Easter Seals Coming Our Way

FINISHED AT LAST! Five thousand letters with Easter Seals are going out to Plymouth mailing addresses this week and having the task of typing all 5,000 addresses were 60 advanced typing students at Plymouth High School. From left are Lois Stavely, Barbara Troyer and Gay Kalmbach, who is handing over the last envelope. Teacher Edgar Brown reports that it took but four hours for the job and he wishes that his students could gain more of this experience. But the real benefit from the project will be for the hundreds of crippled children and adults in Western Wayne County. Money is used to operate the Western Wayne County Easter Seal Center in Inkster which serves Plymouth area physically disabled. The Plymouth Rotary Club's Crippled Children's Committee headed by Sidney Strong is sponsoring the local campaign.

1,304 In Four Days

Mobile Health Unit Does Record-Breaking Business

A new one-day record in Wayne County for persons going through the TB & Health Society's health screening program was set in Plymouth last Thursday when 437 people turned out.

A total of 1,304 persons were screened during the four-day program. And the figure would have been higher yet if the tired X-ray machine hadn't broken down near the end of Monday's visit here.

Richard L. Lea, a Plymouth resident who is also executive director of the TB and Health Society, said that the new Wayne County record was set Thursday, March 8 when 437 people were given the free chest X-rays at the unit stationed at the A & P supermarket. Of this record number, 372 also had their blood tested.

Of the 1,304 X-rayed during the four days, 1,069 also received blood tests to make certain they were free of diabetes. Several hundred more were screened at two industrial plants in the community Monday and Tuesday, March 5 and 6, but these totals were not included.

A long line of people stood at Beyer's Rexall Store on Main and Mill Streets Monday during the four-hour visit. The parking lot and nearby streets were packed full and there were 32 people already registered at 5:45 p.m. (15 minutes before closing time) when the X-ray machine broke down.

Douglas Blunk, coordinator of the health screening visit here, said that he has received an indication from health officials that they may be able to bring the mobile unit back another day or two at a later date because of the response here. It is presumed that many people did not bother to get the X-ray because of the lengthy wait.

TB & Health Society Director Richard Lea praised the efforts of Douglas Blunk of the Jaycees, the coordinator, and Mrs. Douglas Vincent, of the Professional Nurses Assn., who took charge of registration.

"Blunk and his crew did a (Continued on Page 8)

Voters to Decide 7.5 Mill School Package April 16

3.5 Mills Would Be Renewal, 4 Mills New

Board of education members, administrators, teachers and interested citizens will be faced during the next 34 days with the monumental task of informing electors why they should vote for a five year, 7.5 mill tax levy on the Monday, April 16 ballot — which represents a tax increase of 4 mills over the present rate.

A four-hour meeting Monday night between the Board of some 130 faculty members resulted in a brand new package which calls for levying 7 mills during the first year and 7.5 mills during the following four years. The millage would be in one ballot proposal — not two or three as once discussed.

The 11th-hour agreement — which actually came at 11:40 p.m. Monday — has the support of both the Board of Education and the Plymouth Education Association (PEA) and both have expressed their willingness to explain the need to all citizens willing to listen. Several Parent-Teacher Associations meetings this week have already booked Board members.

At a time when tax increases are not too popular, the Board of Education admittedly has a rough time ahead trying to sell the need for more revenue — $378,000 a year more, to be exact. Of this amount, $174,000 would go during the first year toward professional salary improvements. This would increase about another $50,000 after the first year.

The ballot proposal on April 16 will specifically ask if the school tax rate should be increased by 7.5 mills ($7.50 per $1,000 of valuation). Of this amount, 3.5 mills is millage that is expiring this year, leaving a net increase of 4 mills. But the Board of Education has pledged that it would levy only 7 of the 7.5 mills during the first year.

AN EDITORIAL

By Sterling Eaton

We can't take the stand that we are pleased to see school officials call for a proposal to be submitted to local voters in April that will mean a levy of seven mills the first year. And, we are probably more displeased at the seven and a half mills which will follow during the ensuing four years.

However, we are inclined to compliment both our school board, administrators, and particularly our teachers for their final show of "togetherness" in all agreeing to a complete package which seemingly embodies the necessary amount of money needed to provide good school function and ample growth responsibility for our instructors.

If seven mills is a necessity, and they say it is, then we shall be the first to call for a YES VOTE when we go to the polls in April. We will add, however, that school officials must start giving more serious consideration to costs, because if some savings aren't provided somewhere along the route, local residents and businesses will be working to support the schools, much less supporting their homes and their employees.

The culmination of ideas advanced by study committees, the board, the teachers and other interested parties almost ended in a complete stalemate and the final decision went down to the wire before unanimity was reached. This final show of cooperation between all interested parties was an achievement of benefit to the entire community and we applaud such action. Personal sacrifice of time to make the various studies has been great and people who are willing to make such sacrifices are a distinct asset to the community in which they live.

If all are happy with the end result and if better teachers and better schools will be the final achievement for our children, then we're ready to dig deeper in our pockets and pay our share of the taxes.

USING A WRECKING bar, Mayor Robert Sincock, right, managed to pry loose a step from the corner building at Main and Penniman, one of several buildings to be leveled during the next month. With him are Mr. and Mrs. Perry Richwine. Mr. Richwine, who is vice-president of First Federal Savings & Loan, was born in the building. First Federal plans to erect a new branch office building that will also contain enough space for four other stores.

First Federal Tells Plans

Colonial Building To Go Up Where 7 Fall

A wrecking crew moved into Plymouth Tuesday morning to level seven buildings to provide a site for a major building program which will give Plymouth a new Colonial office building plus space for four stores.

The program is being undertaken by First Federal Savings & Loan Co. of Detroit. Being razed are the buildings located from The Plymouth Mail office on Main St. to The Penn Theatre Building on Penniman.

A brief ceremony was held Monday morning during which the first chunk was removed by Mayor Robert Sincock and Perry Richwine, a First Federal vice-president and head of the local branch in Penniman Ave. They removed the top step from the corner building that was formerly Red's Barber Shop. The demolition job will go to Zebrowski & Associates, Inc., Richard W. Zebrowski said Monday as he watched the "wrecking ceremony" that will take about 30 days to complete the job. His firm will attempt to save much of the brick for use in the new colonial structure.

Hans Gehrke, Jr., president of First Federal in a statement coinciding with start of the demolition work, said the site would be cleared within a month, after which construction of the new building to house the association's Plymouth branch office and the store construction project would be started.

"We expect building plans to be completed within a few weeks," Gehrke said. There will be an unveiling as soon as the plans are finished by architects.

"We realize that the residents of Plymouth and officials of the City have hoped that a new development, in keeping with the New England atmosphere suggested by such names as Plymouth and the Mayflower Hotel, would be started on this site in the heart of the City.

"First Federal promises the City of Plymouth and its citizens that this will be a structure wholly in keeping with the traditions of the community which are in the spirit of all that was architecturally beautiful and sturdy in early America. "We are hopeful," Gehrke added, "that the job will be finished and our new branch occupied before the end of the year." Gehrke said that the staff of First Federal has been working for more than a year in the plans and that the best possible type of building for (Continued on Page 8)

Supervisors Vote No on County Tax

Holding true to his promise, the City's representative to the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, A. E. Vallier, voted no last Friday on Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's plan for a County-wide income tax — but the proposal passed by a narrow margin anyhow.

Plymouth Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay was ill and could not attend the meeting, but he voted a "no" the previous day. When the Supervisors met last Friday, the Committee approved it for presentation to the full board. Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein cast a yes vote.

Supervisor Vallier spoke out against the County-wide income tax before the full Board of Supervisors preceding Friday's vote. He restated the stand he took on Monday of last week when he told the Plymouth City Commission he was going to vote against it because he feels that Plymouth is already paying more to the County than it is receiving and that the County has made no attempt to save money by streamlining its operations. Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard followed Vallier and agreed. The vote on the motion was 43 to 33, enough to send Cavanagh's plan to the State Legislature.

The Supervisors' resolution asks the Legislature to pass legislation enabling Detroit to (Continued on Page 8)

LINES OF PEOPLE formed outside the mobile health unit that spent last Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Monday in Plymouth with a total of 1,304 people taking advantage of the free screening. This was the scene Friday afternoon when light rain failed to slow down the crowd in front of Kresge's. Health officials highly praised Plymouth for its participation.

(Because the final package was not approved until late Monday, the exact increases were not available to The Mail at deadline time Tuesday noon. The proposed schedule will be published as soon as it is available.)

The Board of Education had gathered in its usual meeting place in the Administration Building Monday at 8 o'clock but there is space for only a dozen guests there. As the building became jammed with teachers and other interested persons, the Board decided to move its meeting to the nearby Junior High library. It is estimated that there were around 130 of the 206 teachers present.

During the past week, at least six of the seven-member Board had decided upon a 7 mill levy. Board Trustee Peter Zylstra, who calls himself the "minority" side of the Board, had sided with the PEA for higher salary adjustments, which would mean pushing the millage proposal up to 7.5 mills.

