

City to Apply for Funds on New City Hall, Reservoir

In a nine minute special session Tuesday night, City Commissioners agreed to submit an application Friday for federal funds to support a proposed City Hall project here.

The City Hall request — based on a "tentative project cost" of $425,000 — will be filed at the same time that similar applications are submitted for federal assistance on:

1. A new 3-million-gallon water reservoir on Beck Rd., and
2. An extensive water mains improvement project here.

All three applications will be filed in Chicago Friday afternoon by Mayor Robert Sincock, City Clerk Joseph Near and City Attorney Edward Draugelis, who have a 2 p.m. appointment with the regional director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

The three requests will be filed under the terms of the recently-passed Public Works Acceleration Act, which provides up to 50 per cent federal aid if the municipality involved can assure "matching funds."

The City, reports City Manager Albert Glassford, is able to do so in all three instances.

Cost of the reservoir is estimated at $288,000 while the water mains improvement plan would require another $336,000, according to engineering figures.

One night earlier — and also in special session — the Commissioners selected the water reservoir site.

They obtained a verbal option to purchase three acres of land on Beck Rd. near the City's existing well fields. The site is close to Six Mile Rd.

Agreeing to the 120-day option at a price of $2,000 per acre was Daniel A. MacInnis, one of five men who jointly own a 30-acre plot of land there. Paperwork on the option agreement will be drawn up immediately and signed next week.

In their Monday night meeting, Commissioners heard engineering reports on methods of improving the City's present water mains system. It was decided to divide the overall water program into two phases.

Separate applications on the reservoir and the water mains modification plan were drawn up Tuesday and that night — in the briefest of meetings — the Commission approved the necessary resolutions to speed the requests to Chicago.

If all three requests are approved, the City stands to receive up to $524,000 in federal assistance.

In order to meet its "matching funds" share of the total cost of all three projects, the City is prepared to issue revenue bonds where necessary, but first will utilize existing surplus budget funds.

Monday night, Commissioners heard a report on the improvement of water mains from Mel Strader, a member of the consulting engineer firm of Johnson & Anderson.

Strader had earlier conducted a survey of the City's major water transmission lines accompanied by DPW director Joe Bida.

Strader suggested a number of proposed improvements in existing lines and urged the installation of additional lines, where there presently are none.

Replacement of many out-dated four-inch lines with at least six-inch diameter mains was a key point in his series of proposals.

All improvement work, he said, could be done along sidewalks and not in streets, thus precluding possible street repair costs.

His report prompted Commissioners to consider sending an application on this phase of the overall project as well.

No discussion came out of the Monday evening meeting regarding the City Hall proposal. Instead, this application materialized Tuesday as City administrators prepared the reservoir and water mains improvement applications.

Near and Glassford held a late afternoon meeting Tuesday with architect Byron Becker, who was previously awarded the City Hall architectural work. Becker was able to determine tentative cost figures on the colonial-styled City Hall from a lengthy study he had been making on the various departmental needs involved in the new structure.

While a site for the City Hall has not been fully purchased by the City, it is generally understood that it will be situated between the library and the present City Hall and will face Main St.

Twp. Seeks Sewer Plan Federal Aid

With plans to extend soon a sanitary sewer line along Joy Rd. from Sheldon to Beck, Plymouth Township authorities this week were preparing to file application for federal financial assistance on the project.

As in the case of the City's proposed water reservoir, the Township's application will be filed with the Chicago regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, under the terms of the Public Works Acceleration Act.

Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay, along with engineer Herald Hamill, hoped to make the trip to Chicago either Thursday or Friday of this week.

Listening Post, Lions Program Set This Week

Cultural entertainment continues in the spotlight here the remainder of this week.

A new Listening Post series opens Thursday evening at the High School auditorium when Dr. Fred T. Haddock, a University of Michigan professor, discusses "Radio Exploration of Space."

It begins at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Haddock's appearance constitutes the first of a three-part program Listening Post series, which is sponsored annually by the local chapter of the American Assn. of University Women.

And on Saturday evening, Oct. 27, the first lecture of the new Travel and Adventure Series, sponsored by the Plymouth Lions club, will be conducted.

This event begins at 8 p.m. at Plymouth Junior High East.

Miss Bathie Stuart will present a film and talk on New Zealand, one of the most beautiful islands in the South Pacific. Both Miss Stuart and Dr. Haddock are well-versed in their respective subjects.

Dr. Haddock, the Listening Post lecturer, for many years (Continued on page 2)

Hamill has been working on plans for the extension since the Township Board of Trustees moved to seek federal financial assistance soon after the acceleration act was passed.

Involved is the installation of a 24-inch main sewer line along Joy Rd., west from Sheldon to Beck Rd. Total project cost is figured at $174,000, of which 50 per cent would be met by federal funds providing the Township's application gains approval.

The Township's share of the project cost would come from existing "surplus bond issue money" previously earmarked for sewer system use, Lindsay said. He said that no additional bonding will be needed.

Already, the Wayne County Board of Health has given its approval to the proposed project, based on the Township's necessity for the sewer extension, Lindsay said.

A similar formality of approval as to "necessity" is expected at any time from the State Board of Health.

Lindsay explained that the sewer line extension is being planned in such a manner that it may be readily linked to the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer system which the county is now having constructed along Haggerty Rd.

Lindsay said that bids on the project would be called for as soon as approval is granted by the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Under (Continued on page 2)

Elect New Chamber Officers

New president of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce is John Herb, elected by unanimous vote of the board of directors Monday morning.

Herb succeeds George Lawton, retiring president.

At the same time, James Thomas was elected vice-president, Margaret Dunning secretary and Harvey Ziel treasurer. Out-going vice president is Frank Palmer, while Herb had served as secretary during the past year and John Wiltse as treasurer.

Herb, 44, and a resident of Oak Park, is secretary and treasurer of The American Plan insurance companies on Plymouth Rd. here. The two companies are American Hospital Medical Benefit Co. and American Community Mutual Life Co.

He intends to move to Plymouth in the near future. A member of the local Rotary Club, Herb is a graduate of Wayne State University and served as a commissioned officer in the U.S. Army's Medical Administrative Corps during World War II.

"I feel that the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has done an excellent job thus far," he said after his election. "The future of the Plymouth community is unlimited and I just hope that I can do as good a job as president George Lawton has over this past year."

He will hold the post during the 1962-63 Chamber business year.

Herb joined The American Plan insurance companies in 1950 as office manager and assistant secretary-treasurer. Prior to that he worked for the Norge Division of Borg Warner Corp. in Detroit.

He is secretary of the Detroit Chapter of the National Office Management Association and is chairman of the personnel board for the City of Oak Park.

He is married and the father of four children.

Halloween Nears Goblins, Ghosts, Witches Ready

By Jerome O'Neil

Tiny goblins, witches and ghosts — and some not so tiny — will make their annual and perhaps inexplicable appearance here next Wednesday night amidst veiled threats of revenge should wide-open trick-or-treat bags be overlooked.

