Extend Canton Water

A better-than-$300,000 water system expansion project in Canton Township is moving rapidly toward completion this week, bringing with it further suggestion of Canton's pending growth.

Including a $16,000 metering mechanism at the terminus of Detroit's 24-inch trunk line at Lilley and Ford Rds., the Canton project will cost $302,000.

Although the new water lines will pick up only an estimated 100 customers initially, the expanded system eventually will serve a far greater number of users throughout the north-east quarter of the Township.

Canton officials figure the project will be completed within 60 days.

Completion will also lend itself significantly to the residential growth of the area. Canton administrators already have received a number of requests for additional lateral extensions which ultimately will serve further proposed residential developments.

City of Detroit's major trunk line is already complete.

Carrying water in a huge 24-inch feeder main, the Detroit line reaches out Cherry Hill Rd., through Nankin Township and into Canton. It continues to Lilley Rd. and then travels north to Ford Rd.

There, at the Lilley and Ford intersection, Canton is installing the intricate below-ground metering mechanism.

Described as a metering "pit," the mechanism will measure the exact number of gallons of Detroit water that Canton consumes.

The current expansion project being financed by Canton funds — in addition to the metering pit — includes a water line along Ford Rd. from the Township's eastern-most boundary (Hannan Rd.) to Canton Center. Most of it is 16 inches in diameter.

The line continues north along Canton Center to Joy

A JOINT PROCLAMATION, designating the week of April 21 as "Plymouth Symphony Week," was signed by Township Supervisor Roy Lindsay and City Mayor Richard Wernette last week. Purpose of the proclamation is to lend further impetus to the Symphony Society's current membership drive. Pointing out the proclamation (above) are Mrs. Dean Manley, of the Symphony Society, and Lindsay and Wernette. Mrs. Manley is chairman of the family membership drive, which has as its goal $3,250 in family subscriptions. Family membership starts at $7.50. The Symphony's annual budget is approximately $10,000.

College Hits Legal Snag Over Use of Electric Heat

A law suit has thrown a strange road-block in front of Schoolcraft College authorities this week just as they were on the verge of opening bids to determine the general contractor for the community college.

Today, the seven-member board of college trustees awaits the outcome of a Circuit Court hearing that could prevent them from utilizing electrical heat in the yet-to-be-built college buildings.

The legal impasse arose last week when a restraining order, requested by a Livonia man, was issued by Circuit Judge Neal Fitzgerald. It prevented the trustees from opening bids on the general contracting work last Wednesday night, April 17.

The restraining order was issued at the request of Robert Turmala, 14606 Garden Livonia, who said he objected to the trustees' plan to equip the college with electrical heat.

Schoolcraft College attorneys failed in an attempt Thursday to obtain release from the restraining order and a Circuit Court hearing began Monday morning.

Trustees Jane Moehle (of Plymouth), Paul Mutnick and Charles Kirkpatrick were on the stand Monday and chairman Harold Fischer was scheduled to take the stand today (Wednesday). He, too, is from Plymouth.

Judge Fitzgerald, following the presentation today of the defense, is expected to rule whether the plans to use electrical heating are permissible.

"It could drag out quite a while," observed College President Eric Bradner late last week in referring to the hearing before Judge Fitzgerald.

Contacted by The Mail, Turmala said he had talked with people in the heating industry and that, in his opinion, the use of electrical heat would result in "an excessive cost."

He described himself as a public relations counselor for several firms, including the Michigan Health and Safety Institute. He said the law suit was brought by him, alone.

"It's my belief," Turmala said, "that the use of electrical heat would cost from three and one-half to five and one-third times more than a hot water system using standard 'fossil' fuels."

(Fossil fuels are either gas, oil or coal.)

The college's board of trustees, before issuing a call for general contracting bids some time ago, had approved the use of electrical heating. A college spokesman said that other types of heating systems were considered, but ruled out.

Seek Answers to City Hall's Fate

What's in store for Plymouth's old City Hall? City Commissioners will hold a public meeting Monday night at 8 p.m. to seek an answer to this question.

They plan to hold a special session in the Commission Chambers in the 85-year-old City Hall, but if residents turn out in large enough numbers, the meeting will be moved to the Senior High building.

The session on whether to save or demolish old City Hall will be woven into an agenda that includes a public hearing on the City's 1963-64 budget. The budget hearing is scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

Several other matters of regular business will also be taken up by the Commissioners, but none will compare in interest — and possible, controversy — to the question over the future status of City Hall.

While the seven-member Commission, since last week, has been mulling over the issue, public reaction has been decidedly varied.

Residents who responded to The Plymouth Mail's questionnaire of last week threw no decisive light on how the general public feels over the matter.

In fact, response to The Mail's coupon question on "Save City Hall" or "Don't Save it" was almost evenly divided.

No definite conclusions could be drawn from the replies.

One of the most difficult tasks facing the Commissioners if they choose to retain the present City Hall will be the problem of uncovering funds with which to repair, renovate and maintain the Victorian-styled structure.

Unofficial estimates indicate that it would cost City taxpayers in the neighborhood of $50,000 to put the old building back in properly useable condition.

The $50,000 figure could, however, be almost defined as a "guesstimate" at this moment, since no engineering study of the needs of the buildings has yet been made.

Annual maintenance cost of the building — including utility bills and wages — runs to about $7,500, a City official has explained.

Harold Guenther, chairman of the Municipal Building Authority, which is in charge of the new City Hall project, last week was empowered to contact the federal government's Housing and Home Finance Agency regional office in Chicago.

The purpose was to learn if the City's federal grant for $255,500 for the new City Hall would in any way be affected if the City chose to retain the old structure.

The original grant request filed by the City included mention of the fact that the old building would be razed to make way for the new one.

Guenther, contacted by The Mail Tuesday evening, said he had made several efforts to reach HHFA regional director Phil Harris, but up to then had been unsuccessful. He will try again shortly.

If necessary, Guenther will journey to Chicago to discuss the matter personally with Harris.

City Clerk Joseph Near Monday explained that any expenses involved in repairing and renovating the present City Hall must be borne out of the general fund, which is supported by local tax revenue.

Meanwhile, on the City's new budget, which also will be considered by the public Monday night, there has been no change made in the current tax rate. It remains at 14.65 mills, same as it has been during the 1962-63 fiscal year.

This amounts to a local tax of $14.65 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

"THE MOUSETRAP," a Plymouth Theater Guild whodunnit thriller opening next Thursday night at the Senior High auditorium, has even the cast members wondering who the killer is. Dennis Merchant, Bob Wall, Russ Wallace and Mrs. Effie Kuisel all point to one another in a humorous effort to designate the real killer in the play, which is adapted from a book by Agatha Christie. Actually, Wall is above suspicion since he's the director. The other three have leading roles in the mystery, however. Advance tickets are available now at the Melody House.

Swift Justice is Finish Of 100-mph Car Chase

A 22-year-old Livonia man found swift justice awaiting him Tuesday in municipal court here after having led Plymouth police on a 100-mph chase Monday night.

George E. Lomas, Jr., whose driver's license indicated that he lives at 37541 Grantland in Livonia, was sentenced to 35 days in Detroit House of Correction for reckless driving.

In addition, Municipal Court Judge Harry Deyo fined the young motorist $100, placed him on probation for six months and ordered him to surrender his license for the same period.

Lomas caught the attention of two Plymouth policemen about 10 p.m. Monday as he ran through a red light at Ann Arbor Rd. and South Main St.

He was speeding east on Ann Arbor Rd., and Lt. William Guldnor and officer Rodney Cannon took up the chase. At times, the two cops were traveling at speeds in excess of 100 miles per hour, the two policemen reported later.

After circling Plymouth and coming back into town, Lomas was pursued east on Ann Arbor Tr., where finally the chase came to an end.

The Lomas car careened off the pavement in front of 41800 Ann Arbor Tr. and sheared off a telephone pole before coming to a halt.

In between, officers Guldnor and Cannon reported that the motorist ran at least three stop signs and two red lights.

Lomas was accompanied by three other youths, none of whom were from Plymouth, police said. When their car slammed into the utility pole and was halted, the four fled on foot across nearby fields.

Police swiftly rounded

First Quarter Earnings At Evans Show Big Gain

Evans Products Co., of Plymouth, has announced a better than 900 per cent increase in net earnings during the first quarter of 1963 compared to the same period in 1962.

The company reported recently to its shareholders that net earnings ending March 31 amounted to $718,163, or 49 cents per share.

During the first quarter of 1962, the firm encountered net earnings of only $76,000, or five cents per share.

Total revenue to Evans during the first quarter fell short of $300 million by less than $75,000. In 1962 for the same period, revenue was below $25 million.

The increase in net earnings, the company said, was due "primarily to the elimination of substantial loss operations which now no longer burden our profit potential, an improved demand for certain of our products, and more efficient operations."

Evans Products is a major producer and distributor of plywood, hardboard and related building materials, and is the leading producer of damage-prevention equipment for railroad freight cars.

The company's report to shareholders continued:

"The company is increasing its penetration of all of its markets, both in the building materials division and the transportation equipment and industrial division."

Turn-of-the-Century Connor Building Awaits Face-Lifting

THE CONNOR Building looked like this about 1930. Cassidy's did not occupy building until 1933.

The 65-year-old Connor Building, at the corner of Main St. and Penniman Ave., will undergo a major face-lifting within the next few months, it was revealed this week.

Announcement of plans to colonialize the building, which houses Fisher's Shoes, Cassidy's and Austin Vacuum Cleaner, was made by James Houk, principle owner of Fisher's.

The two-story brick structure, a turn-of-the-century landmark, was recently purchased by Mrs. James Houk from Max Moon, whose father-in-law, Michael Connor, constructed the building in 1898.

