George Lawton Awarded '62 Man-of-Year Honors

George Lawton, a two-term past president of the Chamber of Commerce here and treasurer and chief administrative officer of the Plymouth Community Credit Union, was named Plymouth's "Young Man of the Year" for 1962 Monday night and honored by the JayCees.

In ceremonies during the JayCees' annual Bosses Night Program at the Hotel Mayflower, JayCee president James Garber presented Lawton with the club's distinguished service for outstanding contributions and achievements within the Plymouth community during 1962.

A selection committee comprised of Russell Isbister, Donald Sutherland and Harold Guenther named Lawton for the honor from a lengthy list of potential recipients.

The event was kept secret from Lawton up to the time of the meeting and he was lured to the JayCee Bosses Night banquet by the trio of men who earlier had designated him for the JayCee award.

In accepting the Distinguished Service Award and the laurels as Plymouth's "Young Man of 1962" Lawton said:

"I am most certainly honored to receive this award, and still it seems that I am being given credit for the untiring work of many, many others."

He said his efforts to be of assistance to the Plymouth community came as a result of a need for "self-enlightenment."

Isbister, as head of the three-man selection committee, introduced Lawton and cited some of his many accomplishments.

"George Lawton," said Isbister, "in a very real sense this is your day in the Plymouth community."

"Since coming to our community five years ago you have won for yourself a position of admiration and respect in the minds and hearts of fellow citizens."

"To properly assess what has happened to the community as a result of your presence is to evaluate the impact of your personal attributes on the general welfare of our people," Isbister declared.

"Your deep abiding faith in the future of the Plymouth community carried you into new and uncharted paths of service. Your word and deed set an example for others to follow. Your perceptive and scholarly mind penetrated the thought processes of critically thinking citizens."

"Your concern and sense of urgency for the continued improvement in the economic, political, educational and cultural life of the community motivated others to act likewise."

Isbister said that unselfish purposes guided Lawton into a leadership role whereby not all of his work is readily identifiable with him. "Nor do the full results of your efforts become immediately discernible," Isbister added.

Lawton is the immediate past president of the Plymouth community Chamber of Commerce and held the post two years. He is currently a

BETWEEN 70 AND 80 Plymouth teenagers will be selling peanuts at strategic downtown locations this Saturday as part of the 1963 March of Dimes. Among the teen-age workers will be 14-year-old Kathy Berridge, shown here with her mother, Mrs. Earnest Berridge, who with Mrs. Joseph Witwer is co-chairman of the event. The sales force will be comprised of seventh, eighth and ninth graders assigned to 10 downtown locations. Proceeds will be turned over to the National Foundation to continue efforts to wipe out birth defects and arthritis, just as it previously concentrated on polio. Local headquarters during the sale will be at the Kresge store on Main St.

1963 Chamber Budget Approved at $11,700

A 1963 budget totaling $11,700 was approved for the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce by the organization's Board of Directors at its regular January meeting recently.

Of the total, $10,500 is anticipated income from membership dues and a special project is expected to raise another $1,200, according to the Chamber's recent newsletter.

Among the various budgeted expenditures is a $1,200 sum for further efforts in community economic development. Chamber dues are paid annually, semi-annually, quarterly or monthly by the member merchants.

In other news from the Chamber, there are two more new industries now located in the community.

One is Brilliant Products,

Inc., 328 N. Main St., whose president is Frederick Brunetti. The firm manufactures wire market baskets, display equipment and stock trucks. The other industrial newcomer is Micro-Tech, Inc., 595 Forest Ave. President of the company is Edgar W. Galpin. The firm is engaged in ordinance assembly.

According to the newsletter, there are 32 major industrial firms within the Plymouth community with a current total employment of 8,239.

Chamber president John Herb has announced that a 1963 list of local industries and their executives, products and related information is available at the Chamber offices now.

He added that the Chamber's descriptive brochure on the community of Plymouth is currently being revised and brought up to date and will be available shortly.

Among other administrative matters described in the recent Chamber newsletter was a report on contributions to the 1962 Christmas community program here. Total contributions from merchants amounted to $1,393, while expenditures were $1,113.

The Chamber's Christmas expenditures included the purchase of candy for youngsters who visited Santa Claus in Kellogg Park and $800 to the City of Plymouth to defray a part of the cost of holiday decorations here.

Mention of Rembrandt Paints Too Rosy Picture

Mrs. Erma McLean, of 9449 Oakview, who was featured in "Familiar Faces" in The Mail last week, finds herself today with the perplexing problem of explaining to friends and inquisitive callers that she really doesn't have "four paintings by Rembrandt" after all.

"Actually," she said, "I've got one, very small self-portrait of Rembrandt which I purchased from a friend about 15 years ago."

After it was reported in The Mail that she had four Rembrandts, she was literally besieged by collectors and other curiosity-seekers. She also was concerned that she might be robbed of something she doesn't have.

"I'd hate to have some enterprising robber break in to my house in the hopes of getting four highly-prized Rembrandts only for him to find a tiny self-portrait worth far less than the risk of the robbery."

She said she didn't want to sell the small self-portrait either. She added that she was considering trying to put it on display somewhere in order to satisfy the many inquiries she has received.

Flames Rout Family of 4

A Joy Rd. family of four was routed into sub-zero cold last Thursday morning when flames broke out in the utility room of their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Dasher and their two sons, Wayne, 15, and Dennis, 14, were unharmed. The couple are the owners of Dasher's Market, 38401 Joy Rd. near Hix. Their house is connected to the rear of the store.

While there was smoke damage throughout all of the living quarters and considerable fire damage to the utility room, the store was never threatened, according to Mrs. Dasher.

Her husband single-handedly put out the flames. The Nankin Township fire department, which Mrs. Dasher had notified, did not arrive until after Dasher had extinguished the blaze.

The couple's teen-age sons crawled through a bedroom window to escape the smoke. The temperature reading at the time was 15 degrees below zero. Mr. Dasher said it was also her birthday.

The incident occurred at 4:30 a.m. Thursday. Exact cause of the blaze was not immediately known. The family was able to continue living in the house.

Water Department Cost Study Opens

City Commissioners in an informal "work session" Monday night began what could be an exhaustive study of the City of Plymouth water department budget with an eye toward the possible use of Detroit water here.

It was a prelude to an eventual meeting with representatives of local industry over the Detroit water proposal.

Purpose of the unofficial meeting, held in the Commission Chambers at the City Hall, was "to discuss the water situation and our need for concrete facts relative to the City's industrial consumers," said Mayor Robert Sincock as the session got underway.

"We've got to have an exact figure on water costs before we will be able to sit down with our industries," said Commissioner Carl Shear later.

The intricacies of internal budgeting procedures arose in a report delivered by City Manager Albert Glassford.

He explained that portions of administrative salaries are paid out of the water department to persons who devote part of their duties to water department matters.

Said Commissioner Richard Wernette:

"We should strive to take any excess expenditures out of the water budget so that we come up with a figure that will cover only the minimum administrative costs and payment on interest and principle on existing water bonds."

Glassford said that excess expenditures, which perhaps could be removed from the water department budget, would have to be absorbed out of other departmental budgets.

He indicated that, if the water department expenditures are sliced any measurable amount, a tax millage increase would be the only solution if other departmental budgets were required to pick up these expenditures.

Income to the water department during fiscal year 1961-62 amounted to approximately $146,000, Glassford reported. He said that between $20,000 and $30,000 of this income is required annually to retire a water department bond obligation totaling $350,000 at present.

Commissioners discussed the Detroit water proposal, in which Detroit Water Board general manager Gerald Remus has quoted a delivery price of 19.6 cents per 1,000 gallons to the City of Plymouth.

There was consideration given to the possibility that the Detroit delivery price might be negotiated in light of City of Plymouth's plans to construct a 3-million-gallon water reservoir on Beck Rd.

The discussion is expected to come up, at least briefly, on Monday night's regular Commission meeting agenda.

A three-man committee from here will seek another audience with Remus in the near future to explore further the Detroit water proposal and the quoted Detroit delivery price.

No date was decided upon for the meeting with representatives of local industry.

Industrial Developers Seek $8,000 Locally

Plymouth's Industrial development Corp., on the heels of last week's announcement that a pharmaceutical firm is expected to locate here shortly, revealed that it is striving to raise $8,000 with which to ensure that transaction as well as provide "working capital" for future projects in the community.

The announcement was made by Frank Arlen, president of the non-profit industrial development group. It was much through his efforts that Chem-Tek Corp., of Detroit, has been encouraged to move to Plymouth shortly.

He explained that portions of administrative salaries are paid out of the water department to persons who devote part of their duties to water department matters.

Said Commissioner Richard Wernette:

"We should strive to take any excess expenditures out of the water budget so that we come up with a figure that will cover only the minimum administrative costs and payment on interest and principle on existing water bonds."

Detroit Edison Plans New Service Center

Detroit Edison has announced plans to build an all-electric service center in western Wayne County. The project will have no immediate effect on the future operation of the Plymouth branch office, it was understood.

