School Board Is Cool To College's Money Request

A request for $6,996 to help operate the Northwest Wayne County Community College during the first six months of 1962 received no response at Monday night's Plymouth Board of Education meeting.

Already cutting down much of its own program in the Plymouth schools because of a shortage of money this year, the Board of Education promised only to give the request some thought and discuss it again at a future meeting.

College Board of Trustees President Harold Fischer, himself once president of the Plymouth Board of Education, appeared at the meeting to make the request. A total of $33,847 is being sought to operate the Community College during the six-month period. The college has no source of income until a time when a millage issue would be passed by the residents in the four participating school districts, Livonia, Garden City, Clarenceville and Plymouth.

Of the $33,847, Livonia will be asked to supply $21,660;

Purpose Of College Is Announced

A "purpose" for the Northwest Wayne County Community College was approved by the Board of Trustees at a meeting Monday night.

The trustees, who have been meeting regularly since its election in October, drafted the purpose in order to put before the public the reasons why the proposed college will exist.

This is the "purpose" as approved by the trustees Monday:

"The primary purpose of this Community College is to make education beyond the high school level available to all students interested in and capable of benefiting from such an educational program. The equally important goals of this institution are the provision of:

"A. Terminal programs for students not planning four year college programs.

"B. Transfer programs for students who do wish to complete four year college programs.

"C. A technical institute for the community serving local needs for vocational and semi-professional education.

"D. Opportunities for interested persons to achieve (Continued on page 8)

Kids Asked to Help Santa This Saturday

By bringing a small toy, children will be able to attend this Saturday's matinee at the Penn Theatre, Manager Margaret Wilson announced.

The Toy Benefit matinee will start at 2:30 with Santa himself being on hand to accept the toys and start the show. The movie will be "Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come" with Jimmie Rogers.

Children are being asked to bring new or almost-new toys. The toys will be given to the less fortunate families, Miss Wilson said.

'Mail Now' Is Post Office Plea

Longer hours for the Plymouth Post office stand and parcel post windows began Monday as the "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign moved into high gear.

For convenience of the public, the Post Office windows are open weekdays from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., from Dec. 11 through Dec. 22 (money order windows close at 5 p.m.)

The windows will also be open on Saturday, Dec. 16 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sunday, Dec. 17, from noon until 4 p.m. There will be a special mail delivery on Sunday, Dec. 17 to handle the peak load expected at that time.

There will be around 75 people working at the Plymouth Post Office during the pre-Christmas rush. 25 of them extra workers.

Postmaster George Timpona this week expressed concern because mailing of Christmas gift packages seems to be lagging and too many people do not realize the need for careful packing and wrapping of their cherished Christmas gifts.

"It's hard to understand why people will be so careless about putting valuable Christmas gifts into the mails in flimsy boxes and loosely wrapped packages," the postmaster asserted. "Many of the poorly wrapped gifts cannot stand the necessary handling and thus cause much delay and disappointment all around."

Postmaster Timpona added that he also cannot emphasize too strongly the importance of careful Christmas mailing procedures.

"For example, it's best to print the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone number and state on each mailing label, making sure to include an extra label INSIDE your gift packages." (Continued on Page 8)

"I WANT SOME toys," four-year-old Cary Planck told Santa Claus last Saturday morning after the red-suited gent arrived on a red fire truck. Cary, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Planck, 44445 Governor Bradford, was somewhat awed by the big, bushy-bearded man. Exactly what toys Cary wants, Santa didn't learn, but since Cary likes guns, we suspect that one or two will mysteriously turn up under the Christmas tree.

16 Turn Key to Prizes So Far

The arrival of Santa Claus, the hunt for treasure in 35 stores and the arrival of the first big snow has turned out shoppers in full force on Plymouth. The Plymouth Holiday Treasure Hunt, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, has turned up 16 winners. Keys were attached to a special shopping guide that was sent out to 30,000 area homes early last week.

Conservationists to Build New Home in Township

Movement of the Western Wayne County Conservation Club to Plymouth Township from Nankin Township became a step closer last Saturday when the deed for 62 acres along Napier Rd. was handed over to club members.

The Wildlifers, as they are commonly known, have 750 members with many of them from the Plymouth area. Their club site in recent years has been on Joy Rd., just west of Wayne Rd. in Nankin Township.

The 62 acres for the new club is located on both sides of Napier Rd. in Plymouth and Salem Townships, but the clubhouse itself will be built in Plymouth Township, President Joseph Fortier announced.

Architect's plans for the new structure are not yet completed, but construction is expected to start in time for opening of the building by next spring, Fortier said. The 62 acres were purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Andy P. Johnson who turned over the deed during a brief ceremony Saturday morning in the office of Salem Realty, the firm handling the transaction.

Present at the transaction were Fortier, Dr. B. E. Champe, president of the Wayne Conservation Land Co., which holds title to the property; John Crandell, secretary and William Morgan, treasurer of the land company; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Fortier said that targets will soon be set up on the new site. Eventually there will be 56 archery ranges, a 100-yard rifle range, pistol ranges of 25 and 50 yards, and sites for trap shooting and slingshot shooting.

The club is one of the few that maintains slingshot facilities and it has sponsored three slingshot shoots for the benefit of the Penrickton School for the Blind.

One of the chief functions of the club is to promote conservation. The present 40-acre club site on Joy Rd. was purchased this year by the Wayne County Road Commission for use as a wildlife sanctuary.

Dismisses Charges In Burglary Case

Charges against Roger Moss, 673 Blunk, were dismissed in Circuit Court last week because there was no evidence that he was involved in any way with four others who were convicted of breaking into schools in four counties. Judge Joseph Rashid dismissed the case against Moss. The other four, James Joyner, William McCants, James Carter and Billy Guynn, were convicted. Moss, who pleaded innocent from the beginning, stated that he believes that he was arrested because one of the other four had held a grudge against him and decided to get even by naming him as being involved.

Safes at Allen, Bird and Farland Schools were among the 26 school thefts accomplished by the other four. They were arrested last February.

No Child Without Christmas Is Goal

"No child without a Christmas" is again the goal of the Plymouth Goodfellows as they peddle 6,000 special Goodfellow newspaper editions throughout the community this Saturday.

Sixty-two families were aided during the past year by the Goodfellows and each year the job grows larger. The investigation committee is now at work checking on families where it appears that Christmas may pass by this year unless outside help is found.

Arbor-Croft Development Builds Model

First models are now going up at Arbor-Croft Subdivision, a $1,272,000 development that will cover 18 acres in the City's southwest corner.

Fifty-three building lots are being developed in the subdivision where homes will range in price from $20,000 to $28,000.

The developer is Gould Development Corp., while the construction is being done by Gould Homes, Inc.

Loren Gould, head of the two firms, states that restrictions in the subdivision will limit the homes to colonial and early American design. He said that his first model is now going up and should be ready by late January.

The first model will be a two-story colonial with four bedrooms and two and a half baths. A second model to go up later will be a ranch-style.

Concrete streets are now laid throughout the subdivision. It also has water, sewer, sidewalk and other City advantages, the builder declared. FHA financing is available.

The 53 lots range in width from 60 to 100 feet, with the average being 75 feet.

The subdivision is one of the few remaining large building sites in the City. Gould has built many homes in the community. He developed Arbor Village and built many of the homes there. The firm has also been active in Hough Estates during the past year.

Five homes have already been sold in the subdivision, Gould revealed. Lots alone will not be sold, he added.

The development firm also has plans for a shopping center along Ann Arbor Rd., adjoining the south end of the subdivision. (Continued on Page 8)

Young Actor Has Real Silent Night

A couple of Oscars for acting might be in store for a Starkweather school kindergarten boy and girl who played their roles in the annual Christmas pageant to the hilt.

The script for last Friday night's program called for pajama-clad Cynthia Hylton and Ronald Stiglich to hang up their stockings at the fireplace, sit on the sofa and fall asleep as two elves touched them with their wands.

While the two kindergarten youngsters "slept," the individual classes came in and sang songs from different lands. For 45 minutes, Cynthia and Ronald sat with eyes closed. At the end of the program, the elves reappeared, touched Cynthia with their wand, and she jumped up.

But with Ronald, it was a different story. The elves hit Ronald once, twice, five and six times. The audience chuckled. The determined elves then shook Ronald. By this time it was apparent that Ronald was really fast asleep.

The audience roared. Teachers were set to run on and take charge of the situation.

Finally, bleary-eyed Ronald awoke, rubbed his eyes and gave a rather cross look at the elves who woke him up at that late hour of 8:15. At rehearsal the day before, Principal Mildred Field said, Cynthia had fallen asleep. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Stiglich, 14950 Beck Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hylton, 332 W. Liberty.

GIVING THE Plymouth Goodfellows a $50 send-off this week was the Parkview Circle Association, a homeowners group that gives money each Christmas to a worthy project.

Couple United at Candlelight Ceremony

At a candlelight service Dec. 2 at the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth Rev. Henry J. Walch solemnized the marriage of Susan Gayle McDonald and Dale A. Houghtaling.

Baskets of white baby mums and large mums decorated the church and small colonial bouquets of white baby mums adorned the pews.

Mr. Dean L. Sanford sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Fred Nelson at the organ. The bride, given in marriage by her father, Roderick McNeil, was gowned in Chantilly lace over satin and tulle. A Queen Anne neckline graced the bodice and seed pearls were set in the round yoke. Her long sleeves ended in points at the wrist. The skirt of the full-length, bouffant bridal dress featured a straight lace panel in the front and a cascade of ruffles, beginning at the waist, cascaded into a bustle. The skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip illusion veil fell from a pointed, seed pearl tiara-type crown. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds centered with a white orchid.

Maid of honor, Miss Ruth Kay Winkler, cousin of the bride and a student nurse at Flint's Hurley Hospital, wore a moss green velvet ballerina-length dress. The full chiffon skirt was gathered under a cummerbund over taffeta at the waist. A feather band type hat, moss green gauntlets and brocade slippers completed her accessories. She carried a colonial hand bouquet of white carnations tinted with moss green and flowing moss green ribbon.

Bridesmaid, Janet McIlhargie of Jener St., wore a gown fashioned identical to the matron of honor in a shade of antique gold and tinted carnations to match. Miss Madolyn Johnson of Main St., wore the same dress in a shade of turquoise with matching bouquet.

Three year old Tana Susan Lee was flower girl and wore a duplicate copy of the bridal gown. Five year old brother of the bridegroom, Timothy Houghtaling, was ring bearer.

Millon R. Houghtaling, an uncle of the bridegroom, was best man. C. Douglas Lock and J. Virgil Norgrove seated the guests. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Roderick McNeil wore a light green brocade satin sheath with avocado accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Ed Houghtaling, chose a beige brocade satin dress with beige accessories.

Following the ceremony the reception for 200 guests was held in the church parlors. Guests came from Plymouth, Lansing, Flint, Durand, Detroit, Northville, Wayne and Kalamazoo.

The new Mrs. Houghtaling

changed into a lavender wool jersey sheath with matching accessories and the orchid from her bouquet for the couple's wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York City.

On their return the newlyweds will make their new home at 11411 Northshore Dr. at Whitmore Lake.

Both are graduates of Plymouth High School. Dale has served in the U.S. Air Corp., and Susan will be graduating from Virginia Farrell Beauty School in February. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick McNeil, 14760 Susanna, Livonia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Houghtaling of 11688 Russell in Plymouth.

State Police Car Among Ivy Victims

Last Saturday afternoon's snow storm brought about a rash of accidents as drivers, unused to slippery streets, skidded their way around Plymouth.

