

IT'S OUR BIRTHDAY

With this issue The Plymouth Mail observes 75 years of continuous service to this community. We are proud of this accomplishment and we are grateful for the cooperation of the people who have made this memorable occasion possible.

We approach the future with confidence knowing we serve a better than average community and we pledge a continuance of interest, participation and help in making Plymouth a fine place to live, a fine place to work and an excellent place in which to raise a family.

DIRECTING AUTO traffic is old stuff for Patrolman Henry Berghoff, but when a team of mules moves down Main St., that's something else. The Deadwood Coach lines pulled by a mule team hauled hundreds of delighted kiddies around a downtown block Sunday afternoon.

HOW DO YOU eat half a chicken, anyway? This young lady had a struggle on her hands as she joined over 5,000 others in a charcoal broiled chicken dinner in Kellogg Park.

Board Holds Firm to Bus Trip Policy

An attempt by the Band Parents Association to sway the Board of Education from its policy regarding the use of school buses for out-of-town football games failed Monday night when 20 members of the group crowded the Board meeting room.

The policy, adopted a year ago, limits school groups to one field trip a year if they use school buses. The policy was made to trim the transportation budget. Last year, local merchants helped defray the cost of hiring a private bus firm to carry the band to out-of-town football games.

Mrs. Steven Kusma, president of the Band Parents Assn. led off the 45-minute discussion, by stressing that while the football team itself is carried by buses to all out-of-town games, the band is limited to just one trip. "Does the Board consider the band a performing group like the football team or just another class?" she asked.

Board President Gerald Fischer replied that it was the intention of restoring full bus use when the Board made the first ballot proposal last April, but the proposal was overwhelmingly defeated. The second and third ballot proposals meant large budget cuts and among these was reinstatement of the bus policy.

"While you are here to liberalize the policy, other people were telling us last spring to cut back on transportation," Fischer added.

When asked specifically about use of buses by the football team, Superintendent Russell Isbister replied that the team does use the buses, but that the band is also allowed bus transportation to attend its competitive band festivals.

Fischer emphasized that the Board also wished to have the band attend all out-of-town games, but that by breaking down the policy for the band would mean breaking it for all groups. It is estimated that the policy is cutting the budget by $2,000.

Another band parent, Rip Collins, who led the merchant drive for funds last year, suggested that the Board consider using a small portion of gate receipts for bus transportation for the band next year, since the band itself attracts a certain number of spectators.

Although one band parent threatened to withdraw his support, the Board held firm to its policy. (Continued on page 6)

Rifle Club Opens Season Monday

Registration is now on for boys and girls, 12 years and older, wanting to learn how to shoot a rifle.

Director of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher said that the first rifle class of the Plymouth City Rifle and Archery Club will take place next Monday, starting at 6:30. It meets in the Community Building (former K of C Hall), at Union and Dodge Streets.

Applications, which must have the signature of a parent or guardian, are now available at the Police Department. Rifles are furnished and ammunition will cost one cent a round.

Fisher said that starting date of archery will be announced later.

Federal Agency Eyes Plymouth for 'Model'

Enrollment Hits New Peak

Growing pains in the Plymouth Community School District were more severe than expected when 5,235 young people flocked to classrooms last week. School authorities had estimated that there would be 5,150.

And, according to a report heard by the Board of Education Monday night, the situation in some classrooms will get worse as the year goes by.

The 5,235 students enrolled last week is 257 more than started last year. Of the new total, 1,140 are in High School, 1,213 are in the two Junior High schools, and 2,882 are enrolled in the seven elementary buildings.

Gerald Elston, principal of the Helen Farrand Elementary School, located in the middle of the Lake Pointe Village development, appeared before the board of Education to warn them of the problem facing that area.

Although all sixth graders from the Farrand area are now at the Junior High-West, the school still has 411 pupils which is near the planned capacity. But Elston pointed out that the two second grades each have 37 pupils and the situation will get worse.

Elston reported that the Lake Pointe builders have 62 new homes sold with 57 now under construction and to be occupied by Christmas. Most of these are four-bedroom models, "indicating that these aren't just newly-married couples," Elston said. He predicted that school's enrollment would hit 460 to 480 by the end of the school year.

The principal recommended that a small auxiliary room, used last year for overflow kindergarten enrollment, be used to house more second graders. This would mean hiring another teacher. Elston said that since the second grade is one of the most vital learning periods, a classroom size should be limited to 30 to 32 at the most. He estimates that both second grades would have 43 if allowed to continue to grow.

The Board agreed that it was a critical problem and advised the superintendent to submit a recommendation at a meeting next week.

In most of the Plymouth schools, class size has risen. A kindergarten in Starkweather school, for instance, has 46 pupils.

This is a breakdown of classes sizes in each school, followed by the number of rooms for each grade:

Arrives to Look Over City Needs

A hard look at future developments for the City of Plymouth, such as a new city hall, increased parking facilities and possible attractive new merchandising centers was the purpose of a Tuesday visit here by a representative of the U.S. Department of Commerce.

Guided throughout Plymouth by City Manager Albert Glassford, Area Redevelopment Administration, field coordinator, Don Kohler, was quick to point out the various areas where his agency could and would provide funds for specific improvements in the business community.

"We are an agency created to redevelop areas to provide more parking, we can provide matching funds for new buildings such as a city hall and we can, through our agency or others in the same field, provide funds for merchants who wish to remodel, expand or build entirely new business properties," he said.

In discussing the possibility of a new city hall he promptly gave his stamp of approval to a building erected on piers in the center of the Central Parking Lot which would bring all city departments in the center of the town to create more foot traffic for the business section.

He further pointed out that his agency could immediately make available 50 per cent of the total costs within 90 days if the city would prepare plans for such a building.

Development in the area of new parking facilities could be financed by a 25 per cent special assessment against property owners, a 37 per cent federal grant and a 37½ per cent participation by the city which would probably be raised by revenue bonds though it could be borrowed on a loan basis from the government at 3½ per cent over a 40 year period.

According to Kohler there isn't much that his agency couldn't do along the development line and, at this point, while the ARA is expanding its services, almost any kind of a development is welcomed for their assistance.

"We like to set precedents in this field and today we have under consideration a lighted 18 hole golf course for night play which all comes within the scope of our helping business to expand," he stated.

"As far as I personally am concerned I would like to see Plymouth lead the way under our new program and become a model city in United States, improved and financed by our department, and I am here to offer my own personal services in bringing this about," he told several of the various groups he met with Tuesday.

He explored the possibility of using the city property back of the Christian Science Church for parking, or a possible city hall site. The city already has a 12 foot entrance off from the west side of Harvey street and by gaining some access through Church vacant property in the rear of the Church a whole new area could be brought into downtown usage.

"Our business is to help and if the business people of this community will flood the city manager with letters telling him that with more parking they can hire more people then we can make our funds available. All government wants to do is to create more jobs and if parking is a means to secure more employment then we can act," he said.

Merchants were encouraged to write City Manager Glassford today making a statement such as is outlined above. This will give the basic requirement for qualification for help of the Area Redevelopment Administration.

Kohler will visit Plymouth again shortly at a meeting with a small group of local businessmen who have been meeting every Monday laying plans for future development of the downtown area.

No Safe Port in a Storm

Riding in a car during an electrical storm is supposed to be good, safe place to be according to many authorities. But Mrs. Ebert Stewart, 955 Lilly Rd., isn't so sure.

She and two companions, Angela Nolan and Garnet Ross, both of Livonia, were returning home after a trip to a lake last Tuesday when they ran into a storm west of Lansing.

"Suddenly there was a terrific crash and our car was surrounded by white sparks," Mrs. Stewart related. Mrs. Nolan said she felt a "tingling" in her face as she drove, and the car "acted strange" for the next 15 minutes.

Arriving home, mechanics found two holes had been burned through the car body by lightning and the antenna lead wire burned out.

"I knew something had happened, but I didn't dream it was that close," Mrs. Stewart added.

Up Only $703

Community Fund Aims At $45,050.00 Goal

A goal of $45,050 — a figure only $703 higher than last year's — has been set for the 1962 Plymouth Community Fund campaign that will kick off next month.