The building has been leased to Fisher's Shoes, Inc., which in turn will handle the remodeling and sub-leasing.

"The architectural improvements," said Houk, "will lend further beauty to the Downtown Plymouth business district."

Women's League Annual Luncheon Includes Notice of Pops Concert

MEMBERS of the Women's League of the Plymouth Symphony Society gathered for their annual luncheon Monday noon at the First Methodist Church here.

More than 50 Plymouth women, whose efforts are devoted to a number of projects that serve to raise funds to support the free Symphony concerts, were in attendance.

They reviewed their current projects, including a sale of tickets for a night at the Fisher Theater in Detroit where the stage production "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" will be the attraction.

OTHER PROJECTS, such as the forth-coming annual Pops Concert, were also discussed. A new harpsichord, a gift from the Women's League to the Symphony Society, was played, too.

Mrs. Robert Webber (below) is chairman of tickets and reservations for the forth-coming Pops Concert which will be presented at the Senior High gym at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 18.

SHE IS shown pointing out a few of the posters that have been made by Women's League members recently and which will be used to promote the Pops Concert.

Mrs. Webber said that tickets to the Pops Concert will be $1.50 per person and may be obtained at Melody House. She asked that ticket reservations be made in person, not by telephone.

The case is being tried before Circuit Judge George Bowles. Attorney Edward Draugelis is representing the City. The trial got underway Tuesday morning.

Among the witnesses will be Joseph Near, who is the City's Urban Renewal director. It was not immediately known when the jury would give its decision on the case.

Near Monday said that a fourth parcel, not involved in the current case, may also have to be acquired through identical condemnation proceedings.

Fischer, chairman of the board of trustees, was also contacted by The Mail for comment.

"The decision (to employ electrical heating) was made by the trustees after obtaining the advice of the architect Eberle M. Smith & Associates, as well as that of outside consultant firms," Fischer said.

"The board believes that the use of electrical heat is a wise move and I expect to stick to the decision, unless the court rules otherwise."

"The reasoning is clear," Fischer said. "We would have to build an external power plant (boiler room) or we would have to install underground tunnels to carry the heating conduits. It otherwise would be necessary."

"We also gave consideration to the greater cost of control that is inherent in an electrical heating system," Fischer said.

"Fischer said that he will be a savings of approximately $180,000 over that of installing a hot water heating system. This is a suit in more classroom space," he explained.

"We know that we will have to pay a higher rate for an electrical heating system in comparison to other types, but even over a year period, we will still be ahead."

"It is the obligation of the college's board of trustees to provide as much as possible in the way of educational facilities for the children of the college district."

"We made a decision with this in mind based on the considered advice of our professional consultants."

"There is a particularly significant fact that is along with this court case Fischer went on."

"The trustees present a legally elected body charged with the duties of making decisions for the general public which elected."

"The right of a board to make these decisions, on the basis of professional advice, is being challenged," he said. "If this right is upheld by the court, then any decision made by a publicly elected body is for question by the court."

Plan Colonial Face-Lifting For Old Connor Building

and will be in keeping with Plymouth's overall colonial theme."

Architect for the project is Plymouthite Harold Pine, who has already issued a call for construction bids on the face-lifting job. Houk said that the general construction contract will be awarded early next month and that work will begin immediately.

Exterior improvements will include the elimination of the many Victorian architectural aspects that link the building to the early 1900's.

A heavy masonry railing that faces Main St. on the top of the building will be removed, Houk explained. Wrought iron railings will be installed around second-story windows and two new display windows will be added to the Penniman Ave. side of the building.

The Main St. fronts of Cassidy's and Fisher's will be merged through the use of white-painted paneling.

The structure will be painted a soft gray to give further evidence of the colonial theme which dominates the Downtown Plymouth area, Houk said.

Purchase price of the building was not disclosed. The transaction originally included the sale of a building that now is being remodeled by attorney Edward Draugelis. Perry Richwine purchased that building and sold it to Draugelis.

The exterior improvements to the Draugelis and Connor buildings are expected to be followed shortly by an announcement that other buildings on Penniman Ave. will also be revitalized, including the structure that houses Johnny & Jean's Penniman Market.

Much of Plymouth's earliest history is tied to the site of the present-day Connor Building. The two-story brick structure was preceded by a wooden frame building.

That building, which also faced Main St., was built in 1858 by W. T. Connor, father of Michael Connor. It was a general store and lumber outlet in the days when Plymouth was a sleepy agricultural community, far removed in miles as well as in years from today's metropolitan Detroit.

The automobile was still more than a half-century away. Horses were the mode of transportation, or horse-drawn buggies.

The wood frame structure was torn down the year of the Spanish-American War to make way for the present red brick building. Michael Connor had assumed leadership of the Connor enterprises from his aging father. Two additions were made to the original building, one in 1902 and the second in 1922. It has remained essentially the same ever since.

Fred Stocken operated a barber shop in the building at the turn of the century. He later became a local film-processing merchant as photography became increasingly popular.

Also located in the building after it opened in 1898 was the Freydl Tailor Shop. It was operated by the father of Arnold Freydl, who has since become a vice-president of National Bank of Detroit.

Cassady's was opened in 1935 and Fisher's Shoes, then owned by Blake Fisher, arrived on the scene a few years later.

Max Moon, who now lives in Ypsilanti and presently is vacationing in Florida, married Michael Connor's daughter, Hazel. She died some time ago. Moon has administered the Connor estate for many years.

Other heirs include the sister of Moon's late wife and Moon's children, John William, of Plymouth, and Mary Katherine Clendenen, of Birmingham.

The Connor Hardware Company—until it closed in the mid-1940's, was among the oldest of Plymouth's retail business firms in line of continuous service. It was by far the oldest hardware store here.

Houk, City of Plymouth's mayor pro-tem and an active leader in many civic affairs here, became a partner in Fisher's Shoes in 1941 and full owner in 1960.

Don Zander, store manager, purchased an interest in the business two and one-half years ago, and recently Marvin Cranford, assistant store manager, also obtained a part interest. Both have worked a number of years at Fisher's Shoes, rising through the ranks via a special training set up by Houk.

Fisher's Shoes is an authorized Brown Shoe Co. franchised dealer and has received national recognition as a Brown Shoe outlet.

Houk and his wife, Elowene, live at 346 Irvin. They have two children, Jane Lane, of Auburn St., and James, Jr., who is a student at M.I.T. in Cambridge, Mass.

Pick 12 Jurors to Decide On U.R. Condemnation Suit

Twelve jurors, who will decide on the City's condemnation suit to acquire three parcels of land in the Urban Renewal area here, were selected Monday in Circuit Court and promptly viewed the Plymouth Urban Renewal area.

Purpose of their visit was to see for themselves the property in question, because of the land have thus far refused the City's offering price.

The case is being tried before Circuit Judge George Bowles. Attorney Edward Draugelis is representing the City. The trial got underway Tuesday morning.

Among the witnesses will be Joseph Near, who is the City's Urban Renewal director. It was not immediately known when the jury would give its decision on the case.

Near Monday said that a fourth parcel, not involved in the current case, may also have to be acquired through identical condemnation proceedings.

Walter Kenzie, Business Executive of Plymouth State Home & Training School for the mentally retarded, was one of a hundred hospital administrators invited to attend the Second Hospital Administrators Conference on "Industrial Engineering Techniques in Hospitals" at the University of Michigan campus earlier this month (April 8-9). Representatives from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Michigan registered for the event.

The purpose of the conference was to present projects presently being developed in the University's Hospital Industrial Engineering Program.

Following the welcoming address by Dr. Kerlikowski, administrator of the University Hospital, ten presentations of techniques and approaches used in solving hospital problems or actual case studies resulting in increased service and reduced costs were offered each day.

ORIGINAL Connor Building, built by W. T. Connor in 1858, was a two-story wooden frame structure and faced Main St. in almost the same location as that of the present Connor Building. It was a general store and lumber company in the days when Plymouth was a sleepy agricultural town. This photo, perhaps taken in the 1880's, gives graphic evidence of an era long past in Plymouth's history. The men and boys around the porch are not fully identified. The four men at the left are Jean Lombard, John Ward, Marshal Gleason and Bob Mimmack, it is believed. Standing in the center with the hand cultivator is the late Chauncey Rauch. Michael Connor and his father, W. T. Connor, are believed to be two of the three men standing at the right in the photo.

Fischer, chairman of the board of trustees, was also contacted by The Mail for comment.

"The decision (to employ electrical heating) was made by the trustees after obtaining the advice of the architect, Eberle M. Smith & Associates, as well as that of two outside consultant firms," Fischer said.

"The board believes that the use of electrical heat is a wise decision. I feel it is a wise move and I expect to stick to the decision, unless the court rules otherwise."

"Fischer said, 'We would not have to build an extensive power plant (boiler room), nor would we have to install underground tunnels to carry the heating conduits that otherwise would be necessary.'"

"We also gave consideration to the greater ease of control that is inherent in an electrical heating system."

Fischer said that there will be a savings of approximately $180,000 over the cost of installing a hot water heating system. "This will result in more classroom space," he explained.

"We know that we will have to pay a higher rate for an electrical heating system in comparison to other types, but over a 25-year period, we will still be ahead. It is the obligation of the college's board of trustees to provide as much as possible in the way of educational facilities for the children of the college district."

"We made our decision with this in mind and based on the considered advice of our professional consultants. There is a particularly significant fact that goes along with this court case," Fischer went on.

"The trustees represent a legally-elected body, charged with the duties of making decisions for the general public which elected us."

"The right of this board to make these decisions, on the basis of professional advice, is being challenged," he said. "If this right is not upheld by the court, then any decision made by any publically-elected body is up for question by the court."

