

Day-Long Blaze Destroys Main Street Building

Insurance adjustors and numerous private individuals today were striving to determine total losses encountered when a raging fire destroyed at least half of a brick building at 200 South Main Monday.

The blaze, exact cause of which may never be known, was described by fire department officials as the worst this year in the city of Plymouth.

Occupants of five rental apartments in the building were routed from the structure as flames reduced to ruins the front half of the building, destroying a barber shop, beauty salon and the local offices of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Although personal property losses could easily surpass

$50,000, one observer estimated, there were no injuries to any of the occupants of the building nor to the estimated 40 firemen who battled the blaze until nightfall.

Firemen were forced to knock down the walls of the front portion of the structure in order to direct water hoses onto smoldering, individual fire pockets.

And late Monday night, City firemen returned to the scene to spray more water on the smoldering ruins which threatened again to burst into flames.

The American Red Cross sent Mrs. Bernice Relyea, a field representative, to Plymouth Monday afternoon to help in re-locating the five families routed by the fire. It was understood today that all had found temporary homes by nightfall Monday. The Red Cross is continuing its survey of the situations surrounding each of the families to determine if further assistance is needed. A Red Cross spokesman said that immediate financial aid is available, if necessary.

Left at least temporarily homeless by the raging stubborn flames were:

Mrs. Elizabeth Yattaw and her two children; Beatrice Ellinger and her son; Mrs. and Mrs. Ray Williams, who have no children; Mrs.

Katherine Murphy and her son, Bud; and Mrs. Isabelle Kuczynski and her teenage daughter.

Mrs. Murphy and her son occupied an upstairs apartment in the front of the building. All that remains of it today is blackened ruins, amidst the rubble of the barber shop, beauty salon and the Cancer Foundation offices.

The other four families resided in rear first and second-floor apartments where damage was minimized. Flames apparently only scorched a portion of the rear apartments, but smoke and water damage was still considerable. However, Mrs. Ellinger told The Plymouth Mail that she lost practically nothing in the fire.

The Professional Barber Shop, operated by Orin Scrimger, and the Effie "A"

Beauty Salon, run by Effie Bushey, both are being relocated. Scrimger will open a shop in the small building in the Hotel Mayflower parking lot on Main St.

Mrs. Bushey soon will have a beauty chair at the Mink

The Origin of Christmas

BY DR. HENRY J. WALCH
FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

FOR SOME PEOPLE THE ORIGIN, OR BEGINNING, OF ANYTHING IS AN EXPLANATION, AND OFTEN THE SOLE EXPLANATION. THUS, TO TRACE MAN'S ANCESTRY BACK TO SOME COMMON ORIGIN WITH THE APE SEEMS TO EXPLAIN MAN, BUT THIS IS RIDICULOUS. AN APELKE ANCESTOR DOES NOT EXPLAIN MAN AS HE IS TODAY. THE ORIGIN OF THE SCIENTIST IS THE VODOO, OR MEDICINE MAN. HE WANTS TO CONTROL NATURE OR UNDERSTAND IT TO BEND IT TO HIS WILL AND PURPOSE. SO DOES THE SCIENTIST, BUT WE WOULD HARDLY EXPLAIN SCIENCE BY POINTING TO BLACK MAGIC AND THE ANTICS OF A MEDICINE MAN. YET, OUT OF THE VAGUE AND DARK INSTINCTS HAS COME LIGHT IN OUR DARKNESS.

CHRISTIANITY ENTERED NO EMPTY WORLD. IT WAS A WORLD FULL OF VARIOUS FAITHS IN EACH OF WHICH MAN SOUGHT MEANING FOR HIS LIFE AND HIS DEATH. AMONG THE ROMAN SOLDIERS WHO LIVED IN JESUS' DAY, THE RELIGION OF MITHRAISM WAS VERY POPULAR. ONE OF THE RITES OF THAT RELIGION WAS THE "TAUROBOLEUM." A BULL WAS HOISTED TO A PLATFORM OF LATTICE WORK, AND THERE HIS THROAT WAS CUT. HIS BLOOD RAN DOWN THROUGH THE LATTICE WORK. THE BELIEVERS WALKED UNDER THE RAISED PLATFORM THROUGH THE BLOOD OF THE BULL, BY BEING "WASHED IN THE BLOOD" THE BELIEVER ENTERED INTO THE LIFE OF THE GOD AND ATTAINED IMMORTAL LIFE. THIS IDEA CHANGED BUT STILL USING THE SAME BASIC FORM, ENTERED INTO CHRISTIANITY.

THE HISTORICAL ORIGIN OF ANY BELIEF HAS LITTLE TO DO WITH ITS VITAL MEANING. SO WITH CHRISTMAS. THE DAY DOES NOT DEPEND ON ANY HISTORICAL DATE. IT IS SIMPLY AN OCCASION OF REJOICING IN THE REMEMBRANCE OF THE LOVE OF GOD FOR MAN. NO RELIGION, IN EITHER THE ANCIENT, OR THE MODERN WORLD, COULD SURVIVE UNLESS IT FULFILLED THE DEEPEST NEEDS OF MAN FOR MEANING IN HIS LIFE AND HIS SENSE OF WORTH IN HIMSELF. THIS CHRISTIANITY DID IN THE DAY OF ITS BEGINNING, AND STILL DOES TODAY. CHRISTMAS IS NOT A DATE ON THE CALENDAR — IT IS AN EXPERIENCE OF THE HEART AND SOUL OF MAN.

ONE CANNOT SAY OF THAT WHICH IS BEAUTIFUL, "YOU OUGHT TO SEE IT, YOU MUST SEE IT. IT IS YOUR DUTY TO SEE IT." ONE EITHER SEES THAT WHICH IS BEAUTIFUL, OR HE DOESN'T. IT IS NOT A MATTER OF MORALITY — IT GOES BEYOND MORALS AND ETHICS. IT IS ALSO TRUE OF RELIGION AND OF CHRISTMAS. RELIGION, AND CHRISTMAS, ALONG WITH OTHER HOLY DAYS, IS A MATTER OF THE CELEBRATION OF LIFE. WE HOLD BEFORE US WHAT LIFE MEANS AND WORSHIP THE MEANING THROUGH THE SYMBOL. IT IS NOT A MERE MATTER OF HISTORY. CHRISTMAS IS THE LIVING JOY IN THE HEART OF MAN UPLIFTED TO GOD IN GLADNESS IN JESUS CHRIST OUR LORD.

An Editorial

Just Too Many Ifs!

This area is facing some major decisions within the next few months concerning the future of its water supply. We say "area" because it is increasingly apparent that the City, the Township and the City of Detroit are all involved in a major problem concerning supplying water to local consumers. Also to be included with these three municipalities is Uncle Sam who creates another "if" and that is the providing of Federal funds which are being sought.

Plymouth City Commissioners are faced with discarding nearly a million and a half dollars worth of water equipment, should they discontinue usage of their wells, and who wants to throw away that kind of money.

The City of Detroit is burdened by a contract with Wayne County which demands nearly a half million dollar investment in construction of water mains which would skirt the western city limits whether Plymouth used the water or not.

Then the Township sits quietly by, eyeing the proximity of Detroit water close at hand on Schoolcraft road, and also soon to be available from the giant Detroit main coming up Cherry Hill road to Lilley to Joy where a Detroit pumping station will be located.

Conceivably, any one of these three could provide water service to the entire area. Actually, however, only two sources are involved. One, Plymouth's own wells and the other, Detroit City water.

Plymouth City Commissioners acted astutely in applying for Federal funds with which to build a reservoir to supplement the City's present service. There is no question but what this revenue-producing facility is valuable to the city.

City Picks Up Option On Alternate Reservoir Site

Commissioners agreed Monday night to pick up the City's option to purchase three acres of privately-owned land along Beck Rd. as a site for the proposed 3-million-gallon water reservoir here.

The action followed a move by Wayne County's Ways & Means committee in which City of Plymouth's request for acreage on Training School grounds here was flatly denied.

The private land, which the City will buy for $6,000 under the terms of the option, constitutes an alternate site for the reservoir, but is almost as favorable from an altitude standpoint as the Training School location.

Only 15 feet of altitude separates the two sites. Owners of the alternate site are Daniel A. MacInnis, of Detroit, his three brothers and an attorney for their firm, MacInnis Bros. Paving Co.

While the purchase of the site puts the City somewhat closer to its proposed reservoir, the project still hinges heavily on a recent application for federal funds that is still pending.

Some time ago, the City filed application for a grant-in-aid from the federal government through the Public Works Acceleration Act, which is administered by the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

No word has yet been received on the status of the request nor on a similar application for funds to support the construction of a new City Hall here.

Cost of the reservoir is figured at $288,000 and the federal grant could amount to as much as 50 per cent of that total. The remainder must come out of the City's pocket.

Without the federal grant, there has been some outside speculation that the City will be unable financially to undertake the reservoir project.

During the regular Commission meeting Monday evening, Supervisor Arch Valier reported to the Commissioners on the Ways & Means Committee's action denying City of Plymouth's request.

He pointed out that the Ways & Means Committee had ignored a recommendation in favor of the granting of the Training School land that had been issued earlier by the County's sewer and water sub-committee.

Cost of the purchase of the reservoir site, which is a portion of a 30-acre plot owned jointly by the MacInnis brothers and their lawyer, will come from the City's capital improvement funds, now on hand.

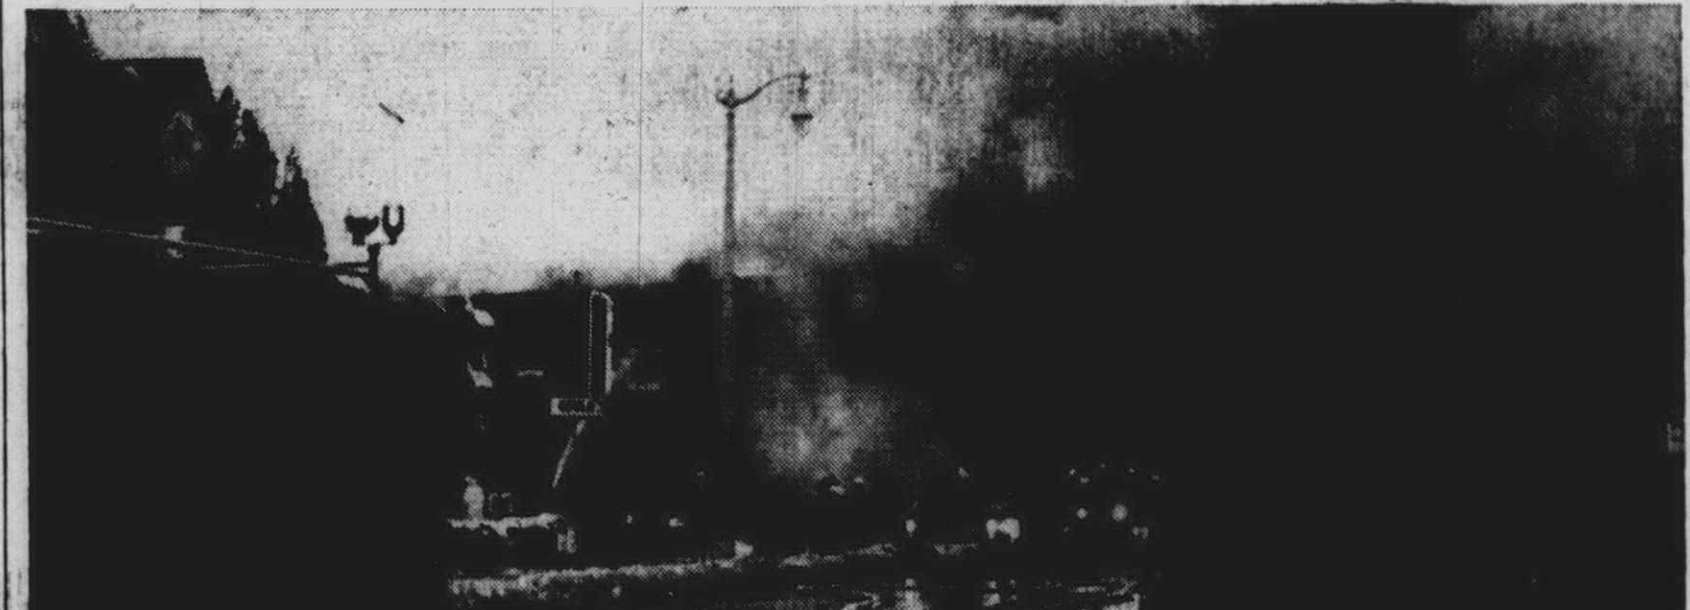

The City will agree to furnish water to the remainder of the 30-acre plot, under the terms of the option which was drawn up late in October.

Meanwhile, Commissioners dealt briefly with the continuing ramifications arising (Continued on page 8)

MERRY CHRISTMAS

FROM THE PLYMOUTH MAIL, ITS ADVERTISERS AND EMPLOYEES

HEAVY, ACRID smoke billows from burning building on Main St. opposite the City Hall Monday morning. Families in six apartments in the building were routed by the blaze NUMEROUS local civic leaders — brought together through the efforts of the Industrial Development Corp. — met Friday evening at Hillside Inn to discuss methods of encouraging the new Parsons Corp. in locating here, as well as to learn more of the company's products. Pictured here at the meeting are: Harry Everts; William J. Scripps, Parsons vice president; Harold Guenther; Russell Isbister; Fred Parsons, company president; and Frank Arlen. Guenther and Arlen are active in the work of the local Industrial Development Corp.

Two Industries Eye Plymouth Locations

Two new industrial firms are eyeing locations in the City of Plymouth, and one appears certain to become a future tenant here while the other is engaged in serious talks on the possibility. Rapistan-Keystone, Inc., a conveyor systems manufacturer, has offered to purchase 2.3 acres of land in the City's industrial park along Plymouth Rd. where it intends to construct a 16,800-square-foot manufacturing plant.

The City has agreed to accept the offer but must advertise for bids on the land at an $8,000-per-acre minimum bid price before the sale to Rapistan may be legally completed.

