Township Forms First Department Of Public Works

A resolution officially establishing a Department of Public Works was approved during a special meeting of the Plymouth Township Board last week.

The new department will become operative Jan. 1 when the first superintendent of public works, Mathew A. McLellan, begins his duties. The resolution notes that since the Township now operates 20 miles of water line and 15 miles of sewer, such a department is necessary to insure uninterrupted service.

where the change will be made on official records.

Water Changelog
The Board decided to ask that a meeting be held with the City Commission to arrange for the transfer of City water mains that are located in the Township. The transfer will begin with Green Meadows.

It is estimated by Engineer Herald Hamill that taking over and connecting the systems in Green Meadows and Plymouth Gardens will cost $30,000.

Offers $500 Reward In Hit-Run Case

A $500 reward has been offered by the family of a Plymouth Township resident, who on Nov. 16 was critically injured by a hit and run driver.

Thomas Dowdell, 76, of 39625 Plymouth Rd., is still confined to Wayne County General Hospital with multiple fractures of the right leg and jaw and a fractured hand. He was struck as he was walking along Edward Hines Drive toward his home from Plymouth. He was found unconscious by a passing motorist.

The family of Mr. Dowdell is now offering a $500 reward to the person who can offer information leading to the apprehension of the hit-run driver.

Anyone having information is being urged to call or write the Michigan State Police, the Wayne County Road Patrol, or Box 120 in care of The Plymouth Mail.

Should the person wish to remain anonymous, they may phone or write any of the above addresses and give a five-digit number to identify themselves. Should the tip result in the arrest of the driver, the anonymous person may claim the reward by identifying himself only through the five-digit number.

Named to City Planning Group

Sidney Strong, who has served on the City Planning Commission 23 years, will begin a new term next month.

Starting his first term will be George Hudson, 706 Burroughs, while continuing for another term will be Charles Engstrom, 1381 Elm. Appointments were made recently by Mayor Robert Sincock.

Strong began with the Planning Commission in 1938, a year after the Commission was started, and has served as its chairman for most of these years.

Hudson will replace Fred Beitner, who decided not to accept another term. Hudson, a supervisor at the Detroit Transmission Plant, is one of the few citizens who is a regular visitor.

THE BIG TREASURE hunt is on tomorrow! These treasure chests will be located in most of Plymouth's stores this Thursday. Keys have been sent out to all homes within the area attached to a special section. Those with keys that fit one of the locks will find a slip of paper inside telling them what prize they win. Attractive Dawn Schwarz, manager of Craig's Ladies Apparel, is shown taking a peek inside one of the chests.

Try Your Treasure Chest Keys for Host of Prizes

Plymouth merchants earlier this week were making final arrangements for the gigantic 1961 Plymouth Holiday Treasure Hunt which starts tomorrow (Thursday) and features more than $1,500 worth of free prizes.

As more than 35 stores were setting up colorful displays centered around miniature treasure chests and treasure hunt officials were distributing 111 certificates to participating merchants, potential shoppers were arming themselves with 30,000 metal keys in preparation for the kick-off of the event.

The metal keys last weekend were taped to the face of a special treasure hunt section of The Plymouth Mail which was then direct mailed to all of the homes in this vicinity.

(As a result, The Plymouth Mail's regular edition this week is somewhat slimmer than it usually is at this time of year. A large proportion of the advertising messages was contained in the special section. The Mail, nevertheless, contains its full complement of local news.)

The Treasure Hunt will last until Dec. 23 and coincides with the period when local merchants will remain open to 9 p.m. for the convenience of Christmas shoppers.

Of the 30,000 keys mailed to homes in this area, 111 of them are "magic" ones. Each magic key will open a treasure chest and will win a valuable free gift as a result.

Gifts range from portable television sets to clothes, groceries, sporting goods and power tools. Treasure Hunt officials estimate that the value of the 111 free gifts will exceed $1,500.

Two Choral Groups Join With Symphony for Christmas Concert

There will be an exciting "first" for Plymouth this Sunday, Dec. 10 at 4 p.m. when the Grant Williams Chorale, a veritable showcase of singers, will make their first major appearance. The newly-formed group will join the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra and the Plymouth Civic Chorus for a Christmas concert in the High School Auditorium.

At the urging of conductor Wayne Dunlap, Grant Williams, a young, native Detroit, has formed his musical organization to fulfill a need in the Detroit area for a musical group dedicated to professional standards, and sparking with the excitement of youthful enthusiasm. The 30 young men and women in the group have been selected not only for talent and ability but with consideration of the perfect blending of their voices.

Williams' musical career has had many facets. He holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Juilliard School of Music. His operatic career includes leading roles and repeated seasons with top ranking companies here and abroad, including the New York City Opera Company and the Philadelphia Lyric Opera. He has also appeared widely on the concert stage, performed oratorios, and is a recording artist for RCA Victor and MGM Records.

Especially interesting to Williams was the seven years he has spent with the Robert Shaw Chorale as a soloist. He is currently planning to make the Russian tour with this group in the fall. The Grant Williams Chorale will appear with the Grosse Pointe Symphony Orchestra on Jan. 21 and will participate in the Detroit Conversation and Art Series in March.

For this Sunday's concert the Grant Williams Chorale will assist the Plymouth Symphony in presenting Berlioz' "The Childhood of Christ" (Parts II and III) and Bach's "Magnificat in D Major."

The Plymouth Civic Chorus directed by Fred Nelson will also participate in the program.

In addition, the orchestra will present "A Carol on Twelfth Night" by Bergsma.

There will be no charge for admission. Nursery facilities will be available for children, age two and over.

Engineers Fear Future

Builders Protest New City Drain Water Rule

Should storm water that runs into the weep tile around homes be allowed to empty into the sanitary sewer, or should it be pumped out onto the lawn?

That is the seemingly simple question that is before the City Commission again that they thought they had resolved a month ago. But builders appearing before the Commission Monday night pointed out that the Commission's solution is not so simple nor practical.

A month ago, the Commission passed a resolution requiring that where storm water cannot be emptied into a storm sewer, it should be pumped out of the basement. It was referring to the "weep" system of collecting water from around the foundation.

Three local builders, Loren Gould, Finch Roberts and Stewart Oldford, appeared Monday night to protest the resolution, claiming that sump pumps are not reliable and that pumping the water out onto lawns causes trouble, especially when it runs onto neighbor's lawns or flows onto sidewalks and streets when it freezes.

Loren Gould, chief spokesman for the builders, noted that there are perhaps only a 100 or so building sites remaining in the City of Plymouth and that allowing these to run sewage water into sanitary sewer would cause no hardship, especially after the City's pumping station is eliminated in a year or so when a new sanitary sewer reaches here from the southeast.

Frank Lodge, representative of the City's engineers, Johnson & Anderson, argued, however, that storm water getting into the sanitary sewer system is a problem today, not only in Plymouth, but in many communities. Garden City, he said, is spending $3 million to build a separate storm water system. Overloading the sanitary sewer causes a backup which has caused trouble in some basements already.

(The City has a storm sewer system which empties into Tonquish Creek. It carries off the street water, but in some low areas, Tonquish Creek is higher than the basement levels. This means that storm sewers in the streets cannot be used.)

After a half hour of debate on the subject, the City Commission decided to call a special meeting next Monday night to devote more time to the subject.

Itinerant Merchants
Second reading was given to an ordinance that would require merchants who do not intend to stay in business long to pay a fee each month they will be here.

Santa Arrives Here Saturday

Jolly old Santa Claus, carrying enough candy for each of his little friends, will step off a fire truck in downtown Plymouth this Saturday at 10 a.m. and set up his headquarters in Kellogg Park for the rest of the day.

Instead of dropping in by helicopter as he has done in the past two years, St. Nick will come whizzing into town by fire engine. A house trailer will be set up at the end of "Candy Cane Lane" for his personal chats with his young visitors.

His hours this Saturday, and for Saturdays, Dec. 16 and 23 will be from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

On Thursdays, Dec. 14 and 21 and Fridays, 15 and 22, his hours will be from 3 to 6 p.m.

Santa's visit here is again being arranged by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Most Plymouth stores are beginning their "open nights 'til Christmas" hours this Thursday night.

Long-Silent Town Bell On Bank Is Grounded

"Bell on top of the bank? What bell?" Even many of Plymouth's long-time residents had forgotten that a bell connected to the clock on top of the National Bank of Detroit once rang out the hours.

Last week, Penniman Ave. was blocked off beside the bank while a crane crew assembled a boom 110 feet long and gently lifted the bell off the building. It weighed an estimated ton and a half.

The clock that was connected to the bell is still at work telling time for hundreds of passersby every day. But the bell itself has not been rung for several decades.

The bell has been resting all these years in a small enclosure in the middle of the bank roof. Its weight has been an unnecessary burden.

ONE LAST RING was given the ton and a half bell that once tolled the hours at the National Bank of Detroit. Assistant Vice-President Robert Barbour is shown in the bell enclosure on the roof of the building as a crane with a 110-foot boom prepares to lift it to the ground. Local welder, Ossie Hinote, supervisor of the job, took possession of the bell.