Edwin O. George, vice president in charge of sales said the new facility will be located on Cherry Hill Rd. near Newburgh Rd. in Nankin Township.

Construction will start in March; the announcement said, and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy by late fall. Total cost was not disclosed.

Meanwhile, The Mail learned that Detroit Edison also will construct a high-power supply line along the C & O railroad tracks here west to Ridge Rd. where a booster station will be located eventually to assure adequate electrical service to that area as the population increases there.

With regard to the all-electric service center, Nankin Township Supervisor Joseph P. Tattan welcomed the announcement as an "important step forward in the economic development of the Nankin area."

The service center, when completed, will house the offices of the company's Wayne District sales manager and customer business representatives, as well as groups from the overhead lines, meter, customer accounts and general engineering departments.

Water Meter Leak Is City Responsibility

Water meter leaks in the City of Plymouth are the responsibility of the City, explained DPW supervisor Joseph Bida this week, but residents are responsible for trouble that crops up in fittings on either side of the meter and for all plumbing and the water line as well from the meter to the shut-off valve at the property line.

The City's responsibility covers problems from the property line shut-off to the water main in the street and for any leaks in the meter itself, Bida emphasized.

Fire Chief Warns Residents About Over-Taxed Furnaces

Assistant City fire chief Charles Groth this week issued a warning to local residents that cold weather of the sort Plymouth is presently experiencing can easily lead to tragedy involving fire. "In this sort of cold weather," Groth said, "when household heating systems are pushed to maximum output, it would be a wise safeguard to assure that all furnaces are operating properly."

He said that overheated furnaces, brought about by constant use during severe cold spells, are a major cause of fire at this time of the year.

"The danger is even greater at night-time," he added, "because residents could possibly be trapped inside their home as they sleep."

Eskimos Have Only 1 Tie for Efforts in Midget Hockey

The Plymouth Eskimos, a local entry in the midget division (age 14 to 16) of the Nankin Twp. recreation hockey league, are finding the going rather rough this season.

In two weeks of league play, the Eskimos have only a lone tie to show for their efforts. Last week, the Eskimos absorbed a 4-1 loss at the hands of the Wayne Panthers as Dale Crawford scored the only goal for the locals.

More recently, the Nankin Spartans administered two defeats, one a 10-1 affair as Ken Wilkins avoided a shut-out for the Eskimos, and the other a 6-1 battle as Wilkins again accounted for the only Eskimo scoring.

The tie developed in a contest with the Garden City Blackhawks. Final score was 3-3 as John Price, Tim Smith and Wilkins each tallied single scores for the Eskimos.

One other loss suffered by the Plymouth club came in a game against the Wayne Panthers Monday evening as the local team was dumped 8-3. Wilkins scored twice and Price accounted for Plymouth's other goal.

Bandit Takes $40,000 From Bank of Livonia

A bandit, described as "very polite" and brandishing a .45 automatic, held up the Bank of Livonia's branch office in the Yale Shopping Plaza on Plymouth Rd. Tuesday afternoon and got away with approximately $40,000, bank officials said.

The robbery took place at the Bank's 3 p.m. closing time.

Duane Mellinger, head cashier who lives at 9630 Gold Arbor in Plymouth Township, said the bandit handed a note to branch manager John Hampton and pulled the automatic at the same time. Hampton had just locked the front door and then approached the man to see if he could be of any help.

The bandit was described as "about 30 years of age, five-eight or nine, with a crew haircut." He wore a white shirt and was said to be very polite.

The money was mostly in ten and twenty dollar bills, Mellinger said.

The bandit tied four bank employees and a customer with wire and made them lay down on the floor. He escaped out the bank's rear door as Livonia police were entering the building. Mellinger said it was believed the bandit was still in the bank building as the police entered.

The FBI and Livonia police are investigating.

Bank of Livonia's Wonderland Shopping Center branch was robbed about two years ago of $8,000, Mellinger said.

So much sentiment is pre-packaged today it's no wonder the thoughtful, personal touch means so much to most people.

Take Valentine gifts. A frilly card and candy are the standard gift for the lady of the house. But a dad we know has come up with that all-important personal touch.

He brought in a snapshot of himself and the kids which he wanted us to enlarge. He plans to frame it for "her" side of their his-and-her dresser. What's even nicer about this idea is it's worth repeating year by year with more recent pictures.

What about you? Do you have a snapshot of you and the kids that mom treasures? Why not surprise her with a framed enlargement?

BY GEORGE SPELVIN

Snap...crackle...pop!! No breakfast food can duplicate Nature's havoc-wrecking power when it decides to show puny mankind its brutal force. Car radiators popped their pressure caps, water pipes cracked and groaned as they came to a sluggish, steeplish stop, and many a temper snapped as temperatures took a below-zero plunge last week.

Old George remembers only too well a crisp cold night in January when it was zero and below. Seventeen years ago in the frozen city of Chicago Georgiana Spelvin decided to make her nascent entrance upon a cold, wind-swept stage. I bundled the wife up and flew with great haste to the hospital. Friends had advised me that the second child arrives with out too much delay from the great stage manager in the sky.

It was a brisk five below. I banked my coal furnace fire as best I could, before I left. If the fire were not kept up, the pipes would surely freeze. This fact I was keenly aware of. Right after the birth of my daughter, I called some nearby relatives and asked to be sure and check my furnace as I wanted to stay with the b.w. a bit longer. They assured me that it would be taken care of.

Being young and a trifle naive, I left the stoking of the furnace in the hands of my relatives. Now I know better. It's best you should always tend to important matters yourself.

Later that day I came home to a cold house. The ashes in the fire pot leered back at me when I pried open the stiff furnace door. A frozen stillness greeted me everywhere. The pictures on the cellar wall even seemed to droop with a rigidity brought on by intense chilliness.

Little did I realize the severity of the situation. Had I known what was coming I would have never built a fire. However, since the backs of my ears were far from being dry, I plowed ahead through the icy waters of that barren basement and made a roaring fire.

As the temperatures rose, the pipes began to hum a curious melody: I thought at first I had unleashed a horrible monster in the cellar. Weird notes of a discordant nature emerged from those pickled pipes. As the frozen water turned to a more liquid state, a strange, stifled gurgling seemed to sneak out slowly.

Not content to remain upstairs while this wild concert took place in the basement, I hastened downstairs to try and alleviate the misery of those tortured pipes. Looking at the exposed pipes, I could see no apparent stress and strains.

Suddenly, it happened. Some of the whistling, grunting, and groaning was replaced by a new phenomena—a hissing spray of water. Seconds later, the entire basement network of pipes sprung leaks and formed a gigantic, awesome fountain.

Thousands of jet-like streams of water filled the air. I stared in disbelief. From the Ice Age to the Flood in a twinkling. What to do? Frankly, I felt like sitting down to cry my eyes out. Instead I tried to locate the main water valve amidst a curtain of water that was now reaching waterfall proportions.

To my added consternation I discovered that the valve had been damaged so that no shutting off was possible. Dashing outside to locate the cut-off valve from the city water line, I stumbled on still another happy situation: the ground was covered with ice and it would be impossible for me to locate the important valve.

After I called the City Water Department, I did the only sensible thing left to do. I let the fire go out so the water could re-freeze before the house would float away. Don't bother to ask me how much the whole mess cost to straighten out. I've been trying to forget it for sixteen years. Everytime the temperature drops below zero though my memory cells heat up and I get shooting pains.

Some years ago Mr. Thornton Wilder wrote a Pulitzer Prize winning play "The Skin of Our Teeth" in which the characters are threatened by the coming of the Ice Age.

Our frigid temperatures and "The Skin of Our Teeth" have a direct relationship for old George. That hectic night of troubles with my frozen pipes was dress rehearsal time for "The Skin of Our Teeth".

I was in charge of the stage lighting for the production. Between trying to open the show on schedule, worry about my wife having our second child, and keep the home fires burning in my ancient furnace I had enough work for several octupl.

Regardless of how severe the cold weather becomes life's tragedies and pleasing comic moments will continue on. Somewhere in the months ahead warm winds lurk. If we play our cards right, who knows we may get some respite fairly soon.

A PANCAKE BREAKFAST in the basement of the First United Presbyterian Church this morning, beginning at 6:30, prepared by and for the church's High School Youth Fellowship, attracted about 60 teenagers. Following the breakfast the students attended a special worship service, also conducted by them. The event was held in connection with the Youth Week being celebrated, this week, in Protestant churches throughout the nation. Enjoying every bite are, left to right, Scott Dodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Dodge, of 1327 S. Main St.; Sue Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Larson, of 1461 Maple Ave.; and Bill (Kenton) Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson, of 1168 Ross St.

member of the Chamber's Board of Directors and is chairman of the Chamber's economic development committee.

He is vice-president of the local Y.M.C.A. and is on the Board of Directors of the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Lawton is secretary of the non-profit Industrial Development Corp. and is a trustee of the Plymouth Community Trust Fund, which raised money with which to aid RCA in its recent move to Plymouth.