Cause of the mysterious invasion by small-sized and frightful figures is the occasion once more of Halloween, Oct. 31.

Plymouth's own miniature invading force is expected to number in the untold hundreds, if past instances are any measure.

Parents in the community — forewarned by their own previous Halloween endeavors of years past — are already fast stocking-up on trick-or-treat favors in preparation for the ominous night.

Twp. Man Injured As Car Hits Horse

A Plymouth Twp. man was injured seriously early Saturday morning when the car he was driving struck and killed a stray horse on N. Territorial between Ridge and Beck Rds.

Taken to St. Joseph Mercy hospital in Ann Arbor for emergency treatment of severe head, facial and neck wounds was 23-year-old Charles Lee Spencer, the driver.

He was alone in his sports car, which was demolished by the force of the impact. Pinned inside the wreckage, Spencer was freed by Wayne County Sheriff's patrolmen.

Spencer lives with his wife and their small child in a mobile home at the Oak Haven Trailer Court, 14401 Ridge Rd.

The horse, which was assumed to have died almost instantly, was not seen by Spencer in the early morning darkness, according to the Sheriff's patrol report.

The animal was standing in the middle of the pavement, according to the report, after having strayed from a corral located more than 100 yards from the road and behind the home of its owners, Mr. and Mrs. George Hickner, 4848 N. Territorial.

A spokesman at the trailer park said he believed that Spencer would be home later this week.

Mrs. Hickner, who with her husband and their 11 children only recently moved to the N. Territorial address, said that the manner in which the horse had escaped from the corral was undetermined.

"He had previously been unclatching the corral gate with his nose," she said. "It must have been a trick he had learned, so my husband had been wiring the gate shut."

"The gate was still wired tight the next morning," she explained. "We don't have any idea how he got out."

The horse, a 10-year-old gelding, was only recently given to the Hickners by a friend.

Kiwanis Party Set For Kellogg Park

Aimed at providing organized activity for youngsters Halloween night, Plymouth's Kiwanis Club will conduct a Halloween party in Kellogg Park next Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

According to Kiwanis spokesman Jim Winterhalter, the party will feature a witch in full costume, a mysteriously-smoking "witches brew" from which will be served refreshments for the children, and weird background music.

A prize will be issued for the best Halloween-type costume, and trick-or-treat favors will be given away. There may be other prizes, Winterhalter said.

He urged that all youngsters attend the event in costumes. Kiwanis and their wives will supervise the affair. The park will be decorated with corn stalks and pumpkins, and the Kiwanians have issued a call for donations of corn stalks and pumpkins for this purpose.

Community Fund Campaign Total Hits Two-Thirds

Plymouth's 1962 Community Fund drive swelled past the two-thirds mark Wednesday morning, accompanied by strong indications that the campaign will reach its intended goal of $45,050.

Contributions as of Wednesday noon were figured at $30,935.

Last minute reports from divisional chairmen bore out Community Chest president Robert Barbour's remarks that "We'll achieve our goal this year, there is no question about it."

He spoke at a small reports luncheon late last week during which time chairmen noted total donations had already surpassed the $16,000 mark.

Today, with the total about to exceed $31,000, there were suggestions that it might reach as high as $35,000 by week's end.

Although the campaign ends its active phase Friday, additional donations are expected to continue to roll in until sometime in November.

Among these are the all-important industrial employee payroll deduction contributions, which are expected to add another $10,000 to the total before the "Victory Banquet" Nov. 2.

Major factor in the cam-campaign's steady march toward its overall goal has been the industrial division, which is headed by Elmer Hedlund.

He reported that $17,694 had been received up to Wednesday, of which $6,725 represents corporate gifts and the remainder is comprised of employee payroll deduction pledges and gifts.

The corporate total requires only $2,200 more to pass its contribution of last year, while the industrial employee gifts are also running ahead of last year, he said.

Many industrial firms are still compiling payroll deduction reports, Hedlund said.

Meanwhile, business division chairman Tom Notebaert reported that $4,411.50 had been received through that phase of the drive as of Wednesday. Largest single factor was a $2,700 pledge by National Bank of Detroit, Notebaert said.

Advanced gifts chairman Sterling Eaton reported that $5,200 had already been received in this effort, and that it was estimated the total would reach $6,000 before the end of the week. Follow-up letters have been sent out to those individuals who have not yet replied to an initial mailing, he said.

Mrs. Ray Barber's residential solicitation last week produced an estimated $3,000 in cash and pledges with a final tabulation still to be made.

Many residential contributions are expected to arrive in the mail as the drive nears its conclusion. These will come from residents who were not at home when campaign workers called.

Professional division chairman Sidney Strong said that he has received only $600 at this time, but that this represents just 25 per cent reply to initial letters of solicitation.

He sent a total of 73 letters to Plymouth professional people 10 days ago.

Strong said that his team of Senior Citizens will make a second contact shortly of those who have not yet replied to the earlier mailing.

"The fine response on the part of Plymouth residents, the business and professional people, advanced gifts contacts, the industries and in-

Commission Reaffirms Liquor License Policy

With the Nov. 6 general election less than two weeks away, City Commissioners — in recess — Monday night reaffirmed their position on the issuance of liquor licenses should a "spirits-by-the-glass" proposal be approved by City voters here.

The Commissioners re-stated a previous policy that they would "approve no more than three licenses in the City if the referendum proposal gains approval Nov. 6."

The action stemmed from the appearance of Hotel Mayflower manager Ralph Lorenz, acting as a spokesman for the Plymouth Licensees. It is this latter group that is spearheading the effort to gain voter approval to sell liquor-by-the-glass "on the premises" in the City of Plymouth.

Through an attorney representing the Plymouth Licensees, Lorenz asked that the Commissioners re-state their policy on liquor licenses.

"There are certain rumors going around about what would happen if the referendum is approved," the attorney told the Commission.

"They (opponents) say there's going to be a bar on every corner in the City if it's approved," Lorenz added.

Commissioners unanimously concurred in the earlier statement of policy to limit the number of licenses in the City to no more than three.

Commissioners were quick to make it clear that this re-statement of policy constituted neither participation in the election campaign nor official endorsement of the issue itself.

"It is simply a reiteration of policy on issuing liquor licenses within the City and is a re-statement of a previous decision of this body," said Mayor Robert Sincock during the informal recessed session.

CONTRIBUTIONS toward Plymouth's 1962 Community Fund drive have nearly doubled since this $16,290 report was given. A brief reports luncheon last week indicated "good progress" toward the $45,050 goal, and today the total is nearly $31,000. Above, from left, are: Frank Palmer, luncheons chairman; Tom Notebaert, business division chairman; Gordon Ramsey, manager of the Lake Pointe branch of Detroit Bank & Trust; and Jack Talbot, a vice-president of Detroit Bank and Trust, which sponsored the luncheon Thursday at Hillside Inn.

The library's annual Halloween party will feature Eddie Jaye, a professional magician from Detroit.

"We have been particularly fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. Jaye for our Halloween party," said Mrs. Walker.

"His magic has a special appeal to the elementary school children and he does a great deal of audience participation in his act.