"Mousetrap" Mystery Set For May 2-4

By George Spelvin
Agatha Christie's "The Mousetrap" moves into the Senior High auditorium Thursday, May 2, for a three-night session of thrills and mystery.

With "Mousetrap" as the vehicle, the local Theater Guild brings to a close its 16th season amidst murder, mayhem and plenty of excitement for everyone.

"Mousetrap" a whodunnit of the first order, is the Guild's 45th stage production and stars Dennis Merchant, Russ Wallace and Effie Kuisel among the eight-member cast.

Over the years, the local dramatic group has produced such popular attractions as "Inherit the Wind," "Teahouse of the August Moon," "The Remarkable Mr. Penny-packer," and "Mr. Roberts."

"Mousetrap" should prove to be the equal to each of those past favorites, all of which received wide acclaim from Plymouthites who follow the activities of the local Theater Guild.

Advance tickets are available now at Melody House and regular admission tickets may be purchased at the door on any of the three nights of the play. The play begins at 8:15 p.m. each of the three nights.

"If a whodunnit" depends solely on the creation of a very suspense, "Mousetrap" fills the bill right from the start. Terrifying situations begin early in Act I and culminate with a murder on-stage just before first intermission.

Detective sergeant Trotter (portrayed by Merchant) arrives promptly to unravel the tangled web of evidence.

Giles (Don Liebau) and Molly (Roberta Seelhoff) are upset in the face of the detective's accusations that their guest house might have some connection with the murder.

The guests, Major Metcalf (Wallace), Mrs. Boyle (Mrs. Kuisel), Chris Wren (Paul Wheeler), Mr. Paravincini (Charles Bousequet) and Miss Casewell (Patricia Dorian), are suspected of being the killer.

In fact, the sergeant sternly warns them that one of the eight people at Monkswell Manor will possibly be murdered if the killer isn't located.

Not only does the killer strike once, but he is about to add another victim to his list when the play comes to a crashing climax.

Director Bob Wall has challenged anyone to determine the killer by intermission time.

Gallimore School Fathers, Sons to Eat Pancakes

Gallimore School's Father-Son Pancake Supper will be held Monday, April 29, in the school's Multi-Purpose room from 6 - 7:30 p.m.

All boys presently attending Gallimore and boys who formerly attended the school and their fathers are invited to attend, according to supper chairman John Schroeder.

Entertainment highlights will be a magic exhibit by local magician Roy Rew, beginning at 7:45 p.m.

There will be no charge for the pancake and sausage dinner, however, a donation plate will be passed to help pay for the entertainment.

No advance reservations will be taken.

Johnson returned with Charles Anderson, of 12601 Nine Mile, South Lyon. Anderson, who was originally apprehended by FBI agents in Florida, will have a hearing in Circuit Court next Monday. The charge against him will be for uttering and publishing.

SUPERVISOR OF WELLS

Dated: April 15, 1963
(4-25, 3-2-63)

A resolution was passed waiving any part of the license fee for the year 1962 of the Wayne County Conservation Association, Inc. previously located in Nankin Township.

Upon a recommendation of the Township Engineer, the Board approved the acceptance of sewer and water mains of Lake Pointe Subdivision No. 6 for operation and maintenance. The Board further approved by resolution that the agreement as to physical control of this water and sewer system be approved, subject to the Lake Pointe Improvement and Development Company filing a maintenance and performance bond as required.

Plans for extending the water main along Ann Arbor Road from McClimphs Road to Woodlore Subdivision, as submitted by Engineer Herald Hamill, was approved, upon a motion by John D. McEwen, supported by Elizabeth Holmes. Carried.

Water main plans of Woodlore Subdivision, located in Section 33, Plymouth Township, was submitted by Herald Hamill for examination and approval by the Township Board.

To properly bring this request before the Board, it was moved by Mrs. Holmes, supported by Ralph Garber, that the plans be approved. Considerable discussion was held relative to this development having water brought to its boundary and not all the way to Beck Road. It was stated that the developer could use two 8" mains within the subdivision and 12" mains on entry from Ann Arbor Road with exit on Beck Road.

An amendment to the resolution by Ralph Garber, supported by John D. McEwen, to reexamine whether or not the subdivision will install 12" mains from Ann Arbor Road to his 8" mains and from his 8" mains, a 12" main out to Beck Road was carried.

The motion was then called for as amended and carried.

Supervisor Lindsay spoke on the junk yards within the Township and stated that action is going to be taken to eliminate the unsightly conditions that currently exist. He further stated that no licenses would be granted unless the conditions are rectified. No further action was taken.

There being no further business, and upon the motion by C. V. Sparks, supported by Dick Lauterback, the meeting was adjourned at 10:10 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
John D. McEwen
Plymouth Township Clerk

Evans' Earnings Up

Evans recently sold off its bicycle manufacturing operations. According to the report, an expansion program at the company's Roseburg, Oregon, plywood mill is nearing completion. The company expects improved results from the mill during the second quarter. However, start-up costs at this mill adversely affected first quarter results.

Further improvement in sales and earnings can be expected in view of the present backlog of orders and the company's continuing cost reduction programs, the report stated.

The company noted that an unsettled labor situation in the plywood industry in the Pacific Northwest involving unresolved demands by labor in 1963 could result in work stoppage during the year.

Evans Products Company and consolidated subsidiaries report for the three months ended March 31:

	1963	1962
Earnings per share	$.49	$.05
Total revenues	$29,929,129	$24,971,802
Net income	$ 718,163	$ 76,274
Common shares	1,460,219	1,442,596

EUROPE LOOK OUT!

Five Plymouth families left Metropolitan airport last Tuesday evening for a flying 12-day holiday on the continent of Europe. Participating in the exciting Volkswagen planned tour are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beyer, Dr. and Mrs. William Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moe, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Irdinsky and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartwick. The group will disembark at Brussels, Belgium, and will scatter to the far ends of Europe, each going their separate ways in their own Volkswagens to meet again 10 days later for the trip home. Itineraries for the various couples stretch from Austria to Rome to Nice, Switzerland, Holland and Paris. The party is pictured at the ticket office of Sabena Air lines which will carry them to and from the Continent and returning to Plymouth on May 9.

Expect to Attract 1,200 To Kiwanis Pancake Feast

Plymouth Kiwanis Club's annual pancake festival this Saturday at the Masonic Temple is expected to draw some 1,200 hungry residents, according to chairman Marvin Terry.

The event has been widely publicized and previous records of about 900 patrons for the festival are expected to be surpassed this year, Terry indicated.

First serving will be at 7:30 a.m., he said, but the Kiwanians will be up at the crack of dawn preparing for the onslaught of pancake fanciers.

More than 75 Kiwanians will man the day-long cooking, serving and clean-up committees that will host the event. Final serving will be from 3 to 7 p.m., Terry said.

The chefs will gather at Terry's Bakery about 5:30 a.m. to begin mixing the mountains of ingredients required to make enough pancakes for 1,200 "chow hounds."

WITH OUR SENIOR CITIZENS

BY ETHEL MILLARD
GL 3-3782

Club president Arnold Kahrl was on the ailing list last week and vice-president John Gilles capably filled in to head up the April 18 regular meeting of the Senior Citizens.

More than 65 members were on hand.

Highlighting the get-together was the observance of April birthdays by many members. A large birthday cake was prepared for the occasion by the refreshments committee and the festivities were enjoyable indeed.

One of our favorite members, Sam Spicer, who had been ill for a while, was welcomed back to his first meeting in some time.

The regular pot-luck will be held this Thursday afternoon. It begins at 12:30 p.m.

Two Burned When Movie Film Ignites

Two Plymouth men suffered burns on the face and neck last Thursday evening when some home movie film exploded into flames in front of them.

Injured were Lawrence Kirt and Robert Thompson, both of whom were treated by a Plymouth doctor and released.

The incident took place at 745 Virginia where Kirt lives with his family. Kirt and Thompson, who lives in Plymouth Township, were watching the home movies in the basement when suddenly the film burst into flames, injuring the pair.

The fire spread throughout the basement.

Plymouth firemen, called to the scene, quickly extinguished the blaze. Amount of damage was not known. The fire was contained to the basement. The home is owned by Mrs. John Jacobs.

Another mile-long stretch of 8-inch pipe has been installed on Lilley Rd. between Warren and Ford.

The entire current expansion program is described as the "north project," denoting the fact that further water expansion is slated elsewhere in the Township.

DEADLINE TUESDAY 5:00 P. M.

VISITORS to Plymouth this week — all the way from Southport, England — were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Perkins and their two daughters. Perkins, an officer of the Wigan Trustee Savings Bank in England, is a first cousin to Mrs. Doris Pursell, of Plymouth. He and his family are concluding a four-month vacation that featured stop-overs in New Zealand, the Fiji Islands, Australia and Hawaii as well as a three-week stay in the U.S. Yesterday, Perkins and his family and Mrs. Pursell and her son, Carl, enjoyed breakfast together at the Hotel Mayflower. From left above are: Rosemary and Susan Perkins, Mr. and Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Pursell and Carl Pursell.

Letter to the Editor

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Mich.

Dear Editor —

Why is the most obvious improvement for this city repeatedly overlooked and avoided? — That of the railroad tracks that crisscross through this town. Just for general information, how many towns this size have crossings on their main streets? Why do people coming into or going out of town have to stop and wait for long intervals while a freight backs up, goes ahead and then backs up again, causing lines of cars blocks long to wait?

While our city fathers plan more parking lots, one can park on Main St. almost any day amid many other cars, all enjoying each other's exhaust fumes and seriously thinking of selling their lovely homes and moving to a town where resident convenience isn't so largely overlooked.

At least give us a reasonable explanation why we wait 10 minutes going into town and 20 minutes later coming out of town we sit and wait again — or please put up "Burma Shave signs!"

