

"A COMMUNITY DOES NOT ENDURE BY THE WORK OF HIRELINGS. A COMMUNITY ENDURES WHEN ITS LEAST AND ITS GREATEST CITIZEN LOVE IT ALIKE AND WILL LIVE AND WORK AND DIE THAT IT MAY BE GLORIOUS."

An open letter to Governor John Swainson. Dear John: During the last few months I have been sitting in on a lot of local meetings where truly serious and dedicated local businessmen have been pondering and studying ways and means to improve conditions in our business areas.

communities in this fast changing era of shopping centers, discount houses, public disinterest, inflation, and high taxation. The thought came to me in a meeting last night that you are in probably the most enviable position in all of this state to help your own home town.

Lansing for a full time job... but there will come a day when you'll leave Apple Tree Lane in Lansing and be back, and a day when Alice will again do her shopping in our stores, and your children will reap the benefits of our fine school system and our many other cultural advantages.

No other person that I can think of ever held higher state office from Plymouth. My father came closest to it with his servitude under Governor Groesbeck and later as an influential member of Michigan's Legislature.

In reminiscing back to my father's active political days I can recall that through his influence and determination to be of service to his home town of Plymouth he secured the following appointments for Plymouth residents: Fred Schrader on the State Board of Mortuary, Stewart Dodge on the State Board of Pharmacy, and Dr. Luther Peck on the State Board of Medicine.

As I look around Plymouth today I can't find one local resident in service of this great State which would be immediately possible by the simple touch of your magic finger as Governor. However, this isn't important, and conditions are different today.

Knowing you as I do, there is no doubt in my mind but what this thought hasn't crossed your mind because of the immensity of pressing State problems, but I do direct this to you, in hopes over coffee some morning in the near future with Alice, that you will think about us back here at home and perhaps direct some one of your many able assistants to come to our aid.

Perhaps I should remind you, too, that your home town of Plymouth is one area distinctly different from most suburban towns. It still retains its composite as an area of its own.

When you think of Detroit, Highland Park, River Rouge, Ferndale, etc., etc., you think of one big metropolitan area. This is not true in your home town. Plymouth is Plymouth and it is an area outside of metropolitan influence. It retains its individuality, its purpose, and its determination to survive on a higher plane of cultural and spiritual living than almost any other "close-in" community in America.

With the prestige of your office behind us there are many areas of Federal aid that might be tapped, and perhaps with the help of Phil Hart in Washington we might make your home town one of the newly reconstructed, model towns of America.

Plymouth's Historical Museum received a nice shot in the arm this week from Mrs. Francis Archibald of Byram, Connecticut. Older residents will remember Mrs. Archibald as (Continued in Sec. 3, Page 6)

Bus Firm Wants Out; DSR Service Asked

Monday night, the City Commission approved a resolution formally asking the DSR to serve Plymouth.

City Manager Albert Glassford reported to the City Commission Monday night that he was informed by the Michigan Public Service Commission that DeLuxe had requested permission to drop Plymouth from its bus schedule. The Michigan Public Service Commission, however, obtains the feeling of the local governing body before the request is considered.

A Message For Easter

By Reverend Donald Williams First Baptist Church

Through the years I have heard and read many Easter sermons. So have you. None compare in awesome simplicity nor improve in content over that first four sentence message delivered to the women at the empty tomb by God's very own angelic messenger on the very first "Easter Sunday."

FIRST OF ALL, the messenger declares a fact, "He (Christ) is risen..." This is a fact of history and yet many refuse to believe it. How much documentary evidence is required before we believe something? School children are confidently taught that Julius Caesar invaded Britain in 55 B.C. To my knowledge no one has doubted this. Yet the earliest written evidence is in a ninth century manuscript.

Documentary evidence for the resurrection of Christ includes hundreds of early manuscripts, some going back to the second century! No other fact of ancient times is so fully attested! The New Testament documents have been subjected to critical scrutiny and tests for historicity such as few, if any, other documents have. But they remain as reliable history.

FORTUNATELY, WE ARE not limited to documentary evidence. The messenger issued an invitation, "Come and see..." Sorrowing Mary Magdalene saw and her sorrow was turned to utterable joy. Vacillating, impetuous, fearful Peter saw and became Peter, the Rock, the bold, fearless preacher of the living Christ even at the cost of His life.

Zealous persecutor of Christians, Paul, saw and literally spent his life testifying to small and great concerning the resurrection of Christ and His living, transforming power. Hosts of people from that day to this have responded to the invitation the living Lord Jesus Christ still issues through His messengers and in His Word, "Come and see..." and their lives have truly been changed by His indwelling presence. This is a case of where believing is seeing. The invitation still stands. Jesus promises to make Himself known to those who will receive Him as Saviour and Lord and commit their lives to Him.

FINALLY, THE MESSENGER gives an order, "Go and tell..." Yes, go and tell the defeated, the fearful and the sorrowing that He is risen! He lives! Because He lives, we, too, can know life abundant here and now and life eternal. Speed this good news to the primitive pagan who still sacrifices his goat to his god of stone. Remind the self-sufficient secularist of our day that life is more than matter and the acquisition of things or the pursuit of scientific progress.

Comfort the one who stands weeping by the newly opened grave with the glorious truth, "He lives." He comforts the sorrowing with His living presence. Help bring peace to the anxious, disturbed and troubled. Strengthen the resolve and reinforce the courage of those who stand for right, the sacredness of life, the worth of the individual before God. Share the message of forgiveness with the guilt-laden soul. Arouse the youth to the realization that to gain the best from life, he must give himself to Christ.

TURN TO MATTHEW'S Gospel, chapter 28, and read "God's Easter Sermon" for yourself. See the fact. Respond to the invitation. Experience the joy of sharing the good news with others.

Churches Set Good Friday, Easter Services

Church services on Maundy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Sunday will bring to a close the 1962 Lenten season and Holy Week in Plymouth.

While only a few of the area's churches will observe Maundy Thursday with special services, most will have some type of Good Friday service.

Eight churches will participate in the Tre Ore services this Friday from noon until 3 p.m. at First Methodist Church. In the three hours which commemorates the period that Christ suffered on Linda, 7, Paul, 5, and Laurie, 8, are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Curok, 600 Parkview Dr. The scene was Heidi's Greenhouse.

Township Questions Annual Meeting Need

Whether to abolish annual meetings in Plymouth Township will be left up to electors when a petition will be made available asking that the question be placed on the ballot.

The subject was brought under discussion at last week's Township Board meeting.

Only 35 people turned out for the last annual meeting on March 31. From the poor attendance, the Township Board has assumed that there is little interest in the meetings and questioned the wisdom of continuing them. It was learned that abolishing the annual meetings must come about by a referendum on the ballot. This referendum can be called for either by a resolution by the Township Board or by the filing of a petition from electors carrying names of 8 percent of the total voters.

The Board decided that in order to "reflect the wishes of the electors," they would have the question placed on the ballot through petitions initiated by the voters. They asked that Township Attorney Earl Demel prepare petitions should any voters be interested.

State law allows abolishment of the annual meetings after Townships reach a population of 5,000. Plymouth Township is now eligible. A number of townships throughout the state have now abolished their annual meetings, including nearby Redford Township.

The annual meeting could be a dangerous practice because in theory it would allow a handful of citizens to vote through many things which may not be the wishes of the Township Board nor the majority of citizens. Plymouth Township has never had this experience, however. The main item of business at the annual meetings is the adoption of the budget.

College Kicks Off Campaign

A campaign to gain the financial support needed to make the Northwest Wayne County Community College a reality began last night when a Citizens Committee, including 40 people from Plymouth, met at Bentley High School in Livonia to discuss ways of conducting the election campaign prior to the June 11 election.

Several hundred members from Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia and Plymouth attended the meeting. There are 400 on the committees. The meeting was opened by Mrs. John W. Moeble of Plymouth, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees, who explained the ground rules for the meeting.

The president of the college, Dr. Eric J. Bradner, then reviewed the educational needs of the area and told how the Board hopes to satisfy these needs. During his talk, Dr. Bradner for the first time unveiled the architect's concept of how the college campus might be developed.

The costs of the college and how they will be kept to a minimum, were then discussed by Kenneth Lindner, chairman of the central publicity committee of the college. Calling his talk the "One Mill Story," Lindner discussed the reasons why one mill is to be requested at the polls in June. He also explained that the one mill will pay the operating costs of the college and also will provide the money to repay the bond issue which is to appear on the ballot.

Paul Mutnick, chairman of the curriculum committee of the Board of Trustees, adjourned the general meeting into four district meetings (Continued on page 6)

It's Bicycle Rodeo Time Saturday

This is Bike Safety Week in Plymouth and highlighting the observance will be the annual Bicycle Rodeo this Saturday morning behind Plymouth High School.

Sponsored by the Plymouth Optimist Club, the Bicycle Rodeo will start at 10 a.m.

Bike Safety Week has been set aside by the Optimists to stress intelligent coexistence of motorists and children on the streets and highways. Young bike riders in the elementary schools will learn the rules of traffic safety through practical demonstration and skill tests at Saturday's Rodeo.