Meanwhile, a new company — the Parsons Corp., of Detroit — is actively considering locating in the Plymouth community. Parsons Corp. manufactures a patented jet-propelled engine for use on amphibious vehicles including boats, cars and trucks.

Representatives of the Parsons firm made a presentation of their needs and product before a group of local civic leaders last Friday evening at Hillside Inn. On hand, in addition to several company officials, were a number of community leaders and members of the Plymouth Industrial Development Corporation, a non-profit group whose goals include encouraging the location of new industry within the boundaries of the Plymouth School District.

It has been through the efforts of members of the Industrial Development Corporation that both of the two firms have become interested in locating here.

Sale of the property to Rapistan-Keystone — if it becomes reality, and it is expected to do so — will be the fourth such transaction involving land within the City's industrial park on Plymouth Rd.

Previous parcels have been sold to Radio Corp. of America, Willys Sales Corp. and to Wheel-Truing Co. Buildings for the first two firms are fast nearing completion and construction for Wheel-Truing is expected to get underway in the Spring.

Rapistan's location, as it is proposed, is immediately in front of the Willys plant site. The property in which Rapistan has evidenced an interest measures 275-feet in width by 350-foot deep.

The company has indicated that it will eventually expand its initial plant facilities there to a building covering 30,000 to 35,000 square feet.

In the Friday evening presentation by officers of Parsons Corp., Fred Parsons, president of the two-year-old firm, predicted a bright future for his product and firm.

Presently located in Detroit, Parsons Corp. is seeking a new location outside of the metropolitan district.

In explaining his company's desire for a new location, Parsons said that amphibious tanks are already being manufactured for the government and that the next type of amphibious vehicles will be trucks, which thus may eliminate future use of bridges, which could conceivably become obsolete during war time.

He was confident that his company's jet-propelled engine for use on amphibious vehicles will lead the way in the government's conversion to wider use of such vehicles.

The presentation was made to a group assembled by the Industrial Development Corporation through the efforts of Frank Arlen, who had hopes of locating the young company here.

The development group will meet tonight to discuss the problems that might arise over the possibility of locating the facility here.

It will also explore other possible methods of luring new industry to the Plymouth community. Harold Guenther, former mayor of the City of Plymouth, has also been highly instrumental in the success of the Industrial Development Corp.

Numerous others have also played key roles in increasing the industrial tax base here through the development group, an out-growth of the Chamber of Commerce's economic development committee.

Holiday Avalanche

Post Office Mail Sacks Are Bulging

While Santa may be called upon to carry any number of intriguing treasures — some big, some small — in his Christmas pack, fortunately he does not have to tote any holiday mail.

But if he did, it would be highly understandable if he fell far behind on his annual rounds Christmas Eve.

Because the task of delivering seasonal greeting cards, parcel post gifts and other holiday packages as well as the ordinary and routine mail is indeed a mountainous one for workers of the Plymouth post office.

This year, once again, the volume of Christmas mail at the post office here will reach record proportions.

Annually, during recent years, the work involved in cancelling, sorting, carrying, delivering and generally administering holiday mail here has become increasingly greater, according to Postmaster George Timpona.

"At the rate the mail has been pouring in these days," said Timpona, "we'll set another new record easily for total holiday volume."

He felt the local post office would reach its peak early this week and remain at that level until about Dec. 22. On an average day (total annual volume divided by work days), the Plymouth post office handles approximately 100,000 pieces of mail in all classes.

Included in this figure is first class mail amounting to well over 50,000 pieces, Timpona said.

Both figures practically double at the peak of the holiday season, he explained.

As an example of the holiday increase in activity at the Plymouth post office, Timpona cited the figures for Dec. 13, a day that is still well short of the peak Christmas volume.

Santa Still On Hand Here

Fast approaching that magic night when he will visit the homes of all good little boys and girls, Santa Claus is still greeting local youngsters in Kellogg Park.

Because of his heavy schedule here and elsewhere, however, he has been compelled to adjust his office hours in his "Red Shoe" house in the park.

Thursday and Friday of this week, Santa will be on hand there from 3 to 7 p.m. On Saturday, he will be in his shoe house from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. and on Monday, Dec. 24, his hours will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Many Special Holiday Church Services Slated

Numerous special Christmas religious services have been planned for the coming week-end along with caroling parties and other holiday church activities.

Several churches have arranged annual Nativity observances as well, including St. John's Episcopal Church, St. Peter's Lutheran and the Riverside Park Church of God.

St. John's Episcopal church will conduct three Christmas Eve services and a 10 a.m. Christmas Day Holy Communion. The First Methodist church will hold an 8 p.m. Christmas Eve Communion service.

First Presbyterian church has scheduled an 11 p.m. Christmas Eve Communion and the Calvary Baptist Church has scheduled a special Christmas program to be presented by the church bible school at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Our Lady of Good Counsel has scheduled a caroling session at 11:30 p.m. Monday night to be followed by a Solemn Midnight Mass. Five Christmas Day Masses will be held Christmas Day, starting at 8 a.m.

Plymouth Assembly of God has planned three services on Monday, Dec. 24, with the annual Christmas special music program to begin at 7

Witnesses Attend Bible Assembly

The Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will be attending an educational Bible assembly held in Ann Arbor, Michigan December 21 - 23. "Spread the Word of Life," will be the theme of the convention.

Mr. Clyde Lasslett of 37517 Ann Arbor Rd., Plymouth, Mich., will be supervising the kitchen for the convention in Ann Arbor and is preparing to care for the expected 1,000 or more delegates who will attend the three day assembly. Mr. Lasslett is in charge of the local congregation's Literature department; also serves as a Bible instructor.

Supervising the convention will be Richard Krebs, Jr., of Dundee; convention manager, Robert W. Puster, circuit minister for the 16 congregations, and Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., district supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

Highlight of the convention will be the public discourse, "The Bible's Answer to Our Problem of Survival," by Mr. Kovalak on Sunday, December 23.

The purpose of the convention is to make each delegate more aware of his Christian obligations and to assist him to more effectively fulfill them.

Service Groups Wrap Yule Gifts For Training School

Service groups throughout this area are busy this week wrapping gifts for "forgotten children" in the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

A women's circle from the First Presbyterian Church, wrapped gifts, Tuesday, and the Newcomers Club and Women's circle of the Methodist Church will do more of the same Thursday and Friday. Other service groups which have participated in the wrapping include groups from Northville, Livonia, Farmington and Detroit.

Gifts, which will be distributed Christmas Day, were donated by foster parents assigned to children in the school by the Parents Group of Plymouth State Home.

Students in the school will present a Christmas program in the school auditorium for parents and friends on Sunday, Dec. 23, beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Chips from the ROCK

Christmas is everywhere and, apparently, this week this old column is getting its share of attention... at least as far as the holidays are concerned. Realtor William Fehlig took a new tack in his real estate advertising in last week's classified section of The Mail by suggesting that a newcomer could relax in comfort in the living room at 679 N. Harvey street while enjoying the "Chips From The Rock" column. I don't know whether the buyer of this house would particularly enjoy the column or not, but the sentiment expressed in Mr. Fehlig's ad couldn't pass by without acknowledgement and thanks.

And... up at the police department Leona Dierick says we could probably pass out a lot of Christmas presents from the police if we could remind people to check their drivers licenses to make sure they haven't expired. "Should a driver have any kind of an accident, especially this weather, and have an expired drivers license on their person they would only compound their difficulty," she says. Of course, as you probably guessed, this friendly Christmas tip came about as a result of my own carelessness in missing my birthday by several days. Its a good tip she has, so why not look at your license right now.

And... here is still another way to get included in our Christmas column round-up. Richard Lea, director of the TB and Health Society of Detroit and a local Holbrook street resident, contributes this addition. "Since your 'Chips' column is so widely read, I wonder if you might mention our new Holiday record, 'Christmas in Detroit'."

According to Mr. Lea, it is an inspired triumph in music and includes hundreds of Detroit's talented voices in a musical first for the City as they join in a collection of traditional Holiday songs and hymns.

Here is a chance to add a wonderful Holiday record to your collection and, at the same time, contribute to the TB and Health Society. Price of the complete package, donation and record, is $3.75 and it can be secured locally, too.

And... it isn't often you hear of Christmas charities up and down our main streets because most of these things are done without publicity and never come out in the open. However, we did learn of a little undercover Christmas giving which we think deserves mention. Clothier Wendell Lent called a most deserving young man into his store and presented him with a nice new warm mackinaw to replace the shoddy light weight jacket he was trying to brave this freezing weather in.

On leaving the store, Wendell told the chap that shoeman Jim Houk was looking for him and directed him to Fishers Shoe Store. By pre-arrangement Jim had ready a nice new, warm pair of lined over-shoes which he also contributed to this worthy recipient. Who says there isn't Christmas in Plymouth in spirit as well as reality?

I suppose because it's Christmas time that I am inspired to tell this 30 year old story which provided me with many pleasant memories and some especially hearty personal laughter as I thought about it one morning at my breakfast table last week.

The close proximity, and my kids love of records at Margaret Wilson's Melody House, provoked these thoughts and I pass them on for what they are worth to you.

Almost every week, for the last three or four, one of the kids has toted home a new Christmas record. After hearing several, I suggested to them that they might record all of their Christmas music on one long tape and then we could turn the recorder on and have a couple of uninterrupted hours of solid Christmas music. They liked the idea and spent a whole evening making the tape. The next morning I sat alone at the breakfast table listening to the tape and gazing over the snow-covered fields behind our house. I guess I got a little over-sentimental, and, as the song "O Tannenbaum" was playing, my thoughts drifted back some 30 years to the times I joined a group of localities in exercising my tonsils by singing joyously this song.

Now, for the benefit of our newcomers this "chorus" met quite regularly on Saturday morning at the site of what is now Hillside Inn. The original part of Hillside was the former home of the Streng family, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Streng, son, Roy, and daughters Margaret and Alvina.

To get there in those days, one had to drive across an old narrow wooden bridge and almost through a woods. Across the street from Streng's, slightly to the east, stood the old Shattuck home where Sam and Bonnie (Mrs. Charles Garlett) grew up. In those days one traveled dangerously by car, crossing that old bridge and through the woods, going and coming from Detroit. In fact, springtime floods passing under the old structure made it frightening to even walk across. Here, however, was the site of the restaurant.

After the family had deserted the house and it had stood vacant for some time son Roy decided to open a restaurant in it. This venture wasn't successful but Roy was a popular sort of a guy and a lot of the young businessmen of Plymouth patronized him, not for his food or the quality of the cloudy home brew which came out of his kitchen for trusted friends, but just because they liked to be around him.

As business faded, even with chef Bert Swadling behind the stove, this group of old friends continued to patronize Roy and most particularly on Saturday mornings where they would gather for lunch, partake of his beverage, eat a couple of hamburgs and join in his song fest which came into being early one December.

It started when Grocer Ed Gayde procured an old oil cloth chart of the song "O Tannenbaum, O Tannenbaum," properly illustrated with pictures of Christmas trees, words, and other items in the song which he presented to Roy.

On these joyous Saturday occasions Roy would unfurl his huge musical chart and the boys would join in singing the song as he pointed to the words or objects painted thereon. As the spirits of the guests and Roy heightened with each new draught of home brew Roy would hit the chart harder with his pointer and the voices of the group would respond and could probably well have been heard in Northville, quality and harmony, of course, being no consideration.

In fact as these song fests approached their ultimate heights Roy was frequently moved to accompany his choir with his battered old violin which so moved the guests that it wasn't unusual to observe tears in their eyes. As I remember Roy as a violinist I would probably put him in a class with Jack Benny, certainly not Fritz Kreisler. But at times like that, reminiscent of old-fashioned bar room movies, who needed Fritz Kreisler to bring tears to the eyes of the assembled.

Those were the days when people had time, and taxes and complex bookkeeping systems were unheard of. Those were the times when a businessman could spend a few hours in leisure with his friends singing, talking and just plain enjoying the simple things that made life perfect in those good old days.

Many of that choir are no longer living, yet many are, and a few of those with whom I laughed about this last week are still active within our community. If memory serves me correctly, some you will know, most you will remember. Here are those that come to mind: Sanford (Sam) Shattuck, Dr. B. E. Champe, F. R. (Dutch) Beals, Harry Lush, Jake Stremich, Jack Miller, Ed Gollinger, Matt Powell, Carl Sage, Ed. Gayde, Julius Kaiser, Charlie Messmore and Mike Freydl. I am sure there were others but time has erased their names from my memory.

In spite of the joys of the Saturday song fest Roy's restaurant soon folded and the house again became vacant... and it was almost Christmas time again when Jake and Margaret Stremich opened the doors to the now famous Hillside. As a matter of fact it was on December 15, 1934. Above the protests of Margaret and other members of the Streng family, Jake was determined to convert the home into a restaurant and he was sure with proper management it could prosper.

Perhaps this is a good place to end this Christmas tale because it's no secret that Jake's dream did become a reality. There's more to be told about those early Hillside days especially after Jake and Margaret took over from Roy's first venture, but perhaps it is better if I suggest you get these inside facts from Margaret herself at the popular Inn.

Travel Agent May Begin Televised Travel Series

Although not official, there is a strong possibility that the beginning next fall WXYZ-TV (Channel 7), will launch a thirty minute travel variety series which will be under the direction of local travel agent, Kurt Thrun, of the Travel Centre. Final sanction will depend upon results of a pilot film series which will be presented to station officials after the first of next year. Thrun and a photographer (still to be named) will fly to Mexico between Christmas and New Year's to shoot the film.

Initial preparations for the travel variety series, began but two short weeks ago, when Thrun appeared at the office of John E. Pival, president of WXYZ Inc., for a ten minute appointment, which was concluded an hour and one half later, with Thrun being given the "go ahead."

In a letter from Pival, the station president stated that "Mr. Thrun's efforts will not be of the common variety, such as filming statues, impressive public buildings, etc., but rather, he will concentrate on bringing back to Detroit some of the true background of some of the world's most interesting places."

He added that this is a fact that has never been thoroughly explored and we are most enthusiastic about the approach.

Thrun said that in addition to the travel variety series, station officials were also interested in launching another series dealing with night life around the world, which would also be directed by him.