Irate Resident.

(Editor's Note — The above letter was submitted unsigned to The Plymouth Mail and, although our policy is not to publish unsigned letters to the editor, we print it here only because it deals with a valid complaint that has been voiced by many other residents in the past. However, letter-writers in the future should be forewarned that, if they do not have the intestinal fortitude to sign their messages, they stand little — if any — chance of having them published here, despite the fact that they tell us they had been unsuccessful on a previous occasion in having the letter printed.)

'Rocket' Band Superior In State Music Festival

The 100-piece Rocket Band from Plymouth Junior High East received a first Division Superior rating from all four judges in the Michigan School Band and Orchestra State Music Festival held at Jackson, Saturday, April 20.

Appearing in Class AA, which includes the largest junior high in the state, the band played: "Overture for Winds," the required number; "Fairest of the Fair," a march by John Philip Sousa; and the "Crusader's Overture" by Buchtel.

Irving Van Sluyters, the sight-reading judge rated the band the best in its class for the day.

The Rocket Band received four first division ratings in the district festival held in Garden City in March. This is the first time since 1956 that the band has been able to attain a superior rating from all judges in the district and state festivals.

The judges were Harry Begian of Cass Technical High School of Detroit; Larry Teal, Teal Studios, Detroit; and Norman Dietz from Central Michigan University.

The Band, under the direction of Laurence Livingston, is leaving Friday for a trip to Elkhart, Indiana, to visit the musical instrument factories of the H. and A. Selmer Co.

Township Dogs Must Be Confined, Says Ordinance

Plagued by complaints that "numerous" dogs are being permitted to run freely throughout Plymouth Township, Supervisor Roy Lindsay issued a warning this week.

"Under the terms of the Township's long-standing dog ordinance," he said, "at no time are dogs permitted to run free. They must be on a leash or confined."

Lindsay said that actual enforcement of the ordinance is difficult, however, and the cooperation of residents is requested. He said that the Township is empowered to issue violations following repeated complaints.

He explained that the Township constables, acting as dog wardens, patrol any area where recent complaints have indicated a dog is running freely. Catching the dogs in an effort to learn the name of the owner is another problem.

Duke's Barber Shop to Move This Weekend

Duke's Clip Joint, a popular Plymouth barber shop at 1313 Ann Arbor Rd. since 1956, will move across the street into a part of the building that houses the Hubbs & Gilles Electrical Appliance firm.

The Hubbs & Gilles firm is vacating half of the building, but will remain in operation in the other portion.

Barber John Duke said he expects to complete the move to his new quarters in time to open at the regular hour Monday morning. He said a beauty shop, Beauty Land, will share the portion of the building with his barbering operation. Duke, a barber in Plymouth since 1950, will remodel the interior of his new location, install completely new barbering equipment, and intends to add a third chair in the near future.

The other barber with Duke at the present is Glenn Cak-sackkar. Duke, who used to have his shop on Penniman Ave., lives at 131 Sheridan. He is a member of the Plymouth Elks Lodge which is expected to open about May 15.

STUDENTS DELIGHTED BY DAY-LONG VACATION

Students in grades seven through 12 in the Plymouth school system will get a day's vacation this Friday when their teachers attend the annual Schoolmasters' Convention at the University of Michigan.

Local youngsters in other grades in the Plymouth schools are not so fortunate, however. For them, regular classes will be held.

MRS. E. DRAUGELIS and daughters ANNE and KRYS.

With the weather turning more fair good cooks are beginning to look for lighter, simpler meals for their families. Mrs. Edward Draugelis, 1377 Carol, offers a recipe good for this time of year and for summer picnics and luncheons — German Potato Salad.

She is the mother of two young daughters, Anne, 3, and Krysta, 2. They are her hobby, she says, but she tries to find time for knitting, reading and sketching in pencils and charcoal. Your BEAUTY CARE

By MIDGE DU VALL
Cosmetics is a world wide business supported by women all over the world. Name any country you wish and you will name a race or place where women use cosmetics.
What is not generally known, however, is that cosmetics have been used for many centuries. Way, way back in Biblical times, believe it or not, women used cosmetics. Eyebrows were darkened with manganese and antimony. Eyelids were tinted with greens and yellows. Lip sticks were improvised with red ochre; vegetable dyes used on fingernails.
In one of my coming columns, I am going to reveal some startling facts about cosmetics. Up to now, this information has been a sort of "Ssh Ssh" subject. Watch for it. In the meantime, remember this: Whatever your needs, your desires, your likes may be for your own glamour, you can count on MIDGE'S BEAUTY SALON to help you. Many of your friends and neighbors already know this. Come in or phone in today. MIDGE DU VALL, MIDGE'S BEAUTY SALON, 450 Forest Ave., Phone GL 3-1890.

Northville State Hospital Sets Open House

In preparation for April 28, the Open House, Sunday of Mental Health Week, staff, volunteers, and patients are planning worthwhile tours and descriptive exhibits at Northville State Hospital.
Visitors are encouraged to come as early as possible in the afternoon of Sunday, April 28. Tours commence at 1 p.m. with the last tour scheduled to leave the hospital lobby at 3:30 p.m. As the distances are considerable among the buildings on the hospital's 520 acres, buses will play among the buildings to be toured, for the convenience of all.
Added to this, for the second year, Mrs. James Fitzgerald, Metropolitan Senior Advisor of the Girl Scouts of Metropolitan Detroit, has contacted members of Girl Scout troops and their leaders to supervise a nursery for children under 14, too young to tour. Exhibits and Snack Shops open and ready to serve will add to the one-afternoon occasion.

Individual clubs and groups may call to make special arrangements for tours during the week following the Open House, while exhibits are still on display. Invitations already have been extended to high school students in Wayne County during that week to tour and to remain for panel discussions, where the accent will be upon the various mental health careers.

Professional staff members of the hospital in the fields of psychiatry, psychology, nursing, occupational therapy, social work, and vocational rehabilitation will serve as members of these panels. Prior to the question and answer periods, the educational requirements and the challenges of the various fields will be outlined.

Art Around Us:

by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

An anonymous donor sent me two copies of the Christian Science Monitor last week marked to two very interesting articles on art, Impressionism and Expressionism. I am most appreciative of these articles which arrived just as I was reviewing my notes on both of these periods to present them with slides, to my advanced art classes. Thank you very much, whoever you are, they make a valuable addition to my files.
Featured in the issue of Impressionism (Friday, April 5, 1963) are five reproductions of self-portraits by Gaughin, Cezanne, Renoir, Van Gogh and Emile Bernard. The striking feature of these portraits is the obvious preoccupation with transmitting the artist's idea of what he was really like inside that is, not a photographic accuracy, the spirit of the man as he himself knew it.
Gaughin's stylization of his hawk nose, quizzical eyebrows, and rather sly leer, shows that he saw himself as a genially satanic soul. Cezanne was apt to distort figures to fit his composition and his portrait of himself is no exception. The composition is a series of rectangles and long ovals into which he has fit himself as a rather squat, short-necked, thoughtful peasant. Renoir's interest in fleeting light and gay color is reflected in his jaunty self-portrait in dashing hat and flowing black tie against his famous and typical splintered light-laden backgrounds. Van Gogh shows himself as intensely studying a painting... his cropped hair, bushy beard, rough peasant coat all emphasized by short frenetic brush strokes. A strongly emotional painting... more expressionistic than impressionistic. Emile Bernard, lesser known than the others, has a softly charming painting of himself done in quick sketchy blocks of light and dark but capturing a look of lively curiosity on his face and of movement in the falling of a stray lock of hair. His distribution of light and dark shows up dramatically in this black-and-white reprint.

These articles, part of a series of six to appear each Friday from April 5, through May 10, are written by Dorothy Adlow, Art critic of the Christian Science Monitor.

There's More Than Meets the Eye at D.S.I.

Few Plymouthites think of Distribution Service, Inc. as anything more than simply the company that took over the former Daisy Air Fife plant on Union St.

But behind the scenes at the D.S.I. plant there is far more activity than just that which concerns the mass distribution role of Distribution Service.

When D.S.I. president William Scott moved his company here in 1961 he actually brought three firms to Plymouth. The other two are decidedly less well known locally.

One is named "Scott Associates" and the other goes by the imposing descriptive title of "The Institute of Applied Training."

The two, as well as D.S.I., are the brainchild of Scott, who for years was employed in the auto industry as an instructor and training chief.

This month, the two lesser known affiliate firms, Scott Associates and The Institute of Applied Training, stole the spotlight from their wider-known sister company, D.S.I.

Scott Associates was put in charge of scripting and developing a series of materials for a training program involving regional service people from Detroit Diesel Division of GMC.

The Institute of Applied Training was assigned the task of carrying out the actual training program which would perfect the teaching talents of the Detroit Diesel regional service people so that they, in turn, could conduct the same training program in the field.

Among the Detroit Diesel personnel attending the initial training meetings at D.S.I. here was Lauren H. Wells, a Plymouthite, who is also assistant general sales manager for Detroit Diesel Division.

But the events leading up to culmination this month started last summer, according to Robert LaDuke, a staff member of Scott Associates.

At that time, Scott Associates conducted a survey of the Detroit Diesel field organization, including regions, distributors and service dealers.

Problem areas were uncovered which up to then had been giving regional service managers difficulties. From the facts uncovered by the survey, a training program was devised by men from Scott Associates. It was de-

Nazarene Church Site of Sacred Music Program

The Treble Clef Choir of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Illinois, will present a program of sacred music at the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene, 4155 East Ann Arbor Tr., on Saturday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to attend, said Rev. R. N. Raycroft, pastor.

The 44-voice choir will present a full concert which includes sacred classics, hymn arrangements and spiritual songs.

