Goodfellows Selling Newspapers Friday

A bigger job than ever before is anticipated by the Plymouth Goodfellows as they prepare for their annual newspaper sale this Friday and purchase food, clothing, and toys for the less fortunate next week.

Last year there were 48 families in the Plymouth area given some type of gift at Christmas. This year the Goodfellows expect even more.

In 1957, for instance, there were 32 families helped. During the 1958 holiday season, the figure climbed to 43 families.

Besides the 48 given Christmas boxes last year, there were 15 families aided throughout the year in such cases as buying shoes for children entering school.

Goodfellows will be selling their newspapers in Plymouth this Friday afternoon and night. The papers, which are special issues of The Plymouth Mail, are sold for any amount that the buyers wish to give. Naturally Goodfellows are hoping that many purchasers are generous with their dollars.

There will be 5,000 copies of the Goodfellows' newspaper printed. An advanced sale will be made Thursday at the Burroughs plant.

"No Kiddie Without a Christmas" is the slogan of the Goodfellows this year.

The Goodfellows, composed of men from all walks of life, begin their annual job by collecting names of families whose economic situation would result in a dismal Christmas. A committee of Goodfellows investigates each of these families, finds out if they do need help and what type of help is needed.

If there are children, the situation calls for toys. Food is usually needed, and clothes are often required. Sizes of the children and adults are first needed when clothing is involved.

Large boxes are then assembled, each containing things needed by a specific family. These boxes are delivered on Christmas Eve.

Last year, the Goodfellows ran short of funds. Besides the 48 families helped at Christmas, 15 others received some type of aid during the year. More could have been done if there had been more money.

Goodfellows, of course, receive no pay for their services. Some of the members, however, do help when it comes to purchasing clothing.

FOR THE MAN who has everything, how about finding this under your Christmas tree. We're speaking of the 1961 license tab that Miss Kathy Hoban is holding — gift wrapped. Tabs are now on sale at the Plymouth office of the Secretary of State's office. This is the final year for tabs with the 1959 plates. In 1962 there will be reflectorized plates. While the deadline for buying 1961 tabs is Feb. 27, the license bureau feels its one and only product is a real practical gift. Kathy, by the way, assists Mrs. Doris Root, office manager.

$18 Million Sewer For Area Planned

Expect Lifting Of Subdivision Ban

City and Township officials are pouring over a thick document that, when completed with 14 Western Wayne County communities, will bring about the lifting of the ban on new subdivisions that has stunted growth in the area nearly two years.

The Wayne County Department of Public Works will move ahead with an $18 million sanitary sewer to serve this part of the County if the political subdivisions sign the contract which has now been submitted to each of them.

For nearly two years, the Michigan Department of Health has held up approval on new subdivision plans in the County because they claim that there are not adequate sanitary sewer interceptors to handle any more growth.

To provide new interceptor facilities, the County Board of Supervisors created a new department — the Board of Public Works. The board has been busy drawing up plans and finding a method of financing the $18 million project.

One plan advanced last summer for financing met with some opposition from some communities, especially those whose growth is nearly complete. The new plans offer credit to those communities that already have investments in the Middle Rouge Interceptor.

Cost of the proposed sewer for each community is based on the projected population by 1980.

The City of Plymouth, it is estimated, will have 12,000 people by 1980. Their share of the sewer cost is $96,946.34. This is minus the $176,456 credit allowed the City for other investments in the interceptor.

Plymouth Township will have a population of 24,000 by 1980, but this is not the ultimate population, the Board of Public Works declares. The Township share will be $428,548 and a credit of $201,835 has been allowed.

It is estimated that Canton Township will have a population of 14,000 in 20 years. Their share of the project will be $351,510.

The Board of Public Works wants each community to return the signed contract by the end of this month.

The $18 million bond issue will be dated April 1, 1961. It is assumed that as soon as the bonds are sold the State Board of Health will lift its subdivision ban.

OH, DEAR, what was I going to say," is the expression registered on the face of 6-year-old Marjorie Pfister as she told Santa what she wanted. She had to stop to give some thought to a few items she missed.

Area Indicates Renewed Civil Defense Interest

Reactivation of a Civil Defense organization in Plymouth and an area-wide basis is taking place as the public apparently is regaining interest in the program.

Six Western Wayne County Communities are beginning regular meetings to work out problems and to renew interest in Civil Defense. City Manager Albert Glasford said this week. The city manager is director of the City's CD program.

A meeting called for Dec. 6 of all ham radio operators in the area brought out 22. Glasford said, and 13 more are interested in joining later.

Meeting at the Livonia CD Center on Eight Mile Rd. recently were representatives from Livonia, Farmington, Redford Township, Northville, Garden City, Plymouth and Oakland County, Glassford and Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher represented Plymouth.

Another meeting of the group has been called for Dec. 21 at which program will be discussed. The ham radio operators were called together to determine if their services could be utilized in case of an emergency. Civil Defense, of course, is active in the event of a natural disaster as well as in war.

Fischer explained that ham radio operators would be able to integrate their portable equipment with that of the city's to accomplish efficient radio communications when telephones were knocked out.

It was the consensus of the group that formation of a program would be advisable to perform CD communications tasks, to provide radiological detection teams in case of

Large Barn Destroyed By Fire

A large barn that had become a landmark on N. Territorial Rd. burned to the ground last Friday afternoon. Located on the Sterling Eaton property, the barn contained very little of value and was partially insured, the owner said.

Plymouth Township firemen received a call at 3:24 p.m. and they arrived a few minutes later to find the building one large ball of fire. A strong wind fanned the blaze. Little could be done to fight the fire and firemen used their efforts to fight a grass fire which worked around the area.

The large barn, which contained two floors, stood near what was once the Territorial Rd. Post House Tavern that burned about 35 years ago. The owner placed the damage at $500 to $600.

It was believed that boys who were seen playing around the barn earlier may have accidentally started the fire.

Although a sign on the property indicates that a new country club is being considered for the land, the property is still owned by Sterling Eaton.

Will Open Igloo Every Day

Santa Still a Popular Guy Despite His Late Arrival

Jolly old Santa dropped down onto Plymouth's Main St. last Saturday afternoon greeted by some 1,500 adults and children — some cheering, some awe-stricken and nearly all with teeth chattering.

And his popularity has been so great that instead of being stationed in his Kellogg Park igloo several days a week, he will be there every day, except Sundays.

Starting Thursday, Santa will open his igloo door to boys and girls from 5 until 7 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, and on Saturdays from 3 until 7. He will continue to give a bag of candy to each of his little visitors, all compliments of Plymouth merchants and the Chamber of Commerce.

Santa's popularity dipped a little Saturday morning when the helicopter that was to bring him was delayed 25 minutes. The shivering crowd gathered on both sides of Main St. in front of Kellogg Park grew impatient as they scanned the sky.

But finally, at 10:25, the helicopter came into view and a cheer went up. The copter dropped into the middle of the roped-off street and old St. Nick jumped out. In another instant the helicopter took off and disappeared.

The helicopter pilot explained that he was delayed because of some aerial traffic duty he was doing for the Detroit Police Department. A snarl in traffic delayed his departure for Plymouth.

At Mettetal Airport he picked up Santa (who that day was Joseph Bida, superintendent of Public Works for the City).

As Santa hiked over to his igloo, he was pursued by several hundred of his little followers. The igloo was open from 10:30 until noon and from 3 until 7 (Continued on Page 8)

Girl Scouts Join For Carol Sing

Plymouth Girl Scouts will join in Kellogg Park Friday night, Dec. 23 for a carol sing.

Starting at 7:30 p.m., the Scouts are inviting the general public to join them around the Christmas tree in the center of the park.

Should the sing prove successful, it may start a new custom.

NEWS BEAT

The days after Christmas and New Years will definitely be holidays in Plymouth—as well as in most places. Stores will be closed, the Chamber of Commerce states. City Clerk Joseph Near and Township Clerk Fred Miller are not too happy about a state ruling concerning the filing of nominating petitions. They are to be filed a specific number of days before the election and it falls on Jan. 2. So someone will have to remain in the City and Township Halls until 4 p.m. that day to accept petitions. It was previously announced that the deadline would be Jan. 3.

ONE WORD: An item in this column last week concerning a statement by Commissioner Carl Shear concerning Riverside Cemetery was missing an important word. It should have read that he believed that City residents and those paying taxes in the City should NOT subsidize a cemetery for those living outside the City.

INTERPRETATION: That page-long Plymouth Township ordinance that ran in The Mail last week concerning water and sewer charges involves no change in rates. It merely combines the two operations into one department. It will not mean any new charges for those now receiving Township water bills.

TRADE: Starkweather Ave., now under Wayne County jurisdiction, will be traded to the City for the portion of Mill St., from Main to Starkweather. Mill will hereafter be under County jurisdiction all the way through Plymouth. The City and County will share the cost of repaving Mill north of Main St. next year.

BACK AGAIN: The Mail's powerful classified section is again appearing in full-sized page form instead of in a special tabloid section. The classifieds still appear in three newspapers with circulation this week climbing to 45,000. They now go into every home in Livonia as well as Redford Township.

INAUGURAL ITEM: One former Plymouthite having a part in the Jan. 20 Presidential inauguration is Capt. R. W. Thams, son of Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Thams. He will be the escorting and officer-in-charge of the Third Army Detail to the Army Honor Cordon. This Cordon will join the Navy and Air Force counterparts to line walks along the street entrance to the Capitol during the swearing-in ceremony. Capt. Thams has spent some time in Washington with a group planning for the Honor Cordon and Inaugural Parade.

BUSINESS BEAT: Plymouth Cab has moved its office from Penniman to the Pure Oil station at Main and Starkweather. The weather has changed hands — from Connie and Donald Wahlberg to Mrs. Harry Lush and Miss Margaret Wilson, partners in the Penn Theatre next door. Linda Lee women's shop on Forest Ave. will be leaving Plymouth at the end of the year. Some 130 insurance agents for Detroit Mutual Insurance, the firm that will move to Plymouth next year, are on a part-time strike. They work in the morning and picket in the afternoon in an attempt to have their union recognized by the company.

TREE TIME: Empty lots are again filling up with Christmas trees and one group making their annual effort to raise money is the Plymouth Firemen's Ass'n. They are at Forest Ave. and Wing St. this year. Profits go into the uniform fund.

HOPEFUL SIGN: A sign that times still are good has been turned up by Wendell Lent, whose men's store, just for show purposes displayed three 24 karat gold ties costing $25 each. Advertised for "the men who have everything," the men's store sold all three ties and have ordered more.

JUST WHAT hundreds of youngsters have been waiting for all year—Santa Claus. Santa arrived in Plymouth last Saturday morning via helicopter and landed square in the middle of Main St. in front of Kellogg Park. Scheduled to arrive at 10 a.m., the helicopter was 25 minutes late in arriving from Detroit and for a while the Chamber of Commerce planners were ready to call in a fire truck to bring St. Nick into young. But the copter finally arrived and the throng of young followers broke into a cheer as Santa hopped out and headed for his igloo in Kellogg Park. Main St. was carefully roped off and guarded by police to avoid accident.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Breakfast-eating children are likely to do better in school than those who skip the early morning meal before going to school. Home economists at Michigan State University say children who do not eat breakfast often are less interested in their studies and learn less easily than when they eat a good breakfast.

Did You Know...

By GEORGE-ANN BAUER

We have word from Michigan State University, East Lansing, that Miss Carol Clarke has been taking part in an on the job training course sponsored by the University.

Since November, Miss Clarke has been supervisor of men's clothing at J. L. Hudson's, in downtown Detroit. She is receiving credit for graduation as well as practical experience in her field of interest — retailing.

She is the daughter of the William Clarkes of Burroughs.

Other residents of Plymouth in advanced schooling is the entire Kenneth Hulsing family, of Church St.

Daughter Ann is in her junior year at Stanford University in California, Susan is in her freshman year at Wellesley in Massachusetts, Mary is attending Plymouth High School, Mr. Hulsing has completed a ten weeks' course at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Mrs. Hulsing is enrolled in the adult education course "The Straight Jacket Mind," meeting in the Dunning-Hough Library.

Home for the holidays from their adopted home in Bonn, Germany are the David Nichols, son and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Walter Nichol of Church St.

Plymouthites will remember Mr. Nichol as the Bonn correspondent for the Chicago Daily News with some work appearing in the Knight papers. Mrs. Nichol is a writer in her own right.

The Nichols will be arriving this evening and will stay with Mrs. Nichols.

A delicious recipe for the traditional "Pound Cake" for this month's holiday menus is this one contributed by Mrs. Edna Willoughby.

POUND CAKE

- 2 sticks butter
- 1 box XXXX sugar
- 6 eggs
- 1 cup milk
- Cake flour

Cream butter and sugar and beat in eggs one at a time. Sift cake flour and fill XXXX box. Add milk and flour alternately. Bake in a loaf pan 40 minutes at 325 degrees.

For those of you who have not yet purchased your box of Christmas cards sponsored by the Michigan Assn. for Emotionally Handicapped Children, the cards can still be purchased at Minerva's Wearing Apparel across from the Post Office, at the Plymouth Mail office, or by contacting Harry VanHook, GA 2-9144.

Something out of the ordinary for an interesting evening out. The Cafe Galerie has announced that two area residents and members of the Tri-City Art Club will be holding a two-man art show at the Cafe. Mrs. Beverly Ann Shankwiler, Mildred St., Wayne, and Wilfred R. Hocking, Hayes Ave., Wayne, are opening their show Monday, Dec. 19 to run through Jan. 31.

The Cafe is located on Livernois between Seven and Eight Mile Rds. and boasts entertainment and a varied assortment of Espresso coffee and delectable pastries. On Monday evening there is no cover charge.

And a note about the Plymouth Women's Symphony League.

Its latest money-making project is well under way in the form of the sale of City Hall note paper. A line drawing by Mrs. George Hudson appears on the front of the paper for making a very attractive note.

Swimmers Host Kimball In First Big Dual Meet

Plymouth's 1960-61 swimming team will find out how good it really is at 7:30 p.m. this Saturday when it entertains Kimball High School of Royal Oak.

The Rocks sped past Belleville last week, 71-26, for their second dual meet victory in two starts. They will travel to Bentley for a 7 p.m. meet Thursday, but this appears to be merely a tuneup for the Kimball meet.

Kimball was third in the recent edition of the Royla Oak Kimball Relays and Plymouth was a notch ahead, placing second.

Coach John McFall's squad seems to be ready. They tuned up against Belleville in the Plymouth pool by setting four records (one was disqualified) and by winning ten firsts and a bunch of seconds and thirds.

In the 400 yard freestyle Bob Daley was first and Bill Rossow second. Daley was timed at 4:28.4 for a new pool and team record. Bill Birtcher was first in the 50 yard free style and Gary Gould second. The winning time was 25.5.

Dick Gretzinger set a pool and team record in the 100 yard butterfly with a 58.4 effort and teammate Dick Alford was second.

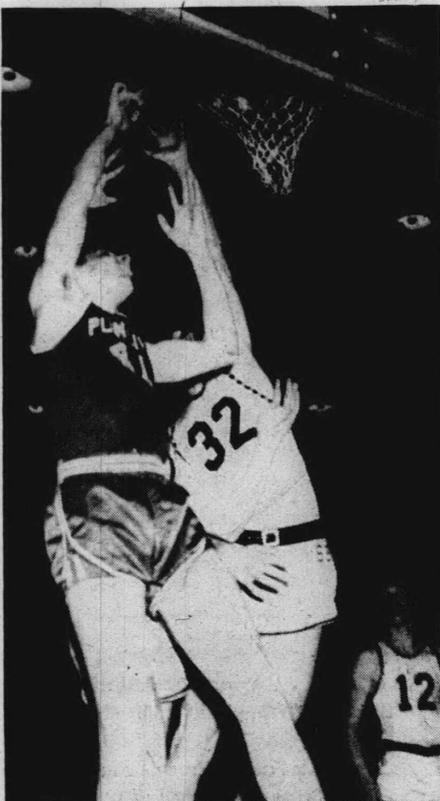

Tom Hoffman was the official winner of the 100 yard backstroke, but teammate Dick Michaels set a pool and team record with a 1:01.6. He was disqualified on a dubious decision that he made an illegal finishing touch.

