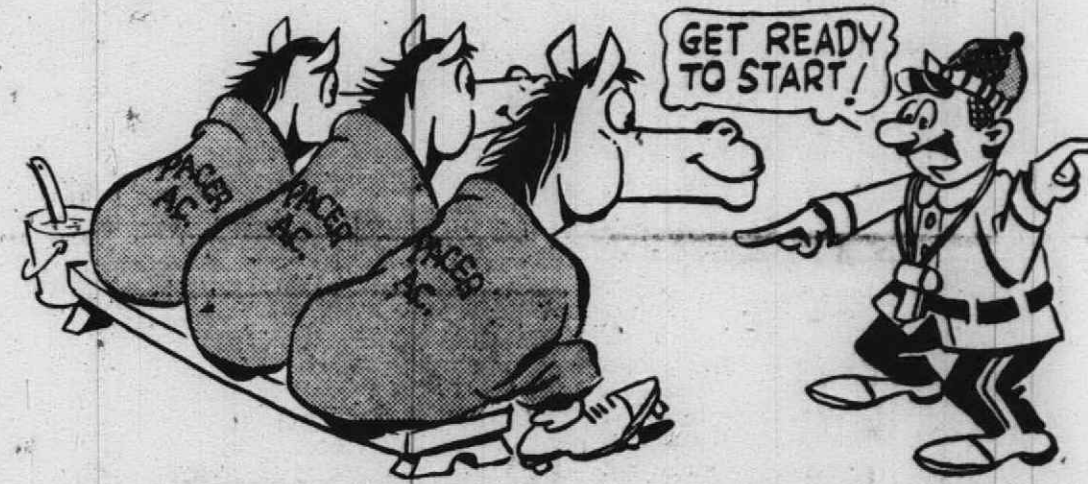

A trainer usually tries to give a minimum of four days rest between starts. The number of horses present in a particular class also affects the amount of opportunities he may have.

HOW IS POST POSITION DETERMINED?

The luck of the draw is used. A numbered ball is placed in a shaker for each entrant in the race. A person designated by the Presiding Judge, and in the presence of the Presiding Judge, draws or rolls out one ball (sometimes called a pill) as each entrant's name is read. The number drawn becomes that horse's post position. A representative of the horsemen must be present and no owner or trainer with a horse in the race can be denied the opportunity to witness the drawing.

WHAT IS AN OVERNIGHT EVENT?

A race for which entries close not more than three days (in New York, four days), omitting Sundays, or less before such race is to be contested. Most races at pari-mutuel programs are overnights.

WHAT IS THE PADDOCK?

It is a set of stalls in a well guarded enclosure to which all horses for a race must be taken at a specified time, usually two hours or more before post time. Only owners, trainers, grooms and officials on duty are allowed in the paddock during this period and those leaving, other than in the normal performance of warming-up chores, are not allowed to return.

WHY IS A HORSE WARMED UP?

Harness horses probably are the world's most finely conditioned athletic competitors. Just as a human track star loosens his muscles by preliminary activity, so must a trotter or pacer.

DO HORSES TIRE IN THE WARM-UP PROCESS?

The amount of pre-race activity might seem excessive to some spectators, but it must be realized that for a well-conditioned horse it amounts to no more than a limbering up. The warm-up process is varied from horse to horse and is the result of the trainer's knowledge of what an individual performer needs to enable him to race his best.

HOW FAST ARE THE WARM-UP MILES?

The first warmup usually consists of jogging two or three miles, clockwise and a leisurely mile the right way (counter-clockwise) of the track timed in about 2:45. Then the horse is taken back, sponged off and covered with a cooler (a blanket) for about 30 minutes and comes back for a second warmup, with a mile about 2:30. The sponging is repeated and again he gets a short rest. The jog cart, allowing more leg room for the driver, is taken away and the regular sulky is used for the final warmup coming from a half hour to an hour before post time, depending on the trainer.

If the trainer expects the race to go in about 2:05, he'll probably do his final warmup mile in 2:10 or 2:12 before going back to the paddock where the horse again is sponged and allowed to cool gradually. His blanket acts for the horse as a sweat shirt does to the human athlete when he goes to the sidelines. The horse probably has gone from 7 to 10 miles in his warmup before even facing the starter, certainly proof that the Standardbred is the most rugged breed of the horse family.

WHY DO THEY GO THE "WRONG WAY" WHEN FIRST WARMING UP?

Through long periods of training, a harness horse has been conditioned to "race" when going the right way (counter-clockwise) of the track and to jog, or perform at a slower speed, when going clockwise. This also acts as a traffic control with the horses going slowly using the outside of the track and moving inside to go faster.

WHAT IS A SADDLE CLOTH?

Saddle cloths are used as an aid in identifying the horses. Each horse in warming up and in racing wears a colored saddle cloth across his back. Your program lists the color for a particular race and by observing the color and number of the horse, he can easily be identified.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

Charles E. Ketterer
 Director of the Plymouth Community Jr. High School's Intramural Sports Program, Mr. Ketterer was born in Detroit. After graduating from Northwestern High School in Detroit, he attended the University of Michigan, receiving both his Bachelor of Science and Master's Degree from that institution. While at the University he earned Varsity Athletic awards in basketball and baseball and captained the first U. of M. 150-pound football team in 'Big Ten' competition.

Between 1943 and 1946 Ketterer served as a 2nd Lieutenant in the United States Marine Corps and was stationed in Hawaii and Guam. Prior to coming to Plymouth Ketterer taught in Northville and River Rouge where he was head basketball coach and head football coach, respectively. Joining the Plymouth faculty nine years ago, Ketterer was head football coach at Plymouth Community High School for four seasons. During that period the Plymouth teams were Conference Champions three times and were undefeated for two years. He has also been Plymouth's head basketball and baseball coach as well as a junior and senior high school physical education instructor.

For five years Ketterer has been an agent for the Franklin Life Insurance Co. and was recently promoted to District Manager.

Ketterer is a member of Phi Gamma Delta, social fraternity, Phi Epsilon Kappa, national physical education society and a life member of the Graduate Varsity "M" Club at the University of Michigan. He also holds membership in the Plymouth and Michigan Education Assns., the American Assn. of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and the Michigan Assn. of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Ketterer and his family live on Sheridan St. in Plymouth. Mrs. Patsy Ketterer was the first speech correctionist in the Plymouth and Livonia School Districts. There are three little Ketterers, Kathy, 8, and Carrie, 6, attend the Bird Elementary School while David, 4, keeps things hopping around home.

The Ketterers make it a practice to take a trip during spring vacation to some historic or interesting place in the United States. They spend their summers at Mrs. Ketterer's family home at Harbor Springs, Mich. While Ketterer gives his father-in-law a helping hand in business, Mrs. Ketterer delights her family and friends by displaying her skill at frying hamburgers over a charcoal-filled coffee can on the Lake Michigan beach.

Boating Popular At Kent Lake This Season

Boating continues to be popular with visitors who use the boating facilities at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens.

An estimated 3,600 small water craft have been launched at Kent Lake in Kensington Metropolitan Park since the season opened in April.

The park, which has two boat launching sites, estimated monthly use as follows: April—100; May—500; June—1,000 and July—2,000 launchings. The park issues launching permits which are good the entire boating season.

David O. Laidlaw, park superintendent, reports that this year sailing has increased in popularity on Kent Lake. This is due primarily to the lack of speed boat activity on the inland lake where speed limits are strictly enforced and water skiing is not permitted.

Kent Lake, a popular fishing site, has 120 twelve-foot aluminum rowboats which are available at the Boat Rental building, but motors, gasoline, fishing tackle or bait are not supplied at the park.

Motors can be used by park visitors and are limited to 7½ horsepower unless special permission for larger motors is obtained. This is without charge.

Dictionary Editor Is Bombarded By Word Coiners
 CLEVELAND (UPI) — David Guralnik probably is bombarded with more words than any other man in the country.

Guralnik is dictionary editor for the World Publishing Co. Words are his business. The business in new words is particularly brisk.

People often write to the editor enclosing a word they have made up, offering to sell it, and promising a definition when they get a check. Some of the words are ingenious and some even needed.

For the most part, it's no sale.

One woman recently offered the word "hirs" for consideration. She pointed out there is no pronoun in the English language to take care of the "his or hers" situation.

And there was no sale either for the word "hydronics", although it filled a need and was included in a college edition dictionary. The word was thought up and offered by makers of heating and cooling systems to describe what they are up to.

Disc jockeys held a convention a few years ago, raised an indignant cry over their titles and thought up the word "musicasters" to replace it. Dictionary editors were bombarded by press agents, but nothing happened because the industry itself and everyone else continued to use "disc jockeys."

All of which illustrates a point often made by Guralnik: Dictionary editors follow usage, don't initiate it.

Predict Better Pheasant Hunting This October
 Pheasant hunters should hit their 23-year kill average of slightly more than 1,000, 000 birds in Michigan this October, Conservation Department game men estimate.

Results of this summer's mail carrier survey show that pheasant production rose 14 percent above last year in the southern lower peninsula, the birds' major range. Hunters took 914,000 ringnecks in the state during the 1959 season.

