Glassford, Mayor Pro-Tem James Houk, City Clerk Richard Shafer, secretary Mrs. Linnea Salow, and Commissioners A. E. Vallier, Robert Smith and George Lawton. On hand to record the historic event, was venerable Karl Starkweather, standing, right. Starkweather tape recorded the meeting and took pictures. He stole the show at the spring dedication ceremonies, earlier this year, with his reminiscences of the days when the old City Hall was new.

Local Support Grows for Wayne County's Sept. Millage Proposal

Both Plymouth's City Commission and Canton Township Supervisor Louis Stein joined the battle this week in support of Wayne County's Sept. 1 millage increase as the county launched its drive for additional operating funds.

See Editorial, Page Two, Sec. Two

County Proposition No. 1 on the ballot will call for the collection of one dollar per $1,000 of State equalized property valuation for a period of five years. County officials have promised severe curtailment or complete elimination of some services if the millage is not approved.

At Monday evening's City Commission meeting, Commissioner A. E. Vallier and draw up a strongly worded resolution in support of the millage proposal to be published, sent to the Chamber of Commerce and carried to local organizations and clubs.

All of the local lawmakers voiced sympathy with the county's plight. City Attorney Edward F. Draugelis was instructed to

NOTING THAT The Plymouth Mail has carried news stories in recent weeks pointing out what services the county intends to curtail or stop if the millage is not approved, Commissioner Vallier said he thought the proposal would have "tough sledding." Vallier said Wayne County General Hospital and the Wayne County Training School would be among the first services to be affected by the lack of funds. The hospital has already cut services and further cuts are promised.

In a "fact sheet" released this week, the Board of Supervisors noted that psychiatric services at the hospital are now available on an appointment-only basis with non-criminal mental cases being restrained by local police until care can be made available.

Plymouth Superintendent of Public Safety Kenneth Fisher voiced dissatisfaction with the curtailment of hospital services.

"WE DON'T have facilities adequate for handling mental patients." Noting that mental patients require proper care, Fisher said the jail is not equipped with padding for cells or other needed items for the care of mental cases. "We're stuck with the situation," Fischer commented.

Contacted by The Plymouth Mail for his opinion, Canton Township Supervisor and Chairman of the County Board's Ways and Means Committee Louis Stein said: "I think it's very, very urgent that we support the millage." Stein said although the county has built a new jail, it can't afford to staff it adequately.

Two wings at Eloise are not being used, he said, because of insufficient staff. The hospital is 86 nurses short and out of 12 doctors in the psychiatric division, only two remain.

"It's serious," Stein commented, referring to the situation. While it is a state obligation to care for the mentally retarded, according to Stein, there is no room in state institutions. Wayne County is the only county in Michigan doing anything about the situation.

He said the State of Michigan began contributing $8 per day toward the care of retarded children in the late 1920's. Today, with costs at $16 to $18 daily per child, the State is still contributing only $8.

PASSAGE of one mill over a five year period would be sufficient, Stein contended. The Board of Supervisors doesn't want to overburden property owners, he emphasized, but, under present laws, this is the only way to go.

Stein said he hoped to see Wayne County granted home rule in the future. Wayne County, with one third of the Michigan population, would have more power, he claimed.

Meanwhile, the Board of Supervisors pointed out what failure of the proposition would mean in curtailment of services:

If the millage, amounting to about 50 cents per month in the average home, is not approved, the following services will be slashed, according to the fact sheet released by the board:

"ALREADY curtailed services at Wayne County General Hospital, which serves the entire County, will be cut further. Psychiatric services may be available on an appointment only basis with non-criminal mental cases being restrained by police until care can be made available.

"Assumption of the cost by the County for adequate care for aged persons in nursing homes would be placed in jeopardy.

"You can have all the delinquents you want, said Juvenile Court Judge (Continued on Page 8)

Town Hall

All candidates for Congressional, State and local offices will be invited to appear at a Town Hall at Junior High School East on Thursday, Aug. 20 at 7:30 p.m.

The session will be sponsored by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jaycees are presently writing candidates, asking them to take part in the program.

Each candidate will be given approximately three minutes to speak. The Junior Chamber also hopes to have a representative from Wayne County speak on the proposed millage issue.

A question and answer period will also be held. Doug Blunk will chair the event. The public is invited to attend the event. There will be no charge.

Mrs. Marguerite Vollbrecht, 77, Stricken, Dies

An elderly Plymouth woman was found dying Thursday afternoon in her home at 299 W. Ann Arbor Trail after a business acquaintance had tried to contact her unsuccessfully for three days.

Mrs. Marguerite Vollbrecht, 77, was pronounced dead at 4:24 p.m. by Dr. Ensign Clyde, M.D. The medical examiner's office said death was due to natural causes.

Hilltop Golf Course professional Chris Burghardt of 14410 Shadywood Ct. had been trying for three days with no answer to telephone Mrs. Vollbrecht, who owned her land on which the golf course is situated.

Together with Nankin Twp. Fire Chief Ralph Savini, Burghardt went to Mrs. Vollbrecht's home. When the two men arrived, police said, they knocked on the door and got no answer.

THEY TOLD officers they heard groaning sounds from the house. After forcing their way inside, the men found Mrs. Vollbrecht lying on the floor of a ground level room, not breathing.

Slate Final Band Concert, Aug. 7

A gala evening is being planned for the final outdoor band concert of the season by the Plymouth Community Band, Friday evening at 8 p.m., in Kellogg Park, according to James Griffith, band director.

Former member of the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club and graduate of Michigan's music school, Henry Naasko, a tenor, will sing selections from Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein's compositions. Glenn Norton will accompany Naasko.

John Ferranti, a rock and roll piano player, will present several selections. The 15-piece stage band will also play several dance tunes. The next appearance by the Plymouth Community Band will be during the Fall Festival, Sunday, Sept. 13.

Another Plant Seen for City's Industrial Park

The first industry brought into Plymouth by a local realtor will start building plans as soon as final details for purchase of industrial park land are worked out between the corporation and the city.

Pennacraft Tool Co., Inc., a division of Howell-Pennacraft Corporation presented to the City Commission at Monday evening's regular meeting, an offer to purchase two and one-half acres of land in the city's Industrial Park now owned by Wheel-Truing Co. They offered $6,000 an acre for the property.