In a prepared statement, Zylstra questioned the sincerity of the Board, charged them with lowering employee morale and bringing about abuse of the Citizens Committee when the committee delivered its report before teachers and others. He also questioned the need and cost of a curriculum director (which has now been postponed at least a year) and a "super principal" for the two junior highs, aided by two assistant principals.

Zylstra asked that his report be entered into the minutes, but at the conclusion of the meeting asked that it be withdrawn after he seemed satisfied that there was harmony between the Board and PEA with the new proposal.

Most of the Board members took turns stating their views and many of the teachers, plus a few interested citizens, spoke openly on the salary scale and related subjects. Chief spokesman for the PEA was its president, John Donegan. By 11 p.m., it appeared that the PEA would not support a 7 mill levy, which would have given most teachers a $200 to $300 a year increase.

The Board then asked to be excused for a caucus and 10 minutes later returned with the proposal for 7 mills during the first year and 7.5 mills for the next four years.

Also included in the staff proposals are these:

1. The school district would pay one-half the cost of hospital-surgical insurance.
2. Starting Sept. 1, teachers would be paid on an "earned increment" basis, under which advancement in salary would come after teachers (Continued on Page 8)

Jean's Jottings

BY JEAN CAMPAU
Woman's Editor

Leafing through antiquated and out-dated cook-books offers a bewildering glimpse into the culinary cultures of the past. For not only are the "receipts" stated in a stilted rhetoric but the very terms employed leave the 20th century homemaker in a cloud of confusion. One wonders, in the light of modern do-it-yourself cook-book directions, how the generations of yesteryear managed to elude starvation.

Take for instance, these instructions for Diet-Bread Cake. "Three quarters of a pound of sugar, three-quarters of a pound of flour, and eight eggs; put your sugar and eggs together into a basin or pan, with half a pint of luke-warm water; beat them all well up with a whisk the same as for sponge cakes, over a slow fire until quite warm. Take them from the fire and whip them until cold, add the grating of one lemon, then mix in the flour lightly, adding some carraway seeds if they are liked; do not fill your moulds; they should be square paper cases buttered."

Still, according to legend, grandma was a right smart cook. Certainly she was canny in deciphering the dietary dictums of her day.

Using cook-books 111 years old may not be just what the ladies of the Plymouth Historical Society have in mind for their up-coming Old-Fashioned Bake Sale, but we do know the receipts they use will be old with an aromatic aura of times gone by surrounding them.

This industrious group, dedicated to the preservation of Plymouth's illustrious and interesting past, hopes to raise enough money from their March 23rd Bake Sale at Kroger's to pay off current utility bills incurred at the Historical Museum on Main St.

According to present plans, the Society anticipates opening the Museum doors to the public around the 20th of May, thus bringing to fruition the dream of 13 years standing of a Historical Museum for Plymouth.

While perhaps not all of the officers, who are Frank Henderson, president; Mrs. Romeo Wood, secretary; Fred Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Effie McDougall, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Roderick Cassidy, curator, will be present, the Bake Sale Booth will be well staffed by some of the nice people who make up the membership of the Plymouth Historical Society.

Do plan to support the March 23rd morning Old-Fashioned Bake Sale at Kroger's and help them over the top.

The curtain has descended for the last time on the Vanguard's excellent, exciting version of Budd Schulberg's drama "The Disenchanted" and Old George remained enchanted throughout the entire performance. Leon Shaw, a New York import, lined the F. Scott Fitzgerald character with professional precision that weaved a spell.

From the opening scene when Mr. Shaw takes an insulin shot to his closing scene in which he suffers a fatal heart attack Leon Shaw provides the audience with drama that crackles. John Gregory, Linn Mason and Paul Caplan assist Mr. Shaw to make this Vanguard production "top drawer" material.

Our Boy Scout Troop had a packed house at their Pancake Supper. All seemed satisfied and the realization of the Scout's camping trailer and equipment should be much nearer.

Don't forget the Blood Bank. Fill out your card and mail it in so that we can get together for a trip to the hospital to build the bank up. It is hard to tell who may need help from this fund.

New Home For Police Youth Opens

A new home for the Plymouth Police Youth Club received its baptism of fire last Saturday night as rifle shooters of the club played host to the Southeastern Michigan Junior Rifle League.

In a city since last fall when their former home, the Bronson Building, was demolished for parking lot expansion, the Youth Club is being reborn in its new location at Dodge and Union Streets. The former Knights of Columbus Hall was purchased by the City for a Community Building.

The new rifle range is now open to members of the Police Youth Club who have completed their basic training course. Schedules are the same as formerly kept at the Bronson Building - Monday and Tuesday evenings and Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. until noon, except on Saturdays when competition events are scheduled.

A new basic rifle marksmanship course will start on Monday, April 2. Boys and girls wanting to take this instruction should get their applications filed with one of the rifle club instructors soon. The charge for the course is $1.75 to cover all course material and ammunition.

How I Earned My First Dollar

Dean Saxton

Dean Saxton was 13 years old when he went to work for a basket-making factory in Traverse City. The year was 1911.

"I told them I was 14 so that I could get the job but was only 13. We made the baskets of strawberries. I worked all summer at $1 a day and I thought it was a splendid price," he recalled.

Today, Dean Saxton is co-owner of Saxtons Farm and Garden Supply along with his son, Bill. The business is on Ann Arbor Trail, facing the eastern edge of Kellogg Park.

Lary Smith On Six-State Tour With Choir

Lary Smith

Coming here from Northville in 1934 where he owned a feed store since 1928, Mr. Saxton called his business at that time the Plymouth Feed Store. He moved into the present building in 1937. While the store still sells a considerable amount of feed, the lawn and garden business, along with the power tools that it takes to keep up a lawn and garden nowadays, is a major share of the business.

While snow flurries are still in the air, the Saxtons can sense that spring is not far away. "A man came in today and bought a bag of crabgrass killer," Mr. Saxton said, still somewhat astonished himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Saxton have four children. Besides Bill, there is Dean, who is with the Indians of Arizona as a Wycliffe Bible translator (the Saxtons just returned from a visit there), and two daughters, Mrs. Millie Carrie of Nankin Township and Mrs. Margaret Wick of Royal Oak.

Concert pianist Artur Rubinstein made his debut at age 12.

BOLENS HUSKY 600 THE TRACTOR WITH THE HALF-MINUTE HITCH...

and a lot more!

Never before has so much engineering know-how been poured into a 6-hp tractor. Speed of attachment-change alone puts the HUSKY way out in front of its competition. BOLENS engineers call the HUSKY's 3-point hitch (with splined power take-off) "the half-minute hitch"... and they're being conservative. Eleven Fast-Switch attachments mean year-round usefulness. Mow with the 32-inch rotary mower shown above. A 22-inch tiller attachment gives you easy, convenient tilling. The 32-inch Sno-Caster makes snow removal a pleasure... for light snow use the 42-inch grader blade. These and seven other attachments make the HUSKY 600 an all-season worker.

PLUS:

- All gear transmission with 6 speeds forward and 2 reverse
- One-pedal clutch-and-brake action
- 6-position attachment lift
- 6-hp Briggs & Stratton engine

Plymouth High School

By Janet Graham

This is it! The weekend when high school students from all over lower Michigan convene in Hillsdale for the 13th annual session of the Model United Nations Assembly.

On Friday, Plymouth's caravan of the Indian and Colombian delegations will head out, armed with file boxes stuffed with information to be used in general debate and committee meetings, and campaign material for committee chairman nominee Doug Eder.

After elections of Assembly President, Secretary General, committee chairmen and rapporteurs, delegates will begin general debate. As in the actual United Nations, representatives will voice their countries' views on any aspect of any subject on the agenda.

This year's agenda includes: in the Political and Security Committee 1) Nuclear Test Bans and Disarmament and 2) Independence to Colonial Peoples; in the Special Political Committee, 1) Question of the Congo and 2) Question of Race Conflict in South Africa; in the Trusteeship Committee, 1) Censure of Portugal and 2) Question of South West Africa; for the Special Conference on Human Rights, some of the Articles for the Covenant on Civil and Political Rights.

Housing for Friday night has been arranged through Hillsdale College's international relations class.

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, is the deadline for all entries in the Advertising Federation of America's sixteenth annual editorial contest. This year's subject for the 1,000 word editorials is "Advertising and the Free World." The grand national prize is $500 plus an all-expense paid trip to the 58th annual international advertising convention in Denver, Colorado.

Advises Against Phone Solicitation Appeals

Anyone receiving phone calls asking for money to help the "Plymouth Fire Department" is being urged to ignore the call, Safety Director Kenneth Fisher said this week.

Chief Fisher said that the Wayne-Nankin Fire Fighters Assn. had hired professional solicitors and that calls had been made to some Plymouth numbers with the callers saying that they were seeking money for the local department. Appointments have been set up for collection.