A Michigan State Police car was involved in an accident in the City, police reported this week. It was one of four collisions reported during the afternoon's snow.

A woman motorist was driving south on Holbrook and was unable to stop the car as it approached Plymouth Rd. on a downhill grade. It skidded into the State Police car and the patrol car, heading east, went over the curb and struck the front porch of the house at 230 Plymouth Rd. There were no injuries.

Several other accidents were reported to Wayne County Road Patrol in the Township area, with a woman motorist reported hurt in a Hines Drive accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Smith visited in Chatham, Ont. over the weekend. They called on Mrs. Raymond Bachelord, formerly a Plymouth resident who now lives with her sister there.

Ford Gives Big Boost To Ladywood Building Fund

Ladywood High School on Levan Rd. in Livonia, a private Catholic High School for girls, is completing plans for a half million dollar expansion and has received a large boost of $70,000 from the Ford Motor Co.

The school, where around 40 Plymouth girls attend, has been accredited by the University of Michigan since its inception in 1957.

Originally the school was erected to accommodate 300 pupils. Today, lack of facilities makes it impossible to serve the demand for enrollment which is already overtaxed at more than 400 girls.

Employees of the Ford Motor Co. whose daughters are enrolled at Ladywood, have been active in the Building Fund Drive. The Ford Motor Co. with its aid to education program, has matched the $70,000 sum contributed by employees. The Ford gift, plus donations by the families of students and other residents of the area now bring the total to $190,000 toward the goal of $500,000.

The expansion program will include an addition of eight classrooms, a gymnasium and

Jaycees Host 20 Training School Boys and Girls

Twenty boys and girls from the Wayne County Training School will be given $10 each this Saturday afternoon and will spend the afternoon buying Christmas gifts.

A Jaycee or their wives will accompany each two youngsters. Afterward, they will be guests at a potluck supper at the Terry West home.

LADIES AT THE WHEEL

Modern cars look smarter and suffer from far fewer maintenance problems than automobiles did years ago and one of the reasons is women.

Let's face it, fellows, the ladies are more demanding than we are and the industry is hustling to meet their wants. This is the prime reason North American cars have always led the field in style, comfort and reliability over their European counterparts where feminine influence is less pronounced.

A recent survey reveals that eight out of ten women drive and that 48 percent of them drive every day. Ninety percent take the car out at least once a week. Forty three percent buy the gasoline for the family car and about the same percentage have the service work done.

Comparative accident records show they are as equally competent drivers as men, despite the fact that superior maintenance checks may still be heard over those female driver jokes ("Ours is the only house in town with dented trees - my wife drives.")

Ladies are most interested in style. A national magazine recently received 33,000 entries in a design contest for a car style of the future. It is a rare woman these days though that doesn't have some idea of the various working parts of an automobile.

We are always pleased to take the time to explain the technical mysteries of the engine or other mechanical parts of their cars to our lady customers. Experience shows that once properly informed, they take as good care of a car as they do their home.

Crash Kills Canton Couple

In a four-car collision over the weekend a Canton Township couple, Earl Wisterman, 32, and his wife Edna, 24, were fatally injured in a Romulus Township accident.

According to Wayne County Sheriff's deputies, the Wisterman car slowed down behind another car for a red light at the Van Born intersection as it was headed east on Wayne Rd. when hit from behind by a Redford Township driver. The impact forced the Wisterman auto into the car ahead.

The couple were dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital. Both were employed at the Ford Rawsonville plant. Their home was located at 42015 Cherry Hill.

The Plymouth Board promised to examine the situation further and give their answer at a special meeting next Monday.

School Board

Inspection Trouble
Building and Grounds supervisor Thomas Kelly reported that a final inspection of the modernized High School by the state fire marshal's office has brought a letter from that office declaring that much of the work performed this summer does not meet with fire prevention code. Kelly said that the letter criticized use of the type of ceiling installed, the lack of a sprinkler system in the attic and the use of a fire escape from a roof level, and others.

All of the work performed this summer was first approved by the fire marshal's office, Kelly said, and this approval is all in writing. The immediate superior of the person who made the inspection had approved all plans. Kelly and architect Byron Becker are going to Lansing Thursday to straighten the matter out.

Check Towel Service
A recommendation from the system's physical education department to provide a towel service for gym pupils is being given some study by the Board. Wayne County Health Department people and the physical education instructors have outlined to the Board the danger that can result from the present health situation in the High School locker rooms where wet towels and bathing suits are allowed to sit in lockers all week.

It has been recommended that the Plymouth schools follow the lead of some other districts and set up a laundry and towel service. It has also been recommended that baskets be used instead of lockers. Cost estimates will be compiled for the Board.

Hire Teachers
The resignation of Mrs. Shirley Armstrong, third grade teacher at Farrand School, was accepted. Carol A. Barnes was hired to fill the vacancy. Also hired was Charlotte LaPointe, to fill a half-day kindergarten vacancy at Smith School.

storm sewers are usable to drain off seep tile, but in other areas, the storm sewer is not low enough and can only collect surface water. The depth of the storm sewers is dependent upon their flow into the Tonquish Creek, which carries away the City's storm water.

After 5 minutes of debate among builders, commissioners and Lodge, Mayor Robert Sincoc asked if there was any motion. There was a silence and the meeting was adjourned. Since this was a special meeting of the commission, only three items had been placed on the agenda. (Setting a hearing on the urban renewal project and approval of Arbor Croft Subdivision were others. See stories elsewhere.) But after the meeting, the Commission met as a committee of the whole to plan for future meetings.

One of the future decisions to be made by the Commission is selection of a new planning consultant. The present consultant, Waring and Johnson, will be dismissed as of Jan. 1, 1962. The Commission will invite representatives from two or three other firms to come here for presentation of their programs and costs.

was not as great as when Santa arrived by helicopter in the previous two years, there were hundreds of children still visiting Santa throughout the day at his Kellogg Park headquarters.

A long line of kiddies and their parents wound down "Candy Cane Lane" in the park as Santa conferred with his young friends Saturday. Candy was given to each visitor.

Most Plymouth stores began their "open nights until Christmas" hours last Thursday. On Saturday, cars jammed the downtown in a stormstorm apparently giving the "Christmas spirit" to shoppers.

Salem Folks Disturbed About Night-Time Parkers

By C. W. Clair
GL 3-2610

Mrs. Elwood Chipchase came home from the University Hospital Tuesday, Nov. 5, with her infant son, John Elwood.

William Lewis of West Seven Mile Rd. is in Veterans' Hospital suffering a very bad strep throat.

Mrs. Glen Whittaker of Brookville Road is in Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. She underwent surgery last week. Her condition is reported good.

The first lesson in politics: "To recall a voter's name is statesmanship; to forget it is oblivion." — Dale Carnegie.

Illegal night parkers are a menace in our Township. Three years ago we had a regular patrolman in our area. Each night he made several rounds throughout the Township. He was on the job for two and one half years and had the area cleaned up of the night parkers and teen age rowdiness. Then we missed him; he was off the job.

We investigated and were told that he was no longer needed; his job was not necessary and the Town Board voted to take him off the job. Now, again, we are over-run with these pests. It is not unusual to see from three to five cars parked along Five Mile Rd. between Napier and Chubb Rd.

Several cars parked on Chubb Rd. between Five Mile Rd. and Six Mile Rd. One of the neighbors on Five Mile Rd. told me recently that these night parkers were getting quite bold; that there was one parked in their driveway one night. The gravel pit on Five Mile Road and Chubb is another favorite spot of these "smoochers". I have personally seen them parked off the road and onto the green at the golf course on Five Mile Road.

I have been asked, "What can we do about it?" It's very definitely a safety hazard and a general nuisance in our Township. My answer to this question is to call the Sheriff at NO 2-2504. I talked to Sheriff Peterson Tuesday, Dec. 5 to explain the problem to him. He assured me that he will have this area patrolled more often.

Harlow Ingall, the Township supervisor, attended the school for assessors in the Rackham Building in Ann Arbor Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of last week.

The Township Supervisor was in Monroe Friday at a meeting of the State District Supervisors. The Salem Federated Church has on Monday evenings two groups of Pioneer girls. They are the Pilgrim girls, ages from 8 to 11 years and the Colonist girls, ages from 12 to 14 years. They meet at 7 p.m. The combined groups have about 25 girls. Also on Monday evening there is a group of boys called the Battalion Group of the Christian Service Brigade. This group consists of twenty-seven boys ranging from 10 to 18 years. They meet at 7:30.

On Friday evening there is The Stockade Group of the Christian Service Brigade meeting at 7:30. This is a group of boys, 30 in number, ranging from 8 to 11 years old. These groups of young folks have as their leaders: The Pilgrim group, Mrs. Frank Davis is chairman; Mrs. Clara Dickerson, chief guide; the Battalion Group, Robert Lemonis, captain, with three assistants. Rev. Chipchase is a lieutenant and fills in where he is most needed. Mrs. Ralph Wilson came home from St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital Sunday morning. It was a surprise to her as well as to all of her friends. The doctor had previously told her that she would be in until the first of the year. We are all glad to know that she is home again.

The controversy in Salem Township regarding two recent actions — one regarding the use of property for a club and the other, use of property for a land fill business, drew some comment this week from Supervisor Harlow Ingall who states that it is not true that James Brummell has been asked to resign because of his recent vote favoring a gun club location in the Township. Brummell is a member of the Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

Last week, the real estate transaction was completed that turns over the Napier Rd. property to the Western Wayne County Conservation Club.) This is Supervisor Ingall's statement: "It is not true that Mr. Brummell was asked to resign because of his vote on the gun club.

"If a Township Board could, and did, dictate to its Zoning and Appeal Board members how they should vote, these advisory Boards would be useless. The gun club and the land-fill cases have certainly affected public opinion, but they furnish no grounds for removal of anyone from office.

"It is true that Mr. Brummell, and many others, have devoted many hours to the duties of their offices, but his record of late has not been good, much to my regret, because I believed I could work with Mr. Brummell, and that we could use his undoubted abilities. When Mr. Brummell's appointment was asked for about a year ago, I voted Yes, although I realized he was not popular in our Township.

"According to law, he would not be in a position to determine policy. However, Mr. Brummell apparently has tried to do just that. Last year's Township Board, as well as this one, formerly requested Zoning Board action to clarify our ordinance in regard to roadside stands. After more than a year from the time of the first formal notice, according to the minutes, they decided that it was not the time to act on the matter. To the credit of several members of that Board, I am told, they did think it was time to start a study of several changes in our zoning laws. Our township attorney thinks so too.

"Since becoming supervisor I have consulted with Mr. Brummell many times at his home and elsewhere. I have tried to avoid any trouble which could become personal because quarreling does not make for good government. However, the Township Board is responsible to the people of this township, and we are trying to carry out their wishes. Mr. Brummell was warned and he is to blame for what he accuses others of, specifically, lack of cooperation. Now I hope to talk this out fully with other members of the Zoning Board and to get both harmony and action in our township government."

Eta Psi Sends Tree of Mittens to School

Mrs. Gerald Fuelling, 240 Byron, was hostess to Eta Psi sorority on Dec. 6. Mrs. Forest Byrd, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Boydon Muzzy, service chairman, thanked the group for all donations toward the Thanksgiving Basket, which was presented to a local family on the day before Thanksgiving.

Each member donated a pair of mittens for the Mitten Tree that is sent to the Wayne County Training School annually. The Christmas Service Project will also be sent to a local deserving family under Mrs. Muzzy.

