Celebration Starts Thursday

Plymouth's now famous Fall Festival, bigger and better than ever, will open this Thursday with daily events and will close Sunday when some 4,000 people are expected to come to dinner, joined by hundreds more to take in a host of events, exhibits and entertainment.

This is the third year that the Fall Festival has been staged in Kellogg Park in the middle of Plymouth's downtown and each year the event has grown a little larger.

The Plymouth Rotary Club originated the Fall Festival and still serves up the charcoal-broiled chicken dinners, but many other organizations have joined in on the day.

The Fall Festival this year is getting a three-day head-start with a series of activities starting Thursday night. (See adjoining schedule for daily happenings.)

4,000 Chicken Dinners
Sunday's events start at 12:30 and end at 6:30.

Rotarians are counting on 4,000 to eat there during the afternoon. Huge barbecue pits broiling hundreds of chicken halves at a time will be located in the vacant lot between the Penn Theatre and Masonic Temple. Picnic tables will be set for hundreds in the park across the street.

The menu consists of a half chicken, corn on the cob, potato chips, roll and coffee or milk. Tickets, costing $1.50 for adults and $1 for children under 12 are now on sale at most stores.

Sweet corn will be roasted by steam from a live steam traction engine brought to the site by Wilfred Bunyca. Soft drinks and ice cream will also be served on the grounds.

But besides the delicious food promised by the Rotarians, there will be plenty of other activity.

Afternoon Entertainment
The Plymouth Community Band will have a performance during the afternoon. A barbershop quartet is also scheduled to sing.

The stage, set up on Penniman Ave. in front of the Penn Theatre, will also have two performances by students of the Plymouth School of Dance. Under the supervision of Mild and Linda Stammitz, directors of the Plymouth School of Dance, the following presentations will be offered: Petite Ballerinas, Little Starlet, Buck Tap Dance, Polka Dolls, Ballet in White, Soft Shoe Tap, Pas de Deux and the Hep Cats.

Antique Cars Rumble in
Around noon, some 35 antique automobiles will converge upon the City. Members of an antique car club in Detroit, the group will arrive for dinner. Afterwards they will go to the Hillside Inn Parking Lot for picture-taking and then form a parade through town.

Invited to join the antique cars this year was Dale Blair of Upper Sandusky, O., owner of the only known Alter car. The Alter was manufactured in Plymouth in 1916. Blair reports his car is now in storage, so won't be able to attend.

Art Displays
The Three Cities Art Club will hold its annual exhibit in connection with the Fall Festival. Scores of paintings and other forms of art will be on display. Artists will also illustrate painting methods and pottery making.

A puppet show will also be part of the Art Club display.

The Marion Sober Studio will have an exhibit of weaving, caning and painting. There will also be a display of art of Plymouth school children.

Historical Displays
The Plymouth Historical Society will provide a display of photographs of old Plymouth homes and their histories. The Historical Museum beside City Hall will also be open during the afternoon. The museum itself can provide an afternoon of education.

Theatrical Events
There will be two separate theatrical events during the afternoon, one by the Plymouth High School Thespians and the other by the apprentice Workshop of the Plymouth Theatre Guild.

The Apprentice Workshop players will offer a pantomime "When the Lamp Went Out" at the western end of Kellogg Park. There will be no charge for the one act melodrama.

Across Ann Arbor Trail at Saxton's Farm and Garden Store, the Thespians will present, "Big, Bad Freddie," a spoof of all the westerns from Tom Mix to Gunsmoke. Thespians are charging 10 cents to help send themselves to Stratford, Ont.

Other Features
Those buying tickets to the chicken dinner also are in line for children's prizes. A bicycle and a half dozen other prizes are being given.

Both the Plymouth Symphony and the American Association of University Women will have booths where they can discuss their cultural projects with interested people.

Adventure-Lovers Begin New Film Trek Oct. 27

So popular was the Travel and Adventure Series in Plymouth last year that the Plymouth Lions Club announced this week that it will again sponsor the series with the first program set for Saturday, Oct. 27.

Between 500 and 600 people attended each of the series of six travelogues last year. Proceeds are used by the Lions Club to expand their service activities in the community.

Held in the Plymouth Junior High School-East, all programs are held on Saturday nights and begin at 8 p.m.

Lions Club members are now selling season tickets. They are also available at National Bank of Detroit, The Photographic Center and West Mercury-Comet. They cost $5 for adults and $4 for students.

These are the travelogue dates and the speakers:

Pair Caught In Window Smash Spree
FOURTEEN OF these glass blocks in the High School gym were broken, along with five other windows, by two young men last week. The High School was one of their many stops during the night. Maintenance man Charles Dennis is shown inspecting the damage. Many other windows were broken throughout the community, including business establishments, a home, a factory, another school and in many cars.

Two Plymouth area young men who went on a window-smashing spree last Tuesday night have been bound over to circuit court on charges of willful and maliciously destroying property. They broke windows in cars, business places, a factory, schools and a home with the loss estimated by police at between $2,000 and $3,000.

Adults Heading Back To Classrooms, Too

While over 5,000 Plymouth children will be heading back to class this week, hundreds of adults will be flocking into the classrooms during September and October for the Plymouth Recreation & Adult Education activities.

There will be 65 courses offered for the Fall Term, according to Herbert Woolweaver, the director. Registration for the courses will take place Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 17 and 18 during the day and evening at the High School. During the remainder of the week, (Sept. 19-22), registration will be during the daytime only.

There will be seven new courses offered this year. Woolweaver pointed out. These include a Monday night class, The Brain Damaged Child, for parents who have children with this affliction.

On Tuesday night are classes on Beef Production and Horsemanship, Metallurgy and Intermediate Organ.

There are also three new classes on Thursday night, Animal Husbandry, Nuclear Energy and South American Dancing.

Five credit courses offered by Eastern Michigan University are scheduled for Thursday. While the 2-hour credit courses are mainly for those in education, they may be taken by anyone.

Here are the day-by-day classes offered, the starting date, length of the course and fees:

The men are Douglas Ward, 21, of 4182 Five Mile Rd., and George Schweim, 19, of 4975 Gottfredson.

Plymouth police said that the two, riding in Schweim's car, loaded bricks twice into the car for the ride of destruction. The bricks were taken from a lot on Robinwood Dr. in Lake Pointe Village where a home is being built.

By the next morning, City police had received 15 complaints. Northville reported they had at least a half dozen and the Wayne County Road Patrol also received some in the Plymouth Township area.

Damage at the High School was estimated at $300. Assistant Chief Loren Johnson said. It included 14 glass blocks in the gym, a large plate glass on the new stairwell above the main entrance and several other panes.

Our Lady of Good Counsel School had a Thermomane glass broken costing $118. There was also a show window at Heide's Greenhouse, a window at Hay's Pure Service, a window at the William Felber home on Adams St., a window at Bethany Manufacturing, where Schweim worked.

There were also 10 cars within the City limits with

Pets Go On Parade Saturday

As the Fall Festival swings into action, children 15 years of age and under are busy grooming their pets for the Plymouth Pet Show, which will be held this Saturday, Sept. 8.

