Plan for Third Heights Vote In Two Years

Voters in Plymouth Township last Tuesday rejected for the second time a proposed charter for the City of Plymouth Heights, and immediately work was begun to call a third charter commission later this year.

Margin of defeat for the charter was a lopsided 658 votes against its adoption and just 46 in favor of it.

Formation of a new charter commission within the next 90 days will consequently lead to still another charter election in the Township late in 1965.

Although the proposed charter was turned down by a sizable margin last week, the defeat was not nearly so great as it was in January, 1961. At that time, the first charter was rejected, 35 to 1,589.

Already, petitions calling for a third charter commission are being circulated, according to John D. McEwen, mayor de facto of the City of Plymouth Heights. He is also clerk of Plymouth Township.

McEwen explained that petitioners have 10 days from the date of election to obtain 400 qualified signatures and submit the petitions to the county clerk's office.

And then, within the next 90 days, an election must be held at which time the nine members of the new charter commission will be voted into office.

No members of the immediate past charter commission are eligible to serve on the new commission, McEwen said.

He added that he believed this would be the last attempt to adopt a charter for Plymouth Heights. He said the new constitution would prevent further attempts.

80-Year-Old Local Woman Dies in Crash

An 80-year-old Plymouth woman was fatally injured last Thursday when the car in which she was riding collided with a dump truck at Dequindre and 18 Mile Rds. in Sterling Township.

Mrs. Anna Themm, of 549 Kellogg St., was pronounced dead at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Mt. Clemens.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her son, Daniel, 58, of Marine City. Another passenger was Mrs. Molla Heymann, 72, of Plymouth, who was injured, as was the truck driver, Donald Earl, 29, of Troy.

Funeral services for Mrs. Themm were held Monday at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church with Rev. Norman Berg officiating. Interment was at Wixom Cemetery in Wixom.

Born Aug. 26, 1882, in Detroit, Mrs. Themm was the daughter of Leopold and Augusta (Blum) Schielke. She was married to Charles F. Themm on May 30, 1902. Her husband passed away in 1955.

Survivors, in addition to Daniel, include three daughters. They are Mrs. Viola Knaut, of Wayne; Mrs. Leonora Mahrley, of Livonia; and Mrs. Adeline Packer, of Plymouth.

Others are a sister, Mrs. William Kreeger, of Plymouth, and eight grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Themm moved to Plymouth from Farmington in 1917. She was a member of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church here.

Band member Tom O'Shea will play the rag-time piano, furnished by the Smith Music Co. He will be accompanied by a Dixieland group of five other band members.

The concert will be the highlights of the Plymouth Community Band concert in Kellogg Park Friday evening.

INJURED IN FALL

Ralph Rostow, owner of Graham's Ladies Apparel on W. Ann Arbor Tr., sustained a severely cut forehead Monday morning when he fell down a flight of stairs at his store.

He was taken to S. Mary's Hospital in Livonia for emergency treatment.

ROTARIANS Robert Waldecker and Ed Sawusch check the corn that will provide part of the menu at the Rotary Club's annual chicken barbeque Sept. 8. Upwards of 10,000 guests are expected at the feast.

'Early Bird' Rotarians Sell Barbeque Tickets

Citing the old adage about the "early bird," local Rotarians are already selling tickets to their ever-popular chicken barbeque to be held Sunday, Sept. 8, in Kellogg Park.

It will be the grand finale of Plymouth's 1963 Fall Festival which begins Thursday, Sept. 5.

Plans for the barbeque, according to general chairman Edward Sawusch, are proceeding on the basis of 10,000 expected guests. A year ago, the barbeque attracted more than 5,000 and Rotary Club this year is intent upon doubling that figure.

The meal will include a barbecued half chicken, of course, along with plenty of trimmings. Roasted ears of corn will be among the items on the menu.

Tickets are available now from any Rotary Club member. The prices are unchanged from last year — $1.50 for adults and all take-out orders, and $1 for children under 12.

A number of exhibits and special events during the dinner itself will comprise an outdoor "floor show," Sawusch joked. Proceeds from the barbeque dinner will be used by the Rotary Club in its various projects of benefit to the community.

Asks Help of Residents City Seeks to Curb Hot-Rodders

Acting on an increasing number of informal complaints, City Commissioners Monday night took steps to curb hot-rod motorists here.

In addition to passing an official resolution ordering the public safety department to pay still closer attention to the problem, the Commissioners also agreed upon a three-point plan that involves the cooperation of citizens.

All-in-all, Commissioners are hopeful of halting the numerous instances of youthful drivers who squeal the tires of their cars and cause excessive noise, thus creating a potentially dangerous situation.

The three-point program to thwart hot-rodgers is headed by a plea to citizens.

It asks that residents who witness an instance of hot-rod driving promptly file a signed complaint with either the police department or City Attorney Edward Draugelis.

"In order to file a complaint that will have meaning to it," Draugelis explained, "the citizen must be able to recognize the driver of the hot-rod car and to be able to identify the car itself."

Purpose of the formal signed complaint is to permit the police to take the case to court where traffic violations call for a maximum fine of as much as $100.

Second portion of the three-point plan is like-wise a request to citizens.

It asks that they continue to notify police of the "where and when" of hot-rod driving situations, so that patrol cars may be stationed in the vicinity to control the instances and violation tickets may be issued where they are warranted.

"Lastly, the parents of young drivers must be made aware that their teen-age children are driving a potentially lethal weapon," Draugelis pointed out.

With the assistance of Draugelis and Public Safety Director Kenneth Fisher, the Commission drew up the three-pointed plan and agreed to it.

Said Fisher, during the discussion: "We definitely need the cooperation of the people in order to stop this situation entirely, and Plymouth isn't a community that is alone with its problem."

"The quickest way to solve it, however, is to get a few citizens to sign a complaint so we can take the cases to court."

Commissioners touched upon the thought of taking up the matter with Municipal Judge Harry Deyo, urging him to crack down hard on cases that come up in his court room. No decision was made on this aspect, however.

The Commission did pass the resolution ordering the department of public safety to take all necessary measures to bring the hot-rod motorist problem under control.

"It isn't that we're not issuing violations for these situations," Fisher said. "In fact, there are a couple coming up on the court docket shortly."

He said that "only with the cooperation of citizens" can the situation be brought fully under control.

Draugelis explained that an excessively noisy car is considered a violation, just as speeding is one. He said that defective mechanical parts on a car, such as a broken muffler or tailpipe, constitute grounds for a violation ticket.

"If we get the cooperation of the residents," a Commissioner pointed out, "we should be able to control this."

Joint Planning Group 'Near Miss' in Township

The Plymouth Township Board came within a hair's breadth last week of adding further financial support to a proposed community-wide joint planning authority, but instead chose to table the matter for study.

Before resorting to tabling the item, however, the seven-member Board — by a 4-3 vote — declined at least temporarily to allocate the Township's $5,000 share of the project.