Mrs. Robert Probeck was in charge of the program "Nature" and introduced Mr. Jack Daziens of the Travel Centre and Mr. Probeck.

Mr. Daziens presented two films "Winter in Germany" and "Hawaii". The group thoroughly enjoyed both. Mr. Robert Probeck ably assisted in the film presentations.

A farewell dinner party was held by Eta Psi on Nov. 15 at Hillside Inn in honor of Mrs. Robert Brown of Palmer St. A farewell gift remembrance was given to Mrs. Brown from the sorority by Mrs. Byrd. Mrs. Brown was one of the charter members of this local chapter.

The Brown's and their baby daughter will reside in Sanford, Florida where Mr. Brown is now associated with Chase and Company.

SPORTSEEN

By Jerome O'Neil

There's a tale of hockey and Plymouth that may strike a chord of timeliness . . .

. . . If only because this is the start of the season for such adventure and there are indications that the ice may soon form on Phoenix and Wilcox Lakes and perhaps, too, on the new rink in back of the high school.

It concerns a handful of hockey players who grew old, a Plymouth lumber dealer who had an idea, and a "holiday" that involved financial institutions and not Yule-tide.

The tale is sheltered in the gentle shadows of 30 years and then some, and not everyone who took part is here to recall the fun and labor of a bygone era.

But Ed Dobbs recalls it. He lives at 1239 Penniman. It happens that Ed was a central figure in the tale. He was one of the hockey players.

Perhaps the tale began to unfold in 1921 when the late Russell Roe moved to Plymouth from Sault Ste. Marie and established the Roe Lumber Co. on Amelia St. He was an enthusiastic hockey fan.

But a few years passed after his arrival before his enthusiasm could take hold.

The opportunity arose in 1928. During the two preceding winters, a collection of seven or eight young men had been playing pick-up hockey on Phoenix Pond.

One of these was Ed Dobbs. Others included Charles Garlett (Plymouth city treasurer in later years), Jim Rutherford, George Farwell, Lefty Arnold, Clare Block and Cecil Douglas.

Roe called a meeting of these men in October 1928, and a Plymouth hockey team was formed as a result. That winter it played in the Detroit Municipal League. Games were held at Olympia Stadium, following the professional contests there.

Russell Roe, who never played organized hockey in his life, was team manager. And a good one.

For the 1929-30 season, Roe entered the Plymouth team in the newly-formed Southern Michigan Amateur Hockey League.

Aided by a few Canadian imports, the Plymouth entry did well that season, but the following winter Plymouth hit its peak, racing undefeated through an 11-game schedule enroute to a league championship. Other teams in the circuit were from Dearborn, Pontiac, Wyandotte, Roseville and Ferndale.

Meanwhile, community interest in hockey had been fanned by Roe and his players. Their own enthusiasm was mounting, too.

With visions of an indoor artificial ice rink at a later time, the team in 1928 managed to borrow $1200. They built an elaborate 80' x 180' rink behind the high school. It was not far from where the new ice rink stands today.

It was surrounded by an eight-foot fence and featured "a good sheet of ice," clubhouses and lavatories.

Lights were strung to accommodate night skaters. There was some overhead. Electricity bills alone were $30 a month.

Despite this, the rink was a sudden success. That first winter after it opened, the rink earned the team $600 after expenses, and the bank note was reduced by half. The next winter, the team was able to pay off $200 more, leaving a balance of only $400 on the original loan.

But then came the severe grip of the depression. To make matters worse, the following two winters were mild ones.

There were few who could afford the pleasure of skating when an admission fee was involved. And seldom was the ice suitable for good skating anyway.

The dreams of the players began to fade.

The "Bank Holiday" in 1933 was a final blow. Roe did the only possible thing, when the $400 note came due. He sold the lumber that had formed the boards and the clubhouse. He raised enough money, Dobbs recalls, to pay off the bank loan. But there was nothing left.

The loss of the rink coupled with the throes of the depression was more than hockey in Plymouth could withstand. There was one other factor that took all remaining steam out of the program — the encroachment of the years themselves.

The collection of hockey players from Phoenix Pond in 1926-27 was no longer a group of young men, by hockey-playing standards. Many of them were well into their 30's the year the rink disappeared.

Plymouth's hockey team abruptly disintegrated in 1933.

Perhaps the biggest loss was Plymouth's inability to gain its own indoor artificial ice rink. Despite the troubles of the times, Plymouth came very close, nonetheless.

There was a concerted move in 1931, with Roe spearheading the effort, to purchase the General Machine & Iron Works (today it's Pilgrim Drawn Steel) on General Drive. Roe hoped that the purchase could be arranged and that the factory could be converted to an indoor ice arena.

The price was considerable, and money was none too plentiful.

"But the people here were behind us," Ed Dobbs remembered last week.

"If it hadn't been for the depression and the shortage of funds, Plymouth could have had an indoor community ice rink back then."

He rubbed his mustache, which conceals an old hockey scar.

"It was a great dream," he mused. And Russell Roe would agree.

Suburban Six Schools Await League Action

Still readying themselves for Suburban Six action, league teams this week could reflect on varied success as a result of their efforts last weekend.

The Suburban Six basketball schedule starts to unfold this Friday evening as the half dozen schools in the circuit combine to comprise three league encounters.

Allen Park entertains Plymouth in one game of significance to local partisans.

Last Friday, Suburban Six member schools fared thusly: Allen Park defeated Lincoln Park, 76-68, and Plymouth downed Walled Lake, 45-41.

Redford Union dumped Cherry Hill, 54-31, and Livonia-Bentley lost to Farmington for the first time in five years, 46-31. Wayne defeated Belleville, 64-49, and Riverview set down Trenton, 62-56.

Little League Officials Meet December 19

Officers and team managers of Plymouth's Community Little League will meet Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Township Hall to map plans for the 1962 season.

Interested parents are invited to attend the meeting, first to be held concerning the forthcoming season.

For the new program there will be six teams in each of the two Little League divisions. Previously there had been four.

In 1962, there will also be only one group of officers overseeing the activity of the league. In past years there were two individual sets of officers, one supervising the National division and the other controlling the American division.

Allen Park Is Next

Cagers Gain First Victory, 45-41

Sporting a one-win, two-loss record, Plymouth's basketball team enters the familiar confines of the Suburban Six league Friday evening as high-scoring Allen Park plays host to the Rocks.

It will be Plymouth's first league encounter of the infant season and should serve as still another proving ground for the Rocks, who last Friday learned further the value of defense in stopping mediocre Walled Lake, 45-41.

At Allen Park, as the league schedule unveils, it may well be a game of another sort. For Allen Park five nights ago claimed a 76-68 conquest of Lincoln Park.

Plymouth has little offensive spark to compare to this and will be forced to rely on defensive strength if the game is to remain even at all.

It is a reasonably solid defense that gained the Rocks their first victory of the 1961-62 season at Walled Lake. And for the first time Plymouth held onto its narrow half-time lead. Twice previously Plymouth had relinquished a half-time margin and gone on to defeat.

But Walled Lake was unable to pull this twist, despite a good try.

With four minutes left, Plymouth enjoyed a 12-point lead which promptly dwindled to two with only 40 seconds remaining. However, Tom Lock scored for Plymouth in the final moments, thus gaining the four-point spread. Still it was through defensive efforts that Plymouth won.

The Rocks held Walled Lake to eight points in the first period and only four in the third. In between, Plymouth's host was scoring sporadically and threatened seriously only in the game's waning moments.

Coach Bryan Boring commented later about the team's defensive improvement and singled out Dick Schryer and Dave Jensen for their efforts. "But it was a team victory," Ketterer was quick to add.

Schryer held Walled Lake's 6-foot-2 forward Joe Tuck to only four points in the second half as Tuck wound up with 13 for his night's work. And Jensen sparked for Plymouth as a defensive pivot man.

All-in-all, it was a balanced Plymouth attack that turned back a spirited Walled Lake team. Schryer, with nine points, paced Plymouth, but not by much. Lock and Dan Stremick each had eight, Jim Dart and Eloy Menchaca both scored six, Mike Kisabeth had four, Jared Stevens had two and Dave Gothard had two.

But it will take considerably better point production to match Allen Park's scoring machine, based on the Parkers' 76-point output last weekend.

The varsity game will begin at about 8 p.m., following the JayVee encounter.

FACES FROM out of the past are these, representing the central figures in Plymouth's hockey team of more than three decades ago. From left, in the front row, are: Lefty Arnold, Clare Block, Stan Drews, Cecil Douglas and Mike Pidgeon. In the back row, from left, are: Dan Quirk, Charles Garlett, Ed Dobbs, Russell Roe (team manager and sponsor), Ed Block (secretary), Frenchy Paige and Jim Rutherford. Quirk is a brother to Nancy Williams, wife of Michigan's former governor. Many of the men shown here have since died. Roe, who was the driving force behind the team, passed away in 1947. The photo was taken in either 1928 or 1929.

DICK MICHAELS won the 200-yard ind. medley in good time last Thursday night for Plymouth, but visiting Birmingham won the dual meet by a 53-48 score. Michaels, shown here as he finished the race, was a double winner and gained 10 points in a losing cause. Another Plymouth swimmer is in the background, just about to complete the final lap.

Four Teams Enter Men's Recreation Cage League

Four teams have entered the men's class B recreation basketball league here, announced league director Paul Cummings last week.

Additional teams will be admitted to the league up to as late as Jan. 3, which is approximately the start of the 12-game schedule, Cummings said.

The four teams now entered are Cloverdale, managed by Tony Minte, Tait's, headed by Hugh Ableson, the Independents with Lyall Jensen as manager, and a Burroughs team with John Jawor as manager.

Each team may carry 12 players, the limit permitted by the league. Games will be played Wednesday nights at the high school, Cummings said. He is, this week, preparing the schedule of games. Between now and the start of the schedule, the men's recreation teams will practice beginning at 9 p.m. each Wednesday at the high school.

Winner of Plymouth's men's recreation league will be allowed to enter the Michigan Recreation Association's class B basketball tournament which will be held either late in March or early in April.

Hunt, Latter, Stremick Win MVP Awards

Most Valuable Player awards were announced last week for Plymouth's 1961 cross country and football teams and at the same time, 1962 team captains were elected.

Tony Hunt and Byron Latter, who were co-captains of the Rocks' cross country squad, were both named as MVP winners in voting last week.

Dennis Knapp, a junior, was elected cross country captain for the 1962 campaign. Coach John Sandmann announced.

The Plymouth cross country team this past fall captured the Suburban Six league championship and finished 10th in the state meet.

All-league end Dan Stremick was picked as VP of Plymouth's 1961 football team, which gained a league crown and finished with a 6-2 record overall.

Dick Schryer, quarterback, was selected as next year's team captain. Coach Mike Hoben revealed.

Hoben also announced football letter-winners from this past season.

A manager's letter went to Horace Bruff.

Reserve varsity letter-winners included: Ronald Thomas, Dave Bolton, Robert Dart, John Stone and David Bolton.

Swimmers Bow As 39-Meet Win Streak Ends

By a margin of less than two seconds in one event, Plymouth's swimming team last Thursday suffered its first dual-meet defeat in 40 engagements as Birmingham Seaholm High dumped the Rocks, 53-48.

Going into the final two events, the 200-yard medley and freestyle relays, Plymouth trailed 45-36, but retained an outside chance of victory if its relay teams could win.

Instead, Birmingham edged the Rocks in the medley relay with a winning time of 1:51.1 compared to Plymouth's 1:52.3 effort.