The show, sponsored by the Recreation Department of Plymouth Community Schools, will be held in the Central Parking Lot, near Harvey St., beginning at 9 a.m. If it rains Saturday morning, the show will be cancelled.

Judges for the show will be Dr. Clifford McClumpha, of Parkway Veterinary Clinic; Kenneth Fisher, Director of Public Safety; and Miss Cynthia Eaton, of the Plymouth Mall.

Entry forms are available at the Plymouth Mall, 271 S. Main St., and at the Chamber of Commerce office at 455 S. Main St. Forms may also be obtained at the Pet Show.

Children under 10 years of age exhibiting pets must be accompanied by an adult. All dogs, cats and other large pets (that is, pets that are too large to be held in entrants' hand) must be on a leash and dogs must wear their license tags.

First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each class. Pets may be entered in more than one class, but in only one group. Decisions of the judges will be final. In addition, each entrant will receive a pass for a Saturday matinee in October at the Penn Theatre.

Judging of the dog group will begin at 9 a.m. Prizes will be given for 1) best behaved, 2) best tricks, 3) best groomed, 4) friendliest, 5) largest, 6) smallest, 7) shaggiest, 8) best of group.

Judging for the cat group will begin at 10 a.m. Prizes will be given for 1) best groomed, 2) best of class, 3) longest hair, 4) largest, 5) smallest, 6) cutest.

Judging for pets other than dogs and cats will begin at 10:30 a.m. Prizes will be given for 1) most unusual, 2) funniest, 3) cutest 4) largest, 5) smallest, 6) best of group. Entrants must have their entry forms with them to be eligible to enter the Show.

Detroit Found With Marijuana

Marijuana cigaret, stolen radios and a bad check were among the items listed in the police news during the past week.

William Caldwell, 28, of 2305 W. Boston Boulevard, Detroit, was charged with possession of narcotics by Plymouth police. Police had received a call to the apartment building at 444 Plymouth Rd., stating that someone was in the parking lot.

Caldwell drove away as police drove up, but they caught up with him. They found the marijuana cigaret on the floor of the back seat. The cigaret was sent to the State Police lab at East Lansing for verification. Caldwell was using the cigaret himself, Assistant Chief Loren Johnson said.

Club Aims for Two-Stager

Rocketeers Shoot 'em High

Attention all world-wide tracking stations... If you should see an unidentified rocket circling the earth, please get in touch with the Plymouth Amateur Rocket Society...

The Plymouth Amateur Rocket Society (PARS) doesn't really think it has a rocket circling the earth. On the other hand, they lost track of the one they sent up last Wednesday and no one saw it fall.

This group, composed of boys 12 and 13 years of age, had its biggest success in its one-year history last Wednesday when it shot off the rocket that disappeared after it is believed to have reached 2,000 feet. They do the rocket launching from the Fred Van Dyke farm on Joy Rd.

The PARS aren't just a bunch of boys out for fun. They take their work seriously. In fact, the Plymouth Kiwanis Club is now furnishing the money to finance their effort.

Current members of the PARS are Greg Winterhalter, president; Mark Evans, vice-president; Galen Haws, range safety officer; John Pulker, Pat and Andy McCord, John Breed and Chris Corwin. Their secretary-treasurer, Tom Tichey, moved from Plymouth last week.

Tom's father, Woodrow Tichey, and Greg's father, Jim Winterhalter, have served as the club's advisors. Mr. Tichey was general manager and vice-president of Whitman-Barnes while Mr. Winterhalter is a chemist with Mobil Oil.

Once a week the group meets at one of their homes. "Most of the time we discuss what type of rocket we are going to build and sometimes out of steel tubing three inches in diameter and 45 inches long. It has a wooden nose cone and aluminum tail fins.

A solid fuel composed of two-thirds powdered zinc and one-third sulphur is used. "Right now we set them off by using a slow-burning fuse, but we are thinking of using electrical launching," Greg added.

Altogether, it costs around $5 to build and fuel up a rocket. Records are kept of each launching.

Last Wednesday's launching was a spectacular thing. It lifted off easily and finally disappeared.

Another one that same afternoon was also spectacular, but not so successful. A "bulkhead" placed between the fuel and nose cone was not tight enough and instead of the rocket going up, it went down and burrowed itself a foot into the ground.

"There was a beautiful mushroom cloud," Mrs. Winterhalter observed.

Some of the boys have hopes of becoming engineers when they grow up, but they are rather young to make up their minds.

But they are sure there are other boys interested in rocketry and they are throwing their club open to new members. Those interested can call Greg at GL 3-2992.

Club members now have their eyes on building a two-stage "Titanic" rocket six feet long with a light on the nose cone for night-time tracking.

A house-to-house petition drive was held.

So Cape Canaveral, move over.

Liquor By Glass Referendum On Ballot Nov. 6

City Commissioners voted Tuesday night to allow the "liquor-by-the-glass" question on the ballot Nov. 6.

City Clerk Joseph Near reported that as of last Wednesday, the required number of signatures had been filed on 126 petitions asking for the referendum.

A total of 1,359 signatures of registered City voters was needed to put the issue on the ballot. Near reports that 1,716 signatures were filed. Of these, 1,384 were valid. This was 25 more than required.

Most of those disallowed were signatures of people not living in the City or who were not registered voters.

The Nov. 6 ballot question will ask: "Shall the sale of spirits in addition to beer and wine be permitted for consumption on the premises within the City of Plymouth under the provision of the law governing same?"

The deadline for filing the petitions was Tuesday.

SENIOR CITIZENS NEWS

Commission Shelves March of Dimes Request

A request from the March of Dimes for soliciting in the City of Plymouth was tabled by the City Commission at its postponed meeting Tuesday night. Last year, the request was approved with the recommendation that the March of Dimes merge its fund-raising effort with the Plymouth Community Fund. The Commission warned that a request this year would be possibly rejected if this was not done. While Monday night's action did not reject the request, it put the request on the table where it could remain indefinitely. Since the March of Dimes' national policy requires separate fund-raising efforts, it is unlikely that the City's lack of approval would result in any changes. In other business before the Commission, a report from Johnson & Anderson, the City's consulting engineers, recommended that the City sell water to a Northville

Township subdivision located along the route of the City's water main. The engineers recommend selling water to the Township on a bulk rate basis through one meter. There will be 66 lots in the subdivision near the Beck Rd. well field. Commissioner Marvin Terry, however, recommended a meeting first of the City Commission with Northville councilmen to talk over future water plans for the area.

Vacation of part of an alley running parallel with the south end of Holbrook Ave. will be the subject of a public hearing on Oct. 1. The hearing was called after neighbors asked that the alley be vacated. The Planning Commission had turned down the request.

NOTICE TO ELECTORS OF SALEM TOWNSHIP

Notice is hereby given that petitions signed by a requisite number of qualified electors of Salem Township have been filed with me, requesting that the question of whether spirits, in addition to beer and wine, may be sold for consumption on the premises, within the Township of Salem, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, under the provisions of the law governing same, be submitted to the electors of the Township of Salem, Washtenaw County, State of Michigan at the next regular state election to be held on November 6, 1962.