Plymouth High Notes

Ken Ward and Beverly Gilbert were recently named as the top boy and girl Christmas card salesmen of the senior class this year. Each sold over 100 boxes of cards as the senior class crossed $7,107.82 in the campaign.

Chosen because of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism were best citizens Art Gulick and Sue McIntyre. Art, who has an "A" average, is taking sociology, trig, English, latin and chemistry this year.

He is Vice Mayor, a member of the National Honor Society, Madrigal Singers and would like to major in languages or medicine in college.

Sue, who will compete in state contest for the best girl citizen under the sponsorship of the DAR, is busy taking French IV, English, chemistry, trig and sociology.

She is Student Council Secretary, a National Merit Semi-Finalist, a member of Water Waves, Pep Club, and plans to major in French at Ohio Wesleyan University next year.

Club Photos were taken on Thursday Dec. 13 and caused general confusion in all classes.

The annual Christmas assembly will be held Thursday, and vacation will begin at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

Spanish Club had a party at Gail Schegg's house on Dec. 14, at which Mr. Jon Inman recently toured Mexico Michigan was a guest. Mr. Inman recently toured Mexico and presented Mexican songs for entertainment.

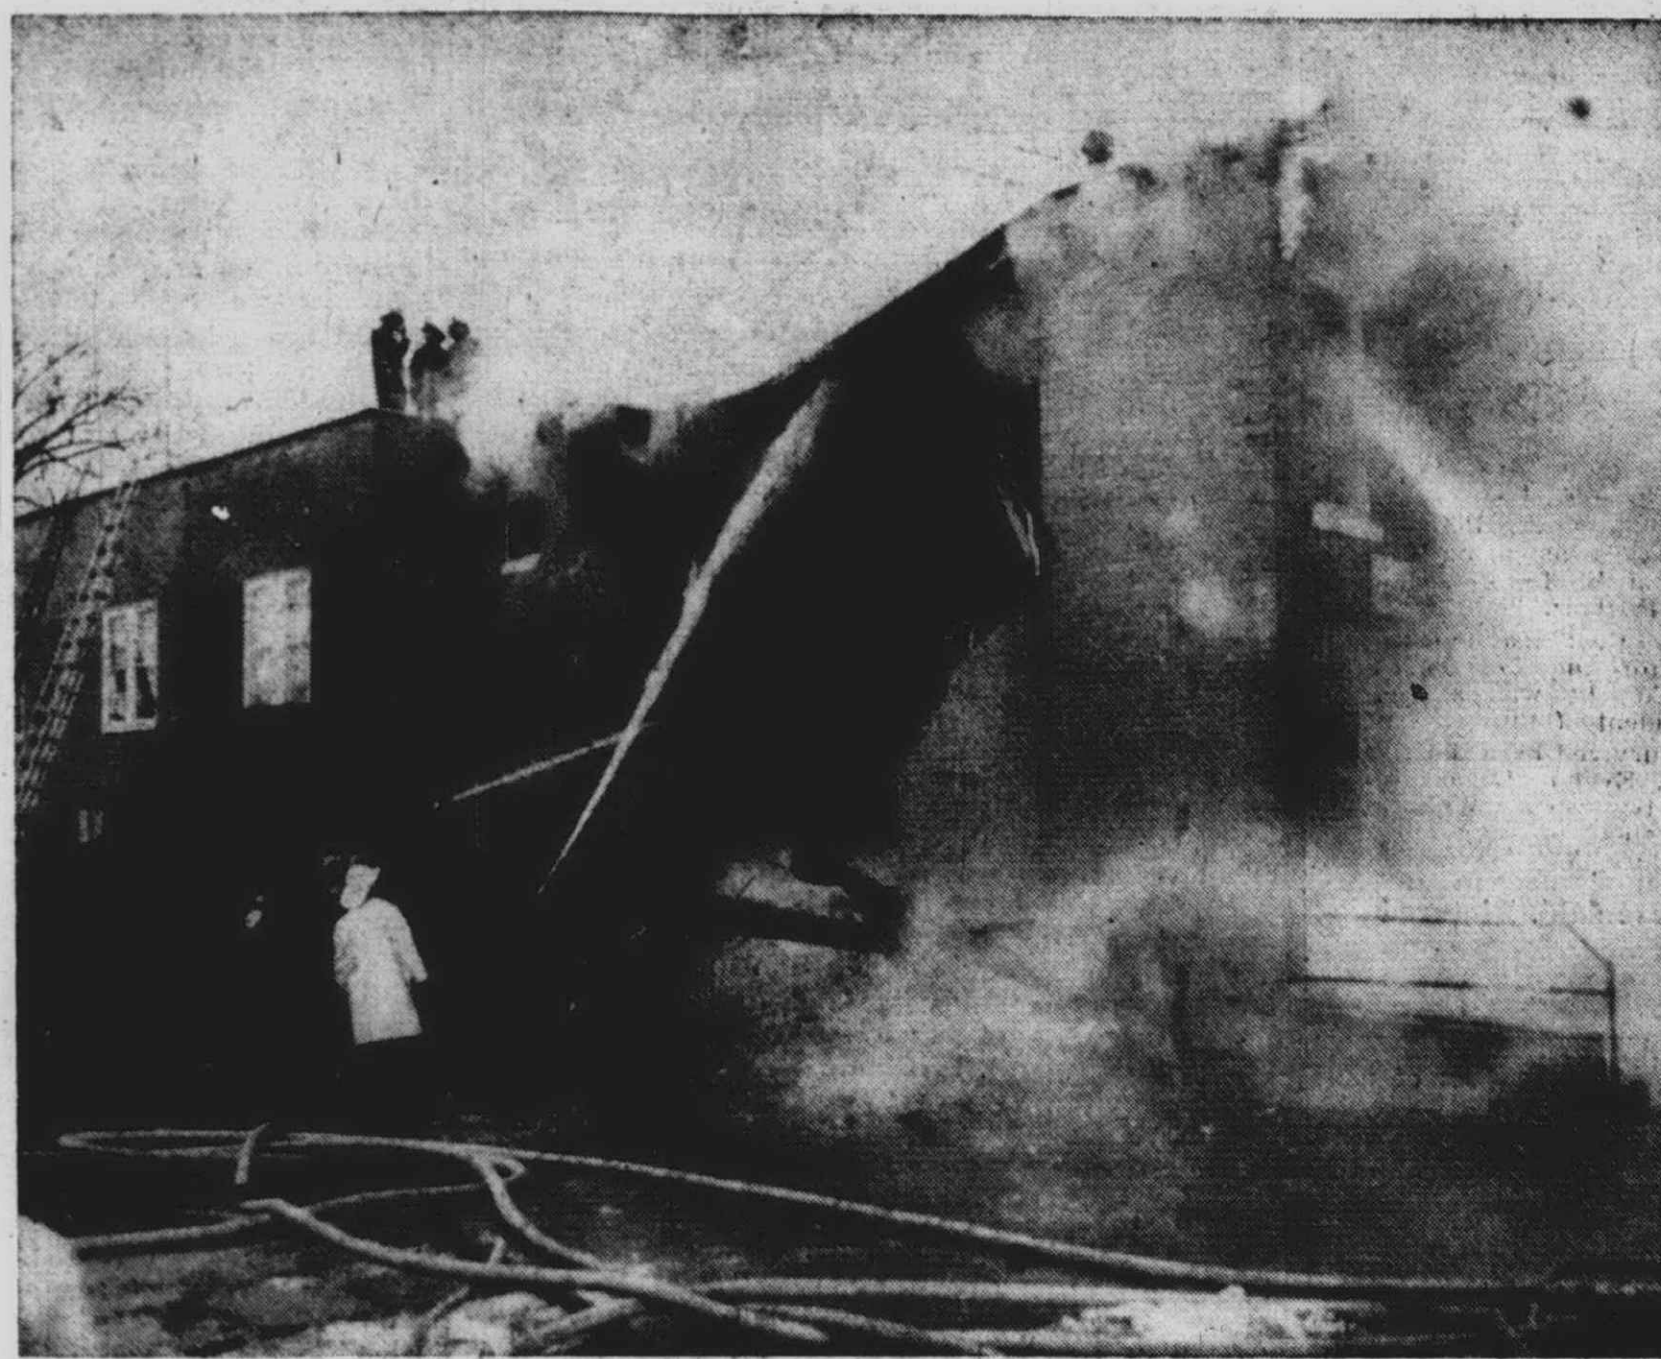

Water Wave, Ripples, and GAA went Christmas caroling on Dec. 18 and returned to the school for refreshments. GAA members are ordering pins and sweat-shirts with the GAA emblem on them.

The International Relations class is planning a bake sale which will include the sale of aprons, candles, and the Christmas bake good on Saturday, Dec. 22.

Pom-pom girls, a new facet of the Pep Club, made their first appearance at the Pep assembly Friday, Dec. 14. PHS megaphones are now being sold by Pep Club members at only 75 cents each.

Art Club members with their adviser Mrs. Jesse Hudson will visit Detroit sometime in January to view 141 paintings and drawings of Vincent van Gogh.

Scores of the Preliminary Scholarship Aptitude Tests taken in October by juniors and seniors can now be picked up in the Guidance office.

LARGEST FIRE in City of Plymouth in 1962 last Monday virtually destroyed a brick building on Main St. across from City Hall. Blaze was discovered about 6 a.m. and was not brought fully under control until mid-morning. A barber shop, beauty salon, the local offices of Michigan Cancer Foundation and one front apartment were nothing but rubble by the end of the day. Here, firemen spray water through crumbled wall, deliberately knocked down in order to gain access to hidden interior flames.

CROUCHING to get beneath the low-hanging smoke issuing from the burning building, firemen direct a fire hose into the flames. Total water used in battling the blaze is not yet known, but at one time there were seven 2 1/2-inch hoses in use, each issuing 325 gallons of water per minute. The rubble of the building continued to smoke Monday night and much of Tuesday. However, there were no cases of firemen suffering from excess smoke inhalation and there were no injuries.

16,000 cancer dressings stored there. Firemen suggested that much of the acrid, billowing smoke that hung over the building at mid-morning was caused by the smoldering dressings.

John R. Kendall, a field representative for the Michigan Cancer Foundation, said that all cancer patients previously being served by the Plymouth chapter should contact the Livonia office, located in the Newburgh School at the corner of Ann Arbor Rd. In addition to the dressings destroyed by the flames, the Cancer Foundation also lost three beds and three wheelchairs that had been in storage there.

All cells from a cancer patients and volunteer workers are being taken by Mrs. Francis Patterson, local volunteer activities chairman, at GL 3-2499.

While the total individual losses have yet to be tabulated, insurance coverage will only return a portion, whatever the final tally reaches.

The building itself, owned by Mrs. Ethel A. Jolliffe, of 974 Penniman, was reportedly insured for about $30,000, which is also roughly equivalent to the average market value of the structure prior to the time the flames struck much of it to ruins.

In addition to the dressings destroyed by the flames, the Cancer Foundation also lost three beds and three wheelchairs that had been in storage there.

All cells from a cancer patients and volunteer workers are being taken by Mrs. Francis Patterson, local volunteer activities chairman, at GL 3-2499.

Mr. James Winterhalter, of 1302 Maple, the daughter of Mrs. Jolliffe, has been acting as the manager of the building for her mother.

Mrs. Winterhalter said that an insurance adjuster was unable to even approximate the loss to the building alone. She said that there are no immediate plans as to what to do with the building now.

Springer, the barber, was covered with insurance. He leased his location in the building and had sub-let a portion of his area to the beauty shop. He said that, although he was insured, he would probably get only about a one-third settlement on the value of his barbering equipment. The beauty salon was not insured.

The fire was reported by one of the apartment residents, who raced across the street to the City Hall at shortly after 6 a.m. Later, firemen indicated that the flames could have been burning for a considerable length of time prior to that.

The City fire department rushed two pumper engines to the scene along with a ladder truck. Plymouth Township followed quickly with another pumper truck and one that was placed on stand-by.

Canton Twp. arrived shortly with a stand-by pumper and a company of firemen from Ypsilanti Twp. showed up soon to lend a hand as did a special volunteer unit from Garden City.

Almost immediately, a pall of acrid smoke began to shroud the building, dissipating only in front of a breeze. It was the light wind that later was attributed partially in helping firemen save the rear half of the building.

City deputy fire chief Charles Groth reported later that the fire apparently originated in the basement near the furnace. He was unable to indicate what the exact cause might have been.

Using hydrants in front of Detroit Edison Co. offices and at Fralick and Main St., firemen poured a steady stream of water on the blaze.

How much water was required to battle the flames was not known, but at one time seven 2 1/2-inch hoses were in use, each spouting 325 gallons per minute.

A total of eight fire hoses were utilized at peak moments.

The City's DPW had to cut in a Mill St. pumping station in order to provide sufficient water to the two hydrants being used.

Although the flames were under control by 9 a.m., the fire was not entirely out until gan Cancer Foundation and one front apartment were nothing but rubble by the end of the day. Here, firemen spray water through crumbled wall, deliberately knocked down in order to gain access to hidden interior flames.

Groth said there was never any threat to the two buildings that are situated on either side of the center of activity. Gould Cleaners and the Detroit Edison Co. offices were untouched by flames.

At one point, Groth was unsure whether the rear portion of the building could be prevented from going up in the blaze, but he directed fire crews to spray eight hose lines on a dividing partition and, with the help of the wind, saved the rear half from major damage.

Even as late as Monday evening, firemen were still playing a single hose line onto the smoldering ruins.

Fire-Ravaged Building Was Old City Landmark

The Main St. building that was partially leveled by a stubborn fire Monday is believed to have been 100 years old, according to Karl Starkweather, 711 Starkweather Ave.

It was built during Civil War Days, Starkweather believed, by a man whose name was Isaac N. Heddon. In later years, the brick structure became known as the "Heddon Block."

Whatever its exact age, the building has come to be known as a City landmark by old-time residents.

In the 1880's, Starkweather recalls, the building housed the Anderson Hardware store and much more recently was the Plymouth library when Mrs. Ada Murray was head librarian.