"When the youngsters have a chance to assist him, the magical moments are pretty impressive to the children."

Apples, a yearly feature, will be available at the conclusion of the comedy-magic program.

Tickets are being distributed this week at the library. There is no charge for the event, but the tickets assure the Dunning-Hough staff as to how large a crowd to plan for.

Last year's Halloween party was a huge success. Fantastic costumes (from space men to zany zebras) provided a gay note to the festive occasion. Again this year a prize for the best costume will be awarded.

"We do hope that we have a capacity crowd as we did last year," stated Mrs. Walker. "Eddie Jaye's comedy act that is so cleverly interwoven with magic has appeal for young and old. Strangely enough, Mr. Jaye's interest in magic was stimulated 11 years ago by a librarian."

the terms of the Public Works Acceleration Act, construction must start within 120 days of the filing of the application, pending approval.

"This is no problem to us," Lindsay said. "We're ready the moment we get approval."

In other Township matters this week, Clerk Fred Miller intended to file street light installation orders with Detroit Edison Co. for the erection of lights at 30 major intersections throughout the Township.

Entrance-ways to all Township residential developments are among the points that will receive the lights, he said.

Swainson Will Visit Plymouth

In a final visit to his hometown, prior to the election, Nov. 6, Governor John B. Swainson, will be guest of honor at a luncheon at the Mayflower Hotel, on Thursday, Nov. 1, beginning at 12 noon.

State and possibly national dignitaries are expected to accompany the Governor in his political visit here.

George Witkowski, executive secretary for the Citizens for Swainson Committee, sponsors of the luncheon, told The Plymouth Mail Tuesday, that President John F. Kennedy was scheduled to attend the luncheon as a surprise guest, but because of the Cuban crisis, plans were cancelled.

There will be accommodations for 75 persons at the luncheon. Tickets are priced at $3 each. Additional information may be obtained from Mr. Witkowski at GL 3-2770.

'63 License Tabs On Sale Nov. 1

Mrs. Doris Root, manager of the Plymouth branch of the Secretary of State office, has announced that 1963 auto license tabs will go on sale here Nov. 1.

The tabs are white on a green background and are to be placed over the 1962 date on the current plates.

This year the tabs are going on sale earlier to encourage the sale of new cars since many people delay purchasing a new auto until the next year license plates are available.

No hunter, who professes to be a sportsman, could possibly "mistake" a heron for a cock pheasant. (Last year and this year, we have seen the carcasses of no less than eleven hen pheasants. How many we missed is conjecturable).

There can be just one answer: either this so-called sportsman is unable to identify a male pheasant; or his vision is so poor that he should not be hunting.

In either case, a crime against nature, whose bounty this imbecile is trying to enjoy, has been committed.

I am told that the great blue heron, Michigan's largest bird, mates for life. We have enjoyed the company of this majestic family for two years. One cannot avoid a sense of loss, however impersonal, nor the frustrating rage of helplessness.

For, you see, this murderer got away with it. My wife witnessed the killing from the house; but by the time she arrived on the scene, the impetuous nirod had gathered up the feathery corpus delicti and had vanished, with how much remorse, I cannot say. There are many "Good" hunters. These men and women are careful, courteous, and considerate sportsmen. A few trigger-happy persons ruin the sport. They trespass on posted land. They abuse and litter property. They wantonly shoot illegal game. They even endanger human life by shooting with foolhardy abandon "anything that moves". (Our poodles are restricted to the house during hunting season.)

Now, much of this vicious behaviour can be tolerated, if not condoned. But the deliberate slaughter of wildlife, just for the empty thrill of killing, is inexcusable, and constitutes a moral crime.

The sheriff's office cannot possibly respond to every call for trespassers on posted land. The game warden cannot detect all illegal game killings.

It is up to the hunters themselves to conduct themselves in accordance with civil and moral laws. And until this is done — effectively — property owners must continue to post their land, to be vigilant, and to try to preserve the exquisite beauties of nature.

Chips from the ROCK

What do you write about on a rainy Saturday afternoon when you haven't even a good idea. Perhaps you take a leaf out of syndicated columnist's Robert Ruark's book and just start punching the keys on the old typewriter and see what comes out.

To be sure, I am sitting in front of my fireplace with a cozy fire built of wild cherry wood which sizzles and cracks and then gives off a most pleasing odor which permeates throughout the house. Even the ashes, days after the fire, provide an unusually pleasant aroma. Incidentally, this wood is available in Plymouth and we'll gladly furnish you the name of the supplier on request.

I'm interrupted in my progress by a poaching hunter close to our house who chose to completely ignore the many No Hunting signs we have posted on all sides of our property. While my wife chases him off (that's her duty because, it's because of her dogs that we closed the area to hunting) I'm wondering what there is in people that makes them so arrogant in regard to other peoples rights. No wonder we sold more "No Hunting" signs this year at The Plymouth

Mail than ever before. Nearly 7,000, I'm told, and some of the buyers that I had a chance to talk to told me they posted their property because of the utter disdain trespassers had for their fences, their animals and their lands.

Between adding a line or so here I'm also enjoying the first half of the Oregon-Air Force football game which has been an excellent battle up to this point. I feel a little old, however, after viewing one of my favorite movie stars, Brigadier General Jimmy Stewart, who participated in the dedication of the Air-Force's new Falcon Stadium where the game was played. My dashing hero has aged and turned grey, which alerts me to the fact that the same must have happened to me, because it was thirty years ago when I followed him in most of his film presentations. In fact 30 years ago who would have dreamed of staying home and watching a game on TV? Rain, sleet, or six feet of snow wouldn't have kept us from sitting through some football contest where-ever it was. Things certainly do change and time marches on.

I know the picture above is a little repetitious but I couldn't resist including it herein. It probably should have been titled, "He Knows His Onions", and run separately as a feature, but since only a couple of weeks ago we did run his picture and tell you how he made his first dollar by cultivating a neighbors onion patch, it seems only right we show you the results of his own onion harvest this year. Apparently that early venture made a lasting impression on Pontiac dealer, Ross Berry, who each year raises several bushels of sweet onions for his friends. According to this popular onion grower his products are so unusually sweet that they are in demand by those particular friends of his who suffer from diabetes. That cliché of his is about as "corney" as this column, I suspect. Anyway, it's an excellent picture of Ross, his onions, and his two constant companions, Bitsey and Susie.

I've just been informed by my wife that our Sunday dinner will feature pheasant, and Mayor Robert Sincocks wife's recipe for stuffed onions (coming soon on our women's page). It may be interesting for you to know I gave up bird hunting many years ago when I became acquainted with the Duty Pheasant farm up at Brighton. It didn't take us long to learn that pen raised pheasants, beautifully dressed, quick frozen and ready for the oven were far cheaper for an occasional dinner than those bagged in the field, and in addition there is no worry about biting on a shot or having your birds all shot up.