Mail carrier counts, reliable guides in previewing Michigan's pheasant kill, reveal that brood production was up 25 percent from last year in the Thumb area; 23 percent in western Michigan (Ottawa, Allegan, and Muskegon counties); 20 percent in central Michigan; and 9 percent in southeastern Michigan. In southwestern Michigan, it dropped 13 percent.

Ringneck production slumped 40 percent in Gladwin, Mecosta, Lake, Newaygo, and Oceana counties. However only about two percent of the state's pheasant population is found in these five counties.

Brood sizes averaged six chicks to follow their pattern for the past few years. The percentage of hens seen with broods increased somewhat.

Some 573 rural carriers cooperated in this year's July 25-August 6 survey. Their counts took in 370,000 miles along mail delivery routes.

Hunting prospects for this fall's grouse seasons should be known within the next week or two. Department game men are currently in the midst of compiling reports from mail carriers who made ruffed grouse brood

REPORT ON VIRUS
 COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Knowledge of the casual relationship between viruses and illness is at the "primitive level," Dr. Leonard M. Schuman said at the annual Spring Clinical Conference held at the University of Missouri Medical Center.

He is professor of epidemiology at the university's School of Public Health.

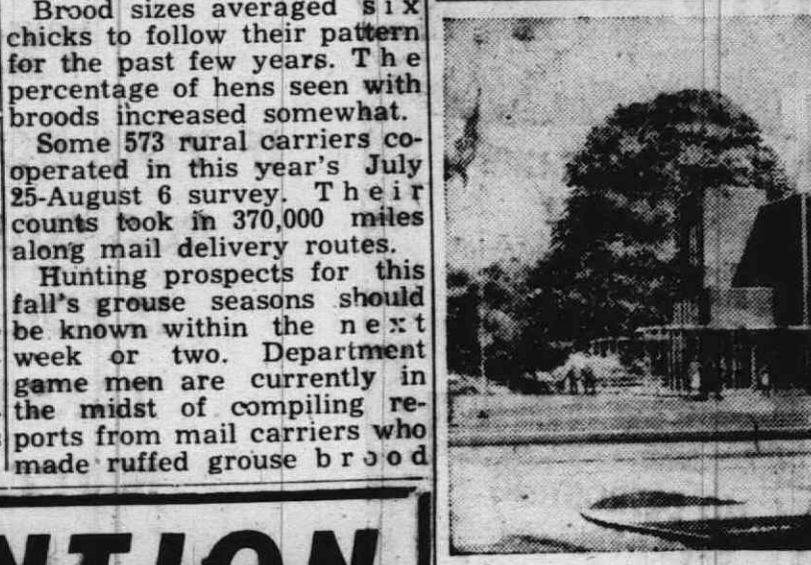

ALTHOUGH his two model airplanes were wrecked, Dan Hay, 449 Sunset, returned home from Toledo last week with a first place trophy for winning a flying meet in his age bracket.

The planes, flown with a wire, chase each other and must cut a string trailing behind the other planes. If your plane chops up the opposing plane, you are disqualified. One of Dan's planes was broken in half. A wing was chewed off the other plane, but it continued to fly and win the meet. Dan has been flying models three years but this was his first contest. He is a PHS sophomore.

Plymouth Elks Baseball Team Wins
 Plymouth can boast about its summer sports too! The Plymouth Elks softball team, sponsored by the Elks Lodge and affiliated with the Plymouth summer recreation program, is State Champion in its Class D listings.

After completing a spotless season, the Elks, a team for 18 year olds and under, breezed through the District games at Wayne by defeating Nankin Township 6-2 and then Dearborn Township 2-1. These victories gave the Elks a ticket to the State Championships held at Jackson.

Grand Rapids, the first team to stand in the way of the State title for Plymouth, was easily dumped in a 12-3 game. And then, as it should be, the Elks ended in a tight match with a tough team from Pontiac. Because of the team's defensive play, an outstanding feature of the Evans.

Plymouth Elks, the game ended in a 2-1 victory for the local lads.

Singles by Jim Ralston, George Borth, and Bob Mofteith accounted for the Elks' first run, scored in the fourth inning. Pontiac tied up the lead, though, with a walk, a stolen base and a single in the fifth.

The two teams battled down to the seventh, the last in softball, when a walk to Monteith and a double by George Grudde in the eighth gave the Elks the winning run and the State Championship title.

Whitey's a Man With Both Feet on the Ground

Whitey Fisher and his missus got back from their first European vacation the other day. But before they left, Mrs. Fisher tells us, Whitey had some pretty strong feelings about their transportation—a new jet plane.

"Should go by boat," Whitey complained as they boarded the jet. When they were seated Whitey murmured, "I'll get air-sick on this thing for sure."

And a few minutes later, he added, "Course I'm all right now, but wait until we take off." Just then the pilot announced, "Folks, we're now cruising at an altitude of 26,000 feet!"

From where I sit, sometimes we all jump to conclusions without knowing the facts. For instance, some people are like that about my favorite beverage—beer. They insist that coffee or tea goes best at dinnertime, when actually it's a matter of choice. We ought to be tolerant—and know before we take off on our opinions.

Some Facts on Sheriffs

LANSING — Statistics on the work of Michigan sheriffs are staggering. And yes, they still do ride horses. Sixteen of Michigan's 83 county sheriff departments have volunteer posses using a total of some 382 horses. Dickinson County has a 60-horse posse while Huron County has an eight-horse posse which is the oldest in the state.

Forty of the sheriffs have 15 or more years in police work.

The 83 sheriffs on the job in 1960 had 605 years experience as sheriff. The 40 with the most experience had a combined total of 964 years in law enforcement work of one kind or another.

Sheriffs had 288 county-owned cars in operation last year, and 202 privately owned cars.

Using them were more than 3,000 full and part time deputies, and 4,377 supplementary investigations last year, putting in more than a half-million hours on this type of job.

Sheriffs made 182,143 primary and 437 supplementary investigations last year, putting in more than a half-million hours on this type of job.

Routine identification chores, prisoner transporting, driver licensing and traffic work made up a large part of sheriffs' work.

Some of them supervised dog warden duties, and many acted as licensing centers for canines. More than a million dollars in licensing fees of various sorts, inspection fees and fines and court costs passed through sheriffs' hands last year.

They made 9,575 felony arrests and 247,728 misdemeanor arrests.

MICHIGAN HAS BEEN fighting to prevent water from being taken from Lake Michigan, and while the battle isn't over, a partial victory has been won. Hearings on the problem are continuing.

Special Master Albert B. Maris, a Philadelphia federal judge appointed by the Supreme Court of the United States to hear the Great Lakes Water Diversion case involving Michigan and several other states against Chicago and some suburbs, made the preliminary ruling.

He said three Chicago suburbs could not siphon off Lake Michigan water pending outcome of the immensely complicated case.

State Attorney General Paul L. Adams has been directing Michigan's role in the lawsuit with Nicholas V. Olds, in charge of conservation problems for Adams, handling most of the appearances and legwork.

Chicago presently is allowed to divert 1,800 cubic feet of water per second from the big lake.

Michigan and other states on the Great Lakes want to force the Windy City to return the treated effluent from the water, after it has been used for domestic and industrial water supply, to the lake.

Adams contends any lowering of the level of the Great Lakes will impede navigation and generally hurt Michigan.

The case has been in progress since 1958 with no indication when the final decision will be rendered. Maris planned to hold meetings in each of the six states besides Michigan which are in the suit.

Different Points of View

"Things aren't always what they seem." This old saw is especially true when it comes to wildlife management. What seems right on the surface to the casual observer or ardent sportsman may actually be dead wrong or partially so for fish and animals. A broad picture, formed by year-round surveys, experiments, and other research, is fundamental to wildlife management. Basically, this picture must be seen through the eyes of fish and game, so to speak, to give management a biologically-sound frame.

Handwriting Is Clue About You

Dear Lucile: Curiosity finally got the best of me too. I'm anxious to know what my handwriting will reveal. May I please have an analysis. Thank you.

K.S.H.

Dear K.S.H.: You are a very emotional person and expressive. You're keyed up and keep very active. There is a love of variation and having many irons in the fire all at once. You like responsibility and can handle it very well. You're practical minded but capable of enthusiasm and good organization ability. You have a very good memory, pay heed to the smallest of details and can draw on your knowledge for reference concerning past experiences. You stand behind your own ideals and are not easily influenced. Your imagination is very good and you show persistence in your work.

Dear Miss Williams: Would you please see what you can find out about me in my handwriting? Thank you.

B. A.

Dear B. A.: You are a thrifty person, careful and cautious. You are not sensitive to criticism and though you have an expressive nature and are a person of deep feeling your feelings are not easily hurt. You keep many things bottled up within you, there is some suppressed thinking here. You are more material minded than spiritual. With very little effort you could have a photographic memory, it has great possibilities. There is a desire to acquire, possess and own, an occasional day dream of the future but usually you're practical minded and an analytical type person.

Dear Miss Williams: When I read your interesting column I think how nice it will be (if you will be kind enough) to analyze my writing and I will value by the findings. Anything that you can detect or advise from this poor penmanship will be greatly appreciated. Thank you kindly. L. F. C.