The deal is subject to the city's re-acquisition of the land in question from Wheel-Truing, City Manager Albert Glassford told Commissioners the city is proceeding with negotiations to reacquire the southerly four acres of Wheel-Truing's 11.76 acres in the Industrial Park.

The written offer for part of this land presented to the Commission Monday evening, climaxed about six weeks of work by Joseph Hudson, of J. L. Hudson Real Estate Co., who is handling arrangements for the company's location in Plymouth.

COMMISSIONERS referred the offer to the City Manager and City Attorney to work out details with the company, which plans to manufacture perishable tools (cutting tools) at the Plymouth site. Howell-Pennacraft Corporation has a number of subsidiaries, including Howell Gear Co., Inc., Heat Treatment, Inc., and Standards, Inc., according to Hudson. He said company officials came into his office one day looking for land.

City Attorney Edward Draugelis told company representatives at Monday's meeting that the city will offer them all the assistance they can in their move to the Plymouth Community.

A deposit for purchase of urban renewal land immediately south of Bathey Manufacturing on Mill St., and a small parcel east of Marathon Petroleum Products, of Mill St., was accepted by commissioners and they authorized an agreement to be executed between the corporation and the city.

GAY BLADE Corporation, which proposes to erect an indoor ice-skating rink on the property, presented an $880 deposit for the property.

In other action an amendment to Health Ordinance permitting produce markets in the city limits was passed by Commissioners and declared an emergency ordinance so that it could take immediate effect.

The amendment provides issuance of a special license following payment of $25 fee and erection of a permanent structure for selling. It also permits a temporary structure to be erected for the first season of operation from May 1 - Dec. 1 upon request from the city commission.

Passed at first reading by Commissioners was a new peddler's ordinance which provides:

(1) Licenses valid during daylight hours only;

(2) Fees applicable to all vehicles;

(3) Fee for any vehicle non-motor driven to be one-half the regular fee; and

(4) Application by fraternal organizations except for one event a year when no permit is required.

Permission was granted to the city of Farmington to use the Plymouth Landfill for an emergency period until Sept. 1, providing the city manager works out details with Farmington to pay the man in charge of the landfill for extra work and other costs in addition to one dollar a ton per truck capacity.

FOR TREE trimming and removal work for the next year beginning Aug. 1 a contract was awarded by commissioners to Heath Tree Service, of Richmond, Mich. and for tree planting a contract

Coffee Hour Set for Elly Peterson

An opportunity to meet one of the announced candidates for the Republican nomination for United States Senator from Michigan, Elly M. Peterson, will be given to Plymouth Community residents, Friday morning, Aug. 7.

Mrs. Roy Jacobus, of Elm St., is sponsoring a coffee hour at 10 a.m. to meet Mrs. Peterson, who is assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee and director of women's activities for the Party. She is also vice-chairman of the Republican State Central Committee.

Persons interested in attending the coffee hour may call Mrs. Jacobus, at GL 3-5543.

Plymouth Groups Start Firming Festival Plans

SEPT. 13

With the Plymouth Community Fall Festival fast approaching, local groups and organizations began to firm up their plans for Festival activities in special meetings and planning sessions.

Pageant of Drums chairman for 1964, Hal Young, held his first committee meeting on Wednesday, July 29 and set a schedule for the event.

Young said brass quartets are expected to compete for prizes at the Kellogg Park Band Shell from 5 to 6 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 12. The quartet competition is an added feature, being presented for the first time this year.

At 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 12, a parade of participating corps will be held. The pageant will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth High School football field. Corps expected to perform include:

"MARAUDERS" from Madison Heights, "Royal Lancers" from Wyandotte, "Green Hornets" from Grand Rapids and the "Angels" from Bellefontaine, O. Drill teams to participate are the "Rae-Vens" from Pontiac and the "C.A.P. Junior Drill Team" from Romulus.

ROTARIAN Robert Waldecker, left, together with Dr. John Salan, chairman of the corn committee, took time last week to check the progress of corn on Waldecker's farm — being grown for Plymouth Rotary's annual chicken barbecue. Dr. Salan shows how far the corn must grow by Sept. 13, the date of the eagerly-awaited annual event.

Man Robbed of $135 In Own Living Room

Bound with belt and cord by two gun-wielding bandits, a Plymouth man was robbed of $135 in his home late Sunday night.

Greenhouse owner Reinhold Ruehr of 689 N. Mill St. told police he was lying on the couch watching television with no lights on in his living room about 12:20 a.m. when someone walked in the front door of the house.

Ruehr said he thought it was his son, Bill, until the person asked, "Does Bob live here?" "You must have the wrong house," Ruehr replied. At that point, he told police, the man brandished a revolver and told Ruehr to surrender all his money.

A SECOND man was standing just outside the kitchen door holding a shotgun or rifle, Ruehr said. He gave the pair $135, including money from his billfold and silver dollars from an envelope. "Where is the rest of the (Continued on Page 8)

Sidewalk Days

More than 20 Plymouth business joined forces this week for the annual Sidewalk Days Promotion to be held this Friday and Saturday, Aug. 7 and 8.

In a special two-color shopping supplement, printed by The Plymouth Mail, participating merchants listed values to be found during the sale. The supplement was delivered to every home in Plymouth and Plymouth Township by a crew of youngsters under the supervision of Plymouth YMCA officials.

STRUCTURAL STEEL was up last week at the site of D.S.I. Corporation's expansion project behind their present plant facilities. Chief engineer James McKeon and D.S.I. vice president

Phil Scott, far left, looked over progress Monday at the site. Plymouth's Industrial Development Corporation plans to launch a drive next week for funds to finance the project.

In a Nutshell . . .

★ All indications are that the voter registration drive conducted in Plymouth over the past two weeks was a rousing success. Township Clerk John D. McEwen's office reports that more than 300 voters trooped to the registration point to become eligible to vote in the Sept. 1 primary election. In the City, Clerk Richard Shafer's staff registered more than 130 voters on Monday alone. Over 80 registered at the Plymouth Township Hall on Monday.

★ Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce has added a service — that of notarizing papers. Fran Booth, acting manager, has been appointed a notary public.

