On City Ballot

Electors Decide Supervisor Race

A four-way race for the job of supervisor will be the feature attraction for City voters in next Monday's Biennial Spring Primary election.

The only other thing on the ballot will be a decision for Democrats to pick one of six candidates for county auditor. Republicans have but one man seeking the auditor nomination.

The primary, which is the device for narrowing down the list of candidates for the Biennial General election on April 3, is not expected to attract a very heavy turnout. So far this week, there were no requests for absentee ballots, a sure sign that no one is going out of their way to vote.

But the election is an important one for the four citizens seeking the two nominations for supervisor. Plymouth remains as the only political subdivision in Wayne County that directly elects a supervisor. Townships elect a supervisor who is also the chief administrative officer but the mayors and village presidents in other communities are automatically named to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Seeking the nominations are: Mrs. Catherine J. Henderson, 725 Auburn; Fred J. Thomas, 345 Blunk; Vaughan Smith, 265 Irving; and A. E. Vallier, 1338 Penniman (see biographies elsewhere in this issue).

Although two people will be nominated for placement on the April ballot, electors can vote for only one candidate. The two candidates receiving the highest votes, according to City Clerk Joseph Near, will be the winning nominees.

The supervisor is elected on a non-partisan basis. The retiring supervisor, George Witkowski, is not seeking the job again. It is the supervisor's job to represent the City on the County Board of Supervisors. Twice, City Commissioners have asked voters to place the job on an appointive basis but the charter change was rejected both times. The Commission feels that the supervisor should be someone within the City government itself in order to have closer liaison between the City and County.

There is no primary this time for City Commission jobs. There are eight candidates, two for each vacancy. Only when there are more than two candidates for each vacancy, is it necessary for a primary run-off.

Arrest Made In Marijuana Sale

A 31-year-old Detroit will appear for examination on Feb. 27 on a charge of selling narcotics in Plymouth. He was known to have contacts with local teen-agers.

Arrested yesterday by Municipal Judge Nardino Perlongo was Douglas Brownell, who was apprehended by Plymouth and State Police Friday night. Brownell himself was reported to be a marijuana user.

The case opened Jan. 28 when local police learned that Brownell, a doorman at the Round Table Club for the past five months, had offered sale of marijuana cigarettes to passing young men or boys.

With the help of State Police detectives, Plymouth police put a stake-out on the Detroit and noted that during their vigilance that he talked to "quite a few" young men. Kenneth Fisher, director of public safety, said that none of the people who stopped were recognized by police.

Finally, last Friday night, there was an obvious sale made by Brownell and police made the arrest. Under questioning, he admitted nothing about selling, but had seven cigarettes on his person. The cigarettes are as thick as a kitchen match and as long as a normal cigarette. Each was wrapped in foil.

Turned over to the State Police, the cigarettes were sent to their laboratory a Lansing and were found to be marijuana.

Nine Year Old Rushed To Hospital

Late Saturday afternoon, nine-year-old Evelyn Combs fell from a bicycle she was riding at her Joy Road home and severely cut her head while in the care of a babysitter who was watching the youngster while her parents were shopping.

State Police responding to the emergency call quickly rushed Evelyn to Ann Arbor's University Hospital where she received treatment.

Despite her "near-miss" her spirits soared after the mishap and she said she would like to ride in the police car again because it was so much fun.

Evelyn returned to school Monday.

THE FIRST SECTION of water main for Plymouth Township's $1,100,000 water expansion program was laid Monday morning and on hand to take part in the occasion were Township officials. The first water main was laid on Schoolcraft Rd. near Fire Station No. 2. It will hook into the Detroit water main at Eckles Rd. and then into the present Township system in Lake Pointe Village. By summer's end, most of the Township's eastern side will have Detroit water available. Supervisor Roy Lindsay calls it "the biggest thing to hit this end of the County." Shown in the picture with D'Agostini Co. supervisors are Supervisor Lindsay, Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes, Clerk Fred Miller and Trustee Louis Norman.

On Township Ballot

Civil Service Faces Voters

A non-partisan proposition asking for a civil service system in Plymouth Township and several contests within the Republican and Democratic columns of the ballot will be facing Township voters as they go to the polls next Monday.

If past history is any indication, however, only a handful of voters will make the trip to the polls. In the last Biennial Primary two years ago, there were 1,311 voters turning out, mainly because the Plymouth Heights proposition was on the ballot. Two years before that, only 212 voted.

Republican voters will have two contests among their candidates while Democrats will find that the only decision-making they must make is for a county auditor nomination.

As in all primaries, voters can vote only one party ballot. They cannot mix up the Democratic and Republican choices. Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

While Republicans will again be fully represented on the Township section of the ballot, Democrats almost failed to make an appearance.

The name of Hoyt G. Hessler, candidate for clerk, is the only Democratic candidate. Hessler, who lives at 3285 Haggerty, is in the sales department of Beglinger Oldsmobile - Cadillac. He is 36 years old and graduated from Plymouth High.

Orville Tungate, chairman of the Plymouth Democratic Club, declared this week that Township Democrats are preparing to go to the polls to write in an almost complete slate of candidates in order to give Republicans a race at the April 3 Biennial General election.

The two Republican races are for the offices of trustee and constable.

Louis Norman, who has held a trustee post for the past six years, will be faced by Harvey L. Ziel, 11139 Southworth, a certified public accountant. (Biographies are found in this issue.)

Further down the ballot there are five Republican positions seeking the four constable nominations. Three of them, Robert H. Burns, Thomas Dorset and Donald King, are incumbents, while Glen E. Leader and Richard C. Powell are new faces.

Elsewhere on the ballot

the Republican incumbents have no opposition. This includes Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, who has held office since 1953; Clerk Fred L. Miller, who is completing his first term; the treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, also on the job since 1953; a board of review member, Loyd Sharland, who was appointed to fill a vacancy last year; Justice of the Peace Martin Schomberger; and Highway Commissioner Frank B. Milington.

There are also other jobs on the ballot which electors must help decide. At the top of the machine, Democrats will vote for one of six men vying for the county auditor job. They are Charles F. Edgcomb, Chester E. Jaworski, Dan Radnovich, Fred S. Robinson, John Skomski and Myzell Sowell.

Republicans have but one candidate seeking the county auditor post — Vincent J. Murray.

At the bottom of the partisan voting column is the place to vote for the party precinct committeemen. But there were no candidates seeking any of these jobs in the Township. This means that electors can write in names of candidates. In order to win, however, they must receive a number of votes equal to 15 per cent of the total votes cast for the most successful nominee on the local ballot.

There will be one Democrat and one Republican nominated for each of the Township's three precincts. Should no one receive enough written votes, the political party conventions will select its delegates.

The jobs of trustee, justice of the peace and board of review are four-year terms. The others are for two years.

Some Questions, Answers About Civil Service

Q. What is the proposition on the Township ballot Monday?

A. It calls for placing Township firemen and policemen (if there are any at a future date) under civil service and for establishing a Civil Service Commission.

Q. Who would be on the Civil Service Commission?

A. It would have three members. One is appointed by the officers of the Township, another by the paid fireman and/or policemen; and the third would be appointed jointly by the first two. They serve without pay.

Q. What is the commission's job?

A. To provide for examination and investigation of candidates for the fire and police departments, make regulations regarding the transfer, reinstatement, suspension and discharging of policemen and firemen. They then make their recommendations to the Township Board for final action.

Q. What are the advantages of this system?

A. The chief advantage is to take the jobs of firemen and policemen out of the realm of politics. At present, the Township Board has full control of firemen's Board control, for political reasons, fire any or all of the firemen if they desired.

Q. Who is promoting civil service?

A. Township firemen themselves are asking for the system, as set up under state law. They look upon it as "job security." With some of the firemen now having many years of service, they point out that they must merely "top for the best" every time there is an election.

Q. What present firemen would be affected?

A. Any full-time fireman with more than six months of service. This includes all six of the present full-time force, including Chief Howard Holmes. Several months ago firemen appeared before the Township Board with petitions signed by citizens asking for civil service. The Board voted to place the question on the February ballot.

Plymouth's Bid For Industry Recognized

Plymouth has been cited by the Detroit Edison Co. as one of the Southeastern Michigan communities moving ahead in a determined and continuing drive to bring more jobs and industry into the area.

Successes can be scored for Cass City, Caro, Bad Axe, Lapeer, Vassar and Rockwood, the report indicated.

"And Plymouth, Walled Lake and Dundee are on the plus side."

There are also organized industrial developments going on in Port Huron, Monroe, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor.

Detroit Edison, because it must estimate years in advance the need for more electric power, keeps a close tab on industrial, business and housing developments. It also helps provide a service to many communities to help them attract new industry.

"Every community has a choice as to its growth pattern," George B. Catline, director of area development for Detroit Edison said. "Every town has something to sell that uniquely differentiates it from other communities."

He noted that Plymouth lost 500 jobs when Daisy Manufacturing Co. moved to Rogers, Ark.

"But there was planning," Chapter of Commerce, the whole community united in a drive for new jobs," he pointed out. Western Electric moved in shortly thereafter and created 500 jobs; Burroughs opened new facilities that created 1,200 jobs.

George Lawton, president of the Chamber of Commerce, had noted that another manufacturer (Wheel Truening and an insurance company (Detroit Mutual Insurance Co.) will join the Plymouth "family."

"I believe the economic climate here will continue to improve."

Daisy Manufacturing simply is NOT returning to the Plymouth plant, a rumor which somehow gets into circulation every now and then hereabouts. This is Daisy's 75th Anniversary year, incidentally, and President Cass Hough reports in a personal letter from Rogers, Ark. that "big things are coming sales promotion-wise, a wingding of the first order."

BOUNCES BACK: On Tuesday of last week, things looked black for Ted Lindruth, 20, of 14805 Haggerty, when he and Dan Ward of Detroit fell into a tank of cyanide at Royal Plating Co. Fellow workers threw them into a tank of water and both were critical during the first 12 hours. But by Friday they were released from the hospital and Ted was back at work Monday. Fortunately, the cyanide was a weak solution and was about to be rebuilt.

A MOUTHFUL: Publicists of National Children's Dental Health Week have come up with statistics that claim that an average person takes 160,000,000 lines during his lifetime, requiring three solid years of chewing. His jaws travel up and down 2,530 miles, almost a transcontinental trip. He eats 38 tons of food, enough to feed a capillary crowd at Cobo Hall, the Statler Hilton, Sheraton Cadillac and Pick Fort Shelby MOVES OUT: District offices of Consumers Power have been moved from Plymouth to the new building on Farmington Rd. in Livonia. The intended move was announced two years ago in The Mail. The Main St. office here is still open for customers, but the service yard on Junction has closed. District Manager James Thomas of Plymouth, said that the move was made to put the headquarters closer to the center of the district. An open house is proposed for his spring.

Burroughs World Profit Increases

Burroughs Corp.'s worldwide revenue in 1960 was $389,210,550, compared with $359,778,068 in 1959. This is the eleventh consecutive year that revenue has attained a new high.

Net earnings for 1960 after taxes, were $9,235,867, or $1.39 per share, based on the average number of shares outstanding. This compares with $7,109,567, or $1.07 per share, in 1959 after a non-recurring writeoff.

Net income taxes amounted to $8,304,000 for 1960, compared with $5,061,000 in 1959. Every product category and every operating division contributed to the revenue growth.

New incoming orders received in 1960 were $394,000,000 versus $361,000,000 in 1959. In contrast to the reported trend of the economy, the order pattern for commercial equipments in the fourth quarter was up substantially over 1959. December commercial orders were 33 percent higher than December 1959.

Research and development programs were maintained throughout 1960 at the planned high levels, and a number of very significant new products will be released in 1961.

International Relations Class Comes Through

By Lester Barton

Eighteen inches of snow failed to smother the enthusiasm of 23 International Relations class members of Plymouth High School as they traveled to New York City to visit the United Nations and other points of interest in cosmopolitan Manhattan.

The trip was the culmination of three months of fund-raising for the class. They washed cars, sponsored affairs such as a spaghetti dinner and finally reached their goal of $1,100.

Boarding a New York Central train in Ann Arbor on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 2, the group sped through a scenic ride down the ice-covered Hudson — which hasn't frozen over since the 1800's — arrived in chilly New York on Friday morning.

In all, six chapters accompanied the students: their teacher, Miss Gertrude Fiegel, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph West, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fischer and Mrs. James Randall.

Checking in at the Belmont Plaza Hotel the group set out for a day at the UN — sitting in on sessions of the Narcotics and Human Rights Commissions, a tour of the building, which is a show place of world-wide art, lunch at the swank delegates dining room, and shopping at the international stores.

New York Snow Fails to Stop PHS Student Visitors

In the afternoon the students were received at the new office of the Cambodian Mission to the UN, where a stimulating hour was spent interviewing the deputy ambassador of that neutralist nation, which the class is to represent at the Model United Nations Assembly of the University of Detroit this April.

That evening the "Plymouth delegates" got their first taste of the blizzard that was to make history as it buried New York under 18 inches of snow, bringing activity in the great metropolis to a standstill.

