Kellogg Park Facelifting Plans Unveiled

Residents Air Curbing Yeas, Nays

Forty-six residents jammed the City Commission chambers at a special meeting Monday night either to protest or support proposals to install curb and gutter along eight streets in the south side of the City.

Most of those attending the meeting were those objecting to the installation of curb and gutter. Of the eight projects, there were no objections from two, residents along another project even wanted paving, residents along one street were almost equally split, while householders along the remaining four streets were strongly opposed.

Because of the multitude of petitions, letters and verbal opinions received on the projects, the Commission decided not to vote on the necessity of the projects Monday night, but to delay it until their next meeting on Feb. 5.

It was the largest of the projects, S. Harvey St. from Wing to Ann Arbor Rd., a distance of two-thirds of a mile, that caused the loudest protest. Earl Gray, 2112 S. Harvey, presented a petition signed by 24 people objecting to the curb and gutter. He emphasized that the signers came from only a three-block area. Gray said that the assessment would cause a hardship for many people and that curb and gutter would mean that the street would eventually be improved more and it would thereby provide a greater speedway.

Gray pointed out that many cars and trucks now use Harvey for a business route instead of using Main St. a block to the east. Improvement of the street would mean even greater use, he added.

Commissioner Richard Wernette answered that the street should not be used by trucks since it is not a designated truck route, but he felt that motorists should be entitled to use Harvey St. like any other residential street in town.

These are the results of the hearing on each street:

1. Dewey St., from Hartsough to Ross. There was no one present to either protest or support the project.
2. Harding St., from Hartsough to Birch Estates Subdivision. The two property owners on this block wrote a letter objecting.
3. Hartsough Ave., from Evergreen to McKinley. Twenty-four petition signers asked for paving, plus curb and gutter. One asked for curb and gutter only.
4. S. Harvey St., from Wing to Ann Arbor Rd. A petition with 24 names and several letters objected. One letter supported the program.
5. Maple St., from S. Harvey to McKinley. Petitions (Continued on page 6)

A plan to redevelop Kellogg Park to improve it both from the standpoint of beauty and function was unveiled last week before a group of 40 people representing service organizations and the City government.

The Ann Arbor architectural firm of Johnson & Roy introduced the plans which carried a price tag of $143,100 if the plan is developed to its fullest.

Revamping of Kellogg Park is a project that is being spearheaded by Plymouth's service clubs, not the City.

A committee in the Rotary Club headed by Arnold Johanson, manager of the Western Electric Distribution House, introduced the idea to other clubs and interested individuals last spring. By last summer, they had raised $800 to hire the architect.

After the plan's enthusiastic reception last Wednesday night at the Mayflower Hotel, each of the service clubs represented, Kiwanis, Lions, Jaycees and Rotary, decided to ask their clubs if they want to participate in an effort to move ahead.

The City Commission Monday night voted to generally endorse the program, action similar to that taken by the Planning Commission at a special meeting Saturday morning.

Among the main park changes proposed are these:

- Lowering of the central part of the park by 15 to 18 inches and paving this with some type of attractive walking surface.
- Erection of a dais at one end — a platform of some kind that would be used for public functions.
- Installation of malls in middle of Main St. facing the park. This would require the removal of parking on both sides of the street.

Removal and transplanting of some trees and shrubs and planting of others, such as flowering trees.

Cut a street through eastern tip of the park for turning cars and use remaining tip for green spot. A sketch of the proposed park in color (reproduced in black and white on this page) is now on display in the lobby of the Mayflower Hotel. The sketch shows how temporary canopies could be set up for art shows or displays by Plymouth's many organizations which often use the park.

Making the presentation to the group last week were Clarence Roy and Carl Johnson of Johnson & Roy. Roy said that making the plan was "extremely enjoyable and challenging." Although new shopping centers utilize this type of planning, Roy said, "it is rare to do something for an existing community. No other piece of land in your community is as significant as your park," he added.

Roy said that the plan was devised after thorough study of the existing uses of the land. "This is a preliminary plan — a plan on paper that is only as good as it stimulates you to carry it on to reality."

The $143,100 estimate included a number of items which could be modified. The architect even suggested an artificial ice rink if backers wanted to carry it that far.

"I believe much of this plan could be started soon with little investment," City Manager Albert Glassford told the group.

At Monday night's City Commission meeting, Commissioner Richard Wernette said that he wasn't in favor of removing parking from Main St. until the

WHAT KELLOGG PARK could look like was unveiled last week in this architect's drawing. This is the view one would see from the Mayflower Hotel corner. Main St. is at left with islands for planting and flag poles. Parking would need to be forbidden if the islands were installed. The central portion of the park would be lowered and hard-surfaced for foot traffic. At the far end would be some type of platform for programs. Canopies shown in drawing indicate how park could be used for functions. Service clubs and individuals are spearheading the park beautification program.

Charles Beegle, Booster of Little League, Dies

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. today (Wednesday) for Charles E. Beegle, former partner in Davis & Lent and one of the builders of Plymouth's Little League baseball program.

A resident of 425 N. Harvey St., Mr. Beegle was 51 when he died Sunday morning at University of Michigan Hospital.

Mr. Beegle had been a partner in the men's clothing store for 10 years and sold out his interest a year ago. He worked in the accounting department and headed the store's sporting goods department.

An outstanding athlete at Plymouth High School, Mr. Beegle had maintained his interest in sports in Plymouth. He spent much time and effort two years ago in starting the Little League program here.

Mr. Beegle was a member of Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. & A.M., the B. P. O. Elks and Kiwanis Club.

Born Oct. 26, 1910 in Cleveland, he was the son of Charles and Josephine (Mellon) Beegle. He came to Plymouth in 1945. He is survived by his wife, Helen, whom he married in 1933; a son David Charles Beegle, at home; a daughter, Nancy Hanna of Roscommon; a sister, Mrs. Marie Schultzy of Detroit; and three grandchildren.

The Rev. Henry J. Walsh, D.D., officiated at funeral services at the Schrader Funeral Home. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery. Pallbearers were Harry Boorman, Edwin Wingard, William Koefler, Ralph Taylor, William Lyons and Wendell Lent.

SBA Approves Loan for Daisy Plant Purchase

The Small Business Administration announced this week that it has approved a loan for $160,000 to Plymouth Industrial Development Corp. for the purchase of the former Daisy Manufacturing Co. property.

Now occupied by Distribution Service, Inc. (DSI) and Scott Associates, the Daisy property on Union St. will be purchased by the Industrial Development Corp. and leased back to the DSI and Scott organizations with an option to purchase.

Notice of the Small Business Administration loan approval was given in a letter from Robert C. Lehman, chief of the Investment Division, Detroit office, Small Business Administration. A portion of the loan will come from the government itself and the other portion from the local National Bank of Detroit office, which also handles the loan processing.

The Industrial Development Corp. is an outgrowth of the Chamber of Commerce's Industrial Development committee headed by Frank Arlen. Organized last year, the new corporation's function is to purchase vacant plants and lease them back to tenants with options to purchase.

DSI and Scott Associates, firms that mail out advertising material worldwide to auto dealers, and for other industry, moved into the Daisy plant last summer.

The Industrial Development Corp. staged a stock subscription campaign last year which yielded $45,000 from around 150 individuals and businesses. Such local participation is required by the Small Business Administration before they will insure the loan.

U. S. Senator Philip Hart this week wired his congratulations to the Plymouth Economic Development Corp. This will be the first property acquired by the corporation. Similar groups are at work in other communities attempting to lure industry.

In Traverse City, the Economic Development Corp. has completed 15 projects at a cost of $750,000 and is now working on its 16th project, according to Frank Arlen who is helping spearhead the local group.

Study Shows School Tax Hike of 3.67 Mills Needed

First indications of how many additional mills will be asked at the April school election were given Monday night when a counter-offer for the teacher pay hike request, coupled with other estimated increased costs during the coming school year, were compiled in a report at a special meeting of the School Board. It is estimated that an additional 3.67 mills will be required.

The report was delivered by the Board of Education to representatives of the Plymouth Education Association (PEA) and the chairman of the Citizens Committee.

The pay offer to teachers does not meet the salary schedule hikes that the PEA requested in a 53-page report presented to the Board three weeks ago.

The administration's report listed seven areas where there will be increased operating costs next year. It is estimated that the increased cost would be $342,000 during the 1962-63 fiscal year and $385,000 in the 1963-64 fiscal year.

To obtain $342,000, it would be necessary to increase the tax rate by 3.67 mills ($3.67 per $1,000 valuation).

A special election is expected to be set by the Board of Education for early April. Operating millage of 3.5 mills is expiring this year. If this is coupled with the tentatively present maximum be raised from $7,500 to $8,600. The Board proposes a maximum of $7,800.

For those with masters degrees (five-year level), the present starting pay is $5,000 and the PEA has asked $5,500. The Board proposes $5,200. The present maximum after 11 years is $8,050 and the PEA has asked for $9,100. The Board proposes $8,350.

In addition, the Board's plan calls for 194 days of service, instead of the present 189 days. The 194 days would include compulsory attendance at a pre-school workshop for which teachers receive an additional $100 if they attend.

Here is how the Board figures it will need an additional $342,000 in the coming school year:

1. Salary improvements for all except cafeteria workers, and cost of hospitalization-surgical insurance — $110,000 (figures to 1.11 mills).
2. Operating and staffing the first unit of the new Junior High — $52,500 (.52 mills).
3. Paying for the normal salary schedule increments and pay for credit hours earned (this is in addition to salary increases) — $62,400 (.64 mills).

4. Additional staff members, to include a new assistant superintendent in charge of curriculum, a new assistant junior high principal and six more teachers — $53,000 (.68 mills).

5. Maintenance, improvement of buildings, grounds and replacing furniture and fixtures — $17,000 (.17 mills).

6. Capital outlay (buses and other new furniture and fixtures) — $30,000 (.36 mills).

7. Other (includes restoration of transportation service that was taken away this year for band, etc.) — $17,100 (.19 mills).

Dog Is Victim, Of Bow, Arrow

Police have had complaints over the years about dogs being shot by guns, but last Friday was the first recalled that a bow and arrow was involved.

Mrs. Martha Davis, 804 Arthur, summoned police after she found her boxer puppy lying in the garage with an arrow protruding from its body. She said that she had let the dog run in the back yard. Later, she heard the dog yelp, a car door slam and a car drive away.

The dog was rushed to a veterinarian where the steel-tipped target arrow was removed. Police said the dog is recovering.

Mrs. Alma Cripe, 312 Blunk, reported to police that a box containing valuables had been ransacked while she was away. Missing are 11 savings bonds of $25 maturity each, $50 in cash, a diamond ring, insurance policies and deeds.

The past week's ice and snow have led to a multitude of accidents in the area, but apparently none of them resulting in serious injury.

IT LOOKS like any other check, but this one is for $1 million. School Board Treasurer Robert Soth happily accepts the check from Plymouth Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes.

Million Dollar Check Here Yesterday — Gone Today

A million dollars just doesn't go far these days — not even in Plymouth.

Last week, Plymouth Township Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes handed a check for $1 million to School Board Treasurer Robert Soth. This was the largest lump sum ever collected in taxes for the school district.

For a moment, the school's financial picture looked bright and rosy.

But then Melvin Blunk, assistant superintendent of business affairs, stepped up. "Unfortunately," he declared, "we have this spent already."

Blunk explained that will take $1,460,000 alone to pay back loans that were made to the school district last summer. One loan, for $600,000 was repaid this week. This loan was secured to cover operating expenses until taxes were received this January.

Another $460,000 loan was taken out to pay for improvements at the Senior High and building the new Junior High — West. It was borrowed against the revenue anticipated from the 2.5 mill building and site sinking fund.

A Shelter for the Kids

Factory a Good Neighbor, Too

A small industry that moved into a residential neighborhood last year offered its gesture of friendship recently when one day a small bus shelter appeared for the street's school children.

It was last year that the Merchant Machine Tool Co. opened its operations in a new shop along Shearer Drive in Plymouth Township, located east of Sheldon Rd. Property along the street had been zoned for industrial use.