A member of the City of Plymouth's Board of Review, Lawton is also a candidate for City Commission in the forthcoming primary election.

He is active in the Methodist Church and the Plymouth Kiwanis Club. Under Lawton's guidance, the assets of the Plymouth Community Credit Union have grown since 1958 from $100,000 to $1.6 million. Lawton is treasurer of the state association of credit unions.

Lawton, his wife and their three children, Sue, 9, Billy, 31 and Colt, 1, live at 1317 Sheridan.

Special guest during the JayCees' annual Bosses Night Program was Detroit Lions' defensive star and team captain Joe Schmidt.

The popular professional football player answered questions directed to him by the audience of some 70 men, and later — after Lawton was presented with his distinguished service award — Schmidt showed films of the Lions games.

pointed out, "but we need many, many more in order to sustain the success record of the corporation."

Every resident of the Plymouth community should own at least one share in the organization, he urged. Shares of stock are $25 each. While they return neither dividends nor interest to the holder, the shares represent an investment in the future of the entire community, he said.

With money raised through the sale of shares and by way of personal loans, the Industrial Development Corp. is provided with its "working capital" whereby it may make offers for unoccupied property here and then encourage new industry to locate in the Plymouth community.

The personal loans to the corporation, which may be made in any amount, return a nominal interest rate. One recent combination of loans from 50 men and businesses totaled $48,000 and contributed toward bringing RCA here.

The money-lenders recently received a three per cent annual dividend on their loans, which are currently invested in a lump form in treasury bonds.

Tremendous success has been seen through the efforts of the IDC in recent months. In fact, its 18-month record shows that every vacant plant except one have been filled in the City and Township.

"We've got several new irons in the fire right now, but to disclose them at this time could possibly have a bad effect on them," Arlen stated.

He urged that persons interested in buying a $25 share in the corporation may make checks payable to the Industrial Development Corp., 455 South Main St. The stock certificate will be mailed to the new stock holder upon receipt of the payment, he said.

Special frames for the stock certificates are available at the new gift shop at Hillside Inn, Arlen added.

start their cars and from parents whose children had missed school buses.

Twin Pines Dairy reported a delay in their morning deliveries, but the greatest problem there was with milk freezing in the sub-zero weather. Doyle Crayler of Twin Pines reminded customers to take their milk inside right away to keep it from freezing and the bottles cracking.

Plymouth youngsters were delighted when they heard over the radio that "Plymouth schools will be closed today..." Their faces fell when the statement concluded with "...for two hours this morning."

Classes in the elementary schools began at 10 a.m. and at 10:45 a.m. in the Junior and Senior High Schools where exams were in progress.

The delay in school opening was due to problems with the school buses. Superintendent Russell Isbister reported.

"I thought we'd have to close completely, but we finally made it."

All 23 school buses made their rounds with the two hour allowance. Classroom attendance was good, despite the weather. Isbister estimated that about 85 to 90 per cent were in attendance in the high schools and a little less in the elementary grades.

Mrs. Charlotte Winterhalter drove to Madonna College in the morning to take her final examination in Philosophy and wound up helping push another student's car out of the parking lot. "I nearly froze my fingers off," she chattered later.

Bill Otwell of Otwell Heating and Supply Co. said, "I haven't even got time to talk about how busy we've been here. We've been getting at least 20 calls an hour. This is the coldest weather in nearly 30 years and people's pipes and oil lines that have never caused any trouble before are freezing like mad."

"The thermometer here on my desk may be a little off but it's registering 26 degrees below," Robert Wallace of A & W Heating stated. "I've been out all night making calls and I'm beat. I'd fix a tank outside and when I'd get inside to work on the furnace the outside line would be frozen over again. I've been going around the clock," he said.

Phone service was out in several areas of the city. What was the company's explanation for the failure? "I don't know," one woman said. "We couldn't reach them."

Local stores reported big runs on mittens and scarfs as people huddled up to face the biting cold.

But, overcoming the elements as usual, the dependable carriers from the U.S. Post office came through on time, heading their battle car: "Neither sleet nor storm..."

What are people doing to forget about the miserable weather outside?

"From all signs here," Mrs. Agnes Pauline from the Library reported, "people are curled up in bed reading. We've been very busy."

The only solution was to stay inside, in front of a crackling fire, and keep thinking: "If winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

the corporation, former mayor Harold Guenther is vice president and Harvey Ziel is treasurer. Board members include William Sempliner, George Lawton, Edwin Schrader, Clarence Moore, Herald Hammil and Bob Stremich.

SPECIAL GUEST Tuesday evening as the Plymouth Kiwanis Club opened its "Citizenship Quotient" week program was William T. Patrick, Jr., a member of Detroit Common Council. Patrick spoke on "citizenship participation in governmental affairs." He is shown here (at left) with Kiwanis C.Q. Week chairman Edward Draugelis (center) and club president William Gemperline.

Nearby Schools Approve Grants For Child Clinic

Three school districts in the western Wayne County area Monday night approved special grants to aid in the establishment of a child guidance clinic in the suburbs.

The Plymouth School District is considering a similar request for a grant of $1,250 to aid in the same project.

The trio of school districts that approved the move Monday were Northville, Dearborn and Romulus, according to Mrs. A. E. Vallier, of Plymouth, who is a local backer of the project.

"These are the first firm commitments that we have received," said Mrs. Vallier, who was notified of the approvals by Mrs. Crispin Hammond, of Northville. Mrs. Hammond is president of the board of directors of the northwest Wayne County Child Guidance Clinic.

The clinic would be a branch of the Detroit Children's Center and would provide a clinically trained staff to diagnose and treat emotionally disturbed children on a referral basis.

Formula for the financial request is based on a fee of 25 cents per enrolled student in each respective school district. There are 19 districts being approached. Plymouth School District's grant would amount to $1,250 under this formula.

Declares Dividend

Packaging Corporation of America's Board of Directors today declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per common share to stock holders of record February 15, 1963, payable March 6, 1963. There is a PCA plant here on Sheldon Road.

WOMEN

MODELLING one of the costumes she will wear in a showing of women's fashions during the past century, to be presented by Goodwill Industries at the Feb. 1, meeting of Plymouth Woman's Club, is Mrs. Ellis Kulick, of Joy Rd. Other local models to participate in the "Fads and Fancies" presentation, to be held at the Masonic Temple this Friday, beginning at 1:30 p.m., are Donnalea and Darlene Ramsey.

AAUW Begins Practice For "Beauty & the Beast"

Another famous "they lived happily ever after" stage production - "Beauty and the Beast" - is currently in the making for children of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia area by members of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW). The play will be presented Feb. 23, in the Plymouth High School Auditorium.

Directress Kay Devereaux is hard at work with her cast of 8 AAUW members cutting and adding to the costumes adapted by AAUW member Caroline Gulick from the favorite French fairy tale by Mme. LePrince de Beaumont. Stage Manager Marian Maas is gathering together the necessary talent from within the branch for her staging job. Under the watchful eye of chairman Mimi Settles, the stage construction crew is collecting, hammering and painting in many members' basements. Costume designer Nancy Messerly and her seamstresses are working away with sketches, needles, and materials. The total effort will involve nearly all the 115 members of the local AAUW branch. The result will be the captivation of hundreds of eyes as 1400 children are thrilled by the live drama production.

"Beauty and the Beast" will be the third effort of the AAUW to bring to children of this area the pleasures and thrills of "live drama." Beginning with "Snow White and Rose Red" in 1961, the cultural project has become an annual effort anticipated by community youngsters. The 1961 fairy tale was the first attempt by AAUW to adapt, stage, and produce a "live drama" exclusively for the 4 to 9 year old audience. It met with capacity response and encouraged the branch to produce "Rumpelstiltskin" in 1962. It played to an even larger capacity audience of 1300. To offer more local opportunity along the "for children only" line, AAUW and the Plymouth Theater Guild collaborated last fall to present "The Fisherman and his Wife." Now, on Feb. 23, four performances of "Beauty and the Beast" will be staged. Tickets will be available beginning Feb. 11 through the public and parochial schools and AAUW members.

Foreign Correspondent Judy Barden Tells of German Life

In town, recently, visiting his mother and friends were David Nichol, son of Mrs. Walter Nichol, of Church St., who is a foreign correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, and his English wife, Judy a foreign correspondent for the London Telegraph, who writes under the name Judy Barden. Readers of the Detroit Free Press often see by-lined stories by the two of them, who are headquartered in Bonn, Germany. In an interview with The Plymouth Mail, Mrs. Nichol, in her clipped English accent, listed some of the differences between life in America and Germany. A summary of this interview appears below.

Q. What are your main difficulties living in Germany?

A. A yearning for certain foods we cannot get. Having to rely on the landlord of our block of apartments for the heat which Germans think is sufficient, but which to Americans is chilly. Having to shop at six different stores instead of one large one for food. For instance, aspirin tablets can only be bought at an Apothecary.