Director of the choir is Irving Kranich, professor of voice at Olivet Nazarene College.

He is a 1954 graduate of the same school and has done graduate work at the University of Washington, Detroit Institute of Musical Arts, and the American Conservatory of Music where he is now completing requirements for a master's degree.

He has been at Olivet Nazarene College since 1959.

Kiwianians Salute Canada-U.S. Relations

The Plymouth Kiwanis Club has added its support to an International Kiwanian project involving the betterment of Canada-U.S. relations.

Walt Gemperline, the club president, has named the week of April 28 to May 4 as Canada-U.S. Goodwill week on behalf of Kiwanians here.

Member Norb Batterman has been chosen International Relations committee chairman for the Plymouth chapter. The project is designed to foster better international relations between the two countries.

Senior Prom 'Gay Gala' Features Circus Theme

An imaginary circus will come alive on Saturday night, April 27, as the senior class will present their "Gay Gala" in the high school gym from 8:30 to midnight for the price of $2.50 per couple.

Horses, tigers and giraffes will be found around the gym with balloons, flags and streamers hanging from the ceiling. Foil will help to create the imaginary merry-go-round which will encircle the gym, and the band, Leo Tallieu's Quartet, will appear to be blowing bubbles with the help of a gigantic bubble machine.

Members of the senior class have been busy working on the decorations every Wednesday night after school and are all invited to come and help decorate the gym on Friday, April 26. There is no school that day because of the School Masters Club meeting.

Tickets for the prom are now on sale.

Representing Congo-Brazzaville and Algeria on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at the Model United Nations at the University of Detroit will be members of Plymouth High's International Relations class.

Antge Hoefler, Greg Holland and Jim Stout make-up the Algerian delegation, with Mary Lisa Frank, Joyce Everett, Evelyn Heidt, and Barb Niemi representing Congo-Brazzaville.

Other countries in the UN will be represented by other schools from the Detroit area.

The questions to be discussed include the representation of Red China, removal of foreign troops from South Korea, Southern Rhodesia, race relations in South Africa and any other proposals made by the member countries represented by the students.

The students are now doing research to prepare for the undertaking.

Also in their plans is another international dinner, to which each member of the class will bring a dish made in a foreign country. After the dinner on May 1, slides will be shown. The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. in the home of Judi Adams.

All candidates for school offices are making posters and thinking up campaign slogans, since next week (April 29 to May 3) is election week. Voting will take place the following Monday, May 6.

Water Waves, Ripples, and Dolphins are busily preparing for "Water in my Suitcase" which will be presented May 2, 3, and 4. This year's water show will feature American cities and will cost only 75 cents for students and $1. for adults.

Friday, April 26, is School Masters Club and there will be no high school classes.

Install Water Main Linking Elm Street To Ann Arbor Road

A new water main linking Elm St. with Ann Arbor Rd. was connected to existing water mains and flushed out late last week and caused residents in the southwest section of the city to experience considerable rusty water in their homes, according to DPW superintendent Joseph Bida.

He said that the new main was necessary to eliminate several "dead-end" lines in that vicinity and also provides a fully circulating system which will lessen the amount of rust flowing into residential lines.

The DPW workers have also been busy planting 25 trees throughout the city in recent weeks. Sycamores, maples and oaks were among the new trees planted.

Spraying of elm trees in order to prevent Dutch Elm disease was completed by the City and City-owned parks and playgrounds were cleaned up in preparation for the summer season. Elsewhere, DPW workers were cleaning storm sewer catch basins, Bida reported.

The last meeting of Plymouth Grange was one that will stand out in the memories of all who attended. The business meeting started at 8 p.m. with about 85 members in attendance.

Following that portion of the meeting Grange was officially closed and about 25 guests were invited in for our program which honored our two Golden Wedding couples, Martha and Harmon Gates and Hazel and Jim Bassett. A little skit was presented depicting a couple's celebration of that all important Golden Wedding Anniversary, when they were greeted, congratulated and entertained by their friends.

Our honored couple was played by Myrtle Brown and Oren Millard while Jo Mecklenburg played the part of granddaughter and introduced the program which followed.

It consisted of several appropriate readings by some of our Grange members. The musical portion of the program consisted of a piano solo by Kathy Mecklenburg and a number of songs by the Upton Sisters.

Our sincere thanks to these young people for their fine music. We surely hope they may find time to favor us again soon.

Coffee, tea and cake were served following the program. Thus ended a most pleasant evening.

Mildred Collins is celebrating a birthday this week. Cards and calls will be welcomed. I'm sure, by our shut-in sister.

Lottie Amrhein remains in serious condition in Annapolis hospital in Wayne.

16th Lions White Cane Campaign Is May 3, 4

Members of the Plymouth Lions Club will be adorned in yellow safari helmets and will carry symbolic white canes May 3 and 4 as they conduct their annual White Cane campaign here.

Proceeds from the drive will go toward continuing Lions Club projects that aid the blind and visually-handicapped.

The coming appeal marks the 16th annual White Cane drive by the Plymouth Lions.

Club members will start the campaign with a breakfast at the Hotel Mayflower at 8 a.m. May 3 before taking to the streets for the first of two 12-hour stunts. The actual solicitation will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each of the two days.

Attached to their white canes will be canisters in which contributions may be placed.

FIRST OFFICIAL proclamation was signed by new mayor Richard Wernette last week and served to designate the week of April 28 to May 4 as "White Cane Week." The week-long observance coincides with the Plymouth Lions Club's white cane sale, proceeds from which will go toward aiding visually handicapped children and adults. Wernette is shown above at right with DPW Superintendent Joseph Bida, a Lions Club member.

Canton News

BY CLARA WITHERBY - GL 3-7435

I had no column last week since the Witherby household had unexpected guests. Our daughter Patricia and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Palisano and children, Frank, Maria, and Deborah, arrived Thursday April 12, from Lockport, New York. From then on through Sunday we had open house, with a gathering of the "clan." And with eighteen grandchildren it was more or less bedlam. But we loved every minute of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Redd of Hanford Rd. spent the weekend in New York State, first in Rochester where they visited friends, then on to Rome, N.Y., to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Redd.

Darlene and Janice Rafe, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rafe of Canton Center Rd., have just returned home from an Easter week-end in Chicago, where they visited friends, and did a lot of sight-seeing.

Janice Bastion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bastion of Gayde Rd., gave a surprise 25th Wedding Anniversary Party on April 14 for her parents. There were 34 guests present, including some from Redford, Detroit, Livonia and Blissfield; and Mr. and Mrs. Bastion's son, Airman First Class Edward Bastion, Jr. and his wife, of Tantaoul, Ill. Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Millard Mitchell, Chris Janowski, and Allan Thompson helped Janice in the planning and decorating. A buffet dinner was served, and Mr. and Mrs. Bastion received many lovely gifts. This was Janice's project for home-making, in her home economics course at Plymouth High where she is a sophomore.

The Pilgrim Farm Bureau met April 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Sharland on N. Territorial Rd. The group enjoyed discussions on taxation and the wheat referendum bill. A refreshing dessert was served by the hostess. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Godwin, of Warren Rd.

Dear Mother:
Well, we pulled through the strike and the flood and are ready for anything else that may come along. I am at present in one of the worst sections. When a good fisherman and a good sportsman tells you that he caught a big fish, you can generally depend on it that he caught a big fish.

So when Russell Powell came back from Florida a few weeks ago and said he caught a sail fish exactly seven feet long, no one disputed him, because they knew if he said it, he caught it. Proof of his catch arrived in Plymouth this week, a beautiful mounted seven-foot sail fish. For the present it adorns the walls of the Plymouth United Savings bank where hundreds have admired it. With him when he caught the fish was Harry Lush, William Pettin-gill and David Bolton.

telephone lines

By HUGH C. BRONAUGH, Manager

UNLIKE MOST APPLIANCES, your telephone will be repaired whenever necessary without extra charge to you. This applies, with normal use, even to complete replacement. This assurance, always in force, is just one reason why telephone service is one of your biggest bargains. Should you have any telephone service problem, simply call Repair Service for prompt, courteous attention.

LIVING'S AS EASY AS 1-2-3 . . . with handy extension phones to save trudging, time and temper. A space-saving wall phone in the kitchen, for instance, makes Mom's chores lighter, her days brighter. Or a lovely Princess telephone in the bedroom gives privacy by day, protection at night. And the whole family enjoys added convenience with a step-saving family-room extension. Ordering an extension telephone is as easy as 1-2-3, too! Just call our Business Office, or ask the man on the telephone truck.

THOUSANDS OF IDEAS for ways telephone people might do their jobs better! Where'd they come from? From Michigan Bell employees themselves, who submit their ideas through our Employee Suggestion Plan. Since the Plan was introduced sixteen years ago, 7,000 ideas have been accepted and put into use. In 1962 alone, 500 operating improvements resulted from employee suggestions, ranging from such a simple thing as an improved wire clamp to a major improvement in pole-setting methods. These practical ideas help us bring you the best possible service at the lowest possible cost.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO SPREAD YOUR HOME-HEATING COST EVENLY THROUGH THE YEAR?

It takes a lot more natural gas to heat a home in January or February than it does in July or August. Monthly service bills of customers who use natural gas for home heating therefore vary considerably as between summer and winter. Many home-heating customers make use of the Budget Payment Plan which makes it possible for them to pay the same amount every month.

HOW THE PLAN WORKS

The budget year begins with May and runs through April of the following year. The total amount to be paid for service during the budget year is estimated on the basis of past usage or other available data. Your monthly service bill then becomes approximately one-twelfth of this amount.

During the first part of the budget year, your monthly payments are somewhat larger than they would be under normal billing. You are thus building up a credit against the winter months when your use of service will reach its peak.