Five riding skill tests will be set up. These will include an obstacle course, riding a straight line and circle, and brake stopping. Bike safety stickers will be given to owners whose bikes are proven safe.

Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher will help Optimists with the rodeo. Following the skill tests, a drawing for prizes will take place. An Evans bicycle and an electric eye camera will be among the many prizes awarded. A trophy will also be given to the school having the largest representation. Our Lady of Good Counsel has been the winner in recent years.

Board Restudies Money Needs

In an apparent revolt of taxpayers against climbing taxes, a record number of voters in the Plymouth Community School District flocked to the polls Monday and overwhelmingly turned down a 7.5 mill proposal by a vote of 852 to 3,010.

A total of 3,863 voters went to the four polling places during the day. The number was 1,531 greater than had turned out for the previous record election in June 1960. There are nearly 10,000 registered voters in the district.

The margin — which was 3.5 no votes for every yes — surprised even opponents of the proposal. Some supporters of the millage declared that they were not completely surprised by the defeat but were awed by the huge margin.

The Board of Education was in session Monday night holding a curriculum study session when the news was received. They later issued a written statement which announced that because the defeat leaves the district with reduced revenue, a revised proposal will be submitted at the June 11 election.

The defeat was perhaps most bitter for the 206 teachers who would have been in line for both wage increases and fringe benefits if the millage had been approved. Custodians and principals were also to have salary adjustments.

Never had there been such an effort put forth in a Plymouth school election as in Monday's vote. Both opponents and proponents of the issue were pounding on doors last weekend, making phone calls, passing out handbills from house-to-house and chatting with the public at business establishments.

Voting was brisk at the four polling places from the time they opened. Long lines were found after working hours until the polls closed at 8 p.m. The first unofficial results came in at 8:45 p.m.

Election workers reported that a large number of voters were older citizens many of whom had not voted in a school election in years. This is the statement of the Board of Education made Monday night.

"The voters' rejection of the proposed increase in operating millage will require the Board of Education to make a complete re-evaluation of the educational program of the Plymouth Community School District. The defeat of this proposal makes it essential that a revised millage proposal be prepared for voter approval at the annual school election on June 11."

"To meet this date will require a decision on the new proposal by the Board not later than May 14. The school superintendent has been asked to present the recommendations of the administration as soon as possible. After a thorough study of the Board of Education will submit a program for voter approval."

The defeat was one of few in the history of school millage and bond issue proposals.

Jr. High Band Wins Regional Festival Acclaim

The Plymouth Junior High School's Rocket Band, winner of a top award in the District Band and Orchestra Festival, last month, brought home a "First Division — Superior" award last Saturday from the State Regional Festival.

Directed by Laurence Livingston, the 101-piece band competed with three other City bands in the regionals, which included bands from the southeastern quarter of the state. There is no statewide festival and Director Livingston said that this may be the last regional festival because of the time demand on bandsmen. The Plymouth band played (Continued on page 6)

Why Did Electorate Say No?

By Jim Sponseller

The Board of Education was the first to admit that it had a tough package to sell. It represented an increase in taxes of four mills.

Those close to the election promoting both the "yes" and "no" votes found there were numerous reasons why the vast majority of electors favored the proposal. (So few voters for the proposal that one teacher who had been working hard for approval, remarked Monday night, "I even suspect my wife.")

As pointed out by The Plymouth Mail in its columns prior to the election, taxpayers are looking to the School Board to start giving consideration to costs — and apparently the result of Monday's election reflected this. The prospect of a higher tax bill was undoubtedly the No. 1 complaint heard.

And to add fuel to the fire, the election came at a bad time. Detroit and Wayne County are both seriously talking about income tax and so is the State Legislature. Ironically, the election came on the very day that federal income taxes were due. One opponent had praise (Continued on page 6)

City Questions Telephone Rates

Why does it cost almost four times as much for a Plymouth telephone subscriber to call Detroit than for a Livonia subscriber?

This is the question that the City Commission will ask a representative of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. at its next meeting. Commissioner Carl Shear brought up the question at Monday night's Commission meeting. He said that from downtown Detroit, one can call Livonia for 15 cents and talk for five minutes. To call Plymouth, it costs 35 cents and one can talk only three minutes.

"This is about three and two-thirds times as much as the Livonia rate," Commissioner Shear asserted. The Commission voted to invite a Michigan Bell representative to the next meeting to discuss the rate differential.

Organizations Urged To Register Public Functions

Is your organization planning a public function? Will it conflict with other activities? The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce is again urging all organizations to register their public functions well in advance. This allows other groups planning events to call in and see whether there are conflicting dates.

Fran Booth of the Chamber of Commerce office said that this registration service has worked well in the past, but that only half of the community's organizations utilize it. To make it effective, all group's competing for public attendance should register. Some dates as far as November are now registered. The Chamber phone is GL 3-1540.

Early American Hand Crafts Demonstrated at Art Exhibit

This past Sunday, April 15, from 3 to 5 p.m. students at Marion Sober's Joy Road Art Studio exhibited their winter's work for visitors.

April 8, the first of the two-day showing, 70 guests viewed the colorful paintings and examined intricate hand crafts created in the serene atmosphere of the Studio.

Because of the unique instruction in the early American crafts of caning and chair rushing, the workshop is earning a growing reputation, drawing guests from Birmingham, Detroit, Wayne, Northville and Livonia.

Using people and objects around them, Pat Schroeder chose for subject material, Dr. Ralph Pino's barn and Laverne Sly canvas-captured the likeness of David Swain playing his trombone.

Pupil Nancy Messerly sold her sepia-toned still-life to bracelet Carolyn Burkman at the opening show. Gilberta Mitchell and Kay Dinsmore, recently admitted members of the Three Cities Art Club, also displayed pictures.

Other Plymouth exhibitors were Virginia Stout, Mary Jones, Lorraine Gould, Betty Moore, Mary Engstrom, Gladys Bowen and Virginia Buckberry.

Norma Jean Sackett gave Studio visitors a glimpse of yesteryear as she demonstrated the craft of caning and rushing chairs.

Finished cane chairs and wicker baskets made by Shirley Dennison and Eve Wimmergren were added features of the display.

AAUW Hears of Con-Con Progress

The monthly meeting of the American Assn. of University Women will be held Thursday, April 19, at the Plymouth Junior High School at 7:45 p.m.

The Constitutional Convention now meeting in Lansing has been appearing more and more in daily news. Delegates are spending untold hours outside the session chambers revamping and modernizing the Michigan Constitution. Mrs. Sidney Cady, vice-president and program chairman for AAUW has arranged for Con-Con to be the topic for the evening.

Guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Foerch of Dearborn, will speak to the AAUW members as to how the approximately 300 delegates function when not in session.

Mrs. Foerch is State Chairman for Con-Con of the League of Women Voters. Being in this prominent position, Mrs. Foerch spends at least one day or more per week in Lansing at Con-Con estimating its progress and generally acting as a liaison.

Committees are the key factor of Con-Con and their function will be an important aspect of the talk she will present.

Hostesses for the "coffee chat" prior to the meeting are Mrs. Hugh Harsha, chairman, Mrs. Frank Heager, Mrs. Mark Wehmeyer, and Miss I. Kelly.

Theatre Party Set for May 1

Plymouth Business & Professional Women's Club is holding its annual Theatre Party, on Tuesday, May 1, at the P & A Theater, 855 Penniman, at 7:30 p.m. The feature for this evening is "The Millionaire" in color, starring Sophia Loren, his year's Academy Award winner for best actress. There will also be a Sing-a-long with Ralph, Rudy and Wally. This will take place before the movie. These joys are very versatile and entertaining and a good time is in store for every one attending. There will also be door prizes. Tickets can be obtained from any member of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club, and at Minerva's next door to the theatre. They may also be purchased at the theatre box office the night of the party. The price of the tickets is only $1.25.

Town Hall Funds Now Available

Any Plymouth organization or individual which requires money to use for charitable purposes is being invited to apply for funds being made available by the Northville Town Hall. The Town Hall Series just ended, is donating some of its profit to worthwhile projects in neighboring communities. A letter stating the need and purpose of these funds should be addressed to Mrs. Margaret Hough, 1477 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

Senior Citizens To Be Theatre Guild Guests

Mildred Higgins, president of the Senior Citizens, opened the meeting April 12 by introducing the afternoon's two speakers. Mr. Urey Arnold represented the Plymouth educational system, while Mr. Kenneth Bisbee spoke the opposition. Mrs. Laurena Hubbs, president of the sponsoring Sororist Club, was present and gave a talk on forming committees in the near future. Cards and a lovely luncheon followed the speakers. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Camphausen were our hosts and hostesses. The Senior Citizens will be guests of the Theatre Guild at the High School auditorium April 26. The play will be "The Curious Savage". Best wishes to all those who are ill at home and in the hospital.

Family Gathers With Dr. and Mrs. Johnson

For the first time in many years, the living members of Dr. Melbourne I. Johnson's family will all be together to share the holy observance of Easter. His eldest sister, Mrs. C. R. Totten, will arrive from Regina, Saskatchewan, while his youngest sister, Mrs. Alec Richardson will come from Brockville, Ont., with her husband. The family circle will be complete when Dr. Johnson's twin brother, Melville, from Detroit, joins the group at Dr. and Mrs. Johnson's home on Church St.