Supervisor Roy Lindsay cast the deciding "no" vote after members Elizabeth Holmes, John D. McEwen and Dick Lauterbach had voted in favor of a motion to allocate the funds and Ralph Garber, C. V. Sparks and Louis Norman voted to oppose it.

Lindsay's vote was necessary to break the tie. It was the first 4-3 split by Township Board members on any issue in many months.

The motion to earmark $5,000 for the project, as the City of Plymouth had done previously, was submitted by Mrs. Holmes, the Township's treasurer. She is one of four persons who earlier had conceived and proposed the joint authority to the four taxing units that comprise the Plymouth community.

Garber, a trustee, followed Mrs. Holmes' motion with one of his own, this one to table the matter for more study. Garber's motion passed automatically.

As a result, the joint planning authority is no better nor worse off than it was a week ago at a time when a lack of funds was being cited as a possible reason why the authority would never materialize.

At present, although all four taxing units have considered the proposal, only the City of Plymouth has actually earmarked funds for the project. The City's share is $5,000.

In addition to the City and Township, the two other proposed participants are Canton Township and the Plymouth Community School District.

Canton has indicated it will make an effort to include its $2,500 share in the next budget, which was introduced in November. Meanwhile, it is financially unable to take part.

The School District, while not presently in a position to be confronted with a problem over where to find the District's $7,500 share. It is available from contingency funds, providing School Board members are willing to divert it to this purpose.

Board members are, however, concerned over the legality of such an expenditure on the part of the School District. Board President Gerald Fischer has asked the District's legal counsel, William Sempliner, for an opinion.

Fischer is expected to call a committee-of-the-whole meeting for July 22 at which time Board members will discuss further the advisability of participating in the joint planning authority.

Intended purpose of the authority would be to expand upon the work done in recent years by the Industrial Development Corp.

It involves bringing new industry into the Plymouth community, thus increasing the tax revenue derived by all taxing units, and participating in the School District which consumes the majority of local tax dollars.

Mrs. Holmes, George Lawton, Ernest Henry and Harold Guenther conceived the planning authority in the aftermath of the Open Forum session held last April and hosted by Superintendent of Schools Russell Isbister.

Davis & Lent to Mark Twentieth Anniversary

"I believe Plymouth has a good future and will continue to grow if the past is any indication," Wendell Lent, owner of Davis & Lent, said today on the eve of his 20th business year in Plymouth.

Davis & Lent will observe its 20th anniversary Thursday, July 18, and plans are complete for a big anniversary birthday sale. Over 40 prizes will be given away during the celebration. No purchase is necessary. "Just come in and register," Lent said.

Lent moved to Plymouth from Hillsdale, Mich., in 1933 and became an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

In 1943 he and his brother-in-law, H. H. Davis, opened the original Davis & Lent men's wear store on Penniman Ave. When Davis moved to California a year and a half later, Lent bought out his share of the business and later went into partnership with Charles Beegle. Since Mr. Beegle's death, Lent has been sole owner.

Ten years ago, the store was moved to its present location at 336 S. Main, thus almost doubling the floor space available for merchandise and display. The present building has 7,500 square feet.

The original store was stocked only with men's clothing, but Lent has since expanded the business and now has a complete line of sport goods, as well as a boy's clothing department.

Davis & Lent has always handled name brand merchandise — Hart-Schaffner and Marx, Arrow shirts, Stetson hats, Hickok jewelry, Interwoven stockings, Jockey underwear, to name a few.

Lent is active in the Plymouth community. He was a charter member of the Jay-Coes; has been a board member or merchant's committee member of the Chamber of Commerce for 20 years; a member of the Kiwanis Club for 18 years; and a member of the Symphony Society and Masonic Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lent were high school sweethearts in Hillsdale, after moving to Plymouth after high school and were married here 28 years ago.

They live at 594 Hartsough and have four children and two grandchildren. Linda is married to Terry West, and they have two sons, Victor and Stevie. Wendell's other

Propose Extended Telephone Service

An expanded telephone calling service into Detroit could become available to customers in Plymouth under a plan proposed this week by Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The proposal is identified as "Super Extended Area Service" and would be offered on an optional basis for a trial period to determine customer acceptance, according to Hazen J. Wilson, manager here for Michigan Bell.

Under the proposed plan, residential subscribers using SEAS in Plymouth would be able to call as many as half a million telephones in an area including downtown and midtown Detroit.

The SEAS plan for residential users provides unlimited calling without toll or message unit charges, Wilson said. Business users would pay a message-unit fee of 4.2 cents per call.

The basic monthly rate for residential customers would be $9.50 and for one-party business subscribers to SEAS the rate would be $24 per month.

Present one-party residential rate is $4.95 per month, before taxes, and the present business rate is $10.60 per month, plus taxes.

Michigan's Public Service Commission must approve the proposed plan before it may be put into effect, Wilson explained.

According to a release from Michigan Bell, the roll revealed that "about 50 percent" of the voters in the four telephone areas favored expanded toll-free calling privileges.

Of the four plans on the ballot submitted to the customers, SEAS was the favorite, Wilson said.

The ballot also provided for voting to retain the present service.

At the time of the balloting, SEAS was offered as a non-optional service, but under the present proposal, customers would have a choice of subscribing for SEAS or retaining their present service, Wilson explained.

The other three proposals on the ballot — each providing liberalizations of the present Metro Calling Service — received an insufficient number of votes to warrant making them available as new service offerings, Wilson said.

Since the new offering makes SEAS a matter of choice with the customer instead of non-optional as proposed on the ballot, the rate will be somewhat higher than indicated in the questionnaire, he said.

Board President Clarifies New School Budget

The Plymouth Mail Plymouth, Mich. Dear Editor:

I appreciate very much the excellent coverage in your newspaper of last week explaining the 1963-64 budget approved by the Board of Education of the Plymouth Community School District last Monday, July 8, 1963. This information to the public was particularly important in view of the fact that, despite our urgent invitation, only a handful of citizens attended our public meeting. We hope that many more have had sufficient interest to become informed by means of your press coverage.

I would like to clarify one aspect of our budget planning, however, that was not entirely clear in the press story. The Board has approved a budget that is completely balanced, without use of the cash reserve built up during the past budget year. As we outlined in our public meeting, the Board and school administration worked diligently to control costs and conserve our tax dollars during the 1962-1963 school year. As a result, the District's cash reserves were increased by approximately $75,000 over

Missing Ten Hours, Boy, 9, Found by Aunt

Township firemen and Wayne County Sheriff's deputies and detectives mounted a 65-man search for a missing Plymouth boy late last Thursday and early Friday, and then the youngster was found by an aunt.

Nine-year-old Ricky Joyner, who lives with his grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Joyner, at 11325 East Side Dr., was missing for about 10 hours.