★ In the eighth day of competition in the huge summer National Championship of the American Contract Bridge League, a Plymouth player continued to score heavily. In the Peary Pairs, a single session championship with a field of players, E. W. Hakelik of Plymouth and Betti Vankainen of Detroit won top score in their section.

Expect Local Entries in Dog Obedience Trial

At least three Plymouthites are expected to participate in the Wolverine Dog Training Club, Inc. eighth annual all-breed dog obedience trial to be held in the Farmington High School Gymnasium on Sunday, Aug. 9 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Charles L. Wheaton of 44605 Gov. Bradford Road, Plymouth, chairman of the event, said she expected entries from Don Sticketney of Curtis Road, Dale Danderman, S. & W. Hardware Store Manager, and Lynn Harris of Homer St.

The three attended a recently held class at Plymouth High School taught by Mrs. Wheaton. Several well-known judges will preside at the event, including internationally known Canadian judge Jake Giacomelli of Stone Creek, Ontario.

Entry fee is $1.50 for the first entry of each dog and 50 cents for each additional entry of the same dog, including brace class. Dogs entered for the brace class only will pay the $1.50 entry fee.

Veterinarian on duty will be Marion K. Weberlein, D.V.M. of Plymouth. Food will be available in the school lunch room during the day. At 4 p.m. a drawing will be held for cash prizes of $75, $25 and $15.

Appointed

With 25 years of experience with the S.S. Kresge Company, Wallace Loucks, of Detroit, is the new manager of the Plymouth store on S. Main St. He spent the past year as manager of the Joy and Southfield Rd. store. He succeeds Plymouth manager John Wertman. Loucks' wife, Charlotte, and four children, Tom, 19, Bonnie, 13, Don, 11, and John, eight, plan to move to Plymouth, shortly.

CORRECTION

An inadvertent mistake crept into the story carried in last week's Plymouth Mail about Municipal Finance Commission approval of Plymouth Community School District funding. The class room additions to Farrand and Allen Schools are scheduled for completion in Feb., 1965, not Sept. 1965. And the Plymouth High School shop addition is slated for opening in Sept., 1965, not Feb., 1966.

Plymouth Youth Hurt in Crash

A Plymouth youth was taken to the doctor for treatment of injuries suffered Sunday night after his car went out of control and knocked down nine guard rails at the northwest corner of Wilcox Rd. and Edward N. Hines Drive.

Wayne County Sheriff's officers said Richard Dahmer, 20, of 1135 Starky Street, apparently walked home and was taken to the doctor by his parents after the crash.

They said the front end of Dahmer's car was completely demolished. The vehicle was towed from the scene. No tickets were issued.

The drive to place the question of switching to the Massachusetts ballot before Michigan voters in the Nov. 3 election is lagging according to a report from Democratic Party officials. A minimum of 138,800 valid signatures is needed to place the question on the ballot, and more than 200,000 are needed to assure this minimum. Only 90,910 had been received at the end of the past week according to Sherwood Colburn, director of special projects for the party and coordinator of the drive. The Massachusetts ballot would provide an office-block type ballot listing candidates by office and requiring a separate vote for each, instead of permitting straight party line voting.

Name Plymouthite to Head Physical Therapy Dep't.

Plymouth resident George Andrews has been appointed associate professor and educational administrator of the Wayne State University School of Medicine's newly created Division of Physical Therapy. It was announced by Dr. Joseph N. Schaffer, professor and chairman of the School's Department of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation.

Long active in the field of physical therapy, Andrews was formerly director of the department of Adjunctive Therapies at Plymouth State Home and Training School in Northville, Mich. Prior to that he served as director of Physical Therapy and director of the Department of Habilitation at the Plymouth State Home.

Born in Bitoli, Yugoslavia in 1927, Andrews received a B.S. degree in education from Syracuse University in 1950. He earned his certificate in physical therapy at New York University in 1951 and received his M.A. degree in education at the same University the following year.

PRIOR to his affiliation with the Plymouth State Home and Training School, Andrews served as director of Physical Therapy at the Chambersburg Hospital and Franklin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults in Pennsylvania.

As head of the newly created Division of Physical Therapy at Wayne State University's School of Medicine, Andrews will be responsible for creating and supervising a comprehensive training program for physical therapists.

Andrews resides with his wife Betty and four children at 437 Blunk, Plymouth.

FORMER Plymouthite David Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Nelson, of Mariyn St., presented a paper to a seminar on "Radiation Effects" sponsored by the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers professional and technical group on nuclear science. Nelson's paper, which will be published in the transactions of the meeting, was concerned with evaluating electronic devices for application on a proposed orbiting nuclear reactor intended for producing electrical power. He is an electrical engineer for Bendix Corporation's Research Laboratory in Southfield.

Robert W. Paulson, County Extension Agent, 4-H, explained that dormitory tents are provided for 4-H members, leaders, and parents who have livestock exhibits, or who are working in these areas. Paulson added that meals will be served in the dining hall at the Fair from Tuesday noon, Aug. 11, through Sunday, Aug. 16. The dining hall is open to the public as well as serving 4-H members, leaders and parents.

4-H Clubbers Set Plans for County Fair

Plymouth area 4-H Clubbers are busy making final preparations for the 18th Annual Wayne County 4-H Fair. This year's Fair will be held from August 11 to 16 at the fairgrounds on Quirk Road, just north of the expressway near Belleville.

4-H exhibits will include items in home economics, handicraft, photography, gardening, conservation, poultry and rabbits, and livestock including beef, dairy, sheep, swine, goats and horses. Judging these exhibits will continue throughout the week.

In addition to the 4-H exhibits and the midway, merchants from the area will be exhibiting in the merchants building. These exhibits will include home improvement materials, musical instruments, refreshment stands, household goods, and crafts.

Paulson added that meals will be served in the dining hall at the Fair from Tuesday noon, Aug. 11, through Sunday, Aug. 16. The dining hall is open to the public as well as serving 4-H members, leaders and parents.

A chicken barbecue is planned for Sunday starting at noon. Breakfast hours will be from 7-9 a.m.; lunch from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and dinner from 5-8 p.m.