Parents of Blind Meet in Inkster

There will be a meeting of the Parent-Teachers Assn. of the Visually Handicapped of Out-Wayne County on Wednesday, April 25 at 7:45 p.m. in the Easter Seal Building at 2545 Hyde Park in Inkster. Mr. Ralph Peabody will play a tape recording of a C.B.C. radio program. This documentary, called "World of the Blind", delves into the lives of the sightless in Canada dealing especially with a 15 year old Vancouver girl, blind since birth. All parents and teachers of blind or of visually handicapped children, are welcome at all meetings. Anyone wishing additional information, can contact Mrs. Thomas Abbott, at GA 2-7884.

Women in Business Topic of Alpha Nu

School in Wayne, who spoke on the topic "Guiding Women Into New Fields." Mrs. Beishimer called attention to the great changes in occupations and opportunities in recent years, and then showed that the present day industries do not need a smaller number of employees because of automation but different qualifications are needed. There are now many fields open to women, and some that they are especially able to enter: manufacturing, education and research, transportation, finance, construction, and mining. Industry and government want people with high school educations and above. Mrs. Beishimer urged a college education for our young women because, even though, they enter into marriage early, educated mothers are needed for the young people who are to shape the future.

Scholarship Named for Former Resident

Mrs. Eugenia Pino, former resident of Plymouth, has been honored by the Plymouth Branch of the American Assn. of University Women through a scholarship given in her name. This scholarship was made possible by the proceeds of the Plymouth Listening Post ticket sale and will be awarded to a gifted woman for study beyond the graduate level. A former past president of the Hillsdale (Mich) branch of AAUW, she was instrumental in forming the Plymouth AAUW and was elected its first president when the Branch was organized in April 1952. Mrs. Pino, a graduate of East Lansing High School, earned her bachelor's degree from Michigan State College (now MSU). Her major study was Home Economics with a minor in Mathematics. Before her marriage to Mr. Austin L. Pino she was a staff member of the college mathematics department and had been a buyer in charge of several departments of J. W. Knapp Co. of Lansing for over a year. While in Plymouth Mrs. Pino was active in the Presbyterian Church and several study groups as well as serving as First Vice President of the Woman's Club. Mrs. Pino and her husband, now retired, have returned to Hillsdale, the home of their early married years where she has just completed a three year term as Deacon in the Presbyterian Church - serving as its secretary. Mr. Pino has been serving on the Session as well as being Chairman of the County Planning Commission. The Plymouth Branch again plans to give a philanthropic gift after the second season of the Listening Post Series. Tickets will be offered to

Donations to Historical Society Reach $2,345

Cash donors to the Plymouth Historical Society were announced for the first time this week by the organization. The money is being used to establish the present museum next to City Hall and some will go into a fund for the eventual purchase of a building. Cash memorial gifts have been received in memory of Howard W. Borwn, Grace Campbell Brown, E. Fletcher Campbell, Sr., Bessie Rattenbury Dunning, Edward C. Hough, Lawrence Money, Mabel Stevens Penney, Alma Murray Spicer and Fred Truesdall. Other cash gifts have been received from the Antique Study Group of Plymouth, Maude Sherwood Cooper (Savings Bond), De Troiette Chapter of Quilters (Detroit) and Samuel Spicer. The total cash gifts to date total $2,345 of which $1,600 is laid aside for purchase of a new building. The present building is owned by the City of Plymouth. Work is still progressing for the opening of the museum this spring.

Sometimes we have to say no
Occasionally a customer asks us for some medication he's read about. And we must refuse him. The reason is that the particular medicine must be taken under a physician's supervision, and is available only on prescription. This is a safeguard to your health. As your pharmacist, we suggest you see a physician if you feel you need potent medication. We'll be happy to fill his prescription. Till then, perhaps our greatest service is saying "No."

Agrico Pre-Emergence CRABGRASS CONTROL

Now is the time to deliver the death-blow to this monster that destroys lawn beauty. Apply Agrico Pre-Emergence Crabgrass Control—it sets up a preventive barrier in the soil that kills Crabgrass, Goosegrass, Foxtail and similar seedlings as they sprout. The dry granules can be effectively applied up to the 2-leaf stage (when Crabgrass is about 1" high). What's more, Agrico Pre-Emergence Crabgrass Control is beneficial to mature lawn grasses and it's safe to use on flower and shrub beds, too!

Obituaries

Eugene Joseph Doherty
Eugene Joseph Doherty passed away suddenly, April 14, at the age of 60 in Anchorage, Alaska.
He was a circuit layout supervisor for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., in Alaska, doing government work with Western Electric.

On Oct. 13, 1926 he married Elizabeth Doherty and moved to this community in 1956 from Ann Arbor. He was a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

Surviving him besides his widow, Elizabeth, are one daughter, Mary Jane Doherty of Anchorage; two sons, Michael J., and Daniel J., both of Plymouth; three sisters, Mrs. Catherine Febler of Chicago, Ill., Sister Margaret Mary of San Francisco, Calif.; and Miss Helen Doherty of Chicago; and one granddaughter, Patricia Ann Doherty of Plymouth.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Francis E. Byrne at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

For date and time, call Schrader Funeral Home. Interment will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Mrs. Alice Evans
Funeral services, conducted by Rev. David T. Davies, were held at the Schrader Funeral Home April 16 for Mrs. Alice Evans who passed away April 11 at the age of 81.

Death came suddenly at her 45534 W. Ann Arbor Trail home in Plymouth Twp. She was born May 24, 1880 in London, England and came to this area in 1909 from England.

Surviving her are two sons, Leslie and Gar, both of Plymouth; one brother, Reuben White of Dearborn; two sisters, Mrs. Eunice Laurian of Waukegan, Ill., Mrs. Amy Mathew of England; and three grandchildren.

Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

"Men of Wisconsin March" the required number of "Fantasy for Bands," and the selected piece, "Lustspiel." Adjudicators for the festival were Leonard Falcone and Douglas Campbell of Michigan State and Orien Daley and Clifford Lilly of the U of M. This was the sixth straight year that the band has won both the district and regional or state top award.

Convalescent Home Opens New Wing

A 60-bed addition has been opened by the Riverbank Convalescent Home at Ann Arbor Trail and Stark Rd. Formerly a 24-bed home, for just male residents, the new facility will have both male and female occupants, according to Mrs. Edith Barrett, administrator. New operators of the home since March are Mr. and Mrs. David Freedman, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Robinson and Mrs. Barrett. The home itself is 12 years old.

PLYMOUTH HIGH School's gym will become alive with the sound of music on Sunday, May 6 at 4 p.m. when the Plymouth Civic Chorus and Community Band unite for the first time to present a spring concert. The music will consist of show tunes, folk and religious songs. Gathered at the piano for rehearsal are vocal director Fred Nelson, Ruth Lindsey, Bob Page, Annie Blackman and Mrs. Tom Lock at the piano.

veloped by the same people who built Park Lane in the City on the east side of Sheldon. There will be 29 lots in the subdivision. The plot plan is going before the Township Planning Commission this week.

CONSIDERS PAY HIKE
A pay increase for members of the Township Board of Review is being considered by the Township Board, but the matter was tabled at last week's meeting. The three Board of Review members now receive $10 per day while in session. The office is an elective one and runs for four years.

Because there was some question of what state law allows and if present board members would receive a hike, the matter was tabled until more information is available.

SEEK PEDDLER LAWS
Attorney Demel said that recent state legislation now allows townships to pass ordinances controlling the licensing of peddlers, solicitors, vendors and hawkers. The attorney was asked to draw up an ordinance for the Board's consideration.

The Plymouth Community Fund several months ago asked the Township to adopt such an ordinance because of the large number of complaints they receive from Township householders about peddlers. Demel found at that time that state law did not give townships in the lower Peninsula such authority.

GREEN MEADOWS WATER
The Township Board has asked for another meeting with the City Commission to discuss the transfer of Green Meadows water system from the City to the Township Water Department. The majority of Green Meadows homeowners indicated in a poll that they were in favor of the changeover.

A meeting between the two governing bodies is being sought "to pursue establishment of financial considerations... and clearly set forth the physical properties."

ACCEPTS FACILITIES
A motion was approved to accept the sewer and water mains in the Garling Subdivision. The Board also voted to purchase hose, boots, coats, a mobile radio and other fire equipment costing an estimated $2,011.

Churches

The Cross, most stores will be closed and employees dismissed to attend the church of their choice. Some of the other churches will have Tre Ore services of their own.

The Union Service, sponsored by the Plymouth Ministerial Assn., will start at noon with an hour of guided meditation led by the Rev. John W. Miller of Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany.

From 1 to 2 p.m., the sermon topic will be "Who was Really on Trial?" Participating will be the Rev. Donald Williams of First Baptist Church, the Rev. Edward W. Castner, associate minister of First United Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. John Walaskay of the Assembly of God.

The third hour, from 2 to 3 p.m., will have as the sermon topic, "Numbered with the Transgressors." Taking part will be the Rev. Henry J. Walsh, D.D., of First United Presbyterian Church, Captain John Cunard of the Salvation Army, the Rev. N. Raycroft of the Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. Patrick Clifford of Calvary Baptist Church, and the Reverend Melbourne I. Johnson, D.D., of First Methodist Church.