A bus tour was canceled by the heavy snowfall which had begun in the later afternoon, so instead, a number of the group took a subway to Night Court. The Plymouthites seemed the only people in the great city as they walked through blocks of renaissance-style government buildings.

The ever-thickening blanket of snow not only eliminated virtually all traffic, but muffled what little sound there was. Reaching Night Court, they were able to see not only legal proceedings in action, but also the elements of the less desirable element of society.

Saturday dawned with New York paralyzed, but the group set out undaunted for their planned shopping and sightseeing. Most of their travel was on foot, since buses and cabs were next to non-existent.

That evening the group feasted on an elaborate seven-course dinner at the famous Italian restaurant, Leone's, Will Rogers' favorite, where tinkling fountains, flagstone floors and marble statuary create the charming atmosphere of a terrace in sunny Italy. To complete the

Introducing the significant skin care discovery of the 20th Century

SECRET Of the SEA
 by Dorothy Gray

The first formula of its kind to help bring back nature's own softness, nature's own smoothness, even to skin that has seemed hopelessly dry

For centuries on end, women who live in a misty sea climate have been famed for their beautiful complexions. Dorothy Gray research scientists, long aware of this phenomenon, sensed there must be a telling link between skin beauty and the sea. Eventually, their research solved the mystery and from this discovery came Secret of the Sea... a wholly new and different cream... fluffy, delicate, light-and-lovely-to-the-touch. Even the color is new in Secret of the Sea: a blend of the sea's haunting blues and greens. From the first gentle caress of this luxurious cream your skin drinks in fabulous benefits. It refreshes thirsty skin, subdues scaly dryness... gives you a misty, mysterious glow, even though your skin may have seemed hopelessly dry for years. Just as ocean spray keeps complexions misty and smooth by preventing escape of moisture. Secret of the Sea provides your skin with the blessings of a sea atmosphere wherever you live... desert or valley, hot climate or cold. Secret of the Sea has been tested and praised by eminent dermatologists who found it remarkably effective even in cases of dry skin serious enough to require the attention of a specialist. It was developed, however, not as a medical treatment but as today's most advanced beauty aid. It is recommended especially for face, neck and other areas subject to roughness or flaking due to dryness. Regular use of this astonishing cream is guaranteed to keep your skin softer, smoother, lovelier or your money will be refunded. Smooth on fragrant, luscious Secret of the Sea and watch for beautiful results. $5, $8.50, $15.

Janet Maxine Willoughby

Willoughby - Stuart Vows Spoken Saturday, Feb. 11

Janet Maxine Willoughby and Richard Guy Stuart spoke their vows at a 2 p.m. ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church, Saturday, Feb. 11. The Rev. David T. Davies solemnized the rites.

Robert D. Willoughby gave his daughter in marriage, to the accompaniment of organ music played by Mrs. Roland Bonamie. The church was decorated with white carnations and large white mums. The bride was gowned in white silk faced taffeta with three-quarter sleeves and a chapel train. Alencon lace bordered the neckline, sleeves and empire waistline and was applied to the tip of her train. One small tailored bow on each sleeve and one at the bodice and a larger taffeta bow midway down the train trimmed the dress. Her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl trimmed crown of Alencon lace and she carried hibbard roses and ivy.

The matron of honor, Mrs. James A. Meyers, wore a dull-luster satin sheath with golden copper net overskirts. Their shoes, gloves and crowns were of matching materials. With their dresses they wore pearl necklaces and earrings. Miss Elizabeth Carlson, a niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and nephew Stephen Carlson was junior usher.

Mr. John Dancer from East Lansing was best man. The ushers were: Robert G. Willoughby of Gambier, Ohio; Stuart Leatherberry, and Horton and Quentin Harwood, also of East Lansing.

Mother of the bride, Maxine Willoughby, wore a gold silk shantung, jacketed sheath dress accented with golden brown shoes and small purse. Her flowered hat carried out the tones of her ensemble.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Philip M. Stuart, was dressed in a violet silk shantung sheath with matching accessories.

A large reception was held at Lofy's on Ann Arbor Rd. and some of the 250 guests came from Plymouth, Jackson, Horton, Tecumseh, Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Farmington, Grosse Pointe, East Lansing, Ypsilanti, Gambier, Ohio, Northville and Washington, D.C.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a black wool suit trimmed with grey squirrel collar. With it she wore white gloves, scarf and hat decorated in black coin trim and black pumps and purse. The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan and her husband is a graduate of Michigan State University. The couple will make their home in Spartan Village, East Lansing.

 OPEN EVERYDAY 10 A.M. TO 2 A.M.

SOME OF the characters from the children's drama, "Snow White and Rose Red," are shown in rehearsal. Seated around the Storybook Lady (Mrs. J. W. Spence) are Rose Red (Mrs. G. H. Vetal, left), the Prince (Mrs. L. T. Scharmen), and Snow White (Mrs. T. F. Devereaux). Because of the heavy demand for tickets to the 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. performances, a 3:30 performance has been added. The play, being held this Saturday in the High School Auditorium, is sponsored by the drama group of the American Association of University Women.

Jean's Jottings

By JEAN CAMPAU

It is not too often that one comes across a family of five generations and it is even more of a rarity to find a family with five generations on each side of the house. However, this is the case with Alice and Walt Rensel as we recently learned. (See pictures elsewhere on this page).

The Rensels are well-known folk in Plymouth and have lived here for the past 16 years. Walt is presently serving as president of Blunk's and has been associated with the company since 1932. From both sides combined there are over 120 grandchildren, great grandchildren, and great great grandchildren.

Both sides originally came from Pennsylvania and Walt's mother lived on land in Titusville, where the first oil well in America was drilled. Since that time the family, both branches, have settled in many states throughout the country.

Donna Marie Eveleth, 10366 Bassett Dr., who last July was elected Michigan Honey Queen, has had a busy life since then meeting up with movie stars, governors, riding in parades and appearing at fairs.

Last weekend she arrived home from the National Honey Queen contest and the National Beekeepers Federation meeting in Omaha, Neb., where there were more radio and TV shows, banquets and interviews. The Tennessee Honey Queen won the national title, but it has all been a real experience for 17-year-old Donna Marie.

She will now return to the Michigan Lutheran Seminary after taking a week's breather. In May she will be active again during Michigan Week.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Eveleth.

With the advent of Lent beginning today, Ash Wednesday, it seems appropriate to mention John Van Haren's unusual display of jewelry and religious pieces in the showcase of the Dunning-Hough Library. His religious items are especially timely. Included in his showing are a silver crucifix mounted on walnut, a pylon, silver and walnut candlesticks, and a silver dish for holy water. Among his several jewelry objects is a modernistic pendant, fashioned after the madonna and child, suspended on a finely-wrought silver chain.

The entire collection was designed and created by Van Haren, who is one of the featured artists of the Three-Cities Art Club. He is a newcomer to Plymouth and is teaching art at Eastern Michigan University. His work has been accepted by several state and national shows both in the field of water-color painting and ceramics.

The Theatre Guild Seeks New Faces

The Plymouth Theatre Guild, now in rehearsal for "Inherit the Wind," is in dire need of additional actors.

"Our cast of 40," stated Bill Moore, director of the play, "is only about three-quarters filled. We need twelve more men, seven of whom would have a few lines on stage."

"Inherit the Wind," a play based upon the famous Stokes trial in the twenties, brings to the Plymouth Auditorium stage the citizens of a small town suddenly swept into nationwide notoriety, when "big city lawyers" arrive to do battle over a local school teacher's right to expose his pupils to the Darwin theory of evolution.

The script is spiced with quaint and provocative characters, some of whom, though seen only briefly, will leave

'Sound of Music' Is Based on True Story

When the host of Plymouth people journey to the Riviera Theatre on Tuesday, March 7 to see "The Sound of Music" and take part in "Plymouth Night," they will view a musical that is based on the true story of the Austrian Baron and Baroness Von Trapp.

It was in 1938 that Maria Augusta Trapp, then a postulant at Nonnberg Abbey in Austria, was found not yet ready for religious life. She is sent out of the Abbey to become temporary governess to the children of Captain Von Trapp, a retired Austrian navyman. His wife had died and his children are little more than tiny machines.

But Maria, played by Florence Henderson, teaches them to sing and to enjoy life. Captain Von Trapp returns home with his fiancée, Elsa, and a friend, Max. The captain is astounded to find the children singing.

And while the love plot develops between Maria and the captain, the Nazis have invaded Austria and they summon the captain into their service. Maria gains time for him by agreeing that the whole family will sing at the concert hall. As the family leaves the stage one by one, they disappear and flee over the mountain.

Included in "The Sound of Music" are the songs, "My Favorite Things," "Do-Re-Mi," "Sixteen Going on Seventeen," and "The Sound of Music."

The March 7 performance is being sponsored by the Women's League of the Plymouth Symphony who are now selling tickets. Reservations can be made by phoning Mrs. Thomas Nichols at GL 3-5396; Mrs. Lloyd Gates, GL 3-1263; or Mrs. Loren Gould, GL 3-1263. Tickets are $5.50 and $6.50.

Detroit is the first stop on a nationwide tour for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. This was the last collaboration of the famous pair.

Cagers Collapse—Lose

Last Friday Plymouth cage fortunes tumbled to a season low as the Rocks blew a 13 point lead in the third quarter to lose, 60-52.

The Rocks had led, 32-22, at the half and then pushed to a 39-26 lead midway in the third period. Before the quarter ended Trenton closed to 43-41. Plymouth pulled away to a 47-41 margin as the fourth quarter began. Trenton came roaring back again to quickly tie the game at 48-48. A minute later they scored to lead 50-48. With the score 53-48, Plymouth's only big man, center Dan Streimick, fouled out and the Rocks were all through. As Trenton effectively stalled for most of the remaining time.

Captain Jim Ralston led Plymouth with 16 points, but Trenton's Dave Henegar took game honors with 17 points on five field goals and seven free throws.

Plymouth opened the game with a fast pace and led 21-8 at the end of the first period. Shooting was accurate in the first period, but in the final session the Rocks were able to hit only one of 17 field shots, missing some easy layups.

It was the most complete collapse in recent Plymouth history.

Trenton led all the way to defeat Plymouth's junior varsity 44-37 last Friday. Trenton was ahead 13-10 in the first quarter and led 22-15 at the half. Plymouth narrowed the gap to 33-27 at the beginning of the fourth period, but Trenton was able to withstand the Rocks assault in the fourth period.

Don McMullen led both teams with 14 points, while teammate Dave Gotthard contributed 12 points for Plymouth.

Rocks Dunk Trenton; Entertain RU

ART NELSON (30 white jersey) breaks away for a layup shot in the second half against Trenton. The ball rolled around and out of the basket. It was typical of Rock luck in the hapless second half against Trenton. Plymouth was outscored 38-20 in the second half after taking a 33-22 half-time lead.

John McFall's swimming team powered past Trenton for the second time this season, winning 78-27 last Friday.

Last evening, too late for publication, the Rocks tested the University of Michigan swimming pool in a triangular meet with Fordson and Jackson. It's the place where the state meet will be held in March.

The Rocks will be forgiven if they look past the second meet with Redford Union at 7 p.m. tomorrow in the PHS pool to the State meet. They haven't been beaten in years in dual meet competition.

Against Trenton, the Rocks lost only one race and took every second but two. In addition they posted three pool records at Trenton.

Ron Daley set a pool record of 4:27.1 in the 400 yard free style and Bill Rossow was second. Gary Gould was first in the 50 yard free style and Bill Britcher was third. Bob Daley won the butterfly in 1:03.2 and Barry Corwin was second. Dick Michaels added a pool record of 59.5 in the backstroke and Trenton's Boughner was close behind in the meet's best race. He was timed at 1:00.2. Plymouth's Tom Hoffman was third.

Phil Bender won the breaststroke and Doug Cash was second. Jim Izett was first in the free style and Warren Smith was third. Nick Herrick won the diving with 66.4 points and Mark Schultheiss was second with 54.95. Dick Michaels got a pool record in the individual medley, winning it in 2:20. Bob Daley was second.

Bill Rossow was first in the 50 yard freestyle and Dick Gretzinger was second.

Hoffman, Bender, Herrick and Ron Daley won the medley relay. Trenton took it's only first in the last event of the meet, the free style relay. Plymouth was beaten by three-tenths of a second.

Kisabeth Scores 26 As Barbers Win 6th

Still unbeaten, Penniman Barber Shop won its sixth game last week 82-38 over Tait's, as Ken Kisabeth scored 26 points and Bud Lamphear tallied 14. Jerry Kendall had 13 for Tait's, while teammate Hugh Ableson earned eight.

In other Men's League action Western Electric whipped Cloverdale, 51-37 to move into second place with a three-three record. Al Runge led the winners with 13 points and Myron Hopper added 10. Ron Parrot of Western Electric led both teams with 14 points and Bud Bell had 12.

Tait's Cleaners is now in third place with a 2-4 record, while Cloverdale trails the field with a 1-5 mark.