As a result, it made little difference to Plymouth fans that the Rocks' freestyle relay quartet claimed a 1:43.9 win in the final event.

Because Birmingham had sewed up the match moments before.

Plymouth's last loss in dual meet competition occurred in 1958. Ironically, that defeat also came at the hands of Birmingham Seaholm, always powerful and fast becoming an archrival of Plymouth in swimming competition.

More than 300 fans were on hand at the Plymouth pool to view the Rocks in a crucial test Thursday night.

And, as Coach John McFall had predicted earlier, it was Plymouth's lack of team depth and balance that proved to be the Rocks' downfall.

After moving to a 14-13 lead after three events, Plymouth fell back as Birmingham swept first and second places in both the 100-yard backstroke and 100-yard breaststroke. It was a lead Birmingham never lost.

Once again, Dick Michaels and Gary Gould carried off scoring honors for Plymouth. Both were double winners as Michaels finished first in the 400-yard freestyle and the 200-yard individual medley and Gould won in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle events.

Each scored 10 points apiece. Other Plymouth scoring was accounted for by:

Barry Corwin, second, and Dick Alford, third, in the 100-yard butterfly. Tom Hoffman, third, in the 100-yard backstroke.

Phil Bender, third, in the 100-yard breaststroke. Win Schrader, third, in the 100-yard freestyle. Mark Schultheiss, first, and DeWayne Stephenson, sec-

Veterans of Foreign Wars

The Post voted to postpone the Dec. 26 meeting indefinitely because of Christmas, so there will only be one meeting in December.

Our best wishes are extended to Ed Holdsworth for a speedy recovery with his case of the mumps.

There will be an officers meeting at 8 p.m. on Dec. 8 at the Hall. All officers elected and appointed are requested to be present.

If you are looking for a New Year's Eve party, see Lou Dely for tickets for the Post's New Year's Dance to be held at the Hall. Tickets are $8.00 per couple. The price includes dancing, favors, lunch and refreshments.

Our Dec. 12 meeting will be the Post Christmas Party. There will be free food and refreshments that night. Come out and have some fellowship with your buddies.

The Post and Auxiliary children's Christmas Party will be on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17. Ed and Mary Holdsworth have taken on this project.

The quartermaster is still looking for 1962 dues to come in. We are now in our last month to make 100 per cent before Jan. 1. It means a lot to the state and national departments to have a large membership, as this makes their work much easier when they can talk for a larger percentage of the veterans that are eligible for our organization. By paying your dues you may be responsible for aid to any number of hospitalized veterans.

We had two of our Fourth District officers at our Nov. 28 meeting, Robert Sackett, senior vice commander and Stanley Slowik, quartermaster.

Nine members of the Post attended the school of instruction and the Fourth District meeting held at the West Detroit Post 2107.

Band Candy Raises Funds for Interlochen

Father Child Leaves For Wayne Parish

Father William T. Child, assistant pastor at Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish since June 22, 1957, has been reassigned and will leave for his new position tomorrow, Dec. 14.

THESE WOOD carvings are among the pieces turned out by Hugh Means, who has specialized in Biblical characters. Building in foreground is the Presbyterian Church before it burned. The picture of Christ at Galilee at right is carved all in one piece, including the frame.

Wood Carving Hobbyist Has Specialty of Bible Figures

By C. W. Clair

A former Sunday School superintendent who turned his interest in the Bible into a hobby has now been sidelined — at least temporarily — because of an arthritic condition.

Bible stories are easily recalled for Hugh Means, 302 W. Ann Arbor Trail, as he glances around his home and sees the intricately-carved Biblical characters that he "whittled" over the years.

Using a common pocket knife and small chisels, Mr. Means carved the pieces from oak and pine blocks. Looking around the home, there are carvings of Christ at Galilee, Samson at the Gates, The Good Shepherd and others.

One can also find a reproduction of "The Man with the Hoe" and carvings of the old Plymouth Presbyterian Church before it burned in 1936 and the Central Methodist Church of Detroit. The details are not only good, but each piece is carved from one block of wood — not assembled. A chain in the Samson at the Gate figure, for instance, is carved from one piece of wood.

Born on a Paris, Ill. farm in 1885, Mr. Means came to Detroit in 1912 where he worked for the Packard, Ford and Graham-Paige automobile companies.

Deciding that inside work was not for him, Mr. Means and his wife, Nina, moved to Salem Township in 1920 and bought a small truck farm at Curtis and North Territorial Roads. He operated this farm for 19 years.

It was during this time that he became superintendent of the Sunday school at Federated Church of Salem. He had always been a diligent student of the Bible and he started whittling for a hobby. He decided to specialize in Biblical characters.

He cannot recall where he learned the art of wood carving. "I just liked to whittle," he declared.

"I never knew you did this type of thing," an acquaintance recently said in a visit to the Means home.

"You never asked me," Mr. Means replied modestly.

Because of his arthritic condition, Mr. Means has not done much carving lately, but friends who have recently discovered his talents are hoping he will once again sharpen up his knives and chisels and go to work on this unusual hobby.

The Auxiliary will have their business meeting on Thursday, Dec. 11, 8 p.m. at the Post Home, scheduled early as Christmas is too near our regular date.

Mildred Hower, rehabilitation chairman reports that Marie Thompson and Maxine Kunz went to the VA Hospital in Ann Arbor for the Gift Shop Tuesday, Dec. 5. Wish more members could go and see this wonderful project.

The Christmas Party was a wonderful success. It was good to see so many out. There were wonderful food and pictures were shown of the Memorial Parade and Convention and Halloween Party. Everyone had a wonderful time. The blanket was won by Melva Gardner. Marion Kot, president and Ray Gardner, commander wish to thank all who worked so hard on this party.

A Social is again planned for Monday, Dec. 18 at 8 p.m. Please contact Don Kinghorn at GL 3-3995 for complete details or Ray Gardner, at GL 3-2531. Wonderful time will be had, try and come.

The Post will have a Business Meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 20, 8 p.m. Commander Gardner urges all to attend. Let's make this the biggest attendance for this year.

Remember our New Years party ... if you haven't put in your Reservation, better hurry, it must be in by the 16th. Contact either Don Kinghorn, GL 3-3995 or Ray Gardner, GL 3-2531 for details but hurry.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Newton (Ann Clark) in the loss of her two brothers and family in a tragic auto accident in New York.

Canton Floats Bonds For Water in February

By Esther Sprengel
GL 3-0194

The questions have been asked many times of the Canton Township Board, "When will we have water?" What is being done so far and what progress have you made? Although the board was anxious to answer these questions, matters beyond their control brought about changes so that definite answers were impossible to make. However on Saturday, Dec. 9, Supervisor Louis Stein felt that this information will answer many of your questions.

The Assessed Roll for Water for the North Half of the Township has been set up.

The boundaries are: Canton Center Rd. to Joy Road, Ford and Canton Center Roads to Lilley, Lilley from Canton Center to Warren, Warren from Lilley to Canton Center. Petitions have been filed and checked for sufficient signatures.

The Township plans to start the sale of bonds in February, and Mr. Stein stated that the people can expect water this summer. Mr. Stein went on to say that it might be of interest to know that the Canton Township Board has signed a contract this past week, in which Detroit has agreed to extend water mains, at their expense, into Canton Township, by way of Cherry Hill to Lilley Road and North on Lilley Road to Ford Road. The area named will be served from the corner of Ford and Lilley Roads.

A twenty-four inch main will run from Cherry Hill to Lilley Rd. and a 1-inch main will run from Lilley Road to Ford Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bordine of Saltz Rd. received news this past week, that they are great grandparents for the second time. Mr. and Mrs. James Winger of Delaware sent word to the proud grandparents, that Linda LeAnna arrived on Dec. 3, and weighed 4 lbs. and one half oz. The Winger's home is located near the air force base where Jim is stationed. Linda has a sister, Debra Ilene.

The true spirit of Christmas was shown by the Girl Scouts of Troop 269 when these young ladies adopted an underprivileged child from Puerto Rico.

The girls were made acquainted with their little friend of Sabana Seca, Puerto Rico through Mrs. Harold Voss whose sister and husband are living in this area, being a member of the United States Navy. The couple had written about the many poor families in this area, and described their condition this way, "Our slums would be paradise in comparison to what many of these people endure."

Mrs. Voss wrote the couple who in turn contacted the mayor of Sabana Seca, Mayor Rod Rodriguez. He sent the name of Hilda Quendo to the girls. Hilda is 12 years old and the Scouts plan to send her gifts on special occasions, such as her birthday and Christmas. The box they sent Hilda just recently for Christmas included many things a girl of her age would desire. Some were items the girls bought and some were things they felt they could spare from their personal belongings. The leaders of Troop 269, Mrs. Osenton and Mrs. Armstrong, helped the girls with their gifts. Mrs. Voss said that there are many more youngsters in Sabana Seca who are in need of help. She said that her son had written for a pen pal and that Mayor Rodriguez's son Jose has been corresponding with him.

Mrs. Voss felt that there might be other young people that would like a pen pal or would like to help these young people and gave me the following address to write for information. Mayor R. Rodriguez, Box 43, Sabana Seca, Puerto Rico. What better way to enjoy the Christmas season than sharing, and what better way to cement relations with other nations than friendships between our young people.

The Executive Board of the Gallimore P.T.A. met at the home of Mrs. Nancy Christner of Livonia (second grade teacher at Gallimore) to complete plans for their Christmas program and evaluate the programs held thus far by the group.

While speaking of our P.T.A. at Gallimore, a big circle should surround the date of Dec. 19, 6:45 p.m. for all Gallimore parents. The children have planned a very extensive program "The Littlest Angel". Many hours of work by the youngsters and their teachers have been put into this program and from what we hear it should be a wonderful prelude to Christmas.

The School Chorus will sing Christmas songs and refreshments will be served following the program.

The following schedule of events for the Cherry Hill Methodist Church has been set. On Dec. 14, the Ruth Circle meets, Dec. 17, the M.Y.F. will visit Resthaven, and the members of the Church and everyone who enjoys singing is invited to meet at the Cherry Hill Church for a Singing at 7:00 p.m. The group will sing many of the familiar Christmas carols, the evening will close with refreshments.

On Dec. 20 the Men's Club will meet and on Dec. 23 a wonderful tradition will be carried out with the Sunday School Christmas Program and the annual Christmas Caroling at the homes of Township residents.

We would like to thank Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Niemann for the lovely Christmas message we received and the schedule of their church events.

If your young people will be home for the holidays from their studies, or from their duties in the Armed Services, or you are planning a holiday get-together give us a call and share it with others of your township. As for me, I am still on jury duty and by next week I shall have the answer to that mysterious question "How do you get on jury duty and how are the names selected?" If I can understand the procedure, I will let you in on it.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Koppen, Gorham Rd. recently returned from their Northern Lodge at Miladec Mich. with two five point buck trophies which will pretty near fill their deep freezer. Mrs. Koppen is the lady that last year advised us not to doctor up that meat, but just cook it and enjoy its natural flavor.

The Women's Society of Christian Service held a combined meeting of the Esther, Ruth and Faith Circles to wrap Christmas gifts for patients at the Ypsilanti State Hospital in Milan, Mich. The ladies secure lists of things the women patients would like, approximately 30 in number. The ladies have been planning Christmas gifts for this group for the past four or five years.

A date for those persons who enjoy singing hymns and Christmas carols to circle on the calendar is Dec. 17 at 7 p.m. The Cherry Hill Methodist Church on Ridge Rd. will hold a Singing on that date and an invitation is extended to everyone. The Esther Circle of the Cherry Hill Methodist Church will hold their meeting at the home of Mrs. Garland Wright of Gyde Rd.