The public may come to any or all of the three services.

for the School Board for its efforts in "making this one of the best school systems in the state" and believed that the defeat was not an indictment of the Board. "All this talk about higher taxes everywhere just has me scared, that's all."

Plymouth's retired citizens turned out in force, election workers observed. Living on a limited income, the majority felt they could just afford no more.

Another segment of voters may have been able to afford the raise, but felt that the schools were "just getting too much money." "If we give the School Board everything they ask, they keep coming back for more," more than one voter was heard saying. They realized that if Monday's proposal was rejected, the Board would come back with what they called a "more sensible" proposition.

Still another group believes that teachers are already receiving an "adequate salary." This group noted that teachers work only 10 months a year and often get extra work during the summer.

A number of "no" voters had a large variety of private gripes. One woman was heard to say she would not vote for the proposal because the Board last year had cut out bus transportation for the band to out-of-town games. Some had specific gripes against certain teachers or administrators.

"We've got to cut out these frills first," was a common comment and they often referred to the Junior High School with its large expanse of glass.

A letter to the editor in last week's Plymouth Mail reflected the thinking of still another group who believe riorating, indicated they would not object to DeLuxe ending service here if the DSR would replace them with adequate service. They then passed the resolution asking for DSR service.

The question of bus service was brought to a head three weeks ago when it was learned that the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad was changing the schedule of the Sportsman, a train arriving here at 6:40 a.m. that is used by scores of Plymouthites to commute to Detroit for work. The train will arrive some four hours later.

City Manager Glassford was instructed to see what additional service DeLuxe could offer, but Glassford said that attempts to meet with DeLuxe officials have been futile.

A week ago, the City Commission requested the Detroit Department of Street Railways (DSR) to make a survey for service. The survey has been made and Manager Glassford said that DSR officials seem eager to extend its service here. In fact, they have already submitted a time and ticket cost schedule.

Buses would leave here for Washington Boulevard at 6:32, 7:18 and 10:40 a.m. They would leave Detroit for Plymouth at 3:34, 4:42 and 5:49 p.m. The fare downtown would be 7 1/2 cents if tickets are purchased in books of 80 cents for a single ticket. Fare to Grand River would be 6 1/2 cents and 75 cents. A run downtown would take about one hour and 10 minutes.

A bus that would leave Detroit at 9:20 p.m. would run if enough passengers were interested, the DSR reported.

Salem Churches Prepare Good Friday, Easter Rites

By C. W. Clair
GL 3-2610

Mrs. Mary Lyons, a long-time resident of Salem Township on Napier Rd., will sail today for Southampton, England. Then she will go to Dover where she will visit relatives. She will be there for about 30 days. This will be Mrs. Lyons' sixth trip since 1949.

Jack Renwick was in Jackson Thursday to attend an insurance meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Manley Smith of South Mill St. Plymouth, were callers at the acres last Sunday. They had just come home from a trip South, and over in Old Mexico. Mr. Smith was not impressed by Old Mexico. He thought that there was too much to see in the U.S. and it was a waste of time to make these foreign trips. That I agree to.

Norval Dyal of Pontiac Trail has returned home from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. Mr. Dyal spent two weeks in the hospital, for surgery and treatments.

Four boys were taken in custody last Saturday afternoon after the car that they were driving crashed and turned over four times on the North Territorial Rd. The car had been stolen in Detroit. Michigan State Police from Ypsilanti handled the case.

There will be a Good Friday service at the Federated Church in Salem at 1:30 p.m. The church choir and the ladies trio will be singing. Roy Jeffery will speak and his subject will be "The Suffering One."

The Federated Church will have a Sunrise Service at 6 a.m. Easter morning at Cass Benton Park. The speaker will be Rev. Jack Barlow from the United Congregational Church of Salem.

At the 10 a.m. morning worship service of the Salem Federated Church, Rev. Chipchase will preach. His subject will be "History's Greatest Day." The Junior and Senior Choir will sing at this service. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a baptismal service.

Chester Lewis, a long-time resident of Salem, is in the University Hospital in Ann Arbor for observation and check up. Joel Givens, infant grandson of Mr. Lewis, is also in the same hospital with an asthmatic condition.

Flander Hamlin is in the University Hospital in Ann Arbor for surgery. Mr. Hamlin has expected to have this surgery for quite some time, but like the most of us has kept putting it off. Your neighbors on the Five Mile Rd. are wishing you the very best of luck and hope you will be back home soon.

I have just had a report that Deputy Clark of the Sheriff Patrol is home ill. We are sure sorry to hear that because it has been Sgt. Hollis and Deputy Clark who have answered most of our calls in the Township. These two fine gentlemen are always on the job.

We are told that Mrs. Tanner and Mr. Thomasson's daughter are going to keep the general store in Salem open. That is good news. We were thinking that after Mr. Thomasson's death that the store might be closed.

Raymond Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl of Salem Rd. is home from Albion College for the Easter vacation.

The welcome mat has been spread for some newcomers in Salem Village. They are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boshynak who have purchased the Parmenter place on Six Mile Rd. They moved in a short time ago, coming from Romulus. They are now in the process of remodeling the house. It was vacant for about a year.

A combined meeting of the Washtenaw County Road Commission and the Public Works Commission was held at Ann Arbor in the court house last Friday to discuss an interchange from the new expressway No. 14 at Dixboro Rd. This would make it possible to enter the expressway from the Dixboro Rd. which is scheduled to be improved.

A school board meeting of the South Lyon School District will be held next Tuesday evening at South Lyon. This meeting is open to the public. Residents of Salem Township should take a more active part in these meetings.

Mrs. Doris Marshall is back on her feet again. She says she is feeling better, but also says there is a lot of room for improvement yet.

The Suburban Farm Bureau will meet Thursday, April 19 at the home of Mrs. Roy LeMaster on Napier Rd., at 8 p.m.

What may be the final hearing on our roadside stand case is scheduled to take place Tuesday, April 17. During the consideration of this case the validity of Salem's zoning ordinance has been brought into question. Salem's attorney believes that the judge will not throw out the ordinance without giving the Township an opportunity to be heard. Of course several officials and former officials have testified in court according to Mr. Ingall, the Township supervisor. He also said that he believes that this was in regard to one question, namely: Was the zoning map published as it should have been?

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gleason were callers at the acres last Sunday. Mrs. Gleason is just beginning to get around again after her bout with a siege of sickness that put her in the hospital recently.

The good neighbor policy is prevailing in Salem Township. More about that later.

We have a new businessman in the Township, though he has been giving service to our area now for a few years. His name is Dan Donohue. I say that he is a new businessman because he has purchased the milk route that he has been operating for several years in this district. I have taken milk from him ever since to took the route over, and operated it for Maple Lawn. Now that he has taken over for himself, I know that he will be successful because as bad as the roads have been this past winter, Danny has gone through, maybe a bit late but we have never been without our milk. Dan has what it takes, and he is courteous, and always ready to do a good deed if the occasion arises.

*"Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.
And said Jesus to them again:
Peace be unto you! As My Father hath sent Me,
Even so send I you."*

Farmers Are Guests Of Kiwanis Club

Seventy Kiwanis members and guests enjoyed their annual "Farmers Night" meeting at the Cherry Hill Methodist Church last Tuesday night. Program chairman for the evening, Ralph Garber, introduced guest speaker, Eldon Johnson. Johnson is office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service for Wayne County.

Farmers are good consumers of many products such as electricity, fertilizer and rubber. The speaker related their efforts produce an abundant supply of quality food at a reasonable price. In fact, overproduction is responsible for a below average income. The average farm income is $960 per year, whereas the average non-farm income is $2,200 per year.

The average family spends 20 per cent of its income for food in the United States, but in Japan it is 40 per cent, and in Germany 45 per cent, and in Russia 55 per cent. The farmer receives 2-3/10 cents out of a 20 cent loaf of bread. The average farmer feeds himself and 27 other people. Government subsidies average less than $400 per farm per year. According to statistics, the "Family Farm" is the most efficient.

The Corn Crib

WE'RE GETTING SOFT!
(Headed that is)

All the way from Washington Comes word from J.F.K. That kids are getting softer Than they were in Grandpa's day.

The point he makes, with finger shakes And holds before our eyes, They're getting fat, just sloppy fat, From lack of exercise. They hardly make the corridors That lead from class to class, As they comb their hair in the dizzy glare From the marble and the glass. I hope they pass my dear Denice, Exclaims one frightened mother. With books that weigh a pound apiece, They can hardly pass each other.

It seems a shame that we're not game To correct this situation, Let's all unbend and vote to spend For aid to education. Let's put a gym on every bus And use it as a tool, So every kid won't have to sit The whole two blocks to school.

Mrs. Miller Ross was hostess to her Sunday school class in the Methodist Church Tuesday evening. A potluck supper was followed by a social hour, enlivened with games.

Visitors Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Fisher, of Burroughs avenue, were Mrs. Henry Garton, of Memphis, and son, Eldon Garton of Sandusky, Mrs. Carl Sharrard, two daughters and son, of Peck and Rev. and Mrs. Robert North, of Plymouth.