Phil Bender churned to a team record in the 100 yard breaststroke. He was clocked in at 1:10.4. Doug Cash was second. Warren Smith won the 100 yard freestyle and Gary Gould was third.

Nick Herrick piled up 62½ points to win the diving, while Mark Schultheiss was third with 50.1 points. Dick Michaels was first in 2:28.9 in the 200 yard individual medley and Alford was third.

Ron Daley won the 200 yard free style and Win Schrader was second. The winning time was 2:04.2. Plymouth was disqualified in the 200 yard free style relay, but Hoffman, Bob Crosby, Herrick and Rossow won the 200 yard medley relay with a 1:54.3.

STREMMICK (41) STRETCHES for a rebound in a recent Plymouth basketball game. The lanky Rock performed well against Belleville and will play a key role in Friday's game against powerful Bentley.

Court Contest Features Bentley

Neighboring Bentley comes to the Plymouth basketball court at 8 p.m. Friday evening. Last season's powerful Suburban Six champions won their league opener last week with a 53-48 win over Allen Park, while Plymouth was dropping its league opener at Belleville, 54-42.

For Plymouth an increase in shooting accuracy is mandatory, if the Rocks are to make a game of the Bulldog meet. Plymouth played well enough overall in the Belleville game, but could connect on only a measly 24 percent of its shots.

Plymouth led only once in the Belleville game. The Tigers roared to a 4-0 lead, but Plymouth fought back to go ahead 10-9 in the first quarter on a stolen ball basket by Jim Ralston and field goals by John Spigarelli and Dan Stremmick. Belleville edged to a 11-10 first quarter advantage and never trailed thereafter.

At the half Belleville led 25-22 and sped to a 38-28 lead late in the third quarter before Plymouth cut the margin to 38-32 at the beginning of the fourth quarter. John Ellward scored 22 points for the winners and led the victory drive with 17 points in the second half.

For Plymouth, Spigarelli, Stremmick and Ralston shared scoring honors with nine points each. Mike Kelley had 14 for Belleville.

SPORTSEEN

The sports scene in Plymouth this week appeals to both ends of the sentimental spectrum. If you like to watch your home team as a powerful winner with superb performances, John McFall's swimming team will be in action at home against Royal Oak Kimball on Saturday. If you'd like to be a ding-dong battle with Plymouth the winner, but it won't be easy because the teams finished second and third in the recent Royal Oak Kimball relays.

If your heart rides with the underdog, however, your object for attention is the Plymouth-Bentley basketball game on Friday evening in the Plymouth gym.

The Rocks have turned in one period of excellent play in three games this year, but haven't yet really put together a consistent performance. Last week against Belleville, they performed adequately enough, but their shooting percentage was horrible. Only 24 percent.

Bentley, meanwhile, is riding high with two victories and no defeats. The Bulldogs also carry the title of league champions at the moment. Coach Jim Doyle's team is overdue in the luck department. The Plymouth-Bentley encounter is a notorious game in which predictions usually mean little in any sport. With the right kind of desire, Plymouth has a chance.

In high school basketball, height can be a determining factor. If the lanky guys don't live in your school district its tough at last. Plymouth has not had its share of tall teenagers in the past few seasons and consequently Coach Doyle has had to develop fast teams, and concentrate on shooting. The backboards are more or less up for grabs.

Despite the lack of height, Plymouth has done well enough in basketball and no team has been able to breathe easy during any game, regardless of any height advantage.

Doyle's dilemma came to mind as the writer was reading that Wayne State University had just won its third of four basketball games. Joel Mason has labored for years at Wayne State with no substantial support for basketball. Consequently he has had to recruit talent for his college squads on the simple proposition that Wayne offers a place to get a good education and also a place to play basketball.

In his recruiting, he didn't do very well against the semi-pro operations at some colleges. But when he takes his leftovers onto the basketball court they become giants on occasions.

Similarly Doyle has turned his team into sizzling successes on occasion, despite some discouraging disadvantages. The Rocks have another opportunity this Friday against Bentley. Like Mason, Doyle takes his work seriously even when the team doesn't have all the advantages of the best in the league.

Our two cents is on the Rocks this Friday.

JVs Lose Opener To Belleville, 44-31

Plymouth's Junior Varsity basketball team lost its JV league opener to Belleville 44-31, when the Tigers scored 11 points in the final quarter while holding Plymouth to four.

Plymouth led at the end of the first quarter 13-9 and trailed by only one point at the half, 18-17. Belleville pushed to a six point, 33-27, advantage and then blitzed the Plymouth defenses in the final period.

Chuck Worthington led Plymouth with 10 points and Jared Stevens contributed eight, while Bob Hay had 13 for Belleville and Greg Drapkowski and David Salan each scored eleven.

Plymouth JVs meet Bentley JVs at 7 p.m. this Friday before the varsity game in the Plymouth gym.

BETTER HOME

APPLIANCES — FURNITURE — CARPETING

ACROSS FROM A&P SUPERMARKET

1009 W. Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth — GL 3-7420

By Mrs. Emil LaPointe
GL 3-3797

I promised you a report on the Newburg hunters. Hayes Kline, Gray Ave. after one hour and ten minutes of hunting on opening day at Atlanta, Mich. bagged a nine point buck. A real proud moment for Mr. Kline.

Leonard Ritzler of Plymouth Rd. was not so successful as some and had to return home without his buck. Mr. Ritzler reported that he didn't even see one to shoot, so didn't feel so bad. Better luck next year.

Miss Donna Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bennett of Stark Rd. was home for the Thanksgiving holidays to visit with her parents. Miss Bennett is a senior at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

The adult choir of the Newburg Methodist Church gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nixon on Wadsworth Ave. on Saturday, Dec. 3 for an evening of practice and fellowship together.

Those present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Waack, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leverton, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lorraine, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waltz, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waltz, Mrs. James Greenwood, Rev. and Mrs. Roger Merrell, Mrs. Richard Crawford, Mrs. Emil LaPointe, Leonard Ritzler, Graham Bennett, Joseph Tompkins and Mrs. Anne Whetter.

This is a traditional gathering for these folks for purposes of preparing their music more thoroughly for the fast approaching Christmas season and also for an evening of fun and good food.

At this writing, I'm sorry to report that Mrs. Robert Beasley of JoAnne is in the Garden City Osteopathic Hospital after having undergone major surgery.

Remember Mrs. Beasley with your cards of cheer and get well wishes.

The Thanksgiving holidays were spent by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ritzler and family Connie, Ronnie, Nancy and David of Plymouth Rd., visiting with friends in Indiana.

Mrs. Melvin C. Guthrie, Newburg Rd., entertained her Sarah Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Newburg Methodist Church at her home on Tuesday, Dec. 6.

The ladies gathered for a pot luck luncheon followed by a special Christmas program with special music provided by Mrs. Paul Nixon and Mrs. James Greenwood.

Ladies present for the afternoon were Mrs. Delmer Ruehle, Mrs. Nancy Sutton, Mrs. Raymond Grimm, Mrs. Henry Grimm, Mrs. Ernest Hammond, Mrs. Sam Epley, Mrs. Warren Fittery, Mrs. Norman Kerr, Mrs. Joseph Jenkins, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Mrs. Don Ryder, Mrs. Roger Merrell and Mrs. John Schroder.

Paul Nixon of Wadsworth had an extended stay at the Harper Hospital but is now at home recuperating nicely. All the folks of Newburg are glad to have him back in our midst.

While we are mentioning about folks being in the hospital, I might mention that my own husband, Emil has been at Crittenton General for surgery and is now home recuperating from the ordeal. On Thursday, Dec. 15, the Woman's Society of Christian service of the Newburg Methodist Church will present the combined Adult and Junior hours under the direction of Mrs. Paul Nixon, in their third annual "Christmas Musicale," to which men, women and children are all cordially invited to attend.

The program begins at 8 p.m. with the following selections, "Fairest Lord Jesus," "Star of the East," "Carol of the Drum," "Now Bright and Still," "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen," "Jingle Bells" and "Mary Had a Baby."

Besides these choral selections there will be a trio and some solos. This promises to be an evening of fine, free entertainment so mark Dec. 15 on your calendar.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the program.

I know that the folks of the Newburg area would like to know that Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt of Blunk Ave., Plymouth, are grandparents for the first time.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Woodworth (Connie Schmidt) are the proud parents of a son, Scott Alan, born Sunday, Dec. 4 at the St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

The baby, born at 10 p.m. tipped the scales at five pounds eight ounces.

Congratulations to all.

The Good Neighbor's Club met at the home of Mrs. Johnnie Leavon on Hix Rd. on Thursday, Dec. 1 with the following ladies present: Mrs. Mae Blanton, Miss Dorothy Blanton, Mrs. Lulu Westlake, Mrs. Laura Mendel, Miss Esther Stottlemeyer, Mrs. Margaret Desmond, Mrs. Edith Gennis and Mrs. Florence Peterson.

This same group of ladies will meet again at the Gennis home on Joy Rd. for their annual Christmas party on Thursday, Dec. 15.

Mrs. Earl Halsted of Ann Arbor Trail was hostess to the ladies of the Lydia Circle for their annual Christmas pot luck luncheon and program on Tuesday, Dec. 6.

Members of the circle present for the afternoon were, Mrs. Leonard Ritzler, Mrs. Elsie Waddington, Mrs. James Busenbark, Mrs. Lester Larrabee, Mrs. Schuyler Adams, Mrs. Robert Arnold, Mrs. Angeline Norris, Mrs. Jerry Baldwin and Mrs. Florence Crawford.

A fine, inspirational program in keeping with the season was presented and all the ladies took part in a caroling.

Miss Debora Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

James Greenwood of Newburg Rd., celebrated her 8th birthday on Sunday, Dec. 4 by inviting some of her school chums to her parents' home for a party.

These were the guests: Mimi and Tina, Betsy Dickie, Eva Traver, Mary Fittery, Beth Baughman and her mother Mrs. William Baughman, and Debbie's two sisters Denise and Kim.

The demonstration was held on Thursday, Dec. 8 with the following neighbor ladies present: Mrs. Alex Siron, Mrs. Eleanor Roski, Mrs. Sue Trapp, Mrs. Margaret Desmond, Mrs. Edith Gennis, Mrs. Stuart Flaherty and Mrs. Dorothy Dickie.

AS POPULAR as Santa Claus and as graceful as perhaps some others who have danced on the Arbor Lill dance floor was Pinto "the thinking horse" that entertained at the annual Christmas party given by Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Powell of M. Powell & Son, local Strohs distributor. Forty-three employees, their wives and children were hosted last Sunday afternoon to a dinner at Lofy's Arbor Lill. California Joe (astride Pinto) and Montana Pete shared pot billing with Santa Claus who distributed gifts to the children of all ages. Pinto performed right on the dance floor of the new Skyline Room. John Fraser, general manager, assisted Powells in planning the party.

Lake Pointe Announces Christmas Party Plans

The Board of Directors of Lake Pointe Village Home owners Assn. has announced plans for the forthcoming Christmas activities.

Saturday, Dec. 17 the Christmas party will be held for the children and Association members at the Helen Farrand School. The party will begin at 3 p.m. and will be complete with movies, gifts for all attending, and a visit from Santa.

Of interest to grown-ups will be a contest in which prizes will be awarded to Association members for home decorations of the season. Judging will be based upon themes, balance and originality.

No entry blanks are necessary and all members are encouraged to decorate their homes in keeping with the season.

Judging will take place on the night of Dec. 21 and 22.

Prize winners will be announced shortly thereafter.

The Board of Directors anticipate a good response and President Jim Garber said, "If last year was any indication, we should have some outstanding exhibits."

Chick Childs and Warren Dusibber are in charge of the contest this year.

Residents of the Plymouth area are cordially invited to drive through Lake Pointe and enjoy the decorations.

Territorial Rd. ### Plymouth Parents Form Baby Sitting Organization

Need a baby-sitter? A group of Plymouth parents solved this ever present problem by organizing a Plymouth Sitting Co-op. In existence for one and a half years, the group swaps hour for hour one another's children. In this way, experienced and free sitters are always available. During the day the sitter takes the children to her home, but after 6 p.m. she sits in the "employer's" home. No housework is involved and in the evening the children must be ready for bed. Any interested parents in the area are invited to contact either Mrs. Phillip Settles, GL 3-1361 or Mrs. Nick Carpenter, GL 3-2079 for further information. This is not limited to Plymouth but open to anyone in area. At present there are 11 couples in the organization.

BEATING THE BRUSH

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — More and more farmers and ranchers in the "mesquite belt" of the Southwest are resorting to chemicals for control of pasture brush, according to G. O. Hoffman, extension range specialist at Texas A&M College. Diesel oil or mixtures of diesel oil and chemicals have generally proven effective for controlling mesquite, he said.

GIVEN $10 EACH to spend however they pleased was the Christmas gift given nine girls and boys from the Wayne County Training School by the Plymouth Jaycees last Saturday. The students taken on the shopping tour were mostly those who will have no families with whom to have a Christmas. They are shown here with Jaycees and their wives after being treated to a hamburger and milk shake at Sandy's Drugs. Some used the money to buy shoes, pants, toilet articles (even a bottle of aspirin), records for their cottages, candy and presents for their brothers or sisters. One saved enough to buy a bus ticket to visit his mother in Detroit Christmas Day. Jaycees sold fruit cakes to raise money for the annual shopping tour.

Canton Twp. Reports Christmas Parties, Birthday Celebrations and Deer Hunting

By ESTHER SPRENGEL
GL 3-0194
A Christmas party held at the home of Mrs. William Harrison highlighted a year of what you might call the work of Santa's helpers. The group comprised of Mrs. Rudolph Koppen, Mrs. Joe Finck, Mrs. George Dabresse, Mrs. James Stewart,

Mrs. Al Barton, and Mrs. William Harrison, have worked together as a group in making items for the enjoyment of persons less fortunate in material things and also deprived of a healthy mind and body. Most of the items were made from scraps the ladies had around the house along with items given them in their work. Some of the things made — 30 washable nursery toys for orphans, hand puppets, small holsters were made by the girls and then they purchased small guns, while shoe boxes and cigar boxes were turned into very comfy doll beds, Christmas cards were prepared with suckers and gum inside. For the Ypsilanti State Hospital for disturbed children, little purses were made to replace the paper bag that most of them had to hold their personal belongings. Inside the purses were tucked 100 combs (gotten from the Fuller Brush at a reasonable sum), little bottles of perfume, a hanky and a small change purse.

Games, cake and ice cream helped make the party a success. Although the girls celebrated together, Jean's birthday, her seventh, was on Nov. 29, and Mary's sixth birthday is on Dec. 17. Not one comment can be made about the deer Howard Gruitt bagged this year. Last year we reported Mr. Truitt getting his deer, but unfortunately we added it only had three legs, which I understand gave Howard a bit of trouble, kidding wise during the year. His standing as a hunter has been restored by getting himself a seven point deer, four legs, at Alpena, Mich. However, he does confess at shooting at a bear four times, but no bear rug this year for their home. We understand, however, that to fell a bear is indeed a hard job. However, a bear rug does grace the Truitt home from last year's hunting trip.

Mr. Stan West of Ridge Rd. called to tell us of the activities of a very active church group. To start things off, Mrs. Jenny Hawk, now deceased, left a will with the stipulation that the money was to be used for memorials and honor of her children and grandchildren, William Hawk, Maudy Jorgenson and Ivan Hawk (now deceased) and Mrs. Joseph West and niece who was raised by Mrs. Hawk as her own daughter. The Hawk family moved to Cherry Hill in 1924 and last Sunday two flags were put into service at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church, the Christian flag and the new United States flag, in honor and memorial of the Hawk family.

On Sunday, Dec. 4, a sing-spiration was held at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church with 70 people in attendance. Members of the Denton and Sheldon Methodist Church are planning to return to Florida to make their home. Twenty guests attended the shower in honor of the Andrees' forthcoming blessed event. Miss Karen West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley West, spent a weekend visiting with girlfriends at Northwood College in Alma, Mich. I now know the secret of getting news. I just have to start painting a room, cover my phone with papers and bang — news starts to roll in. I now have the only Mission White fingerprinted phone in the Township, but I was glad to hear from you anyway, so call about your holiday plans.