8th Boar's Head Dinner Readied for Presbyterian Men

The traditional Boar's Head Dinner of the Men's Council of First United Presbyterian Church will be carried on again this month when another dinner is held Wednesday, Dec. 13.

Started seven years ago, the dinner is cooked and served by the men to its own members and their sons. Last year, 160 attended.

With a flourish of trumpets, musicians, dressed in early English costumes, lead a procession into the ball with the chef carrying the boar's head and assistant chefs bearing platters of pork and other food.

The custom stems from early England. The traditional Boar's Head Carol is played by the musicians and well-known Christmas carols are later sung by the guests.

The boar's head is placed in the center of the huge table in the middle of the room and platters of food placed around it.

Tickets may be obtained by calling Robert Delaney, GL 3-7080 or William Ruse, GL 3-2924. Tickets are $2.25 for adults and $1.50 for children. Robert Delaney is general chairman.

The new son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lawton, 1317 Sheridan Ave., has been named Colton Paul. Born Nov. 20 at St. Mary Hospital, the infant weighed 9 pounds, 9 ounces. The new arrival has one brother and a sister.

along the hallways outside were filled with couples in their semi-formal attire and all but three of the ticket-holders were at the dance by 10 p.m. when five silver pieces were given away.

Mrs. Ray Hulce, chairman of the ball, expressed delight at the nearly maximum attendance of the "wonderfully enthusiastic crowd" that came. The entire committee was heartened by the gathering that seemed to be having such a good time and they expressed hope that this will, in the future, establish the Symphony Ball as one of the real highlights of the social season in Plymouth.

Out of the 185 tickets sold, the committee learned, 179 couples attended.

"Said Mrs. Hulce of her committee, "We had a real working group and the generous blending of time and effort certainly contributed greatly to its success."

Winners of the silver pieces were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Lent, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vincent and Mr. and Mrs. James Borgstrom.

In years past, the dance has been held between Christmas and New Years. This year, the committee decided to change the date and perhaps draw upon those who are too busy during the between-holiday season. From all indications, the experiment proved successful.

Early in the evening, the gay crowd joined in group singing and heard band leader and pianist Bob Durant featured in several solo numbers.

Methodist Pastor Invited To View Alaska Missions

An invitation to join a group of pastors who will observe Methodist missions in Alaska and join an evangelism program has been extended to The Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D., pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The congregation is this Sunday beginning a drive to raise $900 to finance the journey. The trip will begin Feb. 22 and will end March 8. Dr. Johnson will join 15 to 20 other Methodist ministers in Seattle for an orientation program before they move on to Alaska.

During their stay in Alaska, the pastors will visit the missions and participate in an evangelism program during which they will preach on Sundays in Alaska's Methodist churches and visit homes. There will be only a few hours of daylight during each day during the visit.

As part of the program, the local congregation must agree to "loan" its pastor during the period and pay his expenses.

Sanford Burr, lay assistant to the pastor, said that an appeal to members for the $900 will begin this Sunday and will conclude at Christmas. "This is a tremendous opportunity for Dr. Johnson to observe the work of missions in Alaska and to share his experiences with us," Mr. Burr continued. "The entire congregation will benefit from this program."

Further information can be secured by calling Mr. Burr at GL 3-0556.

Dr. Johnson is in his 12th year at Plymouth.

THE ANNUAL Christmas Sale sponsored by Plymouth Rotary Anns, began Dec. 5 and will continue through Dec. 9 from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. at Krogers. The lady pictured is a resident of Livonia crippled with arthritis for the last ten years. Mrs. Robert Mauer and Mrs. Robert Beyer are in charge of this year's Rotary Ann Sale.

Local Hi-Y Delegates Join Youth Legislature

The Michigan State Capitol at Lansing will be invaded on Dec. 7, 8 and 9 when nearly 300 high school students will be attending the annual State YMCA Youth Legislature. Members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs from throughout the state have attended training conferences, studied legislative procedures, written legislative bills and elected representatives and senators to attend the event.

Plymouth will have an important part in the program. Not only will the local Hi-Y club be represented with their faculty adviser, Fred Meier, but James N. Garber, 42269 Hammill Lane, employed by the Wayne County Road Commission will serve as the leader for a committee on highways and motor vehicles, and Roger H. Blood, 1150 Roosevelt, will be director of the convalesce as program director of the State YMCA of Michigan.

Boys attending the event will be: Robert Winterhalter, (Senator) 1302 Maple; Kenneth Evans, (Representative) 45560 West Ann Arbor Trail; Ron Becker, 643 Hartough, and Clint Blood, 1150 Roosevelt (alternates), and Alvin Larsen, 1461 West Maple as a member of the press.

We extend our sympathies to the James Spigarelli Family of Beck Rd. Mrs. Spigarelli's mother, Mrs. Repachi of Kansas City, Kan., passed away recently. Mrs. Spigarelli and her sister just returned from the funeral.

Another successful classroom visitation is reported by two of the first grade teachers of the Gallimore School. Mrs. Margaret McKenna and Miss Marsha Brown (a new teacher to our school system) report approximately 54 parents attended each room's demonstration. Mrs. McKenna's boys and girls greeted their parents at the evening program and introduced them. They then showed them their work books and proudly showed them work displayed on the bulletin boards. The youngsters sang a song and gave a demonstration of their rhythm band accomplishments. Miss Brown's group followed a similar procedure. Following their room demonstration the two groups joined in the multipurpose room for refreshments of brownies and coffee and punch. The room mothers wish to extend their thanks to all the mothers who contributed to the evening by bringing brownies. Both Miss Brown and Mrs. McKenna expressed their pleasure at the splendid attendance and the fine cooperation given them by the parents. The children of the two rooms were excited and proud to show Mom and Dad their accomplishments and method of learning.

Mrs. Floyd Mangun of Stanzky Rd. was hostess at a Stanley party for her friends and neighbors on Friday evening, Dec. 1.

The Spoon and Spool group of the 4-H report two new members, Judy Breitmeyer and Nancy Osenton. One of the group's leaders, Mrs. Edward Bosman reports the girls busily planning their Christmas party.

It seems I am the last to know. But I just found out that one of our Township younger farmers recently found a three pound spanish onion among his crop. The measurements around were approximately 15 inches. Now how is that for a bit of indignation on a hamburger? This sort of information is enjoyed by both the agricultural minded residents as well as our more city minded folks.

The busy group of ladies we quite often speak about of our similar procedure. Following their room demonstration the two groups joined in the multipurpose room for refreshments of brownies and coffee and punch. The room mothers wish to extend their thanks to all the mothers who contributed to the evening by bringing brownies. Both Miss Brown and Mrs. McKenna expressed their pleasure at the splendid attendance and the fine cooperation given of cookies and coffee, the cookies will then be divided and each lady will have a batch of all kinds of cookies for her holiday cookie jar. There will be the usual exchange of gifts with the person whose name they draw and just an all around pleasant evening is planned. Although the ladies do not have officers for their group, they do share certain duties. The membership includes Mrs. Rudolph Koppen, Mrs. Jean Campbell, Mrs. Ida Barton, Mrs. Dorothy Daubresse, Mrs. Edna Harrison, Mrs. Dorothy Stuegens and Mrs. Pearl Fink. The group has been active for the past two years.

The girls of Scout Troop 269, meeting at the Gallimore School, and their leaders, Mrs. Karan Osenton and Mrs. Alice Armstrong would like everyone to circle Dec. 9 on their calendar. This is the date the girls will hold their one money making project for the year. This year they will hold a bake sale, with the baking done by the girls and their mothers. The sale will be held at the Kroger Store, located on Main St. in Plymouth from 9:30 a.m. until they are sold out. The money from this sale will go to the Girl Guides coming from India to the United States (and Plymouth).

The School maintains a staff of 3 to 5 who help in teaching and assisting. The directed program begins around 9:30 a.m. and runs till 11:30 a.m. which is lunch time. Juice and crackers are served two times a day, once in the morning and once in the afternoon. After lunch is story time and nap time. Self-directed play with the school's variety of equipment begins at 3:00 p.m. and continues throughout the rest of the day. During the activities in the morning the children are divided into two groups: (1) 2½'s to late 3's - (2) late 3's 4's and 5's. Each group has its own activities on its own level under the guidance of the teacher for that group. During the art period children may express themselves creatively by working with dough, clay, or plasticine, doing brush, finger, sand, stick, splatter or block painting, cutting and pasting, or using chalk or crayons. Music time may include records, rhythms, rhythm instruments, singing, or dramatization of nursery rhymes, puppet shows. Other activities may include listening to stories, playing simple games, dramatizing finger-plays, or participating in simple science experiments. The children are never left unsupervised. Only those designated by whoever registers them will be allowed to pick them up. Ordinary, every day clothes that are-in keeping with the weather are most suitable for a day at nursery school.

Plymouth High School

By Janet Graham

This is it — the day when 1,266 students trudge to homerooms to pick up dreaded report cards. Last Friday was the end of the second marking period. On the bright side of this subject: only four more marking periods this year! On the other side: just six more weeks to pull up the first semester English grade — and quite a few term projects are due before Christmas.