School buses do not go down the dead-end street, so children have to walk to Sheldon Rd. to meet the buses. There are no sidewalks.

"With our employees driving up and down the street, I was afraid that some day one of those kids would get hurt so I came up with the idea of building them a shelter off the road," Merchant declared.

He checked with Township officials and Robert Houghton, the school transportation director, and got their approval. Then he had to track down the owner of the vacant property on the corner of Shearer and Sheldon and got his okay to put a shelter on the land.

Merchant designed and built the shelter himself and very appropriately gave it some colonial touches. A signboard on the side says: "School Bus Shelter." Fred

Mayor Proclaims Boy Scout Week February 7-13

WHEREAS, February 8, 1962 is the fifty-second anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scouts of America, chartered by the Congress of the United States of America as a program for all boys, and

WHEREAS, the Boy Scout program has affected the lives of over 35,000,000 boys and men since 1910, and now has an active enrollment of more than 5,100,000, of whom 90,000 are active locally within the Detroit Area Council, and

WHEREAS, the movement seeks to train more of our youth in character and qualities of good citizenship, now therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that I Robert J. Sincock, Mayor of the city of Plymouth in the state of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the week of February 7 to 13 as Boy Scout Week and acclaim its theme, "Strengthen America... Character Counts."

I do urge our citizens to recognize and support the unselfish patriotic service rendered to our community by the volunteer leaders who give generously of their time, their efforts, and their energy to the benefit of the youth of our community; and also the assistance given by religious bodies, school organizations, veterans associations, fraternal groups, and service clubs that sponsor our Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Units.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name of office, and caused the seal of the city of Plymouth to be affixed, this 7th day of February, 1962.

Red Cross Classes Begin in February

Recruitment of new volunteers for the Detroit Red Cross Chapter will continue until the middle of February when classes are scheduled to begin.

Volunteers choose the day of the week and hours of the day when it is convenient for them to perform Red Cross services. Some of the training classes will be held at the downtown headquarters office and some in convenient County area locations.

The lectures and demonstrations include among other things recognizing symptoms and deciding when they indicate serious illness; keeping simple medical records, taking pulse, respiration and temperature; administration of medication; bathing the patient and making the bed both empty and occupied and meal planning.

Mrs. C. B. Lytle of Plymouth, who is one of the chairmen of Red Cross activities in the Northwest Region of the Chapter, can be reached for further information on Red Cross Nursing Classes at GL 3-5428.

Couple Married in Trenton

Lesley Brocklehurst and LeRoy Holt repeated their nuptial vows on Jan. 20 in St. Timothy's Catholic Church in Trenton.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, A. K. Brocklehurst because of her father's illness. She wore a floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace which she designed and made.

The neckline and long sleeves were accented with silk illusion. Tiny satin rosettes were sprinkled on the bodice and a pearl crown secured her finger tip veil of silk illusion. White spider mums composed the bridal bouquet.

Joan Longton, of New Boston, was maid of honor. She was gowned in a ballerina-length dress of emerald green silk and carried yellow mums.

Kenneth Vida of Trenton served as best man while Stewart Snyder of Riverview and Francis Lodico of Carlton ushered.

Following the ceremony a breakfast reception was held for the 100 attending guests at Symak's in Lincoln Park.

The newlyweds will make their home in Allen Park after their honeymoon trip to New York.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Brocklehurst, 3000 Westfield Court, Trenton. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Brocklehurst live at 657 Wing St., Plymouth.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder of Southgate.

Henry-Schultz United at Candlelight Double Ring Rites

Mrs. Robert C. Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry of Riverside Dr., a recent bride, will make her home in Detroit while her husband takes his basic Army training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The couple were united by Rev. David T. Davies at a double ring candlelight ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church Dec. 16.

Escorted to the altar by her uncle, Ernest Henry, the bride wore a full-length gown of white silk taffeta with a scoop neckline trimmed with applique lace roses and iridescent sequins. The motif was repeated in her full skirt, fitted bodice and long tapering sleeves. Her elbow-length silk illusion veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white mums with a center corsage of white orchids.

Janyce Hesse was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an emerald green satin dress that featured three-quarter length sleeves, scoop neckline and matching headband and veil.

Bridesmaids Karen Dickel, man, cousin of the bride, groom, and Judy Hinote of Arlington, Va., wore identical gowns of gold satin. Bridal attendants carried colonial bouquets of gold and bronze mums.

Allen W. Schultz, brother of the groom, was best man, while Milton Westphal, the groom's cousin, and Robert Hesse, brother-in-law of the bride, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding reception which followed at the church fellowship hall, Mrs. James Henry wore a sheath of royal blue and navy brocade satin with a matching royal blue hat. Her cor-

Kapnit-Bendik Wedding Held At Good Counsel

The wedding of Karalyn Kapnit of Plymouth and Frank Bendik of Pinconning took place at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Jan. 27 in Our Lady of Good Counsel Church with Father Francis C. Byrne officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. E. Kapnit of Gageton and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kapnit were the attendants.

Following the ceremony, members of the wedding party and invited guests attended a wedding breakfast at the Hotel Mayflower. The newlyweds left by plane on a honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, Nevada. They will reside in Pinconning.

Three Receive Degrees From Eastern Mich.

James W. Miller, president of Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo, was the principal speaker at mid-winter commencement exercises at Eastern Michigan University Sunday, Jan. 21.

This shows a portion of the boys and girls. The Family Concert, which offered entertaining music for all ages, also featured Junior Symphony orchestras from Plymouth and Ferndale.

American History Month Stimulates Essay Contest

In conjunction with the national February observance of American History Month, sponsored by the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mayor Robert J. Sincok signed the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, The Honorable John B. Swainson, Governor of the State of Michigan, has issued a Proclamation dated January 29, 1962, declaring that the month of February, 1962, is to be celebrated as American History Month in our States;

WHEREAS, All organizations of whatever kind, and public, parochial and private schools, have been asked to emphasize the study of American History during this celebration month which contains the birth dates of the First and the Sixteenth Presidents of the United States —

GEORGE WASHINGTON and ABRAHAM LINCOLN

WHEREAS, The National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, has sponsored American History Month in February since 1955;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Robert J. Sincok, Mayor do request by cooperating proclamation, that every effort be made within our city of Plymouth in the State of Michigan to stress the vitality and freedom we enjoy as citizens of the United States of America.

The facts of written history refute the theory that indifference and ignorance can replace patriotism. Let us all contribute to the growth of our American heritage and develop finer citizens for future generations.

Robert J. Sincok Mayor

Adhering to the general theme of the observance, the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the D.A.R., is holding an essay contest among fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders in Plymouth and Northville Schools.

Theme of the essays must center upon patriots of Michigan who have contributed to the growth and development of the country. Contest deadline is Feb. 9.

A $25 savings bond and 26 subsequent prizes will be contributed by the National Society. The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter will offer a cash award to the winner also.

Members of the local chapter sitting on the judging panel include Mrs. Felix Hoheisel, first vice-regent, Mrs. William A. Bake, regent and Mrs. Jack Kadey, historian.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wingard Feted on Silver Anniversary

A surprise open house was held Sunday, Jan. 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bassett on Lakeland Ct. honoring Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wingard on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The couple, who live on Starkweather Ave. are both life-long residents of Plymouth.

Among the 50 guests that attended from East Lansing, Grosse Ile, Farmington, Detroit and Plymouth, some of the close relatives included: Mrs. Vivian Wingard, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Hobbins, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garchow, Mr. Jack Wingard, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wingard, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bauman and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kirby.

A corsage of white roses was presented to Mrs. Wingard by her granddaughter, Melinda Garchow, and the couple received many beautiful gifts in honor of their day.

Mr. Wingard is a partner in the Fisher-Wingard-Fortney Insurance Agency.

Bolivia Editor, Teacher Visits School System

A Bolivian teacher and newspaper editor is the guest of the Plymouth schools for a week's visit starting last Friday.

Jose A. Zavaleta of Oruro, Bolivia, is touring the schools to examine American educational methods. The visitor, one of a group of ten foreign teachers of English traveling throughout the state, is here under the International Educational Exchange program of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Office of Education. He is the house guest of Supt. Russell Isbister.

Zavaleta, who teaches English, arithmetic and science at an Anglo-American school in Oruro, also edits "La Patria," the Oruro newspaper. He is a member of the Lions International.

Other teachers in the Exchange program group will visit Jackson, Albion, Flint, Hillsdale, Battle Creek, Birmingham and Grosse Pointe schools during the week.

Senior Citizens Hear of Life Behind the Iron Curtain

A pot-luck luncheon was held Jan. 25 in the Masonic Temple for the Senior Citizens of Plymouth.

Greetings were extended to all those who had birthdays in January.

Mr. Reinhold Ruehr, of Heide's Greenhouse, was present and gave a talk on living conditions in East and West Germany, based on his observations during his 1961 visit to Germany.

Cards were also part of the afternoon's entertainment.

Senior Citizens will hold a business meeting on Thursday, Feb. 1.

Hostesses for the month of January were Agnes Rollins, Veronica Gietzen and Barbara McDonald.

Woman's Club Hears Talk on Berlin Crisis

Members of the Plymouth Woman's Club will have the opportunity to hear Mr. Peter C. Kalinke of Birmingham speak on "The Crisis in Berlin," when they meet Friday, Feb. 2 at 1 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

Mr. Kalinke is well qualified to discuss the German situation having been a correspondent for the German army during the War, taken prisoner by the Russians, and released in 1950.

He attended the University of Michigan on a Fullbright scholarship in 1953 returning to West Germany as a sales manager for a United States firm which position he held until 1960.

Introducing Mr. Kalinke will be Mrs. John DeMott, who is program chairman of the day.

Following the address, tea will be served by Mrs. George Bauer and her committee.

Kellogg Park Facelifting

City's long-range plan for routing traffic around the business district is a reality.

It will be up to the committee of service clubs and citizens to make the next move. If they decide to move ahead, they must decide how to finance the project and ask the architect for working drawings and specifications.

Why beautify Kellogg Park?

Backers point out that while Kellogg Park has some charm now, it is far from reaching its potential in terms of beauty and use. Uplifting of the park could mean the start of uplifting the entire downtown area as a shopping center, some claim.

"If you go to Northland on Sunday, you will find hundreds of people walking around just enjoying the malls, taking pictures and window shopping, even though the stores are closed," one service club member asserted. "There's no better or easier place to start here than in Kellogg Park."

Little League Clinic Feb. 10

A Detroit Tiger Clinic will be held at the Plymouth High School auditorium Saturday, Feb. 10 at 1 p.m. The clinic is co-sponsored by Plymouth Little League and the Department of Recreation.

Arrangements have been made to show sound baseball training movies which are used in the Tiger training program. One or two big league players have agreed to attend this clinic to offer pointers and suggestions and answer audience questions.

During the clinic session parents of all boys attending will participate in a white elephant auction. Col. Joe Walton, a professional auctioneer, will conduct the auction in the Plymouth High gym.

Admission in the form of any salable article (discarded toy, unwanted picture, baked goods) will be charged each boy or family attending. A large gathering of boys and parents is anticipated.

MEN IN SERVICE

Don W. Crowther

Don W. Crowther, graduated in June, 1960, from Plymouth High School. He enlisted in the U.S. Army in July 1960 and took his basic training in Aberdeen, Md. From there he went to Brooke Army Medical School in San Antonio, Texas.

He is now stationed in Toul, France, 300 miles east of Paris, in the 507th Engineers Co.

Residents

6. Roosevelt St., from Hartsoff to Ross. A verbal report indicated five of the six residents were against.

7. Ross, from Evergreen to McKinley. A petition with 19 signers protested project.

8. Ross St., from S. Main to Harvey. No objections recorded.

The City proposed the curb and gutter projects for several reasons. City Manager Albert Glassford explained. Curbing makes it easier to drain off water and thereby maintain the streets, he said. It also makes a better appearing street and helps keep the sewers more free of sand and gravel.

"We felt that with proper drainage, we could apply a seal coat to these streets that would last five years," the manager said. "The Commission will have to take into consideration the feeling of other people in the City who have curb and paved streets who may object to paying out taxes for maintenance of unpaved streets indefinitely."