LET KIDS HELP
EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — You're really doing junior a favor when you give him household chores to do. Michigan State University researchers say participation in real work can give children a feeling of personal significance and a sense of achievement that comes in no other way. But they add not to expect perfection from the small fry.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glass and son Robert of Beck Rd. attended a birthday celebration for their 13-year-old niece, Dianne Glass, of Livonia. Mrs. Glass' sister, Ruby Doolin, decorated a beautiful doll birthday cake for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Joe King of Cherry Hill joined the Glass family in their birthday congratulations at the young lady's home in Livonia. Mr. and Mrs. John Denski of Cherry Hill held a birthday party in honor of their two daughters, Jean and Mary. Fifteen young guests attended the festivities along with the young lady's two brothers.

along with other persons who enjoy singing, were invited. The group sang many of the old and favorite hymns. Following the Sing-spiration the group enjoyed refreshments. The Youth Fellowship is sending their mission box, containing layettes and Bibles to the Freeman Clinic in El Paso, Tex. The group also plans to visit "Rest Haven" next Sunday with tray favors for Christmas. The group will lead the residents of Rest Haven in devotions. On Sunday, Dec. 18, the Cherry Hill Methodist Church will hold their annual Christmas program. A visit to Skid Row, arranged by Phillip West, for the Youth Fellowship of the Methodist Church, was held last weekend at the Temple Methodist Church. It was an experience with a great meaning, not quickly forgotten. The name of Kentucky means "dark and bloody ground." This derives from the many bloody wars between various Indian tribes before Kentucky came into the Union in 1792.

Hough Extension Club Holds Freezer Lecture
The Hough Extension Club met at the home of Mrs. Robert Soth for its Dec. 5 meeting. An interesting and informative lesson on "Freezer Meals" was given by Mrs. Eugene Johanningsmeier. Some excellent examples of food were shown, noting the changes which occur in freezing certain foods. The annual Christmas party was held on Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Roy Schultz. Games and refreshments were enjoyed by all. Our next meeting will be held Jan. 30.

FEELING QUITE at ease during her visit with Santa was Mary Lisa Robinson, one of the 600 children who chatted with St. Nick in his Kellogg Park igloo last Saturday. Santa will now be there daily.

Dignitaries attending the Pearl Harbor Dinner on Wednesday, Dec. 7, sponsored by the Passage-Gayde Post 391 were Department Commander William Morrison and Mrs. Morrison of Detroit; Department Adjutant Lisle Alexander and Mrs. Alexander, Plymouth; Third Zone Vice-Commander David McDougall and Mrs. McDougall, Northville; and Department Historian, Dorothy Koi, Plymouth.

Mildred Hower, rehabilitation chairman, reported that Fern Burleson and Phyllis Miller worked at the Gift Shop at the V.A. Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Our Christmas potluck dinner, held at the Veterans' Community Center on Sunday, Dec. 11, was successful and the children enjoyed their gifts. The blanket went to Pauline Sowle of Northville.

Commander Ryder slates a special meeting for all members on Sunday, Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. at the Veterans' Community Center. All Auxiliary members are urged to attend his meeting.

Our sympathy is again extended to Mildred Hower in the loss of her sister. On the sick list is Mrs. Anna Clark, the mother of Don Kinghorn, at St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

The annual Christmas party with all the trimmings will be tomorrow evening at 7 p.m. The committee has been hard at work planning the program and refreshments. There will also be a 50-cent gift exchange.

If you bring a child, please bring his gift marked to avoid disappointing anyone.

The children look forward to this time of year, so let's have a large attendance of members and friends.

There will be a committee calling on the shut-ins each month. To avoid missing anyone, notify the chaplain, Mildred Rienas, if you know of any member seriously ill or shut-in.

There will not be a New Year's party at the hall as has been the custom in the past few years.

As there are no more meetings until Jan. 5, the Grange Cleanings will not appear until Jan. 4.

A Merry Christmas and Happy and Healthful New Year to all.

League Discusses Foreign Policy

U. S. foreign policy will be under discussion at the League of Women Voters of Livonia unit meetings Dec. 13 and 15.

The Thursday evening session will be at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Arlie Fairman, 36708 Pinetree, Livonia. Mrs. Marvin Marentette, 16911 Merriman, was hostess for the Tuesday group at 12:45 p.m.

The problems of our foreign policy which will be covered are: 1) Why are we aiding newly developed countries? 2) What are we doing now for these countries? 3) What mistakes are we making? and 4) What improvements can we make?

Plymouth High School

By Lester Barison

The first Choral Concert of the year was presented by Plymouth High music groups last night, to stir up even more of the holiday spirit. A program of seasonal songs were featured by Grace Kuhns, Jody Edgar, David Bickle, and Faith Roycroft along with the Triple Trios. Also participating were The Girls' Chorus, Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, and Choir. Besides many familiar and moving spiritual pieces there were some humorous and lively items such as "Deck the Hut With Coconut," and "Santa's Cha Cha Cha." The entire group is to be commended on a fine presentation.

Well, all of the toil, planning and worries that went into the J-Hop culminated last Saturday night as scores of couples danced the hours away and put the junior class's major project of the year into history. But it won't be soon forgotten! The beautiful decorations and the music of the Johnny Mills Orchestra combined to give the event an outstanding atmosphere. The undersea theme of the decorations was carried out impressively.

All the way around the gym hung a curtain of narrow aluminum foil streamers that twisted and shimmered to lend an aquatic effect to the roof. The band itself serenaded the dancers from a huge oyster shell flanked by large seahorses, and on the opposite wall a striking mural portraying sea life further enhanced the underwater mood.

After the dance, many of the couples set out for more merrymaking at restaurants as well as private parties.

And, while we're in the party vein, it would be well to mention the gala "International Holiday" — a fun-filled New Year's Eve dance that is to be held in the gym by the International Relations class. Sounds like a terrific solution to the perennial problem of how to spend the gay yet nostalgic night. The price is only $1 a person, and there's to be live entertainment in the form of a good dance band and singing, possibly by some interesting foreign performers. What's more, there are to be decorations in the Continental flavor to heighten the festive mood.

The affair is open to everyone, adults as well as students. The purpose — to help finance a study trip by the class to the United Nations next February. By the way, the class recently received notification that it will represent Cuba at the Model United Nations Assembly at Hillsdale College next March. Certainly their experience at the real UN will benefit the class members in regard to their participation in this interesting student activity.

The school library is soon to be available for reference and study purposes in the evening hours as well as during the regular school day. Beginning after Christmas vacation on Jan. 3, the library will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. The Board of Education was prompted in establishing this program by the difficulty encountered by the many students on full schedules in getting to the library during the school day.

The program is only an experimental one at present, and is planned to run for ten weeks. However, if sufficient interest is shown during that time, it will be continued. Said Mr. Patrick Butler, librarian, "... I think the Board's action, coming at a time when so many libraries are cutting back for financial (skinflint) reasons, is one worthy of commendation."

The Chess Club brightened its record considerably as it won its second meet of the year, defeating Southfield by the wide margin of four games to one last Wednesday. The meet lasted from 7 to 9 p.m. and consisted of five individual games between Plymouthites John Wimsatt, Bob Fisher, Don Luvisch, Laura Lenhardt, and Mark Tillson and the players of the opposing club. At 9 p.m. all unfinished games were stopped and the victory awarded to the players with the most number of points in each. Total points are determined on the basis of the value of captured pieces.

ucts Division, West Newton, Pa.; P. J. Jellison, Fabricated Products Division, Plymouth. Standing: G. A. Bentley, Sheffco Manufacturing Corp., Fairview, N.J.; E. B. Buster, Cherry Rivet Division, Santa Ana, Calif.; A. P. Dawson, Parmenter & Bulloch Manufacturing Co., Gananouque, Ont.; J. S. Boots, Boots Aircraft Nut Division, Norwalk, Conn.

Easter Seal Chairman Named

T. F. Kuckelman, general chairman of the 1961 Easter Seal Campaign, has announced the appointment of Herald Hamill of Plymouth as member of the Central Easter Seal Campaign Planning Committee. In this post, Hamill will be called on for consultation as needed with chairmen of local campaign committees in the Northwest section of Western Wayne County, in addition to serving as local chairman of the drive in Plymouth.

"Hamill, serving for the second year as chairman of the Crippled Children's Committee of the Plymouth Rotary Club, which sponsors the once-a-year drive for funds was selected because of his deep concern for crippled children and his good organization of the local campaign," Kuckelman said.

"He has further demonstrated his concern by regularly arranging transportation for physically handicapped citizens in the area to the Easter Seal Center for classes and club meetings, many times himself serving as volunteer driver," Kuckelman continued. "In this way he has seen for himself how much a local center can mean to those whose social lives might otherwise be limited by their physical disabilities," he concluded.

The annual distribution of Easter Seals at Easter time and related special events provide the funds for the operation of the Center opened three years ago following a building campaign supported throughout Western Wayne County. In addition to providing a site for the Summer Day Camp for crippled children; for classes and clubs serving physically handicapped adults; for loan equipment such as wheelchairs and crutches, it is the Center for arranging for individual case services. These include the purchase of medical diagnosis, braces for special shoes for those for whom no other agency can provide; assistance with transportation to hospitals or clinics for medical care. The Center is widely used also as a meeting place for agencies and community groups planning broad programs for the well-being of crippled children and adults.

The Easter Seal Campaign runs this year from March 2 to April 2. In Northville the Rotary Club sponsors the services and tree drive. Fred Casterline is this year's chairman.

In Livonia where the Livonia Rotary Club is the sponsor, Harry S. Wolfe, the Club president, expects to announce the name of the Committee for that area shortly. In all areas, the sponsoring groups point out, that while they organize and stimulate interest in services to crippled children, the support of all citizens in Western Wayne County is essential if local services are to be maintained.

Oregon possesses more virgin timber than any other state.

A WHAT? LONDON (UPI) — A British firm has come up with an idea for a truck that flies. It's been named the "Flying Pig." Bristol Siddeley Engines have submitted their idea to the Ministry of Aviation to meet military needs for machines that can take off and land vertically. A cross between a truck and a helicopter, and powered by jet engines, it would skim down the road and be able to rise vertically to a height of 15,000 feet and cruise at 230 miles an hour.

FASCINATING FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

WHEN GAS DID ONE JOB

In 1821 Aaron Hart started work on the first Natural Gas pipeline project in the United States. He slowly extended a lead pipeline from America's first gas well to the nearby town of Fredonia, N.Y. — then from residence to residence inside the town. Four years later Fredonia was famous as "America's most lighted town." In 1825 Natural Gas had one big claim to fame... it illuminated a town!

NOW GAS DOES IT ALL

Today the Coachman's Inn in Arkansas has achieved the ultimate in luxury by an all-Gas-installation. Heating, cooling, cooking and water heating (including a swimming pool and underwater music) is all provided by Natural Gas. Gas lighting dramatically and economically illuminates the Inn — outdoors and in. Electric power is provided by Gas-powered generators — Gas does it ALL!

Santa Story Has Many Variations

The Saga of Santa

In his 1600 years on earth... Santa Claus has grown a long, white beard, moved from a small village in Asia Minor to a toy factory at the North Pole, and changed from flowing robes into a red and white furry suit. He's gotten shorter, rounder, and much, much merrier.

The original Santa Claus was born in Patras, Asia Minor, Young Nicholas - instead of being interested in games and play - devoted himself to the study of the Scriptures. Because of his remarkable boyhood, he was later accepted as the patron saint of children.

Being of very rich parents, Nicholas was able to share his wealth with others. He found particular joy in providing gifts for children, or the dowry necessary to start a needy young woman on the road to a happy marriage. His travels brought him to the large city of Myra where he was consecrated Archbishop.

St. Nicholas died on December 6, about 341... but not before he had saved a ship from a threatening storm with his prayer, found a way to feed all the people of Myra during a famine, and deposited three bags of gold upon the doorstep of a poor merchant.

Today, there is hardly a seacoast-city in any Catholic country that does not have a chapel dedicated to him. He is the patron saint of bankers, pawnbrokers, maidens, children, mariners, scholars... and even thieves!

Europe has always celebrated St. Nicholas Day on December 6 and this is the traditional day of gift giving. But in the New World, St. Nicholas gave up his own day and became a well-loved part of the Christmas celebration.

Dutch settlers brought Santa Nikalaus to New Amsterdam. At first he appeared to look like Father Knickerbocker.

American history researchers at the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company tell us that Thomas Nast, famous cartoonist, periodically dressed his Santas in suits of red, white and blue for patriotism's sake.

Washington Irving described the merry gift giver as a tubby little fellow with a jolly manner who sped through the air on a reindeer sleigh.

From this interpretation came the basis for Clement Clark Moore's beloved "A Visit From St. Nicholas." Doctor Moore, Professor at a New York Theological Seminary, composed the poem for his children who first heard it on Christmas Eve, 1822.

"He was dressed all in furs from his head to his foot and his clothes were all furnished with ashes and soot... he was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, and I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself."

This was how Doctor Moore saw Santa Claus, and thanks to his vivid characterization, this is how children all over America have pictured him ever since.

The laughing man with the big heart adds to the joy of Christmas for children everywhere... but what happens to the child who huddles on the stairway watching for Santa till his eyelids drop? Or the child who doesn't see footprints in the snow a Christmas morning? Or the child who has been told, there is no Santa Claus.

For him, Christmas becomes a sad time. A little girl named Virginia once wrote to a newspaper editor, asking him to help solve the puzzling problem of Santa's existence. Virginia received an answer that has become a classic in American journalism.

And for children who haven't found Virginia's answer, the Hancock company has prepared a special advertisement. Written for everyone - no matter what size his Christmas stocking - it tells the story of a Roman soldier, a German infantryman, a little second-grader. They all had one thing in common. They all helped to prove the existence of Santa Claus.

The Saga of Santa has acquired many satellites through the years. Some people believe that in addition to his gifts, the ancient Bishop carries a bundle of birch rods in order to punish the naughty children as well as reward the virtuous.

The youngsters of Holland are taught that Santa travels with a sinister demon who does Old Saint Nick's "dirty work." The French remember him as Pere Noel, the Germans as Saint Nicolaas who fills shoes with goodies, and the Norwegians as Kriss Kringle. To children, he is excitement, generosity, surprise and fun, all wrapped up in one jolly package. The Saga of Santa is one they never tire of hearing!

Tea sales to groceries and institutions in the United States totaled more than 108 million pounds in 1958, second largest in history.

There's Lots of Interesting History Behind Our Christmas Traditions

There is no mystery about the modern Christmas tree topped with its bright star... ablaze with lights... and heaped underneath with colored packages... but in olden times it was shrouded in myth.

For this holiday decoration we are indebted to the old custom of kissing under the trees of the forest from the mystic rites of the primitive British priests. In their faraway age, the trees into their homes to appear these "spirits" and show them they were welcome at the Winter Solstice ceremonies.

There is also no doubt about the meaning of the modern mistletoe, and what will happen to you if you're standing under it. But the custom of kissing under the mistletoe comes down to us from the mystic rites of the primitive British priests. In their faraway age, the mistletoe, which means "all heal," was believed to have magic qualities — the power to heal disease, neutralize poisons, protect its possessor from witchcraft, and bestow fertility on humans and animals. If a young couple sealed their betrothal with a kiss under the mistletoe, they would receive wonderful blessings and much good luck for the rest of their lives.

"Wassail" was how they greeted one another in Merry Old England when toasting with a cup of wine. It means "be whole" or "have health," the answer being "drink hail." The word came to mean any liquor in which health is toasted, especially the spiced drinks served as a feature of medieval Christmas celebrations. Nowadays, in order to emphasize the taste of the various flavoring elements, vodka is gaining in popularity as the alcoholic element of wassail bowls. A recipe devised and tested by the makers of vodka is: combine two quarts of orange juice, one cup of lemon juice, one quart of vodka. Add orange and lemon slices, 12 ozs. frozen strawberries, chill in refrigerator. Just before serving, add one quart of chilled sparkling water and two trays of ice cubes. Makes 32 drinks.

That Yule Log blazing on the hearth looks simple and provides a wealth of warmth, but the ancients were more concerned with its mystical associations than its practicality. The custom was first practiced by pagans in Scandinavia, where a huge log was set on fire in honor of Thor, to mark his festival at the time of the winter solstice. In many parts of Europe the dragging home of the Yule Log is still one of the big events of the year and a source of great excitement, especially to the children.