Just one more weekend 'til the Class of '63 presents its "Manhattan by Moonlight" soft J-Hop tickets — at $2.50 a couple — went on sale in the main hall last Monday. Decorations chairman Nancy North and Martha Livingston and several other juniors will be up late the night of Dec. 15 while transforming the gym into a wacky Central Park.

Now for the J-Hop Pep Talk! As general co-chairmen Bruce Hudson and Kathy Holt have said all along, to reach the goal of outdoing the Class of '62, the class needs a lot more interest from all juniors.

Big news for the Class of '62 — RINGS! Selected two weeks ago, the sophomores' rings have a large grey stone in a gold setting with the school crest centered on the stone. They're to be ordered from Agnew Jewelers on Main St., but not until after the Christmas rush.

The Class of '62 has sold over $6,200 of Christmas cards. Chairman Georgina Daubresse reports. At press time, Judy Younts team had taken over first place, but final sales hadn't been tabulated.

It was Junior Bonnie Gibson who arranged the sign-painting bee in the gym last Saturday afternoon. Although Northville, Saturday night's basketball foe, was already aware of Plymouth's painting and decorating skill (the big NPS '62 in orange paint on Harvey between Church and Penniman which mysteriously appeared during football season set off an exchange program with the neighboring rivals ...) the many signs did a lot to promote the Pep Club's work.

Biggest pre-Christmas swimmeet is tomorrow, Thursday, Dec. 7 against power Birmingham Seaholm. It's a home meet and will start at 7:30. Basketball this week is at Walled Lake.

News In Brief

Miss Edna Allen of Arthur St. had as her Wednesday luncheon guests Mrs. Nellie Winterberg and her daughter, Mrs. William Peters of South Lyon.

Mrs. Frank Terry of Union St. was taken back to St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor Monday evening. She is in serious condition.

Mrs. James Ailor, Mrs. Robert Soth and Mrs. Perry Hix were luncheon guests of Mrs. Gladys Britt at Stauffer's in Detroit. The ladies spent the afternoon shopping.

Alpha Xi Plan Holiday Party

All former members in the area are especially invited. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Perkins, LO 3-8361 or Mrs. Donald Loomis, GA 7-8885.

On Sunday, December 10 members and their husbands will attend a holiday party at the home of Mrs. Dean Manley, 9450 Southworth, Plymouth.

Roger Alan Lytle, who is attending Western Military Academy in Alton, Ill., spent Thanksgiving turlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Lytle of Ann St. Roger is a junior at the Academy.

The Maccabees ladies will meet at the Odd Fellow Hall on Elizabeth St., for their annual Christmas party Dec. 13 at 6:30 p.m.

Senior Citizens Going to Rotunda

The Senior Citizens of Plymouth held their meeting Nov. 30 in Masonic Temple. A potluck luncheon and a birthday cake was served for those who had birthdays in November.

Mrs. Edith Sockow and Mrs. Evelyn Fisher were hostesses.

Mr. Livingston of the Michigan Bell was present and showed slides. Senior citizens who are interested in taking the Ford Rotunda trip will meet at the Masonic parking lot, Thursday, Dec. 7 at 9 a.m. Bring a sack lunch.

Plymouth Senior Citizens will be guests of the Ann Arbor Senior Citizens in the High School Recreation room Friday, Dec. 8 at 8 p.m.

A nice group attended the Thanksgiving Party and all enjoyed it. It is hoped as many will also attend our Christmas party.

You also can probably save a few pennies if you: Remove your own appendix. Drill your own teeth. Buy your own insurance agency. If you do, we don't believe you will come out ahead in the long run. Plymouth Township Proceedings

BOARD MEMBERS PRESENT: Roy R. Lindsay, Fred L. Miller, Elizabeth Holmes, C. Veach Sparks. ABSENT: Louis J. Norman. There being a quorum present, the meeting was called to order at 8:00 P.M. The minutes of the meeting of October 10, 1961, were approved as read by the clerk.

Payment was approved for a list of bills amounting to $22,065.52. Mr. Sparks supported a motion by Mr. Miller that the Township Treasurer shall not require payment of a fee for collection of 1961 taxes.

Engineer Herald Hill submitted an estimate of the cost to the Township to take over the water lines on Marlowe, Elmhurst, Brookline and B all Streets presently served by the City of Plymouth, said estimate being $26,575.00, also the cost of taking over the Plymouth Garden lines, for which the cost was estimated to be $3,550.00. The above figures include 800 feet of six inch and 1300 feet of 12 inch new lines. The Board accepted the report for study without taking any formal action.

Fire Chief Howard Holmes submitted the specifications for the new fire truck to be purchased by the Township.

On motion by Mr. Miller, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the Board voted to accept the specifications and authorized the Township Clerk to advertise for bids, which are to be opened on December 12, 1961.

Mr. Miller reported that a recent canvass of Arbor Village Subdivision to determine the wishes of the residents regarding the installation of sanitary sewers in that area, revealed the following results:

IN FAVOR 17 OPPOSED 21 NOT VOTING 10

Since the majority of votes cast were in opposition to the sewer, and yet there remains an urgent need for sewers in some parts of this subdivision, the Board decided that sewers must be installed on Martin and Marilyn Streets in order to correct a condition that might develop into a health hazard.

At this point, Mrs. Holmes stated a motion that installation of sewers for Marilyn and Marilyn Streets be combined with sewer construction in Plymouth Colony to form one project, and that the Township Engineer be requested to prepare necessary prints and advertise for bids in order to provide for an early completion date.

After support by Mr. Sparks, the motion carried unanimously.

On a motion by Mr. Miller, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the Board voted to appoint Mr. Mathew McLellan for the position of Superintendent of the Department of Public Works of Plymouth Township, beginning January 1, 1962.

On a motion by Mr. Miller, supported by Mrs. Holmes, the Board acted to create a committee consisting of Building Inspector, Howard Holmes, Plumbing Inspector, Albert Williams, and Superintendent of Public Works, Mathew McLellan to review the present plumbing ordinance No. 6 and submit their recommendation regarding a change from the Michigan State Plumbing Code to the City of Detroit Plumbing Code.

Mr. Michael Tartaglia, represented by counsel, Edward F. Draugelis, appeared before the Board to present their case in favor of a petition for rezoning a parcel of land designated on the tax rolls as 24E2, and being generally known as the southeast corner of the intersection of Five Mile and Haggerty Roads in Plymouth Township, consisting of 5 acres.

Mr. Draugelis stated that his client plans to erect a small building to be used as a shopping center. He also stated that no plans had been made to provide sewer and water for this project.

Mr. Sparks questioned the wisdom of approving the rezoning for a shopping center without definite provisions or assurance for an adequate water supply and sewage disposal facilities. He pointed out that shopping centers are frequented by the general public in numbers, and proper sanitary facilities are an automatic necessity. Certain business establishments such as restaurants and self serve laundries, which would be permitted under a C-1 classification, are large users of water and thereby require adequate disposal facilities. Unless provision is made therefor, the project could expect to be limited in scope and might well result in a substantial area that would not be in the best interest of the immediate neighborhood and the Township as a whole.

A motion to approve, by Mrs. Holmes, failed to carry due to lack of support, as did a motion by Mr. Miller to table this matter. Mr. Lindsay asked for further motions, and, there being none, the matter was declared closed for this meeting, and Mr. Tartaglia was informed that it would be rescheduled for another presentation to the Township Board at a future date.

Mr. Lindsay introduced copies of correspondence between the Lake Pointe Home Owners Association and the Detroit Edison Company relative to a contemplated street lighting program for Lake Pointe Subdivision, which was which was withheld as provided under paragraph 1.09.06 of the contract between Board of County Road Commissioners of Wayne County and Detroit Edison Company, Inc., dated December 29, 1960.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 11:05 P.M., on a motion by Mr. Sparks, supported by Mrs. Holmes.

Heads of Little League to Meet

Officers and managers of teams in Plymouth's Community Little League will meet Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall to map initial plans for the 1962 program.

Although the season is still more than three months away, the planning of the year's activities requires considerable advance work, league officials explained.

Parents of players are also invited to attend the meeting, first to be held in conjunction with the forthcoming season.

For 1962, the Plymouth Little League will feature six teams in each of the two divisions. In the past, there had been only four teams in each division.

sary strain on the roof, so bank authorities felt that it was time that it be removed.

As the crane cable was attached and ready to be lifted out, the bell was given one last clang by Robert Barbour, a assistant vice-president of National Bank of Detroit Office. Employees who work in the upstairs office of the bank, directly below the bell to work, were evacuated to the main floor.

"If that bell ever broke loose, it would go all the way to the basement," one workman declared.

The bell, with the date of 1919 cast on its side, was installed with the clock in June 1920. The bank was then the Plymouth United Savings Bank.

At that time every community boasted a town clock and Plymouth had none. So the Hough family stepped forward and donated the new clock in memory of Lewis Cass Hough, one of the bank's founders and its vice-president until his death on Jan. 11, 1902.