Chief Fisher said that the association has nothing to do with the local fire department and that the request should be ignored. The Chamber of Commerce immediately sent a bulletin out to its members to warn them of the unapproved solicitation.

The Chamber has also advised its members against advertising in an "out area" service club booklet for an activity to be held at Bentley High School. Local merchants are being advised that they are under no obligation to "out area" clubs for advertising.

First Federal Building

one of Plymouth's outstanding business sites would be developed.

A number of prospective tenants for the stores have been interviewed, Gehrke said.

The buildings to be razed were last occupied by the Ashland Main Street Service, the Marine Corps Recruiting Service, Stark Realty, Charles McConnell Barber Shop, Red's Barber Shop, Penn Restaurant, Plymouth Cab Co., Louis Shoe Repair and Price Cleaners.

The Pride Cleaners building will be torn down as soon as the other structures are leveled. Pride is going into a store room beside the Chamber of Commerce, formerly occupied by part of the Consumers Power Co.

"We are pleased to have been able to work with City officials in planning this redevelopment program," Gehrke continued. "They have been most cooperative and helpful. Out of these efforts will come something in which every citizen of Plymouth can well take pride."

Bad Checks Take Three To Court

Three persons charged with writing bad checks have gone to court this week in two separate cases.

Jerry Newsom, 645 Forest Ave., and Jerry Campbell, 28, of 528 Kellogg, were arrested over the weekend and charged with "uttering and publishing." Newsom is being held by Livonia police for allegedly passing bad checks here while Campbell was held here.

In arraignment before Judge Harry Deyo Monday, Campbell pleaded guilty, was bound over to Circuit Court and held on $300 bond.

Police said that the two used blank checks stolen from Max's Ashland Service, 903 W. Ann Arbor Rd. Around $600 worth of checks were issued by the pair. Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher said. Two of the local recipients were Stop & Shop and Food Fair supermarkets.

In another case, Elizabeth Hodges of 345 Cady, Northville, was arrested Monday afternoon on a charge of cashing a check with insufficient funds. The check for $65 was written to pay for a $35 w.a.t.c.h. Pleading not guilty, her trial has been set for Monday. She was released under $50 bond.

Three Nabbed In Car Stolen From Woman

A young Northville Rd. resident was sentenced by Municipal Judge Harry Deyo Monday for using an automobile without the owner's consent.

He was Donald Paulger, 21, of 15119 Northville Rd. Plymouth police said that a juvenile stole the car last Friday night. Mrs. Alice Rathburn, 682 Kellogg, said that she had parked the car in front of her home at 8 p.m. and was carrying groceries inside. She had left the keys in the car. As she came out, the car was being driven down the street.

Police said that the juvenile parked the car near his home and later met Paulger and another juvenile. The three went to the stolen car and at 3:55 a.m. Saturday were arrested near Flat Rock by Michigan State Police. Paulger was driving, police said.

The juveniles were turned over to juvenile authorities but Paulger, an adult, was charged here. Judge Harry Keyo placed Paulger on one year's probation, fined him $100 and suspended a 30-day jail sentence on terms that he avoid all trouble during that time.

In another court case Monday, Carl Melow, 19, Northern St., pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent exposure. He was bound over to Circuit Court.

Four Musical Groups Parade Saturday Night

Music from all ages will be heard in the Plymouth High School gym this Friday evening starting at 7:30 p.m. when the annual "Parade of Bands" will feature the all-city Sixth Grade Band, the Junior Symphony, the Junior High Band and the Senior High Band.

The Sixth Grade Band, conducted by Wayne Dunlap, music director of the Plymouth Community School System, will perform "Fame and Fortune Overture," "Under Western Skies" and "American Glory March."

Miss Bettie Norman will then direct the Junior Symphony in "Chorale" by Glick, finale from the opera "Julius Caesar" by Handel; and "Songs for Children" by Bartok.

The 100-piece Junior High Band directed by Laurence Livingston will perform "Men of Wisconsin," "Fantasy for Band" and "Bintagel Overture."

Completing the program will be the Senior High Band under the baton of James Griffith. They will play "The Bandwagon March," "Nabucco," and "Pageant" by Vincent Persichetti.

There is no admission charge for this combined program. All parents, friends and residents who are interested in instrumental music are being invited to attend.

Signs of Spring

Despite the inclement weather, surely Spring cannot be far away. Signs of the new season are apparent according to Mrs. Rose Haver-shaw, 204 N. Harvey, who, on March 9, had for three days running, seen a fat, saucy robin snug in a large evergreen tree, happily singing his robin song.

And a call to The Mail office Monday, from Mrs. Grant Ridley of 1105 Carol St., told us some courageous crocuses were blooming in her yard.

pass an income tax of up to 1 per cent and the County 1 per cent.

Vallier said that because of "pressure from Detroit," he expects the legislature to approve the enabling legislation. But it will take a two-thirds majority of the Board of Supervisors to approve such a tax—a majority that was not achieved during last Friday's vote.

request from teachers, the Board has also been faced with requests from maintenance workers and principals. The system employs around 330 full and part-time people, met certain criteria, rather than an automatic yearly increase. This criteria includes such things as earning at least two college credit hours a week, preparing instructional guides, research studies, attending in-service courses or gaining related experience in business, industry, government or travel.

4. Adjust upward salaries for bachelor degree teachers at $10 a credit hour they have earned beyond 10 hours and up to 20 hours. Master degree teachers would be paid $10 extra per semester hour up to a maximum of 30 hours for courses completed.

5. Require 194 days of service by teachers, including the pre-school workshop. It was 189 days.

With 1 mill of school tax yielding around $100,000, this is how the additional 3.5 mills would be divided during the first year (figured at an average of over two years):

1. Teacher salary improvements — $174,000.
 2. Other salaries and increments — $36,000.
 3. Open Junior High West — $52,000.
 4. Increased enrollment — $66,000.
 5. Improved maintenance — $12,000.
 6. Replace buses and driver education cars and improved capital outlay — $31,000.
 7. Curriculum administrator (not to be hired first year) — $6,000.
 8. Other — $1,000.

Prof. Leonard Falcone, director of bands at Michigan State University; Prof. Norman Dietz, director of bands at Central Michigan University; Prof. Leonard Meretta, director of bands, Western Michigan University; and Associate Prof. Nelson Hauenstein, flute instructor, University of Michigan.

The musical event will be open to the public at no charge. It will offer an opportunity for local residents to see, hear and compare other high school bands in the area with Plymouth's own 83-member organization.

Junior High's Rocket Band Rates 'Superior'

The 100-piece red and white Rocket Band from the Plymouth Junior High School received a "First Division Superior" rating last Saturday when it competed at the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival, District 12, held in Belleville. This was the 11th such straight honor for the band.

There were 15 Class A junior high bands performing. Winning "First Division Superior" rating with Plymouth were Ann Arbor Tappan, Ann Arbor Slausen and Dearborn Bryant Junior High Schools.

The Rocket band, directed by Laurence Livingston, played "Fantasy for Band," "Men of Wisconsin" and "Tintagel."

The Junior High School Bands from Belleville; Allen Park South; Wayne Franklin; Livonia Emerson; South Redford Pierce; South Redford Marshall; Ann Arbor Marshall; Highland Park Ford and Highland Park Ferris were rated a division two, excellent, by the judges. Trenton Truax received a third division, good, and Southgate Schaeffer, a fourth division, fair.

The concert judges were: Harry Begian, Cass Technical High School, Detroit; George Wain, instructor at Oberlin College; and Jack Lint, Hillsdale College. The sight reading judge was Clifford Lillya from the University of Michigan.

The first division bands will compete in Chelsea on April 14 in a State Regional Festival.

Naturalist Speaks

Charles Damm, naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, will be the guest speaker at Farrand Elementary School in Plymouth on Tuesday, March 20. Students will hear lectures entitled "Coming of Spring" and "Plant and Animal Faces". The appointment was requested by Gerald Elston, principal at the school.

In the mail a few days ago came the request from Mrs. Fred Korte, now sojourning in Florida, asking for a re-print of the recipe for Dutch Chocolate Cake that ran some time ago. Having scoured back issues of The Mail with no success we can only conclude, with regret, that Mrs. Korte may have confused with Gourmet Magazine. If so, we thank her for the compliment.

Who's Who in the Plymouth Community Schools

The newest husband and wife teaching team in our system is Mr. and Mrs. Elden Zang. New as Mr. and Mrs. but not in the Plymouth schools for Mr. Zang has been an art teacher here for the past two years and Mrs. Zang has been at Bird School for four and a half years as Carole Wittkop.

After Mr. Zang received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Wayne State University, he substituted for one-half year in Detroit and for another one-half year in Livonia not committing himself by contract as he had military service to consider. This he rendered in the National Guard as an artillery computer for fire direction control of the 182 Artillery Rkt. How. Bn. in camps in Missouri and Oklahoma.