You will be billed for the same amount each month unless the credit you have built up is insufficient, when combined with the amount of the budget payment, to cover the service used, in which case you will be billed for the amount due.

In April, 1964, you will receive a bill for the amount then remaining due, which may be less than the amount of the monthly budget payment. Small overpayments of a year's bills can be carried over to apply against the next year. Larger overpayments can be refunded.

IF YOU ARE NOT PRESENTLY ON THIS PLAN AND WOULD LIKE TO PAY YOUR SERVICE BILLS ON A BUDGET BASIS, JUST FILL OUT THIS FORM AND MAIL OR TAKE IT TO THE NEAREST CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY OFFICE YOUR FIRST BUDGET PLAN BILL WILL REACH YOU IN MAY.

NEWS & VIEWS — from Lake Pointe Village

BY MARILYN O'NEIL

GL 3-0057

Hello there, Lake Pointe Village.

Being a resident of Lake Pointe as well as the wife of The Mail's managing editor, it was evidently logical that sooner or later I would get "conned" into reporting the news in Plymouth's fastest growing subdivision.

I held out as long as I could but when my husband told me I would even get paid for it, how could I resist?

So here goes, and I hope you'll forgive me if I always seem to be calling you on the telephone over the coming weeks and months. I might mention now that if you have any news of interest to Lake Pointe or the rest of Plymouth please feel free to call me.

As many of you may already know, the Lake Pointe spring dance is coming up Saturday evening at the VFW Hall on Lilley Rd. It starts at 9 p.m. If you haven't gotten tickets yet, you may reserve them by calling Mrs. LaVerne Worm at GL 3-0725.

If you've been wondering what all the recent Saturday activity has been a round Roger-Stanley's home on Shadywood, it has to do with a Plymouth JayCee project. The Jay Cees obtained two replicas of 1903 Oldsmobiles from Kroger's and are renovating them to be used in the fourth of July parade. The plan is to raffle off one of the replicas and keep the other as a club symbol. Roger's "renovators" include: Wendell Smith, Joe Fletcher, Jim Garber, Terry West, Norm Fitzpatrick, Cal Strom and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Evans, of Russett Lane, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lembles, formerly of Russett Lane and now of Saginaw. Friends of the Lembles here will be happy to know that the couple will attend the spring dance Saturday.

Ken Davis, of Robinwood, is recovering from a bout with bronchial pneumonia. Ken is principal of a school in Redford and his "vacation" over the Easter holidays was not quite what he had had in mind while school was out.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Phelan, of Shadywood, entertained several couples from Burroughs (where he works) last Saturday night at a bridge and late supper. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Catlett and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kings, of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lancaster, Northville, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Locky, Livonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kather, of Russett Lane, recently visited Don's mother, Mrs. Frank Kather, in Sharon, Penn., and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blank, of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Madick of Robinwood, have returned from visiting Mr. Madick's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Madick, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Madick's sister and husband, Dr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Connell, of Kansas City, Kansas.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Warner Crudder, of Robinwood. Mrs. Crudder gave birth to a baby boy, named Shawn, on Thursday, April 11, at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewko, of Lakewood, last Sunday attended a baptism at St. Sylvester's in Warren for Gary Wiegand son of Mr. and Mrs. Fark Wiegand. The Lewkos are the child's godparents.

KIWANIS NOTES

By Ken Way

The Plymouth Kiwanis Club's annual Father-and-Daughter banquet meeting was last Tuesday at Lofy's was well-attended and again proved to be a wide success.

The program, following a delicious meal, included a short talk by Hazen Wilson, local branch manager for Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Wilson explained a proposed plan whereby calling privileges in the general western Wayne County area would be expanded under a method of alternate proposals upon which local subscribers will shortly vote their preference.

Program chairman Harry Reeves also introduced Howard Town, who is well-known locally and is associated with educational television. Town's firm is responsible for producing duplicate video tapes used in the presentation of educational TV shows throughout the U.S.

He presented a brief description of his responsibilities and spoke on the merits of television as the newest form of providing educational facilities to young and old.

LIQUOR COMMISSION CITES PLYMOUTH BOWL

Plymouth Bowl, 40475 Plymouth Rd., has been cited by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission on a complaint that a minor was permitted to consume an alcoholic beverage on the premises.

Three Plymouth Teens Win Merit Scholarships

Three Plymouth teen-agers have been named as winners of 1963 merit scholarships by the National Merit Scholarship Corp. of Evanston, Illinois.

Two of the three are still attending Plymouth High and the third is a student at the University of Michigan.

They are:

Bruce Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hudson, 44951 North Territorial; Cheryl Planck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Planck, 615 McKinley; and Charles Hampton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross A. Hampton, 41675 Ford Rd.

Hudson is a U-M student and the other two are destined to graduate from Plymouth High this June.

All three have been awarded scholarships to attend colleges or universities of their choice.

Hudson won a National Merit Scholarship and intends to major in biochemistry at California Institute of Technology; the Hampton youth was awarded a Western Electric Co. merit scholarship to study mathematics at the University of Michigan; Miss Planck won a Michigan State University merit scholarship for study in liberal arts at MSU.

The Plymouth threesome are among 130 high school students from Michigan to be designated merit scholars for 1963. There are approximately 1,600 merit scholars across the nation this year.

Amount of each scholarship award is based on individual financial need and range from $00 to $6,000 for the four years of college study.

Nearby Northville Homes Suffer Shortage of Water

Since the first interest of the residents for Detroit water, a request for information on rates and water availability was made to Gerald Remus, head of the Detroit Water Board. No reply has yet been received, a Township spokesman explained last week.

The majority of the homes in the critical area are said to be using "shallow" private wells, which in recent months have not been providing a sufficient supply for all normal household needs.

Interestingly, the City of Northville even now is studying the possibility that, despite an apparently critical water shortage involving some 100 Northville Township homes directly adjacent to Plymouth Township, the Northville residents seemed no closer to an answer to their difficulties this week.

The area hit by the problem is in the vicinity of Bradner and Five Mile Rds. Northville Township residents there have complained that their private wells are not adequate.

Efforts have been made to obtain Detroit water, but nothing has been learned. A Northville Township request to the City of Plymouth resulted in assurance that the City Commission would approve a move to furnish Plymouth water to the water-starved area, if the residents agreed to it.

Instead, the residents, who appear to favor Detroit water, have awaited a reply to a request for information on their predicament from the Detroit Water Board. The stricken area includes "Plymouth Gardens" and the "Ambrose Subdivision." Home-owners six weeks ago petitioned the Northville Township Board for help. The level of the water table is gradually lowering as increasing demand is placed on the Northville water supply.

"We feel there is good possibility that we could get water from the City of Plymouth, but up to now no official agreement has been sought," said a Northville Township spokesman, explaining the predicament confronting residents of the 100 homes that suffer from a water shortage. "Strangely, some of the homes seem to have an adequate supply," the spokesman said, "and others don't have enough to do their laundry."

Chips from the ROCK

Is the handwriting on the wall? Residents of this area should take a hard look at the statement and actions of Mayor Harvey W. Moelke of Livonia who announced in the Detroit Free Press last Saturday that petitions were in circulation in seven square miles of Nankin Township for the annexation of that area of Nankin to the City of Livonia.

This announcement was not surprising to me because I have known for some time that the sprawling, greedy City of Livonia has been eyeing various adjoining land areas to their boundaries with an eye to annexation. The purpose, of course, is to include more tax base for the City of Livonia to relieve an already inflated tax bite which is working a hardship on Livonia property owners.

Former administrations have investigated this eventuality for the City of Livonia and Mayor Moelke's move is the first to come to the attention of residents of areas that are adjoining Livonia. Especially the first to come out in the open when he filed those petitions also on Saturday.

Some two or three years ago I heard a Livonia official make the statement that one day the industrial section east of Livonia in Redford Township and west of East Livonia in Plymouth Township would be annexed to the City of Livonia.

Though these moves haven't come out in the open they are most definitely on the planning boards of that municipality.

According to the Free Press if Livonia should annex this area of Nankin it would take in 10,000 new residents and reduce the area of Nankin about one-third. Interestingly enough the Free Press further quoted Nankin Township supervisor William Faust as saying he would reserve comment until he had a chance to make further study of the matter.

Fortunately for us here in Plymouth I can hear our own supervisor, Roy Lindsay, if such a move by Livonia should come about during his tenure of office. Supervisor Lindsay wouldn't need time to study the matter because there could be no problem such as this in which he wouldn't immediately throw his entire energy, and it is tremendous when needed, against such a suggestion or a plan. In this we are indeed fortunate.

However, with the driving force of a mushrooming city, such as Livonia, eyeing such moves, it makes it more eminent that closer harmony and closer study of a melding of our total Plymouth Community into one becomes one of our most important items of the future.

How it can be done to the fullest benefit of all concerned is not the problem of this editor but the alerting of our citizenry, both in the City and the Township, and other adjoining areas, to the threat of such future encroachment is most definitely our responsibility. The answer to the total problem is in the hands of our residents and elected officials and it is our opinion that the time is at hand for most serious concern on the part of us all.

Three of our blue ribbon families, all kings in the raising of corn found themselves involved, late last fall, in a situation so "confusing" it is almost as "corny" as corn flakes. So "corny" was the situation that Wayne County's Common Pleas court will try to find a proper solution to it on May 14th.

Now, this little story involves three neighbors, all good friends, two of whom will be brought to court, not of their liking, but to satisfy the attempt of insurance companies to collect funds they must pay out to those they had insured.

This little tale (actually its the tail of a young beef steer) started last November during the hunting season.