A master clock with mercury pendulums and enclosed in a handsome mahogany case sat in the bank's front office. Batteries charged from Detroit Edison current were used to operate the system. The deep-toned bell rang on the hour and half hour.

No one is quite sure when the bell was silenced but it is believed to have been around 20 years ago. The system undoubtedly was worn out. While the bank clock is still in use, Plymouth's aural timepiece is the carillon chimes of First Presbyterian Church which were donated seven years ago by the late Charles Bennett.

Youth Club To Re-Open After First of Year

The new home of the Plymouth Police Youth Club will be open shortly after the first of the year, Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher estimated this week.

Work is now in progress in the former Knights of Columbus Hall on Union St., which has been renamed the "Community Center Building."

Fisher said that the K of C has now moved completely from the building and that the job of setting up the steel work for backing targets will start. The Youth Club rifle and archery activities have been in the Bronson Building in the Central Parking Lot since the club started some five years ago, but an expansion of the parking lot has brought about the razing of the Bronson Building and other structures there.

The director of public safety said that there will be the same number of rifle target ranges in the new building but perhaps a few less archery ranges. The archery targets will be placed on portable racks and hauled in to position the nights that archers use the building.

Voting machines of Precincts 4 and 5 have also been moved in to the sub-level building.

Local Cancer Group Elects New Directors

That the program of the Michigan Cancer Foundation brings results which may not always be apparent to the general public was stated by Dr. Lee E. Feldkamp, Health Officer for the City, when he spoke to the Board of Directors of the local branch of the Foundation at their regular meeting, Monday, Nov. 27, at the office on Penniman Ave.

Dr. Feldkamp emphasized the importance of all branches of the Foundation but mentioned especially The Yates Memorial Clinic and the Tumor Registry, both located in Detroit.

Sister Mary Constantia, CSSF, of St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, who was also a guest of the Board, discussed the accomplishments at St. Mary's and hopes for future expansion.

New Board members elected at the November meeting were Mrs. Morris Gibson and Dr. David Johnson. Robert Coolman, Mrs. Harry Bartel, and Mrs. S. C. LeFever were re-elected. Tom Adams was elected president to succeed himself. Other officers elected were Mrs. Harry Bartel, vice-president; Mrs. Miller Ross, secretary; and Mrs. C. C. LeFever, treasurer.

The Archie Herricks Honored by Family Clan

Last Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Archie Herrick of Bradner Road were feted at a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Francis on Burt Road in Detroit. An original poem requested the Herricks and their four daughters, together with their husbands and their married children, to meet at four o'clock for a "Holiday-Herrick-Hoe-Down."

The guests enjoyed pictures, poems, letters and telegrams replying to the invitation, which were displayed on a bulletin board on the Francis recreation room wall.

Later the twenty-four guests were served a sumptuous buffet-style turkey dinner with all the trimmings. Present at the party, besides the host and hostess and the Herricks, were the Francis' children, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Miller of Rosedale Gardens.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. William Markham of New Hudson and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bidwell of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Roby of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hunt of Plymouth and children, Mr. and Mrs. David Travis, Blank Street, Plymouth.

A phone call was received during the evening from Melvin Hunt of Phoenix, Arizona to extend good wishes. The Hunt's other children, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Kalmbach of Mesa, Arizona wired an orchid corsage for Mrs. Herrick and a carnation boutonniere for Mr. Herrick for the occasion. Attending the gathering also were Mr. and Mrs. U. R. Sutfin of Maple Street, Plymouth and their children Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kahal of Romulus, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Ebersole of Livonia and Mr. and Mrs. A. Keith Ebersole of Dearborn.

Gil Mains Joins Beglinger Staff

Gil Mains, the Detroit Lions' tackle, has been added to the staff at Beglinger Oldsmobile-Cadillac on Ann Arbor Rd., owner Walter Beglinger announced.

WHERE DO LOST CUSTOMERS GO?

Every car dealer knows that despite his best efforts to render service he still loses a certain percentage of customers who fail to continue to patronize his dealership once they have taken delivery of their new or used car.

Why and how much of this repeat business is lost was surveyed recently by industry economists with interesting results. Taking an average of 100 buyers, the tabulation showed that 48% of those buyers no longer patronized the selling dealer at the end of four years; 81% at the end of ten years.

The breakdown showed that 82% of the customers who took their business elsewhere in the first four years, did so on their own because of a combination of unadjusted complaints, discourteous treatment, poor service or indifference. The remaining losses were due to deaths, moving to other cities and being directly influenced to trade elsewhere.

At Paul J. Wiedman's we pride ourselves on the high percentage of loyal, repeat customers that look to us for all their motoring needs. We know, however, that some of our buyers still slip away from us, just as they do all dealers, and we are constantly doing our best to correct the shortcomings within our business that may cause this loss.

More discussion took place over the arrangement of parking in the Central Parking Lot. Several plans were presented at the previous meeting offering just 90 degree parking. But Commissioner Carl Shear asked that diagonal parking also be considered since it is easier to park.

A diagram of diagonal parking showed that only 186 cars could be parked in the lot, opposed to 233 under the 90 degree plan. The plans will be submitted to engineers Johnson & Anderson for further study.

OK Storm Sewer Approval was given for laying a 550 foot storm sewer across Starkweather School property to the park. Storm water now empties out on the school property and runs across the Detroit Mutual property. The school will pay $1,100 of the $5,200 cost.

Rejects Bids Four bids were submitted for gasoline and oil to operate the City's cars and trucks. Three of the bids were based on the tank wagon prices on day of delivery. Commissioner William Hartmann made a motion to reject.

City Manager and Mrs. Albert Glassford have returned from Miami Beach, Fla. where the manager attended the 47th annual meeting of the National City Managers Association. There were 650 managers attending.

ject all bids and asked that all submit a firm bid — one that would be the same throughout the year. The motion was approved.

Water Cooler The City is finally admitting that its water isn't cold enough from the tap. A water cooler will be placed in City Hall to replace the fountain that is kept running all the time.

Eyes Debt Managers

By Elmer E. White Michigan Press Association

Installment buying and "charge it" plans have grown in popularity with increasing speed in recent years.

Like many mushrooming facets of America's economy, the buy-now, pay-later plans have led to many problems for the consumer, probably the greatest of which is staying within a budgeted income.

With the growth in the use of credit purchasing, a large number of Americans have found themselves over their heads in debt. Others, classed as opportunists or enterprising businessmen depending on how you look at it, found this a chance to help themselves while managing other people's affairs.

"DEBT MANAGEMENT" came into the vocabulary only a few years ago. It means the planning and management of the financial affairs of a debtor for a fee.

A wage earner who has a lot of creditors hounding him for payment and threatening repossession, garnishment or worse, may hire a debt management firm to work out a compromise with the creditors, for a percentage fee.

Experience in Michigan indicated some of the debt management firms which arose nearly overnight were abusing the purpose of their existence.

Corporation and Securities Commissioner Raymond F. Clevenger said reports indicated some "unscrupulous operators" entered the field.

"It is said that in some cases money turned in (to the manager) is not passed on to creditors; that there are exorbitant forfeiture penalties when management plans are dropped and dishonest advertising and other abuses," said Clevenger.

BEFORE THE 1961 session of the legislature, the wage earner had only his own resources to rely on to correct any abuses. Most individuals who found themselves the victims of unreliable debt management programs had enough problems without adding this, lawmakers thought.

The more ethical segments of the debt management industry were also anxious that a policing job be done to get rid of the undesirable practices. This year Michigan became one of the few states which regulate the business of debt management by license.

"THE NEW LAW provides that a debt management licensee must show financial, responsibility, experience, character and general fitness to warrant belief that the business will be operated fairly and honestly," Clevenger said.

Insurance of payment relays is provided in the law through a requirement that licensees keep a separate bank account for the benefit of creditors and a 15-day time limit is imposed on the remission of funds to creditors.

LEGISLATIVE apportionment, a possible Achilles' heel for Michigan's Constitutional Convention, may not be as tough a problem as it has been considered.

A plan presented to a con-con committee during its early sessions apparently has gained bipartisan support outside the convention hall.

The proposal was first voiced some years ago by former Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler. It was presented to the Con-Con committee by present Republican Chairman George Van Peursdon.

It called for a skeleton of State Senate apportionment with an automatic revision clause for each 10-year census. This seemed to fit what authorities say should be in a state's constitution: just framework.

THE PLAN called for a 35-member Senate elected from districts to be spread out in the Constitution. Each district would have seven members in the Senate. The representational units within each district would, or could, be changed every 10 years as necessary to adjust to population changes.

be left up to the legislature every 10 years, the proposal seemed to have a good chance to take some of the sting from the apportionment problem.

THE SPIRIT of non-partisanship in the Constitutional Convention went with the wind in discussion of some relatively minor employe appointments so party support of proposals will probably be a prime factor in their success.

It's one of the sad facts of life that there are always certain people who are out to get your dollars without giving you a fair return. It is difficult to estimate how many Plymouth people have considered themselves "taken" during a year's time, but we imagine that it is a large percentage.