With this intrusion out of his way he has been able to complete 20 graduate hours of study at WSU, to be chairman of the Fine Arts Curriculum Development Council for 1960-61, and to indulge in his hobbies of graphic arts, jewelry making, and water color painting.

He was a member of the WSU Junior Varsity basketball team and is now a boisterous fan of all sports and a participant in bowling and golf.

He is also a supporting member of the PEA, MEA, and the American Craftsman's Council.

During summer vacations he has traveled to Quebec, the Smoky Mountains, and the Eastern States. For one year he was employed as a cartographer for the United States Survey Department.

Carole, the new member of the Zang teachers which include a Physical Education teacher at McKinley in Detroit, and an industrial arts teacher at Bentley in Livonia, earned her Bachelor of Arts degree at Western Michigan University where she had a Michigan State Board Scholarship for three years.

Here she has also continued her studies in the graduate school and she has also been active in professional activities having served on the Legislative Committee and the Professional Committee of the PEA.

In the past Mrs. Zang has spent four summer vacations during her college years supervising summer playgrounds in Monroe, Mich. and, since she began teaching, traveling in the United States and Canada.

She even tried camping in the west but could not sleep for fear of bears which she did find early in the morning outside the tent. Carole had inadvertently invited them by pitching her tent next to a food disposal unit.

Along with Elden she likes to bowl, to watch his game of golf and is active in the All Saints Lutheran Church on Newburg Road at Joy.

Her other hobbies are reading, knitting, housekeeping and cooking. At this Elden thinks she is tops.

ALL CABS ARE NEW CARS

The Professor Sez . . . by Ed Brown

In this second of a series of articles on education I would like to inform the public about the number of hours a teacher works each day.

During the recent salary negotiations I heard some rather irrational and erroneous statements about those same hours. One was that teachers work a five-hour day, therefore they can well afford to spend two or three hours each day on work out of school to make it equal to an eight-hour day. Such inferences that do not present the entire facts are most unfair and tend to create an injustice to everyone concerned — even though the electricians in New York are talking about a five-hour day and a $200 week.

For the above reason I would like to begin with a day in the classroom, and the outside activities connected with the work, for I know that few citizens have a real knowledge of what constitutes a teacher's day.

Most people think that teachers work few hours a week because they know that their children start school at 8 a.m. and get out at approximately 2:45 p.m. at the high school — other schools have different hours, but are about the same amount of time.

High school teachers are supposed to be in the building at 7:45 a.m. and stay until 3:15 p.m. During that time they have hall duty in the morning, teach five one-hour classes, and have an hour for conferences with parents and students. This hour can also be used for students to make up tests missed through absence or by teachers who want to just relax for a few minutes — the majority of teachers use this conference hour in a most productive way. Grade school teachers are in the classroom most all day from the time they arrive in the morning until they leave after school for they have the same group all the time.

Now I know that most of you can figure this out to be a total of 7 1/2 hours for high school teachers, and this includes the half-hour "gulping period" at noon.

Students and teachers cannot call this a lunch hour any more for they have only 30 minutes to get to the lunchroom, stand in line, eat, go to the washroom, their locker and back to class — with no time for visitation with friends at all. (Even doctors say that everyone should have one hour for lunch digestion and relaxation before returning to work.)

So far I have told you of the actual hours taught during the day. Do most of you realize that the average teacher spends around 15 hours outside of the classroom in preparing lesson plans, checking papers, chaperoning dances, working with student committees, on athletic concessions from decorations, clubs and a dozen and one other things that come up during the year — plus numerous faculty and committee work, and a number of departmental meetings throughout the year?

None of the above is for extra pay, and in most schools these things are expected of the teachers and many are assigned either by the principal or a class advisor.

Teachers also must study for college classes they must take for credit in order to gain their permanent certificate. The state requires all teachers to take 10 hours of credit courses within a five-year period after graduation from college. So, many of our younger teachers are busy fulfilling this requirement; also our local Board of Education expects professional growth in teachers by additional work, either at college or in some other form.

So, in addition to teaching a full load during the day, many of our teachers are taking night classes at nearby colleges which require much preparation and work.

Many of them also attend summer sessions, which they pay for themselves since they are expected to keep up with the professional growth idea. However, after the 10-hour state requirement is met the teachers are paid ten dollars for each hour over the first ten — many schools pay for all the hours earned above an AB degree.

I think teachers experience a different kind of an exhaustion at the end of a day than in most other work — it is into minimum salaries, dedicated teachers — yesterday and today, the 10-month school year, men in teaching and so forth.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO . . . The big football full-back who was good for five yards, or more, each time his number was called to lug the pigskin for PHS in the early 1950's?

This likable chap graduated in 1952 after compiling a phenomenal record on the gridiron. He ended his career with his best game — his finale saw him "bulling" his way over the Wayne goal line to defeat a very good Zebra eleven by one touchdown.

He was voted the most valuable football player in 1952.

Our mystery guest still keeps in shape by playing softball and recreation basketball.

He is now employed by the Hillcrest Auto Sales lives with his lovely wife, the former Janet Schneider, at 1052 Ross St. They also have been blessed with two charming daughters: Carol Ann, who is three years old, and Leanne, almost one.

Mr. X spent two years in the service and had a severe bout with rheumatic fever while in Colorado.

Who is this former star — Lawrence "Bud" Lanphear.

Favorite Recipes from Plymouth Kitchens

Mrs. Marshall North

Because this is the Lenten season, Mrs. Marshall North, of 444 Jener Pl., came up with a recipe for a meatless casserole ideal for this time of year. Her directions for Corn Spoon follow.

Corn Spoon
 3 egg whites
 3 egg yolks
 1/4 cup milk
 1/4 cup corn meal
 1/4 tsp. salt
 2 T. butter or oleo
 1 can cream style corn
 1/4 tsp. baking powder
 Grease a two-quart baking dish. Beat eggs separately. Stir corn meal into scalded milk. Beat hard and cook a minute. Blend in butter, corn, egg yolks and baking powder.

Fold in beaten egg whites. Bake 35 minutes at 375 degrees. Serve immediately.

"This casserole, a favorite with my family, also makes a tasty addition to a buffet dinner," Mrs. North says.

Very active in community activities and church work, Mrs. North is a past president of W.S.C.S. of the First Methodist Church, vice president of the Woman's Club, serves on the Community Fund Board, is a member of the Visiting Nurses Association, and was active on the Fact and Finance Board of the School Planning Committee.

In her spare time she enjoys reading, sewing, playing bridge and flower gardening in the summer.

As a family, her husband, Marshall, and two daughters, Carole Anne, a junior at Albion majoring in language and Nancy, a junior at Plymouth High School, are enthusiastic campers.

Five Plymouth Teachers Attend Reading Confab

Five teachers from the Plymouth Schools, Miss Anne Welch, Mrs. Marjorie Mackie, Miss Kathryn Bock, Mrs. Sue Miller, and Mr. Raymond Borzi, attended the sixth Annual Michigan Reading Assn. Conference at Kellogg Center at East Lansing and reported that the program was stimulating and informative.

The purpose of the conference was to consider crucial issues in the teaching of reading and the implications for instructional programs. The main address was given by Dr. William D. Sheldon, president of the International Reading Assn., using the conference title "Crucial Issues in the Teaching of Reading." He pointed out that there is no one method that is right for every child, that there has been much research in what we can teach a five year old through his environment, through listening, and through kinesthetics, but there must be no pressure or frustration will be the result.

He stated that research articles are written for other members of the profession and that the average readers are misled through their misunderstanding. There have been over 5000 research studies made, but not more than 1000 are valid.

He stressed that when using new methods not to throw out the old ones but to use them together for to gain maximum benefits. And that the best procedure for reading is good instruction and instructors rather than the method.

The luncheon address, "A Linguistic Study of Children's Language and the Relation of Language to Reading" was given by Dr. Ruth G. Strickland, Professor of Education at Indiana University. She stated that no child writes better than he talks and we need to give more thought to oral speech.

The bulk of the conference time was devoted to demonstrations of many types of teaching procedures and to primary, the remedial program, clinics for many areas of interest. Some of these areas were for the gifted, the programmed learning, research, and many more.

'Goof' Means Extra Business

Carl Caplin, of Carl Caplin Clothes in the Mayflower Hotel, got a surprise the other day. During a rush period at his store, a customer ordered a suit, custom-made, but the man's name was misplaced and the order seemed doomed.

Caplin quickly sent out more than 800 "We Goofed" post cards, explaining the situation and asking that the customer call in his name so the suit order could be filled. Instead of one such call, Caplin received two requests. He still could recall only one original order, but didn't let that stand in the way of "plus" business. Many of his other regular customers also commented on the reminder card.

Prompt service at The Plymouth Mail helped Caplin, he said later. The job printing department turned out the 800 printed cards in less than half a day.