He was found by an aunt, Helen Francis, of Livonia, as she was searching for him in her auto. She drove by a church under construction near the boy's home and the youngster recognized her car and ran out to meet it.

He had spent the night in the partially completed church, according to an uncle, James Joyner, who said he thought the boy had "just wandered too far from home and had gotten lost."

The boy was unharmed.

Some two dozen Township firemen — regulars and volunteers — headed by acting fire chief Louis Norman teamed up with relatives, neighbors and Sheriff's deputies and detectives to scour the area during the early hours of Friday. The aunt spotted the boy about 8 a.m. that morning.

8 Dead Lambs Cost Township $123.20

A dog killed eight of Glenn Stacey's lambs in a pasture along Naper Rd. July 5 and Plymouth Township was compelled to reimburse Stacey for his loss.

Township Board members last Tuesday agreed to reimburse $123.20 in damages under the provisions of a state law that holds Townships responsible in such circumstances.

Stacey lives at 5563 Naper Rd. The incident was certified by Township justice of the peace Martin Schomberger. The dog was not caught.

announcement last week that a nine-hole par-27 golf course, complete with clubhouse and driving range, will be constructed at the corner of Sheldon and Six Mile Rds.

To be named the Brooklane Golf Course, the abbreviated nine-hole lay-out, with each hole a par-three, will be tailor-made for golfers who want to improve their irons and chip shots and polish up their putting.

Blake Northrup, of Ross B. Northrup & Son Funeral Home in Redford Township, conceived the idea for the course with the help of Ernie Shave, former pro at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Site of the new course is a 35-acre parcel on the former Will Johnson farm. Johnson was Northrup's grandfather. Part of the farm, a huge one originally, is now the Wayne County Training School. Another small part of the original farm is the City of Plymouth's well field.

Some 100 acres of the farm remain undeveloped today, and 35 acres will comprise the Brooklane Golf Course. Northrup said that the course will be completed and open early next spring. Construction began last month. It will be a semi-private club, Northrup explained.

The driving range will include three target greens in addition to the regular distance markers that enable golfers to determine how far their drives are carrying.

The nine par-three greens will vary in distance from 110 yards to 265 yards. Watered fairways, a club house and a pro shop will complete the course.

Shave, who was pro at Meadowbrook from 1938-43, will be general manager. Northrup, the owner, has named his son, Ross B. Northrup III, as an assistant to Shave. Shave, a resident of Northville, was vice president of the National Professional Golfer's Association in 1944-45, was an assistant pro at Oakland Hills in 1936-37 and before that was a pro at a country club in Cleveland.

He is presently an advisor at Meadowbrook. Northrup, 46, is married to the former Betty Schrader, of Northville.

Within the next few weeks, the greens will have been built and construction of the fairways will get underway. Already, the fairways have been staked. The Lewis Doyle Co., of Keego Harbor, is the contractor.

Commissioner Arch Vallier indicated at Monday night's meeting that he will propose a motion asking that the reservoir be built.

City Manager Albert Glassford has been instructed to prepare a report on the means of financing the proposed storage facility, providing Vallier's fellow Commissioners vote in favor of his motion.

The public, of course, is invited to attend the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

In other matters during Monday night's regular session, Commissioners dealt with routine items. They discussed a $120 repair bill to the comfort station in the central parking lot and Glassford was directed to determine the usage of the comfort station. The Commission learned that their vandalism insurance is $100 deductible, so the $20 balance will be paid by the insurance company.

Commissioner Jim Jabara reported on his study involving the possible construction of a railroad overpass in back of the Mill St. urban renewal area. It is under study in terms of extending Church St. through to Mill St. someday.

Commission May Decide On Reservoir August 5

The matter of water—specifically, the question of whether or not to build a new reservoir—will come up at City Commission's regular meeting Aug. 5.

Commissioner Arch Vallier indicated at Monday night's meeting that he will propose a motion asking that the reservoir be built.

City Manager Albert Glassford has been instructed to prepare a report on the means of financing the proposed storage facility, providing Vallier's fellow Commissioners vote in favor of his motion.

The public, of course, is invited to attend the meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Commissioner Jim Jabara reported on his study involving the possible construction of a railroad overpass in back of the Mill St. urban renewal area. It is under study in terms of extending Church St. through to Mill St. someday.

He said that the cost of the railroad overpass alone would be $256,000, not including the price of land acquisition or the cost of building a four-lane pavement.

The C & O railroad would participate for no more than 15 per cent of the cost of the overpass. No action was taken.

The Commission granted permission to downtown merchants to hold their annual Sidewalk Days sale and display merchandise on the sidewalk. Sidewalk Days will be held Aug. 2 and 3.

A public hearing will be conducted at 8 p.m. Aug. 5 on the matter of a proposed rezoning of property on Pearl and Cherry Sts. between Dunn St., Starkweather Ave. and the C & O railroad property.

Commissioners agreed to pay stand-by firemen their regular $8 wage for 15 hours of stand-by service, plus the volunteer fireman's wage in the event of a fire run.

Allard Construction Co. was granted an extension on work to relocate water mains along Northville Rd.

Authorization was granted to make a $7,634 partial payment to Thompson-McCully for work that has been completed on the central parking lot, and the asking of bids on a Byron St. sewer extension was approved.

Mike Hoben, coordinator of the YMCA Youth Employment Project, explained to Commissioners the success of his recent efforts on this undertaking and asking that they be aware of the significance of the project. He said that a youth commission will be formed by mid-August and will consist of representatives from all adult organizations and governments within the Plymouth community.

So goes the old song, but in today's busy world there's nothing more valuable to the homemaker than her Blue Star Gas Home with its efficient, dependable, fully-automatic gas appliances!

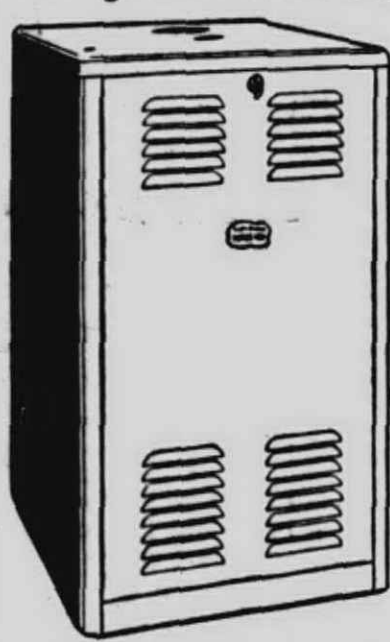

In the Blue Star Gas Home, built-in gas servants take over major household chores... meals are turned out quickly and with little supervision, laundering is coordinated with daily chores, hot water is always available, trash and garbage can be disposed of indoors, ample refrigerator and freezer space save marketing trips and fingertip climate control keeps the family comfortably warm all winter.

Forgotten is the old-fashioned refrain... today it's the modern miracles of natural gas that a girl prizes!