If you have a desire for a pheasant dinner two hens, which are ample for six people, will cost you in the neighborhood of $5.00. Of course you'll have to drive over near Kent Lake to get them, but you'll find the hen a much tastier, more tender and juicier morsel than the cocks, and they are sold under the sanction of the State Conservation Department, each carrying a State seal when you take them away.

I can't think of a better fall Sunday dinner than pheasant, stuffed sweet onions, old fashioned johnny cake... well, why say more. It's kind of a celebration dinner for us anyway to help ease me back to the giant U. of M. hospital where my specialist friends will again probe the depths of my interior to see, if they can, the cause of a continuing infection that has bothered for the last few years. Once again if you don't hear from me next week you'll know my old friends Bill Robinson and Bruce Stewart played a little rougher than they should.

How I Earned My First Dollar

A girl friend had to plead with Margaret Wilson to take a job at The Penn Theatre... and it led to Margaret's first dollar and eventual part-ownership in the popular Plymouth movie house.

"I earned my first dollar behind the candy counter right here," Margaret recalled recently from her office at The Penn. She was a year out of high school and was debating over taking a job in the personnel department at Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

She recalled the turn of events that led her to The Penn. It was early in the summer of 1945.

"A friend of mine, Nina Jean Lawson, was working at The Penn at the time," Margaret recollected the other day. "Nina worked behind the candy counter, but had decided she was going to quit."

When she told Harry Lush she intended to quit, he asked Nina herself to get a replacement. Nina and Margaret were — and still are — close friends.

"She asked me if I'd take the job," said Margaret, "and I couldn't decide because I had this opportunity to go to work for Bell Telephone."

But Nina was persistent and finally Margaret gave in.

She went to work for Mr. Lush behind the candy counter "for a couple of months."

As it turned out, that was exactly how long she did remain behind the candy counter — two months. But she didn't leave The Penn by any means.

Instead, Harry Lush appointed her an assistant cashier at all three of his movie houses — The Penn, the P & A Plymouth, and the P & A Northville.

Seven short months after going to work at The Penn's candy counter, Margaret was made a full-time cashier at the P & A Plymouth.

"I got so interested in the movie house business," she recalled last week, "that I sort of made myself a pest in Mr. Lush's office."

"I think he started teaching me all about the business mostly out of self-defense," she said.

In January 1950, Margaret became general manager of all three movie houses when Mr. Lush moved to California. Four years later, Lush allowed the leases on the two P & A theaters to expire, and from then on Margaret devoted all of her business efforts to The Penn.

Two years ago, when Mr. Lush died, Margaret became a partner.

That fall, she and Mrs. Lush, who has since moved back to Plymouth herself, purchased Melody House and boosted the stock of records on hand to a point where they could advertise it as featuring "the largest selection of records in Western Wayne County."

Today, Margaret is a good deal busier than she was when she was selling candy briefly over The Penn's candy counter.

She found time recently, however, to take a five-week, 9,000-mile-long vacation through several western states.

Margaret visited points of interest in Colorado, Nevada, California, Oregon and Washington. She smiled over the good fortune she encountered at the gaming tables in Nevada.

"I won," she explained, with a laugh of delight. She laughed over several anecdotes that happened to her during her years at The Penn, too.

"When I was working at the theatre's candy counter," she said, "a man used to come in and buy six or seven packages of Ju-Jy Fruits all at once."

"They were for his horse," she added. "We still sell them, but to the best of my knowledge nobody buys them for horses anymore."

Margaret lives in Plymouth Colony subdivision in a home she bought two years ago. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Wilson, have lived at 44640 West Ann Arbor Rd. since 1936.

"I like the way modern concrete roads keep their riding smoothness!"

The National Road Test confirms for taxpayers that concrete provides lasting riding quality.

Concrete and asphalt were tested side by side on 5 loops in the recent National Road Test, sponsored by the American Association of State Highway Officials. Loaded trucks traveled 17 million miles over the hundreds of pavement test sections.

At the end of test (two years of traffic), the surviving sections were measured for riding quality. Concrete averaged "very good." Asphalt averaged "fair."

It's with good reason that concrete is preferred for important roads such as state primary routes. The low upkeep cost of concrete saves taxpayers money year after year.

And while you're at the wheel, be sure to adjust it to your favorite angle. This year, the new Cadillac adjustable steering wheel moves easily to six different positions. It's an extra-cost option, convenient for the family and especially refreshing on long journeys.

But these are only a few of the seventy ways in which Cadillac performance, ride and handling have been advanced in 1963. Make an early date with your authorized dealer to sit at the wheel of a new Cadillac. It's the world's nicest place to sit.

Chamber Warns Against Bogus Uniform Salesmen

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has issued a warning to local business and professional people to be on guard against bogus uniform salesmen and their phony bargain offers.

The warning was issued by the Chamber here and was based on information contained in a recent National Better Business Bureau, Inc. service bulletin.

According to the bulletin, the field of "uniform salesmen" has long been plagued with fraudulent operators who accept deposits on the purchase of uniforms but fail to deliver the uniforms.

The imposters display impressive-looking catalogs and order books and induce sales through seemingly appealing "two-for-one" bargain offers.

Instead of delivering the uniforms, however, the bogus salesmen pocket all deposits and hurriedly move on to the next town, according to the bulletin.

Victims often wait weeks before realizing they have been swindled.

It was suggested to local doctors, dentists, nurses, receptionists, beauticians and other business and professional people who use uniforms, that they can avoid being victimized in this manner simply by dealing only with uniform salesmen of known reliability.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce — through its membership affiliation with the National Better Business Bureau can provide assistance in determining the reliability of any particular sales person or firm.

Kiwanians Mark 37th Anniversary

Kiwanis members and guests Erv Franklin, William Rossow, Bob Nully and Glen Williams enjoyed a steak dinner at Lofy's Arbor Lill last week.

The Plymouth Club celebrated its 37th Anniversary and honored two of the Charter Members that are still active, Ernie Allison and Fred Thomas.

Roy Fisher would have been a charter member too, but it took him three months to get approval from his employer to join the club.

Comedian Gus Howard entertained the group with an excellent impersonation of a German Salesman and his observations of the United States.

On Oct. 30 the guest speaker will be Peter Kalinke, a Fulbright Scholar from the University of Michigan. He was born in Germany and during the war was imprisoned three years in a Russian Concentration Camp. His subject will be "Communism vs. Democracy".

On Oct. 31 the club will sponsor a Halloween Party in Kellogg Park. On November 24 the club will hold its annual Kiwanis Knight Klub Party.

Ellen Tobias, Adah; Carole Willard, Ruth; Edith Merchant, Ester; Pauline Oliver, Martha; and Elizabeth Blair, Electa. Ritual Presentation was performed by Irene Cook and Arnold Williams.

The corsages were a purple aster, blue carnations and white heart, purple signifying service, blue fidelity and white loyalty. The heart representing the chapter. The colors also signifying the new Worthy Matron's theme "Together let us build."

The dining room was decorated around an emblem of five stars within a heart. The heart representing a chapter whose stars emulate the lessons, which are the heart of our chapter work.

The buffet table was decorated with floral arrangements and candelabra in the colors for the coming year. The guest tables were decorated to represent the five points of the star with matching centerpieces.