Q. What are some of the delights of living in Germany?

A. Being able to telephone the butcher, baker or grocer and have him deliver anything, however small, within half an hour. The helpful non-persistent attitude of store assistants. The salary of maids (if you can get one as they are now difficult to find) which is only $1 an hour. The complete honesty of most people.

Q. How do prices compare?

A. Cooking at home is more expensive, eating out is cheaper. Coffee is exhorbi-

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Morrison

KATHLEEN ANN YAKLEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Yakley, of 628 S. Main St., Plymouth, and Richard Allan Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Morrison, of 1045 Linden St., Plymouth, exchanged vows in a candlelight ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church, Plymouth, last Saturday evening.

Candlelight Service Unites K. A. Yakley, R. A. Morrison

In a candlelight ceremony in St. John's Episcopal Church last Saturday evening, Kathleen Ann Yakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Yakley, of 628 S. Main St., Plymouth, became the bride of Richard Allan Morrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Morrison, of 1045 Linden St., Plymouth.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white French silk, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, princess-styled bodice and long tapered sleeves which came to a point on the bride's hands. A queen's crown of pearl embroidered lace held the bride's three-tiered silk illusion veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Kay Koch, who wore a raspberry red velvet gown, featuring long sleeves, princess-styled bodice and bell skirt. Her accessories included matching red shoes, a white fur pillbox headpiece and matching muffs to which red carnations and ivy were attached.

Wearing gowns and accessories identical to the matron of honor's, with the exception of a white fur headband in place of the fur pillbox headpiece, were Mrs. Marjorie Lloyd, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Elizabeth Woodard, and Miss Sandra Noll, who served as bridesmaids.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Richard Noll, and David Gyde, Ronald Koch, and Keith Alford, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Yakley chose a blue silk sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Morrison wore a gold brocade sheath with matching accessories.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony for about 175 guests from Plymouth, Livonia, Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Grosse Pointe, Grand Rapids, Berkeley and Ypsilanti.

When the couple left on their wedding trip, the new Mrs. Morrison wore a camel-colored wool sheath and dark brown accessories.

The couple will make their home at 522 Pearl St., Kalamazoo, where they will complete their schooling at Western Michigan University.

MRS. JACK SELLE

"My husband is the real cook in the family," Mrs. Jack (Jackie) Selle confessed. "To him it's a hobby and he has cook books all over the house."
The recipe Mrs. Selle, of 964 Roosevelt, offers is one she and her husband made up by combining a couple of others. It's for Japanese Sukiyaki and Mrs. Selle says it's "real simple, fun to make and different."
Her children, 20-year-old twins, Kay, a junior at Michigan State and Jay, a junior at the University of Michigan, love the sukuyaki. "We all make a family project of it because it's such fun to make," Mrs. Selle said.
She is a member of the Women's Club and in the past has held the offices of treasurer and secretary. Her hobbies are knitting, sewing and reading.
JAPANESE SUKIYAKI
2 Tbl. beef fat or suet, cut fine
1 lb. lean beef sirloin, cut in thin strips
1 1/2 cups onions, sliced thin
1 cup bamboo shoots, sliced thin
1 cup sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 cup soy sauce
1 1/2 pound fresh spinach leaves, shredded
1/2 cup white wine
Place suet in blazer pan of the chafing dish. Heat and when melted add a little of the onion and stir it about the pan well. Add the beef which should be sliced in thin 2 by 3 inch strips and sear it on both sides to a nice brown, push it to one side of the pan and add sugar, soy sauce and wine. As it begins to bubble, add the onions, bamboo shoots, mushrooms, and water chestnuts and simmer. Then add the spinach. Let the sukuyaki bubble for a few minutes, but do not overcook it. Nothing is worse than mushy sukuyaki, says Mrs. Selle. Serve with rice. Serves four.

Art Around Us:
by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

Thirty seven students of Plymouth High School, with three adults braved the cold and snow of Friday to make pilgrimage to the Detroit Institute of Arts to see the Van Gogh Exhibit before it took off for points west which it did last Sunday. Fortunately we left early and arrived shortly after the doors opened at 9 a.m. and were able to see the paintings and drawings in relative peace and quiet. By the end of the morning lines of adults and school children were forming out to the door and it would have been difficult to get near enough to examine the paintings in detail. Most of the thirty-seven being art students themselves were interested in seeing how the master achieved his works with pencil and brush. Some of the students were seeing the exhibit for the second time, having been down with parents on previous visits, and some of the students were making their very first visit to the Institute itself. All were impressed with the main exhibit and had an opportunity to see the other parts of the museum.
Of special interest were the German Expressionist graphics and drawings by Kirchner, Rohls, Otto Dix, Franz Marc, and Campendonck. Also impressive was the huge abstraction by Enrico Donati, "From Body to Soul" done in various textured paints in sooty blacks, grainy browns and smooth limpid whites. Frances Bacon's eerie "Study for Nude" with his typical distorted, half-melted, encaged figures was an eye-stopper, and a gay "Venice" by William Congdon caused much comment.
A display of small pieces of sculpture graced the Rivera Court, included lumpy little figures by Marino Marini, distended forms by Reg Butler and small but massive poised figures by Gaston Lachaise.
Upstairs in the Galleries of Michigan Art were many familiar winners from former Michigan Artists Annual exhibits, the prize still being "Lakeside, Indiana" by Murray Jones, a handsome abstraction in grey, white, black and subtle tans with a suggestion of aluminum and gold paint, embodying the hum and industry of a busy Great Lakes port.
There is a small, third floor gallery reached by a very steep staircase which few people climb. The ascent is always worth it, for here are more Michigan modern paintings by such well known instructors as Mary Jane Bigler, Louise Janssen Nobili both of Wayne U., and Doris Ann Smith of Eastern Michigan University.
Because of the current interest in mosaics in the Plymouth High Art department a special effort was made to take the long cold walk across Woodward to Cass where the front of the new addition to Detroit Public Library is emblazoned with a handsome, stylized, and very colorful mosaic.
A short distance from the library the McGregor Community Building of Wayne University housed an exhibit of the work of the Art Faculty. Most impressive of this exhibit are the works of Louise Janssen Nobili who has moved away from her splintered planes of watercolor into glowing energetic massive oils. Missing from this exhibit is the usually exciting sculpture by students and the large display of beautiful and ingenious ceramics, also by students. Only a few pieces of pottery pieces are on view, very classic, very perfect, very professional. Also sorely missed from the wrought-iron stairwell is the tremendous welded metal sculpture "Icarus". This has been taken by its owner to be housed in a silo, specially bought, in Birmingham. The silo when remodelled will, fortunately for the public, be opened for view next summer.

In The Galleries:
PLYMOUTH DUNNING-HOUGH LIBRARY: A display of new mosaics, drawings, pastels, by Plymouth High School art students will be on view from January 30 to February 15.
NORTHVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY: Paintings by Bette Spaeth and Gloria Pares of Northville, Fay Nieman of Livonia, Lynne Dean Schmedeke, Joanie Cross by Edna Herig, Jessie Hudson, Jim Thorpe and Mabel Bacon of Plymouth, all members of the Three-Cities Art Club are on display for the months of January and February.
HARTLEY-POWERS GALLERY, 116 E. Main Street, Northville. Regular gallery artists' oils, water-colors, encaustics, ceramics, weaving, jewelry. Open during February from 9 - 6 every day, 9 - 9 on Friday.
FORSYTHE GALLERY, NICKELS ARCADE, ANN ARBOR. William Lewis contemporary paintings for the month of February. Of special interest are Mr. Lewis, studies of the Civil War. Gallery hours, 10-4 weekdays, 10-1 on Saturday.
ARTISTS GALLERY, 216 Washington Street, Ann Arbor. Ten artist-owners from January 24 to February 12. Third group showing of this new co-operative gallery. Hours, 12 - 5 every day except Sunday.

It has been brought to my attention that the voters of Canton Township, particularly the more recent residents, would like to know something about the candidates who are running for office in the coming election, so I have here-with the following brief interviews:

Dr. Clifford McClumpha, is running for Township Clerk.

has lived in the Township all his life; is 31 years of age; has 4 children. Republican.

Philip Dingleday, Township Treasurer, will be running for his third term; has lived in the Township all his life; is 52 years of age; was a Trustee for 6 years before becoming Treasurer; and Justice of the Peace before that, for 6 years; also was a farmer, and still does some farming; he has 8 children. Plymouth Seniors To Compete for MSU Alumni Scholarship

Six Plymouth High School seniors have been selected to compete for the Michigan State University $6,000 Alumni Distinguished Scholarship Award on Friday and Saturday, March 1-2 at East Lansing. The seniors are Sally Gillies, Kathy Holt, Mark Fischer, Bruce Hudson, Cheryl Planck, and Margaret Scheppele.

The Alumni Distinguished Scholarship is one of the nation's outstanding scholarship programs for brilliant high school graduates who attend Michigan State University.