Dear L. F. C.: You are a person with great concentration. Your thinking is deep, keen and alert and you can concentrate all your efforts on any one thing. You learn easily, use good judgment and are very cautious. You're a thrifty, economical person, with time and material things as well as financial. Your generosity extends only as far as imposition — then you resent and do not care to carry it further. There is a tendency to be kind until someone imposes upon you — that's all. Your memory is excellent, not a detail escapes you and you stand behind your ideals all the way. You have an aim and purpose in life and you're behind it with a staunch determination.

How's Business?

Moderate Pickup-Forecast

BY ROGER W. BABSON

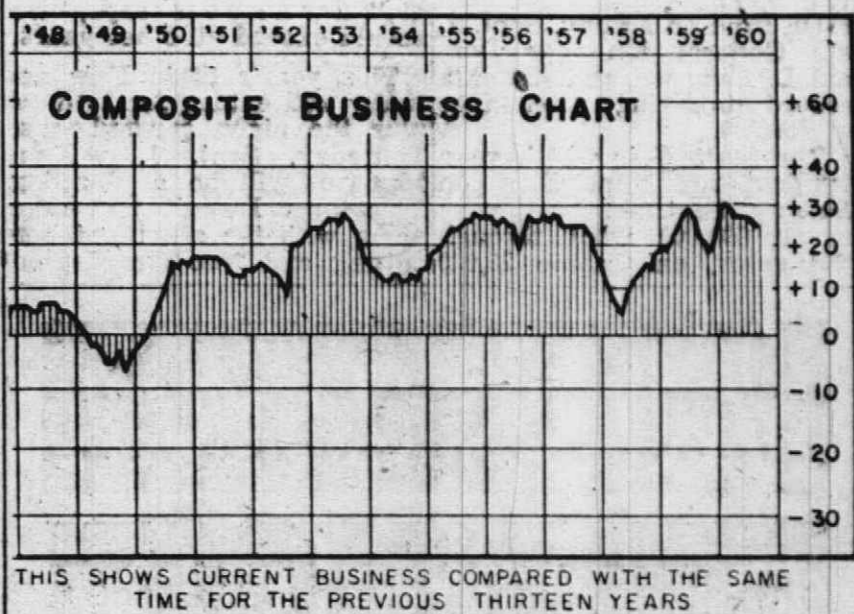

Economic conditions remained in a state of virtual flux during the month of August. The Babson Composite Business Curve dipped slightly to 125 compared with 127 for July.

As in the preceding months of this lull in business, economic statistics provided a mple fodder for both optimists and pessimists, but neither side could claim a clear-cut advantage. From a psychological standpoint, summer vacation furloughs — in some cases more prolonged than usual — may have unduly heightened concern over business trends.

per cent of capacity. This contra-seasonal stability might have been a moderate rise except for the strike of several local unions of railroads serving a number of key steel plants.

Retail trade remained near peak levels, and it was encouraging to note a brisker pace of new-car purchases. Personal income and employment, the foundations of consumer spending, were at high levels.

Now that the maximum impact of the summer drag in industrial activity has run its course, advent of the fall season should impart an uplift to business. Auto production should provide most of the stimulus. Steel output should likewise com-

Following the seasonal pattern, automobile output fell to the low for the year in August, as retoolings for 1961 models were widespread. Paperboard production, a good barometer of industrial activity, was down moderately from July and a year ago. The textile industry at long last bowed to the influence of declining sales and orders by making general cutbacks in production. Output of furniture and appliances continued to be restricted, reflecting burdensome supplies. The same problem continues to affect petroleum.

On the brighter side of things, steel production stabilized at an operating rate approximating 53

The Lansing Observer

(Editor's Note: The author of this column is paid to write it by the Republican party. We print it when it's interesting.)

By FRANK G. MORRIS

Without one interesting state-wide contest to lure them into the Republican ranks, more citizens voted the GOP ticket in the recent primary than in any year since the birth of the party—excepting only 1952.

Following the record-breaking primary eight years ago, Republican nominees won every state office except the Governorship. Gov. Williams squeezed back into office that year by a whisker, a whisker no doubt softened by shaving soap.

Out in Solidarity House, where UAW leaders last week tightened their hold on the Democratic Party organization, the skilled politicians probably are asking: "What in the world is going on?"

Consider:

Without opposition in the GOP primary, Paul D. Bagwell was renominated for Governor by a vote almost double the total he received in the primary two years ago.

He jumped from 280,494 two years ago to 480,361.

Even with opposition from Donald Leonard, Rep. Alvin M. Bentley picked up 80,000 more votes for United States Senator than the total received by Senator Charles E. Potter in 1958. The combined vote of Bentley and Leonard was 477,605, compared to 283,271 given Potter.

Senator McNamara, renominated by Democrats, had only 398,611.

Most important, the Democratic primary vote dropped in Wayne County in all contests except the hot race for the gubernatorial nomination while the Republican vote jumped by 80 percent. Outstate the GOP totals approached the banner year of 1952.

Concurrent with the official primary tabulation last week, Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler announced he is deserting the Michigan scene to join the national staff of Presidential nominee Senator Kennedy.

With Bagwell unopposed and Leonard a push-over for Bentley, why did Michigan's voting trend suddenly swing to the GOP?

One very important factor is the deplorable fiscal condition of the state after 12 years of a Democratic Governor. Another is the success of Republican State Chairman Lawrence Lindemer in creating an effective organization.

But an analysis of the Republican gains shows that if the people rushed to the polls to defend their state legislators, many of whom had left Lansing gasping for breath after the 12-month fight to block an income tax.

For instance, in the 6th Senator District, where Senator Carlton H. Morris, of Kalamazoo, was under fire, the GOP vote jumped from 7,778 two years ago to 19,212 in 1960.

In the 9th district, where Senator John P. Smeekens easily upset the predictions of his political foes, the Republican vote skyrocketed from 6,732 to a high of 11,097. Senator Clyde H. Geerlings of Holland, was renominated with twice the support he received two years ago.

Anticipate Record Attendance At 111th State Fair; Opens Friday

The spectacular Michigan State Fair, the Nation's oldest and one of the largest, will open its doors for the 111th time on Friday, Sept. 2, and General Manager Donald L. Swanson anticipates a record breaking attendance of 850,000.

The State Fair will have a ten-day run concluding on Sunday, Sept. 11. Last year nearly 800,000 went through the gates, only some 25,000 less than the record-breaking 821,656 in 1956.

"With a break in the weather," Swanson says, "we should exceed all other years."

This year's State Fair actually will extend for 10 days plus the night previous, Thursday, Sept. 1, when there will be a dazzling Downtown Detroit parade along with the official ribbon cutting and free Grandstand program that night at the Fairgrounds. In other years, the parade and ribbon cutting were held Friday noon. But this time, for the first time in 111 years, the State Fair will begin complete ten-day operation when the turnstiles start clicking at 8:30 a.m., Friday, Sept. 2.

Governor G. Mennen Williams will head the Thursday night procession starting at 8 p.m. at Woodward between Jefferson and Vernor. Then at 9:30 p.m. before the Grandstand he will officially cut the ribbon which will be followed by the crowning of Mrs. Michigan State Fair. A free band concert and other entertainment will conclude with a big fireworks display.

The State Fairground's gates will be open to the public free of charge Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. but exhibit buildings will not open until Friday morning.

The first day of the State Fair, Friday, Sept. 2, for the first time has been designed Children's Day with all the pie eating contests and other events on the program including reduced prices for children on the Midway.

Governor Williams will be present Wednesday, Sept. 7, for Governor's and Agriculture Day. He will tour the grounds and then participate in the Grand Champion livestock auction in the afternoon. At night he will crown the winning beauty queen as Miss Michigan State Fair of 1960.

Oldtimers, many as old as 90 or more, will be honored guests on Thursday, Sept. 8, and will compete in contests throughout the late morning and afternoon at the Music Shell.

Friday, Sept. 9, is a new day, Grand Fraternal and Service Clubs Day, made possible by the re-arrangement of the various days and the naming of opening day as Children's Day. Then follows Teachers' Day on Saturday, Sept. 10, and the wind-up comes on Sunday, Sept. 11, with the huge International Day festival.

Again this year the Grandstand Show will be free twice a day for the first nine days and the 250 Mile new stock car race will be held in the afternoon on closing Sunday, Sept. 11.

Gigantic free fireworks displays will be held following the Grandstand shows on the evenings of Tuesday, Sept. 6, Wednesday, Sept. 7, Thursday, Sept. 8, and Sunday, Sept. 11.

The Coliseum will feature its traditional top stage shows. Pat Boone and the Lennon Sisters will carry on during the first four days and evenings, Sept. 2 through 5. The show for the final three days and nights, Sept. 9 through 11, will host a group of young stars including Brian Hyland, Brenda Lee, Johnny Horton, Jeanne Black, The Brothers Four, Johnny and the Hurricanes, Steve Gibson and the Redcaps, and Little Anthony and the Imperials.

Then there's the famed Farm Fun Frolics in the Coliseum on the evenings of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 6, 7 & 8. Highlighting this free show is a horse show, the Detroit Mounted Police Drill Team and the nightly parade of champions from the Junior livestock and Senior Division judging.

At the Music Shell, continuous free entertainment holds forth featuring twice daily concerts by the world-renowned Royal Canadian Air Force Band. A total of 15 live television shows will be broadcast from the Music Shell starting at 9 a.m. daily, Monday, Sept. 5, through Friday, Sept. 9, by Station WWJ-TV. These are the Ed Allen Show, Faye Elizabeth and a special half-hour show "At the State Fair" starring Sonny Eliot.