This notice is given in accordance with section 436.56 of the Compiled Law of Michigan of 1948 as amended.

Party Leaders to Address Meeting Of Plymouth Democratic Club

Harriet Phillips, vice-chairman of the Michigan State Democratic party, and Sheldon Klimist, newly-elected chairman of the 17th Congressional District Democratic Organization, will discuss 1962 State election campaign issues at the first fall meeting of the Plymouth Democratic Club, Friday, Sept. 7, at 8 p.m. The meeting is in the Plymouth Community Credit Union building at the corner of South Harvey and Maple Streets.

Mrs. Henry Jensen, chairman of the Plymouth organization, said that many of the issues to be dealt with would be of great interest to local taxpayers, particularly the need for a better education program in Michigan.

She added that State Senator Raymond Dzendel and State Representative Harvey Beadle would also talk about their efforts in Lansing during the past year to solve the many problems of a growing Michigan.

The public is invited to attend, Mrs. Jensen said. Refreshments after the meeting as usual when everyone can visit with their State officials and learn more of how they might be served by their State government.

GRAHM'S CHATTER

When it comes to statistics, and goodness knows there are many on everything, we wonder who digs them up. For instance, there was the article in the paper about cats.

There are supposed to be between 25 and 27 million cats in the world. Now who do you suppose counted all of them? To our knowledge we have not had a cat census taker call on us ever, but that's what the man said; and we are taking his word for it.

This interesting article told that cats are taking the place of dogs as pets, and many small manufacturing concerns make good designing toys, houses, harnesses and even wearing apparel for the little creatures. Regardless of the fancy foods that can be purchased for them, like "cat caviar," plus a few others, they still prefer mice. With the fall season coming on and the field mice coming in, we are thinking of answering the ad we saw in the paper.

Well, when all is said and done, there is nothing as cute as a kitten, but we know something that is just as soft. Tallott fur blend sweaters we have in stock at Gramh's right now!

Thank You, Plymouth For reasons of health, I have recently sold my interest in Ray's Barber Shop and am moving away from this fine and friendly community.

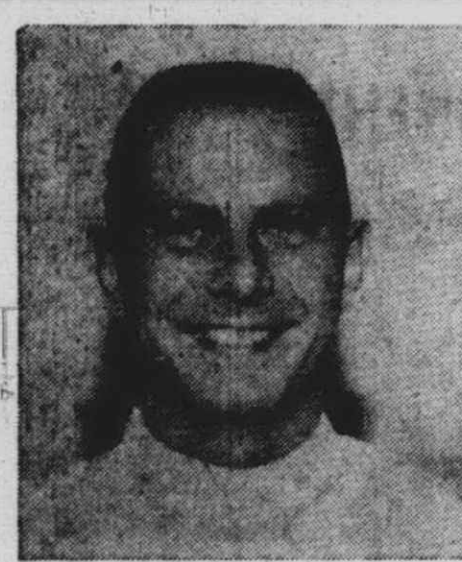

After more than a decade of association with Plymouth, its business community and its people, I find it a difficult thing to say goodbye.

Not only will I miss the warmth of Plymouth itself, I will deeply miss the many friends and acquaintances that I have had the pleasure to make over the years.

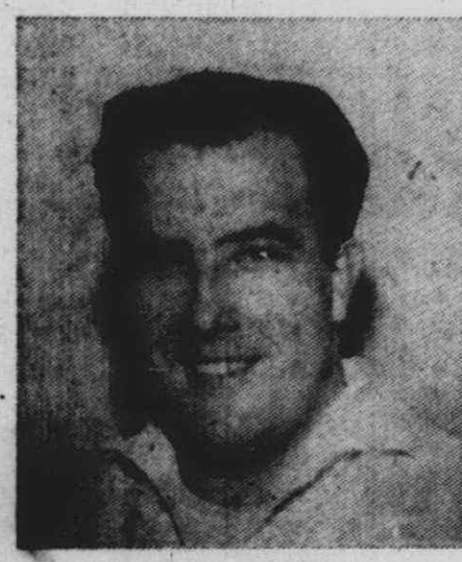

It has been indeed a pleasure working with, knowing and serving all of you. To this I can only add my most sincere thanks and gratitude.

Thank you. Ray Pletcher

REMEMBER THIS scene one year ago? Several hundred people are able to sit down at one time to enjoy their charcoal-broiled chicken dinners at the annual Fall Festival in Kellogg Park. This year's dinner is Sunday, Sept. 9. The cooking is done in the vacant lot next to the Penn Theatre where people shown in distant background are shown being served. Rotarians, sponsors of the dinner, are counting on 4,000 guests.

The Professor Says...

By Ed Brown

Another school year is just beginning and it seems that these years roll around faster and faster as we get along in years.

I presume that this year will be similar to those of the past. The teachers will experience much the same pattern, but will see a group of new faces and will have to learn a number of new names.

The students will wonder what their new classes will be like, and who they have for a teacher, and after they find out they will wonder what that person is like—easy or hard, grouchy or pleasant, homely or cute, and a dozen other ways by which they judge.

These same students will "try the teacher out" and see what the reactions will be—they have ways of doing this. The wise teacher will set the pupils "straight" the first few days as to what is expected of them. A proper beginning usually carries through for the year.

If students know what is expected of them right away, as a rule, they will act accordingly. If this is not done, the instructor usually finds it difficult to change things later on.

I know out students will enter the classroom the first week eager to learn—they always do—if this could only hold for the entire year!

If pupils would only realize that the proper start in the classroom is real important. Good work habits, proper study hours, organization, paying attention to instructions, and class discussion, regular attendance plus a real desire to learn, are the basic requirements for a good education.

Usually a teacher can tell within a very short time those students who really want to learn, how much they want to learn, and also those who are just satisfied by putting in time without caring what they get out of the subject as long as they pass.

Perhaps a child may not like a particular teacher. That is no reason for not wanting to get as much from the subject as possible—particularly in high school.

In life, we all have to put up with someone, or some situation, that may be distasteful to us.

Some do not like a teacher because she makes them work much harder than another teacher. Most students, and particularly those wanting to enter college, should be thankful they have a teacher who demands enough work of a constructive nature so that they will be better prepared for the future.

However, I think most students are not mature enough to judge these things at this time, but usually realize it at some later date.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO???
The two brothers who were quite prominent in high school athletics in the late forties. The older finished his schooling at PHS in 1948 and the younger a couple of years later in 1950.

The first was an all-round star athlete of that era and was a regular on Coach Wayne Falan's football, basketball and baseball teams. After graduation he went to work for the Wayne County Parks division for a number of years, and then changed to the Powell Stroh Distributors, Inc., where he still is employed.

Mr. X. married his high school sweetheart, a good cheerleader of that time, and they have three lovely children—DeWayne, 10; Jeffrey, 9; and Sandra Kay who is 7. The family reside on Gyde Road near Beck.

This man played recreation softball and basketball for a number of years after graduation, and last year coached a little league team.