Mrs. R. Parrott and Mrs. C. G. Draper arrived home Friday evening from Chicago, Illinois, where they visited the latter's daughter, Mrs. Elmore Carby.

Mrs. Henry E. Baker was a hostess to the Tuesday afternoon contract bridge club at a luncheon and bridge.

The H. C. bridge club was entertained at home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Campbell Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Basil Carney of Yale were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby and daughter, Lila, were dinner guests, Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, at their home on Haggerty Hwy. William Conner, Maxwell Moon, Austin Whipple and C. O. Dickerson attended a hard-wear dinner meeting, Thursday evening, in Detroit.

50 YEARS AGO

Elmer Westfall and Bertha Kehrle were married last week, Wednesday, and will reside in Plymouth.

Ira Wilson attended the Republican State Convention in Bay City last week as a full fledged Roosevelt delegate.

John Root is selling his stock, and on account of ill health will leave the farm of his father, A. C. Root, and locate in the west.

Marshall Springer has been instructed to keep close watch on the automobiles. No partiality will be shown anyone exceeding the speed limit of ten miles an hour in the village.

The Plymouth Telephone Co., has purchased an eight horsepower motor cycle capable of carrying two men. After this when trouble occurs anywhere on the line the trouble man will be "Johnny on the spot."

Plymouth, and the rest of the world, was shocked today at the news that the unsinkable Titanic sunk. First reports indicate that 1,242 have perished. Only 868 were saved from the wreck of the world's largest vessel. It is considered to be the worst maritime disaster of modern times, due to the treacherous field of icebergs in the path of the Great White Star Line.

Clara Barton, founder of the Red Cross Society died at her Glen Echo, Md., home after being ill with chronic pneumonia for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Jackson have returned from a four weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Chicago and Minneapolis.

At the gathering of the 500 Club held at Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cook's home new officers for the coming year were elected. They include: F. A. Dibble, president and Rose Hawthorne, vice president and secretary. The Club's last meeting will take place next Friday evening.

Members of the Kiwanis club were the guests of Herman Bakhaus at the Cloverdale Dairy last Tuesday night. After a trip through Plymouth's largest dairy and an inspection of the ice cream manufacturing plant by those in attendance, the host treated them all to some of the ice cream that was made that afternoon.

IT'S WHITE CANE Week in Plymouth, April 29 to May 5 and plans for the annual observance are being made by the Plymouth Lions Club. A white cane sale will take place on Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5 and a program for school children is being set. On the committee, from left, are Bill West, co-chairman; Marshal North, president of the club; John Scott and Eugene Henderson, chairman.

The Professor Sez . . . by Ed Brown

Last week I informed you of the need for the schools and the community to work together on common projects that are vital to the welfare of each group. The leaders of each should try and consolidate their forces in a spirit of cooperation on any project that will make Plymouth a better community in which to live.

I know many administrators and teachers who have many good ideas on these common problems, but it seems in many cases that the teachers have been confining themselves to the classrooms rather than participating in community activities.

I know that teachers have a feeling that they are not accepted in any community as bonafide residents, but as sort of second-class citizens. I actually think that some citizens look upon teachers, and schools, as mere a n i g taxes and are therefore critical of them.

Too, many children look upon teachers in an unpleasant light simply because they mean work and grades. There are children who tell their parents weird tales about the teachers - some may be true, but many times they are just manufactured excuses for a low grade or to shift the blame from themselves.

WHAT EVER happened to the two brothers who starred in local athletics in the early 1950s after moving here from Detroit in 1951?

The older brother played a good game at end in football, had a long-stride and a fair time in the quarter-mile in track, and had a ready answer on and off the athletic field as he participated in speech and forensics for two years.

After graduation in 1953 he attended Bethany College in West Virginia where he lettered in football. Later he worked for the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia, and attended night school to further his education. At the present time he is employed in the Central office of the Chevrolet Company in the General Motors Building in Detroit. He is a Senior Quality Control Engineer there.

Our mystery guest married the former Fern Thatcher, an attractive lass from Livonia, and they live at 1311 Ross St. with their two children - Brent, who is four years old, and one-year old Barbara.

This gent still keeps in condition by playing recreational softball with the St. Peter's Lutheran team.

THE YOUNGER of the two brothers graduated in 1955 and played football, basketball and track. He was captain of the gridiron eleven in his senior year, and was known for his hard-charging rushes from the fullback slot. He is still remembered for his great play in the Belleville game of 1953 when he gained over 200 yards on the ground, and scored three touchdowns.

After graduation he entered the Marine Corps for two years and will graduate from Michigan State University this coming summer with a degree in Industrial Engineering.

Mr. X lives with his charming wife Jeanette Foreman, who was a very peppy cheerleader of that era, in Spartan village on the SU campus.

To date they have produced a future cheerleader by the name of Kristini, who is two years old, and are expecting another any day now.

Who are these former greats? Rod and Lee, Juve.

Pulitzer Prize Poet In 'Listening Post' Series

The American Association of University Women have selected as one of their speakers for the second season of the Plymouth Listening Post the 1960 Pulitzer Prize winning poet, W. D. Snodgrass who has been acclaimed by Judson Jerome of "The Antioch Review" as a candidate for immortality.

Robert Lowell considers his work "beautifully perfect and a break-through for modern poetry." He calls Mr. Snodgrass "the poet with content." His poetry also won international fame in 1961 when he received the Guinness Poetry Prize in England.

Snodgrass will share his creative thinking and highly imaginative works with his audience on Wednesday, Jan. 9, in the Senior High Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Other fields to be explored will be "Astronomy in the Rocket Age" with Dr. F. T. Haddock of the University of Michigan on Thursday, Oct. 25, and on Tuesday, March 5, the critical issue of the time will be debated by two highly qualified scholars of political science.

These programs have been selected to further the purpose of this venture in thought by providing not entertainment, but the stimulation for further study.

The proceeds from the Plymouth Listening Post are tax exempt as all profits go toward helping supporting national AAUW's Fellowship Program which last year fifty gifted women in the United States for advanced study and over $100,000 to 45 women in 31 countries abroad.

General Chairman for the Listening Post is Mrs. J. W. Moehle. Program chairman is Mrs. Sidney Cady, assisted by Mrs. R. E. Houston, Mrs. J. R. Witwer and Mrs. John Haas.

Church Youth Group to Wash Cars

Enthusiastic members of the Westminster Senior High Fellowship of First United Presbyterian Church are planning a car wash on Saturday, April 21, the proceeds of which will help to finance a summer service project.

The planned project, a trip to Canyon, W. Va., for the purpose of painting and roofing an old church located there, will complete a successful year for the Fellowship. Other jobs will include landscaping the church grounds and other odd jobs around the small, mining community. Date for the project is June 17-24.

With this in mind, the Fellowship organized the car wash and set the time and place as 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. this coming Saturday at West Brothers garage on Forest Ave.

Applications for this project are being taken from members through the facilities of

Men In Service

William Brown
Army Pvt. William D. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Brown, 661 Holbrook, recently was assigned to the newly activated 5th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo.

The 5th Infantry Division is one of two new active Army divisions created last February to raise the Regular Army division strength to 16. The division is organized as a ROAD (Reorganization of Army Divisions) mechanized division, one of the first ROAD divisions to be created. The ROAD concept was developed to meet the need for greater flexibility and combat power in modern Army divisions.

An automotive repairman in Headquarters and Company A of the division's 705th Maintenance Battalion at the fort, Brown completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Plymouth High School.

Douglas Rowe

Army Pvt. Douglas S. Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton S. Rowe, 39936 Ford Rd., Plymouth, recently arrived in Germany and is now assigned to the 87th Ordnance Battalion.

Rowe, a radio operator in the battalion's 504th Company in Stuttgart, entered the Army last October and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Rowe, a radio operator in the battalion's 504th Company in Stuttgart, entered the Army last October and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Plymouth High School and attended the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and Ferris Institute in Big Rapids. Before entering the Army he was employed by Warden Specialty and Machine Company.

Sorority to Hear Talk on Hypnosis

The Northwest Suburban Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta Sorority will hold its regular monthly meeting, Monday, April 16, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Prodehl of Livonia.

Dr. H. A. Pierce will speak on the fascinating subject, "Hypnosis" — Its Medical Use.

Co-hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. John Heaphy and Mrs. Edward Brudna, both of Livonia.

All Kappa Delta Alumnae in the Plymouth area are looking forward to State Day which will be held this year on April 28 at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

A CONTEST AMONG Gallimore School pupils to name the May 19 carnival ended in a tie when Patricia Ann Hampton, left, and Nancy Prince selected "Galli-Fun." They are shown with Mrs. William Sprengel, general chairman, and Principal Earl Gibson. Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Berl Hampton, 47611 Ford, while Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Prince, 9045 Brookline. Their prizes were carnival tickets.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Eaton,
The Executive Board of the Plymouth Symphony Society would like to express its gratitude for the fine cooperation offered by The Plymouth Mail in assisting us with our publicity and printing matters. The generosity shown by the many pictures, your recent editorial mention and numerous other kindnesses are most appreciated. Such public-spirited gestures as these on the part of so many loyal friends have enabled the Symphony to grow and to develop into a group that is a pride of the community. Thank you again.