Among the new exhibits to catch the eyes of the visitors will be the International Show in the Geodesic Dome and the 800,000 pound steam locomotive, permanently installed

All in all, it amounts to ten days and nights full of excitement, unusual activities and a chance to be proud when you see how Michigan leads in agriculture and industry.

Learn Car Manners Driving Safety

Many young drivers, especially new ones, like to call attention to themselves by roaring around town in their newly acquired cars. As they become more experienced, they realize that screeching tires and loud mufflers are only wearing out their cars faster.

Every driver likes to have a car that has plenty of pep and that will pull a way quickly in traffic. However, the noise that some young drivers create when they jerk ahead is enough to wake the dead. Clutch, tires, rear end, springs and engine all are affected by their action.

Sometimes a noisy car is merely the result of loose nuts, bolts and screws. Any young man with a set of wrenches and a screwdriver can tighten anything of this sort that is loose. Unless he wants to lie on the ground under the car in order to get at the underside, he will have to coax the local service station operator to let him put his car up on the automatic lift during a slack time.

This would be a good time to inspect the springs, muffler and tailpipe. If these parts are loose, they could easily cause rattling or unpleasant noise. A broken muffler will permit exhaust fumes to seep inside the car.

Since many of the cars owned by teenagers are not recent models, the engines are apt to be noisy. Adjustments can correct most of the racket. Missing spark plugs, dirty points or poorly adjusted carburetors are all sources of noise. Most young drivers nowadays, thanks to driver training courses in high school, learn a great deal about engines and can easily adjust them themselves. A smoother, quieter engine means economy on gas, too.

Tire squeal when turning a corner, unless it is caused by excessive speed, usually is due to under-inflated tires. Adding a little more air will not only stop the squeal but also will add to the life of the tires.

Rattles that originate in the rear of a car may mean that the trunk should be inspected. Perhaps tools, tire jack or any number of things are bouncing around loose. Wrapping tools in newspaper or burlap will muffle the noise.

Honking the horn at other cars or people is often the sign of a new driver. Horns are put on cars for emergency use, not to add more noise to an already noisy traffic situation. A thoughtful driver uses his horn sparingly.

Michigan Citizens To Study School Financial Picture

Thousands of Michigan residents will study school finances this year at local meetings of the 14 state-wide organizations.

Where education money comes from, how it is spent and other current financial problems facing public education, will be studied as the third phase of the six-year statewide project, "Studying Michigan Schools."

During the first year of the "Studying Michigan Schools" project, the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers was its sole sponsor. The 1959-60 phase was co-sponsored by the PTA and the Michigan Association of School Boards. The present third phase will be sponsored by 10 state organizations with the cooperation of four others.

Organizations joining to sponsor this project are the Michigan Education Ass'n., Michigan Farm Bureau, Michigan State AFL-CIO, Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., Michigan State Association of Supervisors, Michigan Federation of Teachers, Michigan Association of County School Administrators, Adult Education Association of Michigan and Fair Employment Practices Commission and the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The four cooperating organizations include the Michigan Division of the American Association of University Women, Michigan Council of Churches, Detroit Council of Churches and Michigan Association of Broadcasters.

In addition, continued support will be given by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction and the nine publicly supported institutions of higher education. Local boards of education and school superintendents also will be invited to cooperate.

Otto Yntema, Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan PTA, points out that, "This project is unusual and worthy of the support of every person in the State of Michigan for several reasons. This is the first time such a comprehensive study has been undertaken anywhere in the United States. Nearly half a million citizens already have taken part in the study."

"The project will seek to not only reach the thousands of members of the 14 organizations but also all other interested Michigan residents," Yntema pointed out.

Beginning in the early fall, there will be a series of local and regional informational meetings designed to train leaders from the participating organizations. The actual study of local school financing will be undertaken in October, November and December.

A booklet, "Your Michigan School Costs" is designed to help inform citizens in each local area about their role in financing the school program. The booklet, which simplifies the subject of school financing was written by Dr. Stanley Hecker of the Michigan State University College of Education.

Augustus Caesar is said to have declared on his deathbed: "I found Rome brick and I leave it marble."

BEST TIME OF YEAR TO BUY!! THE YEAR'S BEST SELLER

CHEVROLET

You couldn't pick a better time to buy your new Chevrolet (or Corvair) than right now when more people are buying them than ever before. Chances are good you're going to like what Chevy's got just as much as everybody else. (Especially the money you'll save.) Check your dealer on the details while there's still a wide choice of models.

CHEVY'S CORVAIR THE YEAR'S AWARD-WINNINGEST CAR

Corvair—already proud winner of Motor Trend magazine's Car-of-the-Year award for engineering advancement—now walks away with another one: the coveted Industrial Designers Institute Gold Medal. The award was presented to William L. Mitchell, General Motors vice president in charge of Styling Staff, in recognition of Corvair's "finely scaled proportions and with a minimum of ornamentation." These two top awards make Corvair the most honored car of the year. And your Chevy dealer's waiting to show you it's everything the experts say it is. For Economical Transportation

It's "Doe Day" for Ladies of Fox Hills Country Club

DOE DAY at Fox Hills Country Club found the ladies of the Women's Association wearing colorful and clever hats. Enjoying the sun before teeing off on the 'specially designed' course are

l. to r. Mrs. Russell Williamson of Farmington, Mrs. Robert Gregory of Detroit, Mrs. George Sessions and Mrs. Bert Anderson, both of Plymouth.

TWO DETERMINED GOLFERS, complete with appropriate hats, are Mrs. Robert Lidgard, at the ball wash, and her daughter, Mrs. Paul Guy.

Newburg Reporter Returns From Own Family Vacation

Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GL 3-3797

Sorry we couldn't be together this past week but my family and I took our last fling at this summer vacation tradition before the busy fall season descends upon us. We stayed at beautiful East Twin Lake near Lewiston, Mich. at the Mende cottages and enjoyed ourselves to the utmost. Beautiful country and perfect weather all combined to make the week a memorable one.

Mrs. W. H. Johnson has returned home to Cairo, Ill. after spending the entire summer visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Jackson on Hix road.

Well, the baseball season is over and the team representing the Methodist Church have emerged victorious with a 13 win, no defeat record. Congratulations to this team. In recognition of the fine way in which they represented the church, the sponsoring organization is having a Victory dinner in their honor on Monday, September 12 at 6:30 p.m. The team will be the honored guests and two special speakers from the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation, Messrs. Rosco and Girardin will be present to speak about the recreation program and to award the trophies to the individual players. This dinner is open to all interested parties and tickets may be had, $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12, by calling Jesse Bennett at GA 1-5449. Miss Karen Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Peterson of Ravine Drive is in the Ridgewood Osteopathic Hospital, Ypsilanti. Your cards expressing your wish for a quick return to good health would be most welcome at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mende, Sr., and Henry, Jr., of Newburg road, spent a recent weekend in Lewiston on East Twin Lake where they have cottages.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crawford and sons Douglas and David of Dover avenue, spent a recent evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Greenwood of Newburg Road.

The Sarah Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Norman Kerr on West Chicago, Wednesday, August 24 for a pot luck luncheon and to discuss plans for a project for the coming Country Fair to be held at the church, Ann Arbor and Newburg roads on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 29 and 30 and the afternoon fellowship were Mrs. Paul Nixon, Mrs. Roger Merrell, Mrs. Delmer Ruchle, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Mrs. Henry Grimm, Mrs. Wendell Ellis and Mrs. Ernest Hammond. The next meeting of the group is scheduled for Tuesday, September 13 at 10:30 a.m., when the ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Wendell Ellis on Minton to sew cancer pads, partake of a nose-bag lunch at 12 noon and have a business meeting at 1 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mende, Sa., of Newburg Road are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter Beverly to James Kenneth Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell of School Street, Wayne. No date has been set for the wedding. Congratulations to the young couple.

A swimming party and pot luck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Achor of Ravine Drive recently saw Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reid and children Joanne, Marlin, Phillip and David; Miss Suzanne Pazderka; Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Ellis and children Danny and Janet; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waltz and daughter Jennifer; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Green and children Pat, Carolyn and Robert and Rev. Roger Merrell and children Paul, Dan and Barbara in attendance. This group represents the Fellowship class of the Newburg Methodist Church and this was one of their many summer-time get togethers.

Rev. and Mrs. Roger Merrell and children Barbara, Dan, Paul, Kirby and Mary of Newburg Road are home after spending four days visiting with friends and relatives in Chicago, Ill.

On Saturday, August 13, the Fidelis Class of the Newburg Methodist Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case for an early afternoon swim and pot luck supper at 6:30 p.m. Folks present for this afternoon of fun and fellowship were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mähl, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grosjean, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Halloran, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leverton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nixon, Mrs. Florence Crawford and son Dale, Mrs. Angeline Norris, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ryder and Mr. and Mrs. James Busenbark.

With that old school bell ringing again, and it seems so soon, it would seem to me that this would be the time for all motorists to have a sharp pealed eye for all those youngsters who will be on the streets again on their way to the halls of learning. Let the

Language Study Urged

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Dr. Dalton Vernon, University of Vermont human relations specialist, says more children should be taught foreign languages.