Plan Third Heights Vote

move to incorporate the Township is simply to prevent any adjoining municipalities from stepping in and annexing parts of the Township.

It boils down to a legal "holding action," in other words.

McEwen was returned to the office of Heights' mayor de facto by virtue of 62 votes in votes in Tuesday's balloting. Ralph Garber had two votes and Roy Lindsay had one.

Interestingly, since the charter was defeated, McEwen would have held the office anyway, regardless of the outcome of the write-in voting. He was elected in January, 1916, to a four-year office, which — of course — has not yet expired.

Write-in votes comprised all of the nominations for various offices in Plymouth Heights.

Robert Richardson, with 24 votes, led in the race for clerk. Elizabeth Holmes had five, Julia Honke, C. Koch and McEwen each had two votes, and Janice Birkelbaw, Ardit Fisher, Helen Richardson and C. Rocker each had one vote.

Mrs. Holmes, the Township's treasurer, had 45 votes for treasurer of Plymouth Heights.

There were a total of 23 write-in candidates for councilman. Dick Lauterbach led with 31, Louis Norman and C. V. Sparks both had 20. All three are trustees on Plymouth Township's board.

James Garber, chairman of this past charter commission, had 32 votes for municipal judge, and his father, Ralph Garber, another Township trustee, had four. Township Schomberger had two votes.

There were 10 write-ins for constable, headed by Donald King with 39.

McEwen, speaking as Township clerk, reported that a total of 709 ballots were cast. Women voters out-numbered the men, 356 to 353.

The City of Plymouth Heights does not actually encompass all of Plymouth Township. A small portion of the Township along the western boundary is excluded since it did not qualify for the incorporation move on a basis of insufficient population.

After a new charter commission has been elected, it will set to work once again revising the charter. When the revisions have been completed, the Michigan attorney general's office must rule on the document's legality. Then the governor's signature is necessary before the third charter adoption election may be held.

Best estimate of the date for the next charter election puts it sometime in the fall of 1965.

Woodlore Subdivision, at the corner of Beck and Ann Arbor Rds., should receive its long-sought water transmission lines by mid-August following action by the Plymouth Township Board last week.

Board members awarded an installation contract to the S. Weissman Excavating Co. in the amount of $29,905 during a regular Board meeting Tuesday.

The Weissman bid was the second lowest of five submitted, and $2,500 higher than the low bid of $27,402 from the Allard Contracting Co.

However, the Board agreed that since the Allard Co. could not complete the job until mid-October, the contract should go to the Weissman firm. Weissman promised an Aug. 15 completion date.

Engineer Herald Hamill said the Township is justified in refusing the low bid in view of the time limit. Other bids on the job were from: George Odien Co. ($31,650); Gould Development Co. ($35,856); and Capocci Bros.

Dave Wall had a 39. Tom Janicki 40 and Neal Goodman 41 to pace the scoring for the day.

balance available at the start of the fiscal year. This brings the District's balance slightly over $200,000, which is about the normal balance required to operate to slightly over $200,000, which is about the normal balance required to operate the District effectively.

In prior years, it had been necessary to reduce cash reserves somewhat in order to maintain the District's educational programs at reasonable levels. Now, as a result of recent increases in the tax base and careful budgeting, the District's cash reserves have been rebuilt to a more normal level.

So far as the new budget for 1963-1964 is concerned, the planned expenditures have been held to the level of expected receipts. Total income from state aid and local tax receipts, with no increase in the tax rate levied by the District, are estimated at $2,663,000, and planned expenditures have been budgeted at the same level of $2,663,000.

The increases provided for in this budget were considered essential by the Board and were amply covered in your article last week.

Thank you for the opportunity to clarify this aspect of our budget planning for the coming year.

About 50 members were out for our meeting last week Thursday night. All seemed to give their stamp of approval to the remodeling being done on our hall. Many of our members have worked in a long, hard hours on this project, and there is still a great deal of work to be done.

Many Sister Grangers have helped in various ways, but mainly in supplying snacks for our tired brothers who have just earned their "coffee breaks". Some of our members have contributed point or other materials while still others have made cash contributions to help the cause along.

No contribution is too small to be acceptable and much more is needed. Have you done your part?

Shoe Scoop

One, two, color your shoe. Bob Beyer, Beyer Rexall Drugs, has come up with another interesting contest and this one is of special interest to the women — shoe coloring.
All you have to do is color a pair of shoes, either low or high heels, with Shu-Mak-Up and bring them with the Shu-Mak-Up box to the Main Street Beyer Drug Store July 16 to July 26.
Kick up your heels and let your imagination run wild. Use stripes, glitter, sequins, checks, criss-crosses, floral designs, plaids, stripes, dots, or combine them. There are 24 designer colors, easy to apply and they dry quickly and leave a smooth, color-coating that won't smudge or rain off.
Color a pair to match your purse, belt, hat or trim-color to match your luggage, scarf, raincoat. You can copy any design in your wardrobe or freehand your own.
The decision of the judges will be final and prizes will be awarded July 27. Two Shu-Mak-Up coloring wardrobes will be awarded — one for flats or sport shoes, and one for heels or dress-up styles. All shoes will be on display until the end of the contest.

TREASURES FROM Plymouth Pantries

"Meet you at Hillside Inn for lunch," I said. When I arrived, a little late as usual, there must have been at least 100 cars parked in the lot, but I knew the gracious but expert service would be the same and that accommodations would still be as excellent as always — Hillside Inn, 41661 Plymouth Rd., can conveniently serve 300 people for lunch, 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.
Every day tempting, pleasing meals are carefully prepared in a beautiful and congenial atmosphere — a relaxing way to take a middle-of-the-day break.
For happy lunch time eating try a tantalizing soup, chef's salad and egg with shrimp, tomatoes and potato, or grilled cube steak on a bun.
A festive occasion will seem more important with Alaska King Crab or smoked clams in snappy sauce, grilled tenderloin tips with fresh mushrooms, brown Parisienne potatoes and fresh green salad.
Fresh daily are delicious Dutch apple, pecan, chocolate cream or rhubarb pies; Babau-Rhum cakes, cottage cheese cake, honey dew melon, and strawberry shortcake with whipped cream, to name a few luncheon delights.
Noon time, anytime, Hillside Inn is the tops in good taste.

Art Around Us:

by Mrs. Jessie Hudson

Summer is an exciting time for artists. It seems that lift is just one big fair after another. Last month it was Birmingham, this month Ann Arbor. Two whole blocks of South University Avenue will be blocked off again this year. Traffic will be diverted around the area and the streets filled with canvas booths where artists will be displaying their wares and in many booths demonstrating how they did it. Three hundred artists have registered for space this year and many more are expected to arrive asking for space which will not be available. Jewelry making will be going on, Japanese paper will be folded, Origami style, lapidarians will cut stones, potters will throw pots, copper discs will be enamelled, silk screen printing will be shown, portraits painted, glass blown, wood carved and mosaics made. Handloom weaving and creative stitching will also be demonstrated.
For entertainment there will be lectures, Indian dancers, Children's art classes and theatrical productions. Sponsored jointly by the University of Michigan, the Ann Arbor Art Association, the Chamber of Commerce, and the South University Businessmen (who provide the canvas shelters, and storage space overnight, for artists' works) the affair gets bigger every year.