The budget for this year allowed $60,000 for street maintenance, including sweeping and snow removal.

He that abideth in love abideth in God, and God abideth in him.

—(1 John 4:16).
In our heart we want to be right with our fellow man. We want to be loving in our attitude and feeling toward others. Then let us begin this year by seeing every person as a beloved child of God.

THE TRADITIONAL Plymouth colonial touch was given a bus shelter built by Elroy Merchant, Sr., right, for school children who live along Shearer Dr. Merchant's small factory is located along the street and he somehow wanted to keep school children waiting for buses off the street so they wouldn't be hurt by any vehicles going to and from his plant. So he built the shelter. From left are Cynthia Wallace, Peggy Tummins, Esther Grace, Linda and Terry Tummins, Brenda Hart, Mary and Sadie Riggs and Mr. Merchant.

City Manager Governments Still Increase

Million

Ordinarily, treasurers of the City of Plymouth and the Townships of Plymouth, Canton, Northville and Superior hand over the tax money it collects for the school district in a number of payments. But Treasurer Elizabeth Holmes had accumulated $1 million of the ultimate $1,126,854 that will be collected in Plymouth Township. (Some of this amount will be delinquent and uncollectible.)

By the time that all taxes are collected, (minus delinquency), the school district should have $2,109,412.85. In addition, the district will receive another $700,000 from the state and federal sources.

Besides the $1,126,854 to be received from Plymouth Township, the City taxpayers will provide $753,606; Canton Township, $194,282; Northville Township, $31,449; and Superior Township, $3,220. Plymouth Township has the largest assessed valuation because of its large industrial plants.

By using the check for $1 million, Assistant Superintendent Blunk could easily illustrate how the district's money is divided. "If this particular $1 million were sliced up, $650,000 would go for operating expenses, $130,000 for debt service (paying off bonds) and $220,000 into the sinking fund (for building construction and improvements)."

The $1 million would not cover salaries for the instruction staff for a year. This amounts to $1,431,480.

Seventy-six cities and other local governmental units are included for the first time in the "1962 Directory of Council-Manager Cities" just published by the International City Managers' Association. The directory now lists a total of 1,814 local governments, 1,757 in the United States and 57 in Canada. The city of Plymouth has had a manager since 1918.

Since 1950, the number of cities using the council-manager plan has increased at an average rate of 70 per year. It is estimated that more than 42 million people live in council-manager cities and counties.

At the present time, more than one-half of the cities between 25,000 and 250,000 population (344 out of 678) have the council-manager plan of local government. Sixteen out of 51 with populations in excess of a quarter-million also use the plan. Four of these have populations in excess of a half-million: San Antonio and Dallas, Texas; San Diego, Calif.; and Cincinnati, O.

The largest local government with the council-manager plan is Dade County (Miami) Fla., which has a population of 935,047.

Among the larger cities added to the directory in its new edition are Independence Mo. (62,328); Battle Creek, Mich. (44,169); Bell Gardens, Calif. (26,467); Wheaton, Ill. (24,312); and Galt, Ont., Canada (28,000).

The council-manager form of government is 54 years old. It started in 1908 when the council of Staunton, Virginia, appointed a manager. Four years later, Sumter, South Carolina, became the first city in which the plan was adopted by a vote of the people. Under the system, a manager is appointed by the council to serve as administrative head of the city or county government under the general direction of an elected council.

Factory a Good Neighbor

Hadley of the Sherwin-Williams store provided the paint and the shelter was finally ready for delivery.

In a letter sent out to parents on the street, Merchant said: "We feel reasonably assured that you will cooperate in having your youngsters use this shelter. The building of the shelter was done in the spirit of friendship because the last thing we want to happen is to have any of your youngsters hurt by either our vehicles going to and from the plant or by anyone else's car."

It didn't take long after the shelter appeared for Mr. Merchant to find out if his gesture was appreciated. Thank-you notes began to appear and one of them, from Cindy Thorpe, was written in behalf of many of the pupils. It read, in part:

"As we got off the bus tonight, our mouths gaped open. We were all really surprised. Mr. Kaiser, our bus

Community College Sets Sights On Opening 27 Months Away

Only 27 months remain until Northwest Wayne Community College is scheduled to open in its own facilities. During this time, two high school classes will graduate. Many of these young people will want to further their education, but will not be able to because of a lack of facilities in the colleges of the state.

Because of this lack of space, Eastern Michigan University has refused admission to hundreds of qualified applicants, a survey by the Community College showed. Last year, at this time, they had admitted 472 freshmen, yet had to turn away 750 by September. The problem is growing, for they have already admitted 700 freshmen for next September and will probably have to exclude more than a thousand applicants before the 1962-63 year begins.

Western Michigan University, in Kalamazoo, solved its problem by raising its admission requirements and by holding over some 450 students until February. If funds had been available, probably 2,000 more students could have been accepted.

At Henry Ford Community College Dearborn, about 2,000 prospective students had to be turned away during the Summer and Fall, and enrollment for the semester now beginning closed last November. Henry Ford will, so far as possible, take care of Dearborn graduates, but will have to refuse admission to many hundreds of graduates from other high schools.

Wayne State University, like Western and Eastern, knew that its finances were being restricted by the Legislature. The undergraduate admissions were held to 981 less than the year before. This was accomplished by increasing the admission standard and by asking some 450 prospective students to wait until this February before enrolling.

Similar stories are coming from the Admission Offices of the University of Michigan, Michigan State Western Michigan and most of the other public and private colleges and universities of our State. The number of admissions are being limited by any of several means and the back-log of qualified prospective students is growing each year.

In his acceptance of the presidency of Northwest Wayne Community College last Wednesday Dr. Eric J. Bradner reminded the Board of Trustees that in the 27 remaining months, "funds must be secured, a site obtained and facilities built."

There were only 27 months left, he said, "to build a curriculum, to recruit a staff and faculty" as well as to organize the new College to serve the flood of applicants who will seek admission.

The Board of Trustees is fully aware of the urgency of its tasks. While it can do nothing about the two classes that will graduate in 1962 and 1963 it is taking every possible step to make 1964 the opening date.

The people will be asked to do their part at the polls in the late Spring so that the number of "lost generations" of high school graduates is kept to a minimum.

"There are many people in this country who would have a much fatter wallet if they would simply remove all the credit cards from it." —B. J. Dahl, Chewelah (Wash.) Independent.

The Professor Sez

By Ed Brown

Today I will discuss a "light" topic with a heavy subject.

How's the weight coming along this winter? Is the old "battle of the bulge" starting earlier this year? Do you have trouble keeping your weight down, and do you constantly watch the calories and the scales? Do you always feel hungry even though you eat three good "squares" a day? Have you tried diet after diet, and lost a few pounds, only to put them all back on in one good weekend? Have you been waiting, as I have, for some scientist to discover a magic pill that will make the unwanted pounds vanish overnight?

If most of the above questions can be answered in the affirmative, you are a prime candidate for the newly formed TOPS club of Plymouth. The initials stand for "Take Off Pounds Sensibly," and is being sponsored locally by the Adult Education Department as a public service. The new club meets in the high school from 7:30 to 9:30 on Wednesday evenings. If interested call GL 3-3100 and ask about it, or come to a meeting on the designated night. The first meeting was last evening, and they will continue each Wednesday — there are about a dozen enrolled so far. Groups have also been formed at Northville and Livonia.

TOPS is a local, state and national organization. I have been told that to get the best results, one has to seriously really want to lose weight. The principles are similar to AA and other such organizations that deal in group therapy. Many people find it hard to solve a problem alone, but when working with people who have the same problems, a common bond and understanding develop that helps all solve the problem. In this case the common problem is that "ugly" word "overweight."

More and more people are having to fight that "midriff

"battle" and it seems more and more are losing ground. We are prone to take on a few extra pounds at the time of the year with the holiday "eastings" under our belts — so to speak.

It seems that some just naturally put on weight easily, and it becomes a continual problem of trying to get it off, or of trying to stay even. The women bind themselves in a little more, and then the bulges go over and around the binding, while the men have to make a decision as to whether to put the belt above or below the "overhang." A few years, and many diets later, with the coming of middle age, quite a few people give up the battle, and let the old bulge take over — order new clothes and await whatever may develop.

Recent research has intimated that excessive eating, like drinking, smoking and tension, body chemicals being out of balance, or certain organs not functioning properly, whereby the individual tries to satisfy certain deficiencies, or wants, with food, alcohol or like substitutes for whatever is needed. Sounds like an excuse or rationalization, doesn't it? But, how many times have portly people had a snack, or raided the refrigerator, when we were not the least bit hungry for food — just because of a nervous habit, the same as reaching for another cigarette when one doesn't need one.

So many times I have heard people say, "Oh, it just takes a little will power" — some of these same people must think that will power applies only to losing weight, for I know a few who have been trying to stop smoking for some time now. Also, there are those who have found it hard to lose weight, but have quit smoking and other things that have taken will power. However, I do believe it does take considerable will power for one to train his mind to eat the right type of foods for his particular body needs, and certain self-disciplinary actions are also required in rearranging our eating habits. Positive thinking helps a lot in trying to accomplish what one is capable of doing, no matter what it may be.

Another thing we often hear is that fleshy people are always jolly, congenial and good-natured. On the surface this may be true, but, if you probe a little more, you will find that most will admit there are quite a few inner tensions that cause great concern. A hefty person has to develop a good sense of humor to take all the "ribbing" that comes his way.

Doctors are now taking a new look at these tensions involving humans today, and are beginning to probe the idea that many of our health problems are a result of tension. It may be hereditary, or begin before birth, and increase as time and circumstances change. We know that young people today have to make quite an adjustment to a world full of unrest, uncertainty and keen competition. Some of them find it difficult, and as a result have troubled lives later on, unless they learn to control and live with the things responsible for the tensions.

Guess I'll mosey on down to the TOPS club next Wednesday night and try to "take a load" off my feet. Might as well try one more method; at least it is a challenge and who doesn't like a challenge — especially from life.

WHAT EVER happened to the three-sport star who graduated from the local high school in 1955 after participating in football, basketball and baseball? He excelled in the latter sport, and hurled a "no-hitter" in his senior year.

After graduation he went on to play baseball in the minor leagues, but had to give it up because of an arm injury. At the time he was the property of the Detroit Tigers and played with the Durham, N.C., and Nashville, Tenn. teams.

While playing with the Montgomery Ala. team he met "the girl of his dreams" — Patricia, and they have three little ones now — James, 2; Laura, 1; and Mary DeElla, just born five months ago.

The family reside at 33016 Allenton Court in Wayne, and this mystery guest is a job foreman at the John Major Lumber Company in Detroit.

His name — Richard "Dick" Day.

News in Brief

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Goyer of Church St. attended the Musicians' group dinner party Monday evening at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit. They sat at the fifty-year table as Mr. Goyer has been a member of the organization that long.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Van Ornum, son, David and daughter, Ann were entertained at supper Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Arands in Wayne.

Mrs. George M. Chute entertained several guests Wednesday at a luncheon and canasta party in her home on South Evergreen.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pint and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Near were dinner guests Saturday evening of their sister, Mrs. Margaret Nolan on Main St.

Mrs. Jason Day of East Detroit visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Hitt on Sheridan Ave. over the weekend. Mr. Day and son, Tom, joined them on Sunday for dinner.

Jinx Goddard was home over the week-end from Michigan State University spending it with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Goddard on Beck Rd. Jill Clarke also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William V. Clarke on Burroughs in Maplecroft. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke took the girls back on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Chute, Sr., and Miss Grace Stowe were in Detroit Saturday evening to attend the Audubon Club in the Rackham Building where the movie, "The Land the Glaciers Forgot" was shown with comments by Howard Orians of Madison, Wis.