One organization that hears some of these laments is the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce. And if things get bad enough, or the victim gets mad enough, the Police Department or Road Patrol detectives hear about it. But most of those who are victims of gyps chalk it up to experience rather than try to seek legal recourse. Too often, the deal is quite legal and a legal means of revenge is useless.

Every month or so, the Chamber of Commerce publishes an article in this newspaper warning citizens to a popular type of scheme. They may not necessarily be gyps, but they are classed as cleverly-planned schemes to pry loose as much of your money as possible. For instance, telephone solicitations for magazine subscriptions at "only a few cents a week" often result in an unhappy ending. The Chamber has often warned about telephone solicitation of any kind.

YOU'RE SAFEST AT WORK

Chips from the ROCK

It is only natural when a family moves into a new home one of its first duties is to become acquainted with the neighbors. Since we have long been friends with the Ralph Garbers, our nearest neighbors on the south, and Wm. T. Cunningham on the west, and the Demels and Muirs on the northwest, our next nearest neighbor is the C & O Railroad on the north.

I can't honestly say that we moved "across the tracks," but certainly we moved closer to them, and our whole family has been fascinated by the amount of activity which takes place up and down that road 24 hours each day.

Investigation reveals that in addition to the four streamliners that ply between Detroit and Grand Rapids daily there is a terrific amount of freight traffic which we never observed before. There are seven regular freight trains moving east each day and seven moving west. These freights move an average of 570 cars east daily and 465 west. Interestingly enough is the fact that the east-bound trains, each given an even number, are always loaded to capacity while west bound freights on this line are only 50 per cent full and are designated by uneven numbers.

Looking inside these fascinating trains we found a variety of things we would never have guessed would be shipped in carload lots... for instance... one whole carload of English walnuts from California headed for Boston... several cars of hides sent from Kansas City to eastern leather goods manufacturers... carloads of sand from northern Michigan for the glass industry at Pittsburgh... a carload of pineapples from Hawaii for eastern seaboard distribution... grain for the elevators at Buffalo, chemicals for some of our local plants and those further east, and a multitude of other things as well.

West-bound trains carry a different cargo... automotive parts from Detroit... automobiles stacked two and three deep on the bi and tri-level cars built by Paragon at Novi... pig iron from Buffalo... farm equipment from Detroit... cereals from Battle Creek... chemicals from Downriver and Midland... and as the line moves on to Chicago from Grand Rapids, cars of furniture are added to the list.

Plymouth is strategically located as far as the C & O is concerned. It is a distribution center paralleling that of Chicago, since at the C & O yards a "Y" provides routing of car traffic in all four directions, north, south, east and west. Trains arriving in Plymouth can be halted to unload cars or have cars added from the Grand Trunk, N.Y.C. and other lines, thereby making it an unusually desirable distribution center.

One interesting fact we learned is that automobiles shipped on tri-level cars can go west only... old fashioned railroad tunnels in the east are not high enough to permit their passage. Bi-levels, by the way, carry eight cars while tri-levels carry 12. Loading of all this type of shipment is done at the Fort St. terminal.

Piggy-backs are another comparatively new innovation. This type of shipment consists of two huge vans loaded on one freight car and when unloaded at their destination they become the back part of big motor trucks ready for the highway.

Incidentally, when you see that little van attached to the back of the streamliner it isn't a truck hitching a ride, it is a mail car, called a roadraider and equipped with a dual set of wheels, one for the track and one for the road.

One of the railroad's major efforts is to provide fast service and careful handling of the merchandise it hauls... it is in this field that Plymouth's Evans Products Company provides its efficient car loading devices which provide compact and safe carloading for the customers of the road.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS What's behind all the noise of the old girls and boys. When they pop off at least once a year? They sing out their praise, of the good old days, But somehow their wants are not clear. Do they want to return, to the old butter churn, Or the wood burning stove to cook on, Or the travel by horse, as a matter of course, Or the trolleys and trains to get shook on? I really do doubt, it's for this, that they shout, Though their cry for a change seems urgent They wouldn't e'en wash an eye lash out, Without using a modern detergent. What return do they want of the good old days, That brings about this yearly craze? They want the return of the nickel cigar, While leaving the wages just as they are. It isn't the progress, that makes them upset, It's the thousands of things the nickel can't get.

FOLKS have said to me... those perky Pilgrims were mighty brave to start out in such a rickety ship sans so many of our fine navigational gadgets to help 'em. An' weren't they specially bold venturing out as they did on the high seas as elderly as they were? No sir... that's an error, right there. They were NOT elderly. One hundred of the 104 passengers on the Mayflower were under 40 years of age. Most of those stout-hearted folks were in their timid thirties. And their wives... well, even in those days the female of the species weren't letting on how many years young they were. Suffice to say, they were all two to 14 years younger than their Mister. OUR family Bible shows great-great Grandad Bradford Smith of Plymouth Colony listing his age at the time of the sailing as 30... right youthful, I'd reckon.

Surprisingly enough, we found that some of the trains passing the back of our farm contain up to 130 cars and are headed by three diesel engines. These trains carry the regular crew of five men, and a series of valves connected from one diesel to the other makes them all operative at the command of the engineer.

The short eight or nine car train we watch about nine in the morning, going west, is a specialized delivery starting at Plymouth and making the following stops... DeHo-Co, South Lyon, Ann Pere, Howell, Fowlerville, Webberville, Williamston, Okemus and Trowbridge. Ann Pere and Trowbridge are two early rail designations still used which today are actually Brighton and Lansing.

One thing we've often wondered about is how a railroad knows where its various cars are located throughout the country, and to our surprise we found that the dispatcher in Grand Rapids has a very simple file which, by looking for the car number, he can tell you its exact position even while in motion.

This dispatcher, by the pushing of a switch, can stop any train, slow it down, and divert it to a siding by flashing a yellow light located on the tracks a mile and a half ahead of the station he chooses. If, in a dense fog, the engineer should miss the yellow signal, an automatic brake stops the train so that a check can be made to determine the direction. Trains also stop automatically should the brake on any one car become defective, or if an air hose on any one car goes wrong. Other than the engineer and these two safety factors the conductor has a valve at the rear of the train which will also bring it to an immediate stop.

Along about two in the morning we have heard the whistle of Number 30. This is the Chicago to Detroit express which runs seven days a week and brings carloads of productive raw materials for the manufacturers of this area, in addition to fresh meats and perishables.

We wondered about the little yellow caboose, and found that when the Pere Marquette was sold to C & O, the purchaser found a yellow caboose was more visible at night, hence the switch from red to yellow.

Perhaps to give a better impression of the things we see at our back door, just imagine that in place of the double tracks running west from Plymouth, we had a 20 lane super highway... that's the amount of traffic these two little old tracks can handle.

And... it may not always be this way either... already experiments have been made in major city subway systems of trains running without any crew at all, and this could be possible in towns developed like the city of Dearborn, where the C & O tracks never cross a street... they pass above or below... and as newer methods of packaging and loading are developed, freight trains could easily look entirely different and may well one day travel through the air suspended on a monorail or cable. In any event, when that change is made we'll again visit our neighbor on the north to see his changes and keep informed as to his daily work.

If nothing more was gained by our time and effort expended preparing this column I, for one, will never again let my blood pressure boil while I'm waiting for a freight train to pass at any Plymouth crossing, because I'll know its stop or its switching is to unload a car of some precious cargo for one of our factories... and if it wasn't delivered on schedule and on time, that factory might not work the next day.

SPORTSEEN

By Jerome O'Neil

While Plymouth High last weekend was inaugurating its winter sports schedule, there elsewhere remained lingering echoes of the deer hunting season.

One experience occurred to Charles Steinhebel, Jr. of 16845 Meade, Northville, and it will leave a lasting mark on his recollections of the 1961 whitetail season.

Steinhebel, along with his brother-in-law, Louis Westfall, also of Northville, and four other hunters from here, were driving outside of Ishpeming enroute to their deer hunting area. A car skidded as it approached and side-swiped Steinhebel's auto. There was extensive damage.

No local garage had the necessary parts to repair the car, so Steinhebel ordered direct from the factory — Buick Division in Flint. Shipment of the parts was delayed 10 days.

By the time the parts arrived in the Upper Peninsula, Steinhebel and his fellow hunters had been compelled to return to their homes and jobs. Steinhebel flew back, the others took a bus.

Last weekend, Steinhebel was here. His car was in Ishpeming, 600 miles away. He planned to fly up and drive the auto back.

It was a costly season for him. Steinhebel estimated his expenses would spiral to $700. He didn't even get a deer.

Elsewhere, others were not disheartened.

Mrs. Maria Matyscik, who is a spry 73 and lives at 35871 East Ann Arbor Trail in Livonia, was hunting Nov. 18 south of Ishpeming with a 30-30 Marlin.

She's hunted with the same rifle for 35 years.

Mrs. Matyscik had shot three deer in previous years, but had not enjoyed success in the past 12 seasons. This year was the end of a dry spell.

She downed a 160-pound spikehorn with one shot from about 25 feet. She recalled that the deer had practically walked straight up to her.