The University of Michigan Extension Department under the direction of Mike Church, who spoke in Plymouth for the Three Cities Art Club last fall, arranges an annual art exhibit in the Rackham Galleries opening on Thursday and running for a couple of weeks. This exhibit consists of works chosen by Mr. Church as he visits regional art exhibits and local art club shows. Mrs. Catherine Hartley has been invited to display the blue laminated paper collage which was shown at the Michigan Academy art show in Kalamazoo this spring.
The fair and all the razzmatazz starts Wednesday July 17 from 9 to 10 p.m. and continues through Saturday, June 20 until 6. You are invited to browse, and to buy at Bargain prices. Plymouth artists who will be exhibiting are, Johnie Crosby, Shirley Denison, Nina Gardner, John Groot, Jessie Hudson (that's me) Bill Mandt, Roy Pedersen, Marion Sober and Hal Stein. Northville residents who will show are Linda Kate and Kate Edgerton, Catherine Hartley, Harold Hartley, Jr. and Gloria Parres.

In The Galleries:

HARTLEY-POWERS GALLERY, 116 E. Main Street, Northville. Beginning Sunday July 20 an exhibit of work by outstanding graduates of Plymouth and Northville high schools. Paintings, drawings, jewelry, ceramics are among the interesting items planned for this show. Go see what our gifted kids are doing.

Chips from the ROCK

By John Herb, president
Plymouth Chamber of Commerce

Unquestionably, this week's column should be called "splinters of the old rock" since we could not possibly hope to emulate Sterling's large and decisive chips. It is, of course, a privilege to "sub" for so worthy a player with your indulgence, we'd like to wander and speak, as did the Walrus, of many things — "of shoes and ships, and sealing wax — of cabbages and kings."

Shoes to walk the earth and ships to sail the seas and yet there are men who continue to crawl. Then there are those who have no shoes, yet climb to heights undreamed of and pause, on bloody feet, to contemplate still greater heights. It seems to me that we have allowed ourselves to become mesmerized by the complexities of the modern world until we are incapable of action. Speaker after speaker and writer after writer raise their voices in a deafening symphony, whose recurring theme is the increasing problems faced by modern man. Recently, astronaut Cooper, high above the curvature of the earth, traversed in minutes the same area Columbus, traveling on his flat plane, took months to cover. Each, in his time, faced complexities equally as great. Yet each achieved his goal because of a faith in the attainability of that goal.

Certainly there are problems in the world and we cannot, ostrich-like, ignore those problems by burying our heads. Nor, can we substitute for that symphony of woe a childish melody whose theme is sugar and spice and everything nice. There is, today, an undercurrent moving from continent to continent and one which must, because of the pressures it's generating, ultimately erupt. Recognizing this current and understanding the forces which are generating it, we are then in the position to channel and control the violence of its ultimate eruption. Out of this tremor which is traversing the earth, we can create mountains of achievement, or, we can perish under its' molten lava of hate, distrust and prejudice. How then do we direct our energies so as to achieve the most good out of this inevitable eruption?

The world today is so very serious. People seem to have lost the ability to laugh at themselves. Even in our democracy, speakers and writers have a long list of taboos — subjects about which they must either avoid, or, converse about in sterile voices. There was a time, not too far in the past, when people could laugh at each other — when races and creeds didn't mind good-natured humor about their group. Now, all of a sudden, we become self-conscious adolescents to whom every remark becomes a reflection on our shortcomings. The so called sick joke, which to me is not really true humor, has become a poor substitute and the so called belly-laugh of yesterday has become a nervous, self-conscious chuckle. Of all of God's creatures, only man was given the ability to laugh and it seems such a shame to waste it. I wouldn't, of course, be so naive as to suggest that laughter is the magic cure-all for the world's ills. But, when laughter turns to sullenness the patient is pretty sick. And there are many parts of our country, some not too far from here, where there's very little laughter.

I wonder, if our friend the walrus were around today, if he would find the time to speak of many things. A philosophy professor of mine once remarked that man's greatest fear was to find himself alone. And, I might ask, how long has it been since you found a comfortable chair, leaned back and allowed that remarkable gift, your mind, to wander about many things? Oh, tis sad, but I'm afraid that most of us would be forced to answer "not very often." For the uncomfortable truth is that we are the paralyzed victims of a disease known as mass media communication. I can remember the day — and I'm really not that old — when people sat around and, of all things, just talked! Ideas were tossed about, opinions formed and communicated to others. Recently, at lunch, a group of us talked about the racial problem in the United States. Now, I'm sure that none of us at that table left converted to another's views — but, the important thing is that we talked.

It seems ironic that, while we loudly proclaim the principle of freedom of speech, we have allowed ourselves to become intellectual mutes, unwilling or unable to communicate our thoughts to others. We are content to allow our elected officials, labor leaders, newspapers, television programs, etc., to do our thinking for us. Even our educators are soundly criticized if they attempt to throw some intellectual meat to their students to chew on.

And, where are the great letter writers, those people who were not afraid to put their thoughts on paper for others to read. Personally, I am a great believer in dropping people a line and letting them know if I agree or disagree with them. I'm sure that, on many occasions, people have thought I'm some kind of a nut — but, at least I ceased to be an anonymous nut. But, don't write just when you disagree. Because all of us love the kind word, the thoughtful act. In our democracy, people often talk about the power of the vote and the ability of people to change their representatives. But, very often by the time the change is made, the damage has been done. Damage which could have been avoided, or a courageous man justified, if enough people would have taken the time to write. Only when you do write, don't be "Mr. Anonymous" — I'm always skeptical of ideas expressed by people who do not have the courage to sign their name.

Perhaps our friend the walrus talked nonsense — but, at least he talked and he made people laugh. And, somehow, I'm just naive enough to believe that when people use those two distinct God-given gifts of laughter and conversation, even big problems can be solved. At least it's worth a try — and who knows, in the course of your conversation you might even find out —

"why the sea is boiling hot — and whether pigs have wings."!

Letters to the Editor

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Editor:

I would like to answer the letter in last week's Plymouth Mail about the "spirit" of the Plymouth school bands — All during the school year, which includes part of our summer vacation, our bands work hard to bring pride to the community. We practice day in and day out to entertain the people at concerts, football games, parades, and many other public events. Towards the end of the school year most of the band members apply for jobs that they didn't have time for in the winter and spring months. Therefore, when July 4 rolls around, the junior and senior high band members are either on a vacation or are working. Those who are not busy join the Community Band, which puts on a concert every Friday night in the park each summer and which, incidentally, performed wonderfully in the July 4 parade.