City DPW Activities

By Supt. Joseph Bida

The department continued with mowing vacant property, sweeping the business district, mowing and trimming the parks and playgrounds. There were four funerals at Riverside Cemetery and men continued to mow and trim grass and repair streets.

Robert Oppenlander, of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, together with a city employee, checked the city for diseased elm trees and infested wood piles.

Sixty dead trees were tagged, 23 wood piles were tagged and nineteen samples of possible diseased trees were taken.

ON TAGGED wood piles — if citizens want to save the wood, they may strip the bark and burn it immediately. Otherwise, the wood must be gotten rid of at once. The department has started to remove diseased trees owned by the city.

A manhole was raised to grade at the rear of the new city hall. Gravel was hauled into by Byron St. from S. Main to McKinley and the street graveled and chloride spread over the new gravel. Three water taps were installed by the department during last week.

EXHIBIT

A special exhibit prepared by the Michigan Historical Commission Museum in Lansing was installed today in the Nankin Mills Nature Center by the Wayne County Road Commission. The portable traveling exhibit, entitled "MICHIGAN AND THE CIVIL WAR", stresses the major contribution made by Michigan to the Civil War effort. It is the first of a series of such displays currently under development by the State Historical Museum. Later displays will cover Michigan Indians, logging days, pioneer life, and related aspects of our state's history. All will be available to Michigan's more than one-hundred twenty museums on a free loan basis.

Local Student in Workshop at Olivet College

Edward Wendover

A Plymouth student is currently enrolled in the Modern American workshop at Olivet College, Olivet, Mich.

Edward Wendover of 10151 Joy Road, is in the biology division of the workshop. Divided into five sections, the workshop includes journalism, chemistry, economics, political science and biology divisions.

Edward noted that he was enjoying the workshop. "I feel that this workshop finally recognizes the fact that high school students do have an interest in governmental affairs," he said.

The Modern America workshop is sponsored by the Community Education Department of Olivet College.

On the final day of the workshop (Aug. 8), students will stage a mock political convention.

Obituary

Interment followed at Lakeside Cemetery in Holly.

Scout Leader in Training at New Mexico Ranch

William F. Minard, of 1145 Hartsough, is taking specialized training in scout commissioner at work at the Philmont Scout Ranch in northeastern New Mexico.

National Scouting leaders are instructors for the 1,500 men who will attend the 34 conferences being offered this summer at the 137,000-acre national Scout camp.

Participating in the family program at the Volunteer Training Center are Minard, his wife, Barbara, and children William, 14; Stephen, 11; June, 10; Nancy, 7; and Carol, 4.

The Training Center is located on the slopes of the Sangre de Cristo Range of the great Rocky Mountain chain where 8,000 Explorers and older Boy Scouts will take part this summer in 12-day expeditions at the largest boys' camp in the world.

Minard has been active in Scouting for 13 years. He is currently serving as neighborhood commissioner. He is associated with Burroughs Corporation.

MAKES DISCOVERY

A description of a discovery in chemistry made by former Plymouthite Dr. Dervin Flowers, of Emeryville, Calif., and two of his colleagues has been published in preparation for obtaining a patent. The discovery involves fractionation of polymers of higher alpha-olefins. Flowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Flowers of Ball St., is a chemist or Shell Development Corporation.

Many Pets Suffer from "Loving Cruelty" Inflicted by Owners

Did you know that the most common cruelty to animals is by those who love them best? It's a fact!

For example, millions of pets spend cold nights huddling for warmth in chilly corners. They become neighborhood nuisances. They are hurt in fights, or traffic — they wander off and become lost. Many catch diseases, all because well-meaning owners think it is right to put Fido or Tabby out at night.

Yet providing the wrong type of shelter for your pet can be almost as cruel as providing no shelter at all. Dogs, for example, must be protected from drafts whether they sleep in the house or in a backyard kennel. A bird cage bought merely because "it's so pretty" can become a cruel prison; even the smallest bird needs a cage at least two feet square in which to exercise. Fish tanks need large surfaces exposed to air. A spherical bowl, no matter how attractive, it may look to you, can actually suffocate a fish.

One of the worst of the "kindly cruelties" is spoiling a pet. Like children, animals become unhappy and neurotic when they are undisciplined. But you must be consistent in your discipline, or you may soon have a bewildered, high-strung pet on your hands. Most trainers believe that a sharp command or a scolding tone of voice is a quick and constant — without hurting your pet — soon a word and a look will be enough.

A serious form of spoiling is giving your pet just what he likes to eat. He does not know what is good for him. Pets will eat spoiled or even poisoned food; they will also eat cold food, which upsets some. A dog will eagerly consume chicken bones, though such a bone, if it splinters, can cause serious injury.

Many a pet owner unwittingly keeps his pet in a state of digestive upset. Cats, for example, love to drink milk and birds love to eat crackers, but digestive problems can result. Feeding your pet the quantity he wants to eat is a serious cruelty, for most pets will eat far too much, especially sweets and "people food" table scraps. Obesity damages an animal's health — and a "nice, plump" pet may face a shortened life span.

Should you give a child a pet as a gift? This is a fine idea if the parents agree to take responsibility for its care — and if the child will be taught to respect the animal as a fellow feeling creature. Children are among the world's most enthusiastic animal lovers — but many a child has hurt or killed a small animal by careless play. You must know what the animal needs and properly instruct the child.

Make sure that the animal really is a suitable pet. Avoid the temptation to buy baby chicks or little "souvenir turtles"; such animals have little real chance of survival in the home.

If ever you are tempted to adopt a homeless animal, first make sure he really is homeless. Ask the animal shelter and make inquiry around the neighborhood; it is a x i o u s pet to be waiting. If no one comes forward to claim the pet, you may in good conscience adopt him.

However, it would be more cruel than kind, in most cases, to adopt a young bird or wild animal; most people would not be able to give them the care they require. Young wild animals are a real "lost" thing. They do not usually thrive. Many states prohibit removal of wildlife from its natural habitat.

No matter how enthusiastic you or your children may be about a new pet, avoid the unwitting cruelty of showering it with too much attention. Kittens and puppies are often purrified or pampered by too much play with children or too many demands to perform. A new young pet needs time alone — give him hours without strain.