Introducing Mr. Hugh C. Jarvis

MR. HUGH JARVIS

THE NEW OWNER — OF — PAPES' House of Gifts

Papes' House of Gifts, a favorite gift-shopping center in Plymouth for several years, was recently purchased by Mr. Hugh C. Jarvis, of Ann Arbor. The new owner is a sales representative for The Allan Co., of Chicago, distributors of accessories and gifts.

Although the transfer of ownership will not create any immediate change in the nature of Plymouth's outstanding gift shop, Mr. Jarvis does intend to expand the merchandise line and is also making plans to enlarge upon the store's "gift" theme.

Of course, Mrs. Barbara Papes and Mr. James Dyer will still be on hand to assist you with your gift-shopping needs.

Editor's note: This column will be open each week for contributions from churches in this area. We welcome news of your coming events and congregational activities. All material must be in the hands of The Plymouth Mail by 10 a.m. on Monday preceding publication to insure its appearance.

St. Peter's Lutheran
On Thursday, March 15, St. Peter's Lutheran Church will begin a new series of "Information Classes" to acquaint all interested in the teachings of the Lutheran Church. Classes will be held on Thursdays at 10:15 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. for the convenience of all. No obligation is incurred by anyone attending. All are welcome.

"God Wants You Holy" will be the sermon theme at the Sunday service at 10 a.m. The Junior Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Norman Goebel, will sing, "O Holy Spirit, Hear Us."

Mid-week Lenten Vespers are held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. The theme "Call to Calvary" has been chosen for these services as an invitation to worship the Crucified Lord for the unchurched families of the community as well as members of the church. A Fellowship Coffee, served by the Lutheran Girl Pioneers, will follow the Mid-week services.

City Clerk Taking Part in Institute
Plymouth City Clerk Joseph F. Near, who also heads the City's accounting department, will take part in the 12th annual Municipal Finance Officers Training Institute held at the University of Michigan this Thursday and Friday.

Held in the Rackham Building, the institute will cover such matters as the municipal credit ratings, fringe benefits and a report on the Constitutional Convention.

Spring Arrives Here March 20 (It Says Here)

Spring will officially begin at 9:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 20, reminds Associate Prof. Hazel M. Losh of The University of Michigan Astronomy Department.

The sun will then reach the vernal equinox, or cross the equator on its way north, the U-M astronomer explains.

However, the official beginning of the season will be nearly six hours later than last year. This is so because "the year's length is an uneven number of days, 365.2422 to be exact," Professor Losh says.

Since Dec. 21, the sun has trekked northward at the rate of about a degree a day. It has risen and set south of the equator for the last six months, explains Professor Losh.

On the day of the equinox, however, the sun will shine vertically over the earth's equator, and both hemispheres of the earth will share the sunshine, about equally that day.

As the sun moves northward, it will not only lengthen the daylight hours, but also bring warmer weather.

Contrary to what many believe, the day and night will not be exactly equal on the day of the equinox. Says Professor Losh: "The length of time between sunrise and sunset will be a few minutes longer than from the sun's setting to its rising because of the refraction or bending of the sun's rays by the earth's atmosphere."

The day and night are more nearly equal on Saturday (March 17), three days before the equinox.

4-H Club Hears of Life in Scotland

The Plymouth 4-H Livestock Club held their monthly meeting on March 1 with 25 members and five guests present.

Dan Hauk, Junior Leader in the Beef Project, introduced Mr. McCoy from Grand Blanc. Mr. McCoy owns short-horn cattle and has just recently returned from a trip to Scotland where he attended one of their large sales.

Many questions were asked about the Scottish people; what type homes they lived in, how their living conditions compared with ours, their means of transportation and how their roads and highways were.

Registration sheets for the coming year were handed in at this meeting also.

Named to EMU Honors Society
Membership pins were awarded to three students from Plymouth who last Saturday became members of the Stoic Society, a student honors group on the Eastern Michigan University campus.

The three were Susan Horvath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Horvath, 42767 Phoenix Ct.; Ruth H. Manzi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Fueling, 254 Ann St.; and Jacquelyn J. Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Potter, 455 Arthur St.

There were 90 students awarded membership pins. A reception was held in the McKenny Hall ballroom followed by a banquet at 6:30 p.m. attended by alumni, faculty members, friends and parents of the new members.

WHEN YOU HEAT WITH NATURAL GAS IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE THAT January this year was the coldest in 14 years

Throughout most of the month gas appliances worked harder than usual. Your gas furnace worked overtime—maintaining the steady, even, comfortable temperatures that you and your family have come to demand and enjoy. The gas water heater was busier too, because the water coming into the home was colder than normal. More hot meals and beverages were prepared for cold weather menus.

This helps explain why your gas bill for January was higher than usual. And February has been on the cold side, too. It really is easy to forget how cold it has been when you let automatic gas heat take over your heating worries.

Resident Offers Free Bluebird Boxes To Help Save Species from Extinction

An appeal in a national magazine to help save the bluebird from extinction has prompted a Plymouth man to offer free birdhouses that are recommended for encouraging propagation of the useful and beautiful bird.

William E. Kelly, 11449 Eastside Drive, was reading the article about bluebirds in this issue of The Reader's Digest and became so interested that he went into his basement and made a half dozen of the bluebird boxes that were diagrammed in the story.

Now, Kelly has announced that he is willing to make the boxes free for anyone who is willing to put them up.

The Reader's Digest article points out that while the bluebird once labored from dawn to dusk to rid farm and garden of ants, weevils, spiders and mosquitoes, one can now hike through fields for weeks without seeing one. Ornithologists in many areas report seeing no bluebirds at all last year.

A bluebird box has now been designed by bird observers which seems to attract the bluebird, while keeping out other types of birds. This box is deeper than wide, has a 1 1/2 inch entrance and has a hinged top so that it can be cleaned out at the end of every season.

Kelly, who worked for Bathey Manufacturing for 13 years and was one of its original employees, retired Dec. 1. He is an electrician by trade.

For four years during World War II, he worked for a government ordinance depot on Warren Ave. in Detroit. A fire marshal one day ordered all wood shelving removed and replaced with metal, so employees were offered the shelving if they hauled it away. Only Kelly and two other workers took advantage of the offer and he still has a large supply.

Because he got the lumber free from the government in the first place, he is now ready to offer the bluebird boxes free.

"I've always been interested in birds," he admitted, "but I never before had time to join an Audubon society."

The Reader's Digest article recommends that the box be placed rather low, as on a fence post, in fairly open spaces, away from houses and barns and about a quarter mile apart.

Perches on the boxes are taboo because sparrows like them and bluebirds don't.

Mr. Kelly's home telephone is GL 3-4687.

SWEET CHARITY

I'm always amazed when they rent a great hall and gather in droves, for the Charity Ball. I'm sure, by the looks of the folks going in, the wealth of the poor is about to begin.

Their love for the poor, must really be great. When they snap up the tickets, at a hundred a plate. The papers acclaim it a Social success.

With proper attention to Diamonds and Dress. But there's bills to be paid for the evening of fun. And Charity waits, till the paying is done. When expenses are met, and they count what they made. There's just eighty cents left, for sweet Charity's aid.

Navy Accepting Short Enlistments

Chief Richard Tunison, the local Navy recruiter, announced this week that the Navy temporarily would accept volunteers for three years' duty, rather than the usual four-year hitch. The shorter enlistments will be allowed until June 30.

The Navy also said it would permit two and three-year enlistments for men who have been released from active duty for more than 90 days, instead of the regular four or six-year "broken service" enlistments.

For further information Plymouth young men can contact the Navy Recruiter located at the U.S. Navy Recruiting Branch Station, American Legion Hall, Northville, Mich.

DIFFERENT?

What's different about Rambler's rustproofing?

It goes all the way up to the roof. For the body alone, Rambler uses a 9-step process, including exclusive Deep-Dip—where the entire body is immersed right up to the roof in a 40-foot-long tank of rustproofing primer paint. Rambler actually spills more rustproofing than other cars use.

What's different about Rambler's brakes?

They stop when other brakes can't. Rambler's Double-Safety Brake System has tandem master cylinders with separate hydraulic systems for front and rear brakes. If one fails, other still works. Self-adjusting, too—and standard equipment, all models. (Cadillac is only other U.S. car with similar brakes.)

What's different about Rambler's headroom?

It's greater than any other American car's. All Ramblers are roomy, but Classic 6 and Ambassador V-8 beat all other makes in front-seat headroom (even Cadillac!)—can seat six 6-footers easily. Rambler is the only one with the best of both: big-car room, comfort and performance, with compact-car price, economy and handling ease.

What's different about Rambler's muffler and tailpipe?

They won't rust out—we'll pay the cost if they do. Exclusive Ceramic-Armored muffler and tailpipe are so resistant to rust-out and corrosion, they are guaranteed against defect for as many years as you own your new Rambler. If either rusts out, collision damage excepted, go to a Rambler dealer for free replacement.

What's different about Rambler's prices?