As for our wool uniforms, they are cleaned and stored in the bandroom closets for the next school year, when they are refitted on all growing band members. Our school bands are among the few very active bands in Michigan. We not only perform at football games, but we put on concerts and we march in parades. In other words, we deserve a little rest before we come to our next band season.

I would like to ask just one simple question: Where is the "spirit" of the taxpayer? I notice at most "advertised" concerts, parades, games and plays that our audience is practically non-existent (except for the parents and friends of the students involved). As shown in this letter we band members have plenty of "spirit." Now, why don't you adults who complain so a good example? "A Proud Band Member"

Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Editor:

This is directed to 'A Taxpayer' and the few other uninformed citizens of Plymouth concerning the function of our school bands. You are 'uninformed' because you do not take the trouble to read the papers and to attend the many programs that our bands put on for you during the school year. These children of both bands put in extra hours of practice at the school during cold winter evenings to present fine concerts — they are in uniform at all these events, and they look out at the small audience and wonder where you are.

By the way, where were you during the following events: Christmas concerts, spring concerts, the Parade of Bands (which includes the lovely music of the young players of the Junior Symphony and the string classes of the lower grades), the Little League Parade, the Memorial Day Parade... not to mention the football games (it's not hard to attend a football game to see the snappy performance given at half time by our high school band — try it — it's a thrill you will never forget!).

There are reasons why the bands do not march during the July 4th parade — for instance, the question of having to wear wool suits during a hot march, including coat and cape (do you begrudge them that — what were you wearing?); and many of the students have summer jobs, which prevents them from being able to practice as a group. What you saw and heard (did you bother to listen — or were you too busy complaining about the lack of uniforms?) was our fine community

Band, composed of young, not so young, and young-in-heart elderly musicians who gather together every Wednesday evening for practice (all year long) and who, every summer Friday evening, entertain you with their fine music in Kellogg Park. You do attend, don't you? They were pleased to march and play for us in the parade and looked very neat in their white shirts and dark slacks or shorts (led by the high school Drum Major and Majorettes) — we would like to compliment them for their fine music.

We attended many concerts long before our four children became members of the school bands and intend to keep on taking the time to do so after they are through school. We wish here to give our heartfelt "thank you's" to all our fine directors for their long hours of patience and dedication to the music students and to the students themselves for the excellent job they are doing.

Let's show these hard-working youngsters how much we appreciate their long hours of practice by being there to see and hear results whenever a program is planned for us. Let's boost their morale with more community spirit! "Two Very Proud Plymouth Citizens"

The Plymouth Mail
Plymouth, Mich.
Dear Editor:

Within less than a week the writer, who has a daughter about to start in High School Driver Training, was told about the following incidents: After no more than two or three one-hour driving experiences the young student drivers were told to drive the training cars on a major expressway and practice passing. One of the students, not having learned the "feel" of driving at highway speeds, turned the steering wheel too far and nearly lost control. (Milford)

During the very first driving lesson three girls were taken to a busy highway and, upon orders of the instructor, drove at 65 miles per hour. Occasionally the instructor insisted that the students must go faster, even though this meant exceeding the state-wide speed limit. (Plymouth)

In another school system, driving instructors are insisting that students must have driving experience even though the law does not permit their driving prior to completion of this training. (Brighton)

The writer is completely at loss. Just what are the qualifications driving instructors must have, if any? Is there any supervision of the training program? Or does every instructor "play it by ear" developing his own methods and standards? Besides endangering the lives of the students and innocent "by-drivers", some instructors are apparently teaching disregard of law as well as common sense and safety.

FIVE PERSONS were injured and two cars badly damaged in an accident at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Rds. last Thursday afternoon. Three teen-age girls riding in the car at right were critically injured when their auto struck another that had failed to heed a stop sign. The three girls and the driver of the other car, who was also injured, are Plymouth residents.

Five Injured in Two-Car Crash Here

A WAYNE County Sheriff's deputy interviews a witness, Ron Hess (at left), as service station operator John Lietz (white shirt) looks on. Lietz' station is on the corner of Ann Arbor Rd. and Sheldon, the intersection where the accident took place.

Five persons were injured — three critically — last Thursday afternoon in a two-car crash at the intersection of Ann Arbor Rd. and Sheldon Rd.

Four of the persons are Plymouth residents.

Seriously injured, according to Wayne County Sheriff's deputies, were three teen-age girls in one of the cars. They are: Barbara Nagy, 18, of 9333 Church St.; Elaine Evans, 18, of 1600 N. Territorial; and Sally Phillips, 17, of 334 N. Evergreen.

Miss Nagy was driving. Driver of the other car was Frank Lovett, 27, of 2050 Sheldon Rd. Riding with him was 54-year-old Jim Jones, of Wayne. Both men sustained bruises and abrasions and other minor injuries, according to Sheriff's deputies.

All five persons were treated at Wayne County General Hospital.

Lovett was driving north on Sheldon, while the other car, with Miss Nagy at the wheel, was travelling east on Ann Arbor Rd.

Witnesses told Sheriff's deputies that Lovett's car failed to heed the stop sign at Ann Arbor Rd. and as it entered the intersection was hit broadside by Miss Nagy's auto.

Damage to both cars (see photo above) was extensive. Lovett was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way.

The intersection, which is guarded by stop signs halting traffic on Sheldon Rd., has been described as "a dangerous one" by merchants in the area and neighbors as well. A similar two-car crash took place there late last winter, and over the years a number of such mishaps have occurred. Near-misses are not infrequent.

However, as yet, no fatal accident has taken place there.

Thousands of Christians Are Praying That the RMC Will Be Of Permanent Blessing To You

WINNERS in the Fourth of July horse show at the carnival grounds recently included these five local youngsters. From left: Nancy Spigarielli, Sara Stout, Linda Staton, Don Roberts and Merrie Wright. In all, more than 30 ribbons were handed out to the winners in 10 different categories of competition. Cal Thomas was chairman of the show. It was another phase of the JayCee-planned Fourth of July festivities.

Men's Lutheran Climbs to .500 In Recreation Softball League

McAllister Bros. and league leading Tait's Cleaners each picked up two victories last week in the men's recreation softball league here.

The two wins by Tait's extended its unbeaten streak to 10 straight and as good as assured the Cleaners' team of its second league title in as many years.

The McAllister Bros. team moved from fifth place to third on the strength of its two decisions. McAllister's has won four straight in a drive that has brought it from deep in the second division to a position of relative contention.

Men's Lutheran, struggling for most of the season, finally reached the .500 level in other action last week by virtue of a 10-7 win over Evans Products.