Starkweather told of the store that his father, Louis Hillmer, once operated there in the late 1890's. Hillmer started a laundry in the building and then converted it to a general store.

In the early 1900's, Starkweather's mother sold one half of the building to William Hoops, a butcher, for something in the neighborhood of $1,500. The other half was occupied by L. E. "Tute" Cable, who had a grocery there.

The building, while many times remodeled both inside and out, has changed very little from its original appearance, Starkweather said. That is, until Monday when flames destroyed the front of it and rendered inoperable the apartments in the rear.

On the other hand, Detroit has a following within our area who expound the advantages of better, softer water which would be particularly cost-saving to some of our industry as well as warmly received by our housewives.

After many conferences with local authorities and with City of Detroit water officials, we believe there is an area here for study between the parties concerned. The City has indicated its intentions to meet with local industrialists on this problem. The City of Detroit has informed us that, too, would be most happy to participate in meetings to arrive at a mutual solution to the problem.

Since this is a major concern to all of our residents and our industries, and since it is a revenue producing arm of government (the City of Detroit showing a profit of five million dollars last year) and since water is one of our most necessary daily commodities, it seems prudent that an immediate consultation between the City, the Township, Detroit and our industry be held immediately after the holidays.

As a leading local industrialist phrased it so appropriately, "there is no area for consideration of locale regarding this problem; it must be considered for the overall community and it should be done with all working in harmony for the total advantage of our entire area."

We should like to urge our elected leaders, Mayor Robert Siscock and Supervisor Roy Lindsay, to take immediate action with Detroit and our industry in getting a serious study of this project underway to the complete advantage of all of our residents. Some day, millions will be spent to carry water throughout this area. We believe it prudent for all parties concerned to participate and formulate at its inception the most efficient, economical and enduring program possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reeves, Mrs. C. A. Smith and Miss Grace Stowe are to be dinner guests Christmas Day of the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. Erma Reeves in Grosse Pointe.

School Supt. Russ Isbister Paid Tribute for Leadership

NEARLY 100 local civic leaders and their wives paid special tribute to Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister at a surprise dinner at the Mayflower Hotel last Friday evening.

Purpose of the event was to underline the community's full appreciation for the untiring efforts that Isbister has devoted over the years to building Plymouth's excellent school system.

THE GATHERED friends and community leaders paid "high tribute" to Isbister for his lengthy services, and climaxed the evening by presenting him with an appropriately engraved plaque as a reminder of the special occasion.

After Harold Guenther's opening remarks, toastmaster Dr. A. E. VanOrnum cited Isbister's work in the Plymouth school system and described the growth of the system under the superintendent's capable administrative leadership.

He compared the work accomplished to that of "a plow guided by a star."

Said Van Ornum: "The plow is traditionally American and is a part of our heritage. It brings to mind many things: integrity, steady hands, quiet leadership, basic strength and purpose. The stars, through the ages, have related our thinking to high ideals, destiny and broad thoughts."

PRESENTATION of the plaque was made by School Board president Gerald Fischer. Dr. Henry Walch gave the invocation.

Residents Cautioned About Snow Removal

City property owners — or the property occupants — are required by ordinance to remove snow from their sidewalks within 24 hours after the snow has fallen. Commissioners pointed out Monday night.

If the owner or occupant neglects to remove snow or ice within the 24-hour period, the City has the authority to remove it and the cost of removal becomes a lien against the property.

The City has received "many complaints" from pedestrians that snow and ice is left for long periods on residential walks.

St. Peter's Youth Plan Progressive Holiday Dinner

St. Peter's Lutheran Youth and their friends are planning a Progressive Christmas Dinner to be held Saturday, Dec. 22, 1962.

The dinner progression will start off with punch and hors d'oeuvres at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Carlovsky of Greenbriar Lane, Lake Pointe Village, followed by the Niels Pedersens who will serve the next course at their home at 575 Evergreen. The Fellowship Hall of St. Peter's Lutheran Church will be the scene of the main course.

2 More Candidates File For Primary Election

With the primary run-off set for Feb. 18 and the filing deadline less than two weeks away, a total of eight candidates have submitted their nominations for the City Commission race here.

Deadline for filing of petitions at the City Clerk's office is 4 p.m. Dec. 31.

Most recent names tossed into the political hopper are those of Eldon Martin, 890 Fairground; Leon Merziman, 147 Plymouth Rd.; William B. Silvis, 1329 Carol; and Charles Deer, 1078 Simpson.

They join Harry Hunter, George Hudson, George Lawton and Jim Jabara in the race for four City Commission chairs, all of which will be decided ultimately in April's Biennial Spring Election.

City Commissioners receive $10 per regular or special meeting. None of the four present Commissioners whose terms expire are eligible for re-election, all of them having served the maximum of two consecutive terms.

They must step aside for two years before regaining their eligibility.

Meanwhile, in the Township, where all elective offices will also be decided eventually in April following a Feb. 18 primary, no petitions for candidacy have yet been filed for any of the posts concerned.

Among the positions to be decided in the Township are those of supervisor, clerk and treasurer as well as several lesser posts.

While Commissioners in the City are non-partisan, all Township elective offices are partisan ones. At last count, there were six petitions being circulated for potential candidates for the three Board of Trustees positions that are coming up.

ing mail for last Thursday amounted to 127,000 pieces," he said.

According to Timpona, the Plymouth post office "ranks high" in total annual volume among the 12 post offices in Wayne County. "We're quite high in both receipts and volume," he said.

A year ago, the Plymouth post office had a dollar volume of $935,000 on only the sale of postage stamps and metered mail, he said. "Dollar volume" at the post office does not include the sale of money orders, C.O.D.'s and custom receipts, he explained.

Normally, the Plymouth branch has about 50 employees to handle ordinary volume of mail.

But for the holidays, Timpona has taken on about 15 more people, simply to assure that the heavy load of Christmas mail moves at the same rapid pace as at other times during the year.

The toughest task of all during the holiday mail rush befalls the 23 full-time carriers and their part-time substitutes, whose mail bags often-times appear as heavily loaded as Santa's gift pack is expected to be.

Boy Scouts Continue Struggle

Continuing their efforts to retain "community identification" for their Boy Scout troops, local scouting officials have signed a special affidavit stating their goals.

The affidavit supports a movement among the suburban Boy Scout troops that is aimed at retaining a controversial "community stripe" that otherwards may disappear to be replaced by a "Detroit Area Council" patch.

Scoutmasters from troops in Plymouth and Northville have further organized their battle opposing the decree that could eliminate the "community" stripe.

Nine scoutmasters — seven from Plymouth — have been appointed as a special committee from this area to speak on behalf of local scout troops at a regular business meeting of the Detroit Area Council Jan. 8.

Plymouth scoutmasters include Donald Prince of Troop No. 766, Joseph Caloia (781), Charles Guideau (862), Paul Cummings (1531), Walter Pagenkopf (1534), Clifford Neynaber (1533) and Edward Miller, Jr. (1536).

The two Northville Boy Scout leaders are Ray Gregerson, who heads Northville Troop No. 731, and Frank Oglesby of Troop No. 755.

Both the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township have passed resolutions endorsing the retention of the "Plymouth Community" identification stripe.

Copies of the resolutions will be sent to National Boy Scout headquarters and to officials of the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council.

Persons here who are interested in lending their support to the struggle are asked to write the Detroit Area Council at 51 West Warren, Detroit 1, in care of Mr. E. Cole, president.

The issue arose when Detroit Area Council decreed that "community" stripes were to be discontinued in the suburbs and replaced with a from City of Detroit's proposal to furnish water here eventually.

Only brief mention was made of the initial contract proposed by Detroit. In it, a delivery price to the City of Plymouth was quoted. It was $1.47 per 1,000 cubic feet. This amount breaks down into three parts: the cost of water, which is the method by which City of Plymouth figures its water bills for consumers.

Present average residential cost of water here is about 34 cents per 1,000 gallons. Commissioners have earlier stated that a water system operating costs must be added to 19.6 cents per 1,000 gal-to the Detroit price quotation. Exactly what the operating costs will be still to be determined.

City Commissioners will attempt to gain an audience with Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanaugh sometime after Jan. 1 to explain further the City's position on the Detroit water proposal.

Commission Speeds Through Routine Meeting Schedule

Mayor pro-tem Marvin Terry, sitting in for Mayor Robert Sincok, guided fellow City Commissioners through a routine agenda Monday evening, speedily disposing of numerous matters and adjourning in 40 minutes.

Nonetheless, they accomplished considerable. Major matter to be handled dealt with a move to pick up three acres of land on Beck Rd. to be used as a site for a water reservoir.

Beyond that, the meeting was decidedly routine. The Commissioners approved the second and third readings of an ordinance amending an ordinance establishing a new zoning district described as PR-2. They also approved second and third readings of an amended ordinance pertaining to requests to re-zone property.

In the decisions in the future shall be made ultimately by the City Commission and not by the City latter appointed body, however, they will make recommendations to the Commissioners.

The Commission also resolved to support the local Boy Scouts in their efforts to retain the "Plymouth" community identification stripe, which is threatened with dissolution.

City Manager Albert Glassford was named to continue as the City's contact man on all matters pertaining to the Michigan Municipal League. Finally, the Commissioners indicated their approval that City employees would be granted an extra day of vacation this winter. It is the Monday before Christmas.

Only essential jobs will be filled that day, Glassford said.

Sustains Minor Injuries in Auto Accident Here

A Northville woman sustained apparent minor injuries when the car she was driving Monday morning went out of control and struck another head on.

Mae Stern, of 41001 West Seven Mile, Northville, sustained no serious injuries in the crash which took place about 8 a.m. Monday on Ann Arbor Tr. one-half mile west of Sheldon Rd. here.

Wayne County Sheriff's deputies reported that Mrs. Stern was passing another car and as she pulled back into her lane, her car veered out of control, headed across the center line and collided with an auto driven by Timothy McMullen of 11667 Brownell, Plymouth.

He was uninjured. Mrs. Stern's car bounced off McMullen's auto, slammed into a telephone pole and wound up against a fence. There were no violation tickets issued by the sheriff's deputies, who investigated the mishap.

Mrs. Stern was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment.

In 1960 Michigan was fourth in acreage and fifth in production of tomatoes for the fresh fruit market.

Finley Elected Trustee of County Retirement Program

Clark G. Finley, a long-time employee of Wayne County who lives at 41211 Wilcox Rd., last week was elected trustee of the county's entire employee retirement system.

Finley is chief accountant for Harold E. Stoll, Wayne County treasurer. He served on the Plymouth-Canton water and sewer authority.

Boiler Breakdown At Heide's Causes $2,000 in Damages

Below zero temperatures and a breakdown in the boiler at Heide's Greenhouses, at 696 Mill St., early Tuesday morning, Dec. 11, caused an estimated $2,000 damage to Christmas poinsettia plants, mums and snapdragons, according to Norman Ruehr, joint owner with his brother, Bill, and father, Rheinhold Ruehr.

Breakdown in the boiler occurred between 1:30 and 4 p.m., with the temperature dropping from 60 degrees to 27 degrees during that period. When outside temperatures drop below zero, routine checks are made at the greenhouse at intervals throughout the evening, Mr. Ruehr said, and because of this practice, most of the flowers were saved.

HOME after a two-year stint in the U.S. Army is Tyler Caplin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Caplin of Joy Rd. Ty, whose father owns the men's custom clothing store in the Hotel Mayflower, was an outstanding golfer in Plymouth High teams prior to his 1953 graduation and later in college. While in the Army, he was stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif., where he was assistant pro golf professional. In other golfing accomplishments, Ty finished fifth in the Big 10 golf championship one year, was a semi-finalist in the California Amateur golf tourney, played three rounds in the National Amateur in St. Louis, and was a runner-up in the National Publix championship. He is shown here with his wife, the former Nancy Rickman of Park Ridge, Ill. Ty plans to work for his father in the men's custom clothes store here during the holidays and will be off to Michigan State Univ. in the spring to finish his work on a Bachelor's Degree there.

The November meeting with the usual potluck dinner was well attended, sewing of cancer pads and sand bags was the work for the day.

On Nov. 26 several met at the church and completed 120 sand bags which were taken to the Plymouth State Home and Training School by the project chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Salmonson. We have about twenty more to make.

Eighty three members and friends enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner on Dec. 10 at noon, prepared and served by some of our devoted christian ladies of our church. A real pre Christmas dinner.

The tables were decorated by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown and were very pretty. A short business meeting followed. Special Christmas collection was taken and was voted to give to the Good Fellow Fund.

Group singing of Christmas hymns was led by Rev. Johnson. Mrs. Ruth Jones was with us again with an inspiring Christmas message. The High School Girls Glee Club favored us with four lovely selections. Florence Griggs sang two solos of which we always enjoy.

We missed all members who were unable to be with us. Get well soon. For everyone who attended for the first time, we welcome them to become members and expect to see you at the next regular meeting with potluck dinner at 12 on Jan. 15, 1963.

Many thanks to the ladies furnishing transportation and everyone who helped in any way to make our Christmas party so enjoyable. A Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to everyone.

Teen-Age Optimist Dance Is Slated This Saturday

Letters To The Editor

As a parent I appreciate the concern which prompted your editorial about the unsafe traffic conditions on Penniman between Arthur and Church St. One thing that might be of help would be to have the police Dept. have painted "School Slow" signs on the pavement approaching the intersections, as is done in the vicinity of the public schools.

Most schools have a traffic problem during inclement weather, but at our school the problem exists every day. The reason is that approximately 500 of the 700 pupils do not live within safe walking distance, and must either be driven by parents or pay $3 per week for private bus transportation. This is the main cause of the unsafe condition described, and an unnecessary one when it is considered that the Plymouth Community school buses, which our tax monies help provide, and which should be used for all, could be used to help insure the safety of our children.

It may be of interest to the school board and to the local taxpayers to know that the Wayne school district, with which we have so often been compared tax-wise, and which has recently had the same type of financial problems, as we experienced, has started as recently as last month, to allow parochial students along the public school bus routes to ride the school buses. Evidently they have found it worth while, financially and politically to extend to these citizens their rights as Americans and taxpayers.