Joyce Foust,

Volunteers Help Home Meet Job Despite Cut

by Jean Campau
Set among acres of softly rolling land, the main modern structure of brick, steel and glass rises like a beacon of hope to parents of those in the "neither" world.

To several hundred children, ranging in age from birth to 14 years, The Plymouth State Home and Training School is the only home they know.

It is somehow disquieting to the visitor, as he walks the corridors of this beautiful building, to look upon the plight of these, the mentally retarded.

THE PLIGHT is not really with the children, for they are happy and content. The dilemma, on the part of the Home, emanates from lack of funds, chiefly.

Working on a severely cut budget, the paid staff of doctors, nurses and attendants have come to depend heavily on volunteer workers.

For each paid hospital helper there are 11 children to be fed, washed and dressed daily, seven days a week, week in and week out. Not to mention all the heads that need brushing and combing and teeth that have to be scrubbed.

Nearly a year ago, Beverly Goldsmith of Plymouth spearheaded a movement to enlist volunteers. The Auxiliary ranks have grown in the time since, to 105. Twice, three times that many are urgently needed.

These women, drawn from Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Ypsilanti, Livonia, Farmington, Northville and Plymouth release the professional from the routine tasks for specialized duty.

In the Lend-Aid Program, volunteers may select a number of challenging jobs from working directly with the children to office duties.

During the hours of 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., one might choose to help feed the children or work in the recreation program with them.

These youngsters respond warmly to read-aloud stories, listening to records or being sung to.

If keeping medical records, typing, filing, switchboard or reception work is more to your liking, the field is wide open.

THE PHYSICAL Therapy Program, after an eight-week training course, would enable you to help children learn to walk, or strengthen arm, leg or back muscles. Many of these retarded youngsters are also handicapped by blindness, deafness, orthopedic afflictions and disorders of the central nervous system.

There is a similar need for evening workers in the same classifications from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Preparing a host of children for bed each night is a whopping chore, as any mother of normal children can verify.

Irene Tapp, of Plymouth, volunteer physical therapy supervisor, says, "Whatever the volunteer does in the hospital, we're all working for one purpose, the children. It is work, but I love it. It's a wonderful feeling when some child you have been working with looks up at you, with an expression of un-mixed love and smiles."

The administrative staff, which, among others, includes Dr. Robert I. Jaslow, medical superintendent; George Ebling, administrative assistant to the superintendent; George Andrews, physical therapy chief and Dr. Zui Hart, director of the out-patient clinic, are all dedicated and enthusiastic in their role of helping the retarded child, but without a willing and populous volunteer staff, the work must necessarily be curtailed.

Currently Plymouth's Senior Citizens are making belts and standing chairs for the young resident patients.

Other means of helping may be in the form of donations of children's clothing, books, recreational equipment and toys.

Several funds have been established to which local clubs and organizations may contribute. All money received is carefully accounted for and used only for the purpose given.

These accounts include: Patient Benefit, Orthopedic, Library, Physical Therapy and Research and Educational funds.

A conducted tour through the Plymouth State Home and Training School will show you, firsthand, the areas in which your services would be most appreciated.

For more information call the Volunteer Office at GL 3-1500.

MRS. FRANK HENDERSON of 401 Sunset, spends each Wednesday at the Plymouth State Home and Training School. She has discovered, along with the other volunteers, the spontaneous warmth the children show to the love and attention given them. Mrs. Henderson's volunteer duties include feeding the children, reading stories and playing games. She is shown here with Bruce M., as they make their way to the playground. "I enjoy my work with the children so much," says Mrs. Henderson, "and despite their handicaps, as a rule they are very cheery and good natured."

A STEP AT A TIME along the parallel bars is the means with which this child is learning to walk. A few months ago she could not. Today, under the gentle and patient care of a Volunteer, who has been hospital-trained as a physical therapist, the future of this youngster is brighter. Through increased enrollment in the Volunteer Lend-Aid program, many children can be given individual attention that will help them to help themselves.

The inspirational words of the Angel — "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" — emphasize the Saviour's promise of eternal life. The newness of life is a beautiful thing — making Easter a joyous time for Christians the world over.

GRAHM'S CHATTER

by Millie Rostow

This is a busy week. Eggs, dozens of them are being colored, don't know who has the most fun, the grown-ups who hide them or the children who hunt for them.

Mothers are trying to answer the age old question... do bunnies really lay eggs? The fluffy white rabbit and the little colored chickens look so cute in the nest but what will we do with them later? Ministers are burning the midnight oil preparing sermons. Choirs are rehearsing all over town, can just hear the Director saying... "sing, come on everybody... sing... let's try it just once more!" Churches are being decorated, Florists are working overtime, communion silver is being polished. There will be candlelight services, Good Friday services, everybody is invited to worship. Chimes are ringing and that something-good-is-about-to-happen feeling is abounding all over the land.

And finally the Easter Morning, the time for hope and new beginning. The overflowing churches proclaim the boundless joy of our faith, the Easter flowers fearlessly challenge the claim of death's dark domain by the renewing glory of Spring!

Is it any wonder that women want new frocks and bonnets? Why, it is as natural as life itself because you realize you are privileged to live in this world and you want to be worthy of it. Like everyone else we are busy at Graham's with late minute preparations. The late arrival of new merchandise, coats, suits, dresses. Maybe you feel so good about it all you would like to remember someone with an Easter gift. We have many suggestions, a filmy nightgown, the sheepest of silk stockings, a sparkling costume jewelry pin... we will be most happy to gift wrap them for you.

If you want to be the grandest lady in the Easter Parade, we invite you to stop today and remember the place, it is Graham's in the center of Plymouth!

Allen School To Name Patroller To Capital Trip

Boys and girls from Michigan communities to be represented by an outstanding safety patrol member at the 26th National AAA Safety Patrol Rally in Washington, D.C., May 12, it was announced today by Automobile Club of Michigan.

Some 120 safety patrol boys and girls will make up the Michigan delegation to the annual rally. Individual patrollers have not yet been chosen, according to Ernest P. Davis, Auto Club safety director. The Auto Club selects the school or schools to represent a community on the basis of their patrollers' performance and efficiency during the past year, said Davis. Schools then have the honor of nominating their outstanding patroller to attend.

Allen School has been named by Auto Club to send a patroller to this year's rally. He or she will make the four-day, all-expense-paid trip as Auto Club's guest.

Canton Township Firemen Save Home Despite Wind

By Clara Witherby GL 3-7435

The Canton Township Fire Department received a call Thursday at 4:58 p.m. to a fire at 7752 Canton Center Rd. The home is occupied by the Fred Barham family. A garage, six feet from the house, was completely destroyed. Heat radiated from the garage ignited the exposed east side of the house and worked its way into the basement, kitchen and attic of the kitchen. Fire in this wing was brought under control before it reached the other parts of the house, but heat and smoke did cause damage to other rooms.

Firemen brought the blaze under control in 15 minutes. There were 2,200 gallons of water used.

Because it was during the after-work rush hour, throngs of spectators jammed Canton Center Rd. and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department managed to keep traffic moving. Cause of the fire has not yet been determined. The Sheriff's department is assisting in the investigation. Fire Chief Korte has offered his thanks to the Plymouth and Superior Township departments for their tank trucks without whose help the house could not have been saved, and to the Sheriff's Department. The owner of the house is Ray Lawrence of Boyne City.

Ralph Lefler, scoutmaster of Troop 298, wishes to thank all who took part in making the troop's Pancake Supper last Thursday evening such a success, particularly the Assistant Scoutmaster John Thorpe and the committee men; Rev. Neiman, Sid Easten, Caswell Harper, Bill Hough, Stanley West, Stanley Crone and Troy Stanley. A Court of Honor was held two weeks ago with 14 boys receiving awards. Seven 2nd class badges were issued. Twelve merit badges were given out for two-year service, along with three 1st, and two Tenderfoot badges. The boys have four days' Camping credit so far this year. The entire troop participated in Sunset District campout held at Bishop Lake in January with the temperature at zero. The troop took 2nd and 3rd awards for various activities. Any boy wishing to join can see Scoutmaster Lefler, any Boy Scout or committeeman. They wish to increase the troop. A paper drive was held in March and is still in force for anyone wishing to contribute.

Mrs. Barkley of Gyde Rd. drove four members of the Kenyon Extension Club to J. L. Hudson's in Detroit for a lecture and a tour of 12 model rooms, John Mitchell of Hudson's was the speaker, an interior decorating. A meeting is scheduled for April 19 at the home of Mrs. John Schroeder on Ridge Rd. There will be an election of officers at this meeting. All who would be interested in joining this group can contact Mrs. Russell McGraw of Warren Road GL 3-5281.

Mrs. Harry Gaylord of Elmhurst Rd. proudly announces the birth of a new grandson, Jeffery Thomas, born April 9. The parents are Gerry and Brenda Rolston of Detroit.

The Walker Mothers' Club of Canton Township was presented with a check for $250 for the summer recreation program of Canton School children at the Township meeting Tuesday evening, April 10. Present to receive the check were Mrs. Sybil McDowell and Mrs. Helen Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin French brought their four-year-old son home from the hospital April 10 after a tonsilectomy. He has been a very sick little boy and must stay in bed for

Jerry Walsh Is Subject of Article

A five-page article on the home and business life of Jerry Walsh, a district manager of the Woodmen Accident and Life Company, appeared last month in the firm's magazine, "Waco."