These were other scores: McAllister's defeated Evans Products 18-3, and Plymouth Plating, 8-7; Vico Products ended Box Bar's brief win streak, 6-2; Tait's beat Paragon, 21-7, and Local No. 102 by a similarly wide margin.

In the McAllister's vs. Plymouth Plating clash, McAllister's had to rally for three runs in the bottom of the seventh to pull out the decision.

Jim Wyman, manager and pitcher for McAllister's, singled home his team's winning run. He once managed the Plymouth Plating squad.

McAllister's trailed 7-5 going into the bottom of the seventh — and final — inning.

With nearly three-quarters of the season complete, these are the standings:

	W	L
Tait's	10	0
Vico	7	2
McAllister's	6	4
Box Bar	5	4
Ply. Plating	5	4
Lutheran	5	5
Evans	3	6
Paragon	1	8
Local 102	0	9

Recreation Baseball

Loper Remains Unbeaten in Class E, But Party Pantry Suffers Loss in F

Loper Firestone continued its unbeaten streak in the Class E recreation baseball league here last week, but league-leading Party Pantry suffered its first loss in Class F.

The Loper team posted two easy victories, one a 13-5 decision over Northville Recreation and the other an 8-5 win over Wayne County Training School.

It left Loper at the top of the Class E standings with an 8-0 record, as of the end of last week.

Other scores in Class E: Northville Plumbers shut-out General Filters, 21-0; Spagy T-Birds dumped Kiwanis, 14-6; WCTS beat Fisher's Shoes, 11-6; Bill's Market edged Novi Flyers, 9-7; the Northville Plumbers downed Northville Recreation, 2-0; Spagy T-Birds nipped General Filters, 4-3; Plymouth Kiwanis beat Novi Flyers, 5-2; and Fisher's Shoes defeated Bill's Market, 6-5.

These are the standings in Class E:

Loper	8-0-1
Northville Plumbers	7-0-1
Bill's Market	5-3-1
Spagy T-Birds	5-3-1
W.C.T.S.	4-4-0
Novi Flyers	4-5-0
Fisher's Shoes	3-6-0
Kiwanis	3-6-0
General Filters	2-7-0
Northville Recreation	1-8-0

In Class F, Party Pantry's loss came in the form of a 6-4 affair at the hands of second place Plymouth Recreation.

The win over Party Pantry didn't particularly help Plymouth Recreation, however, since it also suffered a 7-6 loss to Finlan Real Estate during last week's action.

These were other Class F scores:

The Northville Orioles defeated Casterline Braves, 14-10; Ely Oilers dumped Wayne County Training School, 17-2; Party Pantry beat DiPonio Builders, 12-3; Ely Oilers dropped Casterline Braves, 13-2; Northville Orioles tripped WCTS, 7-6; and Finlan Real Estate beat DiPonio Builders, 10-5.

These were the Class F standings at the end of last week:

Party Pantry	8-1
Plymouth Recreation	6-3
Northville Orioles	6-3
Ely Oilers	5-3
Finlan Realty	5-4
Casterline	3-6
DiPonio	2-7
W.C.T.S.	0-8

IN AND AROUND PLYMOUTH

PLYMOUTH

By H. J. WILSON, Manager

IT'S NEVER TOO EARLY to learn... and that's true where the telephone is concerned, too. That's why it's such a good idea to teach young children how to use the telephone correctly—especially for emergencies. A child can easily learn how to dial the Operator—and, if need be, ask the Operator to call the police or fire department. When children understand what a phone is for and how to use it, they're less apt to regard it as a toy, or "play games" that could interfere with calls from people trying to reach you.

CAREFREE TRIPS

are at your fingertips this summer... when you remember to phone ahead. It's really amazing how many summer-fun problems the phone can solve for you. And how many ways the phone can add to your fun! Like making sure of your reservations, on a two-week trip. Or inviting a friend to join you for a swim on a warm Saturday afternoon. And when you're on the move, Michigan Bell has 45,000 public phones to serve you. You'll find them alongside highways, near the beach, in stores and office buildings.

COST CONSCIOUS?

Costs are on everybody's mind these days. And that goes for your telephone company, too. For example, Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, recently developed a new method of making the familiar "plungers" for the handset cradle on telephones. The new method cuts nearly two cents from the cost of manufacturing each phone—an aggregate saving of over $100,000 a year. Cost reduction is an everyday part of our job, helping us provide you with telephone service that is high in value, low in cost.

Red Cross Issues Plea For Drivers

Mrs. C. B. Lytle, 1049 Dewey, Plymouth, who is chairman of the Livonia Branch of the Detroit Red Cross Chapter, has issued an appeal for persons with currently valid driver's licenses and good driving records to volunteer to help carry out motor service assignments in the northwest part of Wayne County.

Red Cross vehicles are used to transport donors, volunteers and staff members to bloodmobiles or the blood center and to expedite other Red Cross services.

Volunteers are asked to devote only a few hours each week to the driving assignments. There are occasional evenings assignments which provide an opportunity for employed people to give this community service.

Interested persons may call the Chapter's Northwest Regional office, GA 4-0220, or visit the office at 33539 Plymouth Road, Livonia, for further information.

$12 Million Water Expansion Underway

(Editor's Note: The following article is a release from the Detroit Water Board. It is being published as a long-term project on transportation, re-pumping and storage, using equitable cost factors. No tax money is used to support the Detroit water system.)

The 5-inch main along W. Eight Mile Rd. from the Detroit City limits to Farmington Rd. was built by the Water Board in 1959-60 and supplies Redford Township and Livonia.

The main is being extended to make water available to communities further west. The Ford Road-Cherry Hill facility provides a main 18.5 inches in diameter, 72 inches in diameter, from the Springwells Station to the northern sections of Canton Township. The main is now in service.

The Eight Mile main and the Ford Road-Cherry Hill facility, together with a main in the area of Wick and Tyler Rds., provided improved service to Grosse Pointe, Huron and Van Buren Townships, Farmington and the City of Belleville.

Sections of another main are being completed to provide relief to various water-short downtown communities such as Milvindale, Allen Park, Southgate and River View.

(Editor's Note: The Mail understands that Detroit's extension of its Eight Mile water main, and later the installation of a Sheldon Rd. main, hinges largely on the entry into the Detroit system by Northville and the City of Plymouth.)

Over $12 million in major line extensions to provide and improve the Detroit system's water service to 24 western Wayne County communities will be completed by this coming summer.

In the last four years, the Detroit Water Board, with the sanction of the City of Detroit, has spent $26 million for capital improvements to the Detroit water system. Many of the work was not intended for completion until as late as 1985. Requests from various communities for immediate relief caused the Detroit Water Department to accelerate its expansion program.

The work has resulted in a consolidation of water services in the city. The priority being the mains in the Ford Road-Cherry Hill area, and along W. Eight Mile Rd.