I would like to see similar action by the Plymouth School Board. It is not a matter of aiding a church. It is simply the concern we owe to the safety of all our children.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS-AT-HEART
By MELVIN L. WOELL, Mgr.
INFORMATION DIVISION
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

"Home for the Holidays" is just a dream to a majority of foreign students here in the United States; yet through an unusual program, a lucky few will share the Christmas Season with Michigan host families, many of whom are farmers.

Bringing them together is a non-profit group that operates under the title of "Christmas Adventure in World Understanding." Through it, 10 to 100 carefully selected foreign and ten American students representing about 20 countries of the world and nearly as many Universities, are brought together at Kellogg Center, East Lansing, Michigan Farm Bureau Women are typical of the sponsors who join in the belief that in today's confused world, there often wrongly blame America for their troubles, both real and fancied. Funds for the project are contributed by private firms and individuals who seek improved international understanding through improved communications.

For eleven days, from Dec. 1 through Jan. 1, the students fan out in pre-arranged visits to farms and factories. They hear talks by community leaders and observe our free enterprise system in action.

Each student spends the afternoon of Dec. 24 in the home of his host family. Many arrive wearing native costumes. They join in family meals and religious observances. Christmas Eve they are expected to attend Church services together.

They do more than observe and receive. Each is asked to take part in the information flow. They tell of their homes, their families and customs. Many bring pictures and small gifts to exchange.

Later they will become hosts themselves at a "sponsor's dinner" followed by a period of amateur entertainment in a display of talent, games and stunts unique to their background. Throughout the entire "adventure" flows the true spirit of Christmas.

How better could one observe it than by sharing it with others in sacred memory of the birth of One who shared his life?

Called for Unused

Hearing Aids Here

The Plymouth Kiwanis Club has put out another call for old hearing aids to help in the club's continuing program to assist persons suffering from hearing loss or impairment.

Plymouthites wishing to donate hearing aids that are no longer being used may contact Ernest Henry at the post office, Robert Barbour at the National Bank of Detroit in downtown Plymouth, or Kenneth Way, at the City Hall.

The hearing devices are cleaned and repaired, if necessary, and then given to needy persons who suffer from a hearing handicap.

The various schools in the Plymouth area have been contacted with regard to the same project. Michigan District of Kiwanis has established eight hearing aid centers to assist in the program. They are located in Detroit, Ann Arbor, Kalamazoo, East Lansing, Mt. Pleasant and Grand Rapids.

Every hour 66 homes are damaged or destroyed by fire in the U.S., and one person - most often a child or an elderly person - dies every 75 minutes in a residential blaze, according to housing specialists for Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. A survey of this shocking statistic, manufacturers of building materials constantly are developing fire retardant products such as Bar Fire

The University of Michigan was first to use closed circuit television in freshmen orientation.

St. John's Plans Nativity Play, Family Eucharist

The Christmas observance will commence at St. John's Episcopal Church, 574 South Sheldon Rd., Plymouth with a Nativity Pageant presented in the Church on Sunday, Dec. 23 at 6 p.m. The responsibility for this undertaking rests with the Couples' Club of the parish and the Choirs of the Church will provide the music. A unique feature of the pageant will be the fact that one of the couples of the parish and their baby will represent Joseph and Mary and the Christ Child. A White Gift Offering will be presented at the Crib during the Pageant which will later be given to children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

Following the Pageant, the distribution of gifts to the members of the Church School will take place in the Parish Hall and light refreshments will be served. On Christmas Eve at 7 p.m. a Festival Family Eucharist will be held with the Junior Choir leading the music. Familiar carols will be sung and the Choir will sing some special numbers. Following the blessing of the younger children at the Altar, the Christmas Story will be presented to the younger children through the medium of colored slides and the singing of carols.

At 11 p.m. Christmas Eve, the Senior Choir and the Congregation will join in the singing of Carols and at 11:30 p.m. there will be a Festal Procession which will mark the beginning of the Holy Eucharist. Every communicant of the Church should welcome the opportunity of receiving the Christ anew into his heart at Christmas time.

On Christmas Day there will be a plain celebration of the Holy Communion at 10 a.m.

SANTA CLAUS WILL visit First Federal Savings at 843 Penniman to give away some 200 dolls to children on Monday, Dec. 24. The dolls, which will be given away as long as they last, were made by Mrs. Perry Richwine, wife of the First Federal manager here. In addition, there will be gifts for everyone throughout the day, Mrs. Richwine said. It is the ninth year that Mrs. Richwine has conducted the event. Above, her two-year-old granddaughter, Kathleen Gondek, is shown amidst a display of some of the stuffed dolls. Santa's hours at First Federal will be from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and from 1:30 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Plymouthite Leaves $11,050 Bequest to Michigan Heart

The Michigan Heart Association recently received one of the largest bequests in its history, a check for $11,050 from the estate of the late Mrs. Bernice A. Reddeman, of Plymouth who died nearly two years ago.

Abraham Brickner, executive director of the association, said the money would be put to the MHA Memorial Fund, dedicated entirely to Heart research.

Mrs. Reddemans brother and executor, Charles B. Cash, who personally delivered the check to Brickner, said she made the bequest in memory of her late husband, Elmer J. Reddeman, who had been stricken by rheumatic fever which left him with a disabled heart.

Cash, who lives at 357 Adams is a vice president of the Cash-Fiplan Corp., 893 West Ann Arbor Trail, building contractors.

The Reddeman estate was divided equally among five charities, Rotary Club and Methodist Church, both of Plymouth; Adrian College; New Hudson Methodist Church; and the Heart Association. In addition, Mrs. Reddeman willed her eyes to the Eye Bank.

Calvary Baptist Church to Host Gospel Singer

Helen Barth

Both the Junior and Senior Choirs will participate in the service.

"Shum Shei", a haunting Christmas lullaby, will be sung by the Senior Choir under the direction of Richard Scharf.

Mrs. Otto Bufe will be the organist. Arrangements for the service are made by Mr. Walter Siegert, Sunday School Superintendent.

On Christmas Morning at 10 a.m., a Carol Worship Service will be conducted, to which all are welcome. "God Loves Me Deeply" will be the theme of the service and the pastor's meditations.

An opportunity is given the congregation to sing a greater number of Christmas Carols and hymns than in a regular worship service. The Senior Choir will sing "Once For Us a Child Was Born".

Church of God to Present Nativity Pageant Outside

The story of the first Christmas will come to life on the lawn of the Riverside Park Church of God, corner of Plymouth and Newburgh Roads, with the annual colorful out-door reenactment of the incidents surrounding the birth of the Christ Child.

Three performances will be presented at 7:30 p.m., 8 p.m., and 8:30 p.m., Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Dec. 21, 22, 23.

The Living Nativity will include the manger scene, shepherds, Wise Men, angels, animals, and inspiring music.

Michigan pioneered free chest x-rays for the detection of tuberculosis. The state department of health started use of a mobile x-ray unit in 1940, the first of its kind in the nation and probably the first in the world.

Helen McAlerney Barth, contralto soloist, radio personality and gospel recording artist will be featured soloist at the Calvary Baptist Church here from Dec. 28 Dec. 31.

Her appearances at the church will be at 7:30 p.m. each evening in the church auditorium. The Calvary Baptist Church is located at 496 W. Ann Arbor Tr.

A former "blues" singer, Mrs. Barth more recently has devoted her talents to singing hymns of the gospel of Christ. During her "blues" singing days, she provided entertainment for sororities, dances and numerous benefit banquets.

"The Lord gave me a new song," she has since explained her devotion to gospel singing. "A song of peace and of praise, grace and gladness."

For a number of years Helen Barth has been staff soloist at Radio Station WMBI, the radio voice of the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago.

Her gospel recordings are produced by the RCA Recording Division for the Inspiration and Victory labels.

Mrs. Barth's ministry in song has taken her to all of the British Isles, and many countries in Europe, as well as coast-to-coast in the United States and Canada. In April of 1961 she was awarded a "Christian Oscar", having been chosen the best woman gospel singer for 1960.

The award was presented to her by the National Evangelical Film Foundation of Philadelphia, Pa.

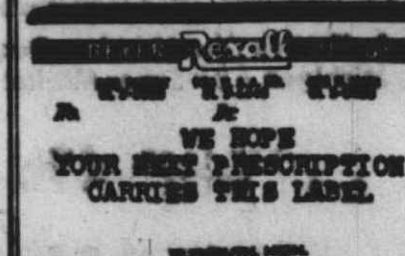

Her talent and sincere interpretation of the old hymns of the faith place her in wide demand as soloist at sacred concerts, Bible conferences, local churches, and Christian youth rallies.

Lutheran Caroleers Sing for Shut-ins

The choir from St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church went Christmas caroling throughout the community last Sunday in a traditional annual event which is approaching its 35th year.

The church caroleers sang particularly for shut-ins and older persons during the evening-long affair. Director of the choir is Richard Scharf, who is also principal of the Lutheran school here.

Reverend Norman Berg is church pastor.

ATTEND CHURCH

ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas will mean so much more to you if you attend the special services at the church of your choice with your family. Hear once again the beautiful story of His birth; join in singing the lovely carols and hymns; pause to reflect on the true meaning of this Holy Season.

Lutherans Plan Annual "Festival of Nativity"

The Festival of the Nativity will be celebrated in two special services at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, Penniman at Evergreen.

The traditional children's Christmas Eve Service will begin at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 24, and a Carol Service at 10 a.m., Christmas morning.

An original Christmas Eve Service, entitled "Silent Night - Holy Night" will be conducted by the pastor and children of the Sunday and Day Schools.

The performance for which the Symphony League is selling tickets is Friday evening, April 26. The project is being undertaken by the Symphony League to benefit the Plymouth Symphony orchestra.

Some 400 tickets will be provided the Symphony League, said Mrs. John Murphy, who is handling publicity for the event.

She explained that ticket prices will be announced shortly. There will be tickets available in the orchestra, balcony and mezzanine, she said.

The tickets will be issued in the order that reservations are received. Mrs. Ralph Snoko (GL 3-2077) and Mrs. Conrad Krankel (GL 3-454) are handling the reservations.

SEASON'S CHEER

Holidays are busy days . . . shopping, wrapping presents, visiting with family and friends. And that's when we really appreciate a household of wonderful automatic appliances. But, of course, this is true any time of the year. Modern appliances put a taste of "holiday" into every day for the busy homemaker — the year around!

CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

Once again we extend our wishes for Happy Holidays to you and those you hold dear. And may our land continue to be blessed and strengthened through its homes and families — your home and family.

Twp. Board Wades Through Routine Agenda at Meeting

Plymouth Township Board of Trustees, during their regular meeting last week, coped with a busy agenda that included many routine items.

One of the major matters, however, dealt with the problem of tightening up protection limits of subdividers' performance bonds which are aimed at freeing the Township from financial liability resulting from damage to lot line markers and sidewalks in new residential developments.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay will explore the possibility of obtaining more stringent protection from performance bonds through an insurance company that made indications it would accept the Township's additional requirements.

In other action last week, the Township Board:

In other action, the Township Board:

Delayed approval of a division of a parcel of land that will be soon purchased by Loren Gould on Sheldon until such time that an appropriate easement can be granted to the Township for purposes of installation of sanitary sewer at a later date.

Awarded a bid of $21,218 to the S. Weissman Excavating Co. of Detroit for the installation of sanitary sewers along Bruce and Southworth Sts. in Arbor Village with the work to be completed within 120 days after the contract is signed.

Agreed that final approval of sewer and water mains in Park Lane Estates should be delayed until the subdivider makes arrangements to pay $959 arising out of extra inspection charges by the Township engineer, Herald Hamill. The additional charges came about when Hamill had to make several trips back to perform his inspection of the work after the work ran past a deadline date.

Rejected all bids for gasoline for the DPW gas tank and instead will purchase necessary fuel for the tank at the discretion of the Supervisor.

Issued a dance permit for Plymouth Bowl to hold dancing for bowling league members.

Referred a proposed contract with the Wayne County drain commission to legal advisor Earl Demel for study and necessary revision and subsequent recommendations.

Resolved that Plymouth area Boy Scouts should be permitted to continue to wear their "Plymouth" community stripe and thus retain their individual community identification. Copies of this resolution will be sent to all parties concerned, including the Detroit Area Boy Scout Council which has ordered that suburban Scouts refrain from wearing the community patch and replace it, instead, with a Detroit area Council patch.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Eaton:

I beg to differ with your line of thinking as expressed in your editorial in the Plymouth Mail in regard to our city council beating the rush for Federal Funds to build the proposed City Hall.

As I recall you said something to the effect that you would be quick to criticize our "City Fathers" if they did not move promptly to see that we get our share of these Federal Funds which have been made available to distressed areas provided that they can show that unemployment will be eased by such a program.

Now I am in favor of full employment, a fine, clean and modern city but I am also in favor of a do it yourself program in regards to financing local projects and I think you will agree with me.

I think you will also agree with me that there is no such thing as "free" Federal Funds.

Moreover how does this rush for Federal money on the city's part differ from the individuals rush for unemployment funds or the unneeded and unjustified application for A.D.C. funds. Surely you too decry the latter so how can you support the former? Do you say we must do this because if we don't some other community will do it as one of our members has said to me? Isn't this just another way of our saying now I get mine

Community Chest Board Members Meet Thursday

Members of the Board of Directors of the Plymouth Community Chest met last Thursday to discuss three vacancies that will occur on the Board in January.

At the same time, they examined further the success of the recently-completed Community Fund drive here.

A final tally on Plymouth's share from the Detroit Torch Drive - expected within the next few weeks - will tell Community Chest officials here the exact amount that the local drive reached.

It is estimated the total will touch close to $60,000, an all-time high.

The three vacancies that will occur on the Community Chest's Board of Directors will be filled through nomination and election at the board's annual meeting sometime late in January.

The Community Chest Board numbers 11. Robert Barbour, of the National Bank of Detroit here, is president.

WE'RE ALL AGLOW WITH GIFT IDEAS . . . For the brightest Christmas ever, choose gifts here for everyone on your list.