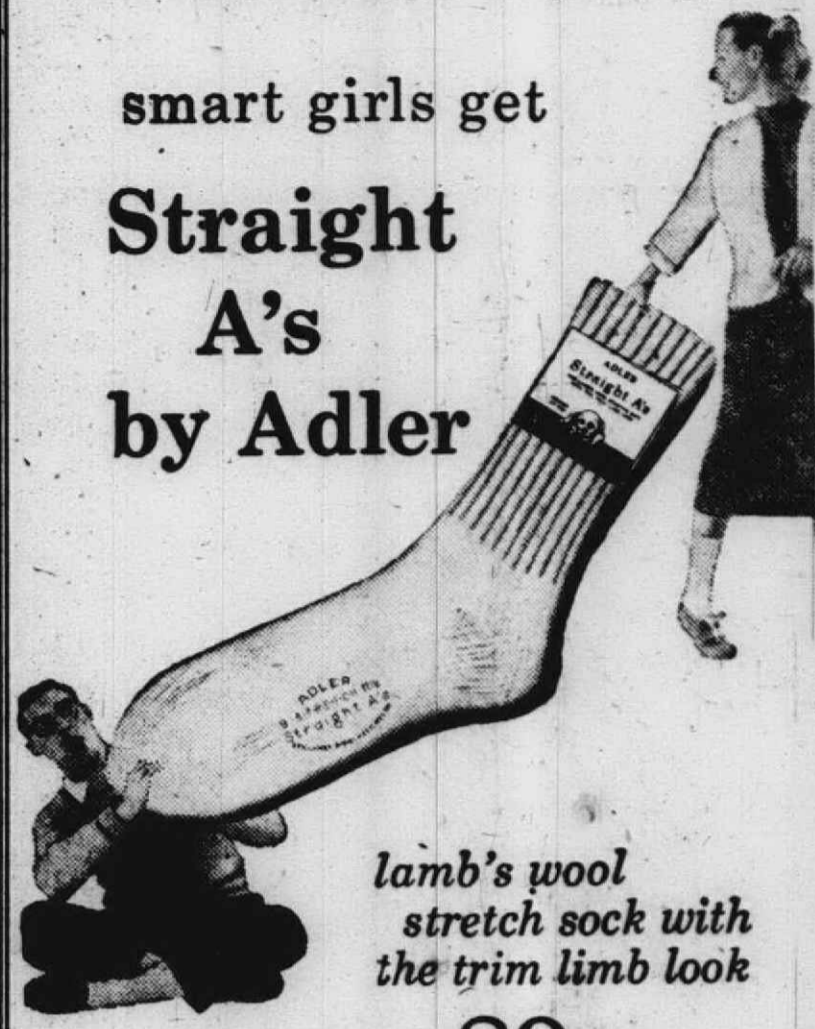

He said, "It's not enough for a few scholars to know the languages and cultures of the people of the world. If our children are to live at peace and peacefully, great numbers of them need to feel at home in the languages and customs of the people who so soon will be living only minutes away."

VFW Drill Team Wins 7th Place

At the VFW National Convention held in Detroit, August 21-26, more than 80 drill teams and color guards contested two days for the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Championships, parading and competing at the U. of D. Stadium.

On Monday, 44 color guard and drill teams of 5 to 15 men each, went through their paces. Among these were the Mayflower Post of Plymouth, proudly showing their prowess in marching and maneuvering. When the final scores were tallied, they had placed 7th high on the long list of entries.

Members of the team are Commander Hal Young, Jack Olsaver, Bud Krumm, Ray Danol and Ed Olson.

Proclaimed National Color Guard champs were the Detroit Lamplighters, headed by Sgt. Howard S. Oakman, Post 82.

During competition held at the Convention, the Plymouth Women's drill team was awarded the honor of 2nd in the nation. They performed with other top units in the Pageant of Drums held Wednesday, August 24.

Plymouthite Selected Outstanding Camper

Kenneth C. Fischer, 15, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald J. Fischer of Plymouth, was named one of the most outstanding high school boy campers attending the National Music Camp at Interlochen this summer. The announcement was made at the Final Awards Assembly there, Sunday, Aug. 21.

Awarded annually, the honor recognizes the qualities of good campmanship and leadership that the winner has shown during the eight week camp season.

Kenneth, who will enter his junior year at Plymouth High School, this fall, attended the National Music Camp this year for the fourth season.

He earned awards also in 1955 and 1958.

The talented young musician played solo French horn with the National High School Symphony Orchestra and was active in the High School Operetta Workshop, the High School and Festival Choirs and was a member of the Student Senate.

Ninety students from among 1,400 enrolled in the full eight week program of intensive study of one of the fine arts and recreation at the National Music Camp this summer, received awards.

He earned part of his own expenses to the National Music Camp this year.

LAUNDRIES CLEAN UP CHICAGO (UPI) — Americans spend nine times as much for professional laundry service now as their grandparents did 50 years ago, according to the American Institute of Laundering. The per capita expenditure for laundry work is $9.75 a year today, compared with $1.14 a half-century ago.

It-Down Mowers
Now Popular
As Status Symbol

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The suburbanite is lifting his sights from "two cars in the garage" to "two cars and a it-down power mower."
Mower shop owners and managers in the area say that acquisition of power lawnmowers with seats for carrying the operator around the grassy estate is becoming an epidemic.
"Sales are up 200 percent over last year," said one shop owner. "And people aren't buying the low priced models either. They're going in for the $200 and $300 machines."
Great Lakes Tractor Co., which began making riding mowers three years ago, plans to make 7,000 of them this year. Production has jumped by 50 percent each year since it first began.
Although reduced cost has played a big factor in higher sales, there are other factors as important, according to the dealers.
"The kids pester their parents with the plea that if they had a riding machine they could cut the grass all the time," said a dealer. "Of course, once the novelty wears off, it's left to Dad gain."
Time saving is a frequent reason given by many purchasers. Some want extra time for golf, or work or just relaxing.
Prestige also is an angle. Few people buy the machines on one street and everyone else thinks it's necessary to get one to keep up appearances.
The mowers have caused a minor headache for police in the suburb. Officers report that some of the younger drivers are engaging in "hot bod" races on the sidewalks!

Taxes take 21 cents of the automotive retail sales dollar, according to the National Automobile Club.