A new family to the Beck Rd. Canton Township Area — the Stavely's. Mrs. Stavely recently accepted a dealership for Avon Products. So if you haven't met your new neighbor, just give Viola a call on 453-8190 (this complicated phone number still boils down to GL 3-8190).

So until next week, thanks for those Christmas cards our family is already starting to receive, and won't you give us a call?

A DEED TO 62 acres of Plymouth and Salem Township land was turned over to the Wayne Conservation Land Co. last Saturday morning for development of a new home for the Western Wayne County Conservation Club. From left are William Morgan, treasurer of the land company; Mr. and Mrs. Andy P.

Johnson, sellers of the property; John L. Crandell, secretary of the land company; Dr. B. E. Champe, president of the land company and secretary of the Conservation Club; and Joseph Fortier, president of the Conservation Club.

What's Cooking in Plymouth

For nearly half a century Mrs. Karl Starkweather has been baking her Christmas Cookies, called Parcills. The recipe, in a cook book called National Home Cook Book was left on the seat of a Detroit streetcar, found by conductor Karl Starkweather. When, after the usual time in the lost and found department it was unclaimed, Karl took it home to his young bride. It has been one of the family's favorite Christmas cookies ever since. Mrs. Starkweather estimates she has made in excess of 5,000 of these cookies over the years.

Mrs. Starkweather belongs to the Log Cabin Button Club, of which she is treasurer, Circle Six of the Presbyterian Church, Plymouth Book Club and the Birthday Club. Her at-home hobbies include the hooking of beautiful rugs, collecting vinegar cruets and china and bisque headed dolls, which she rejuvenates and dresses.

Shown with Mrs. Starkweather is her two-year old grandson, Daniel Sabo, who is eagerly waiting for the finished product.

PARCILLS
Place in a sauce pan:
1 cup molasses, 1/2 cup cocoa, 1/2 cup shortening, one quarter cup water, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 1/2 tsp. allspice, 1/2 tsp. cloves. Bring to a boil and cook slowly for five minutes, stirring meanwhile to keep ingredients from burning. Turn this into a mixing bowl, let cool then add:

1 tbs. baking powder in 2 1/2 cups flour (a little more if sticky), 1 cup finely chopped nuts, 1 cup finely chopped seeded raisins, 1/2 cup finely chopped citron peel, 1/2 cup finely chopped orange peel.

Work all the ingredients together until dough is smooth, then place in refrigerator overnight. In the morning roll small portions into balls and flatten out. Place in tins and bake slowly for about 10 minutes. Test with a toothpick for 'doneness'.

She usually ices them with pink frosting made with powdered sugar and sweet cream, using fruit coloring and vanilla flavoring.

Mrs. Starkweather always doubles the recipe, making about 100 cookies. Adding a personal comment, she says they make welcome Christmas gifts, tied in small bundles.

Steam shovel operators who, on Monday, completed the excavation for the new Presbyterian Church structure to be erected during the coming winter and spring, dug deep into the early days of Plymouth and possibly into the burial ground of a tribe of Indians that roamed this part of Michigan long before the coming of the white man. At an early date, the hill at Plymouth had been used as a sort of sepulchre and Indian bones were found there. These bones are placed longitudinally north and south, in order, in a trench or wide grave.

VFW Auxiliary News

There were 19 members that represented our Auxiliary at the District Rally Sunday, Dec. 3. The Drill Team did some of their routines before the meeting for the group, many of whom did not realize just what the drill team was or what it did.

Present at the Rally were Past Department Presidents Alice Roche and Ethel Gagner, who is visiting from Florida. Assistant National Musician Mabel Shriver and representatives of the Second and Sixth Districts were also in attendance. The District is presenting a check for $25. to the National Home for linen for the nursery and a 30 cup percolator to the Western Wayne Unit of the Michigan Cancer Foundation. LeMay Smith won third prize in the attendance drawing.

Clothing and toys are being collected for the children of a needy family. Sizes are as follows: one boy, size 8, two boys, size 6, one girl size 6, one girl size 3 and an infant. If you have anything suitable, please contact President Olson. These items are badly needed and will be most appreciated.

Get well wishes are extended to Dorothy Wilhelm who is in St. Joseph's Hospital. Marion Groth will be returning very soon to the West Trail Nursing Home from the Rehabilitation Center and visitors will help cheer her stay here. Ed Holdsworth is still ill and confined to bed at home. Clare Robertson has returned to the hospital and is undergoing surgery.

The Auxiliary Christmas party will be the night of the Dec. 19 meeting. There will be an exchange of gifts and, as usual, the price has been set at $1.25. This will be a pleasant way of wishing holiday greetings to some of your friends, so why not plan on attending this meeting.

We have another member who has joined the ranks with Sister Grace and believes on being there and on time. Tuesday, Nov. 28, found Eileen Krumm at the hall waiting for the meeting that will convene Dec. 5. This should prove the point that there must be something of interest going on. Those of you who haven't been to a meeting lately should really come out and see.

St. John's Episcopal Church to Confirm 40 Sunday

Bishop Robert DeWitt

The Rt. Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, suffragan bishop of Michigan, will visit St. John's Episcopal Church of Plymouth Sunday, Dec. 17 where he will administer the rite of confirmation to a class of 40 candidates. The service will be held at 4 p.m. and will be followed by a reception in the Parish Hall to

The audience will participate in the program by singing with their children, some of the modern Christmas songs and a few of the old faithful Christmas Carols.

Following the performance all of the parents and children will be invited into the classrooms where they will be served Christmas punch and cookies. The room mothers, under the leadership of rs. Fred Steiner, will serve the refreshments. The program starts at 6:45 p.m.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF HOW TODAY'S STEELS LIGHTEN YOUR WORK, BRIGHTEN YOUR LEISURE, WIDEN YOUR WORLD

The Christmas Corner

By Jean Campau

Mrs. Albert Pint

During the past few weeks Mrs. Albert Pint of 42445 Schoolcraft Rd., has been spending her free time fashioning cone, nut and fruit wreaths, for which she has acquired quite a reputation. The smaller 12-inch wreaths make lovely table centerpieces with the addition of a large candle, or as shown in the picture, three of graduated size. To make them stand upright, they are set in posy clay.

To make these beautiful and unusual wreaths, Mrs. Pint takes quarter inch hardware cloth and with tin snips cuts her form. A dinner plate makes an ideal master pattern, she says.

She starts attaching the large cones on the inside circle next to the small hole. Each pine cone is firmly secured with florist wire to the hardware cloth frame.

When this row is complete, the outer rim of the circle is worked in the same manner, also with large cones. This leaves the middle free, and in here Mrs. Pint individually wires smaller cones until there are no empty spaces left to fill.

She says this requires anywhere from 75 to 100 cones, large and small.

For special effect, clusters of nuts (horse chestnuts, almonds, hickory, Brazil and walnuts) are clustered on wire, after holes have been bored in them with an electric drill. Lastly, she attaches small sprigs of artificial fruit.

A circle of heavy corrugated cardboard is glued to the hardware-cloth back to not only give body but prevent furniture scratching.

Finally, Mrs. Pint sprays the completed wreath with clear Rustoleum water seal, which adds lustre and acts as a preservative.

Larger wreaths for doors, windows and over mantel are made in the same manner using a larger pattern.

A novel and clever candle arrangement, we think, is Mrs. Pint's use of stem glasses converted to candle holders.

Candles are secured in a chunk of posy clay wrapped in colored foil. Small colored Christmas balls are then wired in layers and also sunk in the clay.

The first layer consists of 11 balls, the middle, 10 and the top layer, six. Beeswax candles are best for this arrangement, so that drippings do not mar the ornaments.

The third idea Mrs. Pint shares with Mail readers is her effective and artistic eight inch rope candle arrangement.

Placing the thick candle in a small, low-footed milk glass compote, she arranges a sprig of juniper around it. Little cones, holly berries and two tiny, perky birds make this a charming addition to the holiday decor.

Cheerful Mrs. Pint beside her home for her husband, Albert, belongs to a Green Thumb group, the Plymouth Branch of the Farm and Garden Association and the Rosary Society of Our Lady of Good Counsel.

One of 8 Get Refund from State

One out of every eight persons buying 1962 auto license plates is getting a reflectorization refund of 35 cents or more by submitting refund cards which have been checked and validated in Lansing.

During the first half of November approximately 150,000 green and white 1962 license plates were sold. Almost 20,000 of these early plate buyers were allowed a refund of 35 cents, 70 cents, or more on their vehicle weight taxes for the coming year.

James M. Hare, Michigan Secretary of State, this week reminded car owners that reflectorization refund cards must be validated in Lansing.

Branch office managers in all 83 counties report that large numbers of citizens forget that refund credits cannot be approved in the local office but must be sent to Lansing where they are checked with the master files.

"A good many people are pleasantly surprised to find that they have two or three 35 cent credits due them," Hare said. "This happens to those who paid fees on both 1960 and on 1961 plates or who were charged 35 cents on other transactions as required by this hastily assembled and unpopular reflectorization law."

"On the other hand," Hare said, "there are hundreds of thousands of car owners who bought plates before or after the fees were assessed and who have no refund credits due them."

Hare pointed out that the only sure way his agency could be fair to all persons, who may or may not have paid for service they never received, was to check their refund credit requests with the master files in Lansing.

"We are doing all we can to phase out this unfortunate mish-mash in the most orderly manner possible," Hare said. "Car owners can help us achieve this at the lowest cost possible by sending in their validation request cards at once. Waiting until February, or even January, will place an added burden on State employees in Lansing and in the field and could result in car owners missing the March 1 deadline when new plates must be on all vehicles."

Do You Remember That Day Twenty Years Ago?

By Jean Campau

It's been a full 20 years now since the infamous blow was struck on Dec. 7, 1941 at Pearl Harbor.

Do you remember what you were doing that crisp, sunny Sunday afternoon when the radio newscasters electrified the nation telling the story of the Japanese attack?

Many Plymouthites were spending that afternoon in the city's new movie house, the Penn Theatre, which had been open for the first time that weekend. The audience was chuckling to the mirthful antics of the pre-war Abbott and Costello comedy "Keep 'Em Flying."

The Civil Defense organization here had, two weeks prior to Pearl Harbor, sought to enlist volunteers in case of an emergency. They recruited 230 volunteers.

At the same time Detroit News military analyst, S. L. A. Marshall addressed the Plymouth Mason's Father and Son Banquet. The banner of the Plymouth Mail following his talk read: "S. L. A. Marshall Declares America Must Wage War." The unsuspecting citizenry never dreamed that fateful step would follow in just 14 days.

The late Mrs. Ruth Whipple was Plymouth's mayor at that time and had just received national magazine recognition because of her unique position.

Workers on the Draft Board located in Plymouth had been called upon to deliver 20 inductees to Fort Custer by Dec. 3.

However, draft calls had been suspended for the holidays.

Some public construction projects were slowing down because of the defense program and the City Commission at its Dec. 1 meeting agreed to establish a money reserve for the post-war period. They declared that these same public projects would take up a slack during a probable period of unemployment following the end of the defense program.

There was considerable interest roundabout in the gigantic $47,000,000 bomber plant under construction near Ypsilanti that Ford called Willow Run.

It took Plymouth only a few weeks to get used to the idea of America at war. At a "Victory Meeting" held Dec. 22 at the High School, chief speaker was Frank N. Isbey. He was chairman of the Michigan Defense Bond Committee.