In case of an unwanted pet, many people think they are being kind if they simply abandon it, giving it "so they imagine" a "sporting chance" to live. Of course, the pet will live — until he succumbs to accident, exposure or wild animals. Meanwhile, he will wander around hungry, exhausted and bewildered. If you can't find a home for your pet, take him to the nearest animal shelter. From there he may be adopted — and, if not, you will at least have spared him a cruel and losing battle.

A surprising number of solicitous pet owners try to doctor their sick pets — feeling not in the least handicapped by lack of a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree! Although a very experienced owner may tell distemper from a cold, or stomach upset from feline enteritis, most owners can't — and it is cruel to try. Experts are appalled by the number of pets which reach a veterinarian too late to be saved.

How can you be sure you are not guilty of "loving cruelty" toward your pet? Find out from experts what your pet really needs — in food, medicine, housing, training — and all the rest. Never guess or assume, and always remember: in order to be truly kind, you may sometimes have to withhold things that affection may make you want to give.

WHERE I STAND
 As a candidate for State Representative, Democrat-36 District, I believe that we must have:
 1. A program of vocational training for young people who do not desire to go on to college.
 2. The protection of our natural resources, including the prevention of pollution of our beautiful lakes and streams.
 3. More jobs for our people by:
 A. Promoting commerce and industry in greater Detroit.
 B. Improving the port facilities of the Detroit Area.
 4. A better state aid formula, in order that our district can obtain its fair share of state aid for our schools and communities. As it is now, the larger industrial cities benefit the most.

 nile Court Judge James H. Lincoln. His court now can provide services on only one third of the delinquency complaints filed with it. Space is at a premium and you don't rehabilitate youngsters by making them sleep on a floor. Staff is inadequate.
 — "Speedy administration of justice is one of the keystones of the American way of life. Yet without adequate court and law enforcement personnel the guilty will escape punishment and cases will lag further and further behind."
 — "The County's more than 4,000 acres of parks will become unpatrolled, overgrown retirement homes for empty beer bottles; places where no one can go in safety."
 — "The retarded and emotionally disturbed child will go unhelped. Thousands of children need care in Boarding homes. The aged and indigent will go on without dignity."
 — "The needs of the young, the old, the physically and mentally ill and the requirements of community safety, justice and recreation must be served."
 These, according to the Board, are the facts. Budgets, they say, have been tightened to the point where recruiting of trained personnel is almost impossible in some areas.
 Services have been cut to the point where health, life and safety are in danger. Despite this, supervisors say, the deficit grows.

IN OTHER news concerning the question, it was announced that Judge George Edwards, of the Sixth Circuit United States Court of Appeals and former Detroit police commissioner will serve as chairman of the Citizens Committee for County Proposition No. One.
 Judge Edwards, who lives in Detroit, will meet with the approximately 200 members of his committee at noon Aug. 17, in the auditorium of the City-County Building.
 A former Detroit Councilman and Juvenile Judge, Edwards and his committee will educate the public on the pressing need of Wayne County for additional funds to maintain essential services and urge a "yes" vote on the proposition.

Rain Stops

Heavy morning rains stopped in time Tuesday to keep the Plymouth Junior Golf League's record of no rainouts in eight years of play intact.
 Tuesday was the final day of play before tournament and league records are now set. Low scores for advanced play were turned in by D. Wall with 33, and B. Beck with 39.
 Low beginners scores for nine holes included S. Mogle, 54; C. Prochaska, 56; Bruce Niemi, 56; and for seven holes, G. Leaverston, 58; and T. Boling, 60.

Concerning change orders, City Commissioners granted the City Manager permission to issue them up to $300, to refer to a sub-committee for the project concerned those between $300 and $1,000 and to bring before the Commission for approval those involving more than $1,000.

Following a recess used to move the Commission meeting from its chamber in the old City Hall into its quarters in the new building, Commissioners passed a motion to purchase necessary furniture and equipment for the building subject to a report from the City Manager in two weeks on the method of paying for it.

In other action Commissioners:

(1) Granted permission to the retail division of the Chamber of Commerce during sidewalk sales, Aug. 7-8, to display merchandise on the sidewalks, locate a refreshment stand on Main St., and display merchandise in front of vacant stores and on the west side of Kellogg Park;

(2) Set a hearing on amendment of a zoning ordinance altering the use of front yards in light industrial districts for Tuesday, Sept. 8 at 9:15 p.m.;

(3) Authorized taking bids for construction of sewers immediately north of M-14 and west of Mill St. and for the outfall along Byron Creek, under the M-14 plan; and

(4) Tabled consideration of a refrigeration ordinance until further request from local contractors.

Savini tried to administer mouth-to-mouth resuscitation but was unable to revive her. Summoned to the scene, the Plymouth rescue squad applied a resuscitator without results.

Wife of the late, well-known industrialist, Fred Vollbrecht, Mrs. Vollbrecht was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jurkiewicz.

A resident of Plymouth since 1936, she was a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Josephine Strominski of South Bend, Ind., one brother, Joseph D. Pace of Plymouth, and a brother-in-law, Irvin Vollbrecht.

Rosary was Aug. 2 at Schrader Funeral Home and funeral services were held Aug. 3 at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church. Interment was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

money. Pops?" the pair repeated. "We've been watching you for weeks and we know there's more."

At that point, Ruehr said, he heard a car door slam as Plymouth Police officers began a routine check of stores on nearby Liberty St. Officials said officers noticed nothing out of the ordinary at the time and continued their rounds.

The two men pulled the phone cord out of the wall, tied Ruehr up with a belt and cord and left the house after being there about 20 minutes. Ruehr worked himself free in about five minutes and summoned police from the greenhouse he owns, Heide's, located across the street.

Following discharge June 26 from the U.S. Air Force after four year's service as a MA-1 AWCIS technician in the radar and computer systems, Ronald G. Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, of 5840 Tower Rd., has accepted a position with Hughes Aircraft, Los Angeles, as a MA-1 field technician in the radar-computer system.

WORK WAS WELL along last week on the $1.5 million addition to Evans Products Company's Plymouth Township plant as workmen had nearly all of the structural steel for the 60,000 square-foot addition in place. John P. Moorhead, Northville, Evans director of engineering, watched a pair of workers Monday as they clambered, high up on the steel framework of the building. The building will house production facilities for Evans' DF-C coil railroad car. It is scheduled for completion early this fall.