His younger brother was one of Coach Konrad Moiso's star athletes on the cross-country and track teams. He held the record in the half-mile until recent years.

After graduation he entered the U.S. Army and then decided to make a career of it. Our mystery man No. 2 is still in the service and is presently stationed in Fort Riley, Kansas. He has been in the service nearly 11 years now.

While stationed in Germany, our army man met and married his pretty wife, Alma. Mr. X has one daughter, Cathy, who is ten years old.

Who are these former PHS students? DeWayne Becker, who married the former Shirley Johnson, and Calvin Becker. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Manford Becker of Pacific Avenue.

NEWS BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Tichy and family moved last Thursday to Arlington Heights, Ill., where Mr. Tichy has been transferred. Their son, John will be a sophomore at the University of Michigan, their daughter Susan will attend Wellesley College near Boston, and son, Tom will be a freshman in high school. The Tichy's have made many friends in the past nine years they have resided here and regret leaving them.

Pastor and Mrs. Emil Schultz of Parsons, Kansas were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter of 1320 W. Ann Arbor Trail for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Rodman and family, and Ms. Rodman's mother, Mrs. Alma Cripe, of Plymouth, visited Sarasota Jungle Gardens during their recent vacation on Florida's lower west coast.

Last Wednesday morning, Mrs. Marshall North, of 1200 W. Maple St., served coffee and sweet rolls to 16 women from the neighborhood at a "get acquainted" coffee hour in her home. Each woman told where she was born and something about her life.

Detroit has more trees than any other city in the nation. Its forest population includes 650,000 trees whose value is $60,000,000.

Tourism is a $650 million annual business in Michigan bringing some $46 million each year into the state treasury in taxes and license fees.

JANE ANN HARDIMON, daughter of Mrs. James E. Hardimon, of 481 N. Evergreen, and Frederick J. Libbing, III, were united in marriage on Saturday, Aug. 11, at the St. John's Episcopal Church.

Jane Hardimon Becomes Bride of Frederick J. Libbing

Miss Jane Ann Hardimon became the bride of Frederick J. Libbing, III, in a double ring ceremony at St. John's Episcopal Church on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 11, 1962.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James E. Hardimon, of 481 N. Evergreen, and the late James H. Hardimon. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Libbing of 9301 Southworth.

Given in marriage by her brother, Lt. James D. Hardimon, the bride wore a white taffeta gown, featuring princess lines. Alencon lace appliques decorated the yoke and chapel train. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a bouquet of white mums and glamelias.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Judith Hardimon. Karen Libbing, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. David Clark, of Grand Rapids; Diane Bever, New York City, and Karen Leyonmark, of Washington D.C., served as bridesmaids. They wore white organza over taffeta sheaths with bell-shaped overskirts and white net headpieces and carried crescent shaped bouquets of red glamelias and ivy.

Thomas Carmichael, of Drayton Plains, served the bridegroom as best man, and Graham Laible, of Livonia; Charles Westover, of Pittsburgh; Arthur Losse, of Plymouth, and Robert Kemnitz, of Plymouth, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hardimon wore a rose and brown print sheath with rose accessories. Mrs. Libbing wore a mint green sheath with white accessories.

A reception was held in Parish Hall immediately following the ceremony for guests from Plymouth, Detroit, San Francisco, Oshkosh, Wis., Chicago, New York City, Washington D. C., Sparta, Mich., Grand Rapids, Owosso, Lansing, Toledo and Fort Lauderdale.

The new Mrs. Libbing wore a navy blue silk suit with white accessories when she left on her wedding trip to Vermont and Montreal.

The couple will live in Lake Pointe Village. Mr. Libbing is a teacher in Plymouth Junior High-East and Mrs. Libbing is a teacher in Northville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The gown featured a Sabrina neckline and a three tiered skirt. Her silk illusion bouffant veil was held in place

Gilles' Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Gilles, of 561 Karmada, Plymouth, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last Sunday with a full day of festivities.

Following a high mass at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, a breakfast was held at the Mayflower Hotel in their honor by their children and their families; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Anderson, 42345 Five Mile Rd.; Mr. and Mrs. John Gilles, Jr., of Adams St., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gilles, of Auburn St.

A family dinner for about 35 relatives, including eight grandchildren, was held in their honor in the afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson. Guests included Mr. Gilles' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gilles, of Cheasing; and Mrs. Gilles' sisters and their husbands, Mrs. Bertel Phillips, of Saginaw, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Metcalf, of N. Territorial Rd., Plymouth.

A retired car foreman for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Mr. Gilles and his wife moved to Plymouth from Saginaw about 31 years ago. They are both active in the Plymouth Grange, Senior Citizens and the Michigan Cancer Foundation. Mr. Gilles is one of the oldest members of the local order of the Knights of Columbus.

Northville Flower Show Set Sept. 15

The Northville branch of the Women's National Farm & Garden Association, will hold its annual flower show in the Community Building on Saturday, Sept. 15, from 2:30 to 8 p.m.

Special feature of this year's show will be a special section devoted exclusively to entries by men.

Plymouth gardeners are cordially invited to enter the show. Those desiring additional information may contact Mrs. C. Ratliff at FI 9-1343.

A donation of 50 cents will be collected at the door. Proceeds will be allocated to the club's scholarship president.

Three of America's billion dollar industrial corporations and 16 of its 100 million dollar businesses are headquartered in Michigan.

Registration For Blood Donors Still Continues

Appointments for prospective blood donors to visit the Red Cross blood-mobile when it is stationed at the Elks Lodge Hall, 41700 Ann Arbor Rd. on Thursday Sept. 13, are still being made at the Red Cross Northwest Region Office, GA 4-0220, and by each of the co-chairmen: Tony Gonzalez, GL 3-1780, and Mrs. H. R. Penfale, GL 3-3359.

The bloodmobile will be open for donors from 3 to 5 and 6 to 9 p.m. with Red Cross volunteers assisting the professional staff. Sponsored jointly by the Elks Lodge 1780 and Red Cross volunteers, pledge cards have been distributed by chairmen of all organized blood groups in the community, and their members have been urged to visit the bloodmobile and add to the blood credits of their own groups.

Persons with no other affiliation are invited to visit the bloodmobile and credit the Community Account of the town in which they live. Donors may also replace blood already used by a hospital patient.

Mrs. Earl West

With apples in season, Mrs. Earl West of 9067 Ball St., who consented to be the Mail's guest cook this week, lent us her recipe for English Apple Pie, a favorite of her family's.

When not teaching first grade in Farrand Elementary School in Lake Pointe, Mrs. West is busy attending club meetings, including Woman's Club National Educational Association, Michigan Educational Association and Plymouth Educational Association.

She has four children, Charlotte (Mrs. Joseph Tait), who lives in Garden City; Mary Jane who is a senior at the University of Michigan, majoring in zoology; Ann, a sophomore at the University of Michigan, and Dick, a freshman at Western Michigan University.