The V.F.W. continued unbeaten in the 18 and Under League by defeating the Shamrocks 40-25 for their fourth consecutive win of the season. Jim Freeman had 16 points for the winners and 11 points and Gary Fillmore Darroll Miller scored 12. Ron McMullen led the losers with scored eight. The defeat dropped the Shamrocks to a 2-2 record and third place in the league.

The Raiders stayed right behind the V.F.W. with a 3-2 victory over the Midgets. The Raiders are now second with a 3-1 record, while the Midgets are winless in four starts and in last place. Ed Fisher and Don Tichy each scored eight points for the Raiders, while Harry McMullen and Ron Fulton led the losers with five and six points respectively.

The Yellow Birds are 1-3 in the league and in fourth place.

The 15-And-Under League looks like a runaway for the Yellow Jackets who won their beat the Wolverines 28-26, fifth in a row last week. They Gary Grady scored 14 points for the Jackets and Dale Patby added six. The Wolverines are now second with a 3-2 record, while the Indians and the Optimists are tied for third and last with a 1-4 record.

SPORTSEEN

By BILL NELSON

Plymouth's swimming team, which continues to win in dual meet competition, met Jackson and Fordson at the University of Michigan pool last night in a triangular meet.

We won't have the results until next week, but the meet in the U of M pool gave Plymouth an opportunity to experiment with the pool in which the state finals will be held on March 10 and 11.

Plymouth fans can't help but be optimistic this season about Plymouth's prospects in the state meet. A lot of factors could influence the outcome. An influenza epidemic, for example, can equalize things in the state meet where fractions of seconds become important.

No doubt every training eye is now on the state meet during Rock practice sessions. No team will beat them in dual meet competition and Plymouth should have its best chance yet in the state meet.

Plymouth will likely get more of the same in this week's basketball game at Redford Union. RU hasn't been beaten yet in league play and Plymouth is not the team that should do it.

There is a chance in a million only that Plymouth can win. That chance would make sense if RU suffered a gross overdose of confidence. With their first championship in a long time in any sport possible, it is not likely that that will be the case.

The only way Plymouth can make a game of it is to take some drastic measures. RU is big, fast and spirited. Plymouth is short.

Coach Jim Doyle is an excellent strategist, but it appears that this game is just so much exercise. Plymouth is over matched.

RU won the first game handily between the two schools.

Coaches have come up with some interesting strategy in similar situations. There is the story of another coach who faced with similar odds, told his team to get the first basket and hang onto the ball after that with stalling tactics.

It worked that way and the team won, 4-2, while the fans booed and the opponents fouled trying to get the ball. Plymouth will need something like that against RU.

Local Teams Eliminated From Hockey Play-offs

Both the Plymouth Bears and the V.F.W. hockey teams of the Nankin Township League were eliminated last weekend in play-off games.

The V.F.W. put up two sudden-death games and lost both. Saturday afternoon the V.F.W. and Nankin Mills finished the game with a 1-1 tie. Because it was a play-off, "sudden-death" periods of five minutes were played. Five of these periods were scored the winning goal.

Sunday morning the V.F.W. met Nankin Lions and once again there was a 1-1 deadlock. Five overtime periods were played and the Lions finally scored. Both of Plymouth's scores in the game were made by Terry Cosgrove.

The Plymouth Bears had previously lost on of the double elimination games and lost the second Saturday by taking a 3-2 defeat from the Lions. Left winger Don Gavigan and defenseman Dale Tonkovich scored for the Bears.

Bears' Manager Joe Gates declared that he was highly pleased with the play of his team. "I would like to thank the mothers and fathers who braved the elements game after game to cheer for and encourage their boys to play."

Recruiting is still going on.

Gates said. Those 10 to 16 years of age may call him at GL 3-7395.

Similar sentiments ere expressed by the V.F.W. manager, James McKindles. He also praised the cooperation of the Recreation Department and for Coach Al Kolak.

McKindles noted that outstanding performances were turned in by Terry Cosgrove who led the team with 10 goals; to Pat Hunt who figured in 10 goals with his assists to forwards; and to Butch Thomas, who allowed only 10 goals in eight games.

The league was for boys through 14 years of age, but plans are being made for another league to include older boys next season. All games were played on a Nankin Township rink.

The "Top Ten," those 10 seniors who rated academically highest in their class have been announced, according to averages to the end of last semester.

Janet Mackie was at "the top of the top ten" with a 3.89 average. (4 is a perfect A.) Janet plans on a career in chemical engineering and will probably attend the University of Michigan.

Next on the list is Jerry Fischer, whose average is 3.865. A small college appeals to Jerry, so he plans on majoring in the liberal arts at Wooster in Ohio. Third place was claimed by both Sue Worthington and John Tichy, who tied with a 3.861 average. Sue will major in either chemistry or biology at either Eastern or Northern, while John is planning on engineering courses at the U of M.

Ann West, who holds fifth place with a 3.85 average is thinking about both the U of M and Chatham College, near Pittsburgh. In either case, she will pursue a course of study in the liberal arts.

A foreign language — Russian — is the interesting prospect for Celeste Arjay, holder of sixth place with a 3.78 average. Celeste will also go to Ann Arbor. Suanne Smith, seventh in the class with a 3.76 average is fascinated by chemistry, which she will study at either Kalamazoo or the University of Michigan. Eastern University holds considerable interest for Karen Geiger, who rates eighth with her 3.71 average. She will major in French or German.

Ninth and 10th places went to Sharon Sprague and Nancy Houseman, who had averages of 3.64 and 3.60 respectively. The field of music is very attractive to Sharon, and she will study it at Eastern. Nancy will follow a general course for her first two years at Albion College.

An added note—John Tichy was recently announced semi-finalist for the 1961 National Honor Society Scholarship because of high scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test given last October. Another test on March 11 will give him a further opportunity to obtain this scholarship.

In the absence of Miss Alita Hearn, Mr. John Bakita has taken over her classes for the duration of the semester. Seems that Latin teachers are really difficult to find, and chances of getting another one appeared pretty bleak until Mr. Bakita, only two weeks out of the Army, appeared. Things are rolling smoothly again, and the students are really enjoying themselves as Mr. Bakita introduces them to a very interesting type of Latin pronunciation—used at a later date than the Caesarian Latin with which they are familiar.

The Plymouth High Band is to attend the District Solo and Ensemble Festival this Saturday at Eastern Michigan University. Those members who receive a First Division place will be eligible to participate in state competition at Jackson on March 25.

This coming March 7 approximately 80 freshmen and sophomores will take an Educational Development Test which will enable them to better understand their academic weaknesses and thus plan their future course of study more effectively and achieve greater success. Sixty-five juniors will be administered a National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test on the same day.

Easter Seal Society Sends Early Appeal

Around 1,000 letters, typed individually by volunteers, are going into the mails in Western Wayne County—Com-munities this week as heralds of the annual Easter Seal campaign for services to physically handicapped children and adults.

This Advance Gifts mailing is directed to those who contributed $5 more during the 1960 campaign. There will be 127 mailed out in Plymouth.

"The number of special letters being mailed in our area illustrates several important points about the Easter Seal campaign," says Herald F. Hamill, Chairman, Crippled Children's Committee, Plymouth Rotary Club, who as a leader in the local appeal, is signing each letter. "One is that there are individuals and groups who believe so wholeheartedly in direct, personal charity that they play important parts year after year in supporting Easter Seal services.

"Perhaps a more significant conclusion, however, is that most Easter Seal support comes from those whose gifts of one or two dollars join with others to make possible local direct services to physically handicapped children and adults."

Hamill points out that the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County, which serves this area is an affiliate of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc. and the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

"While the State and National groups receive substantial requests from time to time to carry on research projects in the causes and treatment of crippling conditions, for Parent Education publications or professional program consultation, our local Society must rely on the year to year interest of many individual contributors," he concluded.

The general distribution of Easter Seals begins March 2. Local services include helping people to reach sources of appropriate medical and educational assistance; a summer Day Camp for crippled children, as well as classes and clubs for physically handicapped adults held at the Easter Seal Center; wheelchairs and other special equipment to be loaned to those unable to buy or rent.

The Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County supplements the services of other agencies to those physically handicapped in any way. It does not restrict its service to any specific disability group, nor does it duplicate services offered elsewhere in the community. In placing its program emphasis on meeting needs for which no other resource exists, the Society served 375 individuals last year.

The proposed schedule for the Holy Name Society lists a Bible lecture in March and a book fair, also a father-daughter banquet. Thomas Boyne is president of the men's group.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Editor: I am writing in regard to the article which was on the front page of last week. It was the program for fluoridation for the school children's teeth. In past years, the price was much less and we were able to get just the fluoridation, which I go along with 100 per cent. Why now do we have to take the package deal? Will it be possible to just get the four treatments of sodium fluoride without the other "extras?" The mothers I have talked with want to just skip the whole thing if the price is that high and since they feel their child or children have had their regular dentist visits. I personally hate to have my children miss out on the treatments, but I do not want their teeth cleaned. Our family dentist is gone, but he knew he was dying and had no reason to tell us anything but the truth. His theory on teeth-cleaning was: if the tartar collects in an amount large enough to cause irritation and bleeding when the teeth are brushed, then the teeth need this tartar chipped off.

I realize there are exceptions; some people have more tartar than others, but I don't think very many kindergartners, second graders and fifth graders need their teeth cleaned everytime they make a dentist visit. Why all the scratching and scraping on the smooth enamel of nice, new teeth of second and fifth graders? As far as kindergartners are concerned, most of them don't have any front teeth right now, and they are in line to lose more. I think this is just another way for the dentists to "line their pockets." We do want to protect our teeth and we do want to believe what our dentists tell us, because of our concern for our family's dental health. What are we to believe, though, when this "gimmick" is so obvious? I hope this program does go through but I hope too we can get what we want without paying for things we don't want.

MORE THAN $27 million was spent in this area by General Motors for wages and supplies during 1960, officials of Livonia's two GM facilities announced. Plant managers H. L. Whitmer, left of Chevrolet Spring & Bumper, and R. G. Spear, Fisher Body, examine records. Employment at the two plants totaled 4,800 persons at the end of the year. The GM operations purchased goods and services from 53 Livonia area suppliers. More than $64,000 was paid to employees for ideas submitted through the GM suggestion plan. The Spring & Bumper plant makes chassis coil springs and bumpers for Chevrolet cars and leaf springs for trucks. The Fisher Body operation is known as the cut and sew plant, making cushions, door pads, sun visors and other interior trim for Pontiac, Olds, and Buick.

The Mail Attitude

At 10:30 on a Wednesday evening a group of us were standing on the pavement before a Livonia bowling establishment, and in that group was William F. Cox, 42 years old.

Bill had attended a meeting in line of duty there that night, with a group of our friends and employees. I and some others earlier had been at another meeting in Redford. As we joined on the walk, the plan was to move on in separate cars to a restaurant, and thus we embarked.

About an hour later, when his party still had failed to appear, a friend rushed in to report that Bill had been "having trouble getting his breath" and had been driven by his wife, Myra, to a hospital on Grand River.

We left the restaurant immediately for the hospital. As I entered that door, a doctor with anguish in his face confirmed that Bill had died at almost that same instant. He was admitted to the hospital at midnight, death officially arrived at 12:25 a.m. A massive thrombosis had struck suddenly.

Thus it was that the family of employees who strain to publish these newspapers lost their general manager without warning, in a split-second of real time.

While others of us labored on the outside, Bill had been in charge of the swarm of detail inside the plant, an anonymous phase of the newspaper business which most of our readers probably take for granted. It's rugged on the inside; that's where the shortness of deadlines, the mad jam of work at the finish, take their toll in cost, efficiency, breakdown. It's where any profit is made or lost in the pure business sense which permits newspaper survival.

In an age when such things are not commonplace, the production of newspapers remains pretty much a labor of love. Hours are long, financial rewards only average, heartaches many, and public criticism profuse. Those who like it, however, would have it no other way. Bill was one of those.

It makes for a close-knit group, bound with emotion and sentiment. When anyone of us is hurt, it sorely touches the others.

In this case, grief was not lessened by the knowledge that our colleague was mortally stricken down at a very moment when he was heavily engaged in work for the organization. He wore his boots right to the hospital door.

Bill Cox is survived not only by a devoted and wonderful family, but by a sorrowing band of workers, all of them still dazed and awed and acutely conscious of their own, mortal humbleness.

Your Editor's effort to win a Republican convention nomination came to an involuntary adjournment in Cobo Hall some 10 days ago. Previously we printed the details of the early stages of the sojourn; now for the wind-up.

The Convention system of nomination is not entirely understood by everybody. It starts with a gathering of precinct delegates in each of the counties in Michigan, plus half a dozen similar sessions in the metropolitan congressional districts. These county conventions pick delegates to go to the State Convention, the latter being held this year in Cobo Hall, Detroit.