Only One Incumbent Opposed in Canton

Only one Canton Township office will be involved in a primary election Sept. 1, according to Supervisor Louis Stein. Voters will be asked to select one of two Democrats running for the office of Township Clerk — incumbent John Flodin or George Bradley.

Three Township residents are running for the two available trustee positions, but a primary election is not necessary, Stein said. Incumbent Republicans Richard Palmer and Perry Hix are seeking re-election and Henry Rupert, a Democrat has declared his candidacy for the position, Stein said. RUNNING unopposed will be Stein and Township Treasurer Philip Dingeldey, seeking reelection.

"We're just looking at houses. Why see First Federal first?"

Because, madam, when you and your husband consult your nearby First Federal office about a home mortgage, we can give you preliminary information that helps you decide whether to buy or build, what price range to consider, what to look for in a house, and more. Then, working with you and your real estate broker, we can "tailor" a mortgage program to fit your needs—based on an FHA, GI or Conventional mortgage plan. We can most likely save you time, money and trouble. That's why we say, "See First Federal first."

Young hopes to add to both the list of corps and drill teams, according to publicity chairman James McKindles of VFW Mayflower Post 6695.

Also planning for their portion of the festival are Plymouth Rotarians who have set Wednesday at 6 p.m. as the date for a dry run of their chicken barbecue on Cliff Tait's property on Ridgewood.

The purpose of the dry run is to familiarize chefs and other workers at the barbecue with techniques of cooking chicken, corn and other foods.

THE DRY run has become as much of an annual event as the big day itself.

Among other groups holding meetings to plan for the gala four-day series of events are Plymouth Jaycees. Junior Chamber members will meet tonight (Tuesday) at 8 p.m. in the conference room in the First Federal Savings and Loan office building in downtown Plymouth. They will be hammering out details of their fish fry, to be held on Friday, Sept. 11 from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

Class "E" Title Chase Enters Hot Final Week

Fisher Shoes and DiPonio Builders took their drive for the Class "E" Western Wayne County League baseball championship into the final week Monday with each team tied for the lead on 14-1 records.

DiPonio whipped the Northville Plumbers 7-1 last week and then scooped by the pesky third-place Spagy T-Birds 5-2. Fisher kept pace by taking General Filters 9-6 and the Northville Plumbers 20-0.

During this final week of play, attention focuses on the Fisher-Spagy T-Bird contest. The T-Birds, in third place with a 11-4 record are the only ones that appear capable of stopping Fisher.

FISHER'S final game is with last place Northville Recreation. Meanwhile, DiPonio this week will be playing Northville Recreation and the Novi Flyers.

In other games last week, Party Pantry won over General Filters 10-0, Bill's Market beat Wayne County Training School 18-1 and the

Novi Flyers shut out Northville Recreation 15-0. Earlier in the week, Spagy T-Birds clobbered Northville Recreation 23-0, the Novi Flyers beat Bill's Market 5-2 and Party Pantry won from Wayne County Training School 7-1. ## Upsets Shake Class "F" Recreation, Ely End in Tie

Upsets marked the final week of Class "F" Western

Wayne County League action, as even the previously unbeaten league champions, DiPonio Builders, were dumped 5-2 by the Ely Oilers in the last game of the season.

Previously the sole possessors of second place, the Oilers had been beaten earlier in the week 8-5 by third place Plymouth Recreation in its successful drive to a second place tie with the Oilers.

Plymouth Recreation rounded out play with a 6-5 victory over the Northville Orioles and Ely had to beat DiPonio to tie for second.

The Casterline Braves won two games to move from fifth to fourth place in the final standings. Casterline beat Loper Firestone 9-7 and Wayne County Training School 4-3, while Loper won its final game on a forfeit from Finlan Real Estate. The defeat by Casterline knocked Loper into fifth place.

Wayne County lost to DiPonio 8-4 and Finlan also forfeited to the Northville Orioles.

Sox Tighten A.L. Race

The Chicago White Sox tightened the top of the American League race Sunday with a double win over Washington. The Sox swept both ends of a twin bill, winning 2-1 and 3-1. Meanwhile the New York Yankees Jim Bouton shutout Minnesota 2-0 on a three hitter and Baltimore edged Kansas City 8-7, also on Sunday.

The Yankees hold a .005 lead over Baltimore and the White Sox are only a half game back in third.

The Detroit Tigers lost both ends of their double header with Cleveland Sunday, 6-1 and then 2-1 in eleven innings as Joe Sparma turned in a strong, but futile effort.

Also on Sunday, the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox 2-1.

In the National League, the leading Philadelphia Phillies lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-1, while second place San Francisco took a

2-1 decision from Pittsburgh to move within one and a half games of the Phillies. St. Louis beat Cincinnati 5-4 and Chicago handled Milwaukee 5-1. The Mets and Houston split a double header with New York losing the first one 9-7, but winning the nightcap 4-2.

The complete standings, through Monday, are:

DiPonio, Fisher Play Off

In some late schedule reshuffling last week-end in the Class "E" Western Wayne County League, Fisher Shoes played its game, originally scheduled for later this week. Fisher beat Spagy T-Birds 8-0. The T-Birds were the only team given a chance to break the first place tie between Fisher and DiPonio.

In two other late games, Party Pantry beat Northville Plumbers 14-1 and DiPonio whipped Northville Recreation 16-0.

Consequently, Recreation Director Herbert Woolaver scheduled the Class "E" Game of the Year for Monday at 5:15, a playoff between DiPonio and Fisher. The Mail will have the results of that game next week.

The winner will represent the league in the state playoffs, while the loser will be in the inter-city playoffs along with third place Spagy T-Birds.

Plymouth Gal 2nd In Golf

In the weekly Woman's Suburban Golf Association Tournament played at Dun Rovia last Friday, Mrs. Thomas Stewart of Allen Park and the Dearborn City Club won the championship one up over Mrs. Robert Gregory of Plymouth.

The two ladies had tied at 97 each earlier in the championship flight.