They're America's lowest. Only Rambler has America's lowest suggested retail prices for 2-door and 4-door sedans and wagons—and America's lowest-priced convertible (has power top, standard). Every Rambler is quality-built with traditional Rambler excellence—is more trouble-free—enjoys high resale value.

Angling Season Closes During Spawning Time

Northern pike, walleys and muskellunge will again be protected during their spring spawning period by a Mar. 15-Apr. 27 closed season covering virtually all of Michigan's inland waters, the Conservation Department announced.

Of the state's inland lakes and streams, only a section on the Muskegon River downstream from Rogers dam in Mecosta County will remain open to pike and muskie fishing during the period.

The closed season is tied in with the Department's management program to improve fishing in waters overrun by stunted panfish. It is designed to increase populations of these three predatory game fish to a point where they can control panfish numbers and bring about better catches of legal-size fish for anglers.

Working toward this same end is the year-round open season on bluegills, perch, sunfish, rock bass, and other panfish in all non-trout lakes and streams of the state.

The spring closing on pike and muskie fishing also runs through Apr. 10 in Saginaw Bay. It will extend from Mar. 31 through May 20 in Lake Superior, Michigan, and Huron.

Pike and muskellunge will remain as legal take throughout the year in lakes Erie and St. Clair, the St. Marys, St. Clair and Detroit rivers and a number of lakes connecting Lake Michigan.

Jim Stevens New Pro At Tennis Club

Jim Stevens, a 1951 graduate of Plymouth High and now a member of the junior high faculty here, has been named new manager and professional of the Ann Arbor Tennis Club.

Under the terms of his recently-signed contract, Stevens will serve as manager-pro of the club from May until September of this year. He will devote weekends to the assignment until school closes in June and will work full-time throughout the summer.

Stevens, who lives at 998 Church, has headed up the Plymouth recreation tennis program since 1958. In his new position with the Ann Arbor club, he will work closely with Bill Murphy, tennis coach at the University of Michigan.

Fish License Fee Boost In-The-Mill

A bill to increase fishing license fees has been introduced in the Michigan State Legislature.

The legislative proposal would produce an estimated $1,300,000 in added income annually to ease serious money troubles gripping the Conservation Department's Game and Fish Protection Fund.

As proposed in the bill, the male resident fishing license fee would be raised from $2 to $3.50 while the trout stamp would be increased from $2 to $3.

Another provision of the bill calls for a $1.50 resident license covering female anglers. Women who fish trout would also be required to have stamps. A special $1.50 license is proposed for residents to fish the Great Lakes and connecting waters. As now is the case, stamps would be needed for trout fishing in these Great Lakes waters.

Better Check—You May Be Eligible for Social Security

Are you age 62 or older and still working? Have you ever checked to see if you might be eligible to receive social security benefits? Have you ever applied for social security benefits and been turned down because you had not worked long enough under social security? If so, you may now be eligible for payments because of recent changes in the law.

Mr. Harry Balluck, Manager of the Detroit Northwest District Office, urges you to contact your local social security office regarding recent changes in the Social Security Act.

Men may now choose to have their benefits begin as soon as they reach 62. However, just as in the case of a woman worker, a man who decides to take his benefits between the ages of 62 and 65 will get less per month than he would have received at the age of 65. On the other hand, he will receive a greater number of checks.

This works out so that a man who takes his benefits as soon as he becomes 62 will receive 80% of the monthly benefit he would have received had he waited until he was 65.

In deciding whether he wants to apply for benefits before he becomes 65, a man should weigh several factors; for example, his health, family situation, and probable earning power in the immediate future.

As a result of another change in the law, less work is required to qualify for social security benefits. This means that those people who could not qualify previously, due to lack of sufficient work under social security, may now be eligible. A typical case was recently discovered.

Mrs. Smith, as we shall call her, had been a widow since 1956. Her husband had never worked in employment covered by social security, so there were no social security survivors benefits payable to her. Mrs. Smith worked in 1957 and 1958 as a domestic employee. When she reached 62 in 1959, she went to the social security district office to apply for old-age benefits on her own account.

When the social security district office received a record of her earnings as a domestic employee, it was found that she had just 8 quarters of coverage for the years 1957 and 1958, the only years she worked under social security. According to the law in effect at that time, she needed 16 quarters, to get benefits.

In August of 1961, however, the social security work requirements were changed by amendments to the Social Security Act. As a result of the change, Mrs. Smith now needed only 8 quarters to be insured. She read about the change in the law, and got in touch with her social security office again. She was awarded benefits beginning August 1961, the first month for which the change was effective.

If you believe that any of these changes in the Law may apply to you, please contact the social security district office located at 18500 Grand River Avenue, Detroit 23.

Cagers Bow In District Tourney

The curtain fell last week on Plymouth's 1961-62 basketball schedule as the Rocks were quickly ousted from Class A district tournament action Wednesday evening, March 7.

Ypsilanti Central led all the way in eliminating the Rocks, 68-57, from further district battling at the Bowen Field House on the Eastern Michigan campus in Ypsilanti.

Two nights later, Adrian High upended Ypsi to claim the district crown

Bentley, Allen Park Win District Laurels

While Plymouth bowed out early in district cage tournament play last week, a few familiar school names (to Plymouthites) stayed around long enough to capture district titles.

Neighboring Northville racked up its 17th straight win against no defeats Friday evening and, in the process, claimed a Class B district crown. Northville downed Brighton 68-57.

To the east, Livonia - Bentley, which finished in a tie for second place in the Suburban Six cage race, added another district championship to its lengthy list. The Bulldogs edged Redford Union, 37-36.

Allen Park, champion of the Suburban Six conference this winter, downed Taylor Center, 70-59, for a district crown, and elsewhere Wayne defeated Belleville, 54-40, for a district title.

Regional tournament playoffs are being staged this week.

Thursday Meeting to Wrap Up Little League Plans

Plans for the 1962 Little League baseball season will be finalized at a meeting to be held Thursday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Township Hall.

At this meeting dates for registration, try-outs, opening day, all-star game and complete schedules for the 1962 playing season will be decided. In order that the expanded program for 1962 be assured of the good start it deserves, it is most important that all managers, coaches, umpires and adults interested in the welfare of Little League attend.

This year a major emphasis is being placed upon the minor league program in Little League. With the ground-work well-laid for the major leagues in two years of operation, and realizing that the total program is highly dependent on a good minor league set-up, Little League officials are determined that the minor leagues will get that share of interest to which they are entitled.

A complete program, starting out with T-shirts and caps for the boys, through regularly scheduled games at the three-diamond Little League field with adequate coaching and supervision is this year's aim.

The minor league program will be run by the Recreation Department and Herb Wool-

Call Meeting For Plymouth Softball Men

The department announced that a meeting of Class A (fast-pitch) team representatives and individuals will be held March 28 at 8 p.m. at the recreation office at the high school.

A similar planning meeting for Class B (slow-pitch) team officers and individuals will be conducted at 7:30 p.m. that same evening, also at the recreation office.

The local recreation softball league will begin midway through the Spring.

Further information on the softball leagues may be obtained by calling the recreation office weekdays from 9 to 5.

To return to an earlier subject: Chances of resuming the Plymouth Golf Tournament this summer, while not yet overwhelmingly favorable, are nonetheless improving weekly.

And as Jim McAllister, a former tourney champion, pointed out last weekend, additional interest should arise once the weather reaches that "good-golfing" stage in a few more weeks.

In the meantime, a growing number of individuals have already indicated their interest as a result of a coupon questionnaire appearing weekly in these pages and also as a result of some "talking-it-up-around-town."

These are the cold results:

Nine men — and a woman — have shown evidence of their interest. First name into the hopper was that of Dick Gretzinger, former Plymouth swimming star and now a student at Michigan State.

Dick lives at 679 North Harvey. Fast on his heels came these names, all potential competitors should the tournament be resumed: C. W. Ahlstrom, 1368 Dewey; C. E. Childs, 42351 Hammill Lane; W. R. Phillips, 334 Irvin; John M. Quinn, 1411 West Ann Arbor Trail; Carl Hosier, a Plymouthite now living at 34138 Arrowhead, Wayne; Jim Dysinger, 276 North Harvey; and Jerry Pease, 1445 Penniman.

Bob Lidgard, of 670 Ross Street, also returned the coupon indicating his interest. It was Lidgard's wife, Lucille, who furnished us with a surprise. She offered to help in conducting the tournament.

In addition to that group of nine persons who might compete in the tourney, several others have verbally indicated a similar interest.

Among these: Hank Schultz, of Dodge Drug; Ralph Lorenz, of the Mayflower Hotel; Jerry Walsh, of the Woodmen A & L Company here; and Jim and Elton McAllister out on Northville Road. Both of the latter once wore tournament crowns.

There were a few names that seemed conspicuous by their absence. But Jim McAllister implied that these others, too, would quite likely be interested, if the tourney were placed back on its feet.

Harper Stevens, George Todd and Bob Johnston headed this latter group.