We moderns envision Santa Claus as a paunchy gent, but in olden times he was a complex symbol and many things to many people. Santa descends from the original Saint Nicholas, a kindly man who lived in Patara, Turkey, and died a martyr in 342 A.D., becoming the patron saint of children.

The cult of St. Nicholas spread across Europe. He became the patron saint of Greece, Holland and Belgium. Merchant sailors used his three golden purses as a device on their guild flags. The Russians passed the good saint to the Scandinavians, at which time he was still mounted on a white horse according to an old tradition of Turkey. But the Scandinavians knew nothing of horses, so they gave him a reindeer-drawn sleigh. They also drafted to him the legend of the Norse God, Thor, who used to ride through the sky in a chariot, and would appear in a red coat for the pagan feast of Yule.

In the New World, the Dutch called Saint Nicholas "Santa Claus" for short. Our modern conception of him comes from the famous poem, "The Night Before Christmas." Dr. Clement C. Moore, a Presbyterian divinity professor in New York State, wrote it to please his children, and modeled the hero after a little old wizened Dutch gentleman he bumped into one night in 1822 — a man with red cheeks and white hair, smoking an old clay pipe. Dr. Moore read the poem to his delighted children, then threw it in the wastebasket. A lady printed it a year later in the Troy, New York Sentinel. It was an immediate success and flourishes to this day.

We moderns tack up holly with ease at Christmas time, without much thought to its history. The sprightly carol "Deck The Hall with Boughs of Holly..." today a must in any choral group repertoire, was also sung by the people of Medieval England as they gathered to salute the Yule Log. And the opening lines of the carol are literally true. The use of holly as a Christmas decoration in those days was quite popular and has remained a symbol of joy and merriment through the ages. In days gone by, unmarried women fastened a sprig of holly to their beds at Christmas time to protect them from the "evil one" during the coming year.

Ease, convenience, and necessity have simplified our modern observances of the Christmas holiday, but the myths and traditions handed down to us by many generations are not forgotten in the process — for they are the priceless heritage that enriches our understanding of the season.

All About BABIES

By William F. Burdick, M.D., Georgetown University Medical School

There's encouraging news and helpful advice for all mothers of babies of diaper age in a new booklet introduced at the recent annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics. The booklet is entitled "A Mother's Guide to Diaper Hygiene."

The booklet was prepared by the Section on Medicine of the National Baby Care Council (the writer is chairman of this Section.) It is being distributed through pediatricians and physicians to the mothers of the nation's 8 million diaper wearing babies.

The theme of this valuable little booklet is that diaper rash can be prevented. It points out that there is no single cause for diaper rash but that there are five different causes that singly or in combination are responsible for the ailment.

1. Ammonia, the most common powerful skin irritant formed by the decomposition of urine in the diaper.
2. Live bacteria, present in a washed, dried and clean diaper that has not been sterilized.
3. Chafing of the skin due to a diaper left harsh after washing.
4. Alkaline condition of the diaper resulting from most conventional laundering.
5. Skin scalding due to the chemical action of traces of detergents or other washing materials which have not been completely rinsed out of the diaper.

"Good diaper hygiene to prevent diaper rash," states the booklet, "can be practiced simply and surely by diapering baby with correctly processed diapers, and following a fastidious diapering routine as long as baby wears diapers."

The booklet points out that while it is possible to correctly process diapers at home, professional diaper processing is done under strict laboratory control, using specialized washing and rinsing equipment.

The booklet details the proper procedure for the scientific processing of diapers in the home for those parents who do not use a professional diaper service. It also lists a series of hints for good diaper hygiene the mother can follow.

"It is a mistake," states the booklet, "to think that a diaper rash occurs only during the early months. Babies can get diaper rash as long as they wear diapers. Indeed, the most distressing and dangerous cases tend to be among older babies."

The booklet goes on to say there are several reasons for this. During the first few months, mothers are usually more fastidious and prompt in changing their baby's diapers. Any slight skin blemish is apt to be given prompt attention. Proper diaper hygiene becomes increasingly important as the baby gets older when the diet contains substantial amounts of food that helps the urine to produce increased amounts of ammonia — causing ammonia.

Local Elks Sponsor Annual Youth Leadership Contest

MICHIGAN SETS ANOTHER HIGHWAY RECORD

MICHIGAN WILL HAVE the longest continuous stretch of toll-free Interstate highway in the U.S. after Dec. 19 when the final link of Interstate 94 will be open to traffic. The freeway extends from Detroit to St. Joseph, a distance of 203 miles, and also is the nation's first border-to-border Interstate freeway. State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and other top national, state and local officials will participate in a ribbon-cutting ceremony to mark completion of the last section to be opened, an 18-mile stretch between Jackson and Ann Arbor. The new section also includes Michigan's 500th mile of freeway—five times as much as the state had only three years ago.

Opening of Ann Arbor to Jackson Freeway Monday Completes 500-Mile State Road

The dream of a superhighway across Michigan will become a reality next Monday (Dec. 19). On that day, State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie will cut a ribbon to open the final link of a freeway that extends 203 miles from downtown Detroit to Stevensville on Lake Michigan.

It will be the longest continuous stretch of toll-free Interstate highway in the U.S. and the nation's first border-to-border freeway. At the same time, the amount of freeway mileage in Michigan will pass the 500 mile mark. That's five times as much as the state had a little more than three years ago.

A 15-foot wide band of gold paint will be used to mark the site of the 500th mile between Ann Arbor and Jackson.

National, state and local officials have been invited to participate in the dedication ceremonies which will be held to formally open the final 18 miles of freeway west of Ann Arbor.

Mackie said Interstate 94 freeway, now that it is completed, will have a "tremendous impact on Michigan's future economic growth."

"Michigan is on the horizon of the greatest industrial and economic expansion in its history and this freeway will do much to help business, create jobs and attract new industry," Mackie said.

The campaign to build a superhighway between Detroit and Chicago began nearly 30 years ago. The idea was first promoted by the

New Store Now Offers Wide Variety of Interesting Food

With alterations to his building now complete, Duane Nimke, owner of The Party Pantry, 614 S. Main St., is now calling his store the most complete party store in Plymouth.

The new store has been open several months but Nimke has been at work making numerous alterations and decorating the store, inside and out. It is Plymouth's only full-fledged "party store."

All types of fancy foods are featured in the delicatessen, including cold cuts, cheeses and imported foods.

Just started last Sunday was the sale of Jewish baked goods. Nimke himself journeys to Detroit early Sunday mornings to purchase the baked goods. Last Sunday was the first trial of the new feature and he was sold out within a short time, he declared.

Many types of wines and beers, both domestic and imported, can be found and one of the natural foods to acquire.

company the beer is the home-made German pretzels. The store, open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week, delivers anywhere in Plymouth Township or City. It also has a catering service for parties.

DON'T EAT ON RUN BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) — "Eating on the run is not recommended," according to Susan Merrow, associate nutritionist at the University of Vermont.

She added, "However, a well-chosen snack is better than nothing and will help prevent excessive wear and tear on our bodies and provide them with something to keep us going."

BENNINGTON, Vt. (UPI) was fined $35 following his guilty plea to a charge of driving for 12 years without a license, he said. "It just goes to show you that troops are getting better all the time."

Lee's Nursery School Operated

Thomas C. and Darlene Hackney and their family have come to Plymouth to assume ownership of Lee's Nursery School, 303 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Formerly employed in social work as boys and girls group workers at Mary J. Treglia Community House in Sioux City, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Hackney have two sons, Mike, 5, and Thomas Jr., 3.

Prior to their new venture, Mr. Hackney was employed five years with the Boy Scouts of America.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hackney attended Morningside College of Sioux City. Their general interest in children has led them to nursery school work.

Children 2½ to 5 years of age may enroll in the school where a "purposeful" program is provided. "Educators" recognize the need for training along the lines of social adjustment during the pre-school age.

Half Million Pupils Ready To Tune in TV Instruction

More than half a million pupils in six Midwestern states are waiting to tune into the first lessons ever telecast from an airplane, according to a survey conducted by the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction.

Based at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., the experimental project starting early next year will beam instructional courses on video tape from an airplane flying high over Indiana to schools in that state and parts of Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Reports gathered from superintendents and principals of local school systems in the telecasting region show that 526,518 pupils in 16,939 TV-equipped classrooms, assisted by 16,221 classroom teachers, plan to preview the courses in early 1961.

"The totals far exceed our expectations," said Dr. John E. Ivey, Jr., president. "The number of pupils represents more than 10 percent of the five million students we estimate are within range of the airplane's signals. We had not anticipated that such a large proportion would participate during the demonstration period. This is a testing or try-out period designed to allow schools to test the signal and the educational content prior to participating in the first full academic year starting in September, 1961."

"There now arises a question of whether distributors of television equipment will be able to supply and install all of the needed antennas, distribution systems and TV receivers before the start of the demonstration period," Dr. Ivey pointed out.

He added that although major distributors of television equipment have been carefully advised of the program's progress and put in touch with interested school systems, "the survey will likely come as a surprise to them as well as to us."

The overwhelming majority of expected pupil participants uncovered by the survey — 454,597 or more than 86 percent of the total — are in elementary schools and during the demonstration period will view one or more of the eight courses offered at that level.

A total of 69,651 students expect to view the four courses offered at the secondary level, and 2,270 students the two courses offered at the college level.

The MPATI airplane will fly at 23,000 feet over the community of Montpelier, Ind. During the spring demonstration period, the airplane will transmit on two channels for three hours a day, four days a week.

An identically-equipped second aircraft will stand by on the ground, ready to take off if the first should experience weather or mechanical difficulties.

The project is supported by funds from foundations and

Thomas Adams Elected Cancer Foundation Head

Thomas Adams, personnel man at the Ford Motor Co., was elected president of the Plymouth branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation at a recent meeting held at the office on Penniman.

Other members elected to office were Mrs. Harry Bartel, vice-president, and Mrs. S. C. LeFever, who will continue as secretary-treasurer. Members elected to the Board were Dr. Robert Meek, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nesbitt, all from Plymouth, and Robert Coolman from Northville.

The president reported that awards for 100 hours of service were awarded to the following office volunteers and Board members: Mrs. Clifford Caldwell, Mrs. Robert Chisnell, Mrs. Howard Chisnell, Mrs. Harold Curtis, Mrs. M. J. Huber, Mrs. C. S. Jamieson, Mrs. M. J. McGraw, Mrs. Peter Tonkovich, Mrs. Patrick Dowling, Mrs. John Gillis, Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Mrs. O. Hammond, Mrs. Del Hahn, Mrs. S. C. LeFever, Miss Elizabeth McDonald, Mrs. E. J. Carless, Mrs. Harry Bartel and Mrs. H. J. Brisbois.

Thirty-three women from sewing groups in this area were also presented with 100 hour pins recently.

Gerald Fischer Named Controller Of New Division

A series of top-level appointments in Ford Motor Company's recently established Automotive Assembly Division has included the advancement of Gerald J. Fischer, 505 McKinley.

Fischer, assistant controller of Ford Division since 1955, has been appointed controller of the Automotive Assembly Division. The new division was formed following the election of Robert McNamara as Ford president.

Fischer joined Ford in 1950 as a financial analyst and was subsequently named manager of the investment analysis department in 1951. A native of Wilkes Barre, Pa., he received a bachelor of arts degree from Rutgers University.

Fischer is a member of the Plymouth Community School District Board of Education and is assistant organist at Church.

Capacity Audience Hears Symphony Civic Chorus in Christmas Program

A capacity audience attended the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra concert Sunday, the third of the season. Assisting in the presentation were the Plymouth Civic Chorus and soloists Jean Harter, violinist; Eleanor Burton, soprano; Shirley Love, contralto; Fred Kendall, tenor; and Nat Sibbold, bass.

Grant Beglarian's "Overture for Brass" (For a Festive Occasion) was the opening proclamation of important things in a thoughtfully arranged program. This impressive fanfare was written by Beglarian when he was a violinist with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and earning his doctorate degree in music at the University of Michigan.

The "Suite for Orchestra" of Ralph Vaughan Williams contributed three excerpts particularly appropriate for the Christmas season. The tranquil Prelude, reminiscent of Bach's beginning statement in the great "48," was followed by variations on a "Carol" melody. The "Christmas Dance," animated and joyous, concluded this group of some of Williams' most enjoyable program music. We'll wager it's not every Symphony orchestra has a personnel manager who is also an expert violinist. Jean Harter most competently played the extensive solo violin line that extended throughout this composition.

Handel's reverent masterpiece, "The Messiah," written in three weeks and that saved him from bankruptcy in 1742, has grown steadily from this small start to be acknowledged as perfection in the oratorio form and probably the most often performed music in community Christmas concerts today. This presentation very well deflated a popular concept that it's better with more people and more noise. An orchestra of about 50 and chorus of the same number provided Conductor Wayne Dunlap with a flexible instrument of excellent coordination that gave the listeners good opportunity to delineate Handel's lovely melodic flow through the interesting contrapuntal forms.

The horn and woodwind parts were accentuated because of the fewer instruments. So this performance was more in the order of the original one. The incisive oboe tone, piquancy of the harpsichord, and individual character of each instrument in a small orchestra allows transparency of the musical structure so that details are appreciated rather than overwhelmed in a work like this.

The well-trained Chorus contributed excellently in the group parts as well as greatly helping the orchestra to provide background for the solo artists. Vocal soloists interpreted the demanding Handel vocal line with ability that implied understanding and a pleasurable feeling of doing their part in the inspired composition.

A capacity audience attended (1,340). And we think they'll all return. — Stuart F. Campbell

Day Campers Have Christmas Party

The physically handicapped children who were enrolled in the summer Day Camp, operated by the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, and the teen-age volunteers who worked with them will have an exciting Christmas reunion at the Easter Seal Center on Saturday afternoon, December 17.

Senior Girl Scout Troop 416 from Dearborn will present a flag ceremony, lead Christmas carols and games, as well as providing the refreshments. Teen-agers from other areas in Western Wayne County, who helped at Day Camp, will assist.

A special treat will be the appearance of the Colliettes, a square dance group made up of children and collie dogs, which, in addition to appearances on TV and at dog shows, has given many hours of volunteer service to groups in hospitals and social agencies.

The first railway ferry to be operated from Norway to a foreign country has begun a regular run from Kristiansand to Hirtshals in Denmark. The ferry can accommodate seven railway cars, 50 automobiles and 700 passengers.

All over America, boys and girls are eagerly awaiting the coming of Christmas . . . looking forward to the toys for which they've asked in their letters to Santa. The hundreds of thousands of trucks and trailers that all year long bring Americans everything they eat, wear, or use are kept extra busy at Christmas-time. From factory to showcase to Santa's pack, the toys and other gifts that bring so many happy smiles on Christmas morning depend on trucks to get where they're going . . . Merry Christmas, everyone!

Belva Jane Barnes, the only woman to help the international planning committee draw up the UN building's master plans, was named Young Woman of the Year and awarded a 1950 Merit Award for single achievement in architecture by Mademoiselle magazine this week. Miss Barnes was a former Plymouthite.

Announcement was made last weekend by Herbert Swanson of the Swanson Super Service Station that he had sold his property on the corner of West Ann Arbor Trail and Forest St. The 83 foot square gas station corner was purchased by John Melezek of Dearborn who intends to erect a modern business block on the location housing either two or three stores. The transaction was handled by the Plymouth Real Estate Exchange.

Thirty of Plymouth's young businessmen heard Professor Paul Bagwell of Michigan State College give an inspirational talk Tuesday evening. The event was the kick-off to re-activate the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and was held at Hillside Inn. Bagwell is a past president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce.

December 21 has been set as the night for judging the Christmas decorations on Plymouth homes, service stations, and store fronts in the Chamber of Commerce annual contest. Anyone wishing to enter may do so by filling out the entry blank in the paper.

With the Christmas mailing rush getting a head start, Postmaster George Timpona believes this may be a record year for the holidays at the Plymouth post office.

At the last meeting of the city commission a resolution was passed extending thanks and appreciation to the Wayne County Road Commission and department heads for the fine improvements which have been made in and around Plymouth during the past few years.

The Plymouth Kiwanis Club and a number of guests at the Kiwanis meeting Tuesday night heard one of the finest and most outstanding lectures on Russia ever presented. The lecture was given by Dr. Edward Fisher, pastor of the Central Methodist Church of Detroit.