With her were two other women, one 51 and the other 49, and the son of one of the women. Both of the other ladies claimed bucks, but the son came away empty-handed.

One of Mrs. Matyscik's companions was Mrs. Sevila Sommers, of Southfield, who has killed 28 deer over the years.

The second day out, two feet of snow fell, reports Mrs. Matyscik, and another eight inches fell the following day. It made for rough going, but didn't hamper Mrs. Matyscik's style too much.

She's already anxiously awaiting next season.

One other local woman came away with honors while many of the men failed.

Jean Earehart manages Sarah's Beauty Salon here in Plymouth and in private life is Mrs. Albert "Lefty" Earehart of South Lyon. Jean and her husband and seven others were hunting near Luzerne, nine miles east of Mio on the first Saturday of the season.

It was Jean's fifth hunting trip. Using a 30-30, she dropped a 144-pound, 10-pointer from "at least 100 feet." It was her first deer and the only one her party claimed in the week they were hunting.

Jean cooked breakfast for the men that morning and had been the last to enter the woods. She waited only five minutes.

Others waited all season, and even that wasn't enough. Who was the guy that started that nonsense about the "fairer sex?"

Tell it to Mrs. Earehart.

Or Mrs. Matyscik.

Don't tell me.

Parkers Bow, Swimmers Eye Birmingham

Plymouth's swimming team, unimpressive in its 1961-62 schedule to its 56-49 victory over Lincoln Park last Thursday evening, arrives at a crucial moment in its 1961-62 schedule tomorrow night when power-fu l Birmingham Seaholm, High invades the Rocks' camp.

Although there is nothing more than a touch of prestige riding on the match with Birmingham, it should nonetheless be a fair indication of the strength of Plymouth's swimmers who are hopeful, but not favored, to retain the state championship crown of a year ago.

While the Rocks downed Lincoln Park six nights ago in the opening dual meet of the season, it was not the sort of victory on which to estimate Plymouth's chances for further glory.

The locals were forced to the wire by a fired-up Lincoln Park team. Only a win in the 200-yard medley relay, second from the last event of the evening, earned Plymouth the victory.

Prior to that time the two squads had battled on relatively even terms, although Lincoln Park opened an 8-1 margin on the strength of first and second place finishes in the lead-off 400-yard freestyle.

Two outstanding times were turned in by Plymouth in the engagement, which was conducted at Lincoln Park's pool.

Dick Michaels raced to a :58.6 clocking in the 100 yard backstroke, a time only one-tenth of a second shy of the :58.5 state record. In the 200-yard individual medley, Michaels turned in a 2:18.5 effort, an impressive time this early in the season.

From a scoring standpoint, Michaels and Gary Gould paced the Plymouth attack. Each captured two firsts, good for 10 points apiece.

Plymouth's lack of team depth and a weakness in the distance events may prove to be the Rocks' undoing as the year progresses.

However, coach John McFall paid high tribute to all of his swimmers for their successful efforts at Lincoln Park.

The Plymouth scorers against Lincoln Park:

Dick Alford, third in the 400-yard freestyle. Gould, first in the 50-yard freestyle. Barry Corwin, first, and Dave Beglinger, second, in the 100-yard butterfly. Michaels, first, and Tom Hoffman, third, in the 100-yard backstroke. Phil Bender, first in the 100-yard breaststroke.

Gould, first, Win Schrader, a tie for second, in the 100-yard freestyle. DeWayne Stephenson, second in the diving competition. Michaels, first, and Corwin, third, in the 200-yard individual medley. Alford, second in the 200-yard freestyle.

Plymouth's 200-yard medley relay team of Hoffman, Bender, Beglinger and Schrader, sped to a victory in that event to sew up the match for the Rocks.

Birmingham, Plymouth's guest tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m., suffered a defeat at the hands of Grosse Pointe High a week ago. But this did little to encourage McFall, who watched Birmingham power its way to a second place finish in the Royal Oak Kimball invitational relays Saturday. Winner was Grosse Pointe.

In the Kimball relays, Plymouth scored eight points and finished well down in the team standings. Twenty schools participated in the relays, a seasonal warm-up event with no official sanction within the Suburban Six league.

Early to Bed, Early to Rise...

There may be a shortage of fans at that time in the morning, but Plymouth's VFW-sponsored midget hockey team will open its season Saturday morning at the crack-of-dawn hour of 7 a.m.

Opponent for the local ice hockey team will be Maul Mfg. Co., of Detroit.

The match will be held at the University of Michigan's ice arena. The event had to be scheduled at the early morning hour in order to assure use of the arena.

There are 15 local boys on the team.

THE BOARDS for an ice hockey rink behind the high school started to go up last weekend as local JayCee's, builders and other interested parties donated their time and talents. Installing the boards early last Saturday were several recreation hockey enthusiasts, including (above) Dave Fehlig, Richard Sharland, Al Kolak, his father, Fred, Jim McKindles and Jerry Vettese. When completed, the boards will form a rink which will be used this winter for recreation hockey team practice and free skating. The JayCee's donated $500 for the purchase of the materials for the boards.

Cagers Glum As Ypsilanti, Northville Claim Victories

The high school basketball season opened on a dreary note for Plymouth last weekend as the Rocks, despite a trunkload of "hustle," suffered defeat on two successive evenings.

Ypsilanti started the proceedings with a narrow 43-40 win on Friday night and neighboring Northville came to town a night later and pasted Plymouth 51-45.

Careless fouls and dismal inadequacy at the free throw line doomed Plymouth both times. And the Rocks' inability to maintain slender leads disappointed Plymouth followers in each contest.

Against Ypsilanti, Plymouth surged to a 29-22 halftime margin and held to a meager 36-34 lead at the start of the fourth period, but Ypsi closed fast to carry off the decision in the waning minutes.

It was a similar story 24 hours later when the Rocks clung to narrow margin throughout most of the first half, left at intermission with a 25-23 lead, and then relinquished it to Northville in the third period, never to regain it.

But coach Charlie Ketterer appeared heartened by the showing of his cagers who hustled continuously throughout both games. "They gave 100 percent all the time," he remarked later.

The Ypsilanti encounter was the inaugural for Plymouth and represented the first of three non-league games leading up to Suburban Six action which begins Dec. 15 at Allen Park.

Friday night Plymouth journeys to Walled Lake for the third inter-sectional contest of the young season and then opens its league schedule a week later.

Plymouth was kept in the thick of things at Ypsilanti last weekend by Jim Dart. He wound up with 14 points to share individual scoring honors with Ypsi's Mike Bass.

Other Plymouth players in the column were: Dick Shryer with six, Mike Kisabeth with five, team captain Eloy Menchaca, Jared Stevens and Dan Stremick, each with four, Dave Gothard with two and Tom Lock with one.

Near-total failure at the free-throw line killed Plymouth's hopes. The Rocks cashed only two of 15 free throw attempts while Ypsi hit 15 of 23.

Northville came from behind in the third period, forged a 37-31 lead starting the fourth frame and held Plymouth off during the remainder of the game. Again free throws were the difference. Plymouth scored only five of 15, Northville 16 of 39.

It was Schryer, with 16 points, who led Plymouth's efforts, but Steve Juday, one of Northville's finest athletes in several years, claimed game scoring laurels with 20 points.

Menchaca had seven, Dart six and Kisabeth five in other Plymouth scoring.

In both games, Plymouth was hampered by a lack of height under the boards. But defensively, the Rocks remained strong, particularly this early in the season.

The Walled Lake game Friday begins about 8 p.m., following the junior varsity match.

Deer Kill To Equal '60 Total

Michigan deer hunters — many from Plymouth — took home as many bucks this fall as they did in 1960 when the total kill was some 47,000, the conservation department revealed this week.

Although total number of hunters was below that of last year, the deer harvest was higher in proportion.

Hunters and buck kill was light in the upper peninsula where hunting conditions were ideal with snow arriving in most areas early in the season.

Success was better than last year in the Traverse City, Mio, and Baldwin districts and about the same in the Gaylord and Gladwin districts.

Fewer hunters turned out in the southern lower peninsula, but the legal kill was normal.

About 3,000 bucks are taken in this region each year.

Particularly significant to the conservation department was the fact that 63 percent of the bucks examined at roadside stations in the northern lower peninsula were yearlings. This indicated a good survival rate of whitetails during the mild winter a year ago.

Meanwhile, pheasant kill dipped to about 950,000 birds in Michigan this fall, some 22,000 shy of last year's total. High winds and rain hampered hunting efforts somewhat, the department reported.

Ruffed grouse hunters had a banner season in Michigan this fall. The ruffed grouse kill may reach 450,000 birds. It would be the highest take by the state's hunters since 1953 when 700,000 birds were claimed.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

Patrick Esarey

Patrick T. Esarey, a sixth grade teacher at Bird School, has been teaching in Plymouth for only three years but has had previous experience in Pontiac and Northville.

Born in Wayne, Mich., he graduated from that high school before attending Hillsdale where he received his BS degree in psychology and was a member of Alpha Tau Omega.