All told, it adds up to about 15 or 17 potential participants.

The total is far below a "break-even" level, according to Chris Burghardt, of Hilltop, who has been through these problems before.

He states that no less than 100 competitors would be required to make the tourney a success. There's another coupon questionnaire on these sports pages this week.

It would seem, out of a community the size of Plymouth city and township, that there would be 85 more amateur golfers, interested in competing in their own golf tournament.

While you're dusting off your sticks this weekend, dust off a pencil, too, and fill in the coupon with your name and address. Return it to The Plymouth Mail sports desk.

That is, if you're interested in seeing a Plymouth Golf Tournament resumed.

Plymouth Finishes Far Back

Rocks Relinquish State Swim Crown

Plymouth offered only token resistance in defense of its state Class A swimming title last weekend and finished deep in the final standings.

The Rocks, with a meager total of six points, wound up far back in a pack of more than 60 schools competing for swimming honors Friday and Saturday at the University of Michigan pool in Ann Arbor.

It was a disappointing defense of the crown the Plymouth team captured a year ago when the Rocks compiled 4 1/2 points to claim top laurels.

Grosse Pointe and Birmingham Seaholm emerged as co-champions this year, each getting 32 points. The winners' total was kept to a minimum by the entry of Detroit Public School League teams for the first time in 32 years.

Many of the Detroit teams came through with individual event winners and thus reduced the champions' scoring.

Birmingham Seaholm, one of the co-champs, was a familiar figure to Plymouth. The Rocks lost their second dual-meet this winter to Seaholm and watched a 39-meet winning streak go by the boards. Grosse Pointe was also a favorite on many odds-makers' lists.

Ann Arbor High trailed Grosse Pointe and Seaholm with 29 points. Ann Arbor, too, defeated Plymouth in dual-meet competition during the regular season.

Plymouth coach John McFall entered 16 of his swimmers in the state meet, eight of them being listed as alternates. The Rocks were paced by Dick Michaels, who earned a second in the 100-yard backstroke good for five points. Thurston's brilliant Ken Wiebeck won the event in :57.8 and Michaels trailed by almost a second.

Only other Plymouth swimmer to score was Phil Bender. He gained a sixth place in the 100-yard breast-stroke. It earned the Rocks their sixth and final point.

The Rocks had only two other possible opportunities to add to their total.

Mark Schultheiss and Wayne Stephenson made it to the semi-finals in the diving preliminaries, but were both eliminated there. At the semi-final stage, 15 divers remained, but only seven were allowed to continue for record. Schultheiss and Stephenson were not among them.

In the 200-yard medley relay event, as the meet drew to a close, the Rocks were conspicuous by their absence. In the qualifying rounds for the event, Plymouth had been disqualified for an illegal start. It considerably lessened Plymouth's eventual point total.

McFall indicated that the Rocks' relay team, comprised of Michaels, Bender, Barry Corwin and Gary Gould, had turned in a good time, but the disqualification washed it out.

A large cheering section from Plymouth was on hand to root for the Rocks. And, as had been expected, the seating area at the U-M pool was jammed beyond its capacity for 3,000 persons. Many spectators, from all over the state, were turned away as they arrived late.

Eleven members of Plymouth's 1961-62 swimming squad have completed their high school careers. Included among these are: Michaels, Bender, Corwin, Win Schrader, Stephenson, Tom Hoffman, Al Larson, Ken Fischer, Dave Sutherland, Ron Peck and John Wolfe.

With the competition in the state meet, Plymouth closed out its swimming season for another year. The Rocks fashioned an 11-4 dual-meet record and tied with Trenton (each 9-1) for first place in the league's dual-meet activity.

However, Trenton 10 days ago nipped the Rocks, 80-75, in the league meet. Plymouth was a solid second place finisher there.

In nine seasons, the Plymouth swimmers have fashioned a record of 86 dual-meet victories, compared to 24 defeats and two ties.

I haven't drifted into politics in this column because of the danger of getting so involved that it might become a regular habit. However, I am inclined to take issue with Republican tax leaders in Lansing on their consistent insistence of levying nuisance taxes as a method of getting the State through another year . . . so to speak.

My good friend, Senator Clyde Geerlings of Holland, chairman of the Senate tax committee, is the main sponsor and purveyor of such taxation, and members of the Republican side of both the House and Senate seem in desperation each session to finally accept this method of solution rather than finding a long range solution which would put an end to the problem for several years at least.

After having the experience of sitting in many Republican caucuses, while in the Legislature, I know many members of the party felt the same that I did . . . that the Republican party should undertake some kind of a solid tax program to provide for the growing needs of the State and all of its various facets.

I am well aware of the fact that most of the budgets submitted by various State departments and State institutions are padded and expanded way beyond their actual needs. This is done so that when the Ways and Means committee wades through the maze of needs outlined in these budgets and cuts made, they will still leave ample money for necessary operation. In this respect Republican members of the Legislature have done a creditable job of insisting State agencies hold the line on expenditures and they should be given full credit for their efforts.

However, there is a growing need for expanded State services . . . we need more buildings and probably more and more personnel each year to staff these various agencies, so there is a consistent growth in expenditure regardless of how determined we might be to keep expenses down.