English Apple Pie

6 lge. apples
1/4 Cup granulated sugar
1 1/2 Cup flour
3/4 Cup butter
3/4 Cup brown sugar
Cut apples in thin slices, then sprinkle with granulated sugar and put in casserole, deep square cake pan, or 6" x 10" pan. Then mix flour, butter and brown sugar and cut with pastry blender or crumble as for pie. Pack

Diane Luchtman, Nelson C. Schrader, Exchange Vows

Miss Diane Kay Luchtman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luchtman, of Northville, became the bride of Nelson C. Schrader, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., of Northville, in a double ring ceremony at Martha Mary Chapel, Greenfield Village, Dearborn, on Sept. 1. The Rev. B. J. Panikow of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Northville, officiated at the candlelight service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of egg shell silk tulle. The portrait neckline and chapel train were embellished with re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her silk illusion bouffant veil was held in place by a rose petal headpiece. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Gail Luchtman. Her bridesmaids were Susan Rathburn, of Northville, Sarah Schrader, sister of the bridegroom, and Janet Van Conant, the bride's college roommate from Imlay

Mark 37 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schultz, of 1320 West Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth, celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary, on Sunday, Aug. 26. Twenty-five guests from Plymouth, Detroit, Dearborn, Walkerville, and Parsons, Kansas, dropped in to wish the couple congratulations.

They wore gold satin street length dresses, featuring round, scoop necklines, elbow length sleeves and bell skirts, and matching satin shoes and cabbage rose headpieces. They carried nosegays of champagne carnations and bronze roses.

Serving the bridegroom were Jeffery Goodrich, of Northville, as best man, and Wade Deal, Northville; Henry Bathey, Plymouth, and Bruce Walker, the bridegroom's cousin from Gaylord, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Luchtman wore a willow green lace sheath dress and matching accessories. Mrs. Schrader wore an emerald green silk jacket dress with matching accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Clinton Inn, Greenfield Village, for guests from Plymouth, Northville, Ann Arbor, Detroit, East Lansing, Grosse Pointe, Bloomfield Hills, Gaylord and Mt. Clemens.

For her wedding trip to Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., the new Mrs. Schrader wore a blue knit jacket dress with blue and green embroidery on the jacket.

The couple will make their home at 1205-K, University Village, East Lansing, where they will complete their senior years at Michigan State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Schrader

DIANE KAY LUCHTMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Luchtman, of Northville, and Nelson C. Schrader, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., of Northville, exchanged vows in a candlelight ceremony at Martha Mary Chapel, Greenfield Village, on Sept. 1.

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

Puppets, pantomimes, and plays will please the sated customers of the Rotary Club's Fall Festival. After the puppet show, the puppeteer will have their fill of delicious chicken, corn-on-the-cob, and a salad, they will be able to spend the rest of the afternoon strolling leisurely within the confines of Kellogg Park to see either a play, a pantomime, or a puppet show.

A band concert, an exhibit of the Three Cities Art Club, and a host of other cultural items await their perusal. THE PUPPET show is being operated by Steven Benson, Steve's mother, Shirley, a veteran member of the Three Cities Art Club, fashioned many of the puppets and advised her son on the making of other puppets.

Mrs. Dennison's specialty is in the field of sculpture. She will have several of her works of art on display quite near the active "goings-on" of the puppet show. I'm certain that the time-honored Punch and Judy show will hold interest for young and old alike.

THE OLD-FASHIONED melodrama "Who Blew Out The Lamp?" being performed three times on Sunday by the Plymouth Theater Guild apprentice players group surely will evoke memories of those days of the daring dramas. Justice always triumphed, the villain was roundly booed, and the heroine was applauded when she trapped her man's heart. Most famous of the old melodramas was "The Drunkard."

A theater in Los Angeles kept this melodrama going for seven years during the 1950's. The appeal was the gay 90's style of the production. "The Drunkard" was put on nightly in an old restaurant with savdust on the floor, singing waiters, beer and pretzels included in the price of the admission, and some community singing.

Other cities have tried a similar experiment (Detroit made the attempt last year) but have failed to have the success with this temperance drama that the Californians did.

JACOB RUMPF has directed the apprentice players in their stirring melodrama

Automation Is Subject of Kiwanis Address

To Graves, an engineer in the Industrial Relations Department of Ford Motor Co., was the guest speaker at last week's Plymouth Kiwanis Club meeting. His topic was automation.

Graves, a member of the club, said that a good definition of automation is "doing things better and easier." The best example is our own home. The television, the refrigerator, the garbage can, the vacuum, the automatic washer, and the power mower, he said, are a very few excellent examples of automation and not one person in the home was laid off because of it.

"Automation has created many new jobs and materially raised our standard of living to the highest in the world. Automation has been with us since the very beginning with the creation of the wheel and like items. Only the word is new, having been coined in 1946."

Ford Motor Company uses automation to help reduce accidents from 10.3 per one million man hours to 1.4 per one million man hours of work. Ford had 3,100 employees producing transmissions in 1950 and by 1960 the number was increased to nearly 9,000 employees, or almost three times as many. Ford employment in 1950 was 12,000 persons and was increased to 160,000 by 1960, through the help of automation. Automation has increased employment in total number of persons, although sometimes requiring relocation of some employees, and retraining of others.

The Kiwanis annual peanut sale will be held on Friday, Sept. 21.

long, suffering mother, Jimmie Austin has consented to be a sishter waiter. Producer Linda Wall has indicated that the show is ready to open and urges everyone to stop in for a healthy serving of laughs. Performances will be continuous all day Sunday that is, they will be in the cast can keep up the pace.

I'M CERTAIN that none of the customers at the chicken barbeque are going to be able to say: "Now that you do mention it, it does taste like charcoal broiled charcoal." Only the finest methods for broasting, broiling, and taking loving tender care of those chickens will be employed. The Rotarian chefs have proven to be gourmets in their time-tested gastronomic approach.

The Fall Festival appears to be a delightful combination of good food, entertainment, and happy relaxation. So, Mom and Dad, get your sports shirts and cool dresses on, close down your kitchen for the day and come over to Kellogg Park. And don't forget the whole family... the kids get a break on the price.

NORTHLAND PLAYHOUSE finishes out its season with a two week engagement of "The Flower Drum Song." Juanita Hall who played in the original Broadway production will be back to recreate old memories of a job well-done. She has a new-comer with her by the name of Ramon Navarro. Anyone remember this star of the silent flickers? Should be worth a trip out to Northland just to see Mr. Navarro. "Flower Drum" opened on Tuesday, Sept. 4 and will be at Northland until September 16.

Rocks On 'Thin Side' As Grid Opener Nears

With time at a premium as always, Plymouth's griders moved into their second week of pre-season practice and looked ahead to the opener here Sept. 14 against Northville.

"Time is a precious commodity to us right now," said Coach Mike Hoben over the weekend. "We've got only so many sessions left before we get into the real season and we're going to need every moment of practice."

The Rocks had moved fast under Hoben's strict regimen. Following body contact work on the second day of practice Plymouth's varsity candidates scrimmaged among themselves on the third day and Saturday campaigned up and down the grid-iron behind the high school in another scrimmage session that resembled game conditions.