It is worth $1,500 per year and is renewable for a total of $6,000. The winner may study in any field in one of the 70 departments at Michigan State.

The award is based entirely on superior intellectual performance and potential.

The program is supported through the Alumni Development Fund. Awards are made to ten high school seniors each year.

In addition to the three hour testing, students will stay overnight on the campus and will confer with distinguished members of the faculty in their field of academic interest, meet many of the honor students, hear about the complete program of financial aids, visit the Library, Museum, Art Center and various classrooms and laboratories.

Local Veterinarians Attend Conference

Dr. and Mrs. Clifford A. McClumpha and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Lickfeldt of Plymouth participated in the 40th annual Alumni Reunion and Postgraduate Conference for Veterinarians at Michigan State University Jan. 22-24.

More than 400 practicing veterinarians from Michigan and other Midwest states met at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education for the three-day event.

On the agenda were the latest advances in the treatment of farm and home animals, discussed by top practitioners, educators and research people.

Among the program highlights were a special symposium on "The Newer Knowledge About Dogs," demonstrations of clinical techniques over closed-circuit television and an alumni reunion for graduates of MSU's College of Veterinary Medicine.

Language-Arts Topic Of Curriculum Group

In a public meeting Monday night, the Plymouth School District's language-arts curriculum review committee heard a report by Dr. Rachael Brake of the Wayne County Board of Education.

Dr. Brake, who discussed future language-arts curriculum needs of the School District, has been acting as a consultant to the committee recently.

Following her remarks, teachers from the school system reported on their findings on the same subject. Among the teachers attending were Donald Murray, Elizabeth Gibson, Betty Leach, Virginia Olmstead, Robert Southgate and Elizabeth McDonald.

A question and answer session concluded the meeting.

Board of Education member Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing is chairman of the curriculum committee. The meeting was held in the Junior High East library.

Offer High School Students College Science Training

Opportunities to obtain experience in science and mathematics will be provided for approximately 7,300 high-ability secondary school students during this coming summer by 164 colleges, universities and research organizations with the support of the National Science Foundation.

Certain Plymouth school students may qualify for the additional training, according to a Senior High spokesman.

By offering science-oriented high school students a taste of college level science training, the Foundation expects to accelerate their scholarly development and to encourage the further development of similar programs with other sources of support.

Further information on this program may be obtained from Robert Smith or one of the counselors at Plymouth High, GL 3-3100.

Michigan Mirror

By Elmer E. White
Secretary, Michigan Press Association

The constant search to improve farm products goes on throughout Michigan day in and day out and new and better food continues to reach the consumer's table.

Each year one dinner at Michigan State University brings to a group of citizens the latest improvements in agricultural fare. This is the annual "All Michigan" dinner served at the conclusion of the Michigan Press Association convention in late January.

In past years editors and publishers from throughout the state have been treated to a new apple juice concentrate, potato flakes before they were placed on the public marketplace, a jellied cherry sauce, pre-cooked Michigan navy beans, and a turkey roll.

This year's innovation competes with the Idaho baking potato called the Aracac, topped the menu at the dinner, at which all food served is made in Michigan.

Another first being marked this year is the introduction of cherry nuggets, dried red tart cherries. It is a well-known fact that Michigan has produced more than half of the total national cherry crop for several years.

The menu for the annual event, now in its 22nd year, also brought forth a first for the MPA dinner. In addition to the lengthy description of the benefits of Michigan agriculture being served, this year's menu was printed on paper made in the state.

Also unusual, although not quite a first at this year's annual gathering of newsmen, was a tossed salad containing Michigan greenhouse tomatoes and two kinds of greenhouse lettuce. A January harvest of greenhouse tomatoes is a success only recently recorded in the annuals of Michigan agriculture, but state officials said the first serving of the choice crop took place at an earlier event this year.

Rounding out the menu at the unusual event previewing farm products was prime ribs of beef, apple juice, crackers, asparagus, cherry pie, radishes, pickles, celery, cottage cheese and other dairy products, all of which bear the "Michigan made" label.

The wide diversity of the state's farm crops, which last year brought Michigan farmers a whopping $750,000,000 gets a wide array of attention and a hearty welcome at the annual session of editors and publishers.

Litter, eyesore at Michigan beaches, parks and roadsides may be the object of a continued attack under Michigan's new governor.

Former Gov. John B. Swainson last year appointed a committee, which appropriately called itself the Keep Michigan Beautiful Committee, to suggest ways to cut down on the litter problems in the state.

One of Swainson's recommendations was that the efforts of the committee be continued. He called the initial work of the group, which was headed by State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs, "one of the most satisfying and necessary efforts of citizen action for the public welfare during my administration."

Gov. George Romney indicated the Keep Michigan Beautiful Committee will be one of those formed under his predecessor which will be kept in use during the new administration.

"I am studying the work of all the former governor's committees and commissions and will soon make a decision on whether to retain them or whether their purpose has been accomplished," Romney said.

He indicated the anti-litter group still had work to be done and that he thought it important enough work to continue it as a group.

Something new under the sun seems to be the theme of the people who plan the annual Michigan a Week, the period set aside each year for state residents to grab a bout themselves to each other and outsiders.

This year, the annual event will add a new award for statewide competition. In addition to the "Product of the Year" award initiated with the Michigan Week observance, and the "Achievement of the Year" citation which was added last year, a presentation will be made for the "Agricultural Contribution of the Year."

As is the case with the product and achievement awards, the agricultural contribution citation will be designed for presentation to an industrial concern, community, civic or service group. It will be based on the firm's or group's contribution to agricultural improvement in the state.

The three awards, in addition to the "Frontier Awards" given to outstanding individuals, present top competition throughout the state.

Milton Kendrick, Detroit, who is heading the awards committee of the Michigan Week business and products promotion board, said the eliminations at the county level would be completed by late March.

Early in April regional eliminations will be held in the 16 various geographical sections of the state. By May 1, the final winners will be selected and their products or records of the victorious efforts will be placed on display in Detroit during the May 19-25 observance.

Letters To The Editor

St. Petersburg, Florida Thursday, Jan. 24, 1963 "The Plymouth Mail"

Though I have been away from the home town a long time, I was born and brought up in Plymouth and graduated from the high school there and still always read and enjoy the paper.

At first it was sent to me by my cousin, Charlie Bennett, and afterward by another cousin, Ed Hough, now I still get it from a friend.

When I first came to town my cousin Charlie named me "Lena May Jeanette Vrooman" and always seemed delighted to have named the baby.

I liked the picture in Wed., Jan 9 paper of the old house that burned but I thought you might like to know that my uncle Cass Hough (whose wife was my mother's sister) did not build that house.

He bought it and made some changes in it. One change was in front of the center room, known at that time as the library, where the porch, which extended entirely across the front of the house, was built out towards the street to make it wider at that center portion and those big columns and pillars were added.

The house, however, had been the home of Harry Bennett in his younger days. I think his father built it. Harry Bennett married Otilie Edsell (granddaughter of the Fullers) and her death notice was in a recent paper.

Nell Peck Bennett Wilcox had lived in that house before she married Clint Wilcox.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS-AT-HEART

BY MELVIN L. WOOD, JR. INFORMATION DIVISION MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

"Dear Editor" - the letter read, "Can you tell me what is a farmer?"

The handwriting was scrawlish, and brought visions of another Junior-High classroom project. "What is a farmer?" Well, son, it depends. If you take the government stand, a farmer is anyone with around ten acres of land and something like $250 yearly income from it.

Another set of impressive statistics show that 97 per cent of all farms in the United States are "family farms," whatever that is. Most would agree that this means they are owned and operated by a farm family. Not a corporation, a prison, an experiment station or similar group.

That 97 per cent is a figure that has held for at least the past 40 years without changing, something that politicians ignore when they make impassioned appeals for legislation to "preserve the family farm."

Can you imagine a modern, 24-foot combine, harvesting a "farm" of ten acres? It could hardly turn around. Can you imagine paying the cost of operating such a machine, on kind of acreage? Can you imagine the cost of wheat produced under such conditions?

What is a farmer? He is a minority of 8.7 per cent of the total population, - politically, the farm vote is smaller than the negro vote.

But a farmer is much more than statistics. To his Minister, he is a believer in God, in nature and nature in God. He is a strong contributor to Church in time, talent and resources.

To an insurance man, a farmer is a big risk, and generally under-insured to boot. He has special needs that challenge the ingenuity of underwriters.

To his children, he's a man who always has chores to pass out. Generally though, he can still remember when he was a boy, and the thrill of growing things, - of the first fish caught.

To all of us, he is by far the most important man in this country. His production is the envy of the world. What is a farmer, son? He is a God-Send.

In my opinion, here again is one of the "curses of money". The Fund, like other charitable ones here in town, which raises money for charitable purposes, has built up a surplus no doubt and that money is burning a hole in someone's pocket, so to speak. It seems prudent that in times as uncertain as these that Fund directors hold tight to the purse strings, serve the agencies they sponsor, and conserve those surpluses for that rainy day ahead.