Elizabeth Holmes was chairman of refreshments which were served by The White Shrine of Jerusalem.

The regular meetings are held at 7:30 p.m. on the first Tuesday of each month and the special meetings at 7:45 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month.

WOMEN

500 Women Turn Town Hall Opener Into Fall Fashion Show

The opening lecture of the second annual Northville Town Hall Series was the scene of a showing of Fall fashions, equal to any ever given in metropolitan cities. Some 500 women, with 102 from Plymouth, wearing tweeds, woollens and knits, in Autumn shades, and furs, gathered at the P&A Theatre,

Northville, last Thursday to hear Malcolm Muggeridge, former editor of Punch for five years, speak on "English and Americans." A disciple of non-conformity and writer of outspoken articles for magazines and newspapers in England, India, Australia, and the U.S., Mr. Muggeridge poked fun at Tele-Star, by complimenting scientists and engineers on their feat, which now makes it possible for people to watch "Gun-smoke".

With the ever-present twinkle in his eye the urbane and witty speaker delighted followers of both political parties with comments about both former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and President John F. Kennedy. In proclaiming his approval and love for monarch form of government, Mr. Muggeridge said Americans missed their chance to adopt the monarch system, by failing to establish Eisenhower as King like the First. However, he countered, they have another chance now, by recognizing and aiding the Kennedy dynasty.

In a serious vein, Mr. Muggeridge pointed out the importance of humor in every day life, both on a personal basis and on an international basis. He suggested that perhaps world problems could be lessened considerably if delegates would approach meetings with humor, rather than drab seriousness.

Following the talk by Mr. Muggeridge, 317 of the women attending the lecture attended a Celebrity Luncheon at Lofy's Arbor Lill, Plymouth, where they were given the opportunity to question Mr. Muggeridge.

Luncheon menu consisted of roast beef, cole slaw, corn, peas, hard rolls and cake and ice cream.

To Attend School Board Group Meet

Board of Education member Ernest Henry and Plymouth Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister will attend a meeting of the Michigan Association of School Boards in Grand Rapids early next month.

The event, on Nov. 8 and 9, is to be held in the Civic Auditorium there.

Isbister will serve on a discussion panel dealing with salary schedules and Henry will participate in another phase of the convention. An estimated 500 school board members, school superintendents and business managers will attend.

Isbister on Nov. 1 will also take part in a curriculum study meeting by the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

He will speak on "Facing the Realities of Local Curriculum Development." His talk is scheduled during the opening session.

Flames at Evans Swiftly Squelched

A paint booth in an assembly area at Evans Products Co. burst into flames at noon-time Oct. 17, but the plant's fire sprinkling system squelched the fire almost immediately. Damage, held to a minimum, was not immediately known. The Evans fire brigade, an in-plant fire-fighting force, assisted in extinguishing the flames. There were no injuries. The fire was out before Plymouth Township firemen arrived on the scene.

Halloween Hint

Mrs. Carl Hartwick, of Clemons Dr., suggests an easy method for cooking fresh pumpkin, that eliminates peeling. Just wash the pumpkin, puncture all over with a fork and bake in oven at 375 degrees for about an hour or until outer peeling is soft. When cooked, slice off top of pumpkin and scoop out filling.

'After-Glow' is Gala

Local Symphony Opener Attracts 800

Plymouth's 1962-63 Symphony concert series opened on a fashionable note last Saturday evening at the High School gymnasium as more than 800 persons attended the opening concert, featuring piano soloist James Mathis and the 100-piece Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Wayne Dunlap.

Inclement weather held down the total attendance.

Just as he enthralled the audience during two selections at the concert itself, Mathis later performed to an informal standing group in the main lobby of the Mayflower Hotel later during the intriguing "After-Glow" arranged jointly by hotel manager Ralph Lorenz and the Symphony Society.

Plymouth residents turned out dressed in smart fashions for both events, with many women displaying fur pieces and evening gowns.

The "After-Glow," a novel innovation for this — the first — concert of the Symphony's 17th season, was termed a large success by spokesmen later.

Seated at intimate tables in the two dining rooms at the Hotel, some 200 guests enjoyed a light supper and wine and champagne amidst informal surroundings that included candle light and soft music.

Mathis himself appeared to enjoy "After-Glow" as much as anyone and capped the evening of entertainment with several piano solos at the keyboard of the hotel lobby piano.

His earlier performance before a near-capacity audience in the High School gymnasium was magnificently supported by the musical accomplishments of the Symphony orchestra.

At that time, he performed two concert selections, one by Prokofiev and another from the works of famed composer Wolfgang Mozart.

He used the Symphony Orchestra's own $4,000 ebony Steinway grand piano during the concert.

"After-Glow" was an informal affair from the start and completely enjoyed by the estimated 200 guests that turned out for it. Greeting the guests as they entered the Mayflower lobby were officers of the Symphony Society, including president Robert Webber and his lovely wife.

Mathis was accompanied at his table by Wayne Dunlap, the orchestra's familiar and accomplished conductor, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Hans David. It was David, a University of Michigan professor of music, who "orchestrated" the opening number on the concert's program, a selection from the pen of Giovanni Gabrieli.

Two nocturnes, composed by Debussy, followed before Mathis performed the selection from Prokofiev. His skill and finesse was witness to his earlier Carnegie Hall appearance last winter and told impressively of why he would re-appear there in the near future.

A Mozart concerto in three parts followed the intermission and Mathis performed at the Steinway in soft, intensive manner. The Steinway, an inheritance of the Society from the late Miss Loretta Petrosky, of Northville, was dedicated in Miss Petrosky's memory during that number.

Mathis drew repeated curtain calls after both of his performances and each time paid his tribute — through hand-shakes and wide gestures — to Conductor Dunlap and the Symphony Orchestra musicians.

Dunlap concluded the evening by directing the orchestra in a moving selection of three dances from "The Three-Cornered Hat" by De Falla.

Next Symphony concert is Nov. 18.

NEIGHBORS at one table during "After-Glow" at the hotel were Howard Smith and Mrs. Ann Fleckenstein.

ACCORDION MUSIC by Margaret and Jack Rudloff entertained "After-Glow" guests as they dined on a light supper. Here the two youngsters are serenading Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Heger. Heger is a Symphony orchestra member. Also at the Hegers' table was Symphony Society member Fred Beitner.

LATE EVENING surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridges at "After-Glow" was a double-magnum of champagne, the door prize.

Familiar Faces

Mrs. Harry Rutenbar

Chances are that if you have been in the Mayflower Hotel during the day anytime during the past 26 years, you have seen Mrs. Harry Rutenbar (Emma), who has been the bookkeeper there since she started in August, 1936.

A resident of Plymouth for 30 years, Mrs. Rutenbar, of 288 W. Ann Arbor Tr., moved here from her hometown of Murray City, O.

A member of St. Paul Lutheran Church of Livonia, she lists blue as her favorite color and has a preference for classical music.

A former golf enthusiast, Mrs. Rutenbar confines her present hobbies to gardening and needlepoint.