Many felt that the upstarts of the Far East would be defeated in a few days, or a few weeks at most, but Isbey predicted that the war with Japan would be long and many gloomy days were ahead before victory would be assured.

Just 18 days after the sneak-attack on that far-off spot in the Pacific, 500 young Plymouth men were in uniform preparing for the ordeal that lay ahead of them.

Do you remember?

Detroit likes action...and Buick's got it!

Ann Arbor beauty queen... The boys on campus are quick to sound their approval of outstanding good looks—be they in girl or car. While we're not suggesting that the '62 Buick Special could seriously compete with a beautiful girl for a college man's attention, it's a mighty strong runner-up. And no wonder! Those smooth Special lines have caused more than one head to turn. New sweethearts of the Special fraternity this year are the convertibles—available in both Special and Special Deluxe. Not too late to get outfitted with one for fall.

Chips from the ROCK

Friday's mail brought three letters from Europe . . . all of general interest to our readers.

The first we opened came from David and Judy Nichol postmarked Berlin. It carried a personal holiday greeting and a couple of lines telling of the interesting situation developing in and around that city where Mr. Nichol is assigned as a foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.

For the benefit of our new residents we might add Mr. Nichol grew up in Plymouth where his father served as pastor for many years of the First Presbyterian Church. After graduation from the University my father helped him land his first reporting job on a newspaper in the upper peninsula. From there he traveled to Chicago to join the staff of the News, and because of an outstanding exposure of undesirable conditions in the Chicago school system he was awarded his present position . . . and it has been an interesting one because he not only covers happenings in Berlin, but has been given other special assignments such as the recent Eichmann trial, etc.

Incidentally, his mother, Mrs. Walter Nichol, and his sister, Mrs. David Mather still reside in Plymouth.

The second letter we opened came from Mrs. Harold Brisbois bringing us up-to-date on her travels with Mrs. Theresa Finlan Cameron across the continent. The letter postmarked Rome came, however, a few days after Mrs. Cameron was stricken with a heart ailment and is now seriously ill in a hospital in that city. Her son, Charles, flew to Rome Friday, and at this writing we have had no further word as to her condition.

Mrs. Brisbois noted that they had leisurely covered all of the countries of Europe in a car and were staying in small villages wherever possible to get local color. "We have thoroughly enjoyed every minute since we left home and many times we have run into language problems, such as yesterday afternoon in the little inn where we were to spend the night . . . calling for ice and getting an egg in an egg cup . . . even now we don't know whether it was raw, soft or hard . . . We came through the Brenner pass from Austria into Italy and traveled down the Adriatic coast . . . We were caught in that bad storm in November which was unusually bad for both Greece and Italy . . . after a week's delay because of high winds and torrential rains we finally were on our way to see nothing for miles and miles but beautiful olive trees and a few lonely palms . . . We flew to Athens for a two-week stay and loved the people and the country . . . all were so friendly and wanted to be so helpful . . .", she wrote.

According to her note she said they had planned to arrive back home in May or June and asked us to extend their holiday greetings to their families and friends in Plymouth.

The third letter came from our former Rotary-sponsored, adopted daughter Traudl Briens who, at that time, lived in Kries Kempton in Bavaria. Today, for her many friends hereabout and the members of Rotary who made this association possible, we can proudly state Traudl is living in Paris where she is employed by a French automotive company as a linguist.

On her arrival home several years ago, after spending a year as a senior in Plymouth High School and graduating from a German school, she attended a secretarial college in Germany and on completion secured a position with this motor company in Spain, where she lived for nearly two years. From Spain she was transferred to Paris where she has remained since.

She writes that she handles all the correspondence for the company in German, American, Spanish and French and that because of her four languages the company frequently sends her to these various countries on short business excursions giving her an unusually attractive opportunity to see more and more of the world.

She, too, asks that we extend holiday greetings to members of Rotary and her many friends made while living in this country . . . especially she asks that we say hello to the Wiedmans, Willoughbys, Schraders, Bernashes and the Harry Johnsons of Livonia.

Before I close this column and on an entirely different note, which this column frequently does, I should like to publicly thank the employees or family of The Plymouth Mail for the wonderful pot-luck supper they had for us last Saturday night at the cozy Stewart Robinson home in Northville. The food was out of this world, we ate too much, but we thoroughly enjoyed getting acquainted with wives and husbands unknown to us before . . . it gave us the kind of a warmth that should envelop the world as we bring to a close another year . . . only, that we could pass it around, so its impact could bring peace, love and contentment throughout the universe.

THE WAY WE WERE THEN
There is a booming business in nostalgia these days. While many Americans are looking nervously ahead to a future in a fallout shelter many more are glancing fondly back to an America where life appears to have been simpler and saner.

Family Album for Americans by Michael and Vera Kraus, oversized, abundantly illustrated thoroughly engrossing, is typical of the kind of book that finds a ready market. Family Album attempts to show how Americans lived from the inauguration of Washington to the outbreak of World War One. The book's virtue is that it touches only lightly on the big events—wars and presidential elections—but gives us instead the daily life of the people, in the country, in the town, in the city. This is an interesting and valid approach; if Andy Jackson and Abe Lincoln shaped our country so did Lydia Pinkham and the fellow who invented comic strips.

The book's hundreds of pictures demonstrate just how splendidly various our American heritage is: we see the farmers and homesteaders; the small town merchant and industrial tycoon; the village school, the traveling show, revival meetings and opera; the wilderness and the waterfront; the salon and the saloon. In less than a century our country grows from thirteen states to forty-eight, from four million souls to over ninety. An unending procession of inventions transforms the way our people live.

The last picture in the book is a strong black and white drawing of a bold looking Pierce-Arrow (vintage 1941) from which a jaunty crew-goggles and all—scan the horizon. "With the arrival of the automobile," runs the caption, "the world would never be the same again." Indeed it wouldn't. The sporty citizens in the Pierce-Arrow, though they didn't know it, were moving ahead to world war, income tax, world depression, votes for women, penicillin, labor unions and the Twist. The modern world was upon them and us. Come hell or high water—or even Goldwater—we cannot go back again.

Of course we still try. In Twin Lakes, Wisconsin, (pop. 1,500) the school board strode fearlessly back into the nineteenth century this fall by ordering that reading be taught from very old books. The State School Superintendent declared that the readers are "almost totally unrelated to modern living." This judgment carries a certain plausibility; the almost legendary William Holmes McGuffey put out McGuffey's Eclectic Reader first in 1836.

The Readers were revised in 1879 and again in 1920 for the last time. By 1920 they had sold over 122 million copies and American Book Company, their present publisher, claims they still sell around 30,000 copies a year. Meanwhile up in Twin Lakes the hassle goes on: McGuffey is being used as a supplementary text, the school board favors it four to one, and American Book Company doesn't mind the publicity at all.

One thing on T.V. I think oughta go. Is repeat introductions of the star of the show. He's brought to us daily for three or four years. And each daily appearance brings clapping and cheers. Then after two minutes, the commercials begin. And darned if they don't introduce him again. It builds up a case for an aspirin commercial. But whether it's worth it is sure controversial. Then what keeps his public so happy and gay? The star is the guy that gives prizes away.

They Need Your Support

This Saturday, anyone who journeys around Plymouth will not escape being approached by one or more men, bundled against the winter's cold, with a pack of newspapers under their arms. These, of course, will be the Plymouth Goodfellows, once known as the Old Newsboys.

MANY OF THEIR faces will be recognized as firemen, policemen, insurancemen, businessmen and others who are our neighbors. Their purpose is far from selfish. While they not only endure a day of cold, standing in streets or on sidewalks while they could be in the warm inside minding their own business, they often find themselves ignored by passersby.

But fortunately, there are enough people who realize their purpose who give generous donations in return for their special Goodfellow editions. With this money, this small band of men purchase food, toys and clothing after a committee conducts an investigation of the home situations where such aid is possibly needed. Getting into these homes is by no means a pleasant experience and few of us would want to do it.

PLYMOUTH'S Goodfellows, however, have been doing this sort of thing since 1938 and their efforts have brightened the Christmases of thousands of individuals over the years.

Another organization that merits similar support is the Salvation Army. Their familiar kettle is again located along Main St. It is a real experience to go to the Salvation Army Citadel on Fairground St. a day or two before Christmas when their bushels of groceries and other articles are given out. Dozens of families file into the basement and many are given certificates to stop at downtown stores to pick up badly-needed shoes and clothing. The Salvation Army and Goodfellows work together to avoid duplication.

WOULD ANY OF us be able to join with the Goodfellows or Salvation Army in meeting those who are less fortunate, we would readily agree that this work is worthwhile. All of us, of course, are not able to perform this work. Our financial help, then, is the next best thing. Let's be generous.

State's Doctor Output Lacking

By Elmer E. White

Michigan Press Association
Adequate medical service, a basic need of the nation's population, has been found lacking in Michigan according to surveys by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The department's Health Manpower Source Book published in 1959 showed there were 8,118 physicians in Michigan, or 105.6 doctors per 100,000 people.

It carries a report by the American Medical Association showing that by 1975 Michigan will need 15,065 doctors if the state is to have what the AMA considers adequate medical service. This would provide 124.7 doctors for each 100,000 of Michigan's anticipated 1975 population of 12,081,000, a number which could not possibly be supplied if present medical schools were forced to expansion beyond optimum capacities.

WHERE WILL these doctors come from?

A Michigan State University study recently showed between 100 and 150 doctors of medicine were coming into the state each year. This was over and above the number graduated from Michigan's two existing medical schools at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan.

The need for more doctors, the lack of Michigan's medical schools providing for the state's needs led to a recommendation by the U.S. Public Health Service that additional medical education programs be started here.

Michigan State University officials started a project two years ago to study the feasibility of establishing a medical school program on the East Lansing campus.

THE PROJECT resulted in the recent approval by the MSU Board of Trustees of the establishment of an Institute of Biology and Medicine.

The Institute will be a two-year program of post-graduate education which medical students need before they can start clinical work. Michigan State officials proposed the two-year curriculum presumably as a start toward a full medical school program at East Lansing, but it was also intended to fill another gap in Michigan's supply of doctors.

The MSU study prompted the creation of the Institute showed some 700 or 800 vacancies occur annually in the third year of the nation's medical schools. Other studies indicated more two-year programs were needed to fill these vacancies.

UNIVERSITY OFFICIALS also saw the Institute as a means of training enough teachers and researchers to staff medical colleges. In the 1959-60 school year, the study showed eight percent of these staff positions were unfilled.

The Institute's work began immediately after the Board of Trustees approved the plan. A full training of Michigan's future doctors at MSU, however, will await at least one year of program development.

MSU spokesmen said the greatest single need of the new unit would be additional teaching and research facilities. Present university faculty members, especially in existing biology and health-related departments, will be used but some other staff must be added.

THIS STATE lags behind others in the number of medical schools. Michigan now has two. The 1959 federal report showed the picture in other states at that time: Illinois, five; New York, nine; California, five; Pennsylvania, six; Massachusetts, three; Wisconsin, two; Indiana, one.

Reaction to the MSU program from officials at the two existing medical schools was favorable, though relatively reserved.

The public reaction was not felt immediately but was expected to be that of overwhelming support. An adequate supply of doctors, many feel, would help bring medical costs down.

If some measure of competition was present in the medical field, the "buyer's market" would enable more people to receive care and costs might be less to the individual.