In the first flight, Mrs. Edie Atwood of Grosse Ile won the playoff match with a low net score of 83 after she, Mrs. Clark Brooks of Dearborn and Mrs. I. R. Walters of Dearborn had tied with a 107 score each.

In the second flight Mrs. James Woodruff won with a 105 score and Mrs. George Kendrick of Livonia was second with a 108.

The girls play from men's tees and use a men's par plus six for scoring. Next week they play at Fellows Creek near Wayne, Michigan.

The Sporting Thing

The value, if any, of organized sport has been debated with more heat than light ever since the dawn of civilization when some of our presumably common ancestors engaged in foot races with animals.

At different times and places in the Greek and Roman eras, sporting events were used as training for combat, for political prizes, for matrimonial purposes and in conjunction with funeral and other religious rites such as offerings to particular gods.

Has it changed much really in the intervening years?

For example, General Douglas MacArthur's words have been instilled in us to the effect that on these friendly fields of strife have been sown the seeds that, on other fields on other days, will bear the fruits of victory.

Through the years, sports have tended to become more and more recreational until now millions deliberately seek a variety of strenuous ways to sharpen the strength and agility which is necessary for self-preservation.

A late friend of ours, who checked out of this world in a tie auto race with a train, once remarked, "What profit one if he gain the whole world, but lose his low golf score?"

It was his attempt at pointing out that the need to get exercise, that without recreation and the refreshing tuning up of the human machine, life is, at least, not fully lived.

The danger today is that of the great American spectator. It was bad enough probably when one had to stir himself to go to the site of the game. Now, through the mixed blessing of television, one need only stir himself to the TV set. And turning the vertical and horizontal switches has at most contributed only to the strengthening of finger muscles.

Sports have always, however, seemed to impart two outstanding necessary social characteristics to the participants. Competition and an awareness of rules (law, if you will) are two traits that are not without value.

By competition is meant the spirit of trying hard, trying long and trying fully. In many sporting events, the contest is a kind of moral gymnasium where a minuscule sample of life's hurdles are presented for the participants. In that sense it's good training.

By an awareness of the rules it is not meant to suggest that some don't flout them regularly, but simply that rules do exist and are enforceable and this is a good idea with which to face the long distance run of life.

Most timely is the fact that sports also have sped up, partially at least, the democratization of our country since the late 19th century.

One need only look at the early rosters of baseball stars loaded with first Germans and then Irish. Then came the Polish and Italians. It is a litany of the vanguard of America's immigration waves — of America's oppressed.

Sports with their huge rewards for top flight stars in fame and money have always appealed to our downtrodden as recreation, and a method to get "there" in one generation.

And sports have received the 300 hitter, the good runner, the outstanding boxer without too thorough a genealogical check.

So it was not surprising that sports fans were the first to cheer the Brown Bomber, Joe Louis, as he flailed his way to fame and the world's heavyweight championship in boxing, dumping among others Hitler's Max Schmeling.

Ohio State's track star Jesse Owen displeased Herr Hitler, but thrilled sports fans and Americans particularly with his May 25, 1936 performance in Berlin. He equaled the 100-yard dash record, broke those for the 220-yard dash, the 220-yard low hurdles, and the broad jump, all in one day.

It wasn't apparently lesson enough, however. It took a war to prove that among other things, we were right to let Owen represent us.

In baseball it wasn't until 1947 that the process worked its inevitable will into the national pastime. Then, Jackie Robinson burst onto the scene. He was probably the most exciting and completely talented ball player in either the American or National League.

Now Negroes are on all major league teams and the process of democratization of sports and America is continuing.

This piece was prompted by the appearance of Jackie Robinson on the floor of the recent Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

There he was, hair a little grey, but the same concerned, articulate spokesman — competing for his interests and, if you will, with an awareness of the rules. He sounded the best of anyone heard during the five nights of watching. He was a most exemplary attestation to the value of sports.

And he prompted the thought: We ought to be asking ourselves in every area of life not what a man's parents are, but how well can he hit?

PITCHER HITS — a sharp ground ball to shortstop here as Men's Lutheran pitcher Richard Scharf bats against Tait's Cleaners last week in Plymouth Softball league play behind the high school. Looking on are Tait's catcher Bob Miller and umpire Bill Silvus.

Sophie Huegel Marks 100th Birthday

After a century of living, white-haired Mrs. Sophie Huegel continues to read the newspaper daily and sew — without wearing glasses — according to her daughter and namesake, Mrs. Sophie Saner.

Mrs. Huegel who returned to Plymouth to celebrate her 100th birthday July 31, lived on Powell Rd. from about 1911 until 1959. She now lives with Mrs. Saner at Windover Lake.

Spy for her age, she makes her own bed everyday and gets up as early as 7 a.m., according to Mrs. Saner. She enjoys walking and even took a boat ride before coming to Plymouth, Mrs. Saner said.

Although she can read English and understands the spoken language, she frequently speaks her native tongue, German, Mrs. Saner said.

She is a avid television viewer, according to Mrs. Saner, Mrs. Huegel's favorite programs include "Lawrence Welk" and "Michigan Polkas."

She was feted with a four generation family luncheon at Hillside Inn July 31 and honored at an open house for her family and friends given by Mr. and Mrs. Avery Penney, of Powell Rd.

"She danced two dances at the open house," according to her granddaughter, Mrs. Penney.

The youngest member of the family, Mrs. Huegel's great-grandson, Gary Brokas, celebrated his second birthday on Mrs. Huegel's 100th.

Her four children are Albert, of Joy Rd., Harry of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Lena Fotto, of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. Sophie Saner, of Windover Lake, and her 11 grandchildren include Mrs. Roy Schultz, Mrs. Chuck Brokas and Mrs. Avery Penney, of Plymouth, Mrs. Fred Balko, Mrs. Fred Castlerine and Julius Saner, of Northville, Mrs. Bill Fischer, of Dearborn, Mrs. Erwin Charlesworth, of Kalamazoo, Al Huegel, Jr., of Toledo, Mrs. Ray Ardorie and Mrs. Pat Patrick, of Phoenix, Ariz.

Chamber Office Receives Unusual Telephone Calls

Occasional goofy telephone calls among the ones she receives asking for information live up Fran Booth's day at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce office, on S. Main St.