Fewer than 40 candidates remained on the varsity roster at week's end as the tough conditioning program weeded out the lesser lights. Hoben pursued a two-practices-a-day program up to today (Wednesday) as the start of school reduces this to one session daily from now on.

Sunday, Hoben had 11 practice meetings left on his schedule before Northville invades the Rocks camp for the inaugural.

Hoben has good reason to feel deep concern over Plymouth's football fortunes this fall. The Rocks, defending league champs on the strength of a 5-0 conference record a year ago, are admittedly thin in the line and similarly weak in the backfield.

Only two tested veterans have returned to camp. One is 6-foot-1, 170-pound Dick Schryer, who undoubtedly will start at quarterback for the Rocks in the forthcoming games.

He steered Plymouth to a 6-2 overall mark last season. The other returning veteran is lineman Jim Ayers, a 185-pounder who will serve as a building block in the front line. Ayers, a senior as is Schryer, is a guard.

Six other letter-winners from a year ago provide Hoben with only a mild case of optimism for none of them were heavily tested during the 1961 campaign.

Hoben admitted to Plymouth's problems but hesitated to give out a "complete scouting report" in the weekend interview. "But with only 10 returning letter-winners and only two of them regulars from a year ago, if doesn't take much arithmetic to see that we're on the thin side this year."

Blisters, pulled muscles and other minor ailments were the problems confronting the players and coaching staff at the end of last week.

Bob Dart, a candidate for center, was out with a bad knee and Terry Clark, a junior end, was on the sidelines with bruised shoulder muscles.

"I feel as if we've made good headway as far as getting in shape goes," remarked Hoben recently. "We're coming along well in that department."

Only 11 seniors were among the remaining candidates at week's end. There were 12 juniors and the rest were sophomores.

A lack of depth will be another drawback in Plymouth's defense of its league crown this season. Beyond a starting 11, the Rocks will probably be hurting for substitutes as the season wears on.

As it stands now, Hoben will likely go with his lettermen in the opener against Northville. "But it's difficult to get very specific at this time," he observed. "The whole picture can change rapidly."

One thing, doubtless, will not change. Northville visits Sept. 14 as the 1962 football season gets underway for Plymouth High.

Local Women Fare Well in WMGA Tourney

Plymouth area women fared reasonably well in the recent Women's Metropolitan Golf Association match tournament conducted August 27-30 at Pontiac Country Club.

Helen Gilbert, of 839 Penniman, lost 2-up to Mrs. K. Symington on the first day and drew a bye in the opening round of consolation flight play on the second day.

At the next stage of competition in the consolation round, Miss Gilbert defeated Mildred Lovchuk (1-up at 19 holes) and then placed as runner-up in the consolation division when Mrs. R. Gilcek defeated her 8-7 on the fourth day of the tourney.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Dewey Karkenan, of Livonia, defeated Mrs. L. Fleming 4-3 on the first day but lost 2-1 to Mrs. A. Leishman on the second day.

Two other Plymouth women, Mrs. George Todd and Mrs. George Schmeman, did not enter the tourney.

Mrs. Delbert Raymond, of Farmington, who plays out of Fox Hills here lost in the first day's action but then won three straight matches in the consolation round.

By Jerome O'Neil

Jimmie Gibbons, a crew-cut young man of 12 summers, found Saturday tailor-made to his liking. So did his 11-year-old brother Billie.

As well as Jeff Hammill and Ray Gromacki, both 14, and Bob Krzystan, who is 12.

By noon-time, Ray and Bill had caught five fish between them at Wilcox Lake. The others, while not so fortunate, were far from distressed about the situation.

Bright-painted bobbers floated lazily in the water opposite the Wilcox Yard of the Wayne County Road Commission. Two tackle boxes stood open nearby and a can of worms was within arm's reach of the five youngsters. The whole afternoon was stretched out before them.

Five days earlier, the boys had caught seven fish at the same spot, one of which was a 7-inch perch. But they threw them all back. There were three perch, two rock bass and two sun fish.

"We tried the creek in the park," confided 14-year-old Ray, "and Newburg Lake, too, but the only place we could catch any fish was right here." He spoke with an air of authority on the matter and his words were accompanied by nods from the other four.

You could tell it was serious business all around. The mid-day sun beat down on youthful heads and one of them brushed a lock of hair out of his eyes, never looking long away from the red-and-white bobber floating on soft waves in front of him.

A few days earlier they had come out to Wilcox from Redford, Township on their bikes. But Saturday, Bob Krzystan's father drove them out to their fishing hole, using parental caution in the face of his concern for heavy Labor Day weekend traffic.

"We all go back to school next week," a spokesman admitted reluctantly. You could sense that fishing poles would soon become a thing of the past in favor of school books.

The five fell silent, concentrating on the task at hand. School bells were still a long way off. Maybe five days, in fact.

The old saying "It's a pity to waste youth on the young" seemed a vast misstatement and unfair as well. The five boys disproved it. All the way from the edge of Detroit they had come to while away a Saturday afternoon, fishing hopefully in Wilcox Lake.

It helped to sustain an adult acknowledgment that only the carefree young can seek out and enjoy true pleasure, untrammelled in a racing world.

This week, however, the five boys — and thousands like them — wrapped up their summer memories and stuffed them into the hip-pocket of their minds to flourish there until next year.

Saturday was a fitting conclusion to summer vacation 1962. It was a day for hiking somewhere new, or riding a bike someplace else. Or maybe for swimming. But most certainly for fishing. Huck Finn and his buddy Tom Sawyer would have been real proud of Saturday.

I know the five boys from Redford Township were.

Seeks to Renew Intra-Mural Athletic Program

The Plymouth recreation department hopes this year to reinstate an elementary boys intra-mural athletic program, directed by Herb Woolweaver said this week.

"We hope to begin another touch football program this fall and follow it with basketball during the winter and softball next spring," he said.

It would be open only to fifth and sixth grade boys, Woolweaver explained.

The intra-mural athletic programs had been discontinued and was not a part of the elementary curriculum last year.

In an effort to renew it, Woolweaver said, those boys wishing to participate must pay a fee of $2 for each sport in which they wish to compete. The money will be used to assist with the cost of providing coaches, officials and necessary athletic equipment.

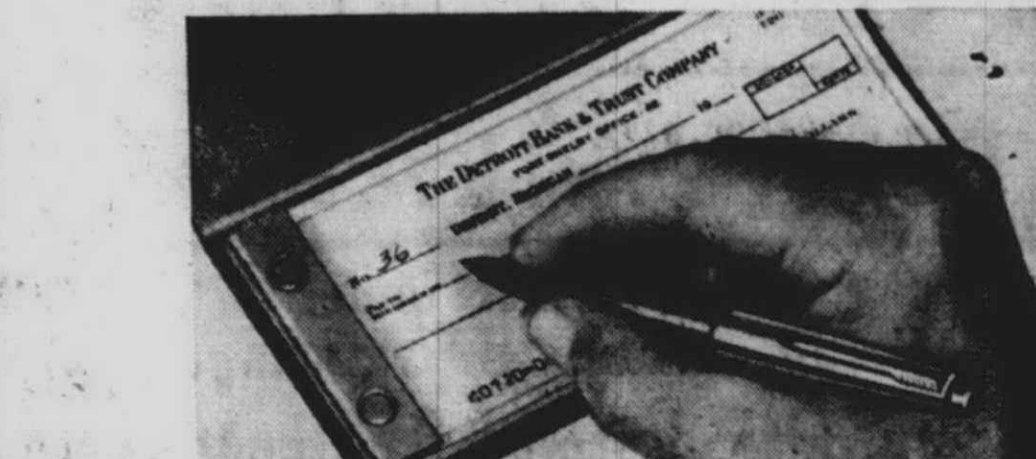

The various uniforms will not be furnished, the director said. Boys who desire to play football are urged to sign up now. Practice will begin the week of Sept. 24 and the season will end Nov. 1.