Following his college days he received greetings from Uncle Sam and served two years in Alabama and Korea receiving United Nations and Korean Service Ribbons. He too, is one of many who spent his five days rest and recreation period in Japan.

After the war, while he was employed at the Garland Manufacturing Company, he decided to enroll at Wayne State University and earned his masters degree in education, writing his paper on the "Process of Learning."

Currently he is studying under the National Science Foundation of the National Defense Educational Act in a pilot course for elementary teachers. This Foundation hopes to supplement their college training by teaching them the current developments in physics, chemistry, laboratory techniques and teaching techniques.

He now lives in Garden City with his wife, Ann, and two children, Dan, 3 and Eric, 1 year. He enjoys playing golf in the summer and skiing at the Caberfae Ski Area in Cadillac in the winter. Last summer he and his wife indulged in another hobby, camping, going to Porcupine Mountains and hiking back into the cabin area.

Mr. Esarey is a member of two professional organizations, the MEA and the NEA.

Tells Salem Citizens Why He Voted for Gun Club

By C. C. Clair
Phone GL 3-2610

The following letter was received from J. J. Brummell, telling why he, as a member of the Salem Township Zoning Board of Appeals, has been in favor of the proposed gun club on Napier Rd.

J. J. Brummell, a member of the Salem Township Zoning Board of Appeals, has this week listed the reasons why he voted to allow a gun club to build a club house on Napier Rd. in the Township.

The Board recently voted, 2-1 to allow the club, but residents of the area are protesting. Brummell has been asked to resign. Here is his statement about the situation to the residents of Salem Township:

"The Zoning Board of Appeals and specifically two members, Mr. Van Bonn and myself, have been censured, abused, maligned and many other things because of a decision we recently made granting a permit for a Gun Club to build a Club House on Napier Road. I believe the people should have the facts.

"This Gun Club has purchased approximately 60 acres of Andy Johnson property with 20 odd acres in Salem Township and 40 acres in Plymouth Township on which they wish to build a $100,000 Club House. They operate a private club much like a Country Club. Hearing was held and eight or nine residents on Napier Road objected because of traffic, noise and night parties. Objections are legitimate and I agree with them.

"The advantages are as follows:

"They will convert what is now a swamp into a well landscaped attraction. They will bring people into our township which are bound to bring business with them. They will add assessment to our tax roll, without added school expense.

"We investigated the club and found they operate a well-run organization. They now operate in Nankin Township and the police department there advise us they have never had a complaint from them in their 14 years of operation. The chief told me he attended several Boy Scout functions there and said they did good work. He said and these are his words "I can't say enough for them."

"In spite of these advantages I would have voted against the permit because of the people's objection, except for one very important reason. If the Club does not build in our Township, they will build in Plymouth Township who has no restrictions against operations of this kind. If they build in Plymouth Township, we will still have all the disadvantages and will not have most of the advantages. And I think this is important, we would have no supervision over them. They would be located on the outskirts of Plymouth Township hemmed in by the House of Correction property. Their police would have to go through our Township to get to the property. This is not a healthy condition.

"These are the facts. How would you have voted? Because of this decision the Township Board has asked for my resignation from the Zoning Board. I have been on the Board eight or nine years, have put in many, many unpaid hours of work. I believe I have had as much to do with the completion and operation of the Ordinance as anyone in this Township and I have always acted, as far as my ability and conscience permitted, to the best advantage of the Township. However my personal feelings are not important but the future of zoning is. How are you going to get anyone to do this type of thankless work if you get fired because you have the temerity to disagree with anyone and then don't get backing from the Township Board?"

Rev. and Mrs. Elwood Chipchase are the proud parents of a seven pound, nine ounce baby boy, born Thursday morning, Nov. 30 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. At this writing it is reported that all three are doing very well.

Rev. Burgess is home in Lansing, from the Sparrow Hospital. A report came to me this past week that he is improved and feeling much better. He wants to be remembered to his friends in Salem.

Elbert Hubbard said in his Note Book: "There are three kinds of friends — those who love you; those who are indifferent to you; and next friends, these being the people who want something that is yours."

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buckberry of Detroit were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair on Five Mile Rd. Friday afternoon.

The Sunshine Club will meet at Mrs. R. W. Opal Carr's home 6101 Brookville Rd. Dec. 13 for their Christmas party and a pot luck planned turkey dinner.

The Farmers Club will meet at the home of Bert Riders on Seven Mile Rd. Dec. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Perley Jones will be host and hostess. Dinner is at noon.

Kenneth Rich, Sr. of Salem Rd. has been confined to his bed for the past six weeks, with a heart ailment.

Mrs. Ralph Wilson was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Wednesday, Nov. 29 with a heart condition. The doctor said she would have to be there for several weeks. That is the latest report that I have on her condition. I know Mrs. Wilson would appreciate cards. Her room number is 5006.

The H and G Trading Post on West Seven Mile Rd. closed its doors Dec. 2 for the last time, after 10 years of business. It was built in 1951, a log cabin structure. The present owner, due to ill health, has decided to go out of business. I believe that it was just about the nearest thing to being like the old fashioned general store that a lot of us knew 50 years ago. One could buy just about anything at The Trading Post from a harness part, lumber or maybe some cold meat for the evening snack.

And, at one time, one could stop in there in the evening and get a lot of Cracker Barrel philosophy from the old timers that would be huddled around the old oil burner, with their quids of chewing tobacco. Of course the old general store would have an old cast iron pot belly wood fired stove with nail kegs for the old timers to sit on, and there would be several tobacco caddies filled with either sand or maybe sawdust if it were handy to get, for them to spit in. I have personally seen some of those old timers sit back perhaps five feet away from those boxes and never miss. The Old Trading Post will surely be missed by a lot of people. It's really like saying goodbye to an old friend.

Mrs. Herbert J. Famuliner of Salem Village spent Thanksgiving week at Fort McClellan in Alabama with her daughter Janet. Janet came home with her mother Nov. 26 and stayed until Dec. 6 when she went to Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex. where she will be stationed for three months' training.

Chamber Alarmed
By Fall-Out
Shelter Frauds

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce alerts citizens to information obtained from the Better Business Bureau on the subject of fall-out shelters and survival kits.

"Don't be stampeded by scare advertising or a glib sales talk," says the Bureau. They offer a check-list to help the consumer avoid a possible "fleecing".

They recommend the following: Is the contractor you are considering experienced, responsible and licensed? Have you checked his references and actual samples? Is the design offered officially approved by the Office of Civil Defense? Have you obtained the exact cost and financing figures in a written estimate from at least one other contractor for comparative prices?

"Don't be rushed into any fall-out shelter deal or purchase of 'survival kits', food or accessories which obviously require no stock-piling."

"Before you invest - investigate," advises the Better Business Bureau. Call the Bureau at WO 2-7566 for the facts on any firm with which you are no familiar.

Catholic Men Spend Weekend At Monastery

Forty-six men from Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church spent the weekend at St. Paul's Monastery, Dec. 1-3. This is an annual parish project to invite parishioners to the retreat house Friday evening until Sunday afternoon.

During this time the men receive private conferences on progress in their spiritual duties, attend joint talks in the chapel, and in general meditate on their privileges and obligations as Catholic gentlemen.

The retreat house accommodates 96 guests, each assigned to a private room. The priests of the Passionist Order maintain the monastery, and conduct weekend seminars each and every week of the year.

Our Lady of Good Counsel parish normally is assigned to the Thanksgiving season of the year. Father Aidan C. P. of the Chicago Providence presently conducts the men's retreats, with his scheduled seven conferences centering around the general theme of "Man's Place in God's World."

"KEEP CHRIST in Christmas" is a project of all Christian churches in one manner or another. Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church's Men's Society has distributed 50 blue and gold posters to be displayed in local merchants' stores. Pictured are Joseph Brisbois and Thomas Boyne of the society as they present a poster to Robert Beyer in the Rexall Drug Store at Main and Mill. The theme of the positive approach is to retain the name "Christ" in the word Christ-mas, and not to abbreviate it with X-mas.

Are children's books trash? That's the question the Saturday Evening Post asked on its cover recently.

Veteran magazine readers will recognize the query as belonging to the Shocking Question type of title that editors love to splash across their covers. You know the kind of thing: Are College Girls Immoral? Do Officials Take Bribes? Is the Post a Sensational Magazine? The articles themselves usually start out in a fine frenzy but reality soon creeps in and the situations generally turn out to be a good deal less deplorable than you had hoped. You discover, for instance, that some college girls are, some officials do, and the Post sometimes is.

Mrs. Ada Campbell Rose, the excited lady who wrote the trashy children's books piece, cooled off after a few hundred words. When she pulled herself together she had some sensible advice to offer book buying parents. Her advice may bear summing up here:

First, Mrs. Rose tells parents, use the local library and consult trained librarians to find out which juveniles are worth buying. Next, read children's books yourself, learn to tell the good from the shoddy. Lastly, don't buy a book simply because it is prettily packaged or cleverly promoted.

This advice is simple but sound. Know your product before buying, learn to discriminate, reject the second rate. No parent wants less than the best for his children, least of all in books.