Mrs. Clara Todd was hostess Wednesday at a pot-luck luncheon for members of the Birthday club in her home on Ann Arbor Trail, including Mrs. C. H. Goyer, Mrs. Karl Starkweather, Mrs. Ada Murray, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. Merle Rorabacher, Miss Edna Allen, Mrs. William Monteith, Mrs. Ruth Stecker, Mrs. August Hawk, Mrs. Violet Willard, Mrs. Robert Durie and Mrs. Nina Blunk.

Lincoln-Mercury Salesmen Honored

Two Lincoln-Mercury salesmen in the Plymouth area have earned membership in the "100 Club." William H. Huber, Detroit district sales manager for Lincoln-Mercury Division, announced today.

They are Ewel Roberts and Robert Knopp, both of West Bros. Motors, Inc.

The award recognizes them as being among the top third of all Comet, Mercury and Lincoln Continental salesmen in the nation. Their achievements also earned them special recognition from the Lincoln-Mercury Sales Council.

Who's New in Plymouth

THE CITY OF Plymouth's City attorney, Edward Draugelis, moved here from Farmington with his family last September, although Mr. Draugelis has had his law offices here on Penniman Ave. since December 1960. A native of Grand Rapids, Mr. Draugelis graduated from the Detroit College of Law and was named City Attorney last July 1. Mrs. Draugelis, a native of Wisconsin, does sketching as a hobby. They are shown at their 1300 Hartsough Ave. home with daughters Krysa, 1, (left) and Anne, 2.

Methodist Men Hear Dr. DeYoung

Over two hundred people turned out for the annual Men's Club "Ladies Night" for dinner and an after-dinner address by Dr. Henry DeYoung at the First Methodist Church here, last Monday evening.

Dr. DeYoung gave a light, stimulating speech concentrating on a humorous play on words, and related how this play on words sometimes affects the life of man. Dr. DeYoung also quoted Ralph Waldo Emerson and Sophocles on their interpretations of man. "Everyone present was impressed by the graciousness and brilliance of Dr. DeYoung's speech," Rev. Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D., declared.

Dr. DeYoung is pastor of the Redford Avenue Presbyterian Church in Detroit.

We get letters. Yes, sometimes old George gets a card or letter chastising him for his views about a theatrical personality or a sour statistic in relation to a sagging production. Then there are those times you open the mailbox and a letter falls out such as the onion-skinned, air-mail missile received this week from Ray and Shirley Denison, 48230 Gyde Rd., now vacationing in Mexico.

"Thought you'd be interested in two aspects of the theatre in Mexico, one the Sunday bullfights (see page 2, as they refer to here) and the ballet. Both take place on Sunday, with the ballet at 9:30 a.m. in the National Institute of Fine Arts and the bullfights at 4:30 p.m.

"Here on Sunday morning in a packed theatre that is as big as the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, and similar in appearance, the Ballet Folklore of Mexico plays to a full house. There is no classical ballet, but popular in 11 numbers. In song and dance, the universal language, the ballet company of 30 dancers, a 28-member chorus and eight musicians, keep the audience spellbound for two hours. Rich costumes, soaring music, emotion-filled voices and intricate dancing filled the vast stage and left the audience enraptured.

"Admission is $2. Anyone heading south of the border should make it a point to rise early Sunday and see this show which has performances only Sunday morning and Wednesday evening.

"The bullfights, like our baseball games, rate big coverage in the newspapers. Though most Americans headed for the stadium exits after the second bull, the 'oles' were roaring from the crowd of 35,000 (standing room only) until the last bull had it. The late evening papers had the day's events much as a drama critic does to a Broadway opening. No feelings are spared.

"Listen to this excerpt from one newspaper's review: 'Manuel Capetillo, generally considered as Mexico's number one matador, did not live up to his classification. His first bull was superior in every way, brave, clean, charging, the type of bull every matador dreams of drawing. Manuel had three or four very nice Veronicas, hearing oles on each, then he lost his nerve and couldn't stand up to the bull... and so on for column after column.'

"Inasmuch as the matadors have been known to seek out their newspaper critics and 'put a head on them,' I think, George, you better confine your reviews to the legitimate theatre.

"Apart from the above, we find the 76 degree weather here beautiful and warm, but with each weather report from the north, we chill a bit, so we're heading for Acapulco and 85 degree weather. Will send you a review of the high dive from the cliffs. Maybe Coach John McFall might want to beef up his swimming squad with a couple of those 'high board' youngsters."

Thanks for the information, Ray and Shirley. Your neighbors out on Gyde Rd. are looking forward to your return. Hope you took some colored slides of those exciting bullfights and ballets.

At Cemetery Meeting

City DPW Superintendent Joseph Bida will represent Plymouth at the 17th annual convention of the Michigan Cemetery Association on Feb. 4, 5 and 6, at the Pick-Ford Shelby Hotel, Detroit. Legislation, public relations and the latest developments in sales, accounting and the care of cemeteries will occupy the 150 members during the three-day sessions.

PLYMOUTH WILL go on tour aboard an aircraft carrier this spring — by means of literature and photographs. Chamber of Commerce President George Lawton is shown with some of the photos of Plymouth's industry, churches, downtown and other points of interest that will be carried by the USS Wasp on a "People-to-People" tour of European ports. The aircraft carrier will hold an open house at each of the ports to allow people from the other nations to "see" America. Photographs were supplied by The Plymouth Mail.

A CAKE to celebrate the 15th anniversary of the Plymouth Square Dance Club was cut at a party last Friday night at the Senior High when 160 members, former members and guests attended. From left are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Simpson, new members of the club, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard, among the first members of the club in 1945. The club has 50 to 70 people attending its twice-a-month dances at either Bird School or the High School. Scott Coburn, now a square dance apparel store owner in Detroit, started the club and was caller the first five years. For the past 10 years, Dave Palmer of Ypsilanti has been the caller. Members are from Livonia, Northville, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor as well as from Plymouth. Mrs. Simpson, incidentally, baked the cake.

Asks Salemites for Opinion On County Re-assessment

By C. W. Clair
GL 3-2610

At a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors in Ann Arbor last week that Supervisor Ingall attended, it was proposed by the Ann Arbor supervisor that private independent assessors be hired to come into the county of Washtenaw and reassess all properties in the county. This would be at an estimated cost of from $300,000 to $500,000 to be added to the county tax roll. This would mean that it would cost each property owner an estimated $2 to $300 per $1,000. Mr. Ingall would like to have your opinion on this matter, and would like you to call him at GL 3-3698 before it comes up at the next meeting for a final vote.

Mrs. W. Kincade of 9243 Rucker Ave., Plymouth, gave a 5 o'clock dinner party last Sunday in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Dora Ellis of Detroit. It was Mrs. Ellis' 93rd birthday. There were 18 guests present from Grand Rapids, Detroit, South Lyons and Salem, including six of Mrs. Ellis' 12 great grandchildren. Mrs. Ellis spends some of her time with her daughter in Salem Township on Brookville Rd. Mrs. Carr told me that her mother lives by herself and does most of her own house work. I wonder how many people who read this note will be doing their own house work when they get 93 years old? It is certainly a marvelous accomplishment to be that age and be able to get around and enjoy life as, I am told, Mrs. Ellis does.

Mrs. Margot Carr of Brookville Rd. was brought home from the Ridgewood Hospital last Saturday evening. We hope much better.

Mrs. Marion Sterling was a caller at Mr. and Mrs. Clair's on Phoenix Rd. last Wednesday evening.

The last report that I have on Mr. Shaffmaster of Curtis Rd., is that he is progressing quite rapidly for the better and without any setbacks he will be on his way home soon.

"The man who says he runs things at his house usually refers to the furnace, the lawn mower and the errands."

Harlow Ingall, the Township supervisor, was in Lansing Wednesday, Jan. 24 to attend the meeting of the State Association of Supervisors. It was scheduled to be for three days, but Mr. Ingall stayed for one day only.

A hearing will be held in Circuit Court at Ann Arbor today, Wednesday, Jan. 31 to restrain the Township building inspector from granting a permit to the Western Wayne Conservation Assn. on Napier Rd. from building their club house.

The Ladies Aid of the Salem Federated Church held their regular meeting in the church parlor last Thursday, Jan. 25.

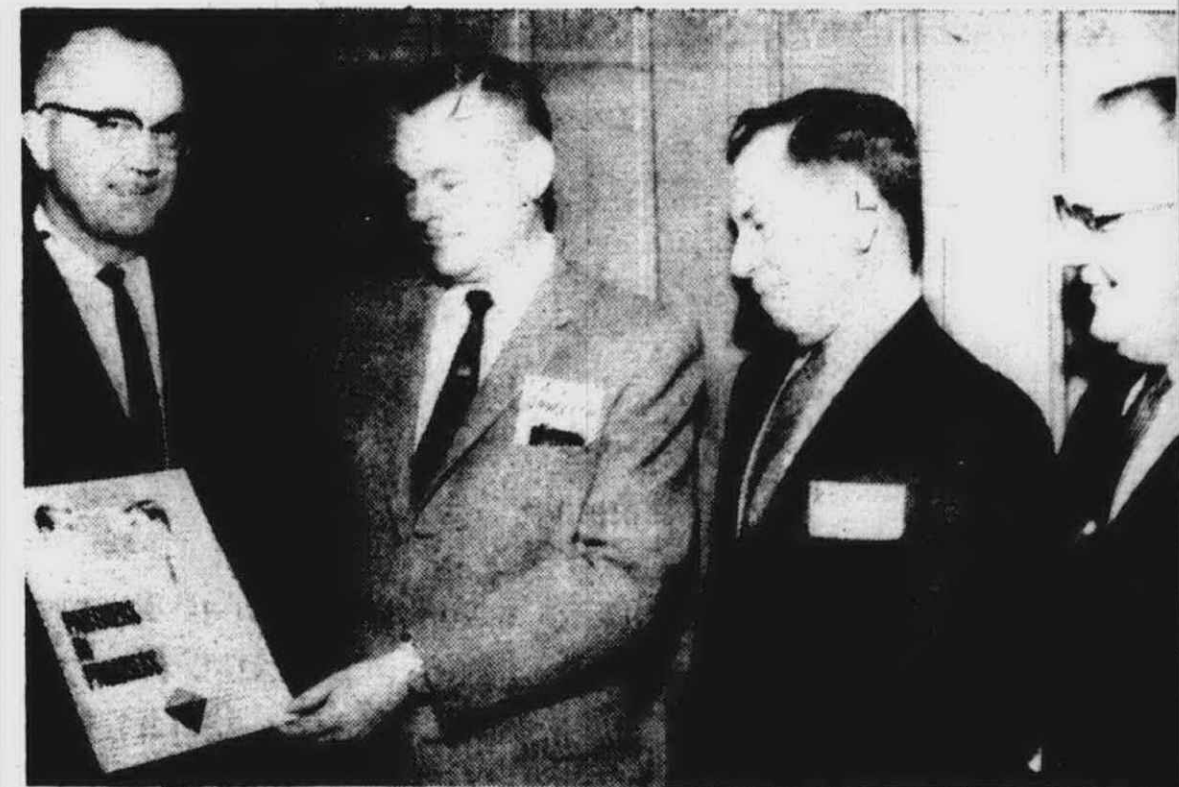

The two Lewis boys who were in the University Hospital are back home. Tests at the hospital proved that they have inactive TB and it is not necessary for hospitalization.

Raymond Dahl, son of Arthur and Louise Dahl of Salem Rd. is home from Albion College for his mid-semester vacation.

Raymond Smith, who is the son of Mrs. Doris Marshall of Salem Rd., has been home on leave from the Naval base on Treasure Island, San Francisco, visiting his mother and two children Dianne and Michael. Mr. Smith, a chief warrant officer, was at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attacked. Raymond left Sunday for San Francisco.

Miss Norma Clinansmith, the oldest daughter of Kenneth Clinansmith of Curtis Rd., was thrown from a car last Friday evening and is now in St. Joseph's Hospital for observation of head injuries.

To you Dr. William B. Ross, your many patients and friends out here in the Township join me in saying congratulations on the honor that was bestowed on you last Tuesday, Jan. 23. We hear that you were quite surprised when the staff at the Zieger Osteopathic Hospital in Detroit voted for you to be their chairman. You may recall what I told you when I was in the hospital, that "this is a young man's world." Surely there were older doctors at this meeting. So doctor, keep up the good work that you are doing. The best of luck to you is the wish of your many friends and patients out here.