Notice—On account of the present high prices of food stuff and labor, all meals at the Plymouth House will after January 1 be 50 cents. We will, however, sell tickets good for ten meals for $3.50. Miss Grace Campbell is helping in Rigg's store during the holidays. Miss Ina Dunn is assisting in Mr. Fattal's store and Miss Myrtle Yorton in Draper's.

Drain Commissioner Frank Pallister will hold an auction sale of all the drain tickets from the old Harvey St. drain on next Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 21, at 2 o'clock. Tiles are 12 and 18 inches in size.

Misses Hazel Connor and Marjorie Travis return from Alma College today for the Christmas holidays.

The Governor and Mrs. Warner called in Plymouth this week Tuesday. "Them Henderson Kids" given at the opera house last Tuesday evening was attended by a large house. Charlie Gardner, of Northville, starred in the play and received a merited share of the applause. The play was for the benefit of the K.P.'s.

Plymouth Scholars Join U of M Honors College

Over ten percent of the University of Michigan's College of Literature, Science and the Arts (LSA) is enrolled in an honors program for gifted students.

The literary college's honors program was created at the freshman level in 1957. Students who entered there are now seniors, making the U-M one of the few institutions with a four-year honors program.

Plymouth residents enrolled in the honors college are: Jeffrey L. Huntington, 302 Sunset Ave.; Brenda L. Richardson, 9110 Morrison; Mary J. West, 9067 Ball; Charles J. Westover, 1405 West Maple; and Robert A. Westover, 145 West Maple.

Beginning with about 140 freshmen, the LSA program has reached a total of 788 students at all undergraduate levels.

Director Robert C. Angell (Ph.D.), says "the program was inaugurated to meet the critical needs of our time for the fullest development of our talented youth."

"In view of the increasing number of students, it is important to be sure that superior students get the special opportunities they deserve. The most important thing right now at the U-M is to do the best job it can for the best minds it gets."

With a permanent council representing all LSA departments, the program sets out to enrich through education in depth. Program includes regular courses, a few special introductory courses, departmental honors concentration programs for upperclassmen, and interdepartmental courses.

Students are selected for the program on the basis of high school grades, test scores and other information. They must maintain a 3.0 (B) grade point average to remain in the program. Other LSA students may enter the program upon demonstration of high scholastic ability.

Besides the curricular opportunities, there are non-credit evening seminars and occasional social gatherings with noted persons. The program also offers summer reading courses.

From the viewpoint of some students there is another value to the program besides curricular advantages. One student once remarked: "One of the best parts of the honors program is the honor of being in it."

Take a lot—give back a lot, is one way to explain relations between the student and the U-M in a program which improves new teaching methods and processes while encouraging individuals to make the most of their abilities.

Noting that students prefer learning concepts to mere facts, a panel of six honors members agreed that they benefit from special opportunities. They agreed that teachers should present material effectively and interestingly to encourage opinion and questions. They revealed that courses beyond their specialization field offer challenge and stimulation, and that there should be advanced or deeper study in high school, or both.

Back in the days of the 78 revolution-per-minute record and the old-fashioned phonograph, dirty records didn't mean as much as they do now.

But now, the supersensitive equipment used to play records can make a speck of dust sound almost like a gunshot.

And dust, ground through the grooves of a modern, long-play record by a stylus, can damage the record itself beyond repair.

Owners of modern record collections realize this and spend a fortune every year on brushes, clothes and chemicals to clean their records.

Most of these do no harm and some do a significant amount of good. The best probably is a brush that tracks the record ahead of the stylus and cleans out dust and bleeds off static electricity.

There is a chemical available for use on this brush but it works well dry, a method preferred by listeners who are wary of putting any sort of chemical on their records.

Detergents, mixed one part to 10 parts of water, help when records are extremely dirty. The mixture of detergent and water can be applied with a handkerchief.

Punch a finger into the handkerchief and dampen with the detergent-water mixture. Start the record turning on a turntable and press downward on head of the handkerchief with the handkerchief pressed against the grooves.

Let the turning record make the finger track all the grooves. The stylus will dredge up a ball of sludge in next time the record is played, but this can be removed with the tips of two fingers pressed together.

A good idea is never to let the dust get on the records in the first place. Never touch the grooves of records when handling them. Always keep them in their jackets until you are ready to play them.

When you play them, take them out of the jackets at the time of playing, and put them back into the jackets as soon as they are played.

Records left lying about uncovered seem to attract dust.

Dust, of course, is not the only thing that makes records sound bad or ruins them. A cheap, stiff cartridge or a bad stylus can ruin a record in one playing.

The stiff cartridge does not allow the stylus to follow the grooves in a record without pressure. So the stylus gouges out the groove and a record is ruined.

Any stylus except a diamond one can become bad—i.e., worn—pretty quickly. Considering the cost of records, the difference between the cost of a diamond stylus and the cost of a softer stylus is insignificant.

A soft stylus can become worn and start gouging the grooves of records before you know it. A diamond stylus, while long wearing, is not immune to wear and the use of a diamond stylus ought to have it examined in a high fidelity store every 1,000-5,000 hours.

Nearly all stores have a microscope set up to examine styli. The stylus owner is welcome to look and see where his stylus is worn, if a technician tells him that it is.

Volunteer workers in the never-ending fight against tuberculosis are waging a more or less silent battle in Wayne County communities outside of Detroit.

The small army of modern Crusaders is as interested in victory this year as was its historical counterpart.

The present day Crusaders also make use of the double bar cross — for 54 years the symbol of the Christmas Seal Campaign.

The volunteer workers have placed canisters, posters, sheets of Seals and literature telling how to use the Seals in business and civic centers as part of the continuing 1960 campaign.

The vanguard of workers, each under a community chairman, moved into the battle last month. This is when they placed the first canisters, the first posters in their communities.

Many have made return trips, to make certain that their canisters and posters are still the focal point they were intended to be.

The workers know that the long battle against tuberculosis must continue until the last tubercle bacillus has been destroyed.

They know that Christmas Seal dollars prevent TB and help to find new cases; protests that catch TB early; X-ray and tuberculin tests that catch TB early; provide services to patients and finance medical research locally and nationally.

The Tuberculosis and Health Society and the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium hope to realize a 1960 goal of $315,000 in Wayne County alone.

Those working to make the campaign a success are counting on their neighbors in Wayne County.

In this community, Judge James H. Sexton, 143 Penniman, is chairman.

If you did not get your Christmas Seals in the mail call the Tuberculosis and Health Society at Woodward 1-1697 and Seals will be sent to you.

Christmas Seal Week will be Dec. 18 through 24.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A unique X-ray machine has been developed that can make a bomb in a suitcase as visible as a gold fish in a bowl.

Airliner bombings have killed nearly 200 persons in the past 10 years, including foreign sabotage cases, and millions of dollars have been lost because of crank phone calls that terrorize airports, pilots and passengers.

The Westinghouse X-ray division in Baltimore has looked at the problem this way: A bomb must be smuggled aboard an airplane in a suitcase. How can you check this bag quickly and thoroughly?

Westinghouse engineer Walter Hampte has demonstrated an X-ray machine he thinks can do the job.

In a laboratory cubicle, Hampte switched on a screen the size of early television sets. On the other side of the screen, separated by inches of protective lead glass, a suitcase moved by remote control past an X-ray tube.

As the X-ray beam passed through the suitcase, everything in the ray's path could be seen clearly on the screen. At first, small springs and bits of metal that formed the bag's casings.

New objects came into view as Hampte used the controls to move the bag across the screen. An electric razor — its tiny motor, screws and wiring were crystallized by the fluoroscope rays.

Then — an oval outline of a battered alarm clock, with every movement down to the eav motion of the fly wheel plainly visible.

From the back of the clock, a frayed wire was connected to a battery. Another wire from the battery was hooked to a bundle that looked like several sticks of dynamite. A bomb was revealed.

If the Federal Aviation Agency and the nation's airlines think this is the answer to the bomb problem, Westinghouse will refine and improve it. Its only practical drawback is that X-rays will fog photographic film.

"We'll have a larger screen — about 30 by 14 inches," said Hampte. "And we'll have a conveyor belt system to move the luggage along quickly."

Hampte said an eagle-eyed inspector would be able to check a bag thoroughly in 6 seconds. An average load for a jetliner, 150 bags, could be processed in 15 minutes.

Each machine would cost about $30,000. It is estimated that one bomb hoax costs an airline $10,000.

Airport police cannot now open a suitcase without a warrant or the owner's permission. Even if they had such authority, the time and money spent rummaging through every passenger's bag would make a customs type inspection impossible.

With the X-ray, a trained inspector could pick out a suspicious object in a suitcase and pull it off the conveyor belt for further inspection.

"Passengers would be protected against bombers," Hampte said. "Bomb hoaxes would be a thing of the past. And our machine isn't theorey, we know it works."

Firm Develops X-Ray to Detect Bomb in Luggage

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A unique X-ray machine has been developed that can make a bomb in a suitcase as visible as a gold fish in a bowl.

Airliner bombings have killed nearly 200 persons in the past 10 years, including foreign sabotage cases, and millions of dollars have been lost because of crank phone calls that terrorize airports, pilots and passengers.

The Westinghouse X-ray division in Baltimore has looked at the problem this way: A bomb must be smuggled aboard an airplane in a suitcase. How can you check this bag quickly and thoroughly?

Westinghouse engineer Walter Hampte has demonstrated an X-ray machine he thinks can do the job.

In a laboratory cubicle, Hampte switched on a screen the size of early television sets. On the other side of the screen, separated by inches of protective lead glass, a suitcase moved by remote control past an X-ray tube.

As the X-ray beam passed through the suitcase, everything in the ray's path could be seen clearly on the screen. At first, small springs and bits of metal that formed the bag's casings.

New objects came into view as Hampte used the controls to move the bag across the screen. An electric razor — its tiny motor, screws and wiring were crystallized by the fluoroscope rays.

Then — an oval outline of a battered alarm clock, with every movement down to the eav motion of the fly wheel plainly visible.

From the back of the clock, a frayed wire was connected to a battery. Another wire from the battery was hooked to a bundle that looked like several sticks of dynamite. A bomb was revealed.

If the Federal Aviation Agency and the nation's airlines think this is the answer to the bomb problem, Westinghouse will refine and improve it. Its only practical drawback is that X-rays will fog photographic film.

"We'll have a larger screen — about 30 by 14 inches," said Hampte. "And we'll have a conveyor belt system to move the luggage along quickly."

Hampte said an eagle-eyed inspector would be able to check a bag thoroughly in 6 seconds. An average load for a jetliner, 150 bags, could be processed in 15 minutes.

Each machine would cost about $30,000. It is estimated that one bomb hoax costs an airline $10,000.

Airport police cannot now open a suitcase without a warrant or the owner's permission. Even if they had such authority, the time and money spent rummaging through every passenger's bag would make a customs type inspection impossible.

With the X-ray, a trained inspector could pick out a suspicious object in a suitcase and pull it off the conveyor belt for further inspection.

"Passengers would be protected against bombers," Hampte said. "Bomb hoaxes would be a thing of the past. And our machine isn't theorey, we know it works."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Breakfast-eating children are likely to do better in school than those who skip the early morning meal before going to school.
Home economists at Michigan State University say children who do not eat breakfast often are less interested in their studies and learn less easily than when they eat a good breakfast.

Plymouth Scholars Join U of M Honors College

Over ten percent of The University of Michigan's College of Literature, Science and the Arts (LSA) is enrolled in an honors program for gifted students.

The LSA's honors program was created at the freshman level in 1957. Students who enter the program are now seniors, making the U-M one of the few institutions with a four-year honors program.

Plymouth residents enrolled in the honors college are: Jeffrey L. Huntington, 302 Sunset Ave.; Brenda L. Richardson, 9110 Morrison; Mary J. West, 9067 Ball; Charles J. Westover, 1405 West Maple; and Robert A. Westover, 145 West Maple.

Beginning with about 140 freshmen, the LSA program has reached a total of 780 students at all undergraduate levels.

Director Robert C. Angell (Ph.D.), says "the program was inaugurated to meet the critical needs of our time for the fullest development of our talented youth."

In view of the increasing number of students, it is important to be sure that superior students get the special opportunities they deserve.

The most important thing right now at the U-M is to do the best job it can for the best minds it gets."

With a permanent council representing all LSA departments, the program sets out to enrich through education in depth. Program includes regular courses, a few special introductory courses, departmental honors concentration programs for upperclassmen, and interdepartmental courses for program students only.

Students are selected for the program on the basis of high school grades, test scores and other information. They must maintain a 3.0 grade point average to remain in the program. Other LSA students may enter the program upon demonstration of high scholastic ability.

Besides the curricular opportunities, there are non-credit evening seminars and occasional social gatherings with noted persons. The program also offers summer reading courses.

From the viewpoint of some students there is another value to the program besides curricular advantages. One student once remarked, "One of the best parts of the honors program is the honor of being in it."

Take a lot—give back a lot. This is one way to explain relations between the student and the U-M in a program which improves new teaching methods and processes while encouraging individuals to make the most of their abilities.

Noting that students prefer learning concepts to mere facts, a panel of six honors members agreed that they benefit from special opportunities. They agreed that teachers should present material effectively and interestingly to encourage opinion and questions. They revealed that courses beyond their specialization field offer challenge and stimulation, and that there should be advanced or deeper study in high school, or both.

Back in the days of the 78 revolution-per-minute record and the old-fashioned phonograph, dirty records didn't mean as much as they do now.

But now, the supersensitive equipment used to play records can make a speck of dust sound almost like a gunshot.

And dust, ground through the grooves of a modern long-play record by a stylus, can damage the record itself beyond repair.

Owners of modern record collections realize this and spend a fortune every year on brushes, clothes and chemicals to clean their records.

Most of these do no harm and some do a significant amount of good. The best probably is a brush that tracks the record ahead of the stylus and cleans out dust and bleeds off static electricity.

There is a chemical available for use on this brush but it works well dry, a method preferred by listeners who are wary of putting any sort of chemical on their records.

Detergents, mixed one part to 10 parts of water, help when records are extremely dirty. The mixture of detergent and water can be applied with a handkerchief.

Punch a finger into the handkerchief and dampen with the detergent-water mixture. Start the record turning on a turntable and press downward on it—no too hard—with the handkerchief pressed against the grooves.

Let the turning record make the finger track all the grooves. The stylus will dredge up a ball of sludge the next time the record is played, but this can be removed with the tips of two fingers pressed together.

A good idea is never to let the dust get on the records in the first place. Never touch the grooves of records when handling them. Always keep them in their jackets until you are ready to play them.

When you play them, take them out of the jackets at the time of playing, and put them back into the jackets as soon as they are played.

Records left lying about uncovered seem to attract dust.

Dust, of course, is not the only thing that makes records sound bad or ruins them. A cheap, stiff cartridge or a bad stylus can ruin a record in one playing.

The stiff cartridge does not allow the stylus to follow the grooves in a record without pressure. So the stylus gouges out the groove and a record is ruined.

Any stylus except a diamond one can become bad—i.e., worn—pretty quickly. Considering the cost of records, the difference between the cost of a diamond stylus and the cost of a softer stylus is insignificant.

A soft stylus can become worn and start gouging the grooves of records before you know it. A diamond stylus, while long wearing, is not immune to wear and the user of a diamond stylus ought to have it examined in a high fidelity store every 1,000-5,000 hours.

Nearly all stores have a microscope set up to examine styli. The stylus owner is welcome to look and see where his stylus is worn, if a technician tells him that it is.

Don't Forget to Mail In Your Christmas Seal Donation

Volunteer workers in the never-ending fight against tuberculosis are waging a more or less silent battle in Wayne County communities outside of Detroit.

The small army of modern Crusaders is as interested in victory this year as was its historical counterpart.

The present day Crusaders also make use of the double bar cross — for 54 years the symbol of the Christmas Seal Campaign.

The volunteer workers have placed canisters, posters, sheets of Seals and literature telling how to use the Seals in business and civic centers as part of the continuing 1960 campaign.

The vanguard of workers, each under a community chairman, moved into the battle last month. This is when they placed the first canisters, the first posters in their communities.

Many have made return trips, to make certain that their canisters and posters are still the focal point they were intended to be.