Members of the Board of Directors approved the final budget last week after months of effort to examine the budgets of the agencies and to screen requests from other organizations wanting to join the Community Fund.

City Manager Albert Glassford has been appointed campaign chairman. Assisting him will be Reva Barber, residential; Frank Henderson, professional division; Tom Notebaert, business; Elmer Hedlund, industry; and Sterling Eaton, advanced gifts.

Eleven local agencies, the same as last year, will share this year's donations. In addition, there are 22 agencies on a statewide level that will share 15 per cent of the contributions.

These are the local agencies and the amount allocated to each:

Boy Scouts	$6,000
Girl Scouts	4,500
Veterans Memorial	2,200
Dental Fund	2,000
Police Youth Club	1,500
Symphony Society	2,000
Cancer Foundation	3,583
Red Cross	4,200
Senior Citizens	520
Salvation Army	9,500

The 22 Red Cross agencies, should the goal be met, would receive $5,647. In addition, the Board of Directors has set aside $1,800 for the cost of campaign supplies and office expenses.

Only one agency, the Plymouth Dental Fund, had its allotment increased. A $500 increase was granted to pay for dental work for the growing number of children whose parents cannot pay.

Two other agencies had their allotments cut. The Police Youth Rifle and Archery Club had its amount cut $1,200 from last year and the Senior Citizens was cut from $760 to $520 due to a cut in their rent at the Masonic Temple. The Police Youth Club had some money remaining from last year because their building was demolished and the program was curtailed for a while. This program will also become more self-supporting with participants paying for supplies.

The campaign will open with a kick-off luncheon on Thursday Oct. 11 at the Mayflower Hotel. After the luncheon, the torch-lighting ceremony will take place in Kellogg Park.

In addition to the division chairmen, other committee chairmen are Dap Olson and Bob Wall, publicity and special events; Jim Sponseller, advertising; and Ethel North, Frank Palmer, William Covington and Russell Isbister, advisors.

Because of illness, Ralph Garber, who was to lead the professional division, resigned and was replaced by Henderson.

A determined effort will be made this year to tell those living here, but working where the United Foundation conducts a drive, how to divert their donation to the Plymouth Community Fund.

On the face of their U-F pledge card, they are advised to write: "Please credit to the Plymouth Community Fund."

Support of a YMCA program and a family service branch office in Plymouth has been approved by the Plymouth Community Fund Board of Directors through the allocation of $12,000 from surplus funds.

The two agencies will be given support during 1963 but will not be a part of the Community Fund campaign taking place next month.

Action was taken last week to grant the YMCA $4,000 while a family service program will be allowed up to $8,000.

The action was taken as the result of a survey now being completed by Mrs. Ruth Eckstein, an Ann Arbor social worker formerly with the University of Michigan. Mrs. Eckstein has been working at the request of the Board since last spring on an investigation of whether the Plymouth Community Fund's agencies are meeting the needs of the community.

Among the shortcomings of agencies in Plymouth, she found, was a family service

Whew! 1,270 Extra Come for Sunday Dinner

To say it was a success is putting it too mildly.

Plymouth Rotarians had expected to serve a record 4,000 chicken dinners at their Fall Festival dinner Sunday.

Instead, they served 5,270 — nearly twice as many as the year before!

Edward Sawusch, general chairman of the affair was the one who admitted that claiming the Fall Festival was a success was using words a bit conservative. "But despite rain and running out of chickens and corn, everything seemingly went smooth," Sawusch added.

Plymouth's 1962 Fall Festival actually began Thursday when a barbershop quartet sang in Kellogg Park. Cold weather held down this crowd, but a German band program Friday night, a pet show, Indian dancers, another band concert and square dance Saturday brought out large crowds.

When Rotarians awoke Sunday morning, they were greeted by a heavy overcast and rain. But at 9 a.m., they grudgingly began their task of setting up the park for 4,000 people — rain or no rain.

In raincoats, they unloaded hundreds of chairs, set up tables and ignited a ton of charcoal in the long barbecue pits.

Community College Tax Figure Set

The Board of Trustees of the Northwest Wayne County Community College last week issued notices to the townships and cities within its boundaries stating how much taxes will be collected by each for the college this winter.

There will be a one mill levy on the tax bill this December for building and operation of the college. There are four school districts within the college district. Within the four school districts are parts or all of 15 cities and townships.

A total of $500,005.93 is to be collected for the college. This is based on a state equalized valuation of a little over $500 million.

Of the $500,000, Plymouth School district will contribute $101,036.55; Canton Township, $9,022.17; Northville Township, $58,864.84; and Clarenceville School District, $23,874.69.

Taking a closer look inside the Plymouth Community School District, this is the breakdown:

Plymouth Township, $56,179.66; City of Plymouth, $34,274.84; Canton Township, $9,022.17; Northville Township, $58,864.84; Superior Township, $115.59.

Only parts of Canton, Northville and Superior Townships are within the Plymouth School District.

The vacant lot where they set up their kitchen was a mire of mud — so a truckload of stone was hauled in.

During the band concert the night before, overloaded electric wires in Kellogg Park began to burn and the fire department was summoned.

But an electrician was hurried in Sunday morning and electricity was restored.

But the biggest obstacle facing the crew came before 4 p.m. when the last of the 4,000 chicken halves were disappearing. It drizzled once in a while and black clouds rolled overhead — but it apparently didn't discourage anyone. Folks continued to gather in line with tickets in hand.

Finding a big supply of chickens may have been a problem but it was easily solved when Mayflower Hotel manager Ralph Lorenz contacted the Kroger warehouse in Livonia. They had plenty.

Then there was the problem of how and where to cut the chicken in half. Another Rotarian, Robert Stremich of the Hillside Inn, solved that by opening his kitchen and slicing the chickens.

There was a temporary wait while the new batch of chickens were being broiled.

The sweet corn supply was also depleted and a crew was dispatched to area corn fields for more.

By the time the last dinners were served at 7 p.m., a total of 5,270 had been served. This was nearly 1,000 an hour.

Guests came from all parts of Michigan and some from out-of-state. Many Plymouthites entertained their guests by bringing them to the festival.

A fleet of antique cars rolled into town at noon and stayed here most of the day. The crowds also were entertained by two theatrical groups, the Community Band and students from the Plymouth School of Dance. The Three Cities Art Club and school students displayed their art work and the Garden Club and Plymouth Historical Society had exhibits.

What if it had rained harder? Well, the Rotary Club was hoping most people would carry home their dinners. Rain insurance of $1,000 had been taken out. Most people didn't notice it, but a rain gauge was placed on top of a truck in the cooking area by the insurance company to measure the rain during a four-hour period. Fortunately, there wasn't any to measure.

The Sunday event probably has the highest-price labor force of any event in town — if they would charge for their services. They included owners and managers of industry and businesses, professional men, city and school administrators.

When Rotary meets again this Friday noon for their luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel, Manager Lorenz — for his own safety — must remember one thing about planning the menu.

NORTHVILLE State Hospital officials had high praise this week for Monsieur Francois, internationally-known beauty consultant, who demonstrated before 60 women patients at the hospital Saturday morning how to use make-up. The New York and Paris consultant was in Detroit for a few days and asked to visit an area mental institution. The patients, who ordinarily take little interest in activities, responded with enthusiasm, a spokesman said. Francois, employed by a major cosmetics firm, gave each a beauty kit and helped them apply the make-up. He is shown applying make-up to one of the patients.

Schools Short Two Teachers; Convention Trip Turned Down

Approval of more teachers, the denial of a convention trip and the raise in pay for crossing guards were among the items of business at Monday night's School Board meeting. (See other items elsewhere on page 1.)

Hiring of the three teachers now leaves but two teaching positions open. A first grade job at Smith School and a third grade at Gallimore are both being filled by temporary teachers, Supt. Russell Isbister told the Board.

Hired Monday night were Eleanor P. Burton for elementary vocal music, eight years of experience at Northville; Lydia Hatterschide, sixth grade at Bird School, six years of experience in New Jersey and Ohio; and Edrhe Truesdell, half-day kindergarten at Smith School, experience in the Plymouth system.