Counties are allotted delegates on the basis of the GOP vote mustered there for Secretary of State in the last Michigan election. Our particular district, the Seventeenth, had 101 state convention delegates. Some of the small counties up north were entitled to only four delegates. Oakland County showed up with 149, the largest single unit, and a powerful convention force in more ways than size.

Thus assembled, the State convention delegates select the men who will appear on the April 1961 ballot—the so-called off-year election. Offices in-olved are Supreme Court, the governing boards of three state universities, the State Highway Commissioner, and a couple of others.

The Convention process thereby by-passes, entirely the primary election system, used at other times for nominating men for other offices.

My particular effort was based on trying to appeal to the hearts and minds of the individual delegates. We carried the matter to a final vote on the floor, though defeat was in sight much earlier, and despite the fact that several other aspirants had withdrawn in similar circumstances without asking for the actual poll of the delegations.

Ours was sort of an idealistic, textbook approach to the subject and it failed for three main reasons:

1. Whereas some delegates have freedom to act for themselves, most permit their votes to be delivered in great blocs under the direction of county and state leaders.

2. At no time did Paul Chandler ever get his own 17th District solidly behind the effort. I came up extremely controversial because of the independent editorial air of our newspapers in the past. The 17th delegates split sharply over whether I should be assisted. Without one's own district's solid backing, nomination at a convention is virtually impossible because: (a) it gives the District no swapping power, where it can trade its bloc of votes to some other district in return for their help, and, (b) it makes outsiders suspicious... how can they support a man who can't even persuade his local District?

3. There are powerful forces in the party wings who have sufficient control to get many things done at a convention, with or without individual delegate approval. These invisible forces dropped four candidates for various offices into the picture just four days before the State Convention, and all four whistled through to nomination like greased lightning.

None of the foregoing is complaint; it's explanation. The problems were there to be faced at the outset, and our friends and workers all knew it.

Our countering arguments to the opposition were: (1) A reputation for independent, aggressive thinking should be attractive to the voters on a ballot, an advantage to the party rather than a handicap; (2) We never once have wavered in our resistance to the UAW in politics; (3) We knew how to campaign and promote, having spent almost a lifetime in the general field.

We did finish with 400-plus convention men and women ready to vote for us. But another 900 or so weren't inclined to forgive or forget so soon.

Amazingly, once the voting was done, many delegates took particular pains to find me and say they admired the campaign, that they were compelled to vote no this time, but that "next time" things would be different.

The most common complaint by the party faithful was that our papers here had given a limited endorsement to John Swainson for Governor last fall and had been critical of Paul Bagwell. There didn't seem to be a single delegate anywhere, even into the farthest reaches of the Upper Peninsula, who hadn't been apprised of this editorial "indiscretion."

It was to no avail, usually, to try to argue that an editor watching the game from the press box has a different role than one of the players in the lineup down on the field.

In many respects, the experience has been downright thrilling.

The convention atmosphere is one of America's more exhilarating scenes. A downtown hotel was absolutely engulfed with politicians for 24 hours—it was at the hotel, and not at Cobo Hall, where the real play of forces was exerted, where the bargains and intrigue and deals were to be found.

Every inch of wall space is emblazoned with signs and banners. Smiling candidates (and ALWAYS smiling) mill hopefully, with the outstretched handshake the sign of the trade. Moppets and their mamas shoulder through packed crowds, handing out literature, hard candy, or something. There is a bagpipe band and an electric organ and a German band, and a dozen crazy kinds of paper hats. Everybody wears a badge, or flower, or some emblem on his coat or dress.

Suites on the upper floors have open doors and food and refreshment available. This creates foot traffic, much of it from people who couldn't care less about the particular host or his aspirations or his pedigree.

Rumors fly everywhere. The whispered conference in the corner is commonplace. "What do you

Brings Tourists In This Direction

The tourist business from this area to Puerto Rico usually goes one way, namely toward Puerto Rico, but Kurt Thrum from the Travel Centre in Plymouth is bringing it to Michigan.

He has extended his operations into the island of Puerto Rico and at present is making the travel arrangements for tours and individual travel for some of the top-agents in Puerto Rico.

Last week he flew to San Juan on the invitation of Martin Dessau, superintendent of Agency Sales Development or Pan American World Airways to conduct two sales seminars for Puerto Rican travel agents and Pan American personnel on agency operations and tour development.

Over 60 agents from all over the island participated in these seminars which were held at the new deluxe hotel, the Miramar Charter House in San Juan.

"Neither Snow, Nor Rain..."

Herodotus, the Greek historian, said it in the 5th century, B.C., and you'll find it today inscribed on the main post office in New York City: "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds." With the Christmas rush not far behind us, it's a good time to pay tribute to those who, day in, day out, in fair weather or foul, see that the mail gets through. Your postman deserves a pat on the back, but he'll settle for a smile... Incidentally, the motor truck plays a vital part in the distribution of the mail, serving the length and breadth of Michigan, from the most densely populated cities to the most remote rural areas.

think about Jones?" is the opening for every conversation... or, if not "Jones" then "Smith" or "Van Perusem", or somebody in the party.

About 9:50 in the evening, the formal county caucuses began. They launched a giant endurance contest among the delegates. Each candidate is scheduled to appear at a given minute before each of the 18 caucuses, a grind which was scheduled all the way to 2 a.m. At these appearances, a short talk is given and sometimes questions are asked and answered.

It's largely window-dressing, because most delegations ultimately are guided by their leaders along much more "practical" lines, but the caucus performances are traditional and they at least give the delegates a glimpse at those whom they will be accepting or rejecting later.

Far away from all this turmoil and trouble, the real decisions are being made. County and State leaders convene in quiet quarters far upstairs and analyze each other's information. They divide and combine, for and against candidates; analyze their own delegations for the information of the other chairmen; threaten, beg, and generally play a game of political poker.

About 5 a.m. in the morning, the ice broke in this convention. There had been a frozen situation over the new GOP state chairman, but a settlement finally was reached. It spun, in a crazy way, around half a dozen other swaps involving the rest of the ticket, and the real impact wasn't telegraphed to the rest of the convention until after daylight.

Since ours was an uphill effort from the start, there was a powerful thrill just in watching a score of friends carry on the fight through fatigue, discouragement, faint hope, and sleeplessness. These were big men and women, and to see them in action, on your side, under tough conditions, is an experience that can't happen often in a lifetime.

They made introductory speeches until they were hoarse, ran upstairs and down corridors, kept telephone wires warm, button-holed their friends and visiting delegates, served hot dogs, passed out literature and favors, walked their legs numb... it's no game for the faint-hearted.

Will, it ended on the convention floor when I interrupted the roll call about two-thirds of the way down the list... when the outcome was obvious. We called for a unanimous vote for the opponent and promised the delegates that "I was in the political arena to stay; that the objective didn't end with this one adventure." The applause from the floor sounded downright encouraging.

New York Snow

Sunny weather smiled through the hotel windows Sunday morning, and the students were up early for church. A number of music lovers went to hear the famous organ at Riverside Church, while those who attended St. Patrick's Cathedral thrilled to the splendor of the Roman church as Cardinal Spellman entered the building in his sumptuous robes. There too, some fine organ music was heard.

The Metropolitan and Guggenheim Art Museums were the main point of interest during the afternoon, where the Plymouthites admired the works of both the old masters and the new adventurers in the field of modern art. Some excited girls reported rubbing elbows with Hans Conreid in the Japanese art section.

Highlight of Sunday night was the ascent to the top of the RCA Building, where, with visibility for 35 miles, the city was spread out beneath like a carpet of glittering lights and myriad hues. With nothing but lonely darkness about them, and the wind whispering eerily, shivering as it blew in from the cold Atlantic, the students seemed transported to another world as they beheld the avenues reduced to lines of twinkling color.

Monday, the final day in New York, was again spent at the UN, sitting in on more meetings, watching a movie on the founding of the organization, and last-minute gift shopping.

Then, the group was again swallowed up in the hustle of Grand Central Station as they boarded their homebound train. When questioned on the benefits of the trip, the students all seemed to feel that their visit to the UN had given them a greater insight into the functions of the organization than a great deal of book learning. But they also considered another aspect of the trip just as important—the good fellowship they had shared.

The complete group of students included: Gary Mirto, Paul Rawley, Paul Malboeuf, Ted Roberts, Jim Davis, Larry Heidt, Edith Ellison, Barb Haas, Suanne Smith, Dee Wernette, Linda Larkin, Rosemary Kubick, Ann West, Martha West, Sheila Lorenz, Jerry Fischer, Mikiko Ichijura, Norbert Voss, Petra Schneider, Marcia Randall, Sue Utter, Janet Mackie, Dave Ruge, Dawney Miller, Mary Tess Newingham, Celeste Arjay, Kathy Keener and Les Barton.

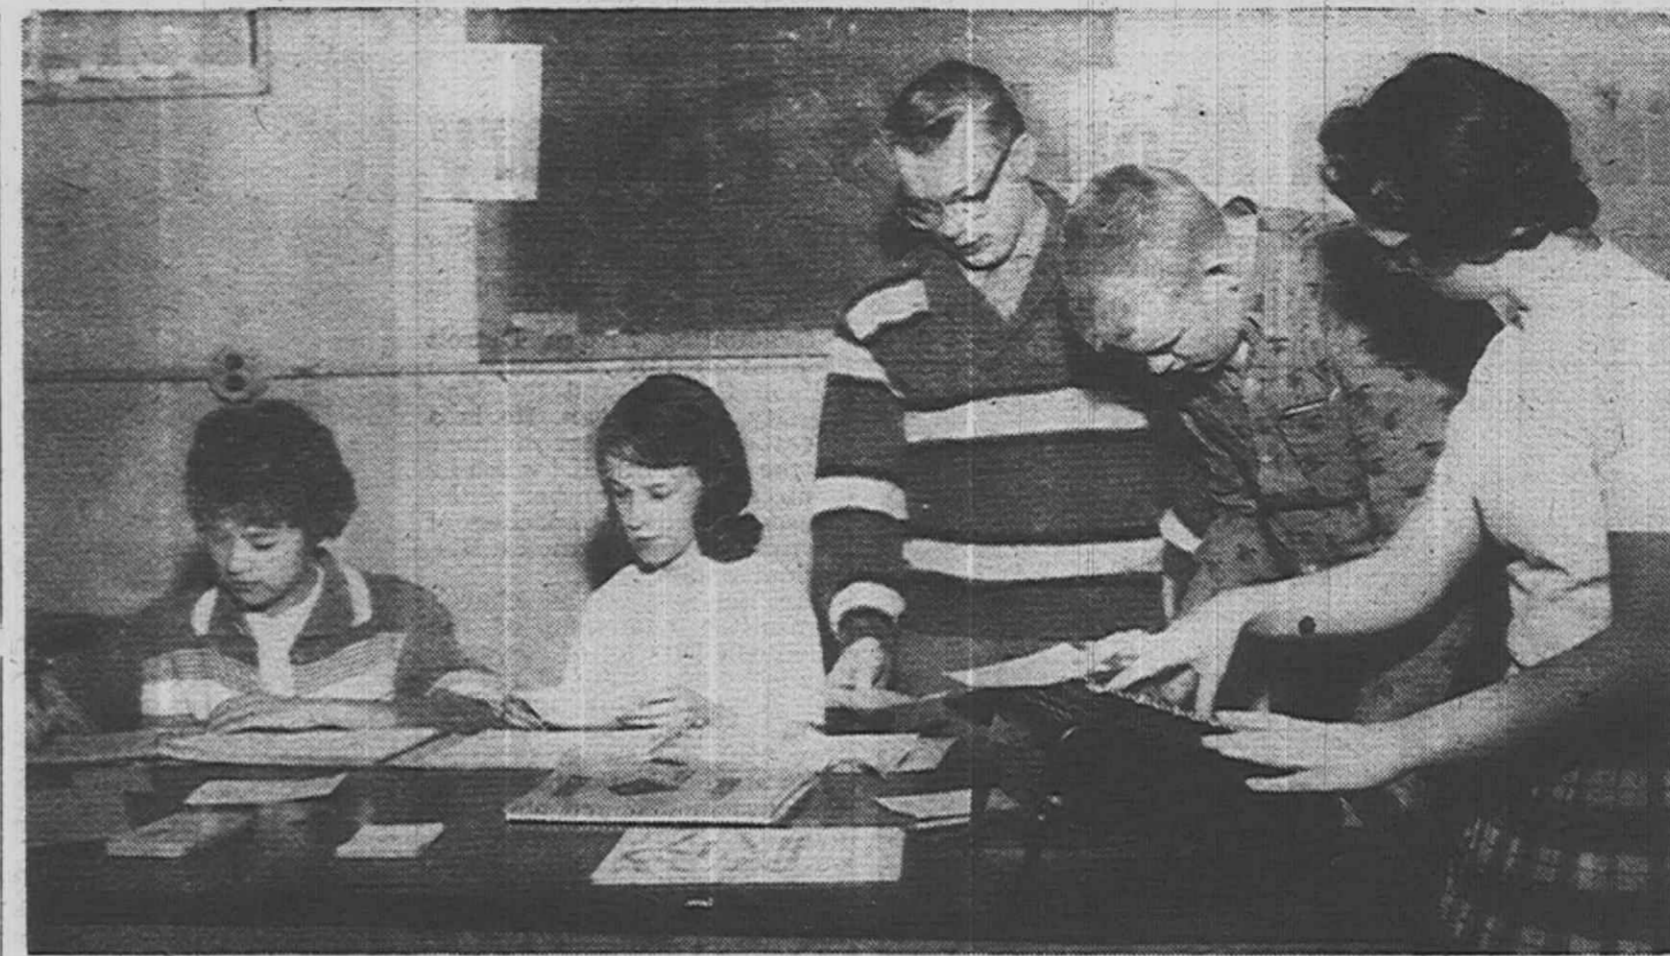

Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me. —(Psalms 23:4).