The workers know that the long battle against tuberculosis must continue until the last tubercle bacillus has been destroyed.

They know that Christmas Seal dollars prevent TB and help to find new cases; promote tests that catch TB early; X-ray and tuberculin tests that catch TB early; provide services to patients and finance medical research locally and nationally.

The Tuberculosis and Health Society of the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium hope to realize a 1960 goal of $315,000 in Wayne County alone.

Those working to make the campaign a success are counting on their neighbors in Wayne County.

In this community, Judge James H. Sexton, 143 Penniman, is chairman.

If you did not get your Christmas Seals in the mail, call the Tuberculosis and Health Society at Woodward 1-1697 and Seals will be sent to you.

Christmas Seal Week will Dec. 18 through 24.

Catholic Relief Group Aids World Refugees

At Thanksgiving time Catholic parishes of the country became spots in the annual drive for clothing for the needy overseas. This drive is termed the Bishops' Relief Fund Appeal, and is conducted in each Catholic parish.

Our Lady of Good Counsel parish, through the generosity of its church members, gathered 1 1/4 tons of good usable clothing to be shipped to the needy overseas.

Members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society who aided in the shipping of the clothing were Charles Bossick, James Woods, Vincent Herter, and Clifford Caldwell.

In 1959, Catholic Relief Services, N.C.W.C., the overseas agency of the American bishops, functioned in 59 countries among 40,000,000 people. It shipped abroad one billion pounds of clothing, medicines, and U.S. government surplus food valued at $115,000,000.

Last fall's clothing collection enabled Catholic Relief Services to ship abroad 18,000,000 pounds of clothing, bedding, and shoes valued at $18,000,000.

The appeal for funds this year is directed especially for refugees, as this is World Refugee Year.

There may be no jolly Santa Claus in a red suit, but many of his helpers will be in evidence when The Friendly Circle meets on Wednesday, Dec. 14, at the Easter Seal Center for the annual Christmas Party. Luncheon will be prepared and served on that occasion by the Wayne Rotary Anns.

The Center itself will glow with decorations created and put into place by members of the Wayne Garden Club. Under the huge Christmas tree, decorated by the Wayne Feilions, gaily wrapped packages, marked individually for each physically handicapped man or woman in the Friendly Circle Club, have been selected by members of the Plymouth Soporotomist Club.

The singing of Christmas carols and friendly chatter around the fireplace will round out the occasion.

By GEORGE SPELVIN

With a jingle-jangle of those joyful bells that signify the Yule season old George reluctantly acknowledges that Christmas 1960 comes closer every day. Frequent trips to the stores downtown and the nearby shopping centers would put the 'Wise Men' of yesterday to shame. I'll bet that our workfolk travel hundreds of miles more in their travels to the cash register mecca to obtain those all-important gifts than those camel riding Wise Men did. Let's forget the crass, commercial side for a little while and relax with pleasant memories. The bills arrive all too soon. If you'd like to take a moment out from all your shopping, duck into the Penn Theater this week and enjoy "The Magnificent Seven." Every now and then, a horse opera comes along that rates your attention. "The Magnificent Seven" is worth saddling up. "Old Paint" for that don't ride down to Margaret Wilson's cushion-filled corral.

At the Wayne State University Theater on Woodward Ave. near the Fox Theater is featured a delightful French comedy entitled "The Madwoman of Chail lot." For the holiday season the Wayne State University players offer this comic drama of eternal hope. You have three days yet this week to see this classic.

Call TE 3-1400, ext. 265, for tickets are available for the Thursday, Friday, or Saturday night performances. Here's a play that will provide thoughtful laughter — a whole evening of it. If you've never experienced such pedantic "carryings-on," visit the Wayne State Theater at 3424 Woodward Ave.

Still another local play that will be opening this week is an initial theatrical effort by the Madonna College dramatic group. Lee O'Connell, director and speech instructor at Madonna, wrote me an informative and delightful letter about their dramatic group. In his

The Vanguard Theater has opened a new show, "See How They Run." For an evening of unrestrained laughter you can't beat this farce about a Russian spy hiding in an English vicarage. Most of our friends from the cast of "The Boy Friend" are cutting capers on the stage during the month-run of this production. Call WO 3-3883 for tickets, which are quite reasonable ($1.50 to $3.00). Students are 90 cents at all times. Take the whole family to this show for a rousing good time.

Let's not forget TV. Many of the specials on CBS and NBC lately have been excellent. Circle Theater on Channel 2 with "The Memory of a Murder" was a top-drawer job of crime detection. The "Open End" discussion on Channel 4 with five of our most lovable comedians gave us more respect for their "ad lib" abilities. On Wednesday, Dec. 7 Rev. Walsh of the United Presbyterian Church appeared "live" on a two-hour special panel discussion telecast over Channel 56. Topic for the discussion dealt with morality, religion, and censorship and their relationship in the areas of today's literature.

Dr. Walsh was aided and abetted by three other astute panel members.

If you missed this program because you can't receive the educational TV channel 56, maybe it's time you dropped another hint in Santa's ear. You owe it to yourself to be able to afford the luxury of Channel 56. No commercials. I'm telling you it's a wonderful way to purge yourself of these sickening washday hard-sell messages that are getting mighty pesky. I'm thinking of not washing for a month in protest.

Looking over the top of the Christmas tree and peering into the future, a pleasing pair of happy shows will open at the Cass and Schubert Theaters. "Once Upon a Mattress" arrives on Dec. 26 with Dodie Goodman, late of the Jack Paar TV madness, and Buster Keaton. Later (Dec. 29) "How To Make A Man" will light up the Cass brighter than several Christmas trees. Saw Rev. Johnson of the Methodist Church attempting to take a Scotch Pine tree home from a local lot in his speedy Corvair. With tree in trunk up front his white Corvair appeared to have sprouted a full-blown mustache. He got hope all right. Told me it was a little hard on his windshield wipers, but he made it quite easily and quickly — claims he made all the green lights in town!

Tips for Selecting A Christmas Tree

BY ROSELLA M. BANNISTER

Wayne County Extension Agent, Home Economics

The Christmas tree was introduced to America, from Germany, by a German professor at Harvard University in 1832. Soon the family tradition of selecting, decorating and enjoying the Christmas tree spread throughout the nation.

President Theodore Roosevelt almost stopped the custom of decorating the Christmas tree in 1901 in an attempt to conserve our forests. Teddy's sons, however, smuggled a tree into the White House, and a forester convinced the President that cutting young evergreens can aid in forest conservation.

Ed Kidd, M.S.U. extension agent, gives the following tips for wise selection of your Christmas tree:

1. Select your living, green Christmas tree early, store it outside until shortly before Christmas, then set it in a water-holding stand indoors.
2. Look for a tree with deep color, good shape and full branches. Look for a straight stump on "handle." Beware of crooked trunks and trees with low branches which will not fit into your tree stand.
3. Scotch pine is a popular tree in 1960. Needles will not fall, and branches should not fall during the Christmas season.

Do not insist on freshly cut Scotch pines; beware of those cut too late. Trees harvested in October and early November have best color. Good needle retention is characteristic of all pines.

4. Balsam fir is becoming scarce. Balsams have excellent fragrance and hold their needles well. They are inclined to be sparse and spindly, so look for a dense Balsam.

5. Spruce is the tree that drops needles very readily. The tree is well shaped, has good color and is dense. Spruce is not desirably fragrant.

6. The Douglas fir is probably the most beautiful tree of all, and the most expensive.

Centerpiece Christmas Tree

To make a "corsage" Christmas tree centerpiece for your party table, you'll need a base, chicken wire, evergreens and ornaments. Shape the chicken wire into a cone, and insert sprigs of evergreen. If you fill the inside of the cone with moistened sphagnum or wood moss, the evergreen springs will hold their needles better, and the branches will be anchored.

Decorate the tree with ornaments and a few fresh flowers which your guests can pluck from the tree and wear.

Cranberries A Seasonal Sauce For Pork Chops

Pork chops really need no gilding, but sauces are always a welcome variation for dressing chops in attire for company or adding interest to family menus. A sauce using a plentiful food gives the entree a seasonal air as well as adding to its economy.

Such a topping is cranberry sauce, for cranberries are at the height of their season. The tart berries are always a delicious accompaniment for meat, but pork chops become a special taste treat when cooked right with them. The slow braising creates a mouth-watering combination of flavors.

Reba Staggs, meat expert and home economist, recommends braising pork chops for about 45 minutes or until tender. The cranberries and brown sugar are cooked with the chops. When the meat is done it is placed on a platter and the sauce is thickened with cornstarch. The orange slices are added and the tart, tasty sauce is spooned over the chops. It's an attractive, appetizing combination!

Pork-Cranberry Treat

6 loin or rib pork chops, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup raw cranberries
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 teaspoons cornstarch
½ cup water
1 large orange, peeled and cut into slices ¼ inch thick
Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt and pepper. Add cranberries and brown sugar. Cover tightly and simmer 45 minutes. Remove chops to a hot platter. Combine cornstarch and water and add to cooking liquid in pan. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add orange slices and heat through. Serve over chops. 6 servings.

Finding Jurors Who Can Make Decisions on Reason

OGDEN, Utah (UPI) — "A jury trial is a game of chance," said the earnest young judge in dismay. "The way it's going now, the jury system is going to collapse," continued Judge John F. Wahlquist of Utah's Second District Court. So the judge is giving his prospective jurors tests to weed out those ill-fitted for the sobering responsibility of determining guilt or innocence according to the facts. The Ogden judge's concern is being shared by many of his colleagues in the legal profession, especially in light of recent University of Chicago studies of what goes on in jury rooms behind closed doors. The facts and the law apparently run far behind emotion as factors in jury decisions. So what to do? For one thing, weed out of juries those persons who are unable to make decisions on the basis of reason. The judge has borrowed a series of test questions used for that purpose in Los Angeles Superior Court and adapted them for Utah veniremen. The quality of jurors has been a long-term worry for Judge Wahlquist. As a president of courts martial in the Navy during the Korean War, he had his first rude shock. The boards are composed of officers — "But very seldom do they appreciate the issues," he said. Civilian jurors are no different. And in one heavily Mormon county in Wahlquist's district, God enters the jury room, as He does to a lesser extent with some jurors everywhere, he said. "Some have the religious feeling that all things matterfully important are controlled by the Almighty," the judge continued. "They trust God to prompt them into the just decision. "The trouble is that it's similar to trial by ordeal where God was supposed to aid the just knight. We've tried that and it doesn't work. "Decisions in court rooms should be empirical decisions. The Law of Deity does not work." Try some of the judge's questions if you think you could be a juror in his court? Pick out the word with the same or nearly the same meaning of the following words: FRAUD — remark; deceit; wife; flood. INVOLVE — wrong; turn around; ruin; implicate. CREDIBLE — unbelievable; eatable; estimated; believable. ALLEGE — assert; town; reduce; reflect. IMPUTE — prefer; impure; ascribe; prove. MALICE — sadness; force; ill will; unpleasant. ACCEDE — agree; rise up; donate; excel. The test also has some sample instructions, like this one: "A defendant in a criminal action is presumed to be innocent until the contrary is proved and in case of a reasonable doubt whether his guilt is satisfactorily shown he is entitled to an acquittal, but the effect of this presumption is only to place upon the state the burden of proving him guilty beyond a reasonable doubt." With those instructions, are the following statements true or false? —The defendant in a criminal action is presumed to be guilty until the contrary is proved. —The burden of proving the defendant guilty rests upon the state. —Miss more than one or two of those questions and chances are that you would not be allowed to decide a case in Judge Wahlquist's court, nor in Los Angeles either. The correct answers, in order, are: deceit, implicate, believable, assert, ascribe, ill will, agree, false and true. What are the odds for survival of this game of chance called the jury system? Judge Wahlquist sees it this way: "The jury system is basically honest. I'm willing to gamble on juries — they're honest and free of political favoritism. "Besides, I just can't think of any other way to do it."

Heading For Florida? New Route Is Mapped

A newly-recommended route from Michigan to Florida, utilizing the maximum mileage of four-lane highways, has been logged by Automobile Club of Michigan. Auto Club Touring Manager Jerry E. Fisher has traveled the route that uses the Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes to reach Florida. Fisher found this route excellent

A NEWLY-RECOMMENDED eastern approach to Florida has been logged by Automobile Club of Michigan. Using the Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes, the route incorporates 549 miles of super highway. The fast-growing Interstate Highway network makes other approaches to Florida easier and quicker to drive as well. Auto Club predicts 350,000 Michigan vacationers will travel to Florida in 1961.

throughout its 1,206 miles from Southeastern Michigan to Jacksonville, Fla. Traveling along toll roads and straight, fast conventional highways in the eastern United States, it incorporates 549 miles of four-lane roadway. Total behind-the-wheel time, Detroit to Jacksonville is 23 hours, 41 minutes. Once the Pennsylvania Turnpike is left at the Breeze Intergate, motorists head southward via Winchester and Roanoke, Va.; Orangeburg, S. C. Several worthwhile side trips are possible; one to Washington, D.C. and another to Shenandoah National Park, and Jekyll Island off the coast at Brunswick, Ga.

Fisher reports that accommodations are excellent along the route. However, he issued several words of caution. "In the dead or winter, it may be advisable to veer south as soon as possible by another route. There is the danger of the turnpikes being snowed or iced in several times during the winter. However, this route is safe virtually all year round." Fisher also warned of "letting the law" enforcement in Virginia. "When speed signs say 55 or 60 miles an hour, that's exactly what they mean. Even if there is little traffic and conditions are generally good, drivers should adhere to the speed limit. The Virginia State Police enforce the speed laws strictly." Fisher says the new route offers an extra bonus to antique collectors. "There are more good antique shops in the Shenandoah Valley area than just about any other place I've seen." Fisher suggests this route as a possible alternate to other popular routes either on the trip to or from Florida. Scattered stretches of interstate super roads will be available along two popular roads to Florida. An Interstate road between US-50 in Southern Indiana and Louisville, Ky., will speed traffic along the most popular Florida route. This is the western non-mountainous drive that passes through Nashville, Tenn.

Another Interstate highway links Dayton and the northern outskirts of Cincinnati, and other heavily traveled route that continues through Knoxville, Tenn., and Atlanta, Ga. This route travels through mountainous terrain that travelers generally wish to avoid in the midst of winter, Fisher says.

Fisher adds that vigorous enforcement areas in Georgia generally have been eliminated through the cooperation of the Georgia state government and the American Automobile Association. He cautioned that several small cities along US-31W in southern Kentucky are enforcing speed laws strictly. An estimated 350,000 Michigan residents will journey to Florida in 1961, about 75 percent by car, Fisher said.

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. # Peace Doves in Lansing

By FRANK G. MORRIS

LANSING — Led by Senator Frank D. Beadle, of St. Clair, Republican State Senators have wrapped a Christmas present for Governor-elect John Swainson which embraces everything nice in the way of good will and friendship.

The Senators agreed to give their Democratic colleagues more power on the committees which control the bills that are to be killed or passed into law.

They agreed that the Democratic floor leader shall have a voice in naming these committees.

They told Swainson that he could pick the department heads, appointed by Gov. Williams, who will be confirmed by the Senate after January 11.

And Beadle set new harmony between the Senate and the Governor's office when he praised Swainson as a one-time Senator and Lieutenant-Governor with whom Republicans have worked fairly well in the past, considering the sharp division of political philosophies.

Senator Beadle, who has been re-elected as chairman of the GOP caucus, had trouble persuading all Republican leaders to join in the Christmas message of trust and goodwill.

Many questioned Beadle's confidence that there will be political peace during the 1961 session. Having been scarred by the toughest election battles of their careers, in which the UAW sent men and money into their districts to defeat them, the skepticism of some is understandable.

But they went along with their chief in a spirit of hope.

So it will be up to the new Governor after January 1 to preserve the peace or break the faith.

While the Republican Senators were making their gallant gestures toward Swainson during the one-day special session, there were ominous developments within the Governor's office. August Scholle, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO Council, arrived with the man he picked to serve as Swainson's press secretary and at the same time presented the Governor-elect with another key aide.

The office was taken over by Swainson following the election, when Williams left for South America, and remains his headquarters.

Although Scholle was a back-of-the-scenes adviser of Gov. Williams, principally on appointments and on labor policy, he was an infrequent visitor during the last 12 years.