By a 3-2 vote, a request by Recreation and Adult Education Director Herbert Woolweaver to attend a National Recreation Congress meeting in Philadelphia was turned down. Trustees Ernest Henry and President Gerald Fischer cast the yes votes while no votes were voiced by Robert Soth, Harold Niemi and Mrs. Esther Hulsing.

Niemi said that he believed that the experience of attending educational meetings and conventions should be passed around among staff members. While Woolweaver is the only person in his department, he has attended these meetings annually, Niemi added. The Board pays expenses.

George Hudson, a citizen attending the meeting, suggested that all conventions be dropped in light of the tight budget. Supt. Russell Isbister defended these meetings by saying that he felt the Plymouth school system would suffer if it didn't give its staff a chance to keep up with what is going on in their own fields.

The 12 crossing guards were given a slight pay increase, to conform with pay raises given others hired by the system. They will be raised from $15 a week to $16.25 a week.

Mail Will Have Inside View of Texas Air Show

SELFRIDGE AFB, Mich. — In light of President Kennedy's request for additional reserve call-up authority, the national competition for Air Force Reserve troop carrier wings which starts Monday at Houston, Tex., has special significance, it is felt here.

The eyes of hometown America will be on the contest this year because there is every probability that it will be from among the wings competing that a few will be selected for active duty if the reserve call-up materializes. Observing the competition for The Plymouth Mail will be Randy Eaton who, as a guest of the 403rd Troop Carrier wing of Selfridge Field, will spend the next week in Texas and Nevada.

Michigan's entry in the competition, the 403rd head-quartered at Selfridge, has high hopes of returning with top honors.

The annual event is designed to test the tactical effectiveness of selected aircrews from each of the nation's 14 reserve troop carrier wings.

Entered from the 403rd is one aircrew from the 63rd Troop Carrier Squadron at Selfridge and one each from two detached squadrons in Illinois and Oklahoma. The three crews will fly as a team under direction of Col. Gari F. King, Grosse Pointe Woods, the wing commander.

THE JACOB ROOM, a new facility at Hillside Inn, is open now for sales meetings, industrial displays and business conferences. The room, available for half-day or full-day sessions, is equipped with a stage, chalk board, projection screen and a complete sound system. Named after the late Jacob J. Stremich, who established Hillside Inn 27 years ago, the room carries a colonial decor in full keeping with the rest of the well-known dining spot. Antique brick and rich birch panelling form a relaxing background, while Teak flooring, imported from Indonesia, provides a refreshingly different look. Above, Bob Stremich, manager of Hillside, is shown standing on the stage illustrating the room's conference use.

Photographer Takes Look at Fall Festival

A LAUGH-FILLED pantomime, "When the Lamp Went Out," was presented by the Apprentice Workshop of the Theatre Guild during Sunday afternoon's Fall Festival.

ART IN VARIOUS forms was seen by the crowd Sunday. The Three Cities Art Club exhibited some of its members' work and one member made pottery. On the front of Kresge's was a large display of art work from Plymouth school children.

OLD-TIME BARBERSHOP singing rang through Kellogg Park during Sunday's Fall Festival. Under the canopy-topped stage sitting in Penniman Ave., the quartet and several other groups performed for large crowds. The Community Band and children from the Plymouth School of Dance both performed.

Fund to Support 3 New Agencies

(Continued from Page 1) worker - one who counsels with married couples and their families. She found that local people requiring this service travel to Detroit, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti.

At Ypsilanti alone, there have been family case requests from Plymouth so far this year. Because Plymouth does not support these agencies, only two of these cases were handled.

Community Fund decided to allot $4,000 just this year to see if the YMCA can fulfill a particular community need. Through Mrs. Eckstein's survey, it was found that there is no non-denominational organization for the young person who has family or school trouble. It was suggested that a youth group be aimed at the school-drop-out and to those coming from broken homes. There are 300 children in the Plymouth school system coming from broken homes.

Merely forming another organization for any or a few young people would mean a duplication of effort, the Fund Board reasoned. To see if such a program could work without making it a part of the 1962 Community Fund drive, the Board voted to take the allocation from surplus funds.

Most of the parents present finally agreed that they would attempt this year to raise enough money to make a donation to the school to finance the trip. Under a policy made since last fall, the Board may accept gifts to cover the cost of bus transportation, but state law forbids charging a fare.

Collins estimated that it would take $69 to take the band to three away games (the fourth would be the one authorized trip), if the instruments were carried by a truck. It takes two buses to carry the band.

Friends, Neighbors of Governor Form Areawide Campaign Group

Some old friends and neighbors of Governor John B. Swainson have banded together to form an independent Northwestern Wayne County "Citizens For Swainson" Committee.

George Witkowski, executive secretary of the fledgling Swainson Committee, today said, "Scores of people have come forward with offers of financial support, volunteer work and a heartening desire to help the Governor."

The committee's efforts will be concentrated in the city of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville and adjacent Northwestern Wayne County areas.

"Governor Swainson has many friends in this area of all political persuasions," Witkowski said, "and we are hopeful that by getting together we can channel the individual efforts into a more meaningful aid to the Governor."

"Swainson's years in Plymouth as state senator from this district and as lieutenant governor have left a reservoir of individual friendships that transcend any political loyalties. We simply hope to put these good feelings to work." Other members of the committee are John "Jack" McEwen, chairman and Tom Foley, vice-chairman. Citizens may call George Witkowski at GL 3-2770 for more information.

Chips from the ROCK
 Plymouth's first Fall Festival is now history. Our guests have departed, the decorations are disappearing, and all that is left is the memory of accomplishment and the satisfaction of a job well done.

Even a dismal day with its threatening skies couldn't dampen the enthusiasm of our Rotarians, nor frighten away the thousands that visited our city on Sunday to partake of a delicious chicken barbecue dinner in the park.

The art show, plays, concerts, antique car exhibit and parade all added to the gaiety of the occasion. It was terrific, it was simply unbelievable. There just isn't room to mention all who contributed to its success.

Rotarians actually expected to serve about 3,500 dinners but were prepared for 4,200 just in case. Hours were from 12:30 to 6:30 and when you realize 4,200 dinners had been served by four p.m. you can imagine the scurrying necessary to round up enough chickens to serve the additional 1,100 people. Final count revealed that 5,300 dinners were actually served in the park.

When the final charcoal fires were extinguished Sunday evening some seventy members of the Rotary club went home exhausted to their beds, but they slept well knowing the proceeds from their efforts will be spread throughout the community during the next year in support of their various charities. They slept well, too, knowing not a single accident occurred during the weekend event to mar the fun of the celebrants. Certainly the Plymouth police department should be congratulated here also for the efficient and friendly way they made this record possible.

In spite of cold weather and 49 degree temperatures Thursday night and the overcast of Sunday, both Friday and Saturday turned out to be excellent days and the crowds of people who paraded the streets was encouraging to our business community.

The usual complaints were prevalent concerning the whole affair but for a first attempt we would call the undertaking a huge success. A poll of many of our local stores revealed the fact that the merchants were more than pleased with the number of people who visited in their stores.

The Friday and Saturday night and Sunday afternoon crowds again highlighted the fact that even with our presently expanded parking facilities we are still sadly lacking in parking spaces to take care of any larger than usual traffic inflow.

The stores opening on Saturday night also revealed to our merchants that there is perhaps a demand for services during the early evening hours other than Friday. A movement has been gaining momentum up and down the main streets in the last few weeks to have a later morning opening and provide at least a couple of hours of evening shopping at least three or four days a week. This is a service, which by inquiry, we have found, would be most welcome by many of our residents and I hope some efforts can be put forth soon in this respect.

The pet show Saturday morning attracted some 200 children and the array of pets ranged from horned toads, dogs, cats, chickens to a brightly colored macaw. Over 500 people watched or danced in the new parking lot Saturday night to the tune of "swing your partner, swing your partner left and right". The onlookers numbered nearly as many as the dancers and there is no doubt but what the dance was a most successful event.

All in all, withstanding some of the minor complaints and Sunday's weather we sincerely feel that an idea has been born and now by combining the talents of our many organizations the vehicle to launch the name of Plymouth throughout the world is here for the asking.