Leaders Observe Boy Scout Week with Potluck Dinner

Plans were well along today for an old-fashioned Potluck Dinner for a "family" of 6,300 people.

The dinner will be held Saturday, Feb. 3, in Cobo Hall as a means of recognizing and thanking the dedicated volunteer leaders of the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America. Some from Plymouth are expected to attend.

activities in Scouting units around the city.

The fourth annual Potluck Dinner, believed to be the largest of its kind ever held, drew about 6,300 people last year. An equal number are expected again, a spokesman said, for what has now become the Council's traditional way of "trying to say thanks for the tremendous job" done by volunteer leaders in this area.

All told, there are more than 26,000 leaders who help run the 2,040 Scouting units in the Detroit Council, largest in the nation. Since there's room for little more than 3,000 leaders plus their wives in the Cobo Hall location, reservations are made on a first come, first served basis. Last year, several hundred registrations had to be returned for lack of space.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

For 35 years many hundreds of children have come under the quiet, understanding, and affectionate influence of Miss Mildred Ellen Field, who has been principal of Starkweather school for the past nine years.

Beginning with a limited certificate, she had her introduction to teaching in two rural schools (as had her mother before her marriage) in Van Buren County where she taught all eight grades for four years. Then moving to Coldwater she taught 5th grade in the Children's Home for five years.

Next she drew on her patience and intuitiveness to teach the mentally handicapped in a Lansing school for ten years. During this time she taught some youngsters with extremely low IQ's to read and some who had been severely damaged to learn acceptable social habits.

Then again she moved to another school to teach fifth graders.

During these years of teaching, Miss Field who had graduated from the Bastrop, Mich., High School in the community where she was born, continued to study each summer until she received first a life certificate and later a BA from Western Michigan College.

Not content with two years and nine summers of study she spent four additional summers in Evanston, Ill., studying at Northwestern University where she received a master's degree.

With more disciplines to conquer, social service next attracted her attention. She began this study at MSU while teaching in Lansing and later studied in the social school at U of M.

This proved to be a taxing experience as her classes were in Ann Arbor on Monday and Tuesday. Then making a dash for Bay City, she gained her experience in the Family Service Agency on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, returning again to Ann Arbor to continue the cycle.

In all, she had earned 40 hours of graduate work beyond her MA and then began five years as a visiting teacher first in Sheboygan, Wis., and later in Plymouth. Then when there was a vacancy in the principalship at Starkweather, she was selected as the most capable candidate.

Miss Mildred Field

And still she had time for many short trips to Williamsburg shortly after its restoration, Washington, Boston, Gettysburg, and Montreal. Conventions took her to New York and St. Louis. One spring vacation left a strong impression. Leaving Lansing one March during a snow storm, she arrived in New Orleans where flowers were in bloom everywhere. Then at the end of her visit she returned to Lansing which again was in the midst of another snow storm.

Because she feels a responsibility to the community in a non-professional capacity, she has been a group leader for two years in the WSCS of the Methodist Church, and International group leader for a study of Iran also for two years in AAUW, and vice-president of the Soroptimists these last two years.

When she wishes to turn aside from responsibilities and planning, she reads or sews. Occasionally she plays bridge or knits the many small gifts that are a mute reminder of her thoughtfulness.

Canton Tax Bills Go Up, So Question, of Course, Is Why

Esther Sprengel
GL 3-0134

This past week has brought about a lot of comments on our 1961 tax bills. The comment most often expressed is "I thought our taxes wouldn't go up if we became a chartered Township." "How come our taxes have doubled in the Township?" So back to the Township Hall with the questions I went.

The person I directed the questions to was Mr. Dingeldey, our treasurer. First, the taxes would have been raised whether we became a chartered township, or remained as we were. The reason for the tax increase is this: The Township spread a one mill increase, to be put into a contingent fund to pay our share in the Middle and Lower Rouge interceptor sewer program. The Township has applied for 10,000 taps into the sewer program sponsored by the Wayne County Department of Public Works.

This sewer is scheduled to be at our Township boundaries the summer of 1963. To be specific, it will be at the north side of Haggerty and Joy Roads and the south side of Hannan and Michigan Ave. Many times residents have such questions and I have been assured that your Board wants to have the opportunity to answer them.

Mrs. Richard Palmer of Warren Road, wishes to thank all the ladies who assisted in covering the northwest corner of Canton Township in the Mothers' March of Dimes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell of Ford Rd. proudly announce the birth of a son, Kim Edward. Kim was born on Jan. 23 at the Ridgewood Hospital and weighed 7 lbs.,

3 oz. The couple has another son, Charles, who needless to say is anxious to meet his new brother. Mr. Mitchell reports his wife and son doing fine.

The apology has been made personally to Karen Lynn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White of Sheldon Rd., but now we want everyone to know that the White's boast of a new daughter, Karen, and not a son. Karen's Mom said they got quite a laugh about the mix-up. In fact, the article shall have a place in Karen's baby book. So let it be known that Karen's Mom, Dad or sister and brother wouldn't trade the little miss for no boy.

Home from his studies at Western Michigan at Kalamazoo is Ralph Spigarelli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spigarelli of Beck Rd. Ralph will return to Kalamazoo on Sunday, Feb. 4.

A get-well wish is extended to Mrs. A. Kinchen (June) of Beck Rd. Mrs. Kinchen recently underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hicks of Beck Rd. recently announced the birth of a baby girl, 6 pounds, 6 oz. The Hickses are new to Canton Township and have two sons. The new miss has been named Marilyn.

A report of a visit from their son Vernon and wife Bonnie and three sons, Timothy, Charles and John, comes from proud parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carvey of Beck Rd. Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Carvey are missionaries in the Philippine Islands. Shortly after their arrival in the Philippines, the may I say that I have spent 3 1/2 years of meeting some very nice people, and in all that time I have been received graciously, kidded many times over errors I made or that appeared in my column, we have tried to correct all of them and many times had a big laugh and fun in doing the corrections. I have received many nice compliments on the column which always pleased me. I have kidded and told them to kiddle the boss, but I did appreciate hearing from all of you. Now, however, I think it time that we get some fresh ideas and a new writer. The qualifications: you must like people, like to write and a typewriter will help get things out each week. The area my column is to cover is the entire Canton Township. However, I didn't get to include as many people as I would have liked to. If there is one of you out there that would be interested in keeping Canton residents informed about their neighbors and things that interest the residents please contact Mr. James Sponseller, Plymouth Mail - GL 3-5500. I made friends during the past years and I hope no enemies. It has been fun.

Canton will not be without a column for I shall stay around until I have a replacement, so pass the word of the need for a writer and I or someone will be writing for you next week.

We kept this news item for last, because it is a very special one. On Friday, Jan. 26 at 8 a.m. Warren Palmer of Warren Rd. underwent heart surgery at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor. His family informed us that he went into the surgery with complete faith that it would be a success. On Sunday, Jan. 28, I called the family and was happy to find that the operation had been a success. Mrs. Richard Palmer (Mr. Palmer's daughter-in-law) said the Dr. Morris, who performed the operation, told the family that Mr. Palmer is the oldest patient they have ever performed this type of heart surgery on. Mr. Palmer celebrated his 60th birthday and was reported strong and in good health. Rest will be the prescription for a while for Mr. Palmer. His room is on the 7th floor at St. Joseph in Ann Arbor. Needless to say, we are looking forward to a quick recovery and a speedy return home.

Carveys settled in Pagsanjan, Laguna Province. They found that the friendly Filipino people were very curious about their reasons for coming to live there. This provided many opportunities to present the gospel through personal contact, Bible classes, vacation Bible schools, and evangelistic campaigns.

Although the church is still not very large, it has a vision for missionary outreach and holds a weekly Bible class in another part of town. They also use part of their income to assist young people who are preparing for Christian service at Bible school and seminary.

Rev. Carvey has had a variety of other responsibilities while in the Philippine Islands. These include various offices in the Philippine field conference of the CBFMS, serving as a member of the board of trustees for Faith Academy, a school for missionaries' children and on the corporation of the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of the Philippines. He has also had opportunity to teach the Word to college and university students of Bible conferences sponsored by the IVCF.

Before beginning his missionary service, Rev. Carvey graduated from Michigan State University at East Lansing, and Fuller Theological Seminary, Pasadena, Calif. Mrs. Carvey is a graduate of Pasadena City College. During World War II Rev. Carvey was in the Philippines as a serviceman, and was active in the G.I. gospel hour in Manila. Rev. and Mrs. Carvey and their sons arrived back in the Philippines after their visit to Canton on Dec. 28. A picture of the family released by the conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society and prized by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carvey, related some interesting information about the Philippines where the couple is serving. The climate: tropical; population: 24 million; languages spoken: 87; literacy rate: 80 percent; and it lies 8,000 miles from San Francisco.

The Sprengels have been told that their name is unusual, at least spelled as it is. There are only two such spellings in the phone books from here and Detroit, one is us, the other an aunt. But to prove it is unusual, The State Police called from Lansing to see if we could possibly be heirs to a fortune, but alas — there are just enough Sprengels sprinkled about the United States, that someone else shall be rich and we shall go on dreaming. But even though we weren't the Sprengels they want, it is quite a thrill to know someone with the same name is due for a wonderful surprise.

Returns from Iowa

Ray J. Wyse of Better Home Furnishings, 1009 W. Ann Arbor Rd., has just returned from a trip to the world-famous Amana Colonies in Iowa.

He was one of a selected group of Amana delayers who attended a three-day meeting Jan. 21, 22, and 23, at Amana Refrigeration, Inc., Amana, Iowa. The trip was made in a specially chartered plane originating in Buffalo with stops at Cleveland and Detroit.

Approximately seventy-five dealers from the United States and Canada attended merchandising seminars conducted by top Amana sales and advertising executives. Special product training sessions were conducted, including a factory tour where the group watched the manufacture of Amana freezers, freezer-plus-refrigerator, air conditioners, and dehumidifiers.

The twelfth-century Wells Cathedral in Somerset, England, is said to have the most beautiful west front in Europe.

The University of Copenhagen, leading university in Denmark, was founded in 1478.

News in Brief

Mr. and Mrs. James Shaw of Ann St. were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kiddie at the Birmingham Country Club on Saturday evening of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ellerbrock of Bowling Green, Ohio were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Dziens of Beech St. over the weekend. Mrs. Ellerbrock is Mrs. Dziens' sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Parnell Johnson and children, Marlene and Sonny, of Maben Rd. were dinner guests of Mrs. Carl Rautenberg in New Boston on Sunday. Later Mrs. Rautenberg accompanied the Johnsons to Detroit where they renewed the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. John DeKarske, friends of 25 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick, Mrs. Harold Todd and Miss Regina Polley, all of Plymouth, were Saturday evening dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Johnson of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dziens entertained at a bridge party Saturday evening in their home on Beech St. Guests included the Dziens' house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Ellerbrock of Bowling Green, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Drennan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Probeck of Plymouth.

Mrs. Harold Todd entertained her neighborhood canasta club Monday evening at her home on Clemons Dr.

Rosemary Kubik is spending her mid-term vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kubik of Ann Arbor Rd. She is a freshman at Central Mich. in Mount Pleasant.

Favorite Recipes from Plymouth Kitchens

If followers of this column attended the annual Harvest Bazaar luncheon at the Methodist Church this fall Mrs. Coutts' recipe for refrigerator rolls will need no introduction. For they speak for themselves. But, if you haven't tried them yet, a taste treat awaits you.

Refrigerator Rolls
2 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
two-thirds cup oleo
1 yeast cake
2 cups warm water
6 cups flour (before sifting)
1 tsp. salt

Dissolve yeast in one-third cup warm water and 1/2 teaspoon sugar and let stand five minutes.

Beat eggs, sugar and oleo together. Then add yeast. Add remaining water alternately with flour and salt that has been sifted together.

Cover bowl tightly with foil and set in refrigerator to chill.