For football, the boys must also provide their own protective mouth-pieces, Woolweaver added.

END COACH TOM WORKMAN gives advice to Plymouth griders Hugh Sarah and Dick Eglhoff during the Rocks' intra-squad scrimmage last Saturday. Plymouth, now in its second week of pre-season practice, will face Northville in the opening game here Sept. 14.

Few Veterans Return To Harrier Line-up

Set to embark on his sixth season as cross country coach at Plymouth High, John Sandmann is confronted with a vast rebuilding program for 1962.

With the Rocks scheduled to open Sept. 19 against Ypsilanti here, Sandmann must shape virtually an entire new harrier team in a brief period of two weeks.

Five stalwarts on the 1961 harrier squad that led Plymouth to a league championship are absent via graduation last June and only one real veteran is on Sandmann's roster.

Denny Knapp is the lone returning veteran and it will be to him that the cross-country mentor must turn for the first step in an extensive reconstruction effort. Knapp is the 1962 team captain.

A year ago Plymouth finished with a 7-0 dual meet record, captured the league meet championship, placed third in the Regionals and 11th in the state meet. It may well be a different turn of events this fall.

Missing from Plymouth's harrier ranks will be the five distance men that paced the Rocks' standard of success a year ago. Gone are Tony Hunt, Byron Latta, Bob Winterhalter, and Jim and Ward Griffith.

Sandmann intended to call his first practice session the middle of this week, but no later than Thursday.

The opener with Ypsilanti will be held on the cross-country route in Riverside Park, site of all of Plymouth's home meets. Once again, the Rocks have seven dual meets on their agenda with only Ypsi and Northville constituting non-league opponents.

The Clarenceville Invitational are looming as an added attraction this fall with that event listed for the middle of October. The league and regional meets are slated for late that month.

The state meet, to be held at Washtenaw Country Club in Ypsilanti, will conclude the season the first week in November.

Matching Gifts Program Reaches $3.2 Million

Contributions to education by Ford Motor Company and its employees under a matching gifts program have totaled more than $3,250,000 during a two-year period.

Since its initiation in 1960, Ford's Educational Assistance and Incentive Donation (AID) Program has provided funds for use by 730 United States colleges, universities and secondary schools.

Under AID, Ford matches — and in certain cases doubles — an employee's donation to the educational institution of his choice.

Noting an increase in the number of similar programs being adopted in industry, Henry Ford II, company board chairman, said in an AID program report:

"We at Ford are pleased that the popularity of the Educational AID Program is increasing both among employees and educators. We are convinced that the program is achieving all that was originally intended and more."

Ford employe gifts to education have grown steadily under the program since its introduction. During the 1961 program year, more than 3,200 employes joined the company in giving $1,800,000 to 624 educational institutions in 44 states.

Ford will match an employe's contribution to eligible colleges and universities up to a maximum of $5,000 for each calendar year. The company contributes an additional dollar for each dollar contributed by an employe to a private college or university, up to a maximum of $1,000. Employee contributions to eligible secondary schools are matched on the same basis.

Ford's Educational AID plan is designed to enable the company to join its employes in supporting educational institutions, provide increased incentive for employes to make contributions to educational institutions of their choice, and encourage the institutions themselves to broaden their individual support programs.

Chips from the ROCK

Local automobile dealer, Earl West, has had almost a perfect driving record and hasn't had a traffic ticket since he was 16 years of age. However, returning from a short visit to Cape Cod last week, sliding down a hill on New York's through-way, radar clocked him at 82 miles an hour and he was presented the second traffic ticket of his entire lifetime.

John Temple and Ralph Lorenz, participants in Carl Shears birthday celebration last week, sat expectantly by, waiting for Dr. A. C. Williams, also a birthday celebrant, to cut a special sponge rubber cake made, they thought, especially for him. While he delayed his cutting Mr. Shears' cake was cut and served to the guests. It was at this time Temple and Lorenz found to their complete surprise they had the only actual rubber cake served and the well planned joke by baker Marvin Terry and Chuck Finlan caused them no end of trouble when their forks bounced from the cake into the ice cream.

We received a nice note from Bob Gass of Zimmer, Keller and Calvert thanking us for the story we ran last week on his new promotion. In it he asked us to especially remember him to his old friends Pat Wiltzie, Bill Clark and Jack Selle and last but not least his favorite cousin, Dr. Fred Bentley.

Former Plymouthite Named Consul for The Netherlands

Roderick K. Daane, a former Plymouthite and son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Daane, now of Ft. Wayne, Ind., has been appointed honorary consul for The Netherlands in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland Counties.

He succeeds W. K. von Weiler who retired last June after serving as Netherlands Consul at Detroit for 12 years.

W. H. J. M. Lambooy, consul general for The Netherlands at Chicago, in making the announcement, said that Mr. Daane's appointment was by a Royal Decree of H. M. Queen Juliana of The Netherlands.

Roderick Daane was born in Grand Rapids in 1931 and is of Dutch ancestry. He attended Plymouth High School and entered the U. of M. where he received an A.B. degree in June 1952 and an L.L.B. degree in 1954. He was admitted to the Michigan Bar in January 1955.

Since his admission to the Michigan Bar, he has practiced law in Detroit and is a member of the firm of Huffaker Hollingshead & Daane. Mr. and Mrs. Daane and their four children live in Birmingham.

The attorney's father, Russell M. Daane, was a Daisy Manufacturing Co. vice-president and mayor of Plymouth for two terms. He is now executive vice-president of the Ft. Wayne National Bank.

One of the most annoying things that happens to me and one that makes me maddest is the following situation on the telephone. I call information in Ann Arbor, Ypsi or Livonia for a number. I know the various neighboring exchanges such as NO, HU or GA and when the operator rattles off a seven digit number such as 668-7546 I get confused and try to remember the last four, then when I ask her if that is an NO exchange she comes back with the following answer; "The number is 668-7546". By this time I have forgotten what she told me and I might as well not have called.

What I can't understand, and I wish the phone company would explain to me, is why we have some GA and GL numbers and some 42 and 45 numbers. Why can't they all be the same so that this sort of confusing situation doesn't repeat itself over and over again? If you don't believe it call information for some number with digits and ask her in letters if this isn't the exchange. She'll tell you no, it's 42, 45, etc., and not GL or GA, although actually it is.