If you are facing something that seems more than you can bear, affirm that with faith in God you shall walk through it. There are experiences in life that are not easy to meet, but with faith in God we can "walk through" these experiences.

ALL IN THE FAMILY

The entertaining and inspirational account of one of the celebrated families of our time is told in The Story of the Trapp Family Singers by Maria Augusta Trapp.

As a young girl in Austria Mrs. Trapp went to work as governess to the seven children of a widower, Baron von Trapp. If you have seen "Sound of Music," based on this book, you know she soon married the Baron, brought the children up to a total of ten. In 1938 with four dollars in the Baron's pocket the whole family fled Hitler and landed in the U. S. Since then they have gained wider recognition as singers and musicians of a high order.

This unusual sequence of events would supply enough color and drama for any book. Even more important than the Trapp's success story, however, is the fine philosophy of family life expressed by Mrs. Trapp in her book and lived by all her talented brood. She has an abiding faith in God and man which has helped her overcome hardships and obstacles and which has something to offer all of us. A sequel to The Story of the Trapp Family Singers is A Family on Wheels.

Another family that Americans have been reading about with joy and profit for several years is The Family Nobody Wanted by Helen Doss. Like so many others Mrs. Doss and her husband Carl, a Methodist minister, were faced with a childless marriage. Eager to adopt children but frustrated by long waiting periods they learned that children of mixed racial ancestry were considered "unadoptable" and therefore could be taken quickly with a minimum of red tape.

Helen and Carl Doss decided to adopt the "unadoptable." Over the years twelve youngsters, all of different nationalities, all from different parts of the world, came into the Doss family. Their story, naturally, is an amusing and touching one; moreover it effectively dramatizes the simple truth that racial prejudice is unknown among children unless adults teach it.

Anna Rose, in Room for One More, tells a similar tale. Mrs. Rose and her husband had three children of their own; adopted three more. Each of the adopted children was handicapped by an emotional problem: one as a nine year old delinquent; another, the unwanted daughter of divorced parents; the third, a polio victim. Raising this family was not easy and Mrs. Rose does not pretend it was. She does, however, demonstrate the wonders that patience and love can work with children whose unfortunate beginnings might very well have meant bleak and tragic lives.

If you are a parent or ever expect to be one you will enjoy these books. They are pleasant, warm and helpful.

RETORT FOR THE REPORTER

Last week a letter writer in The Mail called the Reporter magazine "left-wing and ultra-liberal." As an old Reporter reader we would like to dispute this. The Reporter is, in fact, one of our few reliable, informative, intelligent periodicals in the area of world affairs and the arts. Except for Louis 14th or Warren G. Harding we doubt that anyone serious believes it is "left-wing." You will find it in your libraries and on the newsstands.

ROLAND WIDMAYER, left, manager of Kroger's, receives a pin from Zone Manager Chester LeGrande for his 30 years with the company.

Manager Observes 30th Year with Kroger Co.

When Kroger moves into its new building on Main St. probably in June, it will be the third store in Plymouth managed by Roland Widmayer, who this week is observing his 30th year with Kroger.

When Widmayer came to Plymouth in 1944, he managed the Kroger store when it was located on a site now occupied by Kresge's. Now the store is on Forest Ave. and later this year it will move to a larger new building at Main and Union Streets.

Chester LeGrande of Plymouth, zone manager for Kroger, pinned a diamond-studded tie clasp on Widmayer this week to commemorate his 30th year with the company. He started in 1931 as a manager trainee and later that year became manager of a store at Humbolt and Ash in Detroit. From 1932 to 1944 Widmayer managed the Northville store, and then came here in 1944.

"Things have changed a lot in 30 years," the manager admitted. "I used to have 15 clerks standing behind counters waiting on people a day Saturday was the big day. Now Thursday, Friday and Saturday are equally big days and the big store today has 23 employees who keep it open both days and evenings. The supermarket, of course, eliminates clerks.

Mr. Widmayer and his wife, Ethel, live at 660 Ross. They have one son, Richard, attending the University of Michigan.

He has served as church committee chairman of the Michigan District of Kiwanis, headed committees of the local Kiwanis Club and was a member of the Plymouth Board of Review in 1929.

He started in the insurance business in 1932 and was employed in the accounting department of Detroit Diesel Engine Division for 15 years.

"If I am elected the representative from the City of Plymouth to the County Board of Supervisors I would like to be a part in helping to reduce the cost of government in Wayne County and especially as it affects the City of Plymouth. I would also work in close harmony with the City of Plymouth and see that the City Commission has a written report of all the activities of the Board of Supervisors. If elected and appointed to an active committee of the Board, I will give my best to the work of that committee."

A. E. Vallier
An engineer for the Ford Motor Co., A. E. Vallier lives at 1338 Penniman Ave. He was born in Columbus, Neb., and has lived in Plymouth since 1951.

He graduated from Iowa State College, receiving a B.S. in mechanical engineering. He is a member of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, American Society of Mechanical Engineers and Society of Automotive Engineers. He is a past director of the Plymouth Community Fund.

During World War II he was an officer in the Army ordnance department.

"I am running for the office of supervisor because I feel the interests of the City of Plymouth and its Commission have not been adequately represented in the past few years. I believe the City of Plymouth needs a supervisor on the County Board of Supervisors who works closely with the City Commission."

MAX JOHNSON adding the finishing touches to the enormous four-foot cake he baked for his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schmalzried, of 9205 Rocker, in honor of their surprise housewarming party, Saturday, Feb. 11. The letters on the cake were six inches high and three and a half inches wide.

Surprise Party Takes The Cake

By JEAN CAMPAU

"If there is no bread, give them cake"—this same saying could be applied to Max Johnson of Bruce St., when as his contribution to a surprise housewarming party for friends, he presented them with a cake that measured in excess of four feet.

His titanic effort was three weeks in the making from the time he first conceived the thought until its actual completion, and involved about 34 hours all told.

The designing of the board on which it rested, drilling of holes for the electrical wiring and a suitable cover for the foundation were the primary steps taken.

The equivalent of nine cakes went into its making. Three smaller cakes which were baked, first were used to make the letters. Baked one night, they were carved the next, from patterns previously designed. The bottom of the cake consisted of six cake batters.

The icing used for the main body of the cake was a basic seven minute white frosting, while the trim was a butter icing of pastel pink and green.

The transporting of the party had to be done in a station wagon, as a regular car would not afford adequate space.

The recipients of this gigantic sweet were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schmalzried, 9205 Rocker.

Their surname was spelled out across the top of the cake and emblazoned with over 44 blinking lights.

Needless to say the guests were flabbergasted at the sight of a cake so large and it temporarily broke the party up while the guests "ooohed and aah-ed." So overwhelmed were the Schmalzrieds that they decided not to cut it right away.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troops 272 and 249 led by Mrs. Earl Gibson and Mrs. Lawrence Brennan and Mrs. Irving Milligan and Mrs. William Busch, respectively, held a joint meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Thomas Range as a culmination of their International Friendship studies.

The honored guest at the meeting was Makiko Ichura, Japanese exchange student, who is spending her year in Plymouth as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Haas of Rocker St. Makiko wore the traditional kimono and obi, and spoke to the Brownies on Japanese customs, and Girl Scouting in Japan. The leaders are certain International Friendship will mean more to the girls after meeting Makiko.

These two troops will soon be starting a very worthwhile service project.

At the request of their sponsors, the Vivians, they are making miniature Easter Baskets to be used as tray favors at the Easter dinner of 130 children at Maybury Sanatorium. The candy to fill the baskets will be furnished by the Vivians.

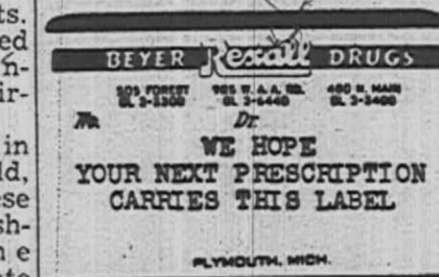

This is the first column in a new series of Girl Scout News. If any leaders have news they would care to contribute, call Rosemary Kooman at GL 3-3532.

Detroit Edison's area development division suggests: "The first step to be taken toward directional planning by any industry-minded group is a complete and factual survey."

"The survey is designed to point out the assets and liabilities of the area. Information concerning tax base, production material, natural resources, available manpower, land use, available sites, transportation facilities and living conditions are all part of the survey and will become important factors in selling the town."

"It becomes particularly important when it is realized that in most cases an industry can locate anywhere within a 50-mile radius of a desired area."

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

The educational picture in Plymouth has changed a great deal since Russell Lowell Isbister became superintendent of schools.

Education, in one form or another as a career, has been Mr. Isbister's first and only "love." For 34 years he has had his finger in the knowledge-dispensing "pie." As a young man of 18, Mr. Isbister gained his first experience as a 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th gradeteacher in Center Line. After two years in that capacity he was promoted to elementary principal of that town's educational set-up. It took the officials there but one short year to send him on the success ladder by appointing Mr. Isbister junior - senior high principal.

Seventeen years later he became the superintendent of schools in River Rouge. He served there for one year and then returned to Center Line to accept the position of superintendent of schools. It was three years later, in 1952, that Mr. Isbister accepted Plymouth's invitation to be superintendent of its schools.

Our well-known administrator is rounding off a decade of service as "skipper" of our school system. He has seen it grow from one consisting of five schools, a teaching staff of 82 and a school census of 2,587 students in 1951, to an ever-changing, ever-improving, ever-growing administration servicing 4,869 children with a staff of 205 teachers in 12 schools.

Supt. Isbister and his wife Clara make their home at 50005 Ann Arbor Rd. They are the parents of Robert who is a student at Western Michigan University; and James, who was recently married. James works for the U. S. government in the National Institute of Health.

Both of Mr. Isbister's parents and one brother are deceased. A sister, Elizabeth, is living in Richmond, Mich. while his brothers live in Lansing and Smith Creek. After his elementary education, Supt. Isbister received his secondary work at Memphis High School in Memphis, Mich. Universities attended were Eastern Michigan University, New York University, the University of Michigan. He received his bachelors degree in 1932 from Eastern Michigan University. The University, the University of Michigan, Wayne State University, New York University and Harvard University.

Mr. Isbister is in the process of completing his doctors degree which he plans in earning at Wayne State University.

Over a period of years he has become a member of the Michigan Education Assn., the National Education Assn., the Michigan Assn. of Schoolmasters Administration, the Michigan Assn. of Superintendents Curriculum Development, the American Association of School Administrators, the American Superintendents Curriculum Development and the Michigan School Business Officials.

New Books at Dunning-Hough Library

Two hard-hitting commentaries on contemporary Americana — Vance Packard's "The Status Seekers" and his "The Waste Makers" — were the most frequently requested non-fiction volumes at the Dunning-Hough Library in 1960, according to Librarian Agnes Pauline.

Packard, a journalist and teacher by profession, is also the author of the best-selling "The Hidden Persuaders," a 1957 expose of motivational research in present-day advertising and public relations.

This was followed by "The Status Seekers," a study of American class behavior, and "The Waste Makers," published late last year, which criticizes the over-consumption and over-purchasing of the American public.

Second on the list of popular titles during the past year was "May This House Be Safe From Tigers," by Alexander King. As in his earlier book, "Mine Enemy Grows Older," King offers a collection of lively anecdotes and reminiscences which found a waiting public.

Also frequently requested were Moss Hart's "Act I," Nicholas Dumas' "How I Made $2,000,000 in the Stock Market," Harry Golden's "Enjoy, Enjoy!" Errol Flynn's "My Wicked, Wicked Ways," Arlene Francis' "That Certain Something," Barry Goldwater's "Conservatism: A Conservative's View," Clifton Fadiman's "Lifetime Reading Plan," and Joe McCarthy's "The Remarkable Kennedys."

Top on the library's fiction list last year was James Michener's "Hawaii," the story of the integration of the divergent peoples of our 50th state into a composite society. Like the author's widely read "Sayonara" and "The Bridges at Toko-Ri," Michener's history of Hawaii presented top reading fare.

Close in popularity was Leon Uris' "Exodus," which sold 4,000,000 copies, and was on the national best-seller lists for 80 weeks, and has retained its reading popularity.