Grange Cleanings

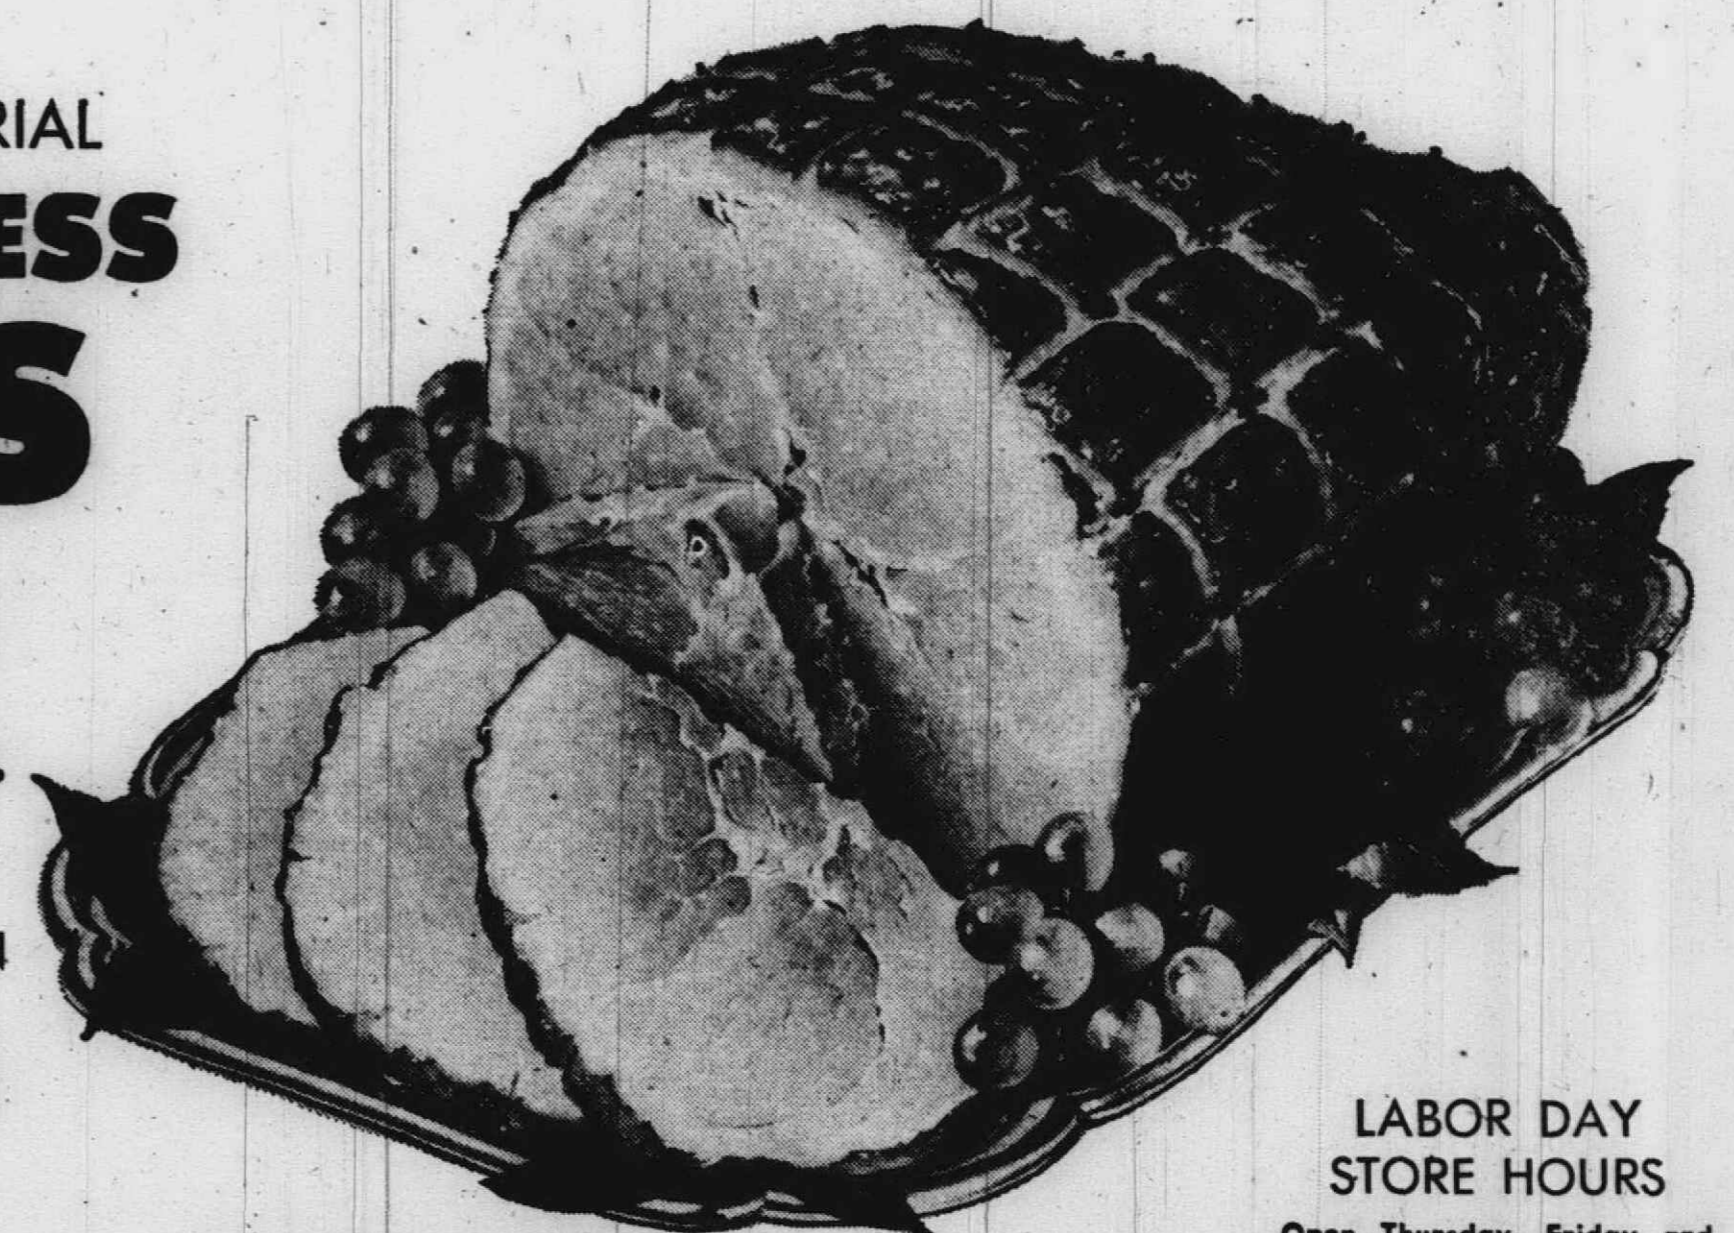

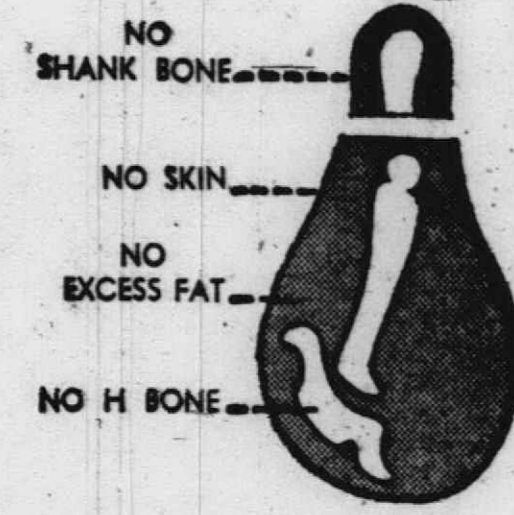

The first September meeting of Plymouth Grange will be held tomorrow night, September 1st, at the Hall. Potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. with meeting to follow at 8:00 p.m.
The County Convention for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent Wayne County at the annual session of Michigan State Grange in October will be held at the Plymouth Grange Hall September 1st at 1:00 p.m. Duly appointed delegates from that Rock and Plymouth Granges will make the selection of delegates to the State session at that time.
Summer 4-H projects must be completed and reports must be in to Mrs. Fehlig by September 8th. Let's make it a perfect season with everyone completing his or her project to follow up the record made by our club at the Wayne County 4H fair.
The Young Pioneers, the Grange sponsored 4H Club, will meet at the Grange Hall Tuesday, Sept. 13, 7:30 p.m. Note the change of date from the regular first Monday night which would be Labor Day.
Remember the Plymouth Grange Rummage Sale Saturday, September 10. Please bring your contributions for the sale to the September 1st meeting or to the Hall Friday, September 9th, 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. If you wish to have articles picked up, please phone Mrs. Taylor at GL 7323 or Mrs. Brown at GL 0877.
Robert Fenton, who was confined to New Grace Hospital for about two weeks, is home again and convalescing. Let's brighten the days with cards and calls.

Don't Look Down
In Garbage Man,
It's Your Garbage

SEASIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Douglas L. McFarland lifts 23 tons of garbage a day. He hates his job but he dislikes snakes and bricks.
McFarland, 38-year-old father of 11 children, says some customers have the impression that a garbage man is extremely strong.
"They wrap bricks in newspaper and put them in the bin," said McFarland, who is 5 feet, 6 inches tall. "Have you ever tried to lift a garbage can full of bricks?"
The biggest headache of his job concerns rattlesnakes. He has some 550 cans a day and occasionally finds one of the piles hiding underneath. It has a perfect weapon. It drops the can back on the snake.
McFarland and his wife, Betty, 36, have been married 12 years and consider themselves the "youngest couple with 11 kids for a good many miles around."
But he admits the job can be a social drag.
"Let's face it. Some customers don't want to meet me. Maybe they don't mean it but they look down at the garbage man. Seems they forget that it's their garbage I'm taking away."

Don't Look Down On Garbage Man, It's Your Garbage

SEASIDE, Calif. (UPI) — Douglas L. McFarland lifts 23 tons of garbage a day. He likes his job but he dislikes the snakes and bricks.

McFarland, 38-year-old father of 11 children, says some customers have the impression that a garbage man is extremely strong.

"They wrap bricks in newspaper and put them in the can," said McFarland, who is 5 feet, 6 inches tall. "Have you ever tried to lift a garbage can full of bricks?"

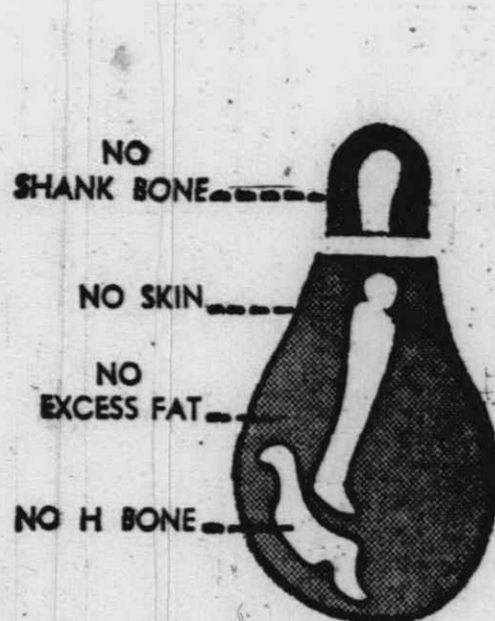

"The biggest headache of his job concerns rattlesnakes. He lifts some 550 cans a day and occasionally finds one of the reptiles hiding underneath. But he has a perfect weapon. He drops the can back on the snake."

McFarland and his wife, Betty, 36, have been married 20 years and consider themselves the "youngest couple with 11 kids for a good many miles around."