Dear Santa:

(Editor's Note: In the past two issues of The Plymouth Mail, we have published excerpts from letters to Santa as written by local youngsters. This following list of letters concludes the feature for another year.

Meanwhile, all "Santa Claus" letters furnished The Mail by Santa's helpers at the Plymouth post office are being replied to by students at Madonna College, under the direction of Sue Hasselberg, an employee of The Mail.)

Dear Santa,
I have been a good girl. I would like you to bring me a thirsty crybaby and a dream kitchen.

Thank you,
Pat McDowell

From Matthew to Santa.
Remember my brother Steve? Last night three bones in his foot were broken. His foot and leg were put in a cast and he must use crutches.

Dear Santa Claus
I am nine years old, I got all A's on my report card. I am being real good and I help my mother. How is Rudolf and all the other reindeer. I am going to leave you something on Christmas Eve. Here's what I want for Christmas: Birthstone ring for March, glass horses, lie detector game, password game, P.J.'s or gown, red sweater and fuzzy pullover, a big stuffed dog or bear, ski pants, knitting set.

Thank you good by.
Love Janice R.
659 N. Holbrook

Dear Santa,
I am 9 years old and my name is Cynthia Mae Fuson and I have a brother who is 8 years old and his name is David and my sister who is 5 years old, her name is Candace.

We try to help our mother because she is going to have a baby, but don't tell anyone. We always try to obey our mother, we carry out the trash and do the dishes. Well I had better tell you what we would like for Christmas, David would like a polly parrot, a mighty Moe cannon, coloring book, stake truck, robot, airplane, wrecker. Candace would like a riding stick, coloring book, monkey, Thumelina, horse van, donkey. I would like a polly parrot, coloring book, camper, cocker spaniel, knitting set, lamb, rattle for our baby. Well I think we better go, we will write next year again. Bye.

Cindy, David, Candace

Dear Santa Claus,
How are you? I am helping my mommy and trying to be real good. My aunt is writing this letter for me because I'm only two years old. She is nine years old. She doesn't feel very good. She is home from school. She said to tell you that she is being real good too. She got all A's on her report card. I want a baby. Here's my list. Coloring book, baby doll, a doll bed, story book, plastic roller skates, kitty cat, crayons, a little table and chairs and other things too.

My Aunt said she wants some things too. She is going to write you a letter too. By for now,
Love, Tammy

David Sanford Weds Marilyn A. Sheere

Mr. and Mrs. David Sanford

Miss Marilyn A. Sheere became the bride of David A. Sanford in a double ring ceremony in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livonia, on Dec. 1.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Sheere, formerly of Plymouth, and now of Livonia. Mr. Sanford is the son of Mrs. Clayton Sanford, formerly of Plymouth, and now of Dearborn, and the late Mr. Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin, styled with a scoop neckline, three-quarter length sleeves, and a chapel train. The bodice, trimmed with Alencon lace, featured a satin bow in the front and on the back. Her hands were covered with white satin wrist-length gloves and her fingertip veil was held in place by satin flowers trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book covered with white hybrid orchids and philanopsis orchids and ivy.

Barbara Haas to Participate in 48th College Stunt Night

Barbara Haas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Haas, of 8870 Rocker, Plymouth, is participating in the 48th annual Stunt Night at Western Reserve University's Flora Stone Mather College on Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 8 p.m. in Cleveland Public Music Hall. Each of the college's four classes will present an original skit satirizing collegiate life. A sophomore at WRU, Miss Haas is majoring in English.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her former college roommate, Mrs. Richard Barney, of Dearborn. Mrs. Thomas Kirby, sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid. They wore frocks of rouge red velvet and matching hat bands with veils and carried white fur muffs, decorated with yuletide and garnet roses.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was David Esmann, of Royal Oak, and Ronald Hees, of Plymouth. William Sheere, of Detroit, and Clarence Kappen, of Livonia, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sheere chose a gown of mauve lace and crepe with matching accessories. Mrs. Sanford wore a frock of moss green chiffon with matching accessories. Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 guests from Plymouth, Livonia, Grand Rapids, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Royal Oak, Dearborn, and Florida, was held in the Miles Standish room of the Mayflower Hotel.

The new Mrs. Sanford wore a black knit dress with matching accessories when the couple left on their wedding trip to Chicago. The bridegroom, a graduate of Plymouth High School, is assistant unit advisor with the U.S. Army Reserve at Fort Wayne, in Detroit. The bride, also a graduate of Plymouth High School, attended Michigan State University. They will make their home in Dearborn.

MARILYN A. SHEERE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley A. Sheere, of Livonia, and formerly of Plymouth, and David A. Sanford, son of Mrs. Clayton Sanford, of Dearborn, and formerly of Plymouth, exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livonia, on Saturday, Dec. 1.

D.G.'s Will Present Multi-Textured Flag To School for Blind

Members of the Farmington Association of Delta Gamma alumnae, many of whom are Plymouth women, will present a multi-textured American flag to blind students at Adams school in Livonia tomorrow.

The flag, which measures 36-inches by 20-inches, was made by the members. Red velvet and white grosgrain ribbons serve as the stripes, while the white stars are embroidered on a blue felt.

The club members put up the funds for the material. Membership in the organization is from Plymouth, Northville, Livonia and Farmington.

Mrs. William Gravius, of Livonia, was project chairman.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM MICOL

William Micols to Celebrate 50th Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Micol, of 670 Forest, will be honored by their children at an open house at the Veterans Memorial Building, on Main St., this Sunday, from 2-6 p.m., in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary. Approximately 350 to 400 friends and relatives from this area and Ohio are expected to attend the afternoon festivities.

Life-long residents of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Micol (the former Ethel Brown) were married in Detroit on Dec. 23, 1912. Mr. Micol retired from the C&O Railroad in 1957, following 30 years service. Both are active in the Senior Citizens group and Mrs. Micol is a life member of the Maccabees. They have two sons, Russell, of 12775 Dunn Ct., and Gerald, of Walled Lake, and five grandchildren.

Local D.A.R. Chapter Holds Yuletide Tea

Background music of Christmas carols added to the holiday spirit, clearly evident, at a Christmas tea, held last Monday in the home of Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, of 726 W. Main St., Northville, by the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Speaker for the day was Mrs. Francis Faber, of Grosse Pointe, who gave a short talk on "The Ten Commandments and the Law." Hostesses for the Christmas tea were Mrs. Clifford Gracey and Mrs. Richard Kroft, of Plymouth, and Mrs. Myron C. Gunsell, Mrs. Jack Maas, Mrs. Alan Buckley, and Mrs. John Litzenger, of Northville.

Methodist Women Pack Fruit Baskets

In the midst of the heavy snowstorm that hit this area last Thursday, members of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service, met in the church basement to pack and distribute 65 baskets of fruit, candy and home-baked cookies to shut-ins, nursing homes and the Methodist Children's Home.

Engaged

SUSAN G. UTTER

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Utter, of 11827 Amherst Ct., of the engagement of their daughter, Susan Graham, to John Maki Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Harper, of 390 Pacific. Miss Utter and Mr. Harper are both attending Michigan State University, where the latter is affiliated with Alpha Kappa Psi.

RITA M. KIMBROUGH

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne M. Kimbrough of 1350 Ross St., Plymouth, announce the engagement of their daughter, Rita Mills, to Joseph Richard Heaven, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Heaven, of Ypsilanti. Miss Kimbrough is a junior at Eastern Michigan University, where she is affiliated with Alpha Sigma Tau. Mr. Heaven is now attending Michigan State University and is now attending the Electronics Institute of Detroit. The couple is planning a Jan. 26, 1963, wedding.

Mrs. Stevens is Guest Speaker

Mrs. Donna Stevens, business education teacher and guidance counselor at Plymouth High School, was a recent guest of Pi Omega Pi fraternity, at Eastern Michigan University.

At the meeting Mrs. Stevens spoke on "Problems Encountered in Teaching Business Education on the Secondary Level," after which she answered questions submitted to her by attending members.

News Briefs

Lary Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, of 977 Dewey, was a recent dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Taylor, formerly of Plymouth, and now of Cumberland, Scotland. Mr. Smith is attending the University of Glasgow and Mr. Taylor is with Burroughs Adding Machine Ltd., in Cumberland.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rambo, of 1062 Palmer, will spend Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rambo in Lanham, Md.

Mrs. Roy N. Leemon plans to attend a holiday luncheon today in the home of Mrs. Russell Costello at Pine Lake. Following the luncheon contract bridge and gift exchange will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Deyo and family of Van Wert, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Deyo and family of Marion, Ohio, are expected this week-end at the home of their parents, Judge and Mrs. Harry N. Deyo on Harvey St. north, for the Christmas holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guetler, of Dewey St., returned last Saturday from a three-week vacation in Hawaii.

The three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Curtis, Bernard, who attends Central Michigan University at Mt. Pleasant, Bruce and Jean, who attend Michigan State University, will be home this week to spend the holidays with them in their home on Auburn.

Seasonal Tip

With the winter snows already very much upon us, the annual problem of salt-stained snow boots is here again.

Latest suggestion for removing the stains is offered by Miss Nancy Schwartz, Plymouth Mail employee, who says that rubbing club soda on the stains will remove them easily and effectively.

The following ladies were the guests Tuesday for luncheon in the home of Mrs. George Baker in Flushing after which contract bridge and exchange of Christmas gifts were enjoyed; Mrs. William Bartel, Sr., Mrs. Harry Deyo, Mrs. Harold Brisbois, Mrs. Earl Russell, Mrs. David Cameron of Plymouth, Mrs. Ward Jones of Romeo, Mrs. Howard Sharp-ley of Livonia and Mrs. Henry Wollens of Farmington.

Christmas Baking, a la Norwegian

This is the time of the year Norwegians in Norway and Norwegians this side of the Atlantic get busy with their "julebaksten" — the Christmas baking.

And doing just that, along with Christians all over the world, is Mrs. Oscar (Petty) Davidson, of 9669 Gold Arbor, Plymouth.

Born in Sandefjord, Norway, Mrs. Davidson came to the United States 50 years ago, and has been a resident of Plymouth for 18 years.

Since the time she moved to the U.S., Mrs. Davidson has made 11 visits to Norway, the most recent about four years ago, when she stayed for two years.

Although a confirmed American in many of her ways and ideas, Mrs. Davidson's house still has a Norwegian flavor about it. In addition to an antique copper candlestick and antique copper teapot, both purchased in Norway, hand embroidered pillows, table clothes, etc. — in typical Norwegian fashion — pictures of every member of her family are in sight. In the living room alone, there are 28 photographs of her family.

In an interview with The Plymouth Mail, during which Mrs. Davidson graciously served coffee and Danish (she married a Dane) coffee cake off Danish blue dishes, set on a wedge-wood blue, hand embroidered "coffee cloth," Mrs. Davidson told of some of the differences between the Norwegian and American celebration of Christmas.

The Christmas holidays in Norway begin Dec. 23 and continue through January 13, throughout which time parties and gatherings of friends and neighbors are the order of the day (or days). Their big Christmas dinner is served Christmas Eve (about 7 p.m.), after which gifts are opened.

Tree decorations are similar to decorations used in America, with the addition of Norwegian flags and baskets made of heavy shiny paper, filled with candy and nuts, which are also hung on the tree.

As in America, the children leave food for Santa Claus, but in place of Christmas cookies and milk, left by American children, Norwegian children leave a bowl of "Risengrynsgrout", a rice porridge.

Even the birds celebrate Christmas in Norway, as on that day Norwegians hang outside a bundle of wheat, bound together on the top with twine.

Christmas (Eve) dinner in Norway varies considerably from the traditional American Christmas dinner. Their menu consists of a pork roast, cabbage, boiled potatoes, pickled beets, assorted pickles, cranberries, nuts and fruits and a variation of plum pudding, and of course, beer or Claret wine.

Mrs. Davidson, who met her husband on the boat, returning from her first return visit to Norway, has two daughters, Mrs. Alexander Gran, of Livonia; Mrs. Marlin Bruns, of Florida, and a son, Lloyd Davidson, of Iront, Mich., and 8 grandchildren.

To help you have a "God Jul," Mrs. Davidson lent us some of the more popular recipes used during the holiday season in Norway.

IN AN INTERVIEW with The Plymouth Mail, Mrs. Oscar (Petty) Davidson, of 9669 Gold Arbor, discussed the differences of the American and Norwegian celebration of Christmas.

AAUW Program Set For This Thursday Night

The Christmas spirit of fellowship and goodwill will be the theme of the story, "A Message of Love," presented by the American Assn. of University Women tomorrow, Thursday, Dec. 20, beginning at 7:45 p.m., in Junior High-East.

Through art, music and literature, six live models will portray the seasonal story, written and produced by AAUW member, Helen Gilbert, committee chairman. Assisting Miss Gilbert on the program are Mrs. Joseph Witwer, Mrs. Phillip Settles and Mrs. Robert Messerly. Assisting the co-hostess, Mrs. Henry J. Walsh and Mrs. F. H. Armstrong during the social hour which will feature coffee cakes from many lands, will be Mrs. H. G. Olson, Mrs. Phillip Settles, Mrs. Paul Malbouef and Mrs. J. R. Barnes.

CABBAGE

5 lbs. cabbage
1 1/2 lb. butter
salt, caraway seed, sugar, vinegar to taste
Slice cabbage in thin strips (like cole slaw), add butter, salt and caraway seed to taste and steam until cabbage is soft. Then add sugar and vinegar to taste and serve while hot.

is served, each person makes up a rhyme as he takes a spoonful. This continues around the table until all the porridge is eaten. At other times of the year the porridge is served only with a fruit sauce and the almond is omitted.
Put into the top of a double boiler
6 cups milk
1 cup rice
3/4 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
(The Rice Industry no longer considers it necessary to wash rice before cooking.)
Cover and cook over simmering water 2 1/2 to 3 hrs., or until rice is entirely soft when a kernel is pressed between fingers and mixture in quite thick. Remove cover for last 10 min. if mixture is not thick enough. Serve with cool milk, sugar and cinnamon.

Makes 6 servings.