The library, Mrs. Pauline said, has materials on all aspects of flower gardening — what to plant, when to plant, and how to grow flowers successfully.

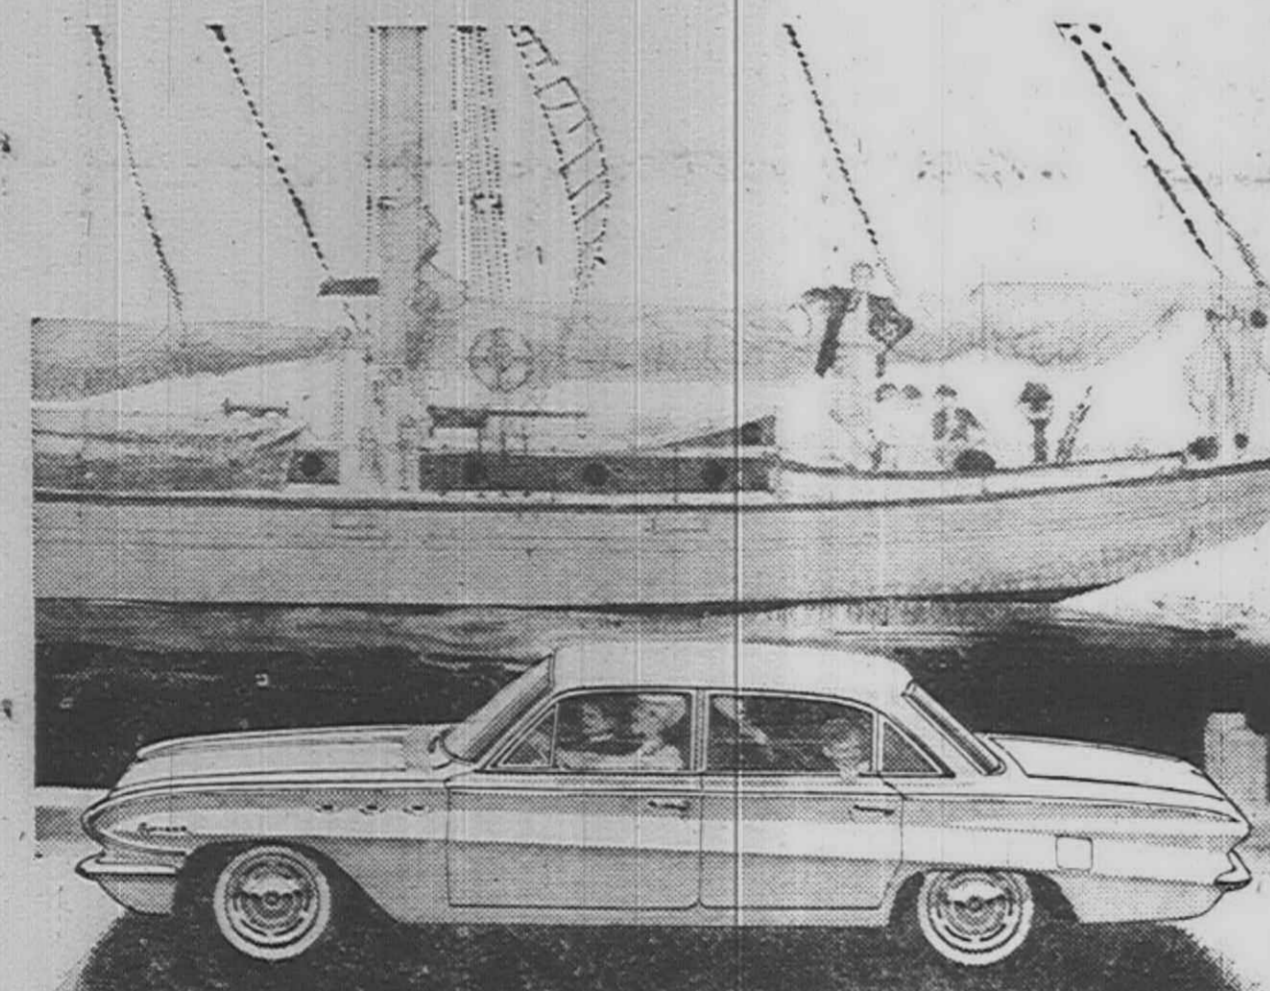

Numerous manuals are available on the growing of individual flower varieties. Some of the recently-published titles include "Camelias for Everyone," by Claude Shidman; "Getting Started With Rhododendrons and Azaleas," by Harold Clarke; "Iris for Every Garden," by Sydney Mitchell (Barrows, 1960 rev. ed.); "All About Begonias," by Bernice Brill; "Daffodils Outdoors and In," by Carey Quinn; "Geraniums," by Helen Wilson; "Dahlias for Every Garden," by M. C. Walker; "Peonies Outdoors and In," by Arno Nehring, and "All About African Violets," by Mantague Free.

General information about flower growing can be obtained in such gardening handbooks as Louise Bush-Brown's "America's Garden Book," "10,000 Garden Questions Answered by 20 Experts," edited by Frederick Rockwell; "Wise Garden Encyclopedia," Norman Taylor's "Garden Guide," "Woman's Home Companion Garden Book," edited by John Wister, and Alfred Hottes' "1,001 Garden Questions Answered."

Every gardener has certain perennials and annuals he plants and books are available on how to get the best results. Perennials are covered in such books as Charles Potter's "Perennials in the Garden for Lasting Beauty" and Montague Free's "All About the Perennial Garden," while annuals are discussed in Dorothy Jenkins' "Annuals for Every Garden" and Alfred Hottes' "Books of Annuals."

In addition, the library receives a number of magazines on gardening, including "Better Homes and Gardens," "Sunset," "Home and Garden," "Flower Grower," and "House and Garden."

Canton Readers Ask Questions About Chartered Township

hope this is just the beginning and will have many more. We are not publishing the names of the persons asking the question, only the question and answer.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Palmer are enjoying a very wonderful extended tour through the West. The couple plan a three to four month vacation and hope to cover approximately 7,500 miles.

Another very proud family just returned from a trip to Chicago and the Great Lakes Naval Base. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bowman and their son "Dick" attended graduation exercises from Naval Boot camp of the Bowman's son Robert. Bob graduated with 1,400 other Navy men and the Bowmans said it was one of the most impressive and beautiful sights they have witnessed.

Mr. and Mrs. Marty (Martin) Mitchell of Beck Rd. proudly boast of a new son, Shawn Martin, born at St. Joseph Hospital, Jan. 20. Shawn is a husky 8 lb., 14 oz. baby and has a brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Viperman of Saltz Rd. introduce a new son, Randall Allen, born Feb. 2 at the Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. Randall came home to five sisters and one brother, and we understand a specific order had been placed for a brother by his big brother.

On Feb. 20, Canton Township residents will be expected to go to the polls and choose a candidate to be on the April ballot for county auditor. A small turnout is expected. This will be the only issue on the primary ballot.

We are very happy to announce that Mrs. Everett Erwin of Hanford Rd. is on the road to recovery from recent surgery. Mrs. Erwin wanted us to thank the many wonderful people who helped her through her ordeal with the letters, cards and flowers. We hope Mrs. Erwin will continue to travel the road to recovery.

The boys and girls of Gallimore will be the guests at an all-school Valentine Party on Feb. 24. The party is being given by the room mothers and cookies and ice cream are on the menu. The mothers are also busy making personalized place mats to fit the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krause just returned from a month's vacation in Florida. The main object of their vacation was a visit with their son, Airman Larry Krause, stationed at Pensacola, Fla. The Krauses left from Willow Run, flew to Atlanta and N. Carolina, then on to Pensacola to visit their son.

One outstanding tour was through some of the sugar cane plantations. Mrs. Krause stated the plantations are still quite primitive. The juice is squeezed from the sugar cane by oxen yoked to a large wheel which they turned round and round, trying to get the food placed just out of their reach. The trip continued on to Pompano Beach, then to the Atlantic Sea Board. There the couple stayed at the Holiday Inn on the Ocean. They also visited with friends in Hollywood and Ft. Lauderdale. After a 2 1/2 week stay at Pompano, they drove North to Melbourne Beach to visit friends, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ross of Detroit and Foughton Lake, for a day. They again crossed the state to Tallahassee and then back to Pensacola to visit with Larry for two more days and nights.

Mr. Krause and Larry did a little bowling (the winner was not noted), and Larry took his parents to points of interest and a trip through his base, which they found most interesting. The couple then flew back to Willow Run. Mrs. Krause says Larry looks forward to receiving the Plymouth Mail each week and searches our column for familiar names, so may we say Hi! Larry, and the next time you get home you had better let us get a look at you in that uniform.

Another Township young man in the Navy is Larry Grow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grow, 64051 Hagerly. We understand Larry is also attending boot camp at Great Lakes in Chicago. We hope to hear more about Larry also.

Our Township stork is once again busy with deliveries. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schultz of Ford Rd. on Monday, Feb. 6. The young lady shall be known as Janet Sue. She weighed in at Ridgewood Hospital at 8 lbs., 10 oz. Janet Sue has three brothers and a big sister.

The Spoon and Spool group of the 4-H are very busy young ladies these days, planning a dinner for their friends as part of their 4-H cooking project. A promise has been made to let us in on the outcome of the festivities.

A little absent-minded these days, but no matter how late this report is, it is one of great pleasure to tell about Mr. and Mrs. Dave Miller of Saltz Rd. who recently helped plan, with other members of the family, celebration in honor of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller of 7820 Ashton Ave., Detroit. The Dave Millers also acted as host to out-of-town guests for the occasion.

Plan Your Spring Wardrobe

A sure way to avoid "having nothing to wear" this spring is to make a wardrobe plan now. The first step toward improving your wardrobe is to take inventory of the clothes you now own. Sort them into three groups: 1. Clothes that are ready for wear, 2. Clothes that need cleaning or repair, 3. Clothes to give away.

For the clothes that need cleaning or repair, decide what you will do with each item to make it wearable. It takes courage to get rid of the "deadwood" in your clothes closet, but if you cannot make it wearable, it's best to make room for the clothes you can use.

Consider your wardrobe a "collection" to be added to each season but worn for many seasons. Few of us can afford to buy everything we need at once, but we can make a wardrobe plan and add to it over the years.

The more limited your clothing budget is, the more careful the buying must be. Every article must have a purpose - a multiple purpose if possible. Avoid "one occasion" articles. With a larger clothing budget, you can branch out, choosing variety in colors.

A basic wardrobe should be simple. It should include a basic dress, coat and accessories in one color, with accents of colors that go well together.

The basic coat will be the most important item in your wardrobe. Full length coats have more uses than short coats. Simple straight-lined coats are always in fashion. Avoid exaggerated effects in collars, sleeves and pockets.

Your basic dress should be also simple in design. It should have little trim so that it forms a good background for accessories.

Accessories are the "spice" of a complete costume. A good rule to follow is to buy quality in shoes and purse, and spend less on your accessories' dollar for costume jewelry and other accent pieces. Careful selection of accessories for the basic dress can give the effect of having several different outfits.

Girl's World Invaded
BURLINGTON, Vt. (UPI) - The only male nurse in Vermont says he "wouldn't trade it for the world."

Paul Truax said, "The first day was the hardest. There was a lot of twittering among the 36 girls in the class." But Truax didn't fare badly. He's president of the State Student Nurses' Assn.

In loving memory of our wife, mother and grandmother, who passed away one year ago; loving and kind in all her ways; upright and just, to the end of her days; sincere and true in her heart and mind; beautiful memories left behind. Memories of the happy days when we were together, our eyes shed many a tear. Our hearts still ache with sadness, for we alone know how we miss her, as we enter another year.

Council-Manager Governments Still On Increase

The number of local governments using the council-manager form, such as the city of Plymouth, has doubled in the past 12 years.

The "1961 Directory of Council-Manager Cities" just published by the International City Managers' Assn., lists 1,756 cities, towns, townships, counties, and other local governments. Included among these are 59 cities in Canada.

The 1960 Census of Population designates 1,759 urban places of more than 10,000 population in the United States. Forty-nine percent of those over 25,000 population and 38 percent of those between 10,000 and 25,000 operate under the council-manager plan.

Eighty-four cities adopted the plan during 1960 and appear in the directory for the first time. The average number of adoptions since Jan. 1, 1949, is 73 cities per year.

The population of all places with council-manager government now exceeds 41.5 million.

There are four council-manager cities with populations over a half-million: Dallas and San Antonio, Tex.; San Diego, Calif.; and Cincinnati, Ohio. An additional 51 cities with populations over 100,000 also use this form.

Under the system, a manager is hired to serve as administrative head of the city under the general direction of the city council. A substantial majority of city managers have received special training or experience in government. For example, of the 175 men appointed to their first jobs as managers during 1960, 76 percent had previous public administration experience, usually as an assistant manager, department head, or municipal intern. More than half of these new managers were under 40 years of age.

The council-manager form of government is 53 years old. It started in 1908 when the council of Staunton, Va., appointed a manager. Four years later, Sumter, S. C., became the first city in which the plan was adopted by a vote of the people.