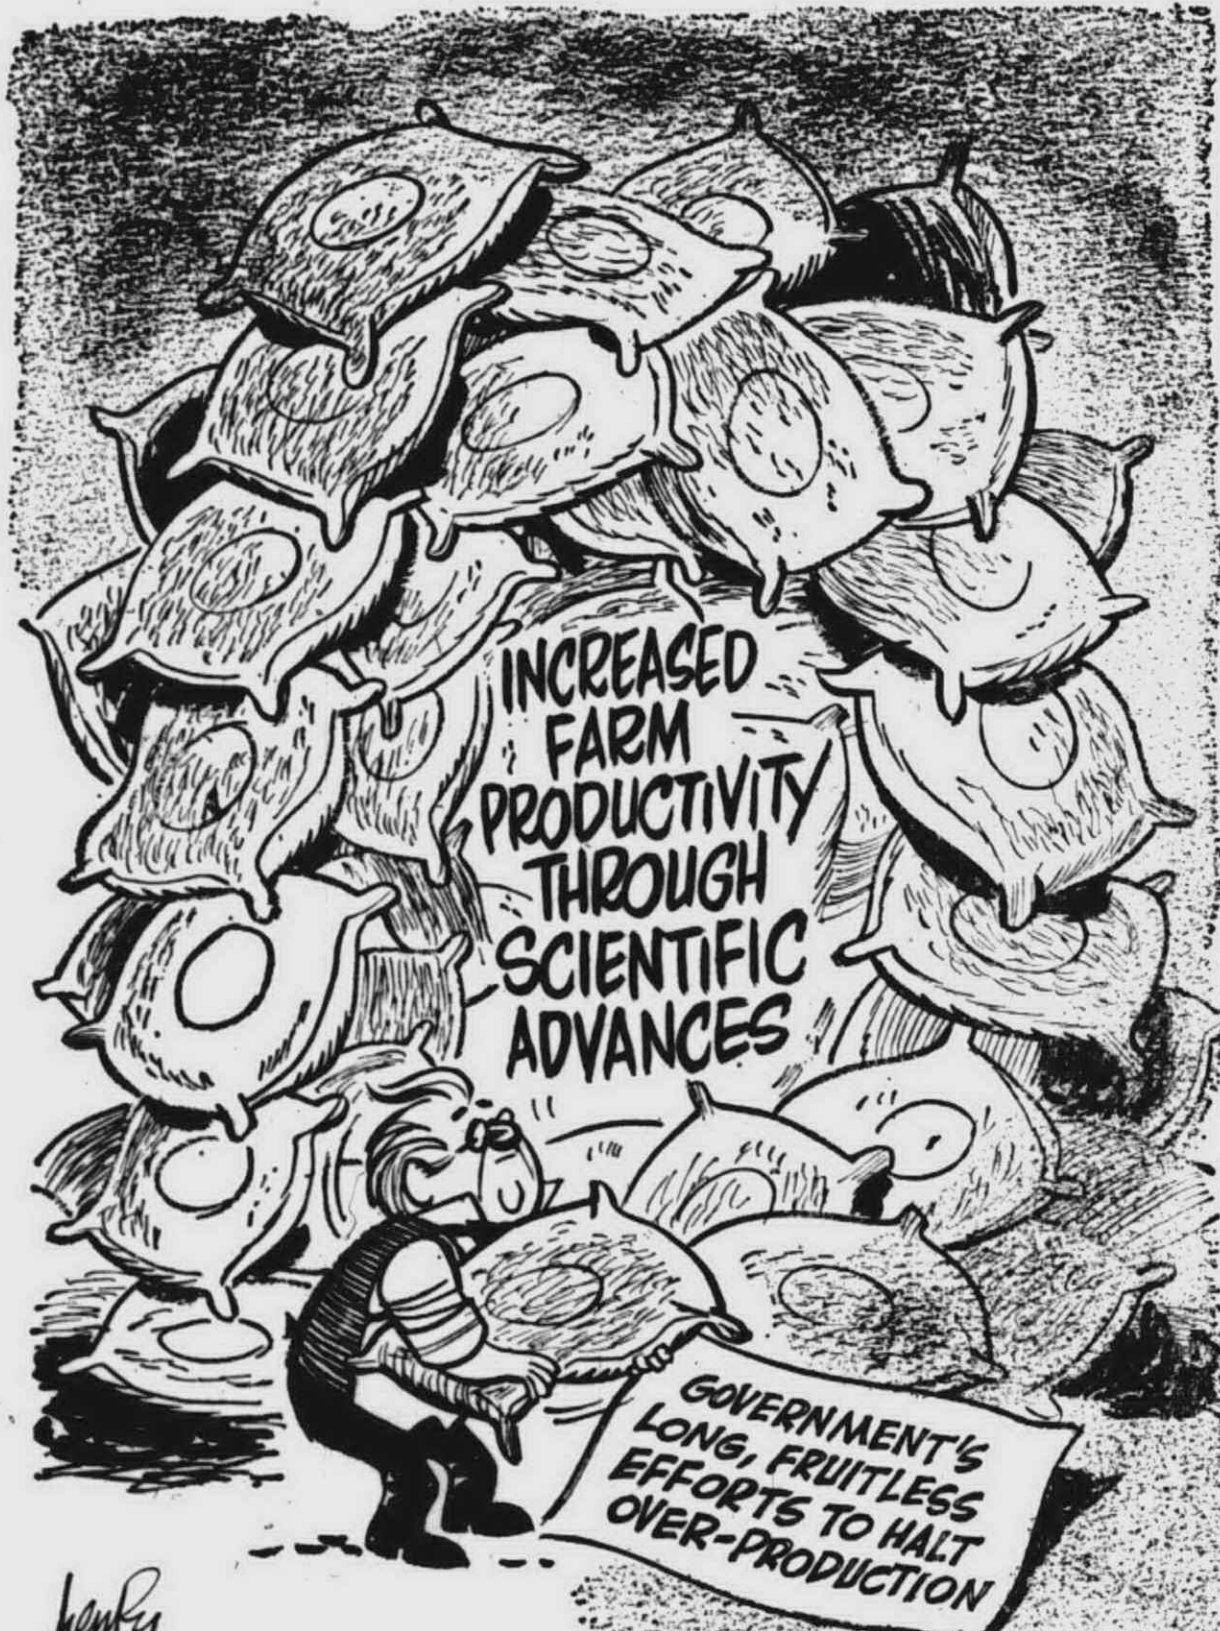

The fact that the Democrats have, year after year, asked for larger appropriations and more expenditures apparently hasn't let them down in the eyes of the public, and that was one of my arguments in caucus years ago. I think they asked for too much, and many of their efforts, I am sure, were for the purpose of grandstanding, knowing full well there wasn't money available, and secondly, that members of the Grand Old Party were sitting there with a majority of votes to see that the money wasn't actually appropriated. It placed them in a most favorable position and still does and they know it.

It is my opinion that the Republicans must take a new look at the actual needs of the demands of the various State agencies. They should calculate what new amount will be needed each year for the next 10. And, there are capable men there, like Representatives Lloyd Gibbs, Rollo Conlin, Arnel Ingstrom, Robert Waldron, Senators Geerlings, Carlton Morris, Elmer Porter, Frank Beadle and Ferrell Roberts, and many more who could find some method of equitable taxation that would carry the load.

To me a tax on telephone usage is silly and unfair. Businesses depending on large telephone expenditures would find themselves paying unfair taxes on their particular business while others that don't use telephones would not share in their part of State support. I suppose the other nuisance taxes are about as bad.

There may be some apprehension this year on the Republican thinking because of Con-Con. They may feel that a solution to all tax ills will come from this, and that to get by another year will put them in the clear, but for my money, any such solution is a long way off and in the meantime a constructive, fair and equitable tax should come from the Republican party. It should be one that would solve the ills of all State, city, county and township areas.

I say to all of my old friends and associates up in Lansing, let's stop trying to think up ways of out-manuevering the Democrats. Let's be objective, stick our chins out if necessary, but let's provide the residents of this great State a method of raising money that will do the job for the residents of this State . . . That's the reason the people of your district sent you to Lansing in the first place. If you lose your job, and many of you think only of this, so what . . . Give the people of Michigan a break . . . Give Michigan a break. It seems to me the solution is in your hands.

Ole Brad's Journal

Those long, winter evenings around the fireplace in the homes of the Plymouth colony back in 1622 were brightened with gigantic bowls of popcorn. No T.V. unless you count the flickering, changing flames in the fireplace brightened the scene, but plenty of popcorn helped alleviate the early pioneer.

Squanto and his band of friendly Indians introduced the corn that exploded with a roar and turns from a pale yellow to a snowy white. The Pilgrims were grateful for this noisy variety of yellow bantam corn.

THE NUTRITIOUS ear of corn had long been a staple item in the Pilgrim's daily diet. Had those early settlers not discovered some buried corn of the Indians the hungry colonials might never have survived that first severe winter of 1620.

No mention in other journals has ever been made whether or not the Pilgrims attempted to repay the Indians after such bold and brodacious "corn-lifting." Miles Standish and that first group of explorers while out looking for a suitable place to establish Plymouth stumbled onto these strange earthen mounds, dug down, and discovered large wicker baskets loaded with corn. The Indians of the area had buried their surplus corn for winter storage — an early form of deep-freeze storage.

Job Outlook Good for June Grads

Michigan has had a savings and loan law on its books since 1887 although the popularity of this type of banking institution has only been publicly noted in the last decade or so.

Growth of savings and loan associations in the state over the last six years, for example, has amounted to more than $367 million, state officials report.

Today there are 35 associations which report total assets of more than $656 million. The assets report for the fiscal year which ended June 30 noted an increase of $72 million over the previous year, officials said.

"These increases have occurred despite unsteady economic conditions in Michigan during the life of the savings and loan system," said Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay.

SAVINGS AND loan associations have been the object of proposed legislation in the past several years to bring the reserve requirements and tax and branch office regulations into line with those imposed on commercial banks.

The associations differ from banks in that they are mutually owned by "savings shareholders," said Slay.

"This type of financial institution, with 105 offices throughout the state, is performing an increasingly important dual function to the public by providing home loans," said the commissioner.

JOB PROSPECTS for the June college graduate are good, according to the Michigan Education Association.

On the average, June graduates will find a $485 monthly wage awaiting him at his first job. This represents an increase, on the average, of $10 a month over last year, the association said.

Indications are the high salaries will range around $542 for engineers and the low will be $448 a month for business trainees.

MICHIGAN IS expected to be among the first states in the nation to put into effect President Kennedy's recommendation for a mass immunization program to combat four of the worst childhood diseases: polio, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

In production at the department currently is a new three-in-one antigen to be blended with bulk Salk polio vaccine. This is expected to be ready for free distribution throughout the state by late this year, said Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

Plans call for producing enough of the quadruple antigen to immunize the estimated 200,000 children who are born or move into Michigan annually.

USED CAR dealers are often the object of criticism for guarantee terms, or the lack of them.

The Michigan Automobile Dealers Association recently initiated a program designed to improve the "public image" of used car salesmen and dealers. It has some definite advantages to the public.

The association started a program in over 200 Michigan cities under which auto dealers issue a "permanent warranty," under a plan known as the Guaranteed Warranty plan.

The plan guarantees the used car buyer a 15 per cent discount on all parts and all labor costs for a year after the purchase. This warranty applies to the dealer where the car was purchased, plus an estimated 5,000 other participating dealers in 10 other states and the Canadian province of Ontario, the association said.

Gilbert Haley, executive vice president of the association, said the plan does not cost dealers any membership fee, so no extra charge for the warranty would be tacked onto the price of a car.

Purchasers of used cars are given a warranty and a list of participating Michigan dealers. In the event of needed repairs, the car owner has them taken care of at a listed dealer. When presented with the bill, the owner shows the warranty card, entitling him to the discount.

"With electric heat, there are no drafts or cold spots—even the floors are nice and warm," says Mrs. William Albert of Nankin Township, Michigan. "We saved $300 on installation when we converted from the old system. Electric heat saved us space, too—now we have an extra closet where our chimney used to be. There's nothing to worry about or take care of. My draperies stay a whole lot cleaner. For all the electric appliances we have—range, water heater, clothes dryer, air conditioner—we think our $35 per month electric bill is a real bargain. Believe me, once you have electric heat, you won't want anything else."

What about your home? Do you have a hard-to-heat room? Are you adding on a room? Are you buying a new home? Is the heating system in your present home more trouble than it's worth? One of the types of electric heating units shown below may be the answer to your heating problems. One easy way to find out is to ask your electrical contractor. Another is to call your Edison office.