But on the day of the special session, Scholle was there smiling happily and welcoming friends as if he were the new owner.

Scholle elected Swainson. When many Democratic leaders were backing Secretary of State Hare for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and the UAW was hesitating, Scholle jumped into Swainson's camp. Without the potent help of the astute president of the AFL-CIO Council, Swainson could not have won.

Scholle's first public act was to pick Thaddeus Ogar to be press secretary for the new Governor. Ogar has been editor of the weekly labor paper owned by Scholle's AFL-CIO Council.

On the day of the peace overtures by the GOP Senators, Scholle produced Mrs. Edith Zwerdling, of Detroit, to be Swainson's special assistant.

This is a new post. The duties involved have not been revealed. But Mrs. Zwerdling certainly will be an overseer who will be reporting to Scholle from inside the Governor's office.

And who is Mrs. Zwerdling?

She is the wife of A. L. Zwerdling, attorney for the CIO, who was Scholle's lawyer in his unsuccessful lawsuit last year in an attempt to unseat the Republican Senators.

Senator Beadle's peace conference with Swainson may prove to be another Munich. These wily labor politicians play for keeps, and will go to any end to achieve their goals.

Democratic control of the Senate is one of these aims.

Whatever happens, Senator Beadle can be proud that he took the first sincere steps toward peace, determined to give Michigan better government.

Under 21

By DAN HALLIGAN

Dear Dan: I run around with kids a few years older than I am and so do a few of my close friends. These kids are bright and can think of some pretty neat things to do.

My parents don't think I should hang around with them but they're a lot of fun. What do you think I should do? — Wondering at 13.

Dear Wondering: What do I think you should do? Mind your parents. If you're 13, your older friends are probably 16 and 17 and to be perfectly frank about it, teenagers of your age have very little in common with older teen-agers. It's a wonder they haven't already told you to "get lost." Stick in your own age group. You'll have just as much fun and you'll know you're obeying your parents.

Dear Dan: I've been invited to a formal dance at our high school next month and would like to know if I should buy my own corsage or will my date bring me one? My parents say he'll buy me one. Is that true? — Anxious.

Dear Anxious: The boy should buy you a corsage and I'm sure he will. You, by the way, should buy your date a boutonniere, a flower for his lapel. A carnation will do fine.

Dear Dan: My father is being transferred in his job to an out-of-state city next month and we've got a problem. He's already rented a house for us and wants my mother, my sister and myself to join him as soon as possible. I'm a high school senior and will only have five months of school remaining and I want to stay here and graduate with my class.

I guess the big reason my parents don't want me to stay with a friend is because I might get into trouble or might not study or something like that. There isn't any reason for them to worry but try to tell them that. My buddy's parents said I could stay with them and I'm sure we would make out fine. What do you think I should be able to do? — Walt.

Dear Walt: I'm afraid I'll have to answer your question as a parent and as a parent, I say your place is with your mother and father. I realize what it means for you to graduate with your high school class but remember, as soon as you graduate your life will be different and changed and you won't be the "little boy" your folks still consider you. Chances are you may be going away to college or into military service and your parents can't be blamed for wanting to hang onto you as long as they can.

Your solution, of course, is to stay but I favor your staying with your family and not with a friend's family.

Dear Dan: Our home room teacher is having a birthday soon and several of us have been talking about giving her a present. Would this be a good taste? — Shirley.

Dear Shirley: It certainly would be and the present would make the biggest hit possible if each student "hipped in something. A anything from a dime to a quarter per student will buy a nice present from the entire class.

Dear Dan: I have a small apartment with a kitchenette in a boarding house and would like to invite my boy friend in some evening for coffee. I can use the living room whenever I wish but usually there are three or four other boarders sitting around and you can't have any privacy. May I invite my boy friend in for a few minutes? — Loretta.

Dear Loretta: As long as it's okay with your landlady, it's okay with me. However, I suggest you keep your door open and don't let your boy friend stay any longer than is reasonably necessary. Okay?

If Your Name Is Lucille

By ANN REYNOLDS

"Lucille," sometimes also spelled "Lucile," is the endearing form for girls of the Latin name "Lucius," formed from the Latin word for "light," which is "lux." It has been a name mainly used in France, until, in the last century, it became popular among English speaking women. This was due to the astounding success of a novel written in verse. Its title was the name of its heroine Lucile, and it was the work of Owen Meredith, with his real name Edward Robert Bulwer, first Earl of Lytton, English statesman and poet.

"Lucile" is a love story, set in the fashionable world of the idle rich. But it embarks upon the problem that began to demand attention at that time, the question of women's place in society. Can a beautiful and clever girl be satisfied with the sheltered life in her home? "Lucile," published in 1860, was an early example of women's revolt against the narrow minded conventionalism of the Victorian Age.

Although today forgotten, "Lucile," a long narrative poem, was not only widely read, but many of its sentiments found their way into the young ladies' albums that were the fashion then.

In our country, "Lucile" became a much liked story for the widely acclaimed actress Lucille Western. She was a native of New Orleans, daughter of a comedian, and a success since her childhood. When she was grown up, her specialty became parts displaying strong emotions. One of her greatest triumphs came about when she played the role of Nancy in a dramatization of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist." To this part Lucille seems to have given too much of her strength. She continued on a tour despite ill health, and insisted on appearing in a matinee performance on the stage of the Brooklyn Park Theater. The following night she died of pneumonia.

(Want to know about some other name? Write to Ann, in care of this paper. For a personal reply enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, always printing your request.)

How's Business?

Labor 'Climate' Changing

By ROGER W. BABSON

In the years following World War II, labor had a clear advantage over management. Favored by a definite shortage of workers and a long business boom, labor unions reaped a bountiful harvest of wage raises and fringe benefits. The rapid growth in profits also made management a virtual push-over at the bargaining tables.

Moreover, the sellers' market prevailing during most of the period made it easy to pass on increases in labor costs to consumers. Even so, labor leaders and workers alike were quick to resort to the strike weapon, thus creating turbulent conditions on the labor front.

The prolonged steel strike in 1959 and the ill-fated strike against General Electric in 1960, however, are signs that labor's hey day may be coming to an end. The balance of power no longer rests in the hands of union leaders. Rather, it appears that a fairer balance of power between management and labor should prevail in the future.

Legislation for the protection of workers, however, surely guarantees against a return to "sweat-shop" conditions. Moreover, management is now thoroughly aware of its basic responsibility to labor.

The change in conditions means that union leaders should now be more realistic in seeking wage boosts and fringes and should strive for working conditions which are mutually beneficial to labor and management.

An important development which seems to be taking place is the greater reluctance of workers to go out on strike. This is due partly to the equal threat to job security posed by the imminent rapid expansion of the work force and by the rise of automation.

Hence, with many labor contracts encompassing from two to three years, more tranquil conditions should be evident on the labor front. Overall, the economy should enjoy the benefits of less disruption to business from strikes and greater efficiency on the job.

Handwriting Is Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams: I have written to you before, about two months ago and I have searched every week since then to find my handwriting answer. I've always been ashamed of my writing, what can you make of it.

Thank you, E. A.

Dear E. A. F.: I'm sure you missed your letter, however, here we go again.

You have a definite aim and purpose in life and enough determination to see it through. Your emotions are varied, up, down, calm—then concern—pretty normal for this day and age. Sometimes you're sensitive, and get irritated easily.

There is penetration of thought, future mindedness, and a desire to stand out and be recognized.

You have enthusiasm and show creativeness. There is emphatic decision. Once your mind is made up you stick to it — yes or no.

Dear Miss Williams: Recently you analyzed my daughter's handwriting and did such a wonderful job of it. I thought I would write to you and see what you could do with mine.

Thanking you in advance, Sincerely yours, Torchy

Dear Torchy: You have such a love of variety that you are mostly in a state of confusion — too many irons in the fire. You have much pride and dignity. You don't like your conduct or pride criticized. You're emotional, close

SEASON'S GREETINGS and loads of prosperity during the coming year!

INTERNATIONAL TRUCKS

Jerry Seibert Says . . .

Most men don't think of Christmas shopping until Rudolph, the u-know-which reindeer, is practically scampering across the roof. A smart girl will face this fact of life and realize that now is the perfect moment to "hint" for a gift she really wants. Greedy? Not at all. Stands to reason the man in your life will be happy if his gift pleases you. (And our real feelings do slip through the most carefully applied make-believe.)

Christmas hinting is strictly a do-it-yourself project. Even your best friend may have very different tastes and unconsciously learn toward something perfect for her—ugh—for you.

Here are how-to-hint hints, and goodies last-minute hinters might hint for, with Merry Christmas results.

Today, "jewelry," more often than not, means costume jewelry and it sparkles high on every woman's "wish list." Rightly so. The gems in fine costume jewelry may be synthetic, but the beauty and fashion are timeless and authentic.

If jewelry is your most longed-for gift, don't trust that luck will bring you the perfect piece. Find it yourself. Next, drag "the" man to the counter on some pretext ("Maybe they have a silver thingamabob for dear old Aunt Minnie"). Now, practically swoon over the bit of treasure you crave. Don't underact! You'll be competing with crowds, confusion, and possible worry about the parking meter. If it's impossible to get him near the counter take the salesgirl into your confidence. Better—and safer—both.

If you adore elegant, high-wattage glitter, "Eisenberg Ice" is for you. This rhinestone jewelry, with built-in super-sparkle, is the specialty of Eisenberg, Inc., an old, proud name in the costume jewelry field.

They import diamond-like stones from Austria and gem-set them in non-tarnishable rhodium. All designs are copyrighted (protection against endless, inferior copies). They are smart, timeless and worthy of being collector's pieces. Any piece of this scintillating "Ice" can transform a "simple little black" into something smashingly different.

The gifted and imaginative designers of "Cadoro Jewels" combine a rare sense of drama with a sense of humor—an unbeatable combination. Their collection of "Family Jewels" will have an irresistible appeal for those who favor the traditional. There are less than a dozen pieces in this group, each one a modern interpretation of a famous antique jewel. Others will be added from time to time. The basic theory: antique jewels never go out of style. Cadoro's exquisitely crafted copies are as likely to become heirlooms.

Beside their nostalgic "Family Jewels" Cadoro makes amusing and exciting modern pieces, using new and unusual materials. Their new "gold" chains will not darken nor circle your neck with a green-black ring.

Men tend to think of perfume as a perfect Christmas gift. So do women. But to receive a quart of "Eau-de-Awful" can be a Christmas disaster. Help him with a hint.

One way is to buy a purse size atomizer of your favorite scent and use it as a "conversation piece." Make sure the conversation concerns how you'd love a bi-gilt bottle, or perhaps an ensemble of cologne, dusting powder, and even hand and body lotions.

If he's an "intellectual" talk perfume in the abstract. "Does he think the nose has an infallible memory?" "Does he know the Bank of England accepts attar of roses in lieu of gold from Bulgaria?"

Putting an empty bottle in plain sight and making wistful remarks isn't exactly subtle. On the other hand, you can't be too subtle with some men or you'll wind up with a black lace bikini instead of a gift that will leave you feeling Christmas sparkly as long as it lasts.

Good luck and happy hinting!

Michigan Deer Harvest Falls Sharply this Year

Michigan's deer kill totaled 73-88,000 whitetails during the November 15-30 firearm season this fall, according to a preliminary Conservation Department estimate.

The estimate, based on traffic counts, observations at roadside checking stations and other field surveys, is far below last year's harvest of 115,000 deer and represents the first drop in kill since 1954.

Disappointing as the kill was, however, it could not be taken for each of the seasons from 1954 through 1957. Whether it will or not, depends upon last-minute findings which are still needed to set the final estimate.

This year's buck kill for the upper, and northern, lower peninsulas is estimated at 45-55,000, down about 25 percent from 1959 and the 10-year average. The antlerless take in this part of the state ranged between 25,000 and 30,000, a decline of about 40 percent from last season.

Hunters in the southern half of the lower peninsula reportedly approached their 1959 buck harvest of 3,350. A special December 1-6 "any deer" season in Allegan County will have little bearing on the state's antlerless kill.

Department field men reported the kill was down from last year in many areas above the Straits which have had no antlerless seasons since 1921, in northern lower peninsula areas where there has been no "any deer" hunting for the last five years, and in many sectors of the "club country" open only to buck hunting.

A survey of 26 clubs in Gaylord and Mio districts showed that 478 hunters took 150 clubs this fall. Last season, 504 hunters killed 347 bucks on these same club lands.

Game men attribute part of this year's drop in kill to the weather, particularly on opening day when about 33 percent of the season's buck take is normally recorded.

Field checks indicate that fog and drenching rains on the opener cut down the hunters' time in the woods by about 50 percent. Lack of snow allowed deer to stay put and squelched any hopes of tracking that hunters may have had.

Although weather was a big factor, it wasn't the whole story. Field studies show that deer were down.

Department estimates of the deer population this year were thrown off beam by heavier-than-normal winter and spring fawn losses. Embryo counts forecast average fawn crops this spring. However, an above-normal number of fawns were lost from does which were emaciated by winter and its food shortages.

Checks at biological checking stations also have driven home the fact that the severe winter of 1958-59 hit the fawn crop that following spring harder than the Department game men had anticipated. Pointing this out was a marked drop in 18-month-old bucks which generally make up a large percentage of each fall's harvest. The biggest drop occurred in sectors of the herd's range where overbrowsing and food shortages have been most acute and prolonged.

FOR ANY SPECIAL OCCASION

NOTHING, but nothing, can compare with lobster newburg for your most exacting needs in entertaining—any time of the year and for any special occasion. Here's a happy blending of lobster, fresh from icy waters, and the most sophisticated of sauces . . . rich, creamy, laced with sherry. And easy to prepare? Certainly, thanks to today's frozen cooked foods processors. Try this one, pictured here: Serve the lobster newburg right from the chafing dish, over melba toast, with a sprinkle of salted almonds on top.

Entertaining for lunch? Your guests will enjoy this lobster soufflé with sherry lobster sauce: Defrost two packages of frozen cooked lobster newburg to room temperature and measure out two cups, leaving a half cup for the sauce. Beat five egg yolks and add to the two cups of lobster, along with one and one-half cups of flaked bread crumbs with crusts removed. Beat the five egg whites with 1/2 tsp. salt until stiff and fold into lobster mixture. Pour into a well-buttered, two-quart casserole and bake in a 325 degree oven for 45 mins. to one hour, or until an inserted silver knife comes out clean.

For your lobster sherry sauce, mix the half cup of lobster newburg with one-fourth cup of cream, heat and serve a spoonful over each portion of soufflé. Serve with sliced green beans and almonds and a boiled tomato.

State Farm Offering New Plan

Michigan motorists who have a hard time getting auto insurance — including many forced to apply for minimum coverage through the "assigned risk" plan — may qualify for full coverage protection under a new plan being offered here by the State Farm insurance group.

Single male drivers over 25, men and women drivers over 65, and drivers of a 11 ages with minor driving infractions on their records are targets of State Farm's new "standard risk" program.

John Tripp and Tom Hirzel, local agents for State Farm, said the plan "will enable us to provide a far greater portion of the state's drivers with adequate protection on a voluntary basis." The insurance may cost more than the amount most drivers pay, but there is a provision for lowering the cost through accident-free driving.

In addition to making full coverage available to these groups, State Farm will offer comprehensive and collision insurance to many motorists now in the assigned risk plan. Only limited amounts of bodily injury and property damage liability insurance are now available to assigned risks. Those who have records of traffic convictions and accidents pay surcharges for their insurance.

They said the State Farm plan "does not include the irresponsible few who should not be licensed to drive." The local State Farm Insurance office is at 838 Pennington.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Any one who thinks they've gone about as far as they can go with kitchen appliances and devices for push-button living is in for some surprises in the week's new products: an electric carving knife, a door hinge that does a way forever with bothersome doorstops, and a home movie projector that just about guarantees a flawless showing.

The new Bell and Howell (Chicago) Dual-Letric 8mm movie projector will thread film, turn off room lamp, turn on projection lamp, wind film on take-up reel — all with the projectionist sitting comfortably in an armchair as much as 10 feet away, operating a remote control knob to start, stop or reverse film. Projector also features variable speed and picture brightness, automatic loop restoration to prevent film flicker, fast rewind without changing position of film reels, retractable power and remote control cords; built in film splicer.