Adoptions grew steadily but slowly during the first four decades of the plan. As many communities have adopted the plan since 1949 as adopted it in the prior 41 years.

Only 68 cities have abandoned the plan by referendum.

Local Family Attends Church's Bible Forum

The James H. Honey family of 255 Adams St., was in Adrian recently where they attended a three-day Bible educational forum sponsored by Jehovah's Witnesses at the senior high school.

They were among a group of 1,742 who heard noted Witness speaker Nicholas Kovalak, Jr. answer the question, "Is God Interested in the Affairs of Men?" Mr. Kovalak is an advisor for the national headquarters organization of the Watchtower Bible Society.

"God does care," Kovalak told his audience, "since, as a Creator and loving Father he has provided everything that man needs, water, food, air, and resources." He cited proof that evidence of even greater interest would be felt within this generation.

"Besides material need," he continued, "Jehovah has shown love and concern for man by providing for his spiritual well-being; the Bible for his instruction; his son, Christ Jesus, as a ransom price to remove sin and open up before man the possibility of everlasting life; and the promise of a Kingdom, which is a real government under the leadership of Christ Jesus, the Prince of Peace."

Drawing on current events to show the Bible now in fulfillment, Kovalak asserted, "The marked year in man's history was 1914. Since then the world's condition of fear, hatred, wars, disasters, and wickedness is the visible evidence that God's Kingdom will accomplish its purpose within this generation."

He concluded his discussion by urging his listeners to study the entire Bible and thus gain wisdom with understanding because "God is interested in those who serve him."

Thirty-two persons were baptized Saturday afternoon following a talk by Kovalak on "Dedication."

Saturday evening's session was given to talks and demonstrations by local Michigan ministers on the theme "Directing Interest to Congregational Bible Studies."

Mr. Honey commented on the remarkable growth of Jehovah's Witnesses throughout the world and attributed it to the local Bible educational programs which are the same in every congregation. "We hold five one hour Bible classes each week at our Kingdom Halls," he said.

 CHICAGO (UPI) — The American dairy cow set new production records last year, the National Dairy Council reports. The average cow produced over 2,994 quarts of milk during 1959.

State President to Visit Plymouth B.P.O. Elks

Albert A. Vernon, state president of the B.P.O. Elks, will make his official visit to the Plymouth lodge on Wednesday, Feb. 22. A dinner will be served prior to the meeting which will start at 8 p.m.

Albert Vernon

In 1953-54 he was appointed to the State Scholarship Committee and was its chairman in 1954-55. In 1955-56 he was sergeant-at-arms for the association and in 1956-57 was appointed vice-president of the Southeast District. In 1957 he was elected to the board of trustees of his own lodge and is now serving as chairman. He was also appointed to the State Auditing Committee in 1957. In 1958 he was appointed by the grand exalted ruler as his district deputy for the Southeast District of Michigan. He was elected as vice-president at large in 1959 for the State Association and to its presidency in 1960. The year 1960-61 promises to be one of the best years in the history of the Michigan Elks Assn. under the leadership and guidance of Albert A. Vernon.

The local Elks will hold an initiation of new members in honor of their state president and it will be known as the "President Albert A. Vernon Class." President Vernon will address the lodge and the new members on Elkdom.

DUSTING INCREASES
 LONDON (UPI) — Britain runs Europe's largest air fleet for crop spraying due both to new fungicides and insecticides which are effective at low rates of application and the number of cheap war-surplus aircraft available.

A farming research specialist for the publication Farming Review said a survey showed that sprayed crop acreage rose from 35,000 in 1956 to better than 150,000 acres in 1958, the latest figures available.

By GEORGE SPELVIN
 Looking into the "entertainment" pantry, the aesthetic seeker of theatrical goodies will be pleasantly surprised at the lively stock of items on the showy shelves waiting patiently for your perusal. The Vanguard, Shubert, Penn, Wayne State University, and the Campus Theaters have delectable bills of fare to serve the most fastidious.

"Under The Gaslight," the melodrama written in 1867, is giving audiences a workout as they "get into the act" via the hooting and hollering at the villain. Years ago audiences weren't as sedate as they are today. And audiences at the Vanguard take only a few minutes before they get into the spirit of this melodrama.

The management of the Vanguard requests on ly one thing: please, no soft fruit. The hard fruit or vegetables can be used to feed the actors. You have only a couple more weeks to visit the Vanguard and experience the joy of participating in the fun of an old-time melodrama. They have the singing and dancing between the acts—just as they did back in Grand Dad's day. You'll have a "ball." Take the whole family to this happy event.

"At the Drop of A Hat" continues at the Shubert for one more week. Donald Swann and Michael Flanders kept old George smiling continually throughout the evening with their lively patter and clever songs. A couple of my favorite songs were "The Reluctant Cannibal" (he won't eat humans) and "A Song of Reproduction" (having to do with hi-fi and woodpeckers and tweeters). You come out of the theater convinced that you witnessed two men completely surrounded by talent and you only hope they will return soon some day with more of their sardonic, impish material.

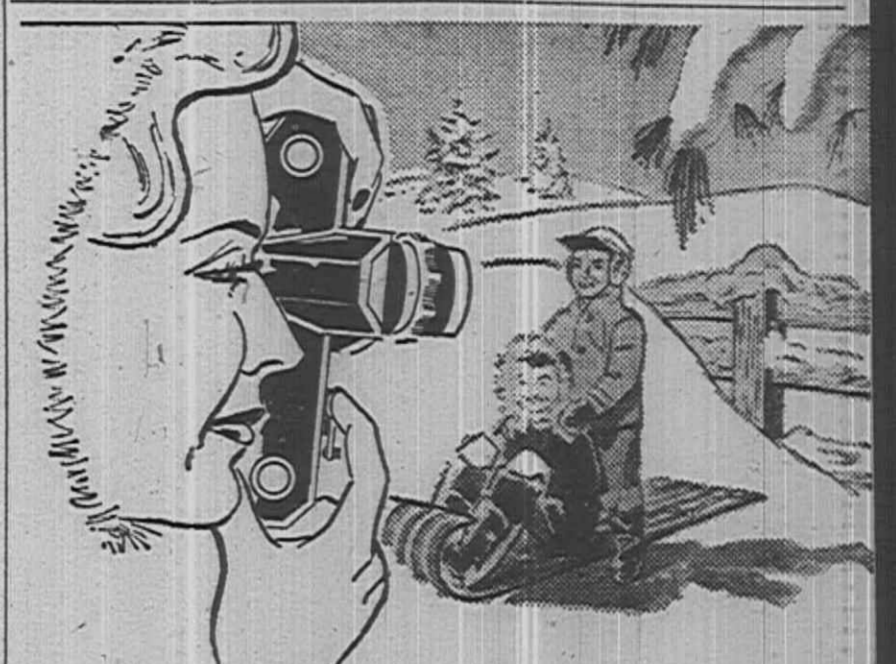

At The Penn
 "The Sundowners" is playing at the Penn Theater this week. Here's an interesting unusual tale about the Australian sheepherders. Bob Mitchum and Peter Ustinov share acting honors in this adventure story. The whole family will enjoy this film.

"Roshomon," the Japanese drama, continues this week-end for three more performances at the Wayne State University Theater. This production is being directed by Dr. Leonard Leone, the head man of the University Theater. All advance reports on this show indicate that the usual high level of competency in the fields of acting, staging, and other technical details has been maintained. The Wayne State University Theater is at 3424 Woodward Ave., a short way from Warren Ave. Try some University Theater for a change in your thespic diet.

Another Bergman Film
 "The Virgin Spring" opened last week at the Campus Theater in Ann Arbor and will be on view until Feb. 23. If you're an Ingemar Bergman film fan, and who isn't, you'll jump into your foreign sports car and wheel over to the

All About Babies

By Kathy Cornelius

Women's Champion Golfer Kroydon Golf Advisory Staff

As a golf professional who recently became the mother of a wonderful baby, I received many letters from women who asked, "Is it really all right to play golf while I'm pregnant?"

My answer is that I did. I played golf daily during my pregnancy up to the seventh month. Then I took time off until six weeks after the baby's birth. However, since I am not a doctor, I do not feel that I can give advice to other women. All I can do is report my own experience.

Having been fortunate enough to win the Women's National Open Tournament in 1956 and the Women's Cosmo-opolitan in 1959, I can speak with some authority about golf. But when it comes to pregnancy, the answers must come from a doctor.

B. and P.W. Have Boss Night Feb. 20

To fetter their 'bosses' is the intent of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club when they gather at Hillside Inn for dinner the evening of Feb. 20. At this time an outstanding employer will be chosen by the Career Advancement Committee to be honored by the group.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

EDITOR:
We would like to rectify a misprint in the monthly "Washington Newsletter," published by the office of Congresswoman Martha Griffiths from the 17th district. The article regarding Federal Surplus Food states that residents of Livonia go to Redford Township to make application. The corrected article should read: Residents of Livonia, Northville and Plymouth apply at 887 South Mill Street, Plymouth, Michigan.

Only residents of Redford Township are to apply at 15145 Beech Rd., Redford Township Hall.

Handwriting Is A Clue About You

Dear Miss Williams: I would appreciate it very much if you would give me an analysis of my handwriting. It is necessary that I add how much I enjoy your column.

Thank you, S. J. J.

Dear S. J. J.: You are an independent thinker, you set your own standards and are self thinking. You have the power of concentration and watch the smallest details. There is future mindedness, you are visionary and set goals far ahead. You handle responsibility and have good organization ability - being neat and thrifty. You have a good memory and have a desire to add to your present knowledge and possessions.

Dear Miss Williams: I, too, have waited to write in for an analysis but kept putting it off. Now I am anxious to hear from you about my handwriting. Thank you very much.

A. R.

Dear Miss Williams: I look forward each week to reading your column and have decided to join the many readers in writing you to have my handwriting analyzed.

Thank you for your time. Sincerely, Ann G.

Dear Ann: I left a paragraph out of your letter because it was a little long and I didn't want to run short on space. You are not highly emotional but an expressive person by nature. You're not sensitive and have a sense of humor. You're a little bit independent in your thinking and are more material minded than philosophical. You would like to look to the future and advance but lack aim and purpose in going at it. You need more faith in yourself and your ability.

Dear Lucille: Sometime ago I wrote but received no answer. I'll try again. I would appreciate an analysis of my handwriting. Thank you very much.

I. N.

Dear I. N.: You have some literary ability, the ability to work on paper or express yourself on paper along with a good imagination. You handle responsibility well and like things done right. Your aim and purpose in life is very good and you have the determined effort to see it through. You are generous but resent imposition, have a pride and practically no sensitivity to criticism. There is deep feeling and an expressive nature, liking physical activity and variation in everyday living. You have a good memory and enjoy learning more.

Jerry Seibert Says...

Artfully abbreviated in length, sleek and cheery in form, forward looking in direction, with emphasis on color and highlights - these are the marks of the new Vital Look in hair fashions. This is the new 1961 look in hair styles as presented by Clairol Haircoloring Institute and a panel of leading hairstylists.

According to previews:

"KISSING CURLS": a 1961 hair style created by stylist Julius Caruso. The top sides and crown are draped like lustrous satin. Pointedly uneven at the sides, the right cheek curl belongs to the eyes, the left to the chin - living up to its name, "Kissing Curls." Courtesy of Clairol, Inc.

Our 'Climate' Worsens

Norge Picks Arkansas, Too

By ELMER E. WHITE
LANSING — Probably there never was a time when more Michigan people were thinking and talking more about programs to create jobs than now. This includes both community and state levels. And probably there has never been a time when people of the state were as willing to work together in such programs.

Unemployment figures, business reports and recently the announcement that Norge will move its Muskegon Heights plant to Arkansas made it quite clear in everyone's mind that the economic climate in Michigan is in serious need of improvement—and now.

The Norge incident is dramatic evidence of a situation which has been in the news for many months. For a year the rumor had been rife that the plant would be moved. Community leaders and representatives of the state Economic Development Department worked hard; even desperately to hold electric refrigerator production here. But it became apparent that the new, one million square foot plant near Fort Smith, Ark. could easily produce both gas and electric models. On Feb. 1, it was announced that the somewhat antiquated plant in Muskegon Heights would be closed.

Arkansas' Gov. Orval E. Faubus, incidentally, lost no time in claiming that the state's gain was largely the result of legislation adopted recently and designed to lure industry there. They have a law which permits municipalities to issue revenue bonds to build plants for industry. Greenwood, Ark., a suburb of Fort Smith, issued a $7.5 million bond issue to build the Norge plant.

Michigan leaders must now decide what programs this state will adopt to help in its situation. The newly elected Governor, John B. Swainson, indicates that he will have several recommendations. One approach to receive serious consideration involves a way for the state to aid local groups financing construction of buildings for lease to industry. In the past this and similar programs have been considered too liberal by the Legislature. But other states, some of them with a reputation for being conservative, have adopted such programs. To many in this state, especially the hard working staff of the Economic Development Department, some new programs are weapons urgently needed for the fight to attract industry.