During the last week it has come to our attention that the Calvary Baptist Church, under the direction of Rev. Patrick J. Clifford, has had under consideration the public staging of a fall Thanksgiving event with a portrayal of the first Thanksgiving dinner. Further, we learned that the Junior Chamber of Commerce has for three years been exploring the feasibility of staging a similar event, patterned after the Stratford, Ontario festival but built around the Thanksgiving scene.

The latter program has gone to the point where drama critic Robert Wall, symphony director Wayne Dunlap and Nat Sibbold have been interested in the program and the following developments have been accomplished. Complete drawings have been made of the Wilcox Lake area which would be used as a setting. The swamp area across the road has been engineered as a possible seating site and the Ford Foundation has been approached on the possibility of writing some original music for the script these three talented Plymouthites have been formulating.

With Rotary leading the way with its chicken barbecue which has proven that thousands of people can be attracted to a worthwhile event, with the Chamber of Commerce attempting its first fall festival event, with the Calvary Baptist Church already planning a similar event and the JCC having basic plans already at hand, it seems there is just one more move.

That move, of course, is the joining of hands by these groups and all others in the community. Presently there is a move on foot to organize an inner-club council in Plymouth. This is something that is badly needed and if we had such a facility here that would be the logical place for the motivation of such an undertaking to be set in motion. Our clubs and our various organizations should take steps immediately to set up such an organization and through this an immediate means of communication could be available for programs such as this.

The organization or organizations that brings about the formation of such a group will do this community a great service and we hope no time is lost in getting an inner-club council formed and in operation.

All in all, it is our opinion and that of most of our businessmen that the event was a fine start. Even the Rotarians who were plagued by the dampness were enthusiastic about their dinner and they were quick to say they will be back next year with an even more ambitious program than they had last Sunday. We salute them for their community conscientiousness, we applaud the Chamber of Commerce for their willingness to experiment with a new idea, and we pat on the back our business community who picked up the tab, went all out to help make the affair a success, and demonstrated once again that where there is community spirit and cooperation there is a community that shall survive, prosper and endure, and for my money, once again, THAT'S PLYMOUTH.

OLGC Parishioners Busy As Country Fair Nears

Articles for the various Country Fair booths are being made by women parishioners of Our Lady of Good Counsel church while men are busily constructing skill games.

The old-fashioned fair, to be held Sunday, Sept. 30 in the church basement and grounds will be open from noon until 8 p.m.

James Doyle attended Eastern Michigan University under the auspices of the National Science Foundation. He took studies in the field of science.

Donald Helm spent the summer completing the initial program for a four-month course designed to improve the subject matter competence of physics teachers. He took it at the University of Wisconsin. Participants took a graduate course in calculus and mechanics.

Following closely on the national program of D.A.R. which embodies three major endeavors as the basis for its existence — the historical appreciation of the past, patriotic service in the present, and educational training for the future, the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter has been cited for its accomplishments.

Daughters Urge Observance of Constitution Week - Sept. 17-23

Plymouth and Northville's Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution are seeking area wide observance of Constitution week, according to Regent Virginia Bake.

On Aug. 2, 1956 the President approved a joint resolution of Congress authorizing and requesting the President to designate the period beginning Sept. 17 and ending Sept. 23 each year as Constitution Week.

The resolution also requested the President to issue a proclamation inviting the people of the United States to observe that week in schools, churches, and other suitable places with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

The local chapter, long active in the promotion of patriotic observance by informative display of the flag, etc., has given special attention to this program this year.

Through efforts of the local Chapter funds have been raised throughout the year in Plymouth and Northville to help support D.A.R. sponsored Indian and Mountain schools throughout the country.

With the funds, the Chapter also sends huge packages of clothing and bedding to these institutions periodically, also.

In addition to the charitable interests for these underprivileged children the Daughters also undertake a well planned program of promotion of good citizenship in our own public schools using teacher participation and essay contests for the students as a method of carrying their teachings.

One of the interests also of the D.A.R. and of particular interest to the local Daughters is proper usage of the American flag. Printed material is available free on the subject from the Chapter and much effort is put forth by the members to encourage proper display of the flag whenever the occasion arises.

It is with this in mind that Chapter Regent Bake asks all residents, business firms and industries to display their flags on the event of Constitution week, September 17 through 23.

Through efforts of the local Chapter funds have been raised throughout the year in Plymouth and Northville to help support D.A.R. sponsored Indian and Mountain schools throughout the country.

With the funds, the Chapter also sends huge packages of clothing and bedding to these institutions periodically, also.

GRAHM'S CHATTER

by Millie Kostov

Do you have a problem?

If not, you had better think one up because we have noticed lately a surge of articles concerning them. And unless you join the club of what-to-do-about-a-problem... there will be nothing left in the papers for you to read, except the weather report and that will, probably prove to be one, too.

Just yesterday, we read an interesting deduction along the problem line. We quote... "If you have a problem, put it out on a table; you may not be able to solve it this way, but at least you will know where it is." This, we like.

Of course, if you are like us, it involves another one. We do not own a table big enough and buying one for such a project does not exactly seem practical.

Well, before we get too far into this vicious circle, we have a project to which there is a simple solution. You will absolutely have no trouble selecting a winter coat at Graham's, the reason being, we have a complete line to show you, and we suggest you make the selection NOW.

You may use our lay-away or just charge it, but... see them today!

Fabrics are luxurious... coats are deliciously warm, delightfully lightweight, the new shape has a flaring hemline, pockets are side-slashed with flaps at the top, colors are new, like... warm java (coffee), soft pale parchment, cognac and charbrown. White will be worn in the cool, cool of the evening, and there is absolutely nothing more flattering! And don't forget red... everybody is seeing it this fall.

We will be most happy to help you solve the clothes problem; just stop and shop today and remember the place, Graham's in the center of Plymouth!

The Professor Says...

By Ed Brown

This week I would like to emphasize the importance of getting as much as possible from each class a young person takes while in school. Each year it is becoming more difficult for high school graduates to get into college because of the increasing college enrollments. It is a well-known fact that only those graduates with the better grades, and the higher mental and achievement test scores, get into the better colleges and universities.

The present ninth and tenth graders should really try as hard as possible to make a good record while in high school. The time to start is right now at the beginning of the year, and early in their high school work.

Quite a number of the above-age group do not sense the importance of these early good grades, and later when they are serious about wanting to go to college find it near impossible because of that lackadaisical attitude of the first couple years.

The pathetic thing to see is the student who just does enough work to get by, and who could do average, or better, work if he really put forth a real effort. We have quite a few of the latter students; I know there are those who say that it may be the fault of the teacher for not challenging these students enough, but I think the real earnest, sincere, able student who wants to learn will do so on his own regardless of the teacher.

I suppose there are students who think they may not be able to attend college because of finances. If a young person is a real good student and has much talent, there are ways of getting scholarships, grants, loans, jobs, etc.

By the time these youngsters graduate there will be college in our "back yard" - so to speak - as the Northwest Wayne Community college is supposed to be opened in 1964.

A good education is becoming a necessity if one wants to secure the better positions in life; the ones with a future and security.

Some factories are now requiring high school graduation for employment. They seem to think that a person who quits school is a poor risk in a responsible job.

The only things open to those who drop out of school before they graduate are - some branch of the service, some menial job, such as, a house maid, janitor, sweeper, waiter, "funkey" work in construction, etc., or a n y place where the work requires a strong back and little thinking.

Some gain factory jobs that are so monotonous because they mean doing the same thing over and over - so mechanical like a robot that requires no challenge or change.

That is the picture for those who do not finish high school, or who just do enough to get by without learning much. Not very rosy is it?

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO???

Those two sports-minded brothers who graduated in 1948 and 1950 after being prominent in PHS athletics while in school.

The older was good in all sports - football, basketball and baseball, and was very popular with both students and athletes.

After leaving high school our man worked for the Fehlig Construction Company for a couple of years, and then entered the armed forces. After a brief stay in California, he saw service with the army in the Panama Canal Zone for over two years.

Immediately upon his return he went to work for the Powell Distributors, Inc., and is still with that splendid concern.