Shape into rolls and let stand three hours before baking. Bake in a 400 degree oven for 20 minutes. Makes approximately three dozen rolls. "A batch keeps in the refrigerator two or three weeks," says Mrs. Coutts. "I usually cut the dough with a cookie cutter and bake on a cookie sheet."

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Coutts live at 1190 Simpson with their two sons, Jerry, 15 and Dale, 14. Jerry attends Plymouth High School, his brother is in Junior High.

Mrs. Coutts, who considers cooking and baking in the category of a hobby, is appropriately enough, dinner and luncheon chairman of the First Methodist Church of Plymouth. She also belongs to the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Naturalist Speaks At Lutheran School

It was announced by Richard Scharf, principal of St. Peter's Lutheran School, that Rainer Brocke, will be guest speaker at the school, Friday, Feb. 9.

Brocke's lecture is entitled "Metropolitan Mammals." He is naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

The Authority serves five counties, Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

School Planners to Hear Community College Report

The Plymouth School Community Planning Group, under the active guidance of President Eugene Jordan, has scheduled an informative meeting for Monday, Feb. 7 at the Bird School.

Meeting starts at 7:45 p.m. and all citizens interested in education and desiring to know more about their school system are welcome to attend the monthly meeting of the School Community Group.

Dr. Eric Bradner, recently appointed head of the Northwest Community College, has been asked to speak to the group about what the community college can do for our school district. Harold Fischer, president of the Community College Board of Trustees, will give a brief history of the community college movement and will present Dr. Bradner to the group.

Last month's program, "What to Do About the High School Drop-Outs," aroused considerable comment among the citizens attending. George Conover, member of the Special Education committee of the Planning group, presented the provocative subject. Many of the points discussed were jotted down by the member of the Curriculum committee for examination and analysis in their subsequent sub-committee meetings.

President Eugene Jordan stated "our meetings this year have almost doubled in attendance." He expressed the wish that even more citizens could attend these monthly meetings and avail themselves of the opportunity to discuss educational issues. Jordan pointed out that a member of the Plymouth School Board always presents a report relative to Board of

Junior High School P.T.S.A. February 5

Our next P.T.S.A. meeting will be held Monday, in the multi-purpose room, Feb. 5 at 7:45 p.m.

Mr. William Harding, assisted by the teachers of the mathematics department, will be in charge of the program.

There will be a description of the department and answers given to any questions asked from the floor.

Books, materials and teaching aids used by the math department will be exhibited.

Please take advantage of this opportunity to learn more about math as it is taught within the Junior High and to clarify your questions.

We'll Be Moving TO A NEW HOME In A Few Weeks

By March 1, the Lov-lee Beauty Salon will be located on the first floor of the Colonial Professional Building, 729 West Ann Arbor Trail. (That's the Telephone Company's old switchboard office, if you'll recall.) We'll have the same telephone number (GL 3-3550), the same operators and the same specialized service... just a new home.

In the meantime, while we're wrapping up the details of the move, we've decided to extend our January permanent specials through February 15. Till then, you'll find us still at 332 South Main Street. Remember, too, that we're open Wednesdays now from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. for added convenience to you.

Talks on Vocational Guidance

"Vocational Guidance" was the subject of last week's Kiwanis Club program presented by Russell Ibsister, superintendent of the Plymouth Community School District, and Urey Arnold, coordinator of occupational education at the Plymouth High School.
They told of the European custom of boys working with their fathers and learning farming, carpentry, tailoring, and similar trades and the girls working with their mothers and learning the art of housekeeping, cooking, sewing and the like. As occupations became more diversified, the father began working in places away from the home and the children selected types of work that were different from their parents' and could not be taught at home.

The school system has been called upon to fill this need. Assisting the parents in helping the child to select a proper vocation is responsibility readily accepted by the school system of Plymouth.
Many of our unemployed persons in the unskilled or semi-skilled classification must be re-trained with new skills to meet the changing employment requirements, the speakers said. "Man's occupation is the watershed through which his life flows."

Monday marked the official beginning of second semester, the arrival of final grades for the first semester and the start of twelve consecutive weeks of school without vacation.

Breaking up the monotony will be: Elections — Caucuses and primaries will probably be the week before the start of spring vacation. As of press-time, Mayor Jim Kropf hadn't officially announced the appointment of a chairman. Assemblies — Due to a conflict in dates, the Detroit Symphony brass quintet assembly was cancelled. People who want to participate in the talent assembly scheduled for early in March, should contact Chairman Mary Hulsing. Dave Raafaub was appointed chairman for the senior farewell assembly.

Water show — Water Waves and Dolphins have set all deadlines for numbers in "Music Through the Ages." The exec. board for Water Waves will begin reviewing music chosen by each group this week.

Constitutional Convention — Delegates were elected in homerooms last Monday.

Senior Prom — Set for the week after the end of Spring vacation (May 12), the prom will be keeping seniors busy during the next months. Treasurer Susie Neal reports that after paying for caps and

Many Disabled Not Receiving Social Security

Approximately 860,000 disabled workers, their wives, and their children are now receiving monthly social security payments, Harry Baltuck, Manager of the Northwest Detroit District Office of the Social Security Administration, stated today.

Many other disabled workers and their families, however, are not receiving payments because an application has not been filed with the social security office by the disabled person or by someone on his behalf.

Baltuck pointed out that one reason for disabled persons not filing for cash payments is a lack of understanding of the social security law.

Before November 1960, a disabled worker and his family could not receive monthly benefits unless the worker was 50 years of age or older. Baltuck hastened to add that the law was changed last year and that this requirement for payments was removed from the law. Disabled workers under 50 years of age and their families have been receiving disability benefits since November 1960, under the new law.

Baltuck also said that applications for benefits can only go back as far as 12 months from the month of filing. He urged all disabled workers to contact the social security office right away, especially those who have been disabled for more than one year, to avoid the loss of payments which may be due. The office for this area is located at 18500 Grand River Ave., Detroit 23, Mich.

STAND BACK: BOOKS EXPLODING

All that talk last year about a population explosion didn't impress us much, possibly because it belongs to the generation which lit the fuse.

OR POSSIBLY because the real explosion isn't babies at all but in books—paperback books. The new winter catalog of Paperback Books Print lists 14,700 editions currently on sale from 74 publishers. Five years ago the same catalog listed 4,500 titles from only 47 publishers. The catalog itself, meant for booksellers and librarians, only dates from 1955 because before that there weren't enough paperbacks to justify it. Twenty-five years ago, which isn't really far back, paperbacks in this country were almost nonexistent.

THE WHOLE REVOLUTION began in 1939 when Pocket Books, Inc., the pioneer company, issued a mere 34 titles, sold them in drug stores at a quarter apiece. That year the public bought a total of a million and a half books, or not many more than are sold every day now. (The first book published by Pocket Books was James Hilton's Lost Horizon, if you care about information like that.) Thirty-four books issued in a year was a small beginning but it marked a radical departure in book-selling methods, price and distribution. Pocket was joined in the early forties by Avon, New American Library and Bantam Books, each putting out about four titles a month. After the war companies multiplied, flooded the market and the business never looked back.

From 34 titles to almost 15,000 in 22 years — now there is an explosion!

THE BARD'S ON THE WING According to the new catalog the most published author in paperbacks isn't collecting any royalties. It is William Shakespeare, born 300 years too soon, apparently, as the public is now choosing among 50 different editions of his plays. This is more than double the number of editions available of the works of any other author. Runner-up is Erle Stanley Gardner with 47 titles on the newsstands.

AUTHORS MOST HEAVILY represented in cheap paperbacks are a curious bunch; they seemingly have little in common except the ability to interest a huge number of readers. After Shakespeare and Gardner the writers with the largest paperback output are: Henry James, Plato, George Bernard Shaw, Carter Brown, Agatha Christie, Dostoyevsky, Thomas Hardy, Erskine Caldwell and Mark Twain, all of whom have more than twenty-five titles on the market.

To get back to Shakespeare: the most intriguing of recent Shakespeare volumes is one called An Age of Kings (Pyramid, 75 cents), a collection of eight of the Bard's historical plays dealing with the kings of England (two Richards and three Henrys) during the bloody century from 1399 to 1534.

SPORTSEEN

By Jerome O'Neil

Ken 'Beef' Matheson, whose exploits as a coach at Plymouth High made him a favorite here a generation ago, was holding court at the Elks Lodge the other night.

The occasion was a banquet for Plymouth's 1961 varsity football team.

It was hard to distinguish who was getting the most attention.

There were ample servings of celebrities in addition to Matheson and the Plymouth gridders. Chalmers 'Bump' Elliott, who persevered at the University of Michigan this past fall and got away with it, was present as well:

Gil Mains, Wayne Walker and Earl Morrow of the Detroit Lions; Ray Renfrew, U-M hockey coach; Mike Hoben, Plymouth grid coach; and others.

Proud fathers of Plymouth's football players shouldered their way from one crowded room to another and the hospitality hour was apparently being enjoyed by all.

Matheson, who had been this route before, sat quietly at a corner table and shared some memories with middle-aged men who once had been star athletes at Plymouth years ago.

Now athletic director at Cody High in Detroit, Matheson from 1928 to 1937 was a coach at Plymouth and at one time or another headed all of the major sports here.

And, as time is disposed to do, Beef had changed — but not much.

A tinge of gray has intruded at Beef's temples and bi-focals are an addition. But that same steely glint of eye remains, as if Beef still were squinting across the playing field at quarterback Jack Gilles in the 1931 Plymouth-Northville game.

Gilles and Beef exchanged a few stories the other night as did Howdy Schryer, Doug Egloff and Les Bassett. And it was pleasant because the boys of those four Plymouth men had helped the Rocks to a 6-2 record this past fall.

In a way it was history repeating itself all over again.

But Beef's kind of history had earned him a part of a legend.

He recalled when Plymouth was undefeated at football in 1930 and, of course, was a league champion. Gilles laughed as Beef needed Doug Egloff about a later basketball escapade.

And then there was the 1936 state track meet. Beef took three Plymouth thinclads to Grand Rapids that spring and almost came away with a state title.

The trio, comprised of Harold Wagenschutz, Jack Kinsey and Jack Williams, were three of the best track stars Plymouth ever had.

At Grand Rapids in the morning events, Kinsey set a new state record as he won the shot put and Williams took first in the pole vault. Those were final events.

In qualifying rounds at the same time, Wagenschutz captured no less than four first place finishes — in the high and low hurdles, the broad jump and the high jump.

Beef and the three boys sat around a table at lunch and enjoyed the prospects of a state track championship. It was entirely possible. All they needed were Wagenschutz's four first place finishes in the final rounds that afternoon.

It was not to be. Wagenschutz started the 120-yard high hurdles after the noon break. Beef watched as Waggie moved ahead by three strides.

Then Wagenschutz glanced over his shoulder. He missed clearing the next hurdle by six inches, fell flat, came up with a pulled leg muscle and could compete no longer.