A typical breakfast during the week for Mrs. Rutenbar includes cereal, toast, grapefruit and coffee.

Frank Henderson Reviews Theatre at Plymouth Historical Society Meeting

A decided innovation in its monthly program was enjoyed by members and friends of the Plymouth Historical Society at its October meeting, held at Junior High School-East.

Frank Henderson, the immediate past president of the society, presented a review of the theatre from the period prior to the first world war to the present day, noting changes in its techniques and its people.

Mr. Henderson recalled many of the players and the presentations in which they were presented, describing in detail much of the effects of theatre in the entertainment world; also the effects of television on the tastes of people regarding the theatre. Interesting bits from many of the outstanding plays which have been presented in Detroit during the past fifty years were recalled by Mr. Henderson from his collection of programs, many of which are autographed.

This faithful theatre-goer has seen all the Barrymores in their prime - John, Ethel famous kin, John Drew, who appeared with red-headed Mrs. Leslie Carter in "The Circle" at the Garrick Theatre in 1922.

According to Mr. Henderson Plymouth City Hall housed the first motion picture shows in Plymouth. Later shows were presented in Mr. Tighe's theatre on Pennington Ave.

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

For two hours last week a magical spell was cast over the Fisher theater by two of America's greatest theatrical wizards: Helen Hayes and Maurice Evans. True, Mr. Evans is really a native of jolly old England; however, he has been over in our country so long that I believe it is safe to say that we have officially adopted him.

Running the gamut of emotions from sorrow to bubbling laughter Miss Hayes and Mr. Evans showed how in 18 scenes from the works of the Bard that superb acting is accomplished. Each of the 18 scenes were beautifully interwoven with quotes or expertly written connecting comments on the works of Shakespeare. It was an evening rich in educational entertainment.

This talented couple finished their evening of Shakespeare with a 12 minute cutting from "The Taming of the Shrew." Naturally, my appreciation of such an excerpt would rate high. After all, I have directed the "Shrew" and acted in it so many times that I feel as ancient as the venerable old man found in Act IV of the play. And the audience truly relished the sight of Miss Hayes and Mr. Evans playing the quarrelsome lovers.

In case you missed the week's engagement at the Fisher, this pleasant program will be coming back into this area on November 8 for a one day engagement. The APA group over in Ann Arbor will be sponsoring a performance in the Hill Auditorium. I suggest you'd better check into the matter of tickets right now.

Wayne State University opened their season last week with a hitting, lovely musical entitled "The Fantasticks." Four performances remain this week with a special Sunday matinee listed for 3:30 p.m. on Sunday. You'll find this musical comedy not the raucous, brassy variety — it's more subdued and a gossamer creation.

"The Three Penny Opera" might be the type of musical comedy you'd be looking for if it's wild characters, discordant music, and sweeping climaxes on your agenda. The Vanguard Theater with Robert Rounseville and Marie Powers leading a most talented cast are proving nightly that Detroit can support a resident company in a play that would test the mettle of the most competent company. The run of "Three Penny Opera" has been extended until November 17. The S.R.O. sign is up every weekend. My advice: order your tickets for the days earlier in the week.

As predicted by old George "Step On A Crack" hit Broadway with a dull thud. All the critics agreed that the show was a complete dud and went so far as to agree in many instances word for word what we said in relationship to the plot. You have to make up work is never done and requires thousands of man-hours. Surprise Jake and call him at GL 3-7734 to volunteer your services in this opening production. Word has reached my cluttered drama desk that stalwart member, Board member, director, and actor Hal Young has resigned from the executive Board of the Plymouth Theater Guild. Let's hope that Hal doesn't go into permanent retirement as far as Guild activity is concerned. He's too valuable to be lost to Plymouth's theatrical activities.

AND JIM" Crazy French film with wacky action sweeping in and around the silver screen. Opens Oct. 20 for seven days. Fisher Theater "LORD PENGO" New comedy drama with Charles Boyer and Agnes Moorehead. Opens Oct. 22 for a three week run. Vanguard Theater "THREE PENNY OPERA" Sm a sh musical that's filling this intimate 400 seat theater nightly. Call WO 3-3863 for tickets. Terrace Theater "THE MUSIC MAN" Americana at its corniest, but the tunes and dances save the day. A family picture.

Penn Theater "THE MIRROR WORKER" Every one should see this touching story of a teacher's patience and struggle with a difficult problem. Take the whole family.

Music is in the making at Junior High East. The halls echo with the strains of the Hallelujah Chorus, while Mr. Grimmer carefully meshes the voices together of one-hundred "Betweens," who challenge the Messiah, in preparation for the Christmas Concert.

Oct. 25, is the date set for the General Music Class to attend the Opera, Puccini's Tosca, at the Detroit Institute of Arts Auditorium. Do they understand it? They most certainly do, says Mr. Grimmer, who has been preparing the students for this educational opportunity.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS-AT-HEART

By MELVIN L. WOELL, MGR.
INFORMATION DIVISION
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

Harvest time and the weeks immediately following is the traditional time for farmers to gather in cooperative or farm organization a n n u a l meetings. Traditionally too, the Governor kicks off the season by recognizing October as "Cooperative Month", with Governor Swainson recently carrying out this formally begun some years ago by former Governor Williams.

What are some prime policy issues to be decided by farmers who are members of one or more of the approximately 300 Michigan farmer-cooperatives, or of one of the general farm organizations of the state? If recent reports are any indication, farmers list these major concerns:

Farm income, taxes, government farm policies and programs, labor monopoly, farm marketing power, legislative apportionment, Japanese beetle infestation, animal disease control, and issues tied to roads, schools, and rural health.

Frequently farmers display the same vigor in pursuing their interests in these areas as they do in working together on any other major project of community concern.

A day spent with the farm-members of the Calhoun county Farm Bureau Resolutions committee in a case in point. The committee of farm men and women made appointments with major agricultural agencies in the county, and then devoted a full day of their time prior to any formal resolution-writing session. They visited such offices as that of the County Superintendent of Schools, Road Commission, Department of Equalization, and sat in on a meeting of the county Board of Supervisors.

Other farm policy committees could do well to copy the Calhoun program of study and friendly interest. Committee members asked questions of genuine concern. They offered help.

Contrast this with the farmer-protests we sometimes hear about, the all-too-frequent negative gripe and grumble sessions that accomplish little and do much to darken the image of agriculture.

Four Plymouth Science Teachers Attend Bell Telephone Meeting

Four Plymouth High science teachers last week attended a meeting at the University of Michigan's Dearborn Center where they were introduced to two new science-teaching programs developed by the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

The four local instructors, accompanied by Senior High principal Carvel Bentley, included: Fred Meier, chemistry teacher; Lloyd Leach, earth science; and Donald Helm, physics.

The meeting, an afternoon and evening session, dealt with "Ferromagnetic Domains," which is described as a basic approach to the study of magnetism.

A typical student experiment was demonstrated in the evening phase of the program.