1961 Poster Child for March of Dimes Is Victim of Two Grave Birth Defects

PREVENT CRIPPLING DISEASES
PLEASE SAY YES TO THE NEW MARCH OF DIMES

This likeness of Linda Breese appears on millions of posters and coin collectors

Linda Gail Breese, a pictorial and high-spirited young lady of four, who lives in Columbus, Ohio, was named this week as the 1961 New March of Dimes National Poster Child.

Selection of the vivacious child, a victim of the grave birth defects of an open spine and excess fluid on the brain, was announced by Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation, parent body of the New March of Dimes. Study and patient aid in birth defects and arthritis together with continued work in polio, embody the expanded program of the health organization.

In January, during which the New March of Dimes will be held throughout the nation, Linda will probably feel she is facing mirrors everywhere she travels. That's because millions of posters will bear her likeness which, in drawings and photographs, will also be published in thousands of newspapers and magazines. The blonde and blue-eyed child will also appear on network television.

Linda's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean E. Breese. Her father is an industrial engineer. Her mother, Dorothy Lohr Breese, in addition to Linda has another daughter, Susan, 14, and two sons, Ronnie, 12, and Terry, six. Tragically, since there is handicapped Linda among the Breese children, Ronnie is a victim of cerebral palsy but his general physical condition is described as good.

Mrs. Breese has been a Mothers' Marcher for the annual March of Dimes.

"My husband and I are deeply grateful that at last something constructive is being done about birth defects," she says. "We pray that The National Foundation which, through public contributions to the March of Dimes, financed the development of the Salk polio vaccine, will in time also solve the puzzle of birth defects, which are the largest unmet childhood medical problem in our country today."

Emphasizing the enormity of the problem, Mrs. Breese cited statistics showing that 250,000 infants in the United States are born annually with significant birth defects. Also, because of these congenital malformations, 34,000 babies a year in the nation are stillborn or die in the first four weeks of life.

Linda underwent surgery to close her spine when she was less than a day old. The operation was performed at Children's Hospital, Columbus, where The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds established the nation's first Birth Defects Study Center a few months ago. Nine months later, she again had surgery for excess fluid on the brain, and the little girl today wears a "shunt" tube to drain off this liquid. Linda also uses crutches but has been able to discard her leg braces.

Recently, while helping her mother wash dishes, she took three steps without her crutches—a memorable and hopeful event.

Who's Who In Plymouth Community Schools

William "Bill" Grimmer entered his chosen profession of teaching 14 years ago. For the past five years he has been helping children to use their singing voices to their best advantage as the head of the vocal music department at the Junior High School.

In addition to his experience locally, Grimmer has taught music and social studies in Carlton, Minn.; band, orchestra and vocal music at Delta, Colo.; and vocal music to high school and junior college students at Clinton, Iowa.

There are few Plymouth residents who have not been treated to his talented "tickling of the ivories." Grimmer has always been generous in donating his time and ability to PTA programs, church affairs and other local events. He is the director of Our Lady of Good Counsel Choir. He gives private piano lessons and in between all of these activities is the coach of the seventh grade baseball team.

Grimmer and his wife, Gudrun, live at 801 Arthur St. with their three children. Christine is a third-grader, and James is in the second grade, while Karen is just starting her scholastic career in the kindergarten. All are enrolled in Starkweather School.

When asked about the unusual name of his wife, Gudrun, Grimmer explained that Gudrun was the name of a Queen of Norway 70 years ago and that today the name is quite common in that country. Incidentally, Mrs. Grimmer had a very interesting job during World War II. She worked as a junior draftsman on the Corvetta, a sub-chaser.

The elder Mr. Grimmer is a retired cabinet maker. His wife, Nellie, is still very active as a homemaker. Bill's brother, James, is a supervisor of all the steam lines in one of the mines on the iron range in northern Minnesota. Grimmer belongs to the Plymouth Education Assn., the Michigan Education Assn., the National Music Education Conference, the Michigan Vocal Directors Assn., and the National Vocal Directors Assn. He has served on the executive board and the Professional Problems Committee of the PEA.

Universities attended include the University of Minnesota in Duluth and the University of Colorado in Boulder. Grimmer received his bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees from the former in 1947. The master music education degree was received from the latter in 1952. In addition to those degrees Grimmer has 30 hours credit toward his doctor's degree.

William Grimmer

His wonderfully rhythmical and seemingly effortless piano playing is the result of years of study and practice. As an undergraduate at the Duluth State College, which is now incorporated into the University of Minnesota, he won a scholarship given by Mrs. Miriam Blair, a well-known concert pianist.

This scholarship was in the form of piano lessons and were the only lessons Mrs. Blair gave. The scholarship was renewable each year if the recipient lived up to the qualifications expected. Grimmer received his for four years.

Mr. Grimmer has many hobbies which include coin collecting, outdoor cooking, gardening, bowling, golf, fishing and piano playing. High up on this impressive list is piano playing, which enabled him to work his way through college as a member of a dance band.

During the war he was in charge of an Army dance band the last year of his military service in the Infantry. Grimmer said that this band was used as a security platoon while in combat and as a dance band during rest periods. It was while he was with this unit that Grimmer was wounded for the second time just outside of Aachen, Germany. For this wound and another one, he received the Purple Heart with clasp group in the fall. Our hats are off to one busy, useful citizen.

Reminiscing still further about his Army experiences from 1942-45, he said that he had served in Africa, England and Europe. He saw action in Sicily, France, Belgium, Africa and Germany. Not only did he win the Purple Heart, but the ETO Medal with eight battle stars, the Good Conduct Medal and the Victory Medal.

At present Grimmer is on leave from the Lions Club. He is looking forward to a little more leisure time to become active again with that

World's easiest way to say "Quality"!

In any company—in any land—there is one word that is instantly recognized and understood. The word is "Cadillac"—and the meaning, of course, is "quality".

And it is understandable, we think, that Cadillac should have become a part of the universal vocabulary.

For its devotion to excellence has been of such a degree—and of such a tenure—that the car has become the world-wide symbol of everything good and desirable in a manufactured product.

This truth has never been more beautifully expressed than it is in the current Cadillac.

Inspiring to look at . . . thrilling to drive . . . rewarding to own—it is truly the master achievement of motordom's master builders.

And Cadillac has imposed on its construction the most rigid standards and restrictions ever placed over the assembly of a motor car.

More than fourteen hundred separate inspections now guard the quality and goodness of every Cadillac—and the results of this crusade for perfection can be seen . . . and felt . . . and sensed.

Here is superb craftsmanship in every body line . . . skillful tailoring and magnificent workmanship in every interior . . . and wonderful solidity and quietness in every mile of ride.

Don't you owe yourself a personal appraisal of this 1961 "car of cars"?

Your Cadillac dealer will provide the car and the keys for a demonstration at any time.

We know you'll agree that it says "quality" with an eloquence all its own.

Predict Yule Card Blitz Of 3 Million

NEW YORK (UPI) Part of the Christmas jingle will be from the bells of cash registers in greeting card departments.

The Greeting Card Association estimated that in the 1960 Yule season we will send a total of three billion Yuletide cards, or an average of nearly 17 cards per person.

The Association estimated that the amount spent will be around $300 million, not including postage. Most of us, the Association added, spend more on individual cards than we did 50 years ago.

"The price range has changed little," said Steve Shannon, the director. "Back in 1901, you could buy cards costing anywhere from two for a nickel to a dollar each. You can still get the two for a nickel one, but fewer people buy them." The public reaches for the costlier cards.

Shannon said there are at least 50,000 designs available in the 1960 cards. Many are reproductions of works from well-known artists, a trend which the American Artists Group helped start, but one now throughout the industry.

Even when the most modern of artists interpret Christmas, the result usually is traditional. The religious cards in the Artists' Group for instance, mostly take their theme from the Nativity, according to the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. Luke.

"The same tradition holds in the non-religious cards," said Shannon. "The caboose with the Christmas wreath on the back will sell to some persons. But the card with the old-fashioned sleigh on the snowy road will go a lot faster."

Shannon said there is an increasing use of cards devoted to messages of peace, indicating increasing public recognition of the holy meaning of the Yuletide.

The world's first known Christmas card was designed in 1843 by a talented London artist, John Calcott Horsley, who was painter and illustrator to Sir Henry Cole, the inaugurator and first director of the Victoria and Albert Museum in London.

In 1846, one thousand copies of the card were lithographed, hand colored and sold by a London art shop which Cole had set up to improve the taste of his contemporaries.

Winter Here At 3:27 p.m. Next Wednesday

No matter what the weathermen say, winter is not here — yet.

"Winter will officially strike at 3:27 p.m., Wednesday, December 21," the shortest day of the year, says Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy. "At that time the sun will reach its turning point or winter solstice, the most southerly position in its yearly journey around the earth."

On Dec. 21 the sun will: 1) rise and set about 30 degrees south of the east and west points of the horizon; and 2) reach its lowest altitude at noon of the whole year, swinging its shortest daily arc across our southern sky.

Result: "We in the northern hemisphere will have our shortest day, about nine hours, and longest night, around 15 hours," Professor Losh points out.

It's a different story with the other half of the globe, and for the seekers after summer days the place to go is the southern hemisphere, she explains. "There summer will be starting at the same instant as our winter."

"Contrary to common beliefs the seasons do not depend primarily upon the variation of the earth's distance from the sun, but rather on the 23 1/2 degrees tilt of the earth's axis," the U-M astronomer says.

During our winter the earth's north pole is tipped 23 1/2 degrees away from the sun, and the sun shining at a more oblique angle gives us colder weather. But at the same time, "we in the north benefit by the fact that at this time of the year the earth is about three million miles closer to the sun than during our summer. (This winter we shall be closest to the sun on Jan. 2, 1961.) This tends to make our winters a little milder and the summers slightly cooler," she explains.

Does the coldest weather come with the shortest day? Not so, says Professor Losh. The cold weather reaches its peak usually from four to six weeks later due to the "lag of the seasons."

"For a period after Dec. 21 the northern hemisphere will lose more heat at night than can be replaced by the sun during the shorter-than-average days, and the temperature will continue to drop," she concludes.

James Houk Named To College 'Who's Who'

Among the 33 Michigan Tech seniors selected for listing in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities" is James C. Houk, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Houk Sr., 346 Irvin St. This was announced by Harold Mee, dean of students at Michigan Tech.

Those honored by inclusion in the 1960-61 edition of "Who's Who" were selected on the basis of scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future benefit to society.

Chosen out of a senior class of some 500 students, Houk is holding numerous student offices on campus. He is vice president of Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity, an alternate senior class representative to the student council, treasurer of Blue Key service fraternity and a member of the Michigan Tech Film Society Committee. He has received scholastic honors in the annual Honors Convocations at the College and made the Dean's List for being in the top two per cent of his class during his freshman and sophomore years. Houk was also initiated into three national honorary scholastic fraternities.

The electrical engineering major is a 1957 graduate of Plymouth High School.

Rich Almond Fruit Cake

"Golden Almond Fruit Cake" slices beautifully when first made, yet is an excellent "keeper." The buttery pound cake is chock-full of elegant almonds and fruits. For gift mailing, bake it in 3 1-pound coffee tins, and send them in their containers.

Thoroughly cream 1 cup (½ pound) butter or margarine; gradually beat in 1 cup sugar, creaming until light and fluffy. Add 5 eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Sift with fruits. Sift 2 cups of the flour with 1 teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt; blend into creamed mixture. Add ¼ teaspoon almond extract and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Toss together 1½ cups sliced blanched almonds, 1 cup golden raisins, 1½ cups (8 ounces) whole candied cherries and 1 cup (6 ounces) candied pineapple, cut in strips, with the ½ cup reserved flour; mix into cake pans with heavy brown paper; grease paper. If fluted pan is used, grease well and flour, but do not line with paper. Pour in batter. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 2 hours or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool on wire rack. Wrap in brandy-soaked cloth and store in covered tin. Makes about 3½ pounds fruit cake.

Fruit cake recipes are coming from treasured files these days in preparation for holiday baking. Here, a white fruit cake . . . reminiscent of pound cake and enhanced with Brazil nuts and preserved fruits . . . is both festive and delicious.

Have the Brazil nuts shelled ahead of baking time to speed up the cake assembly job. For speedy shelling, put in-shell Brazil nuts in the freezer section of the refrigerator or in a food freezer for a couple of hours or overnight. When the nuts are frozen, they can be easily cracked.

White Brazil Nut Fruit Cake

|---|-------------------------------------|
| 1 cup shortening                          | 1 teaspoon baking powder            |
| 1 cup sugar                               | ¼ teaspoon salt                     |
| 5 eggs                                    | 2 cups coarsely chopped Brazil nuts |
| 1½ teaspoons grated lemon rind            | 1½ cups mixed candied fruit         |
| 1 tablespoon lemon juice                  | 1½ cups candied cherries            |
| 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, divided | 1 cup white raisins                 |

Cream shortening; gradually add sugar, creaming thoroughly. Beat in eggs one at a time; beat until smooth. Stir in lemon rind and juice. Sift together 2 cups of the flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually stir into creamed mixture. Toss Brazil nuts and fruit in remaining ½ cup flour; fold into batter. Turn into 2 greased and wax paper-lined 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pans or one 10-inch tube pan. Bake in slow oven (300°F.) 1½ hours. Yield: 2 loaf cakes.

How To Give Wisely And Well

You can buy fabulous gifts for everyone on your Christmas list — without spending a penny more than you normally would. Follow a few basic guideposts, and you'll be well on the way to acquiring the gift of giving maximum pleasure with your presents.

Give a gift — not a chore. Unless you know you'll be adding to a cherished collection of china figurines or antique shaving mugs, always prefer the practical present to the merely dust-catcher. Ask yourself just how the particular item can make the recipient's office, household or entertaining chores easier. Durability and ease of cleaning should be prime considerations when buying housewares and clothing; fabrics that require little or no ironing give the recipient a gift of more leisure time.

Buy the best you can afford. You can capitalize on the showmanship involved in giving "the best of its kind" without "raising your budget." For example, American bourbon may cost less than many imported whiskeys, but connoisseurs recognize it as among the best liquors in the world — and a Market Planning Corp. survey revealed that the popular image of the bourbon-buyer is "a man who knows liquor."

Similarly, such "small but choice" gifts as a really fine handkerchief, a box of first-quality stationery, or the inexpensive purse-size edition of a high-priced perfume will convince the recipient that you are a connoisseur — and give more pleasure than a larger item of obviously less than first quality.

Make sure it's pleasing to the eye. In housewares, jewelry or clothing, clean simple lines which avoid stylistic extremes will win the "good taste" to the person who unwraps your package. The package itself is an important part of this effect. Many gifts — liquor and toiletries are just two — come pre-packaged in handsome holiday attire. If your gift does not fall into this category, be sure that the package is wrapped with flair; pay a salesgirl to do the job if you lack this "gift." The small extra cost is more than offset by the glamour added to your gift.

Add the personal touch. Whenever possible, peg your gift to a particular interest or talent of the recipient. This can be easily done even if he or she is not a hobbyist. Water tickets for the enthusiast; playrover... a box of a man's favorite cigars... a bottle of bourbon or a box of fine cheeses for the gourmet or the party-giver — the list is endless. Even a gift selected for a casual acquaintance can be made personal with the enclosure of a friendly letter.

Give your gift "sex appeal." Particularly when buying gifts for members of the opposite sex, a man should give his mother a "sk or present his teenage baby sitter with a pound of candy. But chances are that the best any woman on his list would get more pleasure from gifts that flatter their femininity. Perfume, a pretty pin, a filmy chiffon scarf are examples of ultra-feminine gifts that don't post the puzzling question: "What size does she take?" Women should treat the men on their Christmas list with similar deference. If you want to get him something for his den or desk, visualize it in its rugged masculine surroundings, and don't buy anything "cute" or miniature. Pens, paperweights, ashtrays, bookends should be man-sized and ruggedly styled. A bachelor doing his own housekeeping may well need household accessories — but be sure that tableware is bare of curlicues.

Of course you'll buy what you like. You can't help it — no matter how many articles you read telling you to forget your own tastes and consider those of the person for whom you're shopping. Just avoid making your gift-giving an exercise in fulfillment.