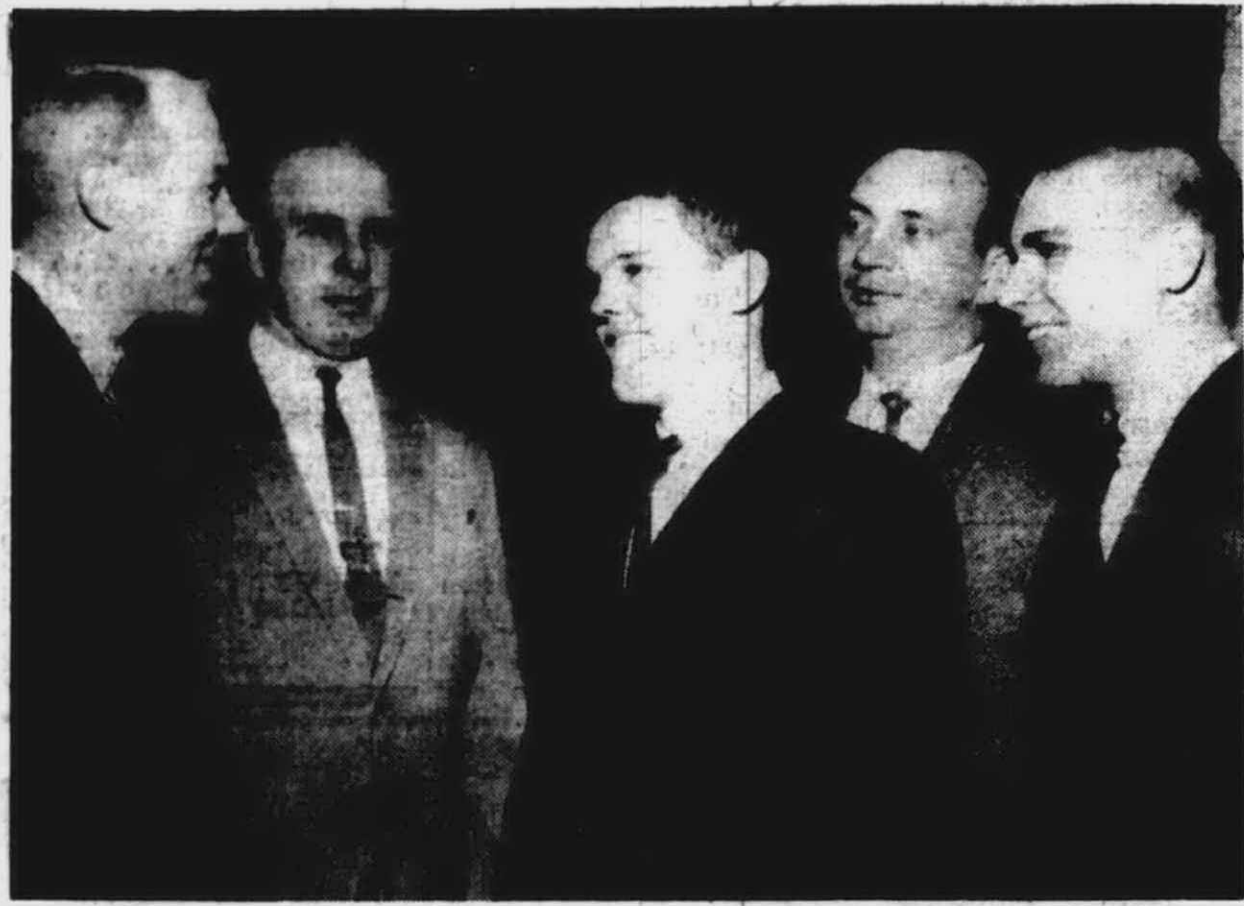

Plymouth came away from the meet with only its two first place finishes from that morning — far less than a state championship.

It became part of the Beef Matheson legend — how three of his boys almost won a state track championship.

Doug Egloff replenished the table at the Elks Club and Beef reminded of the night Egloff scored two points in a basketball game while sitting on the floor. It was not clear if Doug had fallen or had been pushed.

Later, everyone threaded their way into the banquet room and consumed large quantities of food. With the others, Beef sat and watched U-M football movies as a nightcap.

As the evening ended, Beef returned to Detroit. The legend remained behind.

Cagers Blow 14-Point Lead, Suffer Fifth Conference Loss

Plymouth tossed away a golden opportunity to make its presence known in the Suburban Six basketball race last Friday night.

The Rocks blew a 14-point half-time lead over league-leading Allen Park and went on to absorb their fifth conference defeat, 68-63.

The victory meant much to Allen Park, which now leads the Suburban Six alone as a result of Redford Union's loss to Bentley. Prior to Friday, Allen Park and Redford Union had shared the top spot.

And the defeat to Plymouth left the Rocks deep in the conference cellar tied with Trenton at 1-5. The Rocks are 3-8 for the winter.

Plymouth partisans witnessed a heart-breaking collapse in the second half after watching the Rocks crumple over, around and through the Allen Park defense in the first half. Plymouth never looked better than it did in the first two quarters. The Rocks scored handsily on driving lay-ups, jump shots and free throws. Their full-court press stymied Allen Park at every turn.

Frosh '5' Win No. 5

With a steady scoring attack spread evenly over four quarters of play, Plymouth's freshman basketball team defeated Whitman Junior High from Livonia last week, 40-24.

It was the Frosh team's fifth consecutive victory this season against no defeats.

Plymouth's balanced scoring was the difference. The Frosh scored 12 points in the first period, added 11 in the second, 16 in the third and 11 in the fourth. The Rocks enjoyed a 23-11 halftime lead. "The Whitman team was the best we've played so far," commented Frosh coach Bryan Boring later. He paid tribute to his players for their winning efforts.

Dave Tidwell led the Rocks with 12 points while Jim Lake and Roy Chappel each added eight and Gary Grady had seven.

Belleville's freshmen team will be the next opposition, Friday afternoon, Feb. 2. The game will begin at 4 p.m.

Eskimos Score 3rd Shut-out

The Plymouth Eskimos held onto their share of first place in the bantam division of the Nankin Township recreation hockey league last weekend with a 5-0 victory over the VFW T-Birds.

It was the third straight shut-out for goalie Joey Whitman who made five saves.

Ken Wilkens and Rick Jones each scored twice for the Eskimos and Dale Crawford added a single goal to account for all of the scoring.

The standings:
Ply. Eskimos 3 1
Nankin Lions 3 1
VFW T-Birds 2 2
Nankin Rams 0 4

At one point, Plymouth enjoyed a 17-point advantage. But the second half was a different story. Returning to a 39-25 lead following the intermission, Plymouth faded badly.

Allen Park's rally — headed by guard Roger Roman — brought the visitors up even with the Rocks at 55-55 with six minutes left.

The lead changed hands for four minutes.

Roman earned Allen Park a 63-61 edge with 85 seconds to go, but Plymouth's Dick Schryer tied it once more at the minute mark.

Then Roman put Allen Park ahead to stay with 35 seconds remaining. He added another basket and a free throw in the final moments for insurance.

Plymouth's downfall began in earnest late in the third period when Dave Jensen and then Dan Stremick both fouled out. They had been alternating at the center position for the Rocks.

Mike Kisabeth, filling in at the pivot post, fouled out a moment later.

Careless fouls by the Rocks handed Allen Park the victory.

The visitors cashed 32 of 48 free throw attempts to go with 18 field goals. Plymouth, too, prospered at the free throw line, but in no way to compare to Allen Park's prosperity.

The Rocks made 23 of 32 free throws and added 20 field goals.

Roman led the Allen Park attack with 27 points including 13 free throws. Allen Chumita had 15 more for the winners.

Eloy Menchaca paced Plymouth with 17 points, equalling his personal high for the winter. Schryer and Dave Gothard had 13 apiece.

Belleville hosts the Plymouth cagers Friday evening in a game that will get underway about 8 p.m. Bentley visits here Feb. 9.

Junior Rocks Rally For 63-54 Victory

Plymouth's junior varsity basketball team rallied in the second half last Friday evening to overcome Allen Park, 63-54, and climb once again above the 500 mark.

The Junior Rocks, who now sport a 6-5 record for the winter, trailed at halftime 28-22, but exploded for 41 points in the second half. In the third period alone, Plymouth got 25 points.

Big guns in Plymouth's rally were Jerry Kisabeth, who had 12 points in the third frame, and Caleb Luibrand, who added nine more points over the same span.

Kisabeth closed out the night with 18 points while Luibrand had 11. Scoring honors, however, went to Allen Park's John Feist, a 5-foot-6 guard. Feist had 28 points, four more than he scored in the earlier Plymouth-Allen Park junior varsity contest last December.

Plymouth appeared listless in the first half as Allen Park helped itself to a 13-8 first quarter margin and hung on to a 26-22 edge at halftime.

But the Junior Rocks broke loose in the opening moments of the second half and were never behind from then on.

The Rocks led 47-38 as the fourth period got underway. Plymouth utilized a full-court man-to-man defense which began to take its toll in the second half.

"We ran them (Allen Park) into the ground in the last two quarters," remarked Dick Bearup, Plymouth Jay-Vee coach, after the game. The victory pointed up the merits of a full-court press defense.

The Junior Rocks take on Belleville Friday evening, Feb. 2. The game will be played at Belleville and will get underway at 6:30 p.m.

J.V. Swimmers Win 6th

With seven first place ribbons including one in the 200-yard freestyle relay, Plymouth's junior varsity swimmers dumped Allen Park last week, 56-44.

It was the JayVees' sixth dual-meet victory in eight attempts and left them undefeated in the Suburban Six league.

Dan Cook, with a 1:01 victory in the 100-yard freestyle, and a 2:25.6 decision in the 200-yard freestyle, was Plymouth's only double-winner. He scored 10 points.

The Junior Rocks stepped out to a 20-16 lead after four events, but then fell behind when Allen Park took first and second in the 100-yard breast-stroke.

Plymouth rallied with a first and third in the 100-yard freestyle and was never threatened.

Doug Breed added eight points with a victory in the 400-yard freestyle and a second place in the 200-yard free behind Cook.

Bob Meyers, who won the 50-yard free in 28.6 and swam a leg on the 200-yard freestyle relay team, captured seven points.

Other scoring by Plymouth was accomplished by: Bob Murdock, who was third in the 50-yard free; Mike Drennan, first, and Tim Corwin, third, in the 100-yard butterfly; Mark Keith, second, in the 100-yard back-stroke;

Gerry Scott, third, in the 100-yard breast-stroke; Dick Berry, third, in the 100-yard free; Chuck Ruge, first, and John Herter, second, in the diving; and Jeff Hoffman, second, in the 200-yard ind. medley. Meyers, Murdock, Berry and Doug Jaskierny won the 200-yard freestyle relay in 1:51.4. Plymouth's 200-yard medley relay team was disqualified.

Swimmers Conquer Allen Park, Fordson

Heading into the home stretch of their 1961-62 season, Plymouth's swimmers host Belleville tomorrow night after racking up two more dual-event victories this past week.

The Rocks, on the strength of easy wins against Allen Park last Saturday and Fordson on Saturday, now boast a 7-3 record with five dual events remaining.

Plymouth dumped Allen Park, 64-40, and swamped Fordson by a 65-36 margin. In both victories, Plymouth followed practically the same pattern.

The Rocks claimed 10 of their first finishes against Allen Park and came back against Fordson to capture eight firsts.

Generous servings of seconds and thirds aided the locals in both matches.

Although Plymouth swimmers turned in several good individual performances, the Rocks by-and-large relied on team balance to gain victories No. 6 and 7.

Against Allen Park, Plymouth's 200-yard medley relay team of Dick Michaels, Phil Bender, Dave Beglinger and Gary Gould turned in its best time of the season and set an Allen Park pool record enroute. The medley quartet was timed in 1:49.2.

Barry Corwin, who won the 100-yard butterfly, showed considerable improvement in that event. Corwin's 1:01.8 clocking was his best yet this winter.

Elsewhere in the Allen Park encounter, Plymouth was steady and far from spectacular.

In the Fordson meet, it was more of the same. However, one new pool and team record was established and another pool record was narrowly missed.

Both accomplishments were by Gary Gould. In the 50-yard freestyle, Gould won in :23.5 setting a new pool and team record and breaking Jim (zett)'s mark of :23.7 of a year ago. Gould returned to win the 100-yard freestyle in :52.9, missing the pool record by two-tenths of a second.

As a result of his efforts, Gould shared scoring honors with Dick Michaels. Each had two individual victories, good for 10 points apiece.

Michaels posted a 2:14.1 time in the 200-yard ind. medley, his best of the year, and also won the 100-yard back-stroke in :58 flat.

It was Dick Alford who paced the Rocks in the Allen Park meet. Alford turned in the winning time in the 200-yard freestyle and gained a second in the 400-yard free. His eight points topped Plymouth's individual scoring efforts that evening.

While Alford had eight points, Gould and Michaels each scored seven. Gould won the 50-yard free, Michaels claimed the 100-yard backstroke and they swam legs on Plymouth's winning 200-yard medley relay team.