The following two recipes are used to make "open sandwiches," popular with the Norwegians and often served at buffets, smorgasbord's, etc

LEVERPASTEJ (Liver Paste)
Wipe with a clean, damp cloth, and if necessary remove tubes and other membrane from:
1 whole pork liver (about 3 lbs.) and then soak liver in cold water until all blood is gone, change water several times.

Meanwhile combine:
1/4 lb. of butter
1/4 lb. of flour
in a sauce pan with milk to make a thick white sauce. Then grind 1 1/2 lbs. pork trimmings (all fat) and add to white sauce and continue to boil until pork is almost dissolved.

Then grind soaked liver twice and add to white sauce.
Next, into white sauce add
2 egg yolks
1 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. clove
1 small grated onion
dash of salt
Then beat egg whites until stiff and add to white sauce and pack into loaf pan.

Place loaf pan in hot water and place in a 300 degree oven for 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Be sure to cover loaf pan with aluminum foil. When cooked, remove from oven and leave liver paste in loaf pan overnight. To serve, place loaf pan over steaming tea kettle (to loosen) and turn onto platter. Serve with pickled beets.

NORWEGIAN ROLLED SAUSAGE
3 lbs. shoulder veal
6 lbs. of veal breast
3 lbs. fat pork trimmings.
De-bone the veal breast, just cutting out the bone, leaving the meat, and pound meat thoroughly with meat pounder.

Sprinkle pounded veal breast with salt, pepper, allspice and a pinch of salt-peter. Then sprinkle finely chopped onions over this. Then cut strips of fat pork trimming over top of veal breast. Next, slice thin pieces of clean shoulder veal on top of pork strips and add more spices and onions.

Beat until rounded peaks are formed
3 egg whites
1-8 teaspoon salt
Spread the beaten egg whites over batter and gently fold together.
Heat krumkaker iron until a drop of water "sputters" on its hot surface. Spoon about 1 1/2 to 2 teaspoons batter onto hot iron. Close the krumkaker iron and cook on each side for a few seconds or until lightly browned. Immediately remove wafer with a spatula and roll into a cone.
Serve cones plain. (About 4 doz. cones.)

SANDBAKKELS (Sand Tarts)
Set out sandbakkels molds and cookie sheets.
Measure and set aside
2 cup sifted flour
Chop very finely and set aside
1-3 cup (about 2 oz. blanched almonds
Cream together until butter is softened
1 cup butter
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
Add gradually, creaming just until blended
3/4 cup sugar
Blend in
1 egg, beaten
Add the flour in fourths, blending well after each addition. Blend in the chopped almonds. Chill dough in refrigerator.

JULEKAKE (Christmas Cake)
In the round of visiting that goes with the Christmas holidays guests are served this traditional bread and coffee. The use of cardamom is typically Scandinavian.
2 cups milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup butter
1 yeast cake
5 cups flour
1 teaspoon cardamom
4 oz. raisins
3 oz. sliced succade
Warm milk, butter, and sugar, mix flour with yeast, cardamom, raisins and succade, knead dough quickly and rise 20 minutes. — Knead again, shape into two round cakes. Rise 30 minutes. Brush with egg, bake in hot oven (400 F.) 35-40 minutes. Makes 2 cakes.

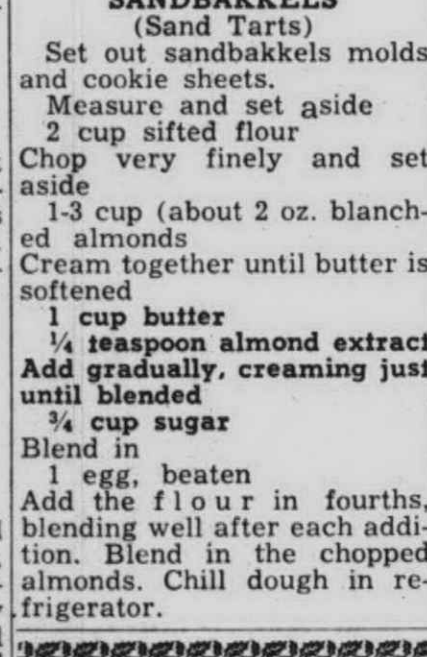

KRUMKAKER (Norwegian Cones)
Set out a krumkake iron (usually available in the housewares section of a department store).
Sift together into a bowl
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 cup cornstarch
1 1/2 teaspoons cardamom
Cream until softened
1 cup butter
Add gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition
1 1/4 cup sugar
Beat in, one at a time, until thoroughly blended
3 egg yolks

Remove a portion of the dough from refrigerator and return remaining dough to continue chilling. Place about 2 teaspoons dough into each mold. Using the thumb, firmly press dough into each mold, coating the bottom and sides evenly. Place molds on the cookie sheets. Repeat with the remaining dough.
Bake at 375 degrees F. 6 to 8 min., or until sand tarts are golden brown.

BERLINEKRANSER (Berlin Wreaths)
1 1/2 C. butter
1 C. sugar
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. baking ammonia
3/4 C. blanched almonds
4 C. flour
Cream butter and sugar, add egg, sift and add flour and baking ammonia, vanilla and blanched almonds. Pour batter in cookie press and form cookies in shape of a wreath. Bake at 350 degrees until cookies are golden yellow.

"Squares" aren't always those who aren't hep to rock and roll music, because to a roofer, a "Square is a unit of measurement, according to roofing specialists at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. An area 10 feet by 10 feet (100 square feet) is the yardstick used to determine the amount of materials and labor required to cover a roof.

Art Around Us:

by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

Students of government tell me that there are two different kinds of democracy: the idealistic, almost religious democracy of the poets, and the practical democracy of the politicians. Idealistic democracy was first proposed and practised by the Athenian Greeks; practical politics by the Romans when they became masters of the then known world. The idealism of the Greeks was reflected in their art which mainly represented the gods, or at the best idealized man, not a particular individual but a prototype, chosen for the most admirable qualities, an ideal to look up to and emulate. The Romans reflected their practicality in the formulation of laws, their system of roads, their willingness to accept all men's religions and to practice none. It was also reflected in their art. At first they accepted the Greeks as masters in the field and imported Greek artists to build original works to beautify their cities or to make copies of famous Greek pieces. They were content to copy Greek paintings for their walls or as mosaics on their outside walls for all the world to see. When they did develop their own art it was strictly humanistic, not idealistic: their first portrait heads and the first studies of everyday people such as "The Market Woman" exaggerated poses of suffering or of joy. The more materialistic civilization, it seems, the more realism it demands in its art. The Romans did make a valuable and lasting contribution to art, however, in their revival of the arch, the vault and the dome in architecture, used in such magnificent specimens as the Colosseum, and the Pantheon which, though built in 27 B.C., is still in use in Rome.

The two strains, idealism and practicality, have come down to us today and might be extended to explain the difference between the art of abstract painters and those who insist that realism is the only way. Just as the Greeks strove to express the universal, idealism qualities of a perfect specimen, so the abstract painter tries to capture the universal qualities of an emotion, a landscape, a sunset with color and motion, rather than in a specific recognizable individual, scene or day. Just as the Romans were content with copies of Greek masterpieces, with portrait busts, or realistic studies of everyday citizens, so the realistic painter is content to reproduce, in emulation of the great masters of the renaissance or the impressionist period, sentimental, recognizable scenes, still-life or portraits.

Rocks Blitz RU Swimmers, Bow to Mighty AA

What may possibly have been the toughest part of the regular season for Plymouth's varsity swimmers ended last week, and smoother waters should lie ahead for the Rocks.

Ann Arbor helped Plymouth conclude the rough initial phase of the Rocks' 1962-63 schedule last Saturday but showed no mercy in punishing the local swimmers, 73-30.

It was one of the most lopsided losses the Rocks have suffered in their 11 years in swim competition. It also brought to an end a four-meet opening phase of Plymouth's schedule that was by far as difficult as any other portion of the current agenda.

The Rocks opened against Lincoln Park and posted a narrow victory. Birmingham entered the picture in the second clash and pummeled Plymouth handily. Redford Union, no where near as strong as Plymouth's first two opponents, bowed last Thursday evening, but Ann Arbor flexed its muscles Saturday.

From here on in, Plymouth coach John McFall should be able to breathe somewhat easier. He has 11 more dual meets ahead for his swimmers and none of the clashes should prove as difficult as at least three of the previous four battles.

The Rocks — presently 2-2 for the season — stand a chance of attaining the 100-victory level this year, providing they can win all of their remaining meets.

It is — indeed — a tall order. Ann Arbor denied Plymouth every single first place ribbon in the clash Saturday. The Rocks gained only five seconds in individual events and wound up second in both relays.

Here's how Plymouth accounted for itself: Dan Olson, Dave Agnew, Dave Beglinger and Jim Mattison were second in the 200-yard medley relay and Beglinger followed with a third in the 200-yard free.

Gary Gould was second and Pete Gustafson third in the 50-yard free. Jim Beglinger was third in the 200-yard individual medley. In the diving, Mark Schultheiss was second and John Herter third. Gould gained a second in the 100-yard butterfly and Dave Beglinger was third. Dick Berry finished second in the 100-yard free. Dan Olson was second in the 100-yard back stroke and Jim Beglinger was third in the 400-yard free.

Agnew was third in the 100-yard breast stroke and the team of Gustafson, Mattison, Mike Britcher and Mark Schultheiss had to settle for second in the 200-yard freestyle relay.

"I wasn't disappointed in our performance," said Plymouth coach McFall later. "We knew full well that Ann Arbor was going to be exceptionally strong and they proved it easily."

But Plymouth could reflect on its own victory of similar proportions over Redford

Union two nights earlier. The Rocks turned in a 74-31 decision in their first action against a Suburban Six league opponent. This time, Olson, Agnew, Dave Beglinger and Mattison was first in the 200-yard individual medley and Jeff Hoffman was second.

Schultheiss won the diving competition. Dave Beglinger was first in the 100-yard butterfly and George Collins was second.

Gould paced the 100-yard free and Dan Cook earned a third. Olson won the 100-yard back stroke with George Gardner second. In the 400-yard free, Jim Beglinger turned in an easy victory in the 200-yard medley relay and Berry and Tom Blunk swept second and third in the 200-yard free.

Gould won the 50-yard free with Gustafson claiming second place. Jim Beglinger turned in a handy victory as Dick Berry was runner-up.

Agnew was second in the 100-yard breast stroke and the 200-yard freestyle relay team of Jeff Berry, Mike Britcher, Jim Norman and Rich Malboeuf won that event.

It set the stage for the Ann Arbor battle Saturday.

Cagers Face AP Thursday

The Rocks varsity basketball game this week is Thursday evening and not Friday night as was originally scheduled.

Athletic director John Sandmann said that the contest with Allen Park has been moved ahead to Thursday evening so as not to interfere with the Christmas vacation which begins Friday.

Thus, Plymouth's JayVees will take on the AP junior varsity starting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at the Senior High here and the varsity clash will get underway about 8 p.m.

Both the varsity and JayVee swim teams will battle Thursday night also. They face their respective opponents at Allen Park in a combined meet that will begin at 7 p.m., Sandmann said. There has been no change in that contest.

First League Excursion Ends in 73-47 Downfall

Plymouth's first foray into the Suburban Six League basketball race turned out to be a disastrous one as Redford Union bombed the Rocks, 73-47, last Friday evening.

It was Plymouth's third defeat in four outings thus far this winter. Sole victory for the Rocks was against Walled Lake, a non-league opponent.

A 40-point spree by Redford Union in the first half put the game on ice for the eventual winners. The Rocks were hampered by poor success on their field goal shooting efforts as well as by a lack of height.

Redford Union started with a front line averaging nearly 6-foot-5, headed by 6-foot-7 center Len LePla. He wound up with 15 points and played only slightly more than half the game.

Ben Maibach, a 6-foot-3 forward, took game scoring honors for Redford Union with 18 points while Plymouth's Dick Egloff, a junior forward, led the Rocks' attack with 14.

Plymouth played Redford Union even in the first period and trailed by only 13-10 at the start of the second quarter, but RU's 27-point splurge during the eight minutes leading up to halftime put the game out of Plymouth's reach.

By intermission Redford Union had moved ahead, 40-26, and continued to build on this margin during the last half.