WHETHER A switch from the "seller's market" to a "buyer's market" brings about lower individual costs remains to be seen, but creation of the Institute of Biology and Medicine at MSU will almost undoubtedly be a giant step toward relieving Michigan's doctor shortage.

Successful operation of the Institute and placement of its students in medical schools is also expected to encourage the establishment of similar post-graduate programs at other locations in the state.

TWENTY-THREE bold bachelors made that initial trip over on the Mayflower. Well . . . sir . . . the most celebrated of those colonial celibates was the ever-popular Johnnie Alden. Mr. Longfellow in one of his poems about the Alden—Standish—Priscilla triangle did much to create the wrong image of Mr. Alden. John was NOT scholarly . . . not shy . . . nor was he thin or emaciated.

"Cording to what Grandad sed . . . big John Alden was a strapping handsome hunk of man. He was tall, muscular, with a chest as big as the barrels he was brought along to repair. His 21 years set right comfortably on his broad shoulders. His blond hair was the envy of most the other 22 bachelors.

METHINKS THAT Priscilla at the tender, ripe age of 18 might have done a wee bit of chasing on those barren Plymouth shores back in 1620. After all, with the score 23 bachelors to only three single gals, I'd hate to get caught in the mad rush. I strongly suspect that bear traps in those colonial times might have had a variety of uses.

Portraits Will Come to Life at AAUW Meeting

"Art Comes to Life" is the theme of American Association of University Women's Christmas meeting being held Thursday, Dec. 21 at the Junior High School.

PORTRAYING Madam du Paile, a portrait by Flemish artist Peter Paul Rubens, is Mrs. John Haas as Miss Helen Gilbert reads the script during rehearsal. Six famous portraits will "come to life" at the AAUW meeting next week.

Using a huge picture frame, live models will be used to duplicate the portraits of the masters. Six of the "living portraits" will be shown.

Co-chairmen for the program are Mrs. F. D. Sober and Miss Helen Gilbert. Mrs. Sober, a professional artist in her own right, designed the sets while Miss Gilbert authored the script.

The six portrait artists and the persons serving as models in each of their "paintings" are as follows:

Rubens, Mrs. John Haas; Van Gogh, Mrs. C. C. Wiltse; Picasso, Mrs. Thomas Davenport; Whistler, Mrs. J. R. Barnes; de Vinci, Mrs. Arthur Basel; and a Flemish portrait by an unknown artist, Mrs. Sidney D. Cady.

Reading the script that accompanies each portrait will be Mrs. William Secord, Mrs. Richard Fritz, Mrs. J. R. Wiltzer and Miss Gilbert.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. R. E. Huston, Mrs. Arthur Basel, Mrs. James MacKimm, Mrs. F. R. Beals and Mrs. W. S. Miller.

THE ACTIVE St. Mary Hospital Guild has donated this equipment to the anesthesia department of St. Mary Hospital. The three pieces of equipment, are the Bird respirator, the hyper-hypo-thermic unit and the Emerson respirator. Pictured, from left, are Dr. Thomas Somerville, and Dr. Mary Kay Ansley, anesthesiologists; Mrs. Margie Kalin, president of the Guild; Guild board members Miss Helen Etner, Mrs. Madeline Enterline, Mrs. Isabelle Quigley, Mrs. Martie Lynch; and Mrs. Phyllis Robinson, chairman of the card party which raised money to buy the equipment.

After Two Years and 3,029 Babies, St. Mary Hospital Observes Birthday

Three thousand and twenty-nine lives have begun at St. Mary Hospital since the hospital opened its doors two years ago to people in this area.

The hospital, preparing for a quiet celebration of its second anniversary, is used by a large share of Plymouth people, as well as those from Livonia, Northville, Farmington and a section of Redford Township.

It was just two years ago, on Dec. 8, 1959, that the hospital threw open its doors and with it brought a sense of comfort and security to the thousands of people living in Northwest Wayne County.

On the statistical side, St. Mary had 14,712 patients admitted and treated as in-patients during the two years. There were also 17,772 patients treated in the emergency room.

DURING THE first year of operation, 1,471 babies were born at the hospital and during the second year, 1,558 were born, making a total of 3,029 — enough to populate a small town.

The total number of patients' day care given by the hospital has been 90,494.

After the hospital opened, residents of the five communities knew for the first time that in illness or emergency there were, close at hand, hospital facilities, doctors, nurses and other health specialists whose immediate availability could in many instances mean the difference between life and death. Up and above the importance of emergency treatment, the residents of the area view with great personal satisfaction the convenience of easy access to a modern, fully-equipped hospital which is quickly developing into a center of health education and progress.

WITHIN THE first year of its opening, the hospital made its facilities available to Civil Defense Classes. From a modest beginning the classes have grown beyond its director's expectations. Dr. Gordon Eadie, the director, has informed Sister Mary Columbine, administrator of the hospital, that the September class for registered nurses has reached an all time high enrollment of 127 nurses.

At the present time, high on St. Mary Hospital's priority list of activities is the development of a "Community Disaster Plan." The administration of St. Mary Hospital takes full cognizance of the fact that natural disasters are not restricted to any particular area. Floods, fires, wrecks, factory explosions and other disasters have occurred in almost every part of the country.

Furthermore, the administration realizes that casualty care from this range of natural disasters falls upon large and small hospitals alike and that St. Mary Hospital must be prepared at all times to accept its proper role in community disasters.

PLANS HAVE been initiated which include mutual cooperation between the five communities and the hospital. The Disaster Committee under the direction of Dr. Gordon Eadie and Sister Mary Columbine has prepared a detailed course of action for the hospital to follow as a natural part of its day-by-day obligation to the residents of the five communities the hospital serves, so that any disaster occurring in the area can be rationally coped with.

Members of the Disaster Committee will be meeting in the near future with government officials of Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, Farmington and Redford Township, and community disaster agencies, such as, Civil Defense and Red Cross to help coordinate the hospital's master plan with the communities' disaster plans.

TO PROVIDE the Medical Staff with equipment which ever increases its proficiency in the health care of patients, St. Mary Hospital has been consistently expending its facilities. The radio-isotope laboratory was opened in August, 1960. Added to the laboratory department were a scintillation counter which measures the amount of radioiodine in the thyroid gland; and an analyzer-computer which is designed to analyze and count pulses received from the scintillation detector.

The anesthesia department now includes among its new facilities the following equipment:

1. Hypo-hyper-thermia unit used for generalized refrigeration in thoracic, cardiac, cardiovascular and neurologic surgery.

2. An Emerson Chest Respirator for endoscopic procedures and post-operative ventilation.

3. Bird Respirator used for ventilation of the patient in respiratory acidosis due to post-operative complications or to diseases of the bronchi, lungs, and heart.

4. An infant heating blanket for complete blood exchange transfusions.

The St. Mary Hospital Guild has completely covered the cost of the Emerson Chest Respirator and the Bird Respirator. The Guild is now zealously working to help finance a cardiac monitor which will complete the hospital's cardiac-arrest equipment.

Craftsmanship a creed... accuracy a law!

The headline of this advertisement was written almost sixty years ago.

It is the motto of the men who build Cadillac cars — and it has served as proud legend and stern taskmaster for three generations of Cadillac craftsmen.

We selected it to help tell our story today, because we think it still summarizes perfectly the quality and the care — the pride and the precision — that go into the making of every Cadillac motor car.

There is no really adequate way to describe the crafting of a Cadillac. But perhaps this brief recitation of facts might be helpful.

1. The average Cadillac craftsman has more than ten years of experience on the job.
2. One out of every seven people involved in the building of the car is an inspector.
3. Cadillacs are built in only one place — and they are built by men who build nothing else.
4. The car is crafted to unbelievably fine tolerances. Some engine parts, for example, must be accurate to within one ten-thousandth of an inch.
5. Every model undergoes more than 1400 different checks in the course of its assembly.

The list is longer, of course. But however lengthy, it could never be more impressive than the result.

See and drive the 1962 Cadillac soon. We know you'll understand why it has been so widely acclaimed as the Standard of the World.

Couple United At Candlelight Ceremony

The fitted bodice was trimmed with a Chantilly lace yoke and a sari neckline. Her bell-shaped skirt had an overlay of Chantilly lace that ended in a chapel-length train. A seed-pearl crown secured her finger-tips. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white fugu and button mums.

Mrs. Kenneth Calhoun, the bride's cousin from Ridge Farm, Ill., was matron of honor. She wore an emerald green satin brocade dress with matching accessories.

ing accessories. A white orchid accented her ensemble.

Mrs. Sober's instruction are reviving the lost art of chair caning. Mrs. Denver McCord, a student in the oil painting class, looks on, while Mrs. Lyle Wimmergren and Mrs. Ray Denison finish their hand-woven baskets.

Vows Spoken At Afternoon Rites

Before an altar banked with ferns, white chrysanthemums, gladioli and baby mums at the Church of the Nazarene in Plymouth Nov. 19, Carol Elaine Canning and John Philip Kiger exchanged their vows before Dr. Leist from Olivet Nazarene College and Rev. R. N. Raycroft, at an afternoon ceremony.

Ray Williams and Faith Raycroft sang a duet "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Orna North. The bride given in marriage by her father wore white peau de soie with a fitted bodice and bateau neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. The full floor-length skirt had paniers applied with Alencon lace and ended in a cathedral train. Her full illusion veil was held in place by a Swedish coronet of pearls and crystals. The string of pearls she wore was a gift of the groom. Her bouquet was made up of white snowdrift mums and white sweetheart roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Sally Stamper, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of sapphire blue satin and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow snowdrift mums and bronze pompon mums. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dale Rich of Livonia, Miss Kay Williams of Kankakee, Ill., and sister of the bride, Nancy and Mary Canning. Their gowns were also of sapphire blue satin and their bouquets were like that of the matron of honor.

Gene Alexander of Kokomo, Ind., was best man. Ushers were Sam Kiger, of Dowagiac, brother of the groom, and John Stamper, Dean Hamlin and Roger Furnish of Indianapolis. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Canning chose a pale blue sheath gown. Mrs. Henson wore a two-piece beige suit. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages. A reception was held in the parsonage of the Nazarene Church for about 300 guests. They came from Indianapolis, Kokomo, Dowagiac, Grosse Pointe, Ann Arbor, Detroit, Livonia, Farmington, Kankakee and Farmington. For their wedding trip to Chicago, Kankakee and Kansas City, Mo., the new Mrs. Kiger selected a raspberry wool two-piece suit with matching accessories of brown. She wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Emerson Canning of Schoolcraft Rd., is a graduate of Plymouth High School and the Ann Arbor School of Practical Nursing. She has been attending Olivet Nazarene College for the past two years.

The groom is a recent graduate of Olivet Nazarene College. He is a seminary student at Kansas City Theological Seminary, and is the son of Mrs. Andrew Henson of Dowagiac and Mr. Raymond Kiger of Kokomo.

The couple plan to make their home in Kansas City.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Schools

Working many, many hours is routine for Donald Alexander, a sixth grade teacher at the Gallimore School. After the regular teaching hours he serves as a member of the Teacher Educational and Professional Standards Committee, the chairman of the Curriculum Committee of the SCFG, and a delegate to the regional MEA. He also has started doctoral studies at Wayne University.

IF THIS doesn't keep him busy, a lively group of youngsters in his home at 41171 Russet Lane in Plymouth does. Never a dull moment exists for himself and Margaret, his wife, with Joan, an adorable 3 month old baby; Beth, a 15 month old toddler; Anne a lively 3 1/2 year old; Michael, a 6 year old first grader at Farrand; and George, a 7-year-old Daschund.