A first look at owning a building may be rosy indeed, but let's not forget that after we get the building we'll probably need a highly paid director, a maintenance staff, etc., etc. These are just natural additives that follow such a program. No, as far as I am concerned, we need a Community Fund building about as bad as we need a new swimming pool in one of our Junior High Schools. And, by the way, I hope the school board has no such thoughts in its future, either.

The weather last Thursday in Tombstone, Arizona? Well, let's see, a record low of 11 degrees above at night and a high of 40 degrees during the day followed Friday by .04 inches of rain. How do I know? Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hammond, who are visiting in the area, thoughtfully sent me a copy of the Tombstone Epitaph which is most appreciated.

Two from Here Quality for Honor Society Awards

Cheryl M. Planck and Arthur W. Gulick, Plymouth High School seniors, have qualified as candidates for the 1963 National Honor Society Scholarships by achieving high scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test given to seniors last October at Plymouth High School.

The two students are members of the National Honor Society whose Plymouth High sponsors are Walter Goodwin, Miss Irene Walldorf, and Miss Louise Spence.

Final determination as to whether scholarships will be awarded will be determined by the kind of program taken in high school, grades attained and recommendations from their teachers and counselor.

The students ability to organize ideas as well as high personal qualities and originality are also important.

Plymouthite's Cow Sets Milk Record

A five-year-old cow owned by Plymouthite Charles Rogers has set a new record in milk and butterfat production, it was announced.

Rogers' cow, Reflection Wakefield Voywayne, produced 14,250 pounds of milk and 512 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Michigan State University supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official breed improvement programs of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

In announcing the new record, a spokesman for the organization said that it compared to the average cow's annual output of 7,211 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of butterfat.

Absentee Ballots Are Available Now

Absentee ballots for the Feb. 18 primary election were made available this week at the clerks' offices in the City and Township.

Both City Clerk Joseph Near and Township Clerk John McEwen urged all eligible voters in the community to obtain absentee ballots if, for any reason, they will be unable to get to the polls on election day.

The Feb. 18 primary will serve to nominate the final candidates for elective offices for the April 1 biennial spring election.

In the City, 11 men have filed for the City Commission race, where four vacancies will be decided April 1. There are seven Republican candidates in the Township's Board of Trustee race. Three of these will be nominated at the primary.

3 Nearby Cities Tell About Detroit Water

(First in a Series.)

What happens when a suburban community in Wayne or Oakland County becomes a Detroit water user?

Do rates increase? If so, by how much? Are there additional costs that the community faces after linking itself to the Detroit supply lines?

How do out-moded water mains within the community hold up under delivery of water that arrives initially in a 48 or 54-inch line?

How do officials of neighboring communities feel about City of Plymouth's perplexing problem involving the proposed use of Detroit water here?

And what reactions — if any — do these same officials have over City of Plymouth's plans to construct a 3-million-gallon water reservoir on Beck Road?

The Plymouth Mail asked these questions — and several more — in an exclusive interview with top-ranking administrators of three neighboring municipalities.

The communities are all users of Detroit water. One has been a Detroit customer two and one-half years; the others have looked to Detroit as a source of water for better than a decade. The three are:

1. Garden City.
2. Livonia.
3. City of Farmington.

ing the ratio 7.5 gallons equal a cubic foot of water.)

GARDEN CITY
According to Edwin J. Freeh, clerk and treasurer, Garden City purchased 920,000 gallons of water from Detroit during the 12-month period ending last March 31.

Freeh said that Garden City has purchased water from Wayne County and more recently from Detroit since "at least 1950."

Residential users there pay between 24 cents and 28 cents per 1,000 gallons on a sliding scale, based on total volume. Meanwhile, the purchase price from Detroit for the first 75,000 gallons is 20-cents-per-thousand. From 75,000 to 750,000 gallons the price is 17.6 cents per 1,000. Above that, the cost is 15.6 cents per 1,000.

With 95 per cent of Garden City described as residential, a "large number of complaints" registered annually at the water department were eliminated when a lawn-sprinkling ban was lifted starting in 1961, Freeh said. Freeh pointed out that the Garden City water department is "not making a penny money." For the past two years, according to Freeh, the water department has in fact lost money. At least partly responsible for this situation, however, are two outstanding bond issues, one of which totals $120,000 in the form of a special refund and the other is a $70,000 combination water-and-sewer issue.

"There is a possibility that we will make money this year," he said. "We would also like to raise the rates."

He implied this would be easier said than done, however. William Chlopan is the City engineer and City superintendent there. He has been in Garden City four and one-half years and at one time worked with Joe Bida, City of Plymouth's DPW superintendent.

Chlopan had this to say about Garden City's water situation: "We had a surging problem originally in some areas of the City. It amounted to a variance of pressure. This has been eliminated through the installation of check valves and pressure control valves along with the installation of a 'main loop' comprised of 16 and 20-inch concrete water pipes."

That project, Chlopan said, cost Garden City taxpayers $300,000 in 1961. He added that Garden City's international transmission system is an old one and "we have more than the normal number of breaks. He did not attribute this to 'surging' of pressure, but instead to the age of the Garden City mains.

Pressure control valves have halted serious 'surging' in the Garden City lines. One such valve was installed along Cherry Hill Rd. at a cost of $60,000, it was believed. It was part of the $300,000 project in 1961.

LIVONIA
While City of Plymouth pumped 742 million gallons of water in a recent 12-month period, the City of Livonia purchased an astronomical 3.5 billion gallons from Detroit during a similar span.

Livonia encounters a 10 to 20 per cent water loss, according to David L. Jones, who last April was named Livonia's sewer and water commissioner and assistant director of the City's public works department.

Jones directs Livonia's sewer, sanitation and water systems. Livonia has about 21,000 residential water users and 257 consumers that are defined as "industrial or commercial" accounts.

Residential water rates in Livonia are 24 cents per 1,000 gallons. Industrial users pay 20 cents per thousand if they consume over two million gallons a year.

Livonia pays Detroit 15.7 cents per 1,000 gallons. The water loss in Livonia is absorbed internally as far as its cost is concerned. If it is only 10 per cent, it amounts to roughly $50,000.

Half of the annual consumption in Livonia is represented by two large industrial users, Ford Motor Co. and Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Jones explained.

He said that Livonia experiences both water surges and temperature changes, but the bulk of the line breaks, he added, come from "excess pressure, not strictly from surging."

He offered statistics on water line interruptions. In 1960, he said there were 165 residential service line breaks and 131 in 1961. There were 83 breaks in major mains in 1961 and 51 in 1960.

On the subject of a sprinkling ban, Jones said that Livonia has not had one since the mid-1950's. But only the installation by Detroit of a 54-inch extension on Eight Mile plus "a few other improvements" enabled the ban to be lifted, he added.

No pressure control valves or check valves have been required to maintain a constant pressure on water lines in Livonia, Jones said.

By City ordinance, Livonia's water department is required to show a profit equal to one and one-half times the annual payments on water department bond issues.

At present, Livonia has $4 million outstanding in water bonds, Jones said. "The annual payments on this total indebtedness amount to about $250,000," he added.

Thus, by ordinance, the department must show a profit of $375,000 this year.

Last bond issue for water system expansion in Livonia was in 1959. The issue was for $700,000 to complete a 36-inch distribution line that extends along Farmington Rd. from Five Mile to Eight Mile.

Livonia first became a user of Detroit water (actually, it was from Wayne County at that time) in the mid-1940s when Livonia was hooked into a supply line that extends to the Detroit House of Correction.

FARMINGTON
Farmington has a "sliding scale" of rates for water users. For the first 7,000 gallons there is a minimum charge of $4.50. The next 10,000 gallons cost 25 cents per thousand. Above 17,000 gallons the rate drops to 23 cents per thousand.

City of Farmington pays 13.6 cents per thousand gallons to purchase water from Detroit. It has used Detroit water since the spring of 1960, according to City Manager John Dinan.

Dinan volunteered a statement favoring City of Plymouth's plans to construct a new water reservoir.

"The reservoir is a good investment," he offered. "It could pay for itself in 10 years, I would guess, depending on the amount of water consumed."

Reason for this he said, was that without the reservoir City of Plymouth would have to pay a "sur-charge" to Detroit for extra capacity service at peak hours of the day.

Dinan said that Farmington City had no major problems when it converted to Detroit water. "There were some isolated minor difficulties in older areas of the town where hard water had corroded the interior plumbing of the homes," he explained.

Farmington's own City mains were untroubled by the conversion to the Detroit supply system, he said.

A 40 per cent increase in water rates was necessary when Farmington switched to the Detroit supply, according to Dinan.

"The increases," he said, "included the actual payment to Detroit for the water, plus the amortization of a $175,000 bond issue for new transmission mains and pumping facilities necessary to provide adequate pressure using the Detroit system."