The demonstration showed how a student could build a cell which converts solar (light) energy into actual electrical energy. The program was designed to aid teachers in stimulating student learning on the subject, and to broaden student knowledge of science in general.

More than 100 teachers from numerous high schools in the immediate area attended the meeting. Michigan Bell representatives distributed to the teachers special kits containing instructions and materials that enable students to build a solar cell.

Hugh Bronaugh, manager of the Plymouth office of Michigan Bell, extended the invitation to the high school group to attend the event.

MFC Approves Bonding Sale By Comm. College

The Municipal Finance Commission last week approved the sale of $2,435,000 of Building and Site Bonds for Northwest Wayne County Community College.

The bonds, approved by the voters June 11, will enable College authorities to proceed with plans to acquire and approve a site, develop and build four buildings, and furnish the facilities with furniture and equipment.

For the past month while the Municipal Finance Commission has been reviewing the bond issue, preliminary work has been progressing on several fronts. A 120-day option to purchase 137 acres of land for the College site was obtained on property at the southeast corner of Seven Mile and Haggerty Roads at the cost of $250,000.

Soil samples have been taken and boudry and topographical surveys are now being completed.

The discussion was about the issues to be voted upon in the coming election. A lovely dessert and coffee was served by the hostess.

We've got a "HOLIDAY!" Everybody get on the job!

Strange as it seems, "holidays" are not vacation days, but mean hard work for the pipeliners.

The Natural Gas pipelines, a huge network of strong, seamless, steel tubes covering thousands of miles underground, assures dependable Natural Gas service. Still a thorough check and inspection must continually be made to guard against corrosion. When breaks or flaws are found to exist through inspection by trained men and electronic equipment, they are called "holidays". In Outstate Michigan, Consumers Power Company has over 7,000 miles of Natural Gas pipeline to keep under constant surveillance. Continual inspection and immediate communication to emergency crews by these trouble shooters keep this call, "Holiday", to a minimum.

Harriers Bow to Trenton As Dual Season Concludes

The Rocks ended their cross-country dual meet scheduled Friday afternoon by entertaining Trenton High on the course in Riverside Park here.

Trenton reciprocated by administering a 17-46 beating of the hapless Plymouth harriers, thus handing the Rocks their sixth dual-meet defeat of the year opposed to one win.

Team Captain Denny Knapp placed fourth amidst a bevy of Trenton runners who gained first, second and third ahead of him and fifth through eighth immediately behind him.

Knapp's time, as he paced Plymouth's efforts, was an 11:20 lap over the two and one-quarter mile Plymouth course. John Daniels led Trenton at the finish in 10:58.

Skip Otwell was ninth in 11:52, John Bowman 10th in 11:57, Jim McKindles 11th in 12:08, Hal Kuisel 12th in 12:20, Larry Oldford 13th in 12:32 and Ray Christensen placed 14th in 12:30.

The Rocks took part yesterday (Tuesday) in the Suburban Six League Championship meet at Cass Benton Park, but results were not available at press time.

Earlier last week, Plymouth competed in the Clarenceville Invitational, finishing low in the final standings among the 11 schools entered. Saturday, Plymouth will take part in the Class A Regional cross country meet at Franklin Hills CC.

ALL-SCHOOL PLAY at Plymouth High, scheduled for Nov. 8-9-10, is entitled "The Night of January 16th" and features this trio of students in major roles. Susan Haws plays the role of the defendant, accused of murder, while Otto Dobos (center) is the defense attorney and is opposed by prosecuting attorney Jim Stout (right). The play, a three-act, comedy-drama, has a 24-member cast in all. In an interesting switch from conventional school plays, "The Night" will feature 12 jurors selected from the actual audience and witnesses themselves will be seated in the audience, to appear on call. The courtroom will be the entire auditorium in the senior high school main building. Tickets are on sale now at the Senior High. Students admission is 75 cents, adults $1. Tickets will also be on sale at the door. Faculty member Robert Stenger is directing the play.

Overcome 12-0 Deficit

Rocks Enjoy Taste of Victory As Bentley Bows in Second Half

The sweet flavor of victory — made still sweeter since it came in the form of a win over arch-rival Bentley High — somewhat salvaged Plymouth's Suburban Six League football wounds last Friday night here.

The Rocks, after spotting the visiting Bulldogs a 12-0 first period edge, rallied strongly in the second half to gain a narrow 13-12 decision.

It was only Plymouth's first conference win of the 1962 season and raised the Rocks' overall mark to 2-3-1 with a pair of games remaining.

Plymouth resorted to two brands of football in claiming its second victory of the year. The half-time intermission divided the two styles of play.

The Rocks opened the proceedings by fumbling the ball away three times, and having two passes intercepted. It paved the way easily to Bentley's 12 point margin as the Bulldogs capitalized with touchdowns on two of the three recovered fumbles.

But Plymouth showed a new face in the second half when it marched 80 yards to score its first points within moments of the start of the third quarter and repeated this performance to notch the decision as the third period waned.

The fourth quarter was virtually a stand-off as neither team scored, although Plymouth held the upper hand by a decisive margin.

Dick Schryer, whose passing and running efforts have been the highlight of several recent Plymouth contests, used his toe this time to propel the Rocks to victory.

It was Schryer, slender Plymouth quarterback, who booted the extra point after the Rocks' first TD to provide the locals with their margin of victory.

But the Rocks would have been stymied without a crunching ground-gaining attack that amassed 198 yards rushing and played a large role in Plymouth's two-TD outburst in the third period.

Fullback Hugh Sarah contributed 89 yards to the Plymouth attack in 12 carries and halfback Jim Walasky ran for an even 50 yards in six attempts. Sophomore Gary Grady added 27 and Dave Agnew helped out with 25 yards.

In the third period alone, en route to a victory, the Rocks gained a total of 107 yards.

But Plymouth loyalists were disheartened in the game's opening minutes as Bentley struck swiftly and rang up a commanding two-touchdown advantage before the game was one period old.

Plymouth kicked off to the Bulldogs and promptly held them for downs. Bentley punted and on Plymouth's first play from scrimmage, the Rocks fumbled. Bentley recovering on the Plymouth 40.

On the very next play, a holding penalty moved the ball to Plymouth's 25 and three series of downs led Bentley to its first score. Grady blocked the extra point.

On the ensuing kick-off, Plymouth drove to mid-field, fumbled and Bentley recovered once again.

Almost instantly, the Bulldogs pushed their margin to 12 points on the strength of a sudden 50-yard scoring pass play from the Bentley quarterback to a fleet-footed end who had out-raced the Plymouth defenders.

Once more, though, Grady blocked the try for extra point in a move that was to have heavy significance as the second half unfolded.

Plymouth engineered its first serious penetration late in the first half, only to have time run out with the Rocks poised on the Bentley 19.

In the third quarter, Plymouth renewed its efforts. Bentley kicked into the Plymouth end-zone and the Rocks elected to begin from their own 20. In a march that was steady and deliberate, the Rocks moved 80 yards in 12 plays to trim the deficit to 13-7 when Schryer booted the extra point.