Incidentally ... there are only 16 weekends left in which to do your Christmas shopping before Christmas is actually here. With days flying so fast local merchants could well start an early promotion and get local mothers and dads to buy their gifts now, not a day or two before that time actually arrives ... 16 weekends isn't much.

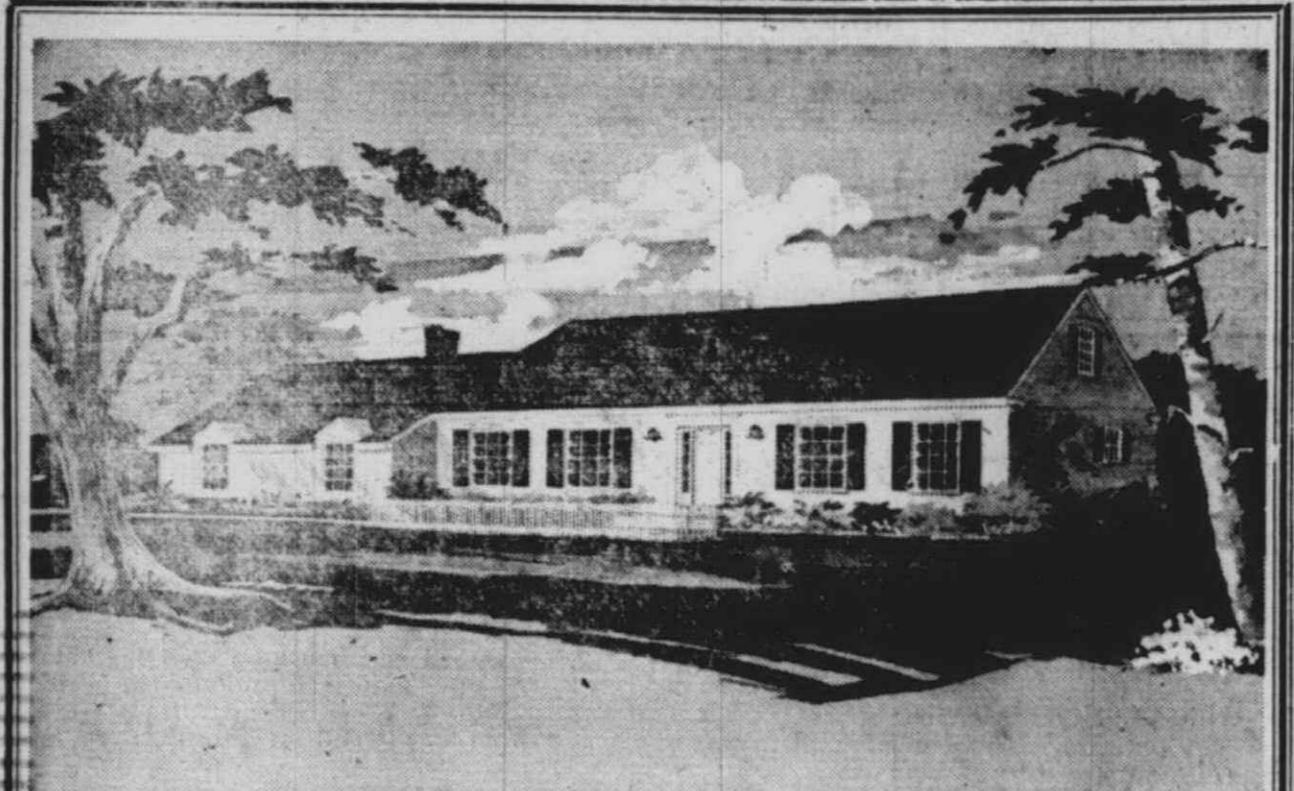

This is the week of Plymouth's first Fall Festival and we hope our readers and all of our residents are availing themselves of the free entertainment planned for this weekend. We further hope all enjoy the decorations which certainly have given the area a most festive appearance. If nothing more is gained this year than to alert our residents of the future potential of an event of this nature certainly the effort and expense has been most worthwhile.

We would like to remind you of the concerts in the park Thursday and Friday night and also of the events planned for Saturday and Sunday. And, further, again point out the fact our local stores are loaded with Fall and Back to School merchandise for your shopping in Plymouth convenience.

Saturday morning will see a huge pet show staged in the center of the new Central parking lot and if you can spare the time be sure and enjoy the fun with the local kiddies who will exhibit their varied pets.

Saturday night on the same lot you are invited to "swing your partner" at a real old fashioned square dance and this event promises to be a lot of fun. If you can't dance at least stop by to see the exhibitions by some real fancy square dancers.

Then, of course, Sunday, Rotary brings to a climax the entire celebration when it will feed delicious barbecue chicken to some 4,000 people in Kellogg Park right in the middle of the town. If you haven't purchased a ticket up to now you can get them at most local stores or even on Sunday at the park. Let's make this a real success ... come on and join the fun.

The NEW ENGLANDER — another fine home by the builder noted for his flair for authentic Early American detail

JOHN N. NORTHUP

From its barn-red garage and "dove cot" to the wide-shouldered chimney of mellowed old brick, the NEW ENGLANDER is as Yankee as pumpkin pie! Its New England heritage includes not only authentic design but also a rare combination of oldtime craftsmanship and modern building techniques ... Yankee thrift shows up in its efficient use of space, too. Imagine — 2,690 square feet of living area are contained in this amazingly compact home.

A HOSTESS' DREAM HOUSE ... Designed for the woman who makes casual entertaining a fine art. For buffet serving, the kitchen counter is placed to orient guests toward all living areas — no confusion, no spilling. And there's the wonderful built-in barbecue in the family room's wide brick fireplace. Plus a full-size dining room. Handy for guests' wraps: the master bedroom with bath-dressing room on ground level ... Storage space? Cupboards, king-size closets and storage areas everywhere. Step-saver: youngsters in the family room are in full view of kitchen.

8 large rooms including 4 spacious bedrooms, 2 1/2 baths, wall-to-wall carpeting in living room, rustic kitchen with built-in equipment, first floor utility room, 2 1/2 car garage, basement, white picket fence. Impressive slate-floored entrance hall, cathedral ceiling.

Movie Shows How PHS Students Aided Retarded Children Project

A movie depicting how 58 Plymouth High School Students helped in an experimental therapy program at the Plymouth State Home and Training School was shown last Friday noon to Plymouth Rotarians.

George Ebling, administrative assistant at the State Home, and George Andrews, director of therapy, provided the program. The experiment was carried out last spring on six children afflicted with cerebral palsy and met with surprising success, Andrews reported. Another experimental session will take place again after High School students return.

Ebling outlined the present scope of the State Home. There are now 663 mentally retarded children there with 60 per cent of these having physical handicaps in addition to their retardation. There are 404 staff people. The budget is now $2.3 million.

The State Home is asking for a budget of $3 million in the approaching year and hopes to have a staff of 534.

Another patient building will be ready in August and more buildings will be added until the goal of 2,500 beds is reached.

City Manager Albert Glassford introduced the speakers.