Conservative Maine has a sort of industrial FHA plan. So does Rhode Island. The state guarantees up to 90 percent of a loan made by a bank in cooperation with a community industrial development group to build a plant for lease to industry. In both states the plan seems to be working well. In Maine the plan was delayed a year while it went to a vote of the people and then to the supreme court. Attorneys say that in Michigan too a constitutional amendment would be required and a supreme court test could be expected to follow. This would take important time.

Pennsylvania has advertised for several years that "100 percent financing of industrial plants" is available. In fact, Pennsylvania has spent something more than half a million dollars for this advertising alone. Five years ago the Pennsylvania legislature appropriated $5 million for plant construction loans. From year to year additional sums have been appropriated, to a present total of $18 million. For each plant construction project that qualifies the state loans a third of the cost, and a community industrial development corporation and a local bank divide the rest. Commitments from the state fund have reached more than $16,000,000.

One job was created, Pennsylvania estimates, for every $654 loaned by the state. Payrolls created are estimated at $82 million a year. A standard assumption would show one percent of this payroll paid by the recipients in direct and indirect taxes to the state and its local units of government, which would mean a million dollars coming back in taxes each year on $16 million of loans.

If Your Name Is Tim

How's Business

By ANNE REYNOLDS

"Tim" or "Timmy" and "Timothy" are short for "Timothy," and the endearing forms are special favorites with children. When five-year-old Steve, the child of friends of mine, was told to pick a name for his new baby brother, he selected "Tim." Another little friend of mine, seven-year-old Belinda, reserved "Tim" for her most cherished doll.

Yet this name has a serious meaning. It came to us from ancient Greece, and signifies "respect God" or "Fear God." And this way it seems fitting for the one Timothy who is responsible for its having become popular. He was a disciple of St. Paul, a man who devoted all his energy to the study of the Scriptures.

Timothy died a martyr when he was bishop of Ephesus, a city in Asia Minor. His martyrdom was brought about because he tried to stop the heathen revelry of Artemis worshippers which was a yearly occurrence during the festivals dedicated to that pagan goddess.

"Timothy" was a name borne by quite a few famous Greeks. A noted Athenian naval commander was so called. A Greek musician and poet had it for a name; he has been credited with having added four more strings to the three-stringed Greek lyre. One Timothy was a famous sculptor who worked with the illustrious Scopas, one of the greatest Athenian artists.

(Want to know about some other name? Write to Anne, care of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Requests without return postage cannot be answered.)

Stock Prices Offer Hope

By ROGER W. BABSON

The divergent movements of general business and stock prices in recent months is a paradoxical situation.

The stock market since late October of 1960 has rallied 15 percent, as measured by the Dow-Jones Industrial Average, while business has drifted downward about 5 percent.

The discrepancy is even more perplexing since reports of current and near-term business are generally discouraging, and the best that experts have to offer is the hope of an improving trend toward midyear. Even this is a tenuous prospect at present.

To students of financial history, however, strength in the stock market holds a ray of encouragement for future economic conditions. This is based on the tendency of stock prices to recover in advance of a general recovery in industrial activity.

motivating the current outburst of investor buying impatience, there are valid grounds for questioning whether this precedent will again hold sway. Fundamentally, the present rise in stock prices has been predicated largely upon inflation-hedge psychology. In other business slumps of recent years, consumer spending, business capital spending, and building had, either singly or in combination, bolstered the economy and eventually sparked a revival.

Unfortunately, all three of these vital economic sectors are experiencing tough sledding at the present time. And it remains to be seen whether government spending can wield sufficient force to catapult general business upward again to a degree justifying current optimism in the stock market.

It is possible that if stock market vitality is prolonged sufficiently, a measure of optimism can spill over and influence business and consumer psychology. Unless this occurs, however, stock prices may again be put to the stern test of a new reappraisal of future business and profits trends.

Dear Dan: It isn't very often that I haven't been able to go to my parents and get advice and guidance but this time I know I can't and I'm asking you for your help. I'll be 21 in July, a man in the eyes of the law. My girl and I would like to get married.

Up. Dear Mixed Up: Mixed marriages are in great part like other marriages—some are successful and some fail. I know of many couples of different religions who apparently have happy marriages and in several cases, either the husband or the wife has made enough of a concession so that the children are being raised in one religion without any bitterness or disappointment on the parents' parts.

Dear Dan: There's a boy who goes to our canteen every Friday night and I'm just dying to meet him but I don't know how. He dances once in awhile but has never asked me and I don't have the courage to ask him whenever we have a ladies choice. I have caught him staring at me several times and wonder if this means he might like to get to know me? Please answer soon.—Miss Shyness.

Dear Miss Shyness: If you haven't asked this boy to dance during a ladies choice because of shyness it's just possible the boy has the same problem. A boy can appear to be a regular ladies' man and dance with 30 different girls during an evening but if he has enough shyness in his make-up, he usually won't be very aggressive where the girl he likes is concerned.

It looks to me as if you're wasting a lot of valuable time. Get up your courage and the next time you have a ladies choice, ask him. If you don't, he just may get discouraged and stop coming to the canteen. Wouldn't that be terrible?

Dear Dan: I want to get a lawn mowing business started this summer and would like to know if I should charge extra when I use my mower or would it be better to keep the price the same for everybody? I'm nearly 14.—Ambitious.

Dear Ambitious: Use your own lawn mower for all your work and charge the same rate, whether it be for the size of a lawn or by the hour.

Dear Dan: When a boy wants to kiss a girl good-night, does he just kiss her or should he ask permission? I've taken this girl out four times and still haven't kissed her goodnight. I think she wants to have me kiss her but I'm not sure. What should I do?—Billy.

Dear Billy: Sometimes a boy can ask a girl for a good-night kiss without even speaking a word. In your case, I think if you ask the girl you'd be better off. Some girls won't kiss a boy good night even after a dozen dates but most will after several dates—and you qualify.

U-M Completes Report On Area Negro Population

Total non-white population in the greater Detroit area has tripled since 1940, but the rate of increase has slowed significantly in the past decade, The University of Michigan Detroit Area Study (DAS) reports.

Today, approximately one out of six metropolitan area residents is non-white. Twenty years ago, the population was about one in 12.

During the past 20 years, the entire greater Detroit area grew by more than a million people. In the 'Forties, non-white population grew about six times as fast as white; in the 'Fifties, the non-white rate of increase (48 percent) was only three times that of the white (16 percent).

Residentially, non-white population has followed in the footsteps of earlier minority groups, according to DAS Director Harry Sharp. Heavily concentrated in downtown Detroit, the non-white population has now started to spread toward the outer portions of the city. But appreciable change has occurred in the racial composition of the suburbs as yet.

"These changes have tremendous implications for the future growth of the entire metropolitan area," Sharp observes.

"To the degree that increased contact among different population groups leads eventually to better understanding, such movement should be seen as contributing to the establishment of a community where everyone can be judged purely on his own merits, and not as a member of some social or biological category."

The current redistribution of population within the metropolitan area follows a pattern established by earlier minority groups in Detroit and other metropolitan centers, Sharp notes.

Like the Jew, the Italian, the French, and, before them, the Irish and Germans, non-whites have concentrated heavily in the central part of Detroit, in a radius about six miles from the city hall.

During the past 20 years, this portion of Detroit has lost about as many white residents as it gained non-whites (roughly 300,000). The out-migration of whites was especially heavy during the 'Fifties.

"The innermost part of greater Detroit has been dependent for some time on non-whites for the maintenance of its population," Sharp notes.

"Moreover, unless present efforts to make the inner city more attractive to whites, the trends indicate the continued exodus of whites and a marked decline in the rate at which non-whites will move into this zone in the future."

At present, residents of the downtown area are about evenly divided between whites and non-whites.

The outer city—defined as those portions of Detroit, Hamtramck and Highland Park lying more than 1 1/2 miles from Detroit City Hall—has added both whites and non-whites to its population, since 1940.

During the 'Forties, this area added more than a quarter million new residents, of which none out of 10 were white. In the 'Fifties, the net gain was much smaller—roughly 80,000—but about three-fourths of the increase was non-white. Early this year, about one resident in 10 living in the outer city was non-white.

In contrast to the city, the proportion of non-whites living in the suburbs has changed very little since 1940. Throughout the last two decades, no more than three to six per cent of the suburban population has been non-white.

So far as the city itself is concerned, Sharp continues, "There is considerable evidence that Detroit's population loss over the last decade, occurred in large measure, since the 1958 economic setback."

"Size estimates through 1957 indicate that at that time the city was actually slightly larger than in 1950."

"A reduced demand for semi-skilled factory workers, probably has resulted in the relatively recent movement out of the non-white by both whites and non-whites. At the same time, it has virtually shot off a sizable influx of migrants, both white and non-white, from the South."

Sharp's data are based on preliminary figures from the 1960 census and DAS survey of 2,000 dwelling units taken shortly before the census. Since U.S. census figures, by race were not available, when his report was prepared, the DAS findings "must be regarded as tentative," he notes.

Single copies of the report, titled "Estimates of the Distribution of the White and Non-White Population of Greater Detroit: 1940-1960" are available free on request from the Detroit Area Study Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

Exercise Helps Remedy Malady, Mid-Winter Sag

LANSING—Are you suffering from mid-winter sag? This is a common malady about this time of year when most people are beginning to tire from winter and gloomy and "inconvenient" snowfalls and start "hanging on" for the arrival of spring.

Symptoms of winter sag include finding it more difficult each morning to drag yourself out of bed and get going for the day's work ahead. The tetter of facing the crisp, cold morning air seems to increase each morning. And your spirits parallel the kind of day it is—they sink when the days are dark and gloomy and rise in anticipation of warmer, brighter days ahead when the sun breaks through.

If you're a victim of winter sag and would like to pull yourself out of the doldrums which strike at this time of year, you may find this prescription, offered by your state health commissioner, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, quite helpful. A lot of people have.

"Get out of the house or out of the office once or twice daily and take a brisk walk. Even if it's only through a block or two, you'll be surprised at the almost instant effect it will have. You'll start feeling better and start regaining immediately the pep and zest for living you noticed you were losing lately. The winter sag should disappear almost overnight."

Even though many different forms of exercise have been developed over the years, walking is still one of the best, according to Dr. Heustis. He recommends taking some deep breaths during the jaunt to fill your lungs with the crisp, healthful fresh air. Swing your arms and really loosen up. Before long, you'll be feeling so much better that even though you may be pushing 60 or 70, you may almost be tempted to break into a skip along the route like you used to do on the way home from school during those happy days of childhood.

If you give in to winter sag, the most other maladies it will get worse.

If you act now and decide to do something about it, you can literally walk right away from winter sag. And spring will arrive a lot sooner than you expected, the state health commissioner claims.

Michigan Bell Boosts School Fund $14 Million

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced its payment to the state primary school fund in 1960 was the largest, single state property tax payment in the company's history. Amounting to a record $14,857,665, an increase of nearly a million dollars over 1959, the payment again placed Michigan Bell as the top contributor to the fund.

Thomas J. Glavin, manager here for the company, reported that $40,884 of the total tax payment was allocated to the public school system of Plymouth. This is an increase of $2,677 over last year.

Schools throughout Wayne County received from Michigan Bell's payment a total of $4,956,546. Payments were based on the county school census of 709,091, and the local school census of 5,849. The tax payment amounted to $6.99 for each of the 2,124,139 students in the state between the ages of 5 and 19 who were on the census rolls for the 1959-60 school year.

SUNNY SIDE UP

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Edwin Gangwer, food service manager at the Virginia State Penitentiary here, faced with the giant job of trying more than 2,000 eggs each morning, solved it with his own invention.

Gangwer came up with a device consisting of a set of 12 stainless steel rings mounted in a frame of the same metal. A stainless steel cup suspended over each ring. Eggs are broken into the cups, then the unit is set onto a hot grill. At the flip of a single lever all the cups tilt simultaneously and empty the eggs into the rings resting on the grill surface.

WPA employes discharged for shirking or misconduct will not be re-employed by the Works Progress Administration or any other government agency, State Administrator Harry L. Pierson warned WPA workers this week. He added that the WPA four day work week, recently inaugurated, would considerably benefit workers, particularly in rural areas, by allowing time for seeking regular employment.

Some clever maker who had time and inclination to bother about these "little things" has perfected a wire hairpin which looks as if it would be of service to many women. It is made of wire, like the usual wire hairpin, the ends of this new pin are kinked in the most unusual way. These new twists are put in so that the pin will not have a chance to slip out of the hair. It is comfortable and does not hurt the hair or head when worn.

Among the newest hatpins are those mounted with birds' heads, small tufts of fancy feathers, a pair of tiny outspread wings and a hundred and one other varieties. And with street suits, these 2 1/2 yd. mufts are invariably carried. They can be made of fur, or combinations of cloth and fur; entirely of cloth or velvet and of satin and lace.

Mr. Woods spent Sunday at his home in Denton. If anyone wants to get their needles just put on the gloves and stand up in front of him.