He married his charming wife, the former Delores Spanier, last year, and they have a daughter, Susan Marie, who arrived the middle of last month. The family reside at 14426 Robinwood Drive in Lake Pointe Village. Our mystery guest has been busy until recent years in sports - having competed in recreational softball and basketball, and hardball in the Inter-County league.

The younger brother participated in football, basketball and golf before he graduated in 1950.

One year of college at Eastern Michigan University and another year of employment at Davis & Lent prepared him for his present position with the Wilson Sporting Goods organization.

He has been with this prominent company for ten years now, and after calling on high schools for several years, is now in the golf line with golf pros and country clubs his main customers.

Our second guest is quite eligible girls for he is not married.

Who are these brothers? Dick and Bill Farwell, the sons of the late George Farwell and Mrs. Farwell.

The busiest waterway in the world is the Detroit river, which carries more tonnage annually than the Rhine, Thames, Seine and Volga rivers combined.

MARCHING DOWN the field in the clear air of the north woods is the Plymouth High School Band which spent the week preceding the opening of school at the National Music Camp at Interlochen. The 74-piece band was busy from morning to night during the week and Director James Griffith reported that the band progressed immensely during the intensive program. Director Griffith is shown at right giving instructions to the band on a public address system.

 BY GEORGE SPELVIN

Shades of Fran, Kukla, and Ollie! Those famed TV puppets haunted the golden recesses of the Fisher theater last week as "Carnival" gayly started a three week engagement.

Four hilarious puppets, Carrot Top, Horrible Harry, Renardo, and Marguerite) provide a captivating 15 minute interlude in Act I. Their staying quality is proven when the producers let the same quartet with the vocal addition of Lili open Act II. You still haven't had enough of those delightful cloth characters when the final curtain descends.

In fact, it's too bad that some of the roles in this touring company of "Carnival" couldn't be put on strings and connected to their original counterparts on Broadway. Let's face it you can't replace talents of the depth and range of Kaye Ballard, Anna May Allgerbetti and Henry Lascoe. Alfred Dennis, Carla Allegretti, and Johnthan Lucas try valiantly to project their challenging roles. Jo Anne Worley as Rosaline, Ed Ame as the puppeteer, and Johnny Haymer as Paul's sidekick perform as ably and as brilliantly as the Broadway stars.

"CARNIVAL" is still a wonderful night at the theater. It's a different musical comedy. The stage settings are breathtaking. The dances have the sweep and the dash so necessary to a top flight musical. Scenes blend so magically and effortlessly that you hardly realize what's technically happening.

This, too, is part of the magic of "Carnival." My critical reaction to some of the performers should be taken with a grain or two of sweet-sour salt. You'll probably enjoy all of them. Old George is getting to be too much of a "spoilsport." Guess I need a vacation, a really long one.

THAT COLD BLAST of wintery air last week sent most of us scurrying in out of the garden into our cavernous dens to huddle near the warm TV tube. And the old tube is beginning to brighten with some interesting provocative programs. Walt Disney's "Wonderful World of Color" had a heart-warming tale of life among the coyotes, an entertaining nature epic. Channel 2 has a new program entitled "Who In The World" that rolls right along. And Channel 9 promises to have some fine foreign films on Monday evenings, late enough so that the kiddies won't be puzzled by the mature subject matter.

Rita Hayworth was all set to appear at the Fisher Theater in a new play later this month. During rehearsal she had a medical check-up and the doctors advised leaving the show immediately since she was close to complete collapse. Nancy Kelly stepped into Rita's role. Detroit had the opportunity of seeing Nancy a couple of seasons ago at the Cass in "A Mighty Man Is He." I've nothing against Rita and I wish her a speedy recovery, but I'm more than certain that Nancy Kelly will entertain us with an evening of effervescent acting.

SPEAKING OF "Mighty Man As He" reminds me that the Plymouth Theater Guild has finally settled what their 1962-63 season will contain. Merl Heft, president of the Guild, plus the entire board put the official stamp on "The Mousetrap," a mystery thriller by Agatha Christie, and "Mighty Man Is He," a farcical sex-sational comedy. Local critics are guessing that "Mousetrap" will be the opener late in November. We'll let you know about tryout dates.

Of course, if you'd like to join the Guild long before they begin rehearsing, contact Mrs. Brant Elliot, Jacob Rumpf, or Harold Young for information. You might be able to assist now in rehearsal, on the children's theater production of "The Fisherman and His Wife," an original written and directed by Bill Mandt. Willing workers in any area of theatrical endeavor are always welcome.

Well, they've brushed the sawdust out of the Saxton Music Hall, sent the scenery back to Cain's warehouse, and the actors have gone back to their books. The Plymouth High School Thespians can feel proud of the fine showing they made at the Fall Festival. Lee Stone as Flame La Tour turned on all her burners as she rejected big, bad Freddie and headed for that chilly snowbank with Ugh, the romantic Indian. And how about Ugh?

Earl Collins added another fine characterization to his growing historic collection. Tonto had better not "chicken out" on the Lone Ranger for Earl could replace him in an instant. His bending of the rails to "S" shape was an Academy Award effort. Rae Dennison made her debut as the chunky, bespectacled mother that felt her milk diet was just too "moorverious" for words. She played her big scenes with the ease and grace of a professional.

PLYMOUTH HIGH School's top scene stealer Doug James showed audiences bushels of talent. Doug's not the type of actor to hide his talents and thank goodness that he didn't. Without him "Big, Bad Freddie" might have been an anemic bit of eye-wash. Doug gave the show heart, force, and belly laughs. Linda Wall as the dainty Patience Trueheart did what she could valiantly to give the audience the impression that she had a svelte figure. As always her fine sense of timing saved the day in many a scene.

Dick Berry as the hero gunned his way quickly into the heart of the many patrons that came, saw, and had a hearty laugh. Dick had a witty way with a line of dialogue that should earn him a role or two in coming high school productions.

YES, "BIG, Bad Freddie" lived up to its advance publicity and pleased a plethora of persnickedly persons. Too bad the high school troupers can't take this production on the road to a high school nearby, like East Lynne or Hoboken!

THE BILLBOARD Northland Playhouse — "FLOWER DRUM SONG" One more week left for this Rodgers-Hammerstein hit. Bring your own chowmein. Juanita Hall and Ramon Navarro are featured.

Shubert Theater — "GET ON BOARD" A musical revue that opens Oct. 1 to kick off a season of plays, musicals, and dramas of high quality. "I Can Get It For You Wholesale" fellows... let's hope Lillian Roth comes to town with this show.

Vanguard Theater — "THE THREE PENNY OPERA" Season and individual seats going fast for this opening production. Will be in for an eight week run.

Music Hall Theater — "WONDERFUL WORLD OF THE BROTHERS GRIMM" Don't miss it. Cinerama tells a story in magnificent fashion.

Penn Theater — "Notorious Landlady" Chase sequence in this luff riot so good you'll want to see it twice. Take family.

This study was conducted as part of the Auxiliary's continuing endeavors to promote better understanding of Latin America in the United States. A different country in South or Central America is studied each year. As a gesture of friendship to the people they were studying, Auxiliary members contributed $10,716.10 to buy self-help tool-kits, school supplies, first aid kits and sewing machines for people in rural areas of Columbia. Purchase and distribution was conducted through CARE.

Regarding the question of the sale of spirits for on-premises consumption for the City of Plymouth AN ECONOMIC QUESTION or A MORAL ISSUE (As some might have you believe)

Here is an example of the economic importance of the liquor industry in Michigan. Since repeal Michigan citizens have realized over one billion dollars in clear net revenue from the sale of spirits. This fiscal year will produce over 100 million dollars in net revenue. Plymouth citizens receive their share of benefits from this revenue in the following manner —

How I Earned My First Dollar

James Houk

Driving a horse during the hay-making season at 25 cents a day was the first job held by James Houk, now president and major owner of Fisher's Shoes.

"I didn't get paid anything for working on my father's farm but one summer my cousin, who had a farm next door, asked me to drive a horse for him and he paid me 25 cents a day," Houk recalled. The horse pulled the rope that lifted the fork-full of hay into the hay mow. His father's farm was near Hoagland, Ind., which is near Ft. Wayne.