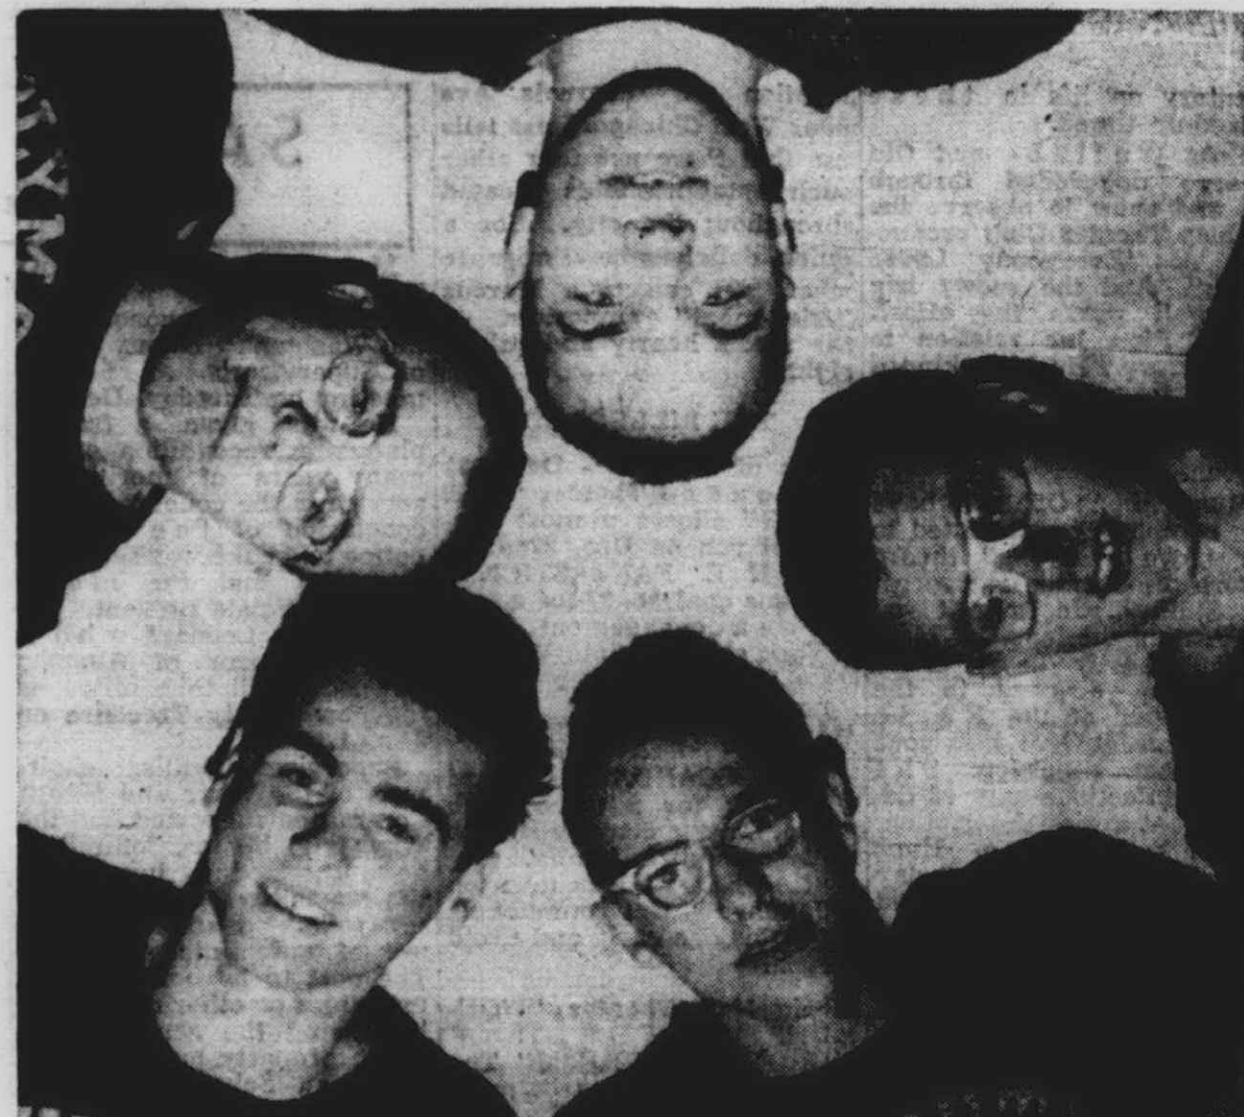

"Our kids worked hard," said Plymouth coach Charlie Ketterer later, "but we just weren't able to take the best advantage of our opportunities."

Plymouth connected on only 18 of 59 field goal attempts for a poor 36 per cent shooting average. The Rocks cashed 15 of 37 free throws for 40 per cent in that department, scoring only five of 17 in the second half.

Meanwhile, Redford Union hit on 27 of 57 field goals for 47 per cent and 19 of 31 free throws for 60 per cent.

"Redford Union has a real strong ball club and it deserves a lot of respect this year," cautioned Ketterer later. "Their bench strength is more than just adequate." Along with Egloff's 14-point

THESE FIVE members of Plymouth's varsity basketball team, along with coach Charlie Ketterer's other varsity players, might well be hoping that Santa next Monday night delivers assurance of a winning season as he makes his annual rounds. At any rate, the quintet here comprises Ketterer's first team clockwise, beginning at the top of the photo, are: Dick Egloff, Jim Lake, Tom McGill, Gary Grady and Dick Schryer. Only senior on the starting five is Schryer, who is also team captain. Grady and Lake, stand-outs on last year's Jay-Vec team, are both sophomores, while McGill and Egloff are juniors.

SPORTSEEN

By Jerome O'Neil

Willie Mosconi, with the Brunswick crest displayed like a battle ribbon on the pocket of his sport coat, took his first billiard shot at the Pool-O-Drome here about 2 p.m. last Friday and within 45 minutes had concluded a 111-ball run after opening with 27.

Bruce Ray, brother of Pool-O-Drome owner Sid Ray, was Mosconi's opposition, but spent as much time as an on-looker as did the other 150 persons who turned out to witness Mosconi's prowess.

Mosconi, whose teaching talents turned Paul Newman and Jackie Gleason into passable pool sharks for the movie "The Hustler," made it all look so easy that billiard tables hereabout conceivably will be as busy as a cold drink stand in the desert.

At one point, he casually shifted the cue to his left hand, made a careful shot with little effort and neatly broke apart a cluster of nine other balls in a maneuver that undoubtedly would have left other enthusiasts decidedly more than apprehensive.

"All you got to do is cuss 'em and talk to 'em a little," was Mosconi's comment at another moment. And he turned loose a comforting smile that implied there might still be a bit more to the game than just that.

Frank Serra was on hand, too, as referee. Frank was shooting billiards probably before Mosconi was born and at one time (1930-31) was Michigan's pocket billiard champion.

He's played against Mosconi, but seldom — if ever — come away a winner.

In fact, in the 40 years Mosconi has been at the game, few others have beaten him, too. His first trip into the big time came in the early 20's and he's been on top ever since.

Certainly Bruce Ray didn't come close to beating Mosconi, but he got 17 balls before Mosconi became engaged in his effortless and precise work that led to an additional 111 points, non stop.

Later, Mosconi devoted five minutes to how the game is played, and then opened his bag of tricks. That, on top of the 111-ball run, was enough to boost the enthusiasm of anyone.

Especially Sid Ray, since he runs the Pool-O-Drome.

WILLIE MOSCONI was a big attraction at the Pool-O-Drome here last Friday.

Wildlifers to Sponsor Alaska Film Adventure

Tickets have gone on sale for the annual appearance of Cecil Rhode and his exciting filmed exploits in the wilds of Alaska, a spokesman for Western Wayne County Conservation Association has announced.

Rhode's appearance here on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 7 and 8, is held under the auspices of the local conservation association.

The event will begin at 8 p.m. at the Senior High Auditorium both nights.

Titles of Rhode's newest films are "Alaska Angling" and "Alaska Game Trails." One portrays many of his experiences fishing in Alaska while the other records his hunting episodes. Both, say the conservation sponsors, will delight audiences.

Tickets are on sale in advance of the event at Davis & Lent men's store, at The Plymouth Mail, and at the Western Wayne County Conservation Association's clubhouse at 6700 Napier Rd.

Prices for advance sale tickets are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children under 16. Tickets will also be on sale at the door both nights. Adult tickets at the door will be $1.50 while children under 16 will pay $1.

Rhode is a former Walt Disney photographer and an associate of the famed Wally Taber, whose colorful wildlife films have captured the imagination of millions.

Specific name of the show here will be the "Wally Taber Safari Show," but Rhode will present and narrate the two films.

Rhode takes his audience into the little-known Wood River Lake country of Alaska where reportedly the largest rainbow trout reside.

He also visits the salmon grounds and in his "Game Trails" film runs the gamut from sea lion to mountain goat and from mammoth moose to miniature pike.

JayVee Swimmers Face Redford Union Thursday

Plymouth's junior varsity swimmers will put a two-meet win streak on the line tomorrow at Allen Park, after administering a handy 65-36 victory against Redford Union's Jay-Vee squad last Wednesday.

The junior Rocks racked up wins in the first nine events against Redford Union before slipping in the 100-yard breast-stroke and suffering a disqualification in the 200-yard free style relay in the finale.

Rich Irvine, Don Norman, Jim Wernette and Bob Knapp shared the task of winning the 200-yard medley relay, the meet's opening event, in a time of 2:08.7.

From there on, it was simply more of the same.

Russ Crosby won the 200-yard free style and Chuck Olson was second. Rick Ott was first in the 50-yard free with Jim Haarbauer just behind him.

John Bowsman was first in the 200-yard individual medley, Bert Quinn took the diving competition, Mike Drennan won the 100-yard butterfly with Tim Wernette placing second.

Jeff Burke won the 100-yard free and Wendell Sikes was second. Rich Irvine claimed first place in the 100-yard backstroke, Bob Knapp won the 400-yard free with Val Fulton second.

Mike Bentley was third in the 100-yard breast-stroke, the 10th event of the contest and RU's 200-yard free style relay team was awarded first in that event when Plymouth was disqualified.

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

The weather outside may be icy, windy, and bone-chilling, but inside the Detroit theaters a rosy glow emanates nightly from audiences so appreciative of the wonderful attractions at our legitimate theaters there. The Shubert, Fisher, Vanguard, and Stables theater club provided rousing evidence that a pleasant way to escape the blizzard highways is to slide into a nearby theater.

Viveca Lindfors and Mark Lenard touched off some dramatic fireworks last week at the Shubert Theater that will be long remembered. Act III of "A Far Country" burst into flaming fury as Mr. Lenard badgered, cajoled, and shouted down his patient. The technique might not have had any scientific basis, but it was a rare treat theatrically. Detroiters will wait awhile before they will see acting of such intensity in the near future.

It's a pity that "A Far Country" couldn't have stayed at the Shubert for an additional week. This production was by far one of the finest dramatic shows to play Detroit in many a moon.

Last Monday evening at the Fisher Theater, Mr. John Geilgud and a most distinguished company of actors showed us how a classic comedy can still have great contemporary significance. "The School For Scandal," though written in the 17th century, sparkled with the brilliance and brightness of a newly-minted coin of the 20th century. Our London friends proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that England is the home of the perfectly-disciplined actor.

Diction, timing, pacing, and stage business flow faultlessly and superbly as this talented company performs. They are a joy to behold. You are caught up in the magic spell they weave. "The School For Scandal" breathes and lives as it probably never did back in the days of Richard Brinsley Sheridan. Mrs. Geilgud doubles as the director and can take a great share of the credit for its success.

You have three weeks in which to get down to the Fisher to enjoy this biting commentary on how gossipy we frail mortals are. During these happy holidays and days of good will the topic under consideration at the Fisher has a tinge of irony to it.

Christmas cards are piling up on Old George's desk. The yearly clever contribution from Jack Wilcox created its usual round of guffaws. Jack used TV commercials as a satiric base for his ingenious holiday card. We'll have to agree with Jack that the "idiot box" provides far too much chewing gum for the eyes and not enough genuine "meat and potatoes."

You still have until December 22nd to catch the Vanguard's production of "The Egg". Browsing through the library the other evening I noted that "The Egg" was included in the yearly compilation of the Ten Best Plays of 1961-62. Such an honor should give you a little extra incentive to catch this thoughtful, yet hilarious comedy.

mentary on life in these mixed-up times.

Russ Wallace and Old George dog-sledded through ice and snow to observe the Stables Theater Club production of "Everybody Loves Opal." And the snowy trip was well worth the effort. Lynne Finn (no relation to the literary "Huck") skipped lightly through a part that could have been a sluttered chore for a less competent person.

Miss Finn as Opal will have you completely committed to her "love everyone" theory before the evening is over at the Stables. In fact, if you are feeling the least bit blue, trudge wearily down to 22 Charlotte, descend to the lower foyer of the Earle Hotel, and let Opal sure your despondent condition. She has an infectious way of doing it that defies description.

Frank Monico, Hans Rockel, and Pam Bekolay round out the cast of featured players that make every laugh line count. Their perfect performances give credence to a play that could be quite drab and lifeless. Such spirited ensemble acting by this semi-professional group would lead me to suggest the deletion of the -refix "semi".

The Stables Theater Club is professional in every sense of the word. Call TO 6-8148 for tickets on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday evenings. On our way back to Plymouth Russ introduced me to a hamburger haven hiding under the trade name of Marcus. Hamburgers are served in long hot dog buns with copious mounds of onions. The meat is pure sirloin and consequently, the "burgers" are scrumptious. For dessert, I tried their deep-dish apple pie.

Its rating: tangy and tasty. We stopped at the Marcus location on Livermore Ave near West Chicago. Russ tells me that there are four other such establishments located throughout the city. For a quick, delicious meal migrate when you can to a Marcus "fried-meat" emporium — the food's hearty and priced right.

Fire Chief Fred Korte wishes to warn people of the fire hazards attendant upon Christmas celebrations and not to be careless during the holidays. Keep your Christmas tree safe and merry by following these safety suggestions. No. 1 - saw off about one inch of your tree on an angle, above original cut, and stand in water and add water daily. No. 2 - set up the tree away from radiators, heaters, fireplaces and doorways. No. 3 - use fireproof glass and, or metal. No. 4 - check your strings of Christmas lights for frayed wiring or loose connections. When buying new sets, look for the UL label of Underwriters Laboratories, Inc. Lighted candles should not be used on the tree. No. 5 - turn tree lights off before going to bed, or leaving the house. No. 6 - be sure the fuses on your circuits are not more than 15 amperes. No. 7 - when needles start falling take tree down and discard outdoors. No. 8 - when gifts are opened, discard wrappings promptly. We have had no fires so far this month. Let's keep it that way.

The cafeteria employees from all nine public schools held their regular monthly meeting at the Bird Elementary School on Tues., Dec. 4, with twenty-four in attendance, and two members absent.

Business meeting was conducted by newly elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: president — Madalyn Potter, vice pres. — Barbara Karnatz, secretary — Edith Ebersole, treasurer — Ethel Skaggs.

Retiring officers were: Nellie Johnson — president, Ann Dudley — vice pres., Eleanor Neault — secretary, Marian Bernash — treasurer.

Reports from the various committees were heard, and acted upon accordingly.

Nellie Johnson was appointed a Publicity Chairman. A social hour followed with refreshments being served by our hostesses, Mrs. Rose Howitz, manager of Bird School Cafeteria, and her assistant Mrs. Sally Fulton. Next meeting on Jan. 2, 1963 at Farrand School.

The National Wildlife Federation passes along word that the Utah Department of Fish and Game has been awarded the 1962 National Rifle Assn. Hunter Safety Award for having the state program which did the best job of promoting hunter safety. Sportsmen must take a hunter safety course before they can obtain a license in Utah, where hunting accidents have declined sharply since inauguration of the safety program.