Children's Best Sellers, 1961

Looking over a tabulation of the children's books which have reached best seller proportions during the current year we are struck by their quality and variety. Leading all the rest in sales - to nobody's surprise, really - is Green Eggs and Ham the latest Dr. Seuss silly. Right behind is In a Pumpkin Shell by Joan Walsh Anglund (ages 3-6), a new ABC nursery rhyme book with delicate, detailed illustrations which will delight both the tots and their elders. We can't imagine a better way for little ones to meet the Mother Goose characters than in Mrs. Anglund's pages. That Winnie the Pooh occupies third spot on the best seller list is not altogether news now but when this Latin version of A. A. Milne's Winnie the Pooh was issued last winter who thought it was best seller material?

Running down the score sheet we find: Two excellent adult books in special editions for young readers: John F. Kennedy's Profiles in Courage and Thor Heyerdahl's Kon-Tiki. The president's book is informative and inspiring history; Kon-Tiki is, of course, one of the true adventure classics of our time.

What Does God's Law Say - "BETWEEN The Lines?"

Few Christians will deny that the Ten Commandments are God's design for human conduct. Some so-called Christians think they are out-moded.

But how many know what they really mean?

"Thou shalt not steal," for example, obviously forbids robbery, burglary and embezzlement. What many evidently do not realize is that this Commandment also forbids evasion of just debts, bribery to gain political and business advantages, lending money at usurious rates, and other sharp practices which are often dishonestly excused as "smart business."

The Commandments speak only in broad, general terms. Their full meaning can be understood only in the light of the teaching of the New Testament. "I am the Lord, thy God; thou shalt not have strange gods before me," is taken by some to mean only that they must believe in a Supreme Being. Actually, it obliges us to prayer, gratitude, hope and worship, even though these words are not mentioned.

Most Christians agree that The Lord's Day must be kept holy. Yet there is a wide difference of opinion as to how this should be done... indeed, there is even some disagreement as to when the Lord's Day should be observed.

When God said "Thou shalt not kill," He was not warning mankind merely against murder due to greed, lust or vengeance. He was telling us plainly that He, who alone had the power to create human life, was reserving for Himself the right to take it away. And He made no exceptions for deliberate abortion and the so-called "mercy killings" which some Christians seek to justify today.

You hear people say, with smug assurance: "I keep the Commandments - that's enough." And it would indeed be enough if they truly understood what the Commandments require. But we must read "between the lines" if we are rightly to understand God's instructions and to live according to His design. If you want to be sure... if you want to refresh your mind on the true and full meaning of God's rules of life... write today for our free Pamphlet No. KC-12. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper, and nobody will call on you.

A PLAQUE commemorating 10 years of service to St. John's Episcopal Church was presented by the congregation at a surprise program last week. From left, are Frank Henderson, who presented the plaque; William Austin, superintendent of Adrian Schools and the guest speaker; the Rev. David T. Davies; Mrs. Davies; and Robert Utter, the toastmaster.

Rev. Davies Honored on 10th Year at St. John's Episcopal

A surprise program recognizing his 10 years of service to St. John's Episcopal Church was held last week for the rector, the Rev. David T. Davies.

One hundred and fifty guests were present for the potluck dinner prepared by the women of the church. Mrs. Davies had taken the rector away for the day and they returned in time for the surprise affair.

Robert Utter was toastmaster for the program. The choir sang several selections and Harry Christensen spoke on "I Knew Rev. Davies When..." Further remarks were made by Richard LaMirand, senior warden, and Ernest Ebert, junior warden. A plaque commemorating the 10 years of service was presented by Frank Henderson. Guest speaker for the evening was William Austin, superintendent of the Adrian public schools, who delivered a witty talk on the learning process.

The invocation was given by Howard Houghton and the benediction by Ernest Williams.

Rev. Davies was ordained at St. George's Church at Walkerville, Ont. on Feb. 5, 1923. Rev. Davies, a native of Wales, served as curate to the Rev. M. C. Davies, rector of St. George's Church in Walkerville, Ont. for several months after his ordination to the priesthood in 1923. On Dec. 1, 1923, he joined the staff of the Detroit Episcopal City Mission and was later appointed vicar of Emmanuel Church, Detroit, and rector of Trinity Church, Bay City, on Nov. 1, 1942. He served in Bay City nine years.

The Plymouth congregation received Rev. Davies on Nov. 15, 1951. Two significant strides made by the congregation during his pastorate here has been the construction of a new rectory and the new church itself along Sheldon Rd.

by George Spelvin

Santa arrived early at old George's manse. Yes, the round-bellied gentleman with his bulging knapsack of goodies dropped a pleasant present kerplunk at our feet 25 days early. Young George, who you recall has been rehearsing a Shakespearean drama, surprised his Dad and Mom by calmly announcing suddenly that he was going to appear in Chekhov's "The Marriage Proposal." The Russian classic was presented last Thursday in the Lab Theater of the University of Michigan.

Let's take a second to talk about the Lab Theater. Every two weeks in the Frieze Building (the old Ann Arbor High School) of the U of M Speech and Drama department, students from the various speech classes put on a full-scale production. The program usually lasts about an hour. Cuttings from three act plays, old classics cut down, or two one act plays may be part of the bill on a Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. The Lab Theater is a free, no ticket needed situation. As a result you are warned to come early for a seat. Even the Wednesday dress rehearsals are "sell-out" performances. I strongly suspect that in the near future they will have to lengthen the number of performances... as their popularity grows.

WORD GETS around fast on the U of M campus. These Lab bills are gems, sometimes a bit rough, but always reflecting a brilliance that bespokes hard work and genuine effort on the part of many, many students. If you get the chance to visit either the Arena theater or the Trueblood auditorium, I can assure you the trip will be enjoyable.

Years back, too many to reveal, old George experienced such a training situation at Northwestern University. We called our Lab theater... the Studio theater. Ralph Hecker, Jean Verhagen, Charlton Heston, Patricia Neal, and Paul Lynde are a few of the present day TV, movie, or stage stars that started in the Studio theater. Old George began his acting career there, but alas no one recognized his thespic ability. Fortunately, I learned to type or I would have been out of the picture entirely.

"MAGINE'S "Andromache", a classic drama seldom seen in this country is on view, at the U of D Theater this weekend. "Andromache" alternates with "The Birds." Friday night Alice Broder is featured in "Andromache." Saturday night (Dec. 9) the modern Walter Kerr version of "The Birds" with Tom Bennett's jazz score provides the audience a rare evening in the theater. "Andromache" repeats on Sunday evening.

"THE CAPTAINS and the Kings" arrived at the Shubert Theater for a short pre-Broadway stay last week. Dana Andrews, Charlie Ruggles, and Conrad Nagel struggled valiantly with a sagging submarine story that could stand cutting and some extensive rewriting, especially Act II. If the author had only based his military story on our problems in the space race, the whole show might have had more urgency. Submarines are only glamorous when seen slithering gracefully on the silver screen. The whole fight over the need for atomic subs lacks the suspense and built-in excitement of the rocket-to-the-moon work being done. Mr. Lieberman might have time to re-write the whole script since the moon shoot is at least five years off.

"THE BEST MAN" at the Fisher came through as expected. It's a solid hit. James Westerfield as Art Hoxstader walks away with the show. He steals scene after scene from Frank Lovey and Kent Smith. The only person in the cast that could best him was Ruth McDevitt. You have to go some to be able to wrest a scene from Ruth.

Gore Vidal has fashioned a topical play about the problems of getting nominated for the Presidency that will stand up well for many years to come. He may have to change a few of the topical gaglines from time to time, but then that only adds to the peppery nature of the script.

You have a couple of weeks yet to purchase tickets for this explosively funny play. The Fisher Theater is still as lovely as ever. You have a new appreciation for it after visiting the Shubert and the Fisher in the same week. It's like stepping from dark, dark back alleys to wide boulevards with bright lights.

MOVING FROM the Shubert

Attends Meeting On Airborne TV Instruction

Melvin I. Blunk, administrative assistant of the Plymouth Community Schools, attended a special conference of more than 150 educators conducted by the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Dr. John E. Ivey, Jr., president of MPATI, discussed with the group possibilities for creating a permanent corporation to take over the operation and financing of airborne television. Tuesday's meeting is one of a series at MPATI headquarters in which Midwest school authorities are weighing this topic.

Suggested was a plan whereby using schools would come into the created corporation as charter members.

The project can be operated on $3,750,000, it was noted. This sum would enable continued research to be carried out plus addition of several new courses to the curriculum each year.

Each conferee was provided with a copy of the prospectus prepared by MPATI "for the consideration and revision of the incorporators." The Prospectus contains suggestions for electing board members who would represent the six states now receiving MPATI lesson telecasts. This board would succeed the present MPATI Council headed by Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, Superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools and former U. S. Commissioner of Education.

The Tuesday conference opened with a status report of the project presented by four members of the MPATI staff. Approximately 2,000 schools with upwards of one million students are now receiving airborne telecasts in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin, according to the report.