Community minded young Dale Wilkins answered a call to a fire down in Canton Township where he is a volunteer member of the Canton Fire Department. A short distance from his home he smashed head-on, in the middle of the road, into a young beef steer weighing between four and five hundred pounds. The result, a dead steer and a car smashed to the tune of some $500,000. Fortunately Dale wasn't hurt.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING, THE KEYSTONE OF INDUSTRIAL DEMOCRACY, WAS BORN IN 1799 WHEN PHILADELPHIA SHOEMAKERS NEGOTIATED A TRADE AGREEMENT WITH THEIR EMPLOYERS...

ANOTHER CENTURY PASSED, HOWEVER, BEFORE COLLECTIVE BARGAINING WAS PROTECTED BY LAW!

TODAY OVER 100,000 LABOR-MANAGEMENT CONTRACTS ARE NEGOTIATED EACH YEAR!

Thinking the steer was one of his own he hauled it home, but, after checking his herd he found it wasn't a Wilkin steer.

Don Korte, a near neighbor, heard of the accident and was sure the steer was one of his but upon examination found an ear tag which he thought belonged to the Palmers.

Young Canton Township trustee, and also a neighbor, Richard Palmer investigated and found the steer actually was one of theirs which had strayed from one of the pastures in the back of their farm.

Ownership was established and Wilkins filed an insurance claim for his car and Palmer filed one also for the value of his steer. This caused the resultant "confusion" when the insurance company of Wilkins decided to sue Palmer for the costs involved in fixing Wilkins car. So now the courts will make a decision for these two friends on who pays the bill.

Actually the above isn't the reason for this story. Investigation by the parties concerned turned up the fact that the steer had been able to get onto the road because some irresponsible hunter had opened one of the pasture gates and failed to close it.

This then brings us once again to the damages and problems caused by irresponsible hunters that tramp through the fields of the few remaining farms in this area. Their wanton killing of anything that moves or flies and their complete disregard of property makes them a most unpopular sight during the hunting season by people who live in the areas they invade.

For many years I hunted throughout this area but I never lost my respect for posted property or farmers fences. My own farm was posted two years ago in an attempt to help us provide a protected area for birds and other wild game and it is nauseating during the hunting season to see the wanton disrespect for our signs.

The dilemma in which our good friends down in Canton now find themselves over a straying steer is just one more reason why this section of Wayne County should be closed to hunters. In addition to the thousands of dollars worth of destruction that visiting gun bearers do each year in this area, here, outlined above, is one more graphic example of the problems they cause.

Most certainly the time has arrived to eliminate these violators from this entire area.

Michigan's birth rate is bound to go up soon, according to State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustus.

The 1962 birth rate was 182,476, the lowest since 1952, and the fifth consecutive year to show a drop from the previous 12-month period. The births last year were nearly 10,000 fewer than in 1961, Heustus said.

"Whether births continue to go down or remain on a plateau for next few years is anybody's guess. One thing is certain, however, they are bound to go up later," Heustus said.

Letters to The Editor

Plymouth Mail
Dear Editor:
Thought you may like to see what was in the St. Pete Times, today, about good old Michigan and Easter Problem.

The Easter Parade was lovely.

The freeze we had this winter was the worst in a century.

The City has hired a construction company which will cost several thousands to trim and cut down all trees that are dead. It's surprising to see many trees with very large trunks such as banyan trees, being cut down. All the pine trees leading to the Million Dollar Pier have been taken out and the Kiwanis Club replanted trees in their places.

It's beginning to look green again and many flowers in bloom but the poinsettias and hibiscus were all frozen out. But some seem to be sprouting out from bottom of shrubs. The lady next door has three avocado trees, one foot in diameter or more and they are all frozen and have to be cut down. Before the freeze I had several from the trees, which were ripened and tasted much better than the ones you get in the stores.

Am leaving April 22 for Plymouth where my home is at 11254 Southworth.

Yours truly,
Minnie Felsner.

Letter To the Editor

Dear Editor:
As I lean back puffing on a Viceroy to obtain by best pensive mood, the recent comment in "Chips From The Rock", pointing out that all Idiotes were outside of active government, suddenly became shot full of holes.

It became clear to me that even in office some of our glorious leaders do not know which can be filled with Shinola. I think we have an equally representative group both in and out of Politics.

The newspaper you are reading now is an essential part of our free society although you might at first think of it as just a frill.

J. Montgomery Curtis, director of the American Press Institute at Columbia University, recently described the newspaper as "the most intimate, personal and effective form of communication."

Pointing to the New York newspaper strikes earlier this year, Curtis said, "the loss of a newspaper to a community leaves a vacuum that cannot be filled by any other means of communication."

Radio and television also contribute to the public's right to know. But both of these are immediate and not long lasting, said Curtis.

"When it comes to news in depth, television and radio just aren't in the same league with the newspaper," he said. "The (New York) strike proved this point. The loss of newspapers resulted in a decrease in department store sales, as well as in food store sales, auto sales, and general stock market activity," he said.

In addition to these advertising benefits, Curtis pointed out the loss of newspapers caused drops in attendance at many of the cultural and entertainment events; people had difficulty locating available housing; and employers and potential employees couldn't get together.

Curtis predicts that the newspaper will continue to provide the most complete coverage of any media.

Most businessmen are honest and the exceptions hurt the majority as much as they harm the consumer.

This is one of the primary observations of the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office, which has been hearing complaints about these exceptions for nearly two years.

In this short time, the Division has processed more than 600 complaints involving frauds or cheats. The Division accepts only cases where there is a violation of state law and a continuous pattern of operation sufficient to imperil the public interest.

The Division does not handle cases which can be handled exclusively by private counsel, but only those which involve a state question.

Deceptive or "bait" advertising, misrepresentations, referral sales and other deceptive buying, selling and lending practices are the primary areas brought to the attention of the Attorney General's staff.

Hopes are that both the continued existence of the Division's probing into com-

SPORTSEEN

BY JEROME O'NEIL

As if enough words have not already been spent on the sorry National Football League scandal, we would add our two cents worth.

Reflecting on the matter, which somehow speaks of a trend in our society (i.e. — the crime is in being caught), we would venture to say that there indeed is room for regret arising out of the situation.

But, no room for sympathy.

The banishment for an indefinite period of sturdy Detroit tackle Alex Karras along with spectacular Paul Hornung of Green Bay is regrettable only in so far as it tarnishes the hitherto seemingly unblemished complexion of the NFL.

Regrettable, too, that these fine players should suffer the loss of salary and their respective teams the loss of their unquestioned superb talents.

But as for sympathy, there should be none, except perhaps for the families concerned, and for their presumably are quitters.

It seems to boil down to the simple fundamental that if you wish to dance then, too, you must be prepared to "pay the piper."

It could perhaps also be drawn from the newspaper accounts that Karras, fine athlete and competitor that he is, was not altogether ready and willing to meet his due when the piper came calling.

This observation by virtue of his reported remark that "I hope they know they've really fouled me up and my family, too." Or some such comment to that effect.

At any rate, the speeding motorist, ticketed and fined $10 or $15 for his haste, could also plead that he "has been fouled up."

Or, say, a man robs a grocery store and winds up reflecting on his indiscretion from behind bars. He, too, could claim "they fouled me up."

Not to say that Karras or Hornung are in that category, necessarily, but there is perhaps a point to be made.

Because Karras put his bets down with his eyes wide open, as did Hornung. And the speeding driver did so willfully. And the thief entered the grocery store with foreknowledge that his intentions, when they took place, would constitute a misdeed.

There is room, most certainly, for regret.

But none for sympathy.

Because few, if any, absolutely have to dance to the piper's tune.

On another quick note, we might extend our congratulations to the Detroit Red Wings. Although they lost in their bid for the Stanley Cup, they made a remarkable run for it and no one could fault them on their attempts to halt the Toronto Maple Leafs.

On television it seemed there was, however, a vast difference between Detroit and Toronto so far as overall team strength and skill was concerned.

Of course, there was a sizeable gap between the two teams in the final standings, which the outcome of the playoffs supported rather decisively.

Still, we say the Red Wings put on a heluva show.

Revenge Sweet As Rocks Nip R. Union, 1-0

Plymouth High football quarterback Dick Schryer chose the opening day of the Rocks' 1963 baseball season to gain revenge over Redford Union signal-caller Chuck Shelton.

Last fall on the gridiron here, Shelton led Redford Union to a come-from-behind victory over the Rocks after Schryer — battling the flu — had returned a punt 80 yards for a touchdown to gain Plymouth a slender lead.

Schryer was a Plymouth's quarterback that night, and the lead he provided was short-lived.

Shelton, Redford Union's all-league signal-caller, took to the air in an impressive display of passing wizardry. Almost single-handedly, he engineered an aerial touchdown assault that created the margin of victory, abruptly erasing Schryer's punt-return performance of moments earlier.

Monday afternoon, when the Rocks' baseball team invaded Redford Union's diamond, it was a different story, much to Schryer's — and Plymouth's — satisfaction.

This time, the two opposed each other on the pitching mound, not across a line of scrimmage.

Schryer out-duled Shelton and posted a narrow 1-0 victory as Plymouth opened its 1963 baseball campaign on a vastly rewarding note of success.

The Plymouth hurler gave up only one hit, struck out 12, walked one. Shelton was almost as effective. He allowed two hits, fanned nine Plymouth batters, but walked four.

It was a double error, however, that provided Plymouth with the victory.

In the seventh inning, Dick Egloff opened with Plymouth's second hit of the game, a single, and Hal Kusek struck out. Egloff moved to second when John Smith grounded out. Caleb Lulbrand walked.

With Tom Lockwood batting, Shelton uncorked a wild pitch that skipped past his catcher, who chased it to the backstop, scooped it up and threw to third in hopes of cutting down the advancing Egloff.

Instead, the ball skittered into left field and Egloff raced home with what turned out to be the winning run for the Rocks.