Walsh has his office at the Woodmen office in Plymouth, headed by agency manager Fabe Mirto. A resident of Livonia, he was the sixth ranking business producer for Woodmen in 1961 in the field of life, accident, health and group insurance.

The magazine article was one of a "This Is The Life" series telling how members of the firm's resident's Club live. It shows the district manager dealing with one of his clients, the Winter Seal company in Livonia. It also has an article by his wife, Marian, telling about her husband's home life. They are members of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Plymouth and the couple has three children.

Denies Reports Of Excess Profits

Addressing the annual meeting of the Western Electric Company, President H. I. Romnes denied reports emanating from hearings of the Senate investigations subcommittee that his company had taken profits for the work of other companies in the course of the NIKE missile program.

He characterized the profit percentages that had been ascribed to Nike contractors as "grossly inflated" and attributed them to "statistical manipulations" without pertinence to sound business practice.

Since 1945, when Western Electric first became prime contractor on NIKE, Western Electric's total profits from the program have amounted to only 3 1/2 cents per dollar of sales, Romnes pointed out.

Rocks Still Wait

The "waiting game" that Plymouth High has endured these past weeks is about to end. The Rocks, caught in the clutch of inactivity — other than practice sessions — since the end of the winter sports schedule, are about to break loose. Already, the varsity tennis squad has opened its share of the 1962 spring campaign. (See story elsewhere on this page.) However, still awaiting the opening of official action are coaches of three other sports. Mike Hoben leads off Thursday when the varsity baseball squad hosts Dearborn High on the diamond behind the high school.

Bryan Borning, Hoben's counterpart in charge of the JayVee baseball team, will stick to practice sessions until April 30 when Bentley High visits.

And Keith Baughman, track coach, must wait until May 4 for the opening track meet. It's an engagement with Belleville there. Oddly, the Plymouth track team will have only one of six track meets at home this spring. The other matches will be on the road.

John Sandmann, athletic director who doubles as golf coach, got his season underway last Monday. The results were not available at press time, however.

Another golf meet is scheduled for tonight (Wed., April 18) against Redford Union High there.

The tennis team had a second match yesterday (Tuesday) against Trenton. Again the results were not immediately available.

June 2nd Reunion Planned for Grads

Class Reunion plans are now underway for Wayne High School graduates from 1920 to 1930.

They will meet at the Colonial House on Telegraph Rd. four and a half miles south of Michigan Ave., for dinner on June 2 at 6:30 p.m.

Deadline for supper reservations is May 31. Tickets and further information may be obtained from fellow classmates or by calling Miss Norma Procter at PA 1-3449.

-SPORTSEEN-

By Jerome O'Neil

Much like the bridge hand comprised only of four kings and nine considerably lesser cards, we have just "faces and spaces" this deal —

As the Plymouth Community Junior League program (formerly Little League) gets underway this spring, one of the "spaces" becomes evident within the ranks of league officers.

The gap was caused by the recent death of Charlie Beegle, a 1929 graduate of Plymouth High where he was an outstanding athlete and who, over the years, became still better known here for his association with Davis & Lent.

His death, felt most keenly of course by his immediate family, is also felt sharply by the Plymouth Junior League program.

Not so much because Charlie filled a job that no one else within the program could assume, but more over because he was one of a very few individuals who served as the driving force behind the organization of the league.

His sincerity of interest, his personal determination along with his forethought and unselfishness helped immensely in making the Junior League a reality two years ago — and as much so as the efforts of any one other person.

These words are only to make it clear that our community is genuinely grateful to him, and that Charlie Beegle will be missed by the Junior Leaguers this season and in the seasons to come.

Elsewhere, one of the "faces" belongs to Ken Knipschild, also a former star athlete at Plymouth.

Knipschild, now a student at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, figures heavily in Central's varsity baseball fortunes this spring.

A pitcher, Ken was slated to take the mound for Central Michigan in the opening game April 11 against Northern Illinois. In his high school days, Knipschild was a member of the baseball and basketball teams here.

While not being a particularly devoted student of professional baseball, it still seems to this desk that the Detroit Tigers might weather the storm of concern over their pitching problems during spring training.

This observation is made primarily on the basis of Friday's 5-3 victory over the visiting New York Yankees. But other factors enter in, too.

When Frank Lary can handuff the Yanks for seven innings, and when Jim Bunning can relieve so effectively as he did — to the extent of getting Roger Maris to pop up for the last out — there is evidence of a considerable degree of strength there.

Besides that, no championship was on the block during the Grapefruit League season. It somehow becomes different when the teams settle down for the long summer pull that leads to a pennant in October.

Two old golf tales seem a fitting climax — The first deals with a particularly unskilled dufer who was playing his first few holes at a plush country club lay-out. His caddy, who had lugged clubs for the best of them, had become weary of his current sponsor's miserable attempts.

After hashing up a decidedly large piece of landscape and having slammed one good-sized divot nearly 30 yards with a five iron, the golfer turned to his caddy in despair:

"What'll I do?" he asked the caddy. "Take that last divot home and practice on it," was the candid reply.

Which seems to be too often the case with many of us lesser lights at this time of the season.

The second tale depicts a more studious attitude. Teeing off one day at the first hole at Hilltop, a golfer hooked one toward Powell Road. It smashed the windshield of a passing car.

The motorist hailed a policeman moments later and the cop caught up with the golfer on the fifth tee. "Quite a mess you made there," the officer said to the golfer. "Whadduya intend to do about it?"

Replied the "golfer, squinting into the afternoon sun: "Maybe I better turn my wrists a little and move my foot up a bit."

Tennis Team Hot in Opener

Plymouth's tennis opening victory. (In tennis, Frosh are allowed to compete under Suburban Six League rules.)

The two Frosh were Dave Tidwell and Bob Waters. They combined efforts to sweep the Nos. 1 and 2 singles.

Tidwell swept his match in two sets, 6-0 and 6-2, while Waters won, 6-4 and 6-1.

Another freshman, Jim Bruff, was narrowly defeated in the No. 3 singles. He lost on scores of 4-6 and 3-6.

Phil Huxley, a junior, captured the No. 4 single match on the strength of them freshmen.

Identical 6-0 shut-outs. The Rocks went on to sweep all three of the doubles matches.

Tom Lock and Dale Livingston won, 6-0, 6-0. Linc Smith and Jim Jensen combined talents for a 6-2, 6-4 victory and Otto Dobos and Al Larson also were victorious.

Helping in the tennis coaching department is Jim Stevens, a former Plymouth tennis star who was recently named pro of the Ann Arbor tennis club. There are 20 boys on the Plymouth tennis squad, with nearly a third match on the strength of them freshmen.

Display Changes At Library

Three more artists have put their work on display at Dunning-Hough Library this month. They are Beverly Shankwiler of Wayne, Mrs. L. Dean Schmiedeke of Plymouth and Bette Spaeth of Northville. The exhibit is changed periodically by the Three Cities Art Club. Mrs. Schmiedeke, a photography teacher at Ann Arbor High School, is displaying lithographic prints, using the old technique of stone lithography. A print is made from an inked stone.

The original drawing for a print is made on a blue-gray limestone slab weighing about 50 pounds. After the stone's surface is ground with carbundum grit and water, the composition is drawn with a crayon or an ink of grease mixed with carbon. The stone is then etched or fixed with a solution.

The subsequent process depends on the fact that grease and water are mutually repellent. The face of the stone is sponged with water and the areas untouched by the grease absorb the water, leaving the greasy areas dry. When the greasy printer's ink is rolled over the stone, the greased areas attract the ink leaving the wet areas clear, but releasing the ink when paper is pressed tightly against the stone by the scraping action of the lithographic press.

Mrs. Shankwiler has exhibited her paintings in many area shows. She received her instruction at the Gallery of Fine Arts in Birmingham. Mrs. Spaeth attended Kansas City Art Institute and School of Design and has taken private lessons at different times.

DO YOU NEED A DETROIT ALPHABETICAL TELEPHONE DIRECTORY? Many of our customers do. The new Detroit telephone directory is just off the press.

If you'd like one, just call 453-9900 or stop in at your local business office to obtain your copy. You automatically receive the West and Downriver area directory, which lists — alphabetically — the numbers of all customers in this area.

And what happier time to get a lovely new extension phone? It puts your calls close at hand in the bedroom, kitchen, den, or basement playroom. Think of the steps you'll save—for only pennies a day. And you can choose a style to fit your needs. A lovely PRINCESS phone—little, lovely, with a night light, too. Or a convenient wall phone for busy housewives. Or a desk phone for Dad in the den. All are available in colors to add springtime sparkle to your home. To order, just call our business office.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

may have been a housewife's dream where the prices of butter and eggs and a lot of household things were concerned, but here's an exception: Long Distance rates actually cost less today than they did then! In 1923, for example, a 3-minute evening station call from Lansing to San Francisco cost $6.40. The charge tonight? Just $1.65, plus tax. It's another way efficiencies in the telephone business make your service a bigger value than ever before.

by George Spelvin
Opening night last week of "Bravo Giovanni" at the Fisher Theater was attended by over one hundred Plymouth citizens as part of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra Theater party. Robert Weber, Betty DeMorest, Helen Gilbert, the Harold Fischers were a few of the "First Nighters" old George recognized. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kelly had increased their family party by five. Five High School boys that worked day and night to get the recent Sunday concert backstage work in tip-top shape were guests of the Kellys as a special reward for their diligent efforts.