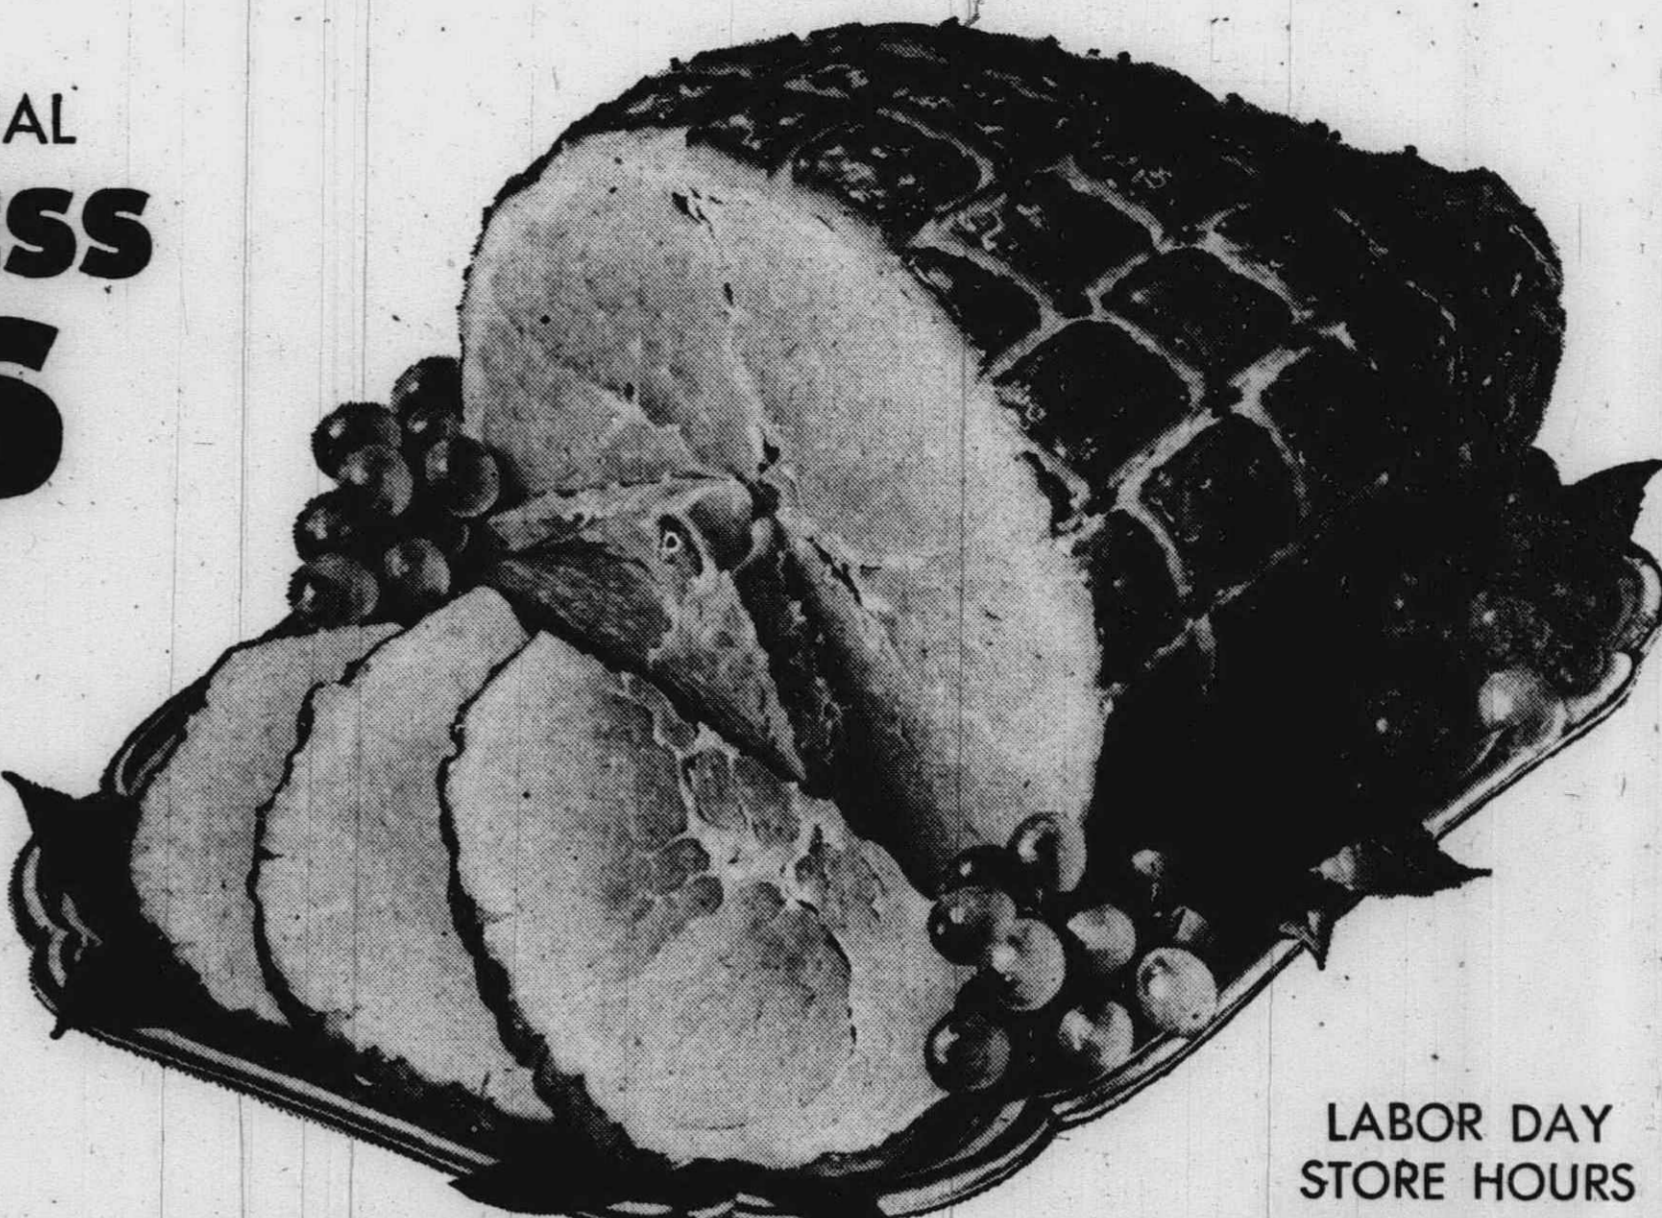

But he admits the job can be a social drag.

"Let's face it. Some customers don't want to meet me. Maybe they don't mean to, but they look down at the garbage man. Seems they forget that it's their garbage I'm hauling away."

Musical comedies dominate the local Detroit theater scene. "Fiorello," even though it is a road company of the New York smash hit, has enough good qualities about it to rate attendance. The comedy numbers ("The Little Tin Box," "Marie's Law," and "I Love a Cop") are visual and aural gems. And the waltz tempo tune "Til Tomorrow" will haunt you as you hum its lilting notes.

"Fiorello," the fast-moving biography of Mayor La Guardia, has the distinction of being a "family-type" musical comedy. Often times musical comedies are loaded down with suggestive situations or songs that are replete with "blue" or vulgar lyrics. Not "Fiorello"—it's as clean and healthy as the Little Flower's big, black hat that almost hides the dashing incorruptible Mayor.

Old George found "Fiorello" to be a refreshing, entertaining evening in the theater. You have until Sept. 10 to purchase tickets. Bob Carroll, Zeme North, Rudy Bond and a host of others will be at the Riviera Theater until the end of the week. They move on to Chicago for an unlimited engagement.

"West Side Story" is another musical comedy paying us a return visit at the Northland Playhouse. Last spring the original cast played Detroit for three weeks before rushing back to Broadway where the production is still selling out. Three weeks were too short a stay for so excit-land evenings for the next two months as he guides some 21 people through a most exacting production. With such a large cast it is quite evident that there is a part for everyone in this production. The Plymouth Theater Guild wishes to emphasize that nonmembers are always welcome to attend the casting calls. This is one sure way of becoming a Guild member in a hurry. Get in a play either backstage or up on the stage. You'll find it's fun.

In case you can't get to the Monday, Sept. 12 reading session for "The Crucible," call Director Sutherland on the phone (GL 3-8011). Explain your problem and he'll be more than glad to arrange something for you. Jerry Thaden assures me that with so many parts available in this first production everyone will be given a chance to read. By the way, scripts of the play are available at $25 Parkway, the Sutherland manse.

One last item of note from the Guild: the drama mask booth at the "Side Walk Sales" was a smash hit, especially the cotton candy bit. The kids devoured the cotton candy with glee and the Guild ended up with a fat fee. Incidentally, the Guild now owns the cotton candy machine and other organizations may borrow this cavity creator by calling Dr. Ford at GL 3-8011. The Plymouth Theater Guild will provide all the materials and the organization has only to share the loot on a 50-50 basis. Sounds fair enough to me and here's hoping you cotton to the idea.

Time to get outside and shift some scenery. In short, it's time to pick those tomatoes, tote that bale, and lift that barge. Holy Mackerel, Amos... why lookee here, it's school-going time already and I ain't got near all my fishing time completed.

ing a musical. Ken Schwartz decided to give his summer season a fitting "next-to-closing" musical treat. Leonard Bernstein's magnificent music and those fantastic, frenetic dance numbers make "West Side Story" well worth even a second look. And if you haven't seen the show as yet, join in the crowds out at the Northland Playhouse this week.