Only other Plymouth hit was a topper down the third base line in the fourth inning by Lockwood. He beat it out for a single. Redford Union's lone hit of the game was a far as right center in the fourth.

The Rocks threatened in the sixth. But with runners on second and third and two out, Schryer fanned to end momentarily Plymouth's hopes.

Only other baserunner for Plymouth came in the first inning when Kusek drew a walk. He was thrown out trying to steal, however.

Redford Union moved runners as far as second base on three occasions, but never any further than that. Although it was the opener for Plymouth, Redford Union had earlier scored an easy 11-0 win over Farmington.

Plymouth's JayVee baseball team dropped a 3-1 decision to RU's junior varsity here while the varsity was winning in Redford. Dave Troutman absorbed the JayVee loss.

Next varsity baseball clash is here Thursday afternoon when Bentley visits. The Rocks have a 15-game schedule all told for 1963. Redford Union was the beginning.

Open Forum Meeting Considers the Future

An open forum meeting, to discuss the future of the Plymouth community, is scheduled to be held tonight (Wednesday) at Junior High East.

The meeting is being arranged by Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister with an eye to achieving more complete uniformity among all of the community groups that are concerned with Plymouth's growth years.

Wayne County Council delegates are B. England, G. Olson, E. Williams. Alternates are W. Cadaret, H. Luttermoser, D. Shaw.

The post officers will be announced next week. Even if you are not too active come out for the installation and see an impressive service. This is an open installation and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Caution Kids Of Strangers, Parents Urged

Because complaints involving the molestation of small children increase in warm weather months, Sgt. Ploehn, commander of the Detroit State Police post, is urging parents to warn their youngsters against going anywhere with strangers.

Sgt. Ploehn emphasized that this warning should be occasionally repeated to keep children on guard against accepting gifts or other lures from persons they do not know.

He said that State Police last year investigated 571 sex offenses complaints, which include child molestation throughout the state.

While this was 22 fewer than in 1961, Ploehn stressed that the records again showed that the offenses increased in the warm weather months.

High month last year was July when there were 68 offenses.

WORLD WAR I VETS EYE PENSION HIKE

Plymouth veterans of World War I — as well as those elsewhere across the nation — are eyeing a congressional bill that proposes an increase in their pensions. It also would make more of them eligible for pensions.

EARLY MORNING work-out last Saturday found these five members of Plymouth High's varsity tennis squad hard at it on the courts behind the high school. From left: Clark Raven, Tim Wernette, Jim Bruff, Phil Huxley and Dave Tidwell. Plymouth was prevented by inclement weather from opening its 1963 tennis season on schedule earlier this month, but expected to inaugurate the new campaign last Monday afternoon in a match with Franklin High of Livonia. The contest was to be played on the courts at Riverside Park, site of all of Plymouth's "home" tennis meets.

Vision Screening Program Set for Plymouth Children

Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Wayne County health commissioner, has announced a schedule for the vision screening program to be conducted in Plymouth for children three and one-half to four and one-half years of age. The project will get underway in the city on April 29 and continues to May 5.

The testing will take place daily from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in all Plymouth elementary schools. No charge will be made for the service which is being provided by the Wayne County Department of Health in cooperation with the State Health Department.

According to Dr. Molner, the purpose of the vision screening program is to locate children who need the attention of an eye doctor. He emphasized the early detection and treatment of abnormalities of the eye.

The screening will be done by trained vision technicians from the health department. Any child who does not pass the screening test will be advised to see an eye doctor for further examination and treatment, if needed.

Communications accompanied by a health department form are being sent to parents of children in the testing-age group in Plymouth. Parents are requested to return the form if interested in participating in the program.

Interested parties may also call the Wayne County Health Department at 274-2800 or PA 1-2000, Extension 6901, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, Monday through Friday, for an appointment.

The clinic both days will be from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. The two-year immunization injection will cost $3 and dog licenses up to and including May 31 will be $2 for males and $4 for females.

In line with the convention theme, "The Influence of Youth in a Changing World," the teens from Our Lady of Good Counsel presented a challenging panel discussion on "Human Relations and Teen Attitudes."

The panel members were: Peter Koepke, Lois McGough, Jack Riess, Ed Riess, and Jane Schaefer. Raymond Maly acted as adult advisor to the panel.

Other delegates from Plymouth to the convention were: Paul Campbell, Jeanne Keller, Thomas Kennelly, Donna Kelly, Diane Cenko, and Cindy Thorpe. The Convention was a new and rewarding experience for all.

ASSISTANT CHIEF of police, Loren Johnson, of Plymouth, donned his 'civies' one day last week to attend a workshop in Riverview on the techniques of training adult school-crossing guards. Johnson (at right) is shown examining some of the crossing guard training material used at the workshop. With the Plymouth police officer is John Trellay, the Plymouth area safety council advisor for the Automobile Club of Michigan. The Auto Club sponsored the one-day workshop. Some 30 police officers from suburban communities attended.

Auto Club Says Standardize Crossing Guards

A proposal aimed at further minimizing dangers to school students who cross streets on their way to classes has been made by the Auto Club of Michigan.

The suggestion is to standardize the hand signals, uniforms and techniques of adult school crossing guards. It was made at a recent training workshop conducted in Riverview by the Auto Club.

Among the 30 police officers attending the day-long operation of the guards were the workshop's major aims. Most of the police officers attending are in charge of training adult crossing guards in their local communities.

Conformity of the hand signals, dress and the general operation of the guards were the workshop's major aims. Most of the police officers attending are in charge of training adult crossing guards in their local communities.

"If the cities could standardize such things as hand signals and uniforms, it would eliminate much of the confusion presently encountered by motorists," said an Auto Club spokesman.

"The drivers frequently are bewildered by the wide variation in traffic directing motions of crossing guards from one suburb to another," he explained. "The uniforms worn by the guards are far from standardized and present further confusion," he said.

Voters to Decide on All Seven College Trustee Seats June 10

The election of all seven trustees of Schoolcraft Community College will take place June 10 in conjunction with the annual school elections in the Plymouth, Livonia, Garden City and Clarenceville school districts.

The community college district is comprised of those four school districts.

All seven current trustees, two of whom are Plymouth residents, are expected to run for re-election. In fact, nominating petitions have already been picked up by five of the seven incumbents.

The seven present officeholders include Harold Fischer and Mrs. Jane Moehle, of Plymouth. Fischer is chairman of the board of trustees. Mrs. Moehle is a trustee-at-large.

The other five are: Clark Oldenburg, of Garden City; Paul Mutnick, of Clarenceville; Erwin S. Brown, of Livonia; and Charles Kirkpatrick and James O'Neil, trustees-at-large with Mrs. Moehle.

In accordance with state law, the complete board membership must be elected at this, the first, election following the actual formation of the college district.

The board will continue with its seven-member representation and will retain the current distribution of one member from each school district and three members elected at-large.

Hereafter, all trustees are to be elected for a term of six years, but in order to maintain continuity on the board, the seven trustees drew lots — as directed by law — to establish the length of term of office for trustees from the four school districts.

Clarenceville drew the four-year term, and each of the other districts received the two-year terms.

At the June 10 election, two six-year terms and one four-year term will be filled by members elected "at large."

Petitions of candidacy may be obtained at the college administrative offices, which are presently located at the old Newburgh School at 9901 Newburgh Rd. The petitions must be signed by no fewer than 50 nor more than 200 qualified and registered voters within the school district from which the member seeks to be elected.

Deadline for filing the petitions is May 11. They must be filed with the secretary of the board of education of the school district in which the candidate resides.

Further information is available from the college offices.

High winds, pelting rains and some of the greenest grass has suddenly taken the spotlight of the local backyard stages. Trees that only yesterday looked positively indecent with their naked branches have discreetly turned faint green. Early tulips have popped up like rockets from their mysterious, underground caverns.

Yes, Spring has arrived. To herald the frisky, playful weather a large, loyal group of Plymouth Theater Guild members turned out to help Jerry French stage the now-famous cat contest. Jerry at the last minute found he had to leave early for his two week reserve stint with the U.S. Army.

Saxie Heft, Barb Elliot, Mary Ann Nichols, and Dennis Merchant were but a few of the Guild members that came down to keep the "fang and claw" set in motion. You'll have a chance to see the cats that won the contest in "The Mousetrap" next week on either Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

The Fisher Theater management doesn't have to be told "to put on a happy face" these days. Joe Nedlander reports that the advance sale for "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" has been astronomical. Close to $100,000 worth of tickets had been sold before the show opened on Monday night. For Detroit this is a phenomenal accomplishment.

THE BILLBOARD

(Week of April 24 - May 1)

Penn Theater "THE MAN FROM THE DINERS CLUB" Danny Kaye in film for the entire family. Danny is presently fracturing audiences on Broadway in his one-man show at the Billy Rose Theater. Billy is mighty happy since the weekly take hits over 60 thou. Film in yesterday looked positively for one week.

P and A Theater "THE LONELINESS OF THE LONG DISTANCE RUNNER" Unusual title for a British film that for Old George's money is one of the finest produced all year. Here's a film that catches you up in the excitement found in the final reels. Don't miss this beautiful piece of cinematic magic. Hope it stays more than a week.

Plymouth High Auditorium "THE MOUSETRAP" Ten year favorite in London comes to Plymouth with such stars as Roberta Seelhoff, Pat Dorrian, Effie Kuisel, Dennis Merchant, Paul Wheeler, Charles Bousequet, and Don Lievau. Opens May 2 at 8:15 for a three day run.

Vanguard Theater "THE HOSTAGE" Last chance to see a rowdy, rough Irish comedy by that wild boy of the new Ireland, Brenda Behan. Little Mary Slim shine opens next week.