Water for western Wayne County will be supplied primarily from Detroit's 540 million gallon per day capacity Warrensville Plant on W. Warren Ave.

Cost of the overall expansion is being financed through the issuance of revenue bonds, which are the only water utility bonds in the country to carry a double-A rating.

Letter to the Editor

The Plymouth Mail Editor:

With the YMCA's Youth Employment Project well off the ground already, I felt that certain facts and statistics pertaining to youth unemployment — might be in order — following the statistics outlined in the dimensions of the problem:

1. Some 600,000 to 800,000 persons between the ages of school leavers and 21 were out of work in 1962.
2. One in six of all unemployed who are out of school. This is one-fourteenth of the nation's labor force.
3. School drop-outs suffer most from unemployment and have a greater difficulty in finding work.
4. Some 26 million boys and girls will leave school and seek jobs during the 1960's.
5. By 1970 the number of unemployed young people will be close to 1.5 million.
6. Only one in 10 boys now living on farms can expect to make an adequate living in agriculture in the years ahead.

While the labor force is growing, the need for unskilled workers will remain the same, and the need for farm workers will drop 20 per cent. Meanwhile, jobs for professional and technical workers will use 40 per cent and the need for sales workers, managers and proprietors will increase.

Obviously the conditions are being removed from the period of 1910-1930 when youths were needed on farms and were readily employed in local distribution and service trades, in factories, shops and even mines. In those years, nearly everyone could find a job and the conditions were relatively little schooling.

Automation, mechanization and scientific advances are causing many unskilled jobs to disappear. Jobs tomorrow will require higher skills, more maturity and judgement, as well as more experience.

Provide training today for substantial numbers of young men, but in smaller numbers than formerly. Also, they accept fewer young men who score poorly on qualification tests.

Failure of large numbers of boys and girls with above-average academic ability, their failure to graduate after having entered college — tends to further reduce the number of job opportunities open to the less able worker.

(Less than one-half of those school graduating class go on to the practice of their work.)

The practice of increasing the work moon-lighting and employment of pensioners also tends to reduce the job opportunities available to the unskilled, less educated young people between 16 and 25.

cause the need is immediate and urgent, responsibility for the program can provide a major share of the opportunities required.

The problem of finding worthwhile, gainful employment for our unskilled, less educated young people cannot be solved in a vacuum. It demands the cooperation and willingness of the community.

The objective of the YMCA Youth Employment Project is to help young people return to a learning situation to gain a marketable skill, and to help young people between 16 and 25 find permanent and gainful employment.

To this end, we are striving to encourage drop-outs to return to a learning situation. We are also providing a program for young people between the ages of 16 and 25 who may register with the Youth Employment Project and we will make every attempt to place him in a work position. Similarly, in any employer, businessman or citizen who needs competent employees on either a temporary or permanent basis is urged to notify the YMCA Youth Employment Project at GL 3-2904. My offices are in the

The 'Hub' of The Community Chamber Has Small Office, But Large Role

Often mentioned, but seldom fully understood or appreciated, the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce, headquartered in a tiny office at 455 S. Main St., is a busy part of Plymouth's life.

Its overall purpose is to make the community better place in which to live and plan a living, as well as to improve the economic well-being of the entire area.

The Chamber, by the way, is also a member of the National Better Business Bureau and will advise residents on the aspects of new firms here, out-of-town firms and such things as the qualifications of door-to-door solicitors and peddlers.

All-in-all, the Chamber of Commerce is an active and intricate part of the Plymouth Community.

Like all organizations, the Chamber has a ruling board of directors, officers and a standing committee. Each of these committees has a separate and distinct role in the function of the Chamber as a whole.

A 12-member board supervises the Chamber's activities.

Directors are John Herb, James Thomas, Harvey Ziel, Margaret Dunning, George Lawton, W. J. Willes, Ed. Ward, Draugelis, Hazen Wilson, Herald Hamill and Ralph Garber.

Herb is the current president of the Chamber and is also in charge of the publicity committee. Vice-president is Thomas, who is also chairman of the industrial division. Ziel is chairman of the men of the finance committee.

Miss Dunning is the secretary and shares the chairmanship of the retail division with Lent. Lawton is in charge of the economic development committee and Louis Borregard is chairman of the membership committee.

Two other committees temporarily without chairman, include one for education and another entitled the professional and service division.

Thomas' industrial division is actually a separate board with its own by-laws, but it is closely coordinated with the Chamber's overall board of directors and has representation on the overall board.

The widely-publicized Industrial Development Corp., goal of which is to increase Plymouth's industrial tax base, is an outgrowth of the Chamber's economic development committee.

It is described as a "tool" of the economic development committee whenever special financing is needed to conclude a deal that will bring new industry to Plymouth.

Frank Arlen is president of the IDC.

The Chamber's annual budget for 1963 is $11,700, of which $10,500 is derived from monthly dues paid by members.

Membership, fast approaching 200, is comprised of virtually all segments of Plymouth's business world. Commercial, professional and retail businessmen as well as individuals constitute the membership.

Basic dues are $36 per year, but are actually determined by the number of employees in the member firm.

In addition to the $10,500 raised annually from payment of dues, the Chamber's budget is supplemented through the give-away of a Black Angus steer or July Fourth.

Proceeds from this event generally provide an additional $1,200. It is the Chamber's only fund-raising project each year.

The Chamber has one full-time employee, Mrs. Fran Bruch, who acts as manager of the non-profit organization. While her title is

New Christian Science Reading Room Opens

The Christian Science Reading Room has moved to a new and more convenient location in Plymouth. It is now located at the corner of W. Ann Arbor Tr. and Forest Ave. in the building that formerly housed Famous Men's Wear.

Seek Magazines For Veterans in Ann Arbor Hospital

She reports that the veterans in the V.A. hospital in Ann Arbor enjoy reading these magazines and that she hopes to furnish them with a plentiful supply later this summer.

Mrs. Shaw has volunteered to pick up the magazines if they are not ready by July 15. Her telephone number is GL 3-4698. July Fourth activities by the VFW Post were termed a "huge success" by post officers and members. The Chick-N-Que in the parking area by the post on Lilley Rd. was a special success. All of the broiled chickens were served before 6 p.m.

On The Road

Mike Hoben, coordinator of the recently-formed YMCA Youth Employment Project, spent two days last week visiting similar youth employment services in Kalamazoo and Flint.

ings by Mary Baker Eddy, the discoverer and founder of the Christian Science.

Current copies of church periodicals including the daily newspaper, "The Christian Science Monitor," are also available.

The quiet harmonious atmosphere of the study room also provides prayerful study. Numerous reference materials, in addition to the Bible and the writings of Mrs. Eddy are available.

The Reading Room is open daily except Sundays and holidays from 10:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. It is also open Wednesdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m. and from 9:15 to 9:30 p.m. On Fridays the Reading Room is open until 9 p.m.

An open house is being planned for the near future.