City of Farmington had to make some adjustments at various sections of the City in order to cope with a variance of pressure in the Detroit water, Dinan explained. "We simply regulated existing shut-off valves," he said, "and we didn't have to install any pressure-control valves to do it."

Farmington justified the water rate increase to its residents by the fact that rented water softeners could be done a way with. "We estimated that softeners were costing about $7 a month or $84 per year."

Farmington buys about 300 million gallons of water per year from Detroit and pays approximately $42,000 a annually for the supply.

(NEXT WEEK: Sterling Twp. and its water supply situation and problems.)

An estimated 50 to 65 million square feet of ceramic tile is used annually on floors in the United States, and the amount is increasing each year. One big factor in its favor: real tile won't dent under the unrelenting pressure of milady's high heels, as will most other flooring materials.

Swimmers Crush Trenton, 69-37, In Search to Regain League Crown

Sparked by a number of outstanding individual performances, Plymouth's varsity swimmers overwhelmed Trenton Thursday afternoon by a decisive 69-37 margin in the pool here.

It earned the Rocks the odds-on favorite's role in the fast-approaching Suburban Six league championship meet in March.

Although a measure of opposition may be found elsewhere in the conference, Trenton — all season long — has posed the most serious threat in Plymouth's march to regain its league superiority.

A year ago, Trenton clipped the Rocks by five points in the championship battle, thus ending a five-year reign of the Plymouth tankers as league king-pins.

The Rocks will face Trenton once again this season in dual-meet competition prior to the league matches.

While only team co-captain Gary Gould had any hand in new records against Trenton last week, a number of other Plymouth performers turned in highly-improved times, many of them recording the best individual times of their high school swimming careers.

Gould, again, paced the scoring for the Rocks. He picked up a total of 10 points on victories in the 200-yard and 400-yard freestyle events.

A clocking of 4:20.1 in the 400-yard free earned him a new pool and team record in that event, smashing by exactly one second the former mark held by Bob Daley since 1961.

He missed by only three seconds setting a new standard in the 200-yard freestyle where he was timed in 1:58.2. Dan Cook placed second behind Gould in that event and turned in his fastest time of the season, swimming the distance in 2:02.5.

Other Plymouth swimmers also turned in their fastest individual times of the year. Among them:

Jim Beglinger who was clocked in 2:21.0 as he won the 200-yard individual medley; Co-captain Mark Schultheiss who set a personal mark with 77.3 points as he won the diving; Dave Beglinger who enjoyed his best time (59.8) as he placed second in the 100-yard butterfly.

Plymouth's 200-yard medley relay squad won that event in a time fast enough to qualify for competition in the state meet. With a cut-off on qualifications at 1:50.9, Plymouth's quartet of swimmers covered the distance in 1:50.6.

The Rocks claimed first place in the opening five events and added three other first place ribbons in the remaining six events.

The victory gave Plymouth's swimmers a 7-2 record thus far in the 1962-63 season and also was the Rocks' fifth win in a row since bowing to Ann Arbor High Dec. 15. Only other team to beat the Rocks was Birmingham who turned the trick Dec. 6.

With the Trenton conquest, the Rocks have completed exactly half of that portion of the agenda devoted to member schools within the Suburban Six conference.

The Rocks visit Redford Union tomorrow (Thursday) as the second half of the conference schedule gets underway. They beat Redford Union with ease on Dec. 13.

Should Plymouth continue undefeated throughout the remainder of its current dual-meet schedule, the Rocks will hit No. 100 in the victory column in the last dual meet of the year against Trenton on Feb. 28.

This is the way Plymouth's swimmers rode to victory last Thursday against the Trojans:

Dan Olson, Dave Agnew, Dave Beglinger and Tom Blunk opened proceedings with a win in the 200-yard medley relay, setting a state meet qualifying time in the process.

Gould scored his first individual victory of the afternoon in the 200-yard free and Dan Cook placed second. Dick Berry won the 50-yard free and Pete Gustafson gained a second place finish for the Rocks.

Jim Beglinger was first in the 200-yard individual medley. Schultheiss won the diving competition as Bert Quinn finished second. Dave Beglinger and George Collins were two-three, respectively, in the 100-yard butterfly.

Cook won the 100-yard freestyle and Berry was second. Olson finished second in the 100-yard backstroke. Gould won the 400-yard free in record time as Jim Beglinger placed third.

Agnew was second in the 200-yard breast-stroke and the 200-yard freestyle relay team, comprised of Gustafson, Mike Britcher, Jim Mattison and Schultheiss, won the concluding event.

Local hockey teams have a window display in the window of the former Famous Men's Wear store at Forest and West Ann Arbor Tr. It is in conjunction with National Hockey Week which runs from Jan. 26 to Feb. 2.

GARY GOULD leans on edge of pool after winning the 200-yard freestyle. Later, in the 400-yard free, Gould set a new pool and team record and wound up with 10 points by way of two individual event victories. In foreground above is Dan Cook, who finished second in 200-yard free.

CATCHING HIS BREATH, Jim Beglinger (right) talks with Gary Gould. Beglinger had just finished the 200-yard individual medley. Rich Malboeuf is seated next to Beglinger.

Fourth Quarter Decisive As Trenton Wins, 59-57

Seeking to snap a four-game losing streak, Plymouth's varsity cagers fought Trenton to stand-still for three periods last Friday night, but came apart in the fourth quarter and dropped a 59-57 decision to the Trojans.

It was the Rocks' eighth loss in 10 games and reduced Plymouth to fifth place in the Suburban Six conference standings.

Plymouth held a 45-44 lead as the fourth period got underway, but Trenton struck swiftly, erasing the Rocks' margin and fashioning a four-point lead of its own that held up.

Only a basket in the last four seconds brought the final score to a point as close as it was for the Rocks. Trenton held a two basket lead with less than 10 seconds to go.

The eventual winners engineered an 18-14 first quarter lead, but Plymouth surged back to gain a 30-30 tie at half-time. The Rocks moved ahead by one-point as the third period ended.

Plymouth did better than it has all season in the free throw department. The Rocks combined efforts to sink 17 of 26 free throw tosses, good for 65 per cent. But Trenton scored 23 of 32 for 70 per cent to nullify the Plymouth performance.

The Rocks cashed 20 of 65 field goal attempts for 30 per cent compared to Trenton's 18-of-55 and 33 per cent. The difference was found at the free throw line so far as the outcome was concerned.

It was only the fourth time Plymouth had accumulated 50 points or more this season. The Rocks got 59 against Allen Park and won, but lost to Northville after scoring 55 points. Plymouth scored an even 50 points against Walled Lake and lost that one, too.

Trenton relied on Dave Helming, Bob Nelson and Jay Walters for its scoring punch. Helming hit 23 points, Nelson had 13 and Walters added 10.

Gary Grady and Jerry Kisabeth each contributed 12 points to Plymouth's attack. The remainder of Plymouth's scoring was spread among eight other players.

Tom McGill had seven Jim Lake six and Dick Schreyer and Doug Sutherland each added five. Chris Gaffield accounted for four points and Dick Egloff, Cal Lubrand and Frank Gulbrandsen each added two apiece.

League-leading Redford Union is Plymouth's next opponent here this Friday night. The RU cagers are undefeated in conference action.

Tait's Subdues D.S.I. In Men's Cage League

In a battle for the leadership of the men's recreation basketball league here last week, Cloverdale posted a 59-45 decision over Auto-Crat Mfg. Tait's Cleaners fashioned a 77-47 win against D.S.I. in other action.

Tait's and D.S.I. had been deadlocked for last place in the four team league and the other two entries had shared top rank until last Wednesday's round.

Auto-Crat held Cloverdale in rein during the first half. The two teams left at intermission separated by only two points as Cloverdale moved into a 25-23 advantage. In the third quarter, however, the eventual winners put on a scoring spree that out-distanced their opponents decisively.

Ken Kisabeth paced Cloverdale with 15 points and Tony Monte added 14. Dan Stremick was the game's individual scoring leader as he pumped in 19 points for the losers.

Tait's Cleaners raced to a 38-26 half-time bulge and was never threatened. The victory broke the last-place tie between the two teams.

Although Tom Ferguson was the high scorer with 20 for D.S.I., Bob Basham and Lee Clair each tallied 19 points for Tait's as the cleaners squad turned in its first win of the season.

The standings:

Team	WON	LOST
Cloverdale	3	0
Auto-Crat Mfg.	2	1
Tait's Cleaners	1	2

Blackhawks Undefeated In Hockey

Two more victories last week by the Plymouth Blackhawks stretched the Optimist-sponsored recreation hockey team's win streak to eight straight in the Garden City juvenile division.

Saturday evening, the Blackhawks defeated Livonia, 5-3, as Lee Benz showed the way with a pair of goals and Len Lepucki, Bob Crowther and Tom Lockwood each scored single tallies.

The previous Monday, the Blackhawks posted a 4-2 win over Inkster as Lockwood scored twice and Benz and Roger Wilhelm tallied single goals.

Dennis Tonkovich was in the nets both evenings.