Gertrude Berg, known with affection by millions of TV viewers and radio fans as warm-hearted Molly Goldberg, will be in Detroit starting Sept. 5. Molly and Sir Cedric Hardwicke open the fall season at the Shubert Theater with their hit comedy, "A Majority of One." This play has the original cast now out on tour after playing some 558 performances in New York. You'll have until Sept. 24 to get down to the Shubert and see the most unusual casting in years—Gertrude Berg, the beloved Molly, and Cedric Hardwicke, Shakespearean and Shavian star. Sir Cedric has the challenging part of a wealthy Japanese gentleman.

Jerry Thaden, president of the Plymouth Theater Guild, called to inform Old George that it won't be too long now before the casting of "The Crucible" will take place. In fact, the date has been set for Monday evening, Sept. 12 at 8 p.m. in the Plymouth High School Annex Auditorium. The Annex Auditorium is located toward the rear of the high school building. Dr. Ford Sutherland becomes Director Ford Sutherland.

TIPS FOR TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Q.—"Dear Elinor: Can you 'two-time' a boy when you don't go steady with him? The boy I date has asked me to go steady, but I told him I didn't want to. But he says when I don't want to go with him any more to tell him; but if I go out with anybody else I'll be two-timing him and he won't like it. So I'm afraid if I go out with any other boy he will think I'm two-timing him. I like him a lot, but I am 16 and want to know others, too."

Ans.—This boy expects you to go steady without a going steady agreement. Straighten this out with him so you can have date-freedom and peace of mind. It's not two-timing him unless you're going steady with him, because otherwise you owe him no loyalty or faithfulness except as a friend. You've told him honestly and frankly that you don't want to go steady with him, so you're free to know and date whom you like. He's the one who is out of line.

Q.—"Dear Miss Williams: Last summer I met a nice boy when I went swimming and have been going with him since then. My parents like him too. The problem is that when my friends look through my wallet and see his picture, they ask about him and how I met him. When I tell them, they call me a 'pick-up'; this is very embarrassing to me. What should I do?"

Ans.—Don't let your friends put you on an embarrassing spot. How you met this boy concerns nobody except you and your parents. So don't let your friends look through your wallet or don't answer their prying, personal questions when they do. It's bad manners for them to ask such questions and make remarks about your personal affairs. When they ask these questions, just smile, say, "It's a long story," and change the subject... and don't give them any information no matter how much they ask or tease you.

LESS WORK

Retired couples want low-cost housing with minimum needs for cleaning and maintenance. That is why there is a growing market for slab-on-grade houses with economical ceramic tile floors. Real tile is not harmed by sand, soil or stains and is one of the easiest-to-care-for surfaces known. If you want to spend less time cleaning and would like to forget maintenance cares, be sure your retirement home is floored with durable ceramic tile.

Veterans of Foreign Wars

If there is anyone who isn't aware that the 61st VFW National Convention was held in Detroit last week, we will give you some interesting highlights of the week.

First of all we are very proud of our Color Guard, who placed 7th in the Nation. No small feat. I can assure you. Competition was very keen with some 44 color guard and drill team units of 5 to 15 members each. Scoring among the top units was very close. Plymouth scoring only 6.10 points from the National Champs The Lamplighters of the Sgt. Howard S. Oakman Post 82 of Detroit, who defeated the Riley Raiders of New York. Michigan was well represented in this event and we are happy our state claimed the National Title. Second and third places went to Kankakee, Illinois and Dodge City, Kansas respectively.

Michigan claimed two more titles, that being our Plymouth Ladies Drill Team, who placed 2nd in the nation and the Lamplighters senior men's drum and bugle corps, who also claimed the number two spot in the National Contest.

Another Michigan corps, the Vanguard, Bruce Post No. 1146, St. Clair Shores, finished 4th in the Senior Men's Division. The Lamplighters and the Plymouth Ladies Drill Team had the honor of appearing with all the other top units from all divisions at the magnificent Pageant of Drums held at Briggs Stadium Wednesday night August 24.

The Pageant was a thrilling show. The glittering rainbow of colors, flashing instruments, and rippling waves of marching feet in perfect cadence, was proclaimed as the "Greatest Show We Have Ever Had" by VFW Commander-in-Chief Louis G. Feldmann.

Another thrilling sight of this convention was the six hour long parade Tuesday night, August 23. The drums rolled, the bugles blared and approximately 18,000 marchers strutted down Woodward Avenue in a two mile long parade which ended at Cobo Hall. Proof that everyone loves a parade was evidenced by the 35,000 viewers who gathered to watch and applaud. Plymouth was represented by our Men's Color Guard and our Ladies Auxiliary Drill Team.

A drum and bugle corps of Explorer Scouts from Madison, Wis., was named the best of the 60 musical units in the parade. Several Plymouth delegates were on hand Wednesday morning, August 24, to welcome Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon on their arrival at Cobo Hall where the Vice President addressed an overflowing crowd of VFW delegates.

Out of state post members attending the convention were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grubesch of South Bend, Ind. Nice to have seen you both again. As the Convention is still in progress at this writing, more details will be given after. Don't forget next regular meeting will be Sept. 7 at 8 p.m.

AUXILIARY NEWS

Many auxiliary members attended the 47th National Convention held in Detroit August 21-26. On Sunday night, August 21, a very impressive Memorial Service was held at Cobo Hall. Sister Virginia Bartel of our auxiliary was chairman of the Committee of Gold Star Parents who were honored at this joint memorial service. Each Gold Star Mother was presented with a corsage and then escorted to her place of honor.

At joint sessions of the Auxiliary and the VFW, both Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Senator John F. Kennedy emphasized their views on foreign policy. Delegates and members learned that an intensive membership campaign had brought the total membership to more than 323,000, greatest in Auxiliary history. More than $39,000 in program prizes was awarded to Auxiliaries and as grants to institutions. Sharing in grants for cancer research were the Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Bar Harbor, Maine—$7,000; The Child Research Center, Detroit, $10,000; and the Memorial Hospital, Wilmington, Del. $30,000. Another $7,500 was divided among three states (California, Nebraska and Oregon) for research grants to institutions within these states. With these figures in mind, I am sure each of you realize that we are a part of a large organization that does so much good for our country.

Special congratulations to Sister Dolly Bouterse and the girls of the Drill Team. We of the Mayflower Post 6695 and Auxiliary, as well as your friends and neighbors, are mighty proud of you for placing 2nd in the National Drill Team Competition. Our team finished only 3 points behind the National Champion team from Milwaukee, Wis., who have held the title since 1955. For 2nd place each girl will receive a medal plus a cash prize of $100 for the team. Nice going girls.

Election of officers for 1960-61 was held on Friday, Aug. 26, with the following results: President — Frances Millican from Colorado, and Elfrida Tice — Jr. Vice President from South Dakota. Congratulations to the newly elected officers and their committees for a very successful year.

Forty National Officers and 50 Department Presidents attended this Convention. Also 1,845 delegates and alternates were registered. Many thanks to the citizens of Detroit for welcoming the thousands of VFW members who were in the city this past week. Next year's convention Next regular meeting September 6 at 8 p.m.

Stationed in Kansas

First Lt. Jerry L. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kelly of Dixboro, is now stationed at Ft. Riley, Kan., after completing the military orientation course at Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. The 24-year-old officer, who entered the service in July, is a 1954 graduate of Plymouth High School and a 1960 graduate of the University Dental School. His wife, Geraldine, and five-month-old son, Jeffrey Lee, are with him in Kansas.

Tailoring Requires Only Careful Work

By BARBARA SLADE

Tailoring refers to the making of a suit or a coat. Once a person has discovered that she can cut, fit and sew a dress properly, there's no reason why she shouldn't be able to make a coat or suit successfully—if she has the time.

The basic differences between dressmaking and tailoring are that a tailored suit or coat requires interfacing, interlining and lining. As with dressmaking, start with a simple pattern with as few pieces as possible. All fabrics for tailoring including interfacing and lining should be sponged and shrunk before cutting.

The interfacing for a coat or suit should be lightweight canvas or muslin. Canvas might be used for the front and collar and unbleached muslin for the rest of the garment.

The lining might be rayon twill, rayon or silk crepe, taffeta or satin. The interlining that is desirable for a winter coat or suit should preferably be of thin wool or a part-wool fabric. Snip in a seam allowance or selvage at an angle to the seam or selvage. Seams are clipped so the outer edges spread apart to fit another section of the garment or a curved seam will lie flat or a selvage won't curl. EASE is to adjust evenly the slight fullness of a seam. SLASH is to cut open, as a curved dart, so that it will lie flat after stitching. TRIM is to cut away excess fabric and is most often done on seams. Corners are trimmed by cutting diagonally across the point close to the stitching. LAYERING, or Staggering, is a method of eliminating seam bulk, particularly in heavy fabrics or where interfacing is used. Seams are trimmed away with one seam allowance narrower than the other.

If the bottom of a jacket or coat needs a weight, enclose one of the metal ones designed for this purpose in an envelope of the fabric and sew to the seam at upper edge of the hem. Weights are usually balanced on either side of the garment. Some of the construction terms that are helpful to understand before starting any tailoring include:

Meteorites have been scientifically studied ever since a large shower fell in France in 1803.