After high school, young Jim Houk went to Ft. Wayne where he worked six months in an ice cream factory and then got a job with a construction company helping to build concrete highways. In his second year with this firm, the company was building a highway near Saline where he met a girl who later became his wife.

For a year, Houk sold insurance. He then returned to the highway construction business, then joined the AAA to sell insurance. Plymouth was his territory. While here, he got a part-time job selling shoes for Robert Willoughby and finally the job became full-time. This job lasted until 1939. In that year he went to Springfield, O. to manage a shoe department for J. C. Penney.

It was in 1941 that Blake Fisher went to Ohio to make Houk an offer. Fisher operated a shoe repair shop in the present location of Fisher's and he also handled a few pairs of new shoes. He offered to let Jim Houk run a full-fledged shoe store while he ran the repair shop. Houk accepted and from that time on, Fisher's Shoes has flourished.

Blake Fisher has since retired and Houk is now president and major shareholder in the firm. Fisher's also has stores in Royal Oak and at Plymouth and Evergreen Roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Houk, who live in Plymouth, have a married daughter and a son now a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Know Your Michigan

Michigan has 109,643 miles of public roads and streets — enough to go around the equator four times.

With a population of less than 750,000, Michigan enlisted over 90,000 men in the Union Forces during the Civil War.

Consumers Power Customers Receiving Refund Credits

Gas customers of Consumers Power Company Thursday began receiving their share of $4,000,000 in rate rebates, representing their part of money refunded to Consumers recently by its natural gas suppliers.

Bills mailed from the company offices Wednesday were the first to reflect a credit which will be paid to gas customers over a period extending into October.

The company estimates that about 150,000 bills sent to customers this week showed a credit varying from a few cents on up. The exact amount of the credit is noted on each bill. The average residential space heating customer will receive about $6 in credit.

The company, with approximately 528,000 residential and 40,000 industrial and commercial customers, says credits representing the rebate will show up on some bills as late as Nov. 1, but that the majority of customers will receive the full credit on just one bill between now and then.

The refund period extends from May 1961 to August 1962. The refund was ordered by the Michigan Public Service Commission after two pipeline companies serving Consumers were ordered to reduce their rates to the company, and to return a portion of the higher rate they had been charging.

The amount of refund will depend on the volume of gas used since May 1961, the company said today. A small percentage of customers, whose usage was so small that their bills did not exceed the minimum rate for service, will not get a refund.

Consumers also lowered its retail gas rates Aug. 6, when gas customers received their gas at the lower rates effective that day. The new rates have the approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission, as does the rebate program allowing for credits on service bills.

Refund checks will be mailed the latter part of this month to the last known address of customers who have discontinued gas service. If the refund is less than a dollar, former customers must pick up the money at a Consumers Office. Unclaimed money will escheat to the State.

Historians Offer Kiwanis Program

Two members of the Plymouth Historical Society, President Sidney Strong and past-president Frank Henderson, presented a program on the history of Plymouth at last week's Kiwanis Club meeting at Lofy's Arbor-Lill.

There were 80 Kiwanis members and guests attending. The two speakers, who called themselves "fellow antiquaries," told how years ago the groceries were delivered to the home and citizens went to the Post Office to pick up the mail. Today mail is delivered and citizens pick up their own groceries.

The Historical Society has catalogued every item presented to it, the speakers said. They told about pictures owned by the museum, of buildings since gone, about farm tools such as the corn husking peg and hog scraper that are on display, and of how years ago the Salem band and baseball team provided entertainment at Amelia and Farmer Streets.

The Historical Museum is open Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. and guides will show visitors through.

Michigan's total land area, 36,494,080 acres, is larger than Greece, larger than Switzerland and Portugal combined, and nearly five times the size of Belgium.

The Plymouth Children's Nursery, Inc., will open its doors Sept. 17 for its first full year of operation. Begun early last spring by a group of interested mothers, there are now 21 mothers of 23 three-to-five-year-olds participating in the program.

School is held in the Community Center, 200 Union St., on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings from 9:15 to 11:15. Organized ear pools take the children to and from school. Baby sitting pools are also planned to take care of younger children while the mothers are on duty at the school.

A program of songs, games, stories, free play, and outdoor play is planned for the coming year. In addition, there will be field trips and special events throughout the school year. All equipment and toys are donated and outdoor play takes place in a nearby playground.

Under the guidance of an experienced teacher, the mothers assist in the school activities. An orientation program is given in September to acquaint all mothers with the purpose and routine of the nursery school. Each mother works approximately two mornings a month. The fathers participate in painting and maintaining all equipment which has been donated to the group. Thus, nursery school experience is gained at a relatively low cost.

A registration fee of $5 and monthly tuition of $10 is charged for this program. Mrs. Robert Stenger, membership chairman, states that there is room on the waiting list at the present time, however there is presently an opening for a three-year-old girl. Her phone number is 453-7696. There is a possibility that an afternoon session would be opened if the demand warranted it.

TREASURES FROM
Plymouth Pantries

If curry is one of your favorite spices, you can thank Mrs. Donald Ward, of 530 S. Evergreen, this week's guest cook, for lending us her recipe for Shrimp Curry.

A member of the Plymouth chapter of the National Farm and Garden Association and the Antique Club, Mrs. Ward spent the summer getting settled in their home, which they moved into on July 3.

For hobbies Mrs. Ward, who has two sons, Ken, who is a senior in Plymouth High School, and Terry, who is in seventh grade at Junior High-West, lists sewing, gardening and painting.

Shrimp Curry
 1/4 C. butter or oleo
 1/4 C. flour
 1 1/2 C. milk
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/4 tsp. paprika
 1 or 2 tsp. curry powder
 few grains cayenne pepper
 3 Tbl. catsup
 1/4 C. cooking sherry or vermouth
 3 lbs. whole cooked shrimp

Make white sauce of first three ingredients, then add remaining ingredients in order. Serve over hot fluffy rice. Serves 4 - 6. As the recipe is quite rich, Mrs. Ward says she likes to serve it with a tossed green salad, containing orange, grapefruit and avocado sections with an oil, vinegar and garlic dressing.

Mrs. T. F. Devereaux, who formerly designed costumes for "Snow White and Rose Red," and "Rumpelstiltskin," is collaborating on the costumes and is constructing the fin and scale outfit for the magical fish.

Rehearsals will begin next week, for the play which will be held Oct. 6 in the Plymouth High School auditorium at 10 and 11:30 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m.

Sgt. Metcalf adds a special invitation to parents of young men and women that are already in the Air Force.

RAISING DAHLIAS started as a backyard hobby for Roy Ackman, 9114 Oakview, in Green Meadows. But now it's getting to be a business with a multitude of visitors roaming through his dahlia garden, selecting varieties they want to buy next spring. Ackman has 264 varieties of dahlias and 800 hills around his home, plus another 2,000 hills under cultivation elsewhere. The public can tour the garden daily until frost hits. Ackman is shown with a few of his colorful flowers.

An intensive nine day sales campaign will be launched on Saturday, Sept. 15, with a Kick-Off Banquet, to be attended by a large number of members who make up the bond sales force. During the nine day period following Sept. 15, the church proposes to place the $80,000 in bonds among the membership and friends of the church who are interested in this investment.

St. Peter's Begins Bible Study Series

"The Christian In Life" will be the theme of a series of Bible Study discussions on Wednesday evenings at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, 1343 Penniman. The discussions will center on the problems confronting the Christian in relating Christian principles to everyday living.

The discussions will be stimulated by the showing of a new series of "open-end" movies which set up problems but end without showing the answer. These questions will then be answered through Bible-centered discussion.

After an introductory discussion on "The Christian In Life" on Sept. 12 the following problems will be met:

Sept. 19 - "Christian Honesty" - difference between legal and moral honesty.

Sept. 26 - "Responsibility - Work or Home" - how far should "company loyalty" go.

Oct. 3 - "Christian Stewardship" - who decides what I do with my money.

Oct. 17 - "Race Relations" - facing one of today's biggest problems.

Oct. 24 - "Christian Concern In Politics" - defining civic responsibility.

These adult discussions are open to the public. They are one hour in length and begin at 8 p.m.