WHAT OF THE SHOW? Did "Bravo Giovanni" provide a gala evening for the Symphony benefit party? At intermission time Plymouthites chatted about a rousing first act in which Cesare Siepi, Michele Lee, Marie Karnilova, and David Opatoshu could do no wrong. The dancing was peppy, plentiful, and packed with the vim and vigor that only Carol Haney can give it. Singing—tremendous. Who could find fault with the basso profundo of Siepi? What's good enough for the Met was more than adequate for the meager musical comedy stage. And Michele Lee has a voice that booms out of her petite, well-proportioned body with such power that you feel the rafters are ringing for sure. Comedy—loads of it in the capable hands of Mr. Opatoshu.

High praise was in the air during intermission. All the stops were out—this show was a hit. "Bravo Giovanni" looked to be a winner in the Broadway sweepstakes. All of us went back to our seats with a big smile on our lips. We were watching the makings of a smash hit. And then came the second act.

RIGHT IN front of everyone's eyes the brilliant pace of Act One slowed to a walk. The story slipped, staggered and all but disappeared. The music lost its melodic quality. Even the dancers disappeared and became ordinary folk wandering around in Rome. The minutes that flew by in Act One suddenly became hours. A wild kitchen scene toward the end of Act Two—did what it could to revive the spirit—but it was too late. "Bravo Giovanni" had bogged down to plain not-so-bravo "Giovanni".

After the performance I chatted with Ronny Graham who did the lyrics and he quite frankly admitted that the second act needed work. He indicated they had five weeks to bring it around. I hope the writers, choreographers, and composers can turn the trick and come up with a new second act that will be as lively as the first.

Old George would suggest the following changes: use the lovely song "Camminare" in Act Two...change the lyrics so that it becomes the love ballad for Miranda; eliminate the previous version of the price war that opens the act...make this into a rousing musical similar to "Uriti" that opens the show; expand the Uriti kitchen scene to a full-blown hectic modern ballet with music instead of irritating, discordant sounds as a background; let Miranda's song "Here I Am", junk "Jump In" and rewrite this patter song so that it provides Madame Pandolfi with more opportunity to dance; and finally, forget the two level ending and let Giovanni discover some gold in his Etruscan statue. I have hundreds of more constructive suggestions that will cost considerable money, but since the backers have gone this far and are close to having a hit, they might as well cough up some more "coin of the realm." I'll mail my revised second act to them in the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Heft, staunch members of the Plymouth Theater Guild, were unable to attend the benefit performance of "Bravo Giovanni" since they were busy rehearsing "The Curious Savage." Merl appears for the second time this season, having exercised his histrionic ability in the Guild's "Biggest Thief" production. Saxie, his vivacious wife, has the happy part of Fairy Mae in the comic "Curious Savage." Seats are now on sale at the Melody House for all lovers of good comedy. Next week is opening night (April 26) for our local thespians. Plan now to organize a theater party to see "The Curious Savage."

OPERA DEVOTEES should be alerted that "The Merry Wives of Windsor" will be presented in Ann Arbor by the University of Michigan's School of Music at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater. Tickets go on sale Monday, April 23 and are usually snapped up quite rapidly. Production opens on Thursday, April 26 and runs until Tuesday, May 2. You can mail your orders in right now and still obtain seats.

Local Boy Placed on Air Force Honor Roll

Richard Aldrich

Airman Third Class Richard G. Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Aldrich, 14657 Robinwood Dr., has been placed on the honor roll at a Radio Relay Equipment

Repairman Course conducted at the Technical Training Center, at Kessler Air Force Base, Miss.

"His achievement is noteworthy in that less than five per cent of our students are placed on the honor roll," the school announced. "He is a student who takes pride in his academic accomplishments and is intensely interested in learning a great deal in the complex field of electronics." Major Wickliff H. Horne wrote his parents.

"A COMMUNITY DOES NOT ENDURE BY THE WORK OF HIRELINGS. A COMMUNITY ENDURES WHEN ITS LEAST AND ITS GREATEST CITIZEN LOVE IT ALIKE AND WILL LIVE AND WORK AND DIE THAT IT MAY BE GLORIOUS."

thought would be of special interest to local residents. Most appreciated by the Society were the items which included a complete 1875 lady's costume, an 1830 quilt made of dated squares and to top it all off a check in memory of her father for $1,000.00 to help complete and expand work on this worthwhile undertaking.

Needless to say the Historical Society was most appreciative of the gifts and we might add we hope Mrs. Archibald's charity and thoughtfulness will encourage others to follow suit.

If your spirits are especially low after sending Uncle Sam your annual contribution you might find relief, if you can afford it, by visiting Kurt Thrun and buying yourself a ticket and going to Europe . . . you wouldn't have your money, but at least you would be close to it.

Several years ago, in the house just south of Cadillac Drapery, on Main Street, the National Foundation for Arthritis and Rheumatism actually became a reality. True, there were two or three struggling Arthritis groups in this country at that time, but under the direction and efforts of former Plymouthite, Dr. Charley Smyth, and Dr. William Robinson of Ann Arbor, then a young and sincere student of this affliction, the first real solid organization came into being.

It was during this time that they recruited my interest in their work and I became a member of the first organization that put the National Foundation on its feet. Times and circumstances have changed . . . The National Foundation for Arthritis and Rheumatism today is one of the largest of all national foundations in the country. Dr. Charley Smyth is now head of the medical department at the University of Colorado Hospital in Denver, and Dr. Robinson is now head of the Internal Medicine department at the University of Michigan Hospital. Why all the above . . . only to tell you that Dr. Robinson has summoned me to be his guest for the next few days in his great institution while he checks to see if I'm still ticking. Should this column not appear next week it will be because he was a little rough, and I hope I'll be recovering from what ever he might prescribe.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary News

Inez Belogradich was initiated into the membership of the Auxiliary at the last meeting. Eleanor Gust as a representative of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, a Torch Drive Agency, gave an interesting explanation of the functions of the organization. She told of the needs of the organization for supplies and workers. Eleanor is a very active worker in the center in Dearborn.

Many of our Auxiliary members participated in the work at the local center. There is always a need for more. If you have time and can work for one, two, or more hours, your help will be very much appreciated.

Jennie Tallmadge has collected Christmas cards and took 3289 of them to the retarded children at Our Lady of Providence. Jennie is still collecting and will make another trip in the near future. Bring your cards to the next meeting or call her for a pickup. These cards are put to good use and provide a means of entertainment for the children.

Grace Burley, Lucinda Archer, Hilda Barnes, and

Hilda Rorabacher were guests of honor at the Senior Citizens party immediately following the meeting. We understand that Betty Marquis is recuperating nicely from her fall resulting in a broken arm.

The next District Rally will be May 6 at Allen Park. This is the election meeting and all of the newly elected delegates should plan on attending or see that an alternate is available to take her place.

We are still a few short of having 100 percent paid-up membership. If you are one of the members who has not paid, please try to do so before April 25 so that we will still have a chance to qualify. If you have not paid by April 30th and want to have the cancer insurance coverage, you may have to go through a six-month waiting period after reinstatement for pre-existing conditions.

The winners of the Essay Contest will be announced at the next meeting. A rummage sale is scheduled for May with Mary Schwartz as chairman.

Knights Templar Install Officers

L. Clay Weathers, of Plymouth, is the new eminent commander of Northville Commandery No. 39, Knights Templar. He succeeded George J. Anderson, during the 75th annual installation rites in Northville Masonic Temple, Saturday evening, April 14th. The ceremonies were public.

Others that were inducted for the next year are Lawrence M. Miller, generalissimo; Edward D. McCarthy, captain general; Walter D. Hutchins, senior warden; Earl K. May, junior warden; Wilfred J. Lussier, P. C., prelate; John S. Battle, associate prelate; Eldred H. Huff, treasurer; C. Ray VanValkenburgh, P. C., recorder; Herman A. Wedemeyer, standard bearer; George W. Srock, sword bearer; Ernest R. Gartz, warden and Ward A. Cook, sentinel. Also installed as guards were William A. Bush, Clarence G. Spear and Kenneth J. Sleeth.

Charles S. McIntyre, P. C., Monroe Commandery No. 19, K.T., a right eminent past grand commander, Grand Commandery Knights Templar of Michigan, officiated as installing officer with Clifton C. Gray, P. C., as aide. Rolland H. Steeb, P. C., as grand marshal; Harrison H. Caswell, P. C., acting grand prelate, and G. Louis Balch, P. C., director of ceremonies, assisted McIntyre in the impressive Templar rites.

The Northville Commandery was organized by dispensation from the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Michigan, May 11, 1886. It was granted its charter on May 11, and constituted a commandery on June 7, 1887.