Plymouth scoring in the Allen Park meet was accounted for by:

Gould first in the 50-yard free; Alford, second, and George Collins, third, in the 400-yard free; Corwin, first, in the 100-yard butterfly; Michaels, first, and Tom Hoffman, second, in the 100-yard backstroke; Bender, first, in the 100-yard breast-stroke;

Win Schrader, first, in the 100-yard free; Mark Schultheiss, first, and Burt Quinn, third, in the diving; Corwin, first, in the 200-yard ind. medley; Alford, first, and Tom Blunk, third, in the 200-yard free.

The Rocks won the 200-yard medley relay with Michaels, Bender, Beglinger and Gould and captured the 200-yard freestyle relay with Ken Fischer, Schultheiss, Al Larson and Schrader.

In the Fordson meet, Plymouth scored with:

Alford, second, in the 400-yard free; Gould, first, and Fischer, third, in the 50-yard free; Corwin, first, in the 100-yard butterfly; Michaels, first, and Tom Hoffman, third, in the 100-yard backstroke; Bender, first, in the 100-yard breast-stroke;

Gould, first, Schrader, second, in the 100-yard free; Schultheiss, first and Wayne

Stephenson, second, in diving; Michaels, first, and Jim Beglinger, second, in the 200-yard ind. medley; Alford, second, and Tom Blunk, third, in the 200-yard free.

Plymouth won the 200-yard medley relay with George Gardner, Dave Agnew, Dave Beglinger and Jim Mattison. Rick Malboeuf, Jerry Wallace, John Wolfe and Dave Sutherland were second in the 200-yard freestyle relay for the Rocks.

The Belleville meet tomorrow night will begin at 7 p.m.

Stephenson, second, in diving; Michaels, first, and Jim Beglinger, second, in the 200-yard ind. medley; Alford, second, and Tom Blunk, third, in the 200-yard free.

Plymouth won the 200-yard medley relay with George Gardner, Dave Agnew, Dave Beglinger and Jim Mattison. Rick Malboeuf, Jerry Wallace, John Wolfe and Dave Sutherland were second in the 200-yard freestyle relay for the Rocks.

The Belleville meet tomorrow night will begin at 7 p.m.

Sales Lag On Game Licenses

Latest figures on Michigan's 1961 hunting and fishing license sales cast the threat of more setbacks for the state's game and fish programs this year, the Conservation Department announces.

Revenue from these license sales totaled some $6,017,000 as of Dec. 31, a decline of $426,000 from the year-ago level. The final tally on sales should be completed in March.

Firearm deer licenses are off the most, slumping from 377,525 as of a year ago to 341,235. Archery deer licenses also show a sizable drop, from 31,500 to nearly 28,000.

Latest returns from dealers indicate fewer small game hunters purchased licenses in 1961 than during the year before. These sales are down by 23,000 licenses, totaling 505,683.

Fishing license sales have continued their downward trend which dates from 1954. The Dec. 31 figure for resident fishing licenses sold is 705,192 about 20,000 below the 1960 year-end count.

PLYMOUTH basketball coach Charlie Ketterer found little solace in the congratulations Allen Park coach Ray McKay extended last Friday night after Allen Park rallied to beat Plymouth 68-63. The Rocks at one time led by 17 points but blew it in the second half.

Allen Park Paces Cage Conference

Allen Park this week is alone at the top of the Suburban Six basketball standings — thanks to Bentley High's 39-23 upset of Redford Union.

Redford Union and Allen Park shared the leadership going in to last Friday night's games. As it stands now, however, Redford Union and Bentley are tied for second, a game behind pace-setting Allen Park.

Bentley crushed Redford Union in the first half on the strength of a steel-wall defense. Bentley led 22-7 at the intermission.

Meanwhile, Allen Park rallied from a 14-point halftime deficit to defeat Plymouth, 68-63, and Trenton upended Belleville by a 63-40 margin. It was Trenton's first conference victory.

Win, Lose And Draw At Hockey

Plymouth recreation hockey teams this past week won one, lost one and tied one for a full variety of efforts.

The Plymouth senior team, in the Garden City league, defeated Garden City 3-1, behind a two-goal outburst by Jim Lockwood. Goalie Kent Stanbury made 17 saves.

In the Nankin Twp. recreation league, the Plymouth Blackhawks, playing in the juvenile division, dropped a close match to the Nankin Hotshots, 4-3. Jim Gavigan got two goals and Dale Livingston scored once for the losers.

An exhibition game in the midget division of the Nankin conference resulted in a 2-2 tie. Lee Benz and Dale Tonkovich each scored single goals for Plymouth. Butch Thomas made 18 saves.

Chips from the ROCK

The Board of Trustees of the Northwest Wayne County Community College should be complimented on their selection of Dr. Eric Bradner to head the new institution. His capabilities, not only in the administrative field, which will assure a fine institution of higher learning are broad, and his experience and background will do much to help bring the proposed school into being. A warm, understanding individual, Dr. Bradner can well cope with the details and problems surrounding the launching of such an immense program. We wish him all the success in the world.

Plymouth's Wildlifers are in trouble. In case you don't know just what the word Wildlifers means, it is a name coined by my father in his many references to the Western Wayne County Conservation Association. Both he and I were charter members of the club when it was founded here in Plymouth many, many years ago and my son and I are presently members.

When I say the club is in trouble I am referring to the proposed moving of the club's activities from its present location on Joy Rd., to a new piece of property consisting of 62 acres on Napier Rd. just north of Territorial. The move is a forced one by redevelopment of the present Joy Rd. site into a park area by Wayne County. Forty acres of the newly-purchased site are in Wayne County and 22 acres are in Washtenaw.

I will not dwell upon, and am not interested in, the political dilemma in which the club now finds itself confronted in its building of a $75,000 club house on the new site, but I will point out a few things about the organization which I think should be known. In the first place, frequent reference is made about "the gun club" which is trying to move to the Salem area. The club is most definitely not a gun club. It was founded for the purpose of propagating, feeding, and sustaining the wild game population throughout this section of Wayne County and, to my knowledge, in addition, has in the past provided money, labor, and feed for certain deer areas distressed by severe winters in northern Michigan.

Secondly, its purpose was to provide education in the use of firearms and archery equipment and emphasize the importance of safety in and out of the field. Thirdly, when founded it was hoped enough interest could be generated to purchase a suitable site to do these things properly and provide a place for meetings where leaders in the sporting field could be invited to present programs of interest to the members.

Because of the general interest in the organization, and through the Herculean efforts of Dr. B. E. Champe . . . Plymouth's number one conservationist . . . the organization flourished and quickly was able to provide its desired facilities to its 700 members. It bought a site, built a club house, constructed one of the best archery and gun ranges in Michigan . . . held huge wild game and fish dinners, heard lectures from Michigan's Conservation Department, and brought in movies and lecturers from all over the country to inform and entertain its members . . . All in all, the Western Wayne County Conservation Association has made a name for itself through the entire state and is considered one of the finest organizations of its kind in America . . . still boasting well over 700 members in this immediate area.

As the club grew and prospered, food and drink facilities were expanded and, in off-hours when the club was not in full use by its members, churches and youth organizations were given usage of its rooms for meetings. In all of the years it has operated, there has never been a violation charged against the club by the Liquor Control Commission, Wayne County Sheriff's officers, or Nankin police, or civic officials. This is a matter of record, and in addition it has proven a good neighbor and an asset to the community in which it has been located. Although subdivisions are located on all four sides of the former Joy Rd. property, no complaints were ever received.

Tonight, members of the club are meeting with three members of the Conservation Commission, developing plans for the creation of a sanctuary for wildlife on their newly-acquired 62 acres. With proper development and planting, which the club desires, and certainly a continuation of the same high type management and membership, I couldn't honestly say there would be anything undesirable about having them next door to where I live . . . They maintain their property, no guns or ammunition are allowed stored or left in their club house, an intercommunication system regulates usage by members of the gun and archery ranges from inside the club as well as out, and every precaution has been exercised in the past to make this a perfect set-up for men, women and children interested in hunting, fishing and conservation.

I have no intention of telling anyone where the club should or should not locate . . . I am only telling a few of the true facts about the organization which cannot be denied.

My apologies to Realtor James Latture . . . once former great debate coach of Plymouth High . . . for not mentioning last week the fact that he did write an essay about building a "Cobo Hall" for Plymouth, and he did win a prize as he stated . . . After more than a day's search through Plymouth Mail files, Professor Latture could show the writer that his facts were right but his years were wrong . . . the files revealed his effort was written in 1940 and his award was won in 1941 . . . We might mention another reason it took him so long to read the files was that he was so happy to reread about the success his state championship debate teams were having during those years.

Ole Brad's Journal

What's in a name? Our colonial forefathers displayed great ingenuity when it came time to christen their children with unique, unusual names. Looking at a list of those early settlers, it is hard to believe that those loving parents could unearth such weird first names.

COMING over on the Mayflower, Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins added to the passenger list a child born halfway over to Plymouth. Appropriately enough, the Hopkins boy, arriving in the midst of a roaring oceanic squall, was named "Oceanus."

One month after arriving at Cape Cod, Mr. and Mrs. White announced the birth of Peregrine White, a bouncing, bawling boy. Evidently someone on board must have had a dictionary and pointed out to Mr. White that "peregrine" meant "coming from foreign shores." Peregrine White did not live up to his peripatetic handle as he settled down, married Sarah Bassett, and left any prodigious peregrinating up to his six children.

GLANCING quickly at an old register in the town hall, you'll find the following startling names: Fear Brewster, Love Brewster, Patience Brewster, Wrestling Brewster, Constant Southworth, Humility Cooper, Experience Mitchell and Desire Brewster. As you can readily see, the Brewster family back in those early times carried away top honors for strange nom de plumes.

Agree on Problems, Not Solutions

By Elmer E. White
Michigan Press Association
Economic development, mental health, education, and revenues line up as the spotlight-holding issues in both the 1962 political football game and the action agenda for the current legislative session.

Each was the subject of a major message to the Legislature by Gov. John B. Swainson and each was emphasized in programs he sponsored since the 1961 session.

The answers to problems in the first three areas are, of course, heavily dependent on the fourth.

MEMBERS of both parties agree on the problems in each area, but their solutions are far apart.

Improvement of the business climate through revision of statutes for economic development is a problem which separates the parties at a level considered the basis of their respective principles.

Republicans are convinced that workmen's compensation laws and court decisions on this subject as well as the tax structure are the foundation of problems in Michigan's business climate. Democrats contend out-of-state businessmen have not been told enough about the opportunities here and are therefore wary of certain tax laws.

SWAINSON HAS recommended expansion of the budget for promotion by the economic development department, a state magazine similar to "Arizona Highways," a council of economic advisers and a Washington office for the department.

Republicans say he missed the point. He should approve their recommendations for changes in the unemployment compensation law, which he vetoed last year. They also would like him to okay extensive revisions in the workmen's compensation law.

There is little likelihood either side will veer from its strongly established position on economic development.

government so they were ready for a substantially increased budget request. Before Swainson had a chance to recommend his multi-million dollar capital outlay program for mental health, and a $601,000 deficit appropriation for the current fiscal year, GOP leaders blasted the department for not spending money they were given previously.

Charles Wagg, mental health director, said much of the $1.4 million in mental health facilities "up to the 20th Century" brought new reports.

"What the Legislature needs is not criticism by the executive office in its attempt to improve the situation, but sympathetic and cooperative support for the programs which will strengthen our mental health program and better the administration thereof," said Rep. Arnell Engstrom, Traverse City Republican who heads the House Ways and Means Committee.

ON EDUCATION, the sides appear close toward agreement that additional funds may be necessary to do the job that needs to be done.

A bi-partisan committee of the Senate, headed by Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, has recommended a $150 million (m) capital outlay program during the next six years for higher education construction.

Members of both parties also basically support the need for expansion of the community college system and an increase in the state aid formula.

AGREEMENT ON this area of concern was gleaned from numerous studies which indicated the enormous need for new educational facilities.

REVENUES AND the budgeting hold the key to what can or will be done in nearly every area of government.

Swainson's messages to the Legislature called for a record budget.

willing to add revenue sources this year than in the several preceding years, but they will still justifiably demand new economies and tight control over expenditures.