Big play was a 9-yard pass from Schryer to end Dick Egloff from a fake-punt formation. It came on fourth down with seven yards to go and it kept the fire burning.

Sarah, Agnew, Grady, and Walasky provided the ground punch with Sarah slanting off tackle the final four yards for the TD.

As the third period neared its close, Plymouth moved from mid-field to take the lead. The clincher was an 8-yard scoring pass from Schryer to his favorite target, Egloff. Good runs by Walasky, Sarah and Grady fanned the march.

"We played a good game during the second half," remarked Plymouth coach Mike Hoben later. "But, that first half..."

He let his words trail off, but the statistics told the story for him. Three fumbles and two pass interceptions kept the Rocks in a hole throughout almost the entire first two periods.

In the second half the Rocks were near-flawless in their performance and dominated play with virtual completeness.

The Rocks made 10 first downs to six for Bentley and totaled 253 yards offensively while the Bulldogs were held to 164. Schryer completed five of 13 passes, all to Egloff. Bentley hit on seven of eight pass attempts.

The Rocks' forward line held Bentley's ground attack to a meager 53 yards, as the Bulldogs gained 111 in the air.

Elsewhere in the league Friday evening, Allen Park continued undefeated by trimming Trenton, 19-7, while Belleville suffered a 13-6 setback at the hands of Redford Union.

The league standings:

WON	LOST
Allen Park	4 0
Redford Union	3 1
Trenton	2 2
Belleville	2 2
PLYMOUTH	1 3
Bentley	0 4

Next on the list for the Rocks is a battle with Trenton Friday night. The game, at Trenton, is Plymouth's last league encounter of 1962. The Rocks close out the year against Walled Lake.

Cheers Give Boost To Farrand School

A 20-girl cheering section has given its support to the Farrand School elementary touch football league team, boosting the Farrand eleven to a 2-0 record thus far this fall.

Farrand racked up a 2-0 victory over Bird School recently to go with an earlier 1-0 win over Our Lady of Good Counsel.

Captains of the cheerleading squad are Linda Daniel and Lauren Turnbow. The cheerleaders made their own uniforms, obtained their own transportation to the games, and put their cheers to good use in helping Farrand to victory twice.

Well, GEORGE ROMNEY,

what are you going to do about the mess in Lansing?

First, let me say that other fellow when things go wrong and taking all the credit when things go right, from all the bickering in Lansing. All the people.

Why all the bickering? The answer is that there is no leadership in Lansing. The legislature cannot lead. No committee can lead. Only the man in the governor's chair has the authority and the responsibility to lead the state government.

But no man, regardless of his authority and responsibility, can lead unless he has developed the ability to get people thinking and acting together. He certainly cannot get cooperation by blaming the LEADERSHIP is necessary to get all sides working together to provide a government that can get things done for all the people of Michigan. I'd like to put my experience in leading people with diverse ideas to work for you.

HOME CONVALESCING after a serious bout with illness in an Ann Arbor hospital, Jerry Pease — of Pease Paint & Wallpaper Co. — was given a royal welcome one morning last week when he appeared for breakfast at the "round table" in the Mayflower Hotel's dining room. Above, Carl Caplin and Frank Palmer symbolize Jerry's breakfast appearance by crossing a knife and fork over his head. At the table (although not all are shown here): Frank Arlen, Tom Notebaert, Caplin, Palmer, Joe Bida, Bob Thompson, Bob Sincok and Harold Guenther. Part of the royal welcome for Jerry included a portion of red carpet laid out in front of his breakfast chair, while his meal was served from a mock-gold serving dish. Several other men dropped by to greet Jerry on his return.

The Professor Says ...

By Ed Brown

The students had a long weekend recently while the teachers attended the institute at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

In many ways this one seemed to be more interesting than some of the past meetings. We had two excellent speakers Thursday, Max Lerner and Sam Levenson. Each presented ideas for the teachers to think about.

Mr. Lerner, a newspaperman and political scientist, urged us to try to present our students a genuine sense of values. I have mentioned this fact before in this column, so I heartily agreed with him. I do believe that parents and other agencies, along with the teachers, should work together on this growing problem of values.

The speaker specifically said that the teachers should try to inspire their students to try for excellence instead of success as a value; good work instead of money as a value; and challenge the mind to formulate ideas instead of foolish thoughts.

Mr. Levenson, a former school teacher and now a television comedian, challenged the teachers to call a "spade a spade" by explaining to students what is good for them and what is not. He mentioned "rock-n-roll" as junk, and that every kid does not have to get a car at 16 years of age — chances are it is better that he walk. He also related that 40 million comic books are sold each month, so the youngsters must be reading these instead of more enlightening books.

His thinking being that if the parents do not downgrade the above things that the teachers should.

As a former teacher, he knows all this would make the teachers quite unpopular, but so what, someone should lead the way, and have the courage to do it.

Friday I enjoyed the day as a guest of the J. L. Hudson Company. In the morning we toured the downtown store — the upper floors that the average citizen does not see. Things of interest were: the huge switchboard room containing over 200 girls at ear phones taking incoming calls; the credit department for charge accounts, the offices, etc.

In the afternoon Mr. Malcolm, the director of employment relations, spoke to us. Some of the items mentioned included: that the downtown store has a capacity of doing 200 million dollars worth of business a year, but since the opening of Northland it has dropped considerably. Northland is the fourth largest retail store in business volume in the United States.

Westland, to be located at Wayne and Warren roads, if opened, will be ready for business in 1965; however, a final decision is to be made next Spring. He intimated that the odds are 9 to 1 that ground will be broken next Fall.

Each dollar a customer spends at the store approximately 2.7 cents is net profit.

Yes, it was a most interesting day all around.

WHAT EVER HAPPENED TO???

The star athlete who graduated from PHS in 1954 after having performed brilliantly in basketball and baseball while in high school? He was voted the most valuable player on the court quintet as he racked up many points for Coach John Sandmann's cagers that year.

This young man is the holder of two outstanding feats in connection with each sport. He still holds the single game scoring record in basketball with 30 points against Southfield in 1954. The yearly point output also belongs to him with a total of 254 for that same season.

The highlight of his career was reached in baseball when he pitched a no-hit game against Bentley High in his senior year.

Since his school days, our mystery guest has remained active in sports. He received an athletic scholarship to Lawrence Tech and participated in his favorite sports. At that time Lawrence Tech played some top-notch competition, and our young man averaged 14 points a game while there.

He graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration in 1959.

Since then he has been employed as a Child Care Specialist at Hawthorne Center. However, he did have a lapse of six months when he served a stint with his army reserve unit in 1961. While in the service he played sports and served as a typing instructor with a Special Services division.

He has played on local recreational teams since 1954 in basketball, softball and with the Inter-county baseball team.

He is still single and resides with his parents on Haggerty Road.

His younger brother, Mike, is presently a regular defensive linebacker at Central Michigan, and one of the few freshmen to make the varsity eleven.

A younger brother, Jerry, is presently playing sports at Plymouth High School.

Who is this former athlete? Ken Kisabeth.