Previous to his three years of teaching in Plymouth, Mr. Alexander taught fifth and sixth grades for three years in Kalamazoo while he attended Western Michigan University in order to earn an MA degree. During the summers he first worked in the accounting departments of the New York Air Brake Co. and later the Brunswick School Equipment Co.

BUT EDUCATION was not his original field of study. He earned his BA in journalism at Albion where he was a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a national honorary music fraternity and Alpha Phi Gamma, an honorary fraternity of Journalism.

After receiving his BA, he was a publications writer and editor for the U. S. Army Ordinance in Detroit. It was while working in Detroit that Mr. Alexander decided to begin studying for a teaching certificate at Wayne State University. This he would follow the profession of his father who is a college professor of English and journalism at Hillsdale.

Following certification he taught for a year and a half in Homer, Michigan.

MUSIC HAS always been his

avocation. In high school he played in the school band. In Portage, Michigan, he directed the youth choir. In Plymouth he has sung in the Methodist Church choir. Truly a busy, busy man.

Winter Program For Boy Scouts

All of the Sunset District's Scouts and Scouters are looking forward to the dates of Jan. 27-28 which have been set up for the Northern Lights events, as this year's winter activities will be known.

A general activities committee meeting, under the chairmanship of Sam Prisk, was held at the Western Wayne Conservation Club as of Nov. 21 in regard to this affair.

Several sub-committees were formed to take care of the details of these events and work is now in progress to assure all and sundry of a purposeful and profitable experience in this combined over-night and afternoon series of scouting adventures.

It is hoped that this be considered the foreword needed to alert all Scouts, leaders and parents to this grand opportunity for progress to the year around activities that make Boy Scouting one of the finest programs possible for the enrichment of our youthful citizens of tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Baker of Pacific St. attended the annual Consumers Power Credit Union Christmas party at the High-Life Inn in Saginaw Saturday of last week.

Plymouth's Disabled Get Lift from VFW

A car pulls up to a Plymouth house, a few men get out and carry a wheelchair to the front door. Inside, they help a man into the wheelchair and for the first time in days, he is able to move about the home himself.

This is a scene re-enacted frequently at the Mavflower Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars carries out one of its little publicized missions of providing assistance to disabled Plymouth area people.

General Olson, service officer of the Post, points out that four wheelchairs, plus canes, walkers and crutches owned by the Post, are almost constantly in use, helping the disabled to move about once more. Two wheelchairs were recently added to the supply and they were utilized within a few days.

"The money to buy these items is donated by the public through the VFW Buddy Poppy Drive," Olson declared. "We average about 10 loan cases a month, but in the winter it will be higher."

A borrower usually keeps the equipment on an average of seven weeks. While it is the intent to mainly assist veterans and their dependents, non-veterans are also aided if the equipment is available.

Olson has just completed a six-week course in service officer work in Detroit during which he also learned about filing forms for Veterans Administration aid. In the near future, he expects to attend another school to become better acquainted with VA benefits.

ONE OF THE current users of a V.F.W. wheelchair is John R. Stewart, 873 S. Mill St. He is shown with Jerry Olson, left, standing, the Post's service officer, and Commander Bud Luttermoser.

The Professor Sez . . .

By Ed Brown

An eleventh grade girl said to me the other day, "You know I think I have found one of the secrets of success — it is 'organization'." Then she went on to explain how much easier her work has been this year because of her new-found method. She then told how she budgeted her time at home for fun, studying, dating, and so forth.

It was interesting hearing this young lady say that things seem easier now, and, that much time can be saved if a method is developed to budget the 24 hours in a day.

ONE of the first things a college freshman must learn is how to organize his work. If he hasn't been doing this in high school, or in his own home, he may be in for a rough time.

Again, the parents can help a child learn how to organize his work by showing him, or her, how to organize the daily work around the home so that there is a time for play, a time for work, and a time for doing the hundred and one other things a child may want to do.

A SMALL child may learn to organize early by keeping his room clean, things in place, and his clothing hung up. As a rule, boys are the "worst culprits" when it comes to dropping everything where they happen to be at that time, and leaving things for someone else to pick up — if someone else does, that person is contributing to the negligence and disorganization of the individual.

Mom and Dad should step right in and insist that "junior" come and pick up his own clothing, and hang it up right then. (Leaving dirt rings in the bathtub, is another favorite trick of youngsters unless made to clean it off.) Such little things seem trivial, but all these seemingly little things go into a pattern of organization that will involve bigger things later on. Many parents want things to look "just so" and will do the picking up themselves so that things will look tidy, not thinking that they may be teaching wrong habits for the future.

IF YOUNG people are slovenly in their rooms, work habits, etc., chances are that they will be disorganized in later life when it will really hurt.

Even school homework doesn't seem like so much if a student attacks it in an organized way. How many times have you heard your child say, "We have too much homework to do"? At times this may be true, but, by and large, it is just an ambiguous statement for students who really don't want to spend much time on homework at all.

I HAVE seen some of these same students who complain about homework, sit in a study hall at school for one hour, and do very little work.

Do you have a child who wants to get good grades, and takes pride in getting good grades, he is going to have to work for them, and use a little bit of self-discipline.

An assignment takes on a variety of meaning to different individuals — some assignments may mean a couple of hours work for one student, who wants to do a lot of research and get the most out of it, whereas, the same assignment may mean fifteen minutes to another student who just wants to "pass," or be satisfied with a "C" grade.

THE MORE time spent on assignments in high school the easier it will be if a student goes on to college work. So many of our college freshmen find it difficult the first few months, mainly in work organization, study habits, being away from home on their own, making decisions on their own of how much time to allot an activity or work, etc. This not only applies to college-bound young folks, but to those going into the armed forces, getting married, or going to work.

Good training in all these things could be gained in the home by making it clear to teen-aged youngsters that nothing comes easy in this world, and that one has to work hard, and make a few sacrifices — yes, a few mistakes — in order to gain what is desired.

WHAT EVER happened to . . . the three athletic brothers who played on various high school sports teams in the late 1940s and early 1950s?

The oldest was named the most valuable basketball player in 1949, and also starred in football and baseball. After graduation he entered Notre Dame University for two years, and then enlisted as a naval cadet. Upon completion of his training at Pensacola, Fla., he joined the marines and served in the Korean War as an aircraft carrier pilot.

When the war was over, this young pilot joined the ranks of the commercial airways as a pilot of Capitol Airlines, and is at present with the United Airlines.

He married a former stewardess, Grace Daugherty, and they have two children, a daughter, Stacey, who is 18 months old, and a seven-weeks old boy named Larry, Jr. They reside in Plymouth, at 9485 Marilyn St.

The second athlete in this family played basketball in the early 1950s. He is at present a dealer for the Piper Aircraft Company at the Mettetal Airport outside Plymouth, and from latest reports he is doing a brisk business.

He married the former Wanda Grady, and they have four lovely children — Gregg, 7; Lori Ann, 6; Jeff, 4; and Susan who is 2 years old. They live at 9115 Ball St.

The last of the three brothers played football, basketball and baseball at the local high school, and then attended Michigan State University for three years. He married the former Wanda Shuttlesworth, and they have twin sons, Scott and Steven, who are 5 years of age; Linda, who is 3, and young John, who is only six months old.

He works as a civil engineer for Wayne County and attends Lawrence Tech in the evening. WHO ARE THEY? — Larry, Alan and David Finney, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finney of 325 Arthur St. in Plymouth.

ALL IT TAKES to get a Christmas tree these days is to mix cardboard, paint, glue and fancy macaroni in the right proportions it seems. Proof of the theory is demonstrated by pert Diana Lewis, 16, of 455 Maple. Diana's firm, Saprobis, is a Plymouth Junior Achievement company which is sponsored by Western Electric. The small firm is already behind in production and now has orders for 125 of the smart looking centerpiece. It takes one hour to complete the gold-toned tree which sells for $1.25. Fellow production workers kidded Diana recently by saying she was really "using her noodle" on the job.

"Now, Hal, what time of day is it, lad?" So Falstaff shouts to Prince Hal and Poinas as he comes on stage in "King Henry IV, Part I." Last week at the U of M's renovated Trueblood Auditorium in the Erie Building Dr. William Halstead as fat Jack Falstaff echoed these words in true-Falstaffian booming tones.

From that moment on there was never any doubt in the audience's mind who had complete command of this brilliant Shakespearean production. It's been often said over the years by many critics that "King Henry IV, Part I" is essentially a showcase for Falstaff. Dr. Halstead needed no prodding from the critics.

Halstead's performance deserves special mention and will remain a glowing triumph through the years. The good doctor and his wife (Claribel Baird) combined forces to direct this fast-moving production of "Henry." Superb comedy scenes blended beautifully with the crafty political protestations of the rebels who were attempting to overthrow the King. A revolving stage, the wide proportions of the enlarged stage, Shelton Murray's effective lighting arrangements, Paul Miller's moving musical accomplishment, Zelma Weisfield's authentic costumes, and the lively sweep and rush of the battle scenes made the two hour visit to the world of English history all too short.

TRUE TRIBUTE to this production was given by two individuals in my party who at times have openly expressed their doubts about ever loving anything by the Bard. Shakespeare to them was synonymous to sleep or other items equally as specific. Old George glanced their way after "Henry" had been under way about 15 minutes. I needed no other assurance that this production was a success. My two doubting Thelmas faces were a-glow. The magic of Baird's Bard (Claribel, that is) had spread its happy elixir over their visages. No critic could have penned words to capture their receptive mood to a drama that they thought might be out of their more mundane range of appreciation.

For the hundreds that were disappointed at the box office, let me warn you right now that "King Henry, Part II" arrives in May at the Trueblood Auditorium. Might be well to plan right now to purchase a ticket to see the sequel to such an outstanding production.

SPEAKING OF Shakespeare, we might as well give you the scoop of the year by announcing the plays that will be presented at the Stratford Festival next season. "Macbeth," "Taming of the Shrew," "The Tempest," and "Cyrano de Bergerac" will be the four plays. I can't think of a finer array of classic comedies and dramas for a Festival Season. And to head up the cast the management has secured the services of Christopher Plummer.

I'll let you know when you can start sending for your tickets by mail. You'd better order two or three months in advance this year since I predict this will be a truly record year.

IS OUR MORAL fiber getting a bit frayed? Morally, is our younger generation slipping downhill? What of the morals of this generation in relation to other generations, getting better or worse? These questions arise after viewing "La Dolce Vita" and "The Cheaters." The former, an Italian import; the latter, a French film, are currently on view and in each they show a decadent decline in certain sections of our society.

In "The Cheaters" the teenagers are pictured as having little or no respect for the rules and regulations of a normal society. You can't view these films without coming out into the fresh air somewhat disturbed. Too bad that these films can't be shown in more theaters. Who knows if enough citizens, the thinking variety saw them, we might become quite concerned about our moral and spiritual values, every day, not just special occasions.

LAST MINUTE notes: "Bye, Bye Birdie," the New York company no less with vivacious Gretchen Wyler, flies into the Fisher Theater on Monday, Dec. 17 for a three week roost. You'll find this Broadway musical a delight. The perfect holiday show to ease your cares prior to receiving all those bills in January. "Bye, Bye Birdie" is a satirical treatment of our teen age predilection for Elvis Presley type of entertainment. It's about time that someone decided to poke some fun at the lad that made the gyrating pelvis a national institution.

"The most selfish thing about giving generously is that you will enjoy doing it." — Louis P. Clapper, Louisville (O.) Herald.