SPORTSEEN

By JEROME O'NEIL

Short bursts of thought, all decidedly unrelated:

It was suggested — with almost reckless abandon — by a casual critic of baseball that the New York Mets be allowed to extend their own personal season up to Thanksgiving, thus providing them with the opportunity of finishing a "respectable last" in the National League, instead of a "terribly poor 10th." Another observer noted that, all mathematics aside, the Mets were eliminated from the pennant chase on Opening Day as it turned out.

And the Michigan Conservation Department relates that in 1961, about eight percent fewer hunters took 22 percent more bucks than during the year before. This season, the number of hunters is expected to at least equal the 426,250 total of last fall... and will probably surpass the 1961 figure.

Arnold Palmer, never known to be delighted at losing, was not any worse off financially after having finished in a tie for second in the recent World Series of Golf. Had he won the $50,000 first prize, income taxes would have taken all but about $10,000. With his share of second and third prizes totaling $12,500, he still should hold onto $4,000 or $5,000.

Detroit Tiger fans could take heart from Frank Lary's relief appearance against Minnesota the other day. After chalking the 1962 campaign up to experience, Tiger enthusiasts can huddle hopefully over the 1963 prospects, assuming that Lary will return to his 20-game-winner form of 1961.

No where can coaches be found who will admit to having a good ball-club before the start of the season. Mike Hoben's reserved comments about Plymouth football teams have been virtually the same year after year. And still, the Rocks under Hoben have won more than 40 gridiron contests and lost only 12. Hoben is still waiting for the day he can say: "I told you so."

At the pet show in downtown Plymouth Saturday there were enough strange pets to captivate even the most cynical passer-by. Bob Otwell's twelve turtles drew ample attention. Interestingly, he has been collecting turtles each summer for the past four years, but he never gets overstocked. Each October he lets them all go free and the following spring starts all over again.

Among the most curious appearing pets was a South American Macaw named "Lolita" and owned by nine-year-old Tom Thrun. Sporting a multi-colored set of feathers, the Macaw sat patiently on Tommy's shoulder and accepted the attention cast upon him. The bird's patience was understandable, since Macaws are known to live as much as 200 years.

18 Candidates Greet Cross Country Coach

Plymouth's hopes of successfully defending its league cross country championship were decidedly on the slender side Monday afternoon as coach John Sandmann whispered for his first practice session of the 1962 season. Sandmann, embarking on his sixth year as cross country coach, was greeted by only one tested latter-winner among the 18 candidates that showed up.

The Rocks open Sept. 19 against Ypsilanti here, and between now and then Sandmann is faced with the monumental task of welding virtually an entire new harrier squad.

In addition to the 18 who had signed on prior to first practices, there were indications that Sandmann may pack up a few more prospects before week's end. But even that hope did not lessen the fact that the Rocks lost via graduation a total of five stalwarts from the 1961 championship unit.

Team captain Denny Knapp is the lone returning veteran and no other letter-winners are available to form the nucleus of another seven-man team.

Sandmann planned to conduct his initial time trials Friday on the cross country course in Riverside Park. On the strength of the time trials, he will determine who runs in the opening meet a week from today against Ypsilanti.

A year ago, Plymouth finished 7-0 in dual meet action, won the league meet, placed third in the Regionals and 11th in the state meet. There are seven dual-meets on Plymouth's 1962 agenda.

The seriousness of the blight is reflected in the market reports. Kidd said, "Slicers (cucumbers) usually sell for $1 a bushel or less this time of year. I see now they are $4 and they haven't fallen below $3."

Cantelope usually sell for $1.50 to $2 a bushel and now they are $3.

Wet and cool weather has caused a blight that has greatly cut the production of cucumbers and cantelope in Wayne County, Agriculture Agent Edgar Kidd said this week.

The cut could mean the loss of thousands of dollars by Plymouth area truck farmers, although the shortage has brought up the price of the two commodities sharply. Kidd told The Mail yesterday.

Wayne County is third in the production of melons in the state. It is first in the production of sweet corn and ninth in the nation, with most of the production in the Cherry Hill area.

Kidd said that the cucumber and melon blight is caused by a combination of bacterial and fungus growth prompted by wet and cool weather. "You never have this type of thing when there's a drought," he pointed out. Rotation of crops also helps prevent it.

Grid Season Opens Friday As Rocks Host Northville

Northville's Mustangs, widely regarded a year ago when they swept easily to an undefeated season on the gridiron, will invade Plymouth this Friday evening to help the Rocks open the 1962 football season.

As the inaugural for both clubs, the game will get underway at 8 p.m. on the lighted field behind the high school here. Odds-makers would hesitate to single out either of the two teams as the favorite in the coming clash.

While Plymouth coach Mike Hoben was being carefully cautious in his analysis of the Rocks at this early stage of the season, four miles north in the Mustangs' practice camp, Northville coach Ron Horwath was singing his own version of the blues.

Horwath lamented over a diminishing roster of candidates, Northville's lack of experience and a series of injuries that might keep three intended starters out of the Plymouth game Friday.

"We're down to 26 players," Horwath moaned, reflecting on the three dozen that turned out for opening practice half a month ago. "Three of our intended regulars are laid up with injuries."

The Rocks, on the other hand, are not particularly hampered by pre-season injuries as much as their lack of depth at many positions and a shortage of game-tested veterans.

Hoben greeted only two returning veterans from last year's championship squad when 1962 practice got underway late last month. Six lightly-tested letter-winners supplement the pair of trained veterans.

One of the two veterans is 170-pound Dick Schryer who who will start at quarterback against Northville and will serve as the key figure in Plymouth's backfield this year.

A senior, Schryer guided the Rocks to a 6-2 record in 1961. Rounding out Plymouth's backfield, which once again will use a formation this fall, will be Hugh Sarah at fullback, Jim Walasky at left-half and sophomore Gary Grady at right-half.

Sarah, who will figure heavily in the Rocks' power plays through the middle, is a senior, as is fleet-footed Walasky. Grady, a newcomer, starred on the Frosh football and basketball teams a year ago and seems destined for heavy duty on the varsity eleven this fall.

A senior half-back, Buzz Smith will see action as the fifth man in the backfield and a pair of 10th-graders, Roger Tobey and Jim Lake, will offer Plymouth's backfield production high. Di Ponio Mae Pride 4490817, a six-year-old registered Holstein cow owned by Angelo Di Ponio, Plymouth, Michigan, has completed an official 355-day record of 15,791 lbs. milk and 595 lbs. butterfat.

Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official breed improvement programs in The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

In announcing the new record, a spokesman for the national Holstein organization said that it compared to the average cow's annual output of 7.2 lbs. of milk containing 270 lbs. of butterfat.

some extra breathing room throughout the eight-game schedule. To be listed as a half-back and Lake a full-back.

The only other returning veteran in addition to Schryer is 185-pound right guard Jim Ayers who will key the Rocks' line play. His counterpart on the left side as guard will be Hal Smith, a junior. Ayers is a senior.

Hoben, at the start of the week, was undecided about his other starters for the Northville game.

Two seniors, Craig Newton and Mark Schulheiss, along with junior Dick Egloff, are at the top of the list to start at the ends in the opener while a similar three-member group is under consideration for the tackles.

The trio of tackles includes scrimmage game. Following Northville, High this Friday evening, the Rocks travel to Farmington Sept. 21 and then open the league schedule Sept. 28 against Redford Union here.

The complete schedule: Sept. 14 Northville — here; Sept. 21 Farmington — here; Sept. 28 Redford U. — here; Oct. 5 Allen Park — here; Oct. 12 Belleville — here; Oct. 19 Bentley — here; Oct. 26 Trenton — here; Nov. 2 Walled Lake — here.

A REMINDER... SENIORS YOUR GRADUATION PORTRAITS MUST BE TAKEN AT THE STUDIO OF YOUR CHOICE

we invite you to call us for more information. You only graduate once. Your portraits should be done with care at YOUR CONVENIENCE here in our studio where you have time to relax and look your best.

QUARTERBACK DICK SCHRYER, a key to Plymouth's backfield success this fall, will be doing his share of passing, according to coach Mike Hoben. And up front will be right guard Jim Ayers offering protection. Schryer and Ayers are Plymouth's only veteran returning letter-winners from last year's league championship unit. The Rocks have only eight lettermen back from 1961 and six of these saw relatively light duty at that time.