The Blackhawks are leading their division and only defeats suffered by the local hockey team came in non-league exhibition games.

In other hockey action last week in the Garden City league, the Plymouth T-Birds, members of the ban-tam division, defeated Dearborn Twp., 3-2, as Mike Lockwood scored twice and Jim Elias tallied a single goal. Tom Elias was goalie and made 10 saves.

In the midget division, the Plymouth Royals beat Dearborn Twp., 4-3, as Jim McKindles scored the winning goal. Dale Tonkovich scored twice and Terry Cosgrove got the other one.

Plymouth's senior team whipped Belleville, 9-3, as Denny Hanks, Dave Harrison and Al Kolak each contributed two goals apiece. Single scores were provided by Dick Sharland, Elmer Whipple and Curt Love. Goalie Dave Payne made 23 saves.

In the Nankin Twp. league, the Plymouth VFW-PeeWees overwhelmed Nankin Twp. VFW, 10-0, as Dave Palmer and Jim Hickner each turned in three-goal "hat tricks" to pace the winners.

Don Hudson got two goals, and Ike Kreig and Bill Groth added single tallies. Chuck Wibby was in the nets for Plymouth and made 10 saves.

Her time in both events topped all age groups among the boys and girls. Best time in the breast stroke was 45.2 seconds by 15-year-old Sue Ward.

Among the boys, best times were posted by nine-year-old Randy Bosman at :35.8 in the 50 yard freestyle and 11-year-old Stephen Denison, who posted a :42.2 in the 50-yard backstroke.

JayVee Swimmers Win No. 5 by 63-42 Edge

Plymouth's junior varsity swimmers boosted their record to 5-1 last week with a handy 63-42 decision over Trenton's JayVees in a battle that the Junior Rocks' coach, Tom Workman, described as "a really big one for us."

Workman later said that the junior varsity "swam exceptionally well and deserved every bit of the victory."

Among a number of outstanding performances for Plymouth was Jim Haarbauer's victory in the 400-yard freestyle where he was clocked in 4:59.4. It was the first time he attempted the distance event.

"It was an excellent time," Workman said, "because the five-minute mark is generally quite a barrier for junior varsity swimmers."

Jim Norman, Doug Breed and Doug Jaskierny also posted good times. Norman won the 50-yard free in :25.6, Breed was a winner in the 200-yard free in 1:12.2, and Jaskierny placed second in the same event.

Plymouth picked up six first place ribbons in the meet. This is the way the Junior Rocks accounted for themselves in their decision over Trenton:

Rich Irvine, Bob Williams, Tim Wernette and Chuck Olson finished second in the 200-yard medley relay and Breed and Jaskierny followed with their one-two finish in the 200-yard free.

Norman won the 50-yard free with Haarbauer finishing second. Mike Drennan was first in the 200-yard individual medley and John Bolsman gained a second place ribbon.

John Herter won the diving with 39.6 points and in the 100-yard free, Norman was first and Jeff Burke placed second. Irvine won second in the 100-yard backstroke. Haarbauer won the 400-yard free as Bob Knapp wound up second.

Williams was second in the 100-yard breast-stroke and the 200-yard freestyle relay team of Val Fulton, Burke, Olson and Gary Bohl finished second to conclude the match.

Desserts Are Delights with Frozen Fruits

Millions of Americans who see a meal as "square" only if it includes a tempting dessert have found new worlds to conquer in versatile frozen fruits. The awesome variety of frozen fruits and fruit combinations in neighborhood markets provides year-round succulence and a wealth of intriguing dessert possibilities. The just-picked qualities of these fruits may be enjoyed right from the package in their own syrup, or in cakes, pies, tarts and sauces — and as soda fountain style treats like these:

FRUIT SUNDAES

Partially thaw unopened package of frozen mixed fruits and pint of lemon sherbet. Stir fruit, with juice, into sherbet. Refreeze in shallow pan or ice cube tray. Meanwhile, defrost can of frozen fruit punch. Spoon frozen fruited sherbet into sherbet glasses and spoon undiluted frozen punch over top as a sauce. Top with whipped cream and chopped nuts. Makes 8 servings.

BANANA SPLITS

Partially thaw frozen orange juice at room temperature for ½ hour. Cut three bananas in half lengthwise and place a half in each of six long shallow dessert dishes. Top each banana half with two scoops of ice cream and spoon frozen orange juice over. Top with marshmallow topping and maraschino cherries.

PARFAITS

Prepare cherry flavored gelatin as directed on package, and chill until firm. Meanwhile, partially thaw unopened package of frozen sliced peaches and pint of vanilla ice cream. Cut peaches into cubes and stir, with juice, into ice cream. Freeze in ice cube tray. Just before serving, cut ice cream and gelatin into cubes and alternate cubes in parfait glasses. Makes 8 servings.

COCONUT ICE CREAM PLATES

Make blueberry sauce by heating package of frozen blueberries with 1 cup water. When mixture boils, stir in 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon ground cloves. Cook until thick and clear. Remove from heat and add 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Arrange three mounds of coconut ice cream on each of eight dessert plates and pour warm blueberry sauce over. Decorate with maraschino cherries.

DESSERT SLICES

Remove cover from package of frozen fruit delight and cut into cubes. Place cubes on dessert plates and serve with partially thawed frozen strawberries in their juice as a sauce. Serves 4.

Livonia Invites Senior Citizens To Square Dance

He said the initial meeting will be at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 19. "All Senior Citizens from Plymouth are cordially invited," said Buxton.

Burt Hall will act as the caller for the evening's fun and will also furnish the square dance music, said Buxton.

The nine other winners were: Freida Rohloff, Percy Trudell, J. B. Wren, Gerald Trotter, Beulah Pollard, Erwin Knudson, Carlos Maas, William Cardare and George Frazier.

Remove cover from package of frozen fruit delight and cut into cubes. Place cubes on dessert plates and serve with partially thawed frozen strawberries in their juice as a sauce. Serves 4.

With the cold wind and the ground covered with snow, our feathered friends are having a hard struggle to survive. For several days I've noticed a large flock of pheasants passing through my yard. They return each day about the same time in search of food. Many of these birds could be saved if we all would remember to put out a little food each day.

ATTENTION: SALEM TWP. RESIDENTS

THESE ARE THE FACTS

Answers to the Salem Citizens' Committee relative to their false insinuations.

I. What are the facts leading to the loss of an estimated $300,000 in assessments to the Utilities? This loss was due to reductions that occurred quite generally throughout Michigan. In Salem Township, agreements in regard to reductions were made long before this board took office. About one-half of this reduction in assessment took place before 1961 and the other half since. It came over a 2-year period which made the 1961 taxes a little lighter. An order issued by the Michigan Tax Commission stated EXACTLY what the Michigan Consumers' assessment had to be for 1961.

II. Where does the responsibility lie for the arbitrary interpretation of the law, even against the advice of their own Counsel, which has placed our Township Zoning Ordinance in jeopardy? This board FOLLOWED the advice of its Counsel — to stay out of the Diponico-Cockrum law-suit unless called in by Judge Breakey.

III. Where does responsibility lie for the Napier Conservation Club debacle? The facts should first be set straight — there is no "Napier Conservation Club" — it is the "Western Wayne County Conservation Club" — the entrance to which is on Napier Road. The statement that Salem Township is saddled with all the "bad" and Wayne County has all the "good" is questionable to say the least. If by "good" is meant a club without a liquor license where drinks are to be had for a "donation" as a subterfuge to evade the law, and where high-powered guns are discharged at targets, the noise from which peaceful and quiet enjoyment of their homes, and which diminishes the value and saleability of their properties, to say nothing of the possible danger, then perhaps it is "good". There is reason to believe that Plymouth Township would be very pleased to forego this along with the tax income which is patry compared to the damage. The word "debacle" is advisedly used, however. Allowing such use of property in that area certainly comes under the heading of "debacle".

The manner of trying to foist this debacle on Salem Township was so high-handed and unlawful that the action of the Salem Township Board of Appeals, not the Township Board, in granting a permit for such use was declared by the Washtenaw Circuit Court to be VOID. A case in Wayne County Circuit to restrain this use is still pending. The residents of Salem Township should be thankful that such property use has been kept out of our township.

IV. In answer to Mr. Brengle's charge that "All property owners should view with alarm the ever-increasing taxes" — Here are the facts:

Total Taxes Spread	1962	1961	1960	1959
	$185,772.37	196,465.44	222,648.96	110,392.22

There has been NO township tax for the past 2 years yet our balance on hand is stable due to sales taxes and intangible taxes. We have tried to spend your money wisely where needed. Much needed culverts have been installed, ditching, and addition of gravel has helped to improve our roads. According to Robert Bulmon, former Township Road Foreman, the township has paid almost as much in the past two years on the township roads as received in 10 years while he was foreman. Many other improvements have also been made.

The above statements are vouched for by Harlow Ingall, Glenn Renwick, Robert Bulmon, Ralph Cole, and Robert Bulmon.