One girl a short time ago called to ask what she should do about a white bathing suit she had purchased in town, Mrs. Booth, the acting manager, said. The girl explained when she jumped in the water the suit became transparent. Mrs. Booth suggested that perhaps in this instance the store would consider accepting a return of the suit.

"Do you know any use for rat tails?" was another question someone asked her, she said.

The house is full of bees, do you know a beekeeper, is still another of the questions she has been asked, she said. She explained the person thought perhaps he could sell the bees and didn't know they had to be inspected by the government before they could be used to produce honey?

How to get married is yet another question asked.

Mrs. Booth emphasized, however, that most of her calls were for information that she could help them with. She said she receives a number from young housewives who have signed contracts with various door-to-door salesmen and want to cancel them.

Her calls range between 15 and 20 during a normal day, she said.

No man has a good enough memory to make a successful liar.

After Movie Version, American Life Surprises Lebanese Woman Visiting Here

Expressing her amazement that American life has little similarity to that expressed in American films shown throughout the world is a young, petite, dark-haired, Lebanese woman, Nazeeha Sheikh, who is visiting her brother, Morris, of 1199 Sheldon Rd.

"I thought it was crazy," she exclaimed about American life. She said the films showed much confusion and complexity in the United States. There is family and respect of parents she said she has discovered. She added she has found Americans do have more freedom than the Lebanese, but not too much.

The Lebanese are very strict, both families and the government she said. She cited as an example the government ruling outlawing "twisting" in public, adding that the teenagers do the dance at parties, however.

Miss Sheikh arrived in the United States this past November planning to spend three to four months visiting — she added she's been here eight months and would like to stay longer. She plans to return home in September. She added, she would like to study English at the University of Michigan before she leaves.

In her Lebanese-accented English she said she has always wanted to learn the language. She explained she attended British schools to learn the language and later the American University in Beirut. In addition she listened to English radio broadcasts and avidly read anything printed in English.

The English language is relatively new in Lebanon, Miss Sheikh said, explaining that prior to her independence in 1943, Lebanon was under French control.

Miss Sheikh also speaks Arabic, her native language, and French.

In Beirut, Miss Sheikh was both social and private secretary for the Pakistan Ambassador. In this position which she said she enjoyed, she met and screened visitors from all parts of the world who came to the embassy, made appointments for the ambassador and planned embassy dinners and parties.

She started working in the Pakistan Embassy's information agency as an assistant to the press secretary, and then was selected social secretary.

When she returns to Lebanon she plans to apply for a similar job at the American embassy.

job with the embassy finally got her the visa which is valid for one year.

She explained unmarried girls have difficulty obtaining visas because the government is afraid they will marry Americans and not return. "Americans are simple, good-hearted and honest," and the Lebanese are more concerned with their positions than Americans," she said. Using as an example the men who work on the grounds at the apartment where she is visiting — she said a number of the men doing the gardening there this summer are school teachers.

In Lebanon, school teachers might consider giving private lessons during the vacation months, but they would never consider gardening.

Miss Sheikh has a brother attending Wayne State University, in addition to the one she is living with. Her older sister and parents live in Lebanon.

PLANNING to listen to some Lebanese music is Nazeeha Sheikh, a visitor in the home of her brother, Morris, of 1199 Sheldon Rd. Miss Sheikh has been visiting in Plymouth and the United States since this past November; she plans to return to her home in Beirut in September.

VISIT W.M.U.

Two Plymouth girls who will enter Western Michigan University this fall attended the final session of the freshman orientation program this past week. Paula Hurson and Judith Green spent two days on campus learning about their future programs of study, meeting counselors and seeing campus life. They will return to Kalamazoo Sept. 13 for an orientation meeting and classes.

In describing the 7,000 square mile country Miss Sheikh compared the climate and geography to California. She said Lebanon has both mountains and sea. The good climate of the country draws tourists throughout the year. About one-half of Lebanon's population lives in Beirut, according to Miss Sheikh.

The country imports almost everything and exports many fruits. The importance of fruits to the Lebanese economy is demonstrated by looking at their postage stamps — all of which feature either fruit or flowers.

In addition to citrus fruits, apple trees, imported from California originally, produce a large export crop. They are the golden and starker (red) varieties.

Being a single girl, she had much difficulty obtaining a visa to visit the United States she said. A letter from her boss, the Pakistan ambassador in Lebanon, assuring authorities she planned to return to Lebanon and to her

Sally Rothfus Assumes Duties as Womens Editor

SALLY ROTHFUS

Appointment of Sally Rothfus as Women's Editor of The Plymouth Mail has been announced by General Manager-Editor Dave Wiley.

Miss Rothfus has worked as a reporter for The Mail since January. She is a Dec. 1963 graduate of the University of Michigan.

While attending Michigan she received the McNaught Award for excellence in editorial writing from the journalism department.

Miss Rothfus replaces Cynthia Eaton, daughter of former publisher, Sterling Eaton.

MEETS FRIENDS

At a buffet dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schrader, of Park Pl., July 31, Nancy Bricker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bricker, of Birmingham, was introduced to 38 Plymouth friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, her fiancé's parents. Miss Bricker will wed Randy Eaton on Aug. 15 in Birmingham. The Schrader home was decorated with blues and greens for the party, the colors to be used in the wedding.

PLYMOUTH Telephone Lines

By H. J. WILSON, Manager

COMPUTERS HELP US a great deal in providing you with good telephone service. But they can never replace the spirit of service so traditional with telephone people. That spirit is the very human concern which prompts our people to give an extra measure of helpfulness, wherever it's needed. And it's as much a part of Michigan Bell today as it was 'way back before computers were invented.

EASY NOW!

Life is so much easier, with a handy extension phone where you work. No more mad dashes to catch the phone in the other room. No more interruptions in your work. The cost? Just pennies a day, after the one-time installation charge. And there's a wide choice of attractive colors to choose from. To order your extension, just call our Business Office or ask your telephone man.

YEARS OF SERVICE— without a single repair! That's a pretty common story with Bell telephones . . . even those that take lots of family or business punishment. Toughness is built into your telephone by the engineers at Western Electric, manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. They test each phone thoroughly before releasing it for installation in a customer's home. But if your phone ever does need servicing, don't worry. There's no extra charge for repairs!