Plush Billiard Hall Revises Opening Date

Tentative opening date for Pool-O-Drome, plush billiard establishment on West Ann Arbor Trail where Parkview Recreation once was located, has been re-scheduled for early in October, it was indicated this week.

Pool-O-Drome, featuring 20 billiard tables and modern interior decor coupled with a colonial exterior facade, will cater to both men and women and will be fashioned along the lines of the well-known Rack and Cue in Oak Park.

Detroit's Sid Ray, owner of Pool-O-Drome, has contacted for delivery of the tables the end of this month after all interior refurbishings have been completed. The bowling equipment, utilized during the operation of Parkview Recreation will be removed shortly.

Already, workmen are sealing over the floor area where the eight bowling alleys once were located. Shortly, wall-to-wall carpeting will be placed down. Work on the exterior revision is in progress. Eventually the front of the building will take on a colonial appearance, in keeping with many other business places in the downtown business district.

Blight Hits Area Melon, Cucumber Crop

Wet and cool weather has caused a blight that has greatly cut the production of cucumbers and cantelope in Wayne County, Agriculture Agent Edgar Kidd said this week.

The cut could mean the loss of thousands of dollars by Plymouth area truck farmers, although the shortage has brought up the price of the two commodities sharply. Kidd told The Mail yesterday.

Wayne County is third in the production of melons in the state. It is first in the production of sweet corn and ninth in the nation, with most of the production in the Cherry Hill area.

Kidd said that the cucumber and melon blight is caused by a combination of bacterial and fungus growth prompted by wet and cool weather. "You never have this type of thing when there's a drought," he pointed out. Rotation of crops also helps prevent it.

The seriousness of the blight is reflected in the market reports. Kidd said, "Slicers (cucumbers) usually sell for $1 a bushel or less this time of year. I see now they are $4 and they haven't fallen below $3."

Cantelope usually sell for $1.50 to $2 a bushel and now they are $3.

Local Junior Leaguers Feast on Hot Dogs, Pop

More than 300 Plymouth Junior Leaguers — from both the major and minor leagues here — feasted at the Elks Lodge on Ann Arbor Rd. last Saturday afternoon as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell, well-known Plymouthites.

The event, an annual affair, is a regular Elks Club project sponsored by the Powells in order to pay tribute to the Junior League players and coaches.

The boys, representing the total Junior League roster of more than 450 youngsters, consumed hot dogs, soft drinks, pop corn and ice cream with as much enthusiasm as they displayed on the playing fields during the summer months when the Junior League season was in full swing.

Following the feast, entertainment was provided by California Joe and Montana Frank, western rope trick performers who are locally known through personal and television appearances.

Several famous sports world personalities were on hand to give autographs and lend further appeal to the event for the young Plymouth ballplayers.

Included among the sports personalities were Detroit Red Wing players Alex Devecchio and Norm Ullman and Red Wing trainer Lefty Wilson, as well as University of Michigan tackle Bill Stine. Barney Jarskey was committee chairman for the affair. Bob Bingley, exalted ruler of the Elks, was also on hand.

The boys consumed over 1,000 hot dogs, more than 1,500 cups of pop and 432 dishes of ice cream and a like number of bags of popcorn. The winners of prizes included: Pat Green (flashlight), D. Bannerman (football), John

Bonamici Ends 3-Year Course

Roland R. Bonamici, assistant cashier, National Bank of Detroit at Plymouth, was one of 71 bank officers who completed the three-year course of specialized instructions at the School of Consumer Banking.

Sponsored by the Consumer Bankers Assn., with headquarters in Washington D. C., the School is held each year at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, in cooperation with the McIntire School of Commerce. Two hundred forty-nine bank officers, department heads and representatives of the banking supervisory agencies from thirty-four states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico attended the 11th resident session.

Graduation exercises on Friday afternoon, Aug. 17, marked the completion of the School's most successful year.

PEA President Reports On New Look in Education

A look at the academic advancements made in other schools across the nation and of increasing benefits to teachers was given to the Plymouth Community School District's staff at the pre-school conference last week.

Addressing the group was Arthur Mulligan, president of the Plymouth Education Assn. Mulligan gave a report on his findings at the National Education Assn.'s convention in Denver this summer.

There, he learned about some of the academic advances, such as Oak Park where they will offer laboratory oriented science courses in the Junior High School; at Newton, Mass. where they will seek to provide "custom-tailored" educational programs for the kindergarten up; at Lake Forest, Ill. where a course in logical thinking, is offered; at Bronxville, N.Y. where they are enlisting parents for classroom work, not only for clerical duties, but to assist children with special problems in reading, arithmetic or English.

He also learned about astronomy being taught at East Whittier, Calif. in grades four through six; at Burlingame, Calif. where they teach geometry in the second grade and at Beverly Hills, Calif. where they have coordinated courses in Spanish and French in grades one through 12.

Program loads on teachers are being reduced in Junior high schools, Mulligan added. "Because reading continues to be one of the major problems in education today, more and more schools are adding additional corrective reading teachers to their programs. Teacher aides relieve teachers of non-teaching chores. "In high schools, school aides are being employed to relieve teachers of such chores as hall patrol, toilet patrol, cafeteria patrol, study halls, etc., giving the teachers more time with their students, thereby providing the students with help that is sometimes so direly needed," Mulligan told the teachers.

The PEA president also told of how some commu-

Shell engineer uses stethoscope to help detect noise the ear alone can't hear. Super Shell fights three different engine noises to give you top performance.

How 3 of Super Shell's 9 ingredients fight engine noise—including one hard-to-hear form of knock that could lead to real damage

Shell scientists tell you that good gasoline should reduce engine noise. That's why they include no less than three noise-fighters in Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend. Here's how they work to help give you a soft-spoken engine—and top performance.

How Super Shell fights high-speed knock

High-speed knock makes a sharp, high-pitched noise—like metal tapping against metal. Because it's most likely to occur in hot engines at turnpike speeds, high-speed knock is often difficult to hear. But even though you may not hear it, high-speed knock can pound away at pistons—even lead to costly damage. Fortunately, high-speed knock isn't too common. But Shell scientists have known about it for a long time. Ever since they pioneered the development of a substance called Alkylate to help control high-speed knock in aircraft engines. Today, Alkylate is an ingredient in Super Shell gasoline.

How Super Shell fights wild ping

Wild ping doesn't last long. It sounds like the erratic beat of a nervous drummer.

This clatter is actually a series of premature explosions. They're caused by glowing deposits that ignite the fuel too soon. Super Shell's famous TCP* additive tackles this problem. It acts to "fireproof" deposits that might glow. Result: chance of wild ping is greatly reduced.

How Super Shell fights ordinary knock

Most people have heard ordinary knock. It may sound to you like marbles dropping into an empty oil drum. Super Shell's anti-knock mix is so powerful that a teaspoon per gallon is enough to raise anti-knock rating a full five points. This anti-knock mix helps regulate the combustion of Super Shell. Thus, each piston gets a firm, even push. Not a sharp, jarring jolt. Now, read how the other six ingredients in Super Shell's 9-ingredient blend help you get top performance.

How Super Shell's other ingredients help you get top performance

Cat-cracked gasoline helps your engine deliver smooth, even power.

Gum preventive helps keep carburetors clean inside. Platformate is for extra mileage. Butane is for quick starts. Pentane mix is for fast warm-ups. Anti-icer (added in cold weather) helps check carburetor icing. Try a tankful of Super Shell today. Then, you'll know what top performance really is.

*Trademark for Shell's unique gasoline additive. Gasoline containing TCP is covered by U.S. Patent 2889212.

LITTLE PEOPLE ON THE MOVE

A State-wide move of little people starts this month with tens of thousands of children crossing our streets and highways on their way to school.

Automobile Club of Michigan and its members constantly work for the safety and protection of our children through famous AAA safety programs that supply materials and work with schools and police officials to educate our children in the ways of safety.

Auto Club members ask that all Michigan motorists appoint themselves guardians of these little people on the move, especially during these early months of their safety education and training.
